Traffic Pours Into City With Road Openings

Two Giant Rallies Staged As Warning Is Issued By Clay

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 12—Two gigantic rallies, one Communist and the other anti-Communist, celebrated the end of the 327-day-old Berlin blockade today.

While ground traffic flowed freely into Germany's first city, old and young, men and women, dropped their work and let off steam at the ending of one phase of the long war of nerves in Germany.

But Gen. Lucius D. Clay sounded a warning that the cold war was not at an end.

Freedom Is Upheld

The retiring U. S. military governor told the West Berlin city assembly he favors a unified Germany, but "it must not come about by any sacrifice of basic principles of freedom" such as outlined in the proposed constitution for a West German republic.

Up to 125,000 anti-Communists turned out in city hall square to shout their support of the west in the battle over Germany. On Unter Den Linden in the Soviet sector, 100,000 Communist supporters shouted approval of an address by the hand-picked east sector mayor who claimed the east had won over "capitalistic warmongers on the other side of the Brandenburg gate."

Reds Are Assailed

The mayor of western Berlin, Ernest Reuter, and other German officials addressed their rally with lashing attacks at the Communists. Reuter said his government would take steps to see that "the inhuman blockade" never would be imposed again, and Carlo Schmid, Socialist leader, declared: "The price to be paid at the Paris conference (of foreign ministers on Germany) will not be bolshevism."

While the Germans celebrated, supplies and passengers poured into the city from the west by rail and highway, while the airlift which broke the blockade roared on.

The blockade-lifting had all the fanfare of a Hollywood movie premiere, and the people, convinced that at last this phase of the cold war was ended, whooped it up in the flag-decked city.

House Seeks Expense Pay

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—House members stand a good chance of getting more money to foot their bills and to spread around among their employes.

Only nominal—if any—opposition was expected for a measure approved unanimously Wednesday by the House administration committee. It would give each House member an additional $3,000 a year for clerk hire and up to $500 for official telephone and telegraph bills.

Approval by the Senate is considered certain in view of the traditional agreement between the two branches not to question each other's "housekeeping" arrangements.

House members now get around $12,000 a year for clerical help. While they get no fixed annual allowance for communications expenses, their telegraph charges, if incurred on strictly official business, are paid out of the contingent fund for miscellaneous House expenses. Telephone charges, however, are paid out of pocket.

$500 For Stationery

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the administration committee said the $500 allowance "strikes an average" on what the members now spend on themselves. If they don't spend that much the difference stays in the contingent fund.

The stationery allowance fund doesn't work that way. The members usually get $500 a session for stationery expenses and can draw it in cash if they desire. If they don't spend it, they are that much ahead. If they spend more than that, they have a personal deficit.

Then there's another allowance

Bolstered Economy Indicated

Treasury Head Says Business Nearing Level

High Incomes And Other Factors Are Progressive Signs

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today that postwar "adjustments" are now "practically completed" in many lines of business.

In a speech prepared for the National Association of Mutual Savings banks, opening its 29th annual convention, Snyder indicated a belief that, for some enterprises at least, the downturn has about ended.

Elements Of Strength

Declaring that there are many "elements of strength in our present situation," Snyder said "continuing high income levels" and a record backlog of savings are bolstering buying power.

He said that speculation—"more decisive than any other single factor in impairing the economic health of the nation" in 1929—has been "virtually absent" in recent years.

"A second factor today which is in equally sharp contrast to the past is the gradual process of the postwar adjustments to normal competitive conditions.

"Business recessions in the past were largely unforeseen. They owed their severity to a simultaneous readjustment of many phases of the economy. But the situation is different now."

Industries Readjusted

The treasury chief said the latest readjustment began "at the very close of the war" and has been going on since.

"Some luxury industries were affected in 1946. Machine tools, auto tires, radios and others followed in 1947. Textiles, shoes, auto trucks, furniture, household equipment and various other industries started their adjustment in the spring and summer of 1948.

"Others, such as rayon and crude petroleum, have more recently fallen into line."

Repeating his belief that there are "powerful factors in our pres-

Boost Needed To Avoid Red, Chief Claims

President States He Has Exercised Rigid Economy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12. — President Truman said today he is standing by his demand for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase.

It is needed, the President told a news conference, if the government is to avoid going into the red.

Mr. Truman asked the big tax increase in his January state-of-the-union message to Congress.

Must Make Economies

The subject was brought up at his news conference because Rep. Doughton (D-NC), who heads the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee, said after a White House call yesterday that he thinks the government must make economies to keep income and spending in line with each other rather than looking to a tax increase.

The President said he had retired about $26,000,000,000 in national debt since he took office. That, he added is more than any other President in history had retired.

Mr. Truman went on to say that this government ought to retire from two to five billion dollars in debt every year.

As a result of the huge wartime expenditures, the government's debt now stands at about $251,600,000,000.

Talked Social Security

The President said he has exercised rigid economy and that his budget message to Congress in January called for rigid economy.

He said he discussed social security, rather than taxes, with Doughton.

Doughton's House committee handles social security legislation as well as tax measures.

Mr. Truman replied with a flat no when a reporter asked if he thought a deficit could be avoided without additional taxes.

Asked if he thought the additional taxes should amount to four billions, the President first said he'd have to see how things worked out.

Standing By Figure

But later he said he was standing by his original recommendation.

He said he did not know what the deficit would be for this fiscal year, but certainly it would be far less than the four billion dol-

NO WHISTLE STOP "BY DAMSITE," DECLARES MAYOR

Texas Towns Join Electra In Fight For Daily Train Stops

(By The Associated Press)

Citizens of at least four Texas towns don't want to go down to the depot to watch the trains go by.

No sir, they want the trains to stop.

Electra's battle to keep from becoming a "whistle stop" on the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad reaches a climax tomorrow afternoon. Chillicothe and Clarendon are ready to join this fight.

Battle Only Started

But Whitney, "the busiest little city by a damsite" has only begun its battle with the Katy railroad on a similar subject.

Mayor Fred Basham was quite definite that Whitney was not "going to become a whistle stop by a damsite."

(The big Whitney dam is being built near Whitney, in Central Texas).

Whitney's dander went up yesterday when it heard the Katy was going to stop passenger service on its Waco-to-Stamford branch.

Basham called Electra's battle "just a sideshow compared to the main event we will stage to keep passenger service on the line."

Will Seek Hearing

Basham called for a group of townsfolk to go to Austin Monday to seek a hearing before the railroad commission.

Whitney, Walnut Springs, Hico, Iredell, Dublin, De Leon, Gorman, Carbon, Cisco, Moran and Albany and Stamford are served by the branch line.

Now about Electra's mourning: The railroad commission reversed an earlier decision and told the FW&DC to go ahead and make Electra and several other towns "conditional stops."

The railroad said it didn't get enough business at these places to make regular stops worthwhile.

So tomorrow, Mayor T. Leo Moore and some of Electra's citizens are going to hold "Whistle Stop Memorial Day."

To Stage Big Party

Moore is resorting to his last court of appeals—public opinion.

They're going to stage a big party when the crack Zephyr stops. A couple of bands will be on hand, so will the VFW and American Legion and fire department—all in uniforms.

Doughnuts and coffee for the passengers, flowers for the ladies, too.

Banking Committee Okays Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—The House banking committee approved 14 to 7 today the administration's proposal for a multi-billion dollar program of slums clearance, low-rent housing and farm housing aids.

The bill provides for construction of 1,050,000 low-rent housing units in seven years, as President Truman requested. The Senate recently passed a housing bill cutting the number of these units to 810,000 in six years.

Banking Chairman Spence (D-Ky) said the legislation will come to a showdown vote in the House next week and "it will pass beyond any doubt."

Reds Push Within 21 Miles Of Shanghai

SHANGHAI, May 12. (AP)—Red forces pushed to within 21 miles of Shanghai today.

Two separate Communist attacks were underway. The nearest was at Taichang, 21 miles to the northwest. Bitter fighting there was reported by the Shanghai garrison communique.

A force southwest of this great Asian city had reached Shihutang, a hamlet 25 miles southwest of Shanghai. Government troops there were reported holding firm.

Gerhard Eisler Discovered As Stowaway Aboard Polish Liner

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12 — Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller said today a stowaway aboard a Polish ship at sea has been "positively" identified as Gerhard Eisler, missing alien Communist.

The 53-year-old Eisler, facing two possible jail sentences in this country, disappeared last week from his New York home. He was free on $23,000 bail.

The liner Batory, which sailed from New York six days ago, later radioed that a German stowaway aboard identified himself as Eisler. The ship, owned by Gdynia-American Shipping Lines, Ltd., is due at Southampton, England, Saturday.

Identification Positive

Miller told reporters "we have a positive identification."

Eisler, also awaiting deportation proceedings, has been trying to get out of the country for a long time. Neighbors reported they had not seen him around his New York apartment since late last week.

Bandits Raid Home Of Dallas Builder

(By The United Press)

DALLAS, May 12—Captain Will Fritz, head of the Dallas police robbery and homicide bureau, said today that the bandit pair who robbed the home of a Dallas builder last night "operated in the same manner as the gang which harassed Dallas residents about a year ago."

Fritz said the method of operation—"well known to Dallas detectives"—was about the same as that of the so-called Caffey gang which ended in a gun battle with police on March 22, 1948.

He recalled that the suspected leader of "residence robbers" was surprised by uniformed officers after a house robbery.

Victims Taped Up

Morris Buster Caffey, the supposed gang leader, was in the back seat of a car. He began shooting as the officers approached.

Running from the car, Caffey was hit by police fire, and was found dead in an apartment three days later. Activities of the gang at that time ceased.

Fritz said both robbery operation were the same in that they left their victims bound with adhesive tape, had the residence "well cased" so that they knew where jewels and money were kept, and had always robbed houses where "plenty" of money was available.

Knocked At Front Door

Last night, two gunmen robbed A. B. McDaniel of more than $2,500 in cash, jewelry, and bonds, and left five members of the family taped helplessly on their living room floor at 922 Westmount.

He said the pair knocked at his

College Money Bills Debated

AUSTIN, May 12 (AP) — House penny-pinchers today defeated by tie vote an amendment which would have added $246,000 to the 58 million dollar bill providing funds for state-supported colleges the next two years.

The vote was 67-67 on a proposal by Rep. Arthur E. Gromatzky of Priddy to increase the appropriation for the Texas A. and M. college extension service from $539,000 to $662,000 a year.

Tie votes defeated amendments to bills.

Debate To Start

Debate of the big money bill began today.

Gromatzky and Rep. James K. Presnal of College Station asked for a $100,000 a year increase in extension service salaries and $23,000 more per year for maintenance, equipment and travel.

"We have lost a number of county agents — both white and colored—the past few years because salaries are too low," Presnal said.

Rep. Preston Smith of Lubbock, chairman of the subcommittee that wrote the higher education bill, said it represented an increase of 15 per cent over funds appropriated by the legislature two years ago.

"We tried to stay with the fifteen per cent increase down the Second game in the series, which will determine the full district championship and the right to enter bi-district competition in the playoff to a state Class AA diamond crown, is scheduled at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Amarillo. A third game, if needed, will be played immediately after the Saturday tussle at Amarillo.

Victims Say Band Wore Ku Klux Robes

Six Claim Hooded Group Took Them From Church, Beat Them

(By The Associated Press)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 12—Police were investigating today the reported blackjacking of six men and boys at a church near here by a group of robed and hooded men.

The victims, three of them teen-agers, told Sheriff Frank Burns they were beaten at a church in Dolly Pond, 25 miles from here, Saturday night. They said their attackers wore Ku Klux Klan hoods and robes.

The six identified themselves as Ed Allison, 50, his son, L. E. Allison, 22, and Charles Beaver, 40, all sawmill workers; Tom Ferguson, 18, his brother, Leondas, 14, and Henry Blair, 18.

Seven violent floggings and whippings by masked and hooded men have been reported since February in the mountain area surrounding Chattanooga.

Truman Denies Purge Reports

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP) — President Truman said today he is not interested in trying to purge Congress—that the people will take care of that.

He made that observation in a news conference discussion touched off by questions about his reported assertion that there are too many Byrds in Congress.

American veterans committee officials quoted him as making that remark, in reference to Senator Byrd (D-Va), when they visited the White House earlier this week.

Wide Interpretation

There was wide interpretation of the report as a hint that Mr. Truman may try to "purge" Congress of Democrats who oppose his program.

Byrd, who does not see eye-to-eye with Mr. Truman on many legislative matters, viewed it that way.

Today's news conference exchange began when a reporter asked the President if he was correctly quoted by the American veterans committee national chairman, Gilbert Harrison of Los Angeles, as to the remark about the Byrds in Congress.

Mr. Truman said his conversation with the veterans was a confidential one—that he saw no reason to comment on a report of a confidential conversation.

Then a reporter asked if he was thinking in terms of a purge.

I'm not interested in a purge, the President asserted. Then added that the people will take care of that.

Thundershowers Are Forecast For State

(By The United Press)

Scattered thundershowers may be expected in Texas during the next 24 hours, the Dallas Weather bureau predicted today.

Temperatures will continue in about the same range as yesterday —the upper 70s and middle 80s.

Yesterday's high was 92 at Presidio, but most readings were several degrees cooler than that with Amarillo reporting the low maximum of 67. The low this morning was 48 at Guadalupe Pass; Brownsville and Laredo had the high minimum of 68.

Rainfall reports were few. Brownsville had 1.41 inches; El Paso .05; Salt Flat .14; Guadalupe Pass .33, and Laredo .01.

HOUSE DEMOS PLAN STRATEGY

Repeal Of T-H Law Still Truman Goal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 12—President Truman said today he still stands for full repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

He said that he had not discussed concessions with labor leaders and that his own position is well known.

Throughout the presidential campaign last fall, and since, the President has called for repeal of the whole Taft-Hartley act and restoration of the old Wagner labor law with minor revisions.

Approval Not Given

He was asked at a news conference about reports that labor leaders have agreed to some concessions on a new labor bill in order to get repeal of the present law.

He said specifically that he did not talk about concessions yesterday during a conference with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor.

The President restated his stand as House labor committee Democrats were called together to plan strategy for getting Taft-Hartley repeal and minimum wage legislation through the House in the next month.

There was much talk of concessions as the lawmakers got together, along with predictions of a bitter battle.

Unions Okay Change

Both the AFL and the CIO now have publicly acknowledged that they might agree to some changes in the administration's Thomas-Lesinski bill which failed to get through the House. They continue, however, to oppose vigorously any change that would permit court orders in labor disputes.

Today's was the first gathering of the 16 labor committee Democrats since the six-day House debate that ended in stalemate a week ago. It also was the first caucus this year to which all Democratic members were invited.

Members Divided

Earlier ones were called without notifying three southerners, Reps. Barden of North Carolina, Wood of Georgia and Lucas of Texas.

Hush-Hush Meeting In Search For Spies Is Arranged Today

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Senate investigators of Communist spy activities arranged a hush-hush meeting behind closed doors today to question a mystery witness they call "Mr. X."

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), chairman of the judiciary subcommittee conducting the inquiry, refused to give the slightest clue to the man's identity.

Subcommittee aides said the witness summoned to the secret session is "in danger of his life" and cannot be named "because of his connections abroad."

McCarran said only:

"If he wasn't important, he would not be brought before us; if he was not very important, he would not be brought before us in closed session."

UN Delegate Accused

The witness was called in connection with hearings on a bill by McCarran which calls for the deportation of any alien found to be engaged in subversive activities against the United States. It also is designed to strengthen the immigration barriers.

The bill, McCarran has said, is aimed particularly at foreign agents who come into the country under the guise of representatives to the United Nations and other international groups.

At a public session late yesterday the subcommittee was told that Dr. J. Vilfan, Yugoslavia's chief delegate to the U. N., is "the main, the top man for espionage in this country concerning the Yugoslavs."

The sworn testimony came from Bogdan Raditsa, a former information officer at the Yugoslav embassy in Washington. Raditsa said he broke with the government of Marshal Tito in 1946 and later re-entered this country as a displaced person.

Spy Work Suspected

Earlier Raditsa had testified that Vilfan in Europe sent "hundreds of thousands of innocent Yugoslavs" to their deaths. The witness also said Vilfan now is "developing a secret police network" from a luxurious Fifth Avenue apartment in New York.

Raditsa called Vilfan "a member of the central committee for the Slovenian Communist party."

In New York, Vilfan described Raditsa as an unimportant man whose charges are absurd.

Another witness, William H. Smyth, told the subcommittee that the Yugoslav-American home on West 41st street in New York "appears to me without any doubt the center of Yugoslav Communist activities on the eastern coast."

Checks On Activities

Smyth, born of American parents in China, said he was in business in Yugoslavia for 20 years—from 1921 until the American consulates in Yugoslavia were closed in 1941.

He said that since he returned to America he has "constantly tried to keep track of Communist activities, especially in the Yugoslav group. . . ."

Smyth testified that "important Communists appear at meetings" at the New York Yugoslav-American home. He also testified:

"My long acquaintance with Communists and with various foreign language groups makes me believe that every foreign language group in the United States has its own highly organized national section of the American Communist party. . . .

"Further, I feel sure that all this work is controlled by Moscow by agents sent here directly or indirectly, as Moscow directs."

FORT WORTH, May 12. (U.P.)—The critically injured driver of a truck involved in a collision with a loaded church bus faced charges of negligent homicide today.

It alleged that Hollingsworth was driving his truck at an excessive speed and was on the wrong side of the road when the Fort Worth Northside Assembly of God church bus and his gravel truck collided Tuesday.

C. B. Brown, 42, driver of the bus, died Wednesday in a Fort Worth hospital of injuries. Ten bus riders, returning from a revival meeting at Denton, also were injured in the crash.

Taos Indians Refuse Request To Have Modern Convenience

"They would be short of water."

That terse statement by Don Antonio Lujan, Indian from Taos reservation at Taos, N.M., who visited in Lubbock Wednesday, summed up the reason the Indians continue to go down to the Taos river for water for drinking, for laundry and for bathing instead of piping water into their homes.

The Indian women continue to wash clothes in the river, at a point where the supply used for drinking water will not be polluted.

Would Hit Supply

They have not risked the modern convenience of piping water into their homes, because increased use of water might endanger their precious water supply, which is a spring of life to them since it must be depended upon to irrigate the crops which provide food to eat and sometimes extra products to sell.

A young Indian veteran who returned from World War II with a desire for the modern convenience of piped water caused a ripple in the complacent custom of going to the river for water when publicity was given to his request. The council refused the request, however, and the Indians still have no water and no electricity in their homes.

"We don't care about having water. We have been living there many years without it," Lujan said.

Can It Afford Power

As for electricity, maybe the young people would like to have it, "but they can't. They are poor. They can't afford it," he said.

Lujan visited in Lubbock with a group of Indians that danced Wednesday night at Ko Shari club program at the W. G. McMillan home on Levelland road. Other members of the group were Alfred Lujan, George Archuleta, Lupe Sandoval, Trinidad Archuleta and Joe Suazo.

The Indians visited in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden, 3105 Twentieth, before going to the event at the McMillan home.

Lujan has spent winters in New York and during his stays there has taught in the Museum of Natural History.

He is the husband of Mabel Dodge Lujan, widely known writer. They were married in 1918.

Request Is Turned Down

Lujan and other Indians with him courteously answered questions, but Lujan reminded,

"We are not council men. We can just tell you what we know."

The young veteran who brought up the water subject on his return from the Army did so after he had sought to dig a well, but found the water contaminated. The well was located near a sewer line to a day school. The veteran then asked permission to pipe water into his home from the pipe leading to the day school.

Some of the young men of the reservation sided with him. A U.S. government agent from Albuquerque, N.M., went to Taos on request of those wanting permission to pipe water.

What happened?

"They still don't have it,," said Lujan.

In the summer during dry weather, the Indians and the Mexicans divide the water for irrigation. From Friday to about 4 a.m., Mondays, the Mexicans may use it for irrigation. The remainder of the time, the Indians use it for irrigation.

That plan has been followed many years. Lujan does not know how many, but knows the agreement was in effect when he was a child.

Regarding the wish of the young veteran to pipe water, he said, "If one person start it, then they all want it."

REDS READ SPEECHES

Two hundred million Russians are convinced that nobody but Vyshinsky does any serious talking at Uno, says an observer in Moscow, who reports that "those tedious twins," Pravda and Izvestia, often give up two of their four pages to Vyshinsky speeches.

Friday 13th May Be Big Day For Abilene

ABILENE, May 12 (AP)—Abilene hopes to make Friday the 13th a red letter day—and not because of any silly superstition.

If the west Texas city gets past today, it will count 702 days without a traffic death. That's a national record.

A big parade is planned Friday and there's a fireworks display planned at the baseball park that night.

Schenectady, N. Y., holds the record of 701 deathless days in Abilene's population class.

Berlin Parcel Mail Resumed

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—Normal U. S. mail service to Berlin was resumed today with the lifting of the blockade.

The Post Office department notified all domestic postmasters this morning that the embargo on surface parcel post for the German capital has been set aside. It told them they could again accept such parcels—and at reduced postage rates: Six cents per pound for the U. S., British and French zones, and 14 cents per pound for the Russian sector.

Surface parcel post was the only mail service affected by the Berlin blockade. Air parcel post and air mail was carried into the trouble zone by American Overseas airlines under contract. Surface letter mail was handled by air lift planes.

Polish Service Halted

Surface parcel post to Berlin was embargoed the first week in March after an unsuccessful effort to establish a relay of such parcels— largely gift packages—through the Baltic countries.

At one time the Post Office department arranged to send the packages to Sweden for transfer to Russian authorities, but a regular service was never worked out.

Polish authorities then agreed to accept the U. S. shipments for relay to the Russians. That worked for a while but Poland later advised it could not handle packages for the Soviet zone, "due to transportation difficulties.' The service was then suspended.

During the period of Polish handling, three cents a pound was added to the rate to compensate that country for its trouble. That made the charges 17 cents to the Russian zone, nine cents to the British and American zones, and 13 cents to the French zone.

The extra three cents is now eliminated, and in addition the French zone gets a further reduction to the six cent per pound level, under the ECA program.

Youth, 9, Lines Up Buddies Along Wall, Takes Shot At Them

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12 (AP)—A nine-year-old boy lined three young companions against a bedroom wall Wednesday and took a shot at them with a rifle.

One of the three was wounded in the ear.

Sheriff's deputies said John Harold Newman fired the shot from a combination "over and under" gun—a .410 gauge shotgun-.22 caliber rifle.

The deputies, Jimmy Cox and Roy McElroy, said only the rifle section of the combination gun was fired.

They said the shooting occurred in the Newman home while John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Newman, were at work.

The rifle slug drilled two holes in the left ear of Jimmie Lee Patton, 8. Uninjured were Jimmie's five-year-old brother Hiner, and a playmate, Carroll Dolehite, 4.

Jimmie's injury was not considered serious.

The deputies said the Newman child is being held at the Memphis detention home pending further investigation. No charge had been placed against the boy, they said.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Niece, 8, Loses Place Of Favorite After Birth Of Brother; Relatives Concerned

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My niece Susan, eight years old, a very sweet child, is really starved for a little love, or so it seems to her grandparents and me. Since her brother was born four years ago, her parents have been completely absorbed in him, to the neglect of Susan, who had been everyone's favorite before.

Roy, the boy, is the apple of his parents' eye and can do no wrong, whereas Susan does nothing right, they seem to feel. Roy, is always "crossing" her and it is always called her fault. She must give way to him in everything. Her parents say, "He is too young to know any better." But isn't he getting old enough to learn?

FEARS FRANKNESS MAY ANGER SISTER

Recently the family drove up to our house and our dog ran to greet them. Immediately Roy got out of the car to play with the dog, but when Susan started to get out she was slapped and made to stay in. Then she was told she would be whipped if she didn't stop crying. She is nervous and high strung, keyed up all the time, and the least thing upsets her.

The other day when they were at my parents' home, Susan ran to her grandmother saying, "Oh, what am I going to do? If I go outside daddy yells at me, and if I come inside mommie yells at me too." I truly fear her nerves will be wrecked if the situation isn't corrected. The way she looks at her parents sometimes, it seems she almost hates them.

I have tried to think of some way to show my sister her mistake; but we have always been close and I hesitate to ruin our friendship. In my grave concern for Susan, I am hoping you may say something to help a dear little girl and preserve family unity.

Signed: J. D.

MOTHER'S NERVES ARE ON EDGE, TOO

DEAR J. D.: Your sister's nerves are on edge, too, as she wrestles blindly with a problem of her own making, namely, problem behavior in both her children. Her coddling of Roy and severity with Susan since he was born isn't the only sore spot; it merely illustrates that she doesn't know how to help children thrive happily.

Just as Ray is being pampered today, so was Susan pampered before he was born, it seems. It was her parents' joy to concentrate on "pleasing" her, instead of using patient foresight to help her grow gradually, a step at a time, from the cradle up, in self reliant habits and good accommodation to other persons' rights, needs and feelings.

Thus at the age of four, when her brother was born, Susan was still precariously infantile; but suddenly she was expected by her parents—and by her mother especially—to be "a big girl now" and make no trouble, no fuss, no firesome demands that interfered with mommie's doting care of baby brother.

MOTHER'S FAILURE DUE TO IGNORANCE

NATURALLY Susan wasn't able to fathom or philosophically adjust to this drastic change in parental humor. She didn't know what it meant or what to do. She only felt she had been tossed aside for baby brother—a terrible shock, as you can imagine. And her mother, far from sensing the trouble and trying to relieve Susan's fear, actually punishes the child for showing symptoms of distraction.

At the same time, the mother is repeating with Roy the same spoiling process that hindered Susan's growth in the first place. All of which adds up to ruinous rearing; and I agree with you that Susan's emotional plight is critical. She is getting a tragic deal.

Since your sister doesn't know how to be a mother, she had better study Dr. Arnold Gesell's books, "Infant and Child In the Culture of Today" and "The Child From Five to Ten," (Harper & Brothers), and take her guidance from his teaching.—M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

OCCUPATION CHANGES TALKED

Troop Withdrawal By Allies Studied

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 12. — The United States is reported studying a plan for the withdrawal of foreign occupation troops in Germany to three northern port cities, the New York Times said today.

In a dispatch from Washington by James Reston, the Times said the U. S. is discussing the plan with France and Great Britain.

It reportedly would provide for the restriction of British troops to the Hamburg area, U. S. troops to the Bremen area and Soviet troops to Stettin on the west bank of the Oder.

All are port cities. Under the plan, the military garrisons would be allowed to communicate only by sea, it was said.

To Reject Plan

France, which has a common frontier with Germany, would withdraw her troops within her own territory.

The story said the western powers apparently have agreed to reject any Soviet proposal at the forthcoming foreign ministers' meeting for complete evacuation of troops.

The plan to restrict troops to certain areas is being considered as a possible proposal in case Russia demonstrates it is ready to establish a central German government along lines laid down in the western zones, the Times said.

No Agreement Made

"It was emphasized in official quarters here," the story said, "that this is only one of many ways in which the problem of the occupation troops could be handled.

"There is not as yet agreement that this will be put forward in Paris as the United States plan for dealing with the problem.

"Indeed the western powers will have to be satisfied by Mr. Vishinsky (Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister) on many other fundamental points before this compromise will be advanced."

Stettin, in which Soviet troops would be concentrated under the reported plan, was placed under Russian control under the Potsdam act. However, under a separate agreement reached Sept. 20, 1947, the Russians gave control of the former German port to Poland.

Widow Wins Lawsuit Against Monied Cat

BOSTON, May 12. (AP)—A 60-year-old widow had the last laugh today on a cat that had her fired from her job as a domestic several years ago.

A superior court jury awarded Mrs. Anna Pesane $9,148.50 in her suit against the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co., executors of the estate of Woodbury Rand, Boston lawyer.

Mrs. Pesane told the jury that Rand promised her $10,000 in his will if she would stay with him.

He fired her later, she said, "for the way I looked at his cat." The feline was left $40,000 under the will—and Mrs. Pesane nothing.

She sued on Rand's promise.

Water was pumped from under the foundation or from the basement or floor furnace of about 100 homes by West Texas Gas Co., following Friday night's downpour. Three pumps were operated. Several persons told gas company personnel they had arranged with persons operating pumps to have water taken from under their houses, thinking they were arranging for free services of the gas company, and that charges had been made. A gas company spokesman reminded Wednesday night that the gas company provided the pumps as a public service and charged no fees and the charges apparently were made by someone operating pumps other than gas company personnel.

Film Is Shown At Kiwanis Luncheon

A moving picture, "No Place To Go", was featured on the Kiwanis Club program today. It was presented by John Wilson and Arnold Maeker, American Business Club members, as part of a plea for attendance at the Boys' Club Rodeo, June 8-10.

"Our project for a permanent and worth-while club house for the boys in this community will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000," Maeker told the Kiwanians. "We do not receive aid in this project from the Community Chest. Because of this fact we have undertaken to raise the money by such events as the coming rodeo."

The film was a documentary story of youths in American cities who were left to themselves without recreational guidance. It brought out the fact that many of the misdemeaners and crimes committed by youngsters in this country stem from lack of wholesome enterprises and places for them to go.

Fred Sparks presided over the meeting and five new members were inducted into the club by Sam Aldridge. They were, Dr. R. M. Mayer, Kenneth H. Wood, William R. Sewell, Charles Chambers and Roy Heath.

Visiting Kiwanians and guests included; Leroy Alsak, Lamesa; Henry Bufkin, Dallas; George Blair, Dallas; George Harris, Gordon Thompson, Newell Baldwin and Pete Pearson.

Adolphe Menjou was on his pet subject—men's clothes—when I visited "The Bandwagon" set.

"Stylists," he said, "are making monkeys out of men. Current color combinations are atrocious. Chains are even worse.

"There shouldn't be any chains hanging from the pockets of the well-dressed man. They make him look like a soldier out of some musical comedy farce. Heavens, what are men coming to, anyway?"

I reminded the author of "It Took Nine Tailors" about the old routine of male birds having fancier plumage than the female birds.

Menjou snorted:

"If you want to dress like a bird, go ahead. I prefer dressing like a man."

Whole English Town Is Placed On Sale

LONDON, May 12 (AP) — The Duchy of Cornwall, hereditary estate of the eldest son of the king of England, is offering to sell a whole town. It is Hugh Town, capital of the Scilly Islands, which lie at the entrance of the English Channel about 25 miles from Land's End.

Chiefly consisting of one long street, Hugt Town has two banks, three hotels, 15 shops, 160 dwelling houses, a town hall, postoffice and a Roman Catholic church. All are for sale.

The duchy, sole landlord of all the island group's 1,700 inhabitants, offered the property for sale so that the local council can have greater freedom in administering legislation, a spokesman explained. Present tenants will be given first opportunity to buy the properties.

The duchy—which now consists of about 135,000 acres scattered throughout southern England—was instituted by Edward III in 1337 for the support of his eldest son, Edward the Black Prince. Since then the eldest son of the Sovereign has inherited the dukedom.

Current revenue of the duchy amounts to about $350,000 a year. Since King George has no son, this now goes to the crown.

On the accession to the throne of Princess Elizabeth, her son, Prince Charles, would automatically inherit the dukedom and receive its revenues.

Leftover baking powder biscuits may be split, buttered and toasted, then used as a base for a tomato-cheese-bacon combination, or for creamed foods.

Israel's Admission To U. N. As 59th Member Is Approved

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP) —Israel's admission as the 59th member of the United Nations has finally been approved. A simple flag-raising ceremony today winds up the formalities.

The general assembly approved the Israeli application last night by a vote of 37-12, with nine countries abstaining.

The decision was followed by an Arab walk-out, but some of the Arab countries' representatives returned for a late night meeting, indicating that the protest was ended.

Reports Not Ready

The assembly has been scheduled to return to plenary session today but a last-minute change calls for committee meetings at Lake Success at 9:30 a. m. (EST) instead. Officials decided some of the committee reports were not yet ready for assembly action.

The officials said the delegates might return to plenary sessions later in the day with debate on draft agreements on freedom of information topping the agenda.

This was one of the three major issues still awaiting action before Saturday's scheduled adjournment of this spring assembly session.

Minister Takes Seat

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett took his seat as a regular delegate immediately after Wednesday's vote. He delivered a formal address on Israel's general foreign policy.

Sharett, however, took no part in debate on the first issue to come up after Israel's admission. This was a proposal to postpone action until next fall on the Dutch-Indonesian dispute. Israel obtained when the assembly voted 43-6 approving the deferment.

The Spanish question comes up after freedom of information. The assembly started to take up Spain Wednesday night but finally decided to dispose of the information agreement first.

The assembly has before it a recommendation of its political committee that member nations be given complete freedom to decide whether they would restor full diplomatic relations with the Franco regime.

A 1946 assembly resolution recommended the withdrawal of top diplomatic representatives from Madrid.

The political committee voted 25 to 16, with 16 abstentions, in favor of lifting the restrictions. Only a simple majority is required, but in the assembly itself two-thirds of those present and voting are needed for approval.

The other major issue awaiting assembly action was disposition of Italy's pre-war colonies.

The political committee was scheduled to meet at Lake Success to act on a draft plan for disposing of the former Italian colonies along lines previously agreed on by Italy and Britain. The plan was approved Wednesday by a 16-nation sub-committee.

Annapolis Birthday Pageant Hits Snag As Youths Revolt Against The 'Sissy' Minuet

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 12 (AP) Is the minuet sissy stuff?

Not everyone will be wildly excited by that question, raised in the rug cutting age.

But Adolphe Robicheau and Annapolis, they care, and for a good reason.

Robicheau, a proper Bostonian from Beacon street, came here to teach the old dance for the city's gala tercentennary pageant. It's going to provide a peek back into 300 years of history. Obviously, a minuet is called for.

The problem of sissiness reared its head when volunteers showed up the first time. The girls like it fine, but the boys balked.

The Boys Balk

"That's not for me," was the lads' chorus after taking a look at the mincing steps of the colonial dance.

Today, a week after this crisis, Robicheau had the joy of watching an intrepid band of 36 teenagers rehearse the minuet for the pageant, which opens May 22. How did the dancing master from Boston do it?

"I told them the men in that period were just as manly as today, maybe even more," he related, speaking with a Paris accent.

"They weren't scaring me," he added.

Celebrations crowd the week from May 20 to May 27 to mark the 300th anniversary of the founding of Annapolis by 10 Puritan families from Virginia.

Arabs Tear Down U. S. Flag In Protest Against Colony Plans

TRIPOLI, LIBYA, May 11 (AP)—Rioting Arabs tore the United States flag from the American consulate here Wednesday, and threw stones and iron balls at the windows.

They were demonstrating against a British-Italian plan to restore Tripolitania to Italian trusteeship in 1951, which Arab leaders contend would throw "the Tripolitanian people to Italian floggers."

The mob—sometimes chanting "Russia! Russia!"—stoned the French consulate, one stone striking the consulate. Demonstrators gathered also at the British consulate, shouting "Down with Bevin."

U. S. Consul Orray Taft, jr., agreed not to fly the U. S. flag outside the consulate until the tension has eased.

The city was placed under curfew, and mobile British police units patrolled the streets.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. G. Britton, 906 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 136 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Abilene Blue Sox Down Hubbers, 4 To 1

Senators Pound Detroit Tigers, 11-1

Pampa Oilers Beat Lamesa

(By The Associated Press)

Weather and the three-hit pitching of Righthander Jerry Rodriguez combined to push Abilene's Blue Sox within half a game of the stalemated West Texas-New Mexico baseball league leaders last night.

As Albuquerque's Dukes and the Borger Gassers found themselves thwarted by rain for the fourth time in a week, Abilene plowed on to its 12th straight victory—a 4-1 win over the Lubbock Hubbers.

Rodriguez won his third game in four starts for Abilene with the aid of two double plays. Abilene has climbed from the cellar during its win string.

Pampa Beats Lamesa

The Pampa Oilers snapped a nine-game losing streak by defeating the Lamesa Loboes 6-2. The Oilers broke up a pitcher's duel for Charley Bodine with a home run in the eighth by Homer Matney with two aboard.

Clovis' Pioneers, meanwhile, lost their ninth game in a row, bowing to the Amarillo Gold Sox 10-5. Amarillo ended an even battle after five innings by pushing two runs across in the sixth and four more in the seventh. Luke Hamilton was the winning moundsman.

Tonight and Friday Amarillo plays at Albuquerque, Borger is at Clovis, Lamesa goes to Lubbock and Abilene plays at Pampa.

DON HENSIEK SLATED TO TWIRL FOR HUBS

Don Hensiek (1-) is the probable choice for the Lubbock Hubbers tonight when the Lamesa Loboes invade Rosenthal Field for the opener of a two-game series.

Manager Jackie Sullivan, faced with a pitching staff that is getting no stronger each day and which manages to come up with a sore-armed hurler every other one, might even start Chris Haskins. Haskins was with the Loboes last year and bears them no love.

Rosson To Pitch

There is no question who the Loboes will throw at the floundering Hubbers. It will be Eulis Rosson, their former teammate in 1947.

Rosson recently was bought outright from Dallas by the Loboes and Manager Jay Haney is not one to overlook the chance of victory. Rosson should delight in trimming the Hubbers in the same park in which he pitched a no-hit, no-run game and in which he rode to fame.

Currently on the questionable list as far as active duty is concerned are Cotton Russell, complaining of a sore arm; Hensiek, also with a sore flipper; and Herby Pitts, without a victory against three defeats. Charles Willis could go again, after lasting less than two innings Monday night. Mills lasted about the same Tuesday night also could go.

Cleveland Indians Shade New York Yanks For 3-2 Triumph

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Kuhel, the amateur (?) magician who manages Washington, just pulled a ninth rabbit out of his hat.

Nine straight wins by any Washington club, especially the lack lustre 1949 version, call for an explosive mixture of voodoo charms and black magic. Mr. Kuhel must be a pro.

It's been years since Kuhel did his card tricks in public but he never unveiled a masterpiece like this one. Even his best friends refuse to believe their eyes.

Kuhel's sagging Senators started west on their first road trip, 10 days ago eight games below .500. They had won only three of 14. Even the woe-begone St. Louis Browns were ahead of them in the league standings.

Nats Shell Detroit

Two straight at Chicago, three more in St. Louis and three more over Cleveland, two by shutouts, brought them to Detroit for No. 9 yesterday. They hope to leave Detroit tonight with 10 in a row.

There were days when Washington had a tough time hitting the ball out of the field. Not now. They shillelaghed Detroit, 11-1, yesterday with a five-run first inning against Stubby Overmire.

Kuhel even used two pitchers. When Paul Calvert, pitching a one-hitter, developed a blister on his pitching hand in the fifth, he called on Dick Welteroth. You needed a microscope to notice the difference. Detroit had only three hits.

The world champion Cleveland Indians, relieved of the Washington plague after losing three games, welcomed the league-leading New York Yankees. The Tribe was so glad to see the Yanks, they won a 3-2 game before 61,742 chilled but admiring customers. It was the top night crowd of the year, second only to Cleveland's opening day.

Bob Porterfield of the Yanks lost his own game when he uncorked a wild pitch in the seventh, permitting Dale Mitchell to score the winning run.

Chicago Beats Bosox

The Boston Red Sox continued to find it tough going in the west as they were outscrambled by Chicago, 12-8. The White Sox, another surprise entry, tied an American league record by scoring in every inning with an assortment of 15 hits, five walks, a wild pitch, balk and four errors—three by Bobby Doerr.

Rookie Jack Graham bombarded Philadelphia's Bobby Shantz with two doubles and a single, driving in two runs and scoring two in St. Louis' 5-4 win over the A's. The clever little southpaw who pitched spectacular relief ball against Detroit last week, struck out nine Brownies but couldn't stop Graham.

Warren Spahn, pitching back to his 1947 form, hurled his second shutout and fourth straight victory for Boston, with a three-hitter against the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0.

They finally stopped the New York Giants after seven straight wins. Cincinnati's Howie Fox did the trick, 4-2. The Reds, normally no fence busters, shelled Montia Kennedy from the box in the sixth.

Pittsburgh's rookie lefthander, Bill Werle, survived a ninth-inning uprising by Brooklyn to win a 5-3 decision.

Chicago ended Ken Heintzelman's four-straight win streak by coming from behind to nip the Phillies, 4-2.

Galey, Murphy To Play At Beaumont

Two Lubbock county high school basketball stars have been invited to play on the northern team in the annual North-South all-star cage game to be held in Beaumont this year as a climax to the basketball coaching school.

Representing Lubbock will be Charles Galey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Galey, 1517 Twenty-fourth street. Derrell Murphy, Shallowater, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Murphy was also honored by an invitation.

Both Galey and Murphy were all-state basketball choices of sports writers at the State Basketball meet in Austin, Murphy being in Conference B while Galey was a Class AA choice.

In his final basketball year at Lubbock High school, Galey was on the second team in the history of the school to go to a state tournament. Over the full season he led the team in scoring and was the field general throughout the year.

Also slated to play on the all-star team is another District 1-AA sharpshooter, Derral Davis of Pampa. Pampa was eliminated in the district playoff by the Westerners.

Coaches of the two teams at the coaching school will be Adolph Rupp of Kentucky for the North and Hank Iba of Oklahoma A. and M. for the South.

Mrs. C. E. Hunley Wins Meet Honors

In the weekly meeting of the Ladies Golf association at Lubbock Country club Mrs. C. E. Hunley won the Blind Bogie on the 18-hole flight, and Mrs. John Markham was low on putts.

Winner of the Blind Bogie on the shorter nine-hole course was E. S. Hall. Low with the putter was Mrs. Al Cooper.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Jackie Wilcox, who was the Hubbers' regular shortstop last year, was in town yesterday after being returned to Lubbock from Kilgore. Last night Jackie was given his outright release by George Schepps when he learned that Wilcox wanted it. George also had been unable to place him again. Now it appears that Jackie might catch on as an outfielder with the Abilene Blue Sox, who currently are burning up the WT-NM circuit.

In the mail yesterday was a nice letter from Denny Davidson, former Lubbock High mound star about whom he had a little item recently. Denny enclosed an article after the Texas-Texas Aggie freshman game in which he was the winning pitcher. The article relates the "masterful" pitching of Denny, who held the Aggie Fish the three hits. He fanned six and gave up four bases on balls. He also had a .333 batting average on one single in three trips. The Texas freshmen only got four hits and won the game 4-1. Denny relates "We played the Aggies yesterday and beat them. You should have heard the riding I took. I sure do like school down here, but wish there were more people from out that way down here. I guess you know I'm a poppa of a boy—two weeks now."

A news release from the Gaines Dog Research center in New York also was in the postman's offering's yesterday and we learned something. Gaines now has a book entitled "Touring With Towser" a dog edition if ever we heard of one. The book lists hotels and motor courts which accept guests with dogs. No fashionable dog-travelling family should be without one—we guess. You can get the directory by sending 10 cents to the center located at 250 Park avenue, New York City, N. Y.

Comes the touching story over the wire of the softball game in the Plymouth, Mass., House of Correction. Seems the long termers were playing the short termers with the score 1-0 in favor of one, the story doesn't say which one. Anyway, a batter drove a homer out of the grounds to tie up the game and, since it was the only ball available, the guard let one of the prisoners go out to find it. But four more insisted that he couldn't find it alone and that they should go. When the guard resisted them, the quartet took matters into their own hands. At last accounts the game still was 1-1, there had been one error and four left.

Fishermen apparently are going to pay $5 fishing licenses at Lake Texoma, or fish only on the Texas portion of the lake. A bill providing a flat $5 fee for the entire lake was ready for the governor to sign and apparently he intended to sign. Oklahoma will get 70 per cent of the revenue, since 70 per cent of the lake is in Oklahoma territory. Texans can continue to fish in Texas' 30 per cent for the customary $1.10 license. Now comes the interesting question of whether the Fish, Game and Oyster Commission will, when a fish is caught by some one holding only the Texas license, check to see whether it was a fish from Oklahoma's 70 per cent, or Texas' 30.

C. Officials of the Amherst club include Douglas Ellsworth, president; Billy Gee, vice president; Kenneth Rhodes, executive officer; Ray Joe Riles of Hart, secretary; and Donald Nafzger of Olton, treasurer.

Examination of the box scores for the last three Hubber games shows the class of pitching the Hubbers have been facing—or lack of hitting, at any rate. Al Duarte has gone one for 15; Jackie Sullivan one for 12; Mike Dooley one for 11; Joe Wisniewski one for 13; Buddy McCallum three for 10; Chick Fowler four for 14; Nelson Davis five for 16; and Jim Prince five for 13. The Hubbers are seven games out of first place and four games out of fourth place. They also are three games behind the Lamesa team that comes here tonight. They've dropped six of their last seven and the numeral 13 didn't scare them. It was the 13th defeat last night.

New Marks In SWC Forecast

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 12 (AP)—Half a dozen records will be endangered in the Southwest conference track and field meet here Friday and Saturday.

That many have been bettered or tried previously this year by athletes who will be among the 117 who will compete in the University of Arkansas stadium.

Marks Are Slated

If he's at his peak and has favorable weather conditions, J. D. Hampton of Texas A. and M., whose school is top-ranked for the team championship, may establish new marks in the mile and two-mile runs.

The smooth-striding Aggie has clipped 2.9 seconds off the mile record of 4 minutes, 20 seconds, and has run two miles in 9 minutes, 25.6 seconds—nearly seven seconds under the record.

Also tottering is the discus throw record of 165 feet, 2¼ inches. A. & M.'s George Kadera has tossed the platter four feet farther.

Boo Walters of the University of Texas will be gunning for the high jump record of 6 feet, 7⅛ inches. He has cleared 6-8 3-16 this year.

Another A. & M., athlete, Ray Holbrook, might break the 440-yard dash record of 47.8 seconds with just a little more kick. He has tied that mark.

Aggies Hold Edge

Bob Hall, also of the Aggies, bettered the 220-yard low hurdle standard of 23 seconds by three-tenths of a second but had the aid of a wind too strong for records to be considered.

On the basis of best performances this spring, the Aggies hold the winning edge in ten of the 16 events. Texas holds the best marks in four events, while representatives of the two favorites have equal performances in another.

Rice, Southern Methodist and Arkansas are expected to battle for third place.

Preliminaries are Friday and Saturday.

South Plains Women Set Up Links Group

PLAINVIEW, May 12. (Special)—Organization of a South Plains Women's Golf association was completed here Wednesday at the Plainview Country club, with delegates from Lubbock, Brownfield and Plainview electing officers for the new links group.

Mrs. Ethel Herriage of Lubbock was voted as president of the organization, with Mrs. Jane Shirley of Brownfield as vice president. Other officials included Mrs. Edda Solnick of Plainview, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Frances Bell of Lubbock, corresponding secretary.

Fourteen women from Meadowbrook club in Lubbock attended the meeting.

COACH IS NAMED

EDINBURG, May 12. (AP)—Edinburg Junior college will have a new football coach next fall. Frank McClanahan, graduate of North Texas State Teachers college at Denton, was named yesterday to replace Bob Brumley.

WIMBLEDON BOUND—The United States again will have strong representation in the English lawn tennis championship at Wimbledon beginning June 20. Bob Falkenburg and Miss Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., both will be out to repeat their Wimbledon singles conquests of 1948. Richard Gonzales of Los Angeles and Mrs. Margaret Osborne DuPont of Bellevue, Del., won the U. S. singles crowns last season and will be out for a Wimbledon win. Shown above, left to right, are Mrs. DuPont, Miss Brough, Gonzales and Falkenburg.

TORRID BATTLE IS PREDICTED

Capot Top Threat In Race Saturday

BALTIMORE, May 12 (AP) — Don't be surprised if Capot is made the betting favorite over Ponder, the Kentucky Derby winner, in the $75,000-added Preakness Saturday at Pimlico.

That was what the wise birds were saying today in Baltimore.

Why? Well, for a number of reasons. Capot, the Greentree stable galloper which grabbed second in the Derby, has shown Marylanders a lot of horse in his two seasons of racing.

Sets Track Record

The son of Menow set a track record for a mile and one sixteenth last fall at Pimlico—a track he definitely goes for. Capot toured the route in a sizzling 1:42 3-5 only to be disqualified for bumping Slam Bang in the stretch drive.

A week later he won the Pimlico Futurity at the same distance and walloped Slam Bang by four lengths.

A month ago at Havre De Grace, Md., the Greentree galloper nosed out Slam Bang in the Chesapeake stakes after a furious stretch duel. Capot showed he wouldn't quit in that one, also a mile and one-sixteenth. The Preakness is a mile and three-sixteenths.

Then last week in the Derby, Capot blasted along just off the hot pace of Olympia, killed him off and was out on top a sixteenth of a mile from home in the mile and one-quarter run. Capot was leading at the Preakness distance, but Calumet farm's Ponder came from far back and had enough left to pass them all in the dash to the wire.

That doesn't prove Capot will win the Preakness black-eyed-susans, although a lot of horse players hereabouts are willing to bet he'll make the grade in this second number of America's triple crown for three-year-olds.

All Capot has to do to put Greentree in the Preakness winners' circle is beat Pondor, Isidor Bieber's Palestinian, Crispin Oglebay's Noble Impulse, King Ranch's Curandero, Mrs. E. H. Ellison, jr.'s Sun Bahram, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Model Cadet, Clifford Mooers' Old Rockport, and Christiana stable's Parliament—if he runs.

That could be quite a task, too, favorite or no favorite.

Selection Of Boys Club Teams Starts

Selection of teams in the two leagues of the Boys club coaching school will begin today at the meeting of the youngsters at Boys club diamond.

Two leagues for the boys enrolled at the Boys club baseball school will be held this year, and selection of the teams will begin at the meeting at 4 p.m. today at Boys club.

Six teams will be formed from among the 9-year-old entries, and the boys 10-11 will also have a league of six teams. Previously only one six-team league was to be formed, but 328 boys registered for the school which began Monday, and this would have eliminated approximately 200 of them.

Names of the two leagues have been announced as Pee Wees for the older group and Pygmies for the younger boys.

The job of selecting teams today will be a big problem because of the large number of boys, but both leagues will probably begin play Monday, May 16, at the Boys club diamond.

For the remainder of the school year two games will be played at Boys club after school, but in the summer three games will be played each day.

Dusette Cops Mat Feature

The main event at Sled Allen's wrestling arena last night went three falls as George Dusette took the measure of Alex Kasaboski.

After a very rough and tumble first fall Dusette caught his Russian opponent with a very punishing full nelson after 15 minutes of wrestling.

But Kasaboski came back in the second and stopped Dusette with a leg bend. The final fall and the match went to Dusette in five minutes with another full nelson.

Balk Estes hurt his leg in the second fall of his match with Rod Fenton and was unable to continue the bout in which Fenton was declared the winner.

After taking the first fall in 13 minutes with an alligator clutch after a tough fight, Estes lost the match in the second. Both grapplers were knocked out of the ring in the second setto, and Estes' injury came as he was coming back into the ring, getting his leg caught in the ropes. Fenton won the fall in 12 minutes, and took the match as a result of the injury.

The preliminary match between Jack Pappenheim and Arturo Ruiz set the stage for the two matches following. Pappenheim won the one fall bout in 14 minutes with an inside stepover toehold.

Albuquerque Woman Is Meet Medalist

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 12 (AP)—Mrs. William Glantz of Albuquerque, who as Jean Bauer was formerly a ranking golfer in the east, shot an 86 to become medalist yesterday in the women's southwestern golf tournament.

Mrs. C. D. Lee of El Paso, Tex., was a close second with 87. Mrs. Mart Boswell of Roswell, New Mexico state champion, carded 89, followed by defending champion Mrs. Sam O'Neal of Odessa, Tex., with 90.

San Antonio Drops Tilt With Indians

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

A couple of weeks ago they were feeling sorry for the downtrodden Oklahoma City Indians.

But the smiles of scorn have turned to furrows of worry. Lo the poor Indians have turned on their tormentors and are moving like a prairie fire along the Texas league trial.

Last night the San Antonio Missions bit the dust for the fourth straight time from the Redskins' little bows and arrows. The score was 10-7.

Dallas Eagles Lose

The leading Dallas Eagles took another licking. They're rather scarce and the war clubs of the $125,000 ball club continue to roar. But last night they weren't soon enough and Shreveport's early inning splurges stood up, the sports won, 8-6.

In other games Tulsa nosed out Houston, 7-6, and Fort Worth strapped Beaumont, 7-3.

Oklahoma City scored seven runs in the seventh inning, with a home run with the bases filled by Ransom Jackson featuring the splurge.

For seven and a third innings Warren Hacker pitched one-hit for Shreveport, then the roof caved in. It required Hank Wyse and Gerald Fahr before Dallas' last-ditch drive could be halted.

Carl Erskine twirled a five-hitter as Fort Worth trimmed Beaumont.

Johnny Lane was again the hero as Tulsa nicked Houston. He stole home for the deciding tally Tuesda ynight and last night walked and got the clincher on Fletcher Robbe's double in the ninth.

The clubs change stands tonight with Houston at Oklahoma City, San Antonio at Tulsa, Beaumont at Dallas and Shreveport at Fort Worth.

Ford Resumes Peace Talks

DETROIT, May 12 (AP) — Peace talks in the Ford strike moved into their third day today as the company's idle employes approached 100,000.

With 90,000 already off the job, there was a possibility that Ford's entire production force of 106,000 might soon be affected.

Expert Is Heard

The CIO United Auto Workers' "speed-up" strike of 65,000 men began one week ago today.

For today's negotiations Ford pulled in another production expert as the company and union tried to square their difference in the operations rate dispute.

He was Del S. Harder, vice-president in charge of manufacturing operations.

After yesterday's talks Ford admitted that its "peace offensive" was having less success than had been hoped for it.

To Attend Meeting

"But we are plugging along," said John S. Bugas, head of the company's negotiators.

Meanwhile UAW President Walter Reuther intended to skip today's meeting in order to keep an engagement with CIO President Phil Murray in Pittsburgh.

The UAW did not disclose the purpose of Reuther's trip. However, a union source said the meeting had been arranged prior to the Ford strike and would not necessarily concern it.

Blockade Lifted

down ending the blockade, and the Allied counterblockade. There was a general display of good will and smiling readiness to cut red tape.

But the Western Allies were taking nothing for granted. Their airlift, which had made the blockade a useless Soviet weapon by flying in the food, fuel and raw materials needed by West Berlin's 2,000,000 residents, continued flying. It is to continue at least 30 days, building a stockpile of supplies and giving a chance to really sound out Russian intentions. Today's flights kept supplies coming in at about a 500-ton per hour level.

Allied military trains, followed by food and fuel trains, were the first into Berlin after the barriers went down one minute after midnight. Foreign correspondents, racing down Hitler's famous superhighway, were the first into Berlin from the west

The vehicles had a big send-off at the old barrier points, which had been cleared of steel and concrete obstructions by work crews. There were cheering crowds, special lightning for the camera men, and a big display of the black, red and gold colors of the new West German government. The trains were plastered with placarded slogans.

More Food Seen

The people, who had been slow to respond for days, really got into the mood. End of the blockade means for them the promise of fresh foods instead of the dehydrated stuffs the airlift had supplied them. It means more fuel, enough electric lights in their homes and an end of the street blackouts which the blockade caused. It means that they can move between the east and west sectors of Berlin, free again from the danger of molestation by the police. It means a sense of security they have not felt for the better part of a year.

The political splitting of the city between east and west remained as deep as ever, however. Each still has its own police force, city government, fire department and other services.

So they closed the schools today, business houses planned to suspend work early, and the people thumped each other and swapped congratulations in public and informal gatherings.

Trucks Are Halted

The first Allied train into Berlin was halted only four minutes to get its clearance from the Russians. The Russian army officers did not even step aboard, or ask for identification papers of the passengers. They asked only for assurances that it carried no Germans, other than the train-crew, which it did not

As the day wore on rail and highway traffic was reported moving "without incident." Included was the first post-blockade interzonal passenger bus, garlanded with evergreens and carrying 22 passengers.

The whole program went off with only two hitches, neither considered very serious as of now. The Russians insisted that Soviet-owned locomotives pull the trains. This the Allies agreed to, subject to appeal to higher authority.

For hours Soviet guards refused to permit German trucks bound from Berlin to West Germany to pass their lines without licenses from the Soviet controlled East German administration or the Soviet military government. Finally, however, the Russian officer at the clearing post left and the German police he had commanded waved the German drivers through, without explaining the reasons for the change of attitude.

Travelers who have passed through Russian control points unanimously said they had been treated courteously, and that the Russian soldiers on duty seemed in affable mood.

DEMAND IS LUKEWARM

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Lukewarm demand was enough to keep the stock market on a forward slant today.

Final prices showed advances of fractions to around a point.

Turnover was around 800,000 shares.

Higher prices were paid most of the day for Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, U. Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Cotton futures reacted sharply today under liquidating and hedging pressure. This more than offset short covering in nearby May and buying against export business.

Sentiment that the expiration of the nearby May contracts Friday will bring new crop developments into the market as a more dominant influence caused some selling.

Futures closed 35 cents to $1.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

lars. The administration originally estimated the deficit at between six hundred and seven hundred millions.

This fiscal year is the 12 months ending next July 1.

He was asked if he anticipates any change in his recommendation for the four billion dollar increase.

He said he did not anticipate any change and that the government ought to retire from two to five billion each year.

The national debt reached a high point of $278,400,000,000 in February 1946.

Senate Passes Law Docking Officials On Notice Slipups

AUSTIN, May 12. (U.P.)—Members of the Senate today passed a law docking public officials one month's salary if they fail to publish legal notices.

The measure was sponsored by Sen. James E. Taylor of Kerens and was included on a docket of 85 bills and seven resolutions passed by the upper chamber. Virtually all of the measures were either local or uncontested proposals.

Present Law Tightened

Taylor's bill would tighten present provisions of the law covering publication of legal notices. Failure to publish the notice would mean that the official making the slip-up would forfeit his salary for that month.

"Wilful continuance" of failure to publish the notices could mean the official's removal from office. Prosecution of the law would be left in the hands of the county or district attorney.

Labor Bills

bers have been split at least a half-dozen ways on what to do about raising the minimum wage and writing a new labor law.

Some have insisted on reviving the Wagner act, putting through a 75-cent minimum wage, and broadening the wage-hour law. That is just about what the administration has asked.

Others want to keep most or all of the Taft-Hartley law, raise the minimum little, if at all, and leave the wage-hour law pretty much alone. The remaining Democrats have been between those extremes.

Proposals Cited

House committee members considering minimum wage and Taft-Hartley repeal action have offered at least three proposals on each issue.

The administration has asked replacement of the Taft-Hartley law by a modified Wagner act, a boost in the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75, and some extension of the wage-hour law's coverage. Lesinski has offered bills covering all but the wage-hour request.

Rep. Wood is a sponsor of a bill to retain most of the Taft-Hartley law, except in name. Lucas has introduced a minimum wage bill which would keep the coverage unchanged and set a new flexible minimum beginning at 65 cents.

Rep. Sims (D-SC) has offered compromise proposals on each issue. His labor bill would re-enact the Wagner act, but with several Taft-Hartley features, including the 80-day injunctions in national emergency disputes. His wage bill would put the minimum up to 60 cents at once, 65 cents after a year, and 75 cents six years later.

er, Ga., about 20 miles south of here.

The latest victims said they had just arrived at the Little Holiness church and services had begun when the masked men appeared.

They gave this account:

The hooded intruders walked around the church twice, firing shots into the air, and then marched into the building. They ordered Blair, the Ferguson brothers and several young boys to come outside. Then they went to work with the blackjacks.

One of the hooded men finally protested. "Leave the little boys alone," he said. The beating stopped and the boys were marched back inside.

Then the men left the church and stopped a truck in which the two Allisons and Beaver were riding.

One of the masked men accused Beaver of "not looking after his family properly."

The three men said they were then ordered from the truck and severely beaten.

line. If we don't, this (amendment) will break the dam . . . and open the gates to a flood of amendments to increase other appropriations," he warned.

The House recessed until 2:30 p. m.

Consideration of the college bill —another of the big money measures that must be finally acted on before the legislature can end its session—followed yesterday's passage of the departmental appropriations bill.

The House trimmed the departmental bill from 50 million to 49 million dollars and finally approved it last night, 124 to 8.

Man Says He Killed Friend Accidentally

CHICAGO, May 12. (AP)—An unemployed packinghouse worker today awaited police investigation of his tale of killing a friend accidentally and burying his body in a backyard grave.

Police identified the man as Joseph Goslawski, 41, who is being held without charge. Sgt. Joseph Connors said he gave this account:

On May 3 Goslawski and his friend, Joseph Lewandowski, 41, also an unemployed packinghouse worker, bought a bottle of wine apiece. They returned to Goslawski's home.

In a passageway beside the house, Goslawski showed Lewandowski a .38 caliber revolver. A shot was fired. Lewandowski dropped.

Goslawski took the body and burried it. He did not report it earlier because he had served a term in Joliet penitentiary in 1928 for robbery.

His niece, Betty Goslawski, 18, accompanied him to the police station. He made an oral statement.

pearance and Scotland Yard detectives were waiting for the Batory to dock at Southampton.

Eisler has admitted being a Communist, but denied being the No. 1 Red in this country — as alleged before the House committee on un-American activities.

The U. S. court of appeals in Washington refused recently to upset his conviction on a charge of concealing Communist connections in an application for a permit to leave the country. The conviction on that charge brought a sentence of one to three years.

For several months he has had an appeal pending before the U. S. supreme court from a sentence of one year and a $1,000 fine. The penalties were imposed on a conviction of contempt of Congress growing out of his refusal to be sworn as a witness before the House un-American activities committee.

ent situation making for stability and progress on a high income, high-employment level," Snyder insisted:

"We are only at the beginning of our peacetime growth.

"We have made a start only toward developing new products based on wartime discoveries in new materials, new manufacturing techniques, and new types of equipment.

U. S. Spending Opposed

"One wartime development alone — atomic energy — could revolutionize our economic life within a relatively few years."

Raymond Moley, onetime New Deal "braintruster" who is now a (Newsweek) magazine writer, declared that "the federal government is completely out of financial control."

"The present pace of expenditures cannot go on into a period of smaller business volume without grave danger," he said in a talk prepared for the bank convention.

"We have, on every side, evidence of a slight but not dangerous decline in business activity," he added. "I think it is a fair assumption that we shall have a decline of somewhere between five and ten per cent in our national income during the fiscal year 1950."

Moley warned that such a drop would bring an even greater drop in federal tax collections during the year beginning July 1, making reduced spending necessary if the budget is to be balanced.

cil also passed a walloping ordinance that, among other things, requires trains to slow down to 15 miles per hour within city limits, employ a flag man at every crossing, limit obstruction of crossings by trains to five-minute periods and provides for regular inspection of train toilets by the city health officer.

Mayor Arranged It

The railroad isn't saying much about its plans—present or future. But it knows this ordinance won't stop the trains completely all the time.

Well, how are they going to stop the train tomorrow?

There'll be a passenger board at Fort Worth, bound for Electra. It has to stop to let him off. How do folks at Electra know this? Mayor Moore arranged it.

Arch S. Underwood Named As Director Of Insurance Body

Announcement of the election of Arch S. Underwood, president of the Texas Compress and Warehouse company, Lubbock, as a director, and reading of the association's annual report by its president, A. F. Allen, Dallas, featured a policyholders luncheon of the Texas Employers' Insurance association at the Hilton hotel today noon.

D. D. Redman, vice president, presided at the luncheon, attended by approximately 150 policyholders. W. A. (Bill) Black, manager of the Lubbock office, was official host.

In his report, Allen pointed out that earned premiums of the Texas Employers' Insurance association increased $4,176,277.96 during 1948 to reach an all-time high of $14,146,666.58. Net income for the year, after providing for incurred losses, operating expenses and taxes, amounted to $3,081,676.92. Dividends paid to policyholders during 1948 on their 1947 earned premiums, plus guaranteed cost discounts deducted for 1948 premiums, amounted to $2,666,105.12. Assets increased from $10,638,023.21 in 1947 to $12,823,650.64 in 1948.

San Antonio Favored In City Track Meet

SAN ANTONIO, May 12. (AP)—Houston high schools may win more first in the City conference track and field meet tomorrow, but not the title.

San Antonio's well-rounded entries apparently have the strength in nthe proper places.

On the basis of times in the regional meets, Houston schools can be expected to win five first places and share one.

Continuing in this vein, Dallas has only two first coming, San Antonio three and one-half and Fort Worth two and two ties.

Preliminaries in the one-day meet get underway at 9:30 a. m. finals start at 7:30 p. m.

Fort Worth's expected two first places stem from Darrow Hooper. The big North Side schoolboy holds the national interscholastic shot put record and recently bettered the national discus mark.

And his winning high jump in the Fort Worth regional meet was only an inch less than the six feet, 1½ inches leaped by Johnny Jeannes of Milby (Houston). Jeanes is the favorite in this event.

Boy Who 'Died' For 10 Minutes Improved

PASADENA, Calif., May 12 (AP)—The four-year-old boy who stopped breathing for 10 minutes after an auto accident last Saturday is "much improved" and has spoken his first word since the mishap.

X-rays taken Wednesday at Huntington Memorial hospital disclosed that Larry Page had not suffered a skull fracture as had been feared. However, his right elbow, wrist and left leg were fractured and he suffered extreme concussion and shock.

His father, Francis M. Page, Mojave, Calif., held a toy for the child to see and asked whose it was.

"Larry's," the boy replied feebly.

Larry was revived by an injection of coramine, a heart stimulant, and artificial respiration.

Morticians Choose Dallas For Meeting

GALVESTON, Tex., May 12 (AP)—Dallas will be the site of the 1950 convention of the Texas Funeral Directors and Embalmers association.

The group picked Dallas Wednesday, the same day they named Romney Rudolph of Waxahachie president.

The convention ends today.

Dale Broussard of Beaumont and J. B. Ashcraft of Harlingen were elected first and second vice-presidents, respectively. Leroy Rader of Kilgore was named secretary-treasurer.

New directors are W. O. Wylie, Baird; Joe Levy, Galveston; Howard Maxin, El Paso; W. O. Springer, Jasper; Jack Lemons, Plainview; Roy Akers, San Antonio and Boyd Dillion, Clearview.

Holdover directors are Ashcraft; Martin Blomquist, Austin, Lester Callaway, Houston; Pete Dunne, Corpus Christi; John Mundy, Dallas, and Elwyn Gipson, Lufkin.

Suspension Of Air Service Is Banned

WASHINGTON, May 12. (AP)—American Airlines' applications to suspend service temporarily at Abilene, Tex., and Jackson, Mich., for safety reasons have been denied by the Civil Aeronautics board.

The CAB action came yesterday —over a month since the stops at both points actually were stopped April 1. American then substituted new Convairs for DC-3 planes on both routes involved.

Airport facilities at the two points were inadequate for safe handling of the big Convairs, the airline contended.

Removal Of Plants From Japan Halted

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP) The United States today ordered a halt in further removals of Japanese plants as war reparations.

Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, the American representative, told the 11-nation far eastern commission that even industrial plants classed as "primary war facilities" are needed by Japan to hasten its economic recovery.

The deliveries ordered halted were advance deliveries of plants and equipments which the commission already had earmarked for removal.

McCoy informed the commission the United States is convinced that there should be no ceiling on Japanese production for peaceful purposes.

Position of the ship, owned by Otto Kinlstrom of Goeteborg, Sweden, kas given as 330 miles northeast of the Barbados islands.

The Coast Guard said the ship was en route to Trinidad from Goeteborg.

An Italian ship, the S S. Foscolo, also was said to be proceeding to the scene, the Coast Guard said.

Whether there were any casualties was not known.

The Coast Guard said static blanked out some of the distress messages from the ship.

Marshall, Paris Are Deadlocked For Lead

(By The Associated Press)

There were some changes last night in the East Texas league but it didn't concern the two leaders—Marshall and Paris.

The Browns and Panthers remained deadlocked for the top. Marshall beat Kilgore, 13-6, and Paris downed Henderson, 6-3.

Tyler plumped down to fifth place by losing to Gladewater, 11-5, and Longview moved into third with a 14-0 blasting of Bryan.

Ray Edwards held Henderson to five hits in Paris' victory, with Stan Bartowski clubbing a three-run homer for Paris.

George Riegel pitched a six-hitter in Longview's whitewashing of Bryan.

L. D. Meyer and Vernon Washington clouted homers in a 11-hit Gladewater attack.

Use the leftover scraps by cutting them out with a cooky cutter and sprinkling with finely ground nuts and sugar and cinnamon. Or cut in strips and sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika for cheese straws.

First U. S. Train To Berlin Since Blockade Is Late

BERLIN, May 12 (AP)—The first post-blockade American train to Berlin arrived at 9:40 a. m. (2:40 a. m. EST), three hours late.

Train commander Lieut. William F. Vanderpoel of Wichita Kansas, declined immediate comment on the reason for the delay.

Passengers said they had been told by other train officials the Russians held the nine-car train for two hours contending the allies scheduled only one train for the initial trip.

The said, however, once the train got under way the Russians did not bother it and most of the passengers slept through the Soviet check.

Germans Cheer

Only a few spectators were on hand at Berlin's Lichterfiede west station to greet the train which carried fewer than 20 passengers —most of them soldiers.

Paul Luteier, Detroit, Mich., said:

"The most impressive thing was people we saw waving along the track. The Germans gathered round at Magdeburg and cheered us."

Others who made the trip included Mrs. D C. Foote, Baltimore, Md., with her 16-year-old son, Paul. He was disappointed because he saw no Russians.

Among the military passengers was Maj. Joseph E. Chavez, Albuquerque, New Mexico. He plans to spend only one day in Berlin.

Bootlegging disposition.

So, as another club for the campaign his organization is making to follow public mandate and cripple bootlegging in the section, Poplin informed the federals what allegedly was happening, and they stepped in. Federal authorities do not recognize third party rights.

The distinction is explained thus: Suppose a bootlegger is caught using his car in delivering alcoholics he has sold.

An investigator of the Alcohol Tax unit enters the case and confiscates the car. He files a case report against the car. The owner can come into court and defend his rights, but no third party such as a finance company that holds a lien against the machine has a Chinaman's chance. The finance company loses every cent it has "in the car" when the government confiscates the machine.

In state court it is different. The lienholder has to be paid.

Other cars confiscated, according to Thomas W. Noe, Amarillo investigator of the ATU, and Poplin were: A 1941 Chrysler, a 1941 Ford, a 1947 Chrysler, and a 1947 Chevrolet.

The complaints were sworn to by William A. Deen, ATU agent.

Dallas Bandits

front door and asked to see him.

McDaniel said he walked out on the front porch and one tall bandit said that he was interested in building a filling station and wanted to "make a deal."

"See me at my office," McDaniel told the tall man. "I handle all business there."

Careful With Family

But the men pulled blue steel revolvers and ordered McDaniel back into the house, saying, "we know you keep as much as $25,000 in a floor safe here. We want it.

The bandits then "considerately" taped the family—Mrs. McDaniel, and daughters, Sue 11; Marcia 6; and Cheryl, 4—"being careful not to hurt anyone."

Ordering McDaniel to show them where the safe was hidden in the floor, the bandits told him to open it. They took cash, a ring, and $1,900 in war bonds and went out a rear door after taping McDaniel, leaving him trussed along with the other members of his family.

In a few minutes, McDaniel worked himself free and telephoned police. The bandits, before fleeing, pulled the cords loose from a living room telephone, but failed to see another in the kitchen. McDaniel called police on this telephone.

Fire In Basement Of Bank Extinguished

HOUSTON, May 12. (U.P.) — A fire in the basement of the Second National bank building here was extinguished early today in 20 minutes.

The blaze was discovered by nightwatchman J. H. Walton around 5 a. m. Firemen said twenty burlap bags of trash had ignited, apparently from a cigaret.

Smoke damage to the basement and first floor was slight, bank officials said.

Offenses Are Reported Here

Theft of an automobile from the lot of Calvert Motor company, at 1200-block Nineteenth, had been reported this morning, police said.

It was described as a black 1939 Chevrolet two-door, license AN 8177.

Sheriff Ted Andrews of Hale county informed the sheriff's department that 50 laying hens — some white with black spots, others red—had been stolen there.

Aliens Deported

The sheriff's office here said 12 "wetback" Mexican nationals had been removed from jail and started on the long trip back to their homeland. They were attempting to remain in this country illegally, it was charged. Immigration border patrolmen of the Lubbock office said the aliens would enter Mexico at Presidio.

Sheriff Bert Stephens of Ventura, Calif., arrived here to accept custody of Santos Romo, 58, a Ventura Mexican who had been arrested by Lubbock police April 26 for California officials on a grand theft charge. A fugitive complaint had been filed against him in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, alleging the California charge.

Youth Released

Police detectives said they had released a 19-year-old youth of 1900-block Thirteenth after parents of a girl, about 11, had declined to sign an aggravated assault complaint against him.

Police reports said the youth had been accused of having taken indecent liberties with the girl on a bus. They said the child told her parents she left the bus when she unsuccessfully sought to have the youth desist.

The mother said the youth also left the bus and followed the child, on the opposite side of the street. She said she and the girl got in a car and passed the suspect, who began running when he saw he was followed. The girl, police were told by the mother, identified him, then was sent running back to her house for her father.

Parents Intervene

The father stopped the youth in an alley in 1300-block Twenty-sixth. The suspect gave a fictitious name and address, police said. Eventually, under questioning at the station, he admitted his identity and his address, and said he had sat by the girl on a bus, police reports further said.

Parents of the girl, at first asking police assistance, later declined to press a charge at the entreaty of the youth's parents, detectives said.

Mrs. Jim Cummings, of 2623 Ruby, reported theft of a $30 bike from her residence—the second time within a week the vehicle has been stolen. It was recovered after the first theft was reported to police Friday.

Prize Heifers Sold In Hotel Ballroom

INDIANAPOLIS, May 12 (AP)—Twenty prize heifers took over the ballroom of the Antlers hotel last night at the banquet of the Ayrshire Breeders association.

The calves were taken up in an elevator, ridden around the ballroom on a special platform and were auctioned off after dinner.

Top price of $1,100 was paid by Byron Fisher of Meade, Kas., for Neshaminy Headline, owned by L. M. Hutchinson of Mt. Union, Pa.

Edward and Marjorie Churchill of Bethel, Conn., paid $1,075 for Windrow Golden Dorothy II, owned by Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors Corp., and his son, Edward E. Wilson of Oxford, Mich.

A heifer donated by the Wilsons for the benefit of the Damon Runyon cancer fund brought $430.

French Bride Prays For Call From Husband Who Doesn't Want Her To Watch Him Die

NEW ORLEANS May 12 (U.P.)—A pretty French bride sat alone by her telephone today, praying for a call from her husband who left home because he couldn't stand to have her watch him die.

"Wherever he is I pray he will call me," Mrs. George Higgins sobbed. "That is the only way I'll find him. I don't know where to look."

Higgins, a merchant marine radio operator who married the French girl last July in Marseilles, disappeared last Thursday. But his wife didn't know until yesterday what had driven him away from her.

Doomed By TB

Yesterday she found out when she received a shocking special delivery letter from him. Higgins wrote that doctors had told him he was suffering from an advanced stage of tuberculosis and could not live more than a year.

"So I am leaving you this way before you get sick from me," he wrote. "I don't want you to watch me slowly die."

"This is the hardest thing I have ever had to do," the letter continued. "My darling, I am not afraid to die, but to lose you will drive me crazy."

The blue-eyed bride said she returned here Saturday from a visit to Galveston, Tex., where she stayed with a girl friend from her native Lyons, France. "I know something was wrong when George didn't meet my plane," she said.

Went To Alabama

She found their apartment empty. When her husband failed to return next day she called his brother in Georgia but the brother had not seen Higgins.

Then she decided to go to her husband's former home in a small town near Birmingham, Ala. There her husband's parents told her sadly that he had "just left to go somewhere out west." They said he wouldn't tell them any more than that.

So she came back home, still not believing that her husband would leave her without an explanation. When she got here she found an envelope containing $200, but no message.

Yesterday, the jolting letter arrived.

"Now I don't know what to do," she said today. 'All I can do is pray he will come back to me. He needs me so much now."

Production Opened In Scurry County As Wildcat Completed

Strawn - Pennsylvanian production has been opened in the area immediately east of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county by the official completion of J. L. Collins No. 1 G. E. Parks, wildcat eight miles north of Snyder.

Flowing 24 hours through a one-half-inch choke, the well made a potential test gauge of 512 barrels of 41.6-gravity oil, natural with no water. Gas-oil ration was estimated as 640-1.

Total depth was 7,322 feet, with packer at 7,313 feet. Production was from open hole. Tubing pressure was 175 pounds and casing pressure, 575 pounds.

Tests Fail

This strike is 330 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

This strike is 330 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey.

Attempts to drillstem test in the northwest Gaines county Devonian have failed at Pacific Western Oil corporation No. 1 Oil Development, deep wildcat between the Seminole and Russell fields.

Bottomed on 11,535 feet, the venture tried to secure several tests but was unable to get the test tool on bottom. It is due to drill ahead before atempting another test.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 315, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey.

Hiawatha Oil & Gas company No. 1 Wilson, possible discovery from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in an undeveloped region of southwest Scurry county, between the Diamond M and the Sharon Ridge-Canyon fields, has set a string of 5½-inch casing at 6,745 feet, with 500 sacks of cement. Total depth is 6,761 feet.

Drilling In Few Days

Operator will drill the plug in a few days and try to complete a commercial oil well from the open hole section. That zone developed 180 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 6,200 feet of pipe line oil in a one hour drillstem test before the pipe was run.

The prospect is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey, and about 12 miles southwest of Snyder.

Magnolia No. 1 Eicke, central Scurry county wildcast, four miles west of Snyder, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey, kicked off without swabbing from perforated section between 6,715 feet and the total depth at 6,778 feet, in Canyon lime.

It flowed out 30 barrels of load oil and then flowed 11 barrels of new oil in four hours, and died. Operator was to swab to try to kick the well off to flowing again. The development is expected to be completed shortly as a producer and an extender for the Canyon lime pay.

Survey Taken

Magnolia No. 18-B Cowden, wildcat two miles east and a little south of the Dollarhide field in southwest Andrews county, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey, is bottomed at 11,244 feet in lime.

The development, which has shown for the discovery of commercial production from both the Devonian and from the Fuselman section of the Silurian, has taken a Schlumberger survey and is to now run and cement 7-inch casing to complete.

Operator has not revealed which pay will be produced, or whether or not dual-completion is planned for the new field opener.

A deep lime formation thought to be upper Ellenburger has made water at Stanolind No. 15 American Warehouse, wildcat in the Cedar Lake area of Northeast Gaines County.

Drillstem Test Run

A two-hour drillstem test was run at 12,988-13,053 feet, using a 1,800-foot water blanket. Recovery was 9,429 feet of sulphur water, with no signs of oil or gas.

The venture was drilling ahead under 13,120 feet in lime. It is due to make another 100 feet of hole, then operator probably will plug back for testing of the Devonian. That horizon indicated a 'discovery when penetrated.

Location is 1,650 feet from south an deast lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

First All-Make Auto Show In Eight Years Opens; Salesmen Ready To Ring Doorbells

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Time flies, and now what do you suppose?

Your auto dealer is about to start ringing doorbells and asking if you would like delivery on a new car? And cauld you maybe wait until, say, 4 o'clock this afternoon?

At nearby Silver Spring, Md., the first all-make auto show in the country in eight years is opening.

Portholes On Sides

There, in all their shining glory are 40 new cars of 25 leading makes—about $100,000 worth of automobiles. And beside each stood a dealer or a salesman. Some fellows were whooping it up for new machines with "ventiports" or portholes on the sides. Some for all-steel station wagons. Cars three inches shorter. Lower, wider and roomier, with 22.8 per cent more glass in the sedans. Front seats three inches wider and back seats that boast three inches more leg room. More head room fore and aft. A larger trunk. A tail light that combines stop light, tail light, directional signal, and reflector.

The crowd attending the show stood with jaws agape at the big new Buicks, Chryslers, Cadillacs, Lincolns, Packards, Hudsons and Oldsmobiles, among others.

Midgets The Darlings

But the darlings of the parade of expensive steel and plus were the midgets. Foreign-made Hillmans, Morris's, Austins and M. G.'s., plus the tiny American-made Crosley.

Jack Pry, a local dealer who wouldn't be caught dead in a full grown car, was on hand with all his lieutenants to tell the folks about the little ones.

He had something nice to say about all of them. The 30-odd miles you get in most of 'em on a gallon of fuel in traffic. The high speed four-clyinder motors. The little tires which cost less.

If you had a minute, Jack was willing to point out the finer things about a custom-built convertible among the midgets which would cost you only $4,000—if you could afford a second car in the family garage.

Austin Holds Records

Pry was particularly proud of some test made recently at the old brick speedway at Indianapolis, where the 500 mile Memorial day race will be run.

A British Austin convertible has become the first foreign automobile to hold U. S., stock car records. That little speed devil, he said, established 53 new distance and speed marks and broke 10 others records that have stood the test of 20 years.

It was an 88-horse-power Atlantic model. Three drivers took turns and drove continuously for an entire week, During that time they covered 11,850 miles at an average speed of 70.54 miles an hour.

A man came around about that time with the news that there were 3,000,000 more machines on the highways last year than the year before. And 4,000,000 more coming out in 1949.

Somehow that reminded me I had parked my own Austin under a mail box. I dug 'er out and hit it for home to beat the rush.

Friday 13th Found Safer For Drivers

CHICAGO, May 12 (AP)—Are you superstitious, or do you think superstition is a lot of bunk?

Well, the National Safety council made a survey to find out how superstitious people are about Friday the 13th. It was the only day-by-day check ever made by the council on motor vehicle deaths.

The result?

Friday the 13th was 17 per cent safer than the two Fridays preceding and the two Fridays after that date.

South Plains Farmer To Speak At Abilene

ABILENE, May 12- (Special)—F. O. Masten of Wellington and Sudan, whose farming operations rank among the largest in the country, will be the featured speaker at the annual banquet of the Aggie club of Abilene Christion college at 8 o'clock tonight.

Masten, who is co-chairman of the A.C.C. development fund, cultivates 16,000 acres of Panhandle farming land. He owns a 24,000 acre Panhandle ranch upon which oil has been discovered. His holdings are mostly in Cochran, Lamb and Collingsworth counties.

Heads National Group

He was declared Master Farmer of Texas in 1948, and was for two years president of Master Farmers of Texas. Upon being designated as National Master Farmer, he was named president of the organization composed of men who had earned that honor.

Masten farmed a small tract near Wellington until after 1926 when he won first place in a state wide "more cotton on fewer acres" contest conducted by the Dallas Morning News. By 1949 he was operating 8,000 acres. He has become nationally known for his pioneering in the use of power equipment.

He invented a guide with which tractors may be operated without drivers. This was featured in a national picture magazine several years ago which used a picture of more than a dozen tractors plowing side by side without drivers.

Hugh Greer, University of Connecticut basketball coach, once had a 67-game winning streak when he coached at Ellsworth high school.

'Riders In The Sky' May Gross $30,000

Odds Too High To Try Writing A Hit Song, Says Record Boss

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 12 (AP)—Write a hit song—and there's $30,000 to $35,000 in it for you.

"And everybody in America today seems to be trying to write a hit song except me," says Manie Sacks, the man behind many a disc jockey.

Manie knows better than to try. The odds are too high.

As head of artists and repertoire for Columbia records, Sacks selects the songs for a firm which mints some 53,000,000 phonograph records a year.

After a quarter century in the music industry, Manie, a small, sensitive-featured man of 43, is convinced there is no formula for turning out a hit tune.

Not A Sure Thing

"Anybody who tells you he can write a sure hit is as crazy as a guy who says he knows how a horse race is going to turn out."

Besides reviewing the grist submitted by professional song publishers, Manie and his assistants look over 100 to 150 songs by amateurs each week.

"Only one or two a year by unknown writers turn out to be worth recording," he said.

A current example is "Riders In The Sky," written by a western forest ranger and popularized by Burl Ives, the folk singer.

"The ranger ought to make $30,000 from it," said Manie. "Anyway he can quit looking for fires."

Sacks has noted a distinct change in the public's music tastes since the war.

"They aren't interested in loud music, jam sessions or any kind of music that plans away from the melody itself," he said.

No Chance For Be-Bop

"Be-bop hasn't a chance. It's a fad. I can't understand it, and I don't know anyone who can explain it and make sense."

The record market is in a slump and buyers are becoming more selective.

"They don't just want a record anymore," Manie grinned. "They want a production. Along with the dance band music they want singers or a choral group—at least some extra gimmick."

Today any record that sells to 250,000 customers is highly successful. Only five or six records a year make the real hit class—1,000,000 or more. And they last only four to six months at the top.

"One of the reasons the industry is off is that too many song writers are turning out tunes like they were hosiery or cigarets—on a mass production basis," said Sacks.

British Music Taste Now Only Mediocre

LONDON, May 12 (AP)—The public's taste for music has improved to the point of mediocrity says the British Broadcasting Corp. music chief Sir Steuart Wilson told the Royal Arts Society in London: "Very few people have any taste for music. A much wider circle of people have a certain amount of taste most of which is mediocre. The public taste has greatly improved, but the public must know its music."

Franz Shubert's "Unfinished Symphony," he said, gets only a small audience, but "a relatively unknown orchestral work goes up to second place in a poll because it is introduced into a Walt Disney film."

Reds Have Warning From U. S. Not To Try Tricks At Parley

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A big part of mankind, whicl. had stumbled into a ditch, picked itself up today, keeping a sharp eye out for booby traps, and started down a new road.

This happened in Germany where the Berlin blockade ended at midnight.

What was really lifted was the blockade on the peace hopes of the east and west.

We'll know more about that after the start of the May 23 meeting between the United States, Britain, Russia and France.

Reds Have Warning

Ever since word leaked out that Russia might lift the blockade, I've been reading everything I could find, looking for the reason.

This is a great experience and recommended reading—not for the exact information you'll get, but just to see how many people can be puzzled in print.

Yesterday, just before the blockade was lifted, Secretary of State Acheson said a few cold words about the meeting with Russia.

He said the Russians will get nowhere if they try to throw sand in the machinery the west has set up for bringing Germany back to life.

So, before the talks start, Russia has a warning not to try tricks. And we're still talking of arming western Europe, and probably will.

Both Sides Tough

This makes the Russians uneasy although they have made the west uneasy for a year with the Berlin blockade.

They've been tough, and we got tough, and there's nothing to show that either side has become less tough.

This ought to be enough to cool off anyone who has illusions that peace with Russia will come easily or at any price.

And since the Big Four talks ought to last quite a while, it will be some time before you know whether we all land in another ditch.

But at the moment, except for what's happening in China, the earth is comparatively quiet.

In Greece the Communists and government troops still take pot shots at one another.

Arabs Quit UN

And yesterday the Arab nations walked out of the United Nations when the new Jewish state of Israel was admitted as the 59th member.

Whether the Arab countries will stay in U. N. or stay out, is not known. Their delegates simply said when they left: "Wait and see."

In China, though, the Communists are still plugging ahead, their hearts set on all China. Peace there is remote.

Of course, that may have something to do with Russia's wanting to get along peacefully with the west, for a while, at least.

With half of Europe under Communism, all Russia, all Siberia, and all China more or less soon to be under Communism, the Russians may think they'll have their hands full for a while.

Some of the people who've been guessing about Russia's intentions guess that way. But this story could run on for a thousand words, stringing all the guesses together.

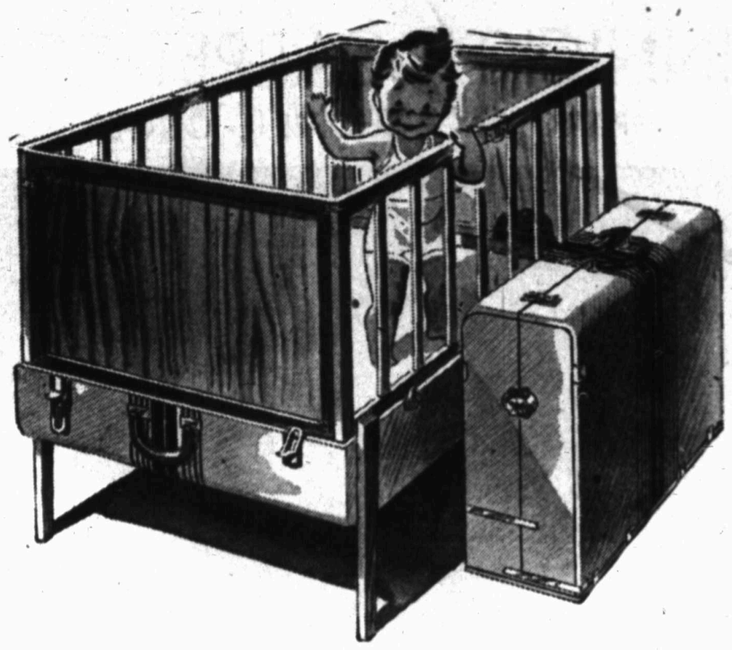

At this point, your guess is as good as mine, or somebody else's.

Stronger DDT Sought To Kill House Flies

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, May 12 — House flies around Auckland are getting tougher. Ten percent DDT spray does not worry them.

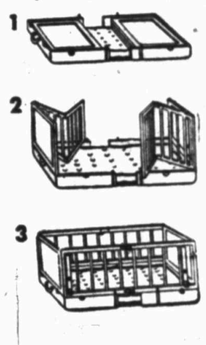

The Department of Scientific and Industrial Research is now trying to find out if stronger DDT will be effective against them.

It was noted in the United States recently that flies could develop strains resistant to DDT.

Major Expansion At Air Base Is Indicated

"Town Meeting" Is Held Here To Plan For Project Opening

The "logical possibility" that Lubbock Air Force Base eventually might rival in size and importance the Air Force's famous "West Point of the Air"—Randolph field, near San Antonio—was suggested to nearly 100 civic and business leaders here Wednesday afternoon.

The possibility was mentioned by Lt. Col. N. F. Stradleigh, project officer of the reactivating LAFB, in an impromptu talk before a "town meeting" sponsored by the chamber of commerce in the main ballroom of the Hilton hotel.

The meeting was called, according to Spencer A. Wells, chairman of the chamber's LAFB committee, to explain what has been done and what still remains to be done to get the wartime base back into operation—which is expected to be not later than the middle of or late autumn.

Work Progressing

The meat in the account of the meeting was that everything seems to be progressing splendidly toward the reactivation of the base, but that a great deal of work requiring the assistance of a great many civic minded citizens still remains to be done.

Most of the matters discussed already had been widely publicized and were familiar in some detail to those who attended the meeting.

The newest thoughts and ideas dealing with the general LAFB project were presented by Colonel Stradleigh, the last of several speakers on the program. Colonel Stradleigh arrived in Lubbock last week from Goodfellow field, San Angelo, to assume duties of project officer.

"I have been in the Air Force since 1924," he remarked. "Never have I seen people get behind any project like the people here have gotten behind LAFB."

Then mentioning several personal courtesies he has received since reporting for duty, he added: "I'm not accustomed to being treated like that; I never saw anything like it."

He emphasized repeatedly that he has no authority as yet to make commitments, enter into contracts or to hire anyone. He pointed out that a "permanent installation" such as LAFB, means, in Air Force terminology an "indefinite period." He stressed that he could express no more than a personal opinion as to how long the base might be in operation and as to the size and importance it may attain.

Large Base Indicated

"But I will say the indications are that it will be permanent and that there appears every logical possibility that it may become comparable in size and importance to such facilities as Randolph field."

It is his further unofficial expectation, he said, that improvements of the base are likely to involve "large scale construction" in the not-too-distant future.

While authorization is lacking now to let contracts, grant consessions and employ personnel, Colonel Stradleigh continued, he is accepting names of those interested in various of these possibilities.

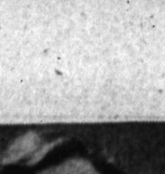

Those wanting to get their names on the lists in which they are interested, he suggested, can do so by calling at his office at the base between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on week days or by contacting him at the chamber of commerce in the city hall between 1 and 5 p.m. His telephone number at the base is 9144; the chamber's number is 4666.

As a personal schedule, he related, he attempts to spend the

THE QUESTION
Do you think the father has as much responsibility as the mother in supervising school work or school activities of children?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. PAUL SEAY, 2705 Edna, housewife: "Well, they do in a way, because it's hard for the mothers to do that unless the fathers cooperate. The father can help a lot by being winning for the mother to use her time that way. Lots of boys want their fathers to help, and by the father having more responsibility, it makes him more interested in school activities. They can cooperate in different ways. My husband helped me do the printing of the procedure book (of the Parent-Teacher association) at our school."

CLIFFORD YOUNGBLOOD, Lubbock resident until recently, partner in Orange City Bus lines; "I'd think they would, and more so if they were boys. I think the father would get better results, especially with boys when they get up in teen age, in making them get lessons and supervising their conduct."

MRS. R. A. DOWDEN, Lubbock route 7, housewife: "In some ways he does and in some ways he doesn't. Really, I think in some ways the mother has more responsibility. She has to see after the clothes. The mother has more time to take responsibility. She is free to attend school meetings and the father isn't. The fathers have to work so much. In supervising studies, they have equal rights and equal responsibilities."

MRS. FRED A. KELLY, 2809 N. N. Third, housewife: "Well, no, I don't, because most fathers work and make a living and they don't have time to take those responsibilities. Most mothers don't work for the public and therefore they have more time to spend in the school work."

J. D. HINSON, 2830 Twenty-fifth, owner of J. D. Hinson Appliance Co.: "No, I really don't. I believe the mother has more responsibility. They are around the children more. I think the father comes in after the children are older, in their higher education. In supervising home work, it is about a 50-50 proposition. It is at least in my home."

MRS. CURTIS CAMPBELL, 1105 Highland, housewife: "Well, I think they have the same right and privileges, but of course they don't have quite as much time as the mothers do. Most husbands are interested and want to take part. At least, mine does. He goes to P-TA as often as possible. I think they're all interested in the home study. Lots of times children ask questions and sometimes the father answers better than the mother."

Rent Control Fight Raging

AUSTIN, May 12 —The developing fight over the bill before the Texas legislature to decontrol rent on a statewide basis grew hotter yesterday.

Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston, the bill's author, said an Air Force general's request to the governor that Texas take it easy on such legislation was the result of pressure from Washington.

Moore said Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods was "back of the whole thing" and accused Washington officials of ordering military officers to influence legislature in Texas and other states.

The legislator's blase came after Gov. Beauford H. Jester's office released a letter from Maj. Gen. Robert W. Burns, deputy commanding general of the headquarters air training command, Barksdale Field, La.

Gen. Burns said decontrol of all Texas rents "would most seri-

1949 LA VENTANA DISTRIBUTED

Eight Beauties Are Announced At Tech

TEXAS Technological college's eight top beauties for 1949 were revealed Wednesday with the distribution of the 1949 La Ventana, student yearbook, at the college.

The eight were chosen from a group of 16 girls by Al Capp, cartoonist whose strip, "Li'l Abner" appears daily in The Lubbock Morning Avalanche. La Ventana editor Bob Williams of Lubbock said it was traditional not to reveal the identity of the top beauties until the year book was ready for distribution.

Girls who were named outstanding beauties were Mrs. Beverly Zelany, formerly Miss Beverly Besançon, of Lubbock; Miss Betty Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Miss Johneen Bice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Bice of Dimmitt; Miss Patti Jo Musson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Musson of Lubbock; Miss Mary Ann Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kelley of Colorado City; Mrs. Jack Waldrip of Lubbock, the former Miss Charlsa Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mann, jr., of Colorado City; Miss Peggy Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Hicks of Waco and Miss Shelley Furr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Furr of Lubbock.

The remaining eight girls chosen last fall by a board of 23 male college students included: Misses Joan Booth of Farwell; Bettye Colquitt of Wichita Falls; Joyce Borden of Mercury; Velma Cummings of Barstow; Jan Riley of Wichita Falls; Levora Manning of Amarillo; Glenna Winston of Brownfield and Barbara Williamson of Iraan.

Of the 16 girls, Mrs. Zelany and Misses Mann, Musson, Riley, Winston, Booth and Williamson were featured as beauties in the 1948 La Ventana. The eight top girls selected were featured with two full pages of pictures, one closeup pose and one full length shot.

The 1949 La Ventana contains 500 pages which is larger than any other annual that has ever been published at Tech. The five sections, administration, classes, features, organizations, and sports, are supplimented with many beautiful Kodachrome color pictures.

New Type Cover

The cover of the annual is finished in a new process called lamination, which produces a slick glossy finish. A color picture of the Administration building at the college is on the cover. Williams said this was the first time color had been used since 1942 for a La Ventana. The book cover is of black leatherette with the name in red lettering.

Another new feature of the year book is the departmental and student appendix which is found in the back of the volume. A poll was taken earlier in the year to determine what students desired in their annual and it was found that most of them preferred a good appendix in order that things could be easily found.

Robert Norman, senior arts and science student from Mineral Wells, has also added to the quality of the annual with his highly amusing sketches and cartoons on college life.

The 1949 La Ventana has been dedicated to Amon G. Carter, publisher of The Fort Worth Star-Telegram. The dedication reads, "To a man who is mainly responsible for the initial move to create Texas Technological college and who later became a member of its first board of directors and who is vitally interested in the development of Tech, giving generously of his time and money to further its growth."

The first section of the annual contains pictures of the major buildings on the campus. Also featured are the various campus

Houston Gamblers Facing Oblivion After Jury Session; Racing Wires Are Cut Off

HOUSTON, May 12 (U.P.)—Gaming establishments in Houston and Harris county were reportedly flirting with oblivion today, as word spread that the grand jury had issued stern orders to law enforcement officials.

Although testimony in the jury room is kept strictly secret, word of the jury's instructions made its way to the outside.

None of the top officers called before the jury yesterday would comment. District Attorney A. C. Winborn said nothing, and grand jury Foreman S. B. Houx followed suit.

Houston police Chief B. W. Payne, one of yesterday's witnesses, gave no tip either, but announced he was taking no extra precautions to see that gambling was halted.

"The wire service was cut off Friday," said Chief Payne. "It hasn't started since then, and I don't think it will be resumed."

(That was the first instance that the police chief has ever acknowledged that a wire service is piped in to Houston bookies.)

Spurred into action, gambling squad detectives raided an establishment yesterday afternoon and arrested seven men. All were charged with betting on horses, and posted bonds.

Telephones Are Used

The detectives said race results were coming in by telephone, and that the wire service was not in operation.

The grand jury was generally believed to still have a few trumps left in its investigation of Constable Dale Richardson of La Porte, whose anti-gambling raids here forced "back rooms" to lock up last Friday—the day before derby day.

Richardson, who allegedly dickered with Houston gamblers for a $100,000 bribe as the price for halting his wild law enforcement forays, rested meantime at his suburban home.

"I'll give the boys a rest for a while," he said, and announced he planned "to do some fishin'."

Bend An Eye, Ornithology Students, As Discovery For Encyclopedia Revealed

By ARTHUR EDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Good news, bird lovers. Science has just come up with another specimen of the spiny babbler.

If any of you have been holding your breath, waiting for another spiny babbler to be bagged, you now hold the breath-holding record. This is the first one caught in 106 years.

The spiny babbler, as doubtless all nature lovers know, lives in Nepal, in the Himalayan mountains.

Four Specimens Before

The National Georgaphic society today proudly announced that an expedition has returned from Nepal, and it considers the spiny babbler one of its prizes.

Only four specimens of the bird existed previously. There are in the British museum. It had the fourth one, too, until it swapped it to the New York meseum of natural history. Spiny babbler No. 5 will go to the Smithsonian Institution here.

This spiny babbler was shot by the expedition leader, Dr. Dillon Ripley of Yale. He is the first ornithologist to see the bird alive in more than 100 years. Natives apparently don't count.

The bird is a noisy creature, about the size of a cardinal. It got its name because its upper plumage and breast feathers become spiny when worn.

Encyclopidia Not So Hot

Its nickname is acanthoptila nepalensis, but in spite of this Dr. Ripley believes it's a distant relative of our own mocking bird.

That about concludes today's lesson in ornithology—except that I would like to prove to you that you have improved your mind by reading this item.

I looked up the spiny babbler in the encyclopedia. There was knowing talk of the spiny squirrel, the spiny-tailed duck and the spiny tree rat. Not a word on the spiny babbler.

It's a great feeling, fellow students. We now know more than the Encyclopedia Brittanica.

Ball Goes Over Wall, Prisoners Run Home

PLYMOUTH, Mass., May 12 (AP)—A home run "drove" four prisoners out of the Plymouth house of correction Wednesday.

When a guard opened the gate to retrieve a ball that had been banged over the fence by a softball player, the prisoners dashed out. They were headed for the woods of Myles Standish reservation when last seen.

Sheriff Charles H. Robbins said the guard, Robert Woodward, was at a disadvantage because guards are not allowed to carry guns since the killing of a prisoner in an attempted break several years ago.

Valuable Prizes Are Slated At Palo Duro

CANYON, May 12 (Special) — Over $10,000 in prizes have been pledged to date to the Palo Duro Canyon Boosters club in connection with their summer-long treasure hunt which will start May 28 when Governor Beauford Jester cuts a ribbon to the entrance of the canyon.

The prizes will go to finders of lucky goldine coins. Ten thousand coins will be dropped from an airplane into the canyon during the opening ceremony. All coins ending in the number "seven"—a thousand coins—will be prize winners and each coin is a potential prize winner of supplemental grand prizes.

Top prizes include two all-expense paid eight-day vacations to Havana, Cuba via Braniff airways; 102 season passes to Amarillo Gold Sox home games in 1949; a diamond ring valued at $250 donated by Albert Meyer of the Mission Jewelry company; and two registered quarterhorses donated by Glenn L. Casey. One horse is 2-year-old "Casey's Beauty" who won third prize at the 1947 Tri-State Quarterhorse show. The other one-year-old filly is "Casey's Billy Red Fox," sired by "J. Billy Thomas," world's champion palomino stock horse for two consecutive years.

The Palo Duro "gold rush" is being held by the Boosters club to solicit membership and appropriate funds and gifts to advertise the Palo Duro canyon as a major tourist attraction throughout the country. Every person in this region is eligible. Members will pay $1 for membership cards.

Armed Forces Planning Rocket Range Across Caribbean Area

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The armed forces already are beginning preliminary work on the rocket testing range out across the Caribbean.

Legislation authorizing construction of the long range proving ground for guided missiles and providing $75,000,000 to get it under way was signed yesterday by President Truman.

Meanwhile, negotiations are proceeding with Britain for building technical observation stations in the Bahamas, along the route of the rockets.

Army, Navy Included

A small Air Force detachment of men has been sent to the Banana River air base, on the east coast of Florida, the spot picked for the proving ground's launching site. Another Army detachment will move into the station within a few months, with Navy ment following.

Commanding the Air Force group and presumably to be the first base commander at the launching site is Col. W. W. Millard, an Air Force officer. Col. Harold R. Turner, an Army ordnance expert presently stationed in Washington, has been ordered to Banana River as chief of the Army group and deputy commander for the Army. Similarly, a Navy deputy will be named when the sea service sends its contingent to the base.

5,000 Mile Range

While the rocket testing range will be under administration of the Air Force, the Navy and Army will share its use and help provide personnel.

The Air Force said that, with the $75,000,000 provided by Congress, the first 500 miles of the range could be in operation by July 1, 1951. However, it may be possible to begin firing smaller missiles even before that date.

Aimed generally in a southeasterly direction, the range can be extended to 5,000 miles distance if that range is needed as development of missiles progresses. (The range of the V-2 type rockets now being used experimentally is about 250 miles).

The Air Force estimates that the possible total cost of a range several thousand miles long might be about $200,000,000.

Impact Areas Considered

In addition to the construction of "telemetering stations" (radar and radio equipment for recording the passage of a missile and measurement of its speed, altitude, course and other factors) the United States hopes it will be possible to work out "impact areas." These would make it possible to recover some of the rockets for reading of instruments and studies of the effect of long range firing on their construction.

However, island areas—either owned or controlled by the United States or provided for by the current negotiations with Britain—would exist only for the first leg of a range extending southeast from Florida. Beyond the Bahamas, Puerto Rico and the West Indies is nothing but the open South Atlantic.

How Fish Arrived At Christoval Puzzling

SAN ANGELO, May 12 (AP) — Here's a fish story about one that didn't get away. But how did he get where he got caught?

A 2½-pound bass was caught at Christoval. The bass had a tag on the upper part of a gill, bearing the number 1107.

The closest fishing rodeos are the one here, in which numbers range from one to 150 and at Winters, where they go from 151 to 200. Austin and Brownwood sportsmen staged tagged fish rodeos last year.

But this tag was nearly overgrown with gristle, indicating it was a year or two old.

Can a fish swim up the Colorado river from Austin or down the Pecan Bayou to Brownwood, then up the Colorado, to Christoval, on the headwaters of the tributary South Concho around 300 miles away, by river-line?

MIDLAND, May 12 (AP)—Francis E. Buckley, 31, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., was found dead early last night near Midland Memorial stadium.

Buckley had been living at Seminole, Tex., since January.

British House Okays Bill To Keep North Ireland In Kingdom

LONDON, May 12 (AP) — The House of Commons passed a bill Wednesday night which keeps Northern Ireland in the United Kingdom—if that country so wishes.

In Dublin, Prime Minister John Costello of the Republic of Ireland, which wants to annex the six northern countries, denounced the bill and said it might have "terrible consequences."

Both British Prime Minister Clement Attlee, for the Labor party, and Anthony Eden, spokesman for the Conservatives, praised the bill which declares Northern Ireland will remain under the British crown in the United Kingdom unless its own parliament votes otherwise.

A strongly pro-British parliament was elected in Northern Ireland in February, six weeks before Southern Ireland cut her last ties with Britain.

The bill passed its decisive second reading. All bills must pass parliament three times before they become law. The third is generally little more than a formality.

Costello said there were "sinister motives" behind the bill and "rage and frustration" exist in Ireland because of it.

Venezuela will build one new airport and reconstruct seven more, this year.

Texas Doctor Who Killed Four Fails Again In Fight For Life

WHARTON, May 12 (AP) — Dr. Lloyd I. Ross sighed softly when he was told he had lost again in his fight to escape the electric chair.

The convicted slayer of Mrs. Willard York—a bearded, shuffling man in faded blue pajamas —heard the news of the court of criminal appeals action Wednesday from Sheriff T. W. (Buckshot) Lane:

"The court at Austin has turned you down. They said 'no' to your appeal. The pardons board and the governor are your last chance."

Ross' eyes were sullen, but there was no expression on his matted face. He sighed softly.

Four Killed

Mrs. York and three other members of her family were shot to death on a lonely Comal county road May 25, 1947. The others were her husband, Willard York; a son, John, 9; and Mrs. Mary York, York's 67-year-old mother. A daughter, Ann, 13, was shot in the hip, but escaped.

The 43-year-old Harvard-trained San Antonio surgeon was tried in La Grange, on a change of venue from New Braunfels.

His defense was insanity. The defense sought to show during the trial that Dr. Ross "cracked up" after he lost his savings, about $150,000, which he had entrusted to York, a friend, for investment.

A jury on Oct. 23, 1948, found him guilty of murder in the death of Mrs. York. This was the only charge on which he was tried.

The court of criminal appeals' decision Wednesday was its second against Dr. Ross. His first appeal was rejected last Nov. 3.

"Truth Doesn't Pay"

Ross told Lane "I guess it doesn't pay to tell the truth anymore."

"By the way, sheriff," he added matter-of-factly, "some of these trusties have been trying to poison me. I've already given up drinking coffee, and last Saturday night I dreamed all night that I'd better not drink my milk Sunday. So on Sunday, I poured my milk over my hand. Sure enough, it had powder in it."

Lane smilingly said later he is absolutely certain no one is trying to poison Dr. Ross.

Earlier Wednesday, Lane had said of Ross: "He's dying every day—by inches. He's just a man in a daze. I think he'll burn and I think he thinks so, too, if he thinks at all. He really looks terrible."

India's Royal Air Force celebrated its 16th birthday anniversary this year.

Pet Alligator Lost During Rains Here

Add to local flood losses: One alligator.

Al, a four-year-old alligator belonging to Bill Davidson, 13, of 2502 Ave. P, apparently was back in his element Saturday morning, after Friday night's high rains had filled the back yard of the Davidson home. So much in his element, in fact, that he hasn't returned since.

Young Davidson, a student in O. L. Slaton Junior High school, saw his pet in the deep waters Saturday morning, but was unable to catch him. And the Louisiana-bred reptile, even though the bayou-like waters have receded, has not been seen since.

Al is approximately one-foot long and (we presume) brown in color. He was purchased by Davidson from a Louisiana reptile farm about a month ago.

If anyone in these parts sees a stray alligator, he can be reasonably sure it's Al, and Davidson would appreciate any information leading to the recovery of his pet.

WACs, WAFs Ready For Any Climate Now

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP) — Two four-star generals took time out today to issue this undercover order:

"Effective immediately, issue of two pairs of pajamas, women's, summer, and two pairs of pajamas, WAC, winter, is authorized to to enlisted women of the WAC and WAF until stocks are exhausted."

But generals Omar N. Bradley and Hoyt S. Vandenberg, who approved this directive, did not say what the Army and Air Force women are to do with those winter pajamas this summer.

Woman Sentenced For Attempt To Poison The Man She Loved

AKRON, O., May 12 (AP)—Marilyn Stevenson lost her freedom today for attempting to poison the man she loved.

The 22-year-old receptionist was sentenced yesterday to two to 15 years in Marysville reformatory for women. She pleaded guilty to mingling food with poison.

The state charged she slipped into the home of Dr. Charles F. Jones, 36, a veterinarian, and put poison in a glass of milk. Dr. Jones merely tasted the milk and suffered no serious effects.

"I only wanted to make him suffer as I have suffered," she told police.

Miss Stevenson, receptionist in the Akron veterinary hospital, testified she had an infatuation for the doctor similar to "hero worship." She admitted sending anonymous messages to Dr. Jones' wife urging her to give the veterinarian a divorce.

Presbyterian Moving Plans Are Postponed

Last week's rains and flood have forced postponement of plans for Westminster Presbyterian church to move into its new building at Thirty-third and Tyler Ave., Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor, has announced.

The congregation, which has been meeting in the Plaza theater in Green Acres shopping center since its organization in February, 1948, had planned to occupy the new church structure next Sunday. However, rains made it impossible to complete walks and other features, and flood waters left mud and debris in the building. No serious damage was done, Rev. Zacharias said.

Westminster services will be held in conjunction with those of the Forest Heights Methodist church in the Plaza theater until such time as the new building is ready for occupancy, it was announced. The Methodist group, which has recently organized with Rev. Burgin Watkins as pastor, had completed plans for using the theater until its new building in Southwest Lubbock is completed.

Sunday the Methodists will join Presbyterian classes in Sunday school and the two congregations will unite in a church service at which Rev. Watkins will preach.

MEETING IS SET

WICHITA FALLS, May 12 (AP) The state Democratic executive committee is to meet here June 9-11, a member, Mrs. H. W. Weir, announced yesterday.

"Town Meeting" Is Held Here To Plan For Projed Opening

forenoons at the base and the afternoons at the chamber of commerce. His duties, however, keep him out of his offices much of the time.

But he continued, he will attempt to supply any information desired in connection with the reactivation. If names are listed, he added, information of interest to them will be supplied as it is received.

Wells, in opening the meeting, pointed out that the reactivation of the field will mean a payroll of approximately 3,000 persons.

Requirements Reviewed

"The latest available records show that only 176 factories in the United States have more than 2,500 persons on their payroll," he commented, by way of illustrating the importance of the reactivation of the field as a business asset to Lubbock.

He reviewed the conditions Lubbock must meet—and which the city has guaranteed to meet—in order to secure the reactivation. These are: The removal of GI families who now reside on the base by Aug. 1; the restoration of the buildings they now occupy to use suitable for air base purposes; the provision of housing for LAFB personnel; the paving of Fourth street between the city and base; the obtaining of Abernathy air field as an auxiliary field; adequate bus service between the base and the city; and the availability of Lubbock Municipal airport as an auxiliary field.

Housing Needed

The most immediate problem was declared to be that of housing.

In this connection, Wells, Chamber President Homer D. Grant and Manager A. B. Davis emphasized that the organization has made no commitments or contracts to provide the needed housing. There is no "preferred list," they said.

The field is wide open, they declared, to those who might assist in providing the needed dwelling places. In meeting this condition, building material dealers, real estate men, loan men and others will be necessary.

"We need a great deal of additional manpower to comply with the condition Lubbock must meet in order to get the base," Wells declared. "One of the primary purposes of this meeting is to begin recruiting that manpower."

Dwellings Specified

The dwelling places required, as listed at the meeting, fall into three specific categories, including:

About 350 residences or apartments suitable for officers and their families (and practically all have families) at rentals of $80 to $100 a month.

About 100 places for the non-commissioned personnel at top rentals of $40 a month.

And about 200 dwelling units of various kinds within the means of GI's, practically all enrolled in Texas Tech, whose total income is only $120 a month.

Speaking for the GI's, Frank Junell, assistant to President D. M. Wiggins, of Tech, emphasized they are not "seeking something for nothing."

"But they must have places to live within their means; either that, or Lubbock and Tech will lose 200 o more young men, many with families, who are splendid students and citizens," Junell remarked.

Progress reports were made on other conditions to the reactivation of the base.

Jess Levens, speaking for Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, said bus service of the type required will be supplied at present fares—15 cents one way and 25 cents roundtrip.

Earl B. Collins, past president of the chamber, said the Fourth street paving requirement will be met, although many details still are to be worked out. Hopes are to obtain federal and state help toward the cost.

Chamber Manager Davis said no difficulty is anticipated in working out an arrangement satisfactory to the city, the Air Force and the Civil Aeronautics authority which will make Municipal airport available as an auxiliary field without interference with the civilian operations of the field.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers reiterated assurance of the city's cooperation in behalf of LAFB.

L. E. Davis said the requirements as to the restoration of buildings on the post, now occupied by GI's and their families, will be met, although details still are to be worked out.

W. R. McDuffie said he anticipated no great difficulty in obtaining the use of the Abernathy airport as an auxiliary field.

Others who spoke briefly were Dr. Wiggins and Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal. Each said the personnel of the field will be of a quality which will be an asset to the community in many ways—to the churches, educationally and culturally, in the civic sense—other than the business sense.

Those attending the meeting were invited to sign cards indicating their willingness to contribute personal service to the community efforts in behalf of the reactivation. Practically all present signed them.

Included in the sports section is an aerial view of Jones Stadium with individual pictures of the starting 1948 Red Raider football team superimposed in their positions. Another sidelight of the sports section is a cartoon which appeared in The Star-Telegram following the Southwest conference's refusal to admit Tech as a member. It shows seven little men standing on the body of a fallen football player who are all burning ballots and "swearing never to tell."

Jack Thompson, business manager of the yearbook, said 4600 copies had been ordered and it appeared that it would "really be a sellout." Last year the La Ventana's did not arrive in time for students to get them before the semester ended.

The Southwestern Engraving company of Dallas was the engraver for this year's annual, The Economy Advertising company of Iowa City, Iowa printed it and Koen's studio of Lubbock was the photographer.

The staff of the 1949 La Ventana included: Bob Williams, editor, Lubbock; Jack Thompson, business manager, Lubbock; June Thompson, copy reader, Lubbock; Jayne Thompson associate editor, Vernon; Fred Gibson, photographer, Dallas; Bob Roper, assistant photographer, Dallas; Margie Bullen, art editor. Lubbock; sports writers Keith Anderson, Brownfield and Jerry Hall, Stanton; Anita Oliver, senior editor, Lamesa; Mary Anne Kelley, Colorado City; Don Duncan, Coleman and Paula Fix, Lubbock. Prof. R. A. Mills was faculty sponsor.

Galveston C. Of C. Will Tour Mainland

GALVESTON, May 12. (AP) — The Galveston Chamber of Commerce decided today it would learn about the problems of "mainlanders," and announced a "hi, neighbor" tour.

The delegation left here on a chartered bus carrying a large banner advertising the mission. Before returning the group will visit Lamarque, San Leon, Kemah, Texas City, Dickinson, League City and Friendswood.

Rent Control

ously affect the welfare of thousands of officers and airmen of the Air Training Command who are assigned to bases in Texas."

"Believe me, it is not my intention nor the intention of the Air Force to interfere in any manner with the legislative deliberations of the representatives of the people of Texas," he added.

Have Adverse Effect

"The removal of rent controls throughout he state of Texas would have a most adverse effect upon our efforts to portect the interests of our people," the general wrote.

"I realize that circumstances differ in each locality of concern to us. But, if action could be taken to consider only municipal or districtrather than statewide decontrol—each area might be considered on its merits and our people could state their case to those most directly concerned in each action."

Asked for comment on the letter, Moore said he thought Washington officials knew that "rent controls are not necessary in Texas."

Amazed And Alarmed

"The war has been over four years," he said. "I'm not only amazed but I'm alarmed whenever the executive department issues orders and commands to army or other military officers to come down to the legislature of Texas to intimidate and try to force their edicts down the throats of the people."

Moore also took to task the state American Legion commander, Bill McCraw, for his stand on rent decontrol. McCraw has demanded a public hearing on the bill before any further action is taken by the House. The measure has been passed on second reading.

"I'm getting fed up with uninformed people like McCraw in Dallas saying what the veterans are for," Moore said. "Veterans from all over Texas have volunteered to appear before legislative committees endorsing decontrol of rent in Texas."

STEAMER IS LAUNCHED

Launching of a new paddle steamer, Lugard II, with accommodation for 48 passengers, on Lake Albert, in Kenya, is hailed as evidence of the increasing importance of lake traffic in East Africa.

Levelland Company Wins Damage Suit

A damage suit seeking $257,000 for injuries alleged to have happened in an oil field accident ended yesterday in Federal court. The plaintiff was awarded nothing.

W. A. Garland, Graford, Texas, sued the Lane-Wells company, Levelland, for the sum claiming that on March 13, 1947 he had been permanently disabled by an explosion of a perforating gun. At the time of the accident Garland was employed by the Oil Well Drilling company and was standing on a rig floor where the gun was being used to "shoot a well." The rig was located about three miles from Levelland.

When the gun was fired into the well it exploded and Garland claimed that his eyes, ears and central nervous system were permanently affected. He alleged that his disability was complete and that he was unable to work and provide himself with a living.

Garland's former wife, Mrs. Virgie Uycic, testified in behalf of the defendants. Mrs. Uycic stated that many of the symptoms and complaints alleged in Garland's suit had been previously incurred. She said that Garland had always complained of headaches, eye and ear trouble.

Judge Joseph B. Dooley presided and the counsel for the Lane-Wells company were Marion Key, James Milam and George Dupree.

DOCTOR WORKS ON TB RESEARCH

Ex-Russian Repays America's Kindness With Wonder Drug

BY S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. May 12 (NEA)—Almost 40 years ago Rutgers University welcomed a young Russian immigrant, who couldn't get the education he wanted in his own country, because he was a Jew.

As a direct result, Rutgers, the New Jersey state university, is getting a $1,000,000 new Institute of Microbiology—the science that is conquering a wide variety of deadly germ diseases—plus $250,000 a year toward its operating expenses.

Discovers Drug

Selman A. Waksman, the young Russian who came to a land where democracy and opportunity were not mere words," used his Rutgers education to discover streptomycin, which cures many types of tuberculosis, and then neomycin, which shows promise in the laboratory of going even further.

He could have become rich out of his work. Under university regulations the patents on the antibiotics belonged to him, and the royalties from 13 companies already producing streptomycin in this country and Europe—and four soon to make it in Europe and Japan — were his. But he chose to turn them over to the university's non-profit Research and Endowment Foundation, which is financing the new Institute that hopes to open for business in the Spring of 1951.

Came Here In 1910

Waksman was 22 when he came to this country in 1910. He had a diploma from the Fifth Gymnasian university, in the limited quota of Jews accepted, because he was very smart. But he could not have become a research scientist, which was his ambition.

DR. SELMAN WAKSMAN: Democracy and opportunity are not mere words.

Over here, working on the farm of a cousin near New Brunswick, he got acquainted with another Russian immigrant, Dr. Jacob Lipman, then dean of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and director of the state agricultural experiment station. Dr. Lipman got him a state scholarship that covered tuition and fees.

Had Little Money

He had a little money. He eked it out working in the botany department, in spare time, at 20 cents an hour Mondays through Fridays, 30 cents an hour Saturdays. Every Sunday he earned $2 substituting for a caretaker at the university's poultry farm; once a month another $3 replacing a night watchman.

Nevertheless, he found time to study effectively enough to be elected to the honorary scholastic society, Phi Beta Kappa; to win a research assistantship in microbiology; and to start a career that made him one of the world's recognized leaders in his field.

The groundwork for streptomycin was laid by Waksman and an associate, R. E. Curtis, the same year he received his Bachelor of Science Degree. They isolated an organism known as actinomyces griseus, from which, in 1943, after years of apparent successes and disheartening reverses, streptomycin was evolved.

Creates Resistance

Streptomycin has shown remarkable results against several types of tuberculosis, one of the great killer diseases, as well as against other germ diseases that penicillin and other drugs wouldn't help. Bpt it produced unpleasant toxic effects in patients, and it created in the body a resistance against itself that lessened its effectiveness.

So the modified dihydrostreptomycin had to be developed. Now neomycin has proven effective—in the test tube—against germs that other antibiotics do not kill. It has never been tried on human beings, but it is now being tested on animals.

If it lives up to its promise, the Foundation will get all the profits from it, too, with the same sole stipulation that Dr. Waksman made in the case of streptomycin—that the net proceeds shall go to finance further research, particularly in his field.

Man Says Discipline Needed In Schools

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, May 12 (AP)—American schools are too big and aren't tough enough, according to an Irish teacher.

Joseph King Carson, secretary of the Ulster Teachers Union, said discipline in American schools was "certainly a lot less rigorous" than it is in Ireland.

After visiting Washington and New York as a member of the executives of the World Organization of the Teaching Profession, Carson said that the U. S. schools with as many as 2,000 pupils failed to give children the personal guidance they need. He said schools of up to 500 pupils are big enough.

Motive Is Sought In Girl's Murder

ROANOKE, Va., May 12 (AP)—Police today sought some motive for the slaying of Dana Marie Weaver, pretty high school girl, as they sought to build a case against 16-year-old Lee Scott.

Authorities have said the youth has admitted being at the church where the girl was slain Sunday night. He has been charged with the murder, but no date for the preliminary hearing has been set.

Dana Marie was buried yesterday in rolling Evergreen cemetery near Raleigh Court Methodist church. Many hundreds overflowed the church and stood outside yesterday afternoon while the Rev. William P. Watkins read a simple and traditional funeral service for the young girl. The cemetery lot was more than covered with flowers.

Body Found In Church

Jefferson high school, the only senior high school in this mountain-banked city of some 80,000 persons, closed for the funeral yesterday afternoon. The popular, 16-year-old Dana Marie was chairman of a school dance committee. Hundreds of her school mates came to the funeral.

Dana died of suffocation, the coroner has said. Her body was found early Monday morning in a pool of blood in the kitchen of Christ Episcopal church by the janitor. Police began an intensive search for her assailant.

Scott first became a suspect Tuesday. Reports came to police that his face was scratched. This was a clue they had been looking for. Dana Marie's broken finger nails were part of the mute evidence of a desperate struggle in the church kitchen.

No Confession Signed

The youth, an eagle scout and singer in the Christ Episcopal church choir, was taken from classes at Jefferson high school and questioned from 2 p. m. to 9:15 p. m. Tuesday. He was then formally charged with murder.

Police have discovered that Scott has made fragmentary admissions about his whereabouts and activities Sunday night, but he has signed no confession.

Authorities said he directed them to a sack from a coffee urn in the church kitchen which they say could have been used to strangle the girl. A broken pop bottle was found in the sack, and police say this could have been used to club her. Another broken pop bottle was on the church floor.

Scott told police that he remembered going to the church Sunday night. But his account of the evening was hazy and fragmentary. He said he knew that he did not have an appointment to meet Dana Marie.

Dana Marie went to Christ Episcopal church Sunday night to join a group of young people unaware that the church group that Sunday had gone on a picnic.

SHOVELS OUT A CAMPAIGN PLEDGE—Raymond O'Brien (arrow), village president of Hazelcrest, a suburb of Chicago, doesn't spare the shovel as he redeems a campaign pledge to provide a better sewer system. Repair of the system was a major campaign issue. The village hasn't money to get work done, so O'Brien and village trustees spend evenings and week-ends on repair work. Helping O'Brien are Garrett Brand (right), village trustee, and O'Brien's brother, W. C. O'Brien (front, in excavation).

Marshall Plan Funds Aid Island Fishers

PARIS, May 12 (AP)—Marshall plan funds are saving Iceland's "lifeline"—the fishing industry.

R. H. Fiedler, European Cooperation Administration fisheries specialist, said after a survey trip to Iceland that ECA funds are being used to modernize their fish processing plant and to outfit the herring industry.

The significant thing about the expansion of Iceland's fishing industry isn't only in saving it for Iceland, Fiedler said, "but it is providing animal protein foor for Europe at a time when meat is in short supply."

Poland is testing alcohol and diesel oil as cheap tractor fuels.

Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 12 — H. L. Mencken, who has said harsh words about movies in his long career in American letters, has become a film fan. But he still dislikes 'em.

Recently Variety noted that the famed Baltimore writer sought movies as entertainment during his illness. I wrote him for details. He was too ill to write, but his secretary, Rosalind Lohrfinck, reported his movie habits.

Mencken has seen about 40 films during his convalescence, enough to convince him that most movies are trash. He thinks that some of the minor movies are fairly well done, but concludes that Hollywood films are bad.

Actresses Are Hit

The actresses are poor, he says; they all look alike and few have any talent whatsoever. On the whole, English films are better than American, he declares.

Here are some of the things he has enjoyed:

"So Dear To My Heart," "Pygmalion," Claudette Colbert in "Family Honeymoon," Olivia De Havilland in "The Snake Pit," Clifton Webb in "Me Belvedere Goes To College," "Little Women," Robert Ryan in "The Set-Up" and Mickey Rooney in "Words And Music."

Mencken believes when he recovers he'll see an average of three films a year.

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!
RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!
Chlorinate With SURECLOR
RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentary, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.
INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.
LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action or chlorine and water. With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½¢ per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The amount of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.
DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test set with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

FBI Informant Says Communist Boss Talked Of U.S., Red War

NEW YORK, May 12. (AP)—Communist chief William Z. Foster once told a party convention in Ohio that "if America should go to war with Russia, Russia would occupy all Europe and Asia," a government witness testified Wednesday.

The witness—William Cummings of Toledo, Ohio, an FBI informant in the party for six years—also quoted Foster as telling a party convention in Cleveland on July 10, 1948:

"We should elect leaders that could be capable of giving a good account of themselves in a crisis of that kind—that is, if America should go to war with Russia."

The date of the convention given by the witness was 10 days before Foster and 11 other top Communist leaders were indicted on charges of conspiring to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

Foster Not On Trial

All are on trial but Foster, the party's national chairman, whose trial was postponed because of a heart ailment.

Cummings, on the witness stand for the third day, said Gus Hall, a defendant and the party's Ohio state chairman, also was a speaker at the convention.

Hall was quoted as saying that "the Communist forces in Europe are the democratic forces and the United States army represents the imperialist forces in Germany."

Cummings testified that the convention reduced the Ohio state committee membership from 42 to 11, and that he himself was one of the committeemen dropped.

Hall, asked the reason for the reduction, said it was for "security reasons," the witness testified.

"The party was very worried about security at the time," Cummings said.

Promoted Wallace Clubs

He said the 1948 convention took action to promote the organization of the "Youth For (Henry A.) Wallace Clubs" in school and colleges, in labor unions and among negro, Jewish and other groups.

Cummings identified a party document, which he said was issued in 1946 by Henry Winston, national organization secretary and a defendant. The document called for a drive for 10,000 new members to be enlisted between Sept. 2, 1946, and the end of the year.

New York, 4,000; New England, 200; Eastern Pennsylvania, 500; Maryland, 100; western Pennsylvania, 200; Ohio, 400; Texas, 200; Virginia, 200; Oklahoma, 100; Michigan, 300; Illinois, 600; Minnesota, 200; Indiana, 100; Northwest, 400.

California, 700; Louisiana, 100; Carolina, 100; Nebraska, 50; Montana, 20; New Jersey, 400; Connecticut, 150; Wisconsin, 200; Colorado, 100; Missouri, 150; West Virginia, 35; Florida, 100; Alabama, 250; Utah, 35.

Crewmen On Berlin Airlift To Stay On Job Another 30 Days

BERLIN, May 12. (AP)—The men who manned the aerial lifeline to Berlin couldn't take time out for parties celebrating the end of the blockade—their job went on.

American pilots said they had received orders to keep the airlift going full blast for another 30 days—time for the western powers to measure Russia's intentions.

The roar of the motors still was heard over Berlin today as British and American fliers hauled supplies to the city at the rate of nearly 500 tons an hour.

There is a dual purpose in keeping things going. Assurance of an accord in the political field is one reason.

U. S. Carries Three-Fourths

The other is to replace badly depleted stocks in Berlin. The western allies want to see these stocks replenished as quickly as possible and handling of extra supplies by road, rail and water would be a slow operation.

The giant operation that kept Berlin alive during the long blockade took a force of 60,000 men. Fifty-one of these lost their lives in crashes, which also cost almost $8,000,000 in equipment.

The airlift has carried a total of 1,583,686 tons of food, coal and machinery in 195,530 flights into Berlin in 48 weeks. British Air Minister Arthur Henderson said one-fourth of the job was done by the British, the remainder by the Americans.

The United States had spent more than $150,000,000 in the operation by the end of March. British expenditures ran to about $50,000,000.

Truman Making Great Strides Toward Peace, Clark Declares

COLUMBUS, O., May 12 (AP)—President Truman will bring permanent peace to the United States, U. S. Attorney General Tom C. Clark predicted yesterday.

"I verily believe he will bring peace—I mean permanent peace," Clark declared.

The attorney general was the featured speaker at the annual Jefferson-Jackson day dinner of Ohio Democrats.

Some 1,000 party members paid $25 a plate to hear Clark praise the President and his predecessors of the 19th century.

The attorney general praised the President for his efforts in combatting subversive forces and promoting world freedom.

Government Alert

"No single force," Clark asserted, "has stopped Communism in its tracks as has Harry Truman done in America and in the world."

"Today," Clark said, "a philosophy poisonous to Jefferson's ideas threatens our American system.

"The government is alert to the peril of Communism and has moved and continues to move to eradicate it by every constitutional weapon —intensely fighting it on all fronts."

Intelligent planning will mark the prospects of the nation's future, Clark reported. And that planning rests on how well the nation learned the lessons of the past—lessons taught in the principles preached by Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson.

Mother's 'Headache' Can Be Harmful To Minds Of Children

BALTIMORE, May 12. (AP)—What type of mother is apt to do the most damage to the minds and personalities of children?

A posthumous report by Dr. Trude Tietze, Johns Hopkins psychiatrist, says it is the "subtly dominating" type of mother. The report is to appear in the coming issue of the technical journal, Psychiatry.

The 39-year-old native of Vienna died Saturday, a victim of cancer. She came to the United States 11 years ago.

She began interviewing mothers of split personality children in a Maryland institution two years ago, knowing then that she had not too long to live.

Dr. Tietze's definition of a subtly dominating mother is one who believes she is good to her children but manages to develop a headache when the children want to go out for a good time.

In extreme cases, Dr. Tietze found, the child finally drops all outside interests and self expression, fearing the mother will interfere.

Czech Breweries Bow To The Atom

PRAGUE, May 12 (AP) — Two breweries have bowed to atomic progress in Czechoslovakia.

The "Official Gazette" carried an announcement from the Ministry of Industry that four sets of buildings, including a brewery at Jachimov and one at Ostrov, in the Karlovy Vary, had been confiscated and made part of the Jackimov Mines, National Corp.

This is the barred border area where undisclosed amounts of uranium have been mined in the last three years. No reporters are allowed in to check reports that the labor is chiefly German from the Soviet Zone of Germany and that all the engineers and controllers are Russian.

The uranium deposits are those which for years have given the waters of Karlovy Vary their curative powers.

"Children cost less than atomic bombs," says a minister.

Yep. And, fortunately, they are slightly less destructive!

WE of The Avalanche-Journal sincerely regret the resignation of our most vocal associate, Hugh DeWitt "Judge" Landis, as manager of Radio Station KFYO. But as the Judge severs his connection on May 15, we wish to him and for his family everything good in the years to come.

For 13 years, Mr. Landis has been "Mister Radio" in Lubbock.

He is the guy who took over the management of KFYO when it came a part of The Avalanche-Journal family and who changed the station from a tea-kettle operation to a first class radio concern. As he made a success of KFYO, he also blazed the trail of public respect for radio in this city and area.

He deserves the best wishes not only of us who have been associated with him, but also of the people of the South Plains as a whole for setting up the first real radio public service this section ever had.

Mr. Landis wants to keep his home in Lubbock and will do so if he can.

We hope he stays here, because he's a good citizen and the Landis family is of the type that no city wants to lose.

He hopes to get his cranky sinuses fixed up to where they won't bother him most of the time and then make some radio investments outside of Lubbock but which will enable him to remain here.

We wish him luck in both his future investments and on being able to continue to live among us.

GORDON THOMPSON, who has been Landis' assistant for several years and who succeeds him as KFYO's manager, needs no introduction in Lubbock.

A good citizen with a fine family, he has already proven his worth in years of teaching and coaching here, as well as in the radio field.

Mr. Thompson will continue the broad policies laid down and for so long followed by Mr. Landis in improving KFYO's radio service at every possible opportunity.

We of the A-J look forward to working with him more closely in the future and wish him well in the promotion he has earned.

HERE'S some good news from those who suffered losses in the storms of last Friday and Saturday morning—and it comes from a source that is unquestionably authoritative.

Richard A. (Dick) Jennings, a Lubbock lawyer who specializes in tax matters, says all those losses are deductable from taxes.

He advises all persons who suffered such losses to keep a strict account of them so they may be taken into consideration when individuals involved make up their next income tax reports—the reports on 1949, that is.

Personable young Mr. Jennings, who was a government tax lawyer for a number of years and who knows all the angles, said he had been approached by a number of citizens seeking information about their losses in connection with taxes. So he passes the information along for the information of all.

Thanks to Mr. Jennings for a fine public service.

GOV. Beauford Jester was in perfect form here Tuesday when he dropped in, unannounced, to attend the luncheon honoring Dr. D. M Wiggins in connection with the latter's inauguration as president of Texas Tech.

In his brief speech at the luncheon, Governor Jester told his listeners:

1. That Texas Tech is 17 years old. (It's really 24.)

2. That it opened its doors with 1,700 students. (It opened with between 1,000 and 1,100.)

3. That the enrollment at Tech now is 6,500 (It is 5,760 and the highest enrollment in the college's history, in the Fall of 1948, was 6,145.) And,

4. He twice referred to the Texas Tech "board of regents." (The University of Texas has "regents." The law under which Texas Tech was founded plainly states that its governing body will be a "board of directors.")

The celebrated state of confusion in which the governor seems constantly to wander was never better exemplified than in his five-minute speech here on Tuesday.

Most people here abouts, however, will join us in complete agreement with one statement of the governor.

That is his statement at the luncheon, "I have a peculiar interest in Texas Tech."

Yep. There's no doubt about the "peculiarity" of the governor's interest in the college.

It was most peculiar that he used the influence of his office in favor of the University Building amendment, which makes it impossible for Texas Tech—and all other state schools outside of the University and A&M — to build in keeping with growth and crying needs.

And it is further peculiar that the governor finds time to run all over the state to ride in parades but hasn't yet had time to fill three vacancies on the board of directors of Texas Tech—even though the appointments were due in mid-February!

OF course, there was a humorous angle to the governor's two-hour visit to the inauguration luncheon.

His coming was kept top-drawer secret.

His plane (not an oil company craft this time, but a state-owned ship) landed a few minutes before noon and the governor hurried from the airport to the nearby Country club As soon as his brief talk was over, he hurried back to the airport and flew home to Austin.

But, even so, he did a little better than the last time he was here—more than a year ago. Then, he was in a special plane with some other big shots and the ship stopped briefly at the airport for fuel. All the other passengers got out and walked around—but not Mr. Jester. He stayed right on the plane, all the time!

Somebody ought to tell the governor that while the majority of our people don't like him as a governor, they are good people and won't bother him if, through necessity, he has to come out this way. Certainly, they won't treat him as badly as he has treated them.

The truth is that most West Texans are interested in Mr. Jester only from the standpoint of when he retires to private life.

And that he will do come January, 1951.

BY DREW PEARSON: MR. TRUMAN STAYED AT HIS BIRTHDAY PARTY UNTIL 2:05 A. M.

Speaker Rayburn Regaled Truman About Texas

WASHINGTON. — President Turman really had the time of his life at his 65th birthday party—so much so that he stayed until 2:05 a. m. and had Speaker Sam Rayburn grousing under his breath about keeping everybody up so late. For, under official protocol, no guest—not even the speaker — can leave until the President himself says goodbye to his hostess.

PEARSON

Mr. Truman enjoyed every minute of it — even unwrapping the birthday gifts. There were 70 presents, from the 70 supposedly "intimate" friends who gathered at the Larz Anderson mansion which saw some of the most famous social events of the early century.

To unwrap 70 birthday presents is quite a chore, especially in front of a big crowd of people. The President tackled it bravely, but was pleased when Vice President Alben Barkley came to his rescue.

The vice president's running-fire comment on the President's presents resembled the patter of a magician pulling rabbits out of a hat.

"These won't do you much good," said the vice president, holding up a pair of swimming trunks for all to see. "The cameras can't get anywhere near you, Mr. President."

Is Margaret Hope-Chesting?

Attorney General Tom Clark, who is annual host to the President on his birthday, proposed the chief toast of the evening in a speech that was not as good as one of his Supreme Court arguments. Mr. H. T., replying, accepted a set of after-dinner coffee cups from the cabinet.

"I'm going to take these home and give them to a blue-eyed blonde who was sick and had to stay at home tonight," said the President in reply. "That is, with your permission."

"What do we care who he gives 'em to," said Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder in a side remark to Undersecretary of Defense Steve Early.

Other guests, however, started a pleasant buzz of speculation as to whether Margaret was filling her "hope chest."

It was the vice president who paid Margaret the most fulsome tribute.

"One of the loveliest members of the Truman family has not been toasted tonight," he began, and continued with flowers and southern chivalry, in one of those tributes which no one around the capital except Barkley can give.

During the dinner, Frankie Govan went from table to table playing the accordion. For the vice president he played "Wagon Wheels" while Barkley sang. For the chief justice he played "My Old Kentucky Home," and at the request of Secretary of the Navy Sullivan, he played "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Sullivan, Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York and Steve Early supplied an uncertain vocal accompaniment.

THE speech of the evening came from Speaker Rayburn.

"Of course, us Texans," said Sam, "never talk much about ourselves. But there was a Bostonian who came down to San Antonio and saw an old building near the center of town.

"'What's that?' he asked.

"'That's the Alamo.'

"'What happened there?'

"'Didn't you ever hear what happened there? That's where about thirty-odd Texans held off 10,000 Mexicans, and before they were finished they had run out of ammunition and had to hold off 5,000 Mexicans with the butts of their guns.'

"'And what's that?' asked the visitor from Boston, pointing to a statue.

"'That's a statue of the Texas ranger. Single-handed he killed 163 outlaws, all armed with guns.'

"The Bostonian was silent for a minute. Then he asked: 'Did you ever hear of Paul Revere?'

"The Texan scratched his head, but finally replied 'Oh, yes, he's the man who was sent for help.'"

The President Performs

The President's birthday cake was in blue and gold and had only three candles. After he had blown them out and the dessert was finished, the ladies retired and Mr. Truman dragged Jose Iturbi, who had flown especially from Hollywood, courtesy of Metro Goldwyn-Mayer, and Barney Breekskin, who had come from the Shoreham, courtesy of Maxim Lowe, over to the piano. And for the next 45 minutes, Mr. Truman, President, and Mr. Iturbi, pianist, took turns at their favorite melodies.

The President played first —Paderewski's "Minuet in G." Then he went into a number of Chopin, which Iturbi said was seldom played by anyone—"Battle of the Waterloo."

"I'm just nuts about Chopin," exclaimed the President.

Iturbi played the same pieces over, at the request of Mr. Truman, and did a somewhat more polished job. But those gathered around the piano agreed that Mr. Truman himself was no slough of a musician.

This concert for gentlemen only took so long that Bom Merrill of the Metropolitan opera — only man present dressed in white tie and tails —got started late.

And Jessica Dragonette, who didn't eat because she expected to sing right after dinner, didn't get started until midnight. She sang several opera selections—on an empty stomach — concluding with "Some Enchanted Evening" from "South Pacific" by request. As the party broke up a couple of hours later, Mrs. O. Max Gardner, widow of the late ambassador to Great Britain, finally took Miss Dragonette over to the Mayflower to try to scare up a sandwich.

Iturbi wound up the evening by playing another hour, and looked a little worn out before it was over. However, "a request from the President is a command," he commented as Truman shot various requests at him.

By this time the white orchids sent to Mrs. Tom Clark by the White House were quite droopy, though pretty Mrs. Clark bore up bravely. Over at one side of the room, Judge Bennett Clark of Missouri and Sam Rayburn were wise enough to sit at a little table where no one could see if their heads nodded.

Lanson champagne, 1942, was served during dinner, and the highballs—perhaps by design—didn't come round until just before the party broke up at 2 a. m. Everyone went home cold sober—which was definitely not the case at the President's birthday party last year.

"You Guys Order One Of These?"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

EVERY now and then some home economist sits down with pencil and paper and comes forth with the news that in the course of a year an average housewife makes so many beds, peels some staggerin number of potatoes, irons a terrifying number of shirts, and so on.

It's all very depressing to see the potatoes, shirts, and beds piled up in a year's heap.

MILLETT

But housewives often depress themselves by the same kind of thinking. They look at housekeeping as an endless job that stretches before them—a job that is never done and rarely gets "caught up with."

When they do that, the job of homemaking looks like pure, unrelieved drudgery and they begin to feel like slaves chained to the demands of a house. But taken day by day, housework isn't too bad a job. It isn't "today" the frustrated housewife can't face. It's all the "tomorrows" on top of "today."

So the way to look on housework—like the way to look on any job—is to take it one day's work at a time.

JOB FACED CHEERFULLY

IF she didn't become depressed over all she has to do tomorrow and all she wants to accomplish next week, almost any housewife could face today's demands cheerfully.

So the thing to do with the hardest job of housekeeping is to set aside a certain number of working hours, accomplish everything possible in those hours, and when the time is up call it a good day's work and quit. Not only quit working, but stop thinking about the work yet to be done. What is left over can be tackled tomorrow—which is, or should be, another day.

Once when she was asked how she had the energy to do all the things she does, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt explained that she could carry on so many activities because she never let herself worry beyond the job at hand.

That's the best mental rule any overworked housewife could have.

Look at everything you have to accomplish in a week's time—and you'll think you can never get it all done. Divide it up into seven days—and think only about today's tasks—and they aren't too much to contemplate.

In the good old days many families lived several weeks at a time without buying a supply of groceries; now if the home maker didn't shop for groceries at least four times a week, the family would starve.

"Try And Stop Me"

ANYTHING can happen at Ebbetts Field, 'tis said, and here's an episode which actually happened some years ago. The Brooklyn Dodgers had men on first and second and none out. The batter hit a towering fly to right center. The runners hovered close to their bases for fear the ball would be caught, but the batter lowered his head and went charging around the sacks like a stampering bull.

While the crowd howled, and Manager Robinson tore his hair, the batter galloped past both runners in high gear. The ball fell safe and all three Dodgers arrived at third base in a neck-and-neck finish, the batter first. In the confusion all three runners stepped uncertainly off the bag, anr the rival third baseman had only to bag them to complete a triple play. Robbie consoled himself by reminding the three runers: "That's the first time you guys have gotten together all season."

Light Sentences For "Mental Case" Murderers Are Scored

NEW YORK, May 12 — We have come lately to a new appreciation of crime, in which we tend to excuse the criminal in terms of his past unhappiness, while forgetting that the corpse is no less dead if killed either in premeditated coldness or knocked off merely to gratify a whim.

We will strap an angry motivated murderer to the chair and fry him to a turn, but we often loose the stupid, wanton killer, or the chronic child molester, and allow him to remain a constant menace to the people around him so long as he lives. Generally on the grounds that "he didn't mean to do it."

RUARK

The parents of little Diane Allen, who drowned a playmate out in Joliet, Ill., to gratify an "urge", mentioned that 13-year old Diane had followed the progress of a previous Chicago killing with heavy interest. In this one, a 14-year old murderer was freed by a judge who based his decision on the supposition that young Howard Lang was unable to separate right from wrong.

Girl Said Threat

Young Lang's inability to distinguish between right and wrong seems of little importance, if it leads him to go around knocking off his associates in a free-hand fashion, and encouraging others to imitate him. I would rate him more dangerous to the community than a professional killer who pushes icepicks into business rivals for a stated fee.

By the same token I would rank little Diane a more threatful member of society, since she killed merely to gratify her ego, than the late Ruth Snyder, who at least had some evil logic back of her decision to remove her old man.

The tendency today is to excuse the serious criminal in terms of his environment, his mentality, his psychological framework, which finally is of no real importance to the victim of the crime of which he is accused. Question is whether he did or didn't, and is he likely to do it again?

YOU can check it yourself, in the papers. Every time they catch one of the perverts who abuse children and kill them after, a record of past sex offenses always bobs up. Every wanton killer, every thrill-killer, invariably produces a record of short sentences, suspended sentences, of benign treatment by the courts and the social workers who plead that poor Joe doesn't know any better.

In a recent, horrible child-slaying in the Bronx, the miserable freak who confessed showed the usual record of the warped who can't separate right from wrong. None of them have been able to tell right from wrong since they first set fire to the kitty-cat.

But this mental unmorality is often exploited in the courts to lighten the sentence or forgive the culprit altogether. We had a case here not so long ago where a private cop went whisky-mad in a subway and shot to death a complete stranger. They let him off with a promise to pay the deceased's widow $1,500.

He is loose in New York today, which is a reason I seldom ride subways. I would rather see a late member of Murder, Inc., still plying his trade in Brooklyn. At least those boys knew who they were supposed to slap off, and seldom worked out on the innocent bystander.

Laws Need Revision

It seems to me that the criminal concept is up for some revision. If I am suddenly dead, for no good reason, it comforts me small to learn in ghostly restrospect that I was murdered to gratify an urge or expunged because the gunner was unable to tell wrong from right. Or that may child has been killed wantonly by some cretin whose abnormality has been advertised by a series of less serious offenses.

You see now where there is agitation to free Nathan Leopold, the surviving half of the perverted thrill-kill team of Leopold and Loeb. I would personally prefer to unleash Gargantua in Grand Central.

It is only my personal opinion that the whim-killer, the stupid killer, should be either eliminated or shut away for life, and that the first time a sex offender is brought to court be the last. You send him away with a lecture and it is merely a matter of time before somebody's little boy or little girl is found stuffed in a culvert. The corpse's parents rarely are interested in whether the monster had been misunderstood by his mother.

STORM SEWERS NEEDED

The recent flood experiences unquestionably have strengthened the probability of a city bond election as a method of financing the construction of additional storm sewers, among other needed improvements.

It is not necessary to be an expert to appreciate the need for the additional drainage storm sewers would provide for Northwest Lubbock on both sides of North College avenue; and for southern and southwestern parts of the City, where a line in the vicinity of Thirty-fourth street, with laterals extending north and south, probably would do the job.

Storm sewers are costly and bond issues are the almost invariable method of financing them. But they are likely to have the appeal of cheap insurance to those who contemplate what would have happened to a large part of Lubbock last weekend had it not been for the storm sewers built several years ago in the general vicinity of Twenty-third street. The flood loss probably would have run into millions instead of several hundred thousand dollars.

CITY OFFICIALS MAY BE CHECKED

Fort Worth's Bribery Expose Sets Off Big Gambling Probe

FORT WORTH, May 12. (AP)—Fort Worth's city council will make a two-week study of rumored payoffs by racketeers before ordering an investigation of the reports.

The inquiry was requested Wednesday by city councilman M. M. McKnight, an important figure in a startling expose last week of a purported attempt to buy protection for gambling.

McKnight disclaimed concern about gambling in Fort Worth.

Payoffs Main Talk

"It's the talk about payoffs—a widespread belief that is openly expressed—that members of the city government, high or low, or influential friends of such municipal servants, are taking money for shutting their eyes," he said.

McKnight suggested a look-see by the district attorney, chief of police and city attorney.

If the triple-pronged investigation fails to uncover "something conclusive," McKnight said he would page the council to request a special Tarrant county grand jury, and a special prosecutor.

"Every municipal official should either be cleared or accused," he said.

"Too Much Smoke"

"There's too much smoke to avoid the conclusion that there's a flame."

McKnight assisted Fort Worth police in laying a trap last week for Norman D. Bailey, former Dallas police captain. Bailey was accused of approaching McKnight with an offer of $500 a week for as many as five councilmen if "protection" could be guaranteed a New York syndicate which would take over gambling in Fort Worth.

Bailey, now a patient at a Waco veterans' hospital, was charged with attempted bribery of a public official.

Amos 'n Andy Sued In Contract Mixup

LOS ANGELES, May 12 (AP) — Amos 'n Andy have been sued for $300,000.

The William Morris talent agency, which filed the action Wednesday, claims it lost a weekly commission of $11,000 after negotiating a contract for the radio comedians with Lever Bros. company.

The suit alleges Amos 'n Andy sold their program to the Columbia Broadcasting system for $2,000,000 last summer and tried to end commission payments to the agency, contending the Lever Bros. contract was terminated.

Strong Grip Saves Life Of Young Boy

PITTSBURGH, May 12. (AP)—Five-year-old Jimmy Lardo can thank his lucky stars he has a strong grip for a little guy.

Jimmy slipped while walking along the top of a 60-foot cliff Wednesday. His fall was broken by a small tree and Jimmy clung to it for dear life.

Firemen were summoned but were unable to negotiate the steep slope to reach the youngster. An extension ladder then was brought to the scene and run up to the top of the cliff. Two firemen carried Jimmy to safety.

The firemen said Jimmy remained as "cool as a cucumber" during his ordeal.

Farmers' Production Costs May Be Reduced

Hereford Man Is Preparing To Market New Weed Killer

By BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, May 12—Byrle Elliston, the No. 1 booster of Deaf (pronounced to rhyme with beef) Smith county, was in Dallas today with a new stock of tall tales and some new ideas about how to boost progress in the lone star state.

The ambassador from the town without a tooth ache—which some people know as Hereford, Tex.—had just returned from the Pacific northwest, where he has oil interests which help finance his self-assigned task of publicizing Texas in general and Deaf Smith county in particular.

Weed Killer Described

His new interest was the product of Electrovation, Inc., of Marysville, Calif., and Seattle, Wash. It's an electric weed-killer, which Elliston says will save millions of dollars for Texas. Powered by a diesel electrical generator, it sends something like 23,000 volts through rake-like fingers into the ground and simply electrocutes the weeds when the current reaches the roots.

The "shock treatments" are given in the spring before planting. Several treatments may be required to completely eliminate the weeds, but Elliston claims it is a more economical and efficient method than poisoning.

Cost Is Reduced

Its effectiveness is not confined to any certain kind of weed or grass, and most any plot of ground can be cleaned for about $35 per acre, according to Elliston, who hopes to bring the first electrovator to Texas within two months.

The Deaf Smith county real estate man said farmers in various parts of the country spend from $40 to $200 per acre for cleaning their land each year. And he predicted that the cost of electrovating on any plot of ground would decrease as it is treated year after year because it would require fewer treatments to kill the weeds.

Elliston said some farmers have refused to accept the "new fangled gadget" because they are adverse to the idea of spending more for killing weeds than the land cost.

He said the angle is not the cost of the land but the decrease in the cost of production which electrovation is capable of giving.

Being a primary booster of Deaf Smith county, Elliston hopes to bring an electrovator first to the high plains area around Hereford. But it won't be much longer, he says, until he has one in the Dallas area. Eventually, he hopes to be instrumental in making the ten-ton $13,000 apparatus available in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

"I've been there and seen it," he declared, "and I am convinced. I am convinced that it will save farmers in this part of the country millions of dollars."

NEW TEA PROBLEM

Commentators in London wondered if "Britain is going off tea-drinking" when a recent extra ration of four ounces was not fully taken up—or were they drinking it weaker or saving "one for the pot"?

D. C. Hattingh, of Potchefstroom, South Africa, is looking for Nelly, his heroic cat, which disappeared just after attacking and driving off a snake that threatened to bite a six-year-old girl.
