OMAHA TERRORIZED BY MANIAC 'HATCHET MAN'

THREE KILLED AND TWO BADLY HURT BY FIEND

TRIO OF WOMEN FALL VICTIMS TO BRUTAL AXE MURDERER

OMAHA, Nebr., Nov. 20.—A maniac "hatchet man" who in brutal fury pounced upon his victims as they sleep and smashes in their skulls with his instrument of death was sought by Omaha police today for the killing of two women and an aged man and the wounding of another man and his wife within a 48-hour period.

While the madman apparently slays grown persons without mercy he does not harm babies. Three children of two of the families he attacked were left unharmed in their cribs.

The latest victims of the killer, described by the police as "a fiend, a crazy man" were Harold Stribling, 23, former high school football star, and his wife who were attacked early today as they slept.

He entered the Stribling home at 3 o'clock, beat in Stribling's head after a struggle, then calmly turned on the lights, washed his hands and asked Mrs. Stribling to see the baby. He stood over his crib for several minutes, then forced Mrs. Stribling to go with him to the east Omaha swamps where she finally escaped after three hours. Stribling, doctor said, probably will die, and his wife is in a hospital, cruelly beaten and may lose sight of one eye.

The attack on the Striblings came while hundreds of police were searching the city for the maniac who had killed two women and an aged man 24 hours earlier. His first victims were Mrs. Walter Resso, 21, year old mother of three children; her sister, Greta Brown.

Murder-Suicide Is Dual Death Edict

FORT MYERS, Fla., Nov. 20.—A 50-year-old bride and mother of ten children, and Frank Box, her laborer-husband of 32, were dead today and the verdict was murder and suicide. Although a note in the husband's hand writing described the woman as "the sweetest woman on earth" the coroner's jury decided he had beaten her during a quarrel, and unable to revive her, had shot himself to death. The children, ranging from ten to 30 years in age, were by three other marriages.

RAGING RIVERS LEAVE PATH OF LIVES, DAMAGE

WORST AUTUMN FLOODS IN HISTORY ROLL OVER MID-WEST

Into the lap of Old Man River himself, the deep-rolling Mississippi, was poured today the anger of late autumn floods.

Levees near Quincy, Ill., had crumbled, permitting the waters of swollen tributaries to sweep over thousands of acres of corn, wheat and rice on both the Missouri and Illinois side of the Mississippi.

With this flood, and damage done by the Kentucky and Cumberland Rivers in Kentucky, the uncontrolled waters today had claimed 17 lives and inflicted a property loss roughly estimated at ten million dollars.

Survey of Damage. In Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, where 14 lives have been lost and where property damage has been heaviest, a recession of the waters was making possible a survey of the greatest November flood damage these states have ever known. That was true more particularly in Kansas and Oklahoma, far across Missouri the river that has the same name continued a raging menace.

The Missouri was dangerously close to flood stage across the entire state, and the inundation of great areas of bottom lands near St. Louis was feared. Smaller streams in the St. Louis territory were choked with waters, and many railroad lines and highways throughout the state were blocked.

Thousands Are Homeless. The number of homeless ran high into the thousands. One thousand were driven from their dwellings in (Turn to Page 2, Column 2, Please)

Stewart Perjury Trial Near Close

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Robert W. Stewart's trial on charges of perjury draws near its close. After closing arguments today, there remained only the court's charge, and jury deliberations.

Counsel for chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, presented his case yesterday. The defense attacked the official record of Stewart's testimony when he appeared before the senate public lands committee to answer questions about the Continental Trading company. The question of whether there was a quorum of the committee present when the oil man was questioned was also stressed, and the more than a dozen character witnesses who appeared for the defendant ranged from a bank president and retired railroad vice president to Stewart's chauffeur and a mason's helper.

FATHER-AND-SON BANQUET TONIGHT AT TECH GYMNASIUM WILL ATTRACT CROWD OF 1,000, LEADERS BELIEVE

Following an intensive ticket selling campaign throughout the business section of the city yesterday and today, W. F. Knox, chairman of the financial committee of the Father and Son jamboree, announced that the attendance would be more than 1,000 at the mammoth celebration to be held at the Tech college gymnasium starting at 6:30 o'clock this evening. A definite checkup of the ticket sales was impossible this morning but the unanimous response given by the public indicates a record crowd, and the executive committee, headed by Alex McDonald, is making arrangements to feed a minimum of 1,000. Anyone wishing to attend the affair are asked to buy tickets this afternoon from committeemen or from Bowen's drug, Hotel drug, City drug, Barrier Brothers, Ris Furniture company and Hemphill-Wells. The tickets sell for 25 cents. Final instructions of the officials in charge of the celebration were to be on time and to wear old clothes. Following the assembly at 6:30, "ice-breaker" games will be led by Mr. Knox, a grand march by the Lubbock high school band, community singing, invocation by Rev. W. P. Jennings, eats, address by George W. Dupree, response John Mast, songs, games and finally a shirt tail parade by the fathers. The celebration will end with the singing of America. The rural committee, headed by Charles Whitacre, report a large out of town attendance at the celebration. Fathers without sons and sons without fathers are urged to get in touch with committee men or the Boy Scout headquarters as soon as possible.

DEATH KNELL FOR CHINESE QUEUES

SHANGHAI, Nov. 20.—War has opened on the Chinese of Haiyang Island who persist in wearing queues.

Before the revolution, which began in 1911, a Chinese without a queue came to be looked upon as a symbol of the empire and the long braids of hair were banned. Queues by the million were chopped off. Not a few heads met the same fate when the owner objected too strenuously to losing his queue.

But Haiyang Island, a spot of land off the central China coast, escaped the wrath of the government barbers and for 17 years has afforded a haven where wearers of queues could live in comparative safety. But the Nationalists, although upsetting policies of predecessors right and left have the same opinion towards queues. As a result soldiers have been commissioned as barbers and the men of Haiyang have been named their prey. The harvest of queues is under way on Haiyang and is scheduled to continue until there are no more queues to cut.

BANDITS LOOT PADUCAH FIRM THEN ESCAPE

POSSE SEARCHES FOR PAIR WHO ENGAGED IN GUN BATTLE

VERNON, Nov. 20.—Seventy-five men, heavily armed, were searching in the vicinity of Paducah for two bandits who escaped today after being discovered while looting a department store and engaged in a pitched battle with officers and a fire station crew as they fled.

An automobile which the robbers abandoned two blocks from where the pursuit started bore blood stains, indicating that at least one of the men had been struck by shots.

The car, bearing a South Texas county license plate, was riddled with bullet holes. The pair were surprised by Night Watchman Bob Luedtke, who turned in an alarm. Sheriff A. A. Payne and two other officers answered the summons and reached the establishment before the robbers were aware that they had been discovered.

Giving chase, the officers were joined by firemen who armed themselves at a nearby hardware store. A check revealed that $50 had been taken from a safe which had been forced open.

Smuggling Trail Leads To Jeweler

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A trail of smuggled diamonds, over which it is estimated $35,000,000 in gems have been passing yearly, was expected by federal agents today to lead to the doors of several jewelers.

Held under $5,000 bail is Morris Landau, jeweler, who agents contend was the destined receiver for the $30,000 worth of diamonds found in the bunk of William Ballyn, "singing steward" of the Cunard line's flagship Berengaria. Ballyn, said the agents, admitted bringing into the country in the last two years about $1,000,000 of unset diamonds.

MANY OWE THEIR LIVES TO HIM

After searching for hours in the region where the steamer Vestris was supposed to have sunk, most officers of the S. S. American Shipper gave up hope of finding any survivors. But Captain Schuyler Cummings, above, refused to abandon the hunt. Steering a zig-zag course through the position given by signals, he finally sighted three lifeboats and a raft. His persistence saved 125 lives.

CAMPAIGN FOR DEFEATING OF BONDS IS LAID

Definite steps toward launching an intensive campaign against the passage of the $2,004,000 paving bond issue, to be voted upon December 1st, were taken last night with the meeting of about twenty members of the Tax Payers, an organization in opposition to the proposed highway plan.

C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the organization, appointed a number of committees and outlined a tentative plan for carrying the opposition fight into all parts of the county to combat the efforts of the Lubbock County Good Roads association to secure passage of the measure.

General Discussion Held. A general discussion of the project was held. Opposition was based chiefly on the proposed hard surfacing of county highways in the eastern part of the county which are not included in the allotments of state and federal aid.

An executive committee was appointed, consisting of O. L. Slaton, W. A. Bacon, J. H. Bryan, J. M. Jones and George R. Bean. J. M. Jones is chairman of the finance committee, which includes eleven members. The publicity committee is headed by George R. Bean and the speakers committee by Frank E. Wheelock.

There was no accurate estimate immediately available of the number of wounded, but it was thought to be high.

LOCAL MEN TO ATTEND PARTY AT PLAINVIEW

TOUR OF REGION BEING SERVED BY DENVER LINE IS STARTED

Representatives from neighboring towns have been invited to participate in Lubbock's mammoth welcome program for the more than 500 visitors expected to be here tomorrow on the five special trains over the newly constructed extension of the Fort Worth and Denver South Plains railway lines. It was announced today by the celebration committee of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Many of these cities aided the South Plains in securing the extension by presenting evidence of its need at the Interstate Commerce Commission held at Plainview concerning the proposed line. Granting of the permit for the extension was a result of the evidence presented at the hearing. "We wish our neighbors to share our pleasure in welcoming the visitors in commemoration of the opening of service over the new line," an official of the Chamber of Commerce said today.

Program for welcoming the special trains from Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, and possibly trains from Childress and Memphis, in addition to the special of the Denver railway officials, has been completed, according to C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the arrangements committee.

A party of local men, including Garnett Reeves, Dr. Paul W. Horn, Woody Wester, Tom White and a representative of the Avalanche Journal, will attend Plainview's big celebration in honor of the visitors tonight. The celebration will be climaxed by a wild duck banquet and will be followed by a dance. The specials (Turn to Page 3, Column 2, Please)

ARGUMENTS IN McDONALD CASE

EXPECT LONG DEBATED HEARING TO REACH JURY THURSDAY

(By Associated Press.) PARIS, Nov. 20.—Arguments were to begin in the McDonald case here today, with six and one-half hours allotted to counsel for each side. Taking of testimony was completed Monday. Court officials expect the jury to get the case some time Thursday. Relatives of the late Paris capitalist brought suit to break the will, which left $1,250,000 to the University for an astronomical observatory and a comparatively small sum to his family. This is the second trial of the contest. In the first, proponents of the will won in two lower courts, but the case was reversed by the supreme court. Dr. W. J. Johnson, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane at San Antonio, was the last direct witness for proponents at yesterday's session. McDonald was of sound mind, he said in answer to a hypothetical question. S. M. B. Long, Paris' attorney, was the last witness. Objections, however, prevented testimony he expected to give concerning a $3,000 check given McDonald by him March 27, 1923.

There the travelers were shown a pageant, arranged by Turkey citizens, illustrating its history. The travelers proceeded to Quitaque for another hour's stop. The third stop was at Sterley Junction. SCIENCE PRODUCES SYNTHETIC COAL

LABORATORY PRODUCT MUCH LIKE NATURAL FUEL DEMONSTRATED AT PITTSBURGH

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 20.—The making of synthetic coal to all appearances the equal of natural coal, out of cellulose, was described to the International Conference of Bituminous Coal at Carnegie Institute of Technology today by Friedrich Bergius, German chemist. The process was described in detail by an appropriation was voted to Hale county for two thirds of the cost of building 32 miles of grade and drainage structures through the county on highway 28, from Lamb county to Floyd county. It was estimated the project would cost $85,000. The commission authorized work to begin on Red Oak Gap in Ellis county, the route to be from Street via Red Oak to connect at the Dallas county line with the Lancaster pike. Several motor launches were sent to the vessel's assistance but were unable to reach her because of the rough seas. The steam launch Gazelle this afternoon was trying to come alongside her. Cellulose is a chemical obtained from wood, corn stalk and various plants and is used as an element of many commercial products from silk stockings to auto lacquers and gun powder. Bergius made artificial coal in minute quantities several years ago, but only during the last year, he said today, has he made it in sufficient quantities to demonstrate that it is virtually real coal. This time he converted about 11 pounds of cellulose. It was placed in an airtight metal vessel with water and thoroughly mixed. High pressure was produced in the vessel. The contents were heated to 340 degrees centigrade, by standing the container in molten lead. After 24 hours of this sealed cooking, the heat was shut off, gas that had accumulated inside allowed to escape from the container, and the liquid permitted to condense. When it hardened it was coal. "The results of our investigations," he said, "show again that the end coal resulting from cellulose is very closely related to natural coal, that this end coal is of an aromatic nature and that it therefore is more than likely that a considerable proportion of natural coal is derived from cellulose." He named Dr. Karl Schoenemann as an associate undertaking the cellulose and the lighting experiments.

Greek Steamer Is Adrift In Azores

LONDON, Nov. 20.—A Lloyd's dispatch from the Island of Fayal in the Azores today stated the Greek steamer Alexandra was reported drifting north of Fayal with her rudder broken. Individuality Marks Mode For Smart Matron

BY LUCY CLAIRE
Fashion Expert for Central Press
and The Journal

After all is said and done, it is the smart matron, and not the young girl, who launches the mode in Paris for the couturiers pay great attention to the smart matron, and very little to the sub-deb. Here in America we cater to the young girl in our ready-to-wear departments, expecting the smart matron, looking for youthful lines, to accept the styles created for girls. In Paris it is the famous forty who set the styles. Not one of them is under thirty, a number are over forty, a few over fifty and one over sixty years of age.

The older woman, or smart matron, naturally wants youthful lines. She must be made to look youthful without being made ridiculous. She needs more individuality of cut and line than the young girl, and a little more sophistication, though the type of silhouette is practically the same.

The uneven hemline, long sweeping lines, modest and floating panels contribute to give the matron that sophisticated chic so necessary to smartness. The waistline may be moved up or down to its most becoming location, or simply indicated, as in the belted coat frock, to give the tell-tale middle age set of the hips.

Flaring Panels Give Youthful Line. At the left of the sketch is shown a frock for the smart matron, which achieves its youthful lines through two flaring panels and dart shaped folds of broad work, in a violet frock, the waist is fitted, the skirt is low, and the hem is repeated at the waistbands. All the lines are studied with an eye to making the figure look slim and youthful.

At the center of the sketch is shown a model of Canton falls in black. Here the slenderizing lines are achieved by a tunic effect in two vertical sections, one of which is spirally disposed round the back. The model at the right, created for recent wear, is shantung in a taupe-made suit. The waistline is here marked by pointed cuttings, and the skirt is widened by groups of inverted pleats.

With the violet gown are worn pumps of the new eggplant kid, which come in with the deep violet of the frock. Black kid one-strap shoes are worn with the black frock and one of the darker shades of beige kid in an Oxford model, with the shantung suit showing the three types of shoes for afternoon wear, according to the formality of the frock. The smart matron invariably wears a kid shoe for afternoon formality and the fabric shoe for evening.

Kennedy, Olive Fluke, Sam Leffester, J. L. Stinson, B. M. Croston, Will Tucker, A. W. Evans, R. B. Kerbow, Sidney Oglesbee and H. D. Stanley.

Shower of Nuptial Gifts Is Presented Mrs. Lovic Thompson, Bride, At Party

Those who played were Mrs. Thompson, Miss Stiles, Miss Boyd, Mrs. H. D. Woods, Mrs. F. R. Friend, Mrs. Lawrence Bacon, Mrs. M. L. Price, Mrs. Walker Stanton, Misses D'Ann Sammons, Geraldine Smith, Lucille Moxley, Jane Mast, Mary Lou Baylor, Anna Belle Collins, Ruth Stanton, Doris Vaughn, Mesdames Henry Mobley, Martin R. Smith, Charles A. Guy, Romie Black, Volney Hill and Ross McWhorter.

Living and Loving

CHASE HAPPINESS, IT FLEES; TURN YOUR BACK, IT COMES. It is paradoxical, perhaps, but absolutely true, that those who pursue happiness the hardest are the least likely to find it. You may think you are miserable. Your work is hard, surroundings unpleasant, companions un congenial. Yet if you try to take an interest in the hard work, to be friendly and interested in the un congenial associates and ignore the environment as much as possible, you will find, to your astonishment, that you have not been entirely without joy, and looking back when circumstances have changed you can see that you were actually getting a good deal of life. On the other hand, the person who will not put up with unpleasant circumstances and thinks only of his own happiness often barters the best in life for dust and ashes. This is literally true. This letter and my answer illustrate what I mean.

"My Dear Mrs. Lee: My future rests on your decision, for I think no severer your verdict it is the just one."

"I've been married 12 years. My husband, though very enterprising and somewhat prosperous, is of a serious character, very indifferent, strict and joyless finding. All this has killed my life with him. Four years ago I was introduced to a man of his name across our path—handsome, smart and most humorous. Our identical natures brought us so close together that we fell passionately in love. We went on until he asked me to go with him, but, sacrificing my happiness, I told him to stay in devotion to my stern husband, crushing and smothering my beautiful love? (I have four dear children.) Mrs. Lee, please study. SPAIN."

In your parenthesis lies your answer, Spain. I would not advise you to stay with a man you did not love if it wasn't for the children. I would tell you to talk it over with your husband, telling him exactly how you feel, and asking him to set you free. But what will it mean to the little ones if you leave them? I don't believe you could be happy even with this wonderful man you love so much, and know your children were being neglected, or even that they were being taken care of by someone else and giving her the love they now give you. They are more a part of your being than any man possibly could be. In the end I think you will find more happiness in their companionship, at the same time knowing you are doing what is right, than you could possibly win by deserting your family

TRAIN HITS BABY

Mother Unable To Open Car Door Sees Crash

RANGER, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP)—Inability to open quickly the doors of an automobile about to be struck by a train resulted in the probable fatality of H. L. Baskin, Jr., one of five year old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Baskin, here yesterday.

Seeing a crash was inevitable, Mrs. Baskin frantically sought to unlock the doors. Failing, she jumped from the automobile and tried the doors from the outside, but the train bore down upon her before she could rescue the twins.

Mrs. Baskin started her machine across the tracks after a freight train had passed, oblivious to a passenger train approaching.

M. L. Baskin, other of the twins, and Mrs. Baskin received only minor hurts.

WILL FIGHT HUMAN "SCRAP HEAP"

AMERICAN LABOR FEDERATION TO COMBAT INROADS OF MACHINERY UPON LABORING MAN

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, gave notice here today that the organization will fight to the last ditch in combating the displacement of workmen by machinery.

Speaking before the 48th annual convention of the federation which opened here yesterday, he asserted "that the American Federation of Labor will never permit a human scrapheap to be created in America."

"Our philosophy and objective throughout the world," he said "is human betterment and it is our aim to protect humans before machinery."

"We want a higher standard of living for the workman, shorter working hours with more time for recreation and to devote to his family. Under present conditions, we must carry our fight along many lines."

"We must watch convict labor, child labor, mass production, the displacement of men by machinery and the attempt to destroy the in-

Padlocks were ordered against four speakeasies.

TRADITIONAL YALE-HARVARD CLASH HEADS WEEK'S GRID CARD

TECH BASKETBALL SQUAD TO HOLD FIRST PRACTICE TONIGHT

QUALITY NOT QUANTITY IS SEEN IN TILTS

OTHERS OUTSTANDING IN ARMY-NEBRASKA, N.Y.U.-CARNEGIE

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Quality rather than quantity is the keynote of the Eastern college football schedule this week. Less than half the usual number of games are on the list but there are such attractions as the Yale-Harvard, Carnegie Tech-New York University Princeton-Navy, Nebraska-Army and Georgetown-Fordham.

Most other major college eleven are saving their final battles for Thanksgiving Day. There will be held the annual frays between Cornell and Pennsylvania; Syracuse and Columbia; Colgate and Brown; Pittsburgh and Penn State; and Washington and Jefferson and West Virginia.

Not even so important a game as that between Carnegie Tech and New York University can take much interest away from the Yale-Harvard duel at New Haven. Both teams have been tossed about a bit rudely; neither has the semblance of a claim to any championship honors, yet 15,000 will throng the Yale Bowl, Saturday.

MICHIGAN'S MOST VALUABLE MAN— THAT'S POMMERENING

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM IS GIVEN REST MONDAY

WESTERNERS MUST TRIM VERNON TO FINISH AS RUNNER-UP

The Westerners were given a rest Monday. With eight days in which to prepare for their Turkey Day tilt with the Vernon Lions, Head Coach Henry Frink has the high school gridsters a much needed respite from their arduous grind with the district which Wednesday afternoon would find them in dead earnest for the feature game of the season on the local gridiron with the Vernon eleven.

Although the hard work will not start until tomorrow, Coach Frink announced yesterday that the squad would likely take a light limbering up session today. In firm possession of the runner-up position in the district standings, the Westerners face the Vernon eleven here in the final game with the possibility of ending the season by winning all three teams in the district with the exception of Amarillo.

The Lions at the present time rank slightly below the Westerners in the standing. Lubbock has four victories and one defeat while Vernon has won three and lost one. A running and passing attack featuring the star tailback and captain, Robert Cox, has made itself felt throughout the district this season.

With all the local business houses closed for the day, the largest crowd that has witnessed a game here this year is expected. Vernon will likely run in a special train over the new Fort Worth and Denver line for the contest.

COLLEGE CAGE OUTLOOK GOOD THIS SEASON

COACH PAYNE HAS FIVE LETTERMEN AND FINE ARRAY OF MATERIAL

Taking advantage of a let up in football training during the early part of the week, Basketball Coach Victor Payne will meet all candidates for the 1928-29 basketball team of the college tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the college gymnasium to start practice for the coming cage season.

Since no gridiron contest is scheduled for the week, the Mustangs will not resume training for their final game of the season until Thursday. It was announced from athletic headquarters yesterday that the hard hitting Canyon Buffaloes in Canyon Thanksgiving day, the Bull Fighters will have a full week in which to iron out defects for the turkey day classic.

Five lettermen back.

Several members of the football squad are expected for the initial basketball workout tonight. Among these reporting will be five letter men from previous seasons. Aside from these Coach Payne will have a large number of promising recruits on hand to bolster up his quintet.

Despite the fact that the other football squads in the city were idle Monday, the freshmen gridsters of the college went through their usual workout. Coaches Higginbotham and Peterson will send their charges through a scrimmage session this afternoon.

Emerging from their tussle with the Rowell Cadets in fairly good physical condition, the Fresh have four more days in which to prepare for the "Yearlings" coming here Saturday. The young Bluffs are said to have a formidable football aggregation and local fans are promised plenty of action in the game Saturday.

excluded. Choc Sanders and Ug Bacous, two stellar guards, flank Powell, sterling center of the Ponies. Hopper, big boy from the 1925 Oak "Hiff" High school team backs up in the sensational style. In the backfield there are any number of men extremely capable in the art of totting the leather—Fincher, Kniffel, Love, Johnson, Branton, "Red" and others—not to mention the mighty Hume.

Waco after backing in the inter-district Canyon last seven years, has faded from the championship picture. The lone and bitter trail that leads to the Texas High school "nation" won't seem the same without Paul Tyson and his Tigers.

To the immortal observer, the Waco situation is about as follows: "The Tigers have a great line, one that is undoubtedly the equal of that possessed by any high school in the state. Not more than a half dozen first downs have been made through the Tiger backfield wall by all of Waco's inter-district opponents. The Tyson backfield simply isn't.

The Rev. O. N. Baucum, pastor, discovered the car and reported it to police who notified the owner. Nothing was damaged or missing about the car.

Cleburne, in addition, confronted them with a powerful defense and a punting ace of the first water in Seaman Squires. Squires' long punts kept Waco from getting within scoring distance and when a Tiger drive was started it seemed that a fumble was in order.

Anyway, Waco is out of it. It looks like Cleburne in Waco's district, Oak Cliff in the Dallas district, Marshall in East Texas, Abilene in district two and Amarillo in district one. The other three districts don't figure very much, anyway.

'PLENTY OF SCRAP' SPELLS SUCCESS FOR COLORADO COLLEGE ELEVEN

By NEA Service

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 20.—Only three regulars from 1927 and a complete squad of 27 men, two of whom had never played football before—what a gloomy prospect for any coach to contend with!

That is what W. T. Vandegraaf, coach of the Colorado College eleven, had to start the season with. Strange to say, his team has turned out to be one of the best in the Rocky Mountain section this year, and defeated Montana State and Denver in October games.

"It was rather discouraging when practice was started," Coach Vandegraaf says, "but the team has been playing real football and I have hopes of tucking away a few more victories this year.

"We have a nice backfield, which is working a great forward passing game and running the ends well, and a green line that is developing daily.

"But the best characteristic of all is that we have plenty of scrap on that football field."

JACKRABBITS TO PLAY FINAL GAME WITH POST, TURKEY DAY

(Special To The Journal)

RALLS, Nov. 20.—The Ralls Jackrabbits battled the Floydada Whirlwinds to a 6-6 tie here yesterday and still remain in the running for the championship of the class B teams in district 3. The game was played on a muddy field and as a result both teams were forced to resort to the overhead game.

Ralls plays its final game on Thanksgiving day with the Post Antelope, claimants of the district title. In case the Jackrabbits win over the Post before the two teams will be tied for honors. The district committee will award the championship in that event.

Dempsey Referees Salt Lake City Go

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, here from New York for a visit with the relatives referred the main event of a fight card staged last night in the ring which years ago saw the former champion battle as a preliminary boy, Jack declared the ten rounder between Adrian Elton, Salt Lake 130 pounder, and Dave Popp, of Denver a draw.

Dempsey told newspapermen that he was "keeping in good shape," but added "I won't fight again. I want to get out of it while I'm whole."

One of these Saturdays, peace will settle down upon the nations and the army and navy won't have another "cruel" game. Pacifists had nothing to do with those schedules.

It is estimated that the interest alone on the debts owed by 40 governments to the United States, represents the wages of five million workers.

Fifteenth Death From Grid Season

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The death yesterday of Mark Carey, Follansbee, W. Va., high school player, was the 15th fatal injury of the football season.

Carey suffered a blistered heel during a football game against Chester high school. Blood poisoning developed and the boy, who was 16, died yesterday.

JUNIOR TEAMS TO PLAY HERE

LUBBOCK — PLAINVIEW YOUNGSTERS CLASH THIS WEDNESDAY

A mid-week game which promises to furnish Lubbock football fans plenty of action will be staged on the Tech field Wednesday afternoon when the local Junior High school eleven meets the Plainview Bullpups in the second game of the season between the two teams. The contest will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Members of the junior team, the Westerners of tomorrow, have been working out daily on the grounds adjacent the Senior High school building under the tutelage of George Brown and Mule Davis. A number of promising gridsters have been uncovered by the junior coaches and their performance tomorrow will be watched with interest.

E. J. Lowrey, athletic manager, announced yesterday that the proceeds from this game will go toward buying new football equipment for the junior team. At the present time, the slightly undersized gridsters are using uniforms that are far too large for them and the need for new suits is apparent.

HOKS SLIDES

Just a Little Teasing

The captains of the North Carolina and Georgia Tech football teams are centers and in a recent game down south they engaged several times in animated conversation that caused the spectators to become curious.

When Harry Schwartz, the North Carolina captain, return home, he explained to a reporter what had been the subject of his conversation with Peter Pund, the Georgia Tech captain.

"After Pund got in the game and several plays were made he came up to me and asked that neither of us use our hands on defense," he said. "Why I was never more surprised in all my life. I had never heard of such a thing. All that I was doing was to hit him on the flap of his hand on both sides of his ears. I was not pushing him over, just boxing his ears as he hiked the ball back each time."

Pund Wouldn't Go There

"It seemed to worry Mr. Pund. As he was making his passes which of course pleased me plenty. When I told him to go to—he said he was going to tell the referee. This remark was so funny I could not help but laugh. Mr. Pund did not tell the referee.

After hearing the tale of the North Carolina captain and Mr. Pund's young men remarked:

"It's a good thing that Peter never gets mean. He's the most powerful man in football."

He Should Have—What

Frank Murray, head football coach at Marquette, is warned up to toss a hot protest at the rules committee this winter about the action of Jimmy Keegan, a referee who worked in the Marquette-Holy Cross game.

Marquette had scored a touchdown, which tied the score at six all. The teams lined up for the point after touchdown play and there was a delay which Murray admits was the fault of the Marquette team. When the legal limit of 30 seconds had passed, Keegan stepped in, picked up the ball and ruled that Marquette had forfeited the chance to convert the point.

Murray insists, and he claims he has plenty of support, that the referee had no authority to make such a decision.

Give 'Em Bicycles

While the officials are considering this complaint and others that may arise they might discuss means and methods of keeping a slow-footed umpire out of the play or put their heavy-legged gents through a course of training in sprinting.

In a recent game between Western Reserve and Wooster the umpire, E. D. Jones, found himself between a Reserve ball carrier and the Wooster safety man.

The Reserve back was smart enough to adapt a comical situation to his own advantage and when the umpire set out in mad flight for the sidelines, Hal Blot, the ball carrier, used him as interference. The umpire finally saw that he couldn't run out of the situation and he decided, with a burst of brilliant strategy, to take a flop. But in taking his dive to the turf he rolled into the Wooster safety man and took him clear out of the play and Blot sauntered over for a touchdown.

SPLIT SEASON A FAILURE

Alex J. Heintemann, president of the New Orleans Southern League club, thinks that the split season idea in that league this summer was a failure.
