Lone Star Gas Asks City for Rate Increase

Lone Star Gas Company today asked the city of Wellington to increase local residential and commercial natural gas rates by approximately 10% to enable the company to earn a reasonable rate of return on the fair value of properties used to serve the public.

The application for rate increase listed increased cost of buying gas, higher property and equipment costs, increased costs for employee compensation, higher interest rates on borrowed money and increased taxes as primary reasons for income deficiency.

"In addition," stated H.W. Gattis, manager of the Wellington distribution office, "Lone Star has a commitment to its customers to vigorously compete for supplies of natural gas to keep its reserves in a favorable position. While other sections of the country are experiencing some shortages of natural gas, Lone Star has maintained favorable supplies. The gas cost adjustment portion of the application placed before the City Council today," continued Mr. Gattis, "will help Lone Star maintain its favorable gas supply position and assure our customers of natural gas service for the future."

Approval of the company's application would increase the average monthly residential gas bill by approximately $.78.

Lone Star serves more than 1342 customers in Wellington.

ELECTION WINNERS

One incumbent and two new officials were elected by Collingsworth County voters in the Saturday, May 6, primary. Sheriff John Rainey, left, was returned to that office, while Cliff Hartman, on his first venture into county politics, is the newly-elected Commissioner of Precinct 1. He is a former member of the City Council. R. L. Templeton, right, county attorney a number of years ago, will return to that office after serving as county judge and a period of private law practice.

Twister Destroys Barns, Rain Spotted in Area

A twister, traveling from the southwest, destroyed two large haybarns located on adjoining farms southwest of Dozier shortly before 7:00 p.m. Thursday, May 4.

The first to be hit was on the Richard Bentley farm a mile south and one and one-half miles west of Dozier, according to Kenneth Martindale, Samnorwood High School principal, who reported to the sheriff's department.

The funnel next hit the barn at the Douglas Coleman farm, about one-half mile away. The funnel was sighted on the ground by Cindy Coleman, daughter of the Douglas Colemans, Mr. Martindale said.

Both barns were of sheet metal and wood construction and both had hay stored inside.

About the same time, there was an unconfirmed report of a funnel in open country south of Salt Fork near Quail.

Moisture has been spotted during the rainy period, ranging from a light shower west of Quail to around 5 inches in the Bean Hill community northeast of Wellington.

Wellington itself has recorded 1.44 inches of rain since Thursday, according to Dwane Scott, who is the official Weather Bureau reporter.

Dog Vaccination Set for Saturday

A city-wide vaccination of dogs and cats has been set for Saturday, May 13, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Mayor John Coleman has announced.

This action was taken after two skunks were killed in the back yard of the Louis Allred home on 15th Street Sunday night, May 7. One of these appeared to be ill and rabies is suspected. Their heads have been sent to the State Health Department in Austin to determine if this is correct.

The mass vaccinations will take place at the City Barn at the corner of 4th Street and West Avenue, and all pet owners who have not had their animals vaccinated for rabies are strongly urged to bring them in.

Republicans Approve Fay For Governor

Thirteen Republicans voted in the Republican Primary Election Saturday, May 6, according to Emil Kersten, county Republican Chairman.

For Governor, they favored Albert Bel Fay with 7 votes, a trend that was Panhandle wide. Henry C. (Hank) Gorver received two votes; David Reagan two; and John A. Hall. Neither Joseph Alton Jenkins nor B. Thomas McElroy polled a vote.

Here is the vote for the other candidates, all unopposed:

United States Senator: John G. Tower 13; U.S. Representative 13th District: Bob Price, 12.

Treasurer: Maurice Angly, Jr. 10.

Railroad Commissioner: Jim Segrest 11.

State Representative, 66th District: Tom Christian, 12.

State Board of Education, 13th District: Janet Parnell, 10.

Republicans voted on two referendum issues:

They voted 9 to 3 for a constitutional amendment which would prohibit busing of school children to achieve racial balance and voted 9 to three against Daylight Saving Time.

Plaques will be presented to Mrs. Benge (Claudia) and the other nine honorees at a brunch May 14 during the AAF Convention and Public Affairs Conference in Washington, D.C.

Through the sponsorship of the Woman's Advertising Clubs of AAF, the awards program is aimed at "providing national recognition to outstanding women who have made valuable contributions to advertising through their own accomplishment and through their encouragement and guidance of others engaged in this profession."

Mrs. Benge's 32-year career in advertising and public relations has been primarily with Goodman and Associates and their predecessor, Rowland Broiles Company, although she began her career with newspaper, radio and television writing and program production.

No Leads in Boyd Burglary

Officers have no leads on the recent burglary of the Fred Boyd home at Dodson, Deputy Sheriff Alvin Minatrea said Tuesday.

The burglary occurred while Mr. Boyd was hospitalized for eye surgery. As far as can be determined by a daughter, Mrs. Doylene Hays of Hollis, only a radio was taken. However, the house was ransacked with the burglars going through cabinets and drawers. Deputy Minatrea said they used candles for lighting and dripped wax on the floor and in closets, and also apparently singed one sweater hanging in the closet.

Voters Elect Rainey, Templeton, Hartman; Runoff in Tax Race

Collingsworth voters elected a new county attorney and returned Sheriff John Rainey to office in the First Primary Saturday, May 6. However, there will will be a runoff to determine the winner in the race for Tax Assessor-Collector, as well as for district attorney.

A new commissioner was elected for Precinct 1.

Mrs. Francis Williams, who received the high vote of 635 in the race for Tax Assessor-Collector, and the incumbent, Mrs. Rita Owens, who polled 532 votes, will be in the June 3 runoff. The two other candidates were Mrs. Wanda Manuel, who received 206 votes, and Mrs. Lorraine Parker, 385.

R.L. Templeton, a former county attorney, was returned to that office by a 894 to 815 vote over Charles Darter. The present county attorney, Paul Spillman, did not seek re-election as he was a candidate for district attorney.

Sheriff John Rainey polled 1267 votes over his opponent, Bill Lowe, who received 479.

In the three-man race for district attorney, John Deaver II and Jack Boone of Memphis go into the run-off. Mr. Spillman was the third candidate. Mr. Deaver led the ticket in the 5-county district with 3468 votes, while Mr. Boone polled 3132 and Mr. Spillman 1791. In the county, Mr. Deaver received 685 votes, Mr. Spillman 608 and Mr. Boone 439.

Cliff Hartman was elected Commissioner of Precinct One over the incumbent Orville Vaughan by a 349-262 vote.

Pat O'Hair was unopposed for Commissioner of Precinct 3 with 293 votes.

Bruce Hite was returned as Constable of Precinct one with a county-wide vote of 1221. Two boxes apparently failed to realize this is now a county-wide race as there were no returns from Quail and Lutie.

Phil Cates of Lefors won his race for State Representative from the 66th District over Ed Leary of Childress District-wide, and in Collingsworth also led 964 to 615.

Judge Robert Montgomery of the 100th Judicial District, un-opposed for re-election, polled 1252 votes.

Max Sherman was unopposed for a second term as State Senator from the 31st District, and Herbert O. Willborn for re-election to the State Board of Education from the 13th District.

Mrs John Coleman was without an opponent for County Democratic Chairman and polled 1241 votes, while Mrs. A.J. Fires won the race for Democratic Chairman of Precinct One with a 364 to 136 vote over Doug Seal.

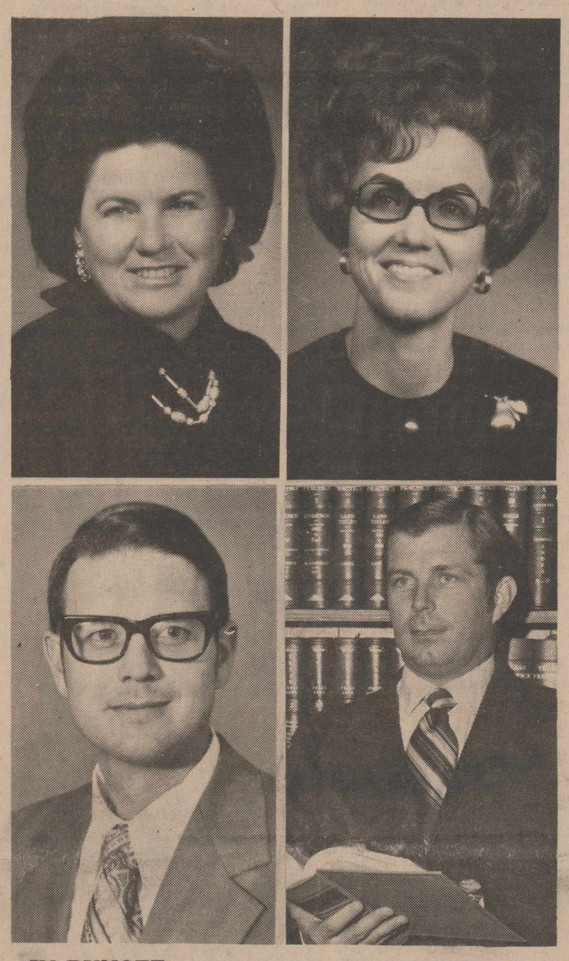

All other precinct chairmen were elected without opposition.

The referendum opposing mandatory school busing carried a strong 1388 to 248 opposing the measure.

On the state level Collingsworth voters followed the state trend by giving former Senator Ralph Yarborough a lead vote of 852, while Barefoot Sanders received 673 votes. These two will be in the state runoff June 3.

Collingsworth also favored Dolph Briscoe with 1028 votes, but the state second place runner, Mrs Frances Farenthold, was fourth in this county, receiving only 121 votes. Pres-

IN RUNOFF

These candidates will face a runoff in the second primary election June 3. Mrs. Frances Williams, top left, and Mrs. Rita Owens, the incumbent, seek the office of County tax assessor-collector. An official Red Cross First Aid Course will be offered in early June, under the sponsorship of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service. May 20 is the deadline for enrolling.

It will be given on five nights, in two-hour sessions. These will be on Monday, June 5, Tuesday, June 6; Friday, June 9; Monday, June 12 and Tuesday, June 13, Bob McAlister, chairman, has announced. The hours will be from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Those who successfully complete the course will receive certificates from the Red Cross.

This is open to the public, including both adults and older teenagers, although it is given primarily for the volunteer ambulance service drivers and attendants.

Those wishing to take the course should enroll at the Chamber of Commerce with Mrs. Margaret Vines. The May 20 deadline is necessary so that the official Red Cross First Aid books may be ordered.

There is no charge for taking the course, and the only expense will be the purchase of the text book.

Readiness School Opens on June 5

The Summer Readiness Program for Wellington Schools will start Monday morning June 5, and run through Friday, June 30, Thayne Amonett, Superintendent of Schools has announced.

Louis Graham will be the director and test co-ordinator, with Mrs. Sam Thompson and Miss Rita Lowrie as instructors, and Mrs Dick Pendleton as teacher aide.

Children who will enroll in the first grade for the first time in August are eligible to attend the Sunner Readiness Program. Pre-registeration will be held on Thursday, May 18th, in the Wellington Elementary School Cafeteria from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m., but parents who do not get to preregister may contact Mr. Graham at 8:00 a.m. on Monday June 5. There will be no registeration fee or tuition.

Each session will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and all materials will be furnished by the school. A mid morning snack of juice and cookies will be served, however it has been pointed out that parents are not to consider this a substitute for breakfast.

Emphasis will be placed on teaching the child in areas so he will be ready to read and to prevent possible reading problems and to make this possible, a series of programs will be carried out.

Screwworm Still Threat To Livestock, Wildlife

AMARILLO . . . The screwworm, which at one time was one of the most economically damaging pests to livestock and wildlife, still poses a threat to the southwest. Dr. Bill Clymer, Area Entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Amarillo, reports that as of May 4 there were over 1400 screwworm cases confirmed in Texas. Screwworm samples have been identified from as far north as Dickens and Borden counties.

At the present time the Screwworm Eradication Program is releasing sterile screwworm flies in a band of 500-600 per square mile 100 miles ahead of the last confirmed report. This band should help to slow the northward movement but much assistance is needed from area producers.

Several steps that producers can take to prevent a bad outbreak in West Texas included:

1. Inspect animals regularly for cuts, scratches and wounds. Pay special attention to the navel region on newborn calves.

2. Manage livestock to reduce injuries. Avoid surgery or any treatment that may create a wound.

3. Collect larvae and egg masses for identification. Search deep in wounds for screwworms. Send samples to: Screwworm Eradication Program, P.O. Box 969, Mission, Texas 78522.

4. Treat all wounds with a wound dressing. Follow directions on the label. Reinspect the wounds until healed and retreat when necessary.

5. Spray or Dip herds with approved pesticides. Follow directions on the label.

6. Know positively that purchased animals are screwworm-free at point of origin.

7. Tell your neighbors about the screwworm threat. Encourage them to follow these precautions.

8. See your local county agricultural agent for screwworm mailing tubes and additional information.

Screwworm flies, according to Dr. Clymer, have a long flight range and it is very important to determine where infestations are occurring. Therefore, producers are urged to follow the points outlined to prevent the re-establishment of this damaging pest.

Eighth Graders Have Las Vegas Casino Setting for Their Banquet

Like the actual setting, people came from far and near to see the Wellington Eighth Grade banquet Saturday, April 29, whose theme was "Night In Las Vegas."

The club room of Bura Handley Community Center was transformed into The Golden Nugget. A mock mirror ball shimmered under spotlights and centered the ceiling of streamers that extended to the walls, which had huge panels framing replicas of lucky fortune motifs. Class members proveded their own program, with everyone taking part.

Belles Lettres Hears Program on Special Education as Year Ends

Belles Lettres Study Club closed out the year with the May 2nd meeting in the home of Mrs. Henry Vaughan. Mrs. Lynn Carter, special education teacher and her two assistants, Jan McGill and Elena Romo were guests.

The two girls brought to the members a first hand account of the work involved in being a teacher's aide, and the satisfaction they find in helping those children who are in need of a little special attention. Some are considered "unteachable" in a regular classroom, but in a smaller group and with individual attention their rate of learning is remarkable, it was pointed out.

She plans to prepare herselt to teach in the field of Special Education, perhaps working with those children of Spanish origin who suffer from the language barrier. She is now a junior in Wellington High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Romo. Jan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGill. She is also a junior and among her other accomplishments she is the new Miss Wellington.

The Belle Lettres Club has sponsored this Special Education Class for several years, serving as "Room Mothers" to the children by giving them parties on special occasions, such as Easter, Christmas, Valentine's Day and Hallowe'en, and closing out the school year with a "Coke Party" for later this month.

Mrs. W.F. Harbin, President-elect, presided and committees were named for the coming year including: year book, Mrs. Joe Thompson; Mrs. F.A. Hatch, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett; telephone: Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett; parliamentarian: Mrs. Bob Hightower; flower committee: Mrs. A.B. Clark, and Mrs F.A. Hatch.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. Where is your proof from the Bible for such sacraments as Anointing of the Sick, and Confirmation?

A. Again briefly check the beautiful words in the Epistle of St. James. James 5:14, and the very common practice of the "laying on of hands" in Acts 6:18. Really, to know all about the Catholic Church, the best book you can consult is the Bible. It's all there; at least it is in the full Catholic version of the Bible, which has come down to us from the time of the Apostles themselves.

Q. What is the danger in relying on the Bible as the sole rule of Faith, instead of combining it with the teaching authority of the Church?

A. St. Peter, the first Pope, sums it up nicely in 2 Peter 3:16. "In these epistles, there are certain things difficult to understand, which the unlearned and the unstable distort, just as they do the rest of the Scriptures, to their own destruction." That's why we have the Bishops and Priests of the Church to explain the Bible to us, since they are definitely neither unstable nor unlearned.

Come Wind and Water, Excelsior Club Closes Out Year's Study

By MRS. HENRY VAUGHAN

The Excelsior Study Club closed out is year with a Big Splash Thursday evening, May 4th in the home of the President, Mrs Lowell Wells. At 7:30, the regular meeting time, two members arrived just as the TV gave out the information on a tornado south of Shamrock. They returned home! Mrs. B.M. Sims, the scheduled guest speaker for the evening who was to bring a program in observance of National Music Week, called that she was prepared to come on, but was advised to wait awhile to see what the weather might bring. Other members were calling back and forth.

About 8:00 p.m. one very gallant gentleman brought his wife and two other members, depositing them on the doorstep, out of the rain, promising to return for them whenever they called him. There was no answer to their ring, the lights were on, but the door was locked! And there were no lights on anywhere in the neighborhood, and it continued to rain and to rain and to rain.

Some twenty minutes later one of the women circled the house, hoping to find a way in to telephone, but discovered a Storm cellar in the back yard. A very surprised Mrs. Wells answered her rap on the door. She had mistaken an ambulance siren for a tornado alert and had quickly taken refuge in the Cellar, along with her pet poodle.

With much hilarity she began to call the other members and three of them came back, some for the third time, but Mrs. Sims was unavailable. Miss Rose Shadid, Chairman of year book committee presented lists of artists and books about their lives and work and the members selected the artist they will study the coming year. Mrs. Wells served a sandwich, dessert plate to Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. J.F. Michael, Mrs Henry Vaughan, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Bonnie Willis, and Miss Shadid.

On any given day, nearly 1.3 million persons are patients in U.S. Hospitals.

Loan Available on Low Mike Cotton to May 31

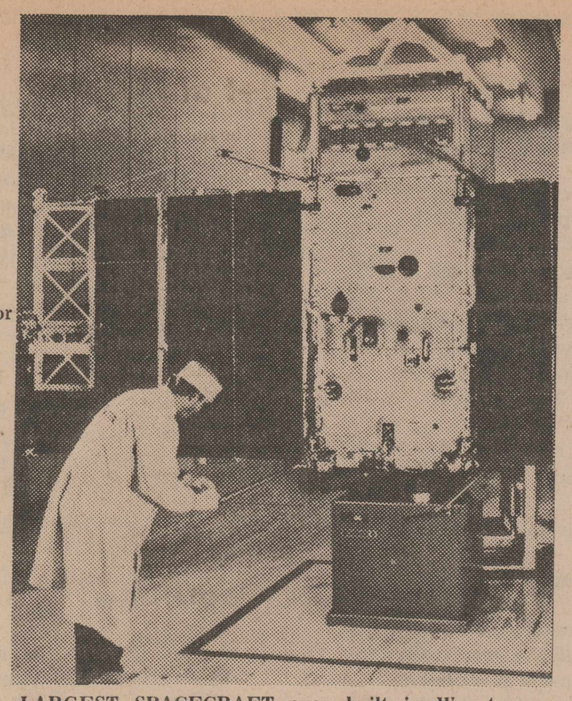

LUBBOCK,

High Plains cotton producers, unable to find an acceptable market, still hold an estimated 50,000 to 100,000 bales of short staple, low micronaire cotton from the 1971 crop. Such cotton was in good demand only a few months back, but many growers now say they "can't even get an offer."

For this reason Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock based regional cotton producer organization, is reminding producers of the "anniversary loan" which became available for the first time in 1971. Under this program growers can secure a Commodity Credit Corporation loan and retain title to their cotton for 10 months from the first day of the month in which the loan was made. Final date for loan applications on 1971 crop cotton is May 31, 1972.

The cut-off date for cotton loan applications under previous programs was April 30, then CCC took title to all unredeemed cotton on the following July 31, the end of the cotton marketing year. This gave growers on the High Plains, where the bulk of the crop is harvested in December most years, only about seven months in which to find buyers for each year's crop.

Under the anniversary loan producers can retain title to cotton for a much longer period. For example growers taking a loan on cotton in May this year will have until February 1, 1973 to see if market conditions improve enough to permit sales at acceptable prices.

Wildlife Center Links Scientists, Game Experts

STILLWATER - A new Wildlife Research Center at Oklahoma State University will allow scientists to do comprehensive research dealing with nutritional, behavioral, reproductive and parasitological problems as well as diseases of the important game species.

It is a joint effort of the university of Oklahoma, the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation and the Oklahoma Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit.

Currently the new 30 by 72 foot building houses the research facilities as well as temporary offices. Eventually it will be used as a storage and workshop facility. Additional buildings also are planned for the area.

Expansion plans call for holding pens to accommodate large game animals, smaller mammals and game bird species.

"The establishment of the center ushers in a new era of cooperation between research scientists and game management personnel," said Howard Jarrell, associate director of the OSU Research Foundation.

Cooperative research projects will be conducted by OSU wildlife biologists and game biologists and game biologists from the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Jarrell said faculty members from the departments of parasitology, physiology, psychology, entomology, pathology and zoology also will be asked to cooperate with center researchers.

Mrs James Richardson returned home last Thursday after spending ten days in Plainview with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Paul Williams. Mr. Williams was a patient in a Plainview hospital most of that time.

It's Hospital Week, Let's Learn More About Ours

In the last six months we have been more aware of the value of our hospital to the community than at any time since it was founded. But there are many other facets we have not explored. This is National Hospital Week, and a good time to look at some of them.

Besides the value of the fine building and its equipment, Collingsworth General Hospital spends around $325,000 per year, most of it in this community. That not spent here is for medical supplies and equipment.

It now has an annual payroll approaching a quarter of a million dollars, one of the largest for a single institution in Collingsworth County.

Collingsworth General presently has a staff of 42, and it is to be noted that almost all of them are here because they want to live in Wellington, capable, trained people who, if we had no hospital would have to find jobs in other fields or move away. Those who came specifically to work in the hospital contribute their training and skills to it, and make other contributions to the community as well. We are better off by their living here.

The administration of Collingsworth General Hospital wants the people of the county to think of this as their hospital. They are welcome to visit and learn more about this important health care facility.

Other Editors Say . . .

Perhaps High but No Shortages

With all the talk about high cost of food, no one has been heard to complain that there is a shortage of anything in the food supply line available to grocery shoppers anywhere in the country.

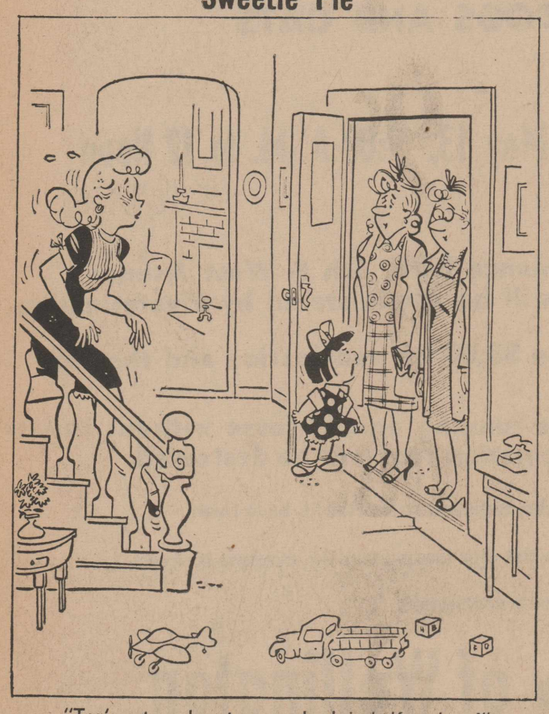

And even the increases in food prices may be subject to exaggeration. Take it from Dean H.O. Kunkel of Texas A&M that non-food items which get into the grocery cart as it is pushed down the lines of well-stocked display cases and shelves often make the buyer think that food costs are higher than they are. The non-food items are lumped in with food as a part of the grocery bill.

Food prices have tended to increase, some of them rather dramatically, but the fact remains that American shoppers in recent years have been spending a declining percentage of their income for groceries and a smaller per cent than do consumers in virtually every other country.

There's an easy way in Texas to test Dean Kunkel's assertion that non-food items available in grocery stores are significant in the size of the total ticket at the payout counter of the supermarket. Non-food items are subject to the state and local sales taxes and shoppers can easily find out how much of their grocery shopping excursion results in the purchase of products that are to be worn or used rather than eaten.

"Tea's not ready yet—come back in half an hour!"

STATE Capital NEWS

By Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, Tex.,--The spiraling cost of welfare in Texas has leveled off, and no reduction in grants will be necessary this year, according to reports reaching Gov. Preston Smith.

Welfare demands are slowing down for the first time in a decade, and expenditures for 1973 may be less than in 1972, the Governor said.

Smith's reports indicated the cost of programs in fiscal 1973 may be $75 million less than the $347 million estimated a year ago.

"It now appears most likely that grant payments to welfare recipients will not have to be cut and we will still be able to stay within the constitutional limitation on spending," the Governor said.

Due to a state constitutional ceiling on general revenue state expenditures for welfare assistance, a reducation in grants beginning September 1 had been regarded as unavoidable.

Main reason for the slowdown in welfare's cost climb is a decline in old age assistance rolls and the fact that the increase in Aid to Families with Dependent Children eligibility has not been as large as anticipated.

AFDC rolls, expected to expand by 10,000 a month, actually grew about 5,000 monthly.

"There is still much work that needs to be done, but for the first time in recent years, I believe we now have a handle on the problems and have finally brought them under control," Smith stated.

He credited these factors as contributing to the cost leveling:

New controls over medical assistance expenses, improved management techniques, a program utilization review, more effective use of electronic date processing and a reduction of program abuse.

STARTS ALL OVER AGAIN--

With the hard-fought first primary election just behind them, some candidates plunged right into the June 3 runoff campaign.

Of one thing they can be sure: the cost of campaigning, like everything else, is rising.

A hasty total of first primary expense-contribution reports indicates spending by the statewide candidates in contested races totaled more than $5 million. There is no telling how many millions were spent by congressional, legislative and local county candidates in the rush to be first at the ballot box.

For most of the candidates, the race is over, but for a few the big one is just starting.

INSURANCE PLAN SUBMITTED

A personal injury protection plan for the motorist is proposed by State Insurance Board Chairman Larry Teaver as an alternative to controversial no-fault auto insurance.

Teaver will unveil his plan officially at the Board's annual hearing on auto insurance in July. It would eliminate uninsured motorist coverage and medical payments sections of standard auto policies. It would substitute a provision giving policyholders, without regard to fault in accidents, unlimited medical expenses, life insurance in event of fatal accident and income replacement guarantees.

Governor Smith, meanwhile, called on Teaver to intensify efforts to bring lower insurance rates for responsible young and elderly drivers. A reduction in rates for drivers under 25 would encourage them to drive safely and curb the accident toll, Smith contended.

DEATH RATE LOWER

Department of Public Safety reports the death rate from auto accidents last year was the lowest since 1962.

The number of deaths per 100 million travel miles was 51.1 This is the best figure since 1962's 4.9 per 100 mil lion miles.

Still, 4,594 died in traffic accidents in 1971. Ninety-five per cent, DPS noted, wore no safety belts.

Meditations

The play is done; the curtain drops,
Slow falling to the prompter's bell
A moment yet the actor stops
And looks around to say farewell.
It is an irksome word and task:
And when he's laughed and said his say
He shows, as he removes the mask,
A face that's anything but gay.
William Makepeace Thackeray.

Wait, thou child of hope, for Time shall teach thee all things.

Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech.
Martin Farquhar Tupper.

A democracy, that is a government of all the people, by all the people, for all the people; of course, a government of the principles of eternal justice, the unchanging law of God; for shortness' sake I will call it the idea of Freedom.
Theodore Parker.

For lo! the days are hastening on,
By prophet-bards foretold,
When with the ever-circling years,
Comes round the age of gold;
When Peace shall over all the earth
Its ancient splendors fling
And the whole world send back the song
Which now the angels sing.
Edmund Hamilton Sears.

Revolutions never go backward.

What the Puritans gave the world was not thought, but action.
Wendell Phillips.

A thought is often original, though you have uttered it a hundred times.
Oliver Wendell Holmes.

He sendeth sun, he sendeth shower,
Alike they're needful to the flower;
And joys and tears alike are sent
To give the soul fit nourishment.
As comes to me or cloud or sun,
Father! thy will, not mine, be done.
Sarah Flower Adams.

Sorrow and silence are strong,
and patient endurance is godlike.
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care.
John Greenleaf Whittier.

Sound loves to revel in a summer night.

I would define, in brief, the Poetry of words as the Rhythmical Creation of Beauty. Its sole arbiter is Taste.
Edgar Allan Poe.

The growing drama has outgrown such toys
Of simulated stature, face, and speech:
It also peradventure may outgrow
The simulation of the painted scene,
Boards, actors, prompters, gaslight, and costume,
And take for a worthier stage the soul itself,
Its sifting fancies and celestial lights,
With all its grand orchestral silences
To keep the pauses of its rhythmic sounds.
Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Oh would I were a boy again,
When life seemed formed of sunny years,
And all the heart then knew of pain
Was wept away in transient tears!
When every tale Hope whispered then,
My fancy deemed was only truth.
Oh, would that I could know again,
The happy visions of my youth.
Mark Lemon.

Dear Editor:

Liberal gospel says the quality of education which the pupil-class gets out of a school depends on how much money is spent or squandered in the process.

Which is to say many prominent folks are not quality-educated because they got most of their schooling from poorly-paid teachers in cheap schoolhouses.

A fact everybody knows and many deny is that the quality of education a kid gets depends on the quality of his brain and that of his teacher; which, after they get together, no amount of money can do anything about.

Quail Future Farmers Hold Banquet Thursday

The generation that weathered a depression and two wars was interpreted to the generation moving toward adulthood as Lester Campbell, Memphis Insurance Company owner, was guest speaker at the Quail FFA Parent-Son banquet Thursday evening, May 4.

"I am not going to tell you how bright you are and that my generation has made a mess of things, but I will turn it around," Mr. Campbell told the young men, adding that in their parents and grandparents had cut the work day in half and doubled production, and they produced the vaccine for measles and polio.

"They lived through history's greatest depression and they determined it will not happen to you. Because they gave this to you, you are the tallest, brightest, most talented young people we have ever had," said Mr. Campbell.

He told the young men he was tired of those who say America is not the greatest country, and urged that they shoulder their responsibilities and relearn the art of self discipline.

On the state level, the Board of Directors called on Governor Preston Smith to include changes in the trailer safety legislation in the call for the next special legislative session.

A resolution was passed opposing the "fragmentation" of the Department of Agriculture, citing costly "duplication of effort", and modification was asked on a bill proposing to establish a wheat and wheat foods research, education promotion program.

The Texas Green Thumb Project was endorsed and the group asked President Nixon to authorize the doubling of the enrollment of workers.

sion on Accreditation of Hospitals, and because registered nurses are simply not available for the community hospital, we have contracted for these four young nurses from the Philippine Islands," said Mr. Altom.

"We at the hospital are eagerly looking forward to their arrival and the opportunity of working with them. We feel it is also an opportunity for us to study and learn some lessons in international relations.

"They will come on a one year work visa which may be extended. I am confident the community will welcome them and take them in and make them feel they are wanted, needed and are a part of us. We would hope that our people will invite them into their homes or even take them on off-days or long week ends to places of interest," the hospital administrator continued.

the mail on Route 1, and Route 1 Quail, said the heaviest moisture he encountered was northwest and north of town. T.L. Wilkerson reported to him he has had 5 inches recently.

The Salt Fork Community, which has been missed by earlier showers, received 1.50 inches, Hunter Peters and Carl Wischkaemper reported.

Mr. Caldwell said from Quail west to the Donley County Line, through the Ring and King communities, only a light shower fell, and Pat O'Hair, Commissioner of Precinct 3, said only .75 inch has fallen in the Ring area since the first of the year. He added that he had a good shower at Quail.

In the east part of the county, north of Salt Fork, Rufus Sweat, Route 6 mail carrier, said the fall was spotted on his route, with the heaviest amounting to one half to three-fourths inch in the vicinity of the Guy Bumpas and Doug Johnson farms.

Fred Walker of Needwood, 10 miles east of Lutie, reported a good shower, however this area received a considerable amount of moisture earlier.

In the area east of US 83 and north of Salt Fork River, where pastures were devestated by hail 10 days ago, grass is coming back lush and green, but without the spring weeds that had a healthy growth before the storm.

Mrs. Tom Birchfield reported that they have received two inches of rain falling three separate times at their home northwest of Dodson. But she added that here again, rain was spotted and this amount of moisture was not received throughout the community.

The Birchfield farm in the Bean Hill community, familiarly known as the Nipper place, received more than four inches of moisture.

South of town, rain continues to be light around Loco area.

The language development program is designed to:

- Help stimulate the overall oral language facility of the child.
- Develop his verbal intelligence through training and therefore to:
- Enhance his school progress when he is in the first grade.

"This program has built-in skills that develop reading readiness, number readiness, and listening skills needed for success in the first grade," said Mr. Graham.

A program for developing understanding of self and others is also being initiated this year. The goals are to develop more words for feeling; learning that feelings, goals, and behavior are dynamicaly related; and learning to talk freely about feeling, goals, and behavior.

The program of visual perception will be used. This is a corrective and preventive program for visual perception which is important in the development of the child's ability to read and do written work. It leads to good hand and eye cordination.

Motor skills, a type of physical training, will be given to help develop good motor performance that is essential in making the most effective use of the intellect.

The Wechsler Scale, a individual clinical test, will be administered to each child to try to determine and predict how the child will perform and function at the primary level, said Mr. Graham. Parent conferences will be available with the director and the instructors to discuss the progress that is being made in the summer readiness program.

Parents are also invited to visit any of the classes or program at any time they desire.

Life With the Rimples

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

TEXAS has weathered some bizarre elections in the past forty years such as Ma Ferguson and Pappy O'Daniel; but never has the state experienced one as fantastic as the voting last Saturday. Many people felt that Dolph Briscoe would be in the runoff and others thought he would lead the ticket; but there was no quotable person who thought that Ben Barnes would be knocked out in the first primary.

* * *

THE consternation and hilarity was caused by a gal nicknamed Sissy, who turned out to be an in-fighter whom no ordinary politician would care to meet in a dark alley or at the polls on a Saturday. Frances Farenthold ignored Preston Smith entirely and concentrated on Barnes with an occasional swipe at Briscoe just to let him know she was around. But she hit Ben with a left hook like Jack Dempsey and a right uppercut like Mammy Yokum.

* * *

MRS. FARENTHOLD is reported to have said something like this: "It was an unusual election. The voters had a choice between a wheeler-dealer from DeLeon, a bunch of Pablum from Uvalde, or me." The able Dolph Briscoe obtained a tremendous lead in the first primary; but it will be hard to find any prediction in this column concerning what will happen in the second Democratic primary.

THE MAY rains have changed the agricultural picture in this area. The change was a welcome relief to the farmers who have irrigation and an absolute must for the dry land producer. We are still far below average rainfall for this time of the year.

* * *

DRY weather is not the only plague confronting the stockmen Screwworm infestation has been reported in widely separated counties far inside the Texas border and hog cholera has been discovered in places as widely separated as Dumas and Corpus Christi.

THE DUMAS situation is under control according to ag officials. The only way an occasional outbreak of screwworms can be prevented is to establish a sanitary corridor of say 100 miles in depth across the entire Mexican border of the United States and use the same sterilization program that is in effect here. Another deterrent to the spread of the pest would be stricter regulations on the importation of Mexican cattle into this country.

VOTERS of Collingsworth County rejected busing to achiev integration by a vote of 5 to 1 The people of the United States have rejected it from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 depending on the locality. It seems like one of those overwhelming expressions from the people that the members of Congress should note and remember.

ON the lighter side, Charlie Watts, a Baptist, wanted to know if Methodists were the only ones who were allowed to vote in the school busing referendum. Maybe I don't write so good anymore: but I believe I can still write as good as Charlie can read.

A FRIEND of ours, Clara Porter, completed her training as a stewardess for American Airlines last week. Her first flight was from Washington to San Diego. Knowing that it was her first flight as a stewardess, the captain of the ship started a conversation to put her in a relaxed mood on the eve of her first official flight:
Captain: "Where is your home, Miss Porter?"
Stewardess: "It is a town you probably never heard of - - Menard, Texas."
Captain: "Oh yes, I know where Menard is, I was stationed at the Air Base in San Angelo during World War II."
Stewardess: "What is your home town, Captain?"
Captain: "My home town is one you truly never heard of - - it is Quail, Texas."
Stewardess: "Yes, I do know where Quail is. I have visited in the home of the Deskins Wells and I read the Quail News in The Wellington Leader.

The captain was Bill Cherry, one of the heroes of the Rickenbacker odyssey in the Pacific Ocean during World War II.

Deposits at Record High For County

Bank deposits and assets increased by more than one-half million dollars in the last year to top the April 1971 figure and set a new first quarter record in Collingsworth banking history.

Deposits were $12,970,952. 19 at the close of business April 18, when the Federal Reserve Banl and State Banking Commissioner made their calls.

Assets were $14,028,040.18.

Deposits were up $576, 648. 54 from the April 1971 call, but more than this, the new figure is almost a million dollars -- $961, 943.73 -- higher than the deposits on January 1, 1972, traditionally the peak of the year financially in Collingsworth.

Furthermore, deposits are $2,427,043.08 higher than at the end of the first quarter in 1970.

Demand deposits are down slightly from the figure a year ago, but $601,974.31 higher than at the April call in 1970.

Time and savings deposits on April 18 were $6,658,903.91 up over a million dollars from the 1971 figure of $5,552,327.65. These deposits are also up around one and one-quarter million dollars from 1970.

Loans made by the two banks total $7,292,379.86, and are a little under the loan figure in April 1971.

With the beginning of farming operations, some of the money deposit is already going into the next crop, for the deposit figure averaged $13,058,932.88 for the 15-day period preceding the bank call.
