Pitts Heads County Officials; Sweetwater Is Host City

Legislature Is Asked To Help Give Out Cash

Only One Proposed Resolution Is Defeated As Session In City Closes; Payment Urged For Bollworm Loss

Small Is Speaker

Slashing Of Salaries By The Legislature Is Flayed By Hemphill Judge; Relief For State Is Discussed

WEST TEXAS County Judges and Commissioners association, closing a semi-annual convention here yesterday, elected Judge E. L. Pitts of Lubbock president and voted to meet in Sweetwater in 1934.

The association turned down only one proposed resolution, calling for diversion of a half cent of the gasoline tax for payment of bonded indebtedness. The delegates asked the legislature to handle funds from a relief bond issue without administrative cost, urged payment of bollworm eradication costs in 11 West Texas counties, and urged that Texas be alloted an additional $75,000,000 from the public works fund for Texas highway construction.

Other Officers Chosen

Judge Pitts, who has been secretary-treasurer, succeeded Judge A. O. Newman of Coleman county. Judge John P. Marrs of Wichita Falls was named secretary-treasurer, and Judge W. E. (Happy) Smith of Lynn county was elected vice-president succeeding Judge W. L. Shelton of Hemphill county. A total of 257 persons registered, the association's greatest attendance.

State Senator Cline C. Small of Amarillo, speaking yesterday morning, declared that no new taxation proposed at a special session of the legislature would have his support. He declared that if expectations of supporters of legalized beer and horse racing are upheld, revenue from sale of the brew and operation of horse races would provide funds for the $20,000,000 bond issue.

Omaha Flier Dies As Plane Crashes

CHICAGO, Sept. 2. (AP)—A buffeting wind brought tragedy to the second day of the international air races, causing the death of Roy Liggett, 37-year-old racing pilot from Omaha.

Liggett, pushing his tiny red racing plane at 175 miles an hour in a qualifying trial for the first contest of the afternoon was killed when his ship had its left wing torn off by terrific pressure resulting from its speed and the resistance of a 25-mile an hour wind.

The ship crashed in a nearby cornfield, spinning down from a height of 300 feet. The metal body of the plane, a racer that other pilots described as "a seat strapped to a power plant motor" was tangled and twisted so badly that steel saws were required to remove the pilot's body.

Texas Woman Is Killed As She Is Struck By An Auto

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2. (AP)—Mrs. Lily Herron, 51, of Beaumont, Tex., was injured fatally today when struck by an automobile as she stepped from her husband's car after it ran out of gasoline eight miles east of Mesa.

Andrew Stojke, driver of the other car, was detained pending an inquiry into the accident. He said the woman stepped from in front of his car so suddenly that he was unable to stop.

Tragedy Rides With Flier On Proposed Trip

Marquis General De Pinedo Is Dead As Plane Crashes Into Iron Fence And Bursts Into Flames Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. — Marquis General Francesco De Pinedo died in the flames of his blazing monoplane today as he attempted to take off on a non-stop solo flight to Baghdad that was intended to dispell the cloud of obscurity surrounding his brilliant career in aviation.

His heavily-loaded plane, a "flying gas tank" containing 1,027 gallons of fuel, wobbled off the concrete runway at Floyd Bennett field, skidded into the dirt and plunged into an iron fence near the administration building at 6:30 a. m. E.S.T.

Twice Ocean Conqueror

In split seconds it was a pyre for the 43-year old twice conqueror of the Atlantic, who was planning a record-breaking distance hop for the glory of Benito Mussolini, who forced De Pinedo into retirement and obscurity.

Several spectators, grouped near the administration building, escaped death or injury from De Pinedo's oncoming plane. The flier applied screeching brakes in time to avoid hitting the group.

White-faced and speechless, more than 200 friends and associates of the famous former ace of the Royal Italian air force, saw the dramatic climax of De Pinedo's "Beau Geste."

Second Highway Project In NRA Setup Starts Saturday

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2. (AP) — Work began today on the second highway project under the NRA emergency employment program in Texas when contractors started shovels on six and one-half miles of grading on state highway No. 71 in Fayette county.

About 50 more men went to work. The report on the project was received in the office of C. E. Swain, federal district engineer in charge of bureau of public roads.

The project in Fayette county also calls for the building of drainage structures and will cost about $50,000.

Fort Worth Yeggmen Don't Believe In Signs On Safes

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2. (AP) — These yeggmen apparently don't believe in signs.

They sawed a hole through the rear wall of the Cooley Lumber company office here last night.

A sign was hanging on the safe. It read:

"There is no money in safe — please do not bother."

Just the same, the yeggmen put in a load of nitroglycerin and blew off the door. Sure enough, there was no money. The burglars took some notes and other documents.

TULSA, Sept. 2. (AP)—Midcontinent markets increased retail gasoline prices a half cent today, making the total advance for the past two days 1 1-2 cents.

Corporations Are To Be Formed To Help Needy Employers

By JAMES P. SELVAGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Awaiting the approval of President Roosevelt, a tentative plan for pouring out some of the Reconstruction Corporation's millions to aid willing but financially disabled employers who are trying to operate under the NRA tonight was nearing completion.

The rugged outlines, as disclosed today, embrace mortgage corporations formed by business men in various communities to receive funds from the RFC and in turn lend them to business firms to supply money for the increased payrolls incidental to the recovery program.

Plan Takes Shape

This plan took shape at the direction of President Roosevelt as Hugh S. Johnson, the recovery chief, ended his projected week-end of relaxation and threw himself into apparently unsuccessful effort to end the disagreement within the bituminous coal industry.

After hours of arguing, the intention of having a coal code ready for the president upon his return to the capital went overboard and Johnson adjourned the conferences until Tuesday.

He said two of the conferees fell asleep during his talk with them and all were so tired after the weeks of night discussions that it was useless to try to get an accord from the non-union operators and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Seek Interpretation

So hedged about has Johnson become with labor problems involving the collective bargaining section of the recovery act that he said he was considering seeking from Attorney General Cummings an interpretation. The particular point of dispute now is the belief of the mine operators—in which Johnson joins—that contracts being drawn, by which all mine employers recognize the Lewis union, shall not constitute a closed shop to which other unions, or workers not belonging to

Film Actor Is Convicted On Battery Count; Given Fine

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2. (AP) — Convicted on a battery charge and fined $50, Jack Mulhall, film actor, intimated today he would appeal the case. The actor was found guilty of intruding into the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fine and engaging the couple in a fight. His companion, Charles E. Fredericks, an aviator, was acquitted.

Mulhall faces civil actions by Mr. and Mrs. Fine and two women who were guests at the Fine apartment. A total of $140,000 damages was asked.

In defense, Mulhall said he had entered the apartment by mistake while looking for a friend and that he had been attacked by Fine and his wife.

Last Of Strong Arm Squad In Machado Regime Killed

HAVANA, Sept. 2. (AP)—Jose Penate, believed to have been the last of the strong arm squad of deposed President Machado, was killed this afternoon and his body paraded through the streets in an open automobile.

The authorities said executioners of the ABC revolutionary society killed Penate, who was a sergeant in the old secret police organization.

Ginners Fight Further Slash For Farm Crop

General Approval Voiced For Recovery Program; Plan To Cut Cotton Acreage Draws Stiff Opposition

Fear Low Prices

Tentative Price For Ginning In Texas Is Explained By Speaker; Directors Chosen As Meeting Closes

AFTER hearing details of the substituted ginners code explained, three hundred and fifty ginners of the South Plains voiced approval of President Roosevelt's recovery program in their eleventh annual meeting at the Hilton Saturday but went on record opposing any further reduction in the cotton acreage of the United States unless foreign cotton growing countries agree to reduce also.

Unemployment in the industry has already resulted from the one-third cotton acreage reduction campaign instituted by the government this year, a resolution pointed out, and further reduction would mean additional unemployment and a detriment to the industry. Foreign countries are already making plans for increased cotton acreages and should another reduction be made in the United States it would only mean more cotton grown abroad, it was said.

Would Lower Prices

Foreign cotton increases would result in lower prices which the American grower would be forced to bear with a short crop due to his curtailed acreage, it was said.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to department of agriculture officials at Washington.

John C. Thompson of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Cotton Ginners association, explained the ginning code to the meeting and also gave out an announcement on tentative prices to be charged for ginning in Texas this year. Under the code of fair competition, a uniform price for ginning is to be fixed by a state administrative board and the commissioner of agriculture.

Tentative Price Fixed

The tentative price fixed for ginning in Texas, Mr. Thompson said,

Tariff Bargaining May Be Launched By Administration

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — With the administration well launched on its new program of commercial tariff bargaining, a possibility arose today that it might go through with the plan, abandoned at the last session of congress, of seeking congressional authority in advance to make treaties involving mutual tariff reductions.

The question has an important bearing on the prospects for mutually advantageous agreements toward which the United States is already negotiating with Columbia and Brazil. Argentina and other Latin-American countries are to follow, and Portugal and Sweden also are on the list.

Charred Remains Of Human Body Found; Search Staged

BOERNE, Sept. 2. (AP)—The charred remains of a human body, believed to be that of Herman Frobese, 62, a farmer, whose home is near here, was found in a pile of ashes about 150 yards from the Frobese farm house today.

The discovery was made after a search extending from midnight when Mrs. Frobese arrived at home from a party and found a note addressed to her, telling her that her husband had left and could not be found until morning.

Lubbock Seeks Public Market

Application For $70,000 Is Made By This City To The Public Works Board; Other Applications Filed

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2.—More than 160 applications totaling $54,233,854 had been docketed today in the office of Robert A. Thompson, state public works engineer, for consideration Tuesday of the Texas public works advisory committee.

Scores of other applications have been received but the engineer's staff have not had time to check them over. More are arriving in every mail. Every day brings new delegations to see Thompson, members of the board and Clifford B. Jones, regional public works director for Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

To Be Open Monday

Jones announced that the regional office will be open Monday and on the job. Jones explained that Thompson's staff also will remain on the job. Jones explained that "this is no time for us to take a holiday, every minute is needed to help get this emergency program under way."

Applications docketed today follow:

Slocum, completion of gymnasium for school district, $2,000; Houston, water works extension $4,784,400; Fort Worth independent school district, new school buildings and repairs, $4,000,000; Alpine; dormitory and art colony for Sul Ross State Teachers College $33,000; Lubbock, public market $70,000;

Objections Being Lodged On Policy Toward The Union

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—With Henry Ford's vacation of silence near its close and his long-awaited declaration of policy on his failure as yet to sign the NRA automobile code apparently near, first repercussions came today from the code's collective bargaining provision, one of the features to which Ford's associates say he objects.

While the 70-year-old motor manufacturer, still maintaining silence on his NRA plans, apparently prepared to return to Detroit to launch what observers believe will be a spectacular "go it alone" campaign, denial came from the Chevrolet Motor Co. here that it is discriminating against union employes in the traditionally open-shop automotive industry.

Details Announced

Simultaneously, the Chevrolet company announced details of a plan for a "company union," in which employes might deal collectively with the firm in accordance with NRA provisions, but emphasized carefully that membership in the organization, to be known as the Chevrolet Employes' association

Three Narrowly Escape As Train Crashes Into Auto

VERNON, Sept. 2. (AP)—Three men narrowly escaped death early today when a northbound Fort Worth and Denver train, traveling at 55 miles an hour, struck their automobile at a crossing on highway 5, four miles northwest of Vernon.

J. H. Campbell, 37, of Vernon, and E. T. McCullum, 50, of Glenn, Miss., his brother-in-law, suffered severe back injuries, cuts and abrasions but were expected to recover. Arch Thompson, 35, of Cooper, Tex., owner of the automobile, leaped from the car just before the crash and suffered minor head injuries.

The men were on their way to Amarillo. The car was demolished.

Oil Allowable Is Now Fixed

Texas Quota Set At 975,200 Barrels Daily; Allocations Become Effective September 8 By Ickes' Order

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. — Secretary Ickes today fixed at 2,409,700 barrels the daily production of oil in formally putting into effect the NRA trade code for the $12,000,000,000 industry without attempting price fixing for the time being.

The division of the production among the oil states was announced by the administrator as follows:

Texas 975,200; Oklahoma 540,000; California 480,000; Kansas 112,000; Arkansas 29,000; Louisiana 70,000; New Mexico 41,400; Rocky mountain states 38,900; Appalachian 94,200; Michigan 30,000.

Effective Sept. 8

The allocations become effective at 7 a. m. September 8, and the order provides there shall be no withdrawals from storage except upon order of Ickes, after approval by the industry's planning and coordinating commission.

Imports are limited to the average daily influx during the last six months of 1932.

Ickes designated the central proration committee of California as the agency in the state, which lacks an oil regulatory body, to allocate production within California.

Attempt At Extortion Is Disclosed; Maid Confesses

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2. (AP) — An attempt to extort $20,000 from Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Will, wealthy Piedmont residents on threat to harm their 9-year-old daughter Mary, was disclosed today by the department of justice, which said the family maid, Mrs. Jenny Ingram Barrett, had confessed and would be prosecuted.

Mrs. Barrett had worked several years in the household of Will, head of the Stuart Oxygen company, of Oakland, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

W. A. Rorer, head of the department of justice here, said Mrs. Barrett confessed to sending an extortion letter last Monday.

Texas School Trustees Are Going In For Racketeering, Complaints State

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Sept 2. — Widespread reports that trustees in many of the small school districts of Texas are exacting money from the teachers whom they have employed for the coming year are being investigated by two secret committees from the Texas State Teachers' association, President H. W. Stillwell of Texarkana said here today.

"When I first heard rumors of such outrages," Stillwell said, "I couldn't believe it. I still don't want to believe, but the reports have kept coming in. Altogether I have had nearly 100".

The reports have it that trustees offer to retain old teachers or employ new ones in return for a certain percentage of their salaries throughout the year. In all cases, the reports have come from smaller school districts, Stillwell said.

Barring this and a few other "flies on the ointment," teachers of Texas are in a better frame of mind as the beginning of a new school year draws near than at any time during the past two years, Stillwell said.

Announcement that the state would maintain its $16 percapita apportionment did more to cheer the school people than anything that has happened, he said. Another cause for cheer is the fact that the new state superintendent of education, L. A. Wood has taken definite steps to insure an eight-month school in every rural district in the state, if possible.

Property Loss Is Mounting As Reports Come In; Cardenas Is Hardest Hit; More Than 30 Are Dead There

Second Hurricane Is Reported On Way; American Coastline Not Endangered; Supplies Are Running Short

(By The Associated Press)

THE death toll from the tropical storm which swept parts of Cuba Friday mounted rapidly Saturday night as the West Indies kept a sharp watch on another disturbance advancing from the Caribbean.

The number of dead in Cuba jumped from nine to more than three score as communications were restored and rescuers fought their way into communities previously isolated.

Cardenas Hard Hit

Cardenas, in the heart of the Cuban sugar belt, apparently was the hardest hit. More than 30 were killed there, and 60 to 80 men were reported missing. The latter comprised the crews of four sugar-laden boats which were believed lost.

Twenty were killed in the Santa Clara area. Matanzas reported four dead, Sauga La Grande eight and Havana one.

Medical supplies were running short at Cardenas. The city was without lights or water.

Centers In Gulf

The hurricane which lashed Cuba centered Saturday in the Gulf of Mexico north of Cape San Antonio. As the new disturbance, approximately 100 miles northwest of Turk's Island, moved at the rate of 17 miles an hour.

The weather bureau at Washington and Miami would not predict the course of the new storm more than 24 hours in advance, although officials in the former city said there was no danger to the United States coastline during that period. The Miami forecaster expected its center to be south of Nassau by Sunday morning.

Deaths Reported

The observatory at Santiago, Cuba, however, predicted the latest blow would whip over Camaguey province of that island, between 3 and 4 a. m. Sunday.

Federal Approval Offered Projects

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2. (AP)—Federal approval of 16 NRA emergency highway projects in 14 counties was given today in an announcement by C. E. Swain, federal district engineer for the bureau of public roads. The projects will cost about $780,000.

The projects now have been turned over to the Texas highway department and bids likely will be asked at once as plans on the jobs already have been approved.

The projects are located in Bexar, Kendall, Swisher, Tyler, Howard, Parmer, Lamb, Rusk, Bailey, Hockley, Lubbock, Cherokee and Guadalupe counties.

Texas Is 3rd For District

Louisiana And Oklahoma Are Ahead Of Lone Star State In Advertising For Bids Under Recovery Road Plan

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2. (AP)—Texas ranks third among the four states in district six proportionally in the authorization of advertising for bids for contracts in the national recovery highway program, figures compiled in the office of Federal District Highway Engineer C. H. Swain disclosed.

However, Texas is the only state in the district which has begun actual work on a recovery project and it also leads in contracts awarded.

The figures tabulated on authorization of projects showed Louisiana first with 27 1-2 per cent of the allotment of federal funds for that state included $1,604,503 out of an apportionment of $5,826,591.

Oklahoma ranks next with $1,-140,524 out of $9,216,798.

Texas' figure is 6 per cent—1,456,-816 out of an allotment of $24,244,-024.

Arkansas with 1 4-5 per cent has authorization for $122,156. That state's allotment is $6,748,335.

The average for the district is 9 25 per cent compared to 14 per cent for the entire nation.

Work has begun in Dallam county on an $85,000 project for grading and drainage and caliche gravel topping on state highway No. 5 between Dalhart and Texline. Employment is being provided for between 85 and 100 men.

Starting of other Texas projects on which contracts have been awarded is expected at any time, officials here indicated.

High Living Of Three Youths Brings Their Arrest After A Cafe Burglary

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 2. (AP)—The "high living" of three 11-year-old youths brought their arrest today for a restaurant burglary.

The cafe was entered through a small transom sometime after 1 a. m. About $17 and cigars and cigarets were stolen.

Detectives D. A. Bryce and H. V. Wiler, investigating, concluded a man could not have squeezed through the transom opening. A few hours later they received a call from a downtown hotel where the boys had registered. The boys, said the hotel clerk, had been enjoying themselves immensely, tipping porters and passing around cigarets and cigars.

Bryce and Wilder paused outside the boys' room. "It was a snap," bragged one of the trio. Then there was laughter.

The detectives entered with a pass key. The boys admitted the burglary, Wilder said. They were too young to be put in jail so the officers placed them in care of the police matron pending further questioning. Most of the loot was recovered.

Man Charged With Murder Of Family

LAFOLLETTE, Tenn., Sept. 2. (AP) Floyd Johnson, filling station operator, today was charged with murder in connection with the burning to death of his wife and three small children in their home Wednesday night.

He was arrested last night and taken to Knoxville where Police Chief Bryor Baird of Lafollette said he would be questioned and held for safe keeping.

District Attorney General Jesse L. Rogers said charges were placed against Johnson on the strength of evidence gathered during an investigation.

Johnson was the only one to escape from his burning home. He said he jumped through a window.

The charred bodies of Mrs. Johnson and her three children were found in the ruins near a hall door. They were buried in a single casket yesterday.

Application Of NRA To Life Brings Forth Two Serious Problems To U. S.

Position Of Finance And Labor Holding Fate Of Program

BY BURTON KLINE
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—The President, Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Green have spoken of the National Recovery Act with almost the fervor of men reciting a creed. By letting in the sunlight of great social betterments the Act does possess something that stirs men's souls. But the best of churchmen finds life still a stern and practical matter, for all the reverence of his beliefs. And for all the sincere piety of these eminent speakers toward the new economic credo, its application to is another sternly practical matter. The prudent will continue to brace themselves for snags in its way.

Messrs. Rockefeller and Green notwithstanding, two have showed up already, both of them serious. Will Finance gas the machine with money? Will Labor heave sand in the works?

Coming Events Loom

The first question will probably answer itself. Before long Mr. Green may not be in position to answer the other. Labor may run away with him.

None knows better than the man of finance that it takes money to get money, but those who think up better ways of getting it than the Recovery machine provides are wasting their time. It's the only machine on the road—the only one with a chance of getting to the goal in time.

Money may be coy in committing itself to the "great adventure," but there is another adventure that finds it still more coy. Money has never been given to suicide. Finance may grumble and balk, but it knows that if there is no Recovery there is apt to be no such thing as Finance.

It's Up To Roosevelt

Nor any such thing as Labor, either. And Labor has not always been as quick as Finance in spotting the buttered side of its bread. Now, behind the scenes, each of them growls over what Recovery hands to the other, and between them Recovery itself may suffer. Unless that master politician in the White shows new sleight of hand.

The real threat to Recovery comes from Labor, and the whole fate of the program hangs on its mood and behavior. Neither is it all the fault of Labor. It is not subject to the unanimity that rules the world of finance. Money has a single mood. Its owners think as a single man. Never has organized Labor possessed such instinctive organization. It is itself over-run with a hundred conflicting beliefs and has often run away with its leaders. Business fears that tendency in Labor far more than Labor's organization. And in that tendency lies the present threat to Recovery.

On one and the same day the New York end of the Whirligig reported business men as palsied by dread of Labor, and the Washington end reported 500 strikes quietly up for settlement in the conciliation bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. The dread appeared to be justified.

Green Has Support

In Washington you learn in quiet that Mr. Green has his cohorts behind him as never before. They stay behind him because they trust him to get all that Labor is after—peaceably if possible. But to get it. If he doesn't they take the bit in their teeth.

For all Mr. Green's brave words of trust in the Recovery Act, there are those who question the peace of his heart. And for all the clarion call of the clans to the Federation Convention, they count on speech of plainer sort when the conclave opens.

Behind the scenes all labor is for one thing grieved and indignant at what it regards as the wreck of the U. S. Labor Department. It took fifty years to get a laboring man into the Cabinet and his Department is strictly their baby. Now they complain it is nothing but a welfare bureau. Behind closed doors they crack rude jests at the high-hat methods of the lady Secretary who has made it so. As Secretary of Labor they say she remains a foremost welfare worker, and proceed to ignore her as tragically out of place now that hell appears to be popping.

The Madam's Mistake

Here is a single detail in their bill of complaints. Madam Secretary drafted Isidore Lubin, a scientist-economist from the Brockings Institute to be Commissioner of Labor Statistics. Good as long as the gentleman stuck to his muttons. Evidently he was given power. He reaches out to merge with his bureau the conciliation service. Even the lady Secretary must see the folly of this in time and stop it.

If anything on earth is an endless succession of personal equations a master of man-to-man appeal, it is the settling of strike. Bitter hatreds have to be smoothed. Hard names, violent talk, unprintable epithets hurled at each other by heated enemies must be erased. The enemies themselves must be turned into friends.

Ever since 1913 this has gone on in the conciliation service of the Department of Labor. Without a word of notice it has calmed down thousands of strikes and saved the country uncountable hundreds of millions in wages and profits otherwise lost through stopped production. Now, say leaders of Labor, when the whole of Recovery's triumph or fizzle may hinge on halting these runaway strikes, think of sending out peace-makers fortified with a hatful of Lubin's decimal points!

"Slave" May Be Saviour

They add that mere dread of this has whitened overnight the man who has inspired this work since the Department of Labor was started. It is not extravagant to add, further, that the fate of Recovery may rest on the shoulders of this one master conciliator. For twenty years he has been the country's devoted slave. He now may become its savior.

Labor knows this, Johnson knows it, Farley knows it. The President knows it. The lady secretary would do well to know it. Incidentally the country should know at last who the gentleman is. He is Hugh L. Kerwin. Labor adores him. Big Business itself might doff its hat to the man who has saved it so many millions.

But—at the end of a cabinet year place your bets on two resignations. The other will be that of the gentleman who puts himself to sleep every night with a guitar, a harp, or something.

When the Roosevelt administration opened, welfare was the order of the day. We are now getting down to brass knuckles. The need of at least one practical laborite in the Department of Labor became apparent and it was not for nothing that Ned McGrady was put there. His getting there has something, by the way, hilariously humorous about it.

Farley Wins Point

Undoubtedly it was done on Presidential order. But the job of impaling himself on a lady's sarcastic tongue was left to Farley. He got it. According to Washington gossip Madam Secretary said to Farley, "You run your department and I'll manage mine." But note one point: McGrady is first assistant secretary of labor, and is due to rise.

Note other things. Big business dreads Labor. Labor fears the Recovery Act, with all its golden promise, will not deliver. The sleight of hand is showing itself. The president is playing both ends against the middle. The middle is industrial peace, and he'll get it by keeping each end too worried to fight.

Speaking of masters at their craft, the White House has contained no such master manipulator of men and events since Abraham Lincoln.

Methodists Plan District Confab

Pastors of the 27 charges in the Lubbock district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will meet at Tahoka next Tuesday at 10 a. m., Dr. C. A. Bickley, presiding elder, announced Saturday.

Forces will be rallied and plans discussed for closing the conference year, which ends in November.

In addition to the ministers, a large number of laymen are expected to attend.

Dr. W. C. Martin of Dallas, who is conducting a revival meeting at the First Methodist church here, will be the principal speaker.

WHITE AT SUDAN

SUDAN, (Special)—H. C. White, graduate of Texas A. and M., has arrived here and is taking charge of the vocational agriculture work. He also will be principal of the grammar school.

Eastman Asks Rail Support

Call For Railroads Of Nation To Swing In Behind Recovery Program Is Sounded By Federal Coordinator

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — A call for the railroads of the country to swing in behind the recovery program by shortening working hours and spending "every available dollar" to put more men to work was sounded today by Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation.

Iterating his statement of yesterday that the NRA should not include the rail carriers either legally or as a matter of policy, Eastman asserted today this made it "all the more important that the railroads play their proper part in the program of national recovery."

Statement Issued

The coordinator addressed a lengthy statement to the president of every steam railroad in the country, and sent similar copies to the executives of all the standard railroad labor organizations.

Urging his spread-the-work-campaign, Eastman pointed out there was "so much deferred maintenance and other work which sorely needs to be done that this will not only help the country but be the soundest of economy."

Program Given

He presented a five-ply program for shortening hours and raising wages where possible. His suggestions in brief follow:

That no railroad employe be permitted to work every day in the week, and that where continuous service requirements make this impracticable the employe in question should work only so many days per month "straight through" and then be given a holiday.

That every effort be made to reduce overtime work by employes.

That every effort be made to establish in fact an eight-hour day or less for all employes, whether in a supervisory capacity of otherwise.

Minimum Mileage

That there be established a minimum mileage allowance for train and engine employes working on that basis, reducing the high monthly mileage totals when possible.

That where rail wages are not established by agreements with labor organizations, wages be raised to at least equal the weekly minimum established for analogous work under the NRA codes of competition.

Eastman suggested that railroad managements "take the initiative and invite the employes, through their system representatives, to confer with them as soon as possible for the purpose of arriving at such agreements."

Concluding his statement, the coordinator requested from each railroad a brief report "advising me how and to what extent it has been found possible to comply with the suggestions."

TO RESUME TRIPS

LITTLEFIELD, (Special) — Good will trips sponsored by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, will be resumed September 8 when the group goes to Earth. J. O. Garlington is chairman and Dr. Ira Woods and Morley B. Drake are on the committee in charge.

War Debts To Be Discussed

Roosevelt And Secretary Of State Hull Will Consider Foreign Policy This Week; Russian Recognition Up

BY F. G. VOSBURGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — President Roosevelt and his secretary of state, Cordell Hull, expect to put their heads together next week over war debts and a wide range of other matters of foreign policy, perhaps including the wisdom of recognizing Russia.

As Secretary Hull put it he, the president and their associates will sit down to map out fully the administration's program for this fall as it relates to several international phases.

May Discuss Russia

When asked point blank whether Russia was included in such a program, the secretary smilingly remarked that Russia represents a good part of the planet and is always an important phase of international affairs to think about.

He quickly added that he was not undertaking to say just when the pros and cons of any aspect of the Russian situation might be disposed of.

In another official quarter, it was said that action on the matter of Soviet recognition depended solely upon the desires of the president himself. At least two high officials of the state department are strongly in favor of normal relations with the communist county. In recent weeks American and Russian diplomats have met on friendly terms at London, and a Reconstruction corporation loan has been made to finance sale of American cotton to Russia.

To Consider Cuba

Other matters to be taken up include assistance to Cuba in its rehabilitation under a new government, execution of the new policy of commercial treaty bargaining and preparations for the Pan American conference at Montevideo, Uruguay, in December.

Another matter is selection of new assistant secretary of state to succeed Raymond Moley, resigned. Several diplomatic posts also are yet to be filled.

Office Hours Of Dentists Are To Be Shorter Here

Declaring that "every dentist in Lubbock has agreed to curtail his office hours except in emergency cases," a committee of Lubbock dentists yesterday announced new hour schedules agreed upon.

Seventeen dentists signed an agreement setting office hours at 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of each week, and at 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Saturdays. The move was made in co-operation with the spirit of the National Recovery Act, the committee said, and new office hours will go into effect on Monday, Sept. 4.

Signers Are Listed

Dentists signing the pledge, which "will continue in force until agreed upon to discontinue," were:

Doctors Clyde Craig, Harry L. Bloom, J. B. Jackson, Edgar C. Bloom, J. B. McCorkle, R. L. McAllister, L. M. Jones, Walter J. Howard, G. H. Ater, C. M. Ballenger, H. H. Bidwell, G. C. Turner, J. W. Philips, V. O. Marshall, R. B. Hutchinson, W. A. Maddox and T. W. Haymes.

The committee making the announcement was composed of Doctors Edgar Bloom, Craig and Marshall.

Typhoid Patient Moved By Police Over Objections

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2 (AP) — Using force to overcome parental resistence, city authorities yesterday moved an eight year old girl, seriously ill with typhoid fever from her home to city-county hospital.

Hospital attendants reported the girl's condition still was critical.

Police were sent to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Eddows, after the parents had declined to permit the girl's removal to the hospital when it was ordered by Dr. B. A. Stafford, city health physician.

The officers found the girl outside the house on a cot. The parents said she had become ill 20 days ago in Wichita Falls. The family returned to Fort Worth a week ago.

Only when the residence is screened may a typhoid case be treated at home, Dr. Stafford explained. The Eddows' home has no screens on the windows.

Child Crushed To Death As Concrete Bird Bath Topples

DALLAS, Sept. 2. (AP) — Shirley Anne Clanton, 3, was injured fatally last night when a 160-pound concrete bird bath toppled from its pedestal and crushed her while she was playing in the back yard at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Payne.

The little girl was playing about in the garden and was apparently attempting to climb up on the bird bath, a large cement bowl mounted on a stand four feet high, when it fell, pinning her beneath it.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clanton.

JOHNSON INVITED

HARLIN, Sept. 2. (AP)—Tom Connally, United States senator from Texas, has asked Hugh Johnson, NRA chief at Washington to attend a five-state rally in support of the National Recovery program scheduled for Dallas Sept. 9.

Preparations Are Made For "Big Push" In NRA Campaign In Lubbock

Women Named To Back Drive

More Than 3,000 Consumers Of City Downtown Are Signed Up; House-To-House Canvass Set Thursday

With more than 3,000 downtown consumers signed the past weekend, preparations were made Saturday for the "big push" of the NRA campaign here, the signing of housewive consumers in a house-to-house campaign under the Blue Eagle. The purpose of the campaign is to "get every Lubbock citizen under the Blue Eagle."

Twenty-five squads of Lubbock civic leaders spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday canvassing the downtown district, signing consumers' pledge cards and securing data on NRA employers. An analysis of the reports will be made, starting Monday at the chamber of commerce.

Cases Are Reported

Several committees reported cases of where employers had not signed the NRA agreement but had consumers Blue Eagle emblems displayed in their stores.

Saturday, women who are to assist in the housewives campaign next Thursday were chosen by a committee of women at the chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Moxley Chairman

Mrs. R. D. Moxley is general chairman of the committee. Assisting her are five majors, Mesdames D. K. Bondurant, Jerome Smith, Roy J. Watson, J. B. Edwards and Miss Alma Girand. Each of these women has selected five captains and each of these captains selected eight lieutenants Saturday afternoon. The captains and their lieutenants are:

Mrs. W. D. Watkins, jr.,—Mesdames W. B. Attebery, R. S. Rodgers, A. H. Leidigh, A. F. Schofield, J. B. Waltrip, John Dalrymple, A. B. Davis and C. L. Dean.

Part Of Bailey's Money Is Identified As Ransom Fund

DALLAS, Sept. 2. (AP)—The department of justice announced today that $700 of the $1,200 Harvey Bailey carried when he was arrested three weeks ago today near Paradise, Tex., had been identified as marked bills given as ransom in the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil millionaire.

Bailey was arrested with R. G. Shannon, Mrs. Shannon and his son Armon, at the Shannon farm and later was indicted with them at Oklahoma City for the kidnaping. The Shannons were transferred to that city but Bailey has been kept in the Dallas county jail.

Sleeping Sickness Has Been In World For 221 Years But Search For Cause Has Only Been Made In Past 15 Years

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP)—It is 221 years since the sleeping sickness, epidemic encephalitis, was first recorded; and 15 years since an almost world-wide search for its cause was begun.

But as doctors in St. Louis and vicinity watched the mounting death toll, the cause was still unknown, although guessed at. The general medical guess ascribes this infection to a non-filtrable virus, one of those living disease organisms too small to be caught in filters, or seen under microscopes. This "epidemic" sleeping sickness is not classed as the same illness which is spread by the bite of the tsetse fly.

Infection Of Nervous System

The form now appearing in the midwest is due to infection in the central nervous system. The attack centers in various parts of the brain and of the brain coverings, the meninges, and of the spinal cord.

Stupor resembling sleep results and gives the illness its common name. The onset is sudden. Sometimes the lethargy is accompanied by distortion of vision, at others by delirium and terror. But the symptoms are likely to be widely different in different outbreaks. The cases in one epidemic may be mostly similar, only to vary with the next appearance.

Means Of Spread Vary

Equally erratic have been the evidences as to how the disease spreads. In 1920 among 400 cases in France, there was not one record of the sickness from person to person. But in other epidemics there have been numerous examples of more than one person in the same family catching the infection. This suggests but does not prove personal contagion.

Rather startling was a history of 28 cases in Germany in 1920. For six of these were nursing sisters and two others attending physicians.

Influenza Sometimes Precedes

Bad cases of influenza are known to have preceded a fair number of attacks of sleeping sickness. Likewise, but in lesser number, precursors have been noted in other diseases, particularly measles, varicelle and small-pox. Occasionally pneumonia and whooping cough have preceded sleeping sickness, and now and the nvaccination.

One of the fairly new ideas about the sickness is a medical belief that there may be mild cases, unrecognized and unreported.

These mild types may be the most effective protection at present existing against this infection, just as similar and mild cases of infantile paralysis are believed to immunize large units of the population. The analogy is strengthened by the close resemblance between encephalitis and infantile paralysis.

The first reports of sleeping sickness are vague. It was spoken of briefly in medical records as occuring in Tubingen, Germany, in 1712. In 1769 it was again described, this time by a French physician. In 1800 Lyons, France, reported it, and in 1802 there was an outbreak at Milan.

In 1889 and 1890 there was a widespread epidemic in Italy, Hungary, Germany and France called "nona." Physicians now usually record this as an outbreak of sleeping sickness.

Japan Had 7,000 Cases

In the United States between September, 1918, and May, 1919, 178 cases were reported in nine states. Numerous outbreaks have been reported all over the civilized world. Lapland had one covering several villages. Japan in 1924 had a serious time, with 7,000 cases and 4,000 deaths.

Virus, bacteria and toxins have been ascribed as the cause. At present a non-filterable virus is generally accepted by medical men as the most probable agency. A non-filterable virus is too small to be seen in microscopes or to be caught in the smallest-pore filters. It is believed to be a living organism.

Bacteria are ruled out, says Dr. Hans Zinnser of Boston, one of the foremost bacteriologists, because they would have to be completely metamorphosed in forms and sizes and method of attack to produce the observed brain lesions of sleeping sickness.

Similar Causes Found

Zinnser and other investigators have found a close resemblance between the sleeping sickness cause and the virus that produces herpes, an inflammation of the skin. It seems related also to the virus causing rabies. But Zinnser states that the possibilities of other causes than virus infection cannot yet be ruled out entirely.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

In the last 30 years, 800 makes of cars have come and gone.

Of all the automobile companies that were making cars in 1903, less than a dozen remain. And of these only a few are the original companies. One of these is the Ford.

We mention this because, if you know the other original names, you will recognize that each stands for something definite in the motor car world—not just a car, but a very distinct kind and quality of car.

That is to say, the car that was designed to fill a definite place, to do a certain thing, and that pursued its objective through all the ups and downs of change—that car lived!

If you just make something to sell, you would be better employed doing something else. But if you make something that will do a specific thing and do it well, then you are helping people.

We have had just one main purpose during these years, and that is to give the people transportation of the most dependable quality at the lowest possible cost.

We have followed that purpose through thick and thin. Our car was called "the universal car" 30 years ago, because it fulfilled so many needs; it is "the universal car" today for the same reason.

We have never been greatly excited about yearly models. Whenever we developed and tested an improvement, we added it to the car without delay. The Ford car is in a continuous state of growth. For 15 years we did not introduce a single new model, but the changes and improvements that were constantly made on the model that was current through that period, were equivalent to many new models.

But the changes were made to improve the car, not to persuade people that they ought to buy a new car every year. The car we make does not need to be cast aside every year. At any period a customer buys, he gets the best we have.

Our objective is just—transportation for the people; the best quality at the lowest cost. Nothing but that. Not even the highest sales record—that has always come without seeking. Not even the highest financial return—that, too, has always come, and, we are glad to say, flowed immediately out again for wages, materials and taxes.

But these are not our main quest. Our main purpose—our constant intention—our major ambition is to make a car that will become more and more useful, and more and more easy to obtain, to more and more people.

McAfee Downs Bussey To Meet Munn In City Open Final Today

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

ALTHOUGH it is football time again, baseball and golf hold the local and sectional spotlight today.

There's not as much baseball as originally scheduled, a proposed game between the Lubbock Hubbers and the all-stars of the junior baseball league having been postponed until next Sunday. We'll hear more about that later in the week.

There's golf at the Country club all day today, weather permitting. The championship matches in the annual City Open tournament are scheduled for the 36-hole routes ,and there's due to be plenty of good golf. No charge is made galleryites, who are pretty certain to turn out in numbers to see the climax of a fine tournament.

John D. Munn has been burning up the Meadowbrook course in qualifying and preliminary rounds, and back at his home links today he is likely to put on an even hotter exhibition, if such a thing is possible. The kid is a natural, from all indications, and local fandom is fortunate in having such a smacker. In four rounds thus far he is 17 under par, not having gone above perfect figures on any round and not having lost to par on a single hole in the last 54 of match play. That's golf in anybody's language, and golf that can't be beaten. His opponents, in nearly every instance, also have bettered perfect golf, making his matches tough all the way.

Of interest to many South Plains fans, particularly to those in Lynn and Bailey counties, is the championship baseball series beginning this afternoon at Tahoka. Manager G. P. Howell's Enochs team, winner of the northern division, will tangle with Skip Taylor's Tahoka team, southern group champions, for the championship of the last half of the South Plains league season. The first game of the series will be played at Tahoka, starting about 3 o'clock this afternoon. The second game is to be played at Enochs and if a third game is necessary the managers will toss for the site.

TEXAS TECH'S football masters are home again after short vacations and ready to open the fall practice season a week from tomorrow. Some of the lads already are tossing the pigskin around Matador field, but it's unofficial and voluntary. They may practice all they want this week, but professional instruction by the coaches is barred by conference rules until September 10, which happens to be on Sunday, making the season start on Monday, Sept. 11.

Pete Cawthon, head Matador man, has been touring Colorado and northern New Mexico for the past several days. He reports having made contact with several coaches and school officials in Colorado with the idea of matching some football games for the Mats. The University of Colorado may appear on Tech's 1934 schedule, provided the University of Texas and Colorado do not reach an agreement. The Longhorns already are established as Matador opponents in 1934. Dutchy Smith has been visiting friends and relations in northeast Texas, and took advantage of time off to undergo a tonsil removing operation. His voice should be in better condition to bark orders to the linemen this fall. The Tech mentors haven't talked much of their 1933 prospects, but it's general knowledge that the team should be almost equal to that 1932 outfit. If they can give us another team comparing with that, nobody has any kick coming. . . . Texas Tech, the Notre Dame of western football. . . .

Country Club Ace Wins 4-3 In Semi-Final

Bussey's Game Disrupted After Semi-Finalists Finish First Nine All Even; Final Is Scheduled At C. C.

W. L. (Cotton to you) McAfee, hard hitting veteran and one of the top-notchers at Lubbock Country club, finalist and runner-up in the recent Country club invitation tournament, and John D. Munn, late of Amarillo High school and another Country club ace, will meet in a 36-hole match today for the championship of the Lubbock City Open tournament.

The finalists will play at Lubbock Country club.

Playing his usual good game, McAfee overcame a stubborn opponent in Clinton Bussey, Meadowbrook ace and former West Texas Golf association champion, after they had turned the first nine holes all square, each having a card of 33, two strokes better than par.

Bussey's tee shots began going haywire after the turn, and he dropped one into the creek across the No. 10 fairway. McAfee won the hole with a birdie 3. The pressure exerted by McAfee then was more than the best of golfers can stand. Bussey pulled his tee shot to No. 11, out of bounds, and McAfee took that one, with a par figure. On No. 12, Bussey's drive was over the green and the Country club ace parred the hole for a win, and taking a 3-hole advantage.

McAfee Loses 13

McAfee lost No. 13, messing up a couple of iron shots, and Bussey took it with par. Bussey's drive to No. 14 went awry, and McAfee went three up again with a birdie. The match ended at No. 15, McAfee again shooting perfect golf to take the final advantage.

Both players thrilled a fairly large gallery on the front nine with excellent play in all departments. The advantage was never great, and it was anybody's match.

McAfee, whose game varies from good to better than perfect, will be back on his home course today for the championship match. It also is Munn's home course this summer. The 36-hole match is due to start between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning. Eighteen holes will be played before noon, the remainder this afternoon.

A tough match is expected, although Munn rules a slight favorite because of his sub-par golf in previous matches. In the last three matches of the present tournament, Munn never has been above par on any hole. Since the start of the tournament he is 17 under par. McAfee likewise has played superb golf, going under par to defeat Francis Finberg, Buster Fluke and Bussey.

Qualified With 69

Both finalists qualified with 69's one stroke better than par figures.

Seven other championship matches over the 36-hole route are scheduled for today.

Charles Moore defeated Otis Felty, 2 up, yesterday in a semi-final match in the second flight. Moore meets Ted Tipps, Country club team captain, today. Tipps defeated Lee Jones Thursday in a semi-final go.

Bob Harvey and Windy Watkins are booked to tangle for the championship of the third flight. Harvey defeated F. L. McRee, 6 and 5, in one semi-final match yesterday and Watkins downed C. M. Chandler, 3 and 2.

The fourth flight championship lies between A. C. Jackson and N. L. Ball. Jackson won a 2 and 1 decision over Rufus Bradshaw and Ball downed Stancey Bagwell, 3 and 2, in semi-final matches Friday.

Battle Of Caddies

Howell Young, a caddy who set a course record with a 28 on the first nine at Meadowbrook in qualifying, meets Alfred Holton, another caddy, today for the consolation prize of the championship flight. Young defeated Carl Nail, 1 up, and Holton won over Sid Thrash yesterday, 3 and 2.

In the second flight, consolation finals, Jess Lockhart, winner over Howard McIlroy, 3 and 2, yesterday, will meet T. E. Patterson, who won by default over O. K. O'Kelly.

Father conquered son yesterday as W. D. Girand, sr., defeated W. D. Girand, jr., 5 and 3, to go into the finals of the third flight consolations with W. F. Helwig, who defeated Ed Hambright, 1 up.

Jimmie Alls and Herman Patterson tangle for the fourth flight consolation trophy. Alls defeated M. E. Heard, 1 up, and Patterson won his semi-final by default.

Beaumont Bumps Galveston Twice

BEAUMONT, Sept. 3. (AP)—Playing like the Texas League championship was at stake, the Exporters bumped the Galveston Buccaneers twice here today, Ray Fritz winning the first game 8-4, while Jake Wade and Judge Dick Schulz teamed up to beat "Andy Gump" Darrow in the eight inning nightcap, 4-3.

First game:

Galveston	020 100 010—4	8	1
Beaumont	332 000 00x—8	14	1

Croft and Connolly; Fritz and Fisher.

Second game:

Galveston	003 000 00—3	5	4
Beaumont	200 001 01—4	7	0

Darrow and Mealey; Wade, Schulz and Tresh.

Bradley's Bazaar Winner In Renewal Of Hopeful Contest

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 2. (AP)—E. R. Bradley's Bazaar, a daughter of the famous English sire, Tetratema, today won the 29th running of the Hopeful and its purse of $33,550, defeating 13 other high class two-year olds over six and one-half furlongs. Mrs. Dodge Sloane's High Guest, the 13 to 5 choice, was second and Adolphe Pons' discovery third.

Boys 10 to 16 years of age were given free tickets to a game honoring the St. Louis Cardinals' new manager, Frankie Frisch.

Lubbock Football Forces Tune Up For 1933 Season

Westerners Wind Up First Week With Scrimmage

With the high school practice season five days old and the Texas Tech training camp ready to open full force a week from tomorrow, football begins to crowd out the summer sports in Lubbock's athletic calendar.

The first scrimmage of the season was conducted at Fair Park football field yesterday when Coaches Weldon Chapman and Burl Huffman divided their squad of about 40 into three teams, running one against the other for an hour or so in signal and blocking drill.

Only a few plays were put through the mill, and these were executed with about as much grace and force as could be expected of a four-day-old squad scrimmaging for the first time.

Although the total enrollment for fall training camp exceeds 50, a dozen more were prevented from working out yesterday. Of those who reported for the scrimmage sessions at least five have seen previous "varsity" experience.

Tech Coaches Return

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith of Texas Tech's football department returned late last week from abbreviated vacations to plan the Matador football campaign for 1933. Defeated twice last year although winners in ten contests, the Bullfighters have set as their goal an undefeated 1933 season. The schedule is as tough, if not tougher, and the team will start without the satisfaction of knowing that two of their star members of last season will be there.

Conference rules permit the opening of fall practice on September 10. That being Sunday, the first official workout will be held Monday following.

Matadors Arrive Early

Already a goodly number of Matador team candidates are in Lubbock, champing at the bars and rarin' to go. They are allowed to practice on the gridiron this week, but it must be unofficial and without the supervision of coaches.

Mythical champions of the Border conference, the Matadors will defend that title against only one conference team this year — the University of Arizona Wildcats. A two-year contract with the University of New Mexico expired last fall, and was not renewed.

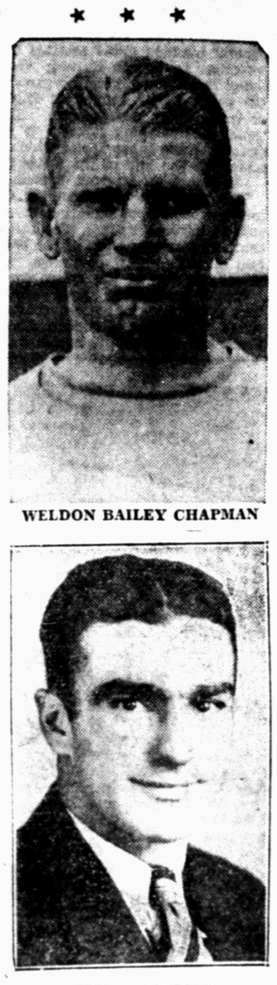

Coach Cawthon expects a squad of between 40 and 60 varsity candidates to report next week. To form the backbone for a regular team will be all but three members of last year's first stringers. Quarterback Speedy Moffett, Fullback Harold Crites and Captain Ross Ayers, a lineman, will not return. But there is due to be an abundance of material from which to select successors to the departed heroes. Some of it has been tried and found wanting but little; others will be campaigning for regular berths for the first time.

Would Chapman Trade?

A contrast in status of material is offered by the high school candidates. Only one of which was a regular last year. Rufus Ryan, recently named captain of the 1933 forces, is the only returning regular. He was quarterback last year, but probably will be shifted to halfback this season, Rayburn Hale, reserve quarterback, taking the signal calling position. Big Edgar Doherty, tackle; Raymond Billings, halfback and Weymond Newton, fullback or end, are others who have had experience in the reserve corps.

The high school season opens on the night of September 22 when Obie Bristow brings his Big Spring High school Steers here. Class A teams make up the schedule for the 1933 season. Chapman departing from the usual custom of engaging his warrior in Class B competition prior to the start of the conference season.

Tech's first game is with the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, unless a change is made in the schedule. The Mustangs are to play here on October 30. The date of September 23 is marked "open" on the official schedule.

WELDON BAILEY CHAPMAN

BURL HUFFMAN

ON THE TRAIL of more football laurels, Head Coach Chapman and first mate, Burl Huffman, have started their Lubbock High school Westerners on the come-back climb. The mentors have hopes although their 1933 eleven will be green and none too hefty.

Junior-Hubber Tilt Postponed

A baseball game originally scheduled to be played today at the College Avenue park here between the Lubbock Hubbers and the all-stars of the Lubbock Junior league has been postponed until next Sunday, September 10, it was announced yesterday.

Dr. C. C. Craig, who is in charge of the Junior team, and Ed Hambright, temporary manager of the Hubbers, decided to postpone the game one week and allow time for advance ticket sales. Members of the Junior league teams are to sell tickets in the business district this week.

Proceeds of the game are to apply on a hospital bill incurred by Robert Dowell, one of the players, who suffered a broken leg near the end of the season.

The contest probably will be the last played in Lubbock this season, and will, in a measure, take the place of a play-off series for the junior league championship. The club sponsored by the Lubbock Rotarians, of which Dowell was a player, won the championship without the necessity of a play-off.

In the game next Sunday, batteries will be switched. The Hubber pitchers and catchers will play on the Junior team, and the Junior battery will play with the Hubbers.

Chicago Juniors Win Legion National Baseball Titleship

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2. (AP) — The Chicago American Legion junior baseball team today won the National championship by trouncing the Trenton, N. J., team 7-6 in a closely fought game. Chicago won the first game of the series yesterday, 14-5.

Four Teams Deadlocked For Lead In Last Half Lubbock Softball Season

With two weeks to go, two teams are tied for the leadership in the American league and two are deadlocked for the lead in the National league of the Lubbock Softball association.

Quicksall-Pryor and Huie-Ribble are deadlocked in the American league with four victories and one defeat each. A postponed game between these teams has not been played. Peoples Ice company, with four wins and two losses, is second.

In the National league, J. & J. Sporting Goods company is tied with Meinecke Bros. Hardware company for the lead, each with three victories and one defeat.

Two games are scheduled tomorrow in the American league, while the National loop is idle. Huie-Ribble plays Hilton Hotel at the Ave. K park and Peoples Ice company meets Lubbock Compress at the Ave. R field.

General Alvin Crowder Hurls 7-Hit Ball To Win Nightcap After A's Take Opener; Yanks Beat Red Sox, 2-1

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—Alvin Crowder's seven hit pitching in the nightcap gave Washington an even break in today's double header with the Athletics. The Senators won the second contest 8-4 after dropping the opener 7-3.

Jimmy Foxx contributed homers 38 and 39 of the season, one in each contest. Other four baggers were made by Joe Kuhel, Bob Johnson, Eric McNair, all in the nightcap.

With today's split, the A's took the three game series 2-1 from the league leaders, who dropped a half-game to the New York Yankees by splitting today.

Tahoka And Enochs Open League Play-Off Series

Enochs Plays Today At Tahoka; Other Games Follow

To determine the winner of the second half of the South Plains Baseball league season, Enochs and Tahoka clubs are to meet at Tahoka this afternoon in the first of a scheduled three-game series.

The series also may decide the league champion for the 1933 season. Tahoka emerged champion of the first half, winning the right to meet the second half winner, then won the second half championship in the southern division after the league was divided into two sections at mid-season.

Enochs has been declared winner of the northern division, and League President Dutch Leuenberger announced that the teams would engage in a series beginning today for the second half title.

Tahoka, surviving the field of four southern group teams, has been generally accepted as this section's representative in the play-off for several weeks, Abernathy, Lubbock and Slaton having disbanded, dropped out or withdrawn from league membership.

Amherst Raises Objections

It was thought that three teams of the northern section, Amherst, Morton and Levelland, had withdrawn from the field, leaving Enochs as champion by acclamation. Yesterday, however, a signal of protest was made from Amherst, the Amherst manager contending that his team had not dropped out and were ready to finish the regular scheduled season.

A league meeting was called early last week to which all managers who intended to play out the schedule were instructed to attend. Enochs' manager was here and Tahoka was represented by proxy. No other managers attended, bearing out earlier opinions that they had withdrawn membership. President Leuenberger announced.

President Leuenberger announced dates for the play-off Friday, and last night had not changed his announcement. It was understood that Tahoka and Enochs were ready to play at Tahoka this afternoon.

Start At 3 O'clock

The game is to start at 3 o'clock on the Tahoka field. Manager Skip Taylor has practically the same crew which went through the first half unscratched and which lost but one game during the second half campaign.

The Enochs team has not been defeated during the second half, available records show, and a tough series is expected.

The second game of the series is scheduled for Enochs' field, the definite date to be fixed this afternoon. If a third game is necessary, managers will toss for the site.

Should Tahoka win the first two games, or the series, a second series for the league championship will not be necessary. If Enochs wins, the latter will have the last half championship and Tahoka the first half title, making another play-off necessary.

Long Shot Owned By Texan Wins Chicago Derby Purse

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, Chicago, Sept. 2. (AP)—From out of the clouds dropped a colt named Gay World, racing under the silks of a man nobody of the turf knows —J. A. Nix of Texas—to win the $10,000 added Chicago derby today in surprising upset.

Gay World, a three year old son of Torch Bearer or Cherokee-Charming Manner, with Jockey W. D. Wright up charged down the center of the track to completely upset the three year old championship situation. He came galloping home with a length to spare with the Dixiana's stable's Esseff second, four lengths back was the soundly defeated odds-on favorite Mr. Khayyam, the Catawba farms colt, that had been considered so close to the 3-year old championship that the crowd of 15,000 backed him down to a 3 to 5 favorite.

San Francisco's new postmaster, W. H. McCarthy, was at one time president of the Pacific Coast League and later president of the San Francisco Mission baseball club.

Gar Wood And Miss America X Snatch First Heat In Harmsworth Boat Race

MARINE CITY, Mich., Sept. 2.(AP) Shooting over the starting line at terrific speed, Gar Wood, driving his Miss America X, took a commanding lead over Hubert Scott-Paint in the Miss Britain III, and won an easy victory in the first race of the 1933 Harmsworth series this afternoon.

The race, postponed twice because of a choppy course, was started finally at 6 p. m., E. S. T.

The projected third entry in the race, Horace E. Dodge's Delphine V, burned to the water's edge as she was being brought up to the starting, but her driver, P. G. Erickson, was unhurt.

Three Miles Behind

Miss Britain III, apparently was unable to get up speed at the start, but the record of the Times showed that Scott-Paine was getting her up to her capacity as the race progressed, and he shot across the finishing line in a tremendous outburst of speed, close to the judge's barge, although he was fully three miles behind Wood.

It was announced Wood's average speed for the race was 82.498 statute miles an hour. Miss Britain which started at an average of 66.039 for its first lap had pushed this up to an average of 78.449 by the end of the race. Her fastest speed was 82.265, made in the last time around the course.

Miss Britain's speed for the fourth lap was 79.017 miles per hour. Wood's fifth lap was 77.124.

Good Hunting

Nimrods Report Plenty Chicks

Varying success—varying from good to excellent, is reported to be capping the efforts of local and South Plains nimrods now on the warpath for the elusive prairie chicken, open season on which opened Friday and continues through tomorrow.

A general report could not be gathered as the season passed the half-way mark last night, because most of the hunters are making a four-day vacation of it, pitching camp on the mesa and plateaus near the native haunts of the wily gamebirds.

Various hunters returning yesterday brought stories of a plentiful supply of chickens over West Texas counties to which the hunting grounds are restricted. Visitors from distant parts of the state and from other states have made Lubbock their headquarters while hunting the birds. Lamesa, Brownfield, Levelland, Andrews and Seminole also have been temporary residences of gunners.

Stories Of Many Birds

Several parties of local shooters returned home yesterday with full game bags and exciting stories. One party returned from Dawson county, each member with the bag limit for two days. They reported chicken more numerous than in the last several seasons. This is due in the main to the limited hunting season, calculated to give rise to the prairie chicken population in these parts and to spread the chicken grounds over a large territory.

Most of the bird hunters are making for Cochran, Hockley, Terry, Lynn, Yoakum, Gaines and Andrews counties.

Although the season is open on mourning dove, these very edible creatures are escaping the fire of hunters of the birds, who may be hunted without penalty through September and October.

Barry Wood Turns To Tennis To Thrill Fans As National Singles Tourney Is Opened

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2. (AP)—The superb tennis of a former Harvard all-American quarterback and the impromptu diversion furnished by one of the country's foremost professionals in a warmup with the reigning king of American amateurs today featured an otherwise colorless opening to the National men's singles championship at the West Side club.

There were no upsets and few real moments of exciting tennis as four American "seeded" stars, lead by Frank Shields of New York, and Fred Perry of England, the Davis Cup hero, charged through an abbreviated first round, consisting of 26 matches.

By far the best tennis was played on a practice court by H. Ellsworth Vines, twice-champion, and Vincent Richards. Vines captured the first set at 7-5, and the second set ended at 9-all in a dazzling display of stroking power by Vines and volleying skill characteristic of Richard's best.

Vines and Australia's great Jack Crawford drew first round byes and will start their title quest on Monday. Most of the other headliners were paraded in perfunctory matches before the slim crowd in the stadium which the sidelines on the outside courts were given a thrill by the performance of William Barry Wood, jr., former Harvard football captain and all-star quarterback.

Wood, four-sport star in college, decisively beat Watson M. Washburn of New York, Davis Cup veteran, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, in a beautifully played match.

Charles Wilson, winner of the 1933 Honolulu public links golf title, is of Chinese-Hawaiian-Caucasian blood. He was 20 years old when he won the championship.

Joe Vance, Dallas pitcher who doubles in the outfield, is rated the fastest base runner in the Texas league.

Shreveport Sports Lose To Baton Rouge In Play-Off Go

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 2. (AP)—For nine sessions the Shreveport Sports with a batting average well over .300 per cent for the first two games of the Dixie League play-off for the pennant, waved their war clubs at Dick Stewart's offerings and came through with only two hits—both of the scratch variety. As a result, they succumbed to the Baton Rouge Solons, 5-1, in the third game of the championship series, leaving the Sports a margin of two victories to one.

SOME TERSE TIPS ON PLAYING YOUR IRONS

The iron clubs, like the woods, should be taken back close to the ground and with the left hand in control and close to the body.

No more than a three-quarter swing is necessary for midiron shots.

It should be shorter than for the drive. If the distance is longer than 180 yards, a more powerful club should be used.

With the shorter swing the player should find himself with better control. Start the club down slowly, with the left hand in control and the wrists cocked. Increase the speed as the hitting region is reached.

As soon as the club starts down, the weight should be shifted to the left leg. Nearing the ball, the right hand hits a downward blow through the ball taking turf.

Tight Hurling And Home Run Bring 5-3 Win

Chicago Cubs Blank Reds And Blast Cincy Hopes; Cards In 4-1 Loss To Pirates; Phils Blank Brooklyn

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, Sept. 2. — Behind the seven hit pitching of Hal Schumacher and Herman Bell the New York Giants today defeated the Boston Braves 5 to 3 for the third straight victory of their series before a crowd which had dwindled from the near record of 48,000 yesterday to about half that number.

The Giants jumped away to a two-run lead in the first inning on hits by Manager Bill Terry and Mel Ott and never were headed, although the Tribe came through to score two runs in the third and another in the eighth to keep the game close throughout.

A home run by George Davis in the fourth inning was the blow which sealed the victory for the Terrymen and sent them eight games ahead of the team which was being touted last week as a possible pennant winner.

Neither of the starting pitchers lasted the route, Zachary being relieved by singing Bob Smith in the third inning after yielding three runs and Bell was called in to relieve Schumacher in the seventh when it appeared the youngster was weakening.

CUBS 5; REDS 0

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2. (AP)—Held in check by young Bud Tinning, the erratic Cincinnati Reds lost to the Chicago Cubs, 5-0, today after yesterday's victory gave the fans hopes the home team was ready to desert the cellar.

Tinning yielded four hits and a walk while the Cubs tapped Derringer and Stout for 10 blows, three for extra bases, to win the last game they will play here this season.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2. (AP)—The Pirates stretched their winning streak to eight in a row today by cleaning up the two-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 1.

Jensen's triple in the fourth, with Grace and Meine on the sacks, was the Pirate big push.

The victory was the twelfth of the season for Meine and his second straight game in which Pirate enemies robbed him of a shutout by scoring an unearned run.

Straight Route From Plains To Lovington Is Discussed

Luke Roberts, editor and publisher of the Lovington, N. M., Leader, in Lubbock yesterday discussed a plan for a straight route from Plains to Lovington.

Mr. Roberts said the proposed new highway would shorten the present route 23 1-2 miles. Commissioners courts of both Yoakum county in Texas and Lea county in New Mexico have agreed to provide right-of-way for the project.

The proposal has been presented to the state highway commissions of Texas and New Mexico, he said. Another plan is under way to shorten the highway to Carlsbad by a new routing from Lovington to the Lea county line, Mr. Roberts said.

DIXIE REBELS

NICK DOBBS, who coached the Jefferson university Rangers last year and finished an untied and undefeated season by whipping some of the better rated football aggregations, is coming back this season with the Dallas Dixie university Rebels.

Dobbs promises another powerful blocking combination that will be worth the time and attention of any football team or fan.

When the scarlet and grey colors of Dixie goes against Simmons university September 23, several names will be missing from the lineup of last year. One part of the team will be intact—that hard running, blocking backfield which caused so much misery to opponents last year.

Jodie Whire and Jock Malone will be the regular halfback. Chuck Bird, the stocky fullback from Ranger, will be at his old position. Rabbitt Minnehan, a smart field general, has quarterback cinched.

Other backs who will bid for starting positions include Cook, Hart, Pruitt, Gilmer, McLemore, Siler, Miller and several other youngsters who plan to matriculate at Dixie university which is a law school.

The FRONT WALL

AMONG the 1932 linemen returning will be Miles, Leonard and Reynolds, ends; Livingston, Wheeler, Close Murphy, Johnson and O'Connor, tackles. All these players weigh two hundred or more.

The guard positions will be cared for by Dobbs, Ranson and Hill with several youngsters having an outside chance to play a few games. Johnny Cole of Fort Worth looks promising as a guard candidate.

Frank Martin is scheduled to take care of center. Coach Dobbs will not start training until September 10.

The Schedule

THE schedule is about complete with the season starting September 15th, with the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Oklahoma.

Following this game Simmons university will be played September 23rd, and September 30 will probably see the Eighth Corps area champs, the 23rd infantry at Dallas. The next game will perhaps be the hardest on the schedule, against the tough Texas Tech Matadors.

Texas Military college, Oklahoma City university, Kansas State teachers, University of North Dakota, Depaul University, Dakota Wesleyan and either the University of Idaho or Washington and Jefferson will wind up the regular season's play.

McGee Sentenced To Hang Oct. 16

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2. (AP) — Walter H. McGee today was formally sentenced to be hanged October 16 for the kidnaping of Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager.

Judge Allen C. Southern overruled McGee's motion for a new trial.

Ralph T. Harding, counsel for McGee, was granted an application for appeal to the state supreme court, which probably will delay the execution.

"I don't believe I should have been sentenced to death," McGee said when the judge asked him to step forward before sentence was pronounced.

BASEBALL'S BIG O

(By The Associated Press)

Chick Hafey, whose bat carried him to the top of the National League batting averages two years ago, yesterday climbed into baseball's Big Six, which for the day, at least, becomes the "Big Seven" Hafey cracked out two hits in four times at bat for a gain of one point and a tie with Wes Schulmerich, of Philadelphia, for the third position in the National League's half of the sextet, with an average of .327. Jimmy Foxx was the only other member to make a gain, the Athletics' slugging first baseman pounding out three hits, including two home runs, to boost his average two points to .360.

How Farmer May Cooperate In Wheat Allotment Program Is Explained By Extension Service; Details Are Given

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 2 (Special)—Just how the individual Texas farmer may figure for himself on what terms he may cooperate with the government in the domestic allotment plan for wheat is described in material just received by the Extension service from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington.

Suppose you live in a county where the county five-year average of wheat production just equals the county three-year average production, that you raised 1000 bushels from 60 acres in 1930, 1500 bushels from 65 acres in 1931, and 800 bushels from 55 acres in 1932. Your average production for these years was 1100 bushels and your average acres 60. Your domestic allotment would be 54 per cent of the 1100 bushels or 594 bushels, and this would be your allotment for this year and 1934 and 1935 without change. On this 594 bushels you would be paid by the government in the form of an extra premium not less than 28 cents per bushel nor more than 30 cents per bushel, less the expense of local administration. You would receive from $166.32 to $178.20, less local administration costs, $118.80 soon after September 15th and the balance about June 1st 1934. The cost of local administration by county wheat production control association is estimated at 2 cents per bushel or $11.98.

Free To Sell Crop

You would be free to sell your wheat crop when, where and to whom you pleased. If you have already sold your 1933 crop that would not matter. Your 1933 crop, however, must have totalled at least your allotment or 594 bushels, or the amount seeded in the fall of 1932 must have been enough at average yields to have produced at least this amount.

In return for these payments and similar ones which may be authorized by the secretary of agriculture for 1934 and 1935 you would sign a three-year contract by which you would agree to reduce acreage as directed by the Secretary not to exceed 20 per cent. Your three-year average acreage was 60 acres, therefore you would be asked to reduce your acres this fall by not more than 12, leaving you 48 acres. You would not be compelled to sow as much as 48 acres but you would have to sow enough to produce your allotment of 594 bushels, assuming average yields. Your three-year average yield was 18.3 bushels per acre, and at this rate you would have to sow at least 32.4 acres to comply with your contract.

Must Follow Orders

To fulfill your contract you would have to sow and farm your wheat acreage in a workmanlike manner, and replace the retired wheat acres with no crops other than those for soil enrichment, prevention of soil erosion, food for home use, or feed for livestock to be used at home.

If you perform your part of the contract the government will pay you the extra benefits described whether you make a crop or not. The payments this fall and next spring will be made regardless of whether your 1933 crop failed or made. In the respect the plan furnishes crop insurance.

Must Join This Year

To cooperate in the plan you must sign a contract in the coming campaign and cannot join as late as next year. You must abide by the contract the full three-year period (1933-34-35), and failure to live up to the contract will cause the Government to collect back any advances paid.

The contract attaches to the farm and not the farmer. If you move to another farm the tenant who follows you must abide by the contract. If you move to a farm where a contract is in force you must abide by it. Landlords and tenants share in benefits in exact proportion to their rental agreements.

In the example given above it was assumed that you live in a county where the three-year average wheat production was the same as the average county five-year production. If you happen to live in a county where wheat acreage has been increasing and the three-year average for 1930-31-32 is higher than the county five-year average, your allotment would be reduced in proportion. On the other hand if wheat acreage has been decreasing in your county and the three-year average is lower than the five year average your allotment would be increased in proportion.

More detailed explanation of the workings of the plan, especially on how county wheat production control associations are to be organized and how they will adjust individual farm allotments, may be obtained from local county agents.

Method Of Payment Is Explained

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 2. — (Special) — Adjustment payment checks for those growers who qualify under the wheat production control program will be made directly payable to wheat farmers, and no deductions will be required to off-set governmental loan indebtedness, according to officials of the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

This decision will make an estimated difference of millions of dollars in the cash payment which will be made available to wheat growers this year. Under the terms of the wheat contracts, growers who agree to cooperate in the governmental program of acreage reduction will receive cash payments of 20 cents a bushel this fall and between 8 and 10 cents late next spring on their individual wheat allotments, less the cost of local administration of the plan. Deduction of sums owned the Government on loans would have reduced greatly the amount of cash to be made immediately available.

The Farm Credit administration is asking wheat farmers to apply as much as they can of the proceeds from the adjustment payments to their debts to the government, but there is nothing compulsory about it.

There is a legal distinction regarding government indebtedness in the case of wheat adjustment payments as compared with similar payments in the cotton reduction program. The cotton payment checks will be made payable jointly to the grower and to the Farm Credit administration, with some of the government debt claims subject to negotiation where private interests are involved. In the case of cotton, part of the loan security is destroyed when growers plow under a portion of the crop. The security is not thus destroyed under the wheat plan.

Chimpanzee Used In Jungle Film Attacks Carole Lombard

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2. (AP)—Attacked by a chimpanzee used for atmosphere in a jungle picture, Carole Lombard, blonde film actress, suffered a lacerated arm yesterday.

A physician dressed the wound inflicted by the sharp claws and teeth of the chimpanzee. It flew into a rage and seised Miss Lombard. Her screams attracted attendants who drove off the enraged animal.

Two Negroes Being Held For Abduction, Attack On Girl

HENDERSON, N. C., Sept. 2. (AP)—Florida Bullock and Bufus Kelly, negroes, were held today on charges of kidnaping and attacking Mary Lena Vandyke, 16, who said the two beat her at her home near here August 23 when she refused to tell them where her father had hidden his money.

The defense offered no testimony and bail was fixed at $5,000 each. The next term is in October.

Cases Are Set In Court Here

Heavy Criminal Docket Facing 99th District Court As It Opens Monday; Floyd Trial Will Come Up

Tentative setting of several criminal cases on the docket for the 99th district court which opens Monday, was announced late Saturday by District Attorney Daniel A Blair.

The principal case is that of the State of Texas vs. J. R. Readhimer and V. A. Readhimer, of Floyd county, charged with murder for the slaying of Stokes Campbell, a Floydada school boy, last April. Setting is for the week of October 2.

Bank Trial Set

Three cases against J. E. Aldridge, Muleshoe, charging violation of the banking acts and also sent here on a change of venue, are set for October 23.

"The first two weeks of the term will be given over to grand jury work," Mr. Blair said. "There are a number of jail cases to come before the jury. We expect to try these cases during the next six weeks.

"In fact, there will be criminal work in six out of the first eight weeks, the way it looks now. This is one of the heaviest dockets to go before a grand jury in the history of Lubbock county."

Burks Handles Evidence

Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, is to handle the presentation of evidence to the grand jury during the next two weeks. Mr. Blair expects to be out of the city a portion of the time, handling work in Hockley county.

Mr. Blair will be in Levelland this week. He announced that two cases for Hockley county had been set for September 11. One is the case of the State vs. Jim Douglass, charged with theft of over $50. The other is the State vs. John Carr, transferred from Cochran county. It is a liquor case.

Mississippi's record corn crop was grown in 1917, when 4,100,000 acres yielded 87,000,000 bushels.

GENERAL JUMBOS are Easy to Steer

How can such a big tire steer so easily? The right hand cross section below shows why. The Jumbo is wide at the rim and tapers to a narrow tread—no wider than a regular balloon. It is radically different from the narrow-rim, wide-tread enlarged balloons known as "doughnut" tires. The Jumbo's patented design eliminates sidesway and shimmy—gives stability and safety impossible with "doughnut" tires. There is no other tire like it. A ride will show the big difference.

Sweetwater Is Chosen As Next Host City As Convention Of County Officials Closes In Lubbock Saturday

tion for Texas, before Senator Small spoke, had condemned the legislature in reducing salaries and voting for the members the maximum salary.

"If Clint Small weren't here I'd express just what I think of the legislature," Hatton declared.

The senator, in reply, said he received $1,200 for two years work, and "the first salary I voted to reduce was my own, and I voted against lowering of most salaries."

Senator Small, assigned to explain the new home rule amendment, devoted his time to a plea for proper expenditure of the $20,000,000 bonds for relief of destitute and unemployed.

Expenditures Attacked

Sharply attacking expenditure of federal funds under the work relief set-up, Senator Small held as "a reflection on the intelligence of our citizens" some of the uses of the funds.

"We let able bodied men chop a weed here and there, and put them on a dole," he declared. "We've been spending federal money that way. I want to see Texas money spent on needed, worthwhile projects.

"Weed cutters are squandering the money and creating in their minds the idea the government will care for them," he declared. There was ringing applause.

Give Them Work

"Tell the able bodied men, 'We are going to give you a chance to work, and if you don't work you can starve. There's no place for you in Texas.'"

He pointed out that destitute persons who cannot work will be cared for out of the bond issue funds.

Mr. Small declared that the full amount of bonds allowed under the amendment would not be issued.

In connection with his mention of expenditure of relief funds, he said:

Oh, How It Grows

"Plant a little bureau and water it with a little appropriation, and how it grows, oh, how it grows. When the legislature comes back it's occupying a wing of the capitol and you have to build a place for it."

He urged counties to plan projects, including lateral roads, for work relief.

"If your counties can't take care of this money without administrative expenses, I'm for letting you take care of your needy by yourselves," he said. "Let's use this on lateral roads, we need them."

Jones Is Praised

Without calling his name, Mr. Small praised Clifford B. Jones of Spur who is administrator in three states of the public works funds.

Mr. Small said "chances are good for 25 to 50 million dollars more in federal funds for use on Texas roads." He credited A. B. Davis, chamber of commerce manager, of Lubbock with starting the move for funds.

Sterling C. Evans, district agricultural agent, discussed farm legislation and the national farm recovery program.

Future Is Brighter

"If the government plan succeeds the future for the farmer looks brighter than ever before," he said.

Three cities, besides Sweetwater, invited the 1934 convention, but only two others had invitations supported by motions from the convention floor. El Paso and Plainview pressed their invitations, but a telegram from Brownwood was that city's only play for the next meeting.

In their resolution involving expenditure of bond funds for relief, the judges and commissioners asked that no money be spent for administration, that direct relief be given disabled destitute persons, that no direct relief go to able bodied citizens, and that no money be spent except on well-planned projects.

Second Vote Passes

The resolution involving payment for bollworm eradication apparently lost on the first viva voce vote. After a standing vote had been suggested, Judge Joseph McGill of El Paso county and others spoke to the resolution. It was explained farmers of 11 West Texas counties would receive about $610,000 for losses estimated at $15,000,000. A second vote brought far more ayes than nays.

The convention also voted its appreciation for its entertainment here, approved a resolution asking federal relief for cattle raisers in drouth-striken areas, urged advancement of a date set by the legislature for taxes prior to this year to become delinquent, opposed forwarding of sinking fund deposits to the state treasury, and asked the legislature to fix a fee for notice and hearing on an application to sell beer. The officials asked the legislature to authorize use of relief bond funds to care for aged and incapacitated persons, now cared for by the counties.

The legislature set July 1, 1934, as a date for payment of delinquent taxes without penalty and interest. The association asked that this date be fixed at December 30, instead.

A. M. Eubanks Loses Cash In New Mexico Airplane Crash

A. M. Eubanks, of the composing room of the Avalanche-Journal, is probably one of the few Lubbock persons who lost valuables in the Transcontinental air line crash near Tucumcari, N. M., last week.

The afternoon before the crash Mr. Eubank registered a letter to Mrs. Eubanks in Los Angeles, containing some money. It left Lubbock in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and was placed aboard the air liner at Amarillo that night. Next morning the plane crashed with the loss of the entire passenger list and crew and the mail.

Believe It Or Not, Mr. Ripley!

Abernathy Man Tells Of Father's Sister Having Seven Of Her Children With Her; Oldest 75, Youngest Is 65

W. H. CAIN of Abernathy has a story that he believes will make Bob Ripley's "Believe It or Not."

"My father's youngest sister, Mrs. Mary Perdue, of Hickory Post, near Nashville, Tenn., has seven of her children living with her under the same roof," he said. "The oldest is 75 years of age and the youngest 65. There is a total of 446 years living under that one roof."

The elder Cain and his brothers lived in Tennesee before the civil war. He went south and enlisted in the Confederate army and served throughout, going back to Georgia after the war. His brothers served in the Union army and all returned to Tennesse again. He never saw them after that, his son said.

Several years ago Mr. Cain's sister went to that state and while there decided to look up her father's relatives. She had never seen them. She found the aged aunt and her family. A few months ago Mr. Cain received a letter from his sister in which she told of their aunt living with her seven children at home.

Secret Group To Fight Communism Formed At Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 2. (AP)—A national patriotic organization, secret as to its personnel and meeting places, to fight "communism and other influences which have for a decade been undermining our nation," was born in Dallas last night.

Dallas post No. 1, United American Actives, was organized and other posts in the state and nation will be formed within a short time, according to Clarence Parker, head of the organization. No other officers or members names will be revealed, Parker said.

"When communists speak from the courthouse steps and respect for law has declined all over the nation," Parker said, "and when the president needs cooperation in the enforcement of NRA agreements, we feel such an organization is needed. The organization will take an active part in other national efforts for the restoration of our country's welfare.

"There already are similar organizations in formation in San Antonio, Houston and other Texas cities."

is as follows: mimimum, 30 cents for picked cotton where cleaners are in common use and 35 cents for bollies; maximum, 35 cents for picked cotton and 40 cents for bollies. Sledded cotton carries an extra five-cent charge over the price of bollies.

Under no condition will ginners be allowed to gin wet cotton, Mr. Thompson said, this regulation being provided to protect the farmer from loss in weight.

The ginners re-elected directors who in turn will name officers within the next two weeks. Directors named were: R. E. Patterson, Lockney, president; Geo. A. Simmons, Lubbock, vice-president; Ray Grisham, Plainview, secretary; R. D. Holmes, Lubbock; J. W. McDonald, Lamesa; J. S. Edwards, Slaton, and Lon W. Davis, Floydada, directors.

Code Is Explained

Under the ginners code, a 50-hour week will regulate gin hands with the exception of office forces which must come under the 40-hour regulation. No ginner can work a gin hand more than 400 hours in eight weeks. All labor, with the single exception of weigher, bookkeeper, or head office clerical, was thrown into one general class. A minimum wage has been fixed at twenty cents per hour, each individual ginner being urged to pay the highest possible wage for all classes, but in no case less than the minimum wage for any labor. If employes are paid on a per bale basis, then hours and total wages must conform to the above minimum scale. Wages paid bookkeeper, weigher, head office man, or however designated, must conform to the sale and if such employe was drawing 40 cents per hour on July 15, 1929, then such wages must be paid, if not, then in no case less than 30 cents per hour. But this individual is granted unlimited hours, that is, he is not subject to the 40-hour nor then 50-hour week average over any eight-week period.

Ginners present appeared to be wholeheartedly behind the NRA agreement and indications were that practically every gin in this section would be flying the Blue Eagle before cotton season opens up.

The meeting opened at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and closed at 4:30 p. m. A buffet luncheon was served at noon through the courtesy of the oil mills, machinery dealers and supply houses of the Plains.

Shanghai Is Flooded When Typhoon Approaches Area

SHANGHAI, Sept. 2. (AP)—Downtown Shanghai was flooded tonight by torrential rains and overflow from the Whangpo river as a typhoon approached within 40 miles of the city.

The storm then deflected northwestward and apparently was destined to strike the coast of Shantung province.

High tides forced the river into the business district, water pouring into dozens of buildings, halting traffic and stalling hundreds of motor cars. Shipping was paralyzed.

Italo-Soviet Treaty Signed; Harmful Practices Outlawed

ROME, Sept. 2. (AP)—Premier Mussolini and Soviet Ambassador Potemkin today signed an Italo-Soviet non-aggression treaty at the Venezia palace.

The pact includes a mutual promise not to boycott products of the other country or to engage in mutually harmful economic or political practices.

The political section of the agreement is similar to the recent Franco-Soviet accord. It does not define aggression, as do several pacts between the Soviet union and border states.

Perjury Charges Are Threatened

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2. (AP) — Charges that "good business men, good citizens and peace officers" had testified falsely before the county grand jury now in session were made in circuit court here today by Matthew A. Foster, the jury foreman. He hinted that some may be indicted for perjury.

Addressing Judge Allen C. Southern, Foster said:

"It is astonishing how many good business men and good citizens and peace officers have come before this grand jury and wilfully made misstatements about law violations in this city that they certainly must have known about.

"In other words," he went on, "they have plainly lied to the grand jury.

"We hope before we get through to return indictments for perjury against some of these persons."

Judge Southern said, "You have the power to indict anyone for perjury you think should be indicted. You know your duty and can proceed."

The grand jury has been investigating racketeering.

Labor Day To Be Celebrated

Dances, Baseball, Rodeo And Parties To Feature Program Here; Stores Will Be Open For Dollar Day

With a double holiday ahead, Lubbock and the South Plains yesterday began preparing to observe Labor Day.

The program will include dances, baseball, rodeo, theater parties, and hunting. Lubbock's stores will remain open Monday and "Dollar Day" specials will be offered.

The prairie chicken season will close Monday, and the extreme western plains of Texas are expecting scores of hunters from all sections of the state.

Local Barbers union No. 781 will sponsor a charity dance Monday night at Hotel Hilton. Logan Largent's orchestra will play. A portion of the funds will be used for relief of jobless. A three-day rodeo at Johnston's ranch began yesterday. It will continue today and Monday. Dances are being held in connection.

Banks will be closed Monday, as will the postoffice. Acting Postmaster M. M. Brown said there would be two mail collections and one delivery in the downtown section.

ment," Stillwell said, is that they have no real contracts for the coming year.

"There isn't a school board in Texas," he said, "that has been quite fair with its teachers in the matter of contracts. The teachers have what are called contracts, but they have been written so that there is no assurance that they will get definite salaries or any salaries at all."

Many boards also acted unfairly, Stillwell said in letting out older, experienced teachers so that some inexperienced home town girl could have a job.

"With all this, however," he said, "the outlook is much brighter today than it was a year ago."

Tragedy Rides

teem of Mussolini was well known to his intimates here.

"This will probably be De Pinedo's last big flight," one friend said recently while the flier was preparing for his takeoff. "He wants above all to regain his place in the sun."

Entwined too in the emotional background of the flight was the oft-hear rumor that the flier, a bachelor whose fortune was estimated at about $4,000,000, once was engaged to the former Princess Giovanna Elizabeth, daughter of King Victory Emanuel of Italy. The rumor was never confirmed.

Rescuer Beaten Back

Armed with a fire extinguisher, Michael Hicks Beach, naval machinist's mate, made a gallant effort to reach De Pinedo, but was beaten back by the intense heat of the burning wreckage. Hicks was severely burned on the face and arms.

Evidence that the flier had made a last desperate effort to free himself was found by airport officials in the fact that the body was discovered just outside the cabin plane. He had apparently jumped and tried to crawl away.

Ugo D'Annunzio, son of the farrior-poet hero of Fiume, stood nearby as the flier waved a carefree farewell. D'Annunzio, an aeronatical engineer had helped De Pinedo condition the plane.

Determined To Go

D'Annunzio, tears in his eyes, his face pale, said:

"I thought sure he would cut the switch. When you start to sway in a plant, the farther you go the worse it gets.

"But he had been here so long, he had determined to go. I think he thought to the last moment that he could lift the heavy plane into the air."

By flying 6,300 miles to Baghdad, De Pinedo had hoped to break the long distance record of 5,653 1-2 miles set by Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi in a flight last month from New York to Rayak, Syria.

"I shall try to do my best," De Pinedo had commented just before his ill-fated takeoff attempt.

"This is an adventure to see if I am growing old."

About 100,000 Men Will Be Signed Up For CCC Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — Administration officials estimated today at least 100,000 men would be enlisted in October to continue the civilian conservation work.

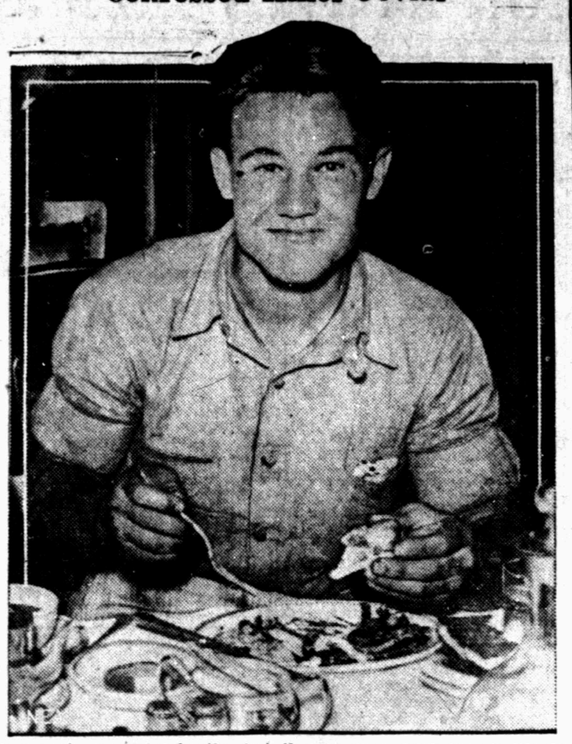

Plans for carrying out President Roosevelt's orders to keep the corps at work for another half year were announced today by Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work.

He said all 300,000 men now in the corps would be discharged between October 1, and October 15, bringing the first six months enrollment period to an end, but that those desiring to, might sign up for the second term.

Public Debt Of The United States Increased $488,626,262 In August

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP)—The public debt of the United States increased $488,626,262 during August.

Treasury figures today showed that on August 31, the total was $23,098,514,910, as compared with $22,609,888,648 on July 31.

To offset the August increase in the gross debt the net balance in the general fund rose from $833,932,959 to $1,199,515,472, a jump of $365,582,513.

Total receipts for the month were $187,788,487. This figure included $14,483,595 in income taxes and $9,134, 166 from the processing tax on farm products.

Customs receipts for the month were $32,690,281.

The income tax receipts compared with $15,416,230.01 in August, 1932.

Customs receipts for that month were $24,116,051. Total receipts for August, 1932, were $101,113,821.

Total expenditures for last month were $309,716,804, as compared with $352,001,108 for the same month last year.

The August, 1933, outgo included $138,650,775 in emergency expenditures in connection with the recovery program.

The deficit for the month just closed was $121,928,317 as compared with $250,887,267 for August, 1932.

RFC Millions

any labor organization would be barred.

Johnson said informally that this would be as much a violation of the law guaranteeing collective bargaining of the workers' own chosing as a closed shop that barred unions entirely.

Expresses Confidence

It was this question that brought the new flare up between the conferees, but Johnson still expressed confidence that an agreement would be worked out.

The administration still was without recent word from Henry Ford as to his attitude on the automobile code for the industry, but the Detroit manufacturer has until Tuesday—the day the code becomes effective—to affiliate himself with it.

Should he not do so, it was understood in authoritative sources, no immediate and positive action is intended by the administration.

A Losing Battle

Officials expressed belief that even if Ford should choose to stand independent of the NRA program, public opinion against him would be sufficient to make his a losing battle. It was pointed out that should the manufacturer adopt a course of higher wages and lower maximum hours than are included in the automotive code, he would not be able to display the Blue Eagle of NRA without signing a certificate of compliance with the code.

Despite this method, described as "letting nature take its course," the administration was depicted as determined, not only in Ford's case, but in that of all important employers that none should deliberately reject the recovery program.

To Invoke Powers

Should it be necessary, it was said President Roosevelt was ready to invoke the licensing provisions of the act under which he would issue permits to manufacturers to operate. A jail sentence and fine for operating without a license is provided.

The tentative credit plan to be placed before President Roosevelt next week would permit business men to set up a mortgage company in their own community which would become eligible to receive direct loans from the Reconstruction Corporation and in turn make loans to industry to finance the increased payrolls and, possibly, larger merchandise inventories.

This indirect method had been decided upon because all provisions for loans directly to industry were stricken out of the recovery-public works bill before it went to congress.

Jesse Jones, the RFC chairman, suggested a possible alternative plan of increasing the capital structure of banks through the issuance of preferred stock in which the RFC would participate.

Jones supported the statement of Administrator Johnson that the commercial banks were not functioning enough to meet demands, although they as a whole have the necessary funds.

The denial of discrimination came after union employes of the Chevrolet Co. in St. Louis had telegraphed to President Roosevelt a plea that the General Motors Corp., of which Chevrolet is a unit, be denied the right to display the NRA Blue Eagle, because, they charged, 100 active union employes had been discharged. G. M. Low, manager of the St. Louis plant, declared that some men were laid off due to slowing down of production, but that there was no discrimination against union men. Officials here said the St. Louis plant was "60 per cent organized and perhaps it was inevitable that some trouble should follow."

Makes No Statement

Although Ford has made no public statement on the matter, associates, refusing the use of their names, have said the collective bargaining provision of the NRA code is one of the major objections he finds to the agreement.

"Mr. Ford," said one associate, "will not recognize labor unions and he will not acceed to any law or emergency arrangements whereby his rivals can get access to other manufacturers' figures. He holds that these should be held inviolate."

Go Beyond NRA

This, the associates say, is a leading reason why the motor manufacturer, according to all present indications, will not sign the NRA code, will let the deadline for signing next Tuesday slip past and will launch forth on a campaign of carrying his case to the public in a firm battle with the NRA.

Ford, the associates believe, is going "far beyond the NRA" provisions in his forthcoming plans. He may even announce a return to the famous $5 a day minimum wage, they say. His employes now receive a minimum of $4 a day, for an 8-hour five day week. The NRA code provides 43 cents an hour for a 35-hour week.

CUTS FARM LABOR

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Power and machinery on farms caused a reduction in labor requirements in wheat and corn production of more than 50 per cent in some localities in the last 30 years and a considerably higher percentage since 1840, says the department of agriculture.

Royal Marriage Being Reported

MADRID, Sept. 2, (AP)—Unusually reliable monarchist circles reported today that a marriage has been planned between Juan Carlos, 20, heir pretender to the Spanish throne, and Princess Maria, 19, daughter of the king of Italy.

The ceremony is scheduled to be held soon, according to these reports, and it will be with full pomp and honor in accordance with the rank of the pretendership, with the pope officiating and Premier Mussolini officially sponsoring it.

The guests, it is said, will include highest ranking representatives of the nations, among whom will be the Prince of Wales. One informant said the ceremony would be one of the most elaborate royal weddings in recent times, in accordance with the rigid Spanish-Italian protocol.

It is recalled that former King Alfonso recently visited the pope and the Italian royal family for a lengthy stay.

Juan Carlos became heir pretender after the marriage of his elder brother, the prince of the Asturias and Edelmira Sampedro, daughter of a Cuban merchant, on June 21. The second son, Jaime, is a deaf mute, and thus the pretendership went to Juan Carlos.

The prince and the Italian princess are understood to have met when Juan Carlos was on leave recently. He is serving as a courtesy cadet in the British navy.

Patton And Showalter Both No-Billed On Arson Charge

LONGVIEW, Sept. 2 (AP)—H. H. Wellborn, district attorney of Rusk county, has reported that the grand jury there had returned no-bills for Otis L. Patton and R. C. Showalter, who had been charged with arson in connection with the dynamiting of the Gulf No. 4 C. E. Christian well the night of May 17.

Wellborn said the grand jury acted on the recommendation of Ranger Sergeant C. H. Plott and Rangers George Johnson and W. Z. Weems, who had investigated the dynamiting. Patton had been freed on $1,500 bail the day after his arrest. The grand jury action occurred a month ago but was just revealed.

Rattlesnake Bite Is Fatal For 10-Year-Old Texas Boy

WACO, Sept. 2. (AP)—The bite of a "diamond back" rattlesnake brought death late yesterday to Hubert Raborn, 10, at Oglesby about 25 miles west of Waco. He was bitten while picking cotton for his father, I. N. Raborn, on the Pat Neff farm on the Leon river, where the family lives.

To exterminate trout in the red salmon spawning waters of Alaska, the territory and private packers have appropriated $22,500.

Business Men Hopeful Of Prosperity On Sound Basis Within A Short Time

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — President Henry I. Harriman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States communicated to its membership today the assertion that most thoughtful business men are hopeful "America can expect fair prosperity on a sound basis within a short time."

Simultaneously, Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA leader, expressed appreciation through the chamber of business men for their cooperation in the recovery plan.

Hope Replaces Fear

"Hope has replaced fear and discouragement," wrote Harriman in an appraisal of progress under the industrial and farm laws.

He told of banks being in better position, improved employment, farm prices, carloadings and steel production, adding:

"No one can at this time make a complete appraisal of what has happened but business conditions are certainly far better now than they were on March 1 and it is the hope of most thoughtful business men that the business cycle is now on the upward swing and that America can expect fair prosperity on a sound basis within a relatively short time.

Child Labor Ended

"Any review of what has happened would be incomplete that did not recognize certain great social changes. Child labor is a thing of the past, the sweat shops will not again appear on the industrial horizon and the exploitation of labor as a result of cut-throat competition will not again bring misery and suffering to untold thousands. Also the forty-hour week or a week of even fewer hours has become definitely a part of the national program.

"The efforts being made to bring about economic recovery must of necessity present serious problems. Undoubtedly mistakes have been made and will be made; but we may well characterize the operation of these two great acts, the industrial recovery act and the agricultural adjustment act, as sincere and probably effective efforts to coordinate and rationalize American industry along Democratic lines and to assure economic security and industrial liberty to employers, employees and those who work on the farm."

Sea Scout Training Course Opens In City Sept. 19; Is Backed By Legion

Date of the opening of the Sea Scouts training course being sponsored by Allen Brothers post of the American Legion, has been set for Tuesday, September 19, at Legion hall on Texas avenue, just north of the city hall, D. T. Jennings, sea scout executive, said yesterday.

Mr. Brook S. Stephens, formerly of San Antonio where he participated in the work, will be the instructor. The course is to last for six weeks, meeting each Tuesday night.

"We want all the scoutmasters and assistants and the older boys and others interested in sea scouting to attend," Mr. Jennings said. "It has been decided to permit the older leaders, boys of 17 years and older, to attend.

"Sea scouting is for the older boys. Those who have reached their 15th birthday and over may join, but the work is especially for those who are too old for boy scout work.

"There are a lot of men interested and we invite all who are, to attend the course."

The expense will be small probably not to exceed $1.50 to $2. This will include a manual costing 60 cents, and for supplies. Mr. Jennings said that 25 or 30 or more older scouts had indicated a desire to attend.

A few years ago the national council sent Thomas J. Keane, national sea scout executive and Charles F. Smith, on a tour over the nation to hold courses. One of these was held in San Antonio and it was there that Dr. Stephens took his work.

Much of the work can be given without actual use of water, although in the advanced work this is necessary. Sea scouting has attained a nation-wide place among scout work, according to Mr. Jennings.

Chairman F. B. Malone of the area council recently named a committee to look after sea scout work. Members are: T. C. Lamb, chairman; Riley F Huie and H. H. Jons. All of them, it is said, have had sea experience.

Rapid Flying Development In Mexico Shown In Report

MEXICO, D. F., Sept. 2. (AP) — Rapid development of commercial flying throughout Mexico during the past year was recounted in President Rodrigues' report to the opening session of congress.

The president reported that 27,588 passengers were flown over 3,119,221 kilometers without a fatal accident, and that eleven commercial companies are now operating routes totaling 11,390 kilometers of which 5,125, kilometers was added to commercial lines in the past year. He said landing fields gradually are being established all over the country.

Head of the department of communications reported that the international highway to Laredo is scheduled to be finished next year, after which a program of developing interstate highways will be begun.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2. (AP)—Cattle trade at midwestern markets was marked by a continued movement of fed steers and yearlings, while shipments of grass cattle were comparatively light.

Strictly good and choice fed steers in Chicago finished the week with a 25 upturn, but at most centers grain-fed steers ruled steady to 25 lower. Although stocker and feeder classes were in relatively light quota for this season of the year, country demand was narrow and some centers reported declines of 25 or more.

Shipments of stockers and feeders from Kansas City since the first of July are only about 50 per cent of the same number taken out the same period a year ago. Receipts at eight markets for the week approximated 170,000, against 188,769 last week and 183,614 a year ago.

Hog prices worked lower the fore part of the week, but on closing sessions most of the loss was recovered. Chicago had a late top of 4.50.

Chicago reports little change in fat lamb prices for the week, but most of the river markets show losses of 25 to 50. Sheep and yearlings ruled steady to 25 lower.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2. (AP)—Hogs 5,500 including 460 direct and 5,000 government pigs; truck hogs topped at 4.00; better grades lights 3.25@3.85; packing sows 2.50.

Cattle 150; calves 100; today's trade nominal. Week's tops: slaughter steers 4.90; fed yearlings 6.50; fat cows 3.25; heavy calves 4.75. Bulk prices: plain slaughter steers 3.00@3.50; medium grades 3.75@4.50; weighty steers 4.00@4.75; fed yearlings 5.00@5.75; butcher sorts 3.00@4.00; fat cows 2.50@3.00; cutters and low cutters 1.35@1.65; medium grade stocker calves 3.50@3.75; few good steer calves 4.00@4.50; plain calves and yearlings around 3.00; slaughter calves 3.75@4.25.

Sheep 600; today's trade nominal. For week: good car lot lambs up to 6.00; medium to good grades truck lambs 4.75@5.50; wooled fat 1-year-old wethers up to 3.50; good wooled aged wethers 3.00; shorn aged wethers 2.50@2.75.

NEWS BRIEFS

A large crowd of singers is expected at Abernathy Sunday for the six-corner singing convention. It will start in the afternoon according to Brad Seale of Abernathy, in charge of arrangements.

Doyle Settle of Abernathy, son of J. P. Settle a rural mail carrier there, was named postal clerk at the branch postoffice at Texas Tech last week. He has begun his work.

Homer McKee of O'Donnell was treated in Lubbock sanitarium Saturday morning for a broken left arm, suffered when a horse kicked him.

Hearing on the appeal of Paul Mitchell, first man in Lubbock county to be given the death penalty, from the decision of the district court, is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, October 4 before the state court of criminal appeals at Austin. As both the district attorney and the defense attorneys are expected to be engaged in another case here, it was indicated by District Attorney Dan Blair yesterday that the submission might be postponed. Vickers and Campbell, defense attorneys, will be in the Readheimer case, scheduled for 99th district court that week.

Tax rates for the 13 independent school districts that have P. F. Brown as collector and assessor, will be $1 per $100 valuation, Mr. Brown said yesterday. Valuations in most of the districts have been reduced for 1933 from the previous year's totals. Districts are: Barton, County Line, Carlisle, Foster, Grovesville, Hardy, Hurlwood, Liberty, McClung, Monroe, Posey, Woodrow and Wolfforth.

District Attorney Dan Blair is to go to Levelland Monday for the opening of the 72nd district court. The Hockley county grand jury is to meet the same day that Judge Homer L. Pharr opens court. Aside from the V. L. Bradley case in which Bradley is charged with the murder of Tom Lattimer, there are not many cases scheduled for investigation by the grand jury, Mr. Blair said. Burton S. Burks, assistant, is remaining here working on the cases to be presented the grand jury of the 99th court which assembles Tuesday.

Judge E. L. Pitts has been appointed deputy district governor of District 2-T, Lions International, according to word received here from District Governor Del Harrington of El Paso. Judge Pitts is a past president of the local club and his candidacy for the district governorship was announced by local Lions at the district convention held in Amarillo this past spring.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, has been secured to First Presbyterian church this morning, P. H. Laverty, class president, said last night.

Kenneth Hemphill, Littlefield, Texas Tech graduate and later athletic coach at Littlefield high school, stopped off briefly in Lubbock yesterday afternoon enroute home from Dallas where he has been attending S. M. U. Mr. Hemphill said he expected to complete both his college work and his seminary work next summer. He is studying for the ministry. Mr. Hemphill plans to spend several weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hemphill before returning to Dallas.

There is to be a corner stone service at the College Avenue Baptist church which is under construction at Tenth street and College avenue at 3 o'clock this afternoon. T. C. Gardner of Dallas, secretary of Baptist Training school work in Texas, is to be in charge of the ceremony.

Miss Lois Freeman left Saturday for Floydada where she will teach Spanish and Latin in the Floydada high school. Miss Freeman received her M. A. degree at the summer commencement of Texas Tech.

Virgil Rhodes, eight, of Hale Center, was treated last night at the Lubbock sanitarium for injuries received when a cow kicked him. No broken bones were found. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock Saturday evening. He was severely cut and bruised.

Cap Moure, deputy sheriff, went to Tahoka last night to return a man wanted here on a hot check charge. The man had been picked up by Lynn county officers and Sheriff Tom Able notified.

James Potts Named Assistant County Agent In Harris Area

James W. Potts, graduate of the division of agriculture at Texas Technological college last June, has been named assistant county agent of Harris county and left late yesterday for Houston, where he will start his duties this week.

Mr. Potts is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Potts of the Canyon community, east of town. He has been active in 4-H club work for the past six or seven years and has won many signal honors in that work including a trip to the annual 4-H encampment at Washington, D. C.; a trip to the Dallas state fair, a trip to the Chicago National Livestock show and the Kansas City American Royal show as well as other shows.

During his senior year he was student assistant in agronomy in the division of agriculture at Texas Tech. En route to Houston, Mr. Potts expects to visit Sunday with D. F. Eaton, former Lubbock county agent, at Albany, Shackelford county, where he is now located.

Third Driver In Wreck Is Found

J. L. Cornwell, Ralls, was the third car driver in the 3-car smashup on highway 24 east of town, Friday afternoon, he told Sheriff Tom Able yesterday. Cornwell said he read about the wreck in the Avalanche and found that officers had not learned his name, so he came to Lubbock and told his story to the sheriff.

Cornwell said he was driving to Lubbock from Ralls and that about four miles from town, as he was meeting a car coming east, another car came from behind him, grazed his left rear fender and damaged it, and crashed into the oncoming car. Aside from the damaged fender, Mr. Cornwell's car was not seriously damaged. He said he assisted in getting passing motorists to take the injured wreck victims to Lubbock.

The four injured persons were still in the Lubbock sanitarium last night and all were reported improving. Sheriff Bailey Bingham of Stonewall county was the most seriously hurt but he was reported as some better. Others injured were, Mrs. Bingham, John W. Hoy of Swenson and D. C. Clark of Olney.

Health Officers Try To Allay Fear Over Sleeping Sickness

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2. (AP)—Hearings that visitors were avoiding St. Louis and Missouri because of the "sleeping sickness' outbreak city and federal health officers have issued statements designed to allay fear in minds of outsiders.

Dr. Joseph Bredeick, city health commissioner said, "people are unnecessarily alarmed.

"There is no evidence the disease is contagious The number of cases per population is low. Business is going on the same as usual in St. Louis and schools will be opened here Tuesday."

Lubbock Laboring Men Are Asked To Attend Gathering

Lubbock laboring men, including both unorganized and organized men, are asked by Tom Carter, labor representative on the NRA committee, to meet in the district courtroom at the courthouse Tuesday at 8 p. m. to discuss NRA work.

"We want every laboring man to come out and hear about their part in the NRA," Mr. Carter said. "It will be up to the working people of Lubbock to carry this work through and we want them to support the NRA and to understand it more fully."

Presidents of the several local labor unions are to be asked to speak briefly. N. M. Gosdin, president of the Central Labor council, also will speak and Mr. Carter plans to have one of the well known speakers of Lubbock to explain the NRA drive.

Workers of all lines, clerks, machinists, carpenters, painters, paper hangers, brickmasons, printers, filling station employes, stonemasons and others, are invited. Women as well as men are invited, Mr. Carter added.

Billy, performing cat at San Quentin prison, California, clears the bar at 5 feet, 11 1-2 inches.

U. S. Tackles Farm Problem

New Regulations Drafted To Deal With Question Of How To Use 50,000,000 Acres Withdrawn From Production

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — Farm administrators have drafted new regulations to deal with one of the problems on which they hinge the success or failure of their program of retreat from agricultural production—how to use up to 50,000,000 acres of land they expect to withdraw from the production of cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and other surplus crops.

Their problem is to prevent the use of these lands in the production of crops of which there now are surpluses or threats of overproduction and to make sure that when they have paid farmers cash benefits for leaving portions of their land idle that they will not make use of it in a way which will conflict with the general farm program.

Respond To Demands

Responding to insistent demands of representatives of the daily and livestock industry, they ordered that crops ordinarly grown for home use or for feeding livestock for home consumption cannot be shifted to acres taken out of production in the national wheat program for which a campaign is now under way. This is aimed to prevent diverting the normal acreage of home use crops to the production of surplus crops.

At the same time, they called attention of cotton farmers who signed contracts to plow up more than 10,000,000 acres of growing cotton this summer that the agreement contained a provision restricting the replanting of this land to "soil improvement or erosion-preventing or food or feed crops for home use." The contracts expire next January 1 and it will not be permissible to plant crops that will be sold on the plowed land until after that date.

Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University of Texas, is the first graduate of the school to hold that position.

Filterable Virus Found In Bodies Of "Sleeping Sickness" Victims By Woman

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2 (AP)—Discovery by a woman pathologist of the presence of a filterable virus in the bodies of "Sleeping sickness" victims was acclaimed today as the first important finding in science's effort to seek a cause or cure for the puzzling disease which has taken 55 lives here in the last five weeks.

The woman is Dr. Margaret G. Smith, assistant professor of pathology at the Washington university school of medicine and a graduate of Johns Hopkins university.

Her findings were announced at a meeting last night of the St. Louis Medical society, which was attended by nearly 1,800 persons who were interested in learning something about the epidemic which has gripped the city and its suburbs.

Dr. Howard McCordock, Washington university pathologist, who announced Dr. Smith's laboratory findings, said it had long been suspected such a virus was responsible for the strange malady, but that Dr. Smith's discovery was the first scientific proof.

Determination that the disease is caused by such a virus, Dr. McCordock asserted, does not isolate the cause of encephalitis, but said it narrowed the search materially.

The number of cases increased to 276 in St. Louis county and 155 in the city.

Store Manager Gets Posters Of NRA When Crowd Gathers

GALVESTON, Sept. 2. (AP) — A large crowd of persons bearing a banner carrying the words "NRA Boosters" paraded before a downtown store yesterday and the manager went hastily after blue eagle posters.

After the signs had been placed in the windows, the crowd dispensed. H. G. Brickhouse, in charge of the NRA campaign here, disclaimed on behalf of his committee all responsibility for the affair.

Cloudburst Held Reason For Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept 2. (AP) — A cloudburst which created conditions through which no plane could fly caused the tri-motored Ford transport plane of the Transcontinental-Western Air to crash against Mesa Redondo, 60 miles northwest of Clovis Tuesday, in the opinion of Major A. D. Smith, western division superintendent of the line here.

Smith, just back from a personal investigation of the wreck which took five lives, doubted that the rain had caused any of the motors to fail, but said the evidence he had gathered indicated that the storm was of such proportions that th pilot could not maintain altitude i it.

"We had every confidence in Pilo Howard Morgan and believe that h did everything in his power to ex tract his ship from the storm whic he flew into without warning, Smith said.

Women Divide Time Between NRA Work And Clubs

Pledges To Be Asked Here Of Every Woman

Clubs And Church Groups To Hear Speakers; Meeting Is Set For Wednesday For All Women In City

WHILE a campaign is being waged this week among members of club and church women's societies to have every member's name signed to a NRA consumers card, the drive will be carried to other women in the city, also, seeking their signatures.

With more than 200 women enlisted in the drive for signatures, an effort will be made before the end of this week to see every woman in the city.

Women who sign the cards pledge their support to merchants and others who have agreed to support the National Recovery Act, which is an attempt to end employment and provide living wages to more people. The campaign was carried through the business district last week.

The Pledge

The pledge to be signed reads:

"I will cooperate in reemployment by supporting and patronizing employers and workers who are members of the NRA."

In order that the drive may be more fully explained, there is to be a mass meeting of Lubbock women for one hour Wednesday morning, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. This meeting will be in the ball room of the Hilton hotel.

All women in the city are invited to attend the meeting, it has been announced by Mrs. H. F. Godeke, lieutenant-general, who has promised that the meeting will not last more than one hour. Mrs. William Dingus, chairman of the speakers for women, will explain what the drive is for at that time.

On Thursday, a block by block canvass of the town will be made by a committee headed by Mrs. R. D. Moxley. More than 200 women are expected to participate in this campaign. These women are to meet at 9 o'clock that morning in the ball room of the Hilton to receive instructions before starting on the drive. Houses where the Blue Eagle is already displayed will not be visited by this group, it has been announced.

Speeches Scheduled

There are to be speakers at all church and club women's meetings during this week. Mrs. Dingus has a group of speakers assigned to be at the meetings. However, clubs that have not been assigned a speaker, may have one by calling Mrs. Dingus or Mrs. Godeke.

The five general committees, working under the direct supervision of Mrs. Godeke, are the following; Committee No. 1, Mrs. C. B. Powell, chairman; Committee No. 2, Mrs. Edward S. Wilson and Miss Margaret Turner, co-chairman; Committee No. 3, Mrs. Dingus, chairman; Committee No. 4, Mesdames Clark Mulican and N. L. Peters, co-chairmen; Committee No. 5, Mrs. Moxley, chairman.

Mrs. Powell's committee, which is contacting club and welfare organizations in order to get every member's name signed to a pledge card, was announced Saturday. Women who are in this group, and the organizations they are to contact, are as follows:

Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins—D. A. R.,

Stratton Girls Entertain In Their Home Friday Afternoon

Margaret and Marian Stratton entertained with a party Friday afternoon in their home at the Wilda-Crest apartments, 1808 Thirteenth street. Rook was played. Guests were Juanice Smith, Joyce Wheelock, Jeanne Roane, Meda Craig Tuttle, Marie Bradley and Marion Turner.

Methodist Societies Will Meet At Church For Talk

Instead of meeting at the church Monday afternoon as they had planned, members of the Belle Bennett and Jane Bickley circles of the Asbury Methodist Women's Missionary society are to meet with women of the First Methodist church at the church at 3 o'clock. Dr. W. C. Martin of Dallas is to lecture.

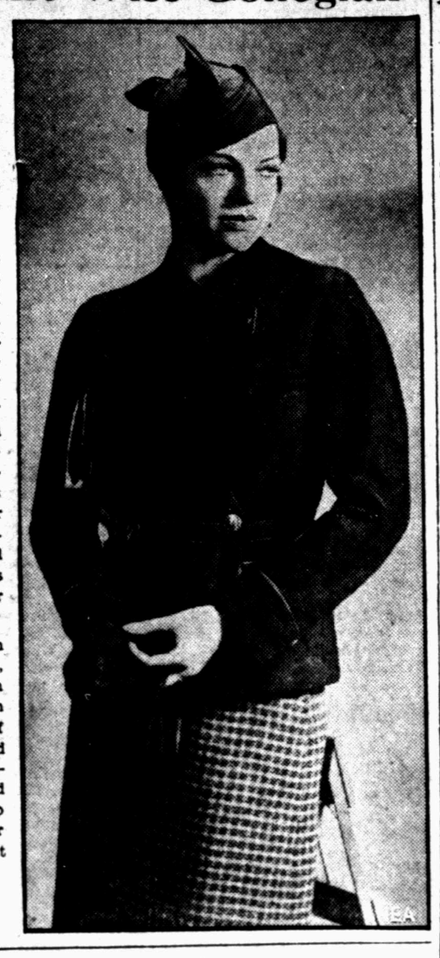

Virginia Lee Traylor, 8, Is Honoree At Party On Friday

Mrs. C. M. Traylor entertained in her home, 1702 Avenue M, Friday afternoon honoring her daughter, Virginia Lee, on her eighth birthday. Guests were Norma Rhue Croxton, Ouida Dorris Risinger, Christine Reichling, Eugenia Harper, Gladys Jeffers, Willouise Humphries and Wilda and Mary Beth Pobc.

Loyalty Club Members Have Meeting With Mrs. Lowery

Loyalty club members attended a social meeting in the home of Mrs. Ed Lowrey near Lubbock Friday afternoon. The club is to meet next with Mrs. J. A. Hood, 1925 Avenue N.

For The Wise Collegian

It's a wise coed who includes a couple of separate skirts, and things to wear with them, in her back-to-college wardrobe.

There is a vogue for blouses and sweaters and jackets this fall. They give you a chance for variation in your campus costumes.

For the girl who goes to college in a cool climate there is nothing nicer than a suede jacket for football games as well as for general wear to classes.

One brown suede jacket, with a new high neckline, is worn with a skirt of brown and gold plaid. The leather hat, decorated with stand-up wings, is another fashion highlight for fall.

Rose Garden Is One Of City's Prettiest; Cannas Are Unique

Peat Moss Holds Moisture In Rose Beds; Plot Has Many Bushes At K. N. Clapp's On Thirteenth Street

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Woman's Editor

One of Lubbock's prettiest rose gardens is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Clapp, 1642 Thirteenth street.

In a small space back of the house, about 130 rose bushes are grown by Mr. and Mrs. Clapp. The plot is entered through an arch that joins the fence and the side of the house and roses trail over this gate. Inside are rows of rose bushes divided by paths covered with shale. The rose beds are covered with peat moss which holds in the moisture and keeps the ground cool on the hottest days.

By using this moss, Mr. Clapp cultivates his flowers for the last time after the blooming season in June and then does not cultivate again during the summer. He waters the roses every two or three weeks and the moss keeps the moisture in.

The rose bushes are pruned according to the purpose they are to serve. Some are cut to produce a few perfect buds. Others are cut to form many flowers to add color to the garden.

Next year the Clapps are planning to add more roses to their garden. The bushes are to be rearranged and thirty or forty more added to the plot.

There are other interesting things growing at the Clapp home.

Mr. Clapp has some Indian beans growing that are so old they are not classified. The seed were taken from a pueblo excavation in New Mexico and are thought to be at least a thousand years old. He brought them here and planted them. Efforts to find their classification have failed.

He has, also, some extra tall cannas which have been produced

Brims Give A New Slant To Fall Hats

Jockey Visor On Hat Is Jaunty Note For Winter

By NEA Service

PARIS, Sept. 2—New fall hats are the last word in individuality. They're as mad as can be—and chic! There are ornaments galore! But small feathers are more in evidence than glass or metal ornaments.

The "Lady Lou" mode, inspired by Mae West, goes much farther than small feather fancies. Enormous, wide-brimmed models, to be worn with your evening and dinner clothes, have swooping plumes.

If you don't feel quite up to wearing a "Lady Lou" hat for evening, take a look at some of the tiny evening caps of lacquered feathers. Made entirely of various kinds of feathers and then lacquered a shining hue, they are smart as can be for evening. So are the little skull caps of shirred velvet lastex.

Tailored hats delve deeply into the novelty brim idea. Some of them have brims upturned all the way around. Others have little brims, only in the front, and they are apt to resemble a jockey's cap.

Very few of the hat surfaces are smooth and sleek. They are stitched—not plain. Shaggy and rough surfaces come into play.

If you have a daring way with you, don't overlook the new shaggy toques. Made of strands of silk, they look for all the world like hair wigs. They mold the head closely and the ends of fringe make an interesting frame for your face.

The "Lady Lou" picture hat is a 1933 version of a 1908 fashion and just the kind of a hat to go with the new hour-glass figure mode.

Featuring the new high-on-the-front movement is a visor-brimmed hat of stitched satin with a crown of twisted velvet. Maria Guy, who designed it, calls it her "Shovel Front" model.

It's just the kind of a hat for your first fall frocks which are worn without coats. This one is black but it would be equally handsome in eel gray, brown, raspberry red and any number of other smart fall shades.

Talks Planned For Guardians

Local Camp Fire Leaders Are To Attend Training School At Buffalo Springs; Five To Teach Courses

Lubbock Camp Fire guardians are planning a training course Wednesday and Thursday at Buffalo Springs. In addition, the women will discuss plans for the year and talk over group problems.

Teachers and their subjects are the following: Miss Voncile Shelby, nature; Miss Ethel Green, symbolism; Miss Leona Gelin, hand craft; Miss Elizabeth Conner, camp craft and program planning; Miss Fern Holland, music.

Other guardians who are planning to attend are Mesdames M. N. Hale, W. L. Bradshaw, Arch Harper, J. P. Giles, Misses Mary Green, Vera Johnson and Margaret Marshall. Several Plainview Camp Fire guardians may attend, Miss Conner said.

Season Starts For Clubs; To Meet Tuesday

Committees And Programs Are Announced; Groups To Study As Part Of P.-T. A. Work This Winter

SINCE this is September, the month when club activities begin, various organizations are announcing plans and committees for the new year

Several organizations are having initial fall meetings this week. Many others will start by next week, the second in the month.

Among clubs having their first meetings this week are the Tuesday Bridge, Shakespeare, 1933 Study club, and Book-of-the-Month club.

In addition to child welfare work, members of the City Parent-Teacher council are planning to feature parent education as a project during the coming school term, according to Mrs. M. B. Hilburn, president of the City Parent-Teacher council.

To Start Studies

Several study groups are to be started in the schools of the city, she said. A number of parent-teacher members attended a parent education course at Texas Technological college this summer.

Mrs. Hugh Norman is to be program leader for the 1933 Study club at its initial meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. L. T. Vaughn, 2507 Twenty-Second street. She will be assisted by Mrs. C. C. Webb. Miss Irene Fletcher will play a piano solo. This is the former Daleth Delphian club.

Committee members of the International Relations group of the American Association of University Women have made final plans for program meetings during the next nine months. Mrs. William Dingus, chairman, is assisted by Mrs. R. T. Campbell and Mrs. George Field.

Study Current Events

With so much change and experiment going on throughout the world, the committee, following suggestions from the national office, decided a profitable study would be a general survey of current developments in international affairs. The study is to be termed "Keeping Up With the World."

The initial meeting of the group is to be on September 18. Definite time for subsequent meetings will be determined by the group.

The life of Charles Morgan and a review of his book, "The Fountain", will be studied by the Shakespeare club Tuesday afternoon when they meet for re-assembly day in the home of Mrs. L. E. McDowell.

Mrs. O. A. Terry and Mrs. H. L. Cain are to make talks. Mrs. E. L. Banks is chairman for the afternoon.

Committees Named

Committees that will serve in the Nancy Anderson chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution this year have been named by the regent, Mrs. William Dingus. The chapter is to open the season with a program meeting on September 16.

Mrs. W. C. Rylander is chairman of the legislative committee and Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins is chairman of "Old Trails". She is also state chairman of that work. Mrs. Isabel Garrison is on a committee to assist the state historian, Mrs. Gus L. Ford, is making a survey of schools.

The program committee is made up of Mrs. W. L. Baugh, Mrs. Joe Penney and Mrs. Robert Allen with Mrs. Baugh as chairman. Mrs. O. V. Adams, chairman of finance, is assisted by Mrs. R. V. Kimmel. The membership committee is composed of Mrs. A. H. Leidigh, chairman, Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt and Miss Jonnie McCrery.

The chapter is to base its programs on the theme of "Unpublished History of the Plains Sections". One objective set by the chapter for the year is to support the national program for economic recovery.

Current Topics Are To Be On Program For New Study Club

Former Lu Beta Chapter Has Interesting Program; Days Of Special Interest Are To Be Included This Year

BY MARGARET TURNER
Of The Woman's Staff

Since political, social and economic histories are being made so rapidly and are of so much interest these days, members of the Lubbock Woman's club have chosen as their theme for a course of study during the next nine months "A General Survey of Current Interests". At each meeting, the outstanding current event of the week will be discussed.

This club, formerly known as the Lu Beta Delphian chapter, was reorganized in the spring. The initial meeting will be a luncheon to be served on September 14 at Hotel Lubbock. At this time members who have attended A Century of Progress Exposition will tell of their impressions of the world's fair.

Meet Twice Monthly

During the year the club is to sponsor three special programs, conforming to a rule of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, of which it is a member. These programs are to be a parliamentary drill in January, a Texas Day program in April and a Federation Day, program in May.

Meetings are to be conducted at Seaman hall on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Officers in the organization are the folowing: President, Mrs. R. D. Moxley; vice-president, Mrs. Ralph Bedford; secretary, Mrs. Robert Bean; treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Edwards; parliamentarian, Mrs. H. F. Godeke; critic, Mrs. Clark Mullican; reporter, Mrs. George Smallwood; representative to the Child Welfare club, Mrs. N. S. McBride; representative to the City Federation, Mrs. J. R. Weiss.

Those on the calendar committee are Mesdames J. L. Barstow, R. S. Rodgers, Calvin Henson and Miss Sue Bryan.

Mesdames W. G. McMillan, C. D. Wiley, and J. D. Hassell are members of the entertainment committee.

A roll of members is as follows: Mesdames Barstow, Bean, Bedford, George Berry, H. H. Bidwell, A. T. Biggers, Arthur Brown, J. J. Clements, Roscoe Cowart, John Dalrymple, Edwards, Godeke, James M. Gordon, M. N. Hale, J. E. Hamilton, Hassell, Sam Henry, Henson, L. H. Hungate, F. A. Kleinschmidt, George Kuykendall, D. N. Leaverton, McBride, McMillan, W. T. Milam, Moxley, Mullican, Rodgers, O. K. Peters, Smallwood, W. L. Stangel, W. T. Raybon, Weiss, H. A. Welmaker, Wiley, Misses Bryan and Johnnye Gilkerson.

Methods Of Canning Fruits And Vegetables Are Told By Women

County women are busy with canning now, laying up stores of food for this winter. What some of the home demonstration club women are doing and their processes are told in these interviews:

"I have canned 38 quarts of beans from my spring garden," says Mrs. E. E. Wilson, demonstrator for the City Line home demonstration club. Mrs. Wilson picks the beans over carefully, strings, washes them thoroughly and cuts them in pieces of the desired size. She adds enough boiling water to cover and boils for five minutes in an uncovered vessel. These are packed in containers while boiling hot, covered with water in which they were boiled, and a teaspoonful of salt is added to each quart. They are processed immediately at 10 pounds pressure, or 240 degrees F. Quart glass jars are processed for 40 minutes, pint glass jars for 35 minutes, No. 2 and No. 3 plain tin or enameled tin cans for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Wilson has also canned seven quarts of beets. Only young tender beets are used and she selects the turnip-shaped varieties when possible as they make a more attractive product. These are washed thoroughly and scalded in boiling water or steamed for 15 minutes to make the skins slip off easily. She leaves on at least one inch of the stems and all of the roots during this cooking to prevent bleeding.

Also Cans Beets

The skins are slipped off and the beets are put in containers with one teaspoon of salt added to each quart. These are filled with hot water and processed immediately at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees F. She uses the same scale of temis used for the beans.

Mrs. Wilson has also added rhubarb to her canned products. She selects young, tender stalks, trims and washes them carefully, cut them into one-half inch lengths, packs them into the containers and covers them with boiling-hot sirup. She processes quart and pint jars for 20 minutes in boiling water and processes No. 2 and No. 3 sanitary or R enameled tin cans for 15 minutes.

Another method she uses is to cut the rhubarb in half-inch lengths, add one-fourth as much sugar as rhubarb by measure and bake until tender in a covered dish. She packs this sauce, boiling hot, and processes immediately containers of all sizes for five minutes in boiling water.

Another county woman who is doing much canning is Mrs. H. A. Black, demonstrator for the Idalou club. Mrs. Black tells her methods for canning squash and spinach.

Has Much Squash

"Thirty-eight No. 2 cans of squash have been added to my pantry," Mrs. Black states, adding, "The squash is washed, cut into sections, peeled and cut into one-inch cubes. To these a small quantity of water is added and left to simmer until the squash is heated through, stirring occasionally. It is then packed into containers while hot, one teaspoon of salt is added to each quart and it is covered with the water used in cooking."

Mrs. Black says that one may cut the squash into sections and bake or steam until heated through, remove from shells and fill into containers while hot. Salt and boiling water to cover are added. This is processed immediately at 15 pounds pressure or 250 degrees F. Quart jars are processed for 75 minutes, pint glass jars and No. 2 tin cans for 60 minutes, and No. 3 cans for 70 minutes. She recommends sanitary or R enameled cans for tins.

The canning methods of turnips and mustard greens are told by Mrs. R. Q. Mabry, one of the 4-H demonstrators for the Estacado Women's Home Demonstration club. She has canned 20 pints of turnip greens and seven pints of mustard greens.

How It Is Done

She picked over the greens, discarding any imperfect leaves and fibrous stems. She washed these carefully in running water or through a number of waters, lifting greens out each time. Then these were steamed or heated in a covered vessel until completely wilted in just enough water to prevent burning. The greens were packed hot into containers, taking care that the material was not packed too solidly and that there was sufficient liquid to cover. Boiling water was added, where necessary.

One teaspoon of salt was added

Teachers Are Leaving As Public Schools Open Over Country

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE BEAN WILSON
Avalanche Woman's Editor

It seems that relish recipes are in demand, judging by the telephone calls that have been received.

In addition to these, there has been a request for chili sauce by Mrs. Roberta Doughtie. So help us out. If you know how to make this sauce, call in the method. There may be others, too, who would like to know. As to the relish recipes, here they are:

CORN RELISH

One dozen ears of corn, one head of cabbage, three sweet red peppers, three sweet green peppers, one quart of vinegar, one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of mustard, one tablespoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of celery salt. Cook the corn for three minutes in boiling water to set the milk. Cool and cut from the cob. Cook all together for 20 minutes. Pack into clean, hot jars, seal and process.

UNCOOKED TOMATO RELISH

One-half peck ripe tomatoes, one quart of cider vinegar, six green peppers, six sweet red peppers, four medium-sized onions, one cupful of finely chopped cabbage, two teaspoonfuls of celery seed, one-half teaspoonful of red pepper, one teaspoonful of ground cloves, four teaspoonfuls of mustard seed (yellow), five tablespoonfuls of salt, one cupful of sugar. Scald and peel tomatoes, chop all ingredients fine, add seasonings, mix well. Add the vinegar and allow to stand over night. Next morning pack cold into small clean hot jars, seal and process.

PEPPER RELISH

Take one dozen sweet green peppers and one dozen sweet red peppers and add three large onions, chopped fine. Cover with boiling water and let stand ten minutes, drain, cover again with hot water, and let come to a boil. Then let stand again. Drain dry and add three tablespoonfuls of salt, two pints of vinegar, and two cups of granulated sugar. Cook fifteen minutes and pack hot in jars, and process as for Dixie Relish. Seal.

DIXIE RELISH

One quart chopped cabbage, one pint chopped white onion, one pint chopped sweet red pepper, one pint chopped sweet green pepper, three tablespoonfuls of salt, four tablespoonfuls of mustard seed, two tablespoonfuls celery seed (crushed), three-fourths cupful of sugar, one quart cider vinegar.

Soak the pepper in brine (one cupful of salt to one gallon of water) for 24 hurs. Freshen in clear, cold water for one or two hours. Drain well, remove seeds and coarse white sections. Chop separately, and measure the chopped cabbage, peppers and onions before mixing. Add spices, sugar and vinegar. Let stand over night covered in a crock or enameled vessel. Pack into small hot jars that have been sterilized.

When ready to pack, drain the vinegar off the relish in order that the jar may be well packed. Pack the relish in the jars, pressing it carefully; then pour over it the vinegar which was drained off. Paddle the jar thoroughly to get every bubble out, and allow the vinegar to displace all air spaces. Garnish each jar with two slender strips of red pepper. Place these strips vertically on the seams in the jar on opposite sides. Cap, clamp and process in a water bath for 15 minutes at 180 degrees F. (simmering).

There are yet some more relishes. These will appear in the column early this week.

A recipe for hot rolls that can be made in as little time as one hour has been contributed, also, and this formula will be given at the same time. We have a recipe for a banana nut cake that should taste good this winter. These are good, tested recipes.

by fertilization and selection of bulbs. He started with red cannas about three feet tall and now has them growing to nine feet.

Many people remember the Clapp home for the jonquils which bloom in the spring. They have something like 3,000 bulbs planted now in all the flower beds over the place so that in early spring there are yellow flowers around the entire yard and house.

Dahlia Bed Has Profusion Of Colorful Blossoms

A bed of dahlias from which she reaps a profusion of blossoms is in the back yard of Mrs. C. H. Largent, 1623 Eighteenth street.

Aside from a grassy back yard and a vegetable plot, Mrs. Largent has few other plants beside these dahlias.

Her plants are almost six feet tall and are full of blossoms during almost the entire summer. Rather than to strive for a few very large flowers, she allows most of her buds to develop so that there is a quantity of medium-sized dahlias. She finds that these are best adapted to bouquets and add more color to the yard.

Mrs. Largent has several different varieties and colors of dahlias. Most of her blossoms are in different hues of red and bronze and yellow, although there are some white and orchid blossoms.

Hitler Says Art Of Germany Must Be Nordic, Aryan

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 2 (AP)—Art in the new Germany must be 100 percent Nordic and Aryan, Chancellor Adolf Hitler told a select audience of 3,000 at the Nazi party conclave here.

Declaring that "Nazi-ism will not tolerate incompetence in art," the chancellor characterized Jews as an artless race.

"Every individual race," he said, "has its own clear imprint in the books of art in so far as that race has contrasted to the Jews in its own artistic productivity."

"I do not know whether providence will bless us with artistic geniuses," he added, "but this I know; representatives of the era now passed cannot be flagbearers of the future. It is our state, not theirs. Changing flags is not permitted."

"Art," he continued, "never can be separated from the people. The slogan that art is international is hollow and dumb. It is a sign of gruesomeness, of spiritual decadence of past times. They spoke of styles without knowing their racial origin."

He declared the Nazi party was opposed to pacifistic international democracy in German kultur, as in politics.

Canning Methods

to each quart. These were processed immediately at 15 pounds pressure or 250 degrees F. Quart jars were processed for 65 minutes, pint glass jars for 60 minutes and No. 2 tin cans for 55 minutes. Mrs. Mabry said the greens should not be canned in No. 3 tin cans because of the difficulty of heat penetration.

She used the same method for her spinach.

Mrs. Mabry has canned okra, also. She uses only young, tender pods, saying that the older pods should be dried. After washing the okra, she covers it with water and brings it to a boil. It is then packed hot into the containers and a teaspoon of salt is added to each quart. The okra is processed immediately at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees F. Quart jars are processed for 40 minutes, pint glass jars for 35 minutes and No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans for 30 minutes.

Mrs. C. F. Hedges, pantry demonstrator for the Shallowater Home Demonstration club, has canned 62 quarts of plums in order that her family will have fruit during the winter months.

Her Method

She washes the plums carefully and pricks each plum to prevent the skin from bursting. She then fills them into the jars and covers with boiling medium syrup. She processes quart and pint jars for 20 minutes in boiling water and No. 2 and No. 3 sanitary or R enameled tin cans for 15 minutes.

Sometimes she prepares a sauce by cooking the plums with sugar to taste until the sugar is dissolved. The pits and skins are strained out or not as desired. She fills this into containers while hot and processes all sizes for five minutes in boiling water.

Mrs. T. B. Prestridge, president of the Foster Women's Home Demonstration club and 4-H pantry cooperator, helped neighbors and friends put up 150 cans of peas, besides canning 38 cans for her own family.

She says her method is to use only young, tender peas. They are shelled and imperfect peas are discarded. She washes them well, brings them to a boil in water to cover and packs boiling hot into containers. She adds one teaspoon of salt to each quart. These are processed immediately at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees F. Quart jars are processed for 55 minutes, pint glass jars and No. 2 and No. 3 C enameled tin cans are processed for 45 minutes.

Kingfishiana Troubled Again

Louisiana is again in the midst of a lively row over the Senator Huey Long regime. A state of "near martial law" has been proclaimed by Gov. O. K. Allen, upper right, to prevent a state of "near anarchy." Long, upper left, is in personal charge of the fight over inspection of New Orleans ballot boxes. Long opponents are trying to prove they were stuffed in the last election in favor of laws to permit increase of the state debts. The new $5,000,000 state office building at Baton Rouge is shown in the center.

Indian Secret Credited With Aiding Oklahoman's Fruit Crop

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Sept. 2 (AP)—Thanks to an old Indian planting secret, it looks like a bumper crop in George Labadie's 2,000-acre peach orchard this year.

Most of the peach crop in the Osage country was killed by late frosts, but Labadie's trees were unharmed.

He plants a large sandstone rock near the base of each tree when he sets it out, and the rock, filling with water and freezing, keeps the roots cold and prevents budding until all chance of a late frost is past.

Reelfoot lake along the Kentucky-Tennessee border was created by a Mississippi valley earthquake in 1811.

Mesdames E. L. Reed and C. E. Roberts are to review books.

The Business and Professional Women's club is meeting at Hotel Lubbock at 6 p. m. for a business session.

Dr. Martin Of Dallas Holds Revival Here

Presbyterial And Associational Meetings Are Slated For Cumberland Presbyterian, Three Baptist Churches

SPECIAL events for the week have been planned by church people of the city. These include annual Presbyterial and associational meetings for Cumberland Presbyterian and First, Calvary and College Avenue Baptist churches, an enlargement campaign at the First Baptist church and special services throughout the week at First Methodist church.

Dr. W. C. Martin, pastor of the First Methodist church in Dallas, is continuing revival services at First church this week. He is to preach at both morning and evening hours today. His meetings have been widely announced.

Sermon Topics Announced

Sermon topics have been announced for the week as follows: Monday—Fathers and sons night, "Bring Him to Me"; Tuesday—Everybody's night, "Jesus' Plain Statement to a Bewildered World"; Wednesday—Young people's night, "Blessing or Curse?"; Thursday—Mothers and daughters night, "Making Purity Attractive"; Friday—Family night, "The Secret of a Happy Home."

Thursday morning has been designated as a service for elderly people.

The annual meeting of the Lubbock Baptist association is to be conducted at the Slaton First Baptist church Thursday and Friday. Rev. Mr. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, is moderator of the association and the Rev. Boyd P. Milburn, pastor of the College Avenue Baptist church, is clerk.

Forty Churches Included

The association is composed of about forty Baptist churches in Garza, Hockley, Cochran and Lubbock counties.

The program has been outlined as follows: Friday—Devotional, Rev. R. C. Malone; Buckners Orphans Home, Rev. C. C. Griffiths; State missions, Rev. R. B. Cooper; Home missions, Rev. A. A. Brian; Foreign missions, Dr. W. F. Fry; W. M. U. report, Mrs. O. A. Tyner; Baptist Hundred Thousand club, Rev. M. C. Bishop; Wayland college, Rev. A. V. Bradley; Baylor college, Rev. B. F. Dickson; Tech Bible chair, Rev. Charles Burnett; Mexican missions in our association, Rev. W. M. Turner; The Co-Operative program, Rev. R. C. Campbell; Sunday school report, Rev. John Rankin; B. T. S. report, Raymond Dunn.

Praise Service Planned

The Thursday evening program is to open with a song and praise service led by the Rev. David Ray. Rev. J. H. Agee is to discuss religious literature and Rev. E. R. Stiles will tell of old ministers' relief.

T. C. Gardner of Dallas, who is director of Baptist Training school work in Texas, is to be here this week in the interest of an enlargement campaign in First Baptist church. Classes are to be conducted at the church each evening from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock.

Teachers Selected

Teachers and their departments are as follows: Miss Grace Conn, young people; Miss Clara May of Wilson, intermediates; Misses Frances Wynn and Marie Jackson, juniors; Misses Lida Faye and Vida Maye Simpson, primary; Mr. Gardner, adults.

The Amarillo Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will be in session at O'Donnell from Thursday to Sunday. Those who plan to attend from here are W. H. Atwood, J. W. Hodges, Mrs. Atwood, Mrs. J. D. Stalnaker, Misses Anna Mary Baucom and Evelyn DeShazo.

Post Church To Celebrate Its 25th Anniversary

POST, Sept. 2 (Special)—The "Silver Anniversary" of the First Presbyterian church of Post will be celebrated Sunday. Pioneer members of the church will be honored in the services.

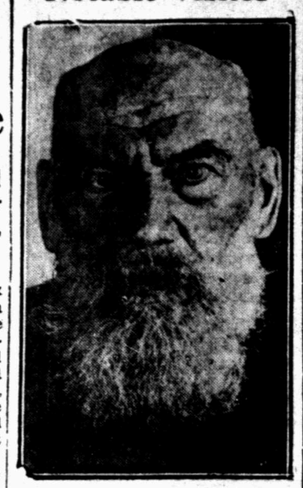

The anniversary service will especially honor the memory of Rev. Oliver T. Jones, organizer of the church and Rev. J. P. Word, the first pastor, who was pastor at the time the church was built. Also the services will honor the one remaining member of the church who was present on the day of organization, Mrs. James Napier, who has been a member during the entire twenty-five years of the existence of the church. Many of the present members of the church became members a year or two after its organization.

The anniversary program will include morning worship services with Rev. Herbert G. Markley of Breckenridge bringing the message. At noon picnic lunch will be served at Two-Draw lake with Christian Fellowship for all old and new members of the church and their friends. At the evening worship service Rev. Alfred M. Dorsett who has been serving as pastor of the church during the summer months will bring his final sermon message for the summer's work.

Other services will be held during the day. Former members from all over West Texas are expected to be present for this service.

Kentucky farmers indicate they would plant 13 per cent more acres of tobacco this year than last.

Hitler-Wagner Romance Dies; He's Busy—She Defies Nazis; Trouble Over Artists Blamed

BAYREUTH, Germany, Sept. 2 (AP)—The rumored romance between Adolph Hitler and Winifred Wagner, gossiped about for years, apparently is off. Intimates of each say that only friendship survives.

Hitler is so busy with his chancellorship and his nazi party that marriage is said to be further from his thoughts than ever.

Also, Frau Wagner is one of the few Germans who have refused to bow to a nazi decree. The moment she heard of a radio order which barred Toscanini and some other distinguished American conductors from German air waves, she posted to Berlin and bearded Hitler in his den.

She told him the radio ban was a big mistake. Also she insisted that her star Jewish singers, among them Emmanuel List and Alexander Kipnis, must be retained.

She had her way about the soloists. But the broadcast decree held, and Toscanini refused to come to Bayreuth.

Outwardly relations continued cordial. Hitler came to the festival here and Frau Wagner gave a reception in his honor.

But she paid such a superlative tribute to Heinz Tietjen, manager of her festival operas, that gossip switched from Adolf to Heinz.

Mrs. A. E. Titus of Sacramento, Cal., enjoyed her first airplane ride recently at the age of 86 and was formally congratulated on her enterprise by Governor James Rolph Jr.

Anti-Naziism Move Is Seen

German Trade Drops In Sweden To Indicate Movement Is On Against "Pure Ayran" Campaign Of Nazi

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 2 (AP)—Failure of many merchants, Christian as well as Jewish, to re-stock their shelves with German goods, together with voluntary action by the public, has caused a slump in imports to Sweden from Germany, according to the "Social-Demokraten," semi-official newspaper of the government.

It can be taken for granted, the newspaper says, that Sweden, without deliberate propaganda of any sort, has joined those nations which have cut down their purchases from Germany as a protest against the nazi "pure Ayran" movement.

Trade Of Good Volume

A good percentage of the imports, it is pointed out, are of a luxury character so that Swedes easily can demonstrate their attitude.

In 1931, the last year for which complete statistics are available, Sweden's imports from Germany were valued at 472,464,000 kronor, or $118,116,000, while exports to the reich were worth 114,042,000 kronor, or about $28,500,000.

Many Luxuries Listed

The bulk of the imports consisted of raw of partly-raw materials and agricultural products, but approximately $25,000,000 were expended for "luxury products," such as cameras, film, radios, cosmetics, flashlights, pens and silks.

First Objective On Road In Palo Duro Is Reached

CANYON, Sept. 2. (AP)—The first objective reached several weeks in advance of schedule, work on the construction of a road into Palo Duro canyon is being pushed with the view of having the road completed to the table-land before cold weather sets in.

The project here is one of the largest in the C. C. C. program. Three companies of Texas World war veterans, approximately 500 men, are engaged in the work, which was started July 12. Cos. 1828 and 1829 were organized at Camp Bullis and Co. 1824 formed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, all enrolled being Texans.

Always regarded as a scenic masterpiece, it was not until about a year ago that the magnificence and impressiveness of the Palo Duro were made available to the public. The canyon until that time was a part of one of the largest ranches in the world. With purchase of considerable land, about 14,000 acres, it became a state park.

As such, the improvements are being made. Representatives of the federal government, who have inspected the Canyon, have expressed themselves as favoring a recommendation that the Palo Duro be included in the Natural park system.

The Palo Duro canyon, starting 11 miles east of Canyon, county seat of Randall county, extends 80 miles. It was discovered in 1852 by a United States army officer, Colonel Marcy, who was exploring the sources of the Red river. The first white settler in the Canyon was Col. Charles Goodnight, who brought cattle from Pueblo, Colo., in 1876.

Entire Italian City Drills On Air Raid Alarms; Results Said To Be Proof Of Defense

GENOA, Italy, Sept. 2 (AP)—Genoa, after a drill in which the whole city participated, was officially pronounced as near proof against air raids as modern military defense permits.

The air raid alarm was sounded without preliminaries, although the drill itself was conducted along lines calculated to cause the least popular disturbance.

Specially trained fire fighting units sped to strategic points, police and militia manned posts offering the quickest sallying points to control mob panic, and medical units mobilized.

The anti-aircraft gun positions were manned also, but no firing was permitted.

Officials announced similar drills would be held in other Italian cities. The fascist discipline shown in the Genoa experiment led them to predict that foreign air raids would exact a minimum toll of dead and wounded.

Dutch Sell Arctic Mines To Soviet State Coal Combine

ROTTERDAM, Holland, Sept. 2 (AP)—Long standing Dutch commercial interests in Spitsbergen have passed into Russian hands by sale of the coal-bearing area around Barentsburg to "Arktikugol," the soviet state coal trust.

A board report to the stockholders meeting of the Netherlands Spitsbergen company stated that the property had been sold for 1,580,690 guilders or about $870,000. Of this 12 percent was cash and the balance notes maturing up to 1941.

The Russians reserved the right, up to Nov. 15, 1934, to cancel the contract in case surveys should fail to disclose existence of 20,000,000 tons of coal. In that case the Dutch company would be paid $2.20 for every ton mined.

Now It's "Electrical" Sandpaper, All Points Sticking The Same Way Under New Method Devised For Making It

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP)—Miniature hammers of Thor, the invisible forces behind small electric sparks, are used to drive the sand grains into a new kind of sandpaper.

This paper has every one of its millions of grains standing on their long ends, with sharp points sticking outward like spears. Hitherto sandpaper has been manufactured by pouring the grains on a glue-surfaced paper. They landed in various positions, many with rounded sides facing outward.

In the new process, loose sand is run on a belt through an electrical field. Just above the sand is another belt made of glue-coated paper. The sand particles, rising on end like the hairs of an electrified human head, jump up and stick in the glue.

Driven By Electricity

For this jump the electrical field furnishes the driving force. It is produced by two electrodes, each several feet long, the positive one paralleling the under side of the sand belt, the negative lying just above the glue belt. This makes the sand belt positive, the glue belt negative.

The electrical tension between them is so strong—20,000 to 75,000 volts—that if its energies were unchecked, sparks would fly between the belts. In place of sparks, the sand grains shoot across the inch-wide gap at speeds of about 50 miles an hour.

The grains on the positive belt "polarize." A negative electrical charge gathers at one side of the grain, a positive charge at the other. These charges form at the two points of a grain farthest apart, and then the positive charge tries to take a position vertically above the negative. This moves the particles, so that they rise on end, with positive charges upward.

Lands Like An Arrow

Next, both ends of the sand grain become positively charged and it is repelled from its own belt and attracted toward the negative belt overhead. Still maintaining a vertical position, it lands in the glue like an arrow.

In this position on the negative belt, both ends of the particle become negative. Thereupon every grain sticking in the glue repels every other grains. This repulsion spaces the particles evenly.

The sandpaper industry is about 100 years old. Before that sanding or finishing was done by rubbing loose sand over a surface. The first sandpaper was made by hand. In 1850 machinery was introduced in the United States and American-made sandpaper began to be used all over the world.

Just as electricity can make a person's hair stand on end, so it can be used to make sandpaper that has every grain pointing outward like spears. The principle of the newly-discovered process is illustrated in the diagram. The grains fly like sparks from the sand belt to the belt carrying glued paper or cloth.

Flat-Roofed Genoa Is To Get Quartet Of Skyscraper Units

GENOA, Italy, Sept. 2 (AP)—Four sky-scrapers flanking the Piazza Dante are to give this ancient seaport a modern sky-line.

City officials announced that the first will be under construction shortly. It will house the National Insurance institute and will rise about 210 feet—a very tall building in flat-topped Genoa.

The other three will be promoted as soon as the pioneer sky-scraper is under way.

First-run theaters pay as much as $10,000 weekly for the first use of big feature pictures; small houses get them much later for a daily rental of as low as $7.50 and $10.

Carole Lombard Says It's Wrong To Blame Divorces All On Hollywood

BY HUBBARD KEAVY
Associated Press Movie Editor

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP)—"They always blame each divorce on Hollywood. I think that's wrong."

Carole Lombard, movieland's newest (as this is written) divorcee, was speaking about divorces in general and her own from William Powell, which she obtained a few days ago in Nevada.

CAROLE LOMBARD

"I assure you the fact that we live in Hollywood and work in the movies had nothing to do with our divorce," says she. "It just happened, that's all. Who can say what the cause was? Certainly it wasn't 'Hollywood' as so many people have suggested.

"The first thing the reporters asked me when I came out of the courthouse was, 'What do you think of Hollywood marriages?' So far as I am concerned, there was only one answer 'I think they're swell.' No I don't mean to infer that I'm considering another. That is, very soon. I've been so busy since I got back that I haven't had time to think."

Back To Work

FOUR hours after Carole got her divorce she was in the wardrobe department of her studio to have gowns fitted for a picture. The following morning she had on makeup, playing the title role in "White Woman," a choice part that the German Maedchen, Dorothy Wieck, refused to do after spending months preparing for it.

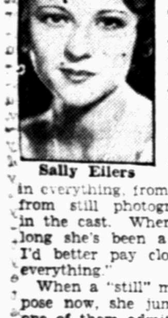

WILLIAM POWELL

Carole and Bill, as she calls her ex-husband, still are friends and although they haven't seen each other since she got back from her six weeks' Nevada residence, she says they will continue to be the "same good friends we always were."

Sally Goes Serious

SALLY Eilers, who has just returned from a vacation of another sort, says she had to go all the way to London to learn something. And that something is the importance of one's work.

Sally Eilers

Sally went abroad with Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon. While in London she spent considerable time with Bebe, who was there to make pictures.

"I saw how seriously Bebe took her work," says Sally. "She was interested in everything, from gowns to lights, from still photographs to others in the cast. When I recalled how long she's been a star, I decided I'd better pay closer attention to everything."

When a "still" man asks Sally to pose now, she jumps to attention, one of them admitted. By her own confession, she always wasn't so eager and alert.

"Offstage Voice"

A singular—and serious—error, from Hollywood's viewpoint, occurred in the film, "The Narrow Corner"—the star's name was omitted from the main title.

Whether the name Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., didn't appear in all theaters could not be learned, but for several days the film ran locally without a single mention of his name. The studio said it was an oversight that would be corrected immediately— and Doug's business manager said it had better be corrected or he'd sue somebody.

WILL ROGERS

Every movie contract specifies how, when and where the player's name is to be used in advertising and titles—and the size of the type. Everyone here fights for "screen credit—but Will Rogers won't get it in "My Weakness"—Unseen. Will sings a chorus in this flicker. He heard someone trying to imitate his voice, objected, said he could do it better himself —It was the first time Will ever worked in a picture without collecting a six-figured sum.

In nearly every successful campaign against the Indians, the whites had friendly Indians as guides and scouts, for the redmen were too clever for them otherwise.

Dressler And Beery Teamed In Film Here

"Private Detective 62," "The Stranger's Return," "Mama Loves Papa" And "Gambling Ship" Booked This Week

MARIE DRESSLER and Wallace Beery are co-starred for the first time since "Min and Bill" in "Tugboat Annie," much heralded filmization of Norman Reilly Raine's Saturday Evening Post stories, which starts a three-day run at the Lindsey today. Laughs, thrills, tears and tense drama all have their share in the story on northwestern waterfronts.

Miss Dressler plays an aggressive feminine tugboat captain whose husband, Beery, is a shiftless drunkard. Their son becomes captain of a liner, and to save him from a wreck the "useless" father comes through with an heroic sacrifice. Robert Young plays the son, opposite Maureen O'Sullivan.

"Private Detective 62"

Suave William Powell returns to the type of role that first won him screen recognition in "Private Detective 62", which will be screened at the Lindsey Wednesday and Thursday. Different from his Philo Vance characterizations of the past, his role pictures him as a tarnished spy on erring wives and wayward husbands. When he undertakes to "get the goods" on beautiful Margaret Lindsey, he makes the mistake of falling in love with her, and interesting complications arise.

Lionel Barrymore and Miriam Hopkins are co-starred in "The Stranger's Return", booked at the Lindsey for Friday and Saturday. Barrymore is cast as an 85-year-old patriarch of a farm, founded and pioneered by his family. Miss Hopkins appears as a city girl who goes to her grandfather's farm and finds the peace and contentment she couldn't get in the city. Franchot Tone heads the supporting cast as a college-bred farmer with whom the girl falls in love. The fact that he already has a devoted wife and baby son serves to dramatize a hopeless romantic situation that turns into a small-town scandal. Stuart Erwin and Grant Mitchell have featured roles.

"Mama Loves Papa"

"Mama Loves Papa," co-starring Mary Boland and Charlie Ruggles, starts a three-day run at the Palace today. The story concerns a middle-aged couple whose troubles start when the wife, filled with ideas of "culture," decides her husband must wear formal dress on every possible occasion. After going to work in a cutaway and striped pants, he loses his job, gets appointed to an important civic post, gets fired again, and generally upsets his and his wife's well-ordered life.

Cary Grant, Benita Hume, Jack LaRue, Glenda Farrell and Roscoe Karns play the leading roles in "Gambling Ship," a thrill-packed melodrama of life aboard a floating gambling palace. It will be presented at the Palace Wednesday and Thursday. All the suspense, excitement and hazard which rule the nautical casinos, which float just beyond the reach of the law at the three-mile limit, are packed in the picture. It deals with a big-shot eastern gangster who goes west for a vacation, only to meet an old-time enemy.

"Headline Shooter"

The colorful life of a newsreel cameraman is visualized in "Headline Shooter," scheduled at the Palace Friday and Saturday. William Gargan and Frances Dee supply the love interest. An hard-boiled news-hawk falls in love with a sob sister while "shooting" an earthquake. She leaves and marries her home-town fiance. In an action-crammed climax the trio faces death by gang murder and the girl makes a surprise decision.

Warner Baxter and Miriam Jordan have the principal roles in "Dangerously Yours," which starts a three-day run at the Lyric today. Set in the fashionable salons of metropolitan society, aboard a luxurious yacht and at a number of resorts, the picture portrays the romance between a finished jewel thief and the charming operative of an insurance company. The plot revolves about the plans of a woman to arrest a man and ends in an unexpected climax involving infatuation and love.

"Speak Easily"

Buster Keaton and Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante are paired in "Speak Easily," a film fun riot, which will be screened at the Lyric Wednesday and Thursday. The story concerns an absent-minded professor who inherits a fortune and starts out to "see life." He meets Jimmy, member of a stranded musical comedy, and "adopts" the entire troup for a Broadway run. The complications they encounter provide plenty of comic uproar. Ruth Selwyn and Thelma Todd head the feminine cast.

"Hell's Highway," a stirring drama of prison life, will be the attraction at the Lyric Friday and Saturday. Richard Dix is starred and Tom Brown and Rochelle Hudson head the supporting cast.

"Grand Hotel" Returns

Those who failed to see "Grand Hotel" when it was here before will have an opportunity when it is screened at the Texan today, Monday and Tuesday. With one of the greatest galaxy of stars ever assembled in a single picture, "Grand Hotel" was one of the outstanding hits of last season. Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery and Lionel Barrymore appear in starring roles, and Lewis Stone and Jean Hersholt head the supporting cast. The lives of each of these strangely divergent characters are drawn together in the vortex of a Berlin hotel. The result is a dramatic panorama in which love, intrigue, murder, lust, comedy and tragedy all play a part.

Drama, comedy and music are blended in "They Call in Sin," which will be offered at the Texan Wednesday and Thursday. Loretta Young, George Brent, Una Merkel, David Manners and Helen Vinson head the cast. The story concerns the love of three men for a girl, who in turn, loves a man she cannot have.

"The Big Stampede," with John Wayne in the leading role, will be the attraction at the Texan Friday and Saturday. Wayne appears as a young deputy sheriff who is sent to bring law and order to lawless New Mexico in its early colonization period. Mae Madison and Noah Beery have important roles.

To Be Seen In 'Heads Up' Here Thursday Night

Jimmie Jefferies, "rotund razzeur" of the Early Birds of WFAA will be master of ceremonies in "Heads Up," musical revue to be presented at Lubbock High School auditorium next Thursday night.

At the THEATERS

Here is shown Warner Baxter who has the leading role in "Dangerously Yours," which opens today at the Lyric.

Cary Grant and Benita Hume, pictured above, and Jack LaRue, inset, have the leading roles in "Gambling Ship," which starts at the Palace Wednesday.

Musical Show Will Present New Fashions

Stars Of Radioland Will Be Seen In Production Next Thursday Night At Lubbock High School Auditorium

MUCH interest is being manifest in "Heads Up," musical revue to be presented at Lubbock High school auditorium Thursday night according to merchants cooperating with the Avalanche-Journal in bringing the show here.

A number of requests for tickets already have been made. Definite information about when and where ticket sales will be is to be announced in the next few days.

Radio Stars In Show

Radio headliners will appear in the revue. In addition, a fashion parade will be presented, showing the latest fall and winter styles. Lubbock merchants cooperating in the fashion revue are: Hemphill-Wells, Craig-Gholson, The Vogue, Levine's, Lloyd Dry Goods, Barrier-Durham, Cinderella Shop, and Grollman's.

Jimmie Jefferies, "rotund razzeur" of the Early Birds of WFAA, wil lact as master of ceremonies for the show, and Ligon Smith and his band will furnish the music.

Others in the cast include: Fred Lowrey, the "Texas Red Bird;" Mary Helen Wheeler, radio pep and personality girl; Mynette Fritts, stomp rhythm exponent; Lois Nixon, "Basoness of the Blues;" Normi Norman, sensational high-kick dancer, and Arthur Barton, "The hickiest Hick from the sticks."

To Contrast Styles

Styles of the last century will be presented, showing the contrast between the fashions then and now.

Merchants cooperating in the fashion show have gone to considerable expense in an effort to make it the outstanding event of its kind ever presented in Lubbock.

After the revue, Ligon Smith and his band will play for a dance at Uptown Dance palace.

Aileen Riggin, Swimming Star, Now In Films; Says She's Quit The Water

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 2 (AP)—Five hundred and fifty girls applied one day for dancing jobs in a movie chorus.

Twenty-four were selected and went to work, rehearsing for the big scene in which their stepping adds to "production value." But it was only the other day that someone discovered that the girl whose name had been carelessly entered on the roster as "Eileen Regan" was in reality Aileen Riggin, famous in acquatic sports.

SWIMMING? THAT'S OUT

Many waters have flowed past the finish lines since Aileen, at 14, won the Olympic diving championship, but lately Aileen has not been cleaving her way through the waves as of old.

After turning professional she toured the world, giving swimming exhibitions. In Paris she did an act with Johnny Weissmuller. Another time, she toured with Gertrude Ederle, the channel swimmer. And it was all hard work, more work, she says, than fun.

"Now," she says, "I'm through with swimming, except for fun and exercise. I've lived swimming too long, and dancing is an exciting change."

HER DEBUT MADE

During her aquatic career, Miss Riggin studied dancing as an aid to diving grace, but her decision to apply for a job in the "Roman Scandals" chorus led to her professional debut, although she was graduated from the school of the ballet of the Metropolitan opera.

"Dancing," she said after a few days' rehearsal, "is hard work, too, but I like it. Yes, I'm going to stick to it—provided I get other jobs."

Aileen will be seen as one of the slave girls who dance with Eddie Canton, star of the film, in the slave market sequence.

All things have an ending, even

Dancing's an exciting change for Aileen Riggin, who made a name for herself as a swimmer. So for the present anyway she's in Hollywood, stepping along in an Eddie Cantor film.

"The March of Time." The 4 year-old feature for which M-G-M imported a flock of old-time stage stars eventually has reached the preview stage, as "Broadway to Hollywood"—and it is virtually a new picture.

Theodore Roosevelt carried a rabbit's foot, gift of John L. Sullivan, for good luck while hunting in Africa.
