Picnic To Be Sponsored By Legion Post

Pampa Veterans To Stage Celebration At Lake McClellan

Continuing the custom established four years ago, Kerley-Crossman, American Legion post 334 of Pampa will again sponsor the annual community Labor day picnic this year.

For the first time since the custom started, there has been no need of an extensive search for a proper location.

Completion of the McClellan Creek Conservation project, 25 miles south of Pampa, has provided an ideal setting for the annual neighborly get-together, which has attracted thousands from all sections of the Panhandle in the past.

The Labor day picnic is not for Pampans alone but for their friends and neighbors from all over the Top O' Texas.

As in the past, the picnic is to be an all-day affair, with various contests held for men, women and children.

Although plans are not definite, there may be two dances held at the recreation building at the park. One of the dances is to be an old-fashioned dance.

Dan E. Williams was named chairman of the 1940 picnic, to be held on September 2 at Lake McClellan.

Appointment of Williams was made at the regular meeting of the American Legion post here last night. He is to name the members of his committee.

Fishing Trawlers To Become Sweepers

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Twelve of the most modern trawlers in the Boston fishing fleet have been taken over by the navy department, or will be as soon as negotiations can be completed, for use as mine sweepers, fisheries officials disclosed today.

Edward J. Cooler, manager of the Massachusetts Fisheries association, estimated that $2,500,000 was involved.

This national defense move meant loss of berths to approximately 250 fishermen.

Workmen immediately began stripping one of the trawlers, the Kittiwake, of her fishing gear preparatory to taking her to a Quincy shipyard to be equipped for war service.

Spokesmen for the companies said they wished to build new trawlers, but found this impossible because yards were crowded with naval and mershant shipping.

Use of other trawlers were understood to be under consideration by naval authorities.

Enemy Sub Sunk, Germans Claim

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—The sinking of an enemy submarine by a German U-boat which on two trips thus accounted for 12 armed merchantships totaling 74,000 tons, the British destroyer Whirlwind and a submarine, was reported by the German high command today.

The submarine was commanded by Lieut. Capt. Wilhelm Rollmann.

In addition the air force bombarded a number of small convoys and ships off the Humber on Britain's east coast, in St. George channel and off Yarmouth, the high command said.

As a result of these attacks a merchant ship was sunk, and two other merchant ships, a tanker and a minesweeper, were damaged.

"Another especially effective raid" was directed against an airplane factory in Norwich, the Germans said, with several big bombs dropped from a low altitude striking the factory and causing huge blazes and explosions.

Eight British bombers which attempted to bomb the airport near Cherbourg on the French coast all were shot down, the German communique said.

Two other British planes attempting to raid Dutch territory also were shot down in an air fight.

The communique said British raiders on German territory did no military damage, but caused "considerable damage to houses" in the vicinity of Cologne, killing and injuring a number of civilians.

In addition to the submarine which was sunk by the U-boat, another submarine was sent to the bottom by a plane off the Norwegian coast the communique said.

Mexico Uses Jury System In Trial

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—After an absence of several years, the jury system was reinstated today in a case involving a federal employee.

Juan Moreno Lopez, veteran letter carrier, was called to trial for theft before a jury of seven men, who will be chosen by lot.

A law passed early this year reinstituted the jury trial for federal workers.

WHERE 43 MET FIERY DEATH

In the interior of the charred railway shuttlecar, left, flaming death took the lives of 43 passengers when the "doodlebug" and a double-headed freight collided head-on near Akron, Ohio. The crash split open the shuttlecar's gasoline tank and the liquid caught fire after spraying over the car and trapped all passengers. Three crew members escaped death.

New Vacancies In Army Corps Announced Here

Vacancies in the coast artillery, medical corps, air corps, quartermasters corp and field artillery are now open, it was learned today by Corporal Harvey M. Gist, in charge of the Pampa recruiting office of the United States army.

The quota of men from Pampa and vicinity has been increased until Corporal Gist will now be able to handle nearly all who desire to enlist for active service.

Seven young men were sent to army branches from the Pampa office during the past three days, Corporal Gist reported today. They included:

Clarence E. Woodall and Elmer Cox, both of Pampa; Darrell Carry and James W. Walls, both of LeFors; Lonnie P. Bowman of Mountain Park, Okla.; William L. Pennell of Wheeler; and Raymond L. Hooker of Mobeetie.

Vacancies now exist in the following branches:

Coast artillery at Fort Crocket. Medical corps at William Beaumont General hospital, El Paso. Medical corps at Fort Sill, Okla. Quartermaster corps at Fort Sill. Air corps at Lowers Field, Colorado. Memical corps at Fitzsimmons hospital, Denver, Colo. Quartermaster corps at Fort Sam Houston. Quartermaster corps at San Antonio. Medical corps at Fort Bliss. Field artillery at Fort D. A. Russell.

Successor To Harry Kelley Recommended

W. H. Galloway of Edinburg, Texas, has been recommended for co-ordinator of diversified occupations at Pampa High school for 1940-41, Doyle F. Osborne, high school principal, said today.

Official confirmation of Galloway's employment has not yet been made by the board of trustees of the Pampa Independent School district and the board has not passed on the application. Permission to write a letter to Galloway, offering him the job, had previously been granted, however, by the board, Osborne said.

Galloway for the past five years has been co-ordinator at Edinburg and is recommended for the Pampa position by Pascal Buckner, of Big Spring, state supervisor.

A vacancy in the co-ordinator's position here was caused by the acceptance by Harry Kelley, Pampa co-ordinator for the past year, and faculty member for the past eight, of a job as co-ordinator in Technical High school, Fort Worth.

Youth Major Crime Factor, Says FBI

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fortified with statistics showing that youth was a major contributor to crime in the first half of 1940, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover called today for concerted effort by homes, schools and churches to reduce juvenile delinquency.

Of all fingerprint arrest records studied by the FBI during the first six months of 1940, Hoover said in a statement that 17.6 per cent were those of persons under 21 years of age.

Solons Go 'Round And 'Round

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), the majority leader, looked at the August leaf on his calendar today, sighed and told reporters that he had given up predicting when congress would adjourn.

"I don't even think about it anymore," he said.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

How about it if you and I sit for a bit on the white chalk cliffs of England's Dover and let our feet hang over while we speculate pleasantly on what J. Bull would be doing this vacation if he weren't busy dodging bombs.

I'll admit that this suggestion is not wholly unselfish. I read, write and talk war so consistently that grapes have begun to look like shrapnel to me, and I'd give a shiny ha'penny to be rid of wrangling for a few hours.

We might, for instance, in spirit join the pearly costermongers and the red-cheeked, big-hatted girls, the while they produce riotous fun by the sweat of their brows as they dance to hurdy-gurdy music on 'appy 'amstead 'eath (Halph Hamstead Heath to you) in suburban London.

Or we could try eating winkles from their shells with pins, among the nimble-witted cockneys down at Southend on the sea. That's rather frowned on in the best of society but it's fun, as the duchess said. Anyway, if you feel inclined, let's go adventuring.

Next Monday is August bank holiday. Already—you and I having banished war—all England is getting ready for this great day, which marks the real beginning of the universal vacation period. Probably no country in the world abandons itself so fully to play as does England in August.

Everybody, from king-emperor to sooty-faced chimney sweep, takes some sort of holiday. His majesty and family go into kilts and hie with "hoots" to Balmoral castle on the Bonnie River Dee in Scotland. The aristocracy (and many rich Americans) follow the royal lead and go to their estates up among the purple-clad highlands to await the "glorious twelfth"—opening of the grouse shooting season—or retire to exclusive, nose-in-the-air seaside resorts like Bognor.

Father And Son Crushed By Truck

FARMERSVILLE, Aug. 2 (AP)—T. L. Rike, 52, and his son Bobby, 13, were killed at 7:30 a. m. today when an oil truck turned over on the Farmersville-Josephine highway about three miles north of Josephine.

Rike was a life-long resident of this community. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Survivors included his widow and mother, four children, four brothers and a sister.

The victims were crushed under the truck. Rike was an employe of an oil company (Texas company) and was delivering a truckload of gasoline to Josephine.

Childress Hits Weather Jackpot In Heat And Rain

(By The Associated Press)

Childress hit the weather man's jackpot yesterday and not only reported the state's maximum temperature, 107 degrees, but the state's largest amount of rainfall, three-quarters of an inch.

Seymour reported 107 degrees but went without rain.

Other key Texas cities reporting temperature readings of 100 degrees or more included: Alice, 105; Encinal, Falfurrias, Henrietta, Memphis and Valley Junction, 104; Laredo, Wichita Falls, Haskell, Luling, and San Angelo, 103; Clarendon, Fort Stockton, Longview, Muleshoe, San Marcos and Spur, 102; Ballinger, Brownwood, Carrizo Springs, Crosbyton, Dalhart, Dilley, Dublin, Eastland, and Llano, 101; Abilene, Waco and Weatherford, 100.

Partly cloudy weather was forecast for both East and West Texas.

Except for a small section of the middle west, most of the nation enjoyed ideal summer weather today, but warmer temperatures were in prospect for tomorrow.

Scattered thundershowers and cool breezes moderated conditions in much of the broad area that for 13 days until Wednesday night wilted in the severe heat wave. The death toll from heat and drownings exceeded 1,000.

Warm temperatures prevailed, however, from the central plains region eastward to the middle Mississippi valley. No relief was in sight in Missouri and Kansas.

Gestapo Influencing Japs, British Claim

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—An authoritative British source today charged that the German Gestapo, through a representative in the Japanese home office, which supervises police activities, is wielding influence over Japanese internal affairs.

At the same time it was disclosed that two more British subjects have been arrested in Korea, Japan's colony on the Asiatic mainland, in a continuation of an anti-British campaign against alleged espionage.

This left nine prominent Britons in custody. Six others have been released.

"We have further information about the Gestapo representative at the Japanese home office, the authoritative source said.

The representative was identified as Frank Huber of the German storm troop security department, who was appointed "information officer" in the Japanese home office in 1937 after Japan and Germany joined in an anti-comintern pact.

Nazi Regime Causes German Mental Ills

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Dr. George Perrett, formerly attached to a Berlin hospital said in an interview given the Star-Journal today, that the mode of government in Germany and its accompanying play upon the fear of its people had caused a considerable number of mental disorders.

Dr. Perret, who came here with his fiancee, Margaret Minge, of Fergus Falls, Minn., and is a Swiss seeking citizenship in this country, told of an increase of insanity in Germany, which he attributed to the fear arising from the sternness of government.

The couple said they left Germany after the invasion of Holland.

Crude Price Restored In North Texas

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 2—Harry F. Sinclair today announced restoration of north and central crude oil prices which his purchasing company reduced from four to 28 cents a barrel in mid-July.

Continued curtailment of Texas oil production—but without statewide shutdowns—was recommended today as a necessity for stabilizing the gigantic industry.

At a statewide proration hearing before the railroad commission, Hines Baker, Humble Oil and Refining company attorney, pointed to an accumulation of 15,000,000 barrels of products and 23,000,000 barrels of crude in asserting a need for caution in future production.

The commission was taking testimony on which to base a statewide proration order for September or perhaps a longer period.

Baker outlined as the two immediate problems the reduction of crude and finished products in storage and the adjustment of allowables in certain fields where maladjustments were evident.

Answering a question from Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Baker said there was no need for shutdowns, terming them too drastic and causes of economic losses.

Wider well spacing was Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson's suggestion for stability. He declared that "two sure ways to go broke" were to sell oil at less than the cost of production and to drill more wells than justified.

Thompson asserted that some 50,000 stripper wells in Texas would have to be plugged and abandoned if the price of crude dropped appreciably. Closing stripper wells would be sheer waste, it added.

The hearing, attended by scores of operators and company officials, was continued from yesterday when Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of the Consolidated Oil company, expressed the opinion that prices of finished products were out of line with prices of crude.

Sinclair advocated increased production of oil and voiced a preference for federal control of the industry, if intelligently and fairly administered, as continued dominance "by those who now determine" sales prices.

Spy Capture Story Denied By War Office

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The war department today labeled as erroneous an announcement by Secretary Stimson yesterday that 81 "foreign agents" had been detained in the Canal Zone.

Eighty-one aliens have been detained "for deportation or other disposition" the department said, but it was admitted the army did not know whether any of them were foreign agents.

About 800 or 1,000 "refugees" were given temporary haven in the republic several months ago, and some were given temporary employment on Panama canal projects, the army said. The 81 detained are subject to deportation simply because their identification and passport papers are not in order, it was said.

An army official said the announcement made by Secretary Stimson yesterday was the result of an error in transmission. The word "aliens" was said to have been misinterpreted for "agents" in a verbal report of the detention.

The secretary of war announced the detention of the 81 yesterday when he disclosed that all aliens, other than Panamanians, had been discharged from United States government or military positions in the Canal Zone.

Only American soldiers or American engineers, he added, are em-

Snake-Bitten Child Examined By Doctor

ADEL, Ga., Aug. 2. (AP)—Kinsmen of snake-bitten Leitha Ann Rowan permitted her examination by a physician today, but barred actual treatment and claimed she was recovering rapidly in justification of their sect's belief that faith counteracts venom.

The six-year old child was brought to Sheriff W. I. Daughtrey's office today by relatives, after having been missing for three days while her mother, Mrs. Albert Rowan, sought to avoid treatment for the girl.

Dr. H. W. Clements didn't support relatives' claims that Leitha Ann was almost fully recovered but said she had made some progress in overcoming the effects of a copperhead moccasin's bite sustained eight days ago in religious rites at her home near here.

He said her condition remained serious and directed that she be

Compulsory Training Bill May Be Shelved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today he was "distinctly in favor of a selective service training bill and I consider it essential to adequate national defense."

Specifically permitting direct quotation, the President made the statement at a press conference after a reporter asked for his opinions. The reporter said a report was going around the chief executive was "not so hot about conscription."

The President replied that it all depended on which paper you read. He then entered upon a lengthy review of the conscription question.

He also announced that he and Democratic tax leaders in congress were agreed that an excess profits tax should be enacted without delay.

All manufacturers working on defense orders know that such legislation was going to be passed, he said, and were proceeding to assemble materials even though contracts have not yet been signed.

Declaring he had abandoned long ago the practice of sending up what he called ready-made bills to be rushed through congress, Mr. Roosevelt added that he was leaving to the legislature the age brackets for registrants under a compulsory training law.

The simple fact is, he continued, that the lessons of the present war show defense means total defense. Under modern circumstances, he continued, that means a lot of new machinery and equipment which the nation hasn't got but is beginning to get.

The United States, he declared, had learned from the present war that nations without trained man power were in a bad way.

Proposals to delay congressional action on conscription pending a drive for voluntary one-year enlistments in the army gained new adherents.

With the military committee considering an amendment to limit to 1,000,000 the number of men who might be drafted under the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service bill, some members said it was unlikely any agreement could be reached until late next week.

In the meantime, several senators were preparing one-year enlistment amendments to existing legislation so as to empower the President, if he saw fit, to call the national

German U-Boat Crewman Likes American Ways

BOSTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—A Nazi U-boat crewman, recounting the story of how he wriggled through the porthole of a British prison ship in the St. Lawrence river July 15 and subsequently escaped into the United States, praised American fair play today.

Recalling that immigration authorities, who took him into custody when they found him trudging down a road in northern Maine, required him to appear in federal district court in Bangor, Walther Kurt Reich, 23-year-old survivor of a sunken German submarine, declared:

"There again I saw how fair are Americans in treatment of persons. I asked to communicate with my consul and at once they permitted it. The United States commissioner at Bangor examined the law of the case and now here I am in Boston."

He is under the supervision of the German consulate, which posted a bond for him, since he has yet to deal with immigration authorities, who regard him as an alien without a passport or proper visa, despite the fact that under international law a prisoner-of-war who escapes to a neutral country becomes free. He is the first prisoner-of-war known to have escaped to this country.

Reich, his feet blistered by four days and five nights of walking in his quest for freedom, attributed his escape to his knowledge of geography and to his swimming ability. He was in the icy St. Lawrence for

Dallas Man Denied Rehearing By Court

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Alva B. Davis of Dallas, Tex., a former Tennessee legislator, was denied a rehearing by the federal appellate court here today on his mail fraud conviction in Texas.

On June 28 the fifth circuit court of appeals affirmed his two-year sentence for alleged fraudulent use of the mails in disposing of large tracts of land in Texas which the government charged were sold under misrepresentation.

Davis was convicted along with L. J. Summerfield and each was given a two-year sentence. Summerfield did not apply for a rehearing.

The government charged that the two men, operating under the Santa Fe Land Trust and Title Company, Inc., purchased waste land in Brewster and Presidio counties, Texas, for $1 and $1.50 an acre and resold at an average of $10 per acre to about 1,000 clients throughout the United States.

It was charged that the land was misrepresented as to potential mineral and agricultural values.

Hunter Takes Thompson's Job

ABILENE, Aug. 2 (AP)—J. C. Hunter, Abilene oil operator, today said he had accepted his appointment by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to succeed Ernest O. Thompson as a member of the Interstate Oil Compact commission.

It was the first time he had been contacted by the press since O'Daniel announced the appointment Wednesday. Hunter had been "out of pocket" in the meantime, at a place, he said, where there was no telephone.

He planned a telephone conference with the governor sometime today.

His connection with the oil compart board will take further time from his private interests. For the past year and a half he has been president of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, spending much of his time in Washington.

Congratulations—

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lawler are the parents of a son born Thursday afternoon at the Pampa-Jarratt hospital. The baby, who weighed eight and one-half pounds, has been named David John. Mr. Lawler is a clerk in the office of the Danciger Oil and Refining company.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobson, 1005 East Fisher street, are the parents of a girl born Thursday night at 10 o'clock at a local hospital. The baby weighed six and one-half pounds. Mr. Jacobson is manager of the local Levine store.

Demos Expect Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—Reorganization of the administrative set-up of the Democratic national committee was expected in political circles today to be started when Edward J. Flynn takes over the party chairmanship August 17.

Appointment of Flynn, New York national committeeman and Bronx Democratic leader, to direct the third-term campaign of President Roosevelt was announced yesterday after a white house conference.

Flynn hustled back to New York, where on Monday he will begin conferences with James A. Farley, retiring national chairman. Central headquarters will be maintained in New York City.

Although Flynn would not go beyond his formal statement predicting victory for the Roosevelt-Wallace ticket, there were reports L. W. Roberts, national committee secretary, and Oliver A. Quayle, treasurer, might be replaced. They were reelected after the Chicago convention.

Farley, who is giving up the chairmanship to head the New York Yankees and perhaps take another private job on the side, would not say when he intended to resign as postmaster general. The cabinet place frequently goes to the national committee head, but there was no indication that Flynn would get it, too.

Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference today that no date had been selected for Farley to leave the cabinet. He also said he had not the faintest idea about what the campaign set-up would be.

British Agree To Buy Canadian Wheat

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—An agreement to buy 100,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was announced today by the food ministry, which said "this is the largest purchase ever recorded."

The agreement was made with the Canadian wheat board and covers "this cereal year, July, 1940, to 1941."

Italy Reports Sinking Of British Sub

1,000 Objectives Bombed By British In Past 3 Months

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The German port of Hamburg is "now practically in ruins," an authoritative British source said today, announcing that the expanding British air force has bombed more than 100 German cities and towns containing military objectives.

The port of Bremen, with its shipbuilding yards, docks and the Focke-Wulf Aircraft factory, "has had thousands of bombs rained upon it," this source declared, while Cologne, axis for international traffic in Europe, has been heavily pounded.

British airmen were asserted to have made attacks on more than 1,000 objectives in the past three months—attacks of "genuine weight and importance."

Many of the places hammered by the British are old world communities known to thousands of tourists.

These places, it was asserted, have been "converted into military and industrial centers vital to the military needs of Germany."

The British source, summing up the work of the RAF in the past three months, said Hamburg was only one of the military objectives attacked in nightly raids. Thousands of bombs have been rained on the port of Bremen with its shipbuilding yards, docks and aircraft factory, the same source said, and added that more than 100 German cities and towns where military objectives are situated had been attacked.

Official Germany has said little about the RAF raids, carried on day and night, beyond insisting that they were against non-military points.

Today's Nazi claim was that the air force had sunk a large merchantman, a tanker and a mine patrol boat yesterday, and that a submarine, returning to its base, had reported sinking 72,000 tons of shipping in an unspecified space of time.

The German air force, as usual, continued its attacks on the British Isles, dropping bombs on Scotland and Wales and varying the daily custom in England by dropping Hitler "peace or destruction" pamphlets.

In the Mediterranean area the RAF claimed destruction of a large ammunition dump near Bardia, Libya, and other less spectacular raids on African posts held by the Italians.

Italy reports her air force had attacked a British naval squadron south of Formentera, in the Balearas Islands, and said a battleship had been set on fire and several other warships had been hit.

The Italian high command likewise said the British submarine Oswald had been torpedoed and sunk and 52 of its crew of 55 taken prisoner.

Four-page leaflets, captioned "a last appeal to reason by Adolf Hitler," fluttered down in the pre-dawn darkness in southern and southwestern parts of England. Air raid wardens and constables, hustling about with torches, gathered up the papers by the thousand.

The pamphlets contained extracts from Hitler's July 19 speech extending a peace feeler, and suggested

Death Takes Tech Faculty Member

LUBBOCK, Aug. 2 (AP)—A member of the English faculty of Texas Technological college since the college opened in 1925, Miss Flora Powell McGee, 63, died of a heart ailment at 1 o'clock this morning.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock Monday morning in Lubbock and a graveside service will be held at 3 o'clock that afternoon in Amarillo cemetery.

Miss McGee formerly taught in Amarillo, Dallas and Lubbock public schools and in summer terms at West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon.

Hungarians Clamp Down On Reporters

BUDAPEST, Aug. 2 (AP)—The foreign office press bureau warned foreign newspaper correspondents today against reporting news "which is either against Germany or Italy or which is in opposition with known political principles and policies of the axis."

Diplomatic sources interpreted the prohibition as a frank move to fit Hungarian censorship into accord with the censorships of the Rome-Berlin partners.

President's Son Boards Destroyer For Training

Women's Fashions Hitched To War's Chariot In Britain

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Women's fashions have been hitched to war's chariot in Britain's determination to put everything the nation has into the fight against Germany. If the plan works, bonnets will go to America and bring back bombers; tweeds will turn into tanks, and scotch homespuns into weapons for home defense.

A line of war-time wear for women which the government hopes to "convert" into American airplanes was exhibited today at a showing for United States buyers. The idea is to use the dollar proceeds to buy planes, incidentally helping the British clothing industry to profit from the collapse of Paris as a world style center.

Today's exhibit included 320 models ready for shipment to the New York world's fair and other American centers. A sales delegation representing 110 British firms will accompany the models.

Sir Cecil Weir, member of the export council who opened the show, said British manufacturers were not out to take business away from American firms, but "merely to supply the American public with imports no longer available since the continent was cut off by the British blockade."

Farewell Party And Shower Given For Mr. and Mrs. Orton

Employees of the Skelly Kingsmill gasoline plant honored Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Orton with a farewell party and shower on the lawn at their home this week.

Mr. Orton has been transferred to the Schaffer plant at Skellytown.

The evening was spent in playing games after which the gifts were opened.

Refreshments of punch, ice cream, and angel food cake were served to Messrs. and Mmes. J. A. Orton, W. C. Maltby, Aalford McMurry, Jess McLoud, Jess Honaker, C. W. Anderson, W. H. Staus, L. H. Adair, H. N. Mayo, L. W. Farmer, and Miss Ruby Green.

Gifts were sent by Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dyre, Miss Margery Johnson, and Willis Puckett.

Office Woman And Housewife Can Learn From Each Other

By RUTH MILLETT

Standing Miss Executive and Mrs. Housewife side by side and seeing how they stack up, you find out that neither one has everything her own way.

Miss Executive is a much better luncheon companion. She takes a quick glance at the menu and orders her meal—and once it is ordered she doesn't change her mind.

Whereas Mrs. Housewife is sure to consider everything on the menu out loud, and then find that choosing between swordfish and lamb chops is a major decision.

HOUSEWIFE IS BETTER HOSTESS

She'll take up so much time settling down to talk that lunch is over before there is time for any real conversation.

But when it comes to keeping up her end of entertaining, Miss Executive is way behind Mrs. Housewife. She feels, somehow, that the fact that she works excuses her from doing anything that doesn't exactly suit her at the moment. And she kids herself that she needn't be as scrupulous about returning hospitality as Mrs. Housewife has to be.

So far as clothes go, Miss Executive has it all over Mrs. Housewife. She achieves a day-in-and-day-out smartness that her stay-at-home friend never quite manages.

But in the matter of growing old gracefully, Miss Executive is way behind. Maybe it is because she is afraid to grow old at all, knowing that there is little place for "the older woman" in business. Anyway, the years are more likely to harden than soften her features. Whereas they usually soften the features of Mrs. Housewife.

Seeing that being a housewife develops one set of good qualities, and being a business woman develops another—the solution is obvious. Before she marries, a girl should work a while—if only long enough to learn how to order a meal in three minutes.

MORE LAURELS FOR DAVIS

Still another triumph for Bette Davis is her brilliant performance as the governess heroine in "All This and Heaven Too," adapted from Rachel Field's best seller. Her young charge, shown here, is played by little Richard Nichols. Showing today and tomorrow at the LaNora.

MAKES YOU SEEM SKINNIER

PATTERN 8683

Isn't this a lovely dress? So suave, so simple, so distinguished, with a sophistocated lady-of-quality air about it. And design No. 8683 is just magically able to melt the pounds from your appearance! In the back, it's one long, unbroken panel, cut high at the waist-line in front, to belittle your waist and flatten your diaphragm, it is gathered and darted to create perfect fit over the bust.

A classic type like this makes up beautifully in practically any afternoon material. Flat crepe, spun rayon, chiffon and thin wool are suggested for right now.

Pattern No. 8683 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires, with short sleeves 5¾ yards of 39-inch material without nap; with three-quarter sleeves, 5 2/3 yards. 1⅛ yards lace banding.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model send 15c IN COIN, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE, NUMBER and SIZE to The Pampa News, Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

Sew what? Sew the lovely clothes you'll find designs for in our new Summer Fashion Book, just out and full of thrills for clever gals who like to wield shears and needle. Not that you need to be so clever at it, either. The step-by-step sew chart, included with each pattern makes the making very easy!

Pattern, 15c Pattern Book, 15c. One Pattern and Pattern Book ordered together, 25c.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. How should a doctor have his business cards engraved?
2. How is the social card engraved upon which both his and his wife's name are included?
3. Is a toast to the bride drunk at the bachelor dinner?
4. Are ushers at a wedding sent boutonnieres?
5. Should a secretary say "Yes Sir" and "No Sir" to her employer? What would you do if—

A person in a group with whom you are talking says something that you think is wrong—

(a) Say, "You're wrong about that"?
(b) Keep quiet?
(c) Correct him by beginning, "I may be mistaken but—"?

Answers

1. Frank Smith, M. D.
2. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.
3. Yes.
4. Yes, by the groom.
5. Yes. Or "Yes, Mr. Brown."

Best "What Would You Do" solution— b) unless you think it is important, then try (c).

Now Comes Hair Arranged After Airplane Designs

By BETTY CLARK

The next thing you know an airplane coiffure may be getting in your hair. That's it in the picture.

It won't be, says Louis, of the New York design institute, just a happen-so nor the influence of a beautiful individual like Marie Antoinette. Instead it will be, according to good hair style tradition, almost a necessity if we want new ideas. Rapidly changing opinions in the next 10 years will mean rapidly changing living and dressing habits. Since hair stylists in 20 years have borrowed 5,000 years worth of ideas to meet the eternal challenge for novelty, Louis says we'll soon turn to things like airplanes for inspiration.

M. Louis has made good on hair style forecasts. He predicted the revised pompadour for 1940 and it's here. It's got the sculptured look he has insisted is so important to the modern Miss and Mrs. Now the new fall hats are being built to set off that pompadour.

And if, as he says, we've about run out of adaptations of past ideas, maybe we'll be ready to accept coiffure creations in the future which will be inspired by such things as the airplane.

JEFF SAYS:

Attention! At age 25 your dollar buys 11% less insurance than at age 20.

At age 30—21% less than at 20
At age 35—32% less than at 20
At age 40—42% less than at 20
At age 45—51% less than at 20

1,150,000 Texans Voted In First Democratic Primary

AUSTIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—If history is repeated, the vote in the runoff primary August 24 will be much smaller than the record-breaking vote cast July 27.

Yet there are reasons for a big outpouring of the electorate in the second primary. Contests for a place on the railroad commission, the chief justiceship of the supreme court, two seats in congress and many in the legislature will be decided at that time.

Final tabulation probably will show about 1,150,000 votes in the first primary, approximately 35,000 more than the previous record in 1938.

If the second primary should see the same increase over the second of two years ago, the total vote would be about 900,000. Some think such an increase unlikely and that the second primary vote may be even less than in 1938 because of factors tending to lessen interest.

Two years ago, for example, there was no war. In addition there were runoffs for lieutenant-governor, attorney general, associate justice of the supreme court, judge of the court of criminal appeals, railroad commissioner and land commissioner.

Moreover, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, by his endorsement of several of the runoff candidates, had greatly stimulated interest in the outcome. This year the governor has said he will endorse none.

The highest vote in the 1938 runoff primary was 857,845 cast in the race for attorney general.

The runoff for railroad commissioner between Olin Culberson and Pierce Brooks is attracting more than usual interest because of the peculiar situation in the present commission, composed of Ernest O. Thompson, Jerry Sadler and Lon A. Smith, the former relations of Culberson with the commission and the fact that the commission regulates the tremendously important oil industry in Texas.

Culberson and Brooks are running for the place of the veteran Smith, who is retiring.

For years prior to January, 1939, commission policies, especially with regard to oil, were decided largely by Thompson and C. V. Terrell, with Smith often constituting a minority. But in 1938 Terrell was defeated by Sadler, and at the start of 1939 the policies began to be formulated chiefly by Sadler and Smith, and Thompson frequently was a minority.

Last October Sadler and Smith fired Culberson from the directorship of the gas utilities division of the commission to which he had been appointed by Thompson and Terrell in 1932 after, as a candidate for the commission that year, he had been defeated by Thompson.

This is Brooks' third try for a state office. In 1936 he was a candidate for governor, and in 1938 a candidate for lieutenant governor.

In choosing between James P. Alexander and Hal Lattimore for chief justice, the voters will be electing to that office for the first time since reconstruction days a man who has not had previous experience on the court, that is, has not been either an associate justice or an appointed chief justice before standing in an election. In this sense, they will be electing a man direct from the people.

There will be six runoffs for state senator and 74 for state representative. This means that one-half of the house, which has 150 members, yet is to be chosen.

Wyoming's seven state fish hatcheries produced more than 9,000,000 game fish for streams and lakes in 1939.

He's Getting Some Useful Knowledge

Judge Robert P. Patterson, of New York, new Assistant Secretary of War, has some first hand information about modern war that will come in handy on his job. He's pictured at the Business and Professional Men's camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., where he took military training course.

Kroman Escapes From Under German Guns

LONDON, Aug 2 (AP)—The 1,864-ton Polish steamer Kroman has arrived in a British port after escaping from Dakar, French port in Senegal, under the very noses of Germans who had arrived to seize her, the admiralty announced today.

The Kroman had been immobilized by the removal of a vital part of her machinery, the admiralty said, but the captain made a makeshift replacement and steamed out of the harbor after learning of the arrival of the Germans by air.

The admiralty communique said the Kroman escaped through the harbor defenses and on reaching the open sea set her course for a British port.

"All of this was accomplished although there were no charts on board."

Colorado produced $12,765,165 worth of gold in 1939.

Tides Must Be Right To Invade British Isles

By EDWIN STOUT

LONDON, Aug. 2. (AP) — The almanacs say that if Adolf Hitler is going to start his blitzkrieg on England this month the best times for it will be next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings.

If the fuehrer passes up those days, the next best come in September, from the second to the seventh. Third choice would be Oct. 1-6, then Oct. 30-Nov. 4.

All of those are periods when the tides will be the highest.

The British are inclined to believe that, if the Germans don't make the stab by mid-September, no invasion will be attempted until next spring. Ordinary prudence on the part of the Nazi general staff, these observers say, will demand that at least six weeks be allowed for the campaign.

They point out Hitler can't count on good weather for operations of his air force once the equinoctial storms begin in mid-September. From then on, Britain is cloaked in fogs and mists so thick even the natives can't find their way around—and the Germans would be bound to get lost.

Neutral military men, picturing the Nazi attack as they might run it, say it should have these conditions:

1.—A calm sea—to keep the German soldiers from getting seasick on the way across the North Sea and English channel.

2.—High tide—essential in order that the flat-bottom barges of the first landing force can be driven high enough on the beaches for tanks to be run off onto the sand in water not too deep to put them out of commission.

3.—Fog in the English channel—to screen the expedition on its way over. Sometimes the center of the channel is foggy when it is clear on both sides.

However, the British would not be just sitting around while all this was going on.

They point out Hitler's expedition would be vulnerable as soon as it got into its ships and would remain that way on the trip across and during the attempted landing.

They said they were confident any Nazi landing force would be "eliminated" in short order.

"Out To Lunch"

France perished still observing a government enforced "two hour noon hour." Her people were "out to lunch" socially, economically, politically and militarily when the Germans marched in. This is the only possible conclusion to be drawn from news reports, and in them lies an eternal warning for America.

France carried "social reform" to the point of national decay. Politically we have been following a parallel path. We too have been chasing rainbows of unreasoned reform surrounded by burgeoning bureaucracy, skyrocketing debt, and crumbling initiative.

The world owes no one a living. The impact of realism, not Hitler, destroyed France. There is no security except that attained by constant labor. This is not theory. It is a basic law which will ultimately decide our future individually and as a nation, as it did that of France.

For long years we have acted on the belief that by arbitrarily shortening hours of work, penalizing ambition and profit, and curtailing productive enterprise, we could, somehow, someday, lose ourselves in the distant blue haze of collective security. We have been gyrating in a vicious, futile circle, labor against capital, politician against business man, community against community, with professional "reformers" standing in the center of the circle like circus ringmasters cracking the whip of discontent. Witness the sitdown strike, the provocative, business-baiting extremist generalizing on scattered abuses by industry, the pathetic picture of thousands of communities and millions of individuals vying for "free" public money—each striving to get a share of the loot. Meanwhile the voters have had a curiously detached feeling toward annual government deficits running into billions of dollars.

These are the things that destroy nations, and make rich pasturage for fifth columnists. They destroyed France. If we go back to work now, a nation of free men under a system of free enterprise, they will not destroy us—we will not be caught "out to lunch."

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—Fireworks are just about due to start popping in the long-standing Union Electric utility scandal.

Union Electric is a Missouri company which has been in hot water with state authorities and the Securities and Exchange Commission for more than a year. Principal accusation is that it set up a huge slush fund to buy legislators and other public officials and influence elections generally.

A full-dress public hearing into this tangled situation has been ordered by the SEC, and in the ordinary course of things would be due to get started in a little more than a fortnight. Edward C. Johnson of the SEC staff has been named trial examiner; likely schedule is for a week or 10 days of hearings in Washington, followed by transfer to St. Louis.

FORMER OFFICIAL INDICTED

Two things, however, may interfere with this schedule.

First is the recent convention of Frank J. Boehm, former executive vice president of Union Electric, on a charge of perjury in the federal court at St. Louis. Boehm's counsel has announced that he will file a motion for a new trial; until that motion has been disposed of finally, SEC cannot proceed with its hearings.

Second is the chance the Department of Justice may step in and take the whole case out of SEC's hands. SEC's inquiry is technically an attempt to learn whether Union Electric violated Section 12-H of the holding company act, which prohibits political contributions; the Department of Justice has been keeping an eye on things so far, and might conceivably order a grand jury investigation looking toward criminal prosecutions.

HOLDING COMPANY TO BE PROBED

Real interest of the whole affair lies in its political implications.

Union Electric is a subsidiary of North American, top holding company. When the scandal first broke, North American moved to clean house, and a new management was put in the subsidiary. Nevertheless, the exact relations between Union Electric and North American are likely to be gone into pretty thoroughly if and when the SEC hearing swings into high.

Which means the whole case could easily become a full-dress public discussion of the alleged evils in a utility holding company set-up.

If SEC could prove Union Electric did in fact use a slush fund to influence politicians and public officials, and did it with the parent company's knowledge, that would be ammunition for a new attack on the holding company arrangement; conversely, if it should be proved North American knew nothing about any transgressions which might be pinned on Union Electric, it could then be argued that the holding company system is bad because it leads to irresponsibility and lack of control.

MAY POUNCE ON UTILITY ISSUE

The Democrats have already indicated they are going to stress the holding company-public utility angle in their attack on Wendell Willkie. Willkie, of course, has had nothing whatever to do with either Union Electric or North American; nevertheless, if SEC should find itself airing a "horrible example" just as the campaign got moving, Democratic sharp-shooters could be depended on to make full use of it.

LEADING ECONOMIC PRINCIPLES

Simon Newcomb

"That as a general rule a person can gain income only by assisting his fellow-men to an amount equal to his income;

"That whenever the price of a commodity rises, some or all persons engaged in supplying that commodity are gaining a corresponding increase of income;

"That no person can increase the demand for labor by expending his money in one way rather than in another, but that, in whatever way he spends it, he is directly or indirectly creating a demand equal to his expenditure;

"That the demand thus created is for the particular labor necessary to produce the commodities which he has demanded, and that, in consequence, he directs labor by directing his expenditure;

"That any change in the direction of labor produced by change of expenditure can be made by a corresponding change in the occupations of men;

"That by no device of government or society can everybody be satisfactorily employed all the time;

"That demand for labor involves a relation between two terms—the laborer's estimate of the value of his services, and the wages which others can afford to pay him;

"That any cause which prevents the rate of wages from adapting itself to the varying demand for labor is injurious both to the laborer and to society;

"That no labor-saving processes can diminish the sum total of the demand for labor, because whatever money is thus saved to any person goes to demand labor in some other direction;

"That the capitalist can gain interest on his investments only by helping his fellow-men who have not accumulated capital;

"Consequently that the more miserly he is in his habits, and the more careful he is in his investments, and the greater the excess of his capital above that required by his personal needs, the greater the good he does to his fellow-men;

"That a man takes from the common stock of goods only what he actually expends in his own consumption;

"That the sole object of wealth is the sustenance and enjoyment of individual men;

"That the benefit of every industrial establishment is measured by the product it turns out, and not by the employment which it gives to labor or capital; that, on the contrary, the labor and capital which it absorbs are to be placed on the debit side of its account with society;

"That the motives which animate men in the pursuit of wealth are in the highest degree beneficent, and have led to a system which insures to every man fit to live the maximum of enjoyment from his labor, if he will only adapt himself to the system."

DRAFT ROOSEVELT AND HE WILL DRAFT YOU

(Chicago Tribune)

The administration's bill to register for military conscription all male Americans between the ages of 18 and 64 provides another evidence that Mr. Roosevelt intends to get this country into the war as quickly as possible.

Though the bill is still in committee, the war department has already completed its preparations for the draft. The blanks have already been prepared and skeleton organizations to direct the registration are ready in each state.

If Mr. Roosevelt knows, or has any reason to believe, that an attack upon America is imminent he ought not to keep the facts upon which his judgment is based a secret. If there were substantial reason to believe that within a few weeks or months a German force would be on its way across the Atlantic, there might be some excuse for drafting an army this summer, even though no arms were available for the conscripts to use.

But no such evidence of imminent danger has been provided and common sense suggests that an invasion, however likely it may become in the indefinite future, is not now imminent. Herr Hitler seems to have the habit of calling his shots and at the moment he is talking about London and nothing else. It took him five years to prepare for his present wars. Not one of his airplanes would prove of value in a trans-Atlantic campaign because none of them can fly the ocean with a load of bombs. He has not yet captured the British navy and at the moment is trying to sink it rather than seize it. If he gets it, many months and probably several years would be required in which to organize an expedition which would have any hope of a successful landing on our shores even in our present state of unpreparedness.

As the new arms and an understanding of their use become available to the army, and that means a year from now at the earliest, conscription of the young men of the country may be required. There is surely much to be said for it in principle; but the draft at this time can only interfere with the nation's preparation for defense. It will divert the attention of the army from the more pressing business of obtaining armaments, and at the same time disorganize the productive capacity of the country.

Immediate conscription makes sense only if it is assumed that Mr. Roosevelt means to organize an expeditionary force within the next few months. Mr. Roosevelt's conscripts would not be ready for war against a first-class enemy, but they could take their place in the line in an emergency and, perhaps, before they were all killed off they could be replaced with men better armed and better trained.

Meanwhile conscription can serve Mr. Roosevelt in other ways. The departure of National Guardsmen as well as the draftees for camp will whip up the war hysteria upon which he is counting to win him his third term

PLEASE DO IT HERE

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

St. Louis police have reached a decision which should make them just about the most popular law officers in the land. They have decided to use the swatter on the pest of all pests, the driver in the wedding parade who proceeds thru the streets with one hand glued to the horn button. Henceforth the St. Louis celebrant who starts out to escort the newlyweds to the railroad station in this raucous manner will find himself being escorted to the police station.

No one but the offenders would be sorry if the police of Cleveland and her suburbs adopted a similar policy. Undoubtedly the least put out would be the brides and grooms. For we have yet to observe a just married couple who were anything but embarrassed and annoyed by the frightful clamor raised in their honor by a line of peace wrecking, horn blowing, so-called friends.

CORDELL HULL

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 2—Behind the screen: Authentic news is lacking about the long conference between Edsel Ford and Louis B. Mayer. I know that Metro has been figuring on a film biography of Henry Ford. Hollywood prefers to believe, though, that Mayer was asking whether the Dearborn manufacturer could turn out a thousand Mickey Rooneys.

A suburban theater, long closed for remodeling, has resumed operations with a particularly unfortunate billing on its marquee. The picture is "Opened by Mistake." . . . Warning to the Warners: You'd better begin taking precautions now against the double-billing of "Opened by Mistake" with Bette Davis' new picture, "The Letter."

Maurice Chevalier seems to have lost every franc from his long and thrifty saving, and Italians now are enjoying his Hollywoodish villa at Nice. But he'll find plenty of new chances in American pictures. Herbert Wilcox wants him to co-star with Anna Neagle in "No, No, Nanette." . . . Most of the finest players, directors and musicians of France will be refugees in this country. Some are coming here on money and low-pay contracts cabled by shrewd talent agents.

The Marx Brothers' picture, "Go West," has been hitting production snags, especially in the budget region. The comedians are so worried about these money troubles that when Harpo took his red wig out of storage the other day he found a lot of gray hairs in it. . . . Now that Paul Muni has been dismissed by Warners, his beards are being cut down to fit John Garfield.

Paramount bosses say they're really mad at Don Ameche, who walked out on a picture after being loaned for it by his studio, and that he'll be sued for about $175,000 in damages. . . . The western star, Charles Starrett, hopes he has found a way to get out of horse-opera into heavier drama. He bought Rocklen Stuart's novel, "Iron Men," about an immigrant who becomes a tycoon of Great Lakes commerce, and is peddling it with his own services as the lead.

I wish the Motion Picture Relief Fund would get that home for indigent movie veterans built and occupied. The old-timers of this business, especially the has-beens of the silent era, deserve not only security and comfort but also shelter for their self-respect. Not a week passes in Hollywood now without the engagement of a flock of old stars and featured players for some new movie. Their parts may be only one-day atmosphere bits, for $8 or $10, but there always are stories about how these oldsters, broke and discouraged, have been rescued from obscurity and are being given chances for a come-back. It's cruel exploitation.

Casting about: Bob Hope, back from that record-smashing personal appearance swing on which a million fans saw him, is Samuel Goldwyn's choice as the star in a remake of "Whoopee," done in 1930 with Eddie Cantor. . . . Gary Cooper's next will be "Sergeant York," which also will mark Jesse Lasky's reentry in production. . . . John Barrymore has pushed back his stage tour with Elaine and remains at 20th-Fox for "Falling Star." . . . "Nice Girl" is the title for Deanna Durbin's flicker in the autumn. Incidentally, her producer, Joe Pasternak, has been conferring with the George Temples and lunching with Shirley. . . . Bette Davis will be loaned to Goldwyn for Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes," but not until next year.

Mike Curtiz recently got an impudent communication from a stranger, and by registered mail. It began with criticism of his direction and ended with a request for $500. Curtiz was furious. He said, "Next time I read a letter like this, I won't even open it!"

All is not rubber that bounces, for in these days of chemical experiment, what looks like the real thing may easily turn out to be synthetic. Conversely, there are many things manufactured of rubber today that do not resemble the product at all.

Artificial skin for instance, is being made of rubber. Patients in surgical clinics who have lost noses or ears may now have new ones made of latex, colored to resemble perfectly the natural features.

These may be used either permanently, like false teeth, or until the patient's face is repaired with plastic surgery. Rubber noses and ears should sell well to pugilists who spend most of their time bouncing on the canvas.

Pliofilm, the rubber sheeting, is now used as a waterproof lining for bags, and as a protective cover for blankets and clothing. It will soon be serving as a humidor for tobacco.

Rubber putty may soon hold your window panes in place. The substance is said to retain its softness and elasticity under most severe weather conditions and to adhere firmly to glass, steel or wood.

Bearings made of soft rubber, when lubricated merely with water, are found to have almost as low a co-efficient of friction on a drive shaft as steel ball bearings. Scientists got the idea by observing how a rubber heel will skid on a wet sidewalk.

Rubber fenders for automobiles would be soothing to traffic tempers. Now being manufactured only for trucks and busses, they may some day become standard equipment on passenger cars. They are both dent-proof and scratch-proof, and think how the pedestrians would bounce!

Bullet-resistant inner tubes are the latest thing in tires. These self-sealing tubes have been designed for the U. S. army and are believed far superior to anything of similar design now possessed by any foreign army.

White neoprene gloves, of the type formerly made only in black, are now available to dairies, bakeries and food packing plants that prefer such accessories in light color. These gloves are odorless, non-toxic, and resistant to oils, greases, acids and cleaning compounds.

Non-skid paint has been developed with rubber as a base. It is used for dairies, garages, shower rooms, slippery stairs, and the like, and can be applied to either wood or concrete. The paint is available in four colors.

Last note in neckwear is the specially designed hot water bottle, shaped to fit snugly around the throat.

NEXT: Rubber-wrapped food.

Leaflet Shower Falls In Britain

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 2—Britain, puzzled by a "tabloid" leaflet raid by German bombers during the night, wondered today whether Adolf Hitler now had decided upon a delayed war of attrition with an air blockade or still was planning the blitzkrieg land invasion so often threatened.

British leaders declared the nation ready for either eventuality.

German airplanes, staging the first leaflet raid on England since the outbreak of war, showered a south coast port and a village in the southwest area with four-page pamphlets containing extracts of Hitler's Reichstag speech July 19.

Leaflets as well as bombs also were dropped on Wales where fields in some sections were described "as white as snow" from the paper storm containing Hitler's "peace or destruction" ultimatum.

Hitler then offered Britain a "last chance" to seek peace on German terms or have her empire destroyed.

British spokesmen promptly and firmly rejected the appeal. Two weeks of daily air raids—but nothing more—have passed.

At the time Hitler's speech was made the British press and radio both carried it fully.

The British Broadcasting corporation in announcing the leaflet raids today commented "it is hard to understand" the German claim the speech was not published in this country.

British air raid wardens and policemen hustled out and collected the pamphlets even as they fluttered to the grounds.

Bombing raids continued during the night. German fliers dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs in northeast England and northeast Scotland and later in Wales, eastern Scotland and eastern England.

"Damage was slight and casualties few," the government announced.

No matter how Hitler wants to fight the war, the British said they felt ready.

Also-Rans For 36 Years To "Eat Crow"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—Two score unsuccessful candidates for governor since statehood will gather here about Sept. 1 to talk over old times—and eat crow.

But the organizer of the unusual feast, Jess L. Pullen, assistant attorney general, hastened to point out there was nothing symbolic about it.

"Maybe some men have 'eaten crow' in defeat but they'd like this kind," asserted Pullen, who thinks a well-fed crow tastes like duck.

"We're going to cook up about 100 birds and there'll be an extra one for each Republican," said Pullen who was an also-ran in the Democratic gubernatorial primary of 1930.

Swiss-French Border Closed By Germans

GENEVA, Aug. 2 (AP)—The German army of occupation in France has ordered closing of the Swiss-French border from Geneva to Basel, effective Aug. 4.

Many observers viewed this as a new indication that the Germans are sealing all possible channels through which news of preparations for the invasion of Britain might reach the outside world.

British Correct Molotoff

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Russian Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotoff's charge that Britain prefers to "continue the war for world supremacy" brought the rejoinder from authoritative British sources today that this is what Britain is fighting against.

• STORIES IN STAMPS

Spain Renews Old Fight for Gibraltar

SPANISH demands that Britain surrender Gibraltar renews a battle for possession of "The Rock" that has been going on for 12 centuries. Spain's last attempt to capture the fortress that guards the entrance to the Mediterranean was in 1779 in a siege that lasted three years and seven months.

Spain is separated from Gibraltar by a flat, sandy strip. The Gibraltar stamp above, of the George VI coronation issue, shows the view of "The Rock" from the Spanish mainland. The tunneled, fortified mass of stone is 2¾ miles long, three-fourths mile wide and 1396 feet high.

Moors, under Tariq, captured and fortified Gibraltar in 711. Spain regained possession in 1309, lost it in 1333, captured it again in 1462. In 1502, Gibraltar was formally incorporated into crown domain. In 800 years Gibraltar was besieged 11 times.

Britain captured "The Rock" during the War of Spanish Succession in 1704, has held it since that time. It is now a crown colony, important strategically as a naval base and as a guardian of Britain's Mediterranean life line.

You and Your Nation's Affairs

TRENDS AGAINST "ESSENTIAL FREEDOMS"

By GUS W. DYER

Professor of Economics and Sociology, Vanderbilt University

In the language of an old negro preacher in describing the mission of John the Baptist, President Roosevelt's summary of "essential freedoms" is "short but brief." His five essentials of peace and good government are: a) Freedom of information; b) Freedom of religion; c) Freedom of expression; d) Freedom from the fear of want; e) Freedom from the fear of attack.

If the New Deal is to be consistent it must modify and curtail the President's "short but brief" summary. New Deal leaders must not forget, for example, the words of the president of the American Newspaper Publisher's Association, when he talked about "the attempt to throttle the press by license." New Deal leaders responsible for its labor policies must also not forget their attitude toward "freedom of expression."

Modern labor law theory of freedom of expression is onesided and decidedly partisan. It holds that freedom of expression should be maintained for members of the CIO who contributed more than a half million dollars to the New Deal campaign in 1936, but under the Wagner Law those who employ the members of the CIO are prohibited from expressing their opinions to their own employees with reference to things that are vital to the welfare of the business from which the employees get their living.

The right to work is a fundamental human right. But under the New Deal Wages and Hours Law, untrained, inefficient, slow workers whose production capacity is small are prohibited from securing employment and making an honest living because they are unable to earn forty cents an hour. This law gives the strong a monopoly on the jobs that are open at the expense of the weak and unfortunate. The weak are denied the freedom to work because they are weak.

The President may, but the New Deal evidently doesn't, believe in constitutional industrial freedom nor in constitutional freedom of contract. Under the Wagner Law and the Wages and Hours Law, American citizens are denied the freedom to go on the open market and sell their services to those who want them at the market price. Employers are prohibited from employing workers they want, and forced to keep workers they don't want. Workers are prohibited from accepting employment from employers who are anxious to engage their services because CIO officials object to their employment. This condition, antagonistic to the very foundation of industrial freedom, has been brought about by the New Deal.

Freedom from fear of attack by Germany is not nearly so vital to business as freedom from fear of attacks on constitutional rights, or continuation of economic quackery, and the wild policy of extravagance and waste that threatens the nation with bankruptcy.

One important thing that American business needs today, and economic recovery must wait for, is freedom from the fear of inflation, the fear that the 50 million savings bank and time depositors and the holders of 120 million insurance policies will lose billions of their savings by being paid off in cheap irredeemable paper money.

Investigation Board Advises Shorter Hours

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—An emergency investigation board, working to avert a threatened strike, recommended to President Roosevelt today a reduction from 48 to 44 hours in the basic work-week of 25,000 to 30,000 employes of the Railway Express agency.

The board was appointed by the President July 10 under railway labor act provisions for trying to settle labor disputes without strikes.

The employes had voted to strike for the 44-hour week.

Selection of the board preserved the status quo for 60 days, 30 days being allowed for the board's investigation and report and an equal period for the President's decision on the board's report.

The board said that having granted the teamsters union a 44-hour week the express agency had "precipitated a problem which could be solved only by extending the same work-week to a considerable part of the balance of its employes, who in May, 1940, totaled about 43,000."

The board reported it did not find that the shorter work-week should be extended to accounting division and general office employes, nor to trained messengers.

Guinn Funeral Held Here This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Guinn, 61, who died at her home here, 1252 S. Barnes, at 6:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after an illness of three weeks, were conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Huffman-Nelson chapel. The body is to be sent to Konawa, Okla., where burial will occur Sunday.

Services here were conducted by the pastor of the local Nazarene church, the Rev. E. F. Robinson.

Mrs. Guinn is survived by four daughters, Mrs. L. J. Sutton and Mrs. Silas Sutton, both of Pampa, Mrs. Nellie Terry, Konawa, and Mrs. Bertha Hardesty, Sasakwa, Okla.; four sons, Earl J. and Jasper N., both of Shawnee, Okla., Blackley T. of Konawa, and Cairl H. of Lindsey, Okla.; 14 grandchildren, and nieces and nephews at Tecumsah, Okla.

SNAKE-BITTEN

brought to his office for another examination Monday.

Meanwhile the child's father, a mild-mannered tenant farmer, and Preacher-Farmer W. T. Lipham, tall leader of the snake-handling folk, remained in jail on charges of assault with intent to murder. Sheriff Daughtrey said they would be allowed freedom under $3,000 bonds when the child is pronounced out of danger.

Submission of the child to examination came after Superior Judge W. R. Smith in a hearing yesterday ruled Lipham and Rowan would have to face murder charges if the child died and would be held in jail indefinitely without bond if she were not returned.

Solicitor General Homer Nelson said present charges against the men were based on the theory that Liphanf through his preaching and Rowan through example incited the girl to handle the snake, which bit eight other persons on the same afternoon she was struck. None of these became dangerously ill.

900,000-Service Limit Rejected

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Shortly after President Roosevelt declared that a system of selective training was "essential to adequate national defense," the senate military committee rejected today a proposal to limit compulsory service at this time to 900,000 men.

TRAINING BILL

guard and reserve officers into active training.

There were indications the idea would have strong support from both Democrats and Republicans who have opposed the Burke-Wadsworth measure or who have been reluctant to approve a conscription plan calling for registration of about 12,000,000 men from 21 to 30, inclusive.

Senator Ellender (D-La) proposed that the Burke-Wadsworth bill be amended to provide for a 30-day period for receiving voluntary enlistments before conscription would begin.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo) said he planned to offer an amendment to eliminate peacetime conscription, retaining the provisions calling for registration in the 21-30 age bracket, but substituting a system of voluntary enlistment for the subsequent draft.

Arguing that conscription was necessary, Senator Lee (D-Okla) said he thought an amendment to limit the number of draftees to 500,000 in October and 500,000 next spring would "allay public fears that we are going to call out everyone between the ages of 21 and 31."

Lee proposed this amendment, and it was seconded by Senator Bridges (R-NH).

On the other hand, Senator Burke (D-Neb), a co-author of the bill, said he thought it would be a "mistake to say that is the end of it." He contended that discretionary authority should be given the President to increase the number of draftees if that became necessary.

Other developments related to defense and international problems included:

The house ways and means committee informally agreed to recommend that profit limitations imposed on naval ship builders and airplane makers by the Vinson-Trammel act be suspended if an excess profits tax is enacted. These limits are 8 per cent on contracts let by competition and 7 per cent on others.

President Roosevelt asked congress to supply $125,000 for the children's bureau to use in establishing standards for care of European refugee children.

Senator Overton (D-La) proposed a debt moratorium for national guardsmen and reserve officers called to active duty. If conscription is ordered, he would extend the moratorium to drafted men.

two hours before he could reach land.

"Yah, that water was cold," he recalled as reporters questioned him at the consulate.

The young machinists mate said he was in a British prison camp at Manchester, Eng., before he was loaded on a prison ship bound for Canada. He bided his time until he saw land.

"Then, that night, I wiggled through a porthole," he continued calmly. "It was a tight fit going through, but I wore only a short, thin pants, and, on my feet, sneakers."

After he reached land, he said, he hid in some woods and waited for the sun so as to take his bearings. Living on blackberries and wild strawberries, he pressed southward, ever fearful that he would be picked up by the enemy, "because I know only two or three English words."

"But I had the best of luck, for I walked through the woods 25 miles inside the United States boundary before any one saw me."

Then the immigration officers happened on him and stopped him for questioning.

"How glad I was when the wife of one of them could speak German and I learned I was in the United States. They were very alert, those inspectors, but also kind and proper in discharge of their duty."

His only wish now, he said, is that his parents may learn that he is alive and well.

Curfew was introduced in England about the year 1068.

Market For Wool Slightly Higher

BOSTON, Aug. 2. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"The market for wool has reached a slightly higher level this week on the finer wools but that appreciation is threatened by reports of a plan for the importation of some 250,000,000 pounds of Australian wool to this country for storage against an emergency. The government confirms the report, although no details of the plan are announced, and assures the wool growers that their position will be safeguarded.

"Such a programme could not be effected for many months and is deemed unlikely of fulfillment in its entirety, so that there need be no effect on the current domestic clip.

"Meanwhile, government orders are about the only basis for business at the mills, although a little civilian business makes its appearance now and then.

"Western buying has been somewhat more general this week but scattered, with prices on the higher level noted at the end of last week. The wool auctions in the west have been disappointing to the growers in the volume sold; withdrawals having been heavy on account of high price limits.

"Mohair has been very slow but prices are not quotably changed."

BRITISH CLAIM

that the British might not have been told what he said. Actually his speech was widely published in England.

Bombs dropped by raiders were reported by the British government to have caused slight damage and "few" casualties.

Skeptical of German statements that invasion may be held off indefinitely in favor of bomb attacks and air and undersea blockade, British observers pointed out that the almanac indicates next Monday to Friday morning as the time high tides would favor attack. After that the favorable mornings would be from Sept. 2 to 7.

The Supreme Soviet was called to a second day session to act on admission to the Soviet Union of territories which extend the Soviet frontier from ice-free ports in the Baltic to the Danube river.

Up for admission are Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, and the former Rumanian territory of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina.

Rumania's cessions to Soviet Russia intensified Hungarian claims for Transylvania, which Hungary lost to Rumania after the World War, and Bulgarian claims on southern Dobruja.

Now, reports from Bucharest said, the Rumanian crown council has decided to open negotiations next week for settlement of those claims.

Officials in the Panama Canal Zone studied how to deport 81 foreigners detained in a sweeping clean-up along the United States vital water link between the Atlantic and Pacific.

Republic of Panama spokesmen said those seized were mostly "European refugees," some of them German.

At Vichy, France, Raphael Alibert, minister of justice, announced that the new supreme court of justice will meet Aug. 8 at Riom, about 25 miles southwest of Vichy, to begin the trials of men charged with crimes against the nation.

Former Premier Edouard Daladier and three men who were in his cabinet are among those to be tried—on charges of responsibility for the French defeat.

ployed on fire control equipment in the Canal Zone.

Leopoldo Arosemena, Panama's minister of interior and acting foreign minister, said at Panama that the persons held were mostly European "refugees."

They were picked up and turned over to Canal Zone officials, he said, when it was found that their papers were not in order. Their point of entry, he explained, had been through the CaCnal Zone.

United States army intelligence officers at Panama disclaimed knowledge that 81 foreign agents were being held. Refugees at the immigration quarantine station in Balboa, they said, formed the only group of foreigners approaching that figure.

Steamship lines responsible for leaving the refugees in the Canal Zone, informed sources said, may be required to return them, but difficulty was expected because the war has stopped operations of some European lines.

Colorado's output of gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc was worth an estimated $22,235,979 in 1939.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—Recovery steps were taken by Steels and Motors in today's stock market but many other leaders were hesitant on the follow-up.

The list was a bit ragged at the start. A little bidding appeared around mid-day and lifted selected issues fractions to a point or so. There was a subsequent letdown and another mild come-back in the final hour. At that, closing quotations were a shade mixed.

Negligible dealings throughout tended to lessen importance of price changes either way. Transfers approximated 300,000 shares.

Lions Club Will Back Move For Clean Literature

Members of the Pampa Lions club at their regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday, joined Kiwanians and Rotarians in passing a resolution condemning sale of salacious publications in Pampa.

The resolution followed a talk given by Mrs. J. W. Garman.

Leaders in the movement for clean literature are the Parent-Teacher associations of the city and the Parish Council of Catholic women.

A report on the Lions International convention, held last month in Havana, Cuba, was given by President Joe Burrow. Mr. and Mrs. Burrow attended the convention from Pampa.

MACKENZIE

chester (and many other industries) close for a week or two to give the workers their yearly fling. With the murky dawn you no longer hear the endless click-clack, click-clack of wooden soles on the worn cobbles of the dingy streets as the toilers go to work. Bill and his girl have donned their flaming best, taken their entire year's savings, and raced away to Blackpool, labor's famous playground by the Irish sea.

Country dwellers betake themselves to London town, to gaze in awe at the grim tower and at the blazing crown-jewels guarded there and get delightful creeps in the musty dungeons. Like Alice in wonderland they wander about the city, weaving a tale that will thrill their grandchildren.

And the county clerk (pronounced "clark") and baker and draper head for the country or their favorite seaside resorts—Brighton or Margate or maybe as far afield as the quaint old fishing village of St. Ives way down in Cornwall near Land's End. They may go by bus, or bicycle, or hike—but they get there.

Let's pop into St. Ives for a second, since its old world atmosphere is typical of so much of England. It's a tiny hamlet of grey stone, perched on a rocky promontory that is washed by white-capped seas. The narrow cobbled streets—swept and scrubbed to godly cleanliness by the good fisher-women — climb and squirm their way about until the wayfarer becomes lost in the labyrinth.

Plump seagulls perch on the roofs, waiting complacently like fat merchants of Baghdad for something of profit to turn up. Artists who flock to this mecca lay aside their paints, come the Sabbath, for that is the Lord's day and no man may work. These God-fearing folk who go down to the sea in ships attend chapel and then sit quietly at home to read their Bibles. If you violate the day they likely will toss you into the surf.

St. Ives is only one of many fascinating places the vacationist can visit. But wherever the Briton goes, it's an outdoor affair. He's a simple soul in many ways, and is quite happy lying on his back under a tree, or poling a punt on the Thames. Whatever his pastime is, however, it must be in the open—in short, he's the sort of bloke who likes to tramp in the rain.

By this week-end (since we've decreed there is no war) the average Briton will be on vacation. He will be holidaying in exactly the same place, in exactly the same way, as he has done every year of his life, and his father and grandfather and great-grandfather did before him. The Englishman doesn't change—well, not much.

He will be in the same boarding house, at the same table by the same window, in the same seat. He will be eating roast beef and boiled mutton, just as have his forebears clear back to ample-bellied Cedric the Saxon.

Thus he will be exhibiting that characteristic of bull-doggedness, or whatever you want to call it, which observers say is one of his prime assets in the conflict with Herr Hitler—oh, blimy, I knew we'd get shunted off onto the war again. What's the use!

Mullen Named Vice President Of NBC

NEW YORK, Aug 2 (AP)—Frank E. Mullen, associated with radio since 1923, was named vice president and general manager of the National Broadcasting company by its board of directors today.

He takes over the post left vacant July 12 when Niles Trammell, whose radio career also dates back to 1923, was elected president of the chain to succeed Major Lenox R. Lohr.

Mullen, who had been vice president in charge of advertising and publicity of the Radio Corporation of America, parent company of NBC, organized the network's farm and home hour, a broadcast series still a daily feature.

Riderless Plane Raises Cain At Dallas Airport

DALLAS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Roaring, throwing clouds of dust and endangering traffic at a busy airport, a runaway army training plane today staged a 150-horsepower rodeo in the middle of Love field here.

Flying Cadet Harold F. Beery of Salem, Iowa, decided to start his motor again after a landing. He gave the propeller a twirl, the motor roared and the ship lurched into motion.

Beery, tossed aside, watched his plane whip in circles toward the middle of the huge airport where it spun madly and noisily for the next half hour.

Approximately 30 cadets attempted to bulldog the runaway as several air liners and at least 10 other army and private planes were kept in the air by the field dispatcher.

Finally a cadet manager to grasp a wing, another clutched the opposite wing, a third climbed into the cockpit to shut off the motor.

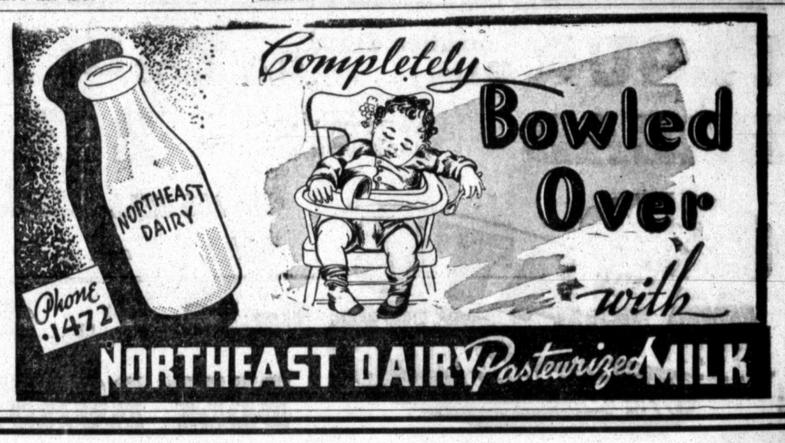

No injuries were reported.

Young Groom Finds Wife Owns Rings

DALLAS, Aug. 2 (AP)—An 18-year-old groom told police his 14-year-old bride ran away and asked them to recover the wedding and engagement rings which had not been paid for. The practical police not only told him the rings were the preperty of the bride, but advised him further he had better keep up the payments.

Second Grade Scrap Bought By Japanese

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Government experts disclosed today that 75 to 80 per cent of Japan's scrap metal purchases in the United States were untouched by the new export licensing system.

They pointed out, however, that all Japanese purchases of this important war material could be brought under control or embargoed at any time merely by changing regulations.

Such changes would be made, officials said, only if it was found that defense needs required the metal to be kept at home.

The reason such a large share of Japanese scrap metal purchases is outside the licensing system is that the existing regulations apply only to No. 1 heavy melting steel and iron scrap.

(In New York, Robert W. Wolcott, president of the Lukens Steel company, said independent manufacturers of steel were about to ask restrictions on sales abroad of all grades of scrap steel.)

One phase of the new licensing system — covering aviation gas — is known to have affected the Japanese. President Roosevelt clamped an embargo earlier this week on shipments of aviation gas to points outside the western hemisphere.

This cut off an important supply line for Tokyo in her war against China. The Japanese bought 105,000 barrels of aviation gasoline from this country during the first six months of this year. Their purchases were lower than last year, due, government experts say, to the fact that they had accumulated a considerable reserve.

The Japanese government's announcement yesterday of a foreign policy which would extend her domination over French Indo-China and the Netherlands East Indies raised a question, in many analysts' minds, as to whether the United States export licensing system might be tightened to try to dissuade her.

State department officials insisted, however, that the export control policy would be determined solely on the basis of national defense.

Four Army Units Mobilizing For War Maneuvers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—At peacetime peaks in training and equipment, units of four United States armies were moving by rail and road today toward imaginary front lines on theoretical battlefields.

Mobilizing for the most extensive field exercises since the World War, 301,000 regular army, national guard and reserve troops prepared to give a preview of mass maneuvers which, if congress approves, may become a regular practice.

Extending its former policy of holding maneuvers in only one army area each year, the war department has ordered exercises in all four areas this summer. They will be a prelude to possible mobilization of all or part of the national guard for a full year.

The length of the maneuvers has been extended from 14 days to 21 days.

Although there are still shortages in modern weapons and supplies, the war department said the troops would go into mock action with more complete peacetime equipment than ever. All regular army troops and many guardsmen will carry new semi-automatic rifles. New anti-tank guns will be employed. An increased number of motor transport units will be used.

Absent, however, will be thundering tanks. Two divisions in process of organization will continue to train as units rather than be scattered.

Trucks and cars will be used in the maneuvers to simulate tanks. Planes also will be limited, to avoid hampering the air corps expansion.

Largest of the concentrations is underway in northern New York, where 91,000 officers and men of the first army are assembling for maneuvers Aug. 5 to 25.

Number of troops and dates of other exercises:

Second army, 65,000, Sparta, Wis., area, Aug. 11 to 31; third army, 65,000, Sabine river-Alexandria, La., area, Aug. 4 to 24; fourth army, divided between Fort Lewis, Wash., and Camp Ripley, Minn., Aug. 4 to 24.

Love To Be Topic Of Lesson-Sermon

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 4.

The Golden Text is: "O God, thou art my God . . . Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee" (Psalms 63:1,3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" (Galatians 5:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfils the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself'; annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry,—whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed" (page 340).

Henry Hall, an English artist, pained 43 consecutive winners of the Derby.

Negroes On Jury In Creole State Trial

EDGARD, La., Aug. 2 (AP)—A jury including two negroes found Hugh Pierre, 24-year-old negro, guilty yesterday of murdering Constable Ignace Roussel four years ago. Passing of sentence was deferred.

It was the first time negroes ever sat on a jury here at a trial involving life or death.

An earlier conviction had been nullified by the United States supreme court on the grounds negroes were not represented on the grand jury returning the indictment.

Japanese Experts Help Mexicans In Record Fish Catch

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—The government said today Japanese fishing experts helped the Mexican Fishermen's union, operating in the Gulf of Lower California to turn in a record catch of 5,340,864 pounds of shrimp between December 20, 1939, and May 1, 1940. It was sold for 2,563,615 pesos or approximately $500,000.

The work was conducted by Japanese experts in Japanese boats leased to the Mexican Marine department, which controls the maritime fishing industry.

Ten Persons Drown In Jap Tidal Wave

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (AP)—Ten persons were drowned, two small shipbuilding yards were destroyed and hundreds of fishing boats washed away today when a tidal wave following an earthquake swept the western coast of Hokkaido, northern island of Japan.

The earthquake, 12:08 a. m. (9:08 a. m. Thursday, C. S. T.), did no material damage.

The center of the shock was in the sea west of Hokkaido.

Living Costs Show Rise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins reported today that the cost of living for wage earners in large cities was 0.7 per cent higher on June 15 than on March 15. Food prices were 2.8 per cent and rent 0.1 per cent.

Rain is far from pure when it reaches the earth. It gathers microbes from the dust-filled air.

"That's All," Says Promoter At Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Promoter Jimms Finley last night called off a fight between Tiger Pelon, 160, Houston, and Billy Pryor, Texas middleweight champion, when less than 200 fans showed up for the bout.

"I lost money on my first fight card here and just a handful of fans turned out for the second so I won't attempt to promote any more fights here," Finley said.

Justice Goes Masculine

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2 (AP)—Judge Ralph H. Smith said he was "sick and tired of women in cheese-cloth with bandages on their eyes representing justice."

So a federal project artist, painting a mural for his courtroom, pictured justice as—a brawny man beckoning mankind from death by war to life by peace.

"God Bless America" Composed By Irving Berlin Back In 1918

By TOM WOLF
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—"God Bless America" was written in 1918!

The 32 bars which set America to music originally were composed for an American army musical ("Yip! Yip! Yaphank!") by an un-military looking sergeant named Irving Berlin. But they weren't heard until 1938.

Since then they have become America's theme song, if not, as many believe, its new national anthem.

Irving Berlin. . . . "I'll tell you more about it in five years."

Here is the story as the composer revealed it to me:

"I was never completely satisfied with the words or melody as they stood in 1918," said Berlin. He sat at a large mahogany desk in his paneled office in the heart of present-day Tin Pan Alley—the Tin Pan Alley that Irving Berlin has done so much to create.

Salted away, not in any trunk, but in the back of Berlin's literally tune-full mind along with hundreds of other song fragments, "God Bless America" passed 20 half-forgotten years.

Then in September, 1938, Berlin went to London for the premiere of "Alexander's Ragtime Band," the tune-biography of Irving Berlin.

"It was during the Munich crisis," he recalls, and everyone there, myself included, was pretty emotional. I wanted to write something that would say, 'Thanks, America.' I played around with that as a title, but it didn't work out."

WARY AT FIRST

When he returned to New York, still thinking along these lines, songbird Kate Smith asked him to write a song for her Armistice day radio program.

He naturally thought back to the war, to "Yip! Yip! Yaphank!"—to "God Bless America."

"You see in the original version I had the line 'Make her victorious on land and foam.'"

Berlin strode across his office to the battered upright piano.

His fingers quickly picked out the old melody. It ran way up the scale to a different high. Berlin sang in a half-spoken whisper.

"You see," he smiled, wrinkling his forehead above his black, horn-rimmed glasses, "it wasn't right. And 'Make her victorious' wasn't appropriate in 1938. So . . ." His fingers rippled over the keys again, with the version Kate Smith introduced to America on Armistice day, 1938.

The song sparked American imagination and patriotism immediately. But Berlin was wary. "I was grateful beyond words that it had the quality it seemed to have, but I wanted to make sure it kept that quality."

So the lyrics were copyrighted against use by commercial radio programs (except Kate Smith's, whose theme song it became), by all swing arrangers, by all cabarets and night clubs.

All patriotic organizations are welcome to the song, and both Republican and Democratic conventions adopted it as their theme.

HE'LL KNOW MORE IN ABOUT FIVE YEARS

Berlin continued: "We thought it was so obviously an American song that the royalties should go to our youth organizations."

A committee was established and decided to give the profits to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

The fund has netted $45,000 on the 500,000 copies of sheet music sold to date. That looks like a drop in the eventual bucket.

Is "God Bless America" a new national anthem?

"I don't think that you can vote a national anthem," Irving Berlin said. "I know you don't sit down and write one. "The people adopt a song, or they don't. I think that 'God Bless America' is the most important song I've ever written. I'll tell you more about it in five years."

Annual Baptist Camp Started Near Miami

Special To The NEWS

CANADIAN, Aug. 2—The annual Baptist encampment opened today at their grounds near Miami, for an eight-day session.

No services will be held in the First Baptist church here next Sunday, the pastor, the Rev. C. E. Fite, and wife, and practically the entire membership expecting to attend the encampment at their grounds a few miles east of Miami on Highway 66.

This summer encampment has been sponsored the past fifteen years by the local Baptist church, ministers and laymen coming for several hundred miles to attend.

The first ten years, this annual encampment was held at Anvil park, courtesy of the owner, J. C. Studer. The present grounds, secured in 1934, have been the location since that time.

The Rev. E. T. Miller, minister of the local church for many years, now of Corsicana, is camp pastor.

Europe's Hunger Looms As Hitler's No. 1 Handicap

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2—The men who shape the foreign policy of the United States are working temporarily on the assumption that Herr Hitler is not only the political and military kingpin of all Europe, save Russia, but the economic master as well.

So they assume, too, that it's up to the boss to feed 350,000,000 mouths. And the republics of this hemisphere are interested in knowing how Hitler proposes to do it.

Even in good times, if all the food raised on the continent of Europe (Russia excepted) were evenly divided, each person would only have 80 per cent of what he needed.

In normal times, America makes up Europe's deficit in raw materials. Something like half of the American nations' exports go there.

The American policy makers assume that Germany and Italy believe the distress occasioned by the loss of markets in Europe will be so great that almost any trade proposal by the continent will be accepted in the Americas as a matter of course.

Three Obstacles

But three great forces are at work to prevent such an easy solution of Europe's economic problems. The first of these is Dame Nature. The second is war. And the third is a new and vastly broadened Monroe Doctrine now in the making.

Taking these forces in order:

1. Europe suffered the worst winter in a half century. Spring was late, cold and wet. Winter grain suffered. Crop prospects are about half as good as usual. Authentic reports to the U. S. department of agriculture indicate Rumania's crop of winter wheat is 40 per cent below normal, and rye is 26 per cent under. Rumania is Europe's most important bread basket.

2. Ever since Hitler came to power in 1933, Europe has been using the cream of its substance for armies, munitions and machines of war. Even Sweden has been making munitions and armaments for other powers. The switchover from war-time economy to peacetime economy always has been disastrous. After the World War, bankruptcy was practically universal. International debts went unpaid. The depression resulted.

German financiers already have foreseen the disaster ahead, and in every captured country, even in Germany, rediscount rates have been lowered—which is an attempt to produce easy money. Easy money is the first step toward inflation.

3. The new Monroe Doctrine is not only a military and political instrument to keep European and Asiatic powers out of this hemisphere, it is also being forged rapidly into an economic instrument to prevent economic penetration. For economic penetration now is recognized as a forerunner of political and military conquest.

At the conference of Panama last year the 21 American republics formed an intra-hemisphere financial and economic advisory committee. And now that the loss of Europe as a market is implied in undercover threats from Berlin and Rome, the committee is going into action.

Solid Front Proposed

The first proposal to reach publication is a plan to form an all-American corporation or cartel to buy up with United States dollars the surpluses in the United States and Latin America, and force European bargainers to deal with a solid front of American nations—instead of picking off business men and nations one at a time and playing them against each other.

If that all-American corporation is formed in Havana this summer and gets down to business—and reaction in Latin America is universally favorable—the Hitler economic bloc in Europe won't be able to get what it wants on its own terms.

The British empire is not available, as yet, as the reservoir of supply. Russia hasn't enough raw materials for her own needs, and her political tack of recent weeks indicates she wouldn't send them to the rest of Europe under Hitler even if she had surpluses. So that leaves the American nations as the best source of supply for Europe.

American foreign-policy makers tell you of the record that they have no desire to starve the people of Europe. But if American surpluses are going to be used for relief in Europe, they want them so labeled and hope to make Hitler tell the people who receive American relief that his system did not produce their food.

Unofficially, an American representative in Berlin already has been told by the German undersecretary of agriculture that Germany has no surplus of grain to feed the millions of Europe this winter.

The American case is based on the belief that Hitler will have a hard time explaining how Nazism is the greatest of all systems, when starvation and famine and bankruptcy begin to spread over Europe.

SUMMER THEATER

BY MILDRED WILLIAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Although Johnny prefers to delay introducing Molly to the Cape crowd, she insists on going to the Meltons' party. Jean greets Molly, defending her against Sue Melton's anger.

CHAPTER V

JOHNNY'S relief that Jean and Sue hadn't combined forces to scratch Molly's eyes out vanished when he caught the look of triumph in Jean's glance. She wanted Molly to come to tea. How could she have known that Molly's whole point in this visit to the Meltons' was to increase her list of patrons for the Wharf Theater?

"Come along and meet all of us," Jean said, and Johnny followed them back across the lawn.

The rest of the evening passed so smoothly and uneventfully that Johnny began to think he was unduly suspicious of Jean's ulterior motives. Sue reluctantly rallied round, and Molly was soon a part of every group. Molly sat on the green flowered love-seat and told them enchantingly about the Theater.

She mimicked Mr. Earl and they howled with delight. She told them how acting was taught at the dramatic school and they loved her for letting down her hair.

"Are you in the first play?" Jean asked her.

"I'm an old, old lady," she said in a voice like Miss Bessie Carstairs. "But I ought to be glad to get that. Apprentices seldom have a line except, 'Moddom, tea is served.' Nobody wanted that part of the old lady, so they let me try out. I don't care about parts. All I want to do is to act."

MOLLY was telling Sue good night, when Johnny went to find Jean. He had watched her as she sat on a cushion beside the empty fireplace, smoking cigaret after cigaret. When she did speak, it was only to urge on Molly's monolog

"You've been a swell sport, Jean," Johnny told her. "You could have been pretty nasty about all this. And I do thank you."

"Don't thank me," Jean said curtly. "And don't pity me. I'm not going to be a dog in the woodpile, but she's still got to do a lot of proving."

"Why, you acted as if you thought she was lovely. I don't get you women." He was more bewildered than ever.

"Don't you?" she asked bitterly. "Well, this isn't any trap. I'm clearing out the minute I find out she loves you. Personally, I think she's stage struck."

Molly came back just then, and Jean flashed her the sweetest of smiles.

"See you Thursday at 4:30."

ALL the way home Molly kept telling Johnny how wonderful everybody was.

"And Jean Reynolds is the nicest person I ever met. At first, I thought you weren't telling me the truth about you two. Then when I met her, I knew if you'd ever gotten a whirl from a gal like that, you wouldn't have looked twice at little Molly Travers."

"So you've gone into long division, or is it algebra? If I were you, I'd stay away from mathematics. You always get the wrong answers. I've had plenty of time to analyze the way I feel about you. The weather saw to that." Johnny put his arm around her and they went down the dark village street. "I knew if I'd lost you forever, my life was empty. But what do you think of me? Do you really care?"

She was in his arms again, and he was kissing her.

"This is the way I feel about you," she told him. "You are gay and shining like a knight in a fairy tale with all your talk of white steeds. You are young and it's wonderful to be young. I haven't time to be young, or to play. I must work always for what I want most of all." She pushed him away.

"I love you," he told her. "Does it seem too sudden?" I've saved that expression for the feeling I have for you. Do you think you could ever love me?"

She was in his arms again, and with a choking sob she was saying, "Oh, my dear, how I wish I had time for love; it would be so easy to let it happen to us. But I haven't time. The theater's in my blood, the way the Cape is in yours. Please, can't you understand?"

THE sun shone on Cape Cod and in Johnny's heart. Molly often stopped by on her way to and from rehearsal, but there were no more picnics. This was the last week before the opening and Carter Earl was working the daylights out of his cast.

Then suddenly she ceased coming by. He looked for her at the stage door and even went by number 43 Cottage street. All to no avail, she said she was too busy to see him.

He assumed that Jean Reynolds had left the Cape entirely. That, too, was for the best. And then one Saturday afternoon he came back from lunch to find her yellow roadster parked in front of his shop. Try, as he would, he was unsuccessful in scuttling the pleasure he felt at knowing she was near.

"Hello, Johnny," she hailed him when he approached. "Know where we could borrow an old lamp?"

"What do you want with an old lamp?" Who was he, Aladdin? That was the cue on which Molly had entered his life, and now Jean.

"I'm helping Mr. Earl on props for this show. He believes a person who knows everybody down here can do better than some member of the company. And so far I've had wonderful luck. Look."

She drew the list of properties from her pocket and he noted the checks by nearly every item. "Just like the treasure hunt, only you feel it's much more important."

"You had me going for a minute. The first time Molly came in here she asked for an old lamp. Naturally I thought you were ribbing me. Tell me, now that we are speaking, what kind of an actress is our girl friend?"

"Molly is a swell actress," she told him. "But, Johnny," she began and then stopped, "are you still that way about her?" she asked almost shyly.

"I'm afraid so, Jean, only more so." He offered her a cigaret and took one himself. "I haven't seen much of her lately. Earl's been riding them pretty hard."

Jean walked over and found a scallop shell to use for an ash tray. Her back was to him when she said, "The lead is here. Andre Masters. He is veddy, veddy fond of your Molly."

Johnny went across and turned her around. Still gripping her shoulders, he asked, "Is that why I haven't seen much of her? He's giving her a whirl, you mean?"

Jean took his hands from her shoulders. She turned away from the misery in his face. Then she wheeled swiftly.

"Johnny, I came by to tell you that I'm going back to Boston."

Johnny didn't answer for a minute. Molly had left him for Masters. Masters could get her somewhere in the theater. Automatically he began to rearrange his window display.

"I told you I'd leave as soon as I found out Molly loved you."

The pottery bowl trembled in Johnny's fingers. His heart pounded so loudly he could hardly hear his own words:

"Molly says she loves me?"

The bowl dropped from his hands and smashed into a thousand bits.

Employment Increases 28 Per Cent In First Six Months Of 1940

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The federal security administration today reported that public employment officers found jobs in private industry for 1,500,000 persons during the first six months of 1940.

Officials said this was an increase of 28 per cent over the same period last last year.

Job placements during June showed the first decline in four months. They totaled 330,000, or 20,000 less than in May.

Unemployment benefits paid during the first half of 1940 totaled $283,000,000, an increase of $54,000,000 over the same period last year.

Floundering Yanks Call Earl Bonham

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (AP)—The floundering New York Yankees made an effort to strengthen their pitching staff today by bringing up right-hander Ernest Bonham from the Kansas City farm and sending veteran Oral Hildebrand to the American Association club.

Bonham, who made the spring training trip with the Yankees, has won eight and lost four for Kansas City.

Civil Service Exams

The United States Civil Service commission has announced open competitive examinations for the positions listed below. Applications must be on file with the commission's Washington office not later than the closing dates mentioned in each case. The first date governs receipt of applications from states east of Colorado; the second, from Colorado and states westward. The salaries given in each case are subject to a 3½ per cent,

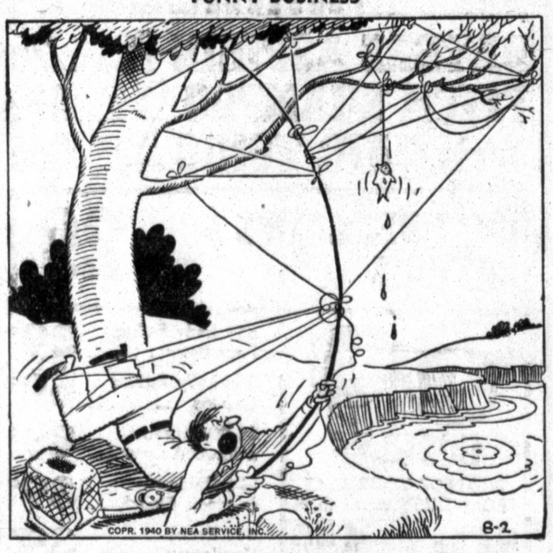

Senior stenographer, $1,620 a year; junior stenographer, $1,440 a year; senior typist, $1,440 a year; junior typist, $1,260 a year; for appointment in Washington, D. C., only. This examination is open to both men and women. Applicants must have reached their 18th, but must not have passed their 53rd birthday. Closing dates are August 15 and August 19, 1940.

Civil engineer, four grades, with salaries ranging from $2,600 to $4,600 a year. Optional branches are: Cadastral, construction, soil mechanics, safety, sanitary, general. Applicants must have completed a four-year engineering course in a recognized college or university. In addition they must have had professional civil engineering experience partly in one of the optional branches listed. Applicants may substitute additional engineering experience for part of the prescribed education; they may also substitute graduate study in civil engineering for part of the experience. They must not have passed their 55th birthday. Closing dates are August 29 and September 3, 1940.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from Vaughn Darnell, secretary of the board of U. S. Civil Service examiners, at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the secretary of the board of U. S. Civil Service examiners, at any first- or second-class post office.

Hubbers Beat Oilers For 13th Straight Win

Seitzmen Get Only 4 Hits In 12-3 Loss

LUBBOCK, Aug. 2—Even Milbert Vannoy, the league's leading pitcher, couldn't stop the rampaging Lubbock Hubbers last night as they took the Oilers apart 12 to 3, for their 13th consecutive win.

"We'll be on top of the heap by August 15," the rollicking Hubbers reported. "We're going to break the 13 jinx tonight."

And the Oilers were mighty glad to get away from Lubbock for Lamesa where they play three games before returning home on Monday night, with Amarillo furnishing the opposition.

The Oilers were able to get only four hits off Ralsh. Two of them were doubles, by Jordan and Malvica.

Vannoy let the Hubbers have 13 hits and Manager Seitz gave up one. Vannoy was anything but himself last night as he walked seven batters and whiffed only three.

Drake led the assault on Vannoy with a triple, double, and two singles.

Todd Wins Second Round At Broadmoor With A 64

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 2 (AP)—Harry Todd, tactiturn Texan, took apart Broadmoor's 6,602-yard layout yesterday, shooting a six-under-par 64 in the second round of the 20th annual Broadmoor invitation golf tournament.

Todd finished off Pat Malloy of Tulsa, his second round foe, by 8 and 6, and then played out the remaining six holes in one of the most brilliant competitive rounds in peak-rimmed Broadmoor's history.

Today in the quarter-final round, the curly-headed Dallas sharpshooter will meet long-hitting Eddie Stokes of Denver, who defeated Todd in the final match last year. Stokes beat Harry Missildine of Coffeyville, Kan., 3 and 2, in his second round contest.

Dick Price of Wichita, Kan., the tourney's co-medalist, battled to a 1 up victory over Harry Strasberger of Coffeyville, the draw pits Price against his brother, Will, Jr., of Wichita, in the quarter-final.

Will turned back Frank Freeman of Denver, 4 and 3.

Verne Bowdle of Salt Lake City, Utah's only contender, beat young Gil Davis, Jr., of Kansas City, 2 and 1, and will meet Emerson Carey, Jr., of Denver. Carey defeated Ed Brady of Colorado Springs, last home town survivor, 4 and 3.

Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, Texas, beat Roger Hurd of Chicago, brother-in-law of Lawson Little, national open champ, 6 and 5, Earle Berryhill of Sapula, Okla., overpowered John Jory of Denver, 6 and 4. Norton and Berryhill are matched in the quarter-final.

DODGERS TAKE TWO

BROOKLYN, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Dodgers swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 8 to 3 and 8 to 7, to cut the advantage of Cincinnati's idle National League leaders to 6½ games. Whitlow Wyatt won the opener with seven-hit pitching, but it took four hurlers to hold Pittsburgh to six hits in the night-cap.

Riggs Advances To Semi-Finals

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—The magic racquet of Bobby Riggs today shunted Hank Prusoff of Seattle out of the 50th annual Meadow club invitation tournament and advanced the national champion into the semi-final round, 6-4, 8-6.

Elwood Cooke, of Portland, Ore., gained the upper-bracket semi-final with a 6-4, 6-4, triumph over Ted Schroeder, of Glendale, Calif.

Riggs' opponent in the semi-final round will be Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., who eliminated George Toley of Los Angeles, 4-6, 14-12, 6-1.

Cooke's adversary will be Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, who defeated Frank Guernsey, of Orlando, Fla., 6-3, 6-2.

Amarillo To Be Site Of District Softball Tourney

Managers of teams which are interested in competing in the Amarillo softball district tournament, to be held here August 10-25, were urged today to submit rosters and formal entry applications to Wayne Byers, manager of the tournament, by August 5, so that all state rules may be complied with.

Byers' address is 3809 Harrison St., Amarillo.

An entry fee of $8 will be charged, which will include the district tournament, and entrance to the state title tourney, to begin in Abilene Aug. 25.

The winner of the latter event will be given $1,000 to help defray expenses to the national competiton, to be held in Detroit Sept. 6-10.

All interested, amateur, softball teams of the area are eligible to compete in the double elimination district tournament. Current indications are that entries will come from Vega, Hereford, Childress, Estelline, Kirkland, and Amarillo.

Mount Pleasant Wins Opener In Denver Tourney

DENVER, Aug. 2 (AP)—Baseballs tumbled like hailstones in all sections of Merchants park outfield as two uppercrust clubs batted out victories in the innaugural program of the Denver Post's silver anniversary baseball tournament yesterday.

The Golden, Colo., Coors, chief home state hope for first money that totaled nearly $6,000 last year, smothered Oak Creek, Colo., 19 to 1, in a contest charitably chopped to seven innings.

Mount Pleasant, Texas, followed with a 13-4 decision over Englewood, Colo. This is the first shot at the mile-high city tournament for the Texans, who were runners-up at the national semi-pro meet at Wichita in 1939.

Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Owners and coaches assembled in Cleveland for the rules interpretation meeting of the National Football league strikingly remind you of how far the professional game has come since Timothy Mara stumbled into the New York Giant franchise in 1925.

All 10 clubs made money last season for the first time.

Fred Mandel, Jr., of the Chicago department store fortune, paid Dick Richards $225,000 cash for the Detroit Lions last winter . . . a record price.

Richards picked up the franchise in Portsmouth, O., in 1933 . . . Dutch Clark, Father Lumpkin and all . . . for $25,000 and what the outfit owed, which was $20,000 more.

The Giants, Chicago Bears and another club or two could not now be purchased for a million.

Professional football made George Halas, owner of the Bears, an immensely rich man. He started in it from scratch . . . fresh from the Illinois campus.

Tim Mara, whose Giants are now run by his sons, Jack and Wellington, obtained the club by accident . . . for just $3,500.

The late Dr. Harry March of Canton was trying to interest Billy Gibson in backing a club at the Polo Grounds, when Mara, a bookmaker and coal operator, ankled into the old fight manager's office in an effort to interest him in a heavyweight who had the audacity to say he could whip Jack Dempsey. The heavyweight's name was Gene Tunney.

Gibson was one of the best customers in front of Mara's book at the tracks, which is why he didn't have loose change to invest in what appeared to be a precarious football undertaking.

Neither Mara nor Gibson had ever seen a football game, but Mara was gambling on anything then, and was looking for something for his boys.

So Gibson got a heavyweight champion and Mara a football club at the same moment.

Mara lost $85,000 one year, $65,000 another before striking pay dirt. George Preston Marshall dropped $85,000 in Boston before the show clicked in Washington. Dan Topping has invested $700,000 one way or another in Brooklyn.

Men like that and a progressive policy put professional football on big time.
