SW Midland Wildcat Flows Pennsylvanian Oil On Drillstem Test

Another Midland County wildcat has found flowing oil in the Pennsylvanian lime. This project, C. W. Murchison and associates No. 1 Joe Canon, et al, 24 miles southwest of the City of Midland flowed at the estimated rate of between 25 and 35 barrels of oil per hour for a short time on a drillstem test at 10,370-578 feet.

No water was developed. The prospect was originally started to drill to 13,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger. It probably will be carried on down to that formation.

This new development is one and three-quarters of a mile north and slightly west of the nearest completed Ellenburger producer in the Pegasus multipay field. That producer is Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3-30 Glass.

The Murchison No. 1 Canon is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block 41, T&P survey, T-4-S.

Oil In Four Hours

The oil flow came at the end of a four hour drillstem test at 10,370-578 feet. There was a strong blow of gas at the surface after 14 minutes and the strong blow continued to the end of two hours.

During the last two hours the tool was open the gas blow was dead to work.

The tester was closed at the end of four hours for a 15 minute period. Then the connection at the top of the drill pipe was broken down. It was found that the switch in the tool had been plugged. That condition was remedied and the drill pipe then started flowing oil to the pits.

No Water Flowed

The tool was closed a few minutes after the flow started. It was estimated that the flow was between 25 and 35 barrels per hour. There was no water.

Operator was coming out of the hole with the tester at last report. Top of the Pennsylvanian lime is at 10,300 feet. Elevation is 2,882 feet. That is on a datum of minus 7,418 feet.

On the top of the Pennsylvanian porosity the No. 1 Canon is 389 feet low to the same point in Magnolia's No. 1-A TKL, the discovery well of the Pegasus field.

Argo Takes Lease Spread In Sterling

Argo Oil Corporation has taken a ten-year commercial oil and gas lease on a spread of approximately 2,500 acres in West-Central Sterling County.

The lease covers acreage owned by the Hildebrand interests. No information is available regarding the bonus paid, or the amount of annual rental which is provided for in the lease contract.

There is no drilling obligation. Included in the lease are sections 3 and 4 in block 21, H&TC survey, and sections 18 and 20, in block 31, T&P survey, T-5-S.

The spread is about eight miles west and slightly south of Sterling City, and approximately five miles east of the Glasscock County line.

It is five miles southeast of Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 TKL, recently completed small pumping discovery from a Permian lime.

Extension Indicated In SW Midland Area

A one-half mile east extension of the Sweetie Peck multipay field of Southwest Midland was indicated at Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Peck, when it developed flowing production from the Pennsylvanian on a drillstem test at 10,380-10,500 feet.

The indicator made 61 barrels of oil to tanks in two hours through one-half inch choke. On the three-hour drillstem test, gas was at the surface in eight minutes and fluid in 45 minutes. After flowing to pits for 15 minutes the oil was flowed to tanks.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,291-1 and the gravity of the oil made is 32.3 degrees.

The No. 1 Peck is slated to be dug on to the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 21, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey and 30 miles southwest of the city of Midland.

Ellenburger Wildcat Slated For N-C Kent

General American Oil Company has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill its No. 1 Mrs. Mary Chalk as an 8,100-foot wildcat in North-Central Kent County.

Drillsite of the new prospecter will be six miles northeast of production in the Salt Creek-Canyon field of Kent County and nine miles north of Claremont.

It will be dug 660 feet from north and east lines of section 19, block 1, (Continued On Page Nine)

City To Ask Bids On Water Projects

The City Council, meeting in regular session Tuesday night, took steps to get its recently approved general improvements program underway promptly by authorizing City Manager W. H. Oswalt to advertise for bids on two proposed water projects.

Project No. 1 is for the extension of water lines on the South Side, much of the south-west section of which is not now served by the city water system. The estimated cost of the project is $93,474.75.

Project No. 2 is for the extending and enlarging of water lines in the area immediately north of the T&P Railway in the west-central section of the city. Oswalt estimated the cost of the program at $45,000.

Funds from the $2,000,000 revenue bond issue, approved by city voters in an election early this month, will finance the water improvement projects.

Supplies Contracted

Contracts for water works supplies totaling approximately $67,000 were awarded to the following firms: Mueller Company, Rohan Company, Viking Supply Company, Rensselaer Company, Dallas Foundry Company, Trinity Valley Iron and Steel Company, San Antonio Machinery and Supply Company and R. D. Wood Valve Company.

Part of the materials will be used in the general improvements program.

The council also authorized the purchase of two new pecker-type parable truck bodies from the Pak-Mor Company of San Antonio at $2,780 each.

The installation of street lights at 16 intersections in the Latin American district was authorized.

A resolution authorizing the engaging of the Midland accounting firm of Hendrick, Newkirk and Whitely to make a thorough audit of the city's books and accounts was adopted. The cost of the service is estimated at $1,800.

Zoning Requests

Action on a proposed zoning change in Blocks 45 and 46, Cowden Addition, was deferred until the next regular meeting.

Another zoning change request submitted by Mrs. W. I. Waters was rejected upon recommendation of the Zoning Commission.

Certain amendments to the city's beer ordinance were adopted by the council on second and final reading. The ordinance changes conform with state requirements and also legalize on-premise beer sales at the Midland Country Club and at the VFW Hall at Terminal. Other Terminal establishments are permitted to sell beer for off-premise consumption only.

The council adopted a resolution commending civic service and women's organization upon their sponsorship of next week's Clean-Up Campaign, and pledging the full cooperation of the city in the project.

Final payments to J. W. Opepend for certain water and sewer extensions in Loma Linda Addition, $349.40, and in Parklea and Grafa-lund Additions, $3,524.05, were authorized.

Authorization also was granted for the payment of $162.90 to the Texas Tax Service for the collection of delinquent taxes.

Veteran Texas Oil Man To Help Plan Industry War Effort

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram

WASHINGTON—Maj. J. R. Parten, president of the Woodley Petroleum Company of Houston and a veteran oil man, has joined the Interior Department as deputy administrator of petroleum allocation and priorities for defense purposes.

His job will be to organize the oil and gas industry for the national defense effort. The task may keep him in Washington three months or longer.

A personal telephone call from President Truman last Friday persuaded Parten to take the post, it was learned.

Parten's acceptance of the job ends, it is believed, Interior's drive to lump oil and gas with coal, power, fisheries and metals and minerals into a single energy administration. Instead, it is believed, Parten would have joined the government only if oil were to come under a separate, vertical agency, such as the last war's Petroleum Administration for War.

Allocations Program

Oil men say lumping oil and gas with other energy sources would bring unneeded controls. They have been up in arms about the prospect.

Parten's first task is to help Secretary Chapman prepare a speech for delivery to the National Petroleum Council's quarterly meeting Thursday, outlining government plans to control oil in the defense effort.

Also on the council agenda is a program to allocate aviation gasoline, steps looking toward greater production of benzene, a report from the steel committee on needs of the oil industry, deferments of reserves.

Parten is expected to work closely with Hugh A. Stewart, director of Interior's Oil and Gas Division, who plans to remain in his present spot.

Parten, a World War I major, is a charter member of the National Petroleum Council, a member of the American Petroleum Institute, board chairman of the Dallas office of the Federal Reserve Bank. During World War II, he was director of transportation of PAW.

Several Of 'Bra' Brigade Try To Get Jobs Back But Fail

MIAMI, FLA.—(P)—Eight members of the "brasserie brigade" tried unsuccessfully Wednesday to get their jobs back with the telephone company.

The girls and their attorney, James S. Rainwater, were turned away from the entrance by guards who said they had been instructed to keep them out of the building.

The "brigade" then retired to Rainwater's offices.

Meanwhile, officials said they planned to issue warrants against some of the persons questioned in connection with the smuggling of thousands of dollars in coins from the telephone company counting room.

Dade County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor and J. M. Phillips, district manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, said the case against 13 persons questioned in the long-term thefts was not closed.

Police estimated more than $100,000 was stolen from the telephone company's counting room over a period of years by girls employees who sneaked rolls of quarters out in their brassieres.

Address By LeTourneau Is Feature Of Laymen's Meet

By TANNER LAINE

R. G. LeTourneau has something, we dare say, the Christian laymen who heard him Tuesday night, would like to have.

And we don't mean his millions. We mean his burning zeal to testify that laymen can serve God, that a businessman can serve God, that all can speak out for their Lord and Savior.

The famed industrialist and philanthropist spoke here in an address to laymen of the Christian Churches of District Four. The auditorium of the First Christian Church of Midland was packed for his appearance.

R. G. LeTourneau is known the world over for being in business with God as a partner. He has made millions upon millions in the manufacture of earth-moving machinery. And God has profited most from the money. Because LeTourneau gives and gives and gives.

Not only that, LeTourneau gives of his time. He constantly is traveling in his private plane to tell folks about his God.

His plane was late into Midland and the packed church full of laymen waited patiently. It was well worth the wait.

In Common Language

LeTourneau spoke in the common down-to-earth manner, which was not affected—it was natural. He did not waste many words. He used simple illustrations but with sound impact.

"I speak to you as one layman to another," he began.

"I am not a preacher. But we are going to the same heaven as the preachers. God has a job for every-

New Office Building To Be 'Scraper'

The new office building being erected by Jack B. Wilkinson immediately south of his Permian Building on Big Spring Street, will be Midland's tallest skyscraper.

It will be a 14-story building rather than eight floors as originally announced, Wilkinson said Wednesday. He said materials for the structure have been purchased and definite delivery dates scheduled. Many of the materials already are on hand and construction will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

The 12-story Petroleum Building now is Midland's tallest structure.

The excavating work on the new building has been completed and footings now are being poured. Construction was started in June.

David Harmon is the contractor and David S. Castle is the architect.

Rentable Space

Wilkinson, owner-manager of the six-story Permian Building, the six-story Wilkinson-Foster Building and the two-story Wilkinson Building, said the new edifice will have approximately 70,000 square feet of rentable space, giving him around 160,000 square feet of space in his four office buildings.

The new building will be L-shaped with a 46-foot front. It will be completely modern, with first-class construction throughout. It will have a granite front and will be of steel, brick and stone construction.

The 14-story structure will add materially to Midland's already impressive skyline and will relieve a critical need for additional office space here.

British Proposal For Prompt UN Action On Korea Gains Ground

NEW YORK—(P)—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman warned Wednesday that new East-West peace negotiations are futile as long as the Soviet Union promotes agitation and civil war in other countries.

His statement in the UN General Assembly was the first reference by a top Western diplomat to Russia's trial balloon of Monday which appeared aimed at getting new top-level East-West talks. Schuman declared: "The will to peace must be made manifest otherwise than in words and propaganda."

While Schuman spoke, a strong movement gained headway among Assembly delegates to frame a peace and relief plan for Korea. Britain was circulating a proposal on the subject. The goal is to have the plan ready for operation when mounting UN military successes are complete.

Free United Republic

Sweeping victories rolled up in the last few days by General MacArthur's command have impressed delegates here with the need to speed work on a Korean peace plan. The proposal now being studied calls for a free and independent Korea under a government elected with UN supervision. It has United States approval.

The proposal calls for the UN to continue its collective military assistance to the Republic of South Korea. None of the sponsors would comment on whether UN forces now should drive north of the 38th parallel—the line across which North Korea launched its invasion.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has called on the UN to be ready to help all Korea. It appeared the British proposal might get emergency treatment and be rushed through committees and the Assembly. A number of countries probably will act with Britain to sponsor the completed resolution.

Retreating Reds Slay GI Prisoners

TOKYO—(P)—General MacArthur's headquarters said Wednesday the bodies of 12 American soldiers with arms bound were discovered in Chinju Tuesday by the U. S. 25th Division.

Two other men, wounded but still alive, said 14 of them had been prisoners.

Headquarters reported they said when the North Koreans realized Chinju, on the extreme South Korean front, was about to fall they tied the Americans together, marched them into a ravine and turned machine guns on them.

The two survivors were wounded seriously but escaped by shamming death.

City Adopts Budget, Sets '50 Tax Rate

Ordinances approving the 1950-51 City of Midland budget, appropriating funds for the budget accounts, and establishing the tax levy for the year were approved by the City Council at a budget hearing held in connection with a regular council meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Pro Tem W. F. Hejl presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor William B. Neely. Councilmen Frank Shriver and H. E. Chiles, Jr., also were absent. Councilmen Jack Wilkinson and J. W. McMillen attended the session.

The budget hearing failed to attract a single visitor.

Budget Items

The budget calls for $680,195 for general operating expenses, $43,320 for new equipment, $185,175 for water and sewer operations, including $61,725 capital outlay for new meters, service lines and other equipment, and $351,870 for retirement of debt services, including bonds which will be issued this year.

The cost of city government, according to the budget, will be reduced from a per capita figure of $3.71 per person in 1949 to $3.26 next year. The budget calls for increased personnel in the Police and Fire Departments and for improved municipal services.

Tax Rate

The city's tax rate will remain the same as at present—$1.75 per $100 valuation. Forty-nine cents of the amount will go to the interest, and sinking fund and $1.26 to the general operating fund.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt was authorized to receive bids for the following equipment: one street sweeper, three two-ton truck chassis, five one and one-half-ton dump trucks, one three-quarter-ton pickup, six half-ton pickups, two police cars, one crawler tractor and one asphalt kettle. The items are provided for in the new 12-months budget, which becomes effective October 1.

Allied Forces Fan Out To Neutralize Encircled Ko-Reds

TOKYO—(P)—American Marines raised the Stars and Stripes over the National Capitol in Seoul Wednesday while other forces whipped out a 215-mile Allied noose around many thousands of Reds in the south.

All indications, including a broad appraisal by General MacArthur, were that the North Korean invaders were staggering and stumbling to final defeat in South Korea.

They still resisted in places with fatalistic fury, however.

Allied POW's Missing

The master strategic stroke arising from the 12-day-old Inchon beachhead operation and the offensive from the south was the merging of the two Allied fronts by forces meeting from north and south.

The Allied lifeline for victory now runs unbroken for the 215 miles diagonally across the peninsula—from Pusan on the extreme southeast coast, through the mop-up battles in Seoul, to the Inchon second front beachhead on the Yellow Sea. The Reds once were within 30-odd miles of Pusan port.

Red Korean rule over the ancient capital city and most of South Korea seemed all but crushed—three months and two days after the Russian-armed Reds invaded the United Nations-sponsored republic.

A U. S. First Cavalry armored task force forged a link of steel between UN forces in the south and north. It raced 106 miles in a lightning sweep to splice the last gap.

The link-up with Seventh Division patrols from Inchon-Seoul was made late Tuesday in the walled town of Changgi, 25 miles south of Seoul.

Trapped Reds 'Evaporate'

It came within a mile or two of the spot where the first American soldier of the Korean war was killed July 5.

United Nations forces fanned out on both sides of the long Pusan-Inchon line, liberating big areas from Red bondage.

"While mopping-up fighting still is in progress," General MacArthur reported, "all effective escape routes are closed and the fate of the North Korean forces caught in this pocket is sealed."

How many were trapped was a mystery.

Two weeks ago, just before the Inchon second front landings began, 130,000 Red Korean troops were massed against the Pusan beachhead, fighting to drive the Allies into the sea.

But AP Correspondent Don Whitehead reported in a dispatch from Seoul that the Red divisions in the south "seem to have evaporated—dissolved into thin air."

Seoul Destruction Terrible

Whitehead said American planes had not spotted any large northward movement of troops.

Many Reds have been reported changing into white civilian clothing and scrambling cross-country toward their northern homes.

Rear guard units still fought delaying actions against the on-rushing Allied troops.

The battle for Seoul, where the Reds made a deliberate death stand that caused terrible destruction, was almost over.

The Marines captured the Capitol and the nearby Soviet and French Consulate buildings and the U. S. Embassy residence in street-by-street fighting that left thousands of structures shattered.

The U. S. flag was raised over the Capitol about 3 p. m. Wednesday.

An American flag fluttered briefly over the Soviet consulate, then was hauled down and raised later over the U. S. ambassador's residence.

Communists still waged die-hard battles from scattered pockets in Seoul. One was in the granite-walled Duk Soo Palace.

Seaman Sails Away From It All

For a while it began to look as if there was nothing at all in the news to divert our attention, at least momentarily, from you-know-what and its effects in Washington, Lake Success, and at the corner grocery.

The same thing must have occurred to Edward C. Allcard, a lean and resourceful young man from Surrey, England, as he cut loose from land and moorings the other day and departed from our Atlantic coast for 50 days of solitary thinking.

To be sure, he will not be completely idle of body during this long and voluntary meditation. He is sailing his 34-foot yawl back to England after a year in the U. S. He left as he arrived: by sea, alone, penniless, and not at all discouraged.

While in what he calls "the country of his dreams," he earned $1,500 or so by writing a book and appearing on the radio and television. He left the money here to pay for refitting the "Tempest" and his red sails, and for rice, canned meat and a little gasoline.

After all, what could he do with money on the long voyage home? He will not need it for the dolphins he spears; his experiments, west-bound for 81 days last year, showed him the dolphins are perfectly satisfied with dirty socks or a page from the London Times.

He will not need it to watch the sun rise out of the sea at dawn and plunge in again at dusk, a different and magnificent performance each night and, for Allcard's 50 days, unsullied by man-made displays and caterwauling.

At times, he will be beset by troubles that, in perspective, will loom for the moment even bigger than the crisis headlines now in our daily landlocked diet. Alone on the ocean, a 34-foot sailing craft is a tiny world, and squalls and gales can sometimes seem like the end of that world. A sailorman knows they must blow themselves out, however, and he knows how to ride them until they do.

Besides being a sailorman, Allcard is by way of being a philosopher. He will see beauty, wild as it may be, in the storms, and he will be thinking while the winds make mad music in the rigging. Thus he will have something to write and lecture about when he makes his penniless landfall in England.

We haven't any idea of sailing away in a yawl, or anything else, for a 50-day cruise by ourselves. We aren't suggesting that you do either. Now that the "Tempest" has disappeared over the horizon, we intend to get back to the news. But we cannot say that we blame Allcard, at all.

We've all been doing it all our lives, but it's still dog-gone hard to get out of bed.

Love affairs should be taken to heart—not to court.

People who don't waste time wondering what makes the world go around are the ones who keep it going.

There's a lot of good in a lot of people—because it never has come out!

This Always Fills The Cook With Glee

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Agriculture Department breaks all records for hoarding; Senator McKellar objects to aiding underprivileged children; Major change in White House renovation will be more bathrooms.

WASHINGTON—It's a paradoxical fact that, while the government has been cracking down on hoarders, the Agriculture Department has been breaking all records for hoarding. Since the Korean war, the Agriculture Department has hidden away in caves another 47,200,000 pounds of cheese, 30,200,000 pounds of butter, and 16,700,000 pounds of dried eggs.

This, remember, is all since the Korean war started. Meanwhile, food costs have been skyrocketing. Purpose of this government hoarding was supposed to stabilize farm prices. Yet the artificial shortages, on top of the war crisis, have created a crisis at the corner grocery store.

As a result, not only the housewives but the Army, too, is paying more for butter, eggs and cheese. What this means is that the taxpayers are boosting the prices that they, themselves, must pay to feed the Army. Meanwhile, total surplus food stocks have climbed to 191,800,000 pounds of butter; 110,595,296 pounds of dried eggs; 106,100,000 pounds of cheese; 320,700,000 pounds of dried milk; 56,623,504 pounds of Mexican beef and the almost unbelievable figure of three billion pounds (3,062,500,000) of grain sorghum.

Much of this stored food is likely to become moldy and rancid, yet people are hungry from lack of food in many lands.

Note—The Agriculture Department also has 7,500,000 pounds of rice in storage. This could go much further than bullets to win the peace in Korea.

Feud Hits Children

The world's underprivileged children will get no money from the U. S. A.—all because of a Tennessee feud and because Wisconsin's well-intentioned Senator Alexander Wiley got so bombastic that he woke up feudist Senator Kenneth McKellar.

Since the children's aid measure was not on the Senate schedule, the rules provided that it could not pass without unanimous consent. This was requested by Tennessee's Junior Senator Estes Kefauver and was just about to be granted. But suddenly Nebraska's Senator Kenneth Wherry broke in, explaining he had no objections but wanted an explanation of the bill first.

Wiley offered to make the explanation and got all wound up in his own oratory. Kefauver pulled at Wiley's coat-tail a couple of times to shut him up, but the Wisconsin senator boomed on and on.

His speechmaking finally woke up the Senate's grandpa, McKellar of Tennessee, who had been dozing in his seat. Disturbed, he grumpily began whispering around to find out what was going on, learned that Kefauver was behind the bill. That was enough. Aid to thousands of children made no difference. McKellar hates Kefauver so ferociously that he won't even allow his staff to mention Kefauver's name.

So, after Wiley's eloquent speech, McKellar snorted: "I am compelled to object and I do object."

The stunned Wiley explained that the children's aid bill already had been approved in principle by McKellar's own appropriations committee. But the surly senator from Tennessee mumbled that his committee had been given the "run-around." Then, in a tone indicating he didn't wish to discuss it any further, he rasped again: "I am compelled to object."

That ended it. There will be no aid to children despite the huge amounts of food stored in our caves and warehouses.

When the new White House is completed in December, 1951, the President and his family for the first time in history will have enough bathrooms.

In fact, the only major change in rehabilitating the sagging White House will be the addition of eight new bathrooms. A total of $5,500,000 is being spent, but this will be only real addition to the new building.

Discreet inquiries by the Renovation Commission into White House papers and memoirs reveal that Presidents and their guests often had to pad down the halls in their slippers or bare feet searching for an empty bathroom. Furthermore, the first "inside" bathroom was not put in the White House until 1859. Prior to 1850, the President had to go outside. And even in 1850 there were some senators who looked with horror on the radical innovation of an inside bathroom. Inside bathrooms, they believed, were distinctly unsanitary, if not alien.

Between 1850 and 1948 it was the pulling apart of the inside walls for such newfangled gadgets as bathroom plumbing, electricity, air conditioning and telephones that turned the White House into a creaking, swaying trap.

Aside from these new bathrooms, the new White House will be almost exactly as the old. Even some of the wood and pipes torn out of the sagging mansion will be used anew. A piece of Virginia pine used in the original trusses in 1817, still as stout and hardy as when it was hewn from the forests south of Washington, will panel a room.

So They Say

I believe . . . it will be possible to work out a plan for some rearmament of Western Germany . . . toward meeting the great threat against civilization which is Russia.

—Millard E. Tydings, of Senate Armed Services Committee.

Even at the resultant risk of starting a third world war, Communism is willing to resort to armed aggression, wherever it believes it can win.

—Louis Johnson, defense secretary.

This measure (McCarran omnibus subversive control bill) was designed to catch headlines and not spies.

—Sen. Harley M. Hogue, (D-W. Va.).

I regret the idea . . . of a preventive war. It is up to us to make aggression impossible, to prevent war and not to prevent it by making war.

—Julius Moch, French defense minister.

I wonder if Korea might be the testing ground for World War III such as Spain was for World War II?

—Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.).

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"I like an honest man," said Generous George. "When I find a really honest fellow, there's nothing too good for him, in my opinion. I'll give him tricks right and left. But I hate these sneaks who go around trying to fool their fellow man."

George looked inquiringly at his opponents as if testing their honesty. What he saw must have satisfied him, since he promptly gave them a trick that they didn't at all expect to make.

West had opened the four of hearts. Dummy played low. East played the jack, and Generous George won with the ace. George led the ten of diamonds . . . ride for a finesse. East won with the jack of diamonds and returned the queen of hearts.

This gave George the chance to take three heart tricks. However, when West played the deuce of hearts, George looked searchingly at his opponents and made his little speech about honesty.

The point of George's speech was that West had opened the four of hearts and had played the deuce of hearts on the second round of that suit. This indicated that he had started with a five-card heart suit. In that case, East had started with the blank queen-jack. When he decided that the play in hearts had been honest, George let East win with the queen of hearts!

This gave up a heart trick, limiting George to two tricks in that suit. However, it preserved dummy's king of hearts as an entry to the precious diamonds.

East shifted to a low spade, but George did not make the mistake of finessing. (A finesse would have cost him a trick and led another heart.)

George took the ace of spades and finessed another diamond. East won with the king of diamonds but could not now defeat the contract. He could lead a spade to his partner's king, but then George was sure to regain the lead and run the rest of the tricks.

Stepped-Up Mobilization Puts Women On Assembly Line

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Hold on to your jobs, men, they're getting ready to put the American housewife back in slacks and give her a welding torch.

It's all sort of secret, and, as they say here, "in the early stages of confidential advance planning." But when mobilization gets into high gear in the next few months the women will get the "come-on" sign.

Tip-off on what's coming is from the watch-dog of all women toilers, Frieda S. Miller, director of the U. S. Women's Bureau. She says:

"A striking difference between the current emergency and 1940 is the absence today of a large reserve of unemployed males." Then she adds:

"Women constitute the only sizeable labor reservoir for industrial production."

Past experience reveals that once you let women start doing some kind of work it's pretty tough to get them out of it. World War I firmly planted the female among the ranks of white collar workers. World War II put her in the U. S. factory for good and always.

Before the last war there were about 12,000,000 women holding down jobs in business and industry. There were about 2,000,000 willing to work but unemployed. Today there are close to 18,000,000 women working, with 1,000,000 classed as unemployed.

Prefer Cash To Cooking
The Women's Bureau has a lot of wordy explanations as to why 6,000,000 women hung on to the jobs they got during the war, but the simple explanation boils down to the fact that a pay envelope gives more satisfaction than a well-baked chocolate layer cake.

National Security Resources Board and the Women's Bureau now have a joint study under way to see just what the English and U. S. experience with women war workers was during the last war. And the Women's Bureau on its own is making a study of the attitudes and practices of employers and labor unions in connection with recruiting a lot of housewives for work in factories.

It is the housewife who'll get the call. Practically all of the single girls who want to work are working. The rest are too old. It was housewives who comprised most of the 6,000,000 who went to work in war plants during the last war.

In many ways the housewife makes the best worker, too, according to the experts. Running a home already has given her some work experience. But the housewife needs a lot of special attention from the government and the plant if she goes to work. This attention was provided her, mostly at taxpayer expense before, and the thinking on the subject is that she'll need more of the same kind of attention for the coming big call.

Lots Of Special Attention
Uncle Sam provided special nurseries and schools for the kids of working mothers along with special health services. Stores were kept open later for shopping. Beauty parlors were set up in plants and the women were given time off to use them. Firms hired special industrial consultants to advise the women on how to handle the special problems of working. And in some areas special dormitories were built for them.

Women were able to be used in factories and plants through breaking down the tasks the men did

Only when she was in her own room did she remember, suddenly, that at 10 o'clock the next morning Jeffrey had an appointment to show the new campaign for Morg-Gio to Lewis Northcott.

JUST as she had expected, Jeff was in no shape to face Northcott in the morning. Going to the room, fully dressed for the office, Edie found him sitting on the edge of his bed, wrapped in a dressing-gown, and with a hangover a mile long. At sight of her he groaned.

"I suppose you've come to raise the devil with me?" he muttered. "I haven't time for that." Edie said shortly. "Are you going to the office or aren't you?"

"In this condition?" His tone implied that she was a Simon Legree cruelly driving him back to the treadmill. Edie lost her temper.

"And whose fault is it that you're in this condition?" she snapped. "You've let us all down beautifully. What on earth possessed you, Jeffrey?"

He waved his hand. "I don't know. Don't scream so. I got one over the line, that's all. Listen, Edie, this appointment can be put off easily. Northcott's busy. Why don't you phone him?"

Two Gang Slayings Spur Probe Into Chicago Gangdom

CHICAGO (AP)—The gang-style slaying of two investigators in crime has spurred the probe of Chicago underworld activities.

Federal deputy marshals Wednesday hunted for some former members of the old Capone gang to have them testify before a U. S. Senate committee investigating crime. The committee plans a hearing in Chicago next week.

More than a dozen summonses were turned over to the U. S. marshal by a committee investigator, less than 24 hours after the two killings.

Meanwhile, police hunted for the killers of William J. Drury, 48, a policeman for more than 20 years before his discharge in 1947, and attorney Marvin J. Bas. Police were ordered to pick up every racketeer, gunman, gambler and hoodlum for questioning in the shotgun slaying of Drury.

Drury and Bas had offered information on crime activities to John E. Babb, Republican nominee for Cook County sheriff. Drury also had offered to testify before the Senate Crime Committee.

Manufacturers Eye More Cut-Backs In Rubber, Latex Use

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Makers of tires, girdles, foam rubber mattresses and rubber shoe soles are looking for further cut-back orders in use of natural rubber and latex.

The government is stepping up its stockpiling of natural rubber and is reported planning to start a stockpile of latex. This month it ordered civilian use of natural rubber limited to 90,000 tons a month, compared with the pre-Korea consumption of more than 111,000 tons in June.

Synthetic rubber plants, put on a standby basis after the war, are being reactivated. The first part of next year's production is expected to reach a rate of 740,000 tons annually. By putting still more man-made rubber facilities into operation this could be stepped up to a 940,000 ton rate.

More Synthetics Bought
Last year the United States used 414,000 tons of synthetic, or just over 40 per cent of all rubber consumed. But as the price of natural rubber zoomed after the Korean outbreak, more synthetic was bought at the government's fixed price of 18 1/2 cents a pound (the natural price has gone to around 55 cents a pound, compared with 16 cents last October).

Use of synthetic has climbed until Harry E. Humphreys, Jr., president of United States Rubber Company, says current synthetic rubber usage, now is 45 per cent of total consumption and will climb higher next year. Car owners needn't fret, Humphreys says. "Passenger tires are better when made with a combination of synthetic and natural rubber than with natural alone," he says. "Inner tubes made of butyl synthetic are so superior that they are being made almost entirely of butyl."

Consumption Is Cut
Civilian rubber consumption was ordered cut 13 per cent this month by the Commerce Department. Manufacturers are to get all the rubber they want for military orders. The result has been, trade sources say, that most of the 13 per cent cut is being taken out of natural rubber rather than out of the cheaper synthetic.

As synthetic output increases, further cutbacks in civilian use of natural rubber are expected by many in the industry.

The reported plan to stockpile natural latex also is due to the war situation. Military use of latex is for such things as surgical gloves, foam rubber crash padding, tire cord dripping compounds and aviation tires.

Conoco Employees Celebrate Firm's 75th Anniversary

Continental Oil Company employees in the Permian Basin Empire will celebrate the company's seventy-fifth anniversary with a picnic and barbecue Thursday afternoon at the Ector County Park in Odessa, C. D. Vertrees of Midland, division geologist, who is in charge of arrangements, said Wednesday.

The Permian Basin gathering is one of 43 similar events being held throughout the United States by Conoco employees during September and October in observance of the concern's founding in Ogden Utah, in 1875.

The entertainment at Odessa will include softball, horseshoe pitching, canasta and bridge. Barbecue will be served by the Odessa Chuckwagon Gang at 6:30 p.m. An attendance of between 900 and 1,200 persons is expected.

Committee Members
Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are: Vertrees, chairman, Harry Miller, R. J. VanHorn, E. L. Shafer, E. L. Mount and W. O. Ham, Jr.

All company employees and their families, including marketing department agents and jobbers in the Permian Basin have been invited.

Officials of Continental who will attend the celebration are: L. P. McCollum, president; W. C. MacMillan, executive vice president; Ira H. Gram, vice president in charge of production and exploration; C. A. Perlit, vice president and regional manager; John Post, manager industrial relations department; and E. W. Webb, manager production department from Houston, and H. L. Johnston, regional production superintendent from Fort Worth.

History Cited
The history of Continental Oil Company stems from the West, where Isaac E. Blake and four other businessmen founded the company in Ogden, Utah, in 1875, the year before General Custer's famed "Last Stand" at the Little Big Horn. The inception of the company came only 16 years after the birth of the petroleum industry at Titusville, Pa., where Col. E. L. Drake drilled the first oil well, in 1859.

Originally founded as a marketing enterprise, mainly to supply "coal oil," axle grease, lanterns and candles to pioneers, the company expanded into a fully-integrated organization. Today, Continental products are sold in 40 states and the company is the eighth largest producing firm in America.

The 56-year-old diplomat who has held the London post since March, 1947, said he was giving it up because of "personal considerations, including those of health."

He will leave office about November 1.

Japanese American Flier Is Safe After Crashing In Mexico

EL PASO (AP)—A Japanese-American flier who crash-landed his plane on a Mexican mountain, hoped to reach the U. S. Wednesday.

Henry Ohye of Los Angeles told the El Paso Times by telephone from Chihuahua City, Mexico, Tuesday night, "I received a slight leg injury, but my wife wasn't hurt."

He left Tucson, Ariz., on his way to El Paso Monday but had been unreported until Tuesday night.

He said he developed mechanical trouble and ran off course Monday afternoon.

"We struggled for five hours through rugged mountain country and reached Coyame, where the people there gave us food and shelter for the night."

Coyame is a small town in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, about 50 miles west of Presidio, Texas.

Ohye was flying with four Japanese American pilots, racing from Los Angeles to Chicago. He sponsored the race to call attention to the abilities of Japanese American pilots and get the government to allow them in the Air Force.

47 Bodies Removed From British Mine

CRESWELL, ENGLAND (AP)—Grimy rescue workers hauled up the bodies of 47 miners Wednesday from the fire-wrecked pit of Creswell Colliery. Eighty men died there Tuesday in smoke and flame 1,000 feet underground.

The bodies of three other victims were taken from the pit Tuesday night. A mine official said five other bodies had been seen in one shaft but could not be reached at present.

The 50 men whose bodies lay in improvised mortuaries in this little mining town had suffocated, their lives snuffed out by smoke and poisonous fumes.

They were hauled out by volunteer rescuers who braved the heat, smoke and fumes of the pit to seal off the burning seams.

Although 120 miners escaped from the main shaft when the fire flashed along the black alleyways of coal, it was Britain's worst mining disaster since 1947. That year 104 died in undersea workings at Whitehaven.

School Students To Have Active Part In Clean-Up Drive

Midland school students are planning to have an important part in the city's second 1950 Clean-Up Week, which begins Monday, October 2.

Next week, most of Midland's business establishments will display Clean-Up posters, made by the school children in Midland Public Schools.

Inez Parker, director of art in the school system, will collect the best art posters from each school for display in the downtown business area.

Posters which are not exhibited by merchants will be displayed in the show-cases at the various schools.

On School Grounds
In addition to the posters, each school will emphasize cleanliness in classes. A clean-up campaign will be conducted on school grounds with a special time designated for picking up paper, glass and rocks from the campuses.

In Latin, history, homemaking and physical education, cleanliness will be emphasized for self, home, school and community. The subjects of sanitation and neatness will be integrated into as many courses as possible. Special emphasis will be given the importance of cleaning up at home, and cleaning yards and alleys in order to make Midland a more attractive place in which to live.

West, South, North, Terminal and David Crockett elementary schools, and the Carver elementary and high school will participate in the clean-up campaign.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Thirty-Four More

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was walking to school through the Great Forest. A book was in his bookbag, slung across his shoulder. Mugwump's face was washed, and so were his hands. Yes, and the flowers along the way were beautiful. Mugwump should have been happy, but he wasn't. There wasn't a smile on his face at all. Mugwump Monkey was quite unhappy. He kicked up dust with his feet to show how very unhappy he was. And why was Mugwump so unhappy? Oh, another morning time before Summer came again—and Summer was the time for swimming and fishing and never going to school at all. Mugwump loved the Summer. He missed it very much with it going away. "Worry, worry and worry," said Mugwump. Down he sat beneath a tree. "Worry and worry and worry again," said he. His face had never a bit of happiness.

Daddy Ringtail saw that it had not a bit of happiness, because Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, is the one who came along just then. He listened while Mugwump told about all the trouble. Then he began to smile.

Oh, but what was there ever to smile about? School had started again. Yessir, school had started again and couldn't something be done to get school finished, so that Daddy Ringtail answered yes and had come, and he was having to go to school again. Why, school was fun for the first two weeks, but now the third week had come. Well, the third week was really fun, except it would be a very long yes indeed. Something could be done to get school finished, and the something was being done all the time. Why, all people had to do was to let the day both come and go. Why, fourteen days is two whole weeks. Oh, there were only thirty-four more of the weeks to happen for school to be finished and for summer to come again. Only thirty-four more weeks. Happy day!

Tax Payment Is Costly For City

DECATUR, ILL. (AP)—The city of Decatur has received a tax payment from a Minnesota firm, but it lost money on the deal. The payment of one cent was a two per cent tax on gross fire insurance premiums collected in Decatur by the Hardware Mutual Insurance Company of Minnesota during the last year. Gross premiums were 48 cents. City Treasurer Jack Loftis estimated the one-cent tax payment cost the city seven cents—three cents for mailing the tax form, three for mailing a receipt, and one for materials and labor.

By The Associated Press
Albuquerque could clinch the West Texas-New Mexico League championship Wednesday night. The Dukes chilled Lamesa 12-6, Tuesday night to take a three-game-to-one advantage in the best four-of-seven championship series.

Albuquerque pounded three Lamesa pitchers for 12 hits, including a grand slam home run by Jim Marshall and a three-run triple by Herschel Martin.

Some Head Bound To Fall In District 5-A This Week

By DALMON McNAIR
Reporter-Telegram Staff
Pecos, Wink, Kermit and Monahans are riding high at the head of the class in the tough 5-A football district, but at least one of them is due for a fall this week.

Wink, winner of four straight games, including three over conference opposition, takes a rest this week before tackling its six other district opponents.

Pecos and Kermit, both victorious in two conference outings, tackle each other in Pecos Friday night in the district headliner. Both have won three straight games.

Monahans, the other unbeaten power, hosts downtrodden Fort Stockton in another important battle. In other games, Denver City goes against the Badgers at McCamey and Crane travels to Andrews for a fling at the Mustangs.

Pecos, Wink and Kermit all looked impressive last week, rolling up top-heavy scores. Pecos trimmed highly-respected Seminole 40-14 with a nue Lions, the Bulldog opponent of the week.

Forest is big—even more so than the Bulldogs. It is blessed with two of the finest line-backers in the state and some real burly linemen.

There is danger there! Forest has a neat passing attack—an attack that completed seven of 23 tosses against tough Lamar of Houston. It is a potent weapon.

If it clicks, it could go for some touchdowns. There is danger there!

Thus far, Forest can show no wins in two starts. The Lions will be out to "show the home folks" they can win. They will be out to show Coach Byron Gillory they can win.

There is danger there! "We Looked Ragged" Knowing all this, Coach Tugboat Jones and assistants really put the Bulldog eleven through a stiff workout Tuesday afternoon. Jones wasn't too pleased with the results.

"We looked ragged on our blocking and also on our defensive play," Jones said. "We can't look like we did Tuesday, against Forest. They will knock our ears down if we do."

There is danger there! The Bulldog pass defense also came in for some hard work. Here the Purple looked a little better—but not excellent, according to Jones.

Offense was stressed in the Bulldog drills. "We have not been getting off together, as we should," was Jones comment.

Linesmen Work Coach Audrey Gill worked his large line hard. The boys pulled out on play after play, to lead pet Bulldog plays around the ends and off the tackles. They smacked the dummy a long time.

Coach Rutledge worked the ends on pass offense. He seemed pretty well pleased with the progress. Midland will tackle Forest High at 8 p.m. Friday in Dallas' Dal-Hi Stadium.

The Bulldogs must be sharp to win—for there is danger there!

Six 'A' Grid Outfits Risk Clean Slates

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Class A high school football teams are reaching that part of the season where the opposition gets tough.

Six of the 115 games this week match undefeated, untied teams and the winners of some of these games will be on the spot to win their district championships.

Perfect records go on the line when Phillips meets Shamrock, Kermit-Pecos, Waco Tech-Lavaca, Giddings-LaGrange, Alvin-Webster and Vidor-Jasper.

The list of unbeaten teams in this division of interscholastic football was cut by 19 last week, but there still are more than 60 with clean slates.

Kermit vs. Pecos Littlefield and New Braunfels still are classed the top two teams and last week each had little trouble winning. Littlefield knocked off Post 42-13, and New Braunfels smashed Brady 40-0.

The Kermit-Pecos result may unscramble a bit the torrid District 5 race. Monahans and Wink are the other contenders here.

Levelland, doped as Littlefield's toughest hurdle in District 4 despite two early season defeats, tangles with Post this week. The result may show if Levelland can lick Littlefield.

Other top games include: Ralls-Tulia, Winters-Colorado City, Balinger-Stamford, Olney-Holliday, Nocona-Newcastle, Jefferson-Mt. Pleasant, Huntsville-El Campo, Seguin-South San Antonio, Kenedy-Beverly, Bobtown-San Antonio Tech, Mission-Raymondville and Crystal City-Uvalde.

Good Crowd Attends Booster Club Meet

A nice crowd turned out for the Bulldog Booster Club meeting Tuesday night in the junior high school cafeteria.

Coach Tugboat Jones spoke to the members concerning the Bulldog eleven's workouts for the game with Forest High School Friday night. Assistant coaches Audrey Gill and Red Rutledge told the Booster club, "Forest has a club that can really go places, if it catches on fire."

Films of the Midland-Ysleta games were screened, with Jones making comments on the play. "Mistakes hurt us," Jones said. "We hope we have ironed out most of them this week."

The Booster Club voted to pay $36 for a couch to be placed in the official's dressing room at Memorial Stadium.

After the meeting, coffee and doughnuts were served to the Boosters.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Wednesday Could Be 'Flag Day' For Yankees, Phillies

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

This could be "flag day" for the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Phillies.

New York's magnificent "clutch" team and Philadelphia's dashing youngsters were in a position to lock up the American and National League pennants Wednesday and put to rest all the feverish excitement over who will play who in the 1950 World Series.

This would make a mere formality of the weekend windup that was figured to be loaded with high tension stuff.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
	W	L	Behind	Left
New York	96	54	-----	4
Detroit	92	57	3 1/2	5
Boston	91	57	4	6

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Philadelphia	90	58	-----	6
Brooklyn	84	62	5	8

The so-called magic number for the Yankees this is two. For the Phillies it's three.

That means any combination of those numbers—in victories for the Yanks or Phils and defeats for their challengers—would clinch the pennant.

The Yankees moved Wednesday into Philadelphia for two games with the last-place Athletics before finishing off against Boston at Fenway Park.

A Yankee victory linked with a defeat for Detroit and Boston thus would return the Bronx Bombers to the lead.

Nashville Vols Win Dixie Series Starter NASHVILLE, TENN.—(P)—Nashville tries for two in a row over San Antonio Wednesday night in the second game of the Dixie Series.

The Southern Association champion Tuesday night slugged the Texas League winner 11-5. The teams switch to Texas for the third, fourth and—if needed, fifth—games.

Nashville slugged San Antonio for six runs in the second inning, while San Antonio staged a five run outburst in the fifth.

Joe Damato drove in five runs for the winners with a home run, double and a single.

The score: R H E
San Antonio (IL) 000 050 000 5 10 5
Nashville (SA) 060 020 21X 11 14 3
Sleater, Biscan, Taylor and Balch; Schultz, Modica and Dant.

Davey O'Brien of TCU participated in 400 running and passing plays during the 1937 football season—which stands as a record.

Flood Of Charles Money Clips Odds On Brown Bomber

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK—(P)—Joe Louis, who retired two years ago, battles Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night in an effort to become the first heavyweight titleholder in history to regain the crown.

A fresh flood of Charles money has dropped the price on the title fight to 5 to 8 in favor of the Brown Bomber.

If the odds hold up until the 9 p.m. (CST) fight time, Louis may enter the ring at the shortest odds since he first won the heavyweight crown from Jimmy Braddock in Chicago on June 22, 1937.

Not since his second scrap with Max Schmeling 12 years ago has Louis been held in such low esteem by the bookmakers. That night he was a five to one choice.

A crowd of about 30,000, paying from $3 to $30, is expected. Millions more will hear it over CBS.

The promoting International Boxing Club is hoping for a gross gate of at least $250,000.

The weatherman is optimistic. He says it will be warm, "in the mid-seventies," with increasing cloudiness in the evening. In the event of rain the fight would be scheduled the following night.

Speed Vs. Power As for the fight itself, it boils down to this: Can Louis catch Charles?

If he does, almost everyone concedes Louis' devastating punch will blast Charles out quicker than you can sniff out a match.

But there are many, including this observer, who believe the 36-year-old Louis hasn't got the legs to corner his underrated 29-year-old opponent.

Charles, embittered by Louis' return and still peeved at the Louis shadow hanging over him, says "I'm going to stop him no later than the twelfth round. Joe can be chopped up like any other old guy."

Ezzard will give away about 34 pounds—he is expected to scale around 183 to Louis' 217.

Charles won NBA recognition as heavyweight champion when he defeated Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago June 22, 1949. That fight was staged after Louis officially announced his retirement on March 1.

Dallas Amateurs Lose Out In ABA Tourney BATTLE CREEK, MICH.—(P)—The 1950 championship of the American Baseball Congress is the property of Watertown, S. D.

Watertown wrapped up the crown by sweeping a day-night double-header from Dallas, Texas, Tuesday, 7-4 and 6-3, in the East-West playoff finals.

The victories gave Watertown a 3-1 edge in the best-of-five final series.

Crucial Tilts Dot Class AA Schedule

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Important games dot the Class AA schoolboy football schedule from the tip of Texas to the Gulf this weekend, but the spotlight will be on North and West Texas where undefeated, untied teams collide.

Highland Park of Dallas, rated No. 1 in the state in many bookings, tackles ambitious Sherman at Sherman Friday night in the top feature.

Of almost equal note will be the battle of Lubbock and Sweetwater at Sweetwater. The latter it was that down top-flight Odessa last week while Lubbock was showing unheralded power in smashing North Side of Fort Worth.

The Highland Park-Sherman game is a sort of grudge tilt. And this time it appears Sherman has a most excellent chance of kicking over its big city neighbor.

There are 48 games over the state with Vernon at Pampa, Abilene at Wichita Falls, Kerrville at Bryan and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) at Austin in the category of important tests—the Jefferson-Austin contest bringing powers of the City Conference and Class AA together.

Schedule by Districts
Port Arthur, another of the top-ranking teams, plays Nicholls of New Orleans in a feature inter-district game.

The schedule by districts includes:
1—Friday: Fort Worth Tech at Plainview, Amarillo at Paschal (Fort Worth), Vernon at Pampa, Quanah at Borger.

2—Friday: North Side (Fort Worth) at Childress, Abilene at Wichita Falls.

3—Friday: Bowie (El Paso) at Big Spring, Midland at Forest (Dallas), Jefferson (El Paso) at Lamesa.

4—Friday: Austin (El Paso) at Carlsbad, N. M., Cathedral (El Paso) at Ysleta.

5—Friday: Lubbock at Sweetwater, Odessa at San Angelo.

One Million Diabetes Victims
Do Not Know They're Diabetic

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
If sugar is found in the urine it usually, but not always, means that diabetes is present. Now diabetes is a common disease and probably is increasing. It has been estimated that there are about 2,000,000 people with diabetes in the United States and about half of them do not know it.

Visual Aids Program Used By Schools Of Midland City System

The Midland public schools this year purchased 50 sound films to add to its film library.

These films can be used by the entire system, ranging from "The Making of Bread" for the first grade to "Atomic Energy" for high school seniors.

Throughout the year, additional film may be requested from the State Department Film Library.

Use of the film is part of the visual aids program in the schools.

In addition to the ordered films, the schools have a number film strip, an opaque projector, a wire recorder, a tape recorder, record players and radio through the inter-communications system.

The schools plan to pick up Texas School of the Air programs throughout the year.

The visual aids program was started in Midland in 1946 by J. R. Cuffman, vocational agriculture teacher. He is setting up a training program for teachers and students to learn the operation of various machines connected with visual aids.

The high school has made a special visual aids room with black-out curtains and a blower to circulate air. Each school has a projection room especially equipped for the showing of films.

many physicians feel that heredity has a lot to do with it. Certainly, diabetes is much more common in some families than in others and can sometimes be traced through several generations. Those who live in the cities and lead sedentary lives are particularly prone to it.

Heredity cannot be the only element involved, however, as often diabetes becomes obvious for the first time after a mental shock or physical injury. A high proportion of people who come down with diabetes are overweight. This, too, is important. For most people the onset of diabetes is gradual and there may be very few symptoms. Frequently increased urination and unexplained loss of weight are the first signs.

The treatment is complicated because all patients with diabetes must watch their diets and many of them also need to receive the glandular extract, insulin. Diabetes is still a serious disease in spite of the tremendous help which insulin has given to its treatment.

Must Be Controlled
Many people simply do not follow directions and their conditions goes from bad to worse. If the diabetes is not controlled they are liable to complications and infections which are very serious. Sometimes gangrene (death of tissue) develops and requires amputation or some other radical treatment.

Not all persons who have sugar in their urine have diabetes. Sometimes the sugar in the blood is normal but it merely spills over through the kidneys into the urine. This comes when there is a normal amount of insulin produced by the pancreas, but the kidney doesn't hold it back well enough.

The questions of correct diagnosis and treatment can only be decided by a careful study of the sugar in the blood and in the urine and of the results of certain tests.

Isa. 30:15; Heb. 3:6; 10:35; Ps. 27:1-3, 5, 13-14

RELAXED, EVEN IF NOT RELEASED

We have seen that there never can be complete relaxation unless that relaxation rests ultimately in the love and goodness of God. That love and goodness may deny the thing asked for, but only in order to give something better. The Hebrew young men could say: "God... is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. But if not... we will not serve thy gods." (Daniel 3:17-18) "But if not"—if our confidence in this immediate deliverance is unfulfilled, nevertheless we go straight on. They did not rest their confidence on that immediate deliverance, but in the ultimate love and goodness of God. That is faith. Don't rest your faith in some particular happening, but in the goodness of God which will be the same whether that particular thing happens or not. "He will deliver... but if not"—sometimes you will have to live on "but if not," and go straight on.

Rows of beautiful trees were laid low in a storm. Reason: The water was to near the surface; so the trees did not have to put their roots deep down to find water; hence the tragedy. God may deny us a surface answer in order to get us to put our roots deeper into eternal reality, so that in some future storm we shall be unmoved.

Said some Christians when the storm of war was raging over Europe and engulfing everybody: "On the surface there is storm, but 20 fathoms down it is quite calm." Someone asked a happy Negro how he remained calm and poised and cheerful; to which he replied, "I have learned how to cooperate with the immediate inevitable... That is the secret! You cooperate with the immediate inevitable be- things God's will is being worked out and that Will wills your good. My God and Father, I shall have to center down in Thee. I cannot center down in the immediate, so I will have to center down in the ultimate. My faith looks, not at a panorama, but at a Person. "Change and decay in all around I see; O Thou, who changest not, abide with me." Amen.

Midland Association
Announces Insurance
To Protect Savings

The Midland Federal Loan and Savings Association of Midland announced Wednesday that, effective immediately, Federal insurance coverage will be provided on all savings accounts up to $10,000. The previous coverage was $5,000.

P. F. Bridgewater, Secretary and Treasurer of the Association, said the increased coverage follows the signing into law by President Truman of legislation boosting insurance protection for associations with savings accounts insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

"Our association will bear all the cost of protection for our customers," said Bridgewater, "and the new law affords us the opportunity of securing a further safeguard for the funds of our customers."
