ADVANCE UPON CAPITAL IS WEAKENED

FAILURE OF REVOLT IS SEEN UNLESS CITY OF MADRID FALLS

BY RAMON BLARDONY

Copyright 1936 by Associated Press

MADRID, Aug. 5—Hard-driving loyalists, inspired by military successes in the Guadarrama mountains, reported today a smashing defeat of a rebel column near Avila.

A squadron of liberal fliers from Navalperal routed the fascist caravan of 70 trucks, the government said.

Hundreds of the rebels died in the aerial assault and the column was scattered, the official report said. The fascist forces were en route to the mountain passes to reinforce insurgent troops.

Trucks Are Seized

After the encounter loyal soldiers seized 11 of the trucks and a quantity of machine guns it was said.

In Madrid, leftist authorities began a dual drive against rightist sympathizers and supporters.

More than 600 fascists and monarchists were arrested in a city-wide police roundup.

Officials continued the purge of public offices by dismissing Antonio Tanovas, Spanish consul at Gibraltar, and numerous other public functionaries.

Advance Is Blocked

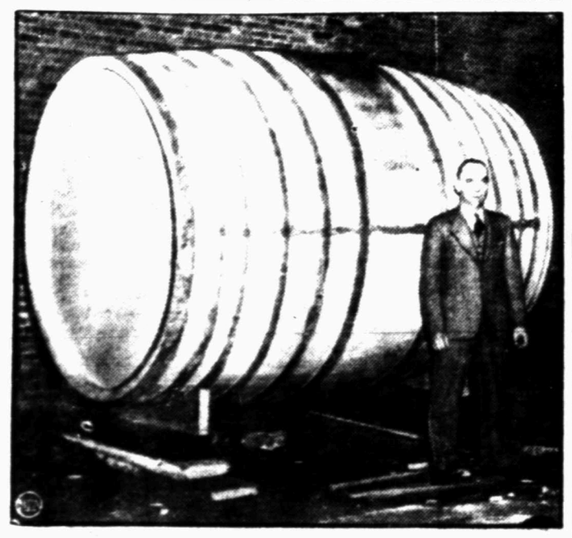

The rebel advance on the capital, the government claimed, was blocked by steel defenses in the Guadarrama mountain passes. In addition officials asserted loyal forces had prevented landing of Moroccoan troops on the mainland.

HOODED GROUP PLANNED TO KILL FOES

MAN CLAIMS THAT HE LIVED IN TERROR; FORCED TO JOIN

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Aug. 5—Charles T. McCutcheon, the city bacteriologist discharged because he did not report being "approached" in a Black Legion typhoid germ plot, said today he was forced to join the secret society three years ago and has "lived in terror ever since."

Tears filled his eyes as he told of being questioned by a high Legion officer about the possibility of infecting the Legion's class enemies, particularly Jews, by contaminating milk and cottage cheese delivered to them.

Went With Friend

McCutcheon said he thought he was being invited to a political meeting when he went with a friend to the basement of a house.

"We were in there only a few minutes when the lights went out and I was told I was to be a member of the Black Legion. I had never heard the name before.

"The light from a flashlight shone on a pistol which was pointed at me. I was terrified. It was enough to make me sick. I saw other men initiated at these meetings. Some of them were so terror-stricken they fainted.

Slightly Acquainted

McCutcheon said he was only slightly acquainted with the high Legion officer at the time the latter inquired about typhoid germs.

"It was at a convention of dairymen in Grand Rapids," he came to me and asked me if it would be possible to inject typhoid germs into bottles of milk at the homes of certain people without spreading the disease.

"I told him he must be mad and that he should certainly know that the disease would spread like wildfire. That was the first suggestion, that was my answer and that is the last time I ever spoke to him."

DRASTIC MOVE LIKELY WILL COME TODAY

SUSPENSION OF LEWIS GROUP FROM AFL IS DEEMED CERTAIN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—After a talk with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, David Dubinsky, president of the ladies garment workers, told reporters today he expected the federation executive council to suspend the unions affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The council met today to decide what action to take on charges by John P. Frey, president of the federation of metal trades department, that the unions affiliated with John L. Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organizations had "fomented insurrection" by working for industrial unions as opposed to craft unions favored by the federation.

To Protest Suspension

Dubinsky, the only council member who also belongs to the Lewis committee, said he would protest suspension "for all I'm worth."

"The council clearly lacks jurisprudence," Dubinsky said. "Only the convention of the A. F. of L. could suspend us."

Earlier it was reported that a majority of the 13 federation vice-presidents, sitting in judgment on the defendants, had decided to suspend the Lewis faction unless it comes to terms within 30 days.

Barring last minute changes of mind, informed sources said this would be the upshot of the momentous trial of the Lewis group on charges of "insurrection."

To Offer Verdict

The vice-presidents, members of the federation's executive council, were prepared to hand down their verdict today. They were understood to be determined to stipulate that before the suspension order can be lifted, Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization must dissolve.

This committee, comprising officials of unions numbering more than 1,000,000 workers, has been pressing plans to organize mass production workers into big unions, each covering a whole industry. This is against the wishes of craft unionists on the executive council, who argue that many of the workers should join the distinctive unions of their craft.

Are Not Affiliated

In all the Lewis committee comprises officials of 12 unions. However, two of these unions notified President William Green of the A. F. of L. that they were not affiliated with the committee, even though their officers were.

COUGHLIN'S WORK IN PREACHING JUSTICE RECEIVES FAVOR

By The Associated Press

ROME, Aug. 5—Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit described today the work of Father Charles E. Coughlin as a type of antidote to anti-clericalism as it prevails in Spain.

"If the priesthood all over the world had begun 40 years ago to preach these principles of greater justice and opportunity for the common man, it might not today be subjected to such odium as it suffers in Spain," the bishop said.

Controlled By Monarchies

"Unfortunately the majority of them in places where these principles are most needed to be preached were subject to control of monarchies.

"Autocratic governments controlled both their property and their salaries. They could not raise their voices for the common man without inviting their own destruction.

For this reason, the bishop said, he told Father Coughlin to "go right

TOWNSENDITE IS FAR BEHIND IN RACE TO SUCCEED LANDON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—Latest returns from state primaries—showing a Pendergast-backed candidate piling up an apparently unbeatable lead in Missouri and a Townsendite trailing in an important contest in Arkansas—held the attention of political leaders today.

Interest centered on the mid-western vote counting, there being few major presidential campaign developments.

Stark Far In Lead

Endorsed by the potent Tom J. Pendergast organization of Kansas City, Missouri, Lloyd C. Stark was running away from William Hirth, state farm leader in the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Stark held a 3 to 1 advantage as returns piled up.

Former State Attorney General Jesse W. Barrett, like Hirth a critic of the Pendergast regime, held a big margin over opponents to win the Republican nomination.

HALF GROWN DOG GOES ON TRIAL IN COURT; ACCUSED IN YOUTH'S DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

BROCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 5—A half grown dog, accused of causing the death by drowning of a 14-year-old boy, was put on trial for his life today amid a setting rivalling that of the nation's famous murder trials.

Idaho, a shaggy puppy of Airedale and police dog parentage, was the defendant before Justice of the Peace Homer D. Benedict on charges brought under the farm and markets law that he is a dangerous animal and should be destroyed.

Interest in the hearing caused Judge Benedict to change the courtroom from his office to the village hall, which accommodates about 250 persons.

The Brockport hook and ladder company next door moved out its equipment to improvise a press headquarters.

Harry A. Sessions, attorney for Victor Fortune, Idaho's 22-year-old owner, said he would call nearly 40 witnesses to testify that the dog is not vicious and was only frolicking in the water when Maxwell Breeze, Brockport high school student, was drowned on July 4 while swimming in the barge canal.

FUTURE OF CHILD FILM STARS LIKE THAT OF ICICLE ON THE SUNNY SIDE

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 5—A child film star, as a rule, has a future like that of an icicle on the sunny side of the house.

And once the youthful actors pass from the pictures, a survey showed today, they rarely come back. Most of the infant and child box-office wonders of yesterday are gone as completely as a last year's snowfall.

There are two or three exceptions. Madge Evans is one of them. So are Mary Kornman and Anita Louise.

But the others?

Jackie Coogan was probably the most famous of adolescent cinema stars. He reached his peak as the smudgy-faced ragamuffin who got kicked around with Charlie Chaplin in the picture "The Kid." He earned about $2,000,000.

Now, at the voting age, he is entirely divorced from the movies and there are no indications that he will ever appear again.

PLANE BOMBING PLAN ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—New methods of training aerial bombers, enabling them to flood night targets with light and test their marksmanship without using costly explosives or even leaving the ground, were announced today by the army air corps.

Succinctly titled "flare bombing," "armchair bombing" and "radio bombing," they are expected to cut the cost of intensive training and boost the number of "bulls-eye" hits.

In flare bombing the air corps information division explained, one plane soars along at 8,000 feet laden with 300-pound bombs that contain powder and sand in place of high explosives. Another bearing a load of parachute flares flies at 2,500 or 3,000 feet, soaring over the target a few seconds ahead of the bomber and releasing a flare with careful allowance for speed and wind drift.

As the bombing plane on the higher course speeds toward the objective, it was explained, the flare bathes the target in light more brilliant than day.

Honeymoon Marred By Plane's Crash

NEWFOUNDLAND, N. J., Aug. 5. (AP)—The honeymoon of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Nelson of Los Angeles, Calif., was marred Tuesday by the crash of their new passenger plane as they were taking off from the landing field here.

The tail of the plane went into the Pequannock river but the machine bounded up on the bank, struck a tree and came to a stop about 25 yards from the 150 year-old McDavitt house.

Nelson suffered a slight shoulder bruise, but Mrs. Nelson and their companion, Charles A. Botsch, an architect of Los Angeles, were not injured.

Heir To Rich Oil Lands Is Hunted

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5 (AP)—Police here were asked today to search for J. Roy Willis, former $80-a-month Los Angeles WPA worker who recently inherited rich oil lands from his father.

Police received a letter from Robert J. Willis of Jacksonville, Fla., brother of the missing man, who asked them to get in touch with former associates of Roy.

Sam, the brother wrote, disappeared three weeks ago from his Rodessa, La., home. Willis said he feared Roy had met with foul play.

HEARING ORDERED ON RIVER WATERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Charles Warren, special master appointed by the supreme court, today ordered hearing at Albuquerque in November in a controversy between Texas and New Mexico over distribution of Rio Grande waters.

The testimony was scheduled in a conference today with representatives of the two states who discussed procedure to use in an original case brought to the supreme court by Texas.

Texas complained New Mexico was making excessive diversion from the Rio Grande above Elephant Butte dam and sought intervention of the supreme court to determine an equitable division of valuable irrigation water.

The suit was instituted when New Mexico and the middle Rio Grande conservancy district contemplated construction of the El Vado dam on the Rio Chama, a Rio Grande tributary, contending the project would withhold from Texas and Mexico more water than was authorized under a 1929 Rio Grande compact entered into by Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

ROAD PROJECT IS PLANNED

HARD SURFACING FOR DICKENS AND KING ROUTE IS ASKED

Inclusion of some 50 miles of unpaved highway in Dickens and King counties, in the federal aid program to permit its hard surfacing within a short time, was requested by the state highway commission of the U. S. bureau of public roads, it was learned last night.

The proposed highway extends east from Dickens, county seat of the county by that name, to the Knox county line, between Guthrie and Benjamin.

In eastern Dickens county is a graded sector of the highway through a part of the Pitchfork ranch that has been worked. It is several miles from the present road, and eight or ten miles long.

To Shorten Distance

The program includes the change of location across the Crotan "brakes," so as to shorten the distance several miles and to eliminate a score or more of dangerous curves and short turns.

It is the only unpaved section of the highway connecting the South Plains with Dallas and Fort Worth. During heavy rains the road is almost impassable and even in light showers it is dangerous to travel at a moderate rate of speed.

Distance now to Fort Worth is approximately 300 miles. Under the proposed route, which the highway department has had mapped out for a number of years, at least 10 miles more would be cut off the distance. The present mileage is approximately 25 to 30 miles under the former mileage.

Some Paving Now

The road is now paved from Lubbock to Dickens and from the Knox-King county line through Seymour to Fort Worth. An additional route is also planned for beyond Seymour that will further cut the mileage.

Request is said to be the result of a series of conferences participated in by Lubbock and South Plains road men and state highway officials, extending over a period of months. The program has been under way for several years and the announcement is the first concrete step in the paving of the proposed short cut to the Plains Port Worth has given some aid in the program.

Appropriations Total $1,000,000

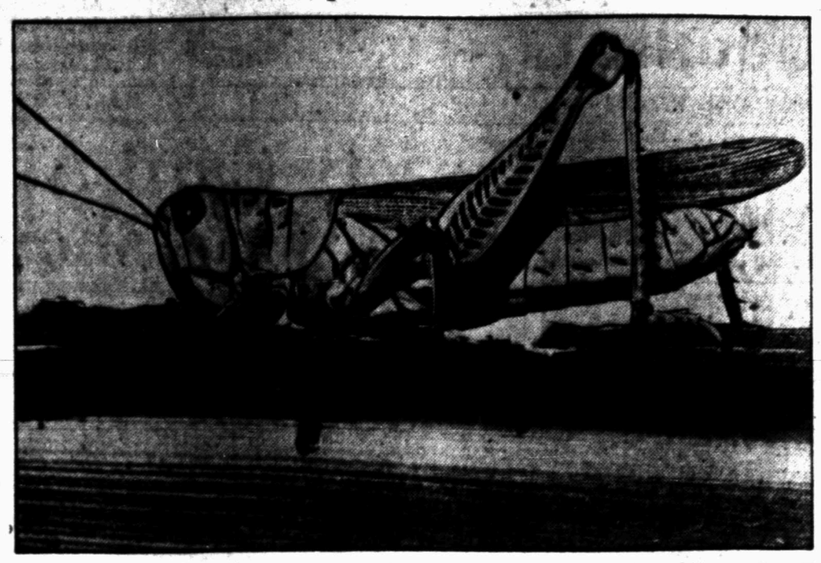

The commission announced appropriations of more than $1,000,000 for road work in a large number of counties, according to the Associated Press at Austin. Also, it allotted $239,619.34 to the maintenance department for light asphalt surfacing on more than 200 miles.

Lynn Job Included

A $75,200 project for surfacing highway 9 in Lynn county from three miles north of Tahoka to three miles south of the Lubbock county line was added to the current federal aid program.

Proposed construction on highway 24 eagerly has been awaited. The route is the shortest from Lubbock to Port Worth and to numerous other large Texas cities.

Meeting was called by P. G. Meading, Slaton, district director. O. G. Tumlinson, county agent leader, is expected here from College Station to attend the conference. He plans to be in this section about that time.

Date of the meeting for farmers of this section has not been announced. H. G. Lucas, Brownwood, is president and Cliff Day, Plainview, vice president. The two with Dr. R. C. Montgomery, formerly of the University of Texas department of economics, are to be on the program.

Meeting to plan for the coming affair will be held at 10 a. m. in the district courtroom. Meading is to preside. A series in each of the 12 extension service districts of the state is planned. They are to start about the last of August.

Date For Opening Of School Revealed

Date for the opening of the new Ira formed Ralls High School district No. 4 in the eastern part of the county, has been set by the board for Monday, September 7, instead of the preceding Monday, as first planned.

Inability of board officials to get their new building ready for work by the first date was the reason for the change, M. J. Kelley, superintendent, said. The board found the job of moving equipment into the building and installing new equipment and fixtures a larger job than at first anticipated.

The board at a special meeting Wednesday, August 12, will receive bids in person for the purchase of school bus drivers. Any one in the district is eligible to make a bid.

Aniff Cannon, who McClung grade school will open the same date as the high school.

The Texas forest service estimates that products of the east Texas farm forest are worth at $8,000,000 annually.

CARDS RETURN TO LEAD IN NATIONAL

JOHNNY MIZE PROVING TO BE LIFE-SAVER FOR ST. LOUIS

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They ought to frame Johnny Mize's big bat out in St. Louis. It shot the gas house gang right back into the pennant picture again.

When Frankie Frisch benched Rip Collins because of his hitting slump two weeks ago and turned first base over to Rookie Johnny, the Cards were slipping fast.

In First Place

Today, they're in first place in the National league.

Mize produced so well, in fact, that he's the number one man in the league batting race. Since Mize took over first base 31 games ago, he and Ducky Medwick have combined to lead the way to seven victories.

In that time, he has been batting at a .488 pace, has driven in ten runs and has hammered out four homers and half a dozen doubles.

Win Over Cubs

The gas house gang moved back into first place yesterday with a 6-1 decision over the Cubs, sinking the Chicago champions into second place. Johnny, the Rochester rookie the Cincinnati Reds couldn't use last year and turned back to the Cards, clubbed out a homer with two on, a double and two singles to account for four of the six St. Louis runs.

The victory put the Cards a full game in front of the Cubs, and 5 1-2 ahead of the Giants, who scored a 4-1 victory over the Boston Bees, largely through Mel Ott, who crashed his 22nd and 23rd homers out of the lot.

The Dodgers and Phillies put on one of their customary slam-bang affairs with the Brooklyns just managing to last for a 6-5 edge as Chuck Klein's homer with two on in the ninth all but tied the score. Rain forced postponement of the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati night game until tonight.

The Yankees, with Charley Ruffing chalking up his 15th pitching victory of the season, broke their Lefty Grove jinx and beat the lean portsider 4-2 for the first time since 1934, thereby increasing their American league lead to 11 full games.

Tommy Bridges turned in a five hit pitching trick for the Tigers to shut out the second place Indians 9-0, and enable the Chicago White Sox to move up to one game back of the Tribe by downing the Browns, 8-2.

Washington's Senators, still in their worst slump of the year, were unable to hit against Dusty Rhodes and Herman Fink and bowed to the Athletics 5-3.

DORY DETTON AND Cyclone Mackey ought to give the customers a heap of wrestling entertainment this evening at the auditorium.

They're paired off for the main event, making two "clean" main events in a row for the Siedatorium. (Pardon, Judge).

There is reason to suspect, however, something more than a "cousin" match between Detton and Mackey. This Mackey is not always to be trusted. He may have a brainstorm and go in there dressed for the heavy part. This is more doubtful than probable, but Mackey has been known to start rough and keep it that way.

Generally speaking, however, we anticipate a clean but furious milling packed with science and hard going when the two take the ring.

But there'll be a storm before the calm. A double storm, in fact. By the time the main event hour rolls around, the customers undoubtedly will be ready to relax and watch without fear of having to make room in the ringside seats and passage ways for hairy-faced Frenchmen and grimacing Greeks.

Old Nick Bozinis, scowling, mustachioed beef-neck from Elmira, N. Y., is all hotted up to bite the ears off Herb Parks, pleasing young fellow from Vancouver, in the curtain raiser.

Gene La Belle, who features a House of David tonsorial treatment, which does not hurt his looks any whatever because his looks long since were past hurting, tangles with Jack Hagen, the neat grappler from Shreveport, in the special go. Jack is in for some rough usage, but it'll be a match in which he can do anything he's man enough to do.

Keep your shirts on, friends; the Masked Marvel is coming back. He has flown the coop, temporarily, but only in accordance with the contract that brought him to these parts from a profitable situation in Europe.

Just now, The Marvel is filling engagements in Arizona and Oklahoma. Five promoters—one in Phoenix, one in El Paso, one in Oklahoma City, one in Amarillo and one in Lubbock—brought the Mask across the waters with an impressive offer, and he agreed to give each of them six fights. He has four to go here, and he'll be back within a couple or three weeks.

THE TOWN IS STILL buzzing with baseball. They're still playing those tournament games over on nearly every street corner, every drug store "bar" and in hotel lobbies and coffee shops. It's like they play football games, after the actual games have been played on the field.

Local interest is still at a high pitch.

So to see whether it's all talk or serious chatter, the two local clubs, Sled Allen's Hubbers and Berl Huffman's Tip-Toppers, are going to play a game Sunday at the new park. They're already getting hot and bothered about it.

It'll be on the order of a city series, only it'll be just one game. The Tip-Toppers are willing to show the Hubbers that they're the class of local baseball, and that winning the tournament was no fluke victory. You never saw such a chattering band of ball players as that Tip-Top bunch.

They were challenged by Amherst for a game in the Amherst park next Sunday, and were quite willing to go over there and show Lefty Hambright and his gang that Tip-Top represents baseball, that the cream of the tournament is not turning sour.

But along came the Hubber challenge, and the Tip-Toppers decided to stay at home. Maybe it was the wisest move. The Amherst baseball element is plenty burned up over losing the tournament championship, and you can't blame it a little bit. Those fellows worked, yelped and tried mighty hard to win, and should have won, according to all baseball dope.

Berl Huffman's counsel was wise, however. "Let 'em cool off a bit," says he, "before we take them on. They need a rest and a chance to forget. Then we'll be ready for 'em."

As soon as we can get around to it, possibly today, tomorrow, or some time, we'll announce the batting averages of the tournament.

There's a prize for the leading batter among the teams finishing one, two, three, our good friend Loftin Burnett, in charge of the sporting goods department at Sherrod Bros. Hardware company, having offered a fine baseball glove to the leading hitter. He'll be announced soon. Well, make it tomorrow.

Two other prizes were volunteered. The tournament committee chose to forego the business of asking merchants to put up prizes for this and that, just as the park committee refused to beg donations in building the park. But three places came through with volunteer offers.

Terry-Childress Hardware company offered a glove to the man who hit the first home run. Sam Rosenthal of the Hub Clothiers offered a hat, or its equivalent value in men's wearing apparel, to the man hitting the first ball out of the park. These two offers seemed to coincide, at first, but in the second game of the tournament, C. B. McWilliams, center fielder for Sudan, got a home run inside the park. That qualified him for the Terry-Childress prize.

In the third game, Raymond "Evo" Marshall of the championship Tip-Top team blasted one over the left field wall, the first to clear the fence of the new park. So that qualified him for Sammy Rosenthal's prize. It worked out fine. Just who'll collect Burnett's glove will be announced soon. To qualify, the player must have been a member of either the Anton, Tip-Top or Amherst clubs, and he must have played every game in which his team participated. The tournament's leading hitter, so far as percentage points are concerned, might have been up one time with one of the clubs which got eliminated in its second game, so Brother Loftin didn't consider this a fair chance.

OUR AMHERST FRIENDS, who look to H. N. Tapley, Professor Phelps and Lefty Gaut Hambright for their baseball fun, are whooping it up for a tournament there, and Business Manager Tapley, who is one of the finest fellows we know, is making plans to start the Amherst invitation tournament on August 16.

He would like to get six good clubs in his tournament. He is sending special invitation to Lubbock Tip-Top, to Anton, Enochs and Muleshoe. The boys over at Littlefield have virtually promised to get together and make up a ball club, and they've got the stuff. That makes six, including Amherst, and that would make a fine tournament. We hope it goes through. There is nothing like tournament baseball to keep the game alive.

DALLAS MOVES FAR AHEAD

ANOTHER VICTORY BY ONE-RUN MARGIN IS CHALKED UP

By the Associated Press

The Dallas Steers, six straight wins to their credit, thundered far ahead of the pack today. Less than a third of the season remains for the seven contenders to chop off the Mauling Maverick's seven-game advantage.

Last night the pace-setters demonstrated again their amazing knack for winning games by one-run margins. Two were out in the last half of the ninth and Dallas needed a run to win. Catcher George Rensa caught one for a double to score Jimmy Leyva from second, giving the hero a 3-to-2 victory.

Houston Finds Eye

Houston found its batting eye again and defeated Tulsa 9 to 2. The second place club connected for 15 hits off Irv Stein while Tom Seats held the Oilers to five safeties.

San Antonio came from behind twice to defeat Fort Worth 11 to 9. Shortstop Grosska lifted one over the fence with two on in the ninth to supply the margin of victory.

Galveston bested the third-place Oklahoma City Indians, 8 to 2.

Arizmendi Topples Before Armstrong

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, St. Louis negro, wore one of the several different crowns denoting the featherweight boxing championship today as a result of a 10-round decision last night over Alberto "Baby" Arizmendi of Mexico City. The score in rounds was 10 to 0.

While the National Boxing association may recognize Petey Sarron as the featherweight king, and other class Mike Belloise as the best of the bunch, there was no question of Armstrong's class in the minds of 10,000 persons who saw him buzz-saw Arizmendi out of the picture.

The Mexican never had a chance. He was four rounds behind before he was able to strike a blow.

TIP-TOP CLUB AND HUBBERS TO TANGLE

CHALLENGES TO LOCAL TEAM COME THICK AFTER VICTORY

They aren't quitting now, those baseball Orphans managed by Berl Huffman. They just got started last week, but what a start!

"No sir, we're just getting hot and starting out," proclaimed Jimmy William, co-proprietor of the Tip-Top cafe which sponsored the hurriedly picked-up club of veterans and youngsters which swept with such surprising force through a tough field to win the biggest and best tournament ever staged here. "We're hanging together, and we're going to play ball from now on," he shouted.

Split Biggest Prize

Manager Huffman and Sponsor William last night divided among their dough-popping athletes the first prize money, which amounted to 50 per cent of a $612.70 "pot," largest prize purse ever distributed here. In fact, it was three times larger than any previous "split," the gate receipts, above expenses, salaries, land rental, taxes and a small amount reserved for part payment on the new park, being added to the original entry fee purse to make it far and away the most profitable tournament for players and teams ever recorded in these parts.

The crimson-panted Amherst club, the outstanding pre-tournament favorite which eliminated four teams to get to the finals, won second money, and third prize went to Fred Rich's Anton club, which was eliminated Sunday, by Amherst. Tip-Top and Amherst went into the finals Monday with Tip-Top undefeated in four straight games. Amherst had lost its first game, but had won all the others, including a revenge victory over the Lubbock Hubbers, and after the first game Monday the teams were tied. Tip-Top losing for the first time. But Amherst, playing its fourth game in two days, was taken for a 5 to 4 ride in the final game, and it was first place for the hustling Tip-Toppers.

With the close of the tournament came challenges from far and near addressed to the Tip-Toppers. Estelline of the Red River Valley league wired a challenge, and Amherst was quick to put in a dare. Then the Lubbock Hubbers, the hard luck team of the tournament, challenged the Tip-Toppers for a "city championship" game at the new park here Sunday.

And that was the challenge accepted.

So Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the Hubbers of Sled Allen and the Tip-Toppers of Berl Huffman and Jimmy William will clash in what should be a peach of a baseball contest.

Local baseball enthusiasm, stirred up more during the tournament than it has been for ten years, maintained yesterday, and fans were asking when the next game would be played. They were particularly interested in the Hubbers and the Tip-Toppers.

So the latter turned down the Estelline and Amherst bids and accepted the dare. They'll be out there Sunday hot and ready to carry on where they left off after sacking the tournament championship Monday.

Attendance Record Due To Be Broken

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—All Olympic attendance records appear due for a blasting before the current games end.

More than 1,800,000 persons, it is estimated, will have witnessed the events in the main stadium by Sunday. The final total probably will be close to 3,000,000 in all competitions.

'SCORES' PROPOSED

BERKELEY, Calif., (AP)—Pointing out that at present wines are classified "according to the personal judgment of the producers," Prof. W. V. Cruess of the University of California proposes a grading system similar to that employed for canned fruits. His score cards for various types include such qualities as color, clearness, bouquet, acidity, tannin, sugar and general flavor.

Warren William became an actor because he didn't want to edit his father's newspaper in Aitkin, Minn.

Variety Card At Grappling Show

ROUGH, TOUGH FIGHTS TO BE MIXED WITH SKILL TONIGHT

It's another variety card at the Auditorium tonight, the variety coming when a couple of clean birds clash in the main event. They are Dory Detton of Salt Lake City and Cyclone Mackey from Amarillo.

Fans who like their wrestling rough and tough will get plenty of that in the supporting card, and the boys in that division fight just as hard when they're supporting as they do when they're in main events.

For those who like science, quickness, smart offense and clever blocks, with a minimum of illegal stuff but with lots of hard, serious wrestling, should be pleased with the main event.

Both In Shape

Dory Detton, probably better than ever, and Cyclone Mackey are two young men who lose no time fooling around when they're in the ring. They waste no minutes or strength cavorting around after each other or sparring. They're in there for business, and while it's usually clean when they fight, it's also hard and rough.

Mackey apparently recovered from a siege of illness which kept him down all spring and early this summer, may turn the dope bucket over and provide the villainy for the main event, but it isn't likely. He has been known to play exceedingly rough and dirty against a clean opponent, but he hasn't flown off the handle this season, and is not due to leave the bounds of gentlemanship tonight.

Detton is easier to anger than he ever was, but he always waits for the other fellow to start the rough stuff. Then, he can hold his own, but he prefers to wrestle by the rules.

There is no telling what will happen in the supporting card. Two of the meanest, toughest mugs in the business are on the bill, each of them against a clean fellow.

Jack Hagen, who lost his first match in Lubbock last Wednesday night when Detton came from behind to win the main event, faces Gene La Belle, the muscular, mad Frenchman who delights in breaking all the rules in the book and all the bones in his opponent, as well as gouging eyes, choking, slugging and kicking. That'll be a battle, brothers, and no fooling.

Herb Parks, the refreshing blond from Vancouver, is in for a tough preliminary, and if he stays with Nick Bozinis for 20 minutes or throws him within that time, he'll have earned his wages. Bozinis, a main event person who wins a lot more matches than he loses, appears to grow tougher and meaner with each Wednesday night, and no amount of strategy, pain or force is enough to get him down and keep him there—for very long.

FIRST NO-HIT NO-RUN GAME IS TURNED IN

To Houston Taylor, pitcher for the Terry & Childress Hardware company team, goes the honor of chunking the first no-hit, no-run game in the Lubbock Softball association campaign this season. He did it yesterday and Terry-Childress won from Southern Auto Stores, 6 to 0, in a scheduled league game.

Several one-hitters have been scored, but Taylor's performance yesterday was the first complete shutout. Only one Auto man reached third base, that on a walk and an error. Terry-Childress hit safely 7 times to win, scoring twice in the first, once in the fourth, three times in the fifth.

In today's game, the Lubbock Poultry & Egg company team meets the Slaton Santa Fe club at the softball field north of town.

Due to an error in reporting, Sunday's Slaton-Southern Auto game, played at Slaton, was recorded in yesterday's Avalanche as a 16 to 4 victory for the Lubbock team. The score should have been: Slaton 16, Southern Auto 4.

FORT WORTH'S CATS COMING ALONG FAST

HOMER PEEL IS DOING SOMETHING TO THE PANTHER CLUB

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Look who's here. . . Less than seven games out of the money division, breezing along at a pace which has made them the Texas league's best club in the last two months, are Fort Worth's "Horatio Alger" Panthers. . . . Close figuring reveals 29 victories in their remaining 43 games probably will put them in the Shaughnessy playoff. . . Since Homer Peel took charge, the Cats have surged out of the cellar, when apparently hopelessly imbedded, and a climb to the first division would be the most popular ascent in league history.

Give the orchids to Peel and little Jackie Reid, the pitching veteran who says it's true that life begins at 40. . . The right-hander has won nine and lost one. . . . He has held every enemy batsmen to three runs in the last 36 innings on the hillock. . . . Even the fans have awakened. . . . A Sunday double bill with Beaumont drew 2,500 paid admissions.

What's The Matter

What's happened to Beaumont's Exporters, contenders four weeks ago and a fifth place club now?

Houston's famed Du Quesney lefties, a baseball nine of wrong-handers, has suffered embarrassment at its worst. . . . A southpaw, Lefty Jones of Barber's Hill, blanked them, 10-0. . . . The irony of it. . . . That West Texas pole team startled the Long Island fans recently with a 10-4 victory over the highly-regarded Roslyn team. . . H. W. (Rube) Williams, Charley Waring, J. T. BOND REFUSED FOR CANSLER

MAN TO BE HELD FOR ACTION OF GRAND JURY IN LUFKIN

LUFKIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—M. H. Cansler, accused of murder in the slaying of Albert Warren, 56-year-old father of an executed convict, was ordered held without bail at his preliminary hearing Tuesday.

He will be held for action of the Angelina county grand jury.

County Attorney R. C. Musslewhite said Cansler's objection to the return of the body of Glenn Warren, the executed man who slew Cansler's father, for burial at the Zavalla, Tex., cemetery, prompted the fatal shooting.

The younger Warren was electrocuted for the robbery-murder of aged C. E. Cansler, sr.

Attracted By Firing

Three witnesses, H. H. Simpson, John Crawford and J. A. Whitton, testified they were attracted by the firing of a shot about the time Albert Warren was slain. They said they saw Cansler fire a bullet into Warren, who was retreating with a bundle of shirts in his left hand, his right hand upraised.

"I heard a shot while sitting on my back porch," said Simpson, "I stepped to the ground and walked around to the front of the house. I saw Cansler get out of an automobile. Warren was staggering backward. Cansler, after getting out of the car, shot him and Warren fell back into a ditch."

Cansler's attorney said he was not certain if a habeas corpus action would be taken in an effort to gain bond.

the policies of communists and fascists in suppressing freedom of speech and press is astonishing," he said. "The ukase of the board of regents sounds almost exactly like the press decrees of Hitler, communist Russia and fascist Italy."

Ed Hodge of El Paso, student editor of The Texan, said he was in "this fight against censorship to the finish."

"The board chose this time to gag The Texan because 8,000 students are not here and the state legislature is not in session," he said. "I can't do much now but I'm not going to resign. I'm going to do what I can until the long-term students get back next month.

"There are rumors the regents plan to bring back the R. O. T. C., which this paper fought in the past, and take action on other matters the students oppose. If the voice of The Texan is quieted, they can get by with anything."

President Benedict and V. I. Moore, dean of student life, said the regulation was not intended to curb the students' freedom of speech on university matters. Dr. Benedict said it was designed primarily to place an experienced newspaperman in charge of the student staff.

Dean Moore said he believed students of a state university should not be given a free rein to criticize state and national office holders and comment on controversial political questions.

"I favor students having their say about internal university matters concerning its administration, athletics and student life in general," he said. "If they want to haul me or any of us over the coals they are entitled to do so. But I believe they should not go beyond the bounds of the campus in their editorial comment."

The board of regents did not say what prompted the faculty supervision. It was recalled, however, that The Texan recently criticized the lower Colorado river authority and had taken positions on controversial state issues.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5. (AP)—Traders jostled aircrafts and motors off balance in the stock market today but kept their enthusiasm for industrial specialties and rails.

Chrysler fell about 2 points and General Motors was off more than a point. Douglas led the decline in the aircrafts with a selloff of more than 2. Boeing and United Aircraft were among other losers.

Continued cheerful news from the industrial and trade front provided a background for gains of fractions to a point or so in U. S. Pipe & Foundry, Gabriel, Canada Dry, Budd Mfg., International Cement and Schenley. Allied Chemical was up about 2.

Union Pacific with a rise of more than 6 points was a bright spot among rails gainers which included Santa Fe and Delaware & Hudson.

A little lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Western Union.

Bonds were firm. Corn tumbled sharply on reports of rain and wheat was down in sympathy, but rallied later in response to an upturn at Winnipeg. Cotton was higher. Foreign exchanges were narrow.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug 5 (AP)—Stimulated by European reports of wet harvest conditions and of critical aspects of political affairs, wheat became the market leader late today, advancing sharply.

Winnipeg and Minneapolis led the upturns of prices. Stress was given to reports that wheat production the world over is now less than the amount needed for normal use, let alone emergencies.

Wheat closed strong, 1 3-4 to 3 3-8 cents above yesterday's finish, Sept. 1 13 1-4 to 1-2, Dec 1 14 to 1 14 1-8, corn irregular 1 3-8 off to 3-4 up, Sept. 1.06 3-8 to 3-4, Dec. 94 1-8 to 3-8, oats unchanged to 5-8 higher, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents decline.

"But," the prelate added, "I told him that before I left the United States, I urged him not to use expressions such as calling the president a liar because it fails to show respect for an office which deserves respect.

"After I had discussed this with Father Coughlin he apologized to the president."

Hearty and jolly as he restated his views on the radio priest and his work, the bishop insisted he did not discuss Father Coughlin officially with any Vatican authority.

VOTING RETURNS

trailed Walter A. Huxman, attorney, for the Democratic nomination for governor. Huxman's lead was such that he seemed assured of the nomination. Will G. West won the Republican nomination unopposed.

Capper Is Victor

The veteran Kansas Republican Senator Arthur Capper outdistanced two opponents and apparently clinched renomination. Omar Ketchum seemed to have won the Democratic senatorial honors.

Lack of major contests marked Virginia's primary. In the only two races for Democratic nominations for the national house of representatives, one incumbent won and the other lost.

Norman R. Hamilton, publisher of the Portsmouth Star, and a New Dealer, beat Rep. Colgate Darden, while Rep. A. J. Montague won a close contest with Dave E. Satterfield, jr.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Cotton futures opened quiet, 2 to 3 higher with steadier Liverpool cables partly offset by conflicting private crop estimates. Oct. 11.89; Dec. 11.90; Jan. 11.89; March 11.90; May 11.91; July 11.90.

One of the private estimates published this morning placed the condition at 71.5 and the indicated crop at 11,512,000 bales. Another placed the condition at 73.8 and the indicated crop at 12,459,000 bales.

Selling was less active than recently and the market improved after the call on covering and trade buying. Dec. sold up to 11.96, making net advances of 4 to 9 points in the general list. Prices were steady within a point or two of the best later in the morning.

The weekly report of the weather bureau was considered about in line with expectations by some tradera, but others thought it was rather better than looked for and its favorable features brought in some scattered selling. Demand was light after the early buying and prices sagged to about yesterday's closing quotations with Dec. ruling around 11.89 at midday and the list net unchanged to 1 point higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5 (AP) — A bullish crop estimate of 11,512,000 bales sent cotton prices higher today at the first call.

The "guess" of this comparatively low figure was by the New York Journal of Commerce and brought considerable buying into the market.

Liverpool also responded to the overnight announcement and reported active buying from Bombay and the continent. Cables were better than due.

Oct. opened at 11.86 and then advanced to 11.91 and Dec. followed the same trend, opening at 11.87 and then reaching 11.91 in the first half hour. March gained 25 cents a bale to 11.88.

Options held in a narrow range a few points above Monday's close during the morning and trading fell off to extremely low levels.

Oct. dropped back to 11.85 Dec. sold at 11.88 and March at 11.86.

DAVID NIVEN SHANGHAIED TO HOLLYWOOD AND HE EXCLAIMS, "RIPPING!" HE LIKES THE BUSINESS BUT DECLARES HIS BEING ACTOR WAS JUST ACCIDENT

'TWAS A FOGGY DAY—When Merle Oberon unwound a sandwich for David Niven on the afterdeck of a fishing boat.

—BUT THE FISH BIT In spite of the fog Niven hauled one over the taffrail. Miss Oberon was still trying.

BY HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5 (AP)—David Niven says "Ripping!" and "Righto!" just like a Wodehouse character.

Short sentences. Precise English.

"Actor! Fancy that!" he exclaims "Accidental." Wholly accidental. No business here, but like it."

Niven is less than 30, round-faced, short-statured, blue-eyed. He isn't the silly, stage-type Englishman. He is a good-looking fellow, attractive to slant-eyed Merle Oberon, and she to him. They go fishing, swimming, yachting, dancing and dining together. She, a big star, gets David into circles he would otherwise not see as a comparatively minor featured player.

So What? So Wash

"Previous experience? Can't remember all of it," says Niven. "Army five years. Stationed Malta, Sandhurst two years. Commissioned at 19. Worked for a Chinese laundry in New York.

"Was in Canada. Needed a rest. Came to New York, with a bare $300. Put up at the Waldorf. Couldn't get out, funds being ah—er, exhausted. One night millions of Chinese laundrymen came looking for me. Owed them for shorts and shirts and things. Expansive gesture—I'll work out my due to you, said I. They took me up. So what. For a week I delivered laundry. Borrowed a friend's Rolls-Royce. Pretty picture what."

Soon Niven was in South America. Isn't sure how he got there or why. Here's the next chapter.

More Funny Business

"There was some funny business about guns. I hopped a boat that I thought was going to China. It wasn't. Landed in San Francisco. I made my way to Santa Barbara, where I had friends. Big wedding. I came to on H. M. S. Northcliffe, bound somewhere. There was some publicity stunt—photographing the Northcliffe passing the Bounty. The movie one, y'know—and there I was. They lowered me over the side—still in my 'best man' garments—and put me on the Bounty. That's how I got to Hollywood."

Film men on the boat took Niven to a studio, where he met Edmund Goulding, whom he had known in England. Goulding thought he ought to be an actor. At the moment, Niven is the other man in Ruth Chatterton's life, for "Dodsworth."

"Terrible tale, what? Actor now. Lots of time for drinking and things. Well, excuse. Must kiss the leading lady now."

SPANISH REVOLT

Oviedo and Seville could be captured any day," the government said, "only the government wishes to force the surrender of the rebel strongholds and shed the least blood possible."

A radio message, reported to have been sent from fascist northern headquarters in Burgos to Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, was interpreted as saying:

"We are exhausting our war materials. We have no other solution to avoid our daily critical situation but to advance rapidly on Madrid, break through the iron chain in the mountains and seize the capital through joint cooperation.

"If we capture Madrid, we will have the whole of Spain in our hands. If we do not succeed in doing this we foresee our destruction."

Armed miners were declared to be closing in on Oviedo, extending their siege of the northern city daily.

A loyal navy captain informed the government that marines had seized the town of San Fernando, near Cadiz. Marines and sailors sunk a ship loaded with 150 tons of cement at the mouth of the Guadalquiver river to prevent supplies from reaching the rebels from the sea, the report declared.

Mark Long To Vote While In Honolulu

Mark Long, member of the city fire department and stationed at Station No. 2 on Nineteenth street, probably will receive a ballot for the second primary at the farthest point of any Lubbock man from this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Long are in Honolulu on a vacation. They wrote the county clerk's office asking for ballots. Louie F. Moore, deputy clerk, wrote them Wednesday that ballots could not be mailed until August 6.

He expects to send the ballot by airmail, if possible.

TECHNICAL CLUB MEETS AT TECH

Lubbock Technical club met last night in the engineering auditorium at Texas Technological college with paper on air conditioning in Lubbock by Frank McPherson, as the principal talk. Harry N. Roberts, club president, was in charge.

After the presentation of the paper, Mr. McPherson was asked numerous questions on the new type of construction. He said there were about 17 buildings in Lubbock air conditioned, with only one residence. He predicted a big increase within the next year.

M. R. Smith, city engineer and a member of the research committee of the club, made a report, as did Dave Schlag, member of the zoning committee.

The club is composed of some 50 men, including contractors, architects, engineers and semi-professional men engaged in these lines. The group meets the first Tuesday night in each month. G. W. Parkhill is secretary.

VICTIMS FORMERLY LIVED IN LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Robertson, who were fatally injured near Dallas early today, were former residents of Lubbock.

When they lived in Lubbock Robertson was connected with a flying school. They left here about four years ago.

Friends of the couple here have been informed that funeral services will be conducted at Plano.

Robertson, when he lived in Lubbock, was a licensed airplane pilot. He kept a ship at Municipal airport.

Negro Surrenders To Lubbock Police

"I se de nigger that shot de woman, but I didn't do it on purpose."

With that statement, Robert Reed, 25, dropped a 38 caliber revolver on the desk of Sgt. Bascom Wolfarth at police station last night. Reed was surrendering to face a complaint charging him with assault to murder Retha Robinson, a negro woman.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg this morning, Reed waived examining trial. His bond was set at $1,000.

"I wouldn't of shot her for anything," Reed said today. "We had a fuss and I took out the gun to scare her. It went off accidental."

The bullet went through a window, slightly injuring the Robinson woman.

Bronze Tablets At Parks On Roadside

One is located on highway No. 7 between Lubbock and Slaton; another on highway 437 between Lubbock and Wolfforth and the third on highway 7 between Lubbock and Shallowater.

NYA workers planted trees and shrubs, built flower beds and set out some flowers and spread caliche on roads in the park. They are designed for tourists passing through.

FEDERAL CASE FACES COX

CHARGE OF HARBORING CRIMINAL IS FILED IN BOHANNON CASE

TYLER, Aug. 5 (AP) — Federal charges of harboring and concealing Julius Bohannon, the Oklahoma prison fugitive, were filed Tuesday against Manuel Cox.

A posse captured Bohannon Thursday near Daingerfield, ending a long search for the convict leader of a bloody break from McAlester prison.

Officers arrested Cox at his home shortly after Bohannon was caught.

Woman Threatened

Sheriff Ben B. Garrett of Morris county, leader of the posse, said he learned that Bohannon and Cox had gone to a Naples boarding house and forced Mrs. Bohannon and her daughter Perline 9, into an automobile. The men threatened Mrs. Bohannon with pistols, the sheriff said.

Cox already was charged with assault with intent to murder in another case — a shooting at Mount Pleasant. He was arraigned on this charge yesterday and failed to make $750 bond. He was bound over for grand jury action.

THREE JAILED IN SLAYING

FOURTH MAN IS HELD FOR QUESTIONING IN OLD CASE

TAHLEQUAH, Okla., Aug. 5. (AP)—Sanford Martin, Cherokee county attorney, said today that three men are being held in the county jail here in connection with the slaying August 18, 1935 of Mrs. Maggie Owens, 56-year-old widow who lived north of Moody.

In addition to the three men, Martin said, a fourth man is being held for questioning. The three held in connection with the brutal slaying are farmers—two Indians and a white man—who reside in the vicinity of Moody, he added.

Witness Confesses

Martin said the three were taken into custody late Monday after another man confessed to county authorities that he had witnessed the Owens slaying.

The body of Mrs. Owens mother of 21-year-old Bill Owens, was discovered by members of the family one morning last August after she had disappeared the night before, while searching for a stray cow.

Physicians and authorities declared that Mrs. Owens had been criminally assaulted.

county attorney. In 1888 he gathered together the land which became the O-2.

Upon the 400 sections of land in the O-2, 10,000 high grade Hereford cows ranged and each fall from 5,000 to 6,000 calves went to middle west feed lots bearing the O-2 brand. Water was a problem on the O-2 and it went in for deep wells, and tanks and then spent thousands of dollars piping water into remote areas.

Leader In Industry

Mr. Turney, now 75, is a leader in the cattle industry. He helped organize the Texas Cattle Raisers association. He served as its president perhaps longer than any other man, serving first from 1903 to 1906 and again in the critical post war period of 1919 to 1921.

The ranch undertook to buy out all the squatter sections in the period from 1906 to 1907, and this accounted for a considerable debt being placed upon the property which was not retired in good times and could not be paid off in bad. The land was bought for a considerable bonus over the state's first lien. All this debt was refunded by the Aetna a number of years ago and it increased until it reached a quarter of a million dollars.

Tax-Free Town Is Found In Nebraska

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 5 (AP)—Douglas county now has one town that is tax-free.

It is Boys Town, Father Flanagan's boys home west of Omaha. The county board made it a legally incorporated village today to qualify it for WPA projects.

In the tax books of the state and county, real estate within Boys Town's 320 acres, much of it farm land, is listed as exempt because it is devoted entirely to charitable purposes. The town has a population of approximately 250, mostly boys under 21 years of age.

Paving Work Here Showing Progress

Sixty-three blocks of paving have been completed in Lubbock through relief work and WPA and also 77 center parkways on three streets, according to M. R. Smith, city engineer.

Thirty-three blocks have been paved through PWA and 30 blocks through other relief agencies, prior to the time that the former came into being.

At the present time there are six blocks under construction, including two on College avenue from Twentieth to Twenty-second street and on Twenty-second street for four blocks west. The latter is more than half a mile long, there being a total of 2,795 feet in the paving area.

Rev. Hopper Will Speak Here Sunday

Rev. Hubert H. Hopper, the first minister of the late Presbyterian church to become a minister, will preach in the morning church Sunday, August 9 and August 16, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Jack M. Irvin.

Reverend Hopper is now pastor of the Central Park Presbyterian church in Houston. He graduated a year ago from Austin Theological seminary at Austin and also took work at the University of Texas as well as at Texas Technological college. He is a Lubbock high school graduate.

While in Lubbock the minister will visit his mother, Mrs. R. E. Overstreet and Mr. Overstreet and other relatives.

Two Soviet Fliers To Take Off Today

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Aug. 5 (AP)—Bound for Moscow along a dangerous route through polar latitudes, two Russian Soviet fliers expected to skim off from Los Angeles harbor waters today.

The fliers are Pilot Sigismund Levanevsky, often called the "Lindbergh of Russia," and Victor I. Levchenko, his young navigator. Both look and dress like American college athletes.

The primary object of their 10,000-mile flight via Alaska is to study aerological conditions that would affect flying in the far north.

California's fish industry in 1931 was valued at more than $25,000,000.

THE government's charges against 94 big oil companies and executives will certainly go a long way toward ending the depression for the legal fraternity.

If The Plainsman were a betting man, he'd lay a little something on the line right now that not a single person or company named in charges will ever go to the pen or pay a fine, guilty or innocent.

We do not profess to know whether those charged are guilty, or not.

But we do know they have money and vast political power.

And that certainly doesn't forecast anything but long court battles, shenanigans and eventual acquittals or quashes of indictment.

We do not usually pay much attention to Maury Maverick, the sensational congressman from San Antonio but his recent action in jumping into the University of Texas student newspaper rookus is worthy of commendation.

Probably you noticed that the operation of the Daily Texan, student newspaper, had been taken from the hands of students and put under the direction of a faculty appointed official. Maverick claimed that was an effort to "nazify" the publication and we agree with him.

What's the use of having a student paper if it isn't run by students and if it doesn't express the student viewpoint?

It looks like somebody at Austin got scared that the Daily Texan might bring to light some things that the administration doesn't want brought to light.

STUDENT newspaper editors often become intoxicated with their own power and promote crusades which are persecutions.

So, for that matter, do editors outside the university field.

But even so, the flurries thus brought about soon die away and are forgotten. If they haven't a "leg to stand on," they don't get anywhere, so who is hurt in the final analysis?

ANNOUNCEMENT that the unpaved gap in Highway 24, between Dickens and Benjamin, is slated to go certainly should bring rousing cheers from Lubbock and all the other towns along the route. That open gap has long been a pain and has worried thousands in wet weather.

A letter from John Wood, member of the highway commission, which came as a result of a blast against the unpaved stretch in the Morning Avalanche recently, explained why nothing had been done before hand on No. 24, although the commission worked with might and main to get the necessary money to fill it the gap.

This column can think of no more crying need at present than the fully paved short cut to Fort Worth, Dallas and beyond.

To the highway commission, a basket of orchids with a carload of Tyler roses thrown in.

Incidentally, when No. 24's gap is hardsurfaced, the commission doubtless will turn its attention to that part of the road between Jacksboro and McKinney.

It is narrow and extremely crooked and good time cannot be made on it under present conditions.

Improvement in the Jacksboro-McKinney stretch will give the traveler between Lubbock, Memphis and on East to Washington and New York a real break. Among other things it will let him miss the heavy Fort Worth and Dallas traffic when he is not interested in going to Fort Worth and Dallas but, instead is headed for Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville and beyond.

We don't wish to appear pigish since the forthcoming paving of No. 24 is a good enough present for this particular time. But the straightening and widening of the Jacksboro-McKinney route is something to look toward in the future.

"Roosevelt, he remarked, is ruining the country. Warming up, Colonel Knox made the charge that Roosevelt is ruining the country. Colonel Knox concluded by pointing out that Roosevelt is ruining the country."

'Twas A Bitter Struggle, 'Mugging' Into The Movies; Funny Face Finally Gets Martha Raye Official Laugh

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5—"This is my first interview," said Martha Raye. "Seventeen years in show business, and my first interview. I'm sort of scared.

It was a blistering day but the comedienne smoothed a white fox scarf across her knees. She liked the feel of it. It was tangible evidence of success, a reminder that she suddenly had become the big guffaw-and-grimace gal of Hollywood.

She had had a diamond brooch, too — another trinket bought the day she signed her contract. The brooch was in her purse the night she went to the preview of 'Rhythm on the Range' in which she appeared with Bing Crosby.

She went into the theater a nonentity and emerged a celebrity. When the first autograph hunter bore down on her, Miss Raye handed her purse to some stranger in the crowd while she wrote in the book. "Oh boy—yeah man!—Myrna Loy."

What with all the excitement, and the embarrassment of signing the wrong name, she forgot about her purse and hasn't seen it since. Oh, well.

The Top At Last

"That preview—I'll never have another night like that! You can't imagine the thrill of it. Nobody could. Years of vaudeville — the kerosene circuit.

"Getting stranded, going hungry, mending shabby clothes. Living out of a suitcase, hopping a rattler for the next town, getting a break, getting fired. Coming here to work in a night club, never even dreaming of the movies.

"Then getting my chance and wondering if I'd be funny. Wondering if I'd be too fat. Mama nearly died when she saw me in that nightgown I wear in one scene. But they laughed at me and applauded my song, and I wanted to get up and thank 'em.

"I scarcely saw the picture. bawled all the way through it and ruined the nicest dress I ever had. Mama nudged me and said 'Don't cry, you idiot!'—they like you.

"I said 'Doggone it, I got to express myself some way! I can't holler!'

* * *

Born Back Stage

"How'm I doin'? You getting what you want?"

"Okay. Were you really born in a dressing room?"

"In Butte, Mont. Mama hadn't expected me so soon. Papa and she had an act—Peter Reed and Peggy Hooper. When Buddy, my brother, and I got big enough to work, we were all in a family act.

"Papa and mama sang comedy songs and of course they mugged a lot — made comedy faces, you know. So you see where I got this face and voice. I'm not sensitive about the size of my mouth.

"When I was 3, I was singing 'Ja-Da' and that 'Shimmy-Like-My-Sister-Kate' song. At 7 I did a mug song—'She Forgot to Tell Him She Was Married.'

Mother Her Teacher

"School? I never went to school, except a month in New York one time. The act didn't earn enough to pay for a teacher. Mama taught me to read and write. Sometimes the authorities would get after us and we'd have to sneak out to the next town.

"Finally the act could get hardly any bookings at all, so I struck out by myself when I was 14. Got a break singing with Paul Ash and was in a Broadway show and didn't get paid. I did a single on the Loew time, wearing a hot-cha evening gown to make me look older.

"Then I worked with Ben Blue.

Order Can Be Annulled

Chief weakness of the executive order is that it can again be abrogated and the first, second and third-class postmasterships affected thrown back to the spoilsmen.

But Governor Landon has come out so strongly for the merit plan throughout the postal system that it is only fair to believe he would insist on retaining the principle of appointing the man who passes with the highest mark.

If Roosevelt is re-elected he unquestionably will keep the order in effect until such time as permanent legislation can be enacted. The order gives him the power to reappoint Democratic postmasters—assuming they can pass non-competitive examinations—for four more years. On the same classified civil service employees in the postal service in case of vacancies.

On the other hand, he can call for competitive examinations as fast as terms expire or other vacancies occur. A Republican president, if he were to preserve the order in force would almost certainly insist on competitive examinations immediately as term expirations and vacancies occurred.

Pressure Was Terrific

Republican comments include the fact that Roosevelt could have issued his executive order at any time in the 3 1-2 years and the character of the has acted in the face of a strong public demand and a strong position taken by Landon.

All of which is true enough—and it's also true that no president has ever stood up under such congressional pressure for jobs as came early in this administration.

Harding knocked out the Wilson executive order under such pressure. In his case and Roosevelt's the frenzy for political jobs was intensified by depression and unemployment.

The counter-pressure of public opinion for the merit system, however, has become increasingly effective through the last 60 years. Harding's "raid," involving some 1,000 postmasterships, was a far harder blow to civil service than Roosevelt's.

The present president "unbanketed" from civil service protection about 300 employes of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce (Hoover's pet) and 170 at the Soldiers' Home in Johnson City, Tenn., which was utterly indefensible and a black mark on his record.

But he stopped there—and relieved the remaining pressure by letting plenty of deserving Democrats into the New Deal emergency agencies.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

NOW IT IS SERIOUS!

Will Searles, farmer and constable in New Jersey, has opened his second annual campaign against a nudist colony near his farm. His first year's objection to the nudists was based on moral grounds. This year, while still clinging to morality as one reason for defeating the unclad, he has an even deeper reason.

It seems Mr. Searles' son was riding in a car driven by a girl friend, when they passed some nudists. The girl "stole a peek," as golfers say when they lift their eyes from the ball. As a result, the car ran into a fence and was damaged.

Danger to morals is one thing, and it can be argued that evil comes only to him who evil thinks. But danger to property is something else. It is tangible; it can be expressed in dollars and cents. A pure-minded public can readily find that nudists are a nuisance if they cause accidents!

(Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—President Roosevelt's order placing all patronage postmasterships under civil service is both better and worse—from the standpoint of the merit system ideal—than the administration-sponsored bill to similar effect which was beaten by Republican opposition in the last Congress.

Under the bill, Democratic postmasters could have been blanketed into civil service for life—assuming the Democrats won the November election. If Republicans won, the offices could have been thrown open to competitive examination.

Chief significance of the executive order is that it restores a similar order by President Wilson which makes mandatory the selection of the candidate with the highest rating in the competitive examination for the job.

Harding abrogated the Wilson order and gave the postmaster-general the choice from among the three leading candidates, which usually worked out so that a Republican got the job.

FARLEY RIDDLE HANGS ON

Inside tip: Some of Postmaster General Jim Farley's intimates are convinced that he will not keep his cabinet post—from which he is now on leave, handling the campaign—if Roosevelt is re-elected.

They say Farley wants to get back into business and make some money.

Inasmuch as Jim's current separation from the department came nearly a year after he first told people he was going to step out and because it is well known that he would like to establish a reputation as a "great postmaster general," his present intentions are not to be accepted as a basis of absolute prophecy.

So Much for Love

by HARD JONES © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

HELENA DERRIK, youthful head of the women's sportswear department at Helvig's store, goes on a week-end party at Crest Mountain Lodge. There she meets handsome PETER HENDERSON. It is a case of love at first sight between them. Peter asks Helena to marry him and the ceremony takes place.

Later the crowd goes swimming. Peter makes a reckless dive and is seriously injured. Lingering between life and death, Peter asks Helena to summon his lawyer, JOHN COURTNEY. Courtney arrives and a short time later Peter dies.

Helena is informed she is sole heir to a large fortune, including the Henderson department store.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

John Courtney looked at Helena in astonishment. "But that isn't the way Peter wanted it, apparently," he said.

"Isn't there anyone else?"

Courtney studied his hands a moment before replying. "There's Peter's uncle, Roger Barnes. He has been managing the store. You see, Peter has been away a good deal."

"Then why shouldn't Barnes have it?"

"Because Peter has provided that you shall have it," Courtney told her patiently. "I want to be honest with you, Mrs. Henderson. We may have trouble with Roger Barnes. It's almost certain that he will feel the store should have come to him. I expect him to contest the will."

Helena's shoulders sagged wearily. "I'm sure I shan't fight it." She raised her eyes to Courtney. "Tell me about—about Leah Frazier. Peter inferred that she was your friend, but I—I know differently."

Courtney started to speak, then stopped. Finally he asked, "Do you really feel like talking now?"

"Please go ahead," Helena told him. "I—I've got to get things straight now."

"Well . . . I'm afraid you don't know very much about Peter Henderson. I—please understand me—I don't see how you could in the short time that . . ." His voice trailed off, and he began again with difficulty. "Of course I understand how these things happen. I believe you were sincere. Peter told me that you knew nothing of his financial standing when you agreed to marry him."

"That's true," Helena burst out. "I—I loved him."

Courtney nodded. "He possessed a good deal of charm. Women lost their heads about him—threw themselves at him. As . . . well, as his attorney, I happen to know all this. And Peter liked to play. He was rarely in town to give attention to the business. He liked to be everywhere—and the result was that lots of people knew him. And," Courtney paused, "nobody knew him well."

"You haven't told me about—about Miss Frazier."

Courtney cleared his throat. "I'm coming to that. You see, Leah Frazier belongs to one of the town's oldest families. She and Peter had known each other since they were children. Then Leah went east to school, finally to Europe. Peter went his own way—to a military prep school in the south, and then to Stanford. But when they returned, and were in town together, Peter called on Leah often. They were together at our local affairs. People began to take it for granted that, whenever Peter got ready to settle down, he would marry Leah Frazier."

"I . . . . see," said Helena dully. "Peter knew the town. He knew what they would say when they heard that he'd married someone else. I suppose he felt sorry for her, knowing what she would face. That's why he sent for her with me. I—I really don't think he was in love with her, Mrs. Henderson. Peter was an impetuous sort, and if he had been in love with her I'm sure he would have married her long ago."

"But he—he must have planned to marry her . . . some time."

"No doubt. As a duty." Courtney smiled. "Then you came along."

Helena's fists clenched until the knuckles showed white. "God knows I wish I—I hadn't." She looked at Courtney helplessly. "What can I do? How can I get out of this?"

The attorney shrugged. "I wouldn't be doing my duty to Peter if I suggested that to you—yet. How do you know you want out of it? The best thing for you to do is return home with me. The store is yours. You must do something with it. You can sell it to someone else, or give it to them, or you must operate it."

"What do you suggest?" Helena demanded evenly. "You're his—his widow's attorney now, and you have a duty to me, too."

"Well . . . My idea is that you should take over the store. Then if you find it—ah—inconvenient under the circumstances, you sell it for a comfortable sum. Possibly to Roger Barnes."

"I know what you mean by 'inconvenient'," said Helena slowly. "They'll all hate me."

Courtney looked grim. "They'll regard you as an interloper for a time, possibly. I wouldn't mislead you there. And Roger Barnes may be an active enemy."

"And Leah Frazier?"

Courtney shook his head. "I can't answer that."

But Helena could answer it. Her sure, woman's instinct told her that Leah Frazier would be a far more active enemy than Roger Barnes, whatever the latter might be like.

The attorney looked at his watch. "The caretaker has offered to take us to the station to catch the afternoon train. I'll see to . . . all the arrangements, and the services, of course, will be over there. You'll come with us?"

Helena nodded. "Of course. I'll want to—to be at the funeral. Then I'll decide about the—the other."

Courtney left the room briskly, and a few moments later Helena sought Sandra. Briefly, through a fresh flood of tears, she told Sandra Leigh what Peter had done. "But I can't go through with it, don't you see? I—I don't belong in Peter's life or in his town or in his business. I—I haven't the right."

The Leigh girl sat squarely in front of her, lifted Helena's chin until their eyes met. "Look here, child. I'm glad you came to me with this. I—I rather feel I got you into it, and I want the chance to see you through it. Answer a question for me. Who has a better right to it than you?"

"Peter's uncle. Perhaps this—this Leah Frazier."

"Nonsense! I don't now Peter's uncle, but there must have been some good reason why he was left out altogether. As for Leah Frazier, feel sorry for her if you want. But I'll tell you this, you'd better

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 85c.

proposing an Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas by striking out Section 20 thereof, providing for local option on the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, providing that spirituous liquors, or liquors composed in whole or in part of the products of distillation shall not be sold for private profit, except to the State; providing that the Legislature shall pass laws relative to the sale, possession, transportation and manufacture of such spirituous liquors; providing for the establishment of State dispensaries; providing for the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors which are exclusively products of the fermentation process; providing that intoxicating liquors shall not be manufactured, sold, bartered, or exchanged for beverage purposes in any county or political subdivision wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, until a majority of the qualified voters of such county or political subdivision shall determine such to be lawful at an election held for that purpose; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and prescribing the form of ballot.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Article XVI, Section 20:

"(a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. The sale of spirituous liquors, manufactured in whole or in part by means of the process of distillation and/or liquors compounded and/or composed in part of such spirituous distilled liquors, for private profit, is prohibited within this State except when such sale is made to the State. The State of Texas shall have the exclusive right to purchase at wholesale and to sell at retail such distilled spirituous liquors. Such sale shall be made only in unbroken packages and no such liquors shall be consumed on the premises where sold. The Legislature shall pass laws to prescribe regulations relative to the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of such spirituous liquors and relative to the establishment of State dispensaries; provided, however, the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the sale for private profit and possession of distilled liquors for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes.

"The manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors, the alcoholic content of which is entirely and exclusively the result of the fermentation process is hereby authorized under such restrictions as may be authorized by law.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever, for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the Regular Session of the 43rd Legislature."

Sec. 2. Such proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at a special election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the third day of November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write, or have printed on their ballots the words:

"AGAINST THE AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE DISPENSARY SYSTEM HAVING THE EXCLUSIVE SALE OF DISTILLED LIQUORS AND PROVIDING FOR LOCAL OPTION."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Eight Thousand ($8,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

There is hereby created a Board of Pardons and Paroles, to be composed of three members, who shall have been resident citizens of the State of Texas for a period of not less than two years immediately preceding such appointment, each of whom shall hold office for a term of six years, provided that of the members of the first board appointed, one shall serve for two years, one for four years and one for six years from the first day of February, 1937, and they shall cast lots for their respective terms. One member of said Board shall be appointed by the Governor, one member by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas and one member by the presiding Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals; the appointments of all members of said Board shall be made with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present. Each vacancy shall be filled by the respective appointing power that theretofore made the appointment to such position and the appointive powers shall have the authority to make recess appointments until the convening of the Senate.

In all criminal cases except treason and impeachment, the Governor shall have power, after conviction, on the written signed recommendation and advice of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, or a majority thereof, to grant reprieves and commutations of punishment and pardons; and under such rules as the Legislature may prescribe, and upon the written recommendation and advice of a majority of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, he shall have the power to remit fines and forfeitures. The Governor shall have the power to grant one reprieve in any capital case for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days; and he shall have the power to revoke paroles and conditional pardons. With the advice and consent of the Legislature, he may grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons in cases of treason.

The Legislature shall have power to regulate procedure before the Board of Pardons and Paroles and shall require it to keep record of its actions and the reason thereof, and shall have authority to enact parole laws."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State who are qualified to vote on proposed constitutional amendments at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1936, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the words:

"For the amendment of Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to provide for a Board of Pardons and Paroles and to make the Governor's pardoning power subject to recommendation of said Board, except in cases of treason the Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature."

"Against the amendment of Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to provide for a Board of Pardons and Paroles, and to make the Governor's pardoning power subject to recommendation of said Board, except in cases of treason the Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature."

Each voter shall strike out with pen or pencil the clause which does not indicate his desire regarding the above proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the above proposed amendment published in the manner and for the time required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Family Enterprise

ENTERPRISE, Ala. — Perhaps it was just a bi-family habit, but five Averett brothers married five Byrd sisters.

They paired up like this the last few years: H. G. and Evie; D. S. and Carrie; L. R. and Nora Bell; E. L. and Tera and Fred and Una.

Now there are 20 double first cousins, children of the five couples.

B-Man

POMONA, Calif.—Seven times, say department of justice agents, Clyde E. Molesworth obtained Farm Credit administration loans to buy a sugar compound to feed his 250 colonies of bees.

The matter of the loans was all right, but when agents decided to have a look at the bees they couldn't find them.

Molesworth was held under $5,000 bond and given until Aug. 7 to produce the bees.

Forecast: Warmer

TUCSON, Ariz.—City hall employes rejoiced when they found an unused air cooling system in the basement. It was repaired and they enjoyed a month of cooling blasts until the city manager received a $209 electricity bill. Temperatures have gone up again.

Pigtailed Daughters Of The Nile

If your conception of an Egyptian princess is a sinuous, exotic siren modeled along Cleopatra lines, this scene should disillusion you. In their ribbons and pigtails the sisters of Egypt's new 16-year-old King Farouk looked for all the world like pretty American schoolgirls as they left Cairo to spend the summer in Alexandria. Note the imperial crest which adorns their car. Until their brother attains the age of 18 and begins his reign, a regency is governing that country.

So Much for Love

feel sorrier for yourself. She has that town by the tail, and she'll swing it again. You'll have chance she gets. I think I know women, Helena. She's the kind that doesn't fall for a man. Loss over everything to him. She has herself set for Peter, she's going to get him. It's a matter of whether or she loves him or whether he loves her.

But I

Let me think. Helena, you thought you were in love with Peter. I think you were, but whether it was love or just infatuation, that swept you off your feet doesn't matter now. You were willing to take the chance, and you took it. You couldn't know this was going to happen. And don't think you're being punished—something like that. Life doesn't work out that way. It's you make it go or it. If Peter hasn't come with what he left you, then you're like hell for it and we'll get on with it.

There was a knock at the door, and as Sandra answered it Peter appeared and stepped in. He looked Mrs. Frazier, Sandra, and clearly, then at Mr. Henderson.

Leah Frazier gave her daughter penetrating and then Helena felt her face growing warm. "How do you do, Leah," the mediator finally. Helena. She turned to Sandra and Henderson about the party. "I'm sorry, but I don't think I can stay for a few days."

While Leah was being Sandra Helena examined her. She was indeed beautiful. Her features, her figure were perfect, almost as though she had been done in marble by some sculptor, but a sculptor who had somehow been unable to breathe softness into his work. Her pose was a mosaic neatly fitted together: a pattern from smart schools from Cannes from Paris from Florida and Palm Springs. For a moment Helena felt strangely afraid. This then was the woman who would have been Peter Henderson's wife. "Sandra was right," Helena thought. "She didn't love Peter. She couldn't love anyone. She—she's not even going to his funeral."

A troublesome voice somewhere in her brain kept asking, "Did you love Peter? How do you know? How do you know it wasn't the new environment, the gaiety of Sandra's crowd—Peter making love to you in the moonlight—how do you know it wasn't that?" In a sudden flash of self-revelation she saw that what she was feeling for Peter's death was not so much grief as shock. Grief was something that welled up out of the years out of an association between two people through happiness and sorrow through success and defeat.

But her brain was too weary to follow things out. Her life seemed to have been taken into other hands. John Courtney seemed to symbolize a fate that was steering her along in the rut of the law.

Before she could be certain of anything at all she was on her train with him bound for Peterson, Oklahoma, the owner of the Peterson Department Store and the big Henderson home she had never seen.

Aggie Building Is Being Constructed

An emergency building to be used by the agriculture division of Texas Technological college will be completed by the opening of the fall semester, according to present plans.

The frame structure 20 feet by 60 will include space for five offices and three classrooms. It will be built adjacent to the present agricultural building.

Over-crowded conditions in the agriculture division necessitated the addition. Last school year aggie classes met in every building in the college and at one time met in the number of commerce offices in down town Lubbock.

The campus already has one shack structure, the addition to be home economics building.

The college board of directors which authorized the building has instructed W. T. Gaston, college business manager to receive bids and to let the contract.
