Who has the toughest schedule in collegiate football this season? According to one well-circulated rating system, it's Mississippi State.

Incidentally, nobody in the Southwest Conference is in the top 20 in the tough schedule department. The Texas Aggies rank 21st, just behind Tennessee. The University of Texas schedule is ranked 24th for toughness, while that of TCU is 25th, Baylor 28th, SMU 29th and then down the line are Rice 37th, Arkansas 53rd and Texas Tech 58th. Houston's schedule is ranked 51st.

The rankings are arrived at by the rating system taking its own appraisal of strength for each team on a schedule and striking an average.

In the top 10 behind Mississippi State are Michigan State, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Ole Miss., California, Kentucky, Pitt, Notre Dame and Auburn.

Watching an American Football League game on television is enough to make a person want to promote a new organization, which could have a name like "The Society To Prohibit The Use of End Zone Cameras In Televising Football Games."

NBC is the big user of end zone shots, which give the viewer no perspective whatever of what is happening on the football field. The CBS crews who shoot the NFL games, limit their end zone shots for the most part to extra point kicks.

Regardless of what some self - styled experts may say about being able to see the blocking better from head-on or from directly behind, the 50-yard line seat still commands the best price in the football stadium, and it still gives the television viewer a better idea of what is happening.

Sometimes the ground - level shot is almost as confusing as the end zone view, but it is seldon used. The ground - level shot just proves what many coaches have claimed for a long time — the bench is the worst place of all from which to view a football game. That's the reason that nearly every team nowadays puts a crew in the press box with telephone communications to the bench. Those guys down there on the bench have possibly the worst view of the total action on the field.

Citizens Panel Backs Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue ribbon nonpartisan committee—with former presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman among its members—was unveiled today and gave its approval to U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Omar N. Bradley, general of the army, and former Sen. Paul H. Douglas explained the organization—Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam—at a news conference.

"We strongly support our commitment in Vietnam and the policy of noncompromising, although limited, resistance to aggression," said a policy statement.

The committee said it had no intention to try to suppress the voices of dissent but "our objective is to make sure that the voice of America is heard—loud and clear—so that Peking and Hanoi will not mistake the strident voices of some dissenters for American discouragement and a weakening of will."

The group expressed fear that if the United States abandons South Vietnam, Peking and Hanoi will press an expansionist policy through many other "wars of liberation" in Asia.

Others announced as members of the group include former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Thurman Arnold, former solicitor general of the United States; Edmund G. Brown, former governor of California; Lucius D. Clay, former Army general, diplomatic trouble shooter and investment banker; Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University; John Hay Whitney, former ambassador to Great Britain; and Dr. Harold C. Ury, Nobel laureate in chemistry and professor of chemistry at University of California.

Administration spokesmen meanwhile continued a drumbeat of counterfire to protests over U.S. policy in Vietnam but two of them turned down new invitations to discuss the issue publicly in Congress.

More Strikes On Airfield

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes flew through challenging MIGs and heavy flak today for followup strikes on North Vietnam's biggest air base and a new raid on the mile-long Doumer Bridge in the capital of Hanoi.

It was the second consecutive raid on the vital MIG airfield at Phuc Yen, previously on the Pentagon's restricted target list, and the second strike at the Doumer Bridge which was hit once before on Aug. 11.

The bridge carries most of the city's road and rail traffic across the Red River on the heavily travelled northeast route to Red China.

It was the second consecutive day of maximum effort raids by Air Force fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand.

Radio Hanoi declared North Vietnamese planes, antiaircraft guns and missiles shot down 10 planes in the Hanoi-Phuc Yen area today.

There was no comment from American authorities in Saigon.

Against North Vietnamese claims to have felled nine American planes Tuesday, U.S. headquarters had reported the loss of four.

The heavily-laden F105 Thunderchiefs swept over Phuc Yen to again crater the 9,170-foot runway and to blast maintenance and support facilities north of the field which were untouched in Tuesday's raids.

The initial reports of the raid on Hanoi's Doumer Bridge said the bombs were "on target" but did not have further details. The Aug. 11 raid dropped a span in the dead center of the mile-long, 19-span concrete structure. The bridge is 1.7 miles from the city's center. The Air Force said photos showed the bombed out span had been repaired and the bridge was again carrying road and probably rail traffic.

UN Seeking Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—New firing broke out today near Egypt's still blazing Suez oil refineries, as the Soviet Union pushed for support in the U.N. Security Council to condemn Israel as the aggressor in Tuesday's three-hour artillery battle.

The council resumes its session this morning on the new Middle East flareup. The 15-nation body quickly decided, however, to recess until 3 p.m. to give members time to try to reach agreement on a generally acceptable resolution aimed at stopping the fighting.

Newsmen touring the ravaged Egyptian port at the southern end of the Suez Canal reported an Israeli plane penetrated Egyptian air space and sprayed machine-gun bullets at men struggling to put out fires set off by Israeli shells the day before.

But Israeli military officials across the canal in Port Taufiq said nervous Egyptian flak gunners opened up on one of their own Soviet-made Sukhoi 7 fighters as it swept low over Egypt's west bank of the canal. Flak bracketed the craft, the Israelis said, but it did not appear to be hit.

"He was lucky," an Israeli officer said. "Our gunners might have opened up."

The Israelis charged Egyptian forces raked Israeli positions with machine-gun fire at the southern end of the Great Bitter Lake, about 15 miles north of Port Taufiq. There were no casualties and the fire was not returned, they said.

Thick smoke curled from at least five fires in Suez and cast a huge shadow over the canal's southern entrance. A long black stream of smoke trailed 20 miles into the Sinai Desert.

The Israeli army reported trouble on another frontier. It said two Israeli soldiers were killed, another was seriously wounded and an Arab was killed in a clash between troops and Arab infiltrators seven miles north of the Damya Bridge spanning the Jordan River.

At the United Nations, there seemed little chance the Russians could round up enough votes to secure approval of their resolution condemning Israel.

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg brushed aside the Soviet resolution, terming it a "midnight rerun of this stale record." He introduced a resolution calling on the council to condemn all violations of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire.

Israel and Egypt blamed each other for triggering the fierce artillery and mortar duel at the southern end of the Suez Canal. Fires still roared today in Egypt's two major oil refineries in the city of Suez which produced 80 per cent of Egypt's petroleum. The pipeline terminal at nearby Port Taufiq also was ablaze.

Gov. Hamid Mahmoud of Suez told visiting newsmen one refinery was almost completely destroyed Tuesday and the other was half flattened. He said three civilians were killed and 60 wounded by the Israeli shelling, while an Egyptian communique said military casualties were three killed and 12 wounded.

Israel made no announcement of its losses but denied an Egyptian claim that an Israeli jet was shot down and four Israeli tanks were destroyed. The Security Council was called into urgent session Tuesday night at the request of Egypt which accused Israel of "new and premeditated, flagrant aggression."

Israel filed a counter complaint accusing the Egyptians of "open aggression and violations of the cease-fire resolution." The Israelis charged the Egyptians fired first from gun emplacements within inhabited areas of Port Taufig, Port Ibrahim and Suez.

Five Share Prizes In Grid Picks

Knock out a couple of big upsets, and there would have been four perfect entries in last week's Snyder Daily News Football Contest.

As it worked out, there was a five - way tie for the prize money and the five winners will share the $12.50 total for first and second place.

Sharing the week's laurels, with just two misses each, were Frank Alarcon, 2807 Avenue N; Jackie Hartsfield, 2204 Forty - fifth Street; Ronald Ward, 3200 Hill Avenue; Mrs. Charlie L. Morrow, 308 East Highway; and Bill Zimmerman, 2402 Denison Avenue.

All five missed Oregon State's upset of Purdue, and all but Zimmerman missed Big Spring's surprise victory over Abilene High. Zimmerman's second miss was Lubbock Dunbar's victory over Brownfield.

There was a substantial number just one game off the pace with three misses each.

Another contest gets underway today. The list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements on the football contest page of this issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Accused Slayer Dies

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Accused mass murderer Leo Held died today at Lock Haven Hospital of bullet wounds suffered in a blazing gun battle with police Monday.

A hospital administrator said Held's death about 6:30 a.m. resulted from a blood clot to his heart.

Held, a 40-year-old former school board member, was charged with murdering six persons and wounding six others during a shooting spree.

His death rules out the chance officers will ever learn what triggered the rampage. They had not questioned him because of the critical nature of his wounds and because of fear of violating his constitutional rights.

Wall Going Up On Korean DMZ

By K.P. HONG
Associated Press Writer

ALONG THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) — U.S. forces guarding an 18½ - mile section of Korea's demilitarized zone are building a chain link fence across the front to cut down on North Korean sneak attacks that have killed at least 20 Americans and wounded 60 others in the last 12 months.

South Korean Army authorities said construction of a similar barrier is expected to be completed before next spring in the part of the 151-mile border the Koreans guard.

The barrier going up in the U.S. patrol area is topped with barbed wire and appears similar in some respects to the one Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered built just below the demilitarized zone in South Vietnam to slow North Vietnamese infiltration.

Both fences are basically an early warning system. The Korean fence, although reinforced by watch towers with electronic equipment, does not have the electronic and antipersonnel devices planned for the Vietnamese barrier.

"The fence itself is not the barrier," said Lt. Col. George A. Meighan, a battalion commander of the 2nd "Indian Head" Division at the Korean front. The big factor in determining its success, he said, would be the soldiers watching the fence.

Sections completed since construction began in June stand 10 feet high and are topped with rolls of barbed wire. They run relatively straight through mountainous terrain 50 to 200 yards below the southern edge of the 2½-mile-wide buffer zone. Towers with electronic equipment, searchlights and numerous positions for sentinels are dotted along it.

About 80 to 150 yards of land have been cleared on either side of the fence. Meighan said this would help his men observe movement of any infiltrators.

At night searchlights flash on and other electronic detection equipment comes into play.

Board Forestalls Agency Warning

The Snyder School Board, in a special session this morning, made emergency minor adjustments to junior high principals' salaries to forestall a complaint by the Southern Association of Schools.

At the same time the local board served notice that it would review the situation before succeeding contracts are negotiated and that membership in the regional accrediting agency itself likely would come under scrutiny for all units, except the senior high school. At present all local schools, elementary through senior high are accredited by the Southern Association, and each unit is considered separate from all others in the accreditation standards.

The latter situation caused the special meeting this morning. The Southern Association had warned that Travis Junior High School had an improper ratio of salaries between administrators and classroom teachers. This had come about because of the school's salary schedule which rewards advanced study by faculty members as well as longevity. Thus, it would be possible for a classroom teacher with many years of experience, along with a masters degree plus 30 hours of academic qualifications, to receive a salary higher than that of an administrator with less experience and with less advanced study.

No academic question was involved in the Southern Association warning. For the time being, the board voted to put both junior high principals on the same annual salary, which meant a $600 raise for Jack Gorman at Travis and a $60 per annum raise of R. E. Cooper at Lamar. This would erase the Southern Association complaint, although the school board regards it as only a temporary solution. The full situation will be studied before the next year's contracts are submitted.

The vote on the proposal was five to one, with Board Members Harold Lacik, Dan Cotton, Ted Crenwelge, Dillard Teal and Bill Schiebel voting for, and Max von Roeder voting against.

Intense Storm Chills North

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An intense storm centered over the northern Great Lakes region spread rain Wednesday from the Midwest to the Appalachians as much cooler air knifed into the southern and eastern parts of the nation.

Early morning temperatures dropped into the 40s in South Central Texas and the northern portions of Mississippi and Alabama.

The mercury dropped into the teens in parts of North Dakota. Snow flurries occurred in the northern Great Lakes.

Cloudy skies kept minimum temperatures in the 30s and 40s over much of the Great Plains and Mississippi Valley.

STUDY SHOWS HOW MONEY GOES

'More You Earn, The More It Takes

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The more money you make the more it takes to live, says a government report showing a "moderate" standard of living costs a city family of four more than $9,000.

"Psychologically, the family feels as much pressure as before because it wants more," said Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The report shows a "moderate" living standard cost 39 per cent more than in 1959 when the last such study was made. Fifteen per cent of the increase was in prices. The other 24 per cent was in real improvements in the form of better food, more autos and other family needs and desires.

Ross emphasized the study does not represent a typical American family, but provides a yardstick to measure the spending habits of other families.

The median income of the nation's 48 million families is about $7,500 a year.

The study was based on a theoretical 38-year-old man with a steady job earning $11,000 a year, his wife who doesn't work, a 13-year-old son and an 8-year-old daughter.

It took them $9,191 in an average U.S. city for a "moderate" living standard last year, and with price increases since then the figure is at least $9,420 a year now.

They spent $7,329 on food, housing, clothing, transportation, medical and personal care and other items and the rest on taxes, life insurance, gifts and contributions to social and charitable organizations and job-related expenses of the husband.

"It is not a poverty budget nor is it a luxury budget," said Ross. The bureau will later publish living cost figures for families with both higher and lower incomes.

The "moderate" family budget, Ross said, shows that "aspirations and expectations multiplied at least as rapidly" as rising income and the production capacity of the economy.

The same couple without children could have lived just as comfortably with $3,778 less income. If they had four children instead of two, they would have needed an additional $2,345 income to keep up the same level of living.

The new report reflected more home ownership than the 1959 study, more families owning automobiles and many better quality and higher priced items. It showed an increasing taste for wine and less for beer.

"It's not our idea of what a family should have, but their own aspirations and needs," Ross said.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last week a neighbor came to our door with a disturbing story. It seems our son, age 10, had undressed her son, age 6, and whatever else took place, she was supposed to have seen.

We have never had any trouble like this before. Our son's exact words were, "I don't know what I did wrong."

This neighbor didn't know that there was a third boy there, who was older. When I questioned him, he assured me that nothing serious took place.

We appreciated this neighbor telling us, so that if we do have a problem we can correct it in time, but what we didn't appreciate was her telling the whole neighborhood.

The next day, none of our son's friends would play with him.

Three days later, the POLICE called to question us in reference to this incident. Such tales can really get out of proportion, can't they?

What should we do if they continue to press the issue?

WORRIED DAD

DEAR DAD: If by "pressing the issue," you mean they continue to persecute your child by refusing to allow their children to play with him, moving from the neighborhood would not be too drastic, if it's at all possible. Tales of this nature live a lot longer than they should.

If you are convinced that what took place was nothing "serious," and only a normal incident of exploring, due to natural boyish curiosity, forget it. But better schedule a chat between your boy and a competent child psychologist to be sure the child hasn't an unhealthy (or abnormal) preoccupation with sex.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old boy with a problem. First let me explain that I AM clean, I LOOK clean, and have never been in any kind of trouble, but I guess you wouldn't say that I was "in" with the popular crowd. I have liked this 16-year-old girl for a long time, and finally got up the nerve to ask her for a movie date. She accepted and I thought we had a good time, but the next time I asked her for a date she said she was busy.

I asked her again, and then she told me that her father didn't want her to go out with me. I asked her why, and she said her father doesn't give reasons, he just gives orders. This bothered me a lot because I only saw her father once to shake hands with on the night I took her out. I finally got up the nerve to call her father and ask him why he didn't like me.

He said he liked me fine, and when I told him what his daughter had told me, he said he never said anything of the kind.

Could the father be lying? Or could the girl have lied to me? I need your advice.

LIED TO

DEAR LIED: Obviously, SOMEBODY lied. Either way, my advice to you is to forget the girl.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine invited me to a buffet-style supper for out-of-town company. While I was eating, without any warning whatsoever, the hostess stuck her fork into my macaroni salad. Abby, all I said was, "Please, if you want some, get some of your own."

She looked at me as tho I was in the wrong and in a very snotty tone she said, "Well, pardon ME!" Then she turned her back on me.

Then I said to her, "O, that's all right, as long as you already started it, you may as well finish it because I'm not going to eat it now." She didn't say another word to me all evening. Naturally, this spoiled the whole party for me.

Abby, what I want to know is, was she out of order for eating from off my plate? Or was I wrong in telling her I didn't like it? You know germs are passed from one to another thru the mouth and I try to be as careful as possible.

CAREFUL

DEAR CAREFUL: I don't know how old you two are, but you sound like a couple of kids. It is not the best manners to "taste" the food on another's plate, neither is it anything about which to become exercised. A closed mouth is a good precaution against "germs." And it also has other advantages.

Dale Carnegie Course To Begin Nov. 2

The Dale Carnegie Course will begin here Thursday, Nov. 2, it was announced following a preview meeting Tuesday evening. Sessions will be held in the community room of Snyder Savings and Loan Association.

This will be the second Dale Carnegie class in Snyder within six months. Marketing statistics indicate that an average town of 10,000 to 15,000 population should have enough interested people for one class every 18 to 24 months, Carnegie Course officials said.

However, they said Snyder people had displayed a remarkably high degree of interest in self-improvements which defied ordinary statistics.

Enrollment is still open for the new class. Information may be obtained from Joe Sliva at The Snyder Daily News, by calling HI 3-5486, or writing Box 949, Snyder.

Arrest Girl In Smashup

The arrest of a 17-year-old girl at a local motel about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon cleared up the hit-and-run case Monday that involved damages totaling over $300.

Investigators working on the case included Chief of Police Stephen Clark, Deputy Sheriff Preston Wilson, Patrolman Jim McKenzie and Patrolman Dwaine Jernigan.

Chief Clark said the girl had recently been released from the State Hospital in Big Spring. She and a 24-year-old male companion told officers they had recently been married in Mexico.

The girl was turned over to Juvenile Authorities. She allegedly struck the side of an apartment in the Waymar Addition, tore down several feet of barbed wire fence, and knocked over a post and guy wire while driving an automobile early Monday morning. She had fled the scene of the collisions, according to police.

Asks Game Alternated

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — State Rep. Bob Hopkins, D-Tulsa, said Tuesday he has asked the legislative council to help him draft a bill to require that the Oklahoma-Texas football game be played in Oklahoma in alternate years.

The game is an annual attraction at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas and the present contract does not expire until 1971.

It draws a round of criticism annually because of pre-game activities in downtown Dallas which sometimes reach near-riot proportions.

Athletic directors Gomer Jones of Oklahoma and Darrell Royal of Texas both said moving the game from Dallas would cost each school a considerable amount of money. The Cotton Bowl seats 75,000, compared with 60,000 in stadiums at Austin and Norman.

Deceased Taxpayer Notifies Tax Man

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Letters to the tax collector produce smiles as well as problems.

George Lehr, Jackson County collector, recently received a letter which said:

"As I have notified your office before, I have been deceased since November 1965. Please remove my name from the tax rolls."

Texans Held On Racing Charge

AUSTIN (AP) — An Internal Revenue Service investigation of betting at 17 quarter horse race tracks in Texas has resulted in arrest of 15 men charged with violating federal gambling laws.

The IRS said more arrests will be made in the next few days.

Tracks where the alleged illegal betting took place, the IRS said, are located at Manor, New Braunfels, Seguin, Fredericksburg, Brady, Boerne, Bandera, Columbus, Uvalde, Del Rio, Laredo, Goliad, Almeda, Hilltop, Sonora, San Angelo and Lubbock.

The series of arrests began Saturday at Downs Race Track at the Laredo International Fair and Exposition, the IRS said. Agents arrested seven men, seized three late model automobiles and $8,686.

Named in complaints charging willful failure to register for a federal wagering stamp and willful failure to pay for a stamp were Perry E. Davis Jr., 42, Beeville; Walter D. Colbath, 43; W. D. Lockhart, 53; T. T. Meeks, 51; and Jamil Ritchie, 37, all of San Antonio; Lydmil D. Sugarek, Olmos; Russell G. Stein, 69, Seguin; L. H. Von Dohlen Jr., Goliad; Claude Osbourn Jr., Runge; William C. Porter, Hebbronville; Bill Suttle, Kerrville; Johnny O. Watson, Seguin; Roy L. Neel, Tahlequah, Okla.; a "John Doe" and a "Richard Roe."

"John Doe" and "Richard Roe" complaints are filed when authorities know whom they want but are uncertain about his name.

The complaints were filed with U.S. Commissioner John Brady.

R. L. Phinney, director of the Austin district of the IRS, advised the public to determine from Calcutta Auctioneers or bookmakers if they have a current federal wagering stamp before placing a bet.

"This will prevent possible losses which can result from seizures and forefeitures by IRS of all wagers if regular stamps have not been bought," he said. All wagering for money is illegal under state law but the federal government does not enforce state statutes.

Persons accepting wagers of any sort are required by federal law to register with the IRS and to buy a $50 wagering stamp.

Otis Marvin Kincheloe also appeared in Court Tuesday on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He pleaded innocent and bond was set at $500. The offense allegedly occurred Tuesday.

Artist's Version Of Noah's Ark

HAIFA, Israel (A)— Noah's ark was a 6,000-ton vessel shaped like a squashed cardboard box—nothing like everyone imagines, it looked, says artist Meir Ben-Uri.

He has built a model ark to prove it. He based the design on a five-year study he made of the numerical values of the Hebrew words—each letter has an equivalent number — in the three verses in the Book of Genesis which tells of the instructions God gave Noah.

"The ark has puzzled me for a long time," he said. "We all think of it as a ship, but Noah was a simple man and no shipbuilder. So I decided to work it out for myself what it really looked like."

He argues that a rectangular vessel would have needed so many support beams there wouldn't have been enough room for the animals.

It wouldn't even have gotten off the ground when the floods came because it wouldn't have had enough buoyance, claims Ben-Uri.

Since the Bible doesn't mention a keel to balance it, he reasoned the floating zoo couldn't have been ship-shaped.

So, Ben-Uri decided, the ark must have been rhomboid-shaped, almost 500 feet long, with a carrying capacity of 15,000 tons. A rhomboid resembles a square but with the corners oblique.

Noah, with the limited resources available, must have constructed the ark lying on its side using rhomboid templates —made by joining two triangles at their base—and joining them with lightweight timber.

Ben-Uri calculates Noah built it in 10 sections, seven of them for the animals, divided into three floors; reptiles on the bottom, four-footed beasts in the middle and birds on the third. Noah's family lived in a small cabin beside the supply of fodder.

"It's simple, but it must have been a major achievement at the time," remarks Ben-Uri.

Nautical engineers confirm that the artists ark is seaworthy.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall, Avenue T and Twenty - first Street. Refreshments will be served and all members have been urged to attend.

Move Threatens Future Of Last Narrow Gauge Train

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The future of the nation's last cross-country-narrow gauge passenger train would be threatened if two companion narrow gauge lines are abandoned, the Colorado Public Utilities Commission contends.

It made the statement in a protest to the Interstate Commerce Commission opposing an application by the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad to end all service over narrow gauge lines between Durango, Colo., and Alamosa, Colo., and between Durango and Farmington, N.M. The protest was mailed Tuesday evening.

The passenger train, which the Colorado commission says would "clearly be threatened," is one which travels the scenic wilderness between Durango and Silverton, Colo., daily in summer months. It is not mentioned in the railroad's abandonment request that the railroad recently refurbished hotel and restaurant facilities at the train's Durango terminal.

The passenger train—named the Silverton—has been featured in several motion pictures and has carried near-capacity crowds in recent years. A request to abandon it was denied a dozen years ago.

Passenger service ended several years ago—except for occasional excursions—on the two narrow gauge lines which the railroad now is asking permission to abandon. It claims economic losses from the trains and says alternative truck service is available to the communities.

The three narrow gauge routes are the only railroad transportation in the San Juan Basin, which includes parts of Southwest Colorado, Northwest New Mexico, Southeast Utah and Northeast Arizona.

The Durango-Alamosa line zigzags across the New Mexico-Colorado border in several places and crosses the mountains at Cumbres Pass, more than 11,000 feet above sea level. Its principal stop in New Mexcio is at Chama. It was built in the 1880s.

Jesse Chisholm was a wandering Indian trader who died in 1868 after eating bear grease that turned out to be toxic. He is the man whose wagon route became the nation's important cattle trail.

EXCEPT FOR ROCKEFELLER

GOPs Unify Against LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The five Republicans most talked of as their party's presidential candidate in 1968 don't agree on how to handle the war in Vietnam but, with one exception, they have managed very briskly to team up against President Johnson.

The one exception is New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who says he doesn't want to be a candidate at all.

The other four sound alike in questioning the Johnson administration's truthfulness in telling the American people about the war. They are former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Ronald Reagan of California, and Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

Of the five Republicans, Romney is the one who has been all over the lot. At one time he said America had a moral right to be involved in the war. At another time he said getting involved was a bad mistake.

At one time he was for stepping up the bombing. But now he's against it. At the same time he is also against pulling out. He talked about the moral rightness of American involvement in November 1965, after he and other governors had visited Vietnam.

This year he said he was brainwashed in Vietnam by American diplomats and military men but it's hard to see how, since he came away with a gloomy picture, predicting things might get worse before getting better.

Nine of the governors who went to Vietnam with Romney disputed his brainwashing charge. And Nixon, who went to Vietnam nine times to Romney's twice, said he had no complaints about the briefings he got on his visits there.

It was on Romney's brainwashing complaint that Rockefeller came closest to joining the chorus against the "credibility" of Johnson. But he was very guarded.

He said Romney's use of "brainwashing" was an attempt to dramatize his views that the administration was giving a one-sided picture of the war.

But Rockefeller, unlike the others, hasn't made any complaints about Johnson's handling of the war. He said judgments on U.S. bombing in Vietnam should be made only by those with special intelligence information, which is what Johnson has.

And he has said of Johnson's handling of the war: "I think he's doing the best he can."

Reagan and Nixon are all for stepping up the pace of U.S. military action in Vietnam. Reagan has called on the government to throw its full military punch into the war to win it as soon as possible. He proposed "sharp escalation" but said nuclear bombs weren't necessary.

Nixon says the war must be shortened by use of "massive pressure" and he, too, wants to avoid nuclear weaponry.

"The President," Nixon says, "by gradual escalation has frittered away the advantage that massive pressure should have given us." Nixon says he doesn't want his fellow contenders for the nomination to run on a platform of "peace at any price."

Percy has wanted to be critical of the way the war is going but at the same time has been very cautious about suggestions. The result is not clear.

He says total military victory is impossible, there should be no further escalation, more Asians should be involved in the fighting. He called for an end to U.S. bombing near Red China's border. At one time he denied he was suggesting U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam but at another he said "gradual withdrawal" could be accomplished if the Johnson administration would just get more South Vietnamese to do the fighting.

Reagan, Nixon and Percy—in addition to Romney—have all taken pokes at the Johnson administration's truthfulness but Reagan has put a twist on it different from any of the others.

He said the war is going better than the administration has told the people and that it won't tell the real story until it's ready.

Boyle's Is The Bossed Generation

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It has become something of a game to give name tags to the different generations.

For example, the period following the U.S. Civil War has been called "The Gilded Age." And Gertrude Stein lumped all the sad young men in Paris after the close of World War I in the expressive term, "The Lost Generation."

How, then, could the present older generation be classified? That would cover anyone 50 or over.

Why not "The Bossed Generation"? They certainly have been bossed by change, circumstance, challenge and children.

Members of the Bossed Generation have never quite been able to keep their feet on the ground because the ground has kept sliding out from under them.

In mankind's past, many generations have known a period of safety, serenity or certainty—a lull in life's storms.

Not the Bossed Generation, however. It has never had a chance to get set, to lick its wounds, to recover from the blows that have continually bewildered it.

Consider the plight of one of these hardy veterans:

He was born to the sound of the vanishing hoofbeats of the horse, and before he was out of knee britches he had to acquire the new art of ducking out of the path of automobiles.

He has weathered two great wars only to emerge into a time when every bush seems to be burning with a new "brushfire war." He has heard of peace but only as a recurrent rumor.

Hard times came knocking at his family door in his boyhood, and he grew up in the shadow of one of the worst depressions in history. When he got out of college—if he did—nobody seemed to want him. A job was not his right or privilege. If he found one, he thought it was kind of suspicious miracle.

He has lived on into a time of uneasy prosperity, but he cannot feel quite safe in it. For it has come a bit late to him. The accent is now on youth, not experience, and a new generation is already shouldering him aside with the cry, "Out of the way, grandpa."

When he was a lad he was taught to be polite to his elders. Now he must learn to be subservient to his discourteous posterity.

Yep, nothing has stood still for a moment in the lifetime of the members of the Bossed Generation.

They are too dazed by it all, however, to feel much self-pity. If you ask one of these hoary survivors what he thinks of life, he is likely to reply:

"Wait'll I catch my breath, young feller. Now which life do you mean—the life I had planned to lead, or the one I'm still trying to catch up with?"

Junior Editors Quiz on NITROGEN

QUESTION: How do we get sufficient nitrogen?

* * * * *

ANSWER: Nitrogen, because it is part of the living protoplasm in our bodies, is vital to us all. We obtain this necessary element by eating plants and animals which have also eaten plants. Animals and plants take in nitrogen as part of the nitrogen cycle (see picture). The cycle starts as nitrogen in the air (1) and is carried into the earth (2). Animals (3) get nitrogen by eating plants; animal and plant wastes (4) return to the earth and decay (5). This produces ammonia (6). Ammonium compounds are used by certain bacteria in the soil, producing nitrites. Other bacteria add oxygen, to form nitrates, a usable form of nitrogen which can be absorbed by plants (7). As animals eat the plants, the cycle continues. Additional nitrogen is also carried directly into the soil (9), restored to the air by certain bacteria (8) and ultimately plowed into the soil by farmers. Some plants, such as wheat and corn, take much nitrogen from the soil; others, like legumes, tend to restore it. For this reason, legume crops are often planted and then plowed under.

Hobbs Has Best Area Record

Hobbs and Gail are the only area teams that made successful debuts in their respective district races last week.

The Panthers of Hobbs nudged Ira 25-24 in a breath - taking comeback, by scoring the winning points after the final gun had sounded.

The Coyotes at Gail also won a thriller — taking a 22-18 decision over Flower Grove in the final minute of play.

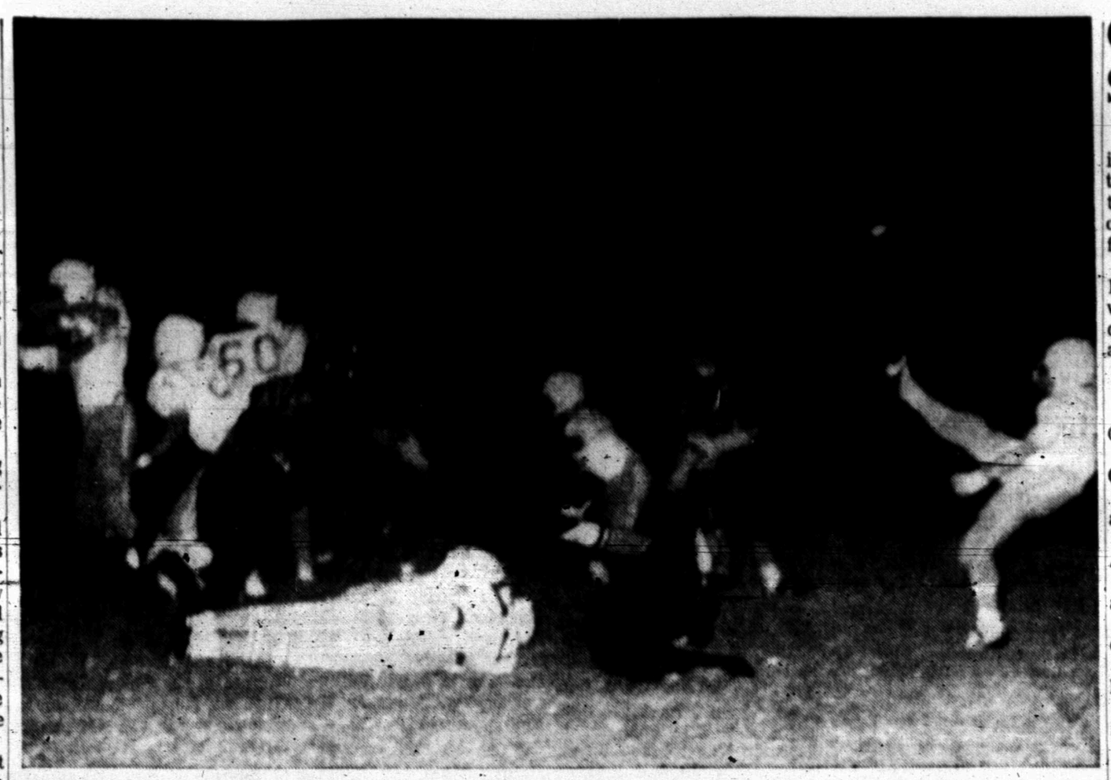

Hermleigh fell to strong Bronte, 0-38, in its opening district game.

One of the area teams will observe homecoming this week. Gail will entertain Sterling City in a 7:30 p.m. affray Saturday. Hermleigh also will be involved in a Homecoming match — however, it will be homecoming for Central Catholic when the two teams tangle in McMurry Stadium in Abilene at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Area teams have just about held their own against outside foes, winning 11 while losing 13. All of the teams with the exception of Gail have outscored their opponents.

Season records:

TEAM	W	L	T	Pts	Opp
Hobbs	4	2	0	145	89
Hermleigh	3	2	1	116	101
Ira	2	4	0	152	151

RUSH KICKER — Ronnie Shields (No. 30) and Frankie Grimmett (No. 85) rush Lake View's Terry Ford (No. 44, white jersey) as he gets off a punt during the Dis-3-AAA thriller here last week. The Tigers won 33-14 but must meet the defending champion Wildcats in Littlefield Friday night.

Collegiate Slate Told

Football fans, there's several interesting collegiate games on tap this week involving Texas teams other than ones that compete in the Southwest Conference.

Two games are scheduled for Friday night: Texas El Paso vs. New Mexico at Albuquerque and East Texas vs. Howard Payne at Brownwood.

The schedule Saturday:

DAY GAMES

Houston vs Mississippi at Oxford, Miss.

Austin College vs. Colorado College at Sherman.

Texas Lutheran vs. Trinity at San Antonio.

Sul Ross vs. Texas A&I at Alpine.

McMurry vs. Southwest Texas at San Marcos.

North Texas State vs. Cincinnati at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Wiley vs. Jackson State at Marshall.

Texas Southern vs. Grambling at Grambling.

NIGHT GAMES

West Texas vs. Texas Arlington at Canyon.

Tarleton State vs. Angelo State at San Angelo.

Stephen F. Austin vs. Sam Houston at Huntsville.

Abilene Christian vs. Eastern New Mexico at Abilene.

Lamar Tech vs. Arkansas State at Beaumont.

Prairie View vs. Mississippi Valley at Ita Bena, Miss.

Dunbar Sets Pace In 3-AAA Race

Lubbock Dunbar remained atop the District 3-AAA gridiron race with a 17-10 decision over Brownfield last week, but Snyder's Tigers took over sole possession of the runnerup spot with a convincing 33-14 triumph over Lake View.

Both Dunbar and Snyder are unbeaten in district play, but the Lubbock team has played one more game than the Tigers. Sweetwater still retains a shot at the crown with only one loss in four district encounters. Last week, the Ponies thumped Littlefield 33-12, but they must go to Brownfield this week for a "must" game with the Cubs. Brownfield, in fourth place with a 2-1 record, also remains in contention.

In fifth place with its first touchdown and first victory of the year is Lamesa. The Golden Tornadoes recovered a Levelland fumble and made a short drive to the goal to take a 7-6 decision. However, with two losses Lamesa, for all practical purposes, has been eliminated from the title race.

Lake View, Littlefield and Levelland fell into the "also-ran" category after losing their third straight league encounters. However, Littlefield still has a chance to knock off one of the front runners when the Wildcats host Snyder Friday night.

Levelland, Lake View and Snyder are the only three teams standing between Dunbar and the throne room, and the surprisingly strong Lubbock [illegible] take care of Levelland this week. In addition to Littlefield, Snyder still must get by strong Brownfield and Sweetwater before it qualifies for a "showdown" battle with Dunbar here Nov. 17.

It's still a four - way fight between Dunbar, Sweetwater, Brownfield and Snyder, but with three to four games remaining on the schedule, anything can happen.

The standings:

SEASON

TEAM	W	L	T	Pts	Opp
Dunbar	5	2	0	111	49
Sweetwater	4	3	0	107	104
Snyder	3	3	0	79	94
Brownfield	2	4	0	65	71
Lake View	1	5	0	58	102
Littlefield	1	5	0	80	136
Lamesa	1	5	0	7	124
Levelland	0	6	0	63	145

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS — Snyder 33, Lake View 14; Dunbar 17, Brownfield 10; Sweetwater 33, Littlefield 21, Lamesa 7, Levelland 6.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE — Snyder at Littlefield; Levelland at Dunbar (Thursday); Sweetwater at Brownfield; Lamesa at Lake View.

Tigers Developing Into A Good Team

The Tigers are developing into a good team, head coach Wayne Tyrone told members of the Snyder Quarterback Club Tuesday night during the regular weekly meeting, held in the high school cafeteria.

Tyrone said he was pleased especially with the improvement of the offense. Films of the Snyder - Lake View game revealed that Raymond Rios and Efrain Cervantez looked especially effective carrying the ball. Rios is showing a little more speed, and both runners are developing some good moves.

While the overall performance of the defense continued to be impressive, the defenders are prone to make mistakes when the opposition gets a break or nears the goal line, the coach pointed out.

"Perhaps it's simply a matter of over eagerness," he said, "the boys want to win so much they sometimes get nervous."

On occasion, Tyrone said, some of the sophomores still "play like sophomores."

Despite their eagerness, the Tigers retained their poise after Lake View scored first here the other night.

"They settled down after that and began playing ball," declared Tyrone. He pointed out that the offense marched steadily down the field for a touchdown the next time it received the ball.

Although passes hurt the Bengals defensively early in the ball game, the team made the necessary adjustments to correct the situation later in the game.

The coach especially praised the play of the linebackers against the Chiefs. "They worked the Lake View halfbacks over pretty good," he said.

Downfield blocking has improved greatly in the past couple of games, it also was pointed out. Coach Jack Gray said guards Jack Greene and Larry Wadzeck and center David Wilson looked good blocking.

The film revealed that virtually all of the boys turned in some key offensive or defensive plays. For instance, Frankie Grimmett looked tough on tackling, David McGinnis was sharp on downfield blocking, and Eddie Ray McClain did a fine job at guard. Included among other fine performances was the stunting of Craig Bell on defense.

Coach Bill Hartsfield praised the line for opening up holes for the backs.

Tyrone admitted that "we have a shot at the title," but he also observed that the Tigers have three tough games ahead of them before they meet the Lubbock School.

In his scouting report, the coach said Littlefield played well against Dunbar. The Wildcats have one of the best runners in the loop in Grissom. He's on the injury list now, but if he's ready for the Tigers, then the 'Cats will be tough, he said.

The coach reminded Club members that "mental attitude is the key to performance. We've got to be ready to play. If we're not, then Littlefield could beat us despite their 1-5 record."

The Wildcats employ a variety of "6 defenses," according to the scouts, and they have good ends and quick guards. They use three deep backs on defense and like the inside belly series and sprint out passes on offense.

Various coaches in the School System gave reports on their teams.

Reds Don't Play Golf

By CHARLES GREEN

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Soviet athletes swept event after event in Mexico's P-Olympic Games but they won't be any competition next month during the World Cup golf tournament.

The Russians don't play golf.

"We'd like them to start and get in some of these international tournaments," said Fred Corcoran of New York, tournament director for the International Golf Association (IGA). "But we took a survey and found out they don't even have a golf course."

Corcoran said a course was built in the Soviet Union during the presidency of Dwight Eisenhower in anticipation of a visit by the U.S. president to the Soviet Union.

"We're told that it never was used and has grown up in weeds," said the man who will supervise the World Cup tournament Nov. 9-12 at the Club de Golf Mexico.

The absence of the Soviet Union, however, distracts not a bit from the tournament which is larger this year than ever before.

The World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup, pits the two best professional golfers a country has against the best from other nations in a 72-hole battle of international pride and prestige.

Forty teams are entered this year for play on the longest course ever used for the tournament, a 7,216-yard, par 72 layout just 30 minutes from downtown Mexico City.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, generally agreed to be the two best professionals in the world, will represent the United States. Palmer has been on five winning teams but never has won individual honors. The U.S. is the defending champ.

Other top golfers entered are Gary Player of South Africa, Bob Charles of New Zealand and Roberto deVicenzo of Argentina.

Practice rounds on the completely renovated course are scheduled for Nov. 6-7 with a pro-am set for Nov. 8.

Games Set In Tiger Stadium

The Travis 8th grade - Runnels and Travis 9th grade - Brahmas football games will be held in Tiger Stadium Thursday night.

Kickoff in the 8th grade tilt is set for 6 p.m. It will be followed by the 9th grade game at about 7:30 p.m.

Wyoming's Jerry DePoyster led the nation's major college kickers in scoring last season with 71 points. He made 32 extra points in 39 attempts and kicked 13 field goals.

Colts End Season With Perfect Mark

The Colts blanked the Cowboys 6-0 and the Giants shut out the Packers 8-0 in two exciting 7th grade football contests held on Lamar turf Tuesday afternoon.

The Colts finished the season with a perfect 6-0 record. Although they lost, the Cowboys ended up in second place, followed by the Giants and Packers.

David Tyrone scored on a 40 yard end run for the victorious Colts. He also crossed the goal on two other runs, but they were nullified by offsides penalties.

Eddie Costello scored for the Giants on a 10 yard scamper. Steve Randell tossed to Scotty Sullivan for the two extra points.

TRAVIS 8TH, LAMAR 9TH

Two Local Teams Remain Unbeaten

Travis 8th grade sports the best record among Snyder football teams. The young Blue Devils had their toughest game of the year last week, however, taking a close 13-12 verdict over Lamesa's Green Hornets. Although their record of never having their goal crossed was spoiled, the Travis 8th grade still has a perfect won-loss record in five outings.

Only a half-step behind is the Lamar 9th grade with five wins and a tie in six contests. Last week, the Texans blanked the Big Spring Brahmas 14-0. This was the same team that had gained a scoreless tie with Lamar 9th earlier in the season.

The Varsity held onto third place in local standings with another impressive triumph — this time a 33-14 verdict over Lake View. The win left Snyder still very much in the running for the District 3-AAA crown without a blemish on the district record.

After three successive losses, the Junior Varsity got back on the winning track here Saturday night with a 45-6 walloping of Stamford's Junior Varsity. Only three of the six local teams who meet outside foes have more losses than wins. Included are the Junior Varsity (3-4), Lamar 8th grade (2-4) and Travis 9th (0-5).

Lamar 8th was the only local team to take it on the chin last week. The young Texans fell a 26-12 victim to Runnels in Big Spring last week while Travis 9th enjoyed an open date.

Vol Strategy Pays Off

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee's strategy against Alabama was to stop the Crimson Tide running attack and force quarterback Kenny Stabler to throw.

The strategy worked, giving the Volunteers a 24-13 victory, boosting them from seventh to fourth in The Associated Press football poll and bringing Back of the Week honors to defensive back Albert Dorsey.

Saturday was Drosey's 22nd birthday and he celebrated by intercepting three Stabler passes, the last of which he ran back 31 yards for a touchdown. Two other Stabler tosses were picked off by Vol defenders.

Both Tennessee Coach Doug Dickey and Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant called Dorsey's thefts key plays in Tennessee's triumph.

"Coach Dickey teaches us that you have to stop your opponent before you can beat him," Dorsey said. "It was part of my job to stop Alabama and I was certainly happy I could help do it.

"The touchdown I scored against Alabama was my first and it certainly was the biggest thrill of my life."

Dorsey said he was thankful for platoon football.

"I'm too small (5-foot-11 and 178 pounds) to play offensive football," he explained. "I don't suppose I'd get to play if we didn't have a defensive team."

Chargers Are Best At Moving The Ball

NEW YORK (AP)—San Diego leads the American Football League in total offense and passing offense, according to statistics reeased by the league today.

The Chargers have amassed 394.3 yards per game with 270.3 of them coming on passes. Kansas City leads the league in rushing offense with 146.5 yards per game.

Oakland leads in all three defense departments, having allowed 73.0 yards per game rushing, 99.0 yards passing for total of 172.0 yards.

St. Louis Coach Enjoys Hot Streak, Cold Beer

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's nothing that goes quite so well with a cold beer as a hot streak. But sometimes both are difficult to come by.

It took St. Louis Coach Richie Guerin several minutes to get the beer because he couldn't find an opener in the Hawks' crowded dressing room at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It took his Hawks considerably longer to keep their streak hot, but they did—winning their seventh National Basketball Association game in as many starts by outlasting the New York Knickerbockers 135-130 in overtime Tuesday night.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia drubbed Detroit 124-102 in a game preceding the Hawks-Knicks contest, San Francisco topped Cincinnati 116-106 and Baltimore whipped Seattle 136-125.

Kentucky edged Anaheim 128-127 and Minnesota trounced Pittsburgh 104-86 in the American Basketball Association.

The Hawks trailed 117-110 with three minutes remaining in regulation time. But then the Hawks took advantage of some sloppy New York play and charged to a 119-119 deadlock, the tying points coming on Paul Silas' field goal with 39 seconds left.

The Hawks thought they had won it 121-119 on Gene Tormohlen's final shot, but the officials ruled that he didn't get the shot off before the 24-second time limit had expired.

Howie Komives put the Knicks ahead 121-119 in overtime, but then the Hawks reeled off 10 straight points and held off New York for the victory.

Hal Greer scored 38 points and Billy Cunningham 25 in leadiny the Philadelphia rout, Wilt Chamberlain scored only 11 for the 76ers, being content to lead both teams with 27 rebounds and his club with five assists, John Tresvant led Detroit with 19 points.

Baltimore built up a 22-point lead, but Seattle then rallied to cut it to two, 103-101, before the Bullets again pulled away. LeRoy Ells scored 26, rookie Earl Monroe 25 and Kevin Loughery 21 for Baltimore. Seattle was lead by Bob Rule's 25 and Walt Hazzard's 21.

Jim King, now in his fourth NBA season, had his best scoring game as pro, pouring through 37 points to lead San Francisco. Bob Love and Oscar Robertson carried the brunt of the Cincinnati attack—Love scoring 29 and Robertson 27.

Darrel Carrier's field goal with 35 seconds left climaxed a winning Kentucky rally. Carrier finished with 33 points, but individual scoring honors went to Anaheim's Steve Chubin, with 42.

Mel Daniel, Don Freeman and Les Hunter paced the third-period surge which carried Minnesota to victory. Daniels ended with 21, Hunter 20 and Freeman 18. Connie Hawkins topped Pittsburgh with 19.

Coaches Sound Off About Olympic Judging System

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Divers need good officials and they don't have them here during the Pre-Olympic Games, U.S. coaches maintain.

Dick Smith, U.S. men's Olympic coach from Phoenix, Ariz., and Hobie Billingsley, women's coach from Indiana University, told a newsmen Tuesday after the 10-meter platform finals in which the Americans were beaten, that not just Mexico was at fault. And Smith made it clear his comment was not just a "sour grapes."

Keith Russell of Mesa, Ariz., and a protege of Smith's since the age of nine, took a silver medal on the strength of his last two dives, one of which won 24.65 points — the highest of all point scores awarded.

At 164.70, Russell trailed gold medalist Claudio DiBiasi of Italy, who had 168.46. Third was Vaske Arimetsu of Japan, 163.71.

And in women's competition, Patty Simms of Arcadia, Calif., placed third with 101.46, behind winner Galina Alexeeva of Russia, with 111.37 and Keilo Osakid, Japan, with 103.06.

"There was a great contest here between the divers, but their actions were not reflected by the scores of the judges," Smith said. "I've been around diving as long as anybody sitting here today and if this is any indication of judging in world competition, everyone should take steps to clean up judging."

Billingsley faulted the composition of the judging panel, as did Smith. "There were five Mexican judges, one East German and a Russian, he said.

"And the East German and the Russian were actively coaching the divers they had entered," Smith said.

Miss Alexeeva was the only Russian entered, and the only East German, Lothar Mathes, wound up fourth in the men's event with 162.28.

Both coaches said they felt the contestants finished in the right order and that the best won. Although Russell was the only U.S. male diver, Billingsley did not fault the fourth and fifth-place finishes of Air Force Lt. Micki King of Ann Arbor, Mich., with 98.05 points and Cynthia Potter, Houston, Tex., with 96.35. Both had an off day.

"But it's just not fair for youngsters who work so hard to be misgraded," Smith said.

Miss Alexeeva's victory gave the Soviet Union 22 gold medals and was one of only four golds awarded Tuesday. DiBiasi's win put Italy second in gold medals with nine while West Germany's Konrad Wirnhier won a gold medal in skeet shooting. Hungary was first in women's team foil fencing.

Today's program included 12 finals, five of them in swimming's first day of competition which the United States is expected to dominate.

Foster Is Confident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bobby Foster, with apparently nothing to gain but a possible quick trip to obscurity, puts his championship hopes on the line tonight when he meets unranked Levan Roundtree in a 10-round light-heavyweight match at D.C. Stadium.

Foster, ranked No. 2 in the division by Ring Magazine, has been promised a title match with the winner of the Nov. 17 championship fight between Dick Tiger and Roger Rouse.

It would appear that Foster is taking an unnecessary risk in fighting Roundtree but he is confident he can handle the New Yorker who has won 12 and lost only two.

"I had to fight somebody," said Foster, who has won 26 and lost four. "I can't just sit and wait for Rouse and Tiger. By that time, I'll be stale."

Coast-to-Coast NEWSPAPERS SELL THE MOST!

Marijuana Seen Growing Threat

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top federal officials are widely divided in their views on marijuana. But they're concerned and trying to learn more about it.

The division was underscored following the statement last week by Food and Drug Commissioner Dr. James L. Goddard that he believes marijuana is less dangerous than alcohol.

Goddard recommended relaxing severe laws against marijuana to eliminate penalties against possession. He said penalties should be retained for distribution or sale.

Taking a sharply different position, U.S. Narcotics Commissioner Henry L. Giaordano testified before Congress earlier this year that marijuana "is not, as some people say, less (dangerous) than alcohol or less than smoking tobacco. Some way we have got to get this across to the pubic."

And Dr. Philip R. Lee, assistant secretary for scientific affairs for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told The Associated Press. "We just don't have enough information" to know the dangers of marijuana.

But federal officials agree the growing use of marijuana is of serious concern.

To fill the gap in scientific data on the drug, the government has put high priority on new research by the National Institute of Mental Health.

The Institute's new Center for Studies of Narcotic and Drug Abuse hopes to have solid evidence in about two years.

Acting center director Dr. Roger Meyer acknowledged in an interview that the center is under heavy pressure—both public and governmental—to get the answer fast. And he said the question policymakers want to answer is whether marijuana should be legalized.

For now, says Lee, the administration's policy is that there should be no change in the law, which equates marijuana with the extremely dangerous opiate heroin and with other strong narcotics.

The Federal Narcotics Act provides for a mandatory prison term of 2 to 10 years for first offenses on possession of marijuana, though discretionary sentences are allowed for offenders up to age 26.

In Colorado, the death penalty is provided for second convictions involving persons under 25 with narcotics—including marijuana.

What are the dangers of marijuana?

Federal officials agreed in a series of interviews that it's easier to say what the dangers are not.

The President's Crime Commission said earlier this year marijuana isn't habit forming physically, although users may become psychologically dependent on it; the user doesn't feel the need with time to increase the dosage as do opiate users; there is no conclusive evidence marijuana users graduate to more powerful drugs or that it causes crime; there are no obvious lasting physical effects and have been no known deaths.

But the commission found it to be by no means harmless, saying "it can cause anxiety, confusion or disorientation . . . (and) induce temporary psychotic episodes in predisposed people."

Revenues Of CRMWD Up For Year

Revenues and expenses were both up for the Colorado River through September, and net revenues were virtually the same as for the first nine months of the previous years, the September report of the district shows.

Receipts for sale of 1,391,386,000 gallons of water during the month amounted to $249,354. This brought to $2,076,612 the receipts for the first three quarters of the year, compared to $2,020,012 for the same period last year.

Water sales for the nine months amounted to 8,950,920,000 gallons, compared with 9,045,070,000 through September 1966.

Through September, member cities used 6,597,000,000 gallons of water compared with 5,968,000,000 for the same period in 1966, and while oil companies were up, the increase was less pronounced. They used 343,000,000 gallons for the nine months; a year ago it was 307,700,000. Member cities paid $1,166,670 for water in the first three quarters, up from the $1,095,490 for the same period in 1966. Oil companies, while using slightly more water, paid less — $857,608 to $868,044. This is because they now are using all the contract quantities they formerly paid for but sometimes did not use.

TURNING YOURSELF ON

The Master Switch

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Snyder Daily News is sponsoring a Dale Carnegie Course as a means of retaining and developing leaders in the community. This article is one in a series written by Warren Quinlan, director of the Dale Carnegie Training Programs in West Texas.)

Do we ever really fail . . . or do we just quit trying?

Football players and other athletes know the importance of 'second effort.' Important games are either won or lost by a matter of inches. No great talent is ever needed to make excuses, underestimate ourselves or our reserve power to justify why we didn't accomplish our goal.

Staying power, emotional drive, stick-to-iteness are acquired skills which are turned on by our master switch of initiative.

Slow starters and quick stoppers lack initiative. They fail to enjoy the personal satisfaction of knowing they can do something worthwhile without being told. Ideas die a premature death when we abandon them without a course of action. History records that Lord Acton consumed a entire lifetime collecting material for his "History of Human Liberty," and then died without writing it.

Initiative is our master switch because it turns on and fuels our mental and emotional engines. Without initiative we are prisoners of hope. None of the suggestions in this series will be as helpful as you want unless you set aside a certain amount of time to organize a plan of action. If we can set aside time for meals, recreation, sleep, we certainly have the capacity to schedule time what we are and what we want to become.

Tomorrow we'll have 86,400 seconds for a starting point. A good kick-off for initiative is to get in the right frame of mind . . . on purpose. Ask ourself, and answer important questions, such as How can I apply the abilities I possess? What can I do to maintain a consistently healthy mental attitude? The idea behind this method of thinking is to focus on our goals, not our hurdles and road blocks. Initiative comes to life when we have definite sense of direction.

Just last week a friend opened his initiative switch full - throttle by actually being grateful for the troubles on his job. He explained, "my work problems mean more income. Difficult situations, uncomfortable deadliness, and unpleasant personalities are opportunities for me to prove my worth. If the job were easier, someone with less background could be hired for two-thirds or less of what they're paying me."

If our initiative isn't at a high enough level to carry out our thoughts and ideas, we should invest our time to learn how to learn how we can develop more self-starting skills.

None of us ever really gets an idea . . . it's the idea that gets us. Good luck!

HERE'S MUD IN YOUR EYE — This is the look of a champion mud bather. She's Fran Blitman, University of Miami coed, who recovered the most pennies—17—from Sigma Chi's derby day in the mud. She says you need a knack for playing dirty to win cleanly. (AP Wirephoto)

Announces Candidacy

AMARILLO (AP) — State Rep. J. M. Simpson said Tuesday he will be a candidate for re-election next year. His 75th District embraces Armstrong, Carson, Collingsworth, Donley and Randall counties in the Texas Panhandle.

Texas Living Level Studied

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A study showed today that a family of four in Austin, Tex., maintained a moderate standard of living in the autumn of 1966 on an average of $8,029—lowest total budget for 39 individual metropolitan areas studied.

The U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics showed an average of $6,505 was spent in Austin on goods and services, including $1,995 for food, $1,206 for housing, $805 for transportation, $898 for clothing and personal care, and $420 for medical care.

Dallas averaged $8,472, about 9 per cent below the U.S. urban average and 21 per cent below New York.

Houston averaged $8,387 with a total of $6,794 spent on goods and services.

A moderate living standard in small cities averaged about 10 per cent lower than in metropolitan areas.

Roby High School Homecoming Set

ROBY — Homecoming activities at Roby High School will get underway Friday, Oct. 27, with a downtown parade at 5 p.m. followed by a pep rally on the courthouse square.

Highlight of Friday will be a football game between Roby and Jayton which will get underway at 7:30 p.m. Registration will be held following the game in the grade school building. Coffee and donuts will be served in the lunchroom.

Saturday's events will get underway at 9 a.m. with registration in the high school homemaking room. Coffee and donuts will be served at this time. The senior mothers will serve a barbecue dinner in the lunch room beginning at 11:30 a.m.

The homecoming program will begin at 2 p.m. in the High School auditorium. Parker Wetsel will serve as master of ceremonies. Special entertainment will be given by the High School Band and Choral Club under the direction of Harris Davis.

Rev. Jimmy Kinsey, Class of 1943, will give the invocation followed by the welcome address by A. J. Hill, Superintendent of the Roby Public Schools. Tandy Curlee, class of 1943, will give the response and Robert L. Parker, class of 1940, will introduce the speaker.

Guest Speaker will be W. W. (Prof.) Reed, former agriculture teacher at Roby and presently Head of the Agriculture Department at Tarleton State College in Stephenville. L. W. Test Your Skill...Win CASH PRIZES

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS, Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for the place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number — and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting. Employes of The Snyder Daily News and their families are not eligible to enter.
