POSSE RENEWS SLAYERS' HUNT ON NEW CLEW

BED HIDDEN BY GRASS IS FOUND ADDING ZEST TO SEARCH

(By Associated Press)
SCOTT CITY, Kas., May 28.—Discovery of a mattress and bed springs in a canyon about 25 miles south of Oakley today renewed the hunt for the slayers of a bank at Lamar, Colo., Wednesday last.

The mattress and springs were concealed by weeds and grass a short distance from the spot where Dr. W. W. Wineinger of Dighton, Kan., was slain after he had been lured to a house on the edge of the canyon by Lamar bankers. Officials believed the wounded man may have been in too serious a condition to move and that his companions kept him in the canyon for several days.

The tension under which the possemen worked was indicated Saturday night when L. L. Robinson of Hill City, Kans., and Capt. Peterson, former sheriff of that county, were shot and seriously wounded by possemen. Robinson and Peterson were on patrol duty near Norton and drew the fire of a posse sent to that area on the report of a farmer boy that "banits held up a man."

With the man hunt continuing in this section, funeral services were held at Lamar for A. N. Parrish, resident of the First National bank here, and his son, John F. Parrish, cashier, slain when they returned the fire of the robbers. Parrish, pioneer western banker, who was known for his ability to use a pistol, only was able to wound one of the robbers before he fell with a bullet in his head. Among the attendants who attended the ceremony was Governor W. H. Adams, Colorado.

Little Hope For Kessler
Finding of the body of Dr. Wineinger, left little hope that the slayers of the bank had been identified. The slayers of the bank had been identified as an Oklahoma convict and one of the four men. Fingerprint and in the car of Dr. Wineinger, one have been sent to identification bureau.

A check of the loot obtained by bond house at Pueblo, Colo., showed the robbers obtained about $100,000 in cash and approximately $500,000 worth of municipal and corporation bonds.

More than 2,500 people heard his message which marked the opening of the formal exercises of the college's second commencement.

OTHERS RECEIVE DEGREES IN FALL; PAT NEFF'S PLEA FOR "NOBLE LIFE" IS INSPIRING

With the challenge of Honorable Pat. Neff, former Governor of the State of Texas, to go out and "do noble things" still ringing in their ears, 62 students of Texas Technological college marched out through the doors of the gymnasium this morning with degrees handed to them in the college's second commencement exercises. Thirty-eight other students of the college followed them, but without degrees, their diplomas to be presented with the completion of their work during the summer sessions.

LATE BULLETINS
With the strains of "Glory to Alma Mater" wafted through the building from the instruments of the college band, the faculty and graduates filed into their places in a colorful academic procession at the opening of the services. Invocation was given by Dean James M. Gordon after which "The Eyes" was rendered by a college chorus. President Paul W. Horn then introduced Mr. Neff, who signed the bill creating the college and had an important part in its early administration.

HUBBERS TAKE SECOND OF MIDLAND SERIES HERE SUNDAY REDS AND CUBS TIGHTEN HOLD ON TWO TOP PLACES

WARD HITTING'S FEATURE OF LOCAL ATTACK

LAST GAME IS TODAY THEN CLUB GOES TO SAN ANGELO

In another slugfest for the customers in the old Merrill lot the Hubbers made it two in a row from my Maloney's cellar machine yesterday afternoon by taking a victory, 11 to 8.

The homebells cracked out a total of 12 hits, several of them going extra bases including three by Dick Rastner, a triple by Robinson, and homers by Samaling and Lin Storti, which accounted for the Hubbers' 11 tallies.

Maloney's charges rapped out as many hits but not as much damage, except for the full circuit cut of Sangretnett, thus counting hit runs.

Bunt Works Well Gene Bunt, youthful rookie of Brownlow chucker list, worked but the final put out of the me as Willis Knight was called to check the seeming rally started by the Colts in the ninth.

In Storti, flashy third baseman the circuit who by the way happens to be one of the Hubbers, had perfect day, cracking out four hits as many trips, two singles, a double and a home run.

Sharon (Blackie) Adams, left fielder for the homebells, who is recovering from several weeks illness brought the fans to their feet in the eighth when he grabbed his hit, labeled for two sacks.

Last Game is Today This afternoon is the last game of the series with the Colts and will be the final game of the Hubbers' home stay, as they leave for San Angelo this evening.

Immediately after the game, where they engage the Snappers in three games, two of which will be played a double header on Memorial Day.

After the San Angelo series the homebells are back for nine games.

Visits the Old Folks

Of course you know Paulino Uzcudun would visit the old folks at home when he returned to Europe several weeks ago, and he did. He is shown here with his mother at Regil, Spain and you know he really enjoys being there with the biggest pal of all. For, as he says, there's no friend like her. He expects to return to this country soon for some heavyweight bouts.

PITCHING BIG FACTOR IN WIN OF TWO CLUBS

GIANTS MOVE UP INTO THIRD PLACE AFTER DOUBLE VICTORY

(By Associated Press.) Fine pitching performances by Carl Mays and Sheriff Blake have enabled Cincinnati and Chicago to strengthen their hold on first and second place in the National League pennant race.

Mays, who pitched his submarine slant in the American league for years, hurled the Reds to a 2 to 0 victory over the Cardinals at St. Louis Sunday. Bunched his off Reinhart in the seventh and eighth accounted for the Reds' tallies. It was a costly victory for the league-leaders, however, for Red Lucas, ace of the pitching staff, suffered a broken bone in his wrist during batting practice.

40,000 See Cubs Win Forty thousand persons jammed Wrigley Field to see Blake Blank the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 0 granting five scattered safeties. It was Blake's fifth straight victory of the season. Two of the Cubs' runs were driven in by Cliff Heathcote.

The New York Giants moved into third place by noosing out the Phils in both ends of a double-bill. Ott's single scoring Roush gave McGraw's clan the first game in the eleventh inning, 5 to 4. It was Benton's eighth victory in 10 starts, all of them complete games. Don Hart's wild throw permitted Terry to score the winning run in the ninth inning of the nightcap. Virgil Barnes recording a 2 to 1 victory.

The Robins and Boston Braves divided a double-header at Brooklyn. The Braves won the first game, 4 to 1, by bunching the five hits they got off three Dodger pitchers. Home runs by Del Bissonette and Harvey Hendrick aided Elliott to turn back the invaders in the nightcap, 8 to 3. Bissonette's drive was his eighth homer of the season.

American League Pitching The best pitching of the day however, came in the American league. Hadley gave Philadelphia only two hits as the Washington Senators downed the Athletics, 4 to 1. Bishop got both of the Mackmen's hits, one of them scoring a run in the third.

The St. Louis Browns gained an even break in their series with the Indians by taking the last game, a free-hitting affair, 10 to 3. Uble and Bisherider were batted hard.

At a pitcher's battle at Chicago and the White Sox nosed out Detroit, 3 to 2.

Babe Ruth hit a home run, two singles, walked once and struck out once as the New York Yankees beat York of the New York-Pennsylvania league, in an exhibition game, 9 to 2.

The hitting of Selph and Schuble and the latter's fielding alone were almost enough to defeat the crippled Cubs, who now seem as firmly ensconced in sixth place as they were in fifth ten days ago.

Paulino Spittio Wachtello appeared headed straight for a new mark in Texas League pitching when he hurled his seventh victory over the hapless Herd at Fort Worth. The Dogeys broke out of the corral in the first, with three runs, but didn't get far before they were brought back and hog-tied. Bonowitz hit his ninth homer of the season in the fifth with two aboard.

Eldred's Home Run Eldred of Wichita Falls did the same thing for the Spudders in the fourth, polling in more runs than all the sport stickmen. Ziggy Sears, pinch hitter for Williamson in the ninth smacked out a single, but Shreveport could only run in one tally in that frame. Williamson went out in the third for bunting a third strike foul, which may have had something to do with the calling in of the farmer Panther.

Center Fielder Najo of the Bears made what was said to be a world's record with 12 putouts in center field. R. J. Harley of the Cards having held the palm with eleven since 1888, although Mostil of the White Sox tied the record Tuesday.

In the sixth Najo was the whole-fielding staff, retiring the Exporters one-two-three. Cox, meanwhile, was enabled to chalk up a two-hit victory.

Another Waner Kin

Baseball seems to be a natural talent of the Waner family. Paul and Lloyd, doing the brother act in the outfield for the Pittsburgh Pirates, are the most illustrious of the clan. Their cousin, Traves, was tried out by Pittsburgh this year and sent away for seasoning. Another cousin, Daniel J. Shaper, ace of the Ohio Wesleyan University pitching staff, is now looking forward to a major league job. Shaper (above) was given free seats to the world series last fall by his "Poison" cousins but the dean wouldn't let him away from the University.

Hooks and Slides

When Arthur Duffy's leave of absence from a Boston newspaper expired and he had to go back to work, Red Grange succeeded him as the official referee to the Pyle Bunton derby. It was an exalted position and a high honor for a young man, but Red didn't like it. He had to get up every morning at 6:30 to get the bunions started and he had to break up his late afternoon nap to check them in.

It was a duty of his office, also, to kid the bunions along and make them satisfied with the lot of pounding along on their puppies and eating slum while the official party rolled along in the $25,000 vanity box and dined on pullets. Red tried the old Illinois yell but the bunions didn't recognize it.

A Costly Fumble. When the $25,000 vanity case had a plaster slapped on it the Red thought it was an opportunity to support the loyal bunions to the support of their benefactor, Charley Pyle, and he burst into oratory.

"Boys," he said that night, "a great tragedy has overtaken our great leader. His automobile has been seized."

"Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah," the bunions chorused.

"Hold, hold, hold everything!" Red continued, "our great leader's equipage has been taken from him, but he will not be stopped. He will continue on foot." And the bunions as a unit gave him the old gray mare.

Red then served notice that his duties as cheer leader as ceased.

What's a Little Paper? It was all news to the Red when the Chicago newspaper boys told him that the bank in the little old home town had his written promise to pay it $42,000 when the little bank called for it.

"Red, hah, that's a good one," the Red laughed. "Don't you birds try to kid me."

When he was convinced that his name was on a note for 42 grand, Red wasn't alarmed.

"Maybe they have, but it doesn't mean anything. I thought I was giving that guy an autograph," he said.

Strong Family Tie. There is the story of the Canadian newspaper man working in a town where the bunioneers were to make an important stop. It was in the early days of the race when little publicity had been given to the bunions. When the advance party reached this town, the newspaper man piled them with questions about Philip Granville.

"Granville is a Canadian and a champion walker. One of the best in the world. He has a fine chance to kid me."

More than 500 witnessed the inter-city shoot of the Lubbock and Ft. Worth clubs late yesterday afternoon at the new range, located on the east Broadway canyon, just across from the Lubbock Municipal Park grounds.

Lubbock's team consisting of Fred Stanton, Al Odlin, Byron Brown, J. R. Germany and R. Wolfe, defeated the Ft. Worth club consisting of R. C. Henry, H. D. Goodwin, A. T. Sweeney, A. N. Bratton and Ben Roberts. The scores of the shoot were 85 to 78.

D. L. McDonald, Amarillo, who was listed with the Ft. Worth team, shot the highest score of the individual shooters scoring a perfect score of 25.

Fred Stanton and Byron Brown had a very interesting dual shoot for the club watch, which has been held by Brown and Cy Goodin during previous shoots. Three times Stanton and Brown shot for the watch, finally Stanton outbested Brown and now has one leg toward permanent possession of the watch.

TEXAS LEAGUE UNCHANGED BY SUNDAY GAMES

BUFFS, CATS, BEARS AND SPUDS ALL WIN BY BIG SCORES

(By Associated Press.) The spread between the leaders of the Texas League remained unchanged as the Houston Buffaloes, Sunda yoked the Waco Cubs 8 to 4 and the Fort Worth Panthers plunked the Dallas Steers with a 12 to 6 defeat. The whole first division, in fact, dusted off its second division opponents like sophomores on class rush day.

Bears Beat Exporters From a pure baseball standpoint the San Antonio Bears 2 to 0 victory over the Beaumont Exporters was probably the most interesting contest, but in the matter of action, the 12 to 0 subjugation of Shreveport by Wichita Falls had much more to offer.

The hitting of Selph and Schuble and the latter's fielding alone were almost enough to defeat the crippled Cubs, who now seem as firmly ensconced in sixth place as they were in fifth ten days ago.

Hook and Slides

When Arthur Duffy's leave of absence from a Boston newspaper expired and he had to go back to work, Red Grange succeeded him as the official referee to the Pyle Bunton derby. It was an exalted position and a high honor for a young man, but Red didn't like it. He had to get up every morning at 6:30 to get the bunions started and he had to break up his late afternoon nap to check them in.

It was a duty of his office, also, to kid the bunions along and make them satisfied with the lot of pounding along on their puppies and eating slum while the official party rolled along in the $25,000 vanity box and dined on pullets. Red tried the old Illinois yell but the bunions didn't recognize it.

A Costly Fumble. When the $25,000 vanity case had a plaster slapped on it the Red thought it was an opportunity to support the loyal bunions to the support of their benefactor, Charley Pyle, and he burst into oratory.

"Boys," he said that night, "a great tragedy has overtaken our great leader. His automobile has been seized."

"Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah," the bunions chorused.

"Hold, hold, hold everything!" Red continued, "our great leader's equipage has been taken from him, but he will not be stopped. He will continue on foot." And the bunions as a unit gave him the old gray mare.

Red then served notice that his duties as cheer leader as ceased.

What's a Little Paper? It was all news to the Red when the Chicago newspaper boys told him that the bank in the little old home town had his written promise to pay it $42,000 when the little bank called for it.

"Red, hah, that's a good one," the Red laughed. "Don't you birds try to kid me."

When he was convinced that his name was on a note for 42 grand, Red wasn't alarmed.

"Maybe they have, but it doesn't mean anything. I thought I was giving that guy an autograph," he said.

Strong Family Tie. There is the story of the Canadian newspaper man working in a town where the bunioneers were to make an important stop. It was in the early days of the race when little publicity had been given to the bunions. When the advance party reached this town, the newspaper man piled them with questions about Philip Granville.

"Granville is a Canadian and a champion walker. One of the best in the world. He has a fine chance to kid me."

SLER IS SOLD BY SENATORS TO BOSTON BRAVES

(By Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, May 28.—George H. Sisler, one of the greatest first basemen and batters in the American league, joined the ranks of the Braves today by virtue of the purchase from the Washington Senators.

The deal was the first consummated by the Braves under the management of Rogers Hornsby, second sacker who took over reins from Jack Starns a few days ago.

Brought to Boston Hornsby's great rival in the affection of Louis fans in the days when they wore a Cardinal uniform under the name of the Braves.

May Displace Burrus Although no official announcement of Sisler's assignment was coming from the club offices generally believed that he would take Dick Burrus' place at first base.

and that Burrus, who has not been reported anything like his old form, would be held temporarily as a reserve.

Details of the financial arrangements were made public, but it is reported that the Braves, in order to assuming Sisler's contract probably paid considerably the waiver price of $75,000.

Thought For Today

Her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace.—Prov. 3:17.

Peace, above all things, is to be desired, but blood sometimes must be spilled to obtain it on a durable and lasting basis.—Andrew Jackson.

Sinking?

Arthur Garfield Hayes, a lawyer, who has spent the last decade or so going about the country helping various underdogs in their fight for liberty, believes that freedom in the United States is rapidly sinking out of sight.

Mr. Hayes expresses his opinion in a new book, 'The Freedom Ring,' in which he recounts some of his own experiences with the modern American attitude. He seems profoundly discouraged.

He tells, for instance, of one man who was arrested for reading the Declaration of Independence, of a Pennsylvania coal town mayor who was breaking up a union meeting, and of another who couldn't speak in Duquesne on the labor question.

That man on Avenue Q says you don't have to dance with some woman to find out that they're not really free.

Ninety-eight members of the graduating class of Texas Tech heard former Governor Pat M. Neff deliver the graduation address this morning and the Plainsman couldn't help but contrast the commencement exercises with those of last year when the first graduating class in the history of the new college received its degrees.

The situation at Texas Tech is a symbol of the situation throughout the nation. Year after year more and more young people are going to college and year after year more are graduating from the great educational institutions of the land.

What does all this mean? Are we in fact giving up our liberties forever? Has the good old word 'freedom' ceased to appeal to us?

Newton Byrne, 34, confessed slaver of two women and a little girl and the man who laughed at the San Angelo jury which returned a death sentence at the close of his trial is appealing his sentence. Newton, it seems, doesn't want to die so he's asking the powers that be to change the verdict rendered by the twelve good men and true who heard him admit his heinous crime.

The Plainsman doesn't know the grounds upon which the appeal is based. A comma, perhaps, was placed in the charge where a semicolon ought to have been. But any way, the appeal has been made and that fact offers us food for thought.

The Texas Bar association and the Association of District Judges of Texas are holding their annual conventions in Dallas this week. Of the things both groups will strive for is legal reform. The Byrne case offers them an example which should not go unchallenged.

If the district judges and the members of the Texas bar have any influence at all with the men who make our laws—if they have any voice at all in the operation of their business, they should do what they can to see that appeals are based upon a common sense basis and should do what they can to limit appeals to cases where the guilt of the defendant has not been established by his own lips.

THE PLAINSMAN

That Girl on Broadway just no matter how well a man understands women he never knows just what they're going to do when they stick out their hand in the car ahead.

All of which reminds The Plainsman of an auto mishap which he happened to see yesterday and which could have been avoided in two different ways. A law of the city was violated—but so was a law of common courtesy so neither of the drivers was any more guilty of causing the accident than the other.

It happened this way. One car was moseying along about ten or twelve miles per hour, closely followed by another. The driver of which seemed to want to make better time than the gentleman ahead. But the gentleman ahead evidently didn't care about the man behind him for he made no effort to pull over to the curb to let the other by. The two cars approached an intersection and the driver of the front car put out his hand to indicate a left turn—but he didn't do it until he had almost reached the center of the intersection. When he made the turn he was greeted by the car behind him as it broke his running board and all but climbed into the front seat.

The man in the rear car broke a city ordinance when he attempted to pass the car in front on an intersection. But somehow or other the sympathies of The Plainsman are with him because of the gentlemanly actions of the other man—and anyone who waits until he's ready to make a turn to signal for it ought to have something happen to him.

This little incident is just one instance of something that is happening in Lubbock every day. People are not giving the proper signals at the proper time and with all the watchfulness of police it is a wonder that more accidents do not occur. And to be perfectly honest about it The Plainsman notices the male drivers are just as bad as the ladies are about driving signals—so the gentlemen need not feel so superior about it.

Whether prohibition will win or lose will depend upon whether the cities are awake to the prohibition question. Fifteen years from now the city will be in control. There is today a greater population in the seven city areas than resides on all the farms of the country.

Prohibition, McBride explains, 'came up from the rural sections.' Other Anti-Saloon publicity includes a digest of a speech by Congressman-at-large Henry R. Rathbone of Illinois, who says that 'prohibition is demanded by the requirements of civilization, which require a clear brain and full possession of all the faculties.'

Once, says Rathbone, it didn't greatly matter to society whether a man drank liquor or not. But this is an age of machine and automobiles, he explains, and of mass production and efficiency. Each of us must be on his toes to keep up with the pace and avoid losing legs and arms in machinery.

The Department of Agriculture reports, among many other things, that bad cold waves and heavy rains have handicapped farmers this season and that more than a million cattle were tested for tuberculosis during March. Field work and growth of early crops was retarded, and considerable replanting of corn and cotton was necessary in the south. It looks like a bumper potato crop and the department warns that it may be big enough to break the potato market if farmers aren't careful.

There is some talk of speculation by the United States between China and Japan. Earlier than that, why not have the U. S. look up to the situation and blacked out of 'em?

RAILROADS AND PLANES

Two days and two nights from coast to coast will be the new schedule under the proposed train-airplane service projected by the Pennsylvania railway and the Santa Fe system. Passengers will spend the night aboard sleepers attached to fast trains and their days will be spent in the skies.

It was only yesterday that the railroads began looking into the possibility of airplane travel and even a year ago it was deemed impractical to consider anything more than a supplemental express service, passengers carrying being left out of the equation.

The outstanding significance of this proposed service is the confidence it implies in the safety of air travel. While in the plane, presumably the passengers will still be in the keeping of the common carriers of whose ticket he travels and should accident minor or fatal overtake him, he or his heirs would have recourse on the transportation concern for damages.

WEST TEXAS: Tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy; cooler in north portion. EAST TEXAS: Tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy to unsettled; cooler in northwest portion Tuesday.

LOUISIANA AND ARKANSAS: Tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy. OKLAHOMA: Tonight and Tuesday partly cloudy; possibly local showers in west portion; cooler in west portion Tuesday.

Five new busts were unveiled the other day in the Hall of Fame. We feel sure, however, that among the number was the advertising manager of the Alabama, Tennessee and Northern railroad who christened a freight train 'The Jumb-bergh.'

COURTS REST AS MANY FROM HER ATTEND SESSION

With District Judges Clark Mullican and Homer L. Pharr going to attend the annual convention of the Association of District Judges, opening in Dallas tomorrow, and a great percent of the Lubbock attorneys plan to attend the annual session of the Texas Bar Association, which opens in Dallas tomorrow, business in the 72nd and 90th District courts here will be at a standstill week.

Judge Pharr was planning to leave for Dallas today while Judge Mullican will leave tomorrow. In addition to the lawyers and judges to be absent from the city District Court Clerk Flora Green said she, too, would attend the session.

The fact that the two courts are not in session this week is expected to slow up the dock. Previous arrangements having been made to make up the loss. Practically every district court in Texas is idle this week, due to the conventions.

The rate of return on property investment for Charles I. railroads in 1927 was 4.40 per cent, while in 1926 it was 5.13 per cent.

so many years, was his next great man to dwell upon in his talk. "He had more friends and enemies than anyone in the entire world," he said.

"There is one person in America today who is not ruined by education, and I don't want to be misunderstood here, either," Mr. Neff said as he picked out Will Rogers, the famed cowboy-comedian who receives the highest salary of any man on the American platform.

"He's just what he is. He is one of the greatest educators of the 'Be Yourself' movement that the world has ever known. He doesn't tell a single joke that hurts anyone's feeling and one that can't be told in the most cultured society. He has the greatest sense of humor of any man today."

Pausing here, he handed a little advice to the graduates. "Don't let an education change you," he said. "Get it out of you over many hard places. Don't let yourself feel any better when you go home with a degree than your friends around you."

Must Do Job Well "If you can do anything in this world and do it well and above the mediocre, there is a place waiting for you," he said as he touched upon the qualities of Sydney Smith, the great cartoonist and the maker of Andy Gump.

"Sydney Smith is a benefactor for anybody who can make a million people laugh every morning is a benefactor. He has achieved success in his line because he has done the thing he could well and because he describes, amplifies and magnifies the weaknesses of our neighbors. You can not ever be a success in any line until you know people."

Lindbergh, "the world's greatest hero," was the next man Mr. Neff said he stood in his shadow. "He has had more honors paid him than any other man in the world, not because he flew across the Atlantic alone but because of his conduct from that time until now. He, too, is just what he is, a great big gawky American lad, the same unassuming boy as he was before that memorable flight."

And he could have wiped it all out with one foolish word. You, too, are in a similar position. You can wipe out within 24 hours all the honor that this institution has bestowed upon you. The things that render service are the things that count," he said as he told of his recent visit to St. Louis where he viewed all the great medals, jewels and honors that had been bestowed upon Lindbergh.

"The things that impressed me more in the collection were the suit of clothes, the hat, the canteen and the spark plugs from his engine which were used on that lone flight. They were for service."

Hoover and Al Smith He next eulogized upon the lives of Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, telling of how they rose from the lowly ranks into the nation's spotlight and stating that these two men would in all probability lead their respective parties in the coming political campaign.

"You never inherit success," he said. "It is won only by your energies. Herbert Hoover paid his way through school by milking cows and later by waiting tables while Al Smith was a boy in the slums, clerked in a fish market and then rose from that humble origin to one of the prominent figures in the nation. One thing which Al Smith has never done is to deny the humble origin from which he came."

"Let no one hold in scorn the humble pathway from which they came," he added. "I hope that this institution is not honoring any guilty of this."

His final character to be treated in the address was and is still unknown to him except that he was an Irishman and was named Mike O'Brien, who came to him one day at the governor's mansion in Austin as "an apostle of sunshine" and extending his greetings and best wishes to "my governor."

"You, young men and young women, can't be Paderewskis, Bryans, Rogers, Smiths, Lindberghs, or other great men, but you can be Mike O'Briens. You can be apostles of good cheer," he said.

"I'm in And I'm in the mind of life looks too high, don't mind, just climb it, if it resembles a deep and sounding ocean, don't mind it, just wade in and you will do well. Now as you are at the dawn of life, don't forget to honor this your school, your parents and your country."

PLAINS TOWNS TO CELEBRATE DENVER ENTRY

CONTINUOUS JUBILEE OF OVER 202 MILE TRIP IS ANNOUNCED

(By Associated Press) PORT WORTH, May 28—Fourteen towns on the new branches of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad extending into the plains, are planning to unite in a celebration on the advent of the first passenger train over the line. It was announced today at the general offices of the railroad after a conference between officials and a delegation from Turkey.

The celebration will be held about the middle of July, the exact date to be set later. It will be the longest celebration ever attempted in Texas. For the train will be greeted by crowds and programs staged in every city along the 202 mile route, a welcome somewhat similar to that given the "iron horse" which connected the Atlantic with the Pacific.

The towns planning the celebration are Lubbock, Plainview, Dimmitt, Hart, Silverton, Lockney, Starley, Petersburg, South Plains, Quitsa, Turkey, Parnell, Estelina and Tampico.

KNOX BUSY IN KEEPING STEP WITH HIS WORK

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR ADULTS KEEPS SCOUT EXECUTIVE ON JUMP

Warren P. Knox, executive of the South Plains area council of the Boy Scouts of America, has come to the decision that every day is his busy day and that if things continue as they are he'll have to take out membership in the traveling men's union.

Returning late last night from a visit to O'Donnell, Lamesa and Tahoka, he was preparing this afternoon to go to Stanton, where he will preside over a meeting of scout leaders tonight. Tomorrow night will find him back at O'Donnell, where a scout leaders' school will get under way and Thursday night he plans to be in Ralls for the opening session of a training course there.

Gives Instruction, Too Making the trips to and from all these towns are not the only duties which Mr. Knox has in connection with the school for he does a major portion of the instructing after he reaches each class.

Yesterday morning the executive made talks before the congregations of the Methodist, Baptist, Christian and Presbyterian churches of Lamesa, capital of the Dawson county, going to O'Donnell, where he addressed the Methodists in morning session. All of the talks were in explanation of the training school which opens for scout leaders of Lamesa, O'Donnell and Tahoka tomorrow night. This course which convenes every Tuesday night for four consecutive weeks will be held in the high school auditorium at O'Donnell and one other meeting in the form of an outdoor session, is yet to be set.

R. J. Murray, of this city, will accompany Mr. Knox to O'Donnell for the opening session while Rev. L. G. H. Williams, evangelist, will be in charge of the morning sessions. Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech, and District Judge Clark M. Mullican will be called upon to aid during the course. Members of the committee sponsoring the school include J. C. Lovelace, of Lamesa; Dr. C. B. Townes, of Tahoka, and E. M. Wilder, of O'Donnell.

Same Leaders To Help The course which opens at Ralls on Thursday night will continue for four consecutive Thursday nights with an outdoor session yet to be scheduled. The course is for interested leaders of Ralls, Lorenz, Idaho and Crosbyton and the committee in charge included Dr. J. F. Crawford, of Lorenz; Roy Moore, of Ralls; and Roy E. Heard, of Crosbyton. Mr. Knox intends to call upon the same Lubbock leaders to aid him in his work at Ralls.

The outdoor session will be given Monday evening at Stanton. The 25 leaders enrolled in the Stanton course tonight, with one more night of instruction set for next Monday evening, Mr. Knox said today. He will give instructions in outdoor cooking, aided by Eagle Scout Tom Everhart. Members of the Stanton committee are John W. Hood, Ben G. Holloway and C. F. Anderson.

Mr. Knox estimated today that the courses at O'Donnell and Ralls will attract at least 75 students each.

Tourist Expenses Abroad Are Large

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—American tourists spent last year outside the United States almost four times as much as was received by the Washington government in war debt payments. This country received approximately $200,000,000 as interest and principal on war debts. Citizens of the United States left approximately $770,000,000 in foreign countries.

The figures are given by the department of commerce in a voluminous report on economic relations between the United States and the world at large.

SMITH BEATEN BY DRY LEADER IN N. CAROLINA

PRECINCT IN MEETINGS GIVE CORDELL HULL GOOD MAJORITY

(By Associated Press) CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 28.—A victory for forces opposed to Al Smith has been won in the North Carolina Democratic precinct meetings preliminary to the June 2 primary, the county convention and finally the state convention set for June 12 when delegates to Houston will be selected.

Returns tabulated by newspapers from 84 of the 100 counties having a state convention vote of 1,869 today showed Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee leading Smith by 154 votes. The vote was: Hull 533; Smith 379; uncommitted 652; doubtful 103; anti-Smith 96; instructed to vote for a dry candidate 36; Governor McLean 6 to be selected at a mass meeting June 9.

While both the Hull and Smith camps are claiming large blocks of state convention delegates from counties in which precinct meetings gave no instructions, and many are known to favor one or the other candidate, the fact that every democrat is eligible to attend more than one county convention makes the situation an involved one.

Indications today were, however, that the hot battle being waged between the Smith and anti-Smith groups would continue to be fought right up to the June 12 convention.

Senator Sees No Chance For Smith

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—Senator Simmons of North Carolina, sees in the results of the precinct meetings in his state Saturday a "smashing defeat for Governor Smith and a strong endorsement of Cordell Hull for the democratic presidential nomination."

"In viewing the situation as it now stands and the developments which I think will take place between now and the Houston convention and at that convention," Senator Simmons said in a statement here last night, "I am profoundly convinced that Governor Smith can not and will not be nominated, and if perchance he should be nominated he cannot be elected."

The senator, who is leader of the democratic organization in his state, added that all that was necessary to make victory certain at Houston for Smith opponents was "encouragement on the part of the leaders of those who oppose his nomination and exercise of diligence and vigilance to meet the efforts of such a powerful and highly financed organization as that behind the candidacy of Governor Smith."

A Kelvinator commercial school, in charge of L. C. Savage, factory service man, opened here today at the John B. Baker company, local representative of the company and distributor for West Texas.

BIBLE SCHOOL OPENING TODAY DRAWS CROWD

365 BOYS AND GIRLS OF CITY REGISTER AT THREE CHURCHES

Three hundred and sixty-six boys and girls between the ages of 4 and 14 years registered in three Daily Vacation Bible schools this morning and are to march in a parade through the business district this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Churches having the schools are the First Methodist, First Presbyterian and First Baptist.

Baptists Delay Opening Although children were registered this morning at the Baptist church, classes are not to open until next Monday morning. The director, J. W. Reid, was called to Abilene yesterday and many of the faculty members were not available for another week, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Erie Studeman.

The First Methodist and First Presbyterian schools are to continue for two weeks beginning today. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Richardson have charge of the first named school and Miss Virginia McLean is in charge of the Presbyterians.

One hundred and fifty registered in the Baptist and Baptist schools respectively this morning and 66 registered in the third school. The directors are expecting the attendance tomorrow to be twice today's registration, they announced at noon.

Schools Offered Free No charge is made for attending these schools in which crafts, Bible and patriotic songs, drills and stories and other such instruction is given.

Picnics, sunrise breakfasts and other social occasions are planned for the children enrolled. The First Presbyterians are expecting a picnic for Friday afternoon of this week and the Methodist school is to have a picnic next week.

Following the parade this afternoon in which horns, whistles and other instruments are to be played, the children are to be served eskimo pies at the Baptist church.

JACOBS ADDRESS

comes from losing yourself for the sake of humanity and God. "Cast thy burden upon the water and thou shalt find it. You can save your life and lose it yet you can lose it and save it. Much depends upon the object you have in view. If there isn't anything in this world worth investing a life in, then this is a bad old world."

He then cited the acts of Job who when faced with trials and troubles of many sorts turned toward God for comfort and consolation.

"Fame is just a form of advertising," Dr. Jacobs declared. "All great men have become greater by much publicity. Why, a man can have fame of that sort within 24 hours time and be known all over the world. I can find you as great a man in the saddle on here on the Plains as there is in the United States senate. I can find you as great a hero in the cotton row or as godly a man wielding the sledge on the anvil as ever presided over an assembly of bishops."

The high school sermon, the more you love sacrifice. Train your souls to be in harmony with God," he asked in closing.

At the close of the sermon, the audience stood and sang the college song "Oh! College, Mother Beautiful" as the class filed out of the building.

TECH DIRECTORS DISCUSS ROUTINE MATTERS TODAY

Disposing only of routine business matters of the college, members of the Tech board of directors are in session this afternoon in the offices of President Paul W. Horn. Eight members of the board are here for the meeting, the majority of them being here yesterday for the sermon. All of them were present for the commencement exercises this morning.

Members here are: Clifford B. Jones of Spur, chairman; Houston Hart, San Angelo; Mrs. F. N. Drane, Corsicana; R. A. Underwood, Plainview; C. G. Comegys, McKinney; Frank E. Clarity, Fort Worth; G. E. O. Thompson, Amarillo and H. T. Kimbro, Lubbock.

They were guests today at noon at a luncheon given at the Tech cafeteria. Following the luncheon short talks were made by Lee Satterwhite, of Ector county, former speaker of the house, Senator W. H. Woodson and Mayor Harley D. Woods, Lubbock.

The Thomas permit increased May's total permit to 72 and the month's building to $245,102, the largest total for any month's building in the city's history.

CROP PLANTING HALTS COURT IN COUNTY TODAY

Agricultural conditions, which are more important in this section than anything else, have proved a "monkey wrench" in the machinery of the County court and this week's docket, which was composed of criminal cases dealing with the alleged chicken and turkey theft ring, recently exposed, has been continued until the week of June 25.

A jury drawn for service during the week was composed largely of farmers and 12 other farmers were due to appear as complaining witnesses. County Judge Charles Nordyke said this morning, and due to the fact that the witnesses and jurors alike had asked that they be allowed to plant their crops caused the continuance, he stated.

Judge Nordyke will spend a large part of the week in session with members of the county commission, he stated. The same jury scheduled for duty this week will be used in the chicken and turkey cases when they are called, he stated.

'Best Dressed' Girl Gives Her Recipe

CHICAGO, May 28 (AP)—How Miss Holly Shively garbs herself to become Northwestern University's "best dressed girl" is chiefly an item for women readers. Its masculine appeal rests in the cost column which totals $1,100 a year.

"I could go through school and dress for half that amount," she explained, "but I would not be the 'best dressed' girl."

Miss Shively's yearly budget calls for 14 dresses totalling $280; two fur coats, one evening wrap and two fur coats, one evening wrap and two fur coats, $600; and eight hats, 24 pairs of hose, underwear, shoes and gloves to account for the rest.

BUENOS AIRES, May 28 (AP)—A powerful bomb wrecked the home of Cesar Asitria, a former lieutenant colonel in the Italian army, early today. There were no casualties. Police attributed the bombing to

The bomb was hidden on the balcony of the house and the explosion tore a great hole in the building vicinity were shattered. Asitria is engaged in business in Buenos Aires and is known as the most ardent member of a fascist branch.

PROSPECTIVE WHITE HOUSE HOSTESSES
INTRODUCING MRS. ELIZABETH RITCHIE

Mrs. Ritchie, 76, Will Preside Over White House if Maryland's Bachelor-Governor is Elected by Voters in November

BY ALLENE SUMNER
EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth of a series of prospective "First Ladies," by Allene Sumner, writer for The Journal and NEA Service. Today's article deals with Mrs. Elizabeth Cabell Ritchie, mother of Maryland's bachelor-governor, Albert C. Ritchie, who is a Democratic presidential aspirant.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 28.—If handsome Albert C. Ritchie, Maryland's unmarried governor, should even the right to wind up the state House lock, put out the state House cat, and feed the state House goldfish, if any, at March 4, 1929, there would be a regular old-fashioned mother of garden pinks and lavender valley as First Lady of the Land. For the governor himself so deified his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Cabell Ritchie, the present hostess of Maryland's beautiful old executive mansion in that way. And come forth from some corner—to point out its beauty.

This is the most recent picture of Mrs. Elizabeth Cabell Ritchie, taken a few years ago. The governor's mother looks very little older today, still showing traces of the beauty that made her famous as a girl belle in her youth.

And you don't see many of us left these days! His beautiful mother is the one object on which Governor Ritchie's boast. He adores her in stockbook style. He tells you how beautiful she is, how gracious and charming. Why, she even darns my socks! adorns, boyishly.

Was Virginia Beauty
The beautiful Mrs. Ritchie who Miss Lizzie Cabell, a Virgin-belle who even today brings her reminiscences from various very-haired "colonels" below the non-Dixie line, is no "Old Lady of the Chimney Corner."

She walks up the tulip-bordered brick walk of Maryland's executive mansion expecting to meet a dainty, bent little woman in lavender or gray wool shawl, knitting dyes in hand, kindly blue eyes twinkling from behind spectacles—happily—a replica of Whistler's "other."

But that picture is wrong. She meets a dark-haired, dark-eyed, erect little woman whom one would believe has lived the 76 years of biographical history records. She has the charm of old-fashioned mothers of chimney corners, but she is, too, as modern as silk hose and telephones in America to Paris.

There is the old-fashioned pink and white hollyhocks and cosmos and all mixed up with orchids, American beauty roses and dainty hothouse violets. Here the First Lady is sometimes found, radio program in, sitting with her mending basket, to be seen by "Albert" the minute he comes home from his hard day's work in the statehouse just across the street.

Governor Ritchie in the White House would mean a White House mother to the nation!

TUESDAY: Mrs. Wm. E. Borah. The total amount of electrical power produced in the United States for 1927 was nearly 80 billion kilowatt hours.
