Dodd Due Loneliness

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are lonely days ahead for white-haired Sen. Thomas J. Dodd who —during nine years in the Senate—developed a reputation as a loner.

Now, alone, he is preparing his defense.

The Connecticut Democrat stands accused before his 99 Senate colleagues of misusing political contributions, of financial misconduct warranting their censure.

No senator has spoken in his behalf.

"My colleagues have been very kind and friendly and considerate, but how can I say what they will do?" Dodd said Thursday after the Senate Ethics Committee recommended his censure.

Burdened By Debt

Dodd said he won't try to persuade individual colleagues to give him their votes.

"I will make my statement on the floor of the Senate and that's all I will do," he said.

Dodd describes his life as dominated by poltiics and burdened by debt. "My life for 11 years has been so political that it has been almost nothing else," he told the Ethics Committee.

Eleven years ago, Dodd made his first bid for election to the Senate. He lost. But two years later he won a Senate seat and came to Washington describing himself as "a moderate man."

Takes Hard Line

In foreign affairs, and particularly in matters dealing with communism, Dodd has taken a hard line, allaying himself wtih Senate conservatives. But on domestic affairs, especially such as civil rights, he has generally sided with the liberals.

He is vice chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, the counterpart of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. As chairman of the Senate subcommittee to investigate juvenile delinquency, he campaigned for gun control legislation. He also is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but seldom attends its sessions.

What Would It Mean?

Censure would not strip Dodd of those posts, nor would it diminish his seniority.

What would it mean? Dodd maintains only his Senate colleagues can answer that.

Dodd will be 60 in two weeks. He stands 5 feet 7 inches, weighs about 170 pounds. A lawyer and one-time FBI agent, he wears dark suits; a heavy gold watch chain invariably dangles from his lapel.

He took part in the prosecution of Nazi war criminals at Nuremberg, Germany, and received a presidential citation for his work. Elected to the House in 1952, he served there four years.

New Truce Prospect

SAIGON (AP)—Communist forces in South Vietnam's embattled northern sector poured artillery, mortar and rocket fire on U.S. and Vietnamese government troops overnight in some of the heaviest enemy shelling of the war.

The U.S. command said 12 American Marines were killed and 180 Marines and seven Army artillerymen were wounded in four attacks. South Vietnamese spokesmen termed their casualties light.

Fighting Flares

No enemy casualties were reported.

Heavy clouds moved back over much of North Vietnam, limiting air attacks on the North Thursday to 48 missions. All of them were made against targets in the panhandle at the southern end of North Vietnam, sparing the Hanoi-Haiphong area after three days of heavy pounding.

While fighting flared in the northernmost 1st Corps area, the Viet Cong announced they would observe a 48-hour truce from 7 a.m. May 22 to 7 a.m. May 24 (Saigon time) to mark Buddha's birthday. The Saigon government had said earlier it would cease fire for 24 hours on May 23.

U.S. Jet Explodes

There was no immediate indication whether the South Vietnamese and their allies would agree to the longer cease-fire period.

Despite the lull in the air war, the assault on North Vietnam cost the United States another plane today. An Air Force F4C jet bomber caught fire and exploded as it was rolling down the runway for a bombing mission from Uben airbase in northeast Thailand. The U.S. Embassy in Bangkok said the plane's two crewmen escaped unhurt but a ground crewman was seriously injured.

The blistering barrages just south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam came after weeks of increasing U.S. concern over Communist moves in the five provinces that make up South Vietnam's 1st Corps area.

LBJ Makes Strike Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson urged Congress today to extend for 45 days the no strike period covering a dispute between the nation's railroads and six shop craft unions.

The row now is in the closing stages of a 20-day no-strike period authorized by Congress and this ends at 12:01 a.m. next Tuesday.

WON'T TALK

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., announced the President's request will be taken up in the House Monday.

If no progress is made toward a settlement, Johnson notified Congress he would submit a proposal for legislation to cope with this one case. White House officials were unwilling to talk, however, in terms of compulsory arbitration.

A 45-day extension added to the present one would run to June 17.

Johnson repeatedly has said a rail strike would be a national catastrophe, harmful to the nation's economy, health and the war effort in Vietnam.

White House Press Secretary George Christian repeated these views of the chief executive again today.

STRIKE BAN

Johnson called in congressional leaders of both parties from the Senate and House, and the ranking members of the Senate Labor and House Commerce committees, to tell them he was sending to Capitol Hill another bid for a resolution to continue the no-strike ban another month and a half.

Altogether, 14 members of Congress met with Johnson, along with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Undersecretary of Labor James Reynolds, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Attorney General Ramsey Clark and Transportation Secretary Alan Boyd.

Meanwhile, the six unions said in a telegram to McNamara that they were ready to meet with him "to arrange for continued rail transport of all shipments necessary to our nation's military effort and the public health" in the event of a strike.

Westmoreland Asks Pressure At All Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland told Congress today the only strategy that can defeat the Communist enemy in Vietnam "is one of unrelenting military, political and psychological pressure on his whole structure — at all levels."

This appeared a call for increased escalation, possibly including broadened bombing of North Vietnam and commitment of more U.S. troops to battle Communist forces in South Vietnam.

UNPRECEDENTED

In an unprecedented personal report to Congress by a war commander, Westmoreland described U.S. forces as "unbeatable" and said they have been successful in destroying Communist main force units.

He said, "I can assure you here and now" that the Communist stratagem called "war of national liberation" will not succeed in Vietnam.

But while speaking confidently the U.S. commander in Vietnam sought to dispel any idea that the Communists are near collapse.

His remarks were in a prepared speech.

CHANGES TEXT

Several hours before delivering the speech, Westmoreland revised the last third of the text, mainly to streamline it. There were few substantive changes.

He inserted one paragraph which made the point that the Communist enemy "uses covertly border areas of neutral countries." This was an evident reference to the known Communist use of Cambodia and Laos as sanctuaries and rest areas. Neither country was mentioned by name in the paragraph.

Later he was to brief governors, congressional leaders and Cabinet members at a White House luncheon.

In considerable detail, Westmoreland pictured for a joint meeting of House and Senate an enemy who has doubled his strength despite heavy battle losses, whose commanders are skilled professionals, whose troops are well trained, whose primitive supply system is surprisingly effective.

DRAMATIC ATTACK

"I foresee that he will continue his buildup across the demilitarized zone and through Laos, and he will attack us when he believes he has a chance for a dramatic blow," the general predicted.

"I expect the enemy to continue to increase his mortar, artillery, rocket and recoilless rifle attacks on our installations. At the same time he will step up his attacks on hamlet, village and district organizations to intimidate the people and to thwart the democratic processes now under way in South Vietnam."

Westmoreland did not repeat his charge — made at The Associated Press annual meeting in New York Monday — that antiwar protests in the United States are encouraging the Communists to fight on, and that this will cost the lives of American and allied soldiers.

ACHILLES HEEL

The closest the four-star general came to this was to recall that "As I have said before, in evaluating the enemy strategy it is evident to me that he believes our Achilles' heel is our resolve."

Then Westmoreland said to the senators and representatives: "Your continuing strong support is vital."

Coppolino Convicted Of Narcotic-Murder, Draws Life Sentence

Judge Promises Election Suit Ruling Next Week

The next and final step in determining who was elected commissioner from County Commissioner Precinct 2 last Nov. 8 will be taken within the next few days.

"Before the end of next week," Austin McCloud, judge of the 32nd District Court said today, as he recessed the case.

ISSUES

The issues he has to consider are whether to order a recount of all the ballots cast in the county commissioners race in Commissioner Precinct 2 in all boxes in the precinct except Box 10 or whether to pull out the 50 to 60 admittedly illegally cast votes and determine the election on the remainder of the ballots.

Winston Wrinkle, the contestant in the suit which has been on trial the past two days in the 118th District Court here, advocates a complete recount of the ballots in boxes 2, 18, 9 and 15. Only Box 10 (Forsan) seemed to be entirely clear of irregular votes.

COUNT ALL

Wrinkle, who as a Republican candidate, lost the election on the basis of results certified last Nov. 8, by a margin of eight votes, was represented by Guilford Jones. Jones in his argument to the court today insisted all of the ballots in the four boxes be recounted by a special commission to be named by Judge McCloud, and that the recount be made under the supervision of the judge.

Ray C. Nichols, Democratic candidate who on the basis of the totals certified in the election was re-elected as commissioner, is the contestee in the suit. His attorneys, Lanny Hamby and Roger Brown, are opposed to counting all of the ballots. They told the court that their client had cooperated with the contestant and that the names of some 50 or 60 voters who were indicated to have voted illegally had been stipulated as not to be accepted.

PROPER

The contestee feels that by going into the boxes and removing these questioned ballots and then accepting the figures on the remainder to determine the winner is the proper procedure.

Jones had argued that testimony of two of the three counters in Voting Box 2, as read from their depositions, supported a contention that possible errors of enough size to upset the election may have been made in the count. Hence, the contestant feels that a recount of the entire vote (with the admittedly invalid votes out) is imperative.

Judge McCloud has a mountain of material he has to read. He intends, he said, to check out all the cases cited by the attorneys. Then, when he has evaluated the material at hand, he will make up his mind on the next step. He will then return to Big Spring from his home in Colorado City and announce his decision.

IN OFFICE

Meantime, Nichols is serving as commissioner from Commissioner Precinct 2. He has a bond posted in the 118th District Court, which enabled him to qualify and serve until final decision on the contested election is handed down.

Young Doctor Not Permitted To Post Bail

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino was convicted of second degree murder today in the drug murder of his wife, Carmela, and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey moved immediately for a new trial. His motion to continue Coppolino's $15,000 bail pending an appeal was denied and Coppolino was ordered to be taken to the state penitentiary.

Coppolino sat expressionless with his head in his hands as the verdict was delivered at 9:25 a.m. after less than four hours of deliberation.

EXPRESSIONLESS

Mary Coppolino, the wealthy divorcee he married after Carmela's death, also sat expressionless in a front row seat just behind her husband at the defense table.

Conviction of second degree murder carries a penalty of 20 years to life in prison.

"We the jury find Carl Coppolino guilty of murder in the second degree and so say we all," the jury said.

"I thought, or hoped, that we were running ahead throughout the trial," said prosecutor Frank Schaub.

SERIOUS JURY

Schaub's young assistant, William Strode, said he was not surprised because he thought the state had built a strong case and "this was a serious jury that was on top of the testimony all the way."

After the jury foreman, 48-year-old Harry Miller of Naples, delivered the verdict and it was read by the court clerk, Circuit Judge Lynn Silvertooth sent the spectators out of the small, hot courtroom. Then he delivered sentence of life imprisonment.

STUNNING DEFEAT

The 34-year-old doctor, nattily dressed in a black suit and white shirt, was marched under guard out a side door of the courtroom to a jail cell on the same floor. He was not handcuffed.

The defeat was a stunning one for Bailey, the dynamic, 33-year-old Boston defender who sprang into national prominence when he gained a new trial that freed Dr. Sam Sheppard.

The judge ordered Coppolino taken into custody immediately and delivered to the state penitentiary at Raiford. Bailey vigorously protested the verdict as invalid and illegal and moved that Coppolino be discharged.

COMPROMISE

"This is obviously the sort of charge where the verdict must be maximum or nothing," said Bailey. "There is no in between. From the allegation of poisoning the second degree conviction cannot stand."

Bailey said Coppolino can never be tried for first degree murder in this case again. By virtue of premeditation, he said, a poisoning case could only result in the conviction of first degree murder.

Bailey said the verdict showed compromise.

The judge denied Bailey's motion to continue Coppolino's $15,000 bail pending an appeal which must be filed within 15 days.

'SICK MAN'

"This is a sick man," said Bailey, "you have a highly doubtful case. Incarceration will be wasted."

Coppolino, looking gaunt and shocked, conferred briefly with Bailey and then shook his head when asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed.

The jury went back to its deliberations at 9:08 a.m. after an overnight recess in guarded quarters.

Silvertooth had summoned the panel of 12 men from the jury room at 10:20 p.m. Thursday night and asked if they were close enough to a verdict to continue deliberations.

"The court will go along with whatever you say," said Silvertooth.

Shotgun Slug Kills Youth

AUSTIN (AP)—Brice Timberlake, 17, died early today of a shotgun slug in his head from the one shot fired during an argument between two groups from Austin's East and South sides.

Murder charges were filed against Richard D. Boyd, 21, who was arrested early today at his home.

Another man, 20, was held for questioning.

Despite Late Bank Call, Deposits About The Same

Bank deposits were virtually the same as a year ago, reports from three banks in Big Spring and one in Coahoma showed today in response to a call by the U.S. Comptroller of Currency for condition as of close of business April 25, 1967.

The call was one of the latest in many years and it fell well after the April 16 deadline for income tax payments, whereas a year ago the April 5 call was well in advance of that date.

Deposits stood at $45,809,604, which was off only $26,303 from the comparable date in 1966 when a record was set. The total was up substantially from the year-end figure of $43,991,979.51.

Loans and discounts of $23,953,731.05 were up $1,914,442 from the comparable date for a year ago, but they were down from the $24,131,169.59 as of Dec. 31, 1966.

Cash totalled $9,397,981, which was $817,660 down from the April call figure a year ago. It was well under the $10,131,984 on hand at the end of last year.

	April 25, 1967	April 5, 1966	Gain (Decline)
Loans and Discounts	$23,953,731.05	$22,039,288.19	$1,914,442.86
Deposits	45,809,604.56	45,835,908.51	(26,303.95)
Cash	9,500,179.50	10,677,840.44	(817,660.94)
Total Resources	$50,370,182.26	$50,368,843.60	1,338.66

However, total resources of $50,370,182 nosed over the last April's total by $1,338, and this established a new record. It also was the second time that the four banks had crossed the $50,000,000 mark in resources.

The banks carried $15,845,306 in bonds, an increase of $2,406,227 over a year ago. This was broken down as follows: U.S. Bonds $3,901,048 (down $2,575,594), county and municipals $6,837,328 (up $2,904,332), other bonds, mostly public agencies, $5,106,929 (up $1,077,489).

The breakdown by banks on the current April 25, 1967, figures showed:

FIRST NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $13,225,624.66; deposits $23,110,206.89; cash $4,263,624.78; total resources $25,518,474.16. In addition, the bank carried $916,969.82 in U.S. Bonds; $2,603,880.39 in county and municipal issues; and $3,684,379.00 in other bonds.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $6,038,876.55; deposits $14,775,872.15; cash $3,574,599.02; total resources $15,935,844.16. In addition, the bank held $1,263,759.00 in U.S. Bonds; $3,571,354.89 in county and municipal issues; $1,422,550.43 in other bonds.

SECURITY STATE — Loans and discounts $3,468,373.10; deposits $6,313,624.24; cash $1,418,094.23; total resources $7,031,904.47. In addition, the bank had $1,358,319.87 in U.S. Bonds; $635,908.87 in county and municipal bonds.

COAHOMA STATE — Loans and discounts $1,220,856.74; deposits $1,609,901.28; cash $243,861.47; total resources $1,883,959.47. In addition, the bank held $362,000.00 in U.S. Bonds and $26,184.31 in county and municipal issues.

Five-In-One Shot Fired

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Flying with acrobatic precision, a powerful Titan 3 rocket today successfully orbited three scientific satellites and two robot sentries to police against violations of the nuclear test ban treaty.

"Everything looks very good," an Air Force spokesman reported at 9:21 a.m. after all five satellites sprung free from the booster's last stage.

PESKY PROBLEMS

The five-in-one shot, grounded one week by pesky problems, blasted off at 5:01 a.m. after a perfect countdown. Two strap-on motors licked the early-morning darkness with twin tongues of flame as the Titan 3 shot skyward from Cape Kennedy.

The rocket's last stage, with payloads attached, first darted into a medium-altitude orbit as planned, then re-ignited more than four hours later to kick the payload into a cigar - shaped path ranging from 5,300 to 69,000 miles above the earth — nearly one-third the distance to the moon.

The mighty Air Force rocket — similar to the type that will someday launch astronauts aboard the Defense Department's Manned Orbiting Laboratory — licked the early morning darkness with brilliant plumes of flame from two strap-on booster motors.

"Everything looks good. It's on time and on the line," an Air Force spokesman said as the $20 - million payload raced toward its target in space.

Two nuclear - detection satellites, called Velas, were packed aboard the Titan 3 to spot nuclear blasts in earth's atmosphere and deep space, perhaps as far away as Mars.

TO HELP POLICE

The new Velas are improved versions of six similar satellites orbited previously to help police the limited test ban treaty signed in 1963 by the United States, the Soviet Union and more than 100 other nations.

The pact prohibits nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water or in space but allows underground detonations such as one conducted Thursday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada Test Site.

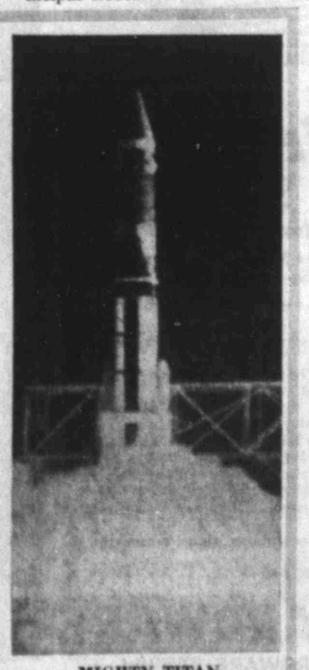

About 22 hours after separating from the Titan 3's last stage, the flight plan called for one Vela to trigger a spacecraft motor to change its elliptical path into a circular orbit 69,000 miles high, with the second Vela to perform the same maneuver in three days, stationing itself on the opposite side of earth.

DEATH STUDY

Three other satellites aboard the $15-million Titan 3 are to remain in the elliptical orbit.

A small arm was installed in one of the payloads, nicknamed the "windshield-wiper satellite," to sweep across various materials such as stainless steel and gold so engineers can measure friction characteristics.

A second payload was designed to study death - dealing and satellite-damaging radiation emitted from the sun while the third satellite studies other types of radiation near earth.

IT'S REALLY QUITE SIMPLE

Hickory, Dickory, Dock Get Ready To Set Clock

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

What is faster than a speeding bullet and able to stun the mind with a single tick? Superman? Nah! It's Daylight Saving Time.

At 2 a.m. Sunday it will simultaneously be 3 a.m. — and Einstein thought light was the fastest thing in the universe.

Want to talk about brute strength? DST has been known to reduce grown men to mewling babies.

But there are compensations. Even if you do not understand it, you get an extra hour of daylight for six months.

ONE HOUR AHEAD

It is really quite simple. All you have to do is set your clock one hour ahead before you go to sleep Saturday night or when you get up Sunday morning.

And next Oct. 29, you set your clock back one hour.

The trouble comes when you try to figure out what happens when you start monkeying with the clock.

A day still has 24 hours of course, and there is no more total daylight regardless of what the clock says.

EXTRA DAYLIGHT

The sun comes up earlier and goes down later in the summer. A normal working day is right in the middle of the approximately 14 hours of daylight.

The idea is to shift the working hours closer to the beginning of the day.

If everybody goes to work an hour earlier by sun time, everybody will have an extra hour of daylight after getting off work.

For example, if you normally go to work at 8:30 a.m., that still is what your clock will say when you go to work, but the sun will be an hour lower in the sky at that time. The reason is: You set your clock up one hour.

Who decided when the changeover would be made? Congress did.

WHY WORRY?

The Uniform Time Act of 1966 says DST starts at 2 a.m. The last Sunday in April and stops at 2 a.m. the last Sunday in October.

The changeover obviously will be less disruptive in the wee hours of Sunday morning than at any other time. Few people are working then. Few time-timetables or schedules include items during those hours. And nearly everyone will have a full day to get used to it before time to go to work again.

There are penalties for forgetful people. If you're a beer drinker, for example, and you run down to the local tavern at 1 p.m. Sunday, you'll find you have missed out on a whole hour of drinking time if you didn't move your clock up.

If you continue to forget, you may wind up an hour late for work Monday morning. On the other hand you may not like your job anyhow.

Saturn Moon Test Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Development problems will delay the first unmanned test flights of the Saturn 5 moon rocket and a lunar- landing vehicle until the last half of this year, the space agency says.

Both launches previously were scheduled to occur before the end of June.

The 360-foot-tall Saturn 5 is the type of rocket America plans to use to send three Apollo astronauts into orbit around the moon. The moon-landing craft, called a Lunar Module, is to carry two of the Apollo crew from there to the moon's surface.

Sources said the Saturn 5 is now scheduled for its initial test flight in mid-August. The spider-legged lunar-landing craft is not expected to rocket into orbit on its first unmanned test until late September or early October.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said only that both launches had slipped from the "second quarter" (April- June) to the "third quarter" (July-September) of this year.

Numerous problems have been encountered in developing the moon-landing vehicle, the second stage of the Saturn 5 and an unmanned Apollo spacecraft which is to ride atop the first Saturn 5.

The Apollo 1 spacecraft fire that killed Air Force Lt. Cols. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee has made the space agency more sensitive to problem areas, sources said.

Weatherman Gets 'Fair' Warning

BOSTON (AP) — Late in the spring, an elderly woman telephoned the weatherman and asked how he parted his hair. "Down the right side," he said. She replied, "I have a hickory cane and if it snows one more time this spring I'll use it to make another part, a permanent one, right down the middle of your head."

Closed Door Deal Charged

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg says the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission made a closed door decision on state park improvement policy that is contrary to state law.

Bates spoke Thursday to Sigma Delta Chi, a journalism group.

Bates said the three-member commission on Jan. 6, 1966, in a closed door session, adopted a resolution saying convict labor would be used only for brush clearing and tree trimming, with all other construction and improvement work to be done by contractors, preferably by one general contractor. Bates said this policy is in direct conflict with a 1931 law saying convict labor would be used in improving and maintaining state parks.

"This was not a public decision," he said. "It was made behind closed doors. . . I think they are wrong and I think they are going to stay wrong as long as they do things behind closed doors."

Bates noted that one of the commissioners is a general contractor.

Methodists Losing

LONDON (AP)—The Methodist Church in England is losing about 10,000 members a year, according to Dr. Leslie Davison, secretary of the Methodist Home Missions Department, who calls his church "the helpless victim of social revolution."

Dr. Davison says the current mobility of the population means that local churches tend to be left to the leadership of the retired and elderly and make little impact on newcomers.

He hopes the proposed reunion of the Methodist church with the Church of England will enable both bodies to arrange their manpower and finances to better advantage.

Horoscope Forecast

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when most anything you try to force can have highly unfortunate results, but if you let things work out and use your self-control and ingenuity to handle them sensibly, you can make a considerable amount of headway towards a whole fresh new approach at practical and business matters of all kinds.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Make it a point to show true calm in the face of any emergencies that may arise and you help yourself as well as others. Be very careful with an associate. Take closest tie along at some civic matter.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Although you want to get into some new duties, it is best you first complete duties at hand. Be very exact. Others with rather outlandish ideas come to you. Be very diplomatic, but get rid of them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) There are some personal matters that need your immediate attention, so get right at 'em. Later your mate has certain ideas that you should give credence to. Put them in operation as soon as possible.

MOON CHILDREN (June 21 to July 20) You have to be very diplomatic with a partner who is quite forceful and a change of attitude sees you working together for more harmoniously in days ahead. Gain greater prestige from all. You are highly inspired.

LEO (July 21 to Aug. 20) Find better ways and efficiencies that will make your regular work easier and more perfect on this free day. Be complimentary with associate. Be more conscious of detail. You have big ideas—work them out.

VIRGO (Aug. 21 to Sept. 20) Regardless of income, don't be so extravagant where entertainment is concerned during this weekend. Economy is important right now. Take time to encourage one you love who is feeling depressed.

LIBRA (Sept. 21 to Oct. 20) Now you know just what to do to gain more respect and love from him, which could have been somewhat lacking in the recent past. Buy some gift that pleases all. Show that you are very thoughtful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 21 to Nov. 21) Whatever is upsetting can now be put aright if you spend a little money to increase your efficiency. An associate could be in a rather sad mood, so lend a dear ear to any criticizing. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Why not try cutting down on extravagances today and you immediately improve your bank account. Get those outfits renovated, modernized some instead of buying new right now. Be frugal, get rich.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Find some way to gain the favor of those persons you admire and elevate your consciousness to more important enterprises. Be more modern in dress and more diet conscious. Have that charming smile always ready.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be alert to the many opportunities to improve your position in life and seize the best, put in operation. You are very much a humanitarian and this draws others to you. Make big headway.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Don't criticize one who has been an excellent friend just because you are piqued about something, or does not comprehend your ideas for the moment. Get out socially. Find surcease from worry.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those practical young people who must have a solid foundation on which to build. Be sure that home life is secure to give feeling of stability; then teach to do regular chores so that the habit of work is formed early, the sense of responsibility established, and your progeny will be better prepared for the business of management that is best for this nature.

Veteran AF Pilot Dies

Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, America's oldest military pilot, died at the Andrews Air Force Base Hospital, Tuesday after a lingering illness. He was 87.

Gen. Foulois was famed throughout the Air Force as the living link between the age of the Wright Brothers and today's astronaut. He was a pipe-smoking, straight - talking airman's airman, who enlisted in the Army Engineers at the onset of the Spanish - American War in 1898.

The general rose from the rank of private to Chief of the Air Corps. Gen. Foulois retired in 1935 after 37 years of active service which saw him achieve a score or more military aviation firsts.

A native of Connecticut, he was born Dec. 9, 1879. After his retirement he became active in the organization of the Air Force Historical Foundation. He attended the first meeting of 50 men who assembled in Washington at the invitation of Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, then chief of the Air Force. Vandenberg was elected the first president; when he died, Gen. Foulois was named to succeed him.

In addition to the medals authorized by his own country, Gen. Foulois was awarded the French Legion of Honor (Commander), and the Crown of Italy (Grand Officer).

Cuban Prefers Florida, U.S.A.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Cuban refugee says he was kept in a concentration camp in Florida — the Florida in east-central Cuba.

Enrique Marinez Mendoza, 28, said he was put in the camp with 120 "other young men who had applied to leave."

Mendoza said after his arrival recently that his treatment in Florida, U.S.A. has been quite different. Refugees say many Cubans must go to concentration camps to await their turn on an airlift to the United States.

Dog Tags Lottery Solves Problem

MELROSE, Mass. (AP) — The competition for low-number dog license tags was so intense this year that City Clerk Paul Barter set up a lottery, with award of numbers one through 25 based on a drawing.

Judge Hughes Gets Backing For Tribunal

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Women judges are all right, says retiring Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark — especially U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas.

Clark, still youthful in appearance, indicated he would not mind seeing President Lyndon B. Johnson appoint a woman to his seat on the nation's highest tribunal.

"The Constitution doesn't prevent it," Clark said in an interview.

Clark added that he thinks women are "very good in the law" and tend to arrive at justice because they are more sensitive" than men.

He emphasized that the President has not confided in him regarding a successor for Clark's post but admitted that there is growing speculation in the East and Midwest that Mr. Johnson may be considering Judge Hughes.

It was she who administered the presidential oath to LBJ at Dallas Love Field in 1963 after the assassination here of President John F. Kennedy.

"I knew her as a trial court judge before I left here, and she was a very good judge," Clark added.

A native Dallasite, the judge was in town to speak at a meeting of the Southwestern Legal Foundation's Lawyers Week Thursday night.

Clark denied that the Supreme Court is guilty of making rather than interpreting U.S. law, as some have charged.

"I don't think we have legislated," he said. "Our decisions are just enlargements on other decisions of the court. You have to remember that the Constitution is written in such general terms you can seem to be interpreting it on your own background and philosophy as well as precedent."

Sometimes considered "the swing man" in the high court's 5-4 decisions, the associate justice said he thinks he's "been on the five side more often."

Brother Of Ike Granted Divorce

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Edgar N. Eisenhower, 78, brother of the former president, and his third wife, Lucille, have been granted a divorce.

The couple had been married since 1950. Eisenhower, a Tacoma attorney, sued for divorce last October on grounds of a "burdensome home life."

Superior Court Judge Bartlett Rummel granted the divorce to both parties Thursday on the basis of a two-year separation.

War Widow Enlists

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — LaVon Cummings, widowed by the Vietnam war, has enlisted in the Women's Army Corps.

Staff Sgt. Marius Bunger, Army recruiter, said her husband, Spec. 5 James B. Cummings, was killed in action last month. The couple had been married only a short time.

Mrs. Cummings enlisted here and was sent to Ft. McClellan, Ala., for basic training.

'BURN THE HOUSE'

Aggies Stage Another Board Fee Rebellion

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M's mandatory board fee rebellion grew rather unruly Thursday night with civilian students again marching on A&M President Earl Rudder's home and shouting insults when they got there.

A crowd estimated at 500 civilian students gathered for the second consecutive night at Rudder's home, protesting the board of directors' decision to make board fees mandatory for all students.

One student shouted "Burn the house!" Another asked: "Are you going to run for governor?"

DISCREDIT

In an attempt to reason with the crowd, Rudder told them they were "bringing discredit to A&M." One student shouted back "You've done that already!"

Only members of the Cadet Corps at A&M previously had to pay board fees. The board of directors combined room, board, and laundry fees and increased them $20 per semester.

The Civilian Student Council passed two resolutions Thursday night before the march.

It supported student opposition to the mandatory board fee and appointed a committee to recommend alternatives to the board of directors when it meets again in June.

SEEK OPTION

The civilians contend they should have the option of whether they eat on or off campus. They say some foreign students must have their food specially prepared—and never eat at the mess hall.

Rudder was present at the civilian student council meeting and said:

"The resolution was passed by the board and would have to be changed by the board."

He told the civilian students "A&M has been praised from one end of the country to the other for its stability and saneness. It lost a little of that last night."

Rudder made the statement before the second march.

Represents C-C At Regional Meet

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Elaine Ruffin, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ruffin, Colorado City, will represent Mitchell County in the Regional Spelling Bee at Lubbock Saturday.

Elaine, a fourth grader, won the regional spot by winning the county spelling bee April 12. Sally Smith, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Colorado City, is runner-up and alternate.

Twiggy Puton Pleases Teens

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Movie - TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Twiggy phenomenon is one of those periodic eruptions of carefully manufactured teenage enthusiasm with roots in the old Frank Sinatra and Beatles hysteria.

As always, it is a mystery wrapped in enigma and you can get a good argument started on the subject any time. Why is a 17-year-old Cockney girl with a string-bean-shaped 91-pound frame and a cute, freckle-covered face dominated by heavily made-up eyes currently the center of passionate attention by press and broadcasting, a cover girl on a magazine that usually honors statesman and making more money this year than the prime minister of Great Britain?

Presumably the nation's teenagers get Twiggy's message. And Thursday night ABC, the network that is particularly interested in catering to the tastes of the under-35 audience, presented the first of a series of three close-ups of the girl born Leslie Hornby. This one focused on her New York experiences.

We saw a lot of Twiggy.

But the mystery of Twiggy's emergence as a teenage idol remained intact, at least to an older viewer in search of clues.

The half-hour program, initial tentative plunge into television by a fashion photographer named Bert Stern, was no help.

The program was the occasion for the premiere of an incredible ballad, "I'll Remember You, Twiggy," furthering the impression that Twiggy, the publicity, the excitement and even the program are all part of a gigantic, and profitable put-on.

Publisher Is Fired

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ramparts magazine directors have fired Edward M. Keating as publisher and president.

Keating, Menlo Park attorney, was the founder and a principal angel of the five-year-old journal which disclosed the Central Intelligence Agency's secret financing of the National Students Association.

Warren Hinckle, 28, executive editor, took over Keating's functions as publisher.

After the board's action Wednesday night, Keating demanded immediate payment of $215,000 he contended the magazine owes him. He estimated his total investment in Ramparts at $860,000.

Keating also called a shareholders meeting for May 3 to ask a reversal of the board's action.

Hinckle said the directors never would have removed Keating if he had not attempted to regain financial control.

Keating said he was forced to act because the magazine's youthful management "failed to exercise fiscal responsibility and was endangering present and future investments."

Hinckle disagreed, saying Ramparts circulation is over 200,000.

Ex-Premier Slated To Obtain Release

ATHENS (AP) — The military regime allowed reporters today to see leftist leader George Papandreou in a military hospital and he told them "my treatment is excellent."

The visit was permitted to dispel rumors that the ex-premier was being ill treated or on the verge of death.

A member of the military triumvirate said Thursday night Papandreou and his anti-monarchist son, Andreas, will be released from custody in a few days.

The government permitted groups of newsmen and photographers to enter Papandreou's two-room suite in shifts. While he sat slumped in a chair, wearing pajamas and a bathrobe, a guard with a pistol on his belt stood in an adjoining room.

HEALTH GOOD

Newsmen were permitted to ask only two questions: "How are you?" and "How are you being treated by security forces?"

Papandreou seemed to have lost his old spark. In a weak voice he replied: "I have no contact with my guards. They are simply guarding me."

A nurse said he no longer had a fever and was in good health. He was interned in the hospital 24 hours after his arrest last Friday. He had been suffering from flu.

Col. George Papadopoulos, minister of the new government's Premier Constantine Kollias, told a news conference earlier 79-year-old Papandreou, whose feud with King Constantine kept Greece in turmoil for nearly two years — has "lost nothing of his old humor" in the military hospital.

Papadopoulos said Andreas Papandreou and 24 other political leaders seized during the coup were being detained in hotels outside Athens.

Andreas Papandreou has been ordered to testify in a civilian investigation of an alleged leftist conspiracy against the monarchy.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR AT THE ROBERSON RESIDENCE

David Roberson Prepared For Regional Spelling Bee

By SAM BLACKBURN

If hard work and study is the way to win, David Roberson, Howard County's 1967 Spelling Champion, should do well Saturday at the Regional Spelling Bee in Lubbock.

Young Roberson, who won his county title a week ago at the Howard County Fifth Annual Spelling Bee, leaves at 7 a.m. Saturday for Lubbock. There he will try his hand as a speller against 22 other county champions from West Texas.

Victory at Lubbock will mean a free week's trip for him and his parents to Washington, D. C. and a chance to compete in the national bee.

David is the Goliad Junior High School title holder, having won his school championship there before taking the county title. He won from 17 other school champions here, to get his chance at the regional title.

David is the son of Capt. and Mrs. John H. Roberson, 4006 Dixon.

He will be accompanied to Lubbock Saturday by his parents and possibily by Mark, his 11-year-old brother. The other members of the family — Ann, 5, Phillip 9, John and Allen, 2-year-old twins, will wait at home for news of how big brother David came out in the big meeting.

"David has worked hard all week," said Mrs. Roberson. "He has studied the words in the official spelling books and should be in good training for the regional bee."

David isn't given to bragging. "I am going to try hard," he said. "I would like to bring home the regional title like Don Hickson did two years ago."

The Robersons will be back Saturday night.

David wants to make sure he is back in town Sunday. He is now in his seventh straight year of unbroken Sunday school attendance, and he intends to continue his record Sunday.

Gunshot Wound

Percy D. Hearsley, 1009 NW 4th, was taken to the Veterans Administration Hospital Thursday morning with a gun shot wound in the calf of his right leg. Attendants at the hospital advised police of the incident and when the man was questioned by local authorities he informed them "he didn't know anything." The man had been released today, according to hospital attendants.

OIL REPORT

Guthrie Plans Zant Step-Out

Apco Oil Corp. Oklahoma City, Okla. will dig the No. 11 Phillips as a Howard - Glasscock (Yates) field location in Glasscock County. Location is 330 feet from the north and 1,000 feet from the east lines of section 23-33-T&P survey, six miles west of Forsan, projected to 1,320 feet.

Murphy Winning Bout With Flu

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U.S. Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., hopes to be back in Washington, D.C., early next week after a bout with the flu.

Sixth Annual Paint Horse Show To Be Held Saturday

Trophies to be awarded at the Sixth Annual Paint Horse Show, to be staged here Saturday, have been on display at the First National Bank for the past several days.

The show, to be staged at the Jack Lewis Arena, two miles north of Big Spring, will start at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The trophies were provided by merchants of Big Spring, Coahoma and Colorado City, according to Mrs. Roy Granbery, who thanked them on behalf of the Ladies Volunteer Auxiliary of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, which is to receive all receipts from the show this year.

Horses are to be on hand from New Mexico, Louisiana and Texas.

Kenneth Williams, secretary of the Paint Horse Club, said he is expecting some of the finest animals in the area to compete in the event. J. A. Meek of Lovington, N. M., will be the judge and Charles R. Phillips will be the arena judge.

Mrs. Granbery, Mrs. Smoot and Mrs. Bill Kuykendall are to be entry secretaries.

A feature of the show will be the appearance sometime during the afternoon of Miss Susan Logan — Miss Texas of 1966.

A concession stand will be in operation and sandwiches, cupcakes, coffee and soft drinks will be sold.

Twenty - seven events are on the program. Entry fee for all classes will be $6, with the exception of roping and cutting, where the fee will be $16.

Miss Big Spring Pageant Will Be Staged Saturday

Who will be Miss Big Spring of 1967?

The answer to this question will come Saturday in the annual pageant starting at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium. Nine girls are in the senior division and eligible to wear the title. In addition, 28 girls will be candidates for selection as Miss Junior Big Spring.

The Jaycees, sponsors of this event, are anticipating a large turnout. Reserved tickets can be had at the Chamber of Commerce, or at the door.

A parade with the spotlight on the young beauties will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday through the downtown district. The parade forms at 10 a.m. at Seventh and Johnson. Contestants way wear either dress or swim suit.

Coming here Saturday afternoon will be Susan Kay Logan, Lubbock, Miss Texas, who will participate in the pageant and coronation of the new Miss Big Spring. Susan will be flown here from Arlington where earlier in the day she will cut the ribbon opening Six Flags Over Texas for a new season.

Sue Frazier, who was crowned Miss Big Spring of 1966, will be present to crown her successor.

All week long the 37 young ladies entered in the pageant have been in rehearsals, the last of which will be a dress rehearsal at 7:30 p.m. today at the auditorium. Girls will bring their heels, evening gowns and swim suits to compare with the pageant dress; senior girls will also bring their talent props.

The young ladies will be honored at a luncheon Saturday 12 noon, and then at 5:30 p.m., they are to report to the auditorium to prepare for the big show. Following the pageant, there will be a reception honoring Miss Texas, together with the new Miss Big Spring. Contestants, parents and Jaycees are to be invited.

Whoever wins the title of Miss Big Spring will be the city's representative in the Miss Texas contest, the next stepping stone toward a shot at the Miss America title.

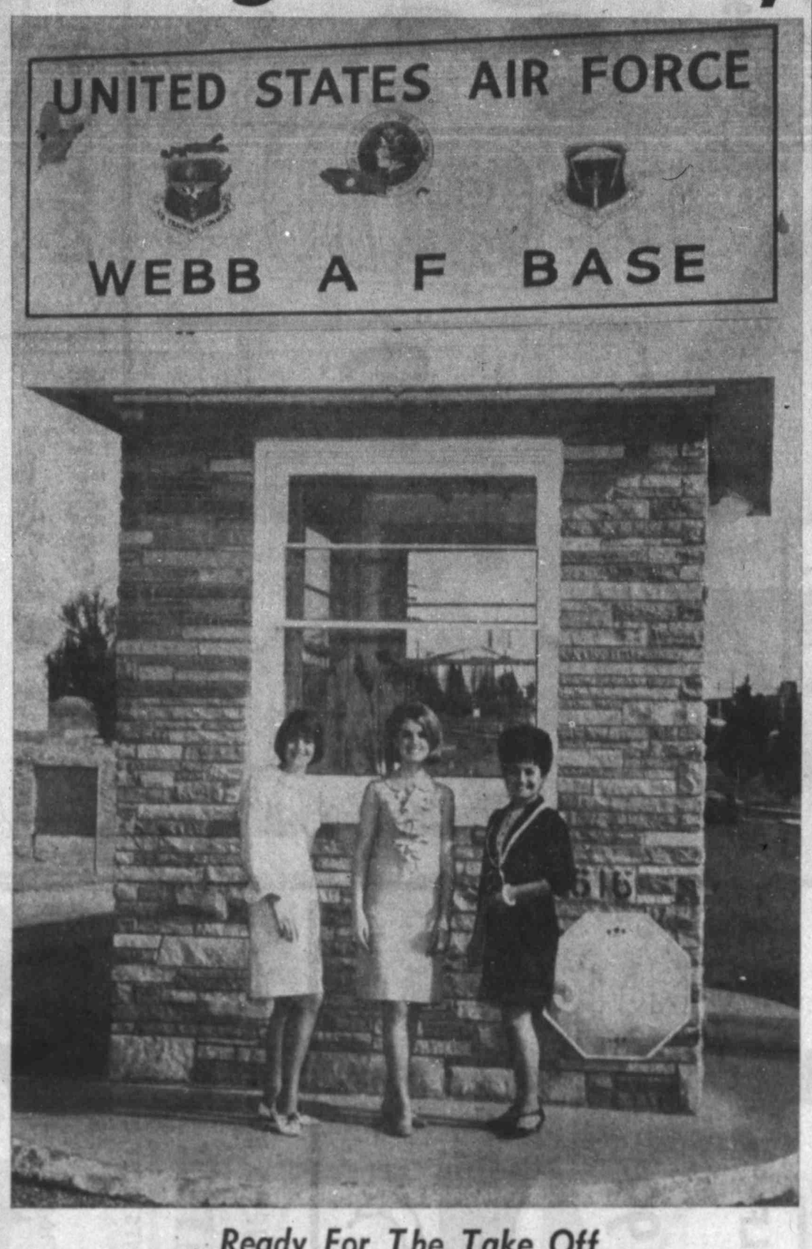

Entrants are:

SENIORS

Sharon Steyer, Nancy McEvers, Rose Ann King, Donna Duke, Darlene Leifeste, Pat Thompson, Sheryl Gambill, Barbara Weaver, and Sulema Yanez.

JUNIORS

Ruthie Hammack, Vicki Patterson, Helen Denton, Brenda Eppler, Olive Gean Cauble, Linda Richters, Jan Campbell, Robbie Smart, Laura Madison, Patricia Musick, Shyrlene Moore, Alice Denning, Janine Whirley, Sheryl Moore, Suzanne Milch, Susan Lawhon; Debney Estes, Sue Clark, Donna Ferguson, Sonceia Polone, Patricia O'Brien, Janie Dunnam, Margaret Zike, Donna Neal, Jenna Clinkscales, Laura Fulbright, Marilyn Corbell and O'Linda Wilson.

Ready For The Take Off

Here are three of the entries in the senior division of the Miss Big Spring Pageant, ready for the take off of the event Saturday evening at the Municipal Auditorium at 7 p.m. One of the field of nine contestants among the seniors will be tapped out as this city's representative in the Miss Texas contest — whose winner also goes to the Miss America contest. Shown here at the Webb AFB entrance are, from left, Sharon Steyer, Darlene Leifeste and Sulema Yanez. Besides the seniors, there are 28 young ladies contesting for the Junior Miss Big Spring title in the affair sponsored by the Jaycees. (Photo by Frank Brandon)

Police Fill Last Vacancy

The Big Spring Police Department has filled its last vacancy today by employing Jerry Wesley Morris to fill the position of patrolman.

Morris is 23, and lives at 307 Galveston. He was in the Marines from 1961-1966 serving in the Military Police. He moved to Big Spring from Dallas and has some police experience on the police force at Sherman.

C-City Clubs Honor Farmers

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Bunky Girvin and A. K. McCarley Jr., were honored today at a joint luncheon of Colorado City Lions, Jaycees and Kiwanis, for outstanding leadership in soil and water conservation.

Girvin is a Mitchell County rancher, with extensive holdings southeast of Colorado City. McCarley, who farms northeast of Colorado City, has been named the comeback farmer of the year.

Bob Barnes, Church of Christ minister, was speaker.

Brooks To Head Friends

James Brooks was re-elected president of the Friends of the Howard County Library at a meeting of the group Thursday night in the Library building. He was one of those recommended by the nominating committee and the election was by acclamation.

Mrs. Earl Ezzell made a report for the nominating committee. Officers elected are Brooks, president; Mrs. Larson Lloyd, vice president and membership chairman; Joy Redman, secretary; and Mrs. Ezzell, treasurer.

Miss Elsie Willis was appointed corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Dan Kester was reappointed public relations chairman.

Mrs. Opal McDaniel, librarian, announced the Altrusa Club has pledged a gift of 50 books to the library as a memento of the club's 50th birthday.

Twenty - one titles have already been selected.

An appeal to all persons interested in the library and in work to improve it is invited to become a member of the organization. Dues for regular members are $1 per year. Contributing members pay $5 a year and sustaining memberships are $10. Life membership is $100.

Jody Scott Wins Plaque

Jody Scott was recipient of the coveted trophy awarded by his company, Public Finance Corp., for the best managed office in the system.

Scott's award is the first to be made by the company for outstanding office management. He will keep the plaque for three months, and if he is fortunate enough to win again he will retain it a second quarter. Should he win it each quarter all of 1967, the trophy will be his permanently.

He has been with Public Finance Corp. for seven years. He and Mrs. Scott live at 1005 Johnson.

Nears End Of Reign

Sue Frazier, shown here last year when she was crowned Miss Big Spring of '66, will perform her last official act in this capacity Saturday evening when she crowns her successor. Also on the program will be Susan Kay Logan, Lubbock, the current Miss Texas.

Honor Airman Is Announced

Airman 3.C. Ira J. Laney, 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron, was chosen the Airman of the Quarter for the 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb AFB.

Since his arrival at Webb in July, 1966, he has worked as a weapons mechanic on the Lockheed F-104 Starfighter. He has now been assigned as a weapons load crew chief, a position normally reserved for non-commissioned officers.

Col. Michael W. Shareck, commander of the 4760th CCTS, commended him.

Laney entered the Air Force in February, 1966, with 45 hours of college credit. He has since completed 15 hours at Howard County Junior College and passed the college level GED test. He has been submitted for the Air Defense Command Outstanding Education Award.

A native of Hixson, Tenn., he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Laney. He married the former Janette Lasley, Soddy, Tenn.

Minor Accident

One minor accident was reported to police Thursday. Donald Mark Richardson, Gail Route, and Jess Slaughter, Box 188, were in collision at Channing and Northwest First. No injuries were reported.

Phyllis Wynn was winner in the foods and nutrition demonstration.

Winners will participate in the district contest in Lubbock May 6.

Angelo State Graduation Set

Dr. Harry Ransom, chancellor of the University of Texas, will be the speaker for Angelo State College's first commencement exercises, Dr. Raymond M. Cavness, ASC president, has announced.

The graduation program is set for 8 p.m. May 28, in San Angelo's City Auditorium. The college will grant 120 degrees — the first in its history. ASC is completing its second year as a four - year state college. Previously, it was a two-year community college for 37 years.

Coupled with ASC's first graduation exercises will be a dedication program for the new college library building, now nearing completion, and a president's reception for the first graduates, their families and friends. State Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo will be the dedication speaker.

Alone in a Field

A man alone in a field . . . making the field ready for spring planting . . . perhaps is closer to God than he realizes.

The field didn't "just happen." The earth didn't "just happen." Those fruit trees, laden with blossoms, didn't choose to bloom just because they wanted to look pretty.

Stop and think about it. In the natural order of life, little is left to chance. There is a precision about the very rotation of the earth itself. There is a miracle embedded in each blade of grass.

All about us is the unmistakable evidence of Creation, by a Master Hand. The man in the field is, in some ways, closer to this creation than many of us, yet he too may very well be unaware of it. We can all capture or recapture this awareness by going to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Proper Grip For A Slider?

Enheartened by successive victories over Midland Lee and Odessa High, the Big Spring Steers venture to Abilene Saturday for a 2 p.m. encounter with the 2-AAAA pace-setters, the Cooper Cougars.

Coaches Oakey Hagood and Dan Bustamente nor any member of the club feel the the Steers are out of the league race, although the locals lost five times in seven outings in the first half of the campaign.

The Longhorns have every right to feel optimistic. Despite their lacklüstre start, they trail Cooper by only two games—with five still to play.

One could throw a blanket over the top seven teams in the race — the clubs are bunched that close. Only Midland Lee (3-6) appears to be out of it.

A win tomorrow would vault the locals into the first division and have them breathing down the necks of the Cougars.

A victory would do other things for the Big Springers, too, notably insure them of a better than .500 record for the season. They are now 12-8.

David Mitchell or James Newman likely will hurl for the Longhorns. Johnny McCullough will be ready, too, in event he's needed.

Last time the two teams tangled, Cooper mauled the Steers, 11-2—so the Steers are bent on vengance. To add insult to injury in the previous game, coach Henry Colwell led with his second-line pitcher, Gary Oakley, and got away with it. Cooper started off with four runs in the first and led from wire to wire.

Big Spring will likely go with Gary Don Newsom behind the plate, Moose Ryan at first base, Larry McMurtrey or Felix Martinez at second, Tony Martinez at third, Bill Burchett at shortstop, Dean Gilstrap at third, Jesse Zapata in center and R. J. Englert in right.

McDowell Is Given Assist By Smith

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell has his second victory of the season, but even with 12 strikeouts it took a big assist from Willie Smith for the fireballing southpaw to accomplish it.

Smith batted for McDowell in the eighth and his double drove in the run that broke a 4-4 tie to give the Cleveland Indians a 5-4 decision over the Minnesota Twins in the only action in the American League Thursday.

McDowell blanked the Twins on three hits and struck out 10 in the first five innings, while the Indians built up a 4-0 lead.

Then, in pitching coach Clay Bryant's opinion, "Sam tried to reach back for something extra and it almost cost him the game.

"The worst part of it," continued Bryant, "is that McDowell doesn't need anything extra. Sam has more than enough for anybody just throwing with his natural motion."

Bryant said it was the best he had seen McDowell, "at least it was until the sixth when he tried to reach for something extra."

McDowell retired the first two men in the sixth and then walked Andy Kosco and Harmon Killebrew. Then Bob Allison hit a home run over the left-field fence.

The Twins tied the score in the seventh on Cesar Tovar's single and a double by Rich Rollins.

Cleveland had jumped in front with a run in the second and three more in the fifth.

Smith's winning double scored Gus Gil, who also had doubled.

George Culver pitched the ninth inning for Cleveland.

McDowell said Allison hit his third homer of the season off a low fast ball.

"It was a good one and it was where I wanted it," said the 24-year-old lefty. "That's one I wouldn't take back if I could. You have to give him credit. It was my best pitch."

McDowell wasted no time on the mound and made a total of 128 pitches, but only 72 through the first five innings.

"I'm finding that as I pitch faster I concentrate more," he said. "I guess that was my best game so far this year, but I have to get better.

"I saw some of their hitters changing on me but I wasn't smart enough to go along with them. I should have known better and I will next time."

The other scheduled American League game, California at Baltimore, was rained out.

MONDAY'S GAMES

City vs. Morton's, 7 p.m.; Webb vs. Reed Insurance, 8:45 p.m.

The list of undefeated clubs in the City Softball League has narrowed to two and those two contingents — Webb AFB and Chapman's Meat Market — clash Monday night.

In contests Thursday night at the City Park, City of Big Spring shocked Reed's Insurance, 7-6, while Chapman's won its second straight game at the expense of the Optimist Club, 8-3.

Reed's entered the game with a 1-0 record but home runs by Tom Arista, Billy Roger and Tommy Roger helped turned the tide for the City.

Each of the round trippers arrived with a man aboard. It was Arista's sixth inning four-master that enabled the City to ride out a seventh inning rally on the part of the Reed Insurance team. In that round, Coye Mitchell and Herb Sorley dented the dish for Reed's.

The City clubbed 14 hits, Arista getting three of the blows. Billy Roger picked up the mound win. Six of the seven hits he yielded were one-basers. Mitchell and Gerald Cox each had two hits for Reed's.

Joe Blassingame did a good job of muffling the Optimist power in the second game. He surrendered eight blows but kept them scattered and fanned 11.

In addition, Blassingame drove in two runs and had his team's only extra base hit, a sixth inning double.

No one in the contest had more than one hit.

Queen Leads Redleg Surge Back To Top

By The Associated Press

Mel Queen was such a poor hitter as an outfielder he turned to pitching, and now he is passing on his meager batting average to others.

The right-handed Cincinnati hurler has taken particular interest in San Francisco with his gift-giving treatment that has turned the slugging Giants into hitless pigmies.

Queen stumped the Giants on three hits and one run for seven innings Thursday as the Reds won 3-2 and retook first place in the National League from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals fell back when Houston scored five runs in the seventh inning and held on for a 6-4 triumph, breaking a 10-game losing streak.

Elsewhere in the National League, Claude Osteen pitched Los Angeles past Atlanta 6-0, Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs halted the New York Mets 3-0 and Pittsburgh nudged Philadelphia 5-4.

The 25-year-old Queen, who first passed on his bad hitting habits to the Giants by blanking them on six-hits 6-0 in his only other major league start April 16, got his message across to everyone but Willie McCovey. McCovey homered in the seventh.

Queen, now 30, left after walking the first man in the eighth, leading 3-1 on Deron Johnson's sixth homer with a man on off loser Gaylord Perry and Vada Pinson's run-scoring hit. Reliever Ted Abernathy finished the lesson.

Queen, a relief pitcher who only got into the starting rotation because Jim Maloney suffered shoulder trouble, came into the major leagues as an outfielder with a strong throwing arm three years ago.

His below .200 batting average did not set the Reds afire. So, he returned to the mound for the first time since high school.

"Almost any outfielder at times would like to be a pitcher, especially when he's not hitting," said Queen, whose father, Mel Queen, pitched for the New York Yankees and Pirates in the 1940s and 1950s. Queen relieved in seven games in 1966, but had only a 6.43 earned run average.

But he pitched last winter in Venezuela and learned "to throw like a pitcher and not an outfielder" and now he is pitching like a pitcher and the hitters are hitting like him.

Estrada, McCall In Return Bout

Melton McMorries of the Tarzan community departed with his featherweight boxer, Elisio Estrada, for New Orleans today where Estrada Monday night meets Benny McCall in a ten-round return match.

Estrada, who now has an 18-3-1 record, recently lost a close decision to McCall.

The Estrada-McCall bout is sharing attention on the card with a 10-rounder between internationally ranked Harold Johnson and Jacob Hersley.

Earlier this week in El Paso, Estrada lost a decision to Al Adame.

Jayhawks Going To Plainview

Coach L. L. (Red) Lewis takes his HCJC track and field team to Plainview Saturday for a six-way meet involving both junior college and university freshman athletes.

The cinder show will serve as a final warmup for the Hawks before they seek to defend their championship laurels in the Western Conference games at Roswell, N. M., a week from tomorrow.

The Hawks make only three more appearances this season. After the Western Conference meet, the locals will take a week off before going to Kansas for the National JC meet May 19-20.

Cassius On Hand For Ceremony

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay arrived at Houston's federal building at 7:41 a.m. (CST) for his showdown with the government over military service.

The heavyweight champion, who insists he will not enter the service because of his Black Muslim religion, carried a large manila envelope when he stepped out of a white station wagon with his lawyers and two close friends.

Duron Hurls Giants' Win

The Giants won their first Texas Little League game in two starts by vanquishing the Tigers, 11-2, here Thursday night. The Bengals are now 0-2.

Cris Duron went all the way on the mound for the Giants, giving up only five hits to the Tigers.

The Giants erupted for six runs in the fifth inning.

Gilbert Persina, who started a double play that ended the game, clubbed a home run for the Giants. Dimas Morales had three hits for the winners while Duron and Benito Hilario accounted for two each.

STURDY MERCURY

Keep going with a '67 Mercury—toughest, most reliable fishing motor ever built.

Mercury's rugged driveshaft housing is cast in one piece and angled to take you over underwater obstructions and through weeds safely and easily. Exclusive shearproof drive does away with shear or drive pins that can fail when you need power most. And a tilted powerhead prevents accumulation of wet fuel—keeps the engine running smoothly whether idling, trolling slowly, or at top speed. A full forward-neutral-reverse gearshift and one-hand control of both speed and direction give you instant maneuverability in the tightest spot. Plus weedless water intake, Jet-Prop exhaust, dual clamp brackets. Why settle for anything less? See the outboards engineered to stay ahead—the '67 Mercurys: 3.9, 6, 9.8, 20, 35, 50, 65, 95 and 110 HP—at your Mercury dealer.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Other coaches present for the National Junior College Athletic Association basketball tournament at Hutchinson, Kans., in March might have thought there was evidence of collusion when HCJC's Buddy Travis won a $600 scoreboard at a drawing.

Vernon Harton, the former Big Spring mentor who now works for a scoreboard manufacturing concern, had offered the facility as part of a publicity campaign for his product.

Travis was offered $300 for the scoreboard before he departed Kansas but he donated it to the local school.

By next season, the Jayhawk gym will boast not one but two scoreboards in order that everyone present can keep up with the game tally without having to crane his neck.

Extensions have been ordered for the new board so that the lineups of the contending teams can be listed for the benefit of the paying customers.

Harton, incidentally, does business with dealers rather than retail the boards, now has about 100 business houses and individuals around the country selling the boards.

Three senior colleges — Hardin-Simmons, Texas Western and NM State — have arranged what amounts to working agreements with HCJC, agreeing to supply player talent to the local college.

The better junior college teams around the nation have cemented such agreements in the past.

Because of the pacts, coach Travis isn't having to travel around the area as he has in the past trying to talk boys into coming to school here. One of the boys a university has offered to send here is said to be one of the finest high school players east of the Mississippi River — "better than New Mexico JC's Charles Criss," in the words of one scout.

Behind the appearance of little Freddy Fauchs of Wall in the Region VI-B tennis tournament here last week is a story of hard work and grim determination.

The little fellow was discouraged from coming out for the team because of his size but he studied all the manuals he could lay his hands on and applied the lessons he learned to practice.

He developed one of the finest backhands ever seen in the tournament here and went all the way to the finals in boys' singles before finally losing to Tornillo's Cruz Lachuga.

Rodriquez, Campbell Share Santone Lead

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two pros without a tournament victory this year share the lead in the windswept $100,000 Texas Open.

Diminutive Puerto Rican Chi Chi Rodriguez and cigar-chewing Joe Campbell, ranked 56th and 59th respectively in PGA earnings this year, shot 68s to grab the first-round lead Thursday.

But a swarm of other pros, including sixth-ranked Bert Yancey, were on the heels of the leaders with 69s. Others at one stroke off the pace were Bert Weaver, Richard Crawford, Jay Hebert and Charles Coody. Nine pros shot one-under-par 70s and 14 were even par.

JOE CAMPBELL

Campbell, the 1966 Tucson Open winner, said a stiff wind just reversed the course from the way it was played during warmpup rounds. He said players were forced to use woods where irons were enough on Wednesday.

But the wind didn't affect Campbell's putting. The brawny Tansi, Tenn., pro dropped birdie putts of 20, 18, 8 and 5 feet and just missed a 35-foot eagle putt when he left it inches short. He tapped in for another birdie.

Rodriguez, one of the smallest men on the tour at 125 pounds, was a big man with short irons around the greens. He chipped to within two feet on the 13th hole and dropped it for a birdie. Two other birdies came after he chipped to within three feet. He also sank putts of 10 and 8 feet for two more sub-par holes.

Yancey, who moved to sixth in the PGA tour earnings after winning the $20,000 first place check at the Dallas Open, shot a blistering 33 on the back nine, which he played first. He cooled to even par coming home and finished a stroke behind the leaders.

Pros with sub-par rounds included Tournament of Champions winner Frank Beard, who shot a 70.

HAD BEEN TO TEXAS

OU's Grid Coach Is Dead At 37

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Jim MacKenzie, the man who came to the University of Oklahoma to rebuild it into a national football powerhouse, died of an apparent heart attack early today. He was 37.

MacKenzie had returned Thursday night from a recruiting trip to Amarillo, Tex.

MacKenzie collapsed at his home about 12:20 a.m. His daughter, Kathy, 12, summoned Galen Hall, an assistant coach, who lives across the street.

Hall gave him artificial respiration and ambulance attendants tried external heart massage, but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Norman Municipal Hospital by Dr. G. G. Willard, the family physician, at 12:50 a.m.

The death stunned the state. MacKenzie had coached his Sooners through spring drills on Wednesday, and apparently hadn't been in ill health.

MacKenzie, who helped build Arkansas into a national football power, came to Oklahoma in the spring of 1966.

He piloted his Sooners through four games unbeaten and had them ranked 10th in the nation before losing, 38-0, to Notre Dame.

The team finished with a 6-4 record.

Oklahoma is in the midst of spring practice, with the annual varsity-alumni game scheduled for May 6.

MacKenzie was born Jan. 15, 1930, in Gary, Ind. He was graduated from Kentucky University in 1953, and coached in high school and junior college ranks before moving into college circles as an assistant to Frank Broyles at Missouri in 1957.

MacKenzie went with Broyles to Arkansas in 1958, and he was in charge of the Razorback defense, which became known as MacKenzie's Raiders.

He took over the Sooners at their lowest ebb in years. In 1965, the once-powerful Oklahoma team was 3-7. He brought a faster, more wide-open game stressing quickness.

His greatest triumph came in early October, when Oklahoma whipped Texas for the first time since 1958, 18-9. With a fourth victory a week later, the Sooners headed unbeaten into the Notre Dame clash.

MacKenzie is survived by his widow, Sue, daughter Kathy, and a son, James Alexander Jr.

Three-Way Scrap Looms For Title

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A three-way fight for the Southwest Conference track and field championship next week is indicated by times and distances thus far and surprisingly Baylor now seems capable of beating out Rice and Texas.

Baylor and Rice each is accorded five first places, with Baylor likely to bag still another if its Wayne Brandt can win both sprints.

Brandt is expected to make it in the 100 but may find Jim Bankhead of Southern Methodist too much to handle in the 220.

If each should win five, the favoritism would swing to Baylor because it has more second, third, fourth and fifth potentials than Rice.

Texas, the defending champion, seems likely to win three firsts. That would mean the Longhorns would have to get more points at the other positions than Baylor or Rice, and it doesn't seem quite capable of that.

If things go according to form Baylor could win by about four points over Rice and a few more than that over Texas.

Texas A&M looks like the best bet for fourth place and Southern Methodist should wind up fifth.

Ryun To Be 20 Saturday

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The regime of fabulous Jim Ryun as the world's greatest teen-aged middle-distance runner is destined to end in the two-day 58th Drake Relays which opened with an 11-event finals program today.

Sophomore Ryun of Kansas, world's fastest at one mile and the half-mile, celebrates his 20th birthday Saturday. That's when the Drake carnival which has lured more than 1,100 athletes from 94 colleges and universities winds up with finals in 20 baton and individual events.

As a 19-year-old, the incredible Ryun today was to anchor the Kansas four-mile and two-mile relay quartets. As a 20-year-old Saturday, Ryun will gallop the anchor mile as the Jayhawks shoot for an American distance medley record.

Thus, Ryun, who set a national intercollegiate mile mark of 3:54.7 in the Kansas Relays last week, is leaving the individual Drake spotlight to the likes of Texas A&M's Randy Matson, world shot put record-holder, and Nebraska's sprint ace, Charlie Greene.

Matson was set to launch a bid today to become the first athlete ever to win two events three successive Drake years in defending his discus title.

Pirates Notch 2nd Victory

The Pirates won their second straight American Little League engagement here Thursday night, turning back the Colts, 9-5.

Bobby Roger, who gave up seven hits, rode out several crises to notch the win.

Roy Lee Osborne's three-run homer in the third highlighted the Bucs' victory. Earl Reynolds also smacked a round - tripper for the winners.

Donald McKee of the Pirates and Randy Dickens of the Colts each collected three hits. Randy and Wayne Dickens both clouted four-masters for the Colts.

The Colts are winless now in two league starts.

NY Knicks Acquire Princeton Wizard

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers think Bill Bradley can be a super star of the future to rival Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas, Rick Barry, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West.

"For the first time we have a potential super star," said Ned Irish, president of the Knicks Thursday when it was announced Bradley had signed a four-year contract believed to call for close to $500,000.

"I don't say he'll do it," said Irish. "But he has a chance to do it."

Bradley, an American at Oxford for two years as a Rhodes scholar, was drafted by the Knicks when he came out of Princeton in 1965 as a celebrated All-America and Olympic star. He chose to continue his studies.

"We had several meetings with Bradley and his lawyer, Larry Fleisher," said Irish. "This covered a period of several weeks while Bill was home on vacation. He had to return to Oxford last Friday but flew back Tuesday and Irving Felt and I completed the arrangements Wednesday night."

Although no terms were announced. Felt, chairman of the board of Madison Square Garden, which owns the National Basketball Association club, said, "To my knowledge the contract is for one of the largest money amounts ever paid a professional athlete in a team sport."

Willie Mays, the highest-salaried baseball player, gets $125,000 a year. Boxers make more, but they are not in a team sport.

The Knicks will have to wait before cashing in on their investment in Bradley because he is in the Air Force and will be on active duty from July until January. Presumably, he will join the club in mid season.

Bradley, 23, is a 6-foot-5, 205-pounder, did not play last winter except for sporadic appearances with a team at Oxford University which he described as "something like cricket at Crystal City." (his home town in Missouri).

After leading Princeton to third place in the NCAA tournament in 1965, Bradley played amateur ball with an Italian team at Milan in 1965-66.

"I hope I can perform capably for the Knickerbockers," said Bradley, attired in a light blue Knick blazer. "There was that nagging thought I had in Europe that I wasn't playing against the best. This should not be construed to mean that I want to show I'm better. There is great question in my own mind."

PRO-AM PRECEDES SWEETWATER GOLF TOURNEY THIS WEEKEND

SWEETWATER — A new champion is assured in the 32nd annual Lake Sweetwater Invitational Golf tournament scheduled this weekend.

Kurt Johnson, who copped the championship trophy last year, has moved out of the area and won't compete.

More than 15 Big Spring players will likely take part in the event. A pro-am today precedes the meet.

The 36-hole medal play meet actually gets under way Saturday and continues through Sunday.

Deadline for paying the $15 entry fee is 6 p.m. today. The opening 18 holes Saturday will determine the flights. Three prize winners will be determined in each flight.

J. B. Wetsel, pro at the Big Spring Muny course, will be among the players in today's pro-am.

ACC Seeking Penn Marks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —There's a new rubberized track ready for the annual Penn Relays and four runners from Abilene Christian College in Texas are favored to give it a possible record-setting introduction as the 73rd track and field meet opens today at Franklin Field.

Abilene Christian emerged as the favorite in today's distance medley relay when Ian Hamilton, of defending champion Villanova, became ill. Villanova had been the favorite until Hamilton's illness.

The Villanova quartet has done 9:44 indoors and the Penn Relay record for the event is 9:46.4. Abilene Christian, returning here for the first time since 1962, clocked 9:45 in the Texas Relays.

The runners will be speeding around the $200,000 all-weather track which could enable them to stretch performances to or beyond the record point.

An appeal to every public-spirited American from

Postmaster General LAWRENCE F. O'BRIEN

"Help prevent the worst mail jam in history"

THE letter you mailed today joined over 200 million other letters and packages—all mailed today!

Never before has our post office had to cope with such an enormous flood of mail. It is threatening to create a "mail jam" in some key post offices.

This is both irritating and costly. And it is completely unnecessary, because we have the tool to help prevent the mail jam almost overnight!

Its name is Zip Code. Zip enables our postal workers to sort mail faster and move it by more direct routes. With Zip, they will use modern electronic machines that "read" Zip numbers and sort mail fifteen times faster than ever before.

But the sad truth is that millions of Americans are still not using Zip Code on their mail.

Obviously, our Zip system depends on the cooperation of every citizen. To help your post office give you faster, more efficient service, here is what to do:

1. Zip Code the address of every letter and package you mail. If you do not know the proper Zip Code, call your post office or look it up in their Zip Code Directory. Local Zips can be found on the Zip Map in the business pages of your phone book.

2. Always include your own Zip Code in your return address. That makes it easy for others to Zip their mail to you.

Zip Code is an efficient, practical way to control and direct the flow of mail. Without it, we could be buried under an avalanche of letters. With it, you can count on having the finest, fastest postal service in the world.

Lawrence F. O'Brien
POSTMASTER GENERAL

HOW ZIP CODE WORKS

Suppose the Zip Code is 60635. The "6" says it goes to the Midwest. The "06" narrows it down to Chicago. The last two digits—"35"—pinpoint the local post office. This eliminates many handling procedures. The letter is sorted faster, and sent more directly to its destination.

$37 Million Will Be Spent For Highways

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Highway Commission has approved $37.3 million worth of road construction in Houston, El Paso and Dallas County.

The commission agreed Thursday to spend $17 million for an expressway on Interstate 10 in Houston, a project extending from Interstate loop 610 to Interstate 45.

The commission authorized construction of a 6.3-mile section of Interstate Loop 635 in Dallas County and a 4.4-mile section of Interstate 10 in El Paso.

The Dallas project, estimated to cost $14.3 million, calls for constructing a facility from the T&P Railway in Mesquite, south to Haymarket Street and includes a four-level, full-directional interchange at US 175.

The El Paso project, estimated to cost $6 million, extends from Loop 16 southeast to the TWC interchange at Schuster Street.

Another project approved by the commission was purchase of right of way for developing five state highway facilities in the northern section of Tyler. The commission had authorized $583,000 for partial purchase of right of way on US 69, Texas 110, Spur 147, Farm 14 and US 271, and Thursday instructed the state highway engineer to proceed with the full purchase of the right of way at a revised cost of $1.5 million. A total of 4.5 miles of roadway are affected.

In other action, the commission:

—Extended the route of Texas 49 in Titus County to make a connection with Interstate 30. The routing will continue over US 271 from the end of Texas 49 in Mount Pleasant 2.5 miles to Interstate 30.

—Approved rearrangement of routings in Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County. A .9-mile section of Loop 313 from its junction with Interstate 30 to its junction with Loop 301 was redesignated at Texas 19. Loop 301 from its junction with Loop 313 northward to its junction with Texas 19 and Texas 154 also was designated as Texas 19. A 2.7-mile section of Farm 164 from its junction with Interstate 30 eastward to its junction with Loop 313 was redesignated Loop 313. The present route of Texas 19 through Sulphur Springs will be redesignated as Texas 19 business route.

—Approved construction of an underpass and approaches on Interstate 20 at its intersection with Loop 338 west of Odessa, a project estimated to cost $348,500.

Cotton Week Plans Are Being Pushed

Plans for an all-out observance of Cotton Week in Howard County were pushed along at a meeting of the special committee Thursday. The week will be May 15-20, and will be highlighted by a number of special events.

The program is shaping up this way:

MONDAY, MAY 15 — "Wear Cotton Day." All residents will be asked to attire themselves that day in clothing made of cotton. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring this day, and will be urging all men and women to cooperate in wearing cotton apparel.

TUESDAY, MAY 16 — Joint meeting of service clubs at the Settles Hotel. Speaker for the occasion will be Don Johnson of Lubbock, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers Association.

THURSDAY, MAY 18—"Sew It Yourself with Cotton" contest, in which women and girls of the county are being asked to compete. There will be various age classifications, from youngsters through adults, and winners will be named in each group. Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, is in charge of this event, and has named a working committee. That evening, a show will be staged to present the dresses the women and girls have made.

FRIDAY, MAY 19 — Agri-Business Parade. Implement dealers and all other concerns affiliated in a business way with agricultural development are being asked to join in this procession, along with 4-H Club groups, FFA chapters as well as farm - affiliated organizations, public and private. Bands will be asked to participate, and the procession will be led by a color guard. Winners in the Sew-It-Yourself contest will appear on the floats, all of which will emphasize cotton. Conard Miller is chairman of parade arrangements.

Merchants throughout the week will be putting stress on cotton products, and will offer special promotions. The Chamber of Commerce, which is directing the observance, will furnish special Cotton Week posters, miniature cotton bales, and full-sized cotton bales will be at display points throughout the city.

The program is designed to turn the spotlight more fully upon the importance of cotton production and processing to the economy of the county, and to stress also that consumer use of cotton is the most important factor in keeping the industry stable and profitable.

Howard County Teachers Hold TSTA Meet Tonight

Lloyd R. Bell, assistant director of the division of public relations for the Texas State Teachers Association, will address the annual meeting of the Howard County unit of the TSTA today.

The dinner affair will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Cosden Country Club.

Special guests will include Sam Anderson, Big Spring superintendent and president of the state organization, and Mrs. Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Walker Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Loy Acuff; County Judge and Mrs. Lee Porter. Bailey served for almost three decades as county superintendent before that office was abolished recently, and Mrs. Acuff served as the office secretary for more than three decades. Judge Porter is now ex-officio superintendent.

A highlight of the banquet will be installation of new officers, headed by Darrell Flynt, Forsan, as president.

Bell served six years as high school instructor in public speaking and debate at Joplin, Mo., and Dallas, then spent five years as principal of an elementary school and four years as principal of a junior high school in Dallas before joining TSTA. He is a 1948 graduate of the University of Missouri and a graduate of SMU with his master of education from SMU in 1954. He has been active in all levels of the TSTA, in the P-TA organization and served as summer project chairman for TSTA District V. He has traveled extensively throughout European and Scandinavian countries while conducting European tours.

Demo Committee Checks Astrodome

HOUSTON (AP) — A 15-member committee inspecting the Astrodome as a possible site for the Democratic national convention checked transportation, lodging and eating establishments in the Houston area today during the second day of their visit.

The group, headed by John M. Bailey, national chairman of the Democratic party, arrived Thursday and will leave for an inspection tour of Miami Beach, Fla., early Saturday.

The group inspected the Astrodome Thursday and several members of the committee also visited the nearby Manned Spacecraft Center, home of the nation's astronauts.

DEATHS

Weldon White, Resident's Kin

Weldon Bailey White, 60, uncle of Mrs. Ralph David Grantham, Big Spring, died last Sunday at his Nashville, Tenn., home following a lingering illness.

Mr. White was a Tennessee State Supreme Court Justice; a World War II veteran serving on Gen. MacArthur's staff as a major; and a member of the Church of Christ. He served as a state senator and district judge in Nashville before the war, and later entered private law practice, then was appointed and later elected to the high court.

He was active in many civic organizations, including the Jaycees, and was past president of the Nashville and state bar associations. At the governor's request, he delivered the eulogy for President Kennedy in 1963.

The judge was a 33rd degree Mason, a member of Scottish Rite, York Rite, Eastern Star, Royal Order of Scotland, and Shrine. He was sovereign grand inspector general of the Southern Jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masonry and served as emcee of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite.

Funeral was held Tuesday at Nashville. Survivors include his wife; one son and a daughter, all of Nashville; two brothers, including Stanley White of Snyder; four sisters, including Mrs. Elijah Green, of Snyder.

Charlie Howard, Oil Field Pumper

Charlie W. Howard, 65, died Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. in Morton.

Mr. Howard was born May 8, 1901, in Monticello, Ky., and lived in Big Spring several years before moving to Cochran County, 13 years ago. He was a retired oil field pumper for Lion Oil Co. and had worked for them since 1933. He was married June 15, 1937, in Lamesa and was a member of the First Methodist Church at Morton.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today at the First Methodist Church at Morton with Kenneth Wyatt, officiating.

Graveside services will be held today at 4 p.m., at the Trinity Memorial Park, with Dr. R. Gage Loyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating, under the direction of Singleton Funeral Home of Morton with Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home assisting.

Survivors include his wife; five sons, Harold J. Howard, Mansfield, J. W. Howard, California, Earl M. Baker, Colorado Springs, Colo., William E. Baker, Arlington, Bobby G. Baker, Garland; two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Wright, Mansfield, Mrs. Elmer Hurley, Bronte; one sister, Mrs. Chester Glidewell, Albany, Ky.; 15 grandchildren also survive.

Raymond Lamb, Farmer-Rancher

LAMESA (SC) — Raymond Edward Lamb, 54, died Thursday in Medical Arts Hospital following a sudden illness.

He was born June 3, 1912, in Grayson County and moved to Borden County 36 years ago, farming and ranching in the O'Donnell area. He was a World War II veteran.

Funeral will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Brannon - Philips Funeral Home chapel, with the Rev. Bob Creswell of Hermleigh officiating, and burial in O'Donnell Cemetery.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. S. M. Burrus, O'Donnell; and two brothers, Howard Lamb, O'Donnell, and Albert Lamb, Hereford.

Harley Patton, Retired Farmer

Harley B. Patton, 81, died at 1:45 a.m. today in a local rest home.

Mr. Patton was born Jan. 24, 1886, in Eastland and was a retired farmer.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include six sons: George Patton, Roswell, N. M., Chandler Patton, Junior Patton, Gene Patton, and Walter Patton, all of Big Spring, Thomas Patton, Las Cruces, N.M.; two daughters, Mrs. Roberta Barnett, Ryan, Okla., and Mrs. Mary Lee Underwood, Phoenix, Ariz.; 15 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. O. T. (Sue) Higgins, Rotan.

Grace Reports Record Sales

NEW YORK — W. R. Grace & Co. had first quarter earnings of $9,781,000, equal to 53 cents per common share compared with $12,511,000 or 70 cents per share during the same quarter last year.

Net sales and operating revenues for the first three months of this year were $368,708,000 compared with $309,087,000 last year.

While sales were the highest for any first quarter in the company's history, per share earnings were off by 24 per cent.

J. Peter Grace, president, said that the lower earnings were due to agricultural chemicals having had a slow starting season because of adverse weather conditions. Latin American earnings were lower because of unsettled economic conditions in Brazil, poor fishing conditions in Chile and Peru and devaluation losses in Chile and Argentina. Grace Line also had lower earnings. Other subsidiaries showed improved earnings.

Hospital Is Accredited

The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals has notified Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, that the Big Spring State Hospital has been approved for continued accreditation.

The commission is composed of the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association, and the American Medical Association, and survey hospitals throughout the nation to maintain a high standard for hospital care. Several recommendations were made that will enable this hospital to provide additional care without increasing costs to any appreciable degree.

Big Spring State Hospital is one of two of the State Mental Hospitals in Texas to be fully accredited by the joint commission, the other hospital being Austin State Hospital.

The staff of the hospital was proud of its accreditation, said Dr. Harrison. "Everyone employed by the hospital has worked hard to attain this accreditation and the hospital staff is to be congratulated for its accomplishment," he added.

The Big Spring State Hospital district includes this county.

FBI Rounds Up Auto Theft Gang

AUSTIN (AP) — Authorities say they have broken the back of an interstate auto theft ring with seven arrests in Texas and Nevada and charges against two other persons.

The FBI said Thursday it had arrested six persons in the Austin area, one in Las Vegas, Nev., sought an eighth person and filed a detainer against a ninth already in jail.

Meyers Cole of the FBI said the six arrested here are Charles Edwin Garner, 36; Ellis Dallas Wood, 33, Frank Hughey Smith Jr., 37; James Alfred Boyd III, 38; Dortohy Villa - Franca, 33, all of Austin, and Louis Dell Branton, 32, of a Travis County rural address.

Cole said a warrant also was served on Branton charging him with the burglary on the night of Oct. 11, 1966, of the First State Bank of Jarrell, Tex.

Cary Grant Denies Marriage On Rocks

BRISTOL, England (AP) — Movie star Cary Grant arrived alone in his English birthplace Thursday night and denied that his marriage was on the rocks.

Grant told newsmen he and his fourth wife Dyan "are great friends."

Grant has been married to the 29-year-old actress for just over two years. They have a daughter, Jennifer, 13 months.

"I shall be bringing the family when I come back to England this summer to make a film," he said. He came to Bristol this time to see his 87-year-old mother, Elsie Leach, who lives in a nursing home.

Coast Guard Rescues Five

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard rescued the five-man crew of a fishing boat early today within minutes after their stricken vessel sank in storm-tossed Atlantic waters about 75 miles off Atlantic City.

All appeared to be in good condition, said the cutter Sassafras which reached the fishing boat Mockingbird at 1 a.m. today.

Eleven hours earlier the fishing vessel's captain had reported his ship—rocked by 15 foot seas and 40 knot winds—was taking water and in danger of sinking. The ship went down at 5:30 a.m.

Soil Stewardship Observance Begins

Under the theme, "Three-fourths of Our Land," Soil Stewardship Week will be observed in this area starting Sunday and continuing through the following Sunday.

Officials of the Martin-Howard and the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation Districts have called special attention to this observance. Sponsor of the week is the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, with the guidance of an inter-denominational advisory committee.

In America, the Soil Stewardship observance traces its origin to the Rogation Days. In parts of the South, churches and congregations traditionally set aside the fifth Sunday after Easter as Soil and Soul Sunday. In 1946, this became Soil Stewardship Sunday when editors of "Farm and Ranch" magazine suggested to Southern religious leaders that one Sunday should be set aside to give recognition to men's obligation as stewards of the soil.

"Three-fourths of Our Land," the week's theme, alludes to the fact that three-fourths of all the land in the United States is owned or managed by private citizens. The nation looks to them to provide food, fiber and shelter. Unusual population growth at home and abroad greatly increase demands on the land to produce these essentials of life.

Many churches of most faiths hold special soil stewardship services. The NACD provides preachers, priests, and rabbis with sermon topics and other related material through local soil and water conservation districts. Soil district supervisors also put on or sponsor special programs for church, school, civic, business and other groups. The NACD film, "The Earth is the Lord's," also is widely used.

College Baptist Schedules Revival, Beginning Sunday

Since March, 1962, when the call to evangelism came to Young Tucker, pastor of one of the Southwest's leading churches in Oklahoma City, he has held 120 revivals and 5,000 additions have been added in churches where his messages have been heard.

While Tucker was pastor of the Exchange Avenue Baptist Church in Oklahoma City, 2,000 people joined his church in six years. His last year in the pastorate was climaxed with the baptizing of 192 converts to Christianity into the Exchange Avenue Church.

Since that time he has been actively engaged in full-time evangelism in Southern Baptist Churches throughout America. The effectiveness of his full-time evangelism is revealed by the fact that nearly one-half of his future revival meetings are return engagements. His theme is, "Evangelism from a Pastor's heart."

Tucker will be leading the College Baptist Church in revival efforts April 30 through May 7. The services will be conducted at 7:30 each evening, with no morning services.

James M. Stephens will direct the music for the revival. A 50 voice choir will sing each evening. Stephens is music director for the church.

One of the highlights of the revival will be a meeting at 7 each evening for all primary and junior-aged children. This meeting is known as, "The Royal Order of the Red Ants." It is a time of fun and fellowship for children, 6-12 years of age. The public is invited.

Services Begin For Assembly

Revival services began Thursday, and continues through Sunday, at the First Assembly of God Church, West Fourth and Lancaster, with the Rev. D. C. Rees - Thomas, from New Zealand. Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening, including Saturday.

Rev. Rees-Thomas was born and educated in New Zealand and became a professional photographer. While engaged in Youth for Christ, he entered Elim Bible College in London and after two years of study, graduated and took his first appointment in Bradford, in northern England. In addition to pastoring this large church, he was given the position of youth commissioner, being responsible for coordinating the activities of some 2,000 youth. With this experience, he became one of Great Britain's leading youth speakers. On several occasions he was the principal speaker at the Westminister Central Hall in London, with 3,500 present.

During the past seven years he has traveled extensively, and visited many western and eastern countries. He is accompanied by his wife and they are en route to New Zealand, via America, where he will be pioneering new churches.

Rev. Homer Rich, the pastor, welcomes residents to visit.

SOURCE OF PETER'S BOLDNESS LEADS TO GREAT STATEMENT

Peter and John were God's instruments for healing the lame man in last week's uniform Sunday school lesson. In this Sunday's lesson, they are brought to account before the Sanhedrin for this and especially for Peter's indictment of his listeners as the crucifiers of Jesus.

Out of this incident some remarkable things and declarations issued. (Acts 4:1-22.)

The accusers of Peter and John could not deny the miracle of healing which had occured; they questioned if it were not some feat of magic. Peter, who had wilted during the trial and at the crucifixion of Christ, now stood in a remarkable contrast of boldness because "he was filled with the Holy Ghost" (v.8). "The lame man had been made whole, and Peter made it plain that this was more than physical restoration; indeed it was making the man's entire personality whole again. The important thing was that this was spiritual salvation.

Peter spoke with such boldness that he turned prosecutor, reminding his tormentors that they had crucified Christ, but that God had vindicated His Son by resurrecting Him.

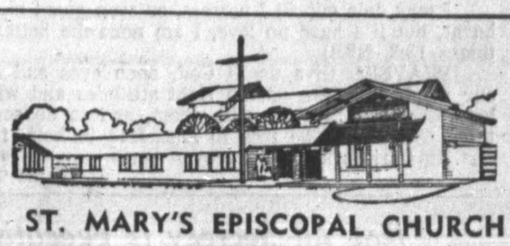

Then follows one of the most remarkable and significant declarations in the entire New Testament (v.12) "regarding Jesus: "There is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." One observer notes that this may seem harsh doctrine, but the only real unkindness is that which individual can do to himself by not believing and accepting its truth. The accusers of John and Peter were confounded because they perceived that "they had been with Jesus." This is a test which every Christian can put to his faith.

REMEMBER, CHANGE CLOCK

Please — pretty please — set your alarms for Sunday.

Big Spring ministers, apprehensive lest the shift to Daylight Savings Time in the wee hours before dawn Sunday will cause some of their members to run late, urged today that everyone set the alarms for Sunday morning.

But, first be sure you advance your clocks one hour before going to bed Saturday night.

A Devotional For The Day

I may dole out all I possess, or even given my body to be burnt, but if I have no love, I am none the better. (I Corinthians 13:3, NEB)

PRAYER: Give us, O God, open eyes and ears toward our neighbors. Give us the right attitudes and willingness to be with them, to think with them, and to do something for them. Help us to be free to love, free to help, free to comfort. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Not All Secrecy Is Executive

Criticism for excessive secrecy in the federal government is usually aimed at the executive branch and largely blamed on the White House. Much of that criticism may be deserved, but that which comes from Capitol Hill is badly tainted by Congress' own abuses against freedom of information.

The independent Congressional Quarterly reports that during the first three months of the current session, 45 per cent of all congressional committee meetings were behind closed doors. The House was by far the worst offender, with 57 per cent of its committee meetings held in secret.

It may readily be conceded that some committee meetings must be kept confidential, such as those dealing with security-sensitive phases of military and foreign policy, preliminary meetings on investigations that might damage the reputations of innocents and others where premature disclosures of certain information might damage the public interest. But there is no legitimate excuse, only the expediency of political comfort, for such a high proportion of congressional committee meetings being held in secret.

Why should the House Judiciary Committee hold two-thirds of its sessions in secret, or the House Post Office Committee meet most of the time behind closed doors? Why should the House Appropriations Committee always meet in secret, when the Senate Appropriations Committee holds open meetings three-fourths of the time? And why should the degree of committee secrecy continue to increase steadily from year to year?

Most congressional business is done in committee meetings. That is mainly where the facts are gathered, opinions expressed, issues debated, and legislative policy decisions made. To deny the voters knowledge of what goes on in these committees is to deny them information essential to intelligent democratic self-rule in our representative system of government. And Congress only weakens itself by indulging in excessive secrecy that undermines public confidence in its integrity and wisdom.

Looking Ahead To Economic Shifts

When the Vietnam war ends — as, barring global catastrophe, one day it must — the United States will face a formidable array of interlocking domestic problems. They will be problems of war-deferred action on national needs and problems of economic transition potentially disruptive to state and city development.

Basic will be the need to apply economy-stimulating substitutes for the some $25 billion a year now going into the war effort. Tax relief and deficit reduction may be in order, but increased spending in the public sector probably will be imperative, especially in the antipoverty and urban-affairs programs where war-limited spending is now allowing massive and pressing problems to build up deplorably and dangerously, if unavoidably.

There will be plenty to do—in meeting the crisis of our cities, combating poverty, undertaking deferred public works, conserving and developing natural resources, aiding the explosively underdeveloped countries particularly in Latin America, pursuing the space program, improving education, and so on — to take up any war's end slack in the national economy. But it is essential that both planning and public opinion be prepared for all that.

That is why it was reassuring news when President Johnson appointed a high-level interagency coordinating committee to consider plans for post-war federal aid to states and local governments and for easing the transition faced by regions and communities now closely geared economically to the war effort.

Vice President Humphrey's recent consultation with big-city mayors was a significant part of the "peace preparedness" planning. Here the most controversial question is whether to anticipate a new era of federal-state tax sharing with state aid then as the main approach to urban problems or whether to expect further expansion of conventional federal aid programs both to states and to cities. If war's end improbably has come, or is even in sight, by next year, that could be a major issue in the 1968 national elections.

David Lawrence

Test Of Support May Be Needed

WASHINGTON—President Johnson may have to ask a joint session of the House and Senate to pass a resolution which will tell the world that American policy in Vietnam has the support of the representatives of the American people—namely, the Congress of the United States. This step is being forced upon the administration as a result of the bitter criticism coming from its own leaders in the Senate. Thus, for example, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, (D-Ark.) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has publicly accused Gen. Westmoreland of trying to squelch independent discussion of the Vietnam War because in the military commander's speech in New York he said anti-war protests are encouraging the enemy and costing the lives of our fighting men.

SEN. GEORGE McGovern (D-S.D.) charged the Johnson administration with a "policy of madness" in escalating the Vietnam War. He declared:

"In trying to imply that it is American dissent which is causing the Vietnamese to continue the war, the administration is only confessing the weakness of its own case by trying to silence its critics and confuse the American people."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy (D-N.Y.) expressed his approval of Sen. McGovern's speech, as did Sen. Ernest Gruening (D-Alaska). Sen. Fulbright questioned whether the administration has "any intention" of entering into negotiations of "any sort" with Hanoi, and he added:

"THIS CRITICISM of dissent will lead to a charge of disloyalty . . . and from that to treason."

While Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla.) defended Gen. Westmoreland, as did Sen. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio) the impression created abroad by the debate undoubtedly will be that a sizable segment of the United States Senate disapproves of the Vietnam War and the strategy being followed there by the United States and its allies.

UNDER SUCH circumstances, how can the world learn the truth about American opinion? The Washington Post editorially suggests what it calls an effective remedy—namely, that the President go to Congress not for a declaration of war but for a resolution of support for the war in Vietnam as it is. The Post predicts that Congress would vote overwhelming support of the kind of struggle which Gen. Westmoreland defined in his speech. The editorial adds:

"THIS MIGHT not put an end to dissent, but it would end dissent that rests upon the feeling that Congress has not had a chance to play its full constitutional role in confronting the problems of the war that now is being fought in South Vietnam. It would make it possible to distinguish between those who are against the war and those who are playing politics against the administration. It would make it easier to identify those who are mere hand-wringers and those with a constructive alternative to existing policy. The Congress of the United States, facing up resolutely and boldly to the challenge of a conflict to which, it is frankly told, there is no end in sight, might send such a message to Hanoi as to hasten the day when there is an end in sight."

Billy Graham

I'm a widow living alone, and not able to do much for the Lord, so I contribute one-half of my modest income to various Christian groups. In your opinion, is this a satisfying service to the Lord? G. W.

While I cannot know the extenuating circumstances, I would say that if giving is all you can do, that you are doing what is required. However, don't allow financial support to Christian causes be a substitute for giving "your all" to Christ. Then you would be in error. For example, if the Lord wants you to teach a Sunday school class, or perform some other service, and you think you can get out of it by giving a contribution, of course this is wrong. The Bible says: "I beseech ye therefore . . . to give your bodies a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to the Lord which is your reasonable service." The criterion of Christian service is your "all," not just a part. Someone has said, "How can I be content to give a little when Christ gave His all?" When we look at the cross and see the Savior pouring out His life, it is difficult to give sparingly, or grudgingly. So the answer to your question is really within your own heart. You, alone, can answer if you are giving all that is required. One thing is sure: The Lord is more interested in the attitude of our hearts, than He is in our offerings of gold and silver. The Bible says, "Man looketh upon the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh upon the heart."

Gov. Wallace Still Slippery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trying to pin down Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, at this point in his political career is like trying to squeeze ice cream.

Earlier this week he indicated he might run for president in 1968, but he wouldn't say so. Thursday at Pittsburgh he told newsmen "since I am running for president" and then backtracked, saying the newsmen had him mixed up.

IF HE DID RUN, he certainly couldn't win. But if he took enough votes away from Democratic and Republican candidates so that neither got a majority, the election would have to be thrown into the House of Representatives.

Last Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press" he was asked if this threat to run for president was just "to blackmail one of the parties into accepting your view?" Wallace harps on the need for conservative candidates and party platforms.

WALLACE denied any thought of blackmail but earlier this year announced that if the two national parties "don't swing around and fly right in 1968" he would be preaching the conservative cause from coast to coast.

When he ran in 1964 — that is, before he dropped out of the race — he said his purpose was to "conservatize" the two big parties and, if he could keep either from winning, he would gain a pro-Southern bargaining position.

Wallace withdrew from that race after the Republicans nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater. This might have been interpreted as meaning Goldwater was conservative enough to suit Wallace. But he didn't endorse Goldwater.

AND SOMETHING else might have influenced him to pull out: A number of his supporters began to desert him for Goldwater, thus facing him with the possibility of a Wallace-Goldwater split that might leave the Democrats with a majority.

crimination," explaining he would not advocate segregation in any state. But he thinks Alabama's public schools should be segregated.

But, anyway, he quit after saying he wouldn't quit.

To Your Good Health

Purpose Of 'Blowing Air Through The Tubes'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you explain what is meant by "blowing air into your tubes?" My family doctor said I might have to have that done. I have been trying to become pregnant. — MRS. C. M.

Dear Doctor: What happens to the air blown into the body? It caused a lot of pain. — M. L. T.

The Fallopian tubes are the ducts through which an ovum has to pass to become fertilized and thus start a pregnancy.

If the tubes are obstructed (usually due to some past infection) an ovum cannot get through. The tubes are very small, and sometimes a mild infection, perhaps little noticed at the time, can result in enough swelling and scar tissue to close them.

Hence when other conditions appear normal yet conception does not occur, it is wise to check whether the tubes are open.

This is done by forcing air through — called tubal insufflation. This may in itself open up clogged tubes, or in any event will indicate whether some obstruction exists.

This procedure is not harmful. The air rises in the abdominal cavity and can be painful, especially if trapped under the diaphragm. The air is soon absorbed, however. Then the pain is ended and there are no after-effects.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: We have a child who has been diagnosed as hyperkinetic by the school and by our own doctor who has been giving him a drug which had very little effect. He then tried another that made him even more active. What medications were you referring to in your articles? Perhaps your doctor could prescribe them. — C. L.

At least three types of drugs are in use for this, and there may be others.

Tranquilizers (sometimes one type, sometimes another) help in some cases, and in other cases they do not.

Tranquilizers would seem to be a thoroughly logical means of controlling this over-activity of the child — yet strangely enough, some drugs which have a quite opposite action sometimes prove to be superior.

In some instaces carefully controlled doses of amphetamines are successful. These are the drugs used in "pep pills," yet for some reason they do not increase such a child's activeness, but instead they help him channel his energy into useful activity.

Finally, one of the psychic energizers, suits some patients excellently. This, as well as the other drugs, must be used with discretion and suitable tests to be sure adverse reaction does not occur. But this warning, of course, applies to any powerful medication.

Around The Rim

The Way It Looks

Nobody asked me, but:

Some of the shyest men I know are despised because people think they're snobs.

GUYS WHO carry jackknives make me uneasy.

Unless it's a rib joint, restaurants that feature jukeboxes usually serve inferior food.

Guys who own more than one overcoat are odds-on not to wear hats.

People who cross streets against the lights seem to slow down their pace as soon as they step off the sidewalk.

WHEN DOG OWNERS fall sick they have a tendency to interpret the normal laziness of their pets as the paralysis of grief.

Just once I'd like to hear Sen. Everett Dirksen holler out loud.

All coffee cakes should be sprinkled with pecans.

No matter how elegant a musician's tuxedo is, his shoes are rarely shined.

IN A COOKING contest, I'll bet on the housewife whose lobes are pierced for earrings.

Inspectors should make unannounced checkups of hospital food every week.

The slowest-gaited people run for a parked bus even when it's obvious they have plenty of time to make it.

Men drop their voices when they order a mudpack from a barber.

WOMEN WHO DO housework with their shoes off create the impression they're extremely efficient at any domestic task.

Would they stop making spy movies if there weren't any trench coats?

Most guys who brag how much their cars cost will go to any extreme to avoid paying a parking ticket.

This is certainly not profound, but it filled the space.—WALT FINLEY

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sometimes socialism doesn't creep in on little cats'-feet, but clumps around like a clodhopper in gargantuan brogans. This had been the case lately.

PROF. JOHN Kenneth Galbraith (Harvard), a hulking intellectual who measures around six inches above six feet, showed up the other day to testify against an administration plan that might let business firms develop the oil-shale of the Rocky Mountains. Next day, right behind him came Prof. Paul Douglas (New School of Social Research in New York City), whose massive frame stretches a good 75 inches off the turf. Luckily for the cause of economic freedom, these Goliaths were opposed by a man who cut them down to size, and then some.

SEN. CLIFFORD Hansen (R-Wyo.) is an athletic 5 feet 7 inches, and weighs a trim 150 pounds. He has a history of speech impediment, but the other day he displayed a gift of repartee that was a beaut. On the field of legislative battle Hansen left Galbraith prostrate, and Douglas prone.

Galbraith, a New Frontier ambassador, had arrived to oppose an Interior Department program to open up public lands in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah for private development. He was most caustic about it all. Business enterprise was like "the Wolf as he saw Little Red Riding Hood," Galbraith declared. The proposed plan "would be a free ride to monopoly for the big companies," he said. The oil industry, he wisecracked in a cumbersome attempt at understatement, "is not immune to the profit motive." And, of course, Galbraith couldn't resist ringing in "the memory of . . . Teapot Dome in the Elk Hills," that notorious oil-reserve scandal of President Harding's regime.

THEN SEN. HANSEN moved in for questioning. Hansen, a rancher and former governor, is a provincial figure and Galbraith an internationally known economist. The first-term senator is compact and restrained, the professor-ambassador is huge and sarcastic. Hansen was a pathetic teenage stutterer, Galbraith bulges with the confidence of his fame as lecturer and debater.

But Hansen soon laid him low. The senator, without a trace of acrimony, declared it remarkable that the "profit-motive" companies were not already "in there" if the territory under discussion was so rich in minerals. The minerals, in fact, are widely dispersed and they're locked inside many cubic miles of solid rock. It would take much investment and technology to hit pay-dirt, more than the federal government cares to risk. And, although Galbraith had jeered at the thought ("fantastic!") that small companies might be the finders, Hansen noted that they already had been. Two individual prospectors, Irv Nielson of Colorado and Joe Juhan of Arizona, last year made the key-discoveries concerning the potential value of dawsonite, a mineral very important to the production of aluminum.

WHEN GALBRAITH disclaimed any slur upon past Republicans in his Teapot Dome reference, Hansen delivered the knockout riposte.

Hansen: "I didn't interpret your mentioning Elk Hills and Teapot Dome to have any political connotation. I thought it was just pure demagogy on your part, sir."

PROF. DOUGLAS, ex - senator (D., Ill.), not only re-evoked Teapot Dome, but committed economic extremism. He declared that federally extracted shale-oil could be used to retire the National Debt, a rash blunder in arithmetic, as Hansen soon pointed out. At $3 a barrel, all the oil consumed in the USA, if produced under federal royalty rates, would yield $9 billion a year, not even enough to pay the $13 billion annual interest on the $336 billion debt.

Poor Pittance For The Humanities

WASHINGTON — "I must study politics and war that my sons may have liberty to study mathematics and philosophy. My sons ought to study mathematics and philosophy, geography, natural history and naval architecture, navigation, commerce and agriculture, in order to give their children a right to study painting, poetry, music, architecture . . ."

THOSE WERE the words of that stouthearted founding father, John Adams, who like all the Adams tribe looked piercingly into the future of the land he loved. They were the keynote of the Report of the Commission on the Humanities sponsored by three learned societies and made up of distinguished scholars, educators and public leaders.

The report recommended creation of a foundation supported by the federal government for advancement of the humanities. This was established as the National Endowment for the Humanities. An educator with an outstanding record and a droll sense of humor, Barnaby Keeney, former president of Brown University, was named chairman. At 52, Keeney put aside his career to come to Washington. He is now embattled in a dispute which he finds it difficult to reconcile with the broad objectives laid down by Congress. It is a dispute that John Adams would have found utterly incomprehensible.

A HOUSE committee has just cut the requested $5,000,000 for the humanities to $3,000,000. One reason is economy, the mounting cost of the war in Vietnam. But behind the economy talk is a motive that would baffle John Adams and the other thoughtful, deeply committed men who founded this nation.

It is a suspicion of government itself and, above all, distrust of government in any involvement in the arts or letters. A Republican Congressman from the Ozarks, Dr. Durward G. Hall, fastened on one of 69 recent grants by the humanities endowment as, in his expression, an "eye - grabber" to "teach the public how their money is running through the fingers of Congress." He has picked on a grant to compile a history of comic strips. Hall also announced that the art teacher at the University of California, David W. Kunzle, was not an American citizen. And to cap it all, Kunzle had criticized the United States' conduct of the war.

THOSE laboring to make a modest start at furthering the humanities with a small amount of federal patronage see this as yahooism. It reflects a primitive conviction that the arts and letters are themselves suspect, a kind of sissified diversion that may be all right for women's clubs. And John Adams, the scholar-patriot, would have found this most difficult of all to comprehend.

Both the humanities endowment and a similar endowment for the arts, headed by Roger Stevens, are patterned after the National Science Foundation. Even for the most suspicious Congressmen science is respectable. Out of the astronomical defense budget of $71 billion, perhaps as much as $7 billion goes for research. With the research of other departments and NASA added the total would be well over $10 billion.

IN MAKING their case, proponents of the humanities point out what other Western nations — Canada, France, Britain — are doing. With about one-tenth of the population and less than 10 per cent of our Gross National Product, Canada is spending this year through the Canada Council $5,600,000 for the humanities and in the following fiscal year will spend more than $10,000,000.

The budget of the French national government is about $25,000,000 to support the humanities. Britain may be pinched in the effort to rescue the pound but the government is putting up to 12 times into the humanities what our government proposes to spend.

Sunflowers Hard To Make

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Harry Dalvine has a sign in his bakery which states:

"We don't put sunflowers on cakes."

"They're just too hard to make," Dalvine said of the decorative versions of Kansas' state flower. "Each petal has to be made individually and each one has to be just right."

How about decorating cakes with the state bird?

"Meadowlarks are easy," Dalvine said.

Lamesa Hosts Lions' Parley

LAMESA (SC) — Lion's club members and their wives will be here today and Saturday for the District 2-T2 convention of the Lions International district organization. Using the theme "See America First," Lamesa's two Lions clubs have arranged a weekend extravaganza of American cities and customs.

The formal program will get underway tonight with the "pageantry of New York Night Life" as the district selects a queen to be named Saturday night at the governor's banquet, which is being held at 7:30 p.m. in the National Guard Armory.

Saturday morning the group will be feted with a "Cheyenne Breakfast," where the Lamesa clubs will be assisted by the Welch and Ackerly Lions cubs. A "Louisville Luncheon" will be served at noon Saturday, with Dr. Charles Jarvis, San Marcos, as guest speaker.

One of the highlight presentations of the convention will be a program by the Lamesa Lions Saturday afternoon. "Chicago Shenanigans," an old-fashioned musical, will feature the local "Slumtown Symfunny" group, go-go girls and Constable White and his Deputies."

A trip to old "New Orleans" for the governor's banquet will be followed by a visit to "Pedernales Pete's LSD Ranch" for the governor's ball.

Women delegates to the convention will attend a Saturday morning breakfast and will be honored at a reception Saturday afternoon.

First WAF Sent To Thailand

Maj. Jane E. McCullough, a 15-year veteran of the U.S. Air Force, has been picked as the first member of the Women in the Air Force to be stationed in Thailand. She is winding up her assignment at Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma City, preparing to leave May 12. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Burleson To Get Degree

ABILENE — Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree at Hardin-Simmons University's spring commencement exercises May 29.

Rep. Burleson, an ex-student at H-SU, was on the campus in late January and introduced Secretary of State Dean Rusk to those attending the special convocation in honor of the nation's top diplomat.

Dr. Elwin L. Skiles, H-SU president, announced plans for H-SU to honor Rep. Burleson and said Mrs. Burleson will be present for the occasion.

Burleson is the U.S. Representative for the 17th District of Texas and was first elected to the 80th Congress, taking his seat in the House in January, 1947. He is now chairman of the committee on house administration, and ranks second to the chairman of the powerful committee on foreign affairs in the House, being chairman of the subcommittee on National Security and Scientific Developments Affecting Foreign Policy. He is chairman of the joint committee on the library (of Congress), vice chairman of the joint committee on printing, and is a member of the Library of Congress Trust Fund Board.

Two At Webb Receive Quarterly Safety Awards

Capt. Phillip R. Brown and Airman 2.C. James M. Williams received the quarterly To Promote Safety (TOPS) awards this week at Webb. The Air Training Command awards were presented by Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander, at the wing staff meeting.

The citation accompanying the award to Capt. Brown read in part:

"On Jan. 5, while Capt. Brown was senior runway supervisor, three T-37 aircraft declared emergencies within several minutes. Two aircraft had experienced complete hydraulic failure and the other a fuel malfunction. Faced with the possibility of having to close the runway, the captain directed landing of all aircraft approaching minimum fuel. Then, with superior planning and clear concise instructions to each emergency aircraft, Capt. Brown effected a safe landing. His efforts prevented the situation from resulting in an accident or incident."

Capt. Brown is an instructor pilot in T-37s, assigned to the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron. He has been at Webb since February, 1964. A UPT graduate at the base with Class 64-C, he has completed pilot instructor training at Williams AFB, Ariz., and returned to Webb.

Airman Williams was cited for his action Jan. 17:

"While completing a routine horizontal slab check of a T-38 aircraft, Airman Williams saw that the horizontal slab moved with a distinct jerking movement when it was raised to the 60 per cent position. He signaled the pilot to shut both engines down and abort the mission. Investigation revealed that the flap slab interconnect cable was binding and that the forward guide support was cracked. These defects could have resulted in a very serious control problem in flight."

Assigned to the 3560th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, Airman Williams came to Webb June 12, 1966, where he has worked on the T-38 flight line.

Bids Requested On 2 Projects

The Webb AFB procurement office issued two invitations to bidders during the week. Plans may be inspected without charge at the office until May 24.

The first bid covers installation of foyers and air conditioning in buildings 46 and 47. Principal features of the contract include construction of enclosed foyers in both buildings; removing one 10-ton and one 27-ton air conditioning unit; installing new 60-ton air cooled condensing units; installing electrical utilities for air conditioning system.

The second bid covers repair or wood decking and replacement of roofing and shingles on hangars T-25 and T-44 at Webb. Bids will be received until May 29.

Mission To Organize Into Church Sunday

The Le Fe Spanish Baptist mission of Crestview Baptist Church is due to be organized into the Le Fe Baptist Church Sunday at 3 p.m. at North Scurry and Tenth.

When this is done, church officers will be elected and installed. The church will be affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention.

Organizational services will be opened by prayer led by James Renfro, said the Rev. Julian Vigil, pastor. Domingo Abreo will lead the song service; the Rev. Clyde Campbell, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist and Big Spring Association moderator, will speak briefly. The history of Mission La Fe will be read by Viron Hartin, followed by testimonies and then special music by the La Fe choir. The Rev. Abe Smith, representing the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will deliver the message. The benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. James Puckett, Baptist Temple pastor.

Due to be installed besides the pastor and his wife, Norma, are deacons and their wives, Pedro Parrasa, Domingo Abreo and Roy Salame. Viron Hartin is treasurer; Roy Salame, clerk; Abreo, song leader; Mary Anne Abreo, Alicia Acosta, Norma Vigil, pianists; Efren Abroe, Sunday school superintendent; Pedro, training union director; Roy Salame, brotherhood president; Ester Abreo, WMU president; Carmen Abreo, GA counselor; Gloran Galan, Sunbeam Band; Hartin, Barraza, Abreo, Salame, Felix Galan, Joe Arriola, Salvador Alvares, trustees.

Youth Revival Set In Coahoma

COAHOMA — A youth-led revival will begin this evening at the First Baptist Church in Coahoma and will continue through Sunday evening.

Donnie Anderson, Big Spring, will be the evangelist, and Les Neugebauer will be the music director. Both are students at Baylor University. All plans have been developed by the youth in the church here, who have headed up the various departments for preparation.

The first service will be at 7:30 p.m. today, the second one at 5 p.m. Saturday. Youth will be in charge also for the Sunday worship services at 10:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Sunday noon the youth people will have dinner together at Rick's Cafeteria.

A LOVELIER YOU

It Takes Months To Acquire Pretty Nails

By MARY SUE MILLER

It takes three to five months for nails to grow from the matrix beneath the skin where they are formed to the tip where they are filed. Considering the rate of growth, no one could reasonably hope to solve a nail problem overnight.

Yet women expect a miracle from a couple of dabs of nail strengthener. When it is not forthcoming they ask, "What can I do for my weak nails?"

The best answer is "Patience!" Splitting, breaking nails require the consistent use of conditioning treatments over a period of weeks before improvement is noticeable. Thereafter treatments must be continued until the nails have been normal for several months.

Many treatments for the surface of the nails have merit. Strengtheners and conditioners form a hard coat which helps to prevent breaks. Conditioners are absorbed into the nail and work toward improved texture. Those containing keratin have much the same protein composition as the nail. For good measure, the use of a conditioner and strengthener may be combined.

Conditioning cream, buffed into the matrix, further aids the cause. However external treatment may not be the whole answer. Problem nails may stem from a dietary deficiency. Then the protein intake has to be stepped up and supplemented with gelatin in powder or tablet form. But, for full results, patience always has to be stepped up.

HOUSEWORK

Attention homemakers! If housework saps your energies, looks and nerves, send for my booklet, "Beauty of Housework." It explains how to keep home and self sparkling with time to spare. Also included are an effort-saving work plan, shortcuts in housekeeping, and advice on how to give yourself a beauty treatment while engaged in your duties. Supper Climaxes Weight Contest

The three-months contest held by the TOPS Pound Rebels climaxed with a salad supper Tuesday evening in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building. The winning team was headed by Mrs. Allen McClinton. A new 'Money Tree' contest was begun.

Mrs. Lettie Fleming was introduced as a new member, and guests were Mrs. John B. Gordon of the TOPS club in Monahans, Mrs. Dan Brasher and Mrs. M. E. Anderson.

The Pound Rebels will be honored by the Plate Pushers at a salad supper next Tuesday evening as a result of a contest between the two clubs. Also, a celebration was planned for May 9, the fourth anniversary of the Pound Rebels.

Miss Michele Tereletsky led the pledge.

Wives Club Gives Farewell Coffee For President

Members of the International Wives Club presented Mrs. Irineo Bringas with an engraved charm bracelet at an informal farewell gathering Tuesday evening in her home, 1100 Eleventh Place.

Mrs. Bringas left Wednesday for her home in El Paso, where she will reside at 4312 Wallington. She has served for the past two years as president of the local club.

She recently returned from Westminster, Calif., accompanied by her son, Arthur, following the interment of the late Dr. Irineo Bringas in Westminster Memorial Park.

Mrs. Bringas has made tentative plans to travel to Europe, following re-establishment of her home in El Paso. She is a registered nurse.

Gardeners Name Slate For Council

Mrs. Carroll Cannon of the Four O'Clock Garden Club, was elected president of the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs during Wednesday morning's meeting in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Those named to serve with her are Mrs. Bruce Frazier, Big Spring Garden Club, vice president; Mrs. Zack Gray, Spaders Garden Club, secretary; Miss Bessie Love, After Five Garden Club, project chairman; and Mrs. J. W. Trantham, Planters Garden Club, historian.

Ten attended the election session conducted by Miss Love, retiring president. She read a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Dale Smith for the council's work on the recent district convention.

The council is continuing its anti - litter drive and is showing films in local schools. Mrs. Odell Womack is in charge of the showings, and Mrs. Frazier is in charge of a poster contest being conducted among students from the first through sixth grades. Eighteen awards will be given.

The next meeting will be May 24 at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Tom Ivey, Silver Heels. Officers will be installed.

Spring Dance Slated

The Wednesday Night Dance Club will hold its spring dance this evening at Big Spring Country Club with music by Mark Anthony. Hours for dancing will be from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meek are chairmen for the host group.

Other host couples will be Mr. and Mrs. Rich Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bruce, Col. and Mrs. Chester J. Butcher, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Darby, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. HINTS FROM HELOISE

Take Scorch Taste From Vegetables

Dear Heloise:

How does one take the scorch taste from vegetables that have slightly burned in the bottom of a pan? . . . Careless One

* * *

Pour the food into another pan, saving only those bits that fall out quickly. Fill the burned pan with water, set aside, and worry about it later!

Rinse off the food you transferred to the clean pan once or twice with cold running water. Barely cover with more fresh water.

HELOISE

Then add one beef bouillon cube and a pat of oleo, and cook a little more.

This is the only way I know of, and I use it every time I get careless . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

You know how bacon, especially the thin kind, sticks together and sometimes pulls apart when you try to separate it.

If you take the whole package (in the paper or out of it) and roll it up from the end a time or two, the slices separate and do not pull apart.

If you do this when the package is new, the bacon stays separated until you use all of it. . . Dossie Bean

Dear Heloise:

I have found an inexpensive and very attractive way to make cafe curtains.

I took a yard of nylon net and a yard of plain percale or sheeting and basted the net over the cotton material.

After hemming I did a decorative cross stitch on the border and had adorable curtains for my kitchen.

I now have pink ones in my girls' room and a pale yellow in my bath.

They wash well and are an attractive addition to my apartment. . . A Fan

Forum Hears Report On American Field Service

Mrs. R. J. Ream spoke on the American Field Service at the Thursday morning meeting of the Progressive Women's Forum in the home of Mrs. C. K. Orr, 2907 Goliad.

Mrs. Ream told the group that the Field Service actually started in World War I, but began as it is known today in 1947. She said that service headquarters are in New York, and that it is a non-profit organization. In 1947 there were 52 students from abroad and in 1967 there are 3,107.

Big Spring has been in the program for three years. The students come for a training program lasting 10 months and are given a three-week tour of the United States.

Mrs. Maxwell Green introduced the guest speaker, and Mrs. Bill Draper presided. Plans were completed for an installation luncheon May 11 at the Ramada Inn and the program theme will be on "Texas Heritage."

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a crocheted cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers and greenery in a milk glass container. Green and gold napkins, milk glass and silver appointments completed the setting.

Nine attended.

BPO Does Accept New Members

Mrs. James C. Brice and Mrs. George W. Daniels were elected to membership at the Wednesday evening meeting of the BPO Does in the Elks Hall. The women will be initiated May 10.

Mrs. Mary Ragsdale presided, and pro tem officers were Mrs. Kathleen Williams, junior counselor; and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, senior counselor.

Plans were discussed for the mother - daughter banquet in May. Mrs. Glen Gale, Mrs. R. L. Grandstaff and Mrs. Howard Johnson were named to the planning committee.

Refreshments were served to 12 and Mrs. J. M. Morgan, lodge mother.

First Place Tie For Bridge Game

Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver tied for first place with Mrs. Tom South and Mrs. Hudson Landers during the duplicate bridge Winners Game Thursday evening at Big Spring Country Club.

Other winners were Mrs. Ray McMahen and Mrs. D. A. Brazel, third; Mrs. E. M. Bunn and Mrs. Frank Anderson, fourth; and Mrs. Ayra McGann and Mrs. Carl Blomshield, fifth.

B&PW Has Induction Ceremony

Mrs. E. W. Alexander was inducted into membership at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at Coker's restaurant.

Mrs. C. R. Rhoads presided and presented Mrs. Alexander with a membership certificate.

A new officer's slate was introduced. It includes Mrs. Bill Ward Jr., president; Mrs. Mamie Roberts, first vice president; Mrs. R. V. Lewis, second vice president; Mrs. M. A. Webb, recording secretary; Mrs. Cass Hill, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Garland Morrison, treasurer; and Miss Edith Gay, parliamentarian.

Mrs. J. Robert Smith, finance committee chairman, announced good ticket sales for the Friday evening appearance of Porter Randall. More than half the tickets have been sold and reports are still incomplete.

Guests introduced were Mrs. William Belew and Mrs. Rozelle Dohoney. Hostesses were Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. L. S. Bonner, Miss Ruth Dyer and Mrs. W. D. Sullivan.

Twenty-six attended.

Former Officer Gives Program

Mrs. (Maj.) Robert Short of San Angelo, former Salvation Army Corps officer here, presented the program on antiquing plastic flowers at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Ladies Home League. The group met at the Salvation Army Citadel.

Mrs. J. R. Kirby presided and announced that the next meeting, May 5, will be a small items sale and workshop to make favors for patients in small rest homes.

Plans were completed to attend the Fellowship Day, May 5, of the Church Women United at North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church. Mrs. Jimmy Moore gave the devotion, "Flowers."

Refreshments were served to 16.

Mrs. T. A. Rees Hosts Carr Club

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mrs. T. A. Rees was hostess to members of the Carr Home Demonstration Club April 21.

Roll call was answered with "Appropriate conversation when visiting the sick."

Mrs. Bill Rees, president, led the song; Mrs. T. L. McKenney voiced the prayer, and Mrs. T. A. Rees read the devotional scripture.

Mrs. Bill Rees presented the program, "Food in the News," and refreshments were served to seven.

Mrs. Don Henderson will host the next meeting on May 5 when members will bring material for making toys for children in the hospital.

Mrs. Melvin Daratt Accepts State Office

Mrs. Melvin L. Daratt, 500 E. 23, was named state chaplain at the PBX state convention April 20-23 in Galveston. Mrs. Daratt and Mrs. Fern Smith were delegates from the Big Spring PBX Club.

There were 206 registered members and 30 voting delegates attending the sessions, and Lubbock won the attendance prize with seven out of ten members present.

Mrs. Emmeli Price served as convention chairman and announced that the international convention will be held in the Jung Hotel during July in New Orleans. D. W. Pullen of Houston was named "Boss of the Year," and Mrs. Lisle Barnett, 62, was elected "Operator of the Year."

MRS. M. L. DARATT

Workshops were held concerning the operator's attitude toward her work, and those attending were reminded that they are representative to the public of the firms where they are employed. Club work pointers were given, and the technique of fund-raising was discussed.

Members were reminded that Gov. John Connally will issue a proclamation declaring the week of June 4 as PBX Operator's Week. Mrs. Opal Hurling of Corpus Christi was elected state president, and Mrs. Christine Thompson was named state secretary.

An old - fashioned wall telephone was sold for $126, and the money will go into the state treasury.

Entertainment was provided by the Houston PBX Club which won an award. A style show, banquet and a tour of the Bishop's Castle were arranged for the visiting delegates.

The 1968 convention will be held in April at Odessa.

Footstool Helps Child Reach Bowl

Lots of the spilling and smearing occur around the washbowl and down his own front when a child isn't quite tall enough to reach the tap or soap with ease. Get him a sturdy little footstool to bring him up to a proper level and this probem will be solved.

Bond Analyst To Visit Here

John P. Barrera, senior analyst with Moody's Investors' Service of New York, will be a visitor in Big Spring Saturday during a tour of West Texas.

A 4:15 p.m. coffee at First Federal Savings and Loan has been scheduled, and all civic leaders have been invited to attend. Barrera will be taken on a tour of the Cosden refinery, as well as a drive-through inspection of other city landmarks.

Moody's Service gives ratings to all bonds issued by the city, county, schools, junior college, as well as CRMWD. The interest paid on bonds issued by these agencies largely depends on the ratings given by this and other services.

C. M. Smith, vice president, and Joe W. Smith, both of First Southwest Company, will accompany Barrera here.

Special Dinner Planned At Webb

A Military Assistance Program dinner is scheduled at the Officers Open Mess at Webb Sunday at 6:30 p.m. All allied personnel, student pilots and on-the-job trainees are invited.

R. H. Weaver, local attorney, will speak on the American political system. Following his address, there will be an informal discussion period to enable the visitors to better understand this country.

Second Lt. Charles H. Hundley, new foreign training officer, is in charge of arrangements.

Club To Meet At Hospital

Big Spring Kiwanis Club will meet next Thursday at the Big Spring State Hospital, instead of the Hotel Settles. Bill Johnson, president of the club, told the membership Thursday the luncheon will be in the Orderly Building at the hospital and he urged all members to make a special effort to attend.

Announcement was also made that on May 9, the Kiwanians and their wives will attend a joint installation dinner for the new officers of the Big Spring Key and Circle K Clubs. These are organizations of junior college and high school youths under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club. The May 9 meeting will be at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday's program at the Settles was devoted to committee meetings and reports.

Theft, Prowlers Are Reported

One theft and three prowler calls were reported to police Thursday night.

Clarence Burger, 1304 Main, reported the theft of a bicycle from Goliad Junior High.

Three prowler calls within 30 minutes turned out unfounded as police searched the areas at 2305 Allendale, 510 Goliad, and 1016 E. 20th.

Dear Abby

Be Beautiful, But Not Dumb

DEAR ABBY: I am a beautiful widow, 53 years of age, but I look much younger. I lost my husband a few years ago and to be perfectly honest with you, I want a man.

I have been going with a married man who is much younger than I. I really don't care very much for him, but I make him believe I do, because I feel it is better to have him than no man at all.

I am financially very well off so I don't have to work, but I am almost ready to get a job somewhere so I can meet some men. Can you solve my problem?

BEAUTIFUL BUT UNWANTED

DEAR BEAUTIFUL: Drop the married man unless you want to be known as both beautiful and dumb! Beyond that—a job, yes. But soft-pedal your bank account or you'll end up with the kind of man that will make you wish you were single, solvent and celibate.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I know you won't believe me, but God be my judge, I am telling you the gospel truth, so here goes:

My mother is a widow with seven living children. We are three girls and four boys. All of us married. Mom stays all night with us girls quite often. The problem is Mom hardly ever takes a bath. You can smell her from one room to the next. She hasn't washed her hair in a year, and it looks it. When she gets into a car, the whole car stinks. (Excuse me, Miss Abby, but I must speak plain.)

When she gets up in the morning, she never washes her hands, but goes straight into the kitchen to help with breakfast. I don't think she owns a tooth brush anymore.

We are all at the end of our rope. We are good Christian folks and wouldn't hurt our mother's feeling for the world. What can we do? We hate to be disrespectful, but she's getting worse with age.

SISTERS IN W. VA.

DEAR SISTERS: In a subtle, organized campaign remind your mother that she must bathe, shampoo her hair regularly and wear fresh clothing. Her advancing age probably has something to do with her carelessness, but she should be "reminded" — not ignored. When you sisters needed help your mother helped you. Now it's your turn.

Forsan Study Is Under Way

FORSAN (SC)—Schools were in recess here today — insofar as children are concerned. Teachers and custodial workers were putting in a long, vigorous day.

The occasion is a teachers in-service program in which the faculty will work on a curriculum guide for the elementary grades. Guides from other schools and from the Texas Education Agency were secured by Supt. Darrell Flynt for study by the faculty.

Previously the faculty shaped a secondary curriculum guide, and when the elementary guide is completed, a date will be set for calling in professional counselors to assist in a final draft.

While the faculty is busy with this study, the custodial staff will be engaged in a general cleanup of the school plant and premises. Classes will resume Monday, but Flynt reminded patrons that the schedule will be on Daylight Savings Time.

Fitzsimmons Is Honor Instructor

Capt. James M. Fitzsimmons, 3561st Student Squadron, has been selected classroom instructor of the first quarter of 1967 at Webb AFB. He is a native of Bath, N. Y., a graduate of the University of Rochester and has done graduate work at St. Mary's University in San Antonio.

Capt. Fitzsimmons received his commission through the ROTC program. He completed his pilot training at Marianna AB, Fla. and Greenville AFB, Miss. An instructor pilot since August, 1957, he has served at Vance AFB, Randolph AFB and at Webb. He has been an academic instructor at Webb since March, 1965, and is chief of his section.

Capt. Fitzsimmons has a total of 3,189 flying hours, including 2,900 hours of rated jet time.

Opening lead: Eight of ♣

South created the impression that he was looking thru the opponent's cards, when he played the trump suit in today's four spade contract. His explanation at the conclusion of the deal, however, revealed that his performance was based on a logical line of reasoning instead of X-ray vision.

West led the eight of clubs. East put up the ace, and promptly returned his singleton diamond. West played the ace and another diamond, which his partner ruffed with the three of spades. The defensive book was now completed, and East exited with a club which declarer won in dummy.

The fate of the contract rested entirely on how the trump suit was handled. A small spade was led, East followed with the six, and South—without any apparent deliberation—played the ten from his hand. When West showed out, it became routine to reenter the North hand with the ace of hearts to repeat the spade finesse. South drew the remaining trump and claimed the rest.

After accepting his partner's admiring congratulation, South was called on to explain his extraordinary handling of the trump suit.

"With so few trumps out against me, I am aware that after East ruffed the diamond, the percentage play is to take a single finesse in spades. I was able to glean some pertinent information from the bidding, however, that convinced me to discard the book.

"On the evidence available from the first four tricks, East showed up with four clubs and one diamond. His remaining eight cards, therefore, must consist of four spades and four hearts—because, if he held a five card suit, he would hardly have opened the bidding with one club. I accordingly decided to play him for all the missing trumps."

Rare Coins On Display

Displays of rare and unusual coins, which have been in the three banks of the city all of this week, are being moved today to 203 E. 3rd Street. The exhibits have been arranged and presented by the Big Spring Coin Club in observation of National Coin Week, which ends Sunday.

The exhibits at 203 E. 3rd are open to the public from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday.

W. A. Wozencraft, who recently returned from Dallas, where he exhibited his collection "Coins That Jesus Knew," said that his collection will be on display, as will the remarkable gold coin collection owned by Henry Bliznak. Wozencraft won second place in Dallas with his display and Bliznak won first place.

The general public is cordially invited to attend the exhibit Saturday and Sunday and inspect the coins shown.

Revival Opens At Faith Chapel

Evangelist W. O. Nunn, from Neosho, Mo., will conduct a revival starting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Apostolic Faith Church, Fourteenth and Goliad.

There will be special singing and preaching which has no ending date scheduled, according to the pastor, Rev. Eugene Raney. The services will be held nightly at 7:30 p.m. until the ending date.

Red Cross Field Director Moves

L. D. Jenkins Jr., who has served as Webb's American Red Cross field director, left this this week for a brief leave. Jenkins is scheduled for Southeast Asia duty early in May.

Mrs. Alice T. Stowers, from the ARC field office at Dyess AFB, is serving at Webb AFB temporarily. Mrs. Stowers indicated that the new director for Webb should arrive about June 1, following a tour in Vietnam.

Whitley Goes To Institute

Marion Whitley, Big Spring, has been selected to participate in a National Science Foundation Summer Institute in PSSC Physics, Advanced Topics, at New Mexico State University.

Whitley is one of 40 junior and senior high school science teachers selected for the eight-week institute June 12-Aug. 4.

Physical Science Study Committee physics is the basis for the eight-hour credit course during the Advanced Topics Institute at NMSU. Participants will review selected topics in basic PSSC, then delve into a detailed study of angular momentum and its conservation; irreversible processes; relativistic kinematics; speed, energy and mass, and atoms, molecules and nuclei.

Each selected participant receives a $600 stipend plus $120 for each dependent up to four and a travel allowance of up to $80 from National Science Foundation.

Participants must have taken the basic PSSC institute at NMSU or elsewhere.

Enrolled in the basic course at NMSU, Whitley received his master of science degree from North Texas State University. He is a long-time science teacher at Big Spring High School.

At CD Meet

Assistant Chief of Police Leo Hull and W. D. Berry, Civil Defense director, left early this morning to attend a meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico Civil Defense Conference in Los Alamos, N. M. Both men will return Sunday.
