Negro Removed As Feeling Runs High Among Searchers

NEGROES LEAVE TOWN

Bloody Automatic Taken When Captured Near Sweetwater

By The Associated Press.

SWEETWATER, August 24.—John Smith, negro, 35, who made an alleged confession today of the slaying of J. F. Kuhn, deputy sheriff and farmer of Roweno, last night, was removed from the Nolan county jail late today to a destination officers declined to reveal. This action was taken because of high feeling reported among members of searching parties, it was announced.

Taken Without Struggle.

The negro was arrested near Blackwell, this afternoon by Sheriff Jack Yarbrough and Deputy Jim Butler of Nolan county. He was placed in the Nolan county jail here and authorities of Runnels county were notified of the arrest. Smith was walking along a road toward Sweetwater when he was apprehended. He offered no resistance. A bloody automatic revolver from which four shots had been fired, was taken from him.

The prisoner was taken from the jail here by the sheriff after the latter had communicated with authorities of Runnels and Concho counties.

Negroes Leave Town.

Posses began a search for the negro after it was learned that Kuhn had been slain at his farm, about three miles from Roweno, following an argument over crop matters. Kuhn was shot through the head. Two Mexicans winessed the killing. Early today all negroes were warned to leave Roweno and virtually all had left this afternoon, it was reported here.

"Welcome" Tag Rebukes When Cars Park Overlong

By The Associated Press.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Aug. 24.—"Welcome to our city" reads the tag Morgantown police attach to automobiles of visitors who violate the city traffic ordinances.

That is what the first tag, a green one, says, but if the offense of incorrect or overtime parking is persistent or the traffic violation a serious one the red tag that summons the local motorists to police court will be used.

The green tag, an answer to the complaint of visiting motorists that they were being fined for breaking ordinances of which they knew nothing, was an idea of the Morgantown chamber of commerce which had the tags printed and gave them to Chief of Police C. W. Smith who distributed them to his patrolmen. It reads:

"The citizens of Morgantown, through its chamber of commerce, bid you welcome to our city.

"If we can render any service or in any way make your visit with us more pleasant, kindly call at the headquarters of our commercial organization.

"By the way, you have violated our city traffic ordinance and we suggest that you call at the chamber of commerce and secure a copy of our traffic regulations."

BANDITS DRUNK HOLD UP BANK

Over $1,200 Taken From Bank in Mazie Near Muskogee

By The Associated Press.

MUSKOGEE, Oklahoma Aug. 24.—The Southern State bank of Mazie, a town of 750 inhabitants about eight miles north of here, was held up by two bandits this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and between $1,200 and $1,500 taken.

The bandits appeared to be between 25 and 30 years old and both were under influence of liquor. The cashier, J. C. McGuinn, and a negro man, the only occupants of the bank were forced into the bandits' motor car and driven eight miles into the country before they were released.

Car Believed Stolen.

The car which the bandits used is said to have been stolen from a garage at at Claremore early this morning. Officers lost the trail at Bushhead about sundown.

Entering Mazie his afternoon, he bandits coolly filled their car with gasoline at a tank not 50 feet from the bank, stepped to an adjoining store to purchase revolver cartridges and then went about the robbery.

The filling man, seeing the cashier and negro being prodded into the bandits' automobile, telephoned a warning to Pryor, the county seat, where a posse was formed.

26 Hour Record Set By Aviators On Mail Service

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Over the 885 miles of lighted airway between Cheyenne and Chicago, two mail planes sped tonight in the last of four transcontinental flights to test the feasibility of establishing day and night continuous flight across the continent for mail planes.

The third flight ended today with the mail plane from San Francisco landing in New York at 11:14 a. m. eastern time, making a new cross country record of 26 hours and 14 minutes. This flight cut 36 minutes from the record set last May in a non-stop flight from New York to San Diego by the army fliers, Kelly and MacReady.

Its companion plane winging its way from New York to San Francisco landed on the Pacific coast at 1:34 p. m., two hours and one minute ahead of its schedule, reducing by 11 minutes the record made by the plane which landed yesterday.

Six Unmasked Men Nab Man Driving And Accuse Him Of Wife Non-Support

By The Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Aug. 24.—Covered with tar and feathers and his naked body wrapped in a sheet, a Honey Island man was dumped in the center of a church in that town Thursday night, while services were being held. His appearance caused the immediate adjournment of services, according to reports reaching here today. The man was seized while driving from Honey Island to Saratoga, an oil town in Harding county, by six unmasked men, all of whom were strangers, he said. After being treated with tar and feathers and warned to leave the community he was returned to the Honey Island church. He stated his captors charged him with failing to provide support for his wife.

Air Mail Pilot Races Death To Father's Bedside

By The Associated Press.

OMAHA, Aug. 24.—Pilot Jack Knight, veteran flyer who has performed in valuable services for the nation's transcontinental night mail flying, entered a different type of race tonight at Cheyenne. Knight was informed by wire that his father at Buchanan, Michigan, was not expected to live through the night and he was given permission to use a plane in his race to Omaha.

Flying his machine at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour in his race with death, Pilot Knight landed at North Platte, Nebr., going eastward from Cheyenne, at 9:15 p. m. central standard time. He hopped off again 11 minutes later for Omaha, aviation officials here announced.

MEXICAN RAILWAYS HALTED BY STRIKE

By The Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—Advices from Vera Cruz indicate that no serious disorders have developed from the strike situation, although the city is without lighting facilities, street cars, amusements or railway service and food supplies are running low.

Meanwhile preparations are under way for the arbitration conference here under the auspices of the department of industry and commerce, to be attended by representatives of a score of workmen's and employer's organizations. The interruption in train service not only affects the lines between Vera Cruz and the capital but also those to the south running into the states of Oaxaca, Chiapas and Tabasco.

FLOGGING SUSPECT TAKEN THIRD TIME

By The Associated Press.

TULSA, August 24.—A lull, so far as public developments were concerned, marked the continuation today of the state's inquiry into mob lawlessness in Tulsa county.

For the third time in a week, Marshall Moore, Broken Arrow dairyman and a special deputy sheriff was taken into custody by the military authorities this afternoon. Moore was at liberty on two bonds of $1,500 each charged with participation in the flogging of J. S. Lawhorn, Jenks Merchant, the night of June 4, 1922, and the whipping of Leonard Busby of Broken Arrow, 10 nights later. Adjutant General Markham made no explanation of Moore's third arrest.

INDUSTRY BACKS GERMAN CHIEF IN DECLARATION

Conciliatory Tone Shown By Streseman Manifests Conference Desire

U. S. DISCOURAGED

Neutral Representatives At Washington Regard Crash Inevitable

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the new chancellor, today delivered at a luncheon tendered him by industrial, financial and commercial leaders, his first official declaration of his government's stand in the reparations controversy.

Beyond giving a slightly more precise formulation to Germany's previous offer to pledge an integral part of her industrial, commercial, and financial organism as security for reparations payments, the chancellor's speech contributed no new elements to Germany's side of the issue.

Opposes Ruhr Negotiations.

Without specifically mentioning passive resistance or the evacuation of the invaded areas, Dr. Stresemann nevertheless permitted the inference that the German government believed such tangible "pawns" as portions of her economic system were not too high price to offer for the restoration of German sovereignty. This statement is viewed in political circles as merely paraphrasing his inaugural statement before the reichstag in which he made the complete rehabilitation of German offshot and private jurisdiction in the Ruhr and the Rhineland a condition for abandoning passive resistance. In his address today he opposed any attempt to make the Ruhr and Rhineland objects of negotiations in any solution of the reparations tangle.

The speech in its entirety is viewed here as a temperate and conciliatory statement by the government.

Has Business Backing.

Political leaders see it as a material contribution to an attempt to create an atmosphere which will enable an early resumption of formal pourparlers between Germany and the entente powers.

The fact that Chabcellor Stresemann was permitted to unfold his program at a luncheon tendered by "big business" is viewed as an indication that the industrialists and their allied interests are in full accord with the government's attitude on reparations and its program of radical taxation and financial measures.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.— The United States government, it was declared today at the white house would not be prepared to formally announce the resumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico until the middle or latter part of September on account of the necessity of making certain exchanges.

Certain exchanges to be made between the Mexican and Washington governments, it was said, cannot be concluded to permit an actual resumption of relations for several weeks, at least. In some quarters the belief prevailed that the "exchanges" referred to by the white house spokesman were those connected with the claims conventions agreed to between the representatives of the two governments during the recent conferences in Mexico City.

PARCEL POST ADDS TO AMERICAN EXPORTS

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The American export business by mail and parcel post is growing so rapidly that department of commerce officials have decided to ascertain so far as possible the extent of this business of which no statistics ever have been kept. It is believed to run into a huge sum each year, which will swell the total value of the foreign exports of the United States.

Plans have been completed to collect, beginning with January, 1924, statistics of exports by parcel post and mail, which have not been collected heretofore because such exports are not cleared through custom houses. Tentative regulations, subject to approval by the Postmaster General, have been drawn up requiring business concerns in the United States exporting by mail goods valued at $25 or over to file export declarations.

M'ADOO CHANCE SEEN AS SLIGHT

Coolidge in Office Halts G. O. P. Boomlets But Democrats Active

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Although the slogan "give President Coolidge a chance" has stopped every other boomlet in the republican party democrats continue active and some definite results have been achieved.

The most tangible result of activity among democrats is the formation of a copper-riveted vote against the nomination of William G. McAdoo. According to reports going the round here the combination which at San Francisco threw back every attempt of the McAdoo forces to advance has been strengthned.

How It Works Out

It requires two-thirds of the 1,094 delegates to a democratic convention to nominate and a third of the delegates can prevent the nomination of any man. The powers that manipulate the political machinery in 14 states have perfected the arrangements to veto the McAdoo nomination, it is said.

The states which will oppose the nomination of the former secretary of the treasury to the bitter end and their delegate strength are:

Maine	12
Vermont	8
New Hampshire	8
Massachusetts	36
Connecticut	14
Rhode Island	10
New York	90
New Jersey	28
Pennsylvania	76
Ohio	48
Delaware	6
Maryland	16
Illinois	58
Louisiana	20
Total	440

In addition to these 440 votes, the anti-McAdoo element in the party expect the 24 votes of Alabama; 30 of Indiana, half of the 26 of Iowa; 26 of Kentucky; 26 of Wisconsin and 6 of the District of Columbia to be definitely against McAdoo, or a total of 523 against the former secretary of the treasury.

Conferences at French Lick and elsewhere apparently have been for the purpose of eliminating McAdoo, who these leaders do not believe would have

Coal Miners Prepare To Walk Out Despite Government Efforts

Gov. Pinchot, Named As Mediator By Coolidge, Tries To Reach Agreement

By The Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, August 24.—Anthracite mine workers representatives today took the last step necessary to shut down the mines Sept. 1. Though news came to them from Washington that Governor Pnichot of Pennsylvania, with President Coolidge's support, would seek a last word before the impending struggle in the anthracite region, scale committees from the three union districts authorized by unanimous vote the issuance of "work suspension" orders, and walked out of their meeting room to take the trains which tonight are carrying most of them to their homes.

Their officials, however, said that any request which Governor Pinchot might extend for further conference probably would be accepted. In this view members of the operators policy committee, which was still held in the city, through S. D. Warriner, its chairman, left temporarily, also joined.

PINCHOT APPOINTED; STRIKE "SUICIDAL"

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—An avenue brough which anthracite miners and operators might come together in further effort to reach a settlement of their existing differences was provided by President Coolidge today in the designation of Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, as special mediator.

Maintaining the conviction that suspension of hard coal production Sept. 1. would be suicidal to both employee and operator, the government's action was said to be designed to furnish a medium through which conciliatory influences on both sides might operate without damage to the strategic position, or the dignity of either.

PINCHOT'S PLANS NOT YET CRYSTALIZED

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 24.—Governor Pinchot, named today by President Coolidge as special mediator in the conflict between anthracite miners and operators returned to Harrisburg tonight from Washington and immediately took up consideration of plans to bring about a settlement of the differences. These plans, he said, as yet "have not crystallized enough to talk about."

The first step the governor indicated will be an invitation to the miners and operators to meet with him but neither the time nor the place of meeting has been decided.

Immediately upon his return to the executive mansion the governor went into conference with Secretary Joseph J. Walsh of the state department of mines.

JOHNSON OPENS WAR ON HOOVER

Charges Theft of Letters Knocking Presidential Possibilities

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Long smouldering feud between Senator Hiram Johnson of California and Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, leaped into open warfare today, with prospects of developing a wide chasm within the republican party.

Recalling the republican defeats which followed the famous Taft-Roosevelt and Johnson-Hughes feuds, party leaders fear the break will have its effect on the next election. Greater significance is attached to the quarrel because both Johnson and Hoover have been mentioned as potential republican nominees in 1924.

Letter Theft Charged.

The break came when Johnson issued a statement charging that followers of Hoover in California had taken personal mail from one of his friends to use against him politically.

Johnson charged one letter so obtained contained a statement he wrote last May in which he said he would not be a candidate for president in 1924. This statement has now handicapped the senator's friends, who have launched a drive for him.

The feud started four years ago when the men had only state followings in California. Johnson was the victor in their earlier clashes, but Hoover gave the senator his first public defeat several years ago. This came when the secretary's organization carried California's republican delegations to the republican convention over the senator's own candidacy. This act almost precipitated open warefare on a national scale, but through his kindly influence, President Harding prevented a clash.

Challenges Finish Fight.

In his statement—a declaration of war, in effect—Johnson challenged his "opposition" to a finish fight in California for the state's delegation to the 1924 republican convention.

Declaring he would contest for a "progressive delegation," political observers here believed Johnson literally had thrown his hat into the presidential ring.

While Johnson would not add to the statement, Secretary Hoover also remained silent. Shown a copy of Johnson's charges, the secretary said he had no reply to make "at this time."

Though both are republicans, Hoover and Johnson are far apart politically. Johnson is a progressive and Hoover a conservative. Johnson is a leader of the senate "irreconcilables" and Hoover is a leader of republican learne of nations advocates.

STATE OFFICIAL VISITS DAVIS AT HOSPITAL HERE

Lieutenant Governor Not Able to Stop Here For Speech

FLOGGINGS FLAYED

Strict Law Enforcement Seen as Only Remedy For Whippings

Lieutenant Governor T. W. Davidson arrived in Wichita Falls last night and conferred with Lonnie Davis who has been at the general emergency hospital here since he was flogged by five men 10 days ago on the Iowa Park-Holliday road.

The lieutenant governor made his law enforcement address at Nocona Friday afternoon.

Comes With Older Davis.

In an interview at the Kemp Hotel last night, Davidson said Z. W. Davis, Lonnie Davis' older brother, was at Nocona Friday afternoon and insisted that Davidson be sure and see his brother while in Wichita Falls. The lieutenant governor said Z. W. Davis offered to bring him right back to Wichita Falls in his car and in this way save several hours time. Davidson decided to travel with Davis instead of by train, as he had notified W. H. Townsend, an attorney friend here.

Davidson said he called with the older Davis on Lonnie Davis at the hospital and had a talk with the latter. The lieutenant governor said he examined the body of Lonnie and found there were still bruises and abrasions on him. Davidson did not say anything regarding the nature of his conversation with Lonnie.

In Private Capacity.

The lieutenant governor made it very emphatic that his conference with the flogged man was in a strictly private and not executive capacity.

"I want it distinctly understood that I called on Davis because I happened to be in town and because of the insistence of the older Davis that I do so. My conference was in the capacity of a private citizen and not as lieutenant governor of the state of Texas. I do not want to be placed in the attitude of having overstepped my rights as a state executive for what I did was for my own personal information and satisfaction the same as any other private citizen," Davidson said last night.

The lieutenant governor when asked regarding the floggings in Texas at the present time said there was one of two things that must happen soon or th country was sure to sooner or later be plunged into an even worse state of lawlessness.

Must Enforce Law.

"People must of their own accord see the folly of trying to substitute for the due process of law and give every man accused of crime an opportunity to face his accusers in open court or the strong arm of the law must step in and see that this is done. You can't substitute for the due process of the law and there are no short cuts. When persons try any other method of dealing with crime they go right in the teeth of the bill of rights which guarantees a man a trial in the proper way," Davidson said.

Davidson said he "was not very hopeful" for the first of the two methods ever being abided by and said the strict enforcement of the law seemed to be the only assured method of dealing with the present situation.

Goes to Canyon Today.

The lieutenant governor leaves this afternoon about 1 o'clock for Canyon, where he will address the Baptist and Methodist congregations jointly Sunday on the subject "The Trial of Jesus Christ From a Lawyer's Standpoint." Davidson will go from Canyon to Lubbock, where he will be the guest of Senator Bledsoe at the Technological college celebration to be held there the first of the week.

Davidson said he would spend this morning with friends and visiting. He expressed regret that it was impossible that he would be unable to make an address here tonight as his friends had hoped he would be able to do.

McCormick Upholds Probe.

"If anybody in Texas believe they can do anymore with the Lonnie Davis case than I have they are welcome to try it and I shall help them in every way possible," Ranger Sergeant McCormick said last night regarding the probe he has made in the flogging case on the Iowa Park road ten days ago.

"I have been up all night several nights working on this case and have worked on every tip or suggestion given and there has so far developed nothing to justify an arrest. We have had no description of the floggers or anything so far to base a case on," McCormick continued.

Agree With McCormick

Deputy Sheriff Warren Belcher, who has been with McCormick on the case since the probe began said last night he was sure everything has been done that could be done, until somebody talks."

Ranger Sergeant Koonsman, who is also working on the case, said the situation now offered no clue to solution. "We have done all we know and shall continue to work, but until something is given to work on, we cannot hope to arrest the guilty parties," Koonsman said.

STRENGTH LOST BY FARM BLOC

Coolidge Not Likely to Be Bothered as President Harding Was

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Coolidge will not be troubled as President Harding was with a powerful farm bloc in congress.

Dissensions among farmers and their leaders over policies and changing economic conditions in sections of the west spells the bloc's undoing. Legislative acts by the bloc have been followed by unfavorable results notably the Grain Futures Control law and the wheat tariff—have contributed their slivers to shattering a force that for two years could do what it wished in matters of legislation.

While in the last few days of congress the bloc showed impotence on some of the matters before the country, splitting on the ship subsidy, the most definite sign of a split is shown by the unsuccessful efforts to force President Coolidge to call congress into a special session this fall.

South Not Interested.

Advocates of this move, notably Brookhart of Iowa and Frazier of North Dakota, have been frantically appealing to the northern half of the wheat belt, while the southern half has failed to become aroused. Capper of Kansas, head of the farm bloc failed to show interest. The wool sections of the Pacific northwest and the fruit-growing sections also have been apathetic as to the special session demand.

Senators Gooding and Borah of Idaho both have remained quiet on the subject.

The bloc has shown great pride in the credits law, forced through in the closing days of congress, and it is said to have been of much assistance to some of the farmers, but among others there is a feeling that credit is not the remedy, but domestic legislation reducing freight rates and lowering costs of production.

American Dollars Arouse Berlin's Money Changers

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—American tourists are easy prey for the money bootleggers of Berlin, whose name today is legion. Every incoming train is met by gentlemanly agents who offer to take greenbacks and travelers' checks at higher rates than the government pays. Docks are crowded with money changers, and hotel clerks, waiters, barkeepers and elevator men are soliciting exchange operations.

The difference between the rate which the German government allows banks to pay in marks for American money is so many points less than the rate quoted in New York that middle men can make a good commission by buying in dollars in small quantities and reselling them to firms which have large quantities of marks they desire to put into money with stable value.

There is a heavy penalty for unauthorized dealing in foreign monies, but the government cannot keep up with such widespread operations. All sorts of firms with a big turnover are forced to seek some means of stabilizing their earnings, and the loss in dealing through legal channels is so great that caution has been thrown to the wind.

At times the number of marks paid for a dollar in New York has been from 25 to 50 per cent greater than that paid legally in Germany. This has put a premium on money sculping. Even with the great desire to get rid of paper marks, the demand for marks to facilitate exchange operations has created a short-

Veteran Dean Tells Of University Freshmen In '88 Who Meant Business

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—In the southwest corner of the campus of the University of Texas, imbedded in concrete and entirely covered by dirt is a stout cedar post.

"I am the only man who can find that post," asserted Dean T. U. Taylor, of the College of Engineering. "This is the only remaining post of the high board fence that surrounded the campus when I came here in '88. There was only one building on the campus. This was the right wing of the present main building. To the west of the main building, reaching almost to the fence on the east boundary was a dense mesquite thicket.

"The students who came to us in those days," declared Dean Taylor emphatically, "were better prepared than our present day high school graduates. Older, I should say, by two years than our freshman of today, they came to college with a single purpose. Moreover, they came immediately into close and personal contact with the professors. Snap courses and 'busteo' were a later development."

South Not Interested.

This intense intellectual atmosphere and earnestness of purpose was doubtless reflected in the simple life those students preferred, for when asked what the college activities of those days were, Dean Taylor laughed and said:

"There were none. Nothing except the weekly debates of the literary clubs every Saturday night. Then the student body turned out en masse. The only social activity was the Centepede club dance, which came once in two weeks. The entire student body turned out and danced. Whenever a public debate was held the whole town turned out. Now they draw scarcely a baker's dozen.

"There were no university athletics. Football did not come until 1893. Occasionally a few baseball enthusiasts would organize a scratch team and play a game with some local club. There were no class organizations with the exception of the seniors who always effected some sort of organization shortly before commencement. There were no yells, no colors."

The mention of colors caused another smile.

"Dick Slaughter, now living in Dallas," continued Dean Taylor, "was responsible for the Orange and White colors. The boys were off for San Marcos to see a baseball game. This was in 1890. While they were waiting for the train, Slaughter turned up swathed and draped from head to foot with yards of orange and white cheesecloth. With considerable rough handling Slaughter lost several yards of his costume. Long fluttering streamers were cut and distributed through the crowd. Thereafter it became the custom, on the occasion of any student turnout, to wear orange and white. It was not until fifteen years later, however, that the formal adoption of colors was voted upon. Then an overwhelming majority accepted the Slaughter tradition."

"The course in civil engineering," Dean Taylor said, in reviewing the development of his department, "has not changed in any of its fundamental features. The engineering laboratories, however, mark a decided advance in the method of teaching. The only new phase in the field of civil engineering is the great development of reinforced concrete within the last two decades."

age of the paper money, and banks are frequently compelled to ration the paper money and pay out large sums in bills of such small denominations that money-balers would be necessary to compress them into compact enough packages to be carried in anything smaller than suitcases.

Million and half-million mark bills are promised in a short time, but at present nothing larger than 100,000-marks are available and these are scarce. Even fifty-thousand mark bills are hard to get at banks.

AMERICANS WRITING VOLUMES ABOUT WAR

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Americans are writing about the war and peace to such an extent that an "American room" will be established when the French war library and museum are moved into permanent quarters at the Chateau de Vincennes next year. There already are 8,000 volumes by Americans, and the museum boasts that it has one of the finest collec-

Declare Mothers Responsible For Naughty Children

PORTSMOUTH, England, August 24.—Children supposed to be suffering from nervous disorders are often merely naughty. This is the verdict of some of England's greatest doctors. In their discussion of one thing and another in the field of human weaknesses at their recent conference here, the physicians devoted quite a lot of time to bad little boys and girls. They agreed that most children revel in pranks for the sheer fun of exasperating their parents. Sometimes they cut up and make a perfect nuisance of themselves just to attract attention.

The doctors did not blame the young generation for its misconduct. They seemed to think that mothers are mostly to blame if their offspring are naughty. To their mind, if mother shows she is distressed and aggravated when little junior eats dirt, or walks in mud with his new Sunday shoes, or satisfie some other prankish whim she can count on it that junior is going to accept the first opportunity to do it again. The doctors did not say it would be a good thing for parents to snub their children once in awhile, but they left the impression that this might be beneficial.

Children who are always refusing food are not necessarily suffering from some nervous complaint, the doctors said. Often they are merely obstinate because of excessive urging from parents or nurses. Contrariwise, the children of the slums whose parents have difficulty in keeping the larder laden, often reveal the opposite fault. They demand what they cannot get, and the response to their clamor for more helpings is that food is doled out grudgingly, accompanied by many complaints on the enormity of the child's appetite.

Chinese Boycott Is Hard On Japan

By The Associated Press.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Japan's export trade to China has suffered enormously during the last few months owing to the Chinese boycott of Japanese goods. Steamship companies also have been hard hit.

Japanese merchants are up in arms and resolution after resolution is being passed demanding that the government take some firm action to bring about a change. The foreign office, however, has found it impossible to do more than send ships to protect Japanese subjects and property and bring the matter before the Chinese government with a request that local officials take steps to put an end to this unfair unfriendly attitude.

INDUSTRY BACKS

Most American officials for obvious reasons have refrained from discussing the question publicly but many members of the house and senate and others who have studied European conditions at first hand this summer agree privately that the outlook is disquieting. In broadly representative diplomatic circles, too, there is a pronounced and almost universal note of discouragement. Some representatives of countries not concerned directly with German reparations regard a crash in central Europe as inevitable.

U. S. Must Keep Out."

In the circumstances it has been made clear since President Coolidge assumed office that there appears no course open to the Washington government with respect to Europe other than the one mapped out under the administration of President Harding. The wisdom of that policy is regarded at both the white house and the state department as a treaty confirmed by events. There is no doubt Washington officials want to do what they can to help, but the very elements which constitute greater danger signs abroad are regarded as increasing the peril toward mediation.

Just what form developments in Germany may take is regarded here as highly uncertain. In diplomatic circles at least the degree of the danger is believed to be hinged on the food question. Although there may be ample stocks, it is pointed out that these may not be generally available for use because of serious transportation and currency difficulties. An acute shortage, it is said, might produce public disposition leading to the gravest disorders.

Communism Feared.

Although there is apparent in Washington a realization that Germany is confronted with the danger of a collapse into bolshevism under the continued pressure, it is felt that perhaps only a separation movement might result. On the other hand, it is pointed out that anything approaching complete dismemberment would serve to increase the social unrest and perhaps lead to communism.

3 WINNERS OF COASTER WAGONS

On the first day of The Record News offer of a Boys Disc Wheel Coaster wagon, free with every ten subscribers to this newspaper, three boys became prize winners. They are:

Thomas C. Scott, Jr., 2000 Ninth street.

Ned McDaniel, 1900 Fillmore street.

Jack Foley, 1510 Garfield Ave.

A number of boys availed themselves of the offer on the first day. The offer will be open for a short time only.

M'ADOO CHANCE

Anti-McAdoo leaders say that McAdoo will never have as many votes at any stage of the 1st convention as he had at San Francisco. They assert that he is even in danger of losing the Texas and Kansas delegation which formed the backbone of his San Francisco support—the lone star state going to Governor Neff and the sunflower state to Governor Davis.

Arizona	6
Arkansas	18
California	26
Colorado	12
Florida	12
Georgia	28
Idaho	18
Iowa	26
Kansas	20
Michigan	20
Minnesota	24
Mississippi	20
Missouri	36
Montana	8
Nebraska	16
Nevada	6
New Mexico	6
North Carolina	24
Oklahoma	20
Oregon	10
South Carolina	18
South Dakota	10
Tennessee	24
Texas	40
Utah	8
Washington	14
West Virginia	16
Wyoming	6
Alaska	6
Hawaii	6
Phillipines	6
Canal Zone	2
Porto Rico	6
Total	518

Thus, the anti-McAdoo element in the democratic party, while denying that McAdoo will get anything like the entire 518 votes in the 33 states, territories or possessions, assert that they generously give him states with 518 delegates in which to contest with Ford, Underwood, John W. Davis, Governor Davis of Kansas, former Governor Haskell of Oklahoma and possibly Governor Neff of Texas, who may essay a favorite son role.

Majority Impossible.

Thus they point out if McAdoo obtained every one of these delegations he could not obtain a majority, much less a two-thirds as required in democratic conventions.

The following states, however, are figured as certain for McAdoo

Califorula	26
Idaho	8
Montana	8
Nevada	6
New Mexico	6
South Dakota	10
North Dakota	10
North Carolina	24
West Virginia	16
Wyoming	6
Totals	129

He is also given the best chances to have a majority of Minnesota's 24 and Michigan's 30 if Henry Ford does not enter the democratic lists, in fact the anti-McAdoo men believe that he will pick up approximately 300 delegates for the first ballot in the convention.

Giving McAdoo 300 votes on the first ballot they also expect Governor Smith of New York to have 296 votes on the first ballot. The Smith votes are figures from the following states Maine, 12; Vermont, 6; Rhode Island, 10; New York, 90; Pennsylvania, 76 Delaware, 6; Maryland, 16; Illinois, 58; Louisiana, 20. While Smith may lose a few votes from these states they believe he will pick them up in other states. At any rate calculations give him a minimum of 296 votes on the first ballot.

Underwood, starting with only the 24 votes of Alabama certain, is expected to have around 175 on the first ballot. Pennsylvania may go to Underwood early in the balloting. On the first ballot, the following states may cast complimentary ballots as follows New Hampshire 6 for Governor Brown; Massachusetts 36 for Senator Walsh; Connecticut, 14 for Homer S. Cummings; New Jersey, 28 for Governor Silzer or Senator Edwards, the New Jersey plan being to vote for one of them on the first and the other on the second ballot; Kansas, 20 for Governor Davis; Virginia, 24 for Senator Glass, and Texas, possibly, 40 for Governor Neff; Indiana 30 for Ralston and Ohio 46 for Cox.

Cox or Raiston.

None of these men are seeking delegates, but there is expectation that Cox and Ralston will forge ahead as the McAdoo and Smith strength diminishes and both are given royal chance to walk away with the nomination.

The 40 votes from Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Maryland, Illinois and Louisiana figured as "copper-riveted" against McAdoo may veer from one candidate to another as the balloting proceeds, going to Smith, Underwood, Cox, Copeland or Ralston at various times, according to calculations.

Senator Royal S. Copeland, New York, put down in all calculations as strong at the finish of what is certain to be a deadlock convention, is figured to have no votes on the initial ballot. It is possible, however, that New York, North Carolina and Michigan will swing in behind Copeland on an early ballot.

The strategy of the anti-McAdoo men is to floor the former secretary of the treasurby as soon as possible. They figure that after the third ballot McAdoo's showing will recede to a quiet point where influences will become guilty. Thereafter the prize will be accorded to the man who develops the greatest strength.

Croatian Female Spy Lands in Agram Jail

By The Associated Press.

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Aug. 24. If Danitza Andrelitch had been content to do her spy work quietly and without ostentation, she probably would still be at liberty, and still of use to her employers. But she must have tired of the lack of excitement attached to getting military information of Jugoslavia for the officers of a foreign power, and therefore decided to liven things up a bit by playing two hands at once.

Danitza is a Croatain woman, and the story from Agram, where she is now behind the bars charged with spying for Italy, sets forth that, under the alias of Ida Birner, she appeared before the Serbian chief-of-staff of the Croatain capital and offered her services to secure and sell him Italian military information. The chief listened to her tale, but was not impressed. So little did he like Danitza that he detailed two of his men to watch the woman night and day until they got something on her.

Eventually it was reported to the chief that Danitza had sent out of the country and to Italian agents, it was said, 12 military documents, each one in a private code. Then she was arrested. So thorough was she in her work that she learned her codes by heart.

Firm, Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

SOAK TOURISTS ON PASSPORTS

Almost Equal Fare Across The Atlantic Americans Find

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—American tourists in Europe have learned to their dismay that if they are to see anything of the principal countries, the cost of passport visas nearly equals the fare across the Atlantic. Their passport charges range from $50 to $250, depending upon the number of national boundary lines crosed.

Most of the European nations charge $10 for a visa, in retaliation for the action of the United States in making a similar assessment upon foreigners. Indeed, some of the continental states, notably the Balkans, have in occasional instances imposed fees of from $15 to $30 for the simple rubber stamp visa that permits the traveller to pass through the country.

Reginald Kauffman, a business man of Brooklyn reported being recently charged $60 at the border of Jugo-Slavia for a visa entitling him to cross that country into Roumania. When he protested the Serbian authorities threatened to eject him from the train. Mr. Kauffman said he was calling the situation to the attention of the state department a Washington. It cost him $400 for visas in the course of his six weeks tour of Europe.

Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark are among the few countries that are an exception to the general practice. These nations either make no charge to the American tourists, or only levy a nominal one.

Broadcasting may delight the human being but it means nothing to an elephant. The other day a British broadcasting company tried to get one of the pachyderms of the London zoo, Indarini by name, interested in Radio by having her master, Syed Ali, give her orders through a transmitter. Indarini paid no attention to him, although she has known his voice since the days of her youth in India.

Syed Ali shouted his comands through a loud speaker set up in the elephant's stall. He told his pet to "lie down," "Get up!" and "salute" and requested her to go through her other stunts, but she only waved her great ears and continued to eat peanuts.

In desperation, the broadcasters sent a waltz over the radio but Indarini ignored it. Her feet never moved, her massive shoulders remained still. Only her jaws were rhythmic, and the peanuts were responsible for that.

An offer of one thousand pounds a year, with free food and lodging and plenty of adventure thrown in, is going begging because England has no modern Jonah who knows whales intimately.

Last month the colonial office advertised for a "director of research" to take charge of a scientific expedition that is scheduled to start next spring for the Falkland Islands to study Aquatic mammals and their habits. So far not a single suitable application has been received and the committee is still seeking the right man.

The practical purpose of the expedition is to obtain data from which to frame legislation to prevent the disappearance of Leviathan from the oceans of the globe. The scientists will make an intimate study of whales, endeavoring to learn whether they are polygamous, how long they live, where they send the winter, and what their annual mileage is.

It seems that the waters off the Falklands are a fashionable summer whaling resort; but in winter the great mammals disappear. Inasmuch as the islands are largely dependent upon the whaling industry, the British government would like to know where they go.

Scott's historic ship "Discovery" will carry the expedition which will be gone two and a half years.

German Money Plentiful But Means Nothing

"Money" is plentiful in Germany. The people have bales of money—literally money "to burn." That's about the only thing paper marks are good for. Paper marks now are packed like mail in sacks for shipment by truck. No one calls at a bank for money any more without bringing a truck to cart it away. The mark continues to drop as the new cabinet takes charge.

Bar Association To Promote Study Of Constitution

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 24.—Few, if any, residents of the United States will have excuse, after September 22, for not having heard something of the history of the constitution of the United States, or at least have given it some thought, if plans of the citizenship committee of the American Bar association mature.

Starting Sunday, September 16, a period of each day for the week ending September 22, in some part of the United States, will be set aside for meetings at which the constitution, its history, purposes, and attacks which are made upon it, will be discussed.

The suggested program for the first day of the week includes sermons in churches of all denominations on the text "Remove Not the Ancient Landmarks from Proverbs, 22:28.

Monday, September 17, the general subject suggested is "The Setting and Inspiration of the United States constitution; the Magna Charta, the English Bill of Rights, and Mayflower Compact; Declaration of Independence, and Articles of Confederation." Each will be discussed by speakers on that day, and it will be shown how the older pacts led to others and finally the present constitution.

Watchwords of the constitution which are "A government of laws and not of men; liberty under the law; and equal opportunity to all citizens" is the general subject assigned for Tuesday, September 18.

Speakers on Wednesday, Sept. 19, will discuss the bill of rights in the constitution, and what it has meant to the American people, and what it means today.

The program on Thursday, Sept. 20 will be under the regular topic of the services of John Marshall in making the constitution the supreme law of the land.

The present dangers to the free institutions established by the constitution will be enumerated and pointed out by those who will speak Friday, Sept. 21. They will deal with communism, organized minorities and what many think is an apparent loss of individual responsibility.

The week's program will be closed in pointing out that to uphold the constitution in his daily life and activities is the duty of each and every good citizen. Some communities are planning parades and pageants on Saturday to emphasize the duties of citizenship.

State and local bar association have agreed in communication to R. E. L. Sauer of the citizenship committee of the American bar association, to lend their support and assistance to carrying out the programs. In many places, however, various civic and public spirited organizations will be in charge.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—Assets of the Barrett and company, defunct cotton firm of this city total $3,595,427.65 including debts due on open accounts totalling $1,102,962.23, according to the schedule in bankruptcy filed with Joseph Ganahl, local referee in bankruptcy here early tonight.

Post Office Alert To Protect Pubilc Against Swindlers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The United States government takes considerable care in protecting the bank accounts of its citizens, and many and varied are the schemes it is called upon to use in order that the gullible will not lose their savings of years. But perhaps the most interesting of all is the method of the Post Office department, which issues "fraud orders" to eliminate from the mails the circulars and advertisements of the get-rich quick swindlers.

How much this system actually saves inventors during a year it is almost impossible to estimate. In one recent instance, as the result of a single fraud order, 21,000 letters, each believed to contain a dollar bill, were intercepted and returned to the senders.

When investigators of the post office suspect an individual or company of sending through the mails letters or advertising matter of a fraudulent nature, inspectors are given the case to gather evidence. Should suspicions be backed by facts, the persons are cited to give reason why a fraud order should not be issued against them. A hearing is conducted and, if the charges are sustained, all postmasters are ordered to return to the senders all mail addressed to the person or company in question. Those not bearing return addresses find their way to the dead letter office, and the money enclosed is turned into the national treasury. Very often the fraud order is followed by court action against the offenders.

In recent months Postmaster General New has instituted a determined campaign against mail frauds. Especially have his efforts been directed against purveyors of worthless oil stock and lands in the southwest. As a result many operators have been tripped up in their promises of thousands of per cent of profit to their dupe investors.

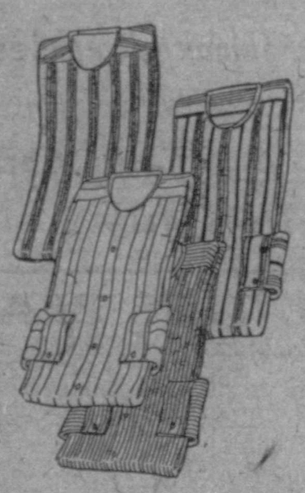

Fake stocks are the principal commodity dealt in by those who milk gullible readers of circulars and advertisements, but many unique and interesting schemes to market other commodities have been uncovered by the department's activities. One of the most recent was the case of a man who advertised blooded hunting dogs at very low prices and delivered mongrels picked up at random, with faked pedigrees.

Another advertiser boasted of having found a sure cure for tuberculosis, but when government chemists discovered the brown, sirupy liquid was mainly creosote and maltose, a fraud order speedily put him out of business.

VACATION DAYS NEAR AN END.

The vanguard of the vacationists is returning. In fact, they are beginning to come in bunches. And to the fellow who had to stay at home, there is a crumb of comfort in much that they have to say.

If they tell the truth, and some vacationists will, under pressure, they will tell you how they suffered from the heat in the so-called summer resort they visited, or how it rained most of the time; about the ants and the mosquitoes, and bugs and the human moochers they met and if they are especially addicted to varacity they will tell you what the trip cost.

Out of these the man who had to stay behind can get some of the pleasures he missed by not getting his vacation.

But with all the bugs and nuts and other things you encounter on a summer trip, there is much good that comes. You get the relaxation and rest; get out of your groove, and forget your everyday troubles.

And best of all, is the pleasures of getting back home to the job you thought you disliked when you left—the great joy of digging into real work again. When, all's said and done there's nothing like it.

LONG AND NARROW AND WOODEN.

In the long ago the early fathers founded this government and declared that it should be a government of the people. Those who came after them seem to be of the opinion that it should be a government by boards or commissions. Major General George W. Goethals is one of the famous engineers of the world and admittedly an accomplished administrator. He built the Panama Canal after all others had failed. Theodore Roosevelt a matter mind of the age, picked General Goethals for the job.

Experience with commissions when he built the canal and with boards while serving during the war as general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation convinced the General that such groups are inefficient and that they are long, narrow and wooden. He delved into history for witnesses to back up his conclusion. Alexander Hamilton, perhaps the greatest financial genius in the history of the American republic, referring to the action of congress in creating a governmental board, said it was a bad plan and Abraham Lincoln, the emancipator of the chattel slave, called commissions devices for the purpose of defeating government.

General Goethals in a recent address asserted commissions are always inefficient; that there is no responsible head; that any one can shirk responsibility by throwing it on the others and that the American people always want someone who will accept responsibility if anything has gone wrong. Isn't this the truth of American history? Isn't it the history of all governmental boards and commissions?

Senator A. B. Cummings, of Iowa, after the death of the lamented Harding, declared that overwork killed the president and that the presidents should be given an assistant or assistants.

General Goethals does not take kindly to the proposal. No president, he says, no head of any government, can be relieved of responsibility if he is to do the job right. Furthermore the president, the head of any government, must make decisions and stand by them and be responsible for his own actions.

General Goethals points the way. If he had the power he would reorganize the government, he would abolish some commissions and transfer their duties to executive department heads and hold them responsible. And then the president's burdens would be relieved and th people would get back to the first principles of their government.

This is the viewpoint of one of the foremost scientific engineers of the world, a man who has marvelous achievements to his credit, an administrator of the highest rank and a builder who has never shirked responsibility.

George Washington did not have an assistant; Thomas Jefferson did not have an assistant; Abraham Lincoln did not have an assistant; Grover Cleveland would have thrown one out of the White House window; Theodore Roosevelt would have spurned the proposal; Woodrow Wilson would have scorned it and Warren G. Harding prefered to carry the load alone.

President Calvin Coolidge has decided to abandon the handshaking custom or program of his predecessors, and to avoid the senseless American custom of accepting social invitations and banquet stuffing events when ever Tom, Dick or Harry insists that he shall be present. Every state in the union is over-burdened with governmental boards or commissions created by legislative acts and the federal congress has created thousands of boards and commissions that come under the Goethals description, "long, narrow and wooden, without responsible head and made so any one can shirk responsibility by throwing it on the other."

It is a real relief to find an outstanding American with the courage to declare that no president, no head of any government can be relieved of responsibility if he is to do the job right. There is a large volumn in these few words by the builder of the Panama canal, speaking of a man called to high place by the people, he must make decisions and stand by them and be responsible for his own action."

Millions of Bottles Sold But Where Are the Cures?

The Letter Of The Contract

INSTALLMENT NO SEVEN

Edith Walker, jealous of

Maggie Clare's former association with

Chipman Walker, her husband, and resentful of his continued interest in her—charitable though it be—divorces him.

Emery Bland endeavors to dissuade "Chip" from too much drinking.

Sir Noel Ordway meets Edith on the Rivera and proposes to her.

Lily Bland, Emery's adopted niece, brings Walker news of Maggie, whom he visits first just before she dies. He tells Lily Maggie had ruined his life. He drinks steadily.

And yet the occurrence brought him another kind of shock. In the death of one who for years had been so closely associated with his thoughts, it was as if his own death had begun.

He grew uneasy, morbid. He came to hate the clubs, the restaurants, the theaters, and such social gatherings as he was now invited to. There was an evening when from sheer boredom he went home to his rooms as early as 8 o'clock—and a bottle of Old Piper came out of its hiding place.

Going to the bad had the more to recommend it since he had head that Edith was in New York. His downfall might bring her back to him, in some such way, from some such motive of saving or pity, as that by which he himself had been brought to Maggie Clare.

The argument being in favor of Old Rippy, Old Rippy supported it. Chip never forgot an evening when, as he staggered down the steps of the club toward the taxi that had been called for him, he met Emery Bland, who was coming up. He would have dodged the lawyer without recognition had it not been for the latter's kindly touch on his arm, while a voice of distress said: "Ah, poor chap, what's this?"

With that he staggered on, knowing that he almost fell into the waiting vehicle.

Worse days ensued—for nearly a week. Worse still might have followed had they not been cut short suddenly.

They were cut short by a note which bore the signature "Lily Bland." It was a simple note, containing nothing but the request that he should come and see her.

Chapter XIX.
The Iron.

Lily, dressed simply, scarcely decollette, seemed somewhat lost in the spacious Bland library. She made no pretense at preliminary social small talk, going straight to her point as soon as they were seated in the firelight.

"Uncle Emery had something to tell you, but I asked him to let me do it," she said.

Chip's heart bounded. He knew Edith was in New York. She had heard of his condition! She was coming back to him!

He was to have his reward for taking pity on Maggie Clare.

"Then it's good news—or you wouldn't want to break it?" he said with parched tongue.

Lily was not visibly perturbed. Rather, she was pensive. "Don't you think that we often make news good or bad by our way of taking it?"

"That's asking me a question, when you've got information to give me! What have you to tell me, Miss Bland?"

"I've something to tell you that will give you a great shock; so that I don't want to say it till I know you're prepared."

"Oh, prepared! Is one ever prepared? Is one of the children hurt? Is one of them dead?"

"That would be a great grief. I said that this would be a great shock. There's a difference—and one can be prepared."

"Well, I am. Please don't keep me in suspense. Tell me!"

She sat now with hands folded in her lap, looking at him quietly. "No, you're not prepared."

"One is prepared," she said, tranquilly, "by remembering beforehand one's own strength—by knowing that there's nothing one can't bear and bear nobly. Say to yourself: "I'm a man, and I'm equal to this!' I'll take it in the highest way. I shan't let it degrade me or send me for help to degrading things."

He flung his hands outward. "Yes, yes! I know what you're driving at. I promise. Only for God's sake, tell me. Is is about—?"

"It's about Mrs. Walker."

"Yes, so I supposed. But what is it? Is she ill? She isn't dead?"

The cry made her eyes smart, but she kept control of her voice.

"No, she's not dead. She's not even ill. She's perfectly well, so I understand. But she's been—" The horror in his face, the way in which he leaned forward as though he would spring at her, warned her that he knew what was coming. "She's been—married."

He huddled in a big arm-chair in a state of collapse. For the minute there was nothing to say or do. Since the iron had to enter into his soul it was better that it should be like this.

It was better that it should be like this—with her there to keep him such company as one human being can keep for another at such an hour—better than if he were to learn it in the solitude of his own rooms, or in the unsustaining frigidity of a lawyer's office.

She knew she didn't count for much, except for the fact—a detail only—that she was with him in every nerve that helped her to sensation and every faculty she possessed.

"You won't forget your promise?" she asked after a time.

His tone was vacant. "What promise?"

"That you'd remember you're strong enough to bear it nobly."

"But I'm not."

"I know you are."

He lumbered to his feet, staggering heavily to the chimney-piece, where he, too, laid his hands upon the mantel-board. As he did so she left the room.

When, some twenty minutes later, he himself came forth, he found her at the door of the dining-room, with a cup of tea in her hand. He drank in silence, and left without a good-night beyond a hard, speechless wringing of her hand on his way to the door.

Chapter XX.
"Papa Lacon."

Two things seemed strange to Chip after that evening—the one that the fight with Old Piper was ended; and the other, that in the matter of Edith's marriage, once the immediate shock had spent its strength he bowed to the accomplished fact with a docility he himself could not understand.

As for the fight with Old Piper, there was no longer a reason for waging it. In the new situation Old Piper had lost its appeal, from sheer inadequacy to meet the new need.

The fact of the marriage he contrived to keep at a distance. It was so monstrous that the mind refused to take it in and if it hadn't been for the children he might not have heard so much as the man's name.

The children called him "Papa Lacon." Chip was obliged to swallow that. They spoke of his simply and spontaneously, taking "Papa Lacon" as a matter of course. They varied the appellation now and then by calling him "our other papa."

It had been intimated to him, not long after the second marriage that he might see the children with reasonable frequency, through the good offices of Mr. and Mrs. Bland.

He soon saw that the arrangements were really in charge of Lily Bland, who brought the children to her house, and took them home again. Chip saw them in the library.

The childishness was shown in his standing on his guard, determined not to be the first to make the advances. He wouldn't be even the first to speak.

They came forward slowly, with an air judicial and detached. Tom's eyes observed him more closely than his brothers who looked about the room.

"Hello, papa."

"Hello, Tom."

Encouraged by this exchange of greetings, Chippie also spoke up. "Hello, pupa."

"Hello, Chippie."

There followed a few seconds during which the interview threatened to hang fire there, but taking one thing with another, the occasion passed off well, as did similar meetings through the rest of that winter and whenever they were possible, which was not often—in the summer that followed. It was a joy to Chip when they began again in the autumn, with a promise of regularity. But Chip's joy in them was a short-lived.

It was his second time of seeing them after the general return to town. Tom was hanging on his shoulder, while Chippie was seated on his knee. Chippie was again the spokesman.

"We've got a baby sister, at our house."

Chapter XXI.
"When Everything Else Was Gone."

It seemed to Chip as if all the blood in his body rushed back to his heart and stayed there. He felt dizzy, sick. The walls of his fool's paradise were dissolved as mist, revealing a picture he had seen twice already, each time with an unleashing of the primal and the fatheriy in him; but now....Edith had been lying in bed, wan, bright-eyed, happy, with a little fuzzy head just peeping at her breast!

He tramped down the street when the boys had left and came to the consciousness that he was speaking inwardly.

So Goes It

By B. H.

The train robber, who talked politics with a fluency which amazed his hearers, only got away with about $500. Served him right. If he had had the sense with which he was first credited, he would have known that no man can mix politics and business.

We see by the papers that owing to the recent rain and cool spell, the heat wave "is stopped." However, word we got from various localities indicates that the heat has "stopped" it must have come to a standstill in Oklahoma.

It dosen't look to us as though there is any excuse for any man making a mistake, considering the wonderful lot of free advice we all get.

This one is going the rounds:
Of the press:
Two are matrimony
Three are alimony
Four are bigamy
Five are some new fanatical "cult."

Our idea of a waste of time is to try to tell the soldier boys what to do with their bonus money when they get it. Most of them have had it spent long ago. All they want now is the money.

It is pointed out that with the price of gasoline down, filling stations are not likely to be visited by robbers. That is merely the view of an optimist who dosen't run a filling station.

Generally speaking, most anything depends on which side of the fence you happen to be. The buyer is the one who complains of high prices and the retailer of the reductions which make his profit impossible. The man who sells one commodity usually wants all others to be cheap. All of these things go to make a rather interesting world.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Library Day.

One Mother Says:

In our family we selected Friday afternoon as Library Day. Each child in turn goes to the library, taking back the old books and bringing new ones. He is then at liberty to choose what books he likes himself and the family adjusts itself to his taste, with perhaps an occasional suggestion. Since doing this we always have plenty of books on hand, and nobody complains when his turn comes.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

By MARY BLAKE

By MARY BLAKE
VIRGO.

Patience is required today in all things. Although there are no benign aspects, those which do occur are of a nature that promote irritation, impatience and discord. There will be disputes between the opposite sexes the final results of which will be happy conciliations.

A child born today will be generous thoughtful but subject to moods and very impressionable.

If today is your birthday you should be affectionate, generous, observing and unusually versatile. In fact your ability to be interested in a great many different occupations and your lesser ability to do any one of them surprisingly well may be more of a hinderance than a help.

Your mind is the type more interested in the relation of one thing to another than in the intrinsic merit of any one proposition. You are an observer but not an analyst. Life and action, the customs and manners of people, interests you more than science and history and you have an abiding faith in the practical of mankind which prevents any cynical analysis of his motives.

You have the gift of speaking and enough sense of dramatic fitness to squeeze the greatest effect out of passing situations.

You are courageous and inquisitive and willing to pull up stakes and move when things do not suit your tastes. A natural bent for adventure increases the recklessness of your imagination, and you will probably live in many different places and work at a number of different occupations.

Temperamentally you are responsive and the more demonstrative than anyone of the opposite sex attracts and inspires you, and conversation with them opens the flood gates of your heart. You are chivalrous and considerate, but for the sake of the future and you friends pick out a good listener when you marry.

Successful people born on your birthday are:

NEW YORKER PLAYS JOKE ON OIL MEN

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 24.—Some one in Batavia, N. Y., is worrying Uncle Sam's postal inspectors. He has been dropping unstamped letters filled with old advertisements, form letters and cut papers into the mail boxes. The envelopes used are those sent out by oil concerns to prospective customers for the latter to use in writing the company.

When a firm is notified by post card that a letter is held for postage it has to spend several cents to get the letter. Annoyance is caused when the letter is found to contain nothing but worthless papers.

Several oil promotion companies have been asked by postal inspectors to furnish a list of names in Bavaria and Niagara Falls on their mailing lists in order that the joker may be apprehended

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE FOLLY OF GREED

An ostrich dwelt on the boundless veldt
'Neath the equatorial sky,
And by the way of lunch the spikes he'd munch
From a railroad track hard by.
For this strange bird, as you may of heard,
His appetite to slake,
Will make a meal of iron or steel
As you and I eat cake.

Again and again the section men
Were given the very deuce
By their peevish boss, who became quite cross
When he found that the rails were loose.
"This greedy fowl," the boss would growl,
"With his spike-extracting neck,
Will nibble away at the track some day
And the limited flyer wreck."

But the bird was fleet on his nimble feet,
He eluded each trap and snare,
When pursuit drew nigh he would wink his eye
And hurry away from there.
And one awful night, being famished quite
A couple of rails ate he,
And into the bush with a hideous "swoosh!"
Went rocketing Number 3.

On the wreck he dined with a placid mind
And a leer of triumphant pride,
Which cost him dear, for the following year
The road was electrified.
And when with a tweak of his hungry beak
He sampled the new third rail
There ensued a flash, and a heap of ash,
Which concludes our tragic tale

Once Luxuriant Crimea Today Is Hopeless Waste

ALUSHTA, Crimea.—The Crimea, the beloved health resort of the old days and known as the "Persian Riviera," once filled with beautiful palaces surrounded by flowers, vine yards and magnificent fruit gardens, lies now flowerless and ruined as a result of the civil war and last year's famine.

Many of the owners of these villas, vineyards and fruit gardens belonged to the upper classes and lived in central Russia, coming here for their relaxation. Large numbers fled the country years ago, while others, having thrown in their lot with General Wrangel, became the scapegoats of his acts after his defeat and paid the death penalty during the terror which followed the second occupation of the Crimea by the Bolsheviks.

The Crimea has not escaped the effects of nationalization, confiscation and requisitions, and while nominally the immense vineyards and magnificent gardens have been declared nationalized, as a matter of fact they are nobody's property. Vineyards and gardens stood unguarded for several years, with the result that everything went to the dogs. The wine-stocks dried, and a majority of the best fruit trees died. Thousands of acres of almond, apricot, peach and pear trees and vineyards are today absolutely worthless, and many a year will have to pass before they can be brought to life again.

The same is true of agriculture and industry. Despite the reconstruction work carried on by the Crimean "Independent" soviet government, Crimean agriculture and existing minor industries are in a deplorable condition. The number of cattle has diminished by 75 per cent, the total number of working horses being today only 30,000. The sowing area is only 40 per cent that of 1916. This year's harvest will be very small.

Industries in the Crimea are insignificant and play an unimportant part in the economic life. They consist largely of the curing of tobacco, canning, and preserving. They all languish. There is no market for the local salt, and Crimean wines go begging. The people are impoverished and seem content to live with insufficient food, no comforts or pleasures, and with little hope for the future.

State Highway Department Lets Seventeen Contracts

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—Contracts on 128.29 miles of highway projects, involving an expenditure of $3,647,513 of state and federal aid funds, were let under supervision of the state highway department during July, according to the monthly condensed summary obtained from the highway department today. Seventeen projects were included in the list. State and federal funds will supply approximately $500,000 of the total cost.

The larger part of the highways contracted for will be of gravel construction, this type constituting 68 miles of the total. Approximately twenty miles will be of concrete construction. Several bridge contracts also were awarded.

TEXAN INDICTED IN 3 PER CENT CONCERN

By The Associated Press

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 24.—A. A. Cocke, prominent Dallas business man and former trustee of the United Home Builders of America, a 3 per cent loan company, was indicted by the county grand jury here today on a charge of alleged embezzlement. The bill charges that Cocke unlawfully misapplied $1,240 in 1920 while serving in an official capacity with the association.

Another 10 Years Will See Passing Of Movie Censor?

CHICAGO, August 24.—Another 10 years will see the passing of the movie censor, declares Mrs. A. L. Adams, chairman of the Chicago board of motion picture censorship, who says the present day picture director and the present day star need little supervision in their art.

"It will not be long until such supervision is entirely superfluous," Mrs. Adams asserts. "Directors do not want to offend the public, and they have learned that the public wants clean pictures. Censors, however, can make hard and fast rules. They have to judge each picture individually.

"Censorship, like the movies themselves, is undergoing an evolution. But it cannot be abolished for some time yet because people sometimes read into a picture what is not there."

There are some rules, Mrs. Adams says, which she always observes. In a fistic encounter, hitting a man when he is down is taboo because it is unsportsmanlike. A crook cannot shoot at an officer pausing him, lest that encouage lawlessness. Shigle piece bathing suits are all right but a bathing beauty is not permitted to parade across many feet of screen.

"Virtue does not need to triumph over all difficulties, but pictures glorifying unscrupulous dealings are cut," Mrs. Adams continues. "Shooting too, is censored closely. In this respect it is believed that the movie director is improving.

"We cannot make hard and fast rules about very many things because a great deal depends on how the thing is handled," adds Mrs. Adams, "and because public morals also undergo changes. Every day we get objections from somebody who has been scandalized by a picture. Generally, however, we find on examination that these people have read something into the picture that is not there."

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Miss Lillian Westropp is the organizer and president of the first Woman's Savings and Loan company in the United States. A little over a year ago a band of business and professional women of Cleveland, O., banded together under Miss Westropp and organized the company. Recently the company gave a banquet to its stockholders to celebrate the completion of its first business year. The officers and directors are all women.

Miss Westropp, who by her charmingly feminine appearance dissipates still further that old bugaboo that women engaged in big business must of necessity be masculine in mind and looks, graduated from a Cleveland high school and then studied stenography with a view to earning money to study dramatic art. She studied in New York and joined a road company playing various parts until the company stranded on the coast. Back she went to stenography to earn money to get to New York again. A lawyer friend urged her to take up the study of law. Getting work in a law office she studied night using the firm library. In 1915 she completed her course and graduated with honor.

Soon after graduation Miss Westropp decided to go into business for herself. After paying her necessary expenses she had remaining the magnificient sum of $2.50.

After some time spent in a successful law practice Miss Westropp conceived the idea of a bank for women. Her ideas were finally incorporated in the Women's Savings and Loan company of Cleveland which she heads.

"I am a firm believer of an equal wage standard for men and women," says Miss Westropp. "The majority of women over 30 are supporting some member of their family and that is one of the arguments for the same remuneration for the same work."

Mrs. Helen H. Gardner has recently completed her third year as one of the three civil service commissioners. She was appointed by Mr. Wilson, and was the first woman ever to hold that position. On several occasions she has been the acting president of the commission. She has made a specialty of helping women in government employ as the commission is a court of appeals when trouble comes between the boss and the employe.

A new respect for the conscientious government employe and added contempt for the slackers, "who serve the government with one eye on the clock and the other on their pay check," is what three years of service as a government official has taught Mrs. Gardner. "It has been three years of hard work for me, but there has been a joy in believing that I have helped a little in the directio nof good government," she says.

FIFTEEN WOMEN MAYORS IN U. S.

There are now fifteen women mayors in the United States. They are: Mrs. A. M. Gault, St. Peter, Minn.; Mrs. Abbie Forest, Tiwyer, Kan.; Miss Grace Miller, Jackson, Wyo.; Dr. Amy Kaukonen, aFirport, O.; Mrs. Mary McFadden, Magnetic Springs, O.; Miss Scorp, Saline, Utah; Mrs. Mayme Ownsley Peterson, Red Cloud, Neb.; Mrs. Ella Jacobson, Waterloo, Neb.; Miss Helen Cox, Langley, Wash.; Mrs. W. H. Beall, Brewton, Ga.; Mrs. Estella Tripp, Rochester, O.; Mrs. Ethel Stoner, Cokesville, Wyo., and Dr. Josie Rogers, Daytona, Fla.

THE VERSATILE BISCUIT DOUGH

How many housewives realize the possibilities of baking powder biscuit dough? Most of us use it as an emergency when the bread box fails us or we have unexpected guests and we all love fricassed chicken and biscuits, but few of us realize how very many varieties of appetizing dainties can be made from the humble biscuit dough. The standard rule for baking powder biscuits is as follows: Two cups of flour, four tablespoons baking powder, (level measure), one teaspoon salt, sugar if you wish, two tablespoons shortening, three-fourths to one cup of sweet milk. If you desire to use sour milk, and one very often does at this time of the year use the same amount, with half a teaspoon of baking soda and half the amount of baking powder as used with sweet milk.

As an emergency biscuit, when you are in a hurry, don't roll out the dough. Just drop it by spoonfuls into muffin tins or on to a greased pan and bake. They will not be as smooth, but will be just as appetizing. To make Parkerhouse rolls, roll and cut out as for biscuits; put a little lump of butter on each biscuit, fold over and bake. Or insert a date or prune, plain or stuffed with a nut meat. Half a cup of grated cheese mixed with the flour makes a tasty biscuit to serve with salads and also solves the problem of what to do with the piece of stale cheese we hate to throw out and cannot seem to find a use for. Saturate a lump of sugar with orange juice, not to the melting point, however. Place one piece of dough in muffin pan, put sugar and a little grated orange peel on top, cover with another piece of dough and bake, and you have an orange biscuit. Roll out your dough, cover with raisins flavored with cinnamon and sugar, roll up like jelly cake roll, cut into slices and bake. Any housewife can think up any number of varieties for this recipe, to be used as biscuit or dessert. Rich, sweetened biscuit dough to which an egg may be added, if desired, makes the very best shortcakes and cobblers. For the latter place a layer of fruit, peaches, apples, plums, whatever you like, in the bottom of the pan with a soft dough baked on top and served with cream or pudding sauce.

For dumplings use only one teaspoon of shortening to one cup of flour instead of one tablespoonful. Try cutting them in squares instead of round and leaving the cover off the stew for the first eight or 10 minutes, then covering and cooking until done.

BARRED CELL HER BRIDAL SUITE!

Cupid Taunted Her and She Told Fib

Mrs. Katherin e Clayton Paul

A dingy cell in a crowded jail instead of the bridal suite in a fashionable honeymooners' hotel.

That was the experience of Mrs. Katherine Clayton Paul, 18-year-old Cleveland bride of the equally youthful Joseph Paul.

Her "honeymoon" led from the altar straight down behind the bars of a dark and smelly jail.

Parental objections had stood in the way of the marriage of the youthful pair. The prospective father-in-law-to-be, James Clayton, couldn't see the match with a Lick observatory telescope.

Inasmuch as a recent Ohio law makes parents' consent necessary unless the contracting parties are over twenty-one Cupid's highway was darker than a country road at midnight.

But in the ardor of their youthful love the barrier of the law didn't seem insurmountable.

It never occurred to the anxious bride-to-be that Ohio has a big stone house down at Columbus, all decorated with nice, strong iron bars where they put persons thoughtless enough to fib under oath—and get caught.

The license obtained, the couple lost no time having the knot tied.

About that time "Papa" Clayton heard the news. He called police. Right then and there the newlyweds had forcibly brought to their minds the "worse" part of their recently taken vows.

The bride went to jail. She faced the judge. The charge perjury—a felony in Ohio.

Clayton thought it over. Pretty serious. He changed his mind.

He allied himself with Paul. Together they set out to free the girl-bride.

But the law is stern and now a grand jury will determine whether Mrs. Paul will face trial for perjury and a possible penitentiary sentence if convicted or—go back to her husband a sadder but a wiser child.

LEGION PLANS PARADE FLOATS

Big Procession Is Among Features Planned by Labor Council

Arrangements for the parade to be held Labor day by the local labor council and the American legion are now being made and legion officials announce that organizations will have at least four floats in the parade.

A float with all the boxers who are to participate in the fite nite activities, another for Buck Anderson's gymnasium class, a legion auxiliary decorated float and a truck with the free-for-all fighters aboard, are now being arranged for. Friday the legion placed an order for a beautiful post flag which will be shown at the parade for the first time. Every civic organization, and commercial club is being asked to enter a float for the parade.

The contest for the Labor day queen began Friday with three entries already announced and a number more signifying they will enter. A $200 diamond ring will be awarded the queen.

John R. Evans at the St. James hotel is in charge of the queen contest and those wishing to enter are asked to see him.

$20,000 Loot In Oklahoma Train Robbery On Katy

By International News Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—Loot obtained by bandits who early Tuesday held up a "Katy" passenger train near Okesa, Okla., escaping with registered mail, totals approximately $20,500, it was announced here today by L. A. Johnson, chief postoffice inspector of this division. Johnson had previously estimated the loss at only about $500.

"We have checked up and found that approximately $20,000 in registered liberty bonds were taken in addition to the $500 in currency," Johnson said. A complete check of the loss, which is necessarily slow, in being made, may reveal an even greater loss in currency, Johnson said.

MRS. THOMSON WAS ALWAYS TIRED

Says She Has Never Felt So Well As She Does Since Taking Stella Vitae.

"I don't believe I ever felt so well and strong before in my life as I do today, and it was nothing but Stella Vitae that restored me to health," said Mrs. Ethel Thomson, Hollister, Okla.

"I was badly rundown and before the birth of each of my three children I would become weak and nervous and suffer from dizziness. The first time I took Stella Vitae it helped me so much and made it so easy for me that each time since, before my children came, I took a course of Sella Vitae and always found the same results—easy labor and a quick recovery and no loss of strength."

Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.—Adv.

Your Heart and Home Problems Solved By Elizabeth Thompsun

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am a married woman, a year or two past my teens. My husband is somewhat older than I. I love him dearly and he says he loves me and could not do without me. I am alone at night because he works. While he sleeps in the day time I have my housework to do. I get up about 9 o'clock in the morning and by the time I get my work done it is afternoon and then I don't care to go out while it is so hot. My husband never wants me to go out anywhere to see my friends at night and he says if I can't stay at home I can take my clothes and leave. Therefore I do as he wants me to.

He gets angry at times and calls me some horrible names. I just can't stand to have him talk that way. I try to do everything I can to please him and he says I am lazy and he wishes he had never met me. At other times he tells me how he loves me and could not live without me.

Every time he sees a good-looking girl or woman he goes on how he would like to make a date with her and talks about her in every way. Do you think that he isn't true to me? On the other hand he tells me that he wouldn't make a date with other women because I am the only one he cares for. He goes out once or twice a week. He gets me nearly everything I want. Still I get the blues and think I will go crazy. I feel as if I were dead I would be better off.

WORRIED WIFE.

It seems to me that your husband is quit unreasonable in forbidding you to go places in the evening. It is evident, however, that he loves you and does not want to run the risk of having something happen to you. He ought to trust you more and let you go and see your friends and neighbors. Naturally you get lonely and blue staying home night after night. Try to get your friends to come to see you.

Perhaps it would help if you regulated your work differently and saved the greater share of your work to do when your husband is away in the evening. In that time you would be occupied and would have less time to feel blue.

When your husband talks of other women he probably does so to tease you. It is not kind or tactful for him to talk that way, but do not take him seriously. Joke about the matter and make him feel that you trust him too much to be jealous.

Some people have poor control of their tempers and when they are angry they say all sorts of unkind things which they regret later on. Doubtless your husband is that way and he really does not mean it when he says you are lazy and calls you horrible names. Probably silence would be your greatest weapon against his anger. Be too much of a lady to answer back and I am satisfied he will feel deeply ashamed of himself.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun: I am fond of a young man who lives next door. We were brought up together until he went to the army and I went away to school. At present we are both at home, but we aren't friendly as we were before. Can you tell me what to do to gain his friendship again.

BOBBY.

Since you have been friends nearly all your lives there is no need to stand on ceremony with him. Persuade your mother to ask him over to dinner some night, then exert yourself to be as charming and entertaining as possible. Thus you will lay the foundation for a new comradeship.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun:—

I am a young man 23 years of age, an accountant with a promising future, and I am madly in love with a girl of 18. She is a very pretty girl with large brown eyes and beautiful brown hair, and is socially very prominent. She considered the prettiest girl in high school.

She is still in high school, but I have gone with her for eight months. She treats me very nicely and when I was sick a few weeks ago sent me some beautiful flowers and wrote me letters. She is out of town now on a short visit and has written me, sending the letters special delivery. Do you think she cares for me?

There are several handicaps in the way of our affair. In the first place I am not wealthy, although I have a bright future, while she has inherited some money. Should that make any difference in my attention to her? Should I give her a ring while she is still in high school or should I wait until later?

Please do not use my name because the boys at the place where I live would tease me. Eight of us chum together and they might try to make fun of me.

ROMEO.

Dear Romeo:—

She probably likes you, or she would not have gone with you and been so thoughtful as to send flowers and write special deliveries when you were ill, but whether or not she is in love with you, I cannot say, probably she could tell you better than I.

To a real girl, Romeo, money makes no difference so I wouldn't worry about the condition of your finances. If you mean business and want her for your wife, tell her about it and let her decide about the ring.

Dear Mrs. Thompsun:—

I am going with a nice kid and I think a lot of him, but he insists on petting me, kissing me good night. I guess I'm a tomboy, but I think it's silly, and my Dad says a boy has lots more respect for you if he can't kiss you. All the boys in our crowd cut up this way and think it's fun and they think I'm hard boiled. I have to fuss with this boy to make him be good, and he really doesn't mean any harm.

It's either a case of doing what every one does and acting silly, or doing what I want to do and being a stick. He can't pal with me and be a good fellow—and all the rest of the boys are the same way. What must I do, keep on fussing at him? He seems to like me even if I do fuss at him, and I like him in spite of his nonsense. Other times, he's lots of fun.

BROWN EYES.

Don't fuss at the boy, but tell him that you like him but wish he would not act as he does. Refuse to argue with him about it, and when he sees that you are in earnest he will refrain from petting you if he is a gentleman. If he is not you are well rid of him.

It is possibly your fault that he persists in his attentions. Many girls fuss with boy when they really want to be kissed and possibly he misunderstood your objections, taking them as false. You should not lower yourself simply because other girls do. Keep your originality and boys will respect you more for making them behave. If they do not respect you more it is reflection on them rather than you and proof that they do not deserve your friendship. You will not be a stick but will be surprised at the number of real boys who will want to come to see you. A real boy is a gentleman, first, last and all the time.

Glad Boy:—

If your wedding is informal a suit of dark gray or blue would be quite appropriate. If the bride is married in a coat suit or traveling dress, gray or a pretty warm brown are lovely colors for fall, with hat, footwear, and gloves to match. The proper fee for the minister is $5.00.

It is quite proper for the groom to give the bride a present beside her ring if he chooses. A dainty bar pin or a watch would be fitting in the way of jewelry, or he might give her something lovely for the new home. A leather traveling case would be nice for the honeymoon trip.

MEXICAN REVOLUTION FIGURE DIES IN U. S.

Cool Negligee

Practically every woman wishes to have several attractive negligees in her wardrobe, but these dainty garments are usually quite expensive. It is true that those with lace and ribbon trimmings are costly, but many dainty and attractive ones can be made at home with small expense.

Perhaps it may be a bit early for Christmas suggestions, but, nevertheless, a dainty, hand-made negligee is a gift that would indeed be very acceptable.

Periwinkle blue chiffon over pink forms the basis of this robe. It would be very easy to make since the only trimming is a border of shirred chiffon about the bottom of the skirt and the sleeves. It is fastened in the front with a spray of silk flowers at the end of the ruffle.

3,000 CASUALTIES IN MOROCCAN FIGHTING

By International News Service.

MADRID, Aug. 24.—Casualties in the latest outbreak of fighting on the Moroccan front were estimated today at 3,000—one thousand Spanish and 2,000 rebel tribesmen.

The Spanish victory was believed today to have averted a political crisis.

Spanish aviators report that Abdel Krim, leader of the Riffs, is burning alive captive natives who had given assistance to the Spaniards.

MYSTERY OIL STRIKE MADE IN KANSAS

By International News Service.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Ahg. 24.—Excitement prevails here today as a result of a mystery oil strike on the Alloway farm, four miles southeast of Coffeyville, near the state line. The well, which is 1,400 feet deep, is reported to have made a big flow but guards are keeping the public from the well. The well belongs to H. D. Lamb, of Tulsa, and is the first important oil strike in this vicinity for a long time.

ART CRITIC FOR FAIR SELECTED

Mrs. Ed. Lauderdale Comes Here From Dallas to Deliver Lectures

Mrs. Ed Lauderdale, Dallas, member of the National Art association, of the Dallas Art association and critic for the art collection and exhibitions of Marshall Field company, Chicago, will be in active charge of the art department of the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition to be held here Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive, according to C. H. Verschoyle, secretary of the association.

The art department of the fair will be under the management of Jack McMahon. Mrs. Lauderdale will deliver three lectures daily, one in the morning and two in the afternoon, on pictures of interest at the art museum.

This feature is being introduced for the first time at exhibitions of art collections and will be of unusual interest.

Mrs. Lauderdale is a landscape artist of note, and paints from location. The fair officials believe they are fortunate in securing Mrs. Lauderdale's services. J. W. Bradley, of the North Texas Furniture company is loud in his praise of Mrs. Lauderdale and congratulated officials on their choice for an art critic.

PIN MONEY

Every wife should have a little money that is just for "treasure treats" as the little boys say. And the husband, if he knows anything at all about women, will keep her supplied with it.

No wife wants her husband to think her extravagant, but she longs for certain things that are beyond their means, and if she cannot see a way of ever getting them, she becomes discontented.

But if she has pin money of her very own, she can save up and buy them.

There is no thrill in having the necessities of life. They are like bread and utter, but indulging in a real luxury, every now and then is to a woman, what peach ice cream is to a boy.

None of us really grow up—and we must have some of the "sweets" of life.

$100,000 TAKEN IN BUILDING ROBBERY

By International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—After concealing themselves on the roof of a downtown building until midnight three bandits entered the Bumiller building, bound and gagged Joseph Thomas, night watchman, and then worked leisurely among various offices and escaped with $100,000 worth of loot. The robbery was the boldest committed in Los Angeles in many months.

ZONAGALE In Collaboration With Russell Gore Writes On FACTS.

These summer nights, look up.

Near the Zenith, through early and middle evening, burns the great star Vega. Vega will some day be the pole star for our world. It is the most brilliant star in the northern hemisphere's sky. There are only three stars in all the heavens which are brighter. Vega gives out 90 times as much light as our sun.

Farther down the west and to the south—always on a line with the end of the handle of the great dipper—is Arcturus. Arcturus is mentioned by name in Job—though scholars claim that the name was inserted there afterward. Arcturus is one of the largest bodies in the universe. It travels at the rate of two or 300 miles a second. The diameter of our sun is eight hundred and 66 thousand miles—that of Arcturus is several million miles. It gives a thousand times as much light as the sun.

"It is said that if our sun was as near to Arcturus as we are near to our sun, the great Arcturus would burn our sun to nothingness."

Low in the south these nights hangs Antares—. It is red—which means that it is an old star and that it does not give out as much light as it did in the earlier stages of its existence. Yet it still gives out 900 times as much light as our sun, and it requires more than 162 years for its light to reach us.—

Did it matter so very much that the coffee wasn't right this morning?

In the presence of these facts, what kind of thing matters less—and what kind of thing matters more?

Rip Wheeler Blanks Bears For Spudders, 9-0

BEARS GET ONLY THREE HITS OFF THE RIPPER WHO MARKS UP HIS TWENTIETH VICTORY

Cecil Coombs Stars At Bat With Homer and Three Singles While Starring At Second; Berger Changes Lineup, Sending Barrett To Third; Red Williams Injured.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 24.—Rip Wheeler's good pitching shut out the Bears, 9 to 0, in the last game of the series, and the last appearance of the Spudders here this season today. The win marked Wheeler's 20th for the season.

The last time Wheeler faced the Bears before the game today he was lamblasted so hard that first baseman Cotter took up the pitching burden, the Bears defeating the Spudders 23 to 1. Today Wheeler made the Bears pay for the insult by letting them down with three blows, two singles and a double.

Wheeler was accorded perfect support by his teammates, and consequently was never in danger throughout the nine innings of play.

Manager Berger shifted his lineup because of the absence of his regular third baseman Buddy Tanner, sending Coombs, an outfielder and utility player, to second and Barrett, the regular keystone watchman to third. The change worked wonders for both players fielded their positions in a faultless manner.

Coombs Stars.

Coombs handled eight chances at second without a bobble, while at the bat he starred even brighter. He went to the plate five times, poled out a homer, three singles and walked once.

Morrisson the hefty Bruin righthander was chased from the box by the Spudders in the first inning before he could do away with more than one batter. Adams who followed him to the hillock fared little better, as seven additional runs were made off his offerings.

After Williams had singled in the second inning he strained a muscle in his leg rounding the bag at first and retired in favor of Bob Bescher who went to left field for the remainder of the game. In this same inning the Spudders added another run.

The first hit obtained off Wheeler was a double by Boone in the first inning. The second blow, a single, was secured by Fuller in the sixth inning, but he was retired on a double play engineered by Coombs. The last blow off Wheeler came in the ninth by Todt.

Grigsby Starts Damage.

Denver Grigsby started the rally in the first round with a single, and stole second. He went to third on Fuller's error and scored on Coombs' single to center. Cotter walked and Weiss singled, scoring Coombs. Barrett filled the bases with a free pass to first and sent Morrison to the cool boards. On Berger's fly to right Cotter scored. Bischoff also secured a walk in this session.

Williams started the second inning off with a single, and when he pulled up lame at first Bob Bescher was sent in to run for him. Coombs' singled to left and Bescher scored on Boone's poor return to the infield.

Score Again in 6th.

The Spudders gave their bats a rest till the sixth inning when a lively rally netted three more runs. Wheeler singled over second and went to third on Bescher's single to deep right. Grigsby hoisted a fly to left that scored Wheeler.

At this stage of the game Coombs hit the first ball pitched over the left filed palings scoring Bescher before him. It was his fourth hit of the day.

Bob Barrett lined out a triple to deep center in the seventh but was unable to get around to bag number four.

The final Spudder scores came in the eighth when two hits gave them two more tallies. With two men out Grigsby lined a triple to right. Coombs and Cotter worked Adams for passes filling the bases. Weiss scored Grigsby and Coombs with a single to left field. Barrett ended the inning by lifting a puny foul to first.

20 ROUNDS OF BOXING TONIGHT

Byrd Meets Simmons And Williamson Faces Harry Ryan

Twenty rounds of high class fighting will be seen at the American Legion arena next to the Spudder ball park tonight when Red Byrd of Wichita Falls meets Battling Simmons of Henrietta in a 10 round bout. The other 10 round bout will be between Harry Ryan of Dallas and Battling Williamson of Oklahoma.

Tonight's match will be the second time within two months that Simmons and Byrd have faced each other. The last time, Byrd fell victim to Simmon's well known terrible right hooks, giving to Simmons a technical knockout in four rounds of a 10 round match. Since that time, Simmons has fought three others and has won the decision each time on knockouts, no fighter being able to stay with him more than five rounds.

Right now, Red Byrd is in better condition for a scrap than he has been at any time since he retired from the army. He has trained faithfully for three weeks for just this one fight. Fight fans who follow the game closely, and who have seen Byrd workout, declare Byrd to be in tip top shape, and many frankly state that Byrd will go the full 10 rounds with the pride of Clay county. Some go further to say that Byrd will win out easily.

Little is known of Battling Williamson except that he comes to Wichita with the reputation of being a brilliant scrapper. He has made several attempts to get on the Legion program, but not until Harry Ryan came to town, could he find an opponent. When he signed to box Ryan, he secured for himself a man's size task. Ryan placed himself high in the puglistic circles around Wichita Falls last week by defeating "Country Boy" Lance of Gainesville in 10 rounds.

Ryan is a youngster of but 19 years of age, but in the ring he handles himself like a tried veteran. He is almost unhittable, and if his opponent is not an alert floorman, he will find himself in a tight situation. Other attractions will be a six round go between Jew Levine of Wichita Falls and Kid Bruce of Burkburnett. Levine has been on the Legion program once before, and proved that he can stand the gaff well.

Kid Harper of Breckenridge, a negro light heavyweight, will meet the "Rattle Snake Kid" of Wichita Falls in a curtain raiser. Both fighters have made a reputation. Rattle Snake Kid issued a challenge to meet any black in the southwest under 165 pounds three weeks ago. The Legion had some difficulty in finding an opponent for him, but finally landed Kid Harper.

STEERS COP FINAL FROM BUFFS, 3-2

HOUSTON, Aug. 24.—The Steers took the deciding game of the series here today 3 to 2. Vache's single in the ninth scored Hamilton with the winning run. Morris, who relieved Davenport in the third inning blanked the Buffs the rest of the route. Score:

Tiger Manager?

"Wild Bill" Donovan.

Along with the generally accepted rumors that Ty Cobb will not manage the Detroit Tigers next year comes the report that "Wild Bill" Donovan, one-time pitcher with the team, may return to the club as pilot. Bill toook a crack at the managerial game with the Yankees a few years back.

Take It Or Leave It

By BILLIE SMITH

Spudders and Exporters in the first of a three game series at Beaumont today.

Dallas Locker will probably join the team in Beaumont today. Locker has been at home since the team took the road trying to get a bum hip in shape, which he injured in the Dallas series here last week. Locker will probably relieve Coombs at second while Buddy Tanner is out of the game.

Hal Carlson is due to twirl today's game against the Exporters. Hal is also due to make it number 20 for the season. He has 19 to his credit now, and had he been given credit for the part game he pitched and saved against the Steers he would have had 20.

Rip Wheeler made it number 20 by shutting the Bears out yesterday and is now leading the Spudder hurling staff in the matter of games won. Rip made up for the terrific beating the Bears gave him on his last appearance in San Antonio before yesterday.

Cecil Coombs had a perfect day at the bat yesterday. The Spudder veteran secured a walk, a homer and three singles in five trips to the plate. He also handled eight chances at second without making a bobble.

Manager Berger shifted his infield a bit in yesterday's game. With the absence of Buddy Tanner from the line-up Bob Barret was sent to third and Cecil Coombs to second. The combination netted good results, and if Tanner does not get into the game today the new line-up will probably remain as it is for a while. Third base is no new position for Barrett, as he is essentially a third baseman. He played three while with Little Rock last summer and was used at third by the Chicago Cubs this spring.

Art Weiss, Denver Grigsby and Rip Wheeler were other Spudder athletes to secure more than one blow. One of Grigsby's went for two bases.

Karl Eberhard let the Gassers down with one hit yesterday, the Exporters winning, 3 to 0. The former Spudder pitcher went to the sixth inning without being touched for a safe blow. Joe Burns getting a single in the sixth. Manager Thomas shifted his line-up so that Johnnie Wight got a chance to pitch. Wight did a good job of it, too.

Some one who admits he is "a real Spudder fan" writes us to know why we do not give our good friend Earl Kunz a little more encouragement. In fact the writer has the following to say: "We take the liberty to write you asking you if you think you have given our new picture sent from the "Pirates" to us to finish the season a fair chance in your news column." As well as we can remember this column has not handed any adverse criticism to our new "picture" from the Pirates. If our friend, the writer, remembers, this column gave several lines in praise of Kunz's good work after he had pitched part of the game against the Gassers the day he arrived here. And if we are not mistaken the manager of the team and the players are the ones to give "our new picture a chance."

Tonight fans will have a chance to witness four lightweight fighters of real ability in action at the American legion stadium near the Spudder ball park. Red Byrd will go 10 rounds with Battling Simmons, while Harry Ryan, the clever little fighter from Dallas, is carded to go the same number of rounds with Battling Williamson.

The Chicago Cubs have purchased another shortstop and from reports have paid a fancy price for him. This time the infielder is Shortstop Turgeon, the flashing youngster playing his first year with the Exporters. The Cubs are supposed to have given money and players for Turgeon, who reports to them next spring. Although not batting very high—284, Turgeon does everything well. He is a brilliant infielder and runs bases well, having stolen 18 bases for the season.

The last time Turgeon appeared in Wichita Falls he looked like a "million dollars." One day he secured five hits in six times at bat and in all the games he starred in fielding.

City Net Title Decided Today In Women's Singles

Marjorie Bright and Jewell Williams, high school tennis stars, will face each other today to determine the women's singles championship of Wichita Falls. The title contest will be played at the Municipal Club courts.

Marjorie Bright won the right to meet Jewell Williams in the finals by defeating Mrs. Fisk in a semi-final match yesterday in three sets, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Miss Bright and Miss Williams are well known in tennis circles, both having made the trip to Austin last spring to play in the state high school tennis tournament. Today they are facing each other to decide the singles championship of the city.

CATS CLEAN CRAB SERIES, 9-6

GALVESTON, Aug. 24.— Fort Worth closed their season at Galveston today, by defeating the Sand Crabs 9 to 6 to sweep the series. It was the third successive day that the Atzmen had scored nine runs off Crab pitchers. Wachtel and Graham, after being routed the day before, attempted comebacks and were touched up considerably, the Cats hitting Graham better in the pinches. Kraft hit his 26th homer of the season in the seventh with Calvo on base. Score:

WISCONSIN MAN WINS CLAY TARGET PRELIM

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—De Forest C. Hayward, Weyauwega, Wis., sharpshooter, won the preliminary handicap event on the first day of shooting in the Grand American tournament here today by puffing 99 out of 100 clay targets to lead 450 star marksmen.

This was the tuning up event, preliminary to the Grand American handicap itself, scheduled for tomorrow, and it was shot off at a distance handicap of from 16 to 23 yards plus a windage disadvantage which made perfect shooting scarce. The winner led the rest of the field by four targets.

CREDIT BANKS HELP FARMERS

Three Million Dollars Now Loaned Under Lenroot Bill

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Farmers throughout the United States are already deriving benefits from the intermediate credit banks, created under the bill drawn by Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin and passed just before the 67th congress adjourned.

More than three million dollars has been loaned to date either as direct loans or through rediscounts ,according to information received from Federal Farm Loan Commissioner M. L. Corey by the American Farm Bureau federation. The farm bureau was one of the ardent supporters of the Lenroot bill which was passed by the last congress providing that intermediate credit banks be established in the same twelve cities as the present farm loan banks and land for periods running from six months to three years on warehouse receipts representing agricultural commodities or discount agricultural paper from regular banking institutions.

How It Has Worked.

In the Wichita, Kans., region the intermediate credit bank has advanced nearly a million and one-half dollars on wheat, the great bulk of which was direct to farmers' cooperative associations. The intermediate credit bank at Columbia, S. C., has advanced about a million dollars of direct loans on cotton warehouse receipts offered by cotton cooperative marketing associations. The Berkley, Calif., district has advanced more than one-half million dollars on warehouse receipts on canned fruit. The Springfield, Mass., bank has a round one hundred thousand dollars out to the farmers, loaned mostly through a large farmers' finance association. The St. Paul district is now accredited with $34,000 of discounts and many Wisconsin and Minnesota applications for loans will soon be acted upon. The Spokane region has a total loan of $235,000, about one-third of which is direct and two-thirds rediscount. The Omaha, Neb., district so far has rediscounted paper on $48,000 on livestock. The $200,000 in loans in the Houston, Texas, district represent largely chattel mortgages on cattle and warehouse receipts for wool offered by the farm bureau and other cooperative selling organizations.

"The passage of the intermediate credits acts has already been a strong factor in the liberalization of credit," says Corey. "The more than three million dollars which we have advanced to the regional intermediate credit banks to date represent only a fraction of the loans which really should be credited to the intermediate credits act. In the Pacific northwest for instance, we had agreed to advance five million dollars or more to assist in the orderly marketing of wheat, but when the local banks heard of it they decided they would make the advance and then, of course, the intermediate credit bank was then notified by cooperative wheat marketing agency that it would do business with the local banks as long as it could get credit easily and to the desired amount.

Expect Big Increase.

"We expect a very great increase in the amount of business we will do in the next two months. We are now just beginning to receive demands by telegraph that we advance money for the marketing of the wheat crop. I do not anticipate, however, that we will do more than $40,000,000 business the first year. We are finding that the banking institutions in most places have adequate capital and it is largely when they do not have sufficient capital that the intermediate banks will be of greatest assistance.

"This new form of banking," continued Corey, "will be constructive in at least two particulars and I expect that agriculture will be greatly benefitted by it. In the first place, it will give the cooperative marketing organizations an abundant supply of credit and thus place them in a more desirable position than they have been heretofore. In fact, I believe it will prove a marked impetus to cooperative marketing movement. In the second place, the cattle business will be greatly benefitted. Everyone connected with banking or livestock business in the west knows of the high percentage of failures in the cattle loan business. The packers have been forced practically to withdraw their support. In the range countries we find the bankers frequently lack capital. There are now being organized agricultural credit corporations which were authorized under the intermediate credit act as finally passed by congress. These are permitted to loan up to ten times their capitalization, that is they can rediscount with the intermediate credit banks up to that amount. The country bankers are finding it advantageous and also convenient to organize these credit corporations and thus bring into the cattle country for each $10,000 invested in the stock of the company fresh capital to the amount of $90,000."

When asked regarding the board's attitude toward lending to cooperative organizations for less than six months periods, Corey replied that the law specifically states that the intermediate credit act is to apply on loans running from six months to three years. Therefore the short time loans will be taken care of as heretofore by the local banks.

Banks Buy Bonds.

The ex-chairman of the farm loan board, Judge Charles E. Lobdell, who is now the fiscal agent of the board, announces that he has floated the first lot of bonds or debentures to be offered to the public under the intermediate credit act. This is for $10,000,000. It was taken at par by about 25 of the largest and strongest banking institutions in the United States. The bonds will bear 4 1-2 per cent interest. This means that the local banker obtaining money by rediscounting agriculture paper with any one of the twelve intermediate credit banks cannot charge his customer more than one and one-half per cent in excess of the interest rates on his bonds or a total of six per cent.

Couple Married at Burk

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, August 24.—Miss Ruth Richey and Raymond Devonshire were united in marriage at the Baptist church parsonage Wednesday evening, Rev. B. R. Robinson officiating. The couple were attended by a few close friends. After a honeymoon of several weeks, touring Oklahoma, Missouri, and Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Devonshire will be at home to their friends in Wichita Falls.

ORDER DENYING MAIL WANTED SET ASIDE

By The Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 24.—A petition in equity seeking to have set aside a fraud order said to have been issued by J. H. Doley, acting solicitor of the postoffice department, was filed in United States district court here today on behalf of the Arkansas Trust company, Arkansas Brokerage company, National Brokerage company and other oil concerns with headquarters at Eldorado. The petition asks a restraining order to prevent the Eldorado postmaster from withholding mail addressed to the concerns and asserts that much of the correspondence now being held up or returned to the senders is from persons who have purchased oil stock or leases and are paying for them on a partial payment plan.

GRAHAM HOLDS SPORT JUBILEE

American Legion Too Strong for De Molays; $125 for High School Fund

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Aug. 24.—Adding about $125 to the high school athletic fund, an athletic jubilee was held at the ball park this afternoon. The chief event was a ball game between the De Molays and the American Legion, which was turned into a farce when the American Legion proved themselves too strong in the first inning. From then on both teams used several pitchers in an attempt to make the game more even, the American Legion finally winning out in eight innings. Wilson of the Legion knocked a freak home run that bounced over the right field wall.

Preceding the game, there were several foot and horse races. The De Molay band played during the afternoon. The stores of the town closed at five o'clock for the game.

Former Labor Official May Be State Candidate

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—Tom Bell, former deputy state labor commissioner, may be a candidate for state controller next year, according to reports at the capitol. Bell is now in the editorial department of a Texarkana newspaper. He has been an active member of the Typographical union for years, and is widely known in labor union circles.

Lon Smith To Be Out For Mayfield's Old Job

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—Lon A. Smith, present controller will be a candidate next year for election to the state railroad commission, his friends have stated. He will seek the office to which Commissioner W. A. Nabors was recently appointed by Governor Neff, the same office which Earle B. Mayfield resigned after the election to the United States senate.

CHILDRESS MAY IRRIGATE LAND

Proposed Red River Project Would be Even Bigger Than Wichita District

Special to The Record News.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 24.—The damming of the Red river above Childress, as is proposed by C. S. Clark of the Board of Water Engineers, will produce the largest amount of water for the largest irrigated district existing or yet proposed in Texas, according to tentative surveys made here and furnished to the Texas Conservation association through Homer D. Wade, secretary at Fort Worth.

Engineer C. S. Clark with a delegation of Childress business men and farmers have just completed a trip over the proposed project and they selected a dam site in the vicinity of the Ox Bow bridge on what is known as the Little Red river. Elevations taken show that the river bed is high enough to place water by gravity on the hills near the town of Estelline and on through Childress county. The river at the proposed damsite is a mile wide and the bluffs about 75 feet high. By going a short distance above the bluffs, a damsite 100 feet high might be constructed, holding approximately 80 feet of water. Of this, it is estimated that about 50 feet would be available for their irrigation ditches, or sufficient water to irrigate about 130,000 acres of land located mostly in Hardeman, Hall and Childress counties. The lake so built would be considerably larger than even Lake Kemp in the Wichita Falls irrigation project, now nearing completion.

Since the visit of engineers here and the inspection following, plans are being considered to promote the project after the complete surveys have been made. Bonds must be voted for construction under the Texas law as no federal land is available for new settlers under the homestead act.

COOLIDGE BOOZE STAND IN DOUBT

For Enforcement But Wet Leaders Think He's for Modification

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Wet and dry leaders are at sea as to how President Coolidge stands on prohibition. One thing is known and that is the president will insist upon the enforcement of the Volstead law as it stands as long as it is on the statute books.

Wet leaders, however, believe that the president may come to their assistance in ringing about a modification of the law.

President Coolidge like his two immediate predecessors, Woodrow Wilson and Warren G. Harding, was opposed to Federal prohibition before its enactments. With prohibition written into the constitution, however, wets are sure he will stand for its enactment as his predecessors did. But while the eighteenth amendment is part of the organic structure, the Volstead law is simply an enforcement measure and there is nothing sacred about it if congress wishes to change its terms.

Dyer Holds Conference.

Following the visit to the White House of Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, a few days ago Dyer is now preparing a brief proposing Volstead modification which he will present to the president.

The very fact that Dyer left the White House and immediately began preparing the brief is taken by some as evidence that the president told Dyer he would give consideration to a modification proposal.

Dyer told Coolidge his brief will cover his views in favor of abolishing the low percentage limitation on the alcoholic content of beer, and will introduce on the opening day of the next session a resolution striking out "one-half of 1 per cent by volume," in the Volstead law and substituting "two and three-fourths per cent by weight." This, according to Mr. Dyer, will give the people beer three and forty-six one-hundredths per cent alcohol by volume.

The president thanked him for his offer to present his arguments, but did not commit himself on proposals to alter the prohibition enforcement statute.

Says Law Not Enforced.

Dyer said he has been from California to New England, stopping in such industrial centers as Akron and his home district in St. Louis, and declared that nowhere is the Volstead law being enforced. Large employers such as Henry Firestone of Akron, who ordinarily supported prohibition, have changed their minds regarding it, he added.

"The bars in the cities are serving the people bad and unhealthy concoctions, he continued. "It is certainly a fact that the inability to enforce the law is undermining respect for all law.

"I think the people want beer. The resolution I intend to introduce will have no bearing on the amendment to the constitution, which sets no specific limit on the alcoholic content of beverages. The figure of 2 3-4 per cent was established by court tests in New York, and beverages of that content are not, in fact, intoxicating."

BRITISH TANKER IN TAMPICO DISTRESS

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, Aug. 24.—The British tanker G. R. Crowe was reported in distress this afternoon, according to radio dispatches received at the naval radio station here from the American tanker Gulf Point. The position of the Crowe as given was about 150 miles east of Tampico. The Gulf Point reported the tanker Gulf Trade in touch with the Crowe.

SWEDEN FACES NEED OF HELPING FARMERS

STOCKHOLM.—A crucial problem in Sweden has arisen from the failure of agriculture to keep pace with the general recovery from post-war depression. In the effort to help the farmers to fairer profits on their labor and investments, the Riksdag and government have studied the question of restricting the imports of grain and efficiency experts, following scientific agricultural research, have suggested ways and means of reducing the cost of production. But all this, so far, has been of little help.

The farmers are at an economic disadvantage because, while the general price index in Sweden has come down to 70 per cent above the pre-war price level, the selling price for grain has been forced down to 10 per cent above the pre-war level.

A conference of experts has been called by the minister of agriculture, and it is rumored that the question of state credit has been taken up with the idea of advancing loans to enable the farmer to hold over his grain for better prices.

SCHOOLS DENIED AUTO TAX FUND

Automobile Registration Tax Not Occupation Levy; Says Opinion

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 24.—The state automobile registration license tax is not an occupation tax, and consequently no part of it is required to go into the Texas available school fund, the attorney general department held in an opinion to State Treasurer C. V. Terrell Thursday.

The question had been raised by Former Governor O. B. Colquitt, and Treasurer Terrell requested the ruling several days ago.

Had the license tax been construed as an occupation tax, the constitution would have required one fourth of money collected under it, or about $2,600,000 a year, to go into the state available school fund.

American Marines in Haiti Make Courageous Rescue

By The Associated Press.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, August 22.—The initiative and courage of two privates of the Marine corps saved the lives recently of 14 Hawaiian prisoners who were trapped in a blazing prison in the village of Croix des Bouquets. Official commendation of the two men in question, Melvin J. B. Griggs of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Russell M. Anderson of Ellisville, Mississippi, was forwarded to the navy department by Brig. Gen. John H. Russell, the American High Commissioner to Haiti, and by their brigade commander, Col. Theodore P. Kane.

The prison at Croix des Bouquets is constructed of heavy cement walls covered with a thatched roof. A spark from the prison kitchen ignited the roof, and the guards were successful in liberating the women prisoners. In the endeavor to release the fourteen men confined in separate quarters the key became jammed in the lock, and efforts to break the lock with a stone by the native guards were unavailing.

Griggs and Anderson, riding in the vicinity, were attracted by the blaze and rushed to the spot. While Haitians dashed water against the blazing prison, the Americans broke through the wall of fire that blocked the prison door, and smashed the lock with an iron bar. They then entered the prison and dragged the half-suffocated prisoners to safety. Both men were slightly burned while risking their lives.

SIX BANDITS ROB TAXI DRIVER OF $11

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24.—Six bandits—three girls and three men—held up J. J. Marx, a lone taxi driver early today on the West End boulevard and after relieving him of $11, fired a shot at their victim by way of adieu and escaped. The shot went wild.

TEXAS OIL PROMOTER ARRESTED IN DENVER

By The Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 24.—H. H. Hoffman, who was the head of several oil companies in Houston several years ago, was taken into custody by federal officers at Denver today on a warrant sent from Houston charging him with unlawful use of the mails in connection with the sale of stock of the Ranger-Comanche Oil company.

A telegram received in Houston telling of the arrest of Hoffman stated that he had waived an examining trial, but did not say whether he had furnished bond.

Nix and that on the first Tuesday in September, 1923, the same being the 4th day of said month, at the courthouse door, of Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said B. F. Nix.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in Wichita county.

Witness my hand, this 1st day of August, 1923.

W. W. MURPHY,
Sheriff Wichita county, Texas.

CITATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
County of Wichita.

To W. C. Satterfield, his executor and administrator, his heirs, and all unknown heirs of the above named defendant, and all unknown, and claimants and all lien holders in and to said property, all persons owning or having or claiming any interest in the land or lots herinafter described, the same being delinquent to the State of Texas and County of Wichita for taxes and the same lying and being situated in the County of Wichita, and State of Texas, to-wit:

Lot No. 11 in Block No. 171 in the original townsite of the City of Electra, Wichita County, Texas, which said property is delinquent to the State of Texas and County of Wichita for taxes for the years 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921, aggregating the sum of $26.78, including interest, penalties and costs, said taxes having been legally levied, assessed and rendered against said land and lots, and the same being a lawful charge and constituting a prior lien against the same in favor of the State of Texas and County of Wichita, to secure the payment thereof.

And you are hereby commanded to be and appear before the Honorable Seventy-eighth District Court of Wichita County, Texas, at the next regular term thereof, to be held at the Courthouse of said County, in the city of Wichita Falls, one of the 1st Monday in September, A. D., 1923, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D., 1923, then and there to show cause why judgment should not be rendered against you and the said land and lots said under foreclosure of said lien to satisfy said taxes, interest, penalties and costs, and all court costs; all of which, together with other and further relief, general and special, being fully set out and prayed for in the plaintiff's original petition filed in said court on the 15th day of May, 1923, and appearing on the docket thereof as suit No. 11079-B, wherein the State of Texas is plaintiff, and W. C. Satterfield, and his executor and administrator, his heirs, and all unknown heirs of the above named defendants, and all unknown owners, and claimants and all lien holders in and to said property, all persons owning or claiming any interest in said land or lots, defendants.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in the City of Wichita Falls, in the County of Wichita, this 8th day of August A. D., 1923.

A. F. KERR,
Clerk District Court, Wichita County, Texas.
By Effie Holland, Deputy.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

By virtue of an order of sale issued by order of a judgment decree of the Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, Texas, by the clerk of said court, on the 8th day of August, A. D., 1923, in a certain suit No. 11075-B wherein the state of Texas is plaintiff, and C. D. Kiser, and his executor, administrator, unknown heirs, unknown owners, claimants and lien holders, defendants, in favor of the said plaintiff, for the sum of forty-four and 31-100 dollars for state and county taxes, interest, penalty and costs, with interest on said sum at the rate of six per cent per annum from date fixed by said judgment, together with all costs of suit, that being the amount of said judgment rendered in favor of said plaintiff by the said Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, on the 9th day of May, A. D. 1923, and to me directed and delivered as sheriff of said Wichita county, I have seized, levied upon and will, on the first Tuesday in September, A. D., 1923, the same being the 4th day of said month, at the courthouse door of said Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. on said day, proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder all the right, title and interest of said defendants in and to the following described real estate, levied upon as the property of said defendants, the same lying and being situated in the county of Wichita and state of Texas, to-wit: Lot No. 16 in block No. 171 in the original townsite of the city of Electra, Wichita county, Texas, a sufficient portion thereof to satisfy said judgment, interest, penalties and costs; subject, however, to the rights of the plaintiff for any other or further taxes on or against said property that may not be included herein, and the right of redemption the defendant or any person having an interest therein, to redeem the said property, or their interest therein, at any time within two years from the date of sale by paying double the amount paid for said property, and subject to any other and further rights the defendant or anyone interested therein may be entitled to, under the provisions of law. Said sale to be made by me to satisfy the above described judgment, together with interest, penalties and costs of suit, and the proceeds of said sale to be applied to the satisfaction thereof, and the remainder, if any, to be applied as the law directs.

W. W. MURPHY,
Sheriff Wichita county, Texas.

W. W. MURPHY,
Sheriff Wichita county, Texas

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the sheriff or any constable of Wichita county; greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon W. A. Mouer by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in September, A. D., 1923, the same being the 3rd day of September, A. D., 1923. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 14693-B wherein L. O. Hatch, J. H. Brookman and H. A. Erwin, a firm doing business under the name of H. B. & H. E. Drilling company, are plaintiffs and W. A. Mouer is defendant and said petition alleging, that on the 18th day of August, 1918 for a valuable consideration the defendant made, executed and delivered to plaintiffs a certain contract and assignment of an oil and gas lease covering a strip of land 66 feet in width north and south and 82½ feet east and west in Wichita county, Texas, being the east one-half of the east one-half of the north one-half of 2½-acre tract in block 74 Red River Valley lands, Wichita county, Texas, whereby plaintiff became the owner of an undivided one-half interest in said lease hold estate of land. That defendant is the owner of an undivided 1-4 interest in said lease and lease hold estate on which there is one producing well and that said interest is of the reasonable value of $500.00, that by reason of said contract defendant promised and agreed to pay his pro rata part of all operating costs of said lease. That in order to secure the plaintiffs for any funds expended on such account plaintiff shall have a lien on said property to secure payment of said, and further provides that said lien may be foreclosed in any court with competent jurisdiction and for 10 per cent from maturity of any such indebtedness, and for 10 per cent attorney fee if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. That was due July 11, 1923, from defendant $356.70 and on July 31, 1923, an additional sum of $125.01. That said well is being operated and further expenses will accrue and that plaintiffs will file an additional bill for amounts expended up to time of judgment herein. That a draft drawn on defendant for $356.70 was protested and that defendant is liable for protest fees. That there was due on August 1st, 1923, $481.71 besides protest fees, that they have been compelled to employ an attorney to collect said debt at a reasonable cost of 10 per cent. That the residence of defendant, W. A. Mouser, is unknown wherefore plaintiff prays that defendant be cited in terms of law to appear and answer herein, that they have judgment for their debt accrued and to accrue interest and attorney fees and cost of suit and for foreclosure of said liens and for general and special relief, etc.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 2nd day of August A. D., 1923.

A. F. KERR, Clerk.
District Court Wichita County, Texas.
By Winifred Pickens, Deputy.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Wichita.

By virtue of an order of sale issued by order of a judgment decree of the Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, Texas, by the clerk of said court, on the 7th day of July, A. D., 1923, in a certain suit No. 3056-B, wherein the state of Texas is plaintiff, Sam P. Sproles, A. W. King, trustee, City National bank of Wichita Falls, Frank Keil, T. J. Hamilton, trustee, W. R. B. Machine & Tool company defendants, in favor of the said plaintiff, for the sum of two hundred thirty-seven and 57-100 dollars for state and county taxes, interest, penalty and costs, with interest on said sum at the rate of six per cent per annum for date fixed by said judgment, together with all costs of suit, that being the amount of said judgment rendered in favor of said plaintiff by the said Seventy-eighth district court of Wichita county, on the 9th day of June, A. D., 1923, and to me directed and delivered as sheriff of said Wichita county, I have seized, levied upon, and will, on the first Tuesday in September, A. D., 1923, the same being the 4th day of said month, at the courthouse door of said Wichita county, in the city of Wichita Falls between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. on said day, proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder all the right, title and interest of said defendants in and to the following described real estate, levied upon as the property of said defendants, the same lying and being situated in the county of Wichita and state of Texas, to-wit: Described and designated on the map or plat of H. M. Trueheart's sub-division of lots or block No. 2 in Bellevue addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, as lots 5, 6, 7, and 8 in block No. 1 Trueheart No. 2 addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, also lot No. 6 in block No. 1 Skinner addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, a sufficient portion thereof to satisfy said judgment, interest, penalties and costs; subject, however, to the rights of the plaintiff for any other or further taxes on or against said property that may not be included herein, and the right of redemption, the defendant or any person having an interest therein, to redeem the said property, or their interest therein, at any time within two years from the date of sale by paying double the amount paid for said property, and subject to any other and further rights the defendant or anyone interested therein, may be entitled to, under the provisions of law. Said sale to be made by me to satisfy the above described judgment, together with interest, penalties and costs of suit, and the proceeds of said sale to be applied to the satisfaction thereof, and the remainder, if any, to be applied as the law directs.

W. W. MURPHY,
Sheriff Wichita county, Texas.

HEAVY SELLING IN OIL ISSUES

Ohio Oil Dividend Cut and Uncertainty Causes Reactionary Trend

Features

Total stocks sales 492,000 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 91.92, net loss .12.
High 1923, 105.38; low 86.91.
Twenty railroads averaged 78.92; net gain .07.
High 1923, 90.63; low 76.78.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. — Heavy selling of the oil shares based on the cut in the Ohio Oil dividened and the uncertainty regarding the dividends of other companies, imparted a reactionary trend in today's stock market after an early period of moderate strength. Trading was largely a professional affair, the threatened suspension of work by the anthracite miners on Sept. 1 and the unfavorable reparations developments having a restraining effect on business, particularly on the part of small investors.

Individual Issues Up.

Bidding up of individual issues was a feature of the early trading. General Motors was heavily bought on reports of an early increase in the dividend and this automatically imparted marked strength to DuPont, the largest individual holder of General Motors.

Erie issues were again bid up on buying reported to be for the account of First National bank interests, the common and first and second preferred touching new highs for the year.

Davison chemical, which did not appear in the trading at all yesterday, was quite active, moving up 3 5-8. Mack Truck also exhibited considerable strength and the sugar shares were bid up rather freely. With the exception, however, of Erie common and Davison chemical, most of the early leaders closed fractionally below their top prices of the day.

Oil Selling Touches Few

Selling of oil shares was limited to a few stocks. Producers and Refiners, whose directors met in Chicago after the close of the market to take dividend action touched a new low and Cosden preferred, after six weeks of inactivity, slumped 10½ points on a small turnover. Marland closed 1 5-8 lower.

Call money held steady throughout the day at five per cent. Time money also was firm at 4½ per cent with no bids at the close.

Foreign exchange markets held relatively firm. Demand sterling moved up fractionally to $4.55 3-8 and French francs improved four points to 5.63 cents. German marks declined slightly to 21½ cents a million.

Fort Worth Livestock

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 24.—Actual receipts of cattle and calves today were the smallest of the week to date.

Around 2,500 head and 1,500 calves made up the crop. Buyers had good orders, and were out a very seasonable hour. Steers remained about steady, cows gained 10 cents, and other classes of cattle were unchanged.

With the exception of a few cars, the best of which were scheduled to sell around $7, the run of steers offered nothing that was attractive. The general average was the poorest of the week.

Quality of cows was common, but there was a good demand and everything sold freely at prices that were again higher, the advance being restricted to 10 cents, however. The best here in carlots stopped at $3.75. Canners sold freely around $1.85@2.00, and some brought more money. The best of bulls available went at a range of $3.50@3.75, but a spread of $2.50@3.25 caught most of the run.

Strong competition prevailed for good light calves and the supply of that class was insufficient to go around. The best in carlots sold at a range of $7@7.25. Heavy calves were rather slow and the market weakened, in some instances a decline of 25 cents being quoted.

Prices in the stocker and feeder division remained in line with the week's advance. Common and medium stockers were stady, but the call was weak.

Packers bought hogs at rates that were 15 to 20 cents higher than their basis of Thursday. Receipts amounted to only 8,000 head and quality was poor. A few good wagon hogs sold to a packer at $8.65, and another bunch went at $8.60, but the carload top was $8.50. Bulk sales made a spread of $8.40@8.50. Pigs were purchased on an unchanged basis. Most of the run cleared at a range of $5.25 @5.50.

Steady prices prevailed in the sheep house. Receipts were close to 1,000 head, most of the run being of a stocker sort. Packers purchased a few good lambs at $12. Feeder lambs went at $10.

Reason For King George's Smile

There's a reason for the smile which decorates the face of King George of England these days. The reason is that he's the royal granddaddy to this husky youngster, George Henry Hubert, son of Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, and now several months old.

Raw Sugar Firmer.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The raw sugar market was firmer with Cubas advancing 3-32 cent to the basis of 4 1-8 cents cost, and freight, equal to 5.90 for centrifugal. Sales included 10,500 bags of Cubas for August, September shipment and 20,000 bags of Porto Rico for prompt shipment. Final prices raw sugar were at about the best of the day and from six to 5 points net higher. Closing September 4.08; December 4.10; March 3.59.

The market for refined sugar was unchanged at 7.50 for fine granulated but a better inquiry was reported. Refined futures nominal.

400 Per Cent Increase in Cotton Bureau Receipts

Special to The Record News.

DALLAS, Texas, August 24.—Cotton receipts by the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association to be handled on the co-operative marketing basis up to and including last week, shows an increase of 400 per cent over the same period last year, according to an announcement made from the headquarters of the association here today.

"On August 21, last year, the association had received at their Houston warehouse a total of 3,185 bales of Texas cotton. On the same date this year they had received 11,642 bales of Texas cotton," stated J. W. L. Hall, secretary of the association.

Dun's Weekly Review.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 24.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

There is still a conspicious lack of uniformity to reports from commercial centers, but more definite indications of enlarging business are noted in some quarters. With the advance toward autumn, increasing interest in prospective future requirements is being shown in different lines, and there is expectation of a more general revival of activities, after the present seasonal restraints have been received. Where actual gain in buying has developed, as in some divisions of the textile trade, prices are firmer, and the excess of declines in Dun's list of wholesale quotations has narrowed appreciably during recent weeks.

COTTON GOODS TRADE BETTER

Steady Improvement Shown as Crop Deterioration Extends

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 24.—Early advances were not fully maintained in the cotton market today but the tone was generally steady on reports of continued improvement in the cotton goods trade. After selling at 24.40, October eased off to 24.15 and closed at 24.20, with the general market closing quiet but steady. Last prices were 19 to 30 points net higher on all months except September, which was nominally five points lower.

The market opened steady at an advance of 18 to 31 points and sold 33 to 34 points net higher during the early trading. Houses with Liverpool connections were among the buyers on the advance which carried December up to 24.29 and January to 37.97.

Three Private Estimates.

At these figures the market met a renewal of scattered realizing or liquidation, and there was talk of hedge selling, but trading became comparatively quiet on reaction of some 20 to 25 points from the best, and prices held steady in the afternoon Three private crop reports were issued, the condition figures ranging from 56.4 to 57.6, and the indicated yield from 10,800,000 up to 11,288,000 bales, the latter being based on the government's formula for the interpretation of the August 25 report.

Reports from Fall river estimated the sales there for the week at 300,000 to 350,000 pieces, and said that buyers were showing a willingness to pay the advance in prices for forward deliveries. Private cables reported a very quiet market in Liverpool, but said there was improvement in the tone of goods market at Manchester.

Exports today 3,500; making 131,688 so far this season; U. S. port receipts 11,258. Port stocks 197,574.

WHEAT UP ON FROST WARNING

Extensive Buying Boosts Market for Gains Above Cent and Half

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Predictions of frosts in parts of the northwest and reports of lower temperatures in Canada, brought out some extensive buying of wheat today and the market finished at net gains of 1 1-2 to 2 1-4, with December 106 5-8@3-4 and May 111 3-4@7-8; corn was 3-8 cents down to 1 58 cents up, oats 1-4 cent lower to 3-4 higher, and provisions advanced 10 to 20 cents.

Evening up of outstanding contracts made September corn erratic and this delivery fluctuated rapidly within a range of more than a cent. The more deferred futures, however showed strength and responded readily to buying for new investment.

Oats were largely influenced by the action of other grain. Provisions were firm on renewed buying of January lard by houses believed to be acting for foreign interests.

The saving in simplicity

HOWEVER imposing complicated and ponderous mechanisms may appear, they cease to impress when a breakdown occurs and repairs prove expensive and slow. The utmost simplicity in home machinery of any kind is ever the best policy, because it lessens the possibility of interrupted service and shortens the delay when the occasional repair becomes necessary. There is a real saving in simplicity.

Thor is in every way at the peak of washing machine simplicity. A demonstration at our store will convince you

COTTON PICKER DEMAND KEEN

300 Already Shipped Out By Federal Labor Agent At City Hall

Calls for cotton pickers continue to pour in according to Richard Hudson in charge of the federal employment bureau opened at the city hall, despite the fact that about 300 laborers have been sent from Wichita Falls to the cotton fields since last Monday.

Three farmers took 42 white pickers to Hillsboro Friday afternoon. A majority of the negroes of the city have already been sent to the fields, according to Hudson.

Man Here From Shreveport.

As an example of the demand for pickers, one man from an east Texas point came to Hudson's office Friday looking for hands. The farmer said he tried to get pickers at Marshall, Shreveport and Dallas. He said that he heard at Shreveport that he might get pickers at Wichita Falls, so he came straight here from there. He got about 20 hands and took them back with him.

"I understand that there are people at Burkburnett and Electra looking for work and I would like to place them if they want to pick cotton. There is no charge at all for the service," Hudson said Friday.

NEGRO'S SHOTS DEFEND MOTHER

14-Year Boy Shoots Negro Twice and Holds Crowd At Bay

"I'll shoot some mo' of you low down niggers if you all come around here trying to beat up on my mammy," a 14-year-old negro boy said Friday afternoon as he held a crowd of curious negroes at bay with a 22 calibre pistol after shooting a young negro twice, after he was said to have been fighting with his mother.

Police arrived at the scene of the shooting about 3 o'clock and found the negro man with the two bullet wounds in one of his arms and several knife slashes on his body. The wounded negro said the woman attacked him with a knife and he fought her in self defense. The appearance of the 14-year-old son, who is said to have rushed in with a loaded pistol, shot his mother's assailant and then duplicated the procedure, ending the affray.

Juvenile Officer Bradley when told the negro boy would be turned over to him, said if the facts in the case were as represented, no charges would be filed. "A boy, white or black, who wouldn't defend his mother with anything he could get his hands on, while she was being attacked, would be pretty low down. If that negro boy shot that negro man for jumping on his mother, I am not going to file any kind of charges against him," the juvenile officer said.

Black "Steady" Wants To Serve Beloved's Term

Female ferocity aided by a pistol was too much for a negro brought from a negro resort to the police station last night with his left "listener" at half mast and tehh dieno -o B., at half mast and the hide on his skull checkered with abrasions.

"Chief that woman sho gave this nigger a pistol massage," the negro man said as he told Desk Sergeant Thomason of a fight with an enraged negress.

The woman was placed in jail. Later in the night a negro came in and said he wanted to talk to the desk sergeant privately.

"Boss, that woman is my sweetie and I wants to take her place in jail from midnight until morning," the negro requested.

"That proxy stuff can't work. We'll lock you up in a cell near her if that will do you any good but I'm sure not going to turn that wild woman out tonight," Thomason told the lover.

The negro went away sorrowfully.

'POSSUM GIVES WOMAN SCARE!

Discovered In Desk At Court House

When a bootlegger was caught at the courthouse recently it was thought that the prize unexpected animal had been captured and a freak record established.

That record was shattered Friday. An opossum was seen by Mrs. Neusom, reporter for the county court at law but was captured by Wayne Somerville of the county attorney's department.

When Mrs. Neusom went to her desk in the Thirtieth district court room Friday afternoon, opened a drawer, reached for her notebook, her hand came in contact with the back of a strange animal instead of the back of a notebook.

Mrs. Neusom did not wait for an introduction to the visitor but fled down the stairs.

Assistant County Attorney Kuntz is said to have gone opossum hunting a few nights ago and court house officials believed this one followed him in but got in the wrong office by mistake.

Grafton Writes From California And Tells How He "Rubber Necked"

Dr. and Mrs. Nat Grafton with Mrs. Grafton's sister, Miss Lena Andrews have been vacationing since August 1, when they left for San Francisco. Dr. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, writes an interesting account of his trip in the following letter, written to the Record News from Long Beach, California.

"We arrived in San Francisco Aug. 3, and found real winter weather—had to wear heavy clothes and wraps all the time. While there we did the city in "rubber neck" wagons, and believe me, we saw it. We went to Palo Alto the second week and visited some of my California relatives. While there we saw the great Leland Stanford university, listened to an organ recital in the famous University church, went to the big basin and saw the famous red wood trees. We were inside a tree that measured 28 feet in diameter.

The trip across the mountains was both interesting and thrilling. We had lunch on the very top of the mountain under a big redwood tree and as we looked across the mountains and into the deep valleys the view was very inspiring.

The trip from San Francisco to Los Angeles was made on the Daylight Limited, a Southern Pacific train that runs along the coast and the trip proved very interesting.

We are at Long Beach for the remainder of our vacation—have a beautiful apartment on Ocean avenue. Have met a number of Wichita Falls people and are to have the Annual Wichita Falls picnic today where we expect to meet all of them.

We will leave Los Angeles for home Sept. 3, arriving Thursday night. All are well and join me in best regards to folks there.

Cordially,
N. F. GRAFTON.

NEFF LIKELY TO OPEN FAIR

So Says C. H. Verschoyle; Youngsters to Run City Offices

Governor Pat M. Neff will probably open the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Exposition Oct. 1, according to C. H. Verschoyle, it is planned to open the fair at noon with an address by the chief executive of the state. Arrangements have been practically completed and if the date does not conflict with the governor's official duties he is almost sure to accept the invitation to be extended, says Verschoyle.

Children's Day Opener.

The first day of the fair will also be children's day. It is planned to let the youngsters run every department of the city with the advice of the respective officials. The Boy Scouts will probably do police duty. Other boys will be assigned to the county and city posts. According to plans being arranged several boys will sit on the bench with judges, and attorneys will have boy assistants for the day.

Boys are to be assigned to a task where they have responsibility and, according to those in charge, it will give the younger generation a touch of the responsibility it goes with any public office.

Mayor Frank Collier is to follow the governor and give an address of welcome to the chief executive. In turn some little alert freckled-faced youngster will also deliver an address of welcome to the governor in behalf of the children of west Texas.

Will Review Kid Parade.

The governor, city and county officials will review the doll and velocipede parade from a suitable stand. In the stand will also be the boys who are assigned as substitutes for city and county officials.

Poker Preceded Alleged Robbery Testimony Says

A preliminary hearing for N. T. Miles charged with robbery with firearms was held in justice court at Electra Friday and the defendant was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1,000 which he made.

The complaining witness against Miles was John B. Cooper who testified that while he was sitting in the door of his home at Newtown on the night Aug. 22, someone robbed him of about $50 at the point of a gun. The testimony brought out that Cooper suspected Miles and officers went to the latter's house on a search and found no money nor a gun.

Details of a poker game held just before the robbery and that Cooper was a heavy winner were brought out in the hearing.

LAW BURNS WOMAN'S FINGERS!

Auto Theft Charge Follows Revelry

She just insisted that the mere fact that her car had been confiscated when she with two women and three men were arrested at a home in the exclusive residential section Thursday night by sheriff's officers, did not mean that the car did not still belong to her.

Therefore one of the trio of reckless revelers after making a $750 bond on a whiskey charge and paying a fine for vagrancy Friday morning, is now in jail again charged with automobile theft.

"I tell you, this car has been confiscated and you have no more right to it until after your trial," a member of the sheriff's department told the woman, who had spent the night in jail.

"I tell you that car is still mine and I don't care what your old law is, I am going to take it home with me," the woman, still wearing an evening gown which she had on when arrested, replied.

"If you do, you will have a theft charge against you on top of the other two charges," the officer said as he ended the argument.

The woman still held to her belief and in about 30 minutes the car and the woman were gone.

In about two hours the woman was again in jail and the car in the hands of the sheriff's department.

An aftermath to the booze celebration broken up late Thursday night three men and a woman were charged with the possession of whiskey and two men and two women with vagrancy before Justice R. V. Gwinn Friday morning.

Those on whiskey charges were held for the grand jury on bonds of $750 each and the vagrants were fined $12.80 each.

BOBBED HAIR COURT NEMESIS

Guinn Says Law Violators Nearly All Have Curls Curtailed

"Very seldom does a woman law violator apear in my court that hasn't bobbed hair," Justice R. V. Gwinn observed Friday.

"In fact, when a woman is arraigned before me and her hair is still the old regulation way that nature intended for it to be, I give such a woman the benefit of the doubt, wherever possible," the judge continued.

When asked to explain why bobbed hair women seemed to be worse law violators than those few who prefer to coiffure their curls without clipper curtailment, the judge was puzzled for a moment.

"Don't know unless a woman is reckless in the first place when she has her hair bobbed and then keeps on being reckless," the judge said.
