Red Raider Day Is Observed Here

Tahoka Red Raider Club was host last Thursday for its annual "Red Raider Day", when Tech coaches, athletic committee members, the press and prominent Lubbock businessmen are entertained with a barbecue at Mel Leslie's ranch "line shack."

Following the meal, brief talks were made by Maurice Small of the local club, Assistant football coach, Jack Fligg, and head basketball coach Gerald Meyers. Bert Huffman then entertained the crowd with one of his characteristically humorous talks.

Mayor Mel Leslie spoke briefly in expressing Tahoka's pleasure in having the Lubbock visitors each year at this good will meeting.

VEE Shots To Be Given Saturday

There will be a veterinarian in Tahoka at the Rodeo grounds Saturday at 10:00 a.m. for the purpose of vaccinating horses for VEE.

There will be no charge for the vaccine.

Quarantine Order

WHEREAS, extensive investigations confirm that Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) constitutes a serious threat to both horses and humans throughout the state of Texas;

WHEREAS, movement of Equines contributes to the rapid spread of this disease;

WHEREAS, it is vitally necessary that the Texas Animal Health Commission take emergency measures to stop the spread of this disease;

NOW THEREFORE, pursuant to the authority vested in me by law there is hereby imposed a quarantine on all movements of horses, ponies, jacks, jennets and other equine animals within the State of Texas.

The only exception to this restriction will be individually identified horses, mules, jacks, jennets or other equine animals accompanied by a certificate of vaccination showing that such animals have been vaccinated for VEE with "TC-83" vaccine at least fourteen (14) days prior to movement.

This quarantine will remain in effect until further notice.

Notice is hereby given that under Texas law any person, firm, partnership, or corporation who shall violate any quarantine provisions established by the Chairman of the Commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable in accordance with Article 1525b, Vernon's Penal Code.

Dwain Lusk Attends Meet

Three representatives of Lubbock Production Credit Association will participate July 20-23 in the Management Development Conference in Houston.

Area participants are Johnny Lemmons, vice president, Seminole; Dwain Lusk, vice Lusk, vice president, Tahoka; and Arnold Brown, vice president, Levelland.

The program is sponsored by Production Credit Associations of Texas. Representatives of Texas A&M University's Engineering Extension Service staff will present the program, emphasizing management development in planning, organization, delegation, coordination and control.

Lubbock PCA serves agricultural credit needs in Cochran, Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties.

Animals Must Have VEE Certificate

Effective this date Federal Interstate regulations have been amended requiring that all equine originating in Texas must be accompanied by a certificate showing vaccination for VEE with TC-83 vaccine. The certificate must show the vaccine has been administered at least 14 days prior to entry and individually identified.

Louisiana and Oklahoma have notified the Texas Animal Health Commission that their borders are closed to equine animals from Texas. It is expected that other states will adopt similar action.

The quarantine issued this date by the Texas Animal Health Commission restricts equines to premises. This allows no movement except animals that are individually identified and have been vaccinated with VEE TC-83 vaccine for at least 14 days. This dreaded virus has progressed northward from South America within the past 3 years. Although approximately 2 million doses of VEE vaccine were used in Mexico, statistical data has not been available to provide a clear cut basis for authorities in the United States to license this vaccine for commercial production.

The Animal Health Division of the United States Department of Agriculture is making available TC-83 vaccine for use throughout the State of Texas. However, top priority will be given to areas having death losses.

All out efforts will be made to have vaccine available throughout the State in the shortest time possible. Vaccine will be supplied to veterinarians for use on owner's premises. There will be no charge to horse owners for the vaccine. A service call by the veterinarian will be the only expense to persons having animals vaccinated. TC 83 vaccine requires one subcutaneous injection.

The state-wide quarantine is effective immediately and all persons are requested to abide by the quarantine until this extremely serious threat can be overcome.

It is inevitable that animals will be lost but death losses will be reduced if movements are curtailed completely.

This is a non emergency situation that will stop all rodeos, horse shows, racetracks and other activities involving horses. This may create a burden upon horse owners and sponsors of horse activities but much greater losses could be incurred in the extremely valuable horse population that exists in Texas today if drastic measures were not placed in effect immediately.

New Teachers Move To City

Mr. and Mrs. John Young, newly married young couple have moved from San Angelo to Tahoka and will teach in the local schools this year. They are graduates of Angelo State University.

They are living in the J. B. Howell farm residence north of town.

Showers Help Many Farms

Showers Monday and Tuesday covered large areas of Lynn county, were of benefit to crops, and brought a break in the heat wave.

Tahoka recorded .37 inch in the rain Tuesday, up to .6 was reported in part of the New Lynn community, and as much as a quarter inch was received over possibly a half of the county.

Heavy showers were reported in small areas near O'Donnell, with 1.8 reported on the John Anderson farm west of that city.

Much of the dry land cotton over Lynn county is still holding on well. The News is informed, but also there is much dryland cotton already suffering. Most irrigated cotton, about 80,000 acres, is doing fine.

After Two weeks of high temperatures, the high on Tuesday was only 69 degrees and a low of 60 degrees was recorded according to the Tahoka observer for National Weather Service.

Tuesday's rain brought total precipitation to .6 inch for July, and 8.23 for the year in Tahoka, far below normal.

A., at which all Rotary governors for 1971-72 attended in-depth seminars to prepare for their jobs. One of his biggest jobs will be to hold a district conference of all Rotary clubs in this area. The conference will be held in April at Borger, Texas.

Kathy Caswell Receives Honor

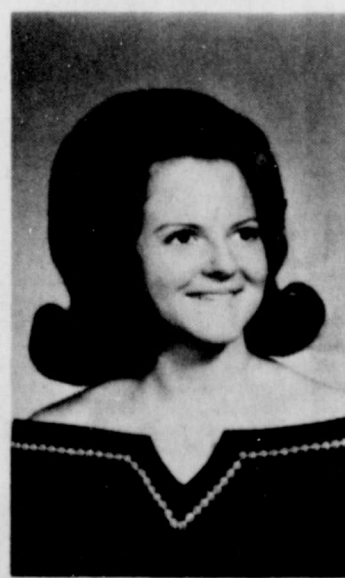

Miss Kathy Caswell of Rt. 2, Tahoka has recently been selected as one of the top four young people in the state of Texas.

Each year the Texas Farm Bureau sponsors a Citizenship Seminar which is held on the campus of Baylor University in Waco. The purpose of the seminar is to give the students a better understanding of the American way of life and how our country is run. Emphasis is placed on the economic, moral and social aspects of the American Society.

Kathy was one of the five high school students selected from Lynn and Garza County to attend the 1970 Citizenship Seminar. These five along with some four hundred and fifty other young people were awakened to the many controversial issues facing America today. From these 450 young people only four were chosen as the most outstanding.

To be chosen for the honor one must show a deep concern for ones country and display a great deal of effort in promoting patriotism.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Caswell. She has attended O'Donnell High School and was second in her graduating class. A few of her activities in high school included, Band, F.H.A., N.H.S. and Editor of the 1971

Increased Cotton Production Emphasized

West Texas farmers were urged to achieve maximum cotton production for the 1971 season to prevent a possible shortage in carry-over at a Thursday meeting in Lubbock.

State and national agricultural officials told an audience of producers, educators and industry representatives that the predicted carry-over as of the first of August will be a mere 4.25 million bales; barely enough to meet current consumption requirements before the 1971 harvest is completed in the Cotton Belt of the South and Southwest.

The meeting was directed by Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Donnell Echols, president of the Plains Cotton Growers Inc. and chairman of the South Plains Economic Development program. Both men have been appointed to a national task force committee in a concentrated effort to stave off a cotton shortage that could prove disastrous to the industry.

For the past five years, more cotton has been sold than produced, and there are indications that there will be a minimum of carry-over this year," warned Dr. Hutchison. He added that factors such as the current drought and reduced planting can result in a cotton shortage, which will in turn force textile mills to increase their use of synthetic fibers and further injure the present cotton markets.

Echols pointed out the danger of further limitations of federal subsidy payments to the cotton industry.

"It is impossible to separate ourselves from the possibility of crop payment limitations," he warned in reference to efforts in Congress to reduce the maximum payment to $20,000 per crop from the current $55,000, which is half the figure of recent years. He further pointed out that lending institutions will be reluctant to make large loans in the face of smaller guarantees in the form of reduced payments.

Dabney Welford of the National Cotton Council said that the estimated 4.25 million bale carry-over is the lowest since 1952; and that much of it is low-quality cotton. He explained the recent rise in cotton prices by reporting that last winter, buyers thought the 1971 crop would meet their needs; but the adverse spring weather changed their minds and the price has climbed steadily since then.

On the regional scene, Dr. Robert Metzger, area Extension agronomist at Lubbock said there is nothing really new for producers to do the rest of the 1971 season, but that certain problem areas can be emphasized. These include close attention to timing of irrigation and cut-off date.

This was expanded by others to include side-dress fertilization in certain instances and perhaps a longer irrigation season; although producers should be extremely careful.

"I would be hesitant to stretch the irrigation season, especially on the later end," warned Dr. Levon Ray, cotton researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. But he added that extra water to replace subsoil moisture might be beneficial on very young cotton that was planted the last of June.

He said that in addition to proper irrigation, producers should take two more steps to help insure maximum yields; a close watch on the insect situation and careful cultivation to prevent loss of valuable cotton at harvest time.

Also special guests of the club were Athletic Director J. T. King and Berle Huffman, popular former coach at Tech of freshman football and one-time head basketball coach. Maurice Small arranged the program as a part of Tahoka's "Red Raider Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty McNeely and Mrs. JoAnn Chapman and children visited here last week - end with the two ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Henderson, and other relatives.

STEPPING OUT of a protective tractor cab to promote Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 25-31, is Texas Farm Bureau Queen Harletta Capps of Vernon. The theme for this year's observance of Farm and Ranch Safety Week is "Protection—make it work for safety." Tractor overturns accounted for 60 per cent of the accidental deaths involving tractors in the U.S. in 1970. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the lives lost in tractor overturns could have been saved by protective cabs or roll bars and safety belts. Special emphasis on accident prevention in agricultural pursuits are being made during the week by the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau, and other agricultural organizations.

"DON'T SHARE"

We all look to today's medications as life-saving and health-giving agents. However, there is one point that can never be overemphasized. That is the danger involved in sharing one's medicine with someone else.

One reason why many potent products are available by prescription only is because of potentially dangerous side effects that require professional supervision.

Prescribing for another person, unless you are a physician, could be damaging results. For the same reasons, do not let anyone else "scribble" for you. Consult with your physician before attempting to use someone else's medication. Only a physician can determine which medication is best for you.

A Handout --- Maybe !

According to an Associated Press dispatch, "There's a fiscal and political timebomb. . . ." In the social security-welfare bill now before Congress. It provides for "An explosive 86 per cent increase in the payroll tax over the next six years." The AP dispatch reports that the maximum social security tax being withheld from the pay of any employee this year is $405.60. If the pending proposal becomes law, by 1977, the maximum would be $754.80, and in all probability, more. The employer pays a matching tax. The dispatch says that, "For some low and moderate-income families the payroll tax by 1977 could be a burden comparable to, or even greater than, the income tax."

There is little question but what a young person just entering the work force will contribute much of his life's effort to merely supporting a monstrous welfare bureaucracy. Unlike private savings, which can be invested for the benefit of himself and his family, the young person of today can expect to pay tens of thousands of dollars to government in the name of "social security." Forty or fifty years from now, the government will graciously give him a handout in his old age — depending upon the rules of the game at that time.

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32.

This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2% payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970. . . . with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And, always remember, Bonds are a good way to save.

Take stock in America.

Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with the Department of the Treasury and the Advertising Council.

not be carried from one horse to another or from horse to man, a VEE-infected horse poses a threat to both. VEE can be carried from an infected horse to another horse or to man.

In man, it is a typically influenza-like disease but may infect the central nervous system and become fatal. There is no way of knowing how many human cases have been involved in the recent outbreaks in Mexico and Central America. But, it appears that what were originally thought to be small outbreaks of influenza were, in fact, VEE in several instances. Reported human fatalities have been small—less than a dozen. However, records are lacking in all the affected countries and the rate is probably much higher.

Normally the virus lives and cycles in wild rodents and mosquitoes. Periodically, it, alone with more aggressive mosquitoes, builds up and carries over into horses and man. Once it spreads into a non-immune horse population in an area where there are many mosquitoes, it will spread rapidly until all horses are either recovered and immune or dead. When there are no more susceptible animals, the disease will die down and go back to cycling in rodents, awaiting a new generation of susceptible horse population.

It is our understanding that the vaccine will be made available for the entire State, although it may be a few days before distribution reaches all points.

R. B. Askew's Services Held

R. B. Askew, 44, a long-time Brownfield area resident, was killed about 10 p.m. Saturday in Bossier City, La., when he was struck by a pickup truck.

Funeral was held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in East Hill Church of Christ with Kenneth Avaritt of Harrison, Ark., officiating. Burial was in Terry County Memorial Park.

Askew was on a fishing trip with a group of area ginners when the fatal mishap occurred. He reportedly stepped in front of the vehicle after leaving a Bossier City restaurant.

A Lynn County native, Askew attended school in the Wells community. He moved to Brownfield in 1943 and had served with the U. S. Army and Merchant Marines in World War II.

He returned to the Wells community in 1952, but moved to a farm east of Brownfield in 1957. Owner and operator of the Terry County Gin, Askew was a member of First Baptist Church. He was married to the former Betty Smith of Lovington, N.M. in 1951. Survivors include his wife; two sons, Ronald and Eddie, both of the home; a daughter, Tresa of the home; his mother, Mrs. P. E. Askew of Wells; three sisters, Mrs. Vera Etter of O'Donnell, Helen Askew of Seal Beach, Calif. and Mrs. Geraldine Shanklin of Lubbock; and six brothers, Kenneth Askew of Norwald, Calif., Bertice Askew of Tahoka, Arlys Askew of O'Donnell, Roy Askew of Shallowater, Dalton Askew of Hereford and R. C. Askew of Lubbock.

There is nothing that pretains to God's work that is simple enough, that the strongest individual can do alone and there is nothing that is great enough that God cannot do through the weakest individual, if he is surrendered wholly to God's will.

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

A FEW DAYS back The "Plainsman" seemed a little concerned about the opera the "Jesus People" were presenting in Philadelphia.

While his interest seemed to be in a casual manner his primary concern seemed to be about their portraying Christ as an "Ordinary Joe".

IN THE SAME edition was the account of the scientists in Durham, N.C. who were trying to find proof of life after death.

I'm not too concerned about what the "Fadist" publicity seekers are promoting to get your attention and money. We should recognize by now, that anything to gain attention and to shock the sensibilities of the older generation, as well as the decent level-headed younger person is the aim of the activities.

NOTHING IS SACRED nor moral in their minds. Their main aim is to prove by any means, that they're the "In" crowd and all others are either ignorant or "squares". They'd like you to think that they're the first to discover knowledge and truth. "Yeah, man, tell it like it is!"

This is the same kind of thinking that prompts the filth peddlers and the smut producers to think that most people accept and appreciate their offerings, both in the movie industry and the paper-back editions.

AFTER THE DESTRUCTION of Christianity and what's left of our morals—Then what? I suppose the aim of this group must be "Free love, and nickel beer" (I saw this motto on a youngster's auto dash a few months ago.) Dogs move over, here we come!

Those guys seeking scientific proof of life after death are looking in the wrong place, and, going about it in the wrong way. IF they have doubts about this, all they have to do, to remove their doubts is die!

SERIOUSLY, if they must go about the proof of this question in scientific fashion, they're doomed to disappointment. "God has chosen the foolish things of this earth to confound the wise."

If the proof of the Bible is not enough, if history doesn't prove the reality of Christ, if the creation itself, and the forces of nature aren't enough to convince our minds of the truthfulness of God's Word, we needn't look any place else!—"The one be raised from the dead, they would not believe!"

THE SIMPLE CHILDLIKE faith of the believer is necessary to fulfill God's will. If we don't have this, then we're in for a surprise in the hereafter!

We don't need their scientific proofs. We can read all about it in the Bible and, without the aid of a computer.

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Back-to-school time isn't too far off for more than two million young Texans, and State Board of Education has approved a record $302.4 million statewide available school fund allotment.

Board set $121.90 as the state allocation for each pupil in public schools this year. Figure is based on the average daily attendance during 1970-71, or 2,479,400, although actual enrollment was over 2.7 million.

Local school districts may use their allocation to help pay annual operating expenses, including teacher salaries. Available school fund draws investment earnings from the $335 million permanent school fund.

In other preparations for the upcoming school year, Board of Education also:

Approved an $887,500 contract with Southwest Educational Development Laboratory for a bilingual teaching program tailored for four-year-old children of Mexican-American farm workers. Ten bilingual specialists will work with 100 youngsters in McAllen and Hereford to develop an experimental project next school year and field test it in 1972-73.

Approved a new accreditation plan to provide computer data to warn of developing weak points in school systems. Data will provide scientific analysis of information needed to decide which schools should be visited by accreditation teams. Such teams visit about 200 of more than 1,100 Texas school districts each year.

Entered an agreement to link Texas Education Agency and U. S. Office of Education in a $1.8 million program to evaluate new special education pilot projects expected to have national impact on the teaching of handicapped children.

Allocated $23.2 million to buy new textbooks (see below). DISEASE SPREAD--A sleeping sickness-like disease spread among horses (and in a few humans) in the South Texas-Rio Grande Valley area.

U.S. Agriculture Department which originally had scheduled an experimental vaccine against Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis in 13 counties later released it statewide and slapped an embargo on Texas horses.

Later, a state Animal Health Commission order halted movement within state or out of state of horses not vaccinated at least 14 days earlier.

Several persons were hospitalized in Brownsville with VEE symptoms. Cases in horses increased sharply, though laboratory confirmation lagged behind discovery of symptoms.

Disease, described as "flu like" among humans, is deadly to horses, and concern was expressed for the equine population. Emergency situation stopped all rodeos, horse shows, race meets and other activities involving horses.

TEXTBOOKS AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW -- Textbooks considered for 1972-73 school adoption can be looked over by interested citizens at 20 regional education service centers over the state.

Texas Education Agency, the largest single buyer of textbooks can be reviewed at Edinburg, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Houston, Beaumont, Huntsville, Kilgore, Mount Pleasant, Wichita Falls, Richardson, Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Abilene, San Angelo, Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, El Paso and San Antonio education service centers.

1.5 MILLION NEW VOTERS? Texas may have 1.5 million new voters in 1972 largely as a result of 18-21-year olds becoming eligible for all elections, according to a state senator's forecast.

New law goes into effect September 1 which permits registration of a Texas voter for a three year period instead of annually as at present. Registration will also be open year-around except for a 30-day cutoff before any election.

Dallas Sen. Mike McKeel, author of the new registration law, sees youngsters as accounting for a large part of the 1.5 million increase in eligibility rolls and predicts they will vote as well as any age group.

AG OPINIONS--All Texas counties must adopt the jury wheel system and terminate selection of jury panels through use of commissions, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

New state law providing for waiver of indictment in non-death-penalty cases is constitutional, Martin said in another opinion.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

Commissioner of Bureau of Labor Statistics has no authority to promulgate rules and regulations limiting the number of boxing and wrestling promoters in cities within certain population brackets.

Bridge between Corpus Christi Bay and Gulf of Mexico adjacent to Mustang Island when accepted by Texas Highway Department becomes part of the state highway system.

Comptroller of Public Accounts may issue a warrant to a contractor or seller of supplies and or services purchased through State Board of Control without seller's certification of correctness of invoice (correcting an earlier opinion).

Governor is authorized to make six appointments to Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators -- two initial appointees to serve until Jan. 31, 1973, two until 1975 and two until 1977.

APPOINTMENTS -- Gov. Preston Smith named E. Byron Crozier of Cleburne as district judge of 18th judicial district to succeed Judge John A. James Jr. whom he named Tenth Court of Civil Appeals chief justice.

Smith selected Rex Sullivan Jr. of Quanah district judge of the 46th judicial district, replacing Judge Tom Davis who resigned.

Charles D. Kirkham Jr. of Dallas, a native of Cleburne, was placed by the Governor on the Legislative Property Tax Committee, along with Sen. James Bates of Edinburg, Rep. Richard Slack of Pecos, Jack L. Hart of Midland and Carl S. Smith, Harris County tax assessor-collector.

Charles R. Barden, acting chief of the air control section of the Texas State Department of Health, was named to the advisory committee to Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

COURTS SPEAK-- District judge in Midland ordered the lawsuit attacking constitutionality of the new Texas House of representatives redistricting transferred to Austin where it may be tried this month.

Texas libraries were refunded nearly $500,000 as a result of the Attorney General's price-fixing suit against children's book publishers.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Texas 1969 statute on possession of LSD, but a new challenge was filed here on changes in the law this year. Court again upheld sodomy statute.

PASS BIDS IN--A low bid of $1.4 million on the on-delayed second phase construction of a water exchange pass across Mustang Island apparently was submitted by Brown and Root Construction Inc. of Houston.

Brown and Root bid, including construction of a two-lane bridge across a 100-foot wide channel on Park Road 53, was the lowest of five opened last week by Parks and Wildlife Department. Bids were studied before a recommendation on letting the contract.

HUNTERS IRED--A state proposal to turn Canadian River bottom into a wildlife refuge stirred protests of hunters from the Panhandle at a hearing here.

Panhandle hunters wanted no part of the Parks and Wildlife Commission's closing of state-owned river beds streams and railroad rights of way to public hunting.

SHORT SNORTS -- Governor Smith, House Speaker Gus Muhscher and several others were questioned a second time by Securities and Exchange Commission in its stock probe.

Major Texas crude oil buyers recommended to the Railroad Commission a 30,344 barrel daily decrease in production next month.

Under a new law motor boat owners must provide Coast Guard-approved life preservers for children 12 years old or under.

Traffic accidents killed 1653 Texans this year, compared with 1621 in 1970.

Hearing is set August 24 on request of Clear Lake Savings Association for a branch office charter in Houston.

Texas has taken the first steps toward a $12 million updating of law enforcement communications system.

House General Investigating Committee sent out questionnaires to state representatives asking information on stock scandals -- and included questions on whether the press had been "biased" in reporting news.

Revenue from cigarette smoking jumped $3.2 million -- to $18.9 million -- from June 1970 to June 1971.

U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen shies away from talk about his being a favorite son presidential candidate in 1972 and stresses need for Texas Democratic party harmony.

S.C.S. EMPLOYEES ATTEND CONVENTION

Tahoka Youth Attend Camp

It's camping time and approximately 125 youth will be attending Inner Life Camp in Camp Butman, a camp sponsored by the United Methodist Church, this week. There will be one counselor for every ten youth. Other adults supervising the group will include Ed Robb, guest speaker and prominent evangelist, and Jimmy Nash, evangelist and singer from Nashville, Tennessee.

Rev. Hugh Daniel of Tahoka and Rev. Marvin Roark of White Deer are serving as deans of the camp. The Inner Life Assembly, which is located outside of Merkel, will try to deepen spiritual experience within the individual. Deeper relationships with God through Bible Study, prayer and the study of the holy spirit will be sought.

The camp began on Monday and will end tomorrow. Attending from Tahoka are Dale Rogers, Sherree Brookshire, Lana Taylor, Staci Short, Calvin Adamson, Dean Rogers, and Rev. Daniel. Beth McGeehee, formerly of Tahoka, will serve as a counselor. Rev. Daniel and Miss Short served on the planning committee for the camp.

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says.....

Looking for a simple, easy way to preserve foods at home? Freeze them.

Freezing retains the natural color, fresh flavor and food value of most fruits, vegetables and meats far better than any other method of food preservation.

Summer is the best time to freeze fruits and vegetables while they are in season. To maintain quality and nutritional value during storage life, she suggests you follow five keys for success.

Careful selection of foods to be frozen is important. For example, choose peaches which are fairly firm or only a trifle soft with skin color between red areas yellow or at least creamy.

Speed in preparation is necessary. Promptness in handling, chilling and freezing any product helps retain quality.

Proper packaging is important to keep food items from drying out and to preserve food value, flavor and pleasing texture. Use only packaging materials, such as glass, metal and rigid plastics that are moisture vapor proof to prevent evaporation.

Most bags, sheets of freezer wrapping material and waxed cartons especially made for freezing are also moisture vapor resistant. Ordinary waxed paper, household aluminum foil and cottage cheese and ice cream cartons, however, should not be used; they do not prevent evaporation.

Fruits and vegetables should be frozen soon after they are packed. After fruits, vegetables and meats are frozen, store them at 0 degrees F. or below.

Frozen food undergoes slow changes in storage and will not retain its quality indefinitely. The length of storage time before loss of quality depends on proper handling before freezing, packaging material used, storage temperature and kind of food stored. Do not store frozen foods too long, the specialist reminds. Fruits and vegetables, for example, have a freezer storage time of not more than one year.

For booklets on freezing and canning, contact your local County Home Demonstration Agent.

Amino Acid Composition Is Studied

A three year study of the effects of various cultural practices on the amino acid composition of High Plains grain sorghum has been initiated at the High Plains Research Foundation.

In the study, eighteen fertilizer levels, two irrigation programs, two row spacings and two rates of propazine will be investigated as to their effects upon the amino acid content of grain sorghum grown in this area.

The eighteen different fertilizer methods will be composed of different combinations of three rates of nitrogen applied pre-plant and sidedress and two rates of sulfur applied pre-plant.

The different fertilizer levels will be observed under both limited and optimum irrigation methods, under both single and double row spacings on 40-inch spaced beds, and under 1 1/2 pound and 3 pound per acre rates of propazine.

Wright said that although the primary aim is to study the effect of cultural practices on the amino acid content in grain sorghum, a secondary benefit will be determining cultural influences on yields. "After all, an increase in the nutrition value of grain sorghum is not necessarily desirable unless we can also maintain comparable yields," Wright pointed out.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Even Terms

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tries to smooth the international feathers this week, but may have just ruffled them more.)

Dear editor:

In these days of de-classification of government secrets I was interested in reading about the latest one, a report on how much money in military aid the United States gives to various countries around the world.

Up to now, the matter has been classified as top secret, on the grounds, according to the government, that "it might be embarrassing if one country knew what another country was getting and therefore international relationships might suffer."

Some Senator did press the matter though and the government reluctantly gave the figures, showing that this year we're giving 713 million dollars in military aid to 42 different nations.

What interests me is this matter of damaging our international relationships if one country finds out we're giving more to her neighbor than to her.

It's a valid point. Everybody knows if you give more ice cream to one child than another, the one that got less will, instead of being thankful for what he got, in most cases get mad at you because he didn't get as much as the other.

Now the fat's in the fire. Here we are giving away three-quarters of a billion dollars a year to 42 nations, each one knows what the other one is getting, and all but the topmost one is mad at us, and it probably thinks we should have done more.

Furthermore, there are around 200 nations on earth, and if just 42 got military help, that leaves 158 that didn't get anything and we give away the deeper in hot water we get.

There's only one way to solve this. Give everybody exactly the same amount. Say we've got 713 million dollars to spend. Divide that by 200 and write 200 equal checks.

If this won't keep peace in the family, nothing will. Unfortunately sometimes nothing will. But at least we won't have one country madder at us than another. We'll know where we stand. They'll all just be equally mad.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Nasty, Brutish and Short

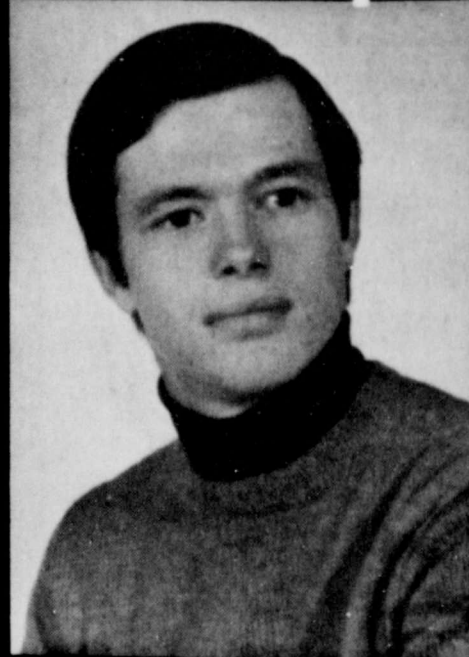

The inconsistency of those who think the solution to today's problems lies in withdrawing into a sort of social and intellectual vacuum -- or into an imaginary yesterday -- has been well described by Mr. Marshall S. Armstrong, president of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He speaks specifically of the young dropouts who live in hundreds of so-called communes or collectives and sustain themselves by doing odd jobs, raising food and making handicraft articles.

He questions neither their sincerity nor their desire to simplify their lives. But, he asks, "...whether they... are not deluding themselves... living in small, separate groups, with a minimum of organization, means a return to hand-made tools, to a food supply rarely above the subsistence level... it would also mean an end to books, most musical instruments, recorded music, photography, modern medicine and surgery." It would mean "that for the great majority of individuals in such a society, life would be, in the words of Thomas Hobbes, 'solitary, poor, nasty, brutish and short'."

VEE Spreads Into Texas

The role of the mosquito in spreading disease has been dramatically emphasized by the movement of Venezuelan Equine Encephalitis in Texas.

In just a short time the disease has crossed the Rio Grande into Texas and resulted in a statewide alert. While its primary victim is horses, VEE can affect humans with a flu-like illness, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Villain in the spread of VEE is the mosquito. If a mosquito bites an infected animal, it can spread the disease by biting another horse or a human. All mosquitoes should be looked on as possible spreaders (vectors) of VEE; however, a mosquito first must have bitten an infected animal or human before it can spread the disease. Even if it isn't carrying some disease a mosquito still is a pest to be eliminated.

With mosquitoes as the target in controlling VEE, you can do a lot to help yourself.

The simplest and most effective method of cutting down or controlling the mosquito population is to eliminate the breeding places.

Mosquitoes cannot hatch unless they are in water, so all standing water around your premises should be eliminated. Water can be caught in discarded bicycle and automobile tires, tin cans or old jars, in birdbaths, unused fishponds, shrubbery or a flat roof. Eliminate these water traps, being careful to check behind shrubbery.

Septic tanks, cisterns and tubs provide excellent breeding places unless they are tightly covered. Recent rains may have left stagnant ponds where mosquitoes can breed. If there is standing water on your premises, spraying it with an insecticide or a small quantity of kerosene will kill the larvae—sometimes called wigglers. To check for larvae, dip up a cupful, preferably with a white cup, weekly and look for the larvae.

Residual spraying of human habitations, screening sleeping and living quarters (or use of mosquito netting), will help control mosquito bites.

If you are in the open, especially at dusk, dawn or during the nighttime, use a repellent to lessen the risks of mosquito bites.

A vaccine has been released through the United States Department of Agriculture for horses, and aerial spraying has taken place in South Texas. Halting the movement of horses, mules and donkeys from the affected areas will further limit the spread of the disease. By containing the disease in small areas, or pockets, more effective control measures can be employed in a shorter length of time.

But, says the State Health Department, an individual can play an important part in this activity by practicing good vector control in his own environment.

Persons with further questions on vector control may contact their local health departments.

Hello, again from your friends at the nursing home. We'd like to start out by thanking everyone who paid a call on us this week. We have had lots of visitors and each visit was appreciated. If you have a friend in our home won't you drop in to see us? Visit everyone while you're here, we never have too many guests. Be sure to sign our guest book, too. We've enjoyed working with Mrs. E. Garcia L.V.N. the past few days. She was a big help to us and we'd like to have her back real soon.

Dorothy Norwood and Jean Jackson are both back after vacations. They are rested and ready to go back to work. Many of our patients led very interesting lives before retirement and illness brought them to our home. If you would like a taste of the old west, drop in to visit our "Texas Red," Mr. Haney. He has many interesting stories to tell of riding the range, rodeo days and riding with a posse. Mrs. Byrd tells of cooking for many ranch hands at round-up time and serving from the back of a chuck wagon—just like on television. Mr. Allen left the home to go to Lubbock to have surgery on his foot. We miss him and hope he'll be back soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young of Littlefield visited his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hubbard, last Sunday.

Mr. Woodrow Chancy had a chance to go to the Hootenanny this past Saturday night. He really enjoyed getting out and hearing the good music. Next time, we hope more of our patients will feel like joining in this recreation.

Velveta Burks had a nice week-end with her parents in Lubbock and Virginia Dann is in Big Springs visiting friends. We miss these folks, but are glad they feel well enough to go out for a few days.

Mr. Hunt had a pretty post card from London, England. His daughter, Mrs. Truett Smith and her husband are visiting there. They are having a good time. We hope she returns soon as we miss her daily visits to Mr. Hunt.

The staff of the home are glad to report that Mrs. Loma Cunningham is recovering nicely from a broken hip suffered last March. She is able to sit in her rocking chair to eat her meals. We hope to have her up and around soon as she is a real joy to us when she is feeling good.

We helped Carrie Dillard and Cora Bennett celebrate birthdays this week. Everyone shared their beautiful cake.

Church service was enjoyed by staff and patients alike this past week. Thank you to the visitors and pastor Darnell Boyd who made it seem like Sunday to us. Would you like to join us in our service next Sunday? We begin around 3 o'clock.

Our special thanks again to Rev. and Mrs. Ray Smith from Grassland Nazarene Church for bringing us a special musical program last Thursday. Their daughter, Paula and young Rocky Gribble joined them in making the hour pass all too quickly. They have promised to come again this coming Thursday. If you would like to hear some good music come on out and we'll find you a chair. Our social hour will be between 6 and 7 o'clock.

Thanks again to our visitors. Those who signed our register are as follows: Henry and Belle Lee, Marlene Daugherty, Della Johnson, Bobbie Tate, Elizabetha Iles, Claud Long, Henry L. Doug, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schoppa, Dolly Foerster, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dorman, Linda, Staci and Bert Short, Mrs. Lewis Arnold, Mr. D. W. Chandler, Mrs. Lila Wood, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Turner.

Proclamation

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

I, V. F. Jones, County Judge of Lynn County, do hereby declare the week of July 25-31, 1971 as FARM AND RANCH SAFETY WEEK in Lynn County for the following reasons:

WHEREAS, the citizens of Lynn County are proud of our farm families from whom comes our abundance of food and fiber; therefore, our citizens are deeply concerned about the safety and well-being of this segment of our population as they go about the sometimes hazardous task of producing the commodities needed by the entire population; and

WHEREAS, our great State of Texas, through farm and ranch accidents continues to reap "An Unwelcome Harvest" of over 250 farm deaths and thousands of painful disabling injuries each year; and

WHEREAS the President of the United States and the Governor of Texas have proclaimed the same period as FARM AND RANCH SAFETY WEEK; and

WHEREAS, during this week, a statewide farm accident prevention education program will be undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas 4-H Clubs, Texas Future Farmers and Young Homemakers of Texas and the Lynn County Farm Bureau with the theme, "PROTECT YOURSELF - WORK SAFELY"; and

WHEREAS, this "Protection" such as Stow Moving Vehicle

Emblems, roll-up signs and crush-resistant cabs for tractors, fire extinguishers, safety shields or guards, hard hats and safety glasses as well as seat belts, are available and pay big dividends in safety;

WHEREAS, such a campaign will do much to call to the attention of our rural citizens the need for observing safety precautions which would reduce the tragic toll inflicted by accidents;

THEREFORE, I urge all citizens to recognize this special period, and especially urge farm families to Lynn County to become more safety conscious, not only during "Farm Safety Week", but every day of the year.

(Signed) V. J. Jones
Lynn County County Judge

Farm And Ranch Safety Week

County Judge V. F. Jones proclaimed July 25-31, 1971 as "Farm and Ranch Safety Week" in Lynn County, at the request of Ronnie Dulin, Lynn County Farm Bureau president. The local farm organization is coordinating activities within the county for the special farm safety campaign. The county farm leader said the accident death rate for farm and ranch residents in Texas averaged over 250 per year during the decade of the sixties.

"If this 'Unwelcome Harvest' is to be reversed and the needless suffering and losses substantially reduced, each of us must have a renewed effort," Dulin continued. He emphasized that farming remains one of the most hazardous occupations in this country today; but added, many of the present losses could be prevented with the use of safety "Protection" tools such as seat belts, fire extinguishers, SMV emblems, and tractor roll-overs and crush resistant cabs.

In his proclamation, Judge Jones said "the citizens of Lynn County are proud of our farm families from whom comes our abundance of food and fiber; therefore, our citizens are deeply concerned about the safety and well-being of this segment of our population as they go about the sometimes hazardous task of producing the commodities needed by the entire population."

The proclamation said the week-long special farm and ranch safety campaign is a coordinated effort by Farm Bureau and various local and state agricultural and safety groups.

The judge urged farm families "to become more safety conscious, not only during 'Farm Safety Week', but every day of the year."

President Nixon and Governor Smith have previously designated the same period as "Farm and Ranch Safety Week" nationally and in Texas.

Nancy Unfred On Dean's List

Baylor University has recognized the academic achievement of 533 students by naming them to the Dean's List and Dean's Distinguished List. Dean of Instruction George M. Smith announced the names of those students who were selected because of their outstanding academic performance during the 1971 spring semester.

Smith said 220 students were named to the Dean's List and 313 to the Dean's Distinguished List. Of those named to the Dean's Distinguished List, 165 students earned a 4.00 or straight A average.

Baylor utilized a grading system whereby four points per hour credit are given for each A, three for B's, two for C's and one for D's.

Grade point averages are derived by dividing the total number of points earned by the number of hours taken.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, undergraduate students must earn a grade point average from 3.60 to 3.79 and carry at least 15 hours credit during a semester.

The Dean's Distinguished List includes those students whose scholastic averages range from 3.80 to 4.00 and who carry at least 15 semester hours. Graduate students must carry at least 12 hours during a semester.

Nancy Lou Unfred, of Tahoka, is a May graduate, 3.60, nursing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Unfred, Route 4, New Home. She graduated from New Home High School, in 1967.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Civil Rights For Cinderella?

At first glance, Mr. Harrison's will seemed plain enough. It left his entire estate to his "children," a word that obviously included his own three daughters. But did it also include his stepdaughter, the child of his second wife? After a court hearing, the judge decided that the stepdaughter was just out of luck. He said the word "children" did not include stepchildren unless the will expressly or impliedly said so.

This ruling illustrates that even today, in traditional areas of the law, our Cinderellas may still be treated like under-privileged members of the family.

"Although it may appear unjust," commented one court, "we must take the law as we find it." This applies not only to the right of inheritance but also to the right of support. In most states, the mere fact that a step child joins the family circle does not impose upon the stepfather any legal obligation to pay the upkeep. As a practical matter, however, stepfathers generally do support their stepchildren—and may, of course, go through a formal adoption ceremony.

Furthermore, especially in the newer fields of law, there is a growing tendency—sometimes by specific statutory enactment—to place stepchildren on an equal footing with natural children. Consider this case:

A factory worker was killed in an industrial accident. When his family put in a claim for workmen's compensation, the company readily agreed to pay the victim's widow and young son. But it refused to pay anything to his stepdaughter, even though she had been living for years as a regular member of the family.

However, when the matter was tested in court, the judge took note of the humanitarian purpose of the modern workmen's compensation system.

"Compensation is not inheritance," he said. "Its purpose is to give relief to dependents of one killed in industry."

Thereupon the court ordered the company to pay a full share of compensation to the stepdaughter, since she 1) did indeed need relief and 2) was indeed a dependent.

A public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

Each million people we add to our population requires an additional 172,000 beef cattle at today's food consumption rates.

Delaware has only three counties.

Farms are getting larger. The average farm in the United States in 1969 was 377 acres a one third increase over 1959 farms.

Farmers average about $1.57 per hour for their labors in 1969 and the average investment for a farm to support a family of four is $200,000 in land, buildings and machinery.

To keep up with present food consumption rates farmers must raise 25,400 additional head of dairy cattle for each one million persons added to our population.

The United States acre yield for wheat has doubled since 1930, from 14 to 28 bushels.

Swine Feed Costs Important

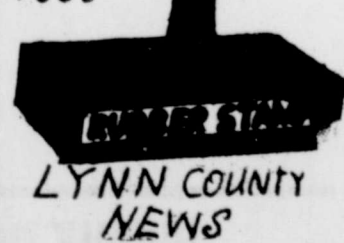

Hog producers making decisions on buying and handling feed will have a hard time justifying the investments for on the farm processing equipment until their yearly volume reaches about 100 tons. Substantial savings are possible through buying and mixing feed on the farm, but the swine operation must use large quantities, say W. W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meats specialist and W. B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist. Cost considerations become critical since in a complete swine operation, from farrowing to market, feed costs can represent 55 to 85 percent of total production costs. The 100 ton level might be reached in operations where 240 pigs are raised in a complete operation, where 45 to 50 sows farrow twice a year and raise feeder pigs, or where 300 feeder pigs are raised to market weight. The specialists point out that bagged feed should be used in swine operations until production consumes about six tons every two weeks. When this level is reached bulk feed can be received economically if adequate facilities are available. Hog feeds in bulk become stale and less palatable when it has been mixed and stored for more than two weeks. After the ration formulas and the amounts of bulk feed are determined, the operator should acquire schedules and prices from several feed mills. The specialists note that most feed mills can give firm prices for two or three months. Bailey and Thomas agree that if a producer decides to handle his own feed processing, it is unlikely that he will be able to buy feed ingredients for the same price the commercial feed mill pays. Savings from mixing feed on the farm are freight from the mill to the farm, a part of the profit that feed mills make, and use of any surplus labor. The producer who processes his own feed is faced with many decisions, with one of the most hazardous being the purchasing of grain. He must buy the right grade and be sure that it won't turn musty, sour, or develop odors or heats which greatly lower its value. This is even more important when pigs are on full feed because it takes only a slight off flavor or off odor feed to throw them "off feed."

The specialists say that the producer handling his own feed will also have to make some decisions on using grain substitutes. Wheat shorts, wheat bran, and wheat middlings are usually priced too high in Texas for economical hog feeding. In the spring and summer they are usually a better buy than grain and can be economically used as part of the ration when they are 10 percent cheaper than grain. Since none of the grain by-products store well, no more than a 30 day supply of grain by-products should be purchased at one time. Another major consideration that the operator must make concerns mixing supplement or buying commercial supplement. A swine supplement contains about 15 ingredients and requires careful supervision for a good mixed finished supplement. Some of the vitamins may lose their potency in storage. Before deciding to mix supplements, operators should obtain cost estimates and compare prices with supplements.

Past Days In Lynn County

Copied from July 8, 1921
The little city of O'Donnell will be the scene of much gaiety today and Saturday. A game of baseball will be played each day with Brownfield. A big rodeo will also be an added attraction. Goat roping and other amusements will furnish ample entertainment for the large crowd expected to be in attendance.

The News job department printed a large number of her ads announcing the two days program.

One of the most charming events recorded on the social calendar was the forty-two party given by Mesdames Lowery and Sanford Tuesday evening, June 21st at the home of the former in West Tahoka. A series of interesting games were enjoyed throughout the evening and dainty refreshments of assorted cake and cream was later served to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames I. S. Doak, C. B. Townes, E. E. Callaway, Hansford Tunnell, Henry Vinson, J. E. Elliot, M. M. Boyd, H. M. Larkin, S. J. Smith, A. W. White, S. W. Sanford and Mrs. Florence King.

The fast Tahoka Base Ball Club went over to Post Sunday and Monday for a two game series with that city, and succeeded in adding two more scalps to their long string of victories. The game Sunday was more interesting than on Monday owing to better playing on the part of the Post boys. The last game proved to be an easy walkover for Tahoka and was uninteresting from the very start. Post went to pieces and allowed the local club to pile up scores into the teens. Luck and Quail were on the mound for Post and Fox and Taylor for Tahoka. Homeruns were made by Robinson of Tahoka the first day and Lucy of Post, the second day.

Lubbock is scheduled to play in Tahoka Sunday, July 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. White entertained at Progressive Forty-two to a number of friends at their home in South Tahoka Thursday night. The affair was in celebration of their wedding anniversary. Refreshments of punch, parisian wafers, angel food cake and cherry cream were served. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. E. Stokes, I. S. Doak, S. W. Sanford, M. M. Boyd, S. J. Smith, J. W. Elliott, E. E. Callaway, Jack Alley, Frank H. Weaver, H. M. Larkin, Ben T. Brown, Mesdames Zoe Lowry, Belton Howell, Grandma King, and Miss Lola Lewis. I. S. Doak won high score.

N. M. Bray brought to this office Tuesday some samples of his onions raised on the farm east of town. They were of the red, yellow and white varieties. One of the largest samples weighed 1 pound and 2 ounces. Verily Lynn county can produce the onions.

While in the act of cranking his jitney in front of the Howell Garage, early Tuesday morning, W. E. Sikes, of the Three Lakes community, had the misfortune to break his right arm near the wrist. Mr. Sikes was cranking up preparatory to making a trip to Lubbock, when the machine backfired with the above results. The attending physician stated that the break was not a bad one and would soon heal if properly taken care of.

Kathleen Lam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lam, residing in the east part of the city, was painfully, though not seriously scalded with hot water. She went to the Fuller gin plant nearby to get a bucket of water, when her little brother, who accompanied her, made a mistake in turning the faucet, opening the hot water instead of the cold. Fortunately the burns were not of a serious nature, and she is getting along as well as could be expected. It is hoped that she will soon be able to be out again.

Little Miss Hazel Connally returned to Whitney Monday after several weeks visit with her father in Tahoka.

Frank H. Weaver is visiting his parents in Coleman this week.

Shelton Davis, of Wichita Falls, Texas, is visiting his uncle E. S. Davis and family.

W. M. Lee and daughter, Miss Gladys, returned the past week from Stephenville, where they attended a reunion of the Lee family. They report a most enjoyable time spent with their kinspeople.

Burtin Edwards and John Anderson and families of the Three Lakes community, left yesterday on an overland trip to McLennan county.

The Cowboy's and Cowgirl's Reunion and Concert will be staged just north of the city, under the management of A. Shroyer, beginning today and lasting through tomorrow.

Mr. Shroyer reports everything in readiness for the big show and those who attend are promised their money's worth. See the boys and girls ride, rope and relay races.

Joe Denton, the local pugilist, came in Tuesday from Oklahoma City, Okla., Shamrock and Amarillo, Texas. Joe stated that he had engaged in two boxing exhibitions since his departure from Tahoka several weeks ago and had been successful in winning both contests on points.

"My bout with Shifty Keith of Ft. Worth, which was to have been staged in Amarillo, this month, seems to have fallen through with," stated Denton upon his arrival here. "Keith cannot be located just at this time," Denton said, and remarked that he was rearing to battle the lad with a knockout reputation.

Fire destroyed the dwelling and contents belonging to Henry Warren, residing out on Route A, last Saturday night. The family was absent from home attending a revival meeting at Draw. Nothing was saved.

Misses Exa Rankin, Nealie and Tressie Jackson, of Lubbock spent the week-end with Misses Era and Ida Small. Thurman Wells of O'Donnell attended the Chamber of Commerce out door banquet here Tuesday night.

R. H. Turner has purchased the residence property belonging to Jno. R. Covey, located on West Porterfield street. A large number of Tahoka's young people enjoyed a picnic at the sand hill Tuesday night.

Miss Montie Draper returned Saturday from Canyon, where she attended the Summer Normal.

W. L. Knight and family spent Sunday in Crosbyton, visiting with Mrs. Knight's sister, Mrs. E. A. Lrunette.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

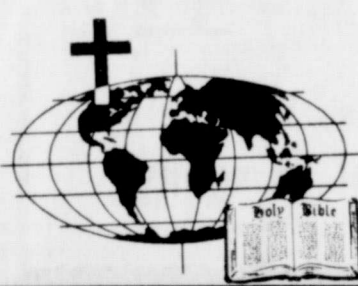

ALONG THE TRAIL

Novices tend to follow the path, especially when it is straight and narrow. But even with experienced riders there can be unexpected turns, and it's possible to get lost.

In life there are very few straight paths. It is extremely easy to come upon an unexpected turn, and to encounter doubt, confusion, even despair.

Horseback riding is not compulsory. But you do have a life—and you have to live it. The way is up to you. If we get lost, we can give up, but with the help of the Church, you will find a trustworthy guide which will renew your faith and clear the way to the path of eternal fulfillment.

Amarillo, Texas

A vast territory of West Texas, New Mexico and western Oklahoma is served by the food distribution center of Affiliated Food Stores in Amarillo. Hundreds of member food stores are provided with their grocery products each day from this huge plant located in the heart of the Texas Panhandle.

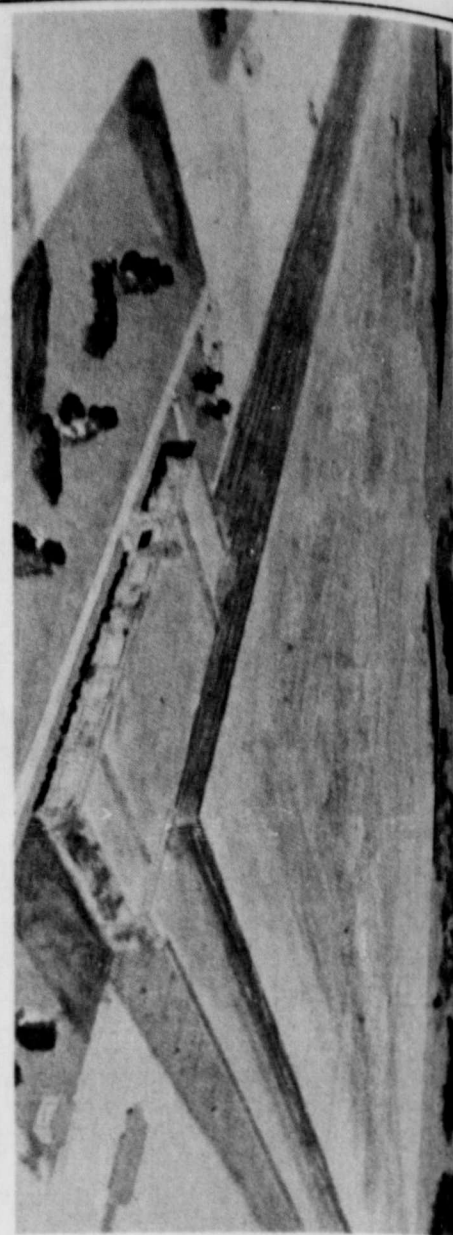

Little Rock, Arkansas

Affiliated Food Stores of Little Rock distributes grocery items to member stores not only in Arkansas, but also in Louisiana and Tennessee. The distribution center is located in a new, enlarged facility in Arkansas' capital city.

Tulsa, Oklahoma

For 31 years, Affiliated Food Stores of Tulsa has supplied fine food products to its member stores located across the state of Oklahoma. One of the nation's first food distribution centers, serving independent grocers, Affiliated Food Stores of Tulsa has expanded many times until it now occupies a large tract at 4433 W. 49th St.

Dallas, Texas

A large portion of North, Central and South Texas is served by the Affiliated Food Stores distribution center located in the heart of the huge Brook Hollow Industrial District on Ambassador Row in Dallas. More than 700 member stores receive their grocery products from the Dallas distribution center.

Independent grocers vital to local economy

The independent grocer is a respected member of his community. He is a member of the Rotary, Lions or Kiwanis Club. He works with the youth of his community. His grocery store provides employment for many of your friends and neighbors. Many a young executive has started his career as a stocking clerk or a bagger after school hours.

Your independent Affiliated grocer is an integral part of the community. His only reason for staying in business is to serve you and thousands like you who patronize his store. You benefit in many ways when you continue to buy from him. Perhaps the most important reason is that you continue to save on your food bill. But you also are contributing to the building of a stronger local economy and a better community.

Now the COMBINED BUYING POWER of FOUR HUGE DISTRIBUTION CENTERS mean tremendous savings for more than 19 million customers living in seven states who shop at the 2000 AFFILIATED FOOD STORES owned and operated by independent grocers.
