Politics are getting hot and the democratic heelers are trying to whip all their independent or as they say "weak kneed" brethren in to line and make them vote the straight ticket. But I hardly think they will succeed. The democratic administration has bankrupted the county and it will be the height of folly to allow such an extravagant crowd to administer the county's affairs another term. If they have to borrow $2,000 from the banks this term to pay current expenses it is likely they will be issuing bonds if given another.

COFFEE VISE.

Holds Fast Until You Get a Knock-down.

"I had used coffee moderately up to six years ago," writes a lady from Piney Creek, Md., "when I was seized with an attack of nervous prostration and was forbidden coffee by my physician. I was constantly under treatment for nearly three years. After my recovery I once took a cup of coffee and it made me so sick I did not want any more.

"After the nervous prostration my stomach was very weak, so that I had to be careful with my appetite. As soon as I would eat certain things I would have an attack of stomach trouble, sometimes lasting several weeks, so when I was attacked by erysipelas two years ago, my stomach was immediately out of order.

"I kept getting worse until nothing would stay on my stomach, not even rice water or milk and I was so weak I had to be fed with a spoon. I had a craving for something like coffee but that was impossible, so father went to town and got some Postum Food Coffee and when he asked the doctor if I might have it, he quickly answered, "Yes." Mother made it exactly as directed and brought me part of a cup and it was delicious, satisfied every craving and best of all stayed on my stomach with out distress, giving comfort instead. For several days I lived on Postum, gradually increasing the amount I took until I could drink a cupful. Then I began to take solid food with it and so got well and strong again. I now use it constantly and I am entirely free from any stomach trouble.

"Father and mother both use it. Coffee made mamma nervous and disagreed with her stomach so that she would taste it for hours after drinking. Father had stomach trouble for five or six years and used to be deprived of various articles of food on account of it. Now he can eat anything since he quit coffee and uses Postum. Father says that it is better than Mocha or Java." Name given by Postum

REPORT ON COTTON.

The United States Census Office Will Publish Returns at Frequent Intervals During the Ginning Season.

Mr. C. G. Foust of Dublin has been appointed a local special agent of the Census office to collect cotton-ginning statistics for this county and we join the government in urging the ginners to give Mr. Foust their hearty support and co-operation, thus enabling him to make prompt and accurate returns. We would impress upon the ginners the fact that this agent is a sworn officer of the government and that their reports are forwarded as given to him directly to the Census office at Washington, without passing through the hands of any middlemen. The information given is held strictly confidential and the operations of individual ginners are not divulged. Upon the joint co-operation of the cotton growers, ginners and local agents must depend the success of the Census office in this inquiry and its ability to render this service to the Southern people and to all interested in the cotton staple.

The Census office has demonstrated in three annual reports the fact that the ginners are the only reliable source of information as to the volume of the annual cotton crop. This is very complimentary to the ginners, who, no doubt, will feel a pride in sustaining the reputation earned.

In recognition of this interest shown by the ginners and of a general demand for more frequent reports through this source, congress, in the act creating a permanent census office, provided for the collection and publication of these statistics at intervals during the ginning season. For the crop of 1902 the office will issue three reports; the first two will cover the quantity of cotton ginned up to and including October 18th and December 13th, respectively; and the final reports will cover the total quantity ginned from the growth of 1902.

Realizing that the collection of the data for these reports is made at a season when the ginners' time is greatly taxed and appreciating the necessity for prompt returns, the Census office has located, in each county containing ten or more ginneries, an agent who will visit each ginnery in the county and secure a report of the quantity of cotton ginned up to certain dates.

The statistics for the October reports will be collected during the week beginning with Monday, October 20th, and ginners should keep such records as will enable them to furnish promptly the required information. These returns will be tabulated and the result published within one week from their receipt at Washington.

In his speech accepting the democratic nomination for congress in the eleventh district of New York, William Randolph Hearst announced himself in favor of public ownership of certain public utilities, specifying, as a natural beginning, railroads and telegraphs. Existing conditions, he declared, made it advisable for the government to take possession of and manage the anthracite coal mines for the people's benefit. He favored the election of United States senators by popular vote as a means to the end of dealing with monopolies that "compel the payment of extortionate prices by the helpless public."

Prohibition Matters.

Notice of contest of the prohibition election held August 29th in Van Zandt county has been filed by the antis. The same action has been taken in Haskell and Denton counties.

The application for injunction to prevent the local option law going into effect in Denton county recites the following points, viz.: first, constitutionality of the law is attacked upon the standpoint that it is class legislation; second that it is discriminative and refuses equal protection of rights in applying for a new election, etc.; third, that all precincts in the county were dry before the election except three and that these gave anti majorities; fourth, the inability of the state and county to repay the license; fifth, that prohibition was not legally adopted because less than one-half the voters in the county voted for it; the sixth to twelth points recite alleged irregularities in holding the election. The matter has been set for hearing before Judge Barrett a Denton.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

Boy Kills His Mother and a Sister and Wounds Four Other Sisters.

Pittsburg, Oct. 11.—A boy named Charles Cawley, aged 17 years, of Homestead, Pa., killed his mother and one sister Friday at 3 o'clock a. m. with an ax. He also hacked four other sisters so badly they will die. He then attacked his elder brother, but the ax glanced off his head and the brother awoke. He jumped out of bed and knocked the would-be assassin down with a chair. He then took him to the police station.

The boy had gone daft as a result of the strain of perfecting an appliance for a patent on air brakes.

Some time about 3 o'clock Charles quietly arose, crept down to the cellar and secured an ax. Coming up stairs, he went into his mother's room where the victims were all sleeping. After turning up the light the maniac approached the mother's bedside and brought the ax down with such force that her skull was crushed. The mother evidently never knew what struck her; but the crazed son, thinking his first blow did not do its work, pounded the dead mother's head almost to a jelly.

Belle, the oldest daughter, slept throughout the time. Charles hurried to her side of the bed and struck her with the ax, then turned to the smaller children and struck each one over the head with the bloody weapon. Believing he had dispatched them all, he started for his two brothers' room, but James, the eldest, had been awakened by the groans in his mother's room, and as Charles entered he seized a heavy rockingchair, and after a fierce struggle overpowered him and turned him over to the police. On the way to the station Charles fought ferociously, but after being placed in a cell he calmed down and did not seem to realize what he had done.

HOLDING CONFERENCE

NOTHING GIVEN OUT

Mitchell Sees Commissioner Sargent After Talking With the President. Objects to the Selection of the Strike Arbitrators.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Interest in the coal strike situation here is centered in John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers association, who arrived here this morning and went direct to the White House.

At the temporary White House prior to Mitchell's arrival there was air of suppressed excitement. Large gathering of newspaper men was down stairs and several hundred people collected on the outside awaiting the coming of the strike leader. Soon after the arrival of Secretary Cortelyou, Secretary Root appeared and went immediately up stairs to the president's room where he was soon joined by Representative Payne of New York and Commissioner of Labor Wright. The conference began shortly before 10 o'clock and had not broken up at 11.

Secretary Root left the White House at 11:10 after an hour's conference with president concerning strike situation. As he was leaving he stated while there were no new developments in the situation, there were some obstacles which would have to be cleared before the end would be in sight. He said he believed however, the difficulties in the way of settlement could be removed. He declined to give particulars as to what the obstacles were.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers' association arrived in Washington on the 11:27 train in response to President Roosevelt and meet him in conference relative to the proposal of anthracite mining operators for the appointment of a commission to investigate the coal strike. Mr. Mitchell was not accompanied by district presidents as he was upon his former trip and had no traveling companion except a newspaper man who had accompanied him from Wilkesbarre.

He remained in the railroad waiting room for ten minutes, but absolutely declined to reply to any question which might throw light upon the present intention or future movements. He even declined to say whether there had been any change in the situation since Tuesday night. "I can only say now, he said in reply to many questions, that I shall go direct to White House but what my movements will be after my interview with the president I cannot say."

"Can you say anything at all bearing on situation."

"I cannot," was the reply, "and if I should have anything to say later, I will make my statement to all alike."

After the conference at the White House Mr. Mitchell walked to the treasury department where he went into conference with Commissioner of Immigration Sargent. He appeared to be more cheerful than when he entered the White House, but still maintained reticence. No statement will be given out at the White House at the progress of the conference thus far.

It is understood that at the conference with the president Mr. Mitchell's main objection to the acceptance of the proposition of operators was the limitation placed upon the president in the matter of selection of the arbitration commission.

GONE TO WASHINGTON.

President Mitchell Goes There to Consult the President.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 15.—President Mitchell left shortly after 3 o'clock this morning for Washington, where he will hold a conference with President Roosevelt. It is known here that the operators' proposition in the present form is not entirely satisfactory to Mitchell. Some of the local leaders are of the opinion that Mitchell would willingly accept a modified plan, one that will give the miners equal representation on the commission. The strikers feel that the arbitration scheme as it now stands is not fair to them. If the proposition is finally agreed upon, it is probable the convention will be called to meet within four days from the time the call is sent out. It is contended by some that Mitchell has power to send the men back to work immediately.

Birmingham Coal Strike Settled.

Birmingham, Oct. 15.—The strike at the coal mines of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, which has been in full force the past ten days, has been settled and the 4500 men returned to work. Terms of settlement not given out. The settlement was brought about through the good offices of Rufus N. Rhodes, editor of the Birmingham News. The miners' executive board adopted a desolution thanking Mr. Rhodes and the Birmingham News for their efforts in the matted. This ends all labor trouble in this district.

When Moore Sang.

In singing his own songs Moore altered the arrangement of the airs and sang the first part of each verse twice over at the beginning instead of as a refrain at the end. In that glorious song of his, "Oh, the Light Entrancing!" Moore's own singing of it was a matchless treat. With head upraised, he seemed almost to revel in the fresh morning light as he gazed on the "sight entrancing," and his eye sparkled as "files arrayed with helm and blade" seemed to pass before him, while a deeper feeling awoke as the passion of the song came upon him.

His voice, one of infinite modulation, but of small compass, rose clear and thrilling to its highest pitch as he sang:

Go ask yon despot whether
His armed bands could bring such hands
And hearts as ours together.

His song was an inspired recitative, and he seemed to improvise as he ran his fingers over the notes, and as the tide of thought came over him it was poured forth in harmonious cadences of exquisite variety. Had he been tied to a chair, with the added doom of a prosy companion, he would have exploded and gone off like a rocket or a bottle of sparkling champagne.—Westminster Review.

Moorish Slavery.

It would do those good who write passionate articles on Moorish slavery to see the well fed, lazy slave of Wazan lounging in the sun, kiff pipe in mouth and scarcely doing a stroke of work from week's end to week's end. The most ordinary English kitchenmaid would accomplish in a couple of hours what a Wazan slave does in a week. All are free to come and go as they please, but none avails himself of this freedom. The reason is not far to seek. In Wazan they are fed and clothed by the shereefs and on holidays and feast days receive presents of money.

Thus all the necessities of life are found them without their having to work for them, which otherwise they would be obliged to do. Nor is it only the necessities of life that are thus supplied to them free, but they are given each his room to live in and married at the expense of the shereefs to slave women. Their children, by law slaves, are not necessarily so and are often apprenticed to workmen to learn some trade or if they wish are free to seek their fortune in other lands.—Blackwood's Magazine.

A Lucky Escape.

An elephant hunt on the Muar river is described in the Straits Times of Singapore. The beast turned hunter, and the man, fleeing, caught his foot in a rattan creeper and fell. He discharged his rifle, however, and that fortunately frightened the animal away. The Times continues: "It is not every man who has the good luck when pursued by an elephant to be crossing a swamp, so that when the animal has carefully kneaded his prostrate foe and passed along thinking him completely pulverized the said man should come up smiling behind the elephant none the worse for his massage treatment. This actually happened to a well known man in the Straits Settlements."

A Unique Home.

In Sweden and Norway there are several homes for spinsters. One of these at least is as attractive as it is unique. It is a monument to the memory of an exceedingly wealthy old man, who, dying more than 200 years ago, left the major part of his fortune to the old maids among his descendants. A superb home was built, furnished and managed by salaried trustees. It flourished and has continued. Any unmarried woman who can prove blood relationship to the founder of the institution is entitled to admission to the home. She is given a suit of rooms, a servant, private meals and is subject to no rules save such as ordinary good behavior demands.

Music's Power.

Grimes—Yes, I'm fond of music. There's Tinnerman, for instance—

Grimes—It has been very enjoyable to me. I got Tinnerman to keep at it night and day, and the result was that I bought the house next door for a thousand dollars less than the man who lived in it asked a week or two before.—Boston Transcript.

Two Sinners.

"It is very wrong to tell a falsehood," said his mother to little Jimmie, who had caught him in one.

"Then we're both offul sinners, ain't we, maw?" queried Jimmie.

"Both! What do you mean?"

"Why, you told Missus Smith yesterday that you hoped she'd call again, an' after she wuz gone you said you wished she'd never come again."—Ohio State Journal.

A Money Saver.

"But you are taking considerable risk in letting your young men owe two or three weeks' board."

"Yes, there is some risk," answered the boarding house keeper. "But then, you see, they worry over it so that they lose their appetites, so I save money in the long run."

THE STRIKE SETTLED

New Orleans Street Cars Will Be Running Today.

A COMPROMISE MADE

Upon the Urgent Request of the Governor the Strikers Will Return to Work for 20 Cents an Hour and a 10-Hour Day.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—The streetcar strike is settled, the union men accepting the governor's ultimatum. Negotiations went on until the executive board finally decided to submit the matter to a general meeting of the union which began at 4 o'clock and ended at six. The basis of settlement is that the men will go back to work this morning at twenty cents and ten hours with a minimun of seven and a half hours a day, no discrimination to be made agains any of the men under charges, and so many to be taken back as are needed for the operation of the company's lines.

There is widespread rejoicing in the city over the settlement of the strike. It began Sunday morning, two weeks ago and has been the most effective tie up ever attempted in this city. Not a single pessenger has been carried on a car since it began and no passenger car has gotten more than five blocks from a barn.

The credit for settlement is largely due to W. S. Parkerson who took up the cause of the strikers Saturday morning and labored indefatigably night and day convincing them that they could hope for nothing better and that they could not prevail against the militia massed here. United States Senator Foster, Gov. Herd and Mayor Capedeville were all instrumental in some degree in bringing about the final result.

ALMOST MARTIAL LAW.

Governor Forbids Crowds to Gather on the Streets of New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 11.—This city is virtually under martial law. The governor has issued a proclamation which is not as severe and as powerful as such orders are, but prevents gatherings upon the streets. The proclamation was issued after the governor had been notified that all negotiations between officials of the railway company and their striking carmen came to an end, the carmen refusing the proposition made to them and the railway company refusing the proposition of the carmen to submit all differences to the board of arbitrators.

The following is the proclamation:

"To the people of New Orleans: During the past two weeks your city has been in a condition of unsual and grave excitement and frequently recurring causes of apprehension of tumults by mobs and bloodshed has ensued. This condition has depressed trade and arrested public intercourse and peaceful pursuits of the population. The greatest forbearance has been vainly exercised by the authorities, and every reasonable effort made to remove every cause or pretext for complaint. The time has now arrived to bring this abnormal condition of affairs to a close, and by firm and vigorous means to reestablish order and tranquility and supremacy of law.

"I therefore request all peaceable citizens not to congregate in crowds on the streets and thoroughfares, and I urge upon them to discontinue all undue excitement and acts of violence and make known to the officers entrusted with the administration of the law any breaches of the peace, and I hereby declare that people of this city must and shall be protected in the full enjoyment of all their constitutional rights and privileges. All power vested in me by the constitution and laws of this state shall be devoted to the preservation of peace, maintenance of good order and protection of the lives and property of the city.

W. W. HEARD,
"Governor of Louisiana."

A strong committee of citizens has been organized and efforts are being made to recruit independent companies to support the state troops.

C., and designed and constructed the battery from which the first shot of the great Civil war was fired.

The Wrong Roll.

Immediately after a wedding which took place in Washington the best man started for South Africa, where he remained more than a year. On his return, says a writer in Harper's Magazine, he was given a dinner and wore evening clothes for the first time since the wedding.

In the midst of the evening, fumbling in his waistcoat pocket, he astonished himself and his friends by pulling out a hundred dollar bill. Where had it come from? A sudden thought flashed across his mind.

The next morning he went to the clergyman who had married his friends.

"Do you remember marrying Mr. Armitage and Miss Bently about a year ago?"

"Oh, perfectly," replied the clergyman. "I see them constantly at my church."

"Well, will you pardon me if I ask you a delicate question in strict confidence. How much did you receive as your fee?"

"I will return frankness with frankness," returned the clergyman, smiling whimsically. "It was the strangest fee that ever came my way. After the ceremony the best man, with a profusion of thanks, slipped into my hand a small sliver of plug tobacco wrapped in a wad of paraffin paper!"

A Sight For Sarah.

Of a certain bishop, famous as about the plainest man in England, the Liverpool Post tells this pleasing tale: One day as this homely parson sat in an omnibus he was amazed by the persistent staring of a fellow passenger, who presently unburdened himself as follows:

"You're a parson, ain't you?"

"Well, yes; that is so."

"Look 'ere, parson, would you mind comin' home with me to see my wife?"

Imagining the wife was sick and needing assistance, the clergyman at great inconvenience to himself went with the man. On arriving at the house the man shouted to his wife to come downstairs, and, pointing to the astonished parson, said, with a grin of delight:

"Look 'e 'ere, Sairry. Yer said this mornin' as I wur the hugliest chap in England. Now, just yer look at this bloke!"

Geese That Lay Golden Eggs.

Once upon a time there was a promoter who owned a common, everyday goose who laid the usual, ordinary goose eggs. He conceived the scheme of syndicating the goose on a gold egg basis and proceeded to do so.

He informed the trusting public that soon his goose would lay an egg of gold each day and offered for sale stock in the Golden Goose Egg company, limited, at bedrock prices. There was a wild rush for the stock, and the promoter suddenly found himself wealthy.

He continued to sell the stock as long as there were buyers, for he did not want to kill the goose that laid the egg. His goose continued the same ordinary fowl as before.

Ministers' Maids.

"Are you a minister's wife?" was a query encountered so frequently by a young matron in search of a maid that she scented a story.

"Why this mania to live under the droppings of the sanctuary?" inquired the matron or words to that effect.

Then it appeared that the minister's family is considered a most desirable place because of the opportunities for witness fees in wedding cases. There are few bridegrooms who come without a witness to be married who will not bestow a generous tip upon the girl who furnishes this small but necessary feature of the ceremony.—New York Tribune.

Would Give Him a Lesson.

A reporter who is the father of a year old youngster met his pastor on Sunday afternoon.

"Why weren't you at church this morning?" was the first question of the spiritual adviser.

"I couldn't come," was the answer. "I had to stop at home and mind the baby. Our nurse is ill."

"That's no excuse," said the pastor.

"It isn't? Well, next Sunday I'll bring him to church with me and see how you like it."

Appropriate.

The professor of painting has just entered the classroom, where smoking is strictly prohibited. Here he finds an art student holding in his hand a newly filled cherry wood pipe.

Professor (ironically)—What a queer paint brush you have got there! What are you going to do with it?

Student—Oh, I'm going to make clouds with it!

Very Irritating.

"Once in awhile, even now," remarked the caller, "you hear of some Englishman who says our Revolutionary war was 'the most causeless rebellion in history.' Isn't is irritating?"

"Decidedly so," responded the Boston young woman. "If a thing is causeless, how can it be any more causeless?"—Chicago Tribune.

The Whole Thing.

"Bixby seems to think he's the whole thing as an expert authority on sporting matters."

"Yes; he appears to regard himself as pretty nearly big enough to wear golf links to fasten his shirt cuffs."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

When we deserve it, we don't mind abuse. It makes us careful. But the trouble is we never agree with our critics as to when we deserve it.—Atchison Globe.

Few Railroads Perfect Plans for Southwest Colonization.

INDEPENDENT MOVE

Santa Fe, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific and Frisco in a Deal to Induce People to Come and Settle in This Territory.

New York, Oct. 14.—The executive officials of the southwestern railroads have agreed to plans submitted to them by the general passenger agents for colonization, and they will be put into operation at once. A committee to carry out the work has been appointed, consisting of representatives of the Atchison, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific and St. Louis and San Francisco. A bureau is to be formed for the purpose of handling all matters concerning the joint movement. Appropriations have been made for its establishment and maintenance, and the organization is to run three years. The agent to have charge has been selected, but his identity is withheld for the present.

The new bureau will be entirely separate from all other passenger organizations. Homeseekers and settlers' rates, as well as the freight rates charged upon their effects, thansported into the new territory, will be greatly reduced under the new plan, and every inducement will be made to attract permanent settlers into the southwest.

Other measures to be adopted will further strengthen the plan which is to densify traffic, and it is believed hundreds of thousands of persons will flock to the new territory. The times are considered most opportune for the inception of such a movement.

The territory to be colonized includes Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and the Indian Territory and a portion of Louisiana.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The Grand Army of the Republic got down to business Thursday and the encampment of the order, besides hearing the address from Comander-in-chief Torrance and reports from a number of officers and committees, elected a new head for the ensuing year. The new commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic is General T. J. Stewart of Pennsylvania, who was a leading candidate for the honor a year ago. His competitors Thursday were General John C. Black of Illinois, a former commissioner of pensions, and Colonel John McElroy of this city. The name of General Daniel Sickles of New York City was presented to the convention, but he withdrew from the race.

William M. Olin of Massachusetts was elected vice commander-in-chief, and J. M. Averill of Georgia junior vice comander-in-chief.

Aside from the election of these officers, the most interesting feature of the encampment was the report of the pension committee of the G. A. R.

Father Kidnaps His Child.

A runaway, somewhat out of harmony with present times, is reported in Johnson county. There was a man, his wife and little daughter, living on a farm near the Hill and Johnson county line. All did not run smoothly in the home and after a time of more than ordinary disagreement a separation was agreed upon. The husband was to carry his wife and child and her portion of the furniture to the home of her parents in Ellis county. They started and after going ten or fifteen miles the husband induced his wife to let him take the child out to rest and walk it around a little. He carried it to the rear of the wagon and delivered it to his father, who, by a prearranged plan, had followed in his buggy, and he drove off with it. When his wife saw it was gone, she gave vent to screams and cries and made strong efforts to get out of the wagon, but was detained by the strong arm of her husband. He placed one arm around her to hold her, put his hand over her mouth to stifle her cries and drove away, but not directly toward Ellis county. He drove as rapidly as he could urge the team and when her cries attracted attention and led to the detention of the wagon by an officer charges were filed against him for assault, carrying a pistol and resisting an officer. His wife has gone in search of the child.

Government engineers have begun work on the Trinity river at Dallas under the appropriation of $400,000 granted at the last congress towards navigation of that stream. The banks of the river are to be cleared for fifty miles below Dallas and them the snags will be removed by a boat being prepared for that purpose and later when the river rises the drifts will be cut away. Section after section of the river will be gone over in this way and it is believed that by 1904 the Trinity will be navigable from four to six months in the year from Dallas to Galveston.

Congressman J. L. Sheppard died at Eureka Springs, Arkansas, last Friday. Asks Judgment to be Suspended.

Under recent date Mayor J. W. Riggins of Waco issued the following card to the public:

"I desire to express my sincere appreciation and thanks for the many verbal expressions, as well as letters, messages and newspaper indorsements of myself, as well as disapproval of the persecution and emphasizing the approval and confidence in me personally and officially.

"The mayor of Waco has not been impeached. This is to correct the impression that the misleading resolutions of the city council of Waco and the headlines of the Waco daily press would imply.

"Replying to the numerous demands made upon me in Waco, in Texas and out of Texas for a statement in my defense of the charges preferred against me, I desire to say:

"I did not expect (if it could possibly be prevented) to allow my case to be tried on its merits before my persecutors, self-constituted judges, witnesses, jurors and court, but was compelled to take refuge in the arms of the legally constituted courts of our state for protection.

"Pending settlement of the matter I have felt it might be indelicate on my part and in contempt of of court, to publish by defense in the newspapers at this time, but desire to say that the time will come when a statement of the facts will be made to the public, which statement I feel sure all the friends of fair-dealing and justice will accept as fully answering the charges made, and satisfactorily vindicating me from the imputations made by my prosecutors.

"Therefore, I appeal to the fair-minded public to suspend judgment until the courts have acted."

GRATEFUL FOR FOOD.

Lived Seven Weeks on Milk.

"Three years ago this month, I was a great sufferer with stomach trouble," writes Mrs. William Leigh of Prairie du Sac, Wis. "I had to give up eating meat, potatoes and sweets and lived simply on bread and tea; finally that too had to be given up. I got so weak I could not work and I took nothing into my stomach for seven weeks but milk. I had tried three doctors and all for no purpose; the last doctor advised me to stop all medicine. I had to anyway. I was so weak I was prostrate in bed.

"A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts, but I was afraid to when a teaspoonful of milk brought tears to my eyes my stomach was so raw. But I tried one teaspoonful a day of the Grape-Nuts for one week and finding it agreed with me increased the quantity. In two weeks I could walk out to the kitchen; in four weeks I walked half a block and today I do my own light housekeeping.

"I live on Grape-Nuts and know they saved my life; my people all thought I could not live a month when I commenced using them and are very much surprised at the change in me. I am very grateful that there is such a food to be obtained for those who have weak stomachs."

Circus day in Dublin has come and gone and comparatively speaking Sunday and Monday were like a calm after a storm. The three trains bearing the circus came in during the early morning Saturday over the Central from Waco and the process of unloading the animals and paraphernalia during the morning was watched by an enthusiastic multitude that packed and jammed the streets from the railroad to the show grounds in the east part of town. The number of people was variously estimated at from eighteen to twenty thousand and the latter number was more probably correct. The mammoth street parade occurred about noon and this was a signal for a general scrimmage on the part of sight seers for points of vantage to obtain a good view of the cavalcade, said to be the most magnificent and varied ever presented by any show in existence. The show people claim that fifteen thousand people witnessed the afternoon performance, exclusive of the side shows, and the night performance showed only a falling off of about fifteen per cent from that in the afternoon. It is reasonably safe to say that the total receipts from all sources reached the sum of $20,000. The country for sixty miles about Dublin was freely represented and a large number of people were here from Hico, Morgan, Cisco, Brownwood, Comanche, Granbury, Stephenville and other points on the line of the Rio Grande and Central railroads. Contrary to the general expectation all classes of business did a thriving trade throughout the day and few if any Dublin enterprises failed to do a much larger business than is usual for Saturday. The large number of confidence men, gamblers and fakers that are usually a part of these big shows were conspicuoulsy absent and very little trouble was reported by the police in maintaining perfect order.

We have received a letter from Fred McAnnally written from Stephenville relative to his recent arrest, in which he calls attention to some inaccurancies in the news item regarding that event. The errors are so trivial and unimportant that they are hardly worth mentioning as one of them is as to the time of arrest and the other is as to the place of arrest, but it is refreshing to note that the young man's communication displays a regret at the necessity for the matter ever occurring at all. The Progress deplores these troubles as much as anyone and regrets to have to chronicle them in the general course of gathering news. Whatever the outcome of the trial it is to be hoped that this young man, as well as many others we might mention, will so guard their association and frame their conduct as yet to become useful and honored citizens.

Prof. W. A. Davis, formerly of Proctor, has purchased the Cameron Inquirer and assumed editorial charge of the paper. His salutatory in last week's issue of the paper, among other sensible expressions says: "It shall be our endeavor to publish a live local paper, giving all the news that concerns the people of Milam county, rather than theorizing on what ought and ought not to be. The Inquirer will not be a censor in any sense. Those who look to its columns expecting to find other folk's shortcomings paraded in the public eye will be disappointed. We have too many faults of our own to meddle with those charged up to other people." We hope Mr. Davis many have abundant success.

"Corn thrown into a well bred pig is cash. The hog is a patented machine fully capable of taking care of all raw material set before it. It is self-regulating and self-oiling, never gives out and is perfectly reliable. The machine can take ten bushels of corn and put them into the room that one bushel will require. Take a good hog and fill him with corn and fatten him. Seven pounds of corn will make one pound of fat, and that pound worth many times seven pounds of corn. The hog is a condenser of freight rates. Ship him to England and the freight on him would be much less than on the corn that it took to fatten him, and he will bring several times the amount of money."

A recent issue of the Abilene Reporter contains an interesting editorial demonstrating conclusively the profits a west Texas farmer can make by raising hogs. Major F. W. Girand sold twelve hogs for $102.56, that he had fattened on milo maze and kaffir corn, which yielded him a handsome return on his labor and investment. Major Girand kept his hogs on Johnson grass and skimmed milk, saved from the cream and butter sold during the summer, up to the time of fattening them for the market. Every west Texas farmer should raise enough hogs to provide enough meat for his family and a surplus to market to bring in money for living expenses.

While at Dallas this week the Progress editor met W. B. Davis and his son Deck. They are doing a flourishing business in the mercantile line there. He also saw at a distance two old time Dublinites in the persons of Joe Turner, who many years ago clerked for F. C. Oldham's general merchandising store and H. Berman, who was employed with J. Z. Miller.

Mr. Sensabaugh is a young business man of much attainment and holds the responsible position of manager of the cotton oil mill at this place to which his industry has promoted him. The bride was one of Stephenville's fairest and most accomplished young ladies and a daughter of one of the pioneer families there. The Progress extends congratulations and best wishes to the young couple.

More About the Frisco Extension.

A surveying party from the Mexican Central recently left Eagle Pass, going down the river to a point opposite Elpan, about thirty miles north of Laredo, whence a preliminary line will be run on behalf of the Frisco to San Antonio. A line has already been run by the Central from Saltillo to Elpan.—Texas Trade Journal.

From the above it is evident that the Frisco does not intend stopping at Brady nor even at San Antonio, but will push on into Mexico. From Brownwood to Elpan by way of San Antonio is not the most direct route, but it leads through the richest portion of Southwest Texas. Before many months pass we will be on the main line from St. Louis, not only to San Antonio but to Saltillo in old Mexico. The Frisco is at present building more new lines than any system in the United States and the day is not far distant when it will be the largest railroad system in the great Southwest.—Brownwood News.

PREVENTED A CLASH.

Federal Troops Seat Green McCurtain as Governor of Choctaws.

Washington, Oct. 14.—A serious conflict between partisans of rival candidates for the governorship of the Choctaw nation in the Indian Territory has been averted by the presence of federal troops.

Governor Dukes, the outgoing governor, who is said to be a partisan of Hunter, one of the candidates, took charge of the capitol building, assisted by armed horsemen, and, according to Indian Agent Shoenfelt, arbitrarily permitted persons to enter and sit as members of the Choctaw council upon commissions issued by himself, and refused to admit members having certificates from regularly constituted authorities. Agent Shoenfelt appealed to Washington for the troops. Upon their arrival the Choctaw council was permitted to enter the building and resume its sessions.

The official dispatches received show that the vote of the council for the office of principal chief (governor) was counted Saturday. Green McCurtain had a majority of 689, and was duly sworn in. Agent Shoenfelt wires that the presence of the troops prevented a clash between the contending factions, and that he now anticipates no further trouble. All the armed men in the Choctaw capitol grounds have been disarmed. Governor Dukes made a determined fight.

Church Struck by Lightning.

Beaumont, Tex., Oct. 14.—The most serious catastrophe during Monday's storm occurred when the spire of the negro Methodist church on Wall street was struck by lightning. The funeral of a negro named Claude Bullock was just being brought to a close when lightning struck the spire. Gus Brown of Algiers, La., who was standing just inside the church door and directly under the switch that controls the electric current for lighting the church, was instantly killed, the heavy current of lightning coming down the wall against which he was leaning. Captain Adams, a wealthy negro of this city, was severely shocked and may not recover. Isaac White, Mack McCoy and Anderson Perkins were also severely shocked.

Died from Result of a Fall.

Longview, Tex., Oct. 14.—T. G. Aiken, one of the oldest residents of Longview, died here Sunday afternoon as the result of a fall from the front gallary of his home. He had been sick some time, and, weak and nervous, walked out on the porch, where he lost his balance and fell to the ground, injuring himself to such an extent as to cause death in about an hour after the accident.

Mr. Aiken's grandson, son of J. M. Stephens, a merchant of this place, died very shortly after his grandfather's death, of congestion.

Counterfeit Money in Manila.

Manila, Oct. 13.—Counterfeit American silver dollars are being made in China and circulated here extensively. The suspicion is held that some of this money was shipped from San Francisco. The dollars are of silver and of standard weight. They have been detected through the improper stamping of the word "Liberty" on the goddess. The low price of silver ensured the makers of this counterfeit money a profit of 100 per cent. American silver circulates as gold in the Philippines.

Steamer Lockwood Foundered.

Ashtabula, O., Oct. 14.—The steamer C. B. Lockwood foundered in a storm about fifteen miles off this port late Monday night. The captain and crew succeeded in launching two boats just before the steamer went down. One of the boats ,containing the crew, was picked up near the harbor, but the other boat has not yet been heard from. Tugs and life savers are searching for the missing boat which contained ten members of the crew.

Troops Leave New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 14.—Orders have been issued dismissing the state troops who have been on duty since the strike situation became acute. The railway company is gradually increasing the service. The law which separates the races in street cars went into effect Monday and the company is making crude efforts to carry out the law.

Venezuelan Capital Moved.

AGAINST THE LIGHT.

Case Brought for Libel by Walker Reversed and Remanded.

Austin, Oct. 15.—The court of civil appeals has reversed and remanded the libel case of George H. Walker, manager of the Hancock opera house, vs. The San Antonio Light Publishing company et al. from Travis. The Light published an alleged libelous article reproduced from a New York paper, and Walker lost the case in the lower court on account of sustaining a general demurrer. The case was tried under the act of the Twenty-seventh legislature defining libel, and carried to the court of civil appeals, which held it is a libel to publish anything that brings a person into public ridicule, even though no financial loss is sustained, it is libel per se and the amount of damages to be determined by a jury.

DENIES REPORT.

President Palma Says Cuba Is Not Displaying Ingratitude.

Havana, Oct. 15.—President Palma denies in emphatic terms the report that Cubans are displaying ingratitude toward the United States or that they are now indifferent to the outcome of the reciprocity question.

"We have always been grateful to the United States," he is quoted as having said, "and this feeling the Cubans will never change. It is also our desire to have the closest commercial and political relations, principally commercial, with the United States. The cabinet and I are now engaged in consideration of this treaty and probably will come to a decision by the end of the week."

It is learned there is objections to some of the provisions of the treaty, but there is no idea of rejecting it, as has been suggested.

COMMANDER IN CHIEF STEWART.

No Such Influence Abroad.

London, Oct. 15.—English moralists are staggered by the tremendous simplicity of the negotiations for bringing the coal strike to a close. Neither sovereign nor prime minister here could have intervened in an industrial crisis as the president has done, nor is there any English financier capable of playing Mr. Morgan's part. No labor leader has arisen in England with Mr. Mitchell's influence over the workers. The strike, if settled by arbitration, will be a fresh proof, according to English observers, that Americans have the power of keeping their heads while walking on the verge of a precipice.

Destroyed by a Tidal Wave.

Yumotto Kodzu, Oct. 15.—The Odawara railroad line was completely paralyzed by a tidal wave. Whole sections were lifted bodily, sleepers and rails, and transported hundreds of yards inland. At the powerhouse the dynamo was reported still there, but the house was supposed to be "up the mountain somewhere."

Both Sides to Blame.

Austin, Oct. 15.—General Scurry has returned from Laredo, where he has been with state rangers to protect the property of the Texas-Mexican road on account of the strike. He says the whole thing has been settled. He believes both sides were at fault, and the firemen were led in the strike by citizens of Laredo.

Disastrous Typhoon.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 15.—A terribly typhoon has spread disaster all over the northern part of Japan. It was accompanied by seismic tidal waves at Odawana, which deluged the coast villages, the loss of life and property being immense.

HAD TO BE REMOVED

ON HIS WAY TO RUSK

Sherveport, Oct. 15.—A crowd began gathering around the parish prison, in which Buchanan was held Tuesday night. There was no demonstration, but Sheriff Spradley, in order to be on the safe side, spirited the negro away from the jail in a cab, conveyed him to a railroad junction near here and placed him aboard a westbound Texas and Pacific train, and he is now on his way to Rusk to be placed in the penitentiary there. The prisoner is in chareg of Deputy Sheriff Matthews and Constable Borders, Sheriff Spradley returning to Nacogdoches.

Sheriff John Spradley of Nacogdoches county, Texas, who placed in the parish jail of Caddo, in this city, James Buchanan, self confessed murderer of the Hicks family, for whom a mob variously estimated at from 2000 to 5000 have been looking for two days, had an exciting experience with his prisoner. In order to elude the mob, the sheriff's posse were compelled to resort to all sorts of subterfuges, and during their journey to this city two of them compelled a mob of twenty-five to lay down their arms.

Buchanan was captured in a swamp near Nacogdoches. He fled to the swamp after his terrible deed. Sheriff Spradley ran upon the negro accidentally, and pointing his shotgun at him ordered him to throw down his weapons. This the negro promptly did, and was taken into custody. The sheriff summoned his companions, and then began the weary march to Shreveport. Mobs had gathered at Tenaha, Appleby, Nacogdoches and other places, and to throw the mob at Nacogdoches off the scent, the sheriff sent the negro ahead with Deputy Matthews, while he himself took a train with his other companions. Matthews was instructed to watch for the up train and light a match when he saw it, it being dark. This was to be the signal for the negro being placed aboard the train.

This plan miscarried, however, as a mob saw Matthews and he was compelled to take to the woods with his prisoner. Meanwhile the crowd, believing the negro to be with Sheriff Spradley, was after that official. At Appleby the trains passed, and Spradley and his men got aboard the down train as a ruse. The crowd immediately swarmed aboard and Spradley and his men slipped on the up train and were greatly relieved when they met Matthews and his prisoner at Logansport, La. The man was brought to Shreveport in safety.

EXCITEMENT SUSIDED.

Buchanan Will Be Tried Next Week and Citizens Guarantee Protection.

Nacogdoches, Tex., Oct. 15.—Excitement has subsided here. The grand jury has indicted Jim Buchanan, the selfconfessed murderer of the Hick's family on three counts, murder and rape. Judge Davis fixed the case for trial here next Tuesday, when the negro will be brought back.

Five hundred citizens of the county guarantee him a fair trial and protection. The consensus of opinion, however, is that military or state rangers must accompany him for protection from mob violence. One of the mob leaders stated that had the negro been brought here by the sheriff that he would have been roasted to death. Plans laid for digging a pit in the public square, building a fire in it and spreading rails across, chaining the negro to the human broiler and barbucue him. Large numbers of extremists here still favor this method of treating the negro if he is ever brought here for trial.

Clubbed and Then Robbed.

Justin, Tex., Oct. 15.—A stranger was found Tuesday by the side of the railroad track on the south of the yards at this place. He had evidently been hit on the head with some blunt instrument. From all that could be found out about him in his semi-conscious condition, and from papers found on him, his name is John Duffy, and he has recently lived at Crandall, Tex., and in Harrison county. His original home was Kansas City, and by trade he is a butcher. He was on the Ringling Bros. show train going north and must have been knocked in the head. He claims to have been robbed of $25.

Fight at a Football Game.

Omaha, Oct. 15.—In a football game here between the University of South Dakota and the Omaha Medical College, a fight occurred in which Capt. Newcomb had a shoulder-lade fracfractured, Thompson had a rib broken, and Novotny, Jung and Eby were forced out of the game by more or less severe injuries. All the injured men belonged to the visiting team. Umpire Whittemore of Brown College also received a blow in the jaw which came near putting him out of the game.

Barquist Killed on Midland.

Terrell, Tex., Oct. 15.—John Berquist, in charge of the pumping station on the Midland railroad at Rosser, was run over by a train there and killed. He was a Swede fifty years old.

Shakespeare and Moliere.

The father of each was in trade and apparently destined his son to follow his occupation. The early education of both was neglected, and we know nothing in their after training that conferred on them their perfect knowledge of good breeding and distinguished manners. Neither of them was happily married. Each became manager, author, actor. Each produced a considerable number of authenticated dramatic works. Each was careless about publishing his works, or, rather, objected to do so lest they should be acted by rival dramatic companies. Plays of each were collected by actors and first published in a complete form after the death of the authors.

Each touched up or produced plays that are lost or of doubtful origin. Each disregarded novelty of plot, borrowing from various sources. Each disliked his profession. The personal character of each was gentle, kind, generous. Each had a profound knowledge of human nature. Each preferred the idea or matter to the comparative disregard of the manner. Each had a remarkable fecundity and fertility of production. Each died at the age of fifty-two.

The Weather Man's Perquisites.

"I have just served sixteen subpœnas on Uncle Sam's weather man," said a process server at the county courthouse the other day, "and handed him sixteen half dollars to legalize the command that he appear to give evidence in that many cases and $16 to enforce the direction that he bring the weather records along.

"Do you know, he is much in demand as a witness? There are hundreds of cases, especially in the accident and negligence actions in the city court, in which it is necessary to prove what was the state of the weather at the time of the accident, and obviously the man to give that information to the jury is the observer of the local weather station, for he has the records made at the time to show indisputably whether it was raining or whether the sun was shining.

"Sometimes this duty keeps the weather man on the jump. I have known him to give testimony in six or eight cases in a day and to earn witness fees far in excess of his salary. I presume these fees are his perquisites, and I know that the lump sum in a year is a handsome amount."—New York Times.

The Plymouth Rock.

A schoolteacher in one of the charming rural suburbs of Philadelphia, where fancy gardening and the raising of "Philadelphia fowl" are general among the residents, recited to the class the story of the landing of the pilgrims, and, as the children had been taking up the work, she requested each scholar to try to draw from the imagination a picture of the Plymouth rock. Then it was that the little fellow got up and raised his hand.

"Well, Willie, what is it?" asked the teacher.

"Please, ma'am, do you want a hen or a rooster drawn?" came the unexpected reply.

Musical Snails.

A French naturalist claims that there are few if any animals which have a higher appreciation of music than snails. Place some snails on a pane of glass, he says, and you will find that as they move over it they will make musical sounds similar to those which a person can produce by wetting his finger and then rubbing it around a glass tumbler. Complete airs, he points out, have been played on tumblers in this way, and he expresses the opinion that quite as good results can be obtained by using snails instead of fingers.

Our Republic.

The American republic must live. Popular commotion and partisan fury may dash their mad waves against it, but they shall roll back shattered, spent. Persecution shall not shake it, fanaticism distort it nor revolution change it, but it shall stand towering sublime, like the last mountain in the deluge, while the earth rocks at its feet and the thunders peal above its head—majestic, immutable, magnificent.—Wendell Phillips.

A Tale of Heroism.

"I went for a bath yesterday," said an Auvergnat. "I had been in the water some time when I suddenly perceived an enormous shark advancing toward me with its jaws open. What was I to do? When he was a yard off, I dived, took out my pocketknife and ripped up the belly of the monster."

"What! Then you are in the habit of bathing with your clothes on," said one of the listeners.—From the French.

Spot Appropriate to Speech.

"Ah, darling," he exclaimed, "as we sit together under the spreading branches of this noble tree I do declare on my honor that you are the only girl I have ever loved."

"You always say such appropriate things, John; this is a chestnut tree."—Baltimore News.

AGREE TO ARBITRATE

Operaters Formulate Their Terms to End the Strike.

DICTATE ARBITERS

While They Do Not Name the Commission They Designate Certain Men to Be Selected—Mitchell Refuses to Say Anything.

Washington, Oct. 14.—By authority of J. Pierpont Morgan, who, with his partner, Robert Bacon, and Secretary Root, was in conference with President Roosevelt at the temporary White House Monday night for an hour and a half, a statement was given out by Secretary Cortelyou, in which the presidents of the coal carrying railroads and the mine operators propose a commission of five persons to adjust the difference and settle the coal strike in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania.

The proposition is believed by the administration to be satisfactory to the miners, as it covers the proposition made by President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers union with additional conditions, which it is thought the miners will accept. The statement in substance is as follows:

The coal operators have agreed to the appointment of a commission to be appointed by the president of the United States, to whom shall be referred all questions at issue between the companies and their own employes, whether they belong to a union or not, and the decision of the commission shall be accepted by the operators. The commission is to consist of an army or navy engineer officer, an expert mining engineer not connected with the coal mining properties, one of the judges of the United States court of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania, a man of prominence as a sociologist, and a man who by active participation in mining and selling coal is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business. The operators also make a part of their proposition that the miners shall return to work as soon as the commission is constituted and to cease all interference with non-union men. The commission is to name a date when its findings shall be effective and to govern conditions of employment between the companies and their own employes for at least three years.

While no official statement was made at the White House after the operators' offer was made public, the opinion was expressed that the way is now open for a complete settlement of the strike and that the mines would soon be in operation once more.

The issuance of the statement followed a conference at the White House which assembled very quickly after Mr. Morgan and his partner, Robert Bacon, had reached Washington on a flying trip from New York. Mr. Bacon arrived in Washington about 10 o'clock at night in a special car over the Baltimore and Ohio and drove at once to the hotel Arlington. There they met Secretary Root and the three gentlemen walked over to the White House and were shown at once to the president's room. They remained there until ten minutes of 12 o'clock and then came down stairs.

The proposition of the coal operators was a result of the visit of Secretary Root to New York and his conference with Mr. Morgan on Saturday. Mr. Morgan at that time expressed a keen interest in the situation and a desire to bring about an adjustment if possible. Following this talk with Secretary Root there was a conference in New York Monday at which the proposition of the coal operators was agreed to and Mr. Morgan was delegated to bring it to the president in the belief that such would be the courteous course of the best way of promulgating the offer of a settlement.

The next move will be the presentation of the matter to the miners, and it is believed President Mitchell will be invited to Washington to consult the president. It is believed here he will at once accept the proposition.

Refuse to Make Comment.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 15.—President Mitchell, when shown a synopsis of the statement issued from the White House in which the operators agree to arbitrate refused to make any comment.

Using Sidewalks for Fuel.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The prohibitive price of coal has resulted in raids being made on sidewalks and paving blocks in several sections of the city, and the police have been asked to stop the demolition. Three arrests so far have been made.

Presbyterian Revised Creed.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The report of a special committee appointed by the Presbyterian general assembly to revise the creed which was adopted by that body some time back has been indored and ratified by members of the Chicago Presbytery.

Proposed Cessation Pending Peace.

Port au Prince, Oct. 14.—Acting in the initiative of the United States, Minister Powell of the diplomatic corps here, has proposed a cessation of hostilities in order to arrange preliminaries for peace between the revolutionists and the provisional government.

Bomb Kills a Boy.

New York, Oct. 14.—By the bursting of a bomb a boy was instantly killed and three persons were seriously injured. The action grew out of the celebration of the feast of St. Sebastian which took place in the Italian colony in the Bronx. Where the bomb came from seems a mystery.

Miss Ida M. Snyder,
Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club.

"If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would observe results they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for.

"In consulting with my druggist he advised McElree's Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health and it only took three months to cure me."

Wine of Cardui is a regulator of the menstrual functions and is a most astonishing tonic for women. It cures scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irregular and painful menstruation, falling of the womb, whites and flooding. It is helpful when approaching womanhood, during pregnancy, after childbirth and in change of life. It frequently brings a dear baby to homes that have been barren for years. All druggists have $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription changed hands in San Francisco, August 30th, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases.

They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by personally seeing over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the 150 cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address JOHN J. Beautiful Complexions

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at Overton Drug Co.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Tex., "billiousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost too worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work.' They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, rundown people. Try them. Only 50c at Overton Drug Co.

"It Goes Right to the Spot"

When pain or irritatiom exists on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment will give prompt relief. "It goes right to the spot," said an old man who was rubbing it in, to cure his rheumatism. C. R. Smith, Propr. Smith House, Tenaha, Tex., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for several years and have found it to be a fine remedy, for all aches and pains, and I recommend it for pains in the throat and chest." 25c, 50c and $1, at Overton Drug Co.

Alcohol is now used in France and Germany in lamps. The spirits are vaporized and burnt beneath a Welsbach mantle, thus producing a clear and brilliant light.

Frost Statistics.

Early frosts in the north-central and western states at an unusually early date, together with cold waves here exceptionally early have not unnaturally caused some apprehension among our people of early frost here, which with so much late cotton might be a real disaster. It is not strange that the people should discuss the question of possible early frost under the circumstances, so we herewith present some statistics kindly furnished by Capt. G. W. Eddey, weather bureau observer at Abilene:

The most incompetent people are those who waste time in criticising the order of nature. The doers accept conditions and turn them to account.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill of Troy, I. T., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with digestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals; it digests what you eat. —Overton Drug Co.

Great Britain is trying to emphasize the fact that men without capital are not wanted in South Africa. There is an abundance of penniless labor now and no immigrant will be admitted unless he can show possession of at least five hundred dollars.

Look Out For Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with De Witt's Little Early Risers. Those famous little pills do not gripe, they move the bowels gently but copiously and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands —Overton Drug Co.

The high price of meat is due, in part, to the extensive drouth of a year ago. The public will watch with interest the attempt which is being made to utilize the waste lands of Florida for the pasturing of beef herds. There are neither droughts nor blizzards in that section.

Grove's Black Root Liver Pills.

Made from an active principle obtained from Black Root. They act on the liver equal to calomel and leave no bad after effects. No griping, no sick stomach. Will cure chronic constipation. Price 25 cents.

Mothers

Who would keep their children in good health, should watch for the first symptoms of worms, and remove them with White's Cream Vermifuge. It is the childrens best tonic. It gets digestion at work so that their food does them good, and they grow up healthy and strong. 25c at Overton Drug Co.

The Czar is turning his attention to improved methods of agriculture. Considering the fact that Siberia alone contains land enough to make the entire United States, with an area equal to California and Oregon left over, there seems little liklihood that the time when the

The president of the United States has, in a way, called upon the mine operators and on the working miners to cease their strife and give the people coal. His appeal was to patriotism, to enlightened self-interest and to the feeling of humanity. The result so far is merely nothing. There are truth and rights on both sides of the controversy, but there is a higher truth and a higher right over and above the contentions of the miners and their employes. In every age, in every clime, in every country, when conditions are too hard upon the people, the people demand a change. The answer is always made that under the law nothing can be done. Then, and not till then, the fundamental law is changed. It will be changed here. The people will not forever be at the mercy of combinations of capital or of labor. If private ownership of public necessities and public utilities proves harmful to the people at large, public ownership will be tried. To make these changes does not mean socialism, anarchy or revolution. We have the right and the tools with which to control our own destinies and it is our duty to use them.

A Typical South African Store.

O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by Overton Drug Co.

Dr. Johnson used to say he loved a good hater. This remark has been misused more times than it has been properly applied. A good hater is not an indiscriminate hater; a human wild-cat is not, nor is a loon or a screech owl; but the trusty old watch dog who guards your house day and night, who romps with the children and takes long rambles with you on Sunday, is a very good hater of everything he believes to be inimical to your interests. Good haters are such because they know what to hate, they are also affectionate, steadfast, lovable friends. Good haters are worth cherishing; great haters, however, ought to be caged.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Henderson Grimett, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDonald, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by Overton Drug Co.

Uncle Sam has two bad boys who are engaged in a fight to a finish. They are hurting the by-standers and when he asked them to stop they insolently told him it was none of his business. Your Uncle Samuel is taking off his slipper and we hope the trusts of capital and labor will get all that is coming to them.

Goes Like Hot Cakes.

"The fastest selling article I have in my store," writes druggist C. T. Smith of Davis, Ky., "is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, because it always cures. In my six years of sales it has never failed. I have known it to save sufferers from lung and throat diseases, who could get no help from doctors or any other remedy." Mothers rely on it, best physicians prescribe it, and Overton Drug Co. guarantee satisfaction or refund price. Trial bottles free. Reg. sizes, 50c and $1.

The coal barons call for law. They declare the miners union is illegal. Do they forget that their combination to control the price of anthracite is illegal under the common law and by statute?

Forty Years Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Haney, Geneva, O. He says: "De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40

CURES
THE KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is the enemy we have most to fear as a result of the feverish haste of modern civilization. It is a treacherous enemy working out its deadly effect under cover of such trifling symptoms as headache, slight but persistent backache, dizziness, heart-throbbing, weak digestion, constipation, frequent or diminished passage of urine, scalding urine, sediment in urine.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

is a kidney medicine of the greatest merit. Its action is healing and strengthening, quickly relieves aching or soreness in the back, checks wasting or decay of the kidneys, corrects the flow of urine and through its excellent cleansing and regulating effect in the stomach, liver and bowels it speedily restores the strength and ruddy glow of vigorous health.

Grand Cut Price Sale Continues.

Monday of next week, the day following, and each subsequent day the remainder of the year, between the hours of 6 a. m. and 10 p. m. Mistrot Bros. & Co. will have on sale the most complete assortment of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes and Millinery ever shown in Dublin at prices 25 to 50 per cent lower than ever offered by any other store in this city. We have no "baits" in the way of one-line reductions between specified hours, with limited quantities to each customer, but you can buy any quantity desired from one to a thousand yards any hour in the day, any day in the week or any week in the year. For instance we sell regularly good outing flannel which other merchants price at 6 1-2c at 4c; regular 8 1-3c outing at 5c; regular 8 1-3c and 10c cotton flannels at 6 1-2c; good bleached domestic, regular 6 1-2c and 7c goods, at 4c; regular 8 1-2 domestic at 5c; good standard brand calicoes at 3c. We don't claim to lose money at these prices. And like reductions will be found to exist throughout the entire stock. We invite the closest investigation of our goods and prices, feeling assured that after you have seen our goods and compared our prices with those offered elsewhere, your verdict will be that there is only one real bargain store in Dublin and that is the Low Price, Spot Cash House of
