Bingo defeated here

The local option election which would have permitted legal playing of bingo in Mitchell County went down in defeat Saturday, defeated in every voting box.

Total vote was 315-180 as the bingo issue was defeated.

A breakdown of voting by polling places looks like this:

–Precinct One at the courthouse, 56 for, 123 against.

–Precinct Two at Westbrook, 17 for, 34 against.

–Precincts Three and Seven at the Housing Authority community room, 83 for, 101 against.

–Precinct Four at Loraine, 17 for, 48 against.

–Absentee, 7 for, 9 against.

–Totals, 180 for, 315 against.

There is no longer a precinct five at Buford as that box was closed some years ago. Also, Precincts Three and Seven were combined for this election only as there were not election judges available for Precinct Seven which normally votes at Oak Street Baptist Church.

County Clerk Joan Beach said that there were 207 names on the petition which called for the election, although some had to be thrown out for technical reasons, leaving at least 180 certifiable names on the petition.

She also said that the election cost $1,384.21 to the county, an estimated cost of $2.80 per vote. Workers and rent cost $1,133 and voting supplies cost an additional $251.21. There were only 495 people who voted in the election so the estimated cost per vote would be about $2.80. Cost of the election in Tarrant County has been estimated at $13 each so the cost here was relatively cheap.

In nearby Dallas, however, voting was heavy there, supporters of the measure had offered a cash prize of $1,000 to anyone who had signed the original petition and voted for in the election. It really drew a crowd at the polls.

Classes begin Monday in all county schools

Monday will be the first day of classes for students in Mitchell County, although teachers had to report for their first session Wednesday.

Students in Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook will report at the regular class time Monday morning.

Elementary students in Colorado City must register Friday before the first day of classes. Kelley and Hutchinson students register between the hours of 8:30 and noon Friday.

Loraine and Westbrook elementary students will register the first day of classes and so will high school students at Loraine, but junior high and high school students in Westbrook will register Friday according to this schedule: 7th grade, 9 a.m.; 8th, 9:30; 9th, 10 a.m.; Sophomores, 11 a.m.; Juniors, 1 p.m. and Seniors, 2 p.m.

Colorado City Middle School and high school students are pre-registered and will pick up their schedules the first day of classes Monday.

New students registered earlier this week in Colorado City.

PRETTY CROPS in some parts of Mitchell County are shown in these two photos of cotton fields and maturing maize. Crops and native pasture are badly needing rain right now, according to ASCS executive director Don Stewart. "Grass is drying up and grasshoppers are eating it up. The good cotton in the Westbrook and Cuthbert areas is throwing off from lack of moisture and bollworms," he said, adding that north and south of Loraine there are no crops this year.

City gets sales tax check for $25,805

Colorado City received a tax check last week for $25,805.84, its share of the sales tax collected here.

The city's one percent share of the sales tax is down slightly from last year's check for $27,836.52 made at the same period.

For the year, the city has received a total of $152,321.43, an increase of just over 18 percent over the $128,382 at this time in 1981.

This downward move was unexpected, said City Secretary Rita Espinoza.

"We thought the sale of roofing materials would mean an increase," she said, "but maybe it'll come in next month, I hope. It could be," she added when asked if the poor crop conditions might be a reason.

The city of Loraine's check was for $1,301.21, also down somewhat from the check for $1,450.95 of a year ago.

In Loraine for the year, the city has received a total of $4,662, an increase of almost 22 percent over last year's $3,822.57 for the same time.

Snyder's check this time was for $116,521, an increase of 12 percent over last year, an amount that reflects the statewide total increase of about 12 percent, according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock, through whose office the tax is collected and checks made.

Broken water line causes few problems

The water main that broke between the courthouse and the library Saturday caused a little inconvenience but no real problem to Colorado City residents, according to City Manager Rick Crowley.

"It happened at a time when it wasn't too bad," Crowley said. About eight o'clock we requested, in effect rationed or restricted water use. We asked people not to use water other than by household and that they turn off their water sprinklers and so forth. That didn't last but about an hour, I guess, and then we had it valved off and were able to go ahead and do it, so it didn't turn out to be as big a deal as it could have."

Crowley stated further that "if we hadn't been able to valve it off, we'd have had a problem both with fixing it–we'd have had to fix it wet–and also with the level of tanks going down. They dropped down to about 20 feet, so we needed the restriction in use, we needed to get it valved off, but we still had water."

The break occurred, Crowley explained because "during periods of heavy use and when it's hot, first, you're using more water and second, during a period of heavy use (the level of) the elevated tanks is going down. Then when use tapers off, the pumps start pumping more and more and they have less resistance to pump against so they really start pumping it into town and it starts pressuring the lines up. With the many old lines that we have, we're going to have breaks."

Contestant entries rise to seventeen

Swimming pool to remain open

The swimming pool at Ruddick Park will remain open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. starting Monday, August 23.

City Manager Rick Crowley said, "What we want to do is keep it open as we currently have it open until the day before school starts and once school starts, several ladies have asked us if we wouldn't leave it open in the afternoons for them to come down while their older kids are in school and bring their younger kids or whatever so the ladies could swim."

He added, "We'll be happy to do that and we think that's great, so we're going to try it after school starts. But if it doesn't get enough response, and if it doesn't get enough response quickly, we will have to go ahead and close it down."

The pool will also be open on Saturdays, Crowley said, for as long as the program lasts.

Play opens Thursday

"Opal is a Diamond," a comedy by John Patrick, opens at the Colorado City Playhouse on Thursday, August 19 and will run two weekends. The play dates are: August 19, 20, 21, 26, 27 and 28.

The play is directed by Joan Sorflaten who is also starring in the lead role of Opal Kronkie.

Answerline

Answerline is a regular feature of the Colorado City RECORD. Readers with questions on any subject may write or telephone the RECORD with questions they would like to have answered. Letters must bear the reader's name, address and phone number for verification, although names will not be published. Mail inquiries to: Answerline, P.O. Box 92, Colorado City, Texas 79512.

(Q) How long does a person have to wait before he is tried for a crime such as phone harassment in Texas?

(A) Such a charge is a Class B misdemeanor subject to a fine of up to $1,000 or a jail term of up to 180 days or both a fine and jail term. Such cases are tried in county court. County Attorney Pat Barber, prosecutor in county cases, said that each case is handled on its own merits. He explained that a defendant would sign a waiver of speedy trial and then the case would be brought to his attention and it would be prosecuted. "But every case is handled on its own merits," Barber explained.

FREE EDUCATION AND THE UNDOCUMENTED WORKER

On June 15, 1982, The Supreme Court ruled, 5-4, that Texas and other states must provide free public education for the children of undocumented workers—people in this country illegally.

Our current Lt. Governor, Mr. Hobby, was happy with the decision, praising it as the "only rational decision" the court could have made.

On the contrary, I think it was a wrong decision that defied both law and logic.

One of the principal underpinnings of an orderly society is that one should not benefit from breaking the law. All around the world, thousands of people stand patiently in line at our embassies, waiting for legal entry into this country. By its recent ruling, the Supreme Court told these people that, if they are smart, they will ignore our immigration laws, find some other way to enter, and then there's a good likelihood all manner of taxpayer-supported benefits will be open to them and their families.

We can all feel sympathy for people driven to emigrate by desperate economic conditions. And I believe we should be compassionate toward the children of undocumented workers who are here through no fault of their own. We have been told we must educate these children and we will; it is our duty.

But I am deeply concerned about the effect this will have on our school systems and the quality of education. We have only a certain amount of desks and dollars with which to address the problems of educating Texas' children.

The court was essentially establishing social policy under the guise of ruling on a constitutional question. The result was bad law and bad social policy. It should now be up to the Federal Government to help pay for the mess they have created by not properly policing our borders.

State's Telephone Growth Takes Tall Texas Doings

Hear about the difference between a fairy tale and a "tall Texas tale?" Seems a fairy tale always begins, "Once upon a time..." while a tall Texas tale begins, "Y'all arn't gonna believe this..."

But as a matter of fact, the tremendous telephone growth in Texas creates a story that sounds almost unreal. Nearly 10,000 linear miles of cable were added during the year ending March 31, 1982. Add to that more than 130,000 new phone customers for the same period. And Texans make 72 million local calls during the average business day, 5.1 million long distance messages and 1.4 million calls to directory assistance.

The impressive statistics could go on and on, but more important to most of our customers is the question of whether we're doing a good job in trying to hold down the cost of service in an era of rapid inflation and rising costs?

Ratepayers Benefit Directly From Productivity Increase

Probably the best indicator is productivity. And the productivity of Southwestern Bell's Texas operations has exceeded that of private industry throughout the nation by a large margin over the past five years. Our company has averaged 3 percent annually in Texas, compared to the national productivity growth of 0.2 percent (two tenths of one percent) for the same period.

This outstanding productivity performance has helped significantly in holding down costs for Texas telephone ratepayers. Each percentage point of productivity directly offsets a percentage point of inflation in operating expenses incurred by the company. However, the rate of inflation during the last five years has more than doubled Southwestern Bell's productivity performance... good as it is. In other words, we haven't been able to offset inflation, but we keep trying.

Incidentally, our rate application hearings before the Texas Public Utility Commission are scheduled to begin about September 1. If at any time during the hearings you have any questions or comments, I'll be glad to hear from you.

School Days Bring Need For Extra-Special Caution

Speaking of comments, I appreciate those in response to my first column. Some of my friends around town have been kidding me about saying, "Let's talk," then suggesting you drop me a note instead of calling. But there's a simple explanation. I spend most of my working day trying to visit as many customers as possible in the area.

Since I'm not in the office much, I ask you to drop me a note that I can read on the road or at home. Then I can get back to you, already prepared to answer your questions, at the earliest possible time.

Here's a safety reminder: With school beginning, it's more important than ever that all of us exercise extreme caution when driving, especially in school zones and on the highways when school buses are picking up or dropping off children.

Cattle on feed progress reported

Figures in all categories were up slightly in a seven-state July cattle on feed report just issued.

"The report stated that numbers of cattle on feed July 1 were up four percent, those marketed during the April-June quarter up two percent, numbers placed on feed during April-June up three percent and net placements up five percent," says Dr. Edward Uvacek, Jr., economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The number of cattle on feed was a little higher than expected because of lower fed cattle marketings and greater numbers of placements into feedlots (during the April-June quarter), he notes.

"The higher placement figure was due to strong increases in June," he explains. "For example, June placements in Kansas, Nebraska and Texas feedlots were up 15 percent from a year ago."

Feedlot placements so far in 1982 are running nine percent above last year's level, which means more fed cattle in the second half of this year, Uvacek says.

"The USDA estimates fed cattle marketings for July-September will be up five percent from 1981, at 5.7 million head," he announces.

With net placements up 19 percent in the first quarter and five percent in the second, fed cattle marketings are expected to increase during the next few months. Uvacek points out that under such conditions, cattle prices will do well to hold up to current levels.

As for competition from other meats, pork production is forecast to be 11 to 14 percent lower in the last two calendar quarters and poultry supplies should only be up two to three percent.

Chief of Police outlines security measures at AARP meeting

"Crime and criminals are the same everywhere," Ed Wheat, chief of police, Colorado City Police Department, told more than 60 members and guests of the American Association of Retired Persons luncheon meeting [illegible] in the Thompson [illegible].

Chief Wheat outlined home security methods citizens might use to deter burglaries and stressed how a community watch program worked in Benbrook and how it might work here.

Wheat went into detail about the Benbrook situation. He was criminal investigator there after moving to the Fort Worth suburb from Hamlin where he served as chief for 8 years.

Benbrook had a very high rate of burglaries as it is what is called a bedroom community, an area peopled mostly by persons who worked in Fort Worth during the day. Consequently, it was a ripe target area for burglars.

To fight the burglaries and thefts, Wheat began a Neighborhood Watch program there, putting block wardens in charge of watching and taking turns watching their areas and reporting any suspicious activity.

He said that their response time (the time it takes an officer to come to a place after a call is made to the police department) was about three mintues after the watch program was begun and compared it to about an hour as the respond time in Fort Worth.

People would watch any suspicious activity in their neighborhoods and report it to the police and once a woman had some relatives coming to get some furniture at her house while she was at work but she forgot to tell her block warden so when the relatives got to the house and started moving the things, the police arrived.

"How'd you guys get here so fast?" one of the men said. "In Fort Worth it takes the police about an hour to get there."

As for methods to use to ward off thefts and burglaries, Wheat gave the following recommendations:

–Inventory all your valuables and mark them with your drivers license number so that your property can be identified. If it can be identified, it can be recovered and the theft is prosecutable.

–Create a small-town atmosphere in your block. Know your neighbor and what he does, when he's there or absent and who comes onto the property. Be responsible for each other on the block.

–Secure your home with deadbolt locks, not a spring latch type which locks when you slam it. It can be opened easily. Also secure patio doors, garage doors, etc., by fixing them with a drill and nail so they can't be forced open. Keep trees and shrubs trimmed so burglars can't hide behind them, lock your gate if you have a fence and get a night light which can be shared with a neighbor, Wheat said.

–Be sure to have your house number clearly visible to policemen who need to find your house in a hurry if a call is made that a burglary is in progress or for some other reason.

–Look at your house through the eyes of a burglar. Wheat said that he can make, at the citizen's request through the department, a home security check.

–Vacations should be reported to the police department for a free vacation check of your home. Also, let your neighbors know that you'll be gone and have them watch for suspicious behaviour.

Wheat was introduced to the AARP meeting by program coordinator Margaret Oyler, following a covered dish luncheon. President Rochelle Smith presided over a routine business session following Wheat's talk.

Police Report

During the past two weeks, the Colorado City Police Department has investigated two traffic accidents.

On August 13, in the 800 block of Locust, a 1977 Chevrolet pickup driven by Jerry Fox of 835 Locust collided with a 1980 Toyota pickup driven by Randy Chambers of 836 Locust. There were no injuries and Officer Charles Goins investigated.

Also on August 13, at the intersection of Second and Elm Streets, a 1980 Honda three-door driven by Cecilia Kling, Box 922, was in collision with a 1976 Olds four-door, driven by Mary Green of 932 East 13th Street. Officer Tommy Headrick reported no injuries.

The CCPD investigated and is continuing investigation into two burglaries which occurred last week:

–Officer Pat Taylor is investigating the burglary of a residence in the 400 block of Vine Street. The amount and value of articles taken is presently undetermined.

–Officer Charles Goins is investigating a report by James Coker, 626 Pine, that a hubcap had been stolen from his 1975 Chevrolet. As of Tuesday morning, the PD had no suspects and no formal charges had been filed.

In one other incident, Officer Charles Goins answered a disorderly conduct report at the bus station. A man who wanted to ride on a Continental Trailways bus with a Greyhound bus ticket created a disturbance.

Grady Morris, owner and operator of two laundries here, reported that coin-operated machines at both laundries were broken into Sunday afternoon and two men were arrested shortly thereafter.

Colorado City Police Chief Ed Wheat said that an investigation by police officers at the scene and development of information led to the arrest of two men. One of the men is currently in jail charged with burglary of a coin-operated machine. One was released pending further investigation.

About $14-15 in quarters was taken in the burglary but Chief Wheat said that no money was recovered.

USDA requests suggestions from cotton farmers

Cotton farmers have a chance to guide their own destiny by offering suggestions for the 1983 Upland Cotton Program.

Farmer input is needed by September 14 so that the U.S. Department of Agriculture can announce program plans for the coming year around November 1.

"A number of major decisions will be made regarding next year's cotton program, so comments from farmers are vital," said Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "A major issue is acreage set-aside."

Farmer input is needed on the following: mandatory or voluntary acreage reduction, paid land diversion, base loan rate for Strict Low Middling 1-1-16-inch cotton with a 3.5 to 4.9 mike, 1983 target price and the loan rate for seed cotton. Comments should go to Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Anderson noted that the financial implications of a set-aside program are far reaching. "Producing less may well mean that farmers will make more money," he said. "Base cotton acreage would have to be reduced in the range of 25 percent or more to be effective in reducing surplus stocks."

The cotton market is currently in the doldrums and may remain so another year or so, noted the economist. Demand is weak because of this nation's high unemployment and the current deep recession which is straining consumer budgets for needs other than clothing. Mill usage in the U.S. has dropped to the lowest level since the 1930 depression.

"High interest rates have also been the enemy of cotton farmers," Anderson pointed out. "They make it expensive for the cotton trade to hold large inventories of raw cotton or manufactured textile goods, so such inventories have been reduced. Consequently, farmers or the government end up holding cotton which, then, hangs over the market and holds down the price."

Cotton farmers also are having to put up with an undependable export market and a growing level of imported manufactured textile goods, said the economist.

Exports have suffered because foreign governments are temperamental in deciding on cotton production and use. Furthermore, the strong U.S. dollar has pushed up the American price in terms of most foreign currencies, so overseas buyers are reluctant to purchase U.S. cotton. At the same time, the strong American dollar has made foreign textiles a good buy so that imports are cutting deeply into domestic mill usage, Anderson noted.

"Faced with huge cotton stocks and other circumstances that have weakened demand, cotton farmers need to be wary of the devastating financial effects of a large 1983 cotton crop," Anderson said. "Without a sizeable cutback in the base acreage for 1983, any price improvement this season could result in a big increase in cotton acreage and production next year which would almost certainly push prices well below production costs."

Adverse weather has severely reduced cotton acreage this year so that the crop could be below use levels. That, said Anderson, could reduce carryover stocks and cause the USDA to decide against an acreage set-aside program, which would be a mistake.

Twirling classes to begin

Baton twirling classes, taught by Sandi Pavlik, will be starting August 31 from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. There will be classes for Tiny Tots, ages 5-7, Pre-Teens, ages 8-12, and Teens, ages 13-17. Private lessons are also available.

Mrs. Pavlik said that she will offer camps during the summer and have another teacher to assist. Her helper this year was Debbie Campanelli, who is a feature twirler at UCLA and has won the title of Miss College Majorette of America.

Although she is from Kansas, Mrs. Pavlik has taught twirling in Texas for three years. This year, two of her students in the beginner and intermediate class, went to state and both came back with titles.

Mrs. Pavlik is registered with the National Baton Twirling Association and says that all routines are within the rules of the NBTA.

To enroll, phone 728-3235, 573-3245 or 573-3137.

Fire Report

On August 13, the fire department rushed to Gas 'N' Grub on East Hill to wash down a gasoline spill.

The fire department answered a report at 3:41 p.m. of a car fire at the 212 mile marker.

There was a house fire at 1437 College Avenue at approximately 4:1 a.m.

Fire Tip

Fire Marshall L. O. Schafer suggests that persons be careful burning trash especially around areas with weeds or brush. The low humidity, high temperatures, dry grass and wind all combine for a dangerous fire hazard.

Grass fires are the easiest started and the hardest controlled.

Texas pastures and ranges ripe for wildfires

Current hot, dry weather is making Texas pastures and ranges ripe for wildfires.

"Some areas of Texas have had abundant grass growth from spring and early summer rains, so the fuel supply is there for wildfires," said Dr. B. J. Ragsdale. "Better managed ranges are especially vulnerable as there is an abundant supply of fuel."

Wildfires often erupt this time of the year due to lightening and careless use of fire, said the range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Fire is a natural phenomena that had a major influence in developing and maintaining grasslands and savannahs," Ragsdale said. "And it is being proven as a valuable range improvement tool. Used under proper conditions, fire is a valuable asset. However, a wildfire can do untold damage."

Everyone stands to lose from wildfires. Desirable forage plants may be reduced in vigor or killed, forage for fall and winter is lost, wildlife habitats can be damaged, air and water quality is lowered, recreational value of the burned area is altered, and the burned area is an eyesore. Additionally, livestock may be lost and fencing and other improvements damaged or destroyed, noted the specialist.

"Prevention is the best cure for wildfires," Ragsdale said. "Use extreme caution with fire of any kind." He especially urged people who work outdoors and sportsmen to use care while the threat of fire is great.

Any wildfire should be reported immediately to the nearest authority, the specialist said.

Ragsdale urged county governments to develop or update rural fire fighting plans so wildfires can be effectively controlled. Equipment should be in order and easily located.

Also, management of burned areas should be planned to insure re-establishment of forage plants. This should include grazing and wildlife management and possibly grass seeding to insure a ground cover.

"Fire, prescribed for use under specific conditions and controlled, can be a useful tool in land and natural resource management," Ragsdale said. "But uncontrolled wildfires can do severe damage and mar an area for a long time."

Bradbury named Reserve Champion

Lynn Bradbury, 19, of Colorado City, was named Reserve Champion Bareback Rider at the National AJRA Rodeo Finals held in Snyder last week. Bradbury also split fourth place money in the first round of the finals.

On Tuesday night of the finals, Bradbury scored a 64 out of a possible 100 points but failed to score during the second round on Friday night. On the last night of the finals, Saturday, Bradbury tallied 75 points; thus giving him a second place finish in the overall Bareback riding event.

This year is Bradbury's last year with the AJRA but he intends to further pursue the rodeo career. "My next step is the amateurs and then, I hope, on to the professional ranks," Bradbury said. Presently, Bradbury is employed by a local farmer.

Bradbury has participated in several rodeos since he joined the AJRA rodeo circuit, including: Del Rio, El Paso, Odessa, Big Spring, and Carlsbad, NM. Lynn also takes part in the annual Mitchell County AJRA rodeo in which this year, consequently, he tied for first place in the bareback riding event and placed sixth in bullriding.

The AJRA, a three state (Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico) organization is an organization for persons 19 and under, to prepare them for possible professional rodeo careers.

Bradbury's reason for joining the ranks of rodeo stars is that he likes the competition.

"Rodeo is a challenging sport. It's you against an animal and almost all odds. Plus, there is stiff competition and that's the kind I like to be a part of," Bradbury added.

Farm and ranch tour plans set

Plans for this year's Mitchell County Farm and Ranch tour were finalized Tuesday morning at a breakfast meeting at Rowe's Villa Restaurant. The event is scheduled for Thursday, September 2 with coffee and donuts being served at 8:15 a.m. at the Civic Center. Tour buses will depart from the Civic Center at 8:45 a.m. for a tour of farms and ranches in the eastern part of the county.

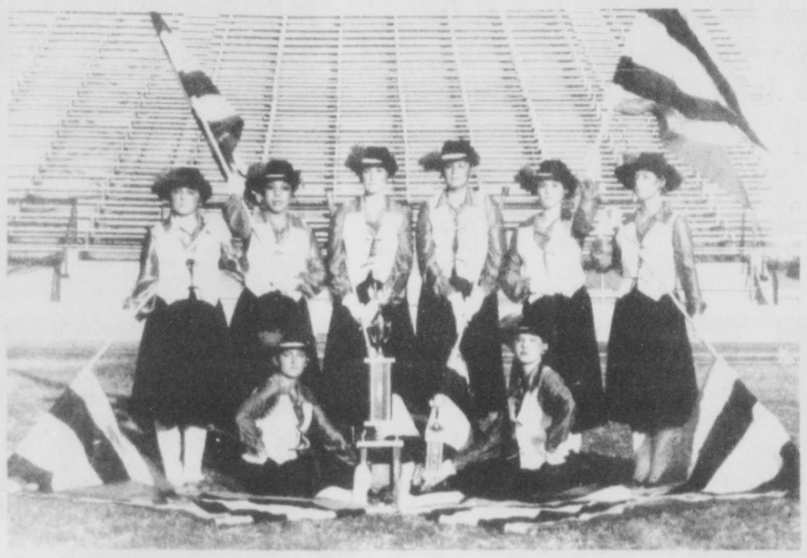

During the tour, persons attending will have the opportunity to view cotton, grain sorghum, sunflowers, improved pastures and several ranch headquarters. A watermelon break is scheduled for mid-morning. Buses will return to the Civic Center around noon for a barbeque lunch.

Guest speaker for the annual event will be Dr. Don Newberry, President of Western Texas College.

According to Bob Benson, county agent, tickets will be available next week.

Registration begins at Sweetwater TSTI

Fall registration for Texas State Technical Institute in Sweetwater is set for Sept. 7-8. Classes begin September 9.

Students should go to the Related Technology Building on campus, which is directly behind the Administration-Campus Services Building, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Faculty members from each department will be available to assign class schedules, and a temporary cashier's office will enable students to pay all tuition, fees, housing and board plan costs at that time. Those who have paid a housing deposit will receive their room assignments.

All programs at TSTI are admitting students for the fall except Vocational Nursing. Programs admitting students include Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Technology, Automotive Mechanics, Autobody Repair, Building Construction Craftsman, Machine Shop Operations, Welding, Livestock and Ranch Operations, Emergency Medical Services, Dental Assistant, Diesel Mechanics, Drafting, Electronics, Computer Science Technology and Technical Office Training.

Any person wishing to enroll in TSTI should have a high school transcript, or a G.E.D. certificate and a current health record. An admissions packet is available through the Admissions and Records Office at TSTI.

The Differential Aptitude Test is given each weekday during August. This exam is used for counseling purposes only and will not prohibit anyone from entering TSTI. It is beneficial to the student and faculty if the test is taken before a student enrolls in a program.

TSTI-Sweetwater is part of a state-supported system of four technical schools. It is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Further information about TSTI can be obtained by contacting the Public Information Office at (915) 235-8441 ext. 39.

Golden anniversary celebrated

The 50th wedding anniversary reception given for Claud and Fay Woods was hosted by their four sons and wives and held at the Loraine Senior Center from 2-4 p.m. Saturday, August 14.

Their sons and wives are Wesley and Barbara, Jerry and Linda, Laddie and Sandy and James and Carol. They also have 8 grandchildren, all of whom helped with the reception.

The three grandsons, Jeremy, Chris and Brian, met guests, took the gifts and directed them to the register table which was presided over by three granddaughters, Robin, Leah and Gina. They presented guests with scrolls tied in gold ribbon which contained thanks from the honored couple for coming to share the happy occasion with them.

The other two granddaughters, Becky and Melissa, served punch. The refreshment table was laid in white lace with an underlay of gold, which was used by Fay's father and stepmother, C. M. and Mattie Carpenter, at their wedding in 1973. The four-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with gold confection leaves. The table was centered with a lovely arrangement of silk flowers in autumn colors, with gold predominating. The four daughters-in-law alternated at serving at the table where coffee and finger sandwiches were served.

Ruth Moore, Myrtie Jo Burns, Evonne Phillips and Fabris Moore opened the couple's gifts which were displayed.

A large bulletin board with the caption "The Good Ole Days" and a table were used to display clippings, pictures of the couple on their wedding day, pictures of Loraine streets of fifty years ago, a handkerchief of Claud's mother's, momentoes, etc. Also two cane bottom chairs which Claud and Fay started housekeeping with were displayed.

Before saying goodbyes, a large part of the group took part in a sing-song with the Richard family, the four sons of the couple, three of their granddaughters and friends taking part. Claud, also a singer, sat back and listened.

Before arriving at the Center, one of the sons took the parents down main street where they received congratulations by way of a large bulletin board in the center of the street holding the words "Happy 50th Mom and Pop. We love you, Your kids." A very fitting beginning of the lovely party to follow.

Approximately 150 guests called. Among them were Mrs. Woods' mother, 96 year old Mattie Carpenter from Colorado City, two couples Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rahan and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Rahan from Savannah, GA, who surprised them, Mrs. Woods brother, Paris Carpenter and niece Evonne Phillips from Plain Dealing, LA. Others attended from Stanton, Austin, Turkey, Arlington, Monroe, LA, Colorado City, Big Spring, Junction, Midland and Loraine.

The two Mrs. Rahan's surprised the family by leaving the party early and then having a lovely dinner prepared and ready to serve when the family arrived home after the party–a lovely finale.

Not all relaxing is achieved by loafing. Often, suggest psychologists, a few hours of vigorous exercise, or hard physical work, bring about a relaxation of body and mind. Many people feel more at peace after "working up a sweat." As they enjoy the peaceful fruits of their labors, many cap it off with a tall cool glass of low-cost iced tea.

B&PW discusses park

The Loraine B&PW Club enjoyed a picnic supper in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schroeder Monday night. Bertha Fay Snyder was co-hostess with Mrs. Schroeder.

After the meal, the main item discussed was plans for improvement on the city park, which was voted their project for the year. Roland Rickard was speaker for the evening and brought many helpful ideas and ways in which the park could be improved to make it useful for everybody. He stressed that the park needs to be appealing to us physically as well as to be beautiful. One of his suggestions was put up a bike path with a ramp.

Also, he said a merry-go-round would be very good, and monkey bars, drinking fountains, a light in the center of the park and a sign with the name "The J. W. King Park," etc. All agreed his ideas were very good and the club had plans to get into the work there right away.

Juanice Butler donated an afghan to be sold at the district conference which will be held in Colorado City in September and the money will go to the M. D. Anderson Foundation.

Average Billing can help smooth out high summer electric bills.

Electricity is costing more this year mainly because the fuels to make it cost more.

Our Average Billing Plan can help, because it "averages out" your electric bills. You still pay for all the electricity you use, and your payments will still vary from month to month. But in high-use months you pay for less electricity than you use, and in low-use months you pay for more than you use.

Many customers find this helps ease the impact of high summer air conditioning bills. Our average billing plan is available to both residential customers and churches.

If you'd like to know more, give us a call at Texas Electric.

DURING THE intra-squad scrimmage Saturday, the Varsity prepared for this Friday's scrimmage against Stanton at 8 p.m. The JV team will scrimmage at 6:30 p.m. Of the scrimmage, Head Coach Tom Ramsey said, "We just need some playing experience against other teams. We'll have enough experience by the time district play comes around."

Bollworm habits change this year

Bollworms are behaving contrary to the norm, says county entomologist Deanna Myers.

"Some of the bollworms in our area are not following the rules," she said in a recent summation of pest activity. Normally the moths lay eggs in the top third of the plant and the emerging worms eat their way down the plant.

But this year, the eggs are being laid on the bottom two-thirds of the plant and then emerging worms hide in bottom foliage or a bloom or boll.

This change in habits makes the bollworms almost impossible to combat, bad news to farmers beleaguered by bad weather and not enough season to make a crop.

Myers said that biological controls such as Dipel or Elcar are not effective in this new situation and a test plot using Pounce was tried on Tommy Fuller's cotton near Payne and it turned out ineffective.

"I checked Tommy Fuller's bollworm treatment. The area treated with Pounce still had about the same number of worms as the area that remained untreated. Therefore, if the worms in your cotton are protected by being in the bloom and the boll, treatment will not be very effective," she said.

In a recent newsletter, she asked farmers to consider how much they've put into the crop so far, how much they think it will make, the effect of using a strong chemical which might harm beneficials, and the degree of infestation in their crop before making a decision to treat for bollworms.

Aerial spraying, an economical control in some cases, is not effective if the worms are in the bottom of the plants. Pydrin, Pounce or Ambush are chemicals which will be harder on beneficials but should not kill every beneficial in the fields like Methyl Parathion will, she said. These are safe to apply with a ground rig.

Grain price drop blamed on Reagan and Block

The President of the Texas Farmers Union said that Ronald Reagan and John Block have no one but themselves to blame for the recent crash in grain prices.

Speaking at a statewide agriculture rally in Hico, Texas, TFU head Mike Moeller said that the Reagan Administration had single-handedly created the situation which this week resulted in record-setting low prices for soybeans, corn and feedgrains.

Noting that some agricultural economists are now acknowledging that U.S. agriculture is in a full-fledged depression, Moeller said, "In the 1880's, my great-grandfather sold shelled corn for $2 a bushel. Now, one hundred years later, our farmers are being offered less than $2 a bushel for their corn. How many other industries could survive these inflationary times while receiving less for their products than they did 100 years ago?"

Moeller went on to enumerate the steps the Reagan Administration has taken to insure low farm prices: First, he said, there was the four-month delay in lifting the Soviet grain embargo. Second, the passage of the Administration's "Anti-Farm" Bill in late 1981. Third, what Moeller called the Administration's "Mickey Mouse" 1982 set-aside program. Fourth, the defeat by the Administration of the 1982 Farm Crisis Act. Finally, Moeller cited the Administration's refusal to renegotiate a long-term grain agreement with the Soviets.

"By driving this series of nails in the American farmers' coffin, Ronald Reagan and John Block guaranteed the surplus commodities and low prices we are now experiencing," Moeller added.

He called on the Administration to support the Farm Crisis amendments in the budget reconciliation package currently before Congress and to use all existing authority to pump new life into the failing U.S. farm economy.
