HOOBLER CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

Lone Star Plans Huge Pipeline From Petrolia To Dallas

NEW CARRIER TO ENLARGE FUEL SUPPLY

135-Mile Line to Have Capacity of 100 Million Cubic Feet

EMPLOY HUNDREDS

20-Inch Pipe to Be Used In Laying Outlet From Clay County

A new natural gas pipeline from the Petrolia fields in north Clay county to Fort Worth and Dallas is to be constructed by the Lone Star Gas company, it was officially announced at the Lone Star headquarters in Dallas Wednesday.

The new line is to match the company's existing carrying facilities from the Petrolia field which has long supplied fuel for the two big North Texas cities. The line will have a capacity of 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas and will be constructed of 20-inch pipe, making it one of the largest in Texas. It will be 135 miles in length.

To Cost Millions

Announcement of the plans were made in Dallas by L. B. Denning, president, and was received by The Record News over its Associated Press wires.

Mr. Denning announced that the completed pipeline will represent an investment of several million dollars. Its purpose is to afford additional service to Fort Worth and Dallas and to enable gas to be diverted to cities south of Dallas during cold weather emergencies. Cities to benefit by the new outlet from the Clay county field include Waco, Cleburne, Georgetown, Temple, Waxahachie, Corsicana and College Station.

Although the date for starting of actual construction work has not been decided upon, the official announcement said the line will run near Wichita Falls, Bowie, Bridgeport, Decatur, Alvord and Sunset. From this it was taken that the survey has been completed and the right-of-way secured.

Employ Hundreds

An idea of the magnitude of the project was given in the announcement that several hundred men, probably close to a thousand, would be given employment along the route of the new line.

North Texas headquarters of the Lone Star Gas company is located at Petrolia, where one of the largest compression plants in the state is located. Inasmuch as Petrolia will be a terminus for the new line, which is to take a southeasterly course from that point, it was considered likely here Wednesday night that the base of operation during the period of construction will be located near Wichita Falls.

Announcement of the date of beginning the line is expected within a short time.

Senate Passes Bill To Cut Auto Tax

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—The senate finally passed the house automobile license fee reduction bill 19 to 9 late today. The bill would cut fees about 50 per cent.

An amendment limiting the amount to be retained by any county to $200,000 instead of $300,000, was adopted.

Senator Woodward of Coleman, a proponent of the bill, later sent up a resolution asking the house to return the measure so that the senate might take off the amendments it inserted.

Woodward was unable to get a two-thirds vote to bring up the resolution before the recess until tomorrow. He intended to make another effort then.

Bible's Effort to Equal Segrave's Speed Mark Results in Two Deaths

'Garage Man' Crushed as His Triplex Plunges Into Newsreel Man at Daytona Beach Course

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 13. (UP)—Lee Bible, the 42-year-old garage owner who overnight became one of the fastest race drivers in the world, was killed along with a news photographer today as J. M. White's Triplex overturned when Bible was racing it at a speed of better than 200 miles an hour.

Charles R. Traub, a Pathe News camera man, was killed as the catapulting Triplex—a monstrous black car—smashed into the sand dune on which he and another cameraman were taking pictures of Bible's attempt to better the record of 231.36 miles an hour set by Major H. O. D. Segrave earlier this week.

Bible's Second Test

Bible was completing his second official test when the accident occurred.

He had sped down the smooth, hard, white beach at rate of 183.11 miles an hour in the Triplex, which Ray Keech drove to a record of 207 miles an hour last year. At the end of the first mile run Bible grinned through the grease which covered his face.

"It looks like a good day for the record," he said after his machine had been refueled.

Then with a wave of his hand he started back north.

Speedster Skids

In front of the grand stand the black Triplex, powered with 36 cylinders in three Liberty motors, was clocked at 202.07 miles an hour. It tore on for about 300 yards, veering dangerously towards the outer edge which leads into the Atlantic.

There was a hiss and the startled onlookers saw the Triplex turn suddenly, skid, then turn over and strike the sand dune on which two photographers had been taking pictures. One of the photographers jumped to safety but Traub was caught and his body severed.

Attendants ran to the machine and pulled Bible's body from the big machine just before it caught fire. The Triplex was wrecked.

Course Is Closed

The accident today brought cancellation of any further speed tests over the Daytona Beach course. Major H. O. D. Segrave announced he would not race his machine in America again this year. Val Harbenaege, secretary of the A. A. A., said that out of deference to Bible there would be no further tests while Mayor Armstrong of Daytona

DAGGER PRUITT GIVEN DEATH

Slayer of Dallas School Student to Die

DALLAS, March 13. (AP)—William (Dagger) Pruitt Jr. was convicted and given the death penalty here tonight by a jury which heard evidence in his trial for the slaying of William Mann, 18, Dallas high school student.

Pruitt apparently never turned a hair as the verdict was read, but his mother, who testified for him earlier in the day, leaped to her feet and shouted:

"He is not guilty and I can prove it."

She continued to address the court room until other women quited her.

The jury was out about 30 minutes, convicting on the first ballot, but casting two ballots before deciding on the death penalty.

The state alleged that Pruitt walked up to a car occupied by Mann and a young woman as the car slowed down at a corner, and attempted to climb in the front seat beside the girl. Mann tried to push the intruder out, and was shot in the scuffle. The crime occurred shortly after five different Dallas men had been held up in the same manner in one night.

Pruitt was arrested after he had engaged officers in a brisk gun battle at his father's house. He still is limping from wounds received in this battle. Two witnesses, including the young woman who was Mann's companion at the time of the shooting, identified Pruitt as the high school boy's killer.

Today the men made a short flight and after being aloft about half an hour apparently started to land. Just as the plane was over the English-Bivens airport, ready to drop to the field, the fliers apparently changed their minds and zoomed upward, stalling into a crash at 300 feet.

They were killed instantly.

Pool is survived by his widow and two children. Dunwoody was single.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

BROWNWOOD, Texas, March 13. (AP)—The ease with which two unmasked young men held up and robbed the First National bank here of between $5,000 and $6,000 today led officers to believe tonight the offenders were experienced and probably had cleverly concealed their trail.

Due to the fact that seven employes of the bank were locked in the vault before the robbers made their leisurely escape, there was no one to tell in which manner they left the city. Posses searched this part of the state since before noon without finding a trace of them.

Mr. Spence will ask Judge P. A. Martin to transfer the case from the 89th court, where it was originally set, to Judge Cook's court, in order to begin the selection of the jury before the completion of the trial of D. J. Hoobler for the murder of Arthur Pendergraft, in progress before Judge Martin all week.

The district attorney explained that the preliminaries of the trial of Heither can be going forward under the direction of George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney. A special venire of 75 men has already been summoned for Thursday morning.

NOCONA PASTOR QUALIFIES AS RUM 'SNIFFER'

Preacher's Detection of Whisky Odor Admitted In Goodspeed Trial

ATTORNEY 'FLOORED'

Glasgow Kept Sprawling For Short Time; Juror Stricken

By LOUIS T. HAMLETT
The Record News Staff

HENRIETTA, March 13.—Interruption of the trial because of the illness of a juror, demands of defense attorneys that a Baptist minister be qualified as an expert on the odor of whisky before he be allowed to testify and the testimony of two persons who accompanied City Marshal A. R. Gooch to the Goodspeed home in Nocona featured the trial in 97th district court here Wednesday of Carl Goodspeed, charged with the murder of Gooch on Jan. 13.

The state closed its testimony and rested at 4:25 p. m. Wednesday and Judge Vincent Stine recessed court until Thursday morning in order that defense attorneys would have time to talk to their witnesses. Attorneys in the case do not believe that the case will reach the jury before Saturday morning.

Juror Stricken

A. O. Bates of Byers, a member of the jury, was stricken with indigestion early Wednesday morning. He visited a physician before court opened and was in the box at 9 a. m. During the examination of a witness at 10:45 a. m. Mr. Bates requested that the court grant a recess as he was ill. Judge Stine recessed court until 1 p. m.

While the jury was eating lunch, Mr. Bates was again stricken and was carried to the jury room on a stretcher. Court reopened at 2:50 p. m. when Mr. Bates said he felt well enough to again enter the jury box.

Rev. E. L. Moody, Baptist minister from Nocona, was placed on the stand during the afternoon session. He testified that he went to the Goodspeed home after the slaying and went to the garage where he noticed some broken fruit jars. He said that an oder which emanated from the broken jars seemed to be that of whisky.

Defense Objects

J. S. Jameson, defense attorney, objected to this testimony and asked that the minister qualify as

DEFENSE TAKES ONE HOUR TO GIVE TESTIMONY

Accused Man to Rest Case With Jury Without Taking Stand

STATEMENT IS READ

Mrs. Pendergraft, Recalled To Court, Tells Value Of Her Property

D. J. Hoobler, on trial for the murder of Arthur Pendergraft, prominent Oklahoma farmer, in Wichita county on Jan. 27, will not take the stand in his own behalf before the defense closes its case in the 89th district court Thursday morning, according to plans announced by defense counsel at the close of the session Wednesday.

After the examination of a sixth and final witness Thursday morning, the defense will rest upon evidence completed within one hour after the state closed its case Wednesday afternoon. Sam Spence, district attorney, announced that the case would be ready for the court's charge after the introduction of one more witness. Arguments will probably be limited to three hours to each side, and the case is expected to go to the jury shortly after noon Thursday, Mr. Spence said.

Half Brother Called

Charlie Gant, deputy sheriff, is the final witness to be questioned by the defense. Joe Carrigan, one of the attorneys for Hoobler, announced. Mr. Gant was out of the city on official business when the defense temporarily closed its case and the state's rebuttal began Wednesday afternoon.

C. E. Hoobler, half-brother of the defendant, who sat at his side in the court room while the jury was being selected, was called as a witness against the accused man before the state rested Wednesday afternoon. The witness shook his head slowly when he was asked about the existence of a "Hoobler estate" in East Texas in which the defendant was to share. On cross-examination he said the estate had been divided after the death of his father in 1911, but that "Jerome," the defendant, had not received his one-seventh share. Mr. Hoobler, who bears a notable resemblance to the defendant, answered the questions slowly and in an almost inaudible tone.

The afternoon session was marked by a final unsuccessful fight by the defense to exclude a signed confession, alleged to have been made by Hoobler after the recovery of the body of Mr. Pendergraft. Attorneys for the defense renewed their protests, claiming that the statement had been made involuntarily, after the prisoner had been subjected to violence, kept awake, and made to fear serious bodily injury. They further contended that Hoobler had been illegally brought into Texas from Oklahoma without extradition papers. Judge P. A. Martin again overruled the objections, under the same ruling that Tuesday admitted the defendant's oral statement.

The court has previously said that the question of whether or not the statement was obtained through undue violence was a matter to be submitted to the jury. Upon the protest of Mr. Spence Thursday afternoon, Judge Martin said he would reserve his final ruling on the submission of the question to the jury until the giving of the charge Thursday morning.

Trial Draws Crowd

The court room was again thronged with spectators all day Wednesday, the third day of the trial. Onlookers crowded even to the steps of the bench, and stood or sat on the floor inside the railing. A three-year-old baby girl, who had had her lunch and her cup of milk from provisions brought into the court room by a provident mother early in the morning, lay asleep across one of the court tables, her brown curls pillowed on her coat and her mother's pocket book. Throughout the long afternoon of tedious questioning babies cried out fitfully and young children grew restless, but for the most part the crowd maintained perfect order. Once Judge Martin repeated his

More Than 50 Wilbarger Oil Rigs Resume Work With Water Plentiful

The heavy rain that visited the district Monday night resulted in the filling of the creeks, and other sources of water supply, on the different W. T. Waggoner tracts in Wilbarger county, and according to an announcement issued by R. L. More, general manager of the W. T. Waggoner estate, and Charles Kolp, manager of the Waggoner refinery, sufficient water is on hand for all those who wish to drill.

The information that the water situation was relieved was one of the most welcome pieces of news the operators had received in some time, and it will mean the resumption of drilling by between 50 and 60 wells that had been shut down for the past two months. In addition to the wells forced to shut down at various stages, many other tests which had been idle and rigged up only, waiting on water, will spud in, and the next week or 10 days will again find the "pasture" humming along with its normal activities.

HOOBLER CASE TO JURY TODAY

Pendergraft Death Trial Nears Close

threat to clear the room if the spectators laughed.

"There is nothing to laugh at here," the court repeated. Later, during an interval in the taking of testimony, he was forced to order silence, declaring that he could not hear himself speak. Early in the afternoon, the court issued an order forbidding all smoking because of the crowded conditions in the room. When Dr. M. A. Beckman took the stand a few minutes later, smoking a cigar, Judge Martin interrupted the testimony to enforce the rule.

The spectators, many of them neighbors to the Pendergraft's in Cotton county, were disappointed when the word went round the court room that Hoobler himself was not to take the stand. A few of them pushed their way out at once, tired of waiting for a climax which wasn't to come. Many said they would be going home Thursday, not waiting for the fourth and final day of the spectacle.

Instead of direct testimony, they heard the reading of the contested "statement," offered in evidence by the state and containing a detailed account of Hoobler's action from the time he and Mr. Pendergraft left Cotton county on Jan. 27 until the time of Hoobler's arrest 10 days later.

Self Defense Plea

The statement, read aloud by George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, to whom it was first made, described the shooting of Mr. Pendergraft across the hood of an automobile on the Henrietta road and reiterated the plea of self defense. In it Hoobler claimed that he shot as Mr. Pendergraft threatened him with an automobile crank. Much of the story already told through the evidence of C. O. Hooper, Cotton county sheriff, was repeated. The great crowd sat in an almost solemn silence through the reading of the long document, the most significant piece of evidence offered for both the state and the defense.

The defense first called Dr. Everett Jones, surgeon, in an attempt to prove that it could have been possible for a man shot as Mr. Pendergraft had been to crawl back into a car before he was overtaken by paralysis and death. His testimony was offered in refutation of that of Dr. Beckman, county health officer, who had testified for the state to the effect that such a wound would result in instant paralysis. The evidence was introduced by the defense in an effort to uphold the physical possibility of certain statements contained both in the oral and written confession of Hoobler.

F. L. Taylor, dealer in Chevrolet cars, was next called to the stand to show the size of a Chevrolet crank, the weapon with which Hoobler claims to have been threatened. Mr. Taylor said the standard weight was 2¾ pounds and that he would regard it as a "deadly weapon."

C. S. McCuistion, county attorney of Cotton county, who has been sitting with the state's attorneys throughout the trial, was the third defense witness. Through him the defense sought to show again that the oral statement made by Hoobler to Sheriff C. O. Hooper was obtained under violence.

How Confession Secured

Mr. McCuistion said that he himself had talked to Hoobler from 2 a. m. until 6 a. m. Friday morning before the confession was made Saturday morning. He said that he had also said to "the boys": "I believe he'll talk if you keep him awake long enough."

"Was he sleepy when you left him in Walters after keeping him awake all night?" Mr. Carrigan asked.

"He seemed to be somewhat weary," responded the witness with complete composure. A carefully suppressed murmur went around the room, upon which the court this time did not comment.

"When did you first see the bruise on Hoobler's face?" defense attorney went on.

"Between 11 and 12 o'clock on Thursday evening," the county attorney responded.

Who had just left the room?" came the next question.

"I do not recall," was the answer.

"Are you the man who beat him up?" the questioning went on. The answer was in the negative, but, upon the objection of Mr. Spence, cousel was asked by the court to refrain from using the expression "beat him up." Judge Martin suggested the substitution of the term, "offered him personal violence," and the state was satisfied.

The defense went on with evidence purporting to show that no powder burns had been found on the body of the dead man, and in an attempt to prove that there must have been at a distance of several feet between the two men at the time the shot was fired.

In rebuttal the state recalled Mrs. Pendergraft, who came back to the stand for the third time since the opening of the testimony. After she had testified to the number of cattle owned by her husband and had said she had not given her permission for the sale of any cattle, Mr. Spence asked:

"Are you the only living heir to your father?

"Yes."

"How much land does he own?"

"Several hundred acres."

"How old is he?"

"Eighty-two years old."

"How much land is left you from your husband's estate?"

"About 800 acres."

"Is Hoobler here in a position to know the extent of your property and the fact that you are your father's only heir?"

"Yes, sir."

"Tell me what Hoobler said to your son, Roy, after a difficulty between them after Mr. Pendergraft had been killed, but before Hoobler was arrested.

"He told him that 'things will have to be different around here after this.'"

With this testimony the state rested its rebuttal, closing with the same witness who opened the case.

Kept Lights Burning

Roy Pendergraft, 15-year-old son of Arthur Pendergraft testified against Hoobler Wednesday morning, telling of how the light in the dining room, where Hoobler slept in the Pendergraft home, had been burning all night for two nights after Hoobler's return from the trip to Wichita Falls when Mr. Pendergraft was shot. The boy was ill with the flu at the time and complained of the lights hurting his eyes, he told the jury.

During the morning session the state attempted to show a motive for the shooting, introducing evidence purporting to prove that Hoobler was in debt, owed three banks and payments on his car as well as money to his employer. They called witnesses to show the sale of 11 head of Mr. Pendergraft's cattle by Hoobler two days after the shooting, and traced the $550 received for the cattle to payments made on notes due the bank.

G. R. Kincaid, first vice president of the First National bank at Burkburnett; E. M. Kemil, president of the Tilman County bank at Grandfield; and E. H. Graves, president of the Farmers State bank at Temple, Okla., all told of Hoobler's indebtedness, said they had been pressing him for payment, and recounted payments made on notes after the disappearance of Mr. Pendergraft.

Over the bitter objections of the defense, the state offered in evidence a written statement from Hoobler made before his arrest in which he said that Mr. Pendergraft had left him in Wichita Falls in the company of a "cow man" from Archer county.

Testifies Again

Mrs. Arthur Pendergraft was called to the stand for the third time Wednesday afternoon when she testified of the value of property to which she is the only heir. The above sketch was drawn for The Record News by Artist Harry Olsen, and shows Mrs. Pendergraft as she appeared in court at the trial of D. J. Hoobler for the murder of her husband.

Wurzbach Seeks To Quash Waco Indictment

SAN ANTONIO, March 13. (UP)—Maintaining that none of the counts constituted a violation of the law, attorneys for Henry H. Wurzbach, former Republican congressman, today filed a motion to quash the six-count indictment returned by a federal court at Waco. The indictments charged Wurzbach with violation of the corrupt practices act.

Wurzbach's trial has been set for May 6. The specific charges in the indictment are that Wurzbach accepted contributions from three federal employes during his 1926 campaign.

Dandy Way to Tint Gray Hair

By MONA EVERS

I don't blame any woman for wanting to do something about gray, faded or streaked hair because there is nothing that makes one look older.

Whenever I am asked for a method of restoring gray hair I invariably recommend nothing more or less than a mixture of good old sage tea and sulphur. Common garden sage, when properly brewed and mixed with sulphur and a little alcohol, makes a wonderful recolorer of gray hair. You can either prepare the mixture at home yourself, or more conveniently, buy it already prepared and ready to use. All druggists carry it in the form of Wyeth's Sage & Sulphur, and since the cost is only 75c a bottle, there is really no need to prepare it yourself.

You simply moisten a comb or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, one strand at a time. One application banishes the gray and one or two more completely restores your hair to its original color, so evenly, so naturally that no one can possibly tell you have used it. Everyone who tries Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tells me he, or she, gets perfect results, so I don't hesitate to pass the secret on to others.—Adv.

PASTOR 'RATES' AS DETECTIVE

More Evidence Heard In Goodspeed Case

an expert on whisky smelling before he be allowed to testify. Judge Stine overruled this objection. Mr. Moody also said that there were two fruit jars at one corner of the dog pen near the garage and that one of them was broken and one intact. He stated that he detected the same odor at this point.

After the pastor had left the stand he was called back by the defense. Mr. Jameson poured some liquid from a bottle onto a piece of paper and asked if that smelled like whisky. Mr. Moody said it did not.

Justice Testifies

D. M. Painter, justice of the peace from Nocona, was the last witness called by the state. He testified that there was a hall between the living room and the bathroom in the Goodspeed home and that the body of Gooch was found in the living room.

William J. Glasgow, Clay county attorney, then lay down on the floor and Mr. Painter arranged his body in the same manner as he saw Gooch's body and placed Gooch's pistols as he found them. Mr. Glasgow started to rise when the state announced it was through with the witness but Mr. Jameson asked Mr. Glasgow to resume his position on the floor while the defense conducted its cross-examination.

Glasgow Is Seated

When Mr. Jameson had asked Painter several questions without making use of the prostrate attorney, Temple Houston Yarbrough, Montague county attorney, asked the court to insist that Mr. Jameson complete his cross-examination of the "body" so that Mr. Glasgow could rise. The defense attorney consented and Mr. Glasgow resumed his chair.

J. R. Cardwell, of Nocona, who lives one block from the Goodspeed home, testified that he took Goodspeed to the home of Goodspeed's mother-in-law after the slaying and that Carl Goodspeed said he killed Gooch after the officer had tried to kick in the door of the bathroom where Mrs. Goodspeed was.

Paul Hagerton, of Nocona, stated that he saw Carl Goodspeed standing at the corner of the dog pen behind the Goodspeed home carrying a shotgun and a fruit jar. Goodspeed threw down the jar, he said.

Warrant Is Read

When court opened Wednesday morning, Mr. Yarbrough read the liquor search warrant found on Gooch's body to the jury. The defense objected on the grounds that the warrant was illegal and therefore no search warrant and that Gooch was a trespasser. Judge Stine overruled the objection.

Miss Ethel Wade of Sanger, Texas, testified that she accompanied her father, J. M. Wade, and Gooch to the Goodspeed home on Jan. 13. She said that Gooch got out of the car at the Goodspeed garage, glanced inside, and then started toward the back door. Her father drove the car on to the side of the house, got out and started toward the front of the residence, she stated.

When she heard the shot in the house, she got out of the car, Miss Wade testified, and soon afterwards a man came from the back of the home, pointed a gun at her and said, "Stick up your hands." She then heard a woman say, "My God, don't shoot again," and the gun was lowered. Miss Wade told the jury. She quickly got in the car and drove off and her father got in the car as she left, Miss Wade said.

Denies Love Affair

On cross-examination Miss Wade denied that she was Gooch's sweetheart. She admitted having heard that Gooch had killed a negro in Denton county and another man in Montague county.

J. M. Wade testified that he was several steps from the car when he heard the shot. He went on to the front door and heard a man inside the front room say, "Don't come in her you————, I'll kill you." He stated that he had completely lost the sight of one eye and that his sight was poor but that he thought he saw a man with a long gun inside the door.

Wade stepped to one side of the door and remained there a short time before he left the porch, according to his testimony. Under cross-examination he admitted having heard the deceased called "Two-Gun Gooch."

Carl Goodspeed, 37, who was neatly dressed, appeared calm during the trial and occasionally leaned over to talk with his attorneys while the state's witnesses were being examined. He has two children, a boy, 4, and a girl, 2.

The courtroom was packed with more than 100 persons standing during the afternoon session.

Wichita Falls women will be treated to a glimpse into the French world of fashion when "L'Echo de Paris," a style show of exact copies of Paris-designed originals, is held Thursday afternoon promptly at 2:30 o'clock, on the second floor of Saul's store.

The fashion show is under the direction of Mrs. Alice Athey, style expert from the McCall company of New York city, who will point out the features of each costume and explain how it can be easily copied by any woman.

The show consists of 32 copies of models of women's and children's apparel by such famed Paris couturiers as Goupy, Brisac, Patou, London Trades, Champcommunal, Le Comte, Agnes, Lelong, Clair Soeurs, Decre Soeurs, Vionnet and Augustabernard. A special seating has been made on the second floor of Saul's for the show, and seats provided for 300 women. No admission will be charged.

The entire show will be repeated Friday afternoon at 2:30. A special showing for Forum members will be held at the Woman's Forum this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Harried Rebs Take to Heels

Naco. Rodriguez left Mexicali, Lower California, today, his secretary said, for Naco, to confer with General Olaches. The latter switched his loyalty to the federals yesterday after leaving Nogales, Sonora, to bolster rebel forces near Torreon and seized Naco in the government's name.

Further reports here said Governor Rodriguez later left Nogales by automobile for an unknown destination.

BOTH ARMIES CLAIM SALTILLO

(By The Associated Press)

Federals and rebels both are claiming possession of the important railway center of Saltillo, which commands the direct railway line from Mexico City to Monterey and the American border, in the principal new development of the Mexican revolutionary campaign.

An official Mexico City communique yesterday afternoon reported federal troops from Monterey in active pursuit of retreating rebels beyond Saltillo after having occupied the city in the morning.

But rebel General Murrieta, in command at Juarez, denied Saltillo had been evacuated. He said he had been in communication with its rebel garrison as late as 10:30 a. m., when it was stated that there was "nothing to report."

Gen. Augustino Olaches, whose sudden declaration for the federal cause was a sensational blow to rebel courage, entrenched his force of Yaqui and Mayo Indians behind barbed wire entanglements at Naco, Sonora. The loyal Gov. Abelardo Rodrigues of Lower California, named federal commander in his province and at Naco, was on his way to confer with Olache, passing through United States territory. Federals claimed that Olachea's move had cut off rebel forces in Chihuahua from those in Sonora. Speedy capture of nearby Agua Prieta was anticipated by the government.

The federal advance on Torreon, rebel headquarters where 22,000 revolutionaries are reported concentrated, seemed to have been slowed down by difficulties in repairing destroyed railroad track.

TROTZKY FOUND QUITE HEALTHY

Former War Lord Denies He's Dying

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 13. (AP)—That Leon Trotzky is neither dying nor any longer a prisoner was proved today in an interview which he granted the correspondent of the Associated Press in his room at the Takatlain hotel overlooking the Grande Rue Pera.

It was the first direct conversation he has had with a foreign correspondent since he became shrouded in mystery after his arrival at Constantinople from Russian Turkestan.

The famous beard and mustache are shaved off, but otherwise the former war lord looks as powerful as ever. His blue eyes were snapping behind bone-rommed spectacles and his now iron-gray hair was bristling with his energy.

"I am not a dying man," he said, his lion's voice shaking the small room, "but it is true that I have need of a German physician's care, for German physicians operated on me formerly in Russia. I expect to remain here until my request to enter Germany is answered. I will not go to Angora and if I am not admitted to Germany I presume that I shall stay here permanently."

LLOYD GEORGE BACK IN RING

Former Premier Seeks Return Via Unemployment

By H. L. PERCY

LONDON, March 13. (UP)—Lloyd George, the energetic little leader of the liberal party who has been out of power for six years, made a powerful bid for a return to the premiership today with a proposal for solving Great Britain's gravest problem, unemployment.

Lloyd George's program to reduce unemployment in Great Britain to normal proportions within a year without increasing taxation—a seemingly impossible task—is outlined in a booklet, "We Can Conquer Unemployment," issued by the Liberal party today.

Scheme Outlined

Lloyd George said his proposal envisages a specific program for the next two years which will begin to absorb labor within three months and reduce unemployment to normal within a year. The proposal is outlined in six main sections, as follows:

1. Development of roads and bridges at an estimated cost of $725,000,000, employing 350,000 men the first year. The capital would be raised by a road loan of $1,000,000 to start the work. The remainder would come from the anticipated increase in the income of the road fund, as the receipts from taxes on vehicles are called. Receipts in 1927, for instance, were more than $100,000,000, obtained from license fees on motor vehicles, horse-drawn vehicles, driving licenses, etc.

2. The building on an average of 200,000 houses a year, with the estimated employment of 52,000 workers each year. The building would be financed by the usual government subsidy, spread over a long period.

Telephone Development

3. Expenditure of an additional $160,000,000 in the next two years on telephone development, providing employment for an additional 60,000. The cost would be borne automatically by new telephone subscribers.

4. Expediting electrical development by the expenditure of an additional $60,000,000, employing 60,000 workers the first year. The cost would be borne by buyers of current, as in the case of the telephone development.

5. Land drainage, employing at least 50,000 workers within six months. The cost would be borne at public expense and by the owners of the land benefited by the work.

6. Development of London's passenger transport system at a total estimated cost of $85,000,000, employing 24,000 workers the first year. The cost apparently would be borne by the transport companies concerned.

Other Projects

Other means of reducing unemployment suggested include land reclamation, reforestation, canal development, settlement of idle land, restoration of trade relations with Russia and improving agricultural conditions, thus halting the flow of farm dwellers to the cities.

4 Car Victims In Quanah Hospital

Special to The Record News

QUANAH, Texas, March 13.—The four victims of two car accidents during the past week are recovering at the Quanah sanitarium, and unless complications set up will be taken to their homes within a few days. None of them were residents of Quanah.

Mrs. Deskin Wells and her cousin, Mrs. J. M. Wells, both of Wellington, Texas, were severely cut and bruised when the steering gear of their car gave way, causing the car to turn over three or four times. They were returning home from Dallas, and the accident occurred about eight miles west of Quanah.

Deskin Wells is editor of the Wellington Leader.

The next night, almost at the same spot, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pair and family of Amarillo ran head-on into a group of cars blocking the highway. It was reported these cars contained young couples returning from a party at Kirkland. Mrs. Pair and Stella May Trammell of Kirkland were quite seriously injured, and were brought to the Quanah sanitarium. Several others were cut by flying glass, but were treated at Goodlett by Dr. Terry.

Mrs. Pair was on her way to Electra to visit her mother.

Prospects for Crop In Lawton Are Bright

Special to The Record News

LAWTON, Okla., March 13—The past 10 days have wrought a wonderful change in crop prospects, for the better. Wheat received a setback last fall because of dry weather and late planting and in the latter half of the winter freezing spells injured the wheat, but the present outlook is for a fair crop.

Much of the oats were planted later than usual due to February inclement weather. However, considerable grain was planted previous to Feb. 15 and the green shoots are now visible through the crust of the soil. A few farmers are still planting oats.

DANDRUFF
Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

LEADERS ADMIT EXTRA BILLS

Reapportionment and Census Bills to Come Up

By KENNETH G. CRAWFORD

WASHINGTON, March 13. (UP)—House and senate leaders have agreed to include the reapportionment and census bills in the program of the special farm relief and tariff session starting next month, it was learned today.

The plan has been presented to President Hoover and is understood to have his approval, although he has not stated his position specifically.

Sentiment Prevails

Heretofore it has been understood house leaders would limit the activities of the special session to farm relief and tariff legislation on the theory that any deviation from this course would open the doors to all manner of business.

Strong sentiment in favor of immediate action on the reapportionmentment and census bills apparently has forced the new agreement to allow consideration of bills which have already passed the house, but failed in the senate.

There is no change, however, in the determination of house leaders to prevent consideration of other general legislation. They plan to secure suspension of rules for the repassage of the reapportionment and census bills without organizing the committees which would ordinarily pass on these measures.

Already Passed House

The reapportionment bill provides for a redistribution of house representation on the basis of the 1930 census. Since it limits the house to present membership, states which have gained population most rapidly will get additional seats at the expense of those which have gained but slowly or stood still.

The census bill, which makes provision for the taking of the 1930 population count, is a necessary adjunct to the reapportionment measure.

Both bills were passed by the house early in the last session, but failed in the senate due to a filibuster by the representatives of states which would lose in the reapportionment.

Candy-Cigaret War Will Have To Rage on Without Uncle Sam's Army

WASHINGTON, March 13. (UP)—American troops in the person of Lieut. Gen. Robert Lee Bullard have been given what is tantamount to an order to withdraw from the trenches in the candy-tobacco war.

Henceforth the armed forces of the United States must remain neutral in the great struggle to decide whether a cigaret cough is worse than a candy-fattened waistline.

General Bullard, now retired, recently appeared in magazine and newspaper pages in behalf of a brand of cigaret. It was intimated in the advertisement a soldier might be more fit if he smoked that particular brand. The cigaret manufacturers carried the argument further. They said a cigaret was much easier on the constitution than a sweet.

Candy manufacturers rose to defend their product. Among other places, they clamored at the war department with the result special order No. 600-10, June 30, 1925, has been called to General Bullard's attention. The special order says:

"Officers of the army will not use or permit to be used, their military titles in connection with commercial enterprises of any kind."

UTILITIES LEVY IN OKLAHOMA

Public Service Companies Are Assessed

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 13. (UP)—Assessment of public utilities for taxing purposes was started by the state board of equalization today when tentative assessments were made on railroads with the exception of the four largest roads, street railway lines and toll bridges.

The Oklahoma Railway company was tentatively assessed at $1,586,496, as compared with $1,850,000 last year. The reason for the assessment being lower this year than last is that the railway company has disposed of the Belle Isle power plant for $381,000.

Other electric railway assessments were: Shawnee-Tecumseh, $7,028.89 as compared with $17,917 last year; Tulsa Street Railway company, $100,000, the same as last year; Muskogee Electric Traction company, $84,795; the Union Traction company, $70,915.

The following steam railroads were assessed: Arkansas Western, $50,296; Fort Smith & Western, $1,427,059; Kansas, Oklahoma & Gulf, $3,170,115; Kansas City Southern, $4,780,930; Midland Valley, $3,300,000; Northeast Oklahoma, $150,583; Osage, $100,000; Oklahoma City, Ada & Atoka, $788,955; Oklahoma Belt, $34,320; Oklahoma City Junction, $15,000; Oklahoma Rich Mountain, $60,000; Quapaw & Lincolnville, $3,000; Southwest Missouri, $43,895; Texas, Oklahoma & Eastern, $261,262; Wichita Falls & Oklahoma, $91,965, and West Tulsa Belt, $10,795.

GIRL WHO WORE MAN'S GARB GOES TO PRISON

CANON CITY, Colo., March 13. (UP)—Puffing a cigar and fearing she would have to don a skirt for the first time in her life, Jacqueline Moret, 24, pretty and tough, started a term in the Colorado state prison here today for a holdup in Casper, Wyo.

"Maybe they'll have a few big rocks left which can be made into little ones," she said, blowing a couple of smoke rings and spitting with the accuracy of an Ozarker.

Girl Jilts Mother Who Slays Both

CERMEL, Calif., March 13.(INS)—Rather than see her 11-year-old daughter live with a foster mother, Mrs. Florence Smart shot and fatally wounded the girl and then committed suicide. The daughter, Barbara, was dead here today.

The women had agreed to let the child, who had been living with the foster mother, Mrs. Mabel Collins, decide with whom she preferred to live.

The child chose Mrs. Collins, and her real mother kissed her goodbye, but as the girl was about to leave Mrs. Smart's home, Mrs. Smart suddenly produced a pistol and fired two shots, the first for the child and the second for herself.

CAR SALE MAY STIR UP 'WAR'

General Motors Seeks To Buy Giant German Plant

By FREDERICK KUH

BERLIN, March 13. (UP)—The impending purchase by General Motors of a 76 per cent interest in the Opel Automobile Works, at a reported price of approximately $31,250,000, not only will be the greatest American investment in Germany since the war but presages a motor war in Europe, business observers said today.

The conservative press already has started a campaign against the impending deal, calling it a "menace of German industrial independence," and some of the German motor car manufacturers are opposed to it.

In addition there is a possibility that General Motors and Henry Ford may bring their motor car competition to Europe, as Ford already is strongly entrenched with his factory at Amsterdam and General Motors is expected to go after business which Ford is trying for.

The deal between the Opel management and General Motors is on the verge of consummation after a year of negotiations. The transaction will assure the United States of a predominant influence in the German automobile market. Several other German concern are eager to sell their plants to United States manufacturers.

The General Motors transaction in some quarters is considered a counter move against Ford's small bore motor, which was designed to meet the European taxation laws which penalize large cylinder pistons. It is believed that General Motors, through the Opel plant, will concentrate on a small bore, four cylinder motor car.

The Opel factories easily are the largest in Germany, manufacturing 40 per cent of all German motor cars. Hitherto Opel has been the leader in the German fight against foreign manufacturers.

American Named To Haitian Financial Post

WASHINGTON, March 13. (INS)—Sidney de la Rue of New York has been appointed by the president of Haiti as financial adviser to that country, the state department announced today. He succeeds Dr. J. C. Millspaugh, of Michigan, whose resignation last January was the cause of considerable speculation when Secretary of State Kellogg declined to discuss it.

The financial adviser to the Haitian government is nominated by the president of the United States and then formally appointed by the president of Haiti.

"Board! Plane to All Big Cities.' to Be Heard At Docks

NEW YORK, March 13. (INS)—"New York! All ashore! Change here for planes to Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, Atlanta, or non-stop air express to San Francisco or Los Angeles.

It won't be long before that call is heard at the docks of United States lines and the American Merchant line, according to plans attributed today to P. W. Chapman, purchaser of the Leviathan and 10 other vessels. It was announced that the Chapman interests are building 20 planes to connect with their ships for all points in America.

FATHER WIRES HE HAS KIDNAPED YOUNGSTERS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 13. (UP)—Harry Hilton Jr., 7, and his brother Jack, 6, who were abducted from in front of the Hubbard avenue school here yesterday, are with their father in Detroit.

Hilton revealed this today in a terse telegram to police here in which he told officers to "please notify the juvenile department that I have custody of my children."

CRATER ACTIVE IN CALIFORNIA

Mt. Lassen Belches Cloud Of Smoke

RED BLUFF, Calif., March 13. (INS)—M. Lassen was belching great clouds of black smoke at noon today—the first definite signs of activity in the historic crater for several years.

Early this morning steam poured from the crater and a heavy white cloud hung over the peak.

Later the vapor turned darker until at noon the crater was emitting clouds of black smoke.

During the past week it appeared that steam was rising from the mountain but because of a heavy wind it was difficult to ascertain if it was actually steam or snow being blown off the peak by the winds.

305 famous Beauty Shops say, "Give your hands

Beauty Care right in the dishpan"

RECENTLY, 305 of the finest beauty salons in the United States reported this interesting fact—

"With all our experience,"—these experts said—"we cannot distinguish between hands that never wash dishes and hands that use Lux in the dishpan. . . . Evidently, Lux gives real beauty care."

These experts observe thousands of hands and they know! In their own words, Lux means "beauty care" right in your own dishpan!

Isn't this a startling idea? Yet women instinctively know it is true. Washing their fine things in the gorgeously sparkling Lux suds, women themselves noticed how smooth and white their hands looked afterward.

Now they are washing dishes with Lux to give their hands the same gentle beauty care—three times a day!

The secret is simple . . .

Lux is so utterly pure, so delicately refined by the special process used in its making, that it protects the precious beauty oils—the youth oils—of the skin. Many soaps dry up these oils, leave the skin parched—red and drawn looking.

Best of all, this beauty care costs almost nothing. Lux for all your dishes costs less than 1¢ a day!

Such Inexpensive Beauty Care—Lux in the dishpan is the wisest, most inexpensive beauty care known! Gives gentle, soothing care to your hands—with no extra time, no trouble—and costs less than 1¢ a day.

"I suffered with pain in my side and suffered constantly with nervous headache. I could not sleep well at night and had no appetite. I suffered for months, and nothing had helped me.

"I read about Cardui one day and sent for a bottle. I began to improve from the very first. I continued taking the medicine for some time, as I kept getting better.

"My strength returned and I slept better. I had a better appetite than I had had in years, and I gained in weight and felt fine. I recommend Cardui to other women because I found it a great aid to good health."

Mrs. Hartsook Talks To Business Girls

Mrs. C. R. Hartsook was honor guest and speaker at the meeting of the Business and Professional Womens club Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. She was presented by Miss Zula McKay, representing the program committee. "Reading With a Purpose," was the subject of her talk. "Fanciful imaginative, or whimsical books may produce some culture but it will not develop leaders or thinkers," Mrs. Hartsook said. "Entertainment by cheap reading which makes the line of least resistance so easy, so almost logical, makes followers of many who should be leaders." There is no excuse for people who have missed college not to be educated except through indifference or laziness. Guidance and escape are the real reasons for reading. Other reasons are rest, recreation, vocational guidance, help in domestic relations, psychology, education, literature culture, to be up to date, to keep up courage, to share in art, science, religion. This all means for work, rest or faith. A great danger to civilization today is the vacant type of mind produced by limitation and restricted experiences forcing individuals to create and worship idols as a means of self expression."

A short business meeting followed the program with Miss Arnie Smith presiding. Miss Helen Fowler announced a dance to be given at Camp Noble Friday evening. Miss Catherine Walker announced the annual membership banquet of the Y. W. C. A. to be held March 28.

Mrs. Finley Weldon, Miss Myrtle Cummins, Miss Glenna Fagley, Miss Ruth Seiplemeyer were guests at the meeting. Members of the club present were Mrs. Joella Terrell Butler, Mamye Kuhfuss, Winnie May Giddings, Winnie Ballard, Ruth Bentley, Mrs. Mary Carne, Helen Fowler, Ethel Glasgow, Mrs. Mary Lyons, Miss Glenna Miller, Zula McKay, Miss Catherine Walker, Miss Emma Schnelle.

Parents Should Give Allowance To Girl After She Marries, if Possible

Should a Girl's Family Give Her an Allowance When She Marries?—A Son Who Would Avenge His Mother—Getting Acquainted With Friend Husband.

Dear Miss Dix—I am in love with a boy of 23 who will graduate from West Point in June. My family are opposed to the marriage because of the poor pay a young army officer receives. However, I am deeply in love with this young man, who is a fine man in every respect, and I want my family to give me an allowance for the first few years of my marriage, as they are sufficiently well off to do this and I am an only child. What do you think about girls receiving allowances after their marriage in order to make them financially independent? H. C.

Answer—I think that when a girl marries her family should give her an allowance, or make some sort of settlement upon her if they can possibly afford to do so. Every other civilized country in the world does it. We are the only people who bring up a girl in luxury, and cultivate extravagant tastes in her, and then thrust her on some poor young man to support without a nickel in her hand, or a rag to her back except the chiffons in her trousseau.

It isn't right. It isn't fair either to the girl or to the man. It isn't fair to the girl since, unless she marries a boy who has inherited a fortune, and they are few and far between and often spenders and wasters that no sensible girl wants to marry, and who would be the poorest sort of match if she did marry one of them—it thrusts her into a life for which she is unprepared, and forces hardships upon her which she is not trained to meet.

No young man who is just starting out to make his fortune can support his wife in the style in which she has been accustomed to life if her father is a prosperous man. He hasn't the income at 25 or 30 that father has at 55 or 60. He can't give his wife the clothes, the house, the servants, the luxuries which her father gives her.

And while the girl may be willing to do without many of these and live in a much simpler manner, there is no denying that it is bitter hard for one who has been used to having pretty frocks to have to go shabby, to one who has never even had to make her own bed to have to cook and wash and iron, to one who has always had plenty to be harassed by debts.

It is hard on the young man, too, who marries a girl who has been used to having everything. It hurts his pride to feel that he has dragged her down from affluence to poverty, and it hurts his pride to have to deny her the luxuries which are necessities to her.

It is hard on him financially because she doesn't know how to save, she doesn't know how to make the most of the few dollars they have and she is a handicap instead of a helpmate. No man has the right to cultivate lingerie and crepe de chine tastes in his daughter and then expect a poor young man to supply them. It isn't easy to change the habits of a lifetime and unless a girl is of exceptional strength of character and has an unusual capacity for love, she is apt to grow dissatisfied and peevish, and fretful and whining, when she faces all the hardships of a poor man's wife.

Bills and anxiety about the future get on a young couple's nerves and they quarrel and say bitter things to each other, and another home goes on the rocks that could have been saved if there had been a little puff or two of the winds of prosperity.

I know that many parents feel that it is good for young people to have to scuffle for themselves, and go through hard times, but in a world that is full of sorrow at best I see no reason for adding to this gloom, no reason why the joy of youth should be dimmed, no reason why all the joy and romance of the first years of marriage should be blotted out by the lack of money, when just a little would keep the dream unbroken. I can see no good in anybody being made unnecessarily unhappy.

So I believe that parents should give their children when they marry enough money to make them comfortable, but not enough to make them feel that they do not have to make an effort for themselves. Enough to make them independent, but not enough to make them parasites. And I believe that every father who can afford it should give his daughter an allowance because to have something of her own gives a woman a feeling of independence and self-respect that add immeasurably to her happiness. DOROTHY DIX.

Blended richness of FLAVOR
A SOUTHERN gentleman long ago toiled with the roasting of many different choice coffees together until he achieved a blend of such unusually rich and mellow harmony that it delighted even his critical palate.
That fine blend is Maxwell House. It took its name from the hotel where it first became famous—the old Maxwell House in Nashville, celebrated throughout the South for its hospitality, its old-time Southern dishes and particularly for its wonderful coffee. Here distinguished travelers and belles and gentlemen of the Old South first enjoyed the coffee which today is pleasing more people than any other coffee ever offered for sale.
"The Old Colonel" has lived to see the flavor he created become America's most widely popular coffee.
Your own family and guests will appreciate Maxwell House Coffee. Your grocer has it sealed in tin to preserve its rare fragrance and flavor.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It
Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

BOUNDARY LINE PROBE IS SET

Committee to Assemble at Quanah April 8

AUSTIN, March 13. (AP)—The Oklahoma boundary committee of the Texas legislature will assemble at Quanah, April 8 to begin its investigation, Senator Clint Small of Wellington, a member of the committee, said today.

The committee of 16, including the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house, will be joined by a similar committee from the Oklahoma legislature.

The committees will proceed from Quanah to Higgins to the northeast corner of the Panhandle. They will traverse the Oklahoma territory east of the Panhandle, which probably will become a part of Texas under a supreme court decision unless a sale to the sister state is consummated.

Small said that the committee expected to spend two days looking over the land and another day with the Oklahoma legislature in session at Oklahoma City.

Druggist Killed At Drink Stand

FORT WORTH, March 13. (AP)—J. R. Gunn, 26, proprietor of a drug store, was shot twice and died at a filling station and cold drink stand here last night.

Gunn and H. J. Kelly were at the station, which Kelly owns. Kelly was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Hooper at the police station.

Two pistols, both of which had been fired, were taken to the police station by Police Lieutenant Lee.

Gunn is survived by his wife.

Woman Victor In Fight For Her Child

PATERSON, N. J., March 13. (INS)—Mrs. Dorothea Campbell Young today appeared to be in possession of a victory in her husband's latest fight to gain possession of their 6-year-old daughter, Rosabelle (Rosebud) Young.

Vice Chancellor Vivian H. Lewis, who heard the evidence in the wealthy publisher's petition for custody of the child, expressed the opinion that Mrs. Young might be a fit custodian of her daughter even though she strolled about her home without attire and one of her friends, Arthur Pittman, withdrew his false teeth at the supper table and snapped them for the entertainment of the little girl. Chancellor Lewis announced his intention of questioning the child before handing down a definite decision in Young's petition.

Oil Producer Buys Big Ship Channel Tract

HOUSTON, March 13. (AP)—A tract of Houston ship channel acreage comprising 700 acres fronting five-sixth of a mile on the south side of the waterway adjoining the site of the new Shell Petroleum Refinery and known as the Postel tract, has been secured under a 60-day option by Fred M. Hutchinson, oil producer, who has agreed to pay $358,000 cash for it, or at the rate of $650 per acre.

Mr. Hutchinson yesterday declined to disclose his plans in connection with the tract, but it is understood he is buying it for a major oil corporation, which plans the erection of a large refinery.

KISSES SPEAK PLAINER THAN WORDS

When your little ones are half-sick, out-of-sorts, they can seldom tell you what is wrong. You have to read their symptoms in order to choose the right medicine. If, when you kiss them, you detect unpleasant breath, you have a sure sign that the bowels are sluggish; that the stomach is sour and bilious.

For a child constipated, feverish, languid, fretful, wakeful at night, lacking appetite and subject to colds and sore throat, you will find a reliable remedy in California Fig Syrup. It is the finest laxative in the world for children. Little ones previously always half-sick, fretful and backward through sluggish bowels and poor digestion, take a wonderful turn for the better and thrive amazingly when the bowels have been helped back to healthy regularity by an occasional dose of California Fig Syrup. Millions of mothers have proved its merit and have been relieved of further worry and anxiety from their child's constipation.

If you have a child bothered like this or one who is subject to frequent bilious attacks and sick headache, save the little one this suffering, and yourself constant anxiety by giving California Fig Syrup. Get a bottle today. All drug stores.

California Fig Syrup has been trusted by the World's mothers for over 30 years. That is why the word "California" should be emphasized when buying.—Adv.

Warden May Resign as Climax To Actions of Mrs. Willebrandt

WASHINGTON, March 13. (INS)—The feud between Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, and Warden John Snook of Atlanta penitentiary over the Willebrandt policy of placing undercover agents in the prison to report conditions to her boiled steadily on today.

The capital will be surprised if the controversy does not end with the department of justice accepting the resignation of Snook, although the warden was appointed at the solicitation of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, whose influence carries considerable weight in administration circles.

Up to Mitchell

The ultimate decision apparently rests with Atty. Gen. William D. Mitchell, who is studying the long record of controversy between his feminine assistant and the warden. Mitchell answered all questions relating to the case today—as he has done for several days past—with a refusal to say anything at all until he completes his study. Meanwhile, Borah has written him a letter in behalf of Snook.

The department of justice also refuses to answer any questions concerning the real identity, present whereabouts, or present status of one "Joe Montana," who was under-cover agent whom Mrs. Willebrandt is reported to have "planted" in the Atlanta prison to observe conditions there.

"Montana," which is understood to be an assumed name, was "sentenced" in a federal court at Cincinnati to serve three years in Atlanta upon an auto theft charge. He went to the prison in a normal way.

"Prisoner" Released

After serving for a time, he was released in custody of a department of justice agent upon orders from Washington. So far as is known he was not pardoned, nor was his "sentence" commuted.

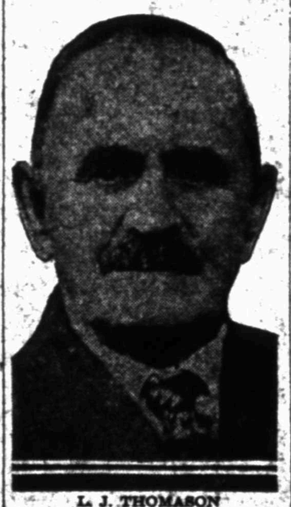

Officials would not even admit that "Montana" was an under-cover agent, although it has been definitely established that such was the case.

Mrs. Willebrandt's assistants, however, defended the general policy of planting such agents in federal prisons. They said that quite often such agents had been able, by mingling with the prisoners on a prisoner basis, to unearth evidence concerning drug-smuggling and inter-conviet graft that could be obtained in no other way. They also asserted that in some cases the information obtained in this way had been turned over to the warden of the prison in question.

Radio Propaganda Explained

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)—How the radio was used to broadcast information about electrical power by the California electrical bureau was explained today by Victor M. Hartley of San Francisco, its executive secretary, before the federal trade commission at its resumption of the investigation into the publicity activities of public power utilities.

'JUST HAVE 'EM SEE ME!' H.E DECLARES

L. J. THOMASON

"I have been thru a thousand times that I took Sargon when I did. It is simply wonderful the way it has benefited me" said L. J. Thomason, of 1102½ Houston street, Fort Worth. He is well known in the oil business and the real estate field.

"I was all out of fix from head to foot before I got hold of Sargon. My stomach gave me all sorts of trouble, and after every meal I would feel miserable. I would tire out easily and felt exhausted and nervous. Then I had an attack of 'flu' that left me so weak I knew I needed a tonic to rebuild my strength. I took a lot of medicines but kept on getting worse. Then my good friend Charlie Haynes, who had taken Sargon, got me started on it, and right from the start I knew I had a real 'honest-to-goodness' medicine. It worked wonderfully and seemed like it was made especially for my case. I thanked Haynes a dozen times for what he did for me by getting me to use Sargon. It worked fine for him, too. I know now I should have gotten some long ago when I read what L. A. Barnes said about it, for I know his word is his bond. My only regret is I didn't have Sargon sooner.

"I feel better than I have in years, and feel it is a duty to tell others how different Sargon is to other medicines. In fact, I sometimes stop friends on the street and tell them all about it. I feel like a man made all over again; am stronger, and can eat like a farm hand and relish every bite. I am never troubled with indigestion now. I don't tire like I used to and can keep on the go.

"I have lived in Fort Worth nearly all my life and most everybody knows me, so you know I am not seeking to get into public print with this testimonial. It is meant to tell other sufferers what this remarkable medicine will do for them. Yes indeed, just have them see me if anybody wants to know what I think of Sargon."

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls from the Rentro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; and in Electra from Lough's Drug store.—Adv.

Suspect in Safe Robbery Identified

ELDORADO, Ark., March 13. (UP)—Lewis Walling, in jail here on charges of burglary and grand larceny in connection with the $1,700 safe robbery of a local store last Friday, has been identified by prison photographs as an escaped Oklahoma convict, Deputy Sheriff Finn Craig said today.

According to information furnished local officers by Warden John Q. Newell of McAlester, Okla., Walling escaped from the Oklahoma penitentiary in December after serving about 18 months of a 20-year sentence for hijacking.

Local officers said they would surrender him to Oklahoma in event they failed to convict him here.

Man's Death Sentence Reversed by Court

AUSTIN, March 13. (INS)—The case of Margarita Silvia, convicted in San Patricio county of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in connection with the slaying of Mariana Luna in 1921, was affirmed by the court of criminal appeals Wednesday.

The case of Dick Hazzard, sentenced to die in the electric chair on conviction of criminal assault was reversed and remanded by the court. It was held that the trial court erred in its charge to the jury.

The higher court, however, affirmed the cases of Harley Holland and J. D. Pierce, sentenced to life imprisonment on companion cases.

HOUSTON WILL BID FOR PRESBYTERIAN UNIVERSITY

HOUSTON, March 13. (AP)—Houston's bid for location of the new Presbyterian university here will be a tract of 1,000 acres of land and $1,000,000 in money.

Decision to place this offer before the synod at the proper time and to call upon the entire citizenship to work for the securance of the university was reached at a meeting of influential citizens Tuesday. Support of the incoming city administration was pledged to the project by Mayor-elect Walter Monteith.

Famous Recipe For Stopping a Severe Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, soothes away the inflammation, and loosens the germ-laden phlegm. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Embassy Liquor Goes Unmolested

WASHINGTON, March 13. (UP)—Diplomatic immunity triumphed over the Jones law today when for the first time since the enactment of that bit of prohibition legislation a truck load of embassy liquor moved safely and without molestation from the port of Baltimore to its destination here.

A full fledged member of the diplomatic corps armed with the credentials of his profession sat at the wheel and piloted the load from the District of Columbia line to the embassy. The truck was hired for the purpose from a local owner but was unaccompanied by an employe of the trucking concern.

No eagle eyed law enforcement officer questioned the orderly progress of the "joy wagon." Had any one done so he would have met stiff opposition. The driver was prepared to repel all boarders.

Today's accomplishment was the direct result of concerted diplomatic pressure which was reported to have softened the stony hearts of state department officials who last week passed the word down embassy row that since the passage of the Jones law local law enforcement officers would hold truck owners and drivers of American citizenship liable to prosecution if caught transporting liquor consigned to embassies and legations here.

Don't Suffer From Stomach Ailments

Indigestion Stopped Immediately by Stomach Antiseptic

What is commonly known as indigestion is, in reality, a fermented condition of the stomach which keeps the undigested food sour thereby creating acids and poisons. Fermentation is the worst obstacle in the way of overcoming stomach disorders.

Gordon's, an internal antiseptic, gets immediately at the cause by stopping fermentation—soothing and healing the inflamed and irritated membrane lining—driving out the acids and poisons.

Surprising results may be expected in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, excess acid, gas, bloating, heartburn, sour stomach and that "tired feeling."

Get a bottle of this famous remedy today from your druggist. Costs less than three cents a dose.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 83

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and placed it on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a public success as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us it helped when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, its mild, gentle action is promptly effective on the most robust constipation and in the most obstinate cases. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.—Adv.

Herbert Kaufman's
POP-GUNS FOR DRAGONS
Daily Editorial

THE $200,000 WHICH congress is asked to appropriate for sterner narcotic enforcement won't even put milk teeth into the law.

Thus Washington goes dragon-hunting with pop-guns.

There are a million "habituals" in the United States, and less than 500 investigators are expected to trace them, cut off their supplies, and eradicate the vermin who prey upon their infirmity.

But instead of shuddering at the immensity of dope consumption, marvel, instead, that half the adult population of the United States isn't nursing some "yen."

Thirty years ago, the only drug on the contraband list was cantharides, and the sale of that, sporadically prohibited.

Cocaine, introduced in the late nineties as an anesthetic for optical operations, had revealed so little of its treacherous quality that apothecaries dispensed it even to children, in full crystalline strength, as a tooth-ache stopper. And society belles used a ten per cent solution to brighten their eyes after a fatiguing day of visiting and shopping.

Laudanum and chloral could be bought without prescription—anywhere.

If you wanted a bottle of morphine tablets with hypodermic needle, you laid down the price and received them over the counter.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT WAS A RARE patent medicine that didn't include its hypnotic. And especially the cough remedies.

The old catarrh balms and hay fever reliefs set more innocent people on the straight path to hell than statistics shall ever learn.

Country physicians ordered heroin compounds in gallon lots, and dosed "lungers" daily with the deadly stuff.

A popular brand of snuff owed its market prominence to the tons of cocaine which it annually carried.

"Mother-This-or-That's famous soothing syrups" were loaded to the guards with opium. They most effectually stilled crying babies—and not infrequently for keeps.

All of which tends to explain why we have a million drug addicts in the United States.

And, also, why purblind and penurious legislation is throwing money to the winds, while it continues to stint border patrols and internal regulation.

This cancerous growth is too deeply rooted and widely spread for intermittent and partial treatment.

It will take a costly instrument to cut it out of the social body—a secret service of thousands—squadrons of planes to clean the skies of smugglers—regiments, not corporal guards, of watchers at ports of entry—and adequate forces of police licensed opiate production clear down the lanes of distribution.

As it is, we might as well send a tin St. George against the Beast.

The male mosquito is harmless and it is the lady who does all the buzzing and biting, according to Dr. Headley of Atlantic City. We gain many valuable lessons from studying the insects.

That schoolgirl complexion is all right in its place, but it can cause an awful lot of trouble on father's coat.

$2,000 a Front Foot

THE J. C. Penney Company has purchased a fifty foot frontage on Indiana avenue paying therefor $100,000 in cash. This is at the rate of $2,000 per front foot and is believed to be the highest price ever paid for Wichita Falls business property. The buildings on this property are to be razed and a new building put up for the home of the Penney store in Wichita Falls. The buildings now on the property may be considered as having no value; indeed it will cost money to raze them.

This purchase at this high figure ought to be a good answer to any doubts about the stability of values of Wichita Falls business property. The J. C. Penney company is one of the country's largest retailing corporations. It has hundreds of stores scattered throughout the country. The men at its head are practical, far seeing men. If they were not their company would never have developed as it has. They see a future of growth and prosperity for Wichita Falls, or they never would have purchased a site for their store at $2,000 per front foot. They have a better perspective of Wichita Falls perhaps than those of us who live here. They watch the growth of cities and know the factors that contribute to growth. Out of this observation they are materially increasing their investment here.

The deal is an encouraging indication. It ought to put more confidence in some of our home town folks.

Coolidge's Position

ALTHOUGH Calvin Coolidge has returned to private life in Northampton, he is discovering that his fellow citizens have not yet lost interest in him. Pictures of him and accounts of his doings are still eagerly sought by the newspapers. His fame is dying very slowly.

A very interesting book could be written about the lives of our ex-presidents. Our scheme of government puts the man who leaves the White House in a peculiar position. Usually he is just at the height of his powers, and often he is likewise at the height of his popularity; yet his course of action when he returns to private life is definitely limited.

He is considered more or less out of the picture politically. It is not quite ethical for him to plunge actively into business or professional life. About all he can do is write—and muse, perhaps, on the way in which he has helped to shape history.

Through all of this, however, no matter how valiently he strives to gain obscurity, he is still a public character. People want to know what he is doing, and how and why. Reporters and cameramen cannot leave him alone. His retirement is a public affair.

Thus there must come into the life of such a man a sense of anti-climax. It can hardly be pleasant for a man who still sees many active years stretching ahead of him to feel that he is definitely "on the shelf"—that his active days are over, whether he likes it or not.

It is queer, when you stop to think about it. For, after all, the lot of the ex-president is precisely the lot which most of us, in our ambitious youth, would pick for our own goals. To have a full, busy life, crammed with achievement, fame, honor and power; to reach the highest place that America can give any man, to taste the fruits of success and accomplishment to the full, and then to retire to private life, unburdened by cares, conscious that fame is secure and that one has given one's best—that, surely, sounds like the best a man could wish.

But ex-presidents don't ordinarily seem to feel that way. Wilson did not, and Roosevelt did not, and it is a fair guess that Coolidge likewise, will find his retirement irksome after a while.

The truth of the matter seems to be that there is a perverse twist in the human heart that makes men forever dissatisfied unless they are constantly being called upon to spend themselves to the very limit. Much as we like leisure, we like ceaseless activity far better. The happiest men, usually, are the busiest.

The more capable a man is, the more this is true of him. So our ex-presidents are not particularly to be envied. After Calvin Coolidge has had a year or so of retirement, it is a safe guess that he will begin to hold that viewpoint.

Some Figures on Aviation

IF YOU doubt that the aviation industry is rapidly on the way to a position among the nation's industrial giants, harken to these figures just made public by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

During 1928 American aircraft manufacturers built airplanes to the value of over $75,000,000—140 per cent greater than in 1927.

To be sure, as American businesses go, a gross production of only $75,000,000 is not large. But it is the rate of growth which this figure indicates that is important. The aircraft industry is just beginning to hit its stride. Such cities as Wichita, Kan., where airplane factories are centering, can look to the future with a great deal of optimism.

Oil Problem Awaits Hoover

AMONG the important problems awaiting the attention of President Hoover, is the matter of oil conservation—a problem that is as weighty as any, although the general public has given it little thought.

The Federal Oil Conservation Board, appointed by President Coolidge, submitted its report on the present situation recently. It remarked that the oil industry had eliminated much waste and had done much to save our oil; but it emphasized the fact that the country is still exhausting its oil reserves at a dangerous rate. We consume 72 per cent of all the oil used in the world, and we produce 65 per cent of world production; yet our total oil resources are only 18 per cent of the world resources.

Eventually this might easily lead to a serious situation. The matter demands, and undoubtedly will get, the earnest consideration of our new engineer-president.

Our Prohibition Helps Africa

YOU WOULDN'T imagine, offhand, that American prohibition would increase the prosperity of certain native chiefs in the interior of Africa. But it has, according to Assistant Secretary Cochrane of the Bush terminal, in Brooklyn.

Here's how it works: Prohibition caused a tremendous increase in the American consumption of cocoa—both in the form of a beverage and in chocolate candy. Much of this cocoa comes from Africa. The chieftains of the native tribes that export it are waxing so rich that many of them are buying American automobiles and other luxuries.

Sometimes it's hard to figure what the ultimate effects of a course of action may be. Surely, no one would have imagined that the passing of the corner saloon would have meant riches for native rulers in distant Africa.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS By Fontaine Fox

The Day Book of a New Yorker
Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, March 13.—One of New York's most menacing traffic ogres is about to pass into oblivion. Death avenue, as Eleventh avenue is called, doomed many to death and now it is doomed.

After years of bickering, while scores died, the officials have agreed finally to remove the New York Central railroad tracks from the West side. Year after year the engines, moving through this street, proved a menace to automobilists. Many were the catastrophes between machines and steam engines, resulting in death. Among the more superstitious Eleventh avenue was "haunted," and taxicab drivers evaded the avenue even when things were quiet.

Although Wall street is as active during the winter months as ever—much more so than at any other time of the year, perhaps—the bulls and the bears do not necessarily have to stay in town to keep watch of the market. Ticker tape can, figuratively speaking, stretch from Wall street to Palm Beach.

Millionaires in white flannels or even in bathing suites are making the wheels of finance go around down there on the Florida shores. W. C. Durant, Walter Chrysler, John F. Hertz, Charles J. Fisher and many others, whose names are almost as well known, are there enjoying the Florida winter, bathing in the surf, attending the races and doing business just as effectively as though they were in their offices in New York. Every hotel in the Florida resorts, it is said, has a broker's office where market orders may be placed and where direct lines from Wall street are maintained.

A matter of profound argument these days in New York is the real authorship of the current gay word, "Whoopee." Walter Winchell, a local columnist, is generally credited with making the word popular, but sticklers for accuracy point out that the word has been used by various individuals before.

In fact, a few critics go back to the Wild West, where the cry "Whoopee" is not uncommon among cowboys. Winchell, however, beyond a doubt has popularized it as a designation for the particular gayety to be found on Broadway and, for that matter, in the speakeasies of all American cities. A cowboy who makes whoopee on the western plains will find it has a new significance in a night club.

❖ ❖ ❖

Should anybody revive that question and answer game and ask you where pigeons come from, answer, without qualification, New York City. This may be an exaggeration, but everywhere I go there are pigeons. Hundreds of them can be seen any day in City Hall park, on top of surrounding buildings and, for all I know, perch now and then on top of all the high plug hats when notables are greeted by Mayor Walker on the City Hall steps.

Wall street has its pigeons, so has the Old Trinity graveyard, and it is not an uncommon sight to see a stray pigeon strutting along Broadway with all the aplomb of a fair chorine. Oddly enough, they are not to be found in the residential section, but swarm chiefly about the great skyscrapers and public buildings. Pigeons are funny that way: they like to be seen in public places.

❖ ❖ ❖

But pigeons differ little, in that respect, from human beings. Visit any well known night club and you will find people there ostensibly for no other reason than to be seen. It is their particular form of enjoyment. There are three or four night clubs in New York where, to be seen, establishes you at once as a something-or-other about town.

There remains among clubs the practice of levying an extra charge for a good seat. I don't mean to say that specified rates are charged by the clubs for certain seats. But the headwaiter, always alert to values, expects a little something for a big front line table.

A seat on the New York Stock exchange recently sold for $550,000. A good seat in a good night club doesn't cost that much, but it costs plenty. And there are many people, natives and visitors, who are willing to pay for the privilege.

DAWES SLATED FOR ST. JAMES
English Ambassadorship Has Been Offered Him

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, March 13. (US)—"Keep your eye on Dawes for ambassador to Great Britain."

That broad hint regarding the future of Charles Gates Dawes, former vice president, came from an unusually well-informed and reliable source today.

Moreover, it was stated that it was "up to Dawes," which indicated that President Hoover already has tendered the most important post in the diplomatic corps to the former vice president.

The White House was silent on the report, owing to the fact that Mr. Hoover has announced that he will take no final action on the important diplomatic assignments until after the arrival of Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, now en route from Manila. Stimson is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco March 20 and come direct to Washington.

The former vice president is now resting at his home in Evanston, Ill. He is scheduled to sail from New York on March 20 for Santo Domingo at the head of a commission to iron out the financial and economic affairs of the island republic.

It has been rather definitely established for some time that Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton will not be continued at the London post. Houghton returned to England at the request of former President Coolidge after his defeat for the New York senatorship last fall. He has leased a house in Washington.

Chillicothe Pastor Answers Talk By Daniel to Kay Bible Class

Box 661, Chillicothe, Texas, March 11, 1929

Editor, The Record News: I am a reader of the daily paper, and in this morning's News found the sermon preached by Mr. Daniel. I read it and then took my Bible and compared his teaching with Christ, and found a great difference and because of my love and reverence for the truths of God and as a friend of The Record I have an answer from the pages of God's book to Mr. Daniel's sermon.

I am hoping that you will read it closely and then will publish it in The Record, and if it is not according to the teaching of the Son of God, I will be willing that you correct the error with God's word and place that with it.

The purpose of this letter and answer is not to create a religious discussion in the paper but to give the subscribers and readers of the paper the privilege of knowing what the Bible has said.

Your friend,
EVERETT O'DOWD.
Minister Church of Christ.

The Bible and Baptism

In reading the article that Mr. Daniel's placed before the public which is in direct opposition to the teaching of the Bible, I feel that it is my duty as a follower of Christ to give an answer to his sermon.

The first statement that Mr. Daniel makes that is foreign to God's word is that the Jews were familiar with the rite of baptism. I ask him to find one man that was ever baptized in the Old Testament. The word is not even mentioned in the old law and it was as new to the Jews as it is to the Gentile, and the Gentile did not have any knowledge of the old law. It is not in the Law.

But he quotes Matt. 28:19 and concludes that baptism is the entrance into the school of Christ. Now, if he means to teach that baptism is the door to the church and that a man cannot be saved unless he is a member of the body of Christ, then I heartily endorse his statement because Paul stated in Gal. 3:27. "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ." And again Roman 6:3. "Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Christ were baptized into his death." And Christ is the head of the church. Eph. 1:22-3. Col 1:18. So it is then by batism that we enter Christ and the church, and if a man is not in Christ his sins are not forgiven. II Cor. 5:17. It is the man that is in Christ that is a new creature. And we get into Christ by baptism. Gal. 3.27. Rom. 6:3-5. So baptism is essential to get into Christ, for it is the only way that is given in God's word.

Repentance

But Mr. Daniel calls our attention to Acts 2:38 and makes the point that Peter required repentance as the basic thing before baptism and I agree that faith and repentance must both precede baptism and if you were to baptize an idiot, imbecile or an untaught person, he would go into the act as a dry sinner and come out a wet. But when one obeys the command of the Savior and is baptized for the remission of sins, he must have faith in the Son of God. Jno. 8:24. Heb. 11:6. And then instead of Peter adding those 3,000 souls to the church, the apostle stated that the Lord did the adding. Acts 2:47. And the same is true with all that repent and are baptized today with faith in their hearts.

But Daniel makes two statements and one contradicts the other. He stated in the paragraph headed "Sorry for Sins" this reading: "But if we sincerely repent, and obey Christ in the inner life and in the outward sign of baptism our sins will be forgiven." But before he closed the thought he makes this statement. "For one I do not believe that baptism in any form is essential to salvation." In his first statement he gave this advice, "If we repent and are baptized we shall be saved," but in the other he said, "Baptism is not essential." Why did he try to deceive the public? Why didn't he say, "If you repent you shall be saved." That is what is implied and in doing that he contradicts the Savior and the Apostle Peter who had the keys to the kingdom. Jesus stated in Mark 16:16 "He that believeth and is baptised shall be saved." And he defies the language of Peter. I Pet. 3:21-4 "The like figure whereunto even Baptism doth, also now save us" (not the putting away the filth of the flesh but the answer of a clean conscience toward God.). Jesus tells us that the man that has faith and is baptised shall be saved. Peter states baptism does save us, yet Daniel says, "I believe it does not. Whom shall we believe? We will meet Jesus command at the judgment, but Daniel's is only an opinion. And in trying to justify himself and fool those who are not acquainted with the Bible, he tries to show that baptism is not essential because Jesus never baptised. But the Bible states that he did. Jno. 3:26 "And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, He that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou bares't witness, behold the same baptiseth and all men come to Him." Again, Jno. 4:1-2 "When therefore the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptised more disciples than John (though Jesus baptised not but his disciples) he departed into Galilee." Then because of the fact that Jesus had been baptising people it caused him to leave Judea and go to Galilee.

Refutes Statements

Then he runs and hunts what he claims to be another proof, the thief on the cross and makes the claim that he was saved without baptism and so can he. Jesus also raised the dead, while here, and Enoch was translated and Elijah entered Heaven by a fiery chariot but these were all before the cross and before Jesus came from the tomb. But Mr. Daniel knows as well as every one else who has read the Bible that there is not a man in the Bible who ever received the forgiveness of sins after the resurrection of the Savior without baptism. Not a one.

I ask for chapter and verse.

But then as regard to sprinkling as baptism I do not have the time to discuss that now. But the Methodists themselves according to their creed, believe that immersion is baptism, and that the scriptures teach it. But if they can get by without it they will sprinkle.

But for me this is a question of eternity and my soul is at stake and I do not want the opinion of Mr. Daniel and what he believes, but I want to know what God has said. I want his book as a guide, Christ as a creed, His church as a place to work and Heaven as a home. And as far as Mr. Lincoln is concerned I am not the judge, he may be saved or he may not, it makes no difference what I believe God will judge. But I know he has not the promise of God's word.

But this I do know and that is that God and His word has stated that baptism is essential for the salvation of lost and ruined humanity.

Mark 161:16. Acts. 2:38. Jno. 3:5. Matt. 28:19. 1 Pet. 3:21. Rom. 6:3-5. Gal. 3:27. Acts 8:36-40. Acts 16:14-15. Acts 16:33. Acts 10:47-8. Acts 9:18. Acts 8:12. And if it is not essential why is it commanded in God's word? Why was it that in the days of John the Baptist, the Pharisee and lawyers were rejected by God? Because they were not baptized. Luke 7:30. Time will not permit me to touch the subject of Lord's Supper but I will make this statement, that Mr. Daniel has not given you what the Bible has said concerning it, and my prayer is that he will turn and investigate the Scripture and tell the Kay Bible class what God has said instead of what he believes.

DAUGHERTY IN FORE AGAIN
Breaks Silence by Denying He Saw 'Green House'

By HARRY W. SHARPE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 13. (UP)—Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the Harding cabinet, has broken a long silence to disclaim all connection with the famous "Little Green House in K Street," Washington, which once was so notorious.

He has written a Columbus newspaper denying that he ever saw the house, ever knew any one who had been in it, and even casting doubt upon the existence of the house itself.

Writes From Florida

His letter came from Sarasota, Fla., and constituted the first word of Daugherty which many persons here had heard in many weeks. His home is at Washington Courthouse, near Columbus, but he has not been there recently.

Daugherty, at the same time he wrote the newspaper, wired to Senator James F. Watson of Indiana asking Watson to state publicly that "I was never inside the 'little green house' if there was one and never even saw it from the outside."

Watson, who is in Chicago, today said he had received the telegram from Daugherty, but that he could make nothing tangible out of it and had wired Daugherty for an explanation. Daugherty's letter and telegram were prompted, apparently, by a story printed in the Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch, written by Louis Ludlow, special Washington correspondent for the Dispatch. Daugherty felt that the story, which told of the "little green house" and Daugherty's alleged connection with it as brought out during the senate investigation of the department of justice under Daugherty, "made offensive reference" to him.

Daugherty's Message

The telegram to Senator Watson said:

"In reply to Mr. Ludlow's telegram as published and your reference to me and the 'so-called little green house,' for the sake of the truth and justice to Mr. Ludlow, Mr. Brown (Brown is not identified) and Senator King (of Utah) please state publicly that I was never inside 'the little green house' if there was one and never even saw it from the outside, that I never knew of any conference being held there, nor do I personally know any person who ever went there."

Another Cheap But Good Menu

In Tuesday's article I gave you a menu containing cheap but wholesome food, the total cost of which would only be 20c per person daily. Yesterday's menu calls for an expenditure of slightly over 31c per person, and here is another one today of wholesome food costing only 1c more or 32c per person daily. If you alternated these meals during the month so that the menus published Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday would each be repeated 10 times during the month. If you have a family of three, this would be only $27.00. Counting a slight deviation in prices and other foods which you may wish to add, you can see that it is possible for a person to live on wholesome food for as low as $10.00 per month.

Inexpensive Menu No. 3

Breakfast: Brown rice, milk, stewed raisins; luncheon: boiled spaghetti, carrot, turnip and celery stew, salad of chopped cabbage and celery, oleomargarine; dinner: tomato soup flavored with turnips and celery, roast pork, salad of grated carrots and spinach, applesauce.

In this menu I have listed brown rice, but other whole grain or ground whole cereals may be employed, among which I might suggest corn, buckwheat, millet, rye, rice, oats, etc. The cereals may be used whole by soaking overnight, or they may be run through a mill and either cracked or pulverized. For the sake of variety they may also be toasted before being boiled.

Spaghetti is included in the luncheon because it is a wholesome form of starch and yet one of the most inexpensive. Turnips and carrots are usually cheap vegetables, but celery may be excluded if it is expensive; or, a portion of a bunch of celery may be used for lunch and the remainder used at some other meal, in this way dividing the cost.

The dinner contains tomato soup, under the supposition that a portion of a can of tomatoes remains over from menu No. 2, used the previous day. To make this soup interesting, it may be varied with some of the celery and turnips used at a previous meal. In a similar manner a portion of the bunch of carrots used for the luncheon may be grated and mixed with the dinner salad.

These menus are only given as a suggestion of what can be done if one is desirous to limit the pocketbook to this extent.

I will be very pleased to hear from my readers as to their ideas in this connection. Some of you may be able to devise wholesome menus upon an even smaller allowance. I will also be pleased to help you solve any difficulties that you may discover when preparing menus. It is my intention to make this column just as helpful as possible, and any suggestions or criticisms will be gratefully received at any time.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Facial Rejuvenation

Question—Batrice asks: "Will you kindly tell me what you think of facial rejuvenation without surgery? This treatment consists of sunlight and violet ray, also lotion. The skin under the eyes is very loose and flabby and wrinkles are forming. Also, do you think these treatments will have to be kept up or are they permanent?"

Answer—Unless you are an actress it would be folly for you to take a chance on using any surgical measures such as face-lifting, etc. Treatments with the ultra-violet ray, skin lotions, hot and cold applications and massage are in rejuvenating the facial muscles circulation to the skin and assist all helpful in bringing about a good and tissues. It may be necessary to take some of these treatments occasionally, and it is worth while if you can afford them. Although beauty goes deeper than the skin, most people are happier if their skin is easy to look at. Don't forget that in achieving beauty a great deal can be done through developing internal cleanliness, principally through diet and colon hygiene.

Rainwater

Question—M. H. G. asks: "Can one get cedar poisoning from drinking rainwater from a roof covered with cedar shingles? Do you consider rainwater safe for drinking if well strained and stored in a clean, cemented cistern?"

Answer—There have been cases of poisoning reported from the causes you have mentioned. The safest water to drink is that which has been distilled. This process removes all types of poisons and contamination and is the only way to produce pure water.

Gritting Teeth

Question—Mrs. A. H. G. asks: "What causes a person to grit his teeth at night?"

Answer—The usual cause is from digestive disturbances but may with children be also caused by the presence of intestinal parasites, such as pinworms.

Athletes Show More Hitting in 7-Inning Contest

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Skipper Jim didn't have any heart for his athletes yesterday. Continued balmy weather was just too good to waste, and after a two-hour session in the morning, the foreman sent the poor tossers through a three-hour drill in the afternoon. The p. m. session was enlivened by a seven-inning ball game,, in which the regulars defeated the yannigans. The score was 11 to 5.

The pastime enabled the athletes to have further look at some good pitching. The chuckers have reached the stage now where they are bearing down for a few innings. Mr. Galloway believes nothing is so conducive to good hitting as lots of hitting, and that the best place to learn to hit is in a ball game. Hence the many practice affairs indulged in to date.

The boss is getting his squad ready for the first exhibition games, with the St. Paul Saints of the American association, here Saturday and Sunday. The lineup which will oppose Bob Connery's club doubtless will be very similar to that which represented the Spudders last Sunday and yesterday.

These About Certain

Jack Crouch doubtless will catch, and Dallas Clements, Pete Turgeon, Wally Swenson and George Spiers seem certain to comprise the infield. Red Bennett and Howard Fitzgerald of course will be in their regular garden places. That is, they probably will start that way Saturday.

Right field is doubtful. Big Cameron Best replaced Garland Orr in that spot yesterday for the regulars but that doesn't necessarily mean the change is to be permanent.

Roland Roberts, Harold Wiltse, Lester White, Cy Smith and one or two other flingers have indicated they are ready to chuck a few innings and the job Saturday doubtless will be delegated to two or three of the above-named.

Rabbit Benton worked out at short yesterday, though he wasn't in the practice game. He'll be ready to play soon.

They Take Their Time

The veterans Brick Eldred and Pete Lapan are taking their time in rounding into condition.

Bennett is a slow starter and hasn't yet begun hitting the ball in his customary vigorous and frequent manner.

The kid Debs Garms continues to flash lots of class at shortstop and he is a speedy chap on the base lines, as well as afield.

Lefty Cox, the local boy, clouted a home run for the rookies yesterday. He also smashed a one-base hit and continues to look better every day defensively. Cox's wife underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday morning and was reported resting well last night.

Four Hurlers Work

Chief Moore and Roberts hurled for the regs yesterday against White and Galeria. Lawrence relieved Crouch and Gordon substituted for Swenson for the regulars.

The colts lined up with Garms and Johnny Norek at short, Bear Allday and Buddy Lewis at second, Ray Anderson in left, Wright at third, Orr in right, Orr in right, Cox at first and Bradbury behind the log.

White, who always was a hard hitting pitcher, also smacked a home run.

Lyons, Sternberg Feature Bowling

Texas company, Parfet & Martlew and Texas Electrics scored victories in two out of three games over Continental Oil, Elks club and First National bank, last night in the City Bowling league on the Spudder alleys.

Parfet & Martlew had high team score for three games with 2618. Lyons of Texas company was high individual roller for three games with 628 and Sternberg of Continental was high for a single game with 235. Lyons rolled two games of 215 each and his third was 198. Scores.

George Courtney Meets Tassi in Return Battle

NEW YORK, March 13. (UP)—George Courtney, Oklahoma cowboy, and Nando Tassi, Italian light-heavyweight, were signed today for a return bout at the Broadway arena, Brooklyn, next Friday night.

When they met recently, Courtney won when Tassi failed to answer the bell for the fourth round.

Cy Smith, a big righthander, is a foremost contender for a place on the Spudder pitching staff. He has lots of speed on his fast one, as is appropriate from one who comes from the Piedmont league. A change of pace and deceptive hook, with an easy delivery and apparent knowledge of how to use his stuff completes the varied assortment possessed by the chucker from the cigaret loop.

Smith is a young man, of retiring disposition, and is of great popularity among his fellow players and the fans who know him here.

TUT JENKINS, ol' dynamite himself, seems to have blasted his way into the big leagues. I note that a St. Louis sports writer, down at Palm Beach where the Browns are training, writes that Thomas is banging the ball with such eclat that he probably will be retained by Skipper Dan Howley.

Ray Cahill, scout for the Browns, who is with the Tulsa Oilers at their training camp at Abilene, also thinks Jenkins will stay up there this trip. Prexy Anderson, sports editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, in his colyum recently quotes Cahill as saying that Jenkins is pretty sure to stick.

"Cahill isn't so sure about any of the rest of the Spudder squad that went with Jenkins," Anderson writes. "Buck Stanton, first baseman, and one of the Texas shipment, chipped a knee in practice and was sent to St. Louis for an operation. He won't be in shape till May."

Herb Cobb, pitcher and Eddie Roetz, infielder, are the other former Spudders with the Browns. Ike Danning, catcher who was here in the spring but played with New Haven of the Eastern league, the club from which Ed Taber, the bespectacled southpaw now with the Spudders, was acquired, also is trying for a Brownie job.

HOUSTON is looking to Pancho Snyder for another pennant winner. It seems that Bayou City fans are pinning their hopes on Duck Burrus and their pitching staff, along with the managerial and catching skill of Pancho himself.

Burrus, the former Boston Brave, is expected to be the greatest first baseman in the Texas league. And at that, he probably will be a star. The new Buff first sacker should be an improvement over Walker, who now is with Denver.

Buff town enthusiasts also expect their pitchers, of whom there is Lindsey, Moon, Paulio Spittio Wachtelio, Freeze, Watt and others, to stand opposing batters on their heads. Mebbe so. Mebbe NOT.

I can't say so much for those pitchers.

BASKET ball may be over for the other teams, but it is only starting at Zundelowitz and Reagan Junior High schools. Those teams start their "city championship" series tonight and great is the interest at both institutions. Regardless of what past success or failure has been, the Reagan-Zundelowitz series is the climax, and they would rather win that than all previous games.

They are to play a five-game series, with games tomorrow night and Friday of this week, and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, if the play is extended to the five games. All contests are on the Zundelowitz floor and start at 8 o'clock, and one who wants to see some fast basket ball played by juveniles is advised to be among those present.

ART SHIRES has made baseball history. I don't believe the annals of the game record an instance of a rookie who was made captain of a big league team before he had played one full season in the fast time. Shires recently was appointed field leader of the Chicago White Sox by Manager Lena Blackburne—and Art's major league experience is confined to his playup there after he reported late last summer.

No rookie since the advent of Ty Cobb ever went into the big leagues with such color as the fighting, aggressive Shires. Larry Woltz, veteran baseball scribe of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, recently wrote the following of Shires:

"Last season during the Cub-Sox city series Shires rammed Catcher Glabby Harnett of the Bruins at the plate so hard he almost carried the big backstop to the grandstand wall. After the game I asked Joe McCarthy, Cubs' manager, if he didn't think Art had been a little unnecessarily rough. 'I love 'em like him,' McCarthy replied, gritting his teeth, his eyes sparkling. 'He's going to make a great star.'

"More evidence of the kid's grit is revealed in the story of an incident at St. Louis late last season when Shires volunteered to 'go' with Lou Blue, Browns' first sacker, reputed to be one of the toughest fellows in the majors."

CAGERS LEARN WINNING HABIT

Porkers-Sooners Among Consistent Champions

By ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Once a college acquires the idea it can turn out championship basket ball teams, there seems no way to discourage it.

Witness the sectional triumphs of such aggregations this winter as the University of California, the University of Arkansas, University of Oklahoma and the University of Pennsylvania. It is a habit with these outfits.

California's Golden Bears, by knocking off Washington in the playoff at Seattle, captured the Pacific coast conference honors for the fifth time in six seasons. Arkansas has lost only one Southwestern conference game in two years and now holds the title for the fourth successive time. Oklahoma has made it two in a row.

At Pennsylvania, where the influence of the famous McNichol family of stars carries on with Eddie McNichol as coach, the Quakers have possession of the eastern league crown for the second straight year and eighth time in league history.

These Were Stars

No one has yet tackled the task of picking an all-American basket ball team. Perhaps it will be for the best if no one does, although the job of picking the best five basket tossers in the land is scarcely more difficult than the task of selecting an all-American football eleven.

It's possible to start with Charley Hyatt, Pittsburgh's great forward, and go on through a notable list of stars. Hyatt, in the opinion of many coaches, is one of the best all-around performers of this or any other season. He scored 302 points for the Panthers in 21 games.

But if Hyatt is picked for one forward post it leaves only one more place open to such a galaxy as Joe Schaaf, Pennsylvania ace; Tom Churchill, the Oklahoma all around athlete; Capt. Vern Corbin of California, Frank McMillan of Idaho, Holly Brock of the University of Texas, Bud Foster of Wisconsin, Wear Schoonover of Arkansas, and Thompson of the powerful Montana State quintet.

If it wasn't for starting another argument, Schaaf might be nominated, although he also fits in perfectly as a running guard.

Pickell Tall Boy

"Stretch" Murphy, the lanky Purdue star and record breaking high scorer of the Big Ten loop, has at least an inch or two margin on most rival centers. Tom Pickell of Arkansas is another altitudinous jumper of ability.

It might not be the best, but an all-American quintet composed of Hyatt and Churchill, forwards; Murphy, center; Schaaf and Gregory, guards, would be hard to stop. Yet it might be done by another five composed of Foster and Corbin, forwards; Pickell, center; Wineapple and Phillips or McCoy, guards.

Training Camp Chatter

DALLAS, March 13. (UP)—Led by the big stick of Johnny Kerr, hard-hitting rookie second sacker, the Chicago White Sox turned back the Dallas Steers for the fourth consecutive time Wednesday afternoon at Steer stadium by the score of 10 to 4. The little Pacific coast star collected four hits including a triple and a double and drove in a brace of runs.

William Kamm, veteran hot corner guardian, poled the first home run of the year in the fifth frame with two men on bases.

The pitching honors of the day went to "Dangerous" Dan Dugan, former St. Louis university star, who toiled four frames for the Sox.

The game was raggedly played with six errors accounting for eight of the 14 runs.

Score:				R.	H.	E.
Dallas Steers	.000	001	300—	4	12	4
White Sox	.000	051	04x—10	11	2

Barnabe, Harris, Schuman and Billings, Benn; Dugan, Connally, Walsh and Autry, Crouse.

CARDS ROUT RED SOX

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 13. (AP)—A batting rampage in the sixth inning that netted 10 runs, including a homer by Hafey, gave the St. Louis Cardinals an easy victory over the Boston Red Sox, American league club, here this afternoon, 13 to 3.

Score:				R.	H.	E.
St. Louis N.	002	0010	,001—13	16	0
Boston A.	021	000	000— 3	6	2

Bell, Jonnard and E. Smith, Elliott; Durham, Bayne, Carrol and Barry, Asby.

GIANTS PLAY BEARS

SAN ANTONIO, March 13. (AP)—Rain today caused cancellation of the exhibition game between the New York Giants and San Antonio Bears.

The game will be played tomorrow and two more games will be played Saturday and Sunday by the same teams.

Announcement was made that on March 23 and 24 the Chicago White Sox would be here to play the New York Giants.

Rain did not deter the Giants in their workout today.

YANKEES BEAT BRAVES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13. (AP)—With a three-run rally in the eighth inning, the New York Yankees opened their annual exhibition series with the Boston Braves today with a 6 to 3 victory.

Gehrig, Byrd, Lazzeri and Lary supplied the slugging at the expense of Pitcher Henry Wertz in the Yankees' big inning. Byrd also produced two runs in the second with a homer inside the lot.

Score:				R.	H.	E.
New York (A).	020	000	130—	6	10	2
Boston (N).	000	111	000—	3	4	1

Johnson, Rhodes and Jorgens, Dickens; Jones, Wertz and Collins, Leggett.

CUBS DRILL STRENOUSLY

AVALON, Catalina Island, March 13. (UP)—Manager Joe McCarthy sent the Chicago Cubs through a strenuous workout today. He was handicapped by the ailments of Woody English, regular shortstop, who has an infected foot, and Gabby Hartnett, catcher, whose bad arm forced him to work in the outfield.

Clarence Blair is expected to fill the infield gap in the week-end games with the Los Angeles team. He will work at second base and Clyde Beck will move over to shortstop. Gonzales will catch.

IT'S UP TO WANERS

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 13. (UP)—President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates has arranged no conference with the Waner brothers, Lloyd and Paul, who are holdouts, and has no further salary offers to make, he said today.

Batting featured today's workout in preparation for games with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league.

ULTIMATUM TO JONES

TAMPA, Fla., March 13. (UP)—President Clark Griffith issued his final ultimatum to Sad Sam Jones, star right-handed pitcher of the Washington Senators, today when he ordered him to agree to terms or get out of camp tomorrow.

Jones has been offered a $1,000 increase over last season and the difference in his present demand and the actual contract provided Washington has a good season financially.

PHILS HAVE STICK DRILL

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 13. (UP)—The Philadelphia Phillies engaged in a long batting drill and a short fielding drill today in preparation for tomorrow's exhibition game with the Athletics. Willoughby, Roy and Baecht are slated to work three innings each against the Macks.

SEALS WHALE PIRATES

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 13. (UP)—The San Francisco Seals invaded the Pittsburgh Pirates' training camp today and romped away with a 10 to 1 victory over the major leaguers.

Thirteen hits were collected by the coast team off Carmen Hill, Jess Petty and Burleigh Grimes, Pirate veterans. The Pirates got only five hits.

REDS TRIM A. A. NINE

SARASOTA, Fla., March 13. (UP)—Scoring six runs in the ninth inning, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Indianapolis American association club here today, 10 to 4. Although touched for 13 hits, Kolp, Zahniser and Kemner, who pitched for the Reds, kept them scattered.

TIGERS GO ON ROAD

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 13. (UP)—Preparing for an invasion of the Pacific coast next week, the Detroit Tigers entertained several hundred baseball fans at their training camp here this afternoon in an intra-squad contest. The regulars won, 7 to 2.

After rounding out the five-game intra-squad competition here with two week-end contests, Manager Bucky Harris will take his regulars to San Diego Monday for a game with the Hollywood Sheiks and on Tuesday to Santa Ana for a match with the Portland Beavers.

A'S TO MEET PHILS

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 13. (UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will open a seven-game exhibition series with the Philadelphia Nationals at Winter Haven tomorrow. The second game of the series will be played here. Drill today was confined to a single workout.

WRIGHT WORKING OUT

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 13. (UP)—Max Carey returned from Miami, Fla., today and reported that Glenn Wright, star shortstop who went there to have his shoulder treated, is working out and that he believes Wright will be in good condition in two weeks.

The regulars defeated the yannigans in a practice game today, 4 to 3. Clark, Elliott and Dudley pitched for the regulars. Nick Cullop, recruit outfielder, continued his hard hitting, driving in two yannigan runs with a triple.

Farrell and Sarazen Win Another Match at Miami

MIAMI, Fla., March 13. (AP)—Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen took a firmer grasp on their chances for retaining the championship of the international four-ball golf matches today, defeating Willie MacFarlane, Westchester, N. Y., and Harry Hampton, Key West and Chicago, six and five.

Stribling Asks $50,000 To Fight Scott in London

NEW YORK, March 13. (UP)—Young Stribling of Georgia has received a request from London to name his terms for a match with Phil Scott there this spring. Stribling will go over and fight the tall British champion for $50,000 and four round-trip tickets, the Georgian's "pa" replied.

Bud Taylor to Fight Al Singer Friday Night

NEW YORK, March 13. (UP)—Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., and Al Singer of New York, featherweight contenders, meet Friday night in a return engagement at Madison Square garden. When they fought in February, Singer won on a foul in the fourth round.

THREE BRUINS STILL ABSENT

Grimes, Tate and Mulvey Expected Soon

SAN ANTONIO, March 13. (AP)—Three Bears are yet to report to complete the squad. They are First Baseman Ray Grimes, Third Baseman Joe Tate and Outfielder Hank Mulvey, and are expected daily.

Pitcher Norman Glaser, the latest to arrive, is in Bear camp in Laredo, where the players who did not come to San Antonio for the Giant games are working out under the direction of Honus Mitze, former Bear pilot, who will manage the Coleman team in the West Texas league, a Bear farm, this year.

EXPORTERS DRIVEN TO COVER BY RAIN

BEAUMONT, March 14.—Steady rains put the Exporters under cover today beneath the grandstand, where they worked out in preparation for the first exhibition game here Monday against the New York Giants.

WACO CUBS GET FIRST WORKOUT

WACO, March 13. (AP)—The sun peeped through for the first time in three days here today and enabled the Waco Cubs to go through their initial workout of the season. Under the direction of Manager Pratt the hurlers loosened the kinks from their twirling arms and the batters had their first opportunity to test their batting eyes.

HOMER BLANKENSHIP RETURNED TO DALLAS

DALLAS, March 13. (AP)—Optimism in the camp of the Dallas Steers took a jump today with word from California that the Pittsburgh Pirates were turning Homer Blankenship, husky right-handed pitcher, back to Dallas.

FORT WORTH CATS TO PLAY WHITE SOX

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, March 13. (AP)—About the same lineup that opposed Oklahoma City last week-end will represent Fort Worth Friday, Saturday and Sunday, when the Cats tackle the Chicago White Sox at La Grave field. The one change probably will be in left field, where Jim Bryan will alternate with Herb Kregel.

JOINS SPORTS

SHREVEPORT, La., March 13. (AP)—With arrival today of Dick Cox, an outfielder from last year's team, the roster of the Shreveport Texas league's spring training camp lacked only one name of being complete. Jim Grant, a southpaw hurler, has not reported.

YOUNG BUFF HURLERS WILL FACE GIANTS

HOUSTON, March 13. (AP)—Five of the six twirlers Manager Snyder intends to use here Saturday and Sunday against the first string New York Giants will be youngsters. The Buff skipper does not intend to use any hurler more than three rounds.

The six twirlers slated for action are Perrin and Moon, southpaws, and Lee Hellums, "Lefty" Myres, Jake Freese and Charlie Breeden, right-handers.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

WASHINGTON, March 13.—All we have to say about the Jones law is that we didn't think a man named Jones would do a thing like that.

Just to make it unanimous we should have some more laws for the Browns and the Smiths.

Five years in the jail coop for a drink and $10,000 for a chaser.

Why, the penalty is enough to make you swallow.

There is only one consolation. It's the same redress that the Alabama farmer has when he is chasing a boll weevil to get back his cotton.

If the cops go around smelling people's breaths, they had better wear nose-guards.

There's going to be a lot of enforcement agents bitten.

And there is always chances of a hung jury bringing in a favorable verdict of halitosis.

Anybody who takes a drink now is as foolish as a turtle, who not only supplies tortoise soup, but carries his own stewing pan around on his back.

Jones is tough. You can bend the merry elbow. But you can't bend a steel bar.

It's great to be behind the grating for five years, wondering where the keys to the city are.

You are in danger when your hip pocket gargles in the moonlight.

The possession of a pint flask in your hip pocket is a violation. It means that your trousers are classed as a public vehicle.

And you cannot convince the judge that you stopped drinking in 1920 and that you are only staggering through habit.

Before passing that bill, Mr. Jones should have stopped to think. He will get the names of Jones so hated that people will even refuse to open a telephone book.

And we do not even care to hear John McCormack sing, "If I Had the Wings of a Swallow."

If you haven't got the price of swallow, what good are the wings?

The punishment exceeds the crime. Five years in the iron garage, $10,000 fine, and furnish your own bromo seltzer.

HALL, M'COMAS WIN KNOCKOUTS

Sutherland and Hodge Box Ten Fast Rounds

Cyclone Hall returned to the ring wars here last night and scored another knockout victory. The victim of the Childress middleweight was a fellow named Johnny Papke and the Cyclone won in the fourth round.

The first round was even after a furious exchange of punches but Hall took the second and Papke was near a k. o. in the third when he was floored for two eight counts. They were boxing in the final of three 10-round bouts at the Palace theater.

Hall weighed 154 pounds and conceded six pounds to his foe.

Rudy Hodge of Houston and Pug Sutherland of Childress fought 10 slashing rounds, with little to choose. Superior milling at close range by Hodge was offset by Sutherland carrying the quarrel much of the way and by his hard hitting.

They are welterweights. Pug and Rudy were given a big hand for their interesting go.

Joe McComas, that clever banty from Dallas, outfought Johnny Garvinay, the game and rugged Mexican, for eight rounds and won in the ninth on a technical knockout when Garvinay failed to answer the bell. Johnny's lip was badly cut by the barrage of punches landed by Joe. Garvinay took a count of nine in the seventh round.

A crowd that packed the lower floor and part of the galleries saw the pleasing show.

Bucs Didn't Know Wright Hurt Arm

PASO ROBLES, Calif., March 13. (AP)—Officials of the Pittsburgh Pirates stated today they had no knowledge that Glenn Wright's arm was injured at the time the former Pirate shortstop was traded to Brooklyn for Jess Petty, pitcher, and Harry Riconda, infielder.

Information has been received here to the effect that the Pittsburgh officials knew of Wright's injury last winter and that this knowledge might have influenced them in making the deal.

UNCLE ROBBIE'S GOOD FELLOWSHIP WON'T WIN BALL GAMES

SIXTH IS BEST BROOKLYN HOPE

Powerful Pitching Staff Is Greatest Asset

(This is the third of a series of articles by George E. Phair on the pennant race in the National league).

By GEORGE E. PHAIR

In spite of McWeeney
And Clark and Vance,
The Dodgers haven't got
Half a chance.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 12. (US)—Uncle Robbie is the most companionable of all baseball managers. But that doesn't induce this scribe to place the Brooklyn club higher than sixth place in the National league pennant race of 1929.

The Robins are not a winning ball club, in spite of a powerful pitching staff.

Even without the aid of Jess Petty, who has been traded to Pittsburgh, the Robins have a hurling staff of much potency. Dazzy Vance is almost a whole pitching corps all by himself. With a strong team to aid and abet him, he would be practically impregnable, but the strong team is lacking. Nevertheless, he won 22 games last year and finished the season with the best record of earned runs.

Assisting Dazzy on the mound are Doug McWeeney, a smart right-hander, and Watson Clark, a southpaw of many capabilities. This trio is about as strong as any three in the National league. Then there is Jumbo Elliott, another southpaw who can burn them over for a short distance, Rube Earhart and a few others.

Wright Helps Infield

The infield is bound to be stronger than last year with the addition of Glenn Wright, late of Pittsburgh. Glenn was one of the greatest shortstops in baseball a few years ago, but spent most of the last campaign on the bench owing to temperamental differences with Barney Dreyfuss, proprietor of the Pirates. These same differences made Glenn careless in his behavior and caused him to slip from greatness as an athlete.

With a change of scenery and a congenial manager on the bench, Wright may snap out of it and retrieve his former greatness in the field. He is still in the prime of life and equipped with all the physical qualities of a baseball star.

Del Bissonette, on first base, is a dynamic hitter in the general direction of the right field wall, but only a fair fielder, mentally and physically. Jake Flowers is a good second baseman, and young Gilbert covers his position well at third, but thus far has not shown any startling ability to hit big league pitching.

Babe Herman is the hardest hitter among the outfielders, but not the hardest thinker. He will play right field regularly and think irregularly. Old Max Carey will be right there as a substitute in case the Babe is struck on the head by a fly ball.

Center Field Open

Rube Bressler, a good, all-around workman, will cover the left field territory and do it acceptably. Center field, left vacant by the sale of Jigger Statz, is an open question. Among the available candidates are Harvey Hendrick, who was with the club last year; Nick Cullop, who played with the Yanks and Senators, and Johnny Fredericks, a heavy hitting young man from Memphis.

The catching staff, consisting of Butch Henline, Hank Deberry and Johnny Gooch, will never amaze the universe by its brilliance. Just three catchers and nothing more.

The political situation in Flatbush, if nothing else, would ruin a better ball club than the Robins. With Uncle Robbie and Steve McKeever growling at each other 24 hours per day, harmony is out of the question. As Aristotle said to Madame Pompadour:

"A house divided against itself ain't going to land in the first division."

The Duffer's Spring Song

When the green gets back in the grass again
And the blue gets back in the sky;
When the gold gets back in the sun again
As the gentler winds drift by;
When the pink gets back in the bloom again
And light gets back in the land,
Then the duffer gets in the rough again
And the dub gets back in the sand.
When the purple gets to the hills again
And silver gets to the dew;
When the scarlet flames on the tanager
And the whole world gleams anew;
When the yellow's back in the primrose tints
And jazz is back in the band,
Then the duffer's back in the trape again
And the dub is back in the sand.

Quite a Change

Up through 1910 the only pros good enough to win an open golf championship were the English and the Scotch—Willie Anderson, Alex Smith, Harry Vardon—Laurie Auchterlonie, etc. Joplin, Mo., is a long way from Scotland. So is Westchester county, N. Y. These two places have given the game Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Joe Turnesa, the Ciuci boys and a few more. But the battle between the homebreds and the Scotch-English delegates is still keen. They meet again in the rich La Gorce open, Jacksonville, and later at Pinehurst.

On the homebred side are Farrell, Hagen, Sarazen, Diegel, Horton Smith, Turnesa, Burke, Kline, Melhorn and others. On the opposing side are Armour, Mac Smith, MacFarlane, Cruickshank, Kirkwood and eight or ten more almost as good.

The open championship battles of the last ten years have been far from one-sided.

Here is the official count:

Foreign-born—Ray, 1920; Barnes, 1921; Walker, 1924; MacFarlane, 1925; Armour, 1927—five winners.

Homebred—Hagen, 1919; Sarazen, 1922; Jones, 1923; Jones, 1926; Farrell, 1928—five winners.

One Big Shot

Mr. Albert Lasker, of Chicago, now at Miami Beach, believes that one-shot Johnny Farrell made in the La Gorce open, last spring, helped to make him open champion at Olympia Fields later on.

"Farrell," says Mr. Lasker, "came to the 71st hole with a chance to win. He had just missed out before in most of the big money tournaments and all the open championships. This hole is about 470 yards, with an elevated green. After a good drive Farrel hesitated between an iron and a spoon. He took out an iron and then changed back a spoon. It was to be the vital stroke of the $15,000 tournament. His spoon shot stopped close to the pin on a par five hole, and from that point on he was a different golfer. He played with a boldness at Olympia Fields that carried him through."

The golf struggle in the South will be sizzling for the next few weeks and it may help to give a good line on the June show at Winged Foot.

Babe Ruth is one of the few who can go boom without having to faw down.

Part of the Route—Anyway

One of the depressing slogans of the game is this: "They don't come back."

Over in Boston Jim Maloney is at least proving they can start back and come quite a distance. For a while they had Maloney bouncing up and down like a rubber ball. Now he is whipping most of those who whipped him.

If he and Sharkey ever meet in Boston, it will take two ball parks to hold the assembled populace. It seems to be too luscious a financial card to be overlooked. Whatever happens, Maloney has jogged a long distance from the fish pier where they dug him out of retirement. And you can find a number of people about Boston who are not so sure that Jack Sharkey can drive him back again.

Prohibition will be enforced on the same day the slice is abolished in golf.

JACK'S FUTURE IS UNSETTLED

Dempsey Gets More Ballyhoo for His Promotion

NEW YORK, March 13. (UP)—Jack Dempsey sparred a couple of fast rounds today with a couple of fat financial offers for his future services.

The verdict was "no decision" in each case.

Whether the former champion is stalling for time for the sake of the publicity involved, or whether he really cannot make up his mind as to what he wants to do next, no one can say.

One thing is certain; Jack doesn't go in to finish off these financial transactions the way he used to do with his opponents in the ring. He has become a strictly defensive fighter as far as his negotiations are concerned.

W. F. Carey got in the first licks at Dempsey on behalf of the Madison Square Garden corporation. "Bill" called for Jack at 10 a. m. and took the ex-champion downtown for a conference on the subject of succeeding Tex Rickard as the figure-head of Madison Square garden.

Rejects Garden Offer

Later, Dempsey admitted inferentially that he had rejected Carey's proposition.

Then Humbert J. Fugazy, who aspired to be Rickard's rival in the field of fight promotion while Tex was alive, had his session with Jack at the office of the ex-champion's attorney, Arthur Driscoll. This conference dragged out late in the day, finally ending in a deadlock.

Dempsey did admit that Fugazy's offer was "most attractive," but added that it was not acceptable as it stood. He will confer with the Brooklyn promoter again on Monday.

Meanwhile, Jack may go to Detroit to learn the best offer of a group of Michigan capitalists headed by former Governor Green.

"I'm playing these people one against the other," Dempsey insisted. "I'm still listening and still waiting to see what seems best for me to do.

"Whoever makes me the best offer can have me. Fugazy made me a definite offer, back up by real cash. That offer, as it stands, isn't good enough. It will have to be revised. There are a number of things we have to talk over next Monday."

Jack Plays His Hand

Dempsey said that the amount of money involved in Fugazy's proposition was "several times" that offered by Madison Square garden.

Fugazy introduced a diminutive and confident young man known as Ed Cole as the man with the money, and Cole exhibited six checks for unknown amounts which he said he was prepared to hand over to Dempsey.

The whole affair has the earmarks of what the boys in the boxing business so aptly term the "run-around." Dempsey is playing his hand skilfully, obtaining the maximum amount of publicity for the minimum of promises. Very likely he knows now what he intends to do. But he has learned the art of which Tex Rickard was a past master—that of keeping the ball rolling and his name before the public.

Conger to Face Fast Mile Field

Iowan Races Saturday Night at New York

NEW YORK, March 13.—Ray Conger, curly haired Iowan, has a chance to establish himself as the outstanding miler of the world this week, provided he can show his heels to the great field of competitors in the mile run of the K. of C. games in Madison Square garden Saturday night.

The conqueror of Paavo Nurmi is perhaps the greatest "money runner" of them all, and if he can add Edvin Wide, Elmo Purje and Leo Lermond to his list of victims he will deserve the international recognition that has long been denied him.

Nurmi May Enter

The special mile run, which will feature the meet which closes the indoor season, may even attract Paavo Nurmi back for another try at the classic distance. The Finn, beaten by Conger in the Millrose games, had his suspension lifted Saturday and ran to victory in a team race that night, partnering his fellow countryman, Ove Anderson.

The distance is a bit short for Nurmi and Wide these days, but it is right in Purje's alley. The stocky young Finn beat Paavo in the days when Conger couldn't have kept within 50 yards of him. And Purje holds the world's record for 2,000 meters.

Others in Field

The field will include Galen Eliot, southern intercollegiate one-mile champion, and Joe Hickey of New York university, national intercollegiate titleholder.

Conger looks to be the class of the field, and yet his times for the mile have been nothing extraordinary. It is just that he almost invariably winds up in front—a great "money runner."

A year ago he was the only man to beat Lloyd Hahn; this year, the only one to show his heels to Paavo Nurmi. Victory next Saturday should establish Conger as the best of the season beyond all dispute.

TYLER PILOT NAMED

TYLER, Texas, March 13. (UP)—Roy Leslie, veteran first baseman, former Texas and major leaguer, was signed this afternoon to manage the Tyler Trojans, according to an announcement tonight by C. L. Burger, president of the club.

". . . . the driver crumpled up, mortally wounded . . . " from The Hold Up, playing over WLW, Cincinnati, Thursday, March 14, 8:00 o'clock Central Time; 9:00 o'clock Eastern Time.

HELD UP!

A hold up in motion pictures, or better yet, in a Polson Picturette by radio is a thrilling moment full of enjoyment for the listener. Tune in on this and following programs every Thursday over WLW, at 8:00 o'clock Central, or 9:00 o'clock Eastern standard time.

A hold up when motoring, in the form of a puncture is very often exciting, but is never pleasing or entertaining. Particularly at high speeds, with low pressure tires, the puncture hazard becomes very real and many cars go into the ditch as the result of sudden flats.

Polson Super Tubes, the automobile inner tubes that make tires last longer, are designed to stop most punctures. A heavy inner tread, highly compressed when the tube is inflated, will self-seal nearly all ordinary tread punctures permanently. But this isn't all, for Polson Tubes in addition, cushion tires against road shocks and maintain air pressure evenly for months without attention, resulting in a substantial tire mileage increase. They are an investment which pays big dividends in economy, as well as in freedom from worry.

Come in, and let us tell you how to avoid "hold-ups."

HAMMON BUYS OIL PROPERTIES

Over $180,000 Paid For Garrett Interests

The second deal recently made involving considerable cash for oil and oil properties in the Wichita Falls district was closed a few days ago when Wayne H. Hammon, independent operator, purchased from M. M. Garrett his interests in several valuable properties for a consideration of between $180,000 to $200,000.

The properties in which Mr. Hammon acquired these interests, totalled about 4,300 acres located in Wichita, Archer, Jack and Brown counties in Texas, with valuable leases in the Wilson field near Chanute in Kansas, the greater portion of the daily output of 1,200 barrels of oil being in Wichita and Brown counties. The Wichita holdings are located on the McCarty land and John & Jeff Waggoner sections in the Beaver Creek district, including some of the most productive tracts in the county. According to Mr. Hammon he will begin in the near future a thorough development of several of his new properties.

1928 Production Levels Urged

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., March 13.—Interior committee of the American Petroleum Institute at a conference Wednesday recommended to the general conference to take place Friday at Houston that the 1929 domestic production, plus imports, be maintained at 1928 totals. The delegates from the interior committee were also urged to recommend steps to restrict drilling in all oil fields so that the 1928 output totals might be established.

Oil output in 1928 averaged 2,429,995 barrels a day, and estimates of the committee, headed by W. C. Franklin of Tulsa, with J. Edgar Pew of Dallas, assisting, said that unless restrictions were made that 1929 production would approximately amount to 2,694,150 barrels a day, leaving an excess of 200,000 to 400,000 barrels for the year.

E. B. Reeser, president of the institute and a delegation left tonight for Houston to attend the conference to take place at the Rice hotel. According to Mr. Reeser this will be the most important meeting that has yet been held for the purpose of stabilizing world oil situation.

Selection of Foods Explained by Expert

The importance of careful selection of foods in order to obtain the maximum degree of nutrition was discussed before the Optimist club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon by Dr. Marietta Eichelberger of St. Louis, assistant national director of the American Red Cross nutrition service.

Dr. Eichelberger declared that malnutrition may result from overeating of too rich foods as frequently as from not having enough to eat. Many diseases result directly or indirectly, she said, from improper nutrition, although the amount of food may have been plentiful.

During the three and one-half years since the nutrition service was instituted in Wichita Falls schools, the speaker stated that the number of children either 10 per cent underweight or 20 per cent overweight has been reduced from 33 per cent of the enrollment to 12 per cent.

Vocal numbers were given by H. H. Ferrell, accompanied by Miss Kathryn Orr. Club singing was led by Joel H. MacGregor.

EASTLAND TOAD STORY DENIED

Experts Talk of Warts And Such Things

By W. F. SULLIVAN

CHICAGO, March 13. (UP)—The bogeyman's "boo" was originated for the same reason they put warts on toads—it has the same helpful effect of scaring little children for their own good.

Toad warts, however, are no more transferable than the warts on pickles but the danger of poison in handling them (the toads) should keep all little boys and girls at their distance.

Expert Talks

"The common belief that the handling of toads may cause warts is wholly without foundation," Karl P. Schmidt, expert on reptiles of field museum, said in an article published in a leaflet today. "It has evidently arisen from the simple wartiness of toads and the existence of warts on the hands of small boys.

"The skin of toads does create a poison, which is a violent irritant to the mouth and eyes, but not to the skin of man. The poison probably protects the toad from some of its enemies. Dogs, at any rate, usually learn to leave them alone after a single trial."

Alfred Weed, an authority on reptiles at the museum, explained to the United Press today that the milky fluid of some toads is extremely poisonous and was used by Indian tribes to make their arrow points more deadly.

"Old Rip" Questioned

Weed also branded as "incredible," recent stories of the famous horned toad of Eastland, Texas, which was said to have remained alive more than a score of years while entombed in a cornerstone.

"The story seems preposterous," Weed said, "despite the fact that certain individuals were quoted as having seen the toad placed in the cornerstone and witnessed its removal after its long entombment. The horned toad, however, is of the lizard family and vastly different from the common warted toad.

"The common toad and frog goes into hibernation each winter and remains in seclusion until warm weather returns. Toads and frogs are closely related, their bodies being similarly constructed. Neither can stand the severe cold weather as they are not warm-blooded."

Weed explained that from his study of the reptiles they could stand a winter of hibernation but beyond that he would not venture to estimate how long they could remain in seclusion.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—An opening advance on unfavorable weather reports and relatively firm Liverpool cables was followed by reactions in cotton today under continued realizing or liquidation. May contracts, after selling up to 21.29, declined to 21.06, or 5 points lower. Near months were relatively firm.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 16 points. Active months sold 11 to 18 points above yesterday's closing quotations on covering or rebuying by recent sellers combined with some trade and commission house demand. This apparently was promoted by firmer Liverpool cables than expected and further delays to farm work.

March sold up to 21.27 and the new October contract to 20.52. The initial buying movement was supplied by continued realizing or liquidation and the market soon turned easier. Unfavorable weather reports for today seemed to be practically offset by a more encouraging weekly weather review than expected. Failure of bullish features to stimulate a more general demand promoted reactionary sentiment.

Prices sold off to 21.09 for March and 20.30 for the new October contract, or about 1 to 8 points net lower. The decline was checked by trade buying of old crop months as they approached the low levels of yesterday. Later fluctuations were rather nervous and irregular. Closing prices showed rallies of 3 to 8 points from the lowest on most positions. Some of the buying reports were supposed to be in anticipation of large figures on domestic consumption for February from the census bureau tomorrow. Private cables reported general buying and covering in Liverpool on unfavorable weather news. They also said there was moderate cloth demand from India but that business in cotton yarns was restricted, with spinners losing ground.

Exports today, 6,257, making 6,550,623 this season. Port receipts, 13,747. U. S. port stocks, 1,871,904.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 13. (AP)—Despite considerable buying on the unfavorable weather in the belt, the cotton market made little headway today due to continued long liquidation and rather free profit-taking by recent purchasers. Price fluctuations were fairly wide but the close showed comparatively little difference compared with yesterday's finals. May contracts after advancing to 20.60 eased off to 20.40 and closed at 20.45, compared with 20.43, yesterday's closing figure. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 2 points up.

The market opened firm at an advance of 8 to 11 points. Relatively steady Liverpool cables and official reports of unfavorable weather over the belt with prospects for continued such weather was responsible for the early steadiness. Soon after the start May sold up to 20.60, July 20.66 and October 20.32, or 16 to 17 points above the previous close.

The weekly weather and crop report was more favorable than expected, and brought on a renewal of long liquidation and some selling by ring traders to force a reaction. These offerings coupled with considerable realizing proved sufficient to carry May down to 20.40, July 20.46 and October 20.16, or 16 to 20 points down from the highs and unchanged to 2 points down compared with the previous close.

May closed at 20.45, July 20.51 and October 20.16, or 2 points net higher on the near positions and unchanged on October.

New Civil Appeals Court Authorized

Special to The Record News

AUSTIN, March 13—Establishment of a new court of civil appeals, to be known as the 12th supreme judicial district, with headquarters at Greenville, was authorized by the legislature when the house, after much debate, passed finally the Moore senate bill providing for the creation of the new court.

The measure having already passed the senate, now goes to the governor for approval. There is much doubt, however, whether the measure will receive the approval of the chief executive on account of the added expense to the state.

Fred Conner, an automobile salesman in Fisher county in 1925. The governor granted this clemency because he has not had time to make an investigation of a petition for commutation to life imprisonment. The reprieve is to April 19, 1929.

Lessened Money Fears and Ease In Call Rate Rallies Stock Market

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 13. (US)—Lessened fear of a rediscount rate advance and continued ease in the call money market rallied the stock market further today. Trading remained light but group work in special industrials kept the more active shares moving higher and attracted some public participation. Radio again held a leading place with the old stock moving 10¼ higher while the new shares gained 2¾. Bethlehem jumped 3⅝, Wright Aero 6, Westinghouse 2⅞, while Steel, Motors, Can and other standard industrials moved up from 1⅞ to two points.

Oil shares enjoyed a better demand also with Mexican Seaboard soaring over six points while Sinclair and other leaders gained more than a point. Calumet and Arizona with 5½ gain featured a strong copper group. Rails remained dull and somewhat irregular. Call money dropped to six from a renewal of seven per cent. After the close it was announced that the federal reserve bank of Boston had maintained its rediscount rate at five per cent.

Meeting of the reserve bank directors tomorrow afternoon will be routine and there will be no change in the rediscount rate. That was the report heard throughout the street. In fact, it was so widespread as to raise suspicion for if the bank directors had decided already to maintain the five per cent rate, it is doubtful that they would let the whole world know it. In most instances the wish was father to the thought, for the recent statements of the reserve board and the current money conditions fully warrant a higher rate. If the rate were kept at five per cent as forecast, it would be likely to influence the return of a big public demand for stock on the theory that the reserve board was defeated and could not check speculation. This would undo the comparatively small correction already effected. If the rate were raised Durant and other bull leaders would be expected to fight off its full effect as soon as the first selling resulting therefrom was out of the way.

Steel shares were helped further by another favorable Iron Age report which told of prosperity in the industry to a degree never witnessed before under peace time conditions. Bethlehem vied with Steel Common for leadership as the strong group therein resumed operations.

First quarter's income of Bethlehem, it is understood, will be sufficient to pay the full year's dividend on the common at the current rate. With earnings running at such a level, there is every reason to expect an increase in payment before many months pass. National Power and Light and other utilities responded to rumors that further mergers were planned.

Atlantic Refining, Mexican Seaboard and other oils in which special groups are at work held leading place in the Petroleum group. The main influence to buying was the falling off in crude oil production for the last week reported on.

The forthcoming meeting of producers in the Mid-Continent, it was expected, would result in further stabilization measures.

Combustion's recovery was the result of resumed operation by Durant and his colleagues. They talk more bullish than ever on the stock new and emphasize that a substantial short interest has been caught. Miami took a more prominent place among coppers as an increase in dividends is expected to result from the May meeting of directors. Famous Players strength was credited to operations of bankers who control the company.

With loans made outside at 5½ per cent as the call rate dropped to six, the belief that the rediscount rate would not be advanced was strengthened. However, the current call money market conditions are but temporary and reflect the amount of money held by banks for income tax payments and other disbursements as of Friday. The full effect thereof will not be felt until next week.

In some quarters it was thought the reserve might wait to see the effect of tighter money next week before changing the rediscount rate.

Livestock

TEXAS REVIEW

FORT WORTH, March 13. (AP) (United States Department of Agriculture)—Slaughter yearlings and mixed butcher classes formed bulk of the short receipts of cattle on the livestock market here today. Slaughter steers were too scarce to permit a test of values, only one load of slaughter steers being received. This carlot sold at a quotable steady price of $10.85.

Demand for slaughter yearlings appeared active at prices that were strong to around a quarter higher. Most sales measured the quarter advance. Good to choice fat yearlings in carlots reported up to $12.25 and as high as $12.75, one load of mediums selling at the latter price. A two-car shipment of light weights averaging around 640 pounds sold at $12.25, other sales of slaughter yearlings from $10.65 to $12.

She stock and other classes of cattle and calves sold at mostly steady prices. The better grades fat cows very scarce, a few small lots and individuals up to $9. Ordinary butcher cows around $7 to $7.25, and occasional sorts of low cutters at $5 to $5.50; bull trade outlined by sort sales of sausage grades around $7.50 to $8.

Very few stock cattle or calves included in the day's receipts. One load stock steers at $10.85 and a few good to choice heavy stock calves up to $11.85.

The short receipts of slaughter calves made a good early clearance, packers buying fairly good heavies around $11 to $11.25, other averages mostly at $9.50 to $10.50. Cull sorts at $7 to $8 generally.

With 2,000 hogs received for today, the market reacted, showing declines of 10c to 20c. Price losses were more severe in the carlot division than in the truck division. Smooth butchers in carlots topped at $10.65 and bulk medium to good 180-240-pound carlots brought $10.40 to $10.65; best truck hogs sold at $9.85; packing sows held steady, mostly at $8.25 to $9.25, and feeder pigs at $7.50 to $8.00, also steady.

Killing classes of sheep and lambs ruled strong to a quarter higher here today, while feeder offerings sold at steady prices. Two decks of good to choice wooled fat lambs made a top of $16 and one deck brought $15.75. Some shorn fat wethers sold up to $10 and fleshy wooled feeder lambs at $14.50.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, March 13. (AP) (United States Department of Agriculture)—Fat lamb trade around the 11-market circuit was active at strong to unevenly higher prices, several points on the river reporting upturns of 25c to 50c. Aged stock continued to work higher in sympathy with the advance on fat lambs. Chicago had a top of $17.85 on lambs, while at Omaha choice offerings reached $17.75. The supply approximated 43,600, against 57,144 a week ago and 30,344 the corresponding day last year.

A weak to lower undertone prevailed in the hog market, despite the fact that receipts were relatively light. Opening trade at some centers ruled slow at steady values but on later rounds a general decline of 10c to 25c was in force. The day's extreme top of $12 was paid at Chicago. Total offerings were around 82,900, a decrease of 9,500 from last Wednesday and 66,000 short of a year ago.

Aggregate receipts of cattle were estimated at 28,200, against 32,091 a week ago and 35,211 a year ago. Light weight steers and yearlings continued to meet a fairly broad outlet at firm to slightly higher prices. Packers were again bearish on weighty steers, but with supplies light to moderate trade on this contingent closed moderately active at steady values. CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, March 13. (AP)—Quick general seizing of profits on a price bulge in the wheat market today brought values down to a lower level at the finish. The temporary showing of wheat strength was of a pronounced character, and was associated with the fact that the market had become bare of offerings, largely as a result of continued unfavorable aspects of the crop outlook, domestic and foreign alike.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ½ to 1c net lower, with corn ⅛c to ⅜@½c down, oats at ⅛@½c decline to a shade advance, and provisions varying from 10c set back to a rise of 2c.

Nervousness pervaded the wheat trade today from beginning to end. At the outset, prices here were irregular, but sellers had an advantage owing to the circumstance that the Liverpool market had made practically no response to sharp upturns yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. However, persistent buying developed during early declines today in Chicago wheat quotations.

Rallies which took place hoisted the wheat market here to more than 2 cents a bushel above today's bottom figures, notwithstanding that welcome rains were reported over the greater part of the domestic winter wheat belt. Accelerating the advance were assertions that signs pointed to likelihood of wide spread crop damage being disclosed both in this country and abroad on account of unusually severe winter condition.

Corn was sluggish all day, running into selling on small rallies, most of the speculative interest now centering on wheat. Kansas City sold 55,000 bushels more corn to come here. Oats averaged lower, sympathizing with corn.

Provisions also were easier on account of downturns in the value of hogs.

DELIVERIES OF MILK GAINING

New Route to Bowie Is Planned; Poultry Prices Up

An increase of approximately 10 per cent in milk deliveries during the last month was reported Wednesday by local buyers. The upward trend in whole milk production was regarded as the beginning of a movement which will show during the next few months the greatest volume of daily milk deliveries in the history of the city.

Reports from rural districts indicated that pasture grass is coming out rapidly to reduce the dairyman's feed bill and augment the production of milk. C. L. Teiseler, manager of the Kraft Cheese company's plant here, stated that efforts will be inaugurated at an early date to develop a number of new pick-up milk routes in territory which is not now contributing to the cheese manufacturing industry's supply. Negotiations are under way also for the establishment of a milk line from Bowie to Wichita Falls.

An increase of 1 cent per pound on both light and heavy hens was posted by the Wichita Poultry and Egg company Wednesday. Fat hens are now bringing 23 cents per pound to the grower, the lighter ones 3 cents less.

One mixed carload of dressed poultry and selected eggs left Wichita Falls this week consigned to Massachusetts, while a solid car of eggs was shipped to New York.

Produce houses reported a greater abundance of Florida strawberries, with small shipments being received from South Texas also.

DAMAGE SUIT ASKS $28,500

Insurance Company Files Court Action

Claiming damages aggregating $28,500 in connection with the death by electrocution of Andrew Moore on March 17, 1927, the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America Thursday filed suit against the Texas Electric company in the 78th district court.

According to the petition, Mr. Moore died as a result of injuries he received from an electric wire while he was working for the Lydick Roofing company, insured by the plaintiff company.

The suit asks $20,000 damages for the widow and daughter, a minor, and $8,500 damages for the company.

Marrs Deplores Veto Of Salary Measure

Governor Moody's veto Wednesday of senate bill 256, by Witt, which would have increased the salary of the Wichita county tax assessor, an dassessors in all other counties with a population of not less than 35,000 and not more than 125,000, providing certain work was performed, was deplored by County Judge John P. Marrs in a statement to the Record News Wednesday night. The veto was announced in Associated Press dispatches.

The certain work necessary before the tax assessor would have received the increase in pay included the installation of card index systems in keeping records, Judge Marrs said. In return for this and other work, the tax assessor was to have received $100 per month extra.

IT WAS A SURPRISE

"I Couldn't Hardly Breathe and Was Forced to Stay on a Diet, But Since Taking Orgatone Feel Fine," Says Wichita Dairyman.

"Orgatone was a surprise to me, for it has helped me more than I ever expected it would," said E. A. Madera, of rural route 1, Wichita Falls, Texas.

"I have suffered for 10 years with stomach trouble," he continued. "I couldn't eat anything for it would sour on my stomach and gas would form and cause palpitation of the heart. This caused me great misery, and at times it was nearly impossible for me to breathe. I got to where I was forced to stay on a diet and had to be very careful of what I ate. I would get bilious and dizzy and was very nervous and at night couldn't get much rest. I had terrible headaches and felt so wretched and no account I hardly had any life or energy to do anything.

"I read so much about Orgatone in the local papers and where so many people I knew had been taking it with good results, so decided to take a bottle, although to tell you frankly, I didn't have much faith in it, but it has been a grand surprise and I have received so many benefits I hardly know how to tell you. I'm not bothered with the distressed feeling after eating, and I can eat anything I want now, without suffering. All my gas and bloating spells have left me, and I'm not nervous and sleep fine every night. My constipation has been relieved and in fact, Orgatone has certainly built me up all around and I am glad to tell you about it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by the Allison's Drug store under the personal direction of a special Orgatone nurse, who is meeting the public daily. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price, one bottle $1.25 or six for $6.25.—Adv.

College Senate to Debate High Cost of Courtship

Girls Should Have to Go Fifty-Fifty On Expense, Says Proposal

". . . the gentleman from Scott avenue has the floor."

A slight pause.

"Har-r-umpf," he begins, massaging his brow with the hand that knows no toil, yet.

"It is indeed my pleasure, maidens and escorts, to bring before you at this time a matter deeply concerning the financial obligations of the lover.

"And it is indeed my pleasure to assert that I have found an answer to what is becoming, aye, what is already a problem in the young man's life. The answer to that problem, which is too obvious to state, is that the flapper shall go fifty-fifty with the escort on all expenses arising from trips to Lake Wichita ,etc. for the purpose, let us say, of becoming better acquainted with each other. This shall the more emphatically apply when the lover drives a rent car . . ."

Howls of feminine protest fill the chamber.

"Now flappers, and escorts," thunders the President of the Senate, "we will have no display of emotion. This is no picture show, and if you don't keep quiet I'll have you all tossed out the window," he continues.

"But if he loves me . . ." wails a siren with the skin you love to pet . . .

And so on.

Now, to come to the point. None of this has actually happened. It is a preview of what likely will happen, if plans of the Junior college senate materialize. The plans are, in brief, that that debating society is to settle the problem of who's who in love when it comes to paying the bills. The idea was discussed at the Tuesday night meeting of the Senate and drew resounding applause. The date for the encounter, and the debating teams have not as yet been selected.

The question will be if the girls are to pay half the expense of "dates."

Church "Biggest Institution In Wichita Falls," Evangelist Says

The biggest institution in Wichita Falls today is the church of the living God, Rev. B. B. Crimm, cowboy evangelist, declared Wednesday night when he addressed a crowd that nearly filled the tabernacle at Twenty-second street and Yale avenue.

Speaking on the subject of "Scrapping the Devil," the evangelist declared that the devil could be overpowered the same on earth as he was in Heaven.

When he commented on statements which some persons allegedly made that he was "too rough," Mr. Crimm shouted: "Some of you sisters think I am too rough. But if I wanted to please you I would tell you about my operation.

"The only seminary I ever had was my mother. I don't care anything about some of these seminaries that try to teach that grandpa was a tadpole."

Rev. J. T. Furniss, pastor of the South Side Baptist church, led the congregation in prayer.

It was announced that the cottage prayer meetings to be held in conjunction with the revival will start Thursday afternoon. The meetings will be held at 2:30 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Crimm announced that the sermon subject Thursday night would be "Soul's Conflict With the Devil."

TWO KILLED IN SPEED TESTS

Lee Bible and Cameraman Lose Lives

Beach said that the course would be closed for the year.

Segrave, who earlier this week had sent his Golden Arrow roaring along the same path at 231.36 miles per hour, witnessed the accident. He previously had admitted he was fatalistic about the danger in these daring super-speed attempts. He even had admitted he had one chance in 10 of getting out safely.

Segrave Shudders

But when he watched the big black Triplex—some times called White's "piece of junk" because it is assembled from so many varied machines—turn over, he shuddered.

"It is regrettable. Very regrettable," he said.

Bible had achieved fame overnight—and it was short-lived.

For years Bible had been interested in mechanics. His first start was as a fireman for a railroad working out of Knoxville, Tenn. Then he worked at being a telephone lineman and finally got to be a mechanic. The thrill of speed appealed to him. So he started racing. He appeared with nondescript motor cars at county fairs in Arkansas, Indiana, Michigan and other middle western states where 60 miles an hour was real speed.

But after he married and had a family—he is survived by two children—he put the thrill of roaring motors behind him and settled down to his profession of mechanic, buying a garage in Daytona Beach.

Last year J. M. White brought the unorthodox appearing Triplex here with Ray Keech as driver. Bible was hired to aid in tuning up the machine and was given much credit for its performance of 207 miles an hour.

This year White brought his racing machine down here without a driver. Bible again was hired to tune it up and White said that Bible deserved "his chance" as driver of the powerful machine.
