Mighty 'M' Band Wins Sweepstakes

Around Muleshoe

Muleshoe area law enforcement officers would have sworn there was a full moon on Friday.

According to legend, people 'get crazy' when there's a full moon.

Friday morning, officers arrested a 26-year old Shallowater man following a hit and run accident one mile east of Progress.

The man was arrested by Muleshoe City Police Officer Dewayne Haney after his vehicle overheated and stalled on North 214 in Muleshoe.

The driver was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Monday afternoon, Officer Haney was sent to investigate another accident, this one at the intersection of West Eighth Street and American Blvd.

An elderly man was arrested at the accident scene and charged with driving while intoxicated. It was reported that he checked .16 on the breathalyzer, and legal intoxication is registered at .10 on the machine.

Both accidents checked within the county on Friday, and both in the daytime hours, involved persons who were determined to be driving while intoxicated.

THEY HAVE A RIGHT TO BRAG!--Members of the Mighty 'M' Band are proudly displaying plaques and the very large trophy won Wednesday in Lubbock. The Mighty 'M' Band won sweepstakes in the concert and sight reading, and were rated a 'superior' band. Previously, the band won Outstanding Marching Band thus qualifying them for the sweepstakes this year. Pictured from left, standing are Leah Bell, Sylvia Posadas, Jessie Holmes, Greg Garcia, Lisa Hamilton and Freddie Paez. Standing in the rear is Anthony Gibson, band director. Kneeling from left are Selina Gonzales and Elizabeth Posadas.

Judges Totally Agree: MHS Band Is Excellent

On April 9, the Mighty 'M' Band traveled to Lubbock for the University Interscholastic League Concert-Sight Reading Contest. Muleshoe High School received 'superior' ratings from all six judges involved, according to MHS band director, Anthony Gibson.

In order to obtain the higher honor of 'Sweepstakes,' a band must receive a division I rating in marching, concert and sight reading. Muleshoe was the only band in 3A in our district eligible for this honor in 1986.

Three judges are obtained for each competition, and the average of the three judges is the final score. There is a term of 'Straight I's,' meaning all judges considered a group superior. This was the case for Muleshoe in all three contests.

For the concert contest, a band is required to play tunes off a prescribed music list. This list consists of a variety of difficulty from grade one through six. Being a 3A school, Muleshoe was required to play one tune off the grade three list, or above; and one tune off the grade two list, or above. This year, Anthony Gibson chose to compete with two tunes from the grade four list. The third tune is required to be a march of the director's choice. The march was "Glory of the Yankee Nave" by John Philip Sousa, "Chorale and Allelulia" by Howard Hanson and "Sarabande and Polka" by Malcom Arnold.

The concert judges were Charles Enlow, Dub Crane, and Isabel Briscoe. Their comments on the performance were "This is certainly a very fine band" and "a very impressive performance." "The Malcom arrangement (Sarabande and Polka) was tremendous. So impressive." "Congratulations for an outstanding performance," said Enlow.

Crane remarked, "Good style, ala Sousa!" In reference to "Chorale and Allelulia," he remarked, "Excellent choice of music-band played this quite well-beautiful sounds-I enjoyed this," on "Sarabande and Polka"-"A good concept of this music-good flute players-good balance of lines. Good musical styles-this band displays good musicianship-excellent job conducting. Very musical-I enjoyed hearing this band play. Congrats."

Briscoe remarked, "Nice job-Superior performance-I enjoyed it."

After the band competed in concert, they moved to the sight reading room where the director was given eight minutes to explain and instruct the bank in a piece they had never seen before. They then performed the tune in front of three judges. The judges were E. Gellner, Rodger Edwards, and Tom Dillon.

Their opening remarks were "Goodlooking, impressive group. Great!" "This is a reflection of your discipline and pride." Edwards commented, "You are the first band today, and only the third in two days, who goes through the selection fingering the notes as the director counts. This is the BEST away. I commend you, and especially your director, for using this technique. This is a hard 3A selection. Your overall performance was fine. You guys, and gals, are receiving fine, fine instructions. Great job!"

Gellner remarked, "A really excellent job on Excellentia Overture. You need to thank your director for teaching you well. You are really a credit to your school and community. Thanks-I really enjoyed it."

Dillon added, "Good band sound, sonority-super!" Good careful attentiveness to small detail. Good trombone sound. Good drummers. Good balance, blend, tonal sound. Good job band. Congratulations to your band and your director. Good teaching is evident throughout!!"

High school senior Sergio Leal commented, "It's been many years since Muleshoe has had a successful band program and it really felt great to win sweepstakes two years in a row. It was a highlight of my high school years. It really felt great to be a part of a winning program."

Comments from Ben Allison, also a senior, included, "I only hope that the upcoming band members will have a chance to experience the feeling of being successful."

An elated Anthony Gibson remarked, "We have an exceptionally fine band this year and

Local People Will Organize Dance Group

Do you enjoy dancing? If so, there's something in store for you that is family-oriented. Toni Eagle said a group of local people are very interested in starting a dance organization in Muleshoe. According to those interested in the formation of the organization, children can be taught to dance and adults can either learn to dance, or polish up their dancing skills.

An organizational meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. on April 18, in the community room at Summitt Savings (back door).

Mrs. Eagle said the dance group would be conducted as any organization complete with officers and membership, for participation and sponsorship.

She added that it would begin with basic dance lessons and continue on a monthly basis to polish dancing skills. Children could be taken to the sessions, either to learn to dance, or babysitting would be provided for the younger ones.

All interested persons are encouraged to attend the organizational meeting. For more information, call Toni Eagle at 272-5693 or 272-4248.

Bailey County Is Declared Disaster County

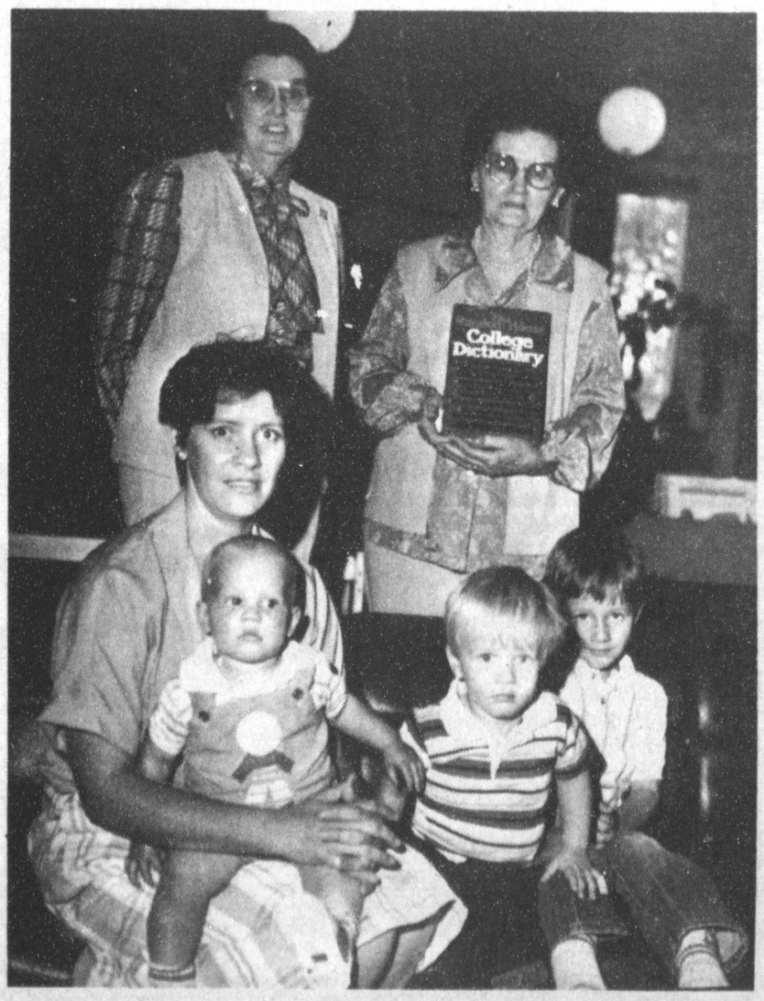

Congressman Larry Combest (R-Texas) announced that eight counties in the 19th Congressional District of Texas have been designated natural disaster areas due to crop damage brought on by severe weather conditions in 1985.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has declared Lamb, Bailey, Cochran, Castro, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock and Parmer Counties natural disaster areas as a result of severe crop damages and losses due to hail, high winds and drought occurring May 19, 1985 through December 12, 1985, Combest said.

Eligible farmers may qualify for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) emergency loan assistance if they have suffered a 30 percent crop loss resulting from hail, wind or drought during this time. The interest rate on approved disaster loans will be established at five percent up to $100,000 and eight percent over $100,000.

Emergency loan applications should be obtained at local FmHa offices.

In addition to the eight counties designated as disaster areas in the 19th district, seven other Texas counties have also been declared. Those counties are Foard, Baylor, Cottle, Hardeman, King, Knox and Wilbarger.

Creative Living
with Sheryl Borden

Three topics will be presented on "Creative Living" on April 15 and 19. Making instant waistbands will be presented by Jane Schenck, education director for the Pellon Corp. from New York. She uses a product called "Fuse-N-Fold" and with it you can make professional looking waistbands on any garment in a matter of minutes.

Another guest will be New York artist, Butch Krutchik, who creates chic paper bag art using the ordinary brown paper bag. On the show, Butch will make decorations for holidays, and you'll be surprised at how easy some of these are to make. The paper bag is celebrating it's 102nd birthday this year, and Butch represents the American Paper Institute.

The show will begin with a quick demonstration on some ways to make food inviting for children -- even food that's good for them. Helen Pruett is a home economist with the Milnot Co. from St. Louis, MO.

On April 17, the show will feature three addditional topics of information. Aldo Cella is the white suited bon vivant who stars in television commercials that bear this own name. He's going to share some of his favorite recipes for using sparkling wines in punches. He represents his own firm, Cella Wines.

Another part of the show will be an interview and a fashion presentation all in one. Jacqueline Davis is a fashion designer and manufacturer and she will be a guest on the show and tell how she got her start in the fashion business. She will be showing some of her fashions from her line of clothing -- the Lady "J" line -- and the models will be her partners. One is her sister, Janice Gardner and the other is her mother, Roberta Stout, and all three ladies own The Blue Room in Clovis, and their story is quite interesting.

Do you ever wonder how pictures of cakes, pies, and other desserts in magizines are made to look so good? Another guest on the show is a food stylist from Chicago, and she works with food all the time to make it appear as attractive as it is delicious. Jane Kuoni will share some tips from the pros on baking and frosting cakes.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on KENW-TV, Channel 3 in Portales at 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday and at 2:00 pm on Saturday. (All times are Mountain Standard).

Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. In New Mexico, the number is: 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359, and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2112.

Membership Drive Deemed Successful

The Muleshoe Jennyslippers, womens division of the Chamber of Commerce, met for their quarterly meeting and Membership Drive Tuesday evening, April 8 at the Bailey County Civic Center.

Deana Finck, Bailey County Extension Agent, and a group of 4-H girls presented a fashion show. Models for the evening were: Zanna Huckaby, Brooke Sinclair, Holly Huckaby, Shane Schuster, Kourtney Tanksley and April Watkins. These young ladies all participated in the District 4-H Fashion Show held recently in Lubbock.

R.A. Bradley and Roland McCormick, representatives of the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation, were present to give an update on what the Heritage Foundation is doing and solicit the help of the Jennyslippers for the Celebrity Auction scheduled for Saturday, May 24 from 7 a.m.-10p.m. over Channel 6 Cable TV.

Bradley stated that the entire auction will be televised and SCAC is coordinating entertainment for the day. "Letters were mailed to 400 celebrities last week and the Heritage Foundation has already received 12 gifts to be auctioned off. It is hoped that $7-$10,000 can be earned during the auction. Maybe you could have a pop corn party and invite friends, and relatives, who live in the country and can't get Channel 6, to come in to watch and participate in the auction.

"Muleshoe Heritage Foundation was founded approximately three years ago when Santa Fe gave Muleshoe the old depot. At that time the Heritage Foundation was made up of interested people around Muleshoe and no money to operate." Since that time they have spent approximately $50,000 or will have by the time they get the old Janes Ranch House set down."

Plans at the present time if for completing the renovation on the depot this year and turning it into a Senior Citizens Center, to be open daily.

Renovation of the old Janes Ranch House is not expected to be completed for five to ten years.

A business meeting followed their reports. Fifty-two members and guests were present. Five new members, Dawn Williams, Faye Houston, Rose Sain, Lana Bomer and Joyce Williams, were added to the roll. The Jennyslippers have a membership of 65 and it is their goal to have 100 by the end of the year.

Following the reading of minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report, Evelyn Peat reported on a trip to Slaton where she and Thursie Reid attended a meeting of their women's division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Vivian White and a group of Jennyslippers attended a meeting in Lubbock and Mrs. White gave a report on this meeting.

Committee reports were given by each committee chairman. Following these reports a drawing was held for a door prize. Kay Graves was the lucky winner of a tray with Texas outlined on it.

A film "Texas More Than State of Mind" was viewed by those present.

Muleshoe Fire Department Auxiliary

Muleshoe Fireman's Auxiliary met Tuesday, April 1. The meeting was called to order by Cindy Magby, president. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Elaine Parker and Mary Wauson gave the treasurers report.

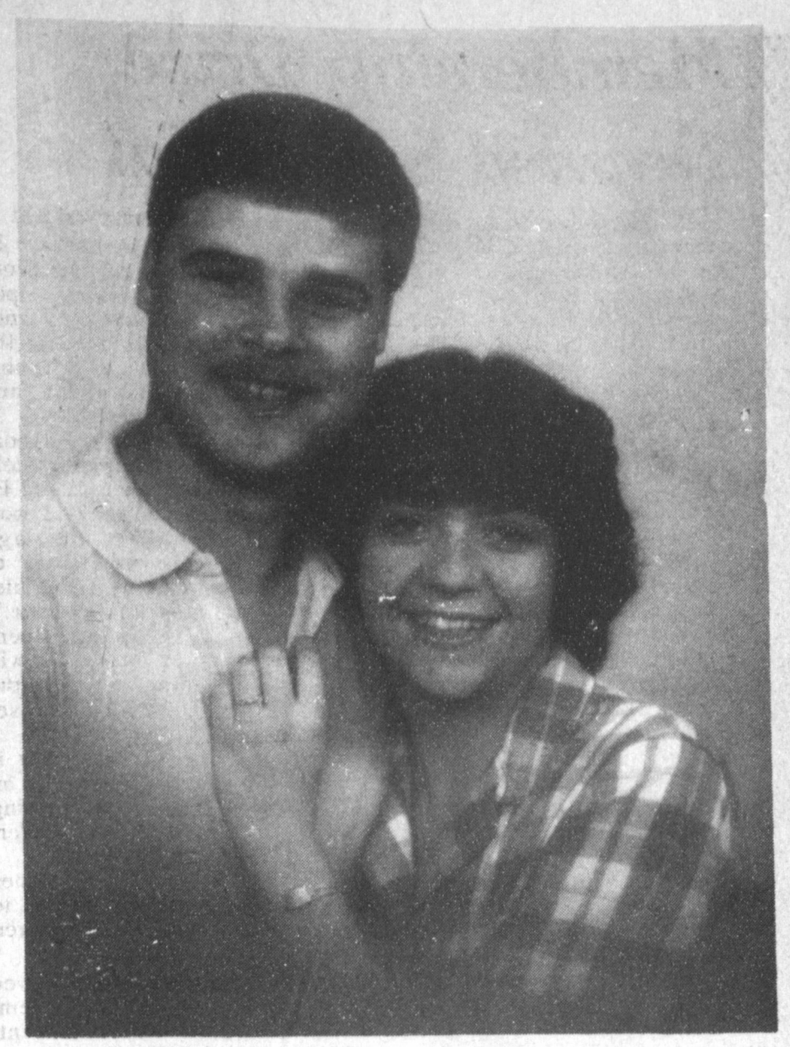

A discussion was held and voted on to have someone take a craft each month and teach everyone how to make something. It was also decided to have a drawing each month for a door prize.

The meeting was adjourned by Cindy Magby, president and everyone worked on posters for J.O. Parker's campaign for fourth vice president.

American Diet Shows Split Personality

More Americans are eating "light and lean," but they're also consuming record amounts of premium high-calorie, high-fat foods.

According to Dr. Alice Hunt, nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX), various studies show that as many as 75 percent of Americans may have changed their eating habits in some way as a result of diet or health concerns.

Americans in general have increased their consumption of poultry, low-fat milk and fresh fruits and vegetables, but decreased consumption of eggs, coffee, red meat and whole milk, she says.

The trend toward lower calorie, lower fat foods has been reflected in everything from restaurant menus to reduced-calorie frozen entrees and salad bars in fast food stores.

Yet industry figures show that Americans are also eating more croissants--at 65% fat --, more chocolates, more premium high-fat ice creams and more chewy cookies than ever, Hunt says.

One explanation for this nutritional "split personality" is that after the "good behavior" of exercise, diet and hard work, people may reward themselves with rich, calorie-laden foods, says the TAEX nutritionist.

She points out that while this system may work for some people, it can lead to a continual cycle of dieting and splurging for others who have trouble controlling their weight.

A healthy diet includes a variety of foods from the basic food groups, including meat, poultry and fish, dairy products, breads, cereals and pasta, and fruits and vegetables, Hunt says.

Quarrels would not last long if the fault was only on one side.

Across the Fence

By Deana Finck
County Extension Agent

When family members pull together to make the most of limited resources and at the same time reassure one another that material things are less important than having each other, then the burden of their financial problems seem less threatening. If your family has serious financial problems, you obviously have to "do without the luxuries" or even the necessities of your former lifestyle. But while everything seems to be going wrong, your family is still the best support during these hard times.

It's easier for families to make sacrifices as long as "biting the bullet" is a mutual effort by all family members. That's one reason why holding family councils to discuss family and individual needs can be so important.

In these meetings you can establish plans and goals, whether that's finding or training for a new job, paying off debts, saving for a down payment on a house or cutting back on food costs.

Involving all family members-including children-in discussions and plans is especially important. They will feel they are making a contribution to solving the family problems and learn about financial responsibility as well.

Just as you share the burden of your financial problems as a family, don't forget to share some good times, too. Family activities need not be expensive, and can help keep everyone's spirits high. Playing board games, croquet, catch, frisbee, or other activities as a family will provide good physical and mental release. Take walks, go jogging or ride bicycles. Use free library or bookmobile services to get books or plays that you can read together. You can also make gardening and even chores a family event with an element of fun.

With a little effort, you can capitalize on the strengths of your family to provide support while you work through a difficult financial situation.

Sweepstakes

I felt the challenge of this program would be a good learning experience, but I never dreamed that a group of teenagers could produce such mature band sounds so consistently. We have worked so hard for so long and they have been a real headache at times, but a real treat to work with all the time.

"There are 21 seniors who I have come to know very well and will miss in the years to come and wish them the best of luck. I hope they leave Muleshoe with as good a feelings and memories of the band program as I have of them. Thank you, Muleshoe, for giving me the opportunity to work with such a fine group which you should be proud of. Wednesday's contest was the most emotional musical experience of my career. Wow!"

As stated by assistant, Martha Anthis, "Nothing succeeds like success. Last year's sweepstakes was the beginning of a tradition here in Muleshoe. Everyone involved realizes the enormous amount of effort required to succeed in this manner. I'm very proud of our band, and thankful for the opportunity to have contributed to the success!"

Receiving a First Division in contest allows the Mighty 'M' Band to enter Honor Band Competition. Each two years, 3A competes for this honor. A tape is submitted through the region to compete through the channels to the state level.

Looking ahead, on April 19, the Jazz Band will compete in the Tech Jazz Festival. May 2, the Concert and Jazz Bands will compete in the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo. May 20 is the annual Spring Concert.

Members of the sweepstakes winning band and their instruments are:

Diabetic Youth Get Invitation To Summer Camp

Children with diabetes can learn about controlling their disease while enjoying summer camp at no cost to their parents.

The Texas Lions Camp is looking for insulin dependent children ages seven to 17. Priority is given to children who have never attended a camp for diabetics and who require guidance with their special health needs.

Two sessions will be held this summer. The two-week session is for children ages seven to 12 and the one-week session for children ages 13 to 17 so concerns typical of different age groups can be addressed.

Recreational activites make Camp life fun, while a medical team supervises the children's education about disbetes. Campers will be learning about their blood sugar and urine analyese, giving their own injections, controlling diet and monitoring their exercise. The individualized attention in health care encourages good control of diabetes.

An educational seminar is held for the parents on the last Friday night of each session to update them on the information their children have learned about diabetes while at Camp.

The Camp and the parents' seminar are free of charge because the Lions believe in serving others. Insulin, syringes and testing kits are also provided free of charge.

Please help these children learn to control diabetes by sending them to Camp. The Texas Lions Camp is a non-profit charitable organization that has been educating children about diabetes for 14 summers.

If you would like more information or need a Camp application, contact local Lions' Club member, Chuck Smith at 272-5648 or 272-4504 or the Texas Lions Camp, Box 247 Kerrville, Texas 78029-0247. Call (512) 896-3500.

Texas Ride & Stride Will Benefit Diabetes

Participants in the upcoming Great Republic of Texas Ride and Stride for Diabetes will be competing for a wide variety of incentive prizes while raising vital funds for the American Diabetes Association, according to Tim 'Buck' Campbell, chairman of the local event.

He said it will be held 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at the new city park on Saturday, April 19, and Campbell encourages everyone possible to compete, challenge their friends, and at the same time, make money to help further research into diabetes.

He explained that seven million Americans know they have diabetes. However, another five million have it and don't know it. Not until 1921, when insulin was discovered, did people whose diabetes had developed in childhood or early adulthood have any hope of living beyond a year or two after diagnosis. Insulin prevents death from diabetic coma and controls the symptoms of diabetes.

"Insulin seemed a miracle," said Campbell, "but, its discovery led to the widespread misconception that diabetes had been cured. It has not. The longer life span of the diabetic person has only revealed the insidious characteristics of the disease.

The chairman continued, "Diabetes can have devasting complications. It is the leading cause of new cases of blindness in adults aged 20 to 74 and it can lead to heart disease, stroke, gangrene, and kidney failure. In 1974, Congress established a National Commission on Diabetes, which found that diabetes, together with its complications, is the third leading cause of death by disease in the U.S."

Statistics say approximately 750,000 persons in Texas may have diabetes, and the prevalence among Hispanics is four to five times higher than in the Anglo population.

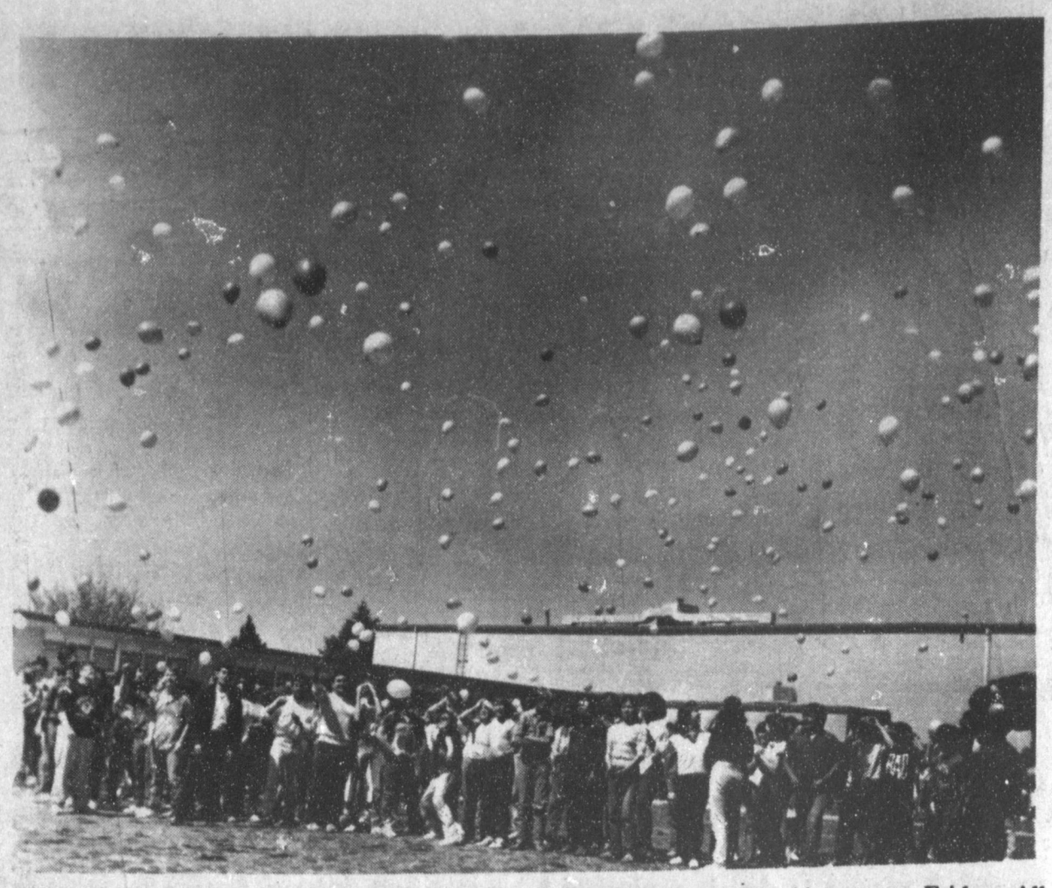

In Texas, The American Diabetes Association serves the estimated 750,000 citizens with diabetes through offices in Austin, San Antonio, Midland, Dallas and Houston. Twenty seven chapters throughout the state provide support services to persons with diabetes and their families.

Also, research into the causes, effects and treatment of diabetes is a major program of the Association. The American Diabetes Association contributed $3.3 million to diabetes research projects in 1984, and is committed to contributing $100 million to diabetes research by 1990.

Plan to join the Ride & Stride project for fun, funds, and future for diabetes.

WATSON JUNIOR HIGH GETS IN THE SPIRIT OF THINGS--Just after 11 a.m. on Friday, All the students from Watson Junior High School released bright-colored balloons from the north side of the school. This is a special Texas Sesquicentennial launching, and each balloon carries a letter asking the finder to respond, telling where they found the balloon. Almost all the helium-filled balloons quickly disappeared high in the sky.

Local Alfalfa Weevils Hit

This is the time when producers need to examine their alfalfa for the presence of alfalfa weevil larvae, cautions Spencer Tanksley, Bailey County Extension Agent for agriculture.

Unseasonably warm weather has resulted in the alfalfa weevil appearing a couple of weeks early this spring, he added.

With the beginning of warm spring weather, overwintering female weevils begin laying eggs. The young larvae which hatch out are very small, yellow-green in color and feed in the growing tips and developing buds. Older larvae are green with a white stripe down their back.

"We expect to have our peak alfalfa weevil activity in April in our area," said Tanksley.

If larvae numbers are high enough to reach the economic threshold, one properly timed application should give control. Treatments should be applied in alfalfa two to six inches tall when two or more larvae are found per plant or when 30 to 50 percent of the plant terminals show weevil feeding damage. Plants seven to 14 inches tall should be treated when 25 or more weevil larvae per square foot are present. Several effective insecticides are registered for alfalfa weevil control, according to the county agent.

The alfalfa weevil has only one generation per year and is only a pest of first cutting, said Tanksley. After the larvae finish feeding, usually by mid May in our area, the larva spins a net-like cocoon on the plant or in the soil debris. The adult weevil emerges from this cocoon and leaves the field. The weevils stay out of the alfalfa fields all summer and re-enter them in the fall. The adults overwinter in the field and the cycle then repeats itself.

Since the larvae are a pest of first cutting, it is sometimes possbile to cut a little earlier than usual and avoid chemical treatments. Cutting results in exposure and a lack of food which kills many of the remaining larvae. Winter grazing by livestock helps reduce weevil populations, the county agent concluded.

Many Prizes To Be Awarded For Walkathon

Participants in the annual 'Miles for Muleshoe' Walkathon, to be sponsored by the Jennyslippers Saturday, April 19, at 2 p.m., will have a difficult time deciding just what prize to work for.

Donna Kirk, publicity for the Walkathon, said this year, the participants will know just how many dollars worth of pledges they will need to earn the prize they want, and the choices are great.

Every participant, regardless of the amount of pledges brought in, will receive an "I Love Muleshoe" iron-on transfer. All participants bringing in as little as $25 in pledges, will receive a black sport/travel bag. Mrs. Kirk says it's just the right size for carrying gym clothes or to use as an overnight bag, just the right color for showing a little school spirit!

Other prizes participants can earn, along with required pledges are:

Basketball, $50; AM/FM radio with headphones, $75; Radio Flyer Wagon, $100; Kodak Dist 3100 camera, $125; Clock-radio-Phone, $150; Radio Shack, Voice Activated Walkie Talkies, $200; 26 inch, 10-speed bike or 20 inch BMX bike, $250 in pledges or Dual Cassette, AM/FM Jam Box, $275.

The prizes have been purchased and can be seen at the following local businesses: Poynor's Home and Auto, basketball, BMX bike and Jam Box: Ben Franklins', AM/FM radio, 10-speed bike and sport/travel bag; Perry's, wagon; Western Drug, camara; Fry and Cox, clock-radio-phone; and Wilson Appliance, walkie-talkies.

Sponsor sheets are available at the Muleshoe Public Library for the April 19 Walkathon to be held at the New City Park.

Help Sought For Successful Graduation Night

With only a short time left until graduation, the Muleshoe High School graduating class of 1986 and their sponsors have planned graduation acitivities.

At 10 p.m. on May 30, 'Project Graduation' goes into effect. The seniors and sponsors have rented the ENMU SUB for their last night together as a class.

In order for this to be a memorable event, parents are being asked to donate their food or their time. If you would like to prepare snacks for these kids who will, no doubt, get very nungry, please contact Johanna Wrinkle or Jerry Robinson at the high school.

p&r surge systems, inc.

"There's no surge valve on the market like the P&R. Use it just a little bit and you and figure out it's by far the superior surge valve."

Doyce Middlebrook, Lubbock, Texas.

"I've just been amazed. I've used the P&R surge system for 2 years. We're covering two-thirds more acres over the whole farmand we haven't seen any reduction in yields. It shouldn't be that way, but I have to believe it because I'm seeing it every day."

Dorsey Schad, Gruver, Texas.

"Because the variable surge cycle time controller has a lot more potential for management, I think it's the one that should be used. That's the best."

Mark Hooker, Agronomist, Kansas State University Experiment Station, Garden City.

"The three reasons I went with a P&R instead of the other ones I looked at: One, the automatic program that changes cycle times with the advance rate; second, the solar battery; and third, I like the detachable controller."

Gary Wilson, Shafter, California.

Single Time Surge Cycling

The single time chosen must be long enough to keep advancing over new dry ground all the way to the bottom of the row. The longer the furrow the longer this single time must be. The first cycle will advance farthest, often nearly half way down the row. Each succeeding cycle of equal time will advance less and less. Infiltration opportunity will be much longer in the first cycle and get shorter and shorter. The result will be a less pronounced but still uneven profile. Runoff will be extensive if cycle time is not shortened manually after the water gets out.

"That Auto Pro system, and especially the Auto Cut that keeps shortening the cycles after the water gets out, sure did work nicely on the last of our watering. I was amazed at how well it performed. It actually worked better than we could do even by hand."

Doyce Middlebrook, Lubbock, Texas.

Variable Time Cycling

The most efficient surge timing for a broad range of field conditions is to use short cycle times at the front of the field and increase the length of each pair of cycles until water reaches the end of the field, and then cut back to shorter cycles. The lengthening times can advance the water equal distances with each cycle. This distributes the water more evenly and flattens out the water profile. Initial field research has shown that variable cycles raise the application efficiency of surging up to 90%.

How To Buy A Manufactured Home

Owning your own home is part of the American dream. But many families can't afford the traditional, constructed-on-site house, at an average cost of $106,000. So, they turn to manufactured homes, formerly known as "mobile homes," at an average price of $21,500.

If your are planning to buy a residence and want to know more about the option of buying a manufactured home, the Manufactured Housing Institute in cooperation with the Federal Trade Commission's Office of Consumer and Business Education, has prepared a booklet to help you make your choice. For a copy of How To Buy a Manufactured Home, send 50 cents to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 453P, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

In fact, nearly one-third of all buyers of new, single-family homes choose manufactured homes, and the typical owner if not a retiree, as you might expect, but 37 years old. Manufactured homes used to be called "mobile homes," but that name isn't accurate anymore, since fewer than 5 percent are ever moved off the owner'a original site. They range in size from 400 to 2,500 square feet, and are available in almost every price range. More than 150 companies build manufactured homes, so you have a wide selection to choose from. In addition to a variety of floor plans, you have choices of carpeting and wall coverings, window designs, cabinets, and appliances, and such amenities as fireplaces, cathedral ceilings, and whirlpool baths. Energy efficiency levels are designed for the three U.S. temperature zones, and can be increased with options.

According to How To Buy a Manufactured Home, one of the most important items a homebuyer should consider is the warranty. Nearly all manufactured homes have a manufacturer's written warranty, which protects against possible defects. It typically covers the structure and factory-installed plumbing, heating, and electrical systems, but not the installation of the home. Before buying, you should find out who, if anyone, will warrant he installation and get a written copy of the warranty. All appliances should also be warranted. In addition, a retailer may offer a warranty on a home.

You should select a site for your manufactured home before you buy. If you want to use your own land as a site, be sure that it is accessible by the truck transporting your home. In addition, as you would for any house, check out local zoning laws, and utility and sewerage hookup regulations. Or, you can lease a homesite in a manufactured home development where these considerations will be taken care of for you. You should find out, in this case, who is responsible for such services as ground maintenance, snow removal, refuse collection, etc. Another option is buying a used manufactured home that is already on a site. Whether leasing or buying into a planned community, you will need to know about leases, charges, and rules.

Wherever you plan to install your manufactured home, your retailer is an integral part of the process. In addition to helping you select your home and order it from the factory, the retailer generally is responsible for having your home delivered and installed, and usually will provide warranty services. You should choose your retailer with care--ask friends with manufactured homes to recommend one. Find out whether installation costs are included in the price.

A professional installed can advise you on the type of foundation that is required in the location you select, including a concrete slab or a full basement. The installer is also responsible for leveling and anchoring your home, two vital safety considerations. Following installation, make a walk-through inspection. If doors do not open and close smoothly, for example, the building may not be level.

This 24-page booklet provides a checklist to aid you in each step of choosing, transporting, installing, inspecting and maintaining your manufactured home. Send 50 cents for a copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the U.S. General Services Administration, the Catalog lists more than 200 other free and moderately priced federal booklets on a wide variety of subjects.
