Cold Wave Brings Threat Of Asphyxiation To Haskell School Children

Home Town Talk

By E. D. D.

Can you—

Always be depended upon to do what you say you will do? Do you go out of your way cheerfully to help others? Are you careful not to exaggerate? Do you resist the temptation to be sarcastic? Do you refrain from showing off how much you know? Are you able to keep from feeling superior to most of your associates? Do you refrain from bossing people not employed by you? Do you refrain from reprimanding people who do things that displease you? Are you careful not to make fun of others to their backs? Do you refrain from trying to dominate others?

Do you—

Keep your clothing neat and tidy? Do you avoid being bold or nervy? Do you refrain from laughing at the mistakes of others? Is your attitude toward the other sex free from vulgarity? Do you refrain from grumbling about things which you cannot change? Do you let mistakes of others pass without correcting them? Do you lend things to others readily? Are you careful not to tell jokes that will embarrass those listening? Are you willing to let others have their own way? Do you generally keep control of your temper? Do you keep out of arguments? Do you greet others cordially? Do you refrain from talking almost continuously? Do you keep your nose entirely out of other people's business?

Have you—

Patience with modern ideas? Do you avoid flattering others? Are you careful not to gossip? Do you refrain from asking people to repeat what they just said? Do you refrain from asking questions just to keep the conversation going? Are you careful not to ask favors from others? Do you refrain from trying to reform others? Do you keep your personal troubles to yourself? Are you natural rather than dignified? Are you usually cheerful? Are you conservative in politics? Are you enthusiastic rather than lethargic? Are you careful to avoid slovenly diction and incorrect pronunciation of words? Do you look upon others without suspicion? Are you energetic? Do you refrain from borrowing things? Do you refrain from telling people what they should do morally? Do you refrain from trying to persuade others to your point of view? Do you refrain from talking rapidly? Do you refrain from laughing loudly? Do you avoid making fun of people to their faces?

The foregoing is a list of 45 questions regarding personal conduct, all of which have a vital bearing on the estimation in which a person is held by his associates and from which a person may gauge his or her own popularity, according to Dr. Donald Laird of Colgate university, writing in the January American Magazine.

Here's the method of measuring. Score yourself three points for each question you can answer "yes" to in the first group, two points each in the second and one point each in the third.

A score of 30 would shew very plainly that the person is disliked. Fifty-six is considered by Dr. Laird to be the lowest score of a person who is liked and 64 the average.

In a test at Colgate university the lowest score ever recorded by a student was 12 and the student who thus measured himself, began eliminating his disagreeable traits one by one until he is one of the most popular men in the school.

Dear Reader, you and the American Magazine have made my column this morning. How many points off do I score?

Boccacio's 'Decameron' Brings $6,900 at Sale

LONDON, Dec. 19. (US)—The fourth day of Sotherby's week's sale of old books, rare editions and original manuscripts of famous authors today produced the unusual price of $6,900 for a copy of Boccacio's famous "Decameron."

The book was copied at Tours between 1470 and 1480, and is illuminated throughout with plates by an artist of the Boucquet school. The total of the day's sales was $36,700.

PUPILS FAINT AS FUMES FILL CLASS ROOMS

Clear Sky and Lighter Wind Fail to Raise Mercury Appreciably

SLIGHT MODERATION

Temperature Falls After Rising From Mark of 18 Degrees

BORGER, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—Snow started falling here tonight. The temperature was around 24 degrees.

The menace of asphyxiation, which generally accompanies winter's debut, was felt at Haskell, Texas, Thursday as Northwest Texas' first near tragedy of the present cold wave threatened the lives of pupils at the South Ward school.

The gas heaters in the school, it was believed, had been turned too high, causing the gas to flow quicker than it could be burned. As the room filled with gas several children suddenly fainted. Many others were taken ill. The trouble was located, however, before there were serious casualties, and fresh air revived the victims.

Cold Continues

Under a clear sky less troubled by high winds than earlier in the week, Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma continued Thursday night to play their part in the wintry drama being enacted throughout the Middle West. The temperature at Wichita Falls at 1 a. m. Friday was 22 degrees with little indication that the mercury would reach Thursday's low mark of 12 degrees.

Temperatures in surrounding towns were higher, except at Woodward, Okla., where the mercury was at 18 degrees, and at Plainview, the coldest spot in Texas, where the temperature reading was five above zero, according to press dispatches.

The Fort Worth and Denver railroad dispatcher reported temperatures in this section early Thursday night as follows: Quanah, 26; Vernon, 28; Electra, 24; Bowie, 28; Decatur, 30, and Fort Worth, 32.

The Wichita Valley dispatcher made the following report: Abilene, 29; Stamford, 28; and Spur, 26.

State Warmer

Texas generally was warmer Thursday, after experiencing the coldest night of the winter Wednesday night, according to an Associated Press summary of weather conditions. The summary stated, however, that freezing conditions were still in prospect, and that a frost within the next 24 hours was predicted for South Texas, where crops may sustain some damage.

One death in Texas was attributed to the cold. L. C. Passmore, 25, died from the combined effects of hunger, exhaustion, and cold when he and his companion were unable to row their boat against a strong wind across a bayou near Houston.

MIDWEST SUFFERS

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (US)—Here are high spots of the blizzard that buried Chicago and the Middle West.

Approximately 100 lives lost; scores injured.

Property damage estimated at between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

Schools closed; milk delivery halted, fuel deliveries crippled.

Street cars and elevated service paralyzed.

Transcontinental steam roads report trains hours late; Twentieth Century held at station.

Twenty thousand idle men get work as snow shovelers.

Hundreds of automobiles and motor busses stalled in country highways; passengers seek refuge in villages and farm houses.

Indications of another storm approaching from Southwest.

Wichita Girl, Jobless At Christmas Time, Dies As Doctors Fight Poisoning

Hours of untiring work by physicians Thursday afternoon failed to save the life of Velmar Pruett, 20-year-old Wichita Falls girl, who died about 4:30 o'clock in a local hospital from the effects of poison. She did not regain consciousness following her collapse in the beauty parlor of a local department store.

Physicians stated she had swallowed about an ounce of carbolic acid. An empty one-ouce bottle was found nearby when she fell at the head of the stairs in the store, police reported.

Motive Is Unknown

Investigators remained puzzled Thursday night as to the reason for the young woman's action. George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, who was called to aid in the investigation by Chief of Police Frank Burns, stated he had questioned several persons and had traced out several possible motives but had reached no decision as to a definite reason.

Employes of the store, who rushed to the attractive young woman's side as she fell, stated she pointed to slip of paper which she had held in her hand. The slip had evidently been torn from a letter which she had written, Mr. Anderson said.

On one side was written, "In case of accident please call Mark Franklin," which was followed by a telephone number.

Message Is Found

On the reverse side of the note were written parts of sentences which had been torn from a longer message. . . . Merk you alone can explain what this is all about, For I love you, and—," the fragments read. No indication was given as to whom the letter was addressed or as to who had written it. The handwriting bore a slight resemblance, Mr. Anderson said, but it was not definite that the same person had written both sides.

Mr. Franklin, whose name appeared on the request, stated he knew of no reason for the young woman's action when questioned Thursday afternoon by Mr. Anderson. He had known Miss Pruett for some time, he said, but knew of no reason for her actions Thursday. The telephone number given in the note was his place of business, he said. He had no knowledge of the fragmentary sentences on the reverse side of the slip of paper.

Despondency Angle

Extreme despondency since losing her employment late Tuesday in a local shop was also given as a possible motive for her action. Friends of the young woman who were questioned Thursday afternoon stated that she had expressed despondency on several occasions because of the loss of her position as Christmas approached.

About noon Thursday she entered the rest room of the department store, police were told. Almost an

C.-C. MANAGER SEES GROWTH

City Entering Greatest Development, Says Boswell

After having accepted the office of general manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, effective Jan. 1, in a telephone conversation with J. W. Chatham, present manager, Thursday afternoon, John Boswell of Dallas declared to a representative of The Record News in Dallas that "the organization's aggressive program for 1930 and the cooperation and support given it by the business and civic leaders in Wichita Falls" were prominent factors in leading him to accept the position.

"The gratification I feel at being tendered the post is enhanced by my knowledge that Wichita Falls is one of the most progressive and substantial cities in Texas," Mr. Boswell continued.

"My only regret is in leaving associations which have been so pleasant in the last five years, and I am accepting because the new position offers greater opportunity for advancement in my chosen profession.

"My strong faith in the future of Wichita Falls, the fine type of citizenship is possessive, and its program for development of dairying, colonization of farm lands, and other irrigated sections, and conservation and utilization of the Red river waters were other considerations leading me to accept.

"The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce has had splendid management since its organization, and those who have preceded me have

Pope Urges Frequent Retreats for Prayer

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 19. (AP)—Pope Pius in an encyclical made public today urged the laity of the Roman Catholic church to make frequent retreats for silence, contemplation and prayer, and to participate more generally in church activities.

The pope, who recently emerged from a week's retreat in connection with the jubilee of his priesthood, said the spiritual exercises of retreat constituted "a remarkable school in which the mind learns to reflect, the will strengthen itself and the passions are dominated."

'Little Poker Face' Keeps Her Secret

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 19. (AP)—Helen Wills, world tennis champion, whose ability to conceal her emotions on the tennis court has earned her the sobriquet of "Little Poker Face" had one secret the world was anxious to know today—and she was keeping a "poker face" on that in answer to all questions.

The question was where are Helen Wills, and Frederick S. Moody Jr., her husband to be, whose wedding date was announced yesterday, going to spend their honeymoon? Rumors that they would sail down the Mexican coast on a private yacht were denied by Mrs. C. A. Wills, mother of the tennis champion.

JURY DECIDES 'VICTIM' NEVER WAS MURDERED

Celebrated Mountain Torture Trial Ends in Acquittal

JURORS CONFUSED

Some of Panel Thought Attack Charge Included In Hearing

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Dec. 19 (AP)—There was no Connie Franklin murder, a jury of hill country farmers decided today.

The verdict acquitting four Stone county mountaineers of charges of murdering "one Connie Franklin" thus ended one of the strangest cases ever brought before an American court by declaring that a wandering farm hand who appeared before the jury was the same person named in the indictment as the murder victim.

The jury returned the verdict at 5:45 o'clock, 20 hours after it received the case.

Quartet Goes Home

The four men who have been held in jails in adjoining counties for the last month returned tonight to their homes in the St. James mountain country. They are Herman Greenway, Bill Younger, Joe White and Hubert Hester.

Two of them, however, Hester and Greenway, were held under $2,500 bonds on charges of assaulting Connie Franklin's former sweetheart, Tiller Ruminer, at the same time the state alleged Franklin was slain and his body burned on a log fire in the woods.

Fifth Case Dropped

A charge of murder against a fifth defendant in the case, Alex Fulks, who was not tried with the other four, was dismissed after the others were freed.

The jury was deadlocked throughout the day, it developed, upon a question foreign to the murder charge. Twice it had filed into the courtroom and reported there was no hope of reaching an agreement. At 8 o'clock when Judge S. M. Bone called the jury in and explained the assault charge was not to be considered in connection with the murder charge the jurors smiled, one nudged another, and the foreman, Tom Moore, said he thought a verdict could be reached.

Forty-five minutes later they filed back into the courtroom with the verdict.

Six Flee From Chicago's 'Escape Proof' Jail

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Six prisoners at the new "escape proof" Cook county jail made a successful break for freedom today after overpowering a guard and battering their way through windows on the second floor. Reaching the jail yard, they scaled the encircling wall and escaped under cover of the heavy snowstorm.

The break occurred as the six were released from their cells and were being led to the hospital ward. The move had apparently been well planned as the six took their single guard by surprise in their sudden, concerted attack.

King George 'Wins' In Tilt With Thompson

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (UP)—Although King George never struck a blow during his two-year battle with Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, his majesty has been awarded a victory by decision.

Thompson lost the last round of the engagement yesterday when Judge Hugo Pam ruled in superior court that the mayor's dismissal of William McAndrew as superintendent of schools was unjustified.

The mayor had accused McAndrew and numerous other Illinois educators of being emissaries of King George engaged in spreading British propaganda in schools. All of those attacked by "Big Bill" now have secured vindication through the courts.

Rail Report Disapproves Denver Line While Urging Frisco-Rock Island Plans

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Construction of 160.7 miles of new railroad in Northwest Texas to cost more than six and a quarter million dollars was recommended to the Interstate Commerce commission today by Examiner Thomas F. Sullivan. In the same report the examiner recommended against construction of 110 miles to cost $4,276,580.

Construction and joint operation of certain lines giving patrons of both the Rock Island and Frisco railroads in the Panhandle area direct access to the Northeast Texas markets was recommended by Examiner Sullivan.

Denver Opposed

At the same time the examiner recommended against construction of the line proposed by the Fort Worth & Denver Northern, a Burlington subsidiary, for construction of its proposed line through Childress, Collinsworth, Wheeler and Gray counties, Texas, and which had been offered as a substitute for the proposals submitted by Rock Island and Frisco interests. It was recommended that the Santa Fe be permitted to build from Heaton to Lefors, a distance of 8.7 miles.

Hearing to Be Asked

If the recommendations of the examiner are approved by the commission, following a hearing certainly to be demanded, the Rock Island will have a comparatively short-line mileage between Amarillo and Fort Worth and the Frisco with its growing net work of lines in Northwest Texas and Southwest Oklahoma, be given direct access to the Fort Worth and Dallas markets instead of over a circuitous route.

The report of Examiner Sullivan is an extensive one, comprising 38 legal-cap pages. It covers recommendations on seven direct proposals, six of which would be granted and three requests for retention of excess earnings which would be denied; and one construction proposal, that of the Denver, denied. The proposals recommended are:

Construction by the Frisco of a line 42 miles long through Wilbarger and Baylor counties, connecting with its own line at Vernon and extending southerly to a connection with the Gulf, Texas & Western at Seymour. This is combined with application for operation, under trackage rights, over the Rock Island lines from Jacksboro to Fort Worth, a distance of 71.6 miles.

G. T. & W. Proposal

Application by the Frisco for authority to acquire the Gulf, Texas & Western, through purchase of stock interest from Joseph J. Jermyn of Scranton, Pa., although the

Pat Neff Named Rail Chairman

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (UP)—Former Governor Pat M. Neff today was chosen chairman of the state railroad commission, succeeding the late Clarence E. Gilmore.

Neff was appointed a member of the commission by Gov. Dan Moody after Gilmore's death about three months ago.

The commission itself chooses its chairman. Besides Chairman Neff, it is composed of Commissioners Lon A. Smith and C. V. Terrell.

Death Chair Victim Leaves Two Notes

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (AP)—Bennie Aldridge of Dallas who died in the electric chair at Huntsville today for criminal assault, left two messages. One was to his wife, the other to his mother.

The one to his mother said:

"Wishing you a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. Bennie."

The Christmas greeting was penned just before the condemned man faced the curtains, Dallas officials who witnessed the execution, related.

To his wife Aldridge wrote: "I have only a few hours more to live. I want you to know that I have made peace with my Maker, and that I am ready to die."

Teachers' Institute Convenes at Dalhart

Special to The Record News

DALHART, Texas, Dec. 19.—Dallam county's first mid-season teachers' institute convened here today for a two-day session with more than 60 teachers present. Dr. H. T. Musselman of Dallas, conductor of the two-day institute, is being assisted by Miss Annie L. McDonald of Amarillo, and Miss Elva Fronabarger of the West Texas State Teachers' college, Canyon. The principal idea to be discussed in the various meetings of the institute will be "Education for Living in a Changing World."

Moody Suggests Policy to Handle Laredo Muddle

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP)—Hope that the general government at Washington has a policy with reference to foreign relations that will not permit the Mexican government to profess friendliness toward the United States and at the same time offer the affront of closing the door at one of the principal ports between the two nations, was expressed by Governor Moody tonight in a telegram to Secretary of State Stimson.

He made reply to Secretary Stimson's message advising the governor that he understood "the action of the Mexican government in closing the consulate and port at Laredo was not in any sense an attempt at retaliation for a single incident but because the Mexicans feel that from several incidents lasting over a considerable period of time Laredo is not a safe point for their public citizens to pass in traveling."

JUNIOR C.-C. NAMES VINSON

Board Elects Officers at Meet Thursday

Jerry Vinson, business manager of the Northwest Texas Clinic, was elected president of the Wichita Falls Junior chamber of commerce for 1930 by the newly organized board of of directors in a meeting in the chamber of commerce offices Thursday night. Mr. Vinson will succeed Walter Nelson Jr., retiring head of the organization.

Other officers named by the board were as follows: Frank Haley, first vice president; J. L. Randel, second vice president; Shadie F. Hale, third vice president; Guy D. P'Pool, secretary; and Robert K. French, treasurer.

The new president's first official action was the appointment of a committee to assist the general sale committee in charge of the sale of tickets to the Little Theater Christmas 200 benefit. The committee members are J. L. Randel, Frank Haley, Shadie Hale, A. L. Hecht, John Coffey, and Walter Nelson Jr. Standing committees are to be named later.

Youths Sent to Prison For Dallas Robberies

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (UP)—Johnnie Kells and Edward Gratze, St. Louis youths, must serve 25 years each in the Texas penitentiary for robbery with firearms, they were informed today when Judge Grover Adams heard their guilty pleas.

The youths were given two 25-year sentences each for the robberies of two drug stores here, but the terms will run concurrently.

Gas Association Moves Office to Dallas

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Due to the unusual expansion and growth of the natural gas industry in the Southwest and West, the natural gas department of the American Gas association will close its Pittsburgh office Jan. 1, and re-open at Dallas, Texas. E. J. Stephany, secretary of the natural gas department, will continue in charge of that division of the gas association's work at Dallas.

Construction of Texas Bridge Is Delayed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—The war department has approved application of the city of Fort Arthur for an extension until Feb. 9, 1931, and Feb. 9, 1933, respectively, for starting and completing a bridge across the Sabine-Neches canal.

LEHRACK AND FERGUSON JOIN BIG MERGER

Ice Cream and Milk Plants Acquired in Exchange Of Stock

HEADQUARTERS HERE

$300,000 in Improvements Announced for Two Wichita Plants

Announcement was made Thursday of the acquisition of the Lehrack and Ferguson Ice Cream companies of Wichita Falls by the Carnation company, international milk product, package cereal and fine flour concern. The deal was accomplished through an even exchange of stock between the two companies and will not entail changes in the personnel or stock holdings of the Wichita Falls concerns, according to E. B. Lehrack, of the Lehrack company here.

The combination marked the first advances of the Carnation company into Texas and was one of the earliest in the greatest program of expansion ever staged by the parent firm, it was stated. It was tentatively assured that Wichita Falls would form the nucleus and the headquarters for a larger program of expansion in Texas, in which companies in many West Texas towns would be included.

Expansion Program

Negotiations are at present underway for the incorporation of firms in Dallas, Fort Worth and other larger Texas cities. A condensing plant is already under construction in Schulenberg, Texas, at an approximate cost of $300,000. The Carnation company selected that locality as new territory and as capable of producing the great volume of milk necessary for a condensing plant, Mr. Lehrack said.

An expansion program involving more than $300,000 in new and modern equipment is at present underway in the two Wichita Falls companies. One of the additions will be a bottle washer of the most scientific type which is being installed at a cost of about $10,000. The program also calls for a modern daylight plant at Fourth street and Ohio avenue which will be completed within the next six or eight weeks, according to Mr. Lehrack.

A branch plant of the local concern is now being installed at Vernon and will be in operation in the near future, adding a large part of the lower Panhandle area to the milk producing territory of the Carnation company's holdings in this vicinity. The parent company also has large holdings in Sulphur Springs, Texas, and plans for the development of the milk industry in that territory are under consideration.

Oklahoma Purchases

The taking over of the Wichita Falls plants preced the acquisition of large holdings in Oklahoma and Missouri. Tulsa, where the Carnation company absorbed the Quality Dairy Products com-

Blaze Causes $4,000 Damage

Damage estimated at about $4,000 by officials of the fire department was caused by flames which gutted the home of A. H. Appleby, 1800 Eleventh, about 2 a. m. Friday.

Mr. Appleby was the only occupant of the house at the time of the fire. Only a part of the lower floor of the large two-story structure was filled with furniture, Mr. Appleby having just begun to move into the house. The extreme cold of the night hindered firemen in fighting the flames and formed a thick coating of ice on all objects which the water struck. Origin of the blaze was not determined.

SEVEN ROBBER

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 19. (UP)—Two men robbed a man, his wife and five children of $56 on a highway near here today. L. L. Strong reported to Sheriff Rogers he was repairing a tire along the road when two men drove by, flashed revolvers and robbed him and his wife.

Six Jurors Selected to Hear Murder Trial of Reese of Graham

Special to the Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Dec. 19.—Six jurors had been selected late today when court adjourned in the trial of J. M. Reese on murder charges growing out of the fatal shooting of Ed Langford, Olney constable, at Olney Nov. 18. The jury is expected to be completed Friday.

Langford was shot to death in the office of Justice of the Peace D. N. McCarson at Olney late one afternoon after Reese's wife had come to the officers complaining that she had been threatened at her home. Reese passed the judge's office as his wife was talking to the officers, and was called in by Constable Langford. As he entered, the constable asked him if he was armed, but backed out of the doorway, pulling the door closed behind him. When the door was closed a shot was fired and Constable Langford dropped mortally wounded.

Judge McCarson is expected to be the principal state witness.

Jurors selected in the case Thursday were E. P. Harvey, W. W. Cole, J. T. Hamilton, E. E. Brockman, Lester Braddock and John Davis.

District Attorney Carries Probe Of Shook Conspiracy to Grand Jury

Grand jury action against the ring leaders of an alleged conspiracy to delay the trial of Tom Shook in Graham this week by the calling of three fictitious defense witnesses will be sought in the March term of the 30th district court for Young county, Sam Spence, district attorney, announced Thursday afternoon.

The trial, which opened Tuesday afternoon after the disclosure of the non-existence of the missing witnesses, resulted Thursday morning in a verdict of guilty as a robbery with firearms accomplice and a sentence of five years imprisonment against the former Electra police chief.

Mr. Spence said Thursday afternoon that he would seek the remission of the $100 contempt of court fine imposed on Constable W. W. Hopper, of Harrold, in the belief that the elderly officer acted as a tool of other persons more guilty and not yet brought to justice. Constable Hopper is completing the three-day jail sentence which accompanied the fine assessment, but has sent word to the district attorney that he will be forced to serve out the fine.

Judge Allan D. Montgomery held the officer in contempt of court

PAIR SEEKS TO DIVIDE ATOM

High Atop Alps Peak, Two Scientists Work

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

BERLIN, Dec. 19. (US)—On a lofty mountain peak in the very center of the Alpine storm region two German scientists are conducting heroic attempts to split the atom.

The dangerous experiments to which they have devoted their youth are being made on the crest of the famous Monte Generoso, towering above Lake Lugano in Switzerland. Already the life of their third confere has been forfeited to the jealous spirits that guard the mountain summit they have chosen as the spot for their experiments.

Falls Over Precipice

The project was first decided upon by Dr. Fritz Lange, Arno Brasch and C. Urban, three young physicists connected with the physics institution in the capital. During the work of erecting an experimental station at the height of 5,590 feet last year, Herr Urban slipped and fell over a precipice to his death.

Undaunted, his two companions continued at their task. The station is now completed and preliminary experiments will soon be started.

A visit to Berlin today Doctor Lange scoffed at some of the more popular ideas surrounding the possibilities of the atom. Asked if his experiment were successful whether the world would fly to pieces as some predict, Doctor Lange laughed and shrugged his shoulders.

"We cannot say," he said, "but it is very unlikely that the world would do this, although it is not absolutely impossible. Still we do not even know whether we will split the atom, and if we do it is a step in the dark.

High Tension Current

"We are in the position of the man who first made fire. If we split the atom the energy obtained may be as revolutionary as was the discovery of fire.

"It is our intention to attempt to split the atom by means of a high tension current. When we began we had two problems facing us. First, that of getting the necessary high tension, and, secondly, that of finding a tube capable of carrying the enormous high tension current.

"We could have obtained this current in the laboratory, perhaps, but only at the cost of many millions of marks, so we determined to build our station on Mount Generoso, where our power could be supplied by the elements.

"We have constructed a cable which is grounded at one end and is insulated at the other by means of a double chain of 160 seatite insulators, weighing together 5,280 pounds. Any electrical disturbance in the district is suitable for our purpose. The second problem, that of finding a suitable tube, was more difficult, but we have succeeded."

Paintings Worth $70,000,000 May Be Shown in America

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The $70,000,000 collection of paintings by Italian old masters, loaned by Premier Mussolini for a London exhibition Jan. 1, will be displayed in New York after the showing here, according to an unofficial report in London art circles today.

The report was pronounced "extremely possible" by one of Britain's art critics, who is in a position to speak with authority.

Signor Modifliani, representative of Mussolini who accompanied the art treasures aboard the steamer Leonardo da Vinci, which brought the collection to London after a stormy voyage, said tonight:

"I have heard the report, but I must emphasize that, so far, it is absolutely unofficial. Officially, I know nothing of the projected showing of these priceless Italian masterpieces in New York, beyond this, I cannot speak."

The Italian canvases are being hung in the Burlington galleries, where the exhibition opens with the new year. There are 280 paintings, including works by Botticelli, Bellini, Titian, Tintoretto, Fra Filippo Lippi and other great artists.

Mangum Bible Class Holds Banquet at Church

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Dec. 19.—Members of the men's Bible class which meets each Sunday morning at the Temple theater and is taught by Rev. D. S. Pooser, pastor of Central Christian church, enjoyed a banquet and program at the church Tuesday night.

The meeting brought to a fitting close the membership contest which has been conducted the past several weeks by the red and blue teams. The blues, headed by Paul Scoggins, won the contest at the expense of the reds, captained by V. C. Gillispie. Hollis Arnett, county attorney, acted as toastmaster.

50 Attend Church Banquet Given At White Deer

Special to The Record News.

WHITE DEER, Texas, Dec. 19.—More than 50 men were in attendance at the get-together banquet meeting last Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock which was held at the Baptist church. The banquet was given by the pastor and the deacons of the church.

A horseshoe counter was erected in the auditorium of the church and plates were served from both sides of the counter. J. O. Banks of Kingsmill was toastmaster for the occasion. Each deacon was called upon to make a short address.

A three-course luncheon was served by the ladies of the church.

A number of quartets were rendered by Messrs. Douglas Carver, W. L. Brummett, Dick Higgins and Doc Charters. A rising vote of thanks was given by all men present to the ladies who had part in preparing the delicious lunch. All present expressed themselves as enjoying the meeting very much.

CAJONS LOCATE ANCIENT BONES

Prehistoric Mastodon Is Found in Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 19. (AP)—The prehistoric mastodon, successfully still-hunted by science in a dozen world locales, has been traced anew in Louisiana.

Up in the red hills of the fallciana parishes, north and east of here, strata rich in valuable remains dating from the pleistocene age, have been definitely located, and await only systematic removal and study to throw additional light on life on the continent 2,000 years ago, according to Prof. John F. Broussard of Louisiana state university.

The section has long been known locally as one rich in "odd fragments" turned up with pick and plow. A few of these are on display in the university museum, but their exact value was not established until Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the graduate school at University of Kentucky, and an archaeologist of note, visiting Baton Rouge last week-end as an official of the southern conference, remained over to study the findings in the felicianas.

Announcing Dr. Funkhouser's conclusions that the mastodon, the mammoth and the giant elk and bison once stalked Louisiana's forests many, many centuries ago, Dr. Broussard, who arranged the inspection trip, declared today that the exact location of the hills visited by the scientist would be kept secret "until the university is in a position to go into the section and remove the pre-historic material intact."

WAR MOTHERS TO SEE GRAVES

Gold Star Pilgrimage To Start in May

By PEARL GROSS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (US)—Plans for the gold star mother's pilgrimage to France were revealed for the first time today by Maj.-Gen. B. F. Cheatham, quartermaster general of the army.

Gold star mothers and wives of American soldiers who died during the world war and now sleep in the great national cemeteries of Europe will begin the pilgrimage May 7 next, General Cheatham said.

On that date the first contingent of 300 will sail for a two-weeks' tour of the cemteries, battlefields and shrines of the war in which their loved one made the supreme sacrifice.

Thereafter, contingents of the same number will sail each week.

The women will be grouped according to states. The pilgrimages will be under escort of army officials.

Over 6,000 war mothers and wives are expected to make the tours, all expenses from the time they leave their homes until they return, being paid by the federal government under provision of the gold star mothers act passed at the last session of congress.

General Cheatham made known the war department plans for the pilgrimage at a hearing of the house military affairs committee today which has before it additional bills designed to liberalize the provisions of the act.

These additional bills are sponsored by Representatives Andrew and Luce of Massachusetts, Fish of New York, Johnson of South Dakota, Welch of California and Guinn Williams of Texas.

They call for extension of the pilgrimage to include fathers, foster-mothers and sisters of the dead soldiers.

Another clause extends the same privilege to mothers and wives of soldiers who lost their lives at sea or "the missing," whose names are simply inscribed on the chapels of the cemeteries where American heroes are buried.

Chicago at Loss to Know What to Do With Original Stone Bull of Sargon

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (UP)—A huge stone bull from the land of the bulbuls has just about bulled up the plans of a distinguished group of Chicago archeologists.

It's an excellent bull, a 40-ton granite animal that old Sargon II had carved to guard his gate in Assyria way back in 1800 B. C.

Everybody admits that. But the question of what to do with Sargon's bull is perplexing, now that the granite cow is in Chicago.

Reasons for bringing the gigantic stone animal here from its last resting place in the Assyrian sands were nebulous. But the difficulties were nothing if no concrete.

Discovery in Assyria

It seems that an expedition from the University of Chicago was picking away industriously in the sun baked desert of Assyria when one of its members cried:

"I've found the bull."

If he didn't say exactly that, anyway that is what he found. So the nonplussable members of the expedition carefully scraped the dirt of the ages from around the bull and thus found themselves in the midst of a bleak and barren country with a 40-ton statue on their hands.

They lifted it with the aid of 200 natives to a set of rollers.

Much pulling and heaving and tugging finally brought the great, grinning animal to the banks of the Tigris. There it was dumped into a boat. The boat nearly foundered, but the doughty explorers finally got the bull to Basra.

At Basra they had their own troubles finding a steamship capable and willing to haul a 40-ton bull across the ocean. They finally located such a boat, however, and so got their bull to America.

Finally the bull arrived here. The triumphant explorers carted him out to the university only to learn that there wasn't any place to put him. So they tethered him near the football field.

The university plans to use Sargon's bull to decorate the new oriental building, now in the process of construction. When the architects saw the bull, they threw up their hands and started to replan the building with a special foundation to keep him from sinking through to China or whatever country is on the opposite side of the world from Chicago.

For all that, everyone concerned admits that when Sargon II set out to get himself a carved bull, he did a thorough job of it.

Rattlesnake Market Open in West Texas

STERLING CITY, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—The winter rattlesnake market has opened here.

Jim Clifton sold to Dr. W. B. Everitt eight big rattlesnakes, some of them six feet long, at an unannounced price. Doctor Everitt, who has treated every case of snake bite brought to him successfully, the number being 14, will ship the snakes to Colonel Crimmins, inventor of the snake serum of San Antonio.

Mr. Clifton, who is a ranchman, caught the snakes with wooden tongs, in a cave. In the spring, rattlesnake hunting parties are common in the Southwest.

Texas Girl Fells Buck And Coyote on Hunt

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—No one here doubts that Dorys Rogers is a good shot. Just returned from a hunt on the Mathiews ranch near Pearsall, Miss Rogers has the evidence to show that the first shot she fired brought down a nine point buck and the second dropped a coyote in his tracks. Between hunts Miss Rogers is a leader among San Marcos' young social set.

VISUAL EDUCATION

AMARILLO, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—The first step toward visual education in Potter county was taken when the Bushland rural school installed a projecter and several series of slides to be used in teaching geography, history and English. Miss Laura V. Hamner, county school superintendent, hopes to install them in every rural school in the county.

AERIAL FIRE TRUCK

AMARILLO, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—Amarillo's new skylime has necessitated the addition of a $17,000 aerial truck to the city's fire fighting apparatus. It is believed the new equipment will deduct one cent from the key rate of 18 cents.

BOYS' PROJECTS REAP PROFITS

Silverton Vocational Students' Record Compiled

Special to The Record News

SILVERTON, Texas, Dec. 19.—Showing a marked increase in net profits over preceding years, the financial report of the vocational agriculture students of the Silverton High school reveals a total of $7,059.58 in a compilation just made of 64 completed projects for the term of 1928-29. Each boy is required to keep accurate records of his selected work, including costs, expenses, time applied, and market values, and must file his reports with the state department of education at Austin. A resume of each individual's operations is extremely interesting, and the combined results highly enlightening.

42 Students Enrolled

There were 42 students enrolled last year. Thirty seven started home project work, and 35 completed them. The profits derived represent a sum four times the departmental instructional cost to the school district. In 1925-26 the profit was $2,028.95; in 1926-27, $3,116.65; in 1927-28, $4,276.68; and for 1928-29 it had reached $7,059.58.

By way of explanation, it may be noted that these students have not spent the money made but have invested most of it in more hogs, poultry, dairy animals, and such; and it is understood that most of the boys have a checking account with some bank.

Nathan Montague, Norman Brown, R. D. Hodges, Obra Watson, R. D. Wheelock, H. C. Claunch, J. C. Turner, Carroll Garrison, Joe Brooks, Warner Grabbe, and Eural Vaughan, carried milo production projects. H. C. Claunch, who made 30 tons on 20 acres and had a net income of $226.10, was outstanding in this enterprise.

Pork Production

Students carrying out pork production were Vernon Garrison, Ronald Anderson, Fred Biffle, Hoyt Hill, Eural Vaughan, Warner Grabbe, and H. C. Claunch, with Warner leading with a profit of $165.35 on 13 pigs which made a gain of 2,470 pounds. J. D. Strickland, Ira Autry, H. C. Claunch, Hoyt Hill, and Norman Brown, in which H. C. Was again outstanding. He made nine bales of cotton on 20 acres and a profit of $220.

Haynes McClendon, Klee Dickenson, Alan Dickenson, Arlon Donnell, Arden Miller, Albert Dickenson, Carroll Garrison, H. C. Claunch Earl Allred, Max Burson, and Herbert Davis, had baby chick production for pullet production. Albert Dickenson was leader in this group with his development of pure bred Rhode Island pullets from a poultry breeding standpoint. He realized $45 from 109 chicks and from hatching eggs, $97.33, a total of $142.33.

In the egg production projects Herbert Davis showed the best results in having 40 pullets that laid 865 dozen eggs and made a net profit of $147.32. This remarkable record was carried out under real difficulties.

Obie Sheets was outstanding in broiler production. He developed 300 that made a gain of 375 pounds and netted a sum of $187.50. They were handled in the city limits.

Hail Hurts Barley

Nathan Montague and Eural Vaughan went in for barley, but hail damage ruined their showing. Eural had 50 bushels to the acre made, but a devastating hail completely wiped it out three days before harvest time.

Arlon Donnell, Nathan Montague, Joe Brooks, and Obra Watson, had oat production. Both Arlon and Joe deserve special mention, but Arlon was ahead with a profit of $231.44 from 12½ acres. Oats proved one of the most profitable undertakings, and tends to show that when certified pure seed is put into a proper seedbed, a good profit will result.

J. C. Turner, Vernon Garrison, Carroll Garrison, and J. D. Strickland finished their dairy cattle projects, and J. D. was in the forefront with a net income of $139.20.

Gardening Projects

In gardening Eugene Dickerson derived a net of $37.26 from one-half acre. Albert Dickenson, developed 40 turkeys at a profit of $82, other students, Fred Biffle, and H. C. Claunch, carried turkey projects.

R. D. Wheelock bested J. C. Turner in the sow and litter project with a profit of $54 from one sow.

There were four students who undertook wheat production, Kemp Thompson, Robert Turner, Hoyt Hill, and H. C. Claunch. Kemp led in his group with a yield of 630 bushels from 35 acres, making a net of $425.35.

'Meancst Thief' Steals Christmas Decorations

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Dec. 19.—The "meanest thief" is being sought here. Stealing colored electric lights and other Christmas decorations from the trees in the residence section is a new example of vandalism in Mangum. Residents in all sections of the city have spent money and energy in giving a splendid yuletide appearance. Police are investigating the thefts and it is probable that the vandals may be apprehended.

There are now 109 crematories in the United States.

Floral Heights Class Has Lovely Christmas Party

Members of the B. O. P. class of Floral Heights Methodist church enjoyed their annual Christmas party Wednesday afternoon at the handsome home of Mrs. H. H. Fraser on Hiawatha boulevard, with Mesdames A. A. Spencer, M. A. Beckman, E. A. McCarty, Shadie Hale and Clyde Murph joint hostesses.

The house was radiantly decorated with Christmas colors and vari-colored lights and lovely flowers added to the Christmas spirit of the afternoon. From the beautifully decorated tree, gifts were distributed to each person present.

Mrs. Milton Johnson, teacher, presented the class with a leather bound note book for the records of the class and the members of the class made a special present to her of a lovely blanket.

Hal Jr. and Eddie Yeager gave readings. Joyce Janice Hale and Betty Sue Tennyson gave a lovely dance and a musical reading was given by Sara Frances Gamble.

A lovely plate, carrying out the Christmas motif was served to Mesdames P. A. Newell, S. V. White, Glenn Berry, C. F. Helmcamp, Cecil Williams, J. G. Gossett, Ralph K. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

"They ain't no sure 'nough Sandy Claus," we heard a little newsy say to a group waiting to get the afternoon papers.

◇ ◇ ◇

And from the story we had just heard, we wondered ourselves if the Santa we used to dream of, had not lost his way in the world of today. If he still uses reindeer, he needs an airplane to reach all who need him.

◇ ◇ ◇

A family of 10—father, mother and eight children, living in an abandoned house with not a pane of glass in any of the windows.

◇ ◇ ◇

Rags piled in the four corners of the room to make beds for them. A little round stove the only real piece of furniture and packing boxes used alternately for chairs, tables and fuel.

◇ ◇ ◇

They were living on what they could collect from the garbage cans of the town. They had gone to the butcher shops and begged the scraps that would have been thrown away, and from this, in a tin can on the stove, they made a stew that was a treat for the entire family.

◇ ◇ ◇

They probably had never known what a full tubbing meant. Among other features of Christianity, soap and water are two of the most efficacious. Cleanliness is truly next to godliness.

◇ ◇ ◇

The entire family were inclined to be blonde, but the hair that might have been shining and bright if it had a chance at a shampoo, stood greasy and stiff.

◇ ◇ ◇

Wrong in spirit; wrong in health and wrong in mind. Not insane, but not worthy citizens to be turned loose on the world.

◇ ◇ ◇

The children were all born in Oklahoma and in Texas—the greater number in Texas.

◇ ◇ ◇

Oklahoma did not want them. Texas did not want them. We would not want them ourself and our first reaction to the story was "how horrible for people like that to bring children into the world."

◇ ◇ ◇

But they are there. When a baby died recently (there have been 10 children) the father took it in his arms to the undertaker and said, "Here, take care of this."

◇ ◇ ◇

We do not know the remedy. We know it is a true story. A child was born in a manger almost 2,000 years ago, but that child would have healed the sickness of this wretched group.

School And College Notes

By MARGARET FLEMING
The Record News Staff

Miss Sylvia Smith will read the Christmas story as the devotional at the special Christmas program sponsored by the Girl Reserves Friday morning at the regular assembly hour. The remainder of the program will be a pantomime of the story. R. E. Shepherd and a girls' carol chorus will furnish music throughout the entire program.

Clothing Display

Third semester clothing students have made the display case in the lower hall the center of attraction this week with dresses and coats of the latest fashions. A sampler made in the civil war days draws crowds of curious and interested students. The sampler was made by Zandavasta Neal. She started the work when she was seven years of age, producing her own flax, spinning the yarn, and weaving the material herself. The sampler belongs to Miss Jane Smith, home economics student.

Girl Reserves Party

Girl Reserves are making over a hundred children happy Friday evening at their annual Christmas tree and party. The children will receive fruit, candy and nuts, and each will be presented with a present by Santa Claus himself.

Rotarians Entertained At Christmas Party

Members of the Rotary club participated in a real Christmas party Thursday noon at the Kemp hotel when Mr. and Mrs. Tom B. Smock were hosts at a turkey dinner, members of the vested choir of the Church of the Good Shepherd sang Christmas carols, and Santa Claus distributed gifts to all present.

The choir, staging a processional into the banquet hall, was under the direction of F. P. McDougal, and was accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Wilcox, pianist, and Mrs. T. B. Greenwood, violinist.

Brief opening ceremonies were performed by Eugene Fletcher, bugler, and Herbert Cheshire Jr., standard bearer, of the Boy Scouts of the city.

Albert E. Myles welcomed Louis C. Ulrich as a new member of the club. Santa Claus was observed by those present to bear a striking vocal and gait resemblance to J. Wilkie Talbert.

Country Club Dance To Honor Junior C.-C. Head

Walton Nelson Jr., president of the Junior chamber of commerce since its organization early this year, will be honored with a dance at the Wichita Falls country club on the night of Monday, Dec. 30, at 9 o'clock, for members of the chambers of commerce and their ladies, according to Guy P'Pool, secretary of the junior body.

Highland Heights Group Has Meeting

Members of division four of the woman's council of the Highland Heights Christian church met at the home of Mrs. E. C. Russell on Kemp boulevard Thursday afternoon when Mesdames G. W. Curd, R. E. Norwood and J. P. Chastain were associate hostesses.

Devotionals were given by Mrs. Norwood, after which a poem, "The Christmas Street," was given by Mrs. R. B. Curd. "Stories of Real Life" was given by Mrs. Edgar Weehunt and Mrs. Bevi Kerr. "If I Were a Country Preacher." All topics were taken from "The World Call."

Mrs. Rex Lindsay, leader for the division, was presented with a beautiful gift in appreciation of her work. Gifts were exchanged among the members. Each member is remembered on her birthday and wedding anniversary also.

Members of division two, Mrs. A. L. Williams, leader, presented division four with a cake, a prize for having the highest attendance at the general council meeting this month.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. P. Chastain, G. W. Curd, C. R. Hall, Patrick Henry, J. A. Kilgore, Rex Lindsay, E. L. Moon, R. E. Norwood, Charles Nachtigal, C. E. Russell, W. H. Scarbrough, Edgar Weehunt, C. C. White, Bevi Kerr, P. B. Curd, and Mrs. Clara Pettigrew, a visitor.

D. O. D. Class Has Christmas Party

Members of the D. O. D. Sunday school class of the Grant Street Methodist church entertained with a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. R. P. Tooley Thursday afternoon when Christmas decorations were used in profusion throughout the house.

Mrs. Tooley, president, had charge of the business session after which Mrs. H. A. Bancroft led the devotionals. Mrs. C. W. Thomas gave a beautiful prayer after which gifts were distributed from the beautifully decorated Christmas tree.

The program included a song, "Silent Night," sung by Mrs. Thomas, Miss Anchor and Mrs. J. S. Counts; readings by Gwendolyn Morgan and Marvin Tooley. Mrs. H. A. Baker dismissed with prayer.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames C. W. Thomas, H. A. Baker, H. A. Bancroft, C. B. Bailey, E. L. Shy, Ed Smith, W. H. Black, J. S. Counts, R. P. Tooley, High, James, Miss Anchor, Miss Inez Davenport and Mrs. Chambers of Denton.

Presbyterian School To Give Lovely Pageant

One of the most elaborate Christmas pageants of the season will be given at the First Presbyterian church at the regular evening worship hour Sunday by members of the Sunday school.

Mrs. J. C. Payne, director of religious education, has charge of the arrangements. The adoration pageant "White Gifts for the King," picturing the Bethlehem story is interspersed with beautiful music, and the stage setting, it is said, can not be surpassed in a church dramatization. All friends and members are cordially invited to attend.

Lovely Party Given By Woman's Golf Association

The dining room of the country club was particularly beautiful Thursday when the Woman's Golf association held its annual Christmas luncheon and party there at noon.

In the center of the table was a beautifully decorated tree with gifts stacked beneath it for each member and guests present. Tall red candles were grouped at the ends of the table with bows of tulle making them more attractive. From the tree, down the table, ran wreaths of mistletoe and poinsettia. Plate favors were sugar coated almonds tied in pretty packages in vari-colored glassine paper. A crystal service in crystal of green and white made the table still more attractive.

Mrs. Ben Bell played Christmas carols as the guests entered. During the luncheon, as the weather did not permit the usual game of golf outside, a clever golf game was played at the table in the form of a contest on golf terms. A "driver" was defined as a coachman; a coachman; a chance was properly guessed as a "hazard." Fifteen terms were given and Mesdames C. W. Snider, H. F. Weldon and T. C. Thatcher tied in the contest. The tie was played off in a putting contest in which Mrs. Thatcher, a novice at golf, won the lovely figure of a golfer given as a prize.

Following the game a talk was made by Mrs. J. B. Hatchitt, president of the club, and Mrs. Fred T. Couper, chairman of the tournament committee, also made a short talk.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Roy L. Carter, Harry Strief, A. R. King, C. W. Boller, R. A. King, A. C. Ludlam, W. D. Bratton, J. G. Oakley, L. O. Landon, D. H. Rubsan, J. L. Waggoner, Fred T. Forum Expects 200 Guests At Husband's Party

More than 160 reservations have already been made for the dinner and Christmas party for forum husbands which will take place at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Friday night.

The two living Christmas trees on the grounds, given by the Travel club, are already brilliant with colored lights and inside the forum tall, red candles light the Spanish tea room and will furnish part of the Christmas theme to be used in the Friday night decorations.

Tables are being grouped according to the birthplace of the guests. Southern born, eastern born, northern born, foreign born, will sit together.

A program has been arranged that will embrace singing of Christmas carols by the audience, led by R. E. Shepherd, dances and splendid musical numbers. Besides these, there will be a surprise number offered on the program from each group.

The party promises many unique features and an elaborate menu has been planned by the hostess, Mrs. Ruth Kirksey.

No reservations will be taken or cancelled after 9 o'clock Friday morning. Reservations are limited to 200.

Wesley Girls Have Eleventh Party At Home Of Mrs. Silk

It seemed like homecoming for Christmas to almost 100 Wesley Girls of the First Methodist church, and the large group of children who attended the eleventh successive Christmas party at the handsome home of Mrs. W. W. Silk, their much loved teacher, Wednesday afternoon.

Santa Claus, impersonated by Mrs. John B. McKinley, met the guests at the door and introduced them to his smiling wife, whose part was taken by Mrs. Phil Lesh. Children who believed in Santa were much surprised to meet his wife, but willingly followed her upstairs where Mrs. Silk had arranged a lovely Christmas tree for their especial benefit. The church maid Ella took care of them as she has done for five years at the church.

Mrs. Silk's talk to her class, (her "girls" she calls them) was a sincere expression of joy at having them with her for the eleventh successive year. The genuine spirit of Christmas with all its love seemed in the atmosphere. She presented to the Wesley Girls a wonderful artist's program, given by her friends.

Mrs. C. Y. Tulley and Mrs. Walter Priddy, with Mrs. O. B. Kiel accompanying, sang a lovely duet. Mrs. E. F. Bohmfalk read an exquisite number, appropriate to the occasion, "The Slumber Song," by Alfred Noyes. Concluding the program, Miss Harriet Bradley, accompanied by her mother, gave two beautiful vocal numbers. Miss Bradley, a pupil of Schumann-Heink, seemed inspired Wednesday by affection for her hostess.

After the program, the guests in response to telegrams cleverly worded to Santa Claus were led by him into the library where another tree had been beautifully decorated for the grown ups. Gifts were interchanged among everyone present and each member of the class brought an extra gift which was left with Mrs. Silk for deserving poor families. Mrs. Silk was presented by the class with a box of handsome linen.

Mrs. Gail E. Trickett, leader of the circle which served the refreshments, personally made the lovely little favors that were on each plate. The refreshments carried out fully the Christmas colors of red and white and green and favors were green gum drops with white ring mints for handles and tiny red candles burning as they were served.

Assistant hostesses with Mrs. Trickett were Mesdames Milton E. Price, Bolding, J. S. Riggs, E. R. O'Brien, Cole Collier, J. Truman Stevens, Lowery, A. K. Presson, Homer Bennett, Earl St. Clair, J. Y. Chest Directors To Discuss Collections

Discussion of methods for the collection of unpaid pledges to the community chest will occupy the meeting of the board of directors of the organization Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the directors room of the City National bank, it was announced Thursday.

The directors will follow the procedure used by the Retail Credit Grantors association in considering the unpaid accounts. Names will be brought up alphabetically and each case will be dealt with separately. It is expected that large numbers of pledges can be obtained by this means.

Preceding the directors' meeting members of the board for the colored day nurseries and charities will hold a meeting at 9:30 o'clock to arrange for the Christmas tree and baskets to be distributed among the negro charities, it was announced.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE SET PLANS GAY PARTIES FOR HOLIDAYS

MANY RETURN FOR VACATION

Students Ready to Start Entertainments

Christmas week holds innumerable delights for returning students and students of the high school and Junior college, this year. Parties, dances, hikes, hayrides, caroling, week-end trips out of the city, and home-coming festivals of all descriptions will keep many of the young folk stepping high during the one short week of rest from school. Holiday season at the high school and Junior college will begin Friday afternoon, according to Principal S. H. Rider. Many of the teachers are going home for the week, others are visiting friends and relatives, and yet many more are staying in the city during the week.

Every train will bring scores of students from Texas university, S. M. U., Rice, C. I. A., Kemper Military institute, Austin college, Texas Tech, North Texas State Teachers college, Washington-Lee, T. C. U., Miss Mason's, Tarrytown on the Hudson, Johns Hopkins, Ward Belmont, Oklahoma university, Lindenwood, Hill's college in Pennsylvania, Notre Dame, Finch's school in New York, Virginia Military institute, and St. Mary's of the Woods in Indiana.

Some sort of entertainment is planned for every hour of every day. Public, personal, formal, and informal dances occupy almost every night of the week, and school parties, club parties, private parties, luncheons, and every conceivable kind of entertainment will knock old Santa Claus out of a place if he doesn't stand pat for his rights.

Misses Martha Ellen Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hines, and Miss Joline Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Woods, will arrive Sunday from Miss Mason's school, Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., to spend the holidays with their parents.

Miss Mary Delaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Delaney, will return from her school at St. Mary's-of-the-Woods, Indiana, Friday to spend the holidays with her parents.

Kemp Maer will arrive from Hill's college in Pottsville, Pa., to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Maer.

Miss Jeannette Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Moore, No. 4 Crestway, is expected to arrive Friday from Miss Finch's school in New York.

Miss Cheyille Whitehill, will arrive Friday from Notre Dame to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whitehill.

Miss Katherine Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks, and Miss Emily Mitcham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Mitcham, will arrive Friday from the University of Oklahoma where they are attending school to spend the holidays with their parents. Misses Mitcham and Weeks are pledges to Pi Beta Phi social sorority.

Miss Mildred Miller, student in Oklahoma university at Norman, Okla., will arrive Sunday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ferguson, Country Club Estates. Miss Miller is a pledge to Chi Omega, social sorority.

Henry Robertson of San Antonio is here to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Robertson.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Donnell, student in Lindenwood college, St. Charles, Mo., will arrive Friday to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Donnell.

Mrs. S. C. Carr

Dallas Lady's Child Gained Weight Fast

Mrs. S. C. Carr's experience with her little girl is just one of the many cases which we hear about. Mrs. Carr says, "My little Nettie Virginia had something like the flu. When it left, she was puny, had no appetite, and was very cross and feverish. I had known for years that Nature's Remedy is such a dependable medicine and I decided to give her a course of the Juniors. Nobody knows how happy I am to see her eat heartily again, and laughing and playing like she used to."

Very often those simple little chocolate coated Nature's Remedy Juniors (NR Jrs) are all the system of a child needs to straighten it out. Then the wastes can't remain in it to form the acids which sour the stomach, bind the bowels and rob the blood of the red corpuscles it must have plenty of to keep children from becoming puny, feverish and pale. Any druggist will recommend NR Juniors to you for your child. Only 25 cents.—Adv.

SHOPPING NIGHT

Stores Reopen for Aid of Men in Selecting Milady's Gifts

Wichita Falls stores held open house for the men of the city Thursday night when scores shopped for Christmas gifts or viewed Christmas displays in the annual event for "men only."

Merchants reopened their shops to the men at 7 o'clock, with full staffs of clerks on hand to care for purchases or to make suggestions for gifts for Milady. Everything from the most dainty lingeries to radios and household appliances was displayed during the period. Shoppers were apparently well pleased at the oportunity to buy without the embarrassment of feminine scrutiny or the hustle and bustle of the regular shopping day.

Jurors Convict 'Whitey' Walker

ADA, Okla., Dec. 19. (UP)—A jury in district court here late today found William (Whitey) Walker guilty of robbery with firearms in connection with the holdup of the First National bank of Allen in 1928.

Sentence will be pronounced Saturday by Judge Orel Busby. The state asked the death penalty provided for the offense under Oklahoma law. An appeal notice was filed by defense attorneys. The case went to the jury Wednesday night.

Curtis Black, alleged accomplice of Walker in the robbery was sentenced to 99 years in prison.

Walker, who had been apparently indifferent to trial proceedings, rose when the verdict was returned, thanked the foreman and was escorted to the Pontotoc county jail by three officers.

Vasconcelos Terms Execution as Murder

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 19. (AP)—Jose Vasconcelos, defeated presidential candidate in the recent Mexican election, tonight termed the execution of Gen. STATE LEGION HEAD SPEAKS

Cox Talks on Need of Hospital Expansion

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Dec. 19.—Hope that congress will expedite action on the $15,000,000 veterans' hospitalization bill and that President Hoover will sign it and present its benefits to veterans as a "Christmas gift" was expressed here tonight by Ernest Cox, state American legion commander, in an address before the Oscar Fry post, which held a special meeting honoring their leader.

Of the amount, Texas hopes to secure approximately $1,500,000 for the construction of a tubercular hospital for veterans, Mr. Cox pointed out.

The commander reviewed the work of the legion in Texas, and praised the many accomplishments of the past year.

The program was held at the local legion hall. Over 100 members were present, and six new members, Charles Chattin, C. G. Bell, Martin Johnson, E. B. Cain, Ray Ragland, and Lester Meyers, were initiated. It was announced that the post now has a membership of 205 and that D. J. Carey, past commander, had secured 182 members this year, thereby excelling all legion members in Texas in a race to see who will be chosen for a free trip to the national convention at Boston next fall.

On the entertainment program, Miss Nora Wafford gave several vocal selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. G. Wilson. Post Commander J. J. Jordan presided. Lunch was served after the meeting.

Wichitans at the meeting included W. E. George, Fred Greer, J. F. Friberg, O. T. Alles, Roy Daniel, Dr. L. I. Lucey, and Victor Nobles.

Labor Party's Coal Bill Barely Passes

LONDON, Dec. 19. (UP)—By a margin of only eight votes the Labor government tonight avoided rejection of the coal bill by which it hopes to end chaos in the mining industry and prevent a national tieup of the pits. It won approval of the second reading of the bill in the house of commons by a vote of 281 to 273.

OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Carnation Buys Creameries Here

pany, will hold the same rating in trade territory there that Wichita Falls holds in Texas. Other holdings in Oklahoma include the Berry Ice Cream company of Muskogee, the Lindsay Ice Cream company of Okmulgee, the Quality Dairy Products company of Sapulpa and Cushing and holdings in Okeemah. The expansion program also included establishment of a large condensing plant at Neosho, Mo.

The purpose of the deal in Wichita Falls was to provide a substantial foundation for the two local companies and make the distribution of milk and milk products in this vicinity possible in the most modern and efficient manner, Mr. Lehrack said. The local firms will continue to operate as in the past and will conduct their business independently of the parent concern, he declared. The central office of the Wichita Falls companies will remain in this city and the main offices of the Carnation company will exercise no mandatory control over the business here, he said.

Products Unchanged

No change will be made in the nature of the products at present distributed from the plants here. Although a condensation plant has been installed in the local companies, it will be used only during the summer months when milk is plentiful, Mr. Lehrack explained. The condensed milk made here will not be canned for general consumption but will be distributed for commercial use in bakeries, candy shops and other such plants in this vicinity.

The present value of the holdings of the two companies here, according to Mr. Lehrack, is in excess of $300,000. The plants cover a half block in ground space and give employment to 50 local employes. The annual milk purchases of the plants exceed $100,000. The firms here pioneered in the development of the milk industry in the Wichita Falls trade territory and have offered many advantages to the producers of raw milk. The association with the larger concern will provide unlimited facilities for the further encouragement of milk production in this area, Mr. Lehrack pointed out.

Many Other Plants

The announcement made Thursday by Mr. Lehrack was coincident with the issuance of a report from E. A. Stuart, president of the Carnation company, in which it was stated that the parent company was also including in its program of expansion many large dairies in California, Washington, Iowa and Oregon. The program also includes the recent merger with the Albers Brothers Milling company of San Francisco and the purchase of the Northfield Milk Products company of Northfield, Minn., giving an increased volume in the evaporated milk field.

A position in the package cereal and fine flour field is attained in the merger with the Albers company. The president explained that the expansion, so far limited chiefly to the West, would probably grow to include dairies and other businesses in other sections of the country.

Estimations that the gross business of the Carnation company will reach $60,000,000 in 1930 were also included in the president's statement.

Entry of the Carnation company in Wichita Falls was seen in business circles late Thursday as being of considerable aid to this section in the development of its dairying program. The joining of efforts between the two local plants and the Carnation company gives Wichita Falls two major milk products companies with programs of development, the Southwest Dairy Products company having entered the field here some time ago in the acquistion of the James Bros. and Producers milk plants and the Kraft cheese factory. Both major companies are favorably known for the aid given producers in building up herds of good cattle and for offering steady milk markets, it was pointed out.

Lost Husband's Love

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper of April 4 in connection with a divorce trial that has attracted wide attention.

"She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their beauty just because they do not know what to do.

If you are fat how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and acquire a clean, clear skin and eyes that sparkle with buoyant health?

And gain in energy and activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

You'll have the surprise of your life and best of all a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs 85 cents—you'll probably say it's worth one hundred dollars after you take the first bottle.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of 6 natural revitalizing salts your body, nerves and glands must have if you are to enjoy good health. Ask Allison Drug store or any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen Salts and start to lose fat today.—Adv.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

THE ROAD TO BUSHVILLE

Daily Editorial

HIGHBALL proficiency never yet developed a pinch hitter.

More than one game is lost the night before.

It's great to hear 'em sing, "He's a jolly good fellow," but the bleachers never join in the chorus.

The Gay White Way begins in the big league cities, but it invariably ends in Bushville.

Keen plays demand clean ways. No rounder can give his team a square deal.

From time immemorial, practice before the bar has preceded a seat upon the bench.

The pace of the diamond is too swift for the "fast" boys.

Every error of living promptly makes its way to the score card.

Fine dope, eh? Sounds like an interview with Connie Mack? Why not send a copy to every manager in the country, to reprint and stick up in the clubhouse?

But suppose, instead, you paste it on the walls of your memory.

All games are alike, and call for like habits of continence, self-control and decency.

Each man belongs to a team, and the success of his concern and associates is at the mercy of his own efficiency.

Any organization is embarrassed when a single one of its units isn't functioning at par.

A Real Editor and a Real Texan

WICHITA FALLS ex-students of the University of Texas have been in for a real treat these last few months in that their monthly magazine, the Alcalde, published by the ex-students association, has widened its scope so as to become not only a publication efficient in keeping the exes posted about their former schoolmates, but a scholarly, well written magazine in whose columns are discussed many literary, scientific and cultural topics that pertain directly to Texas. The magazine has grown to true man's estate, and its columns are now read, where once they were but glanced at.

These marvels have been wrought by James L. McCamy, the new Alcalde editor, himself a Tennesseean who took a bachelor of arts degree at the university. It is peculiarly significant that McCamy, native of another state, has built up special Texas features in his magazine, notably the section devoted to "Texans and Their Books," in such a manner as to bewilder most of us who have lived in this state for years and yet have done nothing to attract so much attention to our state. McCamy in the few years that he has been in Texas has been thoroughly transformed into a Texan; he has studied our state's history and its literature and its vast romanticism more, alas, than some of us natives; and he has been so enthralled in his work that he looks with shame on the Texan whose knowledge of his state is mediocre. He is proud of his adopted state. In fact, we happen to know that a good way to get at odds with McCamy is to tell him he is not a Texan.

He has thrown himself energetically into the work of edfting the ex-students' magazine, and having accomplished the results he has, it seems to use that it is a shame the magazine is not one of wider circulation. The special feature stories he has secured, written by men of learning all over the state, should be read by every Texan.

Such an editor is likely, at times, to have sudden attacks of discouragement. Most editors who tackle real problems do. We will take the liberty of quoting from one of McCamy's letters, wherein he had at length expressed his ambition to create some appreciation of Texas' history and literature among Texans themselves:

"My only consolation comes in the knowledge that I'm doing my part . . . to create an appreciation for the books of Texans, and the writing about Texas. I may be foolish in taking valuable space for book reviews and letting reviewers write honestly as long as they like, but my doing this is the chief interest I have in life. If I can build up even in a limited way a Texas literary state of mind, I will be satisfied even though I never make a single contribution myself to the writing of Texas."

Now we have a real editor and a real Texan working for our own good. If we do not help him, shame upon us. And we can help him by interesting ourselves in our state, by knowing our traditions and our folk lore—in fact, by sharpening our intelligence so we can appreciate the work such editors as McCamy are doing for us.

The Crime of Talking

THIS COUNTRY is so far from having any sympathy with radicalism that nobody seems to be paying any attention to the three reds who were recently sentenced, at St. Clairsville, Ohio, to extended prison terms because of their too-fiery utterances.

Yet that incident is worth a little study. If press dispatches from St. Clairsville are reliable, the whole affair seems to have been just a trifle witless.

According to these dispatches, the three defendants were guilty of the terrible crime of circulating literature in which the United States was branded as militaristic, and in which it was claimed that the country's government was "planning for war."

We must be in a great deal more danger of revolution than any of us have dreamed if we need to imprison men for saying things like that.

Surely, a government that stands on its own feet and enjoys widespread popular support can afford to let men say worse than that without calling on the police to get busy.

However, we seem rather to have lost sight of our ideals of free speech, in some sections; and these St. Clairsville reds very likely will not be the last men to go to jail for their remarks.

If it is a crime to say that the United States is militaristic and planning on war, why were the late Senator La Follette and William Jennings Bryan—to mention only two well known Americans—never sent to jail? Both of them said that on many occasions.

Our constitutional guarantee of free speech seems to work out something like this: If you are important and influential you may say what you please. If you are a nobody, and especially if you are moving around the outskirts of some industrial strife, almost any remark you make can be made sufficient to send you to jail.

In a way, of course, this isn't very important. And yet, in a way, it is. When we imprison people for saying things we don't like, we thereby convince certain obscure members of society that the things these people were saying must have been true. We act as if we had a guilty conscience.

The professional radical enjoys nothing more than martyrdom. He thrives on it. It is what keeps his cause going. President Hoover, realizing this, had the radicals who staged a demonstration of protest regarding our activities in Haiti released after they had been arrested in front of the White House.

We would deal radicals like these at St. Clairsville a much harder blow if we simply ignored them. One of these days, perhaps, we shall have sense enough to realize it.

WALTER WINCHELL

On Broadway

Copyright, 1929, Daily Mirror, Inc.

Colyuming With a Camera

"Dear Mr. Winchell," writes Nellie G. Williams, of No. 4304 N. Campbell Ave., Chicago, "usually I enjoy your column in the Chicago American, but I feel that any woman should centainly voice her protest when you go too far . . . I didn't think so much about it when you limited your observations about 'blessed events' to the people of whom I know nothing. On the other hand, our friends, The Lindberghs, have stepped into the limelight when they were doing a service to humanity for our dear U. S. A. You are not able to understand how sweet and sacred a thing this is to a modest, lovely woman like Mrs. Lindbergh. Why don't you think twice before you expose an expectant mother to this prying of the curious. Will you blase moderns leave nothing sacred?"

"My Young Friend," affectionately writes Mrs. Phoebe Elliott, of New Harmony, Indiana, "I say young, for no one could write like you do without a youthful spirit and happy heart. It is the liberty of age I have taken in addressing you. Yes, I am an old lady, 75 years old, and live alone. I want to tell you how much I enjoy your 'On Broadway' in the Evansville Courier. I like the cheerful, gossipy tone. I enjoy learning of the 'blessed events' that are casting their shadows before them. I have always envied grandmothers, and this means that someone will be a grandmother. I lost my two dear sons in their young manhood. Perhaps that is why I love young people so.

"This town I live in is historic, but alas! It is now an ossified town. The entire population would turn out to see a brass band or a baby. Full of old maids and widows, lovelorn ladies. However, if you ever wander through Southern Indiana, down here near the Wabash, you'll find my latch-string outside. I live in an old pioneer house more than 100 years old."

"Dear Mr. Winchell: I read your column daily, as all the rest of humanity does, I suppose and agree with most of your views except one. That one, you wrote about in your article concerning one Mr. Harry Richman. I agree that what you said about Mr. Richman would not in the least change anyone who really liked Harry, but to the average person who is so unfortunate as not to know and admire him, the slamming remarks you made about him certainly make you seem very small and childish, and would not exactly help him, either—so what was the use of it all?

"However, I might forgive you for this if, in the future, you will refrain from any more silly outbursts, possibly caused by a personal grudge and, as Mr. Richman himself says (of course I wrote and told him about you, enclosing the clipping, and received a fine letter in answer), jealousy, and have plenty of news about him, at least, if you can't compliment him on his success.

"I imagine that you wouldn't mention this or any other similar letters of protest about the same thing, in your column, because you wouldn't want to have anyone think that anyone else's opinion than your own is worth anything. Questioningly yours, An Indignant Harry Richman Admirer."

"Well, well. Personally, I don't care what you say about me so long as you say something. I wrote that poem in Zit's with a rhyme of 'uncouth' but it came out wrong. Oh yes, I came back from Sing Sing and the boys up there all seem impatient: They've got the little green room all prepared for you and certainly are putting themselves to great pains to see that you are comfy when you're finally found out. It still beats me how you manage to keep out. I know enough about you to hang you.—George Beck."

"Frankly," passionate writes Lolus Strunsky, "you make me sick. When you say that Grover Whalen never had an offer to advertise his fine teeth it shows how much you know. I made him one but he refused, offering him $1,000. Winchell Smith is not the richest playwright in the world. Have you ever heard of the French playwright, Andre Pascal? He's worth a billion dollars. As your knowledge of playwrights and plays is probably very meager, let me inform you that the gentleman's name is Baron Rothschild.

"Outside of poor English, false information, scandal which only harms people, stale, old jokes and cheap Broadway gags, your column is great, but I never read it."

"Dear Walter," writes "Modest One," "show business being what it is just now—you might be interested in knowing that a gentleman by the name of Safian, who is currently casting a show, offered an actress whom he is considering for the lead the following—$40 per week and 1 per cent of the gross above $6,000!"

"Walter: Here's a gag which may or may not be new. A heeb was walking down the street in some fantastic get-up and his friend stopped him. "What are you doing all dressed up like that?" asks the friend. "I'm going duck-hunting!" says the masquerade boy. With the friend incredulous, they finally took a train to Long Island and went into the fields. A covey of ducks went sweeping by. "Nu, shoot, shoot!" urged the friend. "Ach, dot's too easy," the shark objected, "anybody could shoot one out of so many." They walked on. Now a lone wild duck soared high. "So, what?" shrieked the friend, "so why don't you shoot that one?" "Take it easy," retorted the hunter snippily; then took slow careful aim and shot. To the friend's utter amazement, the bird came down. He rushed over to where it lay and kicked it. It quivered in death. "Yeh, it's really dead," mused the friend—and then, in a prompt reaction of high scepticism: "Ah, but it would have died from the fall, anyway!"

Me it amuses no end, and nobody I know seems to have heard it before. So, dollink, if you think it's either funny or new, will you be a good guy and credit it to Evelyn Hoey of "50 Million Frenchmen?" I need scarcely remind you that she's one of your favorite warblers and one of my favorite personal accounts.—Emanuel Eisenberg."

"Sir: Of course there is some entertainment in your stuff, particularly on Mondays for me, when you gather the trivia of the town. Not that I knew many of the citizens of whom you write, but somehow there is a tang to it all and I feel that I am informed. However, I do not envy you and whatever distinction goes with your job. I suppose you are fawned over by the darlings in the cabarets and fessed to death by the Broadway lice, but let me warn you, sir, too much power never did anyone any good. They are gunning for you, Winchell, and I thought you ought to know it. The latest rumor is that you soon will be named as corespondent by a well-known restaurateur.—J. H. M."

Marriage for Two-- By Arthur Somers Roche

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Shortly after an interview in which Helen Wilson tells Larry Tracy that she wishes to break their engagement so that she can marry the wealthy, middle-aged Frank Burton, and Larry swears, in pique, to marry the first girl who will have him, he rescues from a park bench a starved but beautiful girl, Joyce Carroll.

A few days later they are married, agreeing that the marriage shall in reality be nothing more than a friendship.

Shortly they sail for Biarritz, where Joyce gains great popularity and where Larry finds himself falling in love with her despite evidence of her strange past. A man named Ratty Rogan, in New York, tries unsuccessfully to tell Larry something of his wife and in Biarritz Joyce gives 40,000 francs to a woman of the demi-monde and tells Larry she lost the money at the gambling tables.

During a party given by Billy Valdemagara, a red-headed Spaniard and Larry's best friend, Larry comes on Helen Wilson on a high cliff overlooking the sea, and, feeling all his old love for her revived, takes her in his arms. They are seen by Paul Weedon, who threatens to spread the story. Larry goes at once to tell Joyce and is suddenly overwhelmed by the realization that it is Joyce he loves, not Helen. Joyce, however, refuses to credit his love for her.

Larry Meets the Police

"Billy didn't anticipate them by very long, did he?" she laughed. She was as cool, thought Larry, as though nocturnal police visitations were no novelty to her. He caught himself wondering if they were. Girls who knew men like Rogan, who gave money to creatures like the courtesan in the casino yesterday. . . .

"Remember, you weren't out on the cliff—"

"Remember that we were both of us," she said. "Don't you suppose they'll question other people? Why on earth are they coming here unless they already know that there was a quarrel between you and Weedon? That means they've already questioned other people. This is a murder, Larry. Murders aren't lightly dismissed. Any trifling falsehood will seem important. We can't avoid scandal. Well, let's not invite something graver than that."

Her cool logic impressed him, even while it angered him. How could she think so clearly at a moment like this? Of course, she was right. One cannot lie to police investigating a murder without subjecting one's self to gravest suspicion. But how did she know this? Or, knowing this how could she think of it when she ought to be in a high state of excitement? Did her coolness argue a previous experience with midnight visits from the police?

He hated himself for the unbidden thoughts that came to him. He loved her. And why, loving her, should he have doubts about her? Ah, but he'd already answered that question. No matter what she was, he must love her, and this was the hideous thing about love, this love.

"You get into something—something warm," he said. "I'll go downstairs."

Even while he thought of her well being his other thoughts brought harshness to his voice. The trembling maid who waited on the landing shrank from the fierce expression of his face. These mad Americans. So kindly and generous, yet—so savage. But what could one expect of a man, of any nationality, whom the police visited at such an hour? She crossed herself as he passed her, and muttered a prayer in her Basque patois. Then she rushed into Joyce's bedroom to offer assistance to her mistress and perhaps to revel in her mistress' alarm. For surely madame must be alarmed at such a visitation as this.

In a salon downstairs, Larry found awaiting him three whiskered, truculent individuals, whose ferocity was a matter of barbering their inner beings. Two of them were in uniforms and capes, and the other was in ordinary civilian clothes. This latter introduced himself with unction. He was M. le prefect of police, and he would, with monsieur's permission, venture to ask a few questions.

"But," protested Larry, "the hour——"

Ah, monsieur spoke most justly. But there were matters which were of an importance so great that convenience must not be considered.

For a fleeting second Larry dallied the idea of asking what was this matter of importance? Then he remembered tales of the excellence of the French espionage system even in times of peace. Perhaps the police did not already know that the marquis had telephoned, but they were sure to learn, from one of the servants, that the telephone had rung 10 minutes ago. The call would be traced to the marquis. Perhaps a curious central had already heard the marquis' warning. No, it was better to be frank.

"Weedon's murder?" he asked.

The prefect eyed him sternly.

"And what do you know of that deplorable occurrence, monsieur?"

"Not a thing in the world," said Larry.

"But you knew that it happened, eh?" The prefect rubbed his hands together with anticipatory triumph.

"Why, of course," said Larry with utter innocence. "My friend, the Marquis de Valdemagara just telephoned me of the sad happening."

The prefect's eyes lost their light.

"But, of course," he agreed. "The marquis would naturally inform you, eh? Considering that you were an intimate of the murdered American."

Larry shook his head.

"I wouldn't say that we were intimate. Slight acquaintances, that's all."

The prefect nodded.

"Not friends?"

Larry shook his head again.

"Most certainly not," he said.

"Enemies?" questioned the prefect.

"I wouldn't say that either, monsieur," replied Larry. "One demands of an enemy a character as high as one demands of a friend."

The prefect beamed upon him. Such phraseology, thoroughly high-flown and Gallic, appealed to him.

"Monsieur is a gentleman," he declared. "Shall we sit down?"

"An Indiscretion"

The prefect nodded to the two policemen and their tense attitude relaxed. They took chairs, however, near the door. The very thought of flight might be ridiculous, but there were taking no chances of an attempt at escape, Larry noted. He took a chair by the fireplace, bent over and touched a match to the wood laid there, and straightened up to find the eyes of the prefect fixed upon him.

"It is always well, Monsieur, to be frank," said the Prefect.

Larry bowed. There seemed to be no other answer to this statement.

"This Weedon—neither friend nor enemy, eh? We have, then, arrived at that," said the Prefect. "One of the type that one does not challenge, but—thrashes, eh?"

"Perhaps," admitted Larry.

"And the reason for the thrashing of Weedon?" inquired the Prefect.

"You spoke of frankness, Monsieur," said Larry. "Why ask a question whose answer you already know?"

"Because it is my duty to do so," was the reply. Into the official's expression crept a hint of that truculence which had been mitigated by his pleasant manner."

"Weedon spoke of matters that were not his concern," said Larry.

The Frenchman nodded.

"Of—an indiscretion on the part of Monsieur?"

"It might be called that," confessed Larry.

He felt his cheeks burning. His friends, his acquaintances, his servants, the general public, the police—all of these would know of the kiss that he and Helen had exchanged out on the cliff. Inwardly he writhed, though, save for his blush, he preserved an outward calm. And his sufferings were not solely for himself. After all, he had once cared for Helen, and she must care for him now. If she had not really loved him during the days of their engagement, she now loved him. If, in love, she had forgotten or disdained the fact of his marriage, and kissed him, it was an unfair price that she would be made to pay for her yielding. Why should she be involved in terrific scandal. She couldn't stand it. No decent young girl could, and Helen was decent.

In this day and age people didn't care very greatly if a young girl found herself in love with a married man, or if a married man were guilty of a quasi-infidelity. Not if the matter were a bit of intimate gossip. But newspaper notoriety—and this could not be avoided—was another affair. The most highly placed could not survive that. So he thought, forgetting that in recent years men of great distinction had been known to have mistresses, and the liaisons had become known through tragedies which had been shrieked in the headlines of the world, without apparent financial or even social detriment. But, of course, with a girl it was different.

"There is a young woman, eh, Monsieur?" asked the Prefect.

"Is this necessary?" asked Larry.

"I have already reminded Monsieur that I have my duty," said the Prefect. "One appreciates that Monsieur is a gentlemen. But Monsieur must also appreciate the fact that a great crime has been committed."

"You are certain that it is murder, not an accident?" asked Larry.

The Frenchman shrugged. "Monsieur Weedon's body was found on the edge of the beach. His clothing was saturated. There was, however, no water in his lungs. Also, there was a bruise on the forehead which must have caused his death."

"He might have fallen from the cliff and struck on the rocks below," suggested Larry.

"That is a thought that has also occurred to me, Monsieur," said the Frenchman, "but the facts, unfortunately, do not warrant that conclusion. There are no rocks at the base of the cliff, none, at least, on which a body could strike in falling. But we will rather confine ourselves to the putting of questions by myself, and the answering of them by Monsieur."

Again the whiskered face seemed pugnacious, and Larry bowed once more.

"I'm ready to answer any question," he stated.

"The lady, the young lady, with whom Monsieur committed the indiscretion referred to—the act was observed by Mousieur Weedon, eh?"

"It was, unfortunately," said Larry.

"There were words?" suggested the Prefect.

"There were," said Larry.

"Monsieur will be kind enough to relate the conversation."

Larry drew a long breath.

"How can I remember what he said or what I said?" he objected. "He—his words or his manner—or both—were insulting. I took hold of him, shook him, hurt him—slightly. Then I told him that every time I saw him I would thrash him. He left me. He made no reply to that. The lady and I—returned to the Reserve restaurant."

The detective breathed heavily.

"Concise, Monsieur. I congratulate you. Few men are as terse as you. And—in the restaurant—but we shall arrive there later. Let us go back. This lady, Monsieur—an old friend?"

The Truth About Christmas Shopping

"Reports from all parts of the country have satisfied President Hoover that Christmas shopping is heavier than a year ago, it was announced at the White House today."—News item

PHILLIPS

The above statement being somewhat vague, Mr. Elmer Twitchell, who has been investigating the holiday business, today gave out facts and figures bearing out the president's conclusions.

"Christmas shopping for 1929 is far ahead of 1928," declares Mr. Twitchell, "and I can't understand why Mr. Hoover didn't give out the statistics to prove it. Figures collected from the first aid stations in 200 big department stores show that 267,897 more women sustained broken ribs during the first two weeks of December alone."

Mr. Twitchell gave out the following figures to dissipate all doubts that all is not well with Christmas shopping:

Nervous prostrations in battles at handbag counters: (This season) 1,367,387; (last year) 978,365.

Eyes blackened in fights at special sales of Christmas tree ornaments: (This season) 763,852; (last year) 539,208.

Salesgirls killed by hard looks: (This season) 872; (last year) 765.

Floor walkers stunned by language used by women you'd never suspect capable of it: (This year) 589; (last year) 356.

Wrists dislocated in battles for precedence at Christmas card counters: (This year) 678,435; (last year) 868,922.

Husbands suffering physica breakdowns shopping with wives: (This year) 18,467,234; (last year) 3,467,829.

Husbands suffering mental breakdowns shopping with wives: (This year) 7,823,535; (last year) 4,678,296.

"These figures will just give you an idea of this year's Christmas business," said Mr. Twitchell. "I have reason to believe that the number of husbands permanently disabled accompanying women shoppers and trying to carry home all the bundles, including wrapped rocking horses, will double last year's figures.

"During the 15 days before Christmas in 1928 only 456,823 salesgirls had vertigo as a result of trying to be pleasant toward shoppers wishing to exchange Christmas purchases. This year 897,658 were stricken in half this period.

"And you take Santa Clauses," concluded Mr. Twitchell. "During the first 10 days of December, 1928 only 6,578 of them were driven mad by kiddies' questions in toy departments. This year that many went off their beans within the same period east of the Alleghanies."

JOHN BOSWELL C.-C. MANAGER

Former Plainview and Dallas Man Selected

built up an effective and faithful staff. The territory and its diversified resources, just now entering a period of greatest development, are sure to bear out my optimism for the city's future."

NEW MANAGER DRAFTED FOR PLACE HERE

John Boswell of Dallas, manager of the Southwestern Development service of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, was unanimously elected manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce to take office Jan. 1 at the regular meeting of the board of directors held at the Wichita club Thursday noon.

According to A. H. Britain, chairman of the committee on nomination and recommendation, the new manager was practically drafted for the position here as he has been for the other chamber of commerce positions to which he has given his past 10 years. He is a native Texan, having spent most of life in West Texas prior to his becoming secretary and manager of the chamber of commerce at Planview about 10 years ago. He was selected by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce five years ago for a new division of work undertaken by that organization without having made any application. He is now 30 years of age.

Former West Texan

Members of the board of directors pointed out that Mr. Boswell's long experience in West Texas and among chamber of commerce organizations throughout the northern half of the state in connection with his duties at Dallas fit him admirably for the post to which he has been called. His youth and immediate availability were other factors which entered into his selection, it was said.

Decision of the present board of directors to elect a permanent successor to James W. Chatham, present manager, was based upon the necessity of having an executive to take up the work on Jan. 1, when Mr. Chatham, resigned, will assume full-time duties with the Tuf-Nut Garment Manufacturing company of Wichita Falls, of which he will be vice president and general manager.

When Hubert Harrison resigned as manager on Oct. 23, the directors expressed themselves as reluctant to name a permanent successor inasmuch as a new board of directors would be formed within about 75 days. Mr. Chatham accordingly was elected acting manager for the remainder of the fiscal year. Faced by the necessity of preparing for the annual banquet and business meeting during the second week of January, formulation of plans for making up the $55,000 budget for 1930, and other improvement items of the organization's business within the next three weeks' the board considered immediate selection of a manager compulsory, its members stated.

Mr. Boswell is married, and has one child. It was stated at Thursday's meeting that he will be here Jan. 1 and will have charge of preparations for the annual banquet about Jan. 11. He is well-known among business men of this city through his long activities in this territory in connection with position he now holds in Dallas, it was said.

Peterson Leaves Board

The resignation of Ed Peterson as a director was unanimously accepted after Mr. Bullington had read the letter of resignation, in which Mr. Peterson declared that inability to attend meetings of the board accounted for his decision to withdraw.

Those present at Thursday's meeting were Orville Bullington, president; C. E. McCutchen, J. L. Maxwell, A. H. Britain, Luke W. McCrory, J. T. Harrell, Walter Nelson Jr., Lamar Fain, C. H. Clark, N. H. Martin, J. L. Jackson Jr., Alvin Gardner, and J. W. Chatham. Messrs. McCutchen, Martin, Harrell and Bullington were associated with Mr. Britain on the committee which recommended Mr. Boswell.

J. L. Jackson Jr. announced that the committee appointed to plan the annual banquet to be held next month will hold its first meeting at the chamber of commerce offices Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Rock Island and Frisco Plans Approved examiner holds the agreed price of $2,300,000 should be reduced to approximately $1,800,000.

Lease of the Gulf, Texas and Western to the Frisco, under terms proposed, held in the public interest, application of Frisco for operation, under trackage rights, over the proposed line of the Rock Island in Hardeman and Wilbarger counties.

Application of Rock Island for construction of 108 miles extending from Shamrock, on its Amarillo-Oklahoma City line, southerly to Wellington, thence southeast to a connection with the Snyder-Quanah line of the Frisco, and from Quanah southeasterly, crossing the Santa Fe at Medicine Mound, to a connection with the proposed Vernon-Seymour line of the Frisco on the north bank of Beaver creek. This calls for construction in Wheeler, Collingsworth, Childress, Hardeman, Foard and Wilbarger counties and includes operation, under trackage rights of Frisco lines in Hardeman, Wilbarger, Baylor, Archer, Young and Jack counties.

Santa Fe Application

Application of Santa Fe for construction from Heaton, on the Clinton, Oklahoma-Western, southeasterly, a distance of 8.7 miles to Lefors. The new construction which would thus be authorized under these recommendations would be 44 miles by the Frisco at an estimated cost of $1,709,744; by the Rock Island, 108 miles at an estimated cost of $4,217,854, and by the Santa Fe, 8.7 miles at an estimated cost of $375,000.

On the other hand the proposed construction by the Burlington, designed to run from Childress, through Wellington to Pampa, an approximate distance of 110 miles, would cost $4,276,580 and this was denied. The basis for this denial is that the chief purpose to be served by the construction would be to give additional railroad facilities for Pampa, already served by the Rock Island and Santa Fe.

Record News Cotton Table

For Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma

Ginnings in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma Thursday took a slight rise over the daily totals reported Wednesday but the output remained far below the average established earlier in the season. The decrease in ginnings seemed coincident with the advent of the extreme cold wave which had been delayed by warm weather for several weeks. Seed prices and middlings showed no appreciable changes Thursday. The following reports were received from Record News correspondents:

Red River Bridge Organization Furthered in Henrietta Meeting

The temporary organization formed last Dec. 9 at Electra for the purpose of advocating abolition of toll bridges across the Red river met Thursday at Henrietta and made plans for the permanent organization, which is to be formed in January or February. O. K. Barnes, with the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, who is one of several Wichitans in the temporary organization, attended the meeting.

Mr. Barnes said that at the Thursday meeting it was voted to have several meetings in towns along the Red river from Texarkana to Quanah to interest citizens in the movement, and that this accomplished, the permanent organization will be formed. The matter of abolition of toll bridges then will be placed before the highway commissions of both states, which will be asked to recompense the owners of the present bridges and operate them henceforth as state owned.

It was voted that the first of these meetings will be held in Temple, Okla., Jan. 7, Mr. Barnes said. J. P. Williams of Henrietta, who was elected chairman of the temporary organization, presided at the meeting. Robert P. Hall, secretary of the Electra Chamber of Commerce, is secretary of the temporary organization.

Citizens from Temple, Okla., Wichita Falls, Charlie, Henrietta and Electra were present at the meeting Thursday.

GRAND JURORS

Names of 16 Listed in Venire for Jan. 6 Term of Court

Names of the members of the 30th district court grand jury for the January term here were announced Thursday afternoon by Miss Eunice Jackson, district clerk, who prepared the summons for the panel.

Judge Allan D. Montgomery will impanel the investigating body on Jan. 6, the first Monday in the month. The names of the 16 men named by the grand jury commission are as follows: A. L. Gregg and A. E. Lewis, Burkburnett; J. H. Minter, Thrift; W. A. Asbell, Rollo Davidson and J. A. Wise, of Electra; Charles W. Coppack and Charles Van Loh, of Iowa Park; C. F. Barnard, A. M. Miller, J. M. Bland, J. N. Prothro, Leonard Albritton, George D. Fox, Sam Kruger and C. J. Coffey, all of Wichita Falls.

The group was named by Burton Stayton, Curtis Sewell and W. R. Hill, members of the commission.

RAILROAD SUED FOR $30,000

Claim Follows Death of Woman in Crash

The parents and son of Mrs. Mary Davis, killed in a railroad crossing accident on Nov. 9, Thursday afternoon filed suit for $30,000 damages against the Fort Worth and Denver railroad. E. T. Davis, 18-year-old son of Mrs. Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Culpepper are the plaintiffs, the boy asking $25,000 damages, the parents $5,000.

According to the papers filed Thursday, Mrs. Davis was instantly killed when the automobile in which she was returning from a dance with J. J. Cobb was struck by a Fort Worth and Denver train at the Iowa Park crossing.

English, which a century ago was spoken by twenty million people, is now the language of two hundred and twenty millions.

P. B. Cox to Head Knights Templar

P. B. Cox was elected commander of Wichita Falls commandery No. 59, Knights Templar, to succeed J. D. Bright at the meeting of the organization in the Masonic temple Thursday night. Mr. Cox has been active in Masonic work in Wichita Falls for several years.

Other officers elected Thursday night were W. B. Guthrie, re-elected generalissimo; John A. Elder, captain general; L. M. Thayar, senior warden; B. L. Bryans, junior warden; Jacob B. Price, prelate; J. L. McClure, re-elected treasurer; George W. Lawler, re-elected recorder, and J. A. Bussey, sentinel.

Routine business occupied the remainder of the session, according to Mr. Lawler, recorder. A good attendance was reported.

MOVIE PATRON SUES THEATER

Suit Asks $7,500 for Ouster From House

Charging that he was a victim of aggravated assault, of false imprisonment and of malicious prosecution, Courtney Stewart, through his father, Edward E. Stewart, Thursday afternoon filed suit for $7,500 damages against the Publix theaters and Elwood Watson, assistant manager of the Majestic theater here.

The youth claims to have suffered actual damages at the hands of Watson and Billie Prince, usher, in the sum of $4,000, and asks for $3,500 additional as punitive damages. His petition asserts that he was injured in the sum of $750 by aggravated assault, $1,000 by false imprisonment, and $750 by malicious prosecution.

In the papers filed Thursday afternoon Stewart describes a visit to the motion picture theater on Nov. 27 which he claims ended in an attack from Elwood and Prince. The boy asserts that he bought a ticket to the theater, but was roughly questioned about the stub before the picture was completed. When he protested against the tone used toward him both Prince and Elwood "ganged and attacked" him, the plaintiff sets out.

As he escaped from the entanglement and tried to run, he was struck across the head with a heavy flashlight, Stewart continues. Later he says, he was forcibly dragged back from the street to the theater and was held there until taken in charge by the police. He claims to have been imprisoned, charged with affray, and later acquitted.

DEATHS

MISS CLARA BYNINGTON

It was thought for a moment she had fainted but when the empty bottle was found, antidotes were immediately administered and a physician and ambulance were called. She was unconscious a few minutes after her collapse. She was taken to the hospital in an ambulance of the Albert's Funeral home.

Rites Not Planned

Miss Pruett was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Leverton, 1513 Blonde street. She is also survived by four brothers, Frank Leverton of Dentontown, Texas; B. L. Leverton of Big Spring, Texas; Walter Leverton of Wichita Falls and a twin brother, Delmar Leverton, who is at present stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. A sister, Mrs. Ida Redman of Clyde, Texas, also survives.

Funeral arrangements had not been made Thursday night. Relatives here were awaiting word from the brother in Washington.

More or Less Publicity

It is still a matter of argument as to whether football is getting too much or too little publicity. Bill Roper says it is getting too much publicity. Something like 40 dozen grads, etc., are violent in their beliefs that football, so far as their own college and stars are concerned, isn't getting half enough publicity. Not a tenth enough. In the last 10 days the names of over 40 "all-American stars" have been rushed to these dispatches via the mail and the telegraph lines as being among those "unfairly overlooked." Six or eight universities and colleges are also included among those overlooked and given unfair silent treatment. A full page a day for six months would not be enough to provide all the publicity needed for universities and overlooked star players. Any one who doesn't think so is welcome to step in and examine the idignant mail sent to this department.

And they are not faking. They believe it all with a passionate intensity that shuts out the terrific bias they cannot see. Perhaps the only sure fire system would be to give columns of publicity to every football team and every football player in the United States. All favorable, of course. But even this wouldn't work. Too many resent the publicity given to others as being undeserved.

Quite Complicated

It is all quite complicated. Here is another complaint, just received.

Dear Sir—You have constantly boosted this season a certain football team where the university or some one connected with it has a preparatory school training farm where likely looking youngsters are sent and developed, everything paid for, to be called when needed, which means to be called when certain gaps are open. I am not guessing about this. I know it is true and so do most of this team's rivals. It takes quite a healthy athletic fund to handle this situation. You can check up on this by seeing how many football stars come from a certain preparatory school or training school to this university. And this is not the only case of the same kind. If this is amateur sport then there isn't a Republican in Pennsylvania or a steer in Texas."

There is quite a block of college football that isn't amateur sport, any more than big league baseball is amateur sport. Comparing teams fairly is almost impossible, because so many of them work under entirely different eligibility programs. It is like comparing sprinters who start five, 10 and 20 yards apart. Only a minority start from scratch.

They Don't Grow Old

At the recent baseball gathering there were two or three young fellows bounding about the lobby who seemed to have forgotten that years come and go. One was Eddie Collins. Another was Max Carey. Both were just breaking into the spotlight 20 years ago—but 20 years have taken from them only a light toll. Either today could run bases with most of the youngsters in either league and have something to spare on the side.

Jimmy Sheckard, who has been around still longer, apparently has no idea of taking on age. There may have been better left fielders than Jimmy Sheckard, but you can't prove the same to more than one oldtime fan. Collins, Sheckard and Carey are among those who helped to make baseball worth looking at. They all had the speed and dash that catches the eye of the multitude. And these were only part of the oldtime parade that so many millions have followed through the last 20 or 30 years. And most of them still looked 10 or 15 years younger than they actually are, which is pretty fair proof that baseball at least has some of the ingredients for which Ponce De Leon searched.

J. S. H. wants to know how one can get more left hand and left arm into the golf swing. The best way to start is by turning the left hand more over the clubshaft, where at least three of the four knuckles are visible. This helps to prevent the left hand and wrist from collapsing just before the moment of impact, overpowered by the right. The left hand and wrist must be built up to compete with the right on even terms. The yearning desire to smash with the right hand must be restrained and kept in place. Unless the left hand and wrist are given their chance to handle their share of the swing there can be no step in the direction of better play.

Those who wonder how Babe Ruth's slender legs have supported his large body so long that the Babe has eliminated at least 600 sprints in his career by the simple process of tapping the ball out of the lot. A home run with him is the art of self-defense.

"No all-American football team can suit everybody," writes a contemporary. For that matter it isn't so easy to pick one that will suit anybody.

Childress Basketeers Trim Memphis by 23-14

Special to the Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Dec. 19.—The Childress High school Bobcats won a ragged game from the Memphis Cyclone five here Wednesday night by a score of 23 to 14. It was the second meeting of the clubs, the Cyclones having gone down in a severe drubbing at the hands of the Cats at Memphis two weeks ago. Davis, local forward, lead the scoring for the Childress five while Memphis failed to show any outstanding player. Both clubs were badly off form and showed signs of lack of practice.

Harrold Basketeers Whip Wichita Falls by 39-31

Special to the Record News.

HARROLD, Texas, Dec. 19.—The Harrold High school basket ball team defeated the Featherston-Hawkins & Vague team of Wichita Falls here Thursday night, 39 to 31. The game was played in the new gymnasium here which was recently completed. Howe and Hill, on the Wichita Falls team, were the stars, making 25 points between them.

ATHLETIC BODY FORMED IN '20

Loop Powerful Factor in H. S. Upbuilding

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (AP)—The Texas interscholastic league, said to be the largest and most compact schoolboy athletic organization in the country, will celebrate its 10th year of existence in the meeting of the Breckenridge Buckaroos and Port Arthur Yellow Jackets at Waco Saturday for the state football crown.

Organized in 1920, the league has been a powerful factor in the upbuilding of high school athletics in Texas. From an annual aimless scramble, in which something like a dozen teams always ended up with a claim to the title, the league has transformed the state race into a closely-knit affair, the winner recognized as champion.

Race This Year

The race just coming to a close has been the most successful in the history of the state league. Not a school that entered the chase was forced to withdraw for any reason, and eligibility rules of the league are notably strict. There is no team to dispute the right of the Jackets and Buckaroos to fight it out for the crown.

In only one year since the league was organized did the football race fail to produce a recognized champion. That was in 1920, its first year, when Cleburne and Houston Heights battled to a scoreless tie at Austin in the finals. They did not play it off.

Following is a record of championship play:

1920—Cleburne 0, Houston Heights 0, (tie).
1921—Bryan 35, Oak Cliff 13.
1922—Waco 13, Abilene 10.
1923—Abilene 3, Waco 0.
1924—Oak Cliff 31, Waco 0.
1925—Waco 20, Forest (Dallas) 7.
1926—Waco 20, Oak Cliff 7.
1927—Waco 21, Abilene 14.
1928—Abilene 38, Port Arthur 0.

WACO ALL SET FOR BIG TITLE GAME SATURDAY

WACO, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—Waco is all set for the final curtain drop of the 1929 interscholastic league race here Saturday when Port Arthur, champions of South Texas, and Breckenridge, from the West, meet here to settle the title question. Both teams are expected to arrive here Friday morning.

The Jacket delegation from a warmer climate will find the thermometer down below 20 degrees when they pull into Waco according to weather forecasts. The Buckaroos are due to arrive later in the day.

Coaches of the visiting teams plan to give their charges light workouts tomorrow afternoon. One team will probably use the Baylor gridiron, and the other the Waco high school practice field. The Cotton Palace stadium, scene of many bitter high school battles, is in first class shape for Saturday's fray.

Some 3,000 visitors from the two cities alone are expected here, besides the several thousand neutral fans. Those in charge of the Palace stadium are expecting to seat 10 thousand or more.

A delegation of Wacoans, including the high school band and pep squad, the firemans' band and chamber of commerce and city officials, are to meet both special trains into the city.

Duke High School Names Next Year Grid Captain

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., Dec. 19—Ickie Patton has been named captain of the Duke eleven for another year, according to announcement by athletic officials. He will lead 11 lettermen in the 1930 schedule.

Patton, 160-pound tackle, who has played that position for Duke Tigers for two seasons, will captain the Tiger football team. He was made pilot of the squad in a called meeting of the 1929 squad recently.

Players who will be available for another year are Ickie Patton, Vlovis Patton, Howard Darby, Alen Bobbit, Cecil Hoey, Ray Clemons, Tip Perry, Roy White, Lois DeForde, Lester Minor, Haem Solloway, Fred Setliff and Finis Rosenbaum.

All-Star Gridders From Okla. U. and A. & M. Play

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 19 (UP)—All-star football teams of the University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma A. & M. college will meet in Oklahoma City on New Year's day, it was decided today.

Definite plans for the battle have not been completed, but former gridiron heroes of the rival state schools are being organized for the contest.

Big Moments in Sports of Year 1929 Have Already Passed Into History

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The year 1929 has seen almost all of its big moments in sports.

The last two weeks of this year have in store only a few desultory engagements, except for the Army-Stanford football game at Palo Alto Dec. 28. The only important events left on the 1929 calendar are:

A 15-round junior lightweight championship boxing match between Tod Morgan of Sequim, Wash., and Benny Bass of Philadelphia at Madison Square garden Friday night.

Holiday Tennis Play

The national junior indoor tennis championships, beginning at the 7th regiment armory, New York, Dec. 31.

Twenty-fourth annual meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic association at New York, beginning Dec. 31.

With Christian Cagle making his farewell to collegiate football, the Army-Stanford gridiron battle should supply some of the most thrilling action of the year.

Tod Morgan, consistently beaten over the weight limit, but strangely able to hang on to his trick title, is in real danger of losing it to Benny Bass, rugged Philadelphia puncher.

Coaches Meeting

The meeting of the N. C. A. A. here during the holidays is expected to produce an answer of college football coaches to the famous "bulletin No. 23" issued in the thick of the gridiron campaign by the Carnegie foundation.

Reversals of form during the past season were, as always, numerous in all branches of sport, but it would be hard to find one more astounding in any sport, in any year, than Bobby Jones' defeat by Johnny Goodman, Omaha youth, in the first round of the national amateur golf championship at Pebble Beach, Calif.

In boxing perhaps the most surprising result was Tommy Loughran's knockout at the hands of Jack Sharkey in the third round one September night at Yankee stadium.

Athletics Triumph

The most dramatic event of the baseball season was supplied by the Philadelphia Athletics when they went "crazy" in the seventh inning of the third game of the world series and rolled up 10 runs to overcome an eight-run handicap in the greatest world series rally of all time.

Derby Winner

Splashing through the mud and rain, Clyde van Dusen, game little son of Man O' War, captured the Kentucky derby in a thrilling run against many obstacles. Blue Larkspur, the favorite, finished out of the money.

In tennis William T. Tilden came back to win his seventh national championship, and Helen Wills again proved herself supreme among women players without losing a set.

HOLTON TO SPEAK

Coyote Mentor Will Be Principal Speaker at Electra

Coach Barry Holton will be the principal speaker of the evening at the annual football banquet tendered the Electra high school players Thursday night by the chamber of commerce of that city. The Tigers and the Coyotes are friendly not at all on the gridiron but around the banquet tables the rival coaches of the two teams will mix and mingle in the convivality of a groaning table and reels of long-winded palaver, as coaches will.

Coach Holton will leave late Friday afternoon by automobile and will be accompanied by Assistant Coach Bill Morris. They will return to Wichita Falls on the same night.

Junior College Is Too Good for Burk

The Junior college Indians defeated the Burkburnett Independents basket ball team to the count of 15 to 9 Thursday night at the local college gymnasium in a game that was featured by rather slow work by both teams. The Independents did most of their scoring in the second half of the game. They could loop but one goal in the first half.

Ansley Grant and Robert Villiard led the scoring for the Indians with two field goals each. Grant also shot a foul goal. Spraytton and Norwood succeeded in shooting a field goal each.

For the visiting team Forman was the best player, he making three of the four field goals scored. Most of the markers were made in the second half. Sherwood threw the other field goal for the Independents. Hogue pitched the foul goal for the visitors.

The Indians looked bad on their field goal work and threw an incredible number of inaccurate shots. This game is the last that the team will play until after the holidays.

The Coyotes called off their game with the First Presbyterian Church Athletic club team on account of the cold weather.

HUB BOWLERS TAKE MATCH

Richards Rolls High Three Games

The Hub Clothing company bowlers blew themselves to a three game lead in the City league Thursday night when they threw the Spectralite bowlers for three straight losses at the Spudder alleys. The Oil Magnates took two out of three games from the Elks club.

Richards of Elks club had high three games when he rolled 606 points and also high single game with 233 points.

Handy's took two out of three games from First National bank, and Staley's took a pair of games from Grove's Shoe repair in three games played. Rizan of Handy's had high three games with 481 and he also had high single game with 207 points.

American Pro Golfers Face Sturdy Amateur Competition in G. Von Elm

By MAX STILES

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 19. (US)—Facing for the first time this winter sturdy amateur competition from the blond George von Elm, American professionals comprising the strongest field that to date has yet played in a golf tournament on the California mainland, will tee off tomorrow in the second annual Pasadena open championship. The purse aggregates $4,000.

Play begins at 7 a. m. over the Pasadena Municipal links in Brookside park. The schedule calls for 18 holes tomorrow, with the low 100 continuing the day following. At the end of 36 holes the field will be cut to 60, these 60 to play the final 36 on Sunday.

Large Entry List

There are 222 entries, including nine of the 10 men who played on the American Ryder cup team in England last spring. The only Ryder cup absentee is Gene Sarazen, while those present and ready to tee off are Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Horton Smith, John Golden, Johnny Farrell, Al Watrous, Ed Dudley, Joe Turnesa and Al Espinosa.

Notables on Hand

Billy Burke and Wild Bill Mehlhorn, of former American Ryder cup teams, are on hand, while the field is given additional strength by the presence of Tommy Armour, Bobby Cruickshank, Craig Wood, Harry Cooper, George von Elm, Densmore Shute, Fred Morrison, Charlie Guest, Tony Manero, Eddie Loos, Willie Hunter, Olin Dutra, Neil McIntyre, Fred McLeod, Henry Ciuci, Joe Kirkwood, Johnny Dawson, Danny Williams and others whose fame is restricted more closely to sectional championships.

Von Elm arrived this week from Detroit. He hopes to win the championship, but even if he does the first prize of $1,000 would go to the leading pro. Thus Von Elm's presence may become humiliating to some of the pros, but it cannot be expensive.

College of Mines Plays Texas in 1930 Schedule

EL PASO, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—The Texas College of Mines has been added to Texas university's 1930 football schedule, Coach Mack Saxon announced today. The game will be played at Austin, Sept. 27.

Coach Saxon received verification of the date from Dr. H. J. Ettlinger, director of athletics at Texas.

In the dome of St. Peter's cathedral in Rome, 450 feet above ground level, there are living quarters for workmen permanently employed to keep the building in repair.

COACH DENIES DARK REPORTS

McEwan Makes Statement To Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Taking cognizance of reports that he had furnished to the Army team pictures of Stanford's football team in action, Capt. John J. McEwan, head football coach of the University of Oregon, today issued an emphatic statement to the Associated Press denying whole the allegation. McEwan's statement follows:

"I wish to deny emphatically the report that motion pictures of the Oregon-Stanford football game were sent by me to West Point. These pictures were taken for the specific purpose of showing my own players the mistakes they made against Stanford so that they could correct them. No West Point coach or player has ever seen those pictures. The report that I had sent them is untoward and untrue.

"My plans for the ensuing year are to continue my duties at the University of Oregon. I shall return to Eugene, Ore., about Jan. 6. I expect to fulfill my contract, which has one year more to run completely, and I trust the university will do the same.

Captain McEwan's statement was issued as a result of confusing reports as to his plans, arising from the fact he announced in November his resignation at Oregon, effective upon the termination of his contract in 1930.

LYNCHING TRIAL

HOUSTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Introduction of testimony in the murder trial of Howard Minton, accused member of a lynching band, got under way this afternoon shortly after the 12th juror had been selected. Minton pleaded not guilty. The prosecution contends he participated in the lynching of Robert Powell, negro, here the day before the Democratic national convention in June, 1928.

PACK - INDIAN LETTERS GIVEN

Twelve Coyotes and Fifteen Indians Honored

Football letters, those symbols of athletic prowess on the gridiron, were awarded Thursday at assembly hour to 12 high school Coyotes and to 15 Junior college Indians. The number of numerals given to players this year was fewer than is usually given.

In the dedicating exercises Coach Holton spoke and explained that this year he had made somewhat of a change as to the basis of selecting his letter men. In former years it has been the practice to make letter awards on the basis of the number of minutes actually engaged in the game by the player. This year at the Wichita Falls High school a standard arrived at by a compendium of four different principles was used to guide the selection of the letter men. The matter of eligibility, ability, attitude, and progress shown by the player were the four guilding principles. This method, the coach believes, is a fair and equitable standard for selecting football letter men and the 12 Coyotes awarded letters in 1929 reflect, in Holton's judgment, these cardinal principles at their best.

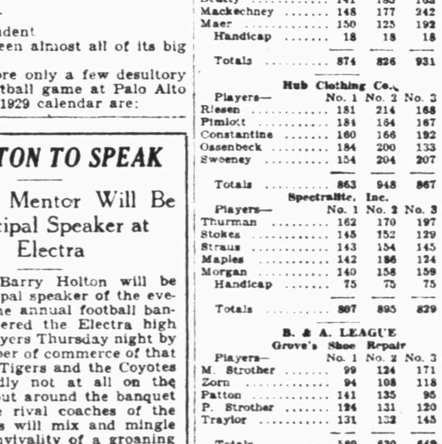

The letter men are Captain Martin Hodgkiss, J. Carstarphen, Rollin Dixon, Tom Beaty, John Skeen, Chick Holden, Morris Lee, Bunny Norwood, Jerry Elliott, Bob Guy, R. Carstarphen, Paul Dickey and Manager Springer Williams. No reserve letters were given.

Coach Baggett announced his letter men and stated that the awards were made contingent upon the mid-term passing of course by the athletes. The following men received their letters: Captain Emil Hutto, Captain-elect Cox, Maurice Allred, Eggleston Ramee, Harvey Moore, Duncan Perkins, Bill Habern, Henry Barton, Harrison Price, Clifford Hindman, Foster Herd, Ralph Parker, Douglas Tiffin, Waggoner and Manager Ross Saye. Reserve letters were given Phillip Blacklack, I. D. Brown, Ed Hutcherson, Allen Johnson, W. A. Johnson and Roy Smith.

THIS IS TOO MUCH

BEAUMONT, Texas, Dec. 19. (AP)—The port of Beaumont has received an order that it admittedly cannot fill. A Swedish seaman who made his way by stages from his homeland to New York, thence to Galveston, and from Galveston to Beaumont, asked a harbormaster as to the possibilities of catching a ship here for Omaha, where he has relatives.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper

(Copyright 1929, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week beginning Sunday, Dec. 22:

Sunday—Breakfast, coddled egg, Melba toast, baked apple; lunch, asparagus soup, cooked string beans, celery and ripe olives; dinner, baked chicken with Melba toast dressing, cooked spinach, mushrooms en casserole, head lettuce with olive oil if desired, ice cream.

Monday—Breakfast, cottage cheese, toasted shredded wheat biscuit, pear sauce lunch;, oranges or apples as desired; dinner, vegetable soup, roast beef, steamed carrots with parsley, okra, salad of chopped raw cabbage, jello or jell-well with cream.

Tuesday—Breakfast, French omelet, crisp bacon, Melba toast, stewed raisins; lunch, mashed turnips, cooked beet tops, celery and nut salad; dinner, broiled lamb chops, baked squash, cooked tomatoes, ripe olives, stewed apricots.

Wednesday—Breakfast, oranges, all desired, glass of sweet milk; dinner, celery, roasted nuts, tomato bouillon, stuffed beets*, roast turkey or chicken, Melba toast dressing, escalloped celery, buttered parsnips, pumpkin pie; supper, cold sliced turkey or chicken, McCoy salad (lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers).

Thursday—Breakfast, poached egg on Melba toast, stewed prunes; lunch, raw apples, glass of milk if desired; dinner, vegetable soup, cream cheese, steamed carrots, cooked lettuce, salad of raw celery, dish of berries (unsweetened canned variety).

Friday—Breakfast, coddled egg, small piece of ham, crisp waffle, pear sauce; lunch, baked squash, string beans, lettuce; dinner, baked halibut, spinach, salad of tomato, spinach and asparagus, plain jello or jell-well.

Saturday—Breakfast, wholewheat muffins and peanut butter, stewed figs; lunch, potato soup, mashed turnips, cauliflower salad; dinner, roast mutton, cooked cucumbers, peas, salad of shredded cabbage and parsley, prune whip.

*Stuffed Beets—Select beets of uniform size, scrub with a vegetable brush and boil until tender. Remove from the fire and plunge into cold water, when the skins will slip off easily. Cut a slice from the stem end of each beet (to make the beet flat) and scoop out a portion from the center with a spoon. Place in the ice box and when cold fill with a mixture of minced cucumber and tomato. Chill thoroughly and served one or two of the beets on a bed of crisp lettuce with a dressing of olive oil if desired.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Twitching Leg

Question—R. J. writes: "I am troubled a great deal with my right leg. After I walk a few blocks it seems as if I have no use of it from the hip down, simply have to drag it along, and at night as soon as I lie down my leg keeps twitching all the time. Would greatly appreciate if you could suggest a treatment I could follow."

Answer—You should have an x-ray examination of your lower spine. There is no doubt some faulty position of the vertebrae or the pelvic bones which is causing a pinching of the nerves.

Hot Salt Water

Question—Mrs. B. L. writes: "I drink a cup of hot salt water every morning. Do you think it beneficial? Or will it do any harm? I have been told that it will cause hardening of the arteries."

Answer—Such a large amount of salt tends to irritate the stomach and intestines which produces a more copious flow of intestinal fluids. Salt is taken in this manner to relieve constipation, but this method could not be superior to the use of any of the ordinary laxatives. The use of any irritants in the body is liable to toughen whatever parts they come in contact with. This, of course, includes the walls of the arteries.

Reducing

Question—Mrs. B. asks: "Can I reduce and at the same time eat all I want of the non-fattening foods?"

Answer—One can usually eat a large amount without gaining weight, providing most of the foods are of low calory value, such as the non-starchy vegetables. The most fattening foods are those made of any kind of flour. The starches may be entirely elimnated, but in addition to eating large amounts of the green vegetables one who is trying to reduce should also use small amounts of protein foods in order to keep up cell repair.

Road Inspector Files Appeal in Fuel Claim

ENID, Okla., Dec. 19. (UP)—Frank V. Wiles today filed an appeal in district court from the Garfield county board of county commissioners' order disapproving his claim for $3 for gasoline used in his private car while doing road inspection work.

The appeal was filed to test the authority of the new state law giving county commissioners equal power with the highway commission in obtaining expenses on road work, Wiles said. The suit was expected to attract considerable attention as many county commissioners have found themselves in circumstances similar to that of Wiles.

Christmas Carnival Is Held at Mangum

Special to the Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Dec. 19.—Townspeople and students alike made merry in celebrating the annual Christmas carnival given at the gymnasium Thursday night by the senior class of the high school. A negro minstrel, side shows, wrestling matches, boxing bouts and refreshment stands were arranged for the public, in addition to four reels of "Our Gang" comedy. Proceeds of the affair went to the athletic association to aid in financing the basket ball teams.

HUGE GASOLINE 'BUY' REPORTED

'Big Four' Purchases 25,000,000 Gallons for Export

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 19.—"The big four," as the Atlantic Refining company, Cities Service Oil company, Sinclair Refining company and Standard Oil Company of New Jersey are termed by mid-continent refiners, have just wound up a purchase of 25,000,000 gallons of high gravity gasoline in Kansas, Oklahoma and North Texas.

The principal amount of the motor fuel will go for export, but some may be used in domestic trade. They purchased 61-63, 390 end-point, and 64-66, 375 end-point material.

U. S. motor grade is unchanged, with contract shipments good but spot is still slow. Stocks are reported increasing.

Natural gasoline manufacturers report their product easy. For prompt shipment considerable AA grade is available at 6¼ cents a gallon, and at 6⅛ cents for future, with BB at 6¾ cents and C at 6⅝ cents. The A and B grades are not moving well.

The extremely cold weather that swept the mid-continent is expected to develop a revival of buying for heavy petroleum products, such as distillate, gas oil and fuel oils.

The price war at Houston is ended, and the tank-wagon price has gone up 2 cents a gallon, making that price 15 cents and service station price at 19 cents a gallon, including 4-cent state tax.

Skelly's Big Well Breaks Control

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 19.—The Skelly Oil company No. 1 Hoopes, in the northwest of the southeast of 31-11-2w, in the southeast part of the Oklahoma City pool was opened up Wednesday to complete the 24-hour gauge and after flowing for 15 minutes broke the connections.

Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company made a location for No. 2 Mollman, in the northwest of the southeast of the southeast of 23-11-3w.

Prairie Oil and Gas company, Tom Slick and Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Sudik, in the center of the northeast of the northeast of 8-10-2w, in Cleveland county, but four miles southeast of the field's discovery well, and also the deepest drilling well in the area, is now drilling at 7630 feet in hard lime.

Tom Slick Oil company No. 1 Zecherle, in the northeast corner of 13-11-3w, is connecting up and will bail in. It was drilled to 6548 feet.

The "A" wells in the field were shut in Tuesday morning and the wells in the "B" group are now producing for five days. The output of 20 wells totaled 73,454 barrels for the 24 hours ending Wednesday morning. Several of these wells produced only while efforts were made to shut the wells in.

NEWS of the FIELD

BARNSDALL DUSTER

The Barnsdall Oil company has abandoned as a dry hole its No. 1 W. H. Portwood test, a wildcat located in the southwest corner of northwest quarter of section 1574, T. E. L. survey, Baylor county. The well is some distance to the east of the Portwood pool and was drilled to 1500 feet.

SUNSHINE HILL

Howell and associates made location for a test to be drilled 150 feet each way from the southwest corner of the northwest 20 acres out of H. & T. B. R. R. survey, abstract 129, Ed Foster land, north east of Sunshine Hill in Wichita county.

UNITED PRODUCERS LOCATION

The United Producers and others No. A-10 W. L. Hodge is a location 170 feet east and 150 feet south of the southwest corner of their 40 acre tract out of block 9, H. & T. B. R. R. survey, southwest of Iowa Park in Wichita county.

HENRY HOBBS PRODUCER

Henry Hobbs No. 1 W. L. Hodges located 150 feet south and west of the northeast corner of block 32 Wichita Valley Farm lands, west of Iowa Park Wichita County, is completed and swabbing 200 barrels from the sand at 1758-62 feet.

STALEY-WYNNE TEST

Staley & Wynne No. 1 Hodges located in block 32, Wichita Valley Farm lands, an offset to the Henry Hobbs producer in the same block is running casing to test out the sand at 1803-05 feet. The sand at 1781-96 feet which was tested failed to make a well.

$3,100 Verdict Given In Damage Suit Here

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Raymond Thursday afternoon won a $3,100 damage judgment against Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Heyman by the verdict of an 89th district court jury in connection with an automobile accident at Brook avenue and Eleventh street last April.

The plaintiffs claimed that Mrs. Raymond suffered injuries when the car in which she was riding was struck by a machine driven by Mrs. Heyman. The firm of Fitzgerald and Hatchitt, attorneys, represented Mr. and Mrs. Raymond in the suit.

BALCONES FAULT

The eight pools in the Balcones Fault area in East Central Texas, produced 17,998 barrels of oil from 1,128 wells daily during the past week.

America's first poultry exhibition was held in Boston about 80 years ago.

COUNTY GINS REMAIN IDLE

Three Bales Turned Out as Norther Halts Work

Cotton ginnings in Wichita county missed by the narrow margin of three bales recording a blank for Thursday. One grower near Iowa Park braved the winter to bring one bale to the Valley gin there, while two bales were being turned out during the day at the Red River gin north of Electra.

Assembling of heavy supplies of fruit for the holiday season was much in evidence in the wholesale produce district. One carload of 462 boxes of navel oranges, a carload of Bluegoose extra fancy Delicious apples, a carload of Skookums apples of the same classification, and large shipments of New Jersey cranberries, California English walnuts, Brazil nuts, and Rio Grande valley grapefruit were among the Christmas stocks unloaded at the Texas Produce company's warehouse Thursday afternoon.

Homes in this community are to be well supplied with Christmas trees, according to the numbers being taken out Thursday. The largest part of the 4,000 small firs received a week ago by the same company have been distributed, the small tree stock having been almost completely absorbed.

Wheat prices dropped three cents per bushel with local grain buyers Thursday, No. 1 hard wheat now quoting at $1 even.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Moderate early advances on the steady showing of Liverpool cables and reiterated talk of a reduction in ideas of the Indian crop were followed by reactions in the cotton market today under realizing or liquidation and some local selling. After selling up to 17.00 at the start, January contracts reacted to 16.91 and closed at that figure compared with 16.97 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 4 to 8 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices. Later an advance of 3 points some trade buying was reported, while there was further covering which seemed to be promoted by reports of rather a better business in cotton goods, and an idea that offerings from the South had tapered off at the decline earlier in the week.

The demand was by no means active or aggressive, however.

Southern selling was very little in evidence, but the trade buying also appeared to be limited, and the failure of the bullish features discussed early to stimulate a more general demand may have promoted a disposition to liquidate long contracts as prices worked off during the afternoon.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 19. (AP)—Trade slackened considerably on the New Orleans cotton exchange today in advance of the holiday season inactivity and awaiting the ginnings report due tomorrow though the market opened steady under the guidance of stronger foreign cables.

Selling by scalpers and January liquidation contributed to losses of 6 to 9 points in the morning's trading. A cable describing the India crop as almost a failure caused prices to rally slightly early in the afternoon but late trading realized a relative easing off that practically duplicated the early lows and made a new low on October.

Uneasiness over the ginnings report ran January down from 16.94 to 16.87 and the month closed at that price, or 6 points net down for the day. The close of the general market was steady at net declines of 5 to 7 points.

Liverpool was quoted at the start 1 to 2 points better than due and New Orleans first trades showed no change to 3 points up. With lack of support the prices soon turned easier and by the end of the first hour January traded down to 16.90, March to 17.19 and May to 17.41, or 4 to 6 points below the opening figures. With very limited trading the morning decline took January to 16.87, March 17.16 and May 17.39, or 6 to 9 points down from the early highs.

Under the depressing factors the market closed at the lowest with January at 16.87, March 16.16 and May 17.40, or 5 to 6 points net lower on these active months.

Sheep—Receipts 300; steady; nominal.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 19. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hog trade around the 11-market circuit was very erratic today. Shippers operated at prices unevenly strong to 35c higher, but packers were bearish toward any advance, and some markets were 15@25c under Wednesday. Total offerings were around 87,800, a decrease fo 31,000 from a week ago and 80,000 short of the corresponding day last year.

The ship supply approximated 26,900 against 37,331 last Thursday and 46,180 a year ago. Most of the river markets were 15@25c higher.

Reduced receipts resulted in further strengthening of prices on killing classes of cattle. Fed steers and yearlings ruled firm to 25c higher. Stocker and feeder classes were scarce at unchanged values. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 17,700, a decrease of 6,000 from a week ago and 4,000 short of a year ago.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 19. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Cattle—Receipts 300. Calves—Receipts 100; fully steady; fed yearling heifers $10.50; butcher cows $6@6.50; bulls $7.50; vealers $12; heavy calves $8.50@9.25.

Hogs—Receipts 700; asking $9.50 top.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 19. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Hogs—Receipts 5,000; 15 to 25c higher; top $9.65 on 200 to 250 pounds.

Cattle—Receipts 2,000. Calves—Receipts 400; slaughter steers 950 to 1,500 pounds $11@12.25; cows $7.25@10.00; stocker and feeder steers $9.75@12.25.

Sheep—Receipts 2,000; lambs $11.25@12.60; ewes $4.50@6.00.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 30,000, market 25c higher; top $10.00; bulk $9.25@9.90; heavyweight $9.60@10.00; medium weight $9.50@10.00; light weight $9.50@9.90; light lights $9.25@9.80; packing sows $7.90@9.00; pigs $8.75@9.60; boldovers 5,000.

Receivership for Int. Combustion Turns Market Decidedly Bearish

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (US)—Combustion receivership emphasized the Fox situation and influenced more aggressive bearish operation that unsettled the entire stock market today. After the delays and numerous rumors as to banking and legal conferences the Combustion action was no surprise, but it nevertheless was seized upon as an opportunity to disturb sentiment by the bear groups that have been working to depress values for the last fortnight. Steel after holding through most of the day succumbed to late offerings and finished with a drop of 3½. Combustion dropped to new low, losing 4¼ for the day while the preferred declined 8½. Fox declined 9, International Telephone 3, Warner Brothers 1¼, Montgomery Ward 4⅜, Westinghouse 2½, American 3, American Smelting 2⅞, Anaconda 2¼, Public Service of New Jersey 2, and New York Central 3. Oils remained soft but held to fairly narrow range. Turnover increased to near 3,500,000 shares. Call money was held at 4½ per cent.

Combustion and Fox monopolized interest. The Combustion receivership was no surprise. It could have happened over a month ago. There have been almost daily meetings since and periodic expressions of "hope" from the bankers and lawyers involved. Evidently the situation was too involved to straighten out in any other manner. The Combustion trouble is not the result of any stock market development. Nor does it mean that the company has no valuable assets and rights in its special process. In fact several leading railroad and utility groups were interested in the possibility of getting control of the company. Their investigations, however, resulted in revelation that the company's finances were too involved to warrant their taking active part. Had it not been for the fact that Durant's name was connected with the activity in the stock the receivership would not have as much market influence as it has.

All manner of reports are heard regarding the Fox situation. It is known that bankers and others have held several conferences over the last few weeks. Powerful groups in the amusement field are interested in getting Loew or other Fox holdings. Warner Brothers are mentioned. One of the main obstacles to a deal is the attitude of Washington. If assurance could be had that the government would not interfere, it is stated, deals could be worked out quickly that would relieve the immediate burden on the Fox organization.

There was further talk of improvement in the automobile industry. Special survey prepared by one firm points out that several large markets are combining in a policy of higher prices while they are cutting down production. These are the same tactics being tried by the copper companies. In the automobile industry higher prices are necessary at times of lesser production due to the very small margin of profit per car which leading manufacturers permit themselves. Increasing short interest in General Motors and others, it was pointed out, was building a strong foundation for a better market in the motors coincident with the January shows here and in Chicago.

The decline in loans is not important. It reflects the further liquidation induced by the professional bearish operations during the week. However, the greater part of trading has been professional and up until today there was little stimulus to professional activity as it was almost impossible to cash in any reasonable profit on either side of the market. With the emphasizing of the Combustion and Fox situation there was temporary bearish influence to increased activity that undoubtedly caused further liquidation. The reserve statements evidenced that the powers that be are going to continue their policy of making credit as easy as possible over the Christmas season at least.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Predictions that a large increase of domestic winter wheat acreage would be announced tomorrow afternoon had a decidedly unsettling effect on the wheat market today. Prices gave way, accelerated by the fact that the official estimate of 1929 wheat production in the United States showed 14,000,000 bushels excess over the previous forecast. Besides, general heavy snows relieved anxiety as to crop damage from zero temperatures and there were no clearances today of wheat or flour from this country overseas.

Chicago closing prices on wheat were unsteady at about the bottom level reached 2¼c to 3½c a bushel under yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¼ a ⅜c to 1¼c off, oats ½c to 1¼c down, and provisions varying from 5@7c decline to a rise of 7c.

Sharp breaks in Liverpool quotations led the way to the series of price downturns witnessed today in the wheat market here, and it was current talk that the Liverpool setbacks were a result of selling orders from this side of the Atlantic.

The main element in lowering the value of corn and oats today was wheat weakness. The corn belt is entirely snowed in, and that there is little chance of any large movement of corn during the remainder of the month.

Despite upturns in hog values, provisions sagged, owing chiefly to price declines.

Gunman Loses His Nerve in Face of Merchant's Bluff

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Dec. 19. (US)—Walking into a haberdashery today, a bandit leveled his revolver at Peter Gordon, the proprietor, who was counting his receipts of approximately $400.

"Stick 'em up," snapped the gunman.

"You'll have to kill me to get this money," replied Gordon calmly.

The bandit hesitated for a moment, looked at Gordon, and finally lowered his revolver.

"I don't want to kill anybody," he said, "but I'm hungry and must have some money."

Gordon gave the gunman 50 cents and he walked out thinking the proprietor profusely.

Arrest of Four Men Solves Robberies

JOPLIN, Mo., Dec. 19. (INS)—Bank robberies in two states and a $2,000 bus robbery near here are believed to be solved with the arrest of four men being held in jails today of Missouri and Oklahoma.

The men are held in connection with bank robberies at Inola, Okla., West Mineral, Kan., and Brazelton, Kan.

Marvin Dold, 29, of Muskogee, Okla., and J. C. Shock, of Conway, Ark., implicated two other men in widely separated cities in their confessions at Claremore, Okla., yesterday. Dold confessed having a part in the robbery of a Carl Junction banker of $2,000 while he was riding on the Carl Junction-Joplin bus several weeks ago.

C. C. Heads Called 'Swaggering Bullies'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (UP)—William Butterworth, president, and Julius Barnes, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce, were denounced as "swaggering bullies," in a speech to the house today by Representative Garber, Republican, Oklahoma, for their attack on policies of the federal farm board.

Garber said the two chamber of commerce officials grossly misrepresented their own organization and the business interests of the country in seeking to interfere with the farm board's program of fostering the cooperative movement.

"This is what comes of little men rattling around in big places," Garber said.

Iowa Park Schools Close for Holidays

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Dec. 19.—After observing Christmas in each room with special programs and decorations, and a Christmas tree laden with gifts, Iowa Park schools were dismissed by Supt. B. H. Burney Thursday afternoon, Dec. 19. They will open again Monday, Dec. 30. It is stated that Superintendent and Mrs. Burney will spend the holidays visiting relatives in San Antonio and that the entire faculty, who reside elsewhere, are going to their various homes to spend the holidays.

GRAND JURY TO ACT ON SHOOK CONSPIRACY CHARGES

SPENCE TO ASK INVESTIGATION

Former Officer Found Guilty of Robbery

Tuesday afternoon when Hopper admitted pretending to serve three subpoenas in Wilbarger county and of making false returns on the papers. He went through the motions at the request of A. L. Shook, cousin of the defendant, Constable Hopper declared in an affidavit presented to the court.

Fraud Perpetrated

A. L. Shook's story of the invention of the witnesses will be presented to the court on Dec. 24 when he will appear to answer similar charges of contempt. Shook, who waived citation on the charges, has agreed to tell the whole story of the plan of his own accord.

In its formal presentation of the conspiracy charges to the court Thursday morning the state alleged that Tom Shook, A. L. Shook and Constable Hopper has perpetrated a fraud upon T. A. Hicks, defense counsel, who had acted in good faith in applying for the subpoenas and in asking the continuance.

Mr. Spence's continued investigation will be centered on Tom Shook's sworn statement that Earl Bridges, Will Simms, and Charlie Eason, the three imaginary witnesses, would help him prove an alibi, the district attorney declared. The statement was made under oath in Shook's application for a continuance when the case was called to trial Monday morning, Mr Spence explained.

Shook Brought Here Again

Meanwhile the convicted man is again in the Wichita county jail with four more indictments pending against him here and a fifth, charging first degree murder, on record in Tennessee. He was brought back, handcuffed and still with a lead chain, under the guard of Charlie Gant, deputy sheriff, and J. P. Huddleston, state ranger, on special duty to assist in securing the prisoner. T. A. Hicks, defense counsel, has said that he will appeal from the five year verdict the motion for a new trial to be presented and heard in Wichita Falls.

Mr. Spence announced after the verdict Thursday morning that he would prepare to bring the defendant to trial next on a charge of the murder of Oscar Daugherty in Electra in August, 1928.

CITY PLANT PAYS

AMARILLO, Texas, Dec 19. (AP)—The municipally-owned water plant here has shown a profit of $37,000 during the last seven months, even though water has been available at a lower rate. Profits of the plant were high during the summer months, and although much less water is being used during the winter, the department is still showing a reasonable profit.

STRAND: "Say It with Songs," with Al Jolson, Davey Lee and Marian Nixon. Paramount novelty, "On the High Seas." Sound news. Free parcel checking service.

MAJESTIC: "On with the Show," techni-colored extravaganza. Equally high coloring in plot and settings. Movietone news.

OLYMPIC: Ben Lyon in "The Flying Marine." "Taxi Scandals," comedy. Pathe news.

GEM: Tom Tyler in "The Law of the Plains." Chapter 3, "Tarzan the Tiger." Fable comedy.

QUEEN: Griffin Melodramatic company.

The coming of "Say It With Songs" to the Strand Friday may prove Al Jolson either very unlucky or very courageous, figuratively speaking. For he will follow a seven-days' stand of "Sweetie," in which Jack Oakie did some tall burlesquing of Mr. Jolson's style. Should Jolson essay any song agonizing in his new picture similar to "Mammy" in "The Jazz Singer," recollection of Jack's delightful expose will shake down Al's heavy emotion to the level of comedy, and that pronto. On the other glove, (it's winter now) should Mr. Jolson still produce sobs and hankies with the customers by gyrating vocally from a kneeling position, we stand ready to admit that he's a better man than a whole regiment of Gunga-dins.

Which is by way of appreciating Jack Oakie's spicy, swaggering characterizations as much as suggesting of Mr. Jolson that too much may be enough. Jack goes in for a good time, admits it, laughs at it—this as a major forte. The much-mushed "Mammy" type of night-club and musical comedy song builds its appeal on induced sentiment, and utilizes quite the same philosophy as that of the old-time parson who boasted that after his sermon there wasn't a dry eye in the house. Of course, there may be some further analogy, for among the crowds before whom in New York most of such "ballads" make their first killings, there probably are many watery eyes.

Mr. Jolson has a beautiful voice. His singing of the Jewish ritual in "The Jazz Singer," backed by a magnificent chorus, was one of the most stirring performances thus far recorded in sound-pictures. And there certainly is no argument against make-believe. It would be difficult to prove that imagined pictures and deeds are any less real than those enacted in the purely physical, tangible sense. Books and plays and picture-plays endure merely through their capacity for transporting the audience into the land of let's-pretend. But most of us find our appetite for sadness fairly well appeased in the realm of material reality, with seas much more storm-tossed than those alabastine pictures on which songs like "Mammy" and "Little Pal" are washed up. Which does not imply that we question Mr. Jolson's right to "say it With Songs" to his heart's content—but leave our heart's discontent to find its own reasons for weeping.

Bandit Captured In Holdup of Truckmen

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (UP)—A bandit bit off more than he could chew when he tried to hold up and tie five truck drivers.

"Go get some rope," ordered the bandit, identified as James Edwards, 37, as he poked a revolver in one of the driver's ribs. The truck driver got the rope, while his four companions held up their hands.

Edwards turned as the man came back with the rope and Charles Rocek landed a blow on the bandit's chin. The drivers trussed up the bandid with the rope and dragged him off to a police station.

JUNIOR C.-C. GIVES PLANS

Organization's Program for 1930 Outlined

Efforts to secure adoption of a plan providing for payment of taxes in quarterly installments, to further the campaign implied by the slogan "It's Right in Wichita Falls," and to stage a tree planting campaign for the beautification of the city are prominent in the 1930 objectives of the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce as set out in the program of work adopted by the annual business meeting last Monday night.

The text of the program of work committee's report, which was unanimously accepted, was given to The Record News Thursday by Guy P'Pool, secretary of the organization. It also provides that during the coming year luncheon membership meetings will be held on the first and third Fridays of each month, instead of weekly, as at present.

The report, signed by Jerry Vinson, Richard O. Jonas, J. A. Richker, John C. Coffey and Paul Hines, follows:

1—To keep alive during 1930 the idea expressed in the slogan "It's Right in Wichita Falls."

2—To lend every possible cooperation in the development of aviation and air mail projects.

3—To continue active support of school and other athletic interests of this city, in the belief that Wichita Falls deserves an improved rank in this respect.

4—To cultivate the friendship of our neighbors in all possible ways, including at least one good will trip each quarter.

5—To develop better acquaintance and fellowship by giving at least one social function each quarter, and by having noon luncheons the first and third Fridays of each month, and by publishing a semi-monthly news bulletin on Wednesday preceding the luncheons.

6—To encourage road development, including improvement of present highways and streets.

7—To encourage the beautification of our city, particularly by the staging of a tree planting campaign.

8—To lend our influence toward securing a four-year college for Wichita Falls.

9—To endeavor to secure the adoption of a plan for paying taxes in quarterly installments.

10—To continue to cooperate with the chamber of commerce in the development of industries, dairying, transportation, marketing and all other things looking toward the building and betterment of Wichita Falls.

We realize that no formal program can cover the activities of the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce and that other worthy undertakings will arise during the year which will merit our support and cooperation.

Christmas Shoppers Aid Girls in Movie Contest

"MISS WOOLWORTH" VOTING COUPON

Fill in the name of "The Girl From Woolworths" who is your favorite:

NAME .....

DEPARTMENT .....

This Popularity Contest Held Under Auspices of The Record News and The Majestic Theater

Christmas shoppers at the Woolworth store imparted a surprising momentum Thursday to the contest which will result next Monday night in one girl receiving a week's paid vacation and a three-months' pass to the Majestic theater.

Before the ballot box had been installed at the rear of the sales floor Thursday morning, scores of shoppers had filled out ballots registering their preference for different entrants in the unusual popularity race. Throughtout the day, sales girls reported, a high degree of interest was manifested by the gift-seeking public, and it was estimated that scores of voters had given substantial ballot support to the 32 girls listed in the contest.

One enterprising miss, to whom the prospect of seven-days' vacation following the trying whirlpool of Christmas shopping looms as a premier objective, reported for duty Thursday morning with almost 40 ballots already "in." They represented coupons clipped from as many copies of Thursday morning's Record News, and bore the signatures of early morning readers of the paper.

"Well, if I should win that vacation and pass, I guess I'd spend most of the week down at the Majestic theater, wondering if it really were true," said another entrant, "for by Monday night we'll need a vacation, and we certainly haven't had time to see any shows lately."

There are some girls on the Woolworth payroll who are not entered in the contest. One of these, a diminutive, brown-eyed pleasant little personage gave her reasons between rapid dispensations of chocolates.

"No, I am not trying for the vacation and pass, but I'm doing all I can to get votes for the other girls. You see, I'm married, and don't work all the time, like lots of these other girls do. Anyway, my husband wants to vote my popularity himself."

Ballot boxes at the store and in the lobby of the Majestic theater will be kept open for votes until 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, voting coupons being available in the Record News and at the Woolworth store. The five girls having the highest totals when the ballots are counted will appear on the stage at the Majestic at 10 o'clock Monday night, and will be judged by comparative applause of the audience.

The contest is being sponsored by the Majestic theater and The Record News in connection with the showing of "The Girl from Woolworth's," with Alice White in the stellar role, at the Majestic on Sunday and Monday.

POULTRY SHOW HERE JAN. 4-7

Association Members To Meet Friday

Members of the Wichita Valley Poultry association will meet at the chamber of commerce, in the Perkins-Snider building, at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Dec. 20, to complete plans for the annual poultry show to be held here Jan. 4-7, according to C. O. Smith, secretary.

The coming display of poultry will be held in the J. P. Barclay building at 618 Scott, that location having been made available through the courtesy of Mr. Barclay, Mr. Smith said.

Poultry shows put on by the local association in recent years have been noticeable for the great number of entries, the varieties shown, and the quality of birds displayed. Officers of the association predict one of the best poultry exhibits ever held here.

'I'm Happy After What Orgatone Did for Him'
"He Suffered With Abdominal Troubles But Not a Trace of Ailments Now," Says Lubbock Wife
"Well, Orgatone has just simply made a new man out of my husband and I can't begin to tell you how happy it has made me," said Mrs. E. G. White, of 601 Avenue O, Lubbock, Texas, wife of a well known electrician.
"I certainly wish my husband had gotten hold of Orgatone several years sooner," she continued. "He was in a terrible run down condition, and had very chronic case of stomach trouble. After eating he would be in misery for several hours afterward, and would nearly always have to take something. His food did not digest but would lay in his stomach hard, undigested. Everything he ate soured on his stomach, and he would have gas and bilious spells. He would bloat up so after eating he would be very uncomfortable."
"He was getting to be very nervous and was restless all night long and hardly ever got a good night's sleep. He had a bad case of constipation and was forced to take something most all the time."
"We read a lot of statements from Lubbock people about Orgatone, and found out what it was doing for others, so he decided to give it a trial. It just went right after his trouble, and now he is entirely like a different man. He has a splendid appetite and eats anything he wants, and isn't bothered with indigestion in the least. He goes about his work now, feeling fine. Orgatone has helped my husband so, when nothing else did him any good, I am glad to give this statement for him."
