Group Of Deserving Workers To Be Named As An Advisory Committee; Report Is Made On Expenditures

MEMBERS of the Lubbock Work Relief committee meeting Wednesday afternoon at the chamber of commerce office voted to adhere strictly to its policy of giving employment only to persons who have lived in Lubbock 12 months, who have dependents, who are unemployed, and who cannot find other work.

This action followed a check which revealed a number of men not meeting these qualifications have been employed, and a weeding out process among the 600 or more men who have been given work is to be started. To aid the committee, a group of deserving workers will be named as an advisory committee.

Undeserving Get Aid

It was revealed yesterday that some men "driving good automobiles, making radio payments" and obtaining work through other channels had taken advantage of the relief program.

Those attending yesterday afternoon's meeting were Chas. A. Guy, chairman; A. B. Davis, secretary; E. L. Pitts, county judge; J. J. Clements, mayor, and J. O. Jones, and S. A. Wells.

Sub-Committees Named

Two sub-committees were named. One group, composed of Judge Pitts, Mr. Davis, and City Manager W. H. Rodgers, will secure the assistance of an advisory committee. Mayor Clements, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Wells will consider work which can be done.

"The advisory committee will see that these funds are used for the deserving to take care of those needing meat and bread, and to see that the undeserving do not take meat and bread from the mouths of the deserving," it was pointed out.

Expenditures Reported

The committee announced that it did not know the amount of money available for this month, or when it would be available, although it hoped to have the information soon.

A report of expenditures was made, the figures being approximate because two crews of men were paid off last night, for which the payroll had not been made at the committee meeting. The committee has spent approximately $2,900, giving work to about 600 men. The average length of employment has been between two and three days. Expenditures, according to jobs: Cleaning snow and ice from sidewalks last month, $436.35; cleaning the dump grounds, approximately $2,400; cutting and burning weeds in Lubbock cemetery, approximately $100. Only about $300 of

The cause of the fire had not been ascertained late today.

Frank W. Wilson, poultry dealer, was so seriously burned hospital attendants said he may die. Physicians said the other injured would recover.

Knapp Decries Attention Now Given Liberal Arts In Texas And Urges Practical Training

Tech President Denounces The Efforts To Reduce Lubbock Institution In Address At Dallas Gathering

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 4. — Taxes and means of increasing the prosperity of farmers were featured in addresses today at the thirteenth annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau federation here.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, declared that too many high schools and colleges in Texas are devoting too much attention to the "liberal arts" and not enough to practical education for life and living.

Need More Training

"Our boys and girls need more training in life," he said. "They need more training for living the life they are going to lead in Texas and on Texas farms.

"Someone ought to write a book on economics that a ten-year-old child could understand. There is too much vocabulary in the science now; and economics really means nothing more than the good management of a house."

He denounced efforts to convert Texas Tech into a liberal arts college.

Applauds Inflation Efforts

Dr. Knapp, as did another educator who spoke, applauded efforts toward inflation of American currency. Dean E. E. Davis of North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington emphasized the point that agricultural conditions today are so bad that the currency must be inflated.

For Texas, Dean Davis urged a complete new system of taxation. He opposed complete abolition of the state and ad valorem tax, holding that it ought to continue to apply to the absentee land owner.

"This depression has taught people one thing, I believe," he said, "and that is the finer art of living so that they will indulge in the vulgar art of merely making money."

Mine Area Tensely Quiet As Bitterness Of Wage War Is Held In Check By Presence Of State Soldiers

(By The Associated Press)

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Jan. 4. — Christian county was tensely quiet tonight, the bitterness of inter-union mine strife held in check by the guns of the military.

Military rule had returned to this scene of strife between rival unions after an 11-day experiment with civil peace.

The first of five Illinois national guard companies, recalled after the civil forces found they could not cope with the sniping and hidden machine gun nests of the miners, took up sentry duty shortly before dusk, leaving the sheriff's deputies free to round up the gunners who slew two persons and wounded a score more last night and today.

Nerves were on edge in Kincaid, the little mining community seven clash signalized renewal of strife miles west of Taylorville where a between the United Mine Workers' Union and the Progressive Miners of America.

Farmers Pour Into Iowa Town To Join Crowd And Demand Key To Store Where A Foreclosed Tractor Is Held

(By The Associated Press)

LE MARS, Iowa, Jan. 4.—Farm unrest, smouldering for months in the Iowa corn belt flamed anew today with threats to lynch a representative of a mortgage holder and forcible detention of a jurist who sought to summon aid.

The demonstration occurred at a foreclosure sale when Herbert S. Martin, attorney for the New York Life Insurance company, submitted a sealed bid for the John A. Johnson farm of $30,000—$3,000 less than the amount of the mortgage held by his company.

Threaten Hanging

The farmers, numbering between 500 and 800, dragged him from the court house steps. Brandishing a rope they threatened hanging, tar and feathers, and riding him out of town on a rail.

Finally released, Martin wired officials of his company asking permission to raise the bid. He ended his wire with a plea to "rush answer, my neck at risk."

A few hours later he received a wire permitting him to increase his

Wreckage Of Car Discovered By Rancher Under A Bridge; Deaths Resulted From Mishap During Night

(By The Associated Press)

PERRYTON, Jan. 4.—The bodies of two persons, a man and a woman, were found today in the wreckage of a motor car which was discovered under the Kiowa creek bridge, 35 miles northeast of here.

The victims late this afternoon were identified as Mrs. Ida Becker, 35, of Perryton, and her brother-in-law, Dan Becker, 20, merchant of Notla, Texas.

Officers said deaths resulted from an accident which occurred during the night. The car evidently had overturned, plunged over a low railing and rolled under the bridge. Since the wreckage was not visible from the roadway, the discovery was not made until a rancher happened by the scene.

Three Dead, Others Are Thought To Be Crushed In Snow And Rock Slide

(By The Associated Press)

WALLACE, Idaho, Jan. 4. — Three persons are known to be dead and others are believed to have been crushed under a snow and rock slide that roared down Mammoth canyon near Wallace today.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Powell, and their 5-year-old son, Glenn, were buried under tons of snow and muck, four houses were demolished and several automobiles and trucks were caught by the avalanche.

Rescue workers boring into the debris near where the Powell automobile was buried, found two trucks, but could not locate the drivers. Fear was expressed they were thrown out of the trucks.

It was reported here also an infant's body was found near one of the cabins which were crushed, but this could not be verified because telephone and telegraph lines to the district were wrecked.

Twenty-four hours of moderating weather caused ice, snow and rocks near the top of the high mountains on either side of the canyon to break away. These tore down into the canyon, gathering tons of debris before the slide struck the highway at the bottom.

Witnesses said the mass started without audible warning, struck the highway with a roar and continued several hundred yards down the canyon. The Powell automobile was parked beside the highway and the trucks were on the road.

Financial Markets Lose Their Coolness For New Year With Marked Gains; Bond Market Gives Good Account

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. —Principal financial markets warmed toward 1933 today, after showing marked coolness toward the new year in the first trading sessions yesterday.

Shares in the New York stock exchange and wheat in the Chicago pit, bounded up together and cotton at New York and New Orleans quickly followed.

Upswing Is Sharp

The upswing in stocks was the sharpest in a month, with many issues advancing $1 to $5 a share. Wheat pushed up about 1 1-2 cents a bushel, and cotton around $1 a bale.

The bond market also gave a good account of itself, with the U. S. government issues rising above their best levels of 1932.

Rather active selling of the dollar developed in the foreign exchange market, however, and it weakened appreciably in terms of European gold currencies. The French franc rose to a level, which, if maintained, would check the recent flow of French gold to New York.

The flurry of bullishness which swept through the markets was variously attributed to a number of factors. The movement seemed to start principally in wheat, which quickly responded to higher prices at Liverpool, and reports of drought in the southwest.

Brokers said the stock market evidently had been sold to a standstill and was technically ripe for a rally.

Byrd's Offer To Give Up Status Fails To Satisfy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Rear Admiral Byrd's offer to give up his naval status "and all that goes with it"—including $4,200 annual retirement pay—if the American Legion would change its tactics on veterans compensation tonight fell short of satisfying the famous aerial explorer's outspoken critic, Senator Robinson of Indiana.

The "strings attached" by the aviator should be removed and the annuity surrendered, the Indianan said, if the aviator has "finally concluded that he is not entitled to the gratuity bestowed on him by the government."

Boy Is Burned Fatally As He Searches Blazing Home For His Lost Dog 'Teddy'

(By The Associated Press)

GREENVILLE, Jan. 4.—Louis Watson, 4, was burned fatally when he entered his burning home last night in search of his dog, "Teddy."

Louis, with his parents, fled when an explosion enveloped the home in flames. He believed his dog was trapped in a rear room and returned. His father brought him back out after he had been burned seriously. The dog later began hunting around ashes of the house, possibly searching for his master.

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 4.—A person under the influence of intoxicating liquor and operating an automobile, who accidentally causes the death of another, is not guilty of murder, the Texas court of criminal appeals ruled today.

The ruling was issued in the case of Langston Burton, convicted of murder in Rusk county and sentenced to two years imprisonment.

Burton was indicted in Rusk county on a charge of murder with malice aforethought, in the death of Jerry Allen, 7 years old. The boy allegedly was fatally injured when struck by Burton's automobile. Burton contended the boy's death resulted from an accident, caused by the blowout of a tire on his automobile.

Act Itself A Felony

"The mere fact that a man is under the influence of intoxicating liquor while operating a car on the highway, this being of itself the commission of a felony, should not in reason and common sense make him guilty of murder if he operates the car correctly and as a man should . . . and in such a death result," the opinion, by Judge O. S. Lattimore, stated.

"As well say that if the car of a man under the influence of liquor and in operation on the highway be struck by lightning and as a result the car became unmanageable, and the death of some party resulted, the driver could be held guilty of murder," the opinion stated.

Halloran Loses His First Skirmish In Court Battle

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 4 (AP)—John J. Halloran lost today the first skirmish in his battle to have quashed an indictment naming him as "accessory to the crime of murder," returned by the Maricopa county grand jury after it had listened to Winnie Ruth Judd's purported "whole truth" story.

Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman refused to set aside and quash the indictment, against which Halloran's counsel had argued on grounds of alleged unfairness and illegality in the selection of the grand jury, and alleged bias and prejudice on the part of the grand jurors.

Master Of Liner Is Last To Leave; Men In The Boiler Rooms Burned; Radio Man Is Thought Asphyxiated

(By The Associated Press)

CHERBOURG, France, Jan. 5. (Thursday) — The luxurious liner Atlantique was wrecked by fire Wednesday in the English channel while proceeding to Havre for overhauling without passengers. The loss of lives was placed early this morning at 17.

Latest available figures here showed 228 persons were aboard, of whom 211 arrived here during the night on four rescue vessels.

Survivors Are Exhausted

The victims either suffocated at their posts of duty or drowned when a lifeboat upset.

All those rescued were exhausted when they were brought here. All their possessions had been lost.

The wreck still was burning this morning and it was being blown in a northerly direction in a rough sea. The vessel was owned by the Compagnie De Navigation Sud-Atlantique of Paris.

Cause Undetermined

The cause of the blaze, which started at 3:30 a. m. Wednesday off the isle of Guernsey, remained undetermined this morning.

The steamer Pollux Wednesday night reported the Atlantique afloat 24 miles off Casquets, west of Alderney. The boat was so hot it was impossible to board her.

The ministry of merchant marine announced in Paris the damage was so great the ship must be considered lost.

Captain Schoof, master of the liner, was last to leave her. He leaped into the sea and was picked up by a small boat from the steamer Achilles which, with the Thur and the Ford Castle, brought the 127 survivors to Cherbourg.

Burned To Death

Men in the boiler rooms were burned to death, the captain told port authorities, and others were overcome by smoke before they could escape. He explained no radio distress messages were sent out because the operator was asphyxiated at his post.

The Atlantique, owned by the Compagnie De Navigation Sud-Atlantique of Paris, was one of the largest and fastest of the passenger liners flying the flag of France. She was designed to make the journey from Bordeaux to Buenos Aires in 16 days.

The ship was built at San Nazaire and was launched in September, 1931. There were accomodations aboard for 1,234 passengers.

Jack Sullivan Scheduled To Go To Trial In Hale County

Durwood H. Bradley, former 72nd and 99th district courts attorney, will defend Sullivan. Mr. Bradley said yesterday he anticipated the defense would announce ready for trial when the case is called in 64th district court by Judge Charles Clements. Sullivan, whose right arm was broken by lead from officer's gun at Mountainair, N. M., last September, is held at Plainview.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The pinch of economy was reflected in campaign expenditures reports filed today with the clerk of the house of representatives, showing that Democrats spent only two and a quarter million dollars to help elect their president, and a majority in both branches of congress.

Distribution Of Cash For Unemployed Now Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — America was depicted before a senate committee today as having reached a point in its economic misfortunes at which a direct distribution of cash to the jobless is essential.

Testifying at hearings on the La Follette-Costigan $500,000,000 relief measure, Karl De Schweinitz, executive secretary of the Philadelphia community council, said "it seems to me the time has come when a certain amount of relief must be given in cash."

Denunciation Of Propaganda Endangering School Systems Of Nation Is Voiced By Aggie President

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 4. — A denunciation of what he called "systematic propaganda" that has swept the country during the last 18 months favoring reduction in all governmental expenditures and thereby endangering "the opportunities of the 23,000,000 young boys and girls in American schools," was voiced tonight by Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. and college.

Speaking at a dinner given by the Texas Farm Bureau federaton, Dr. Walton pleaded earnestly that "young men and women of tomorrow should not be denied at least an elementary education."

"Too much emphasis is still being laid on material things and not enough on those spiritual values that bind men together," declared Dr. Walton. "There is enough wealth in Texas to carry on our educational system if every citizen will share his burden and make some sacrifice. My concern is more for the child in grade school than for the boy in high school or the girl in college.

"I agree that no nation can ever afford to waste money on education. But this nation can never become so poor that it must withhold from its children at least a grammar school education. I fear that in these times there will be discrimination against the rural school. A fear the shortsighted policy that would keep Texas from having at least a six-month school for every boy and girl in it.

"We are in the midst of a revolution. There are no good old days. There is no going back to normalcy. There is not prosperity just around the corner. We are entering on a new era. We must face today the problems of tomorrow, forgetting the past except to profit from its lessons. We need today more than anything in America a political, a social and an economic leadership worthy to be followed.

"The interest alone on Texas automobiles is $50,000,000 a year, the upkeep and depreciation, $150,000,000. Yet less than 12 per cent of our money goes to schools. We have in this country 75 per cent of the world's automobiles and 50 per cent of its radios. We can defer buying automobiles and radios, we can even defer building roads, but we cannot defer the time to educate our boys and girls."

London Bridge Club Members Hold Election Of Officers Wednesday

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. SEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

AGE DEPENDS upon the individual, not on years.

There are people who are old at thirty. There are many others who have definitely retired from all activity at sixty and consider themselves ancient. There are others who are young at seventy or eighty.

Age seems to depend upon the mental attitude of people more than anything else. For this reason, one appears just as old as he acts and thinks he is.

There is one woman I know who is past seventy. But to talk to her and watch her one would never dream she is so old. She cooks, sews, washes and works in her garden just as any younger woman would do. She makes rugs and quilts on the side and the other day she was planning to crochet a collar and cuff set for a dress because so many are being worn this winter. She is intensely interested in styles and politics; in young people and old—in fact, in everything that happens or is.

She has lived more than seventy years but actually she is much younger than that and, busy as she is, she is twice as happy as people who have grown old and retired when they passed middle age. She found that fountain of youth that so many seek.

NAMES AGAIN

THERE was some advice I read the other day to parents in a syndicated column: "Try to give your baby a name which he will not despise when he grows up." And to that advice, I want to add my hearty approval.

Names are my greatest grief. You never can tell whether or not a name is wrong because there is always the possibility that it is right as it stands. Fully half the people in the world, or so it seems to me, do not have names at all but some scrambled syllables that serve for cognomens.

Of course, plenty of people may be proud of their names when I think they might feel some humiliation over having to carry their titles around through life, but I have an idea that most people with queer-sounding names dislike them very much. I know some who do.

Of all the names, however, the most humiliating must be feminine names for men. That seems even worse than definitely masculine names for women. A man is handicapped in the beginning—and all men treasure their masculinity more than anything else — if his name happens to be something that was intended solely for the opposite sex.

There are such a lot of ordinary Christian names to be used, it doesn't seem fair for men and women to go through life with titles that are sounds and not names at all. One has a hard enough struggle without having to overcome a name of which he is ashamed.

THE funny thing about all of us is that our ideas of evil and good depend so much upon the things we want and don't want.

That is the reason, I suppose, why all this talk of economy in government gets little further than talk. Everyone wants to economize on the things that won't affect him. The man who owns no property except a car thinks it is terrible to tax gasoline in order to keep up roads. The one who owns land and therefore can't own a car thinks it unfair for him to have to build roads for the cars to run over.

The one who smokes cigarets thinks chewing tobacco should be taxed, but that it is a crime to have to pay for his smokes.

The same thing holds in using the tax money. School people disapprove of its use for anything except the schools. People with no interest think it is strange that so much money should be used with so little in the way of results. As a consequence, we have long debates, reports from committees, scrapping and hair pulling over the merits of various objects and institutions, lobbying—a terrible overhead to balance the least economy or the smallest amount of real good that is accomplished.

With Flu Around All Colds Now More Dangerous

Colds Lower Body Resistance and Often Pave the Way For Flu and Its Serious Complications.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS URGED

With flu increasing in many sections of the country, health authorities urge everyone to take extra precautions against colds just now.

The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks Plan for Better Control-of-Colds. Briefly, it is this:

To Prevent Many Colds.

At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose and Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

To End a Cold Sooner.

If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, massage throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub. It acts two ways at once to bring relief: By Stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster; and by Inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to irritated air-passages. During the day—for added comfort and relief—use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed.

Plan Tested and Proved.

In clinical tests among thousands, last winter, Vicks Colds-Control Plan reduced the number and duration of colds by half—cut the costs and dangers of colds more than half. How you can follow the Plan in your home is fully explained in each Vicks package.

HOW TO STOP A COLD QUICK AS YOU CAUGHT IT

A New Method Doctors Everywhere Are Advising

Almost Instant Relief In This Way

If you have a cold—don't take chances with "cold killers" and nostrums. A cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

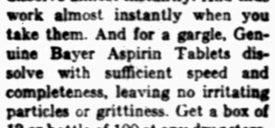

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds.

It is recognized as the QUICKEST, safest, surest way. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

That is because the real BAYER Aspirin embodies certain medical qualities that strike at the base of a cold almost INSTANTLY.

You can combat nearly any cold you get simply by taking BAYER Aspirin and drinking plenty of water every 2 to 4 hours the first day and 3 or 4 times daily thereafter. If throat is sore, gargle with 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets crushed and dissolved in a half glass of warm water, repeating every 2 or 3 hours as necessary. Sore throat eases this way in a few minutes, incredible as this may seem.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets dissolve with sufficient speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness. Get a box of 12 or bottle of 100 at any drug store.

Tech Crisis Is Discussed Here

Lubbock Rotary club members Wednesday heard three men, Spencer Wells, A. B. Davis, and W. T. Gaston, discuss "The Tech Crisis."

Opening the discussions, Mr. Wells declared the recent report made by a legislative committee was worked up by a "group of efficiency experts who are probably good in their work but viewed the state of Texas as they would Maryland, Rhode Island or any other eastern state."

"We Must Get Busy"

"We have so large a state that their report just can't be carried out," Wells said. "But although we have the facts on our side, we may wake up to find ourselves left out if we don't get busy". He cited the benefits of the college to Lubbock in a business as well as educational and cultural way.

"The thing that is uppermost in my mind is to try to see that this college gets its just rights," Mr. Gaston declared. He told of the reduction of per capita cost at the school of from $207 to $203.51 in the past three years and pointed out that it was the lowest of any class A school in the state and ranked 70th in a group of 72 of the nation's leading schools, the average per capita cost of which is $370.66.

LAUDS GRADUATES

"I've been employing graduates of engineering schools for the past thirteen years and I've never seen a group of graduates better trained, having a better attitude toward their work and better fitted for jobs than graduates of Texas Tech's school of engineering," Guy R. Johnston, division resident engineer, declared before the Rotary club Wednesday.

"I'm working graduates from Washington and Lee, Notre Dame, Missouri and other schools and the Tech boys stack up right alongside and often above them."

Mr. Johnston said the highway department was working twenty-five Tech engineering graduates in this division.

Would Cost More

"If they transferred all the departments they propose to do in the report to some other school, it would cost the state of Texas more to teach them at some other school." Mr. Gaston said. "If you want to know who is spending the most money, just look up the figures. . . We're willing to take any cut that's just and proper on the same basis as other schools. . . All we want them to do is to appropriate the funds on a per capita basis with everyone else".

Mr. Davis declared a reduction in activities of the college would cause a decrease in every line of business in Lubbock.

Cites Attitude

Citing the attitude of East Texas towards this section of the state ever since 1837, Mr. Davis said he did not want to make this appear as a sectional fight.

"Over half of the land in West Texas has been used for institutions of East Texas, yet they say that we're not entitled to a school of our own out here." He displayed a map which showed only five schools in West Texas to twelve in East Texas.

"We already have help from other towns in our cause but what we need is to sell the importance of the situation to all of West Texas so that our school can continue in its growth and expansion."

Relief Rules

Reconstruction Finance corporation allotments for November and December remain, and no funds for other winter months have been received.

Project Will Start

One other project will be begun in a few days. H. E. Hargis, district sanitary engineer, will direct installation of concrete slab pit toilets in those portions of towns not reached by sanitary sewers.

"Between 50 and 75 open and unsanitary toilets are located where they cannot be reached by the sewer, and although they are cleaned regularly by the city scavenger service, they present a disease menace and breed flies," it was said.

Apportionmnt of employment on the basis of dependents, with maximum employment per month at six days, is anticipated.

Set-Up Is Outlined

The set-up was outlined at the meeting, as follows:

"Work cards have been issued by Joe Wilson at the County-City Welfare association, where the unemployed have registered. Each worker has turned these cards in to the timekeeper when he went on the job and thereafter the timekeeper has called the roll each half day. When one group has had its share of the work they have been laid off. The time each man has worked has been figured on the work card; a payroll has been made up from the work cards; checks have been issued for these payrolls and the check number placed after each man's name on the roll. In this way we have a complete record showing every man worked; where he worked, how long he worked, and the amount he was paid. In addition we have his street address, the number in his family, and additional information."

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 4. (AP)—Cotton was quiet for most of today's session but trading developed a spurt of activity near the end when prices rallied strongly on trade demand and in sympathy with stocks and wheat. The close was steady near the top at net advances for the day of 22 to 23 points.

The market opened quiet but steady. Liverpool came in 1 to 2 penny points better than due. Private cables said the market was steady with hedging offset by favorable Egyptian advices and trade calling. Manchester reported a more hopeful outlook, most interest centering in inquiries from the Orient. First trades here were 2 points up. As hedging was readily absorbed by good trade buying prices gradually advanced the improvement being helped by reports of Liverpool and Japanese buying. Before noon March had advanced to 6.11, May to 6.23 and July to 6.36 or 13 to 15 points above the previous close.

Around noon hedge selling increased and prices eased off 2 to 3 points from the top but the market developed a sharp advance in active trading in the late afternoon stimulated by the persistent strength in stocks. Prices made new highs for the day near the end with March at 6.21, May at 6.34 and July at 6.46 or 24 to 25 points above the previous close. There was a slight reaction at the end on realizing but March and July closed with net gains for the day of 23 points and May with a net gain of 22 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 5 to 6 penny points up.

Port receipts 65,680, for week 138,523, for season 5,962,817, last season 6,497,964. Exports 34,284, for week 179,180, for season 4,234,506, last season 4,038,678. Port stock 4,747,803, last year 4,747,361. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 168,229, last year 153,589. Spot sales at southern markets 23,591, last year 16,551.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (AP)—Cotton advanced about $1 a bale today with the market showing more breadth and activity than on the previous day.

March contracts advanced to 6.23, or 24 points above yesterday's closing quotations on trade buying and covering which was active in the late trading. The close was firm at net advance of 18 to 25 points.

The opening was 1 to 4 points higher in response to steady Liverpool cables and trade buying. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the early buyers.

Strength of the grain and stock markets stimulated demand from local sources while there was also some buying here by New Orleans on the late advance which carried the price of July contracts up to 6.48, making new high ground for the movement.

Except for the steadiness abroad and strength in other markets, no special news factor was particularly emphasized in connection with the advance, but some brokers were inclined to attribute part of the buying to the talk of possible inflationary measures in Washington.

Liverpool cables said that hedging had been absorbed by trade calling and buying promoted by the firmer ruling of Egyptian cotton and also reported a more active spot demand in the market there, with a more hopeful outlook for business in the Manchester goods market. Egyptian cotton futures in Liverpool were 7 to 13 points higher. A private crop reporting authority said that preliminary data on the outlook for the 1933 acreage does not indicate much change as compared with the acreage planted last year. Exports today 34,284 making 4,399,369 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 4,756,792.

bid the $3,000 and after consummation of the sale officials agreed to postpone any further mortgage sales for one month.

Slapped And Mauled

Martin and Sheriff R. E. Rippey were slapped and mauled by the angry farmers. Judge C. W. Pitts, attempted to summon aid, was seized by the crowd and prevented from using a telephone.

During the disturbance farmers kept pouring into the town and joining the crowd at the court house. With the foreclosure sale stopped, they proceeded to the mayor's office seeking a key to the Pew Implement company, where a foreclosed tractor, once the property of Joe Sokolosky, was stored.

Unable to locate the key, the farmers proceeded to the company warehouse, but quieted and disbanded at the request of Sheriff Rippey before gaining entrance.

The demonstration today climaxed a general movement against forced sales of farm property. In many counties sales for delinquent taxes have been postponed because of failure to obtain bids on the property.

Coast Guard Flying Boat Which Saved Youth At Sea Visited Here Last July

Commander C. C. von Paulson and the coast guard flying boat, the Arcturus, which this week figured in the valiant rescue of a young man off Fort Pierce, Fla., were in Lubbock last July 19 and 20. The Arcturus, a bi-motored amphibian, was the first and only "mud hen," as local airmen termed the ship, to visit Municipal airport.

Commander von Paulson, C. T. Galt and F. F. Crump flew the Arcturus here, bringing Amon G. Carter, newspaper publisher, and Wyatt C. Hedrick, both of Fort Worth. Carter addressed a rally in the interest of Ross S. Sterling, gubernatorial candidate.

Commander von Paulson and Lieut. C. H. Foley, co-pilot, alighted on a rough sea to rescue Paul Long, 21, after Long had drifted into the Gulf Stream off Port Pierce. The Arcturus, in taxiing toward shore, seeking calm water for a take-off, lost both pontoons and had one wing badly damaged. The Arcturus was involved in a similar rescue last summer.

Financial Markets Rally Wednesday; Stock Improvement Reported As Slow

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. (AP) — Financial markets turned about today and rallied vigorously.

For stocks the improvement was slow but steady until the last hour when shorts covered more aggressively, piling up net gains of 1 to around 5 points in many trading favorites. For bonds, leadership was supplied by federal issues, most of which made new highs. Wheat, rising more than a cent, profited by a livelier speculative interest induced in part by weather news and strong Liverpool quotations. Cotton gained 90 cents to $1.25 a bale net.

Altogether, it was the market's best day in some weeks. Figuring prominently in the news budget were the domestic allotment plan for farm commodities, inflation gossip in and out of Washington, further proposals for, and statements on government economy and the ever-present hope of a fair spring recovery in business.

On the other hand, the dollar met with a setback in foreign exchange circles. Strength of European gold currencies, notably French francs, recalled similar moves during the past year when speculators and others sold our currency on the theory that this country as in for some inflation. The French monetary unit was up more than a point at the best, putting it comfortably above the level at which further gold shipments to the United States would be profitable. Dutch, Belgian and Swiss rates were strong.

Court Is Held At Bedside Of Wounded Texas Cowboy

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud held court today at the bedside of a wounded Texas cow puncher, in Morisania hospital, and at conclusion of the hearing held Joseph Edwin, a deaf mute, in $1,000 bail for the grand jury.

The wounded man is Edward Rooney, 22 years old, of 557 Main street, Brownsville, Tex. The case was heard in the hospital because doctors said Rooney would be confined there for at least a month.

The magistrate arrived at the hospital with an assistant district attorney, defense counsel, a sign language interpreter and detectives.

Rooney testified that Edwin stabbed him in the abdomen on Dec. 8.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 4. (AP)—Demand was good for wheat and fair for other light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain maket Wednesday.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination, delivered Texas Gulf ports; export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 31 1-2@32 1-2c. Barley, No. 2 nominally 31@32; No. 3 nominally 30@31. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 60@65; No. 3, 59@61; No. 2 affir 54@55; No. 3 52@53.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 40@41; No. 2 white or yellow 41@42.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 24 1-2@25; No. 3 red 23 1-2@24.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 4. (AP)—Decided increase of speculative buying did much to give all-around hoist to grain values today.

Lively demand for future deliveries of all cereals was in evidence from start to finish, and led to the best advance witnessed in weeks. Friends of price upturns asserted Europe was giving belated recognition to the fact that without the United States surplus the world wheat supply and demand situation was a strong rather than a weak one, and that but little wheat in this country was available either to foreign or home markets at prevailing prices.

Wheat closed strong at virtually the day's top, 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 7-8 up, oats 3-8 advanced, and provisions showing 2 to 20 cents gain.

London Bridge Club Members Hold Election Of Officers Wednesday

BY BLANCHE E. SEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

AGE DEPENDS upon the individual, not on years.

There are people who are old at thirty. There are many others who have definitely retired from all activity at sixty and consider themselves ancient. There are others who are young at seventy or eighty.

Age seems to depend upon the mental attitude of people more than anything else. For this reason, one appears just as old as he acts and thinks he is.

There is one woman I know who is past seventy. But to talk to her and watch her one would never dream she is so old. She cooks, sews, washes and works in her garden just as any younger woman would do. She makes rugs and quilts on the side and the other day she was planning to crochet a collar and cuff set for a dress because so many are being worn this winter. She is intensely interested in styles and politics; in young people and old—in fact, in everything that happens or is.

She has lived more than seventy years but actually she is much younger than that and, busy as she is, she is twice as happy as people who have grown old and retired when they passed middle age. She found that fountain of youth that so many seek.

NAMES AGAIN

THERE was some advice I read the other day to parents in a syndicated column: "Try to give your baby a name which he will not despise when he grows up." And to that advice, I want to add my hearty approval.

Names are my greatest grief. You never can tell whether or not a name is wrong because there is always the possibility that it is right as it stands. Fully half the people in the world, or so it seems to me, do not have names at all but some scrambled syllables that serve for cognomens.

Of course, plenty of people may be proud of their names when I think they might feel some humiliation over having to carry their titles around through life, but I have an idea that most people with queer-sounding names dislike them very much. I know some who do.

Of all the names, however, the most humiliating must be feminine names for men. That seems even worse than definitely masculine names for women. A man is handicapped in the beginning—and all men treasure their masculinity more than anything else — if his name happens to be something that was intended solely for the opposite sex.

There are such a lot of ordinary Christian names to be used, it doesn't seem fair for men and women to go through life with titles that are sounds and not names at all. One has a hard enough struggle without having to overcome a name of which he is ashamed.

FUNNY PEOPLE

THE funny thing about all of us is that our ideas of evil and good depend so much upon the things we want and don't want.

That is the reason, I suppose, why all this talk of economy in government gets little further than talk. Everyone wants to economize on the things that won't affect him. The man who owns no property except a car thinks it is terrible to tax gasoline in order to keep up roads. The one who owns land and therefore can't own a car thinks it unfair for him to have to build roads for the cars to run over.

The one who smokes cigarets thinks chewing tobacco should be taxed, but that it is a crime to have to pay for his smokes.

The same thing holds in using the tax money. School people disapprove of its use for anything except the schools. People with no interest think it is strange that so much money should be used with so little in the way of results. As a consequence, we have long debates, reports from committees, scrapping and hair pulling over the merits of various objects and institutions, lobbying—a terrible overhead to balance the least economy or the smallest amount of real good that is accomplished.

With Flu Around All Colds Now More Dangerous

Colds Lower Body Resistance and Often Pave the Way For Flu and Its Serious Complications.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS URGED

With flu increasing in many sections of the country, health authorities urge everyone to take extra precautions against colds just now.

The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks Plan for better Control-of-Colds. Briefly, it is this:

To Prevent Many Colds.

At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose and Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

To End a Cold Sooner.

If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, massage throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub. It acts two ways at once to bring relief: By Stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster; and by Inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to irritated air-passages. During the day—for added comfort and relief—use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed.

Plan Tested and Proved.

In clinical tests among thousands, last winter, Vicks Colds-Control Plan reduced the number and duration of colds by half—cut the costs and dangers of colds more than half. How you can follow the Plan in your home is fully explained in each Vicks package.

Some of the districts Mr. Brown represents have authorized him to suspend penalty on 1930 and 1931 taxes; others have not. He anticipates a number of others suspending penalty for January payments.

HOW TO STOP A COLD QUICK AS YOU CAUGHT IT

A New Method Doctors Everywhere Are Advising

Take 1 or 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets. Drink Full Glass of Water. If throat is sore, crush and dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablet in a half glass of warm water and gargle according to directions.

Almost Instant Relief In This Way

If you have a cold—don't take chances with "cold killers" and nostrums. A cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds.

It is recognized as the QUICKEST, safest, surest way. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

That is because the real BAYER Aspirin embodies certain medical qualities that strike at the base of a cold almost INSTANTLY.

You can combat nearly any cold you get simply by taking BAYER Aspirin and drinking plenty of water every 2 to 4 hours the first day and 3 or 4 times daily thereafter. If throat is sore, gargle with 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets crushed and dissolved in a half glass of warm water, repeating every 2 or 3 hours as necessary. Sore throat eases this way in a few minutes, incredible as this may seem.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets dissolve with sufficient speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness. Get a box of 12 or bottle of 100 at any drug store.

Tech Crisis Is Discussed Here

Lubbock Rotary club members Wednesday heard three men, Spencer Wells, A. B. Davis, and W. T. Gaston, discuss "The Tech Crisis."

Opening the discussions, Mr. Wells declared the recent report made by a legislative committee was worked up by a "group of efficiency experts who are probably good in their work but viewed the state of Texas as they would Maryland, Rhode Island or any other eastern state."

"We Must Get Busy"

"We have so large a state that their report just can't be carried out," Wells said. "But although we have the facts on our side, we may wake up to find ourselves left out if we don't get busy". He cited the benefits of the college to Lubbock in a business as well as educational and cultural way.

"The thing that is uppermost in my mind is to try to see that this college gets its just rights." Mr. Gaston declared. He told of the reduction of per capita cost at the school of from $207 to $203.51 in the past three years and pointed out

"I've been employing graduates of engineering schools for the past thirteen years and I've never seen a group of graduates better trained, having a better attitude toward their work and better fitted for jobs than graduates of Texas Tech's school of engineering," Guy R. Johnston, division resident engineer, declared before the Rotary club Wednesday.

"I'm working graduates from Washington and Lee, Notre Dame, Missouri and other schools and the Tech boys stack up right alongside and often above them."

Mr. Johnston said the highway department was working twenty-five Tech engineering graduates in this division.

that it was the lowest of any class A school in the state and ranked 70th in a group of 72 of the nation's leading schools, the average per capita cost of which is $370.66.

Would Cost More

"If they transferred all the departments they propose to do in the report to some other school, it would cost the state of Texas more to teach them at some other school." Mr. Gaston said. "If you want to know who is spending the most money, just look up the figures. . . We're willing to take any cut that's just and proper on the same basis as other schools. . . All we want them to do is to appropriate the funds on a per capita basis with everyone else".

Mr. Davis declared a reduction in activities of the college would cause a decrease in every line of business in Lubbock.

Cites Attitude

Citing the attitude of East Texas towards this section of the state ever since 1837, Mr. Davis said he did not want to make this appear as a sectional fight.

"Over half of the land in West Texas has been used for institutions of East Texas, yet they say that we're not entitled to a school of our own out here." He displayed a map which showed only five schools in West Texas to twelve in East Texas.

"We already have help from other towns in our cause but what we need is to sell the importance of the situation to all of West Texas so that our school can continue in its growth and expansion."

Relief Rules

Reconstruction Finance corporation allotments for November and December remain, and no funds for other winter months have been received.

Project Will Start

One other project will be begun in a few days. H. E. Hargis, district sanitary engineer, will direct installation of concrete slab pit toilets in those portions of towns not reached by sanitary sewers.

"Between 50 and 75 open and unsanitary toilets are located where they cannot be reached by the sewer, and although they are cleaned regularly by the city scavenger service, they present a disease menace and breed flies," it was said.

Apportionmnt of employment on the basis of dependents, with maximum employment per month at six days, is anticipated.

Set-Up Is Outlined

The set-up was outlined at the meeting, as follows:

"Work cards have been issued by Joe Wilson at the County-City Welfare association, where the unemployed have registered. Each worker has turned these cards in to the timekeeper when he went on the job and thereafter the timekeeper has called the roll each half day. When one group has had its share of the work they have been laid off. The time each man has worked has been figured on the work card; a payroll has been made up from the work cards; checks have been issued for these payrolls and the check number placed after each man's name on the roll. In this way we have a complete record showing every man worked; where he worked, how long he worked, and the amount he was paid. In addition we have his street address, the number in his family, and additional information."

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 4. (AP)—Cotton was quiet for most of today's session but trading developed a spurt of activity near the end when prices rallied strongly on trade demand and in sympathy with stocks and wheat. The close was steady near the top at net advances for the day of 22 to 23 points.

The market opened quiet but steady. Liverpool came in 1 to 2 penny points better than due. Private cables said the market was steady with hedging offset by favorable Egyptian advices and trade calling. Manchester reported a more hopeful outlook, most interest centering in inquiries from the Orient. First trades here were 2 points up. As hedging was readily absorbed by good trade buying prices gradually advanced the improvement being helped by reports of Liverpool and Japanese buying. Before noon March had advanced to 6.11, May to 6.23 and July to 6.36 or 13 to 15 points above the previous close.

Around noon hedge selling increased and prices eased off 2 to 3 points from the top but the market developed a sharp advance in active trading in the late afternoon stimulated by the persistent strength in stocks. Prices made new highs for the day near the end with March at 6.21, May at 6.34 and July at 6.46 or 24 to 25 points above the previous close. There was a slight reaction at the end on realizing but March and July closed with net gains for the day of 23 points and May with a net gain of 22 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 5 to 6 penny points up.

Port receipts 65,680, for week 138,523, for season 5,952,817, last season 6,497,964. Exports 34,284, for week 179,180, for season 4,334,509, last season 4,028,678. Port stock 4,747,803, last year 4,747,361. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 168,229, last year 153,589. Spot sales at southern markets 23,551, last year 16,551.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (AP)—Cotton advanced about $1 a bale today with the market showing more breadth and activity than on the previous day.

March contracts advanced to 6.23, or 24 points above yesterday's closing quotations on trade buying and covering which was active in the late trading. The close was firm at net advance of 18 to 25 points.

The opening was 1 to 4 points higher in response to steady Liverpool cables and trade buying. Houses with Liverpool and continental connections were among the early buyers.

Strength of the grain and stock markets stimulated demand from local sources while there was also some buying here by New Orleans on the late advance which carried the price of July contracts up to 6.48, making new high ground for the movement.

Except for the steadiness abroad and strength in other markets, no special news factor was particularly emphasized in connection with the advance, but some brokers were inclined to attribute part of the buying to the talk of possible inflationary measures in Washington.

Liverpool cables said that hedging had been absorbed by trade calling and buying promoted by the firmer ruling of Egyptian cotton and also reported a more active spot demand in the market there, with a more hopeful outlook for business in the Manchester goods market. Egyptian cotton futures in Liverpool were 7 to 13 points higher. A private crop reporting authority said that preliminary data on the outlook for the 1933 acreage does not indicate much change as compared with the acreage planted last year. Exports today 34,284 making 4,399,369 so far this season. U. S. port stocks 4,756,792.

bid the $3,000 and after consummation of the sale officials agreed to postpone any further mortgage sales for one month.

Slapped And Mauled

Martin and Sheriff R. E. Rippey were slapped and mauled by the angry farmers. Judge C. W. Pitts, attempted to summon aid, was seized by the crowd and prevented from using a telephone.

During the disturbance farmers kept pouring into the town and joining the crowd at the court house. With the foreclosure sale stopped, they proceeded to the mayor's office seeking a key to the Pew Implement company, where a foreclosed tractor, once the property of Joe Sokolosky, was stored.

Unable to locate the key, the farmers proceeded to the company warehouse, but quieted and disbanded at the request of Sheriff Rippey before gaining entrance

The demonstration today climaxed a general movement against forced sales of farm property. In many counties sales for delinquent taxes have been postponed because of failure to obtain bids on the property.

Coast Guard Flying Boat Which Saved Youth At Sea Visited Here Last July

Commander C. C. von Paulson and the coast guard flying boat, the Arcturus, which this week figured in the valiant rescue of a young man off Fort Pierce, Fla., were in Lubbock last July 19 and 20. The Arcturus, a bi-motored amphibian, was the first and only "mud hen," as local airmen termed the ship, to visit Municipal airport.

Commander von Paulson, C. T. Sell and F. F. Crump flew the Arcturus here, bringing Amon G. Carter, newspaper publisher, and Wyatt C. Hedrick, both of Fort Worth. Carter addressed a rally in the interest of Ross S. Sterling, gubernatorial candidate.

Commander von Paulson and Lieut. C. H. Foley, co-pilot, alighted on a rough sea to rescue Paul Long, 21, after Long had drifted into the Gulf Stream off Port Pierce. The Arcturus, in taxiing toward shore, seeking calm water for a take-off, lost both pontoons and had one wing badly damaged. The Arcturus was involved in a similar rescue last summer.

Financial Markets Rally Wednesday; Stock Improvement Reported As Slow

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. (AP) — Financial markets turned about today and rallied vigorously.

For stocks the improvement was slow but steady until the last hour when shorts covered more aggressively, piling up net gains of 1 to around 5 points in many trading favorites. For bonds, leadership was supplied by federal issues, most of which made new highs. Wheat, rising more than a cent, profited by a livelier speculative interest induced in part by weather news and strong Liverpool quotations. Cotton gained 90 cents to $1.25 a bale net.

Altogether, it was the market's best day in some weeks. Figuring prominently in the news budget were the domestic allotment plan for farm commodities, inflation gossip in and out of Washington, further proposals for, and statements on government economy and the ever-present hope of a fair spring recovery in business.

On the other hand, the dollar met with a setback in foreign exchange circles. Strength of European gold currencies, notably French francs, recalled similar moves during the past year when speculators and others sold our currency on the theory that this country as in for some inflation. The French monetary unit was up more than a point at the best, putting it comfortably above the level at which further gold shipments to the United States would be profitable. Dutch, Belgian and Swiss rates were strong.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—Magistrate H. Stanley Renaud held court today at the bedside of a wounded Texas cow puncher, in Morisania hospital, and at conclusion of the hearing held Joseph Edwin, a deaf mute, in $1,000 bail for the grand jury.

The wounded man is Edward Rooney, 22 years old, of 557 Main street, Brownsville, Tex. The case was heard in the hospital because doctors said Rooney would be confined there for at least a month.

"It was a general get-together of farmers, the cooperatives, the farm bureau, and other groups," Mr. Cunningham said. "It was the first time I ever saw the group talking real business and trying to work out definite plans. I believe that something really worth while will be accomplished."

Mr. Cunningham was here yesterday afternoon. He said Monday and Tuesday were devoted to general meetings, with other days planned for sectional groups.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 4. (AP)—Demand was good for wheat and fair for other light offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain maket Wednesday.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid to destination, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing 51 1-2@52 1-2c. Barley, No. 2 nominally 31@32; No. 3 nominally 30@31. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 60@65; No. 3, 59@61; No. 2 affir 54@55; No. 3 52@53.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn, No. 2 mixed 40@41; No. 2 white or yellow 41@42.

Delivered, Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 24 1-2@25; No. 3 red 23 1-2@24.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (AP)—Decided increase of speculative buying did much to give all-around hoist to grain values today.

Lively demand for future deliveries of all cereals was in evidence from start to finish, and led to the best advance witnessed in weeks. Friends of price upturns asserted Europe was giving belated recognition to the fact that without the United States surplus the world wheat supply and demand situation was a strong rather than a weak one, and that but little wheat in this country was available either to foreign or home markets at prevailing prices.

Wheat closed strong at virtually the day's top, 1 1-4 to 1 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 7-8 up, oats 3-8 advanced, and provisions showing 2 to 20 cents gain.

In Crosby county the work between Crosbyton and the Lubbock county line should be finished by February 15 unless unexpected weather delays arise and grading on No. 24 up the west caprock in Crosby county should be finished in two weeks, he said.

Fifty-two teams are at work grading on No. 7 south of Post in Garza county, Johnston said. They Haven't Changed Much

MRS. JAMES ROOSEVELT, mother of the President-elect, hit the nail pretty well on the head in her interview in yesterday's Morning Avalanche when she averred that modern youth is given an opportunity to do everything but think.

But despite Mrs. Roosevelt's insistence that young people in the days of her youth were given plenty of time for repose, we wonder if they really did any more serious thinking than do members of the younger generation today.

It isn't natural for boys and girls, full of life and health, to spend much time in deep thought. Humans just aren't built that way—and The Mornling Avalanche doubts that they were built that way 50 or 60 years ago when Mrs. Roosevelt was young.

CONGRESSMAN WRIGHT PATMAN

Look out for Wright Patman, Texas member of Congress from the Texarkana district. He's getting ready to run for something a little more important than his present job, or we miss our guess badly.

Congressman Patman has been bobbing into the limelight every chance he gets for some time now.

Further, he never loses an opportunity to identify himself with ex-service men as their champion—and don't forget that there are a lot of ex-service votes in Texas.

The Congressman hasn't said anything about his future plans but don't be surprised if you find him in the Senatorial scramble when Morris Sheppard comes up again for re-election.

HE SHOWS DISCRETION

The Grand Duke Cyril, claimant to the throne of the Czars, has addressed a communication to the Russian army and navy, urging soldiers and sailors to stand ready to "deliver Russia from communism."

We note with interest, however, that while the Grand Duke opines that it won't be long until the "delivery" is made his communication was pronounced in Paris, and not in Russia.

Discretion, it seems, is still the better part of valor.

THE NOT-SO-TERRIBLE TURK

Turkey, a land of barbarians to the Western World only a decade ago, is showing more progress and enlightenment than some countries heretofore disposed to consider the Turks an inferior people. Under the dictatorship of Mustapha Kemal his country is outstanding not a few so-called civilized countries in civilzation's marathon.

Compare Turkey's present policy toward the opium traffic with that of certain governments of Europe. While the latter move to defeat the work at The Hague and Geneva, the Turkish government adheres to the agreements arrived at there for the control of the drug traffic.

Nor has Turkey stopped there. Her government has closed three narcotic factories at a sacrifice of much needed revenue, created special tribunals to try drug smugglers and illicit manufacturers, and limited the poppy crop to medical requirements.

These commendable measures place Turkey far up the list of nations which have adopted forward-looking policies toward the drug traffic. They brand the country and its government as enlightened and progressive.

Turkey's action makes it most embarrassing for nations that have always felt a superiority complex toward the Turks at the same time that they were refusing to give up their profitable interest in the world narcotic trade.

IT'S DECENTRALIZATION NOW

Intellectualist styles are not exempt from the law that guides humbler fashions. They change. If anything, they change faster than the models of the dressmakers. About gowns and hats there is observable a steady rythm. They melt one into another by graduations. But the intellectual's political philosophies jerk from one extreme to the other.

Just a few years ago centralization in government was the watchword. State governments were usurping or accepting local powers and the federal government was taking over state rights. Today the cry is for decentralization with the national and state governments joining in the cry. If the depression holds out another year or two the functions of government will be reduced all along the line. Departments and bureaus will be dropped for the same reason that individuals are getting along with fewer luxuries.

Political thought in Europe changes even more frequently and suddenly. Winds of popular thought shift constantly from one political philosophy to another. Political styles are as unstable as millinery styles in Paris.

Most men want a heavyweight purse for a lightweight fight.

Davis Ahead Of The Field

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. — As the race looks to Washington, Norman H. Davis has forged well ahead of the entire field in the sweepstakes for the portfolio of state in the Roosevelt cabinet.

It is a peculiar situation.

Governor Roosevelt has made it clear that he does not desire to bind his administration in advance to acceptance of any foreign debt policy President Hoover may initiate and undertake to bequeath to him. Nevertheless, he shows thekeenest interest in the reports made to him by Norman H. Davis, the most trusted of President Hoover's active negotiators on this very subject.

Norman Davis

DAVIS, TO BE SURE, probably is a closer personal friend of the governor than of the present White House tenant.

He and the governor (Davis, also, is a Democrat) were fellow members of the "little cabinet" in President Wilson's day—the president-elect as assistant to Secretary of the Navy Daniels; Davis, first as assistant secretary of the treasury, then as undersecretary of the state, and for a time as acting head of the department, in Secretary Lansing's absence abroad. The two men were extremely chummy.

Davis' acquaintance with President Hoover, however, also dates back to the war period. The Californian was not the individual to let a mere matter of difference in party affiliation stand in his way, when he needed a reliable representative to carry on financial conversations abroad.

DAVIS WAS and is admirably equipped for this sort of work.

He had the training of a banker and an international big business man. He likewise was an intimate adviser of President Wilson, in connection with American governmental financing abroad both during and immediately following the war. And while there are critics who say that subsequent developments speak none too highly as to the astuteness with which these transactions were handled, Davis knows all their details, anyway, having had much to do with shaping them.

The fact that he is rich, and consequently able to figure creditably in Old World diplomatic society, gave him additional availability.

ACCORDINGLY President Hoover conscripted him, despite his Jeffersonianism—not as an outright plenipotentiary, but for the decidedly more delicate duties of an "unofficial observer."

For example, Davis acted as America's "unofficial observer" at Lausanne, where England, France and their associated powers cut German reparations to nearly nothing, on an implied pledge of some sort (so they now contend) that Uncle Sam would correspondingly scale down their obligations to the United States.

Possibly there was an implied pledge. No one is certain just what hints President Hoover—perhaps in the expectation of being re-elected, and therefore in a position to make good later—may or may not have thrown out "unofficially".

That is a matter upon which Davis is likely to be informed. If so, and if he becomes secretary of state to Governor Roosevelt, it is reasonable to assume that he will similarly inform his new chief, confidentially—which will be very helpful to him. Even if President-elect Roosevelt refuses to be bound by his predecessor's promises, it will pay him to be prepared for them, instead of stumbling over one every now and then, unwarned.

Indeed, Davis is mentioned as precisely the person to serve as an ideal link between the two administrations. In the circumstances, this is understandable.

TRUE, ONE hears it objected in a few quarters that European diplomats seem to like him almost too well.

The overseas' press gradually is making clear the Old World's hope that Americans can be "educated" to see the undesirability, to themselves, of further war debt repayments into the United States treasury. Those who question Davis' suitability for the state portfolio express grave fears that he has been "educated" up to this point already.

Virtually everyone who meets Davis concedes the attractiveness of his personality. Though long transplanted in Manhattan, by birth he is a Tennesseean and still has the hog-and-hominy state's soft drawl and many of its quaint quirks of expression.

Even should he fail to become the next cabinet premier, it is agreed that he promises to be prominent in the influential White House group under the new regime.

Baptist Pastor Comments On Prohibition Laws And Disagrees With Retiring District Attorney

Editor, The Avalanche: Will you kindly allow me a word concerning our prohibition laws?

The statements, appearing in the Sunday edition of your paper, from the retiring sheriff and district attorney are very interesting and quite revealing. I have high regard for both of these retiring officers. I have watched their work while in office with marked satisfaction. They have made good officers.

In my opinion the retiring sheriff is right in his statement concerning prohibition and its enforcement. His unequivocal endorsemest of this law at this time, when there is the shifting of many to what may seem to be the popular side, leaves him a far greater figure in our county and city than he would have been had he repudiated a law he had been seeking to enforce. He said: "The prohibition law is a lot easier enforced than the law against murder." Then he points out salient reasons why enforcement is not more effective.

On the other hand the retiring district attorney said: "Prohibition has been a failure. . . . The time is ripe to try another experiment." Such statements as the above are being rolled on the tongue of many a man today like a sweet morsel. Such statements are more popular than they were six years ago.

The main contention the retiring district attorney makes is that the prohibition law is not being enforced and therefore it should be repealed. By the same logic he can prove that all our laws should be repealed. Will he mention one law, just one, that is being fully enforced? We have laws against stealing, bank robbing, house breaking, yet when has this generation known of so much thievery? Why does not the retiring district attorney advocate the repeal of these laws and try a new experiment? They are not being enforced. His logic would call for the annullment of them. We have laws, drastic laws, against murder. Yet much of the time of the former district attorney was consumed in prosecuting murderers. He was so diligent in the prosecution of such criminals, that he has made for himself an enviable record in this district, and I doubt not that his record has reached far beyond the boundary lines of his district. He ran down and brought to justice the perpetrators of one of the most cruel murders ever committed in this county. The law against murder is not preventing murder, his argument carried to its logical conclusion would ask for the repeal of this law. We have laws to protect the womanhood of our land. In many places the sanctity of womanhood is being violated. That law is not prohibiting. Why not repeal it? We have laws against hijacking. Yet right here in our own city just a few weeks ago, one of our fine young men was held up, his cash register rifled, and then he was shot down in cold blood, while he was seeking to make an honest living. Have you heard the retiring district attorney, or anyone else advocate the annullment of the laws against hijacking? No! Our citizens did what they should have done: got together in groups and then in a great mass meeting and laid plans to enforce these laws.

If the argument that one law should be repealed, because it is not being enforced, is good logic then the same argument, the same process of reasoning would lead to the repeal of every law that is not being fully enforced. The fact is there would be more reason for repealing laws against murder on such argument than there would be for repealing the prohibition law. The one is age-long; the other is in its infancy.

Mr. Edison, just a little while before he died in discussing the enforcement of the 18th Amendment said: "Don't be discouraged. These things don't happen suddenly. They take a long time, but they do happen because they are right."

On top of all the above is the fact that there has never been a law enforced, against which there has been such an avalanche of persistent, insidious, and odious propaganda. A mighty organization backed by millions of dollars has been set up to defeat the prohibition laws. With these wet millions cheap politicians and many newspapers have been bought like hogs on the marts of the world.

But the retiring district attorney comes with the plea that many advocates of repeal have made: "The prohibition law is different. It is peculiar in this respect." What crimes have been committed because of "peculiar circumstances?" What blame has been placed on "peculiar conditions?" What excuses have been made because of "peculiar surroundings?" He says with reference to liquor cases: "Many men swear falsely in the grand jury

Texans Protest Fact Children Are Not Taught About Citrus Industry

BROWNSVILLE, Jan. 4. (AP) — Children in the public schools of Texas—at least those in third grade—are taught all about the citrus fruit industries in Florida and California, but nothing about the citrus industry of Texas.

So Brownsville is making a vigorous protest, and is asking the state board of education to do something about it.

A letter from the chamber of commerce of Brownsville calls the attention of the state board to the fact that while the third grade geography used in Texas public schools goes into detail about the grapefruit and oranges produced in California and Florida, there is no mention of the Texas citrus industry.

The chamber here suggests that a supplement be printed and inserted in these geographies. It sent a copy of the letter to the publishers of the geography asking that they print a supplement on Texas citrus.

The letter calls attention to the fact that last year the Lower Rio Grande valley shipped 8,000 carloads of fruit, and that within a few years its production of grapefruit will rival that of Florida, and its production of grapefruit and oranges together will rival that of California.

Long-Whiskered House Of David Cagers Here Tonight

Tech Matadors To Open Cage Season With Series Against Colorful Traveling Quintet

Game Is Called Tonight At 8 O'Clock; Unshorn Youths To Present Expert Passing Machine On Tech Court

An opportunity for Lubbock basketball fans to see something besides the conventional passing and goal-shooting is offered tonight when the House of David basketball team from Benton Harbor, Mich., opens a two-game series with the Texas Tech Matadors at Matador gymnasium.

Tonight's game also opens Tech's basketball season. For several weeks Coach Del Morgan has been laboring with his charges, giving them special drills, laying the foundation for what he hopes will be a successful cage campaign, and he feels that tonight's baptism of fire at the hands of the long-bearded youths from the north will be received with ability on the part of his boys and pleasure on the part of the cash customers.

TICKET PRICES CUT

In keeping with the times, the admission price for tonight's basketball feature has been slashed to a minimum, and adult customers may see the House of David bearded boys and the Texas Tech Matadors play for 50 cents, one half of a dollar, W. L. Stangel, chairman of the athletic council, announced last night.

In view of the big guarantee offered the whiskered boys, it was held that a high admission price would be charged, but the council and Mr. Stangel elected to bring the price down instead.

Lubbock high school students and youngsters under a dozen years may see the game for 25 cents. Tech students holding athletic coupons will be charged nothing, but are asked to enter the gymnasium by the west door. All cash customers will enter the east side door.

Starts At 8 O'clock

The game starts at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow night's game, the final of the big series, also starts at 8 o'clock.

With reduced ticket prices and the banner attraction, it is believed that one of the largest basketball crowds of recent times will jam the big gymnasium tonight and tomorrow night.

Sweeping a victory path across the country south and east from their Michigan stronghold, the House of David team entered Texas from the east early this week and took that end of the state by storm, winning against strong college and independent clubs in that section.

Players between the ages of 19 and 23 years compose the House of David club, who have been taught the tricks of basketball from infancy on. As a result of constant practice, the long-bearded boys have acquired a system all their own. They are expert at handling the ball and passing from one to another. Their swift passing machine provides a show worthy of theatrical mention, according to newspaper stories wherever they have appeared. With their long, flowing locks, unshaven chins, generous side-burns and heavy beards the boys from the House of David present a highly picturesque appearance on the basketball court.

Shoot From Mid-Court

Shooting at the goal from all angles and from mid-court, the House of David boys are adept at scoring. There is little to gain by attempting to guard them, and opponents gain a lead and then flash into scintillating action that usually results in a fine display of basketball fireworks—and many points.

Coach Morgan, in announcing his probable starting lineup for tonight, reserved the right to change the published list if some of his players failed to show up in good physical condition. In his list of likely starters, Morgan named Wilson Gilmore and Alvin Crews, forwards; Polk Robison, center; Captain Harvey Dunn and Basil Hill or Bulldog Hale, guards, M. F. Flake, center; Loter and Darr, forwards and Thomas and Priddy, guards, were named as probable substitutes.

In naming his probable lineup, Morgan added the following provisions: "If Gilmore gets out of the hospital; ditto Priddy's ankle heals; ditto Robison gets over flu; ditto Hale ditto, ditto, ditto.

One Of Them

Meet Mr. Johnston, forward and No. 7 on the House of David basketball club which opens a 2-night engagement at the Texas Tech gymnasium tonight. One of the hotshots of the club, a great passer and defensive man, Johnston leads the long-bearded boys in their attack and otherwise helps pile up the scores which has made possible the long string of victories.

Cage Loop May Be Formed For Plains Squads

Agitation for a semi-pro or independent basketball league in this territory has resulted in the "appointment" of Dell Morgan, basketball coach at Texas Tech, as chairman of an organizing board.

Coach Morgan announced yesterday that representatives of all teams in this section desiring to enter the proposed South Plains league should get in touch with him at the Tech gymnasium immediately. Morgan said that several teams had already inquired and were seeking entrance.

A compact league, Morgan said, could be composed of teams within a 45-mile radius of Lubbock, which would include Plainview and Brownfield. Teams in both these towns are anxious to get into the organization, it is understood.

Letters asking information or seeking entrance into the league should be mailed at once to the Texas Tech basketball mentor.

One-Day Cage Tournament To Be Held At Shallowater Gym

SHALLOWATER, Jan. 4 (Special) A "get acquainted" basketball tournament to which school teams of neighboring towns and communities are invited will be held here next Monday, R. L. Hooten, superintendent of the Shallowater schools, announces.

The Shallowater Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the tournament. First and second place awards will be provided by the chamber of commerce. Drawing for opponents will be done after teams have arrived here. Play will begin at 5 o'clock, Monday afternoon.

Among the teams in this territory that have been invited are Hardy, County Line, Grovesville, Caldwell, Hurlwood, Wolfforth, Monroe and Carlisle. The Shallowater teams will not participate in the tournament but will serve as hosts to the visiting clubs.

Kid Chocolate's Disguise Is Pierced On Arrival In Cuba

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. 4. (AP) — Kid Chocolate, allegedly in fulfillment of a vow he made while defending his New York state featherweight crown against Fidel La Barba last month, today arrived on a pilgrimage to the Cobre sanctuary of the Virgin de Caridad.

Chocolate arrived incognito but his identity was discovered and police had to be called to restore order among the crowd clamoring to see him.

Sudan Basketball Tournament To Be Held Jan. 13 And 14

SUDAN, Jan. 4 (Special)—Monday, January 9, is deadline on entries for the Sudan High school invitation basketball tournament for boys and girls teams. The tournament will be held January 13 and 14 at the Sudan gymnasium. Play will start Friday morning and the tournament will wind up with the finals Saturday night.

Suitable trophies will be awarded winners of both boys and girls divisions. Runner-up prizes also will be given. Teams winning first round games on Friday will be given meals and lodging throughout the tournament.

Thirty-five teams participated in this tournament last year. It is hoped that next week's joust will bring an even larger number of teams here for competition. The tournament will be conducted according to Texas Interscholastic league rules.

Wrestling matches at Dallas, Tex., which formerly commanded top prices of $2.50, have dropped to a flat admission of fifty cents.

Pennant Is Given To Lubbock High

Amarillo Sportsman Remembers Champs Of 1931 Season

Lest we forget. . . .

History has recorded the 1932 football season. Lubbock did not produce a high school champion, either district or state.

The ink has long since dried on the recordings of the 1931 grid season, and players of that season have scattered. Be it remembered, however, that Lubbock High school did send a winner to the wars, and from the ensuing battles emerged the first Westerner football champion. To the district championship was added the bi-district title.

A Real Pennant

Today a gold and black pennant floats at Lubbock High school, a pennant in reality. It arrived yesterday from the donor, "Uncle" George Lindsay, of the Panhandle Laundry company, Amarillo. Uncle George, it appears, gave the Amarillo Sandies a pennant recently as a token of their 1932 district championship. He happened to think that Lubbock took the title a year ago and did not receive a banner. A 1931 flag was ordered and today it will be formally presented to Lubbock High school.

Ten feet long, four feet wide at its widest point, the titleship banner acclaims "District Champions, '31," in glaring black letters on a gold background.

Uncle George, in an accompanying letter, states that he will award a similar pennant to the champion of 1933, regardless of who wins it in this district.

Will Seek '33 Flag

In answer to this, Superintendent M. H. Duncan, who will present the pennant this morning after receiving it from the hands of Charles A. Guy who received it from Uncle George, stated that Lubbock will be gunning for the 1933 flag with all its guns. The '31 pennant needs a companion, and it was Mr. Duncan's opinion that two pennants would look better than one, anyway.

Ralls Tournament Starts Tomorrow

RALLS, Jan. 4. (Special)—With 20 teams entered, the annual Ralls High school basketball tournament gets off to a big start here Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Some of the outstanding basketball teams of the section are entered, and officials believe one of the tightest tournaments in this history of the local invitation meet is in store.

Awards will be given the winner and runner up teams and the winner and runner up of the consolation heat. Individual trophies will be presented members of the winning team, it was announced.

Four games are scheduled for Friday morning, with the Floydada Whirlwinds meeting League Four in the first game at 9 o'clock. At regular intervals thereafter, Ralls meets Mounts Blanco, Ropes clashes with Cone and Slaton battles Caprock.

The afternoon round, starting at 12:30, finds the following teams matched for first team play:

Estacado vs. Robertson; Shallowater vs. Monroe; Lubbock vs. Kalgary; Dickens vs. Farmer; Crosbyton vs. Idalou; Lakeview vs. Lorenzo.

The tournament will end Saturday evening.

A RACY PLACE

SIDNEY, N. S. W.—In a recent address before the advancement of science congress, Mr. E. W. P. Chinney, government anthropologist for the territory of New Guiena, stated that more than 100 different known races are to be found here. Probably there are more in the unexplored part of the territory, it was said.

Lubbock Loses To Shallowater Cagers, 39-37

Vaught, Shallowater Guard, Is Hero Of Game With Shots That Tie And Win Game In Closing Minutes

Overcoming a 16-point lead in a dazzling burst of offensive brilliance that counted 21 points in the last eight minutes of play, the Shallowater High school basketball team nosed out Lubbock's Westerners, 39 to 37, on the Lubbock High school gymnasium floor last night.

The scoring punch provided by Vaught, guard and center, and by D. Brown in the last quarter provided the victory, Vaught's last two shots counting for field goals that tied and won the ball game.

Big Lead At Half

The Westerners led, 21 to 12, at the half and 31 to 18 at the final quarter started. Off to a good start which showed them in the light of champions for three quarters, the Westerners force affected at let down that cost them the game. Lack of zip and ginger and ability to capitalise on crip shots proved costly. The life went out of them after they had gained an impressive lead.

Lanky Curly Wilkinson, Lubbock center, got away with high point honors by one tally. His 13 points—five field goals and three from the free-throw line, barely shaded Vaught's five field goals and two foul shots. But the Westerners center missed almost as many as he made, failed to sink set-ups and otherwise got everything balled up except the basket.

Westerners Get Better

After they did get started—the score was 6-all at the end of the first period—the Westerners scored from all angles, sinking shots that were five times harder than the crips they missed in the first eight minutes. Shallowater lagged during the third period and the lead was increased by five points.

The Westerners started the final period by chalking up two field goals before Shallowater registered, but when the visitors did get started they were long gone. Hitting the basket with accuracy and consistency, they rapidly overcame the lead until but two points separated the teams. With four minutes to go Lubbock had a five-point advantage.

Vaught Gets Going

Bing, bing and bong! The score was tied. The game waxed rather furious, with the Lubbock players falling all over themselves thus leaving a clear field for the visitors. The score at 37-all until half a minute remained. Then Vaught, practically unguarded, fired the closing gun, a pot-shot from the side that barely touched the metal. Eight seconds to go and Shallowater took the tip-off. The final whistle sounded before Vaught had another chance.

The box score:

Plainview Bulldogs Entertain Floydada Hi Cagers Tonight

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 4. (Special)—The Plainview High school Bulldogs meet the Floydada Whirlwinds in their second home game of the season here Thursday night. The Bulldogs were defeated by the strong Athens cagers in their only previous game here. At Pampa last week they divided a twin bill, taking the first game 34 to 32 and loosing the second by a large majority.

The game Thursday will bring to Plainview a veteran organization from Floydada and the Bulldogs are expecting a tough battle. A tentative schedule calls for a return game for the Bulldogs at Floydada January 12, a game at Amarillo January 7 and a contest with Amarillo at Plainview February 3. Froggie Lovvorn is the local coach.

College Football Not Declining, Is Report Of Research Committee, But Pro Football Drawing Much Interest

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—College football is not on the decline, merely because it is one of the victims of the business depression, the presidents' research committee on social trends believes, but it faces the possibility that "public interest may eventually shift from college to professional football because of the superior skill of the latter."

"If this should happen," writes Dr. J. F. Steiner, professor of sociology at the University of Washington, who contributed the chapter on sports and recreation to the national committee report, "College football may follow college baseball and decline as a public spectacle, becoming a game of no more than local interest.

"That grave ills have resulted from the stress and struggle to win football championships there can be no doubt," Dr. Steiner's report concludes. "A few of the leading colleges and universities already had attempted to reorganize their athletics more in accord with general student welfare and educational ideals.

Like "Bulletin 23"

The section on sports in the survey conducted by the presidents committee, in its football features, follows somewhat the lines of the famous "bulletin 23" of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, published in October, 1929. The new survey, so far as its statistics are concerned, covers only the period up to and including 1930.

It points out that college football, because of its tremendous investments in stadia, which must be paid for in future years, establishes the sport as something more than a "passing whim." Moreover, it says "since neither the curve of attendance nor the curve of receipts showed any tendency to flatten out previous to 1930, there is reason to assume that hard times, rather than declining interest, is responsible for the decreased size of football crowds."

Dr. Steiner writes that 49 colleges and universities replying to a survey "reported attendance more than doubled between 1921 and 1930, the increase being 119 per cent."

Receipts Show Big Gain

"Football receipts, as reported by 65 institutions, grew from $2,696,345 to $8,363,674, a gain of 210 per cent. Both attendance and receipts increased with considerable regularity during the first nine years of this period, with a sharp falling off in 1930, the decline over the preceding year amounting to 6 per cent in the case of admissions and 9 per cent in receipts.

Since then Associated Press surveys have indicated a decline for 1931-32 of approximately 25 per cent in college football attendance, with greater percentage of decrease in gate receipts.

The report notes further:

"The total attendance at all football games in 1930, estimated from reports received from 109 institutions, was approximately 10,300,000. The total receipts, computed in a similar way from data furnished by 129 institutions, could not have been less than $21,500,000.

"The average gross receipts per school in 1930 ranged from $5,565 for colleges of less than 500 students to $245,417 for universities of the largest size. Of the 129 institutions reporting receipts for 1930, 8 reported gross receipts in excess of $500,000 each and 33 reported receipts of more than $100,000.

"The spectacular increase in attendance at football games during the past decade has been accompanied by a wave of grand stand and stadium building surpassing any previous developments of this kind.

"According to reports from 135 institutions, the seating facilities for football spectators increased from 929,523 in 1920 to 2,307,850 in 1930, a gain of 148 per cent.

"These institutions reported 74 concrete stadia, 55 of which had been built since 1920. Only one of these college stadia in 1920 had a seating capacity of more than 70,000, while there were seven in this class in 1930."

Shallowater Cage Teams To Slaton

SLATON, Jan. 4 (Special)—The basketball public is awaiting with anxiety the games tonight here in which the "honor" of two communities will be at stake.

Shallowater sends two teams here tonight, the boys team and the girls team, to meet similar teams representing Slaton High school.

The first game, between the girls teams, will start at 7 o'clock, with the boys engaging in the second feature skirmish immediately after the first game is concluded.

Rivalry between these teams has been intense for several seasons, reaching a high point last year at the county and district tournaments. Slaton's girls team won this district and competed in the AAU tournament at Denton last year.

Roby To Be Host To Girl Cagers In Annual Joust; Tourney Starts Feb. 2

ROBY, Jan. 4 (Special) — The fourth annual girls basketball tournament for teams of high school classification will be held in the Roby High school gymnasium, February 2 to 4, N. C. Forrester, superintendent of Roby Public schools, announced today.

All girls high school teams in this section or anywhere are invited to participate in the tournament. Valuable prizes are offered to winners and runners up and to individual stars.

Since the Texas Interscholastic league does not sponsor basketball for girls, this tournament has brought together some of the best teams in the state during the last three years. Former champions of the tournament are the Cisco Queens, the Mingus High school team and Roby High school. About 30 teams competed in the previous tournaments.

Emory Zimmerman Leads Field In Qualifying Play On Coast

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 4. (AP) — Emory Zimmerman, Portland, Ore., professional, led the field at the end of the morning round of qualifying play for the Los Angeles open golf tournament here today by shooting a 65 over the 71 Sunset Fields course.

He was followed by Jimmy Thomson, Colorado Springs, Colo., who had a 66; with Clarence Hubby, Waco, Tex., and Stanley Kertest tied for third with 68. Zimmerman was out in 32 and back in 33.

Yanks Release Burke; Spring Roster Named

Release Of Coach Is Surprise Since National Meeting; 33 Men Named To Make Trek To Training Camp

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (AP) — The New York Yankees announced today the unconditional release of Coach Jimmy "Sunset" Burke and a roster of 33 players who will make the trek to the world champions' spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., in two detachments March 1 and 8.

The release of Burke, long a lieutenant of Manager Joe McCarthy, came as a surprise inasmuch as the Yankees in the recent baseball meetings opposed successfully a move to reduce rosters by including coaches in the player limit of 23.

Burke joined the Chicago Cubs as coach in 1925 when McCarthy took over the management. Back in 1911, when Burke managed Indianapolis, he reduced McCarthy from second baseman to bench duty but that failed to mar a firm friendship.

No reason was announced for Burke's release, and his place was taken on the roster by Paul Kritchell, listed also as a Yankee scout. Arthur Fletcher, former manager of the Phillies, and Ralph "Cy" Perkins, long a catcher with the Athletics, were retained as coaches.

The roster revealed that "Red" Rolfe, former Dartmouth shortstop star who played sensational ball with Newark on the International League Yankee "farm," would not go south with the team. The names of Ed Wells, veteran southpaw, and George Selkirk, young outfielder, also were excluded from the list, the assumption being that all three will spend the summer in Newark.

In addition to the coaches and Manager McCarthy, the roster listed 14 pitchers, nine infielders, seven outfielders, and three catchers.

Five New Pitchers

Five of the recruits are pitchers and will report to the camp March 1. They are right handers Don Brennan and Pete Jabolonowski, both from Newark; Jimmy Deshong, Sacramento; and Russell Van Atta, St. Paul, and Marvin Duke, Erie, both southpaws.

Fred Walker, from Newark, is the only rookie outfielder bolstering the Yankee clouting veterans, headed by Babe Ruth, but the roster includes three young infielders in Bill Werber, shortstop from Buffalo; Roy Schalk, from Oklahoma City; and Jack Saltzgaver, who had a trial last season but dropped back to Newark.

Search For Slayer Turns To Lone Star State; Victim Is Shot While Trying To Protect His Niece

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Jan. 4. (AP) — Authorities today turned toward Texas in their widespread search for George Matheson, 52, identified as the slayer of Charles Harris, 51.

Harris was shot and killed last night, while protecting his niece Witnesses identified Matheson as the slayer.

Appearing at the home of Mrs. M. E. Lewis, Harris' sister, the killer first pointed a gun at the niece, Mrs. Grace Robinett, 23, police were told, and pulled the trigger. The gun did not fire, however, and Harris had started to her aid when the assailant turned the gun on him.

Matheson's relatives said he told them yesterday he planned to go to Dallas, Texas, to seek work.

Police said Mrs. Robinett separated from her husband two years ago, and until recently had worked for Matheson as housekeeper.

room." That might be an argument if false swearing was limited to liquor questions. The retiring district attorney knows that it is not so limited. Nor do men refuse to give information about liquor cases, alone. The same is true in most all major criminal cases. He says further: "Many men take the position that it is not their duty to disclose information in liquor cases." But many feel the same way about other offenses. The famous Judd murder case is a notable example.

The retiring district attorney goes on as the custom of many is, and attributes an almost endless number of ills to the prohibition laws. He mentions the bootlegging game. That this is an evil we all know. But he must not forget that legalized liquor did not eliminate this evil, and he must know that the repeal of the prohibition law would not any more do away with this evil than a doctor's prescription for medicine will do away with patented medicines. What is there to the argument that "more women are drinking than ever before," even if that could be verified with unmistakable evidence? More women smoke than ever before. Did prohibition lead to this? He further says: "It cannot be successfully disputed that more young people are drinking than ever before." It is my honest opinion that it would be far harder for the retiring district attorney to prove the other side of the proposition. This is an argument that the wets have been using for years now. The facts are, in saloon days 500,000 sober young men entered the saloon every year to begin drunken careers. Saloon owners gave away unknown quantities of liquors to boys and young men for the purpose of creating an appetite and thirst for strong drink. This done and their hellish business increased by leaps and bounds. In saloon days 2,000,000 young men were ruined by liquor every generation. I for one cannot accept the statement that more young people are drinking than ever before. Making a statement is easy. Sometimes it is harder to prove it.

The retiring district attorney makes the statement that advocates of repeal make, namely: "I do not want to see the open saloon again." Josephus Daniels, the venerable Secretary of the Navy during the Wilson Administration said: "The man who opposes prohibition and says in the next breath that he could not tolerate the saloon, either is practicing deception or he does not know that as surely as night follows day, the fall of prohibition means the enthronement of the saloon."

He concluded: "Every man ought to aid in the enforcement of the prohibition laws as long as they are on the statutes. Any law will be in contempt of certain people if all citizens do not make an honest effort to enforce it." How does that statement comport with the statement: "Prohibition is a failure"? Are the statements of the retiring district attorney apt to strengthen this law or weaken it? Yet "all good citizens should make an honest effort to enforce it." What is calculated to breed disrespect for and make the enforcement of prohibition harder than for a man having held such a position as district attorney to say, upon his retirement from office: "Prohibition is a failure." This will cause bootleggers to say: "They can't enforce it; they have said so; let's go to it." It is my humble opinion that the statements from the retiring district attorney will make it harder on his successer to enforce this law. His duty to uphold this law is not lessened. We must not wilfully betray dry America into the hands of the wets by breeding disrespect for our constitution.

Mr. Edison said: "I feel that prohibition is the greatest experiment yet made to benefit man . . . I cannot for the life of me see why anyone would want to repeal or destroy prohibition. I simply cannot comprehend it. Prohibition means more to America than all the wars ever fought."
