People's Hospital Era Closed In Floydada Last Week

After seventeen years service, and serving several thousand patients, the People's Hospital Era ended last week in Floydada with the locking of the doors of the building.

John Smitherman, board member, turned the lock on the door ending the days of service the hospital and its staff has rendered service to the community. The Caprock Hospital will not be completed and ready for occupancy for about another year.

The board members rightfully state, "There was nothing else we could do. We never hated to do anything so badly

HELP!

A report at press time Wednesday from Moore Funeral home here is that two persons have died on the way to an area hospital this week. Perhaps their lives could have been saved had there been a hospital open here.

This week a person suffered severe burns, a boy swallowed some insect repellant and needed his stomach pumped out.

The Hesperian makes this plea of "Help" to the doctors, drug store people and all interested citizens in the creation of a first aid station for Floydada until the new hospital can be open for service.

Will someone do something?

TOTAL LOSS – What was left of a trailer and pickup after a collision about two miles south of Floydada, is shown above. The vehicle belongs to J. B. Knight Irrigation Company of Brownfield and was driven by Lloyd Wayne Little of Brownfield. It collided with a vehicle belonging to Sam Steen Johnson of Floydada. No one was seriously injured, but the pickup was a total loss. (Staff Photo)

August 15 Deadline For Certification

Uncle Sam is big industry in Floyd County. One way this is indicated is by the fact that over $14 million will be paid to farmers in the county this year for diversion payments, support payments, soil bank payments and cropland adjustment payments, it was reported by Tom Moore at the Floyd County ASCS office here this week.

Half of the diversion payment could have been paid at the time of planting, but, Moore indicated, "This figure couldn't have been more than $2 million." Therefore in September and October an additional $11,900,000 plus the soil bank and cropland adjustment payments will be paid to farmers.

In 1964 the total county income was $25,121,000, according to the Texas Almanac.

Moore reported that 108,339 acres of cropland were diverted this year. Approximately they are broken down as follows: cotton, 30,416; wheat, 31,070; feed grain, 46,853. For diversion the farmers will receive and have received $4,517,653. They will be paid a total of $1,908,299 for diverting the cotton acreage, $419,445 for diverting the wheat land and $2,189,909 for diverting the feed grain.

Also, the farmers will receive a total of $4,502,443 in

Smash Up South Of Floydada Blocks Traffic

A smash-up involving a car and a pickup 2.3 miles south of Floydada on U. S. 62 at 12:40 p.m. Saturday, tied traffic up for about 45 minutes and resulted in the total loss of the pickup.

The 1964 Dodge pickup belonged to J. B. Knight Irrigation Company of Brownfield and was driven by Lloyd Wayne Little, about 25 years of age of Brownfield. The vehicle was pulling a trailer.

Little was driving in the left lane of the divided highway and was about to pass a 1958 Mercury coach, driven by Sam Steen Johnson, about 70, of Floydada who was in the right lane. Both vehicles were travelling south. As the pickup pulled almost beside the car, Johnson pulled into the left lane, causing the collision. The right front of the pickup hit the left front of the car, according to the DPS.

The pickup was a total loss and about $350 damage was done to the car.

Little suffered cuts, as did

Driving Record Once Again Affects Insurance Rates

The record of a person who drives an automobile will have a double effect on him in the future. Not only will the accidents or violations show on a driver's record, but it will cost violators money in the form of increased auto insurance premiums.

The state rates just went under a new increase that costs local residents from $1 to $7 per year for basic liability, depending on driver classification, according to a local agent.

Unlike the old retroactive, statewide plan of 1960-62 which created so much controversy, the current plan is based on experience in 26 separate rating territories and considers no offenses prior to August 1.

"It is possible, the way we understand it," said Sam Baker recently, "for a person to receive a ticket for speeding today and not have to pay an increased premium until 1968. If his insurance policy expires July 31, of each year, he has just renewed it, and when he renews it next year the violation will not count against him, for August 1 next year is the first date a person will pay a surcharge for a traffic violation. Therefore it would be July 31, 1968 before he would pay for the violation."

The violations may remain on the drivers' records for from one to three years, depending on the violation. Violations for speeding will remain only one year, and those for DWI, negligent homicide, etc. will count against a driver for up to three years.

There is no rate reduction for "safe" driver. That rate will remain the same.

The plan is designed to lighten the load on those who are penalized by higher rates be-

Zoning Ordinance Hearing Tuesday

A public hearing concerning the proposed Zoning Ordinance being considered by the Floydada City Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday night in conjunction with the regular council session.

Although the zoning commission held such a hearing one is also required to be held by the council. There was no public objection to the ordinance at the commission hearing last month.

The ordinance establishes certain limitations for the construction of buildings in three residential areas, R-1, R-2, and R-3, two business areas, B-1 and B-2, and one industrial area, I-1.

Those interested in the ordinance are urged to be on hand next Tuesday evening at City Hall.

City Water Usage Hits New High

The residents of Floydada were more thirsty during the month of July than they have been during any month in the past.

At least this is one of the indications, for the residents of Floydada set two new peaks of water usage, per day, during the hot month of July. The latest record came July 22, a Friday, when 2,098,000 gallons of water were metered through the city lines.

Prior to that time, July 17, the Sunday before, a total of 2,050,000 gallons were used. Last year the top figure was 1,976,000 gallons. A total of 42,321,000 gallons of water were used by city residents during July, it was reported by Marshall Haney, superintendent of public works.

Postal Receipts Up 9.13 Per Cent Over 1965 Report

Floydada postal receipts are up 9.13 per cent over the 1965 figures, it was reported here this week by Ed Wester, postmaster, after reviewing final reports for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

The annual report showed a total of $73,657.36 passed through the post office this past year, compared with $67,485.09 on June 30 last year.

Broken down into quarters the receipts looked like this: July, August, September-$20,739.52; October, November, December-$19,785.52; January, February, March-$14,487.51; April, May and June-$18,644.81.

Wester said he couldn't put his finger on the reason for the increase, "but it is probably due to the fact there are just more people here and we don't realize it until we look at it over a period of time."

The year ending June 30, 1966, was the first year the receipts had broken the $68,000 mark.

"Syrian Crops Similar To Those Here," Visitor Says

by Jedd Blessing

Hassan Saud, of Damascus, Syria, was a guest of the Floyd County Soil Conservation Service here in Floydada this week. He is a co-manager for the Syrian government on the Food and Agriculture Organization, a part of the United Nations. He found crops similar to those grown in his home-land on Floyd County farms.

When asked if, by observing farmers, he learned anyghing here he could take back with him, he said that the type problems the farmers face in Syria are different from those here. "We may eventually need to terrace our land, or make diversion ditches, or a number of other conservation measures, but we don't need them yet," he said.

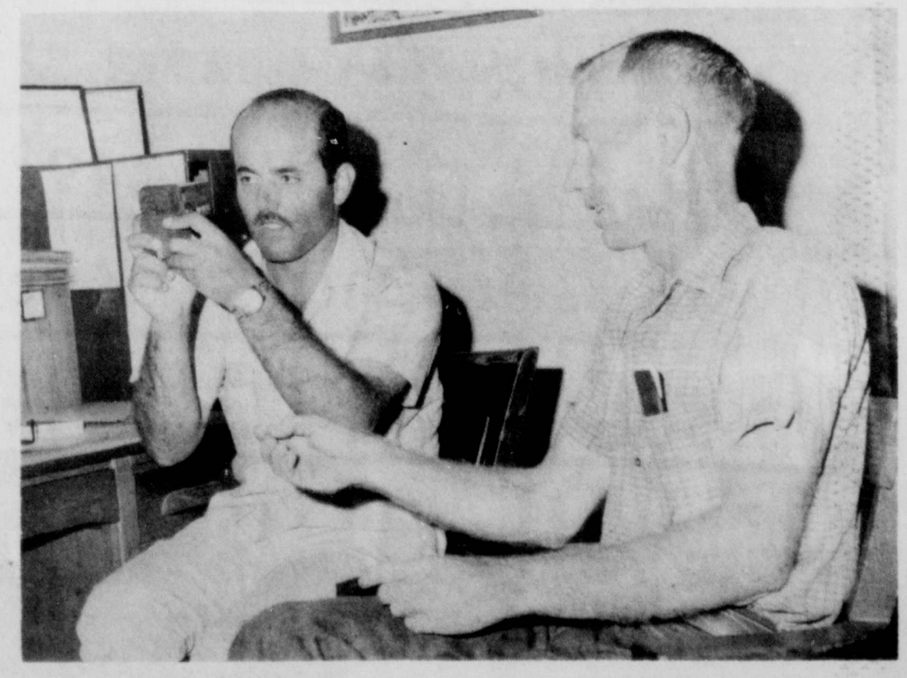

Hassen told about the area he came from as being located between two mountain ranges. The land has only been farmed for about 10 years and he is here primarily to gain knowledge for those people in that region.

The area stayed flooded by rain waters for over 100 years and only about 10 years ago was completely drained and made useful as a productive region.

When it was ready to be farmed the government made the land available to the people who had lived in that region and hunted and fished there for several years for only a small tax.

Presently the area grows cotton, wheat, sugar beets, grain sorghum, corn and tobacco. Tobacco is the only crop that is grown in limited quantities. The others can be grown in as great quantities as the farmer decides will bring a good price. The government has farm programs there that encourage a cutback in production of some crops as cause of the carelessness of others.

Penalty points now are being assessed motorists for accidents and major violations, including speeding.

One penalty point will mean a 15 per cent hike, two points 35 per cent, three points 60 per cent and four or more points 90 per cent.

Major violations, like driving while intoxicated, negligent homocide, hit and run or felony driving offenses, will cost drivers three points.

Two points will be assessed for driving while a license is suspended or for violations resulting in suspension.

One point will be charged for accidents where there is injury or death, or property damage over $50, and for speeding. Speeding points are not counted until after one or two "free convictions" in the preceding year or three years.

After 1969, penalties will be based on driving records over a 36-month period.

Twelve exceptions to the "point" rule are listed, however, and one of them includes accidents in which the driver is not at fau't.

There are now 40 territories in the state of Texas, whereby the driving records of those in the past affect the rates. The territories are based on population and type of traffic on the roads. Floyd County is in number 26, which rates 38th in basic liability charges. That is, there are only two territories where the charges are less.

This year, effective August 1, there are 14 rating classifications. Two of the six new classifications include unmarried female drivers under 21 years of age, and the second includes all drivers over 65 years of age.

This plan will cause the insurance agents extra time and work, for prior to the renewals each year, the agent will need to contact the state office at Austin and get the driving record for each of his customers. This will need to be done every year from now on.

Therefore, safety personnel and insurance agents as well urge everyone to drive safely, for not only will it save lives, it will save money.

in our lives, but there was no alternative."

As long as there was a doctor who had his office in the building the hospital remained in a financially sound situation, but when the last doctor left, the hospital began losing money and losing it fast. The doors were closed last week with all outstanding bills paid.

Smitherman stated, "I have seen times there wasn't room in the hospital for all the patients seeking admittance."

One problem through the seventeen years has been the retention of a manager. One board member, Menard Fields, stepped in to fill the manager vacancy until another could be found. He finally managed the firm for 26 months before another one was hired.

Miss Gather Lee Martin was the first manager. A technician stepped in to serve in that capacity for a short time after she left. Vera McKay, who was also a nurse, was one of the managers with the longest tenure. She was followed by Fields.

Frank Loveless, who had been a technician at the hospital took the reins after Fields and he was followed by Carl Pritchett. W.C. Styvers became manager in 1964, then Ed Clark became manager in July of last year.

The present board members are Smitherman, H.O. Cline, Aaron Carthel, Fields, Henry Willis, Gil Fawver and B.A. Robertson.

Don Winston Wilson, a passenger in the pickup. Both were treated at Lockney General Hospital and released. Johnson's wife, a passenger in the car, was also treated at Lockney and released.

Johnson was filed on for changing lanes without signalling.

Another mishap, this one Friday night, also involved a pickup and was also on U. S. 62 and U. S. 70. However, it happened about 11.3 miles east of Floydada.

Eugene M. Sherman, Tulsa, Oklahoma, was driving a 1966 Dodge Truck, with a new pickup on the bed and was towing another, when the truck hit the muddy shoulder at the edge of the road and pulled the vehicle off the highway. The vehicles went off into a low lake bed, but did not turn over, according to Gerald Howard, DPS, investigating officer.

Sherman suffered a dislocated shoulder. He was treated at Lockney General Hospital.

About $130 damage was reported on the pickup being towed.

School Tax Hearing Moved

The court hearing concerning the 1966 taxes, the rendition of which has been challenged by a number of school patrons, was originally set to be heard last Wednesday before Judge Howard C. Davison of the 99th District Court at Lubbock. However, this date was changed to Wednesday, August 17 and Judge J. K. Bean of that district in Lubbock will hear the case.

The suit, like those filed against the school board concerning the 1963, '64, and '65 tax rolls, states that the plaintiffs claim the Tax Assessor-Collector is accepting the rendition of personal property for tax purposes without question.

The plaintiffs claim that this is unlawful, fundamentally wrong and illegal and puts an excessive amount of the tax load on the owners of real property in the school district since some are rendered in error.

Once again the plaintiffs are asking for the appointment of a Master to put the personal property in the district on the rolls and asking the court to instruct the Tax Assessor-Collector to not use the unlawful methods of accepting tax renditions as he has in the past. The plaintiffs are also asking that a fair and equitable tax structure be put into effect in the district, then, the named plaintiffs, will be glad to pay their fair taxes, according to the suit.

The defendants named on the suit are the "Floydada Independent School District Board of Trustees, namely, Ralph C. Johnston, president thereof, Newell Burk, Jack Stansell, Howard R. Gregory, Shirley Irwin, Dennis Dempsey and W. L. Davis, and its Tax Assessor and Collector, Mrs. Bennie Leibfried, and its Board of Equalization, namely Dorris W. Jones, its chairman, Malvin A. Jarboe and Marion Tucker."

The Plaintiffs are "Edd Muncy, R. Fred Brown, Rene Yeary, Robin Fortenberry, Edward T. Baird, E. E. Wells, J. H. Price, Calvin Steen, Eldon Fortenberry, W. A. Massie, Frank Probasco, D. M. Cogdell Jr., and W. M. Cogdell.

So, I'm number two on the fishing pole at the Tooley house now!

THE MOUNTAINS are full of people now. There's a camper or pickup, or house trailer under a lot of the trees. The afternoon we drove into Estes Park we got into the biggest traffic jam I've been in for several years.

There are many cars on the roads. . . .but the mountains are still cool. . . .and after two weeks up there the shock of this hot weather takes a little "getting used to."

I TOOK A FAST tour around town Monday morning. . . .noted the houses going up in the Texas Addition, the new hospital under construction, the school buildings, the new tomato hot house, and everything seems to be going according to plan.

I was very much impressed with the new windows in Andrews Ward school building. They make it look like a new modern building, and of course the interior remodeling is fast taking shape.

I understand the new cafeteria will be ready to go when school starts. . . .and this is wonderful!

JEFF GLAZNER has been down around Granite Shoals and caught some bass. . . .said it was fairly cool until one day he took the family into San Antionio. . . .and "brother was it hot!"

THE NEW edition of "Who's Who In America" is out and it is a beautiful edition. It is noteworthy that a Floydada resident continues to be listed in the edition. . . .Mr. J. M. Willson. Believe this makes the sixth edition in which his name has been included.

It is interesting to note that there are nine "LL" Willsons listed in this 34th edition.

Back in July both Mr. and Mrs. Willson were honored by a feature "Unusual Methodists" in the "Together" magazine, one of national circulation.

Mr. Willson told a group over in Arkansas the other day that he was beginning to feel more like a "used" Methodist instead of an "unusual" Methodist!

I SUPPOSE I should have had

The office can begin the diversion payments to farmers as soon as the office spot checks 25 percent of the crops that have been certified at the ASCS office by the farmers. August 15 is the deadline for certification of crops and only a very few farmers have completed this job.

Moore said recently, "I don't know if we can handle all the certification that needs to be done by August 15, because the farmers have been so slack about coming into the office to have the certification done."

Most of the diversion and support payments will be made around September 1 and the soil bank and cropland adjustment payments will be made around October 1, it was reported by Moore.

The payments are much more than have been made in the past, but the programs were made much more attractive to farmers this year and the county office saw almost 100 percent participation in the wheat, grain sorghum and cotton programs.

The Texas Almanac lists the number of farms in Floyd County as 953. Therefore the average farm operator will be paid $14,690 in diversion and support payments, in addition to market value of the crop.

More Showers Fall, General Rain Needed

Some areas of the county received enough moisture last Friday night to tide them over for several days, as a cloud passed across the county and dumped various amounts of moisture.

The area receiving the greatest benefit was the Harmony Community and east toward Lakeview, it was reported here. Several residents in the Harmony Community reported 1.5 to 1.6 inches of moisture fell there Friday night. The amount was less in other parts of the county, ranging from that figure to none.

Only .22 of an inch was recorded here, which brings the total rainfall for the month of July to .56 of an inch and the year's total to 5.42 inches.

The entire South Plains area is still in need of a good general rain, according to agriculture spokesmen.

Pricer's Father Dies In Ambulance

Ira William Pricer, 88 year old Corpus Christi resident and father of Albert Pricer of Floydada, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Post Hospital about 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Pricer, who was stricken ill with a heart attack here while visiting relatives, was being transferred to a Corpus Christi hospital by Moore ambulance, on request of the family. His condition became extremely critical as the ambulance neared Post and the driver hurriedly secured aid, but doctors were too late to save the man.

Local relatives, it was learned, left Floydada for Corpus about an hour after the ambulance and at mid-afternoon had not learned of Pricer's death. Friends surmised they had possibly taken a different route.

The body was transferred to Hudman Funeral Home in Post then taken overland to Corpus Christi for funeral rites.

Most of the irrigation done in the region is from canals and is either by furrowing or bordering. There is no irrigation from underground sources. The soil is very permeable and one irrigation setting may run only 100 feet.

Some irrigation is necessary, for similar to this area, the average annual rainfall in the area is around 25 inches. About half of this amount falls in the winter, some in autumn and spring, and very little in summer.

The summer temperature there is around 90 degrees, the winters are a mild 40-50 degrees and the autumn and spring temperatures are around 60-65.

The farmers in that region plant their cotton in March and harvest it in October. It is an upland type for long staple cotton needs a longer growing season.

The area Hassen talked about mostly was the 50,000 acre area that was recently drained. There are around 635,000 acres in Floyd County.

Since the valley is made up of top soil that has been washed down from the mountains for several years, it is very organic. "It contains such a high percentage of organic matter," Hassen said, "that in the winter before the rains come, a person has to be very careful with matches or he can set fire to the soil. Rain comes from the sky and fire comes from the ground."

"In the east and northeast section of our country is a very good wheat area," Hassen mentioned. "The farmers use a lot of large machinery and plant a lot of acres of the crop."

He went on to say that the country uses a large portion of the wheat grown, but about half of the crop is exported.

The government is the main source for finding markets for crops grown, according to Hassen. The same is the case here, of course, but cooperatives, and other organizations are finding markets for the[ir] farmers' goods in foreign [countries] without the services of the government.

This is the coming thing in communications and electrical current transmission. In fact, City Power and Light will go underground with its lines in the new Texas Addition.

It looks better. . . .and of course there is no hazard of ice or wind storm damage to lines when you go underground.

I believe it's a little more expensive to go underground. . . but possibly not when maintenance is considered.

Airport Allocation From Government Increased $14,000

Telegrams from Congressman George Mahon and from Senator John Tower received at the Hesperian this week indicated that the Federal allocation for the proposed Floydada Airport had been increased $14,328.

The previous amount committed by the government was $53,289. The latest figure shows a total of $67,617 will be borne by the government. The increase came as a result of the low bids plus the cost of the land.

Presently, according to Bill Feuerbacher, City Manager, the project will cost a total of $137,991.10, including the land, which has already been purchased at a cost of $36,-225. This leaves a total of $101,766.10 left to be paid for, before the project is completed.

The local authorities are trying to get this amount lowered by $12,253 by eliminating lime that is called for in the bid. This would leave a total of $89,542.52.

Presently the finances stand at $67,617 from the Federal Government, $12,000 from the state, and $21,000 from individual donations, etc. The city has already paid for about $10,-000 in engineering costs.

The total of the amount available now stands at $100,617, not including the engineering fees already paid. This leaves just over $32,000 the city has underwritten to assure the airport.

When the government remits half of the land purchase costs, $18,112.50 to the city, or to the Airport Commission, a letter will be sent from Washington to Albuquerque, the office through which the local authorities are working, stating what is needed in final negotiations. The local authorities will then write Albuquerque stating the locals are ready to award low bids with certain conditions.

Work on the airport should begin soon after that.

The Dougherty Grain Giants defeated their Floydada Freshman League and Dougherty counterparts, the Darty Gin Colt 45's, in the finals of the District Seven tournament that was completed here Monday night. The final score, after the Colts led 1-0, was 7-1.

The Giants downed the Abernathy Giants 11-5 in the first game and this was followed by another Floydada victory as the Colts downed the Earth-Springlake Mets 3-2. In the third game the Giants downed the Silverton Indians, who drew a bye in the first round, 9-6. The Colts then downed the Turkey Turks 7-6. Turkey also had a bye. That series of events threw the two Floydada teams into the finals Monday night.

Home runs by players for each team got the Abernathy and Floydada game off to a good start last week. In the first inning Young got on with a double and Williams singled to put two on. Vinson then stepped to the plate and blasted a home run. In the second inning Bobby Cuevas hit a home run with one on to make the score 3-2. The Floydada Giants got three more in the second to make it 6-2. Abernathy came back with three in the third to make it five for that team, but Floydada got three in that inning and added two in the fourth, the latter on a home run by Killian. DeLeon was the winning pitcher and Lauderdale was the loser.

The second game matched the Colts against the Earth-Springlake Mets. The Colts took the lead in the second and didn't allow the Mets to score until the fourth inning. They got one run there and one in the sixth, while the Colts managed one run in the second, one in the fourth as Harris hit a homer and one in the sixth to win the game. The winning pitcher was Biggs and the loser was Glasscock.

In the second round of the Tournament, the Giants had to come from behind to down the Silverton Indians, after that team scored four runs in a fourth inning rally. The Giants came back with two in the fourth, three in the fifth and four in the sixth to sew up the game. The Indians managed two more runs in the fifth, but Floydada took the game 9-6. DeLeon was the winning pitcher and Brown was the loser.

The Colts just sneaked by the Turkey Turks 7-6 in the semi-finals and won the right to meet their Floydada Giant rivals in the finals. Each team got one run in the first inning and Floydada pulled ahead 3-2 after the second inning. Three runs in the fourth by the Giants were matched by three in the fifth by Turkey, but the final inning netted the Turks only one run and the Colts had managed one additional score in the fifth to stay one ahead. The winning pitcher was Jones and the loser was Lee.

The Floydada Giants had to come from behind in action Monday night in the final round of the tournament. The Colts moved ahead 1-0 when Harris blasted a ball over the fence in the second inning. But the Giants came back with two out in the third and started a rally that netted three runs on four hits. The Colts were held scoreless for the remainder of the game but the Giants were not through. Young stepped to the plate in the fourth and hit a homer for the Giants and Vinson doubled. He came in when Muniz' ball was missed by the left fielder. The Giants added two more runs in the fifth to sew up the game. Muniz was the winning pitcher and Biggs was the loser.

The Giants will begin play Monday night at San Angelo in the first round of that tournament for the state championship.

The Giants will play two exhibition games before playing in the state tournament next week. Tonight the team hosts the Silverton All-Stars here at 7:30. Saturday night they host a Lubbock team that was runner-up for the Southwest Little League title recently, at 6 p.m.

AT LOCKNEY

The Post team brought the strongest team to the Floydada Invitational Junior League Tournament here last week, as indicated by the fact they took the championship trophy home with them.

Post downed the Floydada All-Stars by a 7-3 score to take the championship.

The Lockney Cubs downed Silberton 2-0 for the consolation award. The game was called after four innings because of rain.

The Lighthouse Electric team, the Floydada Junior League Champion is in the District Tournament at Lockney this week. The winner of the tournament, Saturday night, will have to be in Mt. Pleasant, Texas, for a game at 9:30 a.m. Monday morning. The winner will have to leave the day after the Lockney tournament is over.

Lighthouse Electric blasted Jayton 21-5 in the first round of the tournament Monday night and meets Haskell in the semi-finals Friday night.

Year's High Of 103 Degrees Recorded Here

The year's highest temperature to date was recorded here Monday when the mercury climbed to a very hot 103 degrees.

Although showers covered the area Friday night, and most of Saturday morning was cloudy, the temperature reached 90 that day.

The temperature reached only 84 degrees last Tuesday for the first high that has been below 90 since June 30.

Temperatures recorded by Pioneer Natural Gas Company since last Wednesday are: 99, 94, 98, 90, 96, 103 and 84.

Haskell Downs Senior League 10-0 In Opener

The Haskell Senior League ball team downed the Hinton Well Service and Simmons Machine and Irrigation team 10-0 in the opening round of the district at Haskell Tuesday night.

Waldo West was the losing pitcher of the game as the team members faced an unusual team. It was the first time the team has faced a left-hander, and there were seven of them on the team.

John DeLeon put on a good exhibition of running and catching in left field as he saved three would-be-hits with dramatic catches.

It is a double-elimination tournament, so the team still has a chance to win it. The locals will play the winner of the Petersburg - Haskell game, which was last night, tonight.

In the Post tournament last week the locals lost to Post 8-1 to go into the losers bracket then fell to Slaton, 4-3, a team the locals defeated earlier in the tournament.

Weldon Emert had a bad shoulder and gave up six runs, two homers before Wilmer Bonner went in as the relief. In the remaining 6 2/3 innings Post got only three hits and two runs.

In the final game Waldo West gave up only three hits, struck out 16 and walked one, but was the losing pitcher, due to an error.

West also was the big gun at the bat as he blasted a ball out of the park. It cleared the light tower, which stands 75 feet in height and is 340 feet from home plate.

If the local team wins tonight they will play in the finals and a victory there could put them into the state playoffs.

SAY COACHES

Hale Center 3-AA Choice

HOUSTON — The only reason the South Plains will have a team in the second round of the Class AA playoffs this year is because the two area district winners play each other first.

Newcomer Hale Center was picked as the team to beat in 3-AA and it's the same old story in 4-AA, everybody's chasing Denver City.

J. R. Hyatt of Lockney was the speaker for 3-AA and Glynn Gregg of Post moderated for 4-AA and both felt the districts were much weaker than last year.

Hale Center, in the district for the first time after a good season last year in Class A, got the nod over Friona, Abernathy, Dimmitt, Floydada, Olton, Lockney and Memphis.

According to the poll, it should be a close race because the Owls gained 39½ points, Friona 37, Abernathy 36, Dimmitt 34 and Floydada 32.

Thirteen Lettermen

Hale Center returns 13 lettermen, including two offensive and five defensive starters from a team that had a 7-3 record and was second to Kress in the 3-A race.

Defending champion Friona returns eight lettermen and three starters, Abernathy 12 lettermen and four starters, Dimmitt 12 lettermen and five starters, Floydada 13 lettermen and five starters, while both Olton and Lockney have 11 lettermen and one starter back.

All-State prospects in the district are center Bill Weatherly of Friona, halfback Melvin Sissney of Lockney and end Mac Baker of Floydada.

Denver City, which hasn't lost a district football game since 1958, was picked unanimously although Coach Don Orr admitted the Mustangs would be down this year although he did feel they would be strong enough to win district.

Orr returns 14 lettermen and three starters from last year's team that was 11-1, loosing in the second round of the playoffs to Iowa Park, 20-7.

Stanton, in the league for the first time after competing in Class A, was picked to battle it out with Post and Morton for the second spot and Slaton was picked to fight it out with Frenship for the cellar.

Post returns nine lettermen from a team that was ead Start Program "Highly Satisfactory"

loyd County Hesperian

N B THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1966 PAGE ONE

The Head Start program has completed its eight week schedule on a high note of success.

W. P. Nicholson, director of Head Start, was quoted as stating, "We all feel that the Head Start program was highly satisfactory." He went on to state his appreciation to the volunteer workers who spent many hours working with the children and with projects connected with Head Start. Much of the program's success was due to their help and time.

The teachers with Head Start all felt that the children benefited from the program. Many of the children who previously had language problems will now be able to go into regular first grade in the fall. The staff was made up of eighteen paid workers and forty-one volunteer workers.

Head Start was under the direction of the Office of Economic Opportunity and the local school board. If the program is carried on in Floydada next year, it will be under the auspices of the Community Action Program.

The last day of school was spent on a field trip to Lubbock's Caprock Town and Mackenzie Park. The group walked through the zoo and frontier town, then went on to Mackenzie by bus where they enjoyed a picnic lunch. The Head Start staff is especially grateful to the donors who made the Lubbock trip possible.

The workshop is designed to aid agriculture instructors in teaching tractor repair to junior and senior students in their own high schools and is similar to the occupational training offered by many schools in the field of automotive mechanics.

Texas A&I is the first college in the state to receive approval of the Texas Education Agency to conduct such a course, according to Paul R. Chilen, associate professor of agriculture at A&I and director of the workshop. While tractor repair is the only area being covered at present, Chilen added that Texas A&I plans next summer to add courses in the repair of tillage and planting machines as well as various types of harvesting equipment.

The tractors, along with required spare parts, are being provided by Kingsville farm implement dealers at no charge to the college. The repaired equipment will be returned to the dealers at the conclusion of the workshop. In addition, various farm machinery and electrical firms are providing test equipment and consultant personnel.

Dr. Collister stated that all of these important research projects will be continued and expanded through the efforts of a highly qualified scientist who will join the Foundation staff in the near future.

Dr. Gohlke, with his family, will be leaving the area of Plainview for his new duties with the Tennessee Corporation.

INCOME, SPENDING HIGH

Floyd County Thriving Market

(Special to the Hesperian)

NEW YORK, July 25 – On the basis of its performance in the past year, Floyd County stands out as a thriving market, with a level of income and spending above that found in most communities.

According to a nationwide study of retail business activity, just released by Sales Management, the local area chalked up solid gains in the period. Its people earned more and spent more.

The facts and figures are contained in SM's copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power." It gives comparable date on income and sales for all parts of the country.

The business upswing in Floyd County enabled most local merchants to top their previous year's volune. Sales for the year added up to a sturdy $24,091,000.

It was more than should have been expected from the standpoint of population alone. If that were the only consideration, local retail stores should have accounted for no more than .0073 percent of the national total, since the local population is that proportion of the national.

The results were better than that, however. Local retail business amounted to .0086 percent of the national volume.

The increase in consumer spending, locally and in other parts of the country where incomes have been on the rise, was felt in all directions.

Durable goods, from washing machines and air conditioners to automobiles and furniture, received a large part of it. Other beneficiaries included wearing apparel, home decoration, travel and services.

The survey shows that net income locally, after payment of taxes, reached $27,955,000, a gain over the prior year's $25,121,000.

Arithmetically, dividing the income by the number of households in the area, it averaged $6,656 per household.

Just how well one community compares with another is buying power and business volume is brought out through an "index of sales activity."

Floyd County is listed with an index rating of 118, which is 18 percent higher than the national average.

BILL SMITH IMPROVED

Bill Smith, who was critically injured in a farm accident the first of last week, is said to be showing slight improvement in Crosbyton Hospital. Smith underwent surgery there for a burst liver sustained when he accidentally fell, landing on a cross bar of his tractor.

His wife said this week that private nurses caring for him were being released from duty and that barring complications, he should show more improvement in the next several days.

FOR LECTURE FOUNDATION

Methodist Group Honors Floydada Couple

(Reprint from Ft. Worth Star Telegram)

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK. (Spl) – Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson Sr. of Floydada were honored here Tuesday in a special service and luncheon for establishing a lecture foundation, to cost $15,000, at the Western Methodist Assembly.

The foundation brings distinguished speakers to the assembly where lectures alternate annually on the subjects of evangelism, education, Christian social concerns, missions and lay activities.

Among those expressing appreciation to the Willsons were, Bishop Paul V. Galloway of Little Rock, Don Trumbo, mayor of Fayetteville; Marvin Murphy, president of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, and the Rev. Dr. Virgil D. Morris, Oklahoma City, executive secretary of Methodism's south central jurisdiction.

The Willsons have established 27 similar lectureships, at a cost of more than $400,000, at various institutions within the boundary of the jurisdiction, including lectureships at Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth, the Methodist Home of Waco and Southwestern University at Georgetown.

Reasons for the ineffectiveness of some modern evangelism were discussed by Bishop F. Gerald Ensley of Columbus, Ohio.

Speaking at the jurisdiction's conference on evangelism, Bishop Ensley said, "We don't believe in the Christian gospel as we once did. Much of our preaching is without conviction. Consequently, our preaching doesn't have the compelling power it once had.

"Intellectual atheism, the love of pleasure, being too busy with less important matters, not wanting to be bothered – these are among the contributing factors which explain the ineffectiveness of today's evangelism."

In explaining the rise of secularism, which aided in the decline of evangelism, Bishop Ensley said, "The rise of Protestantism is partly responsible, for it didn't have as much control over society as the Roman Catholic Church had.

"Protestantism challenged the findings and benefits of science, he said.

"Modern science is doing many things that religion used to do. We used to pray for the removal of a headache, now we take an aspirin; priests used to bless the land before the seeds were planted, now tractor and fertilizer are used instead; we used to try to get an obstreperous member of the family converted, now we send him or her to a psychiatrist.

"The major business of the minister," Bishop Ensley said, is to get the members of his church out of their isolationism and to inculcate a Christian view of the world in their minds.

"Ministers should give the members of their church a framework upon which they can build their lives in accordance with the Christian faith."

The Rev. Dr. Virgil Morris, speaking on "The Go-Go Gospel," said "Christians should go into all the world with a theology which testifies to an ever-present, living God; a philosophy that Christ can meet the needs of mankind; and with an assurance that people will accept." He urged the church to develop a program by which young people may give two years of service to the church after graduation.

LOADED – This plum tree, belonging to R. B. Welborn, is only four years old but it is loaded to the brim with the fruit. That is, it was until just a few days ago when the Welborn family picked the tree. The family has a number of other types of fruit trees in their back yard. (Staff Photo)

PERILS IN A PICNIC BASKET

Don't let bugs spoil your picnics - not ants or flies or mosquitoes, but those sneaky bacterial "bugs" that can cause much more misery, and even violent illness or death. Warm weather increases the hazard of food poisoning. Away from refrigerators and the cleanliness of a normal kitchen routine, many housewives find they have packed troubles in the picnic basket.

Summer temperatures cause a rampant bacterial growth and the greatest problem is that this bacteria will attack without warning. You can't wait for food to look or taste bad before suspecting bacteria.

However, with an ounce of prevention, you won't have to worry about a pound of cure. Beware of potato salad, for instance, because mayonnaise and eggs are excellent cultures for bacteria. So are fruit salads with whipped cream, mayonnaise, or milk; puddings and custards; white sauces; sandwich spreads; meat and fish salad sandwiches; cooked meat, and any mixtures that include a nutritive base for bacterial growth. Ground or sliced meat should be kept refrigerated on the way to the picnic table. Not only are they good culture mediums for bacteria growth in themselves, but they are exposed to surface contamination while being ground or sliced. Grilled hamburger should be well done. Most cold sandwiches should not be eaten if they have been unrefrigerated for more than four hours. Fresh meat should be carried to the picnic in a cooler or ice chest and kept cold until you are ready to cook it. In most cases the heat of cooking will kill the surface bacteria on a solid piece of meat, such as steak.

A packed lunch that can't be refrigerated should be eaten within three hours. If possible, carry the picnic basket in the passenger space of a car, not in the trunk. For safer eating, choose nonperishables such as potato chips, raw fruits and vegetables. Cheese, peanut butter, jam or jelly sandwiches keep well. Canned goods, even canned meats, don't require refrigeration, but don't open them until lunch time.

One final word: A picnic lunch safely "packed away" can still make you sick (if you insist upon exercising strenuously on a full stomach!)

ITORIALS

Our Cities

What newspapers tell about life in me of the large U.S. cities these ys should make every American op and think. The truth is that life American cities today is far less ilized and orderly than in the ies of many other western demracies.

The question we must ask ourves is: What kind of country are becoming? What kind of culture d behavior pattern are we establishing among our many diverse cial elements? Can we perfect orderly, attractive culture with l these factions?

The answer to this question is portant for, in a sense, the great erican Republic is an experiment. ny Europeans do not think the nglomeration of races, religions, ckgrounds, etc. in the United States ill ever really be blended into a rmonious one.

Americans are taught, from school ys on, that the American ideal can work and will work, and will come true. But when Negro citizens riot and loot and go wild in the cities, because they are not satisfied with conditions, when gangs terrorize communities, when girls can't walk the streets of many areas of our big cities, when murder and rape and violence occur in ever-increasing numbers in dirty, shabby cities, can we be sure the skeptics are wrong?

Every American, especially minorities, who have greater rights in America than anywhere in the world (and a higher standard of living), should recognize his or her responsibility in making the American dream, the American ideal, come true. In too many of our metropolitan areas, that dream is not reality. It will not become a reality until lawbreaking, violence, rioting, and other forms of undemocratic behavior are discarded and democratic methods pursued, methods which have brought minorities so much in recent years.

ions In The Cockpit

One of the best news stories of ce is that of three lions visiting e pilot and co-pilot of a transport craft flying them to London.

It was news, for lions mixing freely th people is always news. But it also a typical example of overolorful reporting, which so many of r reporters these days resort to a 'sensation' or a little more eder appeal.

The tale went like this: Flying ppily above Belgium, a pilot felt mething sniffing at his feet, oked down and saw a lion. Look- back he saw two others loose, d since there was no door beeen the storage section of the nsport and the pilot's cabin, that de for an interesting situation. called the nearest landing field told the dispatcher in the tower had three lions in his cabin.

To which the dispatcher made the inevitable reply: "Put them in your tank." The pilot managed to convince the dispatcher he was serious and was cleared for a landing. One enterprising reporter thereupon compiled an adventure-packed story, featuring the co-pilot fighting off the lions with an axe, etc., etc.

But the London owner of the lions reduced the gas content in that by explaining all three lions were tame, and a picture from Belgium showed a man holding one of the lions in his arms. It was a good story without exaggeration. As with the war in Vietnam, and other news stories, the American public is entitled to have them straight, without the garnish so fashionable in the metropolitan press and in much of the European press.

PHILOSOPHER SAYS:

President Can Find Plenty Of Foreign Affairs Experts Here

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems to be discussing the unemployment situation, although we're not sure.

Dear editar:

As I understand the present boom times, nearly everybody who wants to work is working and a lot of people who don't are, but still shortages crop up. For example, I read in a newspaper yesterday afternoon which a neighbor left on his tractor seat to keep the sun off while he went to the house for a drink of water and the wind blew off, that President Johnson is having a hard time finding enough experts on foreign affairs to fill some jobs now open on his staff.

I do not understand this. Clearly he's not looking in the right place. If he will come out to this area, I can show him dozens of experts on foreign affairs, in any direction he wants to go.

I don't mean one-sided experts. We've got experts on every side of any question about any country, whether we've heard of it before or not, the same as the U. S. Senate. You don't have to be able to pronounce a country's name to know what we ought to do about it, or what the Administration ought to stop doing about it.

Studying the country you're hiring out as an expert on doesn't mean anything. There are men in Washington who have spent years studying China, they can read and write the language and pronounce the names, and half of them say China will attack us if we keep bombing Hanoi and the other half says she won't. You can get exactly the same vote out here, where most of our information is limited to what we think up on our own. As I found out long ago, never call on more than one expert for advice on one problem. If you get two, you'll wind up with opposite advice and be about where you were before you started.

However, if President Johnson hasn't filled those jobs for foreign affairs experts yet, he can find plenty around here, although actually he can find just as many right there around Washington who are fully as capable as we are.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FIRST REFUND PAID

Water Tax Rebate Boon For Plains

By TANNER LAINE
Avalanche-Journal Staff

PETERSBURG — The far-reaching effects of a U. S. District Court ruling that irrigation water under the Southern High Plains of Texas is depletable, and the subsequent estimated boost of $6 million to $8 million annually to the area economy from income tax refunds and deductions, began to be felt for the first time Thursday.

Marvin Shurbet, Floyd County farmer, said he had received three checks totaling $3,661.30 as income tax refunds for irrigation water depletion for the years 1962, 1963 and 1964 on his 480-acre farm tract near here.

Shurbet, with the backing of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, had been the landowner figure in a test case that started in Lubbock as far back as 1962 and had switched back and forth to Washington many times.

Forerunner Of "Millions"

His income tax refund checks were declared forerunners of "millions of dollars" that will remain on the Southern High Plains each year for the qualified landowners he represented in the test case," it was said.

His marked the first payment by the Internal Revenue Service of the federal government for water depletion following the high court decision.

It also marked the culmination of more than 12 years of work by Shurbet against the IRS in an effort to have irrigation water used for farming declared deductible on income tax returns.

The Floyd farmer, well known throughout the state for his battle to have irrigation water become a legal depletion allowable for income tax purposes, was the authority for the $6 to $8 million estimated annual return to area landowners of which farmers are the majority.

He said the amount of the economic gain to the area would depend on the qualification of landowners to receive such allowance.

It was noted that initial tax refunds eventually will become tax deductions. Deductions can reach back three years from the time of the first claim, it was noted.

The first round victory in Shurbet's test case came in 1963 at Lubbock when U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph B. Dooley ruled in favor of the Petersburg area farmer, who had in 1962 sued the federal government for a cost depletion allowance on irrigation water.

Clears Second Hurdle

The test case cleared another hurdle in 1965 when the New Orleans 5th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the Lubbodk ruling.

In 1965, after the three judges of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit unanimously affirmed the U. S. Dist. Court judgment allowing a tax deduction for the depletion of underground water, the federal government acquiesced and declared no appeal would be made to the U. S. Supreme Court.

It was pointed out the court ruling affects only water in the Ogallala groundwater reservoir underneath several counties of the Southern High Plains of Texas and eastern parts of New Mexico.

At the time of the appeals court ruling at New Orleans, observers said the decision would mean "several million dollars in refunds to landowners and savings of many more millions in future tax payments."

Depletion Qualifications

Depletion claims are allowed only areas which have available data acceptable to the IRS based on these factors: 1. average thickness of the Ogallala formation under the land at the time ownership was acquired; 2. average decline of the water table each year in which depletion is claimed; and 3. the owner's monetary investment in the water at the time he acquired the land, or in other words, the sum he paid for the water.

Thirteen counties, which are members of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 — Armstrong, Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Parmer, Potter and Randall — are eligible for deductions on basis of contour maps and engineered data acceptable to the IRS, it was revealed.

Hale, Swisher and Crosby counties are not members of the water district, which prepared the acceptable data in support of claims for deduction and allowable, and landowners of those counties have not established eligibility, it was pointed out.

Hale Farmers Meet

A move was underway in Hale County Thursday for an election to be called on the question of whether the county will join the High Plains underground Water Conservation District, which has headquarters in Lubbock.

It was estimated that Hale landowners would be due about $900,000 in tax refunds if landowners can furnish required data on depletion.

No figures on the amount of money landowners of the 13-county district might expect in refunds was available Thursday. HPUWCD officials were out of the city.

Surbet said Thursday in an interview at The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, both the government and the water district moved swiftly in getting ground rules landowners might follow as a guide to arriving at the cost basis of groundwater and the amount of depletion.

Guidelines Available

IRS and experts at Texas Tech, along with legal representatives of the water district and Shurbet, began a series of studies and negotiations which resulted in the publishing of guidelines available to landowners who have authenticated data.

The water district came up with data that was accepted by IRS. The data was based on contour maps and decline tables within every county of the 13-county water district, Clarence Brazill, Lubbock attorney, said.

As the case went to court at Lubbock, George McCleskey Jr., Lubbock attorney representing Shurbet, said: "The case has been recognized both by the Internal Revenue Service and by the Office of the Attorney General, as well as the courts, as a test case with the results applicable to owners of groundwater throughout the Southern High Plains.

No Widespread Precedent

The gist of the fight, he added, was to point out that Internal Revenue laws permit taxpayers to special deductions for depletion of capital investment—such as oil, natural gas or iron.

In extending the laws to cover water, the appeals court pointed out that cost depletion for groundwater in the Southern High Plains was not meant to set a precedent for other areas, McCleskey added.

The Shubert decision, according to McCleskey, cited peculiar conditions in the 35,000-square mile plateau. It pointed out the only source of water for this area is rainfall, which percolates downward only in small quantities in the area concerned.

"Ideal" IRS Case

The Shubert case was agreed on by the IRS as being an "ideal case" in regard to long and accurate records kept on a particular irrigation well.

Shubert told The Avalanche-Journal he has seven wells on his 480-acre tract.

It is estimated that upward to 10,000 landowners are in the particular Plains area designated.

The June 7, 1965 affirmation of the appeals court in the case of the United States vs. Marvin Shurbet, et ux, undoubtedly taught the basic lesson that "groundwater is the irrigated landowners' most precious asset, which must be carefully conserved," an observer watching the case said.

It also was said that the data and work furnished by the water district (working on the matter since 1954) paved the way for irrigated landowners on the Southern High Plains to qualify for, and calculate their tax deduction with a minimum of trouble and expense.

Example Cited

It was further pointed out that the trial findings not only covered Marvin Shurbet's individual farm and the groundwater thereunder but also the entire Southern High Plains and the Ogallala reservoir within it.

The high court also accepted without question, the formula devised to measure the amount of the tax deduction to which the irrigated landowner is entitled. A simple example of the formula can be demonstrated by assumption of this example: The Cross Section, publication of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, declared:

"If farmer Jones paid $300 an acre for irrigated land and similar dryland is selling for $100 per acre, then $200 per acre is the cost of the water under the land. If there were 100 feet of water under the land at the time of the purchase, then Jones paid $2 per foot for water. If the water table declined three feet during the taxable year, then Jones' cost depletion deduction is $6 per acre ($2 per foot cost times 3 feet of decline)."

Individual Declarations

Shurbet pointed out individual landowners of the Southern High Plains need only ascertian:

1. The annual decline of the water table under their land.
2. The thickness of the water bearing sands under the farm at the time of purchase.
3. The cost basis in the water.

"There's one other factory in this, too," Shurbet said. "The court's ruling somewhat legalizes our area contention that our water can be depleted and other sources than rainfall will be needed in the future."

Cabbage loopers have become an increasing problem in cotton in the Dougherty area this past week. The pest, first noticed to be damaging crops this past week has infested several fields. Some of the fields were damaged enough to warrant spraying for the insect, while others were on the verge of an economic infestation.

Generally cabbage loopers do not build up to a large enough infestation to damage crops because they are very susceptible to diseases. Complete infestations may be killed in three days time by a virus.

Cabbage loopers may be chemically controlled by using Endrin at .4 to .5 lbs. per acre.

THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY

By H. M. BAGGARLY

THE SIZE of a man is often indicated by the size of the issues which dominate his thinking and his conversation. If he ordinarily is interested in big and important issues, chances are he is a big man. But if his mind dwells on petty and unimportant things, he probably isn't a big man.

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—

TO ILLUSTRATE, the mediocre to ordinary voter will make a much greater effort to vote for his county commissioner than for his United States Congressman. His world is small, his horizons limited. To him, how his road is maintained is far more important than the cold war. The presence of trees and bird manure on the courthouse square is much more important than balancing the federal budget.

If he bothers to vote for governor or President, he bases his decision on minor, unimportant qualifications. Perhaps he likes one candidate's smile or dislikes another's denominational affiliation.

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—

THE BIG MAN is more interested in principles and guiding philosophies than he is in personality traits and secondary issues. He likes or dislikes a candidate not because of personality but because of principle.

He, like Mary Stewart, prays that he may "be large in thought, in words, in deed" and he would shun pettiness and " the little things that create differences."

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—

ALL OF US need broader horizons. We need to measure issues objectively and concentrate our attention on real problems, both local and national.

Locally we should be concerned with such problems as delinquency, industrial development, real needs of our town and county. Men should be elected to office because of their ability to cope with these issues and problems. Our problems are much too complex, our time much too important to spend it brooding over courthouse trees, imagined affronts, and wounded pride.

—THOUGHTS FOR THURSDAY—

HE WHO LIVES continually on such a level is not unlike those who measure their pastor by his ability to mix, his loyalty to his denomination, his soothing voice, his knowledge of which members to court.

Jehovah's Witnesses Activity Suspended For Dallas Meeting

Congregational activity of Plainview's Jehovah's Witnesses will be suspended this week as the entire group has been invited to serve as official delegates to the "God's Sons of Liberty" district assembly in Dallas, August 3-7.

"All program sessions will originate at Dallas' giant, new Market Hall, " Clarence W. Hall said. "The Dallas convention is one of ten set for the United States this summer, and our delegation will help make up the more than 30,000 anticipated for the five-day event."

Hall said several car caravans were being organized for the trip and that any interested Bible students wishing to attend the convention with the local group may do so by making their needs known.

"We are going to Dallas for Bible education and fortification," he said. "We are certainly living in critical times when the Christian's spiritual strength is being tapped constantly. We plan on the Dallas assembly to replenish and vitalize us spiritually."

Hall added that the program will be bilingual to assist the many Spanish-speaking Witnesses making the trip to Dallas also.

A series of Bible-based discourses, dramatizations, symposiums and panel discussions will complement the total program.

All local meetings will be held at their regularly scheduled times next week at the Kingdom Hall.

Devotional of the Month

AMERICA HAS TEN YEARS... unless the clock has stopped

America has not known the destructive power of bombs falling on our great cities, nor men of foreign powers invading our ports and villages, but if "History repeats itself" we are in for unbelievable awakening in the next few years.

On July 4, 1776 a group of patriots signed a Declaration of their independence as a nation and from this have emerged the Constitution of these United States, the Bill of human rights, and the free-enterprise system that has made our country the most prosperous nation since the fall of the Roman Empire. But nations rise and fall in relation to their faith in and dependence upon God. The apostle Peter stated "God is no respecter of persons, but in every nation, he that feareth Him and worketh righteousness, is accepted with Him," (Acts 10:34-5). The wise man Solomon said, "Righteousness exalts a nation but sin is a reproach to any people," (Prov. 14:34) and King David said, "the wicked shall be turned in to Hell and all NATIONS that forget God," (Psm. 9:17).

In the book, "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" Edward Gibbon makes the observation that the average duration of a nation is 200 years. We still have ten years to go - or do we? A nation does not stand, simply because the "average" has continued for a certain period of time. Arnold Toynbee, a noted historian says that of "21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from external conquest but from the evaporation of belief within," (Reader's Digest, 4-'63, pg. 51). It was GOD that destroyed the world and protected Noah from the flood, because the world was "wicked continually," (Gen. 6:5). In the conversation between Abraham and Lot it was learned that the illustrious cities of the plains of Jordan were doomed because of their sins. It was GOD who agreed to spare the population if even ten "righteous people could be found," (Gen. 18:23-33). Sodom and Gomorrah wrote their epitaph in the sands and waters of Palestine to be hidden for all time by the overwhelming wrath of God.

Many empires have bidden good-by to glory and their civilizations now silently sleep in the sands, secure from the prying archaeological eye - and all because they neglected God. The Armies of Assyria, the Beauties of Babylon, the pyramids of proud Egypt, the culture of Greece, and the pomp and putrification of Rome, all met with catastrophic demise, due to sin. History does repeat itself; Nations do follow cycles, and our times have been before. Solomon said, "there is nothing new under the sun," (Eccl. 1:9). People's basic behavior does not change appreciably.

America has just about done the limit of the average, but it need not follow the path of the forgotten. Gibbon tells us that there are five things that foretold the fall of Rome. (1) Rapid increase of divorce. (2) High taxation. (3) Craze for pleasure and entertainment. (4) Gigantic armaments while the real enemy was within. (5) The decay of religion. (The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, Vol. 3, Edward Gibbon). We may not lead the world in the "race to the moon" but we do have more divorces than ALL other nations of the world combined. Our present rate is 1 out of 2 1/2 marriages. Our tax situation now confounds even the leading economists. Sexual gratification and rebellion against authority have enthroned the Goddess of pleasure. Our new weapons of war are made obsolete daily, while many are still on the drawing board. We, like the people of Troy, have taken into our society "the horse" filled with local graft, civil strife, and national immorality. We have the most elaborate church buildings in history, but they remain locked during the week and virtually empty of worshippers on Sunday. Religious leaders deny God, and one atheist woman can "run" the highest court of our land to delete "God" from our schools, national songs, prayers, money and even public communications. Religious "talk" of UNITING is a coverup for separated UNIONS to maintain large numbers on the church records.

Many things are involved in the strength of a nation. This country was built upon Faith in God or "in God we Trust." Now our faith is in Washington, D.C. and we trust in our own laws and armaments. Our founders did not agree religiously, but they WERE RELIGIOUS, GODFEARING, HONEST people! In 1906 there were only 17 Communists. Sixty years later half the earth surface and over one billion people bow under the load of this conspiracy. But Communism is not our only enemy. We are destroying ourselves. When ancient Ninevah REPENTED, the Bible says that everyone from the SLAVE to the KING turned to God, (Jonah 3:5-10). When Sodom did not repent, God cleansed the earth of their rottenness, (Gen. 19:1-29). There remains then, a choice for us today. America, from the tramp in the alley, to the President in the White House, must change their diet or die. We must alter our intake of social, moral, and spiritual food or join the ranks of fallen empires. King David said, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord," (Psm. 33:12). But where do we start? An ancient proverb expresses it very well in these lines –

"Where there is righteousness in the individual, there is beauty in the character.
Where there is beauty in the character, there is harmony in the home.
Where there is harmony in the home, there is order in the nation.
Where there is order in the nation, there is peace in the world."

The path to bondage and slavery or annihilation has always followed this consistent cycle; it runs its course and begins again in an endless circle. SPIRITUAL FAITH and an awareness leads to COURAGE. This promotes LIBERTY and freedom where men can pursue their own course of happiness and prosperity. ABUNDANCE, if not properly used will bring about SELFISHNESS and waste. When men are "filled" they become COMPLACENT and public APATHY results. When people do not care, they are easily made DEPENDENT and are brought back under "state control" and BONDAGE. WHERE IS AMERICA on this cycle of nations? Patriotism is past. Liberty is lost, Apathy abounds? WHERE IS AMERICA on the clock of national duration? Perhaps, if we are average, our overthrow is now in the plan of the world. Like the Lilliputian giant, we may have slept too long.

What the future holds for YOU, your family and children yet unborn, depends upon YOU. Only God can stop the clock. Only God can control the nations. His eternal principle is that we always "reap what we sow," (Gal. 6:7). We are in a battle for survival. The hope of our nation and all nations is in a genuine conversion to Christ and a true dedication to Holy Living. Our land is sick, but God can heal it if you will become one of the "ten righteous individuals" in whose hands rest our destiny before the God of Heaven.

"If My people, who are called by My name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from Heaven, and will forgive their sins, and will heal their land," (2 Chron. 7:14).

CENTER NEWS by Mrs. J. E. Green

Showers Appreciated, Good Rain Needed

CENTER, AUGUST 1 – We appreciate the weekend showers we've been getting, but how we'd like a good rain.

The District Singing Convention met Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon at Calvary Baptist. A good crowd was in attendance.

Bro. Perry Threadgill preached two good sermons Sunday, his last as pastor after being our pastor for 3-1/2 years. We regret to lose these dear people, but they have answered yes to a call as undershepherd to the First Baptist Church of Valliant, Okla. In honor of this good family, ladies of Calvary Church served a bountiful meal in the church dining hall at the noon hour. We send with the Threadgills our love and best wishes. (The family is not to move immediately, but the pastor will go on to Valliant.)

Larry Beedy of South Plains spent Monday to Wednesday visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell visited in Lockney Sunday afternoon at the nursing home with Mrs. Leonard Smith, and at the hospital with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mize. Miza, who became ill Sunday was trnasferred to a Lubbock hospital today, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Arney and Steve, accompanied by the Dud Phillips family, went on a vacation trip last week. Points visited were Carlsbad Caverns, Ruidoso and Cloudcroft, N. Mex.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gooch and son and Bobby Welborn and family are on a trip to Taos and the Red River country this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James David Welborn and girls of Plain visited Sunday afternoon with his parents, the J. D. Welborns.

Brenda Dunn of Lubbock has been visiting since last Thursday with her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Dunn. Brenda and a cousin, Hollie Robertson of Dougherty have also exchanged visits.

Friday Mrs. Dunn and the girls visited in the O. C. Vinson home.

The Vinsons attended the Singing Convention at Calvary Baptist Sunday afternoon.

Sue Thomas received her diploma Friday from the Southwest Business School at Plainview. Sue has accepted a position with a firm in Albuquerque, N. Mex., and will leave this week to report at her post. "Congratulations, Sue!" Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will accompany her and return in a few days.

The Finleys, the Balls and the Sandifurs are "busy, busy" harvesting gardens and canning.

Walter Sims visited the Sandifurs Sunday afternoon. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sellars, city.

Mrs. Charles Horton of Alvin and son, Bruce of the U. S. Navy, arrived last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sims. They report the wedding Friday evening of her son, Phil to Dianna Mach, both of Alvin. Congratulations to these two fine young people.

Mrs. Frank Dunn's brother, Floyd Montgomery (formerly of Center) and wife, Florence, are touring the northeast, including New York City and Washington D. C., and maybe points in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Parks attended a birthday supper last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chastain of Lorenzo. The occasion was honoring Mrs. Gary Hancock, a niece of Mrs. Parks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denison are visiting in North Platte, Nebraska with her mother and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot and Mike were in Haskell Sunday to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of an aunt and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Easterling.

The Thomas Warrens and the Bob Alldredges took a vacation trip last week to mountains of northern New Mexico and south east Colorado. It rained nearly every day and the temperature was just right.

The Thomases and Mrs. Charley Battey called Sunday p.m. on Mrs. John Hopper, and her daughter and family, the Robert Joneses of San Antonio. We sympathize with Mrs. Hopper and her other loved ones, in the passing of her husband last week. Mrs. Hopper was a long time resident and one of a loved family formerly of Lakeview.
