First Baptist Property Sold To Bell Firm

Telephone Company Is Planning For Major Expansion

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Southwestern Bell Telephone company has contracted to purchase five downtown lots on the corner of Main and Ave. M from First Baptist church for consideration of $80,000, it was annuonced today.

The five 25-foot lots are described as lots 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, block 115, original town of Lubbock.

Plan Major Addition

The property measures 25 by 125 feet at the rear of the present telephone building and will become the site of a future major building addition, said C. H. Cale, Lubbock district manager of the telephone company. No immediate plans have been made for the construction, he added.

The first Baptist church is erecting steel at present on its new church plant at Ave. V between Broadway and Thirteenth, a building project that will cost well in excess of $1,000,000.

Owns Other Property

The church still owns property at the corner of Main street and Ave. N where the present brick building stands.

The sale of the property to the telephone company is the first transfer of downtown church property. Both the Baptist church property and the Broadway Church of Christ property at Broadway and Ave. N have been advertised for sale for some time.

At the present time, Cale explained, work is progressing on the telephone company's expansion program here to serve present customers and permit future growth. The program provides for conduit, poles, wire, and aerial and underground cable in practically every section of the city.

40 Per Cent Complete

One of the major jobs now in progress will provide more facilities in the south and east sections, and is now about 40 per cent complete, Cale estimated. Construction work in these sections is scheduled for completion late this year.

Another large project which will add to the outside network of wire and cable in the north and northwest sections is about 15 per cent

Four Killed As Train Hits Car

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 11 (U.P.)—Four persons were killed today and a fifth was injured seriously when their car was struck by a Rock Island passenger train at a crossing in the north part of the city.

The dead were identified as:

William C. Cole, 67, Concordia, Kan.

Rovena Loveland, 12, Wichita, reportedly Cole's granddaughter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Loveland, Wichita, mother of Rovena.

Peggy Ann Smith, 13, Wichita.

Another Is Injured

Donna Lou McDonald, 13, injured seriously, was given a fair chance by physicians to recover.

The accident occurred shortly before 9 a. m., reportedly as Cole was driving the girls to school. Cole and Rovena Loveland were killed outright. Mrs. Loveland and Peggy Ann Smith died shortly after 10 a. m. at a hospital here.

The car was thrown by the impact against a telephone pole and demolished.

The accident occurred at a crossing partly obscured by trees. A truck driver was killed at that point less than a year ago in a similar accident.

Janitor Is Injured In Blast At School

E. J. (Bud) Wallace Burned When Gas Explodes At Senior High This Morning

An explosion in Senior High school at 11:30 o'clock this morning jarred the building, filled portions of it with smoke and soot, and resulted in second degree burns for one man, but no serious damage was done.

The building's third new boiler was being wired in in the basement and E. J. "Bud" Wallace, 49, janitor, was burned when he set a match to the pilot light, causing accumulated gas to explode, school authorities related.

Working with Wallace in the basement were Troy Peeples of Lubbock, owner of Peeples Electric shop, J. E. Ball of Lubbock, his helper, and E. W. Graham of Big Spring, representative of the temperature control company. None of the others was hurt.

Witnesses said flames leaped up through an incinerator shaft and shot ten feet out into the first floor corridor of the building. A smokestack on top of the building was blown off.

Wallace was to be hospitalized at West Texas hospital for several days for treatment of second degree burns of the right and left arms and scattered burns of the head and neck. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said firemen would be stationed at the building this afternoon as a safeguard against any possible outbreak of fire or recurrence of explosion, and the school was also taking precautionary measures.

Classes were not interrupted and Principal Floyd Honey made an announcement a few minutes after the blast assuring the students and teachers of their safety.

SUSPECTS VIEWED BY WITNESSES

Pair Identified In Amarillo Stickups

BY R. C. HANKINS
Journal Staff Writer

Twenty-five-years-old California twins already implicated by their father with robberies of west coast supermarkets and airplane escapes were positively identified here this morning by witnesses who said the suspects were the men who hijacked two markets last summer in Amarillo.

The suspects, Edward Lee Rader and Leo Earl Rader, were "readily identified" by three witnesses from lineups in county jail, newsmen were informed at noon by Chief of Police A. S. Harper and Capt. J. L. King, chief of detectives, both of Amarillo.

Employes Of Markets

The witnesses, the officers told Lubbock County Sheriff Grady Harrist and Dep. Sheriff Lem Pounds, county jailer, are employes of the two markets. They and other employes of the markets were locked up by two bandits after the robberies.

Whether other witnesses would be asked to come here from Amarillo and view the Rader brothers "depends on developments," Chief Harper said. He hoped the subjects would give statements this afternoon.

At any rate, Sheriff Harrist had been informed, Roswell, N. M., Chief of Police Tommy Thompson planned to be here this afternoon with witnesses who would attempt to say whether the suspects are the men who hijacked a store there in the summer.

Had Not Seen Pictures

The Amarilloans who made the identifications here "had not seen pictures of the men in the morning papers," Pounds told Sheriff Harrist he had ascertained.

The suspects were identified in separate lineups. One stood in line with five other prisoners, then the other did the same in another tank.

"There was no hesitancy whatever," newsmen were told.

Solons Seeking Defense Plans

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—This country hasn't got anywhere yet in plans for defense against A-bomb attack, Senator Millikin (R-Colo) said today.

Millikin told reporters in discussing proposed hearings on the matter next week by the Senate-House atomic committee:

"There isn't any civilian defense."

Delay Is Criticism

Backing this up, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said that although the Senate-House group has been prodding the Atomic Energy commission about it for months "we've never had a plan laid before us." Both senators are members of the committee.

Hickenlooper indicated he expects to make this delay one of the points of criticism he hopes to write into a forthcoming report on the committee's investigation of AEC's handling of its affairs.

Agreement Sought

Senator McMahon (D-Conn), who heads the group, called together a subcommittee today to go over suggestions for the report. Besides McMahon, members are Reps. Durham)D-NC) and Hinshaw (R-Calif).

Hickenlooper, who accused Chairman David E. Lilienthal and the AEC of "incrediable mismanagement," said he will go before the group.

McMahon said the subcommittee will lay its recommendations before the full 18-member group

Officers Hunt Film Actress

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11—(AP)—Police today sought a "clean cut young man reportedly seen with movie bit player Jean Elizabeth Spangler several hours after she disappeared Friday.

Two witnesses identified photographs of the 27-year-old actress as a girl they had seen in a Hollywood cafe with a "neat appearing man between 30 and 35 years of age" early Saturday morning.

Det. W. E. Brennan said a man of that description also had been seen with Miss Spangler the night before she disappeared.

Earlier, an unnamed friend told police that he had talked with her Saturday night in a Hollywood market—some 29 hours after she had vanished. But that clue fizzled under questioning of the man by dectectives. Brennan said the friend changed his story to say that it was Thursday night and not Saturday night that he had chatted with Miss Spangler.

Plans To Kill Four Others Are Revealed

Farmer Is Nabbed, Gun In Hand, As He Lay In Ambush

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 11—A 26-year-old farmer who shot two persons and planned to slay three more was arrested, gun in hand, by Kansas City police early today as he lay in ambush behind a southside tavern.

Thomas Henry Schindorff told police he shot and killed Vaughan Wilmott, 39, and Wilmott's son, John, 18, at the Wilmott farm home seven miles southeast of Pleasant Hill, Mo.

Waiting To Kill Others

When plainclothes policemen James Hitchcock and Kenneth Stewart arrested Schindorff, the young farmer was in a car with his companion, Ellsworth H. Farrell, 26, at the rear of Joseph's cocktail lounge.

Schindorff said he was waiting to kill his sister-in-law, Elizabeth Lafalvoy, and the tavern owner. He told police he "hated" Miss Lafalvoy, his wife's sister.

Farrell said he was one of Schindorf's intended victims but told police his wife was saved when a passing truck interrupted Schindorff's plans to shoot him while they were en route to Kansas City.

Did Most Of Talking

Farrell did most of the talking. He said he and Schindorff had been sleeping in a car the last several days.

He said he remained in the car at the Wilmott farm and could hear the shots from Schindorff's foreign-made pistol.

Farrell said Schindorff came out of the house and said:

"Let's get out of here." They changed from an old car in which they had been riding to the Wilmott car. Farrell said Schindorff reloaded the pistol as they drove away.

Police said the pistol contained only three bullets when Schindorff and Farrell were arrested. There was no immediate accounting for three empty chambers.

Schindorff, who surrendered to police meekly, said he had planned also to kill Night City Marshall Roy Hurst at Pleasant Hill, after the Wilmott shootings, but passed up Hurst when he saw the marshal standing in a group of people on a corner.

City Marshal Henry Stalnaker at Pleasant Hill confirmed that the

Tuberculosis Tests In City Schools Show 71 "Positives"

Seventy-one students showed a positive reaction and 15 showed a doubtful reaction to tuberculosis tests given last week in Lubbock public schools, it was revealed today in a summary announced by Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

A total of 2,,125 students received the tests, a new form called the Plastotest.

The number of positive and doubtful reactors was considerably less than the corresponding figures for last year, when a total of 2,747 students received the tests and 223 showed positive reaction and 74 showed doubtful reaction. Some of the difference in figures may be due to the different type of test used this year. With the test formerly given, results were not considered as accurate as with the new test, the Tuberculosis associateion announced.

Mailing of notices to parents of doubtful reactors was scheduled today, followed by notices to parents of positive reactors, then negative reactors later this week.

Doubtful reactors are being asked to report to the tuberculosis association building at 916 Ave. N Saturday morning for second tests. Positive reactors will be asked to report to physicians for x-ray examination to determine whether active tuber-

Mate's Holdup Story Scuttled

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (U.P.)—Chief Pharmacist Mate James Stratton faced stormy weather at home today explaining to his wife that the $32,000 he said he saved from his navy pay really amounted to only $500.

Stratton startled police yesterday when he said a knife-wielding robber lifted his hoard of cash in a subway holdup. Tears rolled down his face as he pointed to a rip in his shirt, made he said, by the point of the robber's weapon.

His wife, Amelia, even came to the station house to console the sorrowful veteran of 32 years in the service.

Story Scuttled

Then detectives scuttled the whole story. Stratton, 49, never had a life savings of $32,000 as his wife believed since their marriage six years ago. Except for $500, which he still had, any other money he had saved had been gambled away on horses and spent "here and there."

Faced with his wife's request for new clothes, a vacation trip and other items beyond his means, Stratton concocted the robbery episode. Police decided his story was false when he mentioned he had his cash in "$200 bills."

Sympathetic officers preferred no charges. They sent the chief home to navigate his way out the best he could.

Student Injured In Car-Scooter Mishap

An 18-year-old Tech student was injured at 7:40 a. m. today when his motor scooter and a car collided at Twenty-third and Ave. V.

Injured was Allen G. Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Clayton of 2101 Twenty-eighth. He was taken in a Rix Funeral home ambulance to West Texas hospital, where attendants said he suffered a sprained right shoulder and severe bruises.

Police said driver of the car, Jackson A. Rogers, 25, of 2807 First, was given a ticket for negligent collision.

DOUBLE-BARRELED CIRCUS DAY!

Two "Big Tops" Go Up In City Today

Activity was feverish in East Lubbock this morning as two Big Tops went up for double-barreled performances this afternoon and tonight.

The traditional and exciting job of pitching the tents moved into full swing at 9 o'clock this morning as the Clyde Beatty circus arrived on the Fort Worth and Denver to set up its big show south of East Broadway behind the Park View tourist lodge and the Rogers Bros. circus simultaneously moved its trucks in to set up on the fairgrounds.

Elephants Keep Busy

Nine elephants were bending their powerful backs to the traditional task of raising the ridgepoles. Eight of them were with the Beatty circus. Shirley Temple, a huge pachyderm, was with the Rogers Bros. show.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon it looked as if Lubbock would be treated to a war of the circuses, as both shows used every possible device to attract the crowds to one side or the other of East Broadway.

With an overhead of $4,000 a day, the Beatty circus played in Childress last night and performs in Clovis tomorrow, in the final week of its tour before going back to winter headquarters at Hollywood, Calif., said Dave Murphy, press agent for the circus.

When they get back to California the animals will be filmed in a movie similar to the one they made last year with Abbott and Costello, "Africa Screams," Murphy explained.

Later on in the winter they will go to Tokyo, Hong Kong and Honolulu for performances, said Murphy.

The Rogers Bros. circus, a three-ring show, will feature a program including over 24 feature acts. The circus has 160 persons traveling with it, including persons like Eddie Kuhn, animal trainer.

The show is sponsored by the Jaycees of Lubbock, who get 50

Man Killed By Bull Elephant

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Oct. 11 (U.P.)—A huge bull elephant attacked and killed a circus worker here late last night, injuring the man fatally by driving a sharp tusk completely through his chest.

The dead man was identified as George McDonald, about 50, a teamster with the Dailey Bros. circus of Gonzales, Tex.

Police said they could find no witnesses to McDonald's death and were unable to determine what made the elephant attack him.

He was found dying behind the main circus tent, near the spot where the elephant was tethered. A clean chest wound indicated that the elephant's tusk entered McDonald's back and came out below the right breast

Siamese Doctor Says Ills Of His Race Due To Over-Eating

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11—A Siamese doctor said today his government is worried about the people's welfare—because they're "eating too much."

Declaring his country is a "land of plenty' where food is abundant and cheap for rich and poor alike, the doctor said health officials have launched nation-wide program to encourage moderation and and balance in the Siamese diet.

Dr. Sem Pring-Puang-Geo said over-eating and disbalance in diet help account for the fact that digestive-system diseases like dysentery rank high among the maladies of his countrymen.

Representing Siam at the 13th congress of the International Society of Surgery, the doctor told a reporter that even the poorest Siamese has plenty to eat, and that both rich and poor "eat all the time, eat too often."

Thus, he said ,their digestive systems are strained, predisposing them to diseases of that system.

Lashing Rains Dump Tons Of Water In Area

Temperatures Skid As Gales Roar On To Canada's Wilds

(By The United Press)

A mighty storm with hurricane-strength winds left 31 persons dead in the Midwest and West today as it roared north into the Canadian wilderness.

Gales that sometimes hit 100-miles-an-hour lashed the Plains and Great Lakes yesterday as warm air from the South collided with strong breezes tearing down from the Canadian Rockies.

Temperatures Tumble

Heavy rains swept vast sections, pouring tons of water from thick cloud banks. Temperatures, which had been setting new highs for the season, tumbled as the wind and rain struck.

The warm southern air turned the storm back to the north and today it was rushing into the area surrounding Hudson bay.

The storm brought no relief, however, to the sweltering east where temperatures soared toward record maximums for the second day in a row. Forecasters said the heat wave would linger "for as far as we can see into the future." Thousands of New Yorkers sought relief from the humid heat with autumn swims at Coney Island.

Millions In Damage

The Midwest, assessing millions of dollars in damage to crops and buildings from winds that hit 100 miles an hour, had normal autumn weather with a band of showers stretching from Missouri northeasterly to Michigan.

Four of the storm dead were in Wisconsin. One man drowned when his sailboat capsized in the wind, a heavy barn door torn loose by the wind killed another, a third suffered a heart attack struggling against the storm and a fourth was electrocuted when the wind hurled him against a downed wire.

Five of the persons killed in yesterday's bad weather were airmen who met death when their B-17 bomber crashed into Great Salt Lake after encountering "terrible weather" over Salt Lake City.

At West Point, Calif., seven persons including five small children died when an over-heated woodstove set their house afire. The stove had been overloaded with fuel to ward off the autumn chill.

Lineman Electrocuted

Typical of the deaths scattered throughout the midwest was that of lineman William Farmer, 64, of Spirit Lake, Ia., who was electrocuted as he repaired a power line damaged by the storm.

Six persons were killed at

Navy Protests Still Spewing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — A navy weapons expert told Congress today that Russia likely has guided missiles able to find and knock down bombers at about 40,000 feet.

Capt. J. H. Sides said German rocket secrets fell into Russian hands after the war, and that it would now be "folly" to gamble U. S. security on the atom bomb and big bombers alone.

Had the war lasted a year longer, Sides said U. S. bombers would no longer have been able to fly over Germany without prohibitive losses from German anti-aircraft rockets.

Weapons Taken By Russians

These Nazi anti-aircraft developments designed to search out and destroy raiders traveling 485 miles an hour at 65,000 feet, fell into Russian hands "lock, stock and barrel,' Sides said.

The Russians have had plenty of time to get them into production, he said, adding:

"Over four years have elapsed since then. It is foolhardy for us to think of an aggressor's anti-aircraft defenses now in terms of 1945 equipment.'

Sides is deputy assistant chief of naval operations. He testified before the House armed services committee hearing naval charges that defense chiefs are over concentrating on an "obsolete" B-36 bomber.

LABOR TO CONTINUE COOPERATION

AFL And CIO Alliance Balked By Union's Convention Vote

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 11 (AP) —Possibility of a political alliance between the AFL and CIO apparently was wiped out today—at least for the time being—by the former's decision to go its own way.

Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention voted at the closing session last night against making any formal alliance with the CIO or any labor and farm groups.

By unanimous vote the convention adopted a substitute proposal —backed by the organization's top officers—specially calling for separate AFL political action.

Taft's Scalp Sought

Last year the AFL voted to invite John L. Lewis and his United Mine workers to return to the AFL fold. At present, however, there seems no disposition on the part of AFL leaders to woo Lewis, and there is no indication that either he or Philip Murray of the CIO intend to initiate any peace moves.

This won't mean local AFL and CIO groups will stop working together. For instance, Philip Hannah, a leader of the AFL's Ohio state federation, told reporters all major labor organizations in his state are cooperating in an effort to defeat Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) next fall.

The AFL expects to make a new effort to get back the now-independent machinists union, which claims more than 600,000 members. AFL leaders said Al Hayes, new machinists president, has asked for talks toward ending the family argument over which the machinists quit the AFL ranks several years ago.

New Group Planned

The AFL executive council arranged a meeting today to finish up pending business. Arrangements were to be completed for sending a big delegation to London next month to help form a new world union group to oppose the communist-dominated World Federation of Trade unions.

The CIO, now withdrawn from the WFTU, is also supporting the new organization of labor movements of democratic countries.

The executive council also was due to review plans for the AFL's intended big political campaign in the 1950 elections and announced drive to sign up a million new unionists next year.

The only criticism of AFL leadership developing at the convention came from Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical union. In a speech at last night's final session, he complained of a lack of AFL sympathy and moral help in the printers union's legal tussle under the Taft-Hartley act.

Nobody replied to Randolph, and a resolution he sponsored calling for more AFL backing of the ITU was approved without comment.

The convention endorsed most of the Truman administration's legislative program but suggested a $1 hourly minimum wage instead of the 75 cent minimum now being pushed in Congress to replace the present 40 cent floor.

$1,000 Fine Levied In Liquor Violation

One of the heaviest fines in recent years for transportation of alcoholic beverages was levied Monday by County Judge Walter Davies against A. A. (Andy) Tipton.

Davies set a fine of $1,000 and court costs after Tipton entered a plea of guilty to the charge. The fine was paid in cash and Tipton was released.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr said 30 cases of beer were seized when Tipton was arrested Sunday night by the Texas Highway patrol.

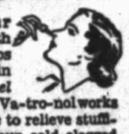

Court action also was taken Monday in another case of liquor law violation.

Forfeiture of a 1939 Ford automobile and of 48 containers of beer to the state was decreed in judgments of 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue.

Harold and Odessa Long, Lubbock negroes, had filed disclaimers in connection with the car case. Long incident to the beer action.

Judge Pardue found that the car had been used in connection with illegal beer trafficking.

Czech Army Officers Jailed In Red Purge

PRAGUE, Oct. 11—(AP)—More Czech army officers have been jailed in the Communist purge that also hit Catholic priests and businessmen, reliable informants said today.

An inimpeachable source said that two officers in Moravia had been sentenced to life imprisonment for high treason. Five co-defendants were given shorter terms. Other sources said many officers had been arrested as "political unreliables" at Olomeuc, also in Moravia.

The roundup of thousands of small business and professional persons was reported diminishing, though it still continued. Other Roman Catholic priests and nuns had been arrested, joining more than 300 church leaders in jail because they oppose government plans to take over control of the nation's churches on Nov. 1.

As yet the government-controlled Czech press has not reported any of these arrests. Diplomats predicted that when the purge is completed, the government will announce liquidation of a huge underground movement.

Gen. Vaughan Makes No Bones About Being Unethical Concerning Government Red Tape

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—Take it from Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan: he's a snipper of government "red tape" with disdain for those who call him "unethical."

"I'm considered in many circles to be very unethical," President Truman's army aide confided to a friendly audience, "and I'm sure I will continue to be.

"There are only two people I have to please—Mr. Truman and Mrs. Vaughan. As long as I please them, I am satisfied.

"I've made various suggestions as to what other people can do. You can interpolate your own interpretation of that."

Testimonial Dinner

The occasion was a $2-a-plate party given in Vaughan's honor yesterday by members of various veterans organizations. They gathered to show appreciation for the various chores Vaughan has handled as President Truman's coordinator of veterans affairs.

It was a far cry from the Senate committee hearings at which investigators, on the hunt for "influence peddling" in Washington, inquired into some of Vaughan's activities.

In fact, the toastmaster called it a party of "a very extraordinary type."

The scene was the upstairs "fame room" of the 400 restaurant where a photograph of Washington made from a navy jet fighter 48,846 feet above the capital appeared on a wall recently after being withheld from general publication.

Dinner Said Overdue

Harold Keats, a past national commander of the AMVETS — American Veterans of World War two—had a gift for the general, a fitted leather case.

It was, Keats said apologetically, such "a little token for a man who has done such a big job."

He said Vaughan, as co-ordinator of veterans affairs, has "never kept track of all the things he has done for us veterans."

Walter E. Leonard, co-ordinator of veterans affairs for the District of Columbia, said the testimonial luncheon to Vaughan was "long overdue."

President Truman was invited to the affair, too, but couldn't make it, Leonard said.

After Keats told of how Vaughan cut "red tape" to expedite nelp for veterans, General Vaughan arose.

"Interference" Resented

He told a story of an army mess sergeant who wanted insecticide to kill some ants that infested his mess hall.

"The quartermaster told him he'd give him the insecticide if the ants were inside the mess hall, but if the ants were outside the mess hall, that made them engineer ants and h'd have to go to the engineers for help," he said with a grin.

He went on to say that "a lot of the difficulty I have encountered with government departments is with top-men or even the second, third or fourth men, but with somebody down the line who resents what he calls outside interference."

In working for veterans, he said, "we have to combat guys like that to get things done."

The general had grave doubts that all the veterans organizations should be united. He said some people advocate uniting all the churches. If that happened, he said, they would be split into "14 factions."

"If everybody agreed with everybody else you couldn't run a horse race," he went on. "You couldn't make progress.

"Think of the difficulty Mrs. Vaughan would have had in capturing me. She had enough competition as it was."

Vaughan told his hosts that "what is of interest to veterans is of interest to the nation."

Everybody stood up and applauded when he finished. There were about 85 persons present. All filed by to shake General Vaughan's hand as he stood with Mrs. Vaughan, the only woman present.

Nehru To Arrive For U. S. Goodwill Visit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—(AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru flew to Washington today for a goodwill visit.

President Truman, who sent his plane "The Independence" to London to bring Nehru here, prepared a short formal welcome for his arrival (expected at 4:30 p.m. EST).

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson was another dignitary on the welcome list. He got to know Nehru while serving as a personal observer for President Roosevelt in India in 1942.

Nehru will be a guest at Blair House with Mr. and Mrs. Truman during his stay in Washington. He will fly to New York Saturday and later will visit other points in the U.S. and Canada. His entire visit will last almost a month.

13-Year-Old Youth Shot Dead During "Mock" Gun Battle

COLMA, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—A 13-year-old boy was killed today in a contest to see which of three chums was "fastest on the draw."

William Randle, the victim, had been left in charge of the family grocery store while his parents visited friends.

Police related:

Business was dull. The boys noticed two guns; decided to determine which was the best gunman.

William grabbed an air rifle; Billy Fisher, 14, a .22 rifle. Robert Williams, 14, gunless, just watched.

A single .22 in the heart killed William.

County officials said they probably would not file charges, explaining:

"It was an accident. The kids were chums."

Tech Summer School Plans To Be Mapped

While most people are probably thinking of winter, Texas Tech officials are thinking about summer.

A meeting will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday to outline courses to be taught in the summer session next year, Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president announced Monday.

All deans and department heads will attend the meeting. More emphasis will be laid on upperclassmen courses this year, Dr. Jones said, because a greater percentage of summer students fall into that classification.

Nursing Affairs Will Be Discussed Here

Each year at the one-day institute held for District 18, Texas Graduate Nurses association, material concerning state, national and international nursing affairs is discussed. At this year's institute which is to be conducted Wednesday at Lubbock Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, Miss A. Louise Dietrich of El Paso, general secretary of the nurses state organization, and Mrs. S. J. Brown of San Antonio, state chairman of the planning and structure committee, will be speakers.

The meeting which is sponsored by the Texas Graduate Nurses association will open at 9 a. m. Nurses and student nurses from the 18 counties of District 18 are to attend.

Miss Dietrich is to speak on world health, federal and state legislation which affects nurses and district problems. Mrs. Brown will discuss "One Organization or Two."

The first formal district institute was held Oct. 5, 1932, at Beaumont. At that meeting, topics discussed were: eight hour day, special training for special jobs, now to assist in distribution of nursing, programs for meetings, state headquarters, study of nursing schools in Texas, the international council of nurses in Paris, France, and biennial statistics. Seventy were present for the program.

Nurses' institutes are held yearly in the 20 districts of Texas. The Wednesday meeting will be the 17th institute for District 18.

Accrediting Nursing Schools To Be Talked

The Kasmeier League of Nursing Education, composed of the faculties of the Schools of Nursing of Northwest Texas and St. Anthony's hospitals in Amarillo and Lubbock Memorial and West Texas hospitals of Lubbock, will meet Wednesday at Lubbock Memorial. Preceding the meeting, a luncheon will be given in the hospital dining room at 1 o'clock.

Miss Julia C. Kasmeier for whom the local league is named will discuss "National Accrediting of the Educational Program in Schools of Nursing." She is educational secretary for the board of Nurse Examiners of Texas. Miss Rosemary Radcliffe, educational director for Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing, is to report her trip to the workshop on accrediting nursing schools which was held in Denver, Colo., in August. Miss Lillie L. Deimler, president of the Kasmeier league, will talk on her trip to the interim Congress of the International Council of Nurses.

Other special guests are to be Miss Esther Snell of the Cerebral Palsy clinic and Mrs. Grace Garrett of the City Health department.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Girl, 17, Asks Help For Sister And Self In Relationship To Drunkard Stepfather

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am almost 18 and I have a younger sister 14, and our mother has an incurable disease and we understand she has only about two months to live.

My father died when I was 10 years old and my mother married again about a year later. The man she married, I'll call him Adam, is a drunkard and he seems to have a special grudge against me. He beats me all the time, and he also would beat my mother before she got down in bed, but he seems to pick on me the most.

The other evening Adam came home drunk and went into my mother's room and closed the door. I told him to leave the door open as I was afraid mother might get out of bed. He came after me and started to choke me. He had me on the floor and I passed out. When I came to my senses he hit me on the head with the heel of his shoe and I passed out again.

STEPFATHER MOSTLY ABUSES OLDER GIRL

MY mother heard the commotion and got out of bed and I thought she would die then and there; and yet this man says he loves her! I am so discouraged. He dislikes both me and my sister, but he always beats me only. What should I do? I hate to leave my mother in her condition; but still I am afraid I may do something to Adam.

Perhaps I should add that I am very quick tempered and when I am aroused I do things I wouldn't do normally; otherwise I am easy to get along with. Can you please help us? (Signed) A. G.

CASE FOR LOCAL WELFARE AGENCY

DEAR A. G.: The kind of help this problem calls for can only be supplied by someone in a position to (1) investigate the family situation at firsthand and (2) bring legal authority to bear, if necessary, in protecting you and your sister—and maybe also your mother, if she wishes—from Adam's psychopathic cussedness.

In the newspaper town through which your letter came to me, there is a help-center known as the Family Society, the address of which you can find in the telephone directory—probably under "F"—and I advise you to go there in person, taking this clipping, to get an appointment with a staff counsellor. I am told this service is qualified to diagnose family troubles and provide expert guidance in working out reasonable solutions.

The fact that your mother is said to be dying of an incurable disease, and that you and your sister are legal minors helplessly exposed to vicious example and vicious abuse in the circumstances, ought to spur the Family Society to immediate action on your behalf, to relieve the bitter stress that falls mostly on your mind and body.

LOOK TO EXPERTS FOR SMOOTH LEAD

INASMUCH as Adam has a sentimental attachment of sorts to your mother that exists independently of his ignorant perverse brutality, it is probable that she in turn has some sentimental concern for him, too. Thus she might feel torn two ways and anxiously plead against your seeking outside help that might enrage or publicly expose him, if she knew in advance that you were considering this precautionary step.

However, Adam's stepfather attitude as described seems too ugly to warrant sentimental tolerance, especially if your mother's days are numbered, because if she dies in the fairly near future, you and your sister obviously would need humane championship at your elbow, to shield you from Adam's chronic hostility and keep your feet on the right road. And in case her life is spared indefinitely, still you seriously need responsible help in easing the conflict.

Therefore, to keep tension at a minimum while getting help, I advise you to consult the Family Agency without talking about it beforehand, and let the agency know that a critical aspect of the problem is how to get started on an improvement program without making bad matters worse in relation to Adam. It's part of the agency's job to engineer a diplomatic lead when expert help has been invited—and here's hoping the staff has the sense and skill to handle that assignment well.—M. H.

CRANBERRY COOKERY
by Carol Reed

This is Cranberry Week. There are Cranberry-Red fashions for your wardrobe . . . cranberry red polish for your nails, and cranberry red lipstick for your lips. And at your grocer's there are shiny cans of new-pack Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce ready for your table. And note this: At the lowest price in years!

Treat your family to this luscious . . . .

Cranberry Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 can Ocean Spray Cranberry Sauce (Jellied or Whole)
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons sugar
8-inch baked pastry shell

Place gelatine in custard cup. Add cold water and let stand 2 minutes. Place custard cup in pan of boiling water until gelatine dissolves. Add to jellied cranberry sauce (crushed with a fork) or whole cranberry sauce. Add salt, lemon rind, and lemon juice; chill until mixture begins to set. Beat egg whites until stiff and beat in sugar. Fold into cranberry mixture. Pour filling into baked pastry shell and chill until firm. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

Top German Red Selected To Head Russian Zone Republic

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—Wilhelm Pieck, aging No. 1 Communist in Germany, was selected today to be the first president of the new Soviet zone republic erected by the Communists with Russian blessing.

Pieck's selection was pre-ordained by the Communists, who had made it known in advance the 73-year-old Moscow-trained wheel horse would get the job.

The Russians announced last night they were replacing military rule in eastern Germany with a civilian control commission and a Russian high commissioner. The United States, Britain and France took that step in western Germany last month.

War Of Words Continues

Russia's supreme representative in Germany, Marshal Vasili I. Chuikov, in a statement last night announcing the end of military rule said also "all administrative functions" exercised by the Russians would be transferred to the new east German government.

The war of words over the rival east and west German republics continued. In Frankfurt last night the western high commissioners in a statement called the new Soviet zone republic an "artificial creation devoid of any legal basis."

"This so-called government," their statement said, "has no title to represent eastern "Germany."

Bonn Setup Rapped

Chuikov in his statement rapped back at the Bonn government in the west. Western Germany, he declared, "is governed by the inspirators of the Hitler regime who do not even conceal their hatred against neighboring countries and their lust for revenge. Their aspirations are supported by foreign powers who have degraded western Germany to willing tools of their aggressive plans."

Chuikov's statement assured the east German regime of the "whole-hearted support of the Soviet union" and termed the creation of the republic a "legal" step. His statement was considered recognition of the government, but all preparations were being made for a ceremonious transfer of sovereignty today.

Police Organized

This is scheduled to take place at 4 p. m. in the old Prussian legislature.

The people's chamber, lower house of the new government's legislature, will meet there to hear the Russian recognition formally announced to them by Vladimir Semionov, the top Russian political advisor in Germany.

Meanwhile preparations went forward for a mass meeting concurrent with the recognition ceremony. The Communists said 100,000 persons would jam Unter Den Linden. The Communist people's police were organized into special brigades to handle the crowds and automobiles were barred from the area of the demonstration.

East German politicians had another major event on their calendar today. The people's chamber will meet with the new upper house to elect a president of the republic. The Communists have already decided 73-year-old Wilhelm Pieck, Moscow-trained party wheelhorse, will get that job.

Tech Team Wins Judging At Fair

Highest honors in the dairy products judging show and contest at the State Fair of Texas have been won by the Texas Tech dairy products judging team, according to word received here Monday night from J. J. Willingham, head of the department of dairy manufactures at Texas Tech, who is in Dallas with the team.

In addition to first place as a team, two of the team's members placed high in individual contests which were held Monday at the fair grounds.

Terry Smith was first in milk and butter judging and Clarence Darter was first in ice cream judging.

Darter Is High Man

Darter also was high man, on a basis of accumulated points, in the entire dairy products contest.

Other team members are Harold Sawyer and Royce Jackson.

The judging contest and show was sponsored by the State Fair this year. Texas Tech teams have won first place honors at the show every year since it has been in existence, with the exception of 1941, when Oklahoma A and M was the high team.

At this year's contest, other teams participating included Oklahoma A & M, Colorado A & M, and Texas A & M.

The Tech team is scheduled to return from Dallas tonight.

Pampa Construction Worker Is Killed

HEREFORD, Oct. 11 (U.P.)—Rodney Thomas Barron didn't trust the temporary elevator on his construction job and fell 50 feet to his death from a ladder. He was 27.

Carl Jeter, an eye witness to the accident, told Deputy Sheriff S. B. Berry that Barron, a Pampa laborer, apparently missed a step. He struck his head on a concrete step at the base of the project.

An inquest returned a verdict of accidental death.

Public Urged To Take Free Laboratory Tests To Help Detect Diabetes Cases

It is a matter of life or death that America's million undiagnosed diabetics be discovered, else those persons ultimately will contribute to the statistics which make diabetes eighth among all diseases as a cause of death.

In Lubbock county, the warning of the American Diabetes Association, Inc., in connection with a nationwide diabetes detective drive, apparently was beginning to elicit more response.

Specimens for urine sugar tests were beginning to arrive at the City-County Department of Health, and rural schools were asking their students to collect specimens to send to the laboratory.

Tests Are Free

One entire family telephoned that its members would have the tests made.

One woman, a diabetic the last 12 years, was driving in her car to the residences of friends, taking containers and asking that they collect urine specimens that she might deliver to the laboratory.

All laboratory tests are free, in connection with Diabetes week. The American Medical association and the U. S. Department of Health, as well as local medical and health groups are cooperating in the detection drive.

Everybody—from cradle to grave—is a "candidate for diabetes."

Fat Persons Warned

Everybody who is akin to a diabetic should have the test made, and determine that all members of his family should do likewise. All fat persons, particularly, should be tested, or persons whose weight has changed quickly.

Results of the tests will be referred to private physicians, and the physicians can interpret findings where tests show positive.

The drive is being conducted in all 48 states and parts of Canada.

"The only thing that will make it a success is to get the urine sugar specimens to the laboratory," it was announced here and elsewhere.

"Be sure the tests are collected, at home, at the city laboratory on the first floor of the city hall, or at the John Halsey Drug store—from one hour to two hours after a meal. A prescription bottle will do. If collected at the drug store or the laboratory, containers will be furnished.

"If they are found and treated, diabetics may expect to live quite normal lives so long as they eat a proper diet, take adequate exercise and receive sufficient insulin to convert the sugar they eat into energy."

Juror Ready With Excuse For Absence

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11. (U.P.) —G. A. Jones of Stephenville appeared with "a good explanation" today for his failure to report for jury service here, after U. S. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson fined him $25.

The judge, after assessing the fine yesterday when Jones failed to appear, said it would not be collected if the juror presented "a good explanation" for his absence.

And Jones had one—he had been excused by Judge Davidson, who forgot to check his name off the jury list.

Miss Greenwaldt Assumes Position

Miss Virginia Greenwaldt, who moved to Lubbock from Austin, began duties today as executive secretary of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

She succeeds Mrs. Elsie Ailes, who resigned recently.

Miss Greenwaldt is a graduate of George Peabody college in Nashville, Tenn., and received nursing education at Brackenridge hospital in Austin. She is a registered nurse.

She formerly served as a clinical instructor at the Baylor university School of Nursing; as night supervisor and as surgical nurse in San Angelo clinic-hospital, and as director of nurses in Hugh Chatham Memorial hospital in Elkin, N. C.

Underworld "Fence" Killed By Gunmen

CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—Elmer "Whitey" Madsen, bigtime underworld "fence," was killed by two gunmen in retribution for welching on payoffs for loot from big interstate freight robberies, police believed today.

Medsen was felled by five slugs last night as he stepped out the door of a store on Chicago's northwest side.

Two boys and a woman who witnessed the slaying said they saw two men run from the scene and jump into a car driven by a third man.

Madsen, 40, was an assistant to Arthur "Fish" Johnson, a known dealer in "hot" merchandise who repuetedly acted as receiver and spotter for the old Dillinger gang.

Former Amarillo Man Claimed At Snyder

SNYDER, Oct. 11 (Special) — Benjamin E. Robinson, local abstractor who had arrived here only three weeks ago and a brother of J. V. Robinson, well-known local abstractor, died Monday about noon of a heart attack.

Robinson came here from Amarillo and was going into business with his brother.

Robinson was born at Hillsboro and was a veteran of World War I.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete today.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Audra Robinson; a two-year-old son, David Bryan; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Robinson of Snyder; two brothers, J. V. of Snyder and James of Dallas; and a sister, Mrs. Virginia Schiebel of Snyder.

Services Slated For Former Lubbock Man

RALLS, Oct. 11 (Special) — Services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Ralls Church of Christ for Neil Goggans, 59, former Lubbock resident, who died of a heart attack at Amarillo Monday night. Burial will be held in the Emma cemetery.

Survivors include a brother, Hugh Goggans of Waco, and two sisters, Mrs. C.H. Hefner of Wellman and Mrs. C. B. Travis of Ralls.

Trial Of Communist Leaders In New York Is Nearing Jury

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — The defense for eleven top Red leaders on trial in federal court contends President Truman order their prosecution because he was spiteful over the loss of communist votes in 1948.

The charge was made yesterday by Harry Sacher, a defense lawyer, as he took over the summation which continues today.

He referred to the President only as "the big white father."

The communists backed Mr. Truman's Democratic party in 1946, Sacher said, but in 1948 they supported Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party.

Minority Rights Affected

Sacher noted that the defendants were indicted on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government just two days before the Progressive party's founding convention began in Philadelphia in 1948.

Sacher told the jurors that they hold the life of the communist party and other minorities in their hands and declared: "you 12 will say whether a minority party in the U. S. will live or die."

The defense, the lawyer said, is fighting not only for the eleven men on trial but also for "the rights of the communist party to live as a political party."

"You will affect the rights of the American people in the literal sense of the word when you have killed a political party," he said.

Trial End Near

The defense, which began its summation Friday, has today and tomorrow to complete its four-day allotment. The prosecution is expected to take one day, followed by Judge Harold R. Medina's charge to the jury. The case is expected to go to the jury late this week after nine months of trial.

Sacher was preceded in summation by defense counsel Richard Gladstein, who asked the jury to consider whether the trial is "an effort to remove from the scene a rival political party."

Saying communist pamphlets and books are the main prop of the government's case, Sacher told the jury:

"The true defendants in this case are the books. Under the banner of destroying Marxism, Hitler began by burning books and ended by burning people."

Sacher said there was no evidence that the defendants ever advocated armed revolt or overthrow of the government. On the contrary, he contended, "the evidence is replete with instances in which the defendants were shown urging anything but force or violence."

Tech Double T Club To Gather Saturday

Double T men who won letters in any sport while enrolled at Texas Technological college will hold their annual election of officers at 11 a. m. Saturday following the Homecoming parade, L. J. Sollis, Lubbock, incumbent president, announced Monday.

To be held in the college's skull practice room, the election will also given ex-lettermen a chance to renew old acquaintances and go en masse to the free luncheon offered alumni in the gymnasium at noon, Sollis said.

Meanwhile, plans for other parts of the Homecoming festivities were being rounded out this week. Preparations being overseen by the student council were all but complete, committee reports at a Monday night council meeting showed.

Nearly all clubs and social organizations are planning open houses for former members and classes will dismiss at 9:30 a. m. Highlight of the day will be the football game between Tech and Baylor university at 2:30 p. m. at Jones stadium.

Man Signs For Role In New Movie

Stage Star Brando Preparing For Role As Wounded Veteran

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11. — My first meeting with stage star Marlon Brando was not impressive. He was lying in a veterans' hospital ward, sound asleep.

He awoke and said groggily, "I'll brush my teeth and get some coffee." He crawled out of bed and lowered himself by his arms into a wheelchair.

The 25-year-old sensation of "A Streetcar Named Desire" is living with paraplegics (men with the lower part of their bodies paralyzed) at Birmingham hospital. He is preparing to portray a wounded veteran in a film called "The Men."

Simple Matters Problem

"You can't understand what its like to be a praplegic unless you have lived as one," said the actor as he was wheeled into the hospital refreshment room for coffee."

"For instance, if you or I drop a pack of cigarettes, it's a simple matter to pick them up. It isn't to a paraplegic."

Nabbing Brando for the film was a catch for Producer Stanley Kramer. Movie offers by the dozen have been dangled before the young actor ever since Broadway critics first caught "Streetcar" and lauded his work.

"The film offers I get are from major studios," explained Omahaborn Brando. "I would never sign with one of them. They dress you up in a tuxedo and tell you to go to this party and do that.

"I would end up like ——— (he named a veteran character actor) waiting by the phone until the studio calls up and says I get a part playing a cannibal in a Johnny Weissmuller picture.

"That's not for me: I value my independence too much."

He signed for "The Men" because he was impressed with Kramer's two hits, "Champion" and "Home of the Brave." But he thinks little of the general run of Hollywood product.

Brando is husky, with a sharp face that becomes good-looking as you watch him. He could probably become a movie star if he wanted to. But he appears to be unwilling to be tied down to the bother that film fame brings.

After two years in "Streetcar" ("too long," says he), he bummed around France until his money ran out. "It was a lot of fun until the last, when I was so broke," he remarked.

DEMO RECORD IS CHALLENGED

Truman Claims For Congress Are Disputed By GOP Leaders

By JACK BELL
Assciated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—White House claims that the Democratic 81st Congress has set a "rather remarkable record" drew prompt Republican disagreement today.

Senator Brewster of Maine, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, expressed his party's line. He told reporters about the only thing the Democrats have to brag about in the current session is the passage of foreign policy laws that the "Republicans helped put over."

The groundwork for a more formal GOP rebuttal may be laid at a meeting of party leaders here tonight with national chairman Guy George Gabrielson.

Trade Bill Cited

Brewster's blast came in reply to the White House's issuance yesterday of a summary of what had been done by Congress in passing bills President Truman favors.

Charles Ross, a presidential secretary, said it showed "a rather remarkable record of achievement''

Brewster disagreed.

"Foreign policy matters are about the only major ones they have put through and the Republicans helped put them over," he said. "The only foreign policy proposal enacted without Republican support was the extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program without the peril point amendment.

"The Democrats are welcome to all of the credit they can get out of that. By the time the people find out what has been done to them, the Democrats may not be so happy about the results."

Achievements Listed

The White House summary, a 13-page document, listed major recommendations of the President to Congress and noted what had been done about them.

With respect to the President's demand for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, the summary said that a bill was passed by the Senate June 30 "in form not in accord with the President's recommendations." That was the version SenatorTaft (R-Ohio) forced through the Senate. The House shelved repeal attempts and did not act on the Taft bill.

Listed as accomplishments were such legislation as that strengthening military unification, continuing the European recovery program and other foreign aid measures, extending rent control and others covering domestic actions.

GOP Huddle Set

Republicans thought this was intended as a 1950 campaign document and talked of answering it with a program of their own, as well as a review of their accomplishments for this session.

This topic, as well as party finances, was expected to come under discursion in Gabrielson's meeting with party leaders.

Those invited included House minority leader Martin of Massachusetts, Taft, who heads the Senate GOP policy committee, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the party floor leader, Brewster and Rep. Leonard Hall of New York, chairman of the House congressional campaign committee.

Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts, party finance chairman, John Haynes of New York, his aide, and former Senator John Townsend of Delaware, senatorial finance campaign head, also were invited.

Gabrielson heads a party group directed to decide whether the Republicans should issue a statement of principles for the 1950 campaign.

This idea has been stalled thus far, however, because of opposition by party members in Congress. They contend that the Republican voting record there stands as the party's program.

More important for the Republicans just now may be the question of how to raise money. Donations have been slow, with the party spending more than it has been taking in, some members said.

Financial Threats To Revue Smiled Away

Sally Rand Show Goes On At State Fair Despite Incidents

DALLAS, Oct. 11. (U.P.)—The Sally Rand show went on today, its leading lady unperturbed by 48 hours of lawsuits and nearriots.

The dancer, who proved that fans were made for something besides fanning and bubbles for a reason not connected with baths, smiled away financial threats to her State Fair of Texas revue which has drawn full houses since it opened here Saturday.

"I'll place my faith in the ability of the great Texas judges," she said after a special show for negro audiences caused her to interrupt her billings.

Hearing Is Set

In a suit filed in 101st district court yesterday, Robert Charles Peck and James W. Hess, Chicago agents, sought 50 per cent of the Rand revnue's proceeds. They claimed they have a written agreement with Ray Brydon, a state fair contracting official, to furnish all "girlie shows" for the fair's midway.

The suit named Miss Rand, Brydon and the Independent Midway Assn.

A hearing was set for Friday before Judge Dallas Blankenship.

Brydon said the agents' contract with the state fair ended when police closed their shows in Louisille and Memphis.

Observers speculated Miss Rand would close her show if the court decision is unfavorable to her.

Meanwhile, the fan-and-bubble dancer said she was "confused" about a Saturday night occurrence at her show.

There was no mistaking that a ticket booth was knocked down and $125 and some 450 tickets taken.

But Miss Rand's explanation of the disturbance differed from a police version.

She said some of her fans—the audience variety—became "overly enthusiastic" over the scantily clad chorines. They swayed so vigorously that the wooden benches collapsed, causing an uproar which resulted in the ticket booth episode. About 50 customers bounced to the ground.

However, police officers said the spectators whose seats collapsed rushed the box office to demand their money back, upsetting the stand and disappearing with the cash and tickets.

Police Unamused By Second-Story Stunts

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP) — Dallas had a free downtown show when a young soldier pulled a horizontal pole sitting stunt outside his second floor hotel window, but police were not amused.

They booked Arthur Durkin, 19, of Camp Hood, Tex., for "disturbing the peace" when he finally came to earth Sunday night.

The soldier first stepped out an open window to a six-inch ledge. Then as crowds gathered, he climbed down on a horizontal pole and sat on the metal pipe which once held a sign 20 feet above the sidewalk.

After a while he made a flying leap to a guy wire and it sagged to the sidewalk.

Police were waiting. They took him to a hospital for quick check-up, found he was uninjured, and then filed charges.

Three People Burned By Flash Explosion

DALLAS, Oct. 11 — (AP) — A housewife and two workmen were burned yesterday by exploding butane gas fumes.

Bernando Vasquez, 29, Lone Star Gas Co. employe, was the most seriously burned. J. R. Kubelka, 25, working with Vasquez, and Mrs. C. C. Williams, 34, at whose home the explosion occurred, received lesser burns.

The two men were moving an empty butane tank from the Williams back yard. Police said it was a flash explosion that did no damage.

Civic Groups Plan X-Ray Examinations

Plans were made Monday night by representatives of several local civic and health organizations to push the free X-Ray examinations for tuberculosis in the county.

Representatives of civic clubs, women's clubs, the Veterans Administration, the Lubbock County Medical association, other health organizations, the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association and personnel of department stores were present for the organizational meeting which was held in the music room of the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school.

The group chose Dr. Jason Gordon, president of the Hub City Kiwanis club, as chairman of the project. The Kiwanis club will cosponsor the drive with the county tubersulosis association. Other organizations will assist.

An effort will be made to get every person in Lubbock county over 15 years of age to take the test, the expense of which is paid by the state health department.

All citizens of the county are urged to plan to spend the few seconds necessary to take the test when a mobile X-Ray unit is in Lubbock Nov. 2-12. The unit will be at Texas Tech from Nov. 25 to 29, when all Tech students and personnel will be given the examination.

British Ballot Talk Gaining

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Britain may have a general election in late November, three right wing London newspapers said today.

The conservative Daily Mail and Lord Beaverbrook's independent Daily Express both said the Conservative party chairman, Lord Woolton, believes that Labor government soon will call for an election on Nov. 21.

The Conservative Telegraph also said a November ballot might be in the cards, but the Telegraph said the voting day may be Nov. 24.

The Mail's political correspondent said government spokesmen had told him no "final decision" had been reached on the election date "but that a November election could not be ruled out."

Term Ends In July

The prediction for Nov. 21 also was voiced by Beverly Baxter, a Conservative member of parliament, who told a political meeting he believed that would be the date for the voting.

The rash of election guesses was touched off by Health Minister Aneurin Bevan's remark Sunday that an early election date would be announced soon. The Labor government's five-year term runs until next July.

There has been widespread speculation, however, that Prime Minister Attlee would use his authority to set an earlier date before higher prices resulting from currency devaluation would be felt by Britain's voters.

CAPACITY INCREASED

HOUSTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — The capacity of Houston's veterans hospital has been upped from 500 to 600 patients, it has been announced.

Little Theatre Play Opens Season Here

The Lubbock Little Theater opened its second season last night when an appreciative audience of approximately 400 people saw the presentation of Eugene O'Neill's play, "Ah, Wilderness," in the O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium.

Gene Looper, playing the leading role of the father, turned in a fine performance, as did Maxine Wilson in the role of the mother. The night's outstanding dramatic offering, judging by the audience's taste, came from William Murphy, who played the role of the son, Richard Miller, whose revolt against the conventions of the day are the mainspring of the play's action.

The play was directed by Weldon George, who appeared in principal roles last year, and his direction of the O'Neill play seemed pleasing to the theater-goers

The play, the proceeds from which will be used to pay royalties and provide more costumes and scenery for future productions, was dedicated to the personnel of Lubbock Air Force base and their families.

The scenes and costumes in last night's play were authentic and convincing. The plot of the play envolves the family of Nat Miller, a blunt, home-loving publisher of a small town newspaper in Connecticut at the turn of the century, and their problems.

The cast of characters for the play numbered 15. Charles Taylor acted as stage manager and Bert McGinnis, jr., directed the lighting. Mrs. McGinnis handled the properties while Mrs. Marshall Harvey designed the costumes with the aid of Mallory Byrd. J. Glenn Garner served as makeup supervisor.

The next performance of the O'Neill play will be held at 8 p.m. today in the same auditorium.

Season tickets can still be purchased at the Charles William Aydelotte agency at 1313 College Ave. for $6.50. Tickets also will be sold at the door. Reserved seats will be $1.80, general admission $1.20, and students, 60 cents, tax included.

The Lubbock Little Theater group, which plans four more plays during the season, will present "The Male Animal" early in December.

SWC Teams Face Rough Slate

SMU Gridders To Meet Rice

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Moaning Matty Bell was on record today.

"We're likely to get beat" by Rice Saturday, the Southern Methodist coach observed yesterday. Then, after looking at his regulars fail to stop reserves using Owl plays, "if we don't do any better than that we'll take a real drubbing."

Another Southwest conference coach, John Barnhill of Arkansas, had some comment to make on an impending game.

Barnhill said he expected Arkansas to be better against Texas than Baylor, because: "We couldn't be flatter or worse."

The rest of the news that came out of conference training camps was more of a routine nature. The usual reports of injuries or of no injuries were heard.

Two Ponies Hurt

Southern Methodist has two regulars, Walter Roberds, guard, and James Marion, linebacker, who are due to ride the bench against Rice Saturday night in Dallas. Roberds has a knee injury and Marion an injured ankle.

Bell said he saw Rice beat New Mexico, 55-0, and while the opposition wasn't very strong, "they showed me they had everything it takes."

Rice Coach Jess Neely may juggle his lineup a bit for this week's big game. He was considering shifting Red Proctor to the safety spot on defense and Van Ballard to right halfback on offense.

John Kelly, who held both positions in the Owls' first two games, missed the New Mexico game because of a leg injury.

Arkansas' crack fullback, Leon (Muscles) Campbell is due to return to action this week. He saw no service as his mates lost to Baylor last week, 13-35. The Razorbacks came out of that licking in good physical shape.

Texas In Top Shape

Texas, which lost to Oklahoma, 14-20, will be in top shape for its opening conference game. Fullback Ray Borneman, Guard Danny Wolf, Left Halfback Billy Pyle, and Tackle Ken Jackson are ready to go.

Texas Christian university Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer sent his Frogs through a pass defense practice yesterday. He expects Texas A. and M. to start passing in a hurry. No new injuries were reported from the Frogs' 13-6 win over Indiana.

A. and M. is looking for a new safety man. John Christensen suffered a shoulder separation in the Louisiana State university game last week and will be out for a couple of weeks.

There were no other serious injuries in the Aggie camp. Baylor had two tackles and two defensive centers miss practice yesterday, but Coach Bob Woodruff said it is too early to tell whether they will miss the Texas Tech game in Lubbock this week.

Steve Dowden and Wesley Roberts, tackles, and Buddy Attaway and Glenn Taylor are ailing.

Qualifying Rounds For Tourney Slated

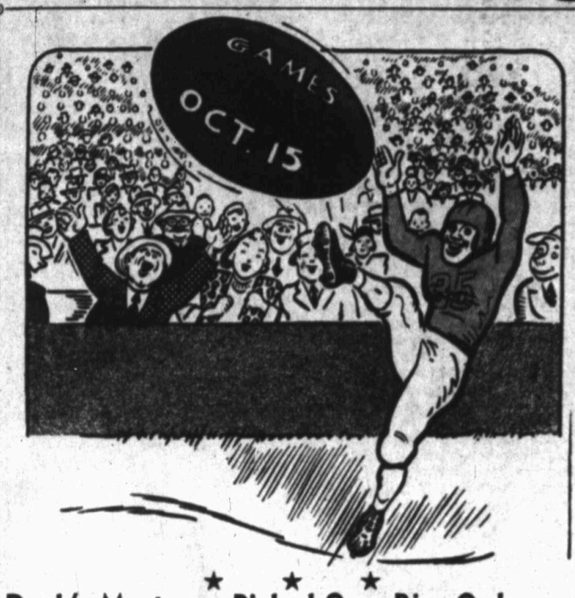

The stage is set for this week's opening of the annual City Open golf tournament.

Chick Trout, sr., tourney director, has announced that qualifying rounds will be shot Friday, Saturday and Sunday over the Lubbock Country club coures.

Each player must complete his first two matches by Oct. 23, and all other matches by Oct. 30. A dinner for all participants will be held the night of Nov. 1 in the clubhouse.

Hemphill-Wells has donated awards for the winner, runnerup and consolation winner in each flight. In addition, Powers Sporting Goods company will provide a rotating trophy for the 32-man championship flight.

Entry fee for the tourney is $5 which includes cost of the Nov. 1 dinner. Any profits derived from the event will be donated by the Lions club, sponsor of the meet, to the Girl Scout camp at Buffalo lakes.

Doak's Mustangs Picked Over Rice Owls

Notre Dame Favored To Beat Tulane In Spotlight Clash

BY FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Signals on! Officially this week-end is regarded in many quarters as the first big one of the football season. That's because the memorable baseball season and the World Series are out of the way.

It's hard to put the finger on any one big game. There are so many.

Feature of the Big Nine will be the Northwestern-Michigan test. Northwestern is picked to help end Michigan's reign in the conference. In the same league, Minnesota is the selection over Ohio State and Indiana over Iowa.

Another important game in this section pits Tulane, a southern power this year, against Notre Dame, possibly the No. 1 team in the nation despite wails to the contrary. Notre Dame should top the Green Wave.

The east offers some traditional games but the action seems one-sided with Army the pick over Harvard, Penn the victor over Columbia and Cornell to trim Yale.

One of the south's features is the North Carolina-Wake Forest game at Chapel Hill, N. C. North Carolina is the choice in a tight battle.

The southwest has two conference battles. Texas is picked over Arkansas and Southern Methodist, led by Doak Walker, is likely to roll up a score on Rice. Feature in the far west is the annual California-Southern California game. Cal is picked and probably will do better than its 13-7 victory of last fall.

Other selections are:

EAST

Princeton to edge Brown.
Dartmouth to trim Colgate.
Holy Cross to beat Duquesne.
Penn State over Nebraska.
Rutgers over Syracuse.

MIDWEST

Missouri over Illinois.
Navy to surprise Wisconsin.
Michigan State over Wm. and Mary.
Mississippi State to beat Cincinnati.
Iowa State over Kansas State.
Oklahoma to rout Kansas.
Oklahoma O & M over Drake.

SOUTH

Tennessee to beat Alabama.
Duke to nip North Carolina State.
G. Washington over VPI.
Virginia to beat Wash. & Lee
Georgia Tech over Auburn.
Vanderbilt to crush Florida.
VMI to rout Richmond.

SOUTHWEST

Baylor to trim Texas Tech
TCU to crush Texas Aggies

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

Oregon over Colorado.
Utah State over Wyoming.

FAR WEST

Washington State to beat Idaho.
Idaho State over Montana.
Stanford to trounce Washington.
Oregon State over Montana.
UCLA to top Santa Clara.

Gridiron Experts Calling Baylor Bears' Adrian Burk "The Perfect Quarterback"

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

WACO, Oct. 11—They're calling Adrian Burk "the perfect quarterback" at Baylor these days. That's on account of he's usually a couple of jumps ahead of the opposition both in thinking and acting.

He's the fellow Coach John Barnhill of Arkansas said was "the greatest passer I have ever seen." This comment came after Burk had piloted Baylor to a 35-13 victory over the Razorbacks. Jack Russell, the old Baylor athlete who is a star of professional ranks and is known around here as the greatest end of all-time, looked Adrian over and commented: "He's the greatest passer since Sammy Baugh."

Baugh Holds Records

That's quite a compliment. Baugh, you know, is the guy who holds about all the records for passing in professional football.

But Burk isn't just a passer. He's a clever ball-handler under the T formation and the smartness of his quarterback was well-illustrated in the way he did everything Arkansas didn't think he'd do. Or he handled what he did so well the Razorbacks couldn't stop it.

His value to the undefeated, untied Baylor team is attested in the fact that he has thrown 45 passes, completed 29 for 308 yards and five touchdowns. He has made two touchdowns himself. Thus he has accounted for all except three of Baylor's scores this season.

Frank Broyles, the old Georgia Tech passing star, is responsible for Burk's development. Adrian was only a fair prospect when he came to Baylor from Kilgore Junior college. He wasn't considered even the best back on the Kilgore team that played in the little Rose Bowl in California in December, 1947.

But Broyles, the Baylor backfield coach, liked his looks and worked with him hour after hour to develop his passing and ball-handling abilitiy.

GRID COACH DIES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11 (AP)—John Farrell Macklin, who in five years of coaching built up one of the best records in the football record books, died at his home in the Philadelphia suburbs yesterday. He was 65.

Lubbock Holds Light Workout

An end to the vacation that existed in the Westerner camp yesterday was in sight for this afternoon, with Coach C. R. Pattison expected to send the Lubbock squad through an intensive session in preparation for Friday night's non-conference battle with the Pampa harvesters of District 1-AA.

But yesterday the Lubbock squad had a relatively easy time. They were sent through a long offensive session with emphasis on passing. Backs were chucking both long and short passes, more short ones than anything else, but longer passes to keep the ends running.

Coach Bill Floyd, meanwhile, was working his linemen on a dummy scrimmage at the other end of the practice field. He was perfecting blocking assignments, improving the timing and generally whipping the outstanding Westerner forward wall into top shape.It was the line that turned in such a magnificent job Friday night in rolling over Vernon.

Concentrate On Punting

It was a long afternoon, even though there was no contact work. Coach Pattison ran the boys, keeping them in condition and ready to go a gruelling 60 minutes. The early portion of the afternoon was concentrated on punting, with runbacks by the backfield. Later the drill was shifted to passing, with the ends and linemen getting in a lot of running.

To top off the conditioning drill, Coach Pattison sent the squad through long sprints and wind sprints varying from short distances to 100 yards, with laps around the field to finish off the session.

Squad In Good Shape

Coach Pattison's squad came through the Vernon game in good shape, with no injuries. The cheerful Westerner mentor remarked that so far they had been mighty fortunate in not having any serious injuries and he hoped that it would continue. The squad is in good shape, both mentally and physically.

The biggest task facing the Lubbock coaches this week will be to guard against overconfidence on the part of their charges. Vernon lost to Pampa's Harvesters, this week's foe, by only one point, 8-7, and Coach Pattison is fearful that the Westerners may think they have a cinch game. He avers that that would be a mistake.

Coach Pattison points out that Wichita Falls considered Pampa lightly and at one time trailed 6-0. Pampa, through a bad break, purposely gave Wichita a safety to make the score 6-2 and then rallied to come from behind for a 14-6 victory. But before they achieved it, Pampa scared the daylights out of them.

Hardest Game Of Year

The Lubbock coach expects the hardest game of the year so far and pointed out that Pampa has a big line, fast backs and a good, fighting team. He is convinced that if the Westerners don't hustle all the way, they'll be in for a bad night. Moreover, he pointed out that Pampa, the last team to defeat Lubbock, was losing 19-6 to the Westerners, only to come back and score a 26-19 victory.

So work in the Westerner camp this week will be intensive and the coaches are not likely to take bad work lightly. There will be concentrated drill to improve present strong points and to bring weaker ones up to snuff.

Negro Fighter Near Death After Bout

DETROIT, Oct. 11 (AP)—Talmadge Bussey, 26-year-old Detroit lightweight negro, lay near death today in the hospital where he was rushed after being knocked out in the ninth round of a ring battle last night.

Surgeons at St. Mary's hospital performed a delicate operation to remove a blood clot from his brain. They called his condition "critical."

Bussey and Luther Rawlings of Chicago fought in the feature attraction at the Arcadia roller rink. It was scheduled for 10 rounds.

Port Arthur Holds Lead In Grid Poll

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (U.P.) — Texarkana and Baytown relinquished top 10 ratings to Galveston and Grand Prairie today in the weekly Dallas News poll picking Texas' best high school football teams. ½

The two undefeated, untied squads moved into ninth and tenth positions as Port Arthur continued to lead the pack.

Odessa's 34-21 victory over Amarillo vaulted the team from tenth place to fifth.

The rankings (150 points possible):

1—Port Arthur 135 (8 1sts)
2—Wichita Falls 127 (4 1sts)
3—Lubbock 109 (3 1sts)
4—Marshall 93
5—Odessa 80
6—Corsicana 67
7—Highland Park 57
8—Amarillo 33
9—Galveston 27
10—Grand Prairie 22

(Second 10—Baytown, Austin, San Angelo, Ysleta and Breckenridge, Lamar, Henderson, Sweetwater, Waco, Pampa).

Scrimmage Is Held By Tech

Coach Dell Morgan, moderately well pleased with the showing of Texas Tech's Red Raiders against Tulsa Saturday night, sent the varsity players seeing the most action through a light workout yesterday, but turned the heat on the reserves.

Varsity players seeing the most action in Saturday's bruising game were sent to the practice field for a long drill on offensive tactics to be employed this week. The remainder of the varsity went through a long scrimmage against the freshmen, who were armed with Baylor plays.

Fish Take To Air

The freshmen, using Baylor plays, generally didn't go far through the line, but they found the aerial route a pretty short distance to the goal. W. H. Barker, the outstanding halfback from Colorado City, took one short pass from Carl Madison, Alabama quarterback, and went over 40 yards to score. Waldo Young also looked good on short power plays through the line.

But the varsity players also found the range, with Fullback J. W. Thompson several times breaking loose for long gains. He was getting some good assistance, with Halfback Herman Bailey at one time throwing a key block that shook Thompson loose for the distance.

Hawkins Receives Bruises

The Raider squad came through the game in pretty good physical shape. Quarterback Ernest Hawkins received a heavy bruise on his right leg just above the knee from whiplashing and Guard Dan Pursel pulled a charley horse in his left leg. Halfback Cal Stevenson received a foot in the mouth early in the first quarter and the upper lip still is badly swollen.

Trainer Mason Gorby, however, declared that the squad would be in the best shape it had been in since the opening game of the year. He said it would be even better than it was for the Tulsa game, when it was more nearly full strength for the first time this year.

Fullback Bud Conley received another blow on his sore ankle that hurt and End Jack Davis had his sprained ankle hurt again yesterday, although only slightly. And center J. B. Mahler suffered a slight ankle sprain in the Tulsa game, although it will not keep him out of action.

Tech's defenses will be thrown up this week against quarterback Adrian Burk, one of the outstanding passers in the nation. Burk was singled out by Arkansas Coach John Barnhill as the greatest passer he'd ever seen, following the Bear's outstanding performance against Arkansas Saturday.

Baylor apparently doesn't have a running back that poses the threat that George Sims posed in the past, but Fullback Jerry Mangum is a line-crasher good for consistent gains every time he carries the ball.

Coach Morgan today will start throwing up a defense for the Bears, who will outweight Tech on defense, as well as offense, and who have a great aerial game.

Mustangs Slip To 10th Spot

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—No one section of the country dominates the college football picture today.

The second Associated Press nationwide poll of the season shows the Midwest, led by Notre Dame, and the South each with three places among the top 10 teams. The Far West had two, while the East and Southwest each had one.

Notre Dame Second

Notre Dame, second in the first poll last week, moved to the fore but Army, thanks to its 21-7 conquest of Michigan on Saturday, made the most spectacular jump—from seventh to second.

Michigan was spilled from first to seventh. The sports writers and sportscasters, who gave the Wolverines 34 first place votes last week, awarded them none this time. However, Michigan got enough other ballots to remain in the upper 10.

A total of 172 writers and broadcasters voted this week, compared to 80 during the baseball crush.

Notre Dame, victorious over Purdue Saturday, 35-12, this week received 67 first place votes for 1,489 points. Army, with 58 firsts and 1,459, got within 30 points of the lead. The Cadets represent the only eastern threat for top honors.

Oklahoma Gets Third

The Southwest is represented in third position by Oklahoma. There were no changes in the latest voting for third, fourth, fifth and sixth place, with Oklahoma being followed by Tulane, Minnesota and North Carolina.

Back of no longer invincible Michigan in eighth place is Kentucky, whose 25-0 rout of Georgia Saturday boosted them from 15th. California, 10th behind Southern Methodist last week, moved past that idle team, the two swapping positions.

Southern Cal Slips

Southern California was the only team to fall from the first 10, slipping from eighth to 12th. By playing a 13-13 tie with Southern California, Ohio State remained at the top of the second 10, or 11th position in the poll, while the Trojans were close behind. They had 181 points to Ohio States' 206.

With the exception of Michigan, all of the top 10 teams are unbeaten and untied.

The top 10 teams and their opponents this week follow:

Notre Dame (1) vs. Tulane (4); Army (2) vs. Harvard; Oklahoma (3) vs. Kansas; Minnesota (5) vs. Ohio State (11); North Carolina (6) vs. Wake Forest; Michigan 7) vs. Northwestern; Kentucky (8) vs. Citadel; California (9) vs. Southern California (12), and Southern Methodist (10) vs. Rice.

DODGERS SELL FIVE PLAYERS

Major Clubs Start Building For 1950

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—With the World Series now a part of baseball history, the major league teams continue building for 1950.

The reconstruction began in the final month of the season but the tight pennant races in both leagues and the series took the spotlight.

No team in either league is standing pat. They can't afford to.

The newly crowned champion New York Yankees are looking for pitchers (who isn't?) a first baseman and long ball hitting outfielder.

The uncertainty of the physical well-being of Tommy Henrich, Joe DiMaggio and Johnny Mize necessitates the Yanks' search for a first baseman and an outfielder who can sock with authority.

Brooklyn's National league champion Dodgers also are on the prowl for pitchers but they hope to obtain that rare commodity from their vast minor league empire.

The Dodgers also want to chop off at least six members of their championship club in order to add some of their budding minor leaguers to their reserved list.

At present the Dodger reserve list totals 39, one less than the legal 40. Unless the Dodgers can jettison part of their present crew they stand to lose some green but valued timber in baseball's annual player draft next month. The Dodgers, along with the other clubs must submit their reserve list to Commissioner A. B. Chandler by Oct. 16.

Dodger President Branch Rickey held an informal press conference yesterday discussing future Dodger plans.

Rickey told the gathering he would like to get rid of at least a half dozen players. He refused to name the sextet but reports have Outfielders Marv Rackley, Dick Whitman, Mike McCormick, a third baseman and Pitcher Ralph Branca as the most likely heads to roll.

Five Players Sold

Rickey started putting his house in order at the close of the season, selling five prize minor leaguers for an estimated $300,000 and seven players.

He sold Outfielders Sam Jethroe and Bob Addis to the Boston Braves, First Baseman Irv Noren to Washington and Shortstop Chico Carrasquel to the Chicago White Sox.

The sales may be forerunners of other deals but Rickey is the winner anyway. Besides his material gains, Rickey has packed up the reserve lists of three competitors and thus reduced their chances of drafting his players. All of the players he received have been consigned to the farm.

The Philadelphia Athletics also have been active.

Connie Mack is stocking his team with infielders. He has purchased three third basemen—Frankie Gustine, Kermit Wahl and Gene Markland. Gustine, former National leaguer, was obtained from Los Angeles, Wahl from Montreal and Markland from Buffalo. In addition, the A's swapped Catcher Buddy Rosar to the Boston Red Sox for utility Infielder Billy Hitchcock.

Trade rumors are ripe in every other major league city. Observers believe this off season will result in the biggest bartering sessions since the end of the war.

Rickey Silent On Manager For 1950

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (U.P.) — Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, today called Burt Shotton "a sound manager" but refused to say whether he would be retained as the Dodgers' pilot in 1950.

Rickey made the statement in the face of much "second-guessing" over Shotton's direction of the Dodgers in their defeat by the New York Yankees in the World Series.

"Burt is a sound manager," Rickey said, "and I'll go along with his first guess."

The Brooklyn prexy admitted, however, one of his biggest disappointments was that "Preacher Roe did not pitch the last game."

Roe suffered a painful finger injury while pitching the Dodgers to their lone victory over the Yankees, 1 to 0, last Thursday. He would have been the logical choice to pitch in Sunday's final game, but was passed up in favor of Rex Barney because the injured finger pained him too much.

First amateur ever to place first or second in the U. S. Open golf championship was Walter J. Travis, who tied for second in 1902.

Panhandle Boasts Grid Powers

Upsets Mark Class A Play

(By The Associated Press)

One of two finalists in Class B football's championship game last year stands a good chance to get another crack at the crown.

New Braunfels last week buried Yoakum under a 62-7 score to roll on undefeated and untied with 182 points to four opponents' 33.

The Unicorns lost to Monahans in the title tilt last year, but there's not too great a chance they'll get revenge against the Lobos.

Wink blanked Monahans, 14-0, last week to dump the defending champs from the unbeaten ranks and from the favorite's spot in district 5-A.

Kermit Leads Loop

Kermit, which downed Crane 19-13 for its fifth conference win, moved to the top of the heap in this district.

The Panhandle's crop of powerful Class A elevens continue to move along.

Phillips, Dalhart and Hereford kept an unbeaten pace, but Floydada dropped out of this class on a 18-19 defeat to Abernathy. It was once-beaten Abernathy's third District 3-A win.

Post continues to set the pace in District 4-A.

When Phillips dumped Childress 26-20 last week, it was the 101st victory for the Blackhawks since Coach H. C. 'Chesty" Walker took over in 1939. A 63-yard pass play in the final minute of play gave them their latest win.

Wildcats Drub Cubs

J. S. Fikes' strong Littlefield Wildcats dumped Class AA Brownfield, 47-7, to continue to look like the class of District Four's north zone.

Little Lefors, with a squad of only 22 and a total enrollment of 118, has to be voted into District 2-A. But it doesn't need permission to score touchdowns and has rolled up 122 points to seven for four opponents this season.

Phillips, which has 190 points in five games, should be close to the state's top scoring team. Jasper, which has 160 for four games, didn't play last week.

Lavega bounced into the favorite's role in District 19 by beating Itasca, 46-6.

Falfurrias Is Hit

Franklin looks good in District 20, while Rosebud replaced Killeen as the top team in 21-A. Killeen lost to Belton as Rosebud was having an easy time beating Georgetown, 34-0.

Lampasas and Burnet continue to dominate District 22 and it is all Brenham in District 23.

Falfurrias, which had been touted as one of South Texas' top Class A clubs, suffered a hard blow when its ace back, Jaek Wilkens, was declared ineligible. Records showed Wilkens was already 18 years old.

Falfurrias can finish the season but without Wilkens may have a hard time edging out Sinton in 29-A.

Sinton last week polished off Beeville 27-12.

White Oak, expected to be an East Texas power, thumped Atlanta, 18-0, last week to live up for at least one more week to advance notices.

Michigan Faces Big Rebuilding Problem

Ann ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 11 (U.P.) Wounded Michigan's hopes for a third straight Big 10 football title hinged today on Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's battle against time to remold the crumbling Wolverine passing attack.

Oosterbaan had just four days to put the aerial game in order before opening conference play against Northwestern Saturday.

In snapping Michigan's 25-game victory streak, Army unearthed passing weaknesses in the Wolverine offense and defense. Closemouthed Ooosterbaan, however, didn't give an inkling of what new tactics he might throw at the Wildcats. He said he didn't contemplate any lineup changes.

The Michigan mentors' job was made somewhat easier by the quick recovery of passing ace Chuck Ortmann who saw only two plays against Army before he was carried off with a head injury. The junior left halfback was expected to be ready to go at Evanston, Ill., Saturday.

Today a year ago — The Cleveland Indians won the 45th World Series, defeating the Boston Braves, 4-2.

Three years ago—Cleveland traded Pitcher Allie Reynolds to New York for Infielder Joe Gordon.

Five years ago—Baltimore won the little World Series with a 5-3 decision over Louisville.

LOUIS SLATES BOUTS

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11 (AP)—Joe Louis is planning to begin training soon at Pompton Lakes, N. J., for a series of what he calls "ten-round exhibition bouts with ten-ounce gloves."

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

It's all over for another year and the thousands who jammed into New York for what most persons thought would be a long World Series are on their way home. We thought it would be a long set, with the Dodgers coming out on top,, although our sentiments were with the Yanks. We thought that youth, the apparently better Brooklyn pitching staff and the Dodger power and speed would topple the American Leaguers. As is so often the case, we were wrong . . . and we're glad. The Dodgers didn't steal enough bases to get the sheriff even mildly interested. The power degenerated into a powder puff attack. The Dodgers grew older with each game. And the pitching staff was a sad misnomer from the third game on.

We though Manager Casey Stengel took a long and maybe foolish chance in sending big Vic Raschi to the mound in the final game. Here was the spot to gamble with another hurler, keeping the big righthander ready for use on Monday, or even Tuesday. But Stengel apparently wanted to win as fast as he could and was willing to gamble on the ability of his team to hit any Dodger pitcher and for Joe Page to come through in relief, if needed. Page was needed and came on to turn in his usual neat relief stint. It might have been a more riotous Series if the Yanks hadn't had Page. But they had him and he was death to the Bums. All in all, we figure Brooklyn would like to steal a Page from the Yankees. This was their third defeat by the Gothamites.

It wasn't a great Series by any stretch of the imagination, although pitching in the first two games, yes, even the first three, was magnificent and worthy of being classed with the all-time fine efforts. Two consecutive 1-0 scores can't be ignored and it wasn't because neither of the teams had hitting ability. They had it, but the pitching was goldlined. The fielding also was, on the whole, pretty good. Duke Snider and Joe DiMaggio turned in fielding gems in the outfield, while it would be hard to pick out any great infield plays. However, Phil Rizzuto and Jerry Coleman shaded their rival second base combination considerably throughout the Series, both in the field and at the plate. Roy Campanella turned in the outstanding backstopping performance. But in the end, it was the better balance of the Yankees that turned the Series the American Leaguers way again.

One game doesn't make a season, nor does it prove anything, but it's interesting to note that Tech tried 14 passes Saturday night and completed only four. And those four passes were all thrown by Ernest Hawkins, the much maligned quarterback, who has no ability to pass, according to some people. Moreover, one of the passes went for a touchdown (to Ike Stuver, not to Tim Hatch, as we erroneously reported, for which we apologize). And of the two passes intercepted by Tulsa, neither were thrown by Hawkins. In addition, the Hawk played a great game on defense and set up the final score by an interception. All of which will convince no one who isn't interested in the facts and still wants to think he's pretty bad. We don't.

The game this week should test Raider defenses to the limit. Adrian Burke is, according to Arkansas Coach John Barnhill, "the greatest passer I've ever seen." If he's better than Slinging Sam (not the shaving man), Davey O'Brian, Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne and others, he must be pretty good. There's one encouraging thing; Tech's pass defense was better Saturday night than at any time this year. Tulsa, one of the more air-minded institutions, could complete only five of 21 against Raider defenses and four were intercepted. For that matter, Raider backs might have intercepted more, but in two cases deliberately grounded the ball, a rare case of thought on the part of the backs. But Burke definitely is a threat and Homecoming fans may be in for a most unpleasant afternoon through the courtesy of Coach Bob Woodruff and the powerful Baylor Bears.

If Tech players could get the enthusiasm and ability that Lubbock High school players are possessed with, the Raiders might provide their fans with a more interesting spectacle. Man for man, Westerner players do the same things Tech players do—only better. The high school backs run harder than Tech backs, on a comparative basis. By the same token, the Westerner linemen BLOCK, both in the line and downfield. And their tackling generally is harder. For some reason, Coach Pat Pattison has imbued his players with more determination and they do a wonderfully workmanlike job. It's sheer beauty to watch the Westerners on offense. We wish that Raider players had the same live of the game that the Westerners apparently have.

The biggest laugh of the week in the sports world came from Houston and Cardinal Manager Eddie Dyer last week. You may remember that Dyer vehemently defended his players, saying that they didn't choke up in the last week of play. We wouldn't have any respect for a manager if he didn't stick up for his players. But when Dyer blames it on his team being tired and having injuries, we snort loudly and in disdain. What, pray tell, were the Dodgers, Yankees and Red Sox but tired? What, moreover, was the total injuries carried by the Yanks, who won their league and the World Series? If Dyer was trying to alibi loss of four out of five games, when all the Cards needed were two victories, he picked the wrong alibi. Better he should order a carload of the Yankee intestinal fortitude for his players.

THE ROUNDUP: Bill Henderson fights an exhibition in Carlsbad ,N. M., tomorrow night . . . Tech was the first team to hold Tulsa scoreless in Tulsa's last eight games. And it was only the third whitewash in Tulsa's last 84 games . . . Don't forget the City Open Golf tournament opening this week . . . Bet some of the Hubbers who played Denver City Sunday are a little sore (physically) now . . . Hook Davis of Hardin-Simmons, who had to be carried off the field Saturday night, may play no more ball, which would be (and we're serious) a shame. He's a great back by any standards . . . And the report from Houston is that Jess Neely did everything possible in an effort to hold the score down (55-0 over New Mexico). Tech plays Rice Oct. 29. Ouch.

Coaches Speak To Grid Club

It was Coach Damon Hill's night at the Quarterback club last night and he made the most of it.

The genial Dunbar High school coach, whose team lost to Wichita Falls Thursday night in Wichita, sent the crowd into paroxysms of laughter in describing the game and the officials.

Hill told of a penalty against the Panthers on the same play that resulted in a touchdown being called back. He went onto the field to ask the officials what the penalty was for and why they had called it.

"Didn't Press Point"

He got nowhere with the officials. One of them asked him why he wanted the information and then told him it was none of his business. As Hill started to protest, the official pulled a knife out of his pocket.

"I don't like to run," Damon declared, "but I'm not afraid to, only I hate to run in public. But this is one time I didn't hang around to press a point."

Coach Pattison Talks

Hill was joined on the program by Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school, Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Tech and Coach Allie White of Tech.

Pattison warned club members that they could forget Pampa's 8-7 victory over Vernon, the team Lubbock beat here 42-12 Friday night. The Westerner mentor said that Pampa had one of the better teams in this area and that Wichita Falls actually was trailing the Harvesters in their game last week.

Wichita finally won the game, 14-6, but it was an uphill battle and they had a real fight on their hands. He said that he expected a stiff battle here this week and that unless the Lubbock boys took the game seriously, they certainly could lose.

Pattison also praised the work of his squad last week. He said that they played alert ball and showed again that they had a great love to play. He said that he was a little disappointed in the inconsistency of his reserves, but blamed that more on over-eagerness than lack of ability.

Officials Blasted

Morgan discussed the officiating in the Tulsa-Tech game, remarking that the officials had let it get out of hand instead of squashing trouble when it started. He was critical of a couple of decisions, but he also was critical of the Raiders for their inability to move better in scoring positions. He stated that they had worked on the failing of getting offside and for backfield in motion, but that it still occurred when they had a chance to score.

But the Raider coach also praised his team for putting up a good scrap and carrying the offensive to Tulsa, for stopping the Golden Hurricane's wide stuff and for breaking up the passing attack. He singled out Dick Pirtle, former Lubbock High player, and Dick Cavazos, a guard moved to defensive end.

Coach White introduced members of the Tech freshmen line, giving a little history on each one.

Coach Paul Brown Puts Team On Spot

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11. (U.P.) — Irked by the Cleveland Browns' humiliating 56 to 28 defeat by the San Francisco Forty-Niners last Sunday, Coach Paul Brown threatened today to "break up the team if they don't bounce back" in their next game.

"Either we bounce back against Los Angeles next Friday or I'm going to rack up this ball club," Brown said.

The defeat was the Browns' first in 30 games of All-America conference competition. It also was the worst beating suffered by a Brown-coached team during his 18-year coaching career.

"We had this licking coming," Brown admitted. "We haven't been right all year.

"It gripes me that we gave the Forty-Niners all those touchdowns," he added. "The players who made us look bad are on the spot from now on. They either deliver—or else."

During their long unbeaten string, the Browns were tied twice — by the New York Yankees in 1947 and by the Buffalo Bills earlier this season. The three-time A.A.C. champions' last previous defeat was by Los Angeles on Oct. 12, 1947.

Homecoming Is Set By School

MONROE, Oct. 11 (Special) — This will be homecoming weekend at New Deal High school and all former lettermen have been invited back to enjoy the hospitality of the school for the first big homecoming in history here.

The New Deal club, composed of lettermen, is sponsoring the program and they urge all former lettermen to return. Efforts have been made to contact all New Deal alumni, but addresses are incomplete. Therefore, New Deal club members request that any alumni reading about the homecoming inform all other alumni that they know.

An afternoon program begins at 1:30 p.m. with registration and will be climaxed by the Cooper High school-New Deal High school football game, which will be at 8 p.m. The visiting Pirates will be underdogs in the game.

After registration, a program will be held in the New Deal High school auditorium with New Deal club members participating. This will start off the program and it will be followed by a business meeting, at which time plans will be made to recognize former teams and athletes during halftime activities at the game.

An informal social hour will be held to give former teammates a chance to meet and talk over old times and dinner will be served in the school cafeteria at 5 p. m. Tickets to the dinner will cost 75 cents.

Returning players will be taken on an inspection tour of the new additions to the campus, some of which have been added only this year.

At 6:30 p.m., movies of the 1949 New Deal Lions in action will be shown, as well as movies of the girls basketball team. Plans also are being made to film homecoming activities, as well as part of the football game for showing in later years.

All New Deal club members will be admitted free to the football game. The club is open to all men and women athletes who have lettered in football, basketball or track at New Deal High school. Dues are 50 cents a year.

Present officers of the club are Fred Exum, president; John Kveton, vice president; Wilma Exum, secretary; L. M. Hall, treasurer; and Jack Beaty, sergeant-at-arms.

Rushing Lead Held By Smith

DALLAS, Oct. 11. (U.P.) — It's only one yard's difference, but Texas A&M's 192-pound sophomore fullback, Robert Smith, passed Arkansas' Leon Campbell today to top the Southwest conference rushing field.

Smith made 56 yards in 15 carries last week against LSU to give him 322 yards on 63 carries for the season. Campbell, idled last week by injuries, has 321 yards on 32 tries. Rice's Sonny Wyatt kept third place with 67 yards against New Mexico for a 273-yard total.

Berry Holds Lead

TCU's workhorse, Lindy Berry, gained 157 yards on 11 completions in 20 tries against Indiana to lift his passing total to 654 yards, 166 ahead of Texas' Paul Campbell, who connected for 13 out of 26 for 139 yards against Oklahoma. Doak Walker vacationed last weekend, enabling Tobin Rote of Rice to pass him for third spot with 320 yards. Baylor's Adrian Burk shifted to fourth with 308 yards.

Berry led in total offensive gains with an overall pickup of 747 yards on 144 plays.

Morris Bailey of TCU caught four passes for 63 yards last week, raising his season total to 257 yards on 20 catches. Second in the pass receiving division was Ben Proctor of Texas with 219 yards. George Boal of TCU was third with 195.

The punt returning lead went to Rice's Rex Proctor, who had a 20.2-yard average on seven returns. Squeezing him were Bobby Dillon of Texas with a 20-yard average on four and Berry, 19.1 yards on nine.

Texas led team offense, averaging 421 yards each game. Rice's average was 396.

TCU assumed the defensive lead by limiting four opponents to 208 yards per game, 33 less than Texas.

Texas May Get New Pro Baseball Loops

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP) — Texas may get one or two new professional baseball leagues next year.

J. Walter Morris, president of the Big State and East Texas leagues, said a new Class D league extending through East, Central and West Texas was being planned.

He also said a league along the Texas Gulf coast to include Port Arthur and Galveston was being talked.

Morris revealed George Milstead, veteran baseball player and manager who lives at Cleburne, had sounded out cities in the area of the proposed new Class D circuit. He said these were interested: Corsicana, Cleburne, Waxahachie, Mineral Wells, Athens, Dublin, Jacksonville, Denton, Ennis, Mt. Pleasant, Hillsboro, Stephenville, McKinney, Mexia, Terrell and Carthage.

Morris is to visit these places and probably call a meeting in a couple of weeks to consider forming an eight-team league.

Yankees Dominate Series All-Stars

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—Winding up the World Series for another year, a recapitulation of the five-game frolic shows that the Yankees, as winners, naturally walked off with most of the individual honors but the Dodgers captured four spots on a World Series all-star team.

Picking the best man at each position, strictly off their records in the classic, your lineup would be:

Catcher — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn.

Second base — Gerry Coleman, Yankees.

Shortstop — Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn.

Center field — Joe DiMaggio, Yankees.

Right field—Gene Hermanski, Dodgers.

Reynolds Top Hurler

Reynolds, The Indian fast ball artist, was the classic's best pitcher. He won the first game, a two-hit shutout, and saved the fourth for Ed Lopat by pitching hitless ball for three and a third innings. In 12-13 innings he struck out 14 and gave only four walks. Second honors went to Roe, the skinny southpaw from Arkansas, who hurled a six-hit shutout for Brooklyn's only win. Page saved the third and fifth games, giving six hits in nine innings and yielding two runs.

Campanella easily was the outstanding catcher. He hit .267, a good mark in this "pitchers' series." Defensively he was terrific. Phil Rizzuto, picked off third by Campanella, rated the burly Dodger as "the best I've ever seen."

Race Is Close

Brooklyn's Gil Hodges gave Henrich a close race for first base honors but Ohio Tommy won out on his hitting, batting .263 against Hodgers' .235 as well as winning the opener with his round trip blast.

At second, Coleman easily stood out over Jackie Robinson, hitting .250 and driving home four important runs as he decided one game. Robinson hit only .188. Coleman had three doubles and four RBI's; Robinson one double and two RBI's. Afield, each had one error.

Rizzuto held an edge afaield over Reese but the latter more than compensated for his one error by putting the "Scooter" in the shade at bat.

Reese hit .316 with two runs, six hits, one double, a homer and two runs batted in. Rizuto batted only .167, scoring two runs and knocking in only one with his three singles.

Brown Stellar Player

At third it was Brown all alone among the five who saw service. The golden boy in four games hit .500, top mark for the series. In 12 at bats he scored four runs and knocked in five with his six hits, one a double and two triples.

The fielders, while adquate, were far from brilliant. Woodling, in left for three games, hit .400, three of his four blows being doubles, and scored four runs. Hermanski in right field batted .308 four four games, getting four hits, one of them a triple, and drove home two runs. That made them the standouts in their respective sections of real estate.

In center field you have to go for the ailing DiMaggio although Duke Snider was brilliant defensively. The Duke made several breathtaking catches—but so did DiMag, playing on nerve alone.

Snider outhit DiMaggio, .143 to .111, but Joe had an edge with his two RBI's and one homer. The Clipper struck out five times, but Snider fanned eight times, tying a record set by Rogers Hornsby.

But the deciding factor in DiMaggio's selection was the spark which his presence ignited in the Yankees. That was the one thing the Dodgers lacked—along with hitting and pitching.

Bowlina Results

Aztec Inn held its lead in the Commercial Bowling league last night by taking two out of three games from Hackney's Lab, while two out of the leaders lost ground.

All-State Insurance continued in second place by taking two out of three from West Texas Gas, but No-Name dropped two out of three to Lester's Jewelry and S. & Q Clothiers dropped two out of three to Cadenhead Butane.

Jay O'Keefe, Cadenhead Butane, rolled a 289-648 for high single and high series. O'Keefe set a new league record in his first frame by knocking over the first 10 frames and sparing his eleventh to wind up with a 289.

Cadenhead's team also rolled high single and high series with a 1064-2,872.

Cadenhead (2)—George Tate, 588; T. Brown, 543; Dale Vannoy, 513; O'Keefe, 648; B. Brown, 581. Total—2,872. S & Q Clothiers (1)—O. F. Fanning, 439; Jay Redford, 475; Delbert Hilton, 407; Jimmy Henderson, 514; C. D. Wickson, 517. Total—2,753.

Aztec Inn (2)—Lowell Caddell, 553; Pee Wee Young, 523; Bill Bledsoe, 501; Tubby Reed, 478; Bill Nelms, 647. Total—2,701. Hackney's Lab (1)—J. Anderson, 419; Gill, 424; Austin, 488; Olson, 447; T. Hackney, 426. Total—2,702.

LESTERS (2)—Mort Cooper, 529; Jack Goodgion, 511; Ray Hooten, 400; Ercil Blackburn, 519; Eddie Sawyer, 424. Total—2,611. No-Name (1)—Seibel, 416; A. D. Kennedy, 480; Bill Brock, 423; McCasland, 500; Sprangler, 482. Total—2,293.

All-State (2) — Bill Grenier, 604; Smoky Seigler, 526; Roy McCallum, 482; Cy Barkley, 539; A. E. Christensen, 595. Total—2,746. West Texas Gas (1)—L. Bell, 461; Hank Rogers, 488; Charles Beger, 485; Roberts, 456; average, 489. Total—2,343.

Moch Offered French Post

PARIS, Oct. 11 (U.P.) — Jules Moch, the tough Socialist minister of the interior who smashed the Communist-led strike waves of 1947 and 1948, was asked to form a new French government today.

Moch asked for time to think it over, apparently because of bitter opposition from the right. He emerged from a conference with President Vincent Auriol shortly before noon and said he would give a definite answer this afternoon.

To Seek Agreement

In the next five hours Moch was expected to make another attempt to persuade the rightists, led by former Premier Paul Reynaud, to join in a new coalition government replacing that of former Premier Henri Queuille.

The rightists object to Moch's proposals for solving the French economic crisis brought on devaluation of the pound and the franc on grounds that it would make inflation inevitable.

Moch reportedly planned to solve the aftermath of devaluation by raising wages and slashing prices.

Informed sources said his plan provided for an interim bonus for lowest bracket salary workers to bring their wages up to a minimum of 15,000 francs ($42) a month.

He also would provide for a return to free collective wage bargaining between labor unions and employers, prohibited by the government, and slashes in prices of such items as coal, butter, sugar and cooking oils.

Suicide Verdict Is Returned In Death

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11 (U.P.)— An inquest verdict of suicide was listed today in the death of Norman R. Lewellen, who authorities said swallowed poison because of his marriage to two women.

Lewellen, 32, a native of Temple and manager of a cafe here, swallowed some tablets at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. L. N. Brothers, and was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital last night, officers said.

Authorities said Lewellen appeared at the Brothers home with Mrs. Beatrice Thurman, who later produced a marriage license issued in Terre Haute, Ind.

He and Mrs. Brothers' daughter—an expectant mother—were married last February.

NORTHER ARRIVES IN CITY 12 HOURS EARLY

A brisk norther failed to read the weatherman's time table and arrived in Lubbock 12 hours ahead of schedule this morning.

A cold front expected late this afternoon was carried to the area by brisk northerly winds and arrived at 5:15 o'clock this morning, said Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the U. S. Weather bureau station.

Low Of 40 Recorded

It will hold temperatures to the 60's today, following a minimum of 40 degrees at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The temperature at 8 a. m. was 48 degrees. The new norther later this morning had little effect on early-morning temperatures.

Strong northerly winds were expected to continue through the day. Skies were expected to be clear or only partly cloudy.

The weather bureau predicted a minimum of 36 to 38 degrees tonight and admitted a light frost was possible but not probable.

Slayer Of Two

Wilmott men were shot to death. The elder Wilmott was shot once through the head and four times in the chest. John Wilmott was shot through the head.

Schindorff and Farrell, a hitchhiker whom he met about four weeks ago, drove to Kansas City in the Wilmott car which they drove away from the farm after the slayings, police said.

The police did not know about the shootings until Schindorff told them during routine questioning.

Arrested Several Times

Marshall Stalnaker said Schindorff started getting a police record at the age of 16. He was arrested at different times in connection with a highway robbery, passing bad checks and auto theft. His record showed no convictions.

Schindorff, who has a wife and two children living in Kansas City, rented a farm near Pleasant Hill after he separated from the navy but police said he has not been farming the place recently.

No reason was given immediately for the Wilmott shootings, police said.

At Least 12 Hurt In New Orleans Wreck

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11. (U.P.)— A Magazine street trolley bus loaded with passengers collided with a moving van at an uptown New Orleans street intersection today. At least 12 persons were hurt.

Most of the injured were bus passengers. They and the bus driver, Harry Brussett, 38, and a passenger in the truck, were taken to Charity hospital.

The extent of their injuries was not immediately determined. The driver of the truck, Kenneth Davis, 31, of Baton Rouge, La., was not hurt.

Stock Market

MARKET AT 1949 HIGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — The stock market moved up to a new 1949 high point today under good demand for rails and motors.

The gains were from fractions to more than 2 points. Some went as high as 4 points. At the close prices were around their best for the day.

The volume of trading was at an estimated 1,600,000 shares for the entire day, the highest total for about a month.

Rails led the rise and shifted from the minus to the plus side of the ledger, and motors soon joined. Others in the major groups followed along but at a less accelerated pace.

A number of new high prices for the year were chalked up by leaders including General Motors, Studebaker, Northern Pacific, Lion Oil, Allied Chemical, and Westinghouse.

Other stocks going higher included U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Goodrich, United Gas Corp., Phelps Dodge, Homestake Mining, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Dow Chemical, General Electric and American Woolen.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm today on trade and commission house buying which readily absorbed hedge selling and liquidation. Failure of the market to decline on the half million bale increase in the government October delivery and Washington reports indicating that the administration favors 90 per cent of parity loan all helped the market. There was a good deal of evening-up in nearby October futures and switching to later months prior to expiration of October contracts on October 14.

Futures closed 30 to 50 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (AP) — Wheat eased toward the close of today's board of trade sessions, and corn dipped below the previous close, but soybeans and lard pushed upward.

The easiness of corn was attributed to a lower cash grain market. There was some profit cashing in wheat, but the demand for beans offset realizing sales.

At the close wheat was ¼ to 1⅛ higher than yesterday's close, December $2.13¼-12. Corn was ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December $1.18¼-1/2. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 67⅞. Rye was ¼ to 1 cent higher, December $1.49½.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard, 2.32-36.

Oats No. 2 white 86¼-86¾.

Corn No. 2 white, Texas only, 1.80½-53½.

Hub Kiwanis Club To Sponsor X-Ray Exams

Dr. Bill Gordon was guest speaker at the regular weekly noon luncheon of the Hub City Kiwanis club at the Lubbock hotel today.

He filled in details on the new club's first community project, a mobile X-ray unit that will stop at Texas Tech Oct. 25 to 29, and in town Nov. 2 to 12.

The unit will be used to determine tuberculosis, cancer of the lungs, and other maladies of the chest that only X-rays can reveal, he said. It was used here last year at Texas Tech to X-ray 3,700 students, 34 of which were found to be suffering from some chest ailment.

Dr. Jason O. Gordon, president of the club, has accepted the chairmanship of the project, which the club is co-sponsoring with the Lubbock County Tuberculosis association.

Club Vice-Pres. Jim Spears and Walter Anglin gave reports on the Texas-Oklahoma district convention of Kiwanis International, held in Tulsa, Oct. 2 to 4.

the person they identified.

"Each time the identification turned out to be one of the Raders."

To Seek Extradition

Sheriff Harrist also received a telephone call from Chief of Police Bates of National City, Calif., one of the places where the men are suspected of having staged a hijacking.

Bates indicated he would like to extradite the men as quickly as possible.

He was told that Texas now has accusations against the men that may become actionable in the courts.

Chief Harper and Captain King said the two places robbed in Amarillo were the Piggly-Wiggly market at 1500 Polk street on June 22, and McCart's supermarket at 1001 Taylor on July 9.

The Roswell robbery was after those in Amarillo, officials said.

Two men answering descriptions of those held here did both the Amarillo jobs, it was related.

Employes Rounded Up

They went into the back door of McCart's supermarket, at 6:55 a. m., rounded up store employes, forced the manager to open the safe and took approximately $11,000 in cash and checks (slightly more than $6,000 in cash), locked the employes in a toilet, and left.

They had what appeared to be a .38 caliber snub-nose nickel-plated pistol and another pistol, probably an automatic, investigators were told.

There was much similarity in description and methods of operation in the other robbery there, witnesses said. Two men entered the store at 7:30 a. m. by a back door, herded employes together in a toilet, then moved them to a walk-in ice box, and forced a store employe, Noel Holiman, to hand them change from the cash register. The amount was $138.16. One of the men had a nickel-plated pistol, it was agreed.

Pistol Is Found

Such a pistol was found in possesion of one of the suspects when arrested here Sunday by police.

"I'll admit that it looks like I'm in a jam," Leo said, accenting the "looks like."

"I just want to get out and see what the hell the score is," Edward said. "Somebody is going to have a surprise when I get out there (California)."

Remark Not Explained

He would not explain the remark. The statements were made Monday night, before the men were confronted by witnesses.

Neither had much to say when Tom Davis, a reporter, showed them an Associated Press teletype message from California saying their father had implicated them as robbers of chain markets at National City, Long Beach and Bellflower, Calif.

"I have nothing to say about that," Leo said. "I have no proof he (the parent) said that."

"There might be a possible chance they made a mistake. I'm not saying they did or didn't," Edward said.

The two did admit, however, that they have an airplane, a Luscombe 65-horsepower light two-seater. They paid only $900 for it, officials said a receipt indicated. The brothers said they held only student pilot licenses and had not completed their 40 hours of flight time required for a private license.

One Cross-Country Flight

They said they had made only one cross-country flight — 50 miles with an instructor.

The father told officers he and his sons robbed the stores and made their getaway in a plane, news services related.

Job Openings Reported Here

Unemployment in Lubbock? Bosh, said the Texas Employment commission as it figuratively hung up a "Help Wanted" sign today.

Demands for 150 persons to fill jobs were placed with the TEC today, and so far workers to fill those jobs haven't been found, said E. W. Sawyer, placement manager.

Many Workers Needed

"We need applicants for jobs as typists, stenographers bookkeepers, clerical workers, salesmen and salespersons, meat cutters, mechanics of all kinds, carpenters, routemen and route salesmen, laborers of all types, maids, day workers, hotel and tourist court domestic workers, waitresses and soda fountain workers," Sawyer explained.

"We were told of 96 job openings in Lubbock Monday, and we only filled approximately 40 of them."

"Drugstores and hotels are in a particularly bad fix right now, since they employed students during summer and now are left high and dry."

Sawyer urged persons wanting work to come to the Texas Employment commission offices at 1114 Tenth sereet and submit their applications at once."

complete and should be finished by the end of the year, or early next year, he explained.

Also in the plans are similar construction jobs to serve residences in the east and southwest parts of the city, to be placed in service during the coming year.

More equipment to serve telephone users also will be installed in the central office, Cale said. "We plan to add 2,200 more lines and equipment for 2,500 more numbers at the telephone office, at a cost of $200,000," he explained.

"This will completely fill the present telephone building. We are hoping that the new equipment can be ready for use by next summer."

"We are trying to keep pace with telephone needs here as the city continues to grow," the manager said. "Much has been accomplished to meet this demand and much remains to be done. We are pushing ahead with construction work on the biggest telephone expansion program ever undertaken in Lubbock."

rieties of fish, many kinds of meats, more than fifty varieties of fruit, and an abundance of rice, poultry, eggs, shrimp, lobsters and other foods are within the reach of every man of Siam, he said, adding:

"The poor can get shrimp and lobsters from the canals right in back of their homes."

It's commonplace, he declared, for a Siamese to tee off on fish, meat and poultry at a single meal — with several helpings.

This is bad enough, he said, but oftentimes the poorer class stuffs up on rice even though foods for a balanced diet are available to them.

His countrymen, he said, eat enough to make them all fat boys—but the heat of the land keeps them slender.

The doctor said he's in the United States on assignment from Siam's ministry of health to visit hospitals and clinics here to seek methods "of raising our own standards."

During the war, he said, Siam was pressed for drugs to treat malaria and dysentery —and turned temporarily to centuries-old remedies derived from herbs and bark.

And he declared that the country still licenses a few "herb doctors" who treat natives for a variety of ills with medicines boiled from barks and herbs.

Among th country's 18,000,000 inhabitants, he said, there is one "first-class" doctor for every 10,000 people. These are assisted by about 500 "second class" native doctors who have no formal training, but pick up their skill from working with regular doctors. They perform no surgery, however.

Rotarians Will Tour Experiment Station

Members of the Lubbock Rotary club will spend their luncheon hour Wednesday at the Texas Experiment station east of Lubbock, it was announced today by Dave Sherrill, chairman of the club's rural-urban committee.

Rotarians will drive to the experiment station, where a barbecue lunch will be served after which a brief tour will be made of the experiment farm. Don Jones, station superintendent and club member, is program chairman. Demonstrations of several machines will be made during the program.

Cars will be available at the east entrance of the Hilton hotel from 11:45 until 12:10 for Rotarians desiring transportation, Sherrill said.

"It's the first chance Rotarians have had in a long time to get a little dust on their shoes and we believe they will enjoy it," Sherrill said. "We promise that the program will end promptly at 1 o'clock."

Civil Defense Subject

McMahon told reporters that while the committee has brought the civil defense question up in its regular talks with the commission, the subject has always been approached as one that had to give way to more important immediate talks.

"I think it's important now that we give the matter some immediate attention," he said.

"The mere fact that we are looking into it, however, does not mean that I think we will be subjected to an attack in the immediate future," he said. "But the time to prepare is not in the middle of an attack."

Hilton Purchase Of Waldorf Is Planned

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (U.P.)—The Hilton hotels corporation is negotiating to purchase the world-famous Waldorf-Astoria hotel, it was learned today.

Barring a last-minute hitch, it was understood that Hilton would purchase 366,380 shares of Waldorf-Astoria capital stock for approximately $16 each, or almost $6,000,000.

In addition the company would assume the hotel's outstanding bonded debt and its lease obligations to the New York Central railroad company, which owns the site.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—Financial and commodity markets throughout the United States will be closed Wednesday, Oct. 12, Columbus day. Various livestock reports will be issued by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Contributions To Community Chest Urged At Lions Club

Two members of the Toastmasters' club, Wm. R. Sewell and Waggoner Carr, made talks on the Community Chest to feature the luncheon program of the Lubbock Lions club at the Hilton hotel today noon.

"Years ago we were more neighborly and we had more time to spend with our neighbors," Sewell said, "but today a crisis may have passed with our neighbors before we know what's going on.

Neighbors Need Aid

"The trouble with most of us is that we have little time in which to investigate the needs of our neighbors. The business of expressing our generosity has been delegated to the Community Chest."

"The words, which our forefathers wrote into the Declaration of Independence that 'all men are created equal and are endowed with certain inalienable rights, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness,' has made us a charitable nation," Carr said.

"So charitable, in fact, that our government is now engaged in the process of sending millions of dollars overseas to people who are in need. Yet, sometimes we send so much oversea that we forget that we have neighbor right here at home who are in need," Carr said.

Work Is Explained

He then explained briefly the eight organizations which share in the Community Chest and the work they do and closed his talk with the remark, "You build a strong Lubbock when you fill up the Community Chest."

Leete Jackson was program chairman and introduced Sewell.

It was announced at the luncheon that the Lions will gather at the farm of Vernice Ford, club member, in the near future and pick cotton at the rate of $3 per hundred in an effort to raise funds to send the Tech Men's Chorus to the Lions International convention at Chicago next summer. Lions agreed to either take part in the cotton harvesting or pay $5 toward the fund.

R. C. Harvey, jr., Sharon, Pa.; Karl Kasbeer, Washington, D. C., and Bullock Hyder, Denton, were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

Discovery By Columbus Is Recalled

Many Primitive People Still Believe The Earth Is "Flat"

BY HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—If you look around the world, you'll find a lot of folks who hold that we live on a flat surface.

Christopher Columbus, among others, believed otherwise.

We'll bring it up to the minute, by reminding one and all that tomorrow is Columbus day. It was back in 1492 that Chris got a yen to travel. He contacted the queen of Spain. According to available information, she hocked her jewels or dug into the royal sock and got the old boy started, with ships and men.

Landed On Oct. 12

He landed on our shores on Oct. 12, 1492.

Eventually, the man we honor wound up in the pokey with his legs in chains—still crying that the world was round. There are many who, despite the evidence still claim that it is flat as a cocktail table.

The National Geographic society, which knows aumost everything, raised the question after almost 457 years of debate. There still is debate.

I went over and fished through the records.

People in the Ethiopian hills believe the earth is like a pancake. That's according to American oil drillers who are working in Ethiopia and keep in touch with National Geographic.

These oil men reported that the natives of Ethiopia are concerned "lest recent deep-drilling operations puncture the earth's plane, letting oil leak into the void underneath."

Primitive Beliefs Reported

As a matter of fact, the primitive people on earth still regard it as flat.

Take the Waduman tribe in the north territory of Australia.

The people follow the sun. When it sinks, the folks duck into a hole—and they find darkness. Which to them means an even keel and something that won't roll them in the middle of the night.

Tsimshian Indians of British Columbia live on what they consider a flat earth—surrounded by the rolling sea—"and supported by a man who lies on his back and supports a pole on which the earth turns—straight-wise."

Accept Old Theory

In olden days many fathers of the church, including St. Augustine and Thomas Aquinas, accepted the theory that the earth was a vast plain. They relied on the words, translated, of Isaiah, Job, and Mosos, which appeared to describe the earth as flat. "Greater in length than in breadth, with heaven, embracing the universe, as vault joined to the earth."

Columbus was quite a churchman.

He followed religious writings which led him to believe he might reach land east of India—by sailing west about 2,500 miles. As you know, if you'll look into the books, he actually sailed 2,230 miles.

Anyhow, our man Chris blazed the trail. He made it easy for others to follow.

A few years later, Americus Vespucius made a turn around the Gulf of Mexico and steered northward nearly to Chesapeake bay. The makers of maps put his name on the land.

Cuba is rapidly removing price controls and meat may be the next item.

Solons Speed Arms Finance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — Congressional leaders slapped a "rush" tag today on President Truman's request for $1,314,010,000 to finance the foreign military aid program.

They hope to draft and pass, in time to adjourn this session of Congress next Saturday, a bill providing the dollars to breathe life into the aid program recently authorized by Congress.

The House appropriations committee called a closed-door hearing to consider the President's request. Invited to testify were Secretary of Defense Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff.

Partly In Cash

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the appropriations committee told newsmen the hearings will end tomorrow. There is no need for detailed testimony, he said, because the House foreign affairs committee has printed the voluminous transcript of testimony it took when the program was authorized.

The President's request, sent to Congress late yesterday, was for $814,010,000 in cash and $500,000,000 in contract authority to finance the plan to furnish military aid to nations outside the Soviet iron curtain.

That is the amount Congress has authorized, most of it for western European nations who joined the United States in the North Atlantic pact.

Community Chest Is Boosted At Club

Bob Rose, Hugh Anderson and Warren Faller, members of the Toastmasters club, today spoke in behalf of the Community Chest drive at an Optimist club luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock

Faller said the chest is a welfare organization and not a charity organization. He said the chest's main purpose is to raise funds to meet the budget of the charitable groups of the organization.

Billy Davis was program chairman. G. C. Stewart presided. J. Holland Cox gave the invocation.

HAS 107TH BIRTHDAY

ST. LEONARDS-ON-SEA, England, Oct. 11 (AP) — Spry and hearty, Mrs. Matilda Coppin celebrated her 107th birthday today. In Stroud, Kent, her brother, Charles Evans, 94, said he would drop around to his local saloon tonight to drink a toast to her health.

Russia's Atomic Bomb Will Not Change Tactics Of U. S.

TOKYO, Oct. 11 (AP)—The U. S. Army chief of staff said today Russian possession of atom secrets would not change American "tactical considerations" in the orient.

General J. Lawton Collins told a news conference the Soviets' atomic achievement "hasn't affected our planning or thinking."

Nor have Communist victories in China affected "tactical considerations," he said.

Facts Are Evaluated

"As military men, we have to evaluate such things . . . I wouldn't try to kid you we don't weigh such things. As far as the occupation (of Japan) is concerned, we can anticipate no change."

Collins sized up the U. S. occupation force in Japan as "about right the way it is." It is a stabilizing influence in the "entire Far East," he said, and "it is essential to maintain troops here."

To Visit Divisions

The chief of staff plans to visit the four Army divisions in Japan, then go to Korea, where the U. S. has a military advisory group; and to Okinawa.

He reviewed more than 12,000 occupation troops in the imperial palace plaza. In a brief speech, he commented that "troops who fought out here in the Pacific put up with things far more difficult than in the European theater."

"Our opponents in Europe were more skillful," he said, "but there were none more tenacious than the Japanese."

HST Signs Vet Pensions Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—A bill raising veterans compensation and disability payments by more than $112,000,000 a year was signed by President Truman yesterday.

The Veterans administration estimated that 2,024,000 veterans of the first and second world wars and of the Spanish American war would be affected under the section liberalizing disability and death payments. Backers of the bill contended the increases are necessary to meet the increased cost of living.

World War One veterans with disabilities legally presumed to be service-connected would get full compensation instead of the present 75 percent.

Disability Rates Upped

Provisions of the bill applicable to veterans of the three wars increase the length of time for which payments may be made for arrested cases of tuberculosis; and create a new disability schedule based on $150 monthly for total disability and $15 for 10 percent disability. The old rate was $135 and $13.80.

In addition, the bill provides increased monthly payments to widows with a child or children; and allows veterans with 50 percent or more disability to receive additional payments for dependents.

A previous story on the signing of the bill conveyed the impression that all the benefits were primarily applicable onty to veterans of World War One.

American's Treason Trial Begins Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—(AP)—The trial of Herbert John Burgman, accused of 69 treasonous acts, was set for opening today in federal district court.

Burgman was indicted on charges of broadcasting for the Nazis during the war.

For 20 years before America got into the war, Burgman was a clerk in the U.S. embassy in Berlin. The government charges that he refused to come home with the rest of the embassy staff and instead went to work for the German radio.

He is a native of Hokah, Minn.

He was indicted last March, about the time another treason case was winding up in the same court that will try Burgman.

In that case Mildred Gillars (Axis Sally of the German radio) was convicted and sentenced to from 10 to 30 years in prison, plus a $10,000 fine.

A different judge will preside this time, Judge Alexander Holtzoff. In the Axis Sally case the judge was Edward M. Curran.

Today's Events

Miss Mae Davis, member of the staff of First Baptist church, will be principal speaker at a meeting of the First Baptist Brotherhood at 6:45 p. m. today in the Baptist annex. Miss Davis will tell of her experiences in attending college in Guadalahara, Mexico. She attended college there under a program offered by Wayland college of Plainview.

A verdict of suicide was returned Monday by Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn in the death of A. E. Wallace, 49, who was found shot to death Sunday afternoon in the bathtub of the home of a brother, W. M. Wallace, 2902 North third. Lynn said an inquest showed death by self-inflicted gunshot wounds. Rix Funeral home took the body to Burkburnet Monday.

Lubbock firemen answered two minor alarms Monday, with one fire out on arrival. The first call was at 11:05 a.m. to 2406 East Ave. F, occupied by Ora Mae Kirby, negro. The blaze, caused by an overheated flu, was out when firemen arrived. Another small blaze was extinguished at 7:35 p.m. in a vacant house in 2200 block Fifth street. Firemen said the owner was living in New Mexico, and that playing children had set the fire.

CANTON MAY BE LEFT TO REDS

Chiang Kai-Shek Makes Quick Return Trip To Besieged City

CANTON, China, Oct. 11 (U.P.) —Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek made a quick return visit here on a warship today while communist forces smashed to within 40 miles of this provisional nationalist capital.

A delegation of top nationalist leaders headed by Acting President Li Tsung-Jen visited Chiang aboard the warship. It was understood they considered the possibility of abandoning Canton without a fight.

Cabinet To Leave

Li and the entire nationalist cabinet will flee Canton tomorrow, informed sources said, and the last nationalist officials will leave by Friday.

Military reports said the communists plunging south toward Canton had by-passed the last nationalist defense force at Tsingyun, 40 miles north, and were racing on without opposition.

An official notice to foreign diplomatic representatives said the capital would be abandoned by the nationalist government by next Saturday.

Unofficial hints passed along with the note advised foreign diplomats to get out now, however, and not wait for Saturday.

Formosa Last Refuge

Official reports said the new co-capital of nationalist China would be established at Chungking Oct. 20. It was expected, however, that the major forces of the government would go to the island fortress of Formosa.

Chiang Kai-shek arrived at Whampoa, 25 miles down river from Canton, during the morning and called a conference immediately of top government and military officials.

Reliable sources said the nationalists discussed whether any defense of Canton will be attempted after the government leaves or if the city should be surrendered to the communists without a fight.

The nationalists had planned to concentrate heavy forces in the southwest tip of Kwantung province and central and southern Kwangsi province. But it was questioned now whether the nationalist defenders north of Canton would be able to hold out long enough to put the plan into effect.

Committee To Study Water Laws To Meet

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—The interim committee authorized to study the state's water laws by the last legislature will hold its first meeting here Oct. 18.

Committee member John D. McCall announced the meeting yesterday at the request of Gov. Allan Shivers, acting Lieut. Gov. G. C. Morris and House Speaker Durwood Manford.

There are six senators, six representatives and nine laymen on the 21-member board. They were appointed by the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker.

California Girl Is Favored In Tourney

FORT WORTH, Oct. 11 (AP) —Match play starts today in the women's Texas Open golf tournament. A 15-year-old blonde from California was right among the favorites.

Marilyn Smith, Kansas state champion, posted a 74 for the only other sub-par score.

Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., had a 75, but the rest of the field's score skidded upward.

Defending Champion Polly Riley of Fort Worth carded a 78, but trailed Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., with a 76 and Bettye Mims White, Dallas, and Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth, who had 77s.

Mrs. George (Babe) Zaharias, Alice Bauer, Marlen's 20-year-old sister, Beverly Hanson, Indio, Calif., and Mrs. Leon B. Hoseck, Dallas, were tied at 80. Betty Jameson, San Antonio, had an 81.

Fireworks Display Slated At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP)—Tonight's a bright night at the state fair of Texas. At least, there'll be plenty of poppin—a giant fireworks fiesta is scheduled at the Cotton bodl.

Judging in the national Aberdeen Angus show, the Southdown and Shropshire sheep show and for hogs will also get underway.

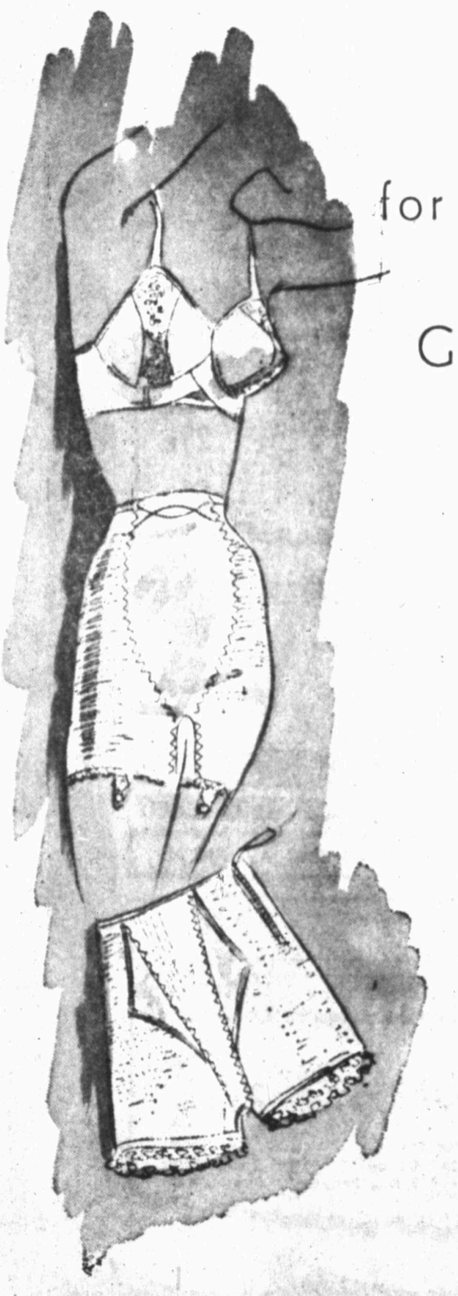

The fourth day of the fair, shooting for a two million attendance mark this year, has been designated as a special "day" for the Texas Aberdeen-Angus association; state fair exhibitors; crippled veterans, Eastland county peanut browers, Women's Relief corps, Stillwater, Okla., and Texas purebred sheep breeders.

Thousands of Dallas county negroes poured through the gates yesterday for their "youth achievement day."

"Welcome Newcomer Festival" Colorful Event At Snyder

Large Crowds Attend Affair

BY EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

SNYDER, Oct. 11 — More than 4,000 visitors and guests joined with residents of Snyder to make the "Welcome Newcomer Festival" a whopping success here Monday evening.

The festival was staged by the Chamber of Commerce and the Sharon Ridge Royalty Owners and Producers association as a tribute to the many new citizens who have moved to Snyder with the oil boom. The one-day event consisted of a parade, an address by honor guest Gov. Allan Shivers, a square dance contest and a true Western barbecue.

Pioneer residents of Scurry county were also recognized and honored during the dual purpose festival.

Scores Fly In

Scores of guests, oil executives, bankers and state officials, flew in early in the afternoon to attend a special reception for the Governor at C. T. McLaughlin's "Diamond M" ranch at 4 p. m. More than 15 large twin-engine aircraft landed on McLaughlin's private airport adjoining the ranch-house.

Following the reception and a brief press conference the governor was driven to town to take his position at the head of the parade. In the car with Gov. Shivers were Mayor Forest G. Sears of Snyder and French Robertson, Abilene.

A color guard from Abilene mounted on white horses led the marchers. Hardin-Simmons famous cowboy band put on a colorful show followed by the Big Spring Sheriff's posse, the Snyder High school Tiger band and units of the Texas National Guard.

Snyder Ambitious

The parade moved around court house square and out to the Tiger stadium where Lee T. Stinson, Snyder druggist, acted as master of ceremonies. Stinson introduced Mayor Sears who gave a brief address of welcome. Mrs. J. J. Whitmore, long time Snyder resident spoke briefly and drew a laugh when she told Gov. Shivers she expected to "see a lot more of him in West Texas." News of the oil boom had spread fast, Mrs. Whitmore said.

Stinson then introduced French Robertson who in turn presented the Governor to an audience that filled the stadium to capacity.

Mayor Sears said it was the ambition of Snyder folks to build a "bigger and better Snyder."

"I know you don't have the homes and the utilities you want but we will get them for you as fast as we can," the mayor said. "We are really happy to have all you new residents among us and

THE QUESTION
What do you think of the proposed amendment for women to be allowed to serve on juries in Texas?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. DOROTHY STEPHENSON, 519 Ave. O, cashier at Glassman's: "I think that women should be allowed to serve on juries. After all, a woman's opinion might influence a case just as much as a man's. Her opinion is just as good as a man's. I think women should have as many rights as a man. She definitely has a right to serve on a jury."

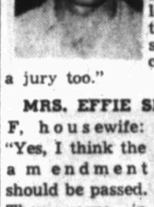

ALBERT MARTIN, 2207 Seventh, tar work: "Yes, I think they should. I think they have as much right to serve on a jury as a man. They have the right to know what to do with a criminal the same as a man does."

MRS. FOREST WHITE, Route 6 housewife: "Yes, I really do. Since they seem to have equal rights and their field is so much broader than it ever was, I think their judgment on a jury would be as good as a man's.

JIM JONES, 2902 Second, watchmaker at Mark Halsey, No. 4: "Well, I don't see any reason why they shouldn't be allowed to serve on the jury. Women are taking men's jobs in lots of other things, so I don't see why they couldn't serve on a jury too."

MRS. EFFIE SMITH, 517 Ave. F, housewife: "Yes, I think the amendment should be passed. They serve in other offices and do well. I think that a woman's judgment in sentencing someone is just as good as a man's."

BLAKE CHANSLOR, 2206 Ave. J, regional sales manager of the Reserve Life Insurance Co.: "I certainly think the amendment should be passed to allow women to serve on the jury. They have equal rights with a man. I think that a woman's opinion is much more effective in some cases than is a man's. More power to them; I hope they get it."

Churches Plan New Buildings

Lubbock has a new church "building" today, complete in every exterior detail, but no congregation will ever gather inside it.

For the new church is a miniature of the proposed building for the First Presbyterian church at Fourteenth and Avenue O. Built by Architect Henry Steinbomer of San Antonio, church architectural specialist, the small model is complete even to a small cross on its roof and miniature painted cars parked around it.

Banquet Is Held

Plans for erection of the new building are still in the tentative stage. Discussion of the proposed structure followed a banquet given in the Fellowship Hall of the present structure Monday night for a group of church members.

About 30 of the church's members attended the Monday night meeting which was under the direction of Bob Wright. The informal meeting was preceded by a turkey dinner. The representative groupwas not empowered to reach any definite conclusions about the proposed structure.

"Those that attended the meeting were very enthusiastic about our plans," Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor, said. "But no decisions have been reached as yet."

Members To Vote On Plans

To cost approximately $200,000, the church would accommodate a congregation of 700 in its auditorium. Members of the church will vote Sunday on whether to go ahead with plans, but Dr. Lewis is optimistic for its passage.

Should the green light be given for erection of the new building, the present one would be remodeled and turned into a modern educational building, Dr. Lewis said. Cost of remodeling is included in the $200,000 figure.

The First Presbyterian church has been housed in its present structure since January, 1925. One of the principal objections to it ever since the first service that year has been the high steps leading into the auditorium entrance, according to the pastor. The new building's auditorium would be on ground level.

Prepared on the initiative of the architect, the model scale shows the church as it will appear after construction is com-

Bryant Named Vets' Officer

Appointment of James Bryant as county veterans' service officer was made at a regular meeting of Lubbock county commissioners court Monday afternoon.

The action was taken after County Judge Walter Davies and Commissioners Pat Corley, Ottis Isom, George G. Green and R. L. Short heard members of an American Legion committee, who recommended Bryant's appointment.

Hall Is Released

The motion as passed by the commissioners' court provided that the services of Jack Hall, present county service officer, be terminated as of Nov. 1, and that the American Legion service officer committee notify Hall of the action, and that Bryant be employed as of Nov. 1.

Bryant's salary will be $225 a month, plus $75 travel and car expenses, with the understanding that the American Legion post will supplement the salary with an additional $50 a month. The service officer's office will be in the Allen Bros. post home, 910 Texas avenue, until the new courthouse building is completed, at which time the office will be moved to the old or new courthouse.

Hall has received a salary of $275 a month from the county and $75 travel expenses, plus $50 from the Legion.

Legion Group Appears

Wayne D. Groce, commander of the Legion post, Chas. Whitacre, H. D. Woods, and Elmer Tarbox were members of the Legion group which appeared before the commissioners' court.

The commissioners also passed a resolution recommending that the building at 2020 Broadway recently purchased by Lubbock Women's club be tax exempted because of the civic and public nature of the corporation. Rep. Preston Smith will be asked to introduce such a bill in the legislature.

Bryant, the new appointee to the service officer's job, is a World War II veteran and an amputee. He has been employed as a clerk at the Veterans administration.

Welfare Fund Approved

In other action, the commissioners' court agreed to contribute $2,000 for 1950 as its portion of expenses for the Lubbock County Child Welfare unit. Miss Mary Louise Hawkins, executive secretary of the unit, Mrs. Robert J. Allen and V. E. Cathey appeared before the court with a proposed budget, totaling $15,123.95.

Of that total, $10,402 consists of salaries paid by the State of Texas, another $200 in travel expenses paid by the state. The city

Quotas Set For Convict Cotton Pickers

Irate Mother Claims Prison Farm Lashings Cruel To Men

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 11 (U.P.)—An irate mother charged today that the practice of whipping convict farm laborers who fail to pick 100 pounds of cotton per day is "cruel" to city-bred prisoners.

Mrs. T. L. Christy said that her own son, serving a term at Fort Pillow prison here for a liquor store robbery, was lashed by prison guards for falling short of the 100-pound quota.

She asked Gov. Gordon Browning to transfer Tazewell A. Christy, 30, to prevent his being beaten again. Her son "never lived on a farm," she said, and just can't pick 100 pounds of cotton a day.

In fact, she claimed, it takes an expert to fill a 100-pound sack with one day's picking.

Prison Warden Bennett Wright disagreed. He claimed that "even a child can pick that much" and explained that the 100-pound quota was set up to keep convicts from shirking. He confirmed that those who fall below the quota sometimes go under the lash.

Several cotton farmers agreed with the warden. They said that an average picker can turn in 200 pounds a day with ease.

Warden Wright denied that the lashings were "cruel." Anybody who tries can pick 100 pounds, he said, and those who come within five or 10 pounds of the mark are not whipped.

The lash is reserved for obvious shirkers, he said. Most convicts pick more than 150 pounds a day, and they get a penny a pound reward for anything over that mark, he said.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 11 (AP) —Ladder Company 10 will be a long time living this one down:

On a practice run to Wayland square to stage a demonstration in connection with Fire Prevention week, a battery cable short circuit set the truck on fire.

A spectator pulled an alarm and three hose companies and a ladder truck responded while ladder 10 put out its own fire.

Local Farmers To Get Awards

More than 300 Texas farmers including nine from Lubbock county, who have mixed good farming practices and hard work to pay off their Farmers Home administration tenant purchase loans more than 30 years before they are due will be awarded certificates of achievement in ceremonies at the State Fair Park auditorium Wednesday in Dallas.

Lubbock Farmers Listed

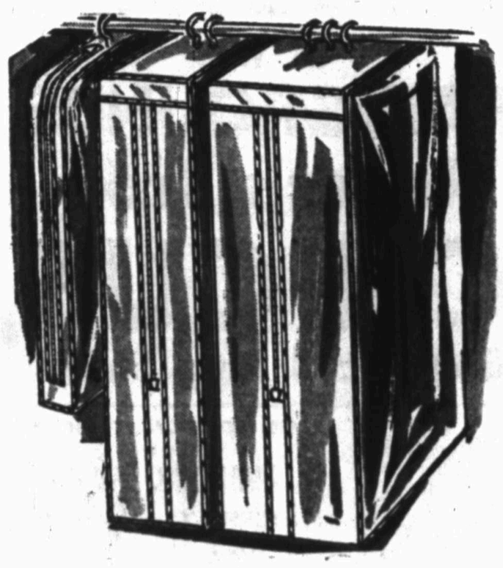

The announcement was made in Lubbock Monday by John E. Key, FHA supervisor. Key listed the Lubbock county farmers as Sidney B. Deavours of route 1, Shallowater, Walter A. Jochetz of route 2 Slaton, John W. Randolph of route 1 Shallowater, Earl W. Reynolds of Wolfforth, Paul Rogers of route 2 Slaton, Weldon R. Sage of route 2 Lubbock, R. D. Presley of route 1 Abernathy, Arthur L. Wilson of route 2, Slaton and James L. Womack of route 2 Lubbock.

Only 11 farmers of Lubbock county have received such awards since 1941, Key said. None of this year's award winners plans to go to the fair to receive his certificate, which will be mailed to him, it was indicated.

One of the features of the achievement day will be an address by Judge Marvin Jones, who as a congressman from Amarillo,

Russia Scheduled To Reveal View On Control Of A-Bomb

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 11 (AP)—The United Nations looked to Russia today to tell the world if she has a new plan to ban the atom bomb as a part of a proposed arms reduction program.

The scheduled time is this afternoon (3 p. m. EST) at the United Nations security council chamber. U. S. Delegate Warren Austin is chairman of the 11-nation council this month.

Contents of the promised Russian statement were closely guarded before the meeting. Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob Malik, who brought the statement direct from Moscow last week, was the man picked to deliver it.

Malik is the Russian with whom Ambassador-At-Large Philip C. Jessup carried on dealings that led to the ending of the Berlin blockade last spring.

Just back from home leave in the Soviet Union, Malik told the council last week that he would have a statement for today on a project for a world arms census.

Western diplomats familiar with Russian tactics are outspokenly skeptical of the sincerity of the Soviet moves.

They didn't expect anything startling in the Russian statement. Neither did President Truman, who told his news conference in Washington last week that he does not look for anything new.

Slav Clash Aired

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's demand for outlawing the atom bomb is tied up in his proposal for a big five peace pact. The political committee is expected to start debate about midweek on Vishinsky's scheme.

Russia's Cominform clash with Yugoslavia burst wide open in the economic committee yesterday and promises to continue this afternoon. Russia and Poland disputed Yugoslavia's contention that Moscow exploited the "peoples democracies" to whom she gave economic aid.

Yugoslavia retorted that those two countries met his facts with slander. Russia, Poland and White Russia asked immediately for a chance to talk back again this afternoon. The argument is developing information about Russian trade with eastern European satellites that has been closely guarded before.

Whistle Is Still Object Of Search

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 11 (AP)—A whistle in his mouth, two-year-old Hamilton Connell stumbled on the run and fell.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Connell of Cameron, Mo., picked him up. But they couldn't find the whistle. They surmised he might have swallowed it.

School Officials Pass Resolutions

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP) — Texas school administrators want no teachers with communistic leanings in their classrooms.

In session here yesterday more than 500 administrators put the Texas Association of School Administrators on record as endorsing "the recent position taken by the National Education Association relative to anti-Americanism urging the immediate dismissal or refusal to employ any personnel connected with the schools who have avowed leanings toward communism or any other philosophy of government which would overthrow or challenge the principles of democracy in accordance with the constitution of the United States."

It was one of many resolutions adopted in the closing session of the association's meeting. Others urged administrators to recognize the "obligation and challenge" of the Gilmer-Aikin program for an improved Texas school system, expressed gratitude to Texas taxpayers for increased financial support for the Gilmer-Aikin program, urged no new textbook adoptions for next year to save the state $3,000,000, encouraged support for the proposed constitutional amendment to increase pay for legislators, and urged active support of Warren Travis White, Dallas school superintendent, for the presidency of the American School administrators.

Another proposed resolution to endorse abolition of the poll tax voting requirement was turned down.

Hollywood Given Go-Ahead Signal On Films Of Fathers

Proud Papas Run Gamut Of Braggarts Except One--He'll Call His Offspring "Gourd-Head"

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11—If you think Hollywood exaggerates the way proud papas rant over newborn babies, it just shows you've never paced a hospital waiting room.

No movie actor'd dare go through the goofy antics real-life fathers come up with when they see their child for the first time.

This we have directly from Arthur E. Carlson, assistant director of personnel at the California hospital in Los Angeles. He took a survey for Universal-International, which produced "Yes, That's My Baby."

Sky's The Limit

And he reassured the moviemakers they could let their actors get as gaga as they dared.

"I rounded up a lot of fathers as they came to peek through the nursery windows at the new children," Carlson explained. "And I asked them all kinds of questions.

"Most of the men insisted they could spot their own child out of 15 new-born babies without even looking at name tags."

Plumber J. T. Mitchell, for instance, said it was a cinch.

"It's the prettiest one in there," he boasted. "Looks just like me—and I'm nice looking."

Cheerfulness No Help

"She's only a few hours old," he said. "But she has what it takes."

Mechanic Harrell J. Hopkins was a little more modest. Sure his baby was the prettiest, he beamed, but he wouldn't say it was the smartest. He guessed it's "take a few days" to find that out.

The night we went along on the survey the seventh floor during visiting hours was jammed with gents wearing silly beams on their faces.

All except one.

He was Robert Ellis, a business student at USC.

"That one over there's mine," he said wearily. "In the back row. I don't blame 'em for sticking aim way back. Look at that head. Looks like on ice cream cone."

Nurses tried to cheer him up. They said the baby's head would probably be as round as a billiard ball by the time he took him home. But Ellis wouldn't be cheered.

"His name's Stephen," he said sadly. "But I guess we'll have to call him 'gourd-head'."

Along with other early radio developments, Guglielmo Marconi is credited withe being the first to use an elevated wire as a wireless antenna.

EUROPE HAPPY HUNTING GROUND

'Join Congress And See World' Seems To Be Solons' Slogan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP) — The American congressman is deserting the cracker barrel and becoming global in his politics.

Europe, it seems, is becoming the happy hunting ground of the lawmakers.

Time was when they were content to run back to the cross roads at every opportunity to check up on the voters and splash a bare toe in the political trends.

But pretty soon they'll have to call Congress into session in Europe if they want a quorum. (A quorum, or majority, is what every Congress must have around to get any legal business done).

More Tours Set

Senators and representatives already are busy going to and returning from Europe. And a new wave will be washed up on the shores of the continent when Congress adjourns.

Here's a quick check on some of your touring legislators:

Senators Brewster (R-Me), Lodge (R-Mass), Baldwin (R-Conn), and Kefauver (D-Tenn), are safely back from their overseas travels.

Brewster inquired into shipbuilding on the continent. He also had a brief visit with Mrs. Perle Mesta who gave up her job as Washington's No. 1 hostess to become minister to Luxembourg.

Baldwin and Kefauver checked into the army's conduct of the trials of German soldiers convicted of participating in the Malmedy massacre. Lodge looked at the economic and military situation in France and Italy.

Navy Slogan Revised

Low-cost housing — and how Europe does it — has drawn the attention of Senators Frear (D-Del), Sparkman (D-Ala), Bricker (R-Ohio), and Flanders (R-Vt). They will be joined later by Senator Cain (D-Wash).

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), Chairman of the Senate judiciary committee, has been in Europe for quite a while. Senator Tydings (D-Md), chairman of the Senate armed services committee, is checking into western Europe's defense planning.

Five members of the Senate appropriations committee will soon be off for a trip that may girdle the globe. They are Senators Ellender (D-La), Green (D-RI), Ferguson (R-Mich), Young (R-ND), and Jenner (R-Ind.)

Congress, it seems, is revising the old navy slogan to read: "join Congress and see the world."

Power Firm's Guests Dine By Candlelight

HARLINGEN, Oct. 11—(AP)—Between 300 and 400 people from over South Texas were guests last night at a dinner at Bayview of the Central Power and Light company.

They had just inspected the huge La Palma power plant near San Benito, where it was explained that more than $4,000,000 had been spent in the past few years to increase power to meet the growing needs of the Rio Grande valley. They were assured the plant was capable of meeting every emergency.

High officials of the company searched with flashlights for the fuse box. The guests went ahead with their meal by candlelight.

Grocery Clerk Murders Mother For Turning Him Over For Adoption While He Was Baby

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 11 (INS)—Sam Westberry, 21-year-old grocery clerk, was charged today with murdering his mother, who he said "had it coming" for turning him over to another couple for adoption when he was a baby.

Police said Westberry stabbed his mother to death with a hunting knife this morning, apparently while she was talking on the telephone in her Jacksonville home.

The slaying victim was Mrs. Gladys Hanna, 45. Her body was found lying on the floor beside the telephone and the receiver was still in her hand.

Detectives said young Westberry told them he discovered when he was 16 years old that he was an adopted child and Mrs. Hanna was his real mother.

They quoted him as saying he nursed a grudge for five years until he could stand it no longer.

Police said Weestberry bought the hunting knife Saturday for the express purpose of killing his mother.

R. G. Schultz, a Jacksonville insurance man, was nearby when the stabbing occurred. He rushed to the scene, found Mrs. Hanna dead, and held Westberry until police arrived.

Negro Charged With Slaying Of Mexican

O'DONNELL, Oct. 11 (Special) Charges of murder and assault with intent to murder have been filed here, the outgrowth of gunplay early Sunday which ended in the death of a Latin-American farm laborer, and the wounding of a negro cafe operator.

The negro, Rock Williams, 50, is charged with the 3 a.m. slaying of Victor Nanez, 24, of San Angelo. A companion of the dead man, Ralph Tarra, was arrested after Williams had been wounded in the right hip by a bullet from a .22 calibre rifle.

Witnesses said the shooting occurred in front of the cafe after Williams and Nanez and Tarra had an argument. Both men were taken into custody shortly after the shooting.

James Polk was the shortest-lived of all American presidents. He died at 53.

Girls Who Leave Work When Boss Gets Fresh Entitled To Unemployment Pay

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 11 (INS)—A Pennsylvania unemployment compensation board of review ruled today that girls who quit their jobs when the boss "gets fresh" are entitled to jobless pay.

The board took its stand in overruling an unemployment compensaetion referee who held that a Philadelphia movie cashier had been dismissed for drinking rather than for "improper advances" as she contended.

The board found:

"The manager on duty at the theater made improper advances toward the claimant, who started to cry and threatened to tell another manager. There was no evidence that the claimant had been drinking."

plete, barring any changes by the membership. The unusual miniature allows a better knowledge of how the church will look than do usual architectural drawings.

Made of cardboard, the model is painted in the same color as the actual building will be, if approved. Even the stained-glass windows are painted realistically and the proposed wedding and funeral chapel is included in direct proportion to its size.

The new building will probably be erected due west of the present structure at Fourteenth and Avenue N, if approval is given the project, Dr. Lewis said. Construction would probably begin as soon after approval as contracts could be let.

Cost of the new building and remodeling of the old would be paid through contributions from the membership, the pastor said.

ST. JOHN'S DRIVE IS OPENED HERE

An estimated 450 persons attended a dinner last night which officially opened the financial campaign for construction of a new St. John's Methodist church. The gathering was held in the Veterans of Foreign Wars clubhouse at Thirty-fourth and Ave. N.

Dr. Kenneth Pope, pastor of First Methodist church of Houston, was principal speaker at the dinner. His address concerned the double responsibility of the church in an era in which science has outdistanced human relation, except as supplied by the church.

Dr. Pope stressed that membership of any church is the most effective means by which the spirit of the church takes its place in society.

Dean James G. Allen, chairman of the St. John's building fund committee, presided at the dinner meeting. He spoke briefly, outlining the past 10 years of the church's existence.

Chairmen and members of the various committees in connection with the fund raising campaign were introduced by Dean Allen and by Paul Cates, chairman of the church's board of stewards and general campaign chairman.

Cates also spoke briefly on personal obligations to the church and Dr. Paul Sheahan, campaign director, spoke on pledges made thus far to the building fund.

The main speaker, Dr. Pope, was introduced by Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church. Invocation was offered by Dr. J. O. Haymes, Methodist district superintendent, and benediction by Rev. Charles Lutrick, associate pastor of St. John's.

J. H. Penn and Mrs. Stuart Shafter were soloists for the evening.

John Adams enjoyed the greatest longevity of any American president. He lived to be 90.

and county together were asked to contribute $4,721.95 of which $3,816 would actually be used for child care and $895.95 for travel, stationery, office equipment and so forth.

The $2,000 appropriation by the commissioners' court was approved subject to approval of a similar amount by the City of Lubbock.

Salary Hike Okayed

Gordon Treadaway, Lubbock attorney, appeared in behalf of his client, Constable George Jones, to recite why Jones' salary of $1,500 should be increased to $2,627 a year. The commissioners raised his salary to $2,102.19 per year, effective last July 1.

P. M. Jeffcoat of Monroe appeared before the court to request that he be appointed constable there. He presented a petition signed by some residents of the Monroe area. No action was taken.

The commissioners approved a plat and dedication of Smithlawn addition as requested by Joe B. Phillips and wife and Charles E. Smith and wife. The plat was approved subject to approval by the city. The addition is described as the north 60 acres of the southeast one-fourth of survey 5, block E, Lubbock county.

T. A. Rogers, owner of Lubbock Machine company, appeared to ask about paving of a county road near his place of business. Commissioner Pat Corley promised that preliminary work would be done this week.

we want you to stay and to grow with us."

Gov. Shivers told the crowd that oil was one of Texas' greatest assets. The discoveries in Scurry county were among the greatest in the state, he added.

Gov. Shivers drew a round of applause when he told the audience; "I expect to be governor of all Texas. I want to know your problems and help you with them."

Escort Provided

At the conclusion of the governor's address the crowd swarmed around the tables laden with barbecue and then witnessed a square dance contest under the direction of Carl Herod.

James Rosser, Snyder attorney, was parade marshal. The Hardin-Simmons band was under the direction of Marion McClure. The governor's escort was made up of T. T. Brady and O. D. Lewis of the State Highway Patrol and eight members of Company E, 112th Armored Cavalry, commanded by Sgt. Acalee Kinkaid.

The color guard consisted of Sheriff Will Watson, Abilene; Sue Rose, Doris Young, Doris Reid, Johnnie Dell Brock, all of Abilene and Pat McDaniel, Snyder.

Boy Scouts served as ushers, car parkers and ticket takers. John Blum was in charge of transportation; Marcel Josephson, barbecue; Dr. H. G. Towle and Lee T. Stinson, special arrangements; and Willard Jones, publicity.

Lubbock's delegation to the celebration included: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davison, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gaston, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ratliff, E. K. Hufstedler, Arch Underwood, Wright Kerr, John Lee Smith, Sterling Parrish, L. R. Rampy, Wesley Read, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Homer Pharr, L. D. Thomas, John Hughes, W. F. Hines and Geo. Bond.

Sweetwater was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wright, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bishop, Hal Etz, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chennault, R. B. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. James Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Dorbandt and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Buck.

District Attorney and Mrs. Eldon Mahon and Senator Pat Bullock were present from Colorado City. Bob Piner, and Shine Philips, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Jackson, Plainview; J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls; and many others.

sponsored the law making funds available to deserving farmers for the purchase of family-type farms. Six thousand of these loans have been made in Texas and nearly one-third of them have been paid off by former tenant families who own them debt-free.

That Girl on Broadway says she wonders sometimes if the world wouldn't be better off if people would quit trying to get along together and agree to disagree.

The only prediction we care to make about the future is that there'll be plenty of it—if not too much—for everybody!

SPEAKING before the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters in Dallas the other day, SMU's Dr. Umphrey Lee said radio stations must either improve the quality of their programs or submit to greater federal control.

That's just like saying the public should have either a slug of castor oil, or a big dose of salts!

We can't figure out which would be worse: more federal control—or more of the kind of radio programs the networks call "good!"

And, incidentally, we'd like to have Doctor Lee, in his spare time some day, tell us how the radio could have "more" federal control.

It's complete and final—just like an electrocution!

DR. ROBERT T. CANON was checking the eyes of a patient the other day.

Pointing to the chart, he said:

"See if you can make out the fourth line."

"Sure I can make it out," said the patient. "It's N-L-L-X-Z-M-Y-K-S. I can even pronounce it. I remember when he played for the Irish of Notre Dame!"

We don't know of any two animate objects which have more in common than a yodeling hillbilly and a tomcat in love.

That Man on Avenue Q says it's true that George Washington said he couldn't tell a lie—but that was before he entered politics!

The main trouble with the youngsters of this day is that they are just as thoughtless, selfish, lazy, irresponsible, silly and reckless as were the youngsters of all preceding generations!

THE United States government's experimentation with socialism—or, if you please, its experimentation in "statism"—is mirrored in two interesting actions against two business firms whose "high crime" has been in becoming big and able to do an outstanding job of service to its customers.

The actions to which we refer are those against the E. I. duPont de Nemours company, of Wilmington, Del., and the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, of New York.

Both are widely known. Both have been highly successful in their fields. In those fields, both have contributed a great deal to American living while, of course, making the customary profits which, in this country, go hand-in-hand with good, honest service and products.

But the Government of the United States, as conceived by those currently in administrative power, has said to these firms:

"You have been too successful. Therefore, you must be broken up. You must be broken up in order that competitors not so efficient and not so successful may have part of the business you have built up by giving your customers what they want at prices entirely satisfactory to them and—in many cases, better products for lower prices than are obtainable elsewhere. In short, you must be levelled down to the competition you have outdistanced through sheer brains, ability and energy."

This sort of thing is a little difficult to understand by Americans who believe in free enterprise and who, quaintly, perhaps, think the economic system which has made this nation the strongest on earth is still the best system known to man.

AT THE same time administration leaders are telling us we must be industrially strong, they are seeking to weaken one of our most valuable industrial and scientific units. The E. L. du Pont de Nemours Co.—better known as "du Pont"—is one of the finest and most patriotic collection of people in the land.

At the same time administration leaders tell us our freedom, and that of the world, is being threatened by scientific and industrial advances in Russia, they also are telling us that it's in the best interest of the nation to whittle down du Pont. Yet du Pont made some of the most important contributions to our recent triumph in war and, for generations, has made tremendous contributions to our economy and to better living through the harnessing of science and industry.

Remember, nobody charges du Pont with any crime against anybody—except the "crime"—in the eyes of a handful of politicians—of being so successful that it has gotten very large.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company has been a reputable business institution in the U. S. for several generations.

Today, in addition to other activities in the sale of foodstuffs, A&P has an almost nation-wide system of retail grocery stores.

A&P has gotten so efficient in its field that it has been able to undersell many of its competitors and that, say the Great Minds of the Truman administration, is very bad, indeed. It isn't right, say these tremendous minds, for an important segment of the American public to be able to buy food and drink cheaper from A&P than in many other places. So A&P must be dismembered, so less able competitors can stay in business by the simple process of being aided by the government to sell for more than A&P asks of its customers.

That is the sort of thinking not to be expected of men wise enough to run the greatest nation on the face of the globe. But it is the sort of thinking being done by President Truman, whose only business venture ended in failure; by his erstwhile attorney general, Tom Clark—now a Supreme court justice whose eminence in his brief practice of law in Dallas was so slight as to be unnoticed; and by others of the "brains" of the so-called "Tru-Deal."

THE sort of action being taken against du Pont and A&P should be actively opposed by every American who believes in free enterprise; who believes in a continuation of the American Way of Life; who knows that we have built the greatest nation on earth only by giving everyone a chance to excel and then rewarding him when he does excel.

We have no connection, whatso-ever, with either du Pont or A&P. We have no friends connected with either company. We have no stock in either company and never have had. Neither is any sort of factor in Lubbock, Texas, or over the area served by The Avalanche-Journal.

But as an American citizen we resent all sorts of "statism." We believe in the right of the American public to be served in the best and the cheapest way, even if such service does necessitate the turning to other endeavors by competitors unable to offer as much for as little.

Every other American citizen who believes in freedom and in free enterprise should feel and express similar resentment and opposition—not only because that is the right and the just thing to do, but also because it is to his own best interests.

If the "Tru-Deal" politicians can wreck du Pont and A&P, they can wreck General Motors, Chrysler, the railroads, the airlines, Ford, the National City Bank of New York, the great insurance firms—every big, successful, serviceable business concern in the land.

If the "Tru-Deal" leftwingers can tell the people in the cities where A&P has stores that they must pay more for foodstuffs than they now do, they can tell YOU the same thing in Lubbock—not only about food, but about everything else you must have to live.

The socialistic attack against du Pont and A&P is the first important battle of the collectivists against free America. We suggest that all true Americans enlist for the duration; fight the collectivists at every turn—even if it requires throwing off the yokes of sorry custom and voting against whatever enemies of freedom who call themselves "Democrats."

BY DREW PEARSON: TODAY'S NAVY REVOLT SIMILAR TO CAMPAIGN AGAINST HOOVER

Bikini Test Real Reason For Admirals' Plight

WASHINGTON — It's been a long time since the U. S. navy hung the son of the U. S. secretary of war, John C. Spencer, "at the yard-arm of the brig Somers for insubordination and attempted mutiny," but there's always been a certain amount of insubordination in the navy not unlike that flaring in the headlines today.

PEARSON

There was the case when the admirals, through their mouthpiece, the Navy league, called their commander-in-chief Herbert Hoover "abysmally ignorant." There was the case when the admirals, led by Hilary P. Jones, sabotaged Secretary of State Henry L. Stimpson on 8-inch-gun cruisers. And there was the bitter attack on Stimson's war record, carried on sub rosa by the admirals.

There was also the leak of a secret naval document regarding dirigible bases by Adm. Joseph M. Reeves, not unlike the leak by Capt. Crommelin today. And there was the shameless way in which certain naval advisers to the Coolidge naval conference in 1927 conspired with William Baldwin Shearer, lobbyist for American steel manufacturers and shipbuilders, to defeat the policies of their commander-in-chief, Mr. Coolidge.

Looking back over the last three decades, the navy has battled much more vigorously against its Republican commanders-in-chief than against the Democrats. This is partly because, under Franklin D. Roosevelt, a former assistant naval secretary, there was almost nothing the navy wanted that it could not get.

Even regarding uniforms, FDR bowed to the admirals. Because of the scarcity of textiles during the war, his secretary of the navy, the late Frank Knox, had banned a new blue-gray summer uniform. Whereupon, fleet commander Admiral Ernie King walked into the White House and reversed Knox in five minutes.

One reason the admirals are so irate today, of course, is that their inside drag with the White House is no more. Not only was Harry Truman an artillery captain during World War I, but his very close friend, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, is interested in the army, not the navy.

The Admirals Still Leak

Reading a book written 17 years ago, I came across this paragraph:

"Leaks are among the admirals most effective means of propagandizing when a White House decision has gone against them, when the State department is carrying on a negotiation which the admirals oppose, when they fail to get their full appropriation, then the safest and best strategy is to leak.

"They do this to the press or to a discreet member of Congress. Both channels are effective. A furore is stirred up. The President or the State department is pictured as stripping the country of its defense and baring its bosom to the enemy—and after all the furore has subsided, the admirals usually find themselves on top."

That statement, written by this columnist in 1932 in the book "More Merry-Go-Round," is equally true today. It is true regarding the Captain Crommelin leaks; and it is true regarding the leaks to Congressman Van Zandt, the naval reserve officer who so grossly libeled Secretary of Air Symington under the safety of congressional immunity.

THE public has largely forgotten it, but twice the navy has been given complete and lengthy hearings by Congress, and each time Congress ruled against the navy. Following which the admirals refused to accept the congressional decision.

In 1946-47 Congress held protracted hearings regarding unification of the armed forces. The navy was vigorously opposed. One of the admirals testifying against unification at that time was Adm. Gerald F. Bogan, who, apparently forgetting his own testimony, wrote a letter, recently leaked to the press, in which he complained that the navy never had a hearing.

However, after months of hearings and after listening to anyone who wanted to testify, Congress voted for unification. In a civilian form of government, it is the Congress, not the navy, which is supposed to have the final word.

Again last winter further hearings were held on unification. Again Congress listened patiently to the admirals, but again Congress voted against them, tightened unification.

Cavalry And Battleships

Admirals Bogan, Radford Denfeld now complain that morale in the navy is low. That is true.

However, during the 1946-47 hearings, congressmen proposed that naval officers have the right to transfer to the air forces or any branch of the army with equal pay and rank, or with even greater pay and rank—if justified. This provision was inserted because it was foreseen that battleships and surface vessels, now easy targets for atomic bombs, would be put out of commission and there should be some place for naval officers to go.

The situation was considered similar to that in the army when cavalry and horse-drawn artillery became outmoded. Cavalrymen and any other officer in an outmoded branch of the service were permitted to transfer to the expanding air forces, sometimes with a promotion.

But when Congress proposed that naval officers be allowed to transfer to the army or air force, the admirals opposed. At their behest this provision was taken out of the unification bill.

That is the reason why morale is low in the navy. The inescapable fact is that the battleship is woefully out of date, and the navy would even like to lay up the Missouri—if President Truman would consent. Thus naval officers have no other branch of the service to which they can transfer. No wonder they are discouraged.

AGAIN, early this year, when the new unification bill was under consideration, it was proposed that naval officers have the right to transfer to the air force or the army; but again the naval lobby opposed.

So many naval officers find themselves in the same position the old-fashioned cavalryman would have been in, had he not been permitted to transfer to other branches. It was the admirals, however, who pulled the wires on Capitol Hill to prevent this transfer.

Not much is said about it, and the report is still secret, but real trouble with the navy today is the Bikini bomb test. When cruisers and battleships were found to have been radioactive months after Bikini, and finally had to be taken out in the sea and sunk, you can understand by the navy is getting out-of-date. Bikini vessels which came within range of the atomic fumes couldn't even be saved for scrap iron. That's the key to the admirals' woes.

Harriman Said Responsible For Statement On Atom Bomb

MEMOS of a Girl Friday—Dear Mr. W.: It was printed that the President dropped that Russian A-bombshell to beat Vishinsky to the scoop. The White House having been tipped that Andrei planned using that exclusive news as his punchline in his opening UN speech. But this, I am told, is still news: Mr. Truman was the One Who Didn't Wanna Tell the Public! It was Ambassador-at-Large Averell Harriman who persuaded the President that it was his Duty . . . All Allied Intelligence circles "heard" the explosion — some via instruments, others heard it from agents planted in Russia, and some got it from Tito's crowd—but this is what convinced the White House and the British that the information wasn't counterfeit: The various Intelligence chiefs informed each other! That they "heard an explosion of atomic power." They compared notes and it "traced" to a spot controlled by Russia.

The Feminine Viewpoint

THERE'S one in every woman's club:

The Clothes Horse, who manages to make all the other women feel like frumps.

The Memory, who slows down proceedings by pointing out what the club did about a certain matter in 1937—or was it 1938.

MILLETT

The Prodder, who is always trying to get the meeting back to the business at hand.

The Rambler, who takes ten minutes to make a minor point.

The Born President, who is determined to run the show whether her titles is past or present.

The Giggler, who sits in the back and whispers and giggle throughout the meeting.

The Stickler, who always wants a vote taken.

The Dissenter, who can always be counted on to come forth with an objection.

The Grumbler, who votes with the crowd, but says how she really feels privately to one member after another after the votes are cast.

HOW NOT TO BE POPULAR

THE Out-doer, who when it is her turn to entertain the club always has things a little fancier than she is supposed to—making it tough on the next hostess.

The Do-gooder, who never misses an opportunity to let the "girls" know what she's been up to, though prettily making light of it all.

The Handshaker, who wears the same bright, meaningless smile for everyone.

The Busy Bee, who always brings her knitting along.

The Crusader, who always has a cause she's working for.

The Absent-minded, who doesn't listen to what is going on and always has to have everything explained twice.

The Practical, who is always suggesting simple ways of doing things and getting nowhere because no woman's organization is interested in doing anything the easy way.

Got a club meeting tomorrow? See if you can't spot all these types.

'Try And Stop Me"

TWO elderly ladies checked into a sportly new hotel in Miami Beach. The first thing they noticed was a furitive little man circulating from guest to guest in the lobby, whispering, and collecting money. They were told he was a bookie—a man who took bets on horse races.

In vacation abandon, they decided impulsively to risk two dollars themselves. They lost. That night one of the ladies tossed around in her bed and sighed so lugubriously that the other counseled her, "Becky, you shouldn't cry so over spilled milk. Stop worrying because you lost. It was only two dollars." "It ain't losing I'm worrying about," Becky answered. "I was worrying about if we had won. What would we have done with the horse?"

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Final Showdown On Rivalry Of Armed Forces Requested

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—One thing the navy learned from the Japs in the Pacific was the value of the suicide pilot, or kamekaze, in destroying an objective when normal means fail. The admission by Capt. John G. Crommelin that he was responsible for leaking the contents of personal, restricted letters to the press makes it pretty clear that Capt. Crommelin is no hothead, speaking only for himself.

RUARK

When Crommelin popped off last month that navy was being "nibbled to death" in the pentagon, that might have passed as an irresponsible statement by an individual officer and was formally dismissed as such. But Crommelin's startling behavior in releasing Vice Adm. Gerald Bogan's personal letter to navy Secretary Francis Mathews suddenly makes all clear. The bigger brass, despairing of more subtle attacks on unification and the air force, desperately chose themselves a kamekaze.

It is almost mandatory that Crommelin had the support of the navy big guns, and that his publicizing of Adm. Bogan's letter was the death-dive in a last-ditch gamble. Having gotten away, more or less, with his pop-off of last month, Capt. Crommelin would be very carefully minding his behavior now unless he was part of a careful plot, with plenty of backing at the top.

The captain, now suspended, says he didn't steal the letters, which means he got them with the knowledge of Admirals Denfeld and Radford, through whose hands they passed for formal endorsement. He says he first withheld his identity only to stave off a diversionary interest in himself, thereby robbing the letters of public impact. Capt. Crommelin now emerges less as a lone eagle in the Billy Mitchell tradition than the unofficial spokesman for his superiors. If Crommelin is suspended in house arrest it would seem logical also to suspend the admirals who backed him in the scheme.

Whatever the right behind navy arguments against the air force, to date the admirals have heaped no great credit on themselves in their methods of bringing their beef to public attention. They came out badly on the anonymous letter charging collusion in the air force with airplane manufacturers. They looked a little ridiculous in staging their own investigation of Cedric Worth's alleged authorship of the accusations, and seemed even sillier when they attempted to draw air force boss Stuart Symington into testimony before their own court of inquiry.

FOR THE last four years there has been nothing but steady sniping between the services, hot and high-powered press relations combat, and deliberate sabotage of each other's efforts toward eminence. President Truman, the late Jim Forrestal and the present chief of defense, Louis Johnson, have attempted to stop the secret squabbles and open rebellions, and all have failed.

It seems to me that this should be the final show-down, with most of the dirty linen on both sides aired and publicly noted. Adjustments toward the right should be made, punishments meted, if necessary, and a final admonition delivered to the boys to quit wasting their strength fighting each other.

Full Probe Urged

It may be that the navy's morale has capsized as a result of the victories scored by the air force in their wrestle for power, but I cannot see how it has been lifted very high by the recent activities of its senior officers. As a former navy man I find very little to boast of in the carryings-on of the dignified senior service.

I note that the congressional hearings are announced as closed, which means the public will hear only leaks and what Chairman Vinson wishes to disclose. I cannot see where much actual security is jeopardized here, unless the brave buckos start to swapping recipes for atom bombs or some such, and I think the public has a right to be in on the row.

We are the people who have to fight these wars for the admirals and generals, and pay for them both before and after. There's been enough cover-up already, and this is one I want to let the light shine on.

Today's Journal Editorial

RUSSIA MUST WANT SOMETHING!

The announcement that Russia plans to return a microscopic part of the aid obtained from the United States under lend-lease arouses natural curiosity as to what the Soviet may be fishing for now.

Lend-lease supplied Russia has been valued officially at more than $11,000,000,000—a figure generally regarded as low. It included 500 or more ships of various kinds. Until now, the Kremlin has refused even to discuss a settlement of the debt. But they now announce that 30 of the smallest ships will be returned. Whether they will be good for anything except the scrap heap after four years and longer of brutal use by the Russians is extremely doubtful.

The net result is that the Russians are giving up nothing, and the United States isn't gaining anything worth mentioning.

The whole thing justifies suspicion that the Soviet may be attempting to maneuver into a position to seek some of the foreign aid Uncle Sam is throwing around with such prodigality. The idea would seem fantastic were it not for the fact that the administration is infested with left-wingers who would use any kind of excuse to start pumping for a handout for Josef Stalin.

Today's Thought

THE fact that a Los Angeles rooster is living without a head is news, of course, but there are other bipeds—you probably know some of them—who have been doing practically the same thing for quite some years.

New Case Of Polio Is Reported Here

Melvin Wayne Morgan, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Morgan of 518 Ave. M, was admitted to Lubbock Memorial hospital Monday morning with an illness diagnosed as polio.

His physician said the boy's condition was "fairly good," with no symptoms of paralysis. The youth was admitted after he developed a stiff neck and back, and was placed in isolation. Hospital attendants said today that there was no change in his condition from the earlier report by the physician.

ARIZONA CITY HONORS PILOTS

New Champ Endurance Fliers Greeted By Defeated Holders

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 11 (AP) — The new world's champion endurance fliers, Woody Jongeward and Bob Woodhouse, are resting at their homes today.

The wartime navy pilots brought their four-place plane, "The City of Yuma," to a landing at the Yuma county airport yesterday afternoon at 3:33 p. m. (MST) after 1,124 hours and 18 minutes of continous flying.

Since Aug. 24 when they took off from the smaller Marsh aviation field on the other side of town, they had flown 85,000 miles, the equivalent of three times around the world.

During their flight they used 9,000 gallons of gasoline and 200 quarts of oil.

Fine Weather Publicized

Decision to terminate the flight —most of which was spent over Yuma to show the world this city's fine flying weather — came Sunday night when one of their two magnetoes burned out.

On hand to greet the new champions when they taxied to a stop on the runway at the Yuma county airport were their wives, parents, and the holders of the old record of 1,008 hours. The former record holders, Dick Riedel and Bill Barris of Fullerton, Calif., landed in their record plane, "Sunkist Lady" about half an hour before Jongeward brought "The City of Yuma" to a perfect landing.

The larger of Yuma's two airports was used for the landing because of the greater ease in handling the crowds of spectators. Sheriff's deputies estimated the crowd at 15,000. They based this on an estimated 6,000 cars parked in the vicinity of the airport.

When the fliers stepped from the cramped quarters of their plane, they found the answer to their big question, "can we walk?" They could. Unaided, they walked to an open car waiting for them.

From the car they walked to an elevated reception stand where they were given an official civic greeting my Mayor W. J. Anderson. Also extended greetings to them was Charlie Gilpin, president of the Yuma junior chamber of commerce, the organization which sponsored the flight.

Last night Jongeward and Woodhouse and their wives, Betty and Berta, were the dinner guests of their ground mechanic, Paul Berch, at a local hotel.

A detail of Arizona national guardsmen served as an honor guard to the fliers during the civic reception. Members of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars helped the sheriff's mounted posse in policing the crowd.

A special guard was placed around their plane. Before stopping, the two young businessmen who fly for fun — Jongeward is 31 and Woodhouse 26 — taxied around the field a couple of times to give everyone a chance to see "The City of Yuma."

Their next public appearance will be Saturday when Yuma will have a street pageant and festical for them.

New Staff Section Set For Reserves

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (Special)—The Organized Reserve corps has been directed by President Truman to establish a new branch designated the staff specialist reserve section, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, executive of the Texas Military district has announced.

The new branch will consist of personnel who specialize in the following fields: public relations, (newspaper editors, newspaper managers, publicity editors, radio program officers); Army exchange service (to include exchange accounting officers); athletics (to include special services); historical (archivists and historical editor); civil affairs (to include military government), and instructors in the education field.

With the establishment of the new branch, the former staff and administrative section will be abolished and all officers and enlisted personnel in that former section will be transferred to the staff specialist reserve.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF LUBBOCK

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That by virtue of a certain execution issued out of the Honorable 99th District Court of Lubbock County, on the 22nd day of September, 1949, by Royal Furgeson, Clerk of said 99th District Court for the sum of Six Hundred Forty-three and 91/100 ($643.91) Dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment, in favor of U. S. Aircon-ditioning Corp. vs. E. H. Edwards and J. M. Edwards, placed in my hands for service, I, Grady Harrigt as Sheriff of Lubbock County, Texas, did, on the 23rd day of September, 1949, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Lubbock County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: The South one-half (S½) of Lot Seven (7) and all of Lot Eight (8), Block 200, Original Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of E. H. Edwards and that on the first Tuesday in November, 1949, the same being the 1st day of said month, at the Court House door of Lubbock County, in the City of Lubbock, Texas, between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M., by virtue of said levy and said execution I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said E. H. Edwards.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Avalanche-Journal, a newspaper published in Lubbock County.
