Stone awarded fire station bid

By Ray Mayo
Editor

Virgil Stone of Colorado City was awarded the bid for the city's new fire station during a special meeting of the Colorado City council Tuesday night.

Total cost of the new facility will be $413,836 and work should begin within a week to 10 days, according to Don Hampton, architect.

Stone, the only local bidder, was the third lowest bidder when bids were opened November 29. He bid $466,600 for the job while Allied Steel Company of Abilene bid $442,000 and J. L. Moore Building Construction of Odessa bid $457,500.

However, Hampton said he met with the four lowest bidders and after deleting some of the items called for in the original specifications, Stone was the lowest bidder.

In addition, Hampton said he could not recommend Allied Steel because of its past performance record.

Mayor Elmer Martin explained that local contractors are given special consideration and that the time factor also had to be considered. In Stone's bid, the calendar days totaled 210 while Allied Steel had 250 and J. L. Moore had 240.

The new fire station will be built on property on 11th Street behind the school administration building.

In accepting Stone's bid, the council also accepted three alternates including finishing a storage area in order that it might someday be used for dormitory space for an additional $2,237; omiting a court yard area for a savings of $2,646.60; and omiting a diesel fuel storage and pump for a savings of $9,538.

Other items the council agreed to omit from the original specifications include trench drains in the apparatus room for a savings of $5,280 and roof bond for a savings of $800. Allowance of two tons off additional steel saved $3,600.

By using 1½ inch asphalt topping instead of 2½ inch, the

Martinez named fireman of year

Rufino Martinez, a life-long resident of Colorado City, was named Fireman of the Year during the annual Colorado City Volunteer Department Christmas Dinner held Monday night at the Civic Center.

Martinez is a mechanic at Key Brothers Implement.

Fire Chief Jerry Hammond presided at the dinner and Don Webb, secretary, presented the annual report.

Webb noted that the department made 118 calls in 1985 with 103 of those booster fires, 12 plug fires and three were rescue calls.

He noted that for the third year in a row, there were no drownings reported in Mitchell County. He also noted that the total payroll for firemen this year was $7,478, some $4,000 less than the previous year.

Also on hand for the dinner was Santa Claus who visited with the children.

Update given on annual Christmas parade

Penny Solomon, Chamber of Commerce manager, told the chamber board Monday night that there are seven confirmed floats for the annual Christmas parade set Saturday, December 14.

Miss Solomon said that there are "quite a few other groups involved" in the 7 p.m. parade. She also noted that Jim Baum will be announcing each entry as the parade makes its way through the downtown area. Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place floats.

Plans are now being made to have Santa Claus at the gazebo before and-or after the parade, depending upon the weather, she said.

She said plans are progressing on the annual banquet and that this year, nominations for the Citizen of the Year will be made by the public through nomination forms printed in the RECORD. Other awards presented during the banquet include Farm Family of the Year, B&PW Woman of the Year and Lions Club special award.

Chamber president Ronnie Aston read a letter from the Hamlin Independent School District thanking the chamber for its help in hosting the bi-district football game at Wolf Stadium several weeks ago.

Aston said he had also received a letter from the Small Business Administration acknowledging the chamber's nomination of Raymond and Virginia Fuller for Small Business Person of the Year for 1986.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Trey Smith from the board and named David Hoover to fill the vacancy.

Aston noted that new members of the chamber include Donny's Automotive, Lujan's Restaurant, Farm Bureau, Matlock's, West Texas Appraisals and Webb's Automotive Supply.

Church notes anniversary

Payne Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal (C.M.E.) Church, which is located in Colorado City, will celebrate its 102nd anniversary at 3 p.m. on Sunday, December 8.

The anniversary sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Jerrion G. Smith III, minister at Antioch C.M.E. Church in Abilene. A graduate of Wiley College in Marshall, he has done additional study at Atlanta University in Atlanta, Ga., and Hardin-Simmons University.

After serving 4½ years in Arp as pastor of Spring C.M.E. Church, two years at Carter Temple C.M.E. Church, Greenville and two years at Porter Temple C.M.E. Church in San Antonio, Rev. Smith was assigned to the Abilene church in 1984. He was a delegate to the 1982 General Conference in Memphis, Tenn.

He is married to the former Brenda Moore. They have one son, Jerrion G Smith IV. Mrs. Smith, a graduate of West Texas State University in Canyon, is employed as a social worker at Abilene State School. Rev. Smith is a recreation therapist at Abilene State School.

Payne Chapel was orginally organized in 1883. The organization of the congregation was due largely to the efforts of William Baxter and Emily (Emma) Alexander, Flora Brooks Dunn and Amanda Vanella Everett.

Growing out of religious services held jointly by members of Baptist and Methodist faiths, the Mehodist congregation was formally organized by the Rev. J. I. Turner of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church. This event took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Dunn, which also provided the setting for the organization of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, which elected Mr. Dunn as chairman of its board of trustees. Mrs. Dunn, the former Flora (Brooks) Keen, became a member of Payne Chapel's first board of trustees.

Services were held in homes of members and other available places until 1889 when a church building was erected where the Dawson Hotel now stands. The church was named "Payne Chapel" in honor of Rev. J. E. Payne, who was assigned as

Timed Release

Cold-cough drugs and other medicines taken orally are dissolved in the stomach and intestines. They then are absorbed through the stomach and intestine walls into the blood stream which carries them to the head, lungs, nose and other target organs. This action generally occurs within an hour or two. A drug's peak activity as defined by its maximal levels in the bloodstream typically occurs about one to two hours after ingestion. However, a drug may continue to be present and active for several more hours after it is taken. Timed release products spread out and delay absorption from the gastrointestinal tract. Their objective is to provide effective drug action for up to 8 to 12 hours.

Young, Bruce exchange vows

Diane F. Young became the bride of Leslie W. Bruce at 7 p.m. on November 22 at the First United Methodist Church in Loraine.

Rev. Cletus Beights and Rev. Reta Richards officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Stacy of Kermit. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bruce of Loraine.

Two fifteen branch brass candelabra were flanked by two white baskets of pink gladiolas and lilac carnations. Lilac bows marked the parents pews.

Mrs. Rex McDaniel of Loraine provided wedding music.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride chose a gown of white organza overlaid with Rachelle lace. The bodice, covered with bridal pearls and lace featured bishop sleeves with lace cuffs. The skirt fell into an A line ending in a flounce.

She also wore a chapel length train which featured a picture hat of lace attached to a walking length veil of illusion.

She carried a lace fan covered with lilac carnations among white carnations and roses. Accenting the bouquet were baby's breath, lilac leaves with white and lilac streamers.

In keeping with tradition, for something old she wore a pearl necklace which belonged to the groom's grandmother. She borrowed her sister's wedding dress, her shoes were something new and her garter served as something blue.

Shelly Sellers of Wickett served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a floor length lilac gown of voil which featured a scooped neckline with ruffles accenting puffed sleeves.

Kevin Sellers, brother-in-law of the bride, served as candle lighter.

Greg Bruce, brother of the groom of Slaton, stood as best man.

Arvil Smith of El Paso and Richard Smith, the groom's uncle of Hermleigh, ushered guests.

A reception honored the couple in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table featured crystal serving pieces and crystal candle holders with lilac candles flanked by the bride's fan bouquet which served as the centerpiece.

Members of the houseparty were Jana Bruce, Julie Smith, and Jennifer Smith, all cousins of the groom; Sheila Womack and Shelly Martin.

The couple will reside in Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of Kermit High School and Western Texas College where she graduated with honors in an Associate of Applied Arts Degree. She is employed with Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam of Lubbock as a legal secretary.

The groom is a graduate of Loraine High School and Howard College with an Associate of Applied Arts degree. He is now attending Texas Tech University as a junior major in horticulture.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Midland, Muleshoe, Lubbock, El Paso, Colorado City, Roscoe, Dallas, Los Angeles, Calif.; San Diego, Calif., San Angelo, Houston, Wickett, Snyder, Hermleigh and Slaton.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home.
