Scurry County had four persons present at the annual meeting of the Texas Historical Survey Committee at Waco the past weekend, and they were the first to know about the two major awards made to the local committee.

The Scurry County Historical Survey Committee received a Distinguished Service Award and Mrs. Wayne Boren of the Scurry County committee was named the outstanding chairman of a subcommittee.

It was either the fourth or fifth time that Scurry County's committee had won a Distinguished Service Award. County Chairman Brud Boren doesn't remember exactly how many, but it shows that the Scurry County historical group is one of the most active in the state.

City Manager George Patterson, Mrs. Jess Everett and Mrs. Robert Hargrove, in addition to Boren, were the Scurry County people attending the meeting in Waco.

Patterson and Boren presented an "All-America City" program at the state meeting which drew considerable comment.

Boren said that a number of those attending the meeting expressed interest in arranging for Patterson to show the color slide series on Snyder's All-America City campaign.

Among the reports presented at the meeting, Boren said he was amazed at the growth in the number of museums established over the state since last year's meeting. About 240 museums were listed a year ago, and this number had gone well over the 300 mark this year.

In the business session, Boren was elected to the board of the Texas Historical Foundation.

West Texas Counties were prominent among those who were cited for special honors at the state historical session. One of the top awards went to the Borden County Historical Survey Committee, Edna Miller, chairman, for its newsletter, the Borden Citizen.

This publication is one of the most interesting I have seen. The Borden committee also has its own museum, getting new quarters this fall after having been established in the old Dorward Drug Store building at Gail. — WACIL McNAIR

THOUSANDS OF ARABS VOTING

Election Day In Israel

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

JERUSALEM (AP) — A surprisingly large number of Arabs from Old Jerusalem voted for candidates for municipal office today as balloting got under way in Israel's general election.

Thousands of Arabs from the former Jordanian sector, eligible only to vote in the municipal election, crossed into the Jewish sector of the Holy City and lined up at the polls.

Arab informants said that many of the city's 34,000 Arabs were afraid that if they did not vote, they might be denied some of the privileges they now have under Israeli rule. These include permission to travel to and from Jordan, to sign up with Israeli labor exchanges and to work in Israel proper.

The Israelis denied that any privileges would be jeopardized by not voting.

Amid clear skies and the heaviest election day security in the nation's 21-year history, voting in the general election got off to a slow start in most places.

Premier Golda Meir's Labor coalition appeared to be a certain winner in the race for parliamentary seats, continuing the Laborites' perennial control of the government.

All forecasts gave the government at least a plurality in the 120-seat Knesset. The coalition held 65 seats in the last parliament. The biggest opposition, the right-wing Gahal party, hoped to add four seats to the 26 it won in the 1965 elections.

Police assigned all available men to guard the 3,335 polling stations against Arab terrorist attacks. The public was told "to report anything in the slightest way suspicious." Civil defense guards checked the handbags of women voters.

Voters along the borders came alone or in small groups so as not to attract Arab gunners. In border settlements, ballot boxes were bulletproof and fireproof. Arabs in the occupied territories were barred from entering Israel proper during the 16 hours voting.

Soldiers along the Suez Canal and the Jordan Valley, the scenes of most Arab-Israeli action, voted a day early.

All major parties were united in defiance toward the Arabs and the world. They pledged never to move from the occupied Arab lands without a real peace. The lack of issues and the constant attacks along the borders produced a lethargic election campaign. Election propaganda focused on getting the 1.75 million voters to the polls, taking the line that the Arabs would interpret indifference as lack of confidence in the Jewish state.

The Gahal bloc, Israel's traditional opposition, advocates annexation of the occupied territories and more free enterprise in the Socialist-oriented economy.

Mrs. Meir's Labor coalition, has grown considerably since the 1965 election. Its nucleus is the Mapai party which has dominated Israeli politics since the state was formed in 1948, and it now includes Deputy Premier Yigal Allon's Achdul Ha'avodah party, Moshe Dayan's Rafi party and the Marxist Mapam party. But elder statesman David Ben-Gurion, one of the Mapai's founders and Israeli's long-time premier, is leading an independent, more rightist Socialist faction this time.

As the voting went on the Israeli military command reported that Israeli jets hit Egyptian positions across the Gulf of Suez and Arab guerrillas in Jordan southeast of the Sea of Galilee. It said all planes returned safely.

Cold Front Brings Rains To Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several South Texas streams ran bankfull or overflowed into lowlands today as a result of rains topping 6 inches in a place or two.

Near-freezing weather chilled parts of the Panhandle-Plains country in West Texas, meanwhile, on the heels of a cold front which was still setting off scattered rain or drizzle in many areas of the state.

Occasional rain was expected to continue across the northern half of the state along with a little warming by Wednesday, while a little further cooling and chances for showers were in prospect for the southern half.

More than 6 inches of rain near Uvalde and as much as 5 inches along the Frio River above Derby was reported by the Weather Bureau.

Winds hitting 68 miles per hour whipped 2 to 4 inches of rain through Laredo on the Mexican border, filling some streets with water. The storm damaged a hat factory and knocked down many signs. Firemen took a woman off the top of her car as a muddy torrent rose as high as the windows.

High water blocked Texas 55 northwest of Uvalde for a time. Official forecasters warned that minor flooding would occur along the Frio River the next few days and the Nueces River would be expected to run bankfull into next week—possibly longer if more rain fell.

For several hours Monday evening a severe thunderstorm warning was up for residents of Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

By early today the cold front stirring up all the turbulence had pushed southward to stretch from near Brownsville across the north part of the Gulf of Mexico.

Dallas Bank Robbed Today.

DALLAS (AP) — A bank robber struck again in Dallas today's attempted holdup bringing the total in this city to six since Sept. 22. The pace remained at one a week. But today's attempt was a flop.

Latest robbery attempt was at the Bank of Dallas on the outskirts of the business district.

It was another in the epidemic of drive-in robberies or attempts breaking out particularly in Dallas and Houston.

Drilling Venture Is Successful

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deep sea drilling venture hailed as "one of the most successful scientific expeditions of all time" has turned up evidence of oil deposits in the depths of the Gulf of Mexico.

And the government is so pleased with the project it is extending it for another three years at a cost of $22.2 million.

The National Science Foundation, announcing the extension today, said the Deep Sea Drilling Project—DSDP—in less than a year has produced information "of such significance as to mark it as one of the most successful scientific expeditions of all time."

In addition to a possible deep sea oil bonanza, the venture has turned up new evidence to support the "continental draft" theory that the world's continents once were joined but drifted apart and still are doing so.

It also found evidence the sea floors are spreading outward from thermally active ridges on the ocean bottom at the rate of more than an inch a year.

The National Science Foundation said discovery of what appears to be oil and gas deposits associated with salt domes on the floor of the Gulf of Mexico could have "profound impact" on future technical developments for exploration and exploitation of deep-sea petroleum resources.

The DSPD project, centered around use of a unique, oceanographic research ship called the "Glomar Challenger," is managed for the foundation by the Scripps Institution of Oceanography of the University of California.

Israel Continues Aerial Strikes

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel warplanes attacked Egypt for the second time today, hitting artillery and military positions on the southern end of the Suez Canal, the military command announced.

The aerial strike, at 4 p.m., followed intermittent fighting that began nine hours earlier when the Egyptians began hurling artillery and mortar shells at the Israelis on the southern sector of the canal, the military said.

Rail Safety Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad industry, under attack for an accident rate which has almost doubled in eight years, is expected to reluctantly endorse the Nixon administration's train safety bill.

The industry, labor unions and the administration, including Transportation Secretary John Volpe, were called to testify on rail safety during hearings starting today by a Senate Commerce subcommittee.

The industry's endorsement, however reluctant, would mark an abrupt turnabout from last spring when rail spokesmen insisted the industry should continue as it has for the past century, to police its own safety.

However, some industry critics see the move as an attempt to halt momentum behind two other bills, which take a tougher approach than the administration measure.

All three measures would require the secretary of transportation to establish minimum safety standards for all phases of railroad operations.

But the other bills, introduced by Sens. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., impose, among other things, stiffer penalties and enforcement tools.

Federal regulatory authority currently extends only to locomotives, power brakes, signals, hours of service of employes and some safety appliances such as ladders and handrails on boxcars.

While the federal government can prescribe how a dangerous commodity shall be packaged for rail shipment, it cannot inspect the wheels or undercarriage of the car in which it is to be moved, or the rails and track over which it is to pass.

And while greater amounts of dangerous commodities—including Vietnam-bound ammunition, volatile industrial chemicals and, until recently, surplus Army war gas, move over the nation's railroads, more and more trains are jumping tracks with potentially disasterous consequences.

Part of the blame must be laid to decades-old rolling stock and rails forged at the turn of the century. In addition, labor unions charge the railroads with poor maintenance and failure to heed even existing safety laws.

Allowing the industry to police itself—unlike such comparable industries as airlines and interstate truck lines—has produced questionable results.

Train accidents, two-thirds of which are derailments caused by factors not covered by existing safety laws, are up from 4,148 in 1961 to 8,028 in 1968—"a significant increase by any yardstick," according to the task force.

Texas Bases To Feel Military Cut

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Texas will lose more than $44 million in annual payrolls under the Defense Department's announced military cutbacks—with nearly half the slash planned for San Antonio—a newspaper reports.

The San Antonio Express quoted congressional sources in Washington as saying military installations across the state will lose $44,852,042 in annual payrolls.

A total of $20,954,000 in annual pay will be slashed from the one Army and four Air Force installations in this military town, the Express said.

The paper said it had learned no local or Texas military facilities will be shut down.

The loss here represents 46.7 per cent of the state's military annual reduction figure of $44,852,042, the newspaper said.

Sources in congress were quoted as saying the San Antonio cut involves the loss of 1,388 local military positions and 505 civilian jobs.

The $20 million-plus is a 3.4 per cent cutback in annual payrolls here, the paper said, based on the total payroll figure of $611,835,439 at local bases for the past fiscal year.

All Air Force reductions are to be completed by Dec. 31, the paper said, while the Army cutbacks will be finished no later than next June 30. Navy reductions will be completed by next Nov. 30, the Express said.

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird said Monday that 307 military bases at home and abroad will be closed or reduced.

Spokesmen for local bases said they had received no word of a cutback.

Space Laboratory Director Resigns

By PAUL RECER
AP AEROSPACE WRITER

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP — The man who directed the first study of moon rock at the Lunar Receiving Laboratory said Monday he was resigning from the space agency after learning an engineer was to take his job.

Dr. Persa R. Bell, director of America's moon laboratory and a recent critic of the space agency's lunar science plans, said among his reasons for leaving was "the whole spectrum of difficulties" he faced in dealing with the space agency engineers.

"They feel they should have firm operational control of the laboratory said Dr. Bell. "It's time for the guys who organized it to move on."

Dr. Bell, who said he has worked for the space agency for two years, said he would leave in mid-January to return to the Oak Ridge, Tenn. National Laboratory to do the nuclear studies. He worked in Oak Ridge before joining the space agency.

The scientist, who is a physicist, attacked the National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans for exploration of the moon in interviews last month.

He said then that NASA's plan was detrimental to sound scientific research and that some scientists who worked with the Apollo 11 moon rocks probably wouldn't be back because of NASA red tape and lack of facilities.

Dr. Bell said the moon laboratory personnel were overworked, understaffed and had insufficient office support. He said then that there were no prospects or improvement.

The decision to resign, he said was his alone. Dr. Bell noted, however, that he made his decision after learning he was to become an assistant to Anthony J. Callio, who last week was named director of science and applications at the Manned Spacecraft Center. An engineer, Bryan Erb, was to take over the laboratory.

Several other scientists have been critical of the NASA moon exporation program, claiming it was "engineer oriented" and that scientific returns have been hurt by this attitude.

Prominent space engineers, however, have said that all the scientific studies possible are being incorporated in later moon landings and that some science demands cannot be met safely.

Warning To Be Put On Drugs

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican authorities have tagged barbiturates, amphetamines and similar stmulant drugs 'by medical prescription only" in action taken Monday.

The Health and Social Welfare Ministry said Monday the drugs, which up until now could be bought at request at Mexico drug counters, will carry this warning:

"This product can cause addiction and its abuse can cause mental disorders. It is considered dangerous and will be delivered only upon presentation of medical prescription."

Students often use the stimulants to help increase their "learning power", Dr. Guillermo Posada, director of the Beverages, Food and Medicine Control Department of the Health Ministry said.

"The time has come to take restrictive measures to prevent the unnecessary use of stimulants," he said.

"Youths should know that stimulants do not produce a larger intellectual capacity and they cannot make a genius out of an ordinary person.

"They only provoke a temporary mental alertness, but as time goes by the dose required becomes larger and eventually the individual sees his mental capacities deteriorate."

Man Injured In Oilfield Mishap

Edward Ledbetter, 24, of Abilene sustained a fractured arm in an accident on a drilling rig about 45 miles north of Snyder in Kent County about 8 o'clock last night.

He was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder Ambulance Service and later transferred to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. Witnesses said Ledbetter, an employe of Sojourner Drilling Company of Abilene, was struck by a chain tong on the rig.

Mine Safety Bill Up For Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a mine safety bill say its passage by the House would be a memorial to the more than 170 miners killed in "daily, undramatic accidents" during the past year.

The measure, up for a vote today, was said to be the toughest mine safety bill ever before Congress.

During Monday's debate a number of House members recalled the Nov. 20, 1968 explosion in Consolidation Coal Company's No. 9 mine near Farmington, W.Va., which entombed 78 miners.

History Of Halloween

In all things traditional, there is more than meets the eye. Take, for example, Halloween.

It all began more than 2,500 years ago among the Celts of ancient France, Ireland, and England. The voice of the Establishment in those dim and distant days were the powerful Druid priests who for centuries practiced their mysterious rites in the caves and forests of prehistoric Gaul and Britain.

The Druids held as sacred the hours of midnight and noon, the oak tree, and the mistletoe. They believed that on Halloween, ghosts, fairies, witches, and elves came out to harm people.

Cats, they taught, were sacred. They had once been human beings, but were changed to feline form as a punishment for evil deeds.

For generations, these beliefs persisted. The Druids instructed the people, administered justice, and forecast events by interpreting the flight of birds and the markings on the liver and other entrails of sacrificed animals.

There came a time, of course, when protest groups demanded change. Druidic teachings, they proclaimed, were more than murky. They were downright stifling. There ensued over the years a prolonged fight between priests and protestors. At last the battle ended, and with it the cult's long domination.

Who were the victorious rebels? The early Christians. And what became of Halloween?

The challenge confronting the early church was how to defang the dreaded day without discarding it — how to inspire new followers without creating insults and alienation. With their characteristic genius for supplanting pagan fears and superstition, Christian leaders in the year 700 redefined the day as Allhallows' Eve, or "eve of all the holy ones' day," since it fell before All Saints' Day — an important date on both the present and the medieval Christian calendar.

It was a masterful stroke. Cats and witches, ghosts and elves lived on — but only for amusement. Faith had replaced foreboding.

So, if you are at a loss for an original Halloween costume this October 31, remember the fearful Druids whose hats were peaked and whose robes were long and flowing.

Meanwhile, why not dress up the house with fresh flowers? If history is our guide, this is a time for celebration. Brown, yellow, and dark red blossoms make perfect autumn and Halloween bouquets. The rustic look of natural straw flowers and dark yellow yarrow, combined with red celosia and brown lotus pods reflect the mood of fields where Halloween elves abide.

If, on Halloween night, you see a strange black cat outside, rejoice! A cat is a cat. But were it not for Christianity, you might identify the innocent creature as your long - deceased great Uncle Elmer coming back to spook the neighbors.

Fresh Food Ideas Banish Daily Menu Monotony

The routine of day-in-and-day-out cooking can put meals in a monotonous rut. For an appetite-arousing lift, try fresh food combinations, imaginative service. To add new appeal to an old favorite, change its shape, mate it with a different food partner, serve with a complimentary sauce or give it an unusual garnish.

For a tasty example, try slices of smoked pork shoulder roll stacked with pineapple and seasoned sweet potatoes.

Smoked Shoulder Roll Stacks

8 slices smoked pork shoulder roll, cut ½ inch thick
1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) sweet potatoes, drained
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (15¼ ounces) sliced pineapple, drained
8 marshmallows

Place shoulder roll slices in a 1½ to 2-quart shallow baking dish. Mash sweet potatoes with salt, pepper, brown sugar and butter or margarine. Place one slice of pineapple on each slice of meat. Top pineapple with 3 to 4 tablespoons mashed sweet potatoes. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Remove from oven and top each with a marshmallow. Return to oven and continue baking 15 minutes. 4 to 6 servings.

Banana Cream Pie

1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
2-3 cup sugar
¼ cup corn starch
½ teaspoon salt
2½ cups milk
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 bananas

Mix sugar, corn starch and salt in double boiler top. Gradually, stir in milk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cover; cook 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Do not remove from boiling water. Stir a little hot mixture into egg yolks, then stir all into remaining hot mixture over boiling water. Cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove small amount of filling into baked shell. Slice bananas over layer. Cover with remaining filling. Garnish with whipped topping and banana slices.

Youngsters' lunch - box surprise: Use your bridge - club cookie cutters to shape sandwiches into hearts, diamonds, clubs or spades. Cut out each slice of bread separately, then put together with filling.

Economists Are Too Busy For Football Spectatorship

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the time of year when everyone but economists lose their weekends to football spectatorship, awakening on Monday morning to a horrible accounting of vanished time and chores undone.

And why not the economists? Perhaps their human tendencies are to relax into the same stupendous stupor as others. But they can't; they're too busy peering into the future; they lose their fall weekends to the following year.

From now until December and even after that, there will emanate from the offices of academic, private, industrial and government economists a series of projections of things to come—not just for next year, but for the entire 1970s.

Early returns show almost unqualified optimism about a bigger America during the decade of the 70s. Optimism, of course, has almost always been the rule; back in 1929, for instance, most economists looked forward to the thrilling 30s.

Reservations are being expressed about the quality of life, for economists as well as others are acutely aware of the need for solving the problems of the cities and relieving social tensions.

Because of this, many economists believe that government involvement will grow during the decade of the 1970s—in transportation, medicine, urban renewal, education, pollution control.

In quantity, however, there appears little doubt about a bigger America, one of the chief reasons being the fact that, despite all its accomplishments over the past 200 years, the United States is still very young.

This youthful population, the productivity of American workers and the feeling that depressions are a thing of the past are among the most frequently cited as reasons for believing the 70s will be affluent.

The vigor of youth is already evident in a thousand ways, but economists aren't all convinced that the spirit will be translated into production, which is the basis of America's past financial comfort.

Reading between the lines of projections made to date, a fear exists that despite youth's knowledge and commitment to social change, the same fervor might not apply to production goals: This, they fear, could be critical.

If any doubt exists about the past effectiveness of the American worker, or the power of the American production machinery, it is eliminated when U.S. output is compared with that in other nations.

A couple of years ago the Chamber of Commerce produced a chart that showed that with one hour's pay the American factory worker could buy more of almost anything than his counterpart in other natins.

Although there is some doubt about the economy's ability to maintain this productivity during the 1970s, there seems to be little doubt among economists about the ability of a prudent government to forestall a major depression.

Lake Still Best Site For Chicago's Airport Project

By BLAINE E. ROWLEE
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly two years ago engineers said it was feasible to build a four-mile circular airport on the bottom of Lake Michigan.

More than a year ago, an official committee said that was where Chicago's badly needed third major airport should be built.

Since then the project, still on paper, has become one-third larger in size, has doubled in estimated cost, has backed farther into the future and yet seems to have become more certain of fulfillment.

Although two land sites about 25 miles southwest of the city's central business district ostensibly still are under consideration, a chief planner leaves no doubt that in his view practical and political considerations dictate the choice of a five-mile-wide hole in the lake.

Here is what is envisioned:

—An 11,000-acre area centered 8½ miles off 31st Street on Chicago's South Side would be enclosed by a dike.

—The dike, 1,500 feet wide at the lake bottom and 50 feet wide at the top, would rise 24 feet above the surface of water 35 to 55 feet deep.

—The enclosed area would be pumped dry.

—A 3,000-foot sand-and-stone causeway, five miles of bridge and a 2,200-foot tunnel under the dike would carry rapid transit lines and an extension of the Stevenson Expressway to the airport.

In 1967, Harza Engineering Co., designer of dikes and dams in many lands, said a lake site four miles in diameter could be cleared and prepared for development in four years at a cost of $247 million to $248 million.

That would have been well ahead of an intolerable traffic overload that aviation experts predict for O'Hare International Airport some 15 miles northwest of downtown Chicago, by the middle '70s.

Today, with another Federal Aviation Administration study of the enlarged project still in progress, with financing far from resolved, and amid mouting paperwork and red tape, John B.W. Corey, deputy public works commissioner, says the 1975 target date for completion "seems to be drifting away."

Yet Corey says there will be a third airport and that considerations of benefits to the city in addition to most other factors make the development of an airpor in the lake inevitable.

One important factor is noise. "With approaches to the airport over water," Corey says, "we'd have the noise problem completely solved."

Residents of the area surrounding O'Hare have complained constantly and vociferously about the ear-splitting roar of jetliners. The federal government has financed a study to see what can be done about it.

Employment resulting from the construction of the airport was another consideration in the recommendation of the lake site.

Studies indicate, Corey says, that in addition to some 25,000 jobs on the airport, the lake site would develop more than 17,000 jobs in the adjacent South Side area—"right where we have the greatest need."

A year ago Milton Pikarsky, public works commissioner, and Corey collaborated on an interim report that estimated the cost of the enlarged lake site at $413 million to $423 million. Today, Corey says it's impossible to gauge the burgeoning effects of inflation but intimates the outlay would top $500 million.

There is no chance that the city, which for lack of $29 million may have to renege on promised $100 monthly salary increases for public school teachers, can finance the lake airport out of normal tax revenues.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCUBA DIVING

QUESTION: What does the word scuba in scuba diving refer to?

* * *

ANSWER: Apart from holding one's breath or using large equipment like subs or diving bells, there are two main ways divers go below the surface. One is through using a deep sea diving suit (2) with a metal helmet, inflatable diving dress, heavy shoes and weights around the waist. A hose brings air from above and the diver usually has a telephone connection and a rope by which he can be hauled up. Much diving is done with such a rig but it is heavy. Another kind of diving has become very popular; it is called skin diving because it does not require that the body be entirely enclosed. The simplest form is shown in (1). A snorkel consists of a face mask fitting tightly, with a breathing tube. One end of this is held in the diver's mouth; the other is about 6 inches above the surface. It's great fun to snorkel along with one's head underwater. But the serious diver wants to be free to carry his own air much further below. He slips on an apparatus which contains tanks of compressed air. Then, using special swim flippers on his feet, he becomes as free as a fish to explore underwater as long as his air holds out. This is scuba diving. "Scuba" comes from the first letters of the five words in Self-Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus.

Remarks Teenagers Tire Of

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that teen-agers get tired of hearing:

"When I was your age, I—."

"Frankly, I'm not worried about closing the generation gap—I'd just as soon widen it."

"I'll treat you like a grown-up, Susie Jane, when you start acting like a grown-up."

"No daughter of mine is going to school in a miniskirt that short. Why, you couldn't get by with that outfit in a night club chorus line."

"Aren't you really a bit ashamed, Christopher, to hit me up for $6 to buy a basketball ticket? Why, when I was in high school that's more than I spent on entertainment in a whole month."

"If you teen-agers are so set on being different, why is it that you all dress and act so much alike it's hard to tell you apart?"

"When I was your age, I—."

"I'm tired of hearing you two argue whose turn it is to take out the garbage. Both of you take it out."

"Why, no, Christopher I don't see any objection to your having a car of your own on your 17th birthday. What are your plans for earning the money to buy one?"

"Don't ask me—ask your father."

"Don't ask me—ask your mother."

"Don't do as I do. Do as I tell you."

"When I was your age, I—."

"That's enough lip out of you, young lady. If you think you're too big to spank, you're greatly mistaken."

"Just tell me one thing, Christopher. How can you possibly study your English lesson lying upside down in a chair with your feet in the air and the light shining on the back of the book instead of on the pages?"

"You know the rules as well as I do—no television on school nights. I know there's a good movie on, Susie Jane, but I'll watch it while you go do your homework, and I'll tell you tomorrow how it came out."

"No, this one is my daughter, Susie Jane. That one over there with the long hair is my son, Christopher."

"Why do you even want to be out after midnight? What happens after midnight that is so interesting?"

"When I was your age, I—."

Driving Change Due In Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerian motorists will begin driving on the right side of the road in April of 1972, the government announced. Nigeria was colonied by Britain and adopted its custom of driving on the left, but it is surrounded by four former French colonies in which vehicles drive on the right.

Volunteers Push Past Porkers, 'Horns 2nd

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's little reason to suspect that powerful Ohio State will have a tough time with the Wildcats this Saturday but Tennessee is likely to have its hands full with the Bulldogs.

The top-ranked Buckeyes, while rolling up a 5-0 record, have scored 232 points and given up 42. Their opponents, the Northwestern Wildcats, have scored 73 points and yielded 177 in posting a 3-4 mark.

The match between third-ranked Tennessee and Georgia's Bulldogs, No. 11, seems to be the most attractive on this weekend's schedule. The Vols are 5-0 and have piled up 198 scoring points to 57 for the opposition. Georgia, 5-1, has scored 193 points with 49 against.

Second-ranked Texas takes on Southern Methodist, Arkansas, No. 4, plays Texas A&M and Penn State, No. 5, meets Boston College.

Penn State and Florida gained the most ground among the Top Ten teams in the latest Associated Press major college football poll. Both zoomed three places, the Nittany Lions to fifth and Florida to seventh.

Ohio State held its solid lead by drawing 35 first-place votes and 772 points in the balloting by a national panel of 39 sports writers and broadcasters. The next three teams, Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas, maintained the same order as last week.

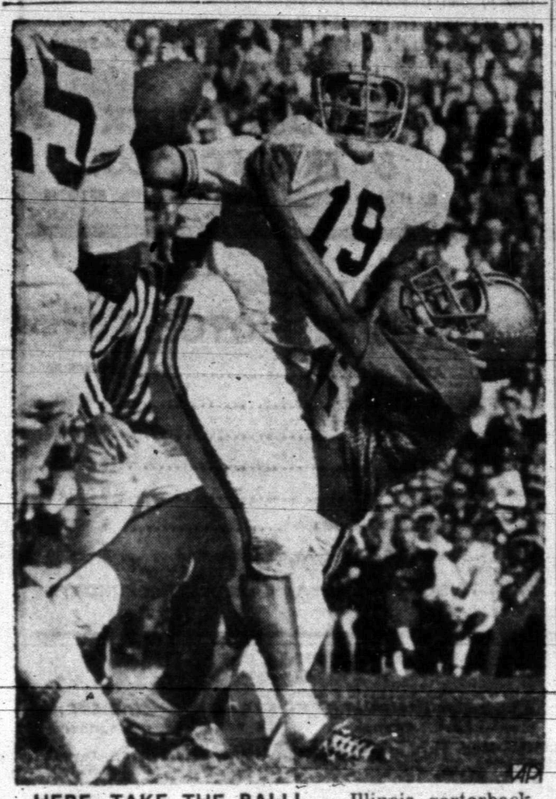

Southern California advanced from seventh to sixth while Louisiana State also moved up one place, from ninth to eighth. UCLA, held to a tie by Stanford, tumbled three places to ninth. Notre Dame, a 37-0 winner over Tulane, is the only new team in the first 10. The Irish climbed from the No. 12 position. Missouri, fifth a week ago, tumbled to 14th after losing to Colorado.

Colorado and Michigan advanced to the Second Ten, replacing Oklahoma and Mississippi. Colorado took over 18th place and the Wolverines, 20th after defeating Minnesota for the Little Brown Jug. Oklahoma was beaten by Kansas State and Mississippi lost to Houston.

The remainder of this Saturday's schedule involving Top Ten teams: Southern Cal-California, Florida-Auburn, LSU-Mississippi, UCLA-Washington and Notre Dame-Navy.

The Top 20 with first place votes in parentheses, season records and points for the first 15 picks on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-etc. basis:

1.	Ohio State (35)	772
2.	Texas (2)	692
3.	Tennessee (1)	570
4.	Arkansas	547
5.	Penn State (1)	453
6.	Southern California	396
7.	Florida	353
8.	Louisian State	344
9.	UCLA	292
10.	Notre Dame	174
11.	Georgia	164
12.	Kansas State	146
13.	Purdue	104
14.	Missouri	91
15.	Wyoming	67
16.	Stanford	60
17.	Auburn	37
18.	Colorado	17
19.	Air Force	14
20.	Michigan	13

HERE, TAKE THE BALL! — Illinois qarterback Stephen Livas (19) struggles desperately to get rid of the ball as an Ohio State tackler pulls him to the ground in the fourth quarter of their Big Ten game in Columbus, Ohio. Livas flipped to teammate David Jackson, left, but there was a fumble on the play and Ohio recovered. Ohio State won, 42-0, to remain undefeated. (AP Wirephoto)

'Cats Play With Purple Passion

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash:

Kansas State played its first game of football back in 1887 and the school paper reported it this way:

"Some 30 students indulged in a game of football on Friday afternoon. It is to be hoped that our students have the good sense to play even football without violence."

The wish came true. Kansas State's non-violent teams posted only 22 winning seasons, the last in 1954. But things have changed.

Vince Gibson arrived as head coach in 1967 and the Wildcats promptly beat Colorado State in their opener but then slipped to a 1-9 season. Last year the record was 4-6 and it's now 5-1 following Saturday's 59-21 rout of Oklahoma. K-State even is in the nation's Top Twenty teams.

"To say that there was a losing attitude when I arrived here is an understatement," said Gibson. "That attitude isn't completely wiped out, but it's gotten better."

One of the reasons is what Gibson calls "purple pride." Purple is Kansas State's color; pride is Gibson's color. A record crowd of 38,500 turned out for the Oklahoma game—K-State hadn't beaten the Sooners since 1934—and Gibson describes it as "a sea of purple."

Gibson, you see, is a pusher . . . a purple pusher. He's got a purple telephone, a Purple Pride television show, wears purple underwear and purple shirts and is constantly being flooded with gimmicks from his fans—all purple, naturally.

"On Saturday, a lady gave me two purple coat hangers," he said. "But the wildest was a little radio in the form of a purple toilet."

The list of major teams with perfect records dropped to 10 Saturday when UCLA played a tie and Davison, Miami of Ohio and Missouri lost. Unbeaten, untied teams are Arkansas, Dartmouth, Florida, Louisiana State, Ohio State, Penn State, Texas, Toledo and Wyoming. Southern California is unbeaten but tied.

The only winless teams are Baylor, Columbia, Illinois, Marshall, Minnesota, VMI, Washington and Xavier of Ohio. East Carolina, Navy, Tulsa and Virginia Tech joined the ranks of winners last weekend.

It didn't get much notice, but two members of the Air Force coaching staff were killed Saturday night when their jet trainer overshot the runway at the Academy and crashed.

They were Capt. Marty Bezyack, a graduate of Utah and head junior varsity coach, and Maj. Don Usry, who was the tight end at Army when Bill Carpenter was the heralded Lonely End. Usry was on the faculty at the Air Force Academy and helped coach the freshmen. He'll be buried Thursday at West Point . . Where the Air Force plays on Saturday.

Pass rush, translated these days, means Kings Point. The Mariners of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy have nailed the opposing quarterback for losses an amazing 56 times in six games, with defensive end Harvey Adams accounting for 22 of them.

Mustangs Can Move

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Methodist's statistical darlings, Chuck Hixson and Gary Hammond, have been joined by teammate Daryl Doggett in a concentrated Mustang effort to command every statistical category kept by the Southwest Conference.

Doggett succeeded Arkansas' Bill Burnett as the league's leading rusher with 465 yards in 104 carries for four touchdowns. Burnett, the season-long leading rusher, dropped to second with 441 yards in 105 carries.

Hammond continued to lead in receiving, tandem offense and kickoff returns. The slippery sophomore has snagged 36 passes for 601 yards and two touchdowns, has returned 18 kickoffs 411 yards and in tandem offense (rushing and receiving), he has handled the ball 52 times for 677 yards.

Hixson, as has been the case for 1½ seasons, leads in passing and total offese. He has completed 31 of 217 passes for 1,499 yards and seven touchdowns and his total offense is 270 plays for 1,383 yards.

Poke Defense Kills Giants

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A dejected Fran Tarkenton sat on a bench in the New York Giants dressing room and talked like a man who had been with Custer at his last stand.

"They just kept coming," said the Giants' quarterback of the Dallas Cowboy defense, which dumped him 10 times for losses totaling 70 yards in a 25-3 National Football League victory Monday night.

"The understatement of the year would be that Dallas just has a pretty good defense," said Tarkenton. "It's the best defense I've ever seen them play."

Tarkenton suffered the indignity of being tackled in his own end zone for a safety by George Andrie, fumbled once, threw an interception and was even tagged with a 15-yard penalty for intentionally grounding the ball.

New York could manage but eight first downs and couldn't cross midfield in the second half, when the lethargic Cowboys erupted for 19 points in the final quarter of their nationally televised game in the Cotton Bowl.

Mike Clark kicked field goals of 47, 35, and 15 yards before the bumbling Dallas offense found itself. Blessed with excellent field position every time it looked up, the offense woke up on quarterback Craig Morton's 16-yard touchdown pass to Lance Rentzel and halfback Calvin Hill's 40-yard scoring shot to Bob Hayes.

The victory gave the undefeated Cowboys a 6-0 record in the Capitol Division and sank the scrappy Giants to a 3-3 mark in the Century Division.

Alex Webster, Giants coach, said, 'We knew they had a machine, but not like that. I'm damn proud of my team. You can't take anything away from the Giants. You don't find defensive clubs like the Cowboys. They don't come any better."

Giants defensive back Willie Williams said, "Our defense played 75 or 80 per cent of the time within our own 50. Considering Dallas is the top offensive team in the league, I'd say our defense did an outstanding job."

New York's defense did handle Morton, the Dallas signal caller who went into the game rated the No. 1 passer in the NFL with a 70 per cent completion mark and no interceptions.

Morton could hit but 11 of 26 for 127 yards and saw two tosses intercepted.

Morton said, "They were the best defensive club we've faced so far this season."

But Andrie, Larry Cole, Jethro Pugh and Bob Lilly, the flint-hard front four of the Cowboy doomsday defense couldn't be controlled.

"Tarkenton is somewhat short, so he has to move out of the pocket in order to spot his receivers," Cole said. "we just kept going in with our hands up and he couldn't see over us. It was a lot of fun getting to him when we did."

And Dallas coach Tom Landry admitted he wasn't overly concerned even though the score was tied 3-3 at halftime.

Landry said, "As long as we were playing good defense I felt we would break it open sooner or later."

With Lilly and Pugh weighing 260 pounds each, Cole 255 and Andrie 250, the 190-pound Tarkenton had 1,025 pounds of muscle atop him all night long.

It's no wonder the New York offense came unglued.

Boosters To Meet Tonight

"Let's all get behind the team for their crucial contest at Slaton Friday," said Eugene Glasscock, president of the Tiger Booster Club, who urged all members to attend the regular weekly meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria.

He reminded football fans the SHS team will be meeting the Slaton Tigers, for undisputed leadership in the Zone II race. Both teams are unbeaten in Zone II play with 2-0 records. Kickoff is set for 7:30 Friday at Slaton.

Coach Wayne Tyrone will monitor a film of last week's 55-0 triumph over Littlefield and give a scouting report on Slaton. Various coaches in the school system will give reports on their teams.

Boomers Bomb Tech Frosh 50-12

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma gave up an early touchdown and then roared back with five of their own before giving up a second as the Boomers defeated Texas Tech 50-12 in a freshman football game Monday night.

The Boomers completely dominated the game, picking up 384 yards on the ground to Tech's 138 and adding 171 through the air to Tech's 215.

Coast-to-Coast NEWSPAPERS SELL THE MOST!

Classified Ad Dept. Phone 573-5486

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would print this so other housewives won't get stuck the way I did.

It began with a telephone call from a lady who said, "Congratulations! You have just won a free carpet cleaning! Don't move any furniture, our MEN will do everything. We will be out at 6:30 this evening to clean your carpet like new — with absolutely no cost or obligation to you."

Well, at 6:30 ONE man came with a vacuum cleaner and a shampoo attachment. He talked to me for two solid hours trying to sell me the vacuum cleaner. I told him I couldn't afford to buy anything, and meanwhile he didn't make one move to clean my carpet. I was home alone, and kept telling him I wasn't in the market to BUY anything, but he kept right on talking and trying to sell this thing. Abby, I finally got rid of him at ELEVEN o'clock, and I didn't get my carpet cleaned.

I was so nervous and angry by the time he left I could have screamed. Have you any suggestion besides a seven-foot watchdog and an unlisted telephone number to prevent such practices?

CAL. HOUSEWIFE

DEAR HOUSEWIFE: If anyone calls you to "congratulate" you on having "won" something, say thank you but I don't want anything for nothing. And don't let anyone in your home without first checking them out with the BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I love my husband and always will. He is an outstandingly handsome and charming man — the kind who could never belong to only one woman. I knew this when I married him 20 years ago.

Here is my problem: My neighbor tells me that my husband steps out. (I already knew that.) I have always considered myself an intelligent woman, but this neighbor says I am crazy — that my husband is making a "damned fool" out of me. Well, I know that he really loves me and he is not "in love" with any of these women whom he uses occasionally, so he is making "damned fools" out of THEM — not ME.

He has never asked me for a divorce, and he's never neglected me. He is an excellent provider, a wonderful father and I get as much loving from him as I want, so my question is, "WHO, in your opinion, is the "damned fool."

SATISFIED

DEAR SATISFIED: Your neighbor.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I'm too embarrassed to ask for a personal reply, but there must be other women who share my problem. Can you possibly answer in your column?

I have been a widow for over 10 years. I don't want another husband, but there are times when I feel that I would like the intimacies of marriage. (Know what I mean?) Is there some medicine I can take to quell such desires? If it's a prescription, forget it. I could never tell my doctor. (And for heaven's sake, DON'T use my name or town.) Sign me...

TOO OLD

DEAR TOO OLD: (Which is a misnomer if I ever saw one.) My medical authorities can recommend no "medicine" to solve your problem. No way of life has everything. Perhaps you should consider another husband.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: The bearded look which has caused such a furor in America lately came originally from England where I was born. When I was a small child, around 1909, I heard an elder statesman say that clean-shaven men looked like chamberpots!

And speaking of the dance: My grandmother told me that when the waltz swept the country the hue and cry was, "Oh, those nasty people, clinging close to one another while they dance!" Now the hue and cry is "What kind of dance is it when the partners don't even touch each other?"

I'm glad I'm on the way out. Things are getting monotonous.

OLGA

* * *

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local Mason Is Honored

G. W. Ferguson of Snyder has received notice from the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, meeting in Executive Session in Waco, of his election to the Rank and Decoration of Knight Commander of the Court of Honour.

"The Rank and Decoration is limited to outstanding 32nd degree Scottish Rite Masons who have a continuous history of loyalty and devotion to the Rite and who are active in community and civic affairs," declared Jack Craft, secretary of the Scurry County Scottish Rite Association.

Ferguson, a Snyder businessman and president of the local Association, was recommended and nominated by the Honorable Lee Lockwood, Soverign Grand Inspector General of the State of Texas.

The Supreme Council unanimously elected Ferguson for the honor, and the ceremonial investiture will be performed in El Paso on Oct. 31.

Drive For CROP Here Nets $530

Scurry County's CROP Drive reported a total of $530 collected in Sunday's campaign. More than 60 young people and 15 adult sponsors representing churches in Snyder, Union, and Ira canvassed their communities for CROP, the community hunger appeal of Church World Service. Churches in Fluvanna will conduct their campaign this Saturday evening beginning at 7 p.m.

Individuals who were not contacted, but desire to make a contribution may contact Rev. Robert McArthur at the First Christian Church or Dr. John English at First United Methodist Church in Snyder. Persons having CROP envelopes may mail their contribution directly to CROP.

During 1968 CROP shipped nearly 7 million pounds of food and self-help materials valued at more than 2 million dollars to people in 33 foreign countries. Of these totals, community campaigns such as that in Scurry County provided more than one-half of those amounts.

Explosion Hits Odessa Plant

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — An explosion and fire Sunday at a research building outside the main Ector Products Co. plant near Odessa left one man dead and two others in serious condition at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa.

Robert C. Hagman, 32, of Odessa died about noon Monday. Wayman A. Percifull, 23, and Arthur R. Johnson, 29, were in serious condition with second and third degree burns. The three, all technicians at the plant, were burned over 60 per cent of their bodies.

A company spokesman said the explosion was caused by a gas leak in the 4,000-square foot, two-story building.

The spokesman said the gas had accumulated in the upper part of the building but they wouldn't know how it ignited until a team of insurance investigators had completed their work.

The plant, used for construction of scale model factories, is in the heart of Odessa's petrochemical complex, the largest of its kind in the world.

Aga Khan IV Weds Today

By HARVEY HUDSON
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The Aga Khan IV, the handsome and wealthy young spiritual leader of the world's Ismaili Moslems, was married today to a British society divorcee in an Oriental ceremony that included a shower of pearls at their feet and garlands of flowers around the neck.

It was the second ceremony for 32-year-old Prince Karim and Lady Sarah Crichton-Stuart, 29. Last week they went through the civil ceremony required by French law.

Si Hamza Boubaker, rector of the Moslem Institute in Paris, preformed the religious rites at the groom's home on the Ile de la Cite, close to Notre Dame Cathedral.

The bride, born in India of English parents, wore a white and silver sari of Benares silk. The bridegroom, a direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed, by way of the late Aiy Khan and an English mother, wore a white sharkskin sherwani with knee-length coat, an Iranian formal outfit, and a tall astrakhan hat.

Members of the couple's families, a handful of special guests and representatives of the national religious communities of the Ismaili sect were present.

The bridal couple sat on a sofa at one end of the long room. The families and special guests were on other sofas at either side, and the religious representatives sat on the floor facing the wedding party.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Q — I'm back in school after working in a department store for the summer. Can I get a refund now on the taxes withheld from my pay?

A — No, you will have to wait until after the end of the year before you can file your return. To avoid delays when you file for your refund, check now to make sure you have the W-2 statement of wages paid and taxes withheld your employer gave you when you left. A copy of this statement must be filed with your return.

Q — Will enough be taken out of my pay to cover the surcharge?

A — Withholding rated have been adjusted to take care of the income tax surcharge. For most people, withholding should be sufficient to satisfy their tax liabilities this year.

Q — The IRS auditor who examined my return says I owe $65 more. Can I get a further hearing on my case without getting involved with legal fees and the like?

A — Yes, you may request a district conference and present your side of the dispute to an impartial third party. It will not be necessary for you to engage legal counsel to represent you at the conference. It also is not necessary to file a formal written protest to obtain a conference since the tax involved is less than $2,500.

Procedures for requesting a conference are outlined in a letter you will receive from IRS setting forth the results of the examination of your return.

Q — I found an expense I overlooked when I filled out my tax return this year. Is it too late to make this change?

A — No, you may still claim this expense by filing Form 1040-X, Amended U. S. Individual Income Tax Return. As a general rule, you have three years from the date your return was due to claim items you forget about.

Copies of the form and instructions for completing it may be obtained by writing to your District Director.

Q — My son worked on my farm this summer and I paid him regular wages. Can I deduct them just as I do wages paid to my other workers?

A — Yes, reasonable wages paid to your son are deductible if there is a true employer-employee relationship.

The Texan is Army Sgt. Floyd E. Golemon Jr., husband of Mrs. Linda A. Golemon, 1104 Sinclair St. Galena Park.

Died not as a result of hostile action Army Spec. 4 Manuel G. Martinez, husband of Mrs. Lupe O. Martinez, 1814 Peach St., Colorado City, Texas.

Probe May Result In Law Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — A civil rights investigation the late Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen demanded the government make may result in a suit against the motion picture and television industries.

Attorneys for the major movie studios and the three television networks began talks with Justice Department civil rights officials Monday in a last-ditch attempt to avert legal action.

But if there is no settlement, the department is prepared to file complaints charging movie studios, TV networks and various craft unions with anti-Negro hiring practices.

Ironically, it was the movie industry probe that led Dirksen to threaten last March 27 to have Clifford L. Alexander Jr. fired as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The Illinois Republican claimed the EEOC, under Alexander's leadership, harassed industry executives during hearings in Los Angeles.

Responding to Dirksen, the White House announced Alexander would be replaced. But the young Negro lawyer quit before he was ousted.

In doing so, Alexander protested a "crippling lack of support" by the Nixon administration, particularly because the Justice Department had not acted on EEOC recommendations for a suit against the movie industry.

Citing Negro employment figures, Alexander said the major Hollywood studios had only a handful of blacks among their nonperforming, off-camera employes. The EEOC findings said only eight Negroes were included in the more than 4,000 union members.

The EEOC claimed discriminatory employment practices were perpetuated through the industry's experience roster system, under which craft unions are given the right to furnish needed employes to studios.

Quietly during the past summer, the Justice Department sent its own investigators to Hollywood where they followed up the EEOC probe by expanding into the television industry.
