Eden, Mendes-France Agree On Necessity Of Cooperative Plan

Both In Favor Of Early Conference

PARIS (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Premier Mendes-France announced tonight they had agreed on the necessity for "close cooperation between France and West Germany" but did not say they had agreed on the means for achieving it.

In a communique issued after two days of conferences, the Foreign Secretary and the Premier said they had fully agreed on the basic principle of a united Europe, including the full participation of Great Britain.

They also said they are in favor of developing and reinforcing the Atlantic community. The communique did not give any details of how these objectives are to be accomplished.

The diplomats agreed, the communique said, that it would be useful to call a conference soon to discuss political points in common among the Western nations.

Eden and Mendes-France came out of a 2½ hour conference at the French Foreign Ministry.

Mendes-France said there was "no contradiction and nothing irreconcilable" in their viewpoints. He announced there would be a meeting of countries in the projected Western alliance in London probably on Sept. 27.

Mendes-France talked to a large crowd of reporters in the lobby of the French Foreign Ministry after Eden had driven off in a pelting rain.

The French Premier explained that the two points of view had been fully set forth and a beginning made on bringing them together. Diplomatic exchanges in the next few days, he added, would bring the view points even closer together.

Earlier in the day, Eden informed the 14 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council about his plan.

It was a closed meeting, with no information about it issued officially. French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, whose consent to the plan Eden still is seeking, presided.

No debate had been scheduled on Eden's presentation, and he and Mendes-France left the meeting after it was finished. The others remained to talk about plans for a meeting of the members' foreign ministers, which the United States asked after France turned down the European Defense Community.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, who wants the meeting soon, is due in West Germany today. There he is expected to hear renewed German insistence on membership in the NATO, toward which the United States is sympathetic, though France and some other European countries are hesitant.

Eden's success or failure depended on his final talks this afternoon with Premier Pierre Mendes-France, whose lack of enthusiasm for the six-nation European Defense Community helped the French National Assembly scuttle that keystone of Western policy.

In his search for a substitute for EDC, Eden has won support for his new plan from the leaders of the other five members of the ill-fated European Army plan—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The British, who backed EDC but would not join it, propose to link a rearmed West Germany and Italy to the Brussels mutual defense pact signed in 1948 by Britain, France and the Benelux trio.

The alliance presumably would operate under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which has taken over the military phases of the Brussels pact. Unlike the one-uniform international army which EDC would have set up, each country would retain control of its own troops, but limits would be placed on German rearmament.

The big hurdle was to get France to accept such an arrangement. Eden and Mendes-France spent six hours together yesterday discussing the German rearmament issue without coming to any conclusion.

Today the fast-traveling British diplomat's schedule included:

1. An explanation of his plan to the 14-nation North Atlantic Council under Mendes-France's chairmanship.

2. A British Embassy luncheon for Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, NATO military commander in Europe and a group of top European delegates.

3. The final talks with Mendes-France this afternoon.

Eden and Mendes-France declined last night to say whether they were heading toward agreement. They promised to issue statements at the close of their talks.

French officials have expressed belief that Mendes-France might not object to including West Germany in the NATO alliance, provided Britain and America pledge to keep their forces on the European continent and to keep Germany from attaining military dominance.

The situation was complicated by announcement that U.S. Secretary of State Dulles was flying to Bonn and London, reportedly with his own proposals for German rearmament.

His failure to include Paris in his itinerary was seen here as a deliberate snub inspired by France's rejection of EDC. In a statement in Washington before leaving, however, the American secretary said he could not visit other capitals because he had to be back for the opening of the U.N. Assembly Tuesday.

In London, both Conservative and Laborite newspapers expressed fear that Dulles' action might heighten French resistance to any German rearmament scheme.

Nixon Warns Of Danger In GOP Disunity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon last night urged Republicans to knuckle down to the business of winning elections and warned them of the dangers of party disunity.

Nixon declared:

"If you were for Eisenhower in 1952 . . . you have no choice but to vote for Republican candidates for the House and Senate in 1954."

"One of our major dangers is disunity in the Republican organization. The Maine organization was fighting amongst themselves," he said.

A Democratic governor recently was elected in Maine, the first time in 20 years, but Republicans won the state's senatorial and congressional seats.

The party must work hard, said Nixon, because if too many Democrats get in Congress they will "torpedo" President Eisenhower's program in mid-term.

Nixon said Eisenhower opponents in the 84th Congress would be looking closer at the 1956 presidential election than towards helping the GOP administration enact its program.

"A democratic senate and house would torpedo this magnificent work—now at its mid-mark," Nixon said.

He addressed the one-day Republican State Convention in a nearly filled 2,845-seat movie theater in Columbus.

"Run scared," he said, because, "the battles we lose, generally we were too sure of winning."

The speech kicked off a 31-state barnstorming tour in the next 45 days by Nixon in behalf of President Eisenhower to help elect a working Republican majority in Congress this November.

Nixon said a large turnout of voters would assure a Republican victory.

It's "the pressure groups" that will vote Democratic, the Vice President averred. If there is a small vote, he continued, those "pressure groups" will carry the election.

Alternative To EDC Is Vital, Dulles Says

BONN, Germany (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared here today "an alternative must be found" to bring West Germany as an equal partner into the Western alliance.

Arriving by plane for emergency consultations in Germany and Britain, the American diplomatic chief was greeted by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Adenauer arranged for almost immediate private discussions with him in search of a substitute for the dead European Defense Community treaty.

The talks with Dulles will be decisive for Germany's fate, the 78-year-old Chancellor had told deputies before departing for the airport from a parliamentary debate. In the debate, Socialists were attacking his government for what they called its "system of secret decisions."

Dulles made it clear in a statement at the airport that he was interested perhaps more in what Adenauer has to say than in any idea he may be bringing with him.

Dulles commented, for example, that Adenauer's government "has consistently followed such enlightened policies that its views must now command great respect."

Dulles said in a broadcast report to America last night that he believed the new Southeast Asia defense pact would make a "substantial contribution" to the preservation of free governments and to the blocking of further Communist expansion.

Furthermore, he pictured "powerful naval and air forces" of the United States in the western Pacific as backing up the treaty signed at Manila last week with threat of retaliation against any aggressor.

He said this threat can protect many nations as effectively as it can protect one.

His radio-TV talk, filmed in advance, was broadcast almost three hours after he had left by plane for Europe on a quick mission to find out at first hand what measures European leaders have in mind now that the French national Assembly has shelved the European Defense Community treaty under which West Germany would have been rearmed.

It was understood that in talks at Bonn with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and at London with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden, Dulles would urge that any new formula should seek to preserve the principle of close French-German cooperation which was envisaged in the EDC plan.

There was some indication here that because of his interest in this principle Dulles was not very enthusiastic about a reported proposal by Eden to associate Germany and Italy with a defensive pact drawn up at Brussels in 1948 by England, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

This pact does not provide for any supra-national authority such as EDC would have created and under which France, Germany and the other EDC countries would have merged their European forces into a single international army.

The French vote against EDC was taken two weeks ago when Dulles was deeply involved in arrangements for the Manila conference. Thus his mission to Europe provides the first opportunity he has had for active personal participation in the search for a new solution to the German problem.

In a statement here last night he said he was interested in the development of steps "to restore German sovereignty and to enable her to contribute to the maintenance of international peace and security."

In his broadcast on the Manila meeting, Dulles stressed the role to be played by U. S. forces but said the treaty would not require any substantial change in American military plans.

He said he had told representatives of the other seven nations at Manila that the United States has responsbilities "so vast and so far flung" that it could best serve the cause of security "by developing the deterrent of mobile striking power, plus strategically placed reserves."

American military plans, he said, "already call for our maintaining at all times powerful naval and air forces in the Western Pacific capable of striking at any aggressor by means and at places of our own choosing."

"The deterrent power we thus create," he said, "can protect many, as effectively as it protects one."

Completion In Fluvanna Area Logged Today

Bright & Schiff of Dallas have reported completion of the No. 1 S. E. Clawson in the Fluvanna multipay area of Northwest Scurry County.

The well flowed 24 hours on the potential test to make 126 barrels of 39.8-gravity oil plus 39.4 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 675-1. Tubing pressure was 175 pounds.

The hole was drilled to 8,391 feet and five and one-half-inch casing was cemented at 8,295 feet. Plugged-back total depth is 8,288 feet. Completion was through perforations at 7,851-859 feet, which the operator reported had been treated with 966 gallons of acid.

The No. 1 Clawson was started early in March and temporarily abandoned at about 300 feet. Operations were resumed in June. It is 1,990 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the lease in section 538-97-H&TC, about two miles north of Fluvanna.

Schools Plan Adult Classes

Regular students are already well started in school, and the school system is now getting ready to start adults in school.

Adult classes are now being planned for this semester, according to high school principal, T. D. Wiman, Jr., who said several inquiries have been made concerning the classes.

In the past, Wiman said, the classes have consisted of typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and wood and metal shopwork. It is hoped, Wiman added, that a class in arts and crafts can be added this year, along with any other courses in which there is sufficient interest.

All persons interested in the classes have been asked to meet at 7 o'clock Monday night to get information on this semester's classes. The meeting will be held in room 124 of the high school. Wiman has asked that any person who may be out of town and cannot get to the meeting call the school if he is interested.

Each semester's classes will be held for 15 weeks, with a minimum of 16 persons to the class. The classes, when started, will meet from 7 to 9 o'clock each Monday and Thursday nights.

Last year, an average of about 40 persons were in the adult classes.

Shepperd Due To File Brief

AUSTIN (AP)—A brief on segregation in the public schools for fall consideration of the U.S. Supreme Court will be filed by State Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd said yesterday in a press statement that the brief will urge the view that Texas should be allowed to work out its own problems.

Texas is one of several states which will file "friend of the court" briefs although not directly involved in the cases in which the court ruled May 17 that segregation of Negro and white students in public schools is unconstitutional.

Several months of "constant and exhaustive study," Shepperd said, have been made into the problem by his office.

The attorney general said the filing of a brief would not bind this state in any decree resulting from the cases which involve Virginia, Kansas, Delaware, South Carolina and the District of Columbia.

Freed Convict Surrenders

FORT WORTH (AP)—Donald Bouchillon walked quietly into the county jail this morning and gave himself up.

Sentenced to serve the rest of his life in the Texas penitentiary, he was freed from prison 12 days ago by a mixup in records there.

Police throughout the nation were being alerted for the 26-year-old Fort Worth hoodlum, convicted here last year as a habitual criminal.

He was described as dangerous and reportedly had threatened he was out for revenge on a deputy sheriff and an assistant district attorney here who helped send him to prison.

But his whole manner upon surrendering was friendly and he repeatedly denied making any threats.

Smedley Acquitted Of Felony DWI Charge

A jury deliberated four hours last night and returned a verdict acquitting David Henry Smedley, Jr., about 30, Snyder, of a grand jury indictment of driving while intoxicated as a repeated offense.

The case was tried as a felony because Smedley had previously been convicted of a similar offense in a county court.

Jurors were Billy Joe Brown, Stanley Noahs Grover Scott, W. H. Grant, Sig Line, J. L. Hale, Ray Farrell, Ray Haney, Alvis Minton, Billy Clement, G. A. Warner, and John T. Lynch, Jr.

Squally Weather Due Along Upper Coast

By The Associated Press

Squally weather was in store for the upper half of the Texas coastal country Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said a storm area in the Gulf of Mexico had moved northwest during Wednesday night, and that squalls with winds of 25 to 35 miles an hour could be expected from Mobile, Ala., to Port O'Connor, Tex.

Small craft were advised to stay in port Thursday and Thursday night.

For the rest of the state the weather was clear and warm.

ADLAI DEMANDS 'REAPPRAISAL'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Democrat Adlai Stevenson last night called for an "agonizing reappraisal" in the hearts of Republican politicians "who for so long nourished us on myths and McCarthyism."

"One of the myths and distortions that has been carefully cultivated for a long time is that the Democratic party is anti-business," he told a Democratic campaign dinner.

The 1952 presidential candidate said the Republican "hatchet men will conduct the smear attacks on the flanks" while President Eisenhower delivers "little sermonettes."

But he said the election this week of a Democratic governor in Maine for the first time in 20 years confirms that "our people are tired of this unending diet of equal portions of niceness, nonsense and nastiness."

His reference to "an agonizing reappraisal" was a take-off on a similar phrase used by Secretary of State Dulles several months ago regarding foreign policy and Indochina. He said:

"The 'agonizing reappraisal' for which Mr. Dulles called should begin first of all in the hearts of the Republican politicians who for so long have nourished us on myths and McCarthyism for political profit."

Stevenson made no further direct reference to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Stevenson devoted a substantial part of his address to business and how he said it prospered under Democratic presidents.

"For every three business enterprises existing in this country when the Democrats took office in 1933, there were four by 1953," he said. "The rate of business failures during the so-called Golden 20s was 20,000 a year. But that figure dropped to only 6,000 a year even during the hard post-World War II period of adjustment from war to peace to defense mobilization.

"Corporation profits after taxes were more than twice as high in 1952 as in the Republican peak year of 1929."

He said both the Democratic party and the business community want "vigorous, stimulating competition in a growing economy."

"And I hope that hard-headed businessmen will take some hard looks at the record at those old slogans about Democratic left-wingers," he remarked. "Maybe the term 'left' refers to the asset side of the balance sheet."

While the Democrats favor business, he said, the party regrets the present prevailing theory of the Republicans that the way to help 165,000,000 people is by "granting special favors and advantages to a few, whether by tax laws, smothering public power development, or giving away our natural resources."

The most important thing to any business—a corner drug store or a factory—is "customers with money in their pocketbooks," said the former governor of Illinois.

"Four or five million unemployed men and women means that eight or 10 million American consumers have become poor customers," Stevenson told the 1,500 diners, who paid $10 a plate to hear him speak. "It is essential that this buying power be restored."

He called for an expanded world trade and an expanded national economy.

He said the country needs more power, more steel, more machine tools.

"America is busting its seams," he declared. "We'll have to hustle to keep up with ourselves."

But he cautioned that government, business, labor and agriculture must adopt policies promoting full employment without inflation.

Price Of Milk Goes Up Here

Milk prices went up a cent a quart in most Snyder groceries today, a quart carton of homogenized milk now selling at 26 cents. The rise was announced to the Daily News this morning by the Borden Co.

Several stores contacted announced their current price as 26 cents a quart, whereas some stores were already selling milk at 26 cents and are raising the price to 27.

Prices increased a cent a quart during the first week of August, but several of the larger groceries did not raise their prices at that time but are raising them now. Several weeks prior to the August raise, milk prices had dropped. The new price on a half-gallon carton is 51 cents.

Solons Disagree On Plans For Session

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic senators divided today on whether the Senate should be called back before the Nov. 2 congressional elections to act on censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said that if a special committee appointed to investigate the charges makes its report before or shortly after Oct. 1, "the Senate should promptly reconvene to consider whatever recommendations it may submit."

But in a separate interview Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), an avowed friend of McCarthy, said any such report should be put aside and no action taken on it until the next Congress meets in January.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) took the view that the nature of the committee's report would determine whether a Senate session should be called. He said there would be no reason for such a session if the committee recommended against censure.

The special bipartisan committee, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), completed nine days of public hearings on the case Monday and has indicated its report may be ready by Oct. 1 or earlier.

Once the report is completed, it will be up to the Senate's Republican and Democratic leaders, Knowland of California and Lyndon Johnson of Texas, to set a date for the Senate to return.

The censure resolution, introduced by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), asked the Senate to condemn McCarthy's conduct as unbecoming a senator and as tending to bring the Senate into disrepute.

Flanders and Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore) filed 46 supporting charges. Thirteen of these, grouped into five general categories, are being considered by the special committee.

The charges under study range from McCarthy's alleged contempt of a Senate subcommittee that investigated his financial and other affairs in 1952 to claims that he has been abusive of Senate colleagues and that he illegally received and made use of material from a secret FBI memorandum. McCarthy entered a denial on all counts.

Gore said he would favor prompt Senate consideration of the special committee's report, provided it is submitted around Oct. 1.

However, he said, "I wouldn't think the senators should be called back during the last week or two weeks before the election. They owe a responsibility to themselves and to their people to present their cause."

McCarran said "the silliness connected with the McCarthy case has gone too far already and it should not be allowed to take up any more time of the Senate."

Thompson Asks Nullification Of FPC's Gas Control Ruling

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—A presidential study committee now at work should help free the production and gathering of natural gas from control by the Federal Power Commission, Chairman Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission said today.

Thompson, a member of Texas' oil and gas regulatory agency more than 20 years, made his suggestion in a speech for delivery at the 52nd annual meeting of the National Petroleum Assn.

His proposal called for congressional action that would nullify a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Phillips case which recognized the FPC's power to regulate the price of all natural gas flowing into interstate commerce.

Thompson also renewed his plea to oil companies to reduce imports so domestic oil production can be increased.

Thompson said President Eisenhower's appointment of a committee to inquire into the fuels situation with respect to oil, gas and coal was timely and wise.

"Due to the U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Phillips case, there must be a policy laid down for consideration of the next Congress to make clear the congressional intent that mere production and gathering of natural gas was never intended to come under the scope of regulation by the federal power commission . . .," Thompson said.

Such matters of conservation, he continued, "are expressly sovereign state prerogatives—not federal."

"Surely control of oil and gas production within a sovereign state was never intended by the congress to come under federal power commission regulation," said Thompson.

"This point, I feel sure, the Congress will clear up next session."

He said that if the FPC is to fix prices of natural gas, perhaps Congress should instruct the FPC to consider the competitive energy producing value of gas as compared with coal and oil.

Thompson said gas producers long have contended that prices paid for natural gas are not high enough when that fuel's energy producing value is compared with that of coal and oil. They fear that price-fixing authority in the hands of the FPC would preclude gas purchasers ever winning what they consider a fair price.

On the problem of imports, Thompson repeated his frequent statement of recent years that "it is now high time for action on the part of the importing companies instead of mere words."

"When we moved from a net exporting nation of petroleum and its products, it seems crystal clear to me that we are allowing domestic production to be supplanted by foreign oil to a degree that threatens our domestic oil producing industry," said Thompson.

"When Texas has for months been forced to a 50 per cent shutdown in oil production through lack of demand for Texas crude, I know our Texas oil is being supplanted. Texas wells in this month of September, 1954, are allowed to produce only 15 days. That is approaching the plight of coal producers."

Testimony Heard In Election Contests

By The Associated Press

For some Texans the July 24 and Aug. 28 Democratic primaries still were not over Thursday.

In Lockhart, some 20 miles south of Austin, charges of fraud and intimidation in the July primary were hurled in 21st District Court Wednesday. Testimony began in a trial contesting the election of Caldwell County Sheriff Lonnie Dotson.

And in Houston, Dist. Atty. Ewing Werlein said "valuable" evidence had been uncovered in the probe of irregularities in the Aug. 28 runoff vote in a Harris County precinct.

At Lockhart, 283 absentee ballots were involved and at Houston some 324 votes for Ralph Yarborough, the defeated gubernatorial candidate, were in question.

Attorneys for Carl Roberts, who lost to Dotson by 44 votes in the Caldwell County sheriff's race, brought two witnesses to the stand to back up charges that irregularities occurred.

Roberts' attorneys are attempting to have the 283 absentee votes thrown out of the official tabulation because they were not accompanied by either a poll tax receipt, an exemption or an affidavit establishing eligibility to vote.

Should the votes in question at Lockhart be disqualified, Roberts would be sheriff by a 9-vote majority. And testimony was to continue Thursday before Judge Leslie D. Williams of Brenham.

In the Harris County controversy, it is alleged that although the Barrett's Settlement precinct, predominately Negro, had an official 292 votes on its list, there were 324 votes cast for Yarborough and none for Gov. Allan Shivers.

A Houston supporter of Shivers, W. Gail Reeves, requested the investigation. He said he took the action as an individual and not as the governor's representative. He maintains that any precinct that votes 110 per cent for one man requires investigation.

B. S. Griffin, principal of the Drew Negro High School and precinct 251 chairman, reported that a number of people not on the official poll list voted in the precinct after signing affidavits.

Griffin said also that it had been customary for a number of years for white residents of the Barrett's Settlement community to vote in nearby Crosby and for Negro residents of Crosby to vote at Barrett's Settlement.

Griffin also said most of the names on the affidavits were in the same handwriting but that this resulted from an "honest error" by an election clerk.

Werlein did not indicate the nature of the so-called new evidence. His staff has been probing the case for two weeks. They met Wednesday to check the evidence against the state election code.

Children's Reading Material Analyzed At P-TA Meeting

The importance of proper reading material for children was emphasized by Warder K. Novak when he spoke at a meeting of the East Elementary Parent-Teacher Association yesterday.

Novak quoted statistics prepared by a committee on comic book evaluation in Cincinnati, which rated the comic booms from cultural, moral and emotional standpoints. Psychiatrists have found that 95 per cent of adult interests can be traced back to the time before the individual has reached 10 years of age, he added, and 93 per cent of these interests were found to have been initiated in the home. Novak closed his discussion with a poem titled "Home."

During the business meeting, the PTA voted to cooperate with the city PTA council on a comic book evaluation project. Mrs. Damon Worley was elected city council representative for the unit. Mrs. Guy Moore was elected secretary.

Escapee From Hospital Shot By Policeman

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Shouting "come and get me, I want to die," a crazed carpenter pushed a woman hostage at gun point onto her front porch then stepped through the door to his death in a hail of bullets from an off-duty policeman's gun.

H. B. Long, 42, an escapee from the Arkansas State Mental Hospital yesterday held Mrs. A. D. Lynn captive in her home while he deliberated his next move and repeatedly shouted to police: "You'll have to come get me, I want to die. I don't want to go back to that lie-place."

Mrs. Lynn said, "I felt sorry for him and tried to talk him into giving up his gun. I told him that was better than death, but he wouldn't listen."

Long was on his way from his ward to the barber shop when he bolted the line and escaped. During his shortlived freedom he terrorized persons in West Little Rock by brandishing a .22 caliber rifle.

Entering the home of Mrs. Effie Callihan, he said:

"I won't hurt you, I just can't go back to that lie-place."

He left after Mrs. Callihan gave him a bottle of water.

Long found Mrs. Lynn in her backyard and ordered her into the house. He asked if she knew anyone who owned a car. "I need a car to get away," he said.

Mrs. Lynn said she began dialing the telephone but Long suddenly jerked the receiver from her hand. "I've changed my mind," he told her.

A neighbor, A. Lewis, had heard the commotion in the yard and called police.

A dozen officers surrounded the house and called to the man to surrender. When Long refused a policeman asked if he would free Mrs. Lynn.

Long then began marching Mrs. Lynn through the house and onto the front porch. Mrs. Lynn walked calmly — "as if she were on her way shopping," one officer said — although Long was behind her with a gun at her back.

Mrs. Lynn said as she walked into the yard, "not daring to think," she sensed a swift movement behind her and fell to the ground. She fell only a few feet in front of Long as Gene Smith, an off-duty policeman, opened fire.

Long fell under a fusilade of six shots—only one missed the target.

As he rolled to the ground, he groaned:

"Thanks fellows...That's good enough, it's just what I wanted."

A moment later he was dead.

Bootlegging Charge Filed

Frederick Eugene Sanford, Snyder Negro, was charged in county court here this morning with bootlegging.

Sanford told the court this morning that he wanted to plead guilty but later altered the plea and asked for trial by jury, which was set for next Tuesday. Bond was set for him at $1,000.

Judge Edgar Taylor gave Sanford his choice of a fine of $250 plus court cost and six months in the county jail or a year in jail without fine. Sanford said he would like some time to decide. The judge ordered him to jail pending the decision, but Sanford then decided he would have a jury trial.

Sanford was arrested last night two blocks south of the square by Howard Gibbons, deputy sheriff, and E. W. Green, highway patrolman.

With Sanford at the time of the arrest were two other Negro men who were charged in justice court this morning with vagrancy. Both pleaded guilty and were assessed fines of $38 each, including court cost. They were Eddie Reed, who has been convicted here of bootlegging, and Floyd Wellington.

The men were arrested in an automobile belonging to Mrs. Martha Holland Hill, Negro widow who has previously been convicted numerous times for bootlegging.

Officers said they confiscated 24 pints and 49 half-pints of whisky, 120 pints of wine, and 24 cans of beer.

A jack rabbit can get up to 40 miles per hour over a short distance.

Tickets Ready For Speaking Event Friday

All persons planning to attend the speaking event tomorrow night featuring Mrs. George H. (Billie) Davis are urged to purchase tickets by noon tomorrow, A. T. Nicholas, the school's director of business services announced today.

Tickets for the dinner-speaking event at $1 each are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, 1911 Twenty-fifth Street, and at all offices of school principals. Tickets may be purchased at the high school cafeteria at the time of the event, but it is hoped all who can will purchase them before that time so that those in charge of arrangements can foresee the size of the crowd.

Mrs. Davis is a nationally-known public speaker and author of "I Was a Hobo Kid," an article published a few years ago in the Saturday Evening Post and reprinted in the Reader's Digest.

Mrs. Davis will tell of her success as she attributes it to the public schools of America.

She is national Sunday school representative for the Assemblies of God.

The dinner is to be held at 7 o'clock at the high school cafeteria.

Civic Music Shows Gain In Enrollment

Civic Music Association enrollment at the close of business Wednesday showed an increase over last year's enrollment at the halfway mark of the campaign. Mrs. James Walker, headquarters chairman, stated that only one-fifth of the workers had reported. Friday has been set as 2nd report day and it is requested that all members turn in cards and dues to headquarters that day. This leaves Saturday to make a final tabulation, check cards, etc.

A tabulation of the talent ballots turned in up to now indicates a preference for entertainment in this order: dance attractions, first; piano, second; orchestra, third; vocal ensemble, fourth; violin, fifth. This represents only about one-third of the ballots out. Ronald Hubbard, president of the association, said, "when final tabulations are made Saturday the entertainment preferences may be completely different."

Confession Of Convict Not 'Holding Up'

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The confession of an Oklahoma convict that he murdered a Penn State College coed 14 years ago to keep her from exposing him as a dope peddler "isn't holding up good at all," Pennsylvania State Police said today.

Jack Ray, 34, told prison authorities in Oklahoma City Tuesday that he bludgeoned Rachel Taylor to death here in 1940 because she had a letter written by a girl he named only as "Candy" which would expose a dope ring in which he operated.

Cpl. Howard Hancock of the Pennsylvania State Police told a reporter Ray's confession when checked against the records of the crime, "isn't holding up good at all.

"We have checked the many names Ray supplied in his detailed account of the crime and none to date have checked out," Hancock said.

The corporal was the first state policeman called into the murder investigation after the Taylor girl's body was found and he has spent thousands of hours in an attempt to track down the killer of the 17-year-old victim.

"There are too many discrepancies between Ray's details of the murder and what our investigation found to be the real story," Hancock said.

State Police are searching for the girl Ray named as "Candy."

The complete text of the confession was received yesterday by the state police. Prior to its receipt, Col. C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, had said:

"The only comment we can make is that further investigation will be made."

Hancock agreed that the smallest detail of Ray's confession will be checked through in an effort to "substantiate or knock down" the man's claim.

'OPERATION GLORY' UNDERWAY

With appropriate shipside ceremony the first flag-draped remains of the 4,011 United Nations dead scheduled for return from the bleak hills of North Korea in "Operation Glory" is unloaded at Moji Port, near Kokura, Japan. Representatives of the Army, Navy and Air Force joined with an honor guard of the American Graves Registration Service in paying homage to the fallen heroes.

82-Year-Old Driver Has Exciting Time

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Clementine Fenn is 82 years old. She drives a four-cylinder coupe, vintage 1932. And normally she drives it with the skill and decorum befitting her age.

But yesterday, just at the rush hour, things got out of hand.

She started slowly out of a service station into a busy suburban intersection when suddenly the jalopy came alive.

With a jolt and a bump the car dashed rear-end first into the dual highway described a 340-foot arc and finally came to rest against the smashed windows of a rival service station across the street.

Score:

A grazed sign standard, a sideswiped parked auto, a score of badly frightened shoppers, and for Mrs. Fenn a fractured nose and minor chest injuries.

Comment from the lady:

"Gas pedal must have stuck."

Poage Says America Running Second In Propaganda Race

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco, back from the Interparliamentary Union Meeting in Vienna, reports the United States is running a sad second to Russia in propaganda competition.

"They try to put us on the spot every time possible," he said, "and unfortunately a lot of Europeans and Asians fall for their stuff."

He cited various ways in which he said the Soviet focuses the spotlight on its own virtues and on the faults of America and other free nations.

"Through three iron curtain countries which sent delegates to the Vienna conference—Hungary, Bulgaria and Poland — they preached the possibility of peaceful co-existence and accused us of war-mongering," Poage reported.

The Russians capitalize on the natural attraction of fanfare to create goodwill toward themselves, the Texan said. In this connection he recalled a scene he witnessed when the United States gave up its turn over administration of Vienna in accordance with schedules set up at the end of World War II.

"Every four months the U.S. and Russia have their turns to control Vienna, which is situated within Russian-controlled Austria," Poage continued.

"About 50,000 people were gathered in the big square before the old Hapsburg Palace to watch the ceremonies. The Russians flew in a magnificent band from Moscow, dressed in brilliant red uniforms with all the trimmings and beautiful, shining musical instruments. Our boys looked drab in comparison.

"The Austrians are anti-Communists and sympathize with our position, but they admired the Russian show. That's a regular quarterly procedure, I was told. We ought to put on a good act, or quit competing in such fanfare."

For several years an American delegate to the interparliamentary union, Poage said he found that the closer one went to the Iron Curtain the less jittery the people seemed to be over the prospect of a third world war.

He attributed this to two things:

1. They have accepted as truth much Soviet friendship propaganda, lacking the full facts because of censorship.

2. They feel that if wholesale war breaks out Russia won't bother to drop atomic bombs on them —that the target will be the United States in the belief that England and the Continent will fall easily if America is prostrated.

Poage couldn't conjure any bright picture for the future. But he didn't forecast any outbreak of open warfare.

"I'm afraid this cold war will continue for a long time to come," he said.

"Russia will continue to shoot down our planes or take other aggressive steps whenever they feel they can do so, just short of war. I don't believe their leaders want war, but they are willing to take risks to increase Russia's strength and power by embarrassing the United States everywhere possible."

Poage expressed the opinion the United States should draw certain lines or limits beyond which it will not yield and firmly serve such notice on Russia. He said he believes a firm position now should be expressed in regard to Southeast Asia, and that if the Communists try further aggression in that area the United States should fight.

The Waco legislator stopped here briefly en route home from the Vienna conference.

Red Graduations

TOKYO (AP) — Diploma time has arrived in Communist China and Peiping radio says a "record number" of 40,300 students have been graduated from institutions of higher learning. Included are 15,000 engineers.

Russians Listen To Report Of Surgeon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Russian Medical scientists listened closely yesterday to an American Army surgeon's illustrated account of battle injuries inflicted on United Nations troops in Korea.

The Russians, Prof. B. V. Petrovsky and Prof. E. M. Tarev, are among some 2,500 heart specialists and researchers attending the second World Congress of Cardiology. Two interpreters sat with them in the rear of the hall in a Walter Reed Army Hospital auditorium.

The talks, by Lt. Col. Carl W. Hughes, dealt with wounds inflicted on major arteries of the body by fragmentary missiles—as from mortar shells or exploded mines.

He said later he did not know the Russians were in the audience but was aware they were attending the conferences. There was no comment from the Russians.

Nobody Can Escape Terrific Tension

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—It is, of course, the sign of an immature mind. Don't you agree, doctor?

But then my mind has always run in that direction. Every time—just a second, I want to turn and get more comfortable on this couch—every time some problem comes up, I immediately begin imagining the most dramatic solution possible.

An inability to face reality, to accept the world the way it is? Yes, I quite agree. That's been my trouble. For example, what other grown man would have the same reaction to the day's news?

I read that Louis Wolfson is getting ready to battle Sewell Avery for the control of Montgomery Ward. My eye looks up from the paper and out the window.

A fight for control of a billion-dollar corporation. Both men battle for the stockholders' votes. Each fails to get a decisive majority. The tension rises. How do you settle this?

Outside, silhouetted against a harvest moon, a lonely farm boy plays a haunting tune of his own making on a mail-order saxophone. And inside, Avery and Wolfson deal out a game of two-handed showdown. The first ace wins Montgomery Ward.

See what I mean, doctor? Totally unrealistic.

The last time the auto workers in Detroit demanded a pay raise, I immediately saw a titanic struggle in the making. Collective bargaining failed. The strike deadline came closer. The spectre of closed factories, stilled assembly lines and more than a 1,000,000 jobless men dipping into the cookie jar for grocery money became stronger and stronger.

Federal conciliators step in. They fail, too. Each side refuses to budge. What to do? Only one thing to do. In some neutral area, the corner of a desk top is cleared, and Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors, and Walter Reuther, president of the CIO Auto Workers, sit down to an Indian wrestling match.

As their muscles tighten, as drops of perspiration began to glide down their foreheads, as their locked forearms sway first to the left and then to the right, a lonely night watchman in a darkened factory begins to beat drumsticks in a slow, sad rhythm on the fish-tail of a half-finished Cadillac

Irrational? I know, I know, doctor. But that's the worst of it. The picture I've been visualizing lately is really insane. Anybody who knows anything knows it can't happen.

After being more than eight games out, the Milwaukee Braves begin to pull up. On the last game of the regular season, they tie the Giants for the National League pennant. Comes the playoff, best two out of three.

The Giants win the first. The Braves win the second. It is now third game and the bottom of the ninth, the Giants leading 4 to 2. Johnny Antonelli, whom the Giants got in a trade with Milwaukee for Bobby Thomson, is pitching.

There's one out. The Braves get a man on first and third. The winning run is at the plate. And who comes to bat? Doctor, I'm so excited, I'll roll off this couch. Who comes to bat?

Bobby Thomson! That's who comes to bat. Yep, the same man who hit the homer that won the pennant under the same conditions for the Giants in 1951. That's who comes to bat. Isn't it utterly insane?

What's that, doctor? You say, you've been having the same thought lately? Can't sleep, huh? No appetite? Always restless, fidgety?

We're both in bad shape.

New Control For Diabetes May Develop

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Diabetes may be due to some stranger liver trouble, says a new medical report described today to the American Chemical Society convention.

This means that the cure or control of diabetes could well involve the liver rather than daily or regular injections of insulin. Some 1,600,000 Americans have some degree of diabetes and most take insulin shots to control it.

Insulin is made by the pancreas gland in the body. You need insulin to control the use of body sugar. Too much sugar in the blood is a main symptom of diabetes.

Diabetes is generally thought to stem from failure to make enough insulin. Shots of insulin plus attention to diet permit most diabetics to lead normal lives.

New evidence that the cause or control can involve the liver was described by Arthur I. Mirsky, M.D., professor and chairman of clinical science, University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine.

He mixed insulin with extracts or slices of liver and with hamburgerized liver. He found that the insulinase in liver destroyed the insulin. Insulinase is an enzyme, a chemical which promotes certain bodily reactions.

The experiments used insulin "tagged" with radioactive iodine, which could be followed or traced to learn what happened to the insulin.

Anything which causes the liver to produce too much insulinase could result in a deficiency of insulin, and hence diabetes, said Mirsky and Gladys Perisutti, co-author of the report.

Man Is Rescued After Sewer Ditch Caves In

DALLAS (AP)—Construction worker Clarence Maasse scrambled "like a scared wolf" out of an 18-foot sewer ditch yesterday after being buried for half an hour in a cave-in.

The Mesquite, Tex., man remained conscious during the ordeal, shouting encouragement to fellow workers and Mesquite firemen as they worked to uncover him. He apparently suffered no ill effects.

At least four ships have been sunk by charging whales.

Painting is Mrs. N. O. Starr's hobby even though she is too busy to do much of it. She is shown sitting in the living room of her home looking at one of the paintings she finished some time ago. (Lee Watson photograph)

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Never A Dull Moment For Local High School Teacher

By ANITA HALL

Mrs. N. O. STARR, 3734 Avondale, is another of those busy women one can rarely find at home. She is a teacher in the commercial department of the High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Starr and children, JANICE and MIKE, came here in 1950 at the height of the "boom" when Mr. Starr was employed at the post office. She began teaching at mid-term of that year in Hermleigh. She joined the Snyder school system 1½ years later and has been teaching here since.

During the 1953-54 school year she drove to Lubbock every Saturday to attend classes at Texas Tech. This past summer she was in a car pool that traveled 11,000 miles making daily trips to Texas Tech and back home. There were several teachers from here who were working toward their masters' degrees who attended daily classes there during the summer session. This year she plans to take a course that will only require one day a week again at Tech in order to obtain her master's degree next spring.

Mrs. Starr is a member of the advisory board of the Rainbow Girls. She belongs to the Order of Eastern Star, American Association of University Women and Pythian Sisters.

Painting is her hobby but she finds very little time to indulge in it.

When she was "caught" for an interview on a typical weekday, she had just come home from school after picking young Mike up at the kindergarten. She hurriedly got him ready to go to a birthday party. While at the party, she was going to the country to contact some prospective members of the Civic Music Association of which she is an active worker. Afterward she was to return home to prepare the evening meal and get the family's clothes in readiness for the following day. After cleaning the house and getting Mike to bed, her time would then be her own. And what would she do with it? "Go to bed," she said.

Curfew Ordinance For Philadelphia Planned

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Councilman Paul d'Ortona plans to introduce a curfew ordinance for Philadelphia youngsters in hopes of curbing juvenile delinquency.

D'Ortona said yesterday he would ask the city council to pass a curfew law under which parents, rather than the youngsters involved, would be punished for violations.

The curfew would be effective from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m., Sunday through Thursday, and from midnight to 6 a.m., Friday and Saturday nights. It would cover minors under 17 years of age.

Men who have mastered the art of grilling a steak or hamburger outdoors, may want to exploit their culinary skill indoors. On a windy fall day, when the backyard is taboo, here is how to be a great chef in the kitchen.

Sprinkle the steak or hamburgers with charcoal salt or hickory salt before the meat goes under the broiler. The beef will have that wonderful woodsy look or flavor that belongs to outdoor cooking.

To go with the steak, maybe you can persuade the feminine members of your family to produce some French-fried onion rings. Or follow this recipe and make them yourself.

You might also like to try some outdoor skewer-art indoors. Alternate small mushrooms, wedges of tomato and green pepper and small white onions on skewers; marinate in French dressing before broiling.

BATTER-FRIED ONION RINGS

6 medium sized onions
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 egg
1 cup buttermilk
Extra salt

Peel onions and cut into slices about ¼-inch thick; separate into rings. (use the small rings and pieces at the heart of the onion along with the large rings.) Put onions in a big bowl, cover with cold water and allow to soak for an hour or two. Sift flour, baking soda and salt together into a mixing bowl. Beat egg lightly with a whisk or rotary beater; add buttermilk and beat enough to combine; add to dry ingredients and beat just until smooth. Drain onion rings throughly in colander. Put about one-quarter of the drained rings in the batter at one time. Lift rings out of batter with slitted spoon or two-tined fork and hold above bowl to drain, then put each in basket in deep hot fat. Put only enough onion rings in the fat at one time to make an uncrowded layer. If you put too many rings in the fat at one time, or get too much batter into it, moisture may cause excessive foaming and the fat will run over. Turn rings so they will be golden-brown on both sides. Drain on brown paper and keep warm while rest of rings are frying. Sprinkle lightly with extra salt before serving. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BROILED SKEWERED VEGETABLES

There were sixteen members and one associate member present.

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNERS PATTERN

by SIMONETTA of Italy

Simonetta of Italy is a woman of great chic with a distinctive sense of design whose creations reflect her taste and her knack of flattering the figure. Her dress pattern shown today is an ageless model good for any season of the year depending on fabric choice. The carved midriff has an unattached crossed belt which buttons in back over the zipper closing. The bodice has the exact amount of bulk over the shoulder area to add to the tapered down illusion. The skirt has a tiny kick pleat at center back for walking ease. Make it in crepe, taffeta, faille, wool crepe for wear now; later in linen, tie silk or shantung. This pattern is cut to designer measurements, not standard pattern measurements. Please state waist, bust and hip measurements when ordering. Size 12 requires 4 yards of 36 inch material for dress. To order Pattern No. S-236, address International Designer Patterns, P.O. Box 993, Dept. SX-13, G.P.O., New York 1, N.Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling twenty-five cents extra. Add four cents, for handling, if paid by check or money order.

NEW FIRST FAMILY

Edmund S. Muskie and his wife, Jane, are shown with their children, Stephen, 5, and Ellen, 3, at their home in Waterville, Maine, after the 40-year-old lawyer and democratic national committeeman scored an upset victory over Gov. Burton M. Cross, republican, seeking re-election.

South Carolina Author's Old English Style Wins Plaudits

In the opinions of the vast majority of Snyder persons who have read them, two books now on the market by John Knox Press, Richmond, Va., written by Miss Alice Lee Humphreys of Anderson, S. C., are destined classics of American youth.

Although it was written four years ago, "Heaven in My Hand" has grown steadily and rapidly in popularity, especially among educators and personnel of public school systems throughout America. Her second book, "Angels in Pinafores," has been recognized as a success ever since it came off the press this year.

The first book was published in three printings in 1950 and one printing in each of 1951, 1952, and 1953. It is required reading in many colleges and universities. The second book, very similar to the first in style and subject matter, was copyrighted only this year and is catalogued in the Library of Congress.

"Heaven in My Hand" was liked so much by Dr. Cecil L. Yarbrough, superintendent of the Snyder school system, that he made it available to the entire faculty, presenting many copies as gifts to teachers and other friends and lending other copies to school patrons.

"Any person who truly loves children will enjoy the book and will love children even more after reading it," Dr. Yarbrough said.

The book relates 24 incidents concerning children who sat at one time or another in the first-grade classrooms of the author. The shortest of these is a one-page, five-paragraph account of Roberta who was called upon to introduce her teacher but replied, "I haven't named her yet."

Both books are written in the Old English of the Bible's King James Version. Detailed description is vivid through the use of such language, by which she says, "Rain did beat vehemently against the schoolhouse, insomuch that there was no outdoor recess," but then she continues, and by-and-by inserts a humerous tone of the modern era with "now such soul-searching words fell on mine ears with the impact of an atomic bomb."

One of the best stories of her first book tells of Billy, who comforted a fearful fellow-first-grader during a tornado by holding him to his side and singing, "The Lady in Red." The consoled one returns in the story to visit Miss Humphreys as an infantryman, relating Billy's death in Italy during World War II, telling how the young captain led his men racing for the mountains and singing, "The Lady in Red."

Slightly larger than the first book of 76 pages, "Angels in Pinafores" contains 30 stores on its 93 pages, one of the most outstanding being of a six-year-old [illegible] who vows she must take a day off to tell a little male terror about God.

Archibald Rutledge of McClellanville, S. C., poet laureate of that state by act of its legislature and author of numerous books, of which 25 are named in "Who's Who in America," said of Miss Humphrey's books: "In my considered judgement, 'Heaven in My Hand' and 'Angles in Pinafores' are masterpieces of childhood and classics of youth."

Dr. Willard Goslin of the education department of Peabody Teachers College said Miss Humphreys' works were "the best books written about children during our generation."

Miss Humphreys spent her childhood and youth in Donald and Due West, S.C. She attended Woman's College at Due West, now known as Erskine College, and received her master degree there. Also while there, she won the J. C. Hemphill award, presented annually to the most outstanding student in composition.

The author now resides in Anderson, where she has spent 21 of her 34 years of teaching school. She is an active member of the First Presbyterian Church there, which her great-grandfather, the Rev. David Humphreys, founded.

Still teaching first-grade pupils in the Kennedy Street School of Anderson, Miss Humphreys has also taught at Rock Hill, Pelzer, and the Level Land community of South Carolina and at Bilmore, near Asheville, N.C. She says that most of her characters in the books are Anderson children, but some were pupils in other places.

Asked by a friend and admirer of her works what her purpose in writing was, Miss Humphreys said: "My sketches seek to portray that intangible but enduring bond existing between a teacher and every boy or girl she has ever taught. My greatest purpose, however, is to inspire humdrum parents and teachers to catch the fresh, exciting quality that throbs forever in the heart of childhood." — LaWayne Hulse.

Suspect Held For Kidnaping

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — An ashamed and remorseful young service station attendant, who begged that his name be kept out of the papers, has been charged with three felonies here involving a sexual attack on a nine-month-old baby boy.

Bob Spencer, 24, has been accused of kidnaping, sodomy and aggravated assault in the complaint, filed by Pinal County Atty. Timothy J. Mahoney.

Mahoney said Spencer had signed a confession admitting that he took the baby, Daniel Ernest Stephens, from his crib in his home at Stanfield and molested him.

Stanfield is a farming center 40 miles west of Florence.

The baby was abducted about 12:45 a.m. yesterday by an intruder who tore open a screen in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stephens Jr. Stephens discovered the baby was missing a short time later and summoned police.

The child was found whimpering in a corn field.

Spencer was arrested in the same vicinity and jailed pending a hearing.

Red-eyed and weary, he pleaded with reporters that the case not be publicized.

"I've got a lot of friends," he said. "I'd hate to have this come out in the papers."

Accused Soldier To Demand His Release

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A former prisoner-of-war in Korea, whose Army file, his attorney says, contains information that he allegedly collaborated with the Communists, seeks his unconditional release from military service through a U. S. District Court order.

The soldier, Cpl. Ruben D. Cruz, 23, of Detroit, Mich., now a patient at Valley Forge General Hospital, appeared yesterday before Chief Judge William Kirkpatrick on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus brought by his civilian attorney, William J. Woolston.

The court took the case under advisement.

Col. Kenneth Brewer, commanding officer of the hospital, testified that he had been ordered by the Army to offer Cruz his separation and to release him from military service, but that Cruz had refused to be separated.

A letter submitted in evidence showed that Cruz refused because he would not receive an honorable discharge.

Living Costs Create Major Korea Problem

By MURRAY FROMSON

SEOUL (AP)—Skyrocketing living costs have created a major economic headache for South Korea's government.

The official price index jumped 21.5 per cent in the month ended July 20, and many prices have soared higher since.

Korean housewives are paying 30 per cent more for eggs than two weeks ago. Butter, milk, rice, meat and cigarettes are up about the same.

President Syngman Rhee hurried back from a vacation to discuss the situation with his State Council yesterday. And from Washington came word that the United States is going to help.

The Foreign Operations Administration announced that 45 million dollars had been allocated to maintain civilian relief and a steady flow of essential commodities into South Korea.

FOA said the money would "combat inflation by providing funds to finance the import of raw materials and consumer-type goods."

The Washington announcement said the 45 million dollars would be used to import fertilizer, raw cotton, petroleum products and miscellaneous raw materials.

The withdrawal of U.S. forces is blamed in many quarters for South Korea's economic instability.

Korean merchants are watching the evaporation of a major trade market—the free-spending American soldier.

Withdrawal of four U.S. divisions and a number of Air Force units is expected to cut loose about 10,000 Korean civilian employes, making the unemployment problem more acute. About 1,200,000 Koreans were out of work a month ago.

Oxygen Helps Bull To Repel Pneumonia Case

OLD WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—A Black Angus bull valued at $50,000 is getting back on his feet at the C. V. Whitney farm—thanks to the aid of an oxygen tent.

The bull, known as Ankonian 3263, could sire 1,000 calves a year. The farm's general manager, Ivor Balding, says that accomplishment and "other reasons" account for the animal's high price tag.

Ankonian came down with pneumonia last Saturday and on Monday was put into an ogygen tent where, until yesterday, he used up six $15 tanks of oxygen daily. Penicillin and aureomycin also were administered.

Early today a farm spokesman said the bull "has passed the crisis" but is still under treatment in his barn.

THICK, JUICY STEAK HOT FROM BROILER
. . . seasoned with garlic butter sauce

PEPPER, LEMON GIVE FLANK STEAK ZEST
. . . it's also cooked with tomatoes

Sizzling Or Smothered, Steak Is Always An Appetizing Dish

A steak is a steak and always a steak.

This is ad libbing a bit with Gertrude Stein and her rose, but a thick juicy steak, broiled to perfection, needs no other introduction or explanation. It's just plain good.

Before the fall rush begins, the family should treat itself to at least a few more leisure meals on the patio or by informal buffet style suppers, and what could be more of a treat than a charcoal-broiled steak, or a specially stuffed flank steak, or one smothered in onions and tomatoes?

Your butcher is going to be a big help on this plan. The entire meat industry is readying for a big beef promotion this fall. There will be all the beef we can eat, and though no return to the five cent hamburger is expected, the plentiful supply surely will cut the cost of a week's supply of meat for the average family.

If you're broiling a steak, choose a cut at least one inch thick. However, if you are panbroiling, then a steak cut less than an inch is suggested. If you want individual servings there are club and rib steaks. Cut thick, these same steaks will serve two. One inch Porterhouse or T-bone steaks are suitable for serving two or three persons and a sirloin is large enough for four to six servings.

In broiling, adjust the rack so that the top of the steak is two to three inches from the heat. Broil until the top of the steak is browned. Then season (season after browning, as salt slows down browning) and turn the steak and broil brown on the other side.

If you want people to be pleasantly surprised by your broiled steak, season it with the new garlic butter steak sauce. Accompanied by hot rolls, chilled fresh tomatoes and slices of onion and cucumber, it's an always to be remembered meal.

GARLIC BUTTER SAUCE

2 large garlic cloves, crushed
¼ pound butter
Few drops Tabasco
1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
1 tablespoon horseradish

Combine all ingredients, whip until creamy. Spread lightly on hot steak after broiling. This sauce keeps well and may also be used for preparing garlic bread.

For a simple tasty garnish for the steak platter, place onion slices over tomato slices and top each with a mushroom cap. Brush with melted fat, then place on the broiler rack when you turn the steak.

A piece of beef is precious anyway, but when you combine it with green pepper and tomatoes, with a touch of lemon for seasoning, you have a truly mouth watering dish. You have a choice of cuts for this pepper steak, either round or flank steak or another less tender piece. If using flank, be sure to score it well by cutting across the long fibers with a sharp knife.

PEPPER STEAK

1 pound round or flank steak (1½ inches thick)
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 large green pepper, cut in 8 strips
1 medium onion, sliced
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup shortening
1 can tomato sauce
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 thin slices lemon

Sprinkle steak with flour and seasonings; pound until thin. Cut into 4 serving pieces. Cook pepper, onion and garlic in hot fat; remove from skillet. Brown steak. Add cooked onion, pepper and garlic; blend in remaining ingredients, placing slice of lemon on each piece of steak. Cover. Simmer 1 hour or until tender. Four servings.

On the market right now are fairly large supplies of lean, economy beef. This is from cattle which has come directly to market from the grassy plains and mountains of the west and has had no "corn finishing." Because it usually cost less to produce, it can be sold at lower prices than relatively higher grade, cornfed beef.

An excellent way to dress up this lean beef is to fill a round steak with a savory stuffing and simmer with mushrooms.

ROUND STEAK ROLL-UPS

1½ pounds round steak, cut ½ inch thick
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅓ cup finely chopped onion
2 cups day old bread crumbs
½ cup chopped celery
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sage
Dash of pepper and poultry seasoning
1 tablespoon water
1 can mushroom soup

Have butcher remove bone from steak, then pound to flatten. Cook onion lightly in hot fat; add bread crumbs, celery, seasoning and water. Cut meat into four pieces; on each place one-fourth of the dressing. Roll up and fasten with small skewers or toothpicks. Flour and brown in hot fat. Dilute soup with one cup water and pour over meat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover and simmer over low heat 1½ to 2 hours or until tender. Four servings.

Here's an equally delicious variation on the roll-ups. Spread stuffing on unscored side of a whole steak and roll parallel to its length. Tie in three or four places with string or fasten with short metal skewers and lace with string. After browning steak in hot fat, cover with one cup tomato juice instead of mushroom soup and cook over low heat or in a moderate oven two hours, or until tender.

A classic of American cookery is smothered steak, or, as it is known in some sections of the country, Swiss steak. It can be prepared from round steak or the beef chuck, which sometimes is a more thrifty buy. With either cut, be sure it is from 1 to 1½ inches thick and pounded, to make it more tender.

The secret of good smothered steak is slow browning. When slowly browned the rich color of the meat not only stays on, but the fine flavor is best brought out.

SMOTHERED STEAK

1½ pounds round steak or beef chuck
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lard
3 medium onions, sliced
1 cup water

Wipe meat with clean damp cloth. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Sprinkle beef with half of flour mixture, pound in with rim of saucer. Turn over, pound remaining flour into that side. Heat lard in skillet, add onions; cook until light brown, remove. Add meat and brown well on both sides. Put onion rings on top of meat. Add water; cover, and simmer about 1 to 2 hours or until meat is tender. Six servings.

Smothered steak also goes well with a tomato sauce. After the meat is browned, add 2 cups tomato juice or tomato pulp. At the same time, add sliced onions or the tiny pearl onions. Spanish steak varies from smothered steak in that green pepper rings are combined with the tomatoes and onions.

For buffets and little dinners the London Broil is a steak made to order.

LONDON BROIL

Remove membrane from both sides of top-quality flank steak. Trim off excess fat and uneven edges. Score on both sides into diamond shapes by cutting ¼ inch deep into diagonal slashes. Broil steak quickly in preheated hot broiler 3 inches from heat source for 5 minutes. Turn and broil 5 minutes more to give a well-browned surface with rare interior. Season and serve.

If it's a tangy flavor all the way through that you want, marinate the steak in this special sauce. Place the trimmed and scored flanked steak in a shallow pan and pour over it a mixture of 1 cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons vinegar, and 1 mashed clove of garlic. Cover and keep in the refrigerator 8 to 24 hours. Turn steak two or three times to absorb the dressing.

At broiling time, remove the steak, rub each side with a cut clove of garlic. Broil one side then spread the other side of the steak with mashed Blue Cheese (about 4 ounces.) Continue broiling until the cheese is bubbling hot and lightly browned.

French fries, a tossed green salad with your favorite dressing, the tomato broils mentioned above or stuffed onions are an excellent accompaniment to a steak.

STUFFED ONIONS

4 larged, mild onions
1 cup coarse, dry bread crumbs
Salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Cook onions in boiling, salted water for 30 minutes. Drain and cool. Remove centers. Chop onion centers and combine with remaining ingredients. Stuff onions with mixture; cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Four servings.

Why subject a good, sizzling broiled steak to anything less than the best? For a regular steak sauce worthy to be poured over such a steak, make your own.

STEAK SAUCE

Juice of 2 lemons
3 tablespoons vinegar
4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoons prepared mustard
Few dashes of Tabasco sauce

Put all this in a saucepan and simmer until very hot. Add butter a little at a time, until sauce is creamy. Pour over the steak and serve at once.

Or try this one.

¼ pound butter or fortified margarine
1 tablespoon catsup
1 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Heat slowly and stir while heating. Pour over steak while hot.

23 More Counties In Disaster Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Benson yesterday designated 23 more Texas counties as drought disaster areas eligible for emergency livestock feed and hay.

They are: Brazos, Camp, Childress, Dickens, Fisher, Franklin, Gregg, Harrison, Hopkins, Jasper, Jones, Kent, Marion, Montague, Morris, Newton, Panola, Runnels, Sabine, San Augustine, Shelby, Stonewall and Upshur.

This brought to 98 the number of Texas counties so designated. Those names yesterday were among 98 in Texas, Arkansas, Colorado, Missouri, Oklahoma and Wyoming added to the disaster list.

QUINN BACK AT RHB

Texas Looking Strong As It Readies For LSU Saturday

By JOE BENHAM
Associated Press Staff

The University of Texas, already the hands-down pick for the Southwest Conference football championship, looked stronger than ever Thursday with burly Billy Quinn back at his old right halfback spot.

The San Antonio speedster was moved from fullback to right half to replace George Robinson, who injured his neck in a scrimmage last week. Bill Long took over at fullback.

Quinn set a conference scoring record for sophomores in 1952 when he scored 13 touchdowns while running from the right halfback spot. He missed most of last season's conference play due to an elbow injury and was switched to fullback at the start of this season's training.

With Quinn in familiar country, the Longhorns moved smoothly through offensive and defensive drills Wednesday as they joined four other conference squads in minute preparation for Saturday season openers.

Coach Ed Price's team will entertain LSU Saturday at Austin.

Other conference teams which start play Saturday have their lineups virtually set, and spent Wednesday adding a coat of polish here and there.

Baylor, rated close behind Texas in this year's SWC campaign, had a light drill that stressed goal line defense and punt returns. Coach George Sauer also put the Bears through their passing paces and liked the work of L. G. Dupre. Del Shofner, Dupre and Dick Baker impressed him in the punting work. Baylor plays Houston Saturday at Waco.

Jess Neely of Rice spent the day still trying to decide on his starting quarterback. Whichever he picks, Pinky Nisbet and Atchley Proctor will both see lots of action this fall, Neely said. He sent the Owls through their last heavy drill Wednesday. Rice will open its season with Florida Saturday at Houston.

At College Station, Texas A&M had a no-contact drill in 99-degree heat that produced at least five sure starters for the Saturday night opener with Texas Tec. Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant announced that Elwood Kettler would be his starting quarterback in the game marking Bryant's debut as Aggie head coach. Other starters will include tackles Lawrence Winkler and Norbert Ohlendorf, end Bennie Sinclair and fullback Don Kachtik.

Lanky John Roach, running on Southern Methodist's second team, looked like a threat to Duane Nutt's position as first-time quarterback in the Pony drills at Dallas. Roach was clicking with long, accurate passes and lofty punts that impressed Coach Chalmer (Woody) Woodard. Nutt got in his licks, however, with better speed on his tosses.

Abe Martin readied Texas Christian's team for both spread and T-formation tactics as the Frogs prepared to meet Kansas Saturday at Lawrence. TCU will go into the clash blind as far as scouting goes, since Kansas Coach Chuck Mather is brand new at the job.

Passing continued to improve as did the running of fullback Henry Moore in a heavy Arkansas scrimmage at Fayetteville. Coach Bowden Wyatt said Moore's footwork and George Walker's tossing were the best parts of the drill.

Second Game Of Playoffs In Texas

By The Associated Press

Fort Worth's Karl Spooner, runnerup for Pitcher - of - the - year honors and Texas League strikeout king for 1954, goes for the Cats Thursday night as they try to make it two in a row in the Texas League playoffs.

The Felines evened the best-of-seven final series Wednsday night at Houston when they defeated Houston 7-1. The Buffs had taken the opening game Tuesday night.

Spooner, who amassed a 21-9 record for Fort Worth over the regular season, will face Houston's George Condrick as the series switches to Fort Worth for three games. Condrick was 8-9 over the regular season, then evened his record with a victory over Oklahoma City in the first-round playoffs.

Spooner has won twice in the playoffs, both victories coming over Shreveport.

Mike Lemish was the Wednesday night victor, scattering eight hits and holding the Buffs scoreless until the ninth inning. Pinchhitter Fred McAlister's bases-empty home run with one out ended the scoreless string.

Lemish struck out four and walked three.

Fort Worth failed to score until the fifth off Dick Atkinson, but scored four runs in that frame to gain the victory. Hisel Patrick and Jim Atchley gave up three more runs in finishing for Houston.

Clint Weaver's fifth-inning home run and an inside-the-park homer by Roy Hartsfield led the Cat attack. Ray Coleman tripled for Fort Worth for other heavy stickwork in the 14 hits collected by the winners.

Kurt Burris, stalwart center for the University of Oklahoma football team, is majoring in geology.

Facing tough batters in late innings doesn't scare Jim Hughes, Brooklyn Dodger relief ace. He served with the 1st Marines during World War II and was decorated for bravery.

Brooklyn Has Knack For Winning In Rain

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

They may be dead ducks by next week, but as of today the Brooklyn Dodgers are aquatic kings of the National League.

At least four of their victories are thoroughly waterlogged and if they try to play any-more games under conditions such as prevailed yesterday, the front office better consider equipping the club with fur-lined swimming suits.

The defending champs have discovered some amazing ways to lose games this season, but when the rains come they are unbeatable.

Back in May they beat the Phillies 3-0 in six innings in Philadelphia when rain brought a halt. Then in June they skidded to a 7-6 victory at Milwaukee in five innings, scoring five runs in the fifth.

Last week, they repeated over the Braves, 2-1 in five rain-soaked innings just before Hurricane Edna hit Flatbush.

Yesterday, the bad weather brought a 10-4 triumph over the Cincinnati Redlegs with the Reds screaming that both clubs should have stood in bed.

At the Polo Grounds, some 15 air miles from Ebbets Field, the first-place New York Giants and the third-place Milwaukee Braves never left the clubhouse. The temperatures hovered in the 50s and water stood in puddles over the covered infield.

In both cases the decision to play or not was in the hands of the umpires. They came close to calling time at Brooklyn with the score tied at 2-2 after four innings. But after a brief huddle the umps sent the players back on the field and they sloshed to a finish.

Only two other games were played. The St. Louis Cardinals defeated Philadelphia 3-1 and Baltimore moved out of the American League cellar with a 2-1 squeaker over Boston.

The Dodgers moved within three games of the Giants and have nine to play. The Giants have 11 left including a doubleheader today against the Braves who trail by 5½ lengths.

Gil Hodges put the Dodgers on the victory trail against the Reds with his 40th home run in the sixth inning. Three singles, a walk, a bases-loaded double by Pee Wee Reese and an error added five more runs before the inning was over.

Don Newcombe, with help from Jim Hughes in the eighth, registered his ninth victory. Bud Podbielan, who left shortly after Hodges' homer, was the victim.

The magic number remained eight for the Giants. Any combination of eight New York victories and Brooklyn defeats will clinch the pennant for Leo Durocher's men. The season ends a week from Sunday.

A pair of run-producing doubles by Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst gave the Cards their margin of victory over the Phils and brought Tom Poholsky his fourth win. The loss shoved the Phils back into fifth place, a half game behind the Reds. The Cards are in sixth, a game behind the Phillies.

A pinch single by Jim Fridley with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth gave the Orioles their victory over Boston. Lou Kretlow gave up only five hits and blanked Ted Williams who was up four times.

Top Game In Big State

By The Associated Press

The Big State League playoffs go on an aces-high basis Thursday night, with the top pitchers of Waco and Corpus Christi both scheduled to work in the game at Waco.

The Clippers will send Jim Vitter (23-12)) to try and make it two in a row in the best-of-seven final series, while Waco counters with Ronnie Sheetz (19-7) to try and even the series.

Corpus Christi took a one-game edge in the opener Wednesday night with a 6-2 victory.

The Clippers used three pitchers to hurl a 6-hitter at the Pirates. Dinty Moore opened for Corpus Christi and got credit for the win before leaving in the eighth. Bill Tosheff and Ben Bonine worked for the Clippers in relief.

Loser Myron Hoffman started for Waco, then gave way to Larry LaSale and Ernest Johnson.

Corpus Christi held only a 3-2 lead going into the ninth, but added three runs in that inning to take it going away.

The Thursday night action will wind up play at Waco for the week. The teams will be idle Friday night and resume play Saturday at Corpus Christi.

Pampa Doing Well Following Its Wreck

By The Associated Press

Pampa, regular season winner of the West Texas - New Mexico League, bounced back from a one-day absence from action with a 20-hit attack that gave them a lead of 3-1 in the best-of-seven playoff series with Abilene.

The Oilers, Struck down by injuries when their bus was involved in a wreck with a car, came back after a one-day layoff to club Abilene 16-2.

In the other game, Clovis edged out in front of Amarillo 3-2 in their best-of-seven series. The Pioneers, taking their second straight game, fought off an Amarillo rally for a 9-6 decision.

Vibert Clarke, backed by Pampa's potent bats, came through with a smooth six-hit pitching job to make it double tough for Abilene.

Catcher I. B. Palmer, one of the players injured in the wreck, had a double and two singles, but the big hit was a grand slam homer by Louis Johnson.

Manager Hershel Martin was still in the hospital with a badly cut arm.

At Amarillo, a long range attack by Clovis settled the issue.

The Pioneers slammed five of the big ones, more than enough to stand off a five-run Amarillo rally in the seventh.

Clovis and Amarillo switch back to Amarillo today, but Pampa and Abilene stay in Abilene another day.

The St. Louis Cardinals' minor league farm clubs have players from 41 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Cuba and the Panama Canal Zone.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

Here's week No. 2 of the Daily News' football guessing game.

As we said before, each week we will use seven staff members and one guest in picking winners of several high school and college games to be played during the week end.

This week, the guest is Clyde Godwin, Snyder grocer, school board member, and former president of the Quarterback Club. Bob Crowell served as the guest last week.

The guessers did well last week, but of course there were only four games on the chart, and most of those were not too hard to pick. It's slightly rougher this time, with 12 games, half of them high school and half college games.

So far, the entire group of eight guessers has a grade of 84.3 per cent correct. Three of them, McNair, Walton, and the guest (Crowell), have 100 per cent, while the others have 75 per cent. The game throwing most off last week was Wichita Falls-Vernon. Several picked Vernon to win, but Wichita Falls shut that team out 9-0.

MORE INJURIES

Seems this injury business is contagious in District 3A-1. Earlier this week, Plainview was reporting several boys, at least two of them key linemen, out with injuries as the team prepared to go into its first game of the season against Lubbock.

Now it's Sweetwater — out with a back injury is fullback Bobby McNeal, a letterman and senior who is to play an important role in the Mustang offense this season. McNeal is out for an indefinite period of time. He has a small bone facture, but it is not considered serious. Next in line for the position is Bobby Hartgraves, who was a center last year. It is said that coach Pat Gerald is even considering a shakeup in the entire backfield, possibly moving Frank Smith from quarter to half and Scott Hamilton from half to fullback for Saturday night's Sweetwater-Northside (Fort Worth) game.

Big Spring also has a couple of minor injuries from last Friday's Andrews game, but the Steers are open this week and do not have a game until they take on Stephenville the following week. The two are expected to be back in workouts soon. They are Frosty Robison and Brick Johnson, the two starting halfbacks. Robison lost three front teeth in the game, while Johnson got a bruised knee.

WILLIAMS NOW SALESMAN

Jimmy Williams, who coached in the junior high here for the last two years, is now selling detergents and pet shop supplies in El Paso and is doing well.

Williams helped warm the bench with the Snyder team at Ysleta last week.

BRIEF NOTES

Berman Corbell, Colorado City back who plauged Snyder in games a few years ago, is the No. 2 quarterback for Texas Western this year. He is a sophomore and already has one letter. Running ahead of him is Jesse Whittenton, a junior from Ysleta . . . Guess you noticed that Kenny Ford of Breckenridge is already on the varsity team at Hardin-Simmons. The freshman quarterback is expected to be used some this year because of his passing ability . . . DeWitt Weaver, Texas Tech mentor, has moved four freshmen to his varsity team, which will open its season against Texas A&M Saturday night. They are ends Don Waygood of Sundown and Pat Hartsfield of Lubbock and halfbacks Bobby Kyzar of Melvin and R. V. Allcorn of Olton. . . James Cooper of Hermleigh, who earned a freshman letter at TCU last year, is on the Frogs' varsity roster this time. The 19-year-old 6-foot, 2-inch end now weighs 185.

Junior High Team Opens Its Season

Charlie Storrs' eighth grade junior high grid squad will open its schedule at 7 o'clock tonight in Coahoma in a match with the junior high there.

This will also be the first game of the season for the Coahoma team, which was scheduled by Storrs early this week when Roscoe cancelled a game with the Snyder eleven.

The squad succeeds a team which last year won all of its eight games and tallied 241 points against opponents' 32. Most of this year's eighth grade squad, however, comes from Jimmy Williams' 1953 seventh grade team, which had a 7-1 record, scoring 245 to 69. Its one loss was by only five points.

Storrs said the team is in fair shape, but he added that it needs to add a little more scrap to its daily workouts. He has no idea how strong his opposition for tonight will be.

The coach named his starting lineup as follows: left end, George Williams; left tackle, Johnny Griggs; left guard, Bill Dubose; center, Bill Rinehart; right guard, Larry Dodson; right tackle, Gene Williamson; right end, Tony Anger; quarterback, Richard Mahan; left half, Mickey McGrew; fullback, Jimmy Allen; right half, Roger Hensley. Two other team members who will probably put in as much time in the game are Jerry Proctor, fullback and right half, and Gale Courtney, quarterback, along with several linemen.

There are about 34 boys on the squad, Storrs said, adding that he will take them all to the game. Practically all the starters have experience from last year.

Mahan, Storrs said, is a fair passer and is expected to do quite a bit of passing this season. He had a fair start last year with the seventh grade, tossing 18 to complete eight for 115 yards, one of them for a touchdown. He had only one interception.

Hensley last year was top scorer for the seventh grade, tallying 99 of the team's 245 points. Allen was second scorer with 77, while Mahan was third with 30. Allen was the team's main extra pointer last year. He booted 17, while Hensley got three. Allen also was the punter. He averaged 35 yards on his six punts during last season.

Chief pass receivers last year were Allen, who caught five, and Courtney, who snagged three. Anger and Williams, Storrs said, will probably do most of the pass-catching from their end positions this time, while some passes will go to halfbacks.

Storrs is beginning his second year here. He coached the eighth grade last year. Roy Carter is the new seventh grade coach. His team will not begin play until next week.

Two years ago, when Willaims was coaching a junior high team composed of both seventh and eighth grade players, the team compiled a season record of 6-2, scoring 200 points to opponents' 62.

Two Wins In 13 Games For Red Raiders

LUBBOCK, Sept. 14 — Texas Tech's Red Raiders hope that history doesn't repeat itself in their game with Texas A&M at College Station Saturday night.

Tech's only other contest at College Station, in 1942, ended in a 19-0 decision for the Aggies. As a matter of fact, most games between the two have been A&M victories. Tech has managed only two triumphs in 13 starts.

Just as DeWitt Weaver is bringing a good Tech team to Aggieland, one with a 10-1 record last year, so did Dell Morgan take one to College Station in 1942. The Red Raiders had a 9-1 mark the season before and eventually beat Texas Christian in '42.

But Leo Daniels raced 55 yards with a punt return on the game's fourth play, and the Aggies scored twice more in the first half. Tech drove deep the second half, outfirst downing the Aggies 17 to 4 and outgaining A&M 271 yards to 93, but just couldn't score.

Only in 1946 and 1948, in San Antonio, has Tech managed to beat A&M. Last season the Aggies handed the Red Raiders their only defeat, 27 to 14, in Lubbock.

The Cleveland Browns of the NFL have 19 players on their roster who have been released from the Army, Navy or Marines since last season.

Ira Opens Season In 6-Man Football

Kenneth Dismuke, football coach at Ira, will be experimenting with six-man football when he opens his schedule at 7:30 o'clock tonight against McCaulley.

Dismuke came up with 13 boys at the opening of fall workouts and saw he could not continue in Class B football, so the school withdrew from its Class B district and tried to get into a six-man district, one which is composed of Gail and several other small area teams.

That district, however, is fairly crowded. Many of the teams in the district already had 10 games scheduled and could not take another, so the district could not accept Ira. The Bulldogs will go through this year without a district.

Dismuke said he is not too familiar with six-man football and figures most fans aren't, so he has invited area residents out to watch the first trial. The game will be played in Ira, as will all games Dismuke has scheduled so far.

Already on the schedule are three more games. They are now set for Friday nights but will probably have to be played on Thursday nights because of scarcity of officials, Dismuke said. Flower Grove is scheduled for next week, while St. Joseph Academy of Abilene will be in Ira Sept. 30 and Courtney at Ira Oct. 8. Dismuke said he may get one game with the B team of Garden City and may schedule one 11-man game with Hermleigh's B team.

Starters for tonight were listed by Dismuke as Leon Ford, 180, and William Autry, 150, at ends; Earl Clinkenbeard, 145, at center; Ferrel Bryant, 150, at quarterback; Don Gray, 135, and Tommy Echols, 150, filling out the backfield. All the starters are lettermen except Echols, who is a freshman. Bryant, Dismuke said, suffered a broken nose in practice this week but is continuing with a nose guard.

Others on the team are James Earl Autry, Jerry Ford, Arlan Brooks, James Brown, Billy Don Farmer, Aubrey Thornhill, Wayne Gullett, and Dwayne Rosser.

Writers Pick Lufkin In 3A

DALLAS, (AP) — Texas sports writers, polled by the Dallas Morning News, have named Port Neches as the top Class AAA high school football team in the state.

The Indians have not played a game this season, but the district 6-AAA outfit led Sherman of 2-AAA in second place, by 20 points.

Others in the top ten include:
3. Lufkin of 4-AAA.
4. Breckenridge of 1-AAA.
5. Corsicana of 5-AAA.
6. Texarkana of 6-AAA.
7. McAllen of 7-AAA.
8. Palestine of 5-AAA.
9. Big Spring of 11-AAA.
10. Kilgore of 4-AAA.

Knockout Didn't Hurt Coach Stagg, 92

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Amos Alonzo Stagg, hardy 92-year-old dean of American football coaches, was knocked out in a practice session at Stockton College Monday—but was on his feet and bounding about before doctors and an ambulance reached the field.

Stagg said he was not hurt although he was unconscious five minutes after a charging center bowled him over.

"You don't have to worry about me," Stagg told players and coaches as he opened his eyes. "I know how to take care of myself."

Then he drilled the squad another 90 minutes.

Can't Use Gridder

DALLAS (AP)—One of the finest football players in Southwest Conference history has enrolled at Southern Methodist University—but Coach Chalmer Woodard won't be able to use him.

He's Clyde Scott, Arkansas' great tailback of 1946-48.

The midnight murder of Rachel Taylor, above, Penn State University coed, 14 years ago may be solved by the confession Tuesday in Oklahoma of a life-term convict. Jack Ray, 34, a convict at McAlester, Okla., signed a statement admitting the fatal beating of the coed on March 28, 1940. This picture of Miss Taylor was made shortly before she entered college.

Damage Suit Filed By Former Student

AUSTIN (AP)—A former University of Texas student from Sherman sued an Austin couple yesterday for $221,991 in damages for injuries suffered in a traffic accident here last November.

Brought in 98th District Court by John Plasky, the suit named Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hodges.

Plasky said in his petition that injuries suffered in the collision so incapacitated him that he was forced to drop out of school.

A car driven by Mrs. Hodges collided with the student's car Nov. 2, at a street intersection, the petition said.

Savings Bond Sales Are At Record High

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Sales of US. savings bonds are at a nine-year record high. And the Treasury is both pleased and surprised.

During the year of slow down in many business activities, some Americans, to be sure, have been tapping their savings Insurance companies, for example, report there has been more borrowing on policies this year than last. Banks report that many savings accounts have been tapped, especially in regions where industrial unemployment has been heaviest

But other Americans—and apparently they are in the majority—have been adding to their savings. And the total has been growing in this mildly depressed year at a faster rate than it did in the exuberant early months of 1953.

The U.S. Treasury is particularly surprised with its sales of Series E and H savings bonds in August. It had supposed that whatever cash Americans scraped together would be spent on vacations. But 415 million dollars were put into savings bonds last month, an increase of 20 per cent over August 1953.

So far this year Americans have bought almost 3½ billion dollars worth of the bonds. And sales have stayed well ahead of cash-ins.

Even bigger sums are going into the various savings institutions. Life insurance companies are selling more policies this year than last. Banks report time deposit totals swelling. Savings and loan associations have registered gains almost steadily all year.

The rise in private savings has surprised many observers. Earlier it was supposed that as industrial activity slowed down and incomes tended to shrink, people would tap their savings to keep up their living standards.

Instead, people have paid off their old installment debts at a faster rate than they have taken on new ones. And, perhaps because they worried a little about their future, they've been quicker to put aside some money than to spend it for present wants.

Merchants watch the savings rate for a clue to business. The rise in savings this year matches the slight drop in total retail sales. The unexpected rise in the sale of savings bonds in August may shed light on the consumer's attitude as the merchants bring out their fall goods.

People will have to save less, spend more, take on more installment debt, if it's to be as merry a Christmas as the merchants are dreaming of now.

Three Persons Killed In Collapse Of Building

FLORA, Ill. (AP)—Three persons were killed and two others were buried under debris in the collapse of an ancient drug store building in downtown Flora yesterday.

An adjoining brick building caved in while the 4½-hour rescue operations were in progress, narrowly missing some of the workers digging through the rubble for victims.

Killed were Carroll Thomas, 18, and Jerry Savage, 19, fountain boys, and Leonard Leak, 34, a carpenter who was laying a new floor in the 80-year-old two-story building.

John Throgmorton, 70-year-old co-owner of the drug store, was trapped in the debris for half an hour. He was not hurt. Cecil Powless, 45, the other co-owner, was pinned down for a few minutes but made his way out unaided.

Three-fourths of all U.S. bank employes are machine operators or clerks.

Farmers Plowing Up Fields Of Iron Ore

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—South Alabama farmers are plowing up acceptable iron ore by the ton and shipping it to North Alabama steel mills.

More than 1050 carloads of iron ore have been shipped from South Alabama pastures and cotton fields since January, the Central of Georgia Railroad magazine says.

The ore is plowed up and the deposits scooped by mechanical shovels.

Dulles Very Cautious In Talk About Asia Defense Program

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—That the United States is living in a troubled period was illustrated last night by Secretary of State Dulles who talked to the nation while flying to Europe.

Before he boarded a plane for Germany to discuss European problems he recorded a television broadcast about Asian problems, which appeared on the nation's screens hours after he had departed.

It was cautious Dulles who explained the treaty he signed last week at Manila with seven other nations for the defense of Southeast Asia.

The treaty itself is cautious. It doesn't pledge the United States ahead of time to get into war if the Communists attack in Asia. That is left up to the President and Congress to decide if the time comes.

Dulles was cautious even on the subject of helping Southeast Asia economically. The treaty signers agreed, as he explained, to "cooperate in the development of economic measures which will promote economic and social well-being."

Then, almost as if conscious of being watched questioningly by next year's Congress which will have to vote the money for Southeast Asian "well-being," Dulles said:

"The treaty recognizes the importance of economic welfare. But it does not commit the United States to any 'handout' program."

Its full meaning will have to be explained later. In fact, the whole meaning of the treaty will be understood better later than now. Whether it ever becomes more than names on paper depends on the eight nations which signed it:

The United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Pakistan and Thailand.

Dulles acknowledged this in his broadcast when he said "treaties are not self-operative . . . There has to be a genuine will to carry out the treaty purposes."

There was a time earlier this year, during the Indochina War, when Dulles was bolder with the language he used. He spoke then of "massive retaliation" if the Chinese Communists got into the Indochina War where the Communist-led Viet Minh had been fighting the French for almost eight years.

The Chinese didn't have to get in, directly. Their supplies to the Viet Minh were enough. The French were forced into an armistice giving away half of Viet Nam, largest of Indochina's three states.

Dulles remembered that period almost wistfully last night, recalling that in the Indochina crisis he appealed for "united action" by the Western Allies to save Viet Nam.

That appeal, he said last night, "proved impracticable," another way of saying he had been turned down. It was after the Indochina armistice that the United States persuaded the other seven nations to sign the Manila treaty.

"Better now than never," Dulles said.

But he was flying to Europe because another crisis had occurred there: The French had wrecked EDC—the European Defense Community—by refusing to join a single European Army with Germans.

This country badly wanted EDC as a defense against Russia. Now the problem is to find some other way of rearming Germany, whether the French like it or not. That was why Dulles flew to Europe.

Only last Saturday Dulles sent his chief professional diplomat, Robert D. Murphy, to Europe to see what can be done about Germany.

Why Dulles also had to go—because Murphy sent back word that required Dulles' personal appearance or just because Dulles wanted to see for himself—is not clear. He'll be back Saturday.

Chief Agent In Iran Is Jailed

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Iranian Army's chief counter intelligence agent for the strategic Abadan oil area has been jailed in the sweeping cleanup of Soviet Spies in Iran's security forces.

The top plainclothes agent in Khuzistan Province, Capt. Gholam Hossein Gargaozloo, was the leader of 133 operatives assigned to work against Red spies around the Abadan oil refinery on the Persian Gulf. The captain went under the name of "Mr. Moghadam."

Authorities arrested Garagozloo yesterday, charging that he himself was a Russian spy.

Nearly 500 officers in the army and police force have been caught up in the nationwide drive against spies. The number eventually taken into custody may exceed 1,000 officials said, since the lower military and police ranks have not yet come under extensive investigation. The purge also is being extended to civil branches of the government.

Intelligence officers said the ring using algebraic equations as codes, slipped the Reds not only Iranian secrets but detailed information on "every tank, gun and uniform" the United States has been supplying Iran.

Army informants said Gen. Alexander Rodionov, military attache in the Russian Embassy, played a key role in the vast spy system.

Paulette Goddard Gets One Dollar Inheritance

DENVER (AP)—Actress Paulette Goddard inherited one dollar from the estate of her late father, under terms of a will filed for probate here yesterday.

Miss Goddard's father, Joseph Russell LeVee, died here Aug. 31. He was a film distribution agent for Warner Bros. Studios.

LeVee's will directed that the remainder of his estate, valued at about $3,000, go to his wife, Mrs. Hildred F. LeVee. It added that the one dollar inheritance left to Miss Goddard must revert to the estate should the actress contest the will.

There are 86 national monuments in the United States.

Kidnaping Changes To Custody Fight

By PIERRE LEGROS

PARIS (AP)—The reported kidnaping of tin millionaire Antenor Patino's motherless 4-month-old granddaughter simmered down today to a custody fight between the wealthy Bolivian family and their British son-in-law.

The young father, 20-year-old hotel heir James Goldsmith, reported last night to police that his baby daughter Isabela had been kidnaped by an "unknown person or persons" from the Versailles hotel where she had been living with her grandmother.

The baby, Patino's lawyers announced today, "is somewhere in or near Paris with her grandmother," a Spanish Bourbon princess who has been estranged from Antenor Patino for years.

The lawyers said Mrs. Patino had asked the Paris Civil Court for custody of the child and the case would be argued tomorrow.

The attorneys refused to say just where Mrs. Patino and the baby were but added, "we can say they are together."

In filing his own charges in the civil court last night, Goldsmith dropped his kidnaping allegation and protested against "non-presentation of the child." He said he expected a thorough search to be made for the baby.

Court sources said after such a charge an investigation was routine. But they doubted any all-out hunt would result from what they said appeared to be essentially a family quarrel.

Goldsmith married Patino's 18-year-old daughter Isabela last January after a headline elopement to Scotland. Her parents joined in pursuit of them, but finally consented to the match.

The young couple's baby was delivered by caesarian operation last May 14 shortly after Isabela underwent complicated surgery for removal of a brain tumor. The mother died a few hours later and little Isabela lived in an incubator for two months.

Since then she had been cared for by an English nurse in the swank Trianon Palace Hotel, near the famous Chateau of Versailles, while Goldsmith was on a business trip to West Africa.

Goldsmith said the baby is suffering from anoxemia, a lack of oxygen in her blood, "caused by the unusual circumstances of her birth." He said she "may die if not properly cared for."

Patino's lawyers said Goldsmith and Mrs. Patino had quarreled on what sort of medical treatment she should be given.

Ike Is Busy With Vacation

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured by aides today as "vacationing hard" at his Rocky Mountain trout fishing camp here.

The small White House staff which accompanied the President from Denver yesterday was attempting to keep all but the most pressing official business from interrupting the chief executive's rest.

The President waded into St. Louis creek shortly after arriving at the Byers Peak Ranch of an old friend, Aksel Nielsen, and—with a brief break for lunch—still was casting for trout, at dusk. There was no word on what luck he had.

"He is vacationing hard and we are going to try to keep it that way for a few days," James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen.

Eisenhower plans to return to Denver Sunday or Monday.

Sheppard Is Named In His Wife's Will

CLEVELAND (AP)—Marilyn Sheppard bequeathed all of her possessions to her husband, the handsome Bay Village osteopath who is charged with murdering her.

This was disclosed yesterday when her father-in-law, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, filed her will in probate court. The will was dated last Feb. 28, which was 132 days before she was bludgeoned to death in her bed the morning of July 4.

Her husband, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, is in jail awaiting trial on a first degree murder charge. He has insisted his wife was killed by an intruder. A hearing on whether he should be released on bail has been continued to Friday.

Mrs. Sheppard named her husband as executor, but he declined to serve in a paper filed with the will. His father subsequently was named executor.

Papers filed with the will estimated the value of her estate at $9,100.
