Ordinance Adopted By City Councilmen

A regular meeting of Olton City Council Tuesday, Dec. 10, resulted in routine approval of minutes and payment of bills, and saw passage of a traffic Ordinance and a change in turn-on rates in the Water department. All members of the council were present.

Designed to improve driving habits of community residents Ordinance No. 176 was passed and signed into law. Printed in its entirety elsewhere in this issue, the ordinance prohibits any vehicle of every kind and description from turning left, or making a U-turn, wherever a double yellow line is marked on any street within the City limits.

Any persons in violation of any of the provisions of the ordinance may be subject to a fine not exceeding $200.

Also adopted was a change in turn-on rates in Water Department. Water meters have been turned off for non-payment, will be subject to a $5 Turn-on charge when account is re-instated. Should the turn-on be requested after hours, during weekends or holidays, the charge will be $7.50.

Board Okays Purchase Of New Band Uniforms

New band uniforms were purchased, an athletic policy adopted, a new contract given the superintendent as the board met in regular session Monday night. An Athletic policy was adopted, stating that following the ending of a particular sport, physical education classes would be taught with participation by all students.

A policy which was in effect concerning the enrollment of children under six was changed so that children under six might enroll in kindergarten classes. The old policy stated that children who were under six before Sept. 1 would not be allowed to go to school.

The policy concerning the resignation of teachers was also changed. Heretofore teachers were allowed to resign up to the first of August before the school year began. Policy now states the teacher must resign before July 15 for her resignation to be accepted.

The OHS Band will have a new look beginning next year. The board agreed to purchase new uniforms from Fruhauf of Wichita, Kans., at a cost of $128.85 per uniform, with delivery date set August 1975.

In reports from the superintendent, attendance was up three from last month with a total enrollment of 981. The lunchroom is operating "in the black" and Virginia Moss, Tax assessor-collector, reported on tax collections and the sale of the lots for tax money owed on them.

A new three year contract was given unanimously to Superintendent Joe Turner.

In final action, the board agreed that the gymnasiums should not be used by boxers for tournaments.

Local Musician Publishes Song

One of Olton's native sons, Harold Dean Carson, has gone far in the mastery of his chosen instrument, the piano.

He has used his piano to bring joy, comfort and inspiration to countless people through the years. During those years he has also taught his technique to hundreds of Olton's young people and inquiring adults.

Currently he is revealing yet another talent with the first publication of a composition.

Since his senior year in high school Carson has been playing his own compositions without making mention of the fact. Many church offertories and sometimes entire programs of wedding selections have been his compositions, without name or printed score.

Many people of the city are well familiar with haunting melodies created by Carson but has yet unnamed.

Such was the case sometime ago when the late Miss Janie Jones chanced by when Carson was playing. She exclaimed "Oh, you're playing my song." At that time he had written one verse for this particular melody and he offered it to her to sing. Today the beautifully arranged composition titled "One Life", words and music by Harold Dean Carson, bears the simple tribute "for Janie."

Recently as the composer was casting about for publication ideas, a young artist friend, Malcolm Hughes of Amarillo sketched some impressions. He eventually designed the cover and did all of the artwork for the private publication of this song. Individual copies are now available to the public at the writer, at a very low price. He is now selling to a publisher for mass distribution prior to such a publication possibly early in January, he has plans for a public dedication service. Until this time he has used the song as his personal testimony of faith on a few occasions.

Carson's interest in music goes back to at least age seven, when he liked to play "by ear" with three of his older brothers Lec, Houston and Raymon, in their string band.

When he was ten years of age he began the study of piano under Mrs. Iris Wilson. Under a succession of teachers, Mrs. J.A. Steagall, Mrs. C.W. Phillips and Mrs. Harold Wilson he studied through his school years. Following graduation he attended St. Louis Institute of Music as an introduction to piano pedagogy. Returning to the area he entered Wayland Baptist College as an Applied Music major, and studied piano under Charles Moon.

Always seeking to improve his teaching technique, Carson went in 1962 to the New School for Music Study in Princeton, N.J. There he studied under such nationally known teachers and composers as Miss Frances Clark, Miss Louise Goss, Richard Chronister and David Kraehenbuehl. He also served on the teaching staff of the school.

Unsatisfied without that college degree, he returned to Wayland changing his degree plan to Music Education and received the coveted 'sheepskin' in 1971.

Shortly thereafter he began the study of a new theory that has changed his whole concept of teaching. Taught by Miss Lorene McClintock, Carson is now one of a very limited number of authorized teachers of this theory in the southwest. He says this totally new approach to learning piano is far less expensive for the learner because pupils learn more and faster than has ever been possible before. He adds that he thinks this is the simplest, most effective method yet devised to give anyone - everyone - the joy of playing piano.

The McClintock theory is designed for group instruction of adults and teenagers. Since there are not enough adults in Olton to feed his program on the scale he had planned to teach, he was invited to open classes in Amarillo. There he presently conducts classes in Recital Hall of Tolzien's Music Store.

TV Channel 10 in that city has been impressed with his "innovative course" and has used it as a news story recently. In his five classes, presently being taught in Amarillo are beginners, church organists and one professional pianist, all interested in a better understanding of music.

While he maintains an apartment in Amarillo, Carson still calls Olton his home. He still carries a full teaching schedule in this city, both individual lessons and five McClintock classes.

As a very young man he began his teaching career in Sunray. In 1950, J.T. Jones, then superintendent of Olton Schools, invited him to return to his home town to teach in the local system which at that time had very little music. Jones offered Carson a Studio in the school building and necessary equipment. Although he now has all of his own equipment, Carson still uses a school studio to teach many young students.

Of his more advanced students, possibly a dozen have been awarded High School Diplomas in Piano by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, of which Carson is a member. Some have gone on to become church musicians or music teachers.

Originating an audition center here in 1953, his students have performed annually for out of town judges, earning local, district, state, national or international membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians. Carson, who has been guild chairman in Olton, is a qualified adjudicator. He has served as audition judge in widely separated areas in both Texas and Oklahoma.

Member of Music Teachers National Association, he is a certified teacher in American College of Musicians. Past president of Plainview Music Teachers Association, he has judged numerous Sonatina and hymn playing festivals. He's listed in World Who's Who of Musicians, Cambridge, England; and in Dictionary of International Biography.

On the local scene, he has presented nuptial selections for at least 140 weddings. And, he laughingly stated, "I have played 'Pomp and Circumstance' and 'War March of the Priests' for at least 20 graduating classes."

Last May Carson was featured pianist with Olton High School Band, playing 'Grieg Concerto in A Minor'. He has been invited to make a second appearance with the band in March.

For 22 years the musician has been organist in First Baptist Church, serving as pianist when needed. At one time, during 1957-58 he served as Minister of Music.

During the years Carson has made himself available for musical assistance in civic endeavors of all types at great expense to himself, he has repeatedly cancelled private lessons to present his flawless music at last rites for friends and acquaintances.

Sunday, Dec. 8, he assumed duties as interim Minister of Music in First Congregational Methodist Church, 2800 Paramount Blvd., Amarillo, where Gordon Schroeder is pastor.

Wherever he is, Dean surrounds himself with music, even while traveling between his two teaching

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

By Mozelle Trotter

Has everyone seen the U.S. Post Office? Hats off to that wonderful group of public servants who took many hours of their own precious time to turn their place of work into a wonderland for all of us to enjoy.

If you haven't got into the real feeling of Christmas because you just haven't had the time as busy as the season is, then, for goodness sake, go visit the post office!

Wouldn't it be a bland and palid world it if weren't for folks like that who put out that little extra special effort that really isn't little, after all.

Christmas isn't just evident in their decorations, either! It's in their service (just as it is the year 'round). Every last Christmas parcel and letter and card that arrives in the local office will get to its destination by Christmas Day, you can count on that! Every patron is special to our postal people - something our big city friends can't claim.

Another of the special rewards of this holiday season is the pleasure Yours Truly is getting from Christmas interviews both here and at Hart. Those folks are Hart are a great bunch, too! I hope the Enterprise and Hart Beat readers get half as much pleasure from reading those upcoming stories as I'm having getting the information together!

And now, I want to share a bit of someone else's Christmas observance. In the December issue of "Christian Herald" there is a small, boxed-in bit that catches the eye. Reading it discloses a wonderful idea that would be a great one to copy.

The writer told of a letter from a friend who explained his family had to keep their Christmas cards and use them throughout the year along with morning prayers.

"Each morning, Cora and I draw one from the pack and remember the individual or family as we pray," the friend wrote. "Today, yours was drawn. Our prayer is that your every need is met. That your cup runneth over with joy and happiness in God's love."

The couple rotates their cards through the year, remembering those loved ones several times each and as the person who shared this personal bit of CH readers, that observance is a "meaningful spiritual expressing of true friendship, caring and brotherhood."

A great way to Keep Christmas All Year, isn't it?

MRS. BOB DAVIS

Cook Of The Week

Recipes shared with Enterprise cooks this week by Mrs. Bob Davis are some which she contributed to a cookbook printed a number of years ago in Hart by members of that community's Home Demonstration Club.

Christene and Bob lived at Hart 28 years before moving to Oklahoma City. It was from Oklahoma City that they came to Olton 14 months ago. Both the Davises grew up around Hart.

"We're so happy to be back home," Christene says. Living at the south edge of the sand hills, Christene had the pleasure of "fixing up" the new home they live in. Interior decorating is her favorite pastime.

Bob is employed with Hill Farms; Christene works at Olton Drug.

The Davises are eagerly anticipating Christmas for plans are that their children and grandchildren will be here for the holidays.

Their daughter, Carolyn, lives with her family in Chattanooga, Tenn. Her husband, Richard Coffman, is studying to be a Baptist minister and will graduate in August. They have three children.

Christene also likes to sew and makes most of her own clothes.

Spirited COOKING

Fondue & You

Are you fond of fondue? If your heart melts at the taste, but your mind wilts at the thought, cheer up, you don't have to spend a lot of bread on fancy equipment and cooking classes to have a fondue party. Fondue can easily be prepared in any heavy pan on the range. Set the pan over a candle warmer when serving. And you and your guests can then enjoy fondue's flavor, fun and friendliness.

GOLDEN CHEESE FONDUE

1 pound Cheddar cheese, shredded
1 tablespoon flour
1-1/2 ounce scotch, Bourbon, or blended whiskey
1 small bottle (7 ounces) club soda
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg, lightly beaten
French or Italian bread, cut in chunks, each with crust

Toss shredded cheese with flour. Combine scotch, Bourbon, or blended whiskey, club soda, seasonings and butter in a fondue pot or saucepan and bring to a simmer. Add cheese a handful at a time, stirring constantly, and allowing it to melt before adding more. Cook, stirring until cheese has melted and mixture thickened. Add a little of the hot cheese mixture to the beaten egg and then stir back into pan. Stir smooth. Serve with crusty chunks of bread for dipping. Makes 4 servings.

Join now. New Federal provisions let you set aside 15% of income, tax-deductible, up to $7,500 annually.

If you're in business for yourself, you can put 15% of income, up to $7,500 a year, into our Pension Plan, and it's 100% tax-deductible. (You may set aside up to $750 a year even if this exceeds the 15% limit!)

Your contribution can earn from 5.25 percent to 7.50 percent per annum.

In addition, your contribution is 100% tax-deductible when deposited, and the interest is tax-free when earned. Your funds will not be taxed until withdrawn after retirement, when you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket.

Olton Grain Co-Op Slates Open House

Growth of Olton Grain Co-op has made it necessary for larger, more spacious offices and Saturday, Dec. 21, open house will be observed by the firm, with an invitation to all to come in and visit and look at the new improvements.

Beginning with approximately 150 stockholders in 1963, Olton Grain Co-op was under the leadership of a board of directors headed up by James Cowart, the cooperative's first president. Milford Lambright was secretary with other board members being W.B. Dickenson Jr., Royce McFadden, Jack Thomas, Walter Lewis and William DeBerry. Manager of the business was Glen Singleterry.

Fritz Richards, present manager, came to Olton Grain Co-op in May 1968. At the time, the co-op simply dealt in grain and had a small seed business. A staff of three full time employees handled the business except during harvest season, at which time extra help was required.

Through the years, "a little at a time", more services have been added to the business. The farmers now enjoy the convenience of being able to get fertilizer, farm equipment, spraying equipment, liquid and sack feed, oil, chemicals, animal health products and seed from their local co-op.

The firm also has three semi tractors which hauls grain, and anhydrous ammonia, among other supplies. They own six trailers which can be used with the tractors.

Because of the expansion of the business and the enormous amounts of bookkeeping required in the firm, soon it became apparent that more office space was needed.

A new building was begun about July 1 with plans calling for an expansion of 11,000 square feet of office, warehouse space and farm store.

Using only a part of the old foundation, the new annex to the building is all new, boasting of a large farm store, a farm store office, a beautiful new spacious warehouse, which is heated and numerous offices.

A large "coffee area" for the farmers is located just off the farm store area.
Coffee is available as is Cokes, candy, peanuts and other goodies.

Available from the farm store are all types of farm needs, including fertilizers, insecticides, pesticides and animal health products.

The warehouse is just west of the farm store and entrance is attainable from the farm store into the spacious, heated building.

A split level structure, stairs lead to the office facilities. To the right of the stairs is the "Settlement" office, which is manned by Mrs. Gladys Richards. Back of her office is the bookkeeping room, which is staffed by Mrs. Gladys (Sister) Oursbourn.

To the left of the stairway, Richard's office offers privacy to stockholders who wish to discuss matters with the manager. A beautiful, executive desk and chair occupy the manager's office. Luxurious, comfortable chairs await his visitors. For all the storing of records, a beautiful built-in cabinet area is located behind the desk.

The board room is located just down the hall from the manager's office and has ample space for board members and visitors alike, to move around rather than be cramped up around a small table.

A lobby is located just off the office where all settlements are made. Beautifully decorated with comfortable, leather furniture, it provides a nice atmosphere for those who find it necessary to wait.

Two sales offices are provided for privacy of farmers making arrangements to sell his grain.

A kitchen, complete with a micro wave oven, refrigerator and range is just west of the bookkeeping room. This provides for the staff when busy times make it impossible for them to go out for lunch. A quick, hot meal is possible in a very short time with the micro wave oven.

Manager Richards stated that the new office facilities make it possible for the employees to work more efficiently without distractions and gives privacy to those who wish it.

A dedication to his work has made it possible for the growth of the business, says Richards. "If you enjoy your work, you are always seeking ways to improve it. A dedicated person always has his mind on his business."

The business has grown so much now that seventeen full time employees are required to handle all the different phases.

Those on staff at Olton Grain Co Op include Richards and his wife, Gladys, Mrs. Gladys Oursbourn, Don Oursbourn, Cecil Oursbourn, Steve Lindley, Sivero Gonzales, Horace O'Neil, Manuel Villegas, and Fred Villegas, who work either in office or warehouse.

Two college boys, Steve Lewis and Mark Hodges work during weekends and holidays. Two high school boys, David Leathers and Ricky Garza are employed after school and on weekends.

Completing the list are three truck drivers, Gerald Simmons, Larry Smith and Jack Loftis.

Present directors are Dan Quigley, president; Royce McFadden, vice-president; and Johnny Hodges, secretary, and members Jack Snider, Dewey Hukill, Don Huguley and Wayne Carson.

Although Richards never "studied management" as a college student, experience has been a good teacher. His father was manager of a small country elevator in Kansas, where Fritz grew up, and spending time as a youth around the elevators taught him much.

Just out of high school, Richards took the management of one of the small elevators that his dad had managed. Since he was classified 1-A, he went into the Air Force for the next four years.

During his service, he was stationed in Texas, where he met his wife. They were married in 1954 and are parents of three children, Jack, a student at Texas Tech, studying business accounting; Jeannie, a senior at Olton High School and Robert, a third grade student.
