We'll be making geniuses to order in 100 years, if predictions of Professor Julian Huxley, (below), British biologist, made in Philadelphia, materialize. He predicts that by manipulation of human glands we may be able to substitute desirable characteristics for undesirable ones, in the growing child and produce genius.

SEVENTY MORE BLOCKS AVAILABLE AS SOON AS LIGHTS PUT UP

Seventy more blocks of residential sections of Lubbock in the south part of town, will be added to the free city delivery area of the local postoffice as soon as the government requirements for city delivery are fully complied with, John L. Vaughan, postmaster, announces.

The territory includes from 19th street to as far south as 32nd street and as far west as the 2900 blocks on 21st and 22nd streets, Mr. Vaughan explained.

A survey was made of this area under the instruction of the postmaster and it was found that approximately 400 families would be served by the new delivery.

Virtually all of the necessary equipment for service have been complied with, according to the postmaster, except in the matter of city street lights. "I have been assured by the city that within 60 days the lights will be installed," the postmaster added.

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Feb. 18.—Preliminaries out of the way this morning, more than 80 official representatives of 34 West Texas cities continued in session here this afternoon to determine a definite program on the investigation of gas rates protests.

What the procedure will be remained for the body's action on a program being outlined by a committee appointed for the purpose following the naming of Mayor Thomas E. Hayden, jr., of Abilene as temporary chairman, and H. L. DeBusk, Abilene corporation counsel, as secretary.

Two hours before noon were given over to addresses by Frank L. LOBBYING GETS CRITICISM

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF RULES ASKED BY MOORE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18. —The senate's new brass railing and "the third house" went under fire today as the senate found itself suddenly precipitated into a controversy over rules.

Senator Moore of Greenville, in calling for a strict enforcement of rules governing the admittance of persons onto the senate floor, said he didn't want reports going out that the senate was overrun with lobbyists.

Senator Parrish of Lubbock said such reports would not worry him. "Let them prove something," Senator Parrish said.

"I am not afraid of any one who enters that door," Senator Hardin of Stephenville retorted.

"Aren't there a good many crooks who're not lobbyists?" Senator Parr

New Plan Of Teaching Temperance Is Operated

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The international council of religious education announced today that it had inaugurated a new method of teaching temperance in the Sunday schools, part of which would involve tests of the pupil's instinctive feelings toward the subject. The tests are to be made by asking the pupils to cross out as fast as they read them the words which are disagreeable to them in the following list.

"Anti-Saloon league, bootlegger, beer, alcoholism, saloon, law enforcement, padlock, Canadian plan, wine, cocktail, temperance, hootch, propoganda, prosperity, beer stein, Capone, coast guard, home brew, pledge signing, racketeer, local option, Volstead, W. C. T. U., Jones law, rum runner, machine gun, law observance, personal liberty, and Hoover commission."

Each word test, the council said, would be followed by another in which the student will be asked to indicate rapidly the truth or falsity of various statements on the subject, such as:

"Alcohol is a poison."

"Alcohol increases happiness."

Sponsors of the idea said the new method would be used in 52 denominations, representing 85 per cent of the Protestant church membership in the United States.

LENTEN PERIOD BEGINS IN CITY WITH APPROPRIATE SERVICES IN 3 CHURCHES

Lubbock's observance of Lent, the 40 day fast period preceding Easter, which comes on Sunday, April 5, was begun today with appropriate services in the Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran churches. Regular schedules for the three denominations will be observed throughout the Lenten period, starting with services today, Ash Wednesday.

The 40-day fast is one of the most solemn periods of the entire year for the churches that observe the time. It commemorates the 40 days that Jesus Christ spent in the wilderness prior to his taking up his ministry that was to lead to the Cross on Calvary.

Strict observance requires the practice of self denial, the withdrawal from social activities and the attendance upon the services of the churches. Abstinence from meats on certain days and other practices are frequently observed. Social affairs of members of the churches are foregone and there is more time spent at the stated church services and masses.

Ash Wednesday begins the Lenton period. At the Episcopal church, St. Paul's on the Plains,

BUTLER SAYS AL CAPONE TO BE SENT BACK TO ITALY WHEN PUBLIC OPINION AROUSED; MARINE HEAD TALKS AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 18.—Alphonse Capone, Chicago's gangland chief, will be deported to Italy when public opinion is aroused, it was predicted by Major General Smedley D. Butler in an address here last night.

"When public opposition is aroused," Butler said, "Capone will go back to Italy—but I can't talk about Italy."

The remark was one of a few referring indirectly to the Mussolini-Butler imbroglio made before the Knife and Fork club, whose members he addressed on the subject of the causes and cures of crime.

"God Help The Man"

"God help the man who gets in the way of an aroused public opinion," said the marine commander, who recently was censured for a speech in which he related an episode of which he had been told, describing Premier Mussolini of Italy as a hit and run driver.

"I've had an experience of that sort," he added.

For the most part Butler confined his remarks to a description of his administration of the Philadelphia crime "cleanup" a few years ago. He recommended the constant shifting of policemen from one beat to another as a means of putting a stop to corruption.

The out-spoken general, who said he had never posed for motion pictures, engaged in a blustery expostulation at the start of his speech with news reel men whom he finally permitted to set up their cameras and incandescent lamps before the

VIRGINIA BROOKS, TEN YEARS OLD, MISSING SINCE FEB. 11

(By Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 18—A hunt for Virginia Brooks, missing 10-year-old school girl, extended across Arizona, New Mexico and into Texas today.

While 50 soldiers were ordered by Brig. Gen. Robert McCleave from Fort Rosecrans to search canyons and drag pools east of San Diego, Deputy Sheriff Blake Mason enlisted the aid of officers as far east as Amarillo, Texas, in the search for the suspected kidnaper.

Seen In Arizona

Mason telegraphed from Phoenix that a girl identified by photographs as Virginia had stopped at Wellton, Ariz., for two days with a man about 50 years old who posed as her father. The man was described as thin, tall, wearing a small moustache and using glasses. The girl wore knickers, golf stockings and tan oxford shoes.

San Diego police planned to drag a stagnant pool on the east side of the city today. Footprints checking with shoes worn by the girl, who dropped out of sight February 11 while on her way to school, were found late yesterday beside the pool.

HOOVER GIVES HIS REASONS FOR STAND

PRESIDENT SAYS BILL WOULD INFLICT AN INJURY TO NATION

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—President Hoover today informed the senate finance committee of his serious objections to the veterans' loan relief bill.

The president's views were in a letter to Chairman Smoot. Forwarding of the letter became known as hearings by the committee were just starting on the house measure.

The text of Mr. Hoover's letter follows:

"I have given thought to your request that I should express to you and to the senate finance committee my views upon the bill passed by the house of representatives increasing loans to World war veterans upon the so-called bonus certificate. In view of the short time remaining in the session for its consideration, I shall comply with your request.

To Avoid Confusion

"The proposal is to authorize loans upon the certificates up to 50 per cent of their face value. And to avoid confusion it must be understood that the face value is the sum payable at the end of the 20-year period (1945) being based on the additional compensation to veterans of about $1,300,000,000 granted about 6 years ago, plus 25 per cent for

NEW CABINET IS FORMED

MONARCHISTS WIN IN SPANISH TANGLE; AZNAR IN CHARGE

BY CLARENCE DUBOSE

MADRID, Feb. 18. (AP)—After four days of political turmoil and uncertainty, Spain today had a new monarchist cabinet, avoiding revolution on the one hand and dictatorship on the other.

Either of those possibilities had seemed imminent, but now it is believed that the tense atmosphere of the past week will be cleared and that the situation is once more tranquil, at least for the time being.

The fundamental causes of all the trouble of the past year still exist, however, and opposition to the monarchy probably will be renewed when the time [illegible]

Homesickness Triumphs Over Films

ENGLISH GIRL LEAVES 'BIG CHANCE', MOVIES AND HANDSOME JOHN GILBERT FLAT AND GOES BACK HOME TO HUBBY AND OL' LUNNON

(By The Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD Cal., Feb. 18.—The lure of the films faded and flickered out for Edna Best while homesickness for dear Ol' Lunnon grew.

The English girl, brought here for what Hallywood considered her "big chance," left handsome John Gilbert waiting at the camera yesterday as a result.

She just walked out, leaving him, a large cast, an irate director, technicians and all who had gathered at the Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer studio to begin work on "Cheri-Bebi."

John Robertson, the director, tore his hair when Miss Best failed to appear. Gilbert, whom she was to support in the cast, paced the floor. Cameramen smoked, extra girls commented audibly on the manner in which stars were allowed to keep everybody waiting.

"Maybe she wasn't feeling well this morning," Gilbert said by way of soothing Robertson.

The director, speechless, looked at his watch again. The overhead kept piling up.

"A telegram, sir," said a messenger boy.

It was from Miss Best, filed as she passed through Needles, Cal., en route to England, London and the husband she left behind. It said:

"Please forgive me. I am on my way back to London and my husband. I am awfully homesick and besides I am just afraid I wouldn't be any good in the picture. Edna Best."

"Well, I'll be darned!" Robertson said.

Gilbert read the message without comment.

Leila Hyams, who had played opposite Gilbert in other pictures, was summoned to replace Miss Best.

CHILD PAID BY PARENTS TO TELL ON HIS FRIENDS TURNS COWARD IN SCHOOL

TOM is four. He is a tatler. He gets paid for tattling. His parents pay him.

Tom and Tillie are at play. Tillie is his sister, two years older. Tom grabs a toy from Tillie and she hits him. Tom runs to tell his daddy, who arrives upon the scene, conducts a trial, accepts Tom's version literally, and punishes poor Tillie. Tom is satisfied. He tattled on his sister and got his pay check when his father punished her.

Tillie must submit, but in her heart she has resolved to get even with her little brother. She knows very well he started the quarrel and got her into trouble. If dad had been more sensible he merely would have let the children quarrel, ignoring Tillie, or he would have separated them without attempting to fix the blame.

Tom is playing with his neighbor children. Things don't go his way; he pushes one of them who doesn't see him. A fight begins. Tom gets the worst of it and goes bawling to the house to tell his mother. Out she comes to scold the other children. Soon the other children's mothers come to their defense and a general strife is on.

Anyway, Tom thinks he won. His mother came to his defense and made him feel he was right. She paid him for his tattling.

Soon his playmates hate him, and he and his mother never get along with them. He becomes a coward and a bully. About all cowards turn to bullies. By throwing down the little children, teasing them and running off with their toys and hats, the bully fools himself that he is strong and brave. He sneaks up behind the other boys of his size, pushes them, or strikes them, or he hurls sticks and stones at them, and when they attempt to punish him he runs to tell his mother.

He tempts them to do things he is forbidden to do, and then tattles on them. Sometimes he does such things himself and tells his mother that the other children did them.

Tom enters school and continues as a tattler. He picks quarrels with the children on the playground and "squeals" on them to the teacher. Every time he gets the slightest opportunity to tell on a classmate he does so. He is never happier than when he can help to get another pupil into trouble.

Forever, Tom is complaining to the teacher about the way the children treat him on his way to school, and every evening he reports a string of grievances at home. His parents always take his word and take his part. They never think that he could do a wrong. They pay him for tattling, and he goes on practicing in the ignoble art to earn more pay.

Poor Tom! Not his fault he is a tattler.

IMPROVED ROASTING PROCESS RESULTS IN DISTINCTIVE COFFEE

Flavor Such as No Other Coffee Has is Marvelously Developed Through Control

Beyond a doubt the most revolutionary event in the history of coffee was the invention and patenting, a few years ago, of a remarkable roasting process by Hills Bros. of San Francisco.

This process is called Controlled Roasting. By permitting only a few pounds of coffee at a time to pass continuously through the roasters in which the heat and speed of operation are accurately controlled; a perfect roast is insured. Every berry is roasted evenly with the result that there is a matchless, uniform flavor in every pound.

Tests show that such flavor cannot be developed by the common method of roasting coffee in bulk. In spite of watchful care, the operator cannot prevent variation of roast in the different batches. Naturally there is variation in the flavor.

In order to keep their delicious coffee absolutely fresh, Hills Bros. pack it in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere by grocers. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

The program was in the form of a pageant and this was divided into two distinct parts. Preceding the pageant, a recognition service for local P.-T. A. officials and charter members of the association was conducted.

Every school in the city had a part in the latter part of the pageant, which represented the seven objects of education. The program lasted about two hours.

CARLOAD BEEF CATTLE ADDED TO AMARILLO STOCK SHOW

AMARILLO, Feb. 18.—(Special)—A last minute addition to the premium lists of Amarillo's first annual Fat Stock Show, March 2-5, 1931, appears in the catalogue, just off the press. Carload beef cattle have been added, carrying $300 in premiums contributed equally by the Fat Stock Show, the American Hereford Cattle, Breeders, and Julian Bivins, of Amarillo. A carlot composes 15 animals, either steers or heifers.

Another feature will be the meat grading and cutting demonstration by the United States department of agriculture. Cattle will be graded both on the hoof and on the block, and demonstrations given teaching the art of home-cutting.

Show officials and officers of the five organizations cooperating in the show are enthusiastic over the rapid completion of new facilities at the Tri-State Fair grounds, where the show will be held. The sale ring, seating 1,000 is nearly finished. Steel is practically all in place for the new sale arena. Comfortable quarters for attendants with the cattle are being installed, including gas, lights and hot water. Plenty of room is provided in the judging arena for groups and spectators inspecting the offerings. Offices where the business of the sales can be handled easily and quickly are going in right at the arena. Every precaution is being taken to provide the necessary machinery for making the show schedule move swiftly and smoothly throughout the four days.

IMPROVEMENT OF QUALITY OF EGGS IN AREA SOUGHT

Farmers and poultry men are urged in a letter sent out from the Lubbock office of the Titman Egg corporation to all buyers and branch managers, to seek to improve the quality of eggs offered for sale to buyers, by the elimination of dirty, cracked or broken, small or odd shaped eggs.

W. R. Johnston, branch manager, in his letter, sets forth the claim that one reason for the present low price of eggs is the fact that there has been such a large amount of dirty, broken or odd sized eggs dumped on the market.

Asked To Keep Them

Farmers are asked to consume the odd sized and dirty eggs at home instead of selling them. They are also asked to provide enough nests for their laying hens so as to eliminate the necessity for more than one hen using a nest in which an egg has been laid.

Mr. Johnston points out that a broken, cracked or undersized egg does not have its edibility endangered by this fact. The sale value of the egg however is affected, as buyers do not care to pay for off sized eggs or for dirty eggs.

Prediction is made that by the elimination of these types of eggs from the market, there will be an immediate response with an increased price for the products.

CHICAGO SPENDS EYTRA TEN MILLION DOLLARS TO SAVE THIRTY MINUTES FOR MOTORISTS IN DRIVING DOWNTOWN

CHICAGO (AP) — Street fronts have been sliced off office buildings to widen thoroughfares, sections have been cut out of warehouses to provide roads and costly pilings have been pushed into treacherous sands to save 30 minutes for the Chicago motorist.

Speeding up travel into and out of the Chicago downtown district has cost the city $20,000,000 within the past five years.

Another $10,000,000 will be added when the building of the outer drive bridge across the Chicago river is completed. The bridge and its approaches—one mile of thoroughfare—will cost that sum.

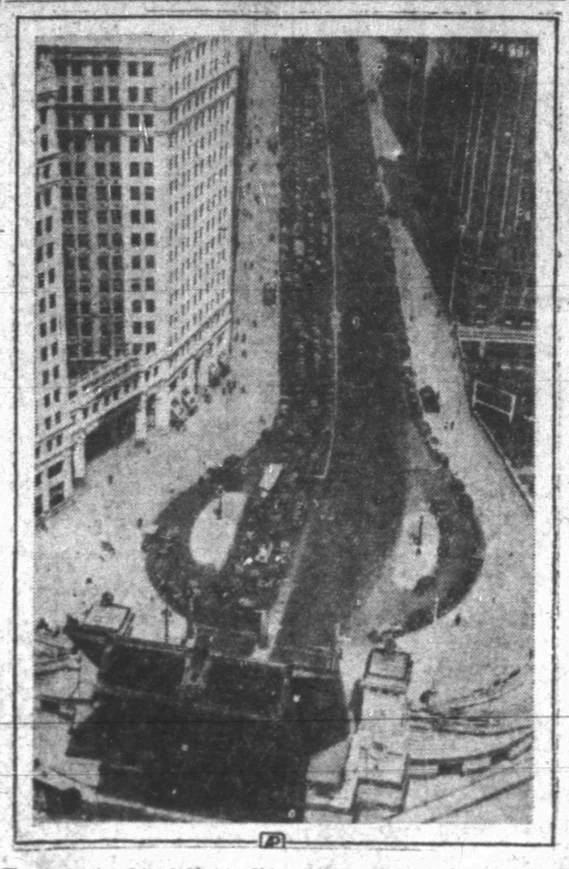

The latest section of the arteries of motor transportation is the Wabash avenue bridge across the Chicago river. Its construction was particularly difficult because one approach was built on treacherous sand. Several buildings were razed before the approach could be constructed.

La Salle street has gained in motor traffic through the widening of the thoroughfare. To do that five to 15 feet were shaved off fronts of abutting buildings.

Within the past five years the city has thrown three bridges across the Chicago river.

Engineers say the most difficult task of the several undertaken to speed up downtown travel, is the building of the outer drive bridge. It will span the Chicago river almost at its mouth. It also must be thrown across a small inlet for steamers. On the north bank of the river a section of a six-story warehouse was removed, while on the south bank the road will be built across railroad yards.

The outer drive bridge is expected to take 50,000 cars daily off Michigan avenue. Completion of all street projects will enable the tourist to drop 30 minutes from the time it has taken to traverse the city.

The new outer drive bridge in Chicago is expected to take about 50,000 cars a day off Michigan avenue. Above is shown "stalled" traffic on Michigan with Chicago river bridge open.

New Aerial Lights Ready For Operation

City officials Tuesday stated that newly installed aerial lights on parts of Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets in the northwest part of the city have been tested and will be turned on within a few days.

The new circuit means an addition of about 40 lights, the globes being spaced one to each two blocks of unpaved street and one to each block of paved street.

The white way system on Nineteenth street will be completed this week and the lights probably in use by Saturday night, Tuesday's report said.

RIPLEY GETS LOW-DOWN ON CAPITAL'S CIGARETTE PREFERENCES

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Himself
Creator of "Believe It or Not"

They keep you guessing down in Washington! And for awhile, I thought OLD GOLD might actually lose its first taste-test in 2 years.

874 smokers tested the four leading cigarettes with names concealed. Brand Y almost spilled O.G.'s apples!

But OLD GOLD'S nature-born goodness to taste and throat is as hard to beat as it is easy to take. Final score: OLD GOLD, 259; Brand X, 202; Brand Y, 224; Brand Z, 189.

Grown Only In The Rich Volcanic Soil of Central America

DOWN along the West Coast of Central America, Nature has performed another miracle. Produced coffees with a rare tang and superlative richness that, experts concede, are utterly unlike any other coffee you have ever tasted. Nature leaves the "rough" offensive oils out of these coffees. You taste only pure, invigorating flavor—never "flat," or thin, or bitter.

We don't want to tell you how good it is. We want you to try it, as thousands have, and see how it literally spoils your taste for ordinary kinds.

Introduced by Folger

Years ago Central American coffee was first served in the famous Bohemian restaurants of San Francisco where it was brought by Folger. Travelers tasting it there were captivated by its unusual flavor. Flavor produced by a peculiar combination of rich volcanic soil, altitude, sun's rays and tropic rainfall—that is found nowhere else in the world.

The Folger Test

Would you like to see for yourself just how different these coffees are—in richness and in flavor? Here's a test that is as simple as it is fair.

Tomorrow morning drink Folger's. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again. In a morning or two you will decidedly favor one or the other; the best coffee wins. That's fair, isn't it? 101

Thought For Today

I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance. — St. Luke 5:32.

True repentance is to cease from sin.—St. Ambrose.

The Dog's Day

More than 2500 pedigreed dogs are barking hilariously at one another at America's biggest dog show, in New York City. And not an Airdale or a collie among them realizes that they are really holding a dogs' rights' convention.

The health commissioner of New York City has predicted that dogs may be barred from that city within a few years. The population is growing rapidly. Quarters are close. And it is unhealthy to have the canine influence around.

It is probably a wise prediction. Especially for the dogs. For no dog should be shut in a bandbox of a room when there are meadows to roam and high green hills to climb. No dog should have to sniff at trails which he may never take. He belongs to the out-doors and he should have the privilege of his birthright.

Dogs miss so much when they live in cities. They can't have a lazy sort of fellowship with the dog next door, or get a little honest pride out of sending somebody's kitten scurrying up a tree. There aren't any small boys with whom they can roam, wagging their tails at life in general. They have to let someone put a leather leash around their necks and lead them decorously down a paved street. And it's hard on a dog.

The canine fraternity is making its last stand in New York City, perhaps. Maybe outstanding members of the clan won't be called together after a while. And of course they may miss the silver cups and blue ribbons which they admire.

But the great middle-class of the dog- world—the group that isn't represented—is going to be mighty glad if it gets a chance to return to a paradise where there are lawns and playfellows, and freedom of roads, and no ban on barking.

The Prince

There is some compensation in belonging to the great common-place. Its members may dance with whom they please and nobody knows or cares.

But every time the Prince of Wales asks a girl for a fox trot or a waltz the fact is broadcast around the world, and the maiden is asked just how it felt to have the manly arm of the heir apparent to the British throne encircle her waist.

Miss Eleanor Nichols, daughter of Naval Commander Newton Lord Nichols, is the latest girl to have been interviewed on the subject. With splendid judgment she told the questioners that the Prince is a very likable, human young man. She enjoyed her dance with him.

She probably never even gave a thought to the blasoned heraldry that belongs to a prince's train, and he didn't, either. Being a prince today, except on state occasions, isn't much different than being a banker or lawyer.

Except on the dance floor.

Mooney's Case

The effort to forget about Tom Mooney does not seem to be headed toward success. The latest obstacle to be thrown in its path is the formation of a group of distinguished churchmen to work for pardons for Mooney and Warren Billings, who was imprisoned with him.

The names of some of these churchmen are striking testimony to the way in which Mooney's case appeals to liberal-minded folk. Among them, for instance, you will find such men as Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal church; Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and Father John A. Ryan. Liberals these men undoubtedly are; but not one of them is a man who ordinarily espouses a cause that does not commend itself to an intelligent mind.

It is a little bit hard, considering that six of names, to cling to the belief that exact justice has been done in the case of Tom Mooney.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the only woman it isn't safe to argue with is the one who has a sneaking hunch she's in the wrong.

DURING the month of January, when folks were paying for their auto licenses, newspapers all over Texas commented upon the 'joker in the deck', the altogether futile statute which demands that auto lights be tested—at two-bits per test—before the new licenses can be purchased.

Driving to Slaton and back the other night, The Plainsman did a little figuring on his own hook. During the trip down and back he passed 19 motor cars. Five of the 19 were 'one-eyed' and a sixth had such glaring lights that to drive against them, even with the black line dividing the paved highway, was to court grave disaster.

It is to be supposed that those six cars were equipped with new license plates. It is further to be supposed that their lighting equipment was tested, according to law, no more than two months ago—no less than three weeks ago. Yet of 19 machines encountered, more than one-fourth and almost one-third of them had faulty illumination.

The light testing law—at two-bits per test — is a bright and shining example of what is wrong with most of us today. It is so inefficient, so utterly futile that it breeds disrespect on the part of the people.

Sometimes The Plainsman wonders if the men who make the laws ever stop to consider the seriousness of their task—if they ever stop to think of the far-reaching results of their labors. This column has no idea who was the champion of the light testing law in the state legislature but it has a hunch that he wouldn't have been very proud of his brain child had he been on the Slaton trip a few nights ago.

That Man on Avenue Q says a fellow doesn't have to be headed your way to be going somewhere.

AND that remark reminds The Plainsman of a snatch of conversation which took place in Lubbock just the other day.

There is a gentleman residing here who, to all outside appearances, has satisfactorially paying business, to which he attends thoroughly. He has a family, which he keeps comfortably but not ostentatiously. His personal affairs, as far as The Plainsman has ever heard, are in tip-top condition and his reputation is one of honesty, veracity and morality.

But this man puts on no show of prosperity.

He drives no motor car, although many men who earn less drive first-rate machines. He dresses simply, his family the same. In other words, He minds his own business as he sees fit to mind it and goes on his way in an admirable manner.

But in the conversation afore-mentioned, a well-meaning but wholly uninformed gentleman was taking this citizen to task.

"Look at old so-and-so", he said. "He hoards every dime he gets his paws on—he won't even buy a car. If everybody was like him there'd be no business except that of selling the dire necessities of life".

The Plainsman agrees that good spenders are essential to prosperity—that misers do no one much good. But in the case of the man being criticized there were no grounds for comment.

This column happens to know—although not well acquainted with the individual under discussion—that he contracted some large and honest debts prior to coming to Lubbock a few years ago.

The Plainsman happens to know that this man lost a comfortable fortune in a business crash which took many of his creditors into the valley of financial woe along with him. And The Plainsman also happens to know that this man sacrificed everything he had to apply on his debts and ever since starting out anew has been paying them back, as fast as he could, as time has rolled along.

THE world—Texas — Lubbock — they all need more men like the man unjustly criticized by the individual who thought he was right in making the criticism. The Plainsman is oldfashioned enough to believe that the world loves a man who may be down but is never out—who plays the man's part without crying and who is honest, upright and reliable to a remarkable degree.

There are heroes in every walk of life, in every station. One needs not wade ankle deep in gore, "neath the rockets' red glare and bombs bursting in air," to be a hero.

That man who has the strength of character to say "My first duty, after I feed, clothe and educate my family, is to those who put a trust in me" is a hero. He's the hardest kind of a hero to be—the kind who gets no acclaim from a worshiping public.

There is something more to life than the individual buying power—and to re-quote 'That Man on Avenue Q', "a fellow doesn't have to be going your way to get somewhere."

One of the local sheiks had a date with a new thrill, the other night and, after they had ridden for awhile, he met with an accident. His car skidded around the corner, collided with a telephone post and was all dismantled.

The couple found themselves, unhurt, alongside the wrecked car and the sheik, true to his reputation, slipped a loving arm about the girl—who imediately pulled it away.

"It's all very nice of you," she sighed, "but wouldnt it have been simpled to have run out of gas?"

Men, If Your Wife Tries To Run The Family Finances, Don't Talk Back, For Treasury Says She Should Boss

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 — Don't overlook any decision of Congress as to whether a wife should have an equal say in determining questions of family finance. It probably will be quoted in domestic arguments for years. The issue has arisen with the proposal to cash soldier bonus certificates or lend money on them.

The treasury through Undersecretary Ogden L. Mills, delivered the opinion that a wife should have at least a 75 per cent voice in deciding whether her veteran-husband should cash his adjusted compensation certificate. Congressman Bacharach of New Jersey, prime mover in the "compromise" plan under which veterans will be lent more money on their certificates consistently made a similar argument and the question finally left was whether a veteran must have his wife's consent in obtaining a loan.

Bacharach asked Mills at the House Ways and Means Committee hearings whether he didn't think any of the bonus bills—cash or loan—should provide that a wife must indicate her approval of the transaction, inasmuch as the certificates represented so much insurance.

"I should think that in any well-regulated family she should have at least 75 per cent of the say," replied the undersecretary, and as for making some definite provision in the law: "I think she should be allowed the opportunity, at least, of whispering to the government."

Ignatius Geraci, spokesman for the anti-Pascisti here, confides that the Butler-Mussolini incident was a "godsend" to his group. Geraci wept when he heard that the court-martial had been called off, but was happy over the net gain, contending that any publicity at all was bound to be harmful for the Italian dictator.

Italians in this country would be much more articulate in their bitterness against Mussolini if many didn't have relatives in the old country who would be subjected to reprisals, Geraci says. He maintains a code correspondence with Italy and says his latest reports tell of a system of agents provocateur developed by the Fascisti.

Mr. Gilliam Grissom, U. S. collector of internal revenue at Raleigh N. C., tries to make income tax payments in his district as pleasant and painless as possible. A friend sends along a copy of a 300-word letter which Mr. Grissom sent to North Carolina folks, wishing everybody a happy New Year and telling them individually what to do about tax returns.

"We take this occasion to thank you again for the kind and helpful co-operation which you have invariably given us and we ask the continuance of same," says Mr. Grissom. "This helpful spirit on the part of our taxpayers has enabled your own district of North Carolina to lead all others in economical operation and, we trust, in courtesy and efficiency as well and to the complete satisfaction of yourself and your associates also; it gives us pleasure to be of service.

"With the assurance of grateful appreciation and with best wishes for the New Year season, we beg to be, cordially yours always, Gilliam Grissom, United States collector."

It is also pointed out to your correspondent that three of the five ministers to Washington from Central American republics have been eminent practicing physicians in their home countries. They are:

Dr. Juan B. Sacasa of Nicaragua.

Dr. Francisco A. Lima, of Salvador.

Dr. Ernesto Argueta of Honduras.

President Colindres of Honduras and President Ayora of Ecuador have also been physicians.

EDITOR'S NOTE. Four pamphlets and six articles by Dr Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Hygiene of Women," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

COOKED FOOD ALSO NEEDED FOR HEALTH

Occasionally, even yet, a very extreme "back to nature" disciple is likely to carry his dietetic ideas to an extreme and advocate eating raw foods.

Dr. Clendening

The logic used is quite stark. Wild animals and savages eat raw food. Primitive Wild animals, savages and primitive man all exhibited woman ate raw food. Therefore, everybody should eat raw food.

We may pause a moment in this argument and remark that wild animals and savages are not superlatively healthy. Primitive man as we learn by examinging his remains, had nearly all the diseases of civilization, and a few of his own. All these classes of individuals die young and are not nearly so healthy as civilized man.

So far as the raw food argument goes, however, it gains some color from our present knowledge of the accessory factors in foods. By accessory factors I mean the vitamins and minerals. The basic essentials in food are the energy and tissue producers—protein, fat, carbohydrate and water—and for a long time these were considered the only essential factors. But researches of the last two or three decades have shown that the minerals and the vitamins are equally necessary.

Cooking does not destroy the values of the basic elements—protein, fat and carbohydrate. Cooking in open vessels, especially if baking soda or other alkalinizing elements are added, does very largely destroy the vitimans. It also leaches out the minerals. The more so the longer the cooking is carried on.

But this is not an argument against a dietary of cooked food, or basis for a religion of eating only raw food. It is easily possible to add enough raw food to any meal to balance it so that all the vitamins and minerals necessary are present. In fact, any ordinarily well planned meal does this. A glass of milk, a sliced orange or other fruit, a glass of lemonade, a salad with olive oil dressing, butter, salt, tomatoes, lettuce, watercress, parsley, nuts, berries, honey—all these contain vitamins and minerals and usually appear in a raw or native state on your table.

The question of whether there is any advantage in cooking food has been the subject of recent studies made in Germany. Loewy and Behrens studied seven persons who ate only raw food. It was difficult or impossible to get them to eat enough to make up their energy requirement. The most they would take was about 1600 calories, when they really required 2,500 to 3,000.

Cooking, by creating pleasant odors and helping the appearance of food, increases appetite and digestion and thus promotes nutrition.

Schennert and Bischoff compared the growth of experimental animals on a diet of raw and cooked meat. Better growth was observed in the animals which ate the cooked meat.

Our ancestors, primitive men, and our brothers, the wild animals, had to have some kind of adaptation which we have lost in order to live on raw foods.

Lamb County Boy Is Feeding 16 Calves

(By Staff Correspondent)

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 18 — John Hanks, 4-H club boy of Lamb county, who is feeding out sixteen calves, is not only following his calves with hogs but is conducting a test with hogs that he plans to enter in the South Plains Calf, Pig and Meat show to be held in Lubbock March 27 and 28.

John is feeding wheat to the litter of nine hogs, using a self feeder of his own make. He is also feeding threshed maize and a gallon of milk per day.

The shoats were farrowed Labor Day and on November 26 went on the feed ration. They weighed 46 pounds when they began the feeding program and now are estimated to average over 130 pounds.

"I am going to keep them on feed until just before the Lubbock show", the youthful exhibitor said. "I believe the wheat and maize ration is a good one."

In Barbary With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

TENERIFE, Canary Islands, Feb. 18—Just about the hour when the night clubs are closing on Broadway, I routed myself out of a warm bunk to recapture, in the face of a chill wind the thrill that comes with the first glimpse of any new land.

And there it was—a faint and blinking beacon, hazy in the approaching dawn, marking some approaching headland. Slowly a black and blurred outline took on the form of a giant sea serpent which, in the magic of sun-up, became a jagged series of peaks running the gamut of the rainbow.

White villages appeared in the valleys and along the shores, the hills turned a brilliant red above them. Along the deck a hundred persons close to the rail, commenting in slow words upon the beauty of the scene.

The ship's clock struck. It was 4:30 in the morning. Three hours later the liner rocked at anchor before a pastel city . . . pastels that ran from pink to yellow and from blues to Nile greens.

Thus I came to a spot where time, as I had come to know it in New York, stops suddenly and timelessness sets in.

For Tenerife is a green and lush hyphen between all that is new in the world and all that is old. Suddenly Manhattan becomes the faintest of echoes.

The colorful crafts of the traders have come bobbing up. They clamor for positions at the ship's side . . . they push and shove and row like mad . . . finally they have come on deck and spread their laces and rugs and Spanish shawls upon the decks, jabbering and chattering as they bargain with the passengers.

Just off the ship's stern naked native boys dive for pennies in chilly waters.

There is a cumulative sense of excitement, until finally a dory is taking everyone ashore. The helmsman sings as he steers. His face has been modeled by the peoples of many centuries. Then the rush for motors and market places.

This is Santa Cruz de la Tenerife . . a concrete Broadway lined with picturesque figures . . . gendarmes who look like chorus men, at least in costume . . . patent leather, tri-cornered hats . . . uniforms of blue and red . . . curious crowds gathering along the iron railing, inspecting our clothes as closely as we inspect theirs . . . Which makes everything even. . . . A typical waterfront square. . . . Sidewalk cafes, sailors' hotels and bars.

And along the narrow, picturesque streets, that slime glimpse of Spain that comes from flashing eyes flirting slyly through tiny squares of window panes. . . These windows are like so many portholes of a ship. . . One panel is opened at a tie and a head projects. . . . Then a hundred heads project from every side. . . . It's all very impersonal. . . If one returns a glance there is a quick smile. . . And that is all.

Shops, such as you'll find on Division street, New York, where they try to drag you in and make you buy.

And then, the sudden realization of a great, background of poverty. . . . At every hand a child cries for pennies. . . . And there's no escape from this. . . You can take an autobus and travel miles into the interior and from the roadsides and the housefronts children will run out to cry, "penny, penny." . . . Within a day it sems that 10,000 pennies could be spent. . . For just back of the city lives poverty . . . poverty that even lives in hillside caves.

But on the colorful waterfront, the peasant girls pass with trays on their heads. . . They pass with baskets and pails of dishes on their heads. . . They pass on the roadsides, carrying hay and wheat and provisions, perfectly balanced on their heads.

And don't forget this, boys, the men ride behind them in state.

The women do the work in this section of the earth.

A well has been discovered in Illinois which spouts mud 200 feet high every half hour. A mushroom growth of beauty shops on the site is forseen.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The pottery boy, a kindly lad, soon said, "I would be very glad to show you how this pottery is made. It is a sight. If that's a sight you'd like to see, all you need do is follow me. But we will have to hurry, ere the day turns into night."

"You bet!" the Tinymites replied, and they all gathered by his side. "Who'll watch your wares," asked Clowny, "while you're showing us around?" The lad replied, "Oh, have no fear. Folks never steal things over here. When we return, we're sure to find them still here on the ground."

So, to the pottery plant they went and there an hour or so was spent. 'Twas quite an interesting sight. The Tinymites were thrilled. The Travel Man then gave the boy some money, which filled him with joy. "Twas only fair he should be paid for time that he had killed.

Then evening came and everyone thought it would be a heap of fun to find a quaint old sleeping place where they could spent the night. The place they picked was near at hand. Said Scouty, "This is surely grand! The beds are soft and I feel sure that we can sleep all right."

Next morning they were up at dawn and Clowny, with a weary yawn, said, "I could sleep all through the day. I still am all tired out." "Oh, you're just lazy," Scouty cried. "You need fresh air. Come on outside. 'Twill pep you up if you'll just walk about."

They traveled down a narrow street and Coppy shouted, "Here's a treat!" He pointed to some natives who were squatted on the ground. They all had roots and herbs to sell, supposed to make sick people well. A native drug store," Scouty cried, "is what, it seems, we've found."

(The Tinymites watch natives load boats in the next story.)

Selling Casket Carriages To Police Bad Plan

PITTSBURGH, Feb 18 (AP)—Business may be picking up, but take casket carriages for instance,—try to sell one to a police sergeant.

William Bower lugged a carriage into an uptown police station just before dawn. The man on the desk was dozing so Mr. Bower tapped him gently on the shoulder.

"I have here an elegant hickey to haul caskets," he began hopefully, "For two bucks I'll—"

"Hun?" bellowed the sergeant, looking up and rubbing his eyes.

Mr. Bower started his sales talk again, but the sergeant wanted to know where he got the carriage. That was bad.

Five minutes later Mr. Bower was in a cell, pondering the lack of demand and the attitude of the buying public and an irate officer was calling undertakers out of bed to find out who lost a casket carriage.

SEE OTHERS — BUT BE SURE TO SEE KELVINATOR

We welcome . . . yes, urge . . . any comparison that will bring out ALL the facts about Kelvinator and any other refrigerator

Amid to-day's confusion of statements of individual "features" and "innovations"; there had to be a sane, common-sense method of selecting a refrigerator.

There had to be a standard form or formula which presented ALL essential features in their true light and in their proper importance.

Here it is, for the first time. Check the questions on the left carefully, and you will recognize its fairness.

Now the selection of a refrigerator becomes a simple and accurate matter. Note those features which you regard as essential. Then shop. See any "make" you may have in mind. See them all if you wish. But apply this standard method of rating to each and every one.

We can predict your conclusion in advance. After your investigation (make it as thorough as you wish), you will find that Kelvinator, and Kelvinator alone, is the one electric refrigerator in which ALL of these essential points are combined.

We do not ask you to take our word for it. We simply ask you to make the investigation before you sign an order. Let your own good judgment prevail, but be sure to include Kelvinator among those you investigate. We'll rest our case there.

Proposes Course

NEW HAVEN.—From a "very angry alumnus" has come an idea for curing Yale students of the habit of week-ending in New York. Dr. George Van Santvoord headmaster of Hotchkiss school, has passed the suggestion along from the alumnus to the Yale Daily News. It is that the university lease a hotel in New York and for $5,000 a year conduct there a four-year course on getting to know the right people. There would be lessons in social graces, in discussion of books and plays, in golf, bridge and squash and in looking up prospective hosts in credit agency reports. Two visits a year to New Haven—for athletic events ——would be permitted.

Blount of Nacogdoches, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, today issued a proclamation urging that April 5-11 be designated as East Texas Milk-For-Health week and observed by the 71 counties in the territory served by the chamber. He invited all the people in the state likewise to observe the week.

MOVEMENT ON TO ABOLISH EXPENSES OF FUNERALS FOR CONGRESS MEMBERS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON Feb 18—A movement has been started to abolish the custom of holding official funerals for members of congress at government expense.

Representative Sumners of Texas, a Democrat, called the practice "barbaric" in pointing to the type of items that has crept at times into the expense accounts of the funeral parties.

Corkscrew On List

"Corkscrew, 50 cents," was on the bill for burying one of the lamented members. "Paid setters up, $3," was another to which Sumners drew attention off the floor in discussing his resolution to stop paying the bills of funeral delegations out of contingent funds.

It was not chiefly because of such items that Sumners introduced his resolution, however. He did that, he said, because he could find no excuse for so favoring a handful of legislators at the expense of the treasury.

The expense records of historic funeral occasions, compiled by William Tyler Page, the clerk of the house, show a number of odd expenditures.

Selected Many Sites

Time was, they show, when those in charge selected not one, but two or three sites for a vault for the deceased public servant. During the thirty-first congress they spent $30 for refreshments for those at the wake of a statesman, "including those who were engaged one night in enclosing the body in a leaden coffin." They spent $4 to advertise the obsequies—as distinct from death notices—of a member of the forty-first congress. Back in the 46th congress, one funeral party's expenses were $5,469—not including, Sumners pointed out, refunds on railroad tickets of 22 mourners who dropped out before they reached the destination. Even 10 years ago, it cost congress $7,120 to bury a Pacific coast representative.

The house clerk said items have now been "standardized," and "reduced to the minimum," so the average congressional funeral costs from $1,200 to $1,500.

MILK PRICES CUT

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 18 (AP)—Retail milk prices in Tulsa dropped today to 11 cents a quart, a reduction of 2 cents. It was the second reduction this year, retail prices having been cut January 3 from 15 to 13 cents a quart.

At milk plants it was said the reductions were due to "present economic conditions."

an Open-letter to Buick owners

Buick

February 7, 1931

Dear Buick Owner:

Because of its importance, we decided to inform you now that the present line of 1931 Buick Straight Eights will not be replaced by new models this summer.

Buick, as you know, has introduced its new cars on August 1st, year after year. But inasmuch as these new Straight Eight models have met with such spontaneous approval by thousands everywhere, Buick has decided to continue manufacturing the present Eights throughout the summer and coming fall.

This is mighty good news to thousands of Buick owners because they will buy new Buicks now with the knowledge that there will be no model change next summer.

They will find in these new Buicks a degree of performance that is certain to give them a genuine thrill. All have the safe, silent-shift Syncro-Mesh transmission. All have Valve-in-Head Straight Eight engines. And all have the famous insulated Bodies by Fisher.

So well has the 1931 line been received that, out of every 100 eights sold in Buick's price class, 56 are Buicks.

May we suggest that you drive the Eight as Buick Builds It? Your Buick dealer will be very glad to have you take the wheel and learn at first hand how very much Buick Straight Eight performance adds to the joy of motoring.

Very truly yours,

SANDIES PLAY HERE TONIGHT

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

The Picadors have set the example. Let the Matadors follow suit.

The Tech Matadors and the Canyon, Buffs play the first of a series of two games tonight. The Tech Picadors and the Canyon Yearlings played a one-stand feature night before last. It was a feature in more ways than one. The Picadors won, 31 to 28, so the story goes.

The Yearlings came here about three weeks ago and thrashed the Tech freshmen of Del Morgan by a score we'd rather not remember. There was to be a return game in Canyon on February 4. It was not exactly handy for the Picadors to make the trip at that time and Morgan called the game off much to the disgust and anger of "Sad Sam" Burton, though he does not coach the Yearlings.

Morgan told Sam that he would bring his freshmen to Canyon at a later date. Monday Burton called Del and said they were ready for the Picadors, but again the Tech freshmen and coach were indisposed. Since there is no appropriation for freshman basketball games it would have meant individual expense so the Tech mentor tried to get out of it, but couldn't.

So five, only five, of the freshman basketeers were huddled into a coupe of doubtful lineage and character and told to hustle toward Canyon. They left here at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, minus a counseling coach, drove to Canyon, and took the court against the Yearlings. The stage was all set for another defeat for a Tech team. But the Picadors bowed their necks, and being warned not to commit personal fouls by their coach before leaving Lubbock, they were careful. Not a single personal foul was called against them and they won the game. They drove back to Lubbock after the game.

Bill Stribling and Max Schmeling are scheduled to settle the world's heavyweight problem in Chicago. Now that was a hard one. Almost anybody could have told you that. Where else would they settle it? There was talk of a championship battle in Cleveland or somewhere, anywhere but New York in the Madison Square Garden arena, but after all's said and done the bout will be in Chicago, for the benefit of the New York Milk fund and under the auspices of Madison Square Garden.

One of the main troubles with the fight game is that more publicity and more talk is dedicated to the site of the game, the gate, the sponsors, and the promoters than the actual fight itself. In a 400-word story of the proposed fight, one line told who would fight, and what for. What the fans are interested in, if there are in fans and if they are interested, is who's doped to win the fight and how he'll do it.

When fighters and fight managers cut loose from that sore place in prize fighting, the New York boxing commission, and stand in defiance of Madison Square Garden and unpopular tactics, then boxing will come back into its own. One thing for which we rise to congratulate Max Schmeling is that he refuses to fight in New York. It's a great little town, but it has ruined the greatest sporting game.

It may be unorthodox, but don't be too quick to pick Stribling to win in a walk over the Tumbling Teuton. It is just as wise to believe Max Siegfried Schmeling, Esq., when he says that he was just warming to the fight when Sharkey fouled him as it is to believe a lot of other hooey that features the present fight era. It'll be a good fight or we miss a pet guess.

Under present plans the fight, staged in Chicago, will be practically the same as a New York scrap. The benefits are to go to the New York milk fund, whatever that is, and how Chicago can harbor that idea, paying good money to see a fight in its own ring only to see that kale go back to New York for the alleged purpose of feeding the tenement dwellers, is a little more than the Texas fan can digest without the use of a sedative.

We are especially requested to urge Lubbock fans to flock to the Tech gymnasium this evening to see the Amarillo Sandies and the Lubbock Westerners play basketball. It should not take much urging to get fans out to a Lubbock-Amarillo game. Amarillo fans packed the gymnasium in the City of Roses last Saturday night to see the same teams. The Westerners have an even chance to win tonight. Game starts at 7:30.

DIETZEL TIES RECORD ON POINTS

TOO TALL SCORES 26 HIMSELF TO DEFEAT LONGHORN FIVE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 18—Too Tall Dietzel, in equalling the scoring record of the Southwest conference for points scored in a single game, led the Horned Frogs of T. C. U. a step nearer their arch rivals, the first place Southern Methodist Mustangs, here last night, and the Christians won over the University of Texas Steers, 41 to 36.

Until last night, Wear Schoonover, Arkansas ace, held the scoring record in a single game with 26 points. Dietzel found the range of the basket against the Longhorns for ten field goals and made six free shots to tie Schoonover's mark.

The Longhorns played the Frogs on even terms up to within five minutes of the end of the game. Then Captain Noble Atkins and Dietzel combined to get the Toads in the lead. With four minutes to play, the score was 37-36 for the T. C. U. five, Dietzel was fouled under the basket and given two gratis tosses. He made both of them count, and Sumner sank a crip shot just before the whistle blew to end the game.

AGGIES NOSE OUT OWLS IN THRILLER

HOUSTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—A great finish that had the Rice Owls gasping here last night enabled the Texas Aggie basketeers to win 26 to 23 in a game that went an extra five minutes.

With about four minutes of the regulation 40 minutes to go, the Owls led 20 to 14. In quick succession Marcum of the Aggies tossed a pair of neat baskets from near the foul line, making Rice's advantage only 20 to 18.

With about a minute to go, Ray Hart was fouled. He missed the shot from the foul line. Shortly thereafter Captain Hoke of the Aggies came through with a beautiful shot from mid-court that tied the score at 20-all.

The Aggies dominated the extra period.

TWO YOUTHS LEAD FIELD

GUS MORELAND AND R. SMITH TIED WITH 73 AT HOUSTON

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 18—The Southwest's star golfers lined up today for the last qualifying test in the Houston Country Club's 17th annual invitation tournament.

Two youngsters from Dallas surprised everybody yesterday by tying for high with 73s. Gus Moreland, 19, and Reynolds Smith, 18-year-old student in Southern Methodist university, took the honors while veterans and favorites were battling with a damp course and the new official ball, which all pronounced difficult to handle.

Johnny Dawson of Chicago, defending champion, scored 76; and Jimmy Manion of St. Louis and Johnny Goodman of Omaha, both former trans-Mississippi champions, had a hard time shooting 75s.

The first flighters go over 18 more holes today to determine the 16 men who will compete for Dawson's crown.

Meanwhile all second and third flighters, who did not start yesterday, will get under way today.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18 (AP)—The condition of Ban Johnson, former president of the American league, last night was described as "very serious," by Dr. Robert F. Johnson is suffering a general breakdown, and recently underwent an operation for removal of a toe.

JACK CURLEY TRIES SOMETHING NEW TONIGHT; SPONSORS BILL TILDEN'S GOTHAM PROFESSIONAL TENNIS BOUT

BY LOBENA HICKOK

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—"The grand thing about being a showman," says Jack Curley, "is that you meet so many people."

Tonight in Madison Square Garden Mr. Curley is presenting Bill Tilden in his New York debut as a professional tennis player.

That's the same Jack Curley who promoted the Willard-Johnson fight in Havana, booked the Vatican choirs on an American tour, traveled with a circus in which he owned a quarter-interest, brought Emmeline Pankhurst to New York and at various times has guided the destinies of Strangler Lewis, Enrico Caruso and the Zbyszko boys.

Those were his professional contacts. His social contacts include: The Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, whose assassination started the World war.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, with whose co-operation he brought Mrs Pankhurst to the Old Madison Square garden.

Pancho Villa, with whom he rode about Mexico on a train for three weeks in 1915 and in whose behalf he engaged in a combined wrestling-boxing match in Rector's restaurant in New York a year or so later while American troops were en route to the border.

And the Prince of Wales, whom he entertained at breakfast once with Georges Carpentier at his house in Great Neck, Long Island.

Just now, in addition to taking on Bill Tilden, Frank Hunter and others, he is rounding out his career as the deus ex machina in the comeback of wrestling. Only Mr. Curley says there's nothing phenomenal about it at all—that the popularity of wrestling comes in cycles.

KEEPING IT HOT

Stove League Gossip

By Central Press

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS may or may not win the National league pennant, but Missouri baseball fans are in for a full season of entertainment, just the same.

With the Red Birds this year will be Jerome Herman Dean, pitcher, before and after dinner speaker and general all-around publicity man for Jerome Herman Dean. His nickname is Dizzy. That's the payoff.

Dizzy believes in himself. Not only that, he tries hard to convince the world of his sterling baseball qualities. In the parlance of the bench, Dizzy talks a swell ball game.

"I'll win 30 games this season," says Dizzy. "No, that sounds like bragging. I'll put it at 25. Those games are in the bag right now. Salted away.

* * *

"Don't get me wrong," continues Dizzy. "I'm not blowing off at the mouth like Art Shires did. Huh-uh. I'm just telling you I'm in A-1 shape and going to stay that way, too."

Strangely enough, or perhaps not so strange, Dean really has shown plenty of hot stuff on the mound. Last season he won 17 games for St. Joseph, a last-place club, then copped eight for Houston and wound up winning his first start for the Cardinals.

* * *

"With proper governing Dean would be the world's greatest pitcher," says Gabby Street, manager of the Cards. Well, Gabby has handled lots of pitchers in his time and maybe he can turn the trick for Dean. If he does, Wow!

Thurnblad To Make Exhibition Tour

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Arthur Thurnblad will attempt to prove that his triumph in the recent world's three-cushion billiard championship tournament was not a fluke.

The rangy Chicago Swede, who beat a field of champions to win the 1931 title, is booking an exhibition tour to prove his mettle.

"My challenge is open to Willie Hoppe, Welker Cochrane and any others who didn't compete in the recent tournament, as well as to those who did," he said. "According to the rules of National Billiard association, my title cannot be risked for one year, but I'll play for vindication—and wagers—to show 'em I'm the champ."

LOCALS OUT TO GET REVENGE FOR LOSS

CLOSE CONTEST LIKELY AS TWO OLD RIVALS MEET ON COURT

Lubbock has as guests today the Amarillo Golden Sandies who come to do battle with the Lubbock High Westerners on the basketball court of honor. Meeting for the second time this season and this year, the Sandies and Westerners bid fair to show every bit of their traditional rivalry and antagonism when they meet on the boards of the Texas Tech gymnasium at 7:30 tonight.

In a game last Saturday night played before a crowded house of Amarillo fans the Westerners put up a good battle but the inspired Sandies took home the heavy end of a 31 to 20 score. The Westerners returned home determined to make up for that humiliation and have been sent through stiff workouts willingly enough since Monday afternoon. Coach Keeling reports them in a dangerous mood. He believes they will be "right" against the Sandies because they were not so keen to find the basket in Amarillo the other night.

The Westerner mentor is depending on Captain Jimmy Knight, scoring ace and long distance shooter, to lead his charges in the van tonight. Knight was a bit off form in the Amarillo game, failing to locate the ring with his long shots and for one of the very few times his season was nudged out of scoring honors. On his home court he is likely to be in his old form. Jack Quinlan probably will start at the other forward, with Hene Brown at center and Payne and Thompson at guards.

Matadors Off For Series With Buffs

Coach W. L. "Crip" Golightly and a dozen picked warriors left Lubbock early this morning for Amarillo. They will be at rest in their hotel there this afternoon and until time for the first of a series of two games with the West Texas State Teachers college Buffaloes at Canyon tonight.

The last two weeks has seen the Matadors in a series of workouts aimed at the downfall of the Canyon stronghold. They have worked against Buff defense entirely for more than a week, with the reserve squadsmen and freshmen teams furnishing the opposition.

Coach Golightly gives his Matadors an outside chance to defeat the tall tossers of Canyon. "If we can get a lead anything like good we ought to be able to hold it," he said. "That's the only way we can win. Once the Buffs take an appreciable lead it's all up with us."

The Buffs swept a series with the Matadors in January, the only team able so far to take both games of a series. The last contest was one of the closest and one of the most exciting played on the local court this season. The teams were tied with less than half a minute to go and when the final gun shot one of the Buffs had a ball in the air that fell through the ring before touching earth again.

PIRATE MANAGER GIVES INSTRUCTIONS BEFORE SHIP SETS SAIL

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18—With the Pirate brig soon to set off on another pennant cruise, Skipper Jewel Ens today talked over club policy with members of his crew gathering here for departure tomorrow night for the training camp in Paso Robles, Calif.

He made it plain that there will be only one head man aboard; that he'll be the boss at all times, but he said that his experience had made him dubious about the iron hand in enforcing discipline. He prefers the velvet glove of persuasion.

RAJAH STARTS TRAINING OF HIS CUBS

SPRING TRAINING IS OFFICIALLY BEGUN ON ISLE TODAY

AVALON, Calif., Feb. 18.—Rogers Hornsby's managership of the Chicago Cubs started formally and informally today as he cracked the whip in the first spring practice of the 1931 campaign.

One workout daily, starting at 11 a. m. and lasting "until"—was the Rajah's training plan. He has arranged for soccer games during each training session, to strengthen the legs and aid the wind.

The advance guard of the Cubs—the batterymen and the few rookies who couldn't wait for the second squad of infielders and outfielders—landed on William Wrigley's magic island yesterday. Manager Hornsby gave them the afternoon to get located and play golf—then ordered all hands on deck for today's initial workout.

Yankee's Holdout List Is Cut To Two

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—The New York Yankee's hold-out list has dwindled to two—Lyn Lary, shortstop, and Sam Byrd, outfielder.

Latest to come to terms are Herb Pennock and Johnny Allen, pitchers. Pennock, the smart southpaw, has been in the major leagues since 1912 but still can fool opposing batsmen consistently. He will be 37 years old tomorrow.

Allen is a rookie right-hander obtained by the Yankees from Jersey City of the International league.

Gentlemen:

I am interested in selling public health to the citizens of my community. You are interested in selling cigars to all America. Apparently there is no joining of interests here.

However, when I noticed your interesting advertisements which pointed attention to the evils of spit from a public health standpoint; and what had been done by you to prevent spit tipped cigars, I recognized that there was a union of interests.

You are to be congratulated for fighting the spitting evil as you do, not because it is going to sell more cigars, but rather that it is going to make healthier citizens. I do not care how many more cigars you do sell. I am interested in public health.

You can use this letter if you want to for publication.

Very sincerely

determent, plus 4 per cent compound interest for the 20-year period.

"As the 'face value' is about $3,-423,000,000 loans at 50 per cent thus create a potential liability for the government of about $1,712,000,000, and, less the loans made under the original act, the total cash which might be required to be raised by the treasury is about $1,280,000,000 if all should apply.

Will Need $1,000,000,000

"The administrator of veterans affairs informs me by the attached letter that he estimates that if the present conditions continue, then 75 per cent of the veterans may be expected to claim the loans, or the sum of approximately $1,000,000,000 will need to be raised by the treasury.

"I will not undertake to enumerate all of the ground for objections to this proposal.

"There are a number of most serious objections, some of which are matters of method and some of which are matters of fundamental principle affecting the future of our country and the service men themselves.

"I have supported, and the nation should maintain the important principal that when men have been called into jeopardy of their very lives in the protection of the nation, then the nation as a whole incurs a special obligation beyond that to any other group of its citizens.

Protection Required

"These obligations can not be wholly met with dollars and cents. But good faith and gratitude require that protection be given to them when in ill health, distress and in need.

"Over 700,000 World war veterans for their dependents are today receiving monthly allowances for these reasons. The country should not be called upon however, either directly or indirectly, to support or make loans to these who can by their own efforts support themselves.

To Those Not Distressed

"By far the largest part of the huge sum proposed in this bill is to be available to those who are not in distress.

"The acute depression and unemployment create a situation of unusual economic sensitiveness, much more easily disturbed at this time than in normal times by the consequences of this legislation, and such action might quite well resut in a prolongation of this period of unemployment and suffering in which veterans will themselves suffer with others.

"By our expansion of public construction for assistance to unemployment and suffering in which veterans will themselves suffer with others.

By our expansion of public construction for assistance to unemployment and other relief measures, we have imposed upon ourselves a deficit in this fiscal year of upwards of $500,000,000, which must be obtained by issue of securities to the investing public. This bill may possibly require the securing of a further billion of money likewise from the public.

Face With Debts

"Beyond this, the government is faced with a billion dollars of early maturities of outstanding debts which must be refunded aside from constant renewal of a very large amount of temporary treasury obligations.

"The additional burden of this project can not but have damaging affect at a time when all efforts should be for the rehabilitation of employment through resumption of commerce and the industry.

"There seems to be a misunderstanding in the proposal that the government's securities already lodged with the treasury to the amount of $700,000,000 as a reserve against these certificates constitute available cash to meet this potential liability.

"The cash required by the veterans can only be secured by the sale of these securities to the public.

"The legislation is defective in that this $700,000,000 of government securities is wholly inadequate to meet either a potential liability of $1,280,000,000, or approximately $1,-000,000,000 estimated as posible by the administration of veterans affairs, and provision would need to be made at once for this deficiency.

"The one appealing argument for this legislation is for veterans in distress. The welfare of the veterans as a class is inseperable from that of the country.

"Placing a strain on the savings needed for rehabilitation of employment by a measure which calls upon the government for a vast sum beyond the call of distress, and so adversely affecting our general situation, will in my view not only nullify the benefit to the veterans but inflict injury to the country as a whole.

"Your faithfully, Herbert Hoover."

INTEREST SHOWN IN SECOND TRIAL OF JOE HAWKINS

Considerable interest is being manifested over the South Plains in the forthcoming murder trial of Joe Hawkins, Crosby county resident, charged with the slaying of his father-in-law in October, 1929, when the case comes up in district court at Floydada Monday morning.

Durwood Bradley, district attorney for the 72nd district court, in which Hawkins was first tried a year ago, will assist A. J. Folly, the district attorney at Floydada. Mr. Bradley prosecuted the case at Crosbyton and the jury returned a verdict of 50 years in the penitentiary.

Hawkins appealed to the state court of criminal appeals and the higher court recently remanded the case back for a second trial. A change of venue was granted and the case assigned to Floyd county.

"I did not feel like letting Mr. Folly or any other district attorney who had not handled the case first, bear the brunt of a case in which he had not been interested," Mr. Bradley said in anonuncing his plans to attend the trial and to assist in the prosecution. "So, I decided to help him out in the trial."

Defense attorneys include Judge Templeton and E. A. Waison of Crosbyton and L. G. Matthews of Floydada. A special venire of 100 men has been called to hear the case.

Twenty five thousand more "baits" have been ordered by ranchers of Garza county for the purpose of completing their predatory animal poisoning campaign. Eddie B. Ligon in charge of the work for the U S. Biological survey, announced.

Last fall Mr. Ligon said, ranchers put out 30,000 baits under his direction, with Knox Parr, county agent, handling the local work. Nearly a thousand animals were killed as a result of the bait work.

LEGION MEN TO HEAR OFFICIAL

CARL VAN HOOREBECKE TO ADDRESS GROUP ON THURSDAY

Carl Van Hoorebecke, field representative of the American Red Cross for eight South Plains counties, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of Allen Brothers post, American Legion, to be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Van Hoorebecke has a long record as a service officer of the American Legion at Joplin, Missouri, according to local Legion officials and will have a number of interesting facts to reveal to service men. One of the features of his address will be a discussion of the present status of the adjusted compensation certificate, making a 50 per cent loan value in place of 22 1-2 per cent. The speaker will explain in detail how ex-service men should proceed in securing these loans.

Invitation Extended

An urgent invitation has been extended all ex-service men of Lubbock and surrounding cities to attend the meeting and hear the speaker. In addition to his address, a number of other important business matters are to be discussed, according to Glen Hess, commander of the local post.

Among the more interesting at this time and one which is of particular interest to ex-service men is the adjusted compensation loan bill which is now in the hands of the United States senate for passage. Members of the post and other ex-service men will be called upon at tomorrow night's meeting for brief expressions regarding the bill that general attitude of Lubbock county veterans might be ascertained.

To Observe Arbor Day

Commander Hess said this morning that plans are under way for an observance in Lubbock of Arbor Day on February 22 and that a committee will be appointed from the local post to make arrangements for a program during the day.

Announcement was made today that membership of the local post now stands at 130-men, just 100 under the figure maintained during 1930. Commander Hess urges that all ex-srvice men of the immediate vicinity line up with the Legion and aid in the program which is under way for the benefit of all veterans.

speaker's table.

"I greet you although I cannot see you," he told his audience, squinting into the blinding lights.

After an attempt to begin his talk he suddenly halted.

"I wish you'd get those things out of here," he exploded, glowering but with some good nature at the cameramen. The machines ground on and on as the general stopped and fixed them with what his subordinates used to call his "gimlet eye."

Shouts of "throw them out," "down in front," and "stop the machines" came from the overflow crowd of 400 diners. The machines ceased turning, but one hardy photographer took two more leisurely flashlight shots as the general finally gave in and joked with his "tormentor," then resumed his speech.

Sermon Theme For Tonight Announced

"The Completeness of Christianity" has been announced as the theme for a sermon to be delivered by Dr. S. L. Joekel, of Austin, at a service at the First Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

This is in continuation of a series of services conducted by Dr. Joekel, who teaches a Bible class each morning at 9 o'clock which is open to the public. Each afternoon this week at 5 o'clock in room 220 of the Tech administration building college students and faculty members are meeting to hear a discussion of the Book of Job which is led by the visiting professor.

Much interest is being shown in the meetings, according to Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor, and a good attendance is at each service.

Florida legislators are seeking to have the proposed Pan-American scenic highway routed through their state rather than Texas.

Widows Of Veterans Can Receive Pensions

Widows of veterans of the World war who have children may receive pensions under the provisions of what is known as the Johnson bill, according to Daniel A. Blair, service officer for the Allen Brothers post of the American Legion.

Mr. Blair says he has handled applications for several widows and that he believes there are more in this section who are entitled to the aid. The bill provides that $26 a month is given each widow of a former service man, with $6 additional for each child.

U. S. SLIPPING IN PRODUCTION

CANADA MAY SURPASS NATION AS LEADER IN GOLD MINING

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—The United States is slipping from its position as the second largest gold producing region in the world.

Canada threatens to pass us, Robert J. Grant, director of the United States mint, told the American institute of mining and metallurgical engineers today in a written report read by John W. Fitch.

For 40 years prior to 1906, Grant said, this country held first place as producer of the world gold. But between 1906 and 1910 were were relegated to second place due to gold development in the Transvaal, and Africa has led ever since with the United States second.

Canada Near Top

"Final figures for 1930," Mr. Grant said, "may place Canada second among the gold producers of the world. Final figures for the United States for 1929 and 1930 are 2,056,629 and 2,232,593 ounces respectively, but are subject to some revision upward when all sources have been heard from.

"Output from Arizona, Utah, Nevada and Montana was in the aggregate about 150,000 ounces less in 1930 than in 1929 due to curtailment at the larger copper properties, and at lead-silver mines in Utah to a less extent.

Totals for the country as a whole were maintained, however, because of increases of roughly 20,000 ounces in Alaska, 30,000 ounces in California and nearly 90,000 ounces from the Homestake mine in South Dakota."

Joe Donley Plans Big Poultry Farm

(By Staff Correspondent)

LORENZO, Feb. 18—Joe Donley, one of the well known farmers of western Crosby and eastern Lubbock counties, who is now engaged in business here, is reported planning to go into the poultry business on one of his farms just east of Idalou, in Lubbock county.

Mr. Donley recently purchased 200 of the Ancona breed of chickens from E. Smith, here.

He is moving the chickens to his 40-acre ranch just east of Idalou where he plans to start a poultry farm. The chickens are said to have netted the former owner over $40 a month above feed costs, for the past two months, in spite of the low price of eggs.

The hens netted Mr. Smith $42.50 for the month just past and over $43 for the previous month.

At present Mr. Donley owns a filling station on highway No. 24 just south of the railroad track.

Paintings Found To Be Worth $50,000

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Two small paintings, purchased for $300 as "nice decorations" by an Evanston woman, have been identified by Maurice Goldblatt, connisseur, as authentic works of the Flemish master, Rubens, and worth about $50,000.

The paintings, owned by Mrs. John F. Whitney, are titled "Presentation In The Temple," and "Adoration Of The Shepherds."

The works are 8 1-4 by 14 1-2 inches each, painted in a technique known as grisaille. On superficial examination they seem more like drawings than paintings.

Good Profit Is Made On Auburn Holdings

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Times says Frank A. Vanderlip, former president of the National City bank, has made a paper profit of $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 on the rise of Auburn automobile stock from 101 1-2 in January to today's high for 1931 of 205.

Vanderlip and his associates are credited generally with ownership of a fourth of the 173,475 shares of the Auburn Automobile company.

The stock declined sharply today from its peak of 205 to 188 3-4, the loss being in sympathy with a general market reaction. It was down to 60 3-4 last November.

Natural Gas Service.....

and just Natural Gas

* * * * *

If you could go to the corner grocery or out to a gas well, get a sackful of gas, pay cash for it and carry it home, you could buy a huge volume of it for 5 cents.

Of course, your gas sack would have to be good and tight. That might add somewhat to the cost.

Just when you happened to need the gas, the weather might be unpleasant outside, too.

When you got your sack of gas home, you would have quite a merry time trying to get the gas fed into the burners of your stove.

It is then that you would realize that you had bought the wrong thing. You wanted GAS SERVICE, and you had bought just gas.

Gas without service is a vapor that cannot be handled by ordinary means. It is of little use to anyone.

Gas—WITH SERVICE—is a clean, efficient, reliable fuel—ready to do your instant bidding when and where you want it.

It is GAS SERVICE, rather than just gas, that you buy, use and pay for.
