Dulles To Give Leaders Report On Suez Dispute

Truman Gets Ready To Announce Choice

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Truman said today he will announce before the party convention meets next Monday his preference for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Truman told a news conference he has not yet reached final conclusion on which candidate to support.

"But before the convention meets I will have an answer for you," he said. "I will let the American people know where I stand."

Asked if he is against any of the candidates mentioned for the nomination, Truman replied with a broad grin:

"Yes, I am against me."

There had been some speculation Truman's name might be offerred to the convention if a deadlock developed in the battle between Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

A reporter told Truman there had been reports he intended to announce for Stevenson. The reporter asked if this were true. Truman replied he was not going to make any statement now but will make his choice before Sunday.

Later in the conference, Truman qualified this somewhat. He said he was here getting information about the candidates and the platform.

"If I don't get enough information I might not be in a position to make a choice," he said.

After the formal news conference broke up reporters pressed the point.

"I hope to have a choice before Sunday," Truman said. "Of course if I don't get enough information I might not be able to do it but I think I will."

In response to questions, Truman said "the platform should be very specific and plain on civil rights, as it was in 1948 and in 1952."

Truman said he would outline his views on that issue—one of the hottest in the pre-convention discussion here — at his scheduled appearance before the Platform Committee later in the day.

Truman's assertion as to civil rights came after a reporter noted that Stevenson had called this week for "unequivocal endorsement" of the Supreme Court's ruling for racial integration in the schools.

Truman was asked at one point whether he ever knew of any candidate to go into a convention with a claimed strength of 600 votes on the first roll call — as Stevenson supporters say their man will go into next week's sesion — and come out without the nomination.

Truman replied that in 1912 a candidate who had only 200 votes at the beginning had won the nomination. That was Woodrow Wilson.

Harriman is claiming from 350 to 400 votes on the first ballot.

Truman said he had not changed his views on the civil rights, issue. To emphasize this he held up a booklet entitled "To Secure These Rights" which he said he had published in 1947, while he was President.

Truman was asked if he believes the Democrats could win on a program of "moderation." Harriman has blasted at Stevenson as the candidate of "moderation." Truman replied:

"The Democrats will win on the program that will be adopted."

Polio Cases Drop During Past Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The states reported 759 new polio cases last week.

That was 650 fewer than were listed in the comparable week last year and the lowest for the week since 1947.

Chicago continued to be the only area in which there was a heavy concentration of cases, Public Health Service spokesmen said today, but some concentration also was noted in Salt Lake County, Utah.

Illinois, with 181 cases, and California, with 104, were the only states listing more than 50 last week. A year ago, Massachusetts had 309 for the week, with five other states listing more than 50 each.

There were 147 cases, 90 of them paralytic, reported in Chicago last week.

Utah listed 17 cases last week and 22 in the week ended July 28. A check of health service records showed that through July 28 there had been 32 cases in Salt Lake County, a rate of slightly higher than 10 per 100,000 population.

A total of 5,315 cases were reported in the nation this year through Aug. 4, compared with 7,929 in the similar 1955 period.

Statistics show that at this time in 1952, which was the record year, the weekly total alone had reached 2,306. This was nearly half the 1956 total to date.

For the disease year which began April 1, there were 4,248 cases through Aug. 4, compared with 6,866 a year ago, a drop of considerably more than a third.

Break Seen For Demos

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An official of the Louisiana States' Rights party believes a Southern break from the Democratic party is possible this year and plans are in the making "so the South won't be alone like it was in 1948."

Kent Courtney, acting secretary of the Louisiana group, said yesterday that co-ordinated states' rights movements range from Massachusetts to California.

In addition to nine Southern states, Courtney said, 17 states have an independent party framework to catch dissident voters.

Courtney, who said he had been appointed "co-ordinator of new parties for the national committee for a new party," said the states right movement plans to put up presidential and vice presidential nominees. The action will be taken, he said, regardless of what Southern Democrats do at the national convention in Chicago next week.

He said leaders of the movement plan to meet in Chicago Sept. 12 to open a states rights national headquarters.

SCURRY CROPS DETERIORATE

Farm Crisis Grows

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Farm conditions are becoming more critical by the hour. Drought and oven-like temperatures engulf the state further to ravage crops and livestock ranges, dry up ponds and create shortages of irrigation water in many sections. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service reported this today.

In a report from district agents, Director G. G. Gibson said only small and widely scattered areas have escaped mounting crop losses, but that more rain is needed now even in those areas. He noted acreage in the soil bank program and more activity in the emergency livestock feed program and disaster relief.

Many livestock breeding herds are being sold, calves and lambs are going early and at a lighter weight, as summer feed crops and ranges have been a total failure. Cattlemen are heading into another fall and winter facing a critical hay and feed shortage. The only crops showing promise are irrigated or in dryland areas of the South Plains where scattered showers help dryland cotton and grain sorghum.

The Lower Rio Grande Valley citrus crop faces a serious condition due to lack of water in the Rio Grande.

Practically no grass remains in South Texas and many foundation herds in the Uvalde, Frio, Medina and LaSalle counties are being sold.

"Ranchers in the Panhandle also have sold down to 'bed-rock' in their breeding herds as the grass gets more scarce and feeding becomes more evident. They are selling calves at lighter weights," added Knox Parr at Amarillo. "Land is prepared for planting winter wheat when and if rain comes. Irrigated cotton and grain sorghum prospects appear good, and poor to fair on dryland. A fair peach crop is being harvested in Wheeler and Collingsworth counties and potato and onion harvest in the Hereford area is about complete."

Some South Plains counties appear to have the best crop prospects in the state. At Lubbock, W. H. Jones said conditions for cotton and grain sorghum are good in Lamb, Lubbock, Crosby, Hale, Floyd, Swisher and Briscoe counties except in spots missed by showers. Cotton is beginning to mature. Mitchell, Howard, Borden, Scurry and Garza counties crops deteriorated.

In the Rolling Plains showers helped in Hall County but a general rain is needed, said James Simmons at Vernon. Cotton is suffering badly and the acreage in the soil bank program is increasing. Chances for a grain sorghum crop is poor and ranges, pastures and stockwater ponds are dry. Irrigated crops look good.

"One of the biggest hay shortages in years faces North Texas farmers and ranchers," Ted Martin said at Denton. "They have had no pasture this summer, small grain failed and they are heading into winter with empty hay lofts. The season for making hay is about finished even with rain, which means this winter will bear more hardships for cattlemen. Many will operate at a loss again this year, making it several successive years. Cotton is below normal as bolls shed prematurely and heavy marketing of cattle continues. Ponds are dry."

Man Wins Election In Spite Of Everything

JETMORE, Kan. (AP) — Maurice Webb decided several weks ago he'd try for the Democratic nomination for state senator from the 36th Kansas District. When he found out Lea Maranville also was a candidate he changed his mind.

Webb couldn't get his name off the ballot. He didn't campaign, figuring that would do it.

Complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary in the six-county district: Webb 1,641 votes, Maranville 1,227.

Greeks Stage Cyprus Strike

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The Greek population of Cyprus launched a general strike today in retaliation for the hanging several hours before dawn of three youthful Greek Cypriots convicted of murder in the underground war for union with Greece.

British authorities braced themselves for new rebel reprisals but there were no immediate new violence.

Reports reaching Nicosia said the strike was island-wide among Cyprus' 400,000 population of Greek descent. Workers stayed off the jobs and stores did not open.

The 100,000 Turkish Cypriots went about their business as usual.

The strike was similar to the spontaneous shutdown which followed the first executions of two Greek Cypriot rebels last May. Again no strike call was announced but shops did not open and workers did not show up.

Some 2,200 construction workers already had quit work on British military buildings at Lanarca, on the south coast. About 350 political prisoners at a detention camp outside Nicosia staged a 24-hour hunger strikem.

Themistocles Dervis, Nicosia's mayor and a leader of the island's 400,000 Greek Cypriots, said he had warned Gov. Sir John Harding, "If the executions are carried out, things are likely to get much worse."

The condemnned men were Andreas Zakkos, 25, and Charilaos Michael and Iacovos Atatsos, both 22. They were members of the EOKA underground group.

They went to their deaths simultaneously on a triple gallows in Nicosia's Central Prison. As the trap was sprung, inmates of the prison chanted "Hurrah for EOKA . . . Death to Harding, down with England."

Zakkos and Michael were convicted of taking part in the ambush last December of British Maj. Brian Coombe. Four extremists killed Coombe's driver, a British corporal, but the 34-year-old major captured Zakkos and killed a third attacker.

Patatsos was sentenced for the fatal shooting of a Turkish Cypriot policeman in Nicosia last April.

An American consular official, Paul Spreinger, was beaten up at his home yesterday but police said they did not know the motive for the attack. Spreinger was not seriously hurt.

11 Per Cent Drop In Cotton Produetion Set

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas faces an 11 per cent drop in cotton production this year compared with last year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said yesterday.

The USDA said the expected yield this year was still 2 per cent above the 1945-54 average. A Texas crop totaling 3,600,000 bales was predicted. Good yields in irrigated sections helped offset the dim outlook in drought areas.

South Central, lower blackland and southern low Rolling Plains areas could expect a "critically short" crop this year, the USDA said.

National Encampment Of VFW Opens Friday

DALLAS (AP)—The national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars opens here tomorrow.

Problems of veterans benefits will be discussed by panels of government and VFW officials during the week. Vice President Richard Nixon will make a major speech Monday.

Other national figures scheduled to appear on the VFW program include Henry Cabot Lodge, United States U. N. ambassador; Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine commandant; Defense Sec. Charles E. Wilson.

NAM Head Seeks Economic Growth

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Assn. of Manufacturers today told the Democratic Platform Committee that any tinkering with new national policies which the NAM said have restored business confidence could kill off prosperity "overnight."

Cola G. Parker, NAM president, made no mention of the present Republican administration but said "the change in the economic environment" has fostered steady economic growth.

"We have not entered a new era in which prosperity can be taken for granted," Parker said. "Our problem now is to develop a program which will encourage and protect this confidence, and thereby keep our nation moving forward."

Parker, as head of the NAM, and John S. Coleman, as president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, gave their views as spokesmen for two leading business organizations.

Their prepared testimony was scheduled ahead of former President Harry S. Truman, due for a midafternoon appearance.

Parker said that for the first time in many years both party conventions can write platforms "in a situation of national prosperity which has not been created artificially by war or the aftermath of war and which is not being sustained by government expenditure."

"What is it the American people want?" he asked. "They want peace, not at the expense of honor or based on appeasement: they want prosperity and economic growth . . .: they want security and steadily increasing abundance.

"They wish to attain these goals without loss or dimunition of freedom. The political party which best meets these aspirations will deserve, and get, the support and confidence of the American people."

Coleman said that while the United States is a big country, with a big economy and complex society, government should be "tailored" to needs and not in excess of those needs.

Both business witnesses urged government economy, lower taxes on business, and reappraisal of foreign aid expenditures. Both called for bans on requiring membership in labor unions and further curbs on labor organizations.

British Postpone Mid-East Airlift

LONDON (AP)—Britain today postponed the start of a major airlift of troops to the Mediterranean—and at the same time was reported preparing to pull some military units and personnel from Germany to cope with the Suez crisis.

There was no immediate explanation of the postponement of the airlift, and no official confirmation or denial of the report Britain may draw on her army in Germany.

Prime Minister Eden, in a major radio and television speech last night, declared his confidence that a workable scheme could be found in peaceful negotiations to resolve the fermenting dispute and said the British "do not seek a solution by force."

At the same time he reasserted British intentions to use force if necessary as a last resort: "I must make plain: We cannot agree that an act of plunder which threatens the livelihood of many nations shall be allowed to succeed."

Britain holds that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's July 26 nationalization of the Suez Canal Co., is a menace to her lifelines to Middle East oil supplies and her far Eastern commonwealth partners and colonies.

The War Office said the airlift was postponed for "at least 24 hours".

In the last few days an air-sea armada has been assembled along Britain's south coast to begin the transport of troops and supplies.

Six Bristol Britannias, each capable of carrying 100 men, and nearly 200 smaller planes were to start the first wave of the airlift at dawn tomorrow with movement of the headquarters brigade of the 3rd Infantry Division.

At least four troopships were to leave in the next six days. There was no indication whether these sailings also were affected.

Widely printed press reports in London said the 15,000-man 2nd Infantry Division may be withdrawn from West Germany, where Britain maintains four divisions and a tactical air force.

Later allied diplomats said only certain personnel and smaller units were involved in the contemplated withdrawal.

The War Office would not deny or confirm the reports, and both the political and military headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organizaton in Paris declined comment.

Two Parties Are Invited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today invited Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress to meet with him here Sunday for a report on the Suez Canal crisis.

Joseph Reap, State Department press officer, said acceptances had been received from Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) and Knowland (R-Calif), the Senate majority and minority leaders; Chairman George (Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, House Speaker Rayburn (Tex) and House GOP Leader Martin (Mass).

Ranking members of the Senate Foreign Relations and the House Foreign Affairs Committees have been invited. Those who can attend are expected to be here although the meeting will come on the eve of the Democratic convention opening in Chicago Monday.

One purpose Dulles may have in mind is to seek bipartisan understanding and support for Eisenhower administration policies in dealing with Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

Dulles will leave Tuesday for a London meeting of the nations summoned there to seek a peaceful solution for the bitter canal dispute which began two weeks ago when President Nasser nationalized the Suez.

Another element in the timing of the Sunday meeting at the State Department is the fact that Nasser has scheduled a news conference in Cairo Sunday. He is expected to announce his attitude toward the London meeting called for Aug. 16, and toward plans for internationalizing the canal.

It seems therefore that Dulles needs to be fully informed on the Egyptian position before he talks to the congressional leaders.

While the announced purpose of the Washington session is to "brief the leaders on the latest developments," Dulles himself presumably wants to know their attitude concerning how far the United States can go with congressional backing in any support it may give any British and French plans to use force in the Suez situation, if necessary.

Stassen Says Herter Has 50-50 Chance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen today declared his belief that Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts now has a 50-50 chance of winning the Republican vice presidential nomination at San Francisco.

Stassen told a news conference that a growing volume of mail and money attests to widening support of his drive to replace Vice President Nixon with Herter as President Eisenhower's running mate.

Stassen made public a message from Elroy W. Bromwich, chairman of the Missouri delegation to the national convention, announcing Bromwich's support for an Eisenhower-Herter ticket.

"I believe that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket can carry Missouri in November and help win two or more additional congressional seats," said Bromwich, Republican National Committeeman from Missouri.

"It is unfortunately doubtful if Missouri can be carried if the vice presidential nomination is not changed," he added.

Stassen said he will announce tomorrow the names of more delegates committed to Herter. He said he was impressed particularly by the fact that many of the letters arriving at his Eisenhower - Herter headquarters here contained contribution checks.

Northeast Scurry Gets Good Rainfall

Some parts of Scurry County got good showers yesterday afternoon with most of the rainfall being in the northeast part of the county.

At Camp Springs, a measurement of .6 of an inch was reported, while there was about an inch north of there and about an inch a mile west of there.

There was sprinkling in some other parts of the county, but no reports of any sizeable amounts of rain.

This morning, Fluvanna had .3 of an inch of rainfall, while north and northwest of Fluvanna there was heavier rain, measuring two inches in places.

Review Of State Juvenile Act Is Requested By Study Group

AMARILLO (AP)—A plea that the Legislature review the Juvenile Act of 1943 was made yesterday by a citizens committee which completed a four-month study of juvenile delinquents.

The committee said the act has "built a wall of secrecy which is unnatural and contrary to the system of checks and balances, and to the power of review that are essential to our form of government."

Juvenile courts established by the act are courts of record, but the judge has sole control over whether the records can be seen.

"This veil of secrecy causes the community to lose sight of its juvenile delinquents and consequently its responsibility toward them," the report said.

The committee charged that "children, who may or may not be guilty as charged, could be left without benefit of counsel or trial because those responsible for them have no interest in their welfare" since the act does not provide for jury trials unless demanded, and makes no provision for the court-appointed legal defense always given to adults.

"The act has placed too much power in the hands of the judge for which he cannot be held accountable, in actual practice if not in law. No man lives who has such infinite wisdom and infallible judgment that his acts should not be subject to review," the report says.

It contends that other phases of the juvenile protection laws "tend actually to create or prolong juvenile delinquency. Youth have been led to believe that they need not suffer the consequencs of wrong-doing."

The Amarillo committee pleaded, too, that the Legislature pass laws that would allow Amarillo—the only major city in Texas divided by a county line—to work out the juvenile delinquency problem on a city-wide basis.

The committee criticized parents for failing to assume their "parental responsibilities" and noted findings that point to growth of homosexuality because fathers were failing to spend time with their children, "increasingly relinquishing to the mother the responsibilities" of rearing the children.

It reported other causes of growing delinquency, up 33 per cent in Amarillo in 1955—as increased number of divorces and separated families, too much money, working mothers and others spent too much time away from the home in social or civic functions, increased mobility through use of motor vehicles, increased and shifting population, lack of jobs for teen-agers.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Deep Wildcat Is Slated In Dawson

Edwing W. Pauley of Midland has announced location for a 5,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Gaines County, and Seaboard Oil Co. has staked a 10,000-foot wildcat in West Dawson County.

Pauley No. 1 Parmer is 2,117 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of labor 2, league 315, Parmer County School Land survey.

Seaboard No. 1-A J. R. Weaver is 2½ miles southeast of Mungerville, 660 feet from north and east lines of labor 27, league 3, Taylor County School Land survey.

The Texas Co. spotted a 6,660-foot Ellenburger prospector three miles southeast of the Bernecker field of Southwest Fisher County, ¼ mile southeast of the Bernecker townsite.

It is No. 1 Hazel Collins, 660 feet from north and 3,307 feet from west lines of section 15, block Y, T&P survey.

The Texas Co. will drill back to 3,200 feet and test No. 1 H. H. Plemons, depleted Canyon sand producer in the Royston (Canyon sand) field of Central Fisher County.

The 3,200-foot depth will test the Flippen lime pay.

Location is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 201, block 1, H&TC survey and six and one-half miles northeast of Royston.

Southern Union Gas Co. of Dallas No. 1 Susie Koonsman is a scheduled 8,500-foot wildcat in Southwest Garza County, 12¾ miles southwest of Post.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 5, block 2, T&NO survey.

Skelly Oil Co. has completed No. 1 McCain in a recently opened extension area to the Sylvester (Goen) field of East Fisher County, as a discovery from Strawn lime.

On 24-hour potential test, the well finaled for a daily flow of 443.22 barrels of 43 gravity oil, through a 22-64-inch choke and perforations from 5,372 to 5,376 feet. Location is 6,300 feet from south and 990 feet from west lines of southeast corner of Elijah Bell survey.

White Cites Drought Loss For Farmers

AUSTIN (AP) — Agriculture commissioner John White predicted today the drought might cost Texas farmers half as much again this year as it has the past four years.

"With cotton production down 11 per cent the crop loss this year because of the drought may rise as much as 750 million dollars," White said. "In the past four years it has run around 500 million dollars a year."

Livestock and pasturage losses because of the drought may double the figure, White said.

White said decreases in wheat and grain sorghum crops added to the drought loss.

"The peanut crop is in bad shape," White said. "If it doesn't rain within the next three weeks we may lose an 80 to 100 million dollar peanut crop."

White said livestock and pasturage drought damage could not be predicted accurately because so many market factors enter into the decrease other than drought.

"Another thing," White said, "this crop loss is gone, while part of the livestock and pasturage loss may be recoverable. It all depends on when it rains. Any way you look at it Texas farmers and ranchers have been hit harder this year than before."

Troops Are Ordered Into Ahmedabad

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Troops were ordered into Ahmedabad today as the second day of bitter language rioting raised the casualty total there to 12 dead and 200 injured.

Five persons were killed and 24 injured today.

Police battled this afternoon to restore order within a five-mile radious of the general postoffice. Bands of arsonists roamed the city of 600,000, 275 miles north of Bombay.

In New Delhi, meanwhile, the lower house of Parliament approved 241-40 a government-sponsored bill to create the new bilingual state.

Police reinforcements were being rushed to Ahmedabad. Reports reaching here said the rioters had set fire to a post office, a police station and several municipal offices.

The city virtually was paralyzed by the outbursts, which started when students struck in protest the government plan to merge Gujerati - speaking areas of western India with the Marathi-speaking regions into an enlarged bilingual Bombay state. The demonstrators demanded a separate Gujerat state with Ahmedabad as its capital.

Russia To Take Part In London Conference

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union agreed today to take part in the Aug. 16 London conference on the Suez Canal.

The Soviet government warned that it did not consider the conference as currently set up competent to decide the future of the Middle Eastern waterway.

In a note distributed to every foreign embassy in Moscow the Soviet Foreign Ministry further urged that the conference be postponed until the end of the month.

The note also demanded that Communist China, East Germany, other members of the Soviet bloc, such neutralized nations as Finland, Austria and Burma plus all the Arab states from Iraq to Morocco be invited to take part, along with the 24 nationals presently invited. Replies now are awaited from Egypt, Greece and Spain.

Movie Couple Have Friendly Separation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Film director Bruce Humberstone has agreed to pay his estranged wife, Gay, $500 monthly alimony and child support pending trial of her divorce suit. She is 26, an actress and model known as Gay Poling. Humberstone is 50.

It's a friendly separation. Humberstone told the court yesterday he was taking his wife to lunch.

Arrests Made In Colombia Blast Probe

PANAMA (AP)—Arrivals from the blast-shattered Colombian city of Cali say a number of persons have been arrested in connection with Tuesday's explosion. Estimates of the total dead, meanwhile, ranged as high as 1,200.

The informants said Colombian authorities have launched an investigation of the dynamite blast which wrecked the heart of Cali, scooping a crater 85 feet deep and about 200 feet wide and causing damage put by some estimates at 40 million dollars.

Colombian President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla has labeled the explosion an act of political sabotage. The progovernment newspaper Diario of Colombia accused the President's political enemies of setting off the blast in an attempt to overthrow the regime.

The travelers said press censorship has been clamped down in Colombia as a result of the blast and that all outgoing dispatches are being closely screened.

Cali residents have been forbidden to leave the city, the informants added, and plane, train and car travel is under rigid control.

No North Americans have been reported killed in the explosion, which occurred when seven trucks loads of government dynamite went off in a densely populated downtown area.

The only official death announcement was made by Rojas Pinilla, who said more than 1,000 were dead and injured. Persons arriving from the stricken area said the victims included 600 soldiers and more than 400 civilians.

Some officials have said an accurate count of the dead is impossible, since many victims disintegrated in the blast.

Colombian authorities said 357 victims have been buried so far in a common grave. They said another 90 bodies were still at the morgue awaiting identification.

Hernan Mateus Becerra, AP correspondent in Cali, wrote:

"A crater was opened in the patio of a railway station, the center of the blast.

"Beside what had been a large truck laden with dynamite, we saw the dented crash helmet of a soldier, and bits of clothing. Not a sign remained of the other trucks. Only the tires of one were found eight blocks away on the roof of a . . . hotel."

Kiwanis Hear Rev. Nelson

Man may live without relying on God for guidance, but inevitably it proves to be a shallow life beset by tensions and unhappiness, the Rev. Jimmie Nelson told members of the Snyder Kiwanis Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

Rev. Nelson, pastor of the Colonian Hill Baptist Church, said that such people should be regarded as a challenge by Christians.

Bringing the challenge closer to home, Rev. Nelson said that Snyder's population is estimated at approximately 17,000, yet only about 3,500 persons attend worship services regularly in the city's churches.

People who rely on God are possessed with an inner strength to bear them up in time of trouble, he reminded, and all Christians should concern themselves with turning others to this source of strength.

Rev. Nelson was introduced by L. A. McClanahan, chairman of the Kiwanis committee on support of churches and their spiritual aims.

A visiting delegation of Kiwanians from Colorado City attended the meeting.

Dulles To See Hammarskjold

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and U.N. Secretary Gen Hammarskjold will confer on the Middle East situation at a luncheon meeting in New York tomorrow, diplomatic sources reported today.

It was expected there the Suez Canal would be mentioned. But Hammarskjold is reported to be standing aloof from the canal crisis until someone asks him to take a hand.

Hammarskjold wants to talk with Dulles about the impressions gained by the secretary general on his second trip to the Middle East last month. He is working for the Security Council in an effort to ease tensions between Israel and four Arab states —Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

The Security Council, meanwhile, was standing by, ready to meet if Egypt or any other country lodges a complaint in the Suez case.

Plans For Another Reservoir Studied

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is going to study possibilities of another big reservoir on the upper Colorado River, E. V. Spence, CRMWD General manager said today.

He had received confirmation from the state board of Water engineers that the district presentation for the study has been accepted and filed.

"This is part of our overall development to secure surface supplies for this area of West Texas," Spence explained. "It is an outgrowth of the action of the board of directors last week in authorizing long range studies of water supplies".

The area specified in the presentation is on the Colorado River south of US 80 and north of south line of Mitchell County. The general manager said that topographic surveys would be made of the section to check for feasible dam site as well as the general survey of the potential watershed.

"We also will be making extensive studies of both quantity and quality of water" he continued. "The presentation sets out the figure 66,000 acre feet per annum yield which would mean a reservoir sufficiently large enough to impound several times that amount to insure this yield".

Spence said that this could possibly mean a lake some 50 per cent larger than Lake J. B. Thomas, however, he emphasized that all this was purely in the study stage. It also takes into consideration Midland's request, that the district study the possibility of supplying that city with supplemental water. The district has been studying for sometime the possibility of a reservoir on Deep Creek, a tributary of the Colorado River.

These will be continued, but would be absorbed in the larger project if and when anything materializes. The new studiees may incompass several years before sufficient information for action will be developed, Spence said.

Nationalist Guillotined

ALGIERS (AP) — Mohammed ben Mohammed Tiffrouine, a nationalist convicted of killing a French gendarme on one of Algiers' main streets, was guillotined at dawn today in the courtyard of the local prison.

He was the fifth nationalist to be executed legally since the rebellion started.

French reports, meanwhile, indicated that the rebels had launched an arson campaign.

Forests and farms around Oran, western Algeria, were set afire apparently by Molotov cocktail bottles of flaming gasoline. Six large fires were reported in the Algiers area, mostly in wooded districts.

Texas and Illinois have the largest total railway mileages in the 43 states. Texas has 15,355 miles, Illinois 11,385 miles.

New Record Is Set By Water District

For the second consecutive month the Colorado River Municipal Water District has established a new production record.

During July, the district produced more than a billion gallons for the second time in delivering 1,068,098,000 gallons. O. H. Ivie, production engineer, pointed out that this was a preliminary figure subject to adjustment. During June the system had topped the billion gallon mark for the first time, turning out 1,020,000,000 gallons.

Breakdown on the output for July showed 413,350,000 gallons to Odessa, 254,450,000 to Big Spring, 84,765,000 to Snyder, 264,000,000 to the SACROC repressuring unit, 47,145,000 to Sharon Ridge repressuring unit, and 4,388,000 to Texas Gulf Oil Company.

Steel is the largest U.S. industry. Milk production is second.

BABY'S TRAVEL KIT—It comes in handy at transportation terminals. Hang it up on a wall and make good use of its cotton, powder and lotion for between-station grooming.

Advance Plans Pay Off For Traveling Small Fry

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It isn't easy to travel with a child. Timing must be just right—meals, naps and bedtime must be planned before you even start from home so that your young one may be comfortable.

It is exhausting for adults to expend energy in travel so you can hardly look forward to a small tot being cheerful all the time.

Youngsters should be dressed in loose, comfortable, washable clothes. If you want to surprise Grandma by putting a starched cotton dress on your little daughter, do it at the last moment—perhaps in the station waiting room or plane terminal or, if you travel by car, in a rest lounge along the way. If your young child wants to wear his old clothes traveling, don't argue with him. It might spoil the entire trip to insist he wear his best little linen suit just to impress the folks back home. You can put it on him when you get there and the relatives should certainly understand.

A shoe bag attached to the back of the front seat of the car makes a good stowaway place for small toys for the youngsters.

A new baby travel kit contains all the skin care items needed for jiffy daytime diaper switches and for bathtime needs. It is in an attractive gingham-patterned plastic compartments containing baby lotion, oil, powder, cream, soap and sterile cotton swabs as well as washcloth, bib and safety pins. It has a sturdy loop for hanging it right up in the car, if that's where baby's diaper changes are made. It will come in handy for the older tots too and may be taken in rest rooms along the way where soap and other necessities may not be available.

Small disposable gauze squares moistened with baby's oil or lotion make a fine cleanser for faces and hands after snacks. Between-meal refreshment should be kept on the light side to avoid upsets. Many people carry ice coolers with them today on long car trips, and use them to store some sterile water for baby, or fruit for the toddlers.

Frequent stops are important. The children will be happy to stretch their legs for awhile. The driver should enjoy the idea also. It's a good idea to have a light picnic at each stop—sandwiches, soda or a little ice cream.

Each child should have a coat handy for sudden changes in temperature. Dark ones are best for train travel. Sweaters will usually serve comfortably in car travel.

The modern baby learns to fly with ease before he learns to walk. Mothers who plan to fly with children should tell the reservation cleark ahead of time. The clerk may arrange for Mon to have a double seat all to her-self. The center arm comes out, pillows and blankets may be provided and in a twinkling baby is settled to take off.

Mrs. Stevens Given Birthday Party Here

A surprise birthday party was given Monday night honoring Mrs. Coreene Stevens, 2305 Forty-first Street, in her home by a group of high school girls of the Twenty-fifth Street Church of Christ.

Hostessess were Gay Nell Nicks, Barbara McMenmany, and Marjorie Norton.

Thirteen guests were served refreshments of cookies and punch.

Also present were Mrs. Steven's husband, Brother A. O. Stevens, and Brother and Mrs. Ted Norton.

Pamela Anne Kincaid Is Honored At Party

Pamela Anne Kincaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Kincaid, 3726 Avenue V, was honored yesterday by a party given on her fifth birthday by her parents in the Towle Memorial Park pavilion.

Twenty-one guests were treated to pony rides, games, and refreshments of cake, ice cream, and orange drinks. Party hats and horns were given as favors.

Out-of-town guests were Pamela's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Charles Batts and Carla, Santa Fe, and Ritchie Hart, San Angelo. Mrs. Batts assisted Mrs. Kincaid in giving the party.

Sandwich Had Its Beginning With 18th Century Gambler

By SANDRA DeFORE

Have you ever wondered how the sandwich got it's name or how it came about?

In case you have ever let the thought pass your mind, there is a story connected with that fabulous food, the sandwich.

The sandwich is the brainchild of John Montagu, the Fourth Earl of Sandwich (1718-1792). Montagu was a English politicain and military man.

According to the legend, the sandwich came about during the late 18th century, and over the gaming table. Montagu, an avid gambler, disliked interrupting his cards and dice while he ate. For convenience sake, he ordered meat between slices of bread. This meal requires no elaborate place setting and left a hand free for gambling.

Others saw these advantages and soon all were having "the same as Sandwich." It was not long before sandwich was an accepted word in the dictionary of foods.

What would the world have done if the Earl of Sandwich had not been such a gambler and such a genius?

Imagine the enjoyment and good eating that has come from his idea. Americans eat over 90 million sandwiches a day. Twenty-three percent of noon lunches at home are composed of sandwiches; seven per cent of all evening meals at home call for sandwich meals; while more than half the nation's pack-a-lunch workers rely on sandwiches.

Sandwiches are at home in almost all situations; picnics, buffets, parties, lunches, and snacks.

This month is sandwich month. The National Restaurant Association in cooperation with the Wheat Flour Institute, conducted an intensive search for new sandwich ideas. The School of Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management of Michigan State University judged hundreds of entries to find the 20 recipes they considered newest and best.

Here are two of these recipes.

GISMO

1½ pounds ground beef
6 enriched hamburger buns
butter or margarine
lettuce leaves
12 tomato slices
12 avocado slices
5 slices American cheese
6 slices Canadian style bacon

Make 6 beef patties. Brown in skillet or broiler. Split buns and spread with butter or margarine. Toast on grill. On bottom half of each bun, place lettuce leaf, 2 tomato slices and 2 avocado slices. On top half of each bun, place beef patties topped with 1 cheese slice. Place under broiler until cheese has melted. Grill bacon and place on top of cheese. Serve open-face. Makes 6 sandwiches.

BROILER STUFFED MUSHROOM - TUNA SANDWICH

½ cup flaked tuna
1 cup thick cream sauce
salt
white pepper
20 to 24 medium-size fresh mushroom caps (about 1 pound)
grated Parmesan cheese
paprika
melted butter or margarine
8 slices enriched bread, toasted
butter or margarine

Combine tuna and cream sauce. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cook mushrooms lightly in butter or margarine. Stuff with tuna filling. Sprinkle with cheese, paprika and melted butter or margarine. Heat in oven or broiler. Cut 4 toast slices into triangular halves. For each serving, arrange 1 whole toast slice with a toast triangle at each end. Arrange mushroom caps on toast. Pour over any remaining tuna filling. Makes four sandwiches.

Small fry love simple sodas made with ginger ale and vanilla ice cream. For an extra, hang a slit red maraschino cherry on the rim of each glass.

Choose Right Kind Of Milk For Children

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.C.
AP Newsfeatures

MILK is probably the most important food for children. However, there are many kinds of milk available. So many questions come in about milk it seems worthwhile to discuss the whole subject.

Cow's milk is of course the kind we use almost all the time. But cow's milk as it comes from the cow is more suitable for a calf than it is for a human baby.

Raw cow's milk is difficult for a child to digest. It forms big curds in the stomach. These curds are so firm that the digestive juices do not penetrate them easily. Digestion is therefore slow and difficult. Babies who take raw cow's milk often have colic and do considerabale vomiting and may have either diarrhea or constipation.

We can treat raw cow's milk so that it forms tiny soft curds in the stomach, curds as small as those of breast milk. There are two main ways of doing this. The first is by heating the milk, the second is by the process known as homogenization.

The more milk is heated, the smaller the curd. Pasteurized milk has a smaller curd than raw milk, boiled milk has a still smaller curd and milk heated under pressure (as is done in the manufacture of dried and evaporated milks) has a still smaller curd.

Homogenization of milk is a process by which all the fat particles are broken up into such tiny bits that they do not rise to the top of milk as cream. Homogenized milk, like heated milk, forms small curds in the stomach and therefore is easily digested.

Babies as young as three months can digest undiluted homogenized milk, although they would have trouble with raw milk.

In addition to the digestibility of milk we must consider the question of transmitting germs to children in milk.

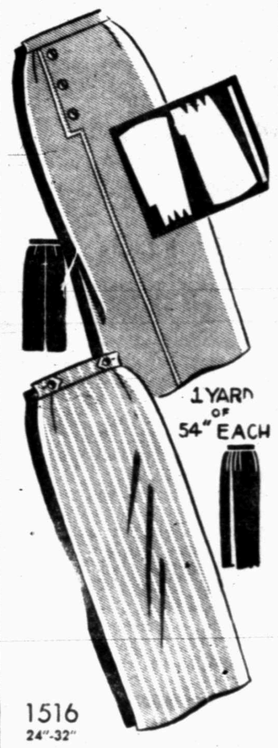

Milk is not only a good food for children, it is also an excellent food for germs. A few germs that may get into milk during the milking will multiply rapidly in this good food. Therefore we must take special precautions to see to it that no harmful germs are in the milk the children drink.

Evaporated and dried milks as you buy them in the sotre are completely free from germs. However the heat treatment does affect the taste. Babies love the taste of these milks, but older children often object. Fresh milk to be safe should be pasteurized. This is a process in which the milk is heated to a temperature well below boiling and kept at this temperature for a definite time. Pasteurization makes the milk safe from harmful germs and affects the taste very litle (much less than boiling.) All fresh milk, whether cream-line or homogenized, should be pasteurized. Never use raw milk. If you go off on a trip where you cannot get pasteurized milk, give the children evaporated or dried milk.

See that your children have plenty of milk to drink. Fresh pasteurized milk or homogenized milk is digestible by children too young to handle cream-line milk.

Timely Doubleplay

Red China whammed out what looked like a sure home run one day this week but the U. S. State Department pulled down the liner in center field and doubled a runner off second, retiring the side momentarily.

The Reds lifted a seven-year ban on American correspondents by offering 15 of them permission to visit the China mainland for thirty days.

The U. S. State Department promptly turned thumbs down, citing a policy adopted October 31, 1955, under which is said it would issue no passport to any American to travel in countries with which it has no diplomatic relations.

Five of the correspondents are stationed in Hong Kong, and these were told they could obtain entry permits by applying to the Red China embassy in Moscow or at Sumchon, on the Hong Kong frontier.

In Washington a press officer said the State Department would not validate correspondents' passports for travel in Red China. If any correspondent goes into Red China without a valid American passport the department will have to decide then what to do about it.

For two reasons none of the correspondents, providing they represent responsible employers, is likely to accept the Red bid in the face of the State Department's firm stand.

The first reason is that he might have difficulty getting back into the United States. But the main reason is that the invitaion is an obvious bid by Red China to circumvent the department's ban to create a propaganda storm about American's "flouting" of the freedom of the press.

No self-respecting correspondent or employer of a correspondent would care to play into the Communist's hands by accepting an invitation that is so obviously designed for propaganda purposes, and that so flagrantly challenges and seeks to make a mockery of American policy.

Best answer to the Red challenge would be a denunciation of the Red scheme by the correspondents involved and their employers.

Seeds Of Discord

By design or by coincidence, Richard Nixon addressed two separate church groups in North Carolina on the eve of the meeting in Chicago of Democratic platform builders.

The vice president called on religious groups to take the lead in promoting cooperation and harmony among the races and in connection with school integration he urged "moderation."

That is a word identified with Adlai Stevenson, the front-running Democratic aspirant, a word the extremists in neither camp relish.

One wonders if Mr. Nixon, briefed perhaps by the White House and the Republican National Committee, hadn't run a shrewd political eye over the situation in the Democratic camp and figured the time was ripe to throw a firecracker among the Democratic hosts with a view to making the platform builders' task more difficult.

There have been dire mutterings among the Democratic Northern "liberals" about Adlai's moderation theme, which isn't too popular with the NAACP and the Averell Harriman-Walter Reuther axis. See, they can say, there is no difference between Stevenson and the Republicans on the integration issue, so the only thing to do is to produce a civil rights plank of the strongest kind, calling for all-out enforcement of desegregation, and choose Harriman as our standardbearer.

If such a fight does develop at Chicago, you can thank Dick Nixon for planting the fresh seeds of discord among the Democratic factions.

What the GOP platform makers do about this Issue at San Francisco is beside the point, and nothing Nixon said in North Carolina binds them in any way. The GOP plank on that issue will be written in full knowledge of what the Democrats will have done at Chicago, and both will be written with a singleness of purpose in view: How to say as little as possible about an explosive issue without alienating any votes either way.

The only way the GOP can crack the solid South this time is for the Democrats to listen to the "liberals" rather than the moderates, and produce a plank that would outrage Southern liberals as well as conservatives and moderates.

Strange Bandwagon

Peace, Prosperity, Progress Will Be Theme Song Of Republicans This Year

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

As an aid to Republican campaigners, the GOP National Committee recently compiled a booklet listing 24 aspects of the Eisenhower administration's record, plus details of these claimed achievements and some sideswipes at the Democrats.

Even skeletonized, the story runs to 102 pages.

But it boils down in fact to three words which appear on the first page of the book — "Peace, Prosperity, Progress."

These three, and particularly the first two, will constitute the core of the Republican Presidential campaign. They have even been linked in the slogan, "Everything Booming But The Guns."

The order of precedence of what the book calls the 24 "accomplishments" of the administration gives the direction of the GOP appeal this year.

In No. 1 position is the statement that the present administration "ended Korean fighting and bloodshed; waged peace instead of war."

Then, "cleaned up the mess in Washington" gets the No. 2 spot, indicating that Republican speakers will miss no opportunity to recall the mink coats and deep freezes of 1952.

But the next six items all refer to prosperity and one says flatly, "achieved greatest prosperity in history."

The word, "Progress," of course is a kind of catch-all for such assertions as "reversed the 20-year trend to centralization of power in Washington," "set up health, education and welfare dept.," started St. Lawrence Seaway," etc.

Seven pages have been devoted to foreign policy, an area where the clash of argument almost certainly will be loudest. Says the booklet, "propaganda victory won at Geneva by Ike's convincing sincerity, which forced Russians to retract charge of U.S. potential aggression."

Democratic candidates — particularly Averell Harriman — already have begun attacking the President for his role at Geneva and the short-lived "Spirit of Geneva."

Along with the claims of Republican achievements, the book also devotes some attention to the Democrats. Neatly indexed are five references to former President Truman, and others to Adlai Stevenson, and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Curiously enough, the 1952 slogan — "You never had it so good" —which was then the property of the Democrats bobs up again, this time in the GOP bag. The booklet quotes George Meany, president of the merged CIO-AFL as saying, on June 29, 1955, "Yes, right now we never had it so good."

The Republican platform committee has as its chairman the tall, handsome senator from Connecticut, Prescott A. Bush.

He said he has not yet been in conference with many members of the committee. "In general though, I would think the platform will call attention to the accomplishments of this administration. This will certainly be the base."

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

CRABB'S STORY. By Marshall Pugh. Scribner's.

In mid-April of this year, an Englishman went swimming — and to this day no one seems to know whether he has yet come out of the water. The swimmer, or frogman if you prefer, was Commander Lionel Crabb, RNVR, O. B. E., G. M. He disappeared in Plymouth harbor during the visit of Messrs. Bulganin and Khrushchev. Marshall Pugh's biography of Cdr. Crabb does little, in fact practically nothing, to expand what is generally already known about that now famous swim.

The author deals mainly with what appears to have been Crabb's singular battle against Italian ingenuity and superiority in underwater fighting during World War II. Crabb spent all of the war in and around the Mediterranean, from defending the British naval mooring grounds at Gibraltar to clearing mines from Italian ports following the Allied victory.

The work of Crabb's underwater group, which he eventually organized, was more a hit and miss affair, since they were using submarine escape diving apparatus, certainly not the most modern, as opposed to the Italian's latest rubber suits and inventions in underwater breathing equipment. And in some instances the British had never seen some of the mines they had to remove from ship's keels, placed there by the ingenious Italians.

Pugh's book discloses only that Crabb was a man dissatisfied with normal every day living — he wanted to live with excitement, that coming from underwater work. Though considered one of Britain's top underwater experts, Crabb could never swim more than three lengths of a pool.

Merchant May Catch Most Of Steel Price Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Just who is going to pay for the steel wage-price hike? Steel company stockholders, manufacturers of products containing steel, merchants and dealers in cars and appliances or you, the ultimate buyer?

All may bear a share of the higher costs. The greatest squeeze perhaps could be on the merchant or dealer who has to coax a consumer who knows that supplies are ample and bargains to be found and whose own paycheck may not have gone up at all.

In the oil fields, for example, they know today they'll have to pay more for pipe. It's in short supply and oil drillers can't help themselves. The cost of finding oil is going up. But this doesn't mean necessarily that your service station is going to raise the price of gasoline. There's too much of it around, too much oil available and being held back at the well.

Last week the United Steelworkers signed a three-year contract which officials of U.S. Steel appraised as raising their operating costs in the first year by $10 a ton.

This week U.S. Steel dropped the other shoe. It advanced prices of its products by various amounts for an average, it said, of $8.50 a ton.

On the face of it this would seem, by lowering the profit margin, to put the company in the position of making up the difference in reduced earnings. But the company may be expecting to get back some of this $1.50 by increased productivity and use of more efficient new plants.

Those who plan to build stores, factories, office buildings, bridges or schools have little choice but to raise their cost estimates. Higher construction costs could deter some building but there is no early sign of that.

Manufacturers using steel in their products probably will pay the high prices without much quibbling. Some may absorb part of the higher material costs, but many contend they can't absorb any more and must pass them along in higher tags on their own products. If they can, and their competitors don't undersell them and capture the market, their profit margins should continue comfortable.

This then would leave it right up to the merchants and dealers—and it's their profits that may be squeezed the most at first.

Spreading Uneasiness About Ike's Health Causes Some GOP Men To Follow Stassen

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Rather suddenly, so far as the public is concerned, Republican prospects have taken a turn, and have become less clear and less bright. The cause of this turn is a spreading uneasiness about the rate of the President's recovery. It is plain enough now that this is the cause of what would otherwise have been an absurd thing for a practical politician like Mr. Stassen to do. It alone explains his having waited until it was so late in the day. For it was about the middle of July that doubt arose about the official prognosis, on which Chairman Hall and Mr. Hagerty have been acting.

Quite evidently, the less satisfactory the rate and character of the President's recovery, the more serious a liability is Mr. Nixon. For virtually every press and public opinion has shown that there are a majority who would not vote to elect Nixon to be President of the United States. If, during the campaign, Mr. Eisenhower is ailing, if he does not look and feel and act more fit than he does now, the outcome in November will be very much in doubt.

This, we may be sure, is why Mr. Stassen has not been obliterated for challenging the plan, of which Mr. Hall was the manager, to renominate the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket by acclamation. There are powerful elements in the Republican party, veteran sponsors of Eisenhower, who have never liked Nixon. There can be little doubt that they realize, the President's health being what it is, that they are running a double risk — the risk of losing the election and the risk of ending up with a President who belongs to the Old Guard.

It is not clear whether they have backed Mr. Stassen, or whether he has raised a flag to which they are rallying. But in any event, Mr. Stassen is no longer playing a lone hand, and on his main point, that Nixon should not be taken for granted, he has now carried the President and Mr. Hall with him.

Mr. Hagerty won the confidence and admiration of the press and the public for his handling of the publicity after the President's heart attack. He has not been equally successful since the President's second illness in June. For he has led the country to expect that by this time the President would be fully recovered, as good if not better than before. The excessively optimistic prognosis of June was an unwise gamble with fate and with the nature of things.

It would have been far better, as things have turned out, if the country had been told that ileitis is a serious disease, that the operation was a serious one, and that the President would need time for his convalescence. Then it would not have been necessary to subject the President to a press agent's stunt, like taking him to Panama and compelling him to show how much weariness and boredom he can endure.

The uneasiness about the President which Mr. Stassen has articulated and dramatized, would be no greater and might in the long run be less if Mr. Hagerty had dealt with the ileitis as he did with the coronary thrombosis — that is to say, by giving the press access to the President's doctors instead of imposing an embargo. For the secrecy has served only to aggravate the disappointment because it is taking the President longer than was promised to regain his health.

I should add that I do not think Mr. Hagerty imposed the embargo in order to mislead the country. I have no doubt that he was entirely convinced by the President's doctors that the first prognosis could be relied upon, and that he felt a public debate among doctors would be an unseemly thing, would be dispiriting to the patient and very unsettling to the American people.

The Republican prospects, which have become darker than they appeared to be at the beginning of July, would surely be greatly improved if Nixon were replaced by Herter. In fact, if they go on with Nixon, the Republican leaders will be placing a bet that by September or early October, the President will be so well recovered that his health will not be an issue. With Herter, they would be reinsuring themselves against what might become a big secession of Eisenhower Republicans.

But even with Herter, there is no longer any certainty, as most of us have assumed there was, about the outcome in November. More than a year will have passed since the President was first stricken, and if he is still convalescent, the paramount question will almost certainly be how and by whom the powers of the Presidency are going to be exercised for the next four years. Mr. Eisenhower's enormous personal popularity, which is reflected in the Gallup Polls, cannot be separated from a belief that personally he will and can carry on. A very considerable number of voters will be looking for signs not so much about his life expectancy, which they will take for granted, but about his strength and his energy to carry on.

A realistic appraisal of the political prospects must take into account also the probability that the Democrats seem likely to prove formidable. If, as is now probable, they unite behind Stevenson, they will have a record in Congress and a candidate which fits the situation. They will not have much of an issue as against Eisenhower. But there is no issue against Eisenhower that could be raised effectively in the campaign. The issue is about Eisenhower's ability to carry on.

The Democrats will be offering an alternative for the Eisenhower Republicans and the Eisenhower Democrats to go to if they become too uneasy.

If It's Gifts You Seek, No Camel Saddles, Please

By INEZ ROOB

Dear Santa Claus:

This may seem an odd and premature time of year to be addressing you. But time's awastin'. I have just finished reading an extensive account of the merchandise with which the nation's gift shops are now stocking their shelves in preparation for the Yuletide, and I have not read a more sinister document since the pumpkin papers.

I appeal to you as a man of honor and a humanitarian, NO Arabian camel saddles, PLEASE; Or 1,000-pound Japanese stone lanterns, or bowls of Italian handcarved alabaster cherries or Congo ritual drums.

To hear this account tell it, the gift shops are in world "pursuit of the exotic" to satisfy the uncontrollable American urge to give "something different." This leads to the bestowal of largess now known in the trade as "a conversation piece."

Goodness knows, a camel saddle (You think I'm kidding? A Chicago firm has sold 200 of 'em in the past year, and in a city, mind you, where a camel wouldn't walk a mile for a saddle) would be a conversation piece in any American home, now that the Collyer brothers have gone to their reward.

But in Chez Robb in an election year and in a season with the Dodgers still trailing, we need a conversation piece like the Old Lady Who Lives in the Shoe needs more kids.

If any enterprising natives of the New Hebrides or the Ryukyus are embroidering mottoes or making "Quiet, PLEASE" I'm in the market. Otherwise, no dice. But not those outsized dominoes made of rhino bones by the Mau-Mau in the dark of the moon!

"Trade not aid" is my motto in reference to friend and foe (you can't tell the players today without an hourly scratch sheet!), but shrunken heads from the jungles of South America and elephant-foot ash trays from the jungles of South Africa do not, frankly, fit into my decor.

Obviously, Santa, gift-giving is in an international cycle just as in previous years it has gone through some unfortunate domestic cycles at home. I managed to live through the mink cycle, but just barely, when mink-handled tooth brushes and beer mugs, mink earrings, mink bracelets and even mink handkerchiefs found their way into my sock.

Then there was the gilt-and-sequins season, when everything that glittered was not gold and diamonds but mousetraps, can openers, fly swatters and shoe trees.

Probably the most dangerous Yuletide in memory was that of a few years ago when everything was a pyromaniac's dream and booby-trapped with candles from chafing dishes to hot-water bags. And then the Christmas that turned out to be open season on barbecue tools! And the Yuletide that conferred the doubtful blessings of toothpaste flavored with scotch, bourbon and rye.

And now Arabian camel saddles! At long last, Santa, I am beginning to realize how much more blessed it is to give than to receive.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Women's Roles Important At National Conventions

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Women have been playing an increasingly important role in national political conventions since before the turn of the century — 28 years before they were given the federal right to vote.

Not only have they served as delegates and alternates to their party's conventions, they have been gaining increasing stature as policy makers on key committees.

The Democratic National Committee in a survey reports a total of 4,495 women have served as delegates and alternates in national conventions between 1892 and 1952. The Republicans report 3,028 for a similar period, but point out that in certain years the Democratic women and men only had fractional (half) votes, while all along Republican women had full votes.

Women first participated in national conventions in 1892 when two were seated as alternates from Wyoming at the Republican convention.

For the first time a woman also addressed the convention. She was Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, chairman of the Women's Republican Assn. of the United Sates.

Women first participated in a Democratic national convention in 1900. She made a seconding speech for William Jennings Bryan, the presidential candidate. The Republicans also had their woman delegate at the 1900 convention.

In 1916 both parties included a federal woman suffrage plank in their platforms. The Democrats were the first to appoint women to committees that year and in 1924 appointed their first woman committee chairman. She headed the credentials committee. Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, then Assistant U. S. Attorney General, was the Republicans' first woman committee chairman heading their credentials committee in 1928. The Democrats had women on all committees by 1932.

Only two women have formally nominated a presidential candidate. They were both Republicans. Connecticut Secretary of State Frances B. Redick in 1948 nominated United States Senator Raymond E. Baldwin, and in 1952, Mrs. C. E. Howard of Minnesota formally nominated Harold E. Stassen.

He Stayed Too Long In Little Boys' Room

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Cats up trees, children stuck in culverts and, of course, fires of any sort will bring out the fire department.

Firemen here had a new one to add to the list after they were called to a school to rescue a second grader from the little boy's room.

What happeded was that after the teacher had decided the boy had been there long enough she found that the door lock had jammed. School people worked with the lock without success, then called fire department.

By the time a ladder truck arrived the door had been removed, however.

Point Of Pride

MEMPHIS (AP)—Today's long-term payments give a sharper point to this sign on the rear of a 1930 auto seen puttering down the street:

"Out of date...But out of debt."

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes the world seems pretty much divided between home movie lovers and home movie haters. Home movie lovers usually are those who make films to be shown in the living room. The haters are those members of the home audience who have to watch Junior feeding a bear in Yellowstone National Park.

The only reason for mentioning that I personally am a home movie hater is the fact that I've gone overboard for a television program of home movies. It's called Bold Journey (ABC-TV, Monday evenings). The theory is that since I like it practically anyone would.

Bold Journey is a weekly program of movies filmed by ordinary people who go to extraordinary places. The host, John Stephenson, interviews the weekly guest. Even the commercials are refreshingly different.

Last Monday's guest, for example, was Mrs. Hjordis Kittel Parker, a Sierra Madre, Calif., housewife, who journeyed far into the northern Lapland regions of Norway and made some fascinating films of those strange little descendants of an unknown race.

Since Bold Journey enters the lists of professional entertainment, it must be judged professionally to a certain extent. On that basis, Mrs. Parker's sections on a royal wedding and the Winter Olympics, which preceded her journey to the far north, could have stood some cutting in this viewer's opinion. I wanted to see more puffin birds and reindeer and details of the interesting lives of the Laplanders.

That's a personal interest, however. Doubtless there are viewers who are more excited by royal weddings. Some of the charm of the program lies in the fact that it retains a certain "amateur" tone. Thus it was not unpleasant to hear Mrs. Parker talking in the way most of us talk, saying things like, "Norwegians like their mountains and in winter all the people leave their towns and go into the mountains and ski." Not succinct, but a pleasantly vague generality.

Target Practice Must Wait

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—The staid Royal Canadian Navy brushed custom aside with crumpet-like softness yesterday and gallantly put beauty before duty.

It is the custom that a ship returning to port at the conclusion of a training cruise practice firing when reaching a recognized firing area where towed targets can be supplied.

Such will be the situation tomorrow when the cruier HMCS Ontario knifes down the Strain of Juan de Fuca after a cadet training cruise.

Out also tomorrow, at 5:45 a.m., Marilyn Bell of Toronto, Canada's long-distance swimming queen, is scheduled to enter the strait at Victoria in an attempt to become the second person in history to swim the treacherous ribbon of water between Canada's Vancouver Island and the Olympic Peninsula of Washington state.

Taking the situation in hand yesterday, Canada's Rear Adm. B. F. Pullen, flag officer of the Pacific Coast, dispatched this message to the Ontario:

"There is a strong possibility that Miss Marilyn Bell will compete with you for honors in your firing area on Friday, the 10th of August.

"She will be proceeding at a leisure pace and wind and water may keep her afoul of the (firing) range for some time.

"Therefore, exercise great care and cancel your shoot if your ETA (estimated time of arrival) will be affected."

Not without a twinkle in his eye, the admiral added:

"Remember, in this case beauty comes before age and it is ungentlemanly to shoot a lady."

Daniel Is Wooing Big City Voters

By WHITEY SAWYER
The Associated Press

Sen. Price Daniel, candidate for governor, bid for the big city vote in the Dallas-Fort Worth area Thursday.

Daniel, duelling Ralph Yarborough, scheduled speeches to campaign workers at Dallas and to a rally at Irving.

Yarborough, at Odessa Wednesday, asserted he was the only candidate who was a Democrat. He lashed at what he termed the scandals of the state government.

The Odessa American said the crowd of 500 was the largest there so far this year. Yarborough was accompanied by the Cass County Coon Hunters band and Art Davis, master of ceremonies for W. Lee O'Daniel in the first primary.

Daniel made a TV address Wednesday night at Tyler. He touched on farm and drought problems and said the state government has failed to live up to its responsibilities.

At Big Spring, Yarborough asserted his references to what he called a "swapping session" between Daniel and Gov. Shivers were backed up by speeches made by J. Evetts Haley, a candidate for governor eliminated in the first primary.

Expense statements showed Daniel spent $187,122 in his quest for the governorship while Yarborough had expenses of $104,206.

Daniel listed gifts of $184,349 and loans of $10,638. Yarborough's total gifts were $104,638 with debts of $22,104.

Tech Man Plans Oil Well Survey

LUBBOCK – Better oil well log interpretation that may speed up field location and help evaluate reserves is the goal of research at Texas Tech by Dr. Harold A. Blum, associate professor of petroleum engineering.

Interpretation of logs is sometimes uncertain, he has found in recent years, especially in limestone formations. Much of the oil produced in the West Texas area comes from limestone.

The oil man uses a number of logs, each designed to tell a certain part of the underground story. Singly, however, no one log can always predict the presence or absence of oil.

The neutron log determines porosity -- the arrangement of pores in subsurface strata--but does not distinguish between oil and water in the rock pores. Both fluids give the same type reading on the log.

Other lgos, however, tell other things that the oil man can use. The basic electrical survey log records resistivity, or resistence to the flow of electricity. Since various formations and different fluids have varying resistivity, these findings help immensely.

But the differences between the logs of producing wells and nonproducers are sometimes very small, Dr. Blum said. He hopes, by a careful study of all the material he can obtain, to find clues that will help in future interpretation.

Dr. Blum's plann sounds simple--but it isn't. He will compare the various logs that show porosity and resistivity with the actual well history of what the driller found at different levels. Core samples and even water samples will be studied in his search.

He reasons that there should be some relationship present in the data available to the oil man. If research can find that connection, future oil field operations should benefit greatly.

Dr. Blum is constructing a resistivity meter–a device to measure electrical resistance–to aid him in the study. With the meter he plans to study well cores and evaluate water samples taken from wells, to help fill out the picture.

Other laboratory equipment, including core-fluid-flow testing devices, will be used as he searches for clues to the differences between formations that produce oil and those that do not.

Well records and other data from area fields would be very helpful in the Tech research program, Dr. Blum said. Of course, the more complete a set of records he can obtainn on each well, the better able he will be to compare fully all the differences and similarities.

Cushing Field Opener Due To Be Deepened

TULSA (AP)—The well that set off one of Oklahoma's most furious drilling programs and opened the Cushing Field is to be deepened.

General American Oil Co. of Texas said its 1 Wheeler, which in 1948 wound up 36 years of production with one barrel of crude daily, is expected to produce in one or all of three formations to be tested within less than 400 feet.

The discovery well, in Creek County about one mile north of Drumright, first had an output of 120 barrels per day from 2,208 feet.

'Foot Surgery' Being Done On Drilling Rig

HOUSTON (AP)— "Foot surgery" was underway today on the Zapata Offshore Drilling Co.'s drilling rig in the Gulf.

Weeak "feet" were discovered when the rig was floated to a new site on a Standard Oil Co. lease block east of Galveston Island.

W. H. Dean, vice president of Zapata, said a heavy sheet of steel was being welded across the bottom of the tanks which are filled with water and sunk to the bottom of the Gulf to anchor the platform in place.

Fire control on national forest lands was started 40 years ago.

SERIOUSLY ILL — Walter Williams, 113, oldest surviving Confederate veteran, is seriously ill at his farm home near Franklin, Texas. Williams, one of three living veterans of the Civil War, is suffering from dropsy and is too ill to be removed to a hospital.

Veteran Is Little Better

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Walter W. Williams, ailing 113-year-old Civil War veteran, felt a little better yesterday and insisted on staying at home.

"If anything happens, I want to be at home," he said, adding that if he needs a doctor, the doctor can come to his home. His family had wanted to take him to Houston for a checkup.

Mrs. Jean Williams, a daughter-in-law, said he took a turn for the worse after hearing last Thursday of the death of Albert Woolson, last Union Army veteran.

The former Confederate cavalryman, oldest surviving Civil War veteran, felt well enough yesterday to sit up in his rocking chair for a while, chew a little tobacco, and complain of feeling hungry.

"They are trying to make out that I am a heap worse off than I really am," Williams said.

His ailment has been generally described as dropsy of the stomach and complications induced by low blood pressure. A doctor attending the case said that at his age there would naturally be numerous factors contributing to his illness.

More Rain Expected In Many Areas

By The Associated Press

It was fair weather over most of the western third of the country and along the Atlantic Coast today but showers were in prospect for most other areas.

Stormy weather hit northern Kansas, northern Missouri and southern Iowa during the night. Tornadic winds struck the Centerville, Iowa, area. A severe thunderstorm at Rockport, Mo., disrupted power and brought 14 inches of rain. Wind gusts up to 77 m.p.h. were reported in Kirksville, Mo., while they were clocked at 50 m.p.h. at Kansas City. A severe electrical storm hit central sections of Illinois. Springfield reported 2 inches of rain in a 10-minute period.

Showers also were reported in the northern Great Lakes region and in southern Florida. The shower belt was expected to extend through the Great Lakes into parts of Pennsylvania and New York state and southward to the Gulf Coast.

The heat wave in the Central Plains into the southern Mississippi Valley showed no indication of an immediate break. Temperatures were above 100 degrees again yesterday in many places.

No Civil Rights Fight Seen By Texas Demo

CHICAGO (AP)—A Texas member of the full platform committee said yesterday he sees little prospect of a Democratic national convention fight over the civil rights issue.

Van Kennedy of Corpus Christi is also one of a 15-member group assigned the task of writing the platform draft.

Kennedy said the platform committee is composed of "people of good will inclined to work out a reasonable solution of a very difficult problem."

"Texas will play an important role in this convention with Sen. Johnson as our favorite son candidate and with Sam Rayburn as permanent chairman," he said.

Hotel Is Ready For Smoke-Filled Rooms

CHICAGO (AP)—A happy surprise was in store for former President Harry S. Truman today as he came here for the Democratic National Convention. It was a sparkling new redecorated suite not 12 inches removed from the original "smoke-filled room" of political tradition.

The new Presidential Suite in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel has a feature guaranteeing the greatest possible privacy: a telephone in the bathroom.

This is a refinement which the hotel staff, who showed off the five-room suite to some newsmen last night, credit to the late Harry L. Hopkins, Franklin D. Roosevelt's adviser.

Hopkins reasoned that (A) an important political figure sometimes wants to make calls without other people being privy to his secrets, and (B) about the only place a president can be alone is in the bathroom. So Hopkins ordered such phones installed at the time of the Democratic National Convention of 1940.

The Blackstone is a great believer in tradition. Hence the cream-colored telephone on the green-tiled wall.

For some reason this telephone overshadowed in interest other features of the apartment — the piano with "The Missouri Waltz" displayed in sheet music form, the gold-trimming doesn't often strike twice in the same place, of course, imported wallpaper which cost about as much as if dollar bills had been used, the new painting of Thomas Jefferson over the fireplace.

Nobody seems to have told the hotel management that Truman is sick of "The Missouri Waltz" and would prefer to play or listen to Mozart.

The Trumans have a huge bedroom with twin beds. Another, just around the corner, is reserved for daughter Margaret and her husband.

Truman is not the only refurbished luxury suite. Right above — each with telephone in the master bath — is a sumptuous living space for Sen. Estes Kefauver. Right below is another — furnished with $35,000 worth of antiques — in which New York Gov. Averell Harriman will hold forth.

Thereby hangs a tale.

It was in the sitting room of the Harriman suite that a harried bunch of politicians (Republicans, as it happened) put the finger on a dark horse senator named Warren G. Harding for the presidential nomination in 1924.

This came as a considerable surprise to many people who had barely heard of Harding at that point, and the question naturally arose: when and where was the decision made?

"In a smoke-filled room," one of the GOP politicos replied promptly. And, perhaps with tongue in cheek, he gave the time of the nomination, right to the minute.

But you couldn't blame Harriman if he passed out cigars and cigarettes.

Measure On Auto Dealers Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed a bill allowing auto dealers to take to federal court certain franchise grievances against car manufacturers. But Eisenhower said the measure "constitutes only a partial solution to the problem."

The bill was passed by Congress after hearings developed testimony that dealers often had been forced to buy more cars, trucks and parts than they could market through normal sales practices. Auto industry spokesmen disputed the allegations and opposed the bill.

The new law permits dealers to sue in the federal courts for damages, including legal costs, growing out of the failure of a manufacturer to "act in good faith in performing or complying with any of the terms of provisions of the franchise, or in terminating, canceling or not renewing the franchise" with the dealer.

Under its terms, the manufacturer also may raise countercharges involving lack of good faith on the part of the dealer.

In signing the bill, Eisenhower announced he was ordering government antitrust agencies to review conditions which led to a demand for such legislation "to determine whether they continue to exist, to study alternative or different solutions to the problem, and to make recommendations for appropriate action by the next Congress."

Eisenhower noted the bill might be considered as an unwarranted intrusion by the government into an area traditionally reserved to private enterprise.

Rest For Frawley

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Character actor William Frawley, who appears in the "I Love Lucy" television series, entered Good Samaritan Hospital yesterday for a checkup and rest. He is 63.

Voting Held On Sidewalk

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board had to set up its voting booths on the sidewalk in front of the Deutsch Co., manufacturer of valves.

Management denied NLRB examiner Fred W. Davis the use of the factory yesterday so he borrowed four portable booths from Los Angeles County, set up two card tables and substituted a swearing-in process and a registration of each prospective voter for the usual checkoff list supplied by management.

"This is a new one on me," said Davis. "I never ran an election on the sidewalk before, but we had to do something when the company declined permission for use of its property."

Allied Industrial Workers, Local 976, received 207 of the 228 votes cast.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

LUBBOCK, Aug. 9 — Tiger football teacher John Conley was rather surprised, to put it mildly, when he learned that his Bengals had been rated the District 3-AAA favorites by his fellow triple-A coaches.

"Sweetwater should be rated the team to beat," Conley said here today upon learning the favorite tag has been placed on his Tigers.

O. W. Follis, Lamesa head coach, who represented 3-AAA at envious assighment. Follis was able to keep it quiet about his Golden Tornadoes and in the meantime he built Snyder and Sweetwater up to the high heavens.

Lamesa, definitely, is a dark horse in the coming District 3-AAA chase.

It certainly looks like a three-way battle for the 3-AAA flag but you still can't sell Colorado City and Lake View short.

To make it even worse, they've got the Tigers or Sweetwater which ever wins the District, going to the state finals.

So it looks like Follis didn't talk as fast as representatives from the other districts at the triple-A meeting here.

Well, all this pre-season "propoganda" doesn't mean a thing, as no trophies are awarded until the last shot has been fired in the season.

Spikes Popular With All-Star Players

Tiger Jack Spikes continues to look good in the north All-Star workouts here. Spikes is very popular with his team mates as the honor bestowed on him yesterday willattest — being elected as one of the three captains for Friday night's big game with the southern All-Stars.

Sam Caudle, a guard from Abilene, was named captain with Spikes and Wahoo McDaniel of Midland as co-captains. We erroneously reported yesterday that Jackie Sledge of New London had been named a co-captain instead of McDaniel.

There definitely will be plenty of tickets available for the All-Star football game Friday night, according to Jimmie Wilson, Texas Tech business manager who is handling the ticket sales.

About all of the seats between the 45 yard lines are gone but you will be able to get good seats by coming over Friday. Any seats between the 20 yard lines are good ones.

There is quite a bit of concern by coaching school officials on why the advance football ticket sales have been slow.

We have an idea that most of the fans attending Friday's game will be non-Lubbockites and most of these will wait until game time to purchase their tickets.

'Arm-Chair' Fans May Stay At Home

Then another thing that is almost sure to be to blame for the slow ticket sales is the college All-Star-Cleveland Brown game which is also carded Friday night. This game will be televised and it will keep the arm-chair fans at home by the thousands.

Lubbock fans may be waiting to see how the weather will be Friday before electing to attend the all-star game here. If the weather is good, then we believe the crowd will be good, too. But if the weather is bad it will be inviting the fans to remain at home and relax in their living rooms and view the college all-star game over TV.

We bumped into Polk Robison, Texas Tech basketball coach, at a dinner Thursday night which Tech hosted for the coaches and sports writers and Polk was quick to praise ex-Tiger Ned Underwood.

"Underwood is one of the steadiest players I have and believe me he's a workhorse.

"Ned doesn't have tremendous ability but he makes up for this with his all-out play," Robison added.

Fans coming over Friday for the game needn't be looking for the north all-stars to run away with the big game. Both teams are loaded with talent, to be sure, and it looks like a toss-up from here. Most observers say the south has the strongest line and the northerners the best backfield.

Friday's game should be interesting.

Tough Cowboy Is Top Polo Player

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
The Associated Press

Texas can claim probably more nationally famous athletes than any other state. This goes for durability, too.

Tris Speaker played in the big leagues 22 years, 19 of which he was in more than 100 games. Sam Baugh set the record in pro football, staying in the rugged game 16 seasons. Babe Zaharias was a top athlete for 25 years, 12 as the leading woman golfer. Ben Hogan was the greatest golfer in the world for a dozen years. And so on.

But the one who has been a star the longest in the contract sports — where it's man against man in fierce bodily collision — is Cecil Smith. He surpases Baugh, who was among the greatest in football for some 18 years, counting two of his college seasons.

Smith, the tough cowboy from Llano, has been a leading polo player for 20 years. He has held the rating of 10 goals, the acme of this rough game, that long. He has been playing polo for more than 30 years.

Cecil at 52 still is a 10-goaler and there's no reason to believe he will fall below that in the next 10 years.

He has been in training all of his adult life. He got his start in polo because he was a bronc buster. Smith plays in 12 to 15 tournaments a year.

Many say the greatest polo player of all time was Tommy Hitchcock. Smith thinks so. But the record shows Smith was a 10-goaler for 18 years, 15 of them consecutive. He was killed in World War II but he had retired from the game at the time. Smith has been a 10-goal man for 19 straight years.

Smith's father was foreman of the Moss Ranch near Llano. Cecil started riding horses when he was big enough to climb aboard. He was busting broncs the day George Miller and Rube Williams, who bought and sold polo ponies, come to the ranch. Miller saw Smith riding a bronco and suggested to the boy, 19, that he knock a polo ball around a little to see what could do. He was a natural so he went to Austin to work for Miller.

He played his first real polo at Detroit in 1925 and in 1926 got a 2-goal rating. He rose rapidly, reached 9 goals in 1933 and 10 in 1934. That was a depression year and Smith sold all his horses. It was four years later before he regained the 10-goal rating. He hasn't lost it since.

Med Student Hits Record Swim Turns

DETROIT (AP)—American swimming and diving officials flashed smiles almost as broad as Bill Yorzyk's brawny shoulders today and the record-shattering New England phenom is one of the major reasons for the beaming faces.

The 23-year-old Springfield (Mass.) college medical student reeled off a pair of world-record-breaking turns in the 200-meter butterfly competition yesterday to highlight another series of spectacular performances by both the men and women in the Olympic swimming and diving tryouts.

After two days of the four-day trials to determine the squad of 46 for the games in Melbourne, records have tumbled in abundance.

So far 19 boys and girls have secured coveted places on the squad — 13 of them yesterday — and four more berths will be fought for tonight in the finals of the men's 100-meter backstroke and the men's 200-meter breaststroke.

A butterflier only two years, a national champion after one, and the world's best after only two, Yorzyk sped four laps of the 50-meter pool in the afternoon in 2:22.2 and then followed with his 2:19 masterpiece in the evening final.

The best previous time for the distance over the long, 50-meter course was the 2:23.8 made by Japan's Takashi Ishimoto a year ago.

Guettler Gets 52nd Home Run Last Night

SHREVEPORT (AP)—Ken Guettler, the Texas League's home run king, clouted his 52nd round tripper of the season against Austin last night.

The 28-year-old Shreveport outfielder needs three more homers to tie a record set in 1924 by Clarence Kraft. Kraft, playing for Fort Worth, hit 55.

Stamford And Deer Park Put On Spot In AA Football Race

LUBBOCK (AP) — Stamford and Deer Park, the two winningest teams in Texas, are expected to meet for the Class AA schoolboy football championship.

The Bulldogs and Deer were put on the spot today by high school coaches of the 29 districts who thought Stamford the most likely representative of the upper division and Deer Park the lower division.

It would mean a meeting of two defending state champions. Stamford has won the Class AA title two years in a row. Deer Park has done the same in Class A and is moving up a notch this year. Stamford's four-year record is 57 victories and 4 losses. Deer Park's is 56 victories, 4 losses and 1 tie.

Comanche, Gilmer and Jasper were among other top rated teams in the coming state race.

District leaders were picked as follows:

1, Olton; 2, Abernathy; 3, Perryton; 4, Stamford; 5, Crane; 7, Ballinger; 8, Comanche; 9, Jacksboro; 10, Lewisville; 11, Seagoville; 12, Terrell; 13, Bonham; 14, DeKalb; 15, Gilmer; 17, West; 18, Jasper; 19, Lampasas; 20, Taylor; 21, Giddings; 22, Lockhart; 23, Navasota; 24, Liberty; 25, Deer Park; 26, Boling; 27, Kaynes City; 28, Devine or San Antonio Sam Houston; 29, Aransas Pass; 31, Hebbronville; 32, Mercedes.

Districts 6, 16 and 30 are byes.

Stamford doesn't look as strong as last season when the Bulldogs roared undefeated to the championship but they still appear good enough to parade back to the finals. There are 10 returning lettermen in the line. The backs include Mike McClellan, one of the state's finest last season.

Deer Park lost only five men off its squad of 40 and is as strong as last season, which even its coach, Travis Hughes, will admit. Hughes also says his team will have more depth. The Deer will be moving up a notch in class but it shouldn't bother them—they have been beating good Class AA teams for several seasons.

Braves Ready For Big Test

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Milwaukee's pennant-hungry Braves, their mound staff hurtin' with ace Bob Buhl on the sidelines, open five fateful days in the pressure-packed National League race tonight with their second twi-night double-header in 24 hours against the St. Louis Cardinals.

The fourth-place Cardinals split with the Braves last night, winning 3-2 in 10 innings after a 10-1 thumping. Brooklyn's runner-up Dodgers were dumped 8-5 by Pittsburgh. The Cincinnati Redlegs belted the Chicago Cubs 8-2, climbing to within six percentage points of the Brooks and 2½ games of Milwaukee.

Philadelphia made it six in a row with an 8-3 job on the New York Giants.

In the American, Mickey Mantle slugged his 38th home run — for his best one-season total in the majors — as the New York Yankees hammered Washington 12-2.

Second-place Cleveland was knocked off by the Chicago White Sox 7-6 on Sherm Lollar's 14th-inning home run.

Boston moved within six points of the Tribe, beating Baltimore 7-2 as Ted Williams, hitting instead of spitting, walloped his 13th home run to break a 2-all tie in the sixth. Detroit defeated Kansas City 8-7.

Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney, trying to make hay, subbed Lew Burdette for rookie Taylor Phillips in a gamble for the sweep in the nightcap. But Herm Wehmeier fouled it up with a four-hitter and singled home the winning run himself.

Rookie Bob Trowbridge handled the Cards with a six-hitter for a 2-0 record in the opener. Del Crandall, Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock made it easy with home runs — two by Joe, who added his 27th in the nightcap. Bob Blaylock was the loser.

Wehmeier, now 7-8, gave up Adcock's third homer in the second inning and the tying run in the seventh on Bill Bruton's squeeze bunt. Wally Moon homered in the opener.

Frank Thomas, whose error gave the Brooks two runs in the first, set things right with a three-run homer in the Pirate first off loser Roger Craig and the Bucs took it from there. Red Munger, a 37-year-old right-hander, won his third with relief help in a three-run ninth.

Ted Kluszewski and Gus Bell homered for the Redlegs, who eased in on six cub errors and a four-hitter by Johnny Klippstein. Bob Rush, who has won 10, lost his fifth.

Stan Lopata, Willie Jones and Ted Kanzanski homered in suport of Robin Roberts' 14th victory for the Phils.

Bill Skowron and Elston Howard also homered for the Yankees. Bob Turley won his sixth.

Wiliams, fined $5,000 for Tuesday's spitting episode, clasped his hand over his mouth after slugging his 420-foot-plus homer. Mickey Vernon clubbed a three-run homer in the eighth as Mel (No-Hit) Parnell won his sixth with an eight-hitter.

Lollar drove in three runs for the White Sox, tagging reliefer Cal McLish for the clincher homer. Gerry Staley won it.

Al Kaline and Frank House each homered and also smacked RBI singles as the Tigers scored two runs to take the lead in the sixth against losing reliefer Jack Crimian. Jim Bunning won it in relief.

All-Stars End Grid Practice

LUBBOCK (AP)—All-Star football squads of the Texas Coaching School wind up practice today.

The squads, made up of schoolboy standouts of last fall, clash tomorrow night. Each has won nine games. There have been three ties.

The North was heavily favored to win the game early in the week but with each practice session the odds swung toward the South. Today sports writers covering the coaching school selected the South by the margin of two votes.

Coaching the North is Abe Martin of TCU while tutoring the South is Paul Bryant of Texas A&M.

It means a clash of split-T teams with the running game emphasized although both teams have plenty of adept passers.

Brown KO's Morgan

CHICAGO (AP) — Henry (Toothpick) Brown of Philadelphia didn't give fans much time to settle in their chairs last night before he knocked out L. C. Morgan of Youngstown, Ohio, in 1:54 of the first round of a scheduled 10-round lightweight bout.

West Coast Grid Teams Get Boost

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Two West Coast gridiron giants, UCLA and Southern California, got back a big and vital segment of their eligibility-riddled football teams last night when the Pacific Coast Conference ruled their seniors could play five games per man in 1956.

At the same time the conference warned that pair and its two other errant members—Washington and California—to clean up their athletic back yards or "be expelled from the conference as of Aug. 1, 1957."

The action was announced at the close of a joint session of the presidents and faculty athletic representatives of the nine member schools. Chairman Robert G. Sproul of the Presidents' Council said conference solidarity was "stronger as a result of today's action."

Five schools — Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State, Stanford and Idaho—were given clean bills of health. For two days prior to the joint session the faculty men—who run the conference—had examined self-confessions prepared by the nine members.

Earlier in the year, when placed on probation by the conference for illegal financial aid to athletes, UCLA had declared its entire football team ineligible. Southern California did the same for 42 gridders and two trackmen.

The conference then ruled this action too harsh and modified it to one year of lost eligibility for each player.

Yesterday's action restored the coming year's seniors to eligibility for five consecutive games. Sproul said he assumed the coaches would select the games in which the forgiven seniors would play. The two Southern California trackmen will be allowed to take part in half the scheduled meets.

Virus Hits South All-Star Cagers

LUBBOCK (AP)—A South team sorely crippled by illness tries the zone defense tonight in an effort to slow down a North outfit boasting height and scoring superiority in the All-Star basketball game of the Texas Coaching School.

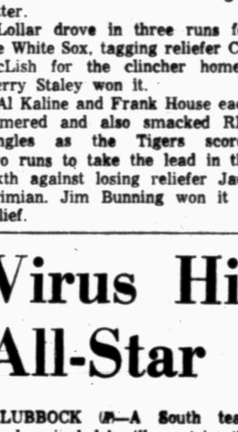

The North, coached by Doc Hayes of SMU, was a prohibitive favorite to win and make the standing in the series eight victories to four.

Three players of the South squad, coached by Ken Loeffler of Texas A&M, were out of action because of a virus attack. Jay Arnette, Austin McCallum forward, was in a hospital. Pete Markle of Houston Austin and David Rozzell, 6-foot-7 center and tallest man on the South squad, were unable to practice yesterday and weren't expected to play.

So it is against a team averaging 6-foot-3.6 and boasting a scoring power of 26.3 points per man that Loeffler sends his bedraggled forces tonight. Leading the North are giant A. C. Black, former Dallas Crozier Tech star, and the brilliant playmaker, Max Williams of Avoca.

Loeffler is using R. A. Davalos of San Antonio Edison, Pat Jensen of Webster and Wilbert Bigott of Deer Park in place of the three put out of action by illness.

Hayes agreed to use the man-for-man defense while Loeffler employs the zone. This may prove an equalizing factor.

THE $5,000 GESTURE—Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams trots in from his outfield position after a leaping catch of New York Yankees' catcher Yogi Berra's drive off the scoreboard to end the 11th inning threat at Boston, Mass., then turns to spit in the direction of the fans who booed him for an earlier fielding misplay. Williams was fined $5,000 for the gesture of defiance. These pictures were made by photographer Harry Trask of the Boston Traveler.

NERVES SOOTHED

Williams Hits Homerun Smash

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams reacted to his $5,000 spitting fine with a temper-soothing home run while Boston fans started fund drives for him, stormed the turnstiles and cheered.

Williams, at his best in the spotlight, crashed a game-deciding home run and a single in last night's 7-2 Red Sox verdict over Baltimore. He clasped his hand over his mouth as he returned to the dugout.

The boos of some fans — which had prompted Ted's expensive display of salivary contempt Tuesday — were smothered by the repeated roars of the 30,338 Fenway Park "family night" customers.

Williams, the great slugger, hammered his 407th major league homer far into the right field seats.

Club owner Tom Yawkey, who imposed the record major league fine on Williams, was among the onlookers as Ted edged Boston to within half a game of second-place Cleveland.

While fans cheered his every move at the park, a Massachusetts legislator filed a bill in the Massachusetts State House to prohibit obscenity and slander by fans toward athletes. Offenders would be fined $50.

One man sent a personal check to Williams, then made arrangements with a local bank to handle contributions to help pay the Williams levy. Office girls in a Boston firm put ads in the local papers asking fans to send dollar contributions directly to Ted.

ALL-STAR GAMES TO BE BROADCAST

Radio Station KSNY will carry play-by-play broadcasts of the all-star basketball game tonight and the all-star football game Friday night at Lubbock.

The games feature players from north and south areas of the state and climax the annual clinic of the Texas High School Coaches Association. Broadcasts will begin each night at 7:50 p.m., while actual play in the games begin at 8 p.m.

Giammalva To Face Fraser In Tournament

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Sam Giammalva, who feels "lucky," can boost his future Davis Cup stock today in his third-round match with Neale Fraser, one of Australia's second-line Cuppers, in the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Tournament.

Giammalva, the defending champion, will be facing Fraser for the first time after rallying to stay alive yesterday, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, over Michael Davies, England.

"I've beaten two other Australians," the University of Texas senior said. "I beat Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson in England. I lost to Lew Hoad but that's no disgrace."

Considered a prime candidate for the U.S. Davis Cup squad, Giammalva was behind 5-2, to England's eighth-ranking Davies before running off five straight games.

The chunky 5-11 Texan faces a battle to retain the title he won last year with victories over Vic Seixas, Kurt Nielsen of Denmark, and Gil Shea. If he gets past Fraser, Giammalva figures to play Shea, Seixas and Australia's Ken Rosewall.

Fraser the second-seeded foreign player, needed a 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 rally to stop Jack Lesch, Los Angeles, as his three Australian teammates—Rosewall, Cooper and Roy Emerson—all gained.

Rosewall, top-seeded foreigner, whipped C. Maxwell Brown, Louisville, 6-1, 6-1, and third-seeded Cooper stopped Crawford Henry, Atlanta, 6-4, 6-4. Unseeded Emerson, winner at Southampton, ousted Allen Morris, Atlanta, 7-5, 2-6, 10-8.

Fresh Fruit And Berries Are Basis For Summer Meal

Summer need not be the time for the household to suffer. That includes the cook as well as those around the table. Summer actually offers many tasty foods that are prepared with a minimum of effort.

Berries and fruits always add pleasure and health to any hot weather menu. Strong, clear tea, flavored with fruit juices, makes a cooling drink all year long.

While there are so many fresh fruits, vegetables and berries available, take advantage of some of these recipes.

CHIFFONADE SALAD IS DELICIOUS COLD

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni
3 cups endive, broken into bite size pieces
1 cup coarsely chopped water cress
3 stalks celery, cut in thin strips
2 medium sized tomatoes, peeled and quartered
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped
1 can diced beets, drained
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 tablespoons olive or salad oil
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1½ teaspoons chopped chives
Salt and pepper to taste

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander; rinse with cold water and drain. Combine macaroni and remaining ingredients; toss lightly but thoroughly. Chill and serve.

FRUIT JUICES ACCENT COLD TEA GRAPE PUNCH

2 cups fresh water
¼ cup tea
2 cups cold water
1 cup sugar
1½ cups pineapple juice
1 cup grape juice
1-3 cup lemon juice
Lemon slices

In a saucepan, bring two cups of water to a full, rolling boil. Remove from heat. Immediately add ¼ cup tea. Brew 5 minutes. Stir. Strain tea into pitcher containing 2 cups cold water. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add fruit juices. Serve over ice cubes and garnish with lemon slices.

LIMEADE CUBES MAKE ICE TEA INTERESTING

1 can frozen limeade concentrate
Hot tea

To prepare limeade ice cubes, add 2¼ cups water to undiluted concentrate. Mix well, pour into refrigerator tray; freeze until firm.

Fill each glass with cubes; pour in hot tea and top with mint leaves.

BAKED SUMER SQUASH MAKES TASTY PUDDING

3 eggs
¾ cup milk
1¼ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1½ cups soft bread cubes
2 cups shredded summer squash
1 tablespoon minced onion

Beat eggs lightly and mix with milk, salt, pepper, soft bread cubes, shredded squash and minced onion. Pour into a greased 1-quart casserole. Place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a preheated moderate over, 350 degrees F., 1½ hours or until a knife inserted in the center of the pudding comes out clean. Serve as a hot vegetable.

TOP LEMON CREAM WITH WHIPPED CREAM

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 cup water
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Beat in egg and gradually stir in water and lemon juice. Cook over low heat or hot water, not boiling, until thickened. Remove from heat and cool.

Fold in whipped cream, vanilla and lemon rind and spoon into sherbet glasses. Chill. Just before serving, top with additional whipped cream and garnish with a sprinkle of grated lemon rind.

CHERRY JUICE FLAVORS HOLLYWOOD ICED TEA

1 quart boiling water
1-3 cup loose tea or 15 bags
1 quart cold water
½ cup lime juice
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice

Bring water to a full, rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat. While water is still bubbling, add all of the tea at one time. Stir; brew 5 minutes.

Stir and strain into pitcher or container holding an additional quart of cold water. Just before serving, add lime and cherry juice. Serve in ice filled glasses with sugar to taste. Garnish with a sprig of mint.

SERVE GOOD, HOT COFFEE WITH PARFAIT JELLY ROLL

¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
¾ cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon extract
¾ cup pancake mix

Grease sides and bottom of a 10½ by 15½ inch shallow pan; line with waxed paper and grease again; dust with flour. Add salt to eggs; beat until thick and lemon colored.

Add sugar to eggs a little at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flavoring and pancake mix; mix lightly until batter is smooth. Spread evenly in pan.

Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees F., 7 to 8 minutes or until brown.

Sprinkle a towel well with confectioners' sugar. Immediately on taking cake from oven, loosen it around edges of pan and turn out on towel. Peel waxed paper carefully from cake; roll cake in towel. Let stand 10 minutes.

Filling:

1 package raspberry gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup cold water
½ cup whipping cream, whipped
1 tablespoon sugar
½ pint raspberries, fresh or partially frozen, drained

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; stir in cold water. Chill in refrigerator until gelatin becomes slightly thickened. Beat gelatin with rotary beater until fluffy and thick.

Combine whipped cream with sugar; fold into gelatin.

Unroll cake. Spread gelatin mixture evenly over cake; place raspberries on gelatin. Roll up cake and wrap in waxed paper. Refrigerate cake roll serveral hours before serving with good, hot coffee.

SWEET JAM MADE WITH RIPE CHERRIES

3 pounds ripe cherries
¼ cup lemon juice
7 cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit: Stem and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe sweet cherries. Chop fine. Measure 3¾ cups into a very large saucepan. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium sized lemons. Measure ¼ cup into saucepan with fruit.

Then make the jam: Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full, rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses.

Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

For a stronger cherry flavor, add a few crushed cherry pits, during simmering, or add ¼ teaspoon almond extract before ladling jam.

WRAP BEANS, LETTUCE IN TASTY BOILED HAM

1 ten-ounce package frozen green beans
2 hearts lettuce
8 thin slices boiled ham
2 hard cooked eggs
Lettuce leaves
Radishes

Cook green beans as directed on package. Drain and mix with ¼ Spanish olive oil dressing made by combining ½ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 clove, mashed garlic, and 1½ cups olive oil. Chill.

To serve: Cut hearts of lettuce into quarters and spoon a little of the oilive oil dressing over each. Wrap a slice of ham around each lettuce heart and arrange down the center of an oblong platter. Make 4 lettuce cups and fill with marinated green beans. Arrange on platter. Garnish with sliced, hard cooked eggs, radishes and cucumbers.

Dallas Club Hears Teague

DALLAS (AP)—Rep. Olin Teague of College Station, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, told the Rotary Club yesterday he is opposed to legislation increasing veterans' benefits.

The United States spent $4,750,000,000 on veterans' benefits this year and that amount can be expected to double within 40 years, he said.

"Veterans spending is now so large," he said, "that any small change in legislation or procedure would run into big money."

The Veterans' Administration saved a million dollars last year when it stopped issuing receipts for insurance payments, he said.

Benefits will increase rapidly in the future because more and more veterans are being added to the rolls and as years go on, more and more widows will receive pensions.

Eisenhower Campaign Is Aided By Parrot

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A parrot which can say "Vote for Ike" has been granted special permission to travel by regular railway coach to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

The parrot, Mickey, 27 years old, is owned by city assessor and Mrs. Jake Neighbor. They will accompany their pet to the national convention.

Body Is Recovered

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP)—The body of Louis Martinez, 32, was recovered yesterday from the South San Gabriel River.

Belgium Mine Sealed Off, Dooming 30 Of Trapped Men

MARCINELLE, Belgium (AP) — Rescue teams sealed off the upper levels of the burning Casier du Bois coal mine today, dooming an estimated 30 of the 260 men trapped below in the hope of saving the others from suffocation.

With oxygen tanks strapped to their backs, workers descended the main shaft of the 3,300-foot-deep mine in relays with big slabs of spun-glass fibers. With these, they shut off all passages from the smoke-filled shaft down to about 2,200 feet. They hoped this would enable them to descend to lower levels where most of the trapped men were believed to be.

The miners were trapped when the fire, caused by a short circuit, melted an elevator cable and sent the lift crashing to the bottom of the pit. Other escape routes also were cut off. Twenty-five miners escaped aboard the elevator before it was lost.

Rescue workers removed nine dead and six injured miners from upper levels. Another 230 were in levels 2,500 to 3,300 feet down. About 30 more were believed somewhere in the sealed-off passages. If they were not already dead, the closing of the passages doomed them to suffocation.

One worker who came back from the 2,200-foot level said the "heat and smoke are terrible."

"With my light I could not see six inches in front of me," he said. "But if the men in the lower levels have found holes to hide in from the heat they may still be alive. There still is hope."

Rescuers said the fire in the lower levels appeared to be confined to a 100-foot area between the main shaft and a ventilating chute.

Before the passageways were sealed off workmen poured tons of water down the main shaft in an effort to extinguish the flames even though it might drown the trapped men.

"What can we do?" asked one member of the firefighting squad. "If you use water they may drown, but if you don't the fire will suffocate them."

The burning pit is one of the largest in Marcinelle, a small town just outside the industrial city of Charleroi. A mine official said most of the trapped miners are Italians. Many Italians have come to work the rich Belgian coal fields since the end of World War II.

A crowd of about 1,000 grim-faced relatives and friends huddled at the mine entrance to watch rescue operations throughout the chill summer night. King Baudouin visited the scene at nightfall. Premier Achille Van Acker and three other Cabinet members also were at the pit head.

Andre Vanden Heuel, manager of the mine, said the trapped men might be able to live "several days" unless noxious gases became too dense.

"We won't give up hope yet," he said.

Republicans To Get Berlin Theme Song

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Republican National Convention is going to have a special theme song, written specially for the occasion by the master tunesmith Irving Berlin.

The GOP melody, which hasn't been named, and maybe hasn't even been written yet, was announced by Mrs. Webster Todd of New Jersey, chairman of the convention subcommittee on music and decorations.

Jury Being Picked

BOSTON (AP)—The jury box in the Superior Court trial of eight Greater Boston men charged with the $1,218,211 Brink's robbery was still empty today as efforts to pick a jury continued for the third day.

Cool Air To Miss Texas

By The Associated Press

A cool front headed for northern Oklahoma, Thursday, but the Weather Bureau doubted it would get far enough south to dent the Texas heat wave.

Royce City near Dallas had 107 Wednesday. Asphalt buckled on Highway 67 just outside of town as high as five feet. Traffic had to be re-routed.

Presidio had 109.

Lubbock had a hailstorm and .55 of an inch of rain. Parts of West Texas reported scattred showers. Predawn temperatures Thursday ranged from 70 at Lubbock, Salt Flat and Lufkin to 83 at Dallas and Fort Worth.

Midland and Lubbock reported lightning in the distance, but there was no rain.

Distance Helps Solve Trouble With In-Laws

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There is nothing like a little distance between parents and young married couples to help solve the in - law problem, says a family relations expert.

Samuel D. Gilbert, administrative assistant for the Institute of Family Relations, prescribed mileage as a remedy yesterday at an institute workshop attended by church and school counselors. He added:

"Distance, however, is only a help, not the full answer.

Indian Ceremonial Begins In Gallup

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Gallup's annual inter-tribal Indian ceremonial opened today with thousands of white and red visitors filling the town to capacity.

Officials of the Ceremonial Assn. which operates the affair expected in the vicinity of 16,000 white and 12,000 Indian visitors to attend before the last performance Sunday.

Cross Is Burned At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The third burning cross in a month was found last night at the San Antonio city limits.

The cross, about six feet high and four feet wide, was on the highway 90 right of way near two settlements, one occupied by Negroes, the other by a group of farmers. It was near Lackland Air Force Base.

Bexar County fire chief Cliff Holcomb said the cross seemed to have been wrapped in military blankets and soaked in an inflammable liquid.

He said it would be checked for fingerprints.

Demos Are Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans for Democratic Action today credited Democrats in both Senate and House with a "far more liberal" voting record than Republicans in the recent session of Congress.

IT'S THE SAME OLD STORY

Politicians Get Steamed Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Well, here we go again. The fur is beginning to fly among the Democrats. Angry words. Verbal fist-shaking.

But the betting still is that they'll keep it a family fight and close ranks against the Republicans before the national convention winds up next week.

Somehow the heat and light of television floodlights seem to inflame the passions of politicos.

Here in the glare of giant bulbs yesterday was Carmine DeSapio, big chief of Tammany Hall, top backer of Averell Harriman for thepresidency, and normally as cool and reflective a fellow as you'll find outside a monastery.

But Carmine was controlling his temper with obvious difficult and he took no pains at all to control the temperature of his words:

"Wilful distortion of facts. . . . a Republican-inspired hoax or an act of desperation."

The man in the famous tinted glasses named no names but reporters surrounding him in a 16th-floor hotel lobby had no trouble figuring out he was unimpressed by the first-ballot victory claims put on by the forces of Adlai Stevenson.

Any desperation in sight was more evident in the Harriman camp than anywhere else.

Stevenson's headquarters were opening up in the Conrad Hilton Hotel about the time DeSapio was speaking his piece. And the Stevenson counterpart of DeSapio, Philadelphia's James P. Finnegan, wore the relaxed air of a man expecting good news any minute.

Pink-cheeked and smiling in the glare of floodlights, Finnegan said his man had almost enough delegates rounded up to nominate him already. If this sounded like an invitation for others to climb aboard a bandwagon, that's exactly what it was.

Mail Must Go Through

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Rain or snow, sleet or hail, dogs or high water — or even a wrong address — the mail at Harlan goes through.

But post office clerks said yesterday they had to scratch their heads a bit about a letter addressed to "Mr. Hamp Baxter, Harris, Ky."

They finally decided it was intended for Hamp Harris of nearby Baxter. Harris confirmed he was their man.

Rebels Bottled Up

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador's government says it has broken the back of brief revolt and bottled up the rebel remnants on the ranch of one of the leaders.

HEIRS

Every person should, of course, make a will, so that his wishes for those he cares for may be carried out after his death. Our courts will then see to it that his wishes are put into effect.

But as a rule your will is too important to clutter with detailed facts and advice to your survivors. It is not the place to tell where you keep your important papers, although your survivors should know. They might need these papers in probate proceedings or to carry on your business. Some of these papers may bear on your surviviors' actions.

So put these vital facts in a letter to your survivors:

Where is your will? In a safety deposit box? At your office? Or tucked away some place for safe keeping? You might have hidden it, so that nobody can find it. It might be destroyed by accident. Your will is no good unless it can be found.

Who is your executor—the person or institution you want to carry out your will? To whom do you look for sound business advice?

Where do you bank? With whom do you deal at the bank? Some persons have a saving account in one bank and checking accounts in others. Where are your safety deposit boxes? Do you keep important papers in other places? List these places.

Where do you keep all your insurance policies -- life, health, car, accident, others? They may cover your family as well as yourself. Your family may wish to continue them.

Where are your personal account books? Letters about your business affairs? Your cancelled checks and receipts? These facts will protect your estate from false claims.

Do you own real estate? Where are the deeds and abstracts or title insurance policies? Do your records show a capital gains basis for your real estate and what you invested in any [illegible] real property? Tell your heirs what you think they should do about your real estate and other property.

Do your records show which property is separate and which is joint? The division of your property may rest on these records. Besides, good records may save tax dollars.

Besides current bills, do you have any debts? If so, list them and your creditors. Where are the copies of your income tax returns? Your car title?

Note these subjects: old age and survivors' insurance, pensions, profit-sharing plans, group insurance, club memberships, royalties, estates and trusts, and joint ventures. Put down your social security number.

These are just a few things to cover in the letter you leave. You will think of others. Give your heirs every bit of pertinent information about your properties and business activites.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform--not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Part Of Human Skull Found By Searchers

PORT ISABEL (AP)—Part of a human skull was found yesterday in the search for bodies of a plane crash in which four Houston men were killed six months ago.

The plane, piloted by Joseph Shivers, 40, had been missing since Feb. 7. Also in the plane were George Simon, 28, Eugene Mills, 37, and Christian Ebersole, 33.

The bone and a part of an airplane seat were found by deputies Sheriff Marshall Rousseau and Marcus Dodson about 2½ miles from the crash on the northwest shore of Laguna Atascosa.

Relatives of the other passengers have filed a $400,000 damage suit against the estate of Shivers.

Four Snyder Students Win Ford Awards

Ford Motor Co. today announced the names of 37 Texas school students, including 4 from Snyder, who have been selected as some of the nation's best young craftsmen in Ford's 10th annual Industrial Arts Award (IAA) and Student Craftsman's Fair competition.

A total of 720 youngsters—representing 39 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and Puerto Rico—will share as winners of $50,000 in awards offered by Ford for the largest program of its kind in the world. The IAA competition is designed to encourage useful craftsmanship and outstanding work in school classes.

A panel of 32 leading industrial educators and craft experts judged the entries and selected winners in the annual competition.

The winners from Snyder are:

Royace Clanton, 16, 3011 Avenue Y, $80 second place for guitar in open division.

Skipper Moore, 16 E. Highway, $100 first place for table in wrought metal division.

Susan Cockrell, 14, Snyder, Snyder Public Scools, $20 honorable mention for desk in woodworking division.

Beth Birdwell, 18, Snyder, Snyder Public Schools, 20 honorable mention for bookends in plastics division.

FW Schools To Continue Segregation

FORT WORTH (AP)— The school board decided last night schools will operate under a policy of racial segregation for another year.

"Interests of all concened would be best served and the orderly and lawful operation of schools of the district would be best accomplished by continuing the present policy," the board noted in ordering segregation for the 1956-57 school year.

Board member Atwood McDonald presented a statement which the board approved.

"The transfer of large numbers of students from one school to another, which would accompany a termination of racial segregation at this time, would immensely aggravate and increase the problems created by the local conditions . . ." McDonald said. He said school administrators already faced problems of rapid scholastic population increases, a shortage of school buildings, and a $20,000,000 building program now underway.

G. D. Flemmings, president of the NAACP chapter, said "it doesn't meet with my approval. We have given the board plenty of time to work out any problems that might arise."

Egg Quality Law

DALLAS (AP)—E. D. Parnell, professor of poultry husbandry at Texas A&M, said yesterday Texas poultry raisers will ask the Legislature for a law governing the quality of eggs.
