Prolonged Fight Over Final Passage Of Farm Bill Seen

Effort To Speed Bonus Payments Is Opposed

Department Of Agriculture's Officials Against Proposal Offered By Senator Smith

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Agriculture department opposition to last-minute changes in cotton provisions of the compromise farm bill raised the possibility today of a prolonged floor fight over the measure.

The controverted item was an amendment inserted at the behest of Senator Smith (D.-S.C.) to speed up payment of part of the $130,000,000 bonus congress had voted for 1937 cotton growers who complied with the 1938 program.

Would Delay Whole Bill

A strong attack in congress on the amendment could delay the whole farm bill, which is to be ready for house consideratoin Tuesday.

Legislators disclosed, meanwhile, that all handlers and processors of farm products would face penalties under its provisions.

One section of the complicated measure warns "common carriers" and purchasers that they would face a penalty of up to $500, if they fail to keep records prescribed by the secretary of agriculture.

Smith Defends Proposal

Chairman Smith defended his proposal to speed payment of a bonus as "the only hope for better cotton prices."

It would permit borrowers to surrender cotton on which government loans have been made, to the Commodity Credit corporation, and to receive up to 2 cents a pound in price-adjustment payments.

Total Of $130,000,000 Voted

A total of $130,000,000 in bonus payments was voted by congress for 1937 cotton growers who complied with the 1938 control program.

Agriculture department officials said Smith's proposal might force the government to impound up to 5,000,000 bales. They contended this might wipe out the price advantage American cotton now enjoys over foreign competitors.

"All I can say about that," Smith commented, "is that I am more concerned about the relief of the price of cotton to the growers than any other thing."

Business Decline Is Halted In January

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The Federal Reserve board reported tonight that the nation's business halted its decline during January and is now no worse, at least, than in December.

Discussing in its monthly bulletin the recession which in about four months wiped out the gains in industrial production of three years, the board made no prediction about the future.

The index of industrial production, based on 1923-25 as 100, stayed at the December level of 84 during January, the board reported. Retail sales, as measured by department store business, also held up to December levels, considering seasonal differences beteewn the months.

Lubbock 'Busiest Spot In Texas'

In State Race

SENATOR G. HOBART NELSON

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

DRY statistics saturated with indisputable evidences of amazing business activity in Lubbock were made available here Saturday.

Comparative compilations of figures on retail trade of independent stores, building permits and postal receipts, as gathered by the bureau of business research of the University of Texas, give the South Plains "hub" ranking in Texas far above its population position.

Busiest Spot In State

The figures, contained in the bureau's official publication, "Texas Business Review," bear out the claim that Lubbock, population considered is probably the busiest spot in the entire state. Copies of the publication were received at the chamber of commere here.

The factors on which compilations were reported—retail sales, building permits and postal receipts—are accepted by authorities as among the most accurate barometers of economic conditions prevailing in a community.

Circumstances Considered

Lubbock's record in those respects would be outstanding under any circumstances. When considered, however, that the city ranked 20th in Texas in population when the official census in 1930 was taken and that it may be in 18th position now — certainly not higher than 15th, the achievement becomes even more amazing.

The research bureau figures show Lubbock to be:

FIRST among cities of the state in percentage of increase in retail sales of independent stores for December, 1937, as compared with December, 1936.

FIRST, and by a long shot, among all Texas cities in per capita volume of such retail sales both for December and for the whole of 1937.

First In Dollar Increase

FIRST in actual dollar increase in building permit totals in 1937 as compared with 1936. The only city close to Lubbock was San Antonio, and it trailed by more than $200,000. San Antonio's increase was $746,794. Lubbock's gain was $960,620.

FIRST, by long odds, in per capita expenditure for new construction.

SECOND in percentage of increase in sales by independent re-

Senator Nelson Announces For Lieut.-Governor

State Senator G. Hobart Nelson of Lubbock, Saturday announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor with the statement that "The greatest need of Texas is lobby-free legislation."

"The people of Texas are tired," he said, "of seeing session after session of the legislature hamstrung by professional lobbyists, and the time has come when they are going to seek the election of men who will vote according to convictions rather tha.. according to lobbyists."

Author Of Race Repeal Bill

Nelson was author of the bill which repealed the law authorizing horse race betting. He has urged substitution of a one-house legislature for the existing two-house system, asserting the change "would cut the lifeline of the lobby in Texas."

The Lubbock senator's public life began after he had worked his way through East Texas State Teachers college at Commerce and the University of Texas at Austin. As a teacher he was principal of the high school at Roscoe, superintendent of s ools at Tahoka, and he and Mrs. Nelson taught at Hermleigh, Scurry county. Mrs. Nelson is the former Miss Aileen Hackney of Hopkins county. They were married in 1924.

After serving as secretary of the chamber of commerce at Ralls in 1927, Senator Nelson became city attorney for Tahoka. In 1928 he was elected county attorney of Lynn county and served four years. In 1932 he was chosen district attorney of the 106th district court, the district being composed of Garza,

Clues Reported In Pendergrass Case

SWEETWATER, Feb. 5. (AP)—Clothing and other articles found by rabbit hunters near here today were identified by W. T. Pendergrass of Meadow, as the property of his brother, Jesse H. Pendergrass, missing since November 21.

Pendergrass, relatives said, left Cooksville, Tenn., with a "fairly large sum of money." Finding of the clothing and handbag were the first clues since officers found the missing man used a railroad ticket from Texarkana to Sweetwater.

Plans were made for a posse to leave early tomorrow to search the area where the articles were found.

New Mexico Lawyer Resigns From Civil Liberties Union

EL PASO, Feb. 5. (AP)—Edward D. Tittman, for 18 years a member of the national committee of the American Civil Liberties union, resigned today in protest against what he considered a position inconsistent with the right of free speech and free press.

Gerald Mann Enters Race For State Post

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Gerald C. Mann of Dallas, one of the greatest football backfield men in Southwest conference history, tonight formally announced his candidacy for attorney general.

MANN

The Southern Methodist university quarterback of a decade ago will lock horns with an imposing array of political leaders, including Lieut. Gov. Walter F. Woodul, Robert W. Calvert, speaker of the house of representatives, District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin and District Attorney Lewis Goodrich of Shamrock.

The announcement of Mann, who is a former secretary of state and assistant attorney general, contained a declaration of war against "political racketeering," which he said had become a disgrace to the state.

After receiving his bachelor's degree, Mann went to Harvard to complete his law studies, working his way as a shipping clerk in a factory. When the factory closed during the depression he tried out for the pulpit on an interdenominational church in a nearby suburb and was called by the congregation. During the remainder of his law course he devoted his Sundays to preaching.

The Dallas lawyer is a member of the state Democratic executive committee.

France And Great Britain Join With American Note For Data On Nipponese Construction

WOULD BE STEP BACKWARD

TOKYO, Feb. 5. (AP)—A high Japanese naval official declared today that for Japan to adhere to the 1936 naval treaty as asked by the United States, Great Britain and France would be a step backward.

The official frankly said there was no reason for Japan to accept the treaty and limit her navy to 35,000-ton battleships and 16-inch guns.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — The United States, together with Britain and France, presented to Japan today a formal threat to building battleships bigger than 35,000 tons unless Japan says definitely she is not exceeding this limit.

Simultaneously, this government informed Japan it is willing to discuss limitation of battleship sizes.

In a formal note presented to the Japanese government by Ambassador Grew at Tokyo, the United States gave Japan until Feb. 20 to reply.

PLANES TO GO TO GUAM

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 5. (AP)—The Associated Press learned today from a usually reliable source that western Pacific naval forces are to be strengthened by the transfer of 15 naval flying boats to Guam "before June."

Fliers of squadron VP-18, stationed at the Pearl Harbor fleet air base were said to be expecting orders directing them to proceed to Guam for a one-year tour of duty.

Failure To Reply Admission

Failure to reply will be construed officially as an admission Japan is building or intends building battleships beyond 35,000 tons and cruisers beyond 8,000 tons, and the United States will do likewise.

Consultation between the two countries for limitation of battleship sizes must be completed by May 1, the American note said. The 15-day limit for the Japanese reply was set because this government must assemble its fleet estimates in time to communicate them to Britain and France, other

Recess Ordered In Land Probe

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. — Senate committeemen investigating Land Commissioner William H. McDonald today began a recess to "digest" testimony of the past 10 days.

Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, chairman, indicated the inquisitors would question no more witnesses for another 10 days at which time, he said, members would be in a better position for determining their future course.

Governor James V. Allred, frequent critic of McDonald, was represented by A. R. Stout, Ennis attorney who grilled numerous witnesses.

Allred Is Satisfied Over Progress In Investigation

DALLAS, Feb. 5. (AP)—Satisfaction over a senate committee's progress in investigating policies of Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald was expressed today by Gov. James V. Allred.

This investigation, the governor said, will be continued "until all the facts are out."

Partial Insurance Of Plant Improvement Loans Is Possible

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — The Federal Housing administration revealed today partial insurance of plant improvement loans would be the administration's initial effort to solve the loan problem of small business.

Many other solutions of the problem, the importance of which was stressed by the thousand small business men who met here in the last week, also are being studied by the administration.

Recommended Loans

The "little men" recommended government insurance of "loans for all necessary purposes," and direct government loans if banks failed to cooperate.

The FHA policy, authorized in an almost completely unpublicized section of the new housing act, which President Roosevelt signed Thursday night, covers loans up to $10,000. If a bank can be induced to make the loan for periods ranging up to five years, the FHA will guarantee 10 per cent of it.

Expect Great Volume

"We expect to do a great volume of business under this plan," a spokesman said.

Other proposals still are in the study stage.

One official suggested the government encourage private investors to form investment pools for the purpose of buying stock in small enterprises. His idea was that only large capital pools which could average good investments against bad investments would be able to take the risks involved in providing capital for small businesses. His proposal also would enable small firms to get new working capital, he said. The FHA policy covers only financing of property improvements.

Only Government Large Enough

Other officials doubt if private pools could be large enough to average risks and say only the government is large enough for such a

Injunction Granted On Texas Chain Store Tax Dissolved

DALLAS, Feb. 5. (AP)—The injunction granted Texas chain store firms in January, 1936, against the state collecting the tax on chain stores by Royall Watkins, then judge of the ninety-fifth court, carrying out the ruling of the state supreme court upholding constiutionality of the law.

The appellate court also entered an order overruling the motion of the chain stores for judgment.

The chain stores will have 15 days in which to file a motion for rehearing on the appellate court's action today.

Gain Of Almost 25 Per Cent Is Made In Texas Tax Payments

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Gross receipts tax collections for the last three months of 1937 exceeded those for the corresponding period of 1936 by $1,534,413, Comptroller George H. Sheppard reported today. He pointed out the gain was almost 25 per cent.

The largest rise was in the oil tax. Collections from that source during the last quarter of 1937 totaled $4,153,678, compared with $2,925,340 in the last three months of the preceding year.

Japanese Forces Advance Again

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 6. (Sunday)—Japanese troops stabbed at both sides of China's double-edged central front today but on the south, Chinese reported, they were held back by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's thundering field guns.

About 90 miles south of Suchow, keystone of the Chinese defense, the embattled forces faced each other with the Japanese halted by artillery fire, according to Chinese advices.

The Japanese, however, contended they had crossed the Hwai river and were driving on north against Kuchen, 30 miles farther north along the fiercely disputed Tiensin- Pukow railway.

Apparently Crushing Opposition

Apparently the Japanese were crushing Chinese opposition in a broad sector of the northern front. Shucheng and Mengyin are about 85 miles apart.

More than 500 missionaries scattered through Shantung province, outside of Canton, Macao and Hongkong, the British crown colony, were endangered by the sweep of the warplanes. Nearly 200 of those endangered were Americans.

Gen Frank Hines, director of the Veterans bureau.

Europe 'Jittery' Over Effects Of New Program

German Has Declared For Peace But It Is Feared Things He Plans Will Bring Way

By JOHN EVANS
Associated Press General Foreign Editor

REICHSFUEHRER Adolf Hitler's hand on the throttle of Germany's great war machine makes the whole world anxious.

Hitler has declared for peace, but the world fears the things he intends to do may bring war.

Europe's statesmen have warned Germany of danger. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons Wednesday Germany is "perhaps potentialy the greatest military power in Europe" and added it would be "difficult to exaggerate the significance" of Hitler's force.

Eliminates All Opposition

Der Fuehrer's assumption of direct command of German land, air and sea forces gives him no new power, but it eliminates all opposition. It is the manner in which he bodily proclaimed his control Friday night that startles a shell-shocked world.

He ousted generals, shifted ambassadors, made the armed forces Nazi and let the world know Germany is advancing toward execution of her map-changing program.

Hitler is on record for peace but here's the program that may bring something else:

1 Germany wants her colonies back. Field Marshall General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, at his first appearance with his new title, renewed "the demand for return of robbed Germany property."

2 Danzig corridor. No statesman ever expected Germany forever would remain separated by the Polish strip that cuts off East Prussia from the Fatherland.

3 Germans abroad. There are 3,000,000 of them in Czechoslovakia and there are nearly 7,000,000 people in Austria, speaking German and allies of Germany in the World war.

4 Russia. Germany casts envious eyes on the vast wheat fields of the Ukraine which could give Hitler's Nazis their own bread.

Those are the main points on a

Youngster Discovers Stranger's Business

DALLAS, Feb. 5. (AP)—Lonnie McKenzie, 12, who lives on a Dallas camp ground, approached a white-hatted stranger downtown and asked humbly for the price of an egg or two for breakfast.

"Let's fry this place here, sonny," the stranger replied. Over ham and eggs the stranger learned a lot about Lonnie, and gave him some advice.

"What would you like to be?" Lonnie's benefactor asked.

"I'd like to be the governor of Texas," Lonnie answered. "What b siness are you in?"

"I'm the governor of Texas," replied Gov. James V. Allred, who disappeared while Lonnie choked over a mouthful of ham.

Largest Market Week Program In History Of Lubbock Planned This Spring

Many Exhibitors Are To Be Here

Extensive plans for possibly the largest market week ever promoted in Lubbock were launched by the board of directors for the Western Wholesale Market association—new name for the West Tex-New Mex Wholesale Clothing Marketing association—in a meeting last week.

Increased patronage of exhibitors caused the directors to change the name from the long one which the association had carried since its organization.

To Be One Of Largest

The fifteenth semi-annual showing this year, according to Luther A. Godwin, president of the board of directors, is expected to be one of the largest sponsored by the organization.

Members of the board of directors, other than Godwin, are I. A. Stephens, Ernest Pope, Morris Levine, Arlie Crites, O. J. Sexton, and Sam Rosenthal.

More than 75 exhibitors from New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Seattle, Los Angeles, Dallas, Fort Worth, New Orleans, and other style, industrial, and manufacturing centers are expected to obtain display rooms and have representatives here.

Many Items To Be Shown

On exhibit to accommodate retail merchants in purchasing their Easter season and usmmer stocks will be ready-to-wear for women, millinery, men's clothing, accessories, lingerie, hosiery, shoes, sports wear, woolen and leather goods, and novelties.

Dates for the spring market, set at the director's meeting Friday, will be March 31, April 1, 2, and 3, opening Thursday and closing Sunday. The second, third, and fourth floors of the Lubbock hotel will be devoted to display rooms and quarters for representatives of wholesale clothing companies.

Directors voted to eliminate the style show and in its place entertain visiting and local merchants with a dinner and dance at the hotel on the opening night. Each retail firm visiting the market will be given three free tickets, regardless of size, it was pointed out.

Deadline Is March 10

Numerous wholesale companies have indicated their intentions of bringing merchandise here for exhibit and sale. Requests for reservations should be sent to J. H. Brock, secretary of the association, post-office box 561. Deadline for making reservations for sample rooms is March 10, Brock said.

Space at both Lubbock and Hilton hotels has been reserved by the association for sample rooms and agreements have been made whereby wholesale companies may not obtain display space at either hotel except through the market association.

Retail merchants from over all West Texas and eastern New Mexico have been invited and are expected to send representatives.

Chairmen Are Chosen

Crites was made chairman of the publicity committee and Rosenthal of the greeters' committee.

A "buyers' guide" will be printed listing exhibitors, their representatives here, types of merchandise handled by them, and the numbers of their display and sample rooms.

The market will afford to retail merchants opportunities to obtain quickly latest styles for the Easter season and early summer wear for men, women and children.

Last spring's market week was held March 11 to 14 inclusive.

Education Of Children Depends Upon Every Daily Contact, Griggs Writes In Outlook

Education of children depends not only upon classroom environment, but home environment, the associations of their community, and every daily contact, according to Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent of public instruction.

In an article in the February issue of the Texas Outlook, Supt. Griggs says children are influenced by the thinking and activities of the entire community, therefore the responsibility of educators is to educate the public.

Service Clum Medium

One of the few direct ways to approach this task is through the service clubs of the community, he wrote. Almost every profession in the community is represented in the clubs. All of them were described as interested in public education.

The leading service organizations in Lubbock are the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and American Business clubs. These clubs have cooperated in such work as making it possible for children to be given medical aid and other attention erstwhile impossible, and in furnishing playground equipment to schools and parks.

The Lions club has bought glasses for many children with defective eyesight.

Recreational Center Sponsored

A recreational center for boys between ages of five and 14, under direction of the men's educational classes of Texas Technological college, is sponsored by the Kiwanis club during the summer months.

The Rotary club has a student loan fund for worthy students who otherwise could not attend college.

By distributing safety posters and literature and organizing safety patrols in the schools of the city, the American Business club sponsored a safety program.

School men in the community are trying to keep these service clubs enthusiastic in public education by keeping them interested in school activities.

It's Quite Lawful In Tyler For Chickens To Scratch Up Your Flower Bed, Citizens Learn

TYLER, Feb. 5. (AP)—It's quite lawful for chickens to scratch up your flower gardens in Tyler.

This was established this week when irate citizens complained to city authorities that their flower beds were being ruined by poultry flocks from neighboring yards.

The chief recalled that such an ordinance was passed in Tyler about ten years ago, but it was later repealed in a city election.

What could be done about the chickens?

"Build a fence," was the chief's only solution.

Work Of Razing Old Building To Start

Work of razing the old industrial building on the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds is expected to be begun the first of the week, chamber of commerce officials said Saturday.

All exhibitors are asked to remove any signs or other possessions that have been left in the building as soon as possible. Most of the exhibitors had been called, while some had not been reached Saturday, officials said.

The old building is being removed to make way for a new stucture to cost between $12,000 and $15,000 which recently was approved by fair officials.

There are 173 blind persons to every 100,000 inhabitants of England.

Congress Slowly But Surely Moving For Test On Administration Leadership

White House May Be Furnished Clue On Action For Tax Revision

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Surely if slowly, congress is moving toward a critical test of administration leadership.

What it does about tax revision under the cumulative drive of business and the political pressure of the impending congressional primaries may furnish a definite clue for the White House as to how far it can rely confidently upon its huge party majorities in both houses for support of industrial control or regulatory legislation.

Does Not Satisfy Business

Administration spokesmen in or out of congress do not admit doubts as to the result of the business demands for drastic tax revision as the first steps necessary to reverse recession trends. There have been recurrent symptoms that a run-away movement to repeal the surplus profits tax and even the capital gains levy might get started in the house, regardless of budgetary considerations or presidential wishes. It is plain the pending revision program, retaining the principle of the undistributed profits tax for big corporations, does not satisfy many business elements.

Attack on principles of administration business tax policy has been going on for months. It is still the keynote of almost every suggestion reaching congressional committees or the president through his series of recession remedy conferences, except from spokesmen for organized labor. Yet the house committee from which the first moves to revise tax policy must come is still far from submitting its proposals to the house after months of considerable study.

Circumstances Make For Doubt

Administration leaders may know with reasonable certainty what to expect when the bill reaches the house floor; but circumstances make it doubtful that they do actually. Ever since the opening of the special session numerous undelivered house speeches touching on the tax revision controversy have found their way into the appendix of the congressional record for home circulation by the authors. They illustrate the extent to which the house membership is feeling the pressure for some drastic action.

The house has notice from a senate bloc of tax revisionists led by senator Harrison, the finance committee chairman, that a senate program more sweeping than the house tax sub-committee's is in prospect. It has learned, in the course of presidential unemployment hearings, that both big and little business put tax revision first as a recession cure. The whole house membership faces early primary battles. Until a tax bill reaches the floor, no one can say with certainty how the calls for drastic action have affected its mass sentiment.

The slowness with which the bill is being prepared in committee suggests a strategy of delay as well as emphasizing the difficulties of working out a problem so intricate and technical. It holds up any parallel senate committee action which might influence house sentiment on the bill. The senate committee must await completion of the house bill, if not on house action, before it begins legislative work.

That the situation is becoming increasingly acute politically for the large group of first-term house members is obvious. They have only the works of this the 75th congress, and their personal share in it to point to in seeking re-election. As yet it is not a highly impressive output, as congresses go. The urge among this group to do something quickly about the recession, that will rally re-election support at home, is a factor administration leadership must reckon with in submitting and timing its legislative program.

Fifteen million pounds of sudan seed is yet to be sold. Seed sold has brought about $1.80 per hundred pounds.

Are You A Sufferer Of Strange Maladies? Some Doctors Call It Allergy But Just What To Do About It Is Big Problem

BY ARGO PEEK

Do you ever suffer from hay fever, hives, gastric upsets, asthmatic attacks, or periodic appearances of boils?

A doctor or surgeon might call the affliction allergy.

What is allergy? To tell the truth, doctors and scientists have not quite decided. But they agree that it may be defined as sensitivity to a substance that is harmless to most individuals.

Many Instances Cited

There are many instances of allergy in Lubbock.

Here are a few of them, in case you haven't noticed.

A man complains of headaches "caused by sandstorms."

A picture show may cause some people to have a headache, but it is harmless to others.

Many have periodic attacks of hay fever.

One Lubbock man complains that a boil appears on the back of his neck almost every year.

Rash Every Summer

Another has the rash every summer.

A number of women speak of gastric upsets on certain days while on other days they feel perfectly normal.

Roland H. Berg, writing for the February issue of Scribners magazine, indicates all are allergic in some respect.

According to Berg some of the things which cause allergy are: Pollens of trees, grasses, and weeds, foods, dust, matter from pillows and bedding, animals, drugs, medicines, and even heat, cold, and sunshine.

Blisters After Vacation

He mentioned several individuals with some particular kind of allergy such as the person who returned from a vacation with small blisters covering his face. Doctors found that the blisters were caused by a certain sun ray.

Combinations of food cause allergy, while the same foods have no serious effects when eaten separately. The combination of fish and milk is among these.

Doctors may use one of four tests to determine what is producing the symptoms of allergy: the scratch, intradermal, patch, and deduction tests. The scratch test method which is perhaps most used is carried out by putting suspected substances in scratches. If a large bump similar to a mosquito bite appears, that substance is the culprit.

Berg suggested that a married man who had periodical attacks of asthma found the influence that produced symptoms of allergy was the appearance of his mother-in-law.

Borden County Youth's Leg Is Broken In Fall From 'Slide'

The fascination of sliding down a pole had as its aftermath in Lubbock Saturday a search for a pair of crutches of the proper size for Bob Beal, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Beal, ranch family residing in Borden county.

The family also has a home in Lamesa, where Bob attends school, friends reported. At the family home is a windmill tower, to which the youth wired a heavy iron pipe down which he slid in fireman fashion. But the pole gave way a few days ago, and Bob's left leg was broken above the ankle.

Crutches were sought and secured here after efforts to obtain them nearer home had proved unsuccessful.

Another Racket Is Believed Found Here As Two Men Decide To Halt Selling 'Roses'

Another racket?

Officials of at least two Lubbock patriotic organizations believe so.

They believe that racketeers in undetermined numbers may be using paper flowers resembling poppies to line their own pockets.

Investigations were started Saturday, officials of the organization disclosed, following the appearance here Friday of two men who, garbed in overseas caps and khaki, offered paper flowers for sale on Lubbock streets. Although the flowers resembled the poppies sold annually by legitimate organizations as a means of aiding disabled ex-service men, the sponsors of the newest sale called them "roses."

Engaged In Personal Venture

Results of the investigations, in which police and county officers participated, disclosed, according to their report: that the two men were engaged in a personal venture; that the "roses" cost them a very small sum—less than a penny; that they put into their own pockets whatever profit they derived; and that one, a cripple, admitted that his disability was not connected with any governmental service.

Investigations were made after officials of patriotic organizations here had reported that they had no connections with, and they were opposed to, the solicitations by the two men.

Police reported that when the men were questioned and were informed that a city license was required for any street selling, they promptly headed for the city hall and paid the $10 license fee. Other complaints led to county investigations and resulted, officials reported, in the decision of the pair Saturday to leave Lubbock immediately to escape prosecution.

Heads of patriotic organizations in other South Plains communities were advised of the activities of the pair here.

VETERAN DIES

LITTLEFIELD, (Special)—Henry Neely, about 64, a World war veteran and since 1932 a resident here, died in a U. S. veterans hospital at Fort Bayard, N. M. after being taken there for hospitalization. So far as is known here he left no relatives. He had been ill for years, spending much time in hospitals.

One Killed, Another Injured In Oklahoma Refinery Blast

ENID, Okla., Feb. 5. (AP)—A gasoline plant explosion and fire which killed one workman and injured another burned itself out today and Eason Oil company officials estimated damage to their property at $200,000.

Pete Peterson, 46, plant fireman, was burned fatally. Cause of the fire had not been determined. Two explosions followed in rapid succession last night, engulfing three units of the Eason gasoline cracking plant in flames which shot 300 to 400 feet in air.

Gly-Cas' Action Astonished Her

Had Lost Weight, Weak, Run-Down; Foods Wouldn't Agree With Her; Now Normal Again, Feeling Fine.

"Gly-Cas was the very medicine I should have had years before," said Miss Verna Honeycutt, Rt. 1, Dry Prong, La., (near Alexandria). "For over five years heartburn, bloating and smothering spells were so frequent that at times I could hardly breathe and became terribly nervous. The poisons seemed to settle over my entire system making my back and sides ache continually. I often thought I could not further endure such suffering. I had lost so much weight my strength waned and my entire system was run-down. But when I began to hear so much praise for Gly-Cas I was persuaded to give it a REAL TEST in my case."

"Gly-Cas showed me a marked improvement at once," said Miss Honeycutt. "After taking Gly-Cas only one week those seemingly impossible foods digested easily for me. Never am I bothered with heartburn, indigestion or bloating. The pains have left my body entirely. I have my normal weight back, gaining in strength every day and feel marvelous since I have given this new Gly-Cas an opportunity to help me. Too much praise cannot be given Gly-Cas—it deserves even more than is given it."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, this city, and by all the leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Breach Of Roosevelt's Court Reorganization Program Not Healed After Year

Effects Of Long Row Still Felt

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A year ago today President Roosevelt proposed his court reorganization bill and precipitated a momentous congressional battle.

Political effects of the long struggle which left his party ranks in congress badly split are still in evidence. The breach has not healed.

Instead of the half dozen dissenters from administration policies among senate democrats there is now a big crop of oppositionists.

Every Vote Close

Every really vital senate vote since the court bill fight has been close. The spirit of independence has spread to the house, where last session for the first time the bigger chamber voted down a key administration measure—the wage-hour bill.

Legislative echoes still are heard at the capitol: The senate judiciary committee is studying constitutional amendments and legislation that grew out of that fight.

Committee members have forecast a bill soon will be reported providing new federal judges in the lower courts.

Holding Hearings On Plan

Most likely constitutional amendment to emerge from the court debate is the Norris proposal to make it easier to change the constitution. A judiciary subcommittee is now holding hearings on the plan.

It would require that a constitutional amendment submitted to the states by congress automatically go on the ballots in the next general election. This would permit ratification by direct vote, and assure prompt action.

Although Mr. Roosevelt lost his court battle, he has since won his objective of a more friendly Supreme court by retirement of two justices who often voted against his policies. Justices Van Devanter and Sutherland. Their places were taken by Senator Black, of Alabama, a leading advocate of New Deal measures, and Solicitor General Stanley F. Reed, chief legal defender of administration legislation.

Dr. W. C. Holden Is Listed In Directory Of Archaeologists

Dr. W. C. Holden, head professor of history and director of archaeological research at Texas Technological college, is listed with archaeologists from 51 countries in the recently published "International Directory of Anthropologists."

Only other Texans so honored are Dr. James E Pearce of the University of Texas and Victor Smith, director of archaeological research at the Big Bend museum, Alpine.

Dr. Holden was mentioned for research in Yaque Indian territory, Sonora, Mexico in 1934; field trips in New Mexico and West Texas from 1930 to 1937; and research on pueblo ruins in Glorietta, N. M.

Sudan Postmaster Champing At Bit; He's An Old Campaigner

(By Staff Correspondent)

SUDAN, Feb. 5 — Postmaster Simon D. Hay is just a little bit nervous and is champing at the bit, so to speak. For the first time in 14 years he is not engaged in a political campaign and it has begun to bother him.

"It feels funny not to be out campaigning," Hay said. "I don't know how I am going to pull through. I served three terms as county commissioner and four terms as county judge of Lamb county."

Preparations Are Started For Eighth Annual Plains Quality Meat Show Here

Hassell Named To Head Plans

Preliminaries for the eighth annual Plains Quality Meat Show to be repeated here late in March or early in April were completed Saturday with the appointment by J. D. Hassell, jr., president of the chamber of commerce, of an executive committee.

At the same time, Hassell called a meeting of the new committee for 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the chamber of commerce.

Members Are Announced

Members of the committee are: W. G. Alderson, chairman; R. H. Hester, William Condrey, H. B. Bryan, W. L. Stangel, C. C. Jobson, Ray Mowery, Dr. I. E. Barr, Alex McDonald, S. C. Arnett, R. C. Harvey, Richard Roberts, Durwood H. Bradley, O. T. Ryan, B. Sherrod and O. J. Sexton

Major matters for consideration at the meeting will be the setting of definite dates for the show and the appointment of committees to have charge of major phases of preparations

Expect More Entries

While definite plans must await the decision of the executive committee, chamber of commerce officials said, interest already promises the greatest of all the meat shows held here. Their prediction is that more baby beef cattle, swine and sheep will be shown than last year, when nearly 500 were entered.

Prize money last year totaled approximately $400 and that figure likely will remain about the same. However, consideration will be given to a proposal that there be a broader distribution of the money. The prize value of the show to the exhibitors is increased, it was explained, by the premium invariably paid for the livestock sold at auction as a closing feature of the event. Last year the prize calf brought more than $500 at the sale.

Well-Rounded Program Of Education Is Offered To Mexicans In Lubbock Schools; Many Will Go On And Seek Higher Learning

BY SYLVIA SMITH

The natural trait of Mexicans north of the Rio Grande to be suspicious of organized authority is being dispelled naturally through education in Texas schools.

For example, a question directed toward likes and dislikes of police elicited a favorable percentage of answers when asked last week. Only one, in the kindergarten, evidenced dislike — ". . . because they lock you up."

Hope To Reduce Accidents

The discussion followed a study of a poster made by one of the pupils in which the children are taught to watch for green lights and to look up and down before crossing streets. Through the cooperation of public schools, children thus are taught principles that civic leaders hope will reduce traffic accidents in Lubbock and throughout the South Plains.

Were he to visit in the Mexican school, the layman probably would be surprised at the intelligent responses the 6-year-old children make in English.

Centrally located in Mexican town, the modern brick building affords unusual opportunities to the children. Mrs. George Duval, principal, builds English vocabularies for the beginners using pictures labeled with suitable nouns. After a year or one-half, depending on the ability of the individual, pupils are ready for the first grade. Five grades are available in the school, after which part of the pupils attend junior high school.

Ready For High School

Two now in Junior High will be ready for high school at the end of this school year. According to Mrs. Duval, they probably will attend Texas Technological college, since they are ambitious, capable and have parents interested in their higher education.

Other teachers of the school include Mrs. Jewel O'Dell, Mrs. Glidwell Cole, Ray Hinds, and a substitute teacher, Mrs. H. D. Woods.

Because Ganuta, Pilar, Joe Bill, Beatriz, Pete, Jenny, Celso, Lilly, Raymond, Lupe, Ramona, and the rest of them like music, much of their learning is in the form of musical games and drills.

Belonging to a rhythmical race, tots in the kindergarten class know folk dances comparable to those of the fourth grade in other schools. Some routines are identical with those taught in freshman classes at Tech.

Eager To Display Ability

Not unlike other races, the Mexican children are eager to show what they are able to do. The best students are excellent readers.

Most of the teachers' directions are in English; only occasionally must they resort to Spanish to make clear an assignment. English also predominates on the playground. In excitement, one boy answered OVENA when asked what little children should have for breakfast.

"But what is that in English?" served as the correct stimulus for his reply that it is OATMEAL.

A large mirror at the children's level motivates well-groomed appearances. Many students wear their hair curled or braided. They like ear screws and cowboy boots. A few of them are fortunate in having eye glasses.

Flags Are Displayed

Each of the four classrooms displays prominently an American flag. Flowers in bloom add cheerfulness. A piano, phonograph, maps, bulletin boards, and hectograph are included in the equipment. However below standard their home conditions might be, in Lubbock's school the Mexican boys and girls are given a cultural atmosphere.

Posters, general conversation, reading, all stress the fundamental health principles. They know how much water and milk they should drink each day, that exercise is important, that they should keep clean (spick and spandy are their words for it), that they should get plenty of sleep, and that they should brush their teeth regularly. When the teacher asks who likes spinach, every pupil answers, automatically: "Popeye."

Efforts To Be Made To Find A Sport For Every Tech Co-Ed

Efforts to find a sport for every woman student in Texas Technological college will be made in a sports program to be begun by the Women's Athletic association Monday.

Miss Zella Riegel and Miss Margaret Baskin of the women's physical education department will supervise the program. Chairmen for each sport have been appointed and a tentative schedule drawn up.

All sports except golf, bowling and riflery will be held in the gymnasium.

Color-motion pictures were developed in London first and were shown in Madison Square Garden as early as 1909.

Murfee Funeral Is Held On Saturday

Lipscomb, pastor, with assistance of Elder Liff Sanders of the Church of Christ and Rev. Ben Hardy of Tahoka. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery with Sanders Funeral home in charge.

The church auditorium was filled to capacity by numerous old timers and friends of Murfee from this area.

He died at his 1923 Fourteenth street residence Thursday afternoon after a nine-day illness which began with an attack of influenza.

The French Academy is limited to 40 members.

Legion Leaders To Visit Here

A committee of South Plains American Legion members will go to Abilene either Wednesday night or early Thursday to greet and become the official escort to Lubbock for Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, who is to speak at the hall here Thursday noon, according to information given Saturday by A. C. Jackson, commander of Allen Bros. post.

The escort committee has not been named, though Jackson expressed the hope that representatives of several other posts in the area will be members of the party.

Plans Are Complete

Plans for reception of the visitors here, the Lubbock commander added, have been completed. Doherty's address will take up most of the program, although Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, Texas department commander, will speak briefly. Dr. Danforth will be official host to the national commander while he is in Texas. Time will be taken also, Jackson added, to present the out-of-town delegations attending.

Subject of Doherty's address has not been announced although the purpose of his national tour is to stress national defense, officials of Allen Bros. post have been advised.

Reservations Asked

Jackson has asked the various posts adjutants throughout the region to advise him as soon as possible as to the number expected to attend the luncheon so that adequate preparations can be made. A plate charge not to exceed 35 cents will be made, according to notifications sent to Legion posts throughout the South Plains and eastern New Mexico by Chas. A. Whitacre, chairman of that committee.

The local commander also reminded that the invitation to attend is not confined to Legion members. It includes all ex-service members and any other citizens interested.

Golden Gloves On Parade

By Collier Parris

TEMPUS is fugiting right along toward Monday and Tuesday nights and the District Golden Gloves finals at the Auditorium.

The tickets are fugiting, too, but today and until noon tomorrow, or as long as they last, they may be procured at the Hilton Hotel desk or the Hotel Lubbock Drugstore.

Also, there are openings yet for a few fighters, provided they report tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 till 5 o'clock at the Auditorium and make known their desires. The last count last night revealed that 54 boys has signed up for the District tournament. The light heavyweight, middleweight, welterweight and lightweight divisions are pretty well "sold out," but there's room for a few more in the heavyweight, feather, bantam and flyweight groups.

No less than four boxers are registered for each division, but only four are listed in the heavyweight, and only four in the flyweight groups, biggest and littlest of the program. So if you have a little heavyweight or big flyweight in your home, please encourage him to improve his in the manly art by competing in the Golden Gloves.

tches Made At The Ringside

knew there was always a lot of interest in amateur boxing shows ere on account of the way the fans turned out, but you could have d us over with a truck, so surprised we were to see such a large nd at full-grown prices. The $1.10 tops is standard Golden , but that hasn't balked the fans so far. We have every reaeve they got their money's worth in the City tournament, and reason to believe that the price is "bargain rates" for the Dists.

we aren't begging you any more to attend the Golden Gloves —we're simp'y advising you that if you want a seat, better buy or come early. There'll be approximately 100 rounds of fighton both nights, and it won't be ordinary fighting, either.

Sponsors and directors of the District Golden Gloves party here are ding by precedents and rulings established by other promoters in keepg the pairings a secret until ringtime.

OU know, you can't force an amateur to fight, if he doesn't want to fight. You can't tell, unless you make careful and individual checks very day, whether a boxer will be a bantam or a featherweight, a featherweight or a flyweight, at ringside. You can't tell, unless you watch the lad every hour, whether he'll pass the rigid medical and physical examinations, which are given three hours before the fights, and again 30 minutes before the fight. And the M. D. assigned to the Golden Gloves here, Dr. U. Steve Marshall of the Lubbock Sanitarium staff, does not hesitate to turn a boy down who isn't in the best of shape. If his pulse is too fast, his blood pressure too high or too low, or if he shows any signs of injury or illness, Doctor Steve will advise him to lay off the leather.

Therefore, in the light of so many possibilities, amateur fight sponsors have found it inadvisable to announce in advance the pairings, or matches, except in certain cases.

It is hoped, of course, that the boys who have registered will all be on hand, fit and ready to carry out their assignments that none will "back out" after indicating he will compete, and that the programs, as originally planned, will go on, and on schedule.

Heavyweights Promise Hot Action

PARTICULAR pleasure came with the entry of a heavyweight, Kenneth Jones, most recently of Big Spring, but a native of Kansas, where they take their amateur fighting seriously. The Hutchinson lad weighs only 184 pounds, but he is rough and rugged, backed by a lot of experience for his 22 years, and willing to fight anybody. He is particular anxious to meet Babe Ritchie, the 1937 district and state champ and 1938 city champ.

Before Babe meets Jones, however, there's the little matter of a Ritchie-Bryant re-match. Bryant has said he'd be on hand Monday night to fight Ritchie. You know how they came out last time they met, and Bryant isn't satisfied. Jones is tentatively scheduled to meet "Fats" Mitchell, a 195-pound youngster from Lockney. Mitchell possesses a powerful wallop, and if he connects, Mr. Jones won't get to meet Ritchie, provided Ritchie beats Bryant, which isn't a certainty by any means. We think you'll like this Jones boy. He's a boxer, not a slugger, nor a killer, but he may stand off and box Ritchie if he meets him, until the world looks level.

You may expect some warm competition in all the other divisions. We'd hate to risk anything on predictions, so we won't.

Littlefield Wants In Pro Baseball

ORE than once during the past six months the name of Littlefield has bobbed up when baseball men of the section and those interled in baseball in this section talked professional baseball.

Until now this department has remained silent, waiting word from tlefield itself.

The word came yesterday. Puss Ballard, veteran baseballer of ese parts whose heart is in and with Littlefield, attended last Sunday's meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico league here. He identified himself as a "spectator," rather than a delegate from Littlefield, t he took note of all that transpired, and went away from here h a grin.

en sc, his telephone call last night was somewhat a surprise. "We're o try and get in that league," he advised. "In fact, we've already start, and we'll know something definite by Monday night. We're meeting then of all business men interested. We're going to try 0 season tickets at $20 a throw, and something like a thousand lay tickets. This should give us enough to start on, and I betown and countryside at large will support the team once it is efield comes through, there is strong possibility of an eight-. Clovis, it appears, is "in," and Odessa lacks only a leader, take the elephant by the trunk and whip things up. We shall after Monday night's meeting in Littlefield.

TELD is larger than a lot of towns of Class D baseball. It is ssible or improbable that Littlefield could and would support organized ball. It's certainly not in semi-pro ball.

Maybe In Class A Football

came from Littlefield to this desk yesterday. The first was Seely, of the Littlefield school board, and a man of promi-Mr. Seely indicated that Littlefield might aspire to become District I, Class A, in high school football. While the enttlefield does not compel a transfer from Class B, a school enrollment may petition for admittance to a higher classisa seems definitely established in District I, Littlefield, tval, also desires to line up with the league. Application Chairman C. M. Rogers of Amarillo, and an answer ming right away.

Wilmer Allison Plans Return To Net Duty

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 5. — Wilmer Allison, the tall Texan who won the national singles title three years ago and retired from big-time tennis, is coming back.

One more try at the title he tossed to the youngsters in 1935, and another shot at the doubles laurels he shared for years with John Van Ryn, is the plan of the old Davis Cup hero.

Between shots of a round of golf Allison confided his tennis game was at top form and only his physical condition could halt comeback plans.

To Start In July

"I'll play in the National—singles and doubles—this season, unless the old legs buckle up or something else goes wrong. My game doesn't worry me now. Haven't played since last July, but I've been practicing a bit recently and the shots are still there."

Allison, in his early thirties and showing a streak of grey here and there is a thinning thatch of hair, climaxed a grand career three summers ago in the blazing sun at Forest Hills when he defeated Fred Perry for the American title.

Apparently in fine physical condition the Austin, Tex., cotton broker, said he planned to start his comeback campaign at the Longwood bowl tournament early in July. Only last summer he brushed up his game, went East and won the Longwood classic for the third time, gaining permanent possession of the historic trophy.

The Texas state title also was his last year, but he was forced to default in the finals of both the Seabright and Illinois state tourneys because of physical difficulties.

Van Ryn To Help

Van Ryn, his business as well as tennis partner, got the feel of the courts again last summer also with a brilliant splurge that carried him to stunning victories over the youngster stars.

Once more the old combination of Allison and Van Ryn, a team that once owned Wimbledon, national and numerous Davis Cup triumphs, will play to the plaudits of a Forest Hills throng. Allison, genial master of the back-court game, who deeply respects the prowess of Don Budge, reigning champion, and the rest of the youngsters, made no predictions as to the success of his comeback.

"It's just that I want to try it again—If my physical self will let me," he grinned. "Don won't turn professional this season. He'll be there defending his title. Perhaps this Australian trip hasn't done him too much good, but he still will be very, very hard to beat."

BRIDGE WRECKAGE BLASTED

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 5. (Canadian Press)—The wreckage of Falls View bridge was blasted today into six 200-foot pieces by dynamite. Buildings shook and windows were smashed by the explosion. An ice jam toppled the steel span nine days ago.

Officials said the six pieces would sink and end any menace to navigation.

HARVESTING CORN

SEAGRAVES, (Special)—Gaines county's corn crop is being harvested and shipments of shelled corn are being made. There is a heavy run of maize and kafir heads being stored here and sold.

Kansas Merchants Advertise For Rain; If It Doesn't Come, Paper Is To Stand The Cost

KINSLEY, Kan., Feb. 5. (AP)—Kinsley businessmen are strong for advertising. They put this page ad in the Weekly Graphic:

"We are asking for one-half inch of moisture on or before Feb. 17. Advertising has never failed us, and to prove our faith in its value we will pay double for our ads upon delivery of said moisture, and in case it does not arrive the Graphic will stand the cost."

Hasn't Had Enough

WILMER ALLISON . . . plans tennis comeback.

Popular Fishing Waters Closed

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—The state game department put a big crimp today into the onrush of 2,000 fishermen a day to Buchanan and Roy Inks lakes by declaring large areas on the Burnet county side fish sanctuaries and closing them until May 15, 1939.

Reports of huge catches of bass in recent weeks had led to a daily stream of automobiles to the "fisherman's paradise" between Burnet and Llano counties.

It was the second time in Texas history the law authorizing waters to be closed as a fish sanctuary had been invoked. It had been applied previously to Lake Brownwood.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game commission, said purpose of the action was to prevent anglers from taking out the 1,000,000 or more brood fish with which the lake has been stocked.

Four Months In Llano

A four-month closed season on the Llano county helves of the lakes took effect January 1. Burnet county has no special closing. The state closed season is March and April.

Effect of the order was to restrict fishing from now until May 1 largely to boats in the deep portion of the lakes on the Burnet county side. Fishing was expected to be poor in the deep water.

The sanctuary zones include one mile of each of seven streams emptying into Buchanan and Roy Inks and areas one-fourth mile square in the lakes opposite the mouth of each of these streams.

Three-Fourths Of Taxes For Littlefield Said Collected

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 5. (Special)—Seventy-five per cent of the 1937 taxes for Littlefield property have been collected, W. G. Street, city secretary reports.

Collections up to Jan. 31 were $14,791, he said. For the same period in 1936, $12,248 was collected, an increase of $2,543.

Delinquent taxes collected amounted to $4,078, a gain of $783 over 1936.

Last collections exceeding the 1937 percentage was in 1929 when it was 94 per cent.

Brownfield's District Football Title Is Revoked; Player Found Ineligible

District 5-B interscholastic league football committeemen meeting here yesterday voted to rescind the 1937 district football championship which had been awarded to Brownfield High school, and divide the "trophy" between Levelland and Littlefield High schools.

This drastic action was taken following protest and ruling against a Brownfield athlete, Lloyd Grider, a guard on the football team and a member of the basketball team. Grider was ruled ineligible on grounds he had exceeded the 19-year age limit. A previous protest, filed near the close of the football season, resulted in "clearing" of Grider, the district executive committee voting him eligible.

Played In Bi-District

Brownfield went on to represent the district in bi-district competition, playing Roscoe.

Grider's eligibility came up during the recent basketball campaign, a non-interscholastic league program including the members of District 5-B, and the committee found the player ineligible, ordered Brownfield to forfeit the games in which Grider had played. As a result, Littlefield and Ralls were thrown into a tie for first place in the northern half of the district. A play-off gave Ralls the sub-title. The Jackrabbits are now in the midst of a district play-off with Lamesa, winner of the southern half. Ralls won the first game Friday night.

As a result of yesterday's meeting, Brownfield was ordered to forfeit its championship trophy. The committee, however, voted to declare no other champion, but to consider Littlefield and Levelland as co-holders of high honors during the 1937 football race.

Superintendent Baze of Brownfield conceded the ineligibility of the athlete, and, in view of the evidence presented, declared Brownfield was willing to have its championship revoked.

All schools in the district were represented yesterday with the exception of Lamesa, which has been accepted in Conference A and no longer retains a voice in Class B, although Lamesa school men had been invited to attend the meeting.

Sauerkraut Club Membership Still Secret After Annual Election; Officers 'Ditto'

ABERDEEN, Wash., Feb. 5. (AP) Membership of the Aberdeen Sauerkraut club remained as secret as ever today.

People had hoped to get a line on the personnel through the list of newly elected officers. But the list announced by anonymous letters on the club's stationery, said merely:

"President, same as last year; vice president, ditto. Secretary and treasurer, likewise ditto."

Enrollment Of 854 Is Reported By Olton School Official

OLTON, Feb. 5. (Special)—Olton schools have an enrollment of 854, H. P. Webb, superintendent, reports.

There are 232 in the high school and 622 in the grades. Since the Christmas holidays about 50 new students have come in.

One new teacher has been added to the faculty to handle the increase in enrollment.

Postal Receipts At Sudan Are Reported Higher For 1937

SUDAN, Feb. 5. (Special)—Postal receipts for 1937 by the Sudan postoffice showed a gain of $167 over 1936, Postmaster Simon D. Hay reports.

January receipts also showed a gain. Hay believed that 1938 will show a material increase over the previous year, as general conditions are better.

Legion Leaders To Visit Here

A committee of South Plains American Legion members will go to Abilene either Wednesday night or early Thursday to greet and become the official escort to Lubbock for Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, who is to speak at the hall here Thursday noon, according to information given Saturday by A. C. Jackson, commander of Allen Bros. post.

The escort committee has not been named, though Jackson expressed the hope that representatives of several other posts in the area will be members of the party.

Plans Are Complete

Plans for reception of the visitors here, the Lubbock commander added, have been completed. Doherty's address will take up most of the program, although Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, Texas department commander, will speak briefly. Dr. Danforth will be official host to the national commander while he is in Texas. Time will be taken also, Jackson added, to present the out-of-town delegations attending.

Subject of Doherty's address has not been announced although the purpose of his national tour is to stress national defense; officials of Allen Bros. post have been advised.

Reservations Asked

Jackson has asked the various posts adjutants throughout the region to advise him as soon as possible as to the number expected to attend the luncheon so that adequate preparations can be made. A plate charge not to exceed 35 cents will be made, according to notifications sent to Legion posts throughout the South Plains and eastern New Mexico by Chas. A. Whitacre, chairman of that committee.

The local commander also reminded that the invitation to attend is not confined to Legion members. It includes all ex-service members and any other citizens interested.

New Patrol Boys On Duty At Schools

New patrol boys and girls were on duty at Central Ward school last week, taking charge of playground activities, traffic around their building, and traffic in the halls.

ckard Leads Hogs 57-38 Victory

AYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 5. (AP) ansas university, moving easily ainst a hopelessly outclassed Texas ristian university team, won its th straight Southwest conference me tonight, 57 to 38, and brought individual scoring leadership k to the Ozarks.

Although Arkansas is tied with ylor in percentage points, the zorbacks have won one more game an the Baylorites.

Capt. Don Lockard, whose scoring ts have been shoved into the kground this week because of the point spree of center Hubert rkpatrick of Baylor one night, ed 17 points.

They were sufficient to put him points ahead of Kirkpatrick, who s totaled 92 thus far.

Lockard probably could have run his total had he not been ejected personal fouls with five minutes to play.

In contrast to last night's slow- ting game, Arkansas jumped to a 10 to 3 lead in the first e minutes, and from then on the ring machine moved smoothly.

Lockard received brilliant support m Benton and Robbins, who sent points each through the mesh.

Golden Gloves On Parade

By Collier Parris

TEMPUS is fugiting right along toward Monday and Tuesday nights and the District Golden Gloves finals at the Auditorium.

The tickets are fugiting, too, but today and until noon tomorrow, or as long as they last, they may be procured at the Hilton Hotel desk or the Hotel Lubbock Drugstore.

Also, there are openings yet for a few fighters, provided they report tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 till 5 o'clock at the Auditorium and make known their desires. The last count last night revealed that 54 boys has signed up for the District tournament. The light heavyweight, middleweight, welterweight and lightweight divisions are pretty well "sold out," but there's room for a few more in the heavyweight, feather, bantam and flyweight groups.

No less than four boxers are registered for each division, but only four are listed in the heavyweight, and only four in the flyweight groups, the biggest and littlest of the program. So if you have a little heavyweight or a big flyweight in your home, please encourage him to improve his status in the manly art by competing in the Golden Gloves.

Matches Made At The Ringside

WE knew there was always a lot of interest in amateur boxing shows here on account of the way the fans turned out, but you could have knocked us over with a truck, so surprised we were to see such a large interest, and at full-grown prices. The $1.10 tops is standard Golden Gloves rate, but that hasn't balked the fans so far. We have every reason to believe they got their money's worth in the City tournament, and even more reason to believe that the price is "bargain rates" for the District jousts.

So we aren't begging you any more to attend the Golden Gloves fights—we're simp'y advising you that if you want a seat, better buy early, or come early. There'll be approximately 100 rounds of fighting on both nights, and it won't be ordinary fighting, either.

Sponsors and directors of the District Golden Gloves party here are abiding by precedents and rulings established by other promoters in keeping the pairings a secret until ringtime.

YOU know, you can't force an amateur to fight, if he doesn't want to fight. You can't tell, unless you make careful and individual checks every day, whether a boxer will be a bantam or a featherweight, a featherweight or a flyweight, at ringside. You can't tell, unless you watch the lad every hour, whether he'll pass the rigid medical and physical examinations, which are given three hours before the fights, and again 30 minutes before the fight. And the M. D. assigned to the Golden Gloves here, Dr. U. Steve Marshall of the Lubbock Sanitarium staff, does not hesitate to turn a boy down who isn't in the best of shape. If his pulse is too fast, his blood pressure too high or too low, or if he shows any signs of injury or illness, Doctor Steve will advise him to lay off the leather.

Therefore, in the light of so many possibilities, amateur fight sponsors have found it inadvisable to announce in advance the pairings, or matches, except in certain cases.

It is hoped, of course, that the boys who have registered will all be on hand, fit and ready to carry out their assignments that none will "back out" after indicating he will compete, and that the programs, as originally planned, will go on, and on schedule.

Heavyweights Promise Hot Action

PARTICULAR pleasure came with the entry of a heavyweight, Kenneth Jones, most recently of Big Spring, but a native of Kansas, where they take their amateur fighting seriously. The Hutchinson lad weighs only 184 pounds, but he is rough and rugged, backed by a lot of experience for his 22 years, and willing to fight anybody. He is particular anxious to meet Babe Ritchie, the 1937 district and state champ and 1938 city champ.

Before Babe meets Jones, however, there's the little matter of a Ritchie-Bryant re-match. Bryant has said he'd be on hand Monday night to fight Ritchie.-- You know how they came out last time they met, and Bryant isn't satisfied. Jones is tentatively scheduled to meet "Pats" Mitchell, a 195-pound youngster from Lockney. Mitchell possesses a powerful wallop, and if he connects, Mr. Jones won't get to meet Ritchie, provided Ritchie beats Bryant, which isn't a certainty by any means. We think you'll like this Jones boy. He's a boxer, not a slugger, nor a killer, but he may stand off and box Ritchie if he meets him, until the world looks level.

You may expect some warm competition in all the other divisions. We'd hate to risk anything on predictions, so we won't.

Littlefield Wants In Pro Baseball

MORE than once during the past six months the name of Littlefield has bobbed up when baseball men of the section and those interested in baseball in this section talked professional baseball.

Until now this department has remained silent, waiting word from Littlefield itself.

The word came yesterday. Puss Ballard, veteran baseballer of these parts whose heart is in and with Littlefield, attended last Sunday's meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico league here. He identified himself as a "spectator," rather than a delegate from Littlefield. But he took note of all that transpired, and went away from here with a grin.

Even so, his telephone call last night was somewhat a surprise. "We're going to try and get in that league," he advised. "In fact, we've already made a start, and we'll know something definite by Monday night. We're having a meeting then of all business men interested. We're going to try to sell 150 season tickets at $20 a throw, and something like a thousand opening day tickets. This should give us enough to start on, and I believe the town and countryside at large will support the team once it is started."

LITTLEFIELD is larger than a lot of towns of Class D baseball. It is not impossible or improbable that Littlefield could and would support a team in organized ball. It's certainly hot in semi-pro ball.

If Littlefield comes through, there is strong possibility of an eight-club league. Clovis, it appears, is "in," and Odessa lacks only a leader, somebody to take the elephant by the trunk and whip things up. We shall know more after Monday night's meeting in Littlefield.

And Maybe In Class A Football

TWO calls came from Littlefield to this desk yesterday. The first was from Mr. Seely, of the Littlefield school board, and a man of prominence there. Mr. Seely indicated that Littlefield might aspire to become a member of District I, Class A, in high school football. While the enrollment at Littlefield does not compel a transfer from Class B, a school of slightly less enrollment may petition for admittance to a higher classification.

Since Lamesa seems definitely established in District I, Littlefield, an old Lamesa rival, also desires to line up with the league. Application will be made to Chairman C. M. Rogers of Amarillo, and an answer should be forthcoming right away.

Wilmer Allison Plans Return To Net Duty

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 5. — Wilmer Allison, the tall Texan who won the national singles title three years ago and retired from big-time tennis, is coming back.

One more try at the title he tossed to the youngsters in 1935, and another shot at the doubles laurels he shared for years with John Van Ryn, is the plan of the old Davis Cup hero.

Between shots of a round of golf Allison confided his tennis game was at top form and only his physical condition could halt comeback plans.

To Start In July

"I'll play in the National—singles and doubles—this season, unless the old legs buckle up or something else goes wrong. My game doesn't worry me now. Haven't played since last July, but I've been practicing a bit recently and the shots are still there."

Allison, in his early thirties and showing a streak of grey here and there is a thinning thatch of hair, climaxed a grand career three summers ago in the blazing sun at Forest Hills when he defeated Fred Perry for the American title.

Apparently in fine physical condition the Austin, Tex., cotton broker, said he planned to start his comeback campaign at the Longwood bowl tournament early in July. Only last summer he brushed up his game, went East and won the Longwood classic for the third time, gaining permanent possession of the historic trophy.

The Texas state title also was his last year, but he was forced to default in the finals of both the Seabright and Illinois state tourneys because of physical difficulties.

Van Ryn To Help

Van Ryn, his business as well as tennis partner, got the feel of the courts again last summer also with a brilliant splurge that carried him to stunning victories over the youngster stars.

Once more the old combination of Allison and Van Ryn, a team that once owned Wimbledon, national and numerous Davis Cup triumphs, will play to the plaudits of a Forest Hills throng. Allison, genial master of the back-court game, who deeply respects the prowess of Don Budge, reigning champion, and the rest of the youngsters, made no predictions as to the success of his comeback.

"It's just that I want to try it again—If my physical self will let me," he grinned. "Don won't turn professional this season. He'll be there defending his title. Perhaps this Australian trip hasn't done him too much good, but he still will be very, very hard to beat."

BRIDGE WRECKAGE BLASTED

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 5. (Canadian Press)—The wreckage of Falls View bridge was blasted today into six 200-foot pieces by dynamite. Buildings shook and windows were smashed by the explosion. An ice jam toppled the steel span nine days ago.

Officials said the six pieces would sink and end any menace to navigation.

HARVESTING CORN

SEAGRAVES, (Special)—Gaines county's corn crop is being harvested and shipments of shelled corn are being made. There is a heavy run of maize and kafir heads being stored here and sold.

Kansas Merchants Advertise For Rain; If It Doesn't Come, Paper Is To Stand The Cost

KINSLEY, Kan., Feb. 5. (AP)—Kinsley businessmen are strong for advertising. They put this page ad in the Weekly Graphic: "We are asking for one-half inch of moisture on or before Feb. 17. Advertising has never failed us, and to prove our faith in its value we will pay double for our ads upon delivery of said moisture, and in case it does not arrive the Graphic will stand the cost."

Popular Fishing Waters Closed

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—The state game department put a big crimp today into the onrush of 2,000 fishermen a day to Buchanan and Roy Inks lakes by declaring large areas on the Burnet county side fish sanctuaries and closing them until May 15, 1939.

Reports of huge catches of bass in recent weeks had led to a daily stream of automobiles to the "fisherman's paradise" between Burnet and Llano counties.

It was the second time in Texas history the law authorizing waters to be closed as a fish sanctuary had been invoked. It had been applied previously to Lake Brownwood.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game commission, said purpose of the action was to prevent anglers from taking out the 1,000,000 or more brood fish with which the lake has been stocked.

Four Months In Llano

A four-month closed season on the Llano county halves of the lakes took effect January 1. Burnet county has no special closing. The state closed season is March and April.

Effect of the order was to restrict fishing from now until May 1 largely to boats in the deep portion of the lakes on the Burnet county side. Fishing was expected to be poor in the deep water.

The sanctuary zones include one mile of each of seven streams emptying into Buchanan and Roy Inks and areas one-fourth mile square in the lakes opposite the mouth of each of these streams.

Three-Fourths Of Taxes For Littlefield Said Collected

LITTLEFIELD, Feb. 5. (Special)—Seventy-five per cent of the 1937 taxes for Littlefield property have been collected, W. G. Street, city secretary reports.

Collections up to Jan. 31 were $14,791, he said. For the same period in 1936, $12,248 was collected, an increase of $2,543.

Delinquent taxes collected amounted to $4,078, a gain of $783 over 1936.

Last collections exceeding the 1937 percentage was in 1929 when it was 94 per cent.

Brownfield's District Football Title Is Revoked; Player Found Ineligible

District 5-B interscholastic league football committeemen meeting here yesterday voted to rescind the 1937 district football championship which had been awarded to Brownfield High school, and divide the "trophy" between Levelland and Littlefield High schools.

This drastic action was taken following protest and ruling against a Brownfield athlete, Lloyd Grider, a guard on the football team and a member of the basketball team. Grider was ruled ineligible on grounds he had exceeded the 19-year age limit. A previous protest, filed near the close of the football season, resulted in "clearing" of Grider, the district executive committee voting him eligible.

Played In Bi-District

Brownfield went on to represent the district in bi-district competition, playing Roscoe.

Grider's eligibility came up during the recent basketball campaign, a non-interscholastic league program including the members of District 5-B, and the committee found the player ineligible, ordered Brownfield to forfeit the games in which Grider had played. As a result, Littlefield and Ralls were thrown into a tie for first place in the northern half of the district. A play-off gave Ralls the sub-title. The Jackrabbits are now in the midst of a district play-off with Lamesa, winner of the southern half. Ralls won the first game Friday night.

As a result of yesterday's meeting, Brownfield was ordered to forfeit its championship trophy. The committee, however, voted to declare no other champion, but to consider Littlefield and Levelland as co-holders of high honors during the 1937 football race.

Superintendent Baze of Brownfield conceded the ineligibility of the athlete, and, in view of the evidence presented, declared Brownfield was willing to have its championship revoked.

All schools in the district were represented yesterday with the exception of Lamesa, which has been accepted in Conference A and no longer retains a voice in Class B, although Lamesa school men had been invited to attend the meeting.

SIZABLE ADVANCES MADE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5. (AP)—After a mid-week break to new lows since 1935, the stock market today ended the six-session proceedings with sizable net advances in virtually all departments except utilities.

In the Saturday performance leading steels, coppers, cemicals, electrical equipments and specialties extended Friday's rally by 1 to more than 3 points and, despite some profit realizing at the close, were not far from the day's tops.

Slowness of dealings continued as a fly in the more cheerful trading ointment, transfers amounting to 445,690 shares compared with 434,170 last Saturday. The week's volume was the smallest for any similar period since early September.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .8 of a point to 43 on top of Friday's recovery of .9. For the week the composite was up .9, although the utilities were off .3.

World Is Anxious

course that may mark German expansion in her dream of becoming Europe's dominant power.

All these things are the outgrowth of the 1014-1918 war. Germany was shorn of her colonies and parts of her home territory sliced off.

Five years ago Hitler took power. He has made obsolete the peace treaty of Versailles and defied the old allies to prevent his march back to independence—if not more.

In a world that spent $12,000,000,000 last year for armaments, Hitler has built a great air force thatalarms England, a huge mechanized army that strikes fear in France and a navy more than one-third the size of the British empire's—and still growing.

Hitler announced "hastening" of fusing the Nazi party and the state. That will make the armed forces as Nazi as the rest of the government.

Stands As Vital Leader

Hitler stands as the vital leader in the Germany-Italy-Japan Fascist line-up. The power of those three countries reaches around the globe, thinly in spots but strongly because of strategic positions and energy of purpose.

What worries British, French and even United States statesmen is the Fascist group's readiness to use force to back what they proclaim to be right.

Italy put a million men under arms two years ago to show her strength when she conquered Etriopia.

Japan threw a half million men into China and marches toward her goal.

'Little Business' Aid

scheme, if it is employed.

Despite the plea of the recent little men's conference, few officials expect the administration to adopt any new direct lending measures.

"Factoring" Considered

Another financing possibility under consideration is the encouragement of an ancient practice called factoring.

A familiar practice in cotton handling, factoring recently has been extended, to some extent, into furs, oils, shoes, iron, rubber and metal products.

Usually, what a "factor" does is to buy up the charge accounts of receivable bills of a small manufacturer, paying the face value less a factoring fee, and assuming the full risk of the accounts being paid.

Thus, the manufacturer who otherwise would have a large part of his capital tied up in credit to his customers would have this money freed for expansion of his business.

LOOK MUCH ALIKE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP) — Little business looks much like big business when it goes to the White House to discuss the national economy with President Roosevelt.

Both groups have made the trip within the last few weeks.

Both arrived in the same manner —20-cent fare taxicabs.

Both were dressed much the same, although the "little business men" show greater fondness for color in their accessories.

Several of the "big business men" wore derbies, but the only ones seen in the "little business" group were on the heads of Secretary Roper and Assistant Secretary Draper, who accompanied them.

Both were photographed about the same number of times upon leaving the White House.

According to those interviewed, Mr. Roosevelt made about the same number of "wisecracks" at each conference.

Japan Is Threatened

signatories of the London naval treaty of 1936, before May 1.

Refuse To Accept Statements

Apparently refusing to accept repeated statements of official Japanese spokesmen that Japan is not building or contemplating building bigger battleships, Secretary Hull told Japan:

"There have for some time been persistent and cumulative reports, which in the absence of explicit assurances from the Japanese government that they are ill-founded, must be deemed to be authentic, that Japan has undertaken or intends to undertake construction of capital ships and cruisers not in conformity with the above-mentioned limits."

He referred to the limits of the London treaty of 1936, to which Japan never has adhered.

Some students of naval affairs called attention to the phrase of Secretary Hull's note saying that Japan's assurances, if given, must "satisfy the American government that it will not, prior to January 1, 1943, lay down, complete or acquire any vessel which does not conform to the limits in question."

They took this to mean that the United States might not be content with mere assurances, even though written, and might ask permission for American naval attaches to visit shipyards where the Japanese superdreadnaughts are reported to be in building.

MEMORIAL PLANNED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—The Will Rogers Memorial commission today approved plans for a $300,000 museum at Claremore and announced a contract for construction would be let about March 15.

ROB SPUR STORE

SPUR, (Special)—Merchandise, valued at $118, was taken from the Fair store here. One arrest has been made. Entrance was gained by breaking a display glass in the front window.

SULAK CANDIDATE AGAIN

LAGRANGE, Feb. 5. (AP)—L. J. Sulak, state senator from the 15th district, announced today for re-election.

Forty-one per cent of federal income during the fiscal year 1937 came from income taxes, and 41 per cent from internal revenue taxes.

Senator Nelson

Lynn, Terry, Dawson, Gaines, and Yoakum counties, and it was while he was serving his second term that he was elected to fill the unexpired term of Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield.

In a special election, with four opponents he was elected and was sworn into office Oct. 2, 1935. He was re-elected to a four-year term in 1936 and was unopposed. He never has had an opponent for a second term.

As senator he represents the 30th district comprising 24 counties: Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Andrews, Martin and Howard. Sen Nelson estimates the population of the counties at 240,000.

Has Risen Steadily

Listed among those as prosecuted by Nelson, were widely-known murder, bank robbery, and rape cases. Known as a tireless prosecutor, he arose from city attorney to county attorney, then to district attorney, and from there to state senator.

A resident of Lubbock since August, 1936, he and Mrs. Nelson are parents of three children, Wilsella, 12, Bert, 6, and George, 1. He is 35 years old.

Nelson was born in Cass county near the Louisiana-Texas state line; his parents still live there; and relatives of both his father and mother have lived there nearly a century.

The candidate is a partner in the Lubbock law firm of Nelson and Mullican with Former District Judge Clark M. Mullican.

Nelson's opponents in the lieutenant governor's race will include Coke Stevenson of Junction, twice speaker of the house, former State Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman; and probably Senator Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland.

Two-Year Contract Is Given To Snyder School Superintendent

SNYDER, Feb. 5. (Special) — C. Wedgeworth, who is completing his 11th term as superintendent of Snyder schools, has been given a two year contract by the board of trustees. The salary under the new contract is the same as at present.

Edgeworth came here in 1927 as superintendent. He is active in district school circles.

HOME IS BURNED

LITTLEFIELD, (Special) — The rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Kirk, northeast of here, was burned recently while the family was in Littlefield shopping. Contents also were destroyed. There was little insurance.

Five-Year-Old Child Is Found Hidden In Upstairs Room Of Western Pennsylvania Home

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 5. (AP) — Attendants at the county home today cared for a five-year-old girl who, Humane society officials charged, had been hidden away in an upstairs room of her grandfather's home since infancy.

Agent E. M. Smith of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society charged David Harris, 69-year-old farmer, and his daughter, Martha, 27, with neglect to a minor child.

Smith quoted Harris as saying the child was illegitimate and had been kept in the room as "a sort of punishment" for his daughter's "sin."

He reported the child, Alice, crippled and undernourished, had been found tied to an old chair in a storage room of Harris' home, situated on his 270-acre farm, near Connellsville.

The Humane agents reported that Harris believed his action was justified.

Discrimination On East Texas Claimed

AUSTIN, Feb. 5. (AP)—Joe McHill of Henderson, member of the senate's general investigating committee, claimed today a Railroad Commission report to the committee supported his contention of discrimination against the famed East Texas oil field.

The commission complied with Hill's request for a list of production allowance increases to other areas granted after issuance of statewide proration orders.

"I haven't yet had opportunity to total the increases allowed during the past three months," he said, "but a preliminary study shows they were substantial. I don't believe East Texas will take any more Sunday shutdowns lying down as long as this practice continues."

Tomorrow will witness the third in a series of six state-wide Sunday shutdowns of oil wells.

Federal Housing Officials Ask For Cooperation In Launching New Program

Applications Are Jamming Files

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Federal Housing authorities, their files jammed with applications from would-be home owners who want to take advantage of the housing act, asked today for the cooperation of money lenders, manufacturers, material dealers and workmen.

In the last two weeks, officials said, "many thousands of letters and preliminary applications" have poured into FHA offices in the field. There are pending applications for mortgage insurance on more than $50,000,000 of large-scale projects.

"And that's just a small part," a spokesman said.

The bill, now signed into law, is designed to encourage residential building by reducing the down payment and cutting the interest rate on loans.

Professor With Sense Of Humor Provides Armor Against Boredom In Classrooms

BY IVAN LITTLE

Ordinarily class hours are dull at the best. Dry lectures and sleepy students create a general atmosphere of boredom.

A professor with a sense of humor is welcome to most collegians.

Some of the greatest men in America have been professors—and many of them have been anything but staid.

Consider the case of Dr. T. V. Smith, formerly professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago, now in the Illinois state senate.

Smith is known by his associates as the philosopher from Hades, because of a semi-satirical book he has written entitled "Philosophers in Hades." Tall, rangy, and red-headed, the philosopher was a favorite on the Chicago campus.

A Born Comedian

Another notable in the same school, Thornton Wilder, author of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" and other best sellers, is a born comedian, according to Miss Bonnie K. Dysart, associate professor of psychology and education at Texas Technological college.

Wilder, she says, has a habit of acting out anything he is reading or telling. Once while reading "Don Quixote" he kept a large class in uproars by unceremoniously galloping across the room astride a broomstick, enthusiastically attacking imaginary windmills.

A professor at the University of Texas is unable to answer questions unless a pipe he never smokes is clenched between his teeth.

One instructor, relates Dr. Archie J. Bahm, Tech assistant professor of philosophy and sociology, at Albion college in Michigan was an incessant blusher. He blushed when some one spoke to him in or out of class. Fond of technical conversations, the poor fellow was at a loss outside his books. Consequently, at the end of the semester, his students dropped in his office, casually hinting what their grades should be, and he blushingly obliged them.

Tech students testify to their share of out-of-the-ordinary instructors. One professor is notably absent-minded. The following story is characteristic of the many told concerning him:

He habitually breakfasted on ham and eggs at an establishment near the campus. One morning, en route to a drug store, noticing his favorite ham and eggs sign, he entered and ate. Returning a few moments later, he again noticed the sign. He reentered and placed the same order.

Must Have Forgotten

"But you have already eaten ham and eggs this morning, sir," he was informed.

"Quite so," he replied, "I must have forgotten."

Another professor, said to be a brilliant chess player, is noted for his pithy sayings. One of his favorite expressions when speaking of the infertile minds of average students is that they are "Saharas of imagination." Staid individuals are "bits of human protoplasm."

Recently this same professor received a letter from the registrar concerning a student named Raspberry.

"They can give me anything but this," he declared, heading for the registrar's office.

Valley Newspapers Are At Standstill

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 5.—Three strike-bound daily newspapers of the Valley Publishing company at McAllen, Harlingen and Brownsville were at a standstill today.

Striking printers and sympathizers picketed the Brownscille Herald plant when the management declined to sign a closed shop contract with the International Typographical Union. Earlier this week printers quit at the McAllen Monitor and Harlingen Morning Star plants for the same reason.

Limited editions of the three dailies have been published at the Herald plant here until today with the help of a few printers who returned to their jobs and with outside aid.

Picketing began here yesterday afternoon when work was about to start on the Harlingen paper's edition. After the union press crew, not striking, went to lunch the pickets denied them reentrance to the building. The paper was not published. No violence was reported.

Nine Schools Planning To Send Casts To Tournament At Tech

BALINESE PRINTS

THANKS to Vicki Baum's "The Tale of Bali," and designs brought back from Bali by Covarrubias, gay, exotic Balinese prints are being shown in beach clothes, evening dresses and for street wear, made with the pagan prints and having a native atmosphere about them. Of square necklines, wide full skirts, short cuff sleeves and tiny waists they are said to be attractive and colorful.

OFF-BEAT fans have revived the swing mania. Devotees of this type of jazz stamped their feet in rhythm at the jam session conducted by Benny Goodman and his boys in a movie short here recently. . . . Someone wonders if a bachelor girl's club would "go over" in Lubbock. Yes, if meetings could be held in the First Baptist or Senior High school auditoriums. We believe there are a greater number of women of marriageable age in Lubbock than any other city its size in the United States.

REAL UNSELFISHNESS

THE trouble with so many people is that they are stingy with themselves," a well-known cartoonist remarked the other day.

He started telling me about a brilliant man who is generous with his ideas, his experiences, and his ability to start other people thinking along new lines.

"After you've spent an evening with him he stays with you for days," is the way the cartoonist finally put the man's personality in words.

That is what is wrong with most of us. Why we lead such narrow lives. And why we get so little joy from our daily association with people.

We are downright stingy with ourselves. If we weren't we would discard the screens we hide behind and let people know us as we really are. Screens that we like to call Dignity, Modesty, or Sophistication. We would contribute ideas to conversation instead of throwing in a few words or taking no part at all.

WE would give our attention to others' talk without reserving one corner of our minds for thinking up our next remark, or for thinking about something else entirely.

Our first impulse would be to share our amusing experiences, our interesting discoveries with other people, instead of giving them only the gloomy story of our small misfortunes and petty grudges.

We wouldn't call time wasted that was spent in good talk or in getting to know another human being. Being a little careless of the time we give to others is one way of being

Star Motif Used At Tech Club's Presentation

APPEARING in a star-shaped doorway on a high platform draped in blue studded with miniature stars, one member and twenty-two pledges of Ko Shari club were presented at a formal dance given at the Auditorium Friday night. Escorts stepped from tall silver stars placed on either side of the series of 22 steps to meet the young women, students at Texas Technological college. They formed for a grand march led by Miss Doris Jobe, club president, and David Fisher.

Thousands of metallic stars glittered under the canopy of the dance hall and 7-foot stars were placed at intervals while meteors of graduating sizes dangled from a silver rope that marked off the dance floor. The orchestra stand was draped with stellar-studded blue.

Ned Bradley's orchestra played.

The member, Miss Ella Norene Moreman, escorted by Sam Beejack, wore black net with bouffant skirt and black accessories with jonquil and iris in her hair.

The pledges were presented as follows:

Tech Professor Will Review Best Seller As Final Lecture In Benefit Series

PRESUMABLY the best seller of the season—"Northwest Passage" by Kenneth Roberts will be reviewed by Dr. Oscar A. Kinchen, associate professor of history at Texas Technological college, at 8 o'clock Monday night at the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Kinchen received his Ph. D. from Iowa university. He also attended Leland-Stanford, Chicago university, and the University of Oklahoma.

He came to Texas from Oklahoma in 1929, and has been out of the state only a short period of time since then. He taught several years in rural schools, and was principal of two high schools.

Dr. Kinchen has written articles on the empire and many about Oklahoma history. He is an outdoor man, says he enjoys long hikes and all outdoor exercise.

"Northwest Passage" is a book of historical fiction, however, it is true to life. It is a story of a Captain Rogers, commander of a company of New England rangers, who was interested in and attempted to find a passage across the northern part of the United States to open trade with the east. The finding of this route would solve the age long question of the Northwest passage.

The book is narrative with approximately 700 pages of unspeakable hardship and human suffering but which fascinates readers with its action. It implies the sadly needed bull-dog courage that the civilization of today needs.

Dr. Kinchen says, "Every page

Sycily Roberts Selected Lubbock Representative In DAR Contest

Sycily Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Roberts, 2301 Eighteenth street, has been selected the Senior High school representative to take part in the statewide Daughters of the American Revolution pilgrimage contest.

One girl is being chosen from every high school in the state and the name of the girl to make the trip to Washington with all expenses paid will be chosen by lot under the supervision of L. A. Woods, state superintendent of education.

Sycily is business manager of The Westerner World, Senior High school weekly newspaper; secretary of the senior class, and an outstanding member of the Girl Reserve. She is a member of the National Honor society, Quill and Scroll, and the Student council.

Other girls in the run-off were Jane Prickett, president of the Student council; and Onita Bell Hufstedler, president of the National Honor society. These girls were chosen by the senior girls, and the final selection was made by the faculty.

Last year Bertha Proctor was winner of the local contest, and in 1936 Ferreline Tucker received the honor.

MISS SYCILY ROBERTS

from Lou to Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: I forgot to tell you last week that recently Harvey Herd of Post and Brownfield and I had occasion to chat with Jimmy Rogers, son of the late Will Rogers, in the lobby of Hotel Lubbock. Harvey did the chatting as he and Jimmy had gone to the same school, N. M. M. I., and had many friends in common.

Jimmy wore a conspicuously cut tweed suit with cowboy boots and hat. I asked him if he bought the cow country togs here or in California and he said California.

Here's That Letter

Now, at hand, I have the letter from my friend that I couldn't find last week and three other brief notes from her. I will pick out some of the most interesting items for you.

"After all the diligent practicing day after day, Charlie McCain is destined to become a recognized player of classical music. He is pianist in Ned Bradley's orchestra and not only is his style interesting but his technique is accurate.

"And don't you think Miss Evelyn Richter, district supervisor of the Women's and Professional projects, a very charming person? I'd like to meet her and I'd also like to know more about the projects!

"I MET a delightful young high school girl at a tea last week, whom I would describe as stimulating (well, maybe that is the wrong word since Mae West's recent statement). She was Elizabeth Shelley who has nice manners and a cute array of freckles.

"Announcements are being received of the marriage of Sue Celeste Cornwall and Harry Klinger, which took place in Dallas, December 31. Sue, you remember, attended Tech and was a member of Las Vivarachas club.

Dennises Visit Here

"Mr. and Mrs. Coye Dennis visited here last week-end. She is the former Cathryn Easterling of Memphis who attended Draughon's Business college here.

"There is a young man in town of whom one would least suspect domesticity, who owns lots in residential districts of Lubbock. Initials, G. Z.!

"I hear and read that Elizabeth Arnett will play Terry (part played by Katharine Hepburn) in the Dallas Little Theater production of "Stage Door." Virginia Smallwood is in the same cast. (My friend and I don't mean to be the press agents for Arnett and Smallwood and we know they are embarrassed when we speak of them so much, but we only write what we see in the Dallas papers).

"A SOPHOMORE Tech student, Kenneth Askew, paid his registration fee (29.00) in dimes the other day. You see, he is a bellboy.

"Arlie Crites is proudly showing a genuine directors' script of "The Buccaneer", a picture to be shown here soon. Sent by Cecil B. DeMille, it is autographed by Fredric March and other leading players in the picture."

Miss Ziegenhals Leaves

Adeline Ziegenhals resigned from her WPA job here and left town without telling me goodbye and she and I had some unfinished business that needed attention. It concerned a little week-end jaunt that we always were going to take together but I will forgive her if she will write and tell me all about this new BUSINESS venture she is about to undertake. I think she went to Austin from here. I'll miss Adeline. She is one of the most refreshing persons I know.

WELL, it looks like some of my predictions are coming to pass sooner than I thought. Maybe I shouldn't have given up predicting, especially since I'm expecting Billie Bob Jones to wed this summer and know of others that are likely to do the same. Maybe I'll break forth again before summer.

The Tech youngsters have certainly been "rushing" from pillar to post the past few days. It's been two or three parties a day and another every night.

Yours, Lou.

Progress Of Pecos County Wildcats Most Closely Watched Oil Developments

Test For Garza County Planned

BY JOHN B. BREWER
Special Oil Writer

The failure of Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee, northern Pecos County wildcat, to revive oil heads from Simpson sand at 5,271-80 feet in cleaning out to the bottom, 5,294 feet, was the most closely watched development in West Texas this week. As it replaced rotary with cable tools to deepen, another Pecos county wildcat, Stanley A. Thompson's No. 1 Elsinore Cattle Co., 20 miles south of Ft. Stockton, drilled plugs from 5½-inch casing at 7,028 feet to test two horizons that showed oil and gas in drilling to 7,128 feet, reportedly in the Pennsylvanian.

Floyd C. Dodson's No. 1-A Texas American Syndicate, wildcat in the north corner of Brewster county, awaited orders at 7,075 feet in red silty lime and fine to coarse sand, showing gas and rainbows of oil from the bottom through 20 gallons of water hourly from 6,205-12. It topped the Simpson, middle Ordovician, at 6,733 feet, 2,500 feet below sea level, but had a break at 7,075 feet, only 342 feet in the Simpson, which some believed corresponded to that in Magnolia and Tex-Mex No. 1-A McKee at 5,271 feet, where nine feet of oil saturated Simpson was entered.

Linking Well Completed

Gulf No. 1 Henderson, linking the Waddell and Jordan pools in northern Crane county, was completed at 3,545 feet with a daily potential of 1,920 barrels of oil. John W. Westbrook Co. No. 1 Simpson Johnson promised small oil production, the first, in McCulloch county from 5½ feet of Cross Cut sand topped 1,822½ feet. Denver No. 3 Whittenberg gave promise of becoming the largest producr in the link between the Denver pool in southwestern Yoakum county and the Wasson field in northwestern Gaines county, flowing an estimated 40 to 50 barrels of oil hourly into the pits following acid treatment, with the total depth 5,026 feet. It is in the center of the southeast of the southeast of section 863-D-John H. Gibson.

Both first and final oil reports registered a slight decline from last week. Locations were staked for 34 field tests and two wildcats in 11 counties compared with 36 field tests and four wildcats in 12 counties during the preceding week. Thirty-six oil producers and five dry holes were completed in 12 counties, four wells less but four dusters more than during the week before.

New Location Gained

The east side of the Permian Basin which last week gained locations for three wildcats and announcement of another to be started shortly gained another this week in C. E. Hyde and others' No. 1 J. H. Withers in Nolan county, four miles southeast of Sweetwater. Located in the center of the southwest quarter of section 65-21-T&P, it will be drilled 4,500 feet unless production is obtained shallower. Hantho & Nelson of San Antonio and Houston have the contract.

Gulf prepared to start a scheduled 8,000-foot test in extreme northeastern Garza county on the northwest quarter of section 25-2-H&GN. Fred S. Wright and J. W. McMillen of Midland were taking bids on a contract to deepen the wildcat on E. W. Cowden's land in the southwest corner of Andrews county that was drilled to 5,001 feet by the American Liberty Oil Co. They may go 8,000 feet. The test was credited with high Permian markers, tending to confirm a seismograph high. It is 660 from the west line of section 14-A55-psl.

Rogers & Rogers (formerly Olney S. Black) No. 1 O. B. Holt, southern Andrews county wildcat, had begun plugging to abandon at 4,511 feet when an analysis revealed water showing on a drill stem test from 4,449 to 4,511 not to be sulphurous. It resumed drilling. Location is in the northwest corner of section D-43-psl, three miles east of the discovery well in the small Emma pool.

Cochran Well Tested

J. R. Meeker and others No. 1 Wright, eastern Cochran county wildcat, tested six barrels of oil and 12 barrels of water daily at 4,997 feet and was expected to be plugged back and acidized. It is in the southeast corner of labor 26, league 96, Mills county school land.

Honolulu No. 1-51 Slaughter in southwestern Hockley county topped the Yates sand at 2,800 feet, reported normal but 12 feet higher than in The Texas Co. No. 2 Slaughter, third and largest well in the Slaughter pool, which it offsets to the east. Gulf No. 1 Mallett, about two miles to the southwest, had drilled to 2,220 feet in anhydrite, reported topped at 2,210.

Barnett No. 1-A Johnson in Loving county, which for a short time promised production from the Delaware sand at 3,844-48 feet, 140 feet deeper than in the Kyle pool 2½ miles to the southeast, was abandoned at 3,967 feet. It was in the northeast quarter of section 12150-1-T&P.

Shell No. 1-B Baumgart, west offset to Shell No. 1-A Baumgart, a 1¼-mile northeast extension to the Denver pool in Yoakum county, flowed 240 barrels of oil the first nine hours of a potential test at 5,010 feet after being acidized.

Westbrook No. 1 Johnson in McCulloch county swabbed three barrels of fluid hourly, three-fourths oil and one-fourth water, bottomed at 1,828 feet, in the Cross Cut sand. The operators believed the water was coming from a leaky joint of pipe and planned to pull and rerun the string or set tubing with a packer. Location is in the southwest corner of section 1356, abstract 1069, A. Nesendorf survey.

Tex-Tor Oil Corp. No. 1 Judkins & Spencer, eastern Schleicher county test in section 33-A&B, had shown no oil, gas or water in drilling to 5,800 feet, 253 feet below the point picked by some as the top of the Ellenberger, 3,307 feet below sea level. Humble No. 1 Lewis & Wardlow, seeking Ordovician production in western Tom Green county, had passed 5,115 feet in shale.

Moore Bros. No. 1 Paul Perner in western Crockett county, in the center of the northwest quarter of section 37-2-I&GN, was abandoned at 9,105 feet in brown lime of unreported age, 6,545 feet below sea level.

Hollywood On The Loose..

Cantor Seeks License Number Of The Stork That Delivers All Of The Male Children

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 5 — Short takes: Eddie Cantor is said to have hired private detectives to lurk around Bing Crosby's house and try to get the license number of the stork that has delivered four boys there.

And speaking of private detectives (the town is full of them), one of them reported to his client, a wealthy movie-maker, that he had seen the latter's wife and a man enter a movie theater together. "Didn't you follow them in?" asked the suspicious husband.

"Nah," said the sleuth, "I'd already seen the picture."

Demise of a heavy: Cesar Romero is the comedy hit of the new Sonja Henie picture, "Happy Landing."

Metro wants to buy the screen rights to the daring political satire, "I'd Rather Be Right," and is trying to lure President George M. Cohan out here for the lead. But Cohan burned all his bridges when he last left Hollywood in a huff.

Miss Henie is going to find movie life even more strenuous when she returns from that eastern tour. She'll have to ski and play tennis, as well as skate, in her next flicker, "Winter Garden."

You'll soon be hearing, and humming, "April in My Heart," which is by Hoagy Carmichael and perhaps greater than his "Star Dust."

Pauline Starke (remember?) is set for a comeback attempt.

John Boles celebrates his tenth anniversary in pictures with his first star billing in "Romance in the Dark."

He'll Be A Yank

STANLEY LAUREL will have a new yacht, to be named the Ileana. And it'll be a bigger boat than his present one, the Ruth L., named for his divorced wife.

Basil Rathbone still is a British citizen, but his 21-year-old son, Rodion, will become an American.

It's an old, old story about the great star who was made up so that the veteran studio gateman didn't recognize her. But it's a fact that Miss Hepburn was refused admittance at 20th-Fox when she went there for some shots in the rented "jungle" for "Bringing Up Baby." The gateman became pretty indignant when she tried to identify herself. He said the real Miss Hepburn was much prettier.

An observer reports that Marlene Dietrich, at Palm Springs, wears strap sandals with not only her toenails but her heels painted red. She's taking vocal lessons, I happened to learn, and this seems fairly conclusive evidence that after Feb. 17, when her Paramount contract expires, she'll go to New York to star in Cole Porter's musical version of "By Candlelight." A stage success could do a lot for her dwindling popularity.

Joan Crawford, who has suffered from a succession of bad pictures, could profit in the same way. She's reading plays, but likely won't reach Broadway until next autumn.

Herman Waldman And His Band Coming To Lubbock For Two Dances During Week

Lubbock and South Plains dancers will be afforded another treat this week when Herman Waldman brings his 11-piece band to Hotel Lubbock Friday and Saturday nights for two engagements.

Waldman's music is not unknown to Lubbock for he has appeared here on other occasions in recent years. The orchestra comes to Lubbock from the Baker hotel in Dallas and the Blackstone in Fort Worth where it has been presented during the fall and winter seasons. Members are now on vacation from their regular engagements and are making a short tour of Texas cities.

To Play Dinner Concerts

In addition to playing for the dances here Waldman and his band will play Friday night from 6:30 to 8 o'clock in the coffee shop at Hotel Lubbock and also Saturday from 12 noon to 1:30 and from 6:30 to 8 o'clock that night.

Dances on both nights will start at 9 o'clock and both ballrooms will be available for those who attend.

In addition to his own distinctive musical arrangements the orchestra leader presents several featured vocalists. Rex Preis and Gene Harvey will take their turns as will the Ramblers Trio.

When Boy Scouts Are Kings

THIS is the week when the Boy Scout becomes king. The Avalanche-Journal hails him and felicitates him in his observance of the 28th anniversary of the founding on this continent of the greatest boy movement civilization has known.

So worthy are the purposes of Boy Scouting, so obvious have been its accomplishments and so important is a continuation of its work on an ever-expanding scale that dissertation upon them would be superfluous use of editorial space. Such dissertation would be merely to repeat the general facts already familiar to everyone who reads newspapers.

However, The Avalanche-Journal commends the elaborate plans made for observance of the week within South Plains Boy Scout council. Activities will impress Scouts anew of the obligations they assumed when they became members. The program will arouse in other boys a desire to become scouts or, at least, to measure up to the ideals of Scouting. It will remind adults, who are apt to forget such things, that there is an organization of boys which builds men of the future. Nothing but benefit can come from the week's observance.

Lewis For President?

ONE presidential boom about which The Avalanche-Journal is not disturbed or worried is that for John L. Lewis, who is the CIO.

That does not say we would not be worried if we saw even a remote possibility that the stormy petrel of labor might be elevated to the White House. In fact, if the election of Mr. Lewis to the presidency should become probable, the editor would almost consider moving to Russia, Germany, Italy, Alcatraz or any other spot where a "vestige" of freedom might remain.

It is peculiarly appropriate that the Lewis boom, regardless how far it may go, should originate at a convention of coal miners. He has proved himself their friend. It is something of a boast with him that, having been a coal miner, he thinks as they do.

One episode in connection with his associations with coal miners suggests what life in the United States might be like should he become President. We refer to coal mining labor troubles a few years ago in Herrin, Ill.—an episode more widely known as the "Herrin massacre" which caused the civilized world to know the town as "Bloody Herrin."

Trouble there had a usual background. Non-union men were employed to do the work of striking miners. Lewis, as head of the miners, was asked what the attitude of union men should be. The uncontradicted record was he telegraphed in reply that the non-union men were to be treated "like any other scabs." Lewis said afterward he did not intend to suggest violence.

Herrin miners apparently interpreted its meaning otherwise. In any event, non-union men who surrendered under a guarantee they would be protected were slaughtered instead. The history of the nation has supplied no instances of greater brutality—such things as a crippled man being beaten to death; or men being shot down like rabbits after being lined up at a barbed wire fence and told to "run for it" across an open field; of a woman responding to a dying man's plea for water by kicking him in the face; of another woman holding her child above the mutilated body of a victim and admonishing the baby to "see what your daddy has done."

Yes, Mr. Lewis as president would be great stuff—for Mr. Lewis and his henchmen. For the rest of us, it likely might mean worse than slavery. The happy part of it is, however, that if there is anything which cannot happen here, that thing is the election of Mr. Lewis to the presidency.

With Our Contemporaries

"Not less than a half dozen good men from other points have been in Littlefield the past week looking us over with a view towards locating homes and businesses here," Johnnie Price reports in the County-Wide News. "We're a healthy little town on anybody's map."

"A canvass among 216 girls of the Tampa, Fla., high school showed that only four were considering matrimony," Forrest Weimhold notes in the Sudan News. "Twenty five per cent want to be stenographers."

The One-Minute Sermon

The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just.

Surely he scorneth the scorners: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.

The wise shall inherit glory: but shame shall be the promotion of fools.—Proverbs 3, 33 through 35.

Stefan Zweig Takes Ocean Voyage And Turns Out Biography Of Magellan, Story Of One Of World's Truly Great Ages; Izola Forrester Tells Convincing Addition To John Wilkes Booth Legend

"CONQUEROR OF THE SEA," by Stefan Zweig. (Viking Press, New York).

IT seems that not long ago Stefan Zweig journeyed by sea from Europe to South America. He enjoyed the ship's luxuries for a while, and then they began to bore him excessively — as many who have crossed on big ships can very well understand.

But in the end he grew ashamed of his ennui. After all, he thought, what is my boredom compared with the tortures of the men who conquered the seas? And he grew interested in these men, and after a reasonable space of time, "Conqueror of the Seas" appeared.

Strange In Part

This is the story, strange in part and remarkably familiar in others, of Ferdinand Magellan. The name of Magellan calls up such vague shapes that there are many beyond doubt, who will not even know that Magellan actually did not circumnavigate the globe—that he died before his ship had straggled into its home port, but after he had brought it back into known waters.

It is also the indirect story of one of the world's truly great ages, that half century after the year 1480 when the geographical horizons of mankind were being pushed back far faster than are the scientific horizons of today. We can realize, Zweig points out, what this meant to the age of Columbus and Magellan better than any intervening age, however, because that time remade a world just as we are remaking a world.

For Big Business Then

Although for a brief time all this made Portugal the greatest nation of the world, it was in the service of Spain that Magellan sailed in his five ships with his 265 men. It was in her service also that 18 men straggled back in 1522, three years away. Magellan was dead, and got no honor proportionate to his service. Indeed, it must have been difficult to apportion honors, since most of these intrepid men were really in the service of big business even in those days. The root of all this adventurous urge lay, as Zweig points out, in the spice trade.

This is perhaps a superficial book, because its sources have been few and scattered. But it is much needed.

Another 'Real Story'

"THIS ONE MAD ACT," by Izola Forrester. (Hale, Cushman & Flint).

LEGENDS about John Wilkes Booth apparently will never die. It is a poor year that does not see the publication of at least one book, purporting to set forth the "real story" of his assassination of President Lincoln, or offering some new theory about the tragedy.

One of the best of these books is "This One Mad Act," by Izola Forrester. It is best, not only for its inherent interest, but because it is better written than most and offers excellent reasons why it should be accepted as serious history.

Not Debonair Bachelor

Booth, says Miss Forrester, was not a debonair bachelor, as everyone supposed, when he committed that mad act in Ford's Theater. He was a married man, the father of a child; in 1859 he had eloped with Izola Mills, daughter of a proud Virginia family. Miss Forester herself, she says, is his granddaughter.

The assassination was a mad act, born of impulse; but Booth, she continues, seems to have been the tool of that mysterious outfit, the knights of the Golden Circle. A plot for the kidnaping of Lincoln had been evolved. When it fell through, Booth substituted murder.

STEFAN ZWEIG

In his flight, he had the help of the organization.

Finally, she declares, Booth was not killed by Union troopers in the Garrett barn. He escaped, went west, rejoined his wife and lived for a time in California, became the father of a son, moved later to Bombay, and apparently died there in 1879.

Only a qualified historian, probably, could properly assay this amazing story. Miss Forrester tells it convincingly, that she has assembled a considerable mass of rather solid-looking evidence, and that she makes an extremely interesting and persuasive story out of it.

War, Revolution, By-Products

SINCE the fascist "revolution" in Italy we have been hearing a great deal about Italy's being an agricultural state; about what fascism has done and will do for the peasants; about Mussolini and God and their joint plans.

At last a gentleman named Carl T. Schmidt has bestirred himself to find the fact of all this. He incorporates this in a book called "The Plough and the Sword" (Columbia) which may not be thrilling as prose, but which cannot be laughed off. Some small advantages there are, to be sure. But Economist Schmidt comes finally to this discouraging conclusion: "Under fascism the working masses live, and must live, in material and spiritual poverty."

"ITALY Against the World" (Harcourt, Brace) is a pretty discouraging account of the Abyssinian "war" and particularly of the diplomatic tangle which preceded, accompanied and followed it. George Martelli wrote it; he is another of that ant-like army of book-making foreign correspondents, and his book is afflicted with one of their common diseases—it takes far from an Olympian view of the events it treats.

HERBERT L. Matthews is the New York Times correspondent in Spain whose dispatches were so severely criticized by Catholics recently (his running mate, jovial Irish "Bill" Carney was correspondingly praised). Matthews is a loyalist at heart, and his book "Two Wars and More to Come" (Carrick & Evans,) needs to be read with that in mind. But it is always good, and often superb reporting, and there is a lot about Italy in Ethiopia that can be read with profit. He sees his Ethiopian and Spanish wars as the prelude to something worse to come.

VERNON McKenzie's "Through Turbulent Years" (McBride) is one of the "by-products." Mr. McKenzie is a man with a gift for making and using acquaintances; the book is rather a good picture of Europe today, with people as different as A. P. Herbert and Queen Marie of Roumania furnishing the material.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

WHILE a political posse headed by President Roosevelt was lambasting the "Nine Old Men" of the Supreme court, few noted the toll which age is taking in the United States Senate. The heroes of historic battles on Capitol Hill are growing old, mellow, less combative.

The imprint of the years shows in their lined faces, their slow steps, their frequent absences from the chamber while they lounge in cloakroom or office. They are obviously conserving their strength for the last minute—the last debate. Not even "Jack" Garner, freshman of the oldsters, jumps around as spryly as he once did. Senators Norris and Glass hold aloof from fights they would have reveled in only yesterday. Hiram Johnson, that dour but great Progressive, rarely opens his lips. J. Ham Lewis is still sartorially fit, but that's all. William G. McAdoo came in too late to be numbered even among the silent, sleeping giants.

With age they have lost their aggressiveness except for an occasional flash of their one-time eloquence and passion. It accounts for empty press and visitors' galleries at this session, for the disappearance of the Senate from the front pages. It explains why Mr. Roosevelt may yet regain his dominance of the upper chamber. The warriors who defied Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover have grown too old, too tired to fight.

TENNESSEE: The dapper bachelor of the Senate—Kenneth McKellar—is the most gallant Senatorial knight a hostess could meet off the Senate floor, but all the amenities of public and private life are forgotten when he clashes with a political foeman.

When on good behaviour, Mr. McKellar is a gentleman of the Old South—friendly, courteous and hospitable to a painful degree. He bows to the ladies so frequently and feverishly in the Capital drawing rooms that the tails of his evening dress swirl like the propeller of a ship in full speed ahead. His store of social talk is priceless and endless. He will do a favor for a friend without asking what's wanted. Everybody likes him—off the floor.

His love of Washington's social and political life explains why he fights so fiercely against anybody who would supplant him—in this instance the handsome Governor Gordon Browning. "Mac" will battle for his prized place in the capital's warm sun as ruthlessly as a mother bear to protect her cub. For Tennessee was never like this.

SNIPING: Harold L. Ickes again revealed his faculty for doing the wrong thing at the wrong time when he snubbed big, good-natured "Charley" West of Ohio—President Roosevelt's messenger boy to Capitol Hill. Though not the legislative Napoleon he has been advertised to be, boyish, bubbling West has many friends in both branches of Congress.

Mr. West is not the political type, and normally the legislators would cheer over his present woes. Against him there is the indictment that he became teacher's—Mr. Roosevelt's—pet at a time when party veterans were being ignored. But the Ohio professor rarely says an unkind word, rarely makes an enemy, and has done numerous favors for the boys. He attends their political parties, though he won't even sip a cocktail, and he will always oblige with the only poem he knows—Kipling's "If".

So the for-it's-always-fair-weather gang of politicians like him as roughnecks sometimes take a fancy to a Little Lord Fauntleroy who tries his best to be a "regular guy." And they'll get revenge on the Cabinet member for hurting his feelings if President Roosevelt doesn't beat them to it. They'll slash his appropriations, discard his demand for a new Conservation department and snipe at his sidekick—Ebert K. Burlew.

REHEARSAL: "Joe" Kennedy may balk at wearing kneepants at the Court of St. James, but he wore them at a newspaper preview of his performance as our Ambassador to London. Simultaneously he demonstrated that, for the first time in many years, our representative at the world's foremost court will have a sense of humor.

Mr. Kennedy was recently given the "diploma of the goldep tongue" by that institution whose No. 1 graduate is President Roosevelt—the J. Russell Young School of Expression. As a complete surprise, "Joe" outfitted himself in buckled slippers, tight-fitting breeches, black velvet coat, red cape and a stovepipe hat two feet high. Preceded by a trumpeter he had engaged at a local university, he made his entrance with flourishes and ruffles. Accompanying him was his confidential secretary—"Eddie" Moore—who was costumed even more bizarrely. They looked like a pair of wandering minstrellers.

Laughing uproariously, "Jimmie" Roosevelt shrieked: "Joe, after seeing you in that rig, I think I'll have to ask father to revoke your appointment." The incident explains why everybody, even the British, loves "Joe." Though he's growing up fast, the young fellow doesn't take himself too seriously.

ADEPT: Son James Roosevelt is cutting a wide, neighborly swath in the national cornfields. For one who suffers from the handicap of a famous father and sudden promotion, he is making a deep impression on politicians, business men and career servants he contacts in the government service.

He resembles, and yet differs from, his father. He first-names people soon after meeting them, but from a desire to eliminate formalities rather than from condescension. He has an instinctive love and genius for politics, largely because he likes the human race in the raw. He laughs easily, but it's not the jocose hawhawing which invites or permits familiarity. He maintains a comfortable spirit of reserve and restraint.

He seems to have a more tenacious mind, greater power of concentration, than his distinguished parent. He follows through on difficult problems. He's persistent, ambitious, cautious. He has his fingers in the baking of more important political dishes than most folks know—though they'd like to know what he's really up to here and there and elsewhere.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE Democratic party in New York state is split six ways from the middle in connection with the approaching governorship contest.

Attorney General John J. Bennett appears to have the jump on the field with a strong state-wide personal organization. But neither the New Deal crowd nor Jim Farley (this distinction should be stressed) wants any part of him. Robert H. Jackson is supposed to be the pet candidate of the White House, though political realists harbor doubts about that. Farley is opposed to both Bennett and Jackson, but if he has a choice of his own he is keeping him under cover. Senator Bob Wagner has his backers. The American Labor party is urging the Democratic claim of Adolph A. Berle, Jr.,—a LaGuardia protege behind the scenes.

To top off the confusion, Governor Herbert Lehman hasn't said he won't run—although it is known that he would personally prefer to quit—and a strong element in the party is eager to draft him again. The situation has the makings of a Donnybrook that might leave shattered party easy pickings for hungry Republicans.

TREMAINE: A group of middle-of-the-road Democrats is working frantically backstage to find a compromise formula that will restore at least a semblance of harmony and avert the threatened disintegration.

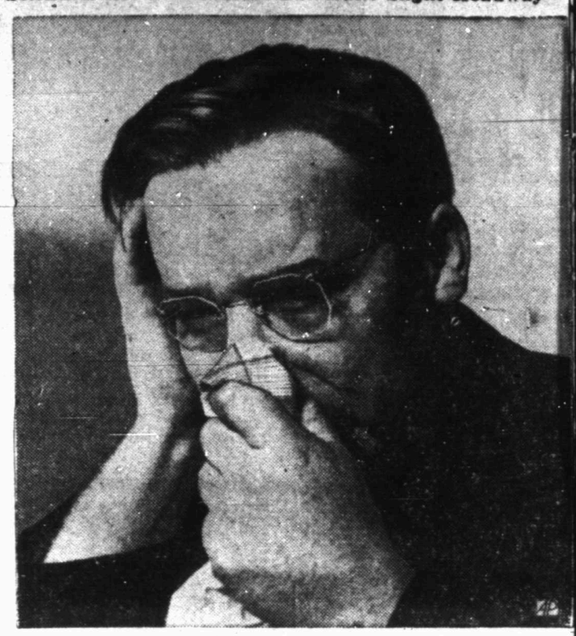

Their plan is to boost State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine for governor—he's a candidate anyhow in his own right—with "Jack" Bennett for lieutenant-governor and heir apparent. Mr. Tremaine has remained uninvolved in intra-party disturbances and has thus avoided incurring the enmity of any faction. He is the only official in the history of New York state who has ever been elected to the same post six times in succession. He was a banker before he entered politics and the state's finances have been kept in excellent shape during his regime.

The most important angle, if he is chosen, will be the fact that he is a conservative rather than a New Dealer.

Germs Run On Racetrack In Fight On Colds

Scientists Are Still Baffled But Make Slight Headway

Everybody's Doing It

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The common cold season is at its height these days. This widespread ailment has kept its secrets from scientists for years, yet the battle goes grimly on between man and his worst adversary. The following article tells you what progress has been made in this long fight.)

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

ROCHESTER, Minn., Feb. 5.—At the Mayo clinic there is a race course about an inch long, on which streptococci run heats of five-hundredths of an inch against stop watches.

It might be called the "common cold course." Its horses, the streptococci, are germs found in human respiratory tracts in colds. Its meets, in the laboratory of E. C. Rosenow, M. D., are clearing one puzzle of the common cold and of vaccines for colds.

Slow Runners Are Worse

The course is inside a small glass tube. The running is done in liquid. The tube is in an electric field, arranged so that any electrically charged object will drift in the same direction.

Streptococcus germs have electrical charges. In these races some streptococci run more slowly than others. There is no other apparent difference in them. But the slow racers have markedly more ability to aggravate colds.

Dr. Rosenow found that vaccines made from the aggravating type were more effective than those made from other streptococci. The most effective kind of vaccine reduced the severity of colds by 85 per cent.

THERE are many other cold vaccines. The interesting point of Dr. Rosenow's discovery is a complication arising from the fact that one germ is sometimes more potent than another of the same family, and that by catching the germ family black sheep you can improve your vaccine.

These streptococci are only one small sector of recent common cold discoveries. Johns Hopkins and Columbia Universities have reported another, quite different cause of colds, an invisible virus.

Still Another Angle

A completely different angle appears in a recent discovery of Anderson Hilding of Duluth. He found that lysczme, a powerful antiseptic naturally present in nasal secretions, gets strangely weak with onset of a cold. There is at present no explanation.

In structure and physiology, rather than in the germs, Dr. William J. Kerr, of San Francisco, sees the most probable explanation of the common cold. He thinks the old-fashioned belief in draughts, chills and faulty ventilation will yet be found important.

HE placed 19 persons, all susceptible to colds, in rooms with five others heavily cold-infected. Air and temperature were controlled. Not one of the 19 caught cold. They could not even be given a cold when inoculated with the infection from the sufferers.

Imagination Helps Some

An aspect different from all these has been reported by Harold S. Diehl, M. D., dean of medical sciences, University of Minnesota.

He has given a combination of codein and papaverin—an opiate—to more than 3,000 students with colds. Seventy-one per cent reported "prompt or complete" relief. But only the dean says, if they took the medicine within the first three days.

Into those figures enters the same old puzzle. Thirty-five per cent of the students got well just as quickly by taking sugar. That is, they took nothing (except perhaps imagination).

Dean Diehl concludes that in 35 per cent of common cold cases you recover quickly without anything. No one knows why. No one knows, either, why 15 per cent of the population fail to get relief from any remedy.

"Cousin Nat" Patton Guards Texas Roads

Mrs. Maverick, Like Mrs. Garner, Aids Her Husband

BY L. T. EASLEY
Texas Associated Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Texas' only representative on the House Roads committee is Nat Patton of Crockett, vigorous opponent of the President's proposal to curtail federal aid to states for highway construction.

The East Texan said that cutting federal expenditures could be started more advantageously almost anywhere else than on highway construction. Money spent on roads not only puts thousands of men to work, he said, but the results are lasting and to be enjoyed by thousands of persons for years to come.

CONGRESSMAN PATTON
. . . He believes in highways

The interest of "Cousin Nat," as he is affectionately called, in highway construction dates back some 15 years when he was a county judge and was responsible for the construction of the first concrete highway in his section of East Texas.

"My, but I was proud of that then," he recalls. "But look at it now. It's the laughing stock of the countryside because it isn't much more than wide enough for a team of mules.

"I wonder sometimes whether we're looking far enough ahead. It may be that by 1955 the roads we are now building will be just as inadequate as that narrow strip of cement I once thought would be a lasting monument to Cousin Nat Patton."

Destroyer To Galveston

Through the efforts of Rep. J. J. Mansfield of Columbus the Navy department has promised to dispatch the Destroyer Somers, just constructed, to Galveston Feb. 26 to March 1 for Mardi Gras celebrations.

NO ONE disputes that Texas' junior senator, Tom Connally, took a leading part in the fight of Southern fofces against the anti-lynching bill. He spent long hours in his office arranging a schedule of speakers to relieve each other in the filibuster against the measure, which he characterized an "insult" to the South and incapable of achieving its purpose. He was on hand to the last minute during night sessions to see that the campaign of opposition went forward as planned.

Everyone knows of the teamwork of Texas' Number 1 couple, Vice-President and Mrs. Garner.

Another Texas couple whose fame in the capitol for their partnership in office affairs is spreading is Rep. and Mrs. Maury Maverick of San Antonio.

In order that she may better assist her husband, especially when on distant speaking engagements, Mrs. Maverick is studying shorthand and typing at night school here. She says she likes to go with the congressman on speaking tours, she likes his work, so she might as well join with him and help in all ways possible.

She said in the past her assistance had been largely in his office, where she aided in filing papers, reading proof of speeches, and the like.

Extension Service Touches Total Of 1,724 Farms In County During Past Year

Annual Reports Of Agents Made

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

ANNUAL report of the work of county agricultural and demonstration agents for 1937 has been compiled by C. C. Jobson and Miss Clara Pratt and their assistants. The report is divided into two sections, a statistical and a narrative, detailing the activities in both office and field.

The four agents visited and contacted 1,724 farms during the year, handled 15,975 office and 6,622 telephone calls, wrote or published 266 news articles about their work, wrote 13,511 individual letters, 294 circulars, distributed 5,895 bulletins, made 10 radio talks and visited 38 events at which extension exhibits were shown.

Fifty-One Meetings Held

Fifty-one meetings for training of adult workers were held; 21 for women attended by 461; 30 for men attended by 1,572; 19 for club girls, attended by 378 and 47 for boys, attended by 449.

Method demonstrations were: 323 for women, attended by 5,673; 152 for men, attended by 3,870. Result demonstrations: 64 for women, attended by 1,105 and 15 for men, attended by 232.

One tour for 4-H club girls, attended by 18 was held; 19 achievement days were held for women attdays were held for club girls, attended by 431; 26 4-H achievement tended by 372 and one for boys, attended by 98.

Encampments Are Held

One encampment was held for boys and girls by Miss Pratt, attended by 75 boys and 130 girls, with 20 others attending. The county agent held one encampment attended by 125 boys.

There were 18 other extension meetings attended by 724 women and 10 for men attended by 769.

A total of 180 committee meetings for women were attended by 2,160 women and 10 for men, attended by 300, at which the county agents did not attend. Thirty-one such meetings were held for boys, attended by 614.

County Agent Jobson estimates about 2,800 farms in the county. On 552 farms definite changes of practices were made as a result of work of the agents; 702 farm homes had similar changes. Twenty-five farm homes had changes made as a result of demonstrations.

Club members came from 537 farm homes and 10 from other homes. Total of 1,452 different farm families were influenced by some phase of extension work and 25 other families.

Soil Conservation Work Is Practiced On 1,400 Farms

On 1,400 farms in Lubbock county during 1937, 250,533 acres were devoted to soil conservation program work, annual report of County Agent C. C. Jobson shows.

On 74,959 acres, representing 1,289 farms, $73,375.75 in service was rendered.

These practices included: plowing under green manure, 232 farms, 2,991 acres, value $5,982; soil blowing controlled on 4,750 ares on 223 farms, savings, $4,760; cover crops used on 4,767 acres on 97 farms; approved summer-fallow practices on 7,111 acres on 290 farms, $1,777.75 being saved; terraces on 7,377 acres on 56 farms, valued at $36,885; crops grown on contour on 391 farms, 47,962 acres, amounting to $23,981.

Corn Movement Is Started In Area; Good Yield Made In Terry, Cochran, Yoakum, Gaines

With movement to market of the 1937 corn crop of the South Plains, particularly from Terry, Cochran, Yoakum and Gaines counties off to a good start, farmers are reported going back to the bushel as a standard for sale instead of the ton. For the past few years the ton sale has been prevalent in this area, grain men report.

Corn grown in this section is generally white and grades No. 2 white. It is a hard, flinty corn that millers seek for making into cornmeal and similar products. Millers prefer the corn for mixing with softer corns of other sections that contain more moisture.

Terry Ranks High

Terry county generally ranks third in Texas in production. This season an estimated 70,000 to 75,000 acres is expected to produce between 1,250,000 and 1,500,000 bushels. Quality is reported as better than average, but acreage is not quite as great as in other years.

For a number of years farmers have sold corn on the ton basis. It is now being quoted at from $10 to $12 a ton for ear corn.

The larger farmers frequently have their own corn sheller and do their work on their farms. It costs four or five cents a bushel to shell corn. The shelled type brings better prices than ear corn.

Corn buyers have been piling corn on the ground preparatory to shelling, at most railroad stations. Several piles of from 500 to 750 tons have been reported.

Brownfield is the largest corn shipping town in Northwest Texas. Seagraves, Whiteface, Lehman, Bledsoe and Levelland are also good points. Yoakum county corn moves from Brownfield. Meadow and Ropesville are other corn shipping centers.

WAIT ON MOISTURE

TULIA, (Special)—Central Swisher county farmers are awaiting moisture before starting spring plowing. Wheat needs moisture some, although there was some snow in January. However, the moisture was not enough to make it advisable for plowing to any extent.

Short Course Is To Be Split Up

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 5.—(Special)—The Farmers' Short Course will be held in two sections in 1938, one for 4-H club members and one for adults, according to an announcement made by H. H. Williamson, director of the Extension Service.

The section for 4-H club boys and girls will meet on July 6-7-8, and the adult section on July 12-13-14, Williamson said.

Heretofore the club members and adults have always met as one group for the annual get-to-gether on the campus of Texas A. and M. College. "The decision to hold the Short Course in two sections was prompted by our desire to permit more farm people to attend," Williamson said. "In recent years our accommodations have been so limited that we have been forced to restrict the attendance."

Williamson estimated that under the new arrangement accommodations could be provided for approximately 8,000 farm people and club members. With less demand on the time of teachers and lecturers, an increase in the quality of the program is also expected.

TWO DRILLING BLOCKS

LORENZO, (Special)—Two drilling blocks, on which tests for oil are to be made, have been assembled near Lorenzo, it is reported. Farmers received about $1.50 per acre lease and a 50 cent per year rental. No date has been set for spudding in of the tests and there has been no announcement of a probable location.

WHEAT LOOKS GOOD

MULESHOE, (Special)—Wheat in northern Bailey county is looking good, in spite of insufficient moisture to greatly benefit the crop. A slightly larger acreage is indicated here.

REA Project Is To Be Sought

Applications for a rural electrification grant for three counties, Lynn and Garza and Terry, are to be combined into one large cooperative, and a formal application again pressed in Washington for a grant, Harry N. Roberts, engineer here for a number of cooperatives, said yesterday.

The combined application will cover construction of about 216 miles and will represent 684 customers. There will be a number of irrigation wells included in this grouping.

Roberts said he believed the application would receive favorable consideration at the next opening of bids by REA, about the first of July, if proper support was given it by leaders. Congressman George Mahon is to be asked to assist, as well as Senators Connally and Sheppard.

Fine Herefords To Be Sold At San Angelo Fat Stock Show

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 5. (Special)—More than 70 head of fine registered Hereford cattle will be sold at the auction sale here Monday, March 7, the fourth day of the Seventh Annual San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo. The show opens March 4. In the Hereford show proper, more than 200 animals will be exhibited.

The boys' fat stock auction will be held Tuesday, March 8. Choice baby beeves and fat lambs will be offered with Col. Earl Gartin in charge. Both sales will get under way at 9 o'clock each morning.

This year's auctions will be held in the new indoor auction ring which has a seating capacity of 1,100.

FARMER LOSES HOGS

SPUR, Feb. 5. (Special)— J. A. Kerley, a farmer of the Red Hill community near here, is looking for two fat porkers that he was taking home from Spur.

Having a barrel of water in the back of his wagon, his tank being dry he is forced to haul water some distance. Kerley did not see the pigs get out of their pen in the wagon bed. His first knowledge of their being missing was when he saw them down the road.

Kerley gave chase but was unable to catch them. He has offered a reward for their return.

FARMERS REQUEST WORK

AMHERST, Feb. 5 (Special) — Lamb county farmers have requested of County Agent Don F. Turner for terracing on approximately 10,000 acres, he reports.

J. F. Smith, Amherst, has been named by the commissioner's court as contouring supervisor.

DICKENS COUNTY

DICKENS, Feb. 5. (Special) — Grady I. Lane, county agent, reports he has applications to terrace some several thousand acres of Dickens county land this winter.

Daily requests are coming into Lane's office for terracing dates.

Range Conservation Program This Year To Be Statewide; Details Announced

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 5. — The range conservation feature of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program will be statewide in application instead of applying only to 173 counties in the western section of the state, as was the case in 1937, Geo. Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation committee, has announced.

The announcement was made after word to that effect came to the committee, in session at Texas A. and M. college, from I. W. Duggan, acting director of the Southern region of the Triple A.

Limited To Those Practicing

Participation in the range program is limited to those ranchmen who carry out practices set forth in the program in areas where these practices are approved as of value, Slaughter said. He indicated that the 1938 practices would probably be similar to those of 1937, which included construction of water reservoirs, spreader dams and spreader terraces, terraces and contour furrowing and elimination of certain range destroying plants.

"Ranchmen in some sections of the state, such as the Gulf Coast prairies, will probably find the provisions governing non-crop open pasture land, under the farm part of the program, more practical and attractive than the practices provided under the range feature," Slaughter pointed out.

Probably Not Practical

"Owners of small acreages will probably not find it practical to enter the range program," he continued, "as ranch allowances are relatively low and administrative expenses would use up most of the payments."

The range conservation feature has been one of the most popular and successful AAA programs. The Texas AAA office has received applications covering the participation of 18,306 ranches, totaling more than 62 million acres, or over 75 percent of all the range land in the 173 counties affected by the 1937 program.

Eddy County Produces Largest Cotton Crop During Past Year

CARLSBAD, N. M., Feb. 5. — (Special) Eddy county last year had its largest cotton crop, Jed Howard, secretary of the Carlsbad Irrigation district reports.

For the season 36,945 bales were ginned, compared with 28,782 bales the previous year.

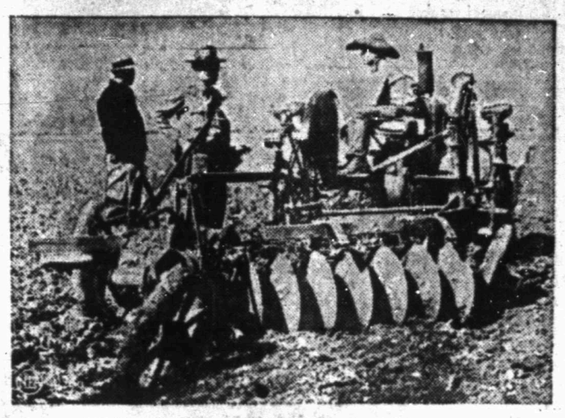

Average yield was 517 pounds per acre, compared with 506 pounds for 1936 and 517 for 1933, previous high years. The 1928-32 average was 344 pounds per acre.

"The record yield is a good example of what farmers can do when they stick to one variety," Fred Barham, county agent, said.

"Nearly all of the cotton in Eddy county is now College Acala or Pardue Acala. It keeps the strain pure and gives the farmers not only greater production, but a better market."

Agents Plow Under 1,400 Acres Of Dreams

Farmers who planted 1400 acres to hemp along the Rio Grande near Raymondville, didn't know that the habit-forming drug marihuana, may be gathered from hemp during certain stages of its growth. U. S. Customs agents ordered the crop plowed under last year. Seeds carried by the wind resowed the fields, however, and another plowing under was necessary. Customs agents are shown above supervising the job.

Average Of $307.75 Paid In Annual Sale

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5. (AP)—Fifty-one animals in the Harrisdale farms annual spring auction sold here Friday for $15,695 or an average of $307.75. Buyers from states other than Texas came from Alabama, Arizona, Nevada, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

The top bull of the auction was Prince Dominoe 101st, selling for $660 to H. H. Thurber of Sonoita, Ariz.

Lady Harris Randolph, heifer calf owned by Claud Hurd of Beeville, led the female list with a bid of $600.

Earl Gartin auctioned the cattle and announced sales on February 7 for the Wimberly Hereford farm, Sweetwater; February 8, G. P. Mitcham and son, Cisco; February 9, Coleman County Hereford association, Coleman, and Feb. 10, D. L. McDonald, Amarillo.

STILL BUY TRACTORS

TAHOKA, (Special) — Implement dealers here report a good demand for tractors. Numerous farmers are trading in farm work stock for the power machines. Farmers are beginning to work land in anticipation of moisture before spring planting time.

TRUCKING OUT GRAIN

SUDAN, (Special) — Scores of trucks from other states, mostly Oklahoma and New Mexico, come here weekly to haul grain sorghums to those states. Truckers pay $10 to $12 per ton for the headed grain. Amarillo trucks also come here for grain.

One-Variety Cotton Session To Be Held At Roosevelt Monday

A one-variety cotton program for Roosevelt community, east of Lubbock, will be discussed Wednesday night by farmers of that section in a meeting to be held in the Roosevelt Rural high school at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called by the Roosevelt grange.

Both the F.F.A. chapter and the 4-H club of the community are cooperating with the grange.

Oran W. Cliett, president of the certified seed breeders association has accepted an invitation to be present and to discuss the one variety program.

Feeders' Event Is Set At Tech

Date of the first annual Lamb Feeders Day for Texas Technological college has been set for Feb. 19, W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry of the division of agriculture announced. A previous date of Feb. 11 was only a tentative one.

J. M. Jones, College Station, chief of the range animal division of the Texas agricultural Experiment station, is to be one of the main speakers. Several other well known authorities on feeding and practical feeders are on the program.

Invitations Mailed Out

Some 500 invitations to county agents and vocational agricultural teachers in Northwest and West Texas have been mailed.

The experiment, fifth instituted by the animal husbandry department, is being supervised by Merrill Poison, a graduate student in animal husbandry. Results will be used in his thesis on "Cottonseed Products as Feeds for Fattening Lambs."

"About 300,000 lambs are being fed on the Plains this year, many of them on rations that have proved satisfactory in one of the experiments conducted here at the college," Stangel said. "The number that are placed on feed is increasing every year."

REPAIR FARM HOMES

ANTON, (Special)—A dozen or more farm homes, on land owned by the Ellwood farms, are being repaired before spring. A number of other farmers are also making necessary reports to houses, barns, etc.

LOTS OF COTTON

LAMESA, (Special)—Between 60,000 and 70,000 bales of cotton are estimated to be stored here, mostly government cotton. Nearly 45,000 bales have been shipped out to other places, mostly to the ports.

ery and I feel it's my duty to tell others about this Great Medicine," said Mrs. Loula Goldsmith, of 1112 Fox St., Denver, Colo. "For almost a year I had been a miserable, suffering person. My stomach finally got so bad that I could hardly stand it. Oh, what misery I went through! My stomach would swell up with gas. I was actually afraid to sit down and eat a meal. I read about Van-Tage in the papers and some of the people who had taken this medicine were telling about relief from suffering just like mine, so I decided to try it. The very first bottle gave me so much relief that I could hardly BELIEVE IT! It seemed to go right to work on my gassy stomach and now I find that I can eat without any distress afterward. My food digests like it should. What a grand feeling it is to sit down and enjoy a meal. I think Van-Tage is a real, genuine medicine for people who have troubles like mine."

Is Like Taking Several Medicines at Once

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 Ingredients, so it is like taking several medicines at once! Brings forth gas and bloat, helps cleanse bowels and invigorates sluggish kidneys, so that people declare it made them feel different ALL OVER. Van-Tage is NOT expensive, so get it—TODAY—at Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 19 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan's determination, even eagerness, to venture into the land of the Kaji did not blind him to the hazards of his journey. He moved warily. But could his caution preserve him from Mafka's unaccountable powers, which struck unseen and without warning? . . . .

. . . . Meanwhile, in the castle which was the heart of the Kaji kingdom, Stanley Wood fell more and more under the enchantment of the cruel, beautiful Queen. Finally he could contain himself no longer. Ignoring the risks of his recklessness, he declared his love.

For a long time she gazed at him impassively. Then she spoke, in a small low voice. "Love! So that's what it is." In that moment she was a woman, like any other, listening to the melody of love. But quickly she became again the Queen of the awful Kaji.

Drawing herself up in all her regal majesty, she cried: "How dare you, wretched slave—how dare you aspire to the love of Gonfala! I am a goddess as well as a Queen. For your crime there can be only one punishment—death!" She turned to summon the guard!

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Feb. 6 to 12

Being a Scout is one of the grandest experiences any real American Boy could possibly have . . . it's fun . . . it's interesting . . . it's instructive . . . it's character building . . . it's body building . . . in short it's constructive in every sense of the word . . . vastly different from the political organizations in many lands who train their youth for war rather than living, . . . we're proud of Scouting and we're proud to be connected with such an organization in the manner that we are . . .

More than 1,000,000 people and many land animals live within the Arctic circle. In the Anarctic there are no human inhabitants or animals.

ACCEPTED IN LONDON

LONDON, (AP)—London needs more policemen so badly the authorities have reduced the minimum height for admission by one inch.

Hitherto Bobbies had to be 5 feet 9 inches tall.

Now the metropolitan police commissioner has offered "a limited number of vacancies" to single men between 20 and 25 who are "particularly well developed physically and possess sound educational qualifications."

Average height of Englishmen is 5 feet 1 1-4 inches.

Older Boys Topic Of Camp Course

The problem that has faced the scoutmaster for a long time has been, "What to do with the older boys in the troop," or "how to hold the older boy in the troop".

A program that will meet the desires of this older boy group will be discussed and helps suggested at a Sea Scout leaders training course to be conducted at Camp Post Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 12 and 13.

To Discuss Sea Scouting

The leaders will muster their crew aboard the ship for the first meeting Saturday at 5 p. m. A general plan of the course will be presented with the purpose of sea scouting.

The scoutmasters and other leaders who are interested in taking this course are urged to send their names in to the scout office. Those completing the course will receive a national specialization course training certificate.

The only cost of the course will be $1 for a Sea Scout Manual, folders and the like. Each man will take his own food and do his own cooking in real camp style.

Malone Praises Sustaining Club Membership

Fees Make Scout Growth Possible

Tribute to Sustaining club members, without whose aid Boy Scouting on the South Plains would be impossible, was paid Saturday by Dr. F. B. Malone, who is the first man ever to be elected to a fourth term as council president. Dr. Malone was elected to his fourth consecutive term recently.

It is their membership fees, he explained, which provide the council budget making possible a year-round program of scouting, camping and other activities for the 27 towns and 20 counties comprising the council area.

Given Credit For Growth

Without the volunteer contributions of those who are supporting the program the membership, interest and program could not have advanced as rapidly as it has, Malone stated.

He pointed out that on Dec. 31, 1935, there were only 387 Scouts registered in the council. On Dec. 31, 1937, there were 1,142 Scouts registered showing an increase of 755 boys over a period of two years. The objective for scouts and cubs for 1938 is 1,944.

Camping Is Maintained

Through the sustaining memberships the council camp at Post is maintained and facilities made available for Scouts at all times.

Complete record of all scouts and scouters, regular visitation and leadership of trained scout executives, leadership training courses for all leaders; supervised regular courts of honor in every district, complete organization for rallies, field days, camporals, swimming meets and the like are provided.

Badges Furnished Free

All badges for cubs and the tenderfoot, second class, and first class, and eagle badges for scouts are furnished free through the sustaining memberships.

In addition to this, 10 per cent of the entire council budget goes to a stabilization fund to maintain the scout program in a lean year.

Dr. Malone commended the sustaining members highly for the valuable part they play in maintaining the scout program.

President Tells

DR. F. B. MALONE

"May I take this means to express the appreciation of the scout organization for the financial support given us during the past year by all the members of the various Sustaining clubs throughout the council.

"Through the generous support of the Boy Scout Sustaining members we have been able to go forward with an increased program of effective scouting activity. The Boy Scout Sustaining Club members have made it possible for several hundred more boys to have the benefits of this character building program during the past year.

"We hope that we shall merit the continued support of our present Sustaining Club members and that others will join with them to further support and strengthen the program of scouting among the youth of the South Plains.

"Yours for the Boys,
"F. B. Malone,
"Council President."

Spikes Gets Beaver Award For Activity In Scouting

Joseph N. Spikes of Lamesa, assistant cashier of the First National bank there, was the winner of the 1938 Beaver award, the highest which can be awarded to a volunteer worker in Boy Scouting, according to recent announcement.

Only one each year can be awarded in South Plains council. Other winners have been J. C. Loveless, Lamesa, in 1931; Rev. L. G. H. Williams, Lubbock, 1932; K. N. Clapp, Lubbock, 1933; Marshall Mason Post, 1934; J. D. Dyer, Lamesa, 1935; W. G. McMillan, Lubbock, 1936; and Sam A. Henry, sr., Lubbock, 1937.

474 Adults Aid In Scout Work

According to records in the Boy Scout office here, 474 men in the South Plains council tossed their hats in the Boy Scout ring in 1937 volunteering their time and energy to the boyhood of the South Plains.

Service as scoutmasters, cubmasters, troop and pack committeemen, district and neighborhood commissioners and members of the council executive board has attracted this army of volunteer leaders who have looked into the future of the boys of their community. They have given freely of their time and money to make Scouting possible.

These men recognize the importance of training boys to be men of leadership in the community. A survey also shows that the men who are leading boys are also leading in community service other than in the Boy Scout Movement. They are leaders in service clubs, chambers of commerce, churches and schools. They are the men who can set an example, men clean in mind, thought, speech, body, and uphold the best projects in the community.

There are thousands of boys in the South Plains who want to be scouts or cubs, officials said. They want men who will show them the how of scouting. They want the same opportunities as the 1563 registered cubs, scout, and Sea Scouts in the South Plains are getting today.

Inspections Planned

K. N. Clapp, council commissioner who is pictured above, announced Saturday the first quarterly commissioners' inspections of troops will be made Feb. 14 to 28. Every troop should strive to raise its rating above that of the November inspection, he said. A number of troops not inspected at that time will be visited by the district commissioner this month, Clapp said.

FROM BUTTER TO WORSE

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—The high price of butter has brought the old-fashioned practice of "dunking" into favor at Colorado university.

Lunch counters raised the price of rolls and butter to 10 cents, but the price of the rolls alone is only a nickel.

So instead of having rolls and butter students now have coffee or milk and an unbuttered roll to "dunk."

WINCHESTER, England (AP)—Some of the local citizens are picking up a few extra shillings in their spare time by acting as "speed cops."

They don't actually run the speeder down. They simply ride along with the arresting officer and give corroborative evidence on the speed of the offender.

The practice has raised a rumpus but local authorities say it's cheaper than putting on extra cops.

First Aid Contests Arranged

Activity Planned As Safety Move

An elaborate series of first aid tournaments will give the South Plains opportunity to compete for the regional championship at Dallas early in April, according to information given Saturday by Dr. Allen T. Stewart, South Plains council chairman of health and safety.

Before they may qualify, however, the scouts must survive a series of lesser contests, he explained.

To Start With Troops

Competition will start in the individual troops. The best patrol team in each troop will qualify for a district first aid meet to be held late this month or early in March.

Following the district first aid meet, winning teams will take part in a large Council meet, with the winning team from each district participating for the Council Championship at Sweetwater.

To Award Prizes

The regional championship event will be held at Dallas, the best teams from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico competing. Appropriate awards will be made teams as they advance.

The entire leadership of the troop, district, and council should go into action immediately and assist the scoutmasters, district commissioners or health and safety men in making this one of the biggest as well as the most valuable scout events of the year, Dr. Stewart urged.

Ability Of Leaders Decisive Key To Boy Scout Success

The key to the success of any troop or cub pack is the ability of the leaders to put the program across to the boys.

Leadership Training Courses that will make it possible to learn how to lead a troop or pack, serve as a committeeman, or in some other capacity, are being planned in all districts in the council.

Special training courses in cubbing, sea scouting, troop program making, and first aid are being planned for as many as can take them.

On Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 12 and 13, a Sea Scout leaders training course will be conducted at Camp Post.

March 13 is the date for the cub leader training course at Lubbock with Dr. C. C. Schmidt in charge.

Feb. 17, 18 and 19 are the dates for the first aid course at Camp Post.

Universal Appeal In Boy Scout Program

Scouting is a boys' program with a universal appeal to all boys from 12 to 16 years of age. Throughout the history of the scout program there has been a steady growth in the scout membership. Even during the depression scouting showed a very substantial growth when most businesses showed a decided decrease.

Perhaps this can be accounted for to some extent because hundreds of surveys have shown that from 60 to 90 per cent of any group of scout age boys want scouting. Another reason may be that there are no paid workers in scouting except the professional leaders. Every man is a volunteer working with the boys for the good he can do. More than 350,000 volunteers are serving annually.

Large Attendance Is Assured For Scout Camps

Improvements At Post Completed

BY MARSHALL MASON
Camp Committee Chairman

With a number of added improvements and the assurance of a large attendance at Camp Post this season, the camping committee is going forward and adding other facilities that will make it even more attractive than ever before.

Among the added features of the camp are additional sanitary toilets, a number of dutch ovens, with a canopy for each, shower baths and a new Handicraft lodge and Caretaker's cabin.

Best Leaders Chosen

In addition to this, the leadership for Camp Post is being very carefully selected so that the best possible leadership may be available for the Scouts as they come to camp.

Through the "Go To Camp" club that has been introduced to the scouts in this council this year, quite a large number of Scouts will be able to attend who otherwise could not have enjoyed the good times and pleasures of camp.

Payment Plan Easy

Through the "Go To Camp" club, scouts may join for $1 and then additional money may be applied on their camp fee by the purchase of "go to camp" stamps from the Scoutmaster.

The plan for boys to attend camp is one of the best that has been used and it is estimated that the camp will double any previous years camping at Camp Post. Every boy likes to camp for one or two weeks at Camp Post and he will be prepared for any other camp such as the Yellowstone National Park camp or the Northern New Mexico Camp that comes later in the summer.

Sessions Start May 29

The camp sessions at Post open May 29 and close June 25. The Yellowstone National Park Camp will begin June 27 and close July 17. The Northern New Mexico Camp will be held in August.

Every Scout should join the "Go To Camp" club now and have his camp fee paid by the time camp opens. A good Scout believes in paying his own way.

Building Stronger Generation Theme Of Scout Celebration

"Building a stronger generation" is the theme for the 28th birthday celebration to be observed nationally this week commemorating the founding of the scouting movement in America.

In "living" demonstrations of the things Scouts know and do, in various "good turn" projects related to safety education, in their ceremony of reaffirming their scout oath and law, in their observance of scout Sunday, scouts will reveal their growing strength and preparedness to face the exacting demands of participating citizenship.

Reading between the lines of what Scouts are doing, a deeper significance becomes apparent expressed in boyish attitudes towards life, attitudes influenced by scouting which causes boys to exhibit a cheerful spirit, a preparedness to accept responsibility, a willingness to be helpful, and a confidence in themselves strengthened by a working knowledge of trustworthiness, loyalty, courtesy and cleanliness which are the tools of integrity.

Cubbing Growth Sets Fast Pace

For the first time in 28 years, registered membership in Boy Scouts of America passed the 1,100,000 mark, Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, announced in conjunction with Boy Scout week now being celebrated to commemorate the 28th birthday of the movement.

The exact year-ending figures just released, show 1,129,827 Boy Scouts, cubs, Senior scouts and their leaders registered and actively engaged in the program of character building, citizenship training, camping crafts and comradeship in 38,151 troops, ships, neighborhood patrols and tribes throughout the United States of America and its possessions.

Cubbing Sets Pace

The growth for the year 1937 over the preceding 12 months period was 5.6 per cent. The greatest percentage of growth in any single phase of this movement was in cubbing, the program for boys 9, 10 and 11, which averaged 30.5 per cent growth.

"The past year has been one of the greatest in the history of the scouting movement," declared Dr. West.

"It has been a year of great achievement and greater inspiration, gathering as we did, 27,232 scouts and leaders from every state and many foreign countries into a great jamboree camp upon the shores of the historic Potomac river in the heart of the nation's capital.

"With this inspiration, we are certain that all America appreciates the fundamental values which Scouting offers boys, and that every man and woman will do all in his power to make Scouting available to more boys in every community."

Boys Give Service

Approximately 5,000 hours of civic service was recorded by Boy Scouts of South Plains council in 1937, according to Civic Service Committee Chairman Neil Wright, pictured above. Among services enabling 35 scouts to qualify for civic service bar pins, he related, were city-wide cleanup, traffic directions, toy pickup and repair, gifts and delivery of food to needy families, service at fairs and assistance to den chiefs in the cubbing program.

Annual Circus To Be Feature Of Scout's Summer Program

One of the outstanding events of the year's program in South Plains Boy Scout council will be the second annual circus to be staged May 6, according to Earl McClure, executive.

Several hundred boys will participate and most of the troops in the council will assist in the presentation, he said. There will be scores of clowns, acrobatic and tumbling acts, Indian dances and the like. It will include several of the numbers presented at the national jamboree at Washington which President Roosevelt witnessed last year.

Scouts Will Start Camping Activities

Approximately 250 Lubbock Boy Scouts and leaders will formally initiate Camp Post into what is expected to be a record year for troop, short term, and long term camping when they march in and set up their tents for a two-day period of winter camping on Friday and Saturday, Feb 11 and 12, according to John Vickers, who will be camp director.

The time will be spent in studying outdoor requirements for various tests, inter-troop contests, stunts, and a period of real fun and fellowship together. Vickers will be assisted in setting up the camp program by two or three able assistants and the scoutmasters of the various troops.

Every scout and leader of every troop is urged to take part in this huge camping and scouting demonstration that will climax a week in celebration of the 28th anniversary in scouting in America.

President Of Council Serves Fourth Term As Executive

Elevation of Dr. P. B. Malone to the presidency of South Plains Boy Scout council, in which he has served longer than any other man, was a recognition of his long service in the movement.

He has been an adult leader 12 years, has held many time-taking positions of responsibility, finally being chosen president in 1934.

Troop Boards Of Review Set

New Plan To Aid Court Of Honor

A troop board of review, composed of the membership of the troop committee and other men who may be asked to serve on special occasions will be used in every troop in the council, to be effective immediately, according to George W. Dupree, council court of honor chairman.

The purpose of the board of review is to meet in advance of the district court of honor and examine the scouts in the work they have completed before the scoutmaster and other examiners, to determine whether or not they are qualified to be recognized for advancement, he said.

Pamphlet Made Available

A 21-page pamphlet has been prepared for the troop committee that is to be used in connection with the Boy Scout Handbook. It is mainly devoted to the board of review but there is also helpful information concerning tenderfoot investiture ceremonies and courts of honor, he explained.

There is one type of board of review to be active in the advancement program. This is the troop board of review.

Committee To Preside

Troop boards of review will be conducted by troop committee of that particular unit, Dupree said.

Scouts coming up for the ranks of life, eagle and eagle palms will be examined by a special district character court committee which will meet in each district every three months upon special call by the committee.

The board of review will take formal action on each advancement and forward all advancement applications to the Boy Scout office in Lubbock at least five days previous to the date of the district court of honor, the chairman asserted.

South Plains Council Record At Washington Outstanding

One of the outstanding accomplishments of South Plains Boy Scout council last year, according to officials, was the fact that 65 boys and leaders attended the national jamboree in Washington, D. C.

The record was one of the best in the entire United States, leaders reported. The only councils distant from Washington more largely represented were those in which all or part of the expenses of the boys was supplied. Scouts of Lubbock council paid their own way.

Hundreds of plants secrete nectar, but only about two dozen species furnish it in worthwhile quantities.

Heads Honor Court

Chairman of South Plains Boy Scout council court of honor is George W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney and civic leader, pictured above.

Assists In Program

One of the most active figures in South Plains scouting is W. G. McMillan, pictured above. Additional to his duties as city commissioner and an active building contractor, he has held most of the positions of responsibility in the Scout council. He served two years as council president, 1933 and 1934, and now is regional representative comprising one of the board which directs activities in the region made up of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and part of Arkansas.

Cub Program Gains On Plains

Cubbing, the new program for boys nine, 10 and 11 years of age, has rapidly gained ground in South Plains council, according to Dr. C. C. Schmidt, associate professor of physics at Texas Technological college, who is council cub commissioner.

The area now has 13 packs registered with a membership of nearly 300 cubs, he said.

Activities planned, he related, include day camps, father and son hikes, treasure hunts, bird house contests and others of similar nature.

Credit for the progress was given by Dr. Schmidt to cubmasters, den mothers and den chiefs.

Boy's Good Turn Shapes History

Cake and candles may be the popular conception of a birthday party, but not for Boy Scouts who are beginning a week's festivities in celebration of the 28th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

From a welter of demonstrations, talks and meetings emerges one birthday week activity typical of the boys who make up the more-than-a-million membership of the Boy Scouts of America. It is a "good deed," a nation-wide good turn, to the men and women of America which, Boy Scouts hope, will bring home lessons of safety in such dramatic manner that they will be less thoughtless, careless and ignorant in the myriad small things they do or don't do which breed accidents.

When "Good Turn" Paid

The scout "good turn" will not be done with a beating of drums or amidst the cheers of spectators, but inconspicuously in neighborhood business districts where scouts will stage "living" demonstrations of fundamental safety practices upon the sidewalks, in store windows, lobbies and other spots where Mr. and Mrs. America congregate.

This simple but effective "good turn" is reminiscent of another Boy Scout act which resulted in bringing the Scouting idea to America more than 28 years ago. This "good turn" took place in London when an unknown English lad helped an American lost in a dense fog to discover an address. When the boy refused the customary tip for his services with the statement, "Scouts don't take money for good turns," the surprised American, W. D. Boyce of Chicago, decided to investigate further with the result that he met Lord Baden-Powell, chief scout of the world.

Makes Scout History

As an outcome of this meeting, Boyce brought back the idea which was developed with minor changes into the program of the Boy Scouts of America, incorporated, February 8, 1910, in Washington, D. C., and granted a federal charter by Congress on June 21, 1916.

Since that date 28 years ago, more than 7,500,000 boys and men from Alaska to the Canal Zone and from Maine to the philippines have participated in the character building, citizenship training program of camping, crafts and woodsmanship of the Boy Scouts of America.

Competition Set For Area Scouts

Boy Scouts in Lubbock, as elsewhere in the United States, will assemble between 7 and 8 o'clock Monday night to hear President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Walter Head, national president of scouts, and Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, in nationwide broadcasts.

In connection, station KFYO of the Avalanche-Journal will broadcast between 7:30 and 8:15 p. m., with an intermission for the nationwide hookup.

Special Prizes Planned

Preceding the program, every troop in South Plains council will participate in a councilwide mobilization. Its purpose is to help each troop to mobilize quickly, to develop efficiency in mobilization on district and councilwide bases, and to afford all scouts and leaders friendly competition.

The assembly will involve every Scout, Scoutmaster, District and Neighborhood Commissioner in the Council and all must function for this event to properly produce the desired results.

Special awards will be presented to the fastest troop in the district, fastest district in the council and fastest troop in the council. These presentations will be made at the second council Boy Scout circus to be held May 6.
