Summary of 1946 Accomplishments in 4-H and Home Demonstration Club Work in County, Released by Agent

Extension work with women and girls in Foard County finds its agencies in the 4-H and home demonstration clubs, the home demonstration Council, 4-H county committee, 4-H adult leaders, and home demonstration committees in the unorganized communities, according to report for the year released by Miss Elizabeth El-Hott, Home Demonstration agent.

Six home demonstration clubs with an enrollment of 127 women, representing about 120 families, were in operation during last year. Four clubs were active all year. Riverside club re-organized in November of 1945 after having been inactive since 1941, except through contacts with a home demonstration committee, but failed to function all year. The Gambleville club re-organized in September, 1946, after being inactive about two years. Good Creek Club organized in November, 1946, after having been without a club since about 1938, except for a few members who attended the Foard City Club in the adjoining community.

Nine 4-H Clubs with an enrollment of 169 girls, representing 163 families, functioned last year. All girls in the county from the third grade through the eighth grade were enrolled in club work. Nine clubs with an enrollment of 130 girls are organized for 1947-1948. The third grade girls were eliminated since the majority are only eight years of age. This accounts for the decrease in enrollment figures.

There are nine recognized communities in the county. These communities are sub-divided into 30 neighborhoods. Approximately 687 families residing in these communities. Six of these communities are reached with an organized club in each. All nine communities are reached through the nine 4-H Clubs since schools are intensely consolidated with Crowell school. The only two rural grammar schools have organized 4-H clubs.

Home demonstration and 4-H clubs have been the nucleus of the county extension organization. Through these, supplemented by committees, the county program has been planned and executed.

Each home demonstration club and 4-H club is organized with officers which consists of president, vice president and secretary-treasurer. These officers are assisted by standing committees in the club. Method demonstrations were presented at all meetings. Clubs meet twice a month with the agent meeting home demonstration clubs once a month and girls 4-H clubs twice a month except during the summer months when school was not in session. From four to six women appeared on programs without the agent in home demonstration clubs and these meetings were conducted by club presidents, demonstrators, and other members. A uniform plan of work has been carried out by all clubs which was planned by year book committees from the various clubs.

In order to release time for the agent to serve more people of the county in 1947, a leadership training program has been provided for 1947. Each club is in the process of selecting two leaders who will receive training on that subject and be responsible for giving the information back in the club. 4-H clubs will also select adult leaders to assist them in their meetings. This plan releases the agent of meeting home demonstration clubs four times a year and 4-H clubs two times during the year. This time will be used for giving demonstrations to special interest groups such as young mothers, unorganized communities and more demonstrator and farm and home visits. Work in unorganized communities will be worked out with home demonstration committees in these communities. Special interest groups will be developed as the need arises.

Since the activities of the 4-H clubs were not such as to require a 4-H club council which would meet regularly, a county 4-H club committee composed of club presidents and two elected delegates was in operation. This committee met upon the recommendation of the county home demonstration agent when it was necessary to have 4-H clubs participate in planning or assisting in such activities as planning year books and county-wide meetings.

The problem of getting adult leaders for 4-H clubs has been more difficult in the past years, partly due to conditions brought about by the war. In an attempt to meet this situation a trial method is being tested beginning with reorganization of 4-H clubs in September. The plan being tried is to invite at least one different club girl's mother to at least one month's or two club meetings during the year. This mother is selected by the club the previous month and attends the meeting when the agent is present to receive training along with the girls. Then she comes again for the second meeting of the month and is in charge of the club meeting as adult leader. At this meeting club members bring materials to work on something developed at the meeting with the agent. Additional program material which can be presented by club members or the adult leader is worked into this meeting also.

It is believed this method of obtaining adult leadership will help solve the problem of getting leaders. It would seem parents would be ready to give enough of their time for two club meetings where they do not feel they can devote as much time as a full time leader requires. Returned questionnaires from parents which accompanied a letter explaining the plan, indicates interest toward this direction. The first trial month of November resulted in 5 adult leaders for 9 clubs. The other leaders not present were contacted and received help so they could attend the meeting designated.

A 4-H club fund was established last year to raise funds for sending two girls and an adult leader to the 4-H Club Round-Up August 28-30 at A. & M. College. Local merchants, farmers and one home demonstration club contributed to this fund to make a total of $52.75.

The county home demonstration council, being a demonstration of organization in the county, serves as a medium through which the agent receives information from clubs and through which additional help is given to clubs. The membership of the Foard County council is composed of the officers, club presidents, and two elected delegates from each club, and chairman of standing committees. This made a total of 21 members in 1946.

Council met regularly on the third Saturday of each month. Nine regular meetings were held. A summary of attendance shows an average attendance of 9 members per month. Three clubs have been represented at all meetings, and one missed only one meeting. The council chairman has presided over nine regular meetings and two election meetings.

Standing committees of the council are yearbook, finance, recreation, market, reporters and sponsors. The education, exhibit and expansion committees were combined into one committee and

Automobile Agency Sold to J. M. Hill and W. C. Johnson

The Kaiser-Frazer automobile agency in Crowell was recently sold by Ray Shirley to J. M. Hill and W. C. Johnson. The business is located across the street north of the City Hall.

The name of the new firm is Hill Motor Co. and Mr. Johnson is active manager of the business.

A service department has been established and Arthur Kaminshine, local automobile mechanic, has been employed to manage this department.

ROTARY CLUB

Visitors at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club at the DeLuxe Cafe were Rotarian Vance Favor of Quanah, and Ray Stokes, representative of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. George Self was in charge of the program. He introduced J. B. Harlan, Foard County supervisor of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, who made an interesting and instructive talk on soil conservation service work in the county and this district which is set up in Foard and Hardeman Counties.

SENATE PRESIDENT PRO TEM . . . Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R., Mich.), who has been chosen president pro tempore of the senate. Senator Vandenberg recently announced his withdrawal from the United Nation's delegation to devote full time to senate duties. He has been put forward as a possible presidential candidate for 1948.

Legion Basketball Team Beats A. C. C. Last Thursday

Crowell's American Legion basketball quintet defeated Abilene Christian College, 29 to 23, last Thursday night in Abilene to retain their undefeated status. High scorer for the contest was Marvin Myers, who rang up ten points, being closely followed by Cotton Owens and Pete Russell with seven points each and Howard Bell with six.

A. C. C. came back strong in the second half of the game to pull up within six points of Crowell at the final whistle but the all around fight of the Foard County team, especially the hustle of Fireball Cotton Owens, won out for the local Legion team.

On Monday night of this week, playing on their home court, Crowell's Legion took on Northside (of Vernon) and Paducah, emerging victorious in both contests, defeating Northside 39-28 and Paducah 49-40.

Next week Crowell journeys to Stamford on Tuesday night and to Paducah on Thursday night.

Superphosphate Contracts May Be Obtained by Farmers

According to A. W. Barker, Chairman Foard County PMA Committee, producers may earn 95c per 100 pounds for applying 20 per cent superphosphate, if the following specifications are met:

The material should be evenly applied and worked into the soil. It may be used only on permanent pastures, winter cover crops (other than small grains alone), hay crops, such as alfalfa, summer legumes grown for cover crops, hay, or seed for planting, and new seedings of grasses and legumes seeded alone or with a nurse crop. Advice to farmers on performance: Secure written approval of the county committee before the material is applied. Submit sales receipts for the material applied, unless it was obtained as CMS. For further information call at the local AAA office.

Former Resident of Foard County Died in Oklahoma City

Mrs. Jack Lassiter, the former Margie Davis of Rayland, passed away in Oklahoma City on Jan. 9, 1947. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis of Rayland.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lassiter were held at the First Methodist Church in Vernon on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 11, with the pastor, Dr. E. A. Reed, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. R. I. Hart of Lockett.

Pall bearers were Tom Lawson, Bob Rutledge, Richard Mickle, Carl Bradford, Oliver Holland and Buck Clark. Flower bearers were Mrs. Richard Mickle, Mrs. Carl Bradford, Mrs. Johnny Wright, Mrs. A. L. Sheppard, Mrs. A. R. Skipworth and Mrs. Bob Bonham.

Burial, under the direction of Underwood Funeral Home, was in the East View Memorial Park.

Mrs. Lassiter was born near Rayland in 1916. She was married to Jack Lassiter in 1941.

Survivors include the husband; five sisters, Mrs. S. G. Presley of Chillicothe, Mrs. Bill Barrett of Paducah, Mrs. Oscar Holland of Kermit, Mrs. Bill Phillips of Monahans and Mrs. Bert Blanton of Vernon; two brothers, C. A. Davis of San Antonio and T. C. Davis of Rayland, and a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives.

5,648 Bales Cotton Ginned in Foard Up to Dec. 13 Report

According to the Dec. 13 Government report, there were 5,648 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Foard County, from the crop of 1946, as compared with 6,416 bales ginned to Dec. 13, 1945, it was announced this week by A. Y. Beverly, enumerator for the county.

Soil Conservation Service Now Ready to Assist Farmers

The Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, which includes Foard and Hardeman Counties, is now being assisted by the Soil Conservation Service which is a part of the United States Department of Agriculture. The local office of the Soil Conservation Service is located on the top floor of the Foard County court house. This office will furnish assistance to all land owners in Foard County.

J. B. Harlan is Soil Conservation supervisor in Foard County. The District is operated by a local Board of Supervisors consisting of five land owners. Three of these board members live in Hardeman County and the other two live in Foard County. They are Grady Halbert of Foard City and Claude Orr of Thalia.

Application for assistance from the Soil Conservation Service can be made to the local supervisors or to the Soil Conservation Service. The district is set up to operate on a group basis. In order to form a group, five farms or a total of 1,200 acres is required. This makes it much easier to handle water problems that may affect more than one farm. Many of the agricultural problems can be worked out better by using the group method.

Technical assistance is furnished by the Soil Conservation Service at no cost to the farmer. Assistance is given on the following: Soil building crops, strip cropping, contour farming, terracing, drainage, pasture improvement, tanks, seeding aid, sodding, fertilizing, and many other agricultural problems. The purpose of the Soil Conservation Service is to help the farmers and ranchers build up their land and protect it from erosion. The four corner stones of a good conservation program are: Sound land use, right combination of conservation practices, maintain and improve soil productivity, and an economically sound farm enterprise.

For further details, see your local supervisors or the personnel of the Soil Conservation Service.

Interment followed in the Crowell cemetery with the Womack Funeral Home in charge. The Rebekah Lodge, of which Mrs. Burrow was a member, officiated with graveside ceremonies.

Mrs. Burrow, Florence Irene Pyle, was born on Feb. 13, 1886. She was married to Emmett W. Burrow, at Rosewood, Texas, in December, 1903. The couple moved to Foard County in 1910 and had resided here since that time. To Mr. and Mrs. Burrow, four sons were born, three of whom survive their mother, Raymond having passed away on April 7, 1943.

Survivors are the husband, the three sons, Crawford, Ted and Ralph, who, with their families were at their mother's bedside; two sisters, Mrs. H. S. Chandler of Wichita Falls and Mrs. A. M. Bryson of Graham and two brothers, R. L. Pyle of Pasadena, Calif., and Vernon Pyle of Wichita Falls. Six grandchildren also survive as well as a host of nieces and nephews and friends.

Mrs. Burrow had been a member of the Christian Church for many years. She had, by her sweet spirit and kind ways, endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. She lived for others, always considerate and thoughtful of other people. She had been receptionist in the office of Dr. Hines Clark for a number of years and her manner of contact will ever be remembered by many people. Her life will continue in her kind deeds.

Out-of-town relatives and friends present for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Burrow and two sons of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burrow and son, Ray, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burrow and two daughters of Fort Worth; Mrs. Mary Lee Burrow and son, Don Ray, of Ft. Worth; O. A. Burrow of Roanoke; Mrs. C. C. Bowes of Greenville; Mrs. J. C. Linton of Ector; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Van Netta and children, Jerry and Linda, of Mineral Wells, and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bryson of Graham; Mrs. George Long of Vernon, Mrs. I. T. Graves of Floydada, and Mr. Dunham of Roanoke.

C. B. Graham Dies Suddenly at Home Wednesday at 2:30

C. B. Graham, 61, resident of Crowell and Foard County for about 40 years, died suddenly at his home in North Crowell about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Edith Waechter, of Fort Worth; one son, C. B. Jr., who lives in the home, and by two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and the time for the services will not be set until some time today.

Magnolia Service Station Damaged by Fire Wednesday

Fire of unknown origin, which started about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, badly damaged the Borchardt Magnolia Service Station. The station is located west of the Borchardt Chevrolet Co. building and is owned by the oil company. Damage to the stock was estimated at $600 to $800, which included fifteen new tires.

No insurance was carried on the stock. The blaze was quickly brought under control after the arrival of the Crowell Fire Department. The fire originated in the office and spread to the gasoline pumps nearest the building. Pumps near the street were not damaged.

The wash and grease room also suffered little damage.

Former Resident Passes Away in Wichita Falls

Joe Bailey Bagley, a former resident of Foard County, passed away in a Wichita Falls hospital on Tuesday, January 7. He had been ill for several years.

Funeral services and interment took place in Wichita Falls on Thursday afternoon, January 9, at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Bagley is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Bagley, six children, Billie Jo, Bobbie Ruth, Darvin Gene, Ronald, Gerald and Carol Ann, of Wichita Falls; his mother, Mrs. C. J. LaFore of San Diego, Calif.; three brothers, John Bagley of Electra, Pete Bagley of Vernon; Felix Bagley of San Diego, Calif.; and six sisters, Mrs. P. B. Miller of Bell, Calif.; Mrs. Frank Parr of Huntington Park, Calif.; Mrs. R. F. Mitchell of Lemon Grove, Calif.; Mrs. Paul Wolfe of Davidson, Okla.; Mrs. Edwin Filgo of Channon, Miss.; and Mrs. Bill Ford of Pritchitt, Colo.

Farmers May Get Protection from Crop Hazards

Farmers in Foard County should lose no time before considering crop insurance on their 1947 cotton crops, according to A. W. Barker, Chairman of Foard County AAA Committee. January 31, 1947, is the final date for writing insurance on next year's crop.

New provisions in the program this year enable farmers to make a wider choice of the type of coverage they desire, he said. Agricultural Conservation office employees will explain the detailed application of these provisions to individual farmers.

"Cotton farmers are always faced with the threat of loss of crops through no fault of their own," he said. Crop insurance provides a cushion against loss of money and labor when crops are destroyed. "Working on a non-profit basis, Federal crop insurance is set up to pay all premiums collected in the form of indemnities to insured farmers whose crops are lost," he said. Administrative expenses are paid by the Government.

Hardware dealers, it is reported will meet the competition being offered by chain stores, drug stores, oil and tire companies by putting in lines of chinaware, fountain pens, food specialties, packaged drinks, medicines and even fountain lunches in some localities.

The Days of the Year

As one receives a calendar as a Christmas gift or as a commercial reminder, the suggestion comes that people can think of the opportunities given by all these 365 days to come. There is of course the uncertainty of life to be considered. Some will not be able to see all those days. For the vast majority, those days are to be theirs for whatever activity they may choose and whatever plans of life they may cherish.

Insomuch as these days will be used mainly for work and labor, people should feel glad for whatever they have been able to contribute to the needs of the community. Those many days will offer countless opportunity for recreation and entertainment, for scenes of happiness and pleasure. They also give the chance for self improvement, for reading and study and the effort to know more about the world. People can accomplish a great deal in those days, and may hope that when the year is ended they shall have made some progress in knowledge and experience.

The range of the sniperscope, employing the use of the infrared light with a special electronic sight, is at present limited to the electronic telescope rather than to the source of light.

Home Town Thoughts

A willingness to back up the people who are trying to do things for the home community helps these workers to accomplish results. If they do not get general popular support, it is no great encouragement to active efforts for progress.

It is discouraging to a ball team if the spectators yell to have the players taken out. Similarly a spirit of carping criticism in a town discourages the people who are working for solid gains.

People have very extensive forgetteries, but they do not forget the store that advertises regularly.

Love Story of A Gentle Mare and Palomino Stallion

All of the charm and atmosphere which made "My Friend Flicka" popular is captured by Republic in that studio's newest Roy Rogers Musical Western, "My Pal Trigger," which will open at the Rialto Sunday, Jan. 19.

A poignantly beautiful love story, the romance of a gentle mare and a strong-hearted stallion, from courtship through mating and foaling, is depicted with strong dramatic appeal under the expert hand of Director Frank McDonald.

Concurrent with the equine romance is a spirited and lively human romance between Roy Rogers, the star, and his leading lady, Dale Evans. The "King of the Cowboys" has a tough time explaining to Dale and her crusty, cantankerous father, played by George "Gabby" Hayes, that he was not the villain who shot their prize winning stallion, "Golden Sovereign" in cold blood. But Roy's songs, or his personality, or a potent combination of both win Dale over to his side, and she helps him when he tangles with the law over ownership of the frisky colt, "Trigger."

The touching moments are ably balanced by songs and comedy by the Sons of the Pioneers, and a couple of tuneful numbers presented by Roy himself and Miss Evans.

The great story of a great horse.

Creative Salesmanship

A business man once asked one of his clerks this question, "Do you simply wait on customers, or do you try to practice creative salesmanship?"

Some salespeople, if asked that question, might reply with the question as to what was meant by "creative salesmanship." Whatever it is, it is a real thing, for a competent salesperson is all the time creating good will for his store, and creating a group of people who like to trade with him and at his store. There is value in his work for the home town.

One way to practice such salesmanship is to become so well informed about goods that people like to trade with such a salesperson.

CHEVROLET IS FIRST

First IN CAR PRODUCTION... First IN TRUCK PRODUCTION

First IN COMBINED CAR AND TRUCK PRODUCTION!

AGAIN at the close of 1946—when America's need for new motor cars and trucks is most urgent—the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors leads all other manufacturers in automotive production. This means that Chevrolet is first in passenger car production—first in truck production—first in combined passenger car and truck production... despite the fact that all Chevrolet plants were closed completely during the first three months of 1946! Naturally, Chevrolet hopes to be able to build more and more of these fine products which America is buying so eagerly—the only motor car giving BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—the only truck giving BIG-TRUCK QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—the complete Chevrolet line which stands out as the lowest-priced line in its field! One word of caution about deliveries: There still aren't enough new Chevrolets to go around, but obviously you'll get quicker delivery by purchasing the product of America's largest builder of cars and trucks, and you'll get higher quality by purchasing the product America likes best—Chevrolet!

Remember... LARGEST PRODUCTION means QUICKEST DELIVERY of your new car. Place and keep your order with us for a new Chevrolet and get biggest value as well as earliest possible delivery!

And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things.—Mark 6:34.

The discerning and astute Democratic politician, James A. Farley, says that there are four Democratic governors big enough to be built up in the usual manner, for the office of President. The Farley announcement if true, will eliminate a large field made up of those who might have made up their minds to be in a receptive mood in the event lightning should strike.

HISTORY

Birthday of Franklin D. Roosevelt—January 30: Franklin D. Roosevelt, thirty-second president of the United States, was born at Hyde Park on the Hudson, N. Y., January 30, 1882. At the age of 39 he was stricken with infantile paralysis. For a time his life was despaired of. He survived, but with both legs paralyzed. Through the force of will and the determination to overcome the terrible physical handicap, he, in the course of years, reduced the paralysis so that he could walk with crutches and the aid of sixty-five pounds of iron braces on his legs. These he wore until the time of his death. He found some relief from his affliction at Warm Springs, Georgia, and because of it he established a Foundation there for the benefit of infantile paralysis sufferers. In order to secure funds with which to insure and support the Foundation the idea of President's Balls was initiated. The first year, January 30, 1934, more than 5,000 balls were held, which raised about $1,000,000. The balls were continued for several years with equally good results. Within the past few years the balls have been given up and in their place has been established the Infantile Paralysis Foundation. Each year a nation-wide March of Dimes is held which brings many hundred thousand dollars into the National Foundation fund. These funds are used in the treatment of infantile paralysis and in research looking forward toward a way to prevent it.

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett, 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—The main events in Washington this week have been the President's messages to the Congress; first his State of the Union speech on Monday and then his budget message on Wednesday. The President's speech on the State of the Union was generally well received by both Democrats and Republicans. No person, of course, could agree fully with any thirty minute discourse covering the major problems of the country. The President's call for legislation to solve serious labor-management problems will likely be acted on shortly. However, his request for a commission to study this problem will probably not be followed. Most members feel that a commission for the study of the industry-labor controversy would simply delay badly needed action. A half dozen committees of Congress have given serious study to this question during the last several years and most members understand the issues. In other words, the time for study has passed and the time for action has come. On January 14 the Supreme Court will hear the case of John L. Lewis and the UMW. Unless the court or the Congress does something to discourage him, John L. Lewis will call another coal strike on March 31.

Another feature of the President's message with which most members of Congress disagree is his demand that we admit more refugees to our country. I for one have been active in trying to tighten immigration barriers and will certainly oppose lowering them. Under our immigration quota 154,000 aliens per year can enter this country. Since the war we not only have been admitting thousands of aliens but we have spent or obligated ourselves to spend almost $20 billion in foreign rehabilitation and relief. South America is seeking seven million immigrants within the next ten years; France is now seeking three million immigrants. There are many places for immigrants and displaced persons to go aside from coming to America. Of course, our country was founded by immigrants. In 1920 every third person in America was of foreign birth or had one parent born abroad. In the old days we needed immigrants. That need no longer exists. For the first time in history we have a grave national emergency in housing. Until we have housing and jobs for all returning veterans we certainly do not need immigrants. In 1940, 1947 newspapers in this country were published in 38 foreign languages and read by more than ten million persons. A first generation American cannot be as devoted to American ideals and institutions as a third generation American. America has a larger percentage of aliens within her borders than any other nation on earth. Before we admit additional large groups of refugees we should be sure that the melting pot has melted.

The President's appointment of General Marshall to become Secretary of State was met generally with loud acclaim in Washington. Perhaps no other individual could have been named whom the Senate would have confirmed unanimously within an hour's time. General Marshall is one of the most able and conscientious men ever to serve our country. He did a great job as Chief of Staff during the war and on the whole was the most popular official in Washington during the war period. The number two office in this government which he now assumes in this trying period will tax to the utmost all of his capabilities.

The President's budget message is now a subject of serious discussion by all members of Congress. His recommended budget calls for an expenditure of $37,500,000,000 during the fiscal year of 1948. Ninety per cent of the members of Congress agree that the President's recommendation for a balanced budget must be met. Many feel there should be a substantial reduction from the above figure. However, where and how much to cut is going to be a subject of bitter controversy.

Every person whether or not he attends church should contribute generously to some church. If he is not a member of any church but believes that the churches are a good influence and are good for the community he can divide his contribution among all or several of the churches. All the money received by churches is spent doing good, quickening the conscience of people and the community, upholding the right ideals and in making the town a better place in which to live and rear a family. A man may think he is too busy to attend church or personally may not be interested in attending, but there is no good reason any fair man living in a community and enjoying the benefits of the church influence can give for not making a contribution to the work of the church. It is the least he can do to hold up his end of his obligation to society.

designated as the E. E. E. Committee. Activities of council are headed through the above committees. At the beginning of the year, those committees made plans for the year to be carried out with the co-operation of home demonstration clubs through their corresponding club committees. Reports from the standing committees and officers at the annual meeting in November reflect accomplishments outlined in the following paragraphs.

The year book committee worked out a uniform program of work for the women's home demonstration clubs. Each club year book committee was asked to prepare at least two club programs to be had without the agent and make a list of demonstrations desired to be given. Eight programs and various recommendations for programs were presented to the council committee. The Council committee completed the year book and made arrangements for having it printed. Printed year books were provided, with each club member contributing the cost of the book to the council fund.

The 1946 council budget of $111.50 was raised by proceeds from cook books and a birthday calendar. A profit of $100.00 was made from the calendars. Printing costs of $105.00 was paid for by selling adds to business establishments. Surplus calendars are being sold at 15c each to people desiring calendars that did not turn in their names and dime when the names were being solicited. The finance committee recommended the 1947 finance committee sponsor a birthday calendar for 1948 and sell the balance of cook books on hand to raise the 1947 budget.

The activities of the marketing committee were confined to a cooperative purchase of roses. Eighty roses were ordered at a saving of $18.40 for the eleven families who ordered. Since a study of label program was not included in the plan of work this year, the committee requested a study program be included in 1947. The year book committee made provisions for such a program.

Recreation activities reflected from clubs included having 10 minutes recreation at each club meeting, making recreation scrapbooks to use in this recreation period, and adding song books. Four clubs sponsored a community entertainment for families in August.

The education, exhibit, expansion committee of council did not function in 1946 as a committee but some accomplishments in the various clubs are attributed to their respective committee. Each club had a study program of the program of work of the Texas Home Demonstration Association with emphasis on the 1946 reading program. The procedure for covering the County Federation Club sponsored library into a free county library was studied and each club recommended the library be converted. It was also recommended the library books on the T. H. D. A. reading list be purchased for the library. Neither of the two recommendations were realized. Very few books on the reading list were read by club members this year since they were not available in the library.

Two new clubs have been organized for 1947 and existing clubs report an increase of 15 new members in 1946. Club members contributed $7.00 for the education fund of the T. H. D. A. National Home Demonstration week was observed by clubs sending six cases of canned food for European relief, honoring the charter members and reviewing the history of the club, reviewing an article printed in the "Southwest Review" magazine as a tribute to Mrs. Margie W. Barry and her long years of service in building rural organization, and listening to radio programs during the week. Clubs also elected nominees from which delegates were elected to represent the county at the district and state meetings of the Texas Home Demonstration Association. Three delegates and the alternate attended the district meeting but no delegate attended the annual meeting.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

The record of over two hundred deaths on American highways during the Christmas holidays is a matter that should receive more consideration than merely a passing gasp of astonishment such as might be given over the announcement that an earthquake in some distant part of the world had set a new record for loss of life.

The main reason the announcement of the loss of life in highway accidents should elicit more concern than the earthquake casualties is that the earthquake casualties are produced by nature and cannot be prevented, but the highway accidents for the most part can be prevented.

The reports from some cities showed that an alarming percentage of the accidents in these cities involving injury, property damage and even loss of life, were caused by drinking and drunken drivers.

To date Los Angeles is the only city that has appeared to have the courage to do something about the thing. Unfortunately Los Angeles courage and good resolves are announced as holding over the New Year's only. After this we assume from the announcement appearing in the dailies the matter will lapse back into the old groove which permits drinking and drunken drivers to sit behind the steering wheels of automobiles and continue to cripple and kill.

The sporadic effort being made by Los Angeles if carried out conscientiously and honestly should reveal some facts in which the country will be interested. It will at least show how many drinking and drunken drivers presume to drive their cars through the city's crowded streets.

Los Angeles announced a clamp down on New Year's eve and New Year's day and arrested and put in jail all pedestrians and drinking and drunken drivers apprehended on the streets.

The action of Los Angeles was prompted by the fact that Christmas eve and Christmas day the traffic toll in California was 70 lives. The other forty-seven states contributed 130 fatalities in the same time.

The amazing thing about it is that the city proposed to take these safety measures for one day only. The assumption is that the other 364 days of the year the drinking and drunken drivers may continue the orgy of killing and crippling while the law keeps its hands off, the safety councils prepare the mounting statistics, and the poor, helpless, muddling public wrings its hands and cries "Dear, dear me."

In my opinion the record of thousands killed and many more thousands crippled and maimed for life by drinking and drunken drivers is indefensible. It is a pronch and an indictment against the law enforcing agencies of the land and the lackadaisical attitude of the public.

I am not a crank on the subject of liquor but I know as do every one that no one can drive a modern automobile in a street as it should be driven as whiskey under his belt. A man does not need to be so drunk that he is sobbing over the steering wheel to be a potential killer. One drink of whiskey may, often does, convert a normal sane driver into a killer. The law enforcement agencies should recognize the fact and the public should recognize it because it is the God's truth. All we need to do in the matter is just be honest.

Is Beauty a Luxury?

The idea seems to be held by some communities that their town is mostly a place of industry and work, and cannot afford to spend any great amount of money on beauty. That seems a mistaken conception, for a great deal of beauty can be produced in a community without spending a large amount of money.

Just clearing up all dirt around the homes, and producing an appearance of neat care, a large element in beauty. If in addition there are plenty of flowers and shrubs and trees, they give any home an appearance of beauty. These things do not cost a great deal of money, but they do require some regular work and care. They suggest that the residents are people of taste and culture, who feel strong affection for their homes.

Ask for Final Reports in Kenny Polio Campaign

Austin.—County Chairmen in the 1946 Sister Elizabeth Kenny Infantile Paralysis Foundation have been asked to rush in final reports, it was announced here today by George C. Francisco Jr., of Houston, Chairman of the Texas Executive Committee.

Mr. Francisco said that extensions had been granted committees in a number of counties on account of lateness in getting organized.

The Texas Executive Committee recently made a final appeal for donations to the campaign and said that donations would be received until final reports were in at the State Headquarters in the Driskill Hotel at Austin.

Funds raised in the Texas 1946 campaign will be used to award scholarships to graduate nurses to take a two-year training course at the Kenny Institute in Minneapolis in the Kenny method of treating infantile paralysis. These nurses upon completion of the two-year course will then be able to train other graduate nurses in the Kenny method of treatment.

Garden Club Will Meet Friday P. M.

The Crowell Garden Club will meet in the home of Mrs. N. J. Roberts Friday afternoon (tomorrow) at 3 o'clock for the annual election of officers. It is urged that a large attendance be present for this important meeting.

Banana shortages, it is said, will continue for at least another year.

All coffees are blended by the taste method. Each coffee packing plant has a taster who takes a sample of each batch of coffee as it comes from the roaster, makes a cup of coffee from the sample and tastes it. In this manner and only in this manner can blends of coffee be kept uniform. Each variety of coffee has its own peculiar flavor and a blend is obtained by adding certain amounts of each kind of coffee to the mixture. The taster in testing the batch determines whether or not the exact flavor required for the blend being packed has been obtained.

Steel makers are hampered by a shortage of scrap iron and steel. The shortage is so critical that hopes are entertained that the new Congress will permit the purchase and shipment to the United States of steel scrap discarded by American troops in England. It is difficult to believe that there is anything like a shortage of steel scrap when one thinks of the automobile junk yards that mark the entrance in every county seat town in the nation.

The base pay for coal miners under the present schedule is $59.25 for a five day week. If a miner works on Saturday he receives in overtime pay $16 for this day, making his total check for the week, $75.25. The average pay of all miners is $61 a week.

Pellagra of Great Concern to Public Health Officials

Austin.—Pellagra, although not a communicable disease, is one of great concern to public health officials in Texas for many people die of pellagra in this state every year. The disease is caused by the lack of certain essential foods, and as it comes on slowly may not be recognized until the victim begins to have the more serious symptoms such as sore mouth, stomach trouble, and reddening and scaling of the skin.

"When these symptoms appear, the disease has been present for some time," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "The longer an individual has pellagra the harder it is to cure. It is advisable, therefore, to watch for the early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion, and burning of the hands and feet, and if these symptoms appear, treatment should be instituted at once. In its advanced stages pellagra may become so severe as to not only cause physical suffering but seriously affect the mind."

Pellagra is not contagious, Dr. Cox pointed out, and he emphasized that it can be prevented entirely by including the right kinds of foods in the daily diet. These essential foods include milk, fresh meat, whole wheat products, brewer's yeast, salmon, as well as tomatoes and other fresh fruits and vegetables. The inclusion of these foods in the daily diet will prevent pellagra, and as in the case of any disease, it is better to prevent it than to try to cure it.

Veterans News

Home town dental care for veterans with service-connected disabilities is now available in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, the Veterans Administration has announced.

Under the program, all veterans entitled to out-patient dental care at VA's expense have free choice of dentists participating in the project where VA dental clinic service is not available.

Veterans must obtain authorization for this local treatment from the VA regional office having jurisdiction. Regional offices in the Dallas Branch Area are located at Jackson, Miss.; New Orleans and Shreveport, La.; and Dallas, Waco, Houston, San Antonio and Lubbock, Texas.

Approximately 131,000 veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi were receiving monthly payments at the beginning of December as a result of disabilities incurred during World War II.

The average monthly payment for the disabled veterans is approximately $42, VA said. Of the 261,664 claims filed by World War II veterans in the Dallas Branch Area, 115,572 had been disallowed and 10,515 were pending.

Veterans Administration hospital managers have been authorized to furlough patients, whose treatment can be completed out of hospitals, to make more beds available for other veterans awaiting hospitalization.

Those furloughed will be treated on an out-patient basis. Service-connected cases will be treated at VA clinics or on a fee basis by private doctors at government expense. Non-service-connected cases will be treated only at VA clinics and must pay their own transportation or other expenses.

As of November 30, approximately 3,000 veterans were awaiting hospitalization in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. Of these, only one was service-connected.

The Veterans Administration has a total of 11,569 wards in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. These include 8,651 minors, according to a VA report of November 31, 1946.

WILDCAT GOSSIPS TRY OUT "DIDJA KNOW" QUESTION

"The truth is out!" is an old saying that has been drifting around for these many ages. With their aid the truth about our teachers who were former students in CHS is coming to the front.

Mrs. Hart says "I couldn't compare our high school today with the one I attended. It was very small." She also says she taught Mrs. Davis in the third grade. "One day I gave my class Stevenson's poem 'My Shadow' to memorize. That morning Lena was late. When she burst in after classes had already begun, she exclaimed, 'Miss Carrie, I've just studied my eyes out on that poem and I know all about my old shadow now.'"

Miss Cora Carter said, "My graduating class was composed of nine members, which included only one boy. Incidentally, he graduated second highest." She also says, "She was very busy being on the girls' basketball team and belonging to the Literary Society."

HERE'S LOOKING AT THE PERSONALITIES OF WEEK

A true cosmopolite, also a native CHS student, Presley Thompson, sat laboriously correcting his mid-term test paper as I approached.

But first maybe the starting paragraph should be enlarged. "Pres," as he is sometimes called, is a cosmopolite because he has lived in nearly all sections of Texas and has traveled quite extensively the state of Oklahoma. He is a true CHS student because he came back from all his travels with the same loyalty to the school that he had when he left.

So much for that. After a few questions, Presley finally gave out with this information. He is 17 years young, 6 feet long and has curly blonde hair.

He likes fried chicken and milk for food and football for sports. Also an out of door man, he goes in for hunting in a big way. Mostly ducks and geese, says Pres.

He has not decided what college he will attend, but knows for sure it will be a co-ed school, because Presley with a gleam in his eye says "Yessir, no steadies for me, I love 'em all."

VOLLEY BALL STAR

Jumps up to spike a ball and gain a point for her team. This girl who is interested in sports and Plane Geometry, likes blue, chocolate cake, Guy Madison and Jeanne Crain. She also adds that she dislikes conceited people; and if you'll watch her carefully, you will see a shy grin come on her cute little face when she hears "Someday." Her biggest thrill came exactly five minutes after 12 on New Years. (For further information ask the subject). Her highest ambition is to graduate and then tackle Math as a major in Decatur Baptist College. Who else could this be but Ann Payne?

CROWELL WILDCATS DEFEATED BY MUNDAY MOGULS, 25-23

The Crowell Wildcats dropped a very close and thrilling basketball game Friday night to the Munday Moguls, 25-23.

This was the first conference game of the year for both teams. The game was very close all the way with neither team having more than a four point margin. At half-time the score stood 12-10 in favor of the Moguls.

The Moguls were sparked by Joe Spann, the ace sacker, who accounted for 16 of their points.

The Wildcats held a four point lead late in the fourth quarter, but Spann tied it up with two fast field goals and then made a nice tip off shot for the winning basket.

High point man for the Wildcats was Joe Mason making 11 points.

The Wildcats have a game scheduled with Oklaunion Tuesday night.

VOLLEY BALL SEASON OPENS

The Crowell High School volleyball team started its season by playing at Five-in-One last Tuesday night. The starting line-up was Anna Laura Payne, Ruth Barker, Mary R. Jones, Kathleen Eddy, Mary Jo Short and Marlene Mason. Jo Ann Meason and Julia Johnson also went. Five-in-One won both games with the scores of 15-9 and 15-0.

Last Friday night Crowell played Munday here. Two out of three games were won by Munday with the scores of 15-8 and 15-10. Crowell won one with a score of 17-15. The starting line up was composed of Anna L. Payne, Ruth Barker, Mary R. Jones, Kathleen Eddy, Mary Jo Short and Marlene Mason. Substitutes were Peggy Evans, Maggie Eavenson, Bobby McDaniel and Martha Johnson. Bobby and Martha played the second game and part of the third. Ruth Barker was captain for these two games.

WILDCAT PURRS

WHAT'S NEW

On the new list includes the names of Wanda Gilbert and J. L. Brock, a new student in school "Prune" Bell, and a new steady, Virginia Hammonds and Louis Pyle.

Kendrick Joy and Maggie Eavenson were seen stepping high Saturday night. Doesn't everyone agree that Mary Jones and Ray Burrow make the cutest couple? Is Pat Fox true to "Sweetie" Cunningham or Carol Cato? Tell us more.

Tommie Meason and Rouse Todd were seen Friday night. Betty Barker and Grover Yocham may be added to this list.

Kathleen Eddy and "Prune" Bell both seem to enjoy the Bartley's company, Reba and Charlie. Martha Johnson and Don Wilkins are still seen frequently.

Seems as though James Weather has his eye on Betty Brock. Wonder who Wanda Crisp's dream man is?

WE THINK

Clark Christian and Pat Fox were doing O. K. Thursday night. Borchardt's back and Jones has got him. We're speaking of Floyd and Faye.

Myrtle Bartley and Lon Laquay is another couple we'd like to see together.

Floyd Oliver and Bobbie Brock, Mary Ayers and Ray Gable seem to be enjoying each other's company more and more. They were all seen at the basketball game Friday night.

Vera Lee has moved back from Wichita and Clifford Ohr is happy again.

Steadies of the week or any other time: Jo Ann Meason and Ed Thomas, "Booty" Barker and V. Bond, Janet Roark and Joe Mason.

The couple that was doing O. K. Saturday night: Peggy Evans and Pete Collins.

Couple of the week: Baxter Gentry and Ramona Hammonds. C. D. Campbell states that he does not have a steady girl at the present, but is giving them all a chance.

SIDE SPLITTERS

Mrs. Wilkins: How did you get along with your examinations?

Don: Swell, I got 100.

Mrs. Wilkins: What in?

Don: 45 in V. A., 25 in math, 29 1/2 in science, and 1/2 in English.

M. W.: What's the date, please?

Mrs. Sloan: Never mind the date. The examination is more important.

M. W.: Well, I just wanted to have something right on my paper.

Mr. Black: Can you read Chinese?

Freddie: Only when it is written in English.

SCHOOL EXECUTIVES CONFERENCE

I. T. Graves superintendent of Floydada Schools, W. C. Graves, superintendent of the Coleman Schools, and C. G. Graves, superintendent of local schools, have returned from a three day conference at Austin. This session was held January 9th, 10th and 11th, and was presided over by Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The general subject for the three-day conference was "Texas Education Needs and Proposed Plans to Meet Them." The main subject was divided into sub-heads and half day discussions were devoted to a complete coverage of "Our Health Needs and Education's Role in Their Achievement of the Program of Guidance in Public Schools," "Current Administrative Problems," "Our Curriculum Needs and Plans for Meeting Them," "The Need of Extension of the Program of Education in Time and Scope," "Radio and Visual Aids in Education" and "Our Financial Needs and Plans for Achieving Them."

According to Mr. Graves, highlights of the programs consisted of special music by Sam Houston State Teachers College Choir, and the University of Texas A Capella Choir.

REHEARSALS AMUSING IN ENGLISH 111 FIRST PERIOD

"I don't see why I ever married a lazy, selfish brute like you."

"That's enough. All I want is a little peace and quiet."

If you hear any forceful billowing of disgust or squeals of delight, don't get excited. It's only the enthusiastic cast of the English III class rehearsing its "Brain Child."

It's a "razzle dazzle" comedy of "Who Gets The Car Tonight?" Watch for the coming of this comedy starring actors from our own CHS and directed by Mrs. Sloan. Don't miss it!

Inside Temperature of 70 Degrees Is More Healthful

Austin. — With the advent of cold weather, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued some timely advice concerning room temperature and its relation to health.

"It is very important that inside temperature be maintained at around 68 to 70 degrees," Dr. Cox said. "Thousands of homes are continually overheated in the winter, and a degree of heat is often demanded that would not be tolerated in the summertime."

In a room that is overheated, the body pores are open, and physical harm may result when outside temperature is encountered. Colds, influenza, bronchial troubles and even pneumonia may take advantage of this bodily abuse, and take a serious toll in sickness and even death.

An inside temperature of from 68 to 70 degrees is not only more healthful, but actually more comfortable," Dr. Cox said. "When, added to these factors, the resulting economy is considered, it might be well to check up and see what your thermometer reads. A room temperature within the range suggested, plus the careful maintenance of proper humidity, will help to prevent needless sickness and protect the good health of your family."

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Texas criminals may have a tougher time in the future if state police departments take advantage of the latest War Assets Administration offering. 1,500 surplus fingerprint outfits, complete with case, rubber sheets, powder, tweezers, magnifying glass, scissors and etc., are now for sale to state and municipal police departments. Price per set is $3.98 each. Orders will be accepted at the Fort Worth WAA office, though the entire inventory is located in Louisville, Ky.

Abrasive — nearly $15,000,000 worth in acquisition cost, are being offered for sale on competitive bid basis in a new national program, WAA announced this week. The sale program includes paper and cloth back sticks, stones, hones, and other types, in various sizes and shapes, all natural and synthetic crude and manufactured products except natural carbon abrasives (industrial diamonds) and grinding wheels. The material is offered in lots of not less than $1,000 of acquisition cost. Although the abrasives are located primarily in seven industrial regional offices — it is anticipated that most all WAA offices will have stocks for offering.

A second reminder that is effective Feb. 1, the Fort Worth regional office of WAA, located in the T. & P. building, will move to the plant of North American Aviation at Grand Prairie. The priority of small business to purchase surplus property is still in effect. WAA announced this week to clarify the status of the priority which had been in question since the first of the year. The expiration on Dec. 31 of an act creating the Smaller War Plants Corp., did not effect the function of purchasing surplus for small business by RFC.

Do you want to buy a village? Virtually a complete village of more than 200 buildings, including a flag pole, is being placed on the auction block by War Assets Administration, at the Coffeyville, Kan., Army Air Base. Buildings must be removed from the air base, either in whole or after dismantling. Ranking from sentry boxes to warehouses, the group includes a sheet fange, bowling alleys, fire stations, nurses quarters, mess halls, laboratories, etc. Purchase may be made by four priority groups: government agencies, RFC for small business, state and local governments, and non-profit institutions, now until Jan. 18 through the Kansas City WAA office. Thereafter, holders of veterans housing certificates may bid on the remainder until Feb. 4.

"The Thief of Bagdad" is for a "bad time" if he tries any crooked stuff. WAA announced this week the sale of 16 surplus Navy revolvers to the government of Iraq, which will be used to guard the palace grounds.

Disabled Vets May Enlist in Grade

Time is running short for disabled veterans of World War II to enlist or re-enlist in the Regular Army in the grade they were discharged in. The deadline for such enlistment is 31 January, 1947.

According to Sgt. James Hendrick, of the Childrens Recruiting station, many men think that they may be too badly disabled to pass the physical. If they meet all physical requirements excepting their special disability they are eligible for enlistment. In addition, they will not be required to handle the same job they possessed before discharge but will be trained to a job that fits the disability, which should be of great benefit in civil life.

Any man who at present is drawing disability compensation and is interested in further service can get the full details at Army Recruiting Station, House, Childress, or in the lobby of the Hotel Crowell or the draft board office Monday and Tuesday after-

Where a widely diversified agriculture is possible and profitable.

Where a mild climate means growing crops every month in the year.

Where all-winter pastures of Oats-Clover (mixture) and summer pastures of Sudan and Rhodes Grass mean profitable year round dairying and beef production.

Where fresh vegetables are grown for Northern markets — during the winter months, when most of the Nation is out of production.

Where Oranges, Grapefruit and Lemons yield abundantly and are marketed throughout the year.

Where productive soil, low taxes and operating costs and a 12-month growing season mean more margin of profit.

Where is any other region that can offer as much?

Good soil, low taxes, low irrigation cost and long growing season are basic elements of land values.

As water seeks its level, so will land values seek a level commensurate with its productivity.

If I will continue to receive my disability compensation if I visit the land of my birth?
A. Yes; but you may have to report in due course for a physical examination to determine whether it should be continued.
Q. Will Veterans Administration provide me with quinine or atabrine tablets because of my service in malaria infested countries, even though I have never made application for compensation?
A. Yes. For the time being, if you will present your discharge at a Veterans Administration office and it indicates that you saw service in a malaria infested country, VA will provide you with quinine or atabrine tablets. However, it would be well to establish your rights as of record.

Q. While I was in a Veterans Administration hospital, my clothing was damaged so that I could use it no longer. Is there any way that I can collect for the damage done?
A. You should make application to the manager of the hospital who will appoint a qualified disinterested employee to inquire into the matter, informally and make recommendations. The manager is authorized to dispose of the matter locally or to make formal investigation when the size or circumstances of the loss warrant such action.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for January 19

JESUS INTERVIEWED BY NICODEMUS
LESSON TEXT—John 3:1-11, 16, 17. MEMORY SELECTION—Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.—John 3:3.

How does one become a Christian? This was the question of Nicodemus, and it is the question in the hearts and minds of thousands in every generation. The answer is clear and definite.

The only entrance into the Christian life is by the door of the new birth. Regeneration is the act of God whereby the divine nature is imparted to the believing sinner and he becomes the child of God. He who has not entered by this way has not entered at all. He is still dead in trespasses and sins, without God and without hope (Eph. 2:1, 12).

The Pharisees who looked for the coming of the Messiah as a secular conqueror wondered at this new spiritual leader. It was probably as much on their behalf as his own that Nicodemus came to inquire of Jesus. In answering his questions Jesus reveals the necessity, the nature, and the method of regeneration.

I. The New Birth—a Necessity (vv. 1-7).

Our Lord's visitor was a man of distinction and standing in the community, but Jesus was not unduly impressed by the dignity and high station of his visitor, nor by the visitor's courteous acknowledgment of his own position as a great teacher. With decisive boldness Jesus declares that this man, a cultured and distinguished ruler of the Jews, must be born again, if he is to see the kingdom of God.

God is no respecter of persons. The doctor of divinity must be born again just as much as the unlettered fisherman. D. L. Moody once said that he was thankful it was to such a man as Nicodemus that Jesus presented the necessity of the new birth, or men would have said that only the down-and-outer needed to be saved.

Two reasons are given by our Lord for the "must" of verse 7: (1) The kingdom of God is a spiritual kingdom and cannot be entered by way of our human nature; and (2) "that which is born of the flesh is flesh," and is radically and especially bad. To learn why that is true read Jeremiah 13:23 and Galatians 5:19-21.

Scripture on this point is almost diametrically opposed to much of the teachings in our schools and colleges. But God's Word is right; let us follow it.

II. The New Birth—a Mystery (vv. 8-11).

God has graciously revealed to us "all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge" of Christ (II Pet. 1:3). But it is true—and we say quite appropriately true—that he has some things hidden in his own blessed counsels. We know the experience of the new birth. We see the blessed results of regeneration. But what actually takes place is a divine mystery, not fathomable by human reason. Those who insist that all spiritual truth be put through the little form of their intelligence will never understand it or receive its blessing (I Cor. 2:14).

The striking illustration of the life-giving and energizing wind used by our Lord is most illuminating. Wind is unseen, but the results of its movement are evident. Even so the spiritual rebirth of men is an enigma to the worldly man, but even he can see its results in godly living.

We know that regeneration is not only a possibility, but an actuality, a fact; in truth, the greatest of all facts.

III. The New Birth—a Reality (vv. 16, 17).

Just as there was healing and life in a look at the uplifted serpent in the wilderness (Num. 21:8), so there is life for a look at the Crucified One. Faith receives God's perfect provision for sin.

Verses 16 may well be regarded as the greatest sentence in the greatest Book in the world. It presents the whole plan of salvation—its source, its ground, its recipients, its condition, and its result.

This glorious salvation is for all men—"whosoever"—but some reject it. Notice that God does not condemn them. Their own evil works and desires condemn them (vv. 17-20). God in his grace is ready and willing to save, but men love "darkness rather than light," for their works are evil.

Our tender, loving heavenly Father has no desire to condemn anyone. The man or woman who falls under his condemnation of sin does so by choice. God's desire is that all should be saved.

Will you, unbeliever who reads these lines, respond now to his gracious invitation?

The truth doesn't hurt unless it ought to.—B. C. Forbes.

Weekly Sermon

By Dr. L. Edward Mathews, Assistant Dean of Men, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

How Do You Pray?

The principle of magic is based on the premise that certain formulas, operative under particular conditions, combine to do the will of man. Many people have an idea that prayer is something like that—a sort of magic—whereby one may make known his wishes before God, and He is obligated to carry out man's will.

All too often our wants are made known, rather than our needs. Frequently we are guilty of pressing God to do our will, rather than making unreserved surrender of our wills to Him. It is true that "prayer changes things," but the very first change should be the will of him who prays. Then, and only then, may a child of God approach the loving Father to pour out his heart's desires, together with his adoration and praise.

It has been well said, "If you worry, you don't trust." Obviously, there is much lack of trust in God throughout His family today. We sing, "Standing on the Promises," then proceed to build our spiritual structures upon crumbling foundations. Many seem to have forgotten that "the foundation of God standeth sure"—all others are wholly insecure.

One of my greatest lessons on prayer came to me recently, when my little son, in the unpredictable manner possessed only by boys, came to me and said, "Daddy, I love you." He planted an affectionate kiss on my cheek, and walked away without another word—didn't ask for a thing.

Oh, how we as Christians need to place implicit trust in our heavenly Father and rely on His infinite wisdom and boundless love. He knows our every need! Why not try just going to Him for at least a short time—say a week—and in true devotion and trust say, "I love You?" Such fellowship will result in untold blessings and lead one to a deeper, personal meaning to "Thy will be done."

Better functioning rifles, improved sniperscopes, and new model breakdown mortars, plastic and stainless steel mess trays, woolen socks that will not shrink and tents that withstand insect penetration, are some of the advances in weapons and equipment for the Infantry and other ground force units.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

It Puts Out the Whole String! During the Christmas season just passed I had occasion to overhaul our string of Christmas tree lights. As is usual with these lights I found that one of them was burned out. As a result none of the lights would burn. As every one knows who has had any experience with Christmas tree lights it took a deal of hunting to find out which one of the lights would not function. As soon as it was found and a new light inserted in its place the whole string of lights came in. I thought as I worked with the lights, in my search to find the ailing one, how like a string of Christmas lights is a human life. A person can have ever so many good points such as industry, thrift, honesty and temperance, but if he is mean and unkind it overshadows all his virtues. If by some magic he can be freed from his meanness and unkindness all his virtues come to light. Take from a man any one of his virtues and, like the defective Christmas tree light, it puts out the entire string.

Look up and down any street tonight—many of the most attractive homes in daytime are now dark and uninviting after nightfall.

Turn on the porch light and even the most modest homes stand out as the most charming and gracious in the neighborhood. Where the light is burning you feel that a cordial greeting awaits, that hospitable folks are inside, and that friends are always welcome.

Maybe you haven't been conscious of the friendly significance of that beckoning light. Drive out tonight and feel the difference when you pass the lighted homes.

For one month—two hours nightly—you display this outdoor sign of friendship for about the price of one-half pack of cigarettes. Surprisingly cheap, isn't it?

A. J. Lambert and Miss Schmoker Wed in Vernon Jan. 5

In a candlelight ceremony performed on Sunday evening, Jan. 5, at the St. Paul Lutheran Church in Vernon, Miss Georgia Grace Schmoker and A. J. Lambert of Rayland were married with Rev. J. A. Birnbaum, pastor, officiating. Miss Schmoker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Schmoker of Lockett and Mr. Lambert is the son of Mrs. T. F. Lambert Sr. of Rayland.

Pre-nuptial music was provided by Miss Eugenia Birnbaum, organist, and Stephen Castlebury, vocalist. A subdued melody of "I Love You Truly" was played during the exchange of vows before an altar decorated with white garza mums and greenery.

The bride was attired in a bridal gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a bead-encrusted bodice, and fitted sleeves terminating in petal points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt extended into a cathedral train and her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a halo hat with cluster arrangements of pearls. She carried a white satin-covered Bible topped by a single orchid with streamers of tuberoses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Geneva Schmoker, as maid of honor while Mrs. Wm. C. Haseloff was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Gladys Schmoker, Florence Graham and Mary Lois Lambert of Abernathy. All the bride's attendants wore pastel formal, styled similarly to the bride's gown and each wore matching halo hats, corsages of yellow carnations and blue garza mums.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Loyce Lambert.

Ted Longino Weds Miss Peabody in McLean December 28

Ted Longino, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Longino, residents of Crowell during Rev. Longino's pastorate of the Methodist Church here, and Miss Imogene Peabody, both of McLean were wed in an impressive candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church of McLean on Saturday evening, Dec. 28.

Rev. Longino read the double ring service before a white altar banked by lace fern, with potted amaryllis and an arrangement of gladioli and white tapers in candelabra.

Introducing the ceremony, Miss LeNore Longino, sister of the groom, sang "Dedication" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Boyett at the organ. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride was attired in a street-length powder blue crepe dress with silver nailhead trim and accessories of black. She carried a white Bible topped with a rosebud corsage showered with rosebud petals.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, Miss Billie Thacker was attired in rose-colored crepe with black accessories and her corsage was of white split carnations. The candlelighters, Misses Patsy Lowary and Patsy Dell Tindall, both of Abernathy.

A reception at the Hill Crest Country Club followed the marriage, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. On their return, they will be at home in the Rayland community where Mr. Lambert is engaged in farming.

were dressed in pink with pink flowers in their hair. They carried pink tapers held with lace doilies and pink satin streamers.

Mothers of both bride and groom wore black crepe dresses and wore white carnation corsages. Hugh Longino attended the groom as best man and Harold Longino and Ray Longino were ushers. All are brothers of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the couple was complimented at a reception in the church parlor where a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, and punch was served from a table with a white pineapple, linen cloth with gladioli and lace fern as decoration.

Mrs. Longino is a graduate of McLean High School and has been employed in McLean until recently. The groom graduated from Hamlin High School and attended McMurry College in Abilene before serving three years in the Air Corps. He was a pilot with the 15th Air Force in Italy for nine months.

Mr. and Mrs. Longino will make their home in Austin where Mr. Longino is attending the University of Texas.

The bride has been complimented with parties and showers preceding her marriage.

Miss Besse Gamble to Wed in June

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gamble of Crowell wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Besse Gamble, to Allyn Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gill of Santa Anna, Texas. Miss Gamble is a sophomore in Howard Payne College and Mr. Gill is a senior at the University of Texas.

The wedding date has been announced as June 22. The marriage will take place in Crowell.

Crowell W. S. C. S. Holds Social Meet

The following ladies have been elected as officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church and were installed by Rev. D. D. Denison, pastor, at the morning service, Jan. 5: Mrs. H. E. Thomson, president; Mrs. J. W. Bruce, recording secretary; Mrs. R. R. Magee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. S. Bell, connectional treasurer; Mrs. A. Y. Beverly, local treasurer; Mrs. George Self, secretary of missionary education; Mrs. G. L. Cole, secretary of Christian social relations; Mrs. T. L. Hughston, secretary of publications; Mrs. Lewis Ballard, secretary of supplies; Mrs. J. G. Cooper, secretary of student work; Mrs. A. R. Sanders, secretary of children's work; Mrs. Moody Bursey, secretary of interest group; Mrs. D. D. Denison, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. E. W. Kidd, membership chairman; Mrs. M. S. Henry, press reporter; Mrs. W. B. Tysinger, status of women; Mrs. J. R. Beverly, chairman of parsonage committee.

The first meeting of the year was held on the following Monday with the new president in charge, in the home of Mrs. Denison with Mrs. Denison, Mrs. Clint White, Mrs. Jack McCoy, Mrs. Pearl Lovelady and Mrs. W. H. Moyer as hostesses.

Mrs. T. B. Klepper, as devotional leader, emphasized the general theme of the year, "Of Such is the Kingdom" and urged the co-operation of each member in the work toward caring for the children of the world. Mrs. F. B. Fleisher was assistant leader and used a quiz method in presenting the aims of stewardship concerning the children of the world as the responsibility of everyone toward bringing about peace in future years.

The Pledge service was under the direction of Mrs. S. S. Bell, who plainly presented the reasons for the yearly pledge and told of the good resulting from this money in foreign fields.

Two books, "The Fine Art of Using" by Dr. Sockman and "The Christian Motive and Method in Stewardship" by Henry Burton Trimble, are being studied by the church, the first in the Wednesday evening prayer meetings at the church, under the direction of Rev. Denison and the latter being taught in the WSCS meetings.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

At the meeting of the Columbian Club at the home of Mrs. N. J. Roberts on Wednesday afternoon, January 8th, the following officers were elected to serve for the next two years: Mrs. C. R. Ferguson, president; Mrs. Grady Magee, vice president; Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin, recording secretary; Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hines Clark, treasurer; Mrs. Pearl Carter, parliamentarian. Mesdames Grady Halbert and N. J. Roberts were elected as members of the Executive Board.

Mrs. M. O'Connell was leader of the afternoon's program and spoke on the duties of officers. She, metaphorically, likened the president to the strongest link in the organization, a link to hold the parts together. She again likened the president to the Mother Hen who hovers over her brood and keeps them compact as a functioning body. Mrs. O'Connell continued her analogy by calling the other officers, the Big Girls, who aided their mother in keeping the machinery oiled and in running order, while the Little Girls did the chores and thus the club went forward in perfect order.

Mrs. S. T. Crews summed up the duties of the members by admonishing each member to put the best she had in everything she did and in that way, the club would be what it should be. She said, "Be active, do what you are asked, attend each meeting, entertain when your time comes, pay your dues promptly and co-operate with the officers."

Christmas greetings to the members were read from Mrs. Mattie Belle Hutchison of Covina, Calif., a former Columbian Club member.

The hostess served a delightful refreshment plate following adjournment. The club will meet again on January 22 with Mrs. Sam Crews as hostess.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

On Monday, January 13, members of the Foard City Society of Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. Blake McDaniel. The hostess, who is the Spiritual Life chairman, timed her devotional period to coincide with the broadcast of a religious service and it was planned that each member listen to the daily service and thus form a period of united worship and prayer.

Continuing the program, Mrs. Virgil Johnson touched upon the study, "Of Such is the Kingdom" which will be reviewed this year. Mrs. Grady Halbert read a poem, "Of Such," written by the Japanese Christian, Toyohiko Kagawa. She then told of three Christians and the way they took in leading a child to know his Heavenly Father.

Scriptures were read by Mrs. J. M. Barker, Mrs. John Rader and Mrs. Kenneth Halbert, illustrating Christ's wish that children be brought to Him.

Using a poster to impress upon her listeners, Mrs. J. V. Patterson gave a reading by Kagawa. The welfare of the children of the world is our concern and Kagawa's thought—that our lives are as big as the Godly work we do—was a challenge to those present.

In the solemn candlelighting ceremony, Mrs. Johnson dedicated our thought, our time, our talent and our treasure. As each was dedicated, a candle was lighted and a prayer was offered.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. W. L. Johnson, the president, held the business session, at which time plans for Life Membership funds were discussed. Mrs. Tom Callaway dismissed the meeting with a prayer. Sixteen were present for the first meeting of the year.

HONORED AT COLLEGE

Miss Reba Bartley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bartley, who is a student at McMurry College in Abilene, and who is majoring in Speech, has been chosen as one of ten students of the Speech Department, to help in the production of Shakespearean plays and popular symphonies in the Speech Studio at the college each Sunday afternoon.

Miss Bartley is a graduate of Slaton High School where she was a class favorite in her sophomore and senior years. She is a Freshman at McMurry.

Nothing is achieved before it be thoroughly attempted.—Sir Philip Sidney.

ings by Mrs. Denison. Both books emphasize the work of Christians as stewards, the theme being stressed by the entire church. A lovely refreshment was served to those present.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The regular meeting of the Adelpian Club on January 8 featured the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Hubert Brown was elected president; Mrs. Clint White, vice president; Mrs. Louis Purvis, recording secretary; Mrs. Garland Rasberry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. A. Dunn, treasurer; Mrs. Merle Kincaid, parliamentarian; Mrs. Grady Graves, federation counselor; and Mrs. Earl Manard, reporter.

Mrs. Hubert Brown, leader, discussed "Tomorrow We Go Places." The means of travel promise speed and convenience in this post war period. Travel by bus, train and boat is forced to develop in order to compete with the increasing speed by plane which now has reduced the travel time from Fort Worth to New York from thirty-eight hours by train to eleven hours by plane.

Buses will be equipped with sleepers, double-deck style, and with smoking and lounge rooms.

Trains with light weight cars travel one hundred miles per hour now making through schedule from Chicago to Galveston cutting the time by eight hours.

Boats, equipped with glassed-in decks and portable furnishings, will encourage travel by water. Planes with a seating capacity of two hundred and five will soon cruise through the air. The cabin will be so pressurized that an altitude of eight thousand feet will feel like that at sea level. Solid comfort will be afforded when one's head is placed on a pillow containing a miniature radio set, the feet are stretched out on a foot rest, an individual light is turned on to enable hours of reading and rest while speeding across the universe.

As many as twenty-five different types of games may be enjoyed while traveling on a T. W. A. plane. So with all these conveniences in store, each American should get out his map and pick out his favorite spot for vacation and really "Go places."

Mrs. J. C. Prosser gave "Tips on New Magazines." Our county library is well equipped with modern magazines. Three new ones are "Holiday," "Today's Woman," and "The Nature Magazine."

"Holiday" is filled with pictures of beautiful scenes and helpful information to anyone interested in the beauties in store throughout the nation. "Today's Woman" is a well balanced magazine containing a novel, articles on fashion, health, etc.; features on home decoration, recipes, etc., that any home maker is interested in. "The Nature Magazine" is especially helpful in teaching children of the kinds of animals that roam the earth.

Mrs. E. C. King, federation counselor, gave reassuring news from the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

She stated that the important movement before world today is one that has adopted by the Women's Federation. The National President, Mrs. E. C. King, accompanied five men on a Russia trying to better understand our relations with country.

After adjournment Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Nelson phant, hostesses, served delicious refreshment plate, twenty-one members present.
