County Youths Ready For Project Show

91 Ex-Service Men Registered By Legion Sat.

Ninety-one ex-service men were registered Saturday, February 22, under the voluntary registration plan of the American Legion, it was announced after the names had been compiled Tuesday night.

This includes slightly less than half the World War veterans in the county, but a number of other registrations are expected during the next few days by men who were unable to come to Wellington Saturday to register.

Again, it was pointed out by those helping with the registration that this is entirely voluntary, and that it carries no military obligation. It is purely to list the ex-service men, along with their qualifications, who would be willing to serve the country on a whole or part time basis, at home or elsewhere, in case an emergency should arise.

While the registration is sponsored by the American Legion, membership in that body is not necessary for registration.

Farm Association, Planning Board Will Meet Thursday

Election of officers of the County Agriculture Association, and talks will highlight the joint meeting of the Agriculture Association and the County Land Use Planning Board, to be held Thursday, February 27, at noon at the Pullman Cafe. The meeting will be held in the form of a luncheon.

Speakers for the occasion will be W. L. Scott, an economist of the State Extension Service, and Guy Beasley of Abra, one of Collingsworth County's two Master Farmers. Mr. Scott will give an explanation of land use planning, while Mr. Beasley will tell of the benefits that Collingsworth County can derive from land use planning.

The planning board is made up of 27 farm men and women of this county.

Relative to the meeting of the Agricultural Association, Gibbs Glenn, president, said:

"We cannot urge too strongly that every member of the Association be present for this meeting. No meeting of the year is more important than the one in which we elect the officers who take the organization through the next 12 months.

"Moreover, there may be a change in the farm program that will require farmers of this section to be on their toes in order to protect their rights. The Collingsworth County Agriculture Association is ready to do its part, and through it the farmers of this county can put up a united front in any matter that might come up," he pointed out.

In addition to the election of officers of the association, and the talks by Mr. Scott and Mr. Beasley, plans will be made to get at least ten men to attend the district Agricultural Association meeting in Amarillo on Wednesday, March 12.

Members of the Planning Board and Association will gather at the Pullman at 12 o'clock for lunch. No reservations need be made, W. K. Cottingame, county agent, announced. The regular price will be charged per plate.

Local Club Host To Boosters

Seventy-five Fort Worth Kiwanians, on a trip through West Texas in interest of the Fat Stock Show, will be guests of the Wellington Club for a luncheon Friday, February 28. These business men turned cowboys will arrive here on a special Fort Worth and Denver train at 11:30 o'clock and will remain for approximately an hour and a half.

A twenty-six piece band and three performing horses are scheduled to accompany the boosters on their trip.

"We want the townspeople of Wellington to be on hand to greet these visitors when the train arrives," Cameron Beam, who is helping with the arrangements, announced. "Music and entertainment will be furnished by the boosters, and a blanket invitation to attend the Stock Show will be given. We want to really dust off our welcome for these folks."

Immediately afterward, the Ft. Worth men will be taken by the local club members to the First Christian Church, where the luncheon will be served. The visitors will also furnish the program for the meeting.

These men are members of the Fort Worth and North Fort Worth Kiwanis Clubs. The tour is directed by J. A. McCaul of the Fort Worth group, H. P. Hutchins of the North Fort Worth Club, and Charles G. Cotten, trade extension manager of the Chamber of Commerce. This is the last of six trips sponsored by the groups.

The trippers will visit, in order named, the following cities: Decatur, Bowie, Henrietta, Wichita Falls, Memphis, Quanah, Chillicothe, Vernon, Electra, Iowa Park, and Wichita Falls.

"We want to urge all Wellington members to be on hand for this event. It's one of the largest groups, if not the largest, we will have to visit us during the entire year," J. L. Beard, president of the club, said early this week.

"The luncheon will be held a little earlier than is the regular weekly meeting, since these men must leave here at 1 o'clock," he

Car Licenses May Be Put On Mar. 1

License plates for 1941 may be put on motor vehicles on Saturday, March 1, Howard Riggs, county tax assessor and collector, reminded car and truck owners this week.

The plates may be bought any time before midnight of April 1 without penalty.

"We will appreciate it if owners will register their vehicles as soon as possible in order to avoid such a rush at the last," Mr. Riggs urged. "If your car was registered in this county for 1940, it will be necessary for you to bring your license receipt or furnish us with the number that is now on your car. If your car is registered out of the county, please bring your registration receipt."

T. J. Way Joins City State Bank

T. J. Way of the International Bank of Haskell, Oklahoma, will arrive here this week to take over his duties as cashier of the City State Bank, James Dongehy, president, announced Monday morning. He will be accompanied here by his family.

Mr. Way has been associated with the Haskell bank since 1919, and he is a member of one of the oldest families of that community.

He was born on the Way ranch, and has lived there all of his life with the exception of a year spent in Hendrix College at Conway, Ark., and a half year in the University of Oklahoma when he trained in the R. O. T. C. in 1918.

As a high school boy he had his first position in the Haskell Post Office, of which his father, the late T. J. Way, Sr., was postmaster.

Mr. Way and his family were recognized as one of the outstanding families of that section of Muskogee County. Not only have they been prominent in business affairs, but they have been instrumental in the building of the civic and social life of their town.

He has served on the election board there for many years, and has been recognized with other places of honor.

Mrs. Way is a former teacher

New Stadium May Be In Use By Last Of March

That the new stadium and football house now under construction at Rocket Field may be sufficiently completed for use by the last of March is believed possible by Bob Oldham, who is in charge of the project. This project is being constructed through the cooperation of the school and the NYA.

Mr. Oldham pointed out, however, that the building will not be completely finished, but that the interior of the field house will be far enough along that it can be used by the Skyrocket football team when they begin spring training late in March.

Exterior work will continue until the building is completed.

Jack Ball, who formerly was supervisor of this project, is now in charge of a project at Estelline.

Inch And Half Of Moisture Falls Here

Late February rain and snow brought this county almost one and one-half inches of moisture, up until 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, February 26. Along with this, reports from various sections of the county indicate that the soil is now wet deeper than for any February in recent years.

The rainy spell began Tuesday, February 18, when one-fourth inch of rain fell, while on the following day an additional one-tenth of an inch was received. More rain on Friday, February 21, accounted for four-tenths inch.

Snow which fell Sunday and Monday measured approximately four inches, and since this was an unusually wet snow, approximately one-half inch of moisture was derived from it. Fifteen one-hundredths of an inch of rain fell Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Altogether, this gives 1.40 inches of moisture since the spell began.

While these were the measurements taken in Wellington, it is believed that a similar amount was received in most portions of the county, according to reports received by The Wellington Leader.

Altogether, 2.90 inches of moisture have been received in this county since January 1. In comparison to this, only 2.60 inches had been received for the same date a year ago, and not all the moisture received during that period had been general over the

Rodeo, Parade, Set For March 8

A parade of cowboys and girls will be a featured attraction of Wellington's next free rodeo, Saturday, March 8, Ben Hurst, president of the Rodeo Association, announced early this week.

"This will be one of the best rodeos we've presented all season," he predicted.

The contests will be open to any one wishing to enter, it was declared, but at the same time it was emphasized that all entries must be made by 1 o'clock on that date, at the Mears Chevrolet Co., diagonally across the street from the rodeo grounds.

The parade, which is being held for the first time in connection with the rodeo, will begin at 1:30 o'clock and will be made up of cowboys and cowgirls. The rodeo is scheduled to start promptly at 2 o'clock.

In announcing this rodeo, Mr. Hurst again requested that all persons not actually connected with the rodeo stay out of the ring while the event is in progress, and also reminded that the Association is not responsible in case of injuries to the contestants or spectators while the contests are in progress.

Should the weather be bad at this time, however, Mr. Hurst stated that the rodeo will not be held. "We believe if this is the cause, it will be better to just postpone the event," he said.

Homemakers At Dodson Sponsor Game Tourney

The Future Homemakers' Chapter of Dodson High School are sponsoring a game tournament at the high school auditorium Friday night, February 28, at 7:30 o'clock.

"The public is cordially invited. There will be lots of fun for everyone, young or old," the girls say.

Proceeds will be used to send a delegate to the state Homemakers convention in San Antonio in April.

A small admission charge will be made, but refreshments will be served without additional cost.

Mobeetie Girls Win District Tourney At Quail

A dashing feminine cage team from Mobeetie won the District Two girls Basketball Tournament held at Quail Friday and Saturday, and with it, the right to represent the Panhandle in the annual state basketball tournament for girls' teams in Waco on March 6 to 8.

The Mobeetie girls defeated Borger 15 to 11 in the finals Saturday night.

The winners downed Stinnett, Matador, and Quail to gain a place in the finals, while Borger eliminated Lelia Lake, Follett, and Kelton before they lost out.

Third place in the tournament went to the Quail girls, after they had defeated Kelton 27 to 25 in the other Saturday night game.

Fourteen teams from various sections of the Panhandle took part in the two-day tournament.

Wellington, Quail FFA Teams Place

Two Collingsworth County FFA cattle judging teams won places in events at the annual Texas Tech judging contests for Future Farmers held recently.

To the Wellington team went fourth place in the entire event. They were competing with 59 teams from all parts of the Panhandle.

The team placed eleventh in judging Jerseys and sixth in judging Holsteins. Their score was 1128, only about 60 points below the top team.

Making up this team were C. A. Crawford, Fred Covey, and Bob Scott.

A first place award and a third place went to the Quail F.F.A. Judging Teams at the Texas Tech Judging Contests held in Lubbock Saturday, February 15. Results of the contests were not learned until last week.

Members of the dairy judging placed first in the jersey cattle judging contest, and tenth in the entire cattle judging contest.

Two More Selective Service Calls Are Made

As five Collingsworth County men prepared to fill the 5th call under the selective service draft, two additional calls were made affecting men in this county, J. N. Wallace, clerk of the draft board, announced Monday. An additional call was made from headquarters, but no quota was set here.

The five men who will leave Monday, March 3, to fill call No. 5 are not yet definitely known, Mr. Wallace said. They will go directly to Fort Bliss at El Paso to be inducted, rather than to Lubbock, as has previously been done.

No quota was set here for call No. 6.

Call No. 7 will include four men, who will report at Fort Bliss on March 12 for induction. The group will leave Wellington on March 11.

Only colored men are included in Call No. 8, and one man will be sent from this county. He will report at Dallas on March 6. This is the first time a colored man has been called up for selective service training.

With the receipt of these calls, Mr. Wallace stated that an additional 54 questionnaires have been mailed out, bringing the total to 255.

Winners In Stock Events To Enter Amarillo Show

All attention turns to the youth of the county, as all plans were completed this week for the annual Collingsworth County Project show, to be held in Wellington Saturday.

Dozens of boys and girls from three Future Farmer Chapters, four Future Homemaker Chapters, a number of 4-H Clubs will participate showing the live stock or home projects on which they have worked since the opening of the school year.

"Everything's ready for the Show!" Ben Hurst, president of the Project Show Association says.

"We're expecting a show at least twenty-five percent larger than at any time in the past," Jack Hurst, secretary, and W. K. Cottingame, county agent, estimates.

Larger section of the show will be the live stock division, in which more than 200 animals are expected.

Although the homemaking division is smaller in size than the live stock, it is expected to be considerably larger than last year, when it was included for the first time. Girls from Wellington, Dodson, Samnorwood and Quail, and all 4-H clubs are expected to participate.

These exhibits will be put up in the show windows of Percy Wells Department Store and Parsons Drug Co., both located on the west side of the square.

"We cordially invite the people of the county, and especially the women and girls, to stop by and see these exhibits. You'll get some idea of the work the girls in this county are doing toward becoming efficient and practical homemakers," Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent, said.

All stock will be shown in pens built at the rodeo grounds, located on ninth street, just across from the Clay Produce.

The show will open about 9:30 o'clock and the stock will remain until about 5 o'clock, when the winning animals will be loaded and taken to Amarillo for exhibit in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

Much better quality stock—including all classes—is expected this year. This county has, in the past, furnished calves that

White's Auto Store Is Moved

White's Auto Store this week was moved from its old location at the southwest corner of the square to the building on the south side of the square formerly occupied by the Duckworth Food Market.

Donald Curry is manager of the store.

"We feel that this move is going to prove an advantage both to us and to our customers," Mr. Curry said. "Not only do we have more room in which to display our goods, but we are in a location better situated for the convenience of our customers.

"We extend you a most cordial invitation to come by and see our new home," he invited.

Mrs. H. M. McCaskill Has Light Paralysis Stroke February 19

Mrs. H. M. McCaskill, a resident of this county for a number of years, is seriously ill at her home in Wellington after suffering a light stroke of paralysis Wednesday evening, February 19.

Members of her family reported Tuesday that her condition was getting along as well as possible.

Mrs. McCaskill became ill while she and Mr. McCaskill were visiting in the home of friends.

Chas. Cogswell of Amarillo, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. McCaskill, came Tuesday for a short visit in their home.

Farm Security Notes

By EDNA PETTIT

A STEW BY ANY OTHER NAME

Be it ever so humble, there's nothing like a good meat-and-vegetable stew to feed hungry folks on cold winter days. And when there are dumplings or some other starchy food to go with the stew, it's a hearty meal all in one dish.

Peeping into stewpans around the world would reveal hundreds of variations; different meats, different seasonings, and even different names. Fricassee, ragout, goulash, tsche, chili con carne are some of the French, Hungarian, Russian, and Spanish versions. The English set great store by their kidney stew, and Irish stew needs no introduction anywhere.

In America, all these good ideas come together. Many cooks make their stews by old world recipes, handed down without a change from one generation to the next. Other good cooks use some of the traditional ingredients, but cook them in the modern scientific manner.

Most stews start with low-priced meats, which after all are just as nutritious as the higher-priced steaks and chops. Less tender cuts, cooked long and slowly, make tender and savory stews. Tidbits and small pieces of tender meat can be used to advantage in stews.

No hard-and-fast rules bind the cook when making stew. But if she's wise, she'll start by browning the meat in hot fat. That's what gives the stew its rich flavor and deep brown color. Meat dipped in flour before browning has a special well-liked flavor.

Finish cooking the meat in water, barely enough to cover. A low simmering temperature softens the connective tissue and makes the meat tender.

Long cooking for the meat, short cooking for the vegetables, is a good slogan to follow in making stew. Modern cooks know that food values disappear when vegetables are overcooked. So, wait until almost serving time before adding the vegetables, and cook them only until they are tender. Short cooking means full flavor, bright color, and firm texture for the vegetables.

The cook with initiative will select different kinds of meat and various vegetable combinations to make numerous varieties of stew for her family.

Good News for Women

Every day women are finding their headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pains, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI. Main way it usually helps is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice; so aiding digestion, helping build up users. Periodic distress is also eased for many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

4-H Club Work Is Big Business

COLLEGE STATION.—The 4-H Club work in Texas is a big business, according to the annual report of J. W. Potts, assistant state boy's club agent, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Potts' report reveals that 33,617 boys took part in 4-H Club work last year as compared to 31,528 the year before.

Looking at boys' 4-H Club Work in Texas from the standpoint of demonstrations and income, it can be readily seen that these boys conduct a very sizable business. In 1940 there were held 190 local shows or fairs in which the 4-H boys participated. They exhibited 16,522 head of livestock at all of the shows in which they took part. Of that total, 4,505 were beef calves which weighed 2,679,149 pounds and sold for $286,732.43 plus another $15,797.46 in prize money. The 3,430 sheep shown included much breeding stock and all were not sold. However, 241,684 pounds of mutton were sold for $29,172.50 plus $4,157.48 in prizes. Sales plus premiums on dairy cattle sold amounted to $7,007.95. Sale of swine added another $46,010.04, including prizes, to the money earned by the boys in 4-H work.

The total sales of all livestock and poultry for 1940 reached $391,132.60 bettering the 1939 record by $105,125.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maxwell moved to Childress Friday. Mr. Maxwell is employed there.

On account of the roads being bad, there was not any Sunday school at Lillie. Neither was there a Sunday night service.

Our community was made sad when news reached us of Mrs. Ed Howell being in the hospital, and that she was seriously ill. Her family has our deepest sympathy and our hopes for her speedy recovery.

FOOT PRINTS IN THE SANDS OF TIME

WE NEED NO MEGAPHONE TO TELL YOU THE "PAST" USUALLY LEAVES ITS MARK, SIGN OR WHEN APPLIED TO BUSINESS—A RECORD.

Down through the ages Civilization has been searching for signs, marks and records which might throw some light on the past, and with some degree of accuracy foretell the future.

In more recent years, but in like manner a Bank's past record of dealings with the public becomes "FOOT PRINTS" subject to inspection and usually providing a fairly good prophet of future business policies—and here we are willing to rest our case.

If upon inspection you find our bank's Record indicates we have rendered satisfactory SERVICE, have been FAIR AND DEPENDABLE in our business transactions, LIBERAL, COURTEOUS and ACCOMODATING, and finally our PAST RECORD OF DEALINGS WITH THE PUBLIC have been such as meets with your approval, then we will appreciate your banking business, and an opportunity to demonstrate the difference between banks.

MAY WE BANK ON YOU BANKING WITH US ON THIS BASIS?

The accounts of depositor's in this bank are insured up to $5,000.00 each by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation of Washington, D. C., a Government supervised Agency and of which we are a member bank.

Deck's DIDACTICS

And still the snow comes down. It is the best February moisture in years and years. Some of the farmers are talking about planting hybred corn, which has greater resistance against corn borers. New seed must be bought for this type of corn each year, because it does not reproduce in kind. It sounds like a wise course to me, but it may be just talk. These same farmers will wind up probably by planting cotton.

Guess how my desk looks. I enjoyed the following joke immensely:

Sour faced man: "A desk like yours indicates a disorderly mind."

Round faced man: "A man with a disorderly mind could not work at a desk like this."

People go a long way to justify their faults. For instance I am consoled by the following joke every time I think of it: Fanatic against tobacco: "Do you know that the money you spend on cigars would, if saved and invested, enable you to own that ten story building?"

Man with cigar, waving it at building: "Do you own that building?"

"No, but—"

"Well, I do."

Congratulations to B. O. Currin and his determined basketball players from Quail. The Amarillo Times says that they are the dark horse in a contest between Amarillo, Pampa and Lubbock. The Quail boys only won second in the county meet, being defeated by Samnorwood, but they came back in the district meet to take Childress, Crowell, etc., to a cleaning. Here is wishing you boys all the luck in the world when you try to win the Regional honors. Since you are not the big Quail boys of other years, you will have to do a Masonic Home to win; but I have a hunch that you have the spirit to do it. Anyway, win, lose or draw there will be a lot of Collingsworth folks rooting for you every minute.

Last week Virginia Robey wrote about Bill McClaskey who went to New Mexico to get a job on a defense construction project. He came back home when he found out that he would have to pay $125 to join the union and $2.50 a day after that.

Toots Breedlove, another Wellington plumber, just dropped by. He went to Oklahoma. He paid $100 to join the union and he stayed. He told me other things. He draws a good wage, but he sleeps on a cot in a room that is no larger than my office. He says two other men sleep in the same room. The rent is $21 a week or $84 a month for this single room. His meals cost him about $1.80 a day. He works 44 hours a week, but he says that he would like to work more, because he spends about all the money that is left getting out of what he called "that hole" just as soon as his work week is over. "It is too tough for an old Wellington boy," Toots opined.

Toots says that the people who own houses are really cleaning up. Those who own business buildings have them leased on long term contracts and are not so fortunate. Next week Toots is leaving for a different city where construction is underway, but he does not have high hopes of finding different living conditions.

On page seven is a picture of cotton production in Manchukuo. It was enclosed with a group of other propaganda pictures sent out by a Japanese agency. I generally throw them in the wastebasket. However, if the Japanese think that a picture of forced Chinese labor growing cotton in competition with Texas farmers will improve the sale of silk or promote a better understanding of their conquest of China, then I am glad to help them spread the propaganda.

Gibbs Glenn urges all members and former members of the Collingsworth County Agricultural Association to attend the meeting Thursday at noon. New officers are to be elected and important business transacted.

Items picked up here and there: During his lifetime Tom Benge has saved three people from drowning—Jess Cook figures there is no profit in a FFA project calf on account of he buys the feed and his son keeps the money—Fred Le-Derer thinks that since we are in it as far as we are that Congress should pass the lease-lend bill as quickly as possible—George Brewer bogged down over his overshoes in a pasture—Guy Clay thinks Stalin is the smartest ruler of any heading the great nations—incidentally Guy received three medals for valor in the last World War—George Richards has written me a letter, which will be published next week—John L. Beard made a truly excellent and thought provoking speech on a difficult subject at the Methodist Church last Sunday—it was tithing—my wife and daughter are going to join the Methodist Church come Palm Sunday—they have been members in spirit for years—me, I have been a member in name since I was eight years old.—Last fall when they had the roll call of members, my daughter was shocked and hurt to discover that she was not a member of the Church and she intends to do something about it.

My wife is really a Presbyterian; my mother at heart is still an Episcopalian; but my daughter is a Methodist and if I know anything about her at all the father of her children will be a Methodist before he dies.

Here is hoping that the weather is bright and sunny Saturday. You will see the best project show ever held in Wellington. These boys and girls are doing a splendid job and they deserve the encouragement of the entire county.

The human body loses enough heat in an hour to raise a half-gallon of water to its boiling point.

A parrot that spoke English and Spanish and survived the San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906 died recently at Kerrville, Texas, at the age of 41.

Methodism's Day Of Compassion

A million dollars for camp service and overseas relief will be sought March 2, the first Sunday in Lent, when local Methodists join their fellow members in 43,000 churches, large and small, country and city, in a simultaneous, sacrificial offering for war sufferers and for use in and near camps for the moral and spiritual welfare of our soldiers and sailors. Several denominations are using this day for similar purposes.

Pneumonia Onset Sudden, Severe

From now on until after March, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, states that every one must be on guard against pneumonia. Last year 3,551 Texans died of this disease, and it is believed that many of these deaths could have been prevented had the patient called a physician early.

The onset of lobar pneumonia is usually sudden and is characterized by chills, fever, severe pains in chest, and coughing up of rust-colored sputum.

A person who has suffered an attack of pneumonia does not need to be told how swiftly it attacks. One can be feeling simply chilly and languid. During the next day or two these disagreeable sensations continue, and the average person pays little attention to them. If one has been coughing for several days, he attributes everything to the cold. Then comes a chill, and with it comes pain—not a stitch, but a stab, a continued rhythmic stabbing with every catching breath.

Ne wtreatments for pneumonia have been perfected, but to give any of these methods a fair chance of accomplishing a cure, a diagnosis must be made early, preferably before the first chill or at least soon after its appearance.

Pneumonia is spread by contact, but this type of germ does not live long outside the human body. There are 30 types of this germ. Many persons do not realize that pneumonia is a catching disease. Relatives and friends will visit freely the person who is convalescing from pneumonia, although they would not think of sitting in the sickroom of a smallpox patient. Both are communicable and dangerous diseases. Having a physician early when any of the symptoms appear is the best method of stopping this needless loss of life.

Truth In Fabrics Law Effective June 14, 1941

COLLEGE STATION.—In the near future a Federal act, already popularly captioned "Truth in Fabrics," will become a law of the nation. Effective June 14, 1941, manufacturers of all woolen goods, except carpets, rugs, mats and upholsteries, will be required to stamp, tag or label their product to show the proportion of the types of wool as well as the content, other than wool, in it.

"This act," says W. R. Nisbet, Extension Service Animal Husbandman for Texas A. and M. College, "opens the way for women to know precisely the wool content of the fabric, especially wearing apparel, they are buying. Moreover, they can demand labelling of any fabric placed on sale as 'woolen.'

"Manufacturers are obliged under the law to state the percentage of virgin wool in any fabric so labelled, as well as the amount of reworked wool, or shoddy. If wool content is not claimed for the fabric placed on sale, it may be merchandised without labelling."

Passage of the bill, which culminated a 35-year effort by the National Wool Growers Association for "truth in fabrics," is comparable in its scope to the enactment of the pure food law. It will prevent any misrepresentation of the staple content of cloths offered in retail commerce.

Although bills similar to this, which will be known in the statutes as "Wool products labelling act of 1939," have been introduced in practically every session of Congress since the turn of the century, progress toward realization was more halting than enactment of the pure food law.

The law defines the term "wool" to mean the fibre from the fleece of the sheep or lamb, or hair of the Angora or Cashmere goat, (and may also include the so-called specialty fibres from the hair of the camel, alpaca, llama and vicuna) which has never been reclaimed from any woven or felted wool product.

Enactment of the law may revive the program of the National Wool Growers Association, with which the Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raisers Association co-operates, to raise a fund for a campaign to advertise wool, Mr. Nisbet said. Different proposals have been offered to that end, including a voluntary tax on each bag.

Manufacturers will be required to keep records showing the fabric content of goods placed on sale, which must be retained for at least three years. These records are to be available to the Federal Trade Commission at all times. Refusal to maintain or preserve such records makes the manuafcturer liable to forfeiture of $100 each day of such failure. Persons wilfully violating the act are liable to a fine of $5,000, a year in jail, or both.

Queer Lingo, But They Fly

FT. WORTH.—When a "dodo bird" makes a "ground loop" he'd better prepare for a "wash tub ride" and pray that it won't mean a "wash-out."

In plain English that means: When a rookie U. S. army air corps cadet misjudges the landing field he'd better get ready to take a test flight with the commanding officer and pray that he won't be dropped from the service.

It's the vernacular of the air corps, as used at Hicks Training Field here.

Here are a few more items from the air corps glossary:

Dodo—a rookie underclassman, a rare bird that has wings but can't fly.

Ground loop—the spinning movement of a plane when a cadet brings it to earth and the rudder gets away from him on touching the ground.

Wash tub ride—a flight taken with the army captain to determine whether the cadet is to be dropped from service.

Wash-out—dropped from service.

Wash-tub—the plane used for wash tub rides.

Hanking the wash—when a cadet is washed out, he must hang a clothes pin on the "wash line" in the mess hall before leaving for home.

Check ride—a flight taken with the flight commander to determine whether the cadet needs the wash tub ride.

Getting the lemonade—another term for wash-out, derived from the word "eliminate," via "liminate," "leminate," "lemonade."

Crash tag—bracelet worn by cadets taking their first solo flight as a means of quick identification in case of a crash.

Stuffed cloud—a mountain with a cloud around it.

In a flat spin—synonymous with "he's goofy" or he "doesn't know the score."

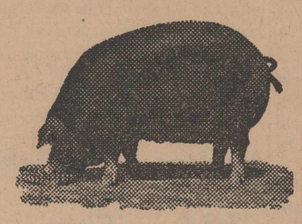

Sinker—a dangerous conviction current or down draft that pushes the nose of the plane down.

Hedge hopping—flying too low.

The old man—the commanding officer.

Keep your nose down on the turns—advice to cadets to avoid letting the ship's nose point up when making a bank or a turn.

They pulled his number out of scribe a cadet's fatal crack-up.

Hunting Season Is Prolonged— By Accident

Dick Smith of Kerrville, Texas, isn't very happy about his deer activities. Smith went through 45 days of the hunting season and came out with a bill of $15.75 for ammunition and a pair of blistered heel, but no deer. Then after the hunting season closed, Smith was driving his truck toward Kerrville when a spiked buck leaped over a fence and landed squarely against the right door of his truck. The buck fell dead with a broken neck. Damages to the car amounted to as much as the hunting season cost Smith and he couldn't legally keep the deer he killed. He turned it over to the game warden captain in Kerrville.

Women's Interest In Home Life Again Growing

AUSTIN.—Women are swinging toward home life again, Miss Dorothy Gebauer, dean of women to some 4,000 University of Texas coeds, recently told members of the second Texas Personal Conference here.

She said "there is a growing tendency toward less interest in women's professions, more interest in the home."

Present emphasis of the national defense program — stressing home life and environment—is a contributing factor toward this trend, she added.

Cross Breeding Of Dairy Cattle Hurts Industry

Reliable sources report 60 per cent of Texas dairy cows are being bred to beef bulls. But, cautioned W. V. Maddox, Extension Service dairy manufacturing specialist for Texas A. and M. College, "This practice not only is breeding the state out of the dairy business but is hurting the beef industry as well."

Most producers who have adopted this course, he says, failed to figure where tomorrow's dairy replacements are coming from. Statistics for 1939 show a decline in dairy heifers of seven per cent over the previous year, and it is estimated that 1940 will show a 15 per cent decline. This will mean approximately 60,000 less dairy heifers in Texas at present.

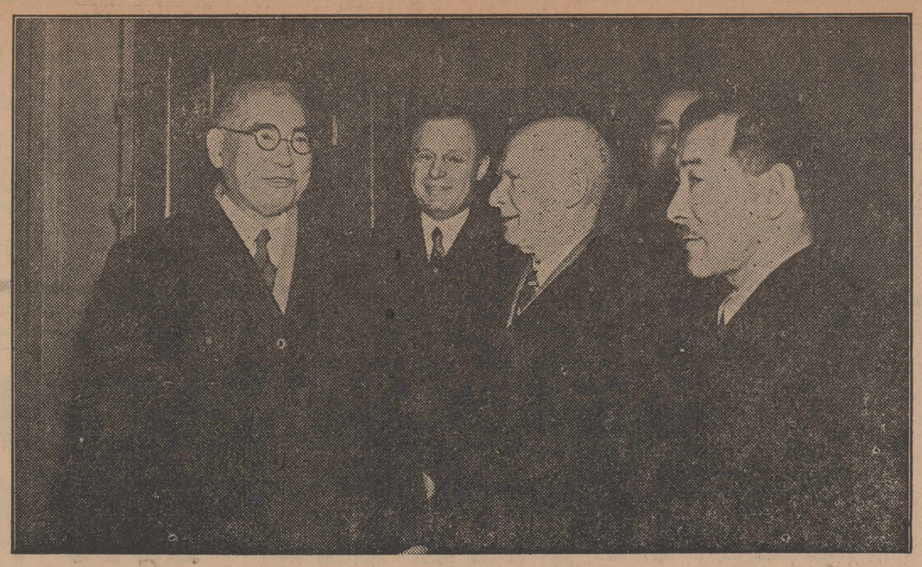

The replacement of cotton acreage by feed has encouraged more livestock on the farms, but the price of beef has caused not only farmers to go into the beef cattle business, but has induced many milk producers to breed out of the dairy business.

The 69 counties east of a line formed by Cooke, Tarrant, McLennan, Travis and Harris counties, which has been considered a large dairy cow section, has increased 119 per cent in beef cattle in the last few years. A large percentage of this increase has been achieved by cross breeding dairy cows with beef bulls.

The specialist concluded that should cotton prices come back a swing from livestock to cotton products might be expected. Again, today's encouraging level of beef prices may not stay, and today's milk prices may advance. It should be remembered that it is impossible to grow milk cows as rapidly as beef or cotton. Transforming a herd of heifers into profitable dairy cows takes years of proper management culling, feeding and breeding, and all this work can be erased in a short time by improper breeding methods.

Chemists of one of the country's largest motor companies announced recently that they had evolved a plastic material suitable for auto bodies that is lighter than steel and a better insulator against heat and sound.

Defense Workers Must Keep SS No.

Thousands of workers are now being called into industry to help build army camps, equipment for defense projects, and perform various types of other work connected with the national defense program. It behooves every individual, therefore, to know what his social security account number is and where it is, according to a statement made by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board.

"We have reminded workers many times in the past that a number of employers have adopted a rule whereby an individual is not placed on the pay roll until he has his social security account number recorded on the employer's books. This is necessary in order to enable the employer to make his quarterly wage report to the Collector of Internal Revenue. It was further explained by Reed that any person who has lost or misplaced his social security card may secure a duplicate of his original number through the Social Security Board office, 324 New Post Office Bldg., Amarillo, Texas.

"Your social security account number card is evidence that you have an insurance account with the United States Government through the Federal old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act, the purpose of which is to pay a regular monthly income to a worker when he reaches the age of 65 years and retires, or to his family if he dies," Reed explained.

"A worker needs a social security account number so that his wages may be counted toward his insurance benefits. But only one account number is needed. For each account number issured, there is set up by the Social Security Board a separate insurance account; therefore, if a worker has more than one number, he should go to the nearest Social Security Board field office and find out which one he should use."

Biggest Fish Tale Of All

We have heard of many things being used for fish bait, but a human tooth tops all of them in our estimation. A Mr. Welch, 85-year-old fisherman from Frisco, Texas, recently showed the state game and fish warden on Lake Dallas two large white bass. His story:

"I was pretty disgusted late this afternoon for I hadn't caught a fish and I had the toothache, to boot. One of my teeth was very loose and I finally jerked it out of my jaw. I was willing to try anything to catch a fish, so I fastened the tooth to my hook and dropped it into the water. It was not long before I had a fine white bass. Not much later a second white bass bit my tooth and here he is. But I lost the tooth in catching the second fish."

Methods of producing new variations of plants through radium emanation and other artificial stimuli were recently demonstrated.

Texas Needs Dairy Products

COLLEGE STATION. — Texas needs more manufacturing milk to meet the demands of its domestic market.

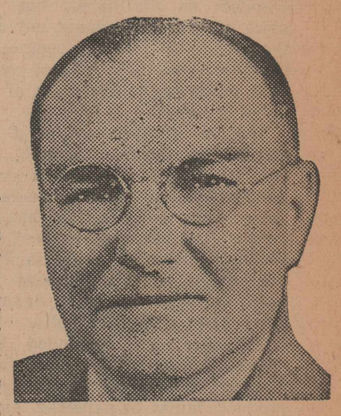

W. V. Maddox, Extension Service dairy manufacturing specialist for Texas A. and M. College, says Texas imports butter, concentrated milks and cheese because the volume of manufacturing milk falls far short of demand.

"With increased population," he explains,' "we need to produce still more dairy products. But, with some of the general practices and trends prevailing on most farms we may expect a decline in production of manufacturing milks."

Maddox believes that with the new era of agricultural policies and a change to larger farm units operated by hired labor, we may expect a decrease in producers of cream and milk for manufacturing purposes. The new methods brought about a decrease in farm people who formerly produced milk and cream for their own tables and sold a little surplus to manufacturing plants. Their altered status removed them from the producing class and placed them wholly within the consumer element.

LOCAL DRUG FIRM GETS AGENCY FOR HOYT'S COMPOUND

Large Shipment Of This New Medicine Has Arrived At The Parsons Drug Store.

MR. HARRY GAGE

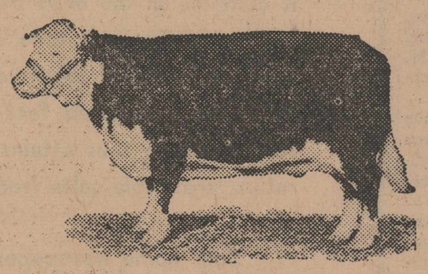

Ever since the dawn of civilization the human race has been searching for drugs and medicines that would give relief from common ailments of mankind. Within the past few years, medical science has made some amazing discoveries that will have a far reaching effect on the health and well-being of humanity.

Hoyt's Compound is the name of the new medicine that is taking the country by storm, and druggists stand amazed at its tremendous sale. Hoyt's Compound is now on sale and is being explained to crowds daily at the Parsons Drug Store. Everywhere, people are praising Hoyt's Compound and one of the latest to endorse it is Harry Gage, of 555 East 11th Avenue, Denver, Colo., who states: "For years, I had acid indigestion. It came on shortly after meals. At night, my stomach filled with gas and caused awful pains. I couldn't sleep before midnight. It felt as though there was a solid mass in my stomach, and it seemed to lay there for hours, causing distress. I had a sour acid taste in my mouth, and suffered headaches and dizzy spells, too. I had to use strong laxatives and I was sluggish and drowsy from body poisons."

"Hoyt's Compound took hold of my case. Now I can eat without gas and bloating. I sleep all night, and in the morning I am ready to work. I have no dizzy spells or headaches, and my bowels are regulated. I have new vitality now. I really feel fit!"

If you, too, are suffering from a similar case, why not come today to the Parsons Drug Store and get a bottle of the new wonder medicine, Hoyt's Compound? Hoyt's Compound is also sold by good druggists everywhere. Be sure to call for and get some genuine Hoyt's Compound. Accept no substitutes. Adv.

Norwood Future Homemakers Are Active Group

Reviewing their work for the year, Samnorwood Future Homemakers discover that not only have they learned much theory of homemaking, but since the opening of the school year, much that they have learned has been put to practical use.

With Dee Coleman as teacher and sponsor of the chapter, the group this year is headed by Mary Ruth Montgomery, while Kathleen Shields is vice president; Carmen Marchant, secretary; Virginia Turner, treasurer; and Waunetta Johnson, reporter.

One of the early highlights of the year came when fourteen girls attended the area homemaking meeting held at Canyon in October.

About this same time the girls set up an exhibit on "Hobbies" at the Collingsworth County Fair.

Shortly after the first of the year, members of the second year foods class visited a meat market, Coca-Cola Bottling Co., and a neon sign shop in Shamrock, while members of the third year class visited the Wellington NYA center and St. Joseph's Hospital.

As a Christmas project, members of the second year foods class served a buffet supper to the Faculty Club. Another December event, of the first year clothing class, was the conducting of a clothing contest, in which Joyce Rountree was judged winner. She will represent the group at the state FHT Rally at San Antonio in April. This same group of girls are now studying breakfasts.

The second and third year classes are making general wear dresses, afternoon dresses and evening dresses. Culminating this work, a style show will be held April 11.

Since the REA line has been extended to Samnorwood, many new electrical appliances have been added, both to the laboratory and the living-dining room of the home ec department.

Church Notes

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Should we go to war? What should be the Christian's attitude toward war? Is it right to bear arms? to kill? What should our attitude be toward those nations and people now engaged in war? Is it wrong to defend our rights? Would Christ condemn us for fighting for the right? These and other like questions will be answered and discussed by Rev. Hadley A. Hall, in his message, "The Christian Attitude Toward War," at the Church of the Nazarene in Wellington next Sunday evening at 7:15. The public is cordially invited to hear these vital questions answered.

Dodson Nazarene Revival Progresses Despite Weather

By VIVIAN WORRELL

The Dodson Nazarene Church began its mid-winter revival meeting Wednesday evening, February 19, with the Heasley-Brannon Trio in charge.

Members of the church find these workers are capable, and good singers as well, and a cordial invitation is extended the public to attend.

Although the snow and bad weather is proving a handicap, the membership expects this to be a successful revival.

Trainee Describes Radio Studies Through Poetry

The following poem was written by Cloice Roberts, Wellington, who is studying radio, code, typing and telegraphy at Scott Field, Ill., 18 miles from St. Louis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roberts. This poem concerns his studies in direct current in electricity.

I think that I shall never see
A subject more boring than D. C.
A subject that puts me to sleep
each day,
And takes my interest in school
away.
Shades of OHM, Kirchoff, and Watt.
To me it's all a lot of rot.
Stuff I can't seem to comprehend.
I wonder if it will ever end.
Watt to do when you have resistance.
OHM! is my teacher's strict insistence
And that I AMP smart enough to know
Which way and why, the currents flow.
The MHO I hear, the less I know.
To drop it would get my VOLT.

22 Taxes Levied Against Texas Oil Producers

DALLAS.—More than half of all the oil produced in Texas already pays a tax of over ten cents a barrel, a survey just completed by Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association statisticians shows. Twenty-two separate taxes are now levied against oil producers.

The survey, based on tabulation of tax records of all 254 counties and of independent taxing subdivisions, shows that more than half of the State's oil bears taxes of 10.26 cents a barrel. All of the oil produced in Texas pays an average tax of 9.23 cents a barrel, while in some counties the taxes amount to 15 and 20 cents per barrel.

"Texas oil producers now pay 22 separate taxes, or 21 in addition to the State gross production tax," a statement today from the association points out. "In fact, analysis of the various tax levies borne by oil produced in 33 leading Texas oil counties (which produce over half of the State's total crude output) shows that the State gross production tax of 2 3-4 per cent makes up less than 29 cents of each dollar collected in State and local taxes on oil production and producing properties. The fact that so much of this oil already pays over 10 cents a barrel is noteworthy in view of statements sometimes heard that Texas oil should pay ten cents a barrel tax.

These 22 taxes do not include any paid on refining, pipe lines or any branch of the industry except production. Nor do they include the gasline taxes paid by the individual motorist.

"The oil tax situation is different from that of any other State," the association statement explains. "There are more than 9,000 separate local taxing subdivisions in our State, each of which is empowered under the Texas constitution to levy and collect taxes. Many of these are independent taxing agencies such as cities, independent school districts, water districts, road districts, etc. Every oil field within the jurisdiction of any of these taxing agencies is subject to property assessments and tax levies deemed necessary by the respective taxing officials. And all of these taxes must be paid by the Texas oil producer from the money he receives for his petroleum, his sole source of income."

of those who have been "typed" a blood donor card will be given. A movie entitled "Technique of Blood Transfusion," will be shown and Doctor E. W. Jones will discuss the subject.

"The process of becoming a donor is very simple. When a Blood Donor's Unit is formed the members are typed and classified according to the four general "types" which are standard variances in the human blood. The data on each member is filed and a card is given to the individual designating the type to which he belongs," Sisters of the hospital point out.

"With each transfusion the hospital finds itself in need of a certain type of blood. Your name on our list provides us with a scientifically correct donor. We have not access to the popular "blood bank" of today, but we have a very dependable "walking blood bank" in every volunteer. Anyone, rich or poor, who is in need of fresh warm blood that keeps life in the body, will find the St. Joseph's Hospital Blood Donor Group ready to answer the call. This service costs the patient nothing. And the donor receives nothing except the satisfaction of knowing that he has helped save a human life," it was explained.

"We are delighted with the numerous volunteers who have responded so generously in the past. Twice that number is our future goal. The following list of individuals who have been donors during the last three years brings home to us the realization that there are many people in this world who are willing and do help their fellowmen in an hour of need and who do so without thought of remuneration:"

Jeweler's Business Shows Big Increase

Frank A. Pope, Jeweler, 908 West Avenue, reported Monday that his business is growing satisfactorily with market increase in the clock and watch repair and jewelry engraving departments.

Each department is directed by an expert and the work is turned out without tiresome and unwarranted delays.

"We not only enjoy a good business in Wellington but have a number of customers who send in their watches and clocks for repairs and jewelry engraving from other cities.

"If you have not had your watch or clock cleaned or adjusted lately, you should attend to it at once. Clean and well adjusted time pieces last many years, when kept in that condition, but soon are out of commission when allowed to remain clogged and grimy," Pope said. Adv.

Rise Seen In Poultry Prices

STILLWATER.—Higher poultry and egg prices are in prospect for the first half of 1941 as a result of smaller than usual supplies and a probable improvement in consumer demand, according to agricultural economists at Oklahoma A. and M. College.

A lowering in the prices poultry raisers will receive is likely to follow in the latter part of 1941, should favorable feed-egg ratios at the beginning of the year combine with large chick hatches to create large supplies of chickens and eggs, the economists believe.

Price trends expected by the farm economists are based on a smaller number of laying hens on farms, a smaller number of chickens moving and a smaller supply of eggs in storage on October 1 than a year ago, in fact less than the five year average.

Favorable feed supplies together with probable higher egg prices may bring the 1941 egg production up near the 1940 laying mark by mid-year, the economists say. By this time, price depressing factors may begin to take effect.

Miss Mildred Slough Weds Charles P. Butler In Sunday Rites

Miss Mildred Slough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Baldwin, and Charles P. Butler of Amarillo, son of Mrs. G. E. Butler of Guymon, Oklahoma, were married in a beautiful ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Wellington at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 23. The Rev. J. P. Neal read the rites before the altar which was banked with fern. On each side of the altar wrought iron candelabra held tall white tapers. These were lighted by the ushers following the prenuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, J. T. Baldwin, wore a princess style turquoise blue alpaca dress trimmed with tiny pearl buttons down the front and white eyelet embroidery collar and cuffs. Her accessories were corday sandals and white hat. She carried a small white prayer book and a nosegay of Johanna Hill roses.

Miss Virginia Lee Fortenberry, maid of honor, wore a rose-beige redingote and black accessories. She carried a nosegay of roses.

J. W. Gibson of Amarillo was best man. Ushers were Fred Schureman of Amarillo and John Hooper of Wellington.

The nuptial music was played by Mrs. Lee Fortenberry. For the prenuptial music Mrs. Fortenberry played "Indian Love Call" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Miss Mary Katherine Hutcherson sang "Because." For the processional the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin's was played, and Schubert's Serenade was played softly during the ceremony. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for the recessional.

The bride was reared in Wellington and following her graduation from high school attended Mary Hardin Baylor College at Belton and North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. While in college she was a member of the Beta Sorority at Mary Hardin Baylor and Pi Omega Pi, business fraternity. Since finishing school she has been with the Collingsworth County AAA and at the time of her marriage was with the Farm Security in Claude.

The groom received his B. A. degree from Oklahoma A. and M. in Agricultural Economics. He later received his M. S. degree in Agricultural Economics from State College of Bozeman, Montana. He was a member of the Alpha Gamma Phi fraternity at Oklahoma A. and M. Mr. Butler is now assistant Agricultural Economist in the Division of Farm Management and Cost of the Farm Security Administration of Amarillo.

Water Facility Program Will Cover County

The local office of the Soil Conservation Service has been notified this week that the Water Facility Program has been extended so as to cover all of Collingsworth County. For the past year only that portion of the county lying within the Salt Fork of the Red River watershed has been able to receive benefits from the Water Facility Program, which is carried on jointly between the Soil Conservation Service and the Farm Security Administration.

Under the Water Facility Program, farmers of the county may borrow funds at 3 percent interest, with repayment spread over a period of years, for the purpose of providing for the storage or utilization of water for stock or for farmstead uses. Federal assistance is offered in constructing and installing or repairing ponds, reservoirs, wells, windmills, and other pump installations, spring developments, water spreaders, stock water tanks, overhead storage tanks, facilities for the household such as kitchen sinks, bath fixtures and hot water heaters, and such items as pipe and similar materials that would be necessary in making available water to serve more uses. Under this program provisions may be made for irrigating small gardens.

In order to secure funds for water facility improvements it is required that farmers make satisfactory arrangements with the Farm Security Administration and enter into a soil conservation program with the Soil Conservation Service. Those farmers in the county having working agreements with the Memphis CCC Camp are now meeting the requirements for the Soil Conservation portion of the program and would need only to meet the requirements of the Farm Security Administration in order to secure a loan.

For further information concerning this work any farmer in the county now having to haul water for any purpose or needing improvements added to his present water facilities should see Ralph W. Dent of the Farm Security Administration, W. K. Cottingame, County Agent, or Chester Hufstedler of the local Soil Conservation Service office located over White's Auto Store.

Previous to his London trip, he was heard last year by millions of radio listeners over the Columbia Broadcasting system, from Helsinki, Finland, during the Finnish-Russian War. He remained in Helsinki during the bombardment of that city and for the greater part of the war.

"European Battlefronts" is the subject of White's address, which will start at 8 o'clock on the night of March 11. He has spent much of his time during the past few years in Europe, visiting in Germany, France, Belgium and Holland as well as other parts of the continent. Ballistic Experts Help Wardens

At least four hunters paid fines for illegally shooting doe deer in the Hill Country of Texas during the season which just closed despite the fact no game warden saw the actual kills, it has been reported to the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission at Austin.

Bullets taken from does were sent the ballistic experts in the state department of public safety and were compared with bullets fired from guns of hunters wardens knew were in the vicinity of the illegal kills. The matching bullets by scientific means proved the downfall of the quartet of hunters arrested in various sections of the Hill Country. Three of the game law violaters entered pleas of guilty and the fourth was convicted when he stood trial.

Cattle Brand Still Town Name

JAL, N. M.—Whereabouts of the man responsible for the name of this rich little New Mexico oil and cattle town are unknown.

He was J. A. Lynch, who gave the JAL ranch its brand of "J" on the shoulder, "A" on the side and "L" on the hip of cattle. He sold his holdings and disappeared.

According to Jal citizens he was running cattle before the turn of the century and some suspect he is dead, but nothing was heard of him after he left town.

Welcome To The Project Show Saturday, March 1

We would be ungrateful, indeed, should we not take this occasion to bid you "Welcome" to the Future Farmers, 4-H Club Boys and Girls and Future Homemakers Annual Project Show to be held here Saturday, March 1.

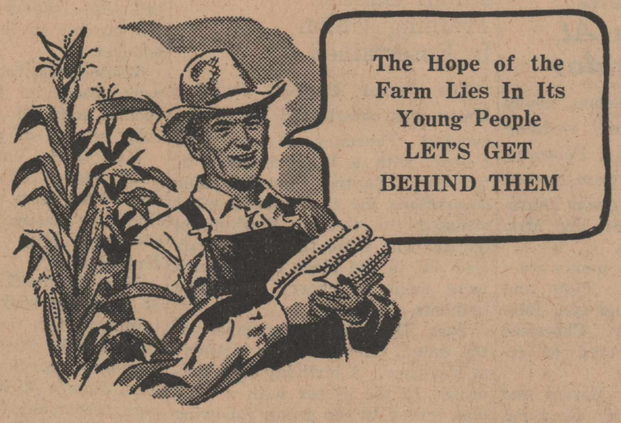

The Project Show is even bigger and better than in past years, and we encourage your support to the boys and girls which they so deserve. May we also extend our sincere congratulations to each member of these clubs on the fine work being done by them in this county.

We have whole-heartedly supported the improvement of agricultural methods in the past by buying registered bulls to raise the quality of the cattle in this county . . . By buying ensilage cutters and putting them at the disposal of the farmers of the county . . . By experimenting to see what methods the farm income may be raised . . . By making available terracing machines, whereby the fertility of the soil may be conserved. We did this believing that the most precious and vital thing in this county is the boys and girls, who will benefit by it, and who will be future citizens of this county.

Petition Draws Assurance From New Lawmakers

A petition circulated recently urging that State Senator Grady Hazlewood and State Representative Ennis Favors cooperate with Governor O'Daniel in securing a tax measure to raise revenue for the payment of old age pensions last week brought asurance from these two men of their efforts to do something for the old people.

The petition was circulated by J. McBroome, district clerk, and J. E. Miles of Quail, and bore the names of 56 county residents, all more than 65 years of age.

Mr. Hazlewood, in a letter to Mr. McBroome recently, stated ". . . you may rest assured that there are two things I am going to do. First, vote for the full $30.00 per month, just like the law intended, and second, cut out a lot of these useless investigators who are discriminating among the old folks at this time, saying one shall have $6.00 and the other $10.00 when the needs of both individuals are the same.

"Under the Constitution of this state, the revenue bill must originate in the House of Representatives, and I surely hope they will hurry up and pass some sort of revenue bill and send it on over here. They have a dozen different types of revenue bills ready to submit over there in the House of Representatives. . . . But if they will send us some sort of tax bill over here, then we can combine the ideas of all tax bills and get it over with.

"I know a great many of the old people there in Collingsworth County that supported me, and I certainly do not intend to disappoint them."

Similar assurance was given by Mr. Favors.

"If there is any one class in my four counties that supported me solid, it was the old people, and I am not the kind that soon forgets my friends," he wrote.

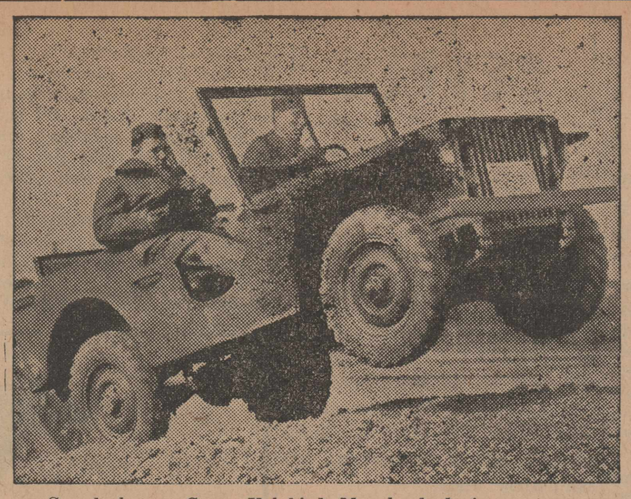

"I feel like this session of the Legislature is going to accomplish something of a constructive nature. I for one will vote for any reasonable revenue measure that will raise sufficient money to pay the old folks and from my observations during my short time here, I believe this is true with a majority of the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives."

CHECK YOUR DIET TODAY

4-H members spell HEALTH in capital letters, and these boys and girls try to be their "own best exhibit" of good health and growth.

Miriam Birdseye, extension nutritionist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is one of the persons responsible for the health program of 4-H clubs throughout the country. She says, "Boys and girls between 10 and 15 or 16 years grow by leaps and bounds. That's why food and health habits are so important to 4-H club members. Good growth for boys and girls of this age makes for strength, endurance and poise. It may help to overcome defects developed during earlier years. Good growth at this time makes the boys and girls better club members and helps them to work harder, play harder and lead happier lives."

These young people work on an all-around health program. Posture, exercise, fresh air, and sleep are all essential. Besides these there is the very important point of good nutrition. Growing boys and girls must have the right foods to have good growth.

The club member who has fed and cared for a calf or a flock of chickens does not need a nutrition book to understand that the right food makes for a strong, healthy body and an attractive appearance. What he needs is some guide to show him which foods make up a good diet for a young, growing person.

Early in the club year the boys and girls check their own diets against a list of the protective foods. Then they can tell whether they are getting all of the necessary foods and learn where their diets need improvement. This list includes milk, butter, fruits and vegetables, whole-grain bread or cereals, eggs, meat, fish, cheese, dried beans or peas, and plenty of water. Cod-liver oil is a fine supplement in winter or when you can not afford plenty of whole milk, butter, eggs, and green-colored vegetables.

After the need for these protective foods is taken care of, Miss Birdseye suggests that the boys and girls eat additional bread and cereals as well as some sweets and fats. These foods give them the energy materials needed for work and play.

"Begin the day with a good breakfast including fruit, milk, cereal, and an egg if possible. Even the first meal of the day must have its quota of protective foods. Sweets belong only at the end of a meal. If you are really hungry between meals drink milk, eat fruit, or plain bread and butter," Miss Birdeye advises.

Boys and girls who use this list of protective foods as a guide, often find that their diets have not been measuring up to a good standard. In many cases they solve the problem by planning for a better garden and canning program from which the entire family benefits.

This diet guide was planned for club work on health. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, and other clubs besides the 4-H have found it helpful.

Attend The Project Show

We wish to encourage every farmer, every business of Collingsworth County to be in Wellington on Saturday, March 1, to attend the Project Show, conducted by the FFA, 4-H Club Boys and Girls and the Future Homemakers that you, too, may see what the youth of this county is doing. In years, this show is young—and the boys and girls who will exhibit their work are young—but that in no way affects the high quality of hogs, sheep, calves and other projects which you will see exhibited.

With the present agriculture life rapidly changing, from the work of these boys and girls, you may catch a view of what Collingsworth County's farmers of tomorrow will be like.

Educated Farmers

Farming today is not the same as it was years ago. Markets are uncertain . . . prices are shaky, and competition, especially in cotton is very keen.

Therefore, it is important that farmers make a minute study of their problems and do the job scientifically to insure the stability of their income.

Future Farmers and the 4-H Club Boys are doing a fine job toward this goal. The boys are learning the "inside stuff" about farming. They will in later years, be successful farmers.

Saturday, March 1, the Future Farmers, 4-H Club Boys and Girls and the Future Homemakers will conduct their Fifth Annual Project Show here in Wellington. We wish to invite everybody in this county to attend this show in order that you might get an idea of what these boys and girls are doing.

Laid End to End They Add up to a Swell Idea

We mean these Four New Additions to the Buick SPECIAL Series that Give you Big-Car Thrill in less Curbside Space

Buick SPECIAL Convertible Coupe with Press-A-Button Automatic Top, $1138★

THE way cars have been stretching out lately, it usually takes only a couple of cars to occupy the curb space of an extension-ladder fire truck.

Not so with the newest additions to the 1941 Buick line.

Here we've reversed the trend—just to prove that an honest-to-golly BIG car can be built without going overboard on bumper-to-bumper distance.

The four new models now adorning the Buick SPECIAL Series fit neatly into modest garages without putting a permanent crimp in the doors.

They slip into parking places smoothly as a rowboat nestles up to a dock—and the way they flit through traffic is a delight to wheel-weary drivers.

When it comes to action—well, they've got a 115-hp. FIREBALL eight under their bonnets that skims you down the road like a mallard heading home. You can add Compound Carburetion at small extra cost and have 125 horsepower that does things we hardly dare hint about in print.

But they're a handy six inches shorter, bumper to bumper, than other Buicks—a quartet of top-quality cars in an easily-handled size that hasn't known such merit before.

The price? It's lower too. So better take a look—it'll be the first time you've ever seen a really BIG car wrapped up in this bumper-to-bumper distance.

County Resident 50 Years Ago Buried Friday

Samuel E. Roberts, 68, who came here with his parents two years before the organization of the county, died Monday, February 17, in Oklahoma City, and was buried here Friday. He was a brother of C. W. Roberts of Wellington.

Although he had not made Wellington his home since about 1893, Mr. Roberts was known and remembered by most of the surviving pioneers of this county, and had made the acquaintance of many other later comers on his visits here with his brother.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist Church Friday afternoon with Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, pastor, in charge. Pall bearers were D. D. McDowell, F. H. Royal, John Jones, Terry Alexander, A. V. Cocke, and M. F. Hunter. Flower bearers, who were granddaughters of C. W. Roberts, were Miss Ruby Roberts, Mrs. Robert Simpson, Mrs. Tip Holliman, and Mrs. Virrel Roberts. Hymns included "Sweet Bye and Bye," and "What a Friend We Have In Jesus." Interment was in the old Wellington Cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. Roberts was born in Metropolis City, Ill., on December 6, 1872, and at the time of his death he was 68 years, 2 months and 11 days of age.

While he was still a child, he came with his parents to Fort Worth. At the time there was no railroad, neither was there a graded street. A cattle trail ran through the heart of the city, and this was used by cattlemen in driving their cattle to northern markets.

In 1888, the family came to Collingsworth County.

Following the death of his father, five years later, Mr. Roberts left here, and had since made his home at Texarkana, Fort Worth, in California, Oregon, and during recent years in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Roberts is survived by his brother here, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Robbins and Mrs. Margaret T. Iverson of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Annie Hofsteter of Riverside, Calif. His wife preceded him in death ten years ago.

L. K. Hallock of Jacksonville, Ill., has originated, solved and catalogued 16,755 puzzles based on ordinary dice.

An American Design For Air Raids

What's fashionable in an air raid? These costumes designed by Mrs. Francis Ruskin, New York, are of fireproof fiber material. The blouse has hanging pockets, back and front, into which are inserted plastic plates approximately a quarter of an inch thick, covering the vital organs. The plates are shaped to the body. Slacks are worn instead of a skirt, and the pointed hood completely protects the head and eyes.

"This Thing Called Love"

"This Thing Called Love" is something wonderful!

One of the merriest, maddest, outrageously "howlarious" comedies of the season, the film which opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre is in splendid keeping with so delightful a galaxy of Columbia hits as "The Awful Truth," "It Happened One Night," "The Doctor Takes a Wife," etc.

Starring Rosalind Russell and Melvyn Douglas as newlyweds with ideas—she wants their marriage to be a platonic one until they get used to each other; he simply has ideas!—"This Thing Called Love" joyfully moves from one laugh situation to another, accompanied by a wealth of delightful dialogue and an abundance of comedy characterizations. The film was directed, it should be noted, by Alexander Hall, the man whose deft, sure treatment made "He Stayed for Breakfast" and "The Doctor Takes a Wife" the scream sensations of last year. Under his expert guidance, Douglas and Miss Russell comport themselves with a suave surety, so that their performances top anything they have ever before given the screen.

The laugh-packed story, the brilliant cast, the ingenious finale, all contrive to make "This Thing Called Love" its director's finest picture, and the crowning comedy achievement of its stars.

Miss Mary Alice Griffin and Miss Claudia Cummings of Austin were guests last week of friends and relatives here. Miss Griffin visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Royal, while Miss Cummings was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cummings.

Bill and Raymond Parker, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Tot Parker, were here over the week end visiting with their parents. The Messrs. Parker are living in Odessa.

LETTERS From the PEOPLE

(This letter was written by Truman White, now in the U. S. Army, to his mother, Mrs. L. J. Lewis. Believing that his many friends here will be interested in hearing of his work, she has asked that it be printed.)

Dear Mama:

Don't think I answered your last letter, but if I did, don't guess it will hurt me to write again.

It sure is pretty weather up here. Hope it is there too. Guess we will still go to Missouri, but don't know when.

They have built a new camp there. Don't know whether it is finished or not, but we may not stay there long when we do get there. I think we will maneuver this summer.

Well, I made corporal. Aren't you surprised? I am $52 a month. Doesn't sound bad, does it. Don't know how long it will last, but it will be good while it does last.

Tell Mrs. Lockhart and Mrs. Bowen hello for me.

Love,
Truman White.

Tribute To E. A. Wells

February 21, 1941

Hon. Deskins Wells, Editor
The Wellington Leader
Wellington, Texas

Dear Editor:

The passing of Mr. E. A. Wells eliminates from this life a real pioneer.

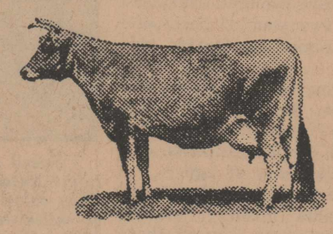

For years Mr. Wells was actively identified with many constructive organizations in Collingsworth County. He was a very active chairman of the County School Board for five years during my administration as County Superintendent of Collingsworth County. He was always considerate, fair, and very efficient as the chairman of the County Board. He had excellent business judgment, and always took the right side of any educational issue that arose in the county.

I had many dealings with him, and I found him to be honest and broad minded, He was vitally interested in improving the educational conditions of the rural boys and girls of Collingsworth County.

No greater tribute could be paid to any man than to say that he was faithful and conscientious in all of his civic duties, true to his friends, a loyal citizen, and a Christian gentleman. And Mr. E. A. Wells was all of that and more. I counted him as one of my best friends.

Very sincerely yours,
J. D. Wilson,
Supt. Paducah Schools.

According to a late report, Bob Feller will receive $45,000 for the 1941 season, which is the highest salary ever paid to a pitcher.

Quails Take District Basketball Title

The Quail Quails, who came out second in the county basketball tournament, went back to their old winning tricks and took the District Four boys' basketball championship in the tournament at Childress Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

They defeated the defending champions from Crowell Saturday night, 42 to 18, to win the title, which entitles them to participate in the state basketball tournament.

The Samnorwood Eagles, who won the county championship were eliminated by the Quanah quintet Friday afternoon by the close score of 44 to 42.

To open their playing, the Quails upset predictions and defeated a favored Silverton team, considered the most powerful in the lower Panhandle. In the second round, Friday night, they disposed of a skilled Quanah team by the score of 38 to 28, then took the semi-finals from the Childress Bob Cats 31 to 21 in the semi-finals Saturday morning.

The Quails took the championship tilt from the Crowell Wildcats during the first three minutes of the game, when they rang up a 10-point lead. Speed and action characterized the playing of both teams during the remainder of the game, but only once were the Wildcats able to get as close as six points to the Quails.

Leading in the scoring for the champions was R. B. Johnson, who accounted for fifteen points. He was also high man against the Silverton boys. Second high man was James Sessions, with twelve points, while Harold Hammitt was third with eight points.

Third place in the tournament went to Thalia.

In addition to winning the district championship, Quail placed two men on the all-district team, Harold Hammit, forward, and R. B. Johnson, who played guard. Other members of the team included Cunningham of Childress, Nelson of Crowell, and Johnson of Thalia. These men were awarded miniature gold basketballs.

Rockets Drop Final Game

The Skyrocket basketball team ended its season Tuesday night, February 18, when it dropped a game to the Shamrock Irishmen, 41 to 27.

The Rockets, however, were playing without the services of two of the first-line men, who were out of the game due to illness.

This was the second time this year the teams had met, the Rockets winning the first game by a narrow margin.

Chevrolet Again Leads In Used Car Sales In '40

DETROIT, Mich.—Chevrolet dealers' continuance, during 1940, of used car sales gains evident since the factory's used car merchandising program was launched several years ago, assures still greater emphasis, in 1941, on the used car reconditioning system which from the standpoint of the buyer is the most vital feature of the program. W. E. Holler, general sales manager, and sponsor of the highly-successful operation, made this announcement here today.

"Besides leading the industry in car sales in 1940, for the ninth time in 10 years, Chevrolet dealers lengthened their lead in the used car end of the business," Mr. Holler said. "They sold 1,909,972 used cars, a figure substantially in excess of the huge 1929 total, and second only to the all-time peak year 1936. More used cars were sold—by some 340,000—than in the calendar year 1939.

"Such a sales record reflects a more and more widespread recognition on the part of the public that used cars obtained from a reliable source are sound transportation values. Chevrolet's effort for the last five years has been to elevate the quality of dealers' used car offerings, by means of basic improvements in the reconditioning system.

"The experience of dealers who have given more time and attention to proper reconditioning, in line with factory recommendations, has been uniformly good. Used car sales figures for the time the program has been in effect bear out this statement fully. Chevrolet dealers' annual used car average for the last seven years—a period which goes back two years before the program was launched—has been 1,596,007 units. The average for the last five of these years, however, has been 1,717,322. The average monthly sales of used cars, for the last 85 months, have been more than 132,000 units.

Wellington NYA Basketeers Lose Finals In Tourney

Wellington's NYA basketball team came out second in the regional NYA basketball tournament held at Canyon Thursday, February 20, losing to Canyon the right to represent this area in the state NYA basketball tournament to be held at Inks Dam in the near future.

The Wellington boys are coached by Bob Oldham, supervisor of the NYA construction project at Rocket Field.

The group won the right to participate in the Canyon meet by defeating the Childress team Wednesday afternoon, in a hard fought game which ended 39 to 36. During the entire period, these teams played an almost equal game and not until the final whistle was it definite just which of the two would come out on top.

First game played in the Canyon meet was with Lamesa, however the game was discontinued at the half with the Rockets leading 40 to 2.

Final game was with Canyon, in which the Rockets went down 59 to 27. This game ran on even keel during the first half, with the Wellington boys within six points of their opponents at that time. Canyon's scoring splurge during the last two periods, however, left the locals out of the running. This team is the strongest Wellington has met this season, the local boys believe.

This closed the basketball season for the NYA boys, Mr. Oldham said, and work on softball will begin in the near future.

Boys playing in the Childress and Canyon games included Maurice Smth, Ray Watson, Sam Lindley and Frank Leach, guards; Morris Barton and Gus Barton, forwards, and Bill Towns and Thurman Emmert, centers.

Arabic figures were not invented in Arabia, but in India.

REDUCE TRAFFIC FATALITIES

From all parts of the nation come disquieting reports of increases in traffic fatalities. In some cities the number of deaths in motor accidents has doubled the number of deaths for the same period last year.

This is the time of year when great caution should be exercised, by motorists and pedestrials alike. A sunshiny day following slippery weather is an occasion for motorists to take the car out for a little spin. Too often, tricky pavements create real dangers.

The increasing number of new cars may be a factor in the climbing accident rate. Motorists are inclined to step on the accelerator just a little too far, and a new car's swift reaction may lead to danger.

Noticeable, too, is the increasing number of fatal accidents to elderly pedestrians. You can help to reduce the number of tragic deaths of older folks, by lending them a helping hand in crossing streets.

The safety message cannot be repeated too often, nor stressed too much. Be careful. Lose a minute and save a life. Be considerate of the other fellow. Do your share in reducing traffic accidents.

MASONRY BANNED

Major Vidkun Quisling, Norwegian Nazi Fuehrer, officially banned Freemasonry throughout Norway in a recent decree. Quisling's order provided penalties for members who were slow in giving up their membership and converted the Masonic headquarters into a museum.

Hitler's puppet government in Norway granted full standing in the National Union Party to Masons who resigned before the Germans entered the country on April 9th of last year, but other farmer Masons must serve a three-year probationary period before being admitted to full standing in the Norwegian-Nazi party.

It is known that Hitler has officially banned Masonry in Germany, France, Holland and Norway. Franco has done the same in Spain, and Mussolini issued a decree against the fraterity in Italy. No word has been received recently from Denmark, Belgium, Bulgaria, Austria, Czechoslovakia or Poland, and Masonry is either barred or has voluntarily disbanded in these countries. Since stringent laws exist in Russia against the fraternity, it is probable that Masonry does not function in Finland.

Word from Sweden reached the United States as late as last October, but communications from that country are vague, and nothing definite regarding Swedish Masonry can be ascertained. It is feared that Masonic work in Switzerland may have been seriously affected by the encirclement of that country by the Axis powers.

Wherever the dictators have come into power, Masonry has been outlawed.

HEROIC GREEK WOMEN

Reports from Athens recently have told of the war activities of Greek women, who are contributing much toward keeping every man possible on the fighting fronts by doing most of the work behind the lines.

With true Spartan courage and fortitude these women bring food, ammunition and other supplies to the soldiers, besides performing other duties of the most exacting nature. It is said that most of the drivers of ambulances and other vehicles are women.

All classes take part in war work without distinction. The wife of the Greek commander-in-chief is a hospital nurse, and society women share the innumerable tasks with their humbler sisters, even to giving blood for transfusions to wounded soldiers.

On one occasion a group of women on duty near the front saw an opportunity to do some active fighting. Stationing themselves on a high ridge beneath which a large detachment of Italians had to pass through a narrow ravine, they practically wiped out the enemy by throwing and rolling large stones down upon them.

It is through the indomitable spirit of both its men and women that the small Greek nation has won victory after victory over superior forces of Italians on every fighting front, to the amazement and admiration of the world.

BRITON'S GOOD HEALTH

Last fall it seemed inevitable that serious epidemics would occur this winter among the people of Britain, especially those cooped up in air raid shelters at night. Fortunately, this has not happened so far, although it is still to early to become optimistic over the situation.

In a report a few days ago by the Ministry of Health it was stated that there was less sickness in Britain in 1940 than in the pre-war year of 1938. Scarlet fever, diphtheria and dysentery cases dropped nearly one-third, while pneumonia increase donly about two per cent, in spite of the severity of the early winter.

Cerebro-spinal fever showed a large percentage increase, but the total number of cases has not been great, and its death rate has been reduced from the former alarming 60 per cent to only five per cent, through the magical results of a new sulfilamide treatment.

Since the report was compiled there has been considerable influenza which, as in the United States, has generally been of a mild form. Medical authorities warn, however, that the next two or three months may see an increase in disease, owing to overcrowding and poor sanitary conditions in many of the air raid shelters.

Improvement in shelters has been made as conditions have permitted, and evacuation to rural areas is now made compulsory in certain cases. What will happen if and when Hitler makes his big invasion attempt can not be imagined, but that the ordeal will be terrible is a foregone conclusion.

Which Will It Be?

How Man With New Idea Became King Of Cress

That an American farmer may hit upon some bright new idea that will lead to fortune is well exemplified in the story of C. E. Dennis, America's cress king.

Not that he ever was a farmer, but his success is one that some farmer might have achieved had he gotten there first.

The story starts in New Jersey. Dennis' father lived there. The elder Dennis noticed that a prized thing for the table in the hotels and restaurants was fresh water cress. He investigated and found that it came to market at irregular intervals when farmers found cress growing in brooks in their land and took the trouble to pick it and ship it to town.

Dennis, Sr., started experiments in raising water cress. He found an easy market in the seashore hotels.

An express company official suggested to him he might send fresh boxes of the stuff to New York. He said he would carry a few boxes free to see whether the cress would find a sale. The product was snatched up by the hotels.

Dennis decided it was time to get scientific and plant regular crops of cress. It was not as easy as he thought.

First difficulty was to get seed.

But even after he obtained the seed, he often failed to get a crop.

By experiment he learned that cress could be grown successfully only in fresh water streams that had certain chemical properties. Of course, the water had to be clean and uncontaminated, otherwise the cress mighty carry disease.

C. E. Dennis was raised to be a cress expert. Today his main suplies come from his streams near Martinsburg, W. Va., and Huntsville, Ala. He has other plantings in other parts of the country.

By carefully timing the crops, he assures a supply all the year round. Pickers cut the stems and leaves, the roots remaining untouched. Thus the same plants give a crop about every six weeks.

His product now is about 5,000,000 bunches a year. It is claimed for cress that in addition to its pleasant tangy taste, it is rich in iron and loaded with five of the most important vitamins.

As with so many things in the food world, cress was known, esteemed and eaten many centuries ago. The Greeks and Romans thought it would sharpen a man's wits. The example set by C. E. Dennis seems to carry out this belief.

Text: Luke 19:41; 20-8.

There is no sound of rejoicing or of triumph as we near the closing scenes in the life of Jesus, for we are told that as He made His triumphal entry into Jerusalem, He wept over it. Why did Jesus weep over Jerusalem? Because He saw this holy city, with high opportunity, greatly fallen from its high estate and about to be encompassed with enemies and destruction.

Would Jesus weep over the modern city, if He drew near to any one of our great cities today? All of these might be holy cities, places where men and women might have happy life and happy conditions because the city makes possible so much that is fine in social life.

Yet the city today, as in ancient times, is a place of great contrast—of great wealth, often irresponsible wealth, and of dire poverty, of exceptional goodness and the deepest sin, of church spires that point to heaven and slums and foul places that reek to heaven with their unsavory physical and moral odors. Most assuredly, Jesus would weep over the modern city as He wept over the ancient one.

The holiest place in the city might well have been the temple, but when Jesus entered it, instead of finding it sacred for holy faith and aspirations, He found it given over to those who sold their wares and who made profit even out of the things which worshipers bought for sacrifice. Was it any wonder that He was moved with indignation, and that He drove these profiteers out of the temple with the denunciation, "It is written, and my house shall be a house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of robbers."

Great controversy, particularly in relation to the question of the use of force, has centered around the other gospel story of this incident, in which Jesus is represented as taking a whip and driving the profiteers out. Some have claimed that Jesus used force in His moral indignation.

Others have seen in the "whip of small cords" a rather harmless weapon which was really the symbol of His righteous anger; while still others have told us that the "cords" were in reality the rushes on the floor of the tefple, which Jesus wove into a physically harmless weapon, and therefore a symbol. Whatever it was, His indignation was apparently effective, for those who had made the temple a den of robbers fled before Him.

It was as Jesus taught in the temple that the question of His authority arose. The chief priest and scribes—that is, the official religious representatives—could not brook the fact that anyone not in their company could presume to preach or teach. When they asked Jesus concerning His authority, Jesus asked some embarassing questions in reply.

What was the authority of Jesus, for we are told in one place that Jesus taught the people with authority and not as a scribe? Was it not that Jesus regarded goodness and truth as their own authority?

I SAW

By V. A. R.

A sudden cold snap like the one over the week end brings out ingenuity. For instance, the driver of a 1925 model Ford sedan, since he didn't have any defroster to keep the ice off the windshield, fastened a candle up next to the windshield, so that the heat kept the ice off the driver's side. And there he went down the street with the improvised defroster doing a good job.

Among other things seen . . . Judge C. C. Bishop suffering with a bad cold, wondering if he hadn't better go home and go to bed. Judge Bishop, who has unusually good health, recalled that the last time he was sick enough to stay in bed his father read to him from the daily papers about the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for his first term as President. . . . The judge went through the war without taking the flu, the only one of his company to do so.

A letter and subscription from Arthur Wells, who used to live here, but who is now teaching at Chalk. "We just can't get along without the paper. Please send me the last two copies, too," he wrote.

Rev. H. H. Neeley, who wrote an article in The Leader recently urging beautification of the town, is practicing what he preaches. Last week he spent a good deal of time and work putting out shrubs in front of the Christian Church.

A story from the Legion meeting Thursday night . . . it was during one of those Information Please quizzes and the question was "What foreign country is richest in iron ore?" and it was going down the line unanswered. Seven-year-old Jamie Kirby, who had come to the meeting along with some other children, stepped up between the contestants and began to wave his hand.

"Sweden," he answered briefly and correctly when they noticed him, and then without more ado he went back to playing.

And along the same line . . . Mrs. Chas. B. Jones discussing her oldest son, Charlie, Jr., who never makes a grade lower than A on history. "He must be a throw-back. I never made above C on history in my life, and Dr. Jones says he was a C student in history, too," she said.

John Harper calling out to R. F. Curry, Saturday morning when it was airish: "What's the matter with you? You've lived here for the last 112 years, and the first cold spell that comes along, you have to go around with your collar all turned up."

The three small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Waller hurrying to get to the Saturday Western show.

J. A. Richerson, coming to pay his gas bill and finding the Gas Co. in with The Wellington Leader, temporarily, joked "Have times gotten so hard that you both had to go in together?"

Mrs. A. R. West wrapped up warmly out doing errands in the cold fog Saturday.

ODD BITS OF NEWS

A bandit who robbed Murray Glicksman in a skyscraper office in New York City made his victim walk down 16 flights of stairs to the street. The robber then fled.

No tardiness would be tolerated in his court room, said Judge E. N. Rector of San Jose, Calif., who fined himself $5 for being late.

Mrs. R. A. Wells of Marshall, Texas, lives in a home bought from a man named Fawcett, which stands on Water street in the Rainey addition.

Lester Groth of Reno, Nev., 18 years ago promised Rev. J. L. Harvey a wild goose shot by his own hand. Every year since Groth has hunted in vain until finally, this year he got the bird.

Omer Evans of Marion, Ill., Republican nominee for county commissioner in the recent election, ran on a platform proclaiming he was the "ugliest man in the county."

On the grounds that his wife chewed tobacco in bed, an Indianapolis man recently obtained a divorce.

Because the jury couldn't decide whether the crime was petty or grand larceny, Paul Smith of Marion, Ill., was released on a charge of theft.

LETTERS From the PEOPLE

(Editor's Note: The Leader will gladly publish any acceptable article which is submitted by readers, provided the articles are signed by the readers and are free from libelous or malicious contents. The opinions expressed here, however, do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper.)

Pie Town, New Mexico,
February 18, 1941.

Wellington Leader,
Wellington, Texas,

Gentlemen:

At your request I am writing you regarding this section of New Mexico.

We are located about eighty miles west of Socorro, which is the second oldest town in the U. S. We live just west of the Continental Divide. It is a beautiful mountainous country and has many natural resources, such as coal, salt and timber. The timber consists mostly of cedar, pine and pinon. The pinon resembles the short leaf pine and bears a very valuable nut, when they bear, which is about every three years.

The mining industry consists of gold, silver, lead and zinc.

This is a new country and much of it unsettled. There are some large forests here, which are leased by the cowmen. There is also lots of game in the forest—big black-tail deer, antelope, black and brown bear, a few mountain lions, linx cats, coyotes, and wild turkey. Linx cats and coyotes are valuable to the trappers.

Daddy thinks this is one of the finest stock farming countries he has ever seen. The principal crops are corn and pinto beans. It is also a fine garden and vegetable country.

In places we have running water and springs. We have shallow water, about twenty feet, and deep water from about one hundred eighty to two hundred fifty feet, and many surface tanks. It is a very healthy country. We have an abundance of good wood to burn in our fireplaces.

I am at home with Daddy and Mother, going to school. I am a junior in high school.

We, Daddy, Mother and I, have a small bunch of cattle. Our weaning calves averaged five hundred twenty pounds each last fall.

We have a little home, approximately three thousand acres, located on Highway 117 two miles north of Pie Town. Pie Town is an inland town on Highway 60. Our nearest railroad point is Magdalena, 60 miles east of Pie Town.

Pie Town has a bean recleaner and warehouse. They have shipped three carloads of beans and have two more carloads in the warehouse, besides those that have gone out on trucks.

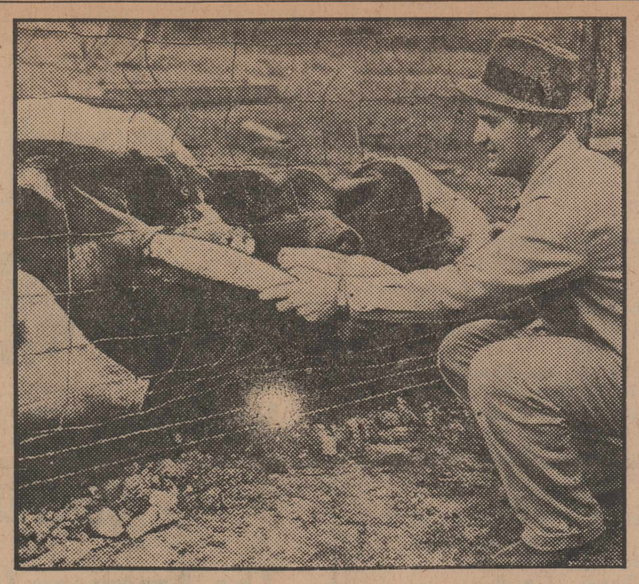

We have daily mail. In regard to the land, we have different kinds of soil, black, sandy and tight. The grass is mostly gramma grass. It is like all new countries, land is cheap. Prices run from one to five dollars per acre, owing to the location and improvements.

We enjoy the Wellington Leader very much, especially Daddy. He sees so many names of his old friends. He moved to Wellington in December 1904. He built the first phone line into Quail and Lillie.

Hoping this letter isn't too lengthy, I am,

Sincerely,
Katy Bess Tingle.

To Be Featured AT THE Project Show

A home-owned bank that believes in diversified farming invites you to attend Collingsworth County's Annual Project Show in Wellington, Saturday, March 1.

This is our boys' and girls' show. To them belongs much of the best of our dairy and beef cattle, sheep and hogs. These will be here for your inspection. But these fine animals are not all. The homemaking skill of our girls still in high school will be displayed by local merchants in their windows.

Not in the history of these youth shows have we been as interested as we are in this one. And never have we had as large a show as the 1941 event will be. More than 200 head of livestock will be shown, with the best of the lot going on to represent the county in larger livestock shows.

This type of thing—this way of life—is best for Collingsworth County. And so this bank, ever interested in those things that make for a better county, urges you to see this show.

Wellington FFA Makes Rapid Progress In 1940-41

By RONALD DAVIS

Although it is the youngest Future Farmer Chapter in the county, the Wellington F.F.A. has in only one and one-half years become among the most active farm youth groups in the entire Panhandle.

Headed by Robert Baumgardner, a high school leader who has shown an interest in farm problems for several years, this year's Future Farmers are accomplishing objectives that will keep chapters of the future working to equal or surpass.

Baumgardner is ably assisted by his younger brother, Marion Baumgardner, as vice president of the FFA; C. A. Crawford as secretary; Bob Scott, treasurer; James Bowen, reporter; Forest Lemley, farm watch dog; Herschel Lewis, parliamentarian; Carthel Lewis, historian; George Crawford, song leader; Loyd Holloway, band director; and Ronald Davis, vocational agriculture teacher of the high school, as advisor.

Membership of this club includes Ruel Alexander, Robert Baumgardner, Herbert Bearden, John Boverie, Windel Brewer, J. D. Bruce, L. V. Bruce, Raymond Campbell, E. W. Clement, Floyd Colson, Fred Covey, Eddie Crawley, J. W. Emmert, Troy Godby, Leon Hartman, Gene Manzer, Jack McClure, Archie Roberts, Max Sachse, Dale Scott, Dane Sisk, Barney Stafford, Melvin Thomason, Phil Trew, Jim Bob Wood, James Williams, Marion Baumgardner, Frank Cook, George Crawford, Edward Huffhines, Herschel Lewis, Ralph Mardis, David Peters, Albert Van, Nathan Watson, Carl Standifer, C. J. Standifer, Harold Elbert, Benton Berry, Earl Clark, C. A. Crawford, Darrell Crooks, Loyd Holloway, Eugene Hunter, Carthel Lewis, Odis Roberts, Claude Roy, Bob Scott, Winfred Scott, Cecil Shanks, James Bowen, Durant McInnis, Forest Lemley and Ed Wallace Wells.

At the opening of this school year, the officers were installed and the chapter went into action. The FFA of 1939-40 had set up a mark for this year's group to shoot at. They had made a Lone Star Chapter of the organization, and accomplished many other objectives.

With this taste of success in their mouth, this year's boys were soon segregated into Chapter committees, and objectives for the year were set up. Being more experienced than last year's boys, the F.F.A. members set up objectives for a real year's work. Among these objectives were to keep the Lone Star Chapter rating, to set up road signs welcoming visitors to Wellington, to have thoroughbred live stock as projects, to plant certified seed for field crop projects, to render community service, and other creditable objectives.

This year's term is slightly past the midway mark, and a look at the accomplishments of the chapter shows that much has been done. School had hardly begun when the Future Farmers jumped head first into the County Fair. They entered ten booths, which, although they were put up hurriedly, did much to improve the appearance of the fair's booth space.

Home projects were soon selected so that each boy could get real farm experience along with his theory in classes. The project program will compare favorably with that of any chapter in the Panhandle.

"Come out and see for yourself, as some of the Kiwanis Club members did when they sponsored the FFA project tour," the boys invite. "You can judge for yourself March 1, when many of the Wellington FFA boys projects will be exhibited at the county-wide project show."

In addition to making good with home project work and classroom studies, a survey shows that this year's fine group of farm boys have hung up some honors for themselves. Early in the school year, the Wellington F.F.A. took first honors in competition with a large number of vocational agriculture departments at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. The group was awarded a first place banner, a cash award of $36, and the opportunity to exhibit their booth on grasshopper control at the Dallas Fair, where an additional cash award was assured each exhibitor.

Another accomplishment meriting recognition was the fourth place honor that the local FFA dairy cattle team won in the Texas Tech contests February 15. This team was composed of Fred Covey, C. A. Crawford, and Bob Scott.

Other accomplishments include the sending of two delegates to the national FFA convention at Kansas City; the purchase of an electric pop-corn machine to be operated at athletic contests, the proceeds of which will go to improve the FFA finances; and the attending of the Aggie Mother Cherry Pie supper and social; the killing of some 50 hogs for local farmers; and the securing of news items and pictures concerning the work of the group in the Lone Star Farmer magazine and Progressive Farmer. A group of the FFA boys are also champions of the local high school intra-mural basketball tournament.

Some of the FFA objectives are still in the future. The boys will have to work hard to retain the honor of being a Lone Star Chapter. Many of the boys plan to help make the Project Show a success by showing as much of their project work as possible. Some twenty calves will be exhibited by the Wellington boys. Other members will show fat barrows, and still others will exhibit brood sows and gilts. Several of the students plan to show sheep. The Future Farmers will also exhibit many head of livestock at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show. This will include some 15 to 18 head of fat steers, five or six fat barrows, and 15 to 18 head of sheep.

Strawberry Queen

Strawberries and sugar might be the title of this picture, with Tommie Thompson of Kansas City providing the sweetness to accompany the fruit. Chosen "Miss Strawberry Blonde" by Western Fruit Growers of America, she will reign as their Strawberry Queen at coming convention.

Fred Wolcott of Rice Institute set a new world's record of 6.1 seconds for the 50-yard high hurdles at an indoor meet in Philadelphia.

WEST TEXAS UTILITIES CO.

Wellington and West Texas— CENTER OF The American Cattle Industry And Ready to Feed the Nation!

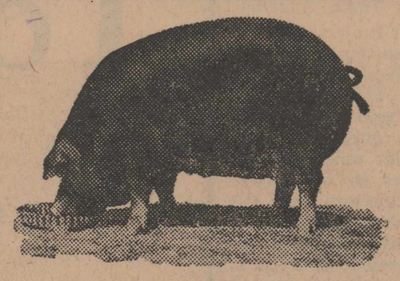

GOOD food is as important as good guns. Food for the Army is the backbone of Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

And, IF this nation becomes involved in Europe's war, it is quite probable that a West Texas beefsteak will have much to do with the outcome.

It's a tribute to West Texas' FFA, 4-H Clubs, and livestock producers that this region is prepared NOW to meet the national emergency IF and WHEN it comes. Beef is on hand, not on order.

Your electric servant is prepared now to fill the wartime needs of the country and the people it serves without government subsidies through expenditure of tax funds. The electric industry is among the nation's biggest taxpayers—and contributes over $400,000,000 each year to support our local, state, and federal governments.

West Texas Utilities Company

ATTENTION, ALL!

In order that we might give the youths of this county encouragement in the splendid work being done by them in their organizations, FFA, 4-H Club, and FHT, let's all attend the Project Show being conducted by them here in Wellington Saturday, March 1.
