AWAY TO JAIL For Contempt of Congress—Edward K. Barsky (left, light suit, hat in hand) and other leaders of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee committee, file into a van outside district court in Washington on their way to jail. They were ordered to serve sentences for contempt of Congress, but protested they are victims of an American effort to bolster fascist Spain as part of the cold war. Following Barsky is novelist Howard Fast (striped suit, glasses), a member of the group. Their attorney, O. John Rogge (upper right) waves goodbye. Passersby (top) watch them leave. Reds in Japanese Diet Fight Back at MacArthur

TOKYO, June 8. (AP)—The diet's remaining 33 Communists today defiantly declared war on "conspiracies" to outlaw the Japanese Red Party.

It was the first word from them since Gen. MacArthur purged 41 Communist leaders from Japanese political life. Eight of those removed were members of parliament.

The Red 33 still in parliament pledged to fight the "colonization, military bases and war preparations policies" of the pro-occupation government.

MINORITY

So far the occupation and the government have left the 33 diet members alone. They are a minority in an assembly of 716 members.

But there was a vague hint of another purge. From Osaka the Newspaper Chubu Nippon reported one of Japan's assistant attorney generals said "the third purge of the Communist Party will begin late this week."

The Communist diet members issued their "fight" statement after choosing Writer Karoku Hosokawa to lead them in future diet sessions. He replaces purged Sanzo Nozaka, generally regarded as the brains of the Japan Communist Party.

The Reds did not mention MacArthur. But they did refer to the purge he started two days ago by banning 24 members of the party's politburo and yesterday outlawing 17 reputed policy makers of the flamboyant newspaper, Akahata, party organ.

DEFIANT TONE

Party members thus far have made no overt moves in protest to MacArthur's house cleaning. But Akahata kept up a defiant tone.

The newspaper continued to threaten a general strike "in defense of the Communist Party." It announced a protest mass meeting in Kyoto next Tuesday.

A. E. Dennis To Drill Well On His Own Land

A. E. Dennis of Snyder has staked a Canyon exploration on his own land seven miles northwest of Snyder and in an undeveloped area between the Esperado Mining Co. No. 1 McDonnell and the field wells on the Kelley-Snyder pool.

Dennis No. 1 Dennis will be 467 feet from north and east lines of section 255, block 97, H&TC survey. Slated depth is 7,000 feet. Operations are to begin immediately.

The project is three-quarters of a mile east of Esperado's recent extension to the Kelley-Snyder field and about the same distance west of drilling wells in the northwest portion of the Kelley-Snyder.

MITCHELL COUNTY

J. W. Murchison No. 1 Womack, Northwest Mitchell County wildcat about 18 miles southwest of Snyder and three miles south of the 1-well Dunn-Canyon field, has found some shows of oil and gas in the top of the Ellenburger and is running a drillstem test.

This prospector entered the Ellenburger at 8,271 feet on a datum of minus 5,999 feet. When the bit reached 8,338 feet the drilling mud began to kick out at the top of the drill pipe.

That mud was cut with oil and gas. Operator closed the blowout preventer and came out with the

Fight For Oil Import Tax Carried to Other Groups

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — Following a setback in the House Ways and Means Committee, coal and independent oil producers pressed their fight before two other congressional groups today for restrictions on oil imports.

Despite the claim that fuel oil imports are causing rising unemployment in domestic industries, the ways and means committee yesterday turned down a proposal to raise the oil tariff from the present 10 1-2 cents a barrel to 84 cents.

TRUMAN OPPOSITION

Although backers of the proposal insisted that it would have brought in an additional $175 million a year in revenue, the administration has opposed it on grounds that it would hurt the reciprocal trade program.

House and Senate labor subcommittees are looking into the entire problem, spurred by protests from railroads, coal producers, independent oil producers and other mining industries that they are being damaged by competition from foreign oil.

Chairman Neely (D-WVa) of the Senate group said yesterday he agrees with that view. If the administration won't take remedial steps, he said, Congress must.

TRUMAN POWER

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa) told the senators President Truman has power either to place foreign oil under a quota system or to raise the tariff.

Nearly 18,000 soft coal miners have lost their jobs and at least 177 mines have been abandoned since 1949, Van Zandt said; adding that this "can be mostly charged to the government's policy of permitting the importation of cheap foreign oil.

Franklin's Opens Shop on Square

Franklin's new dress shop on the north side of the square, will hold its grand opening Friday and Saturday.

Doors will open at 8:30 Friday morning, and all comers will receive orchids. One thousand orchids have been ordered for the occasion, J. O'Meara, district supervisor from Dallas, said this morning.

The opening will also be marked by a 15-minute broadcast from the store over station KSNY.

Virginia Homer, who comes to Snyder from San Angelo, will manage the local store. She has been with the company for several years, Miss O'Meara said.

The new store has a modern glass front, with an island window. The interior is done in soft shades of gray, green and pink.

Merchandise will include coats, suits, dresses, hosiery, bags, lingerie and sports wear.

Eden's Divorce, Awarded Today, May End Career

LONDON, June 8. (AP) — Former Foreign Minister Anthony Eden won a divorce decree today by testifying that his attractive brunette wife deserted him in 1947 to live in America.

Eden, whose political ambitions as deputy conservative leader may be jeopardized by divorce in straitlaced Britain, was granted a decree nisi in a five-minute hearing before Justice Francis Hodson.

The dapper, greying Eden—still handsome at 53—told the court in a firm voice that his wife insisted on visiting the United States in 1946, that he accompanied her there and that she then refused to return to her native Britain.

Mrs. Eden, who has spent most of her time since 1946 in the U. S. and Bermuda, was not represented at the hearing. She did not contest the action.

A decree nisi becomes absolute in six weeks under British divorce law, unless there is an objection raised in court.

ONLY WITNESS

Eden, who wore a dark blue suit, was the only witness at the hearing.

Letters from Mrs. Eden were produced in court, but not read. The former foreign secretary refused to comment as he strode quickly from the courtroom after the verdict was announced.

Gossip over the Edens' domestic split has been common in London for many months. But friends of the deputy conservative leader speculated that he would avoid divorce because of the probable effect on his political career. As the recognized deputy to Winston Churchill, Eden was in line for eventual leadership of the conservative party—and the post of prime minister when and if the Tories regain power.

MAY RUIN AMBITIONS

Some observers predicted that his five-minute appearance in divorce court today virtually ended any chances he might have had of ever becoming prime minister.

They recalled that the stamp of divorce, regardless of cause, was practically an unsurmountable barrier to leadership in the British government. No person who has been a party to a divorce suit—severely frowned upon by the Church of England—has ever been prime minister.

Other observers said, however, that Eden's stature in conservative politics might break that unwritten law of British political and social life.

Churchill yesterday made his plainest reference to Eden as his successor. Speaking before a meeting of women conservatives, the former prime minister said Eden would "carry on the torch of conservatism when other and older hands have let it fall."

Most Decorated Veteran Gives His Medals Away

(Associated Press Staff)

HOLLYWOOD, June 8. (AP)—Audie Murphy, "fed up" with being the most decorated soldier of World War II, disclosed today that he has given all his medals away.

"I've been fed up with that 'most decorated' business for a long time," said the soft-spoken young Texan. "I realize that it is an honor, but only because it symbolizes the work done by a lot of other guys, too. But it has never meant much to me."

I asked what has happened to all the medals.

"I gave them away, mostly to kids."

BEST, TOO

Does that include the Congressional Medal of Honor?

"Yes. I forget whom I gave that one to. I think it was one of my nephews."

To understand the unusual gifts you have to know Audie himself. He's not ungrateful for the nation's honors, but he's a modest man with no pretense about his own achievements. He feels deeply the loss of his comrades who didn't come back from the war.

He's equally unassuming about his film career. Although he is playing his fourth leading role, in "Kansas Raiders," he still considers himself more of a farmer than an actor.

HAS HAZARDS

Audie indicated being a hero has its hazards. He discovered that when he went home to Farmersville, Tex., after the war, a local tough who had spent the war at a stateside Army base was using abusive language in a cafe.

"There were ladies in the place and I asked him to leave," Audie recalled. "He made a comment about my medals and started for me, so I let him have it."

Forrestal's Name Linked With Probe of Amerasia

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Senate investigators were reported today to have received secret testimony that the late James V. Forrestal probably advised delaying arrests in the 1945 Amerasia case.

A source in close touch with the Senate inquiry into the secret documents case told a reporter the testimony came from Asst. Atty. Gen. James M. McInerney, chief of the Justice Department's criminal division. The source asked not to be named.

SINCE DEAD

Forrestal was secretary of the Navy at the time the case broke five years ago. Later he became secretary of defense. He was killed last year in a plunge from an upper floor of the naval medical center at nearby Bethesda, Md.

The information about the testimony regarding Forrestal came to light in the wake of still another authoritative report that the committee got testimony yesterday that former Presidential Aide James K. Vardaman may have tried to delay prosecution in the hotly-disputed Amerasia case.

Vardaman emphatically denied it to a reporter last night.

McInerney's testimony was taken by the committee last month at a series of sessions behind closed doors.

ASKS DELAY

An informant said McInerery first told the committee he seemed to recall that Forrestal had asked the Justice Department to delay the arrest of the six persons accused. They were taken into custody by the FBI in June 1945.

Later this informant said, McInerney testified that he had located a note from Justice Department files which indicated that Forrestal did make such a request.

McInerney reportedly was unable to supply a reason for the request. One of the six persons arrested in the case was Andrew Roth, at that time a lieutenant in naval intelligence.

ONE REPORT

The inquiry committee is known to have received reports that the Navy felt the arrests should be delayed pending further investigations as to whether anyone in the Navy Department other than Roth figured in the case.

The Baltimore Sun, in a story from its Washington bureau, said today it has information that Forrestal's reported action may have stemmed from the desire to avoid friction with Russia about this country's trusteeship rights over islands seized from Japan.

It said Forrestal reportedly suggested delaying the Amerasia arrests until after the United Nations conference then going on in San Francisco.

Contract Let For Pan Am Line South from Scurry

Pan American Pipe Line Co. has awarded a contract for the construction of 80 miles of 10 and three-fourths inch trunk line to connect with its 6-inch gathering system in Scurry County.

The contract, along with one for the construction of an 800-horsepower pump station north of Colorado City, was awarded to Brown & Root, Houston.

The trunk line will run south from Scurry County through Mitchell, Sterling and Tom Green Counties into Irion County, where the crude oil will be delivered to the Humble Pipe Line Co. Delivery will be made at Humble's station No. 10 on its Kemper-to-Comyn system and will be transported to the Gulf Coast. The line is scheduled to be in operation by Aug. 15.

Milton Crow of Kilgore has been district superintendent of the West Texas division of Pan American pipe line and will have headquarters in Snyder.

Pan American is now gathering approximately 10,000 barrels of oil daily in Scurry County. Currently the oil is being transported into the Chicago area.

Pan American Production Co., purchaser of the crude handled through the Pan American pipe line system, said it had "further plans for a trunk line to connect with some major pipe line to move the oil to the Gulf Coast where we eventually can use the oil ourselves."

Jabber-Wocky By Kids Drives Parents Crazy

WINCHESTER, Mass., June 8. (AP)—Thabis abis aba sabample abof thabe nabew "AB" labangabuage whabich abis drabivabing pabarabents crabazaby.

The teen-agers in this and several other Boston suburbs are indulging almost exclusively in this jabberwocky. And the grownups—teachers included — are doing dabaffaby (daffy).

Here's how the "langugage" is talked: The syllable "ab" (pronounced "ahb") is inserted before each sounding vowel and before "Y" at the end of a word. In each case the "ab" is accented. Teachers say some of the more proficient youngsters speak it as rapidly as they do English.

If your kids haven't taken it up, don't let 'em read this. They'll go for it and you'll go crabazaby.

Two Speeches Scheduled By Truman on Trip

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—President Truman leaves today for two foreign policy talks in Missouri, after asking the nation's prayers for the wisdom to "obtain peace in the world."

"Never in the history of the country has a servant of the people—and that is what the President is—needed your support and your prayers as does the present occupant of the White House," Mr. Truman told a church gathering here yesterday.

SOLEMN SPEECH

In solemn words he related something of his feelings at this time of his country's "tremendous possibilities," in the cold war.

No man, he said, no matter "how great or how informed he may be" is capable of filling the presidency in the manner "in which it ought to be done." He called it "the greatest job in the world."

Mr. Truman takes off at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the "Independence" for St. Louis. He cancelled his usual Thursday news conference to work at his desk until departure time.

He speaks first at the University of Missouri at Columbia at 11:15 o'clock tomorrow morning at commencement exercises. He will be awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws and a Phi Beta Kappa key.

His other prepared address on foreign policy will be delivered Saturday at 3 o'clock in St. Louis at the dedication of Jefferson Park.

All of his visit to Missouri, however, will not strike the solemn note of his two main speeches.

Even his own staff doesn't know how many "off-the-cuff" talks he will make in a round of social affairs in connection with the annual reunion of the 35th Division in St. Louis before he returns to Washington early Saturday night.

Three Dead, Four Missing In North Sea Plane Crash

LONDON, June 8. (AP) — A United States B-29 bomber with a crew of 11 plunged into the North Sea in flames last night. After almost 24 hours of searching over the cold waters authorities reported three known dead and four missing.

Four men were picked up alive from the craft, which crashed off the Norfolk coast of Southeast England with one engine in flames.

The search continued for the four missing men, but there was growing belief that none would be found alive.

An RAF rescue launch reported late today recovery of a fifth survivor, but headquarters of the U. S. Air Force Third Division said later the man was dead. Another body—the third accounted for—was picked up by the British launch.

The survivors were Capt. Henry J. Walsh, Alton, Ill., the plane's commander; Staff Sgt. Charles F. Allen, Berry, N. H.; Staff Sgt. Warren J. Ebert, Minneapolis, Minn.; Lt. Sullivan (Full name and address not yet available).

Headquarters did not release the names of the missing or dead.

The Air Force said the plane, abandoned when one of its four engines caught fire during a training flight, was from the 72nd Reconnaissance Squadron at Fairfield-Suisun Air Base, Fairfield, Calif. It was in Britain on a training mission.

SAVED AT ONCE

Walsh and Ebert, in a rubber dinghy, were pulled from the sea almost immediately by the British Trawler Warren, which at the same time recovered the dead airman.

Allen and the fourth survivor were rescued early today by combined British - American search forces after the airmen had floated for more than 13 hours in Mae West life jackets.

Skipper J. W. Bridge of the Warren said neither Walsh nor Ebert gave details of the accident. Attached to their rubber dinghy, he said, was a second dinghy containing the body of a lieutenant.

Grassing of New Stadium Begins

Work on the turf of the new football stadium was near completion this week, according to M. E. Stanfield, superintendent of schools. The gridiron is located southwest of Snyder near the Highland Park addition.

The grading of the field is complete and seeds were planted early last week, Stanfield said. Bleachers and fence will be moved from the old field. In addition to the old bleachers, seats will be constructed to accommodate 4,000 spectators.

The field will be ready for use September 1, construction officials said. The Snyder Tigers have their first home game here September 8.

Girl Scout Council To Discuss Plans For Camp Tonight

Plans for a day camp to be held in July will be discussed when the Snyder Girl Scout council holds a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the Methodist Church.

In announcing the meeting, Nolan von Roeder, chairman, asked that every member of the council make a special effort to be present, as heretofore attendance has been so poor that it was impossible to complete plans for the camp.

It has been previously decided that the camp will be held at the Von Roeder orchard in Borden County, but plans are still indefinite.

Mrs. Roosevelt On Way to Stockholm

Mrs. Roosevelt, who is accompanied by her son Elliot and his two children, unveiled a statue of the late President Roosevelt yesterday at a ceremony attended by King Haaken and 20,000 Norwegians.

Hermleigh Water Pump Fails, New One Is Ordered

Hermleigh was almost without water again this morning because of improper functioning of some of the city's four obsolete well pumps. An order has been placed for a new pump which is believed to be the present solution of the water problem.

The Rev. Bob Creswell, mayor, said the new pump was ordered following a vote of the city council to buy it to replace one of the four obsolete pumps now in use.

The new pump will be used only temporarily while a new well is being drilled, which will furnish an abundant supply of water. When the new well is completed, the four old wells—or at least three of them—will be abandoned, Mr. Creswell said.

The temporary pump will be a sucker-rod type, similar to those already in use, but the new well will be equipped with a turbine pump with a capacity greater than the combined capacity of the four present pumps, Mr. Creswell said.

The new well will be drilled near the water tower, which is situated almost in the center of the town. Drilling operations are expected to begin immediately, the mayor said.

Altrurian Daughters Youth Center Aid Up To $700 in Extent

A letter from the Altrurian Daughters Club has been received by members of the Youth Council, informing the council of the club's decision to pledge aid in building and furnishing the Youth Center here.

The letter stated:

Youth Council
Snyder, Texas
Gentlemen:

At a called meeting of the Altruarian Daughters Club, May 31, 1950, it was voted to co-operate with the Youth Council in forming a Youth Center in Snyder.

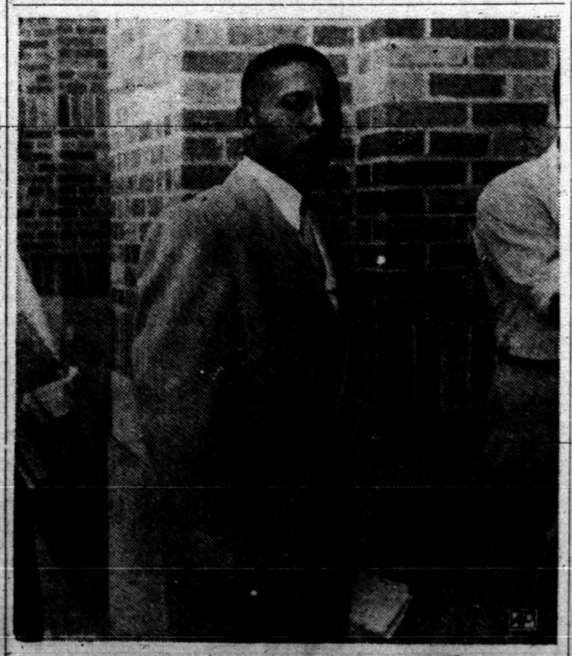

The club also voted to help with the building or furnishings not to exceed the amount of seven hundred dollars ($700.00).

Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, Mrs. Ray Cockrell, and Mrs. Charles Cooper were appointed as a committee to work with the council from this club.

The money was raised by the club members to build a Woman's Club in Snyder, but the club feels the need for a Youth Center is more important at this time.

Yours very truly,
Altrurian Daughters Club
By Mrs. B. L. McKinley, president, and Mrs. D. K. Ratliff, secretary.

The news yesterday erroneously stated in photograph cutlines that the club presented $700 cash by check to the Youth Center fund.

Smokes, Soda Water Keep German Going For 43 Days

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

(Associated Press Staff)

FRANKFURT, Ger., June 8. (AP)—Willy Schmitz is a 48-year-old German who would warm the heart of any boarding house cook.

Nobody has to set the table for Willy. He's been fasting for 43 days now in an effort to set a new world record for going without food.

All Willy gets are four bottles of soda water and a lot of cigarettes each day and he's as pleased as a man with a T-bone steak.

'ARTIST'

Willy, who styles himself as a "hunger artist," is set up in a glass cage in the Frankfurt zoo. He does his fasting under the sharp eyes of Red Cross nurses. A doctor visits him every day and makes a thorough physical examination weekly.

So far Willy has lost 58.5 pounds, and he has 10 more days to do. He wants to set a new record at 53 days, and already claims the existing record.

Willy says he first went on his hunger endurance stunt in 1926 and did without anything but his smokes and soda for 48 days. Then in Luxembourg he did a stretch of 30 days but pulled the big one off in 1949 in Krefeld, Germany. He fasted for 50 days.

How does a man feel who has been going without food in a glass cage for a month?

LEAN TUMMY

Willy patted a stomach as lean as a piece of picnic bacon and smiled wanly.

"I'm a little weak," he said. His manager, Hans Schneider, frowned in concern.

"Willy sleeps very little. But he's in good shape. He's a phenomenon."

The phenomenon moodily pulled on a cigarette and watched a small girl munching a sausage. He looked hungry.

Peak Meat Demand Probably Will Force Prices Upward

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP) — The American appetite for meat is stronger now than at any time since the summer of 1948.

The Agriculture Department in reporting this today said the desire for more meat — particularly beef —is reflected in a heavier demand at the meat counter and in rising prices.

Just after the war, demand for meat was unusually strong relative to consumers' incomes, the agency said. In the summer of 1948, demand rose to a peak. It then weakened, beginning a prolonged decline.

1949 SLOW

In 1949, consumers spent a smaller portion of their incomes for meat than they did before the war.

"The strengthening this spring is the first material increase in demand for meat since the summer of 1948," the department said.

"Nevertheless, the gain in demand is probably no greater than the rise that has occurred in incomes. The retail value of meat consumed is probably remaining slightly below a prewar average relationship to incomes."

The department said it is unlikely that demand for meat will increase much more in the coming months or the next year or two, unless it is stimulated by a further rise in personal incomes.

PRICES UP

Nevertheless, prices of most meats and meat animals are likely to go higher during the summer. They usually advance during that season, inasmuch as it is the period of shortest supplies.

Price increases are likely to be most noticeable in the case of upper grades of beef, the department said.

Market studies were said to show that there is a declining appetite for fat cuts of pork.

King's Birthday List Honors Jan Smuts, Others

LONDON, June 8. (AP) — London sparkled with pomp and pageantry today as King George VI marked his official birthday by creating seven new peers and bestowing honors on distinguished Britons.

Around the world British diplomats and governors entertained at annual king's birthday receptions. Though the monarch actually was born Dec. 14, 1895, the anniversary officially is celebrated today because Britain's June weather is more pleasant.

Within the capital the high spot of the day's ceremonies was the "trooping of the colors," by crack army units dressed in colorful uniforms dating back to the Napoleonic Wars.

Those named by the king to his birthday honors list included political figures, actors, musicians, factory workers, a motorcycle racer and Britain's ace steeplejack.

The steeplejack, Sidney Larkins, last November brought down a policeman's helmet that unidentified pranksters hung atop the 310-foot spire of the house of commons. Today he was awarded the Order of the British Empire for General Competence as an industrial worker during a venturesome career.

TO SOLDIER

To Australia's most distinguished soldier, Gen. Sir. Thomas A. Blamey, went a field marshal's baton. He was the second soldier from outside the United Kingdom to be so honored. South Africa's Jan Christiaan Smuts was the other.

Three of the new barons are Labor Party figures no longer in the house of commons as the result of the last general election. They are Lewis Silkin, former minister of town and country planning, who no Labor Party district organization would accept as a candidate; Lt. Col. Harry Morris, who resigned his seat in favor of Solicitor General Sir Frank Soskice after Soskice's defeat in his own district, and D. R. Rees-Williams, former junior minister defeated in the election.

FELDMAN AND PARDO

A three-quarters of a mile stepout to the Cogdell-Canyon pool in extreme Central-North Scurry County has topped the reef possibly high enough to produce.

Greer-Jackson, Inc. No. 1 Feldman and Pardo topped the Canyon Reef at 7,008 feet on a minus datum of 4,452 feet. It is now bottom at 7,035 feet and electric logs are being run preparatory to making production attempt.

The Greer-Jackson venture is three-quarters of a mile west of the D. D. Feldman of Dallas No. 2 Fuller, nearest producer in the Cogdell field.

This possible extension is 467 feet from south and east line of west half of northwest quarter of section 703, block 97, H&TC survey, and 16 and three-quarter miles north of Snyder.

KENT

Kewanee Oil Co. No. 1-C Will Connell wildcat in southwest Kent County four and one-half miles northwest of the Cogdell-Canyon pool, has topped the Canyon Reef and has developed good shows in the 20 feet of that section so far drilled.

The reef was topped at 6,850 feet on a minus datum of 4,630 feet. From 6,850 to 6,870 feet, present total depth, samples showed good strain, porosity and flourescence.

The venture is 1,989 feet from south and east lines of section 3 block 4, H&GN survey and one and one-half miles northwest of Drilling and Exploration Co., No. 1 Connell, recent San Andres discovery in southwest Kent County area.

Stays With Flaming Plane Until It Gets

ELSINORE, Calif., June 8. (AP)—Capt. Roy C. Gray, Jr., of El Toro Marine Air Base was burned seriously last night as he stayed with his flaming plane long enough to get it away from this city before parachuting.

Police said Gray parachuted from a very low level, perhaps 200 feet. Air Force public relations said the pilot reported the plane—a Corsair fighter—exploded.

A. E. Dennis To Drill Well On His Own Land

Since the later part of last winter the city has frequently been without water for short periods of time, and many times the water pressure has been so low that some of the homes were without water for as long as a day and a half at a time.

The population of Hermleigh has increased approximately 50 per cent since the oil boom, a factor which has contributed noticeably to the insufficiency of the present water system. The present population is estimated at more than 600.

The revamping of the system is one of the first steps in a municipal improvement plan for the town, which was incorporated early this year. Other improvements include a fire department, a city hall building, sewer system, and street lights.

Understanding Professors

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 8. (AP) —The $3,500,000 fire that swept Haven hall on the University of Michigan campus Tuesday destroyed a batch of final exam papers.

But the students won't have to take the exams over. Literary College Dean Hayward Keniston said yesterday final grades will be made by judgment of the professors.

Houston Oilman Wren To Run For Governor

HOUSTON, June 8. (AP) — Houston Oilman J. M. Wren formally announced his candidacy for governor yesterday.

The veteran of 24 years in various oil fields said his campaign was prompted by the decision of W. Lee O'Daniel not to run and the Supreme Court decision against Texas segregation laws.

He said his main campaign issues would be segregation, Communism, the tidelands and "adequate care of our old folk."

Houston Man Gets Death in Slaying

HOUSTON, June 8. (AP) — Albert Edwards, 37, was assessed the death penalty here yesterday by a criminal district court jury in the slaying of Paul Franklin Walker, 35, of Channelview.

Walker and Edwards' estranged wife, Mrs. Betty Lou Edwards, 31, were shot to death May 26 of last year as they sat in a parked car on the outskirts of Houston.

Never fight a burglar-insure against him. He is prepared and you're not-unless insured. Burblary Insurance is a necessity and we sell it.

Odessa's Thirty-Eighth Win Puts It Second in Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Odessa isn't about to give the other clubs a chance at first place in the Longhorn League.

The Oilers last night won their thirty-eighth game of the season, thereupon becoming the second highest-winning club in Texas professional baseball. They also maintained a six and one-half-game lead in their circuit.

Only Fort Worth of the Texas League, with 41 victories, has won more games than the Oilers.

Odessa licked San Angelo 10-3 on Ray Knoblauch's five-hitter that gave him his ninth straight pitching win of the season.

Runner-up Roswell downed Midland 9-2, Chuck Pressley hitting a two-run homer in sparking a four-run splurge in the fifth that sewed up the game.

Vernon scored three runs in the tenth to beat Big Spring 6-3 with a homer by Jim Faulkner and a triple by Arnold Davis doing the work.

Sweetwater strapped Ballinger 9-1 with a 13-hit attack. Warren Slider hit a three-run homer and Don Zahner clubbed one over the fence with one on.

Mauna Loa Still Is Spectacular Sight

HONOLULU, June 8. (AP)—Mauna Loa on the island of Hawaii, which erupted one week ago, still was pouring a river of lava today into the ocean 25 miles away.

Capt. Charles Eggers and Jarett Carr of Hawaiian Airlines said the river of red-hot rock, with branches like fiery fingers, still was a spectacular show.

Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Curtis Cup player and twice winner of the Trans-Mississippi women's golf tournament, found her ball buried deep in the sand at the edge of the trap alongside the eighth green during the qualifying round of the tournament in Dallas. Miss Riley lead the field of 196 in the qualifying round with a one-over par 74 to take medalist honors. (AP Photo).

Wiry Texan Again Qualifies As Genius in Manager Game

SEATTLE, June 8. (AP) — The thin man from Waxahachie, Tex., and other baseball points is back in the genius business again. His Seattle Rainiers are out of the cellar and hell-bent for healthier latitudes.

April's doormats of the Pacific Coast League, once 16 games off the pace, have become June's giant killers. The thin man's athletes have kicked in the teeth of their last five series opponents. They're the hottest thing in the loop, even if they're still in seventh spot, 10 1-2 games from the leaders.

The man is Paul Richards—a name you could have spelled captail M-U-D just a bit over a month ago. On the last day of April his team came staggering home from California, loser in 23 out of 25 games.

The plating of genius that Richards wore west this year after championizing Buffalo, N. Y., in the International League, was so badly tarnished the raw steel was showing through.

Invited to speak at a sportswriters and sportscasters luncheon, the melancholy high guy declined with the season's frankest remark. "Ah," said the Texan, "Just got nothin' to talk about."

Seattle fans, normally short of temper with losing managers and players, reacted strangely. They staged a "Welcome Home" night on May 2, reserving their snarls for the rest of the league. They turned out in noisy thousands. They buy the jinx, swarming over the field, shooting off firecrackers and otherwise telling their hobbling heroes they still loved 'em.

Tears as big as baseballs ran down some Rainier cheeks.

That night Seattle nudged Sacramento 5 to 3. It hasn't lost a series since, winning 24 games and losing 13.

The team got some new players, and once he had the men to maneuver, Richards proved he could play baseball chess with the best in the business. The Seattle box scores have shown more runs and fewer left-on-bases under Richards' direction.

He shrugs aside the "genius" tag, which preceded him to Seattle. "When ah first arrived," says tall Paul, "People seemed to think ah could take a crowd of men and make baseball players. Ah think ah know a player when as see one, but ah can't make one."

He may not be a sculptor, but the lean wizard of Waxahachie proved he could carve a baseball victory better than most, once he had the tools.

West Texas - New Mexico Ball Circuit

FORT WORTH, June 8. (AP) — The 22nd annual Men's West Texas Golf Tournament starts here today with qualifying rounds over the Glenn Garden Country Club course.

Match play will begin Friday and run through Sunday's 36-hole finals.

Bob French of Odessa is defending champion. He and several other contenders for the 1950 crown were on hand for practice rounds Wednesday and 55 amateurs and 15 pros played in a pro-amateur event.

Pro Morgan Hampton of Abilene led the winning team, which had a best ball of 10-under par 61.

Close Contest In Both Leaders in Valley League Lose

(By The Associated Press)

Things were status quo in the Rio Grande Valley League last night as both top clubs lost.

Harlingen took a 5-4 drubbing from Del Rio as Dick Midkiff halted a bases-loaded threat in the ninth.

Laredo edged second-place Corpus Christi 7-6 with Miguel Gaspar the hero. He homered in the tenth for the deciding run.

Brownsville pounded out a 10-8 decision over McAllen, battering Palm pitching for 15 hits.

Longhorn League's Attendance Climbs

ABILENE, June 8. (AP) — The general decline in baseball attendance over the country isn't holding true in the Longhorn League.

Despite poor weather in the opening month of the season, the Class D circuit's attendance is running ahead of last year's for the same period, League President Hal Sayles announced today.

The eight clubs have drawn 142,735 paying customers in games reported to date against a figure of 142,313 in 1949.

"Our attendance was running far behind 1949 during the first few weeks," Cayles said, "But the crowds have picked up sharply with the hot weather."

San Angelo is the gate leader with 28,855 fans for the first 24 home games. Odessa is next with 24,912 in 21 contests.

Close Contest In West Texas-New Mexico Ball Circuit

(By The Associated Press)

The West Texas-New Mexico League couldn't ask for a closer race. There are only eight games difference, in first and last.

Leading Borger split a doubleheader last night with Albuquerque while second-place Lubbock was edging Abilene 12-11. The result was that Lubbock advanced within two games of the top.

Alzuquerque beat Borger 5-4 in the first game with Stan Surma's triple the deciding blow. Borger won the afterpiece 14-8 with a 19-hit attack.

Jackie Sullivan squeezed in a run with a bunt in the last of the tenth to give Lubbock its win after Nelson Davis had tied the score for the Hubbers with a homer in the eighth.

Pampa nosed Lamesa 3-2 as Ramon Salago bested Israel Ten in a pitching duel. Joe Fortin and Roy Parker hit homers for Pampa.

Amarillo moved into sixth place by taking both ends of a doubleheader with Clovis. The Gold Sox won the first game 12-9 and the afterpiece 15-11.

Pat Garner and Polly Riley Meet in Second Round Today

DALLAS, June 8. (AP) — Polly Riley of Fort Worth, shooting some of the best golf of her illustrious career, moved against Pat Garner of Midland, today in the top match of the Women's Trans-Mississippi second round.

Miss Riley swept through her first match yesterday 5 and 4 over Mrs. Gene Langkop of Dallas, former ice-skating star, laying down par golf for the 14 holes played. Miss Garner beat Mrs. A. E. Roberts of Lake Charles, La., 4 and 2.

Other favorites, including Betsy Rawls, the Austin blonde who is defending champion, came through, with only one being pressed. She was Betty Dodd, red-haired San Antonio shot-maker, who had to go 21 holes to take out Mrs. M. W. Morgan of Baytown.

In other first round matches Miss Rawls defeated Mrs. Bill London of Brownwood, 7 and 6; Betty MacKinnon of Mount Pleasant, Tex., downed Mrs. Al Mortensen of Houston, 4 and 2; Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N. D., won over Mrs. Helen Brunner of Dallas, 6 and 5; Bee McWane of Provo, Utah, won over Mrs. Don Zepernick of Dallas, 7 and 6; Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., took out Mrs. Mary Tyson, Houston, 7 and 6; Mrs. W. Opossums May Aid Research

BERKELY, Calif., (AP) — A University of California scientist who has succeded in raising opossums in captivity believes they may become useful as laboratory animals. Because of the embryonic opossum goes through a period of development in his mother's pouch, where he can be observed easily, he may be a good subject for studying mammalian life in one of its earliest forms, says Harold C. Reynolds, museum technician.

BASEBALL CONGRESS

WICHITA, Kan., June 8. (AP)—The National Baseball Congress today announced the annual Texas semi-pro baseball tournament to determine the Negro championship will be staged at Austin, July 2 to 16.

Britain Opens National Museum Of Fashion Design

By CHARLES E. WHITING

LONDON — Christian Dior, whose fashion creations are anything but museum pieces, is helping Britain establish a national museum of fashion and dress design.

This Museum of Costume will be built around the private collection of Mrs. Langley Moore of London, which numbers about 1,000 items dating from 1800 to the present day. Mrs. Moore has been collecting the clothes and accessories for 21 years, sometimes, she says, at the expense of her own wardrobe.

A campaign to raise 20,000 pounds (about $56,000) for a home for the collection was inaugurated with a recent fashion show staged by Paris couturier Dior at London's Savoy hotel. Ten mannequins flew from Paris to model the Dior creations, some of them made entirely from British textiles.

The British arts council, a semi-government agency which subsidizes cultural activities, is supporting the drive for the Museum.

Mrs. Moore's collection ranges from dresses, coats and undergarments to footwear and jewelry. Some American fashions are represented.

She wants to make her collection available to art students, designers for the theater, films and television, dressmakers, or anyone wishing information on historic costumes. So she is turning over the entire collection to the proposed museum. She refuses to estimate its value.

Current fashions including some men's clothes, will be added to the collection each year.

Mrs. Moore hopes the museum will be ready to open concurrently with the 1951 Festival of Britain.

India Plans Electric Cremation

BOMBAY, (AP) — India, original home of human cremation, is soon to have its first electric crematorium in Bombay. The crematorium will dispose of bodies in a few minutes instead of the hours now required by the wood-burning process.

Although Mahatma Gandhi advocated electric incinerators, most Hindus are averse to any way of burning except by use of logs or at least charcoal heaps and cowdung cakes. The municipality is not certain the electric crematorium will be immediately popular, but counts on two factors to keep busy. One is the large number of deaths by the roadside of poor people. The municipality now buries them. The other is the unprecedented cost of wood.

Korean Communists Call For New General Election

SEOUL, June 8. (AP)—Communist North Koreans, terming the May 30 election in South Korea fraudulent, today called for a general election throughout North and South Korea in August.

Radio Pyongyang, mouthpiece of the northern Reds, voiced the announcement. It called for the election to be held in the United Nations sponsored republic of the south and the Soviet backed northern sector for eight days beginning Aug. 5.

The radio proposed the election of a general legislative organ, which would meet first in Seoul, capital of the republic, and then meet somewhere near the 38th Parallel, which divides North and South Korea.

President Syngman Rhee of the republic and his prime minister, Lee Bum Suk, would be barred from attending the meetings, the broadcast said. So would the UN commission in Korea.

As far as the North Koreans are concerned, according to Radio Pyongyang, the May 30 election in South Korea was never held.

Said the radio:

"The election was frustrated everywhere in the southern half by the people who rose in indignation. A majority of the voters refused to vote and election booths have been destroyed."

Actually between 86 and 90 per cent of the 8 million registered voters in the south participated in the election. There was no violence on election day. And a good many of the republic's leaders were defeated and supplanted by independents, some of whom lean toward the Soviet zone.

Bridal Shower For Mrs. Louis Gore

Approximately fifty women showered Mrs. Louis Gore with bridal gifts when Mrs. George Light, 3101 Avenue K, gave her a party Tuesday night.

Mrs. Gore is a recent bride. She was formerly Miss Vita Mae Cumbie, daughter of W. S. Cumbie, 2606 Avenue K.

The gift offering was placed in a bedroom, and guests helped Mrs. Gore open packages.

Maybank Believes Senate Will Extend Rent Control

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Sen. Maybank (DS.C.) today predicted a Senate vote Monday to extend federal rent controls despite a one man filibuster by Sen. Cain (R-Wash).

Maybank is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, which sent the rent measure to the Senate by an eight to five vote.

The present rent law expires June 30. The bill would extend the curbs to Dec. 31. It also would permit an additional six months of control in communities where affirmative action was taken throug referendum or by local officials.

ARCH FOE

Cain, an arch foe of rent controls, spoke against the bill for nearly three and a half hours yesterday. He was given permission to resume his lengthy speech today after the Senate disposes of a number of non-controversial bills.

"You can call this a filibuster if you want to, but at least it is a filibuster of issues," Cain said in an interview. He added:

"I am confident we can continue this debate until some time next week, and by then I hope the House leadership will have reconsidered and faced up to its responsibility to get a vote on the measure."

The House originally had planned to debate a rent measure Monday, and vote on it Tuesday. But Senate Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) interrupted Cain at one point to tell the Senate the House had postponed action.

Lucas said House Democratic Leader McCormack, Mass., had informed him that "under no circumstances" would the House take up rents until after the Senate had acted.

Cain, in his nit al attack, called President Truman and Lucas reactionaires and "outstanding among the prophets of disaster and defeatism" for seeking to extend the present law.

He suggested that the bill was one of "political expediency" aimed primarily at Illinois where Lucas is up for re-election.

VOL. 1—No. 29 SNYDER, TEXAS, THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 8, 1950 SECTION TWO

Young Pastor Interested In Youth, In or Out of Church

Two years ago a young ministerial student from Texas Christian University came out to the small, dusty town of Snyder to accept his first church.

Observing his second anniversary this week as minister of the First Christian Church of Snyder, the Rev. Clifford Taylor has seen Snyder change into a bustling oil town and has watched the resident membership of his church double.

When he first came to Snyder, [illegible]dden he found himself at Texas with the United Scurry County Drys, helped this year with the Red Cross drive, and is a member of the Lions Club. Unofficially, he is on hand almost any time Snyder young people need an adviser.

PLANNED OTHER CAREER

Until after he graduated from San Angelo High School in 1943, Mr. Taylor had no idea of becoming a minister. He had planned to attend the University of Texas and study advertising. Then all of a sudden he found himself at Texas Christian University preparing to be a minister of the Christian Church.

As always he was active in youth work. He became interested in the work of the United Christian Church movement and was elected secretary of the United Christian Youth Council of Texas when it first was organized.

As Texas delegate to the World Conference of Christian Youth in Oslo, Norway, in 1947, he saw England, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland and France as well as Norway. He heard speeches from some of the internationally known leaders of the United Christian movement and visited the world headquarters of the movement in Geneva, Switzerland.

Plans for the future are for Mr. Taylor connected with the First Christian Church of Snyder. A new 2-story church to be erected somewhere near the outskirts of the city will be the first big step in future development.

Meanwhile Mr. Taylor, like everybody else in Snyder, has his problems and along with them his boom-town anecdotes.

The minister of a church in Marlow, Okla. wrote him to watch for a family from Marlow who were potential members of his church. He sent the name of the family, but as identification gave only the fact that they would be living in a blue trailer. Mr. Taylor never quite got around to all the blue trailers in Snyder, but the family finally came to church anyway.

his Sunday school had two classes for young people. Now there are five groups for those under 20, and only lack of space and teachers prevents there being more. The church has added to its Sunday school facilities by about one-third in the past two years.

WORK TOWARD DEGREE

Mr. Taylor, who received his bachelor of arts degree in 1946, still has two years to go on a bachelor of divinity degree. When he came to Snyder, he said, he expected to continue his work in T. C. U. along with his church duties, but unexpected growth of the church has made such a plan next to impossible. He attended T.C.U. for the past two fall semesters, but does not know when he will be able to go back.

In Snyder Mr. Taylor, a young 23 himself, has placed much emphasis on working with young people. Two years ago his class for teen-agers had only seven members. On last week's hay ride there were 40 young people.

"Of course," he grinned, "the fact that it was a hayride had something to do with it; but two years ago you couldn't even get a dozen kids together for a picnic."

Mr. Taylor was an active sponsor of the first teen canteen, which functioned a year or so ago. He now serves as secretary of the Youth Council, sponsoring group for the Youth Center, and his church has been used as a meeting place for the council.

In Snyder he has also worked

Believes In 2-Party Rule

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 8. (AP)—Joseph A. Wolfe, Republican committeeman of the Eighth Ward, is quite a salesman.

He sold a Democrat $100 worth of tickets for the Erie County GOP committee's outing Aug. 5.

The Democrat, County Clerk Steven Pankow, explained:

"I believe in the two-party system."

Truman Expected To Approve Expanded European DP Bill

WASHINGTON, June 8. (AP)—Swift presidential approval is expected for a bill expanding by 91,000 the number of homeless Europeans who may seek a home in this country.

The measure, an enlarged and liberalized version of the 1948 displaced persons bill, was sent to the White House yesterday after the Senate approved it on a voice vote.

It calls for the admission of 341,000 DPs to the United States—including 153,000 who have entered under the old bill—by June 30 next year.

Mental Patient Taken Peacefully

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 8. (AP)—A four-day manhunt for a former mental patient who was wounded as he fled from police, has ended with the arrest of Philip W. Bower, 32.

Authorities had said he was armed and dangerous. But the onetime weight lifter surrendered peacefully to officers who spotted him in a bus terminal. He had apparently abandoned the pistol seen by two policemen who went to his home Saturday night on a report that he was missing.

LEARNS TO WALK AGAIN—Marilyn Kay Howard, 13, of Charleston, Ill., is assisted by a nurse, right, as the little girl learns to walk again for the first time since she was 5. A bone condition caused a series of 22 breaks in the girl's legs. Surgeons straightened and strengthened her leg bones by threading them on stainless steel rods. Now they say she'll walk like other children as soon as bones knit and heal. (AP Wirephoto).

Russia Establishes Civilian Rule in Eastern Germany

BERLIN, June 8. (AP)—Russia today named civilians to replace four military rulers in East Germany in a move apparently designed to bolster the prestige of the Communist East German State.

The changes accelerated the switch from military to civilian control in the Russian zone and were accompanied by indications that new responsibilities were being delegated to the area's Communist-controlled German government.

TIGHTEN GRIP

Allied observers believed, however, the changes did not mean that Moscow was loosening its grip on East Germany but rather was pulling the Kremlin-created state closer toward early partnership as a full-fledged satellite in the Soviet bloc.

The best known of the four military men recalled to Moscow was Maj. Gen. Alexandar G. Kotikov, 58-year-old former Red commandant of Berlin and representative of the Soviet Control Commission in Berlin since the establishment of the East German government last November.

It was Kotikov's frequent use of the veto power which wrecked coordinated four-power rule of the city. He was replaced by Sergei Alexeivitch Dengin.

Evidencing his government's new powers, East German Prime Minster Otto Grotewohl announced today his cabinet planned direct and extensive political-economic negotiations with Soviet bloc nations, similar to those just concluded with Poland.

Grotewohl specifically mentioned Hungary and Czechoslovakia. He said also the negotiators who went to Warsaw would be sent to negotiate with the Chinese Communist Government.

CONFIRMATION

The Warsaw negotiations resulted in the confirmation by the Polish and East German governments of the Oder and Neisse Rivers as the post war boundary between the two countries, ceding to Poland large and rich East German territories.

West Germans termed this a "treasonable sell-out." The west-Oder-Neisse boundary set up by the Potsdam agreement was only temporary and could only be finally fixed in a peace treaty with Germany.

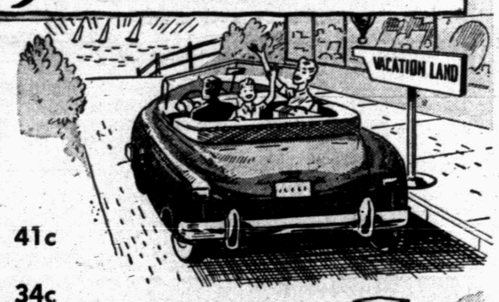

The Soviet-controlled press gave no information about Dengin or the three other new officials. The Red army newspaper here, however, pointedly called each "mister," indicating they were foreign ministry appointees rather than military men.

Children will enjoy having the usual ice cream dessert varied for a party. Milk supplies are high in June so there will be lots of ice cream around for these desserts. Include other dairy foods in party menus, too — milk to drink (plain or chocolate flavored) and cheese for sandwiches. If you're giving the youngsters luncheon serve a cream soup (using milk) as the first course.

If you've wondered what food values ice cream offers you'll be interested to know that roughly speaking, a serving of ice cream (two-thirds cup) gives you the same nutrients you get when you drink half a glass of milk. So it's good party food and good for family desserts, too.

For short storage remember to put the ice cream carton on the bottom shelf of the freezing unit in your refrigerator. Or else, empty the ice cream into an ice tray, cover it with waxed paper or aluminum foil and keep in the freezing unit.

For very young fry choose a circus theme for the party table with clown place cards and circus napkins. Then for dessert serve generous dishes of vanilla ice cream topped with balloons made of cherries stuck on toothpicks. Youngsters enjoy a simple variation such as this just as much as a fancy dessert.

The grammar-school or teen-age set will enjoy something a little more sophisticated than the young.

MINT CHOCOLATE

Ingredients: 1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate, 1 tablespoon butter, one-third cup milk, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons light corn syrup, one-eighth teaspoon salt, 3 or 4 drops essence of peppermint, 1 quart vanilla ice cream.

Method: Melt chocolate over hot water, add butter and blend. Stir in milk and bring to boil stirring constantly. Add sugar and syrup, while stirring. Simmer about 5 minutes; add peppermint and blend. Dish vanilla ice cream into large serving bowl or individual dishes. Serve with mint chocolate asuce.

Goodyear Store Will Hold Opening Friday, Saturday

The new Snyder service store branch of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. will hold its grand opening tomorrow and Saturday, Rex Fields, manager, said today.

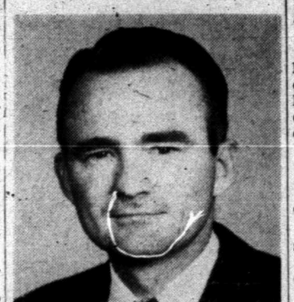

Fields, a native of Scurry County, had lived here all his life until about 10 years ago. He served in the navy during the war and was employed in Dallas and Paris, Tex., before returning to Snyder to make his home. He and his wife have moved to Snyder and expect to buy a house here.

At Paris Fields was budget manager of the Goodyear store.

The Snyder store, located at 1918 Twenty-Fifth Street, formerly occupied by Oil Well Supply, will sell Goodyear tires, tubes, batteries and accessories. It will also feature a complete line of General Electric appliances and Magic-Aire Evaporative coolers.

Prizes to be offered at the opening include a General Electric iron, Goodyear utility kitchen table, General Electric coffee maker, General Electric kitchen clock and outdoor gallon thermos jug.

Employees at the local store include, besides Fields, Jack Golightly from Fort Worth, budget manager, and H. A. Smith, Jr., and Vernon Paine, both of Snyder.

NATIVE RETURNS — Rex Fields, manager of the new Snyder Goodyear service store, was born in Scurry County, and lived here until 10 years ago. He and his wife have moved to Snyder and expect to buy a home here.

NCAA TO Carpet Six Colleges On Sanity Code

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association will haul another six colleges on the carpet for "sanity code" violations at an NCAA council meeting in Chicago in August.

This was disclosed yesterday following a three-day meeting of the NCAA enforcement committee headed by Clarence P. Houston of Tufts College.

"We uncovered evidence that six schools are giving aid to athletes in excess of that allowed by the code," Houston said. He declined to name the schools, but said any punishment the council might decide to inflict on them would be withheld until next winter.

The NCAA "sanity code" provides that financial aid given athletes must come from the school itself and not from any outside source. Unless the athlete helped is in the top fourht of his class scholastically, the amount of aid he can receive is limited.

Eleven Stars In 24th NPTT Games

CLEVELAND, June 8. (AP) — The big stars are still in the running as the 24th National Professional Tennis Tournament reaches the quarter-finals stage today.

Two singles matches are slated tonight, and the matches now run best three-of-five sets instead of two-of-three.

Welby Van Horn of Philadelphia, 1945 pro king and fourth-ranking, meets Pancho Segura, the two-fisted Ecuadorian stroker who rates No. 5.

The last contest of the night is between Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., No. 3 pro, and Frankie Parker.

Kovacs, Parker and Segura all came through with victories yesterday, and so did big Jack Kramer of Los Angeles.

The other quarter-finalists are Bobby Riggs and Van Horn, who did not play singles matches yesterday; Jack March of Cleveland; Carl Earn of Los Angeles, brawny sixth-ranking pro.

The Seychelles nut is the largest known tree seed. It may weigh up to 40 pounds.

Dried Gulf of Mexico shrimp are exported to Hawaii, the Philippines and Chna.

New Japanese Independence May Raise Problem for U. S.

TOKYO — Japanese pride and gullibility, massaged by Communist propaganda, have raised a threatening problem for the United States. The issue is whether American military bases will be maintained in Japan after a formal peace treaty is negotiated.

Six months ago, only the Communists opposed post-treaty bases. The rest of the Japanese wanted the Americans to stay to guarantee protection against external attack or internal troubles. Now, however, the country is debating the point.

It was discussed by a committee of 264 of the country's leading educators, then by political parties opposing the present administration. The educators apparently sincerely believe their contention that Japan can be spared another war merely by declaring neutrality. The politicians seem primarily interested in embarrassing the administration, which consistently supports American policy.

The people themselves seem bewildered. Most of them want to avoid involvement in another war, but they lack the ability to discern the flaws in arguments that they can remain neutral merely by saying so. American military authorities say that bases in Japan will be essential indefinitely, both for the protection of Japan and of the United States. They do not want a treaty without clear rights to maintain the bases now held under the occupation.

On the other hand, they say they could not continue to occupy these installations against a majority of Japanese opinion. This apparently is what the Communists are trying to arouse.

The Russian member of the Allied Council for Japan recently jumped into the battle with an official letter to General MacArthur, contending maintenance of present bases violated occupation policy. MacArthur rejected this as "provocative impertinence," but that did not dispose of the question as far as the nervous, gullible Japanese are concerned.

Some Americans cite this as one of several reasons for concluding an early peace treaty with Japan. The government today could put across the policy of granting post-treaty bases, but it might not be so easy in another year or two. The Japanese are showing increased desires for independence and international equality. So far, this is neither aggressive nor militaristic. It signifies, however, that in its fifth year the occupation has reached a declining curve in the effect of its policies and perhaps in its welcome.

General MacArthur said in 1945 that any military occupation begins to lose its influence after three to five years.

Recently Japanese politicians by-passed an important local tax bill despite the most positive type of indirect occupation pressure for it. In the past they have delayed or sabotaged several reform measures, but this is the first one they have refused outright.

Not long ago a group of influential industrialists presented American officials with a virtual list of demands for far eastern trade. "These men," said one Japanese official sadly, "do not understand that the world has not forgotten the war. They think they are welcome everywhere and that the world depends upon Japanese goods."

There is little similarity between the bustling Japanese of today and the listless, humble, shoddy people who met the first occupation troops in 1945. In those days they were eager to be told what to do and usually tried to do it. Now they clearly want to run everything themselves as quickly as possible.

Snead, Hogan Favorites In National Open

ARDMORE, Pa., June 8. (AP) — Sam Snead's putter, Ben Hogan's legs and the weather were the chief topics of conversation as 165 of golfdom's very select teed off today in the 50th National Open championship.

The first of 55 threesomes set out over Merion's 6,694 well-trapped, weed-fringed yards at 6 a.m. (CST).

Contenders will be swinging until almost dark in the opening round of this rugged 72-hole test that has broken the hearts of champions. The tournament winds up with a double-barreled 36 holes Saturday.

The weather rated top billing along with Snead and Hogan, who have been established solid favorites.

Two days of near-90 temperatures have left the broad, undulating greens hard as concrete and slick as glass. Each carpet was packed by a 300-pound roller last night to make sure they'd be lightning fast.

Unless there is some relief by showers, most of the pros agreed, four rounds of 71, one over par, will be sufficient to take the prize. The weather forecast was increasing cloudiness today with scattered showers tomorrow afternoon.

Electric fencing for farms consists generally of a single strand of wire. Its potency lies in the fact it gives a slight shock when an animal comes in contact with it.

Dallas - Fort Worth Nines Meet Tonight In Schoolboy Tourney

HOUSTON, June 8. (AP) — Defending Champion Adamson of Dallas meets Paschal of Fort Worth while Arlington Heights of Fort Worth tackles Jeff Davis of Houston tonight in semi-finals of the state City Conference schoolboy baseball tournament.

Adamson advanced to the penultimate round last night by beating Milby of Houston 6-3 while Arlington Heights got there with a 1-0 win over Crozier Tech of Dallas.

Jethroe, Given Bums Rush, Makes Good With Braves

BANGKOK — A fortune-teller does much more than merely tell fortunes in Thailand. He studies the palm and the stars and gives advice on business, social and family matters. He's also something of a healer.

What's more, it's hard work, sitting uncomfortably in a holy position on a raised dais, listening eternally to people's troubles and problems. Cynical observers say the hardest work is remembering what customers tell about themselves so the soothsayer can report faithfully to the C. I. D. secret police.

There must be 1,000 fortune tellers in Bangkok. People are genuinely sincere in their belief in astrology and palmistry here. There's little scoffing and even Western-educated Siamese go for advice to these learned men—when their wives drive them to it.

Perhaps the most learned of these men in Pridit Chuen. They say that the highest officials in the Thai government go to him for readings. He'll tell them what day to do what thing, which way to have their new homes face—but never, absolutely never, what day or what hour to start a coup d'etat.

A Trip to His Temple

To reach Chuen's place you take a launch across the river to suburban Dhonburi. Then, walk through the grounds of the Rockefeller Institute's hospital with its modern equipment of fighting all ailments not governed by the stars. Then, along a dirty street, over a tiny canal, is the oracle's lair.

Inside, beneath a cheesecloth netting and surrounded by images and incense, Chuen waits—perched like a slightly raised platform, cross-legged and solumn.

You take your turn which gives an opportunity to observe the technique of a man who did graduate work in Nepal where he added the occult ways of the state in the Himalayas to the accumulated knowledge of Thai Buddhism.

A holy candle burned atop a British cigarette tin only a few inches from Chuen's red-painted big toe. He had lost the small toe of his left foot but its absence doesn't interfere with his work.

Here's the Hokus-Pokus

The first case was a Siamese who apparently needed serious attention. Chuen donned a white sarong and threw a long shawl over his shoulders. The patient had brought a great bowl of fruit for the gods. Both Chuen and his subject extended their palms chin high. Eyes mystically closed, the subject put out his tongue and a gold leaf wafer was placed on his tongue. Chuen, meanwhile, rolled a thicker piece of gold between his palms and the chanting began.

Chuen trembled, then shivered and finally was rocking. The subject's hands began jumping unconsciously. The prayer to the gods was underway. When Chuen blew away the gold leaves, the seance was over.

Next! An American with eleven years in the orient crept before the master teacher and crossed his legs, put out his palm (left hand) gave his honest age and waited. First, there was a scarf and holy water business. An American-educated Siamese did the translation. He looked into the glass of water and saw blue and green colours. Exceptionally good news could be expected within a few days. Our friend the reading showed, never saved any money, loved people and helped everyone. All true, as a glance at his clothes could show.

But six years hence on the tenth day of some lunar month (about September), he had better stay indoors and not venture out. Dark danger lurked on that day. Travel is forbidden. Absolute rest is prescribed.

Except for that evil day, the best of good furtune lies ahead. (Incidentally, and this has nothing to do with the fortune-teller, thieves stole all our friends clothes that night.)

Charming Lady Charmed

A charming lady from America with a prominent educational background gave her right age (one of the most heroic feats since Joan of Arc) and almost gave Chuen ecstasy. He gloried in her hand. One of the most wonderful he ever saw. Using his magnifying glass diligently he copied floral designes, jack frost snowflakes, clocks and whatnots and kept mumbling his praise. He was so engrossed he accepted a cigarette, dipped it in menthol and forgot to smoke it.

Two former patients who hung around curiously became so wrapt up in the discussions they began to ignore the big spittons on the floor. What a hand! The lady couldn't help being pleased. The words in Siamese sounded something like "Queen in Calico."

And all for 60 cents.

Detroit's Winning Streak Snaps Before Yankee Power

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cooling off the hot clubs is an old Yankee custom. Now it's sizzling Detroit that New York has dunked in chill water.

Red Rolee's Tigers strode into the Yankee Stadium with seven straight wins and an .002 edge on first place. Unbeaten since they left home, the spirited Detroit club boasted a dazzling road record of 20-3, or .870.

TWO GAMES LEFT

This was it. The big test of the early season. If the red hot Tigers could roll over the Yankees and then knock off Boston, they would take charge of the race.

They may do it yet, for it's a three-game series in New York. Yesterday's 5-4 loss to the Yanks was only the opener. But with Tommy Byrne, an old Tiger killer with a 10-2 lifetime record against Detroit, pitching for New York today, the chances are not bright.

Home run power from the bats of Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Billy Johnson swung the balance of power in a tight battle between Lefty Hal Newhouser and Vic Raschi.

Each time the Tigers scrambled into a lead, a zinging Yank home run would pull them back. Finally a single won the game. It was a ball hit by Yogi Berra to shortstop Johnny Lipon that handcuffed the Tiger infielder in the seventh.

While the Yanks and Tigers wrestled through the hottest afternoon of the New York season, Boston piled up a staggering 20-4 score against St. Louis.

Still very much in the race, the R Sox blaste nwoe 3irffBsdo Md2heti

Red Sox blasted 23 hits off Brownie pitching while Joe Dobson rode home easily with his seventh win.

Little Bobby Shantz, 5-foot-7-inch Philadelphia lefthander, pitched the A's first shutout of the year, a 5-0 night victory over Chicago.

SENATORS SNAP

Washington snapped its seven-game losing streak, nipping Cleveland 5-4 on Johnny Ostrowski's eighth-inning homer following Irv Noren's single.

Once again Brooklyn took over undisputed possession of the National League lead, whipping Pittsburgh 9-0, while St. Louis took a bad 10-2 licking from Boston. Both were night games.

Don Newcombe, giant Dodger Negro ace, followed his recent five-hit conquest of St. Louis with a six-hit blanking of the weary Pirates.

Rookie Bill MacDonald, only Pirate to win a game since May 23, was shelled out in a five-run eighth inning. Pittsburgh now has lost five in a row and 14 of its last 15.

Stan Musial joined the other St. Louis cripples during the loss to Boston's Warren Spahn. Stan suffered a cut between two fingers of his left hand, taking a throw from Al Brazle. He will be out for a day or two.

Rookie Bob Miller, up from Terre Haute, lifted the Philadelphia Phils into second place — ahead of St. Louis and only a half game behind Brooklyn — with a 4-0 victory over Cincinnati. It was the fourth straight win for Miller, who scattered seven hits.

Folks will have to take the New York Giants seriously if they continue to roll up scores like yesterday's 13-4 romp over Chicago. Leo Durocher's Giants have won five in a row and six of seven on their second western trip.

A dairy cow has been found in some conditions to return about seven times as much income per acre of pasture as any other livestock.

Fort Worth Ahead In Its League by Eight And One-Half Games

(By The Associated Press)

Leave us face it: Fort Worth is going to be the scene of the Texas League all-star game for the third year in a row.

The rule is that the club leading the league on July 4 meets an aggregation recruited from the other seven members of the circuit.

As of today Fort Worth is eight and one-half games ahead, showing no signs of cracking and they can start getting things ready for the all-star tilt scheduled July 21.

Last night Tulsa lost a double-header while the Cats were winning over Houston 4-1 and that put Fort Worth far enough ahead that there's little question of what city will entertain the game once more.

Three-hit pitching by Joe Landrum sent the Cats to their triumph.

Shreveport licked Tulsa 2-1 in the first game of the twin bill then took the nightcap 4-1.

Dallas beat San Antonio 3-0 to knock the Missions down into a third-place tie with Oklahoma City. Bob Buhl did a four-hit job in shutting out San Antonio. Eddie Albrecht lost his first pitching victory of the season for the Missions.

Oklahoma City licked Beaumont 10-5 to drop the Roughnecks into seventh place.

Tonight Dallas again is at San Antonio, Fort Worth at Houston, Tulsa at Shreveport and Oklahoma City at Beaumont.

Truffles grow in clusters underground and are found by dogs or pigs trained to recognize their distinctive smell.

Boy, 16, Charged With Shooting His Father, 70

HOBOKEN, N. J., June 8. (AP) — The bullet that killed 70-year-old Martin Openshaw as he sat on a New York City park bench came from a gun found in the possession of his 16-year-old son, police said last night.

The boy, Stanley Openshaw, was arrested yesterday on a Hoboken street corner. His mother, Mrs. Anna Kaufman Openshaw, was arrested later at the women's division of the YMCA.

Police quoted the distraught mother as saying she had been in the park Saturday when the shots were fired, and saw her son running shortly after a quarrel between him and his father. She ran after the boy but couldn't catch him, she said.

EX-MENTAL PATIENT

A former mental hospital patient, Stanley was to be arraigned today on charges of being a delinquent adolescent and of possessing a dangerous weapon. He will then be turned over to New York authorities. His mother is being held as a materail witness.

Police said a .32 calibre pistol fell from Openshaw's pocket as he climbed into the patrol wagon. Lt. Arthur Marotta, head of the Hoboken Detective Bureau, said New York Police made a ballistics test and reported that the pistol was the same that killed the boy's aged father.

Police said Mrs. Openshaw told them her son had threatened her.

New York police had been searching for the boy since his father, an importer of office machines, was killed.

TRAIL FOUND

The trail led to New Jersey two days ago after a bus driver told police he thought Stanley had been among his passengers. His arrest came after passersby reported a man acting strangely in a doorway.

Mrs. Openshaw, a plump, medium-sized woman with gray-streaked hair, wept as she told police she met her son in Times Square, New York City, the day after the shooting. She said she took him to Asbury Park, N. J., and then to Hoboken.

Automatic Voting Machines Questioned

LOS ANGELES, June 8. (AP) — An automatic voting machine, which underwent a large scale test here in Tuesday's primaries, is under investigation.

County supervisors so ordered yesterday after hundreds of irate voters protested against confusion and delays. Some said they waited in line for hours to vote. Others said they got tired and left without voting.

County officials said (1) the ballot was longer than usual, (2) time was lost explaining operation of the machines to each voter.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

WINSTON CHURCHILL, the fighting wartime Prime Minister, blinks his eyes at the photographer at a meeting in Usher Hall, Edinburgh, Scotland, May 19, 1950. (Glascow News Photograph).

Power of Churchill's Oratory Witnessed By Texas Writer

EDINBURGH—At present there is a definite feeling of concern and unrest among the traditionally stable Scots. For a disquieting decade their country has been steadily losing population. During that time approximately a million people have flowed out of it, mainly to the industrial sections of England. Hence it is understandable that the loyal Scotsman, with passionate pride in his Highlands, is concerned over the lack of interest among the youth in staying with the land.

There is fear among many that the present generation, indoctrinated with the modern idea of more return for less production, has little heart for the long hours and the rigorous schedules of their ancestors. The same people simmer in their antipathy toward the Labor government of Great Britain, and confidently predict its early passing. "It's got to go," they say with Scottish positiveness.

STILL VIGOROUS

Among these folks it is obvious that the zestful spirit and sturdy character which has ranked this race as among the most stable and substantial on the globe is still at work. Neither the loss of a million people nor their costly contribution to the war has robbed them of their vigor. There is a militantly patriotic spirit in evidence. The trend, which is partly against the reactionary Labor Government, is definitely nationalistic. It is no minor movement.

More than 1,300,000 people from among the 4,500,000 population, have already signed the petition of what is called the Coyenant movement, aimed at home rule. Some fear that it may take an extreme turn toward separation, as in the case of the Irish, though this is obviously not its purpose. On the other hand Scotland, much like any vigorous American state in what was designed as a federal union with us, wants to be in charge of its own affairs.

CASUAL MENTION

In view of the powerful resurgence of that strong and apparently irrepressible spirit which gave England so much bother and bloodshed in the days of Sir William Wallace and his Scottish chiefs, it may seem strange at first sight that Winston Churchill, in his speech here the other day, gave so little attention to the matter—seemed to dismiss it so casually. Yet this sturdiest symbol of the Anglo-Saxon race, this foremost exponent of a close communion of interest and effort among the English speaking world, does not dismiss strong historical forces thoughtlessly or casually.

Mr. Churchill was too wise and generous to condemn the movement. He could readily see that here was a strong force which, properly channeled, would contribute to the revitalization of the wobbly United Kingdom. Through deft appeal to Scottish pride and personal loyalty, he attempted to turn it to England's account.

CONCLUDING TALK

The occasion of his appearance was the annual meeting of the Scottish Unionist Association. This is a political movement through which the conservatively inclined people of Scotland are attempting to cut across party labels and weld people of like basic views from all parties into a force for the defeat of Socialism—the creeping authoritarianism that is slowly sapping the life-blood out of Britain. Mr. Churchill's address was the concluding feature of its annual convention.

Unionist party delegates naturally had first call upon the seats in Usher Hall, the largest auditorium in this capital city. It holds but three thousand people and space was by ticket only and at a premium. It is little short of a major operation in influence for an outsider to gain admittance. Chairs for the Scottish members of Parliament, which, except for the Labor members, attend virtually en-masse, flanked the speaker's stand across the wide stage.

ON THE HOUR

Immediately on the hour the stooped but indomitable figure of the lion of Britain in her hour of need came out of the well and slowly walked down the aisle to the front of the stage. He bore the usual invitation to battle in the set of his jaw, but there was an impish twinkle in his eyes. He blinked his eyes against the exploding bulbs, and bowed his broad and put-thrust head in genial recognition of the mighty ovation that swelled from three thousand lusty Scottish throats. Unquestionably here was a fighting man after their own hearts.

He acknowledged the introductory witticisms provoked by his winning race horse that day. He then laid his carefully prepared notes before him, and in easy and almost effortless style launched into his subject. But as he warmed to the verbal chase, his wit sparkled and his irony grew, and his audience was swept along as if in response to some wild Scottish air. For his subject, the burning passion of his late and declining years, was the absolute necessity of freeing Britain from its drift toward dictatorship—to place it back on the high road to human freedom, and thus to restore it to its traditional place in world leadership.

NO ILLUSIONS

With his usually frank and forthright style, he made it plain that he suffers no illusions over the magnitude of the problem. He reviewed the rigorous policy of his party and promised unrelenting pressure upon the Socialists. He promised to pull no punches. He made it plain that he would fall for none of the mistakes of the faint-hearted and weak-kneed, who contend that moral and intellectual incompetence at home must silently be tolerated to present a false front of unity in the face of danger from abroad. With scorching irony he reviewed the broad program that the Socialists had drawn for nationalization, and the concessions which his majesty's opposition had wrung from them. Since then the daily papers have emphaisized the further liberalization of controls. With deep and obvious emotion he turned to Lord Rosebery, Liberal leader from Scotland sitting at his right, and renewed his appeal for the support of that party:

MODEST DEMAND

"All I ask, and it is a modest demand," he pursued, "that those who agree upon the fundamentals shall, in our party conflicts, try to help each other as much as they can, and harm each other as little as they must." In such a "climate of opinion" and action, he hoped, they might "perhaps have the power to rescue our native land from some of the perils and forms of degeneration by which it is oppressed."

When he came to the resurgent Scottish nationalism, he met it forthrightly. Even as, some years ago, he served notice on a critical but not too thoughtful world that he would not preside over the dissolution of the British empire, he here asserted that it was no part of the Unionist movement to sever the "link of parliamentary union" that had joined Scotland and England for nearly 250 years. And when he added that he felt "sure that with patience and firmness we can solve our difficulties together much better than if we sprawled apart," the eager audience cheered him mightily.

APPROVES PLAN

He approved in principle the statesmanlike proposal of Minister Schuman for the integration of the French and German coal and steel as an important factor in preventing another war—a step to "lay at last to rest the quarrel of one thousand years between Gaul and Teuton." But that was not enough. He reiterated the basic proposal he had already made to the effect that Germany must be brought back into the western community of nations.

"The prime condition for the recovery of Europe," he continued, "is Britain and France standing together, with all their strength and all their wounds; and then these two nations offering their hands to Germany on honourable terms, and with a great and merciful desire, to look forward rather than back." This proposal drew another ovation.

At last he hoped that "the unities now being established among the western democracies and Atlantic powers will ward off from us the terrors and unspeakable miseries of a third world war." Every effort must be made at the highest levels to bring home to Russia the gravity of the situation. Diplomacy still has a part. "But of this I am sure," he concluded.

STILL THE HERO

"The best hope will be founded upon the strength of the western democracies and upon their unwavering will-power to defend the causes for which they stand. To work from weakness and fear is ruin. To work from wisdom and power may be salvation. . . There lies before us an opportunity such as the centuries do not often bring."

Any doubt that these proud Scots lacked his own devotion to Britain was completely banished by seeing them rise, and, as with one mighty voice, lift the ceiling with their passionate singing of "God Save the King." With misty eyes the stocky figure on the stage raised his hand in his famous symbol of victory, and made his way a little shakily, down the well from Ushers Hall.
