The SDN COLUMN

One of the pleasantries of this holiday season was a visit with Dub Holt, former speech therapist for Snyder Public Schools, who may have misinterpreted Horace Greely's advice, but nevertheless found success. Dub went north instead of west. He was seeking an advanced degree in his field, and he found it, along with a wife, and now is going for the top rung on the educational ladder.

Dub is now enrolled in a doctoral program at Bowling Green University in Bowling Green, Ohio. How is it going? "It's cold up there."

But he appeared pleased over the fact that he practically had a year of work on his doctorate cinched, and vowed that he would go for four.

He and his wife were here several days visiting his mother, Mrs. W. A. Holt, and his brother and family, District Attorney and Mrs. Wayland G. Holt. Other Holts, including Mr. and Mrs. Brad Holt and family, were here during the holidays.

Two braces of Holts, along with their mother, have lived in Snyder in fairly recent years, including those mentioned above plus Lowell, who, like Wayland, is now a district attorney in Upshur County. Lowell is a former FBI agent and once was a sheriff's deputy here.

I have just received the intelligence that Bob Cooke, a newspaperman who served out a distinguished career in this general area, has been retained as information director for the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers. Cooke retired about a year ago as farm and ranch editor of the Abilene Reporter News, but fortunately he was not ready to consign his typewriter to the scrapheap. The RPCG got itself a real pro, and if things get dull around the cotton patch, Cooke's sense of humor should brighten things up. —WACIL McNAIR

Today In History

Today is Friday, Dec. 29, the 363rd day of 1967. There are two days left in the year.

SOLDIERS FAVOR 'HOT PURSUIT'

Cambodian Sanctuary Ires US

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say Communist troops by the thousands make periodic use of sanctuaries in Cambodia and Laos in their battle against American and allied forces in South Vietnam.

The use of these sanctuaries is viewed in Washington as a matter of major military importance.

President Johnson's advisers are reported split on whether the United States should use "hot pursuit" and search-and-destroy tactics against the enemy hideouts beyond the South Vietnamese borders.

Some State Department and other civilian officials say privately they believe the cost would be too high in terms of worldwide political reaction, but military men say the problem will have to be met.

The dominant Washington view at the moment appears to be that if Secretary of State Dean Rusk cannot get a diplomatic solution at minimum some understanding with the government of Prince Norodom Sihanouk in Cambodia—President Johnson will have to decide in the first months of the new year what U.S. military action may be taken.

This issue, which carries the risk of expanding the war in Southeast Asia in 1968, is one of various unpredictable possibilities of the new year. Another is the outlook for peace—or at least peace talks.

On this question U.S. officials have been intrigued for several weeks by intelligence reports coming out of an area of South Vietnam, reportedly south of Saigon, that the Communists have been telling villagers the fighting would end in February.

But a check of authorities here brings information that the report has come from only one area of South Vietnam and it is therefore not taken too seriously. It has not figured in captured documents or prisoner-of-war information—as has the Communist "fight and negotiate" theory and discussion of forming a coalition government in South Vietnam with both Communist and non-Communist elements.

Those two topics have received extensive attention on the Communist side and therefore have impressed U.S. policymakers as reliable indicators of what the enemy leadership may try to do.

The sanctuary issue has dominated the diplomatic front of the war for the past 10 days as the argument developed in the U.S. government over what should be done about it.

The United States has tried during December to get the Cambodian government to agree to strengthen an international control commission as a means of guarding the borders against crossovers by Communist troops. Prince Sihanouk in a note late last week rejected the U.S. approach and strongly denounced the U.S. role in Southeast Asia.

The United States declared its intention to persist in seeking a diplomatic solution and officials disclosed Thursday efforts are being made to get help from numerous other nations, including the Soviet Union, to solve the Cambodian problem.

Washington authorities were also reportedly interested in reports that despite his tough line in the note to the United States, Sihanouk might be willing to concede that his small army could not guard the borders—and that if U.S. forces chased Communist units over the borders in remote jungle areas there was nothing he could do to stop it.

The State Department also had reports through unofficial channels that Sihanouk would be prepared to receive an emissary from President Johnson to talk over the situation.

Officials said in the nature of hit-and-run guerrilla-type jungle warfare it is impossible to know accurately what enemy troops do when not in combat. This makes a count of sanctuary users virtually impossible.

When Gen. William C. Westmoreland consulted with President Johnson on this issue last month, he reportedly estimated that in October and November in the Kontum border area of the Central Highlands of Vietnam, 10,000 out of 15,000 North Vietnamese troops had crossed into South Vietnam from Cambodia.

Several battles, Dak To and Loc Ninh, were fought in that area and then, by U.S. estimate, upwards of 10,000 enemy troops crossed into Cambodia for rest and recreation, regrouping and resupply.

The countries neighboring South Vietnam—Cambodia and Laos—are involved in Communist military operations in three ways, administration officials said.

Their jungles hide infiltration routes by which thousands of Communist fighters and tons of supplies move every month into South Vietnam. The jungles also provide space for supply bases and hideaways where the troops can rest and be reorganized with security from attack.

The third use of the border areas is for sanctuary to prepare for battle or to flee from battle when the pressure becomes too great.

U.S. officials contend this has been a problem for years. But they say it has become increasingly critical as U.S. and allied forces operating inside Vietnam have progressively smashed Communist base areas which previously had been beyond attack.

A part of U.S. strategy is to destroy security of Communist rest and supply areas.

THE BIG LIFT IN VIETNAM — A giant CH53 helicopter hoists a smaller giant, a CH46 "Sea Knight," after the latter was downed by ground fire while on a resupply mission for South Korean marines in South Vietnam's Quang Ngai province. Mechanics removed the rotors and engines before the downed chopper was moved. A piece of the cowling of the C46 'copter falls to ground as lifting starts. (AP Wirephoto)

War On Thugs In Miami Supported

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Police Chief Walter Headley, defending his newly declared war on hoodlums in Negro districts, told the Miami City Commission today the move was not racially inspired.

"We are flexible in law enforcement," Headley testified as several civil rights leaders stood by ready to attack his policy of arming police in Negro districts with shotguns and dogs.

"Wherever there is crime," the chief said, "we will deploy our forces as in any war."

But he pointed out that four murders and 58 other crimes of violence were committed within a week in the Negro districts and added that groups of youths were "terrorizing the areas."

Mrs. Athalie Range, Negro city commissioner who had supported Headley's new "get-tough" policy on crime in general, testified that for the past two nights, "My phone has not ceased to ring. Citizens call saying they have been harassed by the police."

Headley promised to investigate these reports and said there would be no harassment in the future.

The chief said he favored using dogs in downtown Miami, as well as the Negro areas to curb robberies.

Lawyers for the American Civil Liberties Union-ACLU-planned court action against Headley. But the chief drew the support of Gov. Claude Kirk.

Kirk said Thursday "Police Chief Headley has been forced to instruct his men to use whatever force necessary to stop criminals who have demonstrated time and again that they are ready to use knives, bludgeons and guns against their helpless victims."

"Let every criminal and every potential criminal understand now that officers of the law will deal with him with renewed determination," the Republican governor said.

Marvin Davies, state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he would lead a group of the state's top NAACP officials planning to attend a city commission meeting today where Headley is to explain his new program.

Says DeGaulle A Saboteur

SEATTLE (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., says French President Charles de Gaulle has given material the United States considers secret to the Soviet Union.

Jackson, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, attacked the 77-year-old French leader in a speech to the Chamber of Commerce at Mount Vernon, Wash., and later in an interview here.

Jackson said "It's well known that the Soviet Union has been able to get access to material that certainly is classified by all of our standards."

"He is determined to break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. I predict that he will call for the withdrawal of France from the NATO alliance in 1969," he said.

Jackson said De Gaulle "is a senile individual and his actions against the United States have been vicious, premeditated, deliberate and willful". The senator said the general's actions stem from his "deep hatred toward all English-speaking people."

Jackson recommended that the United States not reappoint an ambassador to France and, instead, be represented in that country only by a charge d'affaires until more effective ways of dealing with De Gaulle are found.

Ambassador Charles Bohlen is being reassigned to the State Department. Jackson said, "I think it would be appropriate in light of Gen. De Gaulle's conduct that we bring the message of disfavor to the French People that we will not provide Ambassadorial service in Paris."

Jackson said the French president "has demonstrated conclusively that he is a bigot. He is an anti-Semite. He does not respect other religions. And I think a man who acts the way he has acted over the past several years deserves to be dealt with severely on the part of the Unted States."

In Washington, the State Department had no comment.

9 Of 18 Children Perish In Blaze

MONT LAURIER, Que. (AP) —Fire swept the home of a couple with 18 children early today. Nine children perished while the others escaped with their parents by jumping from windows of the two-story house into a foot of snow.

Police said the fire broke out at 12:30 a.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Girouard. One of the children jumped from a bedroom window and ran to a neighbor's house to call for help.

The ages of the dead children were not immediately available.

The Girouard's house was at Lac des Iles near Mont Laurier, about 125 miles northwest of Montreal.

The extent of the injuries of those who survived was not known.

4 Deserters Now Say They Are Neutral

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Four U.S. Navy deserters arrived today from Moscow to seek asylum in Sweden and declared they stand neutral between East and West and only want to work for peace.

Asked why they had chosen to come to Sweden instead of staying in Russia where they went after jumping ship in Japan last October, Richard D. Bailey, speaking for the group, said:

"We chose Sweden basically because it is neutral and the neutral line conforms with our views. We do not like politics and wanted to get away from ideologies East or West."

The four sailors, who said they deserted to protest the Vietnam war, arrived on a commercial flight from Moscow and were whisked away from a throng of photographers and newsmen at the airport to a nearby police precinct at Maersta.

Police held them in custody pending a decision by the Aliens Commission in Stockholm on their admission to the country.

Following a two-hour questioning by the police, the four appeared at their first news conference with Western newsmen since their desertion. It was staged by the Swedish Vietnam Committee, a local peace group.

The four sported beards and wore some items of Russian clothes.

No Sales Tax At Midland

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Midland and Kermit voters turned thumbs down on the municipal sales tax Thursday, apparently as result of neighboring Odessa's action in cancelling a special election on the levy.

Five other Texas cities—Sweetwater, Sulphur Springs, Crystal City, Carthage and Nixon—approved the tax to run to 155 the number of municipalities adopting the new source of revenue.

Midland and Kermit are the 19th and 20th cities to reject the tax. The vote was 1,225 against to 146 for at Kermit while Midland voters rejected the tax by a vote of 4,944 to 2,090.

Earlier in the year Odessa and Midland had agreed to call elections Thursday on the tax. When Odessa cancelled its election, major opposition developed among Midland merchants who feared the one per cent extra levy would mean some loss of business to the neighboring West Texas city.

'King Of Jazz' Whiteman Dies

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Famed bandleader Paul Whiteman, the "King of Jazz," died today apparently of a heart attack. He was 76.

The musician was rushed to Doylestown Hospital about 4:30 a.m. after he was stricken in his home near this Bucks County town 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

Whiteman's physician, Dr. D. Kenneth Leiby, said death was due to an acute coronary attack. He died about 20 minutes after being admitted to the hospital.

Whiteman was considered the dean of modern American music and the man who first combined classical music with jazz.

He commissioned George Gershwin to compose "Rhapsody in Blue" and conducted it in 1924 in the first jazz concert ever given. He also introduced Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite." His recording of "Three 'o'Clock in the Morning" sold 3 million copies.

Whiteman, known to his associates as "Pops," directed such musical stars as Bing Crosby, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Morton Downey and Benny Goodman when his band was the most popular in the country between World War I and World War II.

He remained devoted to all kinds of music to the very end. "I don't think you have to live in one groove all the time," he said recently. "If it's well done, it's well done, no matter what kind it is."

Whiteman apparently had been in good health until stricken, taking an active part in the civic and cultural life of New Hope. He served as an honorary officer of art shows and theatrical events.

One of the highlights of Whiteman's career came last fall when residents of New Hope, the quaint Bucks County village 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia on the Delaware River, where he lived in semiretirement, honored him for his half century in jazz.

He named his retirement home "Coda" explaining a coda was the last eight bars.

Whiteman was born in Denver, Colo., and played first viola in the Denver Symphony in his teens. He formed his first orchestra shortly after World War I and toured the United States and Europe.

In the 1930s, Whiteman became a popular conductor on radio programs. In 1943 he was musical director of the Blue Network, which later became the American Broadcasting Co.

A transformer blew out on a power line about 10 miles west of town about 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Prospects Better For Small Grains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau reports prospects for winter wheat and other small grains seeded during the fall for next summer's harvest have improved generally as a result of rains in recent days.

"Small grains are in mostly good condition across the country except for western sections of some Plains states and southeast Colorado," said the bureau's weekly crop bulletin.

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago I married for a second time, thinking I would have companionship for the rest of my life, but I was wrong. All Ben wanted was a cook and housekeeper. He only wants to go to visit HIS children and grandchildren. Never mine. Not only that, but he is very close with a dollar. He has a lot more than I have, but he doesn't spend any of his. Only mine. We live in MY house, and I pay the taxes and upkeep while he hangs on to his money which he will leave to HIS children. At age 64 would you advise a separation?

NETTIE

DEAR NETTIE: I would advise a separation — of money, first. If Ben has money, let him spend it. Talk in money syllables. If he isn't any happier with this arrangement than you are, then separate everything else.

DEAR ABBY: I am practically engaged to a guy whose last name is absolutely ridiculous. It has 14 letters in it and nobody can pronounce it. Very few people can remember it, and nobody can spell it, which can not help but be a handicap in business.

He would be doing himself a tremendous favor if he changed it to something shorter and easier to pronounce. I have hinted about this several times but he hasn't taken me seriously. Should I come right out and tell him how I feel about it?

THE FUTURE MRS.

DEAR FUTURE: First, let him change your name to his, then point out the advantages of changing it to something shorter and simpler.

DEAR ABBY: When someone wrote and asked you why blondes had more fun, you answered, "Because they're easier to find in the dark."

Well, that was kind of cute, but you could also have said, "Blondes have more fun because boys get tired of squeezing blackheads."

UAW Okays Pact At GM

DETROIT (AP)—Ratification of a new three-year national contract covering some 380,000 workers at General Motors Corp. was announced today by the United Auto Workers Union.

The announcement was made by Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president and director of the union's GM department.

Skilled workers were reported to have approved the agreement by about 3½-to-1, while production employes ratified it 5-to-1, Woodcock said. Under union rules, the pact had to be approved by both groups before going into effect.

Woodcock notified 114 of the UAW's GM locals to step up their own local negotiations with plant level management. The other 20 GM locals have settled already.

In a telegram to the locals, Woodcock warned that any strikes, work stoppages or curtailment of production must be authorized in advance by UAW headquarters.

The GM settlement parallels agreements reached earlier at Ford and Chrysler.

The agreement provides for an average increase of $1 an hour in wages and fringe benefits over the three-year span of the contract. Workers were receiving an average of $4.70 an hour.

The increases in the contract will boost labor costs for the company about six per cent a year.

Meanwhile, General Motors became the first U.S. automaker Thursday to announce an auto price increase—$22 on most models — to cover the cost of front-seat shoulder harnesses, now required by federal law.

2 Mishaps In Area Of Courthouse

There were two motor vehicle mishaps in the vicinity of the Courthouse Thursday.

The first one occurred at 1:45 p.m. when a 6-ton truck-tractor operated by Frank Martinez of Slaton crashed into the parked 1963 Model Chevrolet of J. O. McNew, 3713 Noble Drive.

The truck driver turned right off Twenty-fifth Street onto Avenue S, according to officers, who said the right rear of the truck came into contact with the left side of the car. The car was legally parked on the east side of Avenue S, near the intersection. Damage to it was estimated at $50. Damage to the truck was negligible.

Martinez apparently did not know the mishap occurred until he was informed of the collision by highway patrolmen who apprehended him 10 miles north of town. Custom Leasing of Lubbock is owner of the truck.

The second collision occurred at 3:20 p.m. on the parking lot at the southwest corner of the courthouse.

Involved were the 1959 model Chevrolet of Beatrice C. Ortegon, Box 740, Snyder, and the 1962 model Ford of Lester A. McClanahan, 611 E. Highway.

Damage to the Chevrolet was placed at $100 and damage to the Ford was set at $40.

Police Patrolman D'Waine Jernigan investigated the mishap involving the truck, and patrolman Glen Roberts investigated the other one.

Bunker Has Swift Talks With Thieu

TAM HIEP, Vietnam (AP)— U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and President Nguyen Van Thieu held a high-level, spur-of-the-moment meeting today and Thieu called it "very urgent."

But neither Thieu nor the U.S. Embassy would say what the meeting was about.

Thieu was touring allied military bases and was at the headquarters of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division 20 miles east of Saigon when Bunker's helicopter landed unexpectedly with Bunker and the embassy's minister-counsellor for political affairs, John A. Calhoun.

Thieu, Bunker, Calhoun, and the deputy U.S. commander, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, met for 10 minutes. Bunker and Calhoun left immediately for Saigon.

Bunker's quick trip to see Thieu in the field indicated that he had to discuss a matter that could not wait for Thieu's return to Saigon in the afternoon. Speculation ranged from a message from President Johnson, to possible peace moves, to the current controversy over "hot pursuit" in curtailing use of Cambodia and Laos as a sanctuary for Communist troops.

When asked about the meeting later, Thieu said, "It's a secret."

He said, however, it did not have anything to do with the Cambodian border.

Earlier Thieu said he believed Pope Paul VI would become an intermediary for peace in Vietnam if he was asked, but Thieu declined to say whether he had made such a request.

Thieu saw President Johnson in Australia last week, after which Johnson went to Rome and met with Pope Paul. There was speculation in Saigon at the time that Johnson had a message from Thieu asking the Pope to interceed for peace, or a letter from Thieu to president of Communist North Vietnam, Ho Chi Minh.

Don B Heads Anita Field

By TOM SLADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don B., one of the West Coast's top candidates for the Kentucky Derby, heads the field at Santa Anita Saturday in the $50,000-added California Breeders Champ on Stakes. The Santa Anita race is one of four stakes to be run on the last Saturday of the year. Others are the $25,000-added Capitol Handicap at Laurel, the $15,000-added Miami Beach Handicap at Tropical, and the $10,000-added Sugar Bowl Handicap at the Fair Grounds.

Don B. figures to be the early favorite in the seven furlong race for 2-year-olds, with a probable field of 15 California-bred colts. Owned by Don B. Wood and ridden by Don Pierce, Don B. has captured seven of 11 starts. In his last outing he whipped Royal Fols by six lengths in the $70,200 Bay Meadows Juvenile Championship at 1 1-16 miles. Broad Shadows, Right or Wrong and Royal Fols are other top contenders.

EISENHOWER'S GRANDDAUGHTER

Barbara Faints At Debut

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The coming out of Barbara Anne Eisenhower, comely granddaughter of the former president of the United States, was marred Thursday night when she fainted briefly.

"I'm so embarrassed," she said later in the rock 'n' roll room of the International Debutante Ball after 61 other young ladies had finished making their presentations.

"I felt something coming over me and I don't remember anything else except tugging at Don," she said, referring to Donald Stolper, her escort for the evening and roommate of her brother David at Amherst College.

Miss Eisenhower, representing the United States at the 13th annual ball at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, had been the first to bow and was standing on the three-tiered stage in the ballroom while the others paraded the long course of the room.

Stolper aided her in walking off the stage. After only a few moments she returned and was able to continue.

Part of the perils of debuting as Dwight D. Eisenhower's granddaughter was posing endlessly for photographers at the expense of dinner.

Earlier Stolper approached someone and begged them to find a place for Miss Eisenhower in the crowded debutante dining room.

"Barbara's going to faint. She hasn't had anything to eat all day," he said.

After the presentation her anxious father, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, broke in to her dance and after learning she had recovered whirled her around the floor.

More than a thousand persons had gathered to witness the deep bows of a host of offspring of millionaires, politicians and noted old families.

The most debuted young lady at the party was Marion Louise Hosford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney. It was her fifth coming out party of the season and one her mother said she almost didn't make.

"Our private plane had such a time landing in the snowstorm," said Mrs. Whitney.

The loudest applause went to four Texas girls—three of whom made deep floor-kissing bows. The four were Miss Jeanne Moran, daughter of chemical millionaire John J. Moran of Houston; Lawren Ethridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Edward Ethridge Jr. of Corpus Christi; Lacy Crain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Crain Jr. of Longview, and Suzanne Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart Boyle of Houston.

An outstanding presentation came from Miss Lindsay Hoyer-Millar, daughter of Sir Leslie Glass, ambassador from Great Britain to the United Nations, and Lady Glass, who represented Scotland. She paraded through the ballroom with her own kilt-clad bagpiper furnishing music for her.

A total of 18 nations were represented at the ball. It benefitted the Pearl Buck foundation, a charity which aids displaced children of American servicemen in Asia. Miss Buck attended the ball.

Debutantes to the ball came from as far as Japan, Malta and West Germany.

Cuba Faces Oil Shortage

MIAMI (AP) — The Fidel Castro regime is storing oil in caves and other secret spots for possible emergency use, says a Cuban exile report.

Refugees from Cuba say there is such a gasoline shortage there that many service stations don't have any and cars have been lining up for blocks at others.

This shortage, along with sporadic power blackouts from lack of fuel, said AIP, the exile news agency, comes in the face of record oil supplies from Russia.

Cuba received 35 million barrels of oil from the Russians this year, AIP said, as against 29,220,639 barrels mostly from Venezuela, in 1957, the last pre-Castro year. The survey placed the 1966 supply from Russia at 32 million barrels, and that of the previous year at 33 million.

Auto traffic in Cuba has drastically declined. Cuba has imported few cars since 1959. Most of those still there are American-made, with parts at a premium because of a U.S. embargo.

On the basis of supply and consumption figures, the agency's survey indicated enough reserves stored to last Cuba two years without help from abroad.

In addition to the imported oil, AIP reported, Cuba produced 735,000 barrels of its own this year, compared with 393,845 barrels in 1958.

Primitive Kenya Recorded

THE PEOPLES OF KENYA. By Joy Adamson.

Yes, this is the same Joy Adamson who wrote about Elsa the lioness and her cubs. But this is a greatly different aspect of her life and works.

Mrs. Adamson is a self-taught painter whose early hobby was going watercolors of the flowers around her in Kenya. Gradually she began to make portraits of the natives, first in watercolors and later some in oil. She also became an accomplished photographer.

All this led to a project for recording visually the aspects of life in the many tribes living in Kenya. At first she was on her own, then received a commission from the government (this was before Kenya's independence) to portray the traditional costumes of 22 tribes. She continued the project after government support ran out, and finally painted hundreds of pictures.

This book really is an album of her art work and her many photographs, with an accompanying text describing her adventures as she pursued this work for more than six years.

It is a running report of the rituals, exotic costumes and ornaments, customs, superstitions and habits of the various tribes she visited. It contains stories of warriors carrying spears, witch doctors, sorcerers, rainmakers, dancers and musicians.

The author found that in many areas only the elders retained the traditional rites and ornaments so that often she had to search for authentic models.

It is only natural that this work lacks the universal, dramatic appeal of Mrs. Adamson's narrative about Elsa and her cubs. Cubs are always cuter than people.

It is a record of a changing primitive land, beset by the advance of "civilization." In that respect it resembles the efforts of a small group of American artists who recorded on their canvases the last days of the American Indian.

It is now more than a year since we have discussed the subject of leaky faucets. Our mail indicates that it requires more attention than that. Also quite evident is that women are showing a decided interest in tackling the problem. This could mean that (1) men know how to stop faucet leaks and don't need any advice or (2) men are less likely to admit they need help in handling such a basic maintenance chore or (3) women simply would rather do it themselves.

Whatever the reason, stopping a faucet from dripping can be accomplished effectively by any woman without help from a male member of the household. The one essential is that she be aware of how to turn off the water at the nearest shut-off valve or the main shut-off valve. Which, by the way, is something she should know in case of an emergency even if she never undertakes a faucet repair. Knowing how to turn off the water can prevent an ordinary pipe leak from turning into a flood.

The most common type of faucet leak is that occurring from the spout of a compression faucet, still in use in the large majority of sinks in the country, despite the inroads being made by single-lever and other types of modern faucets, some of which do not even use conventional washers.

When you have determined whether it is the hot or the cold water that is leaking, turn off the shut-off valve. Place adhesive tape round the packing or cap nut just under the faucet handle. Using a flat-faces wrench, turn the nut counterclockwise. When the cap is loose, turn the handle in the same direction as when you turn on the water. Keep turning until the shaft or stem comes completely out of the faucet.

At the lower end of the stem, you will find a washer, probably worn or chewed up, held in place by a round-headed screw. Using a screwdriver, remove the screw and dispose of the washer. Put a new one in its place, replace the parts in the opposite order to which they were removed, turn on the water and the leak will be gone.

Of course, there could be complications. You might not be able to turn the screw. Or it may be that the faucet seat needs to be smoothed. Or the threads of the stem may be stripped. But, more than 90 per cent of the time, the simple procedure described here will solve the problem. When it does, take the faucet stem to your hardware dealer and ask his advice.

A less likely but occasional type of leak is that which occurs at the cap nut. This can be corrected by loosening the nut and replacing the packing, a kind of cord-like material that fits under the cap. Packing is available at a hardware store and costs but a few cents. Washers can be purchased individually (be sure you get the proper size) or in a box that has assorted sizes and screws to fit.

QUESTION: We are having some plywood kitchen cabinets installed. We found that it was cheaper to use unfinished plywood. Besides, we felt that we would like to try our hand at finishing the cabinets, probably with a semigloss enamel. Can you give us some tips about this?

ANSWER: The first thing to do is to remove all the pulls, latches and other hardware on the outside of the cabinets. If you are careful, it will not be necessary to take off the inside hardware. No matter how smooth the plywood appears to be, it should be sanded again, using a fine grade of sandpaper and being sure to wipe off all grit after the sanding is completed.

Now examine the wood carefully and see whether there are any nail holes or cracks that have to be filled. Use a wood putty or some other type of crack filler. When the filler has hardened completely, sand it level with the surrounding surface. If any of the filler has shrunk, it may be necessary to apply a little more to that particular spot, again being sure to sand smooth.

Apply a coat of white enamel undercoater, preferably of the same brand as the semigloss enamel that is to be applied. When the undercoater has dried thoroughly, sand it lightly. If you use a waterproof type of sandpaper, there is likely to be less dust. The sandpaper should be moistened regularly with water.

We repeat: sand lightly so that you remove only irregularities and not the undercoater itself. Go ahead with one or two coats of the semigloss enamel. Some experienced workers prefer to use two coats of undercoater and one of the final coat.

Before you start, ask your contractor whether the plywood is fir. If it is, then the undercoater should be of a special type made especially for fir plywood. All hardware stores carry it. If it is any other plywood, then the regular enamel undercoater will do.

Suburban Ministry Satirized

THE DEVIL AND HENRY RAFTIN. By Howard Singer.

Our hero, Henry Raftin, is a Protestant minister. But he is far from being a typical one. What Singer is doing in this novel is to satirize the shortcomings of suburban church life by telling the adventures of Raftin in the mythical town of Harness, N. J.

Raftin was a Boston boy who became a fighter pilot in Vietnam and decided when he came home to enter a theological seminary. Even there he did not fit the conventional pattern. His faculty mentor suggested that he do his thesis on the Dead Sea Scrolls. Raftin ignored the scholarly rules and wrote the story in the form of a novel, so it was turned down as a thesis.

But his mentor secretly sent the script to a movie tycoon named Dangel, who happened to be looking for something unusual.

Of course Dangel had the script butchered beyond recognition, in true Hollywood style, which caused Raftin to fight through the courts to uphold his original concepts.

But meanwhile Raftin was exposed to Hollywood's wiles, specifically those of a promising young actress, Carole Cavorte.

Against the background of these complications, the author gets in some cynically humorous comments on the life of a young minister trying to cope with scheming trustees and neurotic members of the congregation. This pastor's life is not a happy one, and the frustrations keep it from being fruitful.

Singer writes a witty bit of prose. His dialogue often is as snappy as the lines of a Broadway hit. His needle is sharp for both the Main Street complexes of a suburban town and the cliche-clobbered precincts of moviedom. The result is a fanciful tale that carries a lot of comic sting.

Timing Puts Bold Ideas Into Nation's Law Books

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ability of the American political system to transform controversial new legislation into broadly accepted programs was demonstrated anew by congressional action this year on the federal aid-to-education and antipoverty programs.

In the areas of Social Security, civil rights, welfare and labor relations, proposals that at one time seemed dangerously radical to a large part of the population are securely enshrined in the law books.

It could be happening again.

Just a few years ago the opposition to a federal school bill was so intense President John F. Kennedy had to abandon any hope of getting one passed. But the 90th Congress recently gave overwhelming approval to a bill extending the program through 1970 at a total authorization of $9.3 billion.

The antipoverty bill has touched off some of the fiercest fights in Congress during the last three years. But this year it won a two-year extension by a solid bipartisan vote and appears firmly established on the national scene.

The capacity of the body politic to absorb ideas it once resisted is largely a matter of timing and leadership. It was President Johnson who supplied the leadership that launched the anti-poverty and school bills, but it was Congress that put them through the fires of controversy and tempered the opposition.

Both bills were originally passed by the 89th Congress, which Johnson called, "My Congress." With their huge majority, Democrats not only had no need of Republican support, they pointedly shunned it, preferring to drive the Republicans into an opposition role in the belief it would damage the GOP in urban areas.

It may have been smart politics, but as a legislative procedure it produced a sharp partisan division that jeopardized both programs in the much more closely matched 90th Congress, particularly in the House.

The administration made no concessions to the changed conditions in the House and early in nation, key Democrats on the the session both programs appeared on their way to being severely mangled. Convinced that the administration was out of touch with the House and the Education and Labor Committee forced through the changes that smoothed the road to passage for both measures.

In each case the keys to broadened support were amendments increasing the role of state and local authorities in the programs and weakening the federal government's role.

The resulting legislation was far from satisfactory to many of its warmest supporters.

"If the antipoverty bill is hailed as a victory," noted the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, "it is because the worst things Congress was generally expected to do to the poverty program were somehow avoided."

And those who never liked either program found nothing to cheer about in their continuation for two more years.

But the lopsided votes by which each was approved indicated the programs had achieved the kind of endorsement that can lead to a long life on the statute books.

Junior Editors Quiz on CHEESE

QUESTION: What makes the different kinds of cheese?

* * *

ANSWER: Cheese is made from milk, which can be separated into two different substances, the liquid whey and the more solid curd. Lactic acid bacteria, put into the milk, help to start the separation. As the milk starts to ferment, rennet extract is added, the whey and curd separate and the whey is removed. It is the curd which will become cheese, through various processes of salting, pressing and curing. Variations in the cheese-making process account for the different kinds. For example, cottage and cream cheeses are made by using lactic acid cultures to separate the curd, but are not ripened or fermented afterward. Cheddar or American cheese is a ripened variety which has been cured from 60 days to two years. A shorter period makes it smooth and mild, a longer curing gives it a sharp taste. A penicillin mold put in the cheese, called Roquefort, gives the sharp taste and produces dark streaks. A very popular modern kind is processed cheese, made of several kinds ground and blended together. It melts smoothly and is splendid for toasted cheese sandwiches.

This Is Lost Week Of The Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Every year has a lost week, and this is it for most people.

It is the lull in life that occurs between Christmas Day and the 2nd of January.

The atmosphere of frantic good will to all subsides into a live and let live feeling of tired tolerance. When people meet each salutes the other with half-nod, a half-smile, a stifled yawn and a small "hello" that sounds like a sigh of exhaustion, or the last noise of a deflating toy balloon.

The general emotion is one of genteel fatigue and acceptance of things as they are. Man is caught in a posture of postponement.

Next week, of course, everybody will be up and doing, and the bustle of resumption will resound throughout the land.

But this week nobody is launching new battleships, because nobody feels like making waves. All the busy human spiders are just sitting there watching dust collect on their cobwebs and admiring their filmy architecture.

You might say this is National Do Nothing Week. Even the people who are scheming against the national welfare are probably lying down on the job this very minute because they are too tired to stand up and plot.

Of course, the tremendous pulse of American industry is never altogether stilled. If anyone had the strength to walk through a typical business office, he would see a lot of activity going on, but it would be like one of those camera scenes done in slow motion.

This is because nobody is really doing anything much—he is just going through the motions of Going Through The Motions Week.

The stern boss spends half a day holding his spectacles up to the light and polishing them. He is too worn out to frown at his staff, let alone give them the bawling out they deserve. And his underlings pay him no more attention than magpies do a weary bull. They know that if he hasn't fired them already he won't make up his mind to do so until next week.

The efficient worker does open his desk drawer and consider cleaning it out, but then a second thought occurs to him: "If I clean it out now, what'll I do next week?" He quietly eases the drawer shut with a mental admonition to himself to be sure to lay in enough aspirin to last him through 1968.

This is the best week of all for home life. The children are too busy breaking or tearing apart their Christmas presents to require any particular parental attention. Papa and Mama call a truce in the usual duel of loving matrimony. Even the pets are at peace. The cat dozes with its head cushioned on the flank of the sleeping dog.

Yes, it is the lost week of the year, but it is a week well lost.

As the saying goes, next week we simply must get organized. Or the week after next, anyway —without fail.

FORT WORTH — Texas A&M newly - crowned champion of the Southwest Conference who will meet Alabama in the Cotton Bowl, upset the news media in the 34th annual TCU Sports News Poll.

Only 13 members of the news media went along with the Aggie Bumper stickers - The Aggies are Back - while four others had the Cadets in a tie for the championship. The Aggies were tagged for a third-place finish in the TCU poll, as Texas was an overwhelming favorite to take the crown.

Coach Gene Stallings' Aggies won their last six games to vault to the coveted SWC title. The Aggies finished with a 6-1 mark, with another surprise, Texas Tech, runner-up with a 5-2 record.

Here how the 117 men of the press-radio-TV had the 1967 SWC race pegged: 1- Texas; 2- Arkansas; 3- Texas A&M; 4- TCU; 5- Texas Tech; 6- Baylor; 7- SMU; 8-Rice.

And the finish went like this: 1- Texas A&M, 6-1; 2- Texas Tech, 5-2; 3- tie between TCU and Texas, 4-3; 5- Arkansas, 3-3-1; 6 - SMU, 3-4; 7-Rice, 2-5; 8-Baylor, 0-6-1.

It was the first time since 1956 that A&M had been in the title picture. That season the Aggies were picked for second-place. The Cadets were surprises also in 1939-40-41 when they either won or shared the crown. In 1939, they came from a predicted fifth place to win 11 straight games and the National championship; in 1940, they were tagged for runner-up, but shared the title with SMU; and in 1941, the Aggies again won the League prize after being selected for fourth.

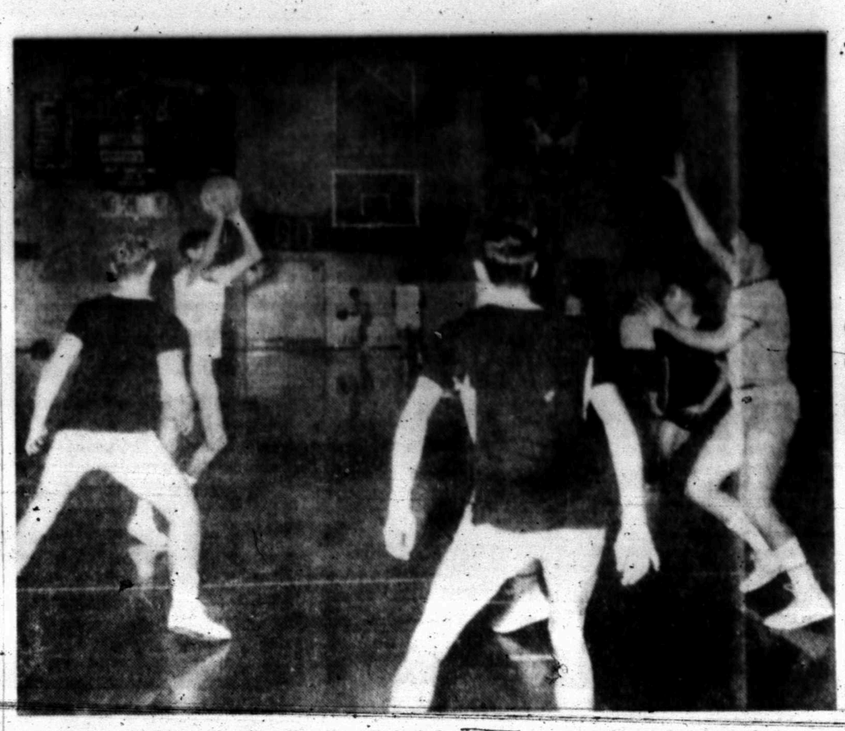

Here is the honor roll of newsmen who tabbed the Aggies for the title when the poll was voted last July: Jim Bell, Tulsa World; W. H. Byrd, Marlin Daily Democrat; Carl Dingler, Odessa American; Frank Fallon, Station KWTX, Waco; Mike Finley, Bay City Tribune; Terry Holman, Valley Evening Monitor, McAllen; Bill King, Gainesville Register; Fred Nuesch, Paris News; Putt Powell, Amarillo News-Globe; F. D. Smith, El Campo Leader-News; Buck Sitton, Snyder Daily News; Pat Truly, Fort Worth Star - Telegram; and Ken Wilson, Alice Daily Echo.

And these four had the Cadets tied for the Championship — Jim Butler, Bryan Daily Eagle, who forecast a deadlock between A&M and Arkansas; Dave Campbell, Waco News - Tribune, who liked A&M and Texas; Mike Shropshire, Fort Worth Press, a three-way tie between A&M, Texas and Arkansas; and Tony Slaughter, Fort Worth Star - Telegram, who had A&M sharing the prize with Texas

It was interesting to note, though, of the 13 who forecast an Aggie Cotton Bowl berth, only three had the surprising second-place Texas Tech Red Raiders high as fourth - Bell, Nuesch and Truly. Of the others, one had Tech 5th; three, 6th; five, 7th and one, last.

As usual the comments from the media were entertaining. But probably the best came from Powell, the veteran author from Amarillo, who with his selection of the Aggies, penned:

"Aggie football is no joke."

LENGTHY DRILL — The Snyder High School Tigers went through a lengthy practice session yesterday in preparation for their district opener at Lake View Jan. 2. More of the same is on tap today. The Bengals have a 9-3 season record. The junior varsity, which opens the program at 6:15 p.m., sports a 7-6 mark.

FIRST DISTRICT TILT

Hopeful Tigers Visit Lake View Tuesday

"We've got a chance," declared Ned Underwood, Snyder High School basketball coach, Thursday afternoon as he prepared to send his Tiger squad through another lengthy drill in preparation for the district opener next Tuesday at Lake View.

The Bengals resumed practice Dec. 26 with two-a-day sessions. More of the same was on tap today with single drills scheduled for Saturday and Monday prior to the game.

"We don't know a thing about the Chiefs," said Underwood, "but we'll be ready for them."

Lake View has been somewhat less than impressive this season, losing lopsided tilts to Sweetwater and several other teams. The district affray may be something else, but right now the Chiefs' aren't considered serious challengers for the 3-AAA crown.

Defending state champion Lamesa, Levelland, Snyder and Dunbar are expected to engage in a 4-way fight for the 3-AAA flag with Littlefield, Sweetwater Brownfield and Lake View finishing in the second division.

"We've been fortunate with injuries," said Underwood, "—only two boys are out now, and both should be ready by tipoff time Tuesday."

Mitch Rambin, junior reserve, has a sore wrist and treated the injured muscles with a new electronic machine yesterday. Starter Jim Patrick, sophomore center, was slowed with an ankle injury.

Coach Jerry McLeod of the junior varsity pronounced everyone in good health. The JV will take on the junior Chiefs at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday prior to the main event matching the varsity teams of both schools.

Both coaches expressed satisfaction that the first two home district tilts will be held in the coliseum, and both were hopeful that fan support would be sufficient to continue holding the games there.

Athletic director Wayne Tyrone also was present to watch the drills, and he expressed similar sentiments concerning the 3,000 - seat capacity coliseum.

Bob O'Day, a basketball referee who called a game in the new facility during the Canyon Reef Tournament, was enthusiastic about the coliseum.

"From an official's standpoint, it couldn't be better. It's not as crowded and the players can hear the whistle better."

The Bengals host Levelland here on the coliseum court Jan. 5 and Brownfield here Jan. 12.

Louisville In Finals Of Holiday Tourney

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston College, the nation's 10th-ranked team, will meet Louisville, led by All-Tmerican Westley Unself, on the final day of the New York Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament. That was expected.

At stake will be third place in the annual ECAC event. That was not expected.

As a matter of fact, the unexpected popped up at various spots around the tournament circuit Thursday night as such powerhouses as Indiana, No. 3 in the country, and Tennessee, No. 4, were also defused a bit.

New York City basketball, known more for developing and losing the Lew Alcindors than for keeping them, enjoyed one of its finest moments at Madison Square Garden where St. John's beat Boston College for the second time this season, 60-57 and Columbia stopped Louisville 74-67.

The St. John's victory wasn't decided until the final minute when Rudy Bogad and Joe De-Pre put in six free throws, but i was still less nerve-wracking than the Indians' 91-90 victory in overtime earlier in the season.

"I guess they're the better team," BC Coach Bob Cousy said. "Almost doesn't count."

Columbia's victory was particularly satisfying, as the Lions made up a seven-point halftime deficit. Sophomore Jim McMillian scored 24 points, though Louisville's Unseld topped all the scorers with 25.

Indiana's six-game winning streak came to a rude end in the All Sports Association tournament in Dallas, Tex., where Western Kentucky, -2, took the lead early and never lost it, winning 110-91.

Wayne Chapman scored 34 points for the winners and Rich Hendrick added 26.

Tennessee carried Iowa into overtime at the Los Angeles Classic, before losing its first in five games 64-59. Baskets in overtime by Dick Jensen, Sam Williams and Ron Norman won for the Hawkeyes. Williams led the scorers with 25 points.

But the road was not so rough for some of the other Top Ten teams Friday. Fifth-ranked North Carolina beat Stanford 87-78 and Utah, No. 7, edged Oregon, 64-63, in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

In other tournament action Friday, St. Francis downed Duquesne 86-83 to move in the Quaker City final in Philadelphia against Temple, which beat Wisconsin 82-80. St. Joseph's, Pa., won the Gator Bowl tourney at Jacksonville, Fla., from Washington 79-74.

The University of Connecticut beat William and Mary 51-49 in the Connecticut Basketball Classic at Storrs, Conn., and TCU beat Massachusetts 66-65. Alabama won the Mobile, Ala., Classic, downing Tulane 90-83.

Brigham Young beat Xavier of Ohio 87-75 and Virginia Tech downed Idaho State 103-76 in the All College tournament at Oklahoma City, Okla. Miami won the Hurricane Classic at Miami Beach, Fla., beating NYU 102-91.

At the Tirangle Classic in Raleigh, N.C., North Carolina State beat Army 75-60 and Georgia nipped Yale 79-75.

Verga Stars As Chaparrals Clip Pacers In Overtime

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Verga of the Dallas Chaparrals apparently intends to continue his effective shooting right up to the time he goes into the U.S. Army next week.

Verga, the American Basketball Association's second leading scorer, contributed 37 points Thursday night when Dallas edged the Indiana Pacers 127-125 on Cincy Powell's layup in overtime.

In other games, Minnesota, leading the Circuit's Eastern Division, defeated New Orleans 115-101, Houston beat Anaheim 104-93 and Denver downed New Jersey, 119-102.

Powell hit on his clinching basket for Dallas with only 35 seconds left in overtime. The Pacers, who were paced by Bob Netolicky's 37 points, had one last try at tying the game. But Fred Lewis' jump shot bounced off the basket and the rebound was grabbed by Dallas' John Beasley.

Verga is scheduled to leave Jan. 5 for six months of Army reserve training.

Sam Smith came off the bench in the fourth quarter and ignited a 10-pound scoring burst that carried the Muskies to victory over New Orleans. Smith scored eight of the 10 ponts as Minnesota increased an 86-83 lead. The triumph was the Muskies' fourth straight and increased their divisional lead to 1½ games over Pittsburgh.

Mel Daniels topped Minnesota with 26 points. Jimmy Jones was high for the Bucs, also with 26.

Joe Hamood, a second stringer, starred for Houston. He got 17 of his 19 points in the decisive fourth quarter during which the Mavericks outscored Anaheim, 30-21. Art Becker led the winners with 22 points while Warren Davis was the Amigos' high man with 17.

Denver used a successful fast break in the third quarter to toll past New Jersey. Larry Jones paced the winning Rockets with 31 points.

In the National Association, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 126-122 and San Diego defeated Seattle 143-125.

Houston Is In, Believe It Or Not

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers take a brief workout today and then fly to Oakland for their fourth American Football League championship game in eight years.

Four months ago practically everyone with the club would have thought such a mission impossible.

The Oilers were 3-11 cellar daellers a year ago and many fans thought Coach Wally Lemm was a bit optimistic when he indicated a 7-7 break even would be a pretty good season.

Don Klosterman, the general manager, hadnothing more than hopes for improvement that would amount to a major step in a four-year rebuilding program.

Klosterman was called in early last year to start the reconstruction program after 6-8, 4-10, and 4-10 seasons had followed two AFL championships and a third Eastern Division title.

Offers To Buy Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Curtis Sanford, father of the Cotton Bowl, has offered $10 million for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League "or whatever (Clint) Murchison might want," his executive secretary said Thursday.

Sanford would keep the Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl, the secretary, Dick Charles, said, relaying the information from Sanford, who is in Florida.

A spokesman for the team said, "The Cowboys are not for sale."

Charles said Sanford has the necessary financial backing. Sanford was the originator of the annual Cotton Bowl New Year's Day football classic.

Cowboy owner Murchison last week said he will move the club to nearby Irving as soon as fans buy sufficient bonds to erect a $15 million stadium.

In a parallel development, Dallas Park Department figures show that the Cowboys generated 58 per cent of the bowl's gross income.

Cotton Bowl income for 1966 totaled $392,916 from both college and professional games with the Cowboys furnishing $227,891 of that.

City officials, however, appear to be planning to go ahead with a $2.5 million renovation of the bowl if voters approve the bonds.

Big Trojan Guard Lost

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Injury has claimed another University of Southern California football standout as 250-pound guard Mike Scarpace went to surgery today to repair a knee ligament torn in practice for the Rose Bowl.

Scarpace joins flanker Jim Lawrence and defensive end Jim Gunn on the sideline crew of the national champions who battle Indiana in the New Year's Day classic.

Lawrence hurt a knee in the ninth game of the season against Oregon State and Gunn suffered the same type of injury against UCLA in the finale.

Coach John McKay reported Scarpace, an All-Pacific-8 performer on offense, was hurt in a Thursday scrimmage.

One knee-injury victim will be back in action — fullback Mike Hull who was operated on early in the season after being a standout in 1966.

BIG WEEKEND ON TAP AS GRID SEASON ENDS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The last big weekend of the college football season begins today, and indications are that the fan who makes a day of it in front of his television set will see passes, passes and more passes.

It will be a battle of quarterbacks all over the country as Penn State and Florida State meet in the Gator Bowl, Texas-El Paso and Mississippi clash in the Sun Bowl, North plays South in the Blue-Gray Game and East meets West in the Shrine Game.

Kim Hammond, who threw s a n1d5rtocdu aps Is4 efhnwsdr 140 complete passes for 1,991 yards and 15 touchdowns during the regular season, leads Florida State in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. (ABC-TV 2 p.m., EST). Ron Sellers, Hammond's favorite target, caught 70 throws for 1,228 yards and eight touchdowns.

But the Penn State passer, Tom Sherman, is no slouch either. He hit on 104 passes for 1,616 yards and 13 touchdowns during the season. Jack Curry caught 41 of them and Ted Kwalick hauled in 33.

In the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., to be carried on a special network of 125 television stations, the Texas-El Paso squad has a pair of passers that rank with the best around—Billy Stevens and Brooks Dawson. They threw a total of 26 touchdown passes this season.

Stevens threw six TD passes in a 47-17 rout of Brigham Young in one game and in the next contest, with Stevens hurt, Dawson threw six against New Mexico. The team led the country in scoring average and total offense.

Mississippi's quarterback Bruce Newell passed for 663 yards and six touchdowns during the season and also gained 793 on the ground. Tailback Steve Hindman ran for 829 yards for the Rebels.

In the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., (CBS-TV, 2 p.m., EST) Toledo's John Schneider was picked by Coach Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa, as starting quarterback, but Sal Olivas of New Mexico State, the country's total offense leader, will get some action, too.

Gray Coach Vince Dooley of Georgia has to pick between Ronny South of Arkansas and John Scovell of Texas Tech.

In the Shrine Game at San Francisco, (NBC-TV 4:30 p.m. EST) Jimmy Raye of Michigan State will go for the East team. And for the West? Fellow name of Gary Beban will be the quarterback. Played for UCLA.

The college football season ends Monday when Alabama plays Texas A&M in the Cotton Bowl, Wyoming meets Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl, Oklahoma plays Tennessee in the Orange Bowl and Southern Cal plays Indiana in the Rose Bowl.

Pokes Hold Final Drill

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys held final practice at the home base this morning and depart this afternoon for Appleton, Wis., and their date with the Green Bay Packers in the National Football League championship game.

The last hard workout came Thursday and Coach Tom Landry concentrated on defense.

All Cowboys were free of injury and will leave only one player behind. That is Pete Gent, who is in a hospital with a broken leg.

The team moves into the stadium at Green Bay for a 30-minute workout Saturday noon and then rests for the clash with Green Bay Sunday.

There will be 72 coaches, club officials and players on a plane that departs at 1 p.m. for Wisconsin.

STREAKING ROYALS RIP WARRIORS 126-122

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Red Holzman hasn't really begun work yet in his new job as coach of the New York Knickerbockers. Yet, he's already one-half game worse off than when he took over.

That's because the streaking Cincinnati Royals beat the San Francisco Warriors 126-122 Thursday night. The triumph increased the fourth-place Royals lead over fifth-place New York to 2½ games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Only the top four qualify for the postseason playoffs.

In the only other game, one matching expansion teams, the San Diego Rockets defeated the Seattle Super Sonics 143-125.

Holzman replaced Dick McGuire as the Knicks' coach Wednesday after New York lost to Philadelphia, its 23rd defeat against 15 victories.

The Royals picked up their 16th triumph and third in a row against 19 setbacks by edging the Warriors at Cleveland. Oscar Robertson led Cincinnati, tying his season high of 41 points. Guy Rodgers hit on two free throws with nine seconds left to clinch the verdict.

The defeat ended San Francisco's five-game winning streak.

In the game at Seattle, the Rockets built up a 77-64 halftime lead and then staved off second-half rallies by the SuperSonics, who got 45 points from Walt Hazzard. Don Kojis scored 26 and John Block 25 for San Diego.

In the American Association Thursday night, Dallas beat Indiana 127-125 in overtime, Minnesota downed New Orleans 115-101, Houston whipped Anaheim 104-93 and Denver defeated New Jersey, 119-102.

Population Signs To Be Revised

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin's population is 245,295, estimates the City Planning Department. The estimate is based on school enrollments, said planning director Hoyle Osborne.

The new population estimate will go to the Texas Highway Department for revision of population signs. The signs presently read 235,332 based on an April, 1967, estimate. The 1960 census showed 186,000.

Robber Isn't The Television Type

DALLAS (AP) — The gunman marched into E. J. Hunter's Liquor Store and shoved a pistol at the 59-year-old owner.

"This is a stickup," the gunman told Hunter. Hunter quickly raised his hands.

"Oh, put your hands down," said the robber. "You've been watching too much television."

The robber got about $60.

Led Collections

DALLAS (AP) — U. S. Attorney Melvin Diggs says his office, which covers 100 counties in North Texas, led all 98 U. S. attorneys offices in the nation in money collected for the Treasury in court actions and out-of-court settlements in fiscal year 1967. A statistical summary from the Justice Department showed the Northern District of Texas paid $7,824,725 to the Treasury in civil collections without actual suit or prosecution. Diggs' attorneys took in $71,180 in fines, $1,000 in forfeitures, $190,687 in other civil judgments and $1,705 in criminal collections without prosecution.

"The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way." Psalms 38:23.

In the good a man does lies all of his wealth.
It cannot be taken by a culprit in stealth.
Such wealth goes with an owner when a pulse is still,
Uncontested by those who would alter his will.
A man is poor, despite money or land,
Without a rich heart and an aiding hand.

Youngster Has A Merry Christmas

Because of those who care, Christmas was a little brighter for Douglas Heaster, 9-year-old orphan at the Missionary Baptist Orphans Home in Texarkana, Tex.

Doug spent Christmas with the Willard Gladson family, 2705 Thirty-fifth Street. They are members of Northside Baptist Church. Church contributions provide for Douglas' upkeep at the Orphans Home.

Each year at this time, the boy spends Christmas with one of the church families. Doug visits in the home of many of the church members during his week's visit at Christmas, and he stays with a different family each year.

He said he really enjoyed Christmas. Included among the presents he received are a wrist watch, a new suit and model airplanes.

"He's good at building things with his hands," said Mrs. Gladson.

A dark-haired, enthusiastic boy, Doug also has an older brother and a younger sister who live with him at the Orphan's Home — Carey 12, and Kathy 7. Another brother, Roger, drowned last year.

"We will get Doug again for two weeks this summer," said Mrs. Gladson. She has plenty of experience with children, having raised five of her own. They include Royce of Odessa, Mrs. Judith Rosseau of Mount Pleasant, Mrs. Janice Page of Austin; Gayna, a senior at Snyder High School; and, Ronal, a sophomore at Snyder High.

The Gladsons took Doug back to the Orphan's Home Thursday following his week's visit, but they are looking forward to having him for the two-week visit next summer.
