Berlin Could Kindle War, Reds Warn

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union warned Thursday that Western insistence on remaining in Berlin could kindle nuclear war that would reach America.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko continued the Kremlin's campaign to force the Western Allies out of West Berlin by predictions of nuclear war if they stay. He boasted Russia is well armed for any trouble.

Gromyko spoke at the closing session of the winter meeting of Russia's parliament, the Supreme Soviet. He also urged a ban on nuclear weapon tests without controls which the West considers necessary.

Diplomats in Washington said they found nothing new in Gromyko's speech. There was no immediate comment from the State Department.

If an end is not put to the Berlin crisis, Gromyko said, "the threat will further increase of West Berlin becoming a second Sarajevo."

Premier Khrushchev has demanded that the United States, Britain and France pull their occupation troops out of West Berlin by June 1, leaving it a demilitarized free city surrounded by Communist East Germany. Western attempts to reach Berlin without East German permission would be aggression against the Soviet bloc, Khrushchev warned.

The West has pledged to stick with the 2,200,000 West Berliners, who overwhelmingly vote anti-Communist. It contends East Germany has no authority to control Western military traffic to Berlin.

Gromyko said that "any attempt at aggression against (East Germany) may start a new big war in which millions upon millions of people would find their death."

"The flame of war would inevitably spread to the American continent, for today's military techniques have virtually eliminated the difference between distant theaters of war and those close at hand," he asserted.

The foreign minister added that Russia "has no objection to hearing proposals if the West has any — if those proposals are directed toward solving the problem and are not rejections of our solution." He again barred, however, unofficial Western suggestions that discussions of Berlin be linked with reunification of Germany.

Backing up Gromyko with a flourish of missiles, the chief of staff of Soviet armed forces said that if the West starts war over Berlin, Russia could reply with crushing blows.

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky added "The United States will not succeed in sitting it out on the other side of the ocean with impunity . . . The Soviet Union has intercontinental rockets, and no ocean can save the United States from retaliation."

Parliament went through the formality of approving Soviet policy on Berlin and also Gromyko's call for a nuclear test ban.

The foreign minister contributed one new note, saying that under a ban the Soviet Union would agree to a limited number of nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes provided Russia was allowed as many as the United States and Britain combined.

YULETIDE SPIRIT PREVAILS—Ellis Gordon, 60, of Los Angeles gestures during a press conference in Tokyo. Gordon, a prisoner of war of the Japanese for almost four years in World War II, told of his bitterness, his harsh memories softening over the years and of his wish to return to Japan to visit with some of the prison guards at the steel mill near Tokyo where he was forced to work. "I guess I just wanted to turn the other cheek," he said. (AP Wirephoto)

Traffic Death Toll Headed For Record

By The Associated Press

Traffic	268
Fires	57
Miscellaneous	35
Total	360

A runaway pace of fatal traffic accidents today brought a warning that this may become the nation's bloodiest Christmas holiday.

"There's no indication that the traffic death toll isn't headed for an all-time high for any holiday in the nation's history," a National Safety Council official said.

The record auto toll is 706. That number was killed during the four-day Christmas period of 1956. In that weekend two years ago, accident deaths from all causes numbered 884, the highest over-all total in history.

The current Christmas weekend also is a four-day holiday. The death count which began at 6 p.m., Wednesday (local time) continues until midnight Sunday.

The first half of the 102-hour span brought an unusual number of fatal fires, including several multiple fatalities. Nine died in a farmhouse blaze near Auburn, Wash.

A prominent Virginia businessman, Horace A. Gray Jr., and four members of his family were killed when fire destroyed their Richmond mansion. Two separate fires in Pennsylvania, at Wilkes-Barre and Braddock, killed three children each. Three persons died in a Northampton, Mass., lodging house blaze. A father and his son perished in a Petersburg, Pa., fire.

But the highway toll was more than five times greater than that in fires. The massive upsurge in fatal crashes came despite emergency efforts of law enforcement agencies to promote sanity on the roads. Many police agencies canceled Christmas days off for their members and assigned them to traffic duties with orders to take drunks from behind steering wheels.

The safety council spokesman said "Virtually every official effort has been redoubled to protect motorists from themselves and other drivers.

"There is only one person who can do anything more to avert accidents. That is the individual driver."

With an estimated 40 million cars on the roads during the holiday, inevitable thousands defied the conformity of driving rules devised for safety at highway speeds. In some cases the result was fatal to several persons.

Five persons died in one flaming wreck of two cars near Jackson, N. C. Another head-on collision exploded two cars near Michigan City, Ind., killing four. Near Coats, N. C., three lives were smashed out, also in a head-on collision. Often, it was the heedless or unheeded pedestrian who was pitched to sudden death.

A Greyhound bus loaded with 34 holiday passengers skidded into a crowd on a highway, killing a woman and injuring her husband.

The count was higher than the council's pre-holiday estimate 620 deaths during the 102-hour holiday period.

Strike Talks Are Resumed

By The Associated Press

Eastern Air Lines, having reached agreement with its striking machinists, returns to the bargaining table today with its striking flight engineers.

The line has been grounded for more than a month. Also out of commission is American Airlines, which is awaiting a decision by striking pilots on a seven-point settlement formula proposed by federal mediators. The company accepted it.

Chances are slim the two carriers will be operating in time to take care of a post-holiday transportation crush.

After the 5,300 striking members of the International Assn. of Machinists ratified the settlement with Eastern, George M. Brown, president of a Miami district of the union, said his members would not be asked to cross picket lines of any other union.

There has been no statement by Eastern that it would operate without flight engineers, required on planes with more than two engines.

Twenty-nine Caribbean governments, noting that tourism is the main source of their economy, have appealed to President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles for an early settlement of the Eastern strike.

In Miami, Fla., businessmen are lamenting financial losses of a million dollars a day due to the grounding of Eastern planes.

When American's pilots walked off their jobs last Friday, they claimed their wage range of $400 to $1,600 a month was below that of other lines.

The carrier says the new pact proposed by mediators would mean $25,000 to $30,000 a year for its pilots, making them the highest paid in the industry. The new ceiling would be $2,362 a month, $28 more monthly than the previous company offer.

American said the pilots also are demanding 10 hours less flying time a month when operating jets. The current work month is 85 hours.

Eastern's 550 flight engineers have been resisting a company demand that they qualify as pilots for jet operations.

Mild Weather Expected For Rest Of Year

By The Associated Press

Higher than normal temperatures and little precipitation are in a five-day forecast issued Friday by the Weather Bureau.

The forecast covers the period from Dec. 26-31.

Normal temperatures for Texas for the period range from 43-53 in extreme South Texas and along the coast and 32-44 elsewhere in East and Central Texas. Normal maximums are in the 52-70 degree range.

Normal temperatures for West Texas range from a low minimum of 20 degrees in the north to a high maximum of 65.

Meanwhile, a deepening low pressure system in the Oklahoma Panhandle Friday caused an increased southerly flow of air over Texas. As a result, clouds spread from the Gulf Coast of Texas through the Junction and San Angelo area and into West Texas. Light rain fell at Galveston. A light drizzle fell at Corpus Christi.

Clear skies in East Texas, however, let temperatures drop to around freezing in that section.

Temperatures shortly before dawn ranged from 47 at Galveston and San Angelo to 31 at Lufkin.

Other temperatures at the same time: College Station 36, Fort Worth 37, El Paso 45, Brownsville 53, San Antonio 50, Laredo 51, Austin 37, Amarillo 38, Dalhart 34, Childress 40, Waco 38, Houston 53 and Wink 35.

Three Negroes burned to death in Galveston Christmas Eve. They were Lillian Hightower Dials, Alice Spears and William McKinney. An oil heater exploded setting afire a two-story frame house.

Invalid Tot Warms Heart Of Bachelor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Christmas morning face of a little girl in a hospital, her eyes dancing as she waited for Santa, brought home "the meaning of Christmas—love, faith and truth" to a bachelor reporter.

"Her name is Gail Marie, aged 4," wrote James Schurz of the San Francisco Examiner, "and for as long as she can remember her legs and feet have been imprisoned in heavy plaster casts."

Schurz was walking down a corridor of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children at 9:15 a.m. when Gail Marie, who had been awake since 6 waiting for Santa's scheduled 9:30 arrival, couldn't contain her excitement.

"Merry Christmas," she called. "Come here." Then, in a conspirative tone: "You'd better wait here with me—Santa's coming."

Santa doesn't arrive by night on a sleigh at the hospital. The 60 children there know well that he comes Christmas morning on a fire engine.

Schurz—like that—fell in love, and waited.

A trumpet in the corridor heralded Santa's arrival and Gail Marie began trembling. The trembling mounted when seven firemen in full uniform appeared and finally Santa Claus, laden with gifts.

Packages with her name and age held a stocking full of fruit, a Cinderella doll, a coral-tinted telephone and a fully equipped doctor's black bag.

Gail Marie wanted to give the telephone to Schurz because he didn't get anything. He assured her that Santa had visited him earlier and there were a lot of telephones back at the office.

Plugging her toy stethoscope into her ears, she listened to his heart.

"I don't hear anything. I don't think it's beating," she said.

"It was beating all right, Gail," he wrote, "as you may learn when you are old enough to read this. And thank you for a happy Christmas."

Five Perish In Mansion Fire

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Fire flashed through a three-story mansion in an exclusive Richmond residential section early today, taking the lives of a prominent Virginia businessman and four members of his family.

A son home on Christmas leave from the Coast Guard was the only survivor.

Recovered from the ruins of their $150,000 home in fashionable Windsor Farms were the bodies of Horace A. Gray Jr., 49; his wife, Catherine, 47; two sons, Thomas, 17, and Foster, 13; and a daughter, Susan Lee, 19.

The third son, Horace A. Gray III, 22, returned to the home overlooking the James River and found his family dead. There apparently were no servants in the home at the time.

Firemen said some members of the family apparently had made frantic efforts to awaken others. Three bodies were found near windows on an upper floor.

The first alarm was sounded by Mrs. Gray at 1:48 a.m. She called, apparently from a bedside telephone, and said "we are suffocating to death" and gave the street address.

Fire Lt. Jeff Pemberton, among the first on the scene, said he kicked open the front door to find a mass of flames.

He said the fire obviously spread from the first floor library to the remainder of the 15-room home.

Firemen said the girl and the two boys apparently had made desperate efforts to awaken their parents, and then had made their way to windows. Their bodies were 30 to 40 feet from their bedrooms.

Firemen found the body of Gray draped over a bed in a second-floor room.

He was a director of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. and numerous other businesses and civic groups.

The fire was at the Hollenbach Turkey Farm.

Firemen said those listed as dead were Mrs. Olie Hollenbach, 38, and eight children, Gale, 18, Donald, 17, Garry, 16, Sharon, 15, Patricia, 13, Mary Ellen, 8, Carl, 6, and Penny, 4.

The husband and father, Hollenbach, was burned only slightly.

Congressmen Set For Fights At Outset Of New Session

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Christmas over, Congress members will start arriving soon for the new session which may open with battles in both House and Senate.

The 86th Congress convenes Jan. 7 with much bigger Democratic majorities than the 85th Congress of 1957-58.

Normally a new Congress gets off to a slow start but this time things look different.

In the Senate, a lengthy fight is shaping up over a move by Northern Democrats and Republicans to curb filibusters. Southern Democrats in the past have used unlimited debate to block civil rights legislation.

Senate Republicans also are embroiled in a family quarrel. A group which views the present GOP command there are behind the times is pushing a rival slate for top leadership posts.

In the House, a bloc of self-styled liberals wants to limit the power of the Rules Committee to bottle up legislation. Under present House rules, that committee can keep most bills from the floor almost indefinitely.

Unless a compromise is reached ahead of time, this fight will be settled on opening day.

Another controversy confronting the House involves the disputed election of Dr. Dale Alford, a Little Rock segregation leader, to replace Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark), an avowed moderate on the segregation issue.

A special House committee recently conducted a preliminary probe of charges that irregularities figured in Alford's victory as a write-in candidate. The committee recommended Alford not be seated pending a fuller inquiry by a regular House committee.

Unless the case becomes an out-and-out civil rights issue, Alford probably will be permitted to take his seat on Jan. 7.

These controversies aside, it probably will be at least a month before any legislation of consequence reaches the floor of either branch.

The House must completely organize from scratch. The Senate, with two-thirds of its membership holdovers, has fewer organization problems.

Senate Republicans must select a new leader to replace William F. Knowland, who retired from the Senate to seek the governorship of California. He lost that race. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas continues as Senate Democratic leader.

Top Scientists Assemble To Swap Ideas On Development

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top scientists gathered today to swap ideas and report developments that could have great significance as the world races into the space age.

One advance report indicated that U.S. weaponeers may have come up with a new type of H-bomb — a lithium bomb packing a hydrogen-explosion punch at lower cost.

The report stemmed from observation of a strange air glow over the antarctic. This glow and a man-made aurora; the first ever sighted, were believed linked to U.S. atomic blasts last summer in the South Pacific.

The observation came during the 18-month International Geophysical Year, now drawing to a close.

IGY doings and other topics were among the 1,800 reports listed for presentation at the 125th meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

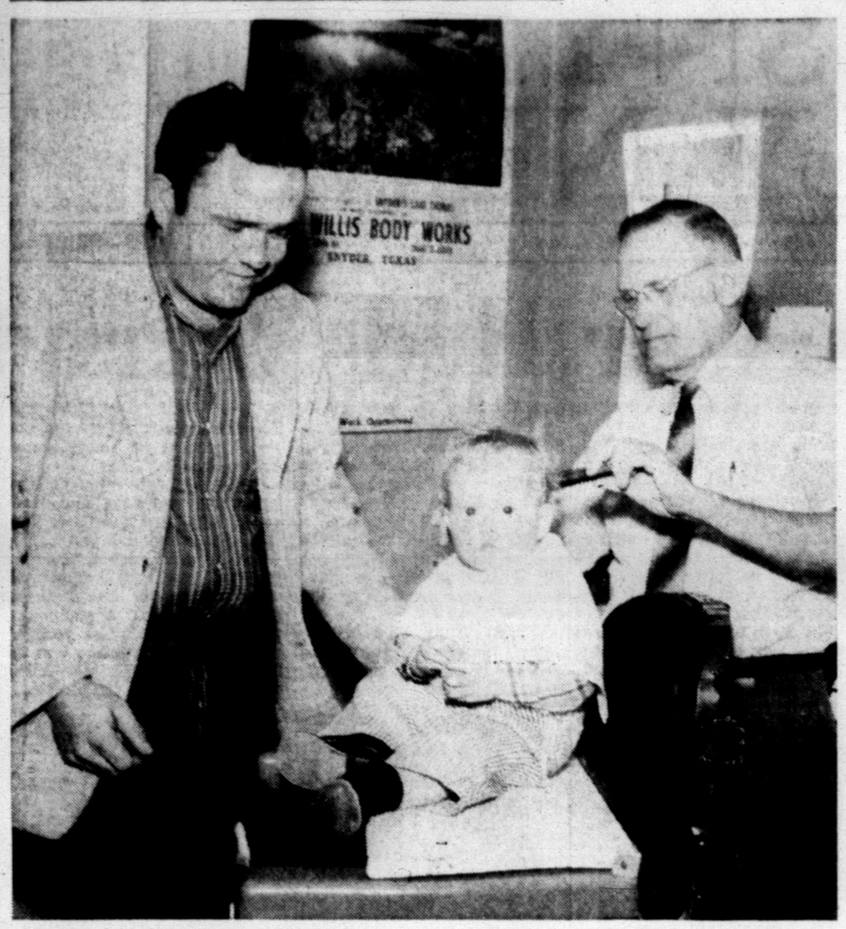

Top speakers included President Eisenhower's science adviser, Dr. James R. Killian; the association president, Dr. Wallace R. Brode; and the British biologist-writer Julian Huxley.

Hugh Odishaw, executive director of the U.S. National Committee of the IGY, told about the lithium discovery in reporting on IGY highlights in the journal "Science." The IGY is scheduled to end Dec. 31.

Odishaw said an eventide glow in the south polar skies had been spotted with sensitive instruments. The glow was attributed to lithium in the high atmosphere, not previously known to be there.

"A plain inference is that these new manifestations (the lithium glow) could be related to nuclear tests carried out during the same period as the IGY program," Odishaw said.

The United States conducted high altitude nuclear tests in the Pacific last August.

Young Engineer's Voice Is Relayed

CORONA, Calif. (AP) — The young engineer's voice crackled across the heavens:

"This is Prado Dam United States Army Signal Research and Development Laboratory, Corona, Calif . . . . ."

Then Sam Findler read the President's now famous satellite Christmas message.

Tumbling through the dark void of space, the orbiting Atlas satellite picked up the transmission and broadcast it back to another tracking station at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Thus, last Saturday, the voice of Findler, 34, became the first other than the President's to be broadcast from outer space.

The engineer from Neptune, N.J., told Thurday how it was done.

Early in November Findler headed an 11-man team that moved like a band of well equipped gypsies into the rolling foothills near Prado Dam, about 50 miles southwest of Los Angeles. Their job was secretary to set up a satellite tracking station and stand ready.

On a hillside a few hundred from a busy highway, Findler and his men set up the portable generator, radio direction finder, four large coil antenae and other material needed to track and talk to the satellite.

They managed to brush off questions by occasional passers-by. The team lived a few miles away in a Corona motel. They avoided the townspeople. There were many pinochle games in the motel room. Time dragged.

Then last week at Cape Canaveral, Fla., the Atlas blasted off with a fiery swoosh. The waiting for Findler and company had ended.

"The satellite arrived over Corona within two minutes of the predicted time and was within one half degree of predicted bearing," said Findler.

Since then Findler's team of Army and civilian enginees have kept an around the clock watch on the 4-ton satellite.

Findler read the President's Christmas message to the satellite Saturday as one of the station's communication experiments. Since then other messages by voice and teletype code have been transmitted to and re-broadcast back from the satellite.

The tracking station, one of four, will remain in operation as long as the satellite can broadcast.

Bigger Crop Brings In Less Money

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas farmers produced more commercial vegetables this season than last, but got less money for their crop.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said today that production of vegetables for the fresh market was up 14 per cent over last year, and those for processing were up 69 per cent over 1957. An increased pack of tomatoes was largely responsible.

Pricewise, the USDA said, the commercial vegetables brought in $64,406,000, three per cent under the 1957 figure.

Planting of the 1958 winter vegetable crops got off to a slow start in the Lower Rio Grande Valley because of a limited supply of irrigation water during the fall of 1957. Damp, cold weather from last December through January brought heavy losses in some vegetables.

There was additional delay in planting of commercial vegetables in all late spring and summer areas, but conditions improved as the season progressed with a resultant increase in the expected yield.

New Hope Looms For Deaf Children

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—New hope was offered today for some deaf children previously thought incapable of learning to talk.

They might have an undetected language disability along with their known deafness, said Edna K. Monsees, director of the hearing and speech department of Children's Hospital, Washington.

If this is discovered, the child might then be taught to talk by the application of special teaching techniques, she said in a report prepared for the 125th meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

"The results of recent research and invention dealing with problems of hearing and deafness are leading us to suspect that some of the old maxims about deaf children may not be true," she said.

"We are questioning the statement, for example, that some deaf children of normal intelligence cannot learn to lipread and to talk."

It now appears, she said, that such children may actually (1) have a handicap that is not deafness at all; (2) they may be doubly-handicapped children having both hearing and language disabilities called "aphasia."

Technically, aphasia is the loss or impairment of the power to use or understand speech. It results from a brain injury or, sometimes from a functional or emotional disturbance.

"The final determination of which deaf children are also aphasic lies in the child's response to attempts to teach him to talk," she said.

"The deaf child will learn by methods currently used in teaching the deaf. The aphasic child will fail to learn by these methods and requires an altogether different teaching procedure.

"The importance of early and accurate diagnosis is obvious — in preventing the waste of time involved in trying to teach a deaf-aphasic child by methods unsuited to his needs, with all that this failure may mean in terms of suffering for the child and his parents."

Puppets Always Appealing

AP Newsfeatures

Puppets are making a comeback in Santa Claus workshops. Puppet shows were popular in Greece as early as the 5th Century, B. C., and the Punch and Judy characters of England and Guignol puppet theatres of France amused children for centuries, but it wasn't until recent years that American children took to the entertainment.

The modern day puppet has undergone some big changes. Children have become performers and some living rooms have become puppet theatres. Psychologists often recommend their use to parents in dealing with emotionally disturbed children — often a child who has with-drawn from his elders will talk to them through a puppet. Some parents use puppets to put a child to sleep.

There are glove — type hand puppets which should be used behind a proscenium or newer five-finger variety with the entire hand being used to manipulate the front legs and mouth of dog puppets — schanauzer, dalmatian and beagle. These are whole animals with a hand opening located on the underside of each, permit-mitting the child to play with them as cuddly playthings when they are not acting puppets.

MODERN PUPPETS—An opening on the underside permits operator to get realistic action from animal puppets like this dog, designed by Steiff.

To serve: Use two rounds a serving; spoon orange sauce between and on top of rounds. Place spoonful fluffy white topping on each serving. Makes six or seven servings.

Paddling around the house in a robe which has gone absolutely shapeless may be great from the comfort standpoint but it's an awful shock to family and casual callers. Check up on your robes and get rid of the shabby ones.

Unless blouses and skirts are carefully coordinated, they can look messy. Colors and fabrics should blend beautifully. A striped shirt looks awful with, say a checked or plaid skirt.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

TIGER BASKETBALL COACH J. P. Ward didn't have to look far to seek some opposition to scrimmage his charges the other day.

On hand was the entire starting lineup of the team that carried the Tigers to the District 3-AAA championship in 1956-57.

That would include Robert Dabbs, 6-4, and Milton Ham, 6-2, at the forwards; Dwayne Prince, 6-5, at center; and Powell Berry, 6-0, and Ronnie Smith, 6-0, at the guards.

All five of these boys were home for the Christmas Holidays. Add to these five three other outstanding Tiger cagemen of previous years, Jack Spikes, Hubert O'Neal and Lynn Tankersley who were on hand, the Tigers got in a valuable hour or so scrimmage session.

In addition to winning the 3-AAA title in 1956-57, the Tiger roundballers that year also won their own Canyon Reef Invitational title, the only time the Tigers have captured the tourney title here.

The Tigers went undefeated in district play in 1956-57 and compiled an overall 15-7 record, one of the better marks in the Tiger cage annals.

Wilson To Run At Sugar Bowl

Add another ex-Tiger to the list of bowl participants this season.

Rex Wilson, state high hurdles champion for the Tigers last spring, will run in the Sugar Bowl track carnival next week.

Wilson is attending University of Texas on a track scholarship. He will compete in the high hurdles and the mile relay in the Sugar Bowl track show which starts Monday.

Wilson was home for Christmas but left today for Austin to rejoin the Texas squad for the trip to New Orleans.

This brings the list to five the number of former Tigers competing in holiday bowl programs. The other four will be playing football.

They are Jack Spikes and Milton Ham of TCU who'll meet the Air Force Academy in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Jan. 1 and Don McNew and Shorty Grimmett of Hardin-Simmons who'll met Wyoming in the Sun Bowl in El Paso, Dec. 31.

Boxing On Upswing Here

The Snyder Optimist - Boys Club boxing team is experiencing its best year thus far and a rosy future is predicted.

The locals have won two out of two dual meets and on the TV boxing program at Abilene Tuesday the Snyder lads won two out of three fights.

This is only the third year that a boxing program has been organized in Snyder, at least within the last decade, and already the locals are gaining a lot of respect in ring circles.

You can't build up any sports program over night and we think the handlers of the local mittmen have done wonders in getting the kids started in the boxing sport.

Much of this credit, of course, goes to Lacy Boles, an ex-pugilist himself, who has been with the ring program since it started three years ago.

Tourney Play Dominates College Slate

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas State, a team with a lot of making up to do on the tournament level, gets its chance tonight as college basketball resumes with a vengeance from its Christmas lull.

The Wildcats, who turned woeful in the NCAA championship finals last March, meet Missouri in the Big Eight Conference's Holiday Tourney, one of four major tournaments.

Touching off a spree of festive competition that continues almost without interruption through the first week of January.

The ECAC Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden opened with an afternoon doubleheader matching Cornell (4-1) with Utah (4-3) and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (6-1), the favorite, against Syracuse (3-2). Tonight a pair of unbeatens, Dayton (6-0) and Niagara (5-0), have a showdown followed by Holy Cross (3-1) against St. Joseph's of New York (5-1).

First round play in the Southwest Conference Tourney had favored Texas Christian (5-1) against Baylor (4-2) and SMU (5-2) against Arkansas (2-3) in afternoon games, and a night doubleheader matching Rice (4-3) with Texas (2-4) and Texas Tech (4-2) with Texas A&M (5-1).

The oldest of all the Christmas tournaments, the All-College at Oklahoma City, had an afternoon schedule of Wichita (4-3) vs Bowling Green (2-2) and Tulsa (4-3) vs Duquesne (2-4) and a night program of favored Xavier of Ohio (5-1) vs Oregon (4-1) and Oklahoma City (5-1) vs San Francisco (2-5).

Just to keep everyone happy, two more major and numerous smaller tournaments begin tomorrow. Oregon State is the favorite in the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore., which also includes Air Force, Iowa and Wyoming. Brigham Young, only team to beat Kansas State this season, is favored over Dartmouth, Seton Hall and Canisius in the Queen City Tournament in Buffalo, N.Y. — also beginning Saturday.

The Big Eight at Kansas City spreads its first round over two days. Oklahoma meets Iowa State in the other game tonight. Tomorrow Kansas faces Colorado and Nebraska meets Oklahoma State.

In case the four big tournaments aren't enough, there's the Hoosier Classic beginning in Indianapolis with Purdue meeting Butler and Indiana facing Notre Dame tonight, and the four-team Evansville (Ind) Invitational with Tennessee Tech, St. Marys (Calif), Washington (St.Louis) and Evansville entered.

BOB CONSIDINE, noted columnist and National Sports Chairman for the 1959 March of Dimes has appealed to sports editors, sportscasters, promoters and athletic directors to help the National Foundation in its expanded program in the field of polio, arthritis, birth defects and various virus diseases. East Favored In 34th Shrine Tilt

By ALAN CLINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Despite prospects of a wet field, look for a passing vs running battle when East meets West in the Shrine's 34th annual charity classic Saturday.

East Coach Duffy Daugherty announced his lineups today, and clearly the emphasis is on an East running game.

The offensive backfield consists of Bob Ptacek of Michigan at quarterback, Ohio State's Don Clark at the running halfback spot, Dick Haley of Pittsburgh or Tom Lorino of Auburn, at right half, and Nick Pietrosante of Notre Dame at fullback.

Up front offensively, the Easterners, 6½ point favorites will have Jerry Wilson, Auburn, and Tom Franckhauser, Purdue, ends; Fran O'Brien, Michigan State, and Bob Novogratz, Army tackles, Dan Fronk, Ohio State, and Al Ecuyer, Notre Dame, Guards, and Bernie Svendsen, Minnesota, center.

The defensive backfield lists Frank Kremblas, Ohio State; Sid Williams, Wisconsin; Wray Carlton, Duke, and Jon Hobbs, Wisconsin.

Viewers watching the contest at 2 p. m. PST over nationwide television (NBC) will see this starting East defensive line:

Sammy Williams, Michigan State, and Bob Pepe, No. Carolina State, ends; Bronko Nagurski, Notre Dame, and Emil Karas, Dayton, tackles, John Guzik, Pittsburgh, and Ellison Kelly, Michigan State, guards, and Dick Teteak, Wisconsin, center. Art Gob, Pittsburgh end, will play both offense and defense, Daugherty said.

West Coach Jack Curtice was still mulling over his starting lineup, but it's a cinch Le eGrosscup of Utah, a co-captain with guard Charles Horton of Baylor, and Bobby Newman of Washington State will do plenty of passing.

Ole Miss Is 6-Point Pick In Gator Bowl

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mississippi and Florida — two football teams that gave national champion Louisiana State fierce competition — meet in the 14th annual Gator Bowl game Saturday (2 p.m.)

Gator Bowl selectors couldn't get the national champions for their postseason game but they feel they got the two best matched available teams.

Odds on the major bowl games bear them out. Mississippi, ranked 11th in the nation in the final Associated Press poll, is six points favorite over Florida, ranked 14th.

All the favorites in the New Year's Day bowls—Texas Christian over Air Force, Louisiana State over Clemson, Oklahoma over Syracuse and Iowa over California — are wider choices.

Mississippi, returning only two regulars from its Sugar Bowl championship team of a year ago, won 8 games, lost 2 in the 1958 season.

Florida had a season record of 6 victories, 3 losses and 1 tie.

This is Mississippi's seventh bowl game but first time in the Gator Bowl. The Rebels have won in the Sugar, Cotton and Delta bowls; lost twice in the Sugar and once in the Orange bowls for a 3-3 bowl standing.

Florida's only previous bowl game was in the Gator Bowl and the Gators won it over Tulsa.

Star-Studded TCU Favored To Win SWC Cage Tourney

HOUSTON (AP)—Texas Christian, with an all-senior starting line-up, was a strong favorite today as the Horned Frogs met Baylor in the opening round of the eighth annual Southwest Conference Basketball Tournament.

The defending champion Frogs, with a 5-1 season record, were 13-point favorites over a Baylor squad that had broken even in six games.

The second afternoon game matched last year's conference co-champions, Southern Methodist and Arkansas. Night pairings placed Rice against Texas and Texas A&M against Texas Tech.

SMU was a six-point favorite over Arkansas, while Rice was a 10-point favorite over Texas Tech, with a 5-2 record, was a 12-point favorite over an Aggie team that began the tournament with a 5-1 record, the best in Aggieland since 1921.

TCU won the tournament a year ago by defeating Rice, 57-55, on a field goal with 20 seconds to play by H. E. Kirchner, 6-foot-10 giant from Houston. Also returning this year with Kirchner was Ronnie Stevenson, the Frog forward who was voted the outstanding player in last year's tournament. Stevenson also won individual scoring honors for the 1957-58 conference season with 28 points in 28 games.

Tomorrow night's semifinals will place the TCU - Baylor winner against the SMU-Arkansas winner and the Rice-Texas victor against the A&M-Tech winner. The teams will take a rest on Sunday, with the championship finals scheduled for Monday night.

The oddsmakers gave Tech the best chance of upsetting favored TCU for the tournament title, with the Red Raiders holding a narrow edge over SMU and A&M.

Stop Unitas Is Giant Watchword

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Stop Unitas" was the New York Giants watchword today as they prepared for their final long workout for the National League Football championship game against the Baltimore Colts Sunday.

The scrimmage was designed to set up what Coach Jim Lee Howell hopes will be an impregnable defense against the passing of the Colts' star quarterback, Johnny Unitas.

That meant defensive coach Tom Landry's famous foursome—pass defenders Jim Patton, Cliff Livingston, Lindon Crow and Emlen Tunnell—were in for some extra heavy work trying to knock down the heaves of Chuck Conerly, Don Heinrich and Joe Kemp.

It is no secret that along with the Colts' massive forward wall, the Giants fear Unitas the most. They have not forgotten their 24-21 victory over Baltimore was achieved with Unitas on the sidelines, nursing a couple of cracked ribs. They are fully aware that Unitas has thrown at least one touchdown pass in his last 25 games, a league record.

The Giants are rightfully proud of the fact they did not permit the Cleveland Browns to throw a single touchdown pass, either in the final game of the regular season or in the playoff. The Giants won both by scores of 13-10 and 10-0. In the first game Jimmy Brown scored on a 65-yard run.

Despite the heavy concentration on Unitas, Howell isn't underestimating Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore, whom he regards as two of the best running backs in the league.

South Favored In Blue-Gray

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — College all-stars who may turn pro will get a taste of two-platoon football in the Blue-Gray game Saturday.

The limited substitution rule will be waived and coaches will be able to alternate offensive and defensive teams each time the ball changes hands.

But in every other respect, the 48 seniors will be governed by the college regulations they've been playing under — including the chance to pick up two points instead of one after a touchdown.

Meanwhile, the prospect of rain for the 20th annual game gave Yankee performers increased hope of breaking the Rebels' winning habits. The South has been on top on the scoreboard in 13 of the 19 games.

Rated a three-point favorite by the soothsayers who have watched both squads work out, the Southerners are hoping for fair weather to make the most of a strong running and passing attack.

The game will be televised nationally (NBC). Kickoff is at 2 p.m. (EST).

Althea Is Female Athlete Of Year

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Althea Gibson, the temporarily retired queen of tennis, today had another glorious chapter added to her Cinderella story. The one-time tomboy of Harlem was chosen the outstanding female athlete of 1958 in the annual Associated Press yearend poll.

This is the second straight year the tall, tenacious New Yorker has been awarded the honor by a nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters. She won it again by a whopping margin in recognition of her second successive sweep of the U.S. and Wimbledon championships.

It elevated the 31-year-old star among the all-time greats of sport — a position she had been aiming for ever since she broke into the major tournament set.

Althea received 133 first place votes out of a possible 202 and 456 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first place, two for second, one for third.

Carol Heiss, the blonde, pretty, 18-year-old world figure skating champion from New York, was a distant second with 21 first placers and 199 points.

Beverly Hanson, leading money-winning golf pro from Indio, Calif., was third with 10 first placers and 126 points. Ilse Konrads, 14-year-old Australian swim phenom, was fourth with 82 points (10 firsts) and Dawn Fraser, another Australian swimming record-holder, was fifth with 42 points (one first).

Miss Gibson became the first consecutive double winner in the AP poll since Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, the former tennis champion, won it in 1951, 1952 and 1953. The other only consecutive repeaters were Alice Marble, another court queen, in 1939 and 1940, and the fabulous Babe Didrikson Zaharias in 1945, 1946 and 1947 for golf.

One of the two prized trophies Miss Gibson will receive is named in memory of the Babe. The other is the Fraternal Order of the Eagles' dinner in Milwaukee, Feb. 9, when Australia's Herb Elliott, the marvel miler, will be given the male athlete of the year trophy.

North-South Shrine Tilt Set In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — College all-stars get in final practice licks today for the Shrine's North-South football game in the Orange Bowl Saturday night.

Individual performances were expected to settle starting lineups. North Coach Ara Parseghian of Northwestern flatly announced he wanted to see the Yanks' final workout before deciding between Nick Mumley, 240, of Purdue and Bob Wetoska, 225, of Notre Dame for a hotly contests left tackle spot.

Darrell Royal of Texas, coach of the South squad, promised a wide open, pro-type offense. Royal has had his Rebels working on pass plays built around Baylor's Buddy Humphrey, a top hand among collegiate pigskin marksmen.

OUR VIEW

Mao's Retirement

THE CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER

Responsible Western diplomats do not interpret the retirement of Mao Tze-tung from the presidency as an indication that the Communist regime of Red China is cracking. To support this view they note that Mao will continue as head of the Communist Party in China.

As an elder statesman with time to meditate and expound on the theory of communism, he may well become the foremost world authority on the subject. In interpreting Marxist-Leninist theory, in fact, he already seems to have swung eastward, from Moscow to Peiping.

Thus Mao seems to be seizing the reins of Communist leadership from Nikita S. Khrushchev. There are striking similarities between the two men as well as wide points of difference. Mao was born in 1893 and helped found the Chinese Communist Party in 1921 in Shanghai. Khrushchev, born in 1894, joined the Communist Party in 1918. Mao has had much more actual military experience than Khrushchev, however, leading Communist forces in the Chinese civil war and overseeing the final defeat of Chiang Kai-shek by driving him from the mainland. Khrushchev has spent most of his time as a party worker, although he had the rank of lieutenant general in charge of guerrilla activities in the Ukraine during the Nazi invasion.

Mao revolutionized Communist theory when he succeeded in imposing communism on an agrarian economy. Hitherto, Marxist theorists contended that communism could only develop in a relatively advanced society and be based on the revolt of workers—dictatorship of the proletariat. In contrast with Khrushchev, Mao is a literal interpreter, for the most part, of Marxist-Leninist theories.

Khrushchev's eminence is due not only to a good grasp of Communist theory, but to a shrewd, practical mind. A "plunger" in the field of foreign policy as well as internal policy, he has begun a massive decentralization of the Soviet economy. If his theories work in practice, his place in Soviet history may be second only to Lenin.

Khrushchev must have his uneasy moments as he surveys the stirring giant that is China and its population of almost three times that of Russia. Will he in the end be forced to turn to the West to guard himself against the East? Or will Russia permit both the leadership and the balance of power to migrate to Peiping? Mao has given both Russia and the West much food for thought. He will probably continue to do so as long as he lives.

Dec. 26 Is A Day For Reflection

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The day after Christmas most grownups are as good as they can be.

They haven't the strength to be anything else.

Worn out with the wassail bowl the struggle to put up the Christmas tree, the annual turkey bout, they appease the aching head with aspirin and the rebellious stomach with bicarbonate of soda.

Half the children's new toys were broken the night before, and the other half — including, thank heaven, the drum—will be broken by this nightfall.

But millions of Americans, stretched out on the living room couch and half-listening to a wife humming in the kitchen as she sets about preparing turkey hash, know a strange contentment.

This is the season when man likes to review the dying year. Joe Blow, the typical American, lying there on his living room couch, might put it this way—if he talked out loud:

"When you get right down to it, 1958 has been pretty great.

"I started the year running scared, but it hasn't been half bad. Not bad at all.

"The guy down the street lost his job, but he got another one three months later, and seems to be doing all right now. Everybody else in the neighborhood is working, too—whether he wants to or not.

"The boss has been pretty good to me. I thought last July he'd skip the yearend bonus this time, but he made it again—although he did say he didn't know how much longer he could stay in business. But he's been saying that ever since I was an office boy.

"The wife says things keep getting higher and higher, and a dollar won't buy what it used to. But looking back, I guess it never did. I guess inflation is a big danger, but I don't see what a guy my size can do about it—except join everybody else in viewing the problem with alarm.

"I thought sure this year one of those double-dome scientists would come up with a cure for baldness and the common cold, but no—all they think about is lobbing bigger and bigger baseballs into space.

"But, anyway, as long as they are busy doing that they don't have time to throw bombs back and forth. We still seem to have a new international crisis every day, and I guess it would be a real surprise to wake up some morning and find we only had yesterday's crisis to worry over.

"So what? We still got peace, and any year they don't blow the bugle—well, it's a good year."

Public Relations Business Grows

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — How business gets along with the public — its neighbors, customers, employes, government officials, press, and stockholders — is worrying more managements these days.

Experts in this gentle art — the public relations consultants — say their business has grown more in the last two years than any similar period.

For one thing, the public is taking more interest in how management behaves. And the investigating eyes of Washington quickly turn their way if trouble arises. For another, in this era of keener competition one company may have sales advantage if the public thinks well of it. So, after the recession shook down the PR business, it quickly rebuilt itself.

Officials of the American Public Relations Assn. say it's hard to pin down figures on the number of persons so engaged in the agencies or within corporations—some have estimated it as more than 100,000. What industry and institutions spend for this type of work runs into the millions of dollars annually.

Despite the growth, many a businessman isn't sure today whether he needs such counsel or not and many times he doesn't at the price asked.

And many business executives aren't sure how much to rely on the PR service they now have and how much to use it.

To answer these questions, a study has been made of management's relations — not with the public — but the PR experts themselves. It is prepared strictly for executives by two active workers in the PR field (R. H. Sutherland of American Airlines and Jack Ramsberger, member of the National Air Transport Coordinating Committee.) The booklet is copyrighted by the Economics Press Inc., Monteclair, N.J.

They hold that public relations fell into two parts: counseling and staff services. They estimate that 85 per cent of today's corporate PR departments or PR agencies operate heavily in services. These run all the way from writing speches to planning open houses, from apprising the press of news about a company to getting the client theater tickets.

They say counseling — giving advance on what to do and what not to do — is the most important PR function, but the one which management has been slowest to accept.

To be a good counsellor the PR man must represent the public and not be just another employe. He should be able to tell management, "you are doing something bad for public relations; better do it another way."

PR costs can range from $15,000 a year for a one-man PR department to more than one million dollars on some big problem or issue attracting more than usual public attention.

If you are looking for a financial specialist, he should have heavy experience in PR counseling and communications with stockholders, potential investors, and others interested in financial aspects of your company's story.

The authors question the value of quickie public relations. This is when a management gets into hot water and wants to be bailed out fast. Many PR firms shun the man who is "looking for a fixer," the authors say.

The best way for a company to get into public relations is slowly —see to it that trouble doesn't arise. Executives are warned that "the most important and profitable use of your PR dollars is for prevention rather than cure."

Battle Looming On Housing Fund

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press news Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an anti-recession move earlier this year, Congress voted one billion dollars to buy mortgages on homes costing $13,500 or less. The idea was to encourage building of lower priced homes.

Those funds have run out. Efforts will be made in the new session to get more money for this purpose. The Eisenhower administration—which fought the legislation last spring—is likely to do so again.

The money went to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. — called Fanny May, from its initials. This agency buys the mortgages and, in turn, sells such mortgages to private investors.

It deals in mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

The idea of the program was not only to encourage builders—buying mortgages from them would give them more cash to use—but to encourage building particularly in the low-priced home field.

The billion dollar fund was rammed through last April over President Eisenhower's protests.

Already Fanny May has committed the full billion. When Congress returns next month efforts will be made to get another billion for Fanny May to buy mortgages in the low-priced field.

But this week there were indications the Eisenhower administration may try to block this as part of its economy drive.

It was this week that Eisenhower announced his proposed budget for next fiscal year would be 77 billion dollars, or about three billion less than is being spent this bookkeeping year, ending next June 30.

Such a budget reduction would require cutting some government programs, possibly eliminating others.

In a statement explaining the President's 77 billion goal, the White House said: "Reductions in total spending will be achieved in part by reason of the ending of temporary programs in agriculture, unemployment insurance, and housing."

Heading off another billion for Fanny May to use seems a likely economy target for the administration.

Escapee Hunted In South Texas

LEAKEY, Tex. (AP) — South Texas officers were searching today for John W. Haby, 35, a San Antonio barber, who escaped early yesterday from the Real County jail.

Officers expressed a belief that he might have returned to San Antonio.

Junior Editors Quiz On SCIENCE

QUESTION: What holds a soap bubble together?

• • •

ANSWER: All substances are made up of tiny particles called molecules. Unless these molecules cling together, the substance disintegrates. The ability of the molecules to cling together is called "cohesion."

Cohesion is particularly strong in solid substances like wood or metal. It is not so strong in liquids. Since a soap bubble is made up of tiny soap particles suspended in water, this is why a soap bubble bursts and disappears when a slight air pressure overcomes cohesion.

Surface tension also helps to hold a soap bubble together. This is the tendency of a liquid surface to contract into the smallest possible area. This concentrates the molecules and adds to their cohesive powers.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Have you ever tried blowing colored bubbles? You may do so by adding water color paints to your bowl of soapy water. If you have several bowls, each containing a different colored water, you can create interesting combinations of color as the bubbles rise in the air.

Boxing Day Big British Problem

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — The annual war of nerves with the British dustmen, postmen and holiday carolers has been fought and as usual lost.

New strategy is needed. The way to beat the Boxing Day and caroling racket is to spend the Christmas and New Year holidays somewhere else. Next year, Tierra del Fuergo, here we come.

In Britain, the day after Christmas is known as Boxing Day. This is the day when the people who serve you throughout the year—such as your newsboy — come around with a box. Only now they don't wait until the day after, they come the day before Christmas.

You are expected to put money in the box.

The Borough Council, which hires the dustmen (or garbage collectors), frowns on this practice. Nevertheless on Dec. 24 the doorbell always rings and there stands the head dustman.

He has a clipboard holding a list of the addresses at which he and his crew pick up garbage. His pencil is poised expectantly over yours.

A born coward, you have visions of overflowing, odorous garbage cans throughout 1959. You give him 10 shillings ($1.40).

As the day proceds you also give:

The postman 10 shillings.

The newsboy 5 shillings.

Your window cleaner 10 shillings.

Your neighborhood handyman who mows the lawn 10 shillings.

The laundry staff 10 shillings.

The butcher boy 5 shillings.

Night falls. The two small children are asleep. The doorbell rings. The two small children are instantly awake and wailing.

There also is wailing at the door. This comes from a group of children, aged 9 to 11, singing "Noel, Noel."

You fork over half a crown (35 cents). Seconds later you realize this is madness, but it's too late now. Word spreads through the neighborhood.

When the bell rings for the fifth time you leap out of your chair as though harpooned from the rear.

"Don't you dare strike those poor children!" warns your wife.

"I'm not going to strike the bloody carolers," you reply, "I'm going to dismantle the bleding doorbell!"

This is done. Briefly, there is peace. Then the living-room door opens and in comes your oldest son, aged 2½. The time is 9:45 p.m.

"Good morning," he says. "Is it Christmas yet?"

Trio Killed By Train On Bridge

ALEXANDER CITY, Ala. (AP) —"I kept yelling to them to jump. Why didn't they do what I told them I kept yelling at them."

The plaintive words were spoken by Warner Grimsley, 19, who leaped 20 feet into the Tallapoose River to escape a train that killed three hunting companions on a railroad trestle Christmas mas Day.

Grimsley was treated for shock at a hospital in this central Alabama city. He said the train appeared as he was walking along the trestle with Jean Huggins and Sara Thomas, both 16, and Dwayne Hodge, 19, a college student. The victims' parents are prominent in Alexander City.

Grimsley said he was walking behind his companions, carrying the guns, when the Central of Georgia freight approached. "The others tried to run," he reported. "One girl fainted. The others tried to help her. I kept yelling at them to jump."

The engineer, R. T. Davis, said he put the train in emergency when he saw the youths. "If they had jumped they wouldn't have been killed," Davis added.

One body was removed from beneath the train. Two others were found in shallow water below the trestle.

Santa Brings A Fire Truck

DENVER (AP) — Santa Claus normally doesn't need much help but when the order is for a fire engine, it helps to know a fellow like Marvin K. Maus.

Maus has three grandchildren—Don, 3, Dick, 5, and Debra Maus, 6. They wanted a full-fledged fire engine for Christmas. It happens that Maus is representative of the American-LaFrance Corp., which manufactures fire equipment. He knew of an old retired engine owned by the Boulder, Colo., fire department.

Christmas morning, the grandchildren heard a fire engine wailing and ran to the window. The monstrous red vehicle parked at the curb outside was theirs.

Tensions Are Put On Shelf Temporarily

By The Associated Press

Much of the world today let out its belt to accommodate Christmas overeating, continued its holiday into the weekend and looked forward to New Year celebrations.

An uneasy peace marked this year's observance of the birth of Christ. Despite threats of war from Moscow, there was only slight shooting on the world's two active war fronts — the Nationalist islands off the coast of Communist China, and Algeria, where the French have been battling a nationalist rebellion.

The tensions of the old year were temporarily shelved by the holidayers.

But troops of the Western Allies and the United Nations were on watch, keeping the cold war cold.

American soldiers at the barbed wire barricades marking the Iron Curtain in Europe had hot turkey dinners brought to their posts. In other parts of Europe U.S. servicemen entertained 75,000 orphans, refugees and hospital patients.

In Communist-ruled East Berlin Julius Cardinal Doepfner preached a sermon attacking the Red regime in his first appearance since he was named a cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church.

U.S. troops in Morocco heard a Christmas message from Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches. He told them to strive for an inner peace and added: "From this inner peace there could come the wider peace of the world for which all nations now wait."

The Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, Francis Cardinal Masses for U.S. forces in Germany. He said: "More than we realize do we need the help of God for only God can quell the malice of his enemies and ours."

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold paid his annual Christmas visit to troops of the U.N. Emergency Force in the Gaza Strip, keeping peace between Israel and Egypt.

It was a busy day for Pope John XXIII. After celebrating midnight Mass Christmas Eve in the presence of the diplomatic corps of the Holy See he celebrated another at St. Peter's Basilica at noon. He then visited two Rome hospitals.

Later, receiving 60 orphans and 20 mutilated and crippled children in the Vatican, he broke down and cried. Smiling through the tears he told the children: "You know, in this life you only cry twice. The very young, and the old, they can cry."

The Viennese talked of a Christmas Eve miracle which spared the lives of all 34 persons aboard an Air France Constellation that crashed short of the Vienna airport and exploded. Five Americans were among those aboard.

"It feels like a miracle — like the herald angels were our guardian angels," said Shirley Hindman, 34, of San Bernardino, Calif., a crash survivor.

But there was no such joy in Zichem Zussen Bolder, Belgium, where 15 men trapped in the collapse of tunnels used for mushroom farming were presumed dead.

Clear weather over most of the United States brought the cars out in droves, and traffic deaths mounted rapidly. The National Safety Council estimated there would be 620 deaths during the four-day holiday.

A bright, folksy Christmas greeting to the world came from Britain's Queen Elizabeth. On radio and TV she said, "It seems to me that Christmas is just the time to be grateful to those who add fullness to our lives . . . the prophets and dreamers, philosophers, men of ideas and poets, artists in paint, sculpture and music. . . .

"Even so, we need something more. We all need the kind of security that one gets from a happy and united family."

She thanked those who had written to say they would like to see Princess Anne and Prince Charles on TV but said, "We believe that public life is not a fair burden to place on growing children."

President Eisenhower, following a quiet family Christmas at the White House, was going today to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm to work on messages to the new Congress. The Eisenhowers planned to stay at the farm through New Year's Day.

Peiping radio said Christmas in Red China was observed by Protestants and Catholics in their churches and homes.

The Chinese Reds, after firing only 46 artillery rounds at the Nationalist Quemoy Islands in the morning, declared a cease-fire for the rest of Christmas Day. The Nationalists had already announced they would not reply to Christmas Day Communist fire.

In Algeria, only one terrorist incident was reported, the explosion of a time-fused mortar shell hidden in a tire on a parked car. One person was killed and nine were wounded. No unusual French or rebel military action was reported. French troops celebrated with turkey and champagne.

Ex-Head Of ETCC Dies From Shock

DALLAS (AP)—Shock over the death of his only son led to the death yesterday of Hubert M. Harrison, 70, former general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Harrison's son, Moulton, died Wednesday night in Houston.

Relatives said Harrison went into shock when he learned of his son's death, and that he died in his sleep.

Services were scheduled for 2:30 p.m. today at the Sparkman-Brand funeral home with Rev. William Dickson, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Church, officiating.

Joint services for Harrison and his son will be held Saturday at the Welch Funeral home in Longview. Burial will be in Longview.

A native of Greenville, Harrison went to Longview as manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in 1929. In his 25 years at that post Harrison was credited with building the organization into the largest regional chamber of commerce in the Southwest.

In 1955, he was elevated to the position of executive vice-president. One year later, he became manager of Dallas East, Inc., an organization promoting development of East Dallas.

Survivors are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Hugo Allen of San Antonio; a brother, Walworth Harrison of Greenville, and five grandchildren.

Moulton Harrison died unexpectedly in his apartment in Houston. He was president of the Research and Development Co. with offices in the Gulf Coast city. He moved there from Kilgore five years ago. While in Kilgore, the younger Harrison owned the Harrison Well Service Co.

Bullet Rips Two Planes

DALLAS (AP)—A single .22-caliber rifle bullet ripped into two light planes as they were landing at a small airport, narrowly missing three amazed flyers late Christmas day.

Juvenile officers questioned a 14-year-old junior high school student who was caught by one of the pilots moments after his plane rolled to a stop.

The youth denied the shootings. He was carrying a rifle when caught.

One bullet lodged in a cushion, a quarter of an inch from the seat of J. R. Folley Jr.'s pants. Foley was flying with his instructor, C. W. Buchanan.

The other bullet tore through the cowling of a plane piloted by Gene H. Weidemeyer.

Cultivate this graceful stance: Put heel of right foot to inner side of left foot, turning the left toe out a bit. This stance slims both hips and legs.

Serve Free Coffee

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP)—The Weatherford Rescue Squad will set up a highway booth tonight to serve free coffee to motorists. Squad members hope it will help counteract any effects of too much Christmas cheer.

Burn Victims Thank People Who Helped

BROWNFIELD (AP)—Burn victims hurt Monday night in a gas truck blast gave thanks today to the hundreds of persons in this West Texas area who jumped to their aid.

Possibly 200 persons were injured and four men were killed when the bottled gas truck exploded. The truck had caught fire after a traffic accident and attracted hundreds of spectators before it blew up.

Citizens turned out to help the wounded and burned, offering more blood than the victims needed. Housewives moved through the local hospital yesterday, helping doctors and nurses.

Many injured were taken to surrounding towns, including Lubbock, Monday night because the local hospital was jammed.

Surgical nursing teams came from Tahoka and Lamesa. The San Angelo Civil Defense offered to fly in blood.

Nearly everyone with some kind of medical training reported to help.

Santa Gets Stuck In Trunk Of Auto

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The Donald Albaneses may have to let Santa Claus come down the chimney in the regular way next time.

"Santa" got stuck in the trunk of Albanese's retractable hardtop sedan for 2½ hours Christmas Eve.

That's where the couple hid the Christmas toys for Jo Ann, 5, and Robert, 2.

Albanese, aided by a brother-in-law, sweated for an hour to get the hydraulically operated trunk open after the kids had gone to sleep.

Desperate, Albanese drove the car to police headquarters. An emergency squad worked an hour and a half. Finally, they pried the trunk open with an ax.

Student Officers Set To Cooperate

BERKELY, Calif. (AP) —Hand-in-glove cooperation between the president and vice president of the University of California student body may be expected when classes resume after the holidays —They will be man and wife.

William Albert Stricklin, the president, and Suzanne Trees were married here at the start of the holidays.

The Christian's Corner—

Glen Pace
Minister

(Question) "Who will participate in the judgement?"

(Answer) According to the Bible all men will be judged. By all men we mean all mankind. (2 Cor. 5:10) "For we must all appear before the judgement seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bod." When is this to take place? The answer to this is found in Revelation 22:12, "And, behold, I come quickly: and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be." This award is going to be made at the second coming of Christ: not one thousand years after his second coming. But to further prove that every man will stand before the judgement seat of Christ (not that one proof is not enough) we turn to John the 5th chapter and the 28th and the 29th verses, which says, "Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, and shall come forth: they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation." The Lord's voice will be sounded with a shout at His second coming. (1 Thess. 4:16). All then that are in the grave shall hear His voice and shall come forth. Some will not be left in the grave "sleeping through a millenium." ....

—Bob Barnes

New Year's Eve and four minutes 'til midnight. It is time to total your failures, to calculate your successes, and to make bonafide resolutions. Did this year bring a spiritual surplus for you? Do you have a clearer view of destiny? Do you know more of the meaning and purpose of life? Have you had time for God? If not, it will be a terrible day, when God has no time for you. As the New Year dawns, we know God is in front. He will be in all the tomorrows. Happy New Year!
