OMAHA IS TERRORIZED BY "MANIACAL SNIPER"

THREE KILLED AND NUMEROUS FRIGHTENED

SHELL SHOCKED NURSE IS BELIEVED TO BE RESPONSIBLE

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 19.—Omaha experienced another night of terror Friday, inspired by new reports of a "maniacal sniper" who has killed two persons outright, frightened one man to death and shot at half a dozen others. Theaters and dance halls were almost deserted. Only the reckless and the skeptical ventured into the streets after sundown and window blinds were kept drawn to the sills.

The possibility that the "sniper" may be a woman was the latest theory considered by police who were searching for a "shell shocked war nurse." She is said to bear a grudge against all doctors because one of them gave her a harmless pill recently when she demanded poison with which to commit suicide.

The nurse is a dead shot with a rifle or revolver, police learned.

The fact that one of the victims of the mysterious slayer was a prominent physician, Dr. A. D. Searles, strengthened the nurse theory. The other victim, however, was Wm. McDewitt. Both were shot behind the left ear with 22 calibre bullets.

Dr. Searles was locked in his office when the "sniper" poked a gun through the letter slot in the door and fired.

Police have been kept on the jump for 48 hours with reports of bullets whizzing through the air mysteriously in the city streets. Many women were staying in their homes afraid to light their lamps at night.

Frank Pess, 45, dropped dead Friday night while listening to harrowing tales of the killer's work. Physicians said intense fear probably overburdened his heart.

Dr. Cora Johnstone Best, famous expurger lecturer here, said she "would rather climb Mount Victoria than walk the streets of Omaha at night." Her statement is expressive of the general fear the killer has inspired.

More than a hundred armed citizens are aiding police in patrolling the Creighton university section where the maniac is believed to be in hiding.

News-reper reporters believed they had uncovered an important clue when they came upon a small rifle rang in the basement of a deserted apartment building. Twenty two calibre shells and morsels of food were strewn about the floor. The crude target had been struck with dozens of bullets, indicating the rifleman's accuracy.

Police spent Friday night watching the building in the belief that it was the slayer's headquarters. A Creighton university student said he saw a slightly stooped little man leaving the empty flats with a rifle in two parts.

Aaron Burr's Home Torn Down

The home in Washington of Aaron Burr, one of the most famous characters in American history, is being torn down to make way for the construction of the National Press club's new $500,000 home in the heart of the national capital.

STATUS OF TEE PEE LYNCH DAVIDSON TO STRIKE PROSPECT NOT KNOWN

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 19.—Whether or not there is to be a strike of engineers, firemen and trainmen on the Texas & Pacific railroad, and a resulting tie up of all rail traffic on the company's lines, remained a matter of conjecture at noon Friday when the second conference between railroad and union officials adjourned.

Officials on both sides of the argument would make no statement following the second conference. Nor would they say whether or not the adjournment was temporary. From available information however, it is not thought that negotiations are ended.

J. A. Somerville, vice president in charge of operations of the Texas & Pacific, and W. H. Tobin, assistant to the president, received the three high officials of the brotherhoods at the railroad's general offices Friday morning, and a secret conference lasting for two hours followed. Newspapers were denied admission to the conference room, and neither of the conferees would be interviewed.

WEST TEXAS: Fair tonight; warmer east and north portions. Saturday fair and warmer.

Baltimore authorities have upheld whipping of school children in that city.

GRAND JURY FINDS INDICTMENTS ON 16 COUNTS

Sixteen bills of indictment were returned by the Lubbock County Grand Jury at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the body was finally dismissed by the court.

The indictments were returned on one charge of burglary, eight charges of selling Jamaica ginger and pear extract, three charges of conversions of property, two charges of swindling, and two violations of the prohibition law.

Already several arrests have been made in connection with the indictments, and all involved will have been arrested at an early hour today, according to information from the office of Sheriff H. L. Johnston.

FORMER MAYOR MEXICO CITY AND FIVE OTHERS ARRESTED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 19.—The arrests of six political refugees in various parts of the country Friday brought to light the existence of an alleged plot hatched in San Antonio last September to overthrow the Mexican government.

Eight indictments were returned by the federal grand jury here Thursday charging the exiles with violating the neutrality laws. Three of the alleged revolutionists were arrested Friday in San Antonio. Simultaneously word was received that department of justice agents had arrested two others in El Paso and one in Kansas City, Mo.

Those arrested here were General Loranzo Mistro, Reynoldo Esparzo and General Francisco Coss, all political refugees with picturesque pasts. All three have been admitted to bail. They indignantly deny precipitation or knowledge of the plot.

It is said that one of the men indicted is Colonel Menorio Torres. He was executed only recently in Mexico for plotting against the government.

While the above mentioned Mexicans were trying to make bail dispatches were received from El Paso that Alfonso De La Huerta and Salvador Franco Urias had been placed under arrest there on the same charges. The former is a brother of the dreaded Adolfo De La Huerta, once Mexican minister who led an unsuccessful revolution against President Obregon.

Huerta and Urias were released under $2,500 bond. Both have been living in El Paso for the last 10 months. Urias is a former congressman and former editor of El Herald, once a leading daily of Mexico City.

In Kansas City, department of justice agents arrested Jarge Prieto Laurens, former mayor of Mexico City, and governor of a Mexican province. He declared he knew nothing of the plot and was not fleeing, but had come to Kansas City to start a Mexican daily. It is reported that he will receive a hearing here, and if enough evidence is presented against him, will be returned to San Antonio.

ABERNATHY MAN DELIVERED SIX BALES FRIDAY

STRICT MIDDLING THAT WAS GROWN ON PLAINS TO BE USED AT MILL

The first consignment of cotton for the textile department of the Texas Technological College was purchased yesterday by college officials assisted by K. N. Clapp, local cotton man.

Six bales of long staple, strict middling cotton, grown in Lubbock and Hale counties, was delivered to the college by C. F. Buske, of Abernathy. Buske was accompanied to Lubbock by R. E. Risner, president, T. B. Stone, vice-president, and J. P. Nystel, secretary of the Abernathy Chamber of Commerce.

Buske owns farms in Lubbock and Hale counties, and for years has been recognized among the leading farmers of this section.

Upon their arrival in Lubbock the Abernathy party was met by H. T. Kimbro, local member of the board of regents of the college. Prof. Camp, who has charge of the textile department, and Mr. Clapp, who graded the cotton. Twenty and a half cents per pound was paid for the cotton.

Already the machinery in the mammoth textile engineering building is in operation despite the fact that the plant is not yet completed. There are more than five carloads of machinery set to be installed in the engineering building, and work of installing part of a large ship-machinery recently received is under way.

MRS. FRANK WITH PLOT PARTNER INDICTED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—Mrs. Alberdina Frank and Carl B. Davis, her paramour, have been indicted by a grand jury on charges of attempted first degree murder.

The jury, which was in adjournment until next Tuesday, was called into special session to consider the case of the woman and her lover who are alleged to have plotted the death of her husband so that they might desert their illicit love nest and marry.

Davis posted $7,500 bail for himself and was freed Friday. Until recently Davis had said that he did not want to make bond, and it was believed that he feared the wrath of E. L. Frank, whose death he had confessed to have sought.

Mrs. Frank still is in jail. Her husband has filed suit for divorce from her.

WASHINGTON'S RECIPE FOR MAKING BEER MAY BE READ

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Attorney General Sargent has been asked if it is legal, under the Volstead act, to read at a banquet George Washington's recipe for making beer.

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment which is to conduct a "fact and facts" anti-prohibition conference here on Washington's birthday, desires to read this excerpt from Washington's note-book as a part of its program.

Sargent Friday refused to discuss the request, but admitted he had received it.

Admiral of Fleet

Sir Arthur Calthorpe has been promoted by King George of England to the rank of admiral of the fleet, which is the naval equivalent to field marshal of the army. Sir Arthur served in the battle of Jutland and was the first flag officer of the allies to reach Constantinople at the close of the war, where he acted as high commissioner.

ALUMINUM COMPANY PROBE ADJOURNS INDEFINITELY

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19.—The hearings into activities of the Aluminum Co., of America which the federal trade commission has been conducting here was adjourned Friday until May 3 to give the corporation an opportunity to prepare its income tax blanks. Company officials said that preparation was impossible with many of its papers and officers at the hearing.

Two hundred and ninety two letters, telegrams and other items of correspondence which the government called for in the investigation can't be found, George R. Gibbons, vice president and secretary of the corporation testified Friday.

The government asked for 740 items of correspondence, only 448 of which were placed before the commission.

Company officers, department of justice officers and members of the federal trade commission all have had access to the files within the last six months, Gibbons said.

Magnolia President Died Friday At Paris, France

GALVESTON, Feb. 19.—John Sealy, capitalist, banker and philanthropist and one of the wealthiest men of Texas, died today in Paris, France, after an illness extending over a period of almost a year. He was in Europe for his health's sake after having undergone treatment in the east.

Sealy was president of the Magnolia Oil Co., and the Galveston Wharf Co., and was head of the banking firm of Hutchinson & Sealy, founded over a half a century ago by his father.

Then Sealy family at Galveston has always been prominent in the affairs of the island city and are among the pioneers of that region.

Sealy was graduate of Princeton university. He was 59 years old.

JOE INMAN RETURNED TO LUBBOCK COUNTY JAIL AFTER JOHNSTON AND 2 OKLAHOMA OFFICERS DISAGREE

MAN HAD WAIVED EXTRADITION TO RETURN TO SOONER STATE BUT INCIDENT AT FLOYDADA YESTERDAY ALTERS PLANS

Joe Inman, alleged terrorizer of Oklahoma officers, desperado and one of the most feared men of the Sooner state, is in the Lubbock county jail and will now doubtless remain here until extradition papers have been issued by Governor Ferguson.

Inman has been afraid to be given over to Oklahoma authorities who want to return him to Grady county from where he escaped two years ago while under appeal bond after being sentenced to serve ten years in the Oklahoma state penitentiary on a charge of attempt to murder.

ARMAMENTS WANTED FOR COUNTRY NEAR RUSSIA

LONDON, Feb. 19.—While all statesmen speak of disarmament as the next European step toward security, pressure is being exerted upon Poland, Czechoslovakia and Rumania, to maintain their large armaments. These three countries border on soviet Russia.

The ink on the Locarno agreements is scarcely dry, but Europe nevertheless is undergoing a new diplomatic assignment. Talk is of peace, France, the implacable enemy of bolshevism, is doing her utmost to conciliate Russia. Yet some major European power is urging the states bordering Russia to resist disarmament.

Published reports first were that Great Britain had offered to help Poland toward a permanent seat on the League of Nations council if Poland would maintain her army at its present swollen size. It was suggested that Britain was backing Marshal Pilsudski in an effort to upset the present government so that Pilsudski might establish a dictatorship and become regent for an eventual Polish monarchy.

Anti-French circles identify the country urging maintenance of large armaments as France. Immediately after the war French statesmen conceived the policy of drawing a "sanitary cordon" around soviet Russia, and to that end the border countries drew heavily on the French treasury for military expenses. France is alleged to be treating with Russia in the open while she secretly intrigues against her. An independent dispatch from Belgrade refers casually to the French request that Czechoslovakia shall not reduce her present period of compulsory military service.

Both France and Britain disclaim responsibility for the pressure against the Russian border states, but from Moscow come positive assertions that such pressure exists.

Something like this situation developed before the preliminary disarmament conference scheduled for February 15 was postponed. First reports were that Britain had requested postponement. It developed that France had been backing the delay.

Until these international alignments are complete it is not likely that a disarmament conference can be held.

BOBS DISAPPEAR

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 19.—Bobbed hair is disappearing as rapidly here as two piece bathing suits. A check at the casino revealed that more than a third of the women bathers were wearing their hair long this year; last winter it was hard to find a girl with unbobbed locks.

Bathing suits, however, continue to get shorter.

JOHNSTON REFUSED TO STATE LAST NIGHT WHICH OF THE MEN HE BELIEVES IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE APPARENT FRAME-UP OF WHICH INMAN WOULD PROBABLY HAVE BEEN THE VICTIM BUT FOR THE INTERRUPTION OF THEIR PLANS BY THEIR ACCIDENTAL MEETING AT FLOYDADA.

It is seldom the case that an officer risks his own life to effect the arrest and capture of a desperado such as Inman is said to be then throws himself unreservedly in the defense of the captured, but this has been done on the part of Lubbock County's sheriff.

Johnston refused to state last night which of the men he believes is responsible for the apparent frame-up of which Inman would probably have been the victim but for the interruption of their plans by their accidental meeting at Floydada.

Johnston said that he was sure that he was returned to the Lubbock county jail to await further developments.

Colonial Dance At Elks Club Gala Affair

One of the most delightful dances of the winter was the Colonial Ball given Thursday evening at the Elks Club sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The hall was beautifully decorated in patriotic colors, red and white streamers being tied at intervals with blue bows. Flags were also used to create a lovely effect. The lights were shaded in red, casting a soft glow over the beautiful costumes of the dancers, most of whom were in the dress of the Colonial period.

The feature dance of the evening was the old-fashioned square led by Mr. Temple Ellis, who also called the dance. Ross Edwards filled for the occasion, and the dance was not only enjoyed by the older guests but many of the young people had the opportunity of learning and seemed to find equal joy with those who had danced twenty years ago. Mrs. A. B. Ellis and Mr. Fred Spikes won the prizes as the best dancers.

TECH-NICAL TOPICS

First Cotton Delivered to Textile Mill of The Tech College Yesterday By Lubbock-Hale County Farmer

The first cotton was delivered to the textile mill of the college yesterday. It was four bales grown in Lubbock and Hale counties by C. F. Buske of near Abernathy. All the cotton is strict middling and was ginned at Abernathy. Buske brought the cotton here yesterday in a truck and made direct delivery to the school.

He was accompanied by members of the Abernathy chamber of commerce. They were shown through the buildings and grounds of the college by E. M. Chitwood and H. T. Imbro. The following men made up the party: R. E. Risinger, president; T. B. Stone, vice president, and J. P. Nystel, secretary. The men were well pleased with the school and buildings and took an unusual interest in the textile department of the school of engineering. They studied explanation from Prof. E. W. Camp, head of the department, concerning the workings of the different machines and the nature of the results.

The cotton will be used in the mill as soon as the power can be brought to the building in a proper amount. Several other machines must be installed and there are two men from different companies at work now installing units of the mill. The sophomore students are busy installing a spooler and several other small units. Prof. Camp stated yesterday that the cotton would be run through the mill late in the spring term. Work on arranging the different machines in their places will occupy most of the time during the rest of this term. Mr. Daniels of the Daniels Studio was at the college and made several photos of the cotton and the men coming with it. They will be sent to the different papers of the state. This is a very important move in the life of the school and tends to show that read work will be carried on at the college soon.

FIRST CATALOG CARDS FILED IN LIBRARY

Yesterday the first catalog cards of the library were filed for the use of the students. These cards are fairly complete for all the books in the library. They give the names of all the authors of the books in alphabetical order. The name of the book is listed directly below the name of the author. The students will be given information on how to use these cards correctly and they will aid greatly in diminishing confusion in the library.

The library received several new books in yesterday's mail. They were all books on plant and animal life for the department of biology. The volumes of "Text-book of Zoology," by Parker and Haswell, "Organic Evolution," by Lull, "Biology of the Frog," by Holmes, "The Kallikak Family," by Goddard and "Applied Eugenics," by Popenoe and Johnson were the names of the volumes received. They were purchased from the MacMillan Book Company of

New York. The library is doing a great work and is growing every day. New equipment will be needed for the next session, if the enrollment increases even far below expectations.

DR. GRANBERY TO OCCUPY PULPITS SUNDAY

Dr. J. C. Granbery, head of the history department, will fill two different pulpits tomorrow. At the morning services he will preach at the First Methodist church at Tahoka. At the evening service he will deliver a sermon at First Methodist church of this city. His subject for the sermon here will be: "Our Divorce Problems." Dr. Granbery stated that the sermon was very interesting and he hoped that a large number of the Lubbock people would hear it.

TECH STUDENT SUFFERS PAINFUL INJURY

Wayne Burkhardt, student in the school of liberal arts, suffered minor but painful injury Tuesday when he was helping move a refrigerator machine at the Bell Ice Cream Company. In manipulating a bar, it slipped and let part of the machine on two fingers. His hand was hurt so bad that it was necessary to remove the two middle fingers on his right hand. Dr. Krueger of the Lubbock Sanitarium performed the operation. Burkhardt is getting along nicely now and does not suffer from the pain. He attended classes yesterday but it will be a good while before he will be able to write with much success.

FOSTER SCHOOL STUDENTS VISIT COLLEGE

Several students of the Foster school in the southwest part of the county visited Lubbock and went through the court house and several other interesting places. They visited the college grounds and buildings. At the engineering building they were conducted on a lecture tour of the textile department given by several of the sophomore textile students. The Foster students were accompanied by C. B. Bentley and other teachers of the school. They were well pleased with the Tech and took an interest in everything.

FACULTY CLUB TO MEET NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

The next meeting of the Faculty Club will be held February 26 at the college cafeteria. The program will carry out the celebration of the Father of Our Country, Washington.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT RECEIVES STEEL LOCKERS

Steel lockers were received yesterday for the department of physical education which is headed by Miss Johnnie Gilkerson. The girls have been handicapped all the year because of the lack of lockers and dressing room. These lockers will be installed right away and a dressing room arranged for the girls. Many things have been done by the physical education girls this term and they plan to make this one of the best departments of the college.

DR. HORN RETURNS FROM CLOVIS

President Horn has returned from Clovis, New Mexico, where he spoke to the teacher's institute there. He also addressed students of the Clovis high school. ## RAISE PLENTY OF FEED AND FOOD, THEN PLANT COTTON

There is no question that the Southern farmer must get out of the habit of raising all cotton, and buying from other sections of the country all the feed and food that the livestock use and the people of this country consume. There must be a drastic change if the people are to become independent, and the South prosperous. They can no longer get by on the production of cotton alone, and the business interests are awake to the importance of the change.

The South Plains is so favored by climatic conditions and the adaptability of the soil, that it can raise most anything that a farmer needs to eat, and can raise it in such abundance that he might have much of it to sell, which means that he can make more money at something else than to raise nothing but cotton.

We think that every farm should be the scene of a variety of domestic animals and fowls which would make a sure market and a good market for all the feed stuffs that would be raised. A few good baby beeves from each farm every year would supply the markets of the city with the very finest meats, and several fine fat hogs from every farm would likewise find a splendid market in the towns of the South Plains, also a few muttons would be taken at a good price and each of these three animals could be raised in the same pasture and almost fatened with the same feed, which would certainly bring a good price on the market of the South Plains.

Then the milk cows come in for a good portion of the profits, from the milk and the cream and butter, and also furnish veal for the markets. The fowls, several varieties would bring many thousands of dollars into the community and instead of the farmer having to take what was offered him for his cotton crop, he would be able to hold it till the market was satisfactory, and banks and merchants would not have to crowd them for money, and force the sale of a lot of the products regardless of the prices offered.

The cattleman, one the leading stock journals of the south sees the need of hogs in this section of the country and has the following to say regarding the productions of that important product of this country:

The cotton-belt has been neglecting hog production during the past few years and is not growing enough hogs at the present time to supply its own pork and cured meat requirements. A nation-wide survey of hog production, recently completed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with rural mail carriers, contains the statement that hog production in the south has declined continuously for the past five years, and is probably at the lowest point in over fifteen years. If concrete evidence were needed, it appears in the fact that two large meat packers of Fort Worth, Texas, purchased over 175,000 hogs in the north during the years of 1924 and 1925 and shipped these hogs to Fort Worth on direct billing, where they were slaughtered and their meat products wholesaled to the southern demand. One of these Fort Worth packers is also bringing in an average of two cars of dressed hogs daily from Huron, South Dakota, each car containing about 300 carcasses.

Pork is no less a product of the farm or plantation than cotton and most sections in the Dixie tier of states can raise hogs profitably, on a commercial scale, as well as they can raise cotton. A review of the hog market during any period extending back to the World War days proves positively that hogs should have a prominent place on the production program of every man engaged in live stock farming, even though he may be located a long distance from the big primary northern markets. Hundreds of small meat-packing plants are scattered over the country from coast to coast, and these plants can be depended upon to provide a regular demand for hogs throughout the year, at prices in line with those paid at the larger central markets. There is no question of a broad and urgent demand for hogs and pork products in the south, at any rate, and the advice to "raise more hogs and less cotton" is commercially sound.

A FARM PESSIMIST

The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman is not pleased with the agricultural prospect in that state for 1926. Carl Williams, the editor thinks that the old story of failure of efforts to control cotton production within profitable limits will be repeated. He believes that this spring will see a still greater acreage planted in Oklahoma and in the other cotton States. "If they get a normal yield an acre, there will again be produced more cotton than the world can use, with a consequent increase in the carry-over and a consequent lessening of the price per pound," he writes.

Mr. Williams continues his argument: "Among those who are familiar with the cotton trade it is an axiom that large crops bring less money than small ones. If the cotton farmer of the South had each planted three acres less of cotton last year than they did plant, their total income for the crop would have been at least $160,000,000 more than they actually got."

"Of more importance even than the increased price would have been their reduction of expenses. The sums expended for seed, cultivation chopping, picking and ginning would have been less. Then, too, with a smaller crop to pick, labor would have been more plentiful, the crop might have been gotten out of the fields earlier and the grade of the whole crop made better than it actually turned out to be. Fully 50 per cent of the Oklahoma cotton crop was of low quality, due largely to lack of labor and to delay in picking.

"However impossible it might be to carry out the idea in practice, in theory, at least, it would have been more profitable if the farmers of the South had even destroyed 10 per cent of their crop after raising it.

"This question of the price of cotton is not the only item to be considered in connection with the question of acreage. Even if the fence rows are to be planted to cotton, on what ground will the feed and the food crops be raised?

"Every county in Oklahoma is today importing bran, corn, hay, and other feeds from outside the State. Not enough feed was raised in Oklahoma last year to satisfy through this winter the needs of the farm livestock.

"Tens of thousands of farmers are now buying the feed which they ought to have raised last year, and a great many of these farmers are today mortgaging their interest in next year's crop to their local banks in order to get money with which to do it.

"Much of the food for the family is being obtained in the same way, with the result that when this year's crop is picked and ginned the proceeds will not only have been spent in advance but the total proceeds when the cotton is sold at lowered prices bid fair to be less than the total expenses of production.

"There are undoubtedly years in which it pays in dollars to put the farm to cotton and to forget the question of feed and food. On a basis of averages, however, there is no known plan whereby a farmer can get ahead unless that farmer considers the needs of his family for food and the needs of his livestock for feed, and plans to devote the necessary acreage of land to the satisfaction of those needs.

"When he has done that, he is then in a position to put the rest of his land to cotton, with the certainty that what cotton he raises can be sold for cash and need not be taken to the bank and exchanged for a canceled crop mortgage.

"Food and feed first should be the slogan of every cotton farmer in Oklahoma. Every banker, every merchant and every landlord in Oklahoma has a share of the responsibility to see that that slogan is turned into action.

Food and feed first should be the slogan of every farm in every state in the cotton belt and elsewhere. The farm properly an institution whose primary function is to support the existence of those who depend upon it for a livelihood. The nearer it comes to supplying every need of those individuals the nearer it fulfills its purpose.

The Star-Telegram does not go all the way toward complete pessimism with Editor Williams. It believes that the lesson of overproduction in cotton, the disasters of single-cropping are so profound that their salutary effect can not be wholly avoided. The lesson may need to be repeated again, even many times, but sooner or later the cotton farmers of the South will have learned it. Then will come the day when the farmer can sit down under his own vine and fig tree, his farder and his feed barns stocked against the vicissitudes of the world markets. Then he shall have attained that economic independence which is the proper goal of every man but which, for him is impossible so long as his fortunes are bound up with the fate of a single item of all the multitudes of crops that his land stands ready to produce.—Star-Telegram.

According to estimates made by the information committee of the Pennsylvania Public Service, gross revenues of all the electric light and power companies in the United States during the year of 1925 probably reached the enormous total of $1,500,000,000. It is also estimated that increases in the capital investments of such corporations during the past year have brought their total investment up to not far from $7,000,000,000.

The long-heralded demand of railroad workers for higher wages has culminated with filing by conductors and trainmen's unions of demands for restoration of the 1920 schedules fixed by the Railway Labor Board. These scales were the highest ever fixed in the history of railroading, and, according to the roads, would increase annual expenses of the carriers by something like $500,000,000. The labor demands all for a reply from the carriers by the first of next month.

SO THINK WE

We think there is a great need for an extinguisher that will successfully perform on a "flaming" youth.

We think some of the popular sayings are all punk. For instance "as easy as taking candy from a baby." The guy who said that evidently never had a baby to take candy from.

We think Plainview must have a real pessimist. We have it upon authority that we do not question that one fellow got up in the morning, and not being able to find anything to complain about got mad, and kept getting madder and madder, till finally he got maddest.

We think that there are a good many people who if they get any part of this earth they will never work for it.

We think some folks will try to swipe most anything. A Honey Grove newspaper has undertaken to swipe the honors from a lady preacher, who formerly lived at Lubbock, by claiming that Honey Grove has the only lady preacher that ever performed a marriage ceremony.

We think some juries might be termed a modern invention for furnishing legal liberty to a large number of criminals.

We think that in the face of such a large number of witnesses, that a bigmist might be termed a real brave man.

We think there has been more people suffered from diphtheria than those who actually had it. Just try to spell it, and see if it does not give you a pain.

We think that 1300 pardons are too many, but 1311, the actual number is entirely too large for one governor to turn out in just a little over twelve months.

We think that health is an asset to the community, and the business that does not take care of its assets will soon become overcome by its liabilities. The same with the community life. Lets take care of the health of the community.

We think there is some advantages in buying a home over buying an automobile, and that is that the tires will not wear out.

We think the same little girl who was six for several years in order to ride the train on half fare is now living in Dallas and is sixteen in order to drive an automobile. Circumstances also alters ages.

We think a lot of people have wrong ideas about where marriages are made. We have heard they were made in heaven, but from the way some of them turn out we believe they were made in an automobile and in a hurry.

We think there is one man in Lubbock who might be termed a real pessimist. He told us there never was anything that came off on time at his house except the buttons on his coat.

We think that when you see a fellow who does not know what he is talking about just seems to want to talk about it all the time.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that only one woman in thirty has perfect feet. That need not worry anyone much. There are very few of us who are perfect anywhere.

That one half of the Federal employes in Washington are woman. Wonder if that has anything to do with the tardiness of much of the business that goes to the capitol.

That about half of the population of Washington are engaged in a gainful occupation. That no doubt is a greater per cent than in Lubbock.

That one of the industrious housewives of this city has proven beyond doubt that the old adage that a new broom sweeps clean, will no longer hold good. She said she had worn out two brooms this week and the house still was not clean.

That one of the boys at the Geo. M. Hunt school while in a happy mood a few days ago said that pancakes makes the butterfly.

That one Lubbock woman said she would not give up her old back yard fence for anything. She possibly thinks she would have nothing to argue over.

That one of Lubbock's brilliant young men stated that he would probably try to know more, but he really thought people knew so much had so many chances of being mistaken.

That one of the leading optimists of this city was heard to say a few days ago that the people who seemed to have the least to be cheerful for are the very fellows who are the most cheerful. This is a funny old world anyway.

That 800 cubic inches of air is required to make one cubic of liquid air. With this as a basis from which to figure, will someone please tell us how many cubic inches of liquid air was in Lubbock county Thursday.

That work gives the daily food, but cheerfulness adds the relish.

That the main objections most people have to coal bills that they have to be paid or no more coal is delivered.

That ninety percent of the boys of this country would rather be right tackle than to be president.

That it is alright to be confidential with some Lubbock people, but you should not tell anything that you do not want the public to find out.

PLAY AND OUR HOLY DAY

When an eminent churchman utters a word that bears toward less stringent adherence to the customs of the churches as did Bishop William T. Manning recently, the press of the country spreads it afar, the Philistines seize upon it, and the enemies of the city make out of it a wooden horse in which to slip through the gates of Zion. Bishop Manning said that play and clean sport on Sunday when not interfering with church attendance are not wrong, that play was as important as prayer, that it was "all wrong to have the idea that one set of folks do the praying and another set the playing," and, further, that the impression that "religion is suspicious of sports or that it frowns on athletic activities, particularly on Sunday, is erroneous and serves only to give religion a black eye." ON A BOX OF GOLF BALLS
 A dozen golf balls all my own,
 Twelve in a box, all neatly wrapped.
 As I go bravely forth to play
 In yonder lake this ball may sink.
 This one, perhaps I shall abuse,
 And possibly this one I'll lose.
 Not one of these a slice has known,
 Not one of these has yet been trapped.
 Twelve lovely golf balls, gleaming white
 And not one ugly cut in sight!
 As some lean miser counts his gold
 And glots upon his yellow store,
 These mesh-marked beauties I behold
 And eagerly I count them o'er.
 A dozen golf balls all my own,
 That never cut of iron have known!
 When comes the merry month of May
 I shudder when I stop to think
 As I go bravely forth to play
 In yonder lake this ball may sink.
 This one, perhaps I shall abuse,
 And possibly this one I'll lose.
 A dozen golf balls all my own,
 If I should board them out of sight
 To count them over when alone
 They'd never lose their perfect white.
 And never venturing ditch or tree,
 These golf balls always mine would be.
 And yet to know their perfect joy,
 These lovely golf balls I must lose.
 Their gleaming sides I must destroy
 With many an ugly cut and bruise.
 The only pleasure they can bring
 Lies in the game's adventuring.

WILDCATS TAKE TECH COLLEGE MATADORS WIN OVER MCMURRAY AT ABILENE BY SMALL MARGIN; HARD FIGHTING FROM START

37-31 WINNING ON BUFFALOES

Special to the Avalanche. ABILENE, Feb. 19.—The Texas Tech Matadors romped away with a 23 to 21 victory over McMurray college here tonight, and while it was anybody's game for a time, the playing was hard to the last minute and the two teams gave those attending a good show and hearty cheering marked the closing of the game despite the fact that it was the home team that took the whip.

The splendid showing made by the Hub city aggregation here assures good attendance at any engagement here, and the McMurray team supporters are looking forward to an opportunity for revenge when another large crowd will be accorded the performance.

GOOD GAME PLAYED BY WILDCATS WHILE THE BUFFALOES GO WILD

Special to Avalanche. CANYON, Feb. 19.—The West Texas Teachers College—Buffaloes lost a bitterly contested game to the A. C. C. Wildcats here tonight 37 to 31.

The Buffaloes played inaccurate basket ball passing erratically and missing sure goal after sure goal.

The Wildcats proved to be the fast set team that has ever met the Buffaloes. Incidentally the Wildcats were the first team that has ever beat the Buffaloes in the new Buffalo gym. Lowes of the Buffaloes won high point honors with 12 points while Powell of the Wildcats was a close second with 11 points.

The loss tonight will force the Buffaloes to win the remaining five conference games on their schedule in order to clinch the title.

Helen Wills Takes Two Winnings At Bealieu Tournay

By United News. BEAULIEU, Feb. 19.—Helen Wills, once more at the top of her game, swept through two more rounds of the Bealieu tournament Friday defeating Emily Wright in straight love sets and Mrs. Lycett, once a finalist in the women's singles at Wimbledon, 6-0, 6-1.

Nineteen others from the Japanese craft are believed to have been lost after taking to life boats late last month. A storm had crippled the Taishin Maru several days out from Yokohama and they had elected to abandon her. The fourteen who stayed with their ship saw their provision slowly consumed until, crazed by hunger, they hunted and devoured the rats which scurried about the foodless vessel. The ship's cat also went into soup for them.

MARION HOLLINS WINS PEBBLE BEACH GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

By United News. DEL MONTE, Calif., Feb. 19.—Miss Marion Hollins of New York has won her fourth consecutive pebble beach golf championship, recognized as the Pacific coast title event for women.

The former national champion Friday defeated Mrs. W. C. Van Antwerp of San Francisco, northern California title holder, 6 and 5 in the final round of the annual tournament.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE CAUSES ARREST OF TWO MEXICANS

By United News. EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 19.—Alfonso De La Huerta and Salvador Franco Urias were arrested here today by department of justice agents charged with conspiracy against the Mexican government.

Alfonso is a brother of Adolfo De La Huerta, former Mexican minister, who lead an unsuccessful revolution against President Obregon.

The conspiracy is supposed to have been made in San Antonio last September. The warrants were issued in San Antonio.

Huerta and Urias were released under $2,500 bond for a hearing in San Antonio at an early date. They deny participation in or knowledge of the conspiracy.

Both have been living in El Paso for about 10 months. Urias is a former congressman and former editor of El Herald, once a leading daily of Mexico City.

It is understood federal authorities are seeking several other Mexicans in connection with the alleged plot.

TECH COLLEGE MATADORS WIN OVER MCMURRAY AT ABILENE BY SMALL MARGIN; HARD FIGHTING FROM START

Special to the Avalanche. ABILENE, Feb. 19.—The Texas Tech Matadors romped away with a 23 to 21 victory over McMurray college here tonight, and while it was anybody's game for a time, the playing was hard to the last minute and the two teams gave those attending a good show and hearty cheering marked the closing of the game despite the fact that it was the home team that took the whip.

The splendid showing made by the Hub city aggregation here assures good attendance at any engagement here, and the McMurray team supporters are looking forward to an opportunity for revenge when another large crowd will be accorded the performance.

TORTURED SAILORS DISABLED SHIP ARE RESCUED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—Fourteen men have been saved from their disabled freighter after living through twenty days of torture off the Japanese coast.

The men, members of the crew of the Japanese freighter Taishin Maru No. 3, are being nourished back to health aboard the Standard Oil tanker Java Arrow. They were near death from lack of food and water when the American ship rescued them.

Nineteen others from the Japanese craft are believed to have been lost after taking to life boats late last month. A storm had crippled the Taishin Maru several days out from Yokohama and they had elected to abandon her. The fourteen who stayed with their ship saw their provision slowly consumed until, crazed by hunger, they hunted and devoured the rats which scurried about the foodless vessel. The ship's cat also went into soup for them.

DALLAS AIR MAIL TO CHICAGO TO BEGIN SOON

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 19.—Dallas-Chicago air mail service is to be inaugurated about the first of May, according to Colonel Paul Henderson, of the National Air Transportation Corporation, which has been awarded the contracts.

A delay in the shipments of the planes is the only obstacle in the way for the service now. Hangars, fields and other equipment is said to be in complete readiness.

A series of trial flights will be made before the regular service is inaugurated, it was said.

WHITE HOUSE AND SENATE APART ON ISSUES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Further divergence between the White House and the senate developed out of two incidents occurring simultaneously late Friday.

The White House spokesman took occasion at the press conference to lecture the senate severely for delaying action on the Italian debt settlement.

The latter President Wilson was in the vicinity and was watching for the two small boats and the remainder of the Taishin Maru's crew.

LUBBOCK ORGANIZATIONS APPOINT COMMITTEES TO TAKE BIG CROWD AND TWO BANDS TO LITTLEFIELD

Committees from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Board of City Development, and the Retail Merchants Association will meet this morning at nine o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce office to complete plans for working up a big delegation to leave here Monday to attend the district meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Littlefield, seventy-five to a hundred cars which will carry from three to four hundred Lubbock boosters to Littlefield will be the object of the committees according to J. R. Germany, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and at the head of the committees.

Large delegations from all parts of the South Plains will be present at the Littlefield meeting. Germany stated last night, and Lubbock must send three or four hundred live boosters up to represent her if she is to make the showing in proportion to her size that should be made.

In the past few years Lubbock has established a good record for sending live delegations to the annual meetings of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the citizenship of this city is not going to let this opportunity of showing West Texas the support the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has here by sending a small delegation to Littlefield, our nearest neighbor, according to J. D. Hassell, chairman of the committee from the Retail Merchants Association and is the duty of the merchants of Lubbock to visit Littlefield Monday and help them make the district meeting there a success as well as to prove to the Littlefield merchants that Lubbock appreciated their friendship.

The three committees which will meet this morning at the Chamber of Commerce will canvass the entire city signing up cars for the trip to Littlefield. The auto caravan will leave here at eight o'clock Monday morning bound for Littlefield where they will meet with business of the South Plains to discuss problems before this section of West Texas. R. Q. Lee, president and Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be present at the meeting in addition to other officials.

Both the High School Band under the direction of Professor J. W. Crowley, and the Tech Band under the direction of Professor W. R. Washburn will make the trip to Littlefield to help keep up the pep and enthusiasm which the Lubbock delegation will have.

Situated as near to Littlefield as Lubbock is and with the strong spirit of co-operation and friendship between citizens here and at Littlefield Lubbock should have by far the largest delegation at Littlefield that has ever gone out from this city. The district meeting is one of the big events in the calendar year of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with the exception of the annual meeting.

The following committees were in charge of the arrangements for a record delegation are: J. D. Hassell, J. R. Germany, B. C. Dickinson, Chas. A. Guv. and J. W. Royalty, of the Board of City Development; J. R. Germany, B. C. Dickinson, Chas. A. Guv. and J. W. Royalty, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; J. O. Hassell, L. C. Ellis and J. W. Gamel, of the Retail Merchants Association.

These committees will meet at the Chamber of Commerce offices this morning at nine o'clock and expect to go out and sign up from seventy-five to one hundred cars for the trip immediately following the meeting.

WILSON EXPOUNDS MERITS OF GOLF AS NEEDED RECREATIONAL SPORT; ASSOCIATION BEING REORGANIZED

The importance to be attached to recreation as a part of a successful life has been stressed by members of the Lubbock Municipal Golf Association, who are endeavoring to have the great Scottish game accorded greater patronage locally, and to which end a great deal is being spent in the reclamation of the links in the county park east of the city.

These links are located in the great Yellowhouse canyon and are perhaps more beautifully situated than any in West Texas, though lovers of the game have complained a bit about the condition of the course being such as to make playing more than difficult. This complaint caused the re-organization of the association and the improvement of its financial status in order that corrections might be made and the fairways be made just as attractive as possible.

Vaughn E. Wilson, attorney, and one of the prime movers in the re-organization of the association, has contributed the following comments on the Scottish game, that will give Avalanche readers a keener appreciation of its recreational merits:

In the swirl of life and business and pleasures of maintaining our social position in a manner that becomes us, and in meeting the demands made on us by the little groups which make up the world in which we live, we very often overlook and disregard the little necessities that are essential to keeping the pace set for us. Our minds, our thoughts and our actions are too often centered on one objective to the exclusion of all others. This characteristic is not to be condemned. On the other hand it is a rare quality, that is, it is rarely found in the average person. We find it most fully developed in the successful man and woman, the leaders in every walk of life. But where we find that ability and characteristic most fully developed we also find other characteristics and capacities developed to a proportionate degree of efficiency. And in many cases we find that the other characteristics which have been developed are some times called "hobbies," and that hobby may be a recreation to the man or woman who uses it. But to the outsider or to the person who resorts to it, it may appear only to be time wasted, pure foolishness, a useless expense, a rich man's game, or it may be any other group of words applied to it that expresses the point of view of the person who respects it. And the epithet we apply to that particular hobby is to be determined almost wholly by the group which sets our pace, the little world in which we live, or some prejudice against it that has become a part of us some where along the line. Golf is such a game to some of us. It originated in Scotland. Was brought to this country by somebody. It was mild or strenuous as the player would make it. The man of leisure confiscated it because it served his demand for mild recreation. But it also fitted men of other occupations. It was recreation to them and they took to it because it fitted their need for mild recreation. And it has been resorted to constantly by men and women in every walk of life who have realized that they did need recreation and then took what they needed. Golf has become a national sport, a real means of recreation, and some people take it in the place of medicine. But some of us are still slaves to our groups, to our prejudices, to the little worlds in which we live, small as they may be. We don't want to be called times wasters, we don't want to take up a foolish habit, we don't want to spend our money uselessly, we don't want to make the rich man's hobby our hobby, because we are not rich. We don't want to take part in a game that is an "idle man's" hobby, because we don't want to be classed as idle. And it follows that we don't have a hobby because people who have hobbies are peculiar, and we don't want to be peculiar. And what is the result? We narrow ourselves down to the little recreation that our group doesn't afford recreation we don't take any. We work all day and spend half the night over some indoor sport that fags us out and we call it recreation. We go to work the next morning physically unfit, mentally dumb, and robbed of the energy that mild recreation will give us. We wonder why, we take a dose of medicine to brace us up but when that brace wears out we slide back into the same rut. We draw our salary at the end of each month and wonder why we don't get a raise. Well, it takes energy to get a raise. It takes energy to live, to work, to eat and it even takes energy to play, but it doesn't take energy to die. A stimulant will give you temporary energy but finally that stimulant will lose its effect. Golf will take your energy temporarily and if resorted to regularly will restore your energy in abundance, and finally it will displace the pills and your favorite prescription and stimulant. But be careful. It will make you a "hobbyist," it will get you new acquaintances, it may be time wasted, it may be a useless expense, it may make you bigger than your little group, it may get you a raise in salary, and worst of all it may make you healthy.

FRENCH TO SPEAK FOR MORE HOGS AT LOCKNEY

LOCKNEY, Texas, Feb. 19.—Col. C. C. French, industrial agent of the Fort Worth Stock Yards Co. of Fort Worth will be in Lockney February 23 in interest of "The More Hogs for Texas Campaign," which is being sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Floyd county for many years has produced fine hogs in great numbers. Theo. Griffith, local hog man, has shipped from Lockney more than a million dollars worth of hogs in the past five years. Albert King, Lockney farmer, sold 129 hogs in September for $2,500. Colonel French will be welcomed to Floyd county by many farmers as the cow, sow and hen program is the topic of the day.

Thirst For Beer Back Wet Drive, Blanton Says

By United News
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A deep bass cry for beer from several members brought an appropriate climax Thursday to one of the most boisterous prohibition sessions of the house of representatives. Representative Deal, Virginia democrat, started the ball rolling with a speech in which he declared that the rights of American citizens were being nullified and violated in the enforcement of the Volstead act.

This provoked Representative Blanton, Texas democrat. He demanded time to answer the attack upon prohibition and a free-for-all resulted, with wets taking every opportunity to nettle Blanton, who opened himself for the crowning retort, when he shouted:

"What do these wets want?"
A moment of silence followed. Then came the answer:

"Beer!"
Prior to the lively argument on the house floor, Lincoln C. Andrews, dry enforcement chief, let it be known that he favored a general survey of prohibition, as is provided in a resolution introduced in the house by Representative Celler, New York, democrat, but did not commit himself to Celler plan for the survey.

Secretary Mellon's opposition to the suggestion that the government buy up all the medical liquor in the country was also made known at the treasury Thursday.

MRS. W. D. ESTES DIED AT RALLS WEDNESDAY

Special to the Avalanche
RALLS, Feb. 19.—Mrs. W. D. Estes, 50 years of age, died here Wednesday following long illness with pneumonia.
Funeral services were conducted Thursday.
Mrs. Estes had been a resident of Ralls during the past seven years, and had spent 31 years in Texas.

36 Bodies Taken From Bingham's "Tomb of Snow"

By United News
BINGHAM, Utah, Feb. 19.—After thirty hours of frantic digging in the mountain of snow and debris which swept down on Bingham Wednesday morning officials said that the last of the bodies will not be uncovered until spring.

Two bodies were recovered Thursday raising the total number of known dead to 36, the 12 injured taken from the snow prison Wednesday afternoon and evening all will survive, according to physicians at the Bingham general hospital.

Every hope of taking anyone else alive from the "tomb of snow" has been abandoned, as it was pointed out that the entombed would have frozen to death before now.

Relief leaders were high in their praise for the miners who are digging away at the tomb of snow. There were no cases of pillaging. Money found by the workers was turned over to mine officials, and probably will be placed in a benefit fund to be raised for the sufferers.

A forty gallon keg of wine was found in the debris. A rubber tube was inserted and tired workers were refreshed from its contents.

The fall of heavy snow which caused the Sap Gulch slide caused apprehension on other parts of Bingham Canyon today. Engineers and officials of the mining company sent out warnings to citizens on the other side of the canyon. Volunteers armed with shot guns have been dispatched to the ridges of the mountains surrounding the gulch. They have been instructed to watch closely for the slightest movement of snow. If such a movement is noted three volleys will be fired to give warning to the workers and residents below.

Strange but unmirthful pranks were played the avalanche. Luther McCandless was taken from the wreckage uninjured but his partner and bed mate Ben Benson, was buried so deep in the snow that he suffocated before rescuers could reach him.

LARGE SALES TOWN LOTS COMPLETED AT LOCKNEY

LOCKNEY, Texas, Feb. 18.—The chamber of commerce reports that business and city lots in Lockney were sold Tuesday and Wednesday for $6,000 and that buildings would be erected on at least four of them as soon as titles can be examined. There is at present several residences under construction. E. S. Shoaf, secretary of the chamber of commerce states that 57 inquiries from 11 states were received last week regarding Lockney and Floyd county property, and that every day tourists and homeseekers were visiting Lockney and looking at different pieces of property.

TOWN-LOT SOW AND HEN PROJECT IS MONEY MAKER

By United News
MEXIA, Texas, Feb. 19.—As an example of what may be done with cows and chickens on a town lot is seen in the results of such an experiment by A. S. Johnson of this city.

During January Mr. Johnson says that his two cows and small pen of chickens netted him a profit of fifty dollars. Johnson who is in the employ of a laundry firm here says that it was a pleasurable as well as a profit for him to work with his "live-stock" during his spare moments.

After making a clean sweep in the singles the French team went down in the semi-finals of the doubles. Bill Tilden and Fred Anderson defeated Borotra and Lacoste at 6-4, 6-4.

William Carlson had no idea of the violin's value until he saw newspaper pictures of a Stradivarius collection.

The circulation department has, for the past ten days, been given considerable unnecessary trouble on account of from ten to twenty papers being taken from in front of houses on Broadway, Ave. M, and 14th St., the Postoffice Drug Store and Snappy Shine Parlor, and selling them.

We do not wish to cause any trouble, but this paper stealing will certainly be stopped.

Yours for success. CIRCULATION MANAGER.

The trademark of the old Italian craftsman was carved on Carlson's instrument, with the date, 1737. "I was living in Ishping, Mich., when I read an advertisement of a Chicago mail order house offering a violin to persons sending in $3 and names of four friends," said the tailor in telling how he obtained the prize. "I did this and the violin reached me soon after."

Cotton Seed Oil New Orleans— The cotton seed oil market was strong again today with refiners active bidders and taking all contracts offered. Offerings of crude oil are very light and interior mills are constantly advancing prices. Buyers seem willing to meet advances. Futures six to 15 higher. Spots 20 higher, 11.40.

Kansas City Livestock KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.— The heavy snow storm of Thursday curtailed shipments of livestock and there were scarcely enough offered to fix prices. Hog receipts were light and there sharp advances in prices at all points. The run here was cleared early at 25 to 40 cents higher prices. Hog receipts 1,000; desirable 180 to 250 lb averages to shippers $12.40 @ 1265; 130 to 160 lb averages $12.75 @ 1300; no heavies sold; packers inactive, packing sows $10.00 @ 10.50; stock pigs scarce. Cattle 250; calves 50; receipts largely fed steers, quality plain, other classes nominally steady. Sheep 1,000; lambs fully steady; no light or heavy weight kinds offered; 93 to 95 lb offerings $11.60 @ 12.25; top $12.25; odd lots sheep steady.

New York Finance By United Press NEW YORK, Feb. 19.— A misunderstanding of the brokers' loans figures issued Friday by the federal reserve bank proved costly to the bears in the stock market and resulted in a brisk rally of stock prices when they realized their mistake. The bank reports showing an increase of more than $40,000,000 in loans on stocks and bonds for the week ended February 10, compared with the preceding week. This was the signal for a heavy flood of selling, but when it was pointed out that the new bond offerings in that week had totalled $60,000,000 alone, thus accounting for a large share of the loans, the bears realized their mistake and were forced to cover their short sales at ever mounting prices. At any other time it could be confidently stated that the market was in a greatly improved technical position and that an advance would not be illogical. But with the market in its present highly sensitive state Saturday's rise, at least to a temporary halt in the decline as follows advanced.

It is true, however, that the market behaved in very creditable fashion and the spirited advances in several of the market's leaders were but little checked by the weakness in individual shares which received the brunt of the selling. The railroad issues were prominent in the advance and a large majority of the fresh buying that appeared in the afternoon was centered to interest speculative public, the market being dull and uninteresting. Just now there is no decisive trend indicated. Coarse Grains—The shipping demand for corn not as good today as yesterday, as result cash markets half to one cent lower relatively to the May. Movement from country has been so persistent that industries as well as elevators find storage room scarce and they are warning against further consignments without previous notice. The market is gaining friends on the theory that the movement from country will decrease soon after the first of March and that the entire situation in cash markets will slowly strengthen. Chicago Tribune says: Belief that the wheat market has turned for the better after being fairly liquidated on the 14 cent decline, was expected by strong interests who were credited with buying yesterday. The calendar time for buying wheat is around February 22 and was given as one of the reasons for buying. An oversold condition was a factor in bringing support. Traders who placed no confidence in the calendar theory and considered the bulge as due to bad weather and technical both in wheat and corn and favored sales on bulges. Appearance of several foreign countries at the seaboard yesterday with inquiries and buyers of wheat when they were not expected until March was considered as significant.

Stock Opinions Hornblower & Weeks—For the balance of the week we would anticipate a seesaw movement with stocks that have recovered at the expense of short interest returning to their low point with issues that have shown a definite degree of resistance showing a tendency to advance. Block Maloney—We look for more drives at weak spots before these are eliminated we will see a substantial rally. For the present use rallies for sales. It will be a two sided market. Eynon & Co.—The market should be quite strong until Friday afternoon when stocks purchased earlier in the week will be closed out by traders who will want to be out of the market over the holiday.

Stanley Weather Forecast MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Map clear over western belt, light to moderate rainfall scattered eastern belt, and over portions of central belt. Forecast Friday entire belt generally fair, colder eastern belt and slowly rising temperatures western belt.

Cotton Seed Oil New Orleans—The cotton seed oil market was strong again today with refiners active bidders and taking all contracts offered. Offerings of crude oil are very light and interior mills are constantly advancing prices. Buyers seem willing to meet advances. Futures six to 15 higher. Spots 20 higher, 11.40.

Kansas City Livestock KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.— The heavy snow storm of Thursday curtailed shipments of livestock and there were scarcely enough offered to fix prices. Hog receipts were light and there sharp advances in prices at all points. The run here was cleared early at 25 to 40 cents higher prices. Hog receipts 1,000; desirable 180 to 250 lb averages to shippers $12.40 @ 1265; 130 to 160 lb averages $12.75 @ 1300; no heavies sold; packers inactive, packing sows $10.00 @ 10.50; stock pigs scarce. Cattle 250; calves 50; receipts largely fed steers, quality plain, other classes nominally steady. Sheep 1,000; lambs fully steady; no light or heavy weight kinds offered; 93 to 95 lb offerings $11.60 @ 12.25; top $12.25; odd lots sheep steady.

Ft. Worth Livestock FT. WORTH, Texas, Feb. 19.— Cattle receipts 1,500; calves receipts 200; heaves 550 @ 850; stockers 500 @ 835; cows 400 @ 625; cutters 350 @ 385; canners 300 @ 335; heifers 500 @ 875; yearlings 550 @ 900; calves 375 @ 900; bulls 300 @ 550. Hogs receipts 1,200; medium 1250 @ 1275; heavy 1200 @ 1250; light 1275 @ 1285; mixed 1175 @ 1200; common 1125 @ 1175; packing sows 1000 @ 1025; pigs 1000 @ 1150. Sheep receipts 500; spring lambs 1100 @ 1200; feeder lambs 1000 @ 1150; yearlings 1000 @ 1050; wethers 750 @ 875; ewes 650 @ 750; culls 100 @ 250; stocker sheep 800 @ 650; goats 100 @ 300.

New York Finance By United Press NEW YORK, Feb. 19.— A misunderstanding of the brokers' loans figures issued Friday by the federal reserve bank proved costly to the bears in the stock market and resulted in a brisk rally of stock prices when they realized their mistake. The bank reports showing an increase of more than $40,000,000 in loans on stocks and bonds for the week ended February 10, compared with the preceding week. This was the signal for a heavy flood of selling, but when it was pointed out that the new bond offerings in that week had totalled $60,000,000 alone, thus accounting for a large share of the loans, the bears realized their mistake and were forced to cover their short sales at ever mounting prices. At any other time it could be confidently stated that the market was in a greatly improved technical position and that an advance would not be illogical. But with the market in its present highly sensitive state Saturday's rise, at least to a temporary halt in the decline as follows advanced.

It is true, however, that the market behaved in very creditable fashion and the spirited advances in several of the market's leaders were but little checked by the weakness in individual shares which received the brunt of the selling. The railroad issues were prominent in the advance and a large majority of the fresh buying that appeared in the afternoon was centered ed in this group. This was partly attributable to the better sentiment created by the agreement of the officials of 50 railroads leading out of Chicago to arbitrate the question of wage increases for trainmen and conductors with the brotherhood leaders. The principal cause of the continued confidence in the carrier shares, however, is still the direct result of improved earnings and, impending mergers in which the roads of the southwest are just now the most aggressive.

LUB HI-LIFE

Plans are under way for the organization of a High School Press Club. The purpose of the Club will be to foster high school journalism, and to help prepare students of the different classes for the work with the High School publications in the coming years. Pupils eligible for membership are the present "Westerner" staff and all "A" students in English. Announcement of officers will be made later.

Among those absent from the Senior Class are: J. M. Kirksey, Fred Moore, Alene Carter, Lucile Strickel.

Rupert Hays was elected Captain of the 1927 Lubbock Basketball Team. There will be no more basketball games this season.

It is reported that some of the high school teachers are corresponding with some of the student's parents.

Some one said that we had a sand storm yesterday.

The students of English in Lubbock HI have just finished studying the pamphlet "The Book of Life" by M. H. Duncan. All agreed that they enjoyed studying it.

Basket Ball Boys Elect Captain For Next Year

Thursday afternoon the basketball boys held a meeting in the gym, and elected Rupert Hays as Captain of the 1927 Captains. The boys have just finished one of the most successful seasons of basketball in Lubbock HI. They played 23 games and lost only 5. Most of the old club will be back next year and much is expected of them.

Coach Niles announces that the following men will receive letters: Rupert Hays, Eddie Adkinson, Burton Pruitt, W. T. Reed, E. C. Caviness, Curtis Allen, Chas. Ing and Homer Hardberger.

Jokes
A Lubbock Real Estate dealer talking to a new comer on a spring morning: "Mr. Hardberger are you ready to go and look at that land west of town today?"
Homer Hardberger (with a sad look on his face): "No I think if we stand here on the street corner we can see it all as it passes by."

A Visit to Lubbock Paint and Wallpaper Company
The home management girls of the Home Economics Class made a visit to the Lubbock Paint and Wallpaper Co., Thursday morning. The girls are studying the subject of Shelter and in connection with it they have had a lesson on wall covering and floors. While at the Paint and Wall paper Co., they were shown many beautiful wall paper patterns.

Mr. Rausin talked to the class on the use of different kinds and colors of paper together with draperies and woodwork. He also gave practical figures on the cost of finishing floors and redoing old floors.
The class enjoyed the visit very much, if they did have to go in a sandstorm. They are planning many more interesting trips to other business houses in the near future.

A most enjoyable program was given in Chapel Thursday by various members of the Sophomore Class. As a special attraction, it was the first public appearance of the newly organized Sophomore Orchestra and the numbers they gave were appreciated by all. Members of the orchestra who helped make its debut successful one are:

Bonald Smallwood—trumpet.
Mahael Garthins—saxophone.
Charles Woods—Clarinet.
Houston Jones—drums.

The class was highly elated over the results of these elections, but the biggest cause of the high elation manifested by the class was this:—We are going to have a holiday Monday!

Beginning Tuesday a contest will be held to elect the most beautiful girl of the Senior Class. Votes will be sold for a penny each. The results of the election will go for the annual. Everybody bring your money and vote next week, because the contest will last all week!

One day one of our Senior boys went on a long hunting trip when quite unexpectedly a heavy rain storm came up. He crawled into a hollow log which kept the rain off very well. But the log became so water soaked that it was impossible for him to get out. Then he decided that his fate was to die in that log, and he began to think of many mean things he had done. Then suddenly he remembered that he had not paid his class dues. That made him feel so small that he was able to crawl out of the log without difficulty.

The Holiday
Great sadness was manifested by the school Friday when Mr. Atkinson announced that there would be no school Monday, February 22, in fact the building was almost torn up, and passers-by wondered what the great sound of mourning issuing from the building meant. It meant that we are going to have a holiday Monday in honor of George Washington. We surely do appreciate our first president,—and our present Superintendent.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is meeting at Littlefield, Monday, Feb., 22. The Lubbock High School Band is going over to furnish some of the music. The High School Band is doing great work with their music, due to Mr. Crowley's interest.
Some of the boys in High School are going to accompany the Lubbock C. of C. and give an Extemporaneous speech on "My Town."

Lorene Waldrop is much better now. She wishes to express her appreciation for the flowers the Juniors sent her. We regret very much that she is not back among her classmates. She is missed very much and we hope to see her back soon.

There are many Juniors out of school now, due to "Flu" raging in town. We hope to see them all in line after the Holiday Monday.

Basket Ball Season ceased last night and Rupert Hays was chosen Captain for the year 1926 and '27. Thanks to Mr. Duncan for the Holiday Monday. We realize we have a real good Superintendent of the Lubbock Schools.

The Juniors are going to have a "Weiner (Weeny) Roast" next Thursday nite. They have not had any pleasure trips yet, so we had a class meeting and decided to go next Thursday nite if the weather permits.

The Juniors have had their pins ordered about a month ago and are expecting them soon. Watch the Juniors climb and keep up with times.
