Priest Found Oil—Water Boosts Output—Texas Oil Production—Gilmore Tells Facts.

By H. N. Fitzgerald

NOW THE story is told that 200 years before John D. Rockefeller was born, petroleum was discovered in "the Pennsylvania field" by the Rev. Joseph de la Roche Daillon, a French priest then doing missionary work among the Indians. This priest found the petroleum spring on July 12, 1627, on the border of Cuba Lake, Allegahny County, New York, which is part of what is known as the Pennsylvania oil fields.

* * *

IN WRITING of the remarkable comeback of the old Pennsylvania oil fields, S. S. Fontaine says it is the comeback of the field discovered by the missionary that particularly interests and impresses students of the petroleum situation at present.

* * *

FOR BE it known that the old Pennsylvania oil field has scored a remarkable comeback if the facts given by Fontaine are true. He says the original well is still producing a trace of oil.

* * *

IN THESE fields most of the wells were drilled forty to fifty years ago, produced many fortunes in oil and gradually dwindled in the amount of their production until they were considered practically exhausted, the average production per well being about one-eighth or one-tenth of a barrel per day. Then one day he says a remarkable thing happened on a lease near Bradford when, contrary to all natural laws, it was found that certain wells were increasing in production instead of following the inevitable decline.

* * *

INSTEAD OF producing a few gallons of oil per day they began to produce three to four barrels per day. In the old days wells were drilled at a distance of five to six hundred feet apart and it was taken for granted that one well would safely drain five acres of oil territory. It was an accidental application of water pressure that produced remarkable results and forced the comeback.

* * *

THEN THE flooding system of wells was inaugurated and now with the diamond drill, it has been demonstrated that these sands in the Bradford field had originally contained upward of 40,000,000 barrels to the acre, and the original method of producing oil by natural drainage into the well had only recovered about 6,000 barrels per acre or fifteen percent of the original oil contents.

* * *

THEN AIR was introduced into the sands under high pressure and now it is claimed by some that air will recover as much or more oil than will water. These recent discoveries, according to Fontaine, means there will be from a hundred million to hundred and twenty million barrels of oil taken from the district, which is nearly a half more than has been recovered since Col. Drake drilled his famous discovery well in 1859.

Incidentally the Bradford oil field comprises approximately 120,000 acres of oil land.

* * *

TEXAS IS a great oil producing state. New fields are being brought in daily. An army of wild catters are on the firing line and geologists and scouts are found everywhere.

* * *

CLARENCE E. GILMORE is chairman of the Railroad commission. And the commission exercises regulatory supervision over the oil industry.

Now in the opinion of Chairman Gilmore, Texas is to lead in oil output and will pass California by January 1, if the present gain continues.

Indeed, he says the crude oil production in Texas has grown with great rapidity during the last year, and the average daily production for the week ending October 16, 1926, amounted to 597,769 barrels.

* * *

FOR THE same period he says the California production, the only state ahead of Texas, was 689,300 barrels, leaving only 10,549 barrels short of being the leading crude oil state in America. He contends that if the increase in production continues as it has during the last few months, Texas will easily lead in production in crude petroleum by January 1.

* * *

HE GIVES the figures, showing the largest increase in production over the corresponding period of 1925 is in North Texas, which includes the Panhandle field.

This production in North Texas is reported as 244,350 barrels per day, for the week ending, October 16, 1926, against 75,650 barrels for the week ended October 17, 1925.

Also the Gulf coast likewise has made a large increase in its production over 1925.

* * *

THIS IS one of the reasons why, regardless of the slump in the price of cotton, there is remarkable prosperity in many sections of Texas this year, and this prosperity is certain to continue, unless the financial prophets are at fault.

* * *

IF IT is possible for the old Pennsylvania oil fields to come back, on account of the discovery of new methods for extracting all the oil from the earth, why will it not be possible for certain fields in Texas which have been worked for many years by old methods to score a comeback at some future time?

Haskell Citizens Back Move To Bring Slayers To Justice

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, October 29.—Haskell citizens are offering a reward of $2,000 for the arrest of the murderers of Nightwatchman J. K. Beauchamp, mysteriously slain while in the performance of his duties late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. This amount is in addition to a reward of $300 offered by Governor Ferguson to aid in the apprehension of the guilty parties. A fund of $600 has also been raised locally for Beauchamp's widow, and additions are being made to it from Olney, where Beauchamp was well known.

Crime Desperate One

Few crimes occurring in the state in recent months have attracted the attention brought out by his case. The manhunt has been extended all over a half dozen surrounding counties and police in many distant places where the trail of possible suspects might lead, have been furnished with such information as is available.

Nine men are being held in different West Texas towns, including Anson, Stamford, Crowell and Throckmorton. A number of other known police characters are under observation and other arrests may be expected momentarily, as no effort will be spared by the officers and citizens aiding in the search to get lines on clues that turn up.

Suspects are being brought to Haskell for identification, according to Sheriff J. T. Trunbow. According to last night's reports from officers working on the case no definite evidence can yet be fastened on any one suspected, though announcements in the next few hours might bring other news.

Slain Last Week

Beauchamp was murdered some time Saturday night while making his rounds as nightwatchman. His body was discovered Sunday morning lying in the entrance of a drug store which had been robbed some time during the night. Little is known about how he possibly met his death, whether he ran on to the robbers while on his rounds or whether he was trapped as the yeggs were making their getaway.

H. F. Weldon of Wichita Falls Tells State Road Quizzers of Three-Way Road Fee Plan Involving Ferguson

He Names C. C. McDonald, Former Partner, As Man Who Broached Proposition After Visit To Austin Where He Saw Jim.

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, his law partner, had visions of wealth after a conference with former Governor James E. Ferguson, H. F. Weldon of Wichita Falls, told the house investigating committee Friday. McDonald said "that we would have to pay a third to him a third to me and a third to James E. Ferguson," on road contract business, Weldon said.

Weldon's testimony was considered the most sensational gleaned by the house investigating committee during the hearing.

Weldon did not indicate whose idea it was to split the fee. He showed that he came involuntary before the committee and explained that when he resigned as judge of the 30th district court, he formed a partnership with B. Y. Cummings and C. C. McDonald in 1921, and a year later Mr. Cummings withdrew and McDonald and Weldon continued partners until the first of March, 1925.

Jim His Friend

"Mr. McDonald had been down to Austin," Weldon said. "It is a matter of common knowledge, of course, to this committee and to everybody in Texas that Mr. McDonald and Mr. Ferguson are lifelong political friends. Mr. McDonald came back and told me he had a conversation with Mr. Ferguson in which Mr. Ferguson told him that he felt he owed McDonald a considerable debt of gratitude for his political activities in his behalf."

He Meant Jim

"You mean James E. Ferguson?" Judge Harry N. Graves asked.

"Yes, sir. That he believed that it could be worked out where he could repay him in some substantial way, so he could show his appreciation in some substantial manner. Mr. McDonald said that the

NORRIS' TRIAL DELAY HINTED

Illness of Defense Attorney May Bring Notion To Postpone

FORT WORTH, Oct. 29.(AP)—Continuance of the murder trial of the Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris, Baptist pastor, probably will be sought when the case is called Wednesday, if Chester Collins of defense counsel has not recovered from a reported serious illness, Marvin Simpson, Collins colleague, said here tonight.

Collins is said to be threatened with pneumonia and under care of a physician.

Hanger in Hurry.

District Attorney Robert K. Hanger commented on the report only to the extent that "We are anxious to go ahead with the trial and get it over with."

No intimation as to Criminal Judge Hosey's possible action on a defense motion based on Collins' illness could be obtained from the jurist tonight. Emphasizing that he was speaking only in general terms, however, Judge Hosey asserted that "ordinarily I don't delay trials when one of several attorneys is ill."

Collins is regarded as one of the main stays of the defense counsel. He resides in Lufkin, former home of Dr. Norris's pistol victim, D. E. Chipps, lumber wholesaler, shot to death in the fundamentalist pastor's church office last summer.

500 Veniremen Called.

Court Clerk H. B. Balch will deliver to defense attorneys at 9 o'clock Saturday morning a list of the 500 men from which a jury will be sought, thus complying with legal right of the defense to access to the list two days before opening of the trial.

W. P. McLean, one of the special prosecutors retained by Chipps divorced wife, left today for Austin to attend the Texas-Southern Methodist university football game. He said the prosecution does not want a copy of the venire until the day before the trial.

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 29.—W. H. Wallace, Frederick farmer, who is in a serious condition at a Frederick hospital, is not expected to survive the night, according to a bulletin given out by hospital officials.

Wallace was shot by a negro, thought to be Carl Duboyes October 17 and has fought a losing battle, against death until now, when his case has become so critical that doctors do not believe it is possible for him to last much longer. The negro is still at large.

The shooting of Wallace took place at 2 o'clock in the morning following an argument over the payment of 60 cents for some chicken sandwiches and coffee said to have been purchased by the white man. The shooting took place on the negro's farm where Wallace had stopped on a business trip, according to peace officers here.

Wallace, who is well known in this section, is a farmer.

EXPRESS MAN DROPS DEAD

A. L. Bryant Is Stricken With Heart Attack Friday Night

A. C. Bryant, aged 34, an employe of the American Express company here, died suddenly early Friday night when he was stricken with heart trouble as he stepped into the company offices on Ohio avenue. A Merkle ambulance was called and he was started for the hospital but died enroute. Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs was called and an inquest held which resulted in a verdict of death from heart failure.

Bryant had gone to the express office about 8 o'clock, apparently in good health, and walked in the door. He paused, seemed to hesitate for a moment and then plunged forward to the floor. Other workers at the place rushed to his assistance and called an ambulance but he expired before medical aid could be reached.

He leaves a wife and one son, A. C., Jr., as survivors. Mrs. Bryant was in Sayre, Okla., last night but was notified of her husband's death and is now on her way to Wichita Falls. Funeral arrangements will be made on her arrival. Meanwhile the body is being held at the Merkle funeral parlors.

'King of Osage Hills' Given Life In Penitentiary As Guilty In Killing Of Indian To Get Control of Riches

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 29. (AP)—A two-year campaign of the United States government to solve what one of its attorneys declared was the most "far-reaching murder plot in the history of the country," tonight was triumphant.

William K. Hale, wealthy rancher, known in the Osage Indian nation as "king of the Osage hills," and John Ramsey, a cowboy-farmer, today were convicted in federal court here of the murder of Henry Roan, full blood Osage Indian and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

Hale Called Plotter

Hald is charged by the government with being the instigator of a series of slayings in the Osage tribe to obtain or gain control of their fortunes and the Roan case was selected as the strongest upon which to try him.

As a result of repeated mysterious deaths among the Osages, a so-called "reign of terror" prevailed and when government investigators went into the country two years ago, they found brilliant strings of electric lights around the homes of many of the tribesmen. Witnesses at first were afraid to talk, but their stories were gradually unfolded as they gained confidence.

Year's Litigation

The government's victory came after nearly a year of bitter legal battles. Hale's formidable array of counsel contested every step and one phase—the jurisdiction of the government—was fought to the United States supreme court when District Judge John H. Cotteral held against the prosecution.

Even now the end is not in sight, Hale's attorney immediately announced intention of appealing the verdict to the circuit court at St. Louis.

Both men received the verdict calmly.

LEE QUITS JOB WITH OIL FIRM

Split Over Methods Used By Houston Concern Is Cause

HOUSTON, Oct. 29. (AP)—T. P. Lee, of Houston, one of the most widely known oil men in south Texas, in a statement given out Friday afternoon, announced that he had resigned, effective November 1, from the vice-presidency of the American Republics corporation, because he "could not longer subscribe to the organization plans and business policies which seem to me to be not for the best interests of the company but arbitrarily dictated by the president of the corporation."

The subsidiaries and associate companies of the American Republics corporation consist of the Calena Signal Oil company, which operates a refinery on the Ship Channel; the Republic Production company, the Petroleum Ironworks, the Pennsylvania Car company, Pennsylvania Tank Line, and other subsidiary concerns, including one which is now building at Texas and Austin streets.

J. S. Cullinan, president of the American Republics corporation said Friday night he had no comment to make on the resignation.

Elephant's Weight Is Big Question In This Vicinity For Next Month

A kid knee-high to a duck and a man who had seen most of his summers come and go came into the Record News office Friday—both with a supreme confidence in their mathematical powers.

A $500 cash prize offered as first award for the winner of the big Record News elephant contest was the inducement for the two; and they, incidentally, were just a pair representative of the thousands who are daily making inquiry of the Record News regarding the big contest.

These queries are coming from old and young, boys and girls, men and women from all sections of west Texas and Southern Oklahoma. Rivalry is keen in families and communities, each of which is putting forth an arithmetical expert to add up the weight of the elephant.

Advertisements of the big animal have been printed from time to time and will be printed later. The contest closes Dec. 1. One thousand dollars in cash prizes will be awarded with the grand prize $500 and 24 others ranging down from that figure.

TWO WICHITA DEPUTIES FACE BRIBE CHARGE

John W. Saye and Sam Jones Named in Bills By Grand Jury

THEY DENY CHARGES

Action of Grand Jury Is Closing Act of Day's Session Thursday

Two Wichita deputy sheriffs were indicted by the grand jury sitting in special session yesterday on charges of bribery and extortion. There were two counts against each one. The deputy sheriffs involved are John W. Saye and Sam Jones, both of whom were placed under arrest late yesterday afternoon and were released upon $1,000 bond each.

Protection Charged

The grand jury had adjourned last week and at that time made a lengthy report to Judge Thornton in which they intimated that certain well known law violators were receiving protection from certain executives of the law, but failed to uncover sufficient evidence to convict.

At the opening of the present grand jury term, Judge P. A. Martin charged the jury to investigate rumors and allegations that certain executives were guilty of misconduct, but nothing developed from these investigations, the grand jury reporting that so far as they could learn the reports were without foundation or fact.

Special Session

Thursday, upon application of Ben P. Alfred, district attorney, Judge Thornton reconvened the grand jury and they were in session practically all the day. The grand jury adjourned about 5 p. m. after reporting the indictments against the deputy sheriffs.

Witnesses appearing before the grand jury yesterday were Mayor E. E. Shepherd and several members of the city police department. Testimony was also taken from a man who is alleged to have been engaged in the sale of intoxicating liquors, and it is believed that the indictments were based on the testimony of this man.

Both Well Known

Both the deputies are well known in Wichita county law enforcement and both have been with the sheriff's office for a long time. Saye was formerly a deputy United States marshal with headquarters at Wichita Falls. He later became a member of the Wichita city police force and went from there to the sheriff's office.

Sam Jones was formerly motorcycle officer at Burkburnett and transferred to Wichita Falls several months ago.

They Deny Charge

Both men stated last night that there was nothing to the charges that they had taken bribe money or used extortion in obtaining such money, and refused otherwise to make any statement in regard to the matter.

The grand jury has apparently completed their work for this term as they were dismissed and went to their homes last night.

Wife Sues for Divorce From Man Who Killed Her Former Husband In Duel

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 29. (AP) Mrs. Carmen Murke Minchew Smith Friday filed suit for divorce from Stanley G. Smith, alleging cruelty.

An alleged duel fought by Augustus P. Minchew, former husband of Mrs. Smith, and S. G. Smith over the Minchew baby, Carmen, was followed by Minchew's trial in Dallas on a charge of assault to murder and his acquittal by a jury.

A reputed confession by Tommy O'Grady to an alleged kidnaping plot involving the stealing of the Minchew baby and the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Smith brought the characters in the former case into notice again when O'Grady implicated Minchew in the purported confession.

O'Grady was sentenced to three years in the Colorado penitentiary but was pardoned in time to testify at Minchew's trial here.

STATE ROAD QUIZ COMMITTEE ADJOURNS TO MONDAY, NOV. 8

RECESS TAKEN OVER DATE OF ELECTION WEEK

Witnesses May Be Quizzed On Next Saturday, However

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. (AP)—As four months rental on eight small trucks, the state highway department paid Charles Hurdleston of the Marine Construction company $1,916.25, L. J. Nachtrab, highway engineer for the Austin division, Friday told the house investigating committee.

The committee recessed until 10 o'clock November 8, though there is a possibility the inquiry will be resumed Saturday, providing certain witnesses appear. At any rate the committee will not function next week.

Nachtrab said he would not have given more than $250 each for the trucks, which were one year old, when the department rented them. The state paid seven dollars a day for each truck, furnished the driver gasoline and oil, and kept the trucks repaired. During many days of the four months, however, all the trucks were not in actual use.

Estes Gets Answer

Nachtrab refuted the testimony of Ed Estes, equipment engineer of the department, that Nachtrab had an engagement with Hurdleston to place the trucks in as good condition as they were when the state took charge. They were turned back to Hudleston October 20, but are now at the local repair shop of the department. He said, at Estes' request, he had written a letter to Estes telling him what repairs the trucks needed to place them in that condition. He said he would tell Estes he had no such agreement with Hurdleston.

The division engineer admitted he had ignored the law requiring the sign of the state highway department to be placed on cars under his supervision. The penalty for failing to put the state's mark on a state-owned car is a fine of from $25 to $100.

Sign On Cars

"The first passenger car I drove did have the sign on it," Nachtrab related. "In any town I happened to stop my car, I was besieged by persons with petty grievances. Every man who had hit a bump in the road wanted to complain to me."

"The people over the state evidently weren't well pleased with the way the highway department was being run, then," Richard Critz, attorney interogated.

Nachtrab said the persons besieging him did not confine their remarks to the highway department. He said he was going to put the sign on his car as soon as possible.

Statute Is Read

The statute relating to the state sign on automobiles was read into the record, as well as the one providing that who ever shall use a state automobile for private purposes shall be subject to a fine of from $5 to $500.

Jesse Smith, Austin garage owner, said he tried to sell Ford truck tires to Hurdleston, but Hurdleston stated he was buying his tires from the highway department. "The price he said he was paying was nine dollars cheaper on a tire, than I could buy the same tire at wholesale," Smith said.

"Hurdleston said he was operating 27 trucks in Travis county. In July 1926 he brought four trucks to my garage for repairs and asked for a rush job. He said the state was paying him eight dollars a day for each truck and furnishing gasoline and oil."

Low Man Loses.

John E. Merriss, Dallas automobile dealer said he was low bidder on 50 Fordson tractors equipped with maintainers for the highway department. Hub Diggs of Fort Worth was awarded the contract by the state board of control.

"The department wanted a certain type of maintainer manufactured by the Hatfield-Penfield company, and Diggs presented a letter announcing this company was going to insist on its patent right," related. "I guaranteed to furnish this maintainer, and take all the risk, but I was not awarded the contract.

"Later I was the only bidder to meet the specifications laid down by Ed Estes, equipment engineer for a trailer and ten-ton tractor; but I wasn't awarded the contract. I then quit bidding, because it seemed to make no difference what price one bid, as far as awarding contracts was concerned."

Morriss Denies It.

Morris denied the statement made last week by R. B. Walthall by the board of control that Morriss' protest over certain patent rights had been instrumental in the board awarding a contract to Hubb-Diggs over the Barker Motor company of Austin.

Henry Porter, former highway division engineer with headquarters at Waco, said he resigned "in disgust" about November 1, 1925, because the Frank Lanham-Joe Burkett commission had discharged practically all of his competent men. He stated one of the new maintenance superintendents put in by the commission was 73 years old, and unfit because of his age for his arduous duties. Another of the new men placed under his charge was a former real estate and insurance man who assured him that he had once spent quite a bit of time watching the building of a Hill county road, Porter said.

Protests Cited.

Porter said the commission had topped with asphalt a certain Bosque county road, though it was one of the finest and easily maintained gravel roads in the state, and county officials protested.

While division engineer, Porter said he had compiled an estimate showing that maintenance contractors in his division were spending from 25 to 75 per cent of the money they were paid by the state on maintenance. He declared a 25 per cent profit on a maintenance contract to be large.

Chairman Lanham summarily discharged F. Mullins, road foreman, because a gang of men in Mullins' charge was not working on a Bell county road, when Lanham drove up in an automobile.

"My investigation showed the men were engaged in patching the asphalt road," Porter said. "A cover material had to be spread over the asphalt immediately after it was applied, and they were idle for a few minutes because they had used up all the cover material. Lanham gave the foreman no chance to explain. A truck bearing cover material was in sight when Lanham fired the foreman."

Weldon Tells

governor suggested to him that he, Mr. McDonald, associate himself with some road construction company that was financially and otherwise equipped to build roads that would reflect to the credit of his administration; that Ferguson would see that he had an opportunity to get proper contracts."

Knew Roadmen

Weldon explained he was personally acquainted with members of the Callahan Construction company, which was doing some work near Wichita Falls, and Mr. McDonald asked him if the company did road work, which it did not. Later in Dallas he went to the office of E. S. Heyser, then of the Callahan Construction company, and Mr. Heyser informed him he would severe his relations with the company about September 1, by selling out his interests and that he might be interested in road contracts.

"He said he could not do that because Mr. Ferguson would not give hi ma contract. He said, 'I have always been opposed to him politically and he would not entertain it.' I said to him that I did not believe that would enter into it. I did not think that it would interfere. He said then that he would think the matter over; that it might possibly result in his doing such a thing, something to that effect.

Names Jim Again

"I went back to Wichita Falls and some days passed and Mr. McDonald made another trip to Austin. Evidently I had told Mr. McDonald what Heyser said. I persume I did do that. Anyway when Mr. McDonald came back from Austin on his next trip ten or fifteen days later, he said that he had had another talk with the governor. Before that though—"

Judge Harry Graves interrupted: "You say the governor. Do you mean Jim Ferguson?"

Weldon replied: "I mean Governor James E. Ferguson. I don't think of any other in that term.

"I think I had discussed with Mr. McDonald, I know I had in my mind, the possibility of profits that might be made from such contracts. I am not real certain where I got those figures because I am not an engineer or a road contractor, but I did have some figure in my mind. I had discussed it with Mr. McDonald and he remarked, when he came back, he had larger figures in his mind; he had visions of wealth that those figures would not warrant."

Crits Quizzes Him

Judge Critz: "Your figures were approximately what?"

Weldon: "Four cents per square yard on construction work. He talked way beyond what these figures warranted; it was a revelation to me. The upshot of that conversation was that he was enthusiastic about it. He said that we ought to make a great deal of money out of it, but that we would have to cut our earnings three ways. I said that Mr. Heyser and I had discussed the propriety, the possibility of dividing our four cents' profit; that is, an approximate two cents to my firm and two cents to the construction company. He said that we would have to pay a third to him, a third to me and a third to James E. Ferguson."

No Discussion Since

Judge Graves: "That was Mr. McDonald that said that?"

Weldon: "Yes, sir. We have not discussed it since then."

Question: "Was there anything further relative to the income tax proposition."

Answer: "Yes. He said our firm would have to pay the income tax on the whole."

Question: "A third to yoh, a third to McDonald and a third to James E. Ferguson?"

Answer: "Yes, sir."

Weldon Refused It

Weldon said he declined to entertain the proposition and declined to further discuss it, saying: "I have never mentioned it to him from that day to this. I told him that I would not do it; that in no time in my life had I ever split fees with anyone except a lawyer engaged in a case with me."

Judge Graves: "That is was not fair, was not honest?"

Weldon: "Well, I probably didn't use that short ugly word, 'dishonest,' but I made him understand I didn't think it was."

The witness repeated he had not discussed it further with Mr. McDonald, saying, "We agreed we would not discuss it further."

Broke Partnership.

McDonald and Weldon later on in the day dissolved partnership, Weldon said, and presented a note from McDonald in which McDonald confirmed and supplemented their morning conversation and in which he said he wanted to practice law by himself.

Weldon said that Heyser later organized the American Road company. The American Road company confessed judgment to $800,000 excess profits last fall on state highway surfacing contracts.

CHIEF WARNS IN HALLOWE'EN

No Roughstuff Will Be Tolerated, Is His Ultimatum

Halloween celebrations can go right along and everybody can have a good time, but there will be no rough stuff and that means that sticks, clubs, straps, etc., are barred. That is the ultimatum issued by Police Chief George Hodgins yesterday, and he stated that he had issued instructions to the entire police force to "bring in everybody" that gets the least bit rough.

"I do not intend to curtail the jollification of the event and want to see the young people have a good time," Chief Hodgins said, "but I will not permit any acts of violence, and everybody seen carrying a club or stick on their merry rounds will be brought to the police station and locked up for the night."

When Halloween festivities first became popular it was the custom for merrymakers to go about the town or village playing practical pranks on unsuspecting citizens, which never amounted to more than a good joke and meant no harm to anyone. But in recent years the rougher element has taken Halloween night as an event when they can go out freely and indulge in various and sundry assaults and insults.

RECOVER STOLEN CAR

City Police Find Dodge Taken from Arizano Man.

Officers from the city police department recovered a Dodge coupe yesterday which had been stolen Thursday night and returned it to its owner.

Leo Schususterman, who is visiting here from Arizona, left his car parked at 715 Tenth street Thursday night and yesterday morning the police department found it parked beside the road at the edge of Grant street. No clue as to the supposed joy riders was found, but one of the police officers stated he saw the car drive away at the time it was stolen, but did not realize that it was being misappropriated.

Vast Numbers Are Slowly Poisoned!

The human race is being slowly poisoned! Authorities declare that nine out of every ten persons are victims of intestinal stasis (CONSTIPATION). This is producing self poisoning! And the startling disclosure is that few people realize it!

They know they suffer from headaches—they feel grouchy and dull—with no appetite and a bad taste. They are sluggish and susceptible to colds and other diseases—but they don't realize that it's all caused from the impacted wastes in their intestines which foul poisons are seeping through their systems.

KLOK-LAX is the treatment to CORRECT CONSTIPATION. KLOK-LAX cleans out the entire intestinal drainage canal. It completely clears every inch of the twenty-eight feet in the stomach, upper and lower intestines.

KLOK-LAX is the new, improved method for overcoming constipation. The little tablets contain ingredients recognized the world over as being better than anything to give you a thorough cleaning out. And there's no nausea — no griping—not the slightest with your pleasure or work.

Just KLOK-LAX with a swallow of water at 9 tonight. Then, tomorrow, with your intestines all clean and pure, you'll feel fine—liver active—head clear—appetite hearty—brimful of life and energy—and POISONING of YOUR system stopped!

HEAVY VOTE ASKED NOV. 2

Texas to Go to Polls Under Conditions Greatly Changed

Special to The Record News.

AUSTIN, Oct. 29. — Texas will vote next Tuesday for the election of off-presidential year officers under vastly different circumstances than were hinted immediately after the July and August primaries, when it appeared likely an independent or coalition campaign would be made against the democratic nominees.

Republicans and socialists have nominated state tickets in opposition to the democratic nominees, the republicans having cast approximately 30,000 votes in the first primary ever held by the party in Texas.

Along with the election of Dan Moody as governor, and other state officers, the people of Texas will also vote on the adoption of four amendments to the state constitution, all submitted by almost unanimous vote of the legislature, and none having had any organization. The amendments on the general election ballot are:

Four Amendments.

Removing the injustice to counties in which large portions of the land is owned by the school funds of other counties, by permitting them to tax such foreign-owned land for county purposes.

Removing the discrimination against those in the national guard or military service or army reserve by allowing them hold public offices.

Permitting counties to organize independent school districts.

Abolishing the state prison commission and providing for a business manager of the prison system.

Want Heavy Vote.

Appeal for a heavy vote has been made by Judge C. A. Wilcox of Georgetown, state democratic chairman, and relayed to each county by the local chairman.

Representation in the democratic state convention of 1928 will be based on the vote cast for Moody in the general election, it was pointed out, so that a full vote throughout the state is being sought.

Moody clubs in many counties are making an active campaign to get out the voters for the general election, it was announced here.

Will In Texas For Boll Weevil

Rogers Praises Pest As Best Friend of Cotton Farmer

FORT WORTH, Oct. 29. (AP) Will Rogers, humorist, who came here to be funny before cash customers at a lecture tonight, said today he is in Texas "in the interest of the boll weevil, the cotton farmer's greatest friend."

"God," Rogers said, "sent the boll weevil to the south to protect the farmer from himself and you've been fighting the insect for years. Now see what you've gotten yourself into this year."

Two policemen met Rogers at the railway station last night and slapped him into "Black Maria," the patrol wagon. He later was released on his own recognizance, however.

"Even the flea in Texas," Rogers remarked, "has left the dogs and gone to the cotton in an effort to save the farmer."

He noted a "frenzy" for good roads," designed to let people get some place faster.

"What do they do after they get there? Nothing but hold a convention," Rogers sighed.

BALLOT BOXES READY

Ballot boxes are being counted, examined and distributed to the 39 voting precincts of the county for the general election Tuesday, November 2. Distribution of the boxes is in charge of Sheriff Fred K. Smith, Judge B. D. Sartin and Elizabeth Hall, county clerk.

DESOLATION IN QUAKE'S WAKE

Armenian Victims Suffer As Shocks Recur At Intervals

LENINAKAN, Armenia, Oct. 29. (AP) — Indescribable desolation, made more acute by the spread of malaria, influenza and other diseases, prevails in the earthquake zone of Armenia where recurring earth shocks and loud subterranean rumblings have kept the population in a state of panic and despair for the last seven days and nights.

Government and Near East relief reports reveal that the casualties of last week's great earth shock will be higher than at first thought. The villages of Alexandrovka, Deharlu and Karaklisa alone had 152 persons buried in the ruins and 310 badly injured. If the same proportion of deaths prevails in the other 34 devastated villages, the total loss of life will exceed 1,500 as against the 600 first reported.

A correspondent for The Associated Press, who has spent the past two days in the stricken area, found conditions comparable only to the terrible scenes of the Symrna fire disaster of 1923 which he also witnessed.

Long caravans of bandaged, limping peasants made their way haltingly over the broken roads searching for new abodes, reluctant to begin the work of restoring their ruined home because of the recurring earth shocks.

Frenzied mothers were observed carrying dead babies in their arms, refusing to believe that life had left the frail bodies. Snow and bitter cold in the mountains, has driven packs of famished wolves to the plains where they have devoured the carpasses of cattle and even human bodies caught in the ruins.

There is still a grave food shortage. Today the Near East relief turned over its huge bakery, built to supply the 9,000 orphans under its care, to the local government in an effort to alleviate the sufferings. With the spread of disease, the American and native doctors in the stricken area are overwhelmed.

COOLEST AFTER SUNRISE

ARTIST LOVER GIVEN LIBERTY

Wright and His Beautiful Dancer Companion Clear Of Law

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 29. (AP) — Fugitive from justice charges against Frank Lloyd Wright and his companion, Mme. Olga Milanoff, were dropped in police court here today at the request of Wisconsin authorities.

This action came when Assistant County Attorney David Goldbloom read a telegram from District Attorney Henry J. Bohn of Baraboo, Sauk county, Wis., saying that no action would be taken there on the warrants charging the couple with adultery, upon which the fugitive charges were based.

Withdrawal of the adultery charges was made possible when Vladimir Hinzenberg, former husband of Mme. Milanoff, the complainant, refused to prosecute after making an agreement with the dancer whereby he is to share custody of their 9-year-old daughter, Svetlana.

Tyrant Father's Foolish Trying to Rule Flapper

Why the Tyrant Father is Foolish to Try to Rule His Modern Daughter—Why Theatre Tickets for Friend Wife Are a Good Investment for Any Husband—Can a College Girl Be Happily Married to a Farmer?

BY DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young girl and I have an awfully strict father who never lets me go out with the boys or have the boys come to see me at home. But he doesn't get ahead of me, because I do everything on the sly. Most of the time I go with a boy instead of going to school, just to spite him.

Idon't like to do it but he drives me to it. He won't even let me have girl friends. I am just like a jail bird, and watched until it drives me mad. The worst girls I know have the strictest parents—because they are watched all the time, and when they get a chance at a little liberty they go the limit. Who wouldn't ?

YEARNING FOR FREEDOM.

Answer: I get hundreds of letters like yours, my poor little girl, and I feel like weeping over every one of them, because the folly of youth and the pigheadedness of age so many young lives are being ruined.

So many young hearts are hot and rebellious at the tyrannies their parents try to impose upon them, and so many fathers and mothers lie awake at night worrying over the children they cannot control.

It is useless for me to point out to you, my dear, that when you meet boys on the sly that you are hurting yourself worse than you do your father, because you are putting yourself in a false position.

A girl needs the background of a home and her family to give her dignity, and boys have little respect for one who picks up acquaintances on the street and who keeps her dates at the corner drug store.

Nor do they trust the girl who deceives her parents. They feel, that the girl who will lie to one will lie to another and that she is lacking in the high principle and honor that are the hallmarks of a lady.

And I also might point out to you that when you cut school to spend your time with a boy that you are spiting yourself instead of your father, for you are depriving yourself of the benefits of the education that you will need so sorely all the balance of your life.

For just to be pretty isn't enough for a girl in these days. She has to be intelligent also. When you are a young lady and out in society you will find that intelligent men will pass you up for the girls who can entertain them. There is no place for the Dumb Doras nowadays.

But I see your point of view, too. I recognize that youth must have its fling. I know that you are at the time of life when you crave pleasure more than you ever will again and that it is torture to you to sit at home while all the other girls are having good times. I know how you resent not having any personal liberty and what a cruel unfeeling tyrant your father seems to you.

Also I agree with you that he is more to blame than you are when you slip out of the window and do the things that jeopardize your whole existence, and I marvel that an intelligent man cannot see that he can no more use the methods of fifty years ago in managing his children than he can in managing his business.

I marvel that a man who thinks he keeps up with the times does not realize that the young nowadays grow up in forcing houses that make them at least five years older than their real age and that they should be treated on that basis.

The girl of 18 is now as sophisticated as her mother was at 23; she knows more of the world and is better fitted to take care of herself. Also she is more hard boiled than her mother ever gets to be.

I marvel also that a man refuses to recognize that the Heavy-Father method is played out and that you cannot rule the modern youngster by force. If you lock the girl in nowadays she doesn't sit down helplessly and weep. She climbs over the transom. She doesn't listen to a curtain lecture and profit by it and humbly bow to her parents' superior wisdom. She escapes from them, and just to show her freedom turns liberty into license.

I marvel that parents do not realize that children must be dealt wit hon a new platform, and that, while they cannot be driven, they can be led. They can be cajoled along the straight and narrow path, and if they feel that their parents are giving them a square deal and are willing for them to have a reasonable amount of pleasure they will willingly submit to the restraints that they could not be cowered into enduring.

I wonder that parents do not see that Friend Father and Friend Mother may have an unbounded influence over their children, but that the tyrant father and mother who try to bully into doing right have no influence whatever.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young married woman with two small children, and consequently I cannot go out unless my husband takes me in the car. Sunday is his only day at home, and he puts most of that in sleeping, as he says he is tired and needs rest. But am I asking too much when I ask him to take me out on Sundays?

I feel like an old woman instead of a girl of 21, as I don't get anywhere, have no friends come to see me and all I have to think of are my children and my work. I suppose I ought to be satisfied with having lovely children, a nice home, an ambitious husband who loves me, but don't you think there should be more to life than washing dishes, cooking and sewing and baby-tending? JUST TIRED.

Answer: All work and no play makes Jane a dull girl and it is a pity that husbands cannot realize this. How much pleasanter and more agreeable their homes would be if they kept their wives contented by providing them with a reasonable amount of amusement. The money a man puts in theatre tickets, in movies, and a little dinner now and then at a restaurant for his wife pays a bigger dividend than any other investment he ever makes.

It is unfortunate that men and women look at this subject from entirely different angles. The man who has been at work all day, out in the world among other men, seeing new faces, hearing new things, comes home tired and wants to slump down into the easiest chair and stay put and rest. His paper and pipe and the radio look better to him than any other form of amusement.

On the other hand, a woman who has been in the house all day, doing the same dull round of mechanical tasks, with no company except the babble of babes and their fretting and crying, is starved for a little pleasure, a little change to hear and see something new that will take her thoughts into different fields. So she wants to put on her prettiest frock and go out, and when husband won't go with her she feels herself grievously ill-used and throws in his teeth the good times he used to give her before they were married.

Inasmuch as each one is right from his or her individual standpoint to do is to compromise and for the wife to agree to stay contentedly at home if she have one or two evenings out a week or else for the wife to arrange to take her pleasuring in the afternoon.

When there are little children and no servants this is difficult to do, unless the mothers of a neighborhood organize a co-operative baby-tending association and take turns about caring for the youngsters while their mothers go shopping or to matinees or to bridge parties.

But until they do that husbands should certainly be unselfish enough to take care of the children long enough for the poor, tired, bored mothers to get a little change and recreation.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—The girl is 21 years old, a graduate of a teachers' college, has two years' teaching experience. While at college she received the highest intelligence score given at the college. She is brilliant, and accomplished pianist and violinist and speaks three foreign languages.

The man is 23, a fine type of individual, but he has not even a high school education. He is a poor farmer. They love each other, but do you think they could be happy together with such a wide difference in education and culture? A. H.

Answer: Not a chance. I should say. When the physical attraction that has drawn them together is over the woman would be bored to death with the man who could not speak her language nor enter into her thoughts, and the man would resent her superiority over him. No man long loves the woman he has to look up to, and no woman's love survives looking down on her husband. DOROTHY DIX.

OKLAHOMA AND ITS FAVORITES

A STAFF correspondent of the New York Sun traveled all the way to Oklahoma to investigate political conditions and to report the results or the findings to his newspaper. He forecast the defeat of Senator J. W. Harreld, republican, by J. Elmer Thomas, democrat, and the defeat of the democratic nominee for governor by Omar Benedict, republican. He found party lines smashed. He found democrats who were lined up for Thomas for the senate lined up for Benedict for governor.

After the primary results had been made known in Oklahoma, the state conventions were held. What will the republican leaders do. They denounced the democrats of Oklahoma as the klan ridden party of Oklahoma and invited all anti-klan democrats to walk into the republican parlor. Then the democrats held their state convention and declared against the control of politics or political offices by any secret political organization, religious or fraternal organizations, or sect or cabal or combination.

Omar Benedict, the republican nominee for governor, ran on an anti-klan platform. Three democrats ran for the nomination for governor and the winner, it was understood, had the support of the invisible order. Two anti-klan democrats split the vote of men and women who agreed with their policies and as a plurality nominates the alleged favorite of the klan was given the party standard to wave aloft in the campaign.

Harreld is said to have the support of the klan voters, but he has repeatedly denied that he is a member of the order or has made pledges to the klan or any other organization of voters. As for the democrat managers, they continue to predict a clean sweep for all their nominees and the return of Oklahoma to the democratic column of states in a senatorial sense. J. W. Harreld and W. B. Pine, republicans, are the senators.

When conditions are normal in Oklahoma, the democratic majority ranges all the way from 25,000 to 45,000. Conditions have not been normal since Jack Walton came to the surface and the invisible workers made their influence felt in the politics of a commonwealth that is known as the step-daughter of Texas. Thomas P. Gore and Scott Ferris made the election of Harreld possible. Jack Walton made the election of Pine possible. Harreld and Pine are oil men and are said to be multi-millionaires. There may be many surprises in Oklahoma as the result of the November election.

PRICE GIVES ADVISE

COLONEL THEODORE H. PRICE of New York is urging and incouraging the increased use of cotton goods for clothing and house furnishings. He says that if the women will help by wearing cotton smocks when they are at home or at work in the office, and if the housewives will lend a hand by using cotton rugs and druggets to cover their floors and cotton awnings to shield their windows, the spindles of America will soon be running night and day and the excessive supply of cotton will quickly disappear.

Women are the buyers of the home. Why not buy made-and-grown-in-America goods? There are tariffs to protect the manufacturers and their workers. There are immigration laws to shut out and to keep out the hand workers of foreign lands. Why shouldn't the buyers of America do something for the farmers of America?

Col. Price knows cotton from the field to the mills. He knows that the increased consumption of cotton goods would turn idle spindles into busy spindles and then the millers would take advantage of the surplus crop and increase their reserves for coming years.

TEXANS WHO MADE MILLIONS

FORMER MAYOR BAYLISS W. HARRISS of Galveston is dead. He was a native Texan. There were five or six of the Harriss boys. They started without a dollar after their school days were over.

Cotton became their game. They studied it from the patch to the spindle of the foreign miller. Five of these boys became millionaires. Raymond was the baby of the group. He died a year or two ago when he was less than 23. He left an estate valued at $750,000.

Robert Harriss, another of the brothers, was president of a New York cotton exchange last year. He is a millionaire.

Bayliss Harriss, who died at Ashville Sunday morning, was a millionaire. These brothers own a farm of 600 acres, about 20 miles from Cotulla. It was a plaything of theirs. They spent lots of money in improvement and they made it a real farm show place.

They made their biggest winnings during the World war. They chartered ships before the United States entered the war upon the side of the allies, and their ships carried cotton to the neutrals of Europe.

Bayliss was the only one of the brothers that ever plunged in politics. His people made him mayor of Galveston. He served one term and then quit. Now he is gone.

VERDICT OF AN OUTSIDER

A FINANCIAL writer on the Chicago Tribune, October 15, states that while the cotton market slump is causing as much comment as ever, it will have less effect than ever before because of the rapid industrial expansion of the south. This is true. Industrial expansion of the south has been very rapid for a quarter of a century.

It has grown by leaps and bounds since 1914 when the World war caused a cotton crisis and the buy-a-bale movement was launched in South Carolina and then taken up in Texas this year. There hasn't been a bale burned in Texas. A bale of cotton is worth $60. Why should a man toss $60 on a bonfire. As for South Carolina, the bale burners talked and that was all.

In manufacturing sense, Texas is a billion dollar state this year. In a livestock sense, the investment will go beyond the $500,000,000 mark. In a agriculture sense this year Texas is a billion dollar state. Southern farmers will not plant 49,000,000 acres to cotton in 1927. They had their fingers burned in 1926. Texas' farmers will not plant 10,000,000 acres to cotton. They know what it is to handle the hot end of the financial poker.

"We wish them experts on diet would quit tellin' us what to eat an' drop a few hints on how to get it."
—The Bogburg Bugle.

HE SPEAKS FOR HIS FRIENDS

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE advised the voters of Massachusetts that William M. Butler was his friend and had the making of an ideal senator, if given the proper years of service. He also advised the voters of his home state that Governor Alvah Fuller had given the people of Massachusetts an administration that entitled Fuller to a second term.

This aroused the ire of democratic campaign managers.

Woodrow Wilson did the same thing in 1918. His advice was not taken by the voters of the doubtful state. Wilson lost. President Coolidge may lose; that is, Butler and Fuller may be defeated in Massachusetts but the republican campaign managers do not believe that it is possible for the democrats to elect Walsh senator or Gaston governor of the old Bay state. November 2 will be election day. Ballots will tell the story.

THEY CAN HAVE IT!

By Walter L. Williamson

I sat before my radio
And listened to some fight returns;
In my mind's eye I saw each blow,
I saw the shifty twists and turns.
I heard the yelling of the throng,
My speaker brought in every sound
The second's shouts, the timer's gong
That stopped and started every round.

The fellow who described the fight
Called off each uppercut and blow,
Told of each wallop, left and right,
Impact of flesh and claret's flow,
At length the fight came to and end;
Serenly I prepared for bed;
The winner earned, and now will spend,
A hundred thousand bucks, it's said!

That may be easy money, but
For twice that sum, all in a bunch,
I wouldn't take one uppercut,
One kidney poke or stomach punch,
One blow, such as they deal in strife,
And some nice hearse would cart me hence;
And men would call upon my wife
To sell her pretty monuments!

NOW WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT IT?

DAILY SCIENCE SIX.

1. How long is a lunar month?
2. How many lunar months is a year?
3. Why was the lunar month the first form of calendar unit used by most races?
4. Why is the lunar month not used now?
5. What is the importance of the lunar month in navigation?
6. How long is the solar year?

Answer to these questions in Monday's Record News.

THE DARK OF THE MOON.

It is not unnatural that in the past many magical events were supposed to take place in the mysterious nights when the moon is dark. Even Frederick the Great, issuing an order that all Prussian farmers must grow potatoes, recommended that they be planted in the dark of the moon. Gradually people have become enlightened about the moon, and a closer view of it, with telescopes, removes some of its portentous mystery. Yet recently seismologists and geologists interested in earthquakes and volcanic activity, have been seeking to account for the strange creakings and strainings and burstings forth of the earth's old sides, and they are inclined, some of them, to lay part of the blame upon the tidal pull which the moon exercises upon the earth.

Now what do you know about that?

Answers to Yesterday's Questions.

1. Dust is found at sea, though not so much so as in most land air.
2. Forest air is pure because it is less dusty and because trees give off oxygen.
3. Though at nights plants give off carbon dioxide, which is poisonous, there need be no fear about leaving them in the room, the unnoticed leakage of most gas pipes, and the fumes of the ordinary furnace, give off as much carbon monoxide (the deadlier), as a whole room full of flowers would do.
4. Relative humidity is the amount of water vapor in the air in proportion to the saturation point, which in turn is determined by temperature, high temperatures having greater capacity to hold water vapor.
5. Charcoal is dangerous as a fuel for houses because it gives off an odorless, but deadly gas, carbon monoxide; ordinarily there is not enough of this gas to be dangerous, but in small, tightly closed rooms fatal amounts get into the air.
6. A bad-smelling gas is put into illuminating gas because the combustible gas is a deadly gas having no odor; the bad smelling gas thus gives the only warning of a leak.

THE TRAFFIC PROBLEM

I get along along Broadway.
I'm used to State street every day,
And, though a man must be, at that,
An athlete and an acrobat,
And, though the noises may disturb,
I make the trip from curb to curb,
It's when some town I hurry through
With population 91
That really I get out of breath
And very nearly scared to death.

The village street is full of din
You seldom will encounter in
The city jam. The cut-out toots
The loudest on the rural routes.
In fact, a blue policeman waits
On all the Broadways, and the States,
For friends who open their bazoo
The way the village speeders do;
Dyspeptic judges wait to meet
The tooters in a city street.

How many chauffeurs from the farms
Are also minus hands or arms.
They make a left turn or a right
Without a hand or arm in sight.
O armless gentlemen, I beg
Of you, at least stick out a leg,
So I can know, and children, too,
Just what you next intend to do,
And, if you will, oh, then be good
And do the things you said you would.

Last summer, seeking peace and rest,
I sought a village 'way out west.
"Wide open spaces" sounded fine,
But how much space was really mine?
They made me jump, they made me flinch,
They missed me by a half an inch,
Exceeded forty on the curves
And very nearly wrecked my nerves.
And so I'm back in town a spell;
The doctors say I may get well.

"I'M THE GINK"

I'm the gink who gets rid of my chewing gum when and where I please. I drop it on the floor, stick it on furniture or under seats at the theater, toss it on the sidewalk or just any old place I happen to be. I know it gets on shoes and clothing and causes damage. Of course I could dispose of it where it would do no harm, but that would cause me a little trouble, I just let it fly where it will. I don't mind.

Childress Farmers Concentrate On Production of Pure-Blooded Poultry

CHILDRESS, Oct. 29.—Childress is to have a big Panhandle poultry show on December 17 and 18, according to a decision of the Childress County Poultry association. This will be the largest show that Childress county has ever had and is planned as the largest show in the Panhandle. Already many birds have been promised from outside the Childress territory.

Childress county is noted far and wide for her fine poultry. Some four or five years ago very few standard-bred chickens could be found on the local farms, but now one will find about 60 per cent full bloods.

This has been brought about by the continued advertising and the poultry shows stimulating good breeding, causing the farmers to think about better and better poultry instead of mongrels.

10,000 Fine Birds.

The Childress County Poultry association hopes to place 10,000 standard-bred chickens in Childress county this coming year and is asking the co-operation of all to attain this end.

The association plans to put on its poultry show without charging an admission, either to the people wanting ot see the show or those entering birds. In order to do this it is making a canvass of the business houses in the city and county and soliciting donations. The association itself will furnish some of the funds. The solicitors are meeting with very much encouragement.

The association will hold another meeting on Saturday afternoon at the chamber of commerce rooms and make final arrangements for the show, after a full and complete discussion of plans. At this time the various committees will report progress of the solicitations.

Poultry raisers are being urged to get their birds in readiness for the show and to start now so that the birds can be gotten in the best of condition. The dates were set in December so that the birds could be secured for the show before the moulting season starts in January.

The prizes to be offered will be the same as were offered at the Childress fair. There will also be some special premiums that will be worth anyone's effort in placing the birds in the show.

The Childress Poultry association is in constant touch with the leading markets for produce and have already had some bids for the egg crop of next year. This is most encouraging to the members, and is tending to bring in new members.

E. R. Reeves, head of the local association and one of its mainstays that "a hen, a sow and a cow will bring more money in the long run than cotton will, for one can gather the eggs, milk and cows and feed the hogs without help or worry." He says, "Try this for one year and see, at the end of the year, if you don't owe less than if you had planted a large cotton crop. Most farmers that we have talked to admit this for they have some money all the time, whereas the "stick-to-cotton" farmer has none except in the fall."

WORTH WHILE?

Whether farm club work, home demonstration work, county agent work and all that is worthwhile is not a question for dispute any more. If the functionaries who engage in this did not contribute something of worth to the territories they serve, they would have been dropped long ago and such activity would not be making the steady strides it now enjoys in Texas.

But as a matter of positive proof, the Bowie and Labedale exhibits now on display in town as a competitive venture between the clubs, are answers in themselves.

Ten years ago, of course, there were very capable cooks and housekeepers abroad in the land. The women of that day—or most of them at least—were as serious unskilled in the arts of the household. They could plan and cook a meal completely appalling. They could care for a house and make it a home—and in doing that, perhaps, they were exhibiting acceptably the fundamental need of the time.

But could they do all the things in the kitchen which a club woman of today can do? Could they select the suitable of material any time? Could they save themselves labor and expense in a thousand and little ways? Did they understand thoroughly the scientific reasons for doing what they did in the orthodox way?

Very few, if not many of them could. That is a general way why they did this and that; but the modern club woman, it would seem, knows in a specific way. The demonstrations and exhibits these two clubs have arranged prove conclusively that they are not the result of chance or luck. They are the result of careful study and close application of correct principles.

If this work has accomplished nothing more, it has been worthwhile on that score alone.

THE OTHER SIDE

There are always two sides to every question, and those good people who have just returned from Los Angeles to defend Aimee Semple McPherson have presented merely their view of the side that, thus far, has had but little showing.

Personally, we believe about Aimee just as does that San Diego editor who, in a now noteworthy editorial, opined that "Aimee will not suffer much from the incident. You can't hurt an elephant with a peashooter, and you most certainly cannot touch a conscience when conscience is as absent as the grace of God from the funeral of a Tia Juana bar fly." Whatever her attraction and powers as an evangelist, the evidence seems to be too damning to permit of any conclusion but that she is a magnificent actress but a poor judge of the gullibility of a worldly-wise public.

However, it is refreshing to find that, perhaps, there is another side of the question. And it is still more refreshing to find some one who will openly proclaim a belief in the other side when the vast majority believe otherwise.

Time Has Come For Revival In Religious Life, Phillips Declares

"A religious revival is a moral and spiritual stimulus which leaves the possessor richer in mind and in heart and gives him a broader outlook upon life and makes him more contented and happy," such was the opinion expressed by Rabbi Samuel Phillips Friday night in his sermon at Temple Israel when he talked upon "The Value of a Religious Revival."

"A religious revival must react on the home and individual, for no one can enter into a religious revival without soon experiencing a decided spiritual improvement," he declared.

Time for Revival.

"I believe the time has come for a great revival in Temple Israel, for a revival in which every member and every home affiliated with the temple should take part. We should end at once the state indifference to religion.

"A member from any congregation should learn that they are concerned in upholding the honor and usefulness of the congregation, making it an instrument for service in the community.

"The duty of the system is not merely the paying of taxes but in obeying the laws and serving the country in time of war and in time of peace. Similarly, the duty of a member of the congregation does not end with the payment of the dues, but includes service of the highest order; consecration of faith and the cause which it represents. Our country demands of us 100 per cent patriotism. Likewise, every religious organization has a right to demand 100 per cent of true religion.

Spooks and Goblins Rule as Girls Enjoy Hallowe'en Party at College

Grinning goblins, spooky jack-o-lanterns out from yellow pumpkins, gruesome witches, owls, and cats, with a few skeletons to accentuate the Hallowe'en atmosphere, and black and orange paper draperies, made the Junior college cafeteria Friday an appropriate place for the annual Hallowe'en party given by the Girl Reserves for all members who have paid their dues.

Clever fortunes wrapped in black and orange paper were distributed as the girls arrived at the door and all read the fortunes later. Walter Penney and Curtis Watson sang duets, accompanied by Helen Howard. Mabel Drinkard, as an old darky, told several jokes and Dolores Peavy, Edna Bobo, and Mabel Drinkard sang conference songs. The Vivian Ross orchestra played for the party while refreshments of Halloween ice cream and cake were served.

ADVERTISE OIL

C. of C. May Take Steps To Boost Resources Here

That some active steps will be taken to advertise Wichita Falls as a good place for the independent oil operator seems probable as a result of discussions Friday the chamber of commerce business council when the matter was brought up. A. L. Huey, president of the Real Estate board which recently passed resolutions suggesting that the chamber of commerce assist the oil fraternity with this publicity.

Mr. Huey, W. B. Hamilton and others pointed out that technically, the Wichita Falls area offered as great inducement for exploration as any other—greater than many—and that Wichita Falls served more admirably as a base of operations than Fort Worth, Tulsa, Abilene or any other of the so-called operating points.

Advertising in the leading oil publications was suggested as one of the most practical methods of boosting the city's oil advantages.

Bullet Stopped at Feet of Man by Plate Glass

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 29.—(AP) Two plate glass windows probably saved the life of E. P. West, a night watchman, early Friday when a spent bullet dropped at his feet after shattering both window panes.

The bullet was fired by Huey Lung, a Chinese cafe owner, at a party of five negroes, one of whom had thrown a catsup bottle at him. The cafe owner could give no reason for the action of the negroes who escaped.

TO DISCUSS SLOGAN

C. of C. Business Council To Take Up Question

The question of whether or not the semi-official slogan "The City That Faith Built" should be junked and another substituted will probably comprise an important part of the discussion next Friday of the chamber of commerce business council. At the end of Friday noon's session a motion was passed to take the matter up for discussion next week and go into it thoroughly.

The Real Estate board at a recent meeting passed resolutions recommending discontinuance of the slogan.

Various reports were made and discussions had at Friday's meeting, chief of which was an address by Dr. Walker of the United States Public Health service who is in Wichita Falls to conduct a survey of health conditions here.

He outlined in some detail what the Health Association is designed to do, what it is accomplishing and how it functions for the benefit of the public.

SPRINGALL COMING

Everybody is attracted to the girl with a rosy, healthy coloring—the girl with the soft, velvet like skin—a skin so lovely that it tells of boundless health and vitality. There is no excuse for disgusting eruptions on the skin. We know they can be driven away quickly with a powerful blood alterative such as S. S. S. has proven to be for 100 years. Start taking S. S. S. today. And get the larger size bottle. It's more economical.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 29. (AP)—Will Rogers, cowboy comedian, declared some one had been fudging on him when he found two moonshine stills on his ranch near Oologah, Okla., while on an inspection tour last Wednesday.

The stills were destroyed. The Rogers ranch contains a thousand acres and is the old homestead of the comedian's father, the late Clem Rogers, after whom Rogers county, Okla., was named. Eventually the place will the home of the cowboy.

SEMINOLE FIELD REACHES 100,000 BARREL DAILY PRODUCTION

GREATER YIELD YET EXPECTED IN THAT FIELD

Producers Number 42 and Pipelines Carry All The Production

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 29.—The Seminole field of western Seminole county has joined the class of 100,000 barrels a day or better oil fields of the United States but it may not stay in this class, aspiring for the 150,000 to 200,000 barrels a day list.

The 42 producing wells there, 21 of which are from the rich Wilcox sand and 21 from the Hunton limestone, attained a daily output of 100,595 barrels to 7 a. m. This great production mark was attained through the completion the last two or three days of a flock of big wells, all in the gusher class.

Lime Started It.

Seminole's sensational advancement in the production lists ends an intensive campaign that set in late in 1925, but its real expansion began with the opening of a Hunton lime pool in the extreme eastern boundary of the present field early in 1926 by the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company and the Foster Petroleum company.

The eccentricities of the Hunton lime held the development back somewhat and not until July 16 when the Independent Oil and Gas company and Robert F. Garland and their No. 1 Fixico, in 28-9-6, found the Wilcox sand, did the real "play" begin. The Wilcox sand has since been found in sections 34, 28, 26, 14 and 35 of township 9, range 6, and in section 33, of 10-6. Drilling is under way all over both areas and the future of the field is very bright.

Pipelines Taxed.

Every purchaser of crude oil in the field is hard pressed to take care of all the oil offered, and the source of completions lately, swelling the output beyond 100,000 barrels a day has forced some of the pipelines to turn some of the oil into earthen pits until new lines and tanks are ready.

Shaffer Oil and Refining company is starting work on a new four-inch station to be built in the northeast of 35-9-6.

The new Shaffer line and the 50-mile line of the Barnsdale Oil company is starting, along with new extensions of the Prairie, Sinclair, Gulf, Oklahoma, Ozark, Independent, Magnolia, and Tidal is expected shortly to be able to cope with the situation there.

Attack On Girl By Acid Charged

Dallas Youth Faces Trial On Attempt to Force Maid To Suicide

DALLAS, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Roy Jones, 22, was formally charged with assault to murder here today in a complaint which alleges he "poured acid down the throat of his sweetheart after she spurned his proposal of marriage."

Jones drank the acid remaining in the bottle, officers said.

The alleged attempt to force the girl, Miss Violet West, 18, a pretty cotton mill worker, to drink the acid, occurred last night in a South Dallas play park.

Miss West is in a hospital suffering from burns on the face, neck and breast.

CUTS DISCOUNTED

Recent Standard Cuts Were Discontinued By Refiners

The one cent a gallon reduction in gasoline prices for all of the Standard of Indiana, Standard of Nebraska and Mariand Refining company territories found Mid-Continent refinery spot prices virtually unchanged. All refiners had discounted the cut that was expected. Imperial Oils, Ltd., has cut Canadian gasoline prices two cents a gallon, except on the Canadian Pacific provinces.

Word from New York says that California gasoline is arriving there and U. S. motor specification material is quoted at 11 1-2 cents at the ocean side, and 11 3-4 cents in tank cars.

FARM PEP SQUAD

A large number of Junior college students have applied for membership in the pep squad and several practices have been planned for next week, in preparation for the Indian-Cameron Aggie game Friday. A short pep meeting for Junior college was held Friday morning, the students participating in several old yells and songs, led by Jimmie Ford and Lucyle Collier, yell leaders for the college. Uniforms in the school colors, maroon and gold, will be completed in time for the pep squad to wear them for the game Friday, and yell books will also be distributed. It is also planned to secure megaphones for all students before the game.

AIMEE DENIES KEN HAS GARB

Clothes in His Trunk Not Her's, She Tells Her Friends

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29. (AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple evangelist, whose preliminary hearing on conspiracy charges ended yesterday, today positively denied that any of the gowns and woman's wearing apparel found in Kenneth G. Ormiston's trunk in New York belonged to her. She characterized as "ridiculous" any intimations that the apparel was hers.

Mrs. McPherson also bitterly denounced those who would connect her with the clothing found in the trunk, and defied authorities to prove that any of the expensive robes, gowns or dainty lingerie were ever her property.

A strand of hair found in a boudoir cap in the trunk was sent to the University of California for examination and analysis by E. O. Heinrich, criminologist. Several strands of Mrs. McPherson's hair accompanied the specimen, District Attorney Keyes announced.

The hair found in Ormiston's trunk was forwarded to Keyes by air mail and the trunk with its contents is now on the way to Los Angeles.

Keyes made public today a list of the contents of the trunk.

Vernon Grand Jury Declares War On Labor Bootlegging Activities

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Oct. 29.—The grand jury Thursday took steps to stop the operations of a gang of "labor bootleggers" who have been operating in Wilbarger for some time. The scheme is to obtain laborers for the Wilbarger farmers for a fee of five dollars per man. The men mostly Mexicans, are easily obtained for the farmers, and after working a few days are induced to quit their jobs by the "bootleggers." Thus they are given to another farmer for another fee. A man who was believed to be a leader of the operations was arrested and taken before the grand jury, but after some questioning was released on the condition that he would immediately leave the county and stay away.

The sheriff's department is making every effort to stop the practice.

SEMINOLE FIELD REACHES 100,000 BARREL DAILY PRODUCTION

GREATER YIELD YET EXPECTED IN THAT FIELD

Producers Number 42 and Pipelines Carry All The Production

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 29.—The Seminole field of western Seminole county has joined the class of 100,000 barrels a day or better oil fields of the United States but it may not stay in this class, aspiring for the 150,000 to 200,000 barrels a day list.

The 42 producing wells there, 21 of which are from the rich Wilcox sand and 21 from the Hunton limestone, attained a daily output of 100,595 barrels to 7 a. m. This great production mark was attained through the completion the last two or three days of a flock of big wells, all in the gusher class.

Lime Started It.

Seminole's sensational advancement in the production lists ends an intensive campaign that set in late in 1925, but its real expansion began with the opening of a Hunton lime pool in the extreme eastern boundary of the present field early in 1926 by the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company and the Foster Petroleum company.

The eccentricities of the Hunton lime held the development back somewhat and not until July 16 when the Independent Oil and Gas company and Robert F. Garland and their No. 1 Fixico, in 28-9-6, found the Wilcox sand, did the real "play" begin. The Wilcox sand has since been found in sections 24, 23, 26, 14 and 35 of township 9, range 6, and in section 33, of 10-6. Drilling is under way all over both areas and the future of the field is very bright.

Pipelines Taxed.

Every purchaser of crude oil in the field is hard pressed to take care of all the oil offered, and the source of completions lately, swelling the output beyond 100,000 barrels a day has forced some of the pipelines to turn some of the oil into earthen pits until new lines and tanks are ready.

Shaffer Oil and Refining company is starting work on a new four-inch station to be built in the northeast of 35-9-6.

The new Shaffer line and the 50-mile line of the Barnsdale Oil company is starting, along with new extensions of the Prairie, Sinclair, Gulf, Oklahoma, Ozark, Independent, Magnolia, and Tidal is expected shortly to be able to cope with the situation there.

Attack On Girl By Acid Charged

Dallas Youth Faces Trial On Attempt to Force Maid To Suicide

DALLAS, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Roy Jones, 22, was formally charged with assault to murder here today in a complaint which alleges he "poured acid down the throat of his sweetheart after she spurned his proposal of marriage."

Jones drank the acid remaining in the bottle, officers said.

The alleged attempt to force the girl, Miss Violet West, 18, a pretty cotton mill worker, to drink the acid, occurred last night in a South Dallas play park.

Miss West is in a hospital suffering from burns on the face, neck and breast.

CUTS DISCOUNTED

Recent Standard Cuts Were Discontinued By Refiners

The one cent a gallon reduction in gasoline prices for all of the Standard of Indiana, Standard of Nebraska and Mariand Refining company territories found Mid-Continent refinery spot prices virtually unchanged. All refiners had discounted the cut that was expected. Imperial Oils, Ltd., has cut Canadian gasoline prices two cents a gallon, except on the Canadian Pacific provinces.

Word from New York says that California gasoline is arriving there and U. S. motor specification material is quoted at 11 1-2 cents at the ocean side, and 11 3-4 cents in tank cars.

Clothes in His Trunk Not Her's, She Tells Her Friends

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29. (AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple evangelist, whose preliminary hearing on conspiracy charges ended yesterday, today positively denied that any of the gowns and woman's wearing apparel found in Kenneth G. Ormiston's trunk in New York belonged to her. She characterized as "ridiculous" any intimations that the apparel was hers.

Mrs. McPherson also bitterly denounced those who would connect her with the clothing found in the trunk, and defied authorities to prove that any of the expensive robes, gowns or dainty lingerie were ever her property.

A strand of hair found in a boudoir cap in the trunk was sent to the University of California for examination and analysis by E. O. Heinrich, criminologist. Several strands of Mrs. McPherson's hair accompanied the specimen, District Attorney Keyes announced.

The hair found in Ormiston's trunk was forwarded to Keyes by air mail and the trunk with its contents is now on the way to Los Angeles.

Keyes made public today a list of the contents of the trunk.

Vernon Grand Jury Declares War On Labor Bootlegging Activities

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Oct. 29.—The grand jury Thursday took steps to stop the operations of a gang of "labor bootleggers" who have been operating in Wilbarger for some time. The scheme is to obtain laborers for the Wilbarger farmers for a fee of five dollars per man. The men mostly Mexicans, are easily obtained for the farmers, and after working a few days are induced to quit their jobs by the "bootleggers." Thus they are given to another farmer for another fee. A man who was believed to be a leader of the operations was arrested and taken before the grand jury, but after some questioning was released on the condition that he would immediately leave the county and stay away.

The sheriff's department is making every effort to stop the practice.

S. M. U. is rated the favorite over Texas, at least, so say the "experts," who may be imminently correct. But we're just playing a hunch, the dope isn't exactly what it should be.

The Aggies are the statistical favorites in the tilt at Waco. Close students of the game, however, aver it would not be surprising to see Baylor slip up on the Farmers. Plain old dope gives Bible's men a two-touchdown better shot to win.

Suit yourself about the rest of 'em. Running down, the western, eastern and intersectional list, every team carried on the left side of the score prediction has been rated a better than even chance by the "experts" to cop.

French Politics Ruins Olympics

Chances in 1928 Virtually Blasted by Decree Against Army

PARIS, Oct. 29.(AP)—France's chances of making a good showing at the Olympic games at Amsterdam in 1928, were dealt a heavy blow today by a series of military decrees virtually eliminating athletis from the French army.

The decrees were issued as a result of the decision to reduce compulsory service in the French army by one year, the army heads apparently taking the stand that the time for training was now so short that young Frenchmen needed every available hour to become good soldiers.

The decrees French sport writers believe will be fatal to the nation's Olympic chances.

At the ministry of war The Associated Press was informed that athletes of international calibre would be granted permission to compete in games having an international status but that national and regional championships would taboo.

Forty sporting writers today held a stormy meeting at the ministry of war in an effort to have the decrees revoked. They gave as one argument that before an athlete can attain international calibre he must first obtain regional and then national standing.

San Marcos Has An Edge In TIAA

Defeat of Bobcats Puts Teachers Up As Prime Favorites

SAN MARCOS, Oct. 29.(AP) The defeat the Bobcats of the Southwest Texas Teachers college handed the Trinity Tigers last Friday, marked the San Marcos Teachers as probable leaders of the T. I. A. A.

Coach Strahan has reached the mid-season with his team undefeated in the association. Only one game has been lost, that going to the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, who loom as probable champions of the Texas conference.

The Bobcats expect to win the game from St. Mary's academy Saturday with little trouble, but will meet their equals when they tackle the strong St. Edwards Saints from Austin, November 5. Victory over the Saints would mean the turning point in the race for the T. I. A. A. championship. The defeat of Southwestern university by the Saints, places them on par with the Southwest Teachers.

BELLEVUE IN 12-9 WIN OVER JUNIOR SQUAD

Coyote Juniors Unable To Stem Fast Attack Of Rivals

Amid all varieties of football Bellevue high school won over Wichita Falls Junior high school by a score of 12 to 9 at Spudder Park Friday afternoon. Everything from the sensational to the mediocre happened to make the game a real spectacle for the small crowd in the grandstand. Although out-gaining her opponents by more than a two to one margin in total yardage, the Junior high lads got the worst end of several bad breaks and made two critical fumbles which really lost them the game.

Jolly Is Star

After a more or less calm opening Jolly led his Bellevue mates in a series of plunges down the field a smashing run of 26-yards around the Cub right end bringing the first score. Kick for point failed. Wichita Falls came back with a furious drive in the second quarter which brought the score to a tie and a good kick put the Cubs in the lead 7-6. Soon after another drive of unbeatable football brought the ball up to the goal. Here Anderson in attempting to make a touchdown fumbled, Reeves recovered the ball for a safety. The score was now 9-6 for the Cubs. This is the first of the breaks that lost the game.

In the third quarter Dulaney fumbled a kick and Turpin scooped it up for a touchdown, making the score 12-9. Several other promising Cub drives fizzled in fumbles or penalties. Offside penalties were numerous throughout the contest.

16 First Downs

Beach, Bains, Anderson, and Moss led the Cub offensive, while Willie Jolly, Smith and Turpin carried the brunt of the Bellevue attack. The Cubs annexed 16 first downs to eight for the Bellevue lads.

The line-up:

Junior High	Pos.	Bellevue

FOUR-LAP LEAD

Chicago Bicycle Race Featured by Spurts.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29. (AP) — A four-lap lead separated the German-American team of Petri and Lands from the second placers Friday as the 15 entries in the international six-day bicycle race pounded into the last two days' grind.

At midnight, the 99th hour, Petri and Lands were in definite possession of a four-lap advantage after traveling 1,666 miles.

Featuring the night's racing was the hard riding of Stockelynch and Gossens, who took advantage of jams and spills to beat McNamara and Georetti, who had held second place for some time.

Records were broken for the number of laps stolen when the total reached 205.

Coyotes Make Tracks For Quanah Where They Tackle Indians Today On Home Gridiron In District Race

Bud McCallum's Pack Reported In Good Shape For Contest Which Is Expected To Prove Easy Victory To Coyote Grid Squad.

Coaches Bud and Brown McCallum and twenty Coyotes from Wichita Falls high school departed for Quanah at one o'clock yesterday afternoon via bus to take the trail for the second league bout, to be played this afternoon with the Quanah Indians. The game will be watched with interest for any comparisons it may furnish dopesters in regard to the relative strength of the Lions and the Coyotes, who are scheduled for the grand classic of the district race next Saturday at Vernon.

Injuries to first-string players have left the Pack far from in first-class shape, but they are not expecting to have much difficulty in rolling up a good score. Edmonson, fullback, is out with illness and Brown and Downing, first-string linemen, are both toting bad shoulders which will keep them out of much work.

Before leaving Friday Coach McCallum announced as his probable line-up the following: Rayzor, quarterback; Francis, left half; Mitchell, right half; Allred, fullback; Neal, left end; Ewing, right end; Tarkenton, left tackle; Frank "Hunkie" Ray, right tackle; Powell, left guard; Dobson, right guard; Hobbs, center. Other men who made the trip are McKlaney, Pritchard, Holstein, Mills, Newman, Sisk, Perk Ray, Brown and Downing.

TEXAS STEERS BATTLE S. M. U.

Saturday Contest Gets Eyes Of Southwestern Loop Grid Fans

DALLAS, Oct. 29. (AP)—The Razorbacks of the University of Arkansas was enroute Friday to Manhattan, Kan., where, as leaders of the Southwestern conference, they will engage the Kansas Aggies Saturday in an intersectional gridiron battle.

The Razorbacks are accorded the top rung in the Southwestern by virtue of two conference victories. Southern Methodist university and Texas university also have perfect conference records, each with one victory only. The race is certain to be narrowed, as S. M. U. and Texas meet at Austin.

Hogs vs. Kansas.

The Razorbacks invade the Kansas Aggies stronghold wearing the laurels of potential champions.

Because the team was unable to arrange more than one game with conference members, it was permitted to count three other contests with outsiders for conference purposes. The outlook is bright that the Porkers will win the two remaining conference tilts. The victor in the Texas-S. M. U. tilt will face a man-sized task to equal the record, even with Saturday's game tucked safely away. Wails of injuries eminated from the Razorbacks haunts as they started northward Thursday night. Coach Schmidt said he will be forced to replace Cowger at end by shifting Franks from tackle because of injuries in scrimmage, and that other changes may be necessary. He did not specify probable changes, however.

Bears vs. Aggies.

Schmidt led a squad of 22 gridders to Manhattan. The squad is scheduled to arrive there this afternoon for a workout. Those making the trip are Boosman, Beavers, Chipman, Cole, Cowger, D. Honan, Bonathan, Gentry, Franks, Harrison, Japp, Kerby, McGill, Miller, Rose, Sabler, Scott, Shaw, Smith, Mack, Winters and Wise.

The Baylor Bears and the Texas Aggies will tangle at Waco in the only other conference battle of the week-end. The Aggies have been installed as favorites.

Texas Christian university will be host the same afternoon to the Texas Tech Matadors at Fort Worth.

IDLE IMAGINATION

Branch Says Nothing to Rumor About Rajah Joining Giants.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 29.(AP)—Reports of trades which would send Manager Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals to the New York Giants in exchange for Frankie Frisch, the "Fordham flash" was characterized by Branch Rickey, vice-president and former manager of the St. Louis club as a concoction of the "hot stove league" here last night. St. Louis club owners entertain no notion of parting with the man who gave the mound city its first league pennant and world's championship in 38 years, Rickey declared and added that with the exception of a few additions to strengthen the Cardinals, the roster would remain practically unchanged for the start of the 1927 campaign.

CRUCIAL TESTS IN EAST TODAY

Army Meets Yale in One Of Feature Football Games Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. (AP)—Football foliage in the east which has taken on the bright tints of October faces a withering blast tomorrow in as dramatic a series of gridiron battles as any day has promised. The tests will determine the front line ranks for the November climax.

The hopes of aspirants for eastern championship recognition will be at stake in no fewer than 10 games, most of which will be flavored with intersectional interest or traditional rivalry. Five of the major battles probably will attract crowds ranging from 50,000 to 75,000 each.

Cadets Face Eli.

The West Point Cadets will invade the Yale bowl seeking revenge and a victory that will keep their unbeaten record intact. Experts favor the Mule to trim the Bull Dog for the first time since 1911 but the Elis have upset Army hopes on more than one occasion. The Cadets will be without the services of their best kicker, Trapnell, but Yale is even harder hit by the loss of the offensive ace of her back field, Larry Nobel, as well as the defensive star, Bill Kline.

Three important intersectional tilts will see Pennsylvania invading the stronghold of Illinois; Michigan facing the navy at Baltimore and the Missouri Rigers entering the jungle of the West Virginia Mountaineers. Only one of these teams, Illinois, has met defeat so far.

Unbeaten Ones Meet.

Title hopes are also involved in three colorful battles bringing together long standing rivals on neutral gridirons. Two unbeaten elevens, Washington and Jefferson, and LaFayette stage their annual clash on Franklin field. New York will watch Cornell and Columbia renew their feud at the Polo Grounds while New York university clashes with Fordham at the Yankee stadium. Cornell and New York university are strongly favored to win. W. and J., is a slight favorite over LaFayette.

Brown with Yale's scalp already lifted, invades Hanover determined to even old scores with Dartmout.

Colgate, although likely to play without its captain, Nick Mehler, is favored to repulse Michigan State, Boston college, the only eastern team as yet unscored on may encounter a tarter in West Virginia Wesleyan, but Holy Cross, Harvard, Princeton, Syracuse, Pennsylvania State and Pittsburgh among other major outfits, expect little trouble winning.

Big Games Today.

Principal games tomorrow and last year's scores:

Army at Yale, 7-28.
Brown at Dartmouth, 0-14.
Michigan-Navy at Baltimore, 54-0.
Pennsylvania at Illinois, 2-24.
Cornell - Columbia at Polo Grounds, 17-14.

JOE MAY PUT IT ON GORMAN

Indian Has Beat All Rest At His Poundage In This Section

It's a good thing Matty Matsuda, for many months instructor to Yaqui Joe, has retired. For sooner or later the speedy Indian would have been called on to do battle with his old master. And, judging by Joe's rapid ascension in the wrestling world, Matty would be defeated.

Yaqui has been going right down line, beating 'em all at his weight, his last victim being the rugged Dutch Mantell who for a year or so proved an engima to the Indian. Yaqui mixes with Jack Gorman, the sturdy San Angelo welter, Monday night at the Majestic and there are many followers of the sport who are willing to wager you the Redman will come away the victor. If Joe does repulse Gorman's advances he will have cleaned up in his world of the southwest and must seek elsewhere for new worlds to conquer.

At present, Charley Grip, the gorilla-shaped junior middleweight who says he can make the welter limit, is the only man in this section of sufficient calibre to make it more than interesting for either the Indian of Gorman.

Grip is contenting himself, if such it could be called, for the time being with mixing it up against middleweights and light heavies.

Eddie Pope, the rough and ready light heavy, meets Grip on the card with Yaqui and Gorman Monday.

Vernon Breaks Through Stubborn Electra Wall For 14-0 Triumph; Losers Outscored, Not Out-Fought

Badgett's Grey Clad Backs Stopped For A Time By Brunson Wall, But Breaks Of Game Give Lions Needed Margin

BY BLONDY CROSS
Record News Sports Editor

VERNON Oct. 29.—Electra's sturdily battling forward wall, led by Midget Dudley Avens, tossed back the plunging and running assaults launched by the mighty Gelhausen and Shorty Key time and again when the goal was endangered, but with the inevitable breaks of the game there came a widening breach in Jim Reese's stalwart defense. Enough to turn the victory tide by a pair of touchdowns in the annual gridiron struggle between the Tigers and Vernon's Lions here this afternoom

Baggett's charging Gray machine rolled over the Crimson of Electra, 14 to 0. It was the second game of the Texas interscholastic league race for both elevens.

Statistically speaking, today's dust-screened melee which lasted far into the shades of nightfall, is a victory this week for Vernon but a defeat next week. For should the Grey wage no better brand of ball seven days hence when the crimson and black of Wichita Falls swarms over the lion veldt it is given but an outside chance to repulse the invaders. Statistically, Vernon out played Electra but did not outfight her. Each team scored seven first downs, but Baggett's Cavalrymen gained more yardage, covering 118 to Tiger's 1.

On three occasion Electra ploughed to within scoring distance, but was thrown into a jumbled mass on a stubborn Vernon front line entrenchment with Koontz and Johnson in the fore. A fourth near score was averted by Shorty Key, who intercepted a truant pass cut loose by Cloniger and loped to Electra's 18-yard line where the game ended a moment later.

Pass Starts It.

A pass, Cloniger to Linden Smith, who waged an able game until taken from the affray in the second quarter because of injury, put the ball on Vernon's 20-yard marker early in the opening period but Lion forwards braced. A sharp tackle by Castleberry and a misplaced kick by Lebus gave the oval to the defenders.

Vernon scored midway in the first quarter. A bad pass from center put Electra on her own 11-yard line. A put was attempted but blocked by a squad of Vernon linemen who had sifted through. Parker, Vernon center, recovered three yards from the goal. Gelhausen plunged Aven tackle and failed. Castleberry then took the ball and romped through Electra's right guard for the tabulation. Gelhausen kicked accurately for point after touchdown.

Parker retrieved again when Preston fumbled the kick-off before a furious tackle by Shorty Key.

The ball was downed 23 yards from the goal and Luttrell slipped off left end 11 yards. Electra refused to budge on two attempted plunges. Key passed over the goal where the ball was grounded on third down, automatically shifting the attack to Electra who kicked out of danger. Gelhausen and Key tore off several appreciable advances during the second quarter but could not negotiate the full distance.

Gelhausen Scores.

The second touchdown was scored in the third quarter by Gelhausen almost single handed. Our Willie punted for up-field after failing to gain through the line, then scampered after the kick. Koontz boled over the Tiger safety and the ball bounded from his clutches. Gelhausen scooped it up and ran 16 yards to a touchdown. He kicked goal from placement for the extra point.

Electra hopes fumed fierce and full twice in the final period, once when a series of plunges by Gilum, Lebus and Kent put the ball a bare eight yards from the goal where Vernon stiffened and again when a pair of forward passes sent hurtling through the twilight by Cloniger into the arms of Kent brought the battle to Vernon's 12-yard line. It was here Key intercepted.

Wichita Falls Coyote squad and choaching staff, enroute to Quanah where the McCallum outfit besieges the Indian stronghold Saturday, witnessed today's spectacle. They saw a mass eight-man interference with either Gelhause, Key or Castleberry sweeping around the wings for lengthy gains. They saw a slow functioning Vernon line rise to the heights of desperate defense when occasion demanded. They say three warriors in that line, Lewis, Koontz and Johnson, who can make it extremely difficult for any high school team in Texas to advance. They say a comparatively weak Vernon pass defense, but on secondary defense that rips in and stops the running backs on the line of scrimmage. and they saw two plunging, smashing demons in "Shorty" Key and Captain Willie Gelhausen in the Electra defense performance. Avens, Mike Brown, White, Davis and Gillum draw the spotlight. Gillum and Lunden Smith, the short period he was in the game, were the only real ground gainers wearing the Electra Spangles. Kent made a showing late in the affray.

The line-ups and summary follow:

Vernon	Po.	Electra
Newth	G.	Brown

AGGIES-BEARS SET FOR FIGHT

Farmers Given a Slight Edge In Pre-Game Forecasts

WACO, Oct. 29.(AP) —With thousands of ex-students swarming into the city for the annual home-coming celebration, and the powerful combination of Coach Dana X. Bible scheduled to arrive here tomorrow about noon for A. & M.'s clash with the Baylor Bears on the Cotton Palace gridiron at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Waco fans were keyed to a high pitch tonight, awaiting the opening whistle.

Aggies Favorites.

Although the majority of critics give the Aggies a margin of from 3 to 14 points for victory, the proteges of Coach Morley Jennings were in the pink of condition tonight and there seems little doubt that however the outcome a mighty battle of gridiron warriors will be staged.

The farmers will enter the game with several of their leading players on the injured list, according to the latest word from College Station, and they were forced to play at high tension in last Saturday's tilt with Southern Methodist university.

Bears at Threat.

While these facts are considered with the additional facts that Baylor had only a compartively light tussle with Howard Payne last Saturday, Baylor supporters have a strong suspicion that the tearing claws of the Bears may leave deeper scars than expected in the Farmer's sides. In fact, high hopes of victory are held by many.

Though clouds darkened the skies here practically all day today, no rain had fallen at a late hour tonight. If the field is dry tomorrow, a forward passing game is expected. Both teams are expected to hew to a more or less cautious line, however.

Trinity Sneaks Win Over Austin

Final Score Is 14 to 13 After Hard-Fought Contest By Elevens

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 29, (AP) —Trinity University edged through to a 14 to 13 victory over the Austin College Kangaroos here this afternoon, the visitors almost taking the Tiger's jays in the second half after Trinity had amassed all its points.

One of the Tiger touchdowns came on a dash off tackle by Captain Ferguson, who had recovered a fumble after a bad pass from center on the Kangaroo 12-yard line. The other was on a through-tackle play by Schley from the Austin 22-yard line.

In the second half, the scrapping Kangaroos, led by Keeling, scored two successive touchdowns, but lost a tie when the Tiger forwards blocked a kick for goal. Keeling carried the ball over for a third touchdown in the fourth period, but the ball was called back on a ruling of holding. A few minutes later Trinity lost a touchdown in the same fashion. Ryan, former Waco star, carried the ball.

Not Sweden's Royal Wedding But Equal Interest At Evanston

The coming royal wedding of Prince Leopold of Belgium and Princess Astrid of Sweden is drawing the major part of attention in the news in Sweden these days. But the interest in Swedish activities in and around Evanston, Ill., centers about the doing of Victor Gustafson, left halfback on the Northwestern university football team.

Gustafson is one of the backfield mates of Ralph "Moon" Baker called Red Grange's only rival in the big ten while the Wheaton iceman, was cavorting in Illinois colors.

Vic is one of the leading point scorers in the middle west. He played a leading part in the early victories of the team over South Dakota, Carleton and Indiana U. He scored two touchdowns against an Indiana eleven for which adherents of the latter held great hopes. At this recent gait he will give Bo Molenda of Michigan, Marty Karow of Ohio State, Peters of Illinois and the other ball carriers a run for their money in the race for mid west goal scoring honors this year.

Gustafson is a big, powerful fellow whose build belies his speed. While he excels in line plunging he carries the ball cleverly in the open field and knows the gentle art of straight arming.

The big Swede helped Northwestern plunge its way through the big ten schedule last year with but one defeat—that sustained at the hands of Chicago, 6-0. They beat Indiana, Purdue and Michigan. Tulane turned the Evanston team back 18 to 7 and Notre Dame triumphed 13 to 10. The victory came after the close of the first half, however, Northwestern leading up to that time.

HOWARD PAYNE LICKS SAINT ED

Yellow Jackets Capture Game 7 to 6 By Third Period Rally

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 29.(AP) After being outplayed in the first half, the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets rallied in the third period and defeated St. Edwards university 7 to 6 here Friday afternoon.

The Jacket touchdown came after Boyd punted 45 yards and the ball was returned to Howard Payne's 20-yard line, where the Saints fumbled on their second play and the Jackets covered the ball. Boyd made nine yards and on the next play 17 for a touchdown.

St. Edwards then came back strong in the final period and lost a tie by a margin of a goal-kick, when a pass, Dyer to Solenite, netted a touchdown. Brown, Jacket end, blocked the goal try.

The Saints made 12 first downs to five by the Yellow Jackets. The latter attempted only three passes, all of which were incompletes, while St. Edwards completed three of 11 throws, for a total of 25 yards.

MEMPHIS ON NEW RAMPAGE

Cyclone Keeps Up Its Great Play by 14-0 Win Over Wellington

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 29.—The Memphis Cyclone kept up its pre-conference season rush and swept through the Wellington Skyrockets here Friday afternoon to the tune of 41-0, for the first conference victory toward the league B championship of this district. The Welling eleven, although showing up well in its early season contests, proved no match for the running and plunging attack of the powerful Memphis aggregation.

An intercepted Wellington pass early in the first quarter paved the way for the first score. Dennis reeled off a beautiful 18-yard run and then went over for the touchdown. In the second quarter the battle was pretty even in safe territory, exchanges of punts keeping the goals clear.

In the third quarter Dennis of the Cyclones returned a kick-off to midfield, and a 15-yard pass to Henderson, followed by six stabs at the line brought the ball to the Wellington nine-yard mark, from where Dennis skirted left end for another score, even after Memphis suffered an off-side penalty. Hammond and Dennis kept up a constant hammering at the Skyrocket line, skirting ends and smashing the line for long gains. May carried over a third touchdown with an eight-yard plunge through the line. Therefore the game was all Memphis, with the Cyclone looking an impressive favorite for possible conference honors.

COTTON CONTINUES TO SHOW SLIGHT GAIN ON EXCHANGE BOARD

MARKET SHOWS LESS ACTIVITY DURING DEALS

Fluctuations During Day Small With Close At Ten Points Up

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 29 (AP) The cotton market was less active today than it has been of late. Price fluctuations were decidedly moderate and although there was a tendency to advance during the morning the trend was more reactionary in the afternoon on account of bearish week-end statistics. The market opened 10 points up and continued to improve during the morning on prospects for less favorable weather and the apparent success of the attempts to organize associations to hold off the market large amounts of cotton. By the middle of the morning prices showed gains of 15 to 16 points. Towards noon the zone was easire on the weekly mill takings of 492,000 bales proving smaller than expected when over 500,000 had been looked for. Other weekly statistics were also bearish, particularly the large movement into sight of 887,955 bales. By the middle of the afternoon practically all of the gain of the morning had been lost. In the late trading reports of rains in north Texas started buying and short covering and prices rallied practically to the highs of the morning and closed very steady at net gains for the day of 10 to 12 points.

As Liverpool came in one to four penny points better than due the market here showed initial gains of 10 points and this advance was increased during the first part of the morning, December trading up to 12.52, January to 12.60 and March to 12.71 or 15 to 16 points above yesterday's close. These figures proved to be the highs of the day.

The market started to ease off near noon and by the middle of the afternoon December was down to 12.39, January to 12.46 and March to 12.63 or 13 to 16 points down from the highs. In the late trading the market rallied sharply and closed at or near the top. Exports for the day 46,118 bales for the week 223,236 bales.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.(AP)—The cotton market was quieter today, fluctuations were comparatively narrow. After selling up to 12.54 early, January reacted to 12.40 and closed at 12.49, the general market closing steady at net advances of seven to 15 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 10 to 25 points as it influenced by relatively firm Liverpool cables, reports of steady spot trading in the south, and continuance of buying for trade or investment account. Active months sold about 15 to 18 points net higher in early trading. December advancing to 12.46 and March 12.62, but demand tapered off at these figures. This indicated the trade was still buying only on the dips, and there was probably a little selling on mid-day on expectation of increased southern offerings toward the close.

No pressure of consequence from that source was in evidence in late trading, however, and after the mid-day reactions to 12.52 for December and 12.64 for March, last prices showed rallies of six to 10 points from the lowest.

The smaller volume of business was regarded by local brokers as reflecting a disposition to await further developments in the southern spot situation or a change in the attitude of trade buyers. Southern hedge selling here has been much less active the past few days than earlier in the month but stocks in the south are accumulating and some feel they may become more of a pressure on the market before they have reached their maximum.

Such views as expressed more or less freely but for the last day or two have been coupled with comment on the progress reported in plans for the financing of stored cotton, and some think if the south holds steady for a few days more there may be a tendency to raise the limits on buying orders.

Private cables attributed steadiness in Liverpool to fair end-month calling and covering.

Exports today 46,118, making 2,338,619 vs. 2,217. U. S. port stocks 2,252,000 bales.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.(AP)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment imparted considerable irregularity to today's stock market. Prices sold off during the morning, rallied in the early afternoon and then turned heavy again towards the close. One of the most significant developments of the day was the reduction in the rate on 60 to 90 day loans to 4½ per cent, the lowest since last August.

The weekly mercantile reviews reported further irregularity in business with October gains ever last year not as large as in September. As yet however, there is no indication of a definite general trend, the recent falling off in sales lines being attributed to unusually large mid-summer activity. Input production of the U. S. Steel corporation's subsidiaries in the Chicago district was reported to be down to 73 per cent, the lowest in some time.

U. S. Steel common and several Motors, two of the recent leaders both closed fractionally lower on the day. New low prices for 1926 were registered by American Agricultural Chemical preferred, International Agricultural Chemical prior preferred, American and Foreign Power, Indian Motor Cycle, Hudson Motors, Otis Steel preferred and Worthington Pump.

Oil shares were again in brisk demand, producers and refiners common and preferred advancing to new high levels for the year and substantial gains being recorded by the Pan-American issues and Atlantic Refining. Sugar shares were liquidated freely towards the close on publication of a poor earnings report by the Cuba Cane company. The late run-up in Fox Film "A" was in anticipation of the first showing of its new talking picture in which the company is interested.

Except for Southern Pacific, which advanced two points on the possibility of an early increase in dividend the railroad shares made little progress on the up side. Talk of a future merger of the Pennsylvania and New Haven railroad stimulated interest in those issues.

Call money bid steady at 4½ per cent. With banks calling about $15,000,000 in loans during the day time money was easier, 30 to 60 day loans being quoted at 4½ to 4⅝, with the longer maturities at 4⅝ to 5. Prime commercial paper ruled unchanged at 4½ to 4⅝.

A further advance of five points in French francs which crossed 3.15 cents for the first time since last spring was the only development of consequence in the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling was slightly firmer around $4.85 5-16 and Italian lire held steady just below 4⅜ cents.

"HONEY LOU" By Beatrice Burton

AUTHOR OF "LOVE BOUND," "HER MAN," ETC.

READ THIS FIRST:

HONEY LOU HUNTLEY is private secretary to old "Grumpy" WALLACK, head of the Wallack Fabric Mills.

"Grumpy" hired Honey Lou, not only because she is clever, but because she is nice to have around. Everyone else at the mills likes Honey Lou, too, from ANN LUDLOW, the office vamp, to JOE MEADOWS, the shipping clerk. But Honey Lou is half afraid of Meadows without quite knowing why.

JACK WALLACK comes to work in his father's factory to learn the business. He falls in love with Honey Lou's beauty the first time he sees her, and later with her old-fashioned ways and her sweetness. Brought up by her unworldly widowed mother, MRS. HUNTLEY, Honey Lou is a mixture of modern flapper and clinging vine.

At a party given by Jack's neighbor, ANGELA ALLEN, Honey Lou drinks her first cocktails—she has ever had, thinking they are fruit punch. She makes love to Jack all the way home, not realizing how she has disillusioned him. Neither does she know that while she was unconscious, Angela told Jack that she had seven cocktails, and called her his "hard-boiled friend."

Angela and she become great friends. She sympathizes with Honey Lou when Jack stops coming to see her, and tells her that he's not the kind of man to take seriously. Honey Lou half believes her.

Jack finally comes to see Honey Lou again, making no explanation of his absence. He is intensely jealous of every man that Honey Lou knows, including one of his own friends, TIM DONEGAL. He is also jealous of DR. STEPHEN MAYHEW, a friend of Honey Lou's half-sister, MARGARET MOODY. And one night when Honey Lou takes part in a Charleston contest, he walks out of the theatre where she is dancing, furious that she is making a public show of herself. Honey Lou decides to leave Wallack's and try to forget him. She goes to work in a hospital with Margaret, and Ann Ludlow becomes "Grumpy's" secretary. Then one day Jack comes to see her at the hospital to ask her to work for his father again. "Grumpy" is at home sick, with lumbago, and so irritable that he can't get along with Ann Ludlow, who has a temper of her own.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XX

"I think you'd better come back to work for my dad," Jack Wallack suddenly began. "Now he's home enough to get along with anything but a nurse. He's got lumbago, or something of the kind!" Honey Lou sat bolt upright. "What's the matter with Grumpy? I could get another nurse for him, but I don't want to leave him. He—he's been so good to me!" Her voice broke, and she turned away to hide the tears that welled up in her eyes.

"What is wrong? Can you tell me?" Jack asked gently.

"I think you'd better ask Grumpy," she said, her voice still unsteady. "I'm not going back to work for you, Jack Wallack, and that's all there is to it!"

He smiled, but the hurt in his eyes denied the smile.

Before that hurt look Honey Lou's little flag of stiff-necked pride fluttered down and lay in the dust. It was dreadful to sit here and say cold, horrid things to this man when she wanted, with all her soul to get up and put her arms around him and hold him close.

"Well, I don't mean just that. Not exactly that, but you know you've been—awfully mean to me." The words tumbled out of her mouth in funny little broken phrases.

She stood up and tapped the top of her desk with nervous fingers.

"But I will come back—I'll start work on Monday," she said. "Goodbye."

"My car's outside. I'm going to drive you home," he answered with his quick, engaging grin.

"It's not time for me to quit work yet." Honey Lou's velvety brown eyes went to the clock on the wall between the high windows.

"Then I'll wait. I'm going to drive you home," he said firmly, and before she could open her lips to protest he was gone.

Honey Lou did not work at all during the next hour and a half.

She wrote, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party," several hundred times on her typewriter.

She went into the dressing room a half dozen times to powder her nose and draw her little perfumed lipstick across her tremulous mouth.

Once she walked down the long white corridor

DAY NURSERY OPENED FORMALLY WITH HUNDREDS AS GUESTS

45 CHILDREN GIVEN CARE

Beauty and Utility of New Home Are Cause For Wonderment

The Wichita Falls Day Nursery at 402-405 Lamar avenue, was formally opened Friday afternoon and evening when hundreds of Wichitans paid their first visit to the establishment which was recently completed through the combined efforts of the Federated Missionary society and the Kiwanis club at a cost of $35,673.81.

The executive board of the Federated Missionary society composed of Mesdames W. W. Cook, Harry Weeks, E. F. Riley, J. Cohen, C. E. Bailey, Leslie Miller, R. J. Goodale, T. R. Brunson, Fred C. Barron, Deane J. Wolfe, J. A. Kemp, C. B. Jetter, O. T. Allee, Frank Kell, W. E. Brothers, Charles Pogeupohl and F. R. Collard together with past presidents of the federation, presidents of auxiliaries in the different churches affiliated with the society; wives of the pastors and representatives from the Kiwanis club greeted the guests.

Building Fireproof.

The new building is of light brick, tile roof, non-inflammable floors, making it a fireproof building throughout. It is constructed for the nursery and is equipped with a dormitory for girls and boys, playrooms, kindergarten rooms, bathrooms with steel lockers for the youngsters. A clinic room has also been provided so that examination of them may be made at the nursery. Then there is a cheery dining room with three white tables and little red chairs for the tiny tots who are in the nursery.

Exclamations of wonder were expressed by visitors at the number of little white beds in the dormitories. Twenty-five new mattresses have been provided for the building through gifts from organizations, individuals and societies. One contributor gave 12 neat, new comforts for the children.

Ample Playgrounds.

The location of the new nursery provides ample playground for the children. It is a grassy plot equipped with swings, other apparatus, a covered sand pile and toys.

Completion of the building was done in June, and final payments were made this week, and at a banquet at the Country club Thursday night the mortgage was burned and the building made free from debt. With all notes paid, the formal opening was held Friday.

Mrs. Rebecca Carrington is matron of the nursery and takes care of 45 children daily.

The spotlight in the trial of Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist, has shifted to 23-year-old Bernice Morris and Mrs. Virla Kimball, twin sister of Mrs. Lorraine Wisemen-Sielaff, star prosecution witness. Miss Morris testified she was approached by Aimee with a plan to produce fake kidnapers to substantiate the evangelist's claims. Mrs. Kimball rushed to Los Angeles to deny the charge by the defense that she is the "Miss X" of the case.

GARDEN PRIZE TO LAKESIDE

Wins by Few Points In Contest With Bowie Women's Club

Lakedale Home Demonstration club won first honors in the home garden contest which was staged this week at the Noble-Little Hardware company under the direction of the home demonstration agent, Miss Louise Webb.

There were only two clubs in the contest, Lakedale and Bowie, but the exhibit of fall garden products is said to be the finest ever shown here. There were over a hundred varieties of fresh fruits and vegetables exhibited in the display, and there was very little difference in the quality or number of varieties shown. The honors went to Lakedale by a margin of only a few points.

Pictures of the exhibit have been taken and they will be sent along with data of the contest to the A. and M. college extension department where they will be entered in the state contest.

It was decided late yesterday to sell the exhibits, and they are to be sold today to the highest bidder. Several bids are already in, and those who still intend to bid on the exhibits should file their bid early this morning.

COLD WIND WHIPS CITY

Norther Blows in Early At Night But Fails To Develop

A norther that whipped in from the Panhandle early Friday night had, up to midnight, failed to develop into anything of considerable seriousness.

The late hours of Friday afternoon brought a clouding sky and rising wind that promised a decided change in weather. Reports of dropping temperatures at points north into Oklahoma bore out the forecast for colder climes, but the drop, if it is coming, had not appeared at a late hour.

Forecasts for Saturday, however, were for colder and cloudy weather with possibly rain.

The cattle plague in Palestine and Transjordan has caused a quarantine, and owing to the prohibition against cattle slaughter, prices of most foodstuffs are mounting.

The City Council desires name for the new auditorium. They contemplate naming same some kind of memorial to the soldier boys.

We are giving $15.00 as first prize and $10.00 as second prize for the best name submitted and accepted by the City Council.
