Lake Thomas Level Rises After Rains

Thunderstorms southwest of Snyder poured out deluges of rainfall Tuesday night, putting Lake J. B. Thomas on what appeared to be its best rise of the year.

Over three inches of rain fell at the lake, and both of the major streams which feed the lake were flowing this morning. The Colorado River was reported flowing a stream about four feet deep and a good flow from Bull Creek was reported at mid-morning.

The lake level stood at 2242.20 or approximately a foot higher than Tuesday's elevation.

Reports this morning indicated that most of the rain fell on the south part of the lake watershed, which would preclude any prolonged runoff. However the lake's catch still could easily be the best of the year since most rains earlier in the year by-passed the lake's watershed.

Scurry County's portion of the Tuesday night rains apparently was concentrated in the southwest quadrant. Ira had two inches, but only a sprinkle fell in Snyder. Areas in the south part of the county had showers, but nothing to compare to the fall at the lake. Farther south, Colorado City had five inches, which resulted in some flooding in the town.

No rainfall at all was reported in the Fluvanna area last night.

The official announcement said the air battle took place over the Chamb area, which is inside the Indian sector of Pakistan.

Earlier a government spokesman said Pakistani Kashmir troops had crossed the ceasefire line in that area and had occupied two Indian posts.

Heavy Downpour In Colorado City Area

By The Associated Press

Up to 5 inches of rain doused one area of West Texas as mostly moderate thunderstorms prowled a broad area of the state during the night and early today.

The heaviest downpour was at Colorado City, where normally calm Lone Wolf Creek grew into a gushing torrent which carried away a car with a man inside.

Lightning struck a Magnolia Oil Co. storage tank 5 miles east of Midland and flames leaped 300 feet high as 48,000 gallons of crude oil burned.

Less severe storms and lighter rain developed along a mild cool front, which stalled for a time south of a Childress-Lubbock line for a time and then started crawling toward the southeast again. It was generally a little cooler behind the front.

Buddy Parham, about 45, disappeared in the rampaging creek at Colorado City. Larry Johnson, who was driving the car, narrowly escaped. Firemen helped peace officers hunt for Parham.

Colorado City gauges measured 1.55 inches of rain Tuesday afternoon. Another downpour starting about 8:30 p.m. swelled the total to 5 inches in less than three hours.

Gusty winds shattered a plate glass window in a cafe at Ackerly, 18 miles south of Lamesa, and the flying glass injured a man.

At one time during the night, showers dotted much of the sector from Alpine in far West Texas northeastward into Oklahoma.

By dawn Weather Bureau was tracking a broken band of showers and thunderstorms 100 miles wide in the area between Waco and Tyler.

Numerous points received an inch of rain or less.

There also were showers off the middle and lower Texas coast.

Forecasts called for the thunderstorms to center on southern sections of Texas by tonight but probably affecting no more than a third of the area.

Cooler weather was due to linger through tonight across the north half of the state. No letup in late summer heat was expected in the south.

Top readings Tuesday included Presidio 104 degrees, Abilene 102, Wichita Falls and Laredo 101, and Mineral Wells 100.

OAS Gets Agreement In Dominican

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Organization of American States secured a full agreement today terminating the 4-month-old Dominican crisis.

The peace formula insured the installation of a provisional government Friday as a first step toward general elections in nine months.

Rebel leaders cheered the peace plan. Heads of the armed forces, taking over after the rival civilian - military junta stepped aside, pledged full support to the provisional government.

The peace proposal was signed first by the insurgent regime behind rebel lines Tuesday night. Then Dominican armed forces leaders, meeting at the headquarters of the junta, signed a declaration of support for the peace plan and the provisional government.

The government terminated nearly three months of peace efforts by the three-man OAS political committee of Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador and Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil.

The formula calls for a 44-year-old lawyer diplomat, Hector Garcia-Godoy, to become president of the interim regime.

His provisional government will negotiate withdrawal of the OAS peace force, composed of 9,000 U.S. and 2,000 Latin-American troops, still patrolling the battle-scarred capital.

The peacekeeping troops took over after the initial U.S. intervention in the rebellion which erupted April 24 in an abortive effort to bring former President Juan D. Bosch back to power.

Fog Delays Workers In Rescue Efforts

SAAS FEE, Switzerland (AP) —Search efforts stopped today for victims of the Mattmark avalanche as fog shrouded the Alpine valley where they lay under tons of ice.

Rescue chief Andre Schmidt said operations will be resumed only in perfect visibility to permit a clear view of the giant Allalin Glacier threatening a repetition of Monday's fall.

Schmidt said at the latest count 85 workmen of the Mattmark hydroelectric project were missing — and presumed dead.

Steel Talks Down To 'Brass Tacks'

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiators trying to avert a nationwide steel strike were described today as having "reached the stage of hard and tough bargaining."

This characterization of the marathon sessions came from Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

"They are having straightforward confrontations on two main issues — that is, wages and pensions," Moyers told newsmen.

The management and labor representatives were meeting in the Executive Office Building next to the White House.

"I have no indication of what progress is being made," Moyers said.

As the talks entered their day in Washington, negotiators reportedly were arguing that White House wage guidelines are too low.

President Johnson, continuing to urge a noninflationary settlement, was joined by House and Senate Democratic leaders in warning that a strike would hurt the nation's economy and security.

A strike deadline scheduled at 12:01 a.m. today was postponed until 12:01 a.m. Sept. 9 at Johnson's request.

A strike would idle 450,000 Steelworkers and shut down about 80 per cent of the nation's steel industry.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor continued efforts to compromise the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers' demand for a wage and fringe benefits increase of 53 cents an hour over three years and the industry's last offer of 40.6 cents.

Unverified reports that the 10 major steel companies had offered to raise the ante for a settlement were denied by a high administration source.

However, another reliable source said the industry had been ready to boost its offer slightly at the time the talks were moved here from Pittsburgh Monday. The union reportedly also was prepared to make concessions, dropping its demand to 48.9 cents.

The union reportedly was citing new Commerce Department figures in arguing that White House wage guidelines of 3.2 per cent should be boosted to at least 3.4 per cent.

A White House source indicated the union would get nowhere with the argument.

"It's not at all that simple," the source said in conceding that new government figures showed a higher gross national product in recent years than previously reported.

The source said the guidelines might be revised upward next year, but not now.

Johnson has strongly hinted he will stick to his insistence that the industry grant a settlement in the 3.2 per cent range without a steel price hike.

Hurricane Gains Speed; Eyes Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Betsy, demoted to a tropical storm briefly Tuesday, picked up strength again today and began a slow march toward land.

Scientists shelved a plan to bombard the storm with silver iodide crystals in an attempt to tame her fury. Betsy's westward movement injected an element of possible risk.

The Weather Bureau said Betsy's peak winds had climbed to 80 miles an hour and the tempest was thrashing through the Atlantic at 6 m.p.h.

The hurricane posed no threat to the U.S. mainland for the next two days, the Weather Bureau said.

Betsy's power sagged below the 75 m.p.h. necessary for hurricane status while she moped a day and a half in about the same spot 300 miles north of Puerto Rico and 900 east-southeast of Miami.

But during the night, a high-pressure area sent her spinning with renewed vigor and she swiftly built to hurricane force again.

Early this morning, the Weather Bureau said Betsy was about 260 miles north-northwest of San Juan, Puerto Rico, and 875 miles east-southeast of Miami.

Race Troubles Erupt Across Wide Areas

By The Associated Press

Racial troubles erupted into violence in both the North and South Tuesday night as two White men were wounded in a free-for-all fight in Plymouth, N.C., and three Negroes were hospitalized in Chicago.

Tenions in Plymouth had been so high that civil rights leaders called off a scheduled demonstration. But seven Negroes walking down Main Street in the eastern North Carolina town were confronted by a group of whites, touching off the shooting in which one white man was injured and the fight in which another was stabbed.

Authorities blamed the incident on the Ku Klux Klan and persons from other towns.

The Negroes are demanding that voter registration books be opened immediately in the county. By state law, the books cannot be opened until Oct. 9.

The Chicago trouble began when about 40 demonstrators, mostly Negroes, picketed the home of Schools Supt. Benjamin Willis. He has been the target of protests of those dissatisfied with racial distribution of pupils in Chicago schools.

Demonstrators began to lie down in the heavily traveled intersection of Sheridan Road and Bryn Mawr Ave. and police arrested 14, subduing some with clubs.

Plymouth police said one of the Negroes in the group walking toward the center of town pulled the gun from under his pants leg and fired wildly at the white men.

The group of Negroes turned and fled down the street into a group of whites that had gathered in the middle of town. Several white men grabbed the Negro with the pistol and began beating him.

State troopers and police quickly moved in and seized the Negro, who later managed to escape. Police arrested two other Negroes.

George Williams, 45, of Greenville, N.C., was shot in the stomach and Clarence McCoy Adams, 27, of Pink Hill, N.C., was hospitalized with a knife wound. Both were reported in good condition.

More than 300 persons had gathered in the center of town and remained there after Mayor W. R. Flowers announced the demonstration postponement. The mob kicked at least two cars containing Negroes and pelted one car with beer cans. Moments later the seven Negroes began moving up the street.

Elsewhere on the racial scene, school desegregation continude quietly in the South. In Alabama's rural Lowndes County, where two white civil rights workers have been shot to death this year, four Negroes calmly went to classes with white pupils at Hayneville High School.

Desegregation in other Southern towns and counties followed the pattern of peaceful acceptance under application of the 1964 Civil Rights Act to avert a cutoff of federal money.

In Natchez, Miss., worried city officials imposed a 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew as the deadline neared for the city's answer to Negro demands for total desegregation. Authorities also banned the sale of whisky in the Mississippi River city.

Mayor John Nosser and the Board of Aldermen meet tonight to decide what to do about the Negroes' 12-point demand.

Permit For Dam Granted

AUSTIN — The new Texas Water Rights Commission approved the Colorado River Municipal Water District's application for a permit to build a new reservoir on the Colorado River near Robert Lee.

The application by the CRMWD, which furnishes water to Snyder, Big Spring and Odessa, had provoked a bitter feud between upstream and downstream Colorado River interests.

Mounting a vigorous attack on the project were spokesmen for Lower Colorado River interests who said they feared the Robert Lee reservoir would keep water from flowing downstream into the so-called Highland lakes. However, after today's decision, the water district and the LCRA agreed not to contest.

Plans are being made for the CRMWD to assist the LCRA in construction of a new facility below Austin to provide better utilization of waters of the Colorado River originating below the Mansfield Dam. In this manner, any adverse effect resulting from the construction of the Robert Lee Dam on water levels of the Highland Lakes will be minimized.

Representatives from Snyder attending today's hearing were directors John Blum, W. A. McGlaun, Lyle Deffebach, Rex Fields, and attorney James Rosser.

The commission's action was its first since taking over today from the old Texas Water Commission.

The permit would allow the water district to construct a dam with 489,000 acre-foot capacity and divert annually 40,000 acre-feet for municipal use, 8,000 acre-feet for oil well flooding purposes and 2,000 acre-feet for industrial plants.

The water rights commission, however, placed restrictions on the district's total diversion of water from Lake Robert Lee and the district's existing Lake J. B. Thomas to 73,000 acre-feet per year, of which not more than 20,000 acre-feet could be used for mining and industrial purposes. (An acre-foot is 325,851 gallons).

The commission further provided that until the district is actually using all of the water it is authorized by this new permit, the operator of Lake Buchanan and Lake Travis could request the release of water from Lake Robert Lee when the storage space in Lake Buchanan is below 1,018 feet elevation and is below 678 feet elevation in Lake Travis.

The commission also authorized the district to construct a system of low-flow diversion works in the channel of the Colorado River in Scurry and Mitchell counties as a salt water pollution control measure and to divert the waters as a part of the appropriation for industrial and mining purposes.

The district also may use the water in Lake Robert Lee for recreation purposes, the Water Rights Commission said.

A Midland delegation appeared before the commission with a plea for approval of the district application.

"The lake will provide potable water for cities throughout the Permian Basin and enable West Texas partly to solve and meet its critical water problems," Midland Mayor Hank Avery testified.

The lake backed up behind a dam 20,400-feet long and 132 feet high at its maximum point, would cover 14,950 acres when filled. Maximum width of the lake would be 19,000 feet and the average width 6,785 feet. At capacity, the lake would have an average depth of 32.7 feet, and the maximum depth at the dam would be 104 feet.

The dam would be rolled earthen embankment with a clay core and would be 784 feet wide at the base and 20 feet at the top. This structure would require 9,208,000 cubic yards of earth.

The service spillway would be a gated morning glory type with control gates for the top 20 feet. The service outlet would be 10 feet in diameter, and there would be an emergency spillway 5,000 feet wide.

Approximately two dozen oil wells in the basin of the lake would have to be put "in the dry," either by construction of earthen mounds or steel structures. Approximately eight miles of State Highway 158 west of Robert Lee would have to be relocated.

At the time of the estimates a year ago the cost was pegged at $12,800,000. This does not include the ultimate cost of the pipeline system which could add another $21,526,000 to the total. The pipeline, however, would be built in stages as the demand warranted.

Studies indicated that the lake would be of suitable quality for municipal and industrial purposes.

Originally the CRMWD filed for construction of a dam in southern Mitchell County on June 20, 1960, and the Texas Water Commission granted this permit upon the condition that the district first shown an ability to control salt water pollution in the Colorado River. Efforts to do this involved two major decisions — one was to seek a ban on disposal of oilfield brines in open, unlined pits in the watershed; the other was to shift the location of the dam downstream by about 20 miles.

Bids Are Due Thursday On Coliseum

Contractors from a wide area are expected here tomorrow for the opening of bids on construction of a Scurry County Coliseum.

The commissioners court will open bids on the project at 10 a.m. Thursday at the courthouse.

Plans and specifications for a rectangular - shaped building have been distributed to many prospective bidders, said J. D. Hinton, local architect who is associated with Barnes, Landes, Goodman and Youngblood of Austin on the project.

The coliseum will be located on a tract between U. S. Highway 84-180 and Thirty-seventh Street in the east part of town. The site was purchased by the county several months ago.

Scurry County's taxpaying voters authorized construction of the coliseum when they approved a $1,250,000 bond issue in an election held March 14, 1964.

Overall dimensions of the building will be approximately 240 feet by 280 feet. It will include a large arena and permanent seating for more than 4,000.

Schools To Join In New Program

Snyder Public Schools will participate in educational programs provided by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The board of trustees, at a special meeting last night, approved the participation. However, full extent of the program here will not be known until the administration determines exactly how much can be put into operation effectively.

Funds for the program will be channeled to local school districts by the Texas Education Agency, which will administer the program in Texas. Dr. Robert Clinton, Snyder School Superintendent, said the TEA had advised that approximately $65,000 would be available to the Snyder District under Title I of the federal act, and about $4,000 for upgrading library services would be available under Title II.

Under consideration here under the program are an additional counselor at the high school, remedial instruction for elementary schools, an additional visiting teacher and neighborhood aids for elementary teachers.

The board discussed the program at length and ultimately voted approval by a 4-1 count. Board members William J. Schiebel, Charles Hartman, J. L. Browning and Buster Anderson voted for it, while board member Kenneth Wilson opposed it. Wilson said he did not question the merit of the additional services in the schools, but felt that the district should finance them itself rather than accept federal participation.

WORRIED CARRIER

DEAR WORRIED: Tell your district manager what happened and ask him what the policy of the newspaper is when customers leave town and papers pile up. If the customer quits (and I doubt that he will), you are blameless.

Rae Can't Roost With Those Chicks

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Rae the rooster is down in the dumps these days — he may have to miss college.

Andrea Shields wants to take Rae with her to the University of Arizona this fall, but the Carroll freshman says it's against the rules.

She can't find any place for Rae to nest.

Miss Shields lives in Scottsdale, 150 miles from the campus and will be residing in a campus dormitory. The dorm houses chicks — but not chicks etc.

The coed has written the Tucson Daily Citizen to run an ad for a place for Rae to stay in Tucson.

Andrea has had the pet White Leghorn rooster better than a year and a half and doesn't want to part with him.

"He is well-trained, he comes when I call, and he wears a leash," she says.

Fugitive Killed By Ft. Worth Police

Aug. 28.

Another Dallas woman, who lived in the same vicinity, told police the fugitive abducted her Saturday, raped her several times and kept her locked for hours in the trunk of her car.

She escaped Tuesday, the young woman said, as McCauley dozed in the car, clutching

Sgt. J. T. Francis and detective L. Stamp followed a police dog into the Dallas house and the dog led them to a bathroom. Stamp said he fired as McCauley pulled a pistol, hitting the wanted man in the chest.

Police said the young woman who escaped McCauley was forced to accompany him during a gas station robbery Monday night in suburban Arlington.

Detectives said he was the gunman who also held Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Goldsmith captive for a time Sunday night in their home near Eagle Mountain Lake, leaving them tied as he departed in the couple's car.

Dallas detective Capt. Will Fritz said McCauley also told the abducted woman he was wanted for murder in the shooting death of his estranged wife in Dallas.

Judy Garland Tells Plans For Marriage

SAN CARLOS, Calif. (AP) — Judy Garland opened a six-day engagement Tuesday night with an emotional announcement to a packed audience that she will marry Mark Herron on Sept. 19.

With Herron at her side, Miss Garland announced to the Circle Star theater audience of about 3,000: "I'm going to marry my beloved Mark on the 19th."

Then Herron, whose name has been linked with Miss Garland for some time, took a seat in the first row of the in-the-round theater as his bride-to-be sang 10 numbers — standards and love songs.

tion issued in order against the disposal of salt water in pits. On the heels of this, the district, Jan. 15, 1964 executed a contract with Sun Oil Company to take 600 million gallons a day of its Permian contract. [illegible] terms of the permit issued the Colorado River.

There were some serious foundation problems on the Mitchell site and this, coupled with findings that the lake at the Robert Lee site would contain about 2,400 less surface acres and average nearly 10 feet more depth, meant far less difficulty from evaporation and the ensuing concentration of chlorides. Engineers estimated that additional drainage area would help double the quality of water in the Robert Lee site over the one in southern Mitchell County.

On this basis, the CRMWD board voted on July 17, 1964 to file an amended application to impound a lake a mile and a half above Robert Lee on the Colorado River.

If token opposition had been anticipated, proponents found they had run into a hornet's nest. Mitchell County interests disappointed over the shift in location, lodged a protest, and so did the Upper Colorado River Authority, which later withdrew upon assurances that rights of permit holders would be respected.

The heavy artillery in opposition, however, was wielded by the Lower Colorado River Authority, which serves an empire south from Buchanan Dam to the Gulf coast. The main complaint at the hearing in December 1964 and January 1965 was that the proposed lake would adversely affect the levels of the Highland Lakes above Austin and thus diminish the recreational conveniences. LCRA contended that it had a permit for 1,500,000 acre feet per annum from the Colorado River for generation of hydroelectric power, and this particularly as to that portion of the CRMWD application concerned for mining and water-flooding on the grounds that mining was inferior in priority to hydroelectric generation.

Robert Lee's Lower Dam, when completed in 1968, will be 381 feet high and create a lake 30½ miles long.

Kid Stuff

As summer fades the homemaker can visualize the days when the kids will be playing indoors. While good construction weather prevails, ceramic mosaic or quarry tile can readily be installed in the den, playroom or children's rooms. Tile is the proverbial "duck's back" of surfacing materials: it shreds finger-paint and crayon, resists scissors and skates, defies chemistry sets and fire, all with an occasional damp mopping. When tile and the kids are indoors together, housework is practically child's play.

TV Becomes Dramatic Tool Of Our Modern Presidents

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country is getting a new kind of presidency. Television and changing times are part of the reason.

This week President Johnson looked like an on-the-ball chief executive when he went on television to announce he had obtained an eight-day postponement in the steel strike.

The idea wasn't quite new with him. President John F. Kennedy did pretty much the same kind of thing. Johnson just does more of it.

Kennedy used a televised news conference in 1962 to congratulate the steel union and industry for what he thought was an "obviously noninflationary" settlement.

Then when the industry, to his chagrin, raised prices, Kennedy used another televised news conference to denounce the steelmakers, who backtracked fast and dropped the price boost.

Kennedy and Johnson were doing two things.

Taking action and letting the nation see it close up pretty much as it happened. But, still using the steel industry as an example, they weren't the only presidents who took strong action.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, after getting a postponement but then letting a steel strike start in 1959, finally asked for an injunction to cool it off. In 1952 Harry S. Truman seized the steel mills to prevent a shutdown.

All four men had to take decisive steps in many fields which would have seemed extreme to presidents in the 19th century and to some of them in the first 30 years of this century.

But, with television so handy, presidents in the future, after the examples set by Johnson and Kennedy in using it in tense, national moments, will be expected to go on the air to tell the nation the latest.

Further, since they will be on screens from coast to coast, they won't dare look wishy-washy and must at least try to give the impression of decisive action even when they're hedging.

But since the depression of the 1930s, when the nation had to look to the White House for action, President Franklin D. Roosevelt set the pattern for the future by accepting true responsibility.

Since Roosevelt every president has found himself deeper and deeper in monumental problems that couldn't be ignored or let slide and the reasons for that are obvious.

Gradually, as the American society and the economy have become more interdependent among all their parts, there has been less room for delay or indecision.

The efforts of Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson to prevent or stop a steel strike, which would have meant far less 50 years ago, were all thought necessary to prevent critical economic damage to the whole nation.

And, as the United States moved out of isolationism in the 1940s, firm and fast foreign decisions became a necessity, too. These requirements will grow greater in the future, not less.

This in turn undoubtedly will mean that presidents in the future will at least have to give the impression of being not only good men — which seemed the only criterion too many times in the past — but strong ones, too.

The old-fashioned, back-porch presidential campaign — where only a handful of the citizenry could get a look at the man asking for votes — is long gone, along with sole reliance on short whistle-stops.

Thus, as the nation grows increasingly aware of the need for decisive men in the White House, the caliber of presidents, as has been increasingly seen since the 1930s, will be far different from most of those in the past.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOBY DICK

QUESTION: Was there really a Moby Dick?

ANSWER: Moby Dick was the name of a vicious white whale who is the villain of Herman Melville's famous novel, Moby Dick, published in 1851 and regarded as one of the greatest books written in America. In the book, Captain Ahab of the whaleship Pequod roams the seas in search of this one particular whale, which once had bitten off one of his legs. Ahab is determined to kill Moby Dick as a matter of personal revenge. His fierce chase after the whale makes thrilling reading.

This story sounds fantastic, but it had much foundation in fact. When a particularly savage whale had been attacked several times and escaped (usually with a number of harpoons still attached) it might become a "rogue" and attempt to kill men and smash boats and ships. Such a whale would become known across the oceans, and sailors would call him by a certain name. Melville had been a whaleman himself, and had heard a famous rogue whale, Moby Dick, spoken of. So the reply to our questioner is that there really was a Moby Dick. Melville's story, Moby Dick, however, should be taken as fictional, even if there is much truth about the thrilling occupation of whaling as practiced many years ago.

FOR YOU TO DO: Read Moby Dick to find whether Captain Ahab caught up with the whale. You'll find it a fascinating story.

Some Things We Can Be Grateful For

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A few things to be grateful for in a troubled time:

The sight of sailboats racing on a wind-grooved sea. The sound of church bells at twilight. The purring contentment of cats and the eager inquisitiveness of puppies. Hearing two children doing their homework together.

Waiting in the dark for someone you love to arrive. Watching the happy faces of people greeting each other at air terminals. Reading a good novel that leaves you feeling that life is important, and the human race worthwhile. Opening a package sent by a distant friend. Defeat Reds, 5-3

Braves Gain On Idle LA

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves must have had their smoke signals crossed when they called Frank Thomas back to the reservation. All they really needed was an umbrella.

The Braves made the only headway in the National League pennant race Tuesday night but it took them almost eight hours in stormy Cincinnati to do it. After beating the Reds 5-3 in the rain-prolonged opener of a doubleheader, the Braves weathered another long delay before Cincinnati's 4-1 lead was washed out in the fourth inning of the second game.

The victory ended a six-game losing streak for the Braves and moved them into a third-place tie with Cincinnati, two games behind league-leading Los Angeles. The Dodgers were rained out at Pittsburgh while two other contenders, San Francisco and Philadelphia, were dividing a doubleheader.

Thomas, meanwhile, cracked two homers and drove in five runs as Houston swept a twi-nighter from the New York Mets 4-3 and 3-2, then packed his bag for a return trip to Milwaukee.

The Braves acquired Thomas, whose two homers against New York lifted his career total to 286, from Houston to bolster their bench. They'll send the Astros a player in return at a later date.

A couple of other former Milwaukee stars, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette, hooked up in pitching duel at Philadelphia, the Phillies' Burdette topping his former roommate 2-0 in the second game. The Giants won the first game 2-1 in 11 innings.

In the American League Detroit nipped first-place Minnesota 7-6, Los Angeles edged New York 1-0, Baltimore swept Chicago 4-0, 7-2, Boston took two from Washington 4-0, 8-5 and Cleveland split with Kansas City, winning the first game 8-1 and dropping the nightcap 3-2.

Home runs by Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Gene Oliver powered Milwaukee past the Reds in a game delayed 24 minutes at the start and held up for more than two hours in the fifth inning. Mathews' 30th homer capped the Braves' attack and tied him with Stan Musual for seventh place on the all-time homer list, with 475.

Spahn gave up only three hits in the Giants-Phillies nightcap but two were homers — by Alex Johnson in the seventh and Bobby Wine in the eighth — and they pinned loss No. 16 on the 44-year-old southpaw.

Burdette, 38, scattered six hits for his third victory, getting pinch hitter Orlando Cepeda to hit into a game-ending double play after giving up two singles in the ninth.

Willie Mays doubled in the 11th inning of the opener, reached third on a passed ball while Willie McCovey was being issued an intentional walk and scored the winning run as Jim Hart tapped into a force play.

Thomas drove in all the Astro runs in the opener at New York with his third and fourth home runs of the year. Rusty Staub homered for Houston in the second game and knocked in the deciding run with an eighth-inning single.

Hermleigh QBC To Have Barbecue

The Hermleigh Quarterback Club will hold its annual football barbecue Thursday at 6 p.m. in the Hermleigh High School Cafeteria.

Each barbecue plate will cost $1, and the affair is open to the public in order to familiarize Cardinal fans with the 1965 team.

All football players will be treated free of charge by the Quarterback Club. The pep squad girls also will be admitted free.

The annual affair is always held before the first Hermleigh football game. The Cardinals will begin their season September 10 when they meet Roby.

Tragedy Hits Ole Miss Campus Again

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — The University of Mississippi opened its 1964 football practice a year ago today and before the day ended a sophomore halfback collapsed and died. The Rebels lost another player Tuesday — 364 days after the first one.

Sophomore end Bob Priester, ticketed to be an alternate starter on defense, collapsed and died while running unsupervised laps with fellow team members at Ole Miss Tuesday.

Mississippi started its 1965 practice sessions today.

Priester's death was the eighth football fatality reported in the last six days. It was also believed to be the first double fatality for a major college team within such a short time.

There were two other football deaths reported Tuesday.

PRO TEAMS PARE ROSTERS

Giants Drop James, While Redskins Ax Dick Pesonen

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Professional football's revolving doors were in full operation today as American and National League teams pared their rosters.

AFL clubs, trimming to 43 players plus All Stars who don't count against the limit, cut a flock of rookies to reach the quota while some veterans popped up among the NFL cutdowns which reduced rosters to 47 players.

Top names among those cut were 10-year veteran Dick James, sliced by the New York Giants, and defensive back Dick Pesonen dropped by the Washington Redskins.

James, the smallish running back, who came to the Giants from Washington in the Sam Huff deal last year, had been hampered by injuries and sat out all the exhibition games while Giant Coach Allie Sherman relied on his rookie backs.

Pesonen had been cut earlier by New York and was trying to catch on with the Redskins. He was one of six pared by Washington — the others were rookies.

Baltimore placed veteran center Dick Szymanski on the injured reserve list and cut two rookies, quarterback Tim Murphy of the Air Force Academy and punter Ron Perez from the University of Tampa.

Top casualties of the AFL cutdown were pass catcher Bake Turner of New York and fullback Larry Garron of Boston. Both were placed on the injured reserve list and must sit out at least the first two games of the regular season.

The Jets also asked waivers on injured guard Pete Perreault and sent defensive tackle Bob McAdams to Kansas City for rookie defensive end Charles Ragus of Northwestern Louisiana.

The Chiefs cut three rookies, flanker back Closter Richardson of Jackson State, Miss., defensive halfback Mickey Sutton of Auburn and punter Danny Thomas of Southern Methodist.

In addition to shelving Garron, the Patriots trimmed offensive guard Dave Watson, defensive back Dave Cloutier and rookie defensive end Tony Gibbons of John Carroll.

San Diego dropped three rookies, offensive end Don Floyd and place kicker Les Murdock, both of Florida State and defensive back Kern Carson of San Diego State.

Oakland dropped veteran linebacker Clancy Osborne and tackle Pat Russ. Osborne had been a starter for the past two seasons but was hampered with a bruised knee this year. Russ was a free agent.

In the NFL, Los Angeles traded two rookies to Pittsburgh and placed two other players on waivers. Center Ken Henson of Texas Christian and defensive back Bobby Hohn of Nebraska went to the Steelers for Frank Molden, a defensive lineman from Jackson, Miss. State College.

The Rams also asked waivers on second-year linebacker Andy Von Sonn and rookie defensive end Jim Griffin of Grambling.

Dallas signed defensive end Don Thompson, who had been cut by Philadelphia. The Cowboys also dropped Jim Zanios, a running back from Texas Tech and Bill Van Burkleo, a defensive halfback from Tulsa.

PEE WEE GRID SIGN-UPS SET

Plans are underway for launching the annual Scurry County Boys Club Pee Wee football program.

Registration for 9 and 10-year-olds has been set for 4:30 p.m. Thursday. The 11 and 12-year-olds will register at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Boys in either age bracket who are unable to register on the announced dates may resigter Saturday morning. All registration will be conducted at the Boys Club building.

Cowboys Cut Two

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys were within the NFL deadline of 47 players today but they had to let two go while getting one to do it.

Jim Zanios of Texas Tech, a running back, and Bill Van Burkleo of Tulsa, a defensive halfback, were cut from the squad.

Melons Served At Towle Park

Over 300 persons, including 200 athletes, attended the annual Quarterback Club - sponsored watermelon feast in Towle Park Tuesday night. The watermelon party always precedes the beginning of the football season.

J. D. Hinton, president of the Quarterback Club, spoke briefly to the parents, coaches and football players, and he introduced Horrace Bostick, head football coach of the Snyder High School Tigers.

Bostick introduced all of the coaches in the school system, and the individual coaches introduced their teams. Coaches appearing on the program also included V. V. Shearburn (line); Dutch Stehley (back); Bill Hartsfield and Roy Carter, "B" team; Lamar coaches Tommy Echols and Bob O'Day (9th), Eddie Logan and Ned Underwood (8th), Charles Anderson and John Gary (7th); and Travis coaches Wayne Tyrone, Speedy Moffett and Albert Lewis (9th), Gene Williams and Jerry McLeod (8th), Larry Roberts and Jim Chastain (7th).

Membership applications in the Quarterback Club were available at the party, according to Hinton, who also observed that a "preview" of the school system's football boys will be held next Tuesday night.

Following the introduction of coaches and players, the group saw a sports film.

Same Old Story

Dean Chance Holds Mastery Over Yanks

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's nothing different about Dean Chance and the New York Yankees this season.

They're doing the same thing they did last year when Chance won the Cy Young award and the Yankees won their fifth straight American League pennant — when they get together, Chance wins and the Yankees lose.

The Los Angeles right-hander extended his amazing mastery over the Yankees Tuesday night as the Angels squeezed out a 1-0 decision.

In other AL games Tuesday night, Detroit edged Minnesota 7-6, Baltimore swept Chicago 4-0 and 7-2, Cleveland trounced Kansas City 8-1 before losing 3-2 in 11 innings and Boston took Washington 4-0 and 8-5 in 10.

In the National, Philadelphia stopped San Francisco 2-0 after dropping an 11-inning, 2-1 decision, rain washed out the second game after Milwaukee trimmed Cincinnati 5-3, Houston swept New York 4-3 and 3-2 and St. Louis defeated Chicago 3-0. Rain erased Los Angeles at Pittsburgh.

Teammate Albie Pearson got in on Chance's act against New York, hitting a first-inning home run off Bill Stafford for the only run. The homer was the 28th of Pearson's career, nine of them coming against the Yankees.

Bill Freehan's fourth hit, a two-out, two-run homer in the ninth, boosted Detroit past first-place Minnesota. The runs were unearned, the result of Don Mincher's bobble of Norm Cash's grounder. Cash earlier hit a three-run homer while Mincher and Bob Allison each drove in three Twins' runs.

Brooks Robinson hit a homer and drove across two runs in each game against Chicago. John Miller and Stu Miller combined for the first-game shutout while Steve Barber scattered eight hits in the nightcap.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell 14-10, allowed only one hit in the first game — Dick Green's leadoff single in the fourth — and struck out 11. He rapped two singles and drove in a run while Leon Wagner collected a homer, a double and two singles.

Kansas City won the nightcap on Ed Charles' run-scoring single in the 11th inning. The Indians took a 2-1 lead in the top of the 10th as Chico Salmon singled in a run, but Bill Bryan tied it with a homer in the bottom of the inning.

Dave Morehead and Dick Radatz stopped Washington on three hits in the opener, getting support from Tony Horton who singled in two runs and scored one.

Horton won the second game for Boston with a three-run homer in the 10th after Russ Nixon's third sacrifice fly, which enabled him to tie a major league record, tied the game in the ninth. Dick Nen had put the Senators ahead with a run-scoring single in the eighth.

Duke City Nine Blanks Spurs, 5-0

By The Associated Press

Dallas-Fort Worth may have lost it all Tuesday night when the Spurs took a 5-0 drubbing from Albuquerque.

They dropped two games behind in the Eastern Division of the Texas League, and, with only five to play, face a terrific task of trying to catch up. They don't meet the leader—Tulsa—again.

Tulsa crushed El Paso 14-0 and virtually sewed it up.

Amarillo and Austin split a doubleheader that meant nothing in the pennant race but produced about the most exciting event of the night.

The public address announcer, Roy Greer, was ordered to leave by umpire Bruce Froemming, who said the radio man was using "obscene language."

Greer denied the allegation but consented to leave the press box so the game might continue.

Amarillo won the first game 3-2 in 10 innings when Leo Posada singled in the deciding tally. Austin took the nightcap 3-2 as Cecil Upshaw pitched four-hit ball but was relieved in the last inning by Carl Greene, who held the opposition hitless for two outs.

Dallas-Fort Worth couldn't get a runner past second base as Bill Hall scattered eight Spur hits in sending Albuquerque to its fairly easy triumph. Paul Jaeckel pitched three-hit ball for six innings but three Dallas-Fort Worth errors did him in.

Tulsa pounded 15 hits in smothering El Paso, with the Sun Kings giving up six unearn runs in the third inning on three errors, a walk and John Kindl's 20th homer with two men on. Don Hagen notched his 13th pitching victory.

Nat'l Softball Slate Continues

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Illinois state champion Rock Falls blasted Tulsa, Okla., 7-2 Tuesday night as the International Softball Congress World Tournament resumed after a two-night delay caused by rain.

Long Beach, Calif., scored two runs in the top of the 16th inning then held off a Phoenix, Ariz., rally to gain a 2-1 victory.

Gene McKibbins pitched and won his own game for Bryan, Tex., singling across the winning run in the last of the seventh.

Tonight schedule includes:

Nevada Test Site vs. Oklahoma City - Longmont, Colo., vs. Phoenix, Ariz.; Moline, Ill., vs. Charleston, S. C.; Rock Island, Ill., vs. Ogden, Utah, and Fort Worth Tex., vs. Fort Wayne, Ind.

Carr Petitions Courts To Uphold Texas Poll Taxes

AUSTIN (AP—State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, armed with a favorable U.S. Commission on Civil Rights report and poll tax payment figures, has asked a federal court to uphold Texas poll tax laws.

Carr also asked Tuesday, in his answer to a suit filed Aug. 10 by the U.S. attorney general under provisions of the Voting Rights Act, that sections of the federal statute be held unconstitutional.

No date has been set by the three-judge court assigned to hear the suit, similar to those filed in Virginia, Alabama and Mississippi.

Carr said in a 14-page reply that the federal government's contention that the poll tax is oppressive to Negroes "is completely refuted by the fact that members of the Negro race pay their poll tax in a greater percentage than do members of the white race."

Replying to congressional findings that the poll tax in some areas denies the right to vote because of race, Carr said this section of the Voting Rights Act does not apply to Texas "in view of the fact that the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights found (in 1961) that no discriminatory disenfranchisement exists in Texas."

Carr disputed 12 of the 28 allegations in the suit, including one that the poll tax was made a voting prerequisite in 1902 for the purpose of disenfranchising poor persons.

He also said the suit "has drawn an unreasonable and arbitrary conclusion that the poll tax imposes an oppressive burden on the Negro race," adding: "This arbitrary conclusion seeks as a basis, plaintiff's (the federal government's own allegation that the Negro race has a lower median income. We respectfully submit that no law guarantees equal economic status."

Voters refused in 1949 and 1963 to repeal the poll tax requirement in the Texas Constitution. The matter will go before voters again next year. Carr urged the court not to interfere with the November, 1966, balloting on poll tax repeal.

Gov. John Connally, who has advocated poll tax repeal, may have to call a special legislative session if the court abolishes the poll tax.

The tax serves as a voter registration system except for persons over 60 years old in towns of under 10,000, where no exemption certificate is required.

The tax is $1.75 in most counties. Persons wishing to vote only for federal officials may do so without charge by obtaining receipts marked "poll tax not paid."

Machines In Cotton Fields Increase At Fantastic Rate

By BILL SIMMONS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—In the past four years, mechanical cotton-pickers have replaced 250,000 seasonal farm laborers in the nation's 10 major cotton-producing states.

The total number of seasonal laborers used on the cotton farms in these states has dropped from 500,000 in 1961 to half that number.

The percentage of the cotton crop harvested mechanically has increased at a fantastic rate in nine of the states. The exception—California—had already achieved a high level of mechanization by 1961.

Farmers have gone to the machines because they are faster and more economical than employing thousands of extra field hands.

California this year will employ about 20,000 seasonal laborers in the harvest of 742,000 acres of cotton land.

The other nine top cotton-growing states now are approaching the high level of mechanization California had reached four years ago.

In 1961, the Texas cotton crop was worked by 182,000 seasonal laborers. Last year the total was down to 53,000. Totals in Arkansas for the same years were 88,000 and 42,000.

The same trend is reflected in other states: Alabama 25,000 and 19,000; Georgia 40,000 and 27,000; South Carolina 25,000 and 17,000; Oklahoma 25,000 and 20,000; Louisiana 23,000 and 12,000; Tennessee 35,000 and 27,000; and Mississippi 31,000 and 26,000.

This year, about 230,000 seasonal workers will be used in the harvest of almost 13 million acres of cotton land in the 10 states.

State farm labor agencies, which supplied the breakdown on the harvest figures for each state, have similar opinions about what has happened to the 250,000 seasonal laborers who worked the cotton crop four years ago.

Most of them, the agencies reported, have been absorbed by low-skill industries.

The agencies also report that few young people become seasonal laborers these days indicating that the itinerant field hand is becoming farm history.

Two Bills Are Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's immigration bill and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen's reapportionment amendment were caught up today in a legislative power play.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said that "some liberal Democrats would rather have a tactical victory over Dirksen" than to win passage of the immigration measure at this session of Congress.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., another member of the Senate Judiciary Committee where the opposing forces met headon Tuesday, said in a separate interview he does not expect the immigration bill to be killed.

Dirksen blocked committee action on the immigration measure after an 8-8 tie vote stymied his proposed constitutional amendment on redistricting of state legislatures.

Mrs. Von Roeder On Lions Program

Mrs. Opal Von Roeder showed slides of the family's African Safari last year at a regular noon luncheon meeting of the Snyder Lions Club Tuesday. Her husband, the late Nolan Von Roeder, well-known Snyder businessman, became ill and died during the extended trip to Africa.

The slides were taken on Safari in the African bush country, and the scenes were of wild animals killed during the hunt, such as lions, elephants, zebras and water buffalo.

More Fines Assessed In Price Scandal

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Damages assessed in a 1960 electrical equipment price-fixing scandal have neared $400 million.

The total was increased Tuesday when a federal judge fined General Electric Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp. nearly $17 million for their part in fixing prices, rigging bids and dividing markets on electrical equipment valued at $1.75 billion annually.

The companies had been found guilty in 1961. The ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Wilfred Feinberg was in a civil case to determine damages.

Judge Feinberg ruled that Ohio Valley Electric Corp. and its subsidiary, the Indiana-Kentucky Electric Corp., were fraudulently overcharged by $5,624,401 for 11 steam turbine generators they bought in 1952 to supply the Atomic Energy Commission plant near Portsmouth, Ohio.

He awarded triple damages of $7,424,373 for Ohio Valley Electric and $9,448,830 for Indiana-Kentucky Electric.

The case was one of about 1,900 by private utilities and public power agencies throughout the country to recover damages. They resulted from the government's breaking a criminal conspiracy among 29 electrical equipment manufacturers.

The conspiracy has cost General Electric more than $225 million and Westinghouse more than $110 million.

Spokesmen for the two companies said 99 per cent of the dollar claims have been settled. Most of the cases never went to court.

C. Dorward Rites Friday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Lenoir City, Tenn., for Calvin Dorward, 57.

Mr. Dorward, a native of Gail, died at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at his home at Vienna, Va. He had suffered a heart attack about two weeks ago. He had been employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Dorward is survived by his wife, two sons, David and Kenny, and two brothers, Russell Dorward of Mexico and Maurice Dorward of Dallas.

Postmaster Said Expert At Soft Sell

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A technician of the political soft sell will fill the job Benjamin Franklin once held when Lawrence F. O'Brien becomes postmaster general.

O'Brien goes before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee today for questioning on his cabinet nomination announced Sunday by President Johnson.

The political implications of the appointment are not likely to be aired at the hearing. But everyone concerned knows that the freckled, red-haired O'Brien will be settling down in a post where he is likely to become chief political trouble shooter for the President.

It remains to be seen whether he later might succeed John M. Bailey as chairman of the Democratic National Committee — a dual role filled by some of his predecessors.

O'Brien said that his first task will be to "learn something about the job of administering the Post Office Department with its intricate problems." He added with a grin: "I shall hope to retain what I have had since I was a child, an active interest in politics."

Whether it was so intended, the elevation of O'Brien to the Cabinet puts the former aide and close friend of the late President John F. Kennedy firmly in the Johnson camp in any future intraparty rivalry that might develop with the Kennedy brothers.

The appointment gives Johnson a political operator with perhaps the broadest knowledge of any individual in the administration of the problems of members of the Senate and House who will be running in next year's elections.

O'Brien has encountered these problems almost daily in his work as director of White House legislative liaison with Congress. In that job, he has employed the soft sell technique and has left to the President whatever arm-twisting seemed necessary.

Plane Crash Kills Doctor And Son

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—A physician and his son returning from Texas were killed Tuesday when their light plane crashed into the Hutchinson sewage disposal plant during a thunderstorm.

They were Dr. Fritz Shepard of Clay Center, Kan., and his son Clayton, 26, of the Kansas City suburb of Overland Park, Kan.

GOP Wins Senate Seat

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — William E. Corr, a 29-year-old Sardis attorney, says his victory as the first Republican elected to the Mississippi Senate since Reconstruction, is based on qualifications and not party affiliation.

Corr won the Panola County seat in the 52-member Senate Tuesday by defeating Billie Lowe in a special election runoff. The election was called to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. J. Roland Lowe of Batesville, Mrs. Lowe's husband.

"The party issue was a minor part of the campaign," Corr said. He polled 1,765 votes to 853 for Mrs. Lowe.

Corr describes himself as a conservative. He said he was an active supporter of GOP nominee Barry Goldwater in the 1964 presidential campaign.

Navy Sees Increase In Red Sub Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet submarine operations have increased in the past year, Navy sources said today.

"We've been spotting them more often," one official said. "Where one or two used to show up, we're sighting three and four.

"They seem to be operating in greater numbers and more openly."

Navy officers said the wider-ranging Soviet submarine operations reflect the larger number

CARE FOR AGED

Texans Informed On New Plan

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN

WASHINGTON— (AP) — Beginning today, 2.5 million retired Americans are getting word from the government on two new medical programs available to them under the expanded Social Security System.

The information includes an application card for the voluntary program — the medical plan which provides protection against most doctor bills.

The first of the kits were sent out Tuesday night.

No action is required for the hospitalization and nursing care program. Inclusion is automatic for anyone on the Social Security rolls.

Mailing will continue at the rate of 2.5 million a week until the government reaches the 15.5 million Americans now under Social Security or railroad retirement.

Today also is the first day those 65 or older who are not on the benefit rolls may qualify for the hospital plan and enroll in the medical program at their local Social Security office.

The two programs become effective July 1, 1966.

Another mass mailing to carry out provisions of the new Social Security amendments will begin Sept. 15 and take about a week. This will include checks totaling $885 million to cover the 7 per cent increase in Social Security cash benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965.

The application card for the voluntary medical plan should be returned to the Social Security Administration in the postage-free envelope included in the kit.

This option must be exercised by March 31, 1966, to qualify. Cost will be $3 a month. The payment may be deducted from the monthly Social Security benefit check beginning next July or paid in cash. The government will match the payment.

An estimated 90 per cent of Americans 65 and older will be mailed kits. More than half the remaining 10 per cent receive old-age assistance and will hear from state agencies.

The remaining 5 per cent will be informed of their rights through organizations in touch with older people and through regular publicity.

Huntsville Negro Held For Picketing

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Ray Burnett, 17, a civil rights leader, was charged Tuesday with disturbing the peace in the picketing of a Huntsville grocery store.

The Negro youth, president of the senior class at Sam Houston High School, pleaded innocent. He was jailed in lieu of $50 bond.

A civil rights group picketing the grocery store has claimed it is unfair to Negroes.

The manager of the store charged the pickets harassed his white customers by making faces at them and taking photographs as they entered and left.

YF Chapter To See Film

FLUVANNA — The Fluvanna Young Farmers chapter will see a film of a farm field day at their regular meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Fluvanna Community center.

Film of the field day held last spring at the Bobby Traweek farm near Dublin will be shown by Neal Johnson, farm director for the Channel 11 television station at Lubbock.

Traweek was the state's Young Farmer of the Year, and the field day at his farm attracted widespread attention.

Fluvanna Young Farmers also have announced that the chapter will sponsor a work day at the Fluvanna Cemetery on Sept. 6, beginning at 8 a.m.

Hey Americans... is money the only thing you save?

Money is the basis of your savings—but it's not an end in itself.

When you start buying U. S. Savings Bonds, you're saving a lot more than money. For one thing you're helping to make the future safe.

Safe for yourself, your family, and your countrymen.

With Bonds, you build security. Nobody is handing you anything. You save for it.

You save for emergencies. Education for your children. A larger home, a newer car, a dream vacation.

And you save for satisfaction. The satisfaction in knowing that you're a financially responsible citizen.

So the next time somebody asks you what an American can do to help his country—tell him to get into the saving habit with U. S. Savings Bonds. Just like you're doing.

He'll be saving more than money.
