New York Governor Declares Campaign Is More Than Political And Is Cooperative Effort At Leadership

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Democratic party, Governor Roosevelt declared tonight in making a nationwide appeal for campaign contributions "is not for sale."

"The Democratic party fortunately has no favorite group upon which it can call for large sums under the promise of privilege or immunity, express or implied," said an advance text of the governor's radio address given out at Democratic national headquarters.

Have No Grundys

"He have no Grundys to collect donations which are to be returned manyfold through tariff increases," he continued, as he asked for small contributions from "the plain citizen—the average citizen."

The governor spoke from Albany. On the same program were Evans Woolen, Indiana banker and chairman of the campaign finance committee; speaking from Indianapolis; Former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, chairman of the executive campaign finance committee, speaking from New York.

"We figure that there will be 20,000,000 votes cast to make Governor Roosevelt president of the United States," said Farley.

Four years ago "Al" Smith set a Democratic record by polling a few thousand more than 15,000,000 votes, while Herbert Hoovtr received 21,-392,100.

"In the west they (the Republican leaders) are picturing Franklin D. Roosevelt as a Tammany ally and a creature of Wall street," said Woolen.

"In the east they are presenting him as a dangerous radical whose advent in the White House would

Ferguson Lays Claim To Big Vote Majority

Sarcastic Criticism Brought To Bear Against Sterling's Highway Plans; Says Ma To Get 550,000 Votes

BY HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

DENTON, Aug. 25. — James E. Ferguson redoubled his attacks on the administration of Gov. R. S. Sterling, especially the highway department, tonight in this educational center of North Texas.

Reinforced by the presence of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson who came here from Austin by way of Dallas, Ferguson brought all his powers of sarcastic criticism to bear on what he termed was the latest attempt of Gov. Sterling and the highway department to deceive the voters of Texas.

Predicts Majority

At the same time he reiterated confidence that Mrs. Ferguson would be nominated in the Democratic run-off primary Saturday by an overwhelming majority, asserting that his wife would receive 550,000 out of a possible 950,000 votes to be cast.

He declared the letting of $10,000,000 in highway contracts was merely "another attempt to deceive the people in the closing days of the campaign." He said the highway department would be unable to pay for or complete the contracts in two years.

Highway Fund Loaded

"The highway fund already is loaded with $40,000,000 worth of unfinished and unpaid contracts which they can't complete in 12 months. Now they are trying to deceive the people further with talk of millions of new contracts which they can't pay for or complete in two years.

"There can be no reformation or change in highway conditions until the people rise in their might and majesty and elect a new highway commission. My wife's election will call for prompt removal of the

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 25.—R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman, announced today that he had sent a telegram to John Nance Garner at Uvalde, asking the Democratic vice-presidential nominee to issue a public statement urging his friends to support Governor R. S. Sterling in the run-off Saturday.

The Creager telegram:

"This message is sent in no partisan spirit, but as from one native Texan to another," Creager said he messaged Garner. "Our state is in grave danger of a return of Fergusonism to power. If any citizen of Texas is in a position to avert this disaster, it is you. With your wide popularity a word from you now might easily make history.

"Permit me to suggest and urge an immediate public statement by you counselling your friends in Texas to support Governor Sterling at the run-off primary Saturday to the end that our beloved state be saved from the unthinkable misfortune of a return of the Fergusons to control."

Number Of Speakers Appear At Local Rally Thursday Night As Final Attack Is Launched Against Sterling

Supporters of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's candidacy for governor closed their campaign on the South Plains with a rally Thursday night in an open air tabernacle just east of the city hall in which a number of speakers from nearby counties and Jim Hair, a San Antonio attorney, repeated attacks on the present administration. Between 2,000 and 2,500 persons were present when the affair began but the crowd had decreased by several hundred before the last speaker had finished more than two and a half hours later.

Shouts of "Hurrah for Ma" and "Hurrah for Jim" interrupted speakers at the outset of the meeting but enthusiasm showed signs of waning under the prolonged meeting.

Hair Is Substitute

Hair substituted on the program for C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls who had been announced as the speaker. Hill Stewart, local attorney presided. Short talks for Mrs. Ferguson were made prior to Hair's speech by Geo. W. Neal of Brownfield, Vernon Alexander of Dawson county, G. C. Grider of Tahoka, W. W. Campbell, Dan Powers and J. A. Humphries of Lubbock, Homer Winston of Brownfield, candidate for representative of the 119th district, was at the rally and made a short talk. J. H. Goodman spoke for Col. E. O. Leading Crops Steal Thunder In Price Rise

Wheat And Cotton Advances On Thursday Send Both Staples To New Highs; Appreciation Near $400,000,000

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The two principal cash crops—wheat and cotton—took the lead away from securities in the bull movement in the financial markets today.

Wheat in the Chicago pit shot up as much as 2 3-4 cents a bushel, its sharpest advance in weeks, and in the New York cotton exchange, that staple pushed up as much as $1.50 a bale, on top of gains of $2.50 a bale yesterday.

Both staples slipped back somewhat from their best levels of the day, but wheat futures finished with net advances of 1 3-4 to 1 7-8 cents a bushel, and cotton with gains of 55 to 70 cents a bale over yesterday's final prices.

Crosses 9-Cent Level

In cotton, the July delivery crossed the 9-cent a pound level to 9.15 cents, the top price registered in the New York market since Aug. 3, 1931. The advance in this staple from its June low amounts to approximately 66 per cent, indicating an appreciation in the value of the estimated new crop, together with the carryover from last year, of some $400,000,000.

The securities markets ran into considerable selling late in the day, which wiped out most of an early advance of $5 to $6 a share or more in leading stocks. In view of the violence of recent advances, dealers said a substantial setback was not surprising.

Sterling Says Legislature Is To Aid Public

Denies Ferguson Charge That Legislature Will Take Away From Counties Their Share Of Auto License Fee

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Aug. 25.—The special session of the Texas legislature to convene next Tuesday will not play the role of Indian giver in its efforts to lighten tax burdens, Governor R. S. Sterling said tonight on one of his last appeals for renomination in Saturday's run-off primary.

"We will not be placed in the attitude of giving the suffering taxpayers a stick of candy and then taking it away from them," he said in denying charges it was intended that the legislature take away from counties their share of the automobile license fee money.

Charges Denied

"The husband of my opponent in this race, in his desire to mislead the people, would have it appear that we would offset the good by assuming the highway bonded indebtedness of counties by taking from them money they now retain from license fee collections." Governor Sterling said.

The governor spoke at State Fair park after a day spent in personal campaigning. He visited shops and industrial plants, meeting voters at their work benches.

He planned to spend tomorrow, final day of the run-off campaign, visiting North-Central Texas voters while en route to Waco for his closing rally.

A number of speakers preceded the governor on the platform, appealing for his reelection in the interest of "responsibility in government and honesty in office."

Telegrams Read

Hiram Lively opened the meeting with the reading of telegrams from various sections of Texas, the senders promising support of Sterling. Most of them said Sterling would carry the sections mentioned.

Ex-Convict Attacks White Woman In Dallas After Tying Up Six Persons

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 25. — An ex-convict who kidnaped and criminally attacked a white woman last night after tying her escort and five other person in a field in the suborbs of Dallas was hunted today by police.

Armed with a sawed-off shotgun, the man stepped in front of the car in which Floyd E. Gossett and the woman were riding along a street, halting them.

"This is a hijacking," the man said as he handed the woman a piece of wire and forced her to tie Gossett's hands.

At this time, George Teague, a 9-year-old boy, John Edward Bolden; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Teague, and their 3-year-old child, walked up the road. They were on their way to a picture show.

The man covered them with the shotgun and tied them along side the road.

"I know how to do this kind of work," he boasted. "I didn't spend eleven years in the penitentiary for nothing."

The ex-convict then marched

No Word Of Progress Received From Two Fliers Winging Way Over Ocean

(By The Associated Press)

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Aug. 25.—Far out on the hazardous west to east air trail of the North Atlantic tonight were Clyde A. Lee, Oshkosh, Wis., and John Bochkon, Brooklyn, N. Y., in a projected nonstop flight from Harbor Grace to Oslo, Norway.

Lee and Bochkon took off in their plane, the "Green Mountain Boy," at 4:02 (CST) this morning. Hours later no word of their progress had been received from ships at sea. It was expected Lee and Bochkon would have to battle a rainstorm about 600 miles off Newfoundland. Otherwise, weather reports indicated they should have clear weather to Europe.

The 3,150 mile route laid out by the aviators would carry them over Dublin, Ireland, Boston, England, and Cuxhaven, Germany. They carried gasoline sufficient for 37 hours of flying, or seven hours longer than they estimated would be necessary for completion of the hop.

Lee, 24, former barnstorming flier was pilot-commander of the flight with Bochkon as co-pilot.

Fight Against Death Lost By Social Leader

Mrs. Edith McCormick Claimed By Long Illness Thursday; Members Of Broken Family Are At Bedside

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, younger daughter of John D. Rockefeller, sr., died at 3:40 p. m. (CST) today with cancer.

The Chicago society leader who once was recognized as the richest woman in the world died peacefully after she had been in a coma more than 13 hours. She would have been 60 years old Aug. 31.

Deserted Mansion

Death occurred in an apartment in the Drake hotel overlooking the Lake Shore drive mansion, the gift of her father, which she deserted a few weeks ago when, apparently she realized the seriousness of her illness.

With her when she died were her divorced husband, Harold F. McCormick; their daughters, Mrs. Mathilde McCormick Oser and Mrs. Muriel McCormick Hubbard; their son, Fowler; Mrs. Hubbard's husband, Maj. Elisha D. Hubbard of Connecticut; Fowler's wife of a little more than a year, the former "Pifi" Stillman; and Edwin Krenn, the Swiss architect who long had been her social escort and business adviser.

Recurrence Of Cancer

Physicians who attended Mrs. McCormick said her last illness was the recurrence of a breast cancer for which she had been operated upon two years ago.

Soon after she moved into the hotel apartment, close members of her family, separated several years by disagreements over domestic affairs, began to gather at her bedside and the seriousness of her condition became known publicly.

Haskell Cooper Also Hurt But Other Occupants Of Two Cars Escape; Victim Dies While On Operating Table

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Aug. 25.—One man was dead, another was badly injured while anxious citizens scoured surrounding territory for a third believed to have wandered away in a daze from the scene of a fatal automobile crash near here tonight.

Wood Tudor, about 30, an employe of the Santa Fe at Slaton, died on the operating table in the office of Dr. S. H. Adams shortly before 11 o'clock from injuries received in the mishap. Haskell Cooper, 24, driver of one of the cars which figured in the crash, received a broken arm and other injuries.

Search Is Started

Officers and citizens started a search for Dickie Austin, 23, an occupant of Cooper's car but at midnight no trace of the missing man had been found. He was believed to have wandered away from the scene, not realizing what had happened.

The accident occurred about two and one-half miles north of the city in Yellowhouse canyon about 10:30 o'clock.

Tudor and Cooper were rushed to town for medical attention. Dr. Adams, after an examination, stated that Tudor suffered a broken arm and severe cuts. He made no statement as to the probable cause of death other than loss of blood.

En Route To Ranch

The dead man, son of Lee Tudor, one of the owners of the Slaton Coal and Grain company, accompanied by his wife, his brother, Melvin Tudor and wife and Pauline Merritt, were en route in his light sedan to Johnston's ranch. About three-fourths of a mile from the Lubbock-Slaton highway they met the second car, presumably coming from the ranch.

Melvin Tudor told Dave Hoffman, nightwatchman, that his brother's car was in the ditch when the collision occurred. Both cars were badly damaged.

The victim had lived in Slaton for 10 years. His home was on Fourth street and he is survived by a wife and three children.

No funeral arrangements had been made tonight.

Train Carries State Figures

Ma Ferguson, Ross Sterling And Boss Of Republicanism In Texas Ride Train Into Dallas Thursday

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Aug. 25 (AP)—A railway passenger train brought a precious political lot to Dallas this morning.

Both candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and the boss of Republicanism in Texas were aboard.

Both To Appear

Governor R. S. Sterling, incumbent, and Mrs. Miram A. Ferguson, ex-governor, his opponent in Saturday's run-off primary for the Democratic plum, were passengers. Sterling came from San Antonio to fill a speaking engagement here tonight. Mrs. Ferguson got on at Austin, en route to Denton to join her former governor husband, James E. Ferguson, for a campaign appearance.

R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman of Texas and long the guiding hand of Grand Old Party affairs in the Lone Star State, also was a passenger.

Incidentally Creager said he believed Ma Ferguson would beat Sterling.

The three leaders, two at loggerheads within the party of Jefferson, and the other hopeful the Democrats would be so seriously divided over the current unpleasantness that the Republican nominee for governor—Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls—would upset precedent and sail into the executive office next November, managed to time their sleeper berth ingress and egress activities to avoid one another.

Frowns At Interview

Creager frowned at an interview in the morning paper by John F. Grant of Houston, defeated for the Republican gubernatorial nomination by Bullington. Grant claimed that Creager had gone back on a promise to support him for the favor.

"Grant simply proved to be a failure as a candidate but in spite of that I told him I would stay with his candidacy," Creager said. "I did stay with him even after the convention met and the delegates from all sections expressed belief that he was a weak candidate.

"When someone proposed a minority report before the convention, after the committee on nominations recommended Bullington, I stood before the convention and put it on notice that I would go down the line for Grant in order to keep my promise to him. Grant requested that the minority report be withdrawn. I told the convention that if he would permit that report to go before the convention I would speak to it.

"I realized that Grant was a weak candidate.

"In spite of that I did not intend to go back on my word and after the caucus on the eve of the convention that Grant complains about I told him still I would make good my promise."

Races Top Stunts As Air Thrillers On Program Of Big Cleveland Meet

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25. (AP) — Showmanship, the art that has helped to "build up" automobile, motor boat and horse racing, is coming to the aid of airplane racing.

One of the developments at the National Air Races at Cleveland August 27 to September 5, expected by Clifford W. Henderson, managing director, is a new technique in air races.

Henderson says that in past years stunts have furnished the thrills but that this year the races themselves will be the sensation.

Many Special "Jobs" Built

The building of more than 40 special racing "jobs" this year has contributed to the attention that is being paid to the closed course events.

"Race horse starts" which permit spectators to see who is winning, a parade of contestants in front of the grandstand, racing teams with distinctive color schemes and pits in front of the grandstand—these are some of the devices calculated to add color to the 10-day speed tournament.

Many Records Assailed

The Thompson trophy race, with its possibility of a new world record of 300 miles an hour or thereabouts; the Bendix trophy dash from California, with its threat at the transcontinental record set last year in the event by Major James H. Doolittle at 11 hours 15 minutes, and the Cord cup race, with its dash of nearly 100 aviators from the two edges of the continent to Cleveland in a grand opener, are the highlights of the program.

'Gnat'-Sized Entries

But tiny racing craft will rival the big speedsters for public attention. Here many oddities and experiments will be found.

Some of these diminutive planes will be entered in a race for ships of only 115 cubic inch piston displacement. Power plants no bigger than enlarged motorcycle engines and hulls scarcely capable of seating a medium-sized man may show startling speed.

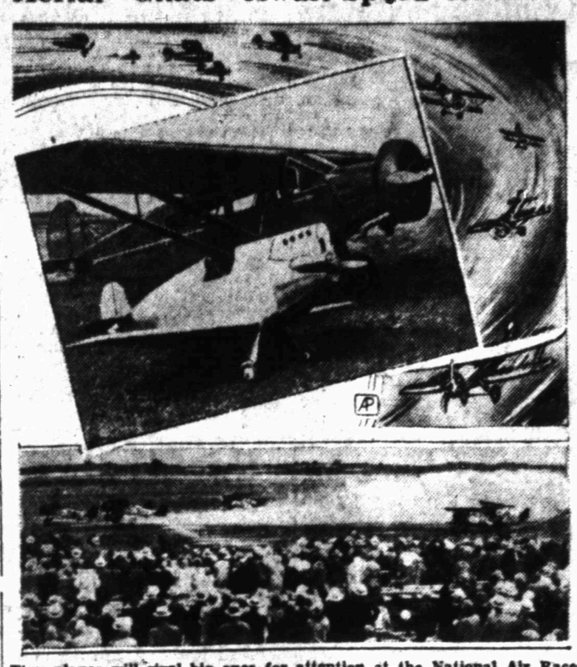

One entry is the Tilbury-Funday flash of Art Carnahan, of Bloomington, Ill., which has a wing spread of less than 15 feet, a weight of only 270 pounds and a motor of 45 horsepower.

A record of 200 miles an hour is predicted in the 80-mile Woolaroc trophy race for planes of 800 cubic inch pistol displacement. Among the entries in this event are two white monoplanes, "Ike" and "Mike," owned by Ben O. Howard Chicago airmail pilot.

But the races will not displace the stunts entirely. There will be plenty of them, including an autogyro hurdle race, a mile-high-and-return vertical race, the usual flights by government aviators, parachute drops and fireworks at night.

Coda is the concluding passage of a musical composition.

Aerial "Gnats" Await Speed Classics

Tiny planes will rival big ones for attention at the National Air Races at Cleveland August 27 to September 5. Art Carnahan's Tilbury-Funday Flash, here shown in contrast with a cabinet plane, is among the entries in the meet, which this year looks to racing for its major thrills. Grand stand starts and finishes, such as in the lower photo, are part of the showmanship involved.

One secret of getting ahead

You need good health to succeed. Many a man has seen his chances go because he was too sick to keep pace with competition. Often his poor health was due to constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of energy, sleeplessness. It takes the "punch" out of your day's work.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Balancing Of Economic Program Is Urged By Texas Tech Head In Talk

Manufacture of raw products raised in Texas into finished products, within the state, will help solve the economic program of the state, Dr. Bradford Knapp, incoming president of Texas Technological college, yesterday told the Kiwanis club at its weekly luncheon in the Hotel Lubbock.

"You can readily see that if a state could retain the profit of the grower and the greater part of the profit of the manufacturer, that it would have a distinct advantage," Dr. Knapp said. "Prior to the depression, and how I hate to say that word, on the average when a consumer bought a dollar's worth of gingham, only 18 cents went to the grower; when a consumer bought a $1 worth of bread, the grower got less than twenty per cent."

He cited Alabama, a state in which he resided until recently, as an example of a state making use of its raw products. He said the state's manufactured products exceeded by far the value of its agricultural products.

"In most of these states, the habit has been to ship out the raw products and ship in the manufactured article," Dr. Knapp continued. "There isn't any reason why we should pay the freight and repay it on cotton to Manchester, Eng., or to New England. The farmer out here who raises the cotton has to pay it.

"You have the natural resources, the natural ability and the acquired ability. You can't change the natural ability but the one great factor on which we operate today is to change the acquired ability and skill of the people; that's education."

Dr. Knapp was introduced by O. V. Adams, acting dean of the Tech school of engineering.

Ben Graham of Farwell, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Byler of Denver and L. B. Slonaker of Amarillo were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

NUNN TO PAMPA

ROSWELL, N. M. (Special) — Gilmore Nunn, manager of the Roswell Morning Dispatch, is going to Pampa, Texas, where he will take the place of his father, J. Lindsey Nunn, of Amarillo, for a few months. George Hill, general manager of the New Mexico Publishing company, will manage the local paper, a member of that group.

Writ Is Issued By Court In Kilgore Contest Of Election

KILGORE, Aug. 25. (AP)—A writ of supersedes was issued by the civil court of appeals at Texarkana today, setting aside the decision of District Judge W. C. Hurst that a special election would have to be called for a re-holding of the race for justice of the peace here.

Judge Hurst's ruling was handed down in a contest suit brought by Homer T. Glover, defeated candidate for nomination in the justice of peace race. Glover ran third in the first primary.

W. H. Compton and B. P. Dilyhunty, candidates who gained the most votes in the primary, appealed from Judge Hurst's decision and were granted the writ of supersedes. As a result, Glover's name will not appear on the ballot in the run-off Saturday.

SCHOOL GIVEN CREDITS

OLTON, (Special).—The Spring Lake school near here has been given nine and a half units of affiliation with the state department of education, S. A. Davis, superintendent, announces. The term opens September 8, it was also announced.

State Police Are Asked To Search For Missing Couple

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP)—State police today were asked to search for Rev. Carl Whipple, 35, and Mrs. Arabelle Glessner, 26-year-old mother of two, who disappeared from the home of Whipple's parents more than a week ago.

The officers were notified that Mrs. Glessner's husband, a prosperous livestock trader and farmer of Berlin, Pa., has offered a $100 reward for information concerning his wife.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

PERHAPS you have always dreamed of Mexico as a langorous and romantic place. It may be that now, but if a campaign started by the federal health department in Mexico City is carried out, the place isn't going to be so romantic—that is unless breaking the law is an element in romance.

For down in Mexico they are trying to make it a federal offence to kiss.

"Kissing may be considered as more deadly than the poison of wild arrows, dipped in the venom of snakes," a health department bulletin reads. "The lips of the most beautiful woman contain the most microbes!"

The law may pass, of course, but it is doubtful if it does because no one, save possibly some acrimonious individual inhuman in his devotion to science or because of disappointments, could imagine that such a law could be enforced. One might as well make it unlawful to breathe the free air as to forbid kissing.

LOOK AT 'EM

PERHAPS you are doing all of your riding around inside the city limits this summer. If so, you are missing something worth seeing and that is some of the beautiful crops around over Lubbock county.

Even if you are downhearted, it will make you feel good just to look at the cotton and other crops that are growing on some of the farms. Most people in this section have lived on the farm at one time or another and farm products are the basis of our wealth and well being. Look around at what some of the farmers in Lubbock county are raising this summer. It will do you good.

There is another thing for you to enjoy now and for the next few months and that is the climate that the South Plains offers. There is no other season as generally pleasant here as autumn.

As a matter of fact, this place boasts an almost resort climate for a lot of the year. Unpleasant cold weather does not usually arrive until after the first of the year and while a lot of the world is sweltering around through the summer we have nights that are cold enough for blankets and some of the most pleasant mornings and evenings in the world.

It isn't hard to wear fall clothes here when the season calls for them because days have already begun to cool off. It is a different matter even as near as just below the cap rock and further down in the country it will remain hot for many weeks yet.

GIRLS AND DOLLS

AN INDUSTRIAL note that might interest little girls came out of New York the other day when 3,500 of Santa Claus' helpers went on strike in that city. The helpers are members of the Doll Workers Industrial union and they make dolls and other toys.

Strikes, depression and other things that interest grown-ups may not mean much to the average little girl, but if something happens to prevent her from getting a new doll this year, that will be a different matter.

Another doll does not divide a little girls' love for her toy family. Her affection is always capable of expanding to include another doll, no matter how inadequate it may appear to an older person. Curly hair, sleepy eyes and a real bisque body have their appeal to the little girl who loves dolls but, paradoxical as this may seem to some people, the rag doll made from flimsy cloth and poorly printed may be just as dear to her as any other.

The other day I met two small girls down town carrying their dolls, all wrapped up in pink and blue blankets. They were attentive "mothers" to their wards and, oblivious to the crowds on the streets were devoting all o ftheir attention to their dolls.

A day earlier I had seen two other little girls, garbed in their mothers' cast-off dresses, wheeling doll carts in the early evening, giving their charges an airing.

So many little girls grow sophisticated early, look to cards and picture shows for diversion. I was afraid they were forgetting the fun of playing dress-up and dolls — missing a lot, it seems, because there is no fun like this for the little girl.

Annual Affair Is For Church

Informal Program Is Feature Of Annual Picnic Attended By Members Of Presbyterian Congregation

An annual picnic was attended by about 250 people in the First Presbyterian congregation Wednesday evening at the experiment farm.

Hawkins, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Taylor, made a short talk and Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, was introduced and talked for a few minutes. The remainder of the time was devoted to the informalities of a picnic occasion.

STALE GAS HANDCUFFS YOUR MOTOR

ONLY fresh GAS UNLEASHES FULL POWER

STALENESS steals the power of gasoline. Little by little the lighter parts—important "easy starting" elements—evaporate! Also a chemical change takes place—so that, as staleness increases, power decreases!

And the staler the gas, the more it knocks—and the stickier it is—more apt to foul a motor. The whole petroleum industry has long sought a way to stop gasoline deterioration. Now Gulf announces a system that assures every motorist of getting FRESH-MADE gasoline! How?

By making the best possible gasoline and refining out certain complex elements that have been found to cause fast deterioration. And by rushing this FRESH gas to you like some perishable food!

SPEED! The whole Gulf organization is geared to it. Huge Gulf refineries in many sections of the country put every Gulf filling station close to a source of FRESH gasoline. A vast fleet of tank trucks speeds FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day.

Get FULL power for your gasoline dollar. Get FRESH-MADE gas—delivered FRESH. Get Gulf exclusively—and you'll have a motor that's faster. A motor that's cleaner. And quieter. Get a tank-full today!

Injunction To Block Actions

Federal District Judge Will Restrain Commissioners And Attorney General From Prosecuting Suits

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (AP)—R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission, said today an injunction had been granted by Federal District Judge Randolph Bryant restraining the Texas railroad commission and the attorney general from prosecuting penalty suits filed against the American Liberty Oil company, Golding and Murchison and others for alleged violation of the commission's conservation orders in the East Texas oil field.

Parker said the commissioners each received telegraphic notice of the injunction late today from F. A. King, federal district clerk. The order was granted by Judge Bryant at Sherman. The court papers were reported to be en route to Tyler for filing.

Parker said he was not informed as to the grounds on which the restraining order was issued.

The suits were filed in Rusk county several weeks ago by the attorney general at the instance of the railroad commission. Parker said the state asked penalties aggregating in excess of a half million dollars for alleged overproduction in excess of allowables set by the railroad commission.

Parker said he was informed the injunction would remain in effect until a hearing could be had before a three-judge federal court. He knew of no date having been set for a hearing on the order.

Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition Clubs Indorse Duggan for Senator

The Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition Clubs are sending out from their office at Houston, a letter advising all anti-prohibitionists to vote for certain candidates for the legislature, and among others recommend my opponent A. P. Duggan of Littlefield. This letter among other things says "We have, of course given preference to the anti-prohibition candidates with dry opposition. Where two wets are in the run-off we have made no recommendation unless to suggest the re-election of the incumbent."

I was left off this list as gotten out by the Texas Federation of Anti-Prohibition Clubs, because I refused to commit myself to the repeal of the Dean law and to the repeal of the prohibition amendment to the State Constitution. I had an opportunity to get on this band wagon but refused to do so.

TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

When you selected me as your Sheriff, you did it upon my promise to enforce the laws strictly and impartially. The first questions that presented themselves to me upon taking office were: "Why not get the big boys" and "Why can't the LEADERS of the criminal element be punished?" In response to such questions I want to call your attention to my record. It is WELL KNOWN that at the time I took office there were certain outstanding characters—CHIEFTAINS OF THE LAWLESS—who constantly paraded the streets and challenged the officers to disturb them.

I am glad to be able to state to the people of this county that EVERY ONE OF THOSE WELL KNOWN CRIMINALS who had paraded the streets of Lubbock for years have been arrested and are now either in jail or under penitentiary sentences. They have been eliminated as public enemies. Their followers have been scattered and their influence destroyed. THAT'S MY WORK; THAT'S MY RECORD; THAT'S MY CAMPAIGN.

My services to you have been pleasant and I want to especially express my appreciation for the wonderful cooperation and support that the citizenship of Lubbock County has given me. Without such cooperation and support my efforts would have been fruitless and tenure of office a failure.

I will more than appreciate the support and vote of the good citizenship of Lubbock County on next Saturday, and I pledge myself to do all that is possible, capably and honestly and courageously to fulfill the duties and obligations of sheriff for another two years if elected in the coming election.

Our Answer To Mr. Terrell

YESTERDAY on this page was printed a letter from George B. Terrell, of Cherokee county, whom The Morning Avalanche does not believe should be sent to Congress from the state at large.

We did not wish to take advantage of Mr. Terrell, who in the past has been a satisfactory office-holder, by commenting upon his letter yesterday—preferring the people to read his letter first, our opinion second.

Mr. Terrell, who opposes Pink Parrish in the Congressman-at-Large race, felt very hurt because The Morning Avalanche has opposed his election.

He even charged that we had cast a slur upon him and upon the fine name of Terrell, simply because we don't believe a man who lives on the Louisiana line can represent West Texas as it should be represented.

Mr. Terrell apparently felt quite badly over the whole matter—but he admitted, that he voted against re-districting the state, which is one basis upon which we have publicly opposed him!

The Morning Avalanche firmly believes that the legislators who blocked Congressional re-districting discriminated against West Texas, for by population growth West Texas should have gained two of the three new national representatives.

Since Mr. Terrell, by his own admission, voted against re-districting, he looks just like the rest of them to us—a fellow to be swatted at the polls by the same West Texans he helped to swat in Austin.

We regret sincerely Mr. Terrell's charge that we have cast a slur upon the fine name which he bears: to have deliberately cast such a slur should have been lacking in fair play, honesty and fact and we intended to do no such thing.

But in spite of the fine name of the Terrells, the fine service which members of that family have rendered to Texas, The Morning Avalanche just can't see its way clear to let the West Texas public forget that Mr. George Terrell did vote against re-districting—which we consider a move hostile to the best interests of West Texas.

ROMANCE REMAINS

Literary critics who read the trend of modern literature as indicating the passing of romance are reading against the truth. Romance came early into the world, and it will stay late. From time to time literature may wander after new gods and romance may temporarily be laid aside, but not for long. Man invariably takes it back again to his heart when he craves the warming thrill that nothing else in writing can give.

The Muse that holds sway over romance has made for herself a place from which no assaults by the so-called realistic or psychological or any other school can oust her. Romance has rendered man great service by cheering him in time of depression, by firing him to heroic action, by stirring him to high idealism, by shortening his hours of weariness. Other kinds of literature will not replace it, because they can't.

THE USED CAR PROBLEM

Second-hand or used motor cars are, as everyone knows, the bane of the automobile dealer's existence. He sells a new car and gets an old one as first payment on the new. He resells the old car and gets, perhaps, still another one in part payment for that. They cut down his profits, use valuable garage space and divert his selling staff from the sale of new cars.

Manufacturer, dealer and owner agree that what the world needs today more than anything else is a profitable market for used cars entirely apart from the automotive field. The business of buying a new car would be greatly simplified if there was a way to dispose of the old model at a good price before getting quotations on a new one.

Meat became cheaper and the packing business became more profitable when methods were found to turn every part of the pig but the squeal into valuable by-products. Used automobiles are junk, but that is hardly a valuable by-product. What is needed is that alchemy that can transform a five-year-old model into a five-room cottage.

An American worker who has been in Russia for four years says he wishes he was back in Chicago. If he had been a Russian in Chicago for four years, he would probably be wishing he was back in Moscow.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame.—Proverbs, xiii, 5.

Republicans Are Acquitted

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—"Booms and slumps on the stock exchange," said Representative Sol Bloom, "no more reflect basic business conditions than the weather does. Not as much. There IS a relationship between the weather and business. There's none between business and the stock exchange."

SOL BLOOM

Naturally, with the presidential campaign just opening, many folk think they see politics in the current market bulge.

The New York representative, who is one of the richest men in public life and perhaps congress' best judge of the stock market, was discussing this question. As a Democrat, he frankly likes to be as suspicious as possible of the present party in power. Nevertheless, he was prompt to acquit the G. O. P. administration of responsibility for Wall Street's recent bullishness.

"The whole market," he insisted "can't be artificially boosted.

"Some single stock can be, but no influence is strong enough to advance practically all stocks unless the public's psychology is right."

Isn't the White House influence potent enough to create the right psychology?

"It's been repeatedly demonstrated that it isn't," replied the congressman. "During the entire early period of the depression, didn't President Hoover issue one optimistic statement after another, and didn't the market sag still farther every time he did it?"

ACCORDING to some accounts the market's upward surge at this particular juncture is seriously worrying the Republican high command, which (it's said) wanted an advance all right, but not so early, fearing a recession between now and election day.

"That's quite likely," agreed Representative Bloom, "and it's true that this isn't a healthy market.

"A normally improving market improves hesitantly for awhile.

"Our share market has been very sick. An invalid, beginning to mend after a long, wasting illness, shouldn't start with a square meal. At first he should have, maybe, a few spoonfuls of weak gruel; then a little milk; if he stands that, a couple of slices of dry toast; next a bit of chicken, and so on. A three-pound steak, with plenty of mashed potatoes and brown gravy, probably will bring on a relapse—or kill the patient."

Well, what gave market prices their initial impetus skyward?

"Oh," said the New Yorker, "there's no doubt that many shares were below their actual values. That being the case, they were ripe to respond readily to a modicum of encouragement. It's a fair guess that this encouragement was furnished by the putting into circulation of considerable fresh liquid money, through such agencies as the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

"But heavens! The paper increase in market values, in one single recent day on 'change, has exceeded the total of all additions to circulation authorized at the last session of congress."

"HOWEVER," continued the representative, "speculators are not bidding up stocks because they consider them good values. They're gambling. A stock, even though a trifle lower than a judicious investor may feel that it ought to be, taking its future possibilities into account, nevertheless is nothing to go wild over unless the industry in which it represents an interest is making exceptional profits.

"The fact is that industrial earnings are still on the decline.

"But what does the market trader care for that! He isn't after a sound investment. He's after an immediate rakeoff, by means of a rapid turnover.

"That's why I say that the stock exchange signifies nothing as to basic business conditions."

But as to commodity prices? Prices of wheat and cotton and live stock? They're rising. Does that mean nothing basic?

"It would," said the congreseman "if it benefited the producer.

"But what happens?

"Suppose a boatload of melons arrives off the Washington waterfront. Thrown on the market, they'll bring 2 cents each. So the middleman, who brought them here, dumps three-quarters of his cargo overboard—and gets 25 cents per melon for the remaining one-fourth of them. Does he divide with the grower of the melons?"

The Manhattan lawmaker laughed cynically.

"And yet," he added, "we say 'Look at the advance in the value of the melon crop!'—and expect the grower to rejoice over the increase in agricultural commodity prices."

IS IT NOT ODD, anyway, that a new yield of stock exchange plungers is so quickly available again?—long before the last crash can conceivably have been forgotten?

"Hoh!" sniffed the congressman, scornfully. "This isn't a new yield. These are the same old plungers. They've been gambling right along; except, for the last three years, nearly, they've been betting on prices to sink lower. Now they're playing them for a rise. Losses never stop a gambler from gambling. Nothing stops him but lack of money to gamble with, and plenty of folk haven't lost all their money yet."

Executive Secretary Benjamin C. Marsh of the People's Lobby, however, has a different explanation.

"The average man's main objective in life," he says, "is financial security for himself and his family. He realizes that he cannot imaginably attain it by mere saving. His sole chance of attaining it is through a lucky gamble. He knows it's almost hopeless, but there's no hope for him whatever by any other method. There's a certain amount of logic in his reasoning, when he decides to stake what isn't of much use to him anyhow, on a lottery ticket."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

MONT BLANC:

Mont Blanc, the highest peak of the Alps, rising to a height of 15,781 feet, is neither in Italy nor in Switzerland as is popularly assumed. It is situated in France, about seven miles from the Franco-Swiss border.

An Italian Fascist claimed a few years ago that he had climbed Mont Blanc for the purpose of renaming it Monte Mussolini in honor of the Italian Dictator. Mussolini accepted the honor but was astonished when it was called to his attention that the mountain is not within Italian territory at all.

A BEST SELLER IN SPITE OF 30 PUBLISHERS:

"Robinson Crusoe", a best seller for the last 215 years and probably for all time to come, was written by Daniel Defoe, who founded his tale upon the experiences of Alexander Solkirk, a castaway on the lonely island of Juan Fernandez. The manuscript of "Robinson Crusoe" was rejected by a score of book publishers who failed to foresee the immense popularity of the work. William Taylor, who finally purchased the book, made a considerable fortune by it.

Letters To The Editor From Readers

Too Much Nudity In Advertising Says Lubbock Man; Cites His Ideas

Editor, The Avalanche: This is an advertising age—all kinds and colors—business, sports, resorts, fighting, murder, crime, shows, etc. But the most extensive, most popular and most impressive advertising at present seems to be laxity, sexual fondness, nudity and nudity contests, sensation and excitement. We see it on bill-boards, sheets, cards, calendars, labels, catalogues, inside and outside of books, pamphlets, magazines and all sorts of publications.

Then, with all this display and public popularity of such how can anyone wonder at the effect produced on young, tender, pliant minds at the most impressive age? Can you tell why, expecially female nudity and sexual fondness, is so extensively used in advertising and in literature?

Really, what is the purpose? Where is the business connection? What is the effect? Does it educate, benefit or does it create noble thoughts, desires or aspirations in either young or old? Is such needful or necessary to any legitimate, honorable or decent business?

Advertising is to produce desire for wares or goods or things advertised, is it not? Then, may I ask, what are you advertising? Who is effected most by such advertising? Have you mothers, sisters, sons, daughters, little children? Do you respect and love them and other children? They don't know of the snares, pitfalls and dangers as you do. Are you warning them to shun these or leading them into them?

In short, are you advertising goods, business or sensuality?

To what and to where are we, as a people, home lovers and a nation drifting? Have we, each of us, an object or purpose in life? What is it?

T. J. Estes,
Lubbock

Lubbock Planning To Protest Taxes

After copies of protests by the City of Georgtown, Tex., and by the Public Ownership league of America were exhibited, City commission decided to join more than 11,000 other municipalities in protesting a consumer's 3 per cent federal tax on all electric energy sold for domestic or commercial consumption. The Lubbock notice of protest will accompany a payment of the tax collected from patrons of the municipal plant here, the commission agreed.

Other cities have protested the right of the federal government to tax their sources of revenue and right of the federal government to require the cities to collect taxes for the federal government.

"The precedent, if established and allowed to stand, will affect every city . . . including those that own waterworks, parks, playgrounds sewerage systems, airports," the Public Ownership league asserted in a several-page protest.

City commission disposed of several other matters of routine business.

Forgotten Franchises Being Dug Up By City Of Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Aug. 25. (AP)—Like Gov. Roosevelt's "forgotten man" the city of Beaumont has a number of "forgotten franchises."

In a check of records the administration recently discovered 14 franchises granted to four railroads for tracking privileges over the city's streets had expired, some of them as far back as 1918. Renewals at the dates of expiration apparently had been forgotten.

Another Version Of Mystery Disappearance Is Unearthed

ODESSA, Aug. 25. (AP)—Another version of the mysterious disappearance of Chris Lentzel, a West Texas rancher of reputed wealth, more than a quarter of a century ago, has been given by Captain W. L. Wright, company 1, Texas rangers, at Marfa. A skeleton was found recently in a cave on the Wilde ranch having some identifying marks said to fit Lentzel. The bones were sent to Austin, where Ranger Captain Frank Hammet said it was doubtful whether the skeleton was that of the missing rancher, inasmuch as the mystery was solved many years ago with the acquittal of three men.

Captain Wright stated that Hammer was mistaken, as he (Wright) remembered that Lentzel was first missing in the fall of 1899.

A STATEMENT OF FACTS

STERLING'S RECORD

Anti-Trust Laws

Governor Sterling sent a message to the Legislature during the first called session of the 42nd. Legislature asking that it appropriate sufficient funds to enable Jimmie Allred to investigate trusts and enforce anti-trust laws. The money was provided, and Allred filed the suits against the big oil companies.

FERGUSON'S RECORD

Anti-Trust Laws

Ferguson advocated, and had passed in 1915 the "Texas Company Bill", which permitted the major oil companies to control the oil business in Texas. In 1925 Ferguson also advocated, and had passed what is known as the "Humble Oil Company" bill, which permitted the Standard Oil groups to again do business in Texas.

From the above it is very easy to determine who has represented the big oil companies in Texas. Not Sterling—But Ferguson.

Utility Rates

Governor Sterling in a message to the 42nd. Legislature urged that adequate laws be passed for the control and regulation of Utilities in the State.
Governor Sterling also advocated and urged that the R. R. Commission be provided with funds for the purpose of investigating gas pipe lines, and gas distributing companies to the end that the price on gas should be reduced.

Utility Rates

The Fergusons have never in any way even mentioned the exhorbitant rates being charged the people for electric current and for gas.

The Ferguson platform and Ferguson speeches are silent as the grave on this subject.

The above proves who is the protector and friend of the people. It is Sterling—Not Ferguson.

Highway Department

Under Ross Sterling, as chairman of the Highway Commission, and as Governor, thousands of miles of highways have been built, and are being maintained, and an unequalled system of highways is rapidly being completed throughout the State, and especially in our section. The State Auditor's report shows that not a single instance of graft or shortage has occurred in the department.

Highway Department

Everyone knows the filthy story of Jim Ferguson's Highway Department. The Attorney General recovered more than a million dollars from Jim's crooked contractors through the courts. During the Ferguson Administration roads were not maintained properly, and such roads as were constructed have long since worn out.

Is not this proof of honesty and businesslike administration as compared with dishonesty, graft and incompetence?

Penitentiary System and Pardons

Under Ross Sterling the penitentiaries are self-sustaining, and have turned back to the State $500,000.00 savings. The system provides 88 per cent of all the foods used by the system. Sterling has issued 15 pardons and 1428 paroles. The Texas Statutes require the Governor to parole prisoners after certain service and perfect records. Art. 775A Code Crim. Proceedure. The Governor has no option.

Penitentiary System and Pardons

The Fergusons left the penitentiary system heavily in debt due to mismanagement. During their administration the system provided 12 per cent of the foods used by the system. The Fergusons gave full pardons to vast numbers of criminals, among them being rapists, murderers, and hi-jackers.

Again, is this not proof of honesty and protection of society as compared with graft and disregard of law?

Governor Ross S. Sterling has worked for the people. He is a business man of the highest integrity and efficiency, and is not a politician. Because he is not a politician he is misunderstood. Because he is honest, and has straightened out the business affairs of the state and prevented graft, the crooked politicians who have been cut off now seek to villify and misrepresent his acts and character to the end that they may gain conrol of the state government, and loot the treasury and serve the special interests for pay.

A vote for Sterling is a vote for Honesty and Responsibility in government. A vote for Ferguson is—Voter, from the record, we will let you say.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25—The Cubs did it again today. They smashed the Brooklyn Dodgers down into a 9 to 3 defeat and just about tucked the National League pennant away in their pockets so far as Brooklyn's challenge for the flag is concerned.

The victory, Chicago's second in the "crucial" three game series, gave the Cubs a lead of 5 1-2 games and served to emphasize a little more their championship claims.

Guy Bush went the route for the Cubs, while the Chicagoans hammered four Dodger flingers for 13 blows, clustering them in two big innings to score all their runs.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—New York's home run twins, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, overpowered Cleveland's one four-base swatter, Earl Averill, today and gave the Yankees a 4-3 victory.

Home runs were the most important blows from start to finish of a brilliant pitching argument between Lefty Vernon Gomez and Oral Hildebrand and Gehrig's 28th finally decided the scrap with none out in the ninth. Ruth's 36th circuit drive came with Combs on base in the sixth.

This beautiful trophy in silver and ebony, showing a right-handed ball player in throwing action, was presented to Lefty Grove, ace of the Athletics' pitching staff who was voted the most valuable player to his team in the American League in 1931. The trophy, admired by Boss Connie Mack and Grove, was awarded by the Baseball Writers' Association. It ought to make a handsome addition to the mantel of Grove's home in Lonaconing, Md., something to talk about, say in 1950.

Allison And Van Ryn Win 3-Hour Semi-Final Match

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP)—Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, defending champions in the 51st annual national doubles tennis championship at Longwood, today defeated George Lott and Frank Shields in a three-hour semi-final battle.

They gained a 6-3, 2-6, 9-11, 6-4, 13-11 victory. Saturday they will try to retain their titles against the winners of tomorrow's international semi-final between Henri Cochet and Marcel Bernard of France, and the crack California team, Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill.

The victors were outscored 87 points to 77 but they held their errors down to 139 against 151 for Lott and Shields. The latter was personally responsible for 88 of his team's miscues.

The tall New Yorker however, was the high point-scorer of the match with 47 placements and six aces on his terrific service. Allison totaled 42 points, Van Ryn 36 and Lott, who opened his grass campaign only last week at Newport, R. I., managed to pile up 34 points.

The other three national team tournaments were reduced to the semi-final rounds without upsets. The American singles champions, Vines and Helen Jacobs, teamed for the mixed doubles, advanced on a default. Others to gain that bracket were Mrs. Marjorie Morrill Painter, Dedham, and Lott, and Virginia Rice, Boston, and Cochet. The other quarter final was put off until tomorrow.

Sarazen Will Not Enter PGA Joust

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—Gene Sarazen, who arrived here today for an exhibition match, said he would not play in the National P. G. A. tournament.

"I failed to qualify," he said, "and therefore I shall not play. Even if withdrawals leave an opportunity. At any rate I am on an exhibition tour for six weeks, which completely ties my hands."

Charlie Seaver Equals Course Record In Beating Bartlett Of Iowa; Moreland Runs Away In Match With Rival

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 25. (AP)—Charles Seaver, one of Stanford's star football candidates for 1932, scored a touchdown from the kick-off in the quarter-finals of the Western Amateur golf championship today.

Blazing over the Rockford Country Club course with a record-equalling 66, Seaver staggered his 43-year-old rival, Arthur Bartlett, Ottumwa, Ia., in the morning for a 10-up lead and then romped away with his match in the afternoon to win 11 and 10.

Joining the stocky blonde from Los Angeles in the semi-final push for the crown dropped yesterday by Don Moe, Portland, Ore., are a trio of the best amateurs of the game, all of whom won by commanding margins but with far less golf.

They are Gus Moreland, Dallas, heralded as a coming national champion and the boy Seaver must tackle tomorrow; Johnny Lehman, Chicago, who captured the Western crown in 1930 and drove into the semi-finals today for the fourth straight year, and his youthful hometown rival, Ira Couch.

Moreland was three over par for his 32 holes, but his game was good enough to turn back the spirited Dick Ashley, Kenosha, Wis. The tall Texan led all the way and triumphed 5 and 4.

Lehman, tournament medalist with his record 137, survived an epidemic of bad tee shots to defeat Don Armstrong, Aurora, Ill., by the same margin, while Couch Grabbed a six-hole lead in the morning over Johnny Banks, Chicago Western junior champion, and coasted home in the afternoon, 4 to 3.

Cadet Flier And Austin Man Gain Finals Texas Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Dolf Muelheisen, Randolph Field, and Earl Taylor, Austin, gained the finals in the Southwest Texas Invitation Tennis tournament here this afternoon. Muelheisen defeated Quinn Connelley, Fort Worth, state municipal champion, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4. Taylor, defending champion of the tournament, beat Jess Pfeiffer, San Antonio, 9-7, 6-4, 6-2. Muelheisen, state open champion, and Taylor will meet Saturday in the singles final.

George Samson Laying Out 18-Hole Course At Snyder

POST, Aug. 25. (Special)—George Samson, local golf course architect, who has laid out nearly a dozen golf courses since he built the first one on the South Plains here a score of years ago or more, is laying out the new 18-hole course at Snyder.

Highway No. 7 at Snyder, was rerouted and the right-of-way widened, forcing the golf course to be changed. The club secured the services of Mr. Samson to rebuild the course.

"When we get it finished, the course will be one of the best in West Texas," Mr. Samson said.

Women To Play In Country Club Tourney Sunday

Sunday's program at the Lubbock Country club will be featured by a Scotch foursome tournament in which women golfers will have the opportunity to match strokes with male members in a nine-hole setto.

Mrs. Carl Patton, chairman of the women's golf committee at the Country club, submitted the following pairings for Sunday afternoon's play:

Jo Dick Slaughter and Mrs. Windy Watkins; J. O. Smith and Miss Anna Cecile Evans; Windy Watkins and Mrs. D. K. Bondurant; Dr. Fred Standefer and Mrs. Canon; Dr. Homer Stiles and Mrs. Tom Duggan, jr.; Jess Levens and Miss Lula Mae Craven, Carl Patton and Mrs. Guy McAfee.

Tom Duggan, jr., and Mrs. Homer Stiles; Mr. Dowdle and Mrs. Riggs; Dr. Olan Key and Mrs. Lee Quillen; Alvin Hendrick and Mrs. Hub Jones; Guy McAfee and Mrs. Levens; W. B. Powell and Mrs. Shell; Mr. Shell and Mrs. Parnell; Charles Smith and Mrs. Donald Jones; Donald Jones and Mrs. Charles Smith; Lee Quillen and Mrs. Carl Patton; Mr. Riggs and Mrs. Dowdle; L. H. McLarty and Mrs. Olan Key; Dr. Canon and Mrs. Alvin Hendrick.

Mrs. Opal Hill Wins 21-Hole Victory In Quarter-Finals

PEORIA, Ills., Aug. 25. (AP)—All square at the end of 18 holes, Mrs. Opal Hill, Kansas City, snatched a one-up victory over Jean Armstrong, Chicago, in a 21-hole quarter-final match for the women's Western golf championship today. Mrs. Hill is the defending champion.

"And Farragut Said To Me—"

What salty yarns were swaped at Boston when the National Association of Naval Veterans of the Civil War held their recent convention. Here are Charles F. Peel, of Salisbury, Mass., and George A. Veteran Observers See Split In Texas Ranks After Voting

Aftermath Of Bitter Battle For Gubernatorial Nomination May Lead To Election Of GOP Candidate

By CHAS. E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. (AP) — Veteran observers speculating upon the campaign for governor profess to see a split in the Democracy of Texas as an aftermath of the singularly bitter battle being waged by the candidates of widely divergent schools of political ethics for the state's major public office.

There are thore who believe the breach cannot be effectively healed by the time of the November election because of the personal animosities born of the two primary campaigns. Others, however, are of the opinion that the outcome of the gubernatorial campaign will have little effect on the November election when Texans for the first time will be allowed to vote for a fellow citizen upon the national ticket.

Republicans Alert

More than passing interest is being displayed by state Republican leaders in the fireworks being shot off so rapidly in the Democratic camp. Some of the G. O. P. leaders figure the wounds that may be left by so heated a campaign may be their opportunity to elect a Republican to the governor's chair, something that hasn't happened since the carpet bagger days after the Civil war.

Rene B. Creager, Texas Republican national committeeman, recently was quoted as saying the "bitter discord" in the Democratic party this year presented a "golden opportunity to elect a Republican governor of Texas next November."

1924 Was Similar

In 1924 the situation was similar to what it would be this year if Mrs. Ferguson was nominated. In that year, election records show, there was considerable defection to the Republican candidate, Dr. George C. Butte of Austin, who received 294,970 votes against Mrs. Ferguson in the general election.

Republicans now are wondering whether they would rather run against Sterling or Ferguson. Regardless of who wins the run-off, the Republicans would welcome the voters from the opposing camp with welcome arms.

Other Factors

Two other factors enter into the political figuring. One is the vote of 220,000 received by Tom F. Hunter in the first gubernatorial primary, and the other is that Texas went Republican in 1928.

The former is taken by many to indicate that thousands of Texas Democrats wanted neither Sterling or Ferguson for governor, the Hunter vote being, they claim, a "protest" against both of them, since Hunter was comparatively unknown in politics until this year.

The second factor shows, they state, that some Texas Democrats are not shy about jumping over the traces if things don't go to suit them.

Stands Good Chance

If the Republican nominee can obtain a goodly share of the "protest" vote, and can attract those dissatisfied with the outcome of the second primary to his banner, he would stand a good chance of winning, they figure.

Staunch Democrats take issue with this supposition, however, and believe it would be a pretty cold day on the Fourth of July when another Republican is elected governor of Texas, regardless of circumstances.

The Republican nominee, Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, is reputed to be an excellent campaigner, and is no novice in political arts.

Bullington started his career as county attorney of Knox county. He has been president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, vice chairman of the Republican state committee, chairman of the 1928 Texas delegation to the national Republican convention and has served as director of the national rivers and harbors committee.

TO DISCUSS RELIEF

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 25. (AP) Gov. Louis L. Emmerson has agreed to summon a special session of the general assembly Sept. 6 to consider new legislation for unemployment relief.

Stocks Rush Ahead Feverishly Later To Trip Over Adverse Announcement

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP) — Stocks rushed ahead in feverish trading again today, only to trip up over an adverse dividend announcement in the late trading.

Extreme gains of 1 to 5 points or more in prominent issues were more than lost in several instances, some issues closing with net losses of 1 to 2 points.

The market had been forced to absorb considerable profit-taking during most of the early advance, but bulls had been stirred to new efforts by a sharp advance in wheat. Bonds failed to support the move, however, and when International Harvester announced a cut in its quarterly dividend to 30 cents, from 45 cents previously, it was accepted as a signal to take profits, although a cut in this dividend had been forecast in some brokerage quarters.

The market reacted substantially after the wheat market had closed, and was apparently affected somewhat by active selling in the more speculative bonds. Losses were in the majority in the more prominent issues, and the price index of 90 lost 8-10 of one point, the first decline in nearly a week.

The total turnover of 4,170,100 shares was the largest, with only two exceptions, for this year. Various groups had intervals of marked strength, particularly the rails, chemicals, steels and merchandising issues. Coppers and oils, however, failed to progress notably.

Grain

FORT WORTH
FORT WORTH, Aug. 25. (AP)—Demand continued good for wheat and fair for other offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market Thursday.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth freight paid:

Delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing 57@58. Barley No. 2 nominally 30 1-2@ 31 1-2. Sorghums, No. 2 yellow milo per 100 pounds 68@70; No. 2 white kaffir 67 @68.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 46@41 No. 2 white 43 1-2@44 1-2; No. 2 yellow 46 1-2@47 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 19 1-2@20.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Active buying by all interests forced wheat prices sharply higher today. Pessimistic and bearish crop news was almost completely disregarded and traders followed the action of securities and commodities, especially cotton. The maximum advance was 2 3-4 cents a bushel but reactions in stocks also brought a sinking spell to wheat. Corn and oats followed wheat. Provisions firmed with hogs and grain. Wheat closed fairly strong with the bulk of the advance retained and 1 5-8 to 2 cents a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn was firm and 3-8 to 3-4 a bushel higher, oats 3-8 advanced and provisions 2 to 8 cents higher.

The sensational rise in cotton prices, coupled with advancing stock market quotations, was the weather vane on which wheat speculators kept their eyes.

Roosevelt

make every great industry shudder.

Shows No Radicalism

"Obviously he could not be both. Actually he is neither."

Woolen, in the text given out at national headquarters, said in Roosevelt's two terms as governor "no legitimate business that I ever heard of has made any claim that he made things difficult for it, or showed any symptoms of the radicalism that his assailants charge him with."

"His political opinions are liberal, but their liberalism has never moved him to be disregardful of the rights of business and business men," the banker asserted.

"We do not wish, and you cannot permit, a few wealthy partisans to shoulder the load alone. . . . It is an unhealthy and an undesirable situation for a few rich men and women . . . to deny . . . the opportunity of the great mass of people, eager to help, a share in the financing of your campaign."

Join Great Cause

Governor Roosevelt said he felt "neither embarrassment nor reluctance" in asking for party contributions, "because I am asking you to join in a great cause—a cause that goes deeply into the things that make life worth living."

He said he was appealing "in behalf of what is much more than a political campaign."

"It is a co-operative effort participated in by Democrats and Republicans alike," he continued, "to provide for this country new leadership, new policies, new spirit in government. Under our system the only way to do this is through presidential election.

"Our battle is essentially on behalf of the plain citizen—the average citizen," he said, "and I would like to feel that everyone of those citizens, regardless of his or her political affiliations, should assume the position of a shareholder in the common enterprise and that his or her contribution should represent an investment that is to return dividends of good government.

"In what I have seen of the management of campaigns, of both parties, it has been made apparent that in the heat of the camapaign there was much waste of money and much useless ballyhoo.

Satisfactory Results

"This year it is my firm belief that by careful and economical management much of this can be eliminated and we can get satisfactory results with less money."

At Albany and at national headquarters, he said, "all feel . . . that the advantage is on our side; that the nation is pretty well set to change administrations."

"If the political situation favors us," he concluded, "we must see to it that it is not upset by anything our resourceful adversaries may do. This is going to require vigilance, constant organization, constant circulation of our principles and of our arguments, for we must not because of our present confidence, make the mistake of leaving a single outpost unguarded."

BLAKEMORE SELLS STORE

press had been subsidized and included the Avalanche-Journal in their attacks. Mr. Humphries, secretary of the local Ferguson group, praised the local newspapers for their impartiality in giving publicity on the campaign and declared that "if other papers of the state had done one-tenth of what the local papers did for us in the way of publicity, there wouldn't have been any need for a run-off. If it hadn't been for that paper, we couldn't have conducted such a campaign as we have," he said.

Predicts Majority

Hair predicted Mrs. Ferguson would get a majority of 150,000 votes on Saturday at the outset of his talk in which he attacked Sterling, Dan Moody, and the Humble and Standard Oil companies. He declared Gov. Sterling was utterly lacking in business ability and that he was controlled by the oil companies.

Amelia Earhart, Tired But Cheerful Lands At Newark With New Record To Add To Rapidly Mounting Collection

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, tired but cheerful aviatrix in brown jodphurs and a leather jacket, landed at Newark airport today completing the frist nonstop spanning of the continent ever made by a woman flier.

Succeeding where she had failed once before, the tousled-haired young woman brought her crimson and gold high wing Lockheed Vega monoplane down in a perfect three point landing at 9:31 a. m. (cst) exactly nineteen hours, four minutes, six seconds after her hop-off from Los Angeles.

Carries Two Records

Tucked in the cockpit with her, Mrs. Putnam carried two new aviation records: a transcontinental speed mark for women, and a new distance flight record for women. In making the new distance record, Mrs. Putnam surpassed the previous standard of Miss Ruth Nichols by several hundred miles. Miss Nichols set her mark of 2,000 miles on a non-stop jaunt from Oakland, Cal., to Louisville, Ky.

"It was a beautiful trip," the aviatrix said after she landed. "If I had had the weather I had on my first attempt (referring to the trans-continental attempt that ended at Columbus because of a faulty gas line) I would have broken the record." The record she spoke of is Captain Frank Hawk's non-stop trans-continental time of seventeen hours, thirty-nine minutes and fifty-nine seconds.

Speed Is Boosted

Mrs. Putnam said she negotiated the first thousand miles of her trip at an average speed of 125 m. p. h. after passing over Texas, where thunder showers slowed her up, she found a tail wind that boosted her speed for the last two thousand miles of the flight up to 160 m. p. h.

Explaining why she had not been sighted more frequently on her cross country trip, Mrs. Putnam said, "I flew at 10,000 feet altitude most of the way."

George Putnam, the flier's husband, and her stepson, David Putnam, who flew from California to New York Monday, were not at the airport to meet her.

When someone asked the aviatrix what she intended to do next, she flashed her famous smile, and replied, "I am going to my home in Rye, and rest."

highway commissioners."

Owsley Presides

The program of the rally called for Henry Owsley, attorney of Denton and brother of Alvin M Owsley, of Dallas, to preside, Mrs Henry Owsley to introduce Mrs Ferguson and Dr. Wilton Cook, former dean of men at the North Texas State Teachers college, to introduce Mr. Ferguson.

It was a wildly cheering, demonstrative crowd that gathered to hear the Fergusonian shouts of "Hurrah for Ma., Hurrah for Pa" rolled for blocks as Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson came to the rostrum while a band played "The Eyes of Texas." Owsley, Caldwell and Mrs. Owsley all got salvos of applause.

Statement Cheered

Cheers greeted Mrs. Owsley's statement that Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson had done more for the state schools in Denton than any other governors. She cited the building erected during the Fergusons' administrations as monuments to them.

Mrs. Ferguson briefly reviewed her platform of ten planks, which she said had been so popular with the public her opponents virtually had ceased to attack it. She declared her friendship for public schools had been demonstrated by the platform plank which would give the schools one-third of the gasoline tax revenue.

Will Not Gloat

"We come now to the last contest for the Democratic nomination for governor," she said. "Having received more than 100,000 more votes than my nearest opponent in the first primary, it is natural we should feel victory is near, but we are not here to gloat over figures. We are interested in the more important matters of government. I ask the suffrage of the people in the second primary on the same platform on which I asked it in the first."

Mrs. Ferguson declared she wanted her election to mean the removal from office of the present highway commission. She reiterated previous declarations that "high taxes and high interest must come down."

Denies Charges

"My friends," she said, "it has been charged that I favored opening every oil well wide open and reducing the price of oil 10 cents a barrel. I never made such a statement." She then elaborated on her stand on proration previously made public. "I want to say this, however, martial law in East Texas was the most disgraceful episode in Texas' history."

Ferguson began his address with a declaration that the management of the state's business under his administration and that of his wife, as compared with that under their successors, merited her nomination Saturday. He asserted that when he left the office in 1917 there was $5,000,000 in the state treasury and this sum was dissipated under Governor W. P. Hobby.

Extravagance Cited

"My wife left $5,300,000 in the treasury at the close of her administration," he said, "this was after she had inherited an enormous deficit. Less than 12 months later, under Dan Moody, more than half of that amount had been wasted. At the end of the present fiscal year the deficiency will be $12,225,000 and at the end of the next fiscal year the state will be $22,000,000 in the red.

"My friends, Sterling and his crowd has busted the state wide open. And yet they ask another term in office. They have given Texas the most irresponsible, most extravagant government in its history."

ing Tide of Freedom", Dr. Hill traced the progress of the human race toward liberty from ancient times.

"Science and inventions have released liberties to man with which he is unable to cope," the president stated. "He is now faced with the chaos of anarchy or the tyranny of despotism. Man has drifted inland and is stranded on the shores of selfishness and today economic conditions are threatening the life of our republic.

Need New Freedom

"Where are we going?" "Is civilization entering a Golden Age or is that age already past?", the speaker asked.

Answer was made in the need of a new freedom to humanity. One which will place a premium on industry, penalize greed, make easier the distribution of goods and more uniform the distribution of wealth.

"War must be eliminated," the speaker stated. "Laws must be enforced, government respected and life and liberty be made secure.

More Than Ideal

"Christianity must be made more than an ideal; it must reform government, purify society and motivate business.

"And the answer comes through a society made strong through individuals free to follow inclinations which are for the good of the whole. Through education people must be taught the means of enjoying life and the emphasis of moral values."

Following Dr. Hill's address, Dr. Bradford Knapp, president-elect of Texas Technological college addressed the graduates briefly. He urged them to have faith in themselves as members of an increasing number of superior individuals who will be called upon to bring the country out of its present condition.

Signed By Jones

"You are indebted to the people of Texas, to your parents and to this institution," he told them.

The diplomas were signed by Clifford B. Jones, president of the board of directors, by W. T. Gaston, secretary of the board, by Dean Gordon and by Governor Sterling.

Last night's exercises brought the total graduates of the college to excess of 1,000.

estrangement of several years, hurried from their home in Switzerland. Oser remaining in the east. It was the first time the family had been brought together in 11 years. Mrs. Hubbard's marriage last year and Fowler's marriage to the former Mrs. Stillman had estranged them from their mother for many months.

Since Harold McCormick and Mrs. McCormick were divorced 10 years ago, he had married Mme Ganna Walska, Polish opera singer, but was later divorced from her. He paid his first wife occasional visits after his second divorce and in the last two weeks was in constant attendance at Mrs. McCormick's bedside.

Brother Is Present

Late last week, John D. Rockefeller, jr., the sick woman's brother whom she had not seen for several years, left his summer home in Maine where he himself had been ill, and came here to visit his sister.

Financial worries, Krenn said hastened her final breakdown. In 1923, she organized her vast Chicago and suburban real estate holdings into the $5,000,000 Edith Rockefeller McCormick trust and intrusted management of the properties to the firm of Krenn and Dato, headed by the former Swiss architect. With the decline in values since 1928, Mrs. McCormick sacrificed a considerable portion of her private fortune in Standard Oil and other stocks to aid many who had purchased her properties.

Demand That Davis Resign As A Candidate Is Issued

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25 (AP)—A demand that James J. Davis, Pennsylvania's junior member of the United States senate, be asked to resign as a candidate for re-election, was made to the Republican state committee tonight by Gov. Gifford Pinchot.

The governor's move took the form of a letter to the Republican State Chairman General Edward Martin and was based, the governor said, upon Davis's federal indictment last week for participation in an alleged national lottery.

Sterling

Maury Maverick of San Antonio, Bexar county tax collector, said Bexar county was "too busy with its local races in the first primary to give much thought to the governor's race" but he predicted that in the run-off Sterling would carry that county by a 25,000 majority.

Ferguson Is Shrewd

Maverick was loudly applauded when he said James E. Ferguson was "one of the shrewdest men in Texas."

George O. Wallace, manager of the campaign of Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls oil man and attorney, in the first primary campaign for the governorship nomination, said the more he thought of "the solemn occasion" that will occur next Saturday, the more he believed that the voice of good government would be heard in the interest of Governor Sterling.

Support Offered

"I believed that the governor had been interested in the predatory interests," he explained, "but since I have determined that he had the courage and fortitude to defend the rights of the plain people, I decided to support him in the interest of honesty in government."

John Kay of Wichita Falls reviewed testimony representatives of oil companies gave before the last legislature. He spoke at length but his references to Ferguson's good traits were cheered by the crowd.

The crowd patiently waited while many speakers preceded Governor Sterling.

Galloway Calhoun of Tyler said the measure of a man was recorded by the service he gave to his state and recalled that Sterling had offered his help to many who needed assistance. Calhoun discussed the income tax of the Fergusons at length.

Bring In Capone

"Did you ever hear of a man by the name of Al Capone," he asked. "Former Governor Ferguson asks you to approve his income tax report but you approve your government's action in sending Capone to prison for falsifying his earnings."

Mrs. R. F. Lindsey of Mount Pleasant, past president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, introduced the governor.

"The eyes of the world are upon Texas," she said. "The Democrats of Texas are offering the next president of the United States. John Nance Garner is a probable president of the United States. Texas will have an opportunity Saturday to choose between two probable governors. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has served you. Governor Sterling has served you. You know their records. Governor Sterling will return to you your power untarnished, untouched by greed or gold."

Holiness Minister In Critical Condition As Result Of Stabbing And Shooting On Missouri Highway

JOPLIN, Mo., Aug. 25 (AP)—The Rev. G. V. Williamson, 64, a Holiness minister, was unconscious in a hospital at Neosho today and in a critical condition as a result of a stabbing and shooting affray at Racine, south of here, yesterday afternoon.

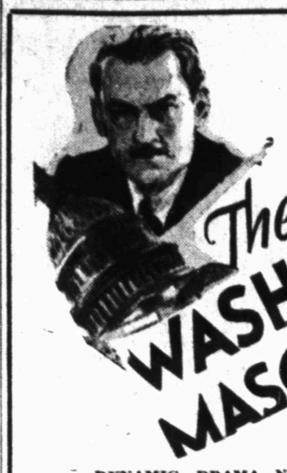

Charles Fisher, 23, who admitted he clubbed the minister with a shotgun after Williamson had stabbed two women members of his congregation and shot at Fisher, was being held by Newton county officials but probably will be released today.

Williamson is alleged to have shot at Fisher with the shotgun while standing on the runningboard of a car driven by Fisher and then to have stabbed the two women with a pocket knife when they interfered. Jealousy over Fisher's attention to Mrs. Myrtle Dunn, 50, also a holiness preacher, was given as the cause of Williamson's attack. He later stabbed himself. Mrs. Fay Daniels, 35, was the other woman stabbed. Both were occupants of the car owned by Mrs. Daniels.

Mrs. Dunn is a widow and Mrs. Daniels is the wife of a Racine resident. The three were on their way to a church service and had given the minister a ride on the running board.

Texans To Face Murder Charges

GLENWOOD, Ia., Aug. 25 (AP)—First degree murder charges will be filed late today against Archie M. Jenkins, Houston, Texas, C. J. Hester, Houston, and Ralph Arnold, Waco, Texas, for the murder of Angelo Sivigliano, Omaha racketeer, County Attorney Gilliland here announced today.

Gilliland said that Harold Gessel, Iowa state ballistics expert at Des Moines, had checked the findings of Detective Ronald MacDonald of the Omaha police force and agreed with them exactly.

"There isn't a bit of doubt in the world that bullets from Jenkins' gun killed Sivigliano; the test bullets and the bullets from Sivigliano's body corresponded exactly," said Gilliland.

Gilliland said Hester and Arnold, who were arrested in Omaha with Jenkins, will face the same charge. A preliminary hearing was set for late today.

Governor Roosevelt May Be Scheduled To Meet Smith

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Announcement that Gov. Roosevelt would attend a luncheon and reception on Sunday at the Westhampton, Long Island, home of Basil O'Connor, his former law partner, gave rise to speculation today as to the possibility that he might meet former Gov. Smith there for the first time since the Democratic convention.

Former Gov. Smith is a frequent visitor at Westhampton and last year both he and Gov. Roosevelt were guests of O'Connor at a dinner there.

At the Smith offices it was said the former governor was not there and that so far as was known he had not received an invitation to be a guest at the O'Connor luncheon to Gov. Roosevelt.

Attorneys Accept Ruling As Final

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 25 (AP)—Apparently accepting as final the district court ruling which upheld Governor Murray's military control of proration in the Oklahoma City oil field, attorneys for the Union Crude Oil Transport Co., failed to appear in court today.

Lieut. Col. Cicero I. Murray, in charge of the guardsmen in the field said the company would drop its suit for an injunction to prevent seizure of a pipeline by the troops and would abide by proration rules.

Dismissal of the suit will lift a temporary restraining order issued by Judge Sam Hooker against Col. Murray.

"The Union people have agreed to abide by corporation commission rules and file reports," Col. Murray said. "Their attorney told me the suit would be dismissed."

Sid White, who filed the suit, yesterday lost his battle to enjoin the governor's military forces from seizing two Russell Petroleum company wells because of alleged overproduction.
