Gary Dickenson Exhibits Reserve Grand Champ

Reserve Grand Champion in the beef division and three breed championships in the swine division were among the honors racked up by Olton youngsters at the Lamb County Junior Livestock Show held Friday and Saturday in Littlefield.

A light heavyweight Angus steer belonging to Randy Bowling, 4-H'er from Sudan. It was the second year in a row for Bowling to take top honors. Last year his Angus entry topped the show.

Swine breed champions were shown by Sel Sanchez, FFA, with his Chester White; Patrick Britton, 4-H, for his Cross and Eddie Hooper, FFA, with the top Poland China. Also winning breed champion honors were Cindy Branham, 4-H, of Littlefield for the top Berkshire; Craig Barton, FFA, from Springlake, who's champion Hampshire copped Grand Champion honors and Ronald Hill, FFA, of Littlefield, who showed the top Duroc and took the Reserve Grand Championship.

Judges were enthusiastic about the quality of this year's entries. Steer judge Calvin Holcomb, agricultural agent for Gaines County, who also judged the 1966 show, told the audience there was much improvement in the quality of the show. Holcomb had high praise for the adult leaders of 4-H, Vocational Agricultural teachers and exhibitor's parents for their obvious interest and work which had led to the quality improvement. For complete results of the show see page 8.

Seven Million Vehicles To Be Registered In 1968

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall today announced that Texas will register approximately seven million vehicles during 1968. "This is the largest number in our history," Dingwall said.

All 1968 Texas license plates have been delivered to the 254 County Tax Assessor-Collectors for issuance during February and March of 1968. Of the estimated seven million vehicles to be registered, the Texas Highway Department believes that 4.75 million will be passenger cars and 1.9 million will be commercial trucks and truck-trailers, Trailers and motorcycles will account for the balance.

The most dramatic increase is expected in the motorcycle category, based on the past two years' experience. While passenger car and commercial truck registration will increase about three and one-half per cent, motorcycle registration is expected to increase 16 per cent. This follows a 25 per cent increase in motorcycles in 1966 over 1965 and another 17 per cent increase last year. Motor vehicle owners can avoid long lines by registering during the month of February, rather than waiting until the March rush.

Owners should bring four items to the Tax Collector's office when registering vehicles: certificate of title, 1967 license receipt, current resident address, and zip code. State law requires each owner to register his vehicle in the county in which he resides and to present his certificate of title as evidence of ownership. During the 1967 session the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Registration Law by changing passenger car license fees and establishing a minimum fee of $5.30 for all vehicles, including boat trailers.

6¢ Stamp Still A Bargain When Compared To History

"It's still one of the best bargains in the world." That's what Postmaster Doc Holt said today about the six-cent stamp, and he recounted some interesting facts and figures from postal history to back up his claim.

Even though the five-cent letter rate has suffered the same fate as the nickel cigar, first-class postage is cheaper today than it was in many bygone eras when a few pennies meant much more than they do today, Postmaster Holt said. In 1816, for instance, a single sheet letter cost six cents for delivery up to 30 miles. More sheets and more miles cost more money. A letter going 400 miles cost 25 cents per sheet.

In those days the recipient had to pay the postage, not the sender. And if the letter was actually delivered to the recipient, rather than picked up at the Post Office, there was an extra charge that was kept by the carrier.

It wasn't until 1855 that the sender was required to pay in advance for mail, Postmaster Holt said.

Uniform rates regardless of distance and free city delivery were written into the postal law books in 1863. When distance was dropped as a factor in computing rates, so was the practice of charging per sheet. The basic unit for letter postage became a half ounce in 1863. The basic unit of one ounce that still prevails today went into effect in 1885.

Turning to more recent history, Postmaster Holt pointed out that the 100 per cent increase -- from 3 to 6 cents -- in first-class postal rates since 1932 compares very favorably with general increases in prices and wages.

General consumer prices have gone up about 200 per cent since 1932 and the average hourly earnings of manufacturing workers have risen by about 550 per cent, Postmaster Holt said.

"Back in 1947 the letter rate was still three cents and everyone agreed that was a really good deal. Since then family income has gone up about 175 per cent while the cost of mailing a letter has increased 100 per cent. If letter postage was worth three cents in the 1940s, in terms of today's dollar its worth more than six cents."

Postmaster Holt estimated that the increase in postal charges that went into effect January 7 will add only $2.25 a year to the $16 the average household spent on postal services under the old rates.

Despite the great distances many letters must travel in the United States, our postal rates are lower than in most other major countries, particularly when based on ability to pay,

HARRY VANDERPOOL

Charles R. Polk Resigns C-CA Manager's Post

Vanderpool To Be Featured Speaker

The annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet has been scheduled for Feb. 23 in the school cafeteria. Tickets are $2.50 and may be obtained from any member of the Chamber.

Speaker for the event will be Harry Vanderpool, pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo.

Vanderpool attended the University of Texas in El Paso, the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque and graduated Cum Laude from Southwestern University in Georgetown, Tex.

He did graduate work at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., attended Garrett Theological Seminary and received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Southern Methodist University, Dallas, and his Doctor of Divinity from McMurry College, Abilene. Serving in the U. S. Naval Reserve he was on active duty from 1940 to 1945.

He has served pastorates at Annona, Dallas, Littlefield, Snyder, Pampa and is a member of Alpha Chi, was a member of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honorary Society and Phi Delta Theta.

Vanderpool served as exchange pastor to the Alan Road Methodist Church, Ipswich, England in 1951, and traveled extensively in Europe. He represented the Board of Missions in Puerto Rico in 1963 and in Alaska in 1965.

Citizens Reminded 'Register To Vote'

Texas voters are again warned that they must apply for a voter registration certificate by the end of this month if they want to participate in this year's elections.

Application may be made either by mail or by personal appearance at the county tax assessor-collector's office or at the city hall, Olton.

Texas Secretary of State John L. Hill, who is sponsoring a statewide voter registration drive, has predicted that this year's registrations will show a very substantial increase over former years. The previous high was in 1964, the last presidential election year, when a total of 2,984,766 registrants were reported by county tax assessor-collectors under the poll tax system then in force.

The total registration in 1966 was slightly under 2,970,000, including registrations under the poll tax system and free registrations during a supplemental registration period in March 1966 after a federal court decision invalidated poll tax payment as a condition for voting. Registrations for 1967, an "off year" for elections, normally could have been expected to drop from the previous year's total, but exceeded the 1966 figure by about thirteen thousand. Political observers have explained the increase by the fact that the full four months of the registration period were available for registering voters.

without cost, while only a 15-day period had been provided for free registrations in 1966.

Hill attributes the expected increase in registrations to several factors. In addition to population growth, he has pointed out that this is the first presidential election year under the new system of free registration, and registrations for a presidential election year normally exceed those for any other year in each four-year period.

This is also the first year in which all voters will be required to register. Another important factor, Hill said, is that this registration period marks a high in the activities of groups conducting organized registration drives.

Voters who have not already applied for registration are urged to do so immediately.

Former Resident Critically Ill

Jimmy Moss of Wellington, former resident of Olton, is seriously ill in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo. Moss is in intensive care following emergency surgery Tuesday night.

Accepts Position With Stove Company

Board of Directors of the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture met Wednesday morning, Jan. 17 to accept the resignation of Charles Polk, manager of the local board, effective Jan. 15.

Polk, who assumed duties as manager here June 21, 1967, has accepted a position with the Tappan Company.

Polk said he and his family would continue to make their home in Olton.

The Chamber office will remain open five days a week, eight hours a day, under the supervision of Kathy Hyman until the manager's post is filled.

A spokesman for the Board said that "suggestions from the membership regarding the replacement of the manager are welcome. We feel that we should employ a qualified person just as soon as possible."

Two Men Arrested, Held In Littlefield

Morin Perez, 21, of Hart, was arrested Sunday near Hart by Castro County Sheriff's department. He was charged with burglarizing an Olton home and possession of a stolen television set.

Castro officials released Perez to the custody of Deputy Sheriff V. L. Smith and Granville Martin, who had pursued the Latin American after being notified that he had fled from a local drive-in without paying for a meal. Smith reported that he had received two reports of the suspect driving while intoxicated.

Earlier Sunday, Perez allegedly entered the home of Mrs. Margaret Martinez and took a television set.

According to information received at Hart, Perez had been arrested previously by Castro County officers and charged with removal of mortgaged property.

Perez is being held in Lamb County jail at Littlefield. Bond has been set at $2,000.

Monday, Chief of Police Jerry Smith, aided by an alert business man, Walter Struve, apprehended Jimmy Wright, minutes after the suspect had passed a forged check at Struve's store.

Wright, a resident of Sunny-side, was charged with forgery and the passing of forged instruments. Officers believe the suspect passed checks amounting to $117 in cash and merchandise. Officers were alerted to be on the look-out for Wright Saturday night when he allegedly passed a forged check at a local drive-in. Suspicious that the check given in his store might not be legitimate, Struve checked with the bank and immediately notified Chief of Police Smith.

Wright is under $2000 bond at Lamb County jail in Littlefield.

Also under investigation by authorities is an additional forgery case at Olton and another at Hart.

Six Rural Accidents Occur During Month Of December

Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of December according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,975.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the calendar year of 1967, shows a total of 92 crashes resulting in 15 persons killed, 35 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $94,240.00.

When the final fatal traffic accident reports are tabulated for 1967 it is estimated that the death count for Texas is expected to be 3,340 or about two per cent less than the all time high of 3,406 traffic deaths in 1966. If this proves true, then, it will be the first reduction in traffic deaths since 1960. This decrease should be a challenge for every driver to put forth his best defensive know-how and efforts to reduce accidents in 1968.

Salvation Army Fund Drive Gets Underway

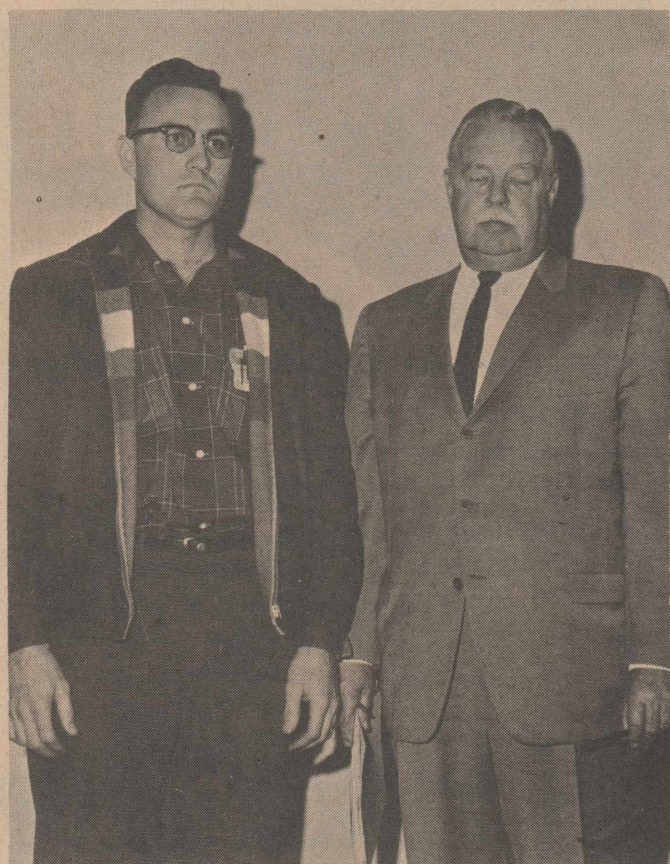

A coffee, marking the kickoff of the local Salvation Army fund drive, is slated Feb. 1 at 9:30 a. m. at Hamill's Restaurant.

A committee met Tuesday to set the drive in motion, appointing Russell Strain as chairman of the drive. Members of the committee include Basil Sherman, Gene Trotter, the Rev. Tommy Nelson, The Rev. John E. Lewis, C. H. McClure, Jerry Smith, V. L. Smith and K. Y. Givens.

Gilbert Muddell, area supervisor, meeting with the group, stressed that one-third of the funds from the drive here would remain in Olton to be used as the Olton committee saw fit. "The committee decides who is to be helped, with what and how much," said Muddell. "If local funds are used, the committee may write for additional funds from the state."

The goal this year has been set at $1200, in comparison with last year's goal of $1350.

A door to door campaign will be conducted as well as a mail campaign.

RUSSELL STRAIN, Chairman of the local Salvation Army Fund Drive is shown here with Area Supervisor of the organization, Gilbert Muddell.

How Can It Be?

. . . That one boy lies rotting from malnutrition and torture in a jungle prison camp in North Vietnam. . . and another boy splits and tramples on the flag of this country on the steps of a university of learning?
. . . That one boy lies sightless in a U. S. Naval Hospital from communist-inflicted face wounds. . . and another boy uses a communist flag to drape himself in defiance of the laws of this country?
. . . That one man of medicine begins his thirtieth straight hour standing over an operating table in pursuit of life for men serving this country. . . and another man of medicine implores crowds of young men to refuse to serve their country?
. . . That one Negro holds the face of his dead white comrade in his arms and cries pitifully in a dirty mud hole in Vietnam . . . and another Negro screams with hate against his white brother on the streets of countless American cities?

. . . That one boy lies in a coffin beneath the ground because he believed in duty to his country. . . and another boy lies on a dingy cot giving blood to the enemies of his country?
. . . That one man of God shields a wounded boy from an enemy bayonet with his body and dies. . . and another man of God uses his cloth as a shield to preach hate, dissension, and lawlessness?
My God, how can it be?

Dear Editor

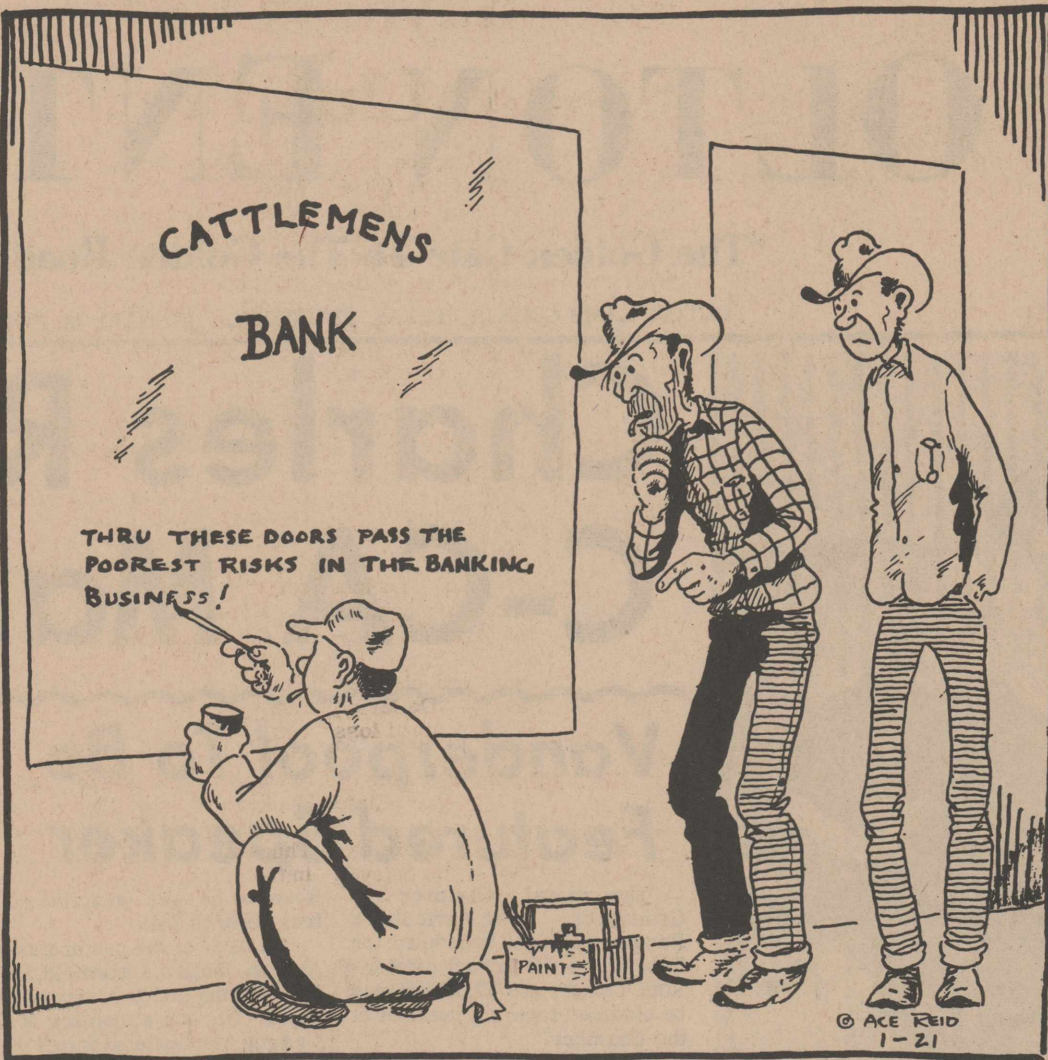

Emma Porio Writes

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter from Emma Porio, foreign exchange student to Olton last year, is shared with us by the Lions Club.)
December 19, 1967
Dear Lions,
Howdy? I sure do miss you all and your fine sense of humor. Hope everybody is fine there in that little town who has captivated my heart. How's the lion tail twister? Is this term right? Why not have a lion tamer? How's your Belgian boy? I hope he is having a great time, much as I did have last year. Thank you for all those experiences. I'm now studying in this private Catholic University. You know, in my first few days here, many eyebrows were raised when I say "Hi!" to my teachers, instead of the usual "Good Morning, etc."

My best regards to you all and the Lionesses-- is this word gramatically correct? Hal when will I ever know?
Yours truly,
Emma

Sue's Views

Fashions And Hair Styles

BY SUE CANNON

For all those who have been waiting for the styles to change, never fear, the time is near! Only thing I don't like about the new fashions is that waist lines are coming back! Can you imagine?

I, for one, am glad that the hemlines are going DOWN. (Come to think of it, they couldn't go any other way -- or could they?)
And then there is the hair styles (styles?) I hear that CURLS are really going to be the thing.

Why can't these fashion experts hit on a happy medium somewhere down the line and make a woman look like a decent human being?

Right now the skirts are so short and the hair is so long and stringy that you really wonder what all the young girls really look like down under all that mop and if they weren't all legs.

Recently I saw a 'Dennis The Menace' cartoon that showed this girl in a very skimpy dress and the caption read: "Of course, this is MY dress! Besides I don't have a little sister."

I suppose when the new styles begin to show up, I'll be one of the first to say, "I'll never wear anything like THAT!"

I know when the hemline dropped back in the '40s when I was still a teenager, I said I wouldn't be caught dead in one of those long tacky dresses. Luckily, I wasn't, because

MISS LANSFORD ILL

Laneta Ann Lansford, 13, daughter of Buren Lansford, has been out of school several days because of influenza and throat infection.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Mr. David Howton, Commercial Arts teacher of Olton High School, returned to his classroom duties Monday, Jan. 15 for the first time since he suffered a heart attack while visiting relatives at Gainesville during the Thanksgiving holidays.

I DID wear them. (And I learned to like them just as most of us learn to accept the fashion trends.)

But I'm not so sure I can ever learn to like a fitted waist again!

These loose fitting fashions are the most comfortable things in the world. Getting back into dresses with fitted waists will be like getting into a straight jacket!

Now the curls -- ugh! I should be glad, however, since I never have learned to back-comb my hair into the styles we wear now. But CURLS yet -- and all over your head -- I may turn out to be the most old fashioned gal in Olton. (But likely as not -- when all the others start curling their hair, I'll probably be right along with them.)

I wonder if the trend back to curls had anything to do with Shirley Temple Black being in the public eye again after all these years?

Anyway, I don't intend to lose any sleep over the fact that hemlines are dropping and curls are coming back and waistlines are going to be fitted -- because it's going to be at least another spring season before many of them start showing up -- at least that's what I've been told, so we can enjoy ourselves while we can. . .

Just have to brag a little now --

Tuesday morning Lindsey Dennis called me and asked me if I knew that I was mentioned in the Amarillo Daily News and of course I didn't.

Well, he told me just enough to make me curious . . . so I go out and buy me a paper.

There on the editorial page under Bob Wright's column was a column I'd written for Sue's Views about jumping on a tram-poline!

Now, that may not mean anything to YOU -- but to ME! Whee!

He had three columns from area weeklies and one of them was mine!

I was really flabbergasted and very much pleased!

Roving Farmer Settles At Olton

An "old-timer" who has seen quite a few changes since his youth and lived in many parts of Oklahoma, parts of New Mexico and Texas, says he believes he has found a home here in Olton for the rest of his days.

"I've been here longer than any other place I've ever lived, so I think I'm settled now," so states Andrew J. (Drew) Malone, who was named for Andrew Jackson.

Born in Caldwell County near Lockhart Jan. 21, 1881, Mr. Malone moved to Lee County when he was six years old. He lived there on a farm with his parents, who later sold the farm and moved to Wise County about seven miles north of Decatur.

The family moved to Indian Territory in 1892 when his father took a lease on Indian land, broke it into farm land and farmed there several years before selling the lease and buying a more improved farm, near Wynnewood, Okla.

After a move to Ada, Okla., a few years later, the Malone family sold all farming machinery and loaded the rest of their belongings and started to Florida. Means of transportation were two covered wagons and one saddle horse.

"I remember it took us 70 days to make that trip," Malone said. "We had to take a boat at Monroe, La., and went down river for three days and three nights, unloaded at Bozler, Ala., then we went on land to Mobile, Ala. At Mobile we had to cross the bay by boat, so we unhitched the horses and put them up in a place they had for the horses and pushed the wagons onto the deck of the boat. The passengers were up above."

"We farmed in Florida for only one year and started home. The river was so high at Jackson, Miss., that Dad sold his teams and wagons, put us all on a train for Wynnewood, Okla. We had two dogs and Dad just turned them loose," Malone jokingly recalled.

The family moved into a log house on a farm which they rented and farmed there for the next two or three years. About 1900, the Malones again moved to Ada. It was here that Mr. Malone was married at the age of 20 years, to the former Myrtle Binion. The couple had "pretty near grown up together. I knew her since she was about 10 years old," Mr. Malone said.

Of this union were born a daughter, Nora, who now makes her home with her father, and two children who died in infancy Mrs. Malone died about five and a half years after their marriage.

Mr. Malone's parents moved in with him and helped him with his small daughter who was two years old at the time of her mother's death.

About one and a half years later Mabel Garrison became the wife of Malone on Nov. 25, 1906 at Ada.

The next year the family loaded up covered wagons and headed for New Mexico, where he had filed on land about 18 miles west of Portales. They arrived there the last part of November, 1907, following a trip filled with many experiences.

Malone recalled, "When we tried to cross the north fork of Red River, my team of mules got stuck and couldn't budge the load. There were two men close by gathering corn, so I asked them to come and help me get my wagon out of the river. They unhitched my mules and put their span of horses to that wagon and pulled it right out of there."

"Then going through the sandhills in New Mexico, we were so heavily loaded that we had to double up our teams to get through. There was another family moving out there with us, so we used their team. The lead team broke loose and jerked me off and right down on the tongue of the wagon and hurt my knee. A doctor had to look after me and I was on crutches for a while," Malone continued.

The Malones built a house on the land they had filed on, while living with Malone's parents. They "proved up" and paid for their land -- $1.50 an acre -- and got the deed to it in two years. It was here that their son Delbert was born.

While living in New Mexico, Mrs. Malone was ill with typhoid fever for nearly 70 days. Mr. Malone had to go 20 miles to get medicine for her. Malone's mother and he took care of the sick woman, who was in bed during most of her illness.

Oklahoma beckoned and the family loaded their covered wagons again and headed home.

"We had to cross that river again, too," Mr. Malone recalled.

Nora, who was about six years old at the time, said she could remember ice floating in great big chunks and "I didn't know if we'd ever get across that river that time."

Another daughter, Gladys, was born Oct. 28, 1910 when the family lived on a farm near Ada.

Living on different farms in the area of Rush Springs, Alma and Duncan the next few years, the family made several crops, farming from 50 to 100 acres. Farming was done with a team of mules or horses and "that was a pretty good sized farm for a team," Malone stated.

In 1916, while living at Alma, their son Benny, died from typhoid fever and the family sold their crop in the field and moved to Marlow, Okla., buying a crop there.

During the fall of 1919, Malone bought 160 acres west of Marlow and farmed for three years before leasing part of it to an oil company for $40 an acre.

He then rented a place south of his place and farmed there for the next five years.

Moving to Texas was the next venture for the Malone family. Mrs. Malone's parents, the S. R. Garrisons, lived out northwest of Olton and the Malones had seen the land in West Texas and decided they wanted to move out here and farm.

So they proceeded to have a farm sale, selling their cows, machinery and everything once again and moved to a farm five miles east of Olton, where they made their first crop on the plains.

Here they made their home until they moved into Plainview where they lived for three years, moving into Olton in 1954.

While living on the farm, Mr. Malone recalls a big flood that came in 1934.

"Never saw such a rain in all my life. Drowned two of my cows and some more woulda drowned if we hadn't let them out. We lost all our chickens and I remember we had a big stack of feed that was surrounded by water. The neighbors came in and helped us move it."

Malone is a member of Olton First Baptist Church and has been a member of Masonic Lodge for 62 years.

His two sons, Delbert and Billy live in Artesia, N. M. He has 12 grandchildren, 23 great grandchildren and nine great-great grandchildren.

Malone, who will be 87 this Sunday says the only thing he has after all these years is his home in Olton, but after talking with him, it is also very evident that he has plenty of pleasant memories of his travels, of his days in Oklahoma when he hunted squirrels, and possum and the days of his youth when he attended ice cream parties, played dominoes and just visited with neighbors.

'New Eyes' Help Needy, Old Glasses Are Contributed

She's only four and doesn't know much about the world. She has troubles with a naughty dolly, loves games, and has learned already that tears from her big blue eyes bring comfort on the run.

She doesn't know anything about money -- or her family's lack of it. She doesn't know either, about bad eyesight, or who the stranger is who helped her see better by contributing the glasses perched on her tiny nose.

She never will. But if you were one of the persons who sent one, or more, of the 800,000 pairs of discarded eyeglasses in the last year to a Short Hills, N. J., volunteer organization called New Eyes for the Needy, it could have been you.

Helping little girls, or anyone else with a sight problem, is nothing new for "New Eyes". The organization has been in existence for 35 years. It's non-sectarian, non-profit, and run by 300 volunteers -- most of them housewives.

In all of its 35 years of helping people in this country and overseas, "New Eyes" has never solicited money. Discarded glasses, sent in by individuals and organizations from all over the United States, have always been the most important aspect of the organization's operations.

The only other help "New Eyes" accepts is precious metal scrap, silverware, antique and costume jewelry. These are melted down and the money from the reclamation is used to set up funds in 88 hospitals in 48 states. These pay for new prescription glasses, or if needed, artificial eyes.

In addition, welfare agencies throughout the country are given a specified number of cards, guaranteeing payment of new glasses for needy persons who cannot otherwise afford them. "New Eyes" volunteers are proud of the fact that they have helped more than half-million people to better sight. They are quick to say, though, there is much good work yet to be done.

In fact they are eager to assist any local organizations, company clubs or chapters of national organizations in setting up projects to collect discarded eyeglasses and jewelry. Inquiries can be directed to New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., Short Hills, N. J. 07078.

That same address can be used to send any individual contributions. Glasses and jewelry

FARMER SELLS COTTON FOR A GOOD PRICE

Mr. H. L. Fitzgerald who lives on Route 4, Levelland, Texas, and has extensive farming interests in Hockley County, and also a farm in Cochran County 13 miles south of Bledsoe, and is a director in the Bronco Co-Op Gin, has a unique record in some respects concerning the cotton grown on his Cochran County farm in that he sold it straight across the board for 30 cents a pound — every bale — 67 in all.

This brings to mind another subject that everyone is aware of now and that is micronaire, for every farmer knows that a price of 30 cents a pound is commanded only on the strength of micronaire and other good qualities. This field was machine stripped and every bale was in the premium micronaire bracket, and the pressley strength ran 90,000 pounds or better.

The cotton planted on this farm was the new Gregg 25V, a cotton first released in 1966, and while being a new cotton under limited plantings this year, there have been some outstanding records made. This is the new cotton with the glandless seed which offers much in improved seed grades, as we think of them on the present commercial basis, regardless of the future disposition of the glandless aspect of the seed which can be fed to poultry and swine, and can be used as a protein diet in human nutrition. Gregg Seed Farms, 2700 Lockney Highway, Plainview, Texas. (Adv.)

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Every day I learn some little bit of information — howbeit trivial — and I realize all the more that there's SO MUCH I DON'T KNOW. Why, then, should I feel that there is some learning that's — to me — a bit foolish?

I'm getting around to saying that it seems rather silly to this dumb bunny that so much should be spent to learn of the love life of tortoises.

You HAVE heard of the $10,000 grant that a Texas Tech biologist received this week from the National Science Foundation to study the chin glands of South Texas tortoises and the relationship of those glands to mating? If you haven't, I AM NOT MAKING THIS UP!

Biologists want to know what is in the chin glands, what controls their development and what their role is in the biology of the tortoise.

It seems that when Mr. Tortoise is looking for a Mrs. Tortoise, his chin glands swell up thus making him more "appealing" to her. When he sees THE Miss Tortoise coming near he takes his forearms and brushes them against his chin glands, which then emit a secretion which further attracts her. This secretion is a perfume detected by a female tortoise but not by humans. His future is then in her hands.

The great Albert Schweitzer once said, "As we acquire more knowledge, things do not become more comprehensible but more mysterious." I wonder if he could have foreseen that man would want to know about the romantic affairs of a tortoise!

One of the objects of all this is to try to learn of Mr. Tortoise's ancestors. Because of his particular bone construction, Mr. T. fossilizes easily and scientists will be able to link today's tortoise or turtle with his ancestors from way back.

Far be it from this simple society to criticize our government (National Science Foundation is a governmental department) if they want to spend OUR money to study the love life of tortoises BUT—, Guess the only way I'd see any good in it is if I were a little girl tortoise!

RICHARD AND RAMZE ZAKKA

Ramze Zakka Is Youngest Enrolled At South Plains

The youngest student enrolled at South Plains College this semester is a Lebanese. He is Ramze Zakka of Olton, Tex., who celebrated his 17th birthday Nov. 2.

He and his brother, Richard, have lived in five different countries and have attended nine different schools. Ramze and Richard are both majoring in Civil Engineering.

Born in Tripoli, Lebanon, Richard and his brother have lived in Lebanon; Egypt; Aden, A British Colony; Jordan; and London. Ramze was born in Alexandria, Egypt.

The two brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Zakka, owners and operators of clothing stores in Olton and Tulsa. They have also lived in Palestine and the family moved to Texas directly from Jordan.

The young men have plans of completing two years at South Plains College and then transferring to the University of Texas for their final degrees.

While in high school Richard participated in football, track, and was a member of the annual and paper staffs. They are both graduates of Olton High School.

They are members of South Plains College International Club and Richard participated in the college intramural football program. They speak five different languages including Arabic, English, French, Spanish and Italian.

They visited relatives this past year with their parents in Austin, Houston, New York and Washington and have seen quite a bit of the United States. They have toured Europe and their favorite vacation spot is Beirut, Lebanon, where they have been many times. According to the Zakka brothers, in Beirut, one may enjoy beach activity as well as mountain sports all within a day's time. The sports include surfing, water and snow skiing, and swimming. These sports are missed by the boys who are now residents of West Texas, but they find activity at South Plains College interesting and "lots of fun."

According to the youngmen, "South Plains is a great little college, we like a small college as we feel that we get more individual attention, and we are glad we decided to come here."

Rehabilitation Center Sought For Tech Campus

Better lines of communication to make certain every handicapped person in the South Plains region knows what services are available to him — and where — have been recommended by a regional vocational rehabilitation study group.

In a final report adopted Jan. 13 as part of the development of a statewide plan, the group also called for establishment of a comprehensive rehabilitation center on the Texas Tech Campus.

Other "Most Important" recommendations included a call for legislation to ease wage law restrictions which now discourage employers from hiring persons who need to be rehabilitated.

Speakers at the 20-county gathering said persons in many smaller towns now are unaware of existing resources, programs, facilities and sponsoring agencies which are available to the handicapped.

In a final report which Mrs. Jack Kastman, regional chairman, will deliver to state planning officials, the regional board urged development of a strong educational campaign to overcome that information gap.

The group further endorsed the proposed rehabilitation center at Tech to serve all of West Texas plus all or parts of nearby states. Its facilities, including the services of specialists from a variety of schools and departments at the University, would be for the benefit of all physically and mentally disabled persons in the region.

As a pilot program for other parts of Texas, the center would play an important role in the plan to make comprehensive vocational rehabilitation services available to every handicapped person in the state by no later than 1975.

"COMPUTER CONTAINERIZATION"

As the economies of the United States and Europe boom, the amount of international trade between the two continents is increasing tremendously.

How industry can meet the demands of export and still keep a reasonable profit margin is a prime problem. The availability of transportation to ship products is becoming more difficult. And finally how companies not now exporting to the lucrative European market can break in and expand their sales.

The solution to these problems can be found in the changeover from conventional break-bulk shipping to "Unitization" of cargoes. Unitization is attained by the use of containers, large enclosed boxes, standardized at 8 feet wide, 20 or 40 feet long and 8 feet high, mounted on wheels or flatbed car or truck. These containers are similar to truck trailers. The system whereby containers are packed for transportation and driven to the pier, loaded by special equipment unto container ships and then unloaded is called "Containerization".

Today, container shipping lines move more merchandise to foreign ports faster and at lower cost than any other method. Atlantic Container Lines Ltd., a combine of several European steamship lines is one of the major fleets using this new shipping procedure.

An integral part of ACL's service will be computerized freight administration and container control. To accomplish this they have purchased the Sperry Rand Univac 418-II real-time computer, through satellite data communication equipment such as the Univac DCT-2000 and Univac 1004 systems.

This computer system overcomes all logistical problems. Atlantic Container has 3000 containers strategically located in "heavy" shipping centers throughout the country. With the computer an agent is always, "on line", having the ability to tell a shipper where and when a container is available instantly. The Univac 418-II is processing the loading of container ships on a minute by minute basis.

Computerization combined with Containerization will in the future make it possible for industries to achieve increased overseas trade with minimal difficulty.

STATE CAPITOL HIGHLIGHTS

STATEWIDE SCHOOL PLAN—U. S. Office of Education and the State Board of Education have given their approval to the Texas Education Agency's plan for developing a statewide program for coordinating the long list of federal, federal/state and local education programs.

Plan includes "integrating, coordinating and focusing presently diverse educational programs in the state on a limited number of high priority activities and populations."

Idea is that local school districts -- after they've decided what federal and federal/state programs they want to participate in -- file only one application, which would go through the state to the federal level. Then, when it's time to report back what the grant money was used for, only one report for all the various programs would be necessary from each district.

'68 TAGGED HISTORIC-- About 7,000,000 motor vehicles will be registered in Texas this year. State Highway Department says that's the largest number in Texas history. All license plates have been delivered to county tax assessor-collectors and will be issued during February and March.

Some 4,750,000 tags will go on passenger cars and 1,900,000 on commercial trucks and truck-tractors. Balance is for trailers and motorcycles -- where the biggest increase will take place. Motorcycle registrations are expected to be up 16 per cent this year as compared to a 3.5 per cent increase in cars and trucks.

Each owner must furnish the tax collector's office with the vehicle's title, 1967 license receipt and the owner's current address and zip code.

Health Hints Walking on Ice

Exercise extreme caution when walking on slick or icy pavement. A bad spill may do more than shatter your dignity. It may shatter a bone. Older persons are especially prone to accidents of this kind and are advised to remain indoors on particularly bad days.

When you do go out choose the clearest route possible and wear protective footwear with non-skid soles. Women, in particular, should select functional footwear.

If you suspect a break—however slight—consult your physician, and he will prescribe the necessary tests.

The spirit was high, the attendance was great, and the tension was almost unbearable... this could be a description of almost anything, but it is the description of the two varsity games against Dimmitt.

The Mustangs were playing for the first half district and the Fillies were trying to defeat the Bobbies to tie them, the Bobbies, up with Friona.

The Mustangs were defeated by only two points 63-61. It was a thrill packed game but in the closing seconds the Bobcats just managed to nudge ahead. Pat Bodkin led both point and rebound departments with 29 and 16 respectively. Kenneth Johnson was second high man with the point netting 14 and rebounding for seven balls.

trict they will have a chance against the two Dimmitt teams to represent Olton in the Bi-District Contest.

The junior varsity Mustangs lost to Floydada Jan. 4, 55-32. Ronnie Truelock netted nine points while Gale McClain and Tony Miller each sank six.

37-23 was the final score in the girls game with Myrle Givens dropping 15 points and rebounding offensively for five balls. Susan Nicholas rebounded for two defensively.

The Freshmen boys clashed against Floydada too and they came home with a victory 34-29. Mike Parsons was high pointer with 13 and Luis Rey sank 10. The Freshmen girls' game was canceled.

Best Citizens for the third six weeks are seniors, Pat Bodkin, Barbara Cowart, and Wanda Neeley; juniors, Leslie Norfleet and Kenneth Johnson; sophomores, Connie Kendall and Mike Phillips, and freshmen, Rita Graham and Greg Smith. Congrats to all these fine OHS students!

Five other Texas Tech students attended along with Rev. Gene Sorley, Associate Campus Minister at the Wesley Foundation of Texas Tech. (Rev. Sorley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sorley.)

Miss Wheeler writes of her activities, "Four of us left Lubbock about 9 a. m. Christmas morning. We arrived at Southern Methodist University about 4:30 p. m., where we were met by others from Texas who were going to Cleveland.

"There were forty-three passengers on our chartered bus. We represented schools from all over Texas. There were people from University of Houston, Texas University, S. M. U., East Texas State University and several others. "We arrived in Cleveland at 9:30 p. m., December 26. We were registered and in our hotel by about eleven o'clock."

"The next day started with breakfast at 8 and things were going on until 2 or 3 in the morning. The convention was termed a 'micro-city'. There were several things going all the time, as there is in our everyday lives. We had to decide what was most important to us, then do it.

"One time during the day there was only one thing scheduled. From 10 until 12:30 we were to attend DEG's (Depth Education Groups). Each person had to choose one of seventy groups - about everything from 'Hippie Life Style' to 'Redistribution of U.S. Income' from 'Liturgical Forms' to 'University Change'. We attended these sessions each day and discussed our topic. We gained many interesting ideas and learned how to lead DEG's.

Several times each day there were programs on closed circuit T.V. These programs were given by people at our conference. Some of them were about things going to happen at the conference, about what had happened, as well as many other topics.

"There was a film festival. Films were shown from noon until sometime between 11:30 and 2 a. m. each day. Many short films were shown, many of these were filmed by college students. There were several full-length feature films such as 'The Battle of Algiers'. A total of 174 films were shown during the convention.

"There was a worship service each day. Persons participating in the conference planned and carried out most of the services. The worship services were experiments with new and different types of worship.

"Art workshops were also held, groups got together to sing songs or read poetry. Cleveland itself was entertainment."

"Approximately 3,300 people attended the convention - people from all over the world and from all walks of life. Most of the people were college students, college teachers, or campus ministers.

Miss Wheeler pointed out that U.C.M. (University Christian Movement) is open to all persons interested in social change and who want to associate with Christians.

"I met many different types of people with very different backgrounds," says Miss Wheeler. "From these people I learned a lot and gained many new and interesting ideas."

She added "I enjoyed the conference very much. I feel that I learned a great deal. I am glad I went even though I disliked giving up my vacation time with my family."

Why Continue To Advertise

Every newspaperman has heard the story, but it bears repeating: One day, P. K. Wrigley was riding on a train with a friend and the conversation turned to the chewing gum business.

The friend, who had an eye for saving a penny, suggested now that Wrigley chewing gum was so well known and had such large distribution it might be wise to dispense with advertising, save that expense and make that much additional profit. "I could ask the conductor of this train the same question," replied the financial genius. "This train is now going 60 miles per hour, so why not disconnect the engine? Advertising is to merchandising what a locomotive is to a train. It is the power which keeps it going."
