Realism Will Get Attention From Now On

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Too much realism on the radio, particularly in drama, apparently is to get closer attention around the networks hereafter.

Already evidence comes in this statement by W. B. Lewis, vice president of programs at CBS: "The program department hereafter will not use the technique

OPEN INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — The Federal Communications commission has opened an investigation of complaints of an alleged "anti-semitic and un-American" broadcast by radio station WHOM of Jersey City September 18.

The commission disclosed today it had granted the station a 90-day temporary renewal of license, instead of the usual six-month renewal. This was done, the commission said, to permit an investigation of complaints against the broadcast.

of a simulated news broadcast within a dramatization when the circumstances of the broadcast could cause immediate alarm to numbers of listeners."

But just what further possible reaction will result from the Sunday night dramatization in the Orson Welles program on WABC-CBS of the H. G. Wells story, "War of The Worlds" still is crystalizing.

Radio Row is wondering whether or not one outcome may be an immediate general ban by the broadcasters against "horror" programs of any description.

Sunday Night's Hysteria Is Traced To Jitterbug Cause

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 1. (AP)—Dr. Rudolph A. Acher, Indiana State Teachers college psychologist, traced Sunday night's widespread hysteria over a radio play today to the same thing he said causes "jitterbugs."

He said the alarm spread by a dramatization of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" and the antics of "shag" dancers both grew out of a "mass case of jitters" started by the World war and aggravated by "persistent economic chaos."

Farm Session Held In City

One hundred and fifty South Plains men and women today began a 2-day school on farm problems, with a faculty comprising some of the best authorities on cotton and the farm program of the nation as lecturers.

K. J. Edwards, district county agent leader, was principal of the school. Students included county agents, home demonstration agents, administrative officers of 19 counties and their assistants, committeemen and others connected with the farm program. Miss Lida Cooper, home demonstration agent, was vice principal and dean of women of the school.

Prepare For Understanding

There were farmers as well as professional agricultural leaders. They sat around tables in the big East ball room of the Lubbock hotel, took notes of the lectures and prepared for a better understanding of the 1938 farm program, particularly for the South, and for the coming year.

George Slaughter, a swine breeder-farmer of Wharton, and chairman of the state AAA committee, was the first speaker. He outlined the present AAA program and

'Amazing' Record Revealed By Texas Business Review Report; Volume Eighth In September

Only Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, El Paso And Austin Ahead In 1938 Volume; Waco Trails But Is Ahead Of City In September; Lubbock's Building Gain Is Fifth In State

BY H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock continues an amazing business record.

"Astounding," perhaps, is not too strong a word when considered that this year, when crops have been no better than normal, the records maintain a more-than-favorable comparison with last year when farm yields far above normal poured added millions of dollars into South Plains trade channels.

These facts were disclosed this morning by an analysis of statistical information in the Oct. 28 issue of "Texas Business Review," published by the bureau of business research of the University of Texas.

Bearing in mind that on the basis of the 1920 federal census Lubbock was ranked 20th in population—the city doubtless has climbed a few notches since—among Texas cities, the university bureau's compilation discloses:

In retail business volume—

Lubbock's volume of $347,812 in September placed in eighth among Texas cities — exceeded only by Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, El Paso, Austin and Waco, all of much larger populations. Waco's volume was $370,763.

Volumes of some of the city's trailing Lubbock were: Amarillo, $177,701; Abilene, $194,976; Wichita Falls, $203,002; Tyler, $245,765; San Angelo, $206,190; Corpus Christi, $53,534; Beaumont, $304,442; Port Arthur, $280,698; Brownsville, $77,735; and Laredo, $72,461. All led Lubbock in 1920 population, most of them by large margins.

September Drops Slightly

Lubbock's business volume in September, as compared with the same month, 1937, dropped 6.8 per cent. Only 13 cities have a better record, in spite of the fact that crop production on the South Plains this year has shown a bigger decline in comparison with last year than any section of Texas.

In total business volume for the first nine months of 1938, Lubbock is seventh. The figure here was $3,008,368. The leaders are the same as those with higher totals for September with exception of Waco, which trails Lubbock by nearly $1,000,000 with $2,077,839. Amarillo's figure was $1,084,871, Abilene's $1,289,730, San Angelo's $1,380,065, and Wichita Fall's $1,133,767.

The 1938 volume here was only five-tenths of one per cent short of that for the same period in 1937—again without the bolstering influence of super-normal crops.

In postal receipts:

Thirteenth In Postal Receipts

Lubbock was 13th among Texas cities in totals for September, 1938, September, 1937, and August, 1938. The only cities with larger totals also have substantially larger populations. Trailing Lubbock are such cities as Abilene, San Angelo, Tyler, Brownsville, Longview and Laredo, all of which were credited with larger populations in 1920 although the margins of difference were small.

Lubbock was ninth in percentage of gain — 6 per cent — comparing figures of September, 1937 and 1938. Only Austin, among cities larger, did better.

Only Paris Is Ahead

Lubbock's gain of 28 per cent, comparing August and September, 1938, is exceeded only by that of Paris.

The city's third quarter total also puts it 13th among Texas cities, having stepped and remained ahead of Abilene since the same period of a year ago. In percentage gain, approximately 13 per cent, it is tied with two other cities for second place.

Postal receipt figures here have been: Sept. 1938—$20,686; Sept. '37—19,558; Aug. '38—16,173; third quarter, this year, $51,800, last year, $46,003.

Building Record Higher

In building permits third:

Lubbock's figures have been: September, this year, $658,775; September, last year, $169,560; August, this year, $299,752; third quarter, this year, $1,208,675; third quarter, last year, $346,430.

The September total here is exceeded only by those of Houston and Austin.

In percentage of gain, comparing the two months, Lubbock is fifth.

Railroads May Accept Aid As Alternate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — Hints that the railroads might accept federal aid as an alternative to wage cuts in their search for economic relief came today from management officials.

"A railroad strike is so far, far away in my opinion," H. A. Enochs, chairman of the management's wage committee said with a smile, "that there's no use to get worried about it."

J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, also grinned when he told reporters that any strike was "at least 30 days away."

Pelley asked heads of leading roads to meet in Chicago Friday to accept or reject cancellation of a 15 per cent pay reduction. President Roosevelt's fact-finding board recommended Saturday that the roads drop that proposal.

Some 900,000 union railroad workers have voted to strike rather than accept the cut, but under the railway labor act they can not walk out until Nov. 28.

Representatives of labor and management assured Mr. Roosevelt yesterday they would attempt to reach a peaceful settlement of the wage controversy. In turn they received the president's offer of vigorous support for legislation to help the carriers.

Mr. Roosevelt talked separately with Pelley and George Harrison, chairman of the Railroad Labor Executives' association.

They said afterward that the president suggested a joint committee representing labor and management might try to draft remedial legislation for congressional consideration.

Reconsideration Of Original Amendment In Kentucky Is Illegal, Lower Court Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 —The supreme court may decide whether the Roosevelt administration will ask congress to submit to the states a new child labor amendment.

The court has before it an appeal from a Kentucky court decision that the constitutional amendment pending since 1924 is dead because more than one-fourth of the states have rejected it.

The case arose from the fact that the Kentucky legislature rejected the amendment in 1926, but reconsidered and ratified it in January, 1937. The Kentucky court of appeals called the reconsideration illegal.

Twenty-eight states have ratified the amendment, which would give congress the right to regulate labor of persons under 18. If the supreme court holds that the amendment is not dead, eight more states must give their approval in order to make it effective.

Should the supreme court agree

New Records Seen For Huge Clipper

SEATTLE, Nov. 1 (AP)—Pan American Airways officials said today if measurement had been recorded officially during prolonged tests of the Boeing built Pan-American clipper, the huge flying boat would have half a dozen new world records in her logs.

The ship, the B-314, will be turned over to the Civil Aviation authority in a day or so for first government tests preliminary to receiving certification for transoceanic passenger services.

During test flights by a crew of 10, aided by 40 engineers on the ground, the Clipper has covered 5,000 miles of actual flying, 450 miles of taxiing tests and 80 takeoffs and landings in the past three months.

With a factory-test operating weight of 44,500 pounds she has carried loads which brought her gross to 82,500 pounds.

Although she has four 1,500 horsepower motors, the engineers have never opened them up above 1,380 horsepower for takeoffs and at that the tips of the 14-foot propellers travelled 1,200 feet a second — approximately the speed of sound.

Damages Of $2,250 Sought As Result Of Youth's Injuries

A Plainview clothesline has caused the latest cognizance of 99th district court.

C. Hay, individually and as next best friends for the boy.

The action, asking judgment in damages of $2,250, named defendant Michigan Realty company, described as owner of the yard. The boy was 16 years old when he assertedly was injured, Sept. 5, 1937.

General demurrer was filed in answer by the realty company, which set up a predicate of contributing negligence of young Leach in bar of recovery for injuries, if any.

Records compiled by the Arkansas state police and federal bureau of identification show that Chapman was first arrested in Miami, Fla., in April, 1931, on charges of carrying concealed weapons and hijacking.

Arrested In New Jersey

He was later released on bond and the charges eventually were nolle prossed.

In August, 1931, he was arrested in Ventnor City, N. J., on a charge of highway robbery, but acquitted when brought to trial at Mays Landing.

The former contractor then returned to the Southwest, where the records show numerous arrests and convictions. His last escape was from Eastham prison in Texas July 8, 1937. He was serving combined sentences of 85 years for bank robbery and kidnaping at the time.

Foul Play For Man Is Feared

(Special To The Journal)

MORTON, Oct. 1 — A new slant was considered this morning by officials who speculated on the missing witness in a marijuana case called for trial in 72nd district court here.

James Lopez, Mexican employe on the F. O. Masten farm at Oasis, northwest of Morton, did not appear Monday for his trial and Judge Daniel A. Blair ordered forfeited his $1,500 bond.

Wife Suspects Foul Play

The Mexican's wife went to officials and expressed fear her mate had been a victim of foul play, pointing out he had intended appearing for his case.

Burton S. Burkes, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, his assistant, said they had ascertained from investigation the Mexican, charged in four counts with possession and growing of marijuana and conspiracy to grow the narcotic, had been seen last about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Levelland, when he left a motor company and apparently headed back for the Cochran county farm.

Planned To Return

He had said he would return to Levelland "next Saturday" for completion of repairs on his truck, a 1936 (Chevrolet), blue, and with farm license number 18-673, the district attorney's office said. An employe of Moore Chevrolet company at Levelland was the last person known to have seen him.

Lee Harrison, manager of the farm, indicted Thursday in connection with the findings of the marijuana on the farm, asked for a continuance on account of shortness of time. Judge Blair passed the

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 —The bureau of agricultural economics estimated today the 1938-39 world supply of commercial cotton would be about 51,400,000 bales, a new high for the third consecutive year.

In its annual cotton outlook report, the bureau said the world supply of American cotton would be about 25,700,000 bales — half the world supply.

Man Has Cause To Wonder Today If He Was Hallowe'en Victim

Irby Davis had cause to wonder this morning if he had been victim of a Hallowe'en prank.

He became conscious about 7 o'clock at his home at 1615 Avenue E with head, neck and arm injuries. The last he remembered was that he had been walking beside the pavement on east Broadway and had seen an approaching car, in which negroes were riding.

Davis was returning to Barron gin, where he is employed, after going on an errand to Holmes gin. After he was injured, supposedly when he was struck by the car in which negroes were riding, he walked on to Barron gin. The bookkeeper there accompanied him to West Texas hospital, then to his home.

Davis, 21, suffered contusions and abrasions of the neck and head, severe arm sprain, and slight concussion of the brain.

Chamberlain's Intentions Told Today

British Prime Minister Says Easter Agreement Will Be Brought Into Force

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 1—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the house of commons today he intended to bring the Anglo-Italian accord of April 16 into force "as soon as possible."

He said he would offer a motion for debate tomorrow to the effect "this house welcomes the intention of his majesty's government to bring the Angelo-Italian agreement into force."

The prime minister spoke to the house as it assembled for a four-day session expected to be devoted largely to debate on the government's rearmament, civilian defense and foreign policies.

The Anglo-Italian pact, signed at Rome the day before Easter, has been held in abeyance because of failure to achieve a "settlement" in connection with the Spanish civil war.

The Rome accord was designed to provide a comprehensive settlement of all conflicts of British and Italian interests in the Mediterranean, Africa, the Near East and Spain. It provided for British recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and for complete Italian withdrawal from Spain after the civil war and Italy's assurance she had no territorial or political aims in Spain.

Chamberlain refused to be drawn into discussion today of his reasons for deciding to make the accord effective, but it was believed the decision was based on Premier Mussolini's recent withdrawal of 10,000 Italian troops from Spain.

"Settlement of the Spanish question" was made a prerequisite to

Funds Running Low For Dies

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Chairman Dies (D-Tex) said today the house committee on un-American activities may have to end its hearings soon because its $25,000 expense fund is running low.

Since President Roosevelt and members of his administration have taken some verbal digs at the committee, Dies was none to hopeful of getting more cash after congress meets in January.

Would Have Gone Farther

The $25,000 would have gone farther, the chairman indicated in a radio address last night, had government departments supplied lawyers, investigators, stenographers and clerks in accordance with the house resolution ordering the investigation.

He said, however, that appeals to the justice and labor departments, the WPA, and finally to the president had brought no result.

Joined Radical Writers

In fact, he added, Secretary Perkins and Secretary Interior Ickes joined "certain radical writers" in a campaign "to discredit the committee by ridicule and misrepresentation."

By arrangement of the Democratic national committee, Paul Y. Anderson, Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Star-Times, followed Dies on the air. Anderson said he had seen some "slip-shod" and "shockingly unfair" congressional investigations but declared none had approached the Dies committee's hearings in either of those respects.

Truth Not Considered

Anderson said the committee used an "extraordinary presentation and manipulation of witnesses" for political effect, "regardless of the damage the truth suffers in the process."

Dies contended, on the other hand, that every person or organization against whom charges were made in hearings had an invitation to appear before the committee.

South Plains Transient Population Proves Problem To Law Enforcement Authorities

South Plains transient population has caused a new and significant problem, said law enforcement agencies this morning.

Those guilty of burglaries have switched some of their attention from urban centers to the farm.

They are beginning to operate in sections where there is a minimum of protection from authorities.

On the heels of several recent complaints of farm property having been molested, J. A. Sherrod, farmer of near the Canyon community, reported to Sheriff Tom Abel this morning his residence had been broken late Monday.

Cooperation of persons in the surrounding farming belt was asked by the sheriff.

"Persons on the farm can be of assistance to enforcement officials and to themselves if they will lock their premises when they leave—better still, if they will leave one member of the family on watch.

Lubbock, A Bit Down At The Heel, Surveys Hallowe'en Damages; Mischief Only Petty

Lubbock, a bit down at the heel and exhibiting a "morning after" appearance, took brief time out early today to check damage done by Hallowe'en pranksters.

One broken display window, a few yards of destroyed fence, one cow missing, the usual number of transferred ash and garbage cans and numerous evidences of petty mischief — that was about all.

Merchants outspokenly complimented law enforcement agencies, both for their control of hoodlums and for their pre-celebration admonitions urging that all have a good time without destroying property.

Susanne Fisher and Clifford Menz, who appeared in joint recital Monday night at the high school, almost got a bad taste of Lubbock hospitality. An overripe tomato splashed onto the stage, its flight trajectory indicating it had been tossed by merrymakers outside the building.

Hearing Is Opened On Livestock Rates

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1. (AP) — A hearing on the application of railroads to increase rates on stocker and feeder cattle and sheep opened here today before examiners of the Interstate Commerce commission and representatives of the state railroad commission.

Because the hearing is expected to have considerable bearing on the future of the livestock industry in Texas, cattle men representing numerous livestock associations were present from all parts of the state to offer evidence that the application should not be granted.

The belief was expressed by some that if the increase is granted, the restrictions set up virtually will eliminate the stocker and feeder trade, which is 15 per cent less than the tariff on fat animals for slaughter purposes.

The hearing, before Examiners C. E. Stiles and D. K. Copenhafer, is expected to continue several days.

It is understood here Hooper was working on the Willard 1B test when the accident happened.

He was given emergency attention in Seagraves before the takeoff to Tulsa.

Chase will return to Lubbock today, he said.

CIO's Door 'Not Slammed To Peace' With AFOL, Leader Says

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1. (AP)—C.I.O. leaders, reluctant to discuss issues of their forthcoming first convention in the absence of a statement by Generalissimo John L. Lewis, said informally today they did consider the door to peace with the A. F. of L. still open.

"In fact almost anything can happen after the delegates gather here November 14," one high executive said. "We certainly haven't slammed the door to peace."

Another prominent leader said it appeared to him the cementing together of a compact organization would establish a group which could more readily become a part of the federation than the present committee — in line with the expressed desires of Lewis.

Bridge School Is Underway

That the average contract bridge player's greatest difficulties lie in the province of bidding is one of the first and most important lessons set forth by W. F. (Rufus) Steele in the American Legion-Avalanche-Journal bridge school being conducted this week at the Legion hall.

The four opening bids and nine responses, understanding of which absolutely is necessary to the expert Culbertson system player, were explained in the first day's lesson Monday. Tonight Steele, an international authority on the Culbertson system whose name is listed as one of the compliers of The Gold Book of contract bridge, will review the first lesson in brief and continue illustrated drills on rules and conventions.

Counting of honor tricks, with especial emphasis on plus values, counting of honor winners, keeping within bidding levels, principle of preparedness, the rule of eight and numerous other important elementary phases of the game were explained to a total of approximately 70 women and men.

Steele says that every type of player, beginner, former auction player or experienced contract player, will have opportunity of absorbing valuable knowledge during the course of the school.

A class at 2 p. m. every day, through Friday, is repeated at 8 o'clock each night. A person, paying the enrollment fee of $2, has the privilege of attending either or both classes each day.

As the purpose of the school is to stimulate interest in the Culbertson system and encourage uniform, correct playing, proceeds above expenses will go to local charity.

Germany And Italy Striving For New Order In Racial Nationalism

Trianon Treaty Faces Revision

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Germany and Italy are striving for a new order in southeastern Europe based on racial nationalism.

The two totalitarian states in arbitrating the territorial dispute between Czechoslovakia and Hungary this week may go far beyond this issue itself, it was indicated today, and revise the Trianon treaty in an effort to appease the entire Danubian area.

The Germany foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Politisch-Diplomatische Korrespondenz, said flatly that "injustices" done to Hungary by the Trianon treaty in 1920 would play "an essential role" in negotiations opening at Vienna Wednesday among the foreign ministers of Germany, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

What was "stolen" from the Magyars by this treaty, the organ said, must be returned to Hungary.

The treaty, negotiated between the victorious allies and Hungary after the World war, stripped Hungary of about 70 per cent of her territory, reducing her from a country of approximately 109,000 square miles to one of about 35,000 square miles.

Territory Acquired

Czechoslovakia acquired only about 24,300 square miles from Hungary, whereas Rumania obtained about 38,600 square miles, Yugoslavia about 8,100 square miles and Austria about 1,900 square miles.

Germany and Italy, the foreign office organ said, are "going to work as honest brokers to help end this conflict (between Czechoslovakia and Hungary) and thereby lay the groundwork for a good neighbor relationship among the peoples in the Danube region."

The Trianon treaty, said the organ, violated Woodrow Wilson's principles.

Germany and Italy "have a manifest interest in a stable, fruitful solution of the situation in central Europe," the paper said.

(Budapest, along with pushing the Hungarian claims, was giving support to a campaign launched in Bulgaria to regain territories lost by that country in the World war to Rumania, Yugoslavia, and Greece.)

Ministers To Be Present

At Wednesday's conference in Vienna will be Foreign Ministers Joachim Von Ribbentrop of Germany, Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy, Kolomon Kanya of Hungary, and Frantisek Chvalkovsky of Czechoslovakia, and numerous aides.

Both Czechoslovakia and Hungary are bound to accept the decision of Germany and Italy, to whom they agreed to turn for arbitration when their own efforts to reach a settlement failed.

Indications in informed quarters were:

A common frontier between Hungary and Poland, desired by both but not by Germany, already has been settled against Hungary and Poland.

Hungary will get additional territory including between 500,000 and 800,000 inhabitants.

Smaller Allotments Of Wheat Made

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — Agriculture department statistics disclosed a close comparison today between 1939 wheat acreage allotments in the four principal winter wheat states and average 1928-32 acreage.

Allotments under the soil conservation act in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas give a total of 1939 acreage of 21,583,000 acres compared with a 1928-32 average of 23,144,000.

The 1939 allotments, however, are considerably below this year's estimated planted acreage of 33,768,000 acres in the four states.

Nation As Whole

For the nation as a whole, 1938 estimated wheat acreage of 81,088,000 acres compared with 1939 allotments totalling 55,000,000 and an average of 60,138,000 seeded for 1928-32, the statistics showed.

Reduction of acreage in 1939 is designed to hold down production which reached bumper crop proportions this year.

Estimated 1938 production in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas was placed at 303,373,000 bushels by the last crop reporting board forecast and compared with an average of 256,442,000 bushels in these states for the years 1927-36 which the board used for comparison.

Agriculture department statistics placed the average annual production in the four states at 330,593,000 bushels for the years 1928-32.

British Troops Are Sent Into Jaffa

JERUSALEM, Nov. 1 (AP)—A battalion of British troops today was sent into Jaffa, largest purely Arab town in Palestine, in Britain's continuing intensive drive to quell Arab insurrection against her rule in the holy land.

With the ancient port under a pall of smoke from a lumber yard blaze believed to have been caused by incendiaries, officials had imposed a 24-hour curfew before the troops' arrival.

Soldiers immediately cordoned off the city and began systematic searchers as the curfew came into force and all traffic in and out of the riot-ridden city ceased.

Jaffa, with a population of about 50,000, has been in turmoil for more than two months and at least 500 Arab insurgents are believed to have made it their headquarters.

British officials expected this drive would restore order as in the case of the old city of Jerusalem. Garza, Bethlehem and other towns which have been occupied by troops.

Lindbergh Plans To Return To Germany To Continue Visits

BERLIN, Nov. 1 (AP) — Col Charles A. Lindbergh, recently decorated by Germany, in whose aviation progress he has shown keen interest, expects to return here in about a month to continue his interrupted visits to airplane factories and laboratories.

His intention was disclosed today in a letter he sent Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, German air minister, offering thanks for the hospitality extended him and Mrs. Lindbergh during his recent 12-day visit.

Gasoline consuming centers of France soon will obtain gasoline from a 280-mile pipe line that is to be constructed from the Atlantic coast into the French interior at a cost of about $4,125,000.

Low Prices To Be Continued

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — The bureau of agricultural economics forecast today that domestic wheat prices probably would continue low during the 1939-40 marketing season unless economic conditions or the general price level improved more than now indicated.

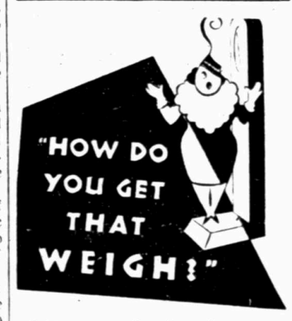

Wheat acreage in the remainder of the world is not likely to be decreased next year, the bureau said in its annual wheat outlook report. With average yields, it added, a crop nearly equal to the annual world consumption would be produced even if acreage in the United States is held to the 55,000,000 acres allotted under the 1939 agricultural adjustment program.

Appears Unavoidable"

The agriculture department economists said an increase in the domestic wheat carryover "appears unavoidable" next year if plantings are considerably in excess of the 55,000,000 acres.

This acreage, with an average yield, would produce about 660,000,000 bushels, or slightly under the ten-year average domestic consumption of 680,000,000 bushels, the bureau estimated.

Department of agriculture experts have developed a method for converting sawdust, straw, wood waste and waste sugar cane stalks into synthetic plastics.

CMA's Season Opens Monday

Opening its 1938-39 season in Lubbock, South Plains Civic Music association Monday night presented in joint recital Susanne Fisher, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera association, and Clifford Menz, tenor.

The recital was in Senior high school auditorium, which was approximately three-fourths filled.

Opera is a hybrid art that depends solely upon illusion. Opera-lovers have had too long to strain their imaginations to accept fat, middle-aged, homely singers as romantic heroes and heroines. Fortunately, Miss Fisher and Mr. Menz put last night's audience under no such strain. They are both young, vivacious and good to look upon. He is a Viking blond, she is a charming brunette. Beautiful costumes, authentic props and skilled acting combined to create an illusion of grand opera.

Numbers Sung In English

A unique feature is that their numbers were sung in English, pleasing translations made by the young singers themselves. Unique, also, is that the singers are Americans and received the greater part of their musical education in the United States.

The artists, they are husband and wife, sang three opera arias, Saint Sulpice scene from "Manon" (Massenet), scene from "The Bartered Bride" (Smetana) and the love duet from "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini). For those who do not care for opera there were charming songs, offered early in the program from the works of Rossini, Blangini and Schumann, sung with skill and artistry.

Stuart Swart, pianist-accompanist, pleased his audience with "Country Dances" (Beethoven-Seiss.) This was an exquisite piece of work.

No encores were offered although after the last number, the young singers appeared for four curtain calls.

Never Knew What Good Health Was

Amazed With Gly-Cas' Action In Removing Foul Impurities From His System; Former Suffering In The Past

"Gly-Cas, without a doubt is the greatest medicine I ever tried," said Mr. Henry Mitchell, 119 E. Beauregard St., San Angelo, Texas. "I had been suffering with awful bladder trouble, up at all hours of the night and got but little rest. I had severe pains in my back continually and never knew what it was to feel good. At times I would nauseate dreadfully and had no appetite at all. I was habitually constipated and would go for a week without an elimination. My body was covered with eczema, had numerous boils, especially on my neck and back and I endured extreme pain at all times. My complexion was yellow, had a bad breath and coated tongue all the time. But it is different now since I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to cleanse my system of all its poisons."

"Gly-Cas soon regulated my bowels," continued Mr. Mitchell. "I am no longer troubled with nauseating spells, my appetite is good and my bladder is normal. I rest well at night, my complexion has cleared, boils and eczema no longer trouble me. I haven't an ache nor pain and actually feel like a different person. Gly-Cas has been worth everything to me and it is impossible to say too much in praising a medicine with such ability."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Last Rites For E. T. Hall Are Scheduled

Last rites for E. T. Hall, 55, found dead Monday morning lying across his bed at his farm residence in Lakeview community about 10 miles east of Meadow, will be conducted at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Lakeview Methodist church.

Rev. Newt S. Daniel, pastor of the Meadow First Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in a Lubbock cemetery, with Sanders Funeral home officiating.

Mr. Hall had been last seen Saturday afternoon and it was believed he died late that day. His clothes had not been removed. Condition of his body indicated, it was reported, that he died late Saturday or early Sunday.

Mr. Hall, a resident of the Lakeview community several years, was found by a neighbor, Elmer Northam. A Tahoka justice of peace conducted an inquest and it was indicated a verdict of death from natural causes would be returned.

Hall's wife was visiting in Taft, Calif., and Hall was alone at the farmhouse. Mrs. Hall left immediately for here when learning of her husband's death.

Other than his wife, he is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Otis Webb of Wellington, Kas., Mrs. B. A. Richardson of Morton, Mrs. D. E. Castleberry and Mrs. Thurl Swinson, both of Tahoka, and Mrs. Welton McNabb of Meadow; two sons Q. L. Hall of Wink and J. F. Hall of Meadow; and a brother, A. M. Hall of Lubbock.

YOU NEED THESE
life-saving advantages

From your own experience you know that concrete is the safest road. Its even surface makes driving easier, reduces nervous strain and results in better car control. Its gritty texture improves traction and braking, resists skidding, wet or dry. Because of its flat "crown" drivers don't tend to ride the center of the road—passing is safer.

Concrete makes night driving safer. Its light-grey surface reflects more light, helps you see better. Illuminates obstacles and pedestrians. Sharply defines the edges and helps you stay on the road.

Highway officials are striving to reduce traffic accidents. Urge them to pave with concrete and secure for your community the safest as well as most economical pavement money can buy. You can benefit by your active interest as many others have done.

TEXAS NEEDS MORE CONCRETE ROADS. Let your highway officials know you prefer concrete because of its economy and SAFETY.

Hearing Is Opened On Livestock Rates

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1. (AP) — A hearing on the application of railroads to increase rates on stocker and feeder cattle and sheep opened here today before examiners of the Interstate Commerce commission and representatives of the state railroad commission.

Because the hearing is expected to have considerable bearing on the future of the livestock industry in Texas, cattle men representing numerous livestock associations were present from all parts of the state to offer evidence that the application should not be granted.

The belief was expressed by some that if the increase is granted, the restrictions set up virtually will eliminate the stocker and feeder trade, which is 15 per cent less than the tariff on fat animals for slaughter purposes.

The hearing, before Examiners C. E. Stiles and D. K. Copenhafer, is expected to continue several days.

CIO's Door 'Not Slammed To Peace' With AFOL, Leader Says

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1. (AP)—C.I.O. leaders, reluctant to discuss issues of their forthcoming first convention in the absence of a statement by Generalissimo John L. Lewis, said informally today they did consider the door to peace with the A.F. of L. still open.

"In fact almost anything can happen after the delegates gather here November 14," one high executive said. "We certainly haven't slammed the door to peace."

Another prominent leader said it appeared to him the cementing together of a compact organization would establish a group which could more readily become a part of the federation than the present committee — in line with the expressed desires of Lewis.

Bridge School Is Underway

That the average contract bridge player's greatest difficulties lie in the province of bidding is one of the first and most important lessons set forth by W. F. (Rufus) Steele in the American Legion-Avalanche-Journal bridge school being conducted this week at the Legion hall.

The four opening bids and nine responses, understanding of which absolutely is necessary to the expert Culbertson system player, were explained in the first day's lesson Monday. Tonight Steele, an international authority on the Culbertson system whose name is listed as one of the compliers of The Gold Book of contract bridge, will review the first lesson in brief and continue illustrated drills on rules and conventions.

Counting of honor tricks, with especial emphasis on plus values, counting of honor winners, keeping within bidding levels, principle of preparedness, the rule of eight and numerous other important elementary phases of the game were explained to a total of approximately 70 women and men.

Steele says that every type of player, beginner, former auction player or experienced contract player, will have opportunity of absorbing valuable knowledge during the course of the school.

A class at 2 p. m. every day, through Friday, is repeated at 8 o'clock each night. A person, paying the enrollment fee of $2, has the privilege of attending either or both classes each day.

As the purpose of the school is to stimulate interest in the Culbertson system and encourage uniform, correct playing, proceeds above expenses will go to local charity.

Germany And Italy Striving For New Order In Racial Nationalism

Trianon Treaty Faces Revision

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—Germany and Italy are striving for a new order in southeastern Europe based on racial nationalism.

The two totalitarian states in arbitrating the territorial dispute between Czechoslovakia and Hungary this week may go far beyond this issue itself, it was indicated today, and revise the Trianon treaty in an effort to appease the entire Danubian area.

The Germany foreign office mouthpiece, Deutsche Politisch-Diplomatische Korrespondenz, said flatly that "injustices" done to Hungary by the Trianon treaty in 1920 would play "an essential role" in negotiations opening at Vienna Wednesday among the foreign ministers of Germany, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

What was "stolen" from the Magyars by this treaty, the organ said, must be returned to Hungary.

The treaty, negotiated between the victorious allies and Hungary after the World war, stripped Hungary of about 70 per cent of her territory, reducing her from a country of approximately 109,000 square miles to one of about 35,000 square miles.

Territory Acquired

Czechoslovakia acquired only about 24,300 square miles from Hungary, whereas Rumania obtained about 38,600 square miles, Yugoslavia about 8,100 square miles and Austria about 1,900 square miles.

Germany and Italy, the foreign office organ said, are "going to work as honest brokers to help end this conflict (between Czechoslovakia and Hungary) and thereby lay the groundwork for a good neighbor relationship, among the peoples in the Danube region."

The Trianon treaty, said the organ, violated Woodrow Wilson's principles.

Germany and Italy "have a manifest interest in a stable, fruitful solution of the situation in central Europe," the paper said.

(Budapest, along with pushing the Hungarian claims, was giving support to a campaign launched in Bulgaria to regain territories lost by that country in the World war to Rumania, Yugoslavia, and Greece.)

Ministers To Be Present

At Wednesday's conference in Vienna will be Foreign Ministers Joachim Von Ribbentrop of Germany, Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy, Kolomon Kanya of Hungary, and Frantisek Chvalkovsky of Czechoslovakia, and numerous aides.

Both Czechoslovakia and Hungary are bound to accept the decision of Germany and Italy, to whom they agreed to turn for arbitration when their own efforts to reach a settlement failed.

Indications in informed quarters were:

A common frontier between Hungary and Poland, desired by both but not by Germany, already has been settled against Hungary and Poland.

Hungary will get additional territory including between 500,000 and 800,000 inhabitants.

CLAIMED BY DEATH

VICTORIA, Nov. 1 (AP) — Earl Hillyard, 13, was killed yesterday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. The gun fired as he opened the door of an automobile, the shot striking him in the jaw. He and five companions had been hunting.

Smaller Allotments Of Wheat Made

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — Agriculture department statistics disclosed a close comparison today between 1939 wheat acreage allotments in the four principal winter wheat states and average 1928-32 acreage.

Allotsments under the soil conservation act in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas give a total of 1939 acreage of 21,583,000 acres compared with a 1928-32 average of 23,144,000.

The 1939 allotments, however, are considerably below this year's estimated planted acreage of 33,768,000 acres in the four states.

Nation As Whole

For the nation as a whole, 1938 estimated wheat acreage of 81,088,000 acres compared with 1939 allotments totalling 55,000,000 and an average of 60,138,000 seeded for 1928-32, the statistics showed.

Reduction of acreage in 1939 is designed to hold down production which reached bumper crop proportions this year.

Estimated 1938 production in Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas was placed at 303,373,000 bushels by the last crop reporting board forecast and compared with an average of 256,442,000 bushels in these states for the years 1927-36 which the board used for comparison.

Agriculture department statistics placed the average annual production in the four states at 330,593,000 bushels for the years 1928-32.

British Troops Are Sent Into Jaffa

JERUSALEM, Nov. 1 (AP)—A battalion of British troops today was sent into Jaffa, largest purely Arab town in Palestine, in Britain's continuing intensive drive to quell Arab insurrection against her rule in the holy land.

With the ancient port under a pall of smoke from a lumber yard blaze believed to have been caused by incendiaries, officials had imposed a 24-hour curfew before the troops' arrival.

Soldiers immediately cordoned off the city and began systematic searchers as the curfew came into force and all traffic in and out of the riot-ridden city ceased.

Jaffa, with a population of about 50,000, has been in turmoil for more than two months and at least 500 Arab insurgents are believed to have made it their headquarters.

British officials expected this drive would restore order as in the case of the old city of Jerusalem. Garza, Bethlehem and other towns which have been occupied by troops.

Lindbergh Plans To Return To Germany To Continue Visits

BERLIN, Nov. 1 (AP) — Col Charles A. Lindbergh, recently decorated by Germany, in whose aviation progress he has shown keen interest, expects to return here in about a month to continue his interrupted visits to airplane factories and laboratories.

His intention was disclosed today in a letter he sent Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, German air minister, offering thanks for the hospitality extended him and Mrs. Lindbergh during his recent 12-day visit.

Gasoline consuming centers of France soon will obtain gasoline from a 280-mile pipe line that is to be constructed from the Atlantic coast into the French interior at a cost of about $4,125,000.

Low Prices To Be Continued

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — The bureau of agricultural economics forecast today that domestic wheat prices probably would continue low during the 1939-40 marketing season unless economic conditions or the general price level improved more than now indicated.

Wheat acreage in the remainder of the world is not likely to be decreased next year, the bureau said in its annual wheat outlook report. With average yields, it added, a crop nearly equal to the annual world consumption would be produced even if acreage in the United States is held to the 55,000,000 acres allotted under the 1939 agricultural adjustment program.

Appears Unavoidable"

The agriculture department economists said an increase in the domestic wheat carryover "appears unavoidable" next year if plantings are considerably in excess of the 55,000,000 acres.

This acreage, with an average yield, would produce about 660,000,000 bushels, or slightly under the ten-year average domestic consumption of 680,000,000 bushels, the bureau estimated.

Department of agriculture experts have developed a method for converting sawdust, straw, wood waste and waste sugar cane stalks into synthetic plastics.

CMA's Season Opens Monday

Opening its 1938-39 season in Lubbock, South Plains Civic Music association Monday night presented in joint recital Susanne Fisher, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera association, and Clifford Menz, tenor.

The recital was in Senior high school auditorium, which was approximately three-fourths filled.

Opera is a hybrid art that depends solely upon illusion. Opera-lovers have had too long to strain their imaginations to accept fat, middle-aged, homely singers as romantic heroes and heroines. Fortunately, Miss Fisher and Mr. Menz put last night's audience under no such strain. They are both young, vivacious and good to look upon. He is a Viking blond, she is a charming brunette. Beautiful costumes, authentic props and skilled acting combined to create an illusion of grand opera.

Numbers Sung In English

A unique feature is that their numbers were sung in English, pleasing translations made by the young singers themselves. Unique, also, is that the singers are Americans and received the greater part of their musical education in the United States.

The artists, they are husband and wife, sang three opera arias, Saint Sulpice scene from "Manon" (Massenet), scene from "The Bartered Bride" (Smetana) and the love duet from "Madame Butterfly" (Puccini.) For those who do not care for opera there were charming songs, offered early in the program from the works of Rossini, Blangini and Schumann, sung with skill and artistry.

Stuart Swart, pianist-accompanist, pleased his audience with "Country Dances" (Beethoven-Seiss.) This was an exquisite piece of work.

No encores were offered although after the last number, the young singers appeared for four curtain calls.

Never Knew What Good Health Was

Amazed With Gly-Cas' Action In Removing Foul Impurities From His System; Former Suffering In The Past

"Gly-Cas, without a doubt is the greatest medicine I ever tried," said Mr. Henry Mitchell, 119 E. Beauregard St., San Angelo, Texas. "I had been suffering with awful bladder trouble, up at all hours of the night and got but little rest. I had severe pains in my back continually and never knew what it was to feel good. At times I would nauseate dreadfully, and had no appetite at all. I was habitually constipated and would go for a week without an elimination. My body was covered with eczema, had numerous boils, especially on my neck and back and I endured extreme pain at all times. My complexion was yellow, had a bad breath and coated tongue all the time. But it is different now since I gave Gly-Cas the opportunity to cleanse my system of all its poisons."

"Gly-Cas soon regulated my bowels," continued Mr. Mitchell. "I am no longer troubled with nauseating spells, my appetite is good and my bladder is normal. I rest well at night, my complexion has cleared, boils and eczema no longer trouble me. I haven't an ache nor pain and actually feel like a different person. Gly-Cas has been worth everything to me and it is impossible to say too much in praising a medicine with such ability."

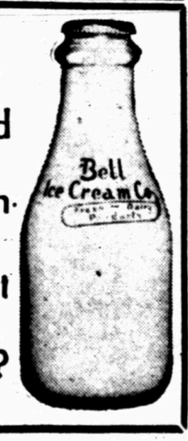

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Last Rites For E. T. Hall Are Scheduled

Last rites for E. T. Hall, 55, found dead Monday morning lying across his bed at his farm residence in Lakeview community about 10 miles east of Meadow, will be conducted at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Lakeview Methodist church.

Rev. Newt S. Daniel, pastor of the Meadow First Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in a Lubbock cemetery, with Sanders Funeral home officiating.

Mr. Hall had been last seen Saturday afternoon and it was believed he died late that day. His clothes had not been removed. Condition of his body indicated, it was reported, that he died late Saturday or early Sunday.

Mr. Hall, a resident of the Lakeview community several years, was found by a neighbor, Elmer Northam. A Tahoka justice of peace conducted an inquest and it was indicated a verdict of death from natural causes would be returned.

Hall's wife was visiting in Taft, Calif., and Hall was alone at the farmhouse. Mrs. Hall left immediately for here when learning of her husband's death.

Other than his wife, he is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Otis Webb of Wellington, Kas., Mrs. B. A. Richardson of Morton, Mrs. D. E. Castleberry and Mrs. Thurl Swinson, both of Tahoka, and Mrs. Welton McNabb of Meadow; two sons Q. L. Hall of Wink and J. F. Hall of Meadow; and a brother, A. M. Hall of Lubbock.

From your own experience you know that concrete is the safest road. Its even surface makes driving easier, reduces nervous strain and results in better car control. Its gritty texture improves traction and braking, resists skidding, wet or dry. Because of its flat "crown" drivers don't tend to ride the center of the road—passing is safer.

Concrete makes night driving safer. Its light-grey surface reflects more light, helps you see better. Illuminates obstacles and pedestrians. Sharply defines the edges and helps you stay on the road.

Highway officials are striving to reduce traffic accidents. Urge them to pave with concrete and secure for your community the safest as well as most economical pavement money can buy. You can benefit by your active interest as many others have done.

TEXAS NEEDS MORE CONCRETE ROADS. Let your highway officials know you prefer concrete because of its economy and SAFETY.

Local Gridders On Spot

By Collier Parris

AN OPEN LETTER to the Texas Tech Red Raiders and a carbon copy to the Lubbock High school Westerners:

Dear Boys,

Did you read the yarns in Saturday's and Sunday's papers under the heading "Football Results?"

If you did, maybe you got the point we are trying to put over.

You were surprised at some of the outcomes, were you not? "Fer gracious sakes!" you exclaimed every few lines, "how in the name of goodness did that happen? Why that score should have been just the reverse. What's this game coming to, anyhow?"

Yeah, all of us experienced the same pangs of surprise, and, in some cases, of disappointment and chagrin.

We call 'em "upsets."

An upset, says Webster, is the act of upsetting; the verb: to overthrow, or put out of normal condition. .

Now we have given rather careful study to the football teams remaining on the Lubbock High and Texas Tech schedules, and we have observed the Westerners and Raiders, you guys to whom this is addressed, and we have come to the conclusion that anything short of victories for you in the remaining games will go under the heading of Upsets.

People will read those Friday and Saturday results and see where Loyola defeated Tech, or that Lamesa triumphed over Lubbock. And they will say "well of all things! Imagine that!"

Any one who has followed football very closely knows that it is difficult for a team to stay "steamed up" from early September through late November. It takes coaching and ability to keep winning. We think you fellows have that courage and desire. It also takes mental alertness, and we know you are mentally, as well as physically, capable of coping with the situations coming up.

You Westerners, as a result of a tough break that wasn't your fault, can not enjoy an undefeated season. One game has been lost. It was a break for you that it wasn't a conference game; the road is still before you, and there's a big hump in it Friday when you go to Lamesa. If you take that hurdle, you should be long gone, although there'll still be trouble.

You Red Raiders, definitely, are capable of carrying on and giving Tech an undefeated season. But you've got to be on your toes. You can not expect the coaches to "fire you up" for each successive game. You've got to fire your own boilers.

Remember how you snickered behind the coaches' backs when they were telling you that you'd better be set for the Texas Miners? You wouldn't believe them when they said Mack Saxon would have his club in a crying mad humor. Well, you were pretty darn lucky to win by any score, even though, under ordinary circumstances, you figure to be six or eight touchdowns better. That the Miners were steamed up for YOU was more definitely brought home last week when little St. Mary's of San Antonio bowled over the Muckers.

Well, the point is that every team you meet from here on will be steamed up to the hilt for you; they've read somewhere that you are undefeated, and they presume that you have "bowl" ambitions for New Year's Day. They are going to have a double purpose, then, when they play you: To win a game for themselves and "to knock that cocky Texas Tech team off the undefeated list."

You can defeat Loyola, Gonzaga, New Mexico, Marquette and Centenary, in that order—if you will. It's just up to you, and the People of Lubbock, the Chamber of Commerce, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Knothole Gang, the Ministers Association, friends and fans of Tech everywhere, for whom this letter is written, are looking at you.

Sincerely yours,
All Of Us.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES: A rash of indignation broke out over town last night following observations of a Fort Worth sports commentator on the network sports broadcast. . . . The commentator, whose name we failed to recognize as belonging to the realm of Texas experts, suggested Texas Tech was "below the calibre of Southwest conference football." . . Maybe our friend Mac over at KFYO will have cooked up a snappy retort for a network broadcast emanating from the local studio this afternoon. . . . The East Texas gentleman who owns the acreage directly south of the baseball park objects to use of the block as parking space for baseball fans . . . and has ordered the street closed and the entire area surrounded by cedar posts. . . . Won't someone write a nice letter to the gentleman and beg him to change his mind? . . . The park and club owners are perfectly willing to lease the land . . . but he isn't interested. . . .

Texas Tech gridders, home after seeing TCU murder Baylor, are sincere in their belief that "we could defeat Baylor hands down, and give TCU an awful battle." . . . The well-dressed, well-behaved squad of Techs made a nice impression at the Fort Worth game, and were well received. . . . You will find few organizations as full of well-behaved gentlemen as the Red Raiders on a trip. . . . One story is that Coach Dutch Meyer and his Frogs became so irate at an official's ruling that a TCU player had slugged a Baylor man, thereby drawing a terrific penalty for the Frogs, that Meyer ordered them to "turn loose with all you've got in the last half." . . . The penalty must have drawn a cheer from the Baylor section, or something. . . . Anyhow, Meyer left his regulars in until they piled up that score. . . . And McClanahan, the Frog player charged with the slugging, emphatically denies it. . . . A trying occupation, that of football official or a baseball umpire. . . .

Haven't heard a plausible explanation, however, for the battle engineered by a Centenary player against Loyola of the West. . . . It was the third time that player, a man named Jones, has seen fit to employ fists in football games. . . . It was a fellow named Warren, however, who featured, with Red Ramsey, in the little shindig on the Centenary field last autumn. . . . Texas Tech and Lubbock, we hope will bear in mind the plan to give Centenary the most "gentlemanly" reception possible when the Gentlemen come here in December. . . . Lubbock High school has a better defensive team than Amarillo or Pampa . . . and it'll take just that to keep Blazin' Bill Thompson from going hog wild. . . . He's good, that lad. . . .

CAGERS START EARLY

NACOGDOCHES, Nov. 1. (AP) — R. H. (Bob) Shelton, dean of Lone Star conference basketball coaches, calls out his squad today for opening of practice for the Lumberjacks of Stephen F. Austin college who will be seeking their fifth title.

Shelton will have 42 players, the largest in Stephen F. Austin history, with six lettermen included in the squad.

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (AP) — Coach Matty Bell of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs was looking for capable left ends today.

Capt. Charlie Sprague, first-string left end, definitely will not play against Texas Aggies Saturday. He suffered a wrenched left knee in last week's joust with Texas.

Sprague's understudy, Bob Collins, came out of the Pitt game with a badly damaged knee and it is doubtful if he will play Saturday.

Jack Myers, who played against Texas, was found lacking in classwork.

Bears Versus Trojans No. 1 Tilt Of Week

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. — Since there's no chance for a battle of giants between Pitt and Texas Christian this week—nor any other week this season—the No. 1 game on the program next Saturday is California vs. Southern California.

That's taking them according to their current ratings in the weekly Associated Press poll. Pittsburgh's Golden Panthers remain far out in front of the field with TCU as their nearest rival, supplanting beaten Minnesota as runner-up.

California Ranked Third

California is ranked third by a slim margin over Notre Dame while USC polled enough votes to tie with Holy Cross for 13th place on the list. Pitt is the only other "first ten" team which meets a rival even mentioned in the voting by 115 sports writers. Carnegie collected a total of seven points on the usual basis of counting from ten points for a first place vote to one for tenth. The Skibos tied with Texas A. & M. for 20th place.

The first ten (points scored on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis first-place votes in brackets):

Team—	Points
Pittsburgh (105)	1,139
Texas Christian (8)	901
California	692
Notre Dame	670
Dartmouth	624
Tennessee (1)	610
Northwestern	406
Santa Clara	390
Duke	274
Fordham	149

Oldest Of Sport's Cliche Is Back For Fight Wednesday

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Sport's oldest cliche, the one about the good little man not being able to lick the good big man, has been dusted off to front for the argument between Henry Armstrong the welterweight champion, and Ceferino Garcia, the scarred Filipino from Los Angeles who bids for Henry's title Wednesday night in the garden ring.

It is most apt. Garcia is a good big man for a welterweight. He can fight middleweights without harm—he banged Glen Lee recently—and he will go into the ring for the 15-round bout around 147 pounds.

Never Garcia Before

Armstrong, who is as good a little man as you can find, has fought welterweights but no Garcias. He took the title from Barney Ross last spring but Ross never was a full-blown welterweight. He was a lightweight who fought best around 138.

Henry is even smaller. He weighed less than 135 for the Ross right and the battle in which he took the lightweight title from Lou Ambers. Just a year ago he was known as a very good featherweight. Now he is taking on a big, tough fellow who will outweigh him by ten or 12 pounds and who can hit and be hit by middleweights.

When the fight was made Garcia was a heavy favorite over the little man who failed to knock out Ambers in 15 bloody rounds. But the long cut in Henry's lower lip is almost healed. He is hitting sharper and faster after a two-month rest. The odds are down to 6 to 5 and take your choice. Mike Jacobs expects a crowd of 18,000 or so to pack the garden and nudge the profits of the 20th Century Sporting club up another notch.

All of which proves there is something in this good little man-good big man argument at that.

Kansas farmers have asked federal insurance on about 2,250,000 acres of their 1939 wheat crop.

War Admiral Faces Seabiscuit Today

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 1 (AP) — The paths of America's two greatest thoroughbreds cross for the first time at ancient Pimlico today when War Admiral and Seabiscuit, descendants of that mighty Man o' War, meet in their on again, off again match race.

Waiting the winner at the end of the mile and three-sixteenths is a check for $15,000 but far more important is the prestige to be gained through victory. The two principals in America's first major match race in 14 years, War Admiral from Samuel D. Riddle's fashionable Glen Riddle farms and Seabiscuit, the Cinderella colt owned by Charles S. Howard of San Francisco, rightfully earned their right to be acclaimed champions of the turf.

Al Hostak Risks His Title In Fight With Krieger Tonight

SEATTLE, Nov. 1. (AP)—Middleweight Champion Al Hostak, whose last 17 opponents have averaged only three rounds against him before being put to sleep, risks his title tonight against Solly Krieger, Brooklyn Jewish boy who never has been knocked off his feet.

With that "irresistable force, immovable object" motif, Promoter Nate Druxman said he expected a bumper crowd of about 9,500 to watch the scheduled 15-rounder. The fight will start about 12 p.m. c.s.t.

It will be Hostak's first title defense since he won the crown by knocking out Freddie Steele of Tacoma, in the first round here last July.

Guzick, Davis And White Back Again

In Red Raider uniforms this week are three first string performers who have been injured during the season, which added smiles to faces of the coaches and cheer to evils of players in practice.

Capt. Frank Guzick, out since the Montana State contest because of a knee injury, was back Monday afternoon at center. Big Bill Davis was a left tackle, and Guard Dixie White was in there. Davis was hurt in the Duquesne game at Buffalo and White went out of the Texas Mines game at Odessa with a game elbow.

Two May Not Play

White probably will be ready to go against Loyola university Saturday, although Guzick and Davis may not start until Gonzaga comes here Nov. 11.

The Raiders drove hard a serious blocking and tackling Monday then divided for a long scrimmage session. There was plenty of fire, but Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith found time to critize.

Too careless were backs in tossing the ball around.

Coaches, back from scouting trips to New Orleans and Milwaukee, were seriously impressing the possibility of a "let up" against the Wolfpack emphasizing the fact that their undefeated proteges were perfect marks for every defeated opponent.

Fordham Jimmy Crowley reports on the Pitt situation: When you play those Panthers, it's awful tough being on the defense—and that's where you are most of the time. . . . Anybody know where Fred Fussell, the old Red Sox and Syracuse pitcher, is? . . . We have an urgent request for his whereabouts. . . . Gertrude Whelton, a Galveston rooter, rises to oppose the idea the Southwest plays the best football (can this be treason?) . . . What happened, she asks, to Southern Methodist against Pitt and to Arkansas and Texas Aggies against Santa Clara . . . The teams around here just aren't what they're cracked up to be, she says . . . Why Miss Whelton!!!

Lou Little doesn't like that talk of Virginia during a "breather" for Columbia Saturday. . . . "Why, they might have caught us out of breath instead," he points out. . . . And Fordham scouts report St. Mary's coming in from the coast this week end, has its best outfit in four or five years.

PASTOR BEATS BRAKEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP) — Bob Pastor, New York state heavyweight champion, who once back-pedalled ten rounds in the ring with Joe Lewis, technically knocked out George (Big Boy) Brakey of Buffalo, N. Y., in the fourth round of their ten round bout at St. Nicholas palace last night. The referee stopped the fight after 1:40 of the fourth. Pastor weighed 194 1-2 pounds, Brakey 231 1-2.

HARRIS IS RE-SIGNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP) — President Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators signed Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris Monday to manage the team for another year, putting to an end the rising rumor that Harris was through at Washington. Griffith added, under questioning, that Bucky would get a slight raise in pay.

Webster And Sewalt Said To Be Ailing

An infection on the heel of Capt. Jumbo Webster's good foot and a pair of enlarged tonsils in the mouth of Avon Sewalt are only things out of line on the Westerner squad as they prepare for an invasion Friday of Lamesa.

Webster's infected heel was lanced Monday and is expected to be healed in time for him to get into the Tornado game. Sewalt's tonsillitis also is expected to subside in time for him to play.

Work Lightly Monday

The Westerners took things lightly Monday afternoon, but will get downright serious today. They are not planning to let the Lamesans slip up on them in the District 1 clash.

Others members of the team came out of the Plainview game in good condition, except for severe jolting applied by the hard-hitting Bulldogs.

Amarillo Women Coming Here For Golf Matches Wednesday

Ten or twelve women of the Amarillo Country club will oppose Lubbock Country club golfers Wednesday at regular ladies day here and be their guests at noon.

Nine holes of golf will be played that morning, with nine more that afternoon. Mrs. Mabry Heilhecker will be hostess at Luncheon in Lubbock hotel.

Local players planning to attend are requested to notify Mrs. Lee Hubby at the hotel before 8 o'clock tonight.

Lubbock women were guests at Amarillo several weeks ago.

Majority Of Texas Students In Favor Of Game Played At Fa'r

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP) — A majority of students of the University of Texas favor continuing the Texas-Oklahoma university football game at Dallas instead of on a home-and-home basis as advocated by Oklahoma authorities, a poll announced by the Daily Texan, university newspaper, indicates.

The poll, conducted through the bureau of student opinion by James Anderson and Waldo Neibuhr, showed 65.9 of the students favor the game being played under the present arrangement. 26.3 favored a home-and-home agreement and 7.8 had no opinion.

The poll is informal.

ANOTHER KIMBROUGH

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 1 (AP) —Victory over Arkansas last Saturday earned the Texas A. & M. college Aggies an easy day Monday, with only routine drill.

Encouraged by the playing of "Big" John Kimbrough, Coach Homer Norton may try Jack Kimbrough at end Saturday against Southern Methodist university.

"If one Kimbrough is good, two should be better" said the mentor.

Jack is squadman end and brother of John.

FROG REGULARS REST

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP)—The T.C.U. second and third teams staged a battle royal with the frosh club here Monday. The regulars, nursing bumps and bruises from the Baylor battle, took things easy.

Probably out of the Tulsa game Saturday are Connie Sparks, fullback, and Johnny Hall, senior right half. Connie has a sore shoulder and Johnny a swollen ankle. Neither is serious and Sparks can play Saturday if needed.

Rice Owls And Mustangs Have Plenty To Worry About In This Week's Encounters

(By The Associated Press)

The Rice Owls and Southern Methodist Mustangs had plenty to worry about this week as they gathered momentum for clashes that may reduce the field of undefeated teams in Southwest conference play to the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs.

Rice, now on the way back up, must journey to Fayetteville to play the double tough Arkansas Razorbacks, even tougher on their home lot. The Mustangs meet the fast-moving Texas Aggies, who have hitched onto a battering sophomore and have high hopes of finishing with but one loss—that to the Frogs Oct. 15.

Uses His Brother Too

Texas A. & M. was still singing the praises of big John Kimbrough, the boy who brought victory over Arkansas last week in a brilliant drive in the last minutes of play. Coach Homer Norton was so impressed he considered using John's brother, Jack, at end, on the theory that two Kimbroughs should really be something.

Coach Matty Bell at Southern Methodist was worried about who was going to play end against A. & M. and help his team protect its unbeaten record, hung up when the Mustangs defeated Texas last week in their conference opener. Capt. Charlie Sprague, first string end, was definitely out of the Aggie battle because of a wrenched knee.

Jennings Stresses Blocking

Coach Morley Jennings at Baylor university stressed blocking. He anticipates strong defensive play from the University of Texas Saturday.

Coach Dana Bible at Texas announced that Joe Roach, an end from Decatur, and Wallace Lawson, backfielder from Cleburne, would be co-captains against Baylor.

Texas Christian university had a couple of regulars on the injured list as the Frogs prepared for a trip to Tulsa Saturday. Connie Sparks, fullback, and Johnny Hall, halfback, were nursing hurts but neither was serious.

Rice counted Capt. Jess Hines, tackle, among the casualties. Hines was hurt in the Auburn game but other Owls came out of that tilt in good shape. However, Ernie Lane, who has been out since the Texas game, is still ailing.

BEARS PATCHING UP

WACO, Nov. 1. (AP)—The Baylor Bears got only a light workout Monday as Head Coach Morley Jennings tried to patch up his defense backs for their encounter with the University of Texas Saturday.

Jennings is expecting a strong defensive play from the Longhorns and he stressed blocking assignments.

GOLDBERG TO BE BACK

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1 (AP) — Pitt's All-America back who battered the Fordham line for two touchdowns Saturday despite an injured leg, promised today that "I'll be back" in the lineup Saturday when the Golden Panther meets Carnegie Tech.

Farm woods today comprise one-third of all the forest land remaining in this country.

Lombardi Is Best Player

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Following, as it usually does, the best hitter or the best pitcher in the league, the award for the most valuable player in the National league in 1938 goes to Ernie Lombardi, an Italian playing an American game in a German town.

The big Italian who catches for the Cincinnati Reds rolled up 229 points in the voting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. He is the first Cincinnati player ever to win the title.

Lead In Hitting

Lombardi has much to recommend him. He led the league in hitting with .342 and according to his manager, Will McKechnie, had much to do with the success of the Reds' young hurlers this year. He cannot run fast enough to scare any infielders but he is a big, calm resourceful catcher with an arm like a bull-whip.

Ernie was 63 points ahead of Bill Lee, the Chicago Cubs' hurler, who finished second. Lee's 22nd victory of the year clinched the pennant for the Cubs.

Vaughan Was Third

Just behind Lee was Arky Vaughan, the Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop and leading hitter. He wound up with 163 points to Lee's 166. Mel Ott, the Giants' perennial boy wonder who topped the league in driving home runs, was fourth and Buck McCormick, the Reds' large rookie first baseman, fifth.

Gabby Hartnett, the Cubs' catcher, Mace Brown, Pittsburgh relief hurler and McCormick all received votes for first place. Ducky Medwick, last year's winner, didn't get one and wound up 11th.

Lombardi is 30 and lives in Oakland, Calif. He came up to Brooklyn from the coast league but was traded to Cincinnati in 1931. He has been there ever since, slightly overshadowed by the presence of Hartnett in the same league, but a valuable hand just the same.

His average is .320 for his eight years in the big show.

Women To Be Given Access To Bowling Allies On Wednesday

For two hours, or as long as they wish, women bowlers will be given access to alleys of the Lubbock Bowling club, starting at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, Jake Hancock, manager, has announced.

All four alleys will be reserved for the special "ladies night" activities. Suitable equipment for feminine keglers is on hand at the club. A number of balls with correct grip and of light weight for women are available.

It is hoped that a league for women may be organized if sufficient interest is shown, Hancock said. Several women already have invaded the alleys and are bowling high scores.

Lines Are Run By Students

Terrace lines on 160 acres of the N. D. Kelso farm in Canyon community are to be run this afternoon by vocational agriculture students of Roosevelt Rural High school, according to Roy Monk, instructor.

Monk's crew last year ran lines on more than 8,000 acres.

Contest Being Staged

Yardage this year will be accredited in a contest sponsored by a Texas manufacturer of terracing machines. A $150 terracing machine will be given for a prize.

Monk and his boys are booked for terracing and contouring on 30 farms. In that section of Lubbock county approximately 24,000 acres have been terraced and contoured in the last three years.

"There never has been a farmer in this section who has taken his farm out of the terracing or contour plan," Monk said, attesting to the favor of the system.

May Mean Difference

"In a normal year terracing and contouring may mean the difference in profit and loss on the farm."

Too many farmers "go by a single contour line too often," said Monk, "too many of them failing to realize that on a large farm there should be contour lines on different slopes and that these should be standards only so far as given contour is concerned." He said "water level" lines should be run with exceptional care.

This afternoon's work will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

There are 61 boys in the school's vocational agriculture department.

Programs For Press Clinic Are Mailed

Programs for the West Texas Scholastic Press clinic meeting to be conducted at Texas Technological college Friday and Saturday are being mailed from the college today to 200 high schools in West Texas.

Friday afternoon speakers will include Cecil Horne, head professor of journalism at the college, who will welcome visitors; R. C. Hankins, city editor of the Avalanche-Journal; J. N. Browning, sponsor of the Amarillo Sandstorm; and Mrs. Ross Ayers, sponsor of the Lubbock High school Westerner World. Discussion in group meetings that afternoon will be led by Joseph B. Cowan, Tech journalism instructor; Miss Ethel Harkins, Sweetwater High school publications sponsor; Eugene Mann, Pampa sponsor; R. A. Mills, sponsor of the Tech yearbook, and Miss Pauline Huey, Odessa sponsor.

James Martin of Amarillo, president of the student group in the press clinic, will preside at a banquet that night. Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, will speak.

Saturday morning speakers will be R. Henderson Shuffler, Odessa Daily News-Times editor; John B. Sullivan, Hamilton sponsor; Mrs. Elithe Hamilton Beal, Iraan sponsor; Miss Bernie Addison, Canyon sponsor.

Rites To Be Today For Mishap Victim

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 1. (Special)—Funeral services for Harvey Cantrell, 32, Seagraves plumbing helper who died at 12:27 o'clock Monday afternoon of injuries suffered in an automobile accident, were scheduled this afternoon in Brownfield. Burial will be in Brownfield.

Mr. Cantrell was found Monday morning crushed under wreckage of his automobile, which had overturned several times near here. He died in a Brownfield hospital, 10 minutes after he had been received for surgical attention.

Occurred On Wasson Road

Joe Webb, who took Cottrell to Brownfield, said the mishap must have been at 10 o'clock. The car was found four miles west of Seagraves on the Wasson area oil road.

Ed Nash was driving the machine when it supposedly went out of control and began catapulting, said Seagraves friends of the two men.

Nash suffered only slight injuries.

The widow and a 2-year-old child survive, as well as the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cottrell, and a sister, all of Seagraves; and a brother Harman Cottrell of Brownfield.

Detective Finds Assortment Of Articles Taken By Grid Fans

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 1. (AP)—Detective John Abrams walked through a special train carrying 1,400 returning high school football fans when it stopped at a station.

"If any of you took anything which didn't belong to you from any place in Harrisburg," he announced, "just lay it beside you on the seat and I'll be back in about five minutes."

When Abrams returned he picked up beer mugs, salt and pepper shakers, false faces, women's underwear, glue and red ink.

Differences Of Crowley And Former Wife To Go To Jury

DALLAS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Differences between Karl A. Crowley, defeated candidate for governor, and his former wife, Mrs. Annie Crowley, will be heard by a district court jury.

The decision for a jury trial was made Monday when attorneys for the principals failed to reach a compromise in a hearing before District Judge W. L. Thornton, 44th district court.

The former solicitor for the post office department contended that a purported property settlement last June 24 was made under duress.

Mrs. Crowley obtained a divorce and custody of two children Sept. 17.

Williams said Robert T. McDaniel was put under a $1,000 bond after a hearing before the U. S. commissioner at Paris. A brother, Raymond L. McDaniel, 16, was ordered under the jurisdiction of Probation Officer Stokes here.

Poll Taxes Must Be paid At Same Time As Property Taxes

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)—The comptroller's department soon will reiterate in a communication to county tax collectors that under the law poll taxes must be paid at the same time as property taxes.

Comptroller's attaches said some counties had been permitting payment of property taxes separately from payment of poll taxes although the department had ruled consistently for many years that the payment could not be divided.

Increase In Pay Of All Dixie WPA Workers Urged By Lasser

HOUSTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—David Lasser, chief of the Workers Alliance of America, last night proposed an increase in the pay of all Southern WPA workers as he addressed a group of unemployed and WPA workers.

Lasser said many Southern workers are paid $40 a month and eastern and western workers are paid $60 a month.

Lasser said his organization is not seeking perpetual relief and denied it had communistic leanings.

Five-Day Mart Is Discussed

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1. — Possibilities of making the livestock market at Fort Worth a five-day market each week and making it possible for commission firms to comply with the terms of the wages and hour law were discussed Monday, with representatives of practically every commission company at the yards present.

The commission men were joined by A. G. Donavan, manager of the Fort Worth Stockyards company, John Hall, and A. A. Lund, managers of Swift & company and Armour & company, respectively.

The opinion was expressed that the yards can be closed on Saturday without detriment to shippers, after they have due notice of the change, and without prejudice to the Fort Worth stockyards if other competing yards in this area adopt the same practice.

A committee was appointed to ascertain the action other yards will take and the general advisability of closing the yards at Fort Worth on Saturday after shippers have had time to be advised of the plan.

Radio Loud-Speakers In Every Public Square In Time Of War Seen As Result Of Mars Scare

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Military experts here foresee, in time of war, radio loud-speakers in every public square in the United States and a system of voluntary self-regulation of radio.

This is the lesson they draw from Sunday night's drama about an invasion by men from Mars armed with death rays.

What struck the military listeners most about the radio play was its immediate emotional effect. Thousands of persons believed a real invasion had been unleashed.

Military men declared that such widespread reaction shows the government will have to insist on the close cooperation of radio in any future war.

WALTER DURANTY, author of "I Write as I Please," and numerous other books and short stories, who is the New York Times' crack correspondent at Moscow, has only one leg. He lost the member in an accident some years ago.

William Bolitho, the well known writer and philosopher, gave Duranty a new slant upon his loss by explaining to the correspondent that it wasn't a loss at all, but a gain.

Pointing out that, as one-legged, Duranty is different from the general run of reporters and foreign correspondents, Bolitho showed him how to capitalize on the asset.

"Everyone," he said to Duranty, "ought to know that the most important thing in life is not to capitalize on your gains. Any fool can do that. Learn to profit from your losses."

Commenting upon the suggestion of Bolitho to Duranty, "Singing Lines," a publication of the Merganthaler Linotype Co., aptly quotes Bolitho as further explaining that the ability to profit from losses "requires intelligence and marks the difference between a man of sense, and fools."

It is the natural, human thing for us to accept our gains as something due us, but our losses as mere tricks of fate, or as "hard luck."

Let us make a winning and we'll never forget the events and efforts leading up to it.

Let us take a licking, however, and we are slow to study its cause and to make preparations to dodge a repetition.

Just as only game fish swim upstream, only courageous and intelligent men accept temporary defeat as a vehicle for learning and as a stepping stone to eventual success.

IT IS NOT unusual for some sort of a "crackpot" to step into the headlines with a prediction that the world will end upon a certain date.

But when a distinguished scientist climbs out on a limb with a statement like that, even the most conservative folks are apt to gasp and tighten up their belts.

That's just what has happened. Dr. Kurt Wilhelm Meissner, director of the Frankfort (Germany) University Astronomical observatory recently — and quietly — announced that the world will end in January of 1939, without fail. And he's not kidding.

Noting that certain deep-water currents in the Pacific ocean are missing; that the climate of the earth is undergoing a change and that earthquakes are becoming more numerous, Dr. Meissner went to work with pencil, sextant and graphs and came up with the belief that a gigantic comet, as yet invisible through the most powerful telescope, is on the loose.

He believes, according to his scientific findings, that the comet will be visible in January and that a week later will smash into our own planet with very dire results, indeed.

Personally, The Plainsman refuses to get jittery over the possibility, but the prediction is interesting because of its source.

Dr. Meissner is an authority on astronomy. He is—or, at least, always has been—a conservative, careful scientist.

So you can take his announcement for what it's worth—but bearing in mind that even scientists make mistakes and he may have miscalculated a few hundred thousand years!

LAST Sunday afternoon, as is our usual wont, The Plainsman and the Little Woman and the whole passel of kids were driving around and about Lubbock, looking the town over from stem to stern.

It was just about dusk when our wanderings took us by the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds and the cotton pickers' concentration camp located there.

Here and there campfires were burning.

Mothers and children were gathered about the fires, for the air was crisp. In the background were the battered trucks and home-made trailers in which those people, largely Mexicans, were living. An air of futile dejection seemed to hover over the camp. It was not a pretty picture as poor suppers were being thrown together against the vagaries of a cold night.

We slowed the car, passing the scene leisurely, studying the view.

There were men, women and children just like the group in our car.

They have the same hopes and fears, the same desires that we have.

Suddenly it occurred to The Plainsman to wonder why the Fates had seen fit to place our group where it was, the other group on the desolate, windswept fairgrounds with probably too little food, only the barest of defense against the elements—with only the barest of existence.

With that thought in mind, The Plainsman remarked to the Little Woman:

"There, but for the grace of God, are we."

NEXT time you start wrenching your arm patting yourself on the back; next time you give way to a feeling of self-satisfaction; next time you are prone to give yourself credit for securing for yourself the many good things of life which you have to enjoy, take yourself to some place where the less fortunate are gathered.

Look around—not as a lord and master surveying the underlings but as a fortunate human being viewing less fortunate of his brothers—and ask yourself how it is, why it is that the situation is not reversed.

Unless you are an unusual individual you'll be impressed with the fact that except for a slip here and there it might be you who got the wrong number when Fate tossed the dice and the other fellow might be in your shoes.

The Bible tells us that the poor are always with us.

In the scheme of things, there doesn't seem to be any way of assuring everybody of at least the barest comforts of life.

But a lot of us who have warm clothes, a roof over our heads, enough to eat and the opportunity to educate our children too often forget that everyone is not as fortunate as we are—and that we should thank our lucky stars that we, for some unknown reason, are not targets for the "slings and arrows of outrageous fortune."

THERE is no man, or no woman, who can truthfully give himself or herself all the credit for "getting along all right."

Every man who has been able to supply the necessities of life to himself and his family has had, whether he realizes it or not, a lot of help along the way.

There is not a man on the South Plains today who might not be a weary member of the submerged one-third of our population had fortune frowned, instead of smiled upon his efforts.

Think it over.

The Story So Far: Judith Goodloe, of an old Maryland family, marries self-made Reuben Oliver for his money — only to discover he is bankrupt. After their twins are born, red-headed Cissy Rogers, who loves Reuben, gets him a job in a lumber camp managed by Gary Brent — the man Judith loves. Reuben is a fighter and trying to live by Judith's codes has weakened him. After a violent quarrel with Judith over Gary Reuben decides to make his own laws. This new Reuben is a stranger to Judith, who is in a dream world with Gary.

Chapter 35

Society In A Lumber Camp

And so life ran placidly—a river of gold with enchantment and allure beneath its surface. Romance floated with the tide and Love was waiting to take the helm. Every commonplace happening took on a glory beyond comprehension. To accept a glass of water from Gary's hand. To have him telephone her and say quickly: "You, Judy? I've got to go to the woods—nuisance but I've got to show up on the work occasionally."

"How long are you staying?"

"A couple of centuries — until the day after tomorrow, really. Will you miss me?"

"As if you didn't know!"

Happiness radiated from her. Just to come home hungry, discard riding clothes for cool cotton and sit down to one of Lu Wing's simply arranged, perfect meals!

Sometimes a shadow appeared on the golden river of her days — Reuben.

He came home for week ends — neither eagerly nor reluctantly — a well mannered guest who fell in with whatever project was on hand and before he went away asked for the household bills, paid such as he could and laid the rest aside.

Gradually the cabin at the top of Winding Hill had become the most popular spot in Camp Site No. 2. People dropped in and found tea was always served at four forty-five to the minute. Served easily and graciously and quite as a matter of routine. They began to stop for pickup suppers on Sunday night or for a chance breakfast after the dance with one of Lu Wing's delicious omelettes. In a small way Judith was dispensing the Goodloe Choice brand of hospitality. Establishing a new social order in the camp at the edge of the forest.

"The beautiful Mrs. Oliver!" People were acutely aware of her.

"A Maryland Goodloe, my dear!" One of the officials' wives made the discovery. "A gorgeous creature with the air of a princess—"

"What about him? — Has she a husband? — Isn't that handsome young Brent extremely attentive?—"

Gradually they pieced together a few half truths about Reuben. "One of those freak, romantic marriages — Oliver had millions for a brief while—"

Gossip spread. An ambitious matron with a sub-deb daughter at school in the east was quick to see the advantage of knowing a Maryland Goodloe. "It may mean an invitation to the Bachelors' Cortillion, who knows? We might as well run up to the camp for awhile. After all there's nothing really of importance going on in town until November."

One by one the cabins opened. Big cars with chauffeurs smartly uniformed purred up the hill. Ladies perfectly coiffed, groomed and wearing mostly smart black frocks alighted — a case of the mountain coming to Mahomet.

Judith accepted her sudden vogue calmly. She sent to Casper Street for her silver, crystal, Cissy's rug — it was superb on the cabin's big, darkly polished floor. She made quantities of tea. Lu Wing baked innumerable tiny wafer-like cakes—

"Are we trying to outrival Newport?" Reuben asked sarcastically.

Orgy Of Spending

Over the week ends Reuben shaded in his wife's popularity — a reflected glory. He was greeted everywhere with a new cordiality — at the pavilion by the Company's officials on Saturday night, on the golf course on Sunday morning. On Monday morning Reuben became a woodsman again. He tried to remain one over the week ends — declining invitations.

As September, October went by, Judith allowed herself very little thought of the future, as is the way of those happy in the present. The first imperfection that appeared upon her horizon was when Pike belatedly presented his bill. The amount shocked her.

During the first couple of weeks in her new environment, Judith had spent Reuben's money timidly — the horror of jobless days in Fordney's Gulch still upon her. Gradually it lifted. The new order so right, so pleasant, established itself firmly and now—Pike's bill!

"I — It must be wrong" Judith figured, added, substracted and added again — reminding herself rather pathetically, of Gran. She could find not one mistake.

"I'll do better next month," apologetically—a new attitude for Judith. She handed the rumpled paper to Reuben. "I didn't realize how much I was spending."

He glanced at the amount. Nearly as much as his month's salary. He opened his lips to tell her so. To say that this wild orgy of spending must stop. Then he remembered that he had vowed to be as good a man as Gary, and after all, a few pounds of tea, a few eggs was not exactly reckless expenditure.

"Is it necessary to entertain the entire camp every day or so?"

"No—no. Most of them have gone now," Judith said.

"We can be thankful for that."

"I enjoyed having them," frankly.

He folded the bill neatly. "This will have to wait until next month. I paid Cissy—I thought that would please you."

"It does." She had almost forgotten Cissy's existence. "Is she still at the Curtis camp?" politely.

"Yes."

"I should think she'd find it dull."

Reuben had a quick vision of the Curtis Camp with its ballroom, its motion picture theaters — outdoors and in—its pool, golf links. Guests arriving and departing. Zipping down the mountain to Hollywood, to Santa Monica—

"How about asking Cissy down here next week end?" He said it casually, yet it was a command not a request.

Judith didn't want to ask Cissy next week end or ever. Once Cissy had taken Gary—

"She couldn't do it now," Judith thought with satisfaction. She said: "That's an idea! Shall I mail the invitation or will you take it to her?"

"Either way. I'll probably see her during the week."

He was seeing Cissy—Luckily she didn't care—

Down With A Bang

Cissy, dressing in Judith's bedroom for the dance given to honor the buyers and wives, eased a gown over her white shoulders. It was a black gown, filmy and simple with the simplicity of extreme expensive-

THE SHAME OF CHILD-MARRIAGES

Citizens of states without legal means of coping with what have come to be known as "child-marriages" have every reason to hang their heads in shame because of inexcusable omission of law.

Residents of Kentucky have no especial reason for pride in their knowledge that many days elapsed before authorities decided they had legal reason to act in the marriage of a 34-year-old man to a 10-year-old girl. Two charges finally have been filed against the man, but none as yet have been brought against the greater offenders, those who are the guardians of the little girl and who apparently sanctioned the union. Kentucky obviously has stricter laws to deal with horses and horse racing than it does to protect its children.

Even in states without effective laws forbidding the marriage of full grown persons to children, it must be apparent to residents that such unions violate every principle of physiology and of humanity. It is one type of transgression for which ignorance should not be accepted as the excuse of adults, because punishment will penetrate the pretensions of even the densest ignorance.

It is hard to believe that any adult person could be partner in or could sanction in any way a child marriage without the knowledge of wrong-doing. But if there are persons who are so ignorant, who are so wholly lacking in the ability to distinguish between right and wrong, they should be put in position where others cannot suffer because of them.

Many Political Futures Depend Upon Results Of Gubernatorial Races In The Middle West

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 — The nation's outstanding 100 per cent New Deal governor and the only two "third party" governors are up before the voters this year in elections which may cost them their political heads.

Here is the lineup:

MICHIGAN: Governor Frank Murphy, handsome red-haired, prolabor intimate of President Roosevelt vs. Republican Ex-Governor Frank A. Fitzgerald, a conservative beaten by Murphy two years ago vs. U. S. Senator Prentiss M. Brown, Democrat, real estate man entered as a "Constitutional Democrat" to take votes from Murphy.

WISCONSIN: Governor Phillip F. LaFollette, Progressive and hopeful founder of the new party "National Progressives of America," vs. Julius P. Heil, millionaire Republican manufacturer of Milwaukee, vs. Harry W. Bolen, 75-year-old conservative Democrat whom most observers count out of the running.

Murphy Has Hard Fight

Michigan nearly always has been a strong Republican state and Republicans claim to be confident they can beat Murphy, whose friends are worried although they think his chances lately have been looking up. Murphy won by only 49,000 two years ago while Roosevelt was carrying the state by 300,000. Michigan since has had its sitdown strikes and Michiganders, according to Republicans, have grown hostile to John L. Lewis and C. I. O. Murphy managed to have the strikes settled without bloodshed, but Republicans and business men connect him with them and say he should have been firm against the strikers. Fitzgerald attacks federal and state spending and has support of numerous Townsendites but not of many WPA workers. Farmers are largely for him because they dislike low farm prices, C. I. O. and New Deal spending.

Dutcher

Murphy benefits from Roosevelt's popularity, from a record of a clean, efficient administration.

C. I. O. is working hard for him and he has A. F. of L. support, although C. I. O. lost the Detroit mayoralty election to a city machine which is helping Fitzgerald. Murphy boasts he settled the sitdown strikes without bloodshed and says he is no "killer." He displays letters from Alfred P. Sloan and other motor magnates praising his handling of the strike situation. His defeat would be both a personal and political blow to Roosevelt, who would promptly offer him a high New Deal post — perhaps the present Supreme court vacancy.

Target Of Conservatives

Benson of Minnesota, whose friends call him "a fine, honest, idealistic fellow with no political sense," suffers from defection of right-wing Farmer-Laborites, some of whom tried before the Dies committee to connect him with Communism. All "big business" elements are against him which may help or hurt. Stassen is a better campaigner and attracts conservative Farmer-Laborites as well as conservative Democrats.

Democratic National Committeeman Joseph Wolf has urged Democrats to back Benson, but Stassen and Democratic Congressman Harmer J. Ryan openly support each other. Benson energetically preaches Roosevelt and New Deal. Labor is behind him, but most farmers seem hostile. Although Stassen wages a relatively clean campaign, followers launch red-baiting, anti-Semitic propaganda against Benson and his administration. Benson has lost ground by losing his temper again.

certain Lutheran clergymen and Lindberg relatives. It's a nasty, close fight. Experts predict the victor will win by a small margin.

Phil LaFollette will either win or lose to Hell by no more than 25,000 votes, according to one sagacious Wisconsin observer. Things looked black for Phil until Hell forces were revealed to have offered John B. Chapple, senatorial candidate on a Townsend ticket, $4800 for his withdrawal and 26 speeches for Hell. Chapple called this a "bribe" and LaFollette partisans make the most of it.

Republican candidates polled 225,000 primary votes as against but 155,000 for LaFollette dynasty. Republicans appeal to farmers on a basis of low dairy prices. Friends of Congressman Thomas R. Amlie, defeated in the Progressive senatorial primary by but 9000 voters, support the LaFollette ticket lukewarmly and many Progressives accuse Phil of using "fascist" techniques, although he has labor support. Many on both sides say the results a toss-up.

Liberalism, the New Deal and the "$30-every-Thursday" pension plan of which the Roosevelt administration wants no part figure in the campaign of Democrat Gilbert L. Olson against Republican Governor Frank F. Merriam of California. So do proposed referendum laws, denounced by Olson, drastically limiting labor activities. Democrats are confident because their registration outnumbered that of the G. O. P. by 3 to 2. Merriam was elected in the state's feverish revolt against Upton Sinclair's candidacy and William Green's endorsement of him has been repudiated by the big A. F. of L. San Francisco Central Labor union. Olson has promised to free Tom Mooney if elected. Republicans also are definitely hopeful, believing reaction against C. I. O. and the "funny money" pension plan favor Merriam.

G. O. P. Confident

Republicans insist one of their gubernatorial bets is in Kansas where Payne H. Ratner opposes Democratic Governor Walter Huxman, a 1936 landslide beneficiary who, however, may pull through despite increased sentiment among farmers against the New Deal farm program and low wheat prices. Farmer dissatisfaction also endangers Governor Nelson G. Kraschel of Iowa, who won by but 2200 votes in the Roosevelt landslide and is opposed by Republican George A. Wilson and LaFollette-supported Farmer-Laborite Wallace M. Short, who may pull votes from Kraschell.

Republicans confess to only an outside chance in Idaho, where former governor Ben Ross opposes their man C. A. Bottolfsen. They admit a lack of party organization in Nebraska, where anyone may win in the three-way fight between Democratic Governor R. L. Cochran, Republican Charles J. Warner and Ex-Governor Charles W. Bryan, Independent. Some Republicans hope their candidate, Nels H. Smith, can beat Governor Leslie A. Miller, in Wyoming.

If Governor Teller Ammons, Democrat of Colorado, squeezes through against the strong candidacy of Republican Ralph L. Carr, former U. S. attorney, it will be because Ammons felt compelled to declare against repeal of the $45 monthly pension plan which has put Colorado in bad financial straits.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sellers snipped at the stock market today and succeeded in cutting down or cancelling early upturns running to 2 points.
Steels led the morning foray with Bethlehem stepping into new high ground for the past year. Along with many other leaders these issues backed down at the close with several ending behind minus marks.
One or two mail orders, oils and specialties held on to modest advances and the rails, seemingly over the worst of their shivers resulting from the wage decision, generally maintained slight gains.
Except for the liveliness of several low-priced stocks, dealings were at a fairly even gait. Transfers approximated 1,200,000 shares.

that the amendment no longer is pending, the administration would have a choice of standing on the provisions of the present wage-hour act, of seeking to strengthen these standards by additional legislation, or of asking congress to submit to the states a new amendment.

Samples Of Lions One-Variety Cotton Will Be Displayed

Forty-eight samples of long staple cotton, grown by 4-H club boys, together with as many samples of short staple cotton, grown by the fathers of the boys, have been arranged for a display by John W. Palmore, jr., assistant county agent. Palmore had the boys on the Lions club one-variety cotton contest to send him the samples of their own and their father's cotton.
Of the 51 club boys who received cotton seed from the club, 48 raised a crop, two were hailed out and one was dusted out. Most of the boys will average three bales to five acres.

Political Talks Differ Widely

(By The Associated Press)
Democratic Chairman James A. Farley and Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, were in disagreement today over the relation of New Deal policies to business improvement.
Landon told a political rally last night at Bartlesville, Okla., that election of Republican congressmen and governors next Tuesday would be "an important step in leading the way back to economic improvement."
Continued experimentation with the nation's finances, he said, is "the one thing that is holding back prosperity."
Farley, on the other hand, said in an endorsement of the California Democratic ticket that business is better everywhere, constituting "a complete answer to the woeful prophecies of those who are attempting to discourage the New Deal."
Their speeches, starting a heavy week of campaigning by both major parties, shared attention with criticism by Secretary Wallace of Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for governor of New York.
Didn't Tell Whole Truth
A statement by Wallace asserted Dewey had not told the whole truth to a Binghamton, N. Y., audience last Friday in saying farm income had not risen in New York as much as in the remainder of the country. Dewey failed to mention, Wallace said, that farm income in the state had not fallen as far from 1929 to 1932 as it did throughout the nation.
President Roosevelt made his first endorsement to a New York candidate, praising Sen. Robert R. Wagner in a letter as "a great liberal."
Times Endorses Candidates
The New York Times, independent Democratic paper which backed Wagner six years ago, announced it would support John Lord O'Brian, his Republican opponent, and Edward Corsi, Republican candidate for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Royal S. Copeland. The New York Daily Times, independent tabloid which has favored the New Deal, endorsed Wagner and Rep. James M. Mead. Corsi's Democratic opponent. Both newspapers have endorsed Gov. Herbert H. Lehman over Dewey.
In Pennsylvania Judge Arthur H. James, Republican nominee for governor, replied to criticism from President Roosevelt, who had charged James with misrepresentation in saying the chief executive had refrained from taking part in the Pennsylvania campaign in order not to put his hands in "muddy water."
James reiterated that there was no other inference when Mr. Roosevelt did not come to Pennsylvania after being photographed at Hyde Park with the state Democratic candidates.
"I have said it, and I repeat it," he added, "that the present Democratic candidates are not running on their own reputations."

Two Are Killed In Sweetwater Crash

SWEETWATER, Nov. 1 (AP)—A head-on automobile collision near here yesterday brought death to Merwin Wilder, 50, of Midland, and Travis Vinzant, 22, of Fort Worth, and injury to two other persons.
Wilder traveling alone in a sedan, collided with a coupe driven by Vinzant who was accompanied by his wife, 22, and his sister, Miss Pharene Vinzant, student of East Texas State College of Commerce.
Wilder was instantly killed and Vinzant died last night in a hospital here. Mrs. Vinzant suffered chest injuries and Miss Vinzant received deep lacerations on the face and forehead. Neither was believed seriously injured.

Assistant Attorney General Is Killed In Austin Crash Today

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Marvin Trevathan, 30, an assistant attorney general, was injured fatally and Miss Lydia McCutcheon, an employe of the attorney general's office, received painful injuries in an automobile collision in Austin early today.
Trevathan, formerly of Lufkin, died soon after he was rushed to a hospital, police reported. Miss McCutcheon was treated for a fractured arm and severe cuts and bruises.

enforcement of the treaty when it was signed.
The armament debate in the current session was expected to center about means to speed defense measures which, the government has acknowledged, are not yet being carried with sufficient mometum.
Opposition parties in the house of commons center their criticism of foreign policy about the Munich pact for dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, reached exactly one month ago today by Britain, France, Italy and Germany.
Opposition speakers have challenged Prime Minister Chamberlain with these accusations during the elapsed month:
That the League of Nations was reduced to impotence through British policy.
That collective security was shattered.
That British diplomacy was defeated successively by Manchurian, Ethiopian, Spanish, Chinese, Austrian and Czechoslovak events.
That the country's defenses had been neglected in perilous times.

Daladier Summons Cabinet To Settle 3-Cornered Row

PARIS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Premier Daladier summoned his cabinet again today to try to end a three-cornered dispute over strong measures which Finance Minister Paul Marchandeau was said to believe necessary to save France from the danger of bankruptcy.
The premier asked the ministers, who met with him yesterday, to assemble at 5 p. m. (11 a. m. CST), although it was All Saints' day, a national holiday.
Political observers said the cabinet split into three groups, one supporting the entire Marchandeau program, one holding it completely unacceptable, and the third, including Daladier, favoring part of the plan but opposing its most drastic measures.
The cabinet kept silent but the French press said the measures revolved about requisition of foreign exchange, exceptional income taxes and an 8 per cent levy on stock coupons.
The nation faces a treasury deficit of 60,000,000,000 francs (about $1,596,000,000) for 1938 and an unfavorable trade balance of 12,600,000,000 francs ($335,160,000) for the first nine months of 1938.

Condition Of Loop Man Said Still Serious At Noon Today

SEAGRAVES, Nov. 1. (Special)—Condition of Glenn King, 18, of Loop, injured in an accident near Seagraves about 2 o'clock this morning, was considered serious at noon today in Gaines and London hospital.
King apparently became blinded by the lights of an approaching truck and the car he was driving was in collision with the rear of another truck. He suffered slight skull fracture and two severe scalp lacerations.
O. R. Cochrell, 26, Loop school teacher, suffered head and arm injuries. He was dismissed from the hospital after treatment. He was riding with King.
B. L. Wooddell of the district highway patrol office in Lubbock is investigating the accident.

Casa Manana Dancing Star For Three Years Marries Monday

DENVER, Nov. 1 (AP) — Edith Goode, a dancing star in Fort Worth's Casa Manana shows for three years, was married yesterday to Gene C. Eyman of La Prairie Ill., a member of Cecil Golly's orchestra.
The couple exchanged marriage vows in the Grant Avenue Presbyterian church before the Rev. Guy E. Konkel.
The bride was runnerup in 1936 in a statewide contest for the title of Miss Texas. The contest was sponsored by Billy Rose, entrepeneur of the Casa Manana shows.
Eyeman, saxaphone player and singer, was graduated from the University of Iiwa in 1935.

Film Colony And World Of Fans Mourn Loss Of Robert Woolsey

MALIBU BEACH, Calif., Nov. 1. (AP)—The film colony and a world of fans today mourned one of the screen's top comedians, bespectacled, cigar-chewing, wise-cracking Robert Woolsey.
Death came to the elder member of the Wheeler and Woolsey team at his beach home here yesterday, after an 18 months' illness which had forced his retirement from pictures.
Bert Wheeler broke off a personal appearance tour at Chicago and flew here early today to attend the funeral services, which will be held Friday.

Farm Session Here

told of the objectives of the program for the state.
Holmgreen Talks
E. M. Holmgreen, administrative officer of the AAA, talked on the past programs, giving a comprehensive picture of previous attempts to improve agriculture. Speaking of the South, he said, "13.7 per cent of the people received but a little over 4 per cent of the income of the nation."
A brief but graphic picture of the present farm situation and what the AAA is doing to relieve the situation was given by W. L. Randolph, Washington, D. C., assistant director of the Southern Region. Randolph, a farmer before entering administrative work, reviewed proposed substitutes for the present program including a resume of the so-called domestic cotton allotment program. The present program, he declared, "can reduce surpluses" if not interferred with.
Alexander Closing Speaker
E. R. Alexander, loaned by Texas A. & M., to the information division of AAA, was the closing speaker of the morning, talking on substitutes.
O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture supervisor of the area, was present and introduced a dozen vocational teachers who sat in on the meeting. Several members of the division of agriculture at Texas Technological college also were present.
From 1:30 to 3 o'clock there were group meetings, with Slaughter a farmer himself, talking to committeemen; agents meeting with their respective leaders and administrative assistants or head clerks with Holmgreen in charge.
From 3 to 4 there will be a general assembly, with Smith talking on the range program.
At 7:30 administrative assistants will hear a discussion of 1938 applications and 1939 cotton allotments.
Wednesday morning the general assembly begins at 8 o'clock with Cade presiding. It will close at noon.

Hallowe'en Damage

combatted a strong emotion of surprise, but laughed at conclusion of their number.
Police said Joe George's barber shop was minus a $25 barber pole this morning. Bruce Gentry sought portions of his farm wagon. Firemen reported they had no trouble, "directly or indirectly," from spooks, "for the first time in years."
J. D. Caldwell and a group of other oldtimers talking in the couthouse agreed Hallowe'en celebrations were not known in the Lubbock section away back in the past.
"We didn't know of anything but Christmas and the Fourth of July," said Caldwell. "We were too busy riding fence and seeing how many cows were down."
Window washing brigades, made up of hot tamale men, cotton pickers, shine boys, clerks and others, assisted the wind and the street cleaning department in getting the sidewalks and gutters free of litter.
Police said they arrested only eight persons, six for drunkenness, two for fighting.
W. C. Ryan of Levelland lost harness, police here were informed.
All in all, the night was quiet enough — if residents went to bed with their ear muffs on.

ness. She said: "Nice shack."

Judith agreed: "I'm crazy about it."

"Rube is doing well at his job, isn't he?"

"Evidently." Rube's wife spread cold cream thickly over her straight little nose, "He's had a raise."

"Good!"

"Perhaps he owes that to your interest, Cissy?"

"Not at all! Things are moving better since Rube took a hand," Cissy smoothed her dress over slim hips, "but there's more to it than that."

Judith asked no questions. She kept on spreading cold cream.

Cissy, determined to pursue this subject said: "There's a lot more to it than that."

"Than what?" idly.

"My interest." Cissy turned to the mirrow: "Galbreath knows a good timberman when he sees one."

"Is he here again?"

"Yes."

"I think I saw him the day I arrived. Fat man with pig eyes isn't he?"

"The eyes are the least of his piglike qualities."

"Is he in this camp?"

"No, across the mountain."

"It's gayer on that side?"

"Much."

For a moment Cissy busied herself pinning down a refractory curl with an invisible pin. This done she said on sudden thought: "Ever notice what a see-saw life is? One side goes way up—fights to stay up—comes down—bang!"

Judith laughed gayly: "That's the one thing I have learned about life, Cissy. I've usually had the end seat that gets the hardest bump."

"Guess you have at that." Cissy admitted grudgingly. "I wasn't thinking of you though, but of Gary Brent."

"Gary? What of him?"

"Ha! She's interested at last," Cissy decided. Leisurely she unpinned the curl and worried it with a comb before she answered: "He's had the up end for quite a while. He's due to come down—that's all."

"Just what do you mean?" Judith hoped her voice was steady "Galbreath is looking around for a new superintendent."

The news struck Judith like a stone between the eyebrows, stunning her. Then suddenly as a Christmas tree ball shatters, her perfect world smashed about her head. If Galbreath got a new superintendent Gary would go home—go somewhere. Leave her here. Leave her to desolation. She couldn't bear it. She wouldn't believe it.

Tomorrow: Cissy lays her cards on the table.

Jay-Walking Is Problem

City and school officials are to cooperate in an effort to persuade children to avoid jay-walking between homes and streets, according to information given at the city hall this morning.

Special attention to this particular problem was decided upon, officials explained, because of reports that numbers of accidents have been narrowly averted to children who wander from the curbs at points other than designated crossings.

Children Must Cooperate

The problem, it was explained, is one which can be handled satisfactorily only if the children themselves cooperate. In the attempt to make them realize the dangers to which they expose themselves, classroom teachers and parents in the home are being urged by City Supt. W. B. Irvin to assist.

Traffic police, quoting from authentic records, explained there is approximately 10 times as much danger of a child being struck by an automobile if he jay walks than at a designated crossing.

Police also called the attention of motorists who have occasion to drive on Avenue S to one particular problem at the alley between Main and Broadway. Many pupils, it was explained, cut across vacant property from Avenue T so that they emerge on Avenue S from the alley. Several such pupils on bicycles have narrowly escaped being struck, city officials were advised. Attempt will be made to discourage the practice of bicyclists but meanwhile, motorists have also been asked to drive with especial care there.

Another Problem Handled

Another problem, at the Avenue H crossing at Seventeenth street, has been handled satisfactorily thus far although school officials admitted they are continuously uneasy. Effort has been made to cause all children living east of Avenue H to cross at Seventeenth and practically all of them are obedient, school officials said. Older children are on duty at rush periods to direct the movement. A further precaution will be a warning sign to be installed as soon as it arrives, officials said.

Motorists were reminded, however, that Seventeenth is a school crossing and they were urged to be especially alert to danger.

Old Gray Mare Is Expected To Move Farther Into Background

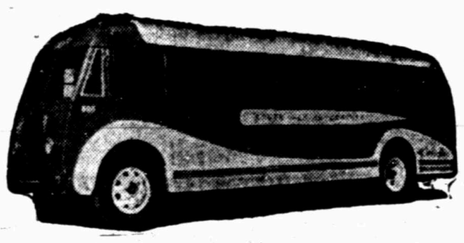

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP) — The agriculture department believes the old gray mare will move farther into the farm background during the next few years. It estimated the number of horses and mules on farms at 11,163,000, only about half as many as in 1915, and said a continuation of the downward trend was expected.
