Rail Unions Get Pay Hike

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Two operating railroad unions, representing 175,000 workers, accepted today a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase which will add some $55,665,000 to the rail lines' annual wage bill.

The wage increase was agreed upon in negotiations between the railroads and the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen.

The unions had originally asked for a 25 per cent wage increase.

Other Negotiations Continue

The settlement climaxed negotiations which have been in progress since Sept. 14. It marked the second time within a year that these two brotherhoods have settled their wage demands with the carriers in direct, across-the-table negotiation, without recourse to the complicated mediation and arbitration machinery provided by the Railway Labor act for settling labor disputes in the industry.

Third round wage demands of three other operating brotherhoods —the Firemen, the Locomotive Engineers and the Switchmen—still are being negotiated.

Also in negotiation are similar 25 per cent wage boosts asked by 16 non-operating railroad unions.

Joint Report Made

Announcement of the wage settlement was made jointly by H. W. Fraser, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; D. A. McKenzie, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Daniel P. Loomis, chairman of the western railroads' wage committee, in behalf of the carriers.

The engineers-firemen group have demanded the difference between the 15½-cent hourly wage boost granted last July and their original demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

Strike Vote Conducted

The negotiations with the 16 non-operating unions began Sept. 8 and collapsed Sept. 17. Since then the National Railway Mediation board has been trying to effect a settlement.

Meanwhile, the members of the non-operating unions are conducting a strike vote.

The non-operating group demanded 25 cents hourly for their wage boost, and then added stipulations calling for a reduction of

SOLON PRAISES GOP EFFORTS TOWARD PEACE

Vandenberg Says U. S. Bi-Partisan Foreign Policy Leaves Voters 'Free To Change Administration'

(By The Associated Press)

SENATOR VANDENBERG (R-Mich), in a major speech for the Republicans, said Monday night that America's bi-partisan foreign policy leaves the voters "free to change our national administration."

If the voters want to throw out the Democrats and put in Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as president, he said, they can do so "without affecting the continuity of our foreign policy."

Vandenberg called his speech a report on the Republican position "in behalf of national unity at the waters' edge." It came as Dewey and President Truman both were described as happy and optimistic over the cross-country campaign tours they ended last week.

Vandenberg, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, did not actually come out and ask the voters to change administrations. But he made plain his belief that it would be entirely safe. He cited "the Republican record of clear, vigorous, competent and constructive achievement in this vital cause" of world peace.

The Republican national committee showed how highly it regarded Vandenberg's speech by buying a half-hour's time on a radio network to broadcast it.

Proudly, Vandenberg recited what he termed the unanimity of his own Senate committee and the bi-partisan efforts of both Republicans and Democrats in the interests of America as a whole. And, with a diplomatic slap at Mr. Truman, he said:

"When history is written, the 80th Congress will be remembered for this record in foreign relations long after other relatively transient issues have been forgotten.

"I suggest that this record makes the 80th Congress, in all that relates to our foreign affairs, not 'the second worst in history' as we sometimes hear in general attack, but the best."

In another political dig, Vandenberg said the Democratic platform on which Mr. Truman is running was "amazingly impertinent" with its claims for credit on foreign policy.

On Russia, Vandenberg backed the Dewey thesis that we must make it clear that America will

Storm Raging Near Cuba

By JAMES RUSSELL
INS Staff Correspondent

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 4 — Navy planes, blimps and surface vessels at Key West fled to places of safety tonight to avoid being pounded by the second Caribbean hurricane to threaten southern Florida in the past two weeks.

The new storm, packed with 100-mile-an-hour winds, sprang from the tropical doldrums below Cuba that spawned the devastating blow which wrought $25,000,000 worth of damage and killed four persons in Florida just two weeks ago.

May Make Turn

The Weather bureau announced in an 11 p. m. (EST) advisory that the storm had lost some of its forward motion in the last few hours and had come to a virtual standstill.

Forecasters said the pause apparently indicated a turn to the northwest, which would point it directly at the Florida keys and Miami.

The hurricane is expected to move across Cuba tomorrow morning and winds are due to increase to dangerous gales in the Florida keys by mid-day or afternoon.

Hurricane warning flags were hoisted in the Florida keys and the Navy sent the USS Chanticleer and several submarines plowing eastward into safer waters in the Atlantic.

Plane Flights Cancelled

Planes and blimps took off for bases in northern Florida and southern Georgia as the Caribbean tempest bore down on the western tip of Cuba, pointed its recent target—Key West.

Bus service between Miami and Key West was cancelled and Pan-American airways halted clipper flights between Miami and Guatemala City and Merida, Mexico.

Torrential rainfall was forecast for Miami and the outlaying farm regions that are already flooded by waters dumped from the vicious hurricane of September 21.

Warnings Raised

Navy weather planes clocked 100-mile-an-hour winds around the center of the new disturbance and forecasters said the intensity is still growing.

The storm is scheduled to cross

Soviets Clamp On New Curbs

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 — The State department disclosed today that Russia has clamped down new and severe travel restrictions on all foreign diplomats in Moscow confining them to the city limits.

The action immediately raised speculation on the possibility of U. S. retaliation.

The department made public a circular note issued by the Soviet foreign office on Sept. 30 closing all of the USSR to representatives of foreign powers.

American correspondents in Moscow had written stories about the new restrictions last Friday but the Soviet censor refused to clear them.

Travel Limits Set

Stringent travel regulations have been in effect since May 16, 1941. The latest forbidden areas include territories recently acquired by the Soviets, such as Sakhalin.

A 50-kilometer circle is drawn around Moscow in which U. S. diplomats and attaches may move. According to our embassy, however, so many exceptions have been imposed even in this small radius as to make the city limits the actual line.

Inquiry was made at the State department about the prospect of imposing similar restrictions on the Russian missions in this country.

Press Chief Michael J. McDermott replied: "There is no comment on that now."

Restrictions Imposed

Only official Soviet representations remaining in the United States is the embassy in Washington and the Amtorg Trading Co., in New York City. Russian consulates in New York and San Francisco were closed last month as an aftermath of the fugitive school teachers case.

The State department was advised that U. S. Consul Scott Lyon had formally released American consular premises at Vladivostok on Sept. 30 and entrained

Montgomery To Head European Defense

LONDON, Oct. 5. (Tuesday) (INS) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery was officially named today to top command of the Western European Defense council, set up as a safeguard against Russia.

The five Brussels treaty powers are Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. They appointed the chief of the British imperial general staff and hero of El Alamein permanent military chairman and commander-in-chief of the council.

It was learned the appointment, reported several days ago, finally was confirmed with the lifting of French objections in Paris Monday.

The French took the stand that a British commander-in-chief might subordinate the importance of France as a continental base for defense in event of attack, and concentrate on a defense of Britain.

Paris dispatches said U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Bevin reassured French Foreign Minister Shuman on the security question at a meeting in Paris.

FIFTY PERSONS HURT

CHICAGO, Oct. 4. (INS)—Two persons were injured seriously and 48 others hurt early today when a northbound Evanston elevated train crashed into the rear of a north shore suburban train on Chicago's north side. Frank Scatina, 42, elevated train motorman, was trapped in his cab and seriously hurt.

Both Sides Present Arguments, Motions

Senate Race Case In Two Federal Courts

(By The Associated Press)

THE TEXAS senatorial nomination case went before both the U. S. Supreme court in Washington and the fifth circuit court of appeals in Atlanta, Ga., Monday. Neither court took any action.

Arguments were heard in Atlanta on whether the federal district court of North Texas had jurisdiction in the case in which Coke Stevenson seeks to keep Lyndon Johnson's name off the general election ballot as the Democratic nominee for senator.

In Washington, all that was done was formal presentation of motions from attorneys for both Johnson and Stevenson. There was no indication when the court would consider the dispute.

Court Backing Asked

Attorneys for Johnson asked the Supreme Court to back up an order by Justice Hugo Black that Johnson's name be put on the ballot. Justice Black on Sept. 28 lifted an injunction granted by Federal District Court Judge T. Whitfield Davidson in Texas restraining state officials from putting Johnson's name on the ballot.

Last Saturday Stevenson's attorneys filed a plea for reversal of Justice Black's ruling.

Johnson's attorneys presented the plea that the court sustain Black's action, explaining that today's supplemental motion was filed to provide the court "with a basis upon which it may act independently of Mr. Justice Black's order, if it so chooses." Abe Fortas, former undersecretary of interior, appeared before the court to file the Johnson plea.

Documents Accepted

Samuel H. Horne, Washington attorney, appeared to present Stevenson's motion to knock out Black's order.

Chief Justice Fred Vinson, without comment, ordered that the two documents be accepted.

Johnson had gone to Justice Black after a fifth circuit court judge had said Johnson's appeal to knock out Davidson's restraining order must be considered by the entire fifth circuit court of appeals.

Three federal judges of the circuit court heard the case today in Atlanta and took it under advisement.

Former Governor James V. Allred was in Atlanta in behalf of Johnson and former Governor Dan Moody for Stevenson.

Fraud Is Alleged

Attorneys for Stevenson argued that there was an alleged element of fraud in the elections in Jim Wells, Duval and Zapata counties and that he was deprived of the election. The attorneys further argued that the point in question was a deprivation of rights—a personal right on the part of the voter to vote and have his vote counted in a properly conducted election.

Attorneys for Johnson argued that the matter amounts to an election contest in which federal courts would have no jurisdiction.

Sitting on the circuit court of appeals were Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, jr., of Houston, presiding; Judge Samuel H. Sibley of Atlanta, and Judge Leon McCord of Montgomery, Ala. There was no indication as to when a decision might be forthcoming.

Johnson's name has been ordered by the Texas secretary of state to be placed on the ballot. He was certified as the winner of the senatorial race by 87 votes over Stevenson by the state Democratic convention.

Reports Filed In Vote Probe

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4 (AP)—Halting of the recent investigation of vote frauds in three South Texas counties prevented the reaching of any conclusions, according to special masters' reports filed today in U. S. district court here.

The reports were filed by J. M. Burnett, special master to investigate the Aug. 28 Democratic primary in Duval and Zapata counties, and W. R. Smith jr., special master to investigate Jim Wells county voting in the second primary.

Both masters reported they were unable to find "any facts or arrive at any conclusion of law." Burnett specified he was unable to reach any conclusion "due to the fact that said hearing was ordered closed before the same was completed." Smith indicated the same reason in his report, which included a copy of the order closing the investigation. The order was issued by U. S. District Judge Davidson after Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black allowed a stay of Davidson's injunction to keep Rep. Lyndon Johnson's name from the official November ballot.

Box Is Hidden

Judge Davidson issued his temporary injunction barring Johnson's name pending settlement of a suit filed by Johnson's opponent for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, former Governor Coke Stevenson.

Burnett's report showed testimony was presented in his hearing from 10 a. m., Sept. 28, until about 3 p. m., Sept. 29, when the hearing was closed and all ballot boxes and election records that had been impounded were ordered released. Smith's hearing

Legislation To Increase Local Taxing Powers Urged In State

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Oct. 4.—An appeal was made to the League of Texas municipalities here today to back state legislation which would extend local taxation powers and increase municipal revenues.

W. H. Wilbanks of Cleburne spoke before the ninth annual meeting of the State Assessors' association, which was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the league.

Wilbanks stressed the need for passage of an administrative tax sale law which would lower cost of foreclosing tax liens my municipalities. He said that "Texas has the most inadequate and inefficient system for collection of delinquent taxes of any state."

He called for a broader base for taxation by Texas cities and said: "If we can get this legislative program as outlined, municipalities can finance themselves and possibly lower ad valorem taxes on real estate." He said there also might be the possibility of eliminating all taxes on homes of small valuation.

The legislative planning committee of the league will submit an 11-point program for approval

Bloody Revolt Quelled In Peru

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 4. (AP)—Rebel-seized ships of the Peruvian navy entered Callao harbor today flying white flags as surrender in a dramatic climax to a short-lived but bloody revolution.

The government of President Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero charged the leftist Apra party with the revolt and rounded up more than 100 members, including leaders in the parliament.

The revolt was undertaken yesterday by sailors and armed civilians, it centered in Callao, port of Lima, but some clashes occurred also in the capital. The rest of the country was not affected.

With white flags fluttering, the 3,200-ton cruiser Admiral Grau and Frigates Fere and Palacios were the first to enter Callao harbor. The destroyer Villar and three submarines followed. Rear Adm. Heriberto Maguina, navy commander, boarded the cruiser and ran up his own insignia. Sailors wounded by attacking Peruvian army planes were taken off.

The exact number of casualties was not learned. The wounded crowded hospitals in Lima and Callao. Fifty were treated at the Lima army hospital alone.

The dead included three army lieutenants and Lt. Commander Juan Revoredo, second in command of naval transport, who was shot in the back when he refused to surrender to the rebllious sailors.

The government said it was launching an exhaustive investigation into the role played by the Apristas, whose party is pledged to social reform and land measures including the division of large estates.

Small Barn, Hay Near City Heavily Damaged By Fire

An estimated $500 worth of damage was done in a fire about 10:20 p. m. Monday night, almost completely destroying a small feed barn and hay on the Martha A. Lucock farm, about 200 yards east of the first curve on Idalou highway, city firemen said.

A truck from Central Fire station remained at the scene about midnight, protecting the farm house which is located about 50 feet east of the barn. A strong wind was blowing, firemen said, but toward the north rather than the east.

Reds Oppose Berlin Debate

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 4—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded angrily today that the Berlin deadlock go to the Council of Foreign Ministers. The United States insisted firmly that the Security Council act to halt the Soviet blockade.

Vishinsky said the Security Council had no business discussing the stalemate. "Gentlemen, you have got the wrong address," he cried out.

U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup —backed up by Britain—said Russia is threatening world peace in Berlin, and the threat is against the United States, Britain and France. Jessup said the Security Council is the place to handle such threats to peace.

May Offer Mediation

The council adjourned without a vote after three hours and 20 minutes of procedural wrangles and debate on whether to put the western power complaint against the Russians on the agenda (calendar). Another meeting was set for tomorrow at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST), when France and Syria have asked for the floor.

There was no hint when the vote would come. Vishinsky said "we shall not be parties to such violations" of the UN charter but he gave no indication whether he would walk out or stay to fight once the council decides to hear the case.

Usually reliable United Nations sources said top-flight UN leaders — probably Secretary-General Trygve Lie and Dr. Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister and assembly president—intend to offer to mediate the Berlin dispute.

Forest Fires Rage In Three Counties

LUFKIN, Oct. 4. (AP)—Fifteen forest fires blazing in Polk, Hardin, and Tyler counties have caused the Carter Lumber company of Camden to suspend operations and rush all available firefighters to the fire area.

One Polk county fire, northwest of old Camp Ruby, threatened 15,000 heavily timbered acres. The Woodville district fire control supervisor, Archie Nash, estimated that 50 men are fighting the week-old blaze.

Nash said that about 150 volunteers are being used in the three counties. They are assisting 22 members of the Texas Forest service.

At the same time a section of Polk county in the Lufkin district of the forest service is threatened by a big blaze caused by six small fires which started Saturday. Assistant forest service chief, M. V. Dunmire, said the fires were of incendiary origin.

At least 20 other forest fires were reported blazing over the entire East Texas district earlier today.

Wisconsin Man Dies Six Years After Preparing Own Funeral

RICHLAND CENTER, Wis., Oct. 4. (INS)—Six years ago Enoch Jewell began to feel the weight of his years.

He didn't know how near death was, but he wasn't taking any chances, and he wasn't trusting anyone but himself to handle his funeral arrangements.

So he prepared his own funeral sermon and delivered it into a recording machine. And he ordered a large tombstone and had his name and birthday chiseled on it.

Then he bought a recording of "The Old Rugged Cross"; picked out his funeral suit, and paid all his funeral costs.

Enoch Jewell died at the age of 86. The funeral will be held Wednesday.

State Files Argument With Appeals Court

College Amendment Hearing Set Today

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 4.—The State today filed written argument with the third court of civil appeals asking that the state's contested $60,000,000 college building constitutional amendment be upheld.

Oral arguments are slated before the court for 9 a. m. tomorrow in an appeal from a lower court judgment which upheld validity of the election at which the amendment was adopted a year ago last August.

The college building program authorized by the amendment is stalled pending final disposition of the year-old court contest. It was brought a few weeks after the election by one Dallas and three Lubbock citizens following a hard-fought pre-election battle over the measure.

Assistant Attorney General Joe R. Greenhill, who is handling the state's side of the suit, said the 16-page argument he filed today is one of the longest he has ever entered in the state's behalf. The argument supplements the 70-page state's brief, filed previously.

The state argues in its document that there was "substantial compliance" in the election with the provisions set up by the constitution, noting:

"A literal compliance with such provision would make it virtually impossible to amend the constitution."

Contestants Clarence W. Whiteside, Spencer A. Wells, and Homer Maxey, all of Lubbock, and H. E. Speer of Dallas, appealed to the third court after the 126th district court ruled in favor of the state.

Meat Comes Down With A Bang At Michigan Plant

(By The Associated Press)

SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 4 — Meat came down fast here today, but nobody was happy about it.

A sausage stuffer in the Saginaw plant of Swift and Co. exploded on the sixth floor of the packing house and showered meat in all directions.

Sausage flew out of the windows and rained down on passing motorists and pedestrians.

An official estimated that 750 pounds of it splattered against the walls or was shot out the window.

No one was injured.

Decline In Meat Prices Forecast

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP)—"Meat prices are coming down," livestock experts predicted today as hog prices tumbled sharply at major corn belt markets.

Farmers unloaded heavy runs at such points as Chicago, Indianapolis, East St. Louis, Kansas City and South St. Paul. In general, prices dropped around $1.00 to $2.00 a hundred pounds. This followed a steady decline all last week.

The American Meat Institute said, "signs of declines in some wholesale meat prices are developing, but it takes a little time for adjustments in wholesale prices to reflect at retail levels." The association added larger meat supplies were in sight.

New Low Predicted

Chauncey Watson, president of the Illinois Livestock Feeders association, told the Chicago farmers club the top price for cattle next year will be down around $25.00 a hundred pounds. It's around $40.00 now.

H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers association, said there has been a season increase in hog receipts, "but not enough to justify a price break like that of today."

Conway said the peak of hog

Strong Winds Sweep Across South Plains

Winds reaching a velocity of about 28 miles per hour at their highest sustained points, with occasional gusts as high as 32 miles per hour, prevailed in Lubbock and vicinity, as well as other parts of West Texas and the South Plains Monday and Monday night. And there was prospects of more of the same today.

Monday's high temperature was 84 degrees, while the low was 52 degrees. Temperatures a year ago Monday were somewhat similar, with a high of 90 and a low of 52.

The Weather Bureau forecasts generally fair weather and partly cloudy skies today, tonight, and Wednesday, without much change in temperatures.

The Associated Press reported Monday night that slightly stronger winds are expected today in West Texas. The local weather bureau expects only a slight increase in wind velocity, if any, for Lubbock and vicinity.

Violent Typhoon Lashes Okinawa

TOKYO, Tuesday, Oct. 5. (AP)—A violent typhoon slashed through Okinawa yesterday, causing $10,000,000 damage, and is now heading toward populous southern Japan, the U. S. Army reported today.

There was no mention of casualties on American-held Okinawa. About 55 American families were living in Bucknerville and Awase housing areas, both badly damaged. They are seven miles apart.

Reports from Ryukyu's commander said troop housing remained "nearly intact" but most large warehouses were destroyed.

Two LSTs (landing ships, tank), a small military government freighter and other craft ran aground as the winds reached 120 miles per hour.

U. S. Hospital Damaged

The Army said the liberty ship Benjamin Franklin, a Japanese freighter and several landing ships were loose in the harbor. With a causeway at pier "B" washed out, it was feared that a water tanker and one smaller craft may break loose.

Ashore on Okinawa—some 750 miles from Japan's southern tip—the U. S. hospital was badly damaged and 60 per cent of the theater destroyed. Broken water mains and landslides were reported.

The storm centered over the northern tip of Okinawa at 9 p. m. Monday, Tokyo time (6 a. m. CST). Almost all communication with Okinawa has been cut for the past 36 hours.

The typhoon warning went out to the Japanese islands of Kyushu and Shikoku and southern Honshu. The gale has maximum winds

AIRLINER RUNS OUT OF GAS

23 Aboard Plane Forced Down In Bahama Islands Are Saved

(By International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 4 — Twenty-three passengers and crew members of a DC-3 charter airliner forced down in the Bahama islands in pre-dawn darkness arrived in Miami tonight, dazed but uninjured by a hazardous belly landing on a tiny isle. All the passengers were Puerto Ricans.

All 19 passengers aboard were Puerto Ricans enroute to their homes after spending the summer working on part-time jobs in New York.

The pilot and owner of the charter line, Richard Olivere, set the plane down in a perfect wheels-up landing on the beach of Great Harbor bay, a small island 130 miles east of Miami.

Ran Out Of Gas

He said the twin-engine airliner ran out of gas as it was crossing the Bahama islands before turning into Miami to refuel.

Olivere was a naval transport pilot during the war.

Occupants of the New England Air Express company plane were flown to Miami by two big Coast Guard amphibious aircraft, which landed on the water near the island late today.

Currency Reforms Aided, But Germany Faces New Problems

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 4. —Life in western Germany was given a big fillip by the currency reform in June, but the rain clouds are threatening to let loose again.

There is a big question whether currency reform itself should have been attempted without price and wage controls. There is a big problem, handed to the Germans by the Allies, of equalizing the impact of currency reform to cover those with real property as well as those who lost 90 per cent of their money. There is the question of the rated value of the new money against what it will actually buy and against production to see that there continues to be something to buy.

Some Stores Open

Up until currency reform there was hardly a store open in western Germany. Farmers lived well on their own produce and on trade with city dwellers who came to barter. But they would not take the old money, and urban populations, faced a diminishing supply of barterable articles.

Now stores are open in the cities—not many, not large, but stores. Most of them have glass fronts. You don't see much glass in bombed out cities. Vegetables are procurable with the new 30-cent mark.

Coal miners are producing better, because earnings now mean something. Farmers sell their products through the stores for money which will buy goods in other stores.

Prices are not unreasonable, although it takes all the average German can make to eat and keep a small, shaky roof over his head.

I asked a man of better than average income the other day what he did when he or his wife just had to have clothes.

"We just don't get them," he replied simply.

Film On Texas City Shown At Jaycee Meeting In City

At their luncheon meeting at Hilton Tuesday, Lubbock Jaycees saw a film, "Texas City Comes Back," heard an explanation of the Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference to be held here Oct. 14-16 by Jack Criswell of the staff of the National Cotton council, and passed to a committee the suggested selection of a young lady to be crowned as Mechanization Queen during the conference.

The group's Agriculture committee, which is working with the general arrangements committee on the conference, is to meet Wednesday night to complete plans for the possible queen selection and other phases of Jaycee activity preliminary to the meeting.

The film, depicting the comeback of Texas City, which was devastated by explosions and fire in April, 1947, was presented through the National Board of Insurance Adjusters. It is to be shown to most civic clubs during the week as part of national Fire Prevention week.

Jaycee President Horace Gearhart introduced Glenna Addington, office secretary of the organization, who entertained with two boogie numbers on the piano. Gearhart also stressed attendance at the group's stag party, to be held Thursday night at Municipal airport.

Dodge And Plymouth Officials Meet Here

Approximately 131 Dodge-Plymouth dealers and their parts, service, and sales managers from West Texas and New Mexico, attended a merchandising meeting held for dealers and their departmental managers Monday at Hotel Lubbock.

B. B. Settle of Detroit, director of service of the Dodge division of the Chrysler Corp., presented the Dodge-Plymouth dealers' service and parts program at the meeting, which was divided into a morning and afternoon session.

Walter Dumars of Oklahoma City, regional Dodge manager, presided. He was assisted in the sessions by his staff of truck and district managers.

The general purpose of the gathering was to present and discuss the need for courteous attention to customers despite current shortages, and to aid dealers in providing the most courteous and efficient service and parts supply that can be attained for owners of Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge "job-rated" trucks.

The service and parts program further stresses the importance of dealers exerting every possible effort to make certain that Dodge and Plymouth vehicles are maintained in excellent mechanical condition to assure the safety of these vehicles and owner goodwill.

In conjunction with this Dodge division "Golden Rule," a number of slides and motion pictures were shown during the sessions. D. M. Beal, Dallas regional manager, participated in the sessions. Dickenson Motor Co., local Dodge dealer, was host for the meeting, and for the luncheon held Monday noon in the hotel. Members of the Dodge home office sales staff are making similar presentations to the more than 4,000 Dodge dealers in a series of 66 meetings in principal cities from Sept. 27 to Oct. 29.

The latest quake, of slight intensity, was about three minutes duration, compared to one in the same area around 10 o'clock Saturday morning that was recorded about five minutes. The location was approximately 500 kilometers (310 miles) to the north.

Rites Set Today For Pfc. Paul Sherrod

Funeral services are to be held at 4 p. m. today in Lubbock Memorial Park cemetery, with Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of Broadway Church of Christ, officiating, for Pfc. Paul Sherrod, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherrod, 3323 Nineteenth, who was killed in action on Leyte, P. I., Nov. 6, 1944.

Private Sherrod's body will arrive in Lubbock this morning from Fort Worth regional distribution center of the American Graves Registration service, Sanders Funeral home, who is in charge of arrangements, said Monday.

PAUL SHERROD

Private Sherrod, who was 23 years of age at the time of his death, graduated from Lubbock High school, and prior to entering the service, was a junior business administration student at Abilene Christian college in Abilene.

He was stationed for some time at Lubbock Army Air field as a sergeant, and later gave up his rank to enter the Army Specialized Training program as an engineering student at Peoria, Ill. When the program closed nine months later, he was transferred to the infantry.

Private Sherrod left the States for overseas duty in July, 1944, serving first in Hawaii and later participating in the Philippine invasion.

He was awarded the Silver Star posthumously in September, 1945.

Survivors in addition to the parents include four sisters, Mrs. Melvin Simmons of Olton, and Elaine Sherrod, Sandra Sherrod, and Winnie Sherrod, all of Lubbock.

Former Army Nurse Dies After Gas Blast Shatters Apartment

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—A wartime Army nurse died today three hours after she was removed unconscious from her blast-shattered apartment in New York City's Peter Cooper village housing development.

Mrs. Alfred Nimmo, about 40, was taken to Bellevue hospital after an explosion caused hundreds of persons in the 15-floor apartment house to flee the building. No one else was injured.

Police said a note was found in the living room of the apartment, apparently written by Mrs. Nimmo.

Police said they found four gas jets open in Mrs. Nimmo's apartment.

MODEL HOME 1890

THIS HOUSE was the last word in fine home planning sixty years ago! Its architectural pattern included all of the features then popularly accepted as elegant. It is now antique, judged by today's standards of home types, but the grand old home served its owners well.

TODAY'S HOME

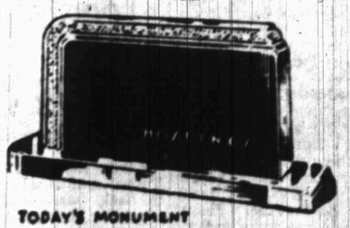

There has been a change in the architecture of family monuments, too. Newer designs are gracefully proportioned. Plain areas of granite are highly polished to give depth of color to the natural stone. Simplicity is the distinguishing note which, even a hundred years from now, will associate these monuments with our present era, just as those of past decades will reflect the architecture of their time.

HOLD FAST TO SOUND TRADITION AND PRACTICE

Because old homes are considered ugly, we haven't stopped building houses. We remodel the old and build new, according to today's standards. And so with family monuments. Thoughtful, responsible citizens are proud of their forebears who in their time, erected monuments that have carried the influence and prestige of pioneer personalities to this generation. They know the importance of now continuing the influence of a family name in the community of which it is and has been a part.

When selecting a cemetery lot, be sure to choose one on which you may erect a family monument of size and design that appropriately identifies you and your family today.

Anti-Trust Case Against Huge Banking Firm To Open Oct. 12

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—Anti-trust charges against the Transamerica Corporation of San Francisco, the nation's largest bank holding company will be aired in public here Oct. 12.

The Federal Reserve board, making its first official disclosure of the case today, said Transamerica itself requested that the hearings be made public.

Transamerica, headed by A. P. Giannini of the California banking family, has an interest in more than 500 banks and industrial firms in five western states.

"Credit Monopoly" Claimed

The complaint, a civil charge, was originally filed last June 24. The suit alleges that Transamerica developed a "credit monopoly" by putting directors on the boards of banks in the Bank of America chain in California and other banks in Washington, Oregon, Arizona and Nevada.

The case was filed under the Clayton anti-trust act, which permits the Federal Reserve board to sit as a "court" and pass on the evidence, thus in effect serving in the dual role of complainant and jury. If the board finds against Transamerica, it could order the corporation to get rid of all its stock in banks.

The board has never before used this power under the Clayton act, which was passed by Congress in 1914.

Eccles Led Fight

Congressional hearings last spring disclosed that the Justice department was studying possible anti-trust action against Transamerica as far back as 1945, but was dubious it could win such a case.

Giannini and Mariner S. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve board, have long clashed in public over a bill sponsored by Eccles which would permit the FRB to regulate bank holding companies. The bill has come up in several sessions of Congress, but never passed.

Eccles was ousted as chairman of the federal board by President Truman last February 1, but continued to serve as a plain member of the seven-man board. On July 30, Eccles told members of the Senate Banking committee he thought he had been demoted because he was "too aggressive" and "offended certain individuals and certain groups that benefitted from inflation."

Reds Seek To Break Up Opening Of British Recruiting Drive

LONDON, Oct. 4. (UP)—Communist agitators tried to break up the opening of a recruiting drive in the old city of London today, and two men were arrested after they clambered onto the rally platform and waved a banner inscribed "no war for Yankee dollars."

Defense Minister A. V. Alexander was on the platform in front of Mansion house when the trouble started. Scuffling developed as police took the shouting demonstrators away. Their banner was torn to shreds.

At the same time pamphlets were being distributed in the crowd. "Fight for peace, not for Wall Street," they said. They bore the imprint of the local district Communist leadership.

Several members of the crowd hoisted banners reading "peace for our children—peace, not war—homes before bombers."

Smart Dallas Burglars Crack Safe Despite Tear Gas Bomb

DALLAS, Oct. 4. (UP)—Smart burglars were ready when a tear gas bomb exploded after they cracked a safe at a lumber company early today. They moved five fans into the room and forced the fumes, through open windows.

The S. P. Bush Lumber Co., reported $400 in cash was taken from its safe. Company tools were used to pry open the wall safe after entrance to the building was gained by a rear door.

Blood marks in the office indicated, police said, that one of the burglars had cut himself severely as he used a crowbar and sledge hammer to open the safe.

Folsom Accused Of Having Pals Destroy Cameraman's Equipment

COLUMBUS, Ga. Oct. 4 (AP)—A photographer for the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer reported yesterday that companions of Alabama's Gov. James E. Folsom destroyed about $50 worth of camera equipment on the chief executive's order at a weekend football game.

News cameraman Brady Bynum said the incident occurred Saturday at the Auburn-Louisiana Tech game when he photographed the governor with a paper cup in his hand.

Bynum related the governor asked him to destroy the negative and that when he refused Folsom turned to a man later identified as Nick Littlefield, one of his special investigators, and said:

"Nick, if you had been on the ball he wouldn't have got that. I don't want that picture to go out of here."

Then, Bynum added, Littlefield and two or three other men shoved him against a motor car, seized his equipment bag, and destroyed nine film holders valued at $5.25 each.

Plot To Murder Yanks Revealed

SEOUL, Oct. 4 (INS)—A South Korean government official charged today in Seoul that Communists are plotting to create bad feeling in the United States by "killing of Americans."

He described an alleged plot by more than 400 Communists in South Korea as an effort to prevent formal recognition of the new Korean republic by the United States and the United Nations.

The charges followed an announcement by Home Minister T. Y. Yun that the engineer of a recently wrecked American troop train had confessed to causing the disaster which had taken a number of American lives.

He quoted the engineer as having said he deliberately stopped the train on the pretense of engine trouble. It was standing at a small South Korean station when another train smashed into its rear, killing 36 Americans.

Meantime, South Korean police closed down three Seoul newspapers and one news agency and jailed 20 editors on charges of advocating overthrow of the republic. Police charged them with publishing Communist propaganda.

Police also announced the arrest of 20 armed north Koreans who they said confessed they had been sent into South Korea to "kill as many Americans as possible" and also top leaders of the Korean republic.

Home Minister Yun said two South Korean labor leaders implicated by the engineer of the wrecked train were arrested and confessed they ordered the action as part of the plot to kill Americans.

Conservation Meet Set At Cooper School

Farmers in the Cooper school (Woodrow) area, and any others interested, are to meet at the school there tonight to discuss a new and experimental procedure through which conservation officials hope to decide on a conservation program of wider use and advantage to farmers.

Call for the meeting was announced yesterday by Walter Y. Wells, county administrative officer, who said the plan will be put into operation first in that community, then will be gradually expanded to other parts of the county.

Tonight's meeting is to start at 7:45 o'clock, and all farmers in that part of the county were urged to attend.

Actress Greer Garson Given Final Divorce From Ney

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—Actress Greer Garson, 36, today obtained a final divorce decree from Actor Richard Ney, 34. She said he had dubbed her a "has-been."

The auburn-haired actress, since she obtained her interlocutory decree Sept. 25, 1947, has been seen with H. E. (Buddy) Fogelson, Houston oil millionaire, and there have been rumors they may marry.

Both have denied the reports, however.

Superior Judge William S. Baird signed the final decree. When Miss Garson obtained the interlocutory decree a year ago, she testified that Ney, who played her son in her Oscar-winning "Mrs. Miniver," made "unfavorable comments about my work."

IT'S HIGH TIME

IN a recent address before the District of Columbia Medical society, Dr. Charles C. Burlinghame, himself a Conneticut psychiatrist, took a lot of bunk out of psychiatry, psychology and psychoanalysis. He called for a house cleaning in his profession to de-emphasize the part sex plays in human conduct, motivation and depravity.

The psychiatrist derided the "love starvation" school, which propounds the theory that most, if not all, emotional troubles stem from the fact that the child's craving for love has never been satisfied.

"Proponents of this school," he said, "would have us running along dripping love all over the place until the child slips and fractures his future."

As he pointed out, the warnings have young and inexperienced mothers afraid to act natural and normal around their child, lest they wound his psyche or revive some remote ancestral trait. They are afraid to correct him for fear of wounding his ego mortily.

So often it isn't the child's ego that needs attention when he is naughty; it's his little terminal facilities.

WORRY, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair try to move in on many adults and they look to stronger men to receive messages of hope and cheer and faith. The stage, screen, radio and printing press have reduced the subject of psychoanalysis to absurdities and the result is that a good many perfectly healthy people have begun to doubt their own sanity. They suspect their mothers, dislike their grandparents and look with disdain upon the teachings of the greatest psychologist who ever lived, one who healed men's souls and mended their broken lives—one Jesus of Nazareth.

It's hoped that more doctors like the Connecticut one will come forward and debunk the modern cults that have played such havoc with individuals and groups. We aren't saying there is no place in the affairs of men for this science of treating the mind; we do say that the place for it is in the consultation rooms of competent and qualified doctors.

DEAR MARGARET:

In the last issue of "Good Housekeeping," Betty MacDonald completes "The Plague and I," which, to my mind is better treatment for these people who have ailments than a visit to an expensive psychiatrist. A perfectly useless question has arisen, which I hope you can answer: Is this Donald MacDonald she meets at the end of "The Plague and I" the husband in "The Egg and I?" What became of her first husband?

Thanks a lot.

A Reader.

DEAR READER: We agree that Betty MacDonald's latest book is as good as a treatment and we would be happy if we could write about ordinary, simple things of life as she does, giving them humor and pathos and writing with beautiful restraint.

Sorry that we know nothing of her marital status, but perhaps someone who does will let us know.

DEAR MISS TURNER:

If you know of anyone who wishes to give away a small puppy to a little boy two years old would you ask them to call 2-4320? We know you have made hundreds of children happy through your column, and we would appreciate your help. The little boy's name is Jimmy Bray.

Thank you.

T. M. Bray.

2709 North Sixth.

DEAR MR. BRAY: We hope someone calls Jimmy and gives him a puppy. We don't think we have made exactly hundreds of children happy, but we are glad for the times we have been fortunate in helping them to find dogs.

OH, BROTHER!

JUST how wrong can you be?

Since our wild predictions of last Friday, wherein we hit four zeros in the outcomes of football games, we know that it's possible to be one hundred per cent incorrect.

As one of our dearest relatives explained to us, the suggested results weren't predictions; they were wild guesses. "Why don't you stick to your knitting?" was his final suggestion.

Since we don't knit to start with and don't plan to take it up, we'll try again Friday and if we haven't any better luck, we'll turn it back over to the sports department.

Today's Town Talk

A tan linen cloth with blue predominating in the multi-colored embroidery was used Monday night at a party for 12 given by Mrs N. H. McFarland, for the first time since she received it from India where her son, Capt. Hugh McFarland, was stationed during the war

A buffet style dinner was served using pottery, and winter daisies centered the dining table. Three tables of forty-two provided competitive entertainment for the evening.

Capt. McFarland is now stationed at Randolph Field in San Antonio.

Miss Saralu Dillingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Dillingham of McCamey, and Harvey Gammage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Garrett of Abilene, were married in McCamey Saturday night at 8 p. m. in the First Methodist church.

Frances Rasor of Lubbock was a bridesmaid and Lubbock guests attending the candlelight ceremony were Mrs. Mary Jones and Mrs. W. J. Lewis.

The bride attended Texas Tech in 1946-47, where she was a member of Las Chaparritas.

Jean McNeill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McNeill, 2618 Twenty-fifth, writes her family from the University of Texas how very much she is liking college life.

Julianne Heinen, Jean's roommate from New Braunfels, has been elected cheerleader and the two girls are very excited about it since this is the first time that a feminine student of the university has received this honor in several years. Julianne is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

John Payne, tenor, and Roberta Niblack, alto, both of Lubbock, are among the 61 students chosen from among about 200 contestants for the 1948-49 A Cappella choir of Abilene Christian college. Roberta has also been elected secretary of the group.

Members of the choir were determined by auditions and the group is nationally recognized as one of the outstanding of its kind. Being a member of it is one of the most coveted honors on the ACC campus.

Don Finto, former Lubbock High student and now a resident of Lamesa is singing bass in the ACC choir. He will be remembered by Lubbockites as the deep voiced performer on the Westernaire radio program in 1945-46 and as the negro spiritual singer in the senior class sponsored minstrel show at Lubbock High in 1946. Don was also business manager of the Westerner World, high school newspaper, that year and a member of Quill and Scroll society, as well as a participator in the LHS A Cappella group.

A bundle of rummage will be the admission price required for entry at the "hobo party" to be given Wednesday night in First Methodist church Fellowship hall beginning at 6 o'clock. Everyone attending is asked to wear "hobo" costumes, and members, teachers and sponsors of the senior department are invited to attend.

A variety of games will provide entertainment for the evening's program which is taking the place of the regular Wednesday "Fun Night" held by the group.

Rummage collected will be sold Saturday and receipts will be applied on the church building fund.

Afternoon Meeting Set By Alatheans

Cleaning-Up Job Is On At Fairgrounds

With officials still uncertain as to how the exposition came out financially, the cleaning-up job was in swing Monday following the 31st annual Panhandle-South Plains fair last week.

The "Water Follies of 1948," which played under a guarantee and percentage, was a money loser. It is playing in Columbus, Ohio, this week.

The "Queen for a Day" broadcasts ticket sales during the first three days haven't been fully tabulated, but the probabilities are that receipts fell short of the $9,000 guarantee. Ticket sales reports are incomplete. The loss, if any, will be small. The Lions club sponsored the event.

The Forsythe & Dowis carnival enjoyed one of its most profitable weeks of the season. It played on a percentage. The carnival entrained for Sterling and Boulder, Colo., winter quarters Saturday night.

Fair Manager A. B. Davis said he expected to get his first balance on expenditures and receipts in the next few days and plans to call a meeting of association directors this week.

The audit, which probably will be ordered at that meeting, will be needed to determine the exact financial status of the fair.

Never boil an oyster. Oyster stews are best cooked over water.

District Governor To Be Guest At Lions Club Luncheon Today

Honor guest at the Lions club luncheon at Hilton hotel today will be W. R. Rutherford, newspaper publisher at Dumas and district governor of District 2-T1 of Lions International, Wayne (Mickey) Henly, club president, announced Monday.

Rutherford, who is making his first official visit to the Lubbock club, probably will have a definite announcement concerning the contemplated visit here next spring by Eugene S. Briggs, of Enid, Okla., president of Lions International, Henly said.

Make sure your child's study lamp is tall enough and has a broad shade allowing a wide enough circle of light to spread so that he can sit comfortably when reading.

Political Differences Between Farm, City Cut, Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 4. —Analysis of the latest polls on presidential preferences reveal that the large difference between the political sentiment expressed by farm and the big-city vote has been greatly reduced.

During the Roosevelt term of office a wide variation developed. Farmers shifted sharply away from the Democrats between 1940 and 1944, while voters in large urban centers continued to vote overwhelmingly Democratic.

GALLUP

Today, political forces are working in the opposite direction. Now it is the metropolitan areas, as a whole, that reveal a strong defection from the Democratic party, while rural areas remain more or less stable. Thus the gap between the two is closing.

But in the nation's largest cities the Democrats would today probably still hold an advantage over the Dewey-Warren ticket if it were not for the strength of Henry Wallace in those centers.

These trends come to light upon studying the Institute's latest national figures which showed Governor Dewey in the lead with 46½ per cent of the popular vote, Truman 39 per cent; Wallace 3½ per cent; Thurmond, 2 per cent and with nine per cent of voters still undecided.

When the national vote with "no opinion" eliminated is broken down by city size, this is the resulting picture:

BY CITY SIZE

	Dewey	Tru-man	Wal-lace	Thur-mond
Size of town
500,000 or more	47%	41%	12%	*
10,000 to 500,000	51	43	4	2
Under 10,000	52	43	3	2
Farm residents	50	44	2	4

*Less than one per cent.

The following table compares the proportion of the popular vote currently supporting Governor Dewey with the Republican percentage of the major party vote in the last three presidential elections:

BY CITY SIZE
(Per Cent Republican)

Size of town	1936	1940	1944	TO-DAY
500,000 or more	29%	39%	39%	47%
10,000 to 500,000	39	46	46	51
Under 10,000	39	48	51	52
Farm residents	41	46	52	50

A compelling demonstration of the drawing power which Franklin D. Roosevelt held over big city voters can be seen in the voting record of the 91 cities that in 1940 had a population of more than 100,000 people.

In none of his four elections did Roosevelt receive less than 60 per cent of the votes cast in these 91 cities with a total population of 37,000,000. In 1936 the Democratic percentage of the major party vote in these cities reached 69.5 per cent.

In the last election 83 of these cities went Democratic and 8 went Republican. Largest of the Republican cities was Cincinnati and the only one on the Eastern seaboard captured by the G.O.P. was Yonkers, N. Y.

Strange Reunion Is Held By Woman At Roby, Two Brothers

SWEETWATER, Oct. 4 (AP) —Mrs. J. P. McAbee, 81, of Roby today met a brother, 65, whom she had never seen and another brother, 85, whom she had not seen in 66 years.

The strange reunion occurred in the Santa Fe railway station here—all because of a chance telephone call made by a Chicago relative.

Mrs. June Jackson of Chicago was in Los Angeles when she wanted to telephone a railroad for information on a train. She just happened to open the "phone book at the O's and to notice the name Owens."

"I've an uncle named Owens in California," she thought.

"Arch C. Owens—and there's an Owens in the book with his initials. Believe I'll just telephone that number and see if it could be the one."

The Owens whom she got on the line proved to be Arch C., 65, whom she had never seen. She knew that her father James B. Owens, 85, of Chicago had never met the uncle, either, and that her aunt, Mrs. McAbee, had not seen Arch C. Owens.

Mrs. Jackson telephoned her father. He flew from Chicago to Dallas and rode the Texas & Pacific to Sweetwater. The Los Angeles brother came by train to Sweetwater. Mrs. McAbee, notified of the forthcoming reunion, also came to Sweetwater, met her two brothers in the Santa Fe station.

A real family reunion is to take place this week on the farm of Mrs. J. R. Lynch, a daughter of Mrs. McAbee, nines miles south of Roby.

Arch C. Owens has served on the board of education in California and is now retired. James B. Owens operates a recreation hall in Walcott, Ind.

Mrs. McAbee and James B. left home about two months before their brother Arch C. was born.

DALLAS MAN CHARGED

SHERMAN, Oct. 4 (AP)—A murder charge was filed in McKinney today against James L. Simmons, 21, Dallas, in connection with an automobile collision Saturday in which Mrs. J. P. Love of McKinney was killed. Mrs. Love's husband and two other persons were injured.

Film 'Gentleman's Agreement' Banned By Spanish Censors

MADRID, Oct. 4 (AP) — The American film "Gentleman's Agreement" was banned in Spain because its subject matter — anti-Semitism — is no problem in Spain, the president of the board of film censors said yesterday.

Gabriel Garcia Espina, president of the board, described as a "calumny" a statement in connection with ban which he said a New York Times correspondent attributed to the ecclesiastical representative on the board. (A Madrid dispatch appearing in last Thursday's New York Times said the film had been banned by order of the ecclesiastical member. The dispatch said "according to a source close to the board the banning order stipulated that while it was a Christian duty to 'stimulate love among individuals, societies, nations and peoples,' this should not extend to the Jews.")

Deer Is Victim Of Traffic Accident In New York City

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP)—New York City marked up a different kind of victim today—a 180-pound doe.

Army Sgt. Lawrence Gendron of Fort Dix, N. J., was driving along Henry Hudson parkway in upper Manhattan when a deer leaped a fence lining the road and landed directly in the path of his car.

The deer fell to the road, stunned by the collision. An ASPCA ambulance sped the animal to an association shelter. Attendants said its condition was fair.

AID PLAN TO TAKE TIME, OFFICIALS REPORT

Truman Says Marshall Plan Making Progress In Europe Despite Opposition From Soviet Forces

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—President Truman reported to Congress today that "despite the opposition of Russia" the Marshall Plan is making substantial progress in Europe.

Mr. Truman sent to congressional committees the first quarterly report of the economic co-operation administration. ECA said it is now paying for about half the total imports of western Europe.

In his letter of transmittal, the President lashed out in blunt terms at Russia's opposition to the recovery program. He said:

"Russia and her eastern European satellites had been invited to join with the Western European nations in a common constructive program.

"Russia not only refused but also took active steps to see that her satellites were prevented from participating, in spite of the demonstrated eagerness of some of them to become part of the co-operating organization.

"Furthermore, it was made plain through the Cominform that every possible effort would be exerted to prevent the proposed European recovery program from succeeding."

Although ECA described European economic improvement, it placed actual recovery in the distant future for the following reasons:

1. Low industrial efficiency and output. Most participating countries are critically short of raw materials and skilled labor, but Italy and Greece have unemployment. Except in Germany, industrial production has reached pre-war levels, but must go much higher because of a 10 per cent increase in population.

2. Stagnation in foreign trade, now at 79 per cent of pre-war for participating countries including Germany. Overseas trade, trade among participating countries, and trade with Eastern Europe has all suffered, and the last must be closely watched to avoid building Communism's war potential.

3. Insufficient agricultural production. This may reach pre-war levels in 1950-51, but it will still be below the needs of an increased population.

ECA's contribution this year to the economies of Marshall Plan countries was given as 5 per cent of their total consumption. Products and services supplied by ECA were divided as follows:

Food, feed and fertilizer	33 per cent
Raw and semi-finished products	22 per cent
Fuel	20 per cent
Machinery and equipment	7 per cent
Other products	3 per cent
Ocean freight	15 per cent

President Truman said long-run success of the Marshall Plan will depend very largely on substantial increase in industrial production. He said the immediate problem is to provide raw materials and food so that there will be no interruptions of production.

Nash Servicemen, Mechanics Meet

Approximately 100 service managers and mechanics from 25 Nash dealerships in cities and towns within a radius of 300 miles from Lubbock gathered here Monday for a special training program for the new 1949 Nash Airflyte automobile, to be introduced to the public by dealers the latter part of October, according to a report from Floyd Massey of Massey Motor Co., local Nash dealer.

The training school was under the direction of J. E. Barnhart of Dallas. He was assisted by "Doc" Jones, service manager of Massey Motor Co., and a staff of four factory instructors.

The purpose of the school was to furnish a solid background of factory training and methods to all service men in Nash dealerships throughout this area.

The forthcoming Nash Airflyte embodies many new features and improvements, and Nash officials felt that top service for Nash owners can best be guaranteed through a factory sponsored program for all local service managers and mechanics.

The school program involves intensified instructions in all mechanical features of the 1949 model, as well as the use of specialized factory approved methods and equipment to insure Nash owners of fast and efficient service.

Plans Mapped For Print Salon At Journalism Congress Here

Further plans for the print salon to be held in connection with the Southwestern Journalism congress next spring at Texas Technological college were made Monday afternoon at a meeting of Tech's Eta chapter of Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary photographic fraternity.

The Salon Print committee, composed of Jayne Thompson of Vernon, A. J. Bishop of Winters, and Carol Sherrod of Lubbock, reported that only pictures made after March 7, 1948 will be eligible for the contest. This committee will examine all proofs which are submitted for entrance, and decide whether they merit a place in the salon.

The group decided on 10 divisions in which the prints will be shown and judged. They are action, news, portrait, character study, still life, animals, pictorial, industrial, fashion advertising, and an open class in which any picture may be entered.

Winning pictures in this contest will be sent to the national contest. Last years national winners will be displayed in the Recreation hall at Tech next week, according to Miss Sherrod, secretary of Eta chapter. The group's next meeting will be at 5 p.m., Oct. 11.

Indians Win American League Crown With 8-3 Triumph Over Sox

Bearden Hurls Five-Hit Game

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Cleveland's battling Indians loosed a searing homerun barrage behind stout-hearted five-hit pitching by Lefty Gene Bearden to crush the Boston Red Sox 8 to 3 today in a "sudden death" playoff for the American league pennant.

Two mighty blasts into the left-field screen at Fenway park by Manager Lou Boudreau and a three-run homer shot by Third-Baseman Ken Keltner high outside the orchard—all within the first five innings — gave the Tribesmen all the runs they needed to humble the Hose and qualify for their first World Series in 28 years.

Series Opens Wednesday

The Indians will oppose the Boston Braves in the fall classic beginning here Wednesday.

Bearden, 28-year-old purple heart veteran of the war in the Pacific, pitched his second complete game in three days and would have blanked the fearsome Sox sluggers for the last eight innings but for an error behind him by Secondbaseman Joe Gordon in the sixth.

Led by Boudreau with his two circuit smashes and two line singles, the Indians bashed two Boston flingers, Denny Galehouse and Ellis Kinder, for 13 solid blows and were never under pressure after Keltner delivered his three-run blast in the fourth.

Braves See Game

The 36-year-old Galehouse, a surprise nomination by Manager Joe McCarthy, was driven to the showers by Keltner's homer, his 31st of the year. Kinder gave up the last eight Cleveland hits and four runs.

A crowd of just under 34,000 saw the Cleveland players put on a wild demonstration as they rushed for the dressing room after the final out. Despite a newly-fitted artificial leg, youthful President Bill Veeck of the Tribe halfran clear across the infield to join his men and help whack Bearden's broad shoulders.

Among those who watched the Cleveland's power display were most of the members of the Boston Braves, National league champions. They got an eyeful.

Notre Dame Holds Top Spot In Grid Poll; Ponies Are Fourth

North Carolina In Second Spot

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — Notre Dame, picking up where it left off at the end of the regular 1947 season, captured the No. 1 position in the first Associated Press poll to select the nation's ten top teams in the current campaign today by a slim ten-point margin.

The season's inaugural poll, which drew ballots from 153 sports writers from coast to coast, was a tight two-way battle between Notre Dame and North Carolina, with Northwestern an impressive third.

North Carolina collected 55 first-place votes, five more than Notre Dame, and 24 second-place but the third-place votes—29 for Notre Dame and 21 for Carolina—put the Irish on top.

Ponies In Fourth

On the usual basis of ten points for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, and so on, Notre Dame tallied exactly 1200 points as a result of its narrow victory over Purdue and last week's 40-0 walloping of Pittsburgh.

North Carolina, which crushed Texas in its opener and defeated Georgia 21-14 last Saturday, wound up with 1190 points. Northwestern, following up its three-touchdown victory over UCLA with a similar triumph over Purdue, collected 21 first-place votes and 1025 points.

A total of 49 teams were mentioned in the balloting and eight of the top ten received two or more first-place votes. Notre Dame was placed at some position on every ballot except one.

Michigan, which finished second at the end of the 1947 season but swept past Notre Dame into the No. 1 spot in a special poll after the Rose Bowl game, landed in seventh place in today's poll.

In fourth place was Southern Methodist, with 13 votes for first and a total of 882 points. The Mustangs finished third in 1947.

Army which barely missed the top ten in last year's final balloting, placed fifth today with seven first-place votes and a point total of 725.

Penn State Tenth

Georgia Tech, safely past two Southern conference foes, collected 598 points for sixth place without a single first-place vote, while Michigan got two first-place votes and 542 points in taking the seventh position.

Minnesota, winner of two non-conference games, also failed to bag a single vote for first place but its 407 points were good for eighth place.

California's Pacific coast conference favorites landed in ninth place, with three first-place votes and 399 points. Penn State, which was fourth at the end of the 1947 season, barely made the first ten with 305 points, although it received two votes for first.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1.	Notre Dame (50)	1,200
2.	North Carolina (55)	1,190
3.	Northwestern (21)	1,025
4.	Southern Methodist (13)	882
5.	Army (7)	725
6.	Georgia Tech	598
7.	Michigan (2)	542
8.	Minnesota	407
9.	California (3)	399
10.	Penn State (2)	305

The second ten—11, Ohio State, 253; 12, Pennsylvania, 237; 13, and 14 tie, Arkansas and Mississippi, 114 each; 15, Purdue, 61; 16, Texas 39; 17, Indiana, 33; 18, Harvard, 29; 19, Nevada, 24; 20, Tennessee, 17.

FORWARD WALL IS STRENGTHENED

Changes Slated In Westerner Lineup For Tilt With Bobcats

A revamped Lubbock Westerner football team will face the surging Childress Bobcats of District 2-AA Friday night at Tech's Jones stadium, as the Hub city schoolboys close out their non-conference slate.

Head Mentor C. R. (Pat) Pattison opened preparations for the Bobcat encounter with one of the roughest scrimmage sessions of the year Monday afternoon at Chapman field, and he indicated that more rough work will be on the slate this afternoon and Wednesday. The Westerners clashed in the head-knocking setto for more than an hour, with the mentors stressing offensive and defensive assignments.

Numerous changes in positions were made by the Westerner mentors, and they tried to strengthen the forward wall which was mauled by the Austin Maroons last week. Jack Hensley, who has been playing at a guard and linebacker slot, was shifted to a tackle position, and Lloyd Willis, a sturdy 170-pounder who has shown rapid improvement, filled another tackle post. Joe Brock, a regular tackle, turned in a good performance on defense.

Probably the outstanding defensive job of the day was chalked up by Denton Lambert, playing at a halfback slot. Lambert consistently jarred ball-carriers with smashing tackles, as well as showing form on pass defense.

The Westerner squad is at near-top strength, since the return of Tailback Bobby Brown to active duty. Several of the gridders received minor bruises and cuts in the Austin game, but all are expected to be ready for action Friday night. The only players sidelined Monday were Wingback Donald Decker, who has a mild case of influenza, and Tackle Jack Bryant, who is bothered by a bad knee.

Bobcats Feature Passing

The Westerners will face one of the most improved teams in West Texas when they tangle with the Bobcats. The Childress crew absorbed a 39-7 loss to Amarillo in their opening tilt, but showed more strength the next week in holding Borger's veteran Bulldogs to three touchdowns. Last week the Bobcats took another long stride toward the top bracket by holding strong North Side of Fort Worth to a narrow 14-7 win.

A tricky T-formation passing attack is the Bobcats' chief scoring weapon, but the 2-AA gridders can move on the ground when pressed.

Business Manager E. J. Lowrey announced last night that reserved seat tickets for the Childress tussle will be on sale at his Senior High school office all this week. Ticket sales Monday were brisk, and a crowd of 8,000 or more is expected at kickoff time.

Tech Prepares For Tulsa Tilt

A slightly downhearted Texas Tech football team returned to the practice field yesterday afternoon to begin working against the invasion of the Tulsa university campus Saturday.

The squad possibly lost two more players in the SMU game, Guard Dan Pursel hurting an ankle badly and Halfback Glenn Lewis possibly breaking a bone in his foot. Unless these players respond to treatment this week, they will join Guard Milburn Haydon and Fullback Bud Conley on the sidelines.

Review SMU Game

Conley's knee is not responding rapidly to treatment and Haydon's knee still is swollen badly. Both players are limping around and are not expected to be ready by Saturday. Pursel didn't even suit up yesterday, while Lewis spent the day on the sidelines.

But the remainder of the squad came through the Mustang game in good shape, except for minor bruises, and went through an easy practice session. They spent a lot of time going over mistakes they made in the SMU game, mistakes that cost them touchdowns, and they also began work on Tulsa plays.

Scrimmage Is Slated

The scouting report is that Tulsa will be plenty big and tough, especially in Skelly Stadium, where the Golden Hurricane will be opening its home schedule. Coach Buddy Brothers lost several fine players from his 1947 squad, but the reserves have come on to fill in well. And no one underestimates the ability of the former Texas Tech player.

A fairly stiff scrimmage is scheduled for this afternoon, while defensive work against Tulsa plays also will begin in earnest. Tech's spirits are expected to begin rising as the players shake thoughts of SMU out of their heads.

Citation Heads Entries In International Gold Cup Race

NEW YORK Oct. 4 (AP) — Twenty-seven horses, including one French, one Belgian and Two English, have been nominated for the $100,000 added Empire City international Gold Cup event to be run at Belmont park on October 16.

The nominees are headed by Warren Wright's great three-year-old Citation, winner last Saturday of Belmont's Jocky club Gold Cup.

Warren Wright named Coaltown as well as Citation. Other prominent American horses on the list include C. V. Whitney's Phalanx, Mrs. Marie Moore's Gallorette, R. J. Kleberg's But Why Not and Better Self; Harry La Montagne's Conniver and C. V. Whitney's First Flight.

Walker Praised By Tech Mentor

"I went down to Dallas sorta skeptical about Doak Walker, thinking maybe the newspapers had gone a little bit too much overboard on him," Texas Coach Dell Morgan said last night at the weekly meeting of the Quarterback club.

Morgan went on to say that Walker had made a Christian of him following his exhibition against Texas Tech's Red Raiders. He pointed out that Tech had made errors, showing where they had occurred, and that SMU had gotten vital breaks at points in the game.

Austin Is Praised

But Coach Morgan didn't wring any towels at the meeting, stating flatly that had all things been equal, the Mustangs still would have won. He went on to relate that at a Saturday morning Quarterback club meeting in Dallas, Matty Bell, SMU coach, had come out in a statement carried by a local radio station to the effect that Tech certainly should be in the Southwest Conference.

Moreover, Bell said that Tech's admission would strengthen the conference and would help it, rather than weakening it or the conference helping Tech; and that he, as one coach, certainly wanted Tech's admission.

Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school said that if Austin played other teams the way they played Lubbock, only three or four schools in the state could beat them. He pointed out that Austin was an inspired team, while the Westerners were not.

Movies Are Shown

The Lubbock coach also declared that perhaps Lubbock was lucky they weren't beaten worse than they were, but that the Westerners had learned a lot from the clash. He also thought it was Lubbock's turn to be right and hoped it would be Friday against Childress.

Coach Damon Hill of the Dunbar High school also spoke and told of tying Midland last week at Midland. Coach Hill said that "the Midland players came out waving their hands and shouting 'let's get a leg' and the green Dunbar boys felt whupped right there." This week Dunbar plays Odessa.

Pictures of the Tech-Texas Aggies game of Sept. 25 were shown to conclude the meeting, which was under the direction of Jim Black and Ray McNally.

Arlington Heights and Abilene moved into the list, replacing Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

The big four, including Port Arthur, remained intact. The other three are Amarillo, second; Brackenridge of San Antonio, third, and Odessa, fourth.

Wichita Falls, rated fifth last week, dropped into a tie for twentieth place after losing a 13-to-0 tilt to Abilene, which climbed to tenth place on the strength of that upset triumph. Lubbock's 13-to-0 loss to the Austin Maroons dropped it into the class of also-rans.

The twenty-two sportswriters voting in this week's poll gave twenty first-place votes to Port Arthur, one to Amarillo and one to Kerrville, which wound up fifteenth. Kerrville, rated strong in preseason calculations, dropped out of the top ten two weeks ago.

The top ten:

1. Port Arthur (217).
2. Amarillo (158).
3. Brackenridge of San Antonio (141).
4. Odessa (134).

Four Elevens In Texas Unbeaten

(By The Associated Press)

Only four undefeated, untied teams remain in Texas college football after a month of play.

Three others are undefeated but have been tied.

These are from a field of 28 schools that started the campaign.

Sul Ross, with three victories, is the leader but the gaudiest record has been hung up by Southwestern. This school has played two games and scored 94 points to the opposition's none.

Others unbeaten and untied are Southern Methodist and Texas Mines, while Stephen F. Austin, Baylor and Hardin-Simmons are undefeated but have ties on their records.

This week Sul Ross plays Panhandle A. and M. at Goodwell, Okla., Southwestern meets Abilene Christian college at Abilene, Southern Methodist engages Missouri at Columbia, Mo., and Texas Mines plays West Texas at El Paso.

Hardin-Simmons takes on Arizona at Tucson, Baylor goes to Fayetteville to play Arkansas and Stephen F. Austin tackles East Texas State at Nacogdoches.

SCOTT PACES BALL-CARRIER

Lindy Berry Is SWC Offensive Leader

DALLAS, Oct. 4 (AP)—Lindy Berry, Texas Christian's versatile back, sets the offensive pace in the Southwest conference.

Berry has rolled up 448 yards in 104 plays to be the leader in total offense but is just five yards ahead of bounding Clyde Scott of Arkansas. Berry, second to Scott in ball-carrying, is third in the conference on passing.

Scott is far in front in ball-carrying with a net 340 yards on 38 carries. Berry has gained 268 on 63 tries. Leon Campbell of Arkansas is third with 229 on 36 carries.

Paul Campbell of Texas leads the passers with 13 completions in 37 attempts for 235 yards. Gilbert Johnson of Southern Methodist, who is second in yardage, also has probably the best percentage of completions in college football. He has thrown 12 and connected on 11 for 223 yards. Berry, in third place, has completed 16 out of 41 for 180 yards.

Bob Goode of Texas A. and M. tops the punters with 39.0 on 24 boots. Gordon Long of Arkansas is second with 38.8 on six and Doak Walker of Southern Methodist is third with 37.3 on six.

Ben Procter of Texas is the leader in pass-receiving with 10 for 141 yards. Morris Bailey of Texas Christian is second with eight for 98 and Ross Pritchard of Arkansas is third with seven for 94.

Arkansas Leads Offense

In punt returns George Sims of Baylor leads, with reports on one game missing. Statistics on the Baylor-Mississippi state contest last week were not received by James H. Stewart, conference secretary, in time to include in the averages. Sims had run back three punts for 119 yards, an average of 39.6, in the game with Tulsa. Scott ranks second with a 29.3 average on three runs and Charley Royalty of Texas A. and M. is fourth with 28.2 on four.

In team offense, it's Arkansas with 1152 yards in three games and Arkansas also leads in defense, allowing only 405 yards. Texas tops in passing with 420 yards but Southern Methodist and dArkansas have the best averages on completions — SMU with 16 out of 22 for a percentage of .727 and Arkansas 16 out of 24 for .667.

Oklahoma Governor Certain Of Victory

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gov. Roy J. Turner is so confident of a University of Oklahoma football victory over the University of Texas Saturday that today he challenged Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas to accept a bet. The Oklahoma governor said he offered 3-1 odds.

Turner said that if Oklahoma loses the game, he will buy Jester an Oklahoma fishing license on Lake Texoma, three-fourths of which lies in Oklahoma.

If Texas wins, Jester must buy Turner a Texas fishing license for one-quarter of the lake lying within Texas, Turner explained.

Oklahoma traditionally is the underdog in the annual classic at Dallas.

Mickey Owen-Jorge Pasquel Court Fight Opens Wednesday

WILLARD, Mo., Oct. 4 (AP) — Mickey Owen, former major league catcher ran into an obstacle today that threatened to keep him from listening to the 1948 World Series.

Owen's court action, both as a defendant and counter-claimant in suits involving his experiences in the now-defunct Mexican baseball league, is scheduled to begin at Springfield, Mo., Wednesday.

Owen, who jumped the major leagues to play for millionaire Jorge Pasquel's Mexican circuit and then jumped right back again when the project blew up in his face, had no comment on the federal court action.

"Gosh," he said, "I don't know anything about law."

Owen is being sued by Pasquel for $100,000 damages, $12,500 paid him as a bonus for signing a Mexican contract, and $15,000 given him as salary for 1950, the year his contract was to have expired.

Steer Gridders Are Sidelined

AUSTIN, Oct. 4 (AP)—Injuries in the Texas Longhorn football camp threaten to sideline four key players for the Oklahoma game at Dallas Saturday.

One of the three regulars who may sit the game out is Center Dick Harris, who has been benched for 16 days with an injured knee. A midweek check will determine his case.

Tackle Ed Kelley and Fullback Tommy Landry, both missed the New Mexico game because of leg injuries, and their status is doubtful.

End Ben Procter, a pass-catching specialist, is still limping from the knee injury he received in the North Carolina game a week ago.

PORKERS OPEN DRILLS FOR TILT WITH BEARS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 4 (AP)—The University of Arkansas Razorbacks began prepping here today for next Saturday's Southwest conference football game with Baylor.

Coach John Barnhill directed heavy practice only for those who did not see much action in the Arkansas victory over Texas Christian university at Fort Worth last Saturday.

RICE OWLS WILL GET ROUGH WORK THIS WEEK

HOUSTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Rice's Owls, disappointed over their 13-26 defeat at the hands of Louisiana State, settled down today for three tough workouts before departing Thursday for Los Angeles to meet the University of Southern California.

"We'll waste no time getting to work, we have no time to waste," Coach Jess Neely said as he explained that the three workouts prior to leaving for the West coast would be the toughest of the season.

THREE FROG GRIDDERS HAMPERED BY INJURIES

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4 (AP) — The TCU Horned Frogs escaped serious injury in the bruising 14-27 defeat at the hands of the Arkansas Porkers Saturday.

All hands were out for work Monday although Center Doug Brightwell has a bruised knee, Capt. Pete Stout a leg wound and Fullback Jimmy Hunt a swollen hand. All will be ready for the game with Indiana at Bloomington Saturday.

New Attendance Records Are Set By Major League Clubs

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP)—The majors set a new all-time attendance record by attracting 20,849,524 fans during the 1948 season, a United Press survey disclosed today.

The American League, paced by the Cleveland Indians, drew 11,236,652 patrons while the National drew 9,612,872 and the combined total eclipsed the previous mark of 19,939,390 set last year.

Cleveland shattered the individual team attendance mark by drawing 2,642,478 fans at home to erase the Yankees' former record of 2,265,512 set in 1946. The Yankees also broke their former mark by playing before 2,412,206 at home this year.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

There are larger athletic organizations in the nation than the Texas university setup, and there are certainly some that have received more publicity. But the Longhorn officials are, in our opinion, one of the most co-operative and friendly groups of men that we have ever had the pleasure to meet. Last weekend, when the Lubbock Westerners were in Austin for their grid tussle with the Maroons, the Westerner mentors took two of their injured gridders out to the Texas dressing rooms at Memorial stadium. There they were met by the Longhorn trainer, Frank Medina, who did some fine work in getting the players ready for the tilt Friday night. Medina, although one of the busiest men in the organization, spent approximately 30 or 45 minutes working on Back Bobby Brown's injured foot and End Ted Vaught's sore elbow.

While Medina was working on the boys, Head Mentor Blair Cherry came in and had quite a discussion with the Westerner players and coaches. Freshman Coach Buddy Jungmichel came in to look over the proceedings, then several of the Steer gridders — including line stalwart Dick Harris — dropped by the room. After the boys had been "patched up," Coach Cherry personally conducted the group on a tour of the athletic layout and pointed out the improvements that were in progress. He showed the group how the Steer gridders are issued clean equipment every day, and pointed out the expansion of the trainer's department.

Later Friday afternoon, we had the opportunity to see Texas' heralded freshmen gridders in their first full-scale scrimmage, which was conducted in the outfield of the Steers' Clark field baseball park. The Longhorn freshmen were divided into two teams —the Whites and the Blues—and the Texas mentors acted as game officials. Although the Whites were supposed to be the stronger team, with Byron (Santone) Townsend of Odessa at fullback and Carl (Red) Mayes of Pampa at right half, the Blues battled them to a 7-7 deadlock. Townsend scored the White touchdown on a short run around right end, while the Blues tallied on Jerry Robertson's beautiful pass to one of the speedy Blue ends.

The most impressive group of candidates were the linemen, however. The tackles on each team weighed approximately 200 to 220 pounds, and were a fast-moving group of youngsters. The guards were big, rugged fellows and the ends were just what you would expect — tall and fast. If there was any doubt about the quality of the material that will be available for the Longhorns next year, it was ended by the exhibition Friday afternoon. The linemen stole the show, as they dropped the "name" backs for repeated losses and shook them loose from the ball with some of the most vicious tackles that we have ever seen.

Although Townsend didn't show up as well against such competition as he did in high school, he was still impressive. He didn't make much yardage through the line, but when he swept wide on a pitch-out, the defense really had to hustle. Coach Buddy Jungmichel told us before the scrimmage that Byron was making excellent progress and that he would be a top prospect if he continued to develop. Another standout was Highland Park's Jerry Robertson, who runs from the quarterback slot. Robertson did a fine job of passing and signal-calling.

Remember—ABILITY not disability COUNTS

Before you, Mr. Employer, is a man who fought on the Beachheads of Tarawa or Anzio, who flew over bomb-gutted Tokio or fought in the Coral Sea. He is one of hundreds of thousands who marched in the Purple Heart Parade. Today he is an American looking for a job. Behind him are the hardships and dangers of war, the weary months in the hospital and the long days of training for employment. Ahead of him is a future that is in your hands. What you do with his future is important to him, and to you!

MAN WANTED—We need hard-hitting veterans. We've hired many of them since V-J day. It pays off. Some aren't the same physically as they were before a Kamikaze attack off Okinawa, a shell burst below Cassino, or flak and flame over Kasserine Pass. Some have lost an arm or leg or eye. Others have hidden disabilities. But we have found these disabilities are not handicaps when we place them properly. Their efficiency and productive ability have saved us money. We need more workers of this type. We will continue to hire them throughout the year.

Signed: AN AMERICAN EMPLOYER

HELP WANTED—We'd like that job you have, Mr. Employer. There're more than a quarter of a million of us either actively looking for work or soon to leave hospitals or finish our training. There are many jobs we can fill capably. We know that surveys show that our fellow disabled veterans have been as efficient on the job as other workers, that they have had fewer accidents and have been reliable workers. We've put away that Purple Heart. Today we'll take our chances on that job you've got. We think you need us and we know we need you. We'll get your work done. And while we're doing that we'll pay for our homes and raise our families.

Signed: A DISABLED VETERAN

Ten Juveniles To Face Court

Ten juveniles, who were questioned and released into custody of their parents Monday, will return into county court at 4:30 p. m. Thursday in connection with an investigation into burglary of the T. A. Holeman residence three and a half miles east of Lubbock.

Eight more juveniles are being sought for questioning of John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile counsellor.

A gang of boys and at least one girl allegedly battered down Holeman's door and Holeman "turned his house over to them rather than have to kill somebody," officials said.

House Ransacked

First versions of the story said several boys went to Holeman's house Friday night and caused such a disturbance that Holeman fired a shot into the air.

But the intruders returned, so that Holeman took his gun and left.

Saturday night he visited with a relative. Someone entered and tore the telephone off his wall and ransacked his house.

The phone was found in possession of one boy, two shirts in possession of two other boys, officials said.

A gang returned about 2 a. m. Sunday, also Sunday night. Six boys and one girl were arrested early Sunday near county jail when Holeman followed a gang from his house.

A suit, an overcoat, two more shirts, work clothing and approximately, 150 gallons of gasoline still are missing, Holeman said.

The T. E. Snyder residence at Wolfforth was ransacked by burglars, and a $90 diamond ring, a $70 radio-phonograph and $5 to $6 in "change" were taken, the sheriff's department said.

W. T. Dickson of Lubbock route 3 said his well house had been broken and entered. He had found nothing removed from it, however, but said that on Sept. 23 he had lost three white hogs that weighed a total of 610 pounds, and believed they had been stolen.

Couple Taken To Levelland

Dep. Sheriff Carl Rodgers of Levelland came here Monday morning to accept custody of a 23-year-old man and his 25-year-old wife, who had been arrested in the Avinger addition Sunday by the sheriff's department and police for Sheriff Guy Swain of Hockley county.

Rodgers said the two are to be questioned in connection with the woman's alleged taking of three children from the residence of her first husband at Pettit, near Levelland, and her former mate's automobile.

The male suspect is to be questioned in connection with theft of the car, Rodgers said.

The automobile of W. O. Stafford of 1408 Ave. E was reported stripped on North College Sunday. Two rims and two hub caps, valued at $25, were removed.

The car of Jim Foust of Tahoka was ransacked here after pilferers had broken door glass on both sides. A handbag, a billfold and cosmetics were reported taken.

W. P. Stephenson of Wymore, Neb., complained to police that a large monkey had been stolen from his truck here. Stephenson said he was en route to the Haskell fair and was parked in 100-block East Broadway. Occupants of a black 1940 Ford coupe took the monkey, at 11 a. m. Sunday, he said.

Theft of a 1936 Ford pickup, license RU 9518, from W. W. Klatt of Lubbock route 6 was reported to police.

The following judgments were signed Monday by County Judge Walter Davies, records of the county attorney's office showed: D. O. McDowell, $1 and costs, check law violation; Terrell H. Alvis, 22, of Fort Worth, $50 and costs, drunk driving; James Leon Stinsberry, 22, of Fort Worth, $50 and costs, drunk driving; Glenn Sarten, 17, $5 and costs, simple assault by striking with the hands; H. McDaniel, 48, a negro, $100 and costs, violation of employment agency law; Vernie Gene McGee, 19, $50 and costs and revocation of drivers license for drunk driving, and $50 and costs and three days in county jail for theft.

Elvin Levels, 29-year-old Lubbock negro, pleaded guilty to carrying a pistol and was fined $100 and county court costs. A $250 peace bond for Levels, conditioning that he keep the peace toward Fonzie Johnson, another black, was set Monday by D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace.

David Henry Dickerson, 41, of near Idalou, posted $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn on a charge of felony swindling by worthless check.

A 28-year-old negro was arrested Monday afternoon and held for investigation of theft. He was alleged to have been hiding a portable radio under his coat when arrested in Coleman Alley in the negro section.

Theft of a bike valued at $35 was reported to police by J. D. Ireland of 2318 Seventh street.

for Moscow the following day with his wife and staff of three.

This was the only American consulate in Russia.

The new Soviet order of Sept. 30 theoretically permits travel in certain points outside of the Moscow area such as the Georgian republic and Yakutsk, USSR. The State department noted:

"But one cannot reach those areas without crossing forbidden zones.

"The restriction to 50 kilometers radius to Moscow is entirely new, not having been included in the 1941 note.

"Travel even in this small radius is subject to so many exceptions —ie, raions (districts) where travel is forbidden even though less than 50 kilometers distant—that to all intents and purposes members of the foreign missions are restricted to Moscow city limits."

TO VISIT HERE TODAY—Jack Porter (above), Houston oil man, who is a candidate for U. S. Senator from Texas on the Republican ticket, will be a visitor in Lubbock today. He is scheduled to arrive here about 10:30 o'clock and will make a non-political speech before the Lubbock Optimist club at Hotel Lubbock at noon. M. D. Temple, president of the Lubbock County Republican club, said Porter would spend some time here before going to Amarillo for a night appearance.

not be "bullied or bluffed." He said the Soviet record is a threat "to everybody's peace, our own emphatically included."

Truman Optimistic

"We offer justice and scrupulous fair play," Vandenberg summed up. "We will take no less in return."

The report that President Truman was "very optimistic" came from White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross. Mr. Truman passed along word from Democratic Chairman McGrath that the President's western tour has "done the cause a tremendous amount of good."

The President will start out again Wednesday, with travels into the East, Midwest and South to last two weeks. He will make major speeches at Philadelphia Wednesday night, at Jersey City Thursday night and at Buffalo Friday night.

Mr. Truman also had a call yesterday from Harold L. Ickes, who left the presidential cabinet in bitterness two years ago. Ickes told reporters afterward that the chat was "entirely friendly."

"New Congress" Needed

Another ex-Truman foe who dropped in was A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Whitney said afterward that his troubles with the President over the 1946 rail strike are forgotten.

"We don't need a new president in this country," said Whitney. "We need a new Congress."

The report of a calmly confident Dewey came from aides at Albany. They described the GOP nominee as so sure of winning the presidency that he plans to campaign just as he has been doing. Republicans call this method: Conducting a campaign on a high level; Democrats call it: Dodging specific issues to deal with generalities only.

Dewey is to give further emphasis to foreign affairs today. His chief foreign adviser, John Foster Dulles, flew home from Paris at Dewey's request to give him a fill-in on the United Nations meeting there.

Otherwise, Dewey's schedule this week is not over-full. He may begin his next campaign tour with a speech in Pittsburgh next Monday, following this up with a swing through the southwest, leading in turn to an Oct. 15 speech at St. Paul, Minn.

Henry A. Wallace, campaigning in California for president on the Progressive party ticket, had one speech date scratched. Officials of Fresno State college cancelled a campus meeting at which Wallace was to have appeared. Dean Mitchell Briggs of the college explained there had been protests accusing the college of political partisanship, and said it was feared there might be demonstrations. Stewart Bryant, a Wallace student leader, said "definite pressure was applied by financial groups."

Barkley Warns Farmers

The two vice presidential nominees of the two major parties were also touring again.

Gov. Earl Warren of California, Dewey's running mate, told a crowd in Harrisburg, Pa., that it isn't fair for President Truman "to blame everything that has been wrong on a Republican Congress."

The Democratic vice presidential nominee, Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, traveled through Iowa, with speeches at Mason City and Ottumwa. Barkley said at Mason City that "whenever the interests of the farmers conflict with the purposes of the special interests controlling the Republican party, the special interests will be served."

Back at Washington, Rep. Harness (R-Ind) complained that government employes are being used by the Democrats in a "campaign of hate and fear." He said a House investigating group which he heads will expose "those employes who are found to have engaged in the preparation of political speeches and other propaganda in violation of federal law."

shipments is in January or February, but prices normally decline before that. He added the present price was "too low," and predicted farmers will hold back shipments. But Conway said a new low price could be expected in late November.

Mark Pickell, secretary of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders association, said "there should be a good quantity of cattle coming to market in November and December at materially lower prices. Meat prices are coming down."

Pardue Orders Complete Probe

Judge G. V. Pardue issued a special charge Monday to a 99th district grand jury that it inquire into the operation here of alleged "houses of prostitution" and wide-open "places in the county operated as night clubs, dance halls or recreation resorts where drinking constitutes public nuisances."

The court said in excerpts:

"It has been called to the court's attention that there are certain places (rooming houses or hotels) which, if run according to the information that the court has, are in strict violation of the law in that they constitute houses of prostitution. I would like very much for you to make a thorough investigation of these matters, since the court has been informed that certain parties operating these (places) have pleaded guilty in the county court of operating houses of prostitution.

Night Clubs Mentioned

"A recommendation should come from your body that such houses be closed by injunction as being public nuisances.

"It has further been called to the court's attention that there are certain places in the county operated as night clubs, dance halls, or recreation resorts and that numerous and sundry people resort to these places for the purposes of drinking and that anyone visiting the places can see people seated about tables with intoxicating liquor clearly in view. . . . These kinds of places constitute public nuisances and if your recommendation shows that they do exist, they should be enjoined."

Grand Jury Listed

Robert E. Maxey was appointed foreman of the grand jury which otherwise is composed of Earnest L. Butler, jr., B. M. Pember, Judge C. Smith, jr., Edwin Haddock, Mack Stanton, Ford Greehaw, Edward L. Elliott, F. H. Beaver, D. M. Henderson, Charles F. Cathey, and E. R. McCune.

Approximately 30 felony offenses that had been filed with county justices of peace were presented to the grand jury for investigation, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said.

An announcement from the office of District Clerk Royal Furgeson about 5 p. m. Monday indicated that the grand jury would not report last night, but would carry over into today.

Probe Reports Filed

started Sept. 27 and continued until 2:14 p. m., Sept. 29.

In the Jim Wells county hearing, Mrs. Juanita Hulsey, chief deputy county clerk, testified she had been told that box 13 was kept out "almost a week." She also testified that she "hid" box 13 behind some cardboard used for mailing maps in the same vault where other election returns were kept.

One Box Unlocked

The hearing also revealed that the box containing votes of box 13 was unlocked, with a key attached, and unsealed when presented before Master Smith. Everett Looney, one of Johnson's attorneys, demonstrated at the hearing that of the 20 ballot boxes brought in for the county's 13 precincts, only box 13 was unlocked.

In the hearing before Burnett, Zapata County Judge M. B. Bravo testified that returns of precinct 3 were missing from his filing cabinet.

Judge Bravo said he looked for the returns to "check them" after he read in a newspaper "that some of our Republican residents were up in Fort Worth testifying."

Meanwhile, attorneys for both Johnson and Coke R. Stevenson today presented petitions to the U. S. Supreme court seeking a court ruling on Justice Black's stay order. Stevenson sought to have the stay order revoked on the grounds a single Supreme court justice could not legally issue such an order. Johnson contends one justice legally may issue the order. It was indicated in Washington that formal action on the pleas probably will not come until next week.

Nation's Unity Cited

In Atlanta, Gas., three judges of the U. S. fifth court of appeals Monday heard oral arguments as to whether a federal court has jurisdiction in the Stevenson-Johnson dispute. Former Governor Dan Moody appeared for Stevenson, while former Governor James Allred was among Johnson's legal battery.

Debate On Berlin

gued whether even to discuss the case, Secretary of State George C. Marshall, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin talked about the Kremlin's demand—delivered in notes to the western powers — that the four-nation Council of Foreign Ministers take up the whole German issue. They adjourned after two hours without issuing a communique.

A French official said the three ministers decided not to enter into a four-power conference as long as the Russians maintained the Berlin blockade. He said the three western ministers would consider meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov if the blockade were lifted.

It was not learned whether the western powers would send a direct reply to the Kremlin's note. The French cabinet was called into session tonight to hear a report from Schuman.

The huge theater of Palais De Chaillot, where the full United Nations Assembly also meets—was jammed for the crucial Berlin session. U. S. Chief Delegate Warren R. Austin opened the meeting as October president of the 11-nation body. He promptly yielded the gavel to Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Atilo Bramuglia with the explanation that the United States did not wish to sit as president on a case in which it is directly interested.

Little Theater Play Gets Warm Response

Gales of laughter and warm audience response to "You Can't Take It With You," Lubbock Little Theater guild's initial production of the season, staged Monday night in Senior High school auditorium, gave assurance that the theater group's season was successfully launched.

Approximately 700 persons attended the performance, which was directed by Mrs. Charles Cobb. Audience response to Grandpa Vanderhopp, played by Leon Harris, was especially noticable and applause was given in the middle of one act to the dancing of Essie, played by Mrs. John Robert Moxley.

Mrs. Cobb spoke briefly before the opening curtain, stressing that the play was for entertainment, not technical perfection.

It was the concensus of the audience that all characters, from soft-voiced Alice, played by Jeanetta Lewis, to the boisterous Russian, portrayed by Weldon George, were extremely well cast, and that each performer carried his characterization well.

Members of the cast answered a number of curtain calls after the final curtain.

TO ATTEND HEARING

State Rep. Preston E. Smith of Lubbock flew to Austin late Monday to be present today for a hearing before the Court of Civil Appeals on the injunction against the College Building amendment, instituted by a group of alumni and friends of Texas Technological college.

Guy Carter, Dallas attorney and president of the Texas Tech alumni and Ex-Students association, is representing the Tech group in the injunction hearing.

that more than one proposition had been submitted as a single proposition, and that the ballot description did not clearly reflect the scope and character of the amendment.

The contested amendment would levy a 5-cent per $100 valuation ad valorem tax to finance $45,000,000 worth of buildings for 14 state-supported colleges. It would also permit the University of Texas to issue $10,000,000 worth of building bonds and Texas A. and M. college to issue $5.000,000 worth to be paid off with income earned by the university permanent fund.

The ad valorem tax was levied by the state this year but was ordered held in a special fund pending disposition of the suit. Should the amendment be invalidated, the tax collected under its provisions would have to be returned to the taxpayer.

The typhoon struck little Iwo Sept. 30. Lt. Col. Thomas H. Holbrook, U. S. Air Force commander of the island, reported no loss of life or injury to personnel. Damage to buildings and utilities ran into thousands of dollars. Debris of an earlier storm was being cleared when the new gale struck.

Meanwhile, Iwo was warned of still another storm. It was centered 600 miles east-northeast of Iwo at 9 p. m. Monday, Tokyo time, with surface winds of 100 knots near the center.

The storm will be centered 325 miles northeast of Iwo at 9 p. m. tonight, Tokyo time, with surface winds near the core of the typhoon increasing to 115 knots. Both Iwo and the Bonin islands group have been alerted.

Kiwanians Attending Annual Convention At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4. (AP)—Kiwanians today consumed an oratorical diet of atomic energy, Inter-American solidarity and a defense of the free enterprise system at their convention here.

The more than 1,200 delegates attending the 31st annual meeting of the Kiwanis International Texas-Oklahoma district topped off the day's activities with the traditional governor's dinner and ball at the new casino.

District Governor Walter V. Bowman of Woodward, Okla., was host.

Mark Love of Chicago posed this question to the overflow audience in the crystal ballroom, "Shall we grovel in fright before the problems of reconversion, or will we be reconverted in heart and mind to the principles of freedom, faith and daring upon which our fathers founded our nation?"

Florida Braces For Hurricane

extreme western Cuba tonight and forecasters said it may turn to a more northeasterly direction toward the Florida keys.

Hurricane warnings were ordered raised late today all along the keys chain from Key Largo southward over Key West and Dry Tortugas island.

The remainder of southern Florida up to Titusville on the east coast, and Tarpon Springs on the Gulf shore was warned to stand by for future advices.

Rains Pose Flood Threat

A 5:30 p.m. (EST) advisory from the Miami Weather bureau located the storm about 90 to 100 miles south of the western tip of Cuba, moving on a northern course toward Cuba and the Florida keys, which bore the full impact of the last big wind.

A preliminary hurricane alert was sounded for all of south Florida.

Southeast storm warnings hoisted along the Atlantic coast from Miami southward through the keys and as far north as Fort Myers on the Gulf side of the peninsula.

Heavy rains accompanying the storm posed a dangerous threat to farms and cattle grazing areas that are already inundated by flood waters that rose in the wake of the September hurricane.

Winds to Increase

Weather advices said winds would increase in the Florida keys tonight and gales would rake southern Florida tomorrow afternoon and night.

Grady Norton, chief forecaster for the Miami Weather bureau, said the storm will probably pass over extreme western Cuba early tonight and swing northward into the Florida straits.

Norton warned residents of south Florida to make preparations for "a dangerous storm with heavy rainfall."

Preliminary preparations were being made this afternoon at Key West, which was hammered by 160-mile-an-hour winds on Sept. 21.

Navy officials placed ships and planes on an alert basis and crews were ordered to stand by for orders to move the aircraft and surface vessels out of the danger area.

Pilot Is Praised

Coast Guard officers said Olivere did a remarkable job in landing the DC-3 without injury to any of the passengers and with little damage to the plane.

Miss Bender said the passengers took it all calmly and after the landing was effected, "they got out and walked around on the beach."

"But we sure gave a sigh of relief and let out a cheer when that patrol plane sighted us this afternoon," she added.

The grounded craft was located just as aerial search parties were about to give them up for lost.

A Coast Guard patrol plane, part of a big air armada searching for the twin-engine DC-3, spotted the missing charter plane on a beach at mid-afternoon.

T. A. Daly, Philadelphia Poet, Humorist, Journalist, Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4. (AP)—Thomas Augustine Daly, 71, poet, humorist, lecturer and journalist, died today after a long illness.

It was for his Italian dialect verse that Daly became famous. He acquired an accurate ear for the broken English of immigrants as a grocer's clerk during boyhood and as a young newspaper reporter whose beat took him into Italian-American sections of Philadelphia.

His reputation as a humorist was expelled in "Between Two Loves":

"I got a love for Angela
I love Carlotta too
I no can marry both o' dem
So w'at I gonna do?"

T. A. Daly, as he usually signed himself, was born in Philadelphia May 28, 1871, and lived here all his life.

NEW OFFICE SET UP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP) — A second recruiting office in Mexico for cotton pickers to work in southern and western states is being opened in Juarez at once. Robert C. Goodwin, director of the Bureau of Employment security, said it was hoped that 500 to 600 workers could be recruited at Juarez daily.

Coins, Money Found In Missouri May Be James' Band Loot

PIEDMONT, Mo., Oct. 4 (UP)—A cache of two-cent coins and bundles of mouldy currency found in a cave in the Gads hill area near here was believed today to be loot taken by Jesse James' band of robbers from a Russellville, Ky., bank in 1880.

Four persons were killed in the robbery in which a large amount of the coins and currency was taken. The cave was found last month by Wallace Wilcox, 30-year-old timber worker, who has refused to disclose its location.

Wilcox recovered a hatful of the two-cent pieces, minted in the 1860s, four bundles of currency and an 1863 U. S. Army rifle. The currency was moulded beyond identification. He said he intended to explore the cave further in hopes of finding other cached loot.

The Gads hill area was a hideout of the James band at the time they were plundering the Midwest. Local historians said there is a possibility the currency taken from the Russellville bank may have been Confederate bills and was discarded in the cave.

A group of 17 high school youths searched the area yesterday but they went home, footsore and weary, without finding any trace of it.

Fred Allen Launches One-Man Attack On Give Away Programs

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP)—Fred Allen has started a one-man radio campaign against the "give-away" programs that have won millions of listeners.

The dour radio comedian has agreed "in self defense" to bond his listeners up to $5,000 against the loss of any prize they might win by listening to some other program.

Allen says "give-away" programs "are ruining incentive for individual talent in radio."

Salesman Wins $30,000

Almost at the same time that Allen was starting his campaign last night, Kenneth Crosbie, a Bluffton, Ind., beer salesman, was winning $30,000 in prizes from another show—ABC's "Stop the Music." Crosbie was sitting at home listening to the program when his telephone rang. He correctly identified a "mystery tune" as Turkeys in the Treetops" and was told he had hit the jackpot.

To start the public laughing, Allen announced the award of these mythical prizes on his NBC program:

A genuine television set; and a saloon and bartender to go with it; 4,000 yards of dental floss, practically new; the gangplank of the liner Queen Mary; 800 pounds of putty for every member of the family; two floors of the Empire State building; and 12 miles of railroad track and a roundhouse completely furnished.

Allen, who said there are so many programs "giving away things" that many people have stopped tuning in comedians, announced that the National Surety corporation will guarantee his promise to reimburse his listeners.

After he had lampooned "give-away" programs by a take-off of a quizmaster telephoning to lucky listeners, Allen told a newsman that "these give-away programs are not entertainment—just cheap lottery."

"I'm out to do something about them," he declared.

Conceding that he expects "to lose something" through the bonding, Allen remarked that "the risk has been established to everyone's satisfaction, and where there's a risk, someone will lose."

Agreement To Ban Negroes Is Held Invalid In Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 4 (AP)—District Judge Lewis R. Morris of Oklahoma county today struck down a real estate agreement banning negroes from white sections of Oklahoma City.

He based his ruling on the almost identical decision of the United States Supreme court on May 3.

The suit was brought by white residents seeking to set aside the property deeds of two negro families in the same block.

The white home owners based their suit on an agreement signed by residents of the addition that no owner would sell to a negro. This covenant was filed with the county clerk in 1926.

"The Supreme court has ruled that such a covenant is unconstitutional," Judge Morris said. "I am going to follow that ruling."

Austin Says Reds Not Ready To Accept Control Of A-Bomb

PARIS, Oct. 4. (AP)—U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin said today that Russia has indicated by her speeches that she is not ready to accept effective international control of the atomic bomb.

He challenged the Soviet Union to make her position clear, declaring the time for throwing "old tomato cans and dead cats" in United Nations debate is over.

Austin spoke before the UN Assembly's political committee in reply to Russia's surprise switch in tactics. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky startled the committee Saturday with a resolution calling for simultaneous treaties banning the atomic bomb and establishing international atomic controls. Previously Russia demanded that the bomb be outlawed first.

Mine Workers Open Annual Convention

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 4 (INS)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared late today that mine safety would be the top issue discussed by the current NMH convention.

Although the convention technically opens tomorrow, an estimated 3,600 delegates already have crammed into Cincinnati for the union's first conclave since 1946.

Lewis, who held a news conference, neatly side-stepped questions pertaining to what presidential candidate the union would support.

However, he said that the convention probably would pass some sort of resolution on the matter before it concludes.

Lewis added:

"Well, gentlemen, after all this is an election year."

The bushy-browed labor chieftain reiterated the union's opposition to the Taft-Hartley Act and said ways of bringing about its revocation would be discussed by the convention.

He declared that now that the miner's pension fund has been established, the union would work toward giving federal mine inspectors police powers.

He said that a federal act probably would be necessary.

Lewis will address an open session of the convention tomorrow in the Cincinnati music hall.

Solons Say They Are Unable To Find Any Leaks On Speculation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4. (AP)—Four House Republicans said last night they have "not been able to prove" that any of the grain speculators under fire last winter made use of "inside" information.

A second finding that government buying programs played a major role in rising food prices —brought a hot retort from three House Democrats. They called it "an indirect attack upon the great program of world recovery which the United States has been following since the war."

The seven lawmakers make up the special House committee created to look into charges that administration officials and other commodity speculators had profited from information leaks.

The Republicans, led by Chairman August H. Andresen (Minn), said the nearly 1,200,000,000 bushels of grain shipped overseas during the two years ended last June 30 "was the controlling factor which caused scarcity and higher prices for grains and feed for livestock."

This in turn, the majority report went on, led to smaller supplies of beef, pork, poultry and dairy products.

Furthermore, the government "largely dominated the market price of grain," the Republicans said. They added:

"An examination of speculation during this period shows that several grain speculators sold wheat and other grains short with large profits accruing.

"The committee has not been able to prove that any of the speculators had received advance information from government sources."

Single game attendance record for the Arizona U. football stadium is 14,739, set last year when the Wildcats played New Mexico U.

TWO ARE ACCUSED OF LYING

House Probers To Cite Six For Perjury, Contempt Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (MS) — The House Un-American Activities Committee announced today that it is preparing citations for perjury and contempt of Congress against at least six witnesses.

Two Are Identified

He announced that at least four others will be accused of contempt. He said he would identify only two of the four against whom he has ordered contempt citations —J. V. Peters and Steve Nelson.

Peters, who testified at subcommittee hearings in New York is the alleged "brain" of the entire Communist underground in the United States.

Nelson, a Pennsylvania Communist leader, is the man to whom the mysterious "Scientist X" allegedly transferred "a complicated formula" in March, 1943.

Nelson a few days later transferred something to Peter Ivanov, the Soviet vice consul in San Francisco. The committee believes Nelson gave Ivanov an atomic bomb formula. Nelson was observed shortly thereafter to have received bills of unknown denomination from a secretary of the Russian embassy in Washington, who went to the west coast to meet Nelson.

Both To Be Charged

Thomas said that both Nelson and Peters would be charged with contempt for refusing to answer committee questions. Thomas said:

"I have instructed the staff of the committee to draw up contempt and perjury citations in at least six cases which have grown out of the hearings. I have requested the staff to report back to me within seven days.

"Immediately thereafter the cases will be referred through proper legal channels to the United States attorney."

The contempt citations will have to be signed by House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.), since Congress is not in session. When Congress is in session, such citations must go before the chamber involved.

The perjury citations will be simple recommendations for prosecution and do not require action by the speaker.

Dewey May Be Consulted

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), said he believes the committee will consult with GOP presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey on legislation he desires to curb Communist activities in the country.

The Congressman said the committee will want Dewey's opinion on how legislation should be drawn before a new Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill is presented to the House.

Thomas said he had not heard of a statement by Rep. Mundt (R-S.D.), a committeeman, that further hearings should be postponed until after the November election.

The chairman added that not a single Republican has asked that hearings be "called off, put on or postponed."

Thomas said the committee will proceed with hearings this month but that he did not know if they would be made public.

The committee announced that it had completed a draft of a new publication, "100 things you should know about Communism in Religion."

Thomas said the first draft will be sent to committeemen for correction or changes and will then be published. He revealed that 507,000 copies of the committee's first pamphlet, "100 things you should know about Communism in the United States," have been distributed and the committee has requests for one million more copies.

Two Certified For Rep. Martin's Post

AUSTIN, Oct. 4 (AP) — Two Democratic nominees for state representative to succeed the late Rep. Tom Martin of Fredericksburg reportedly have been certified to the secretary of state.

The legality of certifications for both nominees, Mrs. Lela Martin of Stonewall and A. W. Moursund of Johnson City, appeared questionable today in view of the fact neither received a majority vote from the four-man 85th district Democratic executive committee.

Mrs. Martin was certified by Tom Schmidt and George F. Rozelle, county Democratic chairmen of Gillespie and Kendall counties, respectively.

Vernon Goar of Johnson City, Blanco county chairman, said he and chairman Shirley Williams of Llano county certified Moursund Saturday afternoon.

Assistant Secretary of State Kirk Mallory said John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, chairman of the State Democratic executive committee, had informed him by telephone today that Moursund's certification had been received at Corsicana. Calhoun said he would send it to the Secretary of State.

A spokesman for the secretary of state said earlier he did not believe a certification would be valid unless approved by a majority of the four county chairmen comprising the district executive committee.

One-Time Companion Of Clyde Barrow Is Mysteriously Shot

DALLAS, Oct. 4. (UP)—A one-time companion of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, notorious southwestern bandits of the late '30s, was "mysteriously" wounded in a gunfight in the Trinity river bottoms here last night.

Under guard at Parkland hospital was S. J. (Baldy) Whatley, 33, who served time at a federal prison for harbouring the Barrows.

He was sentenced to serve 12 years in Huntsville prison in October, 1939, after being convicted on counts that ranged from burglary to attempted murder.

Huntsville prison officials said he was released in April of 1948.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the shooting placed the scene near Singleton boulevard, one mile south of Twin Wells.

Whatley, deputies said, had been shot once in the left thigh, and had been beaten severely about the face and head. He refused to describe his assailants, and investigators believed the fight had developed from an underworld argument.

South Plains Is Well Represented In Naval And Marine Training Exercises In California

Lubbock and the South Plains are well represented in the amphibious training exercises now being conducted in Southern California under command of Rear Admiral B. J. Rodgers, USN, according to Navy department information.

About 19,000 Navy and Marine Corps personnel, 56 ships and 320 planes are engaged in the exercises, which include amphibious landings at San Clemente island and Camp Pendleton near Oceanside, Calif.

Darrell Fain, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mrs. E. D. Barnes of 310 Ave. C, Lubbock, aboard the landing ship USS LSM 462.

Pfc. Harrel L. Benton, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Benton of route 1, Shallowater.

Kenneth I. Cooper, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooper of Levelland route 1, aboard the landing ship USS LSM 419.

Samuel A. Crawford, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Crawford of Avoca, now aboard the general communications ship USS Eldorado.

Navy and Marine corps teamwork, which brought success to amphibious campaigns in World War II, is reproduced and expanded as new men are trained to take the places of veterans no longer in uniform.

Weatherford Judge Assails Quick Night-Time Marriages

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—District Judge J. E. Carter today took a slap at Parker county's night time marriage market.

Charging a new grand jury, he asked for an investigation into "under-age and drunken" marriages in the country every weekend.

A local check showed some 40 out-of-town couples get their licenses at the courthouse here each week. Virtually all are from Fort Worth.

"Last weekend," the judge told the jury, "a 13-year-old girl obtained a license here and was married. I don't know who issued the license or who swore that she was 18. I want you to investigate this situation."

Judge Carter said he recommended the county clerk's office be closed at nights and on Sunday if that could be done legally.

He said he had received many complaints from parents whose under-age children had obtained licenses and had been married in Weatherford.

Theft Policy Coverage Cut In All States Except Texas

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP)—The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters announced today a revision reducing coverage of the residence and outside theft policy.

The revision is effective today in all states except Texas where it goes into efect Dec. 1.

The coverage on all property unattended in automobiles, motorcycles and trailers—other than public conveyances—has been excluded from the policy under the revision. However, policy-holders may restore such coverage on property in custody of laundries, cleaners, dyers, tailors and pressers to loss caused by robbery at their place of business. Coverage available away from the premises is further restricted to the kind of property actually insured with the premises and the amount of such outside coverage may not exceed the amounts insured within the premises.

The bureau explained that since the broadening of the residence and outside theft policy in 1943, inflated property values and "a major nationwide crime wave" caused an alarming increase in insurance payments for losses. The bureau said it believed further rate increases would be impracticable and decided instead on limitation of the coverage.

Completion Of 160 Oil Wells Is Reported In Past Week

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. (AP)—Completion of 160 oil wels the past week sent the year's total to 5,620, the railroad commission reported today.

The drilling pace is far ahead of a year ago, when only 4,276 wells had been completed.

Five gas well completions hiked the total for that category to 523 compared with 473 last year at this date.

Ninety-four dry holes were reported.

Five wildcat wells were drilled, no gassers and 46 dry holes.

Eighty-six dry wells were plugged, no gassers and 74 oil wells.

County Commissioners Approve Action

Funds For New Road Project Are Okayed

Lubbock county commissioners court Monday set aside $36,000 as a special road and bridge fund to be used for construction of a farm-to-market (Buffalo Lakes) road southeast of Lubbock.

It was provided that "all landowners are to move back all fences, light poles and all obstructions, and that "the state will take over the road and maintain it when completed."

Other Funds Approved

It is understood that the road would lead from the Slaton highway to Buffalo lakes and thence loop back to the Slaton highway. No specifications were on file among minutes when newsmen were informed of the court's action, but will be available, it was announced.

The court also approved expenditure of $8,759.23 for road construction and engineering fees in county precincts 2 and 3. The construction costs would be paid to L. A. Purtell, engineering fees to C. A. Tubbs.

County Judge Walter Davies presided. Commissioners are R. O. Short, Ben Mansker, Ottis Isom, and Pat Corley. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, took down proceedings of the meeting.

Need For Road Cited

Minutes of the court show that, at the May 24 special term, the court passed a resolution on a petition of Dr. V. V. Clark, W. H. Rodgers and others for paving of the road.

The resolution took cognizance of a "very definite need" for a paved road there to serve traffic "as evidenced by petitions and letters and a "traffic count showing 5,289 motor vehicles over the road in seven days."

It further found that it was needed to serve school buses and students.

The court resolved that the highway department be petitioned to pave the road at the earliest date, "said court to furnish all right of way requested by the highway department and to grade the road to the state's specifications."

The resolution petitioned the highway commission to grant a hearing to representatives of the commissioners court, the City of Lubbock, the City of Slaton, affected school districts and others in connection with the request if the highway commission should not see fit to proceed with paving of the road without such hearing.

Landowners Of Area Near City To Meet

All landowners of the Lubbock Independent School district, which constitutes sub-division No. 5 of the Lubbock Soil Conservation district, are invited to attend a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in room 212 of the Agriculture Building at Texas Technological college.

The meeting is one of hundreds being conducted today for the purpose of electing supervisors for the various districts. D. W. Sherrill, county agent, who is to preside, said Monday.

In addition to election of the supervisor, who must be a resident landowner, technicolor slides of irrigation scenes will be shown by Bob Thurmond, irrigation specialist. Motion pictures, "The Other Side of The Fence," on soil nutrients, will also be shown.

H. L. Weems is present supervisor of the subdivision.

Following the program, the group will go to the livestock barns to inspect bulls owned by the college.

Marshall Howard, area supervisor of the Soil Conservation Service, will attend the meeting.

Fort Worth Man Held On Charge Of Stomping Father To Death

FORT WORTH, Oct. 4 (AP) — Elisha Morton, 27-year-old World War II combat veteran, today was charged with stomping his 68-year-old father to death early Sunday morning.

Charges of murder were filed in Justice of Peace Frank Hurley's court against the younger Morton in connection with the death of John Madison Morton, who died after receiving a head injury in a scuffle at his home.

Justice Hurley ordered the son held without bond at the request of District Attorney Al Clyde.

Oil Developments Are Announced

Oil developments announced over the weekend included prospectors in four West Texas counties, Lubbock, Terry, Scurry, and Andrews counties.

Honolulu Oil Corp., No. 1 Ratliff, Southwest Lubbock county wildcat, 10 miles southwest of the city, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 10, block AK, EL&RR survey, ran a four-hour drillstem test in the San Andres-Permian at 4,590-4,640 feet.

Recovery was 130 feet of drilling mud, with no show of oil, gas, or water, the project is to make more hole.

To Continue Well

Seaboard Oil Co., of Delaware No. 1 E. M. Hinson, Northeast Terry county wildcat, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, has shown some free oil from a section thought by most observers likely to be the Ellenburger lime.

This prospector, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey, took a two-hour drillstem test at 11,112-130 feet.

There was a blow of sweet gas at the surface after 12 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 1,200 feet of clean oil, 100 feet of heavily oil-and gas-cut drilling mud, and 150 feet of salt water.

The venture is slated to be drilled and cored deeper to explore the full thickness of the Ellenburger horizon.

Other Locations Reported

Operator representatives have not officially verified the report that the current formation is Ellenburger, and no observer has picked a definite top on that formation as yet.

Meanwhile, locations for Ellenburger wildcats in Central-west Scurry county and in Central-southwest Andrews county have been reported. Drilling on both prospectors is to start at once.

Lion Oil Co., No. 2 E. C. McLaughlin is to be an 8,200-foot prospector in Scurry county, approximately 10 miles west and slightly south of Snyder.

It is 610 feet from east and 665 feet from south lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drilling with rotary tools is to start by Oct. 7. The drillsite is near the center of a block of 5,000

COUNCIL URGES CAUTION

Warning Is Sounded On Danger Of Gin And Warehouse Fires

Timed as an aid in promotion of Fire Prevention week throughout the nation, and coincident with the rapid gain in momentum of the South Plains cotton harvest, the National Cotton council issued through its Memphis office yesterday a warning that "the danger of expensive gin and warehouse fires will increase as several million bales of the 1948 U. S. cotton crop go into storage."

The Council called on the cotton industry as a whole to join in observance of Fire Prevention week, pointing out that direct fire losses in the cotton industry during the 1947-48 season amounted to an estimated $8,000,000, involving about 35,000 bales. Indirect losses were much greater.

Hits Clothing Output

It was pointed out that with the cotton destroyed by fire last year an additional 13,000,000 men's shirts, or 5,000,000 pairs of trousers could have been produced. The burned cotton would have been sufficient for the manufacture of 70,000,000 pairs of women's full-fashioned hose, 30,000,000 towels, of 2,100,000 automobile tires.

The statement sets out that gin and warehouse fires are costly not only because they destroy cotton, valuable machinery and other property, but also because they usually wipe out the earning power of a business at its peak period of the year.

Of the 1,147 cotton fires last year, many were attributed to "fire-packed" bale, and frequency of such bales increased 270 per cent during the 1947-48 season.

It was explained that a "fire-packed" bale results when lint cotton becomes ignited in the ginning or pressing process, and is packed unnoticed into the bale. The smouldering fire eats its way into the open and often causes damage running into thousands of dollars, depending on location of the bale.

Several things may cause lint cotton to become ignited in the ginning process. Among them are rocks and metal in dirty seed cotton which strike machinery and cause sparks. Other causes are careless smokers, sparks from engines, and faculty electric wiring.

Finalists At Tech Named

Results of the primary election of class officers at Texas Technological college Wednesday were announced Monday afternoon, and the final run-off will take place at 5 p. m. Friday, according to Margaret Clark, secretary of the Student Council and chairman of the elections committee, who said it has not yet been decided where the elections will be held.

Th two students receiving the most votes for president, vice president and secretary of each class will be in the run-off elections. There will be no run-off for those offices for which one student received a majority of the votes cast.

Finalists Are Named

Two women students from each class will be chosen for representatives to the Association of Women Students. The candidate who polled the highest number of votes in her class, was automatically declared to be one of the representatives, and there will be a run-off between the two polling the next highest number.

Students who polled a sufficient number of votes to be in the run-off and those who were elected by virtue of a majority in the primary are as follows:

Senior—president, Donald Clark of Cross Plains, and Francis Brockman of Carlsbad, N. M. (Karl Lawson of Borger declared ineligible); vice president, Jack Noyes of Midland, unopposed; secretary, Doris Smalley of Calude, and Nell Bialey of Estelline; AWS representatives, Peggy Davis of Lubbock (elected), Cherolyne Roberts of Morton, and Barbara Jackson of Lubbock.

Junior—president, Curtis Sterling of Snyder (elected by majority); vice president, Ray Brigham of Stamford (elected by majority); secretary, Beryl Nowlin of Ft. Worth, and Barbara Scott of Shamrock; AWS representatives, Alice Hix of Abernathy (elected), Mary Alice Mitchell and Jeannine Smith, both of Tahoka.

Sophomore — president, Tim Hatch of Wellington, and Andy Behrends of Dimmitt; vice president, Gene Messer of Lockney (elected by majority); secretary, Jane Loflin of Lubbock, and Marjorie Luck of Levelland; AWS representatives, Mary Stanford of Waco (elected), Pat Pearson of Lubbock, and Dorothy Stephenson of Ft. Stockton.

Freshman — president, Judson Brawner of Atmore, Ala. (elected by majority); vice president, Bobby Close of Shamrock, and Bob Schmidt of Lubbock; secretary, Mary Moore of Ropesville, and Mary Beth Logan of Sweetwater; AWS representatives, Elizabeth Schovajsa of Amherst (elected), Janet Crandall of Lubbock, and Jo Simmons of Lubbock.

TO LOWER PRICES:

Direct Action Best

ONLY those who are exceedingly optimistic will cherish much hope that recent hearings and investigations of various kinds dealing with the price and supply of milk will result in material relief. Many experiences discourage confidence in the effectiveness of such procedures.

It seems reasonably obvious that there is just one course to be followed if consumers believe that excessively high prices have resulted from deliberate price-fixing. That procedure is simple: Just don't buy any more milk than is absolutely necessary. Use water or other liquids as substitutes for milk in all recipes possible.

Most people could get along on less milk than they use. If enough of them will practice that sort of economy, there's a reasonable hope that supply would exceed demand sufficiently to force prices down. It would offer a prospect far more encouraging than any hearing conducted by an ambitious politician, or by court procedure under laws so full of loopholes as to be almost worthless.

Western Arms

IT IS DOUBTFUL whether many people would endorse the contention by the London Daily Express that an American should have been appointed commander-in-chief of the military forces of the five nations comprising the Western European union. Since the U. S. is not a member of the union, the appointment of an American to the command might have implied too many commitments by this nation in the event of trouble.

However, the criticisms which followed the selection of British Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery for the post were not surprising. The legend of the Montgomery military genius and invincibility, built up deliberately during the war, has been pretty well exploded since then.

It is true he was credited with noteworthy successes in North Africa, Italy and Northern Europe. It also is true that, in each instance, the forces of men and materials at his command were almost overwhelmingly superior to those of the enemy. In North Africa, particularly, the master strategy of the campaign was mapped, not by Montgomery, but by Sir Harold Alexander, who was in command.

Since the war, charges have been made and supported by persuasive evidence that Montgomery was a temperamental, non-cooperative, grandstanding individualist whose dilly-dallying endangered the success of the European invasion. That friction did exist between Montgomery and practically all the other top brass of the Allies, including General Eisenhower and the British, is not denied.

But, if the Western European union wants him as commander, that is their business. The position is not one for an American while the U. S. is not even a member of the union.

A man usually makes a fool out of himself when he begins to fool himself.

Grandpa didn't have to be as tidy. They weren't making a series of men of distinction advertisements in his day.

Meanwhile, half-way across the world Hilary Shenstone lies wounded in the desert beside a crashed plane. He thinks of home and feels a desperate need to get back there.)

A PUFF of hot desert air lifted the Tatler cutting and tumbled it away along the ground and into the furrow beside the half-buried engine.

Gravely the pilot retrieved the bit of paper from the ground and carried it towards its owner.

"The Honorable Alice is a long way from home," he remarked casually, replacing her beside the letters on the coat.

With fingers that were no longer steady, Hilary gathered up his keys and the penciled pages he had signed.

"You take charge of these," he said. "Pearson wants them badly at Peshawur."

"Then he'd better come and get them," said the pilot cheerfully. "We're staying here, my lad."

"You too?"

"Me too," he nodded, looking up at the crippled machine. "If Pearson sends after us they'll sight the plane. And I think he'll send after us." He sat down beside the parachute bundle, in the shade of the mighty wing. "We're very valuable people," he added, and grinned.

"One of us is damaged," remarked Hilary, with a glance at his wound. "You'll have to write my family, Bill."

"How do you know I'll have to?" objected the other man, and his eyes went up to the empty, brassy sky. "The postal service round here is none too good just now."

THEY sat for a long minute in silence, so that the rustle of dry tufts of grass in the hot wind was audible.

"Homesick, are you," said Wing-Commander Dalton at last. "And what part of England belongs to you?"

"Well, there's that bit there." Hilary handed him the picture of the gray house with the hills beyond. "In the Mendips."

"Mendips, eh," said Dalton. "That's a weird piece of country."

"Yes, the Mendips are weird," agreed Hilary. "And the house itself is a bit grim. I liked it when I was a kid, though. It will never be mine, of course, I'm the younger son." He said it simply, painfully against his lumpy pillow. "This was to be my last job for a while. I was going home the end of this month."

Dalton moved nearer to him and shoved the bundle aside so that Hilary was supported more comfortably against his shoulder.

"We'll get you home, old boy," he said gently.

"It's a queer sort of place, you kniw, with a queer name," said Hilary. "It's called Nuns Farthing. Mother won't live in it since my father died, and George—that's my brother—George says it gives him the pip. They always threaten to let it, but nobody wants a place like that any more. There's a housekeeper, Mrs Pilton. She keeps it going when the family's away. There's something I've got to do there—my old room is on the top floor—I left things strewn about, rather—I thought I was going back — it's two years this month—I meant to go home—just lately it's got terribly important to me to get back—"

"Of course you'll go back, old boy! You leave it to us—little old R.A.F. We'll get you back!" Dalton drew his numbing arms tighter round the spent body they supported.

HE was never one to ask questions, but he found himself wondering now about the man who was fast slipping into unconsciousness in his hold; this young, level-eyed unobtrusive man with the very quiet voice—not much past 30—who was understood to have brought off some of the most ticklish jobs in the United Kingdom—well, yes, a secret agent if you put it that way—very highly thought of at the Home Office. Pearson was crazy, letting him start out alone this time.

Well, Pearson had found that out, a bit late, and sent after him—sent one fairly good wing-commander in a small pursuit plane, instead of an army transport with a few good fellows carrying rifles.

Less conspicuous, said Pearson. Quite so. But of course there was shooting and this irreplaceable man was hit. And then there was a spot of crawling among the rocks after dark to get back to the plane. And then the plane had been tampered with. Well, it must have been, there was no one to guard it while he went into the village, and the engine came over all queer after an hour's flying. Anyway it had got them out of the neighborhood, they weren't being shot at any more—not yet, that is. Younger son, was he—and George sat soft at home and inherited. Well, that was the way it went. About the Honorable Alice, now—where did she come in. . . .

"Bill, am I out of my head?"

"No, of course not. No more than I am."

"The date, Bill—I've lost track of things—it is the fifth of June, 1936?"

"1938, old boy."

"1938," repeated Hilary. "Certainly. For a minute I wasn't quite sure—it was a nasty feeling, suddenly not to be sure of the date—as if I was floating in time—things have begun to slip, Bill—"

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

EVERY now and then I clean out my pockets.

Sometimes when they are bulging too much my wife cleans them out for me.

Usually that happens when a suit is ready to go to the cleaners, which, in turn, happens when you can read all the menus of the past week on my coat lapels.

BRANDEIS

The contents of my pockets are those of every man's pockets.

Match boxes used to be the principal item. But since I don't smoke any more there are no more match boxes nor is there any of that tobacco dirt, as my wife used to call it, that came from pipes that I used to put in my pockets without quite emptying them and without quite making sure that they weren't burning any more.

Incidentally, since I have stopped smoking my tailor bills have gone down considerably. Those tobacco ashes used to burn my coats, and you know what it costs to have that "invisible weaving" done.

However, here I go ranting again.

What I started to tell you was about the papers that come out of my pockets.

They are mostly envelopes with letters or bills in them. Many of my letters go unanswered and some of the bills go unpaid, just because of that bad habit of mine to scratch little items for this column on the back of the envelopes and later to throw the envelopes plus contents into the waste basket without checking what is in the envelopes.

Here is an envelope with a few words in pencil written on the back.

I take out what's inside.

A wedding announcement!

"Miss Bernice Brown and Mr. Louis Messolonghites announce their marriage on Friday, the third of September Nineteen hundred and forty-eight, Jersey City, New Jersey."

Now look at your calendar. And I haven't done a thing about that announcement.

I probably wouldn't have seen it yet if I hadn't looked for material for a column.

On the back of the envelope is written:

Security. Affection. Recognition. New Experience.

I remember now. I heard the Commissioner of Correction of New York say that that is all a child needs to grow up into a good citizen, and that most criminals didn't have those assets in their youth.

I SHALL write a column about that subject tomorrow.

But most of my space for today is gone now.

So you'll forgive me if I use this means to wish Louis and his bride all the happiness in the world.

Louis, you see, is bound to read this. He is the editor who gets my column every day and sees to it that I stay within the bounds of decency and grammar.

IN PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Legion Non-Partisan

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The American Legion will formulate no new major demands for presentation to the next Administration and Congress at this month's national convention in Miami, which will be addressed by President Truman.

Although entertaining the Democratic presidential candidate in his role as Commander-in-Chief, and as a Legionnaire, the political and legislative agents of the organization are so sure of a turnover at Washington next January that they do not want to become involved in controversial matters. They will probably content themselves with general endorsement of the Administration's firm policy toward Moscow and the rearmament program.

TUCKER

But, inasmuch as Governor Thomas E. Dewey's own foreign advisers have helped to frame the nation's foreign policy, such action will not be interpreted as partisan.

It is known, however, that Mr. Truman hopes to corral a majority of World War II veterans, as indicated by his several references to the fact that he is a member of two of their organizations.

ISSUE: But the veterans' principal counselors themselves do not seem ready to launch a nationwide movement for cash payments to ex-G.I.'s at this time. As a rule, the more vociferous demands and political pressure for this form of compensation do not make itself felt on Capitol Hill until five or eight years after the close of the conflict.

Thus, if history repeats, and if all polls as to the November outcome are borne out on Election Day, Governor Dewey will be confronted with this exciting issue toward the end of his first term in the White House.

ECONOMIC: The timing will also depend on economic conditions. As of today, several million World War II alumni are receiving government benefits of one kind or another. In granting these rewards—education, training, adjusted compensation consisting of bonds, business, farm or home loans—it was the general intent of Congress that they would stand in lieu of an outright bonus.

Even veterans not benefiting from these provisions are employed, although suffering from high prices. They have not been subjected to the pressure that leads to petitions to Congress or marches on Capitol Hill. But when and if the U. S. suffers another depression and unemployment becomes general, as in the early thirties, veteran and political leaders forecast a large-scale bonus drive.

CRITICISM: The Legion convention would not be a typical or successful mustering of old soldiers if they did not grouse and grumble. There will be complaints over high prices, Communists in and out of the government, the continued shortage of homes and about alleged laxaties in handling national life insurance policies.

As recently noted in this column, the failure to issue permanent insurance contracts has been one of the principal gripes of ex-G.I.'s who have kept their policies. In several sections of the country, seemingly politically minded V.A. officials have blamed the delay on the Republican Congress.

Their superiors here say that they will be fired pronto for making such excuses, which are based on alleged failure to appropriate sufficient funds for this purpose.

The fact is that Veterans Administrator Carl Gray is now taking steps to forestall criticism of the failure to issue permanent policies to the men who have converted their wartime agreements. It is probable that they will be placed in the mail next January—the same month when Congress convenes and a new President will be inaugurated.

DELIBERATE: The delay has been deliberate, according to V.A. spokesmen. They have waited more than three years, according to their explanation, because Capitol Hill has made so many amendments of the original law. They did not want to issue a basic contract until the terms had been fixed definitely by the legislators.

For instance, the original legislation specified that only extremely close relatives could be named as beneficiaries Now a policy-holder may name anybody he pleases. There have also been changes in the manner under which survivors may be paid, with each revision providing greater benefits.

Now it is generally believed that the law is frozen, and that any future amendments will be minor. Therefore, Administrator Gray is preparing to wipe this grievance off the ex-soldiers' slate.

OVERHAULING: Evidence appears every day, however, that operation of the veterans' agency needs overhauling and tightening-up throughout the nation.

A holder of a concerted national life insurance policy, for instance, wrote to the Richmond, Va., office, asking why he had not received his permanent contract. Despite the deliberate delay in issuing this form, an official there replied that the document would be forthcoming as soon as the holder forwarded more information about the conversion. The Richmond bureaucrat had apparently not heard of the Washington decision.

As the result of a recent column about pensions for survivors of World War I soldiers who did not die from service-connected wounds or illnesses, many widows have gone to regional or branch offices to find out why they were not receiving these benefits. They were told in some places that there was no such law. Field offices have written the writer for further information.

BEWILDERING: Well, the measure is Public Law 484, as enacted by the Seventy-Third Congress and as amended by the subsequent sessions. Many survivors may not be eligible because nobody earning or receiving an income of $1,000 or more may qualify. And, by a bewildering VA ruling, Social Security benefits received are included as income. National Life Insurance payments are so included only for the first year.

Both these limitations may be eliminated by the next session of Congress, as even many VA men admit that they should.

KEPT ADVISED ON ISSUES

Dewey Taking No Late Chances

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

SALT LAKE CITY—Out of the multitude of words that Governor Dewey poured forth on his circular trip through the Far West, much of it pretty and eloquent if not always particularly pertinent or relevant, there came through every so often a hint of those secret fears that beset all political managements of something or other unexpected that might happen in the last month of a campaign to upset what looks like certain victory. This is not unusual or especially significant. Politicians were worry warts by nature even about what looks like a sure thing to everybody else.

STOKES

One revealing clue was the Republican candidate's constant insistence that the Republican party is standing squarely back of the administration in the current crisis over Russia before the United Nations. He put it as well and explicitly as anywhere else at Great Falls, Montana, when he said:

Nation's United Cited

"It is a moment in history, like never before, when our destiny and the fate of peace in the world, with which our destiny is bound, depend on making clear to every foreign nation the fact that the American people are united. The totalitarian states must not misunderstand what is happening here. They must not make the error of believing that because we are exercising our constitutional right to change our government this nation is at all split or divided.

"When we change our national administration next January, as I firmly believe we will, it will be for the purpose of strengthening our country, cementing our national unity, and waging the peace with greater skill and effectiveness.

"Let me send this message from Great Falls to Paris, and beyond Paris through the iron curtain: The Republican party is engaged in this campaign for the express purpose of bringing our people closer together so that they can realize their great future and find peace with honor in the world. And let no dictator, or trigger-happy militarists anywhere, make any mistake about that purpose."

This is a statesmanlike attitude to demonstrate unity among our people. It is an attitude no less commendable because it is the thing that should be expected, and was the same as that taken by Governor Dewey four years ago in the middle of war when he was the Republican candidate, and by the late Wendell L. Willkie in the 1940 campaign during the critical early days of war in Europe before our entry.

But its repetion at every opportunity would seem also to have considerable political importance as regards voters here at home. It is reassurance that it is Governor Dewey's policy, and not that of the nationalist element in the party, that is now the policy of the party and will be the policy if he is elected. In short, the Republican party is no longer the party of isolationism, but of staunch internationalism. The nationalist element was defeated at the Philadelphia convention, though still strong in Congress.

Beyond that, repeated emphasis by Governor Dewey on his knowledge of the crisis and of the ability of his administration to handle any such if he is elected would appear to be in the nature of a hedge against any last-minute revival of the slogan—"don't change horses in the middle of the stream"—that became so familiar to him in his 1944 campaign in the midst of war.

Advised On Foreign Setup

Politicians seeking to oust an existing national regime are nervous about an international crisis on the eve of election. The very circumstances give cards to the "ins" that are not available to the "outs which perhaps explains why is has ben stressed on the Dewey campaign train how the Republican candidate is keeping closely advised about every move in Paris through John Foster Dulles whose younger brother, Allen W. Dulles, is a member of the Dewey staff aboard the train, an adviser on foreign affairs.

Another fear grows out of the sense of insecurity among the people today and the uncertainty about the continuation of prosperity of which, seemingly, Governor Dewey has become conscious on this trip judging from his comment about "the gnawing fears our people suffer now." These he dismissed by saying that they will prove baseless when Republicans demonstrate their competence and their determination to keep the country prosperous.

Democrats have made quite a point of recalling the "boom and bust" in the Republican regime of the 1920's.

"Your next administration," the Republican candidate said, "will reject the defeatist doctrine that our country is fated to swing too wildly from boom to bust. It is a fatalism which is shared only by those who do not understand America or the miracles which a united people can achieve. Surely we can avoid a repetition of the 1930's, with their hardships, their farm foreclosure, their mass unemployment, and wholesale misery. With courage and boldness we can act to see that such tragedies do not happen here again."

STOCKS CONTINUE RALLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (AP)—A modest rise in the stock market today extended the current recovery move through the third session.

Gains were mostly fractions to a little more than a point.

Trading was very quiet with the volume only 610,000 shares.

Oils and rails were the leaders, and steels also came in for a share of favorable attention.

Nickel Plate jumped 3½ points to 82 after reports of the possibility of an extra dividend by Wheeling and Lake Erie, the majority of whose stock is owned by Nickel Plate. General railroad of New Jersey was up 2⅝ to 35¼ reflecting current phases of its reorganization. Skelly Oil, an inactive issue, was up 4 at 119.

Baltimore and Ohio, down ⅛ at 13⅞, was the fourth most-active stock on the board, while Radio-Keith-Orpheum, touched a new low for the year and closed at 7⅝ off ⅛.

On the topside were Southern Pacific 58⅛, Standard Oil (NJ) 78, Mission Corp. 55⅛, Seaboard Oil, an infrequently traded issue, American Smelting 57¼, Public Service Electric and Gas 21⅛, Dow Chemical 46½ and International Paper 58⅛.

On the downside were such issues as Owens Illinois, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar, United Aircraft, American Can, Great Northern preferred, Pan American Airways, and Loew's.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP) — Buying of corn by cash houses gave the yellow grain a lift on the board of trade today. Prices were up more than 2 cents at one time. The rest of the grain market scored smaller advances in sympathy with the corn upturn.

Offerings of cash corn on a to-arrive basis totaled only 14,000 bushels, of which 11,000 was new crop grain. This was a very small business for Monday at this time of year. Visible supply of corn showed a slight increase this week, gaining 431,000 bushels.

Interest in wheat and oats was small. Wheat closed ⅞-1⅛ higher. December $2.24⅝-⅞, corn was 1⅝ to 2 cents higher, December $1.39, oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 73¼-⅜.

Fresh air a comfortable bed with a soft, low pillow, and warm feet are safeguards against sleeplessness, a physician states.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP) — Cotton futures turned firm following an indifferent start today. There was an absence of hedging which contributed to the upward movement. Lack of notices against the 1948 October position resulted in additional short covering. Some trade buying which centered in the December and March contracts was presumed to be against export orders. Meantime reports from the south indicated that picking of new crop cotton had expanded appreciably over the week end.

Futures closed 5 to 55 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Body Of Woman Is Found Hidden In Thick Weeds

KOUNTZE, Oct. 4 (AP)—The body of a woman found today in a heavy thicket seven miles west of here is believed to be that of Mrs. Eloise Twitchell, 32, of Beaumont, who disappeared last week.

Two Port Neches boys who were training their hunting dogs came across the partly decomposed body hidden in the woods in a remote section of Hardin county. It was near Sarasota Road.

Justice of the Peace Beatrice Seale of Kountze returned an inquest verdict of murder. The body was tentatively identified as Mrs. Twitchell pending further investigation.

A few shreds of clothing found beneath the body matched a description of the clothes worn by Mrs. Twitchell when she left her home in Beaumont Sept. 28.

The body was taken to Farmer funeral home at Silsbee.

It was not determined what caused the woman's death.

Kountze is in southeast Texas north of Beaumont.

acres which Lion holds in that area. It is in the same quarter section with Lion's No. 1 E. C. McLaughlin, a shallow hole drilled in 1945.

The new venture is two and one-half miles west and a little north of the Sun Oil Co., No. 1 Schattell, recently completed flowing discovery from a Pennsylvanian lime.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. has filed an application with the railroad commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start operations at once on its No. 1-12 University, as a 10,000-foot wildcat in Central-southwest Andrews county.

The exploration will probably try to locate and test the Ellenburger. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the north half of section 33, block 12, University survey.

That puts it between the block 12 field and the recent discovery made to the south of that pool, at Humble Oil and Refining Co., No. 12 Parker, in the Devonian.

The new Mid-Continent development is 20 miles southwest of the town of Andrews.

Reserved Burial Of Veterans In Paupers' Graves Denounced

AUSTIN, Oct. 4. (AP)—The reported burial of veterans in paupers' graves has prompted the American Legion's executive committee to demand legislation to prevent the recurrence of such acts in Texas.

The executive committee, meeting in Austin yesterday, unanimously adopted a resolution directing its legislative committee to sponsor corrective legislation.

"Our American Legion is indignant over the tragic burial of four veterans returned from overseas to rest in potter's fields," William C. (Bill) McCraw, state department commander and former attorney general, told reporters later.

"I am sure the communities where this took place must have overlooked it because it is not characteristic of Texas and Texans. From now on out, this can't and will not happen again."

House Group's Methods Scored

Writer Asks Supreme Court To Set Aside Contempt Conviction

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—John Howard Lawson, Hollywood movie writer, carried an appeal to the Supreme court today against his conviction for contempt of Congress.

Lawson's petition, filed as the justices met for the start of their fall term, challenged both the authority and the methods of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"No organ of our government, unless perhaps a military tribunal within sound of battle, has ever laid claim to such powers," the petition said.

Hearing May Be Refused

Lawson was convicted following his refusal to tell the House committee whether he is or ever has been a Communist. He is a former president of the Screen Writers' guild and author of such screen plays as "Algiers," "Smashup" and "Blockade."

Lawson argued that the committee's operations threaten all forms of public expression, including church and school, and menace the "very existence as free men" of citizens who will not willingly submit to invasion of their constitutional rights.

There was no assurance that Lawson would get a high court hearing at this time. He was trying to by-pass the court of appeals, where the case is now pending and get an immediate ruling from the highest bench. The Supreme court will first decide whether it wants to take over before the intermediate court has had its say.

Justice Murphy Absent

In its 15-minute opening session, the Supreme court's only business was admission of new attorneys to its bar, a tribute to the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, and receipt of motions in the Stevenson-Johnson senatorial election contest in Texas.

The court convened without Justice Murphy who sent word that clinical tests he has been undergoing in Michigan have not been completed. The court said Murphy's return here may be delayed another week or two.

Lawson's plea to the Supreme court presents these main contentions:

1. That the House committee's methods amount to "inquisition by means of compulsory disclosure, . . . for the purpose of ferreting out political dissenters, and the imposition by the committee of severe penalties for dissent."

Lawson contends such methods invade most of the personal freedoms guaranteed by the bill of rights.

Charred Body Of Man Found In Houston Rooming House

HOUSTON, Oct. 4 (AP) — The charred body of a man was found in the fire-gutted wreckage of a two-story frame rooming house today after 11 other people had fled the flames, two of them via firemen's ladders.

The dead man was believed to be a "Mr. Paige," about 60, who had occupied the room in the house where the body was found.

The condition of the body made any definite identification impossible.

Famed British Trans-Atlantic Flier Dies After Heart Attack

LONDON, Oct. 4. (UP)—Sir Arthur Whitten-Brown, one of the first two men to fly the Atlantic, died today in his London apartment, apparently of a heart attack. He was 62.

With the late Sir John Alcock, he flew from Newfoundland to the west coast of Ireland on June 15, 1919, in a flight that made aviation history and pre-dated by some eight years the much more publicized solo flight of Charles A. Lindbergh from New York to Paris.

Britain Halts Raid Shelter Destruction

LONDON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Preparedness-minded Britain has stopped general demolition of its wartime air raid shelters.

A home office spokesman said today that except for shelters which have been condemned as dangerous, all of these refuges from air attack will be left standing for the time being.

No general instruction has been issued, the home office said, but suspension notices have been sent to "certain areas." The spokesman said no more detailed information was available.

"Demolition is to be suspended in certain cases according to the merits," the spokesman said. "I cannot say what are the merits to be given consideration."

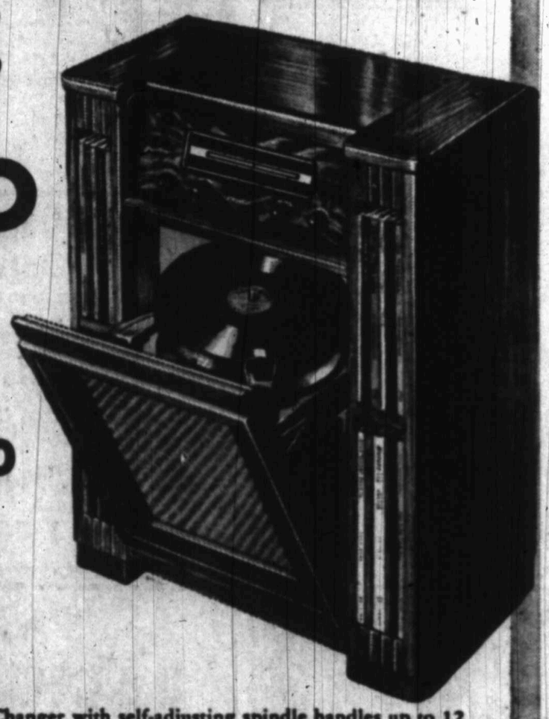

No statistics were available on the number of shelters still in good condition. Thousands—chiefly surface shelters erected in busy city streets and parks—have been destroyed. Most of the big underground shelters still are in existence.
