Damage Total May Pass Six Million Mark

Death Toll Reaches 10 As Woman's Body Discovered On Road

(By The Associated Press)

A tenth flood victim was found at Fort Worth today as high waters of the Trinity river, receding there and at Dallas, spread over rich farmlands downstream from Dallas.

The body of a 36-year-old negro, Quilla Robinson, was found on a road this morning at Fort Worth.

Mobilized National Guardsmen joined police, Air Force, Army and American Legion personnel in wrapping tight patrol lines around flooded areas at Fort Worth. Five persons were arrested for looting. A pass system was instituted to keep sightseers and potential looters out of the stricken area.

$6 Million Damage

City Manager W. O. Jones has estimated Fort Worth's property loss at "well over $6,000,000."

Massive 60-foot levees protected most of Dallas as the swollen river threaded its way through the city, but downstream the flood waters threatened smaller private levees, levelling one and flooding much rich farmland.

Fort Worth's drinking water situation—probably the most difficult problem faced as the waters fell—took a turn for the worse. A steam pump pressed into operation to supplant the knocked-out main water station failed when a tube in the steam boiler blew out. Governor Beauford Jester arranged for a state highway escort for an electric motor enroute from Fort Wayne, Ind., and due at Fort Worth early tomorrow. With the new motor, the main water station here can be restored.

Water Is Imported

Meanwhile Fort Worth still was mostly dependent on imported water. Tank trucks and other vehicles rumbled in from every direction. The water was being doled out at 23 distribution points. Firms and individuals with private wells offered water to all comers.

Early this morning the district No. 1 levee downstream from Dallas and north of Wilmer gave way and inundated several farm houses and much rich cropland.

In the Texas Panhandle there was another rash of tornadoes, breaking out like smallpox.

As it coursed through Dallas, the Trinity was held in check by massive 60-foot levees. Downstream, however, only smaller, private levees stood in the way of high water.

The Trinity rose four feet at Ennis today, 32 miles below Dallas, and at Rosser the water was rising six inches an hour. The reading at Rosser at 7 a. m. today was 30.10. A crest of 41 feet was predicted for Saturday morning.

Law Laid Down To Atomic Commission

Request For $1 Billion Appropriation For Group Is Considered By Senators

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19—In a stormy session, senators laid the law down to the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) today—none of the millions voted the commission is to be spent on education of Communists.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) told AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal that will be written into the bill appropriating commission funds.

O'Mahoney is chairman of an appropriations subcommittee now considering the AEC's request for $1,090,000,000 to be spent in the 12 months beginning July 1. Lilienthal was in the subcommittee's witness chair.

Barrage Of Questions

Lilienthal had spent an hour under a barrage of questions, most of them dealing with the award of $1,600 a year atomic fellowship to Hans Freistadt, an avowed Communist who is a graduate student at the University of North Carolina.

At one point, Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), dissatisfied with Lilienthal's answers to questions, shouted:

"You have never answered a question straight to me that I know of."

He asked if Lilienthal had recommended Freistadt's appointment to a fellowship."

"No," replied Lilienthal.

(The national research council selects those to receive scholarships.)

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) wanted to know if Lilienthal thought the government should provide money to educate a Communist. Lilienthal said he did not.

No Objection Heard

At another point Lilienthal remarked that "this guy, Freistadt, is not going to overthrow the United States." The danger, he

Union Leaders Ask Pay Hikes, Price Slashes

Left-Wingers Will Get Five Months To Break Off Ties

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19—The CIO today called for price reductions and "immediate wage increases."

Unanimously the CIO executive board passed three resolutions repeating the CIO's program and at the same time expressing grave concern over unemployment.

The resolution on joblessness said "the present volume of unemployment is already extremely critical in many geographical areas."

It said the nation's unemployment in the early months of 1949 has been 50 per cent higher than in 1948.

On wages, the board was not specific.

Prices Claimed Hiked

In line with CIO policy statements of the last few months, the resolution said that "unlimited price increases and profit taking" have weakened consumer purchasing power and caused lower sales, falling production, and rising unemployment

"We must build consumer purchasing power," the board declared, if a serious depression is to be avoided.

Building purchasing power, it said, must be done through wage increases, price reductions and smaller profits.

The executive board was expected to adjourn later today, closing a fiery three-day meeting tht ran a day over schedule because of long arguments over what to do with CIO left wingers.

Rebels Warned

The debate ended in giving the rebels five months to break all ties with the Russian-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions and quit defying the CIO leadership.

If the left-wing unions don't leave the WFTU, they may be kicked out of the CIO.

The board and Murray already have made it very plain that the Cleveland convention starting Oct. 31 will be a hot one.

Murray, announced last night that:

1. He had denounced Harry Bridges, left-wing president of the CIO longshoremen, for "misrep-

Soviets Lift Ban On Trucks

Action Climax To New Clash Of East, West

Trucks On Berlin Road Are Seized; Protest Is Filed

(By The United Press)

BERLIN, May 19—The Russians lifted their "little blockade" on German truck traffic to Berlin tonight a few minutes after the British filed an official protest against it.

The Soviets gave no immediate explanation for the removal of the restrictions on trucking to Berlin on the Helmstedt autobahn, other than to say that "the confusion has now ended."

The Soviet action climaxed a two-day trucking war between the east and the west over the shipment of supplies to Berlin by German trucks on the four-lane superhighway to the Anglo-Soviet zonal border at Helmstedt.

Soviets Seize Trucks

Just before the British protest was filed, reports to Berlin disclosed that the Soviets had seized a number of German trucks bound for the city.

At the same time British authorities acknowledged the gravity of the east-west dispute by announcing that they were considering suspending all German trucking from the western zones into Berlin.

Western transport authorities said the Russians seized the German trucks after allowing them to pass the zonal border at Herrenberg, 35 miles northeast of Hamburg.

Russian soldiers seized the cargos and drivers along with the trucks, the transport officials reported.

Violation Is Charged

Unofficial reports reached Berlin that the Russians had picked up at least ten and perhaps as many as 40 of the German trucks.

The British statement followed charges by Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, U. S. commandant here, that the Soviet limitations on truck traffic violated the economic and political rights of the western

Dutra Praises Friendship Of U. S. And Brazil

Relations Between Nations Are Said Prop To Solidarity

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19—Brazilian President Eurico Dutra told Congress today that the "perfect" friendship of Brazil and the United States is .. major prop to western hemisphere solidarity.

Addressing a joint session of the Senate and House, he declared that the 120-year-old ties between the two nations are "founded upon their identity of purposes and harmony of interests." And he predicted they will become ever stronger.

In the international field, Dutra said in his prepared talk, "this rare example of fraternal association" is "the greatest guarantee of good understanding and comprehension among the other sister nations in this hemisphere."

Pays Tribute To U. S.

He forecast that the plaudits he has received since his arrival yesterday on a state visit will be deeply felt in Brazil, "whose people are ever sensitive to manifestations of regard from this great nation, held by them in such high esteem."

Dutra spoke in Portuguese from the speaker's rostrum of the House. He paid high oratorical tribute to the democracy of the United States, which he said is the basis of this nation's strength.

He said upon taking office as president he arranged a political truce which enables Brazil to enjoy the benefit of internal harmony. It also makes possible an effort to cultivate peaceful relations with other nations, he said, and added:

"Those which exist between Brazil and the United States of America, perfect from the beginning, offer, through their development and continuity, a rare example of fraternal association of two peoples which has prevailed over a period of more than one hundred and twenty years."

Visit Is Recalled

Dutra recalled the visit of President Truman to Brazil two years ago as a "memorable event in the

SENATE GROUP TO HEAR PLANS

Acheson To Review Policy On Germany

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 19—Secretary of State Acheson goes before the Senate foreign relations committee today to review the stern policy he expects to follow at Paris in negotiating with Russia on the future of Germany.

He will leave tomorrow for the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

Acheson also scheduled a brief session with a subcommittee of the Senate appropriations committee where members predicted he would be questioned about American relations with Franco Spain and China.

His discussion of the renewal of East-West talks on Germany, opening at Paris Monday, was expected to follow the line he laid down at a news conference last week.

Depends On Vishinsky

He declared flatly then that the possibility of reaching agreement on Germany depends on the willingness of Soviet foreign minister Vishinsky to go along with the American-British-French program for creation of a democratic West German government.

Whether the Russians will be in any sense willing to make concessions in their German policy is a question on which American officials shy at predictions.

Considerable speculation about Russia's moves in the conference has been stirred up here, however, by two events of the past few days.

The first of these was the strong opposition to Soviet policies in the Russian controlled East zone of Germany, revealed by elections there last weekend.

Ad Salesman Front Page News---Twice

The same day, his boss, publisher Neal Van Sooy, gave him a front page send-off in a column.

"So you're leaving your local ad range." Van Sooy wrote, "to return to greener fields in bigger cities. Good luck.

Battle Pushed For Shanghai

SHANGHAI, May 19 (AP)—With guns booming in the distance, Shanghai entered another night of siege with ominous indications everywhere.

Encircling Communists were pushing their attack on the Pootung sector along the lower reaches of the Whangpoo river. But it was a movement of government troops into the city from the quiet southwest defense area and a one hour earlier curfew (9 p. m.) that had everybody uneasy.

All the time the Nationalists seemed to be holding their own against the compressing Red arc. But the vacating of defense areas, notably Hung Jao road, was baffling.

Shift Is Baffling

It could mean the Nationalists, holding the advantage of interior lines, merely were shifting their strength to more vulnerable spots. But the earlier curfew and sundry other reports including one that the Bund may be closed to traffic, put an aspect to the picture that did not jibe with reported Nationalist victories lately.

Lungwha airfield, sure to be one of the first targets of any determined Communist drive, could hear the noise of battle at twilight. The control tower said it sounded like mortar fire about five miles away.

The airplanes of Chinese bigwigs were said to be warmed up.

New York Gives Clay True Hero's Welcome

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—About 250,000 persons roared a ticker-tape welcome today to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former American military governor of Germany.

Ticker tape and torn paper floated from the buildings of lower Broadway down to the motorcade that carried Gen. Clay and his party from the Battery to City Hall. Along the route long known as the Avenue of Heroes, police estimated that at least a quarter of a million were gathered.

The honor to Gen. Clay was arranged for a two-fold purpose, to thank him for his services in Germany and as a farewell on his retirement from the army at the end of this month.

Gen. Clay came to New York last night from Washington, where he received honors from President Truman.

Water Conservation Districts Get Okay

AUSTIN, May 19. (U.P.)—State senators today put their approval on legislation creating underground water conservation districts in Texas.

The measure had already been approved in the House. However, the bill now goes back to the lower chamber for concurrence in a Senate amendment.

The measure, sponsored in the House by Rep. I. B. Holt of Olton and Sen. John J. Bell of Cuero, deals exclusively with underground water.

The bill permits action of a local option basis.

Prior to adjourning until Monday, members of the upper chamber also approved a separate state board for the administration of Texas' eleemosynary institutions.

PEACE TALKS ARE DEADLOCKED

Bus Walkout Hits Two Texas Cities

(By The Associated Press)

BEAUMONT, May 19. — Bus drivers and mechanics went on strike today in Beaumont and nearby Port Arthur.

The walkout began at midnight after prolonged union-management talks became hopelessly deadlocked.

It was the second city bus strike here in four years. The last strike —in 1946—lasted ten days.

Mayor Otho Plummer, in an early-morning radio appeal, asked all citizens to share rides and reestablish the war-time car pools.

The strike left this Gulf city of 125,000, and the 60,000 people of Port Arthur 19 miles to the southeast, heavily dependent on taxicabs.

A 2 a. m. meeting of union members brought no further suggestions for settlement of the dispute over wages and working conditions. A. F. Steele, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach employes, said he anticipated no more talks with the company for at least "several days."

Talks Are Broken

Negotiations between the union and National City Lines, Inc., were broken off at 6 p. m. last night. The union contract had expired April 30 but had been extended, by agreement, to May 15.

The union asked a wage increase of 25 cents an hour. Drivers were receiving $1.10 an hour and mechanics $1.22 an hour. Working conditions also were in dispute.

Nazi Uranium Cache Sought

FRANKFURT, May 19 (U.P.) — United States intelligence agents began a search throughout Germany today for the Nazi government's remaining atomic stockpile following the arrest of 11 Germans trying to peddle uranium.

Brig. Gen. G. H. Weems, American provost marshal in charge of the search, estimated the Nazis left behind some 4,600 grams (over 10 pounds) of uranium—the radioactive base of atom bombs —worth $6,000,000.

Germans Are Arrested

He disclosed that the 11 Germans were arrested during the past few weeks while trying to sell uranium to Americans. About 2,300 grams have been recovered, he said.

Two Germans were arrested May 12 in Limburg in the American zone, Weeks said. Nine others were picked up earlier, he added.

More Uranium Hidden

The Germans arrested May 12 were identified as a chemist and an inventor. They told police that more uranium was hidden in the British zone city of Essen.

Weems said one German involved in the ring was believed en route to Rio De Janiero. He identified him as a Dr. Alfred Dang.

Laboratory tests on the recovered uranium showed it was "pure and 95 per cent radioactive," Weems said.

British Secretary To Decide Eisler's Fate

LONDON, May 19. (AP)—Home Secretary Chutter Ede said today he will decide whether Communist Gerhart Eisler is a political refugee. If he is there will be no further court proceedings on the United States demand that Eisler be extradited as a fugitive.

The secretary said he would make the decision after he receives the official U. S. requisition for Eisler's extradition.

If Ede rules Eisler is a political refugee and thus exempt from extradition, he presumably would be able to stay in Britain, which is proud of its long record as a haven for political refugees. He also presumably would be able to travel to Poland, whose government has protested his arrest, or to the Communist zone of Germany, where he has been offered a job as a professor in the University at Liepzig, or any other place where his status as a political refugee was recognized.

Advance Shown In Some Meat Prices

(By The Associated Press)

Some meat prices advanced this week and frying chickens and eggs were up slightly in several markets. But on the produce counters, only choice tomatoes were generally higher.

The relatively few retail advances on meat cuts were concentrated on items like steaks and chops. Butchers attributed this trend to warmer weather.

"As the days get warmer, housewives turn away from the cuts that require long cooking — the roasts and stews," they said. "Then demand for the steaks and chops takes a spurt and prices naturally turn upward for awhile, too."

Some large store chains in a few cities were selling sirloin steaks as much as 11 cents a pound higher this week than last, but such increases were exceptional.

Syria Closes Border On Lebanon Frontier

DAMASCUS, Syria, May 19 (AP) Syria closed her border with Lebanon today, as relations between the two Arab nations became tense.

An official Syrian spokesman said the order was based on what he termed the "extremely unfriendly" action of Lebanon in refusing to surrender to this country a Syrian army captain and three others accused of killing a Lebanese subject.

Brannan Urges Wheat Subsidy

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan told senators today the first-year cost of the international wheat agreement will run about $84,000,000.

This would be the price for helping American farmers find a steady foreign market for surplus wheat, he explained, adding:

"With or without a wheat agreement the United States must either export sizeable quantities of wheat or cut its wheat acreage far below the level of any period in recent years."

Brannan testified before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee studying the proposed plan of 41 nations to buy and sell wheat during the next four years within a fixed price range.

Reasons Given

But Brannan said the $84,000,000 subsidies—which would be paid American farmers above the agreement price—would be less than the cost of not having the program.

"The reason is," he said, "that without the foreign market, which this agreement helps us maintain, the cost of an acreage allotment program necessary to cut U. S. production would be greater than the subsidies expected under this wheat agreement."

The reason for the subsidies, he explained, is that the government's price support system will keep domestic wheat prices above the world market price.

"Thus, if a farmer should sell his wheat abroad, the government would pay the difference between the price fixed by the agreement and the domestic support price.

Under this compact, 41 nations would agree to buy and sell among themselves 456,282,389 bushels of wheat each crop year. The maximum price would be $1.80 a bushel. The minimum would slide from $1.50 the first year to $1.20 the fourth year.

U. S. Rapped For Halt Of Japan Reparations

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The Philippines charged today the United States is helping revive Japan's ability to wage war by calling off Japanese reparations shipments.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippines delegate, told the 11-nation Far Eastern commission that Filipinos "protest in the strongest possible terms" against the reparations decision announced last week.

Romulo charged also that the Japanese "zaibatsu" — industrial leaders—are sabotaging American efforts to restore Japan's economy.

"Scooped-Out" Necklines Are Banned

Video Censors Take Action On "Sweater Girl" Problem

(By The United Press)

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—Television censors have finally come up against the problem of what to do about a "sweater girl."

Or, more specifically, what to do about Miss Anne Sterling, who can out-Russell Jane in a low-cut neckline.

This was precisely what television producer Jerry Fairbanks had in mind when he signed her for a series of 26 fifteen-minute shows. He ordered a flock of dresses with that "over-flowing" look, told Miss Sterling to squeeze into 'em, and turned her loose in front of the cameras.

She sang and danced and acted—and breathed. And Fairbanks was so delighted with the results he got extra brave and ordered up more strapless creations. Also sweaters.

That's when the blow fell.

Now, television doesn't have any formal censors . . . Yet, but all the TV people decided to string along for a while with the boundaries set up by radio

Broadway Store Is Damaged By Blaze

Fire broke out at 8:05 a. m. at Freed's, women's apparel shop at 913 Broadway, and badly damaged the building from the edge of the balcony to the rear of the store, firemen and store officials said.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Freed, owners, were at market in Fort Worth and Dallas. Other store officials said they had "no idea" as to loss or insurance protection.

"All the back of the store had been burned out, all the shoe department, all the balcony. Practically all the stored merchandise has been burned," it was announced from the store. "Much of the stock throughout the store has been damaged by smoke and water."

Firemen said there was indication that electric wiring may have caused the fire.

Nine-Inch Rains Sweep Western Flatlands

Twister-Wearied Oklahomans Hit By Record Flood Waters

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19.—Oklahomans who dodged tornadoes two nights in a row woke to a serious flood danger today.

Creeks and rivers spilled their water over the western flatlands.

The Washita river, 50 miles southwest of Oklahoma City, had a flood four feet higher than the record of 1933. It swamped Fort Cobb and Anadarko window deep.

Property damage already is estimated at $1,000,000. The flood crept around dykes and poured five feet of water into the power house. This not only knocked out electricity, but brought the city's pump operated water system to a halt.

The Carnegie-Fort Cobb area just a few miles upriver from Anadarko got a total of nine inches of rain—six inches in less than three hours.

Carnegie, Mountain View and Gracemont were all partly under water from the Washita.

Residents at Whitefield, 70 miles southeast of Tulsa, were

Six Corporations In America Join "Billion Dollar Club"

NEW YORK, May 19 (U.P.)—Six American corporations joined the billion dollar club in 1948, bringing its total membership to 56, a survey by the United Press discloses.

Membership in the mythical club is conferred automatically on any business enterprise when its assets cross the billion-dollar level. Assets of the 1948 membership range between barely a billion for the American Power & Light corporation, to more than $10,000,000,000 for the giant Bell system.

Expansion Is Reflected

Reflecting the continued expansion last year of the national economy the assets of the 56 companies aggregated $129,248,911,544, compared with $122,181,775,932 held by the same companies a year earlier.

Demonstrating the importance of these concerns to the national welfare, if they could be liquidated at full value the money obtained would pay off more than 51 per cent of the present national debt, which is $251,500,000,000.

The Bell system in 1948 again was the nation's biggest business enterprise, its assets rising $1,228,305,736 last year to an all-time peak of $10,000,683,026 as the communications giant widened to more than $650,000,000 its lead over the second-place Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

Assets of the Metropolitan Life at the close of 1948 totaled $9,125,145,007.

Record High Reached

Although even today 1929 often is referred to as the biggest boom year in American history, there were 20 years ago only 20 companies with assets of $1,000,000,000 or more and by the time of Pearl Harbor—Dec. 7, 1941—there still were only 32.

The half-dozen additions to the club roster in 1948 include four companies whose assets reached the billion-dollar level for the first time last year—Gulf Oil corporation, Standard Oil of California, Commonwealth Edison Co. and the American Power & Light Co.—and two which had been in the list during the war but dropped out in 1945 namely the Ford Motor company and the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Biggest industrial concern in the nation last year was Standard Oil (N. J.), with assets of $3,526,043,348 that kept it in ninth place in the listings. General Motors corporation, on a rise of nearly $500,000,000 in assets, moved to 10th place from 11th in 1947, while U. S. Steel corporation, 17 at the end of 1947, rose to 12th place on Dec. 31, 1948, on a rise of nearly $400,000,000.

Priest, 70, Freed In Missouri Sodomy Case

GALLATIN, Mo., May 19 (AP)—A 70-year-old Catholic priest, The Rev. Patrick J. Sloan, was acquitted of a charge of sodomy last night. A circuit court jury deliberated less than two hours.

The complaining witness, Robert Dale Johnson, 16, testified the alleged act occurred in the priest's home in Bethany, Mo., on April 10, 1948.

Billy Wheatley, 16, testified he witnessed the act.

The priest denied the charge, but admitted the Johnson boy visited the rectory 13 times and stayed overnight twice.

A previous trial of the priest on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor ended in a hung jury.

British MPs' Pants Will Be Less Shiny

LONDON, May 19 (AP) — The pants of British MP's will be less shiny when the House of Commons is rebuilt. That's the prediction of the Shoe and Leather Industry Magazine, commenting on the seats to be installed in the new House. The Commons was destroyed by a bomb during the war, and the House has been meeting in the House of Lords.

Saying it had learned tapestry will be used on the new seats instead of the traditional red leather, the magazine added: "Nothing tends more quickly to make the seats of trousers shiny than sitting on leather, especially if the sitter happens to be fidgety."

"We are not suggesting," the magazine hastily added, "that the activities of the Members of Parliament have no other results than shiny trouser seats—but for the most of the time the members are sitting."

Local Group Hears Episcopal Churchman

"One of the bitterest lessons of the past, is that a militant minority, knowing what it wants, can always unseat a majority which merely pays lip-service to its tradition," Bishop John E. Hines, Episcopalian Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Texas, told a large group Wednesday night at a dinner in the Hilton hotel.

"Secularism is a more deadly peril than Communism," Bishop Hines declared," because its proponents are often the respectable people of community life."

"To survive, the Christian church must come to grips with its own philosophy," Bishop Hines said in his talk "The Challenge to Christian Strategy."

The dinner, sponsored by the men's organization of St. Paul's church, and arranged by Ralph S. Dorsett, president, also honored visiting clergymen Rev. W. W. Fry of Clarendon, Rev. R. J. Snell of Midland, Rev. J. S. Butler of Sweetwater, Rev. W. P. Gerhart of Abilene, Rev. E. W. Henshaw of Pampa, Rev. Morris Elliot of San Angelo, and Rev. California Congressmen Object To Air Duel Between Navy Fighter And Air Force Bomber

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — Two congressmen objected today to a high altitude cops-and-robbers duel between the Navy's Banshee fighter and the Air Force's B-36 bomber.

They don't like the idea, they said, because it could let loose some information that neither the Navy nor Air Force would like to see disclosed.

Reps. Johnson and Hinshaw, California Republicans, suggested dropping the whole idea.

The argument between Navy and Air Force over the vulnerability of the giant B-36 was pushed to the fight-it-out stage yesterday by the House armed services committee. It suggested that now would be a good time to settle the dispute, eight miles up in the air.

Fight Started Long Ago

The question is whether the B-36, operating ordinarily at 40,000 feet and above, could be intercepted by any fighter plane now in existence. The Air Force says no. The Navy says sure, and we are the ones who can do it.

This argument started a long time ago. It reached the boiling point over a Navy proposal to build a super aircraft carrier capable of carrying large bombers.

The Air Force position was that the multi-million-dollar carrier would infringe on its own long range bombing assignment, and that the money might better be spent in building more B-36s.

Some Navy people scoffed at Air Force claims for the huge bomber. Secretary of Defense Johnson finally ordered a halt to construction of the big carrier, but that didn't stop the argument. That's when the House group stepped in with its suggestion.

Camera Duel Presumed

The air duel presumably would be fought with cameras, with a referee to decide whether bomber or fighter shot first and best.

The committee said it should be an impartial test conducted by "appropriate authorities in the armed forces." It did not suggest where an impartial referee might be found.

Without one dissenting vote, the committee approved the resolution by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) saying the Air Force ought to let both its own and Navy fighters take a crack at the B-30 under simulated combat conditions. Rep. Johnson, a committee member, was absent.

Vinson admitted the resolution could not force a test, but he guessed it would be "very persuasive." He said he had talked with both Secretary of Defense Johnson and Air Secretary Symington about the plan, and both were enthusiastic.

Johnson Noncommittal

Yesterday, however, Johnson was noncommittal. He said he wanted to look at the resolution first.

But the Navy jumped at the suggestion. It promptly offered a list of four planes—three besides its jet-powered Banshee—as candidates for the job of puncturing the B-36's reputation.

The Navy claims the McDonnell F2H-1 Banshee, its newest and hottest plane, can whip up to 40,000 feet in seevn minutes. Some others, it says, are not quite that good, but are still good enough to lick the B-36.

A Navy spokesman suggested another jet, the Grumman F9F-2 Panther, and two conventionally powered planes: The Grumman F8F-2 Bearcat and the Chance Vought F4U-5 Corsair.

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Man, 33, Wonders If His Balding Head Should Be Concealed With A Hair-Piece

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: For some time I have read your column with much interest, and I have always felt that your advice is sound, and that it stems from a keen insight and appreciation of the complexities that make up human life.

My problem has nothing to do with love, courtship or marriage, but I feel there is an element of psychology involved, and I hope you will be kind enough to discuss it seriously.

To be brief and to the point, I have been steadily losing my hair for several years, mainly since I was in the Army; and all efforts to halt this have been of no avail. Now I am wondering, what about wearing an individually styled hair-piece?

WISHES TO LOOK HIS YOUNGISH AGE

I AM 33, still comparatively young, and I feel that a hair-piece might do much to give me a neater appearance to say nothing of making me look the age I really am. But do you think a man who resorts to such a device in an effort to make a better appearance is showing signs of personality maladjustment?

I realize that in the final analysis character is the thing that counts; but still I don't think we can discount physical appearance altogether. I think it has a certain social value or psychological importance. What are your views of the matter?

(Signed) P. D.

MAN IS AFRAID OF LONELINESS

DEAR P. D.: A man or woman who worries persistently about some defect in appearance that cannot, in nature, be improved, is merely ventilating an inferiority complex or (to give it another name) an anxiety neurosis that finally has fixed on this plausible excuse for being.

Women need not be beautiful, nor men as handsomely proportioned or luxuriantly tressed as a Greek god, in order to have personal success. Many homely women and bald-pate men or charming to know, greatly loved by family and close friends, and cordially esteemed by associates —thus proving that "looks aren't everything."

You say your anxiety has nothing to do with love or courtship or marriage; but that's not so. Your concern about your thinning hair is a by-product of lurking dread that you haven't got what it takes to establish emotional security in terms of mate-love. There is a hard saying in Scripture, "To him that hath shall be given; and to him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away." And you are haunted by fear that such total deprivation is waiting for you.

TOUPEES AREN'T AID TO RAPPORT

NOW about toupees: If worn by an actor as part of a character costume in a play, or to preserve a professional semblance of youth, when on the stage or in the movies, the sham has general sanction. But there is pathos in a "hair-piece" worn habitually by a man as a touch-up device. It always looks like what it is and never fools anybody.

Indeed it tends to detract from "first impressions'—said to be lasting!—for it gets between the wearer and his vis-a-vis, in the sense that the latter is usually conscious of the camouflage, and trying too carefully not to "notice." with the result that he (or she) may only half-see or half-hear Mr. Man himself, and scarcely remember what he's like, except that he had a toupee. Hence it's a hindrance to making a hit.

To say that "in the final analysis it's character that counts" is to state a half-truth. The whole truth is that a man's character is shaped by his basic estimate of his worth or potentials. Scripture said it another way, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." And at heart you are a lonely discouraged man, afraid that the shadows of age are closing in, when as yet you haven't "lived." A false hair-do won't alter that; you need searching psychological help to bring your self esteem to par.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

UN Delegates Vote Down Polish Move To Debate Eisler's Case

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—United Nations delegates ended the general assembly's spring session last night by rejecting a surprise Polish move to debate the case of Gerhart Eisler, Communist fugitive.

Poland unsuccessfully raised the Eisler controversy at the end of the six-week spring session marked by two positive achievements—admission of Israel as the 59th U.N. member and approval of the first world treaty intended to safeguard unhampered international transmission of news.

Sharp disagreements blocked action on disposal of Italy's prewar colonies and on a Latin American move to life the U.N. on top-level diplomatic representation in Spain. The colonies question was put over until the assembly's fall session here.

Proposal Is Sudden

Polish delegate Juliusz Katz-Suchy delayed the scheduled adjournment of the third general assembly when he suddenly brought up the case of Eisler, now held in England after jumping bail in the United States and stowing away aboard the Polish liner Batory.

Katz-Suchy said his government wanted the Eisler case discussed by the U.N. immediately. He charged Eisler's detention in England at American request was a "violation of fundamental rights and freedoms, traditional practices of political asylum and accepted principles of international law."

The Pole argued bitterly when assembly president Herbert V. Evatt of Australia ruled Poland had not given sufficient notice before presenting the Eisler case and that adjournment plans would not be changed.

Ruling Challenged

Evatt's ruling was challenged by Katz-Suchy. But in an appeal to the 59-nation assembly, his proposal to overrule Evatt was voted down, 42 to 2. Some of the Soviet bloc delegates abstained, with White Russia's Kuzma V. Kisselev shouting "this is an erroneous procedure."

In a closing address U. S. delegate Warren Austin said the third general assembly session, which began originally last September in Paris, had been "hard-fought." But despite differences, he added, the United Nations efforts for peace will "grow in scope and effectiveness."

The first part of the third assembly session was held in Paris from Sept. 21 to Dec. 12. Then the delegates recessed until April 5 when they resumed debate on issues crowded off the Paris agenda.

Highway Perfect For Landing, Says Pilot

DALLAS, May 19 (AP) — "Fine project, Central Boulevard," said Clyde Peabody, casting a loving glance at Dallas' unfinished super-roadway.

That was just after the burly, 25-year-old flier last night became the first man to land a plane on the boulevard.

"And may he be the last!" said C. K. Housewright, one of the police who hustled out to question Peabody on his choice of landing fields.

Peabody and a passenger, Mrs. Joyce Peabody, had taken off from White Rock airport in a rented plane. They ran out of gas quickly.

"The gauge indicated the gas tank was full," said Peabody. "That gauge must have been stuck."

The boulevard was the most open spot he could see. He cleared a viaduct by a few feet, slipped over a series of roadblocks by inches. The plane settled down for a smooth landing.

Jury Verdict Frees Farmer

Bardon A. McFarland, 36, Seagraves farmer, was found not guilty yesterday of disposing of mortgaged property as alleged in a United States government charge. The federal jury deliberated for one hour and a half before returning the verdict.

McFarland was charged with having unlawfully disposed of 23 bales of cotton from his 1947 crop while it was under government mortgage. According to the United States charge, McFarland did not make restitution to the proper federal loan agency.

Held In Jail

McFarland had been served with a criminal citation which ordered him to appear in the Lubbock division of federal court on the morning of Monday, May 16. When McFarland failed to appear for hearing, Judge Joseph B. Dooley issued a warrant for his arrest and detention.

Deputy Marshal C. E. Luce picked McFarland up at Seagraves and brought him to the county jail here where he was held until his case came up yesterday morning.

It was the second criminal action based on the sale of mortgaged cotton to be tried in Judge Dooley's court this week. Tuesday a federal jury sentenced Emerson E. Nelson, 29-year-old Slaton farmer to 18 months in a federal prison on each of six counts. The sentences are to run concurrently.

Post Rodeo Set For Second Performance

POST, May 19. (Special)—The Post Stampede and Rodeo moves into its second performance tonight, after a highly successful opening Wednesday.

Despite afternoon rains Wednesday, the first night of the rodeo attracted some 3,000 persons. Rain clouds obligingly parted before the night performance, although the area remained muddy from earlier rains.

Events went according to schedule, in spite of the muddy arena which added unexpected spills, except that the Cowgirl Sponsor contest was postponed until tonight.

Harold Childs, of Post, was top man in roping with a time of 17.8 seconds. Next was Jim Smith, of O'Donnell, with a time of 21.3 seconds.

Doubled mugging was won by Floyd Lamond, of Post, in 34.6 seconds. John Wallon, of Knox City, was second with a time of 36 seconds.

The show, sparked by Lewis Blair and his educated mule "Gunpowder" was a crowd-pleaser, and all indications are that this year's Stampede and Rodeo, lasting through Saturday, will be up to expectations.

Union Leaders Assert Fate Of Europe Rests On Paris Parley

CLEVELAND, May 18. (AP)—The AFL asserted today that Soviet Russia has "changed its tactics but not its goal"—especially in Germany.

AFL leaders, here for the spring meeting of the executive council, issued a statement saying that the fate of Germany and Europe—and mankind—depends on the forthcoming Paris deliberations of the Big Four council of foreign ministers.

"If our country, Britain and France will continue the unswerving determination dramatized by the Berlin airlift, then the world will go forward on the road to peace," the AFL's international committee said in a formal statement.

Firm Policy Urged

"But if we make the slightest reversion to appeasement, then the door to Russian domination of Germany and the entire continent will be wide open," the labor leaders continued.

"Then the Russian aggressors will gain through negotiation what they failed to get through compulsion. They will then be able to grab through infiltration what they could not snatch through starvation.

"Blockade or no blockade, the central and overriding aim of the USSR in Europe continues to be to unify Germany along Communist totalitarian lines and to absorb her as another satellite into the Russian orbit.

"The Soviets have merely changed their tactics but not their goal."

The AFL suggested that the newly-elected Bonn government of western Germany "should be invited to Paris to participate in the negotiations and conferences affecting the future of their nation."

The AFL international relations committee proposed that the boundary line of eastern Germany should be settled by the United Nations "in accordance with the principles of the Atlantic charter."

The committee declared that Russia should return all "kidnapped" German workers and technicians to their homes and release Nazi political prisoners in the concentration camps.

The AFL called upon the Soviet government to scrap its information agency, known as the Cominform.

"Mankind is sick of the threat of aggression and the danger of war camouflaged by high-sounding phrases," the AFL said, adding:

"Every sincere move for peace by the Soviet government should be welcomed and encouraged but every sinister maneuver and fraudulent move should be rebuffed and rejected.

"Mankind must be led to peace and not sold down the river—neither down the Rhine nor the Yangtze."

Play To Boost Purchase Of U. S. Bonds Is Given By McWhorter School Students

A play emphasizing thrift was presented and awards were given to approximately 60 students Wednesday afternoon at McWhorter school.

The play, "Madame Money Talk," was presented in observance of the Opportunity drive of the U. S. Treasury department in which purchase of Series E Savings bonds is encouraged.

Newsboy Saves Earnings

Roy Gene Webb played the part of a newsboy, who by selling newspapers, watering lawns, cutting weeds and doing other work earned money which he saved. In the play, the news boy talked to a friend who received a $3 a week allowance, telling him the value in saving money. Lewis Thomas played the part of the friend.

Jno West played the part of "Madam Money."

Posters prepared by students showed a "tumbledown" cottage and a well-kept cottage, a child with tattered clothing and a well-dressed child and other pictures to illustrate value of saving money.

Sixth Graders Participate

Students participating were sixth grade students of R. B. Durham.

At conclusion of the play, certificates from the Texas Department of Public Safety were presented to 33 students who have served this school year in the Safety patrol and to 27 students who qualified for one seal on their Texas Readers club cards by reading 10 books from a list of the state department of education.

Mrs. Reuby S. Rhodes, principal, said those receiving safety patrol certificates were Aubrey Davis, Ray Penny, Betty Traylor, Kenneth Davis, Yvonne Terry, Billy Brown, Delton Combs, David Nutt, Betty Rutledge, Barbara Higgins, Tonie Sue Manning, Joy Kieschnick, Linda Lemons, Bobylene Spence, Delwin Keesee, Roy Gene Webb, Lewis Thomas, Sam Horton, Clarence Brown, Joe Steger, Dorothy Bond, Arthur Joe Gentry, Christine Leach, Mary Ann McGowan, Ewell Mackey, Martha Mackey, Billy Porter, Kenneth Borum, Charles Witty, Patsy Patterson, Allen Massey, Joan South and Corine Simpson.

Lubbock Salvation Army Chief Named Disaster Zone Head

Capt. W. Thomas Gregory, commanding officer of the Lubbock Salvation Army office, this week was appointed disaster zone commander for that organization.

In this capacity, Capt. Gregory will be in charge of all disaster activities of the Salvation Army in an area extending to the Oklahoma line to the north, midway between Big Spring and San Angelo to the south, the New Mexico line to the west, and Wichita Falls to the east.

Work In Amarillo Area

The appointment was made by Major Carl E. Cone, divisional secretary of the Dallas regional Salvation Army headquarters office. It was announced Wednesday in Amarillo, where Capt. Gregory, Major Cone and other Salvation Army officers had served since Sunday night's tornado.

In Amarillo, the organization had operated two stationary canteens continuously since the time of the disaster, Capt. Gregory said on his return here late Wednesday.

The Salvation Army also rendered emergency assistance in the Sundown and Soldier Mound tornadoes.

Relief Plans Mapped

Capt. Gregory said thorough plans for emergency relief operations are being drawn up, so that they may put into effect without delay in case of other disasters in this area. He pointed out that the Salvation Army, because of financial limitations, is not intended as a disaster relief organization; however, it does go into disaster areas to serve until established agencies in the stricken areas are functioning satisfactorily. In cases of emergency, the Salvation Army provides food, shelter, clothing and spiritual help as needed, Capt. Gregory said.

Capt. Gregory has been stationed here since August. His appointment to the position of disaster zone commander will not conflict with his local duties, he indicated.

MP's Ousted By Laborites

LONDON, May 19 (INS) — Konni Zilliacus and Leslie Solley, two British Parliament members who fought the Marshall plan and the Atlantic Pact, were ousted last night from the Labor party.

The party announcement said they were expelled from membership "in view of all their activities and speeches."

Parliament informants said that five parliamentary secretaries in various ministries also will be fired from their jobs, and that one of these, W. R. Blyton, of the Civil aviation ministry, already had resigned.

Posts Are Unpaid

The secretarial posts are unpaid jobs but are regarded as giving their holders an inside track to junior government posts that become vacant.

The ouster of Zilliacus and Solley was precipitated by their defiance of Laborite orders in voting against the government on provisions of the Ireland bill.

The Ireland bill, which has aroused anger in the Eire republic, provides that Northern Ireland cannot be absorbed by Eire without its consent.

Women now may become judges in the Isle of Jersey's royal court.

HAIR EXPERT RETURNS TO LUBBOCK TOMORROW FOR TWO-DAY CLINIC

Analyzes Scalp Troubles Free, Demonstrates New Home Methods That Stop Hair Loss, Dandruff, Grow Stronger, Thicker Hair

Do you believe that baldness is due to heredity? You're 100% wrong.

Do you believe that baldness is due to age? You're 99% wrong.

Do you believe that baldness can not be prevented? You're 95% wrong?

These popular misconceptions belong to the "tonic" age. For years now, the better professional trichologists have proved that they can re-grow hair by repeated clinical treatments.

But it remained for the Mueller trichologists, after years of experience, to develop methods and formulae to restore hair growth by home treatment. Already this new treatment has proved successful in restoring hair growth for thousands of men and women.

S. J. MUELLER
B. S., C. L. T.
Director of Trichologists
Mueller Hair Experts
Clinics in Principal Southwestern Cities

Results are quick.

Results from home treatment are quickly noticeable. Usually it takes just a few weeks to cleanse your scalp of all dandruff, surface and imbedded, kill the bacteria swarming beneath the scalp, and correct local disorders. Then special formulae are used to stimulate the processes of hair growth. In less than two months, you should begin to see new replacement hairs.

AFTER MUELLER TREATMENT

This is Mr. Thrash today, with a good head of hair. He says: "I am proud to exhibit the results I obtained from Mueller treatment."

BEFORE MUELLER TREATMENT

MR. JOE A. THRASH, Houston, Texas, before starting Mueller treatment. Note bald spots and thin areas on top and side.

Hopeless cases not accepted.

Mueller home treatment is not a "cure-all." Each of the 14 kinds of external scalp disorders requires a different therapy. For that reason, we do not ever prescribe treatment without first making a thorough, personal scalp examination.

If your case is hopeless, we tell you so. About five per cent of those we examine fall into this group not eligible for treatment. As a rule, if your scalp grows "fuzz," your case is not hopeless.

What is the treatment like?

Mueller home treatment combines physical and chemical therapy which you can easily administer to yourself in your home. Among the exclusive formulae included in most treatment kits are fast-acting germicides, scalp cleaners, and sub-scalp stimulants.

The progressive steps of medication and treatment are easy to understand and follow. You mail regular reports of your hair progress to the nearest Mueller Clinic, so that treatment can be changed if necessary to get best results.

Regular check-ups

Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Mueller expert at regular intervals.

Free examination!

Mr. W. T. Loesch, Mueller trichologist, starts a hair clinic here tomorrow. Let him give your scalp a professional examination.

You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. If you decide to take home treatment, you'll find the fee very reasonable.

Come to the hotel between 1 P.M. and 8 P.M., at the hour most convenient for you. No appointment needed.

Due to recent heavy rains in Lubbock private well owners are urged to Test Water for Contamination!

RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS!
Chlorinate With SURECLOR

RAW WATER is water from any source—surface, streams, lakes, tanks, shallow or deep wells. Any water that has not been tested for purity at least every 30 days, or treated by Health Department approved methods, is not safe for human or farm animal consumption. Many human and animal diseases such as typhoid, dysentary, cholera, hook worm, summer complaint, tuberculosis, anthrax, glanders, and stomach intestinal worms are often caused by contaminated water. Don't take chances—RAW WATER IS DANGEROUS.

INEXPENSIVE: SURECLOR, the automatic water operated hypo-feeder, is especially designed to sterilize contaminated or questionable domestic pressure water supplies, and small community water systems. Lowest Cost. Easy to Install. Simple to Operate.

LOW MAINTENANCE: Fabricated of transparent plastics. Complete operation visible through unit. Resists corrosive action of chlorine and water.

With exception of ball check valves, no moving parts to wear out. Chlorinating agent—household bleach (Sodium Hypochlorite 5.25% available chlorine). Available at most any grocery store. Cost less than 1½c per 1000 gallons water sterilized. The amount of chlorine usually required is between a trace and 1 part per million, to make water safe for human or animal consumption without boiling or other treatment.

DEPENDABLE: Operates by water pressure. Fully automatic and on the job 24 hours a day. Positive check on correct chlorine content is quickly and easily determined by a color density test. Built-in test cut with each SURECLOR. Many municipal water works install SURECLOR as emergency standby unit for gaseous chlorinators.

Lubbock Defeats Clovis, 8-6

Lamesa Loses To Duke Nine

(By The Associated Press)

Albuquerque's Dukes strengthened their West Texas-New Mexico League leadership Wednesday while second-place Borger was idle.

The Dukes moved to a full two-and-a-half game lead with a 3 to 2 edging over Lamesa. Rain caused postponement of the Borger-at-Pampa game.

Lubbock took Clovis 8 to 6 and Abilene pounded Amarillo 9 to 3.

Albuquerque remains at Lamesa tonight. Clovis enters the second of a three-game stand at Lubbock. Amarillo plays at Abilene and Borger and Pampa have a double header on tap, Texas weather permitting.

Second Sacker Babe Fuhrmann singled sharply in the eighth to score Cliff McClain and give Albuquerque the run it needed for the win. Lamesa had scored one in the third and one again in the seventh. The Dukes had sacked up two in the second.

McClain led off the eighth with a single to center. He went to second when Don Pinto fumbled the hit. Maul and Raimondi went out, but Fuhrman singled to score McClain.

Chris Haskins, making his first start of the year for Lubbock, had enough for the Hubber win over Clovis. He had one bad inning. Four hits, a walk and two errors gave Clovis four runs in the sixth. Lubbock collected five in the first two frames and three more in the fourth for the win.

A three-run homer by George Sturdivant in the first inning set the pace for the Abilene victory. It was his first of the season.

Abilene collected 13 hits off Jim Reynolds in his seven innings. All of Amarillo's runs came off Rene Vega and all in the fifth inning.

JOHN MYERS WILL TWIRL FOR HUBBERS

Manager Jackie Sullivan and the Lubbock Hubbers battle the Clovis Pioneers at Rosenthal Field again tonight and a larger crowd than last night's should be on hand.

Those that were there last night saw Chris Haskins pitch a fine game, despite the fact that he was mighty sick before the game and sat in the dugout bathed in cold sweat. He walked two Pioneers and fanned three, but did his most effective work in the final three innings, after the visitors had come within two runs of tying the score.

Heavy Hitting Missing

Tonight, John Myers probably will take the mound for the Hubbers, who now have won two of their last three games and may have found the spark they needed.

A heavy hitting attack was missing last night, but Clovis was more than generous and the Hubbers were opportunists enough to capitalize on each and every break. There were only two extra base blows in the game, one for each side, but nine errors virtually handed the game to the Lubbock club.

Kurowski Is Placed On Disabled List

Yanks Send Charlie Keller To Newark As Rosters Cut

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—Major league club rosters took on a permanent look today after some last minute scrambling to meet a midnight deadline on the 25-man limit.

The veteran Charlie Keller of the New York Yankees topped a list of 15 players who were sent down to the minor leagues in the final hours last night. Two others were placed on inactive lists and a third was given his outright release.

Cards Give Up

Eight of the 16 teams had reached the limit before the final day, which comes annually one month after the season opens.

Keller, who had been a regular outfielder with the Yankees from 1939 until he suffered a spine injury in 1947, was sent to Newark.

The St. Louis Cardinals gave up on Third Baseman Whitey Kurowski's right arm and placed him on the disabled list. That puts him out of action for at least 60 days.

Philadelphia, Washington, St. Louis and Chicago in the American league were already down to the player limit as were Boston, Pittsburgh, New York and Chicago in the National league. The Cubs, however, engaged in two last-minute deals. They sold Pitcher Jess Dobernic to Cincinnati and bought Outfielder Herman Reich from Cleveland.

Players Are Optioned

Cleveland sent Outfielder Orestes Minoso to San Diego and placed Outfielder Hal Peck on the inactive list.

The Boston Red Sox moved Pitchers Harry Dorish and Jack Robinson to their Louisville farm on 24-hour option.

In addition to Keller, the Yankees released Pitcher Frank Hiller to Kansas City, sent Catcher Ralph Houk to the same club on option and assigned Infielder Mickey Witek to Newark.

Pitchers Ken Burkhart, who had been around the majors since 1945, and Millard Howell and Catcher John Pramesa were sent by Cincinnati to Syracuse.

Brooklyn sent Pitcher Ezra (Pat) McGlothin to Montreal.

The Philadelphia Phils sent Catcher Hal Wagner and Pitcher Jock Thompson to Toronto.

Detroit gave utilityman Jimmy Outlaw his unconditional release, sent Pitcher Saul Rogovin to Buffalo and sold Outfielder Don Lund conditionally to Toledo.

Wichita Falls Shades Bears

(By The Associated Press)

The Wichita Falls Spudders are back in second place in the Big State league today, hot on the trail of the first-place Texarkana Bears. The Spudders now trail the Bears by only one game.

The Spudders knocked over the Bears, 11-10, last night. The Austin Pioneers skidded from second to third place, losing to the fourth-place Waco Pirates, 1-0, in 11 innings. Sherman-Denison moved from seventh place into a tie for fifth and sixth with Greenville, by downing Gainesville, 8-1. The loss dropped Gainesville into the cellar, as Temple took over seventh place, shutting out Greenville, 6-0.

Texarkana blew a five-run lead in the seventh frame against Wichita Falls. The Spudders counted six runs on four walks, a single, a double and an error. Cecil McClung scored the winning run for Wichita Falls in the eighth, when Jack Bradsher doubled.

Hal Haddican's home run in the last of the 11th inning gave Waco the victory over Austin.

This afternoon, Sherman-Denison players will parade in Sherman and Denison to advertise a game tonight with Gainesville. Sherman and Denison high school nines will play a twilight exhibition game before the Twins-Owl contest. Elsewhere, Wichita Falls plays at Texarkana, Austin at Waco and Temple at Greenville.

Westerners Win Tilt

Final Playoff Tilt Not Set

Time and place for the final game of the District 1-AA baseball playoff between Lubbock and Amarillo High schools had not been determined this morning, Westerner officials reported, although negotiations were still in progress. The Lubbock group is reportedly requesting that the tilt be played this afternoon at Amarillo, while the Sandies, it is understood, favor a Friday afternoon time.

The Westerners evened up the championship series Wednesday afternoon at Amarillo by blasting the Sandie nine, 15-8. The second game of the double bill was rained out in the second inning.

The local nine looked like a cinch to take the second game, having scored four runs to none for Amarillo in the second inning. When the game was called after a couple of delays, three Lubbock runners were perched on base with no outs and an erratic hurler trying to find the plate.

Galey Gets Homer

Home runs by Charles Galey in the third with the bases loaded and Jessie Fullerton in the seventh with one mate on highlighted the 12-hit attack on four Amarillo pitchers.

Day Starts On Mound

Lefty Bennie Day started on the mound for the Westerners, gaining the victory, and the young sophomore struck out the first five men to face him. He got in trouble in the third when Amarillo scored five runs on a combination of hits, walks, and errors, and gave up one tally in the fourth after an error allowed a batter to reach first and advance to second. Before retiring in the fifth after walking one man, he had struck out nine batters and allowed only four hits, two each in the third and fourth.

The victory was a sweet one for the Westerners who dropped the first game Tuesday, 7-3, and the win put them on an even basis with the Sandies for the third and deciding game of the playoff.

Wildness cost the Sandies several runs in the first frame. After Bob Brown, shortstop, walked, Jimmy Hamilton singled, and Catcher Morris Turner walked to load the sacks. Second baseman Charles Galey drew a bye to force Brown across with the first run, and a new pitcher, Beasore entered the game. He made Hinson ground out second to first, scoring Hamilton, and Fullerton knocked a single to score Turner.

On a wild pitch Galey scored, and Fullerton came across the plate when Catcher Max Winberg threw the ball away attempting to catch him at home. Garnet Reeves was hit by a pitched ball and Dean White walked before Day struck out and Brown flew out to left field to retire the side.

In the third inning the Westerners showed the power that caused Roberson to walk so many men in the first game. Reeves got on with a double to center field, and White reached first on an error by Third Baseman Warren Spalding. Day got on on a fielder's choice, Reeves scoring, and advanced to second without a play being made on him after White had taken second.

Brown drew an intentional walk to fill the sacks, and Hamilton struck out. Then Turner singled to bring in White, and Galey knocked the homer out of the park to clear the sacks. That was all the scoring, but Hinson singled following Galey's four-bagger.

In the final frame Brown opened with a single, Hamilton and Turner flied out to center field, and Brown stole second. Galey walked, and Hinson sent a long double into left center field scoring Brown and Galey. Then Fullerton walloped Roberson's offering into the scoreboard in left center field to score Hinson ahead of him and conclude the Lubbock scoring.

Leading the hitting for Lubbock were Turner with two singles and a double; Galey with a homer and a single; Hinson with a double and a single; Fullerton with a single and a home run. Reeves also hit an extra-base blow. Brown drew three walks and got a single in two trips.

Denison Certified For League Tourney

AUSTIN, May 19 (AP)—The Interscholastic League office today reported that Denison High school is the only team that has been certified for the Conference AA baseball playoff.

Seven other places remain to be officially filled for the state tournament, which will be played here June 6-8, league athletic director Rhea Williams said today.

Denison, winner of District 5, comes to the tourney on a bi-district bye, drawn earlier this season. The District 9 winner also comes on a bye.

Hot Battle In Withers Seen

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—At least five rivals loom for Olympia and Noble Impulse in Saturday's $25,000 Withers mile. So it may not be a private party for those speed specialists after all.

Now rated probable aspirants for Belmont park's weekend stake are, in addition to the favored pair: George D. Widener's Reveille, Woodvale farm's Halt, Mrs. Aksel Wichfeld's Dalquari, Robert Kleberg's Curandero and one of the Greentree stable's four eligibles.

Then there's the possibility that some lesser light might take a crack at the lucrative purse.

No Final Decision

Although Trainer John Gaver has indicated that Preakness-winning Capot would bypass the Withers and await the $75,000, mile and a half Belmont stakes of June 11, no final decision was expected before Gaver discussed a Withers starter with Greentree's owners—J. H. (Jock) Whitney and his sister, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson.

One Hitter, victorious in his last two Belmont outings, remains the stable's most likely candidate.

Trainer Ivan Parke has freshened up Fred Hooper's beaten Derby favorite, Olympia which was idle on Preakness day.

Noble Impulse, a Pimlico track record breaker for owner Crispin Oglebay prior to his third in the Preakness in which he set the pace for a mile, could bring defeat for Olympia as well as for himself, if he engages in a suicidal duel for command with the Hooper ace.

Reveille Is Threat

Should Halt run back to his triumphant effort in Keeneland's Blue Grass stakes, something he failed to do in the Derby, he might be a vital Withers factor. He worked six furlongs in 1:13 at Belmont yesterday.

Reveille which might have beaten Olympia in the Flamingo stakes at Hialeah last winter but for breaking very badly, did the same thing only last Monday when he came in a belated fourth in Belmont's Stromboli handicap, a sprint affair.

Curandero was sixth in the Preakness after being third at the end of the first six furlongs. Dalquari recently appeared to have regained his best Florida winter form.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

It seemed mighty strange sitting at the same old stand in Tech gym Tuesday night to watch a basketball game in the middle of the baseball season. But we had company. There were others who came to see what the Red Raiders would have in the way of court material for next season. And, on the whole, it looks as though Coach Polk Robison might have another strong team. Spring practice in basketball, as in every sport, proves nothing. It does, though, give a good idea of what kind of timber the coach has to mold.

Don Groves and the erstwhile varsity won the game, but they were hard-pressed. If they had been in better condition, they might won more easily. All of which does not detract from the work of the future varsity. The primarily freshman squad worked hard, tried hard and generally played some good ball. The work of the oldtimers, Gene Gibson and Jiggs Jackson, was about what you would expect it to be, consistent, steady and good. There wasn't anything of brilliance in the game, but observers still were given the impression that they were watching the nucleus of a squad that will do well next season.

Polk had a lot of men to throw into the breach and he used every one on the bench. Some looked better than others and two or three gave promise of filling varsity shoes in good shape. Verdell Turner, Virgil Johnson and Jack Alderson, all three sparkplugs of the Lubbock High school team not so long ago, turned in fine performances. Alderson was runner-up to Grove for high point honors, but his scoring wasn't as impressive as his general floor work and his aggressive play. He was alert to opportunities, his passing was good and he hustled every minute.

Johnson and Turner both are boys who will give the Raiders scoring punch, as well as maneuverability on the court. They will be given a lot of support by Ted turned in a fine show. Charley Pinnell, back from the track wars and with only one day's work, had no chance to show ability, but he demonstrated during last season that he will be helpful. The two Eddin brothers, Bill and Jim, of Sudan will be in line to play a lot of varsity ball, while J. R. McAnaly, a transfer from Weatherford Junior college, ought to make himself heard.

Turo, the play on the part of the varsity showed a lot of need polishing and there were plenty of rough spots, but none that can't be corrected. We liked the hustle shown and the spirit. Irl Brown, another freshman, was a good example of it. He had the task of guarding Grove, something of an iron test for a freshman. He came off second best, but he was trying all the time. He gives promise of taking the big fellow's place in good shape in time. Polk remarked the other day that while there were rough spots, the boys were trying. He liked their attitude and the way they were hustling. So did we.

By way of New Mexico comes the chaff that Hardin-Simmons was balked at the Border Conference meeting on one point it was important—to them—to have passed. The conference at present has a rule that any student having studied under the Armed Forces program must declare the hours he has gained. In some cases, this makes a man who normally would have been a freshman a sophomore or better. The Cowboys attempted to get the conference to take the rule off the books, we understand, because a couple of their top basketball players would be affected. As we get the story, both Slats Stagner and Leon Burroughs would be through, instead of having additional competition.

But the conference did not take the rule off the books. Instead, every effort was rejected and the rule stands. It affects one player at Tech, but Polk knew that and had no objection. It seems reasonable that the hours a student made while studying in the Armed Forces should be counted toward his diploma in the college he now is attending. Incidentally, we hear that Hardin-Simmons took the rule that five percent of all bowl profits must go to the conference pretty hard. After all, the Cowboys were in three bowl games last year. Texas Mines and Arizona were in one each.

THE ROUNDUP: Joe Wisiniewski and John Dempsey are lookalikes—Dempsey fanned twice in his debut here, one less than Joe . . . Al Duarte made a sensational running, diving catch in centerfield last night . . . Chick Trout certainly has secured seven fine trophies for the Lions club convention's golf tournament . . . Umpires are wasting less time in running players—and managers—this year. Hershel Martin went out quickly at Lamesa last night. . . Jackie Wilcox is going well for the Loboes and we're glad to hear it. . . . There's a strong possibility that Chick Fowler and Pepper Martin will make the Greenville, Lubbock Corpus Christi swing, going from one to the other on five day looks! . . . Haskins was violently ill before last night's game, but showed the stuff of which he's made by throwing a good job at the Pioneers . . . Don't forget that game time is 8:15.

Senators Top Detroit

Yankees Drub Indians, 6-0

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

How about that zany Washington club? Now they come up with a one-hitter shared by four different pitchers.

Not content with upsetting the American league with a streak of nine straight victories in the west, they're back home winning ball games in unorthodox fashion.

Monday they beat Boston when a Red Sox baserunner overan second while the tying run was scoring in the ninth. Last night they got a one-hitter from their pitching staff but had to win it the hard way.

Nine Walks Given

This latest dilly involved Paul Calvert, Dick Weik, Forrest Thompson and Dick Welteroth. They served up a total of one hit —a single — yet they needed a three-run homer by Eddie Robinson to top Detroit, 6-3.

Of course, there's a gimmick. Nine bases on balls and three errors made it close. It turned out that the hit — Aaron Robinson's single in the fourth—didn't figure in the scoring.

Calvert, the bespectacled ex-Cuban winter league star, started. He was forced to retire in the seventh because of a blistered finger. Weik came in and walked the first four men he faced. That was all for Richard. Thompson got the side out but Washington trailed 3-2 going to the last of the eighth.

Robinson lifted Marvin Grissom's pitch over the right field fence with two on to give the Senators the lead and Welteroth was able to hold it. Welteroth pitched the last two innings when Thompson was removed for a pinch-hitter.

Feller Is Beaten

Bobby Feller took another beating as the New York Yankees thumped Cleveland's faltering ace, 6-0, behind Vic Raschi's two-hit pitching.

The Yanks, led by Tommy Henrich's two homers, clubbed Feller for 12 of their 13 hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Boston Red Sox, back in their happy hunting ground at Fenway park, made it two in a row over Chicago, 7-4. Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams hit homers to hand Marino Pieretti his first defeat while Ellis Kinder staggered home with an 11-hitter.

Home runs by Stan Spence, Roy Sievers and Sherm Lollar enabled the St. Louis Browns to win their ninth in 29 starts, downing Philadelphia, 8-6.

Reds Drop Braves

Cincinnati continued to upset the National league picture, knocking off the Boston Braves, 13-9, on Grady Hatton's homer with the bases loaded in the last of the ninth. As the New York Giants bowed to Pittsburgh, 5-3, Boston had a chance to gain the undisputed lead by a victory.

Brooklyn went on a 20-hit spree to thump Chicago, 14-5, with Joe Hatten coasting to his third win, a 10-hitter. Roy Campanella and Duke Snider hit home runs for the Dodgers.

Johnny Mize hit homers Nos. 304 and 305 of his career, passing the idle Joe DiMaggio to take the lead among active major leaguers, but the Giants lost to Pittsburgh, 5-3.

The Phillies made it two in a row over the St. Louis Cards, 3-2, on a double by Granville Hamner and a single by Eddie Waitkus off reliefer Ted Wilks. Curt Simmons went all the way for his first win.

Bob Feller leads the American League's active pitchers with 177 victories. He is followed by Hal Newhouser's 152, Dizzy Trout's 135 and Denny Galehouse's 109.

Peace Hopes Dim At Ford

DETROIT, May 19. (AP)—The job of trying to settle the Ford Motor Co. strike dragged on today.

Hopes of peace remained dim as the company and the striking CIO United Auto Workers prepared for their ninth negotiation session (11a. m. EST).

At the start of the "speed-up" walkout's 15th day there were still no signs that the parties were any closer together. More than 100,000 workers are idle.

However, UAW President Walter Reuther's return to Detroit gave rise to speculation that the union might come up with a proposal.

For the last three days Reuther has been in Washington attending sessions of the CIO's executive board. It was felt he might have come home with advices from the CIO's top command.

Peace Plan Fails

On Tuesday a third peace proposal had failed. This was the company's proposal that the strike be limited to the Rouge "B" assembly building and the Lincoln-Mercury plant.

It is only at these plants, which employ a limited number of men, that the union alleges a "speed-up" violating manpower work standards.

Last weekend Ford rejected a UAW settlement proposals and the UAW did likewise to a company idea.

The company insists it has not increased the work load to the extent that men's health and welfare are endangered, as charged by the union.

Yesterday the union accused Ford of "deliberately discouraging" federal mediation out of fear that the "facts" would become public, Ford made no comment.

counties give way. 40,000 to 50,000 acres of some of Texas' most fertile farmland will go under water.

Despite a threatening cloud cover over most of the state, there was little rain—and most of it in the Panhandle area buffeted last night by new tornadoes. Scattered thundershowers were predicted for most of the state through tomorrow.

Fort Worth citizens were moving back into their water ravaged homes after a flash flood held the city in a paralyzing grip for 24 hours.

Yesterday a torrado struck the little Texas Panhandle town of Kellerville, damaging homes, oil field equipment and utility lines and ripping up trees. It was the only damaging twister in a series that flitted around the Panhandle during the afternoon.

No Dead Reported

No one was killed and there were no injuries in the village of 50 population

Rain and hail hit the North Plains towns of Panhandle, Borger, Gruver, Claude, Stinnett, Miami, Conway and the rail siding of St. Francis, while in West Texas' ranch and cattle country Crane was in the path of a storm that blew down some shacks and damaged roofs.

Meanwhile Amarillo's death toll in a tornado that hit the Panhandle city over the week-end rose to six as Mrs. A. R. Fango of Paris, Tex., died in a hospital.

The death toll for southwestern storms in the last four days now rests at 18 with more than 160 injured. More than half of those were hurt at Amarillo. Oklahoma had one dead and 38 injured in twisters.

The three additional bodies found yesterday at Fort Worth were those of John D. Fawks, 84; Mrs. Frances Moore, 39, and Frank Wills Guy, negro, 28.

Food Stores Closed

The city asked drug stores and food stores in the flooded areas to close as a disease preventative measure. The city health department urged wholesale vaccinations against typhoid.

At opposite ends of the well-protected levee district in Dallas —where the water was the highest it has been since 1908—the river backed up White Rock creek and trapped negro families in Roosevelt addition.

Firemen and deputy sheriffs, using boats, picked residents off housetops and out of flooded doorways. They brought out more than 200 and provided them public shelter. The Red Cross said another 300 had made their way out to the homes of relatives and friends. Some chose to stay with their possessions. Sheriff Bill Decker estimated there were 1,000 to 1,500 people in the flooded spot.

Roads Damaged

Flood waters heavily damaged some Dallas county roads, and on tributaries of the Trinity splintered bridges. The river did heavy water damage to buildings it caught in the southern part of town.

Fort Worth health Director W. V. Bradshaw said all non-essential businesses without private water supplies were ordered to close as a disease-prevention measure and to conserve water. This included theaters.

At Dallas, the flood in White Rock creek cut highway 175 to Terrell, but autos were routed by loop 12 to an intersection with the highway beyond the high water. High water had closed highway 356 to Irving, state highway engineers said Wednesday night.

Onion Creek, between Dallas and Waxahachie, flooded Missouri-Kansas-Texas tracks. Katy trains last night rode Texas and Pacific tracks to Fort Worth and then turned south. The Burlington and Rock Island, which had used the Katy's southbound tracks, sent its trains by Southern Pacific to its own lines at Corsicana.

Guatemala's postwar growth and boom period is reported to have tapered off.

New Twister Hits In Panhandle Area

Sixth Victim Of Tornado At Amarillo Dies In Hospital

(By The United Press)

AMARILLO, May 19—The sixth victim of Sunday night's Amarillo tornado died at a hospital last night, even while the Panhandle was undergoing new storm jitters.

Mrs. Erma Core Fangio, 63, of Paris, Tex., was the sixth person to die as a result of the Amarillo tornado. Her husband remained in a hospital, in "fair" condition. They were visiting a son, A. L. Fangio, when the tornado struck.

Meanwhile, several tornadoes skipped over the Panhandle last night in another stormy night.

Damage was estimated at $25,000 at Kellerville, 80 miles northeast of Amarillo. There were no injuries. The tornado uprooted power lines and disrupted communications.

Two houses were damaged heavily and several oil companies took property losses. The Warren gasoline plant and Royal Oil company garages were hit as well as the Texas company's Keller plant, which was unroofed. Two oil derricks were flattened.

There was tremendous force in the storm, which spread debris out over a two mile area.

Heavy rain and hail fell in the area north of Amarillo, and jittery Panhandle residents kept wary eyes turned skyward. At one time, a Groom telephone operator figured she was "the only one left in town." Everyone else, she said, went to the country as a threatening, funnel-shaped cloud appeared on the horizon.

Other twisters were spotted riging high over Claude, St. Francis, Clark, Conway and the town of Panhandle.

Wheat, the number one agricultural crop of the Panhandle, appeared to be standing up well under the onslaught of stormy weather of the past week.

Zeke Brown agricultural editor of the Amarillo Times, surveyed grain fields and said a bumper crop could be expected, barring further heavy hail or rain. Storm losses up to now, he estimated, were no more than 10 per cent of the acreage.

said, is that some step will be taken which will "poison the well of education."

O'Mahoney asked Lilienthal if he "had any objection" to the committee's writing a Communist ban into the law.

Lilienthal said he had no objection since the president of the national research council now has agreed that a non-Communist affidavit should be required from candidates for fellowships.

Uranium Missing

Two other subcommittee members—Senators Russell (D-Ga) and Ferguson (R-Mich)—have publicly criticized the conduct of the fellowship program.

While the appropriations group looked into the money requests, the joint congressional commitee on atomic energy took a rest after a jam-packed day yesterday which brought a number of major developments.

First, Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) announced that one-seventh of an ounce of enriched uranium containing U-235 still missing from the Argonne National laboratory, Chicago, "is of no value for use in an atomic weapon."

FBI Makes Report

In a statement following a three-hour session of the committee with AEC officials McMahon said that six-sevenths of the U-235 had been recovered. The fissionable material was reported missing along with its "container" last Feb. 8.

"The FBI has indicated that in its opinion no espionage is involved in this case," McMahon said.

The committee chairman also announced the wind-up of hearings on the nominations of Prof. Henry De Wolf Smyth, Princeton university physicist, and Gordon Dean, Vista, Calif., attorney and teacher and former law partner of McMahon, for AEC commissionerships.

Both men testified yesterday that all "reasonable" measures should be taken by the AEC to insure that government funds are not used to educate Communists.

McMahon announced after the brief hearing that there had been no objection raised against either man. He indicated the committee soon would recommend both to the Senate for confirmation.

Democracy Can Kill Idea Of Communism, Kiwanis Club Told

"Communism is only an idea. It cannot be killed by bullets. It can be destroyed only by a better idea," Rabbi Julius Kerman told the Kiwanis Club today at noon. "That better idea is democracy."

Rabbi Kerman, of the congregation Shaareth Israel, went on to say that Communism is like a disease. It is no respector of borders.

"Everything that is said of Soviet Russia is true," said the Rabbi, "and we don't know the half of it. But regardless of this guilt, war is not the solution. War fails to solve anything."

Leaders Are Replaced

"When we destroyed the Kaiser he was replaced by Hitler. When we destroyed Hitler we were faced with the lust for power of Stalin," Rabbi Kerman continued. "We can destroy one leader or nation and another springs up from the ashes."

"We must remember that discontent is the fertile soil in which Communism breeds. We must eliminate such discontent by eradicating want, prejudice and segregation."

Money Is Needed

"Waste in war is inevitable. We spent billions to fight a war to preserve democracy. We need to spend some of this kind of money to preserve the peace. That money would build homes, educate our children and do many other useful things," the Rabbi said.

"When we were at war we rightfully assumed the belief that the war was everybody's job. Now we want to take the attitude that peace is the job of the statesman. We should start now to work for peace as we did for war," Rabbi Kerman concluded.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Paul T. Jones and President Fred Sparks presided over the meeting.

And—everybody agreed on this—the blonde beauty wouldn't get to first base with the morals boys if she showed up undressed like that.

"It really wasn't my idea," she says. "They told me they wanted a lot of sexy shots. They said to give 'em all the Jane Russell I've got."

Maybe the unofficial censors were afraid she'd blow out every television tube in town. Anyhow, they said, most of the "scooped-out" necklines had to go.

Groundwork Starts On Plan Similar To PWA

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — A group of government officials are laying the groundwork for a public works program along the lines of the old WPA, it was learned today.

The program is designed for use if unemployment should reach a "danger point."

The leading proponent of the program is Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, longtime Federal Works administrator who recently was appointed head of the Maritime commission. He said today he is opposed to any "leaf-raking" projects. He favors, instead, the construction of much-needed public buildings, post offices and court houses.

Soviet Pilot Escapes In Plane To Sweden

STOCKHOLM, May 19. (AP)—Stockholm newspapers said today a Russian army pilot crash-landed his fighter plane onto Swedish soil last night, and said that he had fled his country because he was "tired of the Soviet Union."

Lt. Gen. Bangt Nordenskiold, commander-in-chief of the Swedish Royal Airforce, attended a hearing at which the pilot was questioned after a spectacular somersault landing, the newspapers said. They added that a Russian diplomatic official was denied permission to interview the flier.

The newspaper Stockholms-Tidningen quoted the pilot as saying his wife already had been sent to Siberia by the Soviet regime, and he had no children upon whom reprisal might be taken.

He planned his escape carefully, and took off from a Baltic airbase near Riga, the papers said.

His aircraft, carrying three loaded machineguns, hit a mountain on the edge of the Sodertoern military airport outside Stockholm, and tumbled end over end, but the pilot suffered only minor injuries, the dispatches reported. They said his uniform was that of an airforce lieutenant.

Testimony Started In Slaying Trial

WICHITA FALLS, May 19 (AP) Testimony began today in the murder trial of T. C. Saucier, former Wichita Falls state hospital attendant.

Saucier and David Beck, 40, were indicted last March after they were charged with slaying Thomas Houston Gibbons, 47, a Sulphur Springs truck farmer by stomping, beating and kicking him to death."

The final juror in Saucier's trial was selected last night after 93 men were questioned from a special venire of 250.

Gibbons was pronounced dead less than 20 minutes after he was admitted to the mental hospital as a patient.

Judge Frank Ikard of 30th district court asked to separate trials for the attendants, but refused a defense request for Beck to face the court first.

District Attorney Clyde Fillmore said he would summon Beck as a state witness and permit him to be cross-examined, or dismiss the indictment against him so that he might testify for Saucier.

Saucier and Beck have been held in Wichita county jail since March 7, when they were charged.

Brazilian Talks

relations between the two countries."

Dutra said the Rio De Janeiro hemisphere defense agreement "established the reciprocity of the American republics in common bond against aggression."

The Brazilian chief of state said he will take back to his country an "unforgettable recollection" of the warn welcome he received here.

Dutra, as Brazil's wartime minister of war, fashioned Brazil's expeditionary force that fought in Italy. He arrived here yesterday afternoon by Brazilian army plane under American fighter escort for a ten-day state visit.

He is returning President Truman's triumphant visit to Rio De Janeiro in 1947. He was given full military honors by 3,500 armed troops and was cheered along a four-mile route by thousands of Washingtonians.

Sixty fighters, mostly jets, flew over the motorcade en route. But in the opinion of Brazilians accompanying him, President Dutra was most touched by a birthday party which President Truman gave his distinguished guest on the steps of the District of Columbia building.

Birthday Cake Cut

Following the formal speeches of welcome at the building located along the parade route, Mr. Truman stepped forward and called attention to the fact that the ceremony fell on Dutra's 64th birthday.

The Marine band struck up "happy birthday to you." — the President and the crowd joined in singing the tune. A four foot high, 40-inch square birthday cake decorated in the colors of Brazil, was wheeled onto the platform and both presidents cut a slice.

Dutra passed along a piece to Mrs. Truman. A Boy Scout standing close to the platform got a piece from Mr. Truman.

Afterwards the two presidents motored to Blair house where Dutra spent the night. In the evening he was given a formal state dinner by President and Mrs. Truman, at which he received a solid gold medal in commemoration of the visit.

The decoration, weighing a pound and a half, bore a likeness of the Brazilian chief of state on one side and a notation of the occasion on the other.

Thanks Are Expressed

Dutra did not speak at the dinner. But President Truman did. He presented the medal, commenting that it "is the only one like it in the world and the only one that will be made," and then proposed a toast to the Brazilian president.

Brazil's minister of foreign relations De Fernandes expressed Druta's thanks. "The bonds which have united us have their roots so deep in feeling, in economy and in history," he said, "that they are now, as they always have been, indestructible."

sounding approval to their proposals for the future of Germany. The fact that they did not get such an approval, some experts say, may make them less willing now to reach agreements with the Western powers which would permit greater political freedom to East zone Germans.

The second development which has caused speculation about the future of the Paris meeting was yesterday's imposition of restrictions on truck traffic from the Western zone to Berlin.

Those experts who believe the Russians might be changing tactics in lifting the Berlin blockade found in the new restrictions evidence that the Soviets may be as reluctant as ever to make things easy at any point for Big Four cooperation.

Texas Radio Stations Get Building Permits

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—The communications commission yesterday announced construction permit for new standard stations to:

Blake-Forney Broadcasting Co., Snyder, Tex., 1280 kilocycles 500 watts, daytime only.

Station KAMQ, Amarillo, was authorized to change from daytime to unlimited time, using 500 watts power at night.

The commission authorized the sale of 56.4 percent of the stock of KAVI, Amarillo, by Lonnie J. Preston, Alice Howenstine and V. M. Preston to R. G. Hughes for $30,000, with adjustments on date of sale.

Police Quiz Girl In Death Of Opera Star

ATLANTA, May 19 (AP)—Police said today they were unable to verify a young woman's story that she watched while Metropolitan opera tenor John Garris was shot to death.

The 19-year-old blonde, booked as Alma Johnson, alias Mary Smith, of Richmond, Va., is being held in a charge of suspicion of narcotics. She was taken into custody on an anonymous tip that she knew something about the slaying.

The young woman's story sent Atlanta police to Jacksonville, Fla., and Anderson, S. C., but police in those two cities reported last night that the information given them had brought no new developments in the slaying of the balding tenor.

Stanton Subdivision Residents Will Meet

A meeting of residents of H. W. Stanton subdivision who own property not yet in Lubbock city limits has been called for 8 o'clock Friday night in Overton school.

City Engineer R. L. Oldham and Assistant Engineer C. J. Griggs will meet with the group.

Possible extension of city limits to include the area will be discussed. Some portions of the area are bounded on two sides by residential areas within city limits and others, on three sides.

In order to meet requirements for being taken into city limits, residents of the area have been told by the city engineer's office they will need to have plats made and get streets and alleys cleared and dedicated for public use.

Dr. J. H. Hamblen Will Hold Service

Dr. J. H. Hamblen of Abilene, general superintendent of the Evangelical Methodist church, will conduct the second of three services in Lubbock at 8 o'clock tonight at the Christian and Missionary Alliance chapel at 1901 Twenty-first.

Whether an Evangelical Methodist church will be organized in Lubbock remains to be determined, said the visiting minister.

The Evangelical Methodist church was organized May 18, 1946, in Memphis, Tenn., by "a handful of preachers and laymen," said Dr. Hamblen, who said there now are 100 churches and about 100 preachers in the United States and one Evangelical Methodist mission is operated in Mexico and includes 14 churches with 1,100 members and 27 churches have been formed in France.

Dr. Hamblen said he objects to modernism in the church. "We try to steer clear of fanaticism on the one hand and modernism on the other," he said.

The Friday night service also will be conducted at 8 o'clock at the chapel at 1901 Twenty-first.

Defense Presents Evidence In Case

The defense was presenting evidence this afternoon in the trial of Wesley Crecelius, 29, of Lubbock, on a charge that he possessed 13 pints of whisky and a case of beer for purpose of sale.

The case was commenced Wednesday afternoon by selection of a jury.

It was believed the case would go to the jury late today.

Presentation of evidence began shortly after noon yesterday, and was continued until court recessed for the day.

The charge on which Crecelius is being tried grew out of a raid by Texas Liquor Control board members and city police on April 23. Other liquor law violation charges have been filed subsequently against the defendant, court officials said.

Widely scattered thundershowers were expected in the area this afternoon, but they would be of little intensity and short duration, it was estimated Slightly cooler weather was the prospect for Friday.

Maj. Vernon Taylor Attends Air School

PANAMA CITY, Fla., May 19. (Special)—Maj. Vernon R. Turner, resident of 1109 Thirteenth Street, Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Turner, of Levelland, is among the more than 700 Air Force officers in the current class of the Air Tactical school at Tyndall Air Force base here.

The Air Tactical school, commanded by Brig. Gen. J. K. Lacey, is the basic school of the Air university. Here carefully selected officers learn fundamentals required of all Air Force officers, the intensively broad academic course including instruction in leadership administration, public speaking, military management, personnel management, military law, public information, group discussion, tactics, operations, strategy, new developments in aircraft and equipment, intelligence, supply, maintenance, and a multitude of other subjects with which the sqadron commander and his staff officers must be familiar in the modern Air Force. Classroom instruction is supplemented, for flying officers, by training flights in tactical aircraft.

Upon completion of the four months course, student officers return to their home bases from which, after a period of service, many will attend other advanced schools in the Air university system.

told to evacuate the river areas and remove their cattle.

Four twisters gave three towns near misses last night in southwest Oklahoma. The worst tore up a hangar at the Hobart municipal airport. The tornado missed Hobart itself by about four miles.

Police at Altus, south of Hobart, said they heard a man was missing after another tornado at Gould, population 400. There was no confirmation. Five buildings were smashed and crops damaged to the tune of $300,000. Altus itself, a city of nearly 10,000, had a bad scare. Tornadoes passed on both sides but destroyed only an empty rural school house at Victory, six miles west of Altus.

Illegal Emigres Returned Home

Eleven Mexican citizens who entered the United States illegally started a trip back to their homeland this morning in the custody of immigration officials.

Officers said the group will be taken to Presidio, on the Mexico-Texas border, where they will be turned over to Mexican officials.

A dozen other Mexican nationals were taken back to Mexico about a week ago. They were arrested recently in Littlefield, Hale Center, Lamesa and Lubbock.

A plea of guilty to drunk driving charges was entered this morning in county court by Elvis W. Colville, 42, who was fined $75 and costs and his driver's license revoked six months.

Surlester Hereford, 39, a negro, pleaded innocent of illegally carrying a pistol. Bond of $500 was set, returnable May 30.

Two persons, one 24, of Amarillo and the other, 20, of Lubbock, were fined $15 each for racing automobiles on Broadway, police said. The arrests were in 1200-block Broadway.

The police arrested 17 negroes and, after investigation, charged 15 of them with vagrancy. Homer Harrison and Doyle Clark were arresting patrolmen.

Alfred Edwards, of Amarillo, pleaded guilty Wednesday in county court of a charge of check law violation, and was assessed a fine of $10 and court costs, the county attorney's office announced.

A $20 bicycle belonging to Gordon Gibson of 2001 Ave. R was reported stolen from the vicinity of O. L. Slaton Junior High school, police said.

Red Hearing Uproar Brings Rule Change

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — Senator O'Conor (D-Md) said today that unless witnesses announce whether they are Communists they won't be allowed to testify at Senate hearings on legislation to curb Reds.

O'Conor laid down that rule afresh after yesterday's hearings were thrown into a brief uproar when Arthur Schutzer, executive secretary of the American Labor party, declined to answer the Communist question and was forcibly removed from the witness chair.

During the absence of Senators Eastland (D-Miss), O'Conor is chairman of the judiciary subcommittee which is conducting the hearings. He said information about the political affiliation of witnesses will be insisted on as an aid in evaluating their testimony.

Those who say they are Communists, O'Conor said in an interview, "can still go ahead and testify"—but they must answer the question first.

Capitol Hill police forced Schutzer from the stand yesterday after he kept trying to make himself heard following his refusal to say whether he is a Communist. He was permitted to remain in the room to listen to other testimony.

SOLON PUSHES ECONOMY DRIVE

Drastic Slash In Payroll Is Urged

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va), pleading anew for economy, today called on the Truman administration to lop 500,000 employes off the federal payroll.

The Virginia lawmaker made his appeal as the Senate got ready to vote on a fresh proposal to trim an appropriation bill five per cent. Previous attempts by an economy group to cut two other money bills by the same percentage have failed.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) offered the reduction amendment to the measure carrying nearly $1,465,000,000 in cash and loan authority for the Agriculture department. The proposed five per cent cut would apply to the $723,000,000 cash item in the bill. He said his amendment would save about $36,000,000.

High Cost Seen

Byrd's call for a sharp slash in the number of civilian employes in the executive branch of the government was in a statement accompanying the regular monthly report of the joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures. Byrd is chairman.

"At average civilian pay of more than $3,000 a year, every day we are adding more than $750,000 to the annual federal payroll," Byrd said. He added:

"It appears that the bureaucracy is out of control with respect to personnel, and drastic action is necessary."

The Virginian said the number of civilians employed in the executive branch within the United States has been increasing at the rate of 322 a day for 15 months. He said that at the end of March there was a total of 2,111,257 employes on the rolls in that branch.

"It is my firm conviction," Byrd said, "that civilian employment in the executive branch can be reduced by at least 500,000 without impairment of a single essential function. This still would leave the total at 175 per cent of the pre-war peak."

Economy Is Urged

Byrd said economy in that field "is the first responsibility" of the executive branch itself, but that Congress can help "by rejecting proposals for new functions, programs, policies and agencies."

Byrd long has been a sharp critic of the administration on spending and other matters. Last week White House callers quoted President Truman as saying there are "too many Byrds in Congress."

Besides the $723,000,000 in new appropriations, the agriculture bill (similar to one the House has passed) contains (1) $139,000,000 in so-called permanent appropriations, and (2) $603,000,000 in loan and contract authority.

Funds Boost Sought

Of the latter amount, $500,000,000 is earmarked for the rural Electrification administration (REA), which helps farmers obtain electric power.

Senator Langer (R-ND) tried to boost that to $700,000,000, and to add another $1,000,000 to the $6,000,00 provided in the bill for administration of the REA program. The Senate batted down both proposals on a voice vote.

Also defeated by voice vote was another amendment by Langer and Senator Humphrey (D-Minn) which would have given the REA $5,000 for a survey looking toward extending rural telephone service.

Also rejected, 60 to 14, was an amendment by Senator Long (D-La) to increase the school lunch program fund in the bill from $87,500,000 to $100,000,000. The House voted $75,000,000.

Famous U. S. Historian Dies

SOUTHPORT, Conn., May 19 (AP) —James Truslow Adams, who quit a career in Wall Street to become an internationally-known historian, died here last night at his home.

The 70-year-old chronicler of colonial New England, winner of the Pulitzer prize in history in 1922, had been ill for several weeks. He suffered a stroke a week ago.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Kathryn Seely Adams, and a cousin, Frank Adams Truslow, president of the New York Curb Exchange.

Services will be at the Adams home Friday. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Had Wall Street Career

Adams, who traced his ancestry to the 16th century in America, began a career in Wall Street about 1900. For 13 years he was a broker, banker, manufacturer and railroad man.

After the first world war in which he served as a captain in the military intelligence division of the Army general staff, he resumed his research in New England history. He achieved wide recognition with a trilogy on that section of the United States which included his Pulitzer-prize winning work.

An early supporter of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Adams broke with the New Deal and in 1936 published "The Living Jefferson," sharply critical of some New Deal aspects.

Doctor Tried To Reach Agreement With Aircraft Specialist, Detective Declares

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 19 (AP)—A St. Louis detective who testified that Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, jr., of St. Louis, hired him to get Byron C. Hattman to leave Mrs. Rutledge alone, continued on the witness stand today.

He is John Wilkerson, co-owner of the Allied Detective agency and owner of the Ace Secret service, sixth defense witness in the murder trial of Dr. Rutledge.

Dr. Rutledge, 28, is accused of slaying Hattman, 29-year-old St. Louis aircraft specialist in a Cedar Rapids hotel room last Dec. 14.

The state contends the slaying took place through "motives of blackmail, extortion and robbery."

Testimony Is Heard

The defense contends Hattman's death resulted from a fight following Dr. Rutledge's offer of money to Hattman to stop molesting the Rutledge family. Mrs. Rutledge has testified that after a night of drinking Hattman took her home and there forced her to submit to sexual intimacy.

Wilkerson testified Dr. Rutledge first hired him the last week in August and asked that he "bring about a situation" so that Hattman would cease bothering Mrs. Rutledge.

He tried to "put this pressure on him (Hattman) and get him to cease annoying Dr. and Mrs. Rutledge," Wilkerson said, adding that he failed.

Meets With Hattman

Wilkerson said he had met Hattman one morning early in October and asked him to stop annoying the Rutledge family.

"I told him Dr. Rutledge had asked me to go to Hattman and tell him Dr. Rutledge didn't want to be bothered with Hattman, that Dr. Rutledge and his wife had talked the whole affair over and decided they still loved each other and did not want a divorce" the witness testified.

"He said suppose I love her too?' and kind of laughed about it. I told him Dr. Rutledge had told me about Hattman's affair with Mrs. Rutledge and he turned red in the face and kind of laughed. He never did promise to stop seeing her."

Later Wilkerson said Dr. Rutledge reported to him that Hattman had asked for money.

"He said Hattman called late at night—after midnight — and asked for $200. He wanted Dr. Rutledge to meet him in front of the Rutledge apartment house that night with the money," Wilkerson said.

Court Tells Pickets To Keep Off Tracks

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—A permanent injunction has been issued here to enjoin pickets of Teamsters union, local 745, from crossing tracks of the Texas and Pacific Railway company where the union is striking against Republic Carloading and Distributing company.

The injunction was issued yesterday by District Judge W. L. Thornton.

"There is no labor dispute between the railroad and the union," Judge Thornton said. "The union can picket the carloading and distributing company docks all it pleases, but it can't send pickets across the railroad's spur tracks."

The American League teams finished the 1948 season in exactly the same order in night-game won-and-lost standings as in the regular rankings.

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

Do you think extremely rowdy fans should be ejected from baseball crowds?

(In answering the question, six Lubbock fans were discussing a timely subject which has received considerable attention recently in major leagues. Baseball commissioner Albert B. Chandler has announced he is behind all clubs in the major league in a war on rowdism of any sort. Chandler has issued instructions to club officials of major leagues to move at once against rowdism, with "no quarter, no temporizing and no timidity about ejection offenders.")

ANSWERS

PHIL ROSENTHAL, 906 Ave. Q, salesman at Bradbury's: "Yes, mam! I think so very much. The players is doing his best out there — or the umpire, even—and I don't think anybody should pour undue abuse on a player any more so than he would anyone. Good natured rawhiding is all right, but when it comes to abuse that just doesn't belong in sports. It's all right as long as they don't bring in personal things or throw something. Let's keep the sport clean."

A. B. REESE, 2707 Twenty-eighth, distributive education teacher in Senior High school: "By all means. I don't think anybody ought to be able to get by with rough stuff in public gatherings of any sort."

J. C. PENNINGTON, 2409 Twenty-eighth, manager of Pacific Finance Co.: "I'm in favor of that. I officiate at some football games and fans can stir up a lot of trouble out on the field. I'm sure it's the same in baseball, but it's more so in football than baseball. As long as heckling can be controlled by cops or designated fans, it should be controlled."

DALLAS WHALEY, 1904 Twenty-sixth, co-owner of West Texas pharmacy: "Yes, I do. I think good-natured kidding and riding of the umpires, or the players either, is a fan's privilege, but I think when it comes to unnecessary boisterousness to the point where it keeps the other fans from enjoying the game and makes them uncomfortable, they should be warned and if they persist they should be ejected from the ball park. Certainly I think conduct of people who've had too much to drink detracts from interest that the fans have."

L. O. SPARKS, 2618 Thirty-third, field engineer for Portland Cement association: "I definitely do. Rowdy heckling detracts from the national sport of baseball more than any other menace witnessed in the parks. As a general rule the American people are fun loving and do love to express their enthusiasm by cheers, but they do frown definitely on rowdy heckling. This applies more closely to minor leagues than majors, because most of the fans are acquainted and it oft-times leads to hard feelings which could easily have been avoided."

HENRY TRYHEART, 2204 Twenty-ninth, owner of Westerner cafe: "Yes, I figure it's just like any other public business. If someone goes to a dance and doesn't act right, he gets thrown out, and it is the same way at an eating place or a theater. Some of them drink and a lot of them get vulger. I felt sorry for the elderly woman I saw out there one time last year when cussing was going on. It ought to be the way it is in your own home or your business. Clean heckling is all right, but vile language isn't. I think they should put them out in the minor leagues, just like they do in the major leagues."

What makes the Weather bureau tick? Who makes the forecasts, how are they made and how accurate are they?

A weather - conscious South Plains has found itself asking these questions increasingly.

A prolonged siege of anything but moderate weather makes people wonder why the Weather bureau, for example, doesn't predict tornadoes and floods like the one Lubbock had.

Reports Flow In

At the Lubbock Weather bureau station at Municipal airport, weather observers follow uniform procedure

A wealth of weather data constantly flows in on two teletype machines which are keyed with dozens of other Weather bureau stations.

On one machine weather stations everywhere report hourly weather data On another forecasts come in from the district office, New Orleans, and from Albuquerque and Fort Worth, to be incorporated locally into a forecast for this area

Three separate forecasts are received four times a day: At 4 a. m., 10 a. m., 4 p. m. and 10 p. m. These come from Albuquerque, Fort Worth and New Orleans.

The Albuquerque report is the "airways" forecast. It covers height of clouds, wind direction and velocity, precipitation and air turbulence.

The Fort Worth report forecasts movement of air masses and general weather conditions.

The New Orleans report gives a general forecast, by specific areas, covering cloud conditions, expected precipitation and winds.

The vast amount of weather data, such as movement of air masses, is recorded on weather maps at the Lubbock station. A new map is started every six hours.

Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the Lubbock station, reveals some of the problems that he and his four staff members face in manning the station 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

For one thing, at the time that the observer needs all his faculties to study unusual weather conditions, the public keeps the phone continuously busy making anxious inquiries—and, incidentally, preventing really important calls from going through.

Mr. Frost jestingly said that if a tornado approached the airport, he wasn't sure that the observer could get off the phone long enough to see it coming.

But he did not imply any criticism of those who call the station for information. That, he knows, is what the Weather bureau is—a public service.

Over the nation the Weather bureau has an astonishing record of accuracy—more than 85 per cent of its predictions materialized. Local figures are not kept because there isn't the personnel or time to keep them.

The predictions the public remembers are the ones that don't materialize. That's understandable, too, especially in West Texas where if you don't like the weather, all you have to do is just wait a minute.

A good example was a raging,

School Bonds To Go On Sale

DALLAS, May 19. (AP)—All except one tax-supported Texas college have voted to put their building bonds on public sale July 7 instead of handling each bond issue separately.

The action was taken yesterday at a meeting of officials of the colleges.

Texas Tech, which was not represented at the meeting, already had announced its bonds will be sold separately. In addition, the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. will offer some $15,000,000 in a different type of bonds June 14.

The decision means that some $12,000,000 in school bonds will be offered for sale July 7, Clarence E. Crowe, an investment counselor who attended the meeting, estimated.

Start Of Program

That will be the official start of a great building program for Texas colleges, said R. L. Thomas of Dallas, a regent for the state teachers colleges.

Attending the meeting were W. J. McConnell, North Texas State college president; Gibb Gilchrist, chancellor for Texas A. and M. and head of Prairie View A. and M.; E. J. Howell, president of John Tarleton Agricultural college; E. H. Hereford, president of North Texas Agricultural college; John C. Jones, regent for Texas College of Arts and Industries; W. P. Hamblin, regent for Texas State College for Women; L. H. Hubbard, TSCW president; W. M. Loveless, TSCW business manager; R. L. Thomas, regent for the state teacher colleges; and John D. McCall, investment counselor.

Oil Allowables For June Due

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 19. (AP)—The Texas Railroad commission today sets the state's crude oil production allowables for June.

Oilmen here for the commission's statewide proration hearing believe prospects are good for June bringing an end to the five-month-old downward trend in the state's crude flow.

Since January 1 the commission has slashed daily allowables more than 800,000 barrels after hearing evidence of soaring foreign crude oil imports and mounting domestic stocks.

Current allowables total 2,019,442 barrels daily. After ordering a May cutback, the fifth consecutive slash, commission members predicted the downward trend would begin levelling off in June.

Texas Stocks Drop

The U. S. Bureau of Mines reports a sharp drop in Texas crude stocks since last month's statewide hearing.

Texas stock on May 7 totaled 128,175,000 barrels, a decline of 744,000 from April 30.

Over a five weeks period ending May 7 Texas stocks increased only 233 barrels, while totals for the entire nation climbed by 3,504,000 barrels.

Oilmen here for the hearing say these figures indicate Texas currently is producing at a satisfactory rate. Purchaser nominations for June, however, are 88,387 barrels daily below May.

June nominations, predictions of daily crude flow believed essential for meeting market demand, total 2,427,888 barrels daily.

Gulf coast purchasers asked for 35,275 barrels daily less than May. The Bureau of Mines reports that gulf coast crude stocks climbed 1,473,000 barrels during the week ending May 7.

THIRD WRECK VICTIM

BRONTE, May 19 (AP)—An auto accident near here has taken its third victim, Robert Rice, 23, of Sweetwater. Rice died last night of injuries received last Monday night when an auto overturned. Travis Dickey, 24, of Sweetwater, and Miss Marjorie Lee Anderson, 24, of Green Bay, Wis., were killed instantly.

TORNADO RIPS POLE, TREE—A tornado which struck on the southern outskirts of Meeker, Okla., easily lifted a utility-line pole and dropped it on the home of Mrs. Ruby Fisher. A full-grown tree in the foreground was splintered. Mrs. Fisher and a neighbor, Kenneth Early, inspect the damage. Mrs. Fisher and another woman were in the house but escaped injury. Two were hospitalized and more than three dozen injured in the twister. (AP Wirephoto.)

Hayworth Denies Rumors She Is Taking Plunges In Orange Blossom Squeezings

CANNES, May 19 (INS) — The technicolor fantasy of Rita, the movie queen, and Aly, the Indian prince, took on a DeMille touch today with a report that the bride will be steeped in orange blossoms squeezings.

La Hayworth, said the inside-dopesters of Cannes, is taking daily baths in freshly made essence of orange blossoms by way of preparation for the forthcoming nuptials.

Miss Hayworth, her dark-eyed prince and various self-appointed spokesmen, including Mayer Derignon, who will marry the happy couple on the 27th, indignantly denied the story.

Aly put it in a category with the canard that his father, the Aga Khan, spiritual leader of 5,000,000 Moslems, bottles his bath water and sells it to his worshipping hordes as a sort of religious mouthwash.

All hands including Gen. Georges Catroux, vice-president in charge of protocol and Aly's wartime commander, also denied that Leopold, King of the Belgians; the Queen of Italy and 12 of the Aga's bejewelled elephants would attend the ceremonies.

The glamorous bride-to-be grew edgy as the tension mounted, the rumors flew and the wedding drew nearer. Cornered by gate-crashing newsmen she snapped:

"Stop bothering me. Go away and leave-me-alone!"

She then laid down the law about bothering her four-year-old daughter Rebecca who shared mother's romantic odessy through two continents with Prince Aly.

Lien Required In Amendment

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—Removal of the state ceiling on old age pensions was approved yesterday by the Senate, but new strings were attached.

Amended to require that pensioners give the stae a property lien as security for the welfare grants, the proposed constitutional amendment was passed, 24-3.

The proposition was also amended to keep off the pension list any old age person who disposed of his or her property within two years before applying for aid.

Additionally, the Senate limited state payments to dependent children to an annual total of $3,000,000, the amount of the current appropration. The ceiling on aid to needy blind was removed.

The measure was returned to the House for action on the Senate changes.

The House was scheduled to renew debate on a driver financial responsibiltiy bill today. The proposal underwent strong attack yesterday afternoon from a minority of the members, who branded it as being insurance company-inspired.

Sponsoring the Senate-approved bill, Rep. J. K. Aynesworth told questioners that premiums on the $11,000 insurance which drivers could buy to show financial responsibility would be about $20 to $26 a year.

"Now you know that makes at least fifty million dollars the insurance companies will get a year on premiums alone," said Rep. John Crosthwait of Dallas. "How can you say that this isn't insurance company-inspired?"

Aynesworth insisted the bill was a safety measure which would make anyone driving in Texas have financial responsibility for death injuries or damage.

The driver of any car involved in an accident would be required, to prove his responsibility by insurance, bond or personal financial statement.

In Senate discussion of the old age pensions problem, Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo presented the amendment to require a property lein to the state on personal and real property belonging to a person receiving old age assistance.

"There is no reason why their children should inherit this property when the state has been keeping up their father or mother for a number of years," Hazlewood declared.

Senators opposing removal of the present $35,000,000 state ceiling on public welfare grants said such action would result in unlimited spending in years to come and wipe out the treasury.

Backers of the bill said monthly pensions which now average $32 are not sufficient to take care of the old folks.

Chaotic Conditions In Orient Make U. S. Leery Of Alliance

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There likely will be some heart burnings, it need be no surprise, because Secretary of State Dean Acheson has ruled out—at least for the present—any American participation in a Pacific defense pact similar to the Atlantic treaty.

The conditions on which the Atlantic alliance is built are quite different from those existing in the Orient. The secretary took note of that fact yesterday when he told a news conference in Washington:

"While it is true that there are serious dangers to world peace existing in the situation in Asia, it also is true, as Prime Minister Nehru of India stated to the press the other day, that a Pacific defense pact could not take shape until present internal conflicts in Asia were resolved."

Europe Big Concern

In the first place the Atlantic treaty covers a theatre which represents the greatest immediate threat to the Western democracies. True, the Orient in due course may present an even greater menace—a fact which we most certainly can't ignore. However, since we already have made a start in Europe, that must be our main immediate concern.

Then, too, the Atlantic treaty covers a compact front, presenting a far more formidable defense. While many of its members are weak militarily, yet by and large they are at peace internally. There is no civil war in any of them.

The picture in the Orient is far different. Many of the countries in that huge area are torn by revolution—China, Burma, Malaya, Indanesia. Chief of these, of course, is China with her population of five hundred millions.

How To Apply Pact?

As Secretary Acheson points out, the dangers of Asia are those revolving about the present conditions of that country.

How would you apply a defense pact to such a hotchpotch of violence and potential violence? What wouldn't Uncle Sam be letting himself in for if he signed a mutual defense pact with such an aggregation? It strikes me he likely would find himself in the position of the Libyan wrestler Antaeus of ancient days.

Antaeus was the son of Earth and none could throw him because he gained fresh strength every time he touched his mother. Along came Hercules, however, and conquered the Libyan by lifting him up so he couldn't touch Earth at all.

Likewise our Uncle Sam might soon find himself hoisted by a Pacific defense pact.

So much for the formal commitment of a defense pact. If America or Britain or any other western power yants to give material aid to an Asiatic country. That's a different story. Such aid wouldn't have strings on it. A defense pact is another thing, especially in a vast theatre of turmoil which might produce calls for help from several points at once.

Refusal to enter a Pacific alliance doesn't indicate lack of interest in that vital area. On the contrary, Secretary Acheson states that the United States and Britain are keeping in close touch with Chinese developments.

Bossie Freed From 35-Foot Sinkhole

SOMERSET, Ky., May 19—Bossie was free today after a one-day imprisonment at the bottom of a 35-foot-deep sinkhole.

The five-year-old Jersey tumbled into the hole early yesterday, but landed on her feet and suffered only slight bruises.

The sinkhole, anout 40 feet in diameter at the top, tapers off like a cone at the bottom and the cow's fall was broken by the slope. An underground spring feeds water into the hole from about halfway up, but bossie's head remained well above the water.

Returned to the surface after a day of waiting contentedly for rescuers to reach her, the cow was greeted hungrily by her five-week-old calf.

Plans To Film Life Of Billie Burke Are Reported Underway

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 19. — Trouper Billie Burke is hitting the road again—this time with a different production.

After she finishes "Baby Is Here," the actress leaves on a tour to help introduce her autobiography, "With A Feather On My Nose," which she wrote with Cameron Shipp.

Miss Burke tells me there have been talks of filming her life story and she has several actresses in mind to play herself. I asked how she liked the way William Powell and Myrna Loy enacted her husband and herself in "The Great Ziegfield." Her answer:

"Pretty good, but they were much too solemn. Flo and I were so much gayer."

Actress Is Unhappy

June Lockhart is the unhappiest girl in town. She still hasn't worked in a picture after being called back from her Broadway sensation over a year ago. She is still under contract to Eagle-Lion, which has been embroiled in financial troubles.

James Cagney will give newcomer Richard Widmark a few lessons in how to be a film tough guy. In "White Heat," Jimmy clocks a dozen or more killings. In one scene he bumps off Steve Cochran, then kicks the corpse dowastairs to other gangseters, muttering, "catch!"

Looks like old times at Warners, with Cagney, Bogart and Bette Davis back working on the lot.

Sight of the week was Robert Cummings and Rosalind Russell dunking into a studio tank in formal attire. For a "Tell It To The Judge" scene, they stood waist-high in water most of the day.

"Catholic Hierarchy" Scored As Southern Baptists Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 19. (AP)—Establishment of two new theological seminaries—one in the east, one in the west—was recommended today to the Southern Baptist convention.

A committee on theological education reported that the new seminaries and a drive to finance them are necessary to meet a crying need for more pastors.

The convention, its attendance swelled near the 8,000 mark in its second day, will consider the recommendation later in the afternoon.

Blast At Catholics

The 92nd annual gathering opened with a blast at "the Catholic hierarchy"—painted by Dr. Joseph H. Dawson, Washington, D. C., as a "vast totalitarian power attempting to control our education, politics and our foreign policy."

"We do not intend to exchange our free American life for totalitarian dictatorship from the Vatican," he said, touching off a chorus of "amen's" and a rare outburst of Baptist applause.

The Rev. Oscar Gibson, Louisville, Ky., stirred a brief flurry by demanding a probe of reports that modernism exists among the faculty of Southern Baptist theological seminary, Louisville, Ky.

"Modernists," he said, "are those who question the word of God."

The convention referred his complaint to the seminary's board of trustees.

Address Is Heard

Gibson did not appear at an advertised night session to "expose five modernists" at Louisville. Instead Dr. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth, Tex., preached one hour and ten minutes to about 300 persons, some wearing Baptist convention badges.

Meanwhile, Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., president of the convention delivered the keynote address to nearly 7,000 Baptists who packed municipal auditorium.

"To offer Communism as a sustaining gospel for mankind," he said, "is to offer swill saturated with poison."

"The United States will not be saved by production, commerce, armies, navies, gold supplies. Nor England by her statecraft, socialism, politics. Nor Russia by Communism. Only by Christ, accepted and enthroned."

Hunters Thought To Be Lost Are Found

CORSICANA, May 19. (AP)—Two men thought to be missing since leaving for a squirrel hunt Sunday turned up safe yesterday—in faraway Warrenton, Va.

Police chief Bruce Nutt, calling off a widespread search, said J. A. Glass, 33, and I. J. Munn, 22, had telephoned from Warrenton saying they are all right—but that their car had broken down.

The pair had not been heard from since leaving 4 a. m. Sunday to hunt squirrels.

Cut In Service Pay Bill Sought

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Congressmen calling for government economy got out their knives today for a whack at the multi-million dollar bill to raise military pay.

It went on the House floor for four hours of debate, and had the solid backing of the House armed services committee.

But Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) told a reporter:

"There will be trouble from some of the economy-minded fellows on our side. I am going to ask a few embarrassing questions myself."

The bill would boost the nation's military payroll about $406,000,000 a year, hiking salaries an average of about 14 per cent. Individual increases would range from about three percent for the next to lowest enlisted grade up to almost 50 percent for bridadier generals and rear admirals.

No Raise On Bottom

Only the bottom enlisted grade, drawings $75 a month now, would get no raise.

The bill proposes the first general revision of military pay scales since 1908 although pay has gone up piecemeal since then. It would apply to all the uniformed services—the Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic survey, Public Health service, all their reserves, the National Guard, and the Air National Guard.

It also would change the disability retirement systems of the services.

For the first time, a distinction would be made between disabilities directly caused by military duty and those which could happen to anyone. Also for the first time, enlisted men with less than 20 years' service could be retired for disabilities.

No Review Of Retirement

Officers can retire for disability now, and draw for life a tax-free pension equal to 75 percent of their base pay. Their retirement is not subject to review once it is approved.

The bill would continue the tax-free privilege of officers more than 30 percent disabled as a direct result of military service. However, they would have to report for periodic physical examinations, and could be returned to active duty if they disability dropped below 30 percent or disappeared within five years after retirement.

The pay section of the bill would abolish longecity or "fogey"—pay as such. For this would be substituted a system of automatic pay raises within each bank, based on years of service.

Undercover FBI Agent Gets Communist Leader In Uproar

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—"You little rat," cried a Red leader as an FBI undercover agent testified for the government yesterday only a few hours after he attended a Communist meeting as a trusted party member.

The new surprise witness—bank clerk Balmes Hidalgo, jr.,—caused one of the tensest scens since the Communist conspiracy trial opened Jan. 17.

"Keep Hands Off"

"Now keep your hands off," Thompson snapped as the witness approached.

Hidalgo, pointing at the angry defendant, said: "This is comrade Thompson."

"You're no comrade of mine, you little rat," Thompson shot back.

Hidalgo, a war veteran, was the seventh FBI undercover agent among the 13 witnesses the prosecution has put on the stand so far.

The witness, who said he had attended a Communist meeting only the night before, testified against the Red leaders on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government. He said he had been a member of the party since 1946, as an informant for the FBI.

Objections by defense lawyers interrupted the 35-year-old Cuban-born witness time after time.

"Use Youth Like Hitler"

Hidalgo testified he had heard a party official boast that "ten thousand good Communists can rule New York City" and say that the party "must use youth as Hitler did." He said the statements were made by an organizational secretary, Mortimer Kamen, at a meeting in New York last June.

The witness told of party campaigns among young people, negroes, Spanish and Italian groups, and power and communication workers, whose grievances the Reds hoped to exploit in making a revolution.

He said the party had two special clubs for New York City teachers, in addition to doctors, dentists, nurses and other professional people in other clubs.

Hidalgo said he was recruited into the party by Alex Munsell, who he said told him veterans were getting a "raw deal" and "could not get aid from anybody but the Communists." The witness said he did not join until after he had talked with FBI agents.

Officers can retire for disability now, and draw for life a tax-free pension equal to 75 percent of their base pay. Their retirement is not subject to review once it is approved.

The bill would continue the tax-free privilege of officers more than 30 percent disabled as a direct result of military service. However, they would have to report for periodic physical examinations, and could be returned to active duty if they disability dropped below 30 percent or disappeared within five years after retirement.

The pay section of the bill would abolish longecity or "fogey"—pay as such. For this would be substituted a system of automatic pay raises within each bank, based on years of service.

Undercover FBI Agent Gets Communist Leader In Uproar

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—"You little rat," cried a Red leader as an FBI undercover agent testified for the government yesterday only a few hours after he attended a Communist meeting as a trusted party member.

The new surprise witness—bank clerk Balmes Hidalgo, jr.,—caused one of the tensest scens since the Communist conspiracy trial opened Jan. 17.

"Keep Hands Off"

"Now keep your hands off," Thompson snapped as the witness approached.

Hidalgo, pointing at the angry defendant, said: "This is comrade Thompson."

"You're no comrade of mine, you little rat," Thompson shot back.

Hidalgo, a war veteran, was the seventh FBI undercover agent among the 13 witnesses the prosecution has put on the stand so far.

The witness, who said he had attended a Communist meeting only the night before, testified against the Red leaders on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government. He said he had been a member of the party since 1946, as an informant for the FBI.

Objections by defense lawyers interrupted the 35-year-old Cuban-born witness time after time.

"Use Youth Like Hitler"

Hidalgo testified he had heard a party official boast that "ten thousand good Communists can rule New York City" and say that the party "must use youth as Hitler did." He said the statements were made by an organizational secretary, Mortimer Kamen, at a meeting in New York last June.

The witness told of party campaigns among young people, negroes, Spanish and Italian groups, and power and communication workers, whose grievances the Reds hoped to exploit in making a revolution.

He said the party had two special clubs for New York City teachers, in addition to doctors, dentists, nurses and other professional people in other clubs.

Hidalgo said he was recruited into the party by Alex Munsell, who he said told him veterans were getting a "raw deal" and "could not get aid from anybody but the Communists." The witness said he did not join until after he had talked with FBI agents.

West Powers To Go Slow With Reds In Forming German Plan

PARIS, May 19 (AP)—The Western powers will seek a transitional step by-step understanding with the Soviet Union on Germany in the four-power foreign ministers' conference opening Monday, well-informed French sources said yesterday.

A "provisional accord," rather than a complete settlement, apparently was the plan projected by the chief sides of the western ministers, in preliminary talks here.

The plan, according to these sources, would include a German committee to act as liaison between the West German state and a peoples' congress government being set up in the Soviet zone.

The committee would be a symbol of stop-gap unity, since neither East nor West may agree on an immediate plan for coordination. It would be a temporary unifying force until real cooperation could be achieved, the sources said.

Aides Meeting Daily

The aides, who have been meeting daily behind closed doors, are Dr. Philip C. Jessup, American ambassador-at-large, and Charles E. Bohlen, State department counsellor; Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, British foreign office expert, and Alexandre Parodi, secretary-general of the French foreign ministry.

The provisional arrangement also would include an accord on currency rates for settling accounts in East and West marks and a system of licensing to permit inter-zonal East-West trade, the sources said.

A four-power international statute for Berlin is foreseen, though there also is a possibility of proposing a United Nations statute for the former German capital, along with a system for unified currency in Berlin.

The completed plan is expected to be submitted to the three western foreign ministers when they meet her Saturday for brief talks before sitting down with the Russians.

Student Honored At Tech Club Banquet

The 15th annual Block and Bridle club banquet was held Wednesday night in the Lubbock hotel.

Parris Is Speaker

Frank Parris, of Lubbock Auction and Commission company, was featured speaker. His talk concerned practical applications of training, and he warned of pitfalls encountered in agriculture.

Estranged Wife Glad Of FDR, Jr. Victory

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 19 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., says she is pleased with her estranged husband's victory in New York's congressional election.

Mrs. Roosevelt is establishing divorce residence.

"For Franklin's sake, I am very happy about the results of the election," she said. There was no other comment.

Her attorney, George Springmeyer of Reno, indicated Mrs. Roosevelt may take her case to some Nevada court other than Reno in an effort to avoid publicity.

She will have been in Nevada the necessary six weeks Saturday. But Springmeyer said she may delay going into court until next week.

She came to Nevada April 8 under the name of Ethel Pyle, her mother's maiden name. She has been living quietly at the Flying Me ranch, north of Carson City.

Tulia Resident Provides "Diner Service" Aboard Stalled Train

TULIA, May 19 (Special)—Mrs. Tom Davis, wife of the Santa Fe section foreman in Tulia, was the Good Samaritan to passengers aboard a stalled train here Tuesday afternoon.

The passenger train, which was bound for Lubbock, was delayed for about five hours on the outskirts of Tulia while section hands cleared away a derailed freight car on the tracks ahead. Passengers could not leave the train due to heavy rains. The water ran nearly knee-deep along the tracks where the train was stopped.

Diner Not Included

Being a local train, it was not equipped with a dining car and since the schedule called for it to arrive in Lubbock at 1 p. m. none of the passengers had brought any food.

About 3 p. m. Mrs. Davis, protected by rubber boots and a slicker, waded the torrent to find out if any of the children aboard the train needed food. While on the train, Mrs. Davis "counted noses" and in ar incredibly short time returned from her home with enough egg sandwiches to serve every passenger on the train. She also brought milk for the children.

Hot Coffee Provided

Returning to her home for the second time she recruited Hazel Jones and Beulah Jordon to help her bring huge pots of steaming coffee and a large chocolate cake back to the train. She had cooked the cake for a picnic which had been rained out.

Carl Zybach, fire chief at Canadian who was on his way to a fire chief's convention in Lubbock, was among the passengers who enjoyed Mrs. Davis's hospitality. Zybach is not a new hand at being stranded due to unfavorable weather. He and his family were caught in an early blizzard just outside Panhandle last fall and had to remain parked for several hours.

The fire chief said, however, that none of the passengers would ever forget the kindness of the Tulia woman who came to their aid in a heavy rainstorm.

Senator Wants Rule Changed On Presidential Job Filling

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Democratic Senator Lucas of Illinois said today he will ask the Senate to change its rules "so that no important presidential nomination can be bottled up by a committee."

"I don't think that was intended by the constitution when it gave the Senate the duty and right to advise and consent on presidential appointments," Lucas told a reporter.

The Senate was the scene of a blistering exchange late yesterday between Lucas and Senator Byrd over the treatment given President Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren, former Senator and Governor of the State of Washington, to a key defense post.

Byrd Against Wallgren

Byrd voted with six Republicans to table the Wallgren nomination in the Senate armed services committee so it never actually reached a test on the Senate floor. The president finally withdrew the nomination Tuesday.

Mr. Truman reversed earlier plans to fight for confirmation of Wallgren, his intimate friend, to the $14,000-a-year post as chairman of the national security resources board.

It was an attempt by Byrd to explain his personal reasons for his committee vote that touched off the exchange. While Byrd usually is mild speaking, Lucas frequently uses sharply pointed language.

Senators rushed from cloakrooms and committees to listen. Republicans smiled broadly as the two Democrats shouted at each other.

Referring to Wallgren's lengthy testimony before the armed services group, Byrd shouted "I have never seen such a poor witness, such an incompetent witness" and one who was "in such complete ignorance of his duties in the position for which he was appointed."

"Give Senate A Chance"

Lucas shouted back that regardless of what the committee thought of a presidential appointment it should at least report the nomination adversely, to give the Senate a chance to vote.

Byrd retorted that if President Truman regarded the Wallgren appointment of such importance, all Lucas needed to do as majority leader was move to discharge the armed services committee and bring the matter before the entire Senate.

"I regard Governor Wallgren as being less competent for the position than any man ever nominated to a position of this kind," Byrd said of Mr. Truman's old friend.

Lucas said that Byrd's vote with the Republicans presented "a situation in which one individual senator overrides the President of the United States."

Accepts Responsibility

Byrd replied that he accepts full responsibility for his action and that other Democrats on the committee, who voted for Wallgren, had told him he did the right thing.

Lucas shouted back that Byrd feared a Senate test or he would not have voted to bottle up the nomination in committee.

Byrd said it was "very strange" that Lucas as majority leader remained silent on the Wallgren nomination for months, failed to testify for Wallgren, and now was protesting.

Lucas said he would seek the Senate rule change so that presidential nominations of cabinet members and others in key jobs must be returned to the Senate even if the committee disapproves the nominee.

This will give the entire Senate a vote, he said, instead of having a committee of 13 make the decision.

Stubborn Amateur Songwriter Is Fighting For Recognition

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 19.—Alexander Anagnos is a stubborn young grocery clerk who wants to write the nation's songs.

This is all right with tin pan alley—so long as it doesn't rebuff easily. He's in the midst of a one-man guerrilla campaign against the entire music industry.

"On my days off I even carry a sandwich board along Broadway advertising my songs," he said.

Goes To Publisher

Alex is the son of a Greek who came to this country 43 years ago and opened a grocery store in Greenwich village. It is a friendly store. If a customer has mice in his home, the store will lend him a cat to catch them.

Alex had always dreamed of being a songwriter. When he got out of the Army after the war, he decided to give it a try.

He went to one tin pan alley publisher and told him he had written a song about the "new look."

"What do you want me to do about it?" said the crusty publisher.

Alex went to another publisher. He announced he had written a song about Bobo the Winthrop Rockefeller called "Cinderella Wears The Shoe."

Alex Declares War

"Oh, you did?" snapped the hard heart. "Well, keep it quiet."

It was then that Alex declared war. He formed his own song publishing company and his own record firm. The major opus he is pushing at present is called "an Onion And You." It is a tuneful little ditty about a housewife phoning her husband to bring home an onion.

He hired a band and a vocalist to record the song. Then he persuaded half a dozen neighborhood ginmills to put the record in their jukeboxes. He also employed a man named Frank to carry a sandwich board plugging "An Onion And You" along tin pan alley.

The big trouble with his distribution system is that so far the only place people can buy his song is at his father's grocery store.

He has a tie-in deal with his dad. Customers who buy a 50-cent record get a big onion free. If they buy a pound of onions, they get a sheet music copy for nothing.

Garza Wildcat Is Scheduled

MIDLAND, May 18.—An 8,500-foot wildcat has been staked in the Garza field of Central Garza County, where production is from the San Andres-Permian around 3,000 feet.

The venture is to be Comanche Corporation, et al, No. 1-A-Garza-Deep Montgomery-Davies. The drillsite is 660 feet from south and 910 feet from west lines of section 5, block 5, K. Aycock survey, about one miles south of Post.

Rotary tool drilling is scheduled to begin by June 1. The contract depth should carry the prospector at least into the Pennsylvania and possibly into the Ellenburger.

Outpost Is Slated

Approximately three-quarters of a mile southeast outpost to the Flanagan pool in South-Central Gaines County is slated by Magnolia Petroleum Company.

It will be the concern's No. 2 Flanagan estate, staked 660 feet from south and west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey, 10 miles south of Seminole.

With rotary tools, the venture is starting by May 22 toward 13,000 feet to test into the Ellenburger, pay formation of the one-producer field.

Testing prior to completion was continuing at Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Wilson, approximately one-mile southeast extension to Canyon - Pennsylvanian production in the Diamond M field of West-Central Scurry County.

The well was flowing from open hole at 6,743-6,761 feet through a 3/16-inch choke. Last 24-hour flowing gauge showed 138 barrels of oil, with tubing pressure 520 pounds and casing pressure 920 pounds.

Test Is Slated

It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 183, block 97, H & TC survey.

Magnolia Petroleum Company was preparing to go in and test the Fusselman section of the Silurian with its No. 18-B Cowden, prospective discovery from that horizon and from the Devonian in the area two miles southeast of the Dollarhide field of Southwest Andrews County.

Operator has perforated casing opposite the Fusselman at 11,056-82 feet with four shots per foot. Testing is to be made of that zone before perforating and testing in the Devonian. Dual completion is to be attempted. Total depth is 11,244 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey.

Russian Arms For Koreans Reported

SEOUL, May 19 (AP)—Korean Republican officials said today Russia has agreed to arm nine divisions in North Korea and supply the Red-controlled regime there with 220 aircraft and 20 patrol boats.

The assertion was made in a joint statement prepared by Foreign Minister Ben C. Limb and Defense Minister Sihn Sung Mo. It also said:

"The United States should at least provide the corresponding measures for the Republic of Korea."

The statement, distributed by Limb in a news conference, said:

"According to dependable information, the U.S.S.R. has made an agreement with the puppet government in North Korea to completely arm six divisions of infantry and three divisions of motorized troops; to provide 20 patrol boats, 100 fighter planes, 20 bombers and 100 reconnaissance planes; and to fully arm the police forces."

North Has More Men

Present armed strength of the North Korean regime has been estimated as high as 200,000 men compared to 50,000 in the southern republic.

President Syngman Rhee of the republic has been seeking American arms to double the south's well equipped forces.

Limb's statement said Rhee is agreeing that U. S. troops would be withdrawn soon from South Korea meant the U. S. "should guarantee adequate protection for the Republic of Korea before they withdraw their forces from Korea."

No American withdrawal date has been announced. There are some indications it may be soon. Only one combat regiment remains.

Reads Letter To UN

Limb also read a letter to the temporary chairman of the United Nations Korean commission asking:

Is there any foundation to "recurrent reports that the United Nations commission is planning to negotiate or confer with certain representatives of Communist organizations in North Korea regarding the reunification of Korea?"

Chairman Henri Costilhes of France told the conference his U.N. commission has taken no action that could be interpreted as sponsoring a political meeting of northern political leaders.

Rhee's government holds there can be no cooperation with the Soviet-controlled northern regime.

Meeting Rumored

The U.N. commission, however, has heard at least one proposal that a non-governmental conference of northern and southern leaders might break the present stalemate.

This might be the personal view of one member of the U. N. commission but it has never been so stated publicly.

The Northern Korean radio at Pyongyang this week asserted representatives of southern political parties and social organizations sought a meeting with northerners to form a united front for unifying the country. It announced a preparatory meeting would be held at Pyongyang May 25.

Lubbock Man Gets CAA Service Pin

William B. Ditmore, chief aircraft communicator at the Interstate Airways Communication station at Municipal airport, has been commended for 11 years of "loyal service" to Civil Aeronautics authority and has been awarded a 10-year pin, it was announced Wednesday.

A letter from L. C. Elliott, regional CAA administrator at Fort Worth, to Ditmore said: "You have been with the Department of Commerce and CAA for more than 11 years, during which time your loyal service has played its part in building an organization to keep in step with the ever-expanding field of aviation.

"It is for this long and loyal service to the Department of Commerce and CAA that you are being awarded the enclosed 10-year service pin."

Ditmore started with CAA Sept. 1, 1937 at Naine, near Flagstaff, Ariz. He went to Oklahoma City in 1939 and in 1940 he was stationed at New Orleans, Fort Worth and Acomita, N. M. In 1942 he went to Las Vegas, N. M., and March 20, 1948, was assigned to Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ditmore live at 2820 Allen street. They have one son. Ditmore is a deacon in Chapel Presbyterian church and superintendent of the Sunday school. He is a member of Rotary club.

TIDELANDS SURVEY PLANNED

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — Interior Secretary Krug is planning an aerial survey of tidelands drilling operations in the Gulf of Mexico. One of Krug's aids said yesterday Krug will look over the tidelands oil operations while in southeast Texas for an address at Houston, on May 26.

Farmer, 79, To Be Honored As 1949's "American Father"

(By The Associated Press)

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., May 19 A 79-year-old farmer who splits logs to "blow off steam" today becomes the "American father of 1949."

William Casper Peter of nearby Beech Creek, who has 16 children and 80 grandchildren, was selected for that honor by the national Father's day committee.

The title will be conferred on him during a ceremony at the Lock Haven city hall with news reel cameras recording the event for the national Father's day banquet at New York June 19.

Peter told reporters he gets up at 5 a. m. every weekday morning to split logs for a local paper mill.

"A man can't feel worthwhile," he said, "unless he's got a long day's work behind him. I hit the wedge hard because that is a way of blowing off steam."

And, he added, "if you keep your mouth shut, you'll never get into trouble."

Weather Bureau

howling cold front that was on its way to Lubbock—but fast—last winter. It got as far as Plainview after warnings were issued. Then it halted abruptly and moseyed off in another direction.

One of the principal criticisms of the Lubbock Weather bureau station is that general weather forecasts for this area are made up in the district office at New Orleans. Many feel that such an office should be set up in West Texas, preferably in Lubbock.

Have Much Leeway

Local stations, like Lubbock has now, have considerable latitude in making local forecasts. The observer's manual says that full use should be made of "guidance material" such as the teletypes are constantly bringing in.

However, the book says, "the local forecast should not be confined to a restatement of the state forecast as applied to the local area. The local official should use the state forecast as a general guide in the preparation of the local forecast which should be stated in language readily understandable to the public."

Material for comprehensive weather observation is not available in Lubbock. Frost explained.

"All we do is draw surface weather map which shows surface movement. The real forecasting comes from 10 000-foot and 20,000-foot levels. Those observations are made at various points and relayed to New Orleans immediately."

The more detailed and complete maps are drawn up at the district offices, of which New Orleans is one. Others are at Denver, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Boston, Chicago, New York, Atlanta, Minneapolis and Billings, Mont.

Each forecast is the result of weather data from the whole continent.

But one thing the Weather bureau cannot do is forecast a tornado. It can point out conditions that are conducive to tornadoes, and that, in fact, was done in Amarillo Sunday

Terms Are Explained

Imagine what would happen if the Weather bureau said a tornado was likely to hit Lubbock county tomorrow. Some 80,000 persons would suffer various degrees of anxiety and panic. A mass exodus might occur. And the tornado might never materialize.

The Weather bureau is sometimes criticized for its "scattered showers" predictions. These are usually correct, but if a particular section does not receive showers, the residents there are likely to think that the Weather bureau was wrong.

"Partly cloudy," another vague term in the mind of the average newspaper reader also has very definite description. "Clear" in a weather forecast means that less than three-tenths of the sky is cloudy. "Partly cloudy" means that three-tenths to seven-tenths of the sky is covered by clouds. And "cloudy" means that eight-tenths or more of the sky is covered by clouds.

The expressions that the bureau uses to describe winds are also very definite: Calm, less than one mile an hour; light air, one to three miles an hour; light breeze, four to seven miles an hour; gentle breeze, eight to 12 miles an hour; moderate breeze 13 to 18 miles; fresh breeze, 19-24 miles an hour; strong breeze, 25 to 31; high wind, 32 to 38 miles an hour; gale, 39 to 46; strong gale, 47 to 54; whole gale, 55 to 63; storm, 64 to 75; and hurricane, above 75.

UNDERCOVER WORK IS ASSAILED

Investigation Of Lobbyists Proposed By House Democrat

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19—Just as regular as Christmas, there comes a time at least once a year to write about lobbyists.

That's when somebody takes a crack at them or wants to suppress them or something. This is one of the times.

Yesterday the House passed a resolution to have a congressional investigation of lobbyists.

Congress Passes Law

A couple of years ago Congress passed a law which said lobbyists had to register with Congress.

This was an attempt to smoke them out in the open so they could be recognized as lobbyists.

And about 1,500 are registered in the capitol as paid lobbyists. But this doesn't satisfy Rep. Sabath, Illinois Democrat, who's taken as many cracks at lobbyists as anybody.

He says about another 1,500 lobbyists—besides those registered—are running around loose, unrestricted and unsmoked out.

But who's a lobbyist? He's any person (or group) who tries to persuade a congressman to vote his way.

There are lots of ways of lobbying: Visiting a congressman in his office, buttonholing him in the hall, having him out to a party, or testifying before a congressional committee.

Undercover Work Hit

Sabath says he's not against the regular representatives of organizations who need lobbyists here to get their views across.

But he is against:

1. The undercover lads who lobby without letting it be publicly known—by registering—that they're lobbyists.

2. The ones who get a chunk of dough from some one by pretending they have an "in" and can get things done in Congress.

A lobbyist could be someone paid by manufacturers, or labor unions, or landlords, or farmers, to represent them here and plug their case.

Or, as some congressmen have charged, it might be someone from a government agency who tries to work his charms on Congress to get something the agency wants.

Or, it might be an ex-congressman, who has a client and has come back to work on his old companions in Congress.

Complications Are Seen

Can an ex-congressman do that? Sure. Anyone who's ever served in Congress can walk out on the floor any time he pleases, no matter how long it's been since he was a congressman himself.

So an ex-congressman turned lobbyist has a head start on any run-of-the-mine lobbyist who can get no nearer the floor than the hall outside.

Says Sabath: "One man who was a congressman 30 years ago is still coming back here. A lot of ex-members are lobbying."

Sabath says millions of dollars are spent on lobbying every year through salaries for the lobbyists, money for their expenses, publicity they hand out, entertaining they do, and radio time the powerful lobbies can hire.

And these lobbyists—although they seldom would want to claim credit publicly—undoubtedly have a hand in persuading congressmen to their way of thinking in the laws that are passed.

But if you write a letter to your congressman, telling him what you think, you're lobbying in a way. And a great many organizations have a legitimate right to lobby since that's one way of making their views known.

So Congress will have its hands full if it tries to solve all lobbying problems—that is, if the Senate goes along with the House in wanting to try.

Hotel Drops Charge Against Fan Dancer

PITTSBURGH, May 19 (AP) — Everything is rosy again today between fan dancer Sally Rand and the hotel Pittsburgher.

Officials of the hotel filed charges of defrauding an innkeeper against Sally after they said her check in payment of a $366.40 hotel bill came back marked insufficient funds. Miss Rand appeared at a theater here last week.

Yesterday at Youngstown, O., where she is currently appearing, Sally said it was all just a mistake. Escorted by two detectives, she went to a telegraph office and wired the $366.40 to Pittsburgh.

Later, Pittsburgh City Detective John Doresey said all charges were dropped.

Tech Seniors Start Examinations Today

Final examinations for graduating seniors at Texas Technological college began today and will continue through Wednesday.

This is the first year seniors have been allowed to take their exams earlier than the rest of the student body. Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of the college, said the move had been made in order to allow graduating students more time to prepare for the commencement exercises.

The remainder of the student body will begin a week of restricted social activities today with exams beginning one week from today. The spring semester will officially end May 30 with the commencement exercises for graduates.

Storm Victim Still Serious

SPUR, May 19. (Special)—Slight improvement was reported today in the condition of Larry Don Kittrell, 8-month-old boy injured in the tornado which struck north of Spur Tuesday.

The boy, blown out of his parents' demolished house by the twister, remained in serious condition, however, attendants said.

Seven other injured members of the Kittrell family were said to be recovering satisfactorily. Most seriously hurt were Mrs. J. D. Kittrell, the mother, who suffered extensive shock and bruises, and Sue LeJune, 8, her daugher, who received a fractured hip and broken right elbow.

One Woman Killed

Funeral rites for Mrs. Smith were at 11 a. m. today in the First Baptist church. Rev. Frank Adams, pastor of the Soldier Mound Baptist church which was flattened by the twister, officiated.

Campbell Funeral home directed burial in Spur cemetery.

Survivors include four sons, Johnny Kittrell of Lockney, Tipp Kittrell of Sivells Bend, L. V. Kittrell of Gainesville, and James D. Kittrell of Soldier Mound; a sister, three brothers and 17 grandchildren.

Smith, superintendent of the Pantex farms, were to meet with Dean Stangel Friday at Pantex to discuss the wheat grazing study which is being carried on there.

Dean Stangel said the group would also discuss plans for carrying on the experiments at the farms for the 1949-50 school year.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Iamid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 206 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 125 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Referring back to the May 16th announcement of our opening last year, we remember these significant words . . . "The American State Bank is building for the future on practical experience and a strong desire to serve you with the highest standards of banking." Daily business during our first year has always been with this thought in mind.

In a later message to you, we stated that "No bank is better than the promises it keeps to depositors and friends." About this time, we moved from our busy little temporary building to our now-familiar beauty spot at 1401 Avenue Q. It was the keeping of our promise of unlimited service to you with completely NEW banking facilities.

Thumbing on through our album of lines in print, these benefits appear: . . . "alert to better ways of banking" . . . "careful, convenient, secure banking" . . . "personalized service" . . . "free parking" . . . "come-as-you-are Drive In Window." You folks who've come to us with your problems and savings deserve these banking features. In gratitude for your patronage, we pledge more of the same for the years ahead.

Stop in tomorrow and let us thank you for a happy birthday!

Franco Hits Democracies

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

MADRID, May 19—Generalissimo Francisco Franco said yesterday the "greater part of Europe" had been handed to Russia by the western democracies.

He also charged the democracies with "systematic aggression" against Spain.

Only two days after the United Nations general assembly had refused to lift its ban on top diplomatic representation in Spain, Franco declared he would not permit closer ties between Spain and the west unless the democracies changed their policies.

Nations Are Assailed

In a direct reference to the United Nations action, he said Spain must "demand the fundamental disappearance of the illegality, injustice and immorality of a false accusation."

Franco's 90-minute speech to the Spanish parliament concentrated on attacking France, Britain and Russia.

He declared Spain never would join with the west until "injuries, maneuvers and systematic aggression" against her were ended. "In this critical hour, Europe needs us," he added.

Continuing his attacks on the western powers, Franco castigated "concessions being made to Russia" which, he said, will prevent peace in Europe until "corrected."

He declared such concessions were made to increase the powers "zones of influence."

Madrid On Holiday

"This," Franco said, "was the policy of evil influence which brought on the last war and, despite the goodwill of American policy, handed the greater part of Europe to Russia."

Madrid was on holiday for the speech. The galleries of the cortes were crowded but representatives of Great Britain, France and the United States were absent.

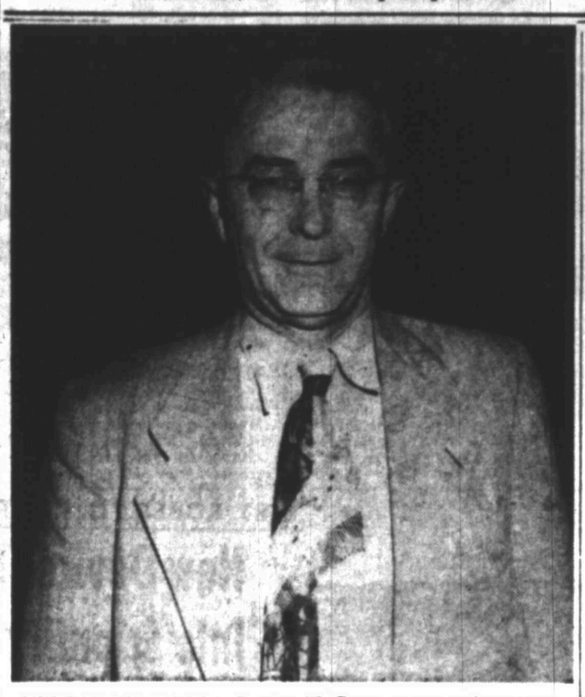

Franco defended Spain's role in World war II, saying "if we did not intervene it was because we did not want to, not because we were uninvited."

Britain, he said, made numerous offers—including a slice of French North African territory—just for Spanish neutrality.

He denounced foreign criticism of Spain claiming Spain had better habeas corpus laws than many countries, and there were no more prisoners in Spanish jails than at any other time in history.

STATE INVENTORY SET

DENVER, May 19 (INS)—A complete inventory of state property will be prepared for the first time in the history of Colorado government. State Auditor Myron McGinley said today that he and state Controller James Noonan and Purchasing Agent Lacy Wilkinson have agreed to develop a new manual for state property control.

MEET THE MANAGER—Freelan W. Groce, owner and manager of Groce Furniture company, was born at Monticello, Ark., May 4, 1896. When he was four years old his parents moved to Oklahoma Indian territory near Holdensville. He finished high school there and attended East Central State Normal college at Ada for two years. In 1918 he joined the Army and served 15 months in France. When he was discharged he went back to Holdensville and stayed "24 hours," as he recalls, then came to Lubbock Aug. 8, 1919. He worked for the Security State Bank and Trust company, now the Lubbock National bank, for 10 years and then the Citizens National bank for eight years. Meanwhile, in 1928, he had started in the furniture business with $500 worth of furniture. Originally located at Thirteenth street and Ave. H, Mr. Groce had his store in several locations before he moved to the present location, 1801 Broadway, in 1940. He is a member of Rotary club, a member of the board of stewards of First Methodist church and belongs to the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. When he has time he likes to dabble in photography. Mr. and Mrs. Groce live at 1210 Ave. R. They have a son, Wayne D. Groce, and a daughter, Mrs. Bill Casstevens, both of Lubbock. (Staff Photo).

OIL PURCHASE OKAYED

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — Heavy purchase of oil accounted for a major part of $42,801,000 in new recovery spending approved yesterday by the Economic Cooperation administration. Six European nations, French North Africa and western Germany shared in the alocations which brought to $5,493,439,000 total funds so far committed by ECA under the European recovery program.

Berlin Elections Big Success, Reds Claim

MOSCOW, May 19 (AP) — East Germany's elections were a "great success," Tass said today.

Most Moscow newspapers published the Soviet news agency's Berlin dispatch quoting German papers as making this claim.

Tass said:

"Papers in the Western sectors of Berlin were forced to recognize the immense significance of the elections to the German peoples' congress and also to give the question much attention.

"The Western Berlin press—trying to cover up the concern and dismay in the camp of those who wish to partition Germany—are trying to cover up with slanderous attacks."

The Communist-sponsored one-ticket elections in Eastern Germany resulted in what non-Communists interpreted as a defeat for Russia. The dictated slate got less than two-thirds of the vote in comparison with the usually overwhelming majority in Soviet-style elections.

Abbe Breuil, one of the greatest authhorities on pre-history, who turned down an invitation of a well-financed group of American scientists, in order to study the cave paintings of South West Africa, is reported likely to have to stop his work there before it is finished—for lack of funds.

Texan Held In Negro's Death

CARTHAGE, Tex., May 19. (AP) —Sheriff Cobett Aikin said last night a charge of murder had been filed against a Center, Tex., white man in the fatal shooting of a Carthage negro.

He named the man charged as Chic Pipes, pulpwood hauler of Center. He said the negro was John L. Thomas, 22, of Carthage.

The Panola county sheriff said a shotgun blast from an auto containing four white men killed the negro Tuesday night.

Account Given

Aikin gave this account: Pipes reported a fight to Carthage city officers. Two of them, with Pipes and another man, set out in an automobile. The sheriff said they told him they found the negro on the roadside, the city officers called on him to halt, but he began running backward and turned as if to make a break; then the shot was fired.

The sheriff said bond for Pipes was set at $1,000. He named three others in the car as E. E. Henry, Carthage city policeman; Thomas Birmingham, Carthage city nightwatchman, and Bill Barnett, service station operator.

GOODS ARE STOLEN

Store owners in Sydney, Australia, estimated that between $300,000 and $500,000 worth of goods were stolen by shoplifters last December, "from garden hose to overcoats"—besides what clerks and other employees got away with.

Revised:

"It takes a heap of paying on a house to make it home!"

ONE hundred ninety-four years ago, a little group of immigrants from Laredo, Spain, huddled their adobe houses together on the northern bank of the Rio Grande in what now is Webb county, on the northern border of South Texas.

They named their new home for their old one and thus was born one of the historic cities of our state.

Today, six years short of two centuries later, Laredo has a younger counterpart on the Tamaulipas side of the river. It has become Texas' most international city, a strange but pleasing and colorful mixture of the Old and the New Worlds.

At one time, more than 100 years ago, the area surrounding it was proclaimed a new nation: the Republic of Rio Grande.

But the Mexican leaders of the new republic, quite fortunately for us all, dallied over the job of consolidating their gains. So Laredo and the area making up the paper republic became a part of the new Republic of Texas.

LAREDO calls itself "The Gateway to Mexico." The claim is no idle one. Laredo is just that.

And because Mexico is "opening up" all the time—culturally, economically and industrially—the Texas gateway to our neighboring republic to the South is becoming more important, and larger, every day.

Laredo is not so large as El Paso, nor is Nuevo Laredo, across the border, so large as Juarez, El Paso's Mexican neighbor.

Laredo and Nuevo Laredo are not as important, economically speaking, as El Paso and Juarez.

But Los Dos Laredos, as the two cities frequently are referred to, make up the most important point of contact between Mexico and the United States.

And as such point of contact, they are becoming more important all the time.

One need only to head his automobile toward the international bridge connecting the two Laredos to be struck with the truth of Laredo's claim as "The Gateway to Mexico."

Straddling the Pan-American highway as it leads from our country into Mexico is the framework of a great Port building being constructed by the Mexican government.

This Port building is costing our Mexican neighbors 9,000,000 pesos—or, in our money at the current rate of exchange, something like $1,200,000.

When one stops to consider that 9,000,000 pesos in Mexico will buy about as much building as $5,000,000 will over here, then it's pretty easy to see that the new Mexican Port building in Nuevo Laredo is quite a structure.

THE new Port building, to be completed within the year, will greatly facilitate the flow of traffic between the U. S. and Mexico, and vice versa.

The flow of tourist traffic, by automobile, between the U. S. and Mexico City is very heavy and very important. It encompasses hundreds of cars per day—sometimes as many as 19,000 per month, frequently more than 10,000 per month.

But as important as the tourist traffic is, it is scarcely more important as the business traffic. For through the Ports of Los Dos Laredos daily pour huge numbers of trucks, running in both directions, and loaded with products essential to international trade.

When this fine new Port building is completed, all motor and foot traffic will run right through it, thus making the flow of people and vehicles much quicker and easier.

The building, towering over the highway, is a tremendous one which in breadth, heighth and depth dwarfs any structure on the campus of Texas Tech.

Although the average Texan knows Laredo's port as the northern head of the paved highway to Mexico City and beyond, he doesn't know that the Webb county capital also is a busy railroad point of exit and entry. Concentrated on Laredo's sprawling rail yards are many warehouses constantly bulging with products and materials en route from one country to the other.

Laredo has a wholesale and warehouse district far larger and busier than the average American city of 60,000—which is about Laredo's population. The same story is true, to a lesser extent, of Nuevo Laredo, population 40,000, on the Rio Bravo side of the Rio Grande.

CENTER of a large ranching territory, Laredo also is a central point for the vast onion fields surrounding it. Other vegetables, principally broccoli, and fruits of the citrus family are raised around there. Nearby, too, is some oil production and indications are that there will be more and more oil brought in as time goes along.

But more than anything else, Laredo is the great religious, cultural and educational capital of a vast sea of border country. As such it stands as a beacon light on the fast disappearing American frontier.

Laredo has fine schools—both public and parochial. It has fine churches, many beautiful homes. It has good stores which make it an enticing shopping center for a broad area.

Architecturally and psychologically, Laredo is charmingly Old World—more like Mexico or Spain. Yet as a city, it is as modern as tomorrow from the standpoint of conveniences. Its paved streets, its utilities are typical of those of Waukegan, or Peoria, and its traffic control is unusually good.

Those are the reasons, aside from his personal popularity, which have kept Laredo's mayor, Hugh Cluck, in office for five terms. In his 10 years at the city's helm, the personable Mayor Cluck never has had an opponent. The way his fellow citizens praise him, he probably never will.

LAREDO has unusual color and charm. It has antiquity, and a romance-laden historical background. It has a sturdy, economic and geographic position. It is going to be a city of 100,000 or more within the next 15 to 20 years, if Mexico continues to progress as rapidly as most people think.

But more important, Laredo has a Way of Life that is refreshing in these days to stress: A Way of Life which has tolerance and goodwill as its foundation stones.

Laredo can and does relax—not only physically, but mentally. And by "relaxing mentally," we mean that it keeps thrown off the shackles of prejudice and of hypocrisy which bind so many men these days.

Tomorrow, we shall go into Laredo's Way of Life as we found it and as we learned of it by observation and by asking questions of those who know it.

BY DREW PEARSON: MRS. ROOSEVELT HELPED PREVENT U. S. VOTE IN UN ON SPAIN

U. S. Ambassador In China Irate At British Move

WASHINGTON. — Inside reason why the American delegation to the United Nations abstained from voting on Spain was because Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt threatened to denounce the State department publicly if it voted for Franco.

PEARSON

Warren Austin, the U. S. delegate, was all set to vote for sending ambassadors back to Spain when Mrs. Roosevelt found out about it. Immediately she telephoned Secretary of State Acheson and gave him her very blunt views on getting cozy with a dictator who had played ball with Hitler and Mussolini during the war. Any move to embrace him, Mrs. R. told Acheson, would only embarrass the truly democratic nations of western Europe and play into the hands of the Communist propaganda machine at a critical time in world affairs.

Acheson seemed impressed with Mrs. Roosevelt's argument and suggested as a compromise that the American delegation abstain when the vote came up. He further promised to issue a statement blasting Franco as a dictator created with the help of Hitler and Mussolini, which he later did. This satisfied Mrs. Roosevelt and she has said nothing more about the matter.

Senatorial Triangle

The two women who are fighting over Senator Harry Cain, Republican, of Washington actually came face to face the other day.

Mrs. Cain, who was put on notice by her husband in a public press conference that he was divorcing her, nevertheless turned the other cheek and went to the hospital to visit the sick senator.

While there, Miss Mary Hall, a Senate secretary who may marry Senator Cain after the divorce, also arrived for a visit.

The sudden meeting was too much for Mrs. Cain and she lashed out at Miss Hall for stealing the senator's affections.

"You may have the game," she sizzled, "but you'll never get the name."

Later both women cooled off and walked out of the hospital together.

The Cain diorce is supposed to become final on June 14. The lawyer who is handling the matter for Senator Cain in Tacoma, Wash., is Ed Eisenhower, Ike's brother.

THE legislatures of Alabama, Texas, Nebraska and Florida are now considering bills introduced by real estate interests to abandon rent control.

One of the public-opinion gimmicks put out by some of the real estate boys is that a state can temporarily get rid of rent control, then later restore it—under the rent act recently passed by Congress.

However, this is not the case. The rent-control act passed by Congress categorically and definitely bars any reinstatment of federal rent control if a state or city once votes to decontrol. In other words, if a state or city once breaks away from the rent-control program it can never come back again.

British Compromise In China

American Ambassador Leighton Stuart in China is mad as a hornet at the British for trying to make a deal with the Chinese Communists behind his back.

Without telling Stuart a word, British representatives talked with the Chinese Communists twice last week. By accident Stuart has discovered that what the British have proposed is this: If the Chinese Communists let the British keep Hong Kong, the British government will then be willing to extend formal recognition to the Communist regime.

The British have concluded that they will never be able to hold out on Hong Kong against the Communists even with the new land, air and sea reinforcements that have been rushed there, hence their willingness to compromise.

Stuart is plenty burned up over the whole affair because such a deal would pull the last rug out from under the Chinese Nationalists by giving their biggest diplomatic victory.

PAINSTAKING, persevering Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming has been applying the scourge to big monopolies for years. Now he has come up with revealing information on the way big corporations handle big contracts with the government.

In 1946 the Atomic Enery commission signed a contract with General Electric for atomic energy work at Hanford, Wash., and Schenectady, N. Y., under which G. E. was paid all its costs plug a fixed fee of $1. The total amount obligated under this contract was $370,000,000, of which $7,000,000 was paid to General Electric for salaries, training of personnel, etc.

Meanwhile, Senator O'Mahoney points out that it has become a common practice of the Atomic Energy commission to get around congressional appropriations by authorizing blanket contracts in such a way that Congress cannot judge their validity. In the current year, for instance, the commission has contract appropriations of $600,000,000 and Congress has no way of knowing what it's all about.

The senator from Wyoming, therefore, is demanding that, without going into atomic secrets but only financial matters, these contracts be filed with the Congress and made available for congressional scrutiny.

Spineless Chiang Kai-Shek —diplomatic cables have just revealed the inside reason why Chiang Kai-Shek flew to Hangchow the other day to confer with acting President Li of China. Believe it or not but Chiang urged President Li not to make a stand against the Chinese Reds at the Yangtze river line. Li had informed the U. S. embassy that he would make such a stand, but when Chiang heard about it he flew to Hangchow and urged President Li to continue his retreat. No explanation was given for Chiang's strange position, but this is one reason why the State department has given no help to the spineless Chinese government.

And 300 American Air Force, Navy and technical officers have joined the British in getting the base in shape.

"Nobody Can Say I'm Not Working"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"SHOULD a woman put her husband or her children first?" asks a wife and mother.

That's not a question a woman can deside one way or the other for all time.

It's a question that has to be decided each time there is a conflict between the demands of the husband and the children.

MILLETT

Sometimes a woman has to put her husband first. And sometimes she has to put the children first. The only way she can decide wisely is to decide on the basis of which demand is actually the more important at any particular time.

As an example, Mr. Smith has to make a business trip and very much wants Mrs. Smith to go along with him, so that the trip can be turned into a vacation just for the two of them.

It has been a long time since they have gotten away from the children for a carefree time with each other. And though Mrs. Smith may hate to leave the children and they may make a fuss about it, she decides wisely that there is a case where her husband should come first. So she arranges for competent care of the children and starts making plans to take the trip with her husband.

SITUATION CHANGES DECISION

SHE has realized that her husband's claim on her at this particular time is more important than her children's.

But the day before the trip is to be started, one of the children gets sick, and the situation is suddenly reversed. The sick child has first claim on her and she has to disappoint her husband in order to be a responsible mother.

That's a clear-cut case, simple for any woman to figure out. But all such decisions aren't so clear-cut or as simple to make.

A woman can reach a satisfactory decision on the more difficult cases, however, if she will remember two things. First of all, to refuse to allow the nagging thought that she is being a poor wife if she occasionally puts the children first, or a poor mother if she sometimes puts her husband first, to keep her from doing what she feels she has to do.

And second, to be careful that her husband never thinks that the children always come first with her. This is where so many women fall down.

'Try And Stop Me"

LINDA YOUNG, three-year-old daughter of one of the town's leading printers, has a new English governess who is teaching her perfect manners. Her parents wonder if they are not a shade too perfect.

The other morning, she followed her father to the wardrobe and asked sweetly, "Daddy, may I borrow a clothes hanger for a moment, please?" When he gave her the hanger, she curtsied prettily, took careful aim and conked her mother squarely on the head with it. Then she returned it to her father, saying, "Thank you ever so much."

AN UNSATISFACTORY SITUATION

Members of the Lubbock Insurance exchange have taken a realistic view dictated by self-interest in opposing the $100 "deductible clause" now applicable to all hail and windstorm insurance written in Texas.

Just how this clause ever got into the State insurance code is not clear. Insurance men insist they are not to blame. But, someway, somewhow it came into existence; it is a bad law which forbids the insurance man from selling and the property owner from buying a policy which does not reimburse for losses under $100.

Unless this deficiency is corrected, it is a dead certainty that a great many persons now insured will not renew their present policies. Others not insured will cease to be insurance prospects. However, it should be borne in mind that the elimination, or reduction, of the "deductable" almost certain would require increased premium costs. But it would be real insurance, which is more than many policy-holders will say for the alleged protection afforded under the present system

New Devices Turning Nursery Into Scientific Laboratory

NEW YORK, May 19 — We have been down to visit the "Our Children's World, '49," national exposition, and have come away a trifle stunned. The gadgeteers have moved in on babyhood, and as soon as they develop an automatic baby-sitter in the labs, parenthood will have become practically passe.

RUARK

It seems, since primitive times, that a "truly acceptable substitute for breast-feeding" has been sought without success, but now they got one. Called a shellie nurser. This gimmick is supposed to be a dead ringer for the genuine article, in texture and lactation. The bottle is collapsible, and shrinks as junior depletes its contents. Also says that the natural action nipple is as revolutionary as the bottle — excuse me, disposa-bottle, contrived of a plastic film called shellene.

Blackmail has legally moved into the business of infant feeding, too. They got a glass with a merry-go-round on top. Kid drinks his milk, fine. Merry-go-round goes merrily around. Kid won't drink his milk, halt: Merry-go-round won't go round. Blackmail, Psychiatrists probably will frown on it.

Southpaws Face Trouble

Then we move to the spoon. Called the "scoop dinner set." Spoon so constructed baby can only use it in his right hand. What this will do to the complexes of natural southpaws, only the Lord and psychiatrists can say. Spoon likewise designed to allow no mess and clutter when the heir paws around in the preshrunk spinach.

Also got the teach-ezy cup. Cup parts the childish lips in natural manner. Prevents the milk-enriched martini, or whatever it is babies drink, from dribbling on the bib. Baby, it says, is "encouraged to drink unaided." When baby grows up they will call this vicious, solitary guzzling, and blame it on his uninhibited past.

In my time it was a badge of parental pride to exhibit the youngster's crib, and to point boastfully to the fang-marks on the top rail. No more. Baby now gets a plastic cover, flavored sweet, to chaw on as he grazes the upper rung of his prison. This is known as sparing the wood and spoiling the child.

CRIBS now have extra siding for the child who grows to fast. Zip, click, and the bar rise higher, so junior can't swing ove it. This, I believe, is a snide adul plot to keep the sprouts bedridden while the parents riot in the ic cream bars and double-feature movies. First child to do a gian swing over this new trapeze win the Ruark athletic award, which consists of one undigestible lolly-pop painted poison green. I suggest, also, a simpler remedy fo overactive children: Either an afternoon in the park or a stou chain around the neck.

I do not intend, either, to hold still for the crib with the built-in music box which plays Brahms lullabies, or the rattle that glows in the dark as a fresh substitute for lamb-counting. Grandpa used to sing me to sleep with "Ol' Zip Coon" and "The Wreck of the Old Ninety-Seven." Who needs Brahms? Reel me out another stanza of "Frankie and Johnny," gampa, or I'll cry all night.

We have also a new bath device for younguns, which features an elevator to raise and lower oookums tootsums into the water, plus a thermostat to regulate the water's temperature. This makes the dunked elbow obsolescent. It also works handily with a scheme to put baby-bouncing out of business.

Diapers Still Same

This latest gimmick is called the Johnny jump up. The child is suspended from the ceiling in a self-sealing cradle, connected by a spring. Young Wilbur leaps and capers all day long, like a monkey on a string, frustrating mama's knee and father's foot. Young Wilbur will probably grow up to be an acrobat, coming on-stage just after the jugglers.

The one thing that soothes me is that the diaper has largely been uncorrupted by the gadgeteers. They can describe them as sterilized, as sanitized, as anything ending in-ize. But so long as kids are kids the diaper will remain strictly an emergency makeshift, and all the skills of the atomic world will never be able to do very much about the problem.

Today's Thought

And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. — Mark 12:17.

Gold is Caesar's treasure, man is God's; thy gold hath Caesar's image, and thou hast God's; give, therefore, those things unto Caesar which are Caesar's, and unto God which are God's.—Quarles.

Materials To Neutralize Blood Factors Revealed By Professor

CINCINNATI, May 19 (AP) — Highly purified materials of animal origin are making it possible to perform human blood transfusions when donor and patient have certain conflicting blood types, the Society of American Bacteriologists was told today.

Dr. Elvin A. Kabat of Columbia university told the meeting that interest in such materials began during the war and that he and his co-workers have purified them further.

Intensive research is being conducted, he declared, on even further purification and on efforts to learn about the basis of their action.

Details Are Revealed

The materials are derived from the stomachs of hogs and horses. They are used to "neutralize" factors in one person's blood which would make the blood unsafe for transfusion into a person having a different blood type.

There are separate materials—called "A-substance," "B-substance" and "C-substance"—he said, for use in pre-treating bloods of the A, B, A-B and O types of blood.

He explained that while type "O" is considered a "universal" blood type—capable of being transfused into most persons regardless of their own special type—it is still possible, at times, for this type of blood to produce an unwanted reaction.

Professor Gets Award

Kabat, associate professor of bacteriology at Columbia's college of physicians, was the recipient last night of the "Eli Lilly award" of the Society of American Bacteriologists. The ward, consisting of a medal and a $1,000 honorarium, is awarded by the society each year to a scientist under 35 who has made an outstanding contribution to bacteriology or immunology.

Kabat in his report today gave this background with regard to all types of blood:

The reason we belong to a particular blood group is that the red cells of our blood contain complex chemicals which are "subtly" different from comparable chemicals in the red cells of a person having another blood type. These are called "antigens."

Reaction Basis Sought

And, in the serum (fluid) part of our blood there exist "antibodies"—antagonists—to the "antigens" of a person having another blood type.

Kabat and his co-workers have derived from animal tissue certain substances which correspond to particular "antigens" in humans. These have been highly purified. And extensive laboratory tests have shown that when one type of blood is designed for transfusion into a person having a different type, the addition of the proper material will "neutralize" the antagonistic factor.

The object of the latest research, he declared, is to determine the basis of the reaction between antigen and antibodies in terms of the chemical nature of the antigen.

Filmdom Glamour Spread Out But Club Tells How To See It

BY GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, May 19 — "Unfortunately, Hollywood is not a compact package of glamour. There's lots of it here, of course, but because the movie and radio studios, the homes of the stars and all are so widely separated, you just have to seek out the glamour for yourselves."

So says the All-Year Club of Southern California. It stands ready, with free maps and movie-star home addresses, to help you find glamour on your Hollywood vacation. The All-Year club is a community, non-profit organization which promotes the tourist business. It says: Tourists bring more money into Southern California than anything except aircraft manufacturing. They're ahead of oil, even, and the movie business, which ranks fourth.

Tourists Spent Plenty

Tourists spent $457,837,836 in Southern California in the year ending last Aug. 31. There were 3,373,395 of them. They stayed an average of nearly 17 days. Tourists average two to three to a party. They come from all states, but mainly Illinois, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Texas, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Indiana and Iowa.

Say you're traveling by car. Go to the All-Year Club's Visitors Bureau at 517 West Sixth street in downtown Los Angeles. You're handed a pamphlet called "Here's Glamourland." Street by street, it guides you—

Out Wilshire boulevard, "The Fifth Avenue of Los Angeles," to the Ambassador hotel, with its Cocoanut Grove night club. . . . To Paramount studio, for a peek through the gate at movie shrubbery, studio employes and possibly a passing star . . . Other major studios, from RKO to M-G-M . . . The radio studios . . . Hollywood cemetery, where, the folder points aut, "you see crypts of John Gilbert, Rudolph Valentino, Douglas Fairbanks, SR."

All Sights Listed

Then on to Earl Carroll's, "its facade covered with celebrity autographs embedded in concrete blocks" . . . The Hollywood Brown Derby, its walls covered with caricatures of movie and radio stars . . . Grauman's Chinese theater. In its famous forecourt, you see imprints in the concrete of Grable's leg and the hands and feet of Wallace Beery, Marie Dressler, William Powell, Van Johnson, Gable, Stanwyck, Pickford and others.

Also Harold Lloyd's glasses and Joe E. Brown's mouth. Hollywood Bowl, Beverly Hills and other sights are listed, with maps and careful directions. All can be reached by street cars and buses.

And there are street addresses of 72 notables, including Rosalind Russell, Joan Fontaine, Ronald Colman, Lionel Barrymore. "Yes, these are the actual homes of the stars," the pamphlet says. ". . . fine, talented people who love all their fans. And what they crave, more than anything else, when they're home, is rest. So pause as long as you wish in the car and match up their personalities with their homes, but please don't disturb them." The All-Year club says no tourist, to its knowledge, has violated this plea.

Cats' Ages Bring Letters To Editor

LONDON, May 19 —Britain's multitude of animal lovers are busy discussing long life among cats.

Author John Paddy Carstairs started the discussion in the Evening Standard letters' column, by announcing that his cat, William, has died at age 20.

Oldest feline inhabitant of the United Kingdom so far seems to be a 22-year-old owned by R. Stephens, of Eastbourne. He is in perfect condition, and his owner thinks he is good for years yet.

Miss May Wetzel, of Belmont, Surrey, reports that her tabby cat, which lived to be 21, retained all his faculties till the end.

"My black cat is 17½," said Mrs. S. Slaughter, of Acton, London. "She is the mother of many kittens, and seems younger than ever following two penicillin injections for bronchitis at Christmas."

C. J. Bales, of London, told how his cat, which lived to be 15, "used to lap the beer off the counter until he was dizzy; but if you gave him a saucer of milk, he would tip it over with his paw. He could kill a rat quicker than most dogs."

A six-foot crocodile stopped traffic in Darwin, Australia, when it escaped from a truck after having been captured on the bathing beach.

Life Of Opera Star Not Bed Of Roses, Young Diva Asserts

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 19—As almost everyone knows, operatic prima donnas have very little to do except receive bouquets at the end of each performance and lend out shoes so that smitten swains can drink champagne from them.

Hollywood solemnly avers that to be true. Mimi Benzell, who is young, brunette and beautiful, used to see such films when she was a girl. Now that she is an operatic star herself, she has a few questions.

"Whatever happened to that champagne routine?" she demanded. "Whatever happened to those days of idleness while waiting for the curtain to go up so that the house could cheer like mad before the diva sang a single note? I must have been born too late."

Tired But Happy

The Miss Benzell who spoke those mutinous lines was not the glamorous soprano who evokes critical applause in such parts as Philine in "Mignon," Gilda in "Rigoletto," Micaela in "Carmen" and Musetta in "La Boheme." She was a tired but very attractive young lady curled up in a chair in her hotel suite

"I love the opera and I love the Metropolitan Opera company which employs me," she said, "but I think Hollywood does us a disservice by not pointing out that the road to the top in opera is tougher than anywhere else in show business. Glamor, they say. Well here's a typical schedule for me during the season.

"I get up at 8:30 a. m. and vocalize for an hour Then I walk to the Met, if the weather isn't bad. Rehearsals run, say, from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m with an hour off for lunch. The schedule might be 'Carmen' 10:30; 'Mignon,' 11:30; 'Don Giovanni' with orchestra 12:30; 'Pelleas and Melisande' 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. In between there are stage rehearsals, costume fittings and coaching sessions.

Little Champagne

"After dinner — and darn little champagne do I see—I work on technical difficulties and interpretations and then back to the Met to watch the performance. You've got to be familiar with all the roles. And then, of course, I've got to learn parts in French, German and Italian.'

But Miss Benzell said she would not change for any other life, and now that the Metropolitan season is ended she is only concerned with practicing, studying new roles, giving a concert and maybe a few engagements with the Metropolitan's touring company She is also working on her tap dancing—unique for a prima donna of the Metropolitan.

"I broke into show business after leaving Bridgeport, Conn., as a singer in a mountain resort stock company," she explained. "That meant I had to hoof in the chorus, paint scenery and do other odd jobs when not soloing. It was good experience and helped me a lot when I played operetta—'Rosalinda,' for example."

Miss Benzell has another talent fairly rare at the Metropolitan. She can sing popular songs as well or better than the best of the swingy singers.

Wages of European miners in Southern Rhodesia averaged $3,210 last year.

SHEEP GET MOUNTAINS

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Fort Worth zoo officials couldn't take their native habitat, the mountains, so they did the next best thing and moved the mountains to the sheep. A 60-foot mountain costing some $15,000 was built, separated from spectators by a moat.
