Sings to the Sick.

The following advertisement recently appeared: "I will gladly sing to the sick or those who are unable to leave their homes."

Cosmopolitan New York.

Some idea of the cosmopolitan character of the great East Side of New York may be had by the statement that eighty-two dialects are spoken there. In this district there are 84,000 families, the average size of which is five members, with two boarders in addition—for there are always at least two boarders in every family on the East Side. The most crowded spot in any city in the world is in the northern part of this district, in the blocks bounded by Broome and Stanton and Eldridge and Suffolk streets. Under the roof of one house on Rivington street there are thirty-seven families, with 180 children, eighty of whom are babies.

A Needed Admonition.

On one of my trips through the South I sauntered into an old dilapidated cemetery of Virginia and read many very peculiar epitaphs upon tombstones. One in particular attracted by attention, which happened to be that of a slave who had been inclined to be stout. The grave had long since been neglected, and the inscription could only be read after brushing away the vines which grew upon it. But my labor was rewarded, for there on that tombstone I read: "Aliza Wite, weighed 300 pounds; 'open wide the golden gates.'"—Philadelphia Press.

GENERAL NOTES.

A report comes from New York that Gen. Viljoen, a Boer leader in the late war with Great Britain, has arrived at that place from Africa, and that he is on his way to settle a colony of Boers near Fort Worth. There is no knowledge in this part of the state of land having been bought for Boers near Fort Worth.

Justice comes high, but we must have it. A case occurred in Fort Worth this week where it cost between $20 and $30 to collect 1 cent. A man named Ray was arrested on a charge of stealing a hat, and as there were extenuating circumstances he was fined 1 cent and sentenced to 1 minute in jail. When he went to settle up he found that in addition to the 1 cent he would have to pay costs of $20 to $30.

Mayor Powell of Fort Worth writes to the director of the census at Washington that the present population of Fort Worth is 41,300. He reaches this conclusion by means of the scholastic census in 1900 the United States census gave Fort Worth a population of 26,688, and there were 3,725 school children enumerated, showing the total population to be 7 times the school population. The present scholastic population is 5,900, and if the proportion of 1 to 7 holds good, Fort Worth has 41,300 people.

At a meeting of the Fort Worth board of trade last night the subject of providing for the expenses of the cattlemen's convention in March was discussed. In September the first step was taken at a meeting by the appointment of two committees, one for Fort Worth and the other for North Fort Worth, to raise money for the convention. At the meeting last night, Marion Sansom, chairman of the North Fort Worth committee, reported that about $1,400 had been raised on this side of the river, which would probably be increased to $1,500. The Fort Worth committee made no report. It is less than three months to the holding of the convention.

Decline of a Great University.

The University of Valladolid, Spain, was once famous and was founded by Ferdinand the Saint in the 12th century. It attained its greatest importance in the 16th century, when there were 6,000 to 7,000 students upon its rolls. Nowadays they number about 1,000.

An Impassable Barrier.

When an Arabian woman does not wish her husband to enter her apartments she puts her slippers outside the door. This is such an ancient and inviolable law, albeit an unwritten one, that he would be a bold man who would transgress it.

New South Wales Business.

All business, or nearly all, in New South Wales is conducted through "trade industrial unions." Up to March, 1903, 108 unions of employes and eighty-two unions of employers had been registered in the arbitration court. When a union has been duly registered it becomes amenable to the arbitration law.

ABOUT THE STOCK YARDS.

Mr. Barron from Thornton sold 20 cows of 773 pounds at $1.90.

J. A. Agnew from Ravenna sold 2 steers of 926 pounds at $3.

C. L. Meadows sold 29 cows, shipped from San Angelo, averaging 874, at $1.85.

A bull weighing 1730 pounds sold today at $2.25, making the price for him $38.92.

L. G. Yates, a San Angelo shipper, sold 27 cows of 864 pounds at $2.20 and 31 of 715 pounds at $1.75.

Wm. Talbot of Broken Arrow, I. T. had in today 87 hogs averaging 184 lbs. which sold at $4.75.

J. H. Burnett had 16 bulls on the market from San Angelo, that averaged 1050 pounds and sold at $1.90.

Ward & Garrett sent in from Brady 54 steers of 724 pounds that sold at $2.10 and 20 cows, averaging 734, that brought $2.00.

A late train of cattle came in yesterday, after The Reporter had gone to press, making total receipts for the day 3,849. Receipts for Monday and Tuesday were about 9,500.

J. T. Peyton had two loads of hogs on the market, shipped in from Shawnee, O. T. One load of 80 head averaged 188 and the other of 85 head 178, and all sold at $4.80. This was 35 cents above the best price at Kansas City today.

Stuart Harrison of Fort Worth drove in today 23 steers of 1186 pounds that sold at $3.80. These were top steers today. They were meal and hull fed at the FFort Worth oil mills. These were well graded Shorthorn animals.

Though hogs bring more at Fort Worth than at any market in the country, except perhaps on the Pacific coast, shippers are not sending in hogs. The good run on Monday kept the packing house going half a day. Since then the run has been practically nothing. We are paying, or ready to pay, 10 to 25 cents more for the same quality of hogs than any Missouri river markets.

CAPTURED THE WRONG LION.

How Head Waiter Came to Have Honors Thrust Upon Him.

The career of a social lion hunter is liable to be attended with an occasional disappointment, even though on the whole successful. Burton Holmes, on some of his tours as a lecturer, has been considerably lionized and he tells this story of a compliment which he missed, but which was enjoyed by another. He was lecturing in an eastern city, and a reception was given in his honor at the principal hotel of the place.

Among those who attended this reception was a woman prominent socially, who has established a sort of "salon" and receives her friends Sunday afternoons, trying to provide a "lion" or two for each occasion.

Burton Holmes was so fortunate as not to be presented to the fair lion hunter, but she presented herself to the man she had stalked for her game, and urged upon him her invitation for the Sunday afternoon. He very modestly attempted to decline it. His excuses were not accepted, and the victim consented to appear. Extra arrangements were made for this occasion and the fact that Mr. Holmes was to be there was heralded abroad. On the day all the youth and beauty of the place gathered together awaiting the advent of a somewhat tardy lion, who was received with every mark of consideration and appeared to be embarrassed thereby. The head waiter had been mistaken for the eminent lecturer.

Bismarck's Slight Mistake.

Andrew White, former ambassador to Germany, writing in the Century repeats this story in the words of Prof. Gneist: "One day I met Bismarck and asked him about his health. He answered: 'It is wretched; I can neither eat nor sleep.' I answered: 'Let me send you something that will help you. I have just received a lot of Hermitage and will send you a dozen bottles. If you take a couple of glasses each day with your dinner it will be the best possible tonic and will do you great good.' Some time afterward," continued Gneist, "I met him again and asked how the wine agreed with him. 'Oh,' said Bismarck, 'not at all; it made me worse than ever.' 'Why,' said I, 'how did you take it?' 'Just as you told me,' replied Bismarck; 'a couple of bottles each day with my dinner.'"

Treasures in National Museum.

The zoological collections of the National Museum have grown to immense size, rivaling, and in some cases surpassing, those of any other museum. Of insects there are in the government collection nearly 1,500,000 specimens; of recent shells nearly 1,000,000 specimens; besides at least 500,000 specimens of other aquatic invertebrates, about 200,000 specimens of fishes, more than 60,000 birds' eggs; 130,000 specimens of birds; more than 40,000 reptiles and batrachians, and more than 75,000 specimens of mammals.

TEST OF A NEW TICK DIP.

Hagler's Ranch the Scene of a Dipping of Cattle Today.

A test or demonstration is being carried on today at John S. Hagler's ranch, about 7 miles from North Fort Worth, of the National Cattle dip. Dr. Klein is representing the federal government at the test, which is made to demonstrate the efficacy of that dip in killing ticks. It is claimed that this dip will entirely destroy all ticks on cattle in a few minutes after the cattle have emerged from the dipping vat, and it is for the purpose of testing this claim that the demonstration is made today. The Reporter will later report the result of the experiment.

Another test was made today, rather a novelty in its line. Hypodermic injections of the tick-destroying fluid were made upon a number of cows, the claim being made that the presence of this quality in the blood would cause the death of ticks upon the animals so treated. If these claims are sustained by the test, hypodermic injection will take the place of dipping, as it will probably be cheaper and better for cattle, especially in cold weather, when dipping chills them.

TEXAS SHIPPERS PASSES.

Regulations Regarding the Pass Privileges of Stock Shippers.

The following circular has been sent out by the I. & G. N. railroad, and the conditions specified in it are generally applicable to all roads in Texas:

Men in charge of shipments of live stock, in car loads, when belonging to one consignor, shall be passed as follows:

1. Pass one man in charge of one or two cars of live stock, including horses and mules; no return pass.

2. Pass one man each way in charge of three to five cars of live stock, all kinds.

3. Pass two men each way in charge of six to twelve cars of live stock, all kinds.

4. Pass three men each way in charge of thirteen or more cars of live stock, all kinds, which shall be the maximum number of men that will be passed with any shipment from one shipper in the same train.

5. The railway company at point of origin may, for the purpose of preventing the abuse of the privileges herein provided for, require of shipper, or his agent, a sworn statement to the effect that he, or his principal, is the real owner of the shipment offered, and that the number of men, for which free passage is asked, are actually needed in order to properly care for the same.

6. Return transportation for men in charge of livestock shipments shall be good only for continuous passage, without lay-over, from the destination of the shipment to the shipping points, and shall be limited to fifteen days from date of shipment from original shipping point.

7. Each railroad company shall use proper methods to secure the identification of parties entitled to free transportation under this section.

This order shall take effect December 10, 1903.

Agents should not insist on affidavit referred to except when they may have reason to believe that parties are splitting lots with a view of obtaining transportation in excess of that authorized above. In such cases affidavit should be required.

Had No Imagination.

A certain little 4-year-old who had been taught to use her mind, was left to play alone, as her elder sister had gone to school. She was urged to go next door and amuse herself with the small son belonging to that house. "Oh, no, mamma, I don't want to go there; Tommy can't play nicely at all. Why, he digs a hole and don't call it anything!"—Brooklyn Life.

Recovered His Voice.

A case is recorded of a sailor, who had lost his voice form some illness, suddenly recovering it in a theater. Having gone to this place of entertainment he was highly amused by the drollness of the clown. In his excitement he made an effort to give vent to his feelings, and, to his surprise and joy, found his voice restored.

Things That Never Die.

The pure, the bright, the beautiful,
That stirred our hearts in youth,
The impulses of wordless prayer,
The dreams of love and truth;
The longings after something lost,
The spirit's yearning cry,
The striving after better hopes—
These things can never die.

The timid hand stretched forth to aid
A brother in his need,
A kindly word in grief's dark hour
That proves a friend indeed;
The plea for mercy softly breathed,
When justice threatens nigh;
The sorrow of a contrite heart—
These things shall never die.

The memory of a clasping hand,
The pressure of a kiss,
And all the trifles, sweet and frail,
That make up love's first bliss;
If with a firm, unchanging faith,
And holy trust and high,
Those hands have clasped, those lips have met—
These things shall never die.

The cruel and the bitter word
That wounded as it fell;
The chilling want of sympathy
We feel but never tell;
The hard repulse that chills the heart,
Whose hopes were bounding high,
In an unfading record kept—
These things shall never die.

Let nothing pass, for every hand
Must find some work to do;
Lose not a chance to waken love—
Be firm and just and true.
So shall light that can not fade
Beam on thee from on high,
And angel voices say to thee—
These things shall never die.

—Charles Dickens.

Lining for Furnaces.

A composition that is frequently used for lining stoves and furnaces is made by puddling clay with water, and adding to it the greatest possible quantity of sand, which has been passed through a hair sieve; the whole is worked up in the hands and applied as thickly as necessary.

No Fear in Death.

Unless death was made dreadful by extraordinary circumstances or the influence of other people, we have never known dying men and women to be afraid. Where hundreds of soldiers were facing death after receiving mortal wounds not one expressed fear.—Boston Christian Register.

Phosphorous Not Dangerous.

A new material made of non-poisonour red phosphorus and potassium chlorate has been bought by the German government, and is to be substituted in its works for the deleterious and oftentimes more dangerous white phosphorus. Great gain attaches to the fact that it does not ignite easily, hence removing or minimizing the danger from fire. How important this is appears when one is reminded of fires caused by the ignition of white phosphorus matches by the sun's rays. In regard to danger to employes, the commission says explosions are practically impossible with the new material.

One Was a Great Plenty.

Jimmy, aged 5, had been naughty and his mother had punished him in the good old-fashioned way. His father pretended to be greatly shocked at overhearing the aggrieved youngster express a hope that a large stray bear might happen along some dark night to make a meal of his offending parent.

"But, Jimmy," said his father impressively, "you shouldn't say such dreadful things. You should always remember, my son, that a boy never has more than one mother."

"Thank God for that!" breathed Jimmy fervently.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

It Precipitated a Lively Discussion In the House.

MADDOX OF GEORGIA.

Representative Says Ohio and Indiana Have More Routes Than Twelve Southern States He Refers To.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The rural free delivery, reciprocity with Cuba and the new republic of Panama were topics of discussion in the house Tuesday. The subject of rural free delivery was introduced by Mr. Maddox (Dem., Ga.), who claimed that certain states had been favored in the establishment of routes. This allegation resulted in a lively discussion.

Mr. Hepburn (Rep. Io.) and Mr. Hemenway, (Rep., Ills.) among others, replied on the Republican side.

Mr. Crumpacker, in a colloquy with Mr. Williams, the minority leader, asked if it was not time that the Democrats were willing to accept the stolen goods if permitted to condemn the act of taking.

Mr. Williams replied that while they could recognize the character of the child they could treat it properly.

Mr. Maddox replying to Mr. Crumpacker, said the latter had arraigned the Democratic party for statements made by a few members of the minority. He then spoke on the rural free delivery. He produced figures and declared that of the 15,000 routes established last June, more than one-third of them were located in four states—Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois—and that the first two named states have more routes than twelve southern states which he named. Mr. Maddox said when his constituents asked him why he could not secure more routes the only reply he could make was that he could not get up to the "pie counter." He said he could show more routes established in seven counties in one district, than were to be found in a whole state.

Mr. Hemenway replied to Mr. Maddox, whereupon colloquies with Mr. Clayton (Dem., Ala.) and with Mr. Robinson (Dem., Ind.) ensued, relating to the number of routes in different districts.

CUBAN BILL.

Principal Theme In the Senate, and Several Speeches Made.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The senate continued the debate of the Cuban bill. Mr. Perkins of California spoke for the measure, as did Mr. Simmons of North Carolina. Mr. McCumber of North Dakota opposed it. Mr. Patterson of Colorado made an extended speech against the bill, during which there were numerous colloquies between himself, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Dolliver. With the former there was quite a lively debate on the tariff, in which Mr. Aldrich said the duty on sugar was too high. Mr. Dolliver replied to suggestions made by Mr. Patterson that Governor Cummins of Iowa had changed his tariff views after having visited the white house. Others were engaged in the debate at the close of the session.

Mr. Patterson predicted a vast influx of Chinese into Cuba, and declared the Republican congress to be the mouthpiece of the influences which threaten to destroy the beet sugar industry. He found the inspiration of this course in the sugar trust.

LYNCHING DENOUNCED

Distribution of Negro Race Throughout United States Favored.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The meetings of the National Negro Suffrage League were devoted largely to a discussion of whether the negroes of the country are to support President Roosevelt for re-election.

James S. Hayes of Virginia was chosen president, and J. E. Loftwick of Oklahoma national organizer of the west.

The so-called Roosevelt faction in the league met with defeat, and walked out of the convention. A resolution indorsing the president received thirty-two votes, while thirty-two votes were recorded against it.

The address of the public, prepared by the committee on resolutions, declared that the negro would not be politically eliminated, and with the race stronger, wealthier and more intelligent, the shibboleth of party preservation must be changed to race preservation.

Lynching was denounced as a cancer which might spread to the whole body politic. The dual institutions in the south were denounced, and the distribution of the race throughout all the states was advised. The address was adopted.

SIX OF CREW DROWN.

Steamboat Mattie H. Sinks In the Mississippi River.

LOADED TOO HEAVILY

Cause of the Mishap to the Vessel Is Believed to Be That Her Carrying Capacity Was Much Overtaxed.

Natches, Miss., Dec. 16.—The 145-ton stern-wheeler towboat Mattie H., owned by the Dixie Transportation company of New Orleans, and engaged in towing cotton seed for the Standard Cotton Oil company of New Orleans, sank in twenty feet of water in the old bed of Lake Concordia. The white fireman and five negroes were drowned. The dead: Chris Martin, white, fireman, New Orleans; Joe Page, negro cabin boy, three negro cooks and one negro roustabouts, names unknown.

The watch had just been called, and there were only two men sleeping at the time the boat went down. These two men were Captain A. L. Brunson and Clerk Hughes. They were called by Watchman John Roder, who was the first to discover that the boat was sinking.

The cause of the sinking is attributed to the fact that the boat had taken on 100 boxes of coal at this port. She was drawing three and a half feet, and her guards were almost under water. A high wind prevailed at the time, and it is believed the whitecaps washed into the hull, filling it with water and swamped the boat.

Things That Never Die.

The pure, the bright, the beautiful,
That stirred our hearts in youth,
The impulses of wordless prayer,
The dreams of love and truth;
The longings after something lost,
The spirit's yearning cry,
The striving after better hopes—
These things can never die.

The timid hand stretched forth to aid
A brother in his need,
A kindly word in grief's dark hour
That proves a friend indeed;
The plea for mercy softly breathed,
When justice threatens nigh;
The sorrow of a contrite heart—
These things shall never die.

The memory of a clasping hand,
The pressure of a kiss,
And all the trifles, sweet and frail,
That make up love's first bliss;
If with a firm, unchanging faith,
And holy trust and high,
Those hands have clasped, those lips have met—
These things shall never die.

The cruel and the bitter word
That wounded as it fell;
The chilling want of sympathy
We feel but never tell;
The hard repulse that chills the heart,
Whose hopes were bounding high,
In an unfading record kept—
These things shall never die.

Let nothing pass, for every hand
Must find some work to do;
Lose not a chance to waken love—
Be firm and just and true.
So shall light that can not fade
Beam on thee from on high,
And angel voices say to thee—
These things shall never die.

—Charles Dickens.

Lining for Furnaces.

A composition that is frequently used for lining stoves and furnaces is made by puddling clay with water, and adding to it the greatest possible quantity of sand, which has been passed through a hair sieve; the whole is worked up in the hands and applied as thickly as necessary.

No Fear in Death.

Unless death was made dreadful by extraordinary circumstances or the influence of other people, we have never known dying men and women to be afraid. Where hundreds of soldiers were facing death after receiving mortal wounds not one expressed fear.—Boston Christian Register.

Phosphorous Not Dangerous.

A new material made of non-poisonour red phosphorus and potassium chlorate has been bought by the German government, and is to be substituted in its works for the deleterious and oftentimes more dangerous white phosphorus. Great gain attaches to the fact that it does not ignite easily, hence removing or minimizing the danger from fire. How important this is appears when one is reminded of fires caused by the ignition of white phosphorus matches by the sun's rays. In regard to danger to employes, the commission says explosions are practically impossible with the new material.

Corn Sauce.

Cook a dozen ears of sweet corn for five minutes, then cut from the cob. Add to this corn a head of cabbage, cut fine, two chopped green peppers, one red pepper, chopped, a cup of sugar, five cents' worth of ground mustard, a tablespoonful of celery seed, three pints of vinegar and salt to taste. Mix well and boil for twenty minutes. Put up in air-tight cans.

Oldest Wine in the World.

The oldest wine in the world is twenty-seven cases known as Napoleon sherry, vintage of 1730, which has arrived in New York city from Buenos Ayres. It was ordered for Napolson just before Waterloo and was not delivered, and will now be offered to Americans at $250 per case of twenty quart bottles.

One Was a Great Plenty.

Jimmy, aged 5, had been naughty and his mother had punished him in the good old-fashioned way. His father pretended to be greatly shocked at overhearing the aggrieved youngster express a hope that a large stray bear might happen along some dark night to make a meal of his offending parent.

"But, Jimmy," said his father impressively, "you shouldn't say such dreadful things. You should always remember, my son, that a boy never has more than one mother."

"Thank God for that!" breathed Jimmy fervently.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

It Precipitated a Lively Discussion In the House.

MADDOX OF GEORGIA.

Representative Says Ohio and Indiana Have More Routes Than Twelve Southern States He Refers To.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The rural free delivery, reciprocity with Cuba and the new republic of Panama were topics of discussion in the house Tuesday. The subject of rural free delivery was introduced by Mr. Maddox (Dem., Ga.), who claimed that certain states had been favored in the establishment of routes. This allegation resulted in a lively discussion.

Mr. Hepburn (Rep. Io.) and Mr. Hemenway, (Rep., Ils.) among others, replied on the Republican side.

Mr. Crumpacker, in a colloquy with Mr. Williams, the minority leader, asked if it was not time that the Democrats were willing to accept the stolen goods if permitted to condemn the act of taking.

Mr. Williams replied that while they could recognize the character of the child they could treat it properly.

Mr. Maddox replying to Mr. Crumpacker, said the latter had arraigned the Democratic party for statements made by a few members of the minority. He then spoke on the rural free delivery. He produced figures and declared that of the 15,600 routes established last June, more than one-third of them were located in four states—Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois—and that the first two named states have more routes than twelve southern states which he named. Mr. Maddox said when his constituents asked him why he could not secure more routes the only reply he could make was that he could not get up to the "pie counter." He said he could show more routes established in seven counties in one district, than were to be found in a whole state.

Mr. Hemenway replied to Mr. Maddox, whereupon colloquies with Mr. Clayton (Dem., Ala.) and with Mr. Robinson (Dem., Ind.) ensued, relating to the number of routes in different districts.

CUBAN BILL.

Principal Theme In the Senate, and Several Speeches Made.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The senate continued the debate of the Cuban bill. Mr. Perkins of California spoke for the measure, as did Mr. Simmons of North Carolina. Mr. McCumber of North Dakota opposed it. Mr. Patterson of Colorado made an extended speech against the bill, during which there were numerous colloquies between himself, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Dolliver. With the former there was quite a lively debate on the tariff, in which Mr. Aldrich said the duty on sugar was too high. Mr. Dolliver replied to suggestions made by Mr. Patterson that Governor Cummins of Iowa had changed his tariff views after having visited the white house. Others were engaged in the debate at the close of the session.

Mr. Patterson predicted a vast influx of Chinese into Cuba, and declared the Republican congress to be the mouthpiece of the influences which threaten to destroy the beet sugar industry. He found the inspiration of this course in the sugar trust.

COUNCIL CONFERRED.

Labor Representatives Met Two Chairman and Speaker Cannon.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor held conferences with Speaker Cannon and Mr. Gardner, chairman of the house committee on labor, discussing measures in which the labor representatives are interested. Tem Frye and Senator McComas, chairman of the senate committee on labor.

LYNCHING DENOUNCED.

Distribution of Negro Race Throughout United States Favored.

Washington, Dec. 16.—The meetings of the National Negro Suffrage League were devoted largely to a discussion of whether the negroes of the country are to support President Roosevelt for re-election.

James S. Hayes of Virginia was chosen president, and J. E. Leftwick of Oklahoma national organizer of the west.

The so-called Roosevelt faction in the league met with defeat, and walked out of the convention. A resolution indorsing the president received thirty-two votes, while thirty-two votes were recorded against it.

The address of the public, prepared by the committee on resolutions, declared that the negro would not be politically eliminated, and with the race stronger, wealthier and more intelligent, the shibboleth of party preservation must be changed to race preservation.

Lynching was denounced as a cancer which might spread to the whole body politic. The dual institutions in the south were denounmed, and the distribution of the race throughout all the states was advised. The address was adopted.

FIVE UNIFIED.

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars Are Prorated.

Dallas, Dec. 16.—At a meeting held here by the joint committee of the Southern Presbyterian church five principal educational institutions in care of the synod were unified.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. T. R. Sampson of Austin, moderator, who was made permanent chairman. Dr. A. W. Wilson was named as vice-chairman; Rec. Robert Hill, secretary, and C. N. Roberts, treasurer.

After discussion it was unanimously agreed that efforts to raise the sum of $150,000 within the next two years should be made, to be distributed pro rata among the five Presbyterian institutions, for their benefit. The division was made as follows:

Theological seminary, Austin, $50,000.

Texas Presbyterian College for Girls, Milford, $25,000.

Permanent Offices Being Established Owing to Business Growing.

St. Louis, Dec. 16.—Business of the various states and territories participating in the Louisiana Purchase exposition has developed to such proportions as to necessitate the re-establishment of permanent offices in St. Louis.

Heretofore the work of the different states at the exposition has been performed by commissioners and representatives in the course of visits to St. Louis.

Four tracts were appraised as follows: Two hundred and twenty-seven acres at $12 per acre, 329 acres at $15 per acre, about four and one-half miles from the gushers; forty-six acres and eighty acres on the Hardin-Liberty county line at $10 per acre.

Boston, Dec. 16.—The Democrats won an overwhelming victory in the municipal election, Mayor Patrick Collins being re-elected by 25,565 plurality, the largest ever given a mayoralty candidate in the history of the city. The board of aldermen next year will be solidly Democratic, and that party will have a large majority in the common council. The city, as usual, favored licensed liquor selling by a large majority.

SIX OF CREW DROWN.

Steamboat Mattie H. Sinks In the Mississippi River.

LOADED TOO HEAVILY

Cause of the Mishap to the Vessel Is Believed to Be That Her Carrying Capacity Was Much Overtaxed.

Natches, Miss., Dec. 16.—The 145-ton stern-wheeler towboat Mattie H., owned by the Dixie Transportation company of New Orleans, and engaged in towing cotton seed for the Standard Cotton Oil company of New Orleans, sank in twenty feet of water in the old bed of Lake Concordia. The white fireman and five negroes were drowned. The dead: Chris Marlin, white, fireman, New Orleans; Joe Page, negro cabin boy, three negro cooks and one negro roustabouts, names unknown.

The watch had just been called, and there were only two men sleeping at the time the boat went down. These two men were Captain A. L. Brunson and Clerk Hughes. They were called by Watchman John Roder, who was the first to discover that the boat was sinking.

The cause of the sinking is attributed to the fact that the boat had taken on 100 boxes of coal at this port. She was drawing three and a half feet, and her guards were almost under water. A high wind prevailed at the time, and it is believed the whitecaps washed into the hull, filling it with water and swamped the boat.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

Few, if any, plays now on the boards retain the hold upon the affections of American playgoers as does "In Old Kentucky," which comes again to Greenwall's opera house tonight. Season after season for ten long years it has been before the public and the end is not yet in sight. This will make the eleventh successive year "In Old Kentucky" has been played. Theater-goers clamor for novelty and the new things of the drama, but not so with the case of "In Old Kentucky." This phenomenal drama of Southern life is as big a money maker now as it was back in 1892, when it first saw the light. A big and costly scenic production has been gotten up by Manager Jacob Litt at an outlay of $20,000 for this season's tour of the old reliable blue grass drama, and a company better than ever before seen in the piece is promised. New and clever pickaninnies have been secured and this feature alone is sufficient to crowd the theaters where "In Old Kentucky" is announced to appear, had the play no other redeeming qualities. But there are so many attractive features about the play that to no one particular thing can be accredited the secret of its great success. It is a delightful, breezy love story, full of quaint character types and essentially Kentuckian in its atmosphere and treatment. As number two companies are never tolerated by Jacob Litt, the theater-goers of this city can rely on getting the same big organization intact that plays wherever "In Old Kentucky" is announced, whether it be New York City or the most unimportant town on the map.

"THELMA"

Comes next Thursday, matinee and night, Dec. 17th at Greenwall's opera house. This play has been accorded the hearty appreciation of the play-goer during the past two seasons, and is now in its third, which promises to outstrip the preceding ones in popularity. It is from Marie Corelli's best story of the same name, and the world-wide popularity of this prolific writer is most amply attested by the patronage showered on the play. But this does not come from any absurd admiration for the writer, but because her work has the dramatic qualities that please. A cast in every way adequate, and by long odds the best the play has ever had, is promised for the interpretation of the several characters. Seats are now on sale.

BRITISH BONDHOLDERS

Write President Roosevelt Relative to Colombia's Debt.

PART FROM PANAMA.

They Are of the Opinion That Latter Should Assume a Portion, but Not as Much as Fifteen Million Dollars.

London, Dec. 15.—A lengthy letter from the council of foreign bondholders personally addressed to President Roosevelt, putting forward British bondholders' position anent Panama and Colombia, has been forwarded by the foreign office to Ambassador Durand, who has been instructed to hand it unofficially to the president. The letter recites the history of the Colombian debt and asks the president to use his good offices to secure equitable assumption of a portion thereof by Panama leaders. The statement telegraphed from The Hague to the Morning Leader of this city, that both Holland and Great Britain insist that Panama shall assume the liability for $15,000,000 of Colombian debt is emphatically denied by the council, which points out that no such large sum was ever dreamed of as Panama's share. Arbitration at The Hague or personal decision of President Roosevelt will be quite satisfactory to the council.

MORE RIOTING.

Russian Influence Over Korea Is Apparently Unshaken.

Seoul, Dec. 16.—More rioting has taken place at Mokphe, and Monday a Japanese mob wounded seventeen Koreans. High Korean officials are hurrying to Mokphe to try to quell disorders. So far Russia has not interferred.

United States Minister Allen has demanded a definite answer from the Korean government in regard to opening the port of Wiju. Despite the American, British and Japanese pressure, the Russian influence over the Korean government is apparently unshaken, and it is expected that Korea will procrastinate in dealing with the matter and possibly may refuse eventually to act at all.

A feeling of unrest is growing among Korean people, who fear whether it will be peace or war between Russia and Japan, and that extinction of the empire is imminent.

It is believed an outbreak of hostilities or announcement of protectorate of any kind will precipitate trouble.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

Panama Republic and Cuban Reciprocity Were Discussed.

Washington, Dec. 16.—In the house Tuesday, Mr. Crumpacker, first speaker, addressed himself to the Panama question, saying attarcks on the conduct of this government in connection with the new republic was unwarranted by facts. He said while there is no purpose on the part of individual members of the minority to foment trouble, yet the attitude of the party would give encouragement to Colombia.

When the senate met a resolution authorizing the printing of 2000 copies of the war department report on expenditures in Cuba during the occupation of the United States was agreed to.

When the Cuban reciprocity bill was taken up, Perkins of California spoke. He declared the people of the United States had increased sugar consumption six points per pear per capita during the last eight years.

BOTH EXONERATED.

Alleged That Allotments Were Made to Dead Indians and Whites.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Indian Agent Randlett, in charge of Kiowa, Comanche and Apache agency of Oklahoma, and Indian Inspector Nesler was completely exonerated by Francais E. Leupp in his report on inspection of charges against these officials. Charges were made in a memorial signed by Delos K. Lone Wolf and other dissatisfied Indians and Mr. Leupp, whose report has just beene forwarded to the senate by Secretary Hitchcock, who made an exhaustive investigation at the request of President Roosevelt. It was alleged, among other things, that allotments were made to dead Indians and white men.

TREATY ARRIVES.

It Was Turned Over to Representatives of the Government.

New York, Dec. 16.—The steamer City of Washington arrived from Colon, bringing the signed copy of the canal treaty with the republic of Panama. The treaty was in a metal box and in charge of the purser, who turned it over to representatives of the government on arrival at the dock. There was no news of importance reported by officers and passengers.

Northern Securities Case.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Argument in the Northern Securities case was resumed in the supreme court Tuesday and again the court room was crowded by attorneys and others. Attorney General Knox resumed his argument, begun Monday. He declared that by the union of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Securities company competing interstate railroads had been brought into such relations that their independence as competitive factors in interestate commerce was destroyed.

Another Revolution.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Mr. Simpson, United States consul at Puerto Plata, San Domingo, cabled the state department that a revolution has broken out at Santiago; that the movement is extensive and serious. This is supposed to be the result of the failure of the provisional government to secure recognition at the hands of United States Minister Powell.

WRECK ON BURLINGTON.

Locomotive Was Overturned and Engineer Instantly Killed.

Malvern, Ia., Dec. 16.—Engineer Knox, on the Denver limited No. 1, westbound, was killed in a wreck one mile east of Malvern on the Burlington. His engine and forward trucks of the baggage car left the track. The engine rolled over on its side, pinioning Knox beneath it. He was instantly killed. Fireman Lawrence Hays was not injured except for bruises. He was on the upper side of the engine as it overturned and ran at once to the relief of his engineer, but was too late for assistance. The wreck occurred in a bottom stretch one mile east of this city. What caused the engine to leave the track is not known. Passengers on the train were given a terrible shaking up. Men and women were thrown from their sleepers or chairs into aisles and a panic followed. Fortunately no one was seriously injured among the passengers.

Knox was one of the oldest engineers on the road. Assistance was sent at once from Malvern to the scene of the wreck.

FIRES AT ROCHESTER.

That New York City Sustains About Half a Million Dollar Loss.

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 16.—It is believed losses from fire Monday night will reach full $500,000, about 50 per cent being covered by insurance. The first fire broke out shortly before midnight in the Foster & Armstrong Piano factory in Commercial street. The building was totally destroyed.

A few minutes after the walls fell fire was discovered in the shoe factory of Williams, Hoyt & Co., and a few minutes later fresh fire started in the Wendell Piano factory at Central avenue and North Water street. The Foster & Williams and Hoyt fires were extinguished after hard labor, but the fire in the Wendell plant burned fiercely. Police and firemen are of the opinion the fires were started by incendiaries.

BEBEL TO VON BULLOW.

Said That America Selected Academicians as Ambassadors.

Berlin, Dec. 16.—Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, in the course of a reply to Chancellor von Buelow, in the reichstag, said that the chancellor had twitted the Socialists with being "impeccable doctrinaires," and that he desired to refer to the American republic, which occupied a position in the world in comparison with which Germany was gradually sinking; also pointing out that American selected academics for its ambassadors.

THREE CREMATED.

Mother, Daughter and a Clerk Burned to Death In a Fire.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Braidwood, Ill., says: Mrs. J. Messersmith, her daughter, and Frank Smith, a clerk, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a meat market and residence and dry goods store of J. Simon.

Cashier Shot Himself.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 16.—A. C. Bushnell, cashier of the Yale National bank, shot himself Tuesday at the bank some time before usual opening hour. His condition is regarded as critical.

Bushnell is dead. No cause for the cashier's act is known at the bank, it is said, except possibly ill health. Business was resumed at the bank as usual.

Twentieth Child Born.

Eminence, Mo., Dec. 16.—The wife of John C. Holland, living two miles south of this place, has presented her husband with his twentieth child—ten boys and ten girls. Mr. Holland has also reared three step-children.

Ice Nine Inches Thick.

Keokuk, Ia., Dec. 16.—Ice nine inches thick has formed in the Mississippi river at Keokuk, and the thermometer registered seven degrees below zero here.

Wound Proved Fatal.

Memphis, Dec. 16.—Hnery J. Kressenberg, who was shot Sunday night by Policeman John King, the latter afterwards committing suicide, died from the effects of his wound.

Close Call For Twelve.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 16.—Fire destroyed three business buildings on the main street of Guthrie. Twelve persons who roomed in one of the buildings had narrow escapes.
