House Ducks Showdown On Daniel's Proposals

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—The House today ducked at least until next week a showdown on the first of Gov. Price Daniel's deficit-retiring proposals.

It voted to postpone until Tuesday action on the measure making a bookkeeping change which Daniel says would slash 18 million dollars from the current 65 million dollar general fund deficit.

The bill is the only one of the governor's recommendations to reach the calendar after approval by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee. It was high on today's agenda.

Interest centered on the record-breaking two and a half billion dollar spending bill recommended to the House last night by its Appropriations Committee. It would require 92 million dollars in new taxes.

The appropriation bill calls for an increase of $42,435,748 from the general revenue fund during he fiscal biennium starting Sept. 1.

This compares with an increase of 48 million dollars from general revenue suggested by Gov. Daniel. Daniel's plans for abolishing the current general fund deficit and balancing the budget are for the most part still hung up in the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Spokesmen for the revenue committee have said they were awaiting the word on just how much will be needed from the appropriations committee. One of Daniel's anti-deficit bills has moved from the committee to the House calendar, a bookkeeping change that the governor says would help the defict by 18 million dollars.

The revenue committee scheduled additional hearings on pending tax bills toda.

This may be the last legislative day until next week if the House and Senate can agree on a suggested Easter holiday of five days.

Committee action on the big appropriations bill for state departments, the courts, colleges and state hospitals and special schools moves the session nearer a fiscal-showdown. Heatly said the bill would be on members' desks Monday and it could be taken up Thursday or Friday of next week.

The total in the huge bill calls for an expenditure of $2,401,276,383 during the next two years. Much of this comes from such sources as federal aid, and the legislature's headache deals mainly with that which derives from the general revenue fund. That is the fund now laboring under a deficit, and into which new taxes must flow if the budget is to be balanced.

The spending bill also does not take into consideration scores of spending requests that may be considered when it is disposed of, such as additional state aid on public school teachers pay or other spending contemplated by the Hale-Aiken School Study Committee.

The committee recommended college spending from the general fund of $182,438,412, an increase of $23,804,432 over the current figure. This was what the higher education commission recommended, Heatly said.

For the courts, the recommendation was $9,205 101, up $181,131; hospitals and special schools, $94,429,488, up $10,321,186; state departments, $60,652,369, up $6,428,999.

New Weather Spree On Tap For State

By The Associated Press

The Weather Bureau forecast tornadoes and severe thunderstorms Wednesday for a small portion of bad weather. Earlier, the agency forecast snow and subfreezing temperatures in the Upper Panhandle during the night and thunderstorms over most of the state.

The tornado warning listed an area from Memphis in the southeast Panhandle, southeast to Crowell, then northeast to Vernon and northwestward back to Memphis.

The Weather Bureau warned that snow which may range up to 3 inches is expected to sweep into the upper Texas Panhandle Wednesday night. The forecasters said thunderstorms can be expected over most of the state during the day and night as a cold front whips through.

At dawn, the Midland Weather Bureau office issued a special warning of severe thunderstorm possibilities northwest of the Midland-Odessa area in far West Texas. The warning remained in force until 10:30 a.m.

The alerted cities were Monahans, Andrews, Kermit, Wink, Seminole and Hobbs, N.M.

The weather agency reported a potentially intense storm centered near the Oklahoma Panhandle during the early morning.

It forecast snow mixed with freezing rain or rain sweeping from the South and Central Rockies into parts of the Central United States, with Texas on the fringes of the cold air movement.

Around dawn, the cold front extended through the Panhandle from just east of Amarillo south to Hobbs, N.M., to Salt Flat, Tex., to west of Presidio. The front moved slowly eastward. Light showers fell at that time in parts of the Panhandle.

Official forecasts called for temperatures as low as 22 degrees in the Panhandle, ranging upward to 32 degrees. The three inch level of snow is expected to be reached by early Thursday.

Charges Of Mobsters Using Unions Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators look today into charges that mobsters used labor unions as pawns in maneuvering for monopoly control of Miami area jukebox operations.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Labor-Management Committee hearing will center on Joseph (Joe Scootch) Indellicato and Charles Karpf, whom he described as Miami racketters, and their relations with jukebox operator Joseph Mangone and others.

Among other things, Kennedy said, the hearing will show that racketeers sought variously to use the Upholsterers Union, the Textile Workers Union, the Electrical Workers and the Teamsters in battling for complete control of Miami's jukebox industry.

Kennedy said the committee has evidence that strong arm violence was used against those who refused to bow to underworld demands.

The hearing marks another chapter in the committee's investigation of charges of a coast-to-coast plot by gangsters and corrupt labor union officials to muscle in on lucrative jukebox and other coin machine operations.

The committee had a brief encounter Tuesday with two old underworld figures, Mickey Cohen and Fred Sica. Both ducked behind Fifth Amendment pleas when questioned about allegations of shakedowns in Los Angeles against George M. Seedman, a cigarette vending machine operator.

Cohen, who insists he is leading an honest life, also refused to tell whether he owes the government more than a half million dollars of income taxes, or to discuss his sources of income. He said answers might incriminate him.

As for the shakedowns alleged by one witness, Cohen refused to say whether he and Sica had collected $11,000 as a price for being neutral in a trade war between Seedman and some business rivals.

Nor would he say whether the alleged payments came after Cohen reportedly told of being offered $50,000 if he would "put Mr. Seedman's lights out."

Testimony about that purported threat came from Tom Vaughn, a New Orleans cigarette machine operator. Vaughn said he handed $11,000 of Seedman's money to Cohen and Sica.

But he added that he does not now believe either man was working for the rival Coast Cigarette Venders, Inc.

Coast's Vice President Myer Carr and salesman William Breen testified they had rejected an offer to help from Sica for a $25,000 fee. They said they never had paid a cent to either Cohen or Sica.

Question Mother In Death Of Two

HIBERNIA, N.J. (AP)—Bodies of two babies were found in a clothes basket in a rural home Tuesday night. One had been bludgeoned, the other suffocated.

The children, Katherine Church, 2, and her brother, Kenneth, 6 months, were found swathed in a blanket.

Police Chief Ernest Powers said the mother, Mrs. Ruth Church, 38, a former schoolteacher, will be given a psychiatric examination. No charges have been filed.

Brooks Church, 40, a microbiologist, came home from work to find his wife and two other children, Elizabeth, 14, and Stephen, 9, under the influence of drugs.

The children later told police their mother gave them sleeping tablets and told them they were calcium pills.

Powers said Mrs. Church told Robert Burdge, a friend of the family, that she had killed the babies.

Her husband quoted her as saying: "They are gone away and are never coming back."

Church told police: "I can't believe it. She was a wonderful wife and mother."

The Churches moved here several years ago from Youngstown, Ohio. Church, 40, works for the Warner-Lamber Pharmaceutical Co. at nearby Morris Plains.

The bodies of the babies were found in a playhouse 50 feet from the Church home.

Police said Katherine had been bludgeoned with a blunt instrument but they had not determined what it was. Kenneth died of suffocation, police said.

Hibernia is about 40 miles west of New York City.

City Police Car Involved In Mishap

There was no injury this morning in a two-car collision here which involved a Snyder police car.

Involved were a 1956 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Sterling Abby Taylor, 63, of 2208 Twenty-seventh Street, and a city police unit, a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Alfred Arthur Kohl, 30, of 2408 Thirty-second Street.

There was some property damage to both cars in the 10 a.m. accident, according to Gordon Johnson, highway patrolman. The accident occurred at the intersection of Avenue W and Twenty-sixth Street.

Living Costs Dip Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower food prices pushed the nation's living costs down one-tenth of one per cent in February.

The Labor Department Statistics Bureau said its index declined to 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This is the highest February index point on record, however, 1 per cent above last year.

For January the index stood at 123.8, a fraction under the record of 123.9 set last July and equaled in November.

All consumer price items, except food, averaged higher in February. Food prices dropped seven-tenths of a per cent, resuming a decline interrupted in January after five consecutive months.

Ewan Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, said the prospect for the next few months is that living costs will continue in a narrow range.

Paper Says Tibetan Revolt Covers All Mountain Area

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Tibetan revolt against Chinese Communist rule has spread throughout the mountain land, an Indian newspaper close to the Nehru government reported today.

Reports persisted fighting had subsided in the capital of Lhasa, with the Reds still in command. But the pro-government Hindustan Times said the rebellion had spread to all corners of Tibet and that the Dalai Lama was "not in Chinese hands."

There was no official confirmation of the Hindustan Times report.

The whereabouts of the 23-year-old Asian monarch, worshipped by Tibetans as the reincarnation of Buddha, and his role in the rebellion still were vague.

"According to one version, he went underground before the fighting started in Lhasa five days ago," the Times said, "and his palace is now guarded by Chinese pickets."

The more general theory, however, was that the youthful god-king was still in his 1,000-room hillside palace under Communist surveillance.

A spokesman for the Indian government, which has the only foreign [illegible] in Lhasa, said he had "no correct information" on the latest developments in Tibet.

On Formosa, Chinese Nationalist officials, cheered by the revolt, said that Red China was rushing strong reinforcements to Tibet, where the occupation force has been estimated at 50,000 troops.

Chiang Kai-shek met with top leaders of his government in Taipei to discuss ways of capitalizing on the Tibetan uprising. The Chinese Nationalists — like the Communists—still consider Tibet a part of China.

20 Heroin Peddlers Nabbed By Raiders

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—[illegible] narcotics agents and other lawmen nabbed 20 alleged heroin peddlers in pre-dawn raids today.

Lt. Charlie Doerr, head of the police narcotics squad, appeared secretly before the grand jury yesterday and provided information which led to the indictment of 32 on charges of selling dope.

A rookie policeman, whose identity Police Chief George Bichsel asked to be kept secret, posed as a heroin addict and made purchases from all 32 suspects. Doerr said that represents the most buys made by any one officer in a San Antonio dope crackdown.

U. S. Won't Accept Orders To Summit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he believes the Western Allies will have to meet at the summit with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get any sort of valid agreement on German problems.

But no one is going to command the United States and the other Western powers to show up at a top level conference, the President told a news conference emphatically.

The West will not be bluffed or blackmailed into going to the summit, he said.

Eisenhower thus said anew, although indirectly, that his attendance at any summit meeting will be contingent on progress at an earlier conference of East-West foreign ministers.

The President was asked specifically whether he attaches any conditions to meeting at the summit with Khrushchev and this country's Western Allies.

At the time of Eisenhower's talk with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan there were reports from British quarters that Eisenhower had agreed unconditionally to go to a summit meeting.

Today the President noted that the reply of the Western Allies to a March 2 Soviet note regarding a summit conference has now been coordinated with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. That reply, he added, will be made public soon, and the answer to the matter of any conditions in connection with a summit meeting will be disclosed in that note.

But he went on to say that his convictions concerning a summit conference have been known for years and that he never has changed them.

He added he doesn't expect to change them unless something cataclysmic develops.

That was an obvious allusion to his statements, as recently as a week ago, that he would go to a summit meeting if developments in the meantime should warrant it.

At another point Eisenhower was asked to explain just what he had in mind when he said last week in a nationwide television-radio address that there must be justification for a summit meeting.

He replied that he meant progress — obviously at an earlier foreign ministers conference—that would justify a top level conference.

Still later at today's session with newsmen, Eisenhower was asked whether he felt anything worthwhile could come of a meeting with Soviet representatives at anything less than the summit level.

The President replied it is perfectly clear that Khrushchev is the only man with sufficient authority to negotiate for the Soviet Union with the West and make it stick.

Any Russian of lesser status, he said, would have to be on the telephone to Moscow all the time, checking with Khrushchev.

The President went on then to say if we are going to get anything of substance from the Russians — if we are going to get a valid agreement — then Khrushchev has got to be in the picture.

Eisenhower's news conference was dominated by discussion of the prospects for a summit conference and a settlement of the Berlin crisis.

But the President did touch on these other matters:

DULLES — He will never let ailing Secretary of State Dulles leave government service so long as Dulles feels able to work in some capacity.

Without saying so specifically, the President thus indicated that he has given thought to keeping Dulles on, possibly as a foreign policy adviser, even if Dulles' illness should make it necessary for him to resign as secretary of state.

Dulles advised him this morning, the President reported, that he is planning to leave for Florida Monday for a period of recreation and convalescence.

Dulles' doctors, Eisenhower said, are hopeful he will be able to get back into harness in a reasonable time, but so far have given no specific information on whether radiation treatments Dulles has been receiving have checked his cancer.

PROJECT ARGUS—The government will make public later in the day a report on Project Argus—the explosion last September of three atomic devices about 300 miles in outer space.

Eisenhower made that announcement when a reporter asked whether the Argus tests would alter the U.S. position in attempts to negotiate a ban on nuclear testing with Russia and Britain.

Eisenhower said the Argus tests were a new development and that it has taken months to evaluate the results. That evaluation amounted to separating the scientific aspects from the military, the President said. As for the prospects of a ban on nuclear weapons testing in the atmosphere alone, it still is too early to tell about that, Eisenhower said. The basic question, he added, is the Soviet insistence so far on the right to impose a veto in any agreement negotiated. That has been one of the big stumbling blocks at the negotiations which started last October.

Snyderite Dragged To Death By Horse

Jim Sealy, about 22, of Snyder was killed yesterday afternoon when a horse dragged him for a long distance in Borden County.

Sealy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Sealy, 3101 Avenue V.

Working on the Ophelia Blackard portion of the Dorward Ranch in Borden County, about 12 miles northwest of Gail, Sealy was thrown from his horse as the horse fell. His leg was caught in the loop, and the horse ran and dragged him.

Funeral services are pending at Bell Funeral Home but will probably be held sometime tomorrow afternoon at the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Hillside Memorial Gardens. The Rev. G. M. Cole, First Baptist pastor, will officiate, assisted by Glen Pace, minister of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ.

Sealy had been dead for some time when found. He was found at about 7 p.m. yesterday by his parents and Miss Pat Merriott, a school teacher here. They had gone to the ranch to seek him after he had not come home yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Sid Reeder of Gail, who investigated the accident, said the horse dragged Sealy three to four miles across brush and rock.

Apparently Sealy had started to rope something as the horse began to cross the ravine and fell. As the horse fell, Sealy was thrown over the horse's head, and his leg caught in the loop of the rope, which was made of nylon.

The horse got up and ran, dragging Sealy behind, going close to four miles before tiring and stopping.

Reeder said Sealy had a wrist watch, and while being dragged it was destroyed. It was found about one and one-half miles from where the horse had fallen, and it was stopped at 1:25. Reeder said he assumed the accident occurred shortly before that time.

Sealy was a 1955 graduate of Snyder High School and was well-known as a rodeo performer. He had been an outstanding bull rider in junior rodeos while in high school and other rodeos later.

Survivors include his parents and four brothers, A. B. Sealy, who is in the Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton, Cal.; Don Sealy of Odessa; Bob Sealy, who is in the Navy at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station; and Dick Sealy who is in the Navy and at Camp Pendleton, Cal.

VOTING SEASON CONTINUES IN 'FRIENDLY' RACE

The voting season continues in The Snyder Daily News contest to name the "friendliest, most courteous" woman employe and "friendliest, most courteous" man employe in Snyder.

Winners in the contest each will receive a $50 U. S. Savings Bond, while all nominees become members of the "Courtesy Club" and receive official membership cards.

You may vote for your favorite employes — anyone employed in a mercantile firm, service establishment, or office is eligible — by writing your selections on the official ballot. The ballot may be found in the big advertisement on Page 8 of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Mail, or bring, your ballot to The Snyder Daily News and help choose the "friendliest, most courteous" employes. Owners, managers and partners in business firms are not eligible, since the contest is for employes only.

Ike's Legislative Triumph May Cost Party Politically

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bipartisan House vote for increased spending has given President Eisenhower a major legislative victory but may cost Republicans in Congress some 1960 campaign [illegible].

With heavy Democratic and Republican support, the House late Tuesday shouted approval of a $2,657,402,944 supplemental appropriation bill after handing its Appropriations Committee one of its worst setbacks in years.

The principal victory for Eisenhower lay in inclusion of 100 million dollars for the foreign aid development loan program. He had asked 225 millions but the committee had allowed nothing.

In addition, the House increased funds for eight other agencies for the remaining three months of the present fiscal year, though not as much as Eisenhower had asked.

None of the spending will directly affect the 77-billion-dollar budget Eisenhower has proposed for next year.

As the bill went to the Senate, it allotted $177,880,500 more than the committee had approved, but still was $207,351,532 below the total requested by the President.

Extra money added to the committee's usually inviolate recommendations were the 100 million for the Development Loan Fund, $50,300,000 for defense education programs, $100,000 for the Recreation Resources Review Commission, 2½ million for the District of Columbia, $3,300,500 for in-patient veterans, $554,000 for out-patient care of veterans, $2,100,000 for the Treasury Department, 18 million for the Post Office Department and $20,000 for the Narcotics Bureau.

Much of the added money was asked to pay for salary increases Congress voted last year.

Although the money for the Development Loan Fund fell 125 million dollars short of what the President had sought, it was the amount agreed upon as "realistic" by his House leaders.

The fund is used to make loans to friendly foreign nations for economic development under the foreign aid program. The loans are repayable mainly in foreign currencies but members who oppose them claimed little if any ever would be repaid in any kind of money.

Rep. John J. Rooney (D-NY) offered the amendment giving the fund 100 million dollars. Only a handful of Midwestern Republicans and a bloc of Southern Democrats opposed it on the final 183-59 standing vote.

Hearing Is Delayed On Hedy's Petition

HOUSTON (AP)—A hearing on actress Hedy Lamarr's counteraction to a divorce suit filed by oilman Howard Lee was postponed today until April 14.

Judge Wilmer Hunt approved the delay when advised that Miss Lamarr's attorneys had [illegible] detained elsewhere.

Lee filed his divorce petition Feb. 3, alleging mental cruelty. Miss Lamarr's counteraction was filed two weeks ago and seeks $7,500 a month in support payments pending disposition of the divorce suit. Her petition also seeks a temporary injunction against Lee disposing of community property.

Miss Lamarr's petition estimates that Lee, her fifth husband, has an estate in excess of one million dollars and an income of $20,000 a month.

Junior Editors Quiz on COLORING EGGS

QUESTION: How and where did the custom of coloring Easter eggs arise?

• • •

ANSWER: The ancient peoples looked upon spring as a gay time of the year. Forests and fields were turning bright green after the dull brown of the long winter. Since eggs were their symbol of spring's rebirth, it was natural for the people to paint them in gay colors.

The Easter season, too, is a happy time for Christians because Easter Sunday was the day the Savior was resurrected from the tomb. Christians adopted the ancient custom of painting eggs to indicate their happiness.

The first egg paintings were very crude but gradually, as technique improved, they became very beautiful indeed. The peasant women of eastern Europe long have been noted for the elaborate and beautiful designs they paint on Easter eggs.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: When it is time for you to color your Easter eggs, try painting the design in hot wax. When the wax has set, color the unwaxed portions of the egg with regular egg dye. Then scrape off the wax and note the beautiful design you have made by this unusual method.

• • •

Notaries Must File

Notaries now holding commissions will be reappointed by Zollie Steakley, secretary of state, but they must requalify by filing new oaths and bonds with Dan Cotton, county clerk.

Cotton said there are now 343 notaries public in Scurry County.

Those who are now notaries and who desire reappointment must file their oaths and bonds between June 1 and June 10. Any who are not notaries and desire appointment must apply to the county clerk between April 1 and May 20.

Requests for reappointment should not be sent directly to the secretary of state. The law requires the county clerk to approve notary bonds.

Any person applying for a notary commission must be at least 21 years old and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. Exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the county clerk.

Constitution Halts Release

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Although he was sympathetic to the request, Pennsylvania's constitution stopped the judge from freeing a 90-year-old man accused of killing his aged and sick wife.

The unusual request to free George Hope, at least until his trial starts, was made in Common pleas Court Tuesday by Asst. Dist. Atty. Paul M. Chalfin and Albert S. Oliensis, the old man's attorney.

But Judge Ethan A. Doty said the constitution allows bail in all but capital cases where the proof is evident or presumption of guilt is great.

The two attorneys had sought to have Hope released in the custody of his daughter, Lucy Dickie, 61, of Newburyport, Mass.

Hope remained in a hospital bed Tuesday while his 90-year-old wife, Ada, was buried.

State Worker Is Sentenced

AUSTIN (AP)—Jess M. Mansfield, veteran state worker, was given a five-year suspended sentence last night on conviction of taking $13,000 in money belonging to the state.

Mansfield, an employee of the State Comptroller's Department 25 years, pleaded guilty to misapplication of $13,014 in motor fuel taxes paid by an Austin service station.

He was auditor in charge of issuing permits to retail outlets for special fuels, such as diesel oil.

The station involved in the case specializes in servicing trucks. Gus Farrar, chief clerk in the comptroller's department said at the time of Mansfield's arrest that the operator of the station apparently was not involved in the alleged misuse of funds.

The charges, filed against Mansfield, 58 on Nov. 26, alleged that he had the station operator make tax payment checks payable directly to Mansfield.

Three Stores Destroyed In Benjamin Fire

BENJAMIN, Tex. (AP) — A spectacular fire burned three stores in the downtown section of this small West Texas town last night.

A brisk wind and limited water supplies hampered firemen as they fought the stubborn flames for more than three hours.

They used all the water in an overhead storage tank and had to stretch lines to a small lake about a mile from town.

Destroyed were two groceries and a hardware store. Two nearby unoccupied buildings were damaged by water.

Ronny Hamilton, son of T. E. Hamilton, owner of a grocery store, said the blaze broke out in an air conditioner.

Unofficial estimates put damages at $100,000.

One fireman, Leo Benham, suffered a cut hand.

Firemen from nearby Munday, Knox City and Seymour helped battle the flames.

Benjamin is about 80 miles southwest of Wichita Falls.

Negro Is Held On Shooting Complaint

Snyder police have in custody a Negro man who they are holding on complaint signed by his wife that he fired a shot at her about 1:20 o'clock this morning.

The shot was said to have been fired from a .22 caliber gun, but it did not strike her, police said.

Police said charges would be filed in justice court against the man.

Plain talk to the man who thinks "all cars are built alike today"

J. EMMET JUDGE

"The one thing we know car buyers want above all in an automobile is quality. Yet many people assume that all cars today are pretty much the same in this respect.

This is far from being the case. I can name at least 30 basic differences in the design of our '59 Mercury. Naturally, we feel these differences make Mercury a better car. For example:

EXTRA STRENGTH STARTS WITH THE FRAME
The backbone of every Mercury is the frame. We use a heavy box-type construction—the heaviest in the industry. Competitors use frames that are up to 125 pounds lighter.

WE BUILD QUALITY YOU CAN SEE
Compare the way Mercury builds engine hoods. Most competitive cars use what is known as a single-panel construction. This type of hood can be twisted and turned with the slightest pressure—often flutters and vibrates when the car is in motion. At Mercury, on the other hand, we use a double-panel construction—two layers of steel with the insulation sandwiched in between. Not only is Mercury's hood more rigid, but it looks better.

YOU FEEL THE QUALITY WITH EVERY STOP...
Mercury brakes are the largest in the field—with up to 22% more brake lining than competitive cars. And only Mercury in its field has brakes that adjust themselves mechanically. You save money by eliminating periodic adjustments. And you are safer because Mercury brakes stay properly adjusted for the life of the linings.

...AND EVERY TIME YOU TAKE THE WHEEL
All 1959 Mercurys have a flexible coupling installed in the steering system. This acts as an insulator—absorbs road shocks that would otherwise travel up to the steering wheel. Mercury, unlike some cars, gives you this with either manual or power steering.

WE HAVE PLENTY OF PROOF THAT THIS IS THE BEST-BUILT CAR IN AMERICA TODAY
We know it is the greatest Mercury ever designed and built. Never in Mercury's 20-year history have we had so much value in the product itself. Mercury has advantages everywhere over competition. The four described on this page are only typical. In future messages I'll tell you about dozens more—in styling, comfort, in everything you want in a car."

OUR VIEW

Urban Areas Absorb Growth

The issue of equitable representation in the state legislature has been raised again in Austin, and it is taking a trend that no one would have dared mention a few years ago.

The "big city" legislators complain that their districts are beyond any logical proportion population-wise, and their argument appears well founded. Yet, the bare mention of a city-rural line of debate is likely to force any proposal for substantial adjustment into oblivion.

Texas is a growing state, as legislators along with other citizens are keenly aware today. However, the growth has attached itself almost exclusively to the urban areas. While the state is gaining population by leaps and bounds, the numbers are dwindling in rural zones.

There are fewer farmers now than there were a quarter of a century ago, or even 10 years ago, and many of those who continue to follow vocations in the field of agriculture have "moved to town."

Counties, of course, face a similar situation on a smaller scale but much closer to home. Excepting the few "metropolitan" areas, there was a time when most of the population in the average county could be found outside the boundaries of incorporated cities and towns.

In some cases, of course, "town" people have moved to the country while farmers have moved their families to town.

Still, the "town people" are in the majority today, and despite the fact that most of us remain "country people" at heart, adjustments in representation at all levels of government will evolve sooner or later.

Indeed, the greatest supposed differential between "city" and "rural" dwellers has been virtually eliminated. We refer to the standard of living, which is practically equal today. If there is a difference, the advantage probably leans toward the rural dweller.

Taxpayers Given Good Juggling Act

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers can get double vision looking at the Washington juggling act.

President Eisenhower proposed a budget which he said could be balanced. He offered to show how. But his figures were so thin and iffy only magic could make them out right.

The Democrats, stinging under his charge that they're the big spenders, are trying some magic of their own, plus defiance. They are complaining his budget is much too low for what the country needs.

Eisenhower, calling on the Democratic-run Congress to keep down spending in the 1960 fiscal year starting July 1, offered a budget of 77 billion dollars and estimated revenue at $77,100,000,000. That is cutting it pretty thin.

Eisenhower figured the government would wind up 100 million dollars to the good if Congress agreed to raise 600 million more in revenue by boosting the gasoline tax and postal rates.

It is a pretty good bet Congress won't.

So the idea of a balanced budget already looks academic, particularly in view of what Congress already has done to some of Eisenhower's thoughts on spending.

But what Eisenhower proposed and what the Democrats are doing will give politicans of both parties plenty of ground for argument right up to election day in 1960.

Remember: In this present 1959 fiscal year which ends June 30, the budget is already unbalanced with a deficit of perhaps 13 billion dollars. It's the 1960 budget, starting July 1, that Eisenhower has talked of balancing.

He asked $1,375,000,000 for this country's subscription to the International Monetary Fund. He wanted the expense charged to the 1959 fiscal year, with its already well-known deficit.

The Democratic-run Senate voted the money but charged it to fiscal 1960 expenses. If the House goes along, the Democrats can argue Eisenhower himself threw his own 1960 budget out of balance by asking this money. Chances are in this case the House won't go along.

It would be a rare taxpayer who could figure out the difference between charging an expense to the 1959 budget or the 1960 budget.

Then there's the Development Loan Fund, a government agency which makes long-term loans to underdeveloped countries to get them moving. Last year Congress voted—for fiscal 1959—225 million dollars less than Eisenhower asked for this fund.

But fiscal 1959 doesn't end till June 30 and the fund is already running dry. Eisenhower asked that the 225 million, dropped last year, be voted now and charged to 1959.

The House Appropriations Committee voted to give him not a dime. Later this year, of course, it could vote to give him the 225 million along with what he asked for next year, but charge it all to fiscal 1960, thus throwing his budget further out of balance.

This, too, the Democrats could point to as an example how the economy - preaching Eisenhower was piling up expense. But Tuesday the full House overruled its committee and voted Eisenhower 100 million to be charged to 1959 expenses.

Here's a good example of Congress voting more than Eisenhower asked. He wanted for fiscal 1960 about 33 million dollars for loans and grants to communities in distress because of continuing unemployment.

The Senate voted 389 million.

Competition For Retirement Income

NEW YORK (AP) — What are you going to live on when you're old?

Even some of the rock 'n' roll generation may think about that once in a while. And the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on variable annuities brings up today all the many—and competing—forms of retirement income that are available to Americans.

A rock 'n' roller is likely to dismiss the question of cash in old age by saying the government will take care of it. He means old age pensions, and all the other benefits that federal and state governments hand out these days.

Workers also either have or hope for some form of retirement pension—a matter for negotiation between themselves and their bosses—and also dependent in some cases on the continuing existence of the company for which they work. Many civil servants have similar pension plans. Some unions have funds for aiding their retired members.

Then you come to the list of income which an individual provides for himself entirely on his own. These forms compete with each other for the individual's savings. This is one reason the variable annuity was brought before the U.S. Supreme Court.

In a 5-4 ruling Monday the court held that the Securities and Exchange Commission should have jurisdiction over variable annuity contracts. In the past they were subject to regulation only by state insurance authorities.

The usual type of annuity as sold by insurance companies provides for a fixed return in dollars, starting at a time and continuing over a period set forth in the contract.

The variable annuity offers payment in dollar amounts that go up and down in line with market value of the corporate stocks into which the insurance company has put the reserve funds involved. The argument is that stock prices will go up when the cost of living rises and that thus the annuity holder will have a fairly stable standard of living.

Many insurance officials—who don't like the variable kind—challenge this argument. They say the stock market is no reliable barometer of inflation, nor is continuing inflation as inevitable as some contend. Also they don't like the competition which variable annuities might give the standard kind which these companies propose to sell only.

There are forms of insurance besides annuities that have retirement pay features.

Another competitor is the mutual fund. Holders of this form of security also have their returns tied to the investing skill of the fund's management and to some extent to the rise and fall of the market value of such investments.

Dealers in stocks and bonds, and the exchanges on which they trade, also tend to look upon the variable annuity as a competitor. Many persons buy stocks and bonds with the aim of assuring an income in old age, either through dividends or capital gains.

Dealers and exchange officials naturally prefer that individuals buy stocks through them rather than through insurance companies. And they hold that if insurance companies do enter this field they should be subject to the same regulation—through the Securities and Exchange Commission—as are the security dealers or those floating new securities.

Audrey Meadows Likes Busy Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't want to play Lady MacBeth or be a big fat star," said Audrey Meadows. "I just want to keep working.

"I'm a kind of slap-happy character. I've loved every show I've been on."

And titian-haired Audrey, the China-born daughter of an Episcopal missionary — she used to teach Sunday School — has been a standout in practically every branch of the entertainment field.

She started as a concert singer at 16. She sang and danced in Broadway musicals. She became known as television's brightest, breeziest young comedienne.

After a two-year layoff, she resumed her career as a quiz show performer and guest star. This Friday night she tries a new role, pinch - hitting for Edward R. Murrow.

"I'm glad they had a sinking spell and hired me for this job," she said, cheerfully. "I've always wanted to be a newspaper gal."

"I've been very fortunate in the shows I've been on and the people I've worked with," said Audrey, who has a nice trait of always speaking well of the other fellow.

She brings a great gusto to living and enjoys a varied life. Because the only musical instrument she can play is the piano—"with one finger"—she plans to take lessons on the guitar.

"I suffer from the feeling there isn't time to do everything I want to," she said. "But I guess if there were time, that would be complete boredom, wouldn't it? It would be frightening."

Her favorite color is bright red. She says it makes her feel good. She likes to read, water ski, cook and watch baseball and football.

The only thing that bores her is "a closed mind." The thing that attracts her most is "a curious mind."

"So many people today are negative," she said. "I believe in kindness and a faith in something or someone beyond ourselves. If we all practiced kindness on a larger scale, we'd have fewer misunderstandings on all levels.

"I don't believe much in anger or fear.

"The only thing that really makes me angry is the sight of injustice. The only thing that scares me is the elements—hurricanes, lightning, thunder.

"I don't have many social fears. If there is a job I know I can't do, I don't take it."

Asked what her epitaph would be if she could write it herself, Audrey grinned and said:

"She tried—poor soul!"

BRIDGE WORK CONTINUES—Employes of Jones Construction Co. of Big Spring are pictured above rolling one of the six-foot diameter "whistlers" into place at the Twenty-eighth Street crossing of Deep Creek under construction. Five of the huge tubes will be placed in the bed of the creek and cemented into place to form a low-water crossing of the creek. Work on a Thirtieth Street crossing is also progressing rapidly. Both crossings will afford new cross-town streets for Snyder. (Lee Watson photograph)

Good Management May Ease Water Woes, Cattlemen Told

DALLAS (AP) —Texas' water problems will increase in number and complexity but are not a cause for alarm, a staff member of the U. S. Geological Survey declared today.

"These problems will require more and more sound scientific knowledge as a basis for water management," said Dr. R. L. Nance in a speech prepared for delivery to the convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn.

Noting that the principal bulk use of water in Texas is for irrigation, Nance said 'of total withdrawls of 18,780,000 acre - feet of water, irrigation farming used 74.5 per cent, industry 17.5 per cent and municipalities eight per cent. Irrigation loses a high proportion of its water that is drawn from the ground—especially so during the recent drought.

Emphasizing that planning and management are essential to solving the state's water problems, Nance said that enough facts have not yet been assembled on downstream effects of stock ponds, contouring, range reseeding and other management practices to determine their value.

"Land management agencies, working with farmers and ranchers, have accomplished a great deal of conservation during the past 25 years," he said. "Now, however, with much of the land - improvement work being aimed directly at water control, the time has come to find out what control actually is being achieved. Otherwise, for example, there is no basis for deciding what measures will give the most benefit from the small water supply or help the most to pull rangeland through droughts."

But, he said, the dollar return from water invested in beef is among the highest of any of the uses of water.

"A steer drinks about 10 gallons of water per day and develops roughly a thousand pounds of weight in two years," he said.

"Assuming that the steer is worth $250 on the hoof on the range and has consumed 7,300 gallons of water, the gross dollar return is about $34.25 per thousand

He said the "nationwide average gross return per thousand gallons of water is 10 cents from irrigation and $11.70 from manufacturing."

L. S. Pope of Oklahoma State urged the cattlemen to stay abreast of advancing knowledge that may affect their industry.

"Whether the cattle producer accepts the change or tries to avoid it, he is affected by new methods and ideas," he said. "In many ways he is forced to conform to advances in the industry by the presssure of competition from other producers and the expanded sales efforts of the feed industry and pharmaceutical houses."

Pope said the cattle industry has seen an alarming increase recently in the use and acceptance of implants and additives in feeds without unbiased information as to the merits and disadvantages of the products.

"Despite the difficulties always inherent to application of new ideas or methods, cert in developments do point the way to real progress in producing more beef at lower cost."

In this connection he stressed the importance in upgrading breeding practices and proper nutrition.

Requests For Transfers Due

Students who live in one school district but attend school in another must fill out transfer requests here by June 1.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent of schools here, urged parents who have children who will attend school here next year but live in an outlying school district to make the transfers before June 1, deadline for transfers.

The transfers must be made in the county superintendent's office in the courthouse. Buford Browning, county school superintendent, said about seven students have already made transfer requests.

The transfer application costs the student nothing but means much to the school district involved, since those transferred are counted in the census of the school district to which the student transfers and makes the school eligible to receive state per capita apportionment on the student.

Mrs. Duncan Says Appeal Chances Good

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — "I think my chances for an appeal are just fine," says condemned murderess Elizabeth Duncan.

She made that statement Tuesday after being declared sane and subject to the death sentence for hiring the murder of her daughter-in-law.

Earlier she had been convicted of first degree murder and her punishment set at execution in the gas chamber.

Immediately after Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock accepted the conclusions of two psychiatrists that Mrs. Duncan was sane, defense atty. S. Ward Sullivan filed a motion for a new trial and asked that Mrs. Duncan's son Frank, 30, a Santa Barbara attorney, be associated with him.

Judge Blackstock said he would consider the motion April 3. If he denies it, he is expected to sentence Mrs. Duncan at that time.

Sullivan has said he would carry an appeal from the conviction to the higher courts.

Mrs. Duncan, jealous of Frank's bride, Olga, 30, was convicted of hiring two men to kill her daughter-in-law on the promise of paying $6,000. Augustine Baldonado, 26, and Luis Moya, 20, confessed kidnaping and strangling Olga. They are awaiting trial.

Short Shorts Okay At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Women can wear short shorts, tight-fitting dungarees or toreador pants on the Atlantic City boardwalk, says the City Commission.

The Women's Chamber of Commerce had complained that the dress required on the boardwalk wasn't conservative enough.

The commission ruled Tuesday that casual dress has been accepted throughout the country and the city will just have to go along.

New York City May Secede

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City is looking into the possibility of seceding from New York and seeking statehood.

The suggestion that the city might become a sovereign state caused the state Senate to rock with laughter. But the city fathers maintained they weren't just whistling "Dixie."

Demands for separation of the city from the rest of the state go back almost 100 years. The first was made by Mayor Fernando Wood in 1861. Since then bills calling for secession have been introduced into the Legislature many times.

How to do it legally has always been a question.

A move calling for a committee to study the possibility was introduced in the City Council Tuesday, and referred to the Rules Committee for study.

The move came in the wake of a bitter fight between the city and the state over money. The city government, which is Democratic, said it must have new taxes this year to balance its budget. Permission was needed from the Legislature, which is Republican.

The city leaders claimed they had to go "hat in hand" to Albany. There, they said, they found New York City treated like an "unwanted stepchild." They didn't get all the taxing power they wanted.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's immediate response was to lop 32 million dollars off the budget, announcing that the pinch would be felt by 80,000 city employes who would get smaller pay raises, or none at all.

The mayor's austerity program brought a wave of protest from city employes. Some 9,000 of the city's teachers threatened mass resignations. Other city employes scheduled a one-day protest stoppage — 30,000 strong — next Tuesday. Later they hinted they might stay out longer.

At Albany, the state Senate howled with laughter when a resolution was introduced to let New York City secede.

The move called for a state constitutional amendment to create "South New York" (New York City) and "North New York" (the rest of the state).

The leading rebel was Joseph Zaretzki, leader of the minority Senate Democrats. He repeated a frequent city complaint, that the city is often short-changed in the matter of state aid.

In a voice vote, Republican senators whimsically added their voices to those of their Democratic colleagues in a thunderous "aye." One lone "no" voice was faintly heard.

There was a hush while the body waited for Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, presiding officer and a Republican, to deal with the situation. He smiled and blandly ruled "The amendment is defeated."

But there was no whimsy in the secession resolution offered in the City Council. It came from Joseph T. Sharkey, Democratic majority leader, and 10 other Democratic councilmen.

The resolution calls for a committee to be set up to study "the possibility and legality of New York City seceding from the state of New York for the purpose of becoming a sovereign state."

The measure was introduced with much fist-shaking in the direction of Albany. Sharkey, who comes from Brooklyn, denounced what he called the "vicious attitude" of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the Legislature in imposing "economic slavery" on the city.

Woman, 69, Weds Boy, 19

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 19-year-old student and his 69-year-old bride spent their first day at home Tuesday beating off demands of the bride's children that they end their marriage.

Paul Dunn and Lola Tipton Dunn said they were wed Monday in Covington, Tenn., by County Judge Stanley Shoaf and intend to stay that way.

"I told them I have already promised before God and witnesses to stand by him always, and I will," said Mrs. Dunn.

They met about a year ago when Dunn, studying accounting at a business school, rented a room from his future wife. "I was lost within the world and had no one to care," he said. "She looked to me to be the same."

Mrs. Dunn, a widow of 19 years, said she first felt "very sympathetic to him. And later we fell in love. We tried to fight it."

Applications By Teachers Received

Applications are already coming in at the Snyder schools for teaching positions for the next school year.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent, said a number of applications have been turned in. There will be at least 15 vacancies in teaching positions in the schools here next year, including those created by resignations and those for new positions created.

There is one vacancy at West Elementary School for the remainder of this school year, McCollum said. A teacher there is resigning effective March 27, and McCollum said he would like to contact a prospective teacher for the sixth grade position there.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

LAMESA'S GOLDEN TORNADOES are serving notice that they are to be reckoned with in the upcoming District 3-AAA baseball chase.

Ken Barr, the all-district basketballer for the Tornadoes, hurled a two-hitter at Monterey yesterday only to lose a 2-0 decision.

Barr has been turning in a fine performance each time out this season but loose defensive play and weak support at the plate has kept Barr away from the victory column.

The Tornado defense is improving and if they ever find the range at the plate, they'll be tough.

Lamesa outhit the Plainsmen yesterday, 6-2, but couldn't produce in the clutches. The Tornadoes committed only two boots.

The first Monterey run came in the second inning without the aid of a hit.

Locals Continue Comeback

The Tigers continued their comeback campaign yesterday with a fine performance at San Angelo. Right now it looks like the Tigers and Tornadoes will battle it out for the 3-AAA crown.

Colorado City, the third member of the 3-AAA baseball field, opened its season yesterday by dropping a 6-2 decision to Robert Lee. On the surface this doesn't appear to make the Wolves a contender but you never know about these Class B schools.

Robert Lee may have a pitcher that can hold its won with any of the 3A and 4A moundsmen.

We'll just have to wait and see before passing any judgement on the Colorado City prospects.

We have felt all along that if the Tiger defense ever comes around, the Bengals would start winning a few games.

Well, the defense seemingly has found itself in the Tiger ranks and the Bengals have proceeded to win three of their last four starts.

With the Tiger's having a pretty sound pitching staff, the Bengals won't have to wear the ball out at the plate if they don't "donate" runs to the opposition because of errors, either physically or mentally.

The Bengals handled 37 of 39 defensive chances yesterday for a .948 percentage. This kind of fielding will save a lot of ball games.

Tigers Using New Conditioning Gadget

You'll note the article elsewhere on this page on the recent invention of ex-Texas Tech football star, Elmer Tarbox, on leg conditioning.

Tiger coach John Conley is putting these leg-weights to a trial. Next year's Tiger footballers started wearing these weights this week during their 6th period PE class.

The weights are supposed to double the time in getting a boys leg in shape. In other words, a boy wearing these weights, can walk or run 100 yards and it will do as much good as if he had run or walked 200 yards without the weights.

The weights have already proved themselves as a big aid to strengthening athletes' legs.

Tigers, Gladson Blank San Angelo 'Cats, 3-0

Norman Gladson, junior right-hander, set the San Angelo Bobcats down on just two hits — both singles — to lead the Tigers to a 3-0 victory in a non-district game at San Angelo yesterday.

Gladson, in winning his second game against three losses, had near perfect control in issuing only one free ticket to first. Gladson struckout three.

The victory evened the season's series with San Angelo. The Bobcats took the first game, 7-6, here March 10.

Joe Johnson, who won for the Bobcats in a relief role in the first game, absorbed the loss in yesterday's tilt. Johnson gave up four hits, walked five and struck-out three in going the route for the Cats.

NORMAN GLADSON
. . .zeroes Bobcats

Gladson got good support afield in yesterday's contest. The Tigers made only two errors but made up for one of these with a double play.

Only five Bobcats reached base for the Bobcats, two on hits, two on errors and one walk. Two, however, were erased, one on the double play and another got caught attempting to steal.

Shortstop Jerry Fleming turned in his best defensive performance of the season for the Tigers. Fleming handled five grounders without a bobble.

Second baseman Kenny Drake handled seven of eight defensive chances and first baseman Mike Moffett was errorless in 12 chances.

Catcher Ronnie Wylie was the offensive star for the Tigers, getting two of the four Tiger safeties and driving in two runs.

The Tigers opened the scoring yesterday with a run in the second. Terry Lee led off with a walk, Johnny Drake got life on an error and Fleming walked to load the bases with none away. After Keith Moffett forced Lee at the plate, Wylie singled to left to score J. Drake but Fleming was nailed at the plate attempting to score on the blow.

The Tigers made it 2-0 in the fourth when Fleming and K. Moffett strolled with one away and Fleming tallied when pitcher Johnson overthrew first on Wylie's grounder.

The final Tiger run came in the sixth. Fleming drew his third straight walk with one away, moved to second on K. Moffett's grounder and then scored on Wylie's second hit of the day.

Third baseman Tommy Ford collected both of San Angelo's hits — a single in the fourth and another in the seventh. Ford was erased attempting to steal second in the seventh, Wylie to K. Drake.

Yesterday's victory brought the Tiger season record to 3-5. The Bengals are not scheduled to play again until next Tuesday when they meet Monterey in a doubleheader at Lubbock.

Tigerettes Cinch Tie For 3-AAA Crown

The Snyder High School Tigerettes clinched at least a tie for the District 3-AAA girls volleyball title last night with a 24-14 victory over Colorado City at Colorado City.

The win gave the Tigerettes a 5-0 district record with only one game left to play. The Tigerettes will go to Sweetwater next Tuesday night for their final district game.

Sweetwater is in second place in the 3-AAA race and could tie the Tigerettes for the title by winning next Tuesday night.

Snyder brought its season record to 12-10 with last night's victory.

The Tigerette "B" made it a clean sweep last night with a 30-5 victory over C-City B in a preliminary game.

Snyder Climbs To 2nd In Keg League

Snyder climbed into second place in the Longhorn Traveling Bowling League following competition here Sunday.

The local keglers, in two matches Sunday, blanked Big Spring Humble, 4-0, and downed Sweetwater BCD, 2½ to 1½.

Sunday's win pulled the locals into second place behind Midland. Midland now leads with 34-14 record to Snyder's 30½-17½. Big Spring Humble dropped to third with 28-20.

Young Jimmie Guy, the league's top individual bowler before Sunday's play, led the locals Sunday with a six-game total of 1,115 for a 184 average. Guy also had the high single game for the locals with 232.

Travis Neff had the only other 200-game for Snyder in Sunday's play. Neff rolled a 211 game in the middle game of the Sweetwater series.

In the Big Spring series, J. Guy was high for the locals with 574, followed by Lowell Guy with 550, Owen Townley with 508, Jim Tatum with 488 and Neff with 476.

J. Guy edged Tatum by one pin for high scorer in the Sweetwater series. Guy had 541 to 540 for Tatum. Rounding out Snyder's scoring in the Sweetwater series were Townley with 486 and Neff and L. Guy with 484 each.

Sweetwater grabbed an early lead in the series with the local team by winning the first game by nine pins, 808-799. Then the two tied in the second game with 889 each. Snyder came back to win the least game, 847-806 and then picked up another point for high series, 2,535 to 2,503.

Ex-Tech Star Invents Leg Conditioner

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Remember Elmer Tarbox? He played football with Texas Tech in the late thirties and appeared in the Cotton Bowl against St. Mary's in 1939.

That was when he got the idea for a leg conditioner that bids fair to make him a rich man.

Tarbox and his teammates practiced twice daily in a week of continuous rain and had to lug around pounds of thick, sticky, black mud that clung to their cleats.

By game time, says Tarbox, "our legs were dead." He recalls that his legs were in fine shape for the track season the following spring, however, and he attributed it to the extra weight he had to carry around in the form of mud during the team's drills for the Cotton Bowl game.

So now Tarbox, an automobile dealer in Big Spring, has invented a leg conditioners. He spent a year working on weighted belts and upon bringing them out hasn't been able to keep pace with the orders.

Since his patent went into effect three months ago, Tarbox has sold the athletic aids to more than 35 high schools and three colleges.

The ankle belt—and it can also be buckled to the wrist—can be worn during football scrimmages, while playing golf or in normal daily use in the office. They help maitain good blood circulation, tarbox says.

Drysdale Showing Signs Of Strong Comeback This Year

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Drysdale's "tired elbow" is wide awake.

It never took a rest Tuesday as the 22-year-old Los Angeles right-hander pitched nine shutout innings and the Dodgers upped their exhibition record to 10-3, best in the majors.

The Philadelphia Phils were the formance, a five-hitter at Sarasota. The Phils got only two runners past first base after the fourth inning, and although the Dodgers got only three hits, a double by Wally Moon and a triple by Jim Gentile in the fourth inning were enough. It was the first complete spring game by a Dodger pitcher in three years.

When Drysdale flopped at the start of the 1958 season some said it was nervousness before "hometown" fans. Don was born in Van Nuys, Calif., played high school ball there and was a hero in the Los Angeles area before making it with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956. He was 5-5 in his rookie year and 17-9 in 1957 before the Dodgers went West.

Others said it was the absence of Roy Campanella that caused Don to have a 2-8 record on May 27 last year and only 4-9 at the All-Star Game break in July. Don finally got going and ended the season 12-13.

Recently he brushed aside any detailed explanations of his slow '58 start with this statement:

"My arm just wasn't in shape. I used to get tired in the elbow. That's where I feel it when my arm isn't strong. This spring I feel I passed that tired elbow stage early."

His record backs up that speech. He has allowed only two runs in 24 innings, has 17 strikeouts and has walked only five batters.

Up until Tuesday only Bob Anderson of the Chicago Cubs had gone nine innings, but Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Pittsburgh's Vern Law made the step along with Drysdale. No American Leaguer has gone the route.

Spahn was as sharp as Drysdale, allowing only five hits in a 3-0 victory over St. Louis at St. Petersburg. The 38-year-old left-hander is the highest paid ($60,000) pitcher in baseball because he can come up with the big one. The Braves, only 4-14 in Florida games, needed a shot and the arm and Spahnie provided it with the help of a first inning lead off homer by Ed Haas. The Braves broke a five-game losing streak.

Law stopped the much-improved Detroit Tigers 3-1 at Lakeland, as Rocky Nelson, the perennial minor leaguer chipped in with three hits, including a home run. One of four hits off Law was a homer by Gail Harris.

Baltimore shelled Kansas City 11-3 at West Palm Beach. The Orioles, atop the AL spring standings with a 9-4 record, had 14 hits, including homers by Gus Triandso and Willie Tasby.

Washington hung the seventh straight defeat on Cincinnati, 7-6 at Tampa. Frank Robinson hit a grand slam homer in the Reds' sixth-run eighth after the Senators had finished scoring.

The Boston Red Sox' nosedive continued at Phoenix where the San Francisco Giants won 10-4. It was Boston's fourth straight loss after winning 10 of their first 11. The pitching-poor Giants got their customary robust hitting, but more important was seven innings of five-hit work by former Phil Jack Sanford.

Ernie Banks doubled home two runs in an eighth inning pinch hitting role as the Chicago Cubs broke a tie and defeated Cleveland 4-2 at Mesa. Rookie Joe Schaffernoth shut out the Indians on four hits for seven innings.

In a night game at Miami, the New York Yankees landed on rookie Rodolpho Arias of the Chicago White Sox for five runs on seven hits in the fifth inning, the last five in a row. The Yanks won it 6-4 and ended a string of 10 scoreless innings by Arias.

HIGH THROW, RUNNER SAFE—Charlie Neal of the Los Angeles Dodgers steps on first base as Milwaukee Braves first baseman has to leap off the base to catch Ed Mathews throw during the game at Bradenton, Florida. Charlie Neal hit a hot grounder at Ed Mathews, who was playing third. Umpire is Henry Crawford. (AP Wirephoto)

Aggies Take SWC Lead

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M's hard-hitting crew took over first place in the Southwest Conference baseball race Tuesday by slamming Baylor 19-6.

TCU tumbled Rice 6-5 to put the Aggies on top as the only unbeaten team in the league.

The Aggie triumph turned into a slaughter as the Cadets poured 14 runs across the plate in the middle three innings.

They got 16 hits, with Gary Herrington, Windell Reed and Dick Hickerson leading the attack. Herrington had two doubles and a single, Reed a double and single and Hickerson two singles.

At Fort Worth Charlie Franklin doubled in the bottom of the eighth to drive in two runs and give TCU victory over Rice. Franklin got four hits in five trips and batted in three tallies.

Charlie Rutherford went the distance on the mound for TCU.

Texas beat Minnesota 14-1 in a nonconference game with Bob Sudderth limiting the Gophers to five hits.

New Rumor: Rice To Hire Abe Lemons

HOUSTON (AP) — Don Suman says he is quitting as basketball coach of Rice and indications are that the job will be offered to Abe Lemons, for four seasons coach of Oklahoma City University.

Suman said yesterday he had asked that his duties be reassigned. But Athletic Director Jess Neely was not available for comment. Obviously nothing will be done until Neely returns from a visit in Tennessee later this week.

Clifton McNeely, coach of Pampa High School, was reported among the coaches offered the job but McNeely said "I believe that is wrong" and indicated he would remain at Pampa.

Lemons said at Oklahoma City that he never looks for a job "but himself." At Oklahoma City University Lemons has ha teams in the NCAA playoffs or National Invitation Tournament three years.

Suman said he had no knowledge of any action being taken on his request for reassignment but "I still plan to step out. For some time I have considered giving up coaching." Suman has supervised concessions at the Rice Stadium in addition to coaching basketball.

Suman has been the Rice coach for 10 years and compiled a record of 132 victories and 106 losses. He won a share of the Southwest Conference championship in 1954. In recent seasons he has been under fire of students and fans.

Lemons said at Oklahoma City he has a "good job" but added "of course a guy is always looking for a better job."

Red Leaves Sanitarium

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, popular second baseman of the Milwaukee Braves, was due to leave a tuberculosis sanitarium today after a four month stay.

And he predicted he would be "bright and early" for 1960 spring training work.

"I feel like I'd be able to put a uniform on by the end of this season," said Schoendienst, whom many consider the top fielding second baseman of modern times. He added with a grin, "but if my doctors say no, I won't do it."

The latter comment is indicative of Red's philosophy since being stricken with tuberculosis, his doctors say. He was known as a model patient at Mount St. Rose Sanitarium.

Lung surgery helped shorten Red's time in the sanitarium.

Major League Attorney Out

Associated Press Sports Writer

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—J. Norman Lewis became the legal representative for the major league baseball players six years ago despite the belligerent opposition of the club owners. Today, the New York attorney has lost the job because of his own belligerence toward the owners.

Lewis was given the ax here Tuesday at a meeting of the 16 player representatives. They announced they now have more need for a public relations representative—an agency man to handle endorsements and similar matters—than an attorney.

The representatives, after a day long meeting, took back to their respective clubs a proposal to set up a central office in New York with Frank Scott to act as their representative. Scott already has served as an agent for numerous players.

Lewis himself made the announcement that his contract, which calls for $20,000 a year and expires March 31, had not been renewed.

He told newsmen: "The players believe that by reason of the achievements they already have accomplished, they no longer need a permanent attorney under contract."

"But we felt," said one representative, who declined use of his name "that he had become too belligerent toward the owners."

Two recent moves by Lewis led to his dismissal.

One was an attempt to gain a pension fund for International League players. That plan died aborning when players in the Triple A minor league called off a proposed strike in the face of owner insistence that no money was available for such a fund.

The other was Lewis' threatened court action against baseball as an outgrowth of the International League pension plan. Such action would attack the reserve clause which binds a player to one club and a contract requirement repeatedly approved by the players.

The players' major achievements with Lewis' aid where a hike in minimum salaries from $5,000 to the present $7,000, and a more expanded and rewarding pension and insurance plan which collects 60 per cent of television fees from the All Star game and World Series.

Green Light Given TT Stadium Expansion

AUSTIN (A) — Expansion programs to add 22,000 new seats to football stadia at West Texas State and Texas Tech were advanced yesterday.

The state teachers college board of regents awarded a $312,469 contract to Netill Singleton of Amarillo for construction of 10,000 seats at the new West Texas State stadium north of Canyon.

Completion of the stadium, which will seat a total of 20,000, is scheduled Sept. 26. Construction began last year on the first 10,000 seats and press box.

The Tech board of directors authorized expansion of Jones Stadium from 28,000 to 40,000 seats. The action will fulfill one of the conditions under which the Lubbock school gained membership in the Southwest Conference.

Bids for the construction will be opened April 10.

Other low bids approved by the teachers college regents included:

An $81,377 low bid for an addition to the senior women's dormitory at Stephen F. Austin State, by J. A. Nesbit Co., Nacogdoches.

A $322,048 bid for an art building at East Texas State, by Yates Construction Co., Dallas.

Churches Have Holy Week Services

Holy Week services become more frequent in Snyder churches beginning tonight and lasting in many of them throughout the remainder of the week.

The week will be climaxed by Easter services in all churches Sunday and by an Easter sunrise service.

The sunrise service, set for 6:30 a.m. Sunday, will be at the Canyon Drive-In Theater. It is being held under joint sponsorship of the religious affairs committee of the Jaycees and the Snyder Ministerial Alliance. Jerry Edwards heads the Jaycee committee, and Virgil Mott is general chairman for the Ministerial Alliance.

The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church, will be speaker for the Easter service. There will be special music.

The First Methodist Church is beginning its "Three Nights for God" Holy Week services tonight. Services will be at 7 o'clock tonight through Friday night.

Special Holy Week services will continue through Friday night at the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock nightly. The Rev. Jack Peters, pastor of the Mathews Memorial Presbyterian Church in Austin, is speaker.

The St. John's Episcopal Church will have Holy Communion at 8 p.m. tomorrow and will have a three-hour service beginning at noon Friday.

The Trinity Methodist Church is beginning a pre-Easter layman's revival tonight, and it will continue through Friday night. Services are at 7:30 p.m. Speakers are Dr. Anthony Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, for tonight; R. L. McMillon of Abilene, life insurance man who is trustee for the National Association of Life Underwriters tomorrow night; and O. B. Paty, superintendent of schools at Hermleigh, Friday night.

An Easter revival at the Hermleigh Methodist Church will continue through Sunday. The Rev. James Futch of Forsan, former Hermleigh pastor, is evangelist. Morning services are at 10:30. Evening services are at 7:45, with prayer services set at 7:15.

Special Holy Week services will be held tonight and tomorrow night at the First Christian Church. Services are at 7:30 p.m.

The Grace Lutheran Church will have Good Friday services at 7:30 p.m. Friday at West Elementary auditorium.

Numerous Snyder churches will have regular midweek services tonight.

Radiation Satellite Proposed

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Proposals for a radiation satellite that will climb 25,000 miles and a stepped up Navy-military space campaign are the highlights of the American Rocket Society's flight testing conference that ends today.

The society members—790 missile scientists and engineers—end their three-day session with a classified briefing and tour of the Cape Canaveral launching site.

Dr. Homer J. Stewart, director of planning and evaluation for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told newsmen Tuesday that the satellite will be launched soon by a four-stage version of the Thor-Able rocket.

He said the satellite, weighing several hundred pounds, would seek a radical orbit ranging from 25,000 to 130 miles above the earth to gather more complete information on two doughnut-shaped radiation fields.

The chief of Navy missile planning, Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, outlined plans for firing 50-pound communications and navigational satellites, possibly before the end of the year.

The admiral reaffirmed that the intermediate range Polaris missile will be ready for launching from nuclear-powered submarines in an operational status next year.

75,000 More Cancer Victims Could Live

NEW YORK (AP) — Cancer kills 75,000 Americans each year—needlessly.

The American Cancer Society reported Tuesday that 45,000 Americans develop cancer each year.

Last year 130,000 were saved. The report said 75,000 more would have been saved by earlier diagnosis and treatment.

Webb Sheriff Faces Negligence Count

LAREDO (AP) — The sheriff and chief jailer of Webb County faced arrest today on an indictment charging negligence in permitting a prisoner to escape.

Judge James Kazen set bonds of $500 each yesterday for Sheriff Porferio Flores and jailer Antonio Oreton.

The two were accused in the escape Feb. 18 of Francisco De Leon Castillo, while being held on a charge of rape. Castillo since has been indicted.

The prisoner, arrested in Brownsville Feb. 17, was made a trusty in the Laredo jail. He escaped by running from the jail while working as a cook.

Journal Describes New U.S. Rockets

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Saturn and Nova, two enormous rockets reportedly in the U.S. space future, were described today in a leading rocket journal.

Nova, the most powerful of the two, will weigh some 2,250 tons, reported Astronautics, journal of the American Rocket Society.

The five stages of Nova would churn up a total of 7,600,000 pounds of thrust, compared to only 370,000 for the intercontinental ballistic missile, Atlas.

Saturn, called Juno V by the U.S. Army, will use eight current engines clustered in a first stage to turn out 1,200,000 pounds of thrust, the April issue of the journal said.

The second stage of Saturn would use the large engine from the Titan intercontinental ballistic missile. It creates 300,000 pounds of thrust. Smaller engines make up the latter two stages.

Nova's first stage is a cluster of four engines turning out a total of 6 million pounds of thrust. A single engine makes up the second stage of 1½ million pounds of thrust. Smaller engines make up the later stages.

Both of these mammoth space vehicles are reportedly part of a 2-billion-dollar rocket program forecast by T. Keith Glennan, director of the National Space and Aeronautics Administration.

Two other space notes were cited by Astronautics.

The success of Vanguard II, recently launched weather satellite, has perhaps saved the Vanguard program from an early grave, it said.

It also described short term U.S. studies to find an anti-missile defense.

The studies are aimed at "a complete defe system for the decade between 1970 and 1980, and will nbrace such exotic concepts as anti-matter, anti-gravity and radiation weapons," the magazine said.

Confidence Urged In U. S. Air Force

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay likens U.S. air power to a trap with many triggers and warns against "unwarranted loss of confidence in this insurance."

LeMay, vice chief of the Air Force, told a civic organization Tuesday night that another crisis will find the Air Force ready with a fleet of more than 1,000 jet bombers loaded with nuclear explosives and "aimed at the heart of the Communist empire from all directions."

Bagdad Alliance Needs New Name

LONDON (AP) — The Baghdad Pact was in the market for a new name today following Iraq's withdrawal from the U.S.-supported anti-Communist alliance.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem formally pulled his country out of the alliance Tuesday in a move seemingly designed to please both the pan-Arab followers of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and the Soviet bloc.

The alliance took its name from the Iraqi capital, where the pact was signed in 1955 by Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. The other four governments and the United States already had written off Iraq as a military ally. Kassem had boycotted all pact activities since his revolutionists overthrew the pro-Western monarchy last July, and the alliance's headquarters are now in Ankara, the Turkish capital.

The first reaction from the United Arab Republic was one of disdain. The semi-official Middle East News Agency, repeating the old charge that the pact sought to destroy Arab nationalism, said this also was the aim of "Kassem's policy as well as the penetration of Communist imperialism into Iraq."

"Arabs who opposed the Baghdad Pact ever since its creation will today resist for the same reasons Communist influence and subordination," the U.A.R. agency declared.

Nasser has accused Kassem of joining the Communists in a campaign against the U.A.R. and Arab unity. Kassem, backed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, has accused Nasser of fomenting the recent abortive army revolt in northern Iraq.

The Iraqi move raised doubt about the future of the British air base at Habaniyah, west of Baghdad. The RAF base of 600 men and a number of planes operated under the Baghdad Pact.

Diplomats said that Kassem, though publicly trying to ignore Nasser's attacks, may be feeling the pressure of the U.A.R. leader's pan-Arab movement. There was speculation that the Iraqi premier hoped to demonstrate to the Arab world that he was free of Western influence. But Kassem's communist backers in Baghdad and Moscow also have assailed the alliance with the West ever since its formation, and his withdrawal from it was certain to please them.

Young Pranksters Hope For Clearance On Robbery Try

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two little boys, who invaded a branch of the world's largest bank with a holdup note, hoped to be cleared of attempted robbery charges today.

Little Dan McKay, 9, and Big Danny Husk, 13, school boys on Easter vacation, said it was all just a prank to get some play money.

Trouble is, officials of the Bank of America—the world's largest—took them seriously. And a dragnet of 13 policemen and FBI agents took the bank seriously.

So, when the youngsters returned home from a movie, they were arrested and turned over to the San Francisco Youth Guidance Center. The charge: attempted bank robbery.

"They cried when we surrounded them," said Inspector William Porter.

Big Dan's mother, Mrs. Wilma Husk, said "The boys meant no harm, although they shouldn't have done it.

"Danny has never been in any trouble," she said. "He hasn't even been absent from school without my knowing of it. I gave him a dollar to go to the movie.

En route to the movie the boys stopped at the Bank of America Mission branch. The bank had issued some play money as a promotion campaign. The boys said they had lost theirs and wanted more.

Little Dan, cleanly dressed in a sweater, jeans and tennis shoes, marched to the teller's window. He solemnly placed a slip of paper on the counter. It said (in Big Dan's handwriting) "Put $100 in sack or we'll blow up the bank. Dan Husk."

"Who gave you this?" demanded Filamine Miller, the teller.

Little Dan fidgeted and pointed to his buddy. Miss Miller scolded them and said "Get out of here." Big Dan said he told her it was a joke and apologized. The boys left.

Miss Miller reported the incident to J. C. Bonzani, branch manager, who called police. They traced the Husk boy's home address through his school records.

"Three policemen barged into the house," said Mrs. Husk. "I was still out shopping and Danny wasn't home yet, but Mrs. Tessie Robbles (a guest) said the officers were very rude. They searched the house, but they didn't show Mrs. Robbles any papers."

"When they got Danny and the McKay boy, the kids were scared stiff. Danny kept telling me: 'Mama, they don't believe me and we're telling the truth'."

Little Dan's father, Rufus McKay, a service station employe, said his 9-year-old — one of six children—is "full of mischief" but hadn't been in any real trouble. He said he planned to discipline the lad regardless of what juvenile authorities do.

Pickets Due Back At Kentucky Mine

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP)—Union officials indicated pickets would be on hand again today at a Letcher County mine in the wake of action that resulted in the National Guard being alerted.

Gov. A. B. Chandler alerted the Guardsmen Tuesday after 15 state police used shotguns and machine guns to hold back some 1,200 pickets.

The United Mine Workers of America, striking in six eastern Kentucky counties for a $2 a day pay raise to $24.25, told Chandler mass picketing at the Roland Price mine near Colson would be discontinued.

But Carson Hibbitts, president of UMW District 30, issued a statement later adding "I've agreed that the pickets will return in a reasonable group. We do feel that Roland Price has armed his employes to defy not only the pickets but the opposition as a whole."

Price has never had a union contract. He said his mine would be open for business.

Hibbitts accepted Chandler's offer to act as a mediator in the strike.

More than 7,000 men have been idled. The strikes started March 9, when contracts began expiring in Harlan County.

Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill, who was at the Price mine, said, "It was touch and go. A lot of people could have been killed."

Deputy Sheriff Jim Short disagreed. "The pickets were a pretty decent bunch of guys," he said. "There wasn't any trouble. They just went down there and shut down the tipple."

Last week more than 1,000 pickets swarmed over Price's tipple, throwing company miners to the ground and stoning them. Four men were hurt.

Meanwhile, at Pikeville two mine operators finished testimony in their request for an injunction against the UMW.

Union agent Bart Bloomer then denied from the stand he threatened to close their loading ramps.

Accidental Shot Kills Ex-Resident

Ralph Parrott, former Snyder resident, was accidentally killed by shotgun wound yesterday morning at Jal, N. M.

Parrott, an employe of Gulf Oil Corp., was at work near Jal and reportedly had opened the door of his pickup when a shotgun in the pickup fell and accidentally discharged, taking Parrott's life. He was found dead several hours later.

Funeral services are pending at Bolger Funeral Home. Services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the First Methodist Church, with burial in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

Officiating will be the Rev. S. A. Sifford, Cotton Center, assisted by the Rev. Jack White, Odessa.

Parrott lived in Snyder from 1950 until last year and was district guager here for Gulf Pipeline until that line was sold to Pasotex Pipe Line Co. He was then transferred to Jal.

Born Feb. 28, 1915, at Idalia, Mo., he married Mildred Acker July 11, 1935, at Odessa. They moved to Snyder from Kermit in 1950. Mrs. Parrott died here in August, 1955.

A Gulf employe more than 25 years, Parrott began as a pipeliner in Midland and served at Odessa, Crane, Monahans, and Kermit. He lived at Kermit five years before coming here.

His early schooling was in Illinois before he moved to Texas in 1937, completing schooling in Midland. He was Methodist and a 32nd degree Mason. His membership here was in the Hermleigh lodge.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Johnny Williams, the former Virginia Parrott, of Odessa; one son, Fred Parrott of Jal; his mother, Mrs. Lula Parrott of Odessa; and two sisters, Mrs. Charlene Ener of Odessa and Mrs. Jill Holder of Midland.

University, Motel Are Not Related

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Travelers aren't likely to confuse a motel with a famed university, a superior court judge ruled.

Both the motel and the university named Yale, and the latter didn't like the former's use of the name.

Judge Philip R. Pastore Tuesday denied an injunction sought by Yale University to prevent the Yale Motor Inn, located in nearby Wallingford, from using Yale in its title.

The university brought the suit in August 1957, claiming the inn was using Yale reputation for private gain.

Gladys Aylward On Way To Britain, U. S.

TAIPEI, Formosa, (AP)—Gladys Aylward, whose life as a missionary in China was the basis for Ingrid Bergman's film "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," left for Hong Kong today on her way to Britain and the United States.

Miss Aylward is a onetime London parlormaid who is now over 60 and a Chinese citizen. Although she has never seen the film version of her life, she has complained bitterly because the producers worked a romance into it.

"There have never been any love scenes in my life—never," she told newsmen.

Accusers Unnamed In Union's Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — Three of 10 boilermakers on trial by their international union charged after a hearing yesterday that they weren't given the names of their accusers.

The three-member trial group replied that the accusers wouldn't be named.

The union member counsel for the first three to be called, W.R. Ray Allen, objected during the closed-door hearing on the grounds that the 10 men should not be accused by anonymous witnesses.

Allen said the trio's attorney, Frederick W. Robinson, wasn't permitted in the hearing room because he isn't a member of the union.

Nine of the 10 accused obtained court action prohibiting the international union from trying them for referring their grievances to the courts.

The 1st Court of Civil Appeals also enjoined the international from trying them on charges they advocated and encouraged the dissolution of a district lodge established by the international to supervise Houston's Local 74 and locals in Galveston and Corpus Christi. The injunction authorized the international, however, to try the men on charges that they created dissension if the parent union so desired.

But the court order said no reference could be made during such proceedings to the district lodge.

International officers conducting the trial are H. E. Osbourn, president of Local 83, Kansas City, Mo. Buddy Fals, Business manager of Local 96, Fort Worth, and Jeff Johnson, business manager of Local 587, Tulsa. Osbourn refused to make public the specific charges against the local members.

Called before the group yesterday were C.L. Pait, vice president of the union, Leland Head, business agent, and Tommy Watkins.

J. D. Langham, recording secretary of the local, who is expected to be called today, said he will not testify to anything unless confronted by his accusers or unless they are at least named.

Discussion Of Livestock Ring Slated

Farmers, ranchers and businessmen who are interested in the beginning of a livestock auction ring in Scurry County have been asked to attend a public meeting which has been set for 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district courtroom of the courthouse.

The meeting was called jointly by a special committee which has been studying the advisability of beginning an auction ring here and the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Weldon Johnson, chairman of the special committee, will preside at tomorrow's meeting.

From this meeting is expected to come the beginning of the auction ring. The special committee, after studying the situation and discussing costs and methods, including having a session with a man who previously was associated with nine such rings, decided to recommend organization of the auction ring.

The auction ring has already aroused much interest here. In a previous meeting, out of which the special study committee was appointed, about 40 farmers, ranchers and businessmen were on hand. Many more are expected at tomorrow's meeting. Interest is keen because of the prospective livestock market such a ring would create for farmers and ranchers and because of the prospective trade it would draw to Snyder for businessmen.

A speaker system will be provided in the courtroom to make sure hearing in the room is adequate.

Members of the special committee, other than Johnson, are Jess Everett, Hugh Birdwell, Aubrey Headstream, Clyde Miller, Bill Long, J. C. (Com) Ezell, and Marvin Key.

Fluvanna Sets Rabbit Drive

A rabbit drive of two days, possible three, has been scheduled in the Fluvanna community to begin Friday.

A group of Fluvanna farmers organizing the drive invited any person desiring to participate to meet the group at 8 a.m. Friday at the Fluvanna Community Center.

Wives of those participating will take basket lunches to the community center and prepare the meal.

Any person in high school or above that age is eligible to attend. The drive will be held Friday and Saturday and may be continued Monday.

Ammunition will be furnished at wholesale prices by the J. D. Patterson General Store of Fluvanna.

OVER THE FALLS TO DEATH—William D. Welch, right, and his pregnant wife, Elice struggle to keep their canoe upright as it goes over the falls in Charles River at Watertown, Mass. The canoe tipped over and Welch later died from his efforts to try to save his wife, who was saved by rescuers from shore. A stiff wind brought the canoe to the edge of the falls as the couple were learning to paddle. Picture made by amateur Donald Niven. Copyright Boston Globe. (AP Wirephoto)

Airmen Get Fill Of Exotic Life On Tropical Island

By GENE KRAMER

GERHALA ISLAND, Sulu Sea (AP)—How would you like to live six months on a tropical island complete with a comfortable cabin, radio and refrigerator and your own white beach at the doorstep?

Four U.S. airmen here aren't exactly overjoyed.

Among the drawbacks are poisonous snakes and giant lizards. An abandoned leper colony is nearby. But the airmen say the worst thing is monotony and loneliness.

"I've come to the conclusion you can take this exotic stuff and give it to somebody else," said S. Sgt. John C. Coleman, 26, of Towanda, Penn. "I've had my fill of just basking in the sun."

"We have a life of boredom and waiting to go home," echoed S. Sgt. H. O. Jones, 27, of Cairo, Ga., dressed in the uniform of the day—a bath towel around the waist.

Coleman and Jones are stationed for six months on this British island four miles off Sandakan, North Borneo, with Airman 1.C. David Pair, 23, (Route a) Double Springs, Ala., and S. Sgt. John R. Overstreet, 29, (Route 1) Durant, Okla.

They belong to the 1370th Aerial Photomapping Group in the Philippines and are not permitted to discuss their mission. Sources in Sandakan say they are manning a ground locator station in a U.S. Air Force project connecting surveys of Borneo and the Philippines to produce the great accuracy needed for missile-age maps.

Every few days, the men are called on their radio to operate equipment atop a hill from which they can see both Borneo and the Philippines Sulu Archipelago.

Otherwise, it's a life of playing cards, cooking the food brought in monthly by a Navy ship, boating, swimming and fishing.

"We trawl but haven't caught a thing yet," said Coleman.

The Americans discovered after they arrived Dec. 15 that Berhala is the site of a leoprosarium. In World War II the Japanese had a prison camp here.

A few weeks after the airmen got in, authorities burned buildings of the former North Borneo Leoprosarium near their cabin.

Big day of the week is Monday, when the airmen climb aboard a lighthouse keeper's boat for the four-mile journey to Sandakan. They mail letters and buy odds and ends.

Postage-Due Teeth Found

DALLAS (AP)—The postman at Blue Ridge, Tex., W. V. Samples, stashed his false teeth in a shirt pocket, then dropped them into an outgoing mail pouch while bending over.

He didn't notice the loss until dinner time.

Figuring out what must have happened, he gummed a call to the Dallas postoffice, pleading with workers to be alert for a set of teeth with insufficient postage.

Dallas officials found no teeth.

So they alerted McKinney, a way-point for mail handling. There, peering into an empty mail sack, a searcher found Samples' teeth smiling up at him.

Samples later wrote his thanks, saying, "I'm eating much better now."

County Scholastic Count Up By 369

Scurry County has gained 369 scholastics during the past year, according to figures on the combined school census of all the school districts in the county.

Buford Browning, county school superintendent, has completed and sent to Austin the combined census, on which his office had been working since late in February. Prior to that time each school district in the county took the census.

Browning's office checked each school district's census against others to make sure there were no duplications.

The census figures are used for the state's payment of the annual per capita apportionment, which will probably be about $73.50 per scholastic this year.

The combined census figures show that the county had 5,388 scholastics as of Jan. 31, the date on which the census must be based. Last year at the same time the county had 5,019 scholastics.

The Snyder and Fluvanna school districts gained in the census, while Hermleigh and Ira suffered losses.

Snyder had the biggest gain, with 424 more scholastics than at the same time last year. The Snyder district was credited with 4,725, compared to 4,301 last year.

Fluvanna had 113, compared to last year's 107, a gain of six.

Hermleigh had a loss of 31 scholastics. This year's census showed 309, while last year there were 340.

Ira had a similar loss, with 30 less than last year. While the Ira district had 271 last year, it had 241 this year.

Rites Set For Mine Victims

ONEIDA, Tenn. (AP)—Three of the nine coal miners killed in the Robbins mine explosion will be buried today in the red, Cumberland Mountain earth from which they carved their livelihood.

A joint service for the other six victims will be Thursday.

As the funeral arrangements were announced by grieving relatives, the owner announced he planned to remove equipment from the small mine and close it.

J. R. Miller, chief state mine inspector, said W. O. West, 52, told him Tuesday he planned to shut down, "for the time being, at least."

The nine were killed as a gas pocket exploded shortly after they entered the mine Monday morning.

Chevy makes one for you...

and you'll want it for all its worth

Fewer and fewer people, we're happy to say, think it's necessary to look over different makes of cars to find the one automobile that offers exactly what they want.

There's really no reason to look further than your Chevrolet dealer's. For the plain fact is that Chevrolet builds so many different kinds of cars there's one to please just about everyone.

Say you want a stylish, spacious car that combines low initial cost with rock-bottom operating expense. You'll find what you want in the Biscayne 2-Door Sedan—one of the lowest priced Chevy models. You can have Chevrolet's new Hi-Thrift 6 under the hood to stretch out the distance between gas stops.

If, on the other hand, you're looking for a car of utmost elegance, there's the Chevrolet Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan. And, to go with it, Chevy's velvety V8 power teamed with triple-turbine Turboglide*—one of the finest, smoothest automatic drives offered on any car.

These are just two examples of the dozens of different kinds of Chevrolets you can choose from. One of them may be just what you want. It's almost certain—with models ranging from five beautiful, dutiful station wagons to the unique Corvette—that Chevrolet builds your kind of car. Stop by your dealer's and he'll be happy to help you pick it out.

*Optional at extra cost
