CHINESE ATTACK ALIENS IN SHANGHAI

PEACHES' PLEA IN SEPARATION SUIT REFUSED

Browning Is Victor in Suit Brought by His Bride Of 16 Summers

ALIMONY IS CUT OFF

Cinderella Man Released By Order of Court in Final Decision

CARMEL, N. Y., March 21. (AP)—The sensational charges of former Frances "Peaches" Heenan fell flat today less than two months after she took the stand against her husband, when Supreme Court Justice A. H. F. Seeger rendered a decision in favor of Edward West Browning, granting him and not her a legal separation.

Justice Seeger held that Mrs. Browning's testimony had failed to convince him that her husband was either "abnormal, unnatural, cruel or inhuman."

He pointed out what he said were inconsistencies in Mrs. Browning's testimony by recalling that she had complained of being tired of her elderly husband's society.

Peaches Gets Lecture

Justice Seeger also criticised Mrs. Browning "for trying to palm off" an expurgated diary on him.

Justice Seeger, in commenting on the acid burns received by Peaches just before her marriage, said that it is inconceivable that the acid could have been thrown with such precision and that the assailant escaped unknown through bars and windows that were closed before Mrs. Browning had time to awaken.

Justice Seeger characterized as "particularly vicious" the attempt to insinuate at the trial that Browning might have been responsible for the deed.

He pointed to the abandonment of Browning by his girl wife as being either a conspiracy on the part of Mrs. Browning and her mother to compel Browning to purchase an expensive apartment for them and buy his wife an automobile or else she had grown tired of the society of her elderly husband.

Testimony Is Invention

Justice Seeger characterized as mere inventions and groundless charges that Browning had threatened to shoot his wife and had locked her in a room. He also found that insinuations in regard to Browning's attitude towards Dorothy Sunshine, his adopted daughter, were particularly vicious. His decision accused Mrs. Browning and her mother of falsifying and exaggerating to such an extent as to render their testimony ineffectual.

Criticising Browning's side of the case Justice Seeger described as false the testimony of James P. Nixon and Roman Androwski, called by the real estate man in his attempt to assail Mrs. Browning's character before her marriage. He recommended that they both be prosecuted. Browning, Justice Seeger declared, was peculiar as evidenced in his act in marrying a young girl, but stated his intentions were good.

Judge Points Way

Justice Seeger advised Mrs. Browning that if as she claims she was not interested in Browning's money and was merely seeking her freedom she petition for an annulment on the ground that she was too young at the time of the marriage.

Justice Seeger said he failed to find any evidence that Browning was "stingy, miserly or penurious."

The alimony of $200 a week which Mrs. Browning has been receiving ceases automatically.

Illicit Love Affair Ends In Fatal Strangling

Wife Confesses She Aided Lover in Slaying of Husband Who Stood in Their Way

By Universal Service.

NEW YORK, March 22.—(Tuesday)—Henry Judd Gray, young salesman of East Orange, N. J., broke down and confessed early this morning that he was the paramour of Mrs. Albert Snyder and assisted her in slaying Snyder, according to District Attorney Newcomb of Queens county.

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—A young married woman whose vivacious nature gained her the nickname of "Tommy" today broke down after 14 hours of grilling in a police station and related to the police the sordid details of the murder of her husband before dawn Sunday.

It was the "old story," said the police. "The eternal triangle" of a young woman linked in marriage to a man her senior and a plot for "freedom" with the "other man" resulting in a crime of premeditated brutality, described by the police as unparalleled here in years.

The principals in the crime are: Albert Snyder, art director of a magazine of motorboating, 45 years old, his attractive bobbed haired wife, Ruth, 32; and his wife's "friend," Henry Judd Gray, 34, accused by her in an alleged confession of the actual slaying.

Iron Bar Kills

The eldest is dead from blows on the head with an iron bar and from his neck having been nearly twisted through with picture wire. The other two are held by the police in widely separated cities in New York state.

Gray was arrested in Syracuse, in a hotel room early this morning.

Fully dressed, dapperly so, Gray a corset salesman, and a husband and father with a residence in Orange, N. J., shrugged his shoulders at the entrance of the police, they said, and denied any knowledge of the crime.

He had been in Syracuse since Friday, he said, and while he admitted he had been intimate with Mrs. Snyder, he added that he had never met her husband.

Wife Confesses

In a police station at Long Island City, meantime, Mrs. Snyder was continuing, according to the police, the story of the slaying.

This story was a new one, replete with lurid details. It completely swept away her first hysterical, fantastical outburst that she had been seized, bound and gagged by "a giant of a man," while another beat to death her husband.

The alleged confession told of the return of the Snyder family to their modest home in Queens Village—the husband and his wife and their nine-year-old daughter, Lorraine, from a bridge whist game at a neighbor's home, after midnight Sunday.

Mr. Snyder, who had had "quite a lot to drink," wanted to go to bed, she is alleged to have said, and she helped him undress. Deaf in one ear, she placed him on the bed with his "deaf ear up" and then, the police say, she let Gray into the house.

Murder Planned

In the next room, the two had a few drinks, the statement said, and after Gray is alleged to have said "I can't live without you," the murder was planned.

Gray is alleged to have struck the sleeping man with an iron instrument which the police believe was the iron pinch bar found, together with rubber gloves in Gray's grip in Syracuse.

Snyder's feet were tied together with a neck tie, his hands bound with picture wire and his throat gashed with a twisted loop of the same material. In addition traces of an anaesthetic were found in his organs.

After the crime the confession alleges, the two attempted to make the house appear as if ther had been a robbery.

An Italian newspaper was torn in half and thrown on the floor, bureau drawers were opened and their contents scattered and furniture broken.

The alarm, six hours after the crime, was given circuitously by Mrs. Snyder, who, from her position on the floor of a hallway, aroused her sleeping daughter, Lorraine, 9 years old, by knocking at her daughter's bedroom.

The child called a neighbor, who summoned the police to investigate what seemed to have been a robbery-inspired murder.

Daughter Testifies

The daughter told police "mama and papa quarreled lots" because her mother stayed away from home nights. Discovery of letters from Gray and the existence of a diary telling of her feeling for him brought about questions which resulted in the wife's formal confession, the police said.

Daddy Wins Suit

Edward Browning Monday was declared victor in the contest brought by "Peaches" Browning for separation. The court order not only refused her plea but awarded a separation in favor of Browning, relieving him of further payment of $300 a week alimony.

MOODY TO SIGN AMNESTY BILL

Law Will Bar Ferguson From Office

AUSTIN, March 22. (AP)—Governor Dan Moody will sign the Love anti-amnesty measure, affecting former Governor James E. Ferguson, it was learned today from authentic sources.

Doubt as to what action Moody would take has provoked close interest here since the passage of the act designed to take from Ferguson the political citizenship restored to him by act of the 39th legislature.

He was impeached in 1917 on charges of irregularities.

SCOUTS LEAD FLAG PROGRAM AT REVIVAL

150 Boys Take Part In Evangelist Services At Tabernacle

STORY OF PILATE TOLD

He Didn't Have Nerve Of His Convictions, Says Biederwolf

Biederwolf Program.

Tuesday: 12:15 p. m., noon meeting, Olympic theather; 2 p. m., cottage prayer meetings; 7:30 p. m., business women's delegation night.

Wednesday: 7:30 p. m., special song service led by Prof. George Dibble.

Thursday: 3:00 p. m., at tabernacle, lecture by Mrs. G. Dibble, "How to Tell the Story of Life."; 7:30 p. m., evangelistic service.

Friday: 3 p. m., Dr. Biederwolf speakes on "Evolution;" 7:30, song service led by Prof. Dibble, sermon by Dr. Biederwolf.

Saturday: No meetings.

Sunday: At tabernacle at 2:30 p. m., message by Dr. Biederwolf, "Sold Out"; 2:30 p. m., at First Baptist church, lecture by Mrs. Dibble "A Great Woman;" 7:30 p. m., evangelistic meeting.

Patriotic services, with 150 Boy Scouts taking part, were included in the program Monday night at the union revival meeting which was attended by a congregation of 3000 persons.

The scouts, under the direction of Frank B. Creighton, executive officer of the boy scouts, ascended the platform and repeated the oath of the organization.

The lights with the exception of a spot-light thrown on a large American flag, were extinguished. Those in the congregation sang, "The Star Spangled Banner."

Lacked Nerve.

Dr. W. E. Biederwolf chose for the subject of his sermon, "Christ Before Pilate". The text was taken from Book of Matthew, 27th chapter, 22nd verse." "Pilate saith unto them; 'What then shall I do to Jesus, who is called Christ?'"

Pilate was a man who did not have the nerve to carry out his convictions, said Dr. Biederwolf.

"He knew what he ought to do", said the evangelist, "but he was weak-kneed and a pussy-footer."

Pussy-footers, according to Dr. Biederwolf, are a low species of man.

"If you want to clean up the town or storm hell", said Dr. Biederwolf, "leave the pussy-footer out."

A man is to be congratulated if he has a wife with good judgment, asserted Dr. Biederwolf.

Wife Opposed Him.

"Pilate's wife said the evangelist, "tried to make him do right and if he had listened to her he would have been working for the cause of God instead of against Him."

Dr. Biederwilf's sermon in full follows:

I'm going to preach tonight about an old sail-trimmer. His name was Pilate. He was like

Tangled Wire Barricade Bars Chinese From U. S. Property

Here's a picture of the wire barricade which surrounds the foreign settlement in Shanghai. American, British and other foreign marines are guarding the settlement against attack by the Cantonese forces to whom the prized Chinese port has fallen as a result of the flight of the Northern Chinese forces under Marshal Chang-Tsung-Chang. Cantonese forces were Monday night reported trying to penetrate the barricade.

THIEVES STRIP PHONE POLES

Three-Fourths Ton Copper Wire Carted Off

Nearly three-quarters of a ton of new copper wire was cut and stolen from poles on the right-of-way of the Bell Telephone company north of Seymour some time Monday, G. H. Williams, manager of the Seymour telephone exchange reported to the Wichita Falls police Monday night.

The wire had just been strung along the cross pieces on the poles and had not been tied in, Williams reported.—Pieces ranging in length from a few feet to nearly one-half mile were taken by the thieves.

The wire is 14 gauge and of a new type which the Seymour telephone manager stated would be readily recognized by linemen who had been working on the line.

Local police stated that the wire would be valued at about $225 in long pieces and as junk it would bring about half that amount.

U.S. Holds 3000 Marines Ready to Rush To Shanghai For Duty in Case of Crisis

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Three thousand marines have been mobilized at Quantico, Va., for duty in China unless chaotic conditions in Shanghai immediately improve, it was learned at the navy department tonight. These marines have been quietly called to Quantico from outlying posts and are ready to embark at a moment's notice. Transports are available to carry them from the Atlantic coast, or they may go by rail to San Deigo to embark to save time in an emergency.

This was made known as reports tonight from Admiral Clarence S. Williams, commander-in-chief of the American and allied forces in Chinese waters, reported the situation in Shanghai to be extremely tense. Admiral Williams added that conditions are growing worse instead of improving. He said that "murderous attacks" on loyal Chinese foremen in mills are increasing.

The three cruisers Marblehead, Cincinnati and Richmond, the most modern in the American navy, are under steam at Honolulu and expected to sail for Shanghai.

35 Warships Ready.

With the 35 warships either in Chinese waters or at the American base at Manila, this would bring the total to 38. Most of the 35 are believed to be already anchored in the Wangpo river off Shanghai, or cruising up and down the Yangtse river above Shanghai. The ships are principally destroyers.

Admiral Williams reported the orderly landing of the 1500 marines when the Cantonese invaded Shanghai. He is holding in readiness to reinforce them as many more bluejackets from the ships anchored in the harbor. As the remainder of the destroyers and the three cruisers reach the danger zone he will be able to land upwards of 5000 men.

Officials were by no means certain that he will not have to do so. They view the situation with frank alarm and expect the international settlement to be attacked either by the disgruntled and defeated defenders of Shanghai or the unruly mass of Cantchese who have come in with the victorious army. In addition to this element of danger there are said to be 700,000 Chinese living within the settlement. These have already started a general strike and it is feared that if they get beyond control the foreign troops and some 40,000 foreign residents will be in grave danger.

Williams In Command

Admiral Williams, it is understood here, is in supreme command of the allied forces which have landed at Shanghai and the ships in the harbor and is directing operations. He takes command because he is the highest ranking officer there. The Japanese and the Dutch landed forces simultaneously with the United States. The British already have a large force in the international settlement and are landing more troops.

It was the early landing of the British forces which convinced officials here that the allied forces totaling 20,000 men will be able to meet the emergency. The British had already erected barbed-wire entanglements all along the streets which separate the international settlement from the native city. They have also erected bomb screens of heavy wire netting.

The two occasions recently in which American Marines have been landed from the transport Chaumont, to "parade" for much needed exercise, was really for the purpose of acquainting them with their defense sector, it was stated.

The allied troops have machine guns trained down every street leading to the settlement and a number of field guns are ready for action, the warships in the harbor have their guns trained on the native city and the mass of Cantonese troops beyond.

Aliens In Danger

It is pointed out, however, that appalling casualties will result in the event it should become necessary to open fire. Only a narrow, winding street separates the settlement from the native city. It would be extremely difficult, officials say, for the ships in the harbor to fire in that direction without doing harm in the settlement. Because of the flimsy construction of houses in the native metropolis and the hordes of Chinese thronging the streets it would be almost impossible to fire a single shot without heavy casualties.

Supreme Command

Vice-Admiral C. S. Williams, U. S. N., is in supreme command over all the allied forces in Shanghai, guarding against attack by the Cantonese conquerors of the Chinese city.

AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS ROUT CANTONESE.

By Universal Service.

LONDON, March 21.—Sir Percival Phillips, cabling to the Daily Mail tonight from Shanghai, reports that the Cantonese postal workers, who took over the post office inside the International settlement, were routed by a detachment of American volunteers, who surrounded the post office with fixed bayonets, prepared to fire.

American marines are stationed in the northwestern area and behind the British positions in the Markham road.

Grim testimony of the orgy of decapitations is reiterated in the bodies and heads of two decapitated gunmen lying in the gutter within a hundred yards of the barricades of the International settlement, near Astor house.

Five heads, are strung in a row on a fence opposite the road beyond where the Durham light infantry (British) are stationed.

It is believed that the decapitations are to intimidate foreign soldiers, as well as to halt the looting and the outrages.

By Universal Service.

SHANGHAI, March 22.—Sniping by Chinese guerillas continued all night long, as the aftermath of the capture of this city by the Cantonese.

Three British soldiers were slain. Hundreds of persons of other nationalities are wounded.

Flames from several sections in the city lighted up the skies, as buildings, set on fire by shell-fire, burned through the night.

Admiral Williams, U. S. Navy, intends to land approximately 1200 sailors from the warship Pittsburgh and other American warships, on account of the critical condition.

Situation Serious

Foreign forces are guarding a boundary of 21 miles.

The situation is growing more serious.

At a late hour, the Cantonese, guerillas and others, were seeking to forcibly enter the international settlement. British forces were compelled to fire over the barricades. Casualties cannot be ascertained. The "no passage" order is being most rigidly enforced.

Casualties among the Chinese military and civilians are estimated to be hundreds killed or wounded.

All night long, skirmishes continue in the native territory.

The foreign casualties, so far recorded, are:

British—three killed; 14 wounded.

Japanese—One wounded.

Portugese—One wounded.

These are official figures. Guerillas caused these casualities.

Armored Car Trapped.

Guerillas in the North Szechuen road district, called Shanghai's "No man's land," trapped a British armoured car, wounding the crew, who escaped and left the car.

Police and military are planning to attempt to recover the car and, simultaneously, to wipe out the guerilla nest, where fifty guerillas, equipped with machine guns, are picking off foreign passers-by and military patrols.

This attack is planned for daybreak.

A two-blocks fire, burning within a stone's throw of the International settlement earlier in the evening, had engulfed the Holy family Girl's school.

Six hundred teachers, pupils and orphans, including some Americans, left under most extreme difficulties.

Flames Rage Unchecked.

The flames are now dying down in this section. For twelve hours, they raged without being checked. Firemen who attempted to cope with the fire were routed by guerilla snipers. Ten thousand Chinese are homeless as a result of this conflagration, and many others were victims of guerilla fire.

Numerous cases are reported of guerillas attacking foreign men, women and children in isolated parts of the district.

The foreigners had narrow escapes. Guerillas fired indiscriminately and bullets spattered all over the place and at the heels of the fleeing foreigners.

An unprecedented situation is likely, as the result of drastic joint-foreign action, possibly entailing the invasion and subjugation of areas adjoining the International settlement.

Wichita Falls Woman Chosen Head Of Grand Lodge of Texas Rebekahs

WACO, March 21. (AP)—With the installation of C. A. Wheeler of Vernon as grand master for this year, and the election of J. D. Buster of Sherman to the grand mastership for next year, several thousand Odd Fellows of Texas closed the first session of their three-day convention here today.

Wheeler succeeds J. M. Pouncey of Alpine as head of the organization and the office of deputy grand-master, vacated by him, was filled by J. D. Buster, who will also succeed him as grand-master next year, according to the result of tonight's election. Following their usual custom of installing officer for a year and electing those to follow them, the Odd Fellows chose Ben C. Richards of Dallas, son of the former mayor of Waco, as deputy grand-master, who will be installed in 1928.

Richards was installed as deputy warden today, and others who will occupy offices in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows this year are E. Q. Vestal of Dallas, grand secretary; John Kee of Fort Worth, treasurer.

At the same time Rebekahs of Texas, meeting in their 32nd assembly, elected Mrs. Ada Ramsey of Wichita Falls president; Mrs. Annie Savage of Dallas, vice-president; Mrs. Jesse Ross of Amarillo, warden; Mrs. Mattie Knauff of San Antonio, secretary, and Mrs. May Hatcher James of Dallas, treasurer. Race between Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Catherine Edmondson of Eagle Pass in the office of warden, which carries with it the significance of coming presidency, was so close that three ballots had to be taken.

Moody to Hear Wichita Falls Court Committee at Austin on Thursday

Meeting between Governor Moody and a committee from the Wichita County Bar association relative to the re-districting law for civil appellate courts in Texas will be held Thursday in Austin.

Governor Moody telegraphed R. E. Huff, chairman of the committee for the designation of the 12th court of civil appeals in Wichita Falls Monday that he would confer with the committee from Wichita Falls Thursday morning.

The committee will endeavor to have Governor Moody veto the bill which now awaits his signature to make it a law. The Wichita County Bar association went on record at a meeting held Saturday, as being opposed to the enactment of the law.

The association based its action on the fact that the new re-districting law will not give the judical relief that is needed in Wichita and surrounding counties.

The committee to confer with Governor Moody was appointed at the Saturday meeting. The members will leave Wichita Falls Wednesday night for Austin. W. E. George, member of the committee, said Monday night.

SCOUTS LEAD FLAG PROGRAM

150 Boy Scouts Take Part In Revival Meet

some folks you've got in Wichita Falls. He had a backbone but it was made out of spaghetti. He knew what he ought to do, but he was a weak-kneed, spineless, mollusk in his moral nature and he was afraid to do it. He was a pussyfooter. If you want to storm hell leave the pussy footer out.

It was Thursday night in Gethsemane, and Jesus was praying. He had just said "O, my God, it is an awful thing you have asked me to do. If it be possible let this cup pass from me. But if not, then if You'll stand by me, I'll go to the earth and I'll drink the last dregs out of the cup to open the way for the last, lost, wretched, hell-bound sinner to find the road that leads back to God." And then the mob broke in upon him. They placed the shackles on His wrists and led Him away to Pilate's court room and there they presented Him as a political conspirator, a violater of Rome's most sacred la

Charged as Conspirator.

Pilate examined the man and said, "I find no fault in Him." But he was met with a ferocious growl; with a storm of fury. "Why, they say this fellow has stirred up the whole country; you ought to give him the limit. He ought to die." And Pilate didn't have the nerve to do it.

Then Pilate's wife came. Mrs. Pilate; and as usual, she had more sense than the other side of the house that wears the trousers. She had been troubled in a dream. While she slumbered God came and spoke to her. Just what He revealed to her we don't know. In fact this is all we know about her. She was no doubt a good woman, and I imagine a good part of her time was spent in keeping her husband out of the embarrassing situations into which his vacillating, plastic, pliable, slack-twisted, liquid-gloss nature was always leading him.

You are to be congratulated if you've got a wife of good judgment, and who does what she can to keep you on the right side. A lot of you little ginks wouldn't amount to shucks if it wasn't for your wife. Mrs. Pilot was all right. On the other hand many a wife is a millstone about her husband's neck. Some little fashion fool that goes to all sorts of senseless extravagance with her dress and her hats, or some bepowdered and befrazzled society dame that's that's gone long house over bridge whist or some slovenly, unkept, mother-hubbard, ambitionless, carpet-slippered woman that lets the house go to pot—and what's a man going to do unless he goes and jumps in the river?

Tragic moment! Yonder in prison lies Barabas, the guilty robber; here stands Christ, the innocent Saviour. Now which one shall it be? Pilate's name might be written down there as one ed with glory and honor, but he stands tonight in pillory as a monster of iniquity because as an unscrupulous politician he prostituted his official trust; betrayed the voice of God and his own conscience, and sacrificed the Son of God to the passions of an infuriated mob. If he had only said: "Jesus is innocent and now can't find Him while on the throne, the world would be singing doxologies of praise to his name today! If he had only stepped down from his throne and taken the cross in his hand, put it on and placed it on the brow of Jesus, and wrapped his own purple robe about him, and said: "Take me and nail me to the cross, for I will be the one hereafter walking with the worthiest of the world tonight! But he said: "Wait! Bring me a basin—a bowl of water; now I will pronounce the death-sentence upon this man whom I delliver into your hands and you can crucify him; but, see I want to wash my hands of this whole affair; I will be innocent of the blood of Jesus; now you see to it." And when Pilate had washed his hands, he set Barabbas free and delivered Jesus to the crowd. And they stripped him and put on him a scarlet robe, and a crown of thorns, and put a reed in his right hand for a scepter; and then they mocked Him, and they spit on Him and they smote Him, and then they stripped Him again and put on his own clothes and bound upon his back the heavy instrument of His death and led him away to crucify Him.

I have in my library a strange book entitled, "Letters From Hell," and among other scenes depicted is one of a stream running through the lost world and by its edge kneels a man busily engaged in washing his hands. The man's face is tortured with despair, for he has washed long and hard with little success. Presently some one touches his shoulder and says, "Pilate, what are you doing?" And as he lifts his hands they are as red as the blood of the Son of God can make them, and as he utters a shriek that goes sounding along the corridors Pilate wrote and says: "Will they never be clean? Will they never be clean?" Poor Pilate, they never will; they never will.

What Shall I Do With Christ?

1. What shall I do with Jesus which is called the Christ? That's the most important question you have ever asked. And why? Why, simply because of what depends upon the answer you make to it. And do you ask what that is? I answer, All that's worth while in the life that now is and in the life to come.

How Peace Comes

First. In this life. If you believe in Christ you'll have peace. Jesus Christ said He would give His peace to them that believed on His name and what a wonderful peace was His! And God says that the wicked man, the man who does not know Christ, does not know what peace is. He says you are like the waves of the sea when it is troubled and cannot rest. The most miserable man in the world is the man who yearns for an inner satisfaction and does not know how to find it. Money cannot bring you peace, good works, nor penance nor anything else that you can do, but there's a way you can find it. "Being justified therefore by faith we have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ. It's a great word; it's a great thing to have. "Peace, I leave with you," said Jesus Christ. "My peace I give upon you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you."

If you believe on Jesus Christ you'll have the comfort of God. There is nothing can ever do you any good in the dark hour of bereavement but the comfort of God. Do you remember when the measure for a little shroud was taken and the undertaker came with the coffin and a few days later the white hearse backed up to your door? And you didn't know then what it was to have the comfort and consolation of God you were a great deal poorer than God ever meant you to be.

Will Have Comfort

And, then, if you believed on Jesus Christ you'll have the favor of God. I say to you, many tonight, it's a great thing to live, no matter where you live or what you do and you have a feeling of satisfaction beating away in your breast that God is on your side because you are on God's side. If I had to go home tonight and lie down on my bed and try to sleep and found that I could not—as some of you will not be able to sleep because of what you have heard tonight—if I had thus to lie down and know that God is displeased with me, I would not wait another hour until I had sought and found His favor. The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

In the Life To Come.

Second. In the life to come. Our acceptance with God depends upon what we do with Jesus here. "Whosoever shall confess Me" before men, him will I confess before My Father which is in heaven, but whomsoever shall deny Me before men, him will I deny before My Father which is in heaven." Your morality will not save you. Your standing in the sight of men will do you no good in the sight of God, but as you treat Jesus Christ here, so will He deal with you before the throne of God.

Question of the Heart.

1. In the next place—not only the most important question—it is questions that every man can answer. It is not so much a question of the head as it is a question of the heart.

The reason you're not a Christian is not because you don't know enough, but because you're not willing to do enough. You're not willing to write that letter to someone and say you lied about them and talked about them. You're not willing to go home and rip up that low-necked low-down bull room costume and get into it late something decent. You're not willing to take the booze out of your cellar and throw your pack of cards into hell. It's a question of an understanding head, but a wrong heart.

Every Man Must Answer.

2. But in the third place, it's a question that every man must answer. He must do something with Him. How hard Pilate tried to get rid of deciding. Thrice he said, "I find no fault in Him," before he said, "You take Him and judge Him according to your law." Once he said, "I will chastise Him and let Him go." He sent Him to Herod, he tried the crowd, he washed his hands, but he placed it on the brow of Jesus, and wrapped his own purple robe about him, and said: "Take me and nail me to the cross, for I will be the one hereafter walking with the worthiest of the world tonight! But he said: "Wait! Bring me a basin—a bowl of water; now I will pronounce the death-sentence upon this man whom I delliver into your hands and you can crucify him; but, see I want to wash my hands of this whole affair; I will be innocent of the blood of Jesus; now you see to it." And when Pilate had washed his hands, he set Barabbas free and delivered Jesus to the crowd. And they stripped him and put on him a scarlet robe, and a crown of thorns, and put a reed in his right hand for a scepter; and then they mocked Him, and they spit on Him and they smote Him, and then they stripped Him again and put on his own clothes and bound upon his back the heavy instrument of His death and led him away to crucify Him.

I have in my library a strange book entitled, "Letters From Hell," and among other scenes depicted is one of a stream running through the lost world and by its edge kneels a man busily engaged in washing his hands. The man's face is tortured with despair, for he has washed long and hard with little success. Presently some one touches his shoulder and says, "Pilate, what are you doing?" And as he lifts his hands they are as red as the blood of the Son of God can make them, and as he utters a shriek that goes sounding along the corridors Pilate wrote and says: "Will they never be clean? Will they never be clean?" Poor Pilate, they never will; they never will.

What Shall I Do With Christ?

1. What shall I do with Jesus which is called the Christ? That's the most important question you have ever asked. And why? Why, simply because of what depends upon the answer you make to it. And do you ask what that is? I answer, All that's worth while in the life that now is and in the life to come.

How Peace Comes

First. In this life. If you believe in Christ you'll have peace. Jesus Christ said He would give His peace to them

COTTAGE PRAYER MEETINGS TODAY.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday as follows: Mrs. F. B. Johnson, 1804 Taylor street; Mrs. Ben Flint, 504 Burnett; Mrs. C. E. Stephens, 1616 Lucile; Mrs. James, 110 Caester; Mrs. Allen, 2150 Avenue G; Mrs. J. E. Railey, 1923 Eighth street; Mrs. I. Z. Smith, 1500 Austin; Mrs. J. G. Fain, 2712 Ninth; Mrs. O. R. Hartt, 2011 Arthur; Mrs. H. A. Tendleton, 1605 Buchanan; Mrs. Albritton, 1500 Ninth; Mrs. Frank Hay, 2004 Kemp Boulevard; Mrs. J. S. Gerack, 1202 Marshall; Mrs. W. F. Kolter, 2129 Avenue H; Mrs. John Tancred, 1717 Elizabeth.

Meetings will be held at 3 o'clock as follows: F. H. Smith, 2121 Broad; M. P. Albritton, 1670 Dayton; E. A. Flatt, 151 McGregor; Community house.

Infidels' Viewpoint

Very well then, Infidel Rousseau, "What will you do with Jesus which is called the Christ?" "Oh," says Rousseau "that's easy! He was simply a good man and nothing more, a good man possibly the best man that ever lived." And now comes Infidel Ingersol and says: "Rousseau, don't you know that Jesus Christ claimed to be the Son of God and if He claimed to be what He knew He was not, He could not have been a good man but the biggest liar and imposter the world has ever seen." Very well then, Mr. Ingersol, how will you relieve the situation? "Oh!" said Ingersol, "He was a good man but He was self-deceived; like other would-be saviours of the world was a self-deceived enthusiast." It is absurd to link self-deception and such high moral perfection together. It's nonsense to say that Jesus was self-deceived.

The Choice

A man's claim and his character stands or falls together. Read the history of the world and see. The question resolves itself into one of three alternatives: Jesus Christ was either what He claimed to be, divine, the Son of God or He was the world's biggest imposter or He was mentally unbalanced. Suppose we accept the last alternative; then the influence that has come from His life and teaching and has swept the world straight on its way towards God for 2000 years has been the influence of a man mentally unbalanced, and no one but a man who is insane himself would think of saving it. Suppose we accept the second alternative and admit that Jesus Christ was an imposter. Then the influence which has come down through all these years, which has touched this world with all the beauty of holiness it ever had, which has taught us to honor old age; revere infancy and respect womankind has been the influence of an imposter. No one but an imposter would ever think of saying it! If then Jesus Christ was not an impostor. If He was not mentally unbalanced and insane then He must have been what He claimed to be; devine, Son of God. And now the question for you to decide is, what will you do with Him.

You Must Answer

You must answer. The responsibility of choosing you cannot escape. You may accept Him and all that God can do will be done for you. You may scorn His proffered love, strike hands with the crowd and then bathe them in His blood but if you do, all eternity will never wipe out the crimson stain.

4. Many say, I will not decide tonight; but my brother, this is not only the most important question; not only a question you can answer, now, but it is a question you must answer now. You say you will not decide now, but if you do not this night decide for Christ every step you take to your home will echo back your rejection and all hell will yell and rejoice because you've turned Him down.

To refuse for a single moment to decide for Christ is for that moment to decide against Him. Christ is here now. To go away without Him is to turn your back upon Him. Most people expect some day to become Christians. Even a Pagan prophet said: "Let me die the death of a righteous and let my last end be like his," and yet we are not willing to do now the things we ought to do.

I have heard of a hunter who had a whistle that imitated the voice of a fawn and one day, when he blew upon it a beautiful doe left the herd of the thicket wondering where the child was that was crying for its mother; she saw the hunter and knew it was her deadly enemy, and even though she trembled she did not move and when he saw that great exhibition of mother love, he was moved with compassion and could not fire. Slowly lowering his rifle he lifted his hand and scared her back into the thicket and there are some people who, because God is so good and long-suffering, and loving, they can go and ignore the claims of Christ and live as they please and then bank on God's compassion to save them when they get ready to die. But it will be too late.

That's the most contemptible thought that ever stirred a human breast. If I'd ever think a thing like that I'd be ashamed to sleep with myself, they can

An Army Incident.

In the army hospital there was a man whose past life had been very wicked. I talked to him about Christ but he said he was glad he was dying if he did he would die as he lived and I said, "All right, Harry, but if I had lived a life such as yours I would not want to die that kind of a death." But sometime when I came back the man and his cot were gone; in the night he had died and they had taken him to the dead house and the last time I saw Harry was when he told me how he died, when he saw that he was really dying death frightened him and although he was as weak as a new born babe—from what typhoid fever will do for one—and for four days he could not raise a glass of water to his lips, yet by what seemed superhuman strength he sprang from his cot and falling on his knees he cried so loud that he was heard in the distant wards piteously begging God for Christ's sake to have mercy and save his soul, and then dragging himself back to his cot in one minute he was dead. Let us hope his repentance was sincere, but is there anything heroic in a disposition like that, and yet there are some sitting here tonight prefering to live without God to defer their decision till a later time. Oh, friends, it's no noble Amalekite I'm not ashamed of it. "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like His." If you know you were to die tonight which death would you prefer which would you rather die as that soldier did or would you rather go as another one did who called and said, "Chaplain, I want you to cut a lock of my hair for my mother, and Chaplain, I want you to kneel down here and thank God for me." The chaplain supposed he wanted to call to God for help in his extremity, but it was not so, and he said, "For what shall I thank Him." And the dying boy said, "Thank Him Chaplain, for giving me such a good mother; her teachings have helped me so much in this hour. And then, chaplain, thank God that I am a Christain. What would I do now if I were not a Christain? And thank Him for giving me dying grace; He makes this hard bed feel soft as mother's pillows are. And then, chaplain tell Him, most of all for the home in glory—I'll soon be there." And so the chaplain knelt down by his side with not a single petition to ask but only to thank God for a Christian mother, a Christian boy, for dying grace, for a home in glory.

Would you rather die as infidel Hobes died, saying as he went, "I'm taking a fearful leap into the dark," or would you rather go he did our late martyred president with the last bullet lowed on his good book singing "Nearer My God to Thee." Would you rather go as Ingersol did without a song at your funeral, or would you rather go as did dear old Moody singing, "Good sailing; Heaven is opening; earth is receding!" As you choose tonight which of you will not say, "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like His."

Service Today For Mrs. Hartsook, Pioneer Wichita Falls Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Eliza Katherine Hartsoock, 79, will be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the First Methodist church, Tenth and Lamar, with Dr Walter Johnson, presiding elder, Dr. S. S. McKinney, pastor of the First Methodist church and Dr. S. A. Barnes, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Hartsook died about 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at the home of her son, Dr. C. R. Hartsook, 2715 Ninth street. She had been an active member of the First Methodist church for 16 years. Special pews for members of the Woman's Bible class of which Mrs. Hartsook was an active member, will be reserved at the services.

The body will lie in state at the family residence until 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Active pallbearers are as follows, C. H. Clark, Walter Nelson, Sr., Martin Rowe, N. M. Clifford, C. E. Busham, C. C. Knight, J. B. Stokes and W. P. Killingsworth.

Two sons, Dr. C. R. Hartsook and Dr. Nathan Hartsook, of Johnson City, Tenn., survive Mrs. Hartsook.

MARTIN SERVICES

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Merkle Undertaking chapel for Mrs. H. N. Martin, 58, who died in a local hospital at noon Sunday. Burial will follow in Riverside cemetery. Mrs. Martin is survived by her husband and a sister, Mrs. R. A. Rogers, who lives in Dundee.

Jesus Christ Most Wonderful Discovery in History, Club Told

"None of the wonderful discoveries and inventions of today mean as much to the world as the discovery of Jesus Christ," Mrs. George Dibble, a member of the Biederwolf Evangelistic party, told members of the Kiwanis club at their weekly luncheon at the Kemp hotel Monday.

"It is the natural tendency for mankind to say, 'How wonderful is man,' but we are just now realizing that it is God that is wonderful, and that He and His power are behind all of the marvelous inventions of our age. Christ came, and in three short years stamped his heart, face and spirit on the earth so that He has never been forgotten. The discovery of America has meant life and religious liberties that had never before been enjoyed. We are now marvelling over the discovery of the radio, and wondering at and praising the genius minds of the discoverers, but just carry this thought with you that it is God who inspires men to noble deeds and sacrifices."

George Dibble led a sing-song and gave several vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Lewis. Those taking part on the program were introduced by W. M. Young, who also sang a duet with Mr. Dibble.

Walter Nelson made an announcement of the membership drive being conducted by the Wichita Valley Auto club and distributed booklets. Booklets outlining the purposes and work of the club were distributed to the Kiwanians.

FINED $47

Pleading guilty to a charge of operating a slot machine, L. Hodge was fined, including costs, $47 in the county court at law Monday. Hodge was apprehended by police officers in the alleged act of operating the machine in his place of business in the downtown section of the city.

Wichita Falls Lodge No. 625, A. F. & A. M. will hold a meeting Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock when several members will work on the master's degree, according to an announcement by George Lawler.

The Council

Minor and Major Matters At Weekly Meeting

Minor and major matters before the city council Monday night included the following:

Leaving of Forest avenue, from York avenue to Lexington avenue, and North Lamar street, from Wichita street to Brook avenue, was ordered.

Hearing on a petition for the paving of Bluff street, from the Wichita river to Sixth street, was ordered when the petition reaches its final reading.

A request from the Kiwanis club that it be allowed to erect pig pens Monday on Lamar street in front of the courthouse was granted. The request set out that Monday the club was going to be host to boys living on farms in Wichita county and were going to present pigs to some of the boys attending the weekly luncheon. The pens are needed to "put the pigs on review" the request set out.

Mayor R. E. Shepherd announced that the taking of an inventory of all city property would be started April 1.

The city engineer will in the future be allowed to issue permits for the storing of building materials and machinery on city streets.

Applications of the Laundry Supply company, to erect a warehouse, costing $10,000 at 1412 Sibley; G. E. Couiter, to build a rootbeer stand at Holliday and 16th, and L. E. Hughes, to erect a filling station at Scott and Second, were granted.

W. Bogart was granted permission to obtain sand from the Wichita river inside the city limits. He is to pay the city 10 cents per yard.

On recommendation of W. E. McBroom, city secretary, J. E. Ellers was appointed clerk at the Jefferson street fire station polls for the city election in place of M. Harwich, who will be unable to serve.

Payment of $20,504 to the Joseph Morgan Construction for work completed on the municipal auditorium was authorized.

Mayor Shepherd was authorized by the counsel to offer to rent offices in the municipal auditorium building to the officials of water improvement district No. 1. Rent of the offices will be not less than $150 per month.

Bids for scenery for the auditorium will be opened by the counsel at 1 p. m. Saturday and for hardware for the building at 1 p. m., April 2.

CONCRETE SCHOOL

Contractors Here Interested In Lectures, Say Officials

The free concrete school to be held in the Kemp hotel by the Portland Cement association on the nights of March 22, 23 and 25 is arousing interest among members of the local construction industry.

According to local representatives of the association, indications are that the attendance at Wichita Falls will break all previous records of schools in cities of like size.

The school is free to all who wish to attend and will be conducted by A. A. Anderson, construction engineer of Chicago.

SAFETY COUNCIL

Boy Scout to Serve Dinner At Meeting Tonight

Dinner to all attendants at the Safety council meeting to be held Tuesday night will be served by members of the Boy Scout organization.

The dinner will be served at 6 p. m. in the rear of the Texas Electric Service company building, in which the meeting will be held.

Several important matters are scheduled to be discussed at the meeting, according to Lester Jones, president of the council.

HASSELL SILENT

No Appeal Yet Filed for Man Doomed to Die Friday

AUSTIN, March 21. (AP)—Appeal for George J. Hassell of Farwell, convicted slayer of 13 persons, had not been filed in the court of criminal appeals Monday, the 25th day of the 30-day reprieve granted by Governor Dan Moody to allow an appeal of a hearing on Hassell's sanity.

The reprieve staved off Hassell's scheduled electrocution until Friday of this week, March 25.

L. C. Rodgers is reported confined to his home at 1902 Seventh street on account of illness.

40 INDICTMENTS

Four-Day Session at M'Lean Brings Grand Jury Deluge

M'LEAN, March 21. (Sp)—The grand jury of the 84th district court returned 40 indictments after being in session four days. Two of the cases were misdemeanors and 38 were felonies.

BANK PRESIDENT

Blair Man Buys Control of Lone Wolf Concern

Cleanliness that reduces Laundry Bills

THE GENERAL use of gas throughout your community makes yours a clean, smokeless community. Of course you share in the general benefit—but what is the cash value of this cleanliness to you? For one thing, it is in direct propottion to the size of your laundry and cleaning bill. Your total expenditures for laundering and cleaning clothes would be at least one-third greater in any coal-using community; you save this difference here. You also save on cleaning drapes, rugs, furniture and automobile upholstery, etc., because of the greater cleanliness of gas. A little thought on these advantages of Natural Gas, in addition to its cheapness and convenience, shows how really fortunate one is to be living and raising a family in a Natural Gas community.

Division Eight.

Mrs. K. C. Stillwagon was hostess to Division Eight at her home when devotionals were led by Mrs. Mashburn. Mrs. R. H. Stocks read a paper on the lesson topic, and Mrs. Eddie Powell read an article on "China" from the World Call.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Dowell, A. C. Glass, Williamson, Stocks, Houston, Mashburn and Sallie D. Smith.

Baptist W. M. U. Holds All-Day Meetings

Observing the March "week of prayer", members of the Walnut Street Baptist W. M. U. met at the church in an all day session Monday. The program was opened with the singing of "America" by the members, after which the Rev. J. L. Walters, pastor of the church, lead in prayer.

Mrs. E. P. Smith gave the devotionals on "Honoring Jehovah", and talks on missionary topics were given by Mesdames J. L. Walters, A. D. Foster, LaVarre, L. M. Myrick, W. B. Allison, and J. R. Starnes. Prayers were given by Mesdames Starnes, G. E. McCulley and W. B. Allison.

Luncheon was served at the noon hour to about 16 members.

Pews Reserved For Sunday School Class

Pews will be reserved for members of the Ladies Bible class of the Frist Methodist church at the funeral of Mrs. A. M. (Mother) Hartsook this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Members of the class are requested to sit together during the services. Mrs. Hartsook was a former member of this Sunday school class.

Man Who Loves Another Girl Is Cad If He Goes and Marries His Fiancee

Should the Engaged Man Who Has Come to Love Another Tell His Fiancee the Truth or Marry Her to Keep His Pledge?—Mother or Wife, Which Shall He Choose?—The Power of Suggestion in Love.

Dear Miss Dix—For five years I have been keeping company with a young woman who is in every way a splendid girl. Until now, financial circumstances have prevented our marriage. The girl has everything in readiness and has put her heart into making her trousseau. I honestly believed myself in love with this girl but within the last year another woman has come into my life and I find that I have never really known what love is before. The feeling I entertain for this second girl is no more to be compared to my liking for the first girl than a raging fire is to be compared to an empty grate. And this second girl loves me.

What shall I do? Am I in honor bound to go on and marry the girl who has trusted me and waited for me, when my whole heart and my every thought and interest is given to another? Is it my duty to sacrifice myself and the woman I love? A MISERABLE LOVER.

Answer: I think that the only fair and honorable thing is to go frankly to the girl to whom you are engaged and tell her that you cannot marry her because you have found out that you have made a terrible mistake in your feelings toward her, and that you do not love her as a man should love the woman he marries. And she should release you without a quibble and thank God on her bended knees that you made your discovery before it was too late and while there was still time to save three lives from utter shipwreck.

There is no cad more contemptible than the man who deliberatly trifles with a woman's heart to amuse himself and because it flatters his vanity to play the role of lady-killer. But quite different is the man who, in all good faith, pays attention to a girl, honestly believing that he loves her because he likes her and enjoys her society and finds her sympathetic, and who is then suddenly awakened to the fact that this calm, cool, platonic affection is not love at all.

Many men have that experience. Many men get engaged to girls of whom they tire even before their wedding day. Many men, betrothed to one woman, find some other woman who stirs depths in them that they did not know they possessed. But because they honor and esteem the women to whom they are engaged, because they have not the courage to hurt the women who love them and trust them, because they lack the hardihood to brave adverse criticism, they go on with the marriages that are the open doors to matrydom for them.

Without doubt, it is a terrible position for a man to be plaied in. If the engagement has been a long one, he realizes that he has done the girl an injury that is irreparable in monopolizing her during the years in fhich she had the best chance to marry. He knows that she loves him and he cannot bear to think of the hurt he would give her if he refuses to marry her. He realizes just how cruel a blow it is to a woman's pride to be jilted, to have her friends know that the man she wants to marry will not marry her, and that all the poor little pretties in her hope chest into which she has embroidered so many dreams and plans are mockeries.

It is a cruel situation for all concerned, but the only way out of it is the honest way. Somebody is bound to be hurt, and it is better that one life should be blighted than three. For if the man goes on and marries the girl to whom he is engaged, all are made miserable.

The worst fate that can possibly befall any woman is to be the unwanted wife of a man who married her upon compulsion. And the bitterness of death is in a wife knowing that her husband loves another woman and hates her for standing between them, and that his every thought and interest is given to her rival.

A man may make the supreme sacrifice of himself and marry a woman because he considers himself in honor bound to marry her, but he cannot keep up the grand gesture. It is not in human nature not to resent being victimized, and such a man is sure to be peevish and grouchy, bitter toward his wife, giving her none of the companionship and affection that alone bring happiness in marriage.

And so I say that if a man is on the very steps of the altar and finds out that he has ceased to love the woman he is about to marry, he owes it to himself and, most of all, to the woman to turn back and save them both from eternal regret. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—My mother is a wonderfully good woman with very high ideals, and she has made a desperate struggle to keep our home together. Heretofore I have forgone th epleasure of having a girl at mother's request, but now I have fallen violently in love with a young woman. Mother liked her and said she was nice until I loved her. Now she demands that I break off the engagement and says that if I don't, she and I must part forever and that I can never see her again. I have tried to give up this girl, but I can't, yet I don't feel that I can give up my mother either. What shall I do?

PERPLEXED YOUNG MAN.

Answer: Your mother is a selfish woman who is so possessed by the demon of jealousy that she has lost her sense of proportion and is willing to sacrifice your happiness to keep you with her.

Such mothers are not uncommon. You find many old bachelors dancing attention on tyrannical old mothers who have enslaved them all their lives.

Sometimes these mothers have subtlely broken off every love affair their sons had when they were young. Sometimes they have affected invalidism and made their sons promise they would never marry so long as they lived. Sometimes they have wept and accused their sons of ingratitude and of breaking their hearts whenever they spoke of marriage. And the poor sons had not the courage to break with the mothers they loved.

It's nothing to these self-centered mothers that they are keeping their sons from the happiness and blessings of a natural life, and that they are depriving them of homes of their own and cutting them off from the joy of having wives and children.

This is your mother's position and if the girl is all right and you are able to support a wife my advice to you is to go on and marry her in defiance of your mother's irrational attitude. She will come around when she finds that she is beaten. Her attitude is probably only a bluff. DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix.—I have a boy friend of whom I am very fond. He has told me many times that he loves me, but he says that if we should quarrel and decide to separate he has enough will power to forget all about me in two or three months. Do you think he can do this if he loves me? R. J.

Answer: Certainly. You can kill love in a single second just as you can kill a man with a stab in the heart. And if you and your sweetheart quarrel violently enough to break your engagement, what is there left to remember? One of the greatest forces in the world is the power of suggestion, and we can think ourselves in love or out of love as we will. Besides, men are particularly talented as forgetters. DOROTHY DIX.

Miss McCloud Hostess To Little Rovers

Complimenting J. R. Martin in observance of his birthday, Miss Evelyn McCloud entertained members of the Little Rover orchestra at a lovely appointed dinner at her home Saturday evening. The table was centered with the birthday cake with it's trimmings of lighted candles, and a four course menu was served.

Covers were laid for the honoree and for Messrs. Byron Johnson, Harry Greer, Bill Rogers, Ira Lee Utz, Jimmy Giddings and Charles Gray.

Sunday School Class Gives Lovely Party

One of the most delightful parties of the season for members of Mrs. J. A. Kemp's Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church was given Saturday afternoon in the church basement when the girls of the class were hostesses and the matrons special guests.

St. Patrick decorations and motifs were carried out in all the appointments and Misses Ada Senpon, Daisy Slopansky, Mabel Winfrey and Mary McIlheran wore green St. Patrick dresses.

Games and contests featured the entertainment program, and favors were shamrocks.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames H. O. Williams, D. W. Powers, R. A. Walker, Will D. Thomas, R. L. Hargrave, R. T. Weidmer, R. E. Souther, H. C. Haggerty, C. J. Pate, C. M. Robinson, J. A. MODISH MITZI — The Goofer Meets His Friend — By JAY V. JAY

"I'm so sorry," murmurs Mitzi over the phone to the Goofer. "I have an engagement this afternoon." Which, oddly enough relieves the Goofer since he called through the request of the New Young Man. Mitzi wears her bridge frock of sheer chiffon with tiers of scallops. The flower on her hat and shoulder match.

Polly is making some bridge rules of her own since she can't remember the one she should follow. While she hesitates the girls remark upon her frock which has a chiffon collar and a very straight neckline. It is the sort of dress that is suitable for a bridge and also can be just as suitable for dinner afterward.

Adelaide also wears a more formal gown that she is going to dine in later. It is of black and white crepe. Unueul, and with a very clever drape at the shoulder. And just at this point came a ring at the door. The Goofer thought he'd just drop in with his friend to see Adelaide.

It so happened that Mitzi was playing dummy. That's why in such an unaccountably short time Mitzi and the Goofer's friend were comfortably seated side by side and engaged in earnest conversation. The Goofer feels that all is lost. All his engagements for the week, all his hopes, all his future.

DOINGS OF WOMEN

News Notes Of Feminnity Gleaned From Wire Dispatches

CONSTANTINOPLE. — Turkish feminism advances. It has discovered that Tatma Hanen, a woman who has traveled to Angora from the Thracian wilds, is 140 years old, beating the record of Zaro Agha, a man of 138, for being the oldest Turk.

NEW YORK.—For president: Jane Addams or Carrie Chapman Catt. Mrs. Forbes Robertson Haje thinks they are better fitted than most of the men she has heard mentioned.

CHELTENHAM, England.—"Comrade Cynthia" as the Socialists address Lady Cynthia Mosley, laborite M. P., would pension workers more than 65 years old. Retirement of 600,000 elderly workers of both sexes, she told a laborite meeting, would make room for some of the country's 1,500,000 unemployed, now receiving doles.

NEW YORK.—One woman who believes in evolution also is speaking her mind to the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton. In a sermon he was denouncing the theory with remarks about the gibberish of baboons when she arose and exclaimed: "That's a lie. You're all liars." Then out she went, pausing at the door to say something about "a bunch of bigots." Her identity was not disclosed.

GREENWICH, Conn.—After 32 years Mrs. Frank Brodsky, 52, is again wearing her first husband's wedding ring. The Brodskys were remarried by a justice of the peace in an elopement from New York. The bride had been divorced from another after divorcing Brodsky, who is 60 and a New York real estate operator.

PAPUANS RANK DUMBEST RACE

Modest Men of Primitive Tribe Wear Tails

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—There may be many "beautiful but dumb" in this world, but the dumbest, most primitive race on earth are the Rouffaer river Papuans of Dutch New Guinea.

This was the conclusion of Matthew W. Stirling, scientist, who headed the recent Stirling-Smithsonian institute expedition into the wilds of that country.

These dumbest people in the world are not one whit more dumb than the white man himself was back in the stone age.

"I don't think there is much difference in the brain capacity of the races," he explained. "It's mostly a matter of development. If we had been bound for generations upon generations within the confines of swamps and totally unable to make contacts with other people, as the Papuans have been handicapped, we would still be using stone implements, too."

Nearest Animals

Dr. Stirling declared that ethnologists who have ransacked the four corners of the globe in their study of the races have come across no group of humans so near the animals.

"There are hundreds of Papuan villages in the swamp-land of interior Guinea and countless people living in them," said Dr. Stirling. "We visited many of the settlements, which were usually deserted when we got there. The Papuans were afraid of us and ran away. But they attacked us with bows and arrows when we were leaving.

"They are constantly at war, village with village, anyone who is not one of their own group is an enemy and deserving of death. They do not fight for conquest of land, but for the glory of gathering human heads, which they collect, much as our Indians collected scalps."

The Papuans live in rude huts made of trees and thatched with palm leaves. They are not bothered with clothes.

"Like the lower animals, it is the men and not the women who ornament themselves," said Dr. Stirling. "They use seeds and bones and cassowary feathers, but these decorations could not be considered the equivalent of clothing.

Men Wear Tails

"There is one article, however, that the men apparently think it immodest to appear in polite society without. That is a tail, made of leaves or feathers, and worn exactly as an animal wears a tail. This synthetic appendage is to the Papuan what our suits of clothes are to us, so far as modesty is concerned.

"The Papuans live mainly on sago, from the palm trees in which the Guinea swamps abound.

"When the sago in one place gives out, the Papuans move to another swamp," Dr. Stirling explained. "That makes nomads of them within the close confines of their particular district."

QUALITY PRODUCTS

Buy Only Best Paint For Your Spring Work, Advises Expert

"Buy only quality paint, materials and other products for your spring 'paint up and clean up jobs,'" is the advice of A. M. Howard of the Sherwin-Williams Paint company, to residents of Wichita Falls.

"'Applesauce' isn't restricted to to pretty speeches and compliments. There's a whole lot of it in 'cheap' paint," said Mr. Howard.

"For instance, when someone tells you that a paint which sells at a very attractive price is just as good—that it will give you a beautiful job—a durable job—and last a long, long time, that's applesauce of the purest kind. Try to paint your house with that kind of applesauce—and what a sad awakening there will be.

"House paint must be pure—made of finest materials in the most skillful manner—to stand up under the exposure to weather.

"Cheap paint is naturally made of cheap materials or reduced materials. No one can cut the price without cutting the quality, or there wouldn't be any profit.

"When you reduce the quality, you reduce the covering and hiding quality. The paint becomes 'wishy-washy.' You need more gallons. You get a poor finish—cheap, inapid colors—that fade quickly—and the actual cost of the paint is just the same as if you had bought the best paint in the first place.

"Furthermore, the cheap paint job is cheap looking. The colors bleach and quickly—the film cracks and peels. Where a fine quality paint looks good for five years or thereabouts, the low price paint is all shot to pieces in a year or so. That means two or three complete re-paint jobs before one repainting is needed over the "quality" paint. And the extra repainting cost you can mark down as actual money loss which you would save by using the best paint you could buy in the first place."

BANDIT'S WIFE OFFICERS GRILL

Velma Terrill Questioned On Slaying at Borger

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 21. (AP)—Charges of grand larceny and of being a fugitive from justice was filed today against Mrs. Velma Terrill, wife of Ray Terrill, the Oklahoma bank bandit.

The information was filed in connection with the theft of $30,000 worth of jewelry from the Hempel Jewelry company of Temple, Texas.

County officers today said Mrs. Terrill's companion, Mrs. Bryant Walker, was released when Mrs. Terrill told them Mrs. Walker was in no way connected with the jewelry found in the motor car in which the two women were arrested.

Money was received by Mrs. Terrill at the county jail today from Sapulpa. It was said the money was from her mother for her bond.

Attempts to learn from Mrs. Terrill the whereabouts of five men who killed Coke Buchanan, Borger, Texas, patrolman, in a gun battle Saturday proved futile, it was said Monday at the county jail where Mrs. Terrill is being held.

Texas officers here to return Mrs. Terrill to Temple to face charges in connection with the robbery of the Hempel store Feb. 8 were of the belief that Terrill was the leader of the group that shot Buchanan and that Mrs. Terrill knew of their whereabouts.

Mrs. Terrill was arrested last Thursday by county motorcycle policemen and booked at the county jail for speeding. Search of the car in which she was riding revealed diamonds and jewelry valued at more than $1500.

GIRL SOURDOUGHS

Women Join Gold Hunt At Scene of Find In Arizona

TORNADO CAMP, Ariz. March 21.(AP)—Dainty high heeled slippers, silk hose and afternoon dresses truged along side of hobnailed boots and corduroys yesterday as 2000 men, women and children scouted the hills surrounding this camp in search of souvenirs and claims.

Young women scrambled up the hillsides, stepping wearily among the cactus, intent upon looking at gold. Mothers with babies in their arms clamored over the rocks hoping to locate rich samples of ore. Young men walked around inquisitively wishing to be shown through the Cowboy and other mines. Prospectors and gold seekers dotted the hills in all directions looking for land to stake.

Mingling with pleasure and souvenir seekers were some old prospectors who arrived late, but were intent on taking claims. B. J. Jurick of Tonopah, Nev., an old Nevada mining man, who has attended all the big rushes in that section, arrived yesterday from Weepah and looked over the territory.

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle.

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

AFTER THE "FLU" IS OVER —YOU NEED A TONIC

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victim so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S. S. S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S. S. S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.—Adv.

LIFELESS AND "NO ACCOUNT"

Indiana Lady Suffered 10 Years And Missed Joy of Being Well Until She Took Cardui

Rockford, Ind. — Mrs. Anna Cronin, who lives near this town, says: "I recommend Cardui to my friends because of the way I improved, after taking it. My health had been poor for ten years, before I took Cardui.

"I was lifeless and 'no account.' I dragged around day after day, every move an effort, and never feeling the joy of being well.

"At times, I had a dreadful ache across my back, and my sides hurt me. I worried along, sometimes hardly able to leave my bed, but the demands of a growing family had to be attended to; so I would get up, do what was absolutely necessary, and then lie down again.

"One day, someone suggested Cardui to me. I took it for several months, and all the time I was growing stronger, and less nervous. My aches and pains finally disappeared.

"That was two years ago. My improvement has been permanent. The good health, which followed the taking of Cardui, is still with me, so I do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends."

Thousands of other women have been benefited in a similar way, by the use of Cardui. Take it, when you need a tonic.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR

Drink Lots of Water All Day and Take Salts if Back Aches

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, backaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complaints. —Adv.

MR. WILLIAMS' MERRY MEN HAVEN'T SUFFICIENT ORATORICAL ABILITY TO COP A DECISION OVER THOSE SOX.

* * *

On the other mitten, try to imagine how peaked Umphs Barr may have felt had the Spudders got tough, too. Just an out-and-out case of death by heart failure.

* * *

One would imagine J. Doak for the good of the league would hire arbiters not so easily frightened or, at least, willing to be scared in favor of Texas league teams who pay the freight, instead of barnstorming foreigners.

* * *

Wonder how it feels to be a large major leaguer and make a busher umpire quake on his cleats at a couple of boos.

* * *

Barr performs suspiciously like one of these "turn-around" indicators. You know, "I call one bad on you this time, but I'll even it up next time by calling a bad one on the other fellow."

* * *

Dirty catch there, however. For instance, suppose umphs merely THINKS he called one wrong like Barr did yesterday and then tries to even it up? We might say again like Barr did yesterday endeavoring to swim out of White Sox verbiage overflow.

* * *

Yes, and if you don't know what this is all about you are no worse off than we.

* * *

Your Mr. Ray Schalk may be one of the greatest little backstops in the game today and whatnot, but even when doling out one's sympathy one can't help tittering a bit over the rayuner he got hurt yesterday. Stuck a digit in a called strike, not even a foul tip, just like an amateur or a kid just starting out.

* * *

Oh well, be square with the man and admit Pitcher Blankenship probably crossed him up and bent the ball in the opposite direction.

* * *

Naughty, Naughty

Mr. Schalk is proud of his vegetables, too. Ritzy Ray highbrowed Ichabod into figurative tears at the close of the melee. It was the first chance in his life Ich ever had to converse with a major manager and what did R. R. do but snub him flat. Sent Ichabod over to inquire of Mr. Schalk would he condescend to prophesy, or something, as to his probable starting thrower for Tuesday afternoon. Did Mr. R. R. smile sweetly, or break down and confess? Yes he did NOT. He replied with dignity characteristic of a very important and great man, "Call me tomorrow at 3 o'clock and I'll tell you."

Pilot Williams, being only a minor looper, was not so aloof. He said he expects to use G. Washington Payne and probably Buster Ross, the portsider, for flinging duties today.

White Sox Mix Base Hits And Declamations to Win

Major Leaguers Scare Texas Loop Umpire Almost Out Of Lot, But Fans Get Their Money's Worth When Falk, Boone and Benton Wallop

By BLONDY CROSS.

Rollicking Ray's windy White Sox bumped into a flippant sort of resistance launched by our noble Spudders Monday at the pasture in the opening drive of what is to be a four-game affair. Our nine didn't win, but if the big burly boys from under the big top hadn't intimidated our umpires, why, there's no telling just what might have happened.

The American leaguers shaded the Wichita Falls Texas loop entry, 5 to 4, after scaring diminutive Umphs Nealle Vaught white-eyed and bullying this George Barr, one of J. Doak's prizes who ought to know better, into reversing one of Nealle's decisions. Looks like another great year for the Roberts arbiting staff.

Two of your former Texas playmates, Bib Falk and Ike Boone, were the large noises in the Chicago advance. Bib bopped a couple of full-length doubles. Ike paired one with a single.

But the hitting helmets are doffed to the midget Rabbit Benton, apparently slated for the Spudder Jack-of-all-trades job this summer. Benton pastimed at first base for George LaFayette who nursed a charley horse in the coacher's box. Slants served up by the well-known Theodore Blankenship, Jacobs and Connally all looked alike to Benton. The roving Rabbit rammed Blankenship for a single in the first, tagged Jacobs for another bingle in the seventh and then rifted a two-cushioner to port off Connally in the ninth.

Hindketches Hit

Mr. Williams' backstopping department got kind of loud, also. Frank Tobin pinked a pair for a sack apiece and Pete Lapan strode to the dish in the final frame diked out like a clinch hitter and clanged a two-bagger to starboard. As a pinch walloper, appears Pete is going to peck along for another million percentage this year. You recall they couldn't get Lapan out during the 1926 span when he was shot into the breach twirling a rescue bludgeon.

Schalk's shillalah swingers sank six of Freddy Fussell's slants into virgin territory and counted the surprising sum of two runs over a four-inning period. The eminent southpaw was hindered by a slipping thermometer but flogged 'em across at a comparatively dirty pace. It was the great man's first appearance of the current spring and he did not look like anybody else but the same old unrelenting wronghander, whose hobby in the dog days of '26 was branding the Champion Dallas Steers and domesticating Fort Worth's fuzzy Felines, you know, the one-time Texas league scourge.

Two-Timed Tom

Tom Estell and his spitter swung into action on the knob after Fred quit the job. Tom displayed the usual spring flare for perambulation. Outside of that he worked like a wonder. A seventh-inning oratorical attack by combined Sox forces on the indicating staff in heavy discussion of the Texas league ball-into-the-dugout-two-bases rule delayed further physical action for the greater portion of a half hour. With the sun sinking, a chillier breeze rising, Tom's whip cooled off and stiffened up. So to the twilight stages of the affray the major loopers fell heir, so to speak, to three more runs. The tallies were donations pure and simple to wit, five bases on balls and three bingles. Add a couple of infield outs and subtract three runs.

Doubles by Barrett and Falk registered the first score in the opening round. Benton touched Blankenship on the lead-off for a single in this couplet but was cut down at second on a force by Mann. Then, as the breaks would have it, Fitzgerald rifled a liner past first for a base. Lamb aviated to left and Jenkins bounded to the box.

Kamm singled in the White Sox third with one out and was forced at second by Barrett. Falk followed with his number two double, a slap against the port palings. Barrett scored from first. Boone checked up with an infield safety that Turgeon barely pulled back out of the right field shrubbery and Clancy drew a pass but the aged Peckinpaugh was chopped away on the run by Swenson without another tabulation.

The Spudders broke into the scoring column during the fourth. A walk to Lamb, first up, Jenkins' infield out and a single by Turgeon put the counter across.

Naw, Just Scared

Singles by Tobin and Benton set Wichita Falls in line for a couple more during the seventh. Estell forced Tobin at second but gained a life himself on fielder's choice. Benton dabbed a poke to left. Then Mann pumped an infield roller. On attempt to force Benton at second, Hunnefield, taking the throw, missed the bag and then jungle heaved to the Sox dugout on a would-be fling to first. Estell scored and Benton was semaphored on in by Umphs Barr. Two sacks to the runner, you know, on all tosses into the dugout. After which ensued a lengthy argument. Big boys like Boone and Barrett so agitated Barr that on the next play when Fitzgerald beat out an infield hit and was labelled safe at first by Base Umpha Vaught, Umphs-in-chief Barr threw up his guard, ducked and ordered Fitz out. Wampus-faced murder, huh? Don't cuss George. Blame them Sox. They scared him out of his wits, if any.

As remarked, the Sox rolled over for three in the eighth and ninth. Wichita Falls coming up in the ninth two runs in arrears very near beat 'em, at that. Lapan popped into the public eye with his pinch-double and Benton followed with a ditto slam, scoring Pete. But there was an out already and the next two swatters went down on infield rollers.

SCHALK CRACKS DIGIT.

Ray Schalk, catcher-manager of the White Sox, went out in the third inning yesterday with a fractured middle finger on the right hand. In catching a called strike, the Sox pilot stuck the digit into the ball.

X-ray taken of the injured member last night by Dr. Everett Jones, Spudder club surgeon, showed the second finger cracked near the first joint. Schalk, according to the doctor, will be out of the game at least three and a half weeks.

Shreveport, Sox training camp, was wired for Crouse to join the club immediately as reinforcement to the backstopping department.

Latzo Signs To Box Joe Dundee

Welter Champ Defends Title In Bout May 24

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP) Pete Latzo of Scranton, Pa., the world's welterweight champion, has signed to defend his title in a 15-round match at the Polo grounds May 24, promoter Fugazy announced today.

Joe Dundee of Baltimore will be Latzo's opponent if he accepts an offer wired to his manager by Promoter Fugazy.

The prospective Latzo-Dundee title bout is the first definitely scheduled by Fugazy as a rival attraction for the shows planned by Tex Rickard at the Yankee stadium. Rickard's first open air card, the Sharkey-Maloney heavyweight feature, already is booked for May 19.

Latzo has suffered several setbacks in the middle and southwest recently in "catch weights" bouts but he has not defended his title at the 147 pound limit since last July when he won on a foul from Georgie Levine of New York.

BIB FALK STARS

Schalk Loud in Praise of White Sox Outfielder

A Texas "norther" accompanied by rain made it impossible for the Chicago White Sox to stage the third and final game of their series with the Fort Worth Panthers Sunday. Manager Schalk is elated over the early form displayed by Outfielder Bib Falk. The rangy Texan is hitting the ball to all corners of the lot and fielding brilliantly.

GAME COMMISH WORRIED

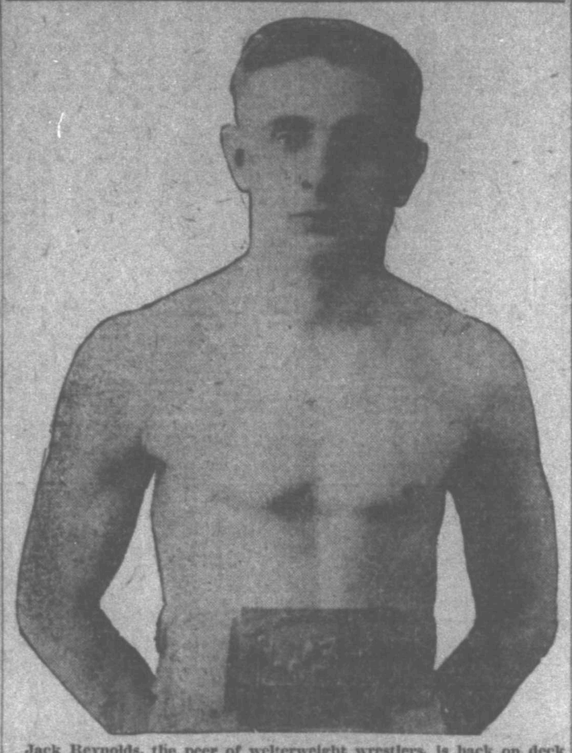

Tucker Afraid Anglers Wont Observe Closed Season.

AUSTIN, March 21.(AP)—Automobiles packed with fishing equipment breezing out through the spring air recently have caused Will J. Tucker, state game commissioner, to wonder whether the March and April closed season on bass and crappie will be carefully observed. Accordingly he today sent out a circular letter in that connection to game wardens throughout the state, calling for strict observance of the fish seasons.

O'BRIAN SAINT CAPTAIN.

AUSTIN, March 21.(AP)—John O'Brian of San Antonio was elected captain of the 1928 basketball team of St. Edwards Monday.

Jack Back Again for Bout With Hallas

Jack Reynolds, the peer of welterweight wrestlers, is back on deck again. The Indiana speedster meets Billy Hallas, conqueror of Charley Grip, in the boys' band weekly mat program feature Wednesday night at the Palace.

Reynolds has shown himself to be one of the cleanest performers in the tin-ear game today. At least, that's the way he has looked in previous Wichita Falls matches. But just how he will stack up against Hallas, one of the roughest and dirtiest on the canvas, is a matter for conjecture. Go on, you do the guessing.

Story of Horse Racing One of Thrills As Told by Veteran of Turf Game

(This is the first of a series of articles on the Kentucky Derby, America's racing classic of classics. The articles are based on interviews given Warren Brown by Col. M. J. Winn, vice-president and general manager of the Kentucky Jockey club, the man who has done more than any other individual to raise the standards of thoroughbred racing in America.)

BY WARREN BROWN
Universal Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1927, By Universal Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 21.—A boy perched on the limb of a tree in the infield at Churchill Downs, May 17, 1875, and watched Aristides win the first Kentucky Derby. A man will sit in the private box of the vice-president and general manager of the Kentucky Jockey club, at Churchill Downs, on May 14, 1927, and watch the fifty-third renewal of the same Kentucky derby.

The boy was Matt Winn, then helping his father establish a grocery business in Portland, a suburb of Louisville.

The man is Col. M. J. Winn, controlling factor in thoroughbred racing, not only in Kentucky, but at Laurel, in Maryland, Fairmont Park, St. Louis, and Lincoln Fields, Chicago.

A Great Story

Between the arrival of the young Matt Winn at the Downs in his father's grocery wagon, 53 years ago, and the presence of Col. M. J. Winn in his private box, master of all he surveys at Churchill Downs today, there is a story—there are a thousand and one stories. Something of the romance, something of the history, something of the aims and the achievements of this man, who has done more for racing in America than any other individual, will be set forth in this series of articles.

In his office at Churchill Downs, Col. Winn reminisced on racing, in between long distance telephone conversations with Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, and way stations. Those who weren't trying to buy more box seats for the 53rd renewal of the Kentucky derby, wanted to hold conferences with the colonel over some part of the racing plans for their territory, this coming summer.

"How did you ever get into racing?" I asked Colonel Winn.

"I grew up in Kentucky," he replied, and considered that matter settled.

Born Racing Man

"As far back as I can remember I was interested in racing," he continued. "I was present at the first Kentucky derby that was ever run. I can hardly forget that one. I saw it from a tree out there in the infield. You know, in those days, people came to the races in mule cars, buggies and other sorts of horse drawn vehicles. I came in my father's grocery wagon, and though the wagon was vantage point enough for the rest, it didn't suit me. I climbed a tree, and saw Aristides win. And I might say, he won all the way. It was quite thrilling sometimes I wish the tree were still out there in the infield. It begins to look as if we will soon have to utilize the trees to find space for the derby visitors, who increase in numbers, year after year, I can hardly know where we will put the 100,000 that will be here this year."

"What sort of a crowd saw the first derby?" I asked.

At this moment, Daniel E. O'Sullivan, associate manager of the Kentucky Jockey club, who had been thumbing the record book, interposed:

"It says here a crowd of 10,000—"

"Ten thousand!" chuckled Col Winn, "why, if there were five thousand there, there wouldn't have been room for the horses to run. The grandstand would not hold more than 800."

First Derby Small

That first derby was worth exactly $2550 to the winner, and $900 saw it.

The next Kentucky derby will be worth considerably more than $50,000 to the winner, and 100,000 will see it.

Truly the Kentucky derby has come a long way since Matt Winn, the three climbing young salesmen saw Aristides beat Volcano, and Volcano lead Verdigris, back in 1875.

Tomorrow Col. Winn will tell of the derby that gave him his greatest thrill.

Statz Wins Over Diamond Linkers

Robins' Outfielder Champion Baseball Golfer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21. (AP)—Baseball's champion golfer is Arnold Statz, new outfielder of the Brooklyn Robins. Approximately enough, his nickname is "Jigger," after a golf club with which he gets amazing results.

The baseball world forgot the national pastime Sunday for a golf tournament at the Jungle Country club.

Statz shot a 39-40-79 in the morning to clean up everything in sight. Among the vanquished were such favorites as Sam Rice, Washington outfielder, with two 40's; Eppa Rixey, lengthy Cincinnati hurler; Dazzy Vance of the Robins and Goose Goslin of the senators, all boasting 85's.

A play-off became necessary, however, when an unheralded rookie, Frank McCrea of Cleveland, drifted in with a 39-40-79. Statz took him right back to the links and shot a 78 while the rookie wilted to 86.

Rotound Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Robins, added more luster to the club name by winning the senior handicap championship with an 89-15-74 against the card of 85-4-81, the best Clark Griffith of the Senators, his closest rival, could do. Carl Mays won the handicap players' event with an 83-8-75 against Nick Altrock's 83-7-76. Nick did no clowning during the round.

Silver loving cups were presented the winners at a banquet given by Al Lang, baseball fan.

FRENCH STARS WIN

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, French Davis cup stars, won their opening matches in the national indoor championship tournament Monday. Drawing a first round bye Borotra easily defeated the New York veteran, R. Roberts in the second round, 6-1, 6-2, while Brugnon advanced with a love set victory over Ferdinand Geller, New York, junior, 6-0.

SPUDS RETAIN 1926 OUTFIELD

Texas Graced With Strong Pasture Patrols

The Spudders will carry the same outfield this season they finished the 1926 scramble with, so it appears. Tom Jenkins, Howard Fitzgerald and Lyman Lamb, three of the Texas league's classiest gardners apparently will do the ball spearing in the far reaches again under Carl Williams' direction. Jenkins and Fitzgerald are lefthanded hitters. Lamb swings from the right side. Jenkins whammed the leather last season only at a fair clip—fair enough to lead Texas league wallopers. Both Fitz and Lamb pound the pill over the .300 mark.

So it looks like Williams intends to stand pat on his outer works. However, the veterans are being pushed for their jobs by a trio of newcomers, Sam Jones, speedy Dallas semi-pro; Clyde V. en, last year pilot at McAllister; and Floyd Trexler, drafted from the Virginia league at the close of the 1925 season. Trexler, who did not participate in organized baseball last summer but who stayed in condition by playing in semi-pro contests, has reported to the Spudders and is ready to try to shunt one of the hold-overs out of a job. He hit well over .300 in 1925. Is a righthanded batter.

STEERS PLAY PONIES AGAIN.

DALLAS, March 21.(AP)—The Dallas Steers and Southern Methodist University Mustangs will usher in spring Tuesday afternoon with another rodeo number, the dogeyes having taken the first stampede, last Thursday, 12 to 9. At that, the pintos gave the Herd the toughest wrangle they have had this year, grabbing 11 safe hits from a string of hurlers that included Dick Shuman, Darrough and McMoll. Hume, Woolridge and Miller likely will take the mound for the Steers Tuesday.

By Universal Service.
WACO PRAYS

WACO, March 21.—Waco fandom is praying these days along with Manager Del Pratt; praying for Max West and Frank Wilson, now in spring training with the Phillies, to be sent back to the Cubs. With West and Wilson patrolling the outer pastures, Pratt will have two of the best fly hawks in the circuit. The third outfielder berth has been practically cinched by George Reinhart, a left handed batter, who murdered the ball at a .400 clip last year with Spartinburg of the Sally league.

ZIGGY SLIPPING

FORT WORTH, March 21.—The pasture police Jakie Atz has been playing in the exhibition games seems destined to start the season although the railbirds seem to think that Ziggy Sears will be among the missing when the bell rings. Eddie Moore has been playing right field, Joe Benowitz, center field and Sears left field. Clayton, a youngster obtained from the Three-Eye league is in camp and he is the clap the fans expect to see in left this year. However, Sears has been tossed on the discard heap for the last seven years but he is always in there when pay checks are distributed.

SPORTS HAVE HITTERS

SHREVEPORT, March 21.—The Sports will have an outfield capable of punching Spaulding for more than .300 this year. Lyman Nason and Chink Taylor are two outfielders who are sure of berths and it is almost a cinch that Spencer Harris, who sat the 1926 season out on the White Sox bench, will be the third outfielder. Norvell will be carried as a utility man.

BUFFS ALL SET

HOUSTON, March 21.—Here's the Buffs outfield for the 1927 pennant grind. Ray Powell in left, John "Pepper" Martin in center and Hack Miller in right. There are several other hard hitters trying to crash into the outer works but the above trio seems to have first call. Powell and Miller are experienced outfielders but Martin came to the Buffs from the Parent club, the Cardinals, as an infielder, and it was only recently that he made known his desire to play farther away from the plate. Since going back to the fences Martin has played bang up baseball and even hits harder and more often.

SNIPER IN DOUBT

DALLAS, March 21.—Snipe Conley has decided on two of his outfielders but the third is still in doubt with Spec Comstock having first call. Fred Brainard, ball murderer extraordinary, will play centerfield and Hack Miller, Dallas "Hack," will play right. Roy Elsh formerly with the White Sox and later with the Portland Pacific coast league club, is a candidate for left and it will be another fortnight before fans will know who the left fielder will be, Comstock or Elsh.

SHIPPERS PICK CATS

BEAUMONT, March 21.— Two former Cats will be in the Exporter's outfield this year, "Stump" Edington and Ernie Vache. The third outfielder will probably be Rebel Dunning, rounding out an aggregation of hard hitting, fast fielding ball hawks. Jim Galloway and the fans in particular believe the 1927 combination is a far better one than the 1926 layout.

Know Him?

Here is a shot of Ted, Lyons, most effective twirler on the White Sox last season, when he was captain of the Baylor basketball team. He jumped center and was considered the best offensive player in the conference. He is one of the fellows who traveled direct from college to the diamond.

Big Rookie Crop Worries Ables

Bear Prexy Unable to Get 'Em All Farmed

SAN ANTONIO, March 21. (AP) Farming out the rookies is the immediate problem of President Harry Ables of the San Antonio Bears. While the regulars were kept idle Sunday by rain, Abels spent the day down at Mission watching his second team romp all over the Mission Valley leaguers again and incidentally talking to Mission club officials regarding acceptance of a few young Bruins on option. San Antonio's rookie crop is the best this spring that has ever gathered here.

In addition to the men who apparently have cinched regular jobs, Manager Mitze is debating with himself on which two rookies of the following he will keep under the new league rookie rule: Outfields Moos, (who hit four times in four appearances as a pinch hitter against Detroit), Sullivan, (who made five hits against Mission yesterday including a homer with the bases full), and Sanguinet, Cheese and Collins; Infielders Harris, (a clever young first sacker), Behrens and Hetherly; Catchers Arratti and Tankersley and Pitchers Morgan, Newman and Victor, as well as half a dozen others of class C experience.

POLO FINALS TODAY.

SAN ANTONIO, March 21.(AP) Everything is in readiness for the final polo match to decide the elimination eve nof the fourth annual Southwestern mid-winter polo tournament Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Fort Bliss and the Fort Clark teams clash on Brackenridge Park field.

PRUNING KNIFE STILL ON HIGH

Few Major League Rookies Cut Adrift So Far

ATLANTA, Ga., March 21.(AP) The forces of major league baseball marshalled today for the fifth week of training in the south and still there was no sign of a general reduction in the number of plates laid at conditioning tables. While great slashing of rookies and others had been anticipated by minor league "ivory" seekers for several days, they were beginning to despond as managers clung to every player of possible ability.

Only in the camps of the Washington Senators and St. Louis Cardinals have recruits in numbers been released and even in these, there appears room for additional trimming, according to diamond observers. When the great era of "axe" wielding will officially start has all guessing.

Welch Checks Out

Connie Mack has let Frank Welch, utility outfielder of the A's for several years, go to the Atlanta club, in one of the few "farming out" deals reported. Frank has long been conceded a dangerous man at the bat, but Mack said his "lack of aggressiveness" caused him to send him to the minors.

As usual for the last ten days, exhibition games featured today's training in Florida with nine of the eleven clubs quartered in the state scheduled for action. Only the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants were without regular scheduled combats.

The Tribe, however, managed to win a game by walloping its yannigans, 3 to 2, at Lakeland. Manager Jack McCallister was cheerful after the game as only one miscue was committed. The Indians have been losing rather consistently in spring games and have been shaking the lineup frequently in an effort to obtain a winning combination.

McInnis Worried

Bolton, Ballard and Perry hurled for the regulars with Buckeye, Levsen and Karr working for the yannigans. All of the hurlers worked in excellent form. With these three regulars having worked for the rookies today, "Mac" is wondering where he will get pitching material for another practice session tomorrow, as Yowell has a sore arm and Hudlin is in Oklahoma where he was called because of illness in his family. Shortage of pitchers also had Stuffy McInnis of the Phillies worried at Plant City, where the team had gone to meet the Columbus American Association club. Sore arms are handicapping the slab staff and the game today was played only after a request for cancellation had been denied.

The Boston Red Sox were idle at New Orleans because of a heavy rain.

At San Antonio, Moriarity drove the Tigers through practice sessions, despite the mud and water on the field. The Detroiters were obliged to borrow Leo McConnell, catcher, from the Fort Worth, Texas league, club to take the place of Manion, who suffered a split thumb Sunday in an exhibition game with Laredo.

The Chicago White Sox continued their tour of Texas minor league camps.

ADAMS SIGNS BIFF BILL

DENVER, March 21. (AP)—Governor W. H. Adams today signed a bill passed recently by the legislature legalizing 10-round boxing matches under supervision of a commission of three members.

VACCA WALLOPS LABARBA AGAIN

BOSTON, March 21. (AP)—Johnny Vacca of Boston, tonight won the decision over Fidel LaBarba, world flyweight champion, in a 10-round bout at the Boston arena. They fought at catch weights and the champion's crown was not in danger. It was Vacca's second win over LaBarba within a few weeks.

Vacca weighed 118½ pounds and LaBarba 117.

The champion had the edge in the first four rounds but in the fifth Vacca began to come on. He scored heavily in the seventh, slowing the champion considerably. There was little to choose between them in the final rounds, but Vacca did the forcing.

TEXAS A LEADER IN CROP VALUES

TEXAS is a leader in crop values. It stands at the head of the crop producing states. Total value of Texas' farm crops for 1926 was about $36,000,000 greater than in in 1925. A woman, Miss Florence Sands of the Texas Farm and Ranch staff told the story, but not for the first time, to a bunch of advertising men in a North Texas city.

She said that Texas leads the nation in crop values producing 7 1-2 per cent of all agricultural crops. She said while the United States showed a large decrease in agricultural crop values for 1926 Texas showed a decided increase. She said that living at home and boarding at the same place has put the Texas farmer in an economic position to better weather a low crop market than at any other time in history.

And lastly, she said the effect of the decline in the cotton market was more psychological than real for the reason that in 1926 Texas doubled her poultry and poultry products crop. "Bust the barns" was the slogan in 1926 in many central Texas counties. The slogan was carried out to the letter, but it is a mistake to say that the barn busting was caused by a large crop of cotton on a large acreage.

Food stuffs and feedstuffs in great profusion had a vast deal to do with busting the barns in that year. This made it possible for the farmer to live at home. The farmer who believes in the dividend making values of the cow and the sow and the hen. This is the program that is going to win in the year 1927.

PORT OF CORPUS CHRISTI

TEXAS co-operatives are active in Texas. Their association officials have let it be known tha tas soon as storage facilities are made vailable at the port of Corpus Christi the Texas Farm Bureau association will concentrate its cotton there coming from 35 counties in South Texas. Facilities will be available in time for the coming delivery season, it is said. In the past all cotton was concentrated at Houston.

Corpus Christi port facilities it is claimed will enable the association to affect a large saving in concentration and freight charges. The port in Houston will still be used for deliveries other than that from South Texas points where it can be handled more economically at Corpus Christi.

A great producer of cotton is the Magic Valley. A great producer of cotton is the lower coast country. Picking begins early. Selling begins early and the great bulk of the crop is picked and marketed before the upper country cotton growers approach the selling season.

This is one of the reasons why the lower country producers are in better financial condition than cotton growers of North Texas and West Texas sections.

READY FOR THE VOTERS

AN IMPORTANT house joint resolution ran the gauntlet of the senate when the resolution providing for state board of education was sent on its way. Before passage the senate adopted amendments cutting the limit of the terms of office from ten to six years. It is provided that the legislature shall be empowered to set by law terms of office of school officers, including boards of the institutions of higher learning, at not to exceed six years.

This also originally read ten years.

A number of very important amendments to the constitution have been submitted by the lawmakers. These call for the reforms outlined by the governor in his campaign and later made platform demands by the San Antonio convention. Court reform and reform in educational machinery and procedure are issues that have been uppermost for years in Texas.

Now the qualified voters must shoulder the responsibility for their adoption or rejection.

STEEL EARNINGS VERY LARGE

IT IS announced that the United States Steel corporation for 1926 showed the largest earnings in its history. Gross sales and earnings amounted to $1,508,076,090, compared with $1,406,505,195 in 1925.

Now if the House of Agriculture could be placed on a paying basis, all would be well. Steel is protected by high tariff. Steel makers know how to regulate production. Steel salesmen know where to find markets. Steel financiers know how to fix prices.

There are millions of farmers, they are unorganized, they do not know how to restrict production and they sell on the open market, sell when they need money for the landlord, the banker and the merchant.

There may be a way out of it. It will require the wand of a magician to do the work. Texas will be great when the commonwealth is a manufacturing state as well as a producer of foods and raw materials. There is a new civilization on the way.

BETTING ON ELECTION

REPRESENTATIVE BARNETT submitted a bill early in the session to make betting on elections a felony punishable by imprisonment. It is dead. It was killed by a vote of 69 to 52. It was denounced as a menace to respect for the law, a witch burning variety of legislation, and the majority of the lower house lawmakers would not stand for it. A fool and his money are soon parted, but it appears to be the business of the fool, as well as his funeral. There are great gamblers in Wall street. In Wall street the sky is the limit. All the big winners are classified as Napoleons of finance; all the losers are classified as sheep and lambs. Business is business.

KING TAKES HIS MEDICINE

SENATOR W. H. KING, Utah democrat, has abandoned his plans to force an entry to Haiti. President Borno of Haiti is a black and tan. This Utah Mormon democrat does not look good to the black and tan president of the negro republic. It is laughable to say the the least, for an American senator of the high standing of King to be barred by the pompous president of a little island. Borno is within his rights; King is aware of it. This may be the reason why he has taken his medicine and is willing to let it go at that.

A STORY OF MYSTERY, SUSPENSE AND LOVE

THE SOB-SISTER

WHAT HAS HAPPENED:

DIANA BROOKS, beautiful daughter of ROGER BROOKS, owner and publisher of the Catawba City Times and a chain of nine other newspapers, was kidnaped and in a short time released, unharmed. Her father is engaged in a persistent fight against the corrupt administration of Catawba City and through the medium of the Times, redoubles his scathing attacks on politicians of the ring and defies the underworld.

A few days later Brooks himself disappears. DONALD KEENE, literary editor, in an attempt to locate Brooks, is wounded and forced to remain entombed for 50 hours in a sub-cellar. With him is EDNA (TEDDY) FARRELL, his ward, and Sob Sister of the Times. She effects their rescue and while both are in a hospital, Roger Brooks suddenly reappears.

When Don is convalescing he asks Teddy to marry him out of gratitude and because he has learned that she loves him. She accepts, but later refuses him, realizing that he does not love her in the same way that she loves him.

Roger Brooks on his return, finds that Brooks newspaper stock is being manipulated and suspects JOHN W. WALDEN, member of a prominent law firm, of being involved in the plot to wreck the Brooks organization. He visits Walden who maintains an evasive attitude. Brooks continues his investigations.

"Anna Sutherland—is MY daughter," the voice went on steadily. "The illegitimate half-sister of Diana."

NOW GO ON

CHAPTER XIV

"Good!" he ejaculated, his leonine head thrown back, "gimme th' partic'lars."

"Th' partic'lars are these," said the city editor, seating himself in Pop's one "extra" office chair. "This fellow, Copley, is just th' tool of a gang and th' gang is made up of tools of the ring. Mr. Creedy an' I had a talk with Copley this mornin' and he told us this much—just enough to show us he could be persuaded to give out th' whole story 'bout your kidnaping, at least."

"Uh-huh," said Pop tentatively.

"Well," went on Bill, "assurance of immunity an' a hundred bucks will pull th' dope outta him."

"Good stuff—when do you see 'im again?"

"He's to meet me here at th' Times at 5:30 p. m." Bill glanced at the small time-piece on Pop's desk. "An hour t'm now. Shall I bring 'im up when he arrives?"

"Yes, I'll be waiting for you. Just a minute," as the other made a move to rise, "I want to tell you something."

He reviewed briefly the particulars of his call on J. W. Walden Sr., of the lawyer's peculiar friendliness, his admission about being approached by an agent buying Brooks stock and the unsolicited promise to sell to none but him, Pop—if he sold at all.

"To hear him talk," continued Pop Brooks, his shaggy brows contracting to form an almost unbroken line across the broad forehead, "you'd think my personal affairs, my interests, my family even, were of paramount importance to him. At that," he added quickly with a sudden lowering of voice and bending a shrewd look on Bill Canfield, "if it so happens that my recent-born suspicion proves correct then Jawn Walden has got one heluvalot of interest in my personal affairs!"

The gleam that leaped into his listener's eyes seemed to warm the cockles of Roger Brooks' heart. He chuckled softly and leaning over, patted the other's knee. To an onlooker the little action would have carried no particular significance; with Pop just then it conveyed a world of meaning—implied a trust that was implicit, a faith unassailable.

"You never heard th' inside facts, Bill," went on the Big Boss, and there was that in his deep rumble that held the promise of something specially interesting. "Th' inside story of—of th' Anna Sutherland case. Wait—" as the man seated before him gave a start and seemed about to speak, "wait till I tell you something first. Then you can talk, if you wish. It so happens that it is particularly opportune right now, this little story of th' Anna Sutherland case. So listen carefully."

The former look of calm expectancy on Bill Canfield's face had given way to one of vitally absorbing interest. The fingers of his right hand clutched the chair arm and he sat straight up, waiting.

"You, of course, remember th' trial well as you reported it yourself," began Pop in a reminiscent tone. "It was 10 years ago this April, you'll recall. Th' Times, from start to finish, favored Tom Sutherland. In fact, you know and I know and th' public knows it was th' continuous pounding by th' Times on th' question of th' 'Unwritten Law' that ultimately freed Sutherland."

His listener nodded, waiting. Pop went on, choosing his words with meticulous care.

"John W. Walden Sr., was attorney for th' defense. You expressed some disgust, I remember, when th' announcement was made that Jawn W. was to appear for Sutherland. I told you then there was a reason—but I didn't tell you what th' reason was. I'm going to tell you in a minute.

"It's needless to go into th' partic'lars of th' case. On its face it was very much like scores of other triangle tragedies. Anna Sutherland was th' apple of Tom's eye. She was beautiful—too beautiful for her own good. He trusted her—too well, his friends said—and so it seemed from the evidence. She liked sociability, was fond—no, eager—for admiration. She had a bunch of men tagging after her all th' time. Tom looked on—and grinned.

"But, there came a time when he didn't grin. When he learned his Anna had gone to Barry St. Clair's apartments after a dance—alone with him—then Tom swore, both loud and deep. He told St. Clair to keep away from his wife. He told her to behave herself.

"But St. Clair ignored Tom's warning and made a wager in th' presence of some of Tom's friends that Anna Sutherland would visit him—alone—in his rooms th' following night.

"And she did—or so Tom then believed. We know what happened, St. Clair was killed—shot through th' heart in his own bedroom by Tom Sutherland. Tom gave himself up at once. He had no money for a lawyer. John W. Walden—to everybody's surprise—offered his services. Why? Nobody knew. Even you expressed wonder as well as disgust. I'm going to tell you very shortly why. Tom came up for trial. Then hell broke loose. Tom refused to allow his wife to testify in his behalf. Refused th' plea of th' Unwritten Law.

"But Anna Sutherland had better sporting blood in her veins than her former actions had shown. She proved her love for Tom by insisting upon taking th' stand and telling just why her husband shot Barry St. Clair.

"She swore to a lie. She took oath that she was th' woman of whom her husband had caught a flash leaping from th' window of St. Clair's bedroom at 1 o'clock in th' morning.

"This testimony saved Tom Sutherland from hanging—freed him, in fact. But th' woman who had been in St. Clair's room that night and leaped from th' window as Tom Sutherland threw open th' door of th' apartment was NOT Anna Sutherland. But her husband believed it was—then. Later he learned th' truth. That's why Anna and he are together now out in California. How do I know all this?"

The deep rumbling voice stopped. In Roger Brooks' gray eyes was a look such as Bill Canfield had never seen there before. He waited. The little clock on the desk ticked away the seconds. A half minute passed, a minute. Then:

"Anna Sutherland is—is MY daughter," the voice went on steadily. "The illegitimate half-sister of Diana. She is now 39 years old. Her mother died when she was 2 years old. She was adopted by a respectable couple. They died and I placed th' child in a convent where she was raised—as my niece.

"I can't go into th' story, Bill. I was married. I'm nor trying to excuse myself, but—well, th' circumstances were unusual. I always looked out for her, protected her in every way I could and gave her plenty of money. Neither she nor Diana know th' facts. They both think she is my niece. John Walden, unfortunately, knows th' truth. It was me that engaged him to defend Anna's husband. Since that day Jawn W. has "borrowed" some $40,000 from me without security or even th' scratch of a pen. I told him today th' debt was cancelled.

"But Jawn is far-sighted. That's why he is interested in my affairs. And it's because of this interest—and th' thing I suspect—that I've told you th' inside story."

He lapsed into silence. . . . The little clock on the desk ticked on. . . . From outside came the faint roar of city traffic. . . .

"Do you care to tell me, Pop, what is it—this thing you suspect?" asked Bill Canfield after a long wait, a throbbing note in his low-spoken tones.

The gaze of the Big Boss was fixed on some unmarked spot on the opposite wall. But he was seeing through that wall and back down the years. And Bill Canfield, looking at him saw on the reflex lens of his own mind the same scene, perhaps that Pop Brooks was seeing. He had witnessed it 10 years before.

A big court room, the judge and jury, the crowd of curious spectators. He saw a woman, young, beautiful, rise suddenly and request the judge to be allowed to testify. He saw a young man leap to his feet and cry out in protest against such testimony.

But the judge waved the woman to the witness chair. He heard again that story—told to save a man's life. He saw the jury pass out, one by one. Then he saw them return. He heard their verdict—justifiable homicide! Then he saw the young man, broken in spirit, white, led away by friends. He saw the woman looking after the retreating form of the young man she had saved at the sacrifice of her name—her honor. . . . He saw her sway, then sink to the floor.

The scene shifted. He was standing in the doorway of a bungalow in beautiful California looking out at a pleasing sight under some orange trees. . . . A man of 35 stood leaning carelessly against a tree, a happy smile on his face.

There's a surprising development in the next chapter.

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, March 20. (EPS). Among the former drivers of horse-drawn cabs who have yielded reluctantly to the march of progress and are now piloting prosaic taxicabs, are the three Rogers brothers, Hughie, Charley and George, all of whom have their cab stands in Columbus Circle.

Hughie is a venerable and benign looking old gentleman, who remembers days when the social amenities were observed better in New York than they are now, and courtesy and gentility was the rule rather than the exception.

Hughie always says, "God bless you, sir," or "God bless you, mam," when a passenger leaves his cab and pays the fare. The effect of hearing Hughie say that is at first startling, so much at variance is it with the usual surly and predatory look that New York taxicab drivers have.

Hughie used to drive a hansom cab from in front of the Union league club. He knows the history of all the old Knickerbocker families and by the surviving members of the old gentry he is known familiarly as "Hughie." Distinguished judges, bankers and men of affairs often stop to chat with Hughie and tell him news of their sons and daughters.

* * *

At Forty-seventh street and Broadway yesterday I saw an auto truck full of live steers. While the truck was held up in traffic I asked the driver about his consignment. The steers, he said, were being brought over from New Jersey to be slaughtered by the small kosher butchers on the east side, one steer to a butcher. The slaughter of each steer is a rite performed by a rabbi.

* * *

Observation of a Chicagoan on a recent visit to New York: "Girls in New York wear skirts of approximately the same length as the girls in Chicago—perhaps the New York skirts are half an inch or an inch longer on the average—but New York girls are more modest in that they do not cross their legs in public conveyances. Legcrossing is the rule among the fair sex of Chicago."

* * *

Among the pleasures of living in New York is that of hearing the ash-can symphony which is played at about 6 o'clock in the morning. The technique of this orchestra is quite precise. A huge truck drives up to your apartment house door and stops.

The driver first sounds a terrific blast from his auto horn, although there may not be another vehicle on the street. Then two huskies leap to the sidewalk. They lift the ash-cans to another husky who stands up on the side of the truck. This husky pours the ashes from the can into the truck with a movement similar to that of a soda-jerker mixing a drink with two glasses.

Then instead of handing the can to the other huskies, he sees how far he can throw it. It crashes to the sidewalk, bounds, rattles and falls over on its side. One of the huskies picks it up and throws it again, trying to make it land end-up at the side of the building. The other husky is meanwhile doing the same thing with the other can.

When the cans are empty and upright, they move on 25 feet to the next entrance and repeat the process. It is better than an alarm clock for getting you awake, because you can turn off an alarm clock and go back to sleep.

* * *

More facts about New York that are not in the guide-books:

There are 139,000 licensed taxicabs on Manhattan Island. The driver of each cab is required by law to display his name, license number and photograph on the inside of the cab. The placard reads: "The driver of this cab is ———." Usually for your ease of mind it is best not to look at the photograph.

If you are driving a car and go by the lights on the traffic towers in Fifth avenue during the hours of heavy traffic congestion you are liable to get a bawling out or a ticket. Watch for the individual signal given by each policeman at each street intersection. The signals may change from red to green twice and a cop my continue to let the stream of traffic through, or contrariwise, he may hold up the north and south traffic for the cross-town traffic a similar length of time.

Nearly a dozen of the better-class New York hotels refuse to rent ballrooms to high school and college fraternities for evening parties because the "parties of such organizations are too rowdy and too wet." At a fraternity ball at the Belleclaire recently an inebriated youth tried to do a trapeze act on a glass chandelier and the whole thing gave way, ruining the ceiling, ruining the chandelier and ruining the polished floor. Four youths at the party had to be carried out the rear entrance on stretchers. Twenty-two Louis XVI chairs were broken. That is too much of a good thing, say the managers.

There are more than 300 chiropodists in Manhattan and the Bronx, most of them having their offices in Broadway.

There are 68 amusement places, including motion picture and vaudeville houses huddled together within a radius of a few blocks from Times Square. In this same area there are an estimated 6,000 speak-easies.

There are only 24 motorcycle cops in the city of New York, all of whom are called into service as escorts whenever a distinguished visitor arrives in town. Speeders are kept in check in Central park, Fifth avenue and Riverside park, by details of two policemen in a Ford runabout. These pairs of cops are locally referred to as "The Dolly Sisters," "The Gold Dust Twins," and "Ike and Mike, They Look Alike."

Daily Lenten Devotion

Topic for the Week
"SPIRITUAL DISCERNMENT."

Tuesday

"Our Awareness of God Is to Be Trusted."

Scripture: Read—Matthew 5:1-12.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Mt. 5:8.) "I thank thee, O Father . . that thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes" (Mt 11:25.) "I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life" (Jn. 8:12.)

See—Romans 1:20; I Cor. 2:10.

Meditation: Quickly the babe becomes sure of the presence of people. It may take some time to distinguish between father and mother, nurse and stranger. So the pure of heart, the sincere of soul, the child-like of mind, are aware of God. That awareness may be dim, but it is a growing acquaintance. Am I more aware of God today than a year ago? What am I doing to sharpen my spiritual discernment?

"When I myself am still, I catch Thy still small voice and then I know that Thou art God."

Hymn:

Dear Lord and Father of mankind,
Forgive our feverish ways;
Reclothe us in our rightful mind,
In purer lives Thy service find,
In deeper reverence, praise.

Drop Thy still dews of quietness,
Till all our strivings cease;
Take from our souls the strain and stress,
And let our ordered lives confess
The beauty of Thy peace.

Breathe through the heats of our desire
Thy coolness and Thy balm;
Let sense be dumb, let flesh retire;
Speak through the earthquake, wind and fire,
O still small voice of calm.

—John G. Whittier, 1872.

Prayer: Thanks for fellowship of believers.

Pray for—pure hearts; strangers; the impure.

Collect — Almighty Father, whose power knows no limit, let us feel within us the movings of Thy might. We thank Thee for life, marvelous in its ways. We bless Thee for the world, rich in its wooings of life. We rejoice that Thou are a spirit with whom our spirits may commune, and that Thou hast shown forth Thy nature in the Christ who lives with Thee and with us. We praise Thee for the high privilege of prayer in which spirit blends with spirit. Mercifully forgive us that we have so often chosen the satisfaction of our lower instincts to the impoverishment of the soul. Quicken, we pray Thee, our inner awareness of Thee; so shall temptation have no authority over us. Through Thy grace, we engage to walk in all Thy ways. Amen.

The ONE-MINUTE PULPIT

It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness; for the throne is established by righteousness.

Righteous lips are the delight of kings; and they love him that speaketh right.

The wrath of a king is as messengers of death; but a wise man will pacify it.—Proverbs, 16:12-14.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.—Adv.

ELECTRA PERSONALS

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, March 21.—J. W. Duff, who was operated on recently in the Electra hospital is reported improved.

NEWPORT, March 21.—There is one case of smallpox at Vashti which has been quarantined and there is no fear of any further spread of the disease.

Her Worst Worry Ended for a Dime!

A Body Sweetness that Even Perspiration Can't Spoil

All the trick laxatives in the world can't tempt people who understand the properties of cascara.

A hundred different drugs will purge the bowels, but a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew!

Your grandparents took "salts," and slowly washed away the mucous membrance with the waste! Mineral oils are better, but they leave the coating that your blood must then carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

Don't get in the habit of taking medicine for constipation—or even for auto-intoxication. If you have the habit, stop it. A candy cascaret is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them and the taste tempts most grown-ups to take "more." And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascaret tonight! All druggists, 10c and 25c.—Adv.

"WHAT A JOY it was to find such an aid to utter cleanliness! My system is so purified, perspiration doesn't stain my garments and I just forget self now, after I've taken one or two—

KID DUGAN

By Dick Dorgan

Friend Al:

Just a line to tell you I worked against the Giants last Sunday in a practice game and Connie says "Take it easy in there today, boy. Don't pitch your arm out this time of year." So I laid one in the groove for Hornsby, and he hit for three bases, although, if Connie hadn't of warned me and I had of wanted to pitch to him, I would have made a sucker out of him. Those birds that stand a mile back from the old pan can't never get a foul off of me if I don't want them to.

Yours,

Jack Keefe.

THIRD PECOS PRODUCER MAKES 545 BARREL FLOW MONDAY

W-TEXAS YIELD SHOWS GAIN

Upton and Crane Each Get New Producers

SAN ANGELO, March 21.—A flow of 545 barrels in 24 hours by Mid-Kansas No. 3 Yates in Pecos county, five times greater than any previous yield, and one new producer each in Crane and Upton counties were Monday's oil developments. The Yates well was drilling at 1066 feet, 30 feet in the pay, which is deeper than the pay has been penetrated in any of the other aYtes wells, which remain shut in.

Upton Producer

Republic's No. 6 Baker in Upton, topping the pay at 2282 feet was drilling at 2315 and standing 2300 feet in oil. Gulf No. 6 McElroy in Crane county, topping the pay at 2709 feet, was drilling at 2730 feet after flowing 234 barrels in six hours.

A gain of 4036 barrels daily production was registered last week by six of West Texas' producing counties, offsetting t osome extent a drop of 12,250 barrels in the daily yield in North, Central and West Texas counties. In its first production test of 23 hours, Texon-Marland's No. 1 Settles, in northeastern Glasscock county, pumped 225 barrels of oil. Bryant-Atlantic's No. 3 Baker in Upton county gauged 104 barrels of oil the first 24 hours. Importance was attached to the striking of potash in Henshaw-Barnsdall's No. 1 University in Crockett county. The drill entered beds at 530 feet and had not passed out of them 100 feet deeper.

Crane Increases

Crane county increased its daily pipeline runs last week to 21,905 barrels from 16,503 barrels the preceding week due to the bringing in of new wells. This topped Upton county production for the first time. Howard county gained from 1319 to 1936 barrels and Winkler county rose from 300 to 310 barrels daily. Crockett county recorded a slight slump, from 1259 to 1212 barrels. The heaviest deposits of potash that had been struck in the Henshaw-Barnsdall No. 1 University in Crockett county from 525 to 545 feet, from 563 feet and from 598 feet to 609 feet.

Texon's No. 1 Settles in Glasscock county went on the pump after water apparently was shut off by landing 10-inch casing, with a packer, to 1263 feet, the bottom, in blue shale. The pay was penetrated from 1235 to 1245 feet. This is shallower than any pay sand in the Chalk field in southern Howard county four and one-half miles to the northwest, and, if production does not meet expectations the well probably will be deepened in an effort to tap lower pay. In Howard county Marland's No. 1-D Chalk struck the pay at 1714 feet and was swabbing and testing.

MURCHSON SELLS

Humble Buys Interest of Murchison in Wheeler County

AMARILLO, March 21. (Sp.)—The Humble Oil and Refining company has purchased the 7-32 interests of the Murchison Oil company in the old Murchison-Fain oil interests in the Shamrock field of Wheeler county.

The deal affected 1674 acres, mostly in block 24, H. & G. N. survey, and in the heart of the Shamrock field and around it.

The deal calls for the Humble to pay $45,000 in cash and $50,000 in oil, after the Humble has recovered $100,000 in oil, after the Humble has recovered $106,000 in oil from the property. The purchase increased its holdings to 21-32, the Fain interests retaining their 7-32 interest.

17,887,607-BALE CROP

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The 1926 cotton crop was placed at 17,887,607 running bales, or 17,916,216 equivalent 500-pound bales, by the census bureau today in the final ginning report.

The quantity of cotton consisting of linters and counting round as half bales, included 284,041 running bales which ultimately estimated would be turned out after the March canvass of the crop compares with 16,122,816 running bales or 16,184,616 equivalent 500-pound bales in 1925 crop and with the department of agriculture estimate, made last December, of 16,618,000 equivalent 500-pound bales.

Until the census bureau's final ginning report today there had been much uncertainty as to the exact quantity of the record breaking crop which would be picked and ginned. Early reports indicated considerable low grade cotton might be left unpicked in the fields because of the low prices of cotton and the scarcity and high price of labor.

The number of gins operated was 26,743 compared with 14,482 in 1925.

The final ginnings by states in equivalent 500-pound bales follows:

Alabama	1,497,797
Arizona	172,206
Arkansas	1,543,427
California	250,925
Florida	21,935
Georgia	1,491,102
Louisiana	1,452,963
Mississippi	1,982,973
Missouri	218,159
New Mexico	84,466
North Carolina	1,284,436
Oklahoma	3,789,157
South Carolina	997,151
Tennessee	455,154
Texas	4,669,291

Donley County Farmers To Terrace Acreage As Means Of Saving Crops

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, March 21.—At meetings of the chamber of commerce of Clarendon with numerous farmers of the county the real desires of the farmers have been placed before the business men of Clarendon.

On account of there being no county agent to carry out the work of the farmers the secretary of the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce has been lent to the farmers over the county in their terracing wants. Several meetings have been held lately over different parts of the county that have been quite a help to the farmers.

A meeting in the Goldston community was had at which several farmers were given instructions on how to set up and operate the terracing level. Two other meetings, one in the Brice community and another near Clarendon were given at which irrigation possibilities were worked out. The vocational agriculture class of Clarendon high school was present at the meeting near town and many good lessons were learned from the demonstration.

A terracing machine was purchased during the fall by the county commissioners' court and placed at the disposal of the farmers of the county. Less than a dozen farms of the county are terraced. This work at frequent intervals will be carried on by the new secretary, G. L. Boykin, who has extensive training in farm project work.

STOP WATER HAULS

City of Mc-Camey Lets Water Works Contract

SAN ANGELO, March 21.—Hauling of water in tank cars from Alpine and Fort tSockton to supply McCamey, Upton county, soon will be made unnecessary. The oil field town, which in less than a year has developed to one of 5000 population, has awarded to Roy Irick of Plainview contracts for a water works system and sewer plant. The total cost will exceed $129,000. J. S. Barlow, consulting engineer of Dallas, who made the preliminary surveys, including the location and development of a water supply, will supervise the construction.

News of The Fields

TURBEVILLE POOL.

Petroleum Producers company and L. T. Burns furnished the largest completions over the weekend, each of them bringing in a well making approximately 600 barrels initial. Petroleum Producers completed its No. 1-B, in block 124, Robt. Carson survey in the 1430-foot horizon, the well swabbing between 500 and 600 barrels initial. This well is northeast and west of No. 4-C which is apparently a dry hole. L. T. Burns drilled in No. 1-E in block 124, and it equalled the performance of the Petroleum Producers well.

GULF, MILNER.

Gulf Production compahy's No. 2 J. T. Milner, in section 30, block 9, H. & T. C. survey, Wilbarger county, swabbed 294 barrels in the 24 hours ending Sunday morning. The sand in this well is at 1473-93 feet.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Smaller ginning figures than expected caused an excited advance in the cotton market early today, but after selling up to 24.45 for May, or 57 points net higher, the market reacted under southern selling and realizing. May closed at 24.21, or 22 points off from the best, the general market closing barely steady at net advances of 22 to 39 points.

The opening was firm at an advance of 26 to 54 points on the census report showing a final ginning of 17,887,607 running bales, counting round as half, or 17,916,216 equivalent 500-pound bales. The market had been looking for a report of around 18,000,000 running bales and the figure evidently took traders by surprise.

There was a rush to cover recent sales and fresh buying supposed to be partly for trade account, which quickly sent prices up to 24.39 for March and 24.75 for October, while December sold at 24.32, or within 3 points of the high price touched at the beginning of this month. Resisting was heavy at the advance, however, while there was also some southern selling. After the first flurry of buying had been supplied, the volume of business tapered off with prices reacting.

Offerings were readily absorbed on setbacks of 10 to 12 points during midday and there appeared to be further trade buying, but the market weakened again toward the close when southern selling was more in evidence and the late months made new low prices for the day in the last few minutes. October selling off to 24.01.

The early buying probably was stimulated to some extent by reports that farm work was being delayed by wet weather with floods in some parts of Mississippi, Ark., but the bullish influence of the smaller American crop figures was offset to some extent by reports that private estimates of the world's 1926-27 crop were being increased to 5,700,000 to 5,800,000 bales from previous estimate of 4,850,000 in bales of 400 poudds.

Early sales from Liverpool were lower than due, owing to badge selling and liquidation predicted by the China sea situation, but prices there rallied after the publication of the census report.

Exports 15,131, making 5,565,547 so far this season. Port stocks 44,715; United States port stocks 2,697,597.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 21. (AP)—Cotton was quite active today, stimulated by the small total ginnings of 17,887,607 running bales for the season, and the trade had bought for a total in excess of 19,000,000 bales. As a result, first trades showed gains of from 15 to 23 points and by the end of the first half hour of trading the advance had reached 30 to 37 points. This substantial bulge naturally attracted a good deal of profit taking which was accompanied by a sacrifice of 13 to 15 points. Thereafter the market steadied and a little quieter and during the afternoon the price fluctuations were not great and the undertone remained strong. In the late trading there was another wave of buying which caused a drop of 9 to 18 points additional and the market closed barely steady at gains of 37 to 58 points.

Liverpool came in lower than due, but bulged after the ginning figures were received. Locally prices opened higher showing progressive gains of 15 to 53 points. Prices continued to advance after the start owing to a wave of covering and a good deal of trade and speculative buying. Finally May traded up to 24.69, July 24.69 and October 24.72.

This bulge induced profit taking and prices gradually eased off 13 to 16 points from the top. In the late trading prices eased off 5 to 10 points additional on further selling orders. The market closed barely steady but still nearly two dollars a bale above Saturday's close.

Sales/spots for the day totaled 12,721 bales.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—The stock market displayed a complete reversal of form today, selling down rather sharply in the morning when pressure was removed against a number of industrials and specialties, but rallying briskly later under the leadership of the high grade rails. Many stocks moved counter to the general trend throughout the day, with the result that final quotations displayed considerable irregularity. Trading did not maintain the active pace set in the closing days of last week.

Outside the stock market, chief speculative interest centered in the rally of $2.50 to $3 a bale in cotton, following the publication of the census bureau estimate on ginnings. This showed only 17,918,216 bales, as against the December estimate of 18,618,000. The widest discrepancy in the last ten years. The trade had expected the actual figures to be close to the December estimate. Other commodities showed little change.

The shifting of speculative interest from the industrials to the rails to the stock market was the familiar phenomenon staged by professional operators whenever one group shows signs of tiring. It was not associated with anything in the day's news, although the attractive returns provided by many high grade railroad stocks, as compared with the current yield on high grade bonds, was advanced as a "reason" for the announcement of the carrier stocks. The usual merger and dividend rumors were in circulation, but continued to lack confirmation. From a stock market standpoint, two of the most interesting developments of the day took place after the close. One was the publication of the weekly Federal Reserve bank statement on brokers' loans, showing an increase of $21,458,000 in the week ended last Wednesday, and the other was the announcement that William C. Durant, who has been prominently identified with several important market operations in the last few years, proposes to devote his entire time to the motor interests. Call money held steady at 4 per cent all day and there was no change in time money and commercial paper.

Attempts again came to the fore as a market leader, scoring an extreme gain of over 6 points, most of which was retained, by touching 179¾. Notwithstanding President Storey's recent conservative reminder on overproduction, the heavy buying of this stock revived talk of a special distribution. Norfolk and Western, the floating supply of which is relatively small, followed Pennsylvania railroad's purchase in the last year moved up over 2 points to a record high at 113¾. Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, ordinarily inactive, jumped 5 points to 90 on a single transaction. Delaware and Hudson and Lackawanna also recorded sharp gains.

General Motors was again the bellwether of industrial transactions, in that issue alone completed more than one-tenth of the day's entire volume of business. The stock ¾ lower at 179 after having dipped to 178¼. U. S. Steel common showed a sharp gain of 1 to 163¼. Commercial Solvents, B soared 7 points to a record top at 27¾, and good buying developed in Montgomery Ward, National Lead and Woolworth. Houston Oil was again under pressure, breaking about 10 points to 97½, and then recovering about half its loss. Renewal of selling pressure against American Brown Boveri, the Continental Shipping and the Southern Dairies issues and Warner Brothers Pictures sent all of them to new low levels for the year.

Foreign exchanges held fairly steady in quiet trading. Demand sterling mixed around $4.85 3-16 and French francs just above 3.91 cents.

FATHER SEEKS TWO CHILDREN

Writ of Habeas Corpus Filed Against Society

Writ of habeas corpus for the release of his two daughters from the custody of the Texas Children's Home and Aid society was filed Monday by Sam Washburn in the 78th district court.

The plaintiff alleges that March 16 police officers took into custody two girls, 13 and 15 years old, and placed them in the custody of the society. Mrs. Katherine Henricle, superintendent for the society was named defendant in the writ.

The court set the hearing on the application for 10 a. m. Tuesday.

IOWA PARK RULING

Case Involving City Ordinance Quashed by Court

Motion to quash a charge of violating a city ordinance in Iowa Park, filed against C. E. Davis, was sustained Monday by Judge C. M. McFarland, in the county court at law.

The motion was made by attorneys for the accused man on the plea that the charge had not been correctly drawn when filed. The plea did not affect the constitutionality of the ordinance which prescribed certain conditions under which a house could be moved within the city limits.

Interpretation of the ruling of the court still allows the filing of a correctly drawn charge against Davis for the alleged violation of the ordinance.

AD CLUB LUNCH

Irrigation Expert to Talk at Meeting Today

O. K. Barnes, irrigation expert of the chamber of commerce, will be principal speaker at the weekly Ad club luncheon Tuesday at the Kemp hotel. J. A. Kemp and others interested in irrigation will be special guests, according to an announcement made Monday.

REALTY BOARD

An informal discussion on housing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention will feature the weekly luncheon and meeting of the Real Estate board at the Kemp hotel Tuesday.

HE'S NEW CITIZEN

Mr. and Mrs. W. Guy Sinclair, 1714 Fillmore, announce the arrival Sunday afternoon of W. Guy Jr., at the Hargrave-Walker hospital. The young scout weighed in at 7 1-2 pounds. Mr. Sinclair is production scout for the Gulf Production company.

IN THE GLOW OF THE CAMP FIRE

Forming a large circle around seven candles which were also arranged in a circle, local Camp Fire Girls held their grand council in the basement of the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon. Wearing the ceremonial gowns, the girls entered from the back stage door in two lines.

"Trees," was the theme of the council fire in keeping with the national project of "Tree Year" in Camp Fire. The members gave the handsign of the fire as a greeting to their free friends, and sang "Wohelo for Aye." The seven candles were lighted as follows: The flame colored candle by Charlotte Kennedy, representing "home," flame for fire in the hearth. Lee Ellen Boardman, red candle for pure red blood. Frances Hyland, green candle for handcraft; Lois Brackett; by brown representing the color of the woods; Edith Crump, the blue candle representing the color of the sky; Mary Katherine Ward, the yellow candle representing business, was lighted symbolizing the color of gold. The systematic lives of trees in putting out buds, then the flowers, than the leaf, and last the fruit; the shedding of leaves in the autumn all inspires the Camp Fire Girl to be systematic and thrifty in her daily life. Hazel Hobbs, the lighting of the red, white and blue candle representing patriotism. Camp Fire Girls are proving themselves better citizens by planting trees, by preserving those already planted and by becoming better acquainted with the trees.

Miss McIlheran gave a talk on the "Tree Year" in Camp Fire, telling how the Grand Rapids, Mich. Camp Fire Girls planted a D. F. forest, by setting out 10,000 trees last year, 90 per cent of which lived.

Tree year was decided upon for the 1927 birthday project. Wichita Falls Camp Fire Girls have planted trees in the schools and church yards, and on Saturday, seven trees were set out in Scotland park near the community fireplace which is a contribution from the Camp Fire Girls.

Miss McIlheran compared people to trees, showing how some are scrubby little bushes which never seem to amount to anything while others are giant redwoods of California, whose influence lives on through the ages.

Real Navajo bracelets were awarded girls in different groups which went into the efficient contest. Julian Bobo made the presentation speech, congratulating the girls on their fine work in tree planting and in the contest. Bracelets and honors were awarded as follows: Frances Hyland, bracelet and honor; Edith Crump, bracelet and honor; Hazel Hobbs, bracelet and honor; Lois Brackett, bracelet; Berneil Caruthers, bracelet; Lee Ellen Boardman, bracelet and honors; Pauline Huffman, honor; Katherine Brooks, honor; Thelma Bridges, honor.

The Alahi group won the group prize which was a large leather skin, to be used to beautify their Camp Fire room; this group won 895 points with an average of 89 per cent in attendance for two months.

New members were welcomed into the circle as new trees, these new trees will strive to grow strong and upright as their sisters.

Girls that took the woodgatherer rank, the first rank in Camp Fire were: Bernice Treyathan, Beatrice Short, Winnelle Ward, Mildred Merrill, Hazel Hobbs, Louise Brackett, Margaret Davis and Mrs. A. A. Brackett. Frances Hyland earned her firemaker rank which showed she has not been idle in the year that she was a woodgatherer. The council fire was closed with songs and the girls filed out, with those dressed in ceremonials leading the way.

Monday First "Official" Day of Spring

Take me out to the ball game—

Getting out the old hook, line and sinker—

New clothes for Easter—

That's thoughts for spring—and it's here.

Spring arrived Monday and made its appearance on the end of one of the coldest waves visiting North and West Texas this year.

Two months until "readin,' 'ritin' and 'rithmetic" are forgotten for three months in favor of the "ol' swimmin' 'ole," was the first thought of the younger generation when spring arrived.

But, "papa's" thought was how much he is going to have left in the family treasury after "mamma and daughter" are through getting "dolled up" for Easter.

The first day of spring is the starting of the period of the year when daylight commences to increase the time of its daily appearance, while the nights' time appearances decrease.

Majestic: "Orchids and Ermine," with Colleen Moore, through Wednesday; Topics of the Day, comedy and Pathe News.

Olympic: "Blonde or Brunette," with Adolphe Menjou, through Wednesday; special vaudeville attraction, comedy and Fox News.

Strand: "Going Crooked," with Bessie Love, through Wednesday; comedy.

Mission: Bebe Daniels in "The Campus Flirt," and No. 10 "The House Without a Key."

Gem: Lon Chaney in "The Road to Mandalay," and comedy.

Garden: "The Warning Signal," with all-star cast, western picture and comedy.

Can a pampered girl go to college, trample on cherished tradition and—get away with it?

Ask Bebe Daniels. She knows, having been through every possible entanglement in campus ethics. How she skated on the thin ice of social downfall is told—sandwiched between a thousand laughs—showing at the Mission today and Wednesday.

Bebe's story concerns itself with the activities of a college girl who "high hats" everyone failing to come up to her own ridiculous standard. The girl's subsequent treatment at the hands of her fellow students provides one with a laugh each second.

How she defeats Charlie Paddock, "world's fastest human," playing a featured role; how she refuses to "walk home" from a boat ride, and any of a hundred other situations, will keep you in hysterics. El Brendel's inimitable caverting with Minnie, his pet mouse, is a comedy classic. James Hall, the third featured player, makes a creditable screen bow.

Bessie Love is cast as a dainty little crook in Fox Films version of "Going Crooked," the intriguing crook comedy drama which comes to the Strand Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story revolves about the activities of a gang of jewel thieves, their one fatal slip, the love of a beautiful adventuress for the young district attorney who goes crooked to prove his love for her—and the advantures of a stolid detective who bungles the case.

There are thrills, suspense, a real love story, plenty of comedy and a smashing climax at the end.

IOWA PARK NOTES

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, March 21.—Alvin Tanner left this week for Waco, Texas where he again enters Baylor University.

R. C. Pace, wife and baby are here this week visiting his brother, T. J. Pace. Mr. Pace lives in Slaton, Texas.

GAS COMPANY GETS PERMIT

County Grants Franchise For Telephone Line

Franchise to the Lone Star Gas company for the erection of telegraph and telephone poles in Wichita county along its pipelines was issued Monday by the county commissioners court.

The company, according to its application for a franchise, will operate a private telephone and telegraph system in connection with its pipeline business.

Brass and string bands will be prohibited in the future from using rooms in the courthouse for practice purposes, the court ordered. The order does not apply to religious organizations, that have in the past used the courthouse for meeting purposes.

WAIVES EXTRADITION

Waiving extradition proceedings, a man by the name of Union Eunice was taken to Adel, Ga., Saturday by a deputy sheriff from that place. Eunice is wanted in Georgia on a charge of horse theft.

He had been in jail here for more than a month, having been arrested on a pistol carrying and vagrancy charge.

MAKES $500 BOND

Charges were filed Monday by Constable Frank Morgan in federal court against W. A. Box for transporting liquor for sale. Box's bond was set at $500 which he perfected.

RED PEPPERS END BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowels on each package.—Adv.

TRIALS DELAYED

89th District Court Forced To Advance Calendar

Due to pending civil cases in the 89th district court, four criminal trials set Monday were postponed.

Hearings for Lucille Cobb, negress, accused of burglarizing the home of John O'Neil and Ned Cocsey, charged with assault to murder, set for Monday were postponed until Wednesday. The trials of Jack Taylor, accused of violating the liquor law, and Roscoe Arbuckle, charged with theft, also set for Monday were continued until the April term of court.

BOND ISSUE

Highway Committee to Discuss Issue at Meeting Today

Meeting of the highway committee of the chamber of commerce to discuss the issuance of bonds, totaling $1,750,000 for the improvement of Wichita county roads will be held Tuesday morning in the directors' room of the chamber of commerce.

The committee recently presented to the county commissioners court a petition asking for the calling of an election on the bonds. No action has yet been taken by the court.

TENDER FEET. Aching burning, swollen, shoe-chafed feet. The minute you put your feet into a "Tiz" bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. "Tiz" draws out the poisons and acids that cause foot misery. It is almost magical.

"Tiz" takes all the soreness out of corns and callouses. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet comfortable.

"TIZ" for tired aching feet

Queisser May Name New Chief Today

Resignation of George H. Hodgins as chief of police, effective April 1, was accepted Monday night by the city council.

The motion to accept the resignation was made by Frank Queisser, fire and police commissioner, who said:

"We all regret Mr. Hodgins decision." Queisser announced that he would appoint a successor to Hodgins either Tuesday or Wednesday.

A request that the council find some means to absorb an overdraft of the Kemp Public library and allow the institution to start off the fiscal year, commencing April 1, with a "clean slate" was presented by W. D. Cline, member of the library board. The overdraft is approximately $1900. The request was taken under consideration by the council.

Cline told the council that in cities the size of Wichita Falls statistics disclosed that the income of a public library should be $40,000, while in this city it was only $14,000.

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS ALL OVER FACE

Was ashamed to be seen—simple remedy brought quick improvement

Munden, Va., Aug. 5:—"Awhile ago I began to be troubled with enlarged pores and blackheads. Then pimples developed, and even boils. My skin was very sore and in a terrible condition. It was so disfigured and unsightly I was ashamed of it. I tried about everything to be had for pimples, but with no good results. I had heard Resinol Ointment and Soap so highly recommended for troubles like mine, I decided to try them. After one treatment there was a decided improvement, and the pimples began to fade away. I advise everybody with skin trouble to try Resinol." (Signed) Miss Hazel Beasley.

Your druggist sells Resinol Soap and Ointment. Why don't you try them?

STOP PAIN QUICK WITH CAPUDINE

Headache, neuralgic and rheumatic pains, lagrippe headache, periodical pains and other nerve pains yield almost instantly to Capudine. Being liquid, Capudine acts in one-fifth the time required by tablets and powders.

Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves.—not by deadening them. That is why it is perfectly safe and is approved by physicians and druggists. Capudine does not upset the stomach and contains no opiates. At all drug stores; family size 60c, individual size 30c. Full directions with each bottle.—Adv.

What to do First for Colds and Flu

Your doctor will prescribe something to quickly and completely cleanse out the entire bowel tract. Frequently constipation is the cause of colds and flu. The new way and the sure way to do this is with Klok-Lax which contains ingredients now recognized the world over to completely cleanse out the 25-foot intestinal canal of all poisonous wastes. And Klok-Lax is so easy to take—no nausea—no griping—no salts or oil the next day—and yet you are thoroughly cleaned out, congestion relieved, liver active—head clear and the poisons in the bowels moved out.

Just Klok-Lax with a swallow of water tonight and by morning you surely will feel great.

Your druggist will guarantee Klok-Lax.—Adv.

Tasteless YEAST and IRON adds pounds of weight in 3 weeks. Clears ugly pimples—or pay nothing

In deeply over ugly blotches and pimples

Skin clearing; eruptions almost gone

"A Lovely Skin for an Ugly One"

"My complexion was terrible. My skin was just covered with pimples and boils on my face, neck and arms—and I didn't know what to do. Nothing seemed to help. Then I started taking IRONIZED YEAST, and through using these wonderful tablets only three weeks, I have the clear skin I have always wanted. I can't say enough in praise of IRONIZED YEAST."
Miss M. S., Buffalo, N. Y.

Delighted with the clear, lovely skin brought by IRONIZED YEAST

Truly amazing are the beautifying effects of IRONIZED YEAST. You almost see pimples, blackheads and sallowness disappear. Daily, as you watch, comes the clear, youthful, velvety skin you have always admired in others.

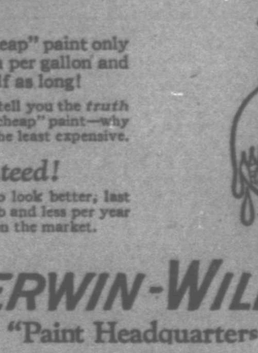

You know how yeast clears up the complexion and digestion and sets your whole system right. You know how iron enriches the blood and tones up the system. Just imagine these two valuable elements in a new concentrated form that is 9 times more effective than yeast and iron taken alone! That's IRONIZED YEAST.

IRONIZED YEAST gives you all the purifying-building benefits of cod liver oil.

If you are thin, scrawny and have a poor skin—start IRONIZED YEAST today. It will add 5 to 10 pounds of good firm flesh (not fat) in only two to three weeks. No bitterness. No pasty taste. Safe for everybody; contains no harmful drugs.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Go today to any drug store. Get a full sized treatment. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with effects, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 to THE IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 84H

Don't be fooled by "cheap" house paint

When you are tempted by wonderful claims, elaborate guaranties and a very low price to buy "cheap" paint, remember this:

"Cheap" paint sells at a low price because it is low in quality—poor stuff. That's the only reason a manufacturer can afford to sell at a low price.

By the gallon it costs you less. But don't let that fool you. By the job and by the year it will cost you many times more than good old

SWP HOUSE PAINT

That is because "cheap" paint only covers half the area per gallon and lasts only about half as long!

Come in and let us tell you the truth about the high cost of "cheap" paint—why SWP House Paint is the least expensive.

Guaranteed!

SWP is guaranteed to look better, last longer, cost less per job and less per year than any house paint on the market.

Valuable decorative assistance—free

Monday First "Official" Day of Spring

Take me out to the ball game—

Getting out the old hook, line and sinker—

New clothes for Easter—

That's thoughts for spring—and it's here.

Spring arrived Monday and made its appearance on the end of one of the coldest waves visiting North and West Texas this year.

Two months until "readin,' 'ritin' and 'rithmetic' are forgotten for three months in favor of the "ol' swimming' 'ole," was the first thought of the younger generation when spring arrived.

But, "papa's" thought was how much he is going to have left in the family treasury after "mamma and daughter" are through getting "dolled up" for Easter.

The first day of spring is the starting of the period of the year when daylight commences to increase the time of its daily appearance, while the nights' time appearances decrease.

telling how the Grand Rapids, Mich. Camp Fire Girls planted a D. F. forest, by setting out 10,000 trees last year, 90 per cent of which lived.

Tree year was decided upon for the 1927 birthday project. Wichita Falls Camp Fire Girls have planted trees in the schools and church yards, and on Saturday, seven trees were set out in Scotland park near the community fireplace which is a contribution from the Camp Fire Girls.

Miss McIlheran compared people to trees, showing how some are scrubby little bushes which never seem to amount to anything while others are giant redwoods of California, whose influence lives on through the ages.

Real Navajo bracelets were awarded girls in different groups which went into the efficient contest. Julian Bobo made the presentation speech, congratulating the girls on their fine work, on tree planting and in the contest. Bracelets and honors were awarded as follows: Frances Hyland, bracelet and honor; Edith Crump, bracelet and honor; Hazel Hobbs, bracelet and honor; Lois Brackett, bracelet; Berneil Caruthers, bracelet; Lee Ellen Boardman, bracelet and honors; Pauline Huffman, honor; Katherine Brooks, honor; Thelma Bridges, honor.

The Alahi group won the group prize which was a large leather skin, to be used to beautify their Camp Fire room; this group won 895 points with an average of 89 per cent in attendance for two months.

New members were welcomed into the circle as new trees, these new trees will strive to grow strong and upright as their sisters.

Girls that took the woodgatherer rank, the first rank in Camp Fire were: Bernice Treyathan, Beatrice Short, Winnelle Ward, Mildred Merrill, Hazel Hobbs, Louise Brackett, Margaret Davis and Mrs. A. A. Brackett. Frances Hyland earned her firemaker rank which showed she has not been idle in the year that she was a woodgatherer. The council fire was closed with songs and the girls filed out, with those dressed in ceremonials leading the way.

Can a pampered girl go to college, trample on cherished tradition and—get away with it?

Ask Bebe Daniels. She knows, having been through every possible entanglement in campus ethics. How she skated on the thin ice of social downfall is told—sandwiched between a thousand laughs—showing at the Mission today and Wednesday.

Bebe's story concerns itself with the activities of a college girl who "high hats" everyone failing to come up to her own ridiculous standard. The girl's subsequent treatment at the hands of her fellow students provides one with a laugh each second.

How she defeats Charlie Paddock, "world's fastest human," playing a featured role; how she refuses to "walk home" from a boat ride, and any of a hundred other situations, will keep you in hysterics. El Brendel's inimitable cavorting with Minnie, his pet mouse, is a comedy classic. James Hall, the third featured player, makes a creditable screen bow.

Bessie Love is cast as a dainty little crook in Fox Films version of "Going Crooked," the intriguing crook comedy drama which comes to the Strand Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story revolves about the activities of a gang of jewel thieves, their one fatal slip, the love of a beautiful adventuress for the young district attorney who goes crooked to prove his love for her—and the adventures of a stolid detective who bungles the case.

There are thrills, suspense, a real love story, plenty of comedy and a smashing climax at the end.

GAS COMPANY GETS PERMIT

County Grants Franchise For Telephone Line

Franchise to the Lone Star Gas company for the erection of telegraph and telephone poles in Wichita county along its pipelines was issued Monday by the county commissioners court.

The company, according to its application for a franchise, will operate a private telephone and telegraph system in connection with its pipeline business.

Brass and string bands will be prohibited in the future from using rooms in the courthouse for practice purposes, the court ordered. The order does not apply to religious organizations, that have in the past used the courthouse for meeting purposes.

WAIVES EXTRADITION

Waiving extradition proceedings, a man by the name of Union Eunice was taken to Adel, Ga., Saturday by a deputy sheriff from that place. Eunice is wanted in Georgia on a charge of horse theft.

He had been in jail here for more than a month, having been arrested on a pistol carrying and vagrancy charge.

MAKES $500 BOND

Charges were filed Monday by Constable Frank Morgan in federal court against W. A. Box for transporting liquor for sale. Box's bond was set at $500 which he perfected.

RED PEPPERS END BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowels on each package.—Adv.

TRIALS DELAYED

89th District Court Forced To Advance Calendar

Due to pending civil cases in the 89th district court, four criminal trials set Monday were postponed.

Hearings for Lucille Cobb, negress, accused of burglarizing the home of John O'Neil and Ned Cossey, charged with assault to murder, set for Monday were postponed until Wednesday. The trials of Jack Taylor, accused of violating the liquor law, and Roscoe Arbuckle, charged with theft, also set for Monday were continued until the April term of court.

BOND ISSUE

Highway Committee to Discuss Issue at Meeting Today

Meeting of the highway committee of the chamber of commerce to discuss the issuance of bonds, totaling $1,750,000 for the improvement of Wichita county roads will be held Tuesday morning in the directors' room of the chamber of commerce.

The committee recently presented to the county commissioners court a petition asking for the calling of an election on the bonds. No action has yet been taken by the court.

TENDER FEET. Aching burning, swollen, shoe-chafed feet. The minute you put your feet into a "Tiz" bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. "Tiz" draws out the poisons and acids that cause foot misery. It is almost magical.

"Tiz" takes all the soreness out of corns and callouses. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet comfortable.

"TIZ" for tired aching feet

Queisser May Name New Chief Today

Resignation of George H. Hodgins as chief of police, effective April 1, was accepted Monday night by the city council.

The motion to accept the resignation was made by Frank Queisser, fire and police commissioner, who said:

"We all regret Mr. Hodgins decision." Queisser announced that he would appoint a successor to Hodgins either Tuesday or Wednesday.

A request that the council find some means to absorb an overdraft of the Kemp Public library and allow the institution to start off the fiscal year, commencing April 1, with a "clean slate" was presented by W. D. Cline, member of the library board. The overdraft is approximately $1000. The request was taken under consideration by the council.

Cline told the council that in cities the size of Wichita Falls statistics disclosed that the income of a public library should be $60,000, while in this city it was only $14,000.

PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS ALL OVER FACE

Was ashamed to be seen—simple remedy brought quick improvement

Munden, Va., Aug. 5:—"Awhile ago I began to be troubled with enlarged pores and blackheads. Then pimples developed, and even boils. My skin was very sore and in a terrible condition. It was so disfigured and unsightly I was ashamed of it. I tried about everything to be had for pimples, but with no good results. I had heard Resinol Ointment and Soap so highly recommended for troubles like mine, I decided to try them. After one treatment there was a decided improvement, and the pimples began to fade away. I advise everybody with skin trouble to try Resinol." (Signed) Miss Hazel Beasley.

Your druggist sells Resinol Soap and Ointment. Why don't you try them?

STOP PAIN QUICK WITH CAPUDINE

Headache, neuralgic and rheumatic pains, lagrippe headache, periodical pains and other nerve pains yield almost instantly to Capudine. Being liquid, Capudine acts in one-fifth the time required by tablets and powders.

Capudine relieves pain by soothing the nerves,—not by deadening them. That is why it is perfectly safe and is approved by physicians and druggists. Capudine does not upset the stomach and contains no opiates. At all drug stores: family size 60c, individual size 30c. Full directions with each bottle.—Adv.

What to do First for Colds and Flu

Your doctor will prescribe something to quickly and completely cleanse out the entire bowel tract. Frequently constipation is the cause of colds and flu. The new way and the sure way to do this is with Klok-Lax which contains ingredients now recognized the world over to completely cleanse out the 28-foot intestinal canal of all poisonous wastes. And Klok-Lax is so easy to take—no nausea—no griping—no salts or oil the next day—and yet you are thoroughly cleaned out, congestion relieved, liver active—head clear and the poisons in the bowels moved out.

Just Klok-Lax with a swallow of water tonight and by morning you surely will feel great.

Your druggist will guarantee Klok-Lax.—Adv.

Most people like to deal where prices are fixed—where they do not have to haggle or bargain. You'll find that condition here. Lending money is our business.
