Community shows concern at public school tax hearing

By Jacquelyn Shacklette

Local citizens put the Crockett County school board on the griddle Thursday evening during a public hearing concerning a tax hike of 5.35 percent.

The standing-room only crowd asked for explanations concerning their tax money and were told that operating costs have soared while taxable property values have declined in Crockett County.

The school board recently voted 4-3 in favor of an increase to bring the $.93 per hundred dollar rate to 98 cents.

Garland Davis, Ozona school superintendent, told the group that the state historically has paid about $250,000 to the local school system. The largest amount received from the state was in 1984-85 when the local schools received an amount between $400,000 and $500,000.

The school was considered a foundation program school during 1984-85. Foundation program schools receive more funds from the state.

"We teeter between being a budget-balanced school and a foundation program school," school board president Jeffrey Sutton said.

The local school district changed from one to the other three times during 1987-88.

"We can't rely on being one of these or not," Sutton said.

Davis explained the need to maintain a fund balance for the school.

"If we don't maintain a fund balance of about a million, we might be looking at borrowing money to pay the bills," Davis said. "We could maintain one million and have three months of operating money if our projection for this year is correct."

The school has a present fund balance of $2.1 million which is projected to decrease to $1.8 by the year's end.

Seventy-five percent of the school's budget is for salaries, according to Davis.

Board member Sandra Childress told the group that $50,000 has been budgeted for asbestos removal, but the actual cost may be much higher.

Bus costs were discussed. The school did not purchase any new buses during the past year. About 16 buses are owned by the school.

"We've cut our bus routes to seven instead of nine," Davis said. "The buses on the routes log about 900 miles a day."

Davis told the group that the school is cutting re-roofing costs by doing their own roofing.

"I still think you can cut out a lot of fat," Dennis Clark said to the board. "My income is within $1,000 of what it was in 1981 when the school tax was 53 cents. Now it is 93 cents and you are asking for a nickel more."

Board members were asked about school housing. Davis told the local citizens that most of the housing costs are recovered through rents.

"In two years our bond will be paid off," board member Gary Buck Mitchell said. "That's 11 cents that'll be available then."

However, some skepticism was expressed that any relief will be forthcoming.

"I have a funny feeling that our tax rate won't decrease," Clark said.

School tax values are expected to take a turn back up during the next year.

Davis explained that the board is concerned about spending of tax money.

"We're trying to do a good job for your school district," Davis said. "The same concerns are here. We do a lot of haggling over budget content. I want to say your board is doing an excellent job."

The state has mandated a number of programs in recent years without appropriating fundings.

"The state needs to pass along some funding when they mandate a program," said Davis, who suggested pressure be brought on state legislators for that purpose.

The school board will meet Tuesday, Sept. 6, for a final vote on the proposed tax increase unless a petition is presented to the board calling for a public election on the tax increase.

Grand jury indicts

A Crockett County grand jury handed down five indictments and two no bills when it met Aug. 29.

Paul Perner was no billed in connection with the Aug. 23 shooting death of Jackie Womack.

Also no billed was Edmundo B. Vargas on a charge of burglary of a vehicle.

Indictments included:

John Ramon Perez, burglary of a habitation

Anna Lombrana Ramos, securing execution of document by deception

George M. Perteet Jr., possession of a controlled substance

Claude Andrew Pollard, possession of a controlled substance

Reginald A. White, possession of controlled substance.

Perner no billed

A Crockett County grand jury no billed Paul Perner Monday in the Aug. 23 shooting death of his father-in-law, Jackie Womack.

Womack was killed during a family disturbance at the Perner Ranch 30 miles south of Ozona about 8:30 Tuesday night. The 58-year-old Womack reportedly followed his wife, Vonnie, to the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Ginger and Paul Perner. Womack threatened the women, who were alone in the house.

The shooting occurred after Perner arrived at his home and was unable to reason with the armed Womack.

Justice of the Peace Christine Davee pronounced death, and the body was taken to the Bexar County Medical Examiner's Office for an autopsy.

Officers from Crockett and Pecos counties investigated at the scene.

Cameron indictment dismissed

Indictments against former county attorney Tom Cameron were dismissed last week by Judge Marvin Blackburn Jr. of Junction. The Aug. 25 dismissal resulted from a motion filed by 112th District Attorney J. W. Johnson.

Cameron was indicted in October of 1987 on three class A misdemeanors and a third degree felony. Allegations in the indictments included coercion of a public servant, fabricating physical evidence, official oppression and tampering with government records.

The case was assigned to Blackburn by the district's administrative judge after 112th Judge Brock Jones disqualified himself from sitting on the case.

Shane Cooper won this saddle in the WTRA series of five ropings this summer. The 17-year-old Cooper participated in calf, tie-down, goat and ribbon roping to win the handsome saddle.

Lions end summer workouts

The days are still hot and nights stifling, leaves remain green and crickets still maintain their nightly chorus, but regardless, another football season is upon us as the Ozona Lions open their year against Sonora this Friday.

Only three or so weeks ago, the Lions first took to the field for summer two-a-days, facing Sanderson and Van Horn in scrimmages along the way as preparation for Sonora.

"Our summer workouts were successful," Head Coach Don Payne said, attributing much of the success to the players' attitudes. "A good attitude makes for good practices."

The defense clicked first, doing well against Sanderson, while inconsistency plagued the offense as it worked to establish its running game.

"Against Van Horn, the offense ironed out its wrinkles and executed well," Payne pointed out. "Our defense did not have to come as far and continued doing well."

Still, Payne considers scrimmages just another practice and is eager to meet Sonora.

"Sonora's a well-coached, hard-hitting team that always gets up for Ozona. After we play them, we'll know where we stand."

Hopefully it will be on solid ground. After their first confrontation, the Lions have only four games to ready themselves for district play. Barring injuries, they should be well-prepared.

"So far, we haven't had anything serious," Payne said. "A twisted ankle, broken finger, some sickness."

Enough said. The final say takes place out on the football field, beginning this Friday at 8:00 in Sonora.

Democratic committee to consider ballot

The Democratic party executive committee will hold a public meeting in the county courtroom Thursday, Sept. 1, to consider whether or not to place a name on the November ballot for the county attorney spot.

Any eligible person who wishes to be considered for placement on the ballot will be heard during the 9 a.m. meeting, said Steve Kenley, party chairman.

The committee had previously declined to place a name on the ballot following a request from Tom Cameron that his name be removed from the ballot.

Cameron resigns County Attorney post

County Attorney Tom Cameron has resigned from office and announced his intention to withdraw as a candidate for the position on the November ballot. He had been unopposed for the position in the Democratic primary.

A letter of resignation dated Aug. 19 was presented to Crockett County commissioners by District Attorney J. W. Johnson in a called meeting Aug. 25. Cameron has not served as county attorney nor received a salary as such since May.

"I feel it is in the best interest of my family and myself that I devote my full attention to my law practice and other business matters," Cameron said in his letter. He took office as county attorney Jan. 1, 1981.

Commissioners voted unanimously and without discussion to accept Cameron's resignation. The officials were told by Judge Kathryn Mayfield that they could appoint a replacement to serve until a new county attorney was elected or contract with someone to attend to cases as they arise. A special prosecutor has been appointed on a case by case basis on new cases since May, Mayfield said.

The court voted to table appointment of anyone to fill the position.

The Democratic executive committee can place a candidate's name on the November ballot, but has declined to do so in this instance.

Last week the committee did agree to place Janet Hill's name on the general election ballot to run for the unexpired term created by the death of her husband, Jerry Hill.

Anyone wishing to apply for a place on the ballot in the county attorney spot has until a Sept. 9 deadline to do so, Judge Mayfield told the court.

Stokes to be new auditor

John (Sandy) Stokes becomes Crockett County's second auditor Sept. 1, replacing Dick Kirby who has held that position since 1957. Stokes will be appointed to the office by District Judge Brock Jones. The selection was announced by Jones earlier in August.

The native Ozonan is a 1966 graduate of Ozona High School. He earned a B.B.A. degree in accounting from Texas Tech University in 1970 and holds a master's degree in business administration from the University of Texas, Permian Basin.

He became a certified public accountant in 1975 and worked in a Lubbock certified public accounting office and in public accounting in Midland prior to opening his own business in Ozona in 1979.

Stokes is a member of the Texas Society of CPA's, the American Institute of CPA's and the Concho Valley Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants. He has served on boards of directors for Crockett County Hospital, Ozona Chamber of Commerce and Ozona United Methodist Church where he is finance chairman. He is past president of the Crockett County Historical Society.

A veteran of the U.S. Army, Stokes served one year of his enlistment in Germany.

Sandy and his wife, the former Vicki Odom of Dallas, were married in 1980. They are the parents of two sons, John Austin, age 6, and Wilson, age 3.

Stokes is the son of Mrs. Madeline Stokes and the late Dub Stokes.

"Dick Kirby is the best county auditor anywhere, and it will be difficult to fill his shoes," Stokes said. "The office has experienced and loyal help, and with their assistance and patience, we will keep going."

Norman "Skip" Carroll hired as assistant band director

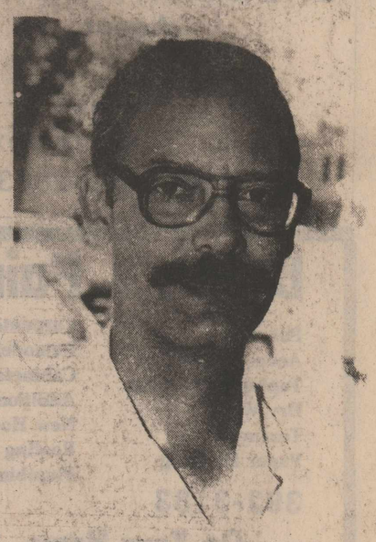

Norman E. "Skip" Carroll Jr. arrived in Ozona filled with enthusiasm for the band program. "I've had my eye on Ozona for several years," said Carroll who has been a band director in Coleman for seven years.

A Coldwater, Michigan native, he is a graduate of the University of Michigan. Carroll has been a band director for 18 years, teaching in Bronson, Michigan before moving to Texas.

The energy-filled Carroll is a member of the Texas Music Educators Association, Texas Band Masters, Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association.

In addition to being an avid pilot, Carroll is a sailing enthusiast. An in-service trip to Del Rio introduced him to Lake Amistad where he hopes to launch his sailboat soon.

Learning sailing with their dad are sons Aaron, 13, and Adam, 10. Mrs. Carroll, Maggie, prefers decorating cakes and cookies to sailing.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN–As George Bush and Lloyd Bentsen crisscross Texas for votes, Capitol watchers are undecided, for the most part, about whether Dan Quayle's military service controversy is hurting or helping.

Of course no one will really know until the November election, but those who love to play politics here have an opinion and a prediction for each link in the ongoing chain of current events.

Those who think Quayle is a liability to Bush argue that he's been on the defensive since the convention, has gotten millions of dollars worth of negative publicity, and has stirred up right-wingers in anger. This group of observers insist that Quayle basically comes across as too young.

Those who think the GOP ticket is still going strong contend that there's a sympathy backlash building, that Quayle is now a household word across the nation due to the publicity, and that he's now the underdog favorite of most baby boomers across the U.S.A. And that he comes across as too young.

The bottom line to most Texans is that with Bush and Bentsen going head-to-head here, Quayle simply isn't that much of a factor in Texas.

High Court, Clements

The Texas Supreme Court, or rather its Democrat majority, ripped Republican Gov. Bill Clements with a decision that criticizes his delay in accepting a judge's resignation.

The decision, and its 7-2 vote along party lines, demonstrates just how political the High Court has become.

The Democrats ruled Clements erred in delaying the acceptance of the resignation of San Antonio appeals court judge Rudolph Esquivel effective next January.

The Democrats had a candidate all set to run for the spot to be vacated. But Clements considered it an unreasonably long time between the June notification of resignation and its effective date of Jan. 1. He considered it a post to be filled by appointment.

Lawmakers are likely to address the gray areas in the Constitution's language next session and resolve the confusion. But the interesting part will come soon when Democrats attempt to force Texas Secretary of State Jack Rains to put their candidate's name on the November ballot.

Texas Space Commission

With Bush and Bentsen both promising to support a manned space station program, one which could mean thousands of new jobs in the Houston area, lawmakers next January will begin considering whether to form a state space commission.

Its purpose would be to make Texas more competitive in luring federal contracts and developing space-related private enterprise industry here.

State Sen. Buster Brown, R-Lake Jackson, predicted the new space industry "could be equal to what oil and gas once was."

Texan in Tokyo?

Word from the new Texas Department of Commerce is that 34 states have an office in Tokyo competing for Japanese business, and that Texas would be well served to open the 35th office.

The state office in Tokyo might have branch offices in Taipei and Seoul, South Korea, a budget effort of about $2 million.

Apparently officials have already won over House Speaker Gib Lewis and are wooing Gov. Clements on the idea.

Gun Control Stance

Railroad Commissioner John Sharp, who heads the Dukakis campaign in Texas, was joined by Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and Treasurer Ann Richards in clarifying the Dukakis stance on gun control put forth by George Bush.

Sharp said Dukakis favors banning "cop killer bullets," Saturday Night specials, and supports the right to bear arms.

Two Banks Closed

Federal regulators last week closed two more banks–one in Austin and another in Dallas. The failures bring to 90 the number of banks that have failed in Texas this year.

Of the 90 failures, 40 were subsidiaries of First RepublicBank Corp. that were taken over by North Carolina-based NCNB Corp. Nationally, 148 bank failures have been recorded this year.

Other Highlights

• Some local school districts have cut budgets and raised taxes and still are facing bankruptcy without more state financial aid. Some still blame the deficits on the 1984 education reform bill passed by former Gov. Mark White.

• Figures on Texas illiteracy indicate one out of five adult Texans cannot read, write or perform basic math skills well enough to hold a productive job.

• A recent report shows that 85 percent of the inmates in Texas prisons last year were high school dropouts.

• The way is clear to build the new $24 million state aquarium in Corpus Christi after legal challenges and bond financing were resolved.

• The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department increased state land open for public hunting by more than 200,000 acres, mostly in East Texas.

Schwartz, Bendele exchange vows Aug 5

Monica Joy Schwartz and Vernon E. Bendele of Ozona were married Aug. 5, 1988, in St. Ambrose Catholic Church in Wall. The Rev. James Plagens and the Rev. William Du Buisson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Swartz of Wall. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lou Bendele of Uvalde and Eloyde Bendele of Brackettville.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white satin. The scoop neckline was highlighted with sequin and pearl trimmed lace above a wide satin ruffle. Bishop sleeves adorned with trimmed lace and cut-outs complimented the fitted bodice. A wide band of raschel lace added the final touch to the beautiful full skirt and attached chapel train.

Complimenting her attire, she wore a headband of pearls. Silk illusion formed three puffs on the back of the headpiece.

Laura Strube of Wall served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cecilia Schwartz of St. Lawrence,, Karen Schwartz of Wall,, and the sister of the bridegroom, Kathy Bendele and Barbara Bendele, both of Uvalde. Jessica Halfmann of Miles was flower girl.

James Bendele of Kermit was his brother's best man. Serving as groomsmen and ushers were the bride's brothers, James Schwartz of St. Lawrence and Jeffrey Schwartz and Clyde Schwartz, both of Wall,, and the bridegroom's brother, John Bendele of Uvalde. Ring bearer was Garrett Jost of Wall.

Mrs. Bendele is a 1981 graduate of Wall High School and a 1982 graduate of Jean's College of Beauty. She is a cosmetologist and owner of Monica's Hair and Nails in Ozona.

Her husband was graduated from Uvalde Hgh School in 1980 and attended Southwest Texas Junior College. He owns Diversified Construction.

The couple will reside in Ozona after a wedding trip to Colorado.

Parties honor couple

A fajita party honored the couple Friday, July 29. Hosting the event were: Becky and Dwight Childress, Lockie Sue and Bob Bissett, Belinda and Steve Wilkins, Cathy and Bill Carson, Sandy and Jack Baggett.

An ice cream party honored the bride-elect Aug. 25 at Emerald House.

Hostesses were: Karen Childress, Terry Adams, Tina Bean, Helen Bean, Tammy Bunger, Margie Coates, Carmen Sutton and Lisa Wagoner.

Ybarra new club president

The Kay Cee Ladies met Monday, Aug. 22, to wrap up details on a family meal that was held Friday, Aug. 26, at the parish hall. Several families attended. Also, a fundraiser was held on Sunday, Aug. 28.

Ysabel Ybarra became the new Kay Cee president due to the resignation of Stela Ramirez who may be moving next month. Armenta Sanchez, who was nominated and elected at last Monday's meeting will be the new vice-president.

The group wishes to thank Stela Ramirez for all her work and cooperation while in the Kay Cee Ladies and wish her all the best.

Beta Sigma Phi begins year

Members of the Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter gathered enthusiastically Monday evening at Crockett County National Bank for their yearly organizational meeting.

The yearbook committee chaired by Renee Pearl did an outstanding job this year. The yearbook's theme, "Pave it with Stars", was very cleverly designed by that committee.

The scrapbook committee, chaired by Teri Williams, presented the scrapbook to last year's president, Marcy Williams. The splatter-painted cover and pages supported the media blitz approach to last year's theme, "Building Bridges of Friendship".

Connie Jennings, this year's president, led the discussion of amendments to the standing rules. Tracey Preddy, treasurer, discussed various aspects of this year's budget.

Drawing for the door prize brought Jeanine Henderson into the winning light again. The meeting closed, all members having been assigned to their yearly programs, committees, parties and responsibilities. Alpha Alpha Mu is looking forward to a great year.

Movie role takes local youth to Jamaica

Betty Goll and son Terry share a moment together during the first stages of his movie experience in Jamacia.

Jamacian scenes such as this will be part of LORD OF THE FLIES which has local 12-year-old Terry Wells as a character.

by Jacquelyn Shacklette

When opportunity knocked Terry Wells was ready.

Terry, 12-year-old son of Boots and Betty Goll, was in the right place at the right time and landed a role in a Hollywood movie as the result.

Terry is now on location in Jamaica enjoying the beach and learning first-hand about movies while acting the role of Andy in a re-make of Lord of the Flies.

Terry's opportunity came in June while he was visiting his grandfather, Monroe Wells, in Austin. The sixth grader was asked if he would like to accompany the son of his grandfather's landlord to audition for a movie role. Terry went along with no idea of actually auditioning himself, but was persuaded to try out.

After the auditions Terry went back to his grandfather's home and more or less forgot about the movie. Two weeks later the landlord asked what they had heard from the casting director. When told they had heard nothing, the landlord insisted that a phone call be made. That was when Terry learned he had been selected for the role of Andy, a supporting role.

The casting director had been trying to contact Terry for two weeks but couldn't find him. The phone number Terry had given was incorrect.

Terry and his mother flew August 5th to Jamaca. Betty Goll stayed two weeks and learned a little about movie making during that time.

"It's a lot different making a movie than I would picture it," Betty said. "Jamaica is a lot different too. I loved it. The first chance I get I'll go back."

Betty Goll hopes to return to Jamaica before the movie making is over, sometime during the latter part of November or first of December.

Betty did not see any actual filming during her Jamaica stay.

"One of the two stars broke his arm and had it in a cast," she said. "They were building sets while waiting for the arm to heal."

The movie cast includes 25 boys. There are no girls and no adults in the cast. Six of the boys chosen are from Texas. Auditions were held in New York, Los Angeles, and other U.S. cities.

One boy was sent home from Jamaica after one week because he didn't seem to be able to get along with the other boys, according to Betty.

Terry's mother says he is worried about missing school at Ozona Junior High. The boys will be tutored while they are in Jamaica.

"I haven't quite touched the ground yet," Betty said. "I am so excited. It's given Terry an opportunity he would never have had; this will pay for some college."

Terry would probably make more movies if he had the opportunity, even though he is homesick right now, according to his mother.

Who knows? Maybe this budding actor will again be in the right place.....

Hubbard boys take honors in rodeo finals

Marshall and Nathan Hubbard were among the finalists last weekend in the Lester Meyers Rodeo in Fredericksburg.

Marshall was steer riding champion. He also placed fifth overall in straight-away barrels and ninth overall in poles.

Nathan was ninth overall in straightaway barrels.

New program at OJHS

A daily activity period at Ozona Junior High this fall opens the doors for community involvement with the school, says an enthusiastic Principal Buddy Hooper. The 30-minute multi-purpose period will be used frequently for an entrepreneurship program to give students an opportunity to learn from people in the community. "We're going to utilize people on types of things the students don't get in the classroom," Hooper said. The principal will be calling on individuals from the community to speak to the youngsters.

First priority for activity period will be tutorials, however. Students who are in tutorials will not be able to participate in the entrepreneurship sessions.

T.E.A.M.S. training will fill some of the activity periods during the first half of the year. U.I.L. practice is also planned for the sessions.

"This time will not be used just for class meetings and announcements," Hooper said.

Preparations begin this fall to incorporate a gifted and talented program into the Ozona school system for grades three through eight. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Jill Crawford, Hooper said.

An activity period is also planned for high school. According to Principal Jim Payne, the time will be used for such activities as annual and newspaper staff meetings, U.I.L. practices, Student Council, club and class meetings and pep rallies.

Communtiy Center sports new shine

The Ozona Community Center has undergone many changes this summer. A cleanup and renovation program began in early June and has finally been completed. A new classroom has been created from the old stage area, a bathroom has been added, and existing rooms have been cleaned and rearranged. Area rugs and fresh painted bookcases now define learning and play centers, and ceiling fans and lights help in the distribution of heat and cooling. A new air conditioner has been installed and new linoleum laid in the older bathrooms. The yard has been repaired.

All of this work has required much time and many busy hands. The Center wishes to take this opportunity to say a big "Thank You!" to all those who have taken part in these improvements. Electricians, carpenters, plumbers, carpet, air conditioning and other experts have shared their talents and time in accomplishing these changes. Several local merchants have given the Center special discounts, often donating material that was needed. Finally, much of the work was done by members of the boards of the Community Center and Day Care Center. The children who will attend the Center program will be the richer for the physical and financial help given by these people.

The Center's morning programs, from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m., are full at this time, although late registrants will be placed on a waiting list. The day care program will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day. The structure of these classes has been changed, offering exciting new programs for the children who attend. There are still openings during these hours; information may be obtained at the Center.

BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT AVAILABLE TO AREA WOMEN

Thursday, September 15

Ozona, Texas

A Service of

Crockett County Hospital

CALL 392-2671 FOR APPOINTMENT

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

APPOINTMENTS MAY BE MADE BY CALLING 392-2671

THE MOBILE BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT WILL BE IN OZONA ON THURSDAY, SEPT. 15.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease). Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.

II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.

III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.

IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $50.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Extension Connection

by Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent

Get out your calendars and your red markers--it's going to be a busy month! Just as many households are reorganizing and getting back into the swing of things, the Extension educational program is reorganizing and planning for the new year. A number of trainings and committee meetings need to be gotten out of the way so we can get on with the job of serving as a resource agency for the people of Crockett County.

Several folks have called to ask when the first Extension Homemakers Club meeting will be held--it's set for Thursday, Sept. 8, at noon in the Civic Center's small meeting room.

The program will be "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered--Food and Nutrition Scams You Can Avoid," and you're welcome as a visitor or prospective member--but there's no obligation to join if you'd like to attend. We'll enjoy a sack lunch together!

For those of you who work, we'll start promptly at noon and be through by 1 p.m. so you can be back on time. We'll be planning programs for the coming year, so join us and make sure the topics you're concerned about are included on our agenda for 1988-89.

4-H Club Manager training will also be held on Thursday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. This training is designed to make you a more efficient organizational leader--and to help you make the most of your precious time! So make plans to attend. We'll meet in the Conference Room of the Courthouse Annex, on the second floor next to the Extension office.

Speaking of 4-H leaders, we'll have a Food and Nutrition Project Leader training on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at 5 p.m. in the annex conference room. If you're planning to work with a foods group this year, please make a special effort to attend. We have some new resources available, and we'll be handing out teaching materials.

If for some reason you can't make it that night, please call before the meeting to reserve your leader packet and set up a time for individual training.

If you're never been a leader in the foods project, why not make this year a first? You don't have to have kids in 4-H, you can be male or female, you don't have to be a great chef or dietician--just like to help young people and be willing to give a little time. We have lots of different jobs available in this project, so give us a call and we'll tailor one to your needs.

And at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 13, the county's Executive Program Planning Committee will meet to develop programs and give guidance for the overall Extension program here in Crockett County in the coming year. We'll also meet in the conference room.

For more information about Extension programs in Crockett County--and to find out how you can benefit by becoming involved, give us a call at the county Extension office, 327-2721, or come by our office on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex. We're open from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays.

Extension programs and resources are available to all the citizens of Crockett County, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Lions shut down eagles

by Copie Davis

The Ozona Lions said goodbye to two-a-day workouts and began fine tuning for opening night when they traveled to Fort Stockton Aug. 27 for their final pre-season scrimmage and blitzed the Van Horn Eagles 5-2.

After shutting out Sanderson the previous week, Coach Don Payne's objective for the Van Horn tilt was to "...not only dominate them, but do it right off the bat". Although the Lions started a bit sluggish, they did dominate.

The two J.V. teams began the game with Ozona on defense. After giving up a couple of big yardage plays, the Lions finally stiffened up, got tough, and shut down the Eagles.

When the first series of downs ended and the ball was turned over to the Lions, Ozona relied on the workhorse running of fullbacks Michael Ybarra and Daun Williams. With Ybarra as the primary ball carrier, the Lions moved the ball all the way to the Van Horn three-yard line. Then, Williams, who scored two touchdowns against Sanderson, bulled his way to pay dirt, giving Ozona a 1-0 lead.

However, that lead only lasted until the next series of downs. After regaining possession of the ball, Van Horn mounted a drive and scored, making the score 1-1 at the end of the J.V. portion of the scrimmage... but showtime for the Lions was about to begin.

The varsity Lions started the game on defense, and with the exception of one long yardage pass play, smothered the Van Horn offense. The Eagles were only able to accumulate three first downs in 20 plays.

When the Ozona offense took over, they wasted no time in getting on the board. Once again striking via the fullback, Senior Harvey Dominguez rambled 35 yards for the Lions' second score of the scrimmage. Then, before Van Horn even had time to catch a breath, running back George Ybarra cranked out a touchdown of his own to make the score 3-1, Ozona.

After the starting offensive and defensive units retired for the evening, the second units took over.

The Lions' second defensive unit played aggressively, yet gave up several big plays that allowed Van Horn to move the ball all the way to the Lions' five yard line, where on the next play, they scored a TD that closed the gap to 3-2.

After scoring their first three touchdowns by way of a potent yet controlled ground attack, the Lions' turned to an exciting run-and-shoot attack with their second team.

The sparkplug of this unit was sophomore quarterback Danny De Hoyos. De Hoyos guided the Lions down the field with uncanny precision. On a key third down play from the Van Horn 15 yard line, his deft operation of the option led to running back Ruben Borrego's first score of the game. Then, on the last play of the night, De Hoyos hit Mingo Perez with a short pass that Perez turned into a 40 yard touchdown with his speed and quickness.

After the scrimmage, the coaching staff and players seemed upbeat about their last pre-season performance. However, they will now set their sights on the Sonora Broncos as they prepare themselves for opening night in Sonora Friday, Sept. 2.

Ozona swept the Rankin buckle rodeo series all around awards for four rodeos. Tommy Conner received a feed bucket and $5.00 as his prize for third all around boy in the 9-13 division. Tres Bailey was third all around in the 8 and under division and received the same prizes. Sunny Jon Bailey earned a halter for second all around in the 8 and under girl divison. Robin Conner's award as all around 8 and under girl was a buckle. Little Lana Stewart shares her mother's pride in winning all around 18 and over girl. Kay Stewart received a buckle.

Harrell Hodges, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harrell, had an award waiting for him when he returned to Arnold, MO after a Texas vacation this summer. Harrell, age 7, and Brooke Ann Portz, 10, of Marissa, IL were the top winners in the summer's "Hey, Kids, Let's Cook!" summer cooking program offered in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch food section.

In addition to his first place prize for cooking such treats and pretzels and peanut butter cookies, Harrell was surprised to find his picture on the bulletin board at the family's favorite supermarket. He is the son of Cynthia and Bob Hodges of Arnold.

The first place prize provided by Shnucks Market Inc. was a video party for 10 friends including video rental, deli sandwiches, salads, ice cream, a decorated cake and beverages.

College students head toward new horizons

by Summer Shacklette

Just when they thought they were free from school, former Ozona High School students are taking off for higher education.

Several of the most recent Ozona graduates will be attending Angelo State University in San Angelo. Isabel Benitez, Tanna Bixby, Delma Fierro, Kelli Landon, Susan Kenley, Ofelia Llanas, Eileen Moran, Sandra Phillips, Danny Sanchez and Trebie West have chosen ASU.

Enrolled at Sul Ross in Alpine are Micheal Sanchez, Oscar Payne, Alfred Rodriquez, Micheal Medina, and Melissa Vallejo.

Beauty colleges in San Angelo are where Alma Duenes, Shawna Newton and Melanie Evans are starting their futures.

Tarleton State University at Stephenville is the choice of Will Seahorn, Scott Denman and Darrell Dunham.

Suzy King and Larisa Schoenhals will attend Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Richard Borrego and Jerold Savala are bound for South West Texas University in San Marcos.

The University of Texas at Austin is where Bret Hood and Todd Jones plan to pursue their goals.

Armando "Sub" Fierro and Bryan Harms are enrolling in Universal Technological Institute in Houston.

Rene De La Rosa is also in Houston attending the Art Institute of Houston.

Beto Diaz will attend Texas State Technical Institute in Waco.

Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches is Regina Cervantez's choice.

Dawn Hanson is enrolled in Lamar University in Beaumont.

Midland College is where Leticia Longoria is enrolling.

Richard Galvan will also be in the Permian Basin at Odessa College.

Lydia Pena will attend Howard Payne University in Brownwood. Lisa Harris will attend school in Kerrville. Sandra Ramirez will enroll at St. Mary's University in San Antonio while Sharon McCrohan will play basketball while she is going to college at Hillsboro.

Mark Sanchez is a student at the United States Academy Prep School in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Non-freshmen students at ASU include Peter Shacklette, Marcos Gonzales, Tressa Crawford, Andy Dews, Gary Davis, and Amy Beth Scoggins. Also attending ASU are Amy Jones, Vickie Reagor, and Matt Guttierez.

Mark Sellers and Ira Childress are enrolled at Texas Christian University at Ft. Worth.

David Adams and Rodney Beasley have returned to Texas A&M.

Lacy Miller will join her sister, Vanessa, at Abilene Christian University. Bonnie Cameron and Kim Baker are also students at ACU. Brothers Rowdy and Peery Holmsley return to ACU as upperclassmen.

George Wall will continue his studies at Texas Western College.

Angelo society sets September meeting

The San Angelo Genealogical and Historical Society will be meeting Tuesday, Sept. 6, 1988, at 7:30 p.m., at Robert Massie Club House, 815 So. Abe, San Angelo, Texas.

The program, "How to Use the Federal Census", will be presented by Marie Russell. Visitors are always welcome.

★ School policy

Athletic director John Curry told the group that there is a risk involved in any action.

"The perception that it's our way or no way at all is entirely wrong," said Curry, referring to an earlier statement by a board member that it seemed that if the coaches could not have their way regarding the inclusion of summer in the policy there would be no policy at all.

Dan Pullen spoke for the majority of the school board voting against summer coverage of the policy.

"At some point in time the parents have to accept responsibility," Pullen said. "I can't see how it is the role of the school."

Crockett County Public Library

by Louise Ledoux

SUMMER HOURS

Monday - Friday
9 a.m. to 12 p.m.
1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

CCPL will go back to regular hours beginning Sept. 12th. The library will again be open until 9 p.m. on Monday and Thursday nights.

WILDLIFE CLINIC

The wildlife clinic for boys sponsored by the library was a big success. Mr. Rod Chalmers presented a slide show on Texas wildlife and then led a discussion of Texas game laws. We want to thank Mr. Chalmers for winding up our summer programs for young people with such a wonderful program. Mr. Chalmers is one of our outstanding youth leaders and always gives of his time and expertise for any program designed to enrich the lives of kids in our area. Thanks, Rod!

NEW ACQUISITION

CCPL was visited by a distinguished visitor last week. Mr. Arthur C. Kyle, Lieutenant Colonel, US Air Force, dropped by to present the public library with an interesting gift - a picture taken from a USAF weather satellite showing a night view of the continental US. The caption reads "A tapestry of city lights and rural fires announces our presence on this planet. Activities at night are readily traced in this mosaic of images from USAF weather satellites. Much of the light leakage to space corresponds to street and building lights in urbanized areas. Other lights arise from huge burn-offs of natural gas from oil wells. The USAF has run the Defense Meteorological Satellite Program since 1972. Two satellites in polar orbit 500 miles up provide global weather coverage. Every 0.4 seconds, each satellite's small telescope responds to wavelengths in the range of 0.4 to 1.1 nanometers, which covers the response of the human eye plus some infrared radiation."

This picture is a wonderful addition to our collection and will land in the Non-Fiction Room upstairs at the library. Mrs. Sophie Kyle, Art's mom, told me they had a hard time deciding who to give the picture to, the schools, museum, or the library. I'm so glad they decided on the public library. Everyone is invited to come by and see this eye-catching and very interesting photo.

Our motto adopted by the library board on the opening of our library is holding so true today. "Libraries are not made. They grow with love and interest." I want to thank Mr. Kyle for his love and interest.

Louise P. Ledoux
Crockett County Librarian

Book chronicles Lola Mae

Former Ozonan Lola Mae Daniel is the subject of a soon-to-be available book titled Never Too Late.

An autograph party is planned by the Women's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church of Ozona. Lola Mae and the book's author, Theresa McClain of San Antonio, will be in Ozona for the party.

The book deals with Lola Mae's efforts to serve as a Baptist missionary in China.

Lola Mae came to Ozona as a primary school teacher and taught here for several years until she retired. She then pursued her lifelong desire for missionary service.

Ms. Daniel is presently serving at Howard Payne University in Brownwood as resident counselor/director for students who plan to go into mission service.

Former students of Lola Mae will be interested in the book as First Baptist Church of Ozona plays a prominent part in the book. This church sponsored Lola Mae on a couple of her missionary trips to Taiwan and finally to China.

Book royalties will be used by the Baptist WMU to further mission work.

The date for the autograph party has not yet been announced.

Tinney graduates from basic training

Airman Mark R. Tinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Tinney of Carlsbad, has graduated from Air Force Basic Training at Lackland Air Force Base.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

His wife, Corla, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Koerth of Ozona.

He is a 1980 graduate of Central High School of San Angelo.

Band Boosters to sell Lion penants

Ozona Lion Band penants will be on sale at the band hall Thursday, Sept. 1, from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Ozona Lion Band is emblazoned on the penants which arrived just in time for the Ozona-Sonora game Friday.

Spaghetti supper to benefit Helping Hands

Helping Hands for the Elderly will serve a spaghetti supper at the Civic Center Sept. 9 beginning at 5:30 prior to the Ozona-Water Valley game.

Tickets are $3.00 for all you can eat. The menu includes spaghetti, salad, bread and dessert.

Tickets are available from any board member or at the door. 2/28

Franchise checks in the mail

Bank franchise tax allocations totaling $51.2 million have been sent to 2,070 Texas taxing units, announced State Comptroller Bob Bullock last week.

This year's allocation is 21 percent lower than last year's allocation of $64.9 million because of last year's poor economy, according to Bullock. Locally, allocations have increased.

"Although most state industries have seen an economic upturn, banking and finance haven't shown signs of recovery yet. Tax revenues from these industries won't improve until the businesses stabilize," Bullock said.

Bullock said the allocations represent franchise taxes paid by banks that do business in Texas. Banks must file a report with the Comptroller's office by March 15 each year.

The bank franchise tax rate is the same as the state's corporate franchise tax rate -- $6.70 per $1,000 of taxable capital and surplus, with a minimum tax of $150, according to Bullock.

The Texas Legislature authorized the bank franchise tax in 1984, and the tax was collected for the first time in 1985.

Bullock said that a portion of the tax goes into the state's general revenue fund, but most of it is allocated to local tax jurisdictions, such as cities, counties and other local taxing units such as school, water and hospital districts.

Crockett County's allocation for this period was $19,550.41 compared to $18,287.15 in 1987 for an increase of 6.91 percent.

Net payment this period to the school district was $31,128.61, up 3.98 percent from the 1987 payment of $29,936.03.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Scotty and Linda:

Generally I don't write letters to the editor, but in a recent News Reel, mention was made that my parents and Cynthia had come to Rochester, New York and met me where I had been attending camp. The facts are that we all met in Rochester, MN (the place where the Mayo Clinc is located). And I hadn't been attending camp, but rather I had been teaching at a camp, specifically water sports and crafts. As Minnesota and New York are rather far from each other I thought this needed correction.

Sportsmen face regulation changes on September 1

Hunters and fishermen will have several important regulation changes to consider beginning Sept. 1, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Hunting and fishing licenses for 1988-89 and hunting and fishing regulations guides are now available at department offices and retail hunting and fishing license outlets across the state.

All 1988-89 licenses and stamps are the same price as their 1987-88 counterparts. Resident fishing licenses are $18, resident hunting is $10, and the combination hunting/fishing license costs $15.

Hunters should be aware of several changes for the upcoming fall hunting seasons. Deer hunters especially will be affected by an earlier season opening date for whitetails (Nov. 5) and a closing day of Jan. 1. In South Texas, the season opens one week later, Nov. 12, but extends a week later, to Jan. 8.

This change was adopted by the Parks and Wildlife Commission to give hunters more opportunity to hunt during the whitetail rutting period.

Hunters also should be aware that the either-sex system of whitetail bag limits has been expanded to include 138 counties in 1988. Hunters in those counties are not required to obtain an antlerless deer permit from landowners to take antlerless deer. All that is required is the appropriate tag from the hunting license, and the landowner's permission to take antlerless whitetails.

Deer hunters may be pleased to learn that they no longer are required to retain the head of any deer taken until reaching the final destination. For the 1988-89 season, a statement from the landowner or his agent, or a receipt from a taxidermist stating the sex of the deer will suffice.

Quail hunters can plan for a daily bag limit of 15 birds, and a possession limit of 45 statewide. Pheasant hunters in the Panhandle may take two cocks per day, with four in possession. In coastal areas, however, the bag limit is three cocks per day, six in possession.

Dove seasons and bag limits are basically the same as last year, with the North and Central Zone opener on Sept. 1, and the South Zone opening Sept. 20. The special white-winged dove season along the Rio Grande this year is Sept. 3-4 and 10-11.

A number of important regulation changes will affect both freshwater and saltwater anglers starting Sept. 1. For both fresh and saltwater anglers, there is a new method for measuring length. The new method requires that the tail be squeezed together or rotated to produce the maximum overall length. New regulations governing saltwater fish include a daily limit of three red drum (redfish), possession limit of six, with a minimum length limit of 20 inches and maximum length of 28 inches.

Freshwater fishermen are alerted that ll black bass species, including smallmouth, spotted and Guadalupe bass, have been included in the statewide 14-inch minimum length limit already in effect for largemouth bass. There are certain exceptions to the statewide limits, including some lakes with slot limits. All slot limits have been changed to one slot of 14-21 inches. Under this limit, anglers may retain three largemouth bass per day of any length shorter than 14 inches or longer than 21 inches. Several lakes also have an 18-inch minimum length limit on largemouths.

Other new fishing regulations include a statewide 18-inch minimum length limit on striped bass and striped/white bass hybrids, and a 10-inch minimum length and 25-per-day bag limit on white bass.

Time to control goat lice

For several years, fenvalerate (Ectrin, Vet-Shack WDL, etc.) has been very effective for control of lice on Angora goats.

Lice are building a resistance to fenvalerate where it has received repeated applications over time.

A large number of tests conducted from 1982-1987 indicated that it was very effective with control of 10-5 weeks averaging approximately 98 percent. However, during the past year or two, periodic reports indicate it no longer is providing very effective control, especially where it has been used repeatedly on the same ranch.

Thomas Fuchs, Extension Entomologist, conducted five tests in the San Angelo area during the past two years where fenvalerate had been used for several years. The percent of control in these situations ranged from 46 percent down to zero. On flocks that had not been previously exposed to fenvalerate, excellent control was achieved.

The next consideration is what to use for control of lice in situations such as those previously described. Test results on ranches where problems with fenvalerate occurred indicates that malathion continues to be effective.

Producers could use malathion as a high pressure spray 4-6 weeks after shearing. A second application 2-3 weeks after the first should be used to control lice that were in the egg stage during the first application.

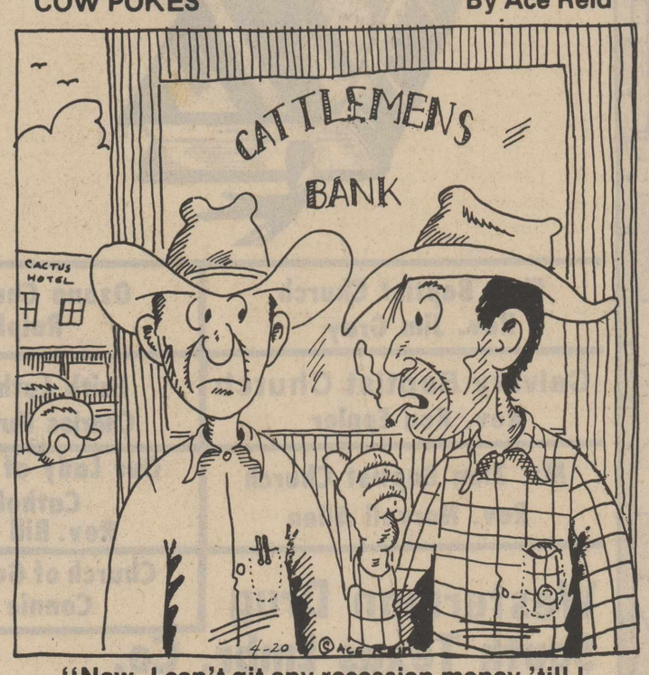

Congressman urges registration

Congressman Lamar Smith has mailed voter registration applications this week to all residents of the 21st Congressional District in an effort to promote voter participation in the November election.

"The right to vote is one of the most important guarantees of our Constitution," according to Smith. "But," he adds, "in order to be eligible to vote in the election, citizens must be registered before the Oct. 9 deadline."

Smith urges all adult citizens to register and to vote in the November election, reminding them to make their voices heard. "Your vote does count," Smith emphasizes, "since elections have been won or lost before on the basis of just one vote."

School accepts new policy

By Jacquelyn Shacklette

Compromise was the name of the game when the Crockett County School board met Monday evening in a special meeting to consider a revised drug/alcohol policy for the Ozona schools.

"We all compromised a lot on this," board member Dan Pullen said. "This is a policy we can live with."

The major point of dissention in the Monday meeting was the phrase "...and beyond the school year," making the policy effective throughout the summer months as well as during the school year.

After considerable discussion the board voted, 4-3, to exclude the phrase from the final draft of the policy.

Dan Pullen, David Bean, Gary Buck Mitchell and George Ybarra voted to exclude summers from the policy. Gary Vannoy, Sandra Childress and Jeffrey Sutton were in favor of including summers.

Garland Davis, Ozona school superintendent, told the board and concerned citizens that the coaches are concerned with all the kids all year long.

"They want athletes to be clean as far as training rules are concerned," Davis said. "Where each of us is interested in one, two or three kids, they are concerned with 60 kids or as many as are in their program.

"They want to help kids. They want to know that the training they did last year is not gone for nought when the school year begins again."

Davis said that the proposed revisions contain no effective changes in the athletic policy except to add provisions for counseling.

The current policy provides that a student forfeit 25 percent of the regularly scheduled activities during a school year as punishment for a first offense. A second offense requires a one year forfeiture of participation in extracurricular activities. A third offense provides that a student be dropped from all extracurricular activities throughout the remainder of his high school career.

"I am not aware of anyone who has violated these rules more than two times," board president Jeffrey Sutton said. "I may be wrong."

"The new policy is basically the same for first offenses," Sutton said. "It carries a 25 percent penalty of regularly scheduled activities."

The second offense will still carry the one year forfeiture of extracurricular program except a student could regain the participation privilege through approval of the board of trustees and completion of a more extensive counseling program. A student would be denied participation of at least one semester or three consecutive six-week periods.

A fourth offense would be dropped from all extracurricular activities with no recourse to regain eligibility.

"A fourth offense is curtains," Sutton said.

Support for the existing policy was expressed during the open forum.

"I feel real, real strongly that the policy we have in place is the policy we ought to stick with," said David McCarley, music and youth director of First Baptist Church. When you have a set policy you ought to stick with it."

Davis explained to the citizens' group that every school board policy requires two readings. In a school board meeting Aug. 25 the board discussed the revised policy and listened to input from members of the community. At that time the board made recommendations and sent the policy back to the administrative committee.

The reading of the proposed policy Monday night was the first.

"It can be changed up to the final reading of the policy," Davis said. "Once the final reading is approved, it can still be changed at a later time based on the will of the board, but you would have to go through two readings again."

Sutton outlined the historical development of the present policy explaining that only coaches' rules were in effect until six or seven years ago. A group of concerned citizens caused the school board to ask the coaches to develop more specific training rules which they did. Inconsistencies in these rules as applied by individual coaches resulted in another citizen's group asking the school board to formulate one set of rules for all.

"This policy that we have today is the result of that," Sutton said. "And, it was strong,---it was very strong. That was one of the things we asked most of the new coaches when we hired them--'Can you back training rules like this?' "

Sutton told the group that other schools in Texas are beginning to consider similar policies.

"Some other schools in the state are adopting or looking at the same thing that we're looking at," Sutton said. "We're not actually a pioneer, but we are among some of the first schools that are approaching something like this."

The board was told that the justice of the peace no longer will allow school officials access to records concerning juveniles.

"I'm shocked at some of our public servants who might withhold information and help a kid," Sutton said.

Chief deputy Jim Wilson told the school board that comparing school policies and the law is like comparing apples and oranges.

"They (school board) deal in an area that is none of my business," Wilson said. "And, I deal in an area that is none of their business. I should not affect their policy. They should not affect mine."

The revised policy, if approved on the second reading Sept. 7, will go into effect immediately and will extend "beyond the school day" but not "beyond the school year".

Davis said that the coaches would be disappointed in not having the policy extend throughout the year.

"If this is the board's pleasure this is what we'll do," Davis said.

Board member Sandra Childress said that the board had come too far to revert back to the old policy.

"I think that we can live with this policy," Childress said. "I think they like it as it is. I know they (coaches) will be disappointed about the summertime, but it is the democratic process and they will have to live with that."

Morton services

Lelia Morton, age 61, of Vanderpool died Monday, Aug. 29, 1988, at her residence in Vanderpool.

Graveside services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Vanderpool Cemetery.

Mrs. Morton was born Aug. 14, 1927, in Uvalde. She was a 15-year resident of Vanderpool, having lived in Fort Stockton prior to that. She was married to Ernest Morton July 16, 1948, in Alpine, and was a housewife.

Survivors include her husband, E. W. (Dick) Morton of Vanderpool; two daughters, Mickie May of Center Point, and Becky Mentch of Kerrville; one son, Trinity Wayne Morton of Vanderpool; one sister, Madge Gravell Williams of Ozona; three brothers, R. D. Hay of Dexter, New Mexico, Byron Smith of Milford and Henry Smith of Wickett; and three grandchildren.

The family requests memorials be sent to West Texas Boys Ranch.

Bissett laid to rest

William R. (Bill) Bissett, 85 years, of 2701 Jana Drive, San Angelo, died at 5:15 a.m. Aug. 28, 1988, at Meadow Creek Nursing Home.

Graveside services were held at 11 a.m. Tuesday Aug. 30, 1988, at Fairmount Cemetery with the Rev. James Andrews, associate pastor of First Baptist Church officiating. Services are under the direction of Johnson's Funeral Home.

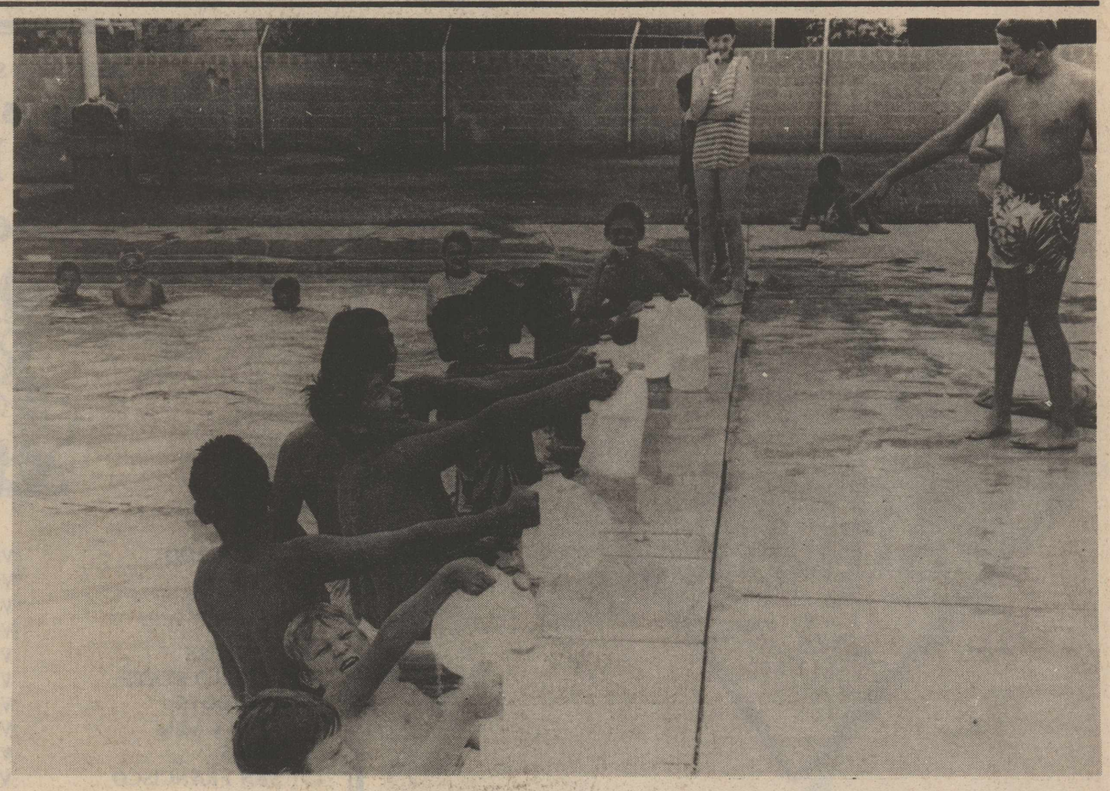

Mr. Bissett was born to Stella and Robert Bissett Apr. 16,, 1903, in Junction. He was graduated from Howard Payne College in the spring of 1926 where he was president of the student body and captain of his football team and named 4-11 conference fullback.

He went to San Angelo Central High School in the fall of 1926 and coached track and football until the spring of 1931. His track teams won the Kansas City relays twice and in 1929, they won the national relays in Chicago. Three of his track men have stayed in touch with him through the years.

In the spring of 1931, he moved to the ranch in Crockett County and ranched for many years in Crockett and Stonewall counties before his retirement.

On Dec. 24, 1927, he married Ruth Lyon in Vernon, Texas.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth of San Angelo; one son and daughter-in-law, Robert Lyon and Lockie Sue Bissett of Ozona; two grandsons, Bill Bissett of Barnhart and Wayne Bissett of Midland; and two great-grandchildren, Nace Bissett and Georgia Blain Bissett, both of Rocksprings.

It can't already be.....The End of School?

"A few seconds ago, he was full of wonder and excitement. His first day of school, and his fresh-scrubbed face had been flushed with the thrill of it. His new cap had bounced on his small blond head, and coat and trousers--newly purchased--could hardly contain the delightful thrill that ran through him as Mama had let him out of the family car.

Mama had brushed a sudden dampness from her eye and had thought, "My what a handsome young man we've raised."

"She thought, too, of how the night before Dad had told his wide-eyed youngster how he must behave and mind the teacher and eat all his lunch and not get into fights but not to dare back out of a fight and all the things he could read in just a little while. And how nice they had thought it would be for him to be able to read to the other little ones.

"Only a few seconds ago, he had spotted a small friend, had waved and screamed a greeting--to his Mother's dismay--and had dashed from the car to join the happy throng of small ones for a day of days.

"And only a few seconds ago, Mama had smoothed the cowlick for the last time and carefully placed the cap which had been left off until their arrival at school. The cap, she had thought, didn't quite fit, but then Lord knows it wouldn't be on long if she knew her boy.

"And she was right. There it was-just a few seconds later, lying there in the middle of the road. And she thought abstractedly, as she slowly picked it up from the dust, that she'd never get the stains out--for the realization hadn't yet fully penetrated her numbed mind.

And she thought, "why is that man looking so shocked? It isn't real, after all. It can't be!!"

"For there he was, still as handsome as ever," she thought, "the lunch pail, it's true, could never be repaired. But it couldn't be true," she thought, "for, only a few seconds ago..."

But just a second or so ago, she hadn't seen the car--with the now-shocked looking young man on his way and late to work. And only a few seconds ago her boy--their first--had been on his way to school, but now--only a few seconds later--he would never even get spanked for bad grades or not eating all his lunch--nor even for fighting.

It was the end of school already.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leandro Flores at 1503 Walnut Street has been chosen Garden of the Week. The honor is given by Ozona Garden Club. A raised flower bed encircling a large shade tree holds colorful geraniums and begonias. A lovely palm tree is also an accent point for the front yard.

Buckle up for back-to-school

Parents who "buckle up" themselves and their children could save much more than a price discount during back-to-school activities this fall.

Back-to-school means new tennis shoes and notebooks and more cars on the road. Driving through mounting bottlenecks and snarled traffic with the number of vehicles exceeding holiday loads requires every precaution. "Buckling up before driving to the next shopping center or sale can be a major defense against being injured or killed," said Carla Baker, statewide coordinator for the Safe Riders Program at the Texas Department of Health.

The proper use of child safety seats is especially important during this potentially dangerous driving time. "Most accidents happen close to home in town, during peak traffic," said Baker.

Although use of child safety restraints has increased slightly since last year, the 1988 figures are still below 1986, according to the latest Texas Transportation Institute survey. After reaching a peak of nearly 60 percent in 1986, the rate of compliance with the state's 1984 child safety seat law declined to 49.9 percent in 1987 and has risen to 51.9 percent for 1988.

"Many parents see that their children have new clothes and books but then neglect them when they ride in a car or truck," said Baker. "School-age children should be buckled up securely even if the destination is a shoe store only three blocks away. And little brothers and sisters--state law requires all children under age 2 to ride in a safety seat. Because young children are more apt to be seriously injured in an accident, it's best for them to ride in a safety seat until age 4," Baker said.

A growing list of statistics continues to prove the wisdom of older children and adults using safety belts. Almost four out of five occupants who escaped serious injury in accidents on Texas roads in 1987 were wearing seat belts, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety. There were three times more fatalities in accidents where occupants did not wear safety belts.

Information on safety belt and safety seat use and on locations where low-income parents may borrow a safety seat is available from the Safe Riders Program. For information from Safe Riders, call toll-free, 1-800-252-8255.

Making a profit in ranching

The latest in practical advice for ranchers who want to make a living in ranching will be emphasized October 6, 7, and 8, 1988 at the Inn of the Hills in Kerrville. The meeting includes a tour of the Kerr Wildlife Management Area, and presentations by established ranchers and other experts on how to make a profit in ranching. Without doubt all participants can learn valuable ways to benefit their operations.

The Kerr Wildlife Management tour will demonstrate good range management that includes application of Holistic Resource Management, prescribed burning, cow/calf management, and white-tailed deer management. White-tailed deer nutrition and genetic research that ranchers can utilize to improve hunting enterprises will be discussed. This is one of the best examples of range improvement and deer management in the Hill Country and it's free to registered participants.

Presentations by eleven speakers will emphasize how to profit from better management of ranch resources. These include Allan Nation, editor of the Stockman Grass Farmer, who will address ways you can make ranching pay today. Operating the family ranch will be discussed by several ranchers: Mat Faudreee of Midland, Dalton Maddux of Colorado City, Paul Garrison, Jr. of Medina, and Henry Welge of Doss. Each of these will discuss how they have uniquely applied good management to make a profit. In addition, Minnie Lou Bradley of Memphis will discuss their approach to marketing beef. Marketing exotic game for food is the topic to be presented by Mike Hughes of Ingram. Skipper Duncan of San Angelo has found that "Marketing Ranch Knowledge" can increase ranch income. Dr. Debbie Gillan, DVM in Llano will discuss a career change to make a ranch survive.

In addition, Dub Sims of the Texas American Bank in Fort Worth will provide a banker's viewpoint on the ranching industry.

Without doubt, to make a profit requires good planning and effective use of ranch resources in the future. Dr. Stan Parsons of the Ranching for Profit School in Albuquerque, New Mexico will show you how he has assisted many ranchers better succeed. His topic "Ranching Tomorrow: A Way of Life, A Way to Make it Pay" discusses ways to evaluate your ranch operation, improve decisions, and manage grazing, finances, and personnel to achieve a profit.

This program has been developed to provide timely advice to ranchers, resource managers and related professionals according to Donnie Harmel (Texas Parks and Wildlife Department) and Ken Sparks (Soil Conservation Service) program chairmen. The program is sponsored by the Texas Section of the Society for Range Management during their annual meeting. The meeting is open to anyone interested in ranching. For registration information, contact Billy Griffin, Box 1662, Bandera, Texas 78003 (512/796-3334).

In addition to the technical program, social activities include a mixer on October 6, a family night barbecue and western dance October 7, and a ladies tour to James Avery Jewelry, the Hill County Museum, and the Cowboy Artists of America Museum. Ladies will also be treated to a style show and program on shelf protection.

Make plans now to attend this most enjoyable and informative meeting. A pre-registration discount is possible until Sept. 12, 1988. You can't afford to miss this opportunity.
