County Jail Will Be Dismantled Starting Thursda

Contract For New Building To Come Soon

Lubbock County Commissioners Court Takes Action At Meeting Monday; Project To Offer Employment Here

Plans To Be Drawn

Prisoners To Be Housed In City Jail And Nearby Counties During Construction Of New Structure; To Rush Work

DISMANTLEMENT of the Lubbock county jail will be started Thursday morning and contract for construction of a new jail probably will be let within 30 days, County Judge E. L. Pitts announced late Monday following a meeting of the county commissioners court at the courthouse.

D. N. Leaverton, Lubbock contractor, was employed by the commissioners court to supervise razing of the jail. Local labor will be used. A representative of Southern Prison company of San Antonio will supervise dismantling and moving of the cells, Judge Pitts said. Another representative of the company is conferring with the contractor.

To Use Fixtures

"A large percentage of the present fixtures probably will be used in the new jail, and others needed will be added," the county judge said. The jail must be razed completely before it can be determined what parts are suitable for use in the new structure, according to Judge Pitts.

A total of $30,000 is available in the present jail fund and it is estimated that warrants aggregating $50,000 or $55,000 will suffice to supplement the present fund to build a modern jail, Judge Pitts said. Architects are preparing plans for the new structure to be presented to commissioners' court.

Capacity of the new jail probably will be 100, and it will be planned so that prisoners can be segregated as required by law, according to Judge Pitts. Capacity of the present jail, which is overcrowded, is 28.

"The new jail will be built so that space can be added either for jail

Plea Opposed For New Line

Santa Fe Testimony Claims San Angelo Traffic Would Not Justify Extension Of Abilene & Southern Line

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 9. — Testimony presented by the Santa Fe before Examiner Thomas Sullivan of the interstate commerce commission on the application of the Abilene and Southern to extend its lines into San Angelo was accumulative evidence that the traffic into this city was on the decline and that with the coming of the Southern Pacific owned Gulf and West Texas would not be sufficient to support the lines already in this city.

J. S. Hershey, general freight and passenger agent of the Gulf Colorado and Santa Fe, said that San Angelo had the equivilant of five railroads in the Santa Fe branches which served this city in every direction. He said that he could not assume that one day service from San Angelo to Fort Worth and Dallas would benefit the city, because he did not think the Abilene and Southern and the Texas Pacific could render such service.

He pointed out that the building of the Gulf and West Texas would also offer San Angelo additional rail service through the connection with the Frisco at Brady. He said this line would not only give another good connection to Fort Worth, but it would also give a direct line to St. Louis and other Mississippi points.

Four Men And Fifty Horses Die In Blaze

Caretakers And Valuable Well Known Thoroughbreds Perish At National Horse Show In Calif.; Loss $325,000

(By The Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Cal. Feb. 9. — Four men and fifty or more valuable horses, many of them champions and all of them well known thoroughbreds, were burned to death here today by a fire that swept the grounds of the Oakland national horse show at the rear of the city auditorium.

The men were caretakers who slept in the building and tents that house the show. The horses were entries in the sixth annual horse show that closed Saturday night.

"The bodies of the four men were identified by friends and employers as those of John J. Thomas and Michael McCarthy, employes of the farm stables, Pomona, Cal., George Uhling, 55, San Francisco stableman employed by the horse show, and "Big Harvey," negro hostler.

The value of the horses burned was estimated by show officials at $300,000 and the value of equipment destroyed at $25,000. Only the fact that several owners had shipped their entries yesterday probably saved many other fine horses from a fiery death.

The cause of the fire remained a mystery tonight with firemen and city officials inclined to believe it originated with a carelessly tossed cigarett. Tom Scott, of Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church's stables, Newport, R. I., said he believed the fire was deliberately started.

Blue Clad Men Of Coast Win Victory Over Lake

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 9. (AP)—The blue clad men of the coast guard scored another victory tonight over that treacherous inland sea, Lake Erie.

After a 50-hour battle with bitter winds, blinding snow and fog, they brought ashore ten men who had faced death on grinding ice floes. They were the last of 57 saved since Saturday.

Among them were seven coast guards who were trapped by shifting ice as they went out from shore for the last boatload of marooned fishermen.

The injured were Leroy Cole, driver of the truck, J. W. Nowlin, Leon Frith and L. H. Harris.

Urge Adoption Of Compromise Drouth Relief

Democratic Leader Robinson Given Hoover's Assurance Of Sympathetic Administration Of $20,000,000 Fund

Ask Prompt Action

Arkansas Senator Declares Farmers Could Use Loans For Whatever Purposes They Saw Fit In Rehabilitation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. — Adoption of the drouth loan agreement was vigorously urged in the senate today by Democratic Leader Robinson with President Hoover's assurance of a sympathetic administration of the $20,000,000 fund.

Pleading that prompt action was imperative if relief is to be in time, Senator Robinson upheld the agreement through a round of questioning by doubtful members on both sides of the aisle.

Says Uses Varied

The Democratic leader insisted the drouth stricken farmers could use the loans for whatever purposes they saw fit in rehabilitating their farms.

"No man is going to work his crop naked," Robinson finally asserted, showing some impatience at the persistent questioning regarding availability of loans for food purchases.

"He's not going into the golden glory of the sunshine with an empty stomach. He's going to have food and he's going to have clothing. It's not a gift, however, it's a loan. For God's sake how strange are the imaginations of some. In my opinion a large part of the proceeds of these loans will be spent for food—there isn't any doubt about it."

President Hoover's letter to Senator Robinson reached the capitol just in time to save a threatened overthrow of the compromise agreement resulting from the doubts in Democratic ranks as to the administration of fund intended by Secretary Hyde, as expressed in his letter of Saturday.

Thompson Case Given To Jury

Death Penalty Asked By Fred Weeks, Special Prosecutor, In Night Session; Defense Attacks Malice Claim

(By The Associated Press)

VERNON, Feb. 9. — The case of Emmett Thompson, accused of participation in the beating to death of Homer Crabtree, was given to the jury here tonight after Fred Weeks, special prosecutor, in the closing argument for the state, had asked the death penalty.

The final argument for the defense was given by Cecil Storey of Vernon, who attacked the state's claim of malice and stressed testimony which had pointed to friendship between Thompson and Crabtree. He also attacked certain character witnesses of the state.

Preceding Storey in arguments District Attorney John Myers asked the death penalty.

In a night session, beginning at eight o'clock, Weeks closed for the state.

Crabtree received fatal injuries in a fight involving Thompson and Carl Hefner. Hefner recently was given a 99-year penitentiary sentence in a trial at Pampa, while Thompson's case was transferred to Vernon.

N.M. Solons Would Place State In Liquor Business

Official Comment Is Lacking As Bill Causes Surprise

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA FE, N. M. Feb. 9.—Some members of the New Mexico legislature want to put the state in the liquor business.

Introduced today as a measure to circumvent the Eighteenth amendment, a bill proposing a state liquor dispensary apparently occasioned such surprise that official comment was lacking.

Newspapers delineating the nature of the measure sold like hot cakes on the floor of the legislature and in the corridors of the capitol.

The bill seeks not only to get around the national amendment but the state amendment as well, New Mexico having adopted constitutional prohibition. Its backers asserted the state and national laws apply only to persons, associations and corporations, and do not in any prohibit a sovereign state from manufacturing and selling liquor.

The bill provides $50,000 to build a brewery or distillery, creates a commission of three to be appointed by the governor to control the work and permits the commission to set up dispensaries in charge of superintendents wherever necessary "for the convenience of the people."

Sale of liquor, "not for beverage purposes," would be governed by provisions of the law resembling those in effect in some provinces in Canada. Sale of liquor for beverage purposes would be prohibited "under presumption of the law."

In a joint statement the sponsors of the bill said "our sole purpose has been to prevent the continuance of flagrant violations of and disrespect for law, which have grown out of the ineffective enforcement of prohibition."

Office Appropriation Bill Passed By Senate Monday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—The senate today passed the $1,053,000,000 independent offices appropriation bill after rejecting an amendment which would have prohibited the farm board from speculating in wheat or cotton with $100,000,000 provided for its revolving fund by the measure.

Two Dead, Other Members Of Family Are Seriously Ill Of Food Poisoning

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 9. —Two small boys were dead and the other members of a family of seven were in a serious condition at their farm home near here tonight as a result of food poisoning.

The dead:

Hillary Jones, 8.

E. V. Jones, 6.

Those critically ill were Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Jones, Lonie, 17, a girl, and two other small children whose names were not learned immediately.

Physicians said Lonie probably would die soon, but the others had a "fighting chance" to survive. One of the sufferers was a baby.

Jones, a tenant farmer, who resided 12 miles south of Brownwood, was able to talk to investigators of circumstances surrounding the sudden illness of his family.

Shortly after they ate breakfast this morning, he said, some of the children complained of feeling ill, and he walked to the house of a neighbor nearby to telephone for a doctor. At the time, he was "feeling fine," but later he, too, was taken ill.

The doctor arrived after noon, although the illness began early in the morning. He diagnosed the cases as poisoning, but was unable to give the nature of the poisoning immediately.

Butler Charge Is Made Known On Dismissal

Major General Charged With Conduct Unbecoming An Officer And Gentleman Before Courtmartial Called Off

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Major General Smedley D. Butler would have faced a trial court, had it not been called off, on the specific charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman."

Publication of the 1,000-word list of charges and specifications against Butler came simultaneously today with an authoritative disclosure that the decision not to court-martial him was reached Saturday night after a series of secret conferences with high Washington officials.

Incident Closed

What part, if any, President Hoover had in this decision was not made known. It was said definitely, however, that the "Butler incident" was settled hours before the carefully concealed conference between Secretary Adams and General Butler at the deserted navy department Sunday morning.

The navy department announced late yesterday the courtmartial had been called off, the charges withdrawn, and the outspoken marine reprimanded. Accompanying was a severe letter from Secretary Adams, and one of explanation and apology from Butler, both dated Sunday.

General Butler would have been tried next Monday in Philadelphia. He was charged with public statements picturing Premier Mussolini of Italy as a hit and run driver who had not stopped after killing a child.

Adding Insult To Injury

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—"And," queried Judge Rudolph Desort, "just what are your grounds?"

"My wife," replied Axel Nelson, "went to the dog pound, brought home the dirtiest, nondescript mongrel she could find and named him Axel."

"My! My!" said the judge.

"And not only that—" continued Axel, "when she would call 'Axel—Axel,' and I would answer, she'd say: 'Not you I want the other animal'."

"Divorced granted," cried the court.

House Defeats Repeal Effort Of State Law

Attempt To Kill Clause Of Search And Seizure Bill Is Downed; Would Permit Use Of Illegal Evidence

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. —Repeal of the evidence of the search and seizure law became a dead issue today when the house of representatives killed a bill which would have permitted use of illegal evidence in trials. The house action definitely halted efforts to repeal the clause at this session.

Introduced by Representatives Graves of Georgetown and Forbes of Weatherford, and backed by the Texas Women's Christian Temperance Union, the bill would have permitted introduction of evidence in trials regardless of how the evidence was obtained.

Too Much Liberty

Opponents of the bill said they believed repeal of the clause would give unscrupulous law enforcement officers too much liberty in searching private residences and dwellings.

The bill was voted out unfavorably by the house committee on criminal jurisprudence and was brought before the house by Graves on a minority report with the request that it be printed. The house voted down a motion to have it printed, 57 to 53, and killed the bill a moment later when a motion to reconsider and table carried, 70 to 39.

Under parliamentary procedure, no other bill having the same effect can be acted on in either the house or the senate.

Although Graves aruged the bill would apply to evidence in all cases, it was generally understood it was aimed at the practice of courts of

Will And Betty Rogers Drop In On Arkansas Home Folks To Bring Aid

(By The Associated Press)

ROGERS, Ark., Feb. 9. — Will and Betty dropped in on the home folks today to help out a mite until the crops get to growing right again.

Some 20 years ago Will Rogers traveled over here from Oklahoma to Court Betty Blake, but today the return of Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers was prompted by humanitarian impulses.

Rogers was back to help out the drouth sufferers, and in the role of "Robin Hood of the Southwest," he extemporized for the neighbors in the interest of drouth relief.

Mrs. Rogers who motored over from Tulsa, Okla., took advantage of the occasion to visit girlhood friends while her husband directed his humorous shafts from the platform.

It was a gala occasion and there were many on hand who "knew the Rogers when."

The return of the sagebrush romeo to the scene of early romances was his second recent appearance in Arkansas.

Several weeks ago he bumped over dusty county roads in central Arkansas to see personally many of the drouth weary farmers.

Senate Committee To Probe Cannon's Political Activity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The searching gaze of a senate committee will be turned again this week on the 1928 political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Closely following a decision of twelve ministers of the church not to recommend trial of the ailing bishop on a series of unnamed charges, Chairman Nye of the senate campaign funds committee disclosed today he had summoned three Firbinia bank officials to appear Wednesday and bring with them records of any expenditures made by Cannon in the 1928 anti-Smith drive in the old dominion.

The churchman is said to have received $65,000 from E. C. Jameson, New York financier, for use in the campaign against Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential candidate.

Legislation To Restrict Oil Importations Looms

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—Proposed legislation to restrict importations of foregn oil into the United States loomed tonight as a possible source of foreign protests.

While state department and Venezuelan legation officials declined to comment on the international aspects of the Capper bill to impose limitations on foreign petroleum importations, reliable reports in official circles tonight were that Venezuela had made informal representations on the proposed legislation. DemandEnactment Of Naval Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. (AP)—New demands arose today for enactment of the administration's naval construction program.

While big navy advocates on both sides of the capitol were renewing contentions for passage of the legislation at this session, the naval supply bill, carrying $36,000,000 less for the next fiscal year than was allowed for this, came to the house from its appropriations committee.

Efforts of construction sponsors to get action were stimulated when it was disclosed there was no disposition on the part of house leaders to give the program legislative preference at this session. The senate steering committee was unable to decide today whether to give the legislation preferred status.

Three Church Societies Of The City Meet In Units Here On Monday

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

CASE you are planning to make over your last year's wardrobe, here is an idea that I got some time. Cut the necklines down the front and face back lapels of striking stripes or plaids.

SEEING OURSELVES

WOMEN want pictures that flatter, rather than those which record the facts about their faces. Nickolas MacDonald, famous photographer, believes, so he never takes the picture of a woman. "I do not portrate, I chronicle," he states. He believes that as long as he limits his subjects to men they will not ask for "prettied-up" things.

Most photographers take pictures with an ideal of presenting the facts that the faces reveal rather than in camouflaging them, yet most of us want the less revealing portrait. We like to believe that we are more beautiful than we appear and we ask the photographer to be responsible for the flattery. Hence, we get these cold and subdued effects and they are flattering enough to make us want to sit around under shaded lights during the remainder of our lives. However, they have the disconcerting effect of causing such questions as "Is this a picture of Mary Jones?" from Mary's best friends.

Once while I was attending school I had an introductory course in photography and we were warned by the instructor to avoid retouching too much. Leave the warts and moles and lines, we were admonished, because they lend character and distinction to the face. If these are eliminated, the face becomes vacuous.

Of course, these things can be softened some because the negative sees things more clearly than the average eye, but they should not be eliminated. The photographer can perform miracles with his retouching if he is an artst, but he does not always care to exercise this art as much as he desires to make an honest record of his subject's features and characteristics.

Few of us like to see ourselves as we really are and that is where so much dissatisfaction arises over pictures. We have all seen pictures of pretty girls by the dozen, in none of which the slightest hint of character or individuality was revealed simply because the photographer eliminated all of these marks in attempting to portray his subjects as beautiful women of a standardized pattern.

A face that has no lines at all is not always the thing to be most desired because sometimes these lines reveal character and faces without any lines are often blanks. I've seen faces that might have been mistaken for waxen masks they were so lacking in interest. I think I prefer a little animation and life and interest, even if it means the sacrifice of some of our ideas of perfect beauty.

There is one job I shall probably never have and that is to serve as a judge in a beauty contest. My ideas of beauty demand more than a pretty complexion and perfectly marcelled hair. Beauties—the kind that are selected in contests—usually have little appeal for me, because they seem to lack depth and sincerity. I know a lot of good looking people but few beauties.

SOMEBODY'S WRONG

ONE OF Lubbock's young men-about-town thinks there is something wrong with the old expression, "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love."

"My thoughts turn to thoughts of travel in the spring," he was telling me the other day when the sun was shining in that abounding sort of way it has these days, "and that is one time that I don't want to be bothered with a woman about. I want to be free to go places and see things and dream, but I don't particularly dream of love."

Oh well, even poets make mistakes sometimes!

OUR NEXT CITIZENS

THERE is one question that offers unlimited opportunity for speculation and when we run low on material for thought we sometimes get a cup of coffee and then try to make intelligent remarks while we wait for it to cool. This question is the old one of environment and heredity.

Today's speculations concerned the little girls who recently called at this office bearing notes from their youthful "snow gang" here, the little girls who proudly assumed the titles of "molls". I'm frankly baffled at the ideas of these youngsters—they ranged in age from about 11 to 13 years—but I do think they present a serious problem in the community. If there are any girls in the city who need counsel, protection and training in the ideals of womanhood, girls of this class need these things. They are potential citizens and they are girls who are standing at the brink of maturity. Whatever their heriditary tendencies may be there has been something amiss in their environment, according to the standards of society, and the community must feel that it has had a part in providing these surroundings.

Such girls as these are, in reality the ones that should be sought by the CampFire, the Girl Reserves, the Girl Scouts and other organizations that have a stated aim of providing wholesome training for adolescent girls. But they are seldom reached by these organizations. Whether or not we consciously will it, they are beyond the pale of such society as it is composed today.

UNIFORM FLAVOR IN COFFEE DEPENDS UPON THE ROASTING

Hills Bros. Insure Uniformity by Their Patented, Continuous Process

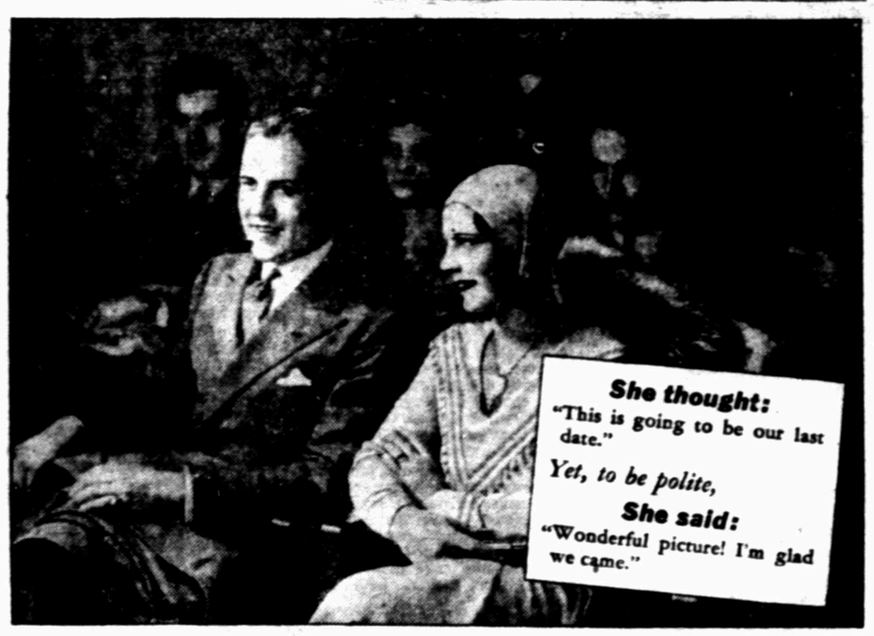

Coffee experts agree that blend alone, regardless of quality, will not produce a perfect cup of coffee. In the roasting of the blend lies the secret of perfect flavor.

The common method of roasting coffee in bulk falls short in developing flavor, because it is not possible to roast every berry evenly. Realizing this, Hills Bros., after years of experimenting, discovered and patented a continuous process of roasting coffee a little at a time.

Control is the watchword of this process. The quantity of coffee passing into the roaster does not vary. The speed of operation and temperature remain the same with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform. This process, fittingly called "Controlled Roasting," gives a flavor in the cup that no other coffee has.

Hills Bros. Coffee never "goes stale" because it is packed in vacuum cans. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh because air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is inside. By the vacuum process, air is taken out of the can and kept out. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere by grocers. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

He might have won her
~if it hadn't been for 'B.O.'
(Body Odor)

"THEY both lived in our neighborhood. She was a pretty girl—and a mighty nice one, too. He was a fine steady-going young fellow—very much in love with her. But she didn't seem to fancy him.

"She went out with him several times, but after a little she turned him down. Of course she couldn't tell him the reason. 'B.O.'—body odor—is a delicate subject. But how different things might have turned out if he had only known what his trouble was and how easily Lifebuoy could have ended it."

The secret cause

Experiences like this happen every day—all around us. Disappointments in love—lost opportunities in business. But other explanations are given. We seldom realize how often "B.O." is to blame.

For people, as a rule, don't know when they offend. We become insensitive to an ever-present odor. We don't notice it in ourselves—but others do. Yet we must perspire. Even on cold days our bodies give off a quart of odor-causing waste.

Now millions have the satisfaction of knowing they're safe, the easiest way imaginable—by washing and bathing with Lifebuoy. Its penetrating, antiseptic lather purifies pores. Makes every inch of the body fresh and sweet-smelling.

Wonderful for complexions

Lifebuoy keeps complexions looking their best—soft, smooth, and clear. Gives them a healthy, glowing loveliness. Note Lifebuoy's pleasant, hygienic scent—that vanishes as you rinse. It tells you better than words how Lifebuoy safeguards. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

Seeking The Right Way Out

DECISION of the City commission to hold a public hearing on gas rates in Lubbock is the practical, amicable, business-like way of gathering information upon the differences of opinion which have been aired in public and in private here of late.

On one hand there are citizens of Lubbock—their names signed to a petition—demurring against what they feel is an error in gas charges. On the other hand is the supplying company, standing fast and replying that there is no discrepancy in recent bills. The two groups are as far apart as the two poles. They cannot be brought together without a third party—in this case the City commission—acting as a referee.

Without a hearing at which both sides are presented, neither the City commission nor any other organization can say which of the two groups is right and which is wrong. Facts in the case must be brought out, in fairness to both sides. Guess work won't do and a properly conducted hearing is the best method to use in getting to the bottom of the case.

There has been some criticism of members of the City commission for failing to come out publicly, one way or another, in the matter of the gas controversy. In the opinion of the Morning Avalanche, however, and administration has acted exactly as it should have acted—refusing to 'go off half cocked' and choosing the practical way to a better understanding.

The City commission, of course, is the servant of the people. Yet at the same time, it is the commission's duty to protect not only citizens, residing within the corporation, but also business concerns operating under franchises and having tremendous investments which come under quasi-public supervision.

It was not the place of the commission to read press reports of the passing of the petitions and then make an official statement. It is the place of the commission to go into the question, study the matter, gather the testimony and weigh both sides of the case.

The Morning Avalanche, like the commission, feels that a public hearing is the best way to iron out the troubles which have arisen, not only here but in many other cities, over December and January gas rates and charges. Successful business people, whether they be engaged in public or private endeavor, prefer to move slowly to be more thorough, prefer to get all the facts in order to be fair.

Fortunately for the birds it has been a mild winter. Many of their friends of former winters have had no bread for themselves this year.

It is estimated if all the proposed highways were laid end to end now, it would provide a great deal of needed employment.

Every day the world's measure of values seems to be more disturbed. Some people even place importance on a lame duck session of congress.

Practical Health Problems

FIND DEATHS IN BELGIUM FOG WERE DUE TO NATURAL CAUSES

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN,
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Newspapers have a strange fashion of arousing the public interest to fever pitch concerning incidents reported from different parts of the world and then seeming to forget altogether the fact that the public remembers the incidents and wonders what the outcome may be.

From time to time new cures are reported for all sorts of diseases, then nothing further is said in the newspaper to indicate that careful medical trial has caused complete dissipation of hope for successful results from these cures.

The most recent sensation to arouse world interest was the so-called fog that spread in Belgium and caused 64 deaths. Experts who were consulted were convinced that it was not possible for any poison gas or any products from any factory to affect people in such a manner as to bring about deaths of the nature of those reported.

So terrible was the scare that health officers in various American cities were called to advise as to proper conduct in a fog, and the inhabitants of villages in the region affected barricaded themselves in their homes and stuffed the chinks in the windows and doors with rags.

The Ministry of Health of London has been notified by several health authorities that the deaths were not due to any communicable disease; neither were they due to any poison gas. The 64 deaths which occurred affected old people primarily. There were five deaths in one village, two of them in people who had been long sufferers from heart disease, one from tuberculosis, one from asthma and one from obesity.

Apparently the deaths were due to nothing else but a sudden severe spell of fog and cold. The British authorities point out that the valley of the Meuse at the point at which the deaths occurred is deep and sheltered and that cold air settles at the bottom of such a valley. A fog itself will not appreciably affect the rate of deaths from diseases of the lungs, but if the fog is associated with a low temperature, there is a sudden sharp rise in the death rate of adults from respiratory diseases.

Several British health officers who have been much concerned by such problems assert that during the winter every city is in danger of a catastrophe if a combination of severe cold, fog and still air occurs over a period of several days. This apparently was what happened in the valley of the Meuse with the resultant death of a considerable number of aged persons in a short period of time.

Red Cross and Politics

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—No other complaint that large organizations are subject to is so frightfully contagious as politics.

The American Red Cross has been exposed to it and shows some of the symptoms. The patient has a strong constitution and may resist the attack successfully. Nevertheless, many observers are gravely worried. Should the germs spread throughout the Red Cross' entire vast system (approximating 4,000,000 members, divided into more than 3,500 local chapters) the case would be a terrible one to deal with.

POLITICS OBVIOUSLY was in the atmosphere three or four months ago, as the federal government began to plan for the winter, to deal with conditions of industrial distress in all parts of the country. But not the most farseeing person could have guessed at that time that the Red Cross was in danger.

Perhaps the industrial situation had been allowed to drift a trifle too long, in the hope that it would improve itself automatically.

Instead, a few weeks later the outlook became worse, due to unfavorable developments in the drought-stricken farming regions, added to the savage pinch of unemployment in the cities.

DURING THE interval congress had met.

In the senate, with a majority not over-friendly to the White House, there was a disposition to blame the national executive for not having adopted remedial measures sooner.

The administration, humanly resentful, took the position that nothing like as large scale relief was required as the senatorial critics said, maintaining that the Red Cross (already active in the rural areas) was doing everything essential. The senatorial fault-finders denied it. Finally President Hoover yielded to them to the extent of asking the public to subscribe $10,000,000 to supplement the fund of about half that amount which the Red Cross previously had had on hand, and had considered adequate.

THE SENATE majority, still dissatisfied, proposed a contribution of $25,000,000 more, to be taken from the U. S. treasury—a distinctly different source from voluntary offerings. The president held that this would be superfluous and Chairman John Barton Payne of the Red Cross agreed with him.

All the same, quoth the senate, voting the money, here is the $25,000,000.

But of course the senate alone cannot order cash paid out of the treasury. The house of representatives must concur—not to mention the president's signature.

Now the house of representatives, unlike the senate, is pro-administration by a wide margin. Consequently, when the $25,000,000 measure arrived at its end of the Capitol building to be acted on, the house objected strenuously to over-riding the chief executive's judgment. While the dispute raged, who should appear before a committee of the representatives but Red Cross Chairman Payne—with a point-blank refusal, in the name of his board of directors, to accept the $25,000,000.

THAT SETTLED the matter with the representatives. They forthwith threw the $25,000,000 allowance into the waste basket.

But it by no means ended it with the senate.

It so happens that President Hoover is president also of the American Red Cross. He appoints Chairman Payne, and he appoints five of the eleven Red Cross directors who joined the chairman in refusing the $25,000,000.

Thus, according to the disgruntled senators, when Chairman Payne speaks, it simply is President Hoover talking.

IT IS AN ugly charge to make—

That the Red Cross has refused assistance of which the angry senators declare that millions of people stand in dire need, because the president does not want treasury resources used to assist them.

Such, however, is the charge implied by the latest senate ballot, for the appropriation, with only sixteen senators out of 96 dissenting.

It is a charge aimed, to be sure, against the president, but, after all, the president is in politics and (justly or unjustly) must take his chances with political accusations. The Red Cross is supposed not to be in politics (and emphatically ought not to be) but events have taken such a twist that it is.

Politics is just that contagious.

THE ROW is not ended, either.

In order to prolong it indefinitely, all the senate has to do is to refrain from passing one or two of the bills providing money for the government to run on during the ensuing year. Naturally that will force the president to call an extra congressional session, for Uncle Sam cannot get through a year on no money. Hence, let both houses stand pat on the $25,000,000 argument and a special session is inevitable. All signs point to one at present.

An extra session might easily bring the Red Cross' case of politics to a well-nigh fatal termination.

ADULT EDUCATION

The continued schooling of those of mature years is not expected to work wonders. A few short courses will not transform every one into intellectual giants. The innate pattern of most men is not changed by a few lectures and books. Nor are the new discoveries of physychologists concerning the receptivity of the adult mind likely to upset the experience of ages as regards the plastic advantages of youth.

But there are so many worse things that a man or woman might do than to keep on learning. To "take a course" is so much more constructive than most employment of leisure time, which is often given to merely negative and vacuous distractions. If the average life can be rendered less silly and empty by these educational experiments, they deserve high rank in respect to social welfare, though they are scoffed at by some of the more exacting scholars.

One type of adult educational work which has attracted relatively little notice is that conducted in such business lines as banking, advertising, real estate and life insurance. The national organizations in these fields are in a position to support educational departments with a competent staff of instructors.

Adults education has helped many men and women to find themselves, has been instrumental in discovering much latent ability and has made individuals happier and society better.

It's an ill other wave that blows nobody some good. The current radio campaign of Pennsylvania's governor for the 1932 presidential nomination is at least getting the broadcasting chain something.

When city cousins drop in on the farm a chicken gets it in the neck, but when country cousins visit the city a can gets the opener.

H. B. SMYTHE HAS UNDERGONE 148 MAJOR OPERATIONS—I have the history of Mr. Smyth's long suffering from osteomalacia, (softening of the bones) and the record of his operations, from his own lips. Mr. Smythe, accompanied by his surgeon, called on me during my recent stay in St. Louis. He is now entirely cured and enjoying life to the full, and his jovial appearance belies the many years of suffering past.

THE AMERICAN EAGLE IS A RANK COWARD—When Congress decided upon the baldheaded eagle as the national emblem of this country in 1782, Benjamin Franklin was greaty chagrined. He had been sponsoring the turkey as a true native of America, and in his letter to the Society of Cincinnati dwelt at length on the bald eagle's inferiority. In comparison he said: "The turkey is a much more respectful bird, which will not hesitate to courageously attack a red coat entering its yard."

For GINGER'S SAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GINGER ELLA TOLLIVER was bored. Ginger's father was a minister, and her stepmother, the former "PHIL" VAN DOORN, a very wealthy woman, but life in the little town of Red Thrush, Iowa, ran too slowly to suit Ginger and her set. So she announced to her friends, EDDY JACKSON, PATTY SEARS and WESLEY MEEKER, that she was going to start a Home for the Bored.

To JENKY BROOKS, former school teacher, wife of old BENNY BROOKS, and an ally whom she could trust implicitly, she confided her intention of organizing a Junior Country Club. She asked Jenky to act as her agent in the purchase of the Mill Rush farm, a 10-acre tract with an old farm house, from JOPLIN WESTBURY. The rest of her plans were still in her head, unformulated.

"And," she told Jenky, "be sure to bring him down in his price. About half of what he asks will be right."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

Although Ginger was not given to public elaboration of her plans while they were still in the formative period, she had a sound practical precedent for her contemplated project. On one of their motor tours in the East, Phil had taken her to spend a week at Provincetown, where Ginger was thrilled with the gay adventures of a group of young artists who were making their summer's sport and study pay for itself by the maintenance of a mild sort of night club.

They called it Sixes and Sevens. Six young women did the marketing and cooking, and seven young men waited upon the table, and all of them served intermittently as entertainers and reception committees.

Lurking in the back of her mind was the memory of that profitable and entertaining enterprise. She realized that in her own case the project would work itself out along somewhat different lines, but of one thing at least she was sure—if the youth of the community would just co-operate to clean up the old place they would presently be in possession of a cherry rendezvous all their own, free from family encumbrances.

Having Ben and Jenky in charge would disarm all conventional objections, for certainly a married, middle-aged school-teacher was a chaperone to the satisfaction of the most unreasonable parent.

Ginger did not look very far into the future. Her immediate requirement was something to do, something to think about. She had $5,000 just eating itself up with interest in the First National Bank, as she often complained. And everybody said that Iowa farm land—even if it was all grown up to weeds and brush on the bank of Rabbit River—was a good paying investment.

And there would be work, brisk, vigorous work for strong young arms—there would be raking and digging and burning of brush, there would be scrubbing and painting and the hanging of swings—Ginger's memory swept back in a great torrent to the crowded, happy, haphazard parsonage days, and she smiled contentedly.

When she rejoined her friends under the maples her expression was divinely seraphic.

"A Junior Country Club," she said succinctly. "That's the ticket. No parents allowed, no preachers admitted, and the first member that has a baby gets chucked out on his head."

"Oh, Ginger, that's just priceless," said Patty warmly.

"Okay here," said Wesley. "Tie the can on school-teachers and aunts, too, will you?"

"It has its points," said Eddy guardedly, for he knew Ginger. "But I foresee impedimenta."

"Well, you needn't bother pointing them out," said Ginger. "You're almost too old to belong in the first place. And if you begin pointing out impedimenta, you are too old. I suppose we'll have to make room for the older high-school boys—"

"What, those infants! Still in swaddling clothes and—"

"To do the work," explained Ginger thoughtfully. "There's going to be heaps of work to do, and all the older boys have summer jobs. We won't let them join—we'll just encourage them to take a sort of interest. There'll be oodles of work before that place is ready."

Eddy Jackson knitted his brows thoughtfully. "Oodles of work, eh? And there's a place is there? You've really got an idea, have you?"

"Yes, I have an idea," said Ginger pleasantly. "But of course it's Ben and Jenky's place."

Jenky was more anxious than Ginger herself to push the purchase of Mill Rush to a successful conclusion, and her interest was based upon a soldier foundation.

To Ginger, the project meant no more than a pleasant adventure to while away the tedium of an unpromising summer. To Jenky, it promised a great many dollars

AC COLLEGE COLUMN

By MARSHALL FORMBY, TECH CORRESPONDENT

With plans being made for the annual freshman dance at Texas Tech, four fair co-eds have been nominated for freshman queen. An election has been ordered to be held soon at which time the first year students in the college will choose the queen. The winner will be formally crowned on the night of the frolic and her identity will not be revealed until that night.

Helen Blythe, Mona Gowan, Tina Alexander and Evelyn Heatly have been nominated, but reports are that one of the candidates will be a sophomore by the end of the term, and that another meeting of the class is to be called for nomination of more candidates.

At the next meeting representatives to the student council will be chosen. Under a ruling passed last spring by the student body, the first year class is allowed four representatives on the council after the fall term. One representative will be elected from each of the four schools, liberal arts, agriculture home economic and engineering. The freshmen members of the council will have no voting power until the spring term, however.

TO SELECT SPEAKER

Following the meeting tonight of the Tech engineering banquet committee, announcement will be made as to who will be the principal speaker at the annual Texas Tech engineer's banquet February 28. A committee composed of Cary Lodal, Gordon; J. P. Rhuman, Ballinger; and Carl McAdams, Gordonville has been mapping out plans for the affair and will meet tonight with officers of the Engineering society to select the principal speaker.

More than two hundred engineers are expected to attend the event which is sponsored by the society. Annual date for the affair is March 1, but as that date falls on Sunday this year, the event was moved up a day. Officers of the society include, Winnifred Wardell, president; James Atcheson, vice-president; John A. Davis, secretary, and W. B. Pearson, treasurer.

TO SHOW PICTURE

A motion picture, "Bakelite" will be shown at a meeting of the Chemical society tonight in the auditorium of the engineering building. The picture is of special interest to chemistry students, and all students and faculty members are invited.

The society is composed of approximately twenty-five students interested in the promotion of chemistry. O'Brien Thompson, Abernathy was named president. Meetings are held every other week.

PREPARE BLUEPRINT METHODS

Methods of reprocuction by blue printing are being prepared by students in the Tech engineering drawing department, M. E. Street, member of the department said recently. The methods will be posted in the engineering drawing rooms.

The department is planning several exhibits for the annual engineer's show which will be held in May. Each department in the engineering school is preparing some sort of exhibit for the show.

MAKE FIELD TRIP

Under the direction of Dr. Raymond Sidwell, member of the Tech geology department, approximately twenty-five students made a field trip to Buffalo Springs in Yellowhouse canyon last Saturday afternoon. The canyon is fifteen miles southeast of Lubbock. Although the rain interferred with the work somewhat, many good observations of the rocks in the canyon were made.

The field trips are offered to the students in place of the regular laboratory periods. The trips are made in the college bus.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Among the special guests present Sunday afternoon at a tea given by the Silver Key club were President and Mrs. Paul W. Horn, Professor and Mrs. H. F. Godeke and Professor and Mrs. O. C. Corry. Professor Corry is the club sponsor. Several parents of club members who reside in Lubbock also were present.

Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations.

CHEMICALS DONATED

Several kinds of chemicals and dyes recently were donated to the textile department of the college. Professor Earl Heard has announced. The donations were from the New Port Chemical company of Passaic, New Jersey.

Rainfall Here Above Normal

February Total Increased To 1.25 Inches, Almost Half An Inch Above Average For Month, Jones Reports

Precipitation here thus far this month totals nearly half an inch above normal, according to Don L. Jones, state experiment station superintendent, who reported that .3 of an inch of rain which fell Sunday increased the February total to 1.21 inches. Total for the year also is above normal, he said.

"With this warm weather following the rains, you will see the wheat beginning to show signs of rapid growth," Mr. Jones added.

The ground he said, is in "excellent condition" just now, with prospects of there being enough moisture to carry through until the spring rains come.

Many farmers are nearly through with their ground preparation for spring planting, while some others will start this week. A considerable number, for one reason or another, are not expected to start their spring work until later.

Texas Tech Matadors Swamp McMurry Indians, 45-20

Hodges Heads Scorers; Meet Again Tonight

Abilene Tribe Helpless As Matadors Sink Long Shots To Gain Good Lead; Score At Half, 34 to 5

Texas Tech's Matadors put the Indian sign on the Indians last night and after an hour's frolic on the Texas Tech gymnasium the Tribe of McMurry College, Abilene had still failed to locate the basket. During the entire first half the Indians failed to tally a single field goal. Five times they tossed free goals, and at the rest period they still had five points. Tech had 24. At the final gun Tech had 45 and McMurray had 20.

The visitors were given nice opportunities even while the first team of Matadors stayed in, which was not very long and then Coach Golightly served a bowl of opportunity on a platter by sending in his second and third stringers. Every man on the bench got his chances and Golightly looked around for volunteers. The defense as staged by the Matadors was by no means perfect, at times even pitiful, and the Indians shot time after time from open territory, but they were badly off their game and their shots went for naught.

Hodges Corners Score Market

Captain Clarence Hodges played thirteen minutes and scored thirteen points to take honors of that sort. Little Hader Moody, going in as a second to Hodges, executed four neat shots that found the goal but second honors went to Farwell of the Indians, who was the only man to locate the ring in an effective way. He fired three perfect field goals and tossed as many from the foul line. Had Hodges remained in the game longer his score would have mounted skyward, for he was "hot" looping the loop from almost every stance and position.

Crews, an up and coming basketeer, went in for Darr, starting forward, and tossed three pretty field goals, playing a fine defensive game.

Bowen, a starting guard, fired four times from the foul line to count, and his shooting in the first half accounted for three of the five points gathered by the visitors.

Matadors Take Big Lead

The Matadors were off to a healthy lead from the first. Hodges holding a monopoly on the scoring while he was in the game. He had scored nine points before McMurry counted. A little later the lead was 13 to 2, and Hodges was supplanted.

Coach Medley also used his entire squad, seeking a scoring combination. Of the starting lineup, only two were able to score. Bowen and Curry accounted for six points, all of them the results of Matador fouls.

The teams meet again tonight at 8 o'clock at the Tech gymnasium for the second and final game of the series.

"Give Us A Break And Thomas' Arm In Good Shape And We'll Do Things", Is Advice Of Donnie Bush, Sox Skipper

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP) — Donnie Bush, dynamic field general for the White Sox, has been in baseball too long not to know that pennant dreams bloom and fade in morning glory fashion, yet new hopes swelled within him today as he came to Chicago for a final conference before heading south for the spring training camp.

"All I ask is a fair share of breaks and that Al Thomas' throwing arm is back in shape," Donnie snapped back at a battery of sports writers. "We've got a great bunch of promising youngsters who should help up holes in the infield, the catching will be better and the new ball will help because it's going to prove that a lot of the home run hitters are pop-fly artists. Added to that is one break in the fact that we will have a long home stay right at the start of the season—just the right thing for a young hustling club like the sox.

"I don't mean to say that we're going to win the pennant, but I do say that we're going to have a say in who's who in that race and will be fighting all the time for a good first division position."

Quintet of New Players

Five new additions carry Bush's hopes for giving his machine the punch and power to go places. They are Fred Eichrodt, an outfielder who batted .325 for New Orleans last season, meanwhile leading the Southern Association in triples; Ray Radcliff, a first baseman from Dallas, who led the Texas league last year in batting with an average of .369; catcher Frank Grube, named by sports writers as the best backstop of the International League last year and a .348 batter; Luke Appling, a 19-year old infielder who jumped right out of Oglethorpe College last year and made good with the Atlanta club as a regular shortstop and a dangerous hitter and Vic Frazier, the young pitching find from Dallas, who failed to show up for the White Sox in 1930 because he was "scared" of the major leagues.

From all reports, Bush said, all his regulars, including Thomas, are in good physical condition and eager to start.

Counts On A's, Cards

Bush believes the Philadelphia Athletics again will be the team to beat for the pennant, while the St. Louis Cardinals will be hard to dislodge in the National League.

"Even if the A's only have Grove and Earnshaw as pitcher, that's about enough." Bush explained. "Those two fellows can beat anything. But Detroit looked very good—fast and speedy—toward the end of last season and may get some place; the Yankees will be tough if they get pitching. Washington's hopes rest a lot on how Judge and Rice hold up while Cleveland will be better if it can plug up the infield. I can't see anything but the Cardinals in the National League."

Simmons Cowboys Beat Kangaroos

ABILENE, Feb. 9 (AP)—Austin College's defense fettered the Simmons University attack in the first half tonight, limiting the Texas Conference leaders to twelve points, but the Cowboys ran away in the second round to score a victory of 39 to 19.

Bob McCollum, who tops the conference in points for the season stretched his lead by tabulating sixteen points. Connelly accounted for a plurality of the Kangaroos' points, five, and Davis, a huge guard, starred on defense for the visitors.

Texas Marksman Adds Trophy To Interstate List

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)— E. F. Woodward of Houston, Texas successfully defended his interstate target cup in the first day's shooting of the annual interstate trapshooting tournament today and annexed another trophy, the interstate flyer cup. Financially the day's efforts enriched Woodward more than $1,000.

Woodward hit 95 out of 100 in the interstate target event. G. E. Payne of Oklahoma City scored 91 for second place and Mark Aire, Champaign, Ill., took third with 87.

In the interstate flyer event, Woodward hit 25 straight. Frank Troth of Portland, Ore., and Sam Jenny Highland, Ill., had 24 out of 25 for a second place tie.

Eighty shooters completed the opening events.

Monroe Likely Class B Entry In Joust Here

District Tournament Set For February 20-21; Tech Gym Scene Of Games Between 20 Teams Of Circuit

The basketball teams of Monroe, Woodrow, and Beeton emerged victorious in their respective divisions last week at the county tournament here and will play this week to decide the county championship and to determine who shall represent the Class B division of the county in the district tournament to be held here February 20 and 21.

In their final games, Monroe defeated Shallowater, 30 to 16, in a game that was close enough until near the end. Shallowater put up a game battle, but were overpowered by greater strength and numbers. Monroe swept undefeated through the tournament to become favorite for county honors. Woodrow nosed out Estacado, 17 to 16, Saturday night to win its division. The game was close all the way, with Woodrow having a 5-point lead at the half. Coach Fred Rich saw his Wolffarth team defeat Hurlwood, 27 to 19 in the final rounds. Becton defeated Foster, 18 to 17, Saturday afternoon.

Woodrow and Becton meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Texas Tech gymnasium in the first elimination game. The winner will play Monroe Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the local court. Monroe defeated Wolffarth to gain the right to meet the winner of the Woodrow-Becton game.

On Friday afternoon at the high school gymnasium here five games in the girls' division will be played. Beginning at 4 o'clock, County Line will play Hurlwood. At 5, Monroe and Becton play. McClung and Woodrow meet at 7, and Wolffarth and Acuff play at 8. At 9 Foster and Canyon will play.

The girls tournament continues on Saturday at the Tech gymnasium, Shallowater and Canyon opening at 9 a. m. At 10 o'clock, the winner of the Monroe game will meet Idalou at the Tech gym. Then follows a string of girls' games, starting at 11 o'clock, as follows: County Line vs. Monroe Hurlwood vs. Becton; Acuff vs. Woodrow; and McClung vs. Wolffarth.

Slaton and Idalou boys play at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, after County Line vs. Becton; Hurlwood vs. Monroe, Woodrow vs. Wolffarth; and McClung vs. Acuff. At 8 o'clock Slaton's boys will play the winner of the Class B series.

The district tournament for both Class A and Class B division in boys' and girls' groups will start at 10 o'clock Friday morning, February 20. Del Morgan, supervisor of the tournament, has called a meeting of coaches, officials and all players who wish to attend at 9 o'clock Friday morning for arranging the schedule, which will be on the order of eliminations, each team drawing and playing rounds. Twenty teams are expected to enter the tournament for the district championship.

Young TIAA Team Meet Lead Cagers

KERRVILLE, Texas, Feb. 9 (Special).—When it rains it pours — that's what the Mountaineer basketball squad of 20 cadets working out under Coach H. C. (Bully) Gilstrap and Assistant Coach M. D. Bruant at Schreiner Institute might think after a look at their schedule. They meet Texas A. & I. and Daniel Baker College here this week end in four games. These contests are part of the 10 consecutive games in which the junior college Mountaineers oppose senior college quintets.

The Texas A. and I. Javelinas under Coach Bud McCallum are expected to give Schreiner, old rivals of theirs, two vigorous games here Friday and Saturday nights. The Javelinas are the newest entries in the T. I. A. A. circuit.

Monday and Tuesday nights next week the Hill Billies from Daniel Baker College are expected to oppose the Maroon and White cadets in Schreiner gym here. Last season the Daniel Baker team won a two-game series from Schreiner earlier in the year than the teams meet this season.

In European international chess tournament games 30 moves must be made by each player within the first two hours.

British Pros In Revolt As Rules Develop

Members Of Ryder Cup Squad Complain At British PGA Rules Which Say Golfers Must Hold Together

LONDON, Feb. 9—The professional golfers' association of Great Britain faced a revolt within its ranks today against its rule that the members of the Ryder cup squad, which goes to the United States in June to defend the international trophy must travel together and return together.

Henry Cotton, one of the leading English pros and a member of the 1929 squad which won the cup from the United States, today wrote to the P. G. A., saying that if the rule was continued he must ask that his name be withdrawn from consideration.

"I plan to go to the United States and compete wherever I can, he wrote P. G. A. officials. "I plan to play in the American open. I should like to play for Great Britain but must consider by own future."

Discussing his ultimatum later Cotton said he was quite willingq to abide by the other conditions, but would not agree to be tied down to any definite return date.

Despite his letter, the committee in charge of the test matches picked Cotton to play in the first trial matches at Birmingham.

Bowling Becomes Popular At Schreiner Institute

KERRVILLE, Texas, Feb. 9 (Special).—Bowling, a minor sport recently added to the Schreiner Institute athletic curriculum, is accomplishing its purpose in providing entertainment and exercise for large numbers of cadets who have not and likely will not go out for a major athletic team this school year. Some 50 students and several faculty members have been playing tenpins since the holidays. Bowling and tennis are the only two sports sanctioned by the faculty to be played at any hour of the day—even during class hours.

Bears Defeats Ags —At Waco, 27 to 18

WACO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Shooting 15 out of 16 fouls, the Baylor Bears virtually eliminated the Texas Aggies from the Southwest Conference basketball race by defeating them 27-18 here tonight. Each team made six field goals.

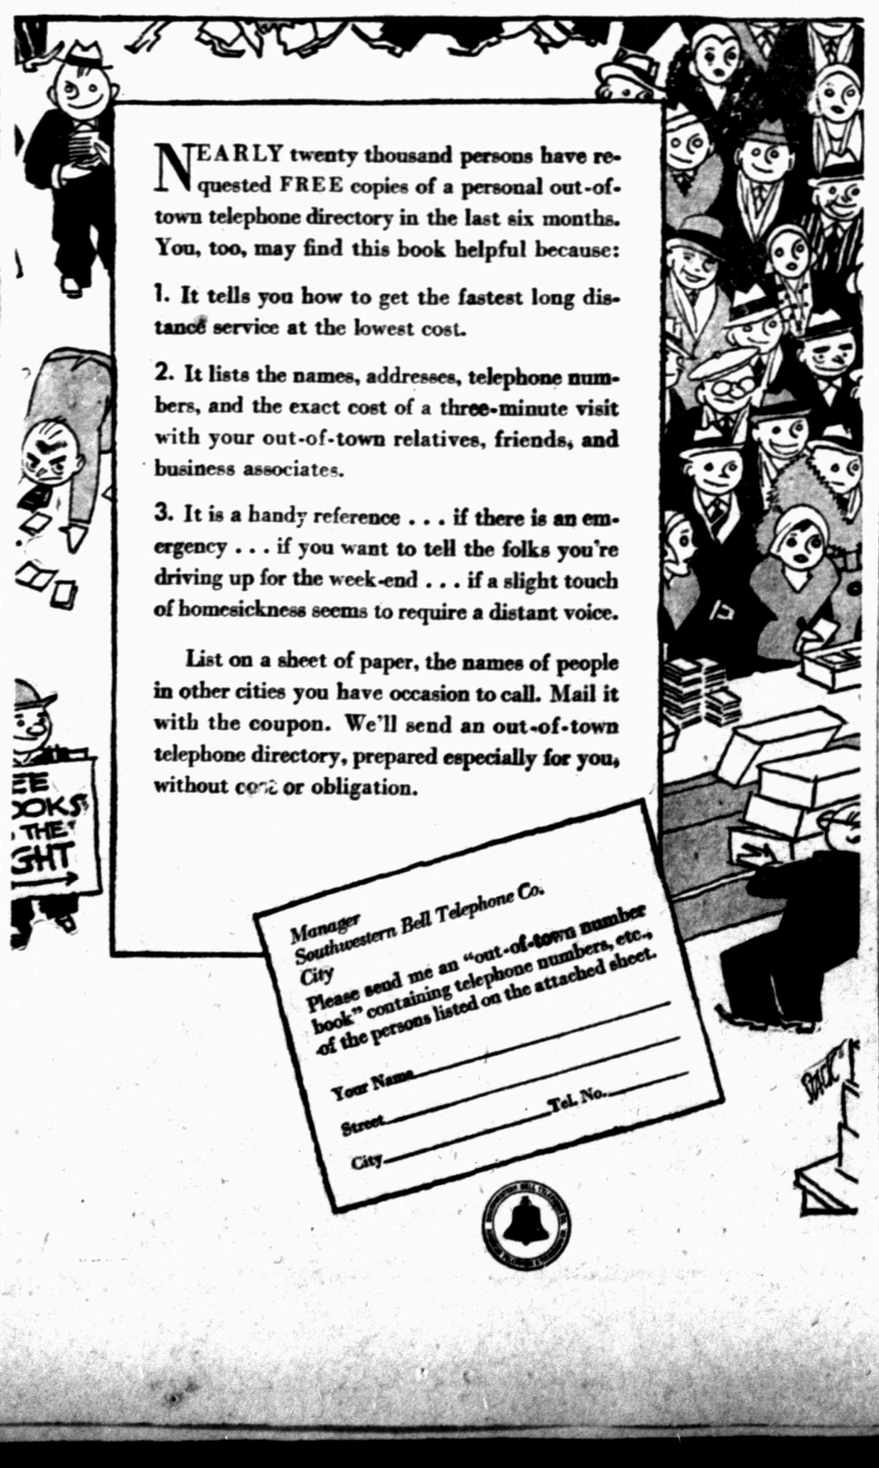

The feature of the game which was hard fought and was a defensive duel most of the way, was the great guarding of Puny Witcher. It was his task to keep in touch with Shire Hoke, the Aggie scoring ace. Witcher did not allow the Farmer star a field goal and before Hoke went out on personal fouls in the second half he made only one point.

Raymond Strickland was the high point man with nine. Raymond Alford was again well guarded by Veltman, but managed to score two field goals at critical points and had a total of seven points. The half ended with Baylor leading 9-7.

Coach Ray Detrick of Ohio Wesleyan college believes in shifting his basketball line-up for every game. His team won seven straight this year.

But he patted her hands and laughed. "Now, Jenky!" he chided her. "Is this between you and the Lord, or you and the ladies?"
Happily she was able to believe it as if it were the very Gospel, and she proceeded cheerfully to prac- tice small economies that in the old days she had never dreamed of.
Now, suddenly, in Ginger's sur- prising proposition, she saw un- suspected avenues of income. If she and Benny gave up their rooms in town and went to the country for the summer, she would certain- ly save the amount of three, and possibly four months' rent. She would have a garden, there would be fruit, and Ginger had promised to take care of all household ex- penses.

Cotton Cotton Is Active in Monday Mart Livestock Upturn Features Livestock Trade Grain Fair Demand For Heavy Offerings

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9 (AP)—There was fairly active trading in cotton here today. Prices fluctuated rather freely but developed no very definite trend although sentiment was rather bullish. Following an early decline of 4 to 7 points due to poor Liverpool cables the market rallied rather sharply owing to bullish textile statistics for January and a firmer stock market. According to the textile report January sales of cotton goods were 18.3 per cent above production.

During the early afternoon the market eased off 4 to 6 points from the highs on reports of general rains in Arkansas. The market had another sharp upturn in the late trading with higher stocks making new highs 20 to 24 points above the early lows but reached quite a bit at the end of 15 to 16 points from the top the general market closing steady net 1 point up to 2 down for the day.

Liverpool came in 3 to 4 penny points worse than due and private cables advised there had been local liquidation and selling by Bombay. Manchester reported cloth business unimportant. First trades here were 3 to 7 points down and prices ruled easy in early trading on the unfavorable political news from India. May dropping to 10.81 and October to 11.34 down 4 to 7 points from Saturday's close.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Cotton was more active today. An early decline in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables was followed by advances into new high ground for the movement on broadening of trade and commission house demand after which the market again weakened. May contracts, after selling off to 10.83 at the start, advanced to 11.03 but met increased offerings at that figure and closed at 10.86, or 2 points net lower. The general market closed barely steady net 3 points lower to 3 points higher.

New Orleans was among the buyers here and the advance was encouraged by the increased activity and strength of the stock market, while encouraging domestic cotton goods statistics may have been a contributing factor. March sold up to 10.75 and October to 11.32 or 14 to 15 points net higher, but the demand tapered off above 11c for May and offerings increased in the late trading, when there was active reselling or realizing and perhaps a little selling for southern account although this was not much in evidence.

Near months were relatively easy with present crop position closing 1-3 points net lower while new crop positions were unchanged to 3 points higher. March closed at 10.58 and October at 11.38, with March closing 100 points under December compared with 104 points on Saturday.

Extension Class Organized Here

Designed particularly for Lubbock teachers, an extension class in Observation and Practice Teaching has been organized and will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in room 219 of the administration building at Texas Technological college.

That announcement was made late Monday by J. F. McDonald, extension director at the college. Prof. J. T. Shaver, of the department of education at the college, will be instructor in the course, which is cataloged as Education 333.

The course, which will last for 12 weeks, will satisfy the residence requirement for observation and practice teaching, Mr. McDonald said. Fee will be $10. Persons desiring to enroll may do so at tonight's meeting.

Soviet Russia expects to increase its exports of metallic zinc, now 6,000 tons a year, to 135,000 ton in 1932.

Stock Market Kicks Over Traces For Second Successive Session Monday

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—The stock market kicked over the traces today and for the second successive session pushed itself to a new 1931 high.

Although the rally was made possible to a large extent by favorable technical considerations, it was none the less impressive. Pivotal issues climbed vigorously out of their narrow rut and numerous less stable stocks ran away from even the 3 and 4-point gains registered by U. S. Steel, American Can, Atchison and other conservative equities.

Sales Heavy

Most notable, perhaps, was the volume. Total sales of approximately 4,100,000 shares not only made the largest turnover since the mid-December break but exceeded the aggregate for the first three days of the week. The only group to lag at all was the railroad division, and that came forward, rather cautiously, in last hour when prices were at their best.

Approval of the Standard of New York-vacuum merger, coupled with word that the government was undecided as to an appeal, gave the oils their best day in weeks. The Standards and Texas Corp. were up a point or more.

Grain markets had a strong undertone. July and September wheat gained 2 cents in sympathy with stocks, a smaller visible supply in Canada and cold weather in the northwest. Corn closed up about 1 1-2 cents reflecting an improved consumption demand, cotton was barely steady, finishing 3 points lower to 3 higher.

Local Markets

These prices, basis from points local lots, are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry—Lubbock Poultry and Egg company; Dairy Products — Bell Ice Cream company. Poultry prices quoted are wholesale prices. Retail prices range higher. and Mistletoe Creameries; Grain & Feed—Cone Grain and Seed company and Cotton Blocker Cotton company. Prices subject to change during day.

ruling out evidence in liquor cases obtained without a search warrant. The bill was vigorously supported by Rev. Forbes, zealous prohibitionist.

Asked To Speak

The senate adopted a resolution signed by all its members asking James Hamilton Lewis, United States senator-elect from Illinois, to deliver an address. The noted Democratic anti-prohibitionist is at San Antonio for a few days of rest and recreation.

Lewis was expected to talk this afternoon but he was unable to be here. He will speak at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, probably before a joint session. Senator Purl of Dallas introduced the resolution.

By a vote of 21-6, the senate voted to memorialize congress to place a protective tariff on oil. The resolution, which had been passed by the house, called for a tariff or an embargo, but the senate adopted an amendment by Senator Woodward of Coleman striking out the embargo reference. Senator O'Neal of Wichita Falls expressed the opinion that Woodward's amendment would kill the effect of the bill because there was no chance of the present congress imposing a tariff on oil.

Another argument today in the senate was on the question of changing the name of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton to the Texas College for Women. The bill passed but by a narrow margin.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Livestock trade was featured by a general 25 upturn in fat lamb prices, with some points reporting sales of as much as 50 higher. Stimulating factors to the trade were curtailed receipts and higher prices for dressed lambs. Numerous loads of choice fat lambs in Chicago brought 9.10-9.15 while at Omaha shippers paid up to 8.75. The supply approximated 62,000.

Hogs found a moderately active outlet at values unevenly steady, to 15 lower with strong weight butchers showing the most decline. The top of 8.00 was secured at St. Louis and Chicago. Offerings were around 152,000.

Receipts of cattle were estimated at 89,300. Killing classes of cattle at most markets found a slow demand at prices steady to unevenly lower. Fed steers in Chicago on the close sold at 25-55 lower rates. Lighter weights steers and yearlings continued to predominate in the run. Chicago had a top of 11.00 on heavy steers at the river markets sold from 6.75-8.75. Stockers and feeders found a moderately active market at values mostly steady with last week's slow close.

Seek Compromise In Vets' Relief

WASHINGTON Feb. 9. (AP)—Compromise suggestions mingled today with attacks by full cash payment advocates as congress prepared for the next big hurdle in the race to avoid an extra session—veterans relief.

Speaker Longworth and Chairman Snell of the house rules committee said they favored additional loans costing about $500,000,000 as senate administration leaders searched for a compromise.

Full payment supporters in both the house and senate voiced objections to the present situation.

However, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, predicted some form of veterans legislation would be enacted before the March 4 adjournment.

Continue Probe Of Alvis Graves

Investigation by a seventy-second district court grand jury of the case of Alvis Graves, who faces two murder charges, will be continued here this morning. The grand jury hearing got under way early Monday afternoon.

An unusually large number of witnesses would be called before the grand jury, District Attorney Durwood Bradley indicated Monday. Twelve men were chosen from 16 called for jury service and after being charged by Judge Homer L. Pharr began deliberations.

The grand jury is composed of W. B. Copeland, W. C. Grimes, Alex Weaver, E. B. Holland, J. T. Lokey, J. R. Killibrew, T. C. Calley, Earnest Shelley, Eugene Emery, Ward Crim, J. W. Hood and W. J. Baker.

The double-murder count against Graves resulted from an altercation which occurred as a house dance ended at the home of E. D. Chadwick, of 2107 Eighth street. Graves fired a revolver and fatally wounded Horace L. Smith, of 1604 Twenty-second street, and Robert Averett, of 402 Avenue Q. A man, a woman, and a girl were less seriously wounded.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Feb. 9 (AP)—Fair demand continued for the fairly heavy offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market as the week started. Estimated receipts for the two day period included: Wheat, 101 cars; Corn, 25; Oats, 3; and sorghums, 14 cars. Prices showed little change. No. 1 hard wheat was bringing from 78-80c with shipments from the country going to farm board agencies at the higher figure.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn: No. 2 mixed 74 1-2 75 1-2; No. 2 white 77-78; No. 2 yellow 76 1-2-77 1-2.

Oats: No. 2 red 43 3-4-44 1-4.

Barley: No. 2, 59 1-2-61c.

Sorghums: No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 1.23-1.25; No. 2 kaffir 1.21-1.22.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Acting as a twin of the stock market, grain whisked upward today and unfalteringly stayed aloft. Houses with eastern connections led the buying of wheat, and that cereal as well as oats reached prices which overtopped any since Jan. 15. Chances that a cold wave from the northwest would penetrate the winter wheat belt and cause crop damage, was a bullish factor.

Wheat closed firm at almost the day's high point, unchanged to 2 1-8 cents up, with corn 1 3-8-2 advanced, oats at 7-8-1 1-4 gain, and provisions showed a rise of 10-22 cents.

Uneasiness concerning domestic wheat crop prospects was associated with reports that despite soaking rains in sections of drouth territory, sunshiny weather prevailed over wide areas that still complained of moisture shortage. River stages of 3.2 feet against 29.9 last year were noted.

Provisions rose with grains despite downturns in hog values.

Closing indemnities—Wheat—May (offers) 82 1-2-58; July 68 3-8-1-2; 70 3-4-7-8; Sept. 68, 70 5-8. Corn March (offers) 67 1-2; May 67 1-2; 69 3-4-7-8; July 68 1-2, 70 7-8-71; Sept. 68 3-8, 70 5-8.

COLORADO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Citizens of Mitchell county, joined by scores of West Texas neighbors and representatives from more distant Texas points interested in one of the major traffic arteries of the state, took this afternoon off for a triple-header celebration of the completion of paving in this county on state highway No. 1, the Bankhead.

The affair, moving from Westbrook to Loraine and then to Colorado, meant not only more than 30 miles of concrete and asphalt open to automobile travel, but it meant the closing of the last gap on a road that is now hard surfaced from Texarkana to El Paso.

Observe Scout 21st Birthday

Anniversary Of Establishment Of Movement Observed This Weeks By Boy Scouts Of South Plains Council

Boy Scouts of the South Plains Area council this week are observing the twenty-first anniversary of the establishment of the scout movement on American soil.

Outstanding event of the week will be a councilwide emergency mobilization. Individual programs have been arranged by troops and their sponsors. Several church programs Sunday were devoted to scouting, the boys participating.

The mobilization will be conducted independently by each town in the South Plains council, according to D. T. Jennings, area executive of Lubbock. Neither scouts nor scoutmasters know the day or hour on which the order for mobilization will be issued.

A troop roundup of Troop 4, sponsored by the First Presbyterian church, will be held Friday night at Hotel Lubbock. All men and boys who have ever been connected with that unit are invited to attend the roundup dinner and program.

A big membership drive will probably be instituted in the area within the near future, according to officials. A total of 47 boys joined troops in the council during January.

County Jail

purposes or to accomodate criminal court—it will be only the first unit of whatever space may be needed in the future," Judge Pitts said.

To Begin Soon

Construction of the new jail building probably will get underway within six weeks or two months, the county judge said.

The county commissioners court last month assured the federal government that the federal building site, on which the present jail is situated, would be cleared if possible by March 12.

County prisoners will be placed in the Lubbock city jail and in jails adjoining counties during the period of dismantlement of the present structure and construction of the new jail, according to Judge Pitts. Hale and Crosby counties have agreed to keep Lubbock county prisoners, he said.

Although unable to estimate the number of men which will be employed to raze the present jail, the county judge said that it would be sufficiently large to aid in alleviating local unemployment.

Federal Building Plans To Be Complete March 15

Plans for Lubbock's proposed federal building probably will be complete and available to contractors and prospective bidders by March 15. That information was received from federal authorities following the arrival of preliminary plans for the structure.

Receipts of the plans was occassioned by the need for the city to secure an easement of several feet on both Broadway and Avenue G for sidewalk purposes. The plans call for feet, seven and a half inches and two feet nine and a half inches on Avenue G.

It was necessary for the city to secure the easement for the additional sidewalk as all city widewalks are property of the city.

Long Side On Broadway

The building, according to the preliminary estimates will be about 128 feet, nine inches long, the long side facing Broadway. The shorter side will face Avenue G and will be 87 feet, nine inches.

Three stories and a basement comprise the building. The basement is to be used for storage purposes, etc; the first floor for the postoffice department; second floor for offices for federal officials and the third floor for the federal district court room.

Contractors are reported as saying the government figures show the cost will be estimated at approximately $350,000. However, the appropriation by congress came to only $335,000.

Thirty days will be needed for the government to advertise for bids, so that letting of the contract is not expected until about April 15. Various estimates indicate that construction work may not be expected to start until between the first of June and the first of July.

Measure Would Permit Nine Jurors To Concur In Verdict

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—Final action is expected in the house tomorrow on a bill by Rep. McGill of El Paso which would permit nine jurors to concur in a verdict in a civil case in district court and five jurors in a county or justice court. The bill was pending when the house recessed today.

McGill argued passage of the bill would save litigants thousands of dollars by preventing new trials because of hung juries. He contended too many juries were hung because of the opinion of one or two jurors and said his bill would eliminate the value of attorneys obtaining juries with "sinkers" on them.

TO LET CONTRACTS

AUSTIN, Feb. 9. (AP)—The state highway department today announced plans for letting contracts estimated to aggregate $7,400,000 at the regular meeting of the highway commission February 27-28. This will be the largest letting in the history of the department.

Eight-Year-Old Freckle-Faced Boy Is Happy Over His New Parents, Home

An eight-year-old freckle-faced boy who a day earlier had been homeless Monday morning was greeting new friends at Monroe, happy that he had acquired a home and mother and father.

Following a story about the boy who is named Marshall, in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal, telephone calls and visitors were received at the home of Mrs. W. T. Milam, local welfare worker who told the press about Marshall.

"So many wanted him," Mrs. Milam said, "and one lady was so disappointed—she wants a little boy so badly—that I have promised to find her one."

Marshall's mother died last August and, with his father in wretched health, he and his nine brothers and sisters were made homeless as well as parentless. All of the youngsters have been placed and are happily situated.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9 (AP) — Death in a downtown hotel room of H. H. Guber, Ottawa, Kas., jeweler, was under investigation today by police who sought to determine if he was the victim of a slaying or an accident.

Guber, a middle-aged man, was found dead late yesterday by Harold Lane, a bell-boy, who had come to call him. Committee On Seed Is Named

To Outline Plans For Keeping Certified Grain Sorghum Seeds Grown On Plains In This Section

A committee has been named to outline a plan for keeping certified grain sorghum seeds grown on the South Plains in this section, and to encourage farmers to plant more certified seed.

Dean A H. Leidigh, of the school of agriculture at Texas Technological college; D. F. Eaton, county farm agent; Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment farm here, and S. E. Cone, Lubbock grain dealer, comprise the committee. The committee was named at a meeting held late Saturday at Mr. Cone's office. The committee will meet here this week with Dean L. E. Call of Kansas State Agricultural college.

Decision to lay such plans was motivated by an opinion that the demand for pure seed is growing constantly, and that a movement underway tends to take more certified seed from the territory than is advisable.

Each year 800 or more carloads of grain sorghum seed, averaging 70,000, to 80,000 pounds a car, are shipped from the South Plains. The shipments are heavy, particularly to the far west an New England states, and Russia and Argentina have bought seed here, it was said.

More Heat--Less Gas

There is only one suggestion for the better use of a radiant type Gas Heater, beyond having a good flame, proper connections, keeping burners and heating elements clean and general care in not burning gas needlessly.

This suggestion is to watch the flame so that it does not go OVER THE TOP of the radiant grid which throws out the heat. This wastes heat and gas, besides not giving you all the heat there is in the gas that is burned. The flames should be just high enough to heat the grid or other radiating material and no higher.

The principle of this radiant type heater is incandescence, the use of a small amount of gas to produce a great deal of heat, practically all of which is utilized.

Simply turn on enough gas to make the entire grid glow—and no more.
