Millions Are Stranded By Bus Walkout

Paris Preparing For Worst; Shops Opened As Usual

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Sept. 24.—A two-hour general strike of 7,000,000 workers is scheduled to hit France this afternoon.

Paris prepared for the worst.

The capital area's 4,000,000 residents were stranded without public transportation by a 24-hour subway and bus strike that began at 4 a. m. (11 p. m., EST, Thursday). The subway and bus strike was called independently of the briefer general strike and will cripple the city's activity until 4 a. m. Saturday.

100 Percent Effective

By mid-morning the transport strike was 100 per cent effective. Among those who found themselves afoot were 5,000 visitors to Paris attached to the United Nations general assembly. Official U. N. vehicles were unable to cary them all.

Despite the lack of buses and subway trains, Paris' daily business life appeared to go on as usual. Shops were open. Bicycles, motorcycles and automobiles appeared in greater numbers than on most days.

It was announced that Premier Henri Queuille would speak to the French nation by radio tonight. The nature of his talk was not disclosed.

Walkout Is Warning

The nation-wide general strike is set to begin at 3 p. m. (10 a. m., EST). Communist and non-Communist union chiefs called the walkout as a warning to Premier Henri Queuille's government that they want higher wages and lower living costs.

Despite the dramatic aspect of the labor protest, the French cabinet began the day with a new, and at least temporary lease on life.

Queuille quelled a political revolt in the national assembly yesterday by pushing through the postponement of local elections from October until next March. The assembly voted 302 to 276 to postpone the elections.

Thus appeased, the Socialists in the council of the republic, upper House of Parliament, joined in endorsing Queuille's 80,000,000,000 franc ($280,000,000) revenue rais-

Storm Blowing Into Open Sea

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24 (AP) — A tricky but powerful hurricane sped up the Atlantic early today, menacing shipping off the eastern seaboard.

Still packing 75-mile-an-hour winds over a 50-mile radius, the two-fisted storm that battered Cuba and Florida picked up forward movement as it bowled northeastward in the open sea.

It moved forward at 35 miles an hour after lumbering through Florida at only eight miles an hour.

Caution Advised

All shipping in the storm's path was advised to use caution and small craft was warned to remain in port.

Latest advisory from the Miami Weather bureau placed the hurricane center approximately midway between the U. S. mainland and Bermuda. It passed 300 miles east southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C., and was due to pass about 300 miles to the northwest of the British-owned island.

Heavy gales covered the area from the North Carolina and Virginia coasts to near Bermuda, which was struck by a storm only two weeks ago.

The island resort took precau-

Russia Denounces UN Little Assembly As An Illegal Body

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Sept. 24. — Russia denounced the U. N. little assembly today as an illegal body designed to undermine the security council.

Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik brought to the floor of the United Nations assembly Russia's unrelenting battle against the group which was set up as a committee of the whole to work out problems. Russia has boycotted it.

Demands Agenda Cleared

Malik, speaking in the absence of Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, demanded the elimination from the general assembly's agenda of all items referring to the little assembly. These included the problem of independence for Korea; proposals to limit the use of the veto in the security council; establishment of the little assembly on a permanent basis, and proposals to promise international political cooperation.

Malik also demanded the assembly strike from its agenda the Balkans commission report which found that Greek Communist rebels were aided by Greece's Communists neighbors countries, and the Argentina proposal to admit to U. N. membership nations which received seven security council votes Russia's veto stopped the applications of Italy, Austria, Finland, Eire, Portugal and Trans-Jordan in the security council.

Charter Violation Claimed

Malik contended this proposal violated and undermined the U. N. charter and he urged the delegates to refuse to discuss it. The charter provides that an applicant for membership must get the approval of all of the big five nations.

Malik raged also at a Chilean proposal accusing Russia of violating human rights in forbidding Russian wives to join foreign husbands outside the Soviet union. He said this was Russia's own domestic affair.

Great-Powers Accused

Earlier South Africa charged the great powers broke faith with small nations. She threatened to reconsider her membership in the U. N. if there is no change.

E. H. Louw, South African minister of economic affairs, told the general assembly that "if the organization of the United Nations continues on the road it followed during the past two years, the question will later have to be

PRESIDENT TRUMAN CHALLENGED

Spy Probers Want FBI Chief To Talk

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—President Truman was challenged today to let FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover "tell the truth" about espionage in this country to spy-hunting congressmen.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif), a member of the House un-American activities committee, said the administration is "afraid to let Hoover testify before the committee because of the names he would name.

"They are afraid of the political consequences," Nixon told reporters.

Clark Denies Charge

Attorney General Clark, who was accused yesterday of refusing Hoover permission to appear before a Senate group, denied that charge flatly. He said Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) who had made the accusation, "deliberately mis-states the facts."

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) the acting chairman of the House group, hoped to assemble enough members today to recommend espionage indictments against three Americans—including two unidentified atomic scientists and a "Communist functionary"—who he says heped give atomic information to Russia.

Libel Suit Threatened

Meanwhile Elizabeth T. Bentley, whose testimony about a wartime Russian spy ring touched off the current investigations, was threatened with a libel suit by one of the men she accused. William W. Remington now suspended

Railways Seek Rate Increase

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP) — An eight per cent increase on most freight rates will be asked by the nation's railroads. It is their sixth request for higher rates since the end of the war.

Approval by the Interstate Commerce commission of the new rates would boost the annual freight bill several hundred million dollars. However, no official estimate was made by carrier spokesmen.

The Interstate Commerce commission has estimated that the five rate boosts granted the railroads since the end of the war total about 40 per cent. However, the increases vary widely depending on the particular commodity

New Rates Decided On

The new rates to be asked — with a somewhat lower boost for a few commodities—were decided at a series of conferences here this week by traffic executives from all the carriers.

"Current freight rate levels are not producing sufficient revenue to meet the carriers' requirements," said W. H. Dana, chairman of the Western Traffic Executive committee.

He said the boost does not take into account any wage increase that might be granted in connection with the current demands of the railroad brotherhoods.

Negotiations Conducted

The carriers now are conducting wage negotiations with five operating unions representing some 350,000 workers. Wage talks between 16 non-operating brotherhoods and the carriers collapsed

Postal Rates Boost Slated For Jan. 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (U.P.)—A wide variety of increases in postal rates will become effective Jan. 1, including a boost in air mail letter postage from five to six cents an ounce.

A postcard may be sent by air for four cents, however, instead of the five cents charged at present.

There will be increases all along the line in the graduated scale of parcel post rates. The pound rate for sending catalogues also will be increased.

In addition, the pound rate for mailing books will be eight cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound. It is now three cents a pound, plus a small additional charge for each parcel in the shipment.

The charge for "special handling" service on parcel post will go up five cents for each weight classification.

Elderly Idaho Solon Must Pay Off

80-Year-Old Woman Chalks Up Jilting As More Experience

(By The United Press)

BOISE, Ida., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Jessie E. Simmons, 80, Kansas City, Mo., today wrote off her romance with an 80-year-old Idaho legislator as just one more experience in a long lifetime.

The romance cost former State Rep. Hyrum S. Lewis of Delco, Ida., an $8,000 judgment awarded Mrs. Simmons by a federal court yesterday.

Mrs. Simmons, a pert little gray-haired lady, charged that Simmons promised to marry her in Salt Lake City last April, and then ducked out.

She had asked $20,700 for breach of promise.

Lewis denied that he asked Mrs. Simmons to marry him. But he admitted writing a letter which said:

"I want a wedding that is plain, simple and sacred. I hope you are never disappointed in me."

Mrs. Simmons testified that Lewis was very attentive to her during visits.

"He took me in his arms and I pulled away from him, but

Challenge On Issues Made By President

Governor Plans Counter Blow At Hollywood Rally

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman turned eastward from California today with a challenge to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to "a championship fight" with no "running away from the record or ducking the issues."

Thus far, Mr. Truman said, he has had nothing but "double talk" and "high sounding words" from his Republican opponent.

Dewey prepared to turn loose a counter-punch tonight in a Hollywood bowl address on the administration's handling of the Communism-in-government issue.

Challenge Is Issued

Mr. Truman issued his challenge last night at Los Angeles, where he spoke in partly-filled Gilmore stadium. At the same time he made a direct bid for support from liberal voters leaning toward Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party.

Don't "waste votes," he said, on a third party which he declared is powerless to obtain peace in the world or improve conditions in this country.

"Think again," Mr. Truman said. "This is the hour for the liberal forces of America to unite. We have hopes to fulfill and goals to attain. Together we can rout the forces of reaction once again."

Henry Strikes Back

Wallace struck back at the Truman administration in which he once served, as he opened his final vote-drive in Toledo, Ohio.

The former cabinet member accused the railroads of "defrauding" the government of $2,000,000,000 in wartime freight charges. He said the administration is hiding this from the public by postponing hearings on the matter.

Wallace termed this a "striking example of subservience of the Truman administration to vested interests."

"Behind a curtain of fear," he said, "the monopolists have converted the government of Franklin Roosevelt into the model of Republican reaction which we defeated four times."

GOP Candidate Dewey, meanwhile, told a Phoenix, Ariz., rally last night that this country must go on producing atomic weapons until world peace is secure.

To do otherwise, the New York governor said, would "invite disaster."

But he added that eventually "we are determined that this great new force" shall be turned into "an instrument of peace — not war."

Ambassador Smith Arrives In Capital

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador to Moscow, arrived by plane today and immediately met with under-secretary of State Lovett.

Smith went directly from national airport to the State department for a 30-minute talk with Lovett. The ambassador flew here from Paris on the "Independence," President Truman's private plane.

In Paris, Smith had talked with Secretary of State Marshall about the negotiations for ending the Soviet blockade of Berlin. Marshall is in Paris for a meeting of the United National general assembly.

Gene Tierney Loses Jewelry To Thieves

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—Movie actress Gene Tierney (Mrs. Oleg Cassini) reported to police last night that $15,300 worth of jewelry had been stolen from her apartment just off Fifth avenue.

The actress said the jewelry, which she had worn recently, was stolen from a dresser drawer in her bedroom, apparently some time in the past eight days.

Miss Tierney told detectives she discovered the loss when she examined the drawer. All the articles were insured, she said.

The actress is living here with her husband.

Plot To Kill Juan Peron, His Wife And Cabinet Ministers In Argentina Said Revealed

(By The United Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24.—Argentine police arrested 13 persons early today on charges of plotting to assassinate President Juan D. Peron in a conspiracy which government officials said was directed by a former United States embassy official, John F. Griffiths.

Police said Senora Eva Duarte Peron, Argentina's first lady, and several cabinet ministers also were slated for assassination. They reported finding a number of documents relating to the alleged plot.

Police Make Swoop

Among those arrested were Cipriano Reyes, former deputy in the national assembly and a well-known labor leader, two naval chaplains and one woman.

Police swooped down on a fashionable apartment building in the Avenida Quintana this morning officials said, and arrested the 13 alleged conspirators.

They are identified as:

Reyes, Senora Spangenberg De Garcia Velloso, Luis Garcia Velloso, Naval Chaplain Horacio Moreno, Father Carlos Grande, Naval Chaplain Victor Farias, Ernesto Vila, Hector Ernesto Gomez, Avila Leon, Emilio Frank, Simon Walter, Manuel Allende and Hector Reyes.

All those detained were taken to the heavily guarded national penitentiary, police said.

THREE-DAY TOUR IS SCHEDULED

Truman To Arrive In Texas Saturday

(By The United Press)

Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham will go to El Paso today to meet President Truman's special train when it arrives there tomorrow.

Rayburn, House minority leader, is in charge of arrangements for Mr. Truman's three-day campaign swing through Texas, which will reach a climax when the President makes his major Texas speech in Bonham Monday night.

Jester To Join Party

Also journeying to El Paso to board the Truman train was Gov Beauford H. Jester. Mrs. Jester was to join the presidential party in San Antonio Sunday.

The governor plans to remain with the President during his entire Texas visit.

There was plenty of excitement in Uvalde today, preparatory to Mr. Truman's stopping there Sunday morning to pay his respects to John N. (Cactus Jack) Garner, former vice president in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

To Select Coat

The President will breakfast with Garner and will be asked to pick a gift goat from a flock of 3,000 Angoras which the townspeople will have at the station.

Uvalde Democratic women will stage a mammoth breakfast in Kincaid hotel while the presidential party is in town. It will be open to the public for the price of $1. The money will be given to the Truman campaign.

Mr. Truman was expected to appear briefly at the breakfast.

In Bonham, the President will

Village Barber Too Busy For Inflation

MARIETTA, O., Sept. 24 (AP) There still is one town in the United States where you can get a haircut for 15 cents and a shave for 10.

It is nearby Lowell, a community of 1,000 residents, where William Ray has been in business with an old-fashioned wooden chair for 30 years. He's the town's only barber.

Asked why he still was charging only 15 cents while barbers in this town were getting $1, Ray explained today:

"I just haven't had time to raise my prices. My business keeps me too busy."

Ray, working every day except Sunday from 7 a. m., to 8 p. m., clips an average of 300 heads a week.

Cost Of Living Still Going Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—The cost of living index rose another notch in August and while the Bureau of Labor Statistics detected a tiny drop in retail food prices, the signs indicated it won't last.

The index represents retail prices of goods and services usually bought by moderate-income families in large cities.

Factory Wages Hiked

Wages of factory workers hit another high of $53.86 a week, the bureau announced at the same time.

While cost of living went up, retail food prices fell off 0.1 per cent—to 216.6 per cent of the 1935-39 average. That was 10.2 per cent higher than a year ago and 48.8 per cent above the June, 1946 level.

But as food prices slipped a bit, wholesale prices—which will determine food prices tomorrow and next week—hit another all-time high.

The only time in American history when wholesale prices might have been higher was right after the Revolutionary war. The bureau has figures compiled for Congress after the War for Independence which would have produced an index of more than 170,

B-29's Taken From Storage Each Week

1,000 More Aircraft Placed On Active List During Year

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The United States has about 1,000 more first line warplanes active now than it had at the beginning of the year.

The Air Force made available figures today showing that on July 1 the regular air arm, the national guard and air reserve units had approximately 5,000 first line combat planes active. On January 1 the total was 4,000.

In general, first line planes are fairly late-model bombers, fighters and reconnaissance aircraft; second line planes are those not so new but still in use. Of the 5,000 "active" planes not all are assigned to units and in regular operation. The figure includes spare aircraft.

The withdrawal of about three to five B-29s from storage every week for several months accounts for some of the expansion in the active fleet. Between 400 and 500 B-29s are now operational.

The only indication of the build-up in fighter strength was an announcement several

Judge Refuses To Decide On Johnson Plea

Delay In Bitter Senate Fight To Oct. 4 Is Seen

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 24.—Federal Judge J. C. Hutcheson, jr., today ordered that the Johnson-Stevenson battle over the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate be heard by a full U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Atlanta October 4.

Hutcheson, presiding officer of the New Orleans circuit court which meets next month in Atlanta, declined to act on a petition by Lyndon Johnson for a stay of execution of a temporary injunction which Federal District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson signed yesterday in Dallas.

Bars Name From Ballot

The injunction, sought by former governor Coke Stevenson, Johnson's opponent in the August Democratic runoff election, prevents the secretary of state from placing Johnson's name on the November ballot as the Democratic nominee as junior senator from Texas.

On September 14, the state Democratic convention at Fort Worth certified Johnson as the winner of the August runoff election by having gained a majority of 87 votes out of approximately 1,200,000 ballots cast.

Only a few minutes before Hutcheson ruled the appeal would have to go before the full court he had told participating attorneys in the case that he would rule on the Johnson motion late today or tomorrow.

The swift change of action came shortly after a hearing on the motion entered its fifth hour in the crowded private chambers of the Houston judge.

Informal Conference

Hutcheson made his ruling during an informal conference which followed arguments by represenatives of Johnson and Stevenson.

As today's action began, Hutcheson reminded the participants that "this is a plea on a motion for stay of the injunction and is not a trial."

John Cofer, Austin, opened the arguments for Johnson, with former Governor Dan Moody beginning a rebuttal shortly after 10 a. m.

"Judge Davidson said this is an election contest, in his mind," Cofer said, "and that the real question before him was whether one or the other of the candidates had been elected. In effect he is attempting to decide in this injunction suit who is the winner.

"We think that under the rule this court has the right to pre-

Two Suspects Held In Thefts

Two Plainview men, said to be brothers-in-law, were in custody of the Lubbock county sheriff's department today for questioning in connection with a wave of thefts of a large number of batteries from irrigation wells in eastern Lubbock and western Crosby county.

The announcement from Sheriff Grady Harrist's office said more than 20 batteries had been recovered with arrest of the pair early today after a farmer who had been victimized noticed, while driving into town, a truck containing a large number of batteries parked near the highway, and notified the sheriff. He said two men were asleep in the truck.

Had Left Scene

The pair had left the scene when officers arrived, but were accosted a few minutes later while in the process of selling the batteries to a Lubbock business house.

One of the men indicated he was ready to make a statement in connection with the case, and it was probable charges would be filed later in the day, the announcement said.

City police had a relatively quiet night. Two Mexicans, one from Hondo and the other from Houston, were jailed for questioning in pilfering of automobiles in the 700 block of Thirteenth street. A woman had seen the pair from an upstairs window near the scene and reported to police, despite darkness, she said light was sufficient she could mark them, and she identified them at the police station.

Israel Offers $20,000 Reward For Assassins Of Bernadotte

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 24 (AP)—Israel has put up a $20,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of Count Volke Bernadotte's assassins.

The announcement was made last night by Prime Minister David Bengurion who told the legislative assembly the government has seized all known Stern gang military bases and arms caches and arrested 246 members of the group without resistance. He said 184 of those arrested were picked up in Jerusalem.

UN Settlement Opposed

The Israeli government has blamed the Stern gang for the death of the United Nations Palestine mediator.

Meanwhile an Israeli government spokesman, commenting on recommendations contained in Bernadotte's final report to the UN said:

"We prefer that the boundaries of Israel be finally fixed by formal agreement between the Jews and Arabs" instead of through UN mapping.

The spokesman also turned down suggestions for Arab control in Haifa.

He declared Israel had the right to consider Jerusalem as part of the young Jewish state and said developments since the UN voted for partition last Nov. 29 seemed to warrant "certain improvements in the original (Israeli) boundary."

Neutral Zone Problem

He added that "while the religious and international significance of Jerusalem is fully realized and respected, we must continue to stress its unique position in Jewish history and present day Jewish life, as well as the fact that it was the courage and endurance of the Jews alone which saved the city from complete destruction and subjugation to Arab rule."

Regarding the suggestion for a demilitarized zone, the spokesman said:

"By accepting the creation of such a zone the invading armies give up nothing which is theirs while the state of Israel is expected to contract the limits of its territorial sovereignty."

The spokesman, who declined to be quoted by name, also rejected any yielding of the Negeb territory and said any consideration on returning Lydda or Er Ramle to the Arabs must hinge upon a guarantee to the Jewish state of "unbroken territorial connection with Jerusalem."

Salesgirls' Glamor Not So Profitable

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (U.P.)—The girl behind the department store perfume counter may have the glamor but it's the man selling washing machines who makes the money.

A survey by the U. S. Department of Labor shows that the salesgirls earn an average of $53.31 a week. The earnings range from $75.78 in the furniture department to $37.33 for notion counter girls.

Women engaged in non-selling jobs averaged only $36.00.

Top earnings of $114.18 were reported by salesmen in major appliance departments and the pay ranged downwards to the $53.01 average in the housewares sections. Among non-selling jobs the pay ranged from $37.70 for stockmen to $74.76 for maintenance carpenters.

FORT WORTH, Tex., (U.P.)—Two golfers scored aces from the same tee on the same day at Ridglea course here. The first was Jack McCreary, Baylor University student. Less than an hour later H. R. Pipkin made an ace on the par-three 150-yard hole.

Allredd thanked the troopers for their trouble but refused to take the anti-toxin.

John D.'s Milk And Crackers, No Steak, Just Proof That Wealthy Man Not Always Happiest

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—As a boy I often wondered why poor old Mr. Rockefeller never came to our house for dinner.

I mean the elder John D. Rockefeller.

His picture was often in the papers, and he looked like a nice old man who could use a good home-cooked meal. And my father, whenever he brought home a tough steak, would try to make it taste more tender by saying:

"Well, anyway wouldn't Rockefeller like to gnaw on this?"

Once I asked my father why we didn't invite Mr. Rockefeller over for a square meal sometime. My old man laughted at that for years. He agreed it would be a polite and neighborly gesture, but explained:

Father Explains

"He's the richest man in the world, son. Why he could afford to have a whole steer barbecued at every meal if he wanted to. But he's got a bad stomach—all he can eat is milk and crackers."

For a long time after that I felt very sorry for Mr. Rockefeller. I imagined him, seated at a long table, clad in a suit of pure gold, shining with crystal and silver. A bevy of butlers in scarlet velvet would wheel in a giant steer, done to a golden brown, and one white-haired retainer would ask anxiously:

"Please, Mr. Rockefeller, won't you just taste it this once?"

And Rockefeller would reply in a sad voice:

"No, James, my stomach has been cutting up again. Throw it all away, and bring me my crackers and milk."

Visions Mr. Rockefeller

After this I could vision Mr. Rockefeller getting up from his table, still hungry, and going into a vast bedroom stacked to the ceiling with banknotes, where he despondently counted himself to sleep like this:

"One million, two million, three million, four million—z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z."

I suppose this juvenile mental picture of Rockefeller's home life was somewhat overdone. But ever since then I have never envied men of great wealth.

I still don't. I have traveled through 51 countries in war and peace, and I can't remember a rich man or a poor man who really felt secure in terms of money. For there is always a threat to the value of money as money.

Wealthy Man Plagued

A wealthy man is always plagued by fear he will lose his money—and by doubt that his wife or his friends would stick by him if he lost it. Many wise men with riches—such as Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie—found that they got even more fun out of giving money away than they did out of making it.

Once in Rome, while watching an Italian workman cheerfully fork down his simple meal of bread and spaghetti, I realized that all my life I had been feeling sorry for poor old Mr. Rockefeller for the wrong reason. It wasn't so bad that, for all his wealth, he was forced to eat milk and crackers. The sad thing was that he probably didn't even enjoy his milk and crackers.

It isn't yearning for what you haven't got that makes you unhappy—it's disliking the simple good things that you do have. A man should always be wealthy if he has two things—the good health his animal nature requires and a human goal to work toward.

It's the feeling of working toward something that counts. As Willa Cather said:

"Our best years are when we're working hardest and going right ahead when we can hardly see our way out. Success is never so interesting as struggle—not even to the successful, not even to the most mercenary forms of ambition."

Washington Lobbyist Doesn't Dump Pots Of Champagne Around To Influence Congress

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (U.P.)—You think of a lobbyist as a guy who sneaks out from behind a potted palm every once in awhile to pitch a heckuva cocktail party that'll be talked about. . . .

The sort of a gardenia-in-buttonhole person who makes two or three times the salary of the congressmen he's paid to influence on this bill or that.

This version doesn't fit old Ben Marsh. He doesn't pour champagne down his own gullet and can't figure the percentage in dumping it down anybody else's.

Salary Boost Refused

"No way to influence people," he says.

Ben, who is gray, skinny, wrinkled and extremely active for one pushing 72 makes $1,800 a year. He has resisted all attempts of the people's lobby, which he represents, to up his salary. Ben says his pay is about the average of the people he represents. And he wants it to stay that way.

Briefly stated, the lobby is—well, for the people. It stands for public ownership of natural resources, paying the cost of government by taxation on the basis of ability to pay, government direction of farm production, etc. It doesn't go around begging but accepts contributions. Many of its directors and council members are professors of economics at the big universities.

First Lobbyist Registered

But mostly, the people's lobby is Benjamin C. Marsh, the executive secretary.

He's been a lobbyist in the capital for over 30 years. Two years ago, when the lobbyist registration act was passed, he left a meeting in Albany, N. Y., and rushed back to be the first to register. In his book, that makes him the nation's No. 1 lobbyist.

Don't get me wrong. Mr. Marsh, a lovable, talkative old man is no crackpot. He is respected for his honesty and straight-forwardness. And he can turn a prettier phrase than many of his younger colleagues.

Writes President

Ben's widely quoted for such phrases as:

"Popular convictions are more important than political conventions.

"You can't rush the mourners. No economic changes can be made until such changes are inevitable."

Ben writes, mimeographs and mails people's lobby press releases from a paper-littered office on F street. In a recent one, he got a little stern with the President of the United States.

"Mr. President," he wrote, "it is your duty to drive the rapacious horde of profiteers out of the temple of democracy . . . to protect the common people."

ONE WAY TO DO IT

TONOWANDA, N. Y., (U.P.)—Officials of the Kenilworth volunteer fire company found a new use for their fire siren. Finding trouble in rounding up enough members to prepare stands for their field day program, the officials sounded the fire siren. Volunteer firefighters quickly responded and were put to work.

Federation Is At Luncheon

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college, addressed the City Federation at a luncheon meeting in the Hilton hotel ballroom Thursday afternoon.

Invocation was by Mrs. H. F. Godeke.

The hope of civilization is not in more understanding, but in acquisition of motives that control understanding, the college president pointed out in a thirty-minute talk. Two basal attitudes, understanding and appreciation, control the behavior of every individual, the speaker suggested. These great forces that guide ones relation to his fellow man are not inherited and not accidental but gained through experiences, through education, through love and sympathy.

Wives Are Guests

Mrs. Russell Denison, first vice president, introduced Dr. Wiggins. Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. E. N. Jones, wife of Tech's vice president, also were special guests.

Preceding the meal, Mrs. Asher Thompson sang "I Love Thee" (Grieg) and "Italian Street Song" (Herbert), accompanied at the piano by Mrs. T. W. Womack.

Mrs. L. D. Marshall presided for a short business meeting and introduced Mrs. Elliott W. Adams as a new member and Amiga club as the newest organization to affiliate itself with the Federation.

A luncheon meeting has been planned for the City Federation for Oct. 28 with Mrs. Ross Ayers in charge of a program on "Promoting Democracy and Understanding Throughout the World."

One hundred eight women attended the program luncheon. Hostess clubs were Allegro Music, Clement-Sorosis and the Woman's Forum with Mrs. Guy Brown in charge of arrangements.

Reception Given By PTA In Honor Of Faculty

Sixty-three members attended the tea given Thursday afternoon by East Broadway Parent-Teacher association honoring the school faculty. Mrs. Marshall Howard, president, introduced the teachers.

During a business session, a Hallowe'en carnival to be held Friday, Oct. 29, was discussed and plans for a P-TA yearbook were made.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Pastor's Wife, Previously Content, Is Upset Over Her Husband's Friend Of College Days

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a minister's wife and until a year ago I had led a pleasant quiet life with David, my husband. Then John, his best friend in college days, came to this city to make his home.

Knowing that he was cordially welcome, John visited the parsonage often, and we, too, became quite friendly. I found him very different from my husband; more exciting, active and at times very romantic.

He paid me continuous compliments and in many other ways showed signs of admiring interest; and as a result my feeling are in great turmoil. I have never experienced this reaction to a man before, and I spend sleepless nights wondering what will be the outcome of this tempest in my heart.

John knows of my feelings and feels the same about me, but due to David's position as a clergyman, a divorce would endanger his state in life. How can I go on living with a man whom I know I cannot love? My existence will be dull monotony and misery. Please advise me at once, so that my mind will be at rest. Signed F. M.

THIS DASHING FELLOW IS SEASONED TRIFLER

DEAR F. M.: As I get the picture, John is a self-loving, irresponsible scramp, a seasoned flirt and old hand at trifling, who sensed something new in the way of adventure—something refreshingly unusual, from his vaietist viewpoint — when he came across a minister's wife whose pulse obviously quickened at his routine blandishments.

In my opinion, he is playing upon your feelings, undermining your morale and psychologically if not literally making a conquest of you, all without serious intentions; and to excuse his failure to cap his irresponsible court with a marriage offer, he is mock-piously arguing consideration for David's position, and will continue to follow this line until he tires of the game.

This I infer from your guarded wording, to-wit: "John knows of my feelings and feels the same about me, but due to David's position, a divorce would endanger his state in life." The sequence of ideas suggests that John is pointing to the allegedly insuperable obstacle; and your next question, "How can I go on living with a man I cannot love?" amounts to a fervid protest of John's pseudo-noble sentiment, which is to say that you wouldn't let concern for David stand in your way.

WOMAN'S AT ODDS WITH ROLE IN LIFE

PERHAPS you are pretty and certainly you are naive; thus you might have great natural appeal for an old wolf; but whatever your type, I daresay John would have waxed gallant as a matter of habit when in your company, so long as you had a vestige of youth and weren't deformed.

Doubtless he appraised you as an agreeable hostess, amiable and personally attractive, worthy of his finest apple-polishing arts, but what precipitated the active flirtation was his awareness of your agitated response to his "romantic" temperament. In brief, he sensed your hunger for the sort of excitement in which he specializes; and in going behind David's back to oblige, he cynically feels that he's behaving no worse than David's wife in the matter.

For advice: In all probability your emotional upheavel isn't sparked by the man himself. Rather I think it is an indirect manifestation of maladjustment to the circumscribed role of minister's wife; also an unconscious repudiation of David's straitlaced clerical decorum. And this is the problem you should tackle, via psychiatric inquiry, in order to integrate your personality and get your future course firmly in mind. M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

TRIALS AND TROUBLES

UNEXPECTED events came up at most of the period rush parties for girls' social clubs to add a note of humor to the scheduled programs . . . Alyce Howell, Jo Rae Watson and Carolyn Cole were supposed to be the vocal trio at a Sans Souci function, but Alyce's soprano voice dropped to low base and spoiled the harmony, and Jo Rae was unable to attend. But Mesdames John McLarty and Julian Fairly stepped in to help Carolyn, and a very good number was given after all.

• • •

DFD Difficulties: Ko Shari and DFD clubs unknown to either of them, had the same punch service reserved for the same time and day. So DFD's solved the problem by becoming the proud owners of a new punch bowl all their own . . . Heat of the summer sun almost brought an end to the DFD program. It seems that Polly Gossett, Margaret Smart and Boots Jobe had rehearsed a lip movement number using records for sound effects. The records were left in a car during the afternoon, and being plastic, they melted. After a frantic search of all the record shops, replacements were found at th last minute. Polly portrayed the vocalist in "Manana" wearing a clever Mexican costume, and the other two girls wore big sombreros. They also did an "Andrews Sisters" imitation in costume. Even Joan Booth's best friends didn't know of her talent as a vocalist, until she did an excellent solo number as a part of the entertainment.

• • •

LAS Chaparritas: Rushees had a laugh at the expense of Guida Miller, when during an imitation of the "Inkspots" her voice gave way. Always ready for comedy, the talented vocalist, pianist and guitarist "carried on" with an entertaining, if not tuneful, version of "We Three." Perhaps Mary Faye Bonds was preparing for another such emergency when she quietly took Guida's guitar and practiced strumming a few melancholy bars of her own improvision.

• • •

RUSHEE ROUNDUP

Most members of the five Tech girls' social clubs agree that in this year's collection of rushees there are an unusual number of attractive and likable girls. Some rush party impressions of them are: Striking Ione Drake of San Angelo, who has aspirations of being a fashion designer someday, could easily be mistaken for a fashion model. One night this week she was wearing a chic black crepe dress with hip drape interest and a rhinestone necklace as its only accent . . . DeLois Utterback and Josephine Catterton are two poised and delightful Amarillo beauties . . . Friendly Mary Ann Kelly of Colorado City has a contagious smile . . . Lila Matthews is a gracious St. Augustine rushee . . . Ida Walker is versatile as well as pretty . . . Shirley Harris of Fort Worth is a talented and clever songstress.

• • •

LOU.

If you haven't yet discovered how different grits can be, then you just haven't tasted Quaker Grits! Serve them just once . . . and then ask yourself if you ever dreamed there could be such a difference. It's important for you to know why Quaker Grits are so special . . . so fresh, pure and white!

"WHITE PAPER" TEST PROVES PURITY AND WHITENESS!

Just sprinkle a little Quaker Grits on white paper. Notice how pure, clean and sparkling white they look. Now, compare them with any other grits. The final proof, of course, is the smooth, wonderful flavor. Just taste them and decide for yourself!

Only plump, white kernels of corn are selected — then washed again and again in clean clear water. After this washing, they undergo "spoil-proof" milling and are packed in stay-fresh packages for extra protection.

Republicans Are Said To Face Real Battle In Senate Voting

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Two Republican Senators, Ives of New York and Lodge of Massachusetts, conceded today that the GOP has a real battle to retain its slim majority in the Senate.

Both of the young lawmakers are close to Republican leaders.

"There is a serious danger of Republicans being overconfident in this campaign," Ives told reporters. "I've said that right along. If enough voters stay home this could be a doggone close election."

Ives was elected to the Senate with support of Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and is one of the close political friends of the Republican presidential nominee.

Republicans now hold 51 seats and Democrats 45, but 33 places are at stake in this year's election. Several are in so-called border states where Democrats often win. A change of four present GOP places to the Democrats would switch control of the Senate.

Lodge, who has been in close consultation with Dewey campaign managers, refused to forecast the Senate results, saying he "has no crystal ball."

While he saw no easy victory in sight, he commented cautiously:

"If Dewey goes over big then the Senate should be all right."

Ives said it would "not be pleasant nor helpful to the country at this time" if the GOP won the presidency but lost the Senate.

He said Governor Dewey has not consulted him about aiding Republican Senate candidates but "has been giving them all a boost when he goes to their states."

Ives predicted that "Governor Dewey will get his share of the votes of the rank and file of organized labor despite what top union leaders say."

The New York Senator battled other GOP leaders over many provisions of the Taft-Hartley act during the long congressional debate but finally voted for its passage.

"Nobody expected the Taft-Hartley act to be perfect and it isn't," he said, adding that he will offer a number of amendments at the next session including some dealing with the present outlawing of closed shops and elections regarding union shops.

Grocery Wizard's Come-Back Key

Fabulous Clarence Saunders Is Hoping "Keedoozle" Spells His Third Fortune In Food Business

By CLARK PORTEOUS
NEA Special Correspondent

MEMPHIS, Sept. 24.—Clarence Saunders white-haired wizard of the self-service grocery business, hopes the keys of his new "Keedoozle" store will open the doors to his third fortune.

Twice already Saunders has become a multi-millionaire through chain groceries, and lost his fortunes. Now he has started a mechanical self-service store, something like a gigantic pin-ball machine, even to having little lights which flash on.

Neatly Packaged

The customer never touches his groceries until he receives them neatly packaged. He shops with a key, shaped something like a small camera.

The first "Keedoozle," which opened in a Quonset building here a few weeks ago, drew hundreds of housewives in addition to numerous husbands and even some bachelors.

Saunders, 67-year-old native of Virginia, who started out as a $4-a-week grocery clerk, thus began his attempt to become a multi-millionaire for a third time.

Started 33 Years Ago

It was 33 years ago when Saunders thought up a crazy name—Piggly Wiggly—and the revolutionary idea of having customers wait on themselves. He completely changed the retail grocery business, soon had his new stores with the clicking turnstiles spread across the land. He made and lost a fortune when he battled Wall street, and he still says they changed the rules on him, or he would have won that titanic financial struggle.

He came back with the Clarence Saunders (Sole Owner of My Name) Stores and made another fortune, only to lose out again. Then for 13 years, nothing much was heard of him until he worked to perfect his automatic store idea, and spent a million dollars experimenting. He tried two experimental stores before the war, but his idea wasn't ready, so during the war, he made ammunition boxes and wooden toys.

Shoppers Agree

Now he says he will make a bigger fortune than ever before. "I can't miss this time," he says. "Keedoozle works fine."

Many shoppers who bought groceries at from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than at rival stores were inclined to agree with him.

Already he is making plans to expand his Memphis "Keedoozle" into a "Keedoozle Village," with an automatic restaurant, a super store selling fresh meat, vegetables and fruit (his present store handles only non-perishables) and a landscaped garden with a lake in it for the benefit of his "Keedoozle" customers.

In his Memphis "Keedoozle" grocery, Clarence Saunders shows a customer how to press a button for whatever she wants. Final shopping list is perforated tape she hold at left.

He has already sold franchises for "Keedoozle" stores in San Diego, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Buffalo, Washington, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and says the chain will be all over the nation within a year.

Here's how "Keedoozle" (the Saunders abbrebiation of "Key Does All") works: A customer enters the store, obtains the key, and shops among glass sample cases. Say she wants a small can of diamond rattlesnake meat for $1.15. It has a letter "R" and the price on the case. She sticks her key into a red receptacle, pushes a button, marked "R", and the article and price is written in perforated code on an adding machine roll in her key. She goes thru the same procedure for other items. Each time she punches a key to "buy" something, a red, green or amber light flashes on—part of the decorative effect.

Five Customers A Minute

Finally, her shopping complete without having touched an article, she goes to the cashier's stand. Her bill is totaled, she pays up, and the perforated tape from her key is sent back by conveyor to a man behind the scenes. He runs the strip thru a "translator," which, by electricity, causes the groceries indicated by code holes in the strip to come down chutes.

Each order of groceries comes down into a big wooden tray. Clerks put them into big bags which travel to the customer on a conveyor. The store is geared to handle five customers a minute, and Sanders expects to average $2,000 an hour. He buys in carload lots, expects to mark up his goods from one-half to three cents an article over manufacturers' cost, no matter what the cost. Thus he would mark up a $5 item no more than three cents.

Says Saunders: "Let other stores squirm."

Farmer Indicted On Charges Of Slavery

ST. PAUL, Sept. 24. (AP) — A Minnesota farmer was in jail here today waiting arraignment on a grand jury indictment for holding a U. S.-born Mexican in slavery for more than six years.

James J. Giblin, assistant U. S. district attorney, identified the prisoner as George Stark, a farmer in central Minnesota's Sibley county. Giblin said Stark is charged with holding in peonage Francisco Rodriguez, 38, Brownsville, Texas, from March, 1941, till Sibley county authorities stepped in last spring.

Stark had promised to pay Rodriguez $25 a month, said Giblin, but gave him only $2 every three months and kept him in a locked room at night. Rodriguez said he was frequently beaten and on several occasions jabbed with a pitchfork.

Giblin added that it was the first peonage case in Minnesota since the historical Dred Scott decision nearly a century ago.

House Group Checking Reports Of "Waste" At Los Alamos Lab

BY SANDOR S. KLEIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Chairman Clare E. Hoffman disclosed today that his House executive expenditures committee is investigating reports of "waste and crookedness" in the operation of the atomic energy laboratory at Los Alamos, N. M.

The Michigan Republican said two committee investigators are now in New Mexico gathering data.

Officials Indifferent

"I ordered the investigation," Hoffman said, "after receiving complaints that a lot of money was being paid out without authority of law, that the Atomic Energy commission had entered into contracts that were not fair on their face and that there might be some connivance between certain officials and contractors. In brief, we heard there was waste and crookedness."

Hoffman said that despite the avowals by AEC officials of their desire to cooperate with the committee, they have "done little except to hide behind their convenient veil of atomic security."

Directive Issued

The two committee investigators are Douglas E. Alcock, a former Allegan, Mich., newspaperman, and Miss Hazel Huffman, a former investigator for the un-American activities committee.

Hoffman said that soon after they began to make inquiries at the Santa Fe headquarters of the project, "commission officials began to cramp their style."

On Sept. 3, Hoffman said, Carroll L. Tyler, manager of AEC's Santa Fe office, issued a directive providing that no restricted data could be made available to the investigators. Tyler said, according to Hoffman, that no information concerning the loyalty of employes would be made public, and that any employe questioned would have to make a report concerning it to his superiors.

Investigators Hindered

Hoffman said that a week later, he received a letter from Miss Huffman complaining that the directive was hindering the inquiry.

"Certainly," she wrote, "no employe who valued his position would come forth with any information or would give any information derogatory to the project when he knows he must make a report both on the question and answer to the officials, not only here but in Washington."

Hoffman said he has written a letter to AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal, calling attention to the committee's right to investigate expenditure of public funds by the commission. He said the local manager's directive "might be construed as intimidation and interference with the prerogatives and duties of a congressional committee."

Red Teacher Claims Communism Is Okay

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—A kindergarten teacher fired because she is a Communist is asking the Baltimore school board to re-hire her since Communism "is as American as our love of fair play, baseball, and regard for our children."

The statement was made yesterday at a public hearing by Mrs. Regina Frankfeld, wife of Philip Frankfeld, chairman of the Communist party in Maryland and the District of Columbia.

She urged the board to repeal its ban on employment of Communists adopted last June and insisted that as a trained teacher she had the right to teach in Baltimore.

Board Chairman Roszel C. Thomsen promised a final decision in two weeks, saying "serious consideration" would be given to matters presented at the hearing.

New Traffic Lights Installed At Tech

The installation of traffic control lights on Texas Technological college campus will begin to show effect today as lights at two intersections, both on Fourteenth street, in front of the Bookstore and the Extension building, C. M. Anderson, of American Electric company, contractor, announced Thursday night.

Lights at five other intersections are expected to be in operation by Sept. 29, including one in front of the Administration building, Library, Museum, and at the intersection of Broadway with Memorial circle, and one at the intersection of the circle with the street running East and West in front of the Home Economics building, Anderson said.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

CAN FADE YOUR COLOR, SAP YOUR STRENGTH!

People with sallow, colorless faces—people who often feel "stale" and "spent"—may find their red blood cells are too puny and faded. They may have a Borderline Anemia due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency.

Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—are victims of this tiring Borderline Anemia.

If you have this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and energy to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your vitality, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

North Side Is One-Touchdown Favorite Over Westerners

Fine Passing Game Boasted By Steers

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24 (Spl.)—One of the feature games of the state schoolboy non-conference grid slate will be unreeled here at 8 o'clock tonight at Farrington field, when North Side's powerful Steers battle the Lubbock Westerners of District 1-AA.

The Steers, one of the top elevens in District 2 of the City conference, will enter the tussle as one one-touchdown favorite over the South Plains eleven on the basis of a spectacular passing attack and the "home field" advantage.

The Steers, with giant Darrow Hooper tossing from the quarterback slot on the North Side "T" formation, have connected with 19 aerials in 34 attempts for a net gain of more than 250 yards in two games. That, and the terrific punting average of 37.4 yards by Hooper and Left Half Kenneth Wilson, is expected to give the Fort Worth gridders a marked offensive edge over the Westerners.

Stress Ground Attack

Lubbock's Black and Gold representatives will depend on a speedy ground attack for most of their scoring punch. The Westerner backs—Bobby Brown, Malcolm Young and Donald Decker—romped for long-yardage against Odessa's Broncos and San Angelo's Bobcats, although the Hub city boys have had difficulty in launching sustained drives. Brown turned in a creditable passing exhibition last week against the Bobcats, completing eight of fourteen aerials attempted for 86 yards, but the slender junior has not had the experience of the veteran Hooper.

The burly Steers will hold a 20-pounds per man weight advantage over the Westerners in the backfield, and two of the North Side backs—Quarterback Hooper and Fullback Charles Davis—top 190 pounds. The Westerners will hold a slight weight advantage in the line, but injuries to several of the "big boys" make the weight edge doubtful.

Lost To Odessa

North Side opened the '48 season with a 12-0 victory over highly-rated Tyler, but Coach Paul Snow's gridders found the going rough last week, losing a 20-6 decision to Odessa's rebounding Broncos at Odessa. The Westerners are still shooting for their first win of the year, after chalking up a 7-7 tie with Odessa and losing a 21-13 tilt with San Angelo's Bobcats.

The two teams met at Lubbock last year in a non-title go, with the Steers handing the Westerners a 46-7 drubbing.

(The game will be broadcast over radio station KCBD in Lubbock, it was announced.)

Old Rivalry Is Flaring Again

LAMESA, Sept. 24. (Special)—An old rivalry will be resumed here tonight at 8, when the Brownfield Cubs of District 1-AA collide with the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes of District 3-AA.

A crowd of at least 3,000 persons is expected to be in the stand for the battle at McCollom Field, the final non-conference battle for the Tornadoes.

Lamesa rules a slight favorite in the pre-game calculations, although Coach Bob Harrell's crew has dropped two of its first three starts. The Tornadoes, beaten by Plainview 14-0 last week and decisioned by Seminole 6-0 in the season's opener, have only a 7-0 victory over Levelland in the win column.

Brownfield has played only one game, losing to Class A Pecos 16-13, but the Cubs had an open date last Friday and have had two weeks to get ready for this melee.

Chances for a Lamesa victory have been lessened by the loss of Fullback Johnny Tankersley, who suffered a leg injury in the Plainview battle, and is not expected to play Friday.

Quarterback Arthur Bizzell has moved to fullback and Sophomore Randall Reeves has been promoted from the B squad to the tailback slot.

Halfback Larry Lattimore, who suffered a broken bone in his left hand in the Levelland game, will still see action only on defense. The rest of the squad is in good shape, except for minor bumps and bruises, Coach Harrell reported.

Nashville Homeruns Defeat Barons, 5-3

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24 (U.P.)—Again today, as so many times in the season just past, Nashville owed a Southern Association victory to homerun-hitters, especially Charlie Gilbert.

Gilbert smashed a three-run roundtripper in the fifth-inning last night to give the Vols a 5-3 win over Birmingham in the first game of the playoff finals.

Birmingham took an early lead on a two-run first inning. In the third, however, Joe Damato slammed a Vol homer. The Barons added one in the fourth to go ahead, 3-1.

Knight Dream Wins In Two-Heat Race

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 24 (U.P.)—Knight Dream, a smooth-striding perfectionist on any kind of a track, Thursday became the Citation of the pacing world with an impressive two-heat victory in the $48,000 Little Brown Jug event.

The speedy Gray-Armstrong three-year-old from east Providence, R. I., with veteran Frank Safford of Keene, N. H., in the sulky, was the class of a seven-horse field yesterday as he chalked up a pair of decisive wins.

Tech Raiders Leave Today

The Underdog Texas Tech football team, 36 strong, were to leave the college this morning at 7 by bus for San Antonio, where tomorrow night they engage the Texas Aggies in a football game that bears all the promise of being as slick as a close shave.

With the prospect for a bruising game against the big Aggies, Coach Dell Morgan named a 36-player travelling squad that includes 14 backs and 22 linemen. The guards, seven of them, top the line in number, while four halfbacks for each position top the backfield men.

Two of the Red Raiders' most promising starters, Quarterback Milton Rathbone and Tackle Bobby Broyles, will not be making the trip. Both are from Junior colleges, but neither graduated; and under Southwest Conference rules, which are being used, Tech is not eligible to use them. The loss of Rathbone particularly will hurt the Raiders.

Otherwise the squad is in top physical and mental condition for the game. They know they are rated as underdogs, but it isn't the first time a Tech team has gone into a game on the short end of the odds.

The Aggies are favored over the Raiders by 13 points by the betting fraternity and most of the grid experts, although Dr. E. E. Litkenhous selects the Aggies by only 1.5 points. If his comparative system is accurate, Tech is barely the second choice.

A light drill marked the conclusion of final preparations for Saturday night's contest, with special emphasis on pass offense and defense and the timing of running plays. Speed, which is being emphasized this year, might be the deciding factor in Saturday's game and this was being brought out in yesterday's workout. Both the line and backfield will be outweighed by the Aggies, but Tech takes greater speed into the clash.

The complete travelling squad, with probable starters first, includes ends, Bill Kelley, Luke Thompson, J. L. Gulley, Frank Ottmers, Elbert Johnson, Walter Edrington; tackles, John Andrews, Marshall Gettys, Don Williams, Doug McSwane, John Tom Baker, Wayne Guynn; guards, Dan Pursel, Milburn Haydon, Don Orr, Bobby Garner, Ted Cummings, Dorrell McCurry, Bob Hix; centers, Bobby Williams, Bud Henderson, J. B. Mahler; quarterbacks, Ernest Hawkins, Bill Lyman, Shaff DeGaish; left halfbacks, Cal Steveson, Zac Henderson, Walter Maloney; right halfbacks, Glenn Lewis, Charley Reynolds, Bill White, Tim Hatch; and fullbacks, Bud Conley, J. W. Thompson, Earl Jackson, Keith Butler.

Co-captains for the game will be Pursel and Reynolds, as appointed last night by Coach Morgan.

Eight Negro Teams See Play Tomorrow

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Eight of the nine negro college elevens of the Southwestern Athletic conference swing into action tomorrow against opposition that is definitely not of the warm-up variety.

The heaviest cannonading appears to be in Marshall where the Bishop Tigers entertain the Langston University Lions of Oklahoma in a regular conference tilt. Both teams are rated well up among the first division contenders for 1948.

Matching the Bishop-Langston game in interest is the Prairie View-Samuel Huston game down at Austin tomorrow night.

The grambling Tigers, third ranking negro college eleven of the nation in 1947, will open their home season as hosts to the Wiley Wildcats.

Southern University's Juguars, the undefeated, untied (in conference) champions of 1947, will invade Houston for a night game against the Texas State University Tigers.

Arkansas A A & N Lions will journey to Memphis, Tenn., for an inter-sectional tussle with the Lane College Dragons of Jackson, Tenn.

GIANTS DOWN YANKS, 27-7

BOSTON, Sept. 24 (INS)—The New York Giants, their new offensive clicking through the air, made a successful 1948 National league debut last night, belting the Boston Yanks 27 to 7 before a sparse crowd of 7,428.

Pennant Race Growing Tense

Three-Way Fight At Crucial Stage

BY RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The three-way fight for the American league pennant enters the showdown stage today.

The Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians, tied for the lead, and the third place New York Yankees, who are only a game behind the co-leaders, open crucial three-game series.

Amid a World Series atomosphere the Red Sox take on the Yanks in the Yankee stadium. The Indians clash with the tough Detroit Tigers in Detroit.

Flubbed Opportunity

The Yanks, who flubbed an opportunity to pull into a three-way tie for the top yesterday when they were beaten 4-2 by the last place White Sox in Chicago, will send their ace righthander, Vic Raschi against Boston.

Either Lefty Mel Parnell (14-7) or veteran Denny Galehouse (8-7) is expected to oppose Raschi.

The Indians, riding the crest of a seven game winning streak, will send Bob (No-Hit) Lemon against the fifth-place Tigers. Lemon (20-12) has scalped the Tigers three times this year including a no-hit no-run triumph on June 30.

Fred Hutchinson (12-10) has been selected to face Lemon.

Schedule Favors Tribe

All of the contenders have eight games to play but the schedule favors the Indians. The Yanks and Red Sox clash five times and the possibility exists that they will knock each other off. The Indians meet the Tigers six times and the White Sox twice.

But Tribe Manager Lou Boudreau sees a tough road ahead.

"We're not out of the woods yet by any means," Boudreau said yesterday, "any one of three teams can win the flag. I don't believe this race will be decided until a week from Saturday, next to the last day of the season," he added.

The Yank defeat at the hands of the White Sox featured activity in the majors yesterday.

Were Never Headed

Frank Papish, who had won only one game against eight losses prior to the game, outpitched Lefty Ed Lopat, allowing the Yanks only six hits. The White Sox pounced on Lopat for three runs in the fourth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and they were never headed.

The Tigers came from behind and beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-7 when rookie George Vico slammed a two-run ninth inning triple.

Washington turned back the Browns, 9-8, in a night game at St. Louis, clinching the game with a five run fifth inning rally.

The Indians and Red Sox were idle.

Only two games were played in the National league. The Brooklyn Dodgers trounced the New York Giants, 7-1, and the Cincinnati Reds edged the Phils, 3-2, in a night game at Philadelphia.

The league-leading Boston Braves, St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs were idle.

Brooklyn's triumph moved the Dodgers to within one percentage point of the second place Cardinals. The Braves need to win only one game to eliminate the Dodgers and two to knock out the Cards.

Black Hubbers Win From Midland, 4-2

The final home game of the 1948 season for the Lubbock Black Hubbers was turned into victory over the Midland Black Indians last night, 4-2, behind the hurling of Alexander Johns.

The Black Hubbers took an early 1-0 lead when Manager James Roy Lewis scored on Alexander Johns' double and the Black Hubbers went ahead again in the fifth after Midland tied the score.

In the sixth, two Lubbock runs won the game. Eddie Bullock led off with a single and went to third on the hit and run when Lewis scratched a single off the pitcher's glove. Johns then lashed a triple to rightfield to drive in the winning runs.

Sunday the Black Hubbers conclude their season with a 3 p. m. game at Seagraves against the Hobbs Tigers.

The line score:

MIDLAND	000 010 010—	2	7 3
LUBBOCK	100 012 00x—	4	9 1

Hall, Dooley and Harrison; Johns and Hutchinson.

The nation hasn't quite returned to normalcy. There are not as many courtesy cards being issued as in the old days.

Top Elevens Forced To Go "All Out"

Favorites In Narrow Escapes In Junior High Grid Battles

Favorites had narrow escapes in the second round of competition in the South Plains Junior High football league Thursday night, as the "underdog" elevens forced the top-rank teams to go all out to notch wins.

Levelland's inspired junior gridders, making their first start in loop play, held the potent Carroll Thompson crew from Lubbock to a narrow 6-0 margin. The score was deadlocked at 0-0 with less than three minutes of play remaining in the tilt, then Lubbock Fullback Don Jones hit End Paul Hanson with a 30-yard pass. Hanson was stopped on the Levelland three-yard marker, but Jones carried over in two tries.

Seminole's fine halfback, Richard Lindley, swept end for 12 yards and a second quarter touchdown to give the future Indians a 6-0 victory over Lamesa's juniors. The game was fought on even terms most of the way, but Lindley's scoring feat provided the winning margin for the home eleven.

Plainview's smooth-working "T" formation team capitalized on a first-quarter scoring thrust, with Right Half Wilbur Wilson smashing over tackle two yards for the six-pointer, to nose out J. T. Hutchinson Junior High of Lubbock, 6-0. The Lubbock youngsters made two determined drives in the last half, but both offensives were halted just short of the double stripe.

O. L. Slaton of Lubbock scored two triumphs over the improving Brownfield squads. The O. L. Slaton "A" team drubbed the home eleven, 19-0, behind the running of Fullback Johnny Tatum and Halfback Bruce Willis. Tatum scored twice on line bucks and Willis tallied once.

The O. L. Slaton "B" group, paced by Fullback J. C. Walker, handed the Brownfield "B" a 18-0 defeat.

SUGAR RAY SLIGHTLY OVERWEIGHT

Gavilan Can Have Forfeit Of $5,000 Or Rematch For Title

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP) — A little matter of a $5,000 forfeit for a half pound of flesh stands between a Ray Robinson-Kid Gavilan rematch for the welterweight title.

If the Twentieth Century Sporting club is able to resolve the slight difference between the two managers and make the match for an open Oct. 29 or Dec. 17 date, it will be its only profit from last night's Yankee stadium doubleheader that also featured a 10th round knockout for Lightweight Champ Ike Williams over Jesse Flores.

Non-Title Bout Close

A slim crowd of 15,413 rattled around the cavernous ball yard in the Bronx and paid only $85,150 into Mike Jacobs' coffers, currently guarded by acting promoter Sol Strauss. Even adding radio money, the gross was just over $100,000 barely enough to balance the books.

Gavilan dropped a 10-round decision to Robinson in a non-title scrap that was close enough to warrant another showing. As Sugar Ray at 150½ was eight ounces over his agreed weight in a private agreement with Angel Lopez, Gavilan's manager, the Cuban dandy has him over a barrel.

Forfeit Or Title Shot

Lopez meets with Robinson and Strauss today. If he insists he can have the $5,000 forfeit. That would mean no title shot. Chances are that Lopez, a wise Latin who runs a Broadway night club, will pass the five grand and insist on the championship bout.

Robinson was a unanimous winner last night—6-4 by Judge Art Aidala, 7-3, by Referee Eddie Joseph and 7-2 with one even by Judge Frank Forbes. But all the rounds were close. The AP scorecard had it 6-2 with two even.

Although Sugar Ray did the stiffer punching and piled up points with a stinging left jab he was far from the seven-star wonder he is supposed to be. But he was a fairly easy winner.

Williams bombed the clever Flores, Kansas-born Mexican from Stockton, Calif. After he finally caught up with the speedy elusive, challenger, Flores went down four times, three for nine and once for eight before he was knocked out in 2:05 of the 10th.

Tar Heels Promise Texas A Busy Day

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 24. (AP)—This ordinarily quiet little college town is fairly bursting at the seams over Saturday's opener between the University of North Carolina football team and terrific Texas.

The excitement may end as it did a year ago (Texas 34, UNC 0) but few people hereabouts look for a repeat performance. A sellout 42,000 crowd will jam Kenam stadium for the battle.

They respect Texas, naturally, but they feel Carl Snavely's Tar heels have the personnel with which to battle the Longhorns more evenly than a year ago.

With tailback Charlie Justice, the triple threat jackrabbit, and husky fullback Hosea Rodgers operating back of a big, smart line, North Carolina moves into this game well equipped.

Three members of the Carolina coaching staff were in the stands at Austin last week as Texas mangled Louisiana State, 33-0. They brought back a bulky report that has been the basis for much of this week's scrimmage work.

For public consumption, they termed the "T" as operated by quarterback Paul Campbell and his fleet-footed mates "better, much better" than a year ago.

ONE-ARMED BANDITS LOADED

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — Cook County Sheriff Elmer W. Walsh complains that owners of illegal slot machines are making weight lifters out of his deputies. The operators, to prevent their machines from being lugged away to destruction dumps, have taken to filling the slots bases with cement or lead. The sheriffs had to call a tow truck to uproot one machine from a concrete floor.

Little Dixie Series Of 1948 To Open In Amarillo Tonight

AMARILLO, Sept. 24 (AP)—The 1948 Little Dixie series, for the class C baseball championship of Texas, opens tonight at Gold Sox park here.

Kilgore's Drillers, winners of the Lone Star league playoffs in four straight games, will oppose Amarillo's Gold Sox, titlists in the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Buck Fausett, Gold Sox manager, will call on Joe Budny, 21-year-old righthander with a 21-10 record for the regular season, to hurl the first game. Budny also won four Shaughnessy play-off contests and now has 12 consecutive successes.

Manager Joe Kracher of the Drillers has designated Bob Ross, only 20-game winner on his pitching staff, to fire against the power-laden Sox. He's also a righthander.

The series will continue through three games here, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, the teams will then move to Kilgore to complete it, with four contests there if necessary.

The Gold Sox are favored to win the series.

Tulsa, Fort Worth Are Tied In Series

TULSA, Sept. 24. (AP)—The Tulsa Oilers came home today for three games with the Fort Worth Cats all square in the final playoff for the Texas league championship.

The Oilers whammed the Cats 18-7 last night to make the series even at one game apiece.

Manager Al Vincent of Tulsa called on Everett Lively, a 16-game winner this year, to oppose Dwain Sloat of the Cats tonight. Sloat has a 12-8 record for the season.

Five Cat Errors

Tulsa battered out 21 hits, including a home run by Billy Capps, to subdue Fort Worth after losing the opener of the playoff 7-0 Wednesday night. Five Cat errors and 10 bases on balls contributed to the rout.

Capps clouted his homer, driving in three runs, in the first inning and the Oilers sent starting pitcher Willard Ramsdell to the showers in the second when they got five runs.

The Cats did some blasting of their own, bunching hits off Harry Perkowski for three tallies in the third and four in the sixth, the last two of which came on a homer by Gino Marfionetti. Jim Avrea finished on the mound for Tulsa.

Capps drove in five runs during the evening.

All Southwest Conference Elevens Picked To Win

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Today the Texas Tech Red Raiders are on their way to San Antonio, undaunted by the odds professional bettors have placed against them. The Raiders aren't cocky about their battle against the Texas Aggies, but they aren't bowing their necks for the axe, either. They think they have a good chance of winning and so do we. Their spirits are high, they have the right attitude and they have the ability to win. And they are going to San Antonio, not for the trip, but for a victory.

• • •

This year's eleven bears so little resemblance to the 1947 machine that it is amazing. The players are hustling all the time and they believe in themselves. That has much to do with victory or defeat. You don't mind seeing a team beaten by a better one if your team is hustling. But when they lie down after getting behind, it's hard to whip up any enthusiasm. The 1948 version of the Raiders doesn't look like a team that will go down to defeat before putting up a great fight. And you can bet your last sou that if the Aggies win, they'll have had to play their best.

• • •

The line this year is not as experienced as last year's forward wall, but it has more determination, more hustle and more fight. It is strong defensively and looked better offensively in practice this week. The backfield is not an untested quantity. They have speed, they have deception. Glenn Lewis, Cal Stevenson and J. W. Thompson all have shown more ability this year than last. They are using their heads when they run, as well as making use of their speed and deception. It is an offensive backfield, the type of outfit that can penetrate the opposing team's defense.

• • •

If the Aggies are as big and ponderous as stated, they unquestionably can wear down the Raiders. On the otherhand, Tech's speed will avoid much of the heavy punishment that might be expected. This speed also is an offensive factor against a heavy, slower-moving line and backfield. Presuming that Tech's quick-opening plays function as well as in practice and that their passing game is sharp, they stand an excellent chance of booting the dope bucket for an awful pounding. We hope to be able to so report Saturday night from San Antonio.

• • •

Choc Hutcheson, former Tech student and Avalanche-Journal staffer, is in the East now and writes back with some information on various activities on the Atlantic seaboard. Choc says that the pro football picture favors the National League over the All-America conference. He cites the dislike of the fans for the artificial competition imposed on the AA conference, whereby the stronger teams were forced to give up a few stars to weaker teams. Choc picks the Yanks in the East and Cleveland and San Francisco in the West, from all the reports he has sifted through for comparisons.

• • •

Choc says that Joe Louis (this was written before the Zale-Cerdan fight predicts a Zale defeat and that the heavyweight champ fired a blazing 62 over a par 71 layout recently. He goes on to say that the experts have picked the Chicago teams, Bears or Cardinals, and Green Bay for the Western NFL title, with Philadelphia in the East. Choc saw the Giants beat the Bears 17-7 and called Charley Connerly and Johnny Lujack the two top Bear backs. Bobby Layne, he avows, had a bad night with two passes intercepted in the fourth quarter, As for baseball, the Eastern fans had conceded the National League pennant to Boston, while figuring the American loop as wide open. After seeing the Yankees. Choc says "I'm inclined to string along with them, for they still have class stamped all the way."

• • •

Some great Class A games in the area tonight and if you've an empty evening, you'll see some good, sound, exciting football to watch. For instance, that Sundown-Levelland game at Sundown is a natural, while O'Donnell at Crosbyton also will be good. Muleshoe at Slaton should produce a topnotch clash, while that Class B battle between Idalou and Kress at Kress will be hard to beat. You don't have to go far anywhere around these South Plains to find a good football game any Friday night and if you love football, we'd advise you to drop in on one of these games.

Two Tilts Are In Spotlight

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Every Southwest conference team finds itself favored to win this weekend and if such be the case the conference will be starting a great intersectional record.

Two of the games will hold the national spotlight—Texas' joust with North Carolina at Chapel Hill, N. C., and Southern Methodist's battle with Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh.

Important Sectionally

Important sectionally will be Baylor's tilt with Tulsa at Waco and Texas Christian's tangle with Oklahoma A and M. at Stillwater.

Rounding out the Saturday slate will be Arkansas vs East Texas State at Fayetteville, Texas A. and M. vs Texas Tech at San Antonio and Rice vs Sam Houston State at Houston.

Texas appears in for the toughest battle, unless it's Texas Christian. The Longhorns face a vengeful North Carolina team with its great Charley Justice.

Expecting No Romp

Southern Methodist isn't expecting any romp at Pittsburgh, but no one thinks Pitt can knock off the defending conference champions.

Baylor may run into considerable trouble with Tulsa.

Arkansas and Rice appear to have only gentle romps ahead, but A. and M. could take a licking from Texas Tech, conqueror of a good West Texas State team, and occasion no surprise.

Texas Christian hasn't beaten Oklahoma A. and M. since 1943. The Christians figure it's about time and appear to have the guns to do something about it.

Here's How They Look

Texas vs North Carolina at Chapel Hill—A vote for Texas with a couple of touchdowns hanging on the ballot.

Texas Christian vs Oklahoma A. and M. at Stillwater—The Horned Frogs will rope the Cowboys; T. C. U. by a touchdown.

Southern Methodist vs Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh—Doak Walker, Kyle Rote and company will run up a lot of yards and enough scores to win over Pitt by three touchdowns.

Arkansas vs East Texas State at Fayetteville—Arkansas claims it's badly crippled. but it doesn't have to be at full strength against the willing but green Lions; Arkansas by four touchdowns.

Rice vs Sam Houston State at Houston (night)—The Owls ought to have a lot of fun running up touchdowns on Sam Houston.

Texas A. and M. vs Texas Tech at San Antonio (night)—The Aggies will win, but it'll be a struggle.

Baylor vs Tulsa at Waco (night)—Baylor will open the season by beating Tulsa by a touchdown or two.

Virginian Leads In Canadian Golf Play

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 24 (U.P.)—Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., whose golf survived rain, hail and shivering temperature, today led the field into the third round of the $10,000 Canadian open golf championship.

All the weather Canada could throw down on the Shaughnessy course failed to stop the Virginian yesterday as he carded a one-under-par 71 to take a two-stroke lead with a total of 138, breaking up an earlier three-way tie.

Herman Keiser, Akron, O., and Bill Nary, Phoenix, Ariz., co-holders of the lead after the first round, faded slightly yesterday. Keiser dropping into second place with a 73—140, and Nary into the third place group with a 74—151

Henry Wallace Has Bodyguard On Trip

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 24. (AP)—Henry Wallace has a bodyguard on his present campaign trip.

He is Detective Jack Zuckerman on loan to Wallace from the New York City police department. Zuckerman is flying in Wallace's chartered plane and accompanying the presidential candidate everywhere.

Wallace had no such escort on previous trips including the recent southern tour where he was splashed with flying eggs.

AGREE TO ADJOURN

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Parliament agreed to adjourn today until Oct. 25 with a government pledge it would be instantly recalled earlier if the troubled international situation required it.

Arlington Heights Trims Sunset, 19-0

Five Tilts Played Last Night In Week's High School Slate

(By The Associated Press)

Five games were played last night to start off the weekend of Texas schoolboy football with Arlington Heights of Fort Worth trimming Sunset (Dallas) 19-0 in the top contest.

Both teams are in the City conference.

Graham of class AA tied Poly (Fort Worth) of the City conference 6-6, John Reagan (Houston) whammed St. Thomas (Houston) 25-0, Burbank (San Antonio) downed San Marcos 24-12 and Bowie (El Paso) beat Cathedral (El Paso) 13-7.

Most of the week's 58 games are scheduled tonight with the Brackenridge (San Antonio)-Corpus Christi tilt at Corpus Christi the feature. It matches powers of the City and class AA conferences.

Boston, Cleveland Series Is Looming

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—It looks very much like a World Series between the Boston Braves, who haven't won a pennant since 1914, and the Cleveland Indians, whose only victory came in 1920 . . . It ought to be a humdinger for the fans of those two cities . . . Looking way back, the 1914 Braves, driven by snarling George Stallings—the direct antithesis of Billy Southworth—beat the Athletics in four games because Dick Rudolph and Bill James could win two apiece. The 1920 Indians whipped Brooklyn because Stan Coveleskie was able to pitch three five-hit games in one series . . . Those are a few examples that Bob Feller, Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn will have a tough time following . . . Or an even tougher one, how about a duplication of Bill Wambsganss' 1940 feat of an unassisted triple play? It only has been done once in World Series history.

Big Little Item

As an example of the importance of little things, Ed Moss, former Associated Press sports editor who died yesterday, used to tell how a single paragraph in a small-town paper led to the famous episode of Jim Thorpe's Olympic victories being wiped off the books . . . Moss, then working for the New York Sun, was perusing some out-of-town papers one day when he noted an obscure reference to Thorpe playing professional baseball . . . Ed checked up and wrote the story and the upshot was that Thorpe was ruled a professional and his Olympic feats were declared null and void.

One World

Lineup of the Boston Yanks, as listed in yesterday's papers: Tyreen Jarmoluk, Badaczewski, Domnanovich, Sabasteaanski, Vogelaar, Pritko, Zimmerman, Paschal, Hazelhurst, Muelheuser . . . What was the name of that team again?

Dots All, Brothers

When Fayetteville, N. C., high school (last year's class AA champion) whipped Siler City 33-0 last week, the finners didn't run a single play from scrimmage. Fayetteville threw 36 passes and completed 23 . . . After watching the football Yankees' Spec Sanders—because someone had told him Spec runs like Grange — Red Grange asked plaintively: "I wasn't that good, was I?" . . . The answer, Red, is "yes."

BARGAIN DAY IN P. O.

McALLEN, Tex. (U.P.)—"The best bargain we ever offered and not a single complaint from the customers." That's how Postmaster Al Weir explained the public reaction when a stamp machine went wrong and clicked through five three-cent stamps for a dime.

Plains Whips Littlefield B

PLAINS, Sept. 24. (Special)—The Plains High school football team wrote a storybook finish to their game with Littlefield B last night, a 20-yard pass from Robert McCargo sailing into the arms of Leland Ellison for a 25-20 victory.

Ellison was standing in the end zone, waiting to catch the pass, which was heaved into the air just as the game was ending. It brought an end to the classic that had seen the lead change hands six times previously.

The winning touchdown was set up by Teeter Wauson, who broke through the Littlefield line to block a punt and recover it himself on the 30-yard line. Plains picked up a first down on the 20 and, with the clock running out, clicked for the winning score.

Plains got a lead in the first period when McCargo broke around end and dashed 65 yards through a broken field. The conversion failed.

Littlefield Comes Back

Littlefield stormed back in the second period, staging a steady march that ended in a touchdown on an eight-yard run through the line. The conversion was added and Littlefield led. But Plains came back to score on a 23-yard pass from Ellison to Rufus Brian to go off the field with a 12-7 halftime margin.

The clubs exchanged touchdowns in the third period, Littlefield scoring first on a 15-yard plunge through the line and Plains taking the kickoff back down the field, with Jess Worsham scoring on a six-yard dash. He carried over for the conversion.

Littlefield scored early in the fourth period on a 12-yard run and converted to take a 20-19 lead, checking the issue squarely up to the home team. And they responded.

Groups Invited To University Band Day

AUSTIN, Sept. 24 (U.P.) — High school and junior college bands in Texas were invited today to be guests of the University of Texas band when the Longhorns meet the University of Arkansas Oct. 16 here in Memorial stadium.

Band Director George E. Hurt said he hoped to crack the previous band day record set in 1940 when 72 uniformed units showed up.

Optimists have a lot of hope and faith; consequently many of them eventually become objects of charity.

All-Stars For 1948 Selected

BY CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 — The three great leaders of those three pennant-seeking ball clubs, Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees, Ted Williams of the Red Sox, and Lou Boudreau of the Indians were the standout selections today in the United Press American league all-star team.

The team was selected by a board of 24 veteran baseball writers, three from each city. DiMaggio and Williams were unanimous choices with 24 votes apiece while Boudreau received 23 votes.

All But Three Berths

Reflecting their position as the three unyielding contenders for the American league flag, the Cleveland, New York, and Boston clubs took all but three of the first team berths on the all-star squad.

Cleveland led the way with three selections. In addition to Boudreau, the great manager-shortstop of the Indians, the veteran Joe Gordon, his second base partner, and sophomore Bob Lemon, one of the top young pitchers of modern baseball, were the Indian representatives.

DiMaggio and his running mate in the outfield, hustling quick-witted Tommy Henrich were the Yankee nominees, while left fielder Williams and catcher Birdie Tebbetts stood out as the top Red Sox players.

Others Are Chosen

Other players on the first team were third baseman George Kell and pitcher Lefty Hal Newhouser of the Detroit Tigers, and Ferris (Cocky) Fain, the first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics.

On the second team three men each came from the Red Sox and the Athletics to lead the way. First Baseman Bill Goodman, second baseman Bobby Doerr and shortstop Vern Stephens were the Red Sox selectees. The A's placed catcher Buddy Rosar, gardener Elmer Valo, and pitcher Joe Coleman.

Lubbock's Pioneers Beaten By Meadow

MEADOW, Sept. 24. (Special)—Two touchdowns in the first quarter and a final tally in the fourth period gave Meadow's speedy Bronchos of District 4-B a 20-7 victory over the Lubbock Pioneers here last night.

Wingback Robert White put the Bronchos into the lead in the first stanza, when he raced around end 15 yards to paydirt. Back Weldon Mason faked a kick from placement, then passed to Back Lawrence Joplin for the extra point.

The Bronchos tallied again a few minutes later, with Joplin carrying 40 yards to the double stripe. The pass attempt for extra point was knocked down.

The scrappy Pioneers surged back in the second period to narrow the count to 13-7 when elusive Halfback Dan Boone romped 60 yards for the lone touchdown for the Lubbock eleven.

Meadow added a final six-pointer in the fourth quarter, with Dean Curtis carrying over on an end-around play. Mason converted.

Rib-Crashing Battles On Tap

Two Headliners Are Set Tonight

BY STEVE SNIDER
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—A pair of headliners tonight signals the start of a rib-crashing weekend in collegiate football, including six top-flight intersectional games and title competition in all but one major conference.

Kicking off with Wake Forest at Boston college and Oregon State at Southern California tonight the second week of the season has a nifty schedule featuring such potentially great teams as the fighting Irish of Notre Dame, Michigan's Rose bowl champions, Georgia Tech, Army, North Carolina and Southern Methodist in their 1948 debuts.

Signs Of The Time

It's early but these strictly are signs of the times: Notre Dame 10 points over Purdue, Texas six points over North Carolina, Minnesota 13 points over Washington, California six and one half points over Navy, Army seven points over Villanova and so on down the oddsmakers' football line.

Also scheduled tonight were Kansas at Denver, Nevada at San Jose State, Toledo at Detroit and St. Louis at Drake.

Every section of the nation except the Southwest has a major clash on Saturday and there are conference games in the Big Nine, Pacific coast conference, Southern, Southeastern and Big Seven.

The Wake Forest-Boston college, Navy-California and Southern Methodist-Pittsburgh games top the East's intersectional list. S.M.U., Southwest champion last year, was 15-point favorite over Pitt.

Here's The Big One

Texas at North Carolina is the big one intersectionally in the South. The West Coast has a pair pitting conference teams against invaders from the Big Nine. While Minnesota, sporting a giant line, is a heavy favorite over Washington, Northwestern ranged from only one to three points over U.C.L.A.

Notre Dame, with the greatest national following in football, takes on a rough one in Purdue at South Bend, Ind.

Michigan presents its rebuilt Wolverines at Michigan State where the Big Nine champs were rated a 14-point favorite. Wisconsin, runnerup last year, opens the conference season at Madison as 12-point favorite over Indiana. Illinois unlimbers against Kansas State, Marquette plays Iowa and Missouri at Ohio State.

Duke Is Favored

While North Carolina is trying to do something about that 34 to 0 lacing handed out by Texas last year, a Southern conference bone-cracker will be played a few miles away with Duke a six-point favorite over North Carolina State.

In the Big Seven, Nebraska was a 13-point favorite over Iowa State in the only conference game. Colorado, the new member, is host to New Mexico.

Southwest teams all tackle outsiders: East Texas State at Arkansas, Tulsa at Baylor, Texas Christian at Oklahoma A. and M., Sam Houston State at Rice and Texas Tech vs Texas A. and M at San Antonio.

Tyler Defeats John Tarleton To Open Junior College Drive

(By The Associated Press)

Tyler's Apaches, defending Southwestern Junior college conference champions, beat John Tarleton 19-7 last night to open the 1948 title campaign.

It was the first conference game of the season.

Lamar of Beaumont, Paris and North Texas Agricultural college won non-conference games last night, Lamar trimming Del Mar college of Corpus Christi 21-7, Paris whamming Weatherford college 37-6 and the North Texas Aggies beating the North Texas State freshmen 12-6.

Schreiner lost to Victoria Junior college of the Texas Junior college conference 18-6.

Paris and Lamar lead the way in victories thus far this season, each having won two games against no losses. San Angelo, Kilgore and North Texas Agricultural college also are undefeated.

San Angelo tonight plays the Hardin-Simmons freshmen while Kilgore goes to Shreveport to battle Barksdale Air Force tomorrow

Brewster Dillard Murder Trial Expected To Reach Jury Today

Counsel's arguments were underway in 99th criminal district court here today in the murder trial of Brewster E. Dillard, and with two hours allowed by the court for each side, indications were that the case would reach the jury about mid-afternoon.

Testimony was completed in the case, and both sides rested yesterday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock, with the defendant Dillard as the last witness on the stand.

The court's charge, delivered to the jury at opening of court today, was finished at 9:35, and arguments started.

Law Is Outlined

The charge, outlining the law under which the jury's decision was to be reached, was substantially the same as in Dillard's previous trial last April which resulted in a hung jury.

After defining murder, with and without malice, the charge took up the self-defense law, which Dillard pleaded, and instructed that the defendant be found not guilty if the jury finds he was "under apprehension of death or serious bodily injury, as it appeared to him at the time viewed from his standpoint, taking all the facts and circumstances together, including the acts, words, and conduct of the deceased at and prior to the time of the homicide."

Other Instructions Given

The charge also set out that if by reason of superior strength the deceased was regarded by the defendant as able to do him serious bodily injury, or kill him, without arms, or if Weaver "assaulted the defendant, or by his words or acts produced in the mind of the defendant reasonable apprehension or fear of an assault or serious bodily injury or less of life . . . Dillard would have a right to kill the deceased," and "it will be your duty to acquit" him.

The charge instructed further that "the defendant had a right under the law to resist any effort of deceased to remove him by force or superior strength from his automobile, and use whatever degree of force appeared to the defendant, viewing the same from his standpoint, to be necessary to protect himself . . ."

Dillard Testifies

The charge carried the usual instructions that reasonable doubt must be resolved in favor of the defendant.

The state had rested its case at 1:40 p. m. after brief testimony by one witness recalled to the stand, and Dillard followed six other defense witnesses on the stand, most of them seeking to brand Weaver as a man of bad reputation.

Dillard, 37, years old, said his home was in Dallas, where his wife worked, at the time of the shooting, and that he had driven here from Dallas early in the morning of Oct. 31, the night Weaver was shot shortly past midnight.

Reared at Lockney, Dillard testified he had known Weaver more or less casually 20-some-odd years and that he was afraid of him. He said he went to the station—Panhandle Service station operated by Weaver and Ernest D. (Buddy) Tice—at 2707 Texas Ave. about 10 or 10:30 o'clock that night, and that Tice, Weaver and a fellow named Hawkins were there.

He recounted under questioning by J. E. Vickers, of Vickers and Vickers, who with Burton S. Burks, of Burks and McNeill, are defense counsel, the same story substantially as told at the morning session by Tice, a state witness.

He told of a game of matching with coins, in which he lost $220 to $230, then borrowed from Weaver successively on his ring, diamond stickpin, and wrist watch, $100 on each item. The articles had been introduced in testimony by the state.

Returned To Station

Dillard said he continued to lose, then offered a check for $81 he had in his pocket, but Weaver and Tice both declined to cash it. He testified there was no argument over it, and that he told them he would go get some more money. The time was fixed then at 11:30 or 12 o'clock.

He said he telephoned his wife at Dallas, "had another drink around," then went to the home of his mother at 1211 Sixteenth, 10 or 12 blocks away, and got two $20 bills from his bag there. He was gone, he said 15 or 20 minutes, and on his return to the station, found only Weaver there.

Asking for Tice, Dillard said Weaver told him Tice had gone home, then he recounted how he gained possession of his watch, around which the state had sought to build its motive for the killing.

State testimony at the morning session had brought out that the watch was taken from Dillard when he was booked at the county jail, after previous witnesses had told of the watch being "hocked" in the loan deal along with the ring and pin. The two latter articles were removed from Weaver's body at the hospital and turned over to sheriff's deputies, according to testimony.

Says Watch Won Back

Concerning the watch, Dillard testified that he put up the $81 check and a $20 bill, and Weaver put up the watch in a matching game. Dillard said he won the watch back, and replaced it on his arm. Trying to regain the other pawned articles, Dillard testified that a little later he saw, or thought he saw Weaver change his coin on a toss and told him "that don't go."

He said Weaver flared up, started cursing him, arose from the chair in which he had been sitting and came around the desk fast. Dillard said he ran for his car, parked only a few feet away in the station driveway, got inside but couldn't close the door because Weaver had hold of him and was trying to pull him from the car.

He testified he reached for a gun in the glove compartment of the car, managed to get hold of the gun, then was pulled from the car by Weaver. He heard a shot, he said, and Weaver's hold on him relaxed, and the wounded man started for his desk inside the station.

Called For Officers

On direct examination, he said he could see Weaver was "in bad shape" and he called the sheriff's department, and testifying as to mental confusion, said he didn't know what he told them. He said he then called a hospital for an ambulance, was told they had no such service, then trying to call an ambulance service "must have dialed the operator." He finally got the call through, he said.

Hawkins arrived just ahead of the sheriff's deputies, he said, and the ambulance arrived shortly. Weaver was taken to the hospital, where, previous testimony showed, he was dead on arrival. Dillard was taken to jail by George Eubank and Carl W. Francis, deputies sheriffs.

Dillard testified he had had no previous trouble with Weaver, but had heard of his reputation, and knew he "was overbearing when he was drinking." He "didn't want to tangle with Weaver," a much larger man, he said.

Left Gun In Car

On cross examination, Dillard testified under questioning by L. A. Howard, who with Victor H. Lindsey, is assisting District Attorney Lloyd Croslin in the prosecution, that he wasn't sure just what he said to anyone on any of the phone calls.

His testimony, however, remained unshaken under Howard's implications as to what he (Dillard) thought when Weaver started toward his desk after being shot. Howard brought out that Dillard had left his gun on the front seat of his car, then turned and walked empty-handed into the station, where Weaver by then was sitting at the desk.

Seeking to establish Weaver's reputation as bad, the defense introduced several other witnesses, some of whom told of "difficulty at the J. B. Fowler residence," when Jake Weaver, brother of Garlon, was killed and Garlon Weaver was wounded, and the severe beating of W. E. Walls by two men the witnesses identified as Garlon Weaver and Bob Vaught.

The witnesses were V. A. Johnston, former sheriff of Crosby county, who knew Weaver's reputation as bad; P. H. Jester of Lubbock, Mrs. Nora Watson and her husband, J. F. Watson, of Odessa, who were present "when Garlon Weaver drew a knife on Mr. Fowler," (J. B. Fowler) in a fracas that resulted in the shooting at the Fowler residence; and J. P. Posey, former chief deputy sheriff and jailer here, who investigated the Walls episode.

faced whether consideration in our own national interests is compatible with continued membership in the organization."

Freedom In Asia Demanded

He spoke at the fourth meeting of the assembly after U Ohn, Burmese minister of commerce, had demanded freedom for Indonesia and French Indo-China and had charged that the fighting in southeast Asia "is in some way due to frustrated nationalism."

Louw's criticism came as the U. N. kept its back door open to receive a possible newcomer into its family troubles—the problem of the Russian blockade of Berlin.

The South African economics minister charged the general assembly is being used for "ideological propaganda and for poisoning relations between European and non-European races of the world."

He asserted that small nations, in accepting the U. N. charter in San Francisco, had shown an "act of faith" in the five great powers.

Misgivings Justified

"Failure to carry out these obligations in the spirit in which they were conferred and accepted," he said, "would amount to a breach of faith—betrayal of the faith which the smaller nations showed in the great powers by agreeing to accept the charter."

Louw added that the misgivings the smaller nations had expressed when they accepted the veto privilege of the five big powers had been justified.

South Africa herself has flouted two resolutions of the United Nations in failing to compose her differences with India over the treatment of Indain nationals in the union and her refusal to comply with a U. N. request to turn over mandated southwest Africa to U. N. trusteeship.

Blockade Causes Concern

Meanwhile western power officials were said to be ready to meet to decide whether the Berlin problem should go to the security council or the general assembly.

Russia's reply to identical American, British and French notes dispatched earlier this week is expected to be known by next Wednesday. The note is understood to have asked whether Russia intends to recognize four-power control of Berlin and to have informed the Soviets the allied air lift of supplies for the blockaded city will go on all winter if necessary.

French officials reportedly are resigned to the eventual transfer of the dispute to U. N. They even look gloomily ahead, it is reported, to the possibility the Berlin quarrel may lead to a Russian walkout from the U. N.

Maneuvers By Fleets Slated

BY ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 — Powerful segments of the United States and British fleets are heading for separate, far-flung testing operations.

Britain's home fleet headed out across the Atlantic today for what First Lord of the Admiralty Viscount Hall called the "biggest and most important naval cruise and exercise since the war."

Enroute to a West Indies maneuver area the British seamen "fought" preliminary mock engagement in the English channel with three aircraft carriers. Speedy motor torpedo boats and submarines also joined in the fray.

Force Ordered To Sea

The United States Navy meanwhile ordered Task Force 38, now at San Diego, to put to sea next Friday in a "routine" cruise to Japan and China.

The task force—composed of the 27,000 ton carriers Princeton and Tarawa, probably escorted by about three cruisers and eight destroyers—will put in at Yokosuka, Japan, and Tsingtao, a China port menaced by advancing Chinese Communist forces. It is expected to remain in Asiatic waters three or four months.

Force Begins Operations

Down in the uneasy Mediterranean, a new 18-ship American naval force headed by the 45,000 ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt began operations. It is taking over from a like sized force on duty there since early this year.

Admiral Richard L. Conolly, commander of United States Naval Forces in Europe, will spend two weeks with the Mediterranean group as it undergoes test operations. He returned to London early this week from conferences with the Navy command in Washington.

There was disagreement among committee members over how far their investigations should branch out. Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) was quoted in Chicago as saying the group should undertake a broad series of inquiries, including another look at Communism in Hollywood.

Espionage Is Concern

Nixon disagreed. He said he wants to go deeper into the espionage question, Toward that end, he said, he intends to pursue a report by Adm. W. H. Standley, wartime ambassador to Russia, that the late President Roosevelt had to send secret messages by Navy code because he felt the State department code was "not secure."

And one of the people Nixon wants to speak to about espionage is the nation's number one G-man.

"Why doesn't the President let Hoover come before the committee and name names?" Nixon asked. "I think if he testified he not only would approve the work of our committee but would make additional revelations that would shock the country."

Senate Dispute

vent the injunction from rendering its judgmnet.

Senate Said Sole Judge

"Stevenson has his remedy in a contest of the election before the Senate. The Senate is the sole judge of the election returns."

Cofer referred to rule 62 of the federal procedure, which gives to one judge of a federal court such as the New Orleans circuit court, of which Hutcheson is the presiding judge, the authority to stay a ruling by a lower court prior to a full-dress hearing before the whole court.

Hutcheson last night told reporters the circuit court will not meet until October 4, in Atlanta, and that it is improbable that members would be willing to call a special session to hear the senatorial case.

Arguments before Davidson indicated October 3 is the final date on which names may be submitted for the general election ballot.

"If this is an election contest—which it undoubtedly is—it has been held that the federal district court has no jurisdiction," Cofer insisted.

Has Right As Nominee

"The right of a candidate to be voted for is not a matter of equity. A man who on the face of the returns wins an election has a vested property right as the nominee. This suit (the temporary injunction granted by Davidson) attempts to deprive Johnson of that right."

Hutcheson last night also said it may be possible for him to grant "temporary relief" but that the entire appeals court would have to hear Johnson's appeal from the injunction.

If the circuit judge should issue a stay of execution of the injunction it would have the effect of telling the Texas secretary of state to put Johnson's name on the November 2 ballot.

High Court Last Resort

Failure of his appeal efforts in the circuit court would leave the United States Supreme court as Johnson's next and last recourse. This court also does not meet until October 4 but it might be possible for one of its judges to grant "temporary relief" such as indicated by Hutcheson.

The injunction, as signed by Davidson, was issued in a suit in which Stevenson asks that after a trial on merits he be declared Texas' Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate instead of Johnson.

As the appeal hearing began here today, Davidson went ahead with plans for an investigation of Aug. 28 second primary voting in the South Texas' counties of Jim Wells, Zapata and Duval.

He named W. R. Smith, jr., to examine the vote in Jim Wells county and J. M. Burnett to investigate that of Zapata and Duval counties.

Both men are from San Antonio. As part of their powers as investigators the court said they could open ballot boxes and examine poll tax lists.

Stevenson's suit—filed after the state Democratic convention had certified Johnson the winner by 87 votes—charged that voting frauds in Jim Wells, Zapata, and Duval counties had deprived Stevenson of the nomination.

Judge Davidson told attorneys yesterday the investigation was "a preparation for trial." James V. Allred and John Cofer, attorneys for Johnson, protested emphatically against such an investigation. Cofer made it clear the Johnson legal staff meant to have no part in helping choose the investigators.

They said there was not time for it. ". . . There are other counties we would like investigated if there were time—Brown, Galveston, Jack, and possibly Harris and Dallas," Cofer said.

The judge said he would be glad to appoint masters to investigate "any counties the respondents state they wish investigated."

May Grant Relief

Judge Hutcheson said last night that it may be possible for him to grant "temporary relief," but that the entire appeals court would have to hear Johnson's appeal from the injunction.

He said the court next meets in Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4. That is a day later than Johnson's attorneys have regarded the deadline for a Democratic nominee to go on the ticket.

Judge Hutcheson said what "temporary" relief he may be able to grant "would depend on what kind of relief Johnson's attorneys ask."

Stevenson first obtained a restraining order forbidding Secretary of State Paul Brown to put Johnson's name on the official ballot. A hearing on the question of the temporary injunction began in Fort Worth Sept. 21, and lasted two days.

Johnson Overruled

Johnson's attorneys argued Judge Davidson did not have jurisdiction. He overruled them, and granted the injunction.

Allred said yesterday that in addition to asking for a stay of execution Johnson also probably would ask a writ of prohibition and mandamus to prevent Stevenson from taking other court action.

Cofer told Judge Davidson yesterday he would continue to fight the case against the injunction itself, questioning the court's power.

Approximately 200 had attended today's meetings. An estimated 700 persons have attended sessions in the two days, Rev. Cecil Ray, pastor of the host church, estimated.

Dr. J. W. Marshall, president of Wayland college at Plainview, was to speak in the closing session this afternoon.

Taylor Pendley of Abernathy, moderator, was presiding. New officers were to be elected this afternoon.

U. S. PROTESTS FIRING PRACTICE

Reds To Shoot In Berlin Air Lanes

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 24. — Russian anti-aircraft gunners plan to fire "dangerously high" in practice today in the American-British air lift corridor to blockaded Berlin, the Americans charged in a protest.

The Russians also announced they would conduct bombing and fighter firing practice in the corridor, the Americans said. Asked what precautions they would take to protect traffic, the Russians said that when their own planes appeared, they would stop shooting.

U. S. Bans Red Papers

In another development of the battle for Berlin, the U. S. military government banned all Soviet-sponsored newspapers and other publications from the American zone of Germany. This was in reprisal for Soviet banning of western-licensed publications in the Soviet zone and the Russian sector of Berlin.

Capt. V. H. Gookin of Quincy, Mass., chief of U. S. representative at the four-power Berlin air safety center, said the Russians posted a notice there that they intended to conduct anti-aircraft firing practice for seven hours today in the Bueckeburg corridor.

High Firing Slated

The corridor is used by all American and British planes on air supply runs to Berlin. The Russians announced they would fire up to 10,000 feet near Dolle airport, about 25 miles west of Berlin.

"I objected that this was dangerously high range," Gookin said, "and asked the Russians what protective measures they were taking for their own air traffic going between here and Paris for the United Nations sessions. The Russian representative answered that when their own traffic came along, 'we will stop shooting.'"

Diving Practice Also Set

Later, Gookin said, the Russians reported they were also intending air-to-ground practice. This would include diving fire by aircraft at targets and possibly bombing practice. These operations also were scheduled at Dolle, along the corridor.

The Americans protested to the Russians yesterday against a stunting Soviet Yak fighter plane which flew dangerously close to an American transport carying 30 persons from Berlin to Frankfurt.

On the political front, the war over the newspapers nullified a four power agreement reached at the Moscow foreign ministers conference in 1947, for free exchange of information throughout the four occupation zones.

Berlin Not Included

The American action, in effect a counter-embargo, was signed by Maj. Gen. M. George P. Hays, deputy U. S. military governor.

American officials said Hays acted after he had sent repeated but upavailing protests to the Russians against the blocking of western-zone publications from the Soviet zone.

It was not learned immediately whether the British would take a parallel action.

Hays order, was understood not to include the American sector of Berlin.

The newspaper war began when German Communists banned the sale of western Berlin newspapers in the Soviet sector of the city. Western news dealers replied by boycotting Soviet controlled-papers.

The American ban affects all German newspapers and periodicals published under Russian sponsorship and also such Soviet publications as the Russian Communist newspaper Pravda and the foreign policy magazine New Times.

"The atomic age will be one of unimagined blessings or of unimagined disaster," Dewey said. "That is for us, for mankind to determine. It may be our final choice. That choice is our challenge."

The States Rights presidential candidate, Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, meanwhile told Augusta, Ga., voters that if his Democratic rebel group had not entered a ticket Dewey "would have carried nearly every southern state."

The South Carolina governor said the States Righters now believe the GOP candidate will not carry a single state in the south.

Griffiths, 58, was alleged to have directed the plot from Montevideo, Uruguay. He went there last spring after the American embassy obtained his release from jail on Griffith's promise that he would leave Argentina.

THE CROSSLEY POLL

Dewey Fairly Certain Of 242 Electoral Votes At Present

By ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY
Director, The Crossley Poll

Prior to the start of the campaigns, Dewey seemed reasonably assured of all but a few of the northern states and all of the Pacific coast. These fairly definite states number 20 and total 242 electoral votes, with only 24 more electoral votes needed from the less certain states to obtain the necessary 266.

These 20 states are considered unlikely, under ordinary circumstances, to shift to Truman by Election Day, because Dewey has at least 55%, and Truman no more than 45% of what both together would poll. Experience shows that although there may be changes of several percentage points a ten point difference is normally too great to overcome within a few weeks time.

States Unlikely To Change

In all cases the figures given are for major party totals without the Wallace vote and presume Wallace to be represented on the ballot, unless specifically known not to be included at this time. A later exclusion could change the ratios.

The poll as of the first of September showed the following states as probably unlikely to swing to Truman.

10 TO 20 POINTS APART
173 ELECTORAL VOTES

Percentage of Major-Party Total
Dewey	55%	60%
Truman	45%	40%

Each of the following:
New Hampshire, Connecticut, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, Washington, California.

20 TO 30 POINTS APART
61 ELECTORIAL VOTES

Dewey	60%	65%
Truman	40%	35%

Each of the following:
New Jersey, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Oregon.

30 TO 40 POINTS APART
8 ELECTROAL VOTES

Dewey	65%	70%
Truman	35%	30%

Each of the following:
Maine, Vermont.

Absence from this list, of course, does not mean that the state is likely to go to Truman. Some of the remaining states are established for Truman, some for Thurmond. The balance are pivotal—i. e., less than ten points apart. Some of them may later be established for Truman, some for Dewey. New York, for example, is considered pivotal on the Dewey side for the present because Dewey is less than ten points ahead of Truman.

Truman Vote Split

Dewey's heavy lead in these twenty states is partly because the vote for other parties has cut into the Truman vote. In addition, his lead represents a shift of previous Democrats to the Republican presidential candidate, and also it means that many Democrats may stay home.

Only one of the mountain states seems fairly certain for Dewey. Generally, the northern farm belt is definite and so is the central section, but Missouri is not on the list, and Minnesota does not quite reach 55%. In the east the fixed states do not include Massachusetts, Rhode Island or New York.

A forthcoming article will review the situation in less certain states in detail.

Three Die As Arab Plane Is Shot Down

AMOAN, Trans-Jordan, Sept. 24. (AP)—Two British correspondents and an Arab were killed when Jews shot down an Arab airlines transport plane yesterday, the Arab legion announced.

The legion charged that the transport was attacked by a Jewish fighter plane over Lebanon and crashed in Trans-Jordan.

The British correspondents killed were David Woodford, 40, of the London Daily Telegraph, and John Dixon, 38, of the British Broadcasting corp. The Arab victim was from Acre. In addition, the pilot and two other passengers were injured.

The transport, en route from Amman to Beirut, Lebanon, crossed Lake Tiberias near Jewish-held territory and flew almost within sight of Jewish-occupied Haifa.

Iraqi army headquarters said the Jewish fighter plane was marked with a red cross and consequently was not challenged when it appeared over Arab territory.

Trans-Jordan has asked for an immediate investigation of the incident, by United Nations truce observers.

Land Levelling Demonstration Is Staged At Farm Near City

Approximately 250 farmers and other interested men attended demonstration of land levelling at the J. E. Hancock farm Thursday afternoon according to David W. Sherrill, county agent.

The Hancock farm, located one mile east of the south end of the over pass on the Plainview highway, was leveled in 40-foot strips which ran in a contour with the rows, having three tenths of an inch fall per 100 feet. On each side of the strip was placed a border capable of holding about six inches of water for irrigating flat land.

"Those present expressed great interest in the process, and many indicated that they would like to have the work done on their land, some of whom were dry-land farmers who believe that it would conserve rainfall," Sherrill said. He added that the work that has been done would be open to anyone who wishes to visit it in the future.

The primary purpose of the levelling-bordering work is to eliminate the loss of irrigation water through its failure to soak in if the slope of the land is too great. The land on the Hancock farm originally had a drop of about one foot per 100 feet, which made it almost impossible to irrigate to the greatest advantage without an excessive amount of water being applied. Estimate of the cost of the work, if done commercially, was about $30 per acre.

A dirt carry-all was used to transport dirt from extremely high spots to where the land was low, and then a Hancock plane terrace was used to put up the borders at 40-foot intervals. After the borders were prepared, a common chisel was used to loosen the land between borders for levelling with an Eversman land leveller. Twelve 40-inch rows can be placed between the borders, and Hancock indicated that he would plant small-grain crops such as wheat, barley or clover on the borders, which are of the bench type and about four feet wide.

This beneficial levelling of land can be acquired through cooperation with the Soil Conservation District, Sherrill said.

Officer Asks Haven In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—The United States was asked to provide haven today for a high-ranking Polish officer who defied orders to return to his Communist-ruled homeland.

Lt. Gen. Izydor Modelski, military attache of the Polish embassy here, said in a statement last night that the Polish army "is being systematically changed into a "blind tool' in the hands of the Soviet staff."

Desertion Changed

The embassy said Modelski had been ordered home August 15 after a prolonged illness but that he is still regarded as in active army service.

"His refusal to report to his duties at home is therefore an act of military desertion," the embassy said.

The 60-year-old general made no immediate comment on that.

In his earlier statement Modelski declared that the present Warsaw regime has "liquidated independent political parties" in Poland.

Soviet Aims Cited

Charging that the present Warsaw regime has "liquidated independent political parties" in the country, he added:

"I know very well that the military-political education of all Polish boys and girls has as its aim the reparation of the entire Polish nation as an instrument of Soviet militarism and imperialism."

Modelski has four children—a girl and three sons—who are here with their parents.

Truman-Barkley Club Organized At Waco

AUSTIN, Sept. 24 (AP)—Mayor Tom Miller of Austin said the state's first Truman-Barkley club was organized yesterday in Waco.

The Texas Truman-Barkley chairman said the honor went to McLennan county, where 150 members attended the organization meeting.

Claud Segrest was elected president, W. C. Hailey, treasurer, and Robert Frazier, secretary.

Miller announced the appointment of Caso March of Waco as chairman of the Truman-Barkley club for the Waco senatorial district.

Chairmen will be announced later for the 30 other senatorial districts.

MEREDITH, N. H., (U.P.) — A couple who arrived here for a vacation were so sorry for a burned-out family of 12 that they donated their $200 vacation money toward a new home for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hurd and their 10 children.

Man Says Wife Killed Herself But Officers Find Her Alive

FULTON, Mo., Sept. 24 (AP)—A woman carnival worker was found alive yesterday less than a day after officers reported her husband had signed a statement saying she had committed suicide last April.

The statement was signed by Clarence E. Marshall, 33, at Phoenix, Ariz., Deputy Sheriff Forest Castle said.

The deputy reported Marshall said he buried his wife on a carnival lot in Fulton after she killed herself with a butcher knife.

Mrs. Marshall was found alive and well at Portageville, Mo., where she was working for a carnival, by Fulton Police Chief Ben Redden. Redden quoted her as saying she did not know the whereabouts of her husband and their two young children.

Marshall gave no reason for the suicide statement after being told his wife had been found. He was arrested earlier this week in Gila, Ariz., after a woman caring for the Marshalls' two boys reported to police that one told her:

"Daddy cut up my mommy and buried her by the side of the road."

San Benito Man Dies In Car-Truck Mishap

SCOTTSBLUFF, Nebr., Sept. 24 (AP)—Guadalupe Ibarra, 28, of San Benito, Tex., was fatally injured yesterday in a car-truck collision two miles northwest of here.

Ibarra was a passenger in a car driven by Guadalupe Lugo, 29, of Scottsbluff. He died in a Scottsbluff hospital a short time after the accident.

Aluminum Case Goes To Court

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (U.P.)—The Justice department today filed proceedings to force the huge Aluminum Company of America to cut its size and power drastically.

The action was taken in U. S. district court in New York.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark said that Alcoa would be given an opportunity to submit a plan to divest itself of certain of its properties with the purpose of ending its alleged monopoly in the aluminum field.

Court May Submit Plan

The department suggested also that the court might submit a plan which would reduce the power and size of the company.

The department did not make any specific suggestion on how to go about breaking up the sprawling aluminum empire but made it plain it had no intention of putting the company out of business.

"Excessive concentration of economic power is a threat to our democratic institutions," Clark said.

Purpose Is Stated

"The government's purpose in this kind of proceeding is to strengthen our economic system by neutralizing monopoly power and establishing conditions in which competition can take place."

In 1945, a special three-judge court found Alcoa to be a monopoly, but specific action to break it up was postponed until wartime plants were disposed of.

It was thought the status of the industry might be changed in a peace-time set-up.

Reds Say Sentences Of Youths Reduced

BERLIN, Sept. 24. (AP)—The viet-controlled Berlin radio says the Russians have reduced the 25-year sentences imposed on five German youths for anti-Communist rioting Sept. 9.

The broadcast last night said terms were reduced to eight years for two youths and to four, three and one year, respectively for the others.

Belgians To Push Beer Sales Abroad

BRUSSELS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Belgium brewers have organized an association, "Unibex" (Union des Brasseries Belges d'Exportation), to push the sale of Belgian beer abroad. They plan to produce a standard beer of controlled density, which will keep well even in the tropics.

M. Jean Grosfils, president of "Unibex," speaking at a luncheon here, said Belgium had lost a large part of the export market abandoned by the Germans and Japanese, because the government had ruled after the liberation that the home market must be supplied first. As a result, he claimed, the thirsty in America and Africa were drinking Dutch beer out of Belgian bottles.

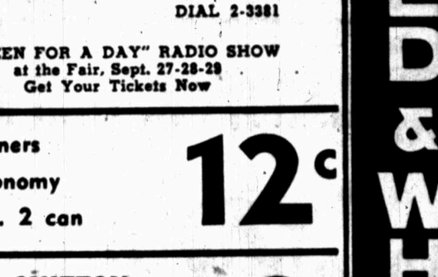

"As for the Belgian Congo," he added, "we are selling there, but we have just learned that in a little while we shall again meet a competitor whom we had believed eliminated for a long time. I mean German beer, paid for in dollars."

M. Grosfils also complained that of 20 commercial agreements which Belgium had signed with other countries since the war, only one—that with England—"contained a drop" of beer.

Some Guys Sissies During Whole Life

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 24 (U.P.)—Mrs. Margaret Lamczyk is not too surprised when a young man comes into her beauty shop for a permanent wave so he can please a girl friend.

But one of her latest male customers was out of the ordinary.

He was 88 year old and had five waves put in his silver locks. He said he wanted to please his girl friend, too, and she came with him. She was 78.

Effects Of Sun On Cloth Under Study

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (U.P.)—Your dress, tent or shirt may be sunproof in the future because of experiments being conducted atop Mount Montezuma in Chile.

Smithsonian Institution scientists on the 9,500-foot peak are making precise measurements of the effect on various fabrics of different elements in sunshine.

They are working on the theory that disintegration of cloth is due as much to specific kinds of light as to total sunlight. But moisture in the atmosphere is also a culprit and it is difficult to separate its effect on fabric from that of the damaging light rays. Hence, the choice of Mount Montezuma, one of the driest spots in the western hemisphere.

Green-wing teals, smallest of all ducks, are famous for their beauty and are second only to the wood duck in brilliance of plumage.

Alien Arrested On Red Charge

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP)—George Pirinsky, 48, of New York, in Chicago for a meeting of the American Slav congress, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him, as an alien, with belonging to an organization advocating forceful overthrow of the United States government.

Pirinsky, executive secretary of the American-Slav congress, was released on $1,000 bond shortly after he had been arrested on a warrant issued by the Commissioner of Immigration in Washington. The Justice department in Washington said the action against Pirinsky was based upon alleged membership in the Communist party and not upon his affiliation with the American-Slav congress.

Pirinsky, the department said, "affiliated with the Communist party after his entry into this country, in violation of the immigration statutes." Marcus T. Neelly, Chicago district enforcement officer for the Immigration bureau, said Pirinsky came to the United States from Bulgaria in 1926. He said his real name is George Nicholas Zaikoff.

Information Not Given

Pirinsky declined to give newsmen any information about his personal affairs. He said the American-Slav congress, which today opened a three-day meeting, was organized in 1938 to "promote the cultural activities of the American Slavs and friendship between Americans and Slavs." He said 1,500 delegates from across the country are expected for the convention.

The congress was on a list issued last May 28 of organizations which Attorney General Tom Clark has classified as "Totalitarian, Fascist, Communist or subversive." The Justice department for more than a year has been carrying on a program of arresting aliens with alleged subversive affiliations for deportation.

Confract For Church Is Let

The million-dollar new home of First Baptist church moved near reality Thursday with the announcement that a contract for general construction of the building has been awarded to Robert E. Maxey, Lubbock contractor.

The contract was awarded, said Dr. F. B. Malone, chairman of the church building committee, after that committee had interviewed several general contractors. Although the contract has not yet been actually signed, the decision was reached at a committee meeting Wednesday night.

Actual work is expected to begin about Nov. 1 when the architects, Butler-Brasher company of Lubbock and the consulting architects, Eggers and Higgins of New York City, ecclesiastical architects, will have plans completed.

Site On Avenue V

The imposing structure is to be built on a site occupying about half a block at Avenue V between Broadway and Thirteenth street. The church bought most of the property several years ago. Early this year a strip of property at the west end of the site was purchased for the purpose of providing a paved street from Broadway to Thirteenth street.

First unit to be started will be the educational building, consisting of two wings. One wing will be three stories and a basement, 88 by 106 feet. The second wing will be two stories and a basement 86 by 106 feet. The construction will be brick and tile with stone trim, and tile roofing. It will have facilities for 3,200 Sunday school students.

Plans are still on the boards for the auditorium portion of the building, which is to have a seating capacity of 2,300 without moving in chairs. A tower more than 100 feet high will surmount the auditorium.

Of modified Romanesque architecture, the building will have all facilities of a large church, including kitchens, nursery and meeting rooms.

Cost of the buildings, according to members of the building committee, "will be at least a million dollars, probably more."

In a year that has already seen the issuance of more than $10,600,000 in building permits, issuance of permits for work on the church structure will materially boost the city's total to record proportions.

PERMITS ISSUED FOR SIX NEW RESIDENCES

Permits for six new residences accounted for $79,500 of the $103,600 in new construction authorized Thursday by City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross.

Those issued were to: Vernon Thompson, brick veneer, 3202 Twenty-seventh, $19,000; J. E. Maisen Building corp., frame, 3014 Twenty-sixth and 3316 Twenty-fifth, $14,500; E. J. Pribble, frame, 3319 Twenty-seventh, $11,000; Dr. R. Z. Abell, brick veneer, 1702 Thirty-second, $10,500, and H. C. Webb, Jr., 3314 Twenty-seventh, $10,000.

Another permit for $15,000 was issued to Tom McAbee, contractor, and Texas Floral co., for an addition to greenhouses at 2101 Twenty-first.

The building permit total for the month was increased to $1,139,000 and for the year to $10,670,468.

Cabbie Knows Fare By Check Not Best

NEW YORK Sept. 24. (AP) —Taxicab driver John Wagner says he doesn't expect to collect a $14 fare due him—at least for six months.

He said a young man got in his cab yesterday in Huntington, Long Island, and asked to be driven to the Queens county court house several miles distant.

When they reached the court house, the man said, "wait for me. I'll be out in five minutes."

After waiting for more than an hour, Wagner went inside and discovered that his fare, Alfred Mackay, 22, had just been sentenced to six months in jail for passing an $800 bad check.

English Peers Reject Bill On Legislation

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP)—A government-sponsored bill to cut the time the House of Lords can delay legislation from two years to one was rejected yesterday by the peers in a vote of 206 to 34.

The same bill has been passed twice by the Labor-controlled House of Commons but rejected by the heavily Conservative upper house. If it is passed by Commons again at the next session, it becomes law automatically.

After 11 Years Man Gets Letter Mailed

EAST PRAIRIE, Mo., Sept. 24 (AP)—A local railroad agent, A. L. Webb, was cleaning out his office desk recently and he came across an unmailed letter. Upon investigation he found that his wife had given him the letter to mail 11 years ago. Rather than face the possible consequences, he mailed it.

Sausages at their Best

A FOOD TIP BY FOOD EDITORS OF McCALL'S MAGAZINE

Here at McCall's Kitchen we're fussy about the way our sausages are cooked. We steam them first in a little water; drain and brown them tenderly, jiggle the skillet as they need turning and they turn over all by themselves. The big sausage manufacturers like this way too as the piercing of a fork before they're done permits the juices to escape.

Ticket Sale For Water Follies At South Plains Fair Starts

The advance sale of reserved tickets to the "Water Follies of 1948" at the Panhandle-South Plains fair next week will begin today at the Continental Air Lines offices in the Hilton hotel, fair association manager A. B. Davis announced late Thursday.

He announced also that the advance interest in this attraction has been so great that nine performances have been scheduled.

It will be presented each night at 8 o'clock except Wednesday and each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock except Monday and Wednesday.

Advance Notices Impressive

Only the center sections of the grandstand have been reserved for the performances. They are $1.80, including tax. Over two-thirds of the grandstand will be general admissions at $1.25. There's not a bad seat in the grandstand, since there are no pillars or beams to obstruct the views of spectators.

Advance sales will continue at the Continental offices through Saturday. Tickets will be available at the fairgrounds next week.

The Follies are playing a four-day engagement at the San Angelo fair this week, and reports from there are that the performances have more than measured up to advance expectation.

San Angelo and Lubbock are two of the smallest cities in which the Follies have played during the several years on tour. The show's itinerary this year extends from New England to California and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Several Features Included

In addition to swimming and diving exhibitions by several world champions, the performances include exhibitions by a water ballet of 16 girls and several acts of big time vaudeville.

The "props" carried by the company include one pool 75 feet long for the ballet and a diving plunge 45 feet deep. All will be set into a stage nearly 300 feet long which will be below the level of the lowest seats in the grandstand. The spectators will be in ideal position to see everything that goes on.

Manager Davis emphasized that the supply of reserved seats is relatively small, since only a small part of the grandstand has been set aside for this purpose.

Red Films Assailed In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE, Sept. 24. (AP)—Freedom of speech is muted but not dead in Czechoslovakia and newspaper readers can still write letters to the editor expressing a preference for American movies over the Russian variety. The newspaper "Mlada Fronta," a strong Communist supporter, has been campaigning against bad movies, bad music and bad stage shows. It cited the movie "Red Stallion", a western, as an example of the worst type of American movie, which should not be shown in Czechoslovakia. "Mlada Fronta' published the following unsigned letter of reaction:

"You are an ox to start such a campaign. Do you believe you represent the will of the people? Go and have a look at the box office of a cinema where an American picture is running and one where a Russian botch-work is running. There you will see the will of the people. If your campaign results in the withdrawal of American pictures and we are forced to see those Russian patch-ups, then after the war I'll beat you so that you will not forget it until your death."

A survey of titles playing at 17 first class movie theaters in Prague during a week in August showed this breakdown of movies by countries of origin: United States 10, Russian 3, France 2, Czechslovakia 2.

British Observers Think B-29 Is Tops

LONDON, Sept. 24. (AP)—American air experts may consider the B-29 out of date but British observers think it's tops.

After detailing performance of the American planes which never appeared in the European theater during the war, the magazine's representative wrote: "The B-29 superfortress, although it is considered a little dated by the Americans, is still one of the finest strategic weapons in the world.

Evidence that volcanoes roared in northwestern India a quarter of a billion years ago has been found. In a formation of slate, a geologist discovered the split half of a volcanic bomb, which is a hollow mass of lava of a type often thrown out by volcanoes.

IDLEWILD'S A BIG PLACE

NEW YORK, (AP)—Tony Perry has decided that the New York International Airport (Idlewild) may be a trifle too big. Station manager for Peruvian International Airways at the giant field, Perry can almost yell across to maintenance crews in the hangar opposite the terminal building, but to get to the shops without crossing busy runways he must travel the perimeter of the field, a distance of seven and one-half miles.

U. S. Communist Leaders Want Demonstrations During Trial

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP) — The American Communist party top command wants "labor and its allies" throughout the country to hold mass protest demonstrations on Oct. 15—the date set for trial of 12 party leaders indicted by a federal grand jury.

Eugene Dennis, national secretary of the party and one of those indicted, issued the call last night at a 29th anniversary rally of the party at Madison Square garden.

Election Protest Urged

He said there should be protests against the indictments and on a wide range of issues from lynching to "imperialistic war."

Communist city Councilman Benjamin J. Davis, one of those indicted, told the rally that Democrats and Republicans are "out to kill the growing peace movement and the new Progressive party."

Speech Rejected

Mark Woods, ABC president, said later that the station—"in accordance with its policy of selling time to candidates of all recognized political parties" — had agreed to make WJZ available for a paid broadcast on behalf of Gerson, a candidate in Brooklyn.

"The Davis speech was not broadcast," Woods said, "because as submitted, it clearly did not relate in any way to the candidacy of Gerson."

BANK HEAD HOLDS ON

BELMONT, N. Y., (AP) — The State Bank of Belmont has been in business for 60 years and for 60 years has had but one president. Elmore A. Willets, then a young man of 27, was chosen first president of the bank when it was founded on June 4, 1888. He has served continuously since.

Housing Legislation Discussed At Meet

Approximately 120 builders, lenders and material supply men were guests of Lubbock Home Builders association last night at Hilton hotel for a dinner meeting a discussion of the operation of the 1948 housing bill.

E. T. Stearns, district director of the Federal Housing administration, and E. M. Lavell, district chief underwriter for the FHA, both from Fort Worth, were the principal speakers of the evening.

Attending the meeting were men in the building trades from Lubbock, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Lamesa and Ralls. Vernon E. Thompson, president of the sponsoring company, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers.

Marriage Of Actor In Divorce Courts

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24 (AP)—The ten-week old marriage of Movie Actor Robert Walker and Barbara Ford Walker, daughter of Director John Ford, was in the divorce courts today.

Mrs. Walker charged "extreme and grievous mental cruelty" in her divorce suit filed yesterday in superior court. Formerly a film cutter, she said she is without funds and asked "reasonable" alimony from Walker.

The couple was married July 8 in Beverly Hills and separated five weeks later.

One Killed In Train Wreck

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 24 (AP) — An Atlantic Coast line engineer was killed in a train wreck near here last night at the same spot where his father, also an ACL engineer, was killed similarly 23 years ago.

L. E. Hicks, 30, of Tampa, died when his northbound Havana special rammed a standing freight train at Mango, 10 miles east of here, dispatcher R. M. Beach said.

Two Persons Hurt

Two persons were injured, neither seriously. Sgt. J. T. Prater of the state highway patrol said D. Hinton, news vendor of Jacksonville, suffered severe knee sprain, and Will McDonald, 41, of Plant City a slight back injury. Both were passengers.

A. C. McLendon of Tampa, passenger train conductor, said the freight was on a siding when his train plowed into it at about 50 miles an hour. McLendon said the switch had not been turned after the freight backed into the siding, and that the Havana special went on into the siding also.

Talented "Gaby" Can Figure Own Income Tax, Rumors Say

He is a past master at cycling and they say he even figures his own income tax, which might be considerable since "Gaby" is one of the featured performers of the Ringling Bros., and Barnum & Bailey circus which will show here next Wednesday.

"Gaby" doesn't hold with the old belief that apes imitate human beings; "Gaby" claims it is the other way around. Smart even for his breed, which zoologists rank highest on the ladder of animal intelligence, "Gaby's" limitations are principally linquistic. He doesn't speak English.

Traveling on its own four trains of steel, double-length railroad cars, the Big Show is replete with stellar importations calculated to thrill 1948 circus spectators. Top spectacle is the lavish "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," in which a vast procession of legendary characters fills the world's biggest tent to attend the nuptials of childhood's favorite storybook heroine. The wardrobe alone this year tops $290,000.

EQUILIBRIST—"Gaby," chimpanzee who will perform here with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus next Wednesday afternoon and night, looks nonchalant as he speeds along on his bicycle. "Gaby" claims apes don't imitate men, that it's the other way around.

Gonzales Foundation Treats More Victims

GONZALES, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Gonzales Warm Springs foundation today was treating 12 more victims of this year's polio wave.

The patients, ranging from 14 months up, arrived at the foundation yesterday from all parts of the state. All have passed the acute stage of the disease and have started the fight to recover use of their paralyzed limbs.

Wife Of Composer Is Given Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24 (AP) — Composer Lyn Murray's wife said he never beat her "or anything like that."

The former Florence Baker, radio actress, testified further in superior court yesterday:

"It was a mental cruelty. He just didn't want to be married, didn't want responsibilities. One day he moved out and took his own apartment."

Report Says Attempt Made On Tito's Life

ROME, Sept. 24 (AP)—An unconfirmed report attributed to the Trieste news agency says an unsuccessful attempt was made on the life of Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito two weeks ago.

The report, circulating among newsmen here, said "partisans" had mined a bridge along the Dalmation coast during a trip by Tito through that area but that the explosives were discovered before he crossed the span.

A Trieste dispatch said reports of the incident "cannot be confirmed."

School Bond Vote Set At Wolfforth

Almost unanimous approval is anticipated in the voting on a $150,000 bond issue Saturday by patrons and friends of Frenship Rural High school district, in Wolfforth, which is in need of a new elementary school building.

In addition to providing ample classrooms the proposed building program will include an auditorium large enough to accommodate community gatherings as well as a cafeteria, which will not only be used for school lunches but will be made available to civic and church groups.

School officials are anxious to make the school plant a center of activity for the community. They recognize the fact that there is not a public place at Wolfforth large enough to take care of the people attending ordinary school functions or community sponsored programs.

* * *

Another thing this world needs is a new kind of dictionary which will permit a guy to look up a word without having to know how to spell it!

* * *

DOWN here at The Avalanche-Journal, folks are used to getting information, writing and editing stories about people who are badly hurt, or seriously ill and as long as we don't know them personally, we don't think much about it.

But the other day, Gordon "Pete" Tompkins, one of our most promising young men, turned up desperately sick and the whole newsroom went into a tail-spin.

What he thought was a case of acute indigestion was discovered to be a ruptured gastric ulcer and Pete was rushed onto the operating table in the middle of the night.

* * *

The people who worked with him saw him apparently all right one afternoon; then the next morning they found he was lying between life and death.

Again, the incident brings home the fact that we never know what's going to happen to us, to any of our friends, relatives or business associates within a matter of hours.

* * *

WE'VE always had the idea, when something like the Tompkins case caused us to think a little, that if people would remember the uncertainties of life they'd act a lot better than they do toward each other.

If you are a housewife, consider your milkman.

He comes to your home every other morning; has for months or years. Maybe you nod to him, but you don't stop washing the dishes or dusting the front room long enough to remember that he performs quite an essential service for you and your family. You're just conscious of him and that's about all.

But suppose your milkman would be rushed to a hospital tonight; undergo an emergency operation, and die. You'd be sorry, if you learned about it, that you hadn't been a little friendlier with him; that you didn't let him know that you appreciated him while he was around.

* * *

You pass on the street a fellow you've known for years, but never have been particularly close to. You notice he isn't looking well—but you're in a hurry to get to the bank, or to the civic club meeting. So you don't stop to exchange a friendly word with the other man. You wave in a desultory fashion, and hurry on.

Next day, you hear the guy died—or is dreadfully sick. You remember that he was a customer of yours from time to time and, apparently, a pretty nice fellow. You remember that his daughter and your son ran around in the same crowd and graduated from high school together. You remember, too, that he always worked around the church and was helpful in various ways in public affairs.

And you feel, in your heart, like a louse for not taking time out the day before to chat with him and exhibit your interest in him; your good feeling for him.

* * *

THE people we deal with in the stores, the cafes and in other of our everyday activities may seem to us to be merely automatons—just human machines whose business it is to care for our needs in return for a profit.

We may seem the same way to them, too.

But everyone with whom we have contact has his or her own joys and sorrows, troubles and triumphs, problems and opinions and we'd all be better off if we realized the fact.

Life is so doggone uncertain that a pleasant word here, a friendly smile there, a moment's understanding conversation often can be most worthwhile.

* * *

Sudden Thought: Behind the success of every man there usually is a woman—or a very adroit press agent.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says a fellow's ability to keep his mouth shut sometimes is a greater asset than a talent for being an interesting talker.

* * *

The difference between a discussion and an argument is generally the amount of intelligence of the people taking part.

WE can't imagine anything harder to find in this country than a turtle—unless, maybe, it would be a sawmill. But there are turtles if you know where to look for 'em—and they can win turtle races, too.

Up at Plainview the other day a turtle race was to be a feature of a district meeting of Business and Professional Women's clubs. The Plainview club had no turtle, appealed to the Plainview Herald in an effort to find one.

Tom Vaughan, a printer on the Herald, decided to take a hand in the matter. With a couple of pals and a jeep, he headed an expedition to Tule creek, about 35 miles from Plainview, and went to seining. Finally, the boys got a turtle.

We always did claim that this country has everything. Now we know it!

Writes A. L. Burnett, of 1801 Texas avenue:

"Harry Truman hopes for an early freeze, because he much prefers to see November 2 a frosty day, rather than a Dewey one!"

* * *

AND Jim Cade, the barrister, sees something very sinister in the fact that the Houston Chronicle, owned by Jesse H. Jones, is rooting for Tom Dewey for President.

In a letter to the Chronicle—a copy of which he sent us—Mr. Cade says the paper owned by the former Democratic Secretary of Commerce is supporting Dewey and Warren to keep Texas from going for Thurmond and Wright—thereby saving the state's electorial college votes for Truman and Barkley.

Mr. Cade says the Chronicle's surprising shift to Dewey is very easy to figure out.

He says the Chronicle circulates in the part of the state which is heavily in favor of the States' Rights Democrats and which could put Texas in the Thurmond camp. By slipping the anti-Truman vote, Mr. Cade says, the Chronicle hopes to save Texas for the President.

* * *

Speaking further of politics, have you noticed which gentlemen are carying the ball in Coke Stevenson's effort to set aside action both of Texas voters and the State Democratic party?

During the primary campaigns, a great many people were loath to believe that Mr. Stevenson was the candidate of the Big Oil, Big Sulphur and Big Money boys of Texas and Wall Street. They believed "Good Old Coke" was just what he claimed to be, "an honest, old Texas country boy" from Kible county.

But ever since the votes were counted and the drive to unhorse Lyndon Johnson began, the "secret" has been out. In the forefront of every Stevenson move have been Clint Small and Dan Moody.

Everyone who knows the score in Texas politics knows that Texas two No. 1 spokesmen for the Big Interests are Clint Small and Dan Moody. They are the front men for Big Oil, Big Money, Big Sulphur and they are, of course, the front men for Coke Stevenson, the candidate of the

BY DREW PEARSON: CLAY HAS TROUBLE WITH BOTH REDS, "MISSOURI COMPROMISE"

Better North-South Understanding Is Promoted

WASHINGTON—Last summer, when a lot of folks on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line were making faces at each other, this writer, with his usual propensity for sticking his nose into other people's business, suggested that it would be a mighty fine idea if we tried to understand some of the South's problems, and vice versa. Then perhaps we could all sympathize more and criticize less.

PEARSON

Following this suggestion, the live-wire Blue and Gray association of Montgomery, Ala., invited a group of Northerners to the seat of the old Confederacy to get better acquainted.

The northern folks who went down to Montgomery were picked from Rotary, the Lions clubs, Kiwanis, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Civitan International and the service clubs which do such a good job for their communities and country.

When they got down there things went better than anyone expected. Primary purpose of the Blue and Gray association is to get the North and South better acquainted through an annual football game, but in this case there was a round-table discussion of health, education, segregation and negro opportunities.

Southern leaders laid their cards on the table and northern visitors asked all sorts of questions. Some of the questions were a little touchy, but the discussion was completely cordial, and perhaps the hottest debate was between two northerners—Earl O. Shreve of Schenctady, N. Y., president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, who opposed federal aid to education, and Kiwanian Ben Dean of Grand Rapids, Mich., who argued that if we could give federal aid to highways we could also give it to schools.

* * *

North Reports On South

The discussion was frank, forthright and may have started an important exchange in North-South relations. Here are some of the reports written by northerners after the meeting:

S. S. Bennock, Philadelphia Rotary club—"the feeling between negro officials of the state teachers' college and the white southerners was most surprising to all of us. Sincere cordiality and respect was evinced by both black and white for each other. It is especially interesting that there is no discrimination between the salaries and benefits to white and negro school teachers in Alabama.

"Many of us who were privileged to attend this meeting felt that with the proper type of white man, the progressive negro has as good or better chance of success in the South than in the North."

Richard C. Bell, White Hall, Ill., director Lions international—"negro education was an eye-opener to us northerners. True, they had segregation, but it was quite apparent, during our visit, at least, that both races expected it. The two races mingled freely everywhere while on their feet, but immediately upon being seated the segregation rule went into full force and effect."

Charles Donley, Pittsburgh, Pa., past international president of Kiwanis—"As a result of my trip I came to the conclusion that we in the North should end the circulation of partial, ill-considered reports on the South and should tidy up our own backyard . . . . Northerners can only promote further discord by sniping criticism. All of us should help find a common ground for understanding."

* * *

MOST important thing about this Blue and Gray association meeting was the spirit behind it—a spirit which should lead toward many more round-table discussions between other groups in both the North and the South

The Blue and Gray association is out to raise a memorial to North-South understanding, to be located in Montgomery, cradle of the Confederacy. Hitherto they have raised money in rather meager amounts through an annual football game, played in December between representative teams of the North and the South.

This game is dedicated to sportsmanship and intersectional fellowship. And this year some of the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and other service clubs which have become interested in North-South understanding are becoming members of the Blue and Gray association at $1 a throw, in order to raise money for a memorial commenorating the end of a great misunderstanding which divided two peoples, and the beginning of a new attempt to understand those two peoples' problems.

On The Berlin Firing Line

In the office of Gen. Lucius Clay, U. S. commander in Germany, are two books. One is called "Missouri Compromise," Tris Coffin's story of the Truman administration, the other "Lost Illusion" by Freda Utley, a tale of life behind the iron curtain. Both books sum up the things that keep Lucius Clay's life a worried one.

First, Clay has considerable difficulty getting the Truman administration to set a firm policy. Second, Clay has all kinds of trouble getting his opposite number on the Russian side of the diplomatic table, Soviet Marshal Sokolovsky, to keep his word.

Few people know it, but Sokolovsky, though one of Russia's best known generals, is watched every minute by Soviet secret police agents. In all negotiations a Russian political commissar, personally assigned by the politburo, sits at Sokolovsky's right. He is the man who makes the real decisions.

Incidentally, Sokolovsky never has had his whole family in Berlin at one time. At least part of his family is kept in Russia—just in case the Soviet commander should develop any funny ideas about switching sides in the "cold war" and desert to the West.

* * *

Red Army's Strength

WITHIN 500 miles of Berlin today there are 500,000 first-line Red army combat soldiers, including scores of tank and heavy artillery divisions mounted on the most modern type of mobile carriers. One thousand new Soviet jet Stormavik fighters are within the same radius of the German capitol; also, another 1,000 rather inferior two-engine, old-type Russian medium bombers.

Behind the Russian border itself are another 2,000,000 Red army troops trained and equipped for almost instant action. There is no evidence that the Russians have bacteriological warfare units close to Berlin. But, not far from Berlin at the Czech-German border, 25,000 German slave laborers are feverishly mining uranium ore for Russian atomic experiments.

Recently the Russian high command turned over direction of all Soviet atomic work to the head of the Russian secret police, Lavrenti Beria, who has begun flying the uranium ore from the Czech border to behind the Ural mountains in Soviet transport planes. That's how fast the ore is being used. However, Czech scientific sources report the ore Russia is getting is much inferior in quality to that which our own country obtains from Canada and the Belgian Congo.

Despite the warlike preparations which exist in Germany and behind the iron curtain there are other indications which comfort American leaders in Germany. For one thing, Moscow has done little to double track the railroad from Russia to Berlin, something that would be a sure sign of impending conflict. Nor have the number of divisions around Germany been increased in the last 12 months, although Russian forces have been rotated.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

Today's Thought

I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.—Job 29:15.

* * *

Himself, his hungry neighbour, and Me. —Lowell.

THERE are a few types of women that most men dislike on sight.

Number one is the "know it all"—the woman who has a definite and set opinion on every matter, and is always certain that she is right.

MILLETT

Two is the battle-ax — the woman who is always looking for trouble and who prides herself on the fact that nobody is going to put anything over on her.

Five is the chronic complainer—the sour-faced woman who can find something to fret about in any situation.

* * *

HERE'S THE GOSSIP

Eight is the constant talker—the woman who never shuts up and never says anything that makes much sense.

Nine is the boss—the woman who loves to manage people, and doesn't know how to fall in with other people's plans.

Today's Journal Editorial

A SENSIBLE APPROACH

Most of the thinking residents of Lubbock and Amarillo doubtless are gratified by the cooperative manner in which municipal officials of the two cities are attacking the possibilities of the development of a water supply adequate for both of them on the Canadian river.

The undertaking is big enough to demand the best efforts of both cities. The federal government reasonably demands evidence that the project would be feasible before advancing the money—now estimated at $26,000,000—for its construction.

It is up to Lubbock and Amarillo to try to demonstrate to the government's and their own satisfaction that the project would be worthwhile, if built. Officials of the two cities profess belief that proof of the practicability can be supplied, and they seem to have sound reasons for their optimism.

But the promotion of the possibilities does not allow any displays of localized rivalries and jealousies. Happily, there is no evidence of such friction. On the contrary, the indications are that the two cities are working together in complete harmony in this particular endeavor. The probability of accomplishing something of enduring and inestimable benefit is enhanced immeasurably as a result.

Monopoly Poses Big Problem For Dewey If He Is Elected

WASHINGTON—In the challenging speech with which he opened his campaign Gov. Thomas E. Dewey outlined in broad sentences the pledges he presumably will develop in specific terms in coming days. We must, he said, protect our enterprise system from monopoly, while encouraging free and fuller production for the benefit of all our citizens.

CHILDS

If candidate Dewey spells that out in terms of actually curbing monopoly, he is likely to find himself, if elected president, faced with one of the toughest challenges ever encountered by an occupant of the White House.

Powerful forces are determined to nullify restrictions recently raised against monopoly. They are looking to the 81st Congress and a Republican administration for the kind of laws they want.

The Supreme court last April upheld the Federal Trade commission and outlawed the uniform pricing system used by the cement industry, which the court found was designed to suppress competition. This sent a shiver through many industries that have traditionally employed such pricing systems.

* * *

The big steel companies promptly announced they would no longer absorb freight charges for their customers under the basing-point system. At about the same time steel prices were raised, and the two things were somehow related as cause and effect. Against this background there has been a continuing propaganda aimed at the court's decision and the trade commission.

A senate subcommittee headed by Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana seems definitely set to recommend that price systems such as are used in key industries be declared legal. This would enable the big producers to continue their domination, and there are many informed persons who believe it would freeze, once and for all, a pattern of monopoly in this country.

Thus Dewey's challenge is made at a time when a fateful decision must be taken. If Congress legalizes uniform pricing systems, based on geographical location — the Pittsburgh-plus system in steel, for example—then it is hard to see how politicians can continue to give even lip service to anti-trust laws.

* * *

IT would certainly be convenien for many industries if they were no longer harassed by anti-trust prosecution, and many industrial leaders feel sincerely that what is good for their industry must therefore be good for the country. But, besides the long-range benefit, there is an immediate stake that could spur the drive to nullify anti-trust laws.

In the wartime excess-profits tax law, definitions of excess profits were loosely drawn. The right of appeal was granted to corporations that could show that their profits were not excess in comparison to a base period from 1936 to 1939. Thus far appeals for refunds of $5,500,000,000 have been filed with the Bureau of Internal Revenue, and before the 1950 deadline it is expected that at least $8,000,000,000 in refunds will be sought.

To handle these appeals the Bureau of Internal Revenue has named an excess-profits tax council, made up of five tax specialists from the bureau and 10 from outside. The aim of the corporations that have appealed is to show that their profits in the 1936-39 period were as high as possible, so the comparison with the wartime years will be in their favor and the "excess profits' shown in those years will be small.

* * *

Regulations Being Drawn

The tax council is drawing up general regulations. One of those regulations is to the effect that profits made through violations of anti-trust laws will not be allowed in computing the 1936-39 profit level.

In certain industries charged with violating anti-monopoly laws it will be negligible in terms of the vast amounts involved, it could make the difference in some cases between a large tax refund and a small tax refund.

The long-range effects are, of course, far more important. There are those who say: Well, why not do away with the anti-trust laws or, at any rate, pare them down so big industry will not be bothered? Isn't big industry efficient in mass production?

Even if the answer to the second question is yes, there is a grave danger overlooked

Shirt-Sleeve Diplomacy Used By West Has Several Purposes

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The shirt-sleeve diplomacy employed by America, Britain and France in calling on Moscow for a showdown in the Berlin controversy is calculated to serve several purposes:

1. To make it plenty plain that appeasement is out the window.

2. To serve notice that the three democracies won't be bulled into abandoning their positions.

3. To put the Russians on the spot before world-opinions as malingerers in the cause of peace and rehabilitation if they fail to cooperate.

Notable Achievement

If these purposes are truly served, then that in itself will be a notable achievement by the Western powers. However, we shouldn't fail to note that this won't necessarily bring us any nearer a settlement of the "cold war" with the Bolshevists. In fact it will be mighty surprising if it does.

We may be dead sure, I believe, that even though the Reds may make some concessions here and there as a matter of expediency, they won't abandon their world revolution for the spread of Communism until it either succeeds or blows up in their faces. There are some of us who believe it will blow up—but that remains to be demonstrated.

Clean Cut Answer Asked

The democracies are insisting on a clean-cut "yes" or "no" answer to the question of whether a Berlin settlement is possible along lines already broadly drawn at the recent Moscow and Berlin conferences. Any settlement would involve a lifting of the brutal Russian food and fuel blockade of the German capital. The trio on their part are willing to make the concession of accepting the Soviet mark as sole currency for Berlin, providing this currency is under four-power authority.

This is not an ultimatum to Moscow, and no time limit is set for an answer. However, British Foreign Minister Bevin has said that the three powers are in "absolute agreement" on a policy of "defending themselves in Berlin" and are agreed on a policy if the air-lift fails to give the blockaded capital the supplies needed.

Marshall Speaks

American Secretary of State Marshall supplemented this in his speech before the U. N. General assembly in Paris yesterday. He warned the Soviet Union that American patience should not be mistaken for weakness. He declared the United States won't "compromise the essential principles" or "barter away the rights and freedom of other peoples."

Meantime America and British are openly tightening up their defenses for contingencies. The U. S. A. has been putting its house in order over a considerable period. England now is moving swiftly and within the past few days has slowed demobilization, launched an intensive recruiting campaign and begun a revival of her wartime civilian defense system.

Openness Is Proof

But don't get any mistaken ideas from these developments. Their very openness is clear proof that they are purely precautionary and are not invitations to war. Warnings, yes, but not invitations.

Moscow will take due note of all this, and it's not unlikely will also take some heed, because the indications are that Russia doesn't want to start another major war. However, that doesn't mean she will halt her "cold war." She already has opened up a great new offensive among the nations of southeast Asia, and thus her world revolution will continue apace even though she slows down in Europe from necessity.

Actor Finds Loan-Out Movie Stimulating, Looks For More

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (AP) — Van Johnson finds his first loan-out picture "stimulatin" and he's looking for more.

Now doing "Mother Was a Freshman," his first film away from the home base of MGM, the carrot-topped actor is dropping hints that he'd like to perform in a remake of "A Man's Castle," which Columbia owns. "Of course, it would be hard to top Spencer Tracy," he adds cautiously.

Van has been dieting and he looks great. "I've stopped worrying," he grins. "I let the guys in the front office get the ulcers; they're paid for it."

John Wayne Will Argue

John Wayne will argue with anyone who says film acting is a pushover. He did "Three Godfathers" in the heat of Death Valley and is now battling an octopus underway in "Wake Of the Red Witch." Next comes "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" in Monument Valley. Three-quarters of the picture will be a cavalry march.

Robert Cummings reports that he owns the rights to his life story and intends to make a picture of it. Wonder whom he'll cast in the role . . . Joan Crawford is saying—yet again—that there'll be no more men in her life.

Zachary Scott reports he has Anne Baxter lined up for his "Cattle Baron" project, which he plans to film in Texas next year. He'd like to acquire some Texas money to back the picture.

Crosby Is Barnstorming

Bing Crosby is barnstorming the coast playing benefits with his air show. He recorded the program in Vancouver this week and will follow with Spokane, Sept. 29 and San Francisco Oct. 9. He'll be back Oct. 11 to start "Diamond In The Haystack" with Ann Blyth and Barry Fitzgerald.

Capsule review: "Let's Live a Little" (Eagle-Lion) is one of the better comedies in the new bumper crop. Thanks to the comic talents of Robert Cummings and some fine bits of business, it provides many merry moments. The plot: a frenetic ad executive encounters a lady doctor, author of a "restful living" book. Hedy Lamarr is the medic and she contributes her two expressions. Which, of course, are not bad.

Military Attache Refuses To Return

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Izydor Modeski, military attache of the Polish embassy, said tonight that he has refused an order of the Communist government of Poland to return home.

Instead, he said, he is asking the United States government to grant asylum for himself and his family.

In a statement issued through a Polish friend who recently became an American citizen, the 60 year old general charged that the Polish army "is controlled by Soviet generals and officers."

It "is being systematically changed into a 'blind tool' in the hands of the Soviet staff," the statement said.

"I know very well," it continued, "that the military-political education of all Polish boys and girls has as its aim the preparation of the entire Polish nation as an instrument of Soviet militarism and imperialism."

More Cattle Disease Vaccine To Be Made

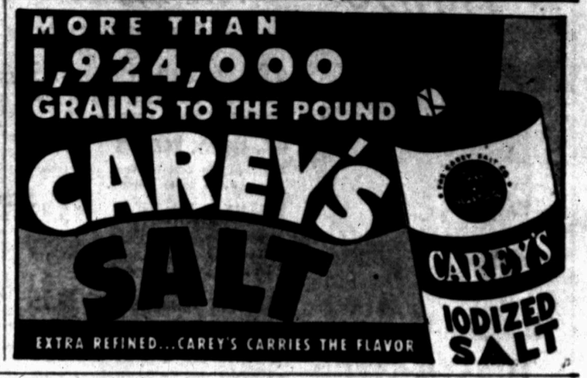

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 24 (AP) — Production of foot and mouth disease vaccine is being doubled, says the U. S.-Mexico commission fighting the livestock disease.

The commission reported that Mexico, already the world leader in making vaccine, will produce 1,000,000 doses a month with a new addition at the San Jacinto laboratory and opening of a new slaughterhouse at Ixtapalapa.

Commissioners reported that Mexico did not start producing vaccine until May 1948 but in five months has increased production from 9000 to 500,000 doses a month.

State Governments Defrauded By Claims

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (U.P.) —Americans are swindling their state governments out of thousands of dollars every year through fraudulent employment benefit claims, according to the Interstate Conference of Employment Security Agencies.

While intentionally false claims amount to less than one-half of one per cent of the total, the conference said, the anual dollar take is large.

Intensified anti-fraud drives, greater publicity and swift punishment are catching more and more of the swindlers and discouraging others, the report said.

The conference is an organization of state unemployment insurance and employment service administrators.

CINDERELLA CROWNED

CHICAGO, (U.P.) — Clara Louise Lothrop, an active insurance broker despite her 75 years, was crowned "Miss Cinderella" at the Republican women's holiday, celebrating the 28th anniversary of female suffrage, Miss Lothrop was named as the oldest Republican woman in Chicago whose foot fitted the shoe said to have been worn at the first woman's suffrage convention 100 years ago.

Rotary Clubs Hold Annual Session Here

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Technological college and a Rotarian for 22 years, was principal speaker at the 25th annual inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs, held Thursday night in the college gymnasium.

Approximately 600 Rotary club members from 28 towns in this area attended the meeting and the barbecue which preceded it. The barbecue was spread on the lawn east of the gym.

Irving L. Jones, president of the Lubbock Rotary club which was host at the gathering, was master of ceremonies at the meeting. He introduced Lloyd Moyer, minister of the Slaton Church of Christ, who gave the invocation.

Visitors Are Presented

After a brief welcome address, Jones introduced Rex Webster, Lubbock Rotarian, who was in charge of a program of songs. Rov Bass was pianist. Webster introduced the Plainsmen quartet, composed of Robert Dennis, Bob Hufstedler, Jack Hall, and "Robbie" Robertson, who sang three selections and gave one encore.

Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, introduced special guests at the meeting, including Floyd D. Golden, president of Eastern New Mexico college at Portales, and governor of Rotary district No. 115; Dr. Ira Woods of Littlefield, governor of the 127th Rotary district; past district governors Charlie Paxton of Sweetwater and Jim McCullough of Stamford; Cong. George Mahon; Mayor W H. Rodgers of Lubbock; and the following Lubbock civic club presidents: Horace Gearhart, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Wayne Henly, Lions club; Charles Cobb, Optimist club; A B Watkins, American Business club; and Dr. Jim Reynolds, Exchange club.

At the outset, Dr. Wiggins said that he spoke at the meeting not as president of Texas Tech but as a fellow Rotarian, and added that he was grateful for the opportunity to work with Rotary members in the area.

In speaking of the American educational system, he said that the evolution of American schools from the earliest times exemplifies a fundamental concept of education.

Dr. Wiggins stated that he does not believe that the business of the American school is to build a new society, but rather to build new underpinnings to the present society. Schools, he added, constitute a pattern from which society must evolve

Education Is Broadened

British Mothers Claimed Changed

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Dr. Enid Hughes complained tonight that British mothers feed their babies from a bottle so the mothers can dance and see movies.

Writing in the British Medical Journal, she said the mothers don't compare with those a generation back. She quoted an old family doctor friend on the way women used to be in the north country fishing ports:

"They baited at least one line of 700 hooks a day, cooked the family meals, produced the children, fed them on the breast, helped pull the boats up when the men came back with the fish, helped carry the fish up, baked the bread, did the washing and ironing, cleaned the house, bathed the children, went to bed at 9-p.m. and got up at 4-a.m. to get their men ready for the morning fishing."

SHIPMENTS ARE MADE TO CITY

Additional Milk Price Hikes Revealed By Lubbock Firms

Repodts of milk shortages in Lubbock groceries and on routes Thursday were, if not entirely refuted, minimized by leading distributors in the city last night. Several distributors reported price increases, however, both to producers and consumers, to meet increases announced earlier this week by McIlhaney Dairy Products Co

Bell Milk company spokesmen indicated that they had had no shortages in delivery Thursday either on milk route in the city or in grocery stores here.

The company has been supplementing its local milk supply with shipments of fluid milk from Wisconsin. Thus far, spokesmen reported, the importations, about 300,000 pounds per week, have been enough to fulfill demands. Bell Wednesday raised its prices to producers to $6.65, as compared to the previously-paid $6.45, and raised its prices to consumers Thursday. This price now is 23 cents a quart.

Another of the leading distributors in the city, Borden's, also denied any milk shortage Thursday. Like the first distributor, however, the company is shipping milk here for consumption from out-of-state, with an estimated 45 per cent of the total distribution here being from Ohio.

The company, which does not definitely know whether such milk importations will forestall possible future milk shortages here, raises its prices to both consumers and producers today.

McIlhaney Dairy Products company reported some shortage Thursday but said it was caused mainly by the inability of some few of the carriers to complete their rounds.

The company reported that there would be somewhere around

Hearing Is To Be Conducted

Drastic operational revisions in the city health department recommended by the Lubbock County Medical society were taken under advisement by the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting at the city hall Thursday afternoon.

The commission also set a public hearing for 2 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 14, on a fire prevention ordinance proposed by Lubbock Insurance exchange. The commission asked City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., to notify as many businesses as possible—which run into the several hundreds which would be affected by the ordinance of the hearing date.

Revision Believed Needed

It was the concensus of the three members of the commission present—Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners W. B. Price and Clarence Whiteside—that the proposed fire prevention measure contains excellent features. But they also seemed in agreement that the ordinance, as now proposed, probably will require considerable revisions.

Main features of the recommendations of the medical society, as presented by Drs. Ewell L. Hunt and R. C. Douglas, were these:

Appoint a medical doctor as director of health; employ a social service worker with two public health nurses as assistants; appoint a school physician and several additional nurses; appoint a doctor to be paid by the city and/or county for out-patient care of indigents; require an x-ray chest examination, stooling tests, skin tests and examinations for syphylis before the issuance of health certificates—the syphylis blood test is the only present requirement; provide a separate building for laboratories, health, welfare and related activities; divorce health duties from the City-County Welfare association, and retain Gerald Jarvis, present city laboratorian, as executive assistant to the health director.

The committee and members of the commission warmly praised Jarvis' work since he was employed by the city more than six years ago.

Plan Would Hike Expenses

The recommendations followed the death recently of Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer for more than 20 years. The vacancy caused by his death has not yet been filled.

While the recommendations would involve heavy additional expenses, both in building and for operational costs, members of the commission indicated they were in sympathy with most of them—though possibly not to the full extent recommended by the medi-

Government May Be Out Huge Payments

Policy Of Price Support For Farmers' Crops Is Reviewed

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The price of food is high, and yet the government is guaranteeing the farmer a minimum price for 20 major crops.

Most farmers understand the principles behind price supports but not so all the city folks with grocery bills to meet.

The farmers know, for instance, that while the government was guaranteeing a certain price for some crops in the past few years, it was seldom that the market price fell below the guaranteed price. So the government seldom had to step in with heavy support.

Attempts to stabilize crop prices by artificial means date back many years. At first farmers tried to do it by cooperative methods, by agreeing to withhold products from markets so there would be a scarcity and prices would stay up.

Situations Change Policies

During the Hoover administration the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1929 was passed in an effort to keep prices from falling because of farm surpluses.

The government bought grain in an effort to keep up the farmers' prices. Then the Democrats came to power and passed the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933. Farmers agreed to limit the size of crops in return for benefit payments. The government attempted to finance these payments through taxes levied against food processors, but this was held unconstitutional in 1936.

The government then began paying the farmers out of general revenues, raised by taxation and other means.

Before the war the problem was to limit crops to prevent market gluts and declining prices. In wartime the government guaranteed prices to encourage the farmers to produce all the food possible. That's one reason the U. S. had as much food as it did. Thus price support plus crop controls—limiting acreage—have been used by the government at one time to limit production, and price supports have been used at another time to increase production.

Surplus Now Exists

What's happened now is this:

We have moved once more from a situation in which a scarcity of food was threatened, as during the war, into one in which surpluses may occur.

We have bumper crops and a declining market. Many agriculture experts estimate the government will have to put out around $1,500,000,000 to keep prices on 1948 crops from falling below levels fixed by law.

But in the closing hours of Congress this year a bill was passed which continued the present supports through 1949. Any new changes would have to be made by Congress, and Congress won't meet until January. That's too late to have effect on some 1949 crops, like winter wheat.

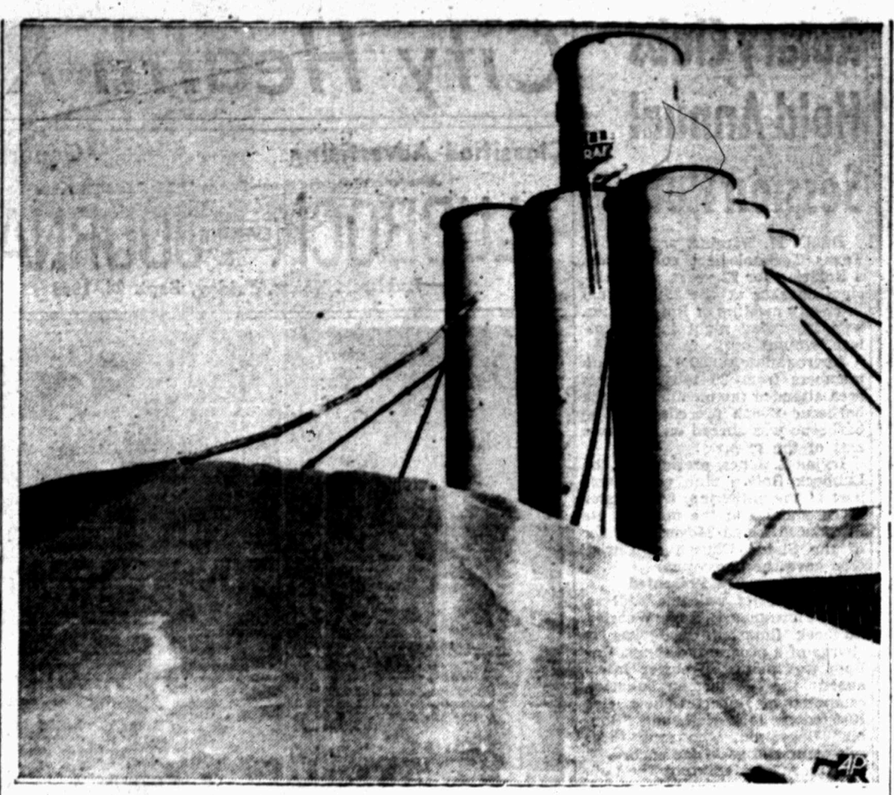

Price Supports Vary

After 1949 the law also provides the supports may be lowered, in most cases.

The price at which the government supports crops in based on a complicated formula. In general this formula attempts to tie crop prices with the farmer's cost of living. If the prices of the things he has to buy go up, so do the support prices. If farmers' costs go down, so do support prices.

After 1949 the law also privodes that the more abundant the cron, the less support the farmers will receive, as far as most crops are concerned. This will tend to reduce unreasonable surpluses, agriculture experts say.

Agriculture experts say price supports aren't responsible—or at least entirely responsible — for high prices. They point out that most market prices have been higher than the government support price. This, they say, has encouraged production. And high production, they add, is the best way to bring down prices.

WHEAT FORTUNE ON GROUND—This pile of an estimated 125,000 bushels of wheat at a Waterville Union Grain Co. elevator near Wenatchee, Wash., is the biggest in Washington's Big Bend region. It is worth close to $250,000. Overflowing storage facilities forced piling.

No Sleeping In Cheese Factories, South Dakotans Admonished, If Packages Open

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 24. (AP)—The average man in South Dakota probably breaks one law after another and doesn't know it.

Scores of laws he didn't know about are printed in small type in the bulky South Dakota code books. They prohibit things like selling milk after 9 a. m. on Sundays and sleeping in a cheese factory.

If a customer sits down in a restaurant and can't find a cuspidor handy, he has legal grounds to raise a fuss with the proprietor. Those cuspidors are supposed to be there, the code says.

Gets It Both Ways

If Mr. Average South Dakotan ever made a sling shot when he was a boy, he has committed a felony. Or he might have landed in court if he ever shot off a firecracker more than three inches long.

A man gets its from both sides. If the boss tells him to work on Sunday and he doesn't, he may get fired. If he does work, the judge can fine him $10.

Meat, milk and fish markets get a break on Sunday. They can stay open legally until 9 a. m. After that no store is supposed to sell anything but food to be eaten on the spot, drugs and medicines.

The man who puts on a money-making ball game on Sunday is breaking the state law, too. He can be fined $25 or $100 or be jailed for 10 to 30 days.

The same holds true of rope dancing, juggling and doing acrobatics in public on Sunday.

Movies On Parole

Sunday movies are legal, as long as they don't deal with the following: tragedy, comedy, opera, ballet, farce, Negro minstrelsy, sparring contests o ra trial of strength. If they contain any of those elements, they are against the law.

Movies aren't ever supposed to show murders, family infidelity or someone slugging a policeman, the code says.

Doodling in library books or carving up bones in a museum also are taboo. The doodler or carver can get three years in the state penitentiary for it.

Another thing Mr. Average South Dakotan should watch is how he throws his money around. If he bets on the November election he'll be guilty of a misdemeanor and if the bartender decides he's a "spendthrift," Mr. South Dakotan, legally, can't get a drink.

Use a packaged cup-cake or white-cake mix for a quick dessert. Frost with Orange Topping made by blending a quarter cup of strained orange juice with a quarter cup of melted butter or margarine and about 3 cups of confectioner's sugar. Add the grated rind of the orange, if you like, and be sure to sift the sugar before using to get rid of any lumps.

Funeral Set Today For Lubbock Woman

Last rites were planned for 3 p. m. today for Mrs. Lenora Houser, who died in the home of her son, H. W. Houser of 2207 Twenty-fourth, at 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

Services were scheduled in the home of the son, with burial following in County Line cemetery at County Line, under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Mrs. Houser was a resident of Lubbock 28 years. In addition to the one son, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. L. C. Denton of 1410 Main street, and Mrs. Harriett Hardy of Ventura, Calif., and four brothers, Pate Hardy of Shallowater, Jess Hardy of Lubbock, Jilton Hardy of Hereford, and L. W. Hardy of Lubbock.

Rites For Meadow Resident Set Today

BROWNFIELD, Sept. 24. (Special)—Funeral services for L. C. Hester, 66, resident of Meadow many years who was fatally injured when he fell from a carpenter's scaffold Sept. 18, were planned for 4:30 p. m. today in Meadow Church of Christ, with Elder Joe Chisholm officiating, assisted by Minister A. C. McIlroy.

Brownfield Funeral home was to direct burial in Meadow cemetery.

Mr. Hester died at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday in an Abilene hospital. He had fallen from the scaffold at the home of Mrs. Leslie Trigg, his daughter, in Abilene.

Survivors are, his wife, nine children and 12 grandchildren. The children are Preston, Clarence, Reece, Royce, and Mrs. Selma Pendergrass, all of Meadow, James, of Carlsbad, N. M., Kenneth, of Abilene, Mrs. Edna Sims, of Eunice, N. M., and Mrs. Trigg.

The working hours lost annually through accidents in factories are enough to produce two billion pounds of soap, 89 million shirts, and 50 million pairs of shoes.

Commission

The idea of a separate building in which health, sanitation, welfare and related activities might be centralized seemed to be of especial appeal. But the indications were that finances may block the realization of that project for an indefinite period.

"I think it should be done, but where are we going to get the money?" Mayor Rodgers commented. "I don't see how we could finance such a building right away."

But he mentioned that the city has about five acres in Northeast Lubbock which might be an ideal site for such a structure, if and when built. It could be landscaped into one of the city's beauty spots, he pointed out.

X-Ray Unit Purchased

In connection with the health department, the commission authorized the purchase of an x-ray unit from the General Electric company for $9,286. It probably won't be installed until after the New Year.

When it is in operation the plan is to make x-ray chest examinations of applications for health certificates. That probably will mean a fee of $1 or $2 for the certificates, which now are issued without charge.

The Lions club was granted permission to set up a booth at Broadway and Texas avenue to sell tickets to the "Queen For A Day" broadcasts which will originate at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds grandstand Monday through Wednesday next week.

Action was deferred on a request from the Fort Worth & Denver City railway to build a switch track in the alley between Avenues E and F from Nineteenth and Twenty-third street. The railway was instructed to renew the request after making satisfactory agreements with affected property owners.

City Manager Smith was designated to represent the city at the annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities in El Paso Oct. 4-6. He is to take with him such city employes as, in his opinion, will benefit from the discussions.

The city manager also was authorized to buy a new heating boiler for the Central Fire Station. Cost estimates ranged from $600 to $700.

Rotary Clubs

as for freedom, freedom of worship, of speech, of action. These settlers soon saw the need of teaching their children to read, primarily so that they could read the Bible. Schools thus were established, and pupils were "graduated" as soon as they were able to read the Bible.

But as time passed, he continued, the society added a second phase to education, that phase being number concept, so that simple business transactions might be carried on. And still later, a third educational phase, writing, was instituted.

"Thus was developed the American approach to education, reading, writing, and arithmetic," Dr. Wiggins said.

He emphasized that this approach was intended to aid and dignify the individual.

As time went on and the people pushed further west of the Atlantic, there developed the "great western movement" toward the shores of the Pacific, which got much of its impetus from the individuality of man.

In the ensuing era of industrialization, the American people more and more taught their children the American concept "that any man is able to do if he wants to do strongly enough."

American schools have been sounding board for American society, Dr. Wiggins said, but society—and schools—have failed to realize the importance of teaching people to live together harmoniously.

In conclusion, Dr. Wiggins said that "while everyone wants to be free, the main issue lies in the question of how much they want this freedom." In America people are faced with the constant threat of giving up this struggle for freedom for ease and "security."

"But the American concept prohibits searching for a soft spot of willingness to sell our heritage," he said. "The business of education in this country is not to teach men not to work, but rather to teach them how, and in what directions, to work," he added.

"Thus," he added, "it is high time to talk about the greatness of America instead of pointing out her weaknesses, and to believe in her rather than selling her short."

Prior to Dr. Wiggins' speech, Mr. Guy, after having introduced special guests, called the roll of Rotary clubs in the area, and attending members from each rose for recognition. Clubs represented were from the following cities and towns: Amarillo, Big Spring, Brownfield, Canadian, Canyon, Floydada, Hereford, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lockney, Midland, Odessa, O'Donnell, Plainview, Post, Ralls, Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton, Sudan, Sweetwater, Tahoka, Clovis, N. M., Portales, N. M., and Lovington, N. M.

Milk Prices

a 35 per cent shortage today, since larger quantities are left with customers for the weekend. Like the others, McIlhaney's is shipping in milk from city-approved sources in other areas to supplement that brought in by local producers.

A fourth local distributor, Arch Lamb, who does not import milk from other sources but relies solely on local production, said last night that he has been able thus far to fulfill requirements. He said that he had already raised his prices to producers, that he had not made an increase to consumers, but that it would likely be necessary to do so soon.
