Q. Who's responsible for cleaning all the windows of businesses in town that are splattered with white paint urging the Wolves to beat the Badgers? If the class of 1979 wrote these messages, shouldn't it be responsible for cleaning the windows? With the empty buildings, tall weeds and junked cars, our town looks bad enough as it is. Can't the city make those responsible clean the windows of the downtown buildings, especially those buildings that are empty? Or, do we have to look at these messages until they wear off or until the buildings fall down completely?

A. It will probably be up to the conscience of the local members of the Class of '79, or who ever painted the signs. Sentiments of the town seem to have been expressed here.

Some improvement noted

Ambulance audit released

Mitchell County Ambulance Service has shown some improvement, but still has problems with billing and collections, deposits and record keeping, according to the annual Audit by local CPA Joe Morren.

For the fiscal year ending, May 31, the ambulance service showed a net loss of $3,042.95, as compared to a deficit of $11,247.14 the previous year.

Income from the ambulance service itself was up to $13,514.62, as compared to $2,912.50 last year. Income from the City, County and Hospital District amounted to $73,400.04, EMT salary reimbursement, $14,600.04; and $2,288.97 interest for total income of $103,803.67 as compared to $91,166.91 the previous year.

Expenses totaled $106,846.62, up about $2,400 over last year, but over $15,000 less and the year's budget. $85,323.59 in salaries and $6,947.88 in payroll taxes accounted for the bulk of the costs.

Accounts receivable amounted to $95,273.58 with a $55,358.36 allowance for uncollectibles. In 1987 the accounts receivables were $74,386.54 with $37,193.27 uncollectable allowance.

In the auditor's notes, he recommended that all receipt books and run sheets be pre-numbered, a procedure that has now been adopted. He pointed out that deposits are not being made on a regular basis; payroll taxes have been filed late, resulting in penalties and interest; and customers are not consistently billed resulting in patron complaints and possible loss of revenues. He also pointed out that the service has not been able to get workman's compensation insurance, therefore is operating without the coverage.

As Hospital Administrator

Murphy appointment urged

Several hospital employees told the board of directors Monday night they want to see a replacement for administrator Ray Mason named as quickly as possible and voiced support for assistant administrator and comptroller Richard Murphy as Mason's replacement.

Mason has resigned effective Oct. 31 to become administrator of Levelland hospital. After accepting Mason's resignation with regret last week, the board named Murphy as interim administrator.

Four members of the board - Preston Morris, Marion Bassham, Gus Armstrong and Jay Craddock - agreed to hear from the hospital employees during Monday's special meeting. Absent were Linden Solomon, Virgil Stone and Kay McCarley. Another meeting was scheduled Friday at 9 a.m. so that the full board will have a chance to consider Murphy's appointment. Hospital employees were invited to be at Friday's meeting, also.

Among those voicing support for Murphy was Ben Bell, who in charge of the hospital's lab.

"Richard has been here a number of years and we work well with him," said Bell, who described Murphy as "capable" and "doing a good job."

"If I were a member of the board, I would be perfectly willing to vote for Richard Murphy," said Bell.

Joan Merket, director of nurses, said "I know the problem with other hospitals when a change in administration took place. I think Richard can handle it if given the chance."

Dr. Dee Roach was also at the meeting and said "I completely endorse Richard as administrator." Roach said he wants the transition to "take place as smoothly as possible" and wants "to see him (Murphy) placed (as administrator) as soon as possible."

Murphy started work for the hospital in November, 1979 when he was hired as manager of data processing. He was named comptroller in 1981 and his duties expanded to comptroller and assistant administrator in 1984.

FROM THE SCRIPTURES— "The glory of young men is their strength, And the splendor of old men is their gray head." Proverbs 20:29

Bob Reily, former coach, long-time insurance agent, city councilman, etc., etc., for Colorado City, was dreading his 60th birthday last week. So, to help him "over the hump", the Lions Club sent the local hearse to pick him up at his office and deliver him to the Lions Club meeting place at the Civic Center. Besides "parading" him around town, they left the wheels on the "stretcher" unlocked. Thus, everytime the hearse slowed down or speeded up he was banged around in the back. Upon arrival at the Civic Center, all the Lions were wearing black armbands. During the meeting the Lions sang Happy Birthday to him, to the jivvy tune of the Funeral March. Isn't it nice to be remembered on your birthday, Bob?

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "Work is something that when we have it, we wish we didn't; when we don't have it, we wish we did; and the object of most of us is to be able to afford not to do so someday."

I know many of you readers watched the Homecoming Parade last Thursday, but I wanted to mention the incident that happened, just of posterity's sake. The Sophomore Class had constructed a beautiful float featuring a large rocket, designed to spit fire out of its tail. You guessed it! The sparks caught the float on fire and the fire department had to douse the blaze and the float was out of the parade before it got downtown. Even so, the class won the award for the "best special effects."

DID YOU KNOW? Which of the following has the legal right to break into a funeral procession: (1) fire engine, (2) ambulance, (3) police car, or (4) U. S. Mail truck? Answer: A vehicle owned by the federal government always has the right-of-way, so it would be the mail truck.

Commissioners to take bids on jail kitchen

Mitchell County Commissioners Court discussed final plans for the County Jail kitchen addition with architects then called for bids for the construction of the project.

Several cost-cutting options were presented to the court, but the only ones the Court felt would be beneficial in the long run were external materials and possible better buys in used or reconditioned stainless steel sinks and storage stands. Estimated cost of the 16'x29' kitchen addition and equipment is approximately $73,000. The Court agreed to accept the plans and specifications prepared by Gary Company Architects of Big Spring and Lubbock at a cost of 10% of the construction costs; and the company's Construction Resource Management firm as construction managers at a fee of $6,088. The Court called for advertisement for bids to be received at 1 p.m. November 15. Specifications are to be available in the Auditor's Office. Present for the presentation were John Gary, Lonnie Gary and Steve Fillipp.

AUDIT REPORT

Local CPA Joe Morren presented the 40-page, Audit Report for 1987, stating that the County's financial reports were in good order; all federal guidelines and grant compliances had been met; all departments' revenues were favorable over expenses; and there was an approximate $40,000 gain in fund balances over the previous year. The Court approved Morren's bill of approximately $6,200 and approved a new contract of $4,700 for the audit, plus postage and supplies and for all extra accounting work at $35 per hour for CPA time and $17.50 per hour for staff time.

TAX REQUEST

Frank Ginzel, representing the Coleman Ranch, appeared before the Court requesting relief from some penalty and interest on delinquent taxes. He said some taxes were due on a marginal oil well operated by Gary Bryant for several owners. Bryant had offered to pay all taxes due but requested relief from penalties and

City approves $227,849 project grant application

Following a second public hearing Monday night, the Colorado City Council authorized the submission of a Texas Community Development Program grant application, commissioning the proposed project and approving matching funds.

The proposed project cost is $227,849, with $181,849 being requested from the State, and $46,000 from the city. The proposed project, same as applied for last year, is the laying of a new water line along East Front Street and Austin Streets to the old Standpipe. It is proposed to improve the water service in the southeast part of town, provide 7 additional fire hydrants, and benefit some 752 persons, 657 of which are in the low to medium income bracket. If approved in about two months, the City will supply half of its cost with cash from next year's budget, and half from in-kind services performed. Consultant Gary Smith is preparing the presentation of the grant application.

BIDS REJECTED

Bids received for the planned modifications and remodeling of three city buildings submitted Monday came in much higher than anticipated and had to be rejected. Only two bids were received. The lowest was $64,500 from R.S.P. Construction, Roscoe; and $67,600 from Lee George Construction of Big Spring. These were the base bids with additional alternates also added.

When designer Ron Goebel first started on the project to plan proper handicap access and facilities in the city buildings, the estimated cost was about $28,000. But the project grew as changes in floor plan of the City Hall was suggested, plus substandard conditions were found in electrical wiring and fire hazard protection. The Council recognized that all the changes were needed, but could not be afforded by the City at this time. The Council recommended the the overall master plan be followed but broken down into several phases to be accomplished as funds became available. The Council generally agreed that the handicap regulations should be met first. Goebel was requested to renegotiate with the bidders, with the first priority being the handicap provisions, then later the electrical and fire hazards, then the remodeling and other needs.

$43,373 tax rebates received

Mitchell County and the three local cities have received sales tax rebates from the State totaling $42,373.72 on sales during the month of August.

Mitchell County which levies a 1/2 percent tax received $12,741.92, bringing the total for the year to $118,766.51.

Colorado City which has a 1/4 percent tax received $28,881.20, a 75.25% increase over the $16,439.89 received the same month last year when the rate was still 1 percent. Thus far, for the year, Colorado City has received $301,136.43, as compared to $200,079.34 last year.

Westbrook received a check for $820.60, an 18.72% increase over the $691.18 received last year. This month's rebate brings the year's total to $11,226.81, up 97.3% over the $5,690.18 received during the same period last year.

Loraine did not receive any rebate this month, but for the year, Loraine had received $4,214.09, down -6.18% from the $4,491.53 last year.

Both Loraine and Westbrook levy a 1 percent sales tax.

Sales tax rebates were up generally throughout the state, particularly in the large metropolitan areas, State Comptroller Bob Bullock said.

ris had requested a zoning change of the block from Hickory to Vine and 6th to 7th Streets, from Apartment (C) to Local Retail (F). Their plan is to open a computer sales, service and support business in the facility at 509 East 7th Street. After proper notification of all adjacent property owners, a public hearing, and recommendation by the Zoning Board, the Council approved the zone change.

CONDEMNATIONS

The Council authorized the various City officials involved to proceed with condemnation procedures to get numerous old buildings throughout the City, razed or repaired. City Manager Brenda Hammond read a list of some 22 buildings that are being targeted. The procedure will be for the City Building Inspector Buz Rich to determine if the buildings fail to meet the city building codes and whether repairable or to be demolished. His findings will be turned over for examination by the Housing Standard Committee. Property owners will then be notified and allowed some 30 days to repair or demolish. If not done in the specified time the City will raze the buildings and place a lien on the property for the costs.

The Council urged that once started, the City should follow through seriously and promptly on the project. Those listed were only the most obvious and there would be others.

Mayor Jim Baum made the following appointments to vacant seats on various boards and committees: Fire Board, Tom Carlock, Earl Plagens and Dee Hearn; Handicap Regulations, Howard Nelson; Insurance Committee, Bob Reily; Key Rate Committee, Carlock; Museum Board, Sissy Merrill, Lee Woods, Jim Baum; Parks Board, A. interest, claiming improper notification. Since exact amount of taxes and penalties due were not readily available, and the fact that the local school district had formally filed a delinquent tax suit on the property, the Court tabled action until next Tuesday's meeting, allowing time to check with the Tax Assessor-Collector and the school district.

APPROVE 911 PLANNING

After determining that the 911 Emergency resolution was not binding, the Court approved the resolution agreeing to participate in the planning project which is to be completed by late 1989. If approved, it will probably be implemented by the mid-1990's.

In the morning session Monday, the Court approved current bills totaling $32,951.15; and also approved budget amendments amounting to increases of $136,350 in the Road and Bridge Funds. Most of the increase were for bridge replacement, machinery and seal-costing costs, declared as unforeseeable expenditures.

District Clerk Bill Erwin reported to the Court that he is losing his part-time employee, Dixie Watlington, and would need a replacement by November 1. He was instructed to go through proper procedures of posting the vacancy and accepting applications.

Mrs. Griffin also reported that there was a stalemate between the County and the Hospital District over an $800 doctor's bill for the treatment of an inmate in County Jail. The Court has been advised that after the creation of a county-wide hospital district that it is illegal for the County or other taxing entities to spend tax dollars for in-county health care. The Hospital District interprets its requirement to furnish "medical care" means only hospital expenses. The Court requested that the County Attorney be asked to give an opinion and, if necessary, ask for an Attorney General's opinion to get the matter settled.

The Court also approved the regular monthly reports from the various County offices.

County Judge Bill Carter was absent and Commissioner Paul Hunter presided at the meeting.

1. A work day will be set in the near future at the Cemetery for the re-alignment of the headstones; but in the meantime a lot of cleanup work and mowing had been accomplished. Plans for several other improvement projects are underway.

Oil, Gas Report

First production data have been posted for a new producer in the Westbrook Field, Mitchell County, about miles northwest of Westbrook.

With Fina Oil and Chemical as the operator, the well probed to total depth of 3,200 feet. It will produce from a set of perforations in the Clear Fork Formation, 2,938 to 3,107 feet into the wellbore.

It potentialized at 76 barrels of oil plus 129 barrels of waste water per day.

Drilling operations are nearing the 4,800-ft. mark at the No. 1 Powell, a Mitchell County wildcat located about 13 miles southwest of Colorado City.

The well was spudded on Sept. 6, carrying permit for maximum hole of 6,400 feet. It is an exploration venture of Santa Fe Energy of Midland.

Copies of American Cancer Society booklet available from local unit

The recent broadened policy on mammography and latest information on the treatment of breast cancer are reported in a section of an updated version of the American Cancer Society's booklet, "Answering Your Questions About Cancer".

The booklet, in a clear concise Q and A format, also deals with cancer-related topics of a general interest. It is divided into 10 sections which present the current information on subjects ranging from causes and prevention to detection and treatment. Copies are free from the Mitchell County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

It details the new guidelines on breast cancer detection and recommends that all women over 50 have an annual mammogram. Those between 40 and 49 should have this examination every one to two years, and women between 35 and 39 are urged to have a baseline mammogram against which later images may be compared.

Anna Staats, chairman of the Mitchell County unit, points out that these recommendations "came as a result of the massive Breast Cancer Detection Demonstration Projects of 1973-81.

Even more recent findings support the evidence from that study showing mammograms can find cancers undetectable by any other means at a stage with a potential cure rate of 90 percent after proper treatment.

In a section on unproven methods of cancer treatment, the booklet stresses the danger of unscientific therapies. Purveyors of these methods "often convert a hopeful clinical situation into one of hopelessness and despair by delaying adequate therapy or avoiding qualified consultations that could be of benefit," it explains.

In simple, everyday language, the booklet answers more than 100 commonly asked questions about cancer. The message is one of hope. For example:

- most lung and skin cancers can be prevented;
- the risk of getting many cancers can be reduced by making changes in habits and lifestyles;
- there are warning signals that can be easily recognized and, with prompt diagnosis, the chances for successful treatment and cure are good and getting better.

Also described is the role of the American Cancer Society in the fight to control cancer. Second only in funding to the U.S. government's National Cancer Institute, the national society last year reported investing more than $55 million in cancer research.

The booklet notes that "the possibilities of one dramatic cure of all cancer seem unlikely today," but advances over the next few decades will probably make "most, if not all, cancers either highly preventable or curable."

A FIREMAN'S PRAYER
When I am called to duty, God
whenever flames may rage
Give me strength to save some life whatever by its age.

Help me embrace a little child before it is too late or save an older person from the horror of that fate.

Enable me to be alert and hear the weakest shout
And quickly and efficiently to put the fire out.

I want to fill my calling and to give the best in me
To guard my every neighbor and protect his property.

And if, according to my fate
I am to lose my life
Please bless with your protecting hand
my children and my wife.

Letters to the editor

Dump site?

TO THE EDITOR:
While I applaud, in theory, the idea of razing old delapidated buildings in Colorado City, I wonder why the city chose to simply bulldoze a portion of the building on East 2nd into Lone Wolf Creek? Is there a follow-up cleaning to be done or will this be like the old swimming pool which was also dumped in the creek?

What is the Landfill used for or is Lone Wolf Creek the site of the new city Landfill? I suppose next it will be okay to dispose of toxic wastes there.

Sincerely,
STEVE OYLER

No bumper stickers tell political story

AUSTIN—If Texas' politics looks different to you this year, those who pay attention to campaign minutiae, state-of-the-art warfare and historical footnotes say it's not what's out there... it's what isn't.

Presidential campaign bumper stickers are missing, at least in the numbers once sported by Texas vehicles.

Are Texas voters apathetic, intimidated, or just minding their own business?

Astute minds who watchdog those things say the shortage was noticeable after Labor Day, but excused it as a slow start.

Following the Bentsen-Quayle debate, their worst fears were confirmed: there wasn't going to be a bumper crop of bumper stickers in 1988.

Now and then a real issue arises in this election, but in between these flareups, you might check for yourself this puzzling bumper sticker sterility.

Why the shortage, especially in some areas of East Texas where elections get so heated the loser, by tradition, moves out of the county?

Where Are They?

Informal checking around the state confirms a shortage:

- Outside of Austin, one can sometimes go all day without seeing a single Bush or Dukakis bumper sticker.
- Even in Austin, where politics is inescapable, the count is down from the primaries, even in downtown traffic.
- In West Texas, Bush and Dukakis stickers appear virtually dried up.
- You'll see the most in the Rio Grande Valley where the count is evenly divided, one Democratic activist jokes, because the Republicans own most of the cars.
- In Houston, you can drive around the Loop and hardly spot a sticker from either campaign.

TV Or Apathy?

Certainly Texas cannot claim to be ignored. Following the Bentsen-Quayle debate, both sides made a beeline to Texas to make political hay.

Nor can Texas voters be called apathetic, which leaves the pundits to seek other answers and they've come up with a few plausible explanations.

What's lost in bumper stickers is being made up in TV ads, and one could theorize that 1988 is the first "pure" media-waged campaign.

No Newspaper Ads

One strategy hasn't changed, however. Apparently, neither campaign plans to use very much newspaper advertising, a fact which some consider a mistake.

One advertising executive who has participated in a number of campaigns, put it this way:

"If you're a candidate and have nothing to say, then TV is really great for you. It'll help voters remember your name and face. But if you have something to say, you can't discuss your campaign issues in 30 seconds. You need to develop issues and publish them so they can be pondered."

Thus far, no one has suggested that this presidential campaign was issue oriented.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Rainy Day Fund

Far down the ballot, voters will find a proposed amendment to create what is nicknamed the "Rainy Day Fund", or the Economic Stabilization fund as it's formally known.

If voters approve, next year the state treasurer will be stashing away a percentage of extra revenues, when and if they occur, for use in future budget crunches.

The annual savings would be half of any state surplus funds and 75 percent of oil and gas taxes collected over a set amount.

The fund will build slowly until it reaches 10 percent of general revenues collected, a process that will take years.

Then it could be used to make up budget deficits or other uses, if lawmakers approved with 60 percent majorities in both chambers.

The proposed Amendment 2 is supported by the Big Four in Texas government: Gov. Bill Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis, and Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Other Highlights

• Texas banks lost $2.9 billion the first half of 1988, more than triple the losses for the period in 1987.

• President Reagan declared Texas a disaster area because of damage caused by Hurricane Gilbert and related tornadoes.

• Texas Secretary of State Jack Rains said 567,000 voters, or about eight percent, were purged from voter registration lists, mainly for failing to renew their cards. However, some 850,000 new voter registrations were listed due to public service drives.

Reese AFB open house

LUBBOCK—Colonel Mark H. Lillard III, commander of Reese AFB's 64th Flying Training Wing has designated Sunday, October 16 as "Commanders Day" open house.

The base will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The featured flying attraction will be the U.S. Navy's Blue Angels Flight Demonstration team. They will be making their first visit to Reese in 20 years and will be flying their A/F-18 Hornet jet fighters.

More than 30, and possibly as many as 50 aircraft from all the military services will be on static display on the flightline when the gates open. The display will include fighters, bombers, reconnaissance, transports, helicopters and training aircraft.

Some of the more interesting aircraft currently scheduled to be on display are a B-1B bomber from Dyess AFB in Abilene, a C-5 Galaxie, the Air Force's largest transport aircraft. Visitors will be able to walk through the length of the C-5 as it will be displayed with the front nose open and the rear ramp down.

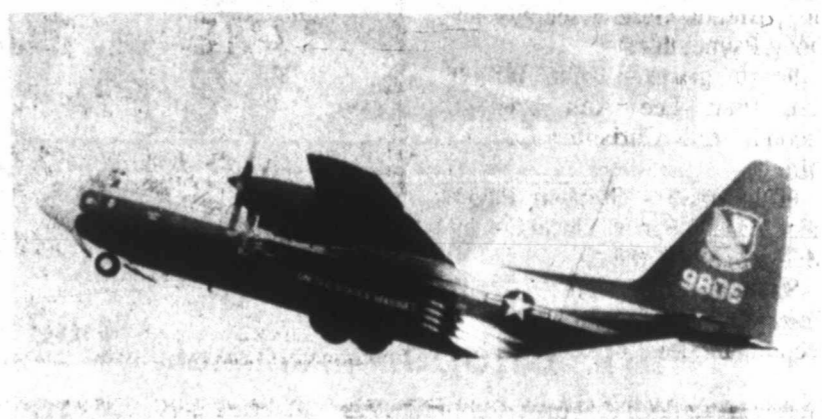

Also on static display will be an F-15 Eagle, F-16 Falcon, an A-10 ground support aircraft, an F-4 and an RF-4 Phantom. Cannon AFB in Clovis, NM will send an F-111. Other transport aircraft will be a C-130 Hercules and a C-141 Starlifter.

A number of the latest military aircraft are expected to fly-by and give a demonstration of their flying maneuver capability. Reese's T-37 and T-38 training jets will fly-by in formation prior to the Blue Angels show.

A number of exhibits and displays will be available for viewing. The Reese fire department will show the capability of their crash-rescue trucks and demonstrate a simulated extraction from a disabled aircraft. There will be plenty of food, drink and parking available.

The Reese AFB appearance will mark the only Blue Angels flight demonstration in the West Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico area between now and the end of their 1988 show season in November.

For more information, contact Bill Tynan at Reese AFB Public Affairs office (806) 885-3410.

The U. S. Navy Blue Angels C-130 Hercules support aircraft will be viewed by the public during Reese AFB's Commanders Day open house, Sunday, Oct. 16. The Blue Angels Flight Demonstration Team will be the event's featured aerial performers.

Junell lists support to programs

Robert Junell of San Angelo, candidate for State Representative, District 66, has pointed out that for the first time in six years, lawmakers writing the 1990-91 budget will not be facing a certain deficit.

One of the reasons for the zero deficit is that the Texas economy is on a road to recovery with more jobs, more sales, and more manufacturing.

However, he said the Texas Legislature must not hamper economic expansion and recovery by needless regulation and over taxation.

Several programs that he supports to help aid and assist Texas business include:

1. Lowering of worker's compensation while maintaining adequate benefits for the legitimately injured employee.

2. Freeport Exemption of the state sales tax for goods used in manufacturing and assembling in the state which stay in the state less than 175 days.

3. Creation of a Business Enterprise Zone for new business which employs more than 100 workers.

4. Maintain sales tax discount for businesses who prepay and timely pay their sales tax.

5. Link Deposit Programs to encourage banks to make loans to agriculture projects.

6. Use of State backed bonds to encourage building of food and fibre processing plants.

7. Use of State backed bonds to encourage alternate crop planting.

8. Preference for Texas and U.S. Products Bill.

9. Continued support for Angelo State University and San Angelo State School.

Wolves, Dogs battle Friday

Friday's football game between the Colorado City Wolves and the Clyde Bulldogs is shaping up into an evenly matched contest between two successful squads but whether it's high-scoring or low-scoring is anybody's guess. Both teams are on the verge of really getting on a roll. The Wolves answered a challenge last week to beat Merkel 6-0 for a 1-0 district 7-AAA mark and a 5-1 season record.

"If we hadn't got the shutout we probably would've lost," said Colorado High School head coach Tom Ramsey after the game.

lback Beau Rees ran for 20 yards and a first down deep in Merkel territory on the game's only scoring drive.

One official flagged Colorado City for not having enough men on the line of scrimmage but after coach Ramsey begged to differ the officials picked up the flag and upheld Rees' gain. Pat Tillis, who gained 160 yards and fumbled two other scores, soon ran in for the game's only points.

"One of the officials just blew the call," said Ramsey. "You can call a time out to talk to them. If they rule in your favor you're not charged with the timeout. Two agreed there were enough men on the line. We were in an unbalanced formation. We ran it earlier and nothing happened. The official just got mixed up."

Neither Colorado City or Clyde will be able to afford that type of performance tomorrow when the Wolves and Bulldogs kickoff at 8 p.m.

Both teams are 5-1 and 1-0 in district. As far as points are concerned the Wolves have the top offense with 127 points and the Bulldogs have the top defense by allowing only 48 points. Both teams aren't too shabby on the other side of the ball, either. The Wolves have allowed just 59 points for the number two defense and Clyde has scored 110 points for the number three offense.

Howle broke loose for a 40 yard score against Merkel.

Burleson and fellow linebacker Chris Shelton are the leading tacklers. Pat Brown returns as an All-District tackle. "Strong safety Jeff Chorn had an outstanding game against Coahoma," said Clyde coach Fred West.

West, Clyde coach for 4 years, took the Bulldogs to the playoffs in 1986 and is currently enjoying his best start ever. "I don't think it will be a high scoring game," said West. "I do think each team will be able to score."

"They threw five time last week," said Ramsey. "They seem to want to throw the ball against us more than anybody else. They'll run out of the I, the Wishbone or the Power I. They could be bigger than us."

"Traditionally, it's been a high-scoring game," said Ramsey. "I don't know why but we've got some big scores. It could be low scoring. They have a good defense and we have a good defense. You can't ever really tell."

"It's too early to decide the district title," said Ramsey. "There's a lot of football left. A break here or there and the other three teams could've lost Friday night. The district's pretty evenly matched. It's a big game for us. Last year we beat them worse than anybody else. I'm sure they still remember that."

A great defensive effort saved face before a large Homecoming crowd. The Wolves' offense moved the ball for almost 400 yards of offense but just couldn't find the endzone.

Two calls by the officiating crew-one corrected-highlighted the second half after a scoreless first half.

The first call came in the third quarter after a Merkel Badger carried to the Colorado City 4 yard line for a first and goal. The officials moved the ball back 15 yards after calling a penalty on the Merkel bench for not staying within the 25 yard lines. Merkel failed to score on the series and the score remained 0-0.

The second call came in the fourth period when Wolves fullback Beau Rees ran for 20 yards and a first down deep in Merkel territory on the game's only scoring drive.

One official flagged Colorado City for not having enough men on the line of scrimmage but after coach Ramsey begged to differ the officials picked up the flag and upheld Rees' gain. Pat Tillis, who gained 160 yards and fumbled two other scores, soon ran in for the game's only points.

"One of the officials just blew the call," said Ramsey. "You can call a time out to talk to them. If they rule in your favor you're not charged with the timeout. Two agreed there were enough men on the line. We were in an unbalanced formation. We ran it earlier and nothing happened. The official just got mixed up."

The call on Merkel's bench erased a possible game-winning run. "When that back made that run a lot of them just ran over there and picked him up," said Ramsey. A team's bench cannot go past the 25 yard lines. "That's one rule they enforce," said Ramsey. "It cost Merkel dearly."

It never would have come down to the two calls if the Wolves had capitalized on other opportunities. "It could've been 30 something to nothing at halftime if we could have hung on to the football," said Ramsey. "The defense played well and the offense played well but we just had a few dropsies and penalties. We were wondering if anybody would score."

"In the third quarter we took the ball 80 yards and didn't score then they took the ball 80 yards and didn't score and we're into the fourth quarter. They had two opportunities in the fourth quarter after we turned it over."

Neither Colorado City or Clyde will be able to afford that type of performance tomorrow when the Wolves and Bulldogs kickoff at 8 p.m.

Favored Clyde won it's Homecoming game last week 13-12 over Coahoma but not until linebacker Lance Burleson broke up an extra points pass with :28 left in the game.

The big plus for Clyde this year is experience. 9 offensive and 7 defensive starters return from last season's 4-6 team. Gary Hall and Shawn Moreland are the leading rushers. Quarterback Jeff Howle broke loose for a 40 yard score against Merkel.

Burleson and fellow linebacker Chris Shelton are the leading tacklers. Pat Brown returns as an All-District tackle. "Strong safety Jeff Chorn had an outstanding game against Coahoma," said Clyde coach Fred West.

Loraine, Ira Bulldogs in Sixman battle

The Loraine Bulldogs bounced back from their loss to highly ranked Christoval by trouncing Blackwell Friday and will be looking for their second district 7 Sixman victory at Ira Friday.

The Bulldogs, 5-1, also have other news. Hermleigh forfeited it's game against Trent last week. Loraine was scheduled to host Hermleigh for Homecoming on the last week of the season but now will have Homecoming next week when they host top ten ranked Trent.

Loraine rushed for 406 yards on 34 carries against Blackwell. Rudy Sanchez rushed for 85 yards on 13 carries and Shawn Finley added 176 yards on 11 carries with 3 touchdowns. Leading tacklers were Josell Williams with 13 and Sanchez with 10.

Coach Tommy Meredith said the Bulldogs allowed Blackwell only 18 second half yards. "I think we're going to be alright," said Meredith. "I scouted Ira and Highland (Ira won 16-8) Saturday and they both looked sluggish."

"Ira's got tall ends to throw to," said Meredith. "If we shut them down we'll be alright. Highland had two chances to score. They got down to the 5 yard line twice and didn't capitalize. Ira didn't run much. They got their scores passing."

Ira returns five starters both ways and improved to 4-2 with the win.

Loraine's Joey Lujan, who suffered a thigh injury against Christoval, will be in action against Trent next week.

Girls Scouts begin drive

Local Girl Scouts will be selling and renewing magazine subscriptions this month. As usual Reader's Digest has assembled an excellent list of magazines for the 1988 sale. Girl Scouts are excited about the success of this program and hope others see the benefits, too.

Troops throughout the council will sell or renew subscriptions to friends, family and relatives. The troops receive $1 per subscription and a percentage fee which has already been appropriated to the development of Camp Boothe

Oaks.

Girls may earn incentives if so motivated. Each girl selling 3 subscriptions receives a patch. Each girl selling 5 subscriptions earns a stuffed animal and a patch.

Each girl selling 7 subscriptions earns the stuffed animal, patch, and a book (Off the Beaten Track by Reader's Digest).

Economic development grants announced by Sen. Carriker

Senator Steve Carriker (D-Roby) has announced that the Texas Department of Agriculture is accepting applications for matching grants to promote diversification in Texas agriculture. Authorized by the Legislature last year, the purpose of the program is to get projects off the ground that demonstrate new and practical solutions for emerging agricultural enterprises.

"It is vitally important that people across the 30th District are aware that potential exists in this program to help stimulate economic development through value added industries utilizing Texas grown products," Carriker said. "Our people have new ideas that can help put the agricultural economy back on track."

Named the Texas Agricultural Diversification Board, the program was created to award grants to applicants who will demonstrate the feasibility of alternative crop production, processing agricultural products or direct marketing. According to program administrator Alice Reynolds, "the program will fund applied research and innovative projects, business training and support services programs, and small business incubators designed to diversify the Texas agricultural economy."

Proposals for funding will be accepted from any non-profit regional or community organization, such as a university, community college, or council of government, or any other non-profit organization affiliated with small business. The funds will be allocated in two rounds of competitive bids, with deadlines in late October and mid-January. Inquiries about the program can be directed to Alice Reynolds (512-463-7577) in the Texas Department of Agriculture or to Senator Carriker's Capitol office (512-463-0130).

Telephone assistance program helps Texas elderly

A new financial assistance program, aimed at older, disabled Texans, has been established by the Texas Legislature in cooperation with the local exchange telephone companies throughout the state. "Tel-Assistance" is the name given to the new program.

"Tel-Assistance will reduce certain charges on qualifying person's telephone bill by 65 percent," according to Tim Raven, president of the Texas Telephone Association. "Eligible customers may have Touchtone service or custom calling services, however, the discount will not apply to these services."

Raven adds that Tel-Assistance service recipients will also receive appropriate reduction of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) line charge. Discounts do not apply to long distance, telephone equipment or installation charges.

The Tel-Assistance program is under the direction of the Texas Department of Human Services. To qualify for Tel-Assistance, an applicant must meet several requirements.

Applicants must be 65 years of age or older and must be disabled. Additionally, applicants must be the head of a household and have an income at or below the Federal poverty level.

"Additional information regarding Tel-Assistance is available from the Texas Department of Human Services," Raven said. "Interested parties can call toll-free, 1-800-343-8353, or write to Tel-Assistance Service, Texas Department of Human Services, Mail Code 952-X, P.O. Box 2901, Austin, Texas 78769."

Applicants to the program are processed by the Department of Human Services, as well. The department will advise telephone companies if a person is eligible for Tel-Assistance.

Mrs. Morris shared an interesting and challenging talk on "Being a Success", based on Biblical principles and scriptures. She outlined three keys to success:

The meeting was closed with prayer. The next meeting will be Nov. 12 in the church parlor.

Card Of Thanks

Card of Thanks

To those of you who responded in a time of need, the family of Florence Walker wishes to express our love and thanks to each of you for your love and concern in the loss of our sister and auntie.

Card of Thanks

The class of '79 would like to thank the following people for making Homecoming '88 the best ever: KVMC/KAUM Radio, E-Z Way, Plagens Printing & Office Supply, Colorado City Record, Mr. and Mrs. Blankenship, Mary and Jim Petty and the 1988 football team for giving us a shutout.

Card of Thanks

As a former Colorado City merchant who has opted to leave the fair city of Colorado City to set up business in Loraine, I have found a business climate equal to none in Loraine. The residents and businesses have gone out of their way to make me feel at home and are always friendly, supportive, and helpful. I would like to thank the utility companies for their help in "turning me on" in timely fashion and for my loyal customers who have stood by me in this transition. Thanks everyone!

Lorraine Personals

...by Lois Phillips

Tharon and Doris Henderson had company over the weekend. Jay Henderson of San Angelo and Brad, Ronnie and Ashley of Odessa, helped Tharon celebrate his birthday and attended church with their parents Sunday morning.

Shep and Sally recently were in Plano to visit their kids David, Terisa and Rebecca Compton.

Bess Miller of New York and Irene Hester of Fort Worth were recent visitors in Lorraine and Colorado City.

All of you people who went to Lone Star School or had any relatives who went, we want you to be at our reunion. It is this Saturday at the Senior Citizens around 10 a.m. They told me to also tell you that everyone who wanted to come they would be welcome. Come one! Come all!

Dual and Opal Jo Blair are home after a trip to Possum Kingdom Lake. They were accompanied by the Ed Wilmon's of Monahans. After the Blairs arrived, they discovered that the Schroeders were also there. I heard that Schroeder carried a load of pears to feed the deer. Now why do you suppose he would do a thing like that?

The other afternoon I was getting my mail when some fellow came in and opened a box close to mine. He started talking about how much mail his sister had got since she had been in Austin. I didn't know if he was talking to me or not, but since there was no one else there I just asked him who his sister was. Irene Kidd, he said, so this nosy reporter introduced herself and told him how very much we wish Irene could come home. It was nice meeting Irene's brother.

He lives in Snyder and reports Irene is doing real well. You never know who you will meet at the PO. He seemed to be a real nice fellow.

Jack and Mary Love spent the weekend with her mother, Syble Walker. They had been to Dallas where Mary Love had her third eye surgery. While there, the Allbrights visited her sister and husband, Troy and Jean Keagens.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Phillips of Swink, Colorado came last Wednesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Olen Lee. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Young of Quanah, joined the group. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Young are Mrs. Lee's sisters. On Monday the company all went home.

Recently Mr. and Mrs.

Clarence Maynard were entertained with a birthday party for Kay and a 55th wedding anniversary for both of them. Nora Galvan, Millie Rose and Gloria Lemons were hostesses for the affair. This deal was a surprise to the Maynards. Cake, punch, tea, coffee were served to friends from Colorado City, Sweetwater and Lorraine.

Recently Alene Richburg and a friend of Odessa visited Lester and Lela at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moore visited Lester and Lela last week and attended the funeral for Mrs. Coot Walker.

Wednesday, Lela and Lester were in San Angelo where Lela will see an ear specialist and will visit Mrs. Lillie Faulkenberry who is in Shannon Hospital for physical therapy following a stroke she suffered at her home in Lorraine.

I understand also, that Mrs. J. E. Price is a patient at Shannon for tests and whatever else she needs. She seems to be a very sick little lady. We wish for her the very best.

J. C. Wells and T. L. Holman are patients at the Mitchell County Hospital. Sure hope they are feeling much better and will soon be home.

Now for our regular Thursday night report. Our Bulldogs won a come from behind victory over Blackwell. We are still undefeated. Rumor has it that the team will have to be rearranged a little bit for various reasons.

Don't worry team and coaches, because we'll let the public know about our newest Bulldog. We now have a girl Bulldog No. 86, Krystal Butler. She is the first ever girl to play Bulldog football. Her parents are Danny and Pam Butler. Good luck Krystal!

I met a real cute new little friend at the ball game. Her name is Kelley. I enjoyed visiting with her. Friday night she came back to see me. She is a doll.

Allene Baird of Big Spring returned home Saturday visiting from Wednesday with Ida Baird.

Jenny is home from her visit to Odessa in the Aubrey Phillips home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Brown of Sweetwater attended church in Lorraine Sunday morning with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mayes.

Gloria Richard Sherman was at the ball game Friday night. She is Gayle Trout's sister and lives in Midland.

Friday night our high school Bulldogs did all of us proud. We are really proud of your group who puts out your best to entertain us and gather a win for all concerned. Both teams play in Ira this week I think. Keep giving your best and good things will happen.

We are having real good attendance at both our games each week. When you look up and down the side lines you see a lot of very beautiful little cheerleaders to be and an equal amount of little Bulldogs. Most of which probably will compete in a few years. Noticed Grandma Kay Nell already has a number on her little one's jersey.

I asked Ike Williams about those Williams kids whose names the announcer kept calling. Said he didn't know but he was going to try to get a good look at them to see if he knew them. Better watch it, Ike and take the credit, they are good!!!

Homecoming and don't you forget it. If you did not hear from the invitation committee it was a mere oversight so come on. Our Mr. and Mrs. presidents have put in lots of time and work to entertain you so be sure you make an effort to be here.

Thanks also goes to our school for all their extra work. If you really want to be entertained get here for our Friday game. We play Trent at 7:30 at Johnson Field and I mean we play, we don't piddle around.

Now Bulldogs you had better not let me down, but then I know you won't. See you at Homecoming.
