Shivers Seeks Re-election, Will Lead Texas Fight on Truman

HERO OF FLYING ENTERPRISE

This is how Capt. Kurt Carlsen of the American freighter Flying Enterprise appeared as he received the homage of the sea-faring town of Falmouth, England. It was off Falmouth that Carlsen's ship finally sank after a two-weeks' struggle with the sea. He stayed with his ship until the last hour and then jumped into the sea.

Haskell Beard Is County Candidate

Haskell Beard

Haskell Beard, 43, of 3605 Avenue U, has announced his candidacy for county commissioner from precinct No. 3, the southwest quarter of the county.

He is the third to announce. The others are L. L. (Pat) Moore and Henry Layne, both farmers near Ira. Ted Haney is the present commissioner.

Beard is the first resident of the city to announce for a place on the commissioners court.

'WAS ENCOURAGED'

"After consideration and encouragement from people concerned over the welfare of Scurry County, I have decided to run for the office," he stated yesterday in making his announcement.

Beard was born in Marlow, Okla. and moved to Texas 36 years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Beard, now live in Lubbock.

Most of Beard's background has been concerned with agriculture.

He is a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, with a bachelor's degree in agriculture. He came to Scurry County in 1941 as an employe of the soil conservation service, for which he worked 10 years, resigning in 1944.

For the following year and a half he was engaged in terrace construction contracting, after which he began teaching agriculture under the GI bill, a program which is administered by the county board of education and supported by funds from the Veterans Administration.

Beard owns a quarter - section farm north of the city.

He is chairman of the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, a Mason, and a member of the Farm Bureau, Lions Club, and Junior Livestock Association.

MECHNICS ARE NO RESPECTERS OF PERSONS

Rank and station mean nothing to one car inspection station in Snyder.

Ezell Motor Co., the only station to receive approval Friday, welcomed its first applicant for a safety certificate. The applicant's pickup truck failed for lack of a tail light.

Mayor F. G. Sears, owner of the truck, hung his head and promised to have it fixed and try again.

STORE'S STAFF 100 PER CENT ON POLL TAX

The C. R. Anthony Co. became the first Snyder firm to report to the Daily News that all employes eligible to vote had paid poll taxes.

Jake Springer, manager of the store here, said four employes paid taxes at the Junior Chamber of Commerce poll tax booth yesterday to bring the total for the store to 14—100 per cent of the eligible voters.

Other firms whose employes have all paid the taxes are requested to call the Daily News.

Suit Against Lloyd Merritt Is Settled

A damage suit filed in federal district court against Lloyd H. Merritt, Scurry County sheriff, and the Maryland Casualty Co., under which Merritt is bonded, was settled yesterday out of court.

Garland Armstrong, attorney for the plaintiff, Merle C. Allen, said settlement was $1,000.

Merritt was represented by Sterling Williams, and the bonding company was represented by LaFont & Tudor of Plainview.

Armstrong said he would appear in federal court in Lubbock this week and ask that the case be dismissed. The complaint charged that Allen was falsely arrested and imprisoned.

Air Force Searches Alaska for Lost Plane

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 12 (AP)—An Air Force plane with five men aboard was missing in the Alaska interior today after the pilot radioed he was "hopelessly lost."

The plane, a C-47, was on a round trip training flight from Eielson Air Force Base near here to Umiat, 300 miles north of Fairbanks.

The distress message came at 12:45 a.m. (4:45 a.m. CST). It said the pilot thought he was near Northway, Alaska, which is 250 miles south of Fairbanks.

Allies Are Believed Ready to Take Red Promise on Fields

MUNSAN, Korea, Sunday, Jan. 13. (AP)—Allied and Communist negotiators appeared willing Saturday to yield slightly on the critical issue of rebuilding North Korean airfields — a major block in the truce talks.

New sessions were slated in Panmunjom today at 11 a.m., (8 p.m., CST, Saturday).

The question of building and repairing airfields in Red Korea is the last remaining issue before the subcommittee considering supervision of an armistice.

Freedom of choice in repatriation is a major issue in the other subcommittee considering exchange of prisoners of war.

In this United Nations Command advance camp, the feeling grew that both sides might give a little on their deadlocked positions regarding airfields.

The Reds already have shown some signs of motifying their stand. On Dec. 2, their chief delegate, North Korean General Nam Il, said emphatically the North Koreans would rebuild military airfields during the armistice.

Since then, the Communist chief sub-delegate, Chinese Maj. Gen. Hseih Fang, has toned that down by saying maybe the Communists would rebuild their airfields and maybe not. It is their business, he said.

The Allied sub- delegate, Air Force Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, indicated Sautrday a clear statement from the Reds on the issue might make way for successfully terminating the truce talks.

Newsmen felt a statement in the conference tent that the Communists would not rehabilitate military airfields would be acceptable to the United Nations command.

Feeling was strong that when such a statement was put in the conference record it would not have to be incorporated in the armistice agreement. And this would give both sides a face-saving way out.

The Allies insist that military airfields on both sides be left as they are during an armistice.

After Saturday's meeting, Turner pointedly omitted his usual comment of the last two weeks that "no progress" was made in the discussions.

City Petitions For Priorities On Water Tank

Freese & Nichols of Fort Worth has filed an application with the federal government for allotment of controlled materials to be used in the construction of the one-million-gallon water sedimentation tank here, W. J. Ramsey, city superintendent, said.

Freese & Nichols holds the contract for engineering the new tank to be used for water from the Colorado River dam. The tank will be built at Avenue L and Thirty-second Street.

The application for allotment of materials also asked authority to begin construction and a rating for the purchase of other materials and equipment to be used in construction of water treatment facilities for Snyder.

John Firebaugh, a member of the engineering firm who prepared the application, stated that an adequate and dependable water supply for Snyder would be a direct contribution to the defense effort inasmuch as Snyder is located in an important oil producing area. In addition, he stated, Snyder's abnormal growth in population and contingent demand for water has made this project a necessity for the continued existence of the city.

Freese and Nichols is now completing plans for the project, and will present plans to the city council for approval in the near future. Construction bids will be asked after approval. Company spokesmen have set March as a tentative date for beginning construction on the tank.

U. S. Totes Up Highest Loss Of Aircraft

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, Jan. 13. (AP)—The U. S. Far East Air Forces announced Saturday their costliest week of the air war in Korea — three Sabre Jets shot down in dogfights and 13 other planes destroyed by Communist ground fire.

FEAF listed Communist losses for the period — the week ended Friday — as 12 Russian-built MIGs shot down and 14 damaged in air battles. The Air Force reports Red losses from day to day, but now lists Allied losses only by the week.

An Air Force spokesman said the weekly average Allied loss since last spring has been about seven planes. Recent weeks have averaged 10 planes — attesting to the growing challenge of Red air power and anti-aircraft.

The 12 MIGs shot down during the past week brought to 210 the number of swift Red jet fighters destroyed by Allied planes since the beginning of the war. FEAF said 51 others were probably destroyed and 325 damaged.

Communist losses of all types of planes were listed as: 336 destroyed, 100 probably destroyed and 380 damaged.

(In Washington, the Air Force announced United Nations aerial losses from all causes exceeded 900 since the war's beginning. The figure was said to include 532 Navy and carrier-based Marine planes through Oct. 1 — of which 215 were lost through enemy action.)

In Tokyo, the Air Force was working to consolidate all losses more exactly, but said the best available figure thus far was 423 U. S. Air Force combat planes lost to enemy action through Jan. 11.

The 423 figure did not include losses by attached units such as South Africans, Australians, U. S. Marines, Republic of Korea, Army Liaison types, service plane losses or Navy planes.

The Air Force said it applied only to U. S. combat types, such as B-29 Superforts, B-26 light bombers and fighter-bomber and fighter types.

Price Daniel To Announce Jan. 21

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today asked re-election to lead Texas Democrats in a fight against President Truman and his policies.

He promised a stern battle at home and through the national Democratic convention in Chicago and refused to pledge advance support of the convention's nominee for President.

If President Truman is re-nominated, Shivers said he would come home for further orders from Texas Democrats. He added he had never failed to support the national convention's nominee and hoped he always could. The governor also said he thought President Truman would step out, and hoped a compromise candidate suitable to the South could be found.

Shivers' announcement that he would run for re-election brought handclapping from more than 200 editors and publishers at a mid-winter meeting of the Texas Press Association. His statement that he did not consider Truman a suitable nominee was met even more enthusiastically with "Hurrahs" thrown in.

The announcement for re-election was in line with speculation that he would not oppose Senator Tom Connally this summer, although he had been often mentioned for this race. It leaves the way clear for Atty. Gen. Price Daniel to battle Connally. Daniel will say what his plans are Jan. 21.

Shivers, 44, has been governor since Beauford H. Jester's death July 10, 1949. He was re-elected to his first full term, and now seeks a second elective term.

He said he was influenced in deciding to run for governor rather than for U. S. Senator by a desire to live in Texas with his family and continue working at a solution for numerous problems facing the state.

In national party politics he has been anti-administration and had advocated settling party fusses within the party.

The Texas governor told the editors and publishers at the televised press conference that his personal choice for the Democratic nomination would be Senator Richard Russell of Georgia. He said, in response to other questions, that he thought Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia would be all right; that he didn't know what Senator Estes Kefauver stood for except he was "against crime." As for Speaker Sam Rayburn: "I would like to find out what his views are."

Shivers said he thought there was a "very strong chance" that Truman may step aside, and that the national party leadership would attempt to hand-pick a candidate.

The governor spiked reports that Texas will be headquarters for the Southern opposition to President Truman, and that he would be the Southern leader.

He is chairman of the Southern Governor's Conference, but said it would not "as such" promote such a campaign. Individual governors, he said, would follow their own views. Then he was asked if he has been invited and accepted leadership in the Southern revolt.

"I have not been invited and have not accepted. I'm interested principally in Texas," Shivers replied.

If Shivers is re-elected and serves a full term, he will have been governor longer than any other person in Texas history. In his formal statement announcing his plans, he said:

"This decision has not been an easy one and I shall ever be grateful to the many friends who urged that I become a candidate for the United States Senate. I appreciate also the thousands of friends who asked that I again be a candidate for re-election as governor.

Prices Steaks At Half, Gives Public a Break

HOUSTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—A Houston restaurant owner made "quite a bit of money" in December, so he decided he'd give the people a break in January. He cut prices in half for a week.

Thousands swamped Cousins Restaurant yesterday, last night and thousands more gave up trying to buck the line.

"It's the most tremendous thing I've ever seen," said Restaurant Manager Art Saucer.

"We fed 2,713 persons yesterday and that's fifty million percent more than normal," he laughed. His cafe seats 200.

Why did he cut the price of a filet mignon dinner from $2.60 to $1.30 and whack all prices exactly in half?

"Well," he said, "we made quite a bit of money in December. So we decided we'd just give the people a break."

How bad a beating financially will he take?

"Well, we might even make a little money on the food, but I figure for the week we'll lose only about $5,000. That's because of the cost of advertising and extra help."

Navy Unveils Plans for Ten Atomic Super-carriers, Subs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Secretary Dan Kimball said tonight the Navy plans to build a series of ten 60,000-ton supercarriers, one a year for a decade, and that it hopes some will be-driven by atomic power.

He presented this project as part of a picture of how the nation's naval power has expanded since the start of the Korean War and how it will grow in the future if the Russian menace continues.

Prototype of the new family of carriers — bigger by about 15,000 tons than any now afloat — will be the US. Forrestal, under contract for building at Newport News, Va. The Forrestal will "be an entirely new type carrier, a true "Flattop". The usual island superstructure will be retractable to allow use of the full width of the flight deck. This will mean that big atomic bomb carrying planes can take off and land.

In an address prepared for the annual dinner of the National Sojourners, an organization of officers and former officers of the Armed Forces, Kimball said the Forrestal will "embody the latest advances in naval aviation." Then he added:

"If world conditions continue as they are, and if no satisfactory settlement is reached by the free world and the forces of Communism, the Navy intends to seek funds to build at least one of these ships per year for the next 10 years.

"It is my earnest hope that some of these subsequent vessels — if we build them at this rate — will be atomic powered."

An atomic powered carrier would have virtually unlimited cruising range and probably considerably higher speed than any vessel of comparable size now in commission. The Navy is starting out on nuclear power ship propulsion with an experimental submarine. A contract for the hull has been let and engines are now being developed.

Kimball also said that as part of the program for coping with the Soviet submarine danger, which he rated as great, the Navy will launch within the next few months four new type "hunter-killer" destroyers.

These ships are big, fast and powerfully armed with special weapons for detecting and destroying submersibles. The ships are 3,650 ton vessels, 493 feet long, with speed above 30 knots. They have new type engines, details of which are secret. The size of the ships (present day big destroyers are only about 2,200 tons) means also that they can keep operating in the heaviest kind of sea.

Kimball said the first two hunter-killer destroyers, the Mitscher and the Willis A. Lee, will be launched about Jan. 26, the former at Bath, Me., and the latter at Quincy, Mass. The other two, the John S. McCain and the Wilkinson, will go down the ways in the next few months. The McCain is at Bath, the Wilkinson at the Bethlehem Yard at Quincy.

Kimball gave this accounting of how operating fleet power has grown through bringing ships out of moth balls and commissioning new craft since June, 1950:

"More than 500 ships have joined the active fleet since this expansion began. By mid-year, we will have added to the fleet four battleships, 12 aircraft carriers, six cruisers and more than 100 destroyer type vessels. Our submarine strength will have been increased by more than 25 modern combat types, and the necessary transports, tankers, and fleet auxiliaries to support a truly mobile naval force will be available.

"In addition to this ready strength, we have under construction 140 new ships of various types. We have adopted prototypes of new escort vessels, minesweepers and submarines."

(Kimball's remarks, taken with the known fleet strength at the time the Korean War started, indicates the Navy will have over 750 ships in its active fleet by next July. This will include 27 carriers of all types, ranging from the little "Jeep" escort carriers to the three 45,000 ton Midway class ships; 20 cruisers; over 250 destroyer or destroyer-escorts; about 100 submarines.)

Oil Valuations Firm May Get '52 Fee of $46,800 In Scurry

The county's taxable property valuation was estimated by Thomas Y. Pickett of Dallas last week to reach the $120 million mark this year, with about $117 million of it on oil properties. If it does, the Thomas Y. Pickett & Co., valuation engineering firm for the county, will receive a fee of more than $46,800 from the county for determining the valuation of nearly everything but real estate. Salaries for each commissioners will also be increased at least $400 if the valuations reach $120 million.

Pickett holds a contract with the county which was first granted by the commissioners court in January, 1949, for two years, then renewed in January, 1950, for two more. Meeting with the commissioners last week, he told them he thought the 1951 figure of $99,680,000 on valuation of oil property alone should be increased to more than $117 million and that he believed the total valuation could be fairly set at more than $120 million. He explained that the $120 million mark would place the commissioners in a bracket for more pay.

Pickett emphasized his belief that the increase in total valuation should be placed chiefly on the oil properties rather than on real estate.

His contract with the county is for figuring the valuation of oil properties, railroads, banks, and utilities.

Now, because the valuation is between $75 million and $120 million, the maximum base salary for a commissioner is $4,000, but because Scurry County until about four years ago was on a fee system, each commissioner draws a base salary of $3,600.

In addition to the base pay as county commissioners, each draws $1,200 a year for being a road commissioner too. Car expense of $300 a year is automatically paid each of them in addition to the other pay.

The total valuation is now above $114 million. After it passes the $120 million mark, the maximum limit of base pay for a commissioner will jump to $4,800.

In 1951, Scurry County paid Pickett $42,500 as his fee for figuring the valuation on oil property, utilities, banks, and railroads. The contract allows him a fee of four cents on each $100 of this valuation.

A. M. McPherson Up For Re-election As Corporation Judge

A. M. McPherson, city recorder, announced yesterday that he would be a candidate for re - election in the city election April 1.

He is the first man to announce for any of the five city offices up for election this year.

Judge McPherson is now serving his second two - year term in the post. He was unopposed in the 1950 election, and won over the incumbent in the 1948 election.

Judge McPherson, 76 years old, came to Texas from Virginia more then 50 years ago and settled in Johnson County near Alvarado. In 1901 he moved to Scurry County. He has farmed here most of the time since then.

Other city offices which will come up for election April 1 are those of mayor and three councilmen.

Work to Begin OnNewHangar Next Tuesday

Construction on the hangar at Winston Field, county airport, will probably begin Tuesday, L. T. Norcross, owner of Norcross Construction Co. said. The Norcross Company has the contract for the foundation and mechanical parts of the building.

"We plan to begin construction as soon as the engineers have established the grades and property lines," he said.

The hangar, a 100 by 120 foot clear-span building, will have no supporting pillars in the middle of the floor. The roof will be entirely supported by pillars in the walls, Norcross said.

The contract, signed last week, allows 90 days for completion of the project, but it can probably be completed in about 60 days if the weather is favorable, Norcross said.

His part of the contract, for the foundation, wiring, and plumbing, was awarded on the low bid of $11,897.89.

Star Manufacturing Co. of Oklahoma City, was awarded contract for the hangar building. Of 24-guage steel, it will cost $28,660, making the total cost $40,557.89.

Norcross said a six-inch slab of concrete will form the floor of the main hangar building, and a four-inch slab will be used to floor the 20 by 100 foot lean-to which is to be built on the south side of the hangar.

It is to be located about 200 yards north of the administration building on the east side of the runway near the freight ramp and plane parking area.

The front door of the building will have a 20-foot vertical clearance and will roll on a track to open the full width of the building.

ANOTHER KOREA?

England, U.S. Ponder What Stand to Take on Indochina

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP) — The fateful issue of whether the United States should fight any more Korea type wars around the borders of the Kremlin's Red empire was injected with new urgency this week into grand strategy planning of the State Department, White House and Pentagon.

Allied fear over the security of Southeast Asia forced the issue.

Always a critical question, the matter is viewed by diplomatic and military planners now as triply difficult to handle because:

1. This is an American election year.

2. Allied military weakness continues to limit action.

3. No one seems to know — perhaps not the Reds themselves — what the Communists will do in either Southeast Asia or Korea.

The slow buildup of Allied strength, an important factor in Truman-Churchill discussions Monday and Tuesday, was recognized by the President in his message to Congress Wednesday. He said it would be two years before the desired level of Western defense is achieved.

One reason for the present pace of mobilization, of course, is that nobody here knows what kind of war with Communism will eventually be decisive — whether it will be military or political-economic. Hence defense production is geared for minimum disturbance of political and economic stability —and strength grows slowly.

This buildup period is regarded by officials here as a time of great danger if the Kremlin wants to force a decision. For at any time the Red leaders, with their presumed push-button control over the vast forces of the Soviet Union, China and the satellite countries, may decide to strike before Allied strength redresses the balance of world power.

The warning signs have pinpointed one spot after another on the borders of the Red Bloc since the end of World War II. The spotlight a year ago, for example, was on Yugoslavia; last fall there was deep concern over the dangers to Iran.

Southeast Asia, including war-torn Indo-China, is not a new candidate for a big push. But it has become the center of present fears and of top-level planning for two reasons:

First, the Chinese Reds may try there for a total victory, which they have been unable to gain in Korea.

Second, there have been reports —officially unconfirmed — of recent troop concentrations just north of Indo-China's border.

This situation has now been gone over by President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill, Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Minister Eden.

It is worthy of note that Eden, after the conference here, made a New York speech cautioning the Chinese Reds not to intervene in Southeast Asia — even as "volunteers." Such a move, he said, "would create a situation no less menacing than that which the United Nations met and faced in Korea."

He added:

"In such an event the United Nations, I trust, would be equally firm to resist it."

The danger in Southeast Asia was the over-riding topic of discussion in a conference of American, British and French general staff chiefs at the Pentagon.

All the talk revolves around this point:

Britain and France are doing, in their estimate, about all they can to fight Communism in that far-away corner of the world and it more is to be done the United States will have to pick up the ball.

The French position has been that French forces in Indochina can deal with the threat there, provided it grows no bigger. The British have felt that though the war against Reds in Malaya has not gone very well — a few thousand Reds are tying up a lot of British troops — they can handle it on the present scale.

There is of course the usual appeal for continued and, if possible, increased United States military supplies. But neither State nor Defense Department officials believe that supplies alone would stem a Red rush to the south.

Present opinion is that probably only a commitment of American forces would achieve that and the decision has to be made whether the price would be worth the gains which might be won.

Our Troubles Stem From Our Own Actions Since 1900

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Among the truths which are hard to swallow but are excellent for the digestion there is the plain but much neglected truth that we must in the end blame ourselves for our troubles. This surely is the beginning of wisdom for the Western democratic nations. We shall never be able to deal with our problems successfully so long as we think of ourselves, as we have in all the wars of this century: as an innocent and respectable family who are so peaceable and so kindly that again and again gangs of robbers break into our unguarded house and very nearly murder us in our sleep.

What is most seriously wrong with this picture of ourselves is that when the gangs of robbers began their series of housebreakings, that blameless and respectable family sleeping within the house included the watchman, the teacher, the doctor, the banker, the lawmaker, of the whole neighborhood.

• • •

The decline of our Western society into its present inner and outer insecurity began, we must never forget, before the appearance of Lenin, Mussolini and Hitler Stalin and Mao, and all the lesser Fascist, Nazi and Communist tyrant-bosses of our era. In 1900, so great was the prestige of the western nations that everyone, including the revolutionary Socialists, took it as axiomatic that liberal and democratic institutions were the goal towards which all mankind was advancing.

That ceased to be true during the first world war when France and Great Britain were irreparably injured in the fearful massacres of that war — a war which they had not been able to prevent, which they were unprepared to fight, which they and we did not know how to settle.

• • •

Yet that infinitely costly war ended in a democratic victory, one so nearly total that our battered veterans from the United Nations Assembly, their heads bloody but unbowed, cannot now even imagine anything so dreamlike. In 1918 all of Europe from the Atlantic to the Pripet Marshes lay within the military orbit of the western democratic nations. There were no Molotovs and Vishinskys in whose presence Lloyd George, Clemenceau, Orlando, and Woodrow Wilson had to prove to their own countrymen that they were not and never had been disloyal. There were no emissaries of any alien despotism to confuse the proceedings and to veto the decisions.

All the reactionary empires, enemy and alien alike, had been defeated and were in ruins. The only victors were the free nations under governments based on free elections by peoples who had long enjoyed civil and religious liberty. Only the free nations had armies, navies and the material resources to underwrite the reconstruction of the devastated and dislocated countries.

There is no way to explain away the responsibility of the democracies for the failure to make a peace which was viable and could endure. The terrible things we have seen since then, the villanies and the crimes and the great convulsions came after the failure of the democracies, when their power was virtually unchallenged, to use their power wisely. Lenin was still a refugee in Switzerland and Hitler was still an insignificant corporal in the German army when the great trouble began. Lenin and Hitler and their followers have exploited and aggravated immeasurably the the declining powers of the Western democratic society. But if that decline cannot be arrested and reversed, if it continues — as it could — to the fall of our Western society, then the verdict will almost certainly have to be, in Arnold Toynbee's words, not murder but suicide.

This is a hard truth to swallow because, while it does not excuse our enemies of any of their crimes, it does not relieve us, the people of the free nations, of any of our awful responsibility. It is, however, the saving truth. For once we hold ourselves blameless, we have given up the conviction which must be there if we are to save ourselves — the conviction that we and not they are the spiritual sovereigns of our fate.

In the measure that we treat ourselves as the innocent victims rather than as the blunders who — having had and having still the power and the responsibility — misuse it, we shall go on making the mistakes which have brought such ruin upon our society. Twice we have been victorious over our enemies. What can it have been but our own mistakes in the exercise of our own power which have brought the Western world to its present plight?

His Mind Is Made Up: No TV Contract

FALMOUTH, England, Jan. 12. (AP)—Capt Kurt Carlsen stubbornly rejected today all offers to cash in on his 14-day saga aboard the Flying Enterprise. He said he was just not interested.

He hid out most of the day in a Cornish Hotel five miles from town, dodging promoters with contracts all ready to sign for story and movie rights, television and radio appearances and endorsement of commercial products.

Disappointed and somewhat bewildered, these men sat around hotel lobbies and most of them conceded there was no chance now at least of changing the courageous skipper's mind.

When he stepped ashore yesterday Carlsen said "I most certainly do not want honest efforts. . .to save my ship to be commercialized in any way."

And when Carlsen makes up his mind it is hard to change him. His stubborn but losing fight to save his ship from the angry Atlantic proved that.

He has turned a deaf ear to offers totaling between $84,000 and $112,000 which have come from the United States, Britain, France and Denmark.

Still catching up on the sleep he lost aboard the ill-fated Enterprise, Carlsen said he wants only to get back to his wife and two children in Woodbridge, N. J., and then get another ship and go back to sea. His company, the Isbrandtsen Line, has assured him that another ship, perhaps another Flying Enterprise, will be assigned to his command.

But before returning to his life's work at sea he will be lionized at a luncheon in London on Monday and a ticker tape parade in New York.

Still wearing borrowed clothes, the 37-year-old captain ventured out of his hotel only long enough to visit his shipping agent and lawyers.

A crowd of about 300 admirers quickly surrounded him and touched off an impromptu demonstration. Police had to clear a way for him.

He spent an hour and a half clearing away legal angles involved in the sinking of the Enterprise. Afterward Philip Fox, the shipping agent, said Carlsen had completed his business here.

Part of the business consisted of entering a formal "protest against action of God, wind and waves," a routine report which every master makes after a mishap to his ship.

Carlsen has disclosed that the log and scribbled notes he made from the beginning of his lone fight Dec. 28 were lost when he and tugboat mate Kenneth Dancy finally leaped from the sinking ship Jan. 10.

The National Georgraphic Society says many of the Portuguese who settled in New England fishing cities came from the Azores.

Arizona State Gridder Under False Name

TEMPE, Ariz., Jan. 12 (AP) — The Phoenix Gazette said today an all-Border Conference tackle at Arizona State College at Tempe had been playing all year under an assumed name.

The paper identified the player as "Edward Andrew" Matesic, registered at the school as a freshman. His real name is Joseph Matesic, who played on the University of Indiana squad in the 1950 season, the Gazette said.

Dr. Grady Gammage, ASC president, confirmed that one of the school's football players had been found to be registered under the name of "another person," and had left the institution.

Dr. Gammage, who presented the information in a written statement, did not identify the player.

Matesic, a sensation as a freshman here this season, left several days ago for his home in Rankin, Pa. Acquaintances said he planned to enter military service.

The Gazette said that Edward Andrew Matesic, a brother of Joseph, lives in Phoenix, Ariz., and has been a full-time employe of an industrial concern there for the past two years.

Arizona State College officials began a quiet investigation several weeks ago of unconfirmed reports that one of their football players was not using his proper name.

Matesic, a 235 pound, 6 foot 4 lineman, joined the Arizona State squad at its pre-season practice camp in Prescott, Ariz. The Gazette said he seemed reluctant to pose for pictures then.

The paper further stated that Joe Matesic had been hailed as a lineman of great promise at Indiana where he played as a sophomore in the 1950 season.

Vishinsky Favors A-Bomb Ban, Would Permit Inspection

PARIS, Jan. 12 (AP) — Andrei Y. Vishinsky today proposed simultaneous prohibition of atomic weapons and establishment of strict atomic controls under which international agents would come and go on continuous inspections in any country, including Russia, whenever necessary.

The Soviet foreign minister told the United Nations political committee in a speech outlining his new ideas on atomic control that the international control organ should have the right "to conduct inspection on a continuing basis; but it shall not be entitled to interfere in the domestic affairs of the states."

The Russians in the past have rejected the idea of permanent inspection teams, contending they would spy for the West. Vishinsky declared his plan was a "tremendous and momentous step forward" and called on the West to match the proposal.

American delegation spokesmen immediately minimized the value of Vishinsky's plan. They declared it contained mostly "old stuff." They said the provision that inspectors shall not interfere in the domestic affairs of the states would nullify the inspection machinery.

U. S. Ambassador Ernest A. Gross told the political committee the United States would consider the proposal. He suggested the place to discuss it was in the U. N.'s new 12-nation disarmament commission.

Vishinsky said after the committee adjourned until Monday that he wants the U. N. Assembly to proclaim now — at this session — an unconditional ban on atomic bombs. He said, however, that such a ban could not take legal effect under his plan until the control system was declared effective.

"If the Americans wish to continue the production of atomic bombs until the ban is effective they could do so," Vishinsky said, "but they could not legally do it as soon as the control is effective."

Tied up with his plan is the old Russian recommendation, often rejected by the West, for a one-third reduction in the armed forces of the big five powers — the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China.

Other U. N. developments:

1—The U. N. Assembly approved 51 to 5 (Soviet bloc) a plan for collective security measures to meet aggression which would permit the U. N. to appeal for help from regional pact armies such as the North Atlantic forces. Argentina, India and Indonesia abstained.

2.—Vishinsky denounced the U. N. formula for concluding an armistice in Korea. He proposed again the Russian formula—for a cease-fire and withdrawal of both sides to the 38th parallel in 10 days, with all foreign troops and foreign volunteers (Chinese Communists) to leave Korea within 90 days. Gross and British Delegate Selwyn Lloyd replied that Vishinsky's suggestions would only wreck Korean negotiations.

Bing's Tourney Is Postponed

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 12. (AP) — Bing Crosby's $10,000 national pro-amateur golf tournament came to a waterlogged halt today but it will get under way again tomorrow, weather permitting, in an abbreviated finale.

The forecast was for diminishing showers.

An all-night rain caused cancellation of the second round. The Monterey Peninsula Country Club course was ruled unplayable. The eighth green was completely under water when players reported to the first starting tee at 7 a. m. Others were partly flooded. Sections of some of the fairways resembled small lakes.

Tournament Director Larry Crosby, brother of the sponsor, announced that the tournament would be decided on a 36-hole basis, instead of the customary 54 holes.

The final round will be played tomorrow over the famed Pebble Beach course.

Crooner Crosby, who foots the bills and turns the tournament profits over to charity, took the turn of events in stride.

Five preceding tournaments here have netted $95,000 and this money has gone to veterans' hospitals, polio research, church organizations and other charities. Three youth centers have been built from the funds.

Ira Splits Bill In Basketball

Cagers of Ira high school picked up another victory this week, edging out Westbrook 39 - 32.

Forward John Mengwasser, heavy scorer for the season, sacked 14 points, while Westbrook's Spann managed 18.

The Ira girls took a loss of 33-18 from the Westbrook fems, with Jo Ann Erwin high with nine points.

Oklahoma City Trades Johnny Creel to Dallas

DALLAS, Jan. 12. (AP)—Johnny Creel, outfielder with Oklahoma City last season, today was obtained by Dallas. He will be returning to the city where he got his baseball start.

Creel comes to Dallas in a straight trade with Oklahoma City for Outfielder Russ Burns, who was bought from Tulsa in mid-season last year.

Creel played high school and sandlot baseball in Dallas and broke into professional baseball with Montgomery of the Southeastern League in 1946. He played with Dallas in 1947 and 1948, went to Little Rock in 1949, Buffalo in 1950 and to Oklahoma City last year where he led the Texas League for most of the campaign. A shoulder injury in mid-August stopped his bid for the batting championship and he wound up with .296.

He underwent an operation and says his throwing arm now is as good as ever.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

The Snyder Tigers have a good record as they prepare to meet Colorado City tomorrow night in their second district game.

The season record is even—nine wins and nine losses, but the Tigers have the edge on scoring. They have tallied 713 points to opponents' 651 in the 18 games, an average of 39 - 36.

Four of Snyder's trusty top scorers have sacked more than 100 points in the games. Highest is Bill Hanks, with 139, then Ned Underwood, 138; W. G. Birt, 117; and Bobby Shipley, 101.

* * *

Colorado City lost its first district game Thursday night to Stamford 36 - 27, but the Wolves still have a good record of wins. They defeated Hamlin 52 - 30 in the Colorado City tourney. In four games with Roscoe, a strong area team, the Wolves won two.

High scorers on the Colorado City team are Don Williams, Tom Fulton, and Don Meeks.

Ex - cagers here have another chance this year to show their stuff. All they must do is organize a team and apply for entry in the city basketball league, which is being sponsored by the Quarterback Club.

Glynn Snyder, chairman of the league, said Snyder has plenty of ex-high school and college players who could make up good teams for competition.

First meeting of this year's league is to be held at 7 o'clock Friday night at the National Guard armory.

* * *

The Marine Corps has denied that their reserve recall of many major league baseball players is an attempt to build up teams of their own. We don't know about the Marines, but we've seen plenty of Army recruiting along that line. If they weren't available through the reserve program or selective service, they were talked into joining. We've seen the best service football teams built that way, and the same installation's baseball team had a good supply of well known players.

* * *

If Sweetwater citizens do not reach a goal of 715 book tickets by Wednesday, they must dispose of their franchise, 12 players, and all physical assets of their Swatter baseball club to pay off a $6,400 debt.

By Friday, the city had reached a total of 57 pledges for the 70 game book tickets, which are priced at $51.80 each.

If the ticket sale goes through, four Sweetwater businessmen will assume the present debt owned by the Sweetwater Baseball Association. If the tickets are not sold, the town loses professional baseball.

That might be an idea for Snyder. Of course, it would take plenty of money to finance Snyder's way into the Longhorn League, such as building a ball park and guaranteeing the club a large sum of money, but occasionally we see a club like the one at Sweetwater for sale.

Tigers Leave Roby Without Drawing Blood

The Tiger B squad took two losses in the Roby High School tourney last week and were eliminated in consolation semi - finals.

Playing the first game Friday afternoon with the Rotan A squad the team took a 29 - 26 loss, with Rotan's Mickey Martin scoring 14 points and Snyder's Regen White and Galyean both making 10.

Also beaten in the first round were Roby by Anson, Ira by Haskell, and Merkel by Trent.

In the semi - final consolation match yesterday afternoon, the B squad took another beating from Roby 43 - 34. Roby's Bill King netted 15 points, and White took 12.

Roby was to have met Merkel in consolation finals last night.

Jesse James Has Announced

AUSTIN, Jan. 12 (AP) — State Treasurer Jesse James today asked Texas voters to return him to office in 1952.

James has held the post since Oct. 26, 1941, when he was appointed by Gov. Coke Stevenson. He has been re-elected by large majorities ever since.

James made his announcement on the eve of departure for New York to accept receipts from the sale of $15 million in veterans land fund bonds. He is custodian of those funds.

He is also custodian of other state funds and the treasury now shows assets above one billion dollars.

To Organize Cage League Within City

Interest began building this week among cage enthusiasts in Snyder for the organization of a city basketball league.

The league this year is to be sponsored by the Quarterback Club, which intends to begin play as soon after the end of the high school basketball season as possible. The season schedule ends Feb. 11.

Glynn Snyder, chairman of the league committee for the sports club, said several firms in Snyder desire to enter teams in the league. He has called a meeting for 7 o'clock Friday night for all interested. The Snyder National Guard unit, which has begun to organize a team for league participation, volunteered their armory west of Avenue S for the meeting.

Snyder said participants must hold about three meetings before the league can have a successful beginning. He added that about eight or nine ball clubs will be permitted to enter, with about 15 men on each squad.

1951 LEAGUE

A basketball league was organized in 1951 by several interested sportsmen, and eight teams played in two rounds. A group of Snyder High School exes became champions in a final playoff with Continental Supply, and an all-star squad played several teams in other cities.

The chairman said this year's league will follow the same procedure, playing two rounds. An all-star team of 15 men will be chosen from the teams to participate in game with teams of other towns, he added.

Snyder urged all interested persons to meet at the armory Friday night for an informal discussion on league organization. He said each team entering must buy its own uniforms and pay an entry fee of $10 before league play begins.

Building Drops Off

AUSTIN, Jan. 12. (AP) — Texas building slumped during the second week of 1952.

Contract awards totaled $8,689,225 compared with $9,968,899 the week before.

The figures were compiled by the Texas Contractor, authoritative engineering journal. The accumulated total of awards thus far this year is $18,658,124.

Residential building led the awards last week with a total of $6,571,405.

Space Ranger Must Stay In His Costume

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Actor Richard Crane admits his chances of becoming a Hollywood movie star are remote—so he's going to get out of this world.

He has just signed a seven year television contract that will, in effect, make him a citizen of outer space.

Under terms of the contract, Crane will practically give up his present identity and become instead, "Rocky Jones, Space Ranger."

That's the title of a new television film soon to hit the nation's screens.

Under the contract, he must never appear in public unless he wears his futuristic Space Ranger costume.

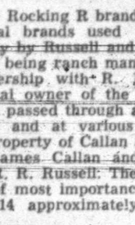

He must agree to make an annual tour of some 60 cities and appear before PTA and other school groups.

"Crane will even sleep in Space Ranger pajamas."

The boss is Jack L. Danov, the fellow who put all those Roy Rogers cowboy suits on kids.

Danov believes that space opera is fast replacing horse opera in children's fancy. The report of a Los Angeles department store that space suits now outsell cowboy suits three to one accents that belief.

TEXAS BRANDS

The Rocking R brand was one of several brands used in Menard County by Russell and Callan, the latter being ranch manager and in partnership with R. R. Russell, original owner of the brand. The brand passed through a number of hands and at various times was the property of Callan and Company, James Callan and Company, and R. R. Russell. The Rocking R was of most importance from 1910 to 1914 approximately 5,000 cattle.

The Russell mentioned herein was one time the largest purchaser of Texas grown steers in the nation, and James Callan was at one time president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association and a prominent southwestern Texas attorney.

There are in south and southwest Texas several of the younger generation of Callans engaged in the livestock and banking industry. One of the younger Callans has gained distinction in another field, and has made quite a recognized niche for himself in the newspaper business. This is Claude Callan whose feature columns appear in hundreds on dailies throughout the nation.

Northeast Reagan Gets New Spraberry Oiler

Another lower Spraberry producing area has been opened in Northeast Reagan County.

Located in the Four Corners area, Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 5-B Leonard Proctor was finaled for a daily flowing potential of 271 barrels of 38 - gravity oil through a three - eighth-inch tubing choke and from open hole pay section at 7,737 - 7,822 feet.

Pay was topped at 7,751 feet, elevation 2,732 feet.

The closest other lower Spraberry production is two and one-quarter miles to the north in Southwest Glasscock County at Sohio Petroleum Co. No. 3-C R. S. Davenport.

It also is three and three-quarter miles west and slightly north of Sohio No. 1 Leonard Procter in Northwest Reagan County.

R. L. Tollett of Big Spring, above, president of the Cosden Petroleum Corp., has been named a director of the West Texas State Bank here. Some of Cosden's major oil holdings are in this area.

Fisher County Oiler Taking Potential Test

General Crude Oil Co. No. 1 G. T. Webb, flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian reef lime in Central - South Fisher County, is taking its official potential test to complete and go on production.

This new field opener flowed 129 barrels of clean oil in the first eight and one-half hours of the potential test. The flow was through a one - quarter inch tubing choke and it was natural.

Operator was to continue flowing for a full 24 - hour test and then complete the wildcat.

Flowing tubing pressure was 735 pounds during the eight and one - half hours of testing.

The production is from open hole at 5,593-5,612 feet. Gravity of the oil is 42.8 degrees.

Top of the reef is at 5,589 feet. Elevation is 2,167 feet. The five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 5,593 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,979 feet from west lines of section 210 - 3 - H&TC. That makes it 11 miles west of Longworth and six miles northeast of the Pyron-Ellenburger field.

Oil Completions Are Running Ahead Of 1951

AUSTIN Jan. 12 (AP) — Texas oil well completions stepped out well ahead of last year's rate with 242 producers brought in this week, the Texas Railroad Commission reported today.

The year's total jumped to 443 compared with 412 a year ago.

Ten gas wells were completed. The 1952 total trailed 1951's comparative figure, 31 to 43.

The commission reported 128 dry holes.

Wildcatters found 22 oil wells, 2 gassers, and 83 dry holes.

Pluggings included 225 dry wells, 1 gas well, and 45 oil wells.

The total average calendar day crude oil allowable today was 2,941,736 barrels, up 11,399 barrels from a week ago.

The state had 132,692 wells, 153 more than last week.

Chess R. Martin, above, was named an asistant cashier of the Snyder National Bank last week. He moved here from Duncan, Okla. He has many years experience in banking, and has been in the ready-mix concrete, real estate, and building business. He lives at 2008 Thirtieth Street, is married, and has twin boys, 4.

Government of the Fittest

It was one of the favorite theories of the famous Greek philosopher Plato that in a democracy the best men would run for office. He reasoned that the best citizens would resent being governed by inferior men and would offer themselves as candidates. He further reasoned that they would be elected because the citizens would realize that the strength of democracy is that it offers a way to put government in the hands of the men best fitted to rule, instead of a hereditary king or tyrant.

Like many Platonic theories, this was a dream which has almost never been realized in actual practice. In the early days of the American republic, a few of the outstanding families in Virginia, Massachusetts, and maybe South Carolina took pride in serving the commonwealth. But throughout our history it has been increasingly difficult to put the best men in public office.

We wish old Plato had been right. We wish that more of the top citizens of Texas, Scurry County, and Snyder, realizing that they can do a better job than is being done in many cases, would offer themselves as candidates for public office. In this election year there could be no more optimistic sign of political regeneration than the entrance into politics of the men who are best equipped, mentally and temperamentally, to govern others.

We also wish that Plato had been right when he said the best men would be elected if they would run. In this country, at least, the candidate's real qualifications are secondary to his grandfather's party affiliations, his stand on several issues that were pertinent in 1910, and the way he parts his hair.

In this matter of getting the best men to run for office, we think the city charter commission made a very adroit move when it made the offices of city council and mayor unpaid positions like members of a school board. That automatically eliminates from the city's highest policy-setting council men who want the job for some pecuniary gain, be it only a small one.

Eventually county government will have to be on the same basis, conducted by a commission of unpaid public servants and administered by a well-paid manager and road engineer.

The big bottleneck to Texas progress — our antiquated commissioners court arrangement—will never be eliminated until commissioners also serve without pay and the administration of the commissioners' policies is put in the hands of trained appointed officials.

Then, possibly, we could get a little closer to that tantalizing ideal of democratic government — that the people would elect their best citizens to govern them.

Poll Tax Drive Starts Active Jaycee Year

Three Junior Chamber men above were part of the group which put up posters over the county urging payment of poll taxes. They are from left: Olin Bearden, Lloyd Clark, chairman of the drive, and Roy C. Johnson. Next week is National Junior [illegible] Commerce week. The Snyder club's poll tax drive is part of the nation-wide get-out-the-vote campaign.

PROCLAMATION

Since January, 1952, is designated as "Texas Citizenship Month", I, Forest G. Sears, Mayor of the City of Snyder, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of January 14-20th, 1952, as "Snyder Citizenship Week."

In this connection, I observe that the greatest privilege, and a duty of citizenship, is exercising the right to vote. Before a citizen can vote in 1952, he or she must have acquired a poll tax receipt, or an exemption certificate on or before January 31, 1952, from the Tax Collector of his or her county. (Sections 41, 42, and 48, Texas New Election Code for 1952.)

I further proclaim the one dollar and seventy-five cent poll tax as the greatest bargain investment for preserving the American heritage of liberty procured for us by our forefathers.

(Signed) FOREST G. SEARS,
Mayor of Snyder

Members of the Junior Chamber's better half, the Jayceettes, are shown above in a recent meeting when they discussed election of officers for the next term. From left standing are: Mrs. B. F. Zimmerman, Mrs. Bill Williams, Mrs. R. T. Roberts, Mrs. Marshall Bratton, and Mrs. Hugh Rogers. Mrs. Robert H. Hargrove, club president, is seated. Organized last May solely for the purpose of aiding the Junior Chamber in its projects, the club has become active on its own. With fewer than 20 members, the Jayceettes pledged $300 to the Youth Center for its first year of operation. Officers will be elected Jan. 28 after which a membership drive will be held. But it's not a club just any woman can join. Membership is restricted to wives of Junior Chamber members, who must be under 35 years of age.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 2, NO. 219 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JANUARY, 13, 1952 SECTION TWO

Mrs. S. G. Williams, special deputy tax collector appointed to assist in the poll tax drive. is shown with some of the Junior Chamber members who will accompany the trailer to all communities and oil camps of the county in the next two weeks. The men from left are: Johnny Boren, Myron Fenton, Ross Hemphill, and Harvey McClure. The club believes the tour will result in payment of many poll taxes which would otherwise be unpaid.—(Lee Watson photograph).

An entertainment highlight for 1952 will be the appearance here April 11 of the Wallace Brother's Circus sponsored by the Junior Chamber. From left above are Bill Williams, Billy Holman, and Stewart Harris, members of the club, who inspected possible locations for the circus last week. This will be the first appearance in Snyder of the show, which will be the largest to ever come here. Eleven elephants will be brought here with the show which is transported on 60 trucks.

Local Women Would Favor Ruling Against Fireworks

As the last few sizzles from holiday fireworks die out, one South Texas legislator is pushing a county-wide or state-wide regulation to control the sale and shooting of fireworks.

State Rep. Maury Maverick, Jr., of Bexar County looked at the record: Sixty - one persons in San Antonio alone were treated for injuries from fireworks during the holidays. Meanwhile, the Alamo city's police chief joined in a campaign to outlaw fireworks throughout the state.

On the local scene, Mrs. Joe W. Browning, supervisor of nurses at the Snyder Hospital, said, "I would be very much for a law outlawing fireworks. We have had two cases this season where children were badly burned by fireworks."

And Mrs. Jay Rogers, 1913 Thirtieth Street, expressed her opinion: "Fireworks are something children don't need. I thought the city passed an ordinance that fireworks couldn't be shot in the city limits, but if there is such a law it wasn't enforced during the holidays."

"Fireworks are all right if they are used in the right place, but the city is not the right place," 132 Milburn Street. "People live so close together, fireworks are awfully dangerous. I'd just as soon not have them," she added, referring to a near - accident at her home when a Roman candle backfired.

"I'm strickly for a law against them," Mrs. F. W. Henkle, Lubbock Highway, said. "We didn't have them in California and I was shocked that we had them here at Christmas. We had them on July 4, but usually some civic group directed the displays," she added.

Mrs. H. M. Rodgers, 102 Milburn Street, said, "I know how I loved fireworks when I was a child. It's hard to say no to them. If there were a law that they couldn't be sold there would be no temptation, and fireworks are so dangerous."

Outlawing fireworks would take pleasure away from children, Mrs. Wilbur Hayes thought. "I enjoy hearing fireworks and approve of them, although I certainly think children should be supervised and some restriction must be made against shooting them in the city," she said.

"I think they should be put out," Mrs. L. B. Peterson, 2407 Avenue I, declared. "They are likely to start fires. I know kids enjoy them, but they can enjoy something else less dangerous," she added.

Commented Mrs. George Killam, "I think it would be a good idea to outlaw fireworks. They are too dangerous for children."

BUFFALO TRACKS

By NELVA HERRING AND VERNIE SMITH

Everybody heaved a great big sigh of relief Friday as mid-term ended. Even Eddie Watson was pleased with his plane geometry grade!

• • •

The Dramatics Club had a very enthusiastic meeting Tuesday. The cast for the Interscholastic League one - act play contest was announced. The students who will represent Fluvanna High School were selected for their fine acting in the Speech Festival a few weeks ago. Nelva Herring, also, outlined best means for advertising the school play. The club will sponsor the appearance in concert of the WFAA quartet at an early date. Chosen for the cast: The part of Ginger will be played by Nelva Herring; Eddie Watson will portray Robert; Barbara Reeder was cast as Gwendolyn; Lee Roy Golver will be Sam; Dalton Ball has the part of Elbert, and Elanor Browning was cast as Blossom. Ed Kerley was chosen stage manager and student director. Mrs. Henry B. Grace, English - speech teacher will direct the production.

• • •

At the recent meeting of the Fluvanna Mother Singers an evening's entertainment was planned for a February program. The proceeds will be added to the paint fund which the PTA accumulated for the purpose of painting the school rooms. Mrs. Leo Beaver is president and Mrs. Jimmie Richardson is director of the group.

• • •

Superintendent J. C. Chorn says that the ADA - average daily attendance was the key note on emphasis of the recent conference of administrators in Austin which he attended. Every day a child does not attend his school, it costs that school money.

• • •

This is leap year and our roving reporter, Lee Roy Glover, not only did research in the study hall on resolutions, but he also discovered this little leap year ditty:

L is for the little girls with bow ties
E is for each little boy at whom she makes eyes.
A is AH, so old, they're nearly grown.
P for the place together they have gone!
Y is for the yearning for a cottage now,
E means escape for our young friends somehow.
A is "always late" and that's what he's gonna be,
R means he'll run in vain, cause it's LEAP YEAR, you see!.

• • •

Vernie Smith and Nelva Herring are the would-be-poets who claim authorship. We suspect it's the influence of the Browning unit the class has just completed.

• • •

The Senior Class is getting information about "Campus Chatter," the school stationery so many highschools sell featuring their mascot. Fluvanna plans to use the Buffalo.

• • •

Thanks a million to Mrs. Harry Kinston, for the bedspread she secured for the nurse's cot in the clinic room.

• • •

The Freshman English class will present the one - act play, "Pearls," at the PTA meeting Jan. 21. Those to take part include: Donald Earl Browning, Syble Bley, Bertie Lee Kelner, Barbara Reeder, Eleanor Browning and Mary Nell Boatman. Barbara Reeder will be student director.

PMA Allots 5 Per Cent To Conservation

In a special meeting of the county Production and Marketing Administration committee called Friday by Clifton Thomas, chairman, members voted to allot five per cent of the Scurry County PMA allocation to the Soil Conservation Service.

The allotment called for $3,855 for services performed by soil conservation technicians in formulating and carrying out permanent type practices, such as inspections, layouts, and finaling tanks and terraces.

The group discussed the hiring of an administrator for their office to replace Elsworth S. Jones, who resigned Dec. 11. Dale Carter, district PMA field representative of Plainview, recommended one applicant who is now administor in another PMA office. The committee has not yet set a date for an interview with the applicant.

The committee decided to make an attempt to add water well drilling to the list of practices for farmers of the county which receive federal aid.

Mrs. James Bellamy, acting administrator, said many farmers had requested that well drilling be recommended to the state committee as a practice for this county.

She added that the 12 practices already adopted for the county are the maximum number that can be used here, and if the new practice is granted by the state committee, one of the other practices will have to be done away with. If the water well practice is adopted for this county, the farmer drilling a well in co-operation with PMA will receive $2 a foot.

Several water well contractors in Snyder said an eight inch water well would cost about $2.50 a foot for drilling and from $1 to $2 a foot for casing.

Toll Bridge Takes Articles For Security

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12 (AP)—Delaware River bridge toll collectors operate a one-way pawn shop for motorists who are temporarily short of cash.

Apparently there are many who can't pay the 20-cent toll to cross the bridge that links Philadelphia with Camden, N. J., but collectors don't haggle—they'll accept anything for security.

Twenty years ago a distinguished-looking man took off his pince nez and left it as security. But he never came back to redeem the glasses.

A society gal who couldn't pay the toll left a diamond ring. An hour later the chauffeur bought it back with 20 cents.

In a storeroom on the Camden side of the bridge are hundreds of unclaimed items: a policeman's badge, a baby carriage, musical instruments, beach chairs, lace curtains, fountain pens, watches, wallets, jewelry.

Once a man even removed a car seat and left that. About 30 husbands who probably didn't like their wives' hats found a solution: they left the hats.

When the bridge opened in 1926, motorists lacking tolls were permitted to pass on the promise they'd pay up later. But few did. So the order went out that nonpayers must put up security.

Dealers have offered to buy the "pawned" goods but Horace J. Stradley, treasurer of the bridge commission, has refused. He said the pledged items will be kept indefinitely.

"Many people return," Stradley said, "even years later. We're not in the curio business, nor do we wish to make a profit on the items we take as security.

Mrs. Roland Bell, Jr., 804 Twenty - fifth Street, is in Hamilton with her mother, Mrs. Lou Ely, who is ill.

Program Slated Here Friday By Snyder Concert Association

Dr. Walter Hodgson

Five outstanding music students at North Texas State College in Denton will appear as guest artists in the Snyder Concert Association program scheduled for Friday night.

The group includes Miss Patsy Porter, soprano, Miss Susan Houser, mezzo -soprano, Miss Francene Porter, violinist, Ivan Davis, pianist, and Gene Branscomb, baritone.

They will be accompanied by Dr. Walter Hodgson, dean of the North Texas school of music, who will serve as commentator for the program.

HARPSICHORD

An unusual feature of the music to be presented by the group is the inclusion of a harpsichord in addition to the customary piano accompaniment. Davis, who was named winner of the Dallas Civic Federated Music contest last year, plays both the piano and the harpsichord.

Miss Houser, the youngest member of the group, is originally from Big Spring. A member of the a capella choir, Miss Houser is studying both voice and piano.

MANY PERIODS

The ensemble will present musical excerpts from many periods and many places, Dr. Hodgson said, but the emphasis will be on entertainment. This is especially true of the classical selections which are likely to be completely unfamiliar to the audience. They are chosen for appeal in tone and quality, as well as for adaptability for the instrumentation and vocalization available.

The program will be presented in the high school auditorium starting at 8 o'clock. No individual admission tickets will be sold for the performance, although season ticket holders may transfer their tickets.

Dealers Here Caught With Pre-war Cars

Even before vehicle inspections began in Snyder, used car dealers saw the worst effcets of the new motor vehicle inspection law.

The dealers say the "scare" among motorists caused by the law has caused a rush of pre-war automobile owners trying to trade their cars in for newer ones.

When the dealers take the older cars as trade-ins, they cannot find a market for them. Few want to buy them becaues they are afraid they will have to spend too much money making repairs required by the inspection. One dealer said several prospective buyers have tried older cars at his lot, took them to mechanics to see how much it will cost to repair them brought them back, saying they could not afford to pay for both the automobile and repairs.

There is practically no market at all for pre-war cars, the dealers say. They cannot be sold here or out of town, except to junk dealers for $10 to $15 each. The "scare" has caused dealers to lower sale prices on pre-war cars from one-half to two-thirds. Many have sold models from 1930 to 1940 for $20 to $25.

The only moving market in used cars is in those from 1946 to 1951 sometimes even those won't sell because of the new law.

A total of about 70 pre-war cars were reported on five lots—almost half the total automobiles they had for sale.

No Candidates Announced For School Board

No candidates have announced for any places on the school boards of the four districts in the county, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said today. Those seeking election or re-election must be petitioned for the candidacy in writing and file the petition with the judge not less than 10 days prior to the election on the second Saturday in April.

In the Snyder school district, terms of two of the trustees will expire this April. They are Lee Stinson, president of the school board, and E. J. Mills, who was appointed last year to fill remainder of the term of Raymond Smith who resigned because of ill health. This is Mills' first time to serve on the board. Stinson said today he did not think he would be a candidate for re-election should his name be submitted. He has served 11 years. Each of the seven trustees is elected for three years, and two terms expire one year, three the next, and three the next.

Other members of the Snyder board are J. B. Turner, Paul Keaton, Wayne Boren, E. H. Williamson, and Bob Dupree. Secretary of the board, although not a trustee, is H. W. Scarborough, tax assessor - collector for the district.

Motorcade To 'Snyder Day' At Stock Show

Plans for a motorcade from Snyder to Fort Worth to attend the Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show on "Snyder Day," Feb. 2, are being made, James Rosser, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

A mirror framed by draperies covers an entire wall in the dining room of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowden's home, Thirty-first Street and Avenue X.

Lesa Bowden's room features the primary colors with yellow predominating. Storybook dolls have their own special place in the built-in headboards.

Mrs. Bowden takes time out for an afternoon chat with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clifton Patton, right, who is visiting from New Orleans. They are pictured in the maroon and rose guest bedroom. (Lee Watson photograph.)

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

January, 1951, the house belonging to Mr. and Mrs. JACK BOWDEN at the corner of Avenue X and Thirty - first Street was a Spanish style home with a flat roof and stucco walls.

January, 1952, finds the Bowden family living in this house, but you'd never be able to identify it except by location. A sloping brown roof replaces the flat Spanish roof, and the exterior walls are tan brick instead of light stucco. Inside, the home is completely remodeled.

When the remodeling was begun in April, Mrs. Bowden, the former Jonisue Cogdell, planned to carry out an autumn theme throughout the home with tans, brown and rusts predominating.

The living room walls are cocoa textone, as is the ceiling which is semi - dome shaped. Indirect flourescent lighting illuminates the room and gives a soft tone to the fruitwood furnishings. Scenic patterned drapes covering the entire front wall area are to be drawn by an electric motor. This was one of Mr. Bowden's ideas, as he wired the entire house. The carpet in this room and the dining room is champagne wool, and a coral love seat picks up one of the drapery colors. In one corner of the living room is a conversational grouping of two love seats done in forest green.

Other chairs are upholstered in a citron shade, and planter boxes, ash trays, lamps and other accents are brass. These, along with framed prints of French market scenes were bought on the Bowdens' recent trip to New Orleans. A coffee pot complete with alcohol burner also came from the French Quarter. Mrs. Bowden had the silver stripped off to leave the copper finish.

Dining room furniture was maple Early American which was redone in a fruitwood finish. One wall is covered with a mirror framed by the green, beige and coral printed drapes.

Coral and chartreuse predominate in the kitchen which is papered in a gay chef pattern. Quilted coral chintz covers the cornice framing the kitchen window. A glassed - in sun porch joins the kitchen and houses the stairway to the basement which is being transformed into a playroom.

Bedrooms open into a hallway which is on two levels. The exception is the maroon and rose guest room adiacent to the living room. French Provincial furniture is in the same fruitwood finish. An adjoining bath is also rose and maroon.

Autumn colors predominate in the master bedroom where copper-toned draperies will hang. The olive green bed spread is quilted chintz. A large bath adjoining is done in sun tan and Persian brown tile.

Five - year - old Lesa's room could be called the sunshine room with its bright yellow cotton shag carpet and yellow walls and ceiling. Twin beds have built - in headboards were storybook dolls are displayed. Spreads are blue, and two chairs are covered in red chintz.

Natural pine wainscoting lends a masculine air to 3-year-old Murry's room, which he shares with 3 - month - old Billy Cogdell. The main point of interest in this room is the amusing farm yard print used for draperies. His mother says Murry finds a new animal or scene almost everyday. The children's bathroom is yellow and blue with a glassed - in tub to insure against over - ambitious splashing.

A sun porch extending the length of both children's bedrooms was added as an afterthought and promises to be the most lived in spot during the summer. The heating unit doesn't extend to this area, but when it is installed the porch can be used throughout the year. Louvered glass blinds encase the area and rattan matting covers the floor.

Hope Roberts of San Angelo was interior decoration consultant.

The family is anticipating spring landscaping, which will be based around a play area for the three young Bowdens.

ASK MILDRED

Send your questions to Mrs. Mildred Sparks, county home demonstration agent, courthouse, or to the Snyder Daily News.

Could you tell me what to use in stuffing frankfurters? My family enjoys eating them almost any way that I fix them so I thought maybe you could tell me how to stuff them. Mrs. C. R.

Here is a recipe that you might like to try.

Split lengthwise, not quite through — 4 frankfurters

Combine and fill opening of each frank —

1 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon melted fat
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Hot water to moisten

Wrap around each filled frankfurter —bacon slice

Place on cold broiler pan and broil 3 inches from tip of flame until bacon is crisp.

* * *

If war is declared before a presidential election, does the President that is in office still remain in office until the war is over regardless of whether or not he is elected? C. R.

No.

* * *

Will overbeating eggs make a cake more course or tough? J.

Yes, it could, especially if you are folding in egg whites and have beaten them very dry. It is difficult to overbeat yolks.

* * *

Will a spoon keep hot water from breaking a glass? R.

It is commonly believed that a metal spoon placed in a glass will prevent boiling liquid from cracking the glass when poured into it. According to the popular theory, the metal spoon absorbs part of the heat and prevents the boiling liquid from expanding the glass as much as it otherwise would The United States Bureau of Standards, however, doubts the efficacy of silver spoons in preventing glasses from cracking, since the quantity of heat that the spoon would absorb is almost negligible when compared with the total quantity of heat in a glass full of water.

WARNING to HOUSEWIVES

Reports coming to the National Better Business Bureau indicate that many women are being terribly upset by men selling cooking utensils house-to-house, who are telling them that the aluminum cooking utensils in their homes are bad for their health and should be thrown away.

These salesmen even make misleading boiling tests to show an apparently clouded condition of water boiled in aluminum.

The National Better Business Bureau states that these rumors being spread and these tricky tests are entirely false and misleading. Prominent health authorities, including the United States Public Health Service, state that there is absoluely no truth whatsoever in them. The Federal Trade Commission has branded such statements as false and its findings have been sustained by the courts.

So, ladies, be warned. Don't throw away your aluminum cooking utensils on the advice of some salesman who tries to interest you in some competitive cooking utensils Aluminum cooking utensils are entirely safe and if you have the slightest doubt—ask your family physician or your local health department.

Any housewife who encounters this type of misrepresentation is urged to obtain the name of the salesman and the company he represents, and forward it to the address below.
