Goodfellow Donations

"We appreciate the help and fine support the Goodfellows have been getting," said I. E. Martin, chairman.

The Goodfellows had just secured a building for their base of operations. It's located west of the Brownfield building on Twenty-fifth Street. Contributions of food and clothing should be turned in at the building.

Martin said several volunteer workers, both individuals and organizations, have been of great assistance to the Goodfellows. For instance, students in the "shop" at the high school have been rebuilding toys; Jaceettes have been busy taking names of needy families and registering the arrival of food and clothing; and the Gamma Epsilon chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha is taking names of donors at the banks.

Monday was a big day for the Goodfellows. Cash contributions at the Snyder National Bank and at West Texas State Bank totaled $148.65 for the day, boosting the overall total received to $749.00.

Won't you help make Christmas brighter for some needy child? Any contribution of money, clothing or food to the Goodfellows will be appreciated.

HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION PROGRAM — Motorists traveling Interstate Highway 35 north of Waco, Tex., are treated to a different kind of highway beautification. Pretty Kay Soules is a flag waver on the construction job on the highway. Equipped wth flag and red jacket over her blouse, Kay not only slows traffic to the legal speed but in some cases halts it completely. An art student at Sam Houston State College, Kay, 19, took off this semester to take her unique job. The construction boss said she was hired as "a kind of experiment because of manpower shortage." Rhodesians Condemn Settlement Proposal

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) —The Rhodesian government today condemned British plans for settlement of the Rhodesian crisis. It said this meant setting up a "Quisling government" by Britain.

In the summary of a white paper on independence negotiations, it said the British proposals demanded "unconditional and abject surrender" of Rhodesian government control of the armed forces, police and law and order control of all government executive services including the civil services, and control of the national budget.

The paper appeared to have been drawn up before Prime Minister Ian Smith's sea meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson last weekend, and dealt with the British terms for settlement delivered to the Rhodesian government in mid-October. There had been reports the government planned to release a white paper dealing with these earlier negotiations.

In the weekend meeting, Smith and Wilson were reported agreed on a plan to end the Rhodesian rebellion. But the Rhodesian Cabinet rejected the plan Monday. In his rejection, Smith raised all the points mentioned in the white paper.

Several leading businessmen reacted pessimistically to the news that Britain would go ahead with plans for mandatory United Nations sanctions against Rhodesia.

One who asked his name not be mentioned said he believed the effect of further sanctions had been underestimated.

"The government has said that we have survived sanctions so far and new additional sanctions will not be much worse," he said. "But even if it's only an extra 25 per cent cutback in our trade, its going to have a drastic effect on our economy."

He said many shopkeepers complain business has been poor lately due to the tightness of money, and predicted a gloomy Christmas for most Rhodesians.

Expressions of disappointment were heard that Smith's talks with Wilson had not achieved a solution to the independence crisis. But there was also strong feeling that Britain had been unreasonable in the terms for a return to constitutional rule.

Smiths' hold over the country's 217,000 whites remained solid. A large proportion of die-hard whites were jubilant that the uncertainty created by the negotiations had been ended and Rhodesia firmly set on the path of continued independence.

Third Jet Lost In Tangle With MIGs

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Another U.S. plane was shot down over North Viet Nam today, bringing the toll in the last 24 hours of the quickening air war to three American aircraft.

The U.S. Command announced that American jets tangled with Communist MIG intercepters Monday for the fourth straight day, but there was no word that any American or North Vietnamese planes were downed in the dogfights.

In South Viet Nam, Vietnamese military headquarters announced the mass surrender of 63 Viet Cong guerrillas in the enemy-infested Hon Chong — Twin Sisters — mountain area on the Gulf of Siam near the Cambodian border.

A spokesman said that 2,250 peasants in the area dominated by the Viet Cong also sought the refuge of government and U.S. officials. The U.S. Agency for International Development arranged to send them rice, cooking oil, blankets and other supplies.

U.S. air raids over North Viet Nam once again dominated war developments and the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported only small, scattered ground fighting.

The plane lost today — the 438th reported loss of the war over North Viet Nam — was an Air Force RF4C photo reconnaissance jet downed by ground fire near Dien Bien Phu close to the Laotian border. It was the 11th American plane lost in the north since Friday.

The two fliers aboard were picked up in a rescue operation that required three helicopters which also rescued two of the paramedics sent in to aid the jet pilots.

An Air Force RF101 Voodoo and an F105 Thunderchief were downed during bombing raids on the north Monday, while other American pilots clashed with MIG17s and advanced model MIG21s north and northwest of Hanoi. The pilots of both the downed planes were listed as missing.

Qualified sources in Saigon said because of the greatly increased MIG challenge, U.S. Air Force officers here would probably press Washington to approve bombing of the North Vietnamese airfields where the MIGs are based.

In a related development, Communist China charged that U.S. planes sank six Chinese fishing boats in the Gulf of Tonkin last week, killing 17 Chinese fishermen and wounding 29 others. U.S. officials declined to comment on the charge.

Raiders To Urge Airfield Bombing

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. Air Force leaders in Viet Nam probably will press anew for bombing of North Viet Nam's jet airfields because of the greatly increased activity by MIG jet fighters, sources indicated today.

Raiding American warplanes met North Vietnamese MIGs for the fourth straight day Monday.

A day earlier, U. S. pilots reported sighting 16 MIGs aloft. One senior Air Force officer said this was the biggest number in the skies in a long time.

American F105 Thunderchiefs knocked down one MIG17 for certain Sunday and probably downed another. This boosted the U. S. score to 26 definite kills and two probables. North Vietnamese pilots have shot down only five American planes.

Decision-making U. S. officials in Washington have ruled out any strikes against North Viet Nam's jet airfields, at least until now. They said there is no need to hit them until the North Vietnamese air force becomes a serious threat.

U. S. Air Force leaders believe it would be prudent to take out the jet fields. One source said the Air Force has repeatedly urged such action. The much increased activity of the North Vietnamese MIGs gives the air generals a new lever.

Despite persistent reports that the North Vietnamese air force has been beefed up substantially, American air officers say the Red force still numbers about 75 planes. They said combat losses have been replaced by the Russians or the Red Chinese.

Air Force generals said the North Vietnamese pilots are not very aggressive. They do not come out looking for a fight.

"The North Vietnamese pilots wait for a cripple — a sure kill," said one general.

"I think the enemy's got a lot of neophytes up there," he added.

But air officers have a profound respect for North Vietnamese antiaircraft gunners. They said they have improved vastly with the experience of nearly two years of U.S. bombing strikes.

Ike Cancels NY Trip

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today canceled a trip to New York because of the widespread public concern over his health, a spokesman said.

The spokesman said Eisenhower will leave from Gettysburg probably Thursday morning to enter Walter Reed Hospital in Washington for a gallbladder operation.

The 76-year-old ex-President was scheduled to go to New York today for a Football Hall of Fame dinner and a luncheon with a business group.

The spokesman said Eisenhower felt the public concern for his health might distract from the real purpose of the football banquet.

"He felt his appearance might take away the honor that is to go to the real heroes," the spokesman said. He said Eisenhower expressed regret about not going.

The former president changed his mind after receiving many calls about his approaching operation, the spokesman said.

Market Pressures Pound Sterling

LONDON (AP) — The pound sterling came under pressure in the foreign exchange market today as a result of the Rhodesian crisis. The Bank of England moved in with support, laying out dollars from reserves to protect the value of the pound.

The rate still suffered a sharp fall of over three-sixteenths of a cent in terms of the U.S. dollar, dipping well below the $2.79 mark which the authorities normally try to maintain.

Historic Mug Joins Collection

AUSTIN N(AP)—The shaving mug of one of Texas' Civil War governors has been given to the governor's mansion collection, which now has at least one item used by each of the former residents of the mansion.

Mrs. John Connally said Monday that the shaving mug of Gov. Pendleton Murrah had been donated to the collection by Robert A. Taylor of Shreveport, La., great nephew of Murrah.

Unexpected Bonus For Duck Hunter

BULLARD, Tex. (AP)—Guy Newburn, 17, of Bullard, south of Tyler, got a bonus today when he went duck hunting.

He brought down four at the Newburn lake west of Bullard, but one bird splashed down into the water out of reach.

Newburn decided to try to retrieve the duck with his rod and reel. He cast a line with a multi-hook lure on the end of it, snagged the duck and reeled it in.

To his astonishment, he not only retrieved the bird—but also a two-pound bass.

Rockies Get More Snow

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain drenched the Pacific Coast today and changed to snow on the upper slopes of the Rockies.

Drivers were warned to expect heavy snow over wide areas of the West, including the mountainous areas of California, Nevada, Utah, southern Idaho, northern Arizona and northern New Mexico.

Five inches of new snow fell in six hours at Craig, Colo., and four inches were measured at Austin, Nev. Glasgow and Miles City in Montana reported one inch of new snow,

In California, the flooding Kern River lifted a 16-by-20 foot warehouse off its foundation near Kernville Monday night and carried it downstream. Heavy downpours caused the Kern to rise five feet from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

There were 12 inches of snow on the ground at Truckee, Calif. In the Sierra Nevada, the Alpine Ski Resort near Squaw Valley reported 24 inches of new snow, bringing the total on the ground to 48 to 51 inches.

Nine fatal accidents occurred on rain-slick streets in the Los Angeles area.

Only skiers were expected to be enthusiastic at the prospect of new and heavier snowfall. Ski trails on Western mountains have had little snow so far this year.

Wintry weather prevailed elsewhere. Occasional sleet, freezing rain and freezing drizzle prompted hazardous-driving warnings across most of New England.

Fog drifted through the nation's midsection from the Missouri Valley across the Ohio Valley.

Northern and southern temperatures were much the same as a band of cool air moved into the Southeast and southerly winds pushed warm air up the Mississippi Valley.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 2 below zero at Cut Bank, Mont., to 74 at Thermal, Calif.

Dads Report Three Boys

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Three straight-A high school pupils were turned over to juvenile authorities today after their fathers reported them to police as burglary suspects.

Police said the boys were involved in a series of burglaries, including the weekend theft of $27,000 in airplane radio parts.

The boys, one 15 and two 16, are pupils at MacArthur High School here.

One told reporters the three had set off several explosions using chemicals and equipment taken from the high school and from industrial firms.

"We never set off a bomb without a reason," the youth said. "We knocked down a cliff or two, but we only wanted to check the potency of the bombs.

He said all the thefts were committed to advance their electronics and chemistry knowledge.

The youth said they had intended to use the radio equipment in an amateur radio operation.

All-Volunteer Army Proposed

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP) — A national draft conference, its discussion of the workings of the Selective Service System behind it, turns today to an alternative: an all-volunteer standing army.

Two economists agree the nation can well afford one.

Profs. Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago and Walter Y. Oi of the University of Washington argued in papers presented to the conference that the social and economic costs of the draft now pose far greater costs to the country than would a voluntary army.

Their views are expected to be sharply challenged by other delegates to the conference at the University of Chicago.

The Friedman-Oi papers led off the third day of the four-day meeting.

More than 100 scholars, government specialists and students are attending the meeting — seeking ways to avoid alleged inequities in the present system to which attention has been drawn by the growing demands of the Viet Nam war.

Friedman, who served as Barry Goldwater's economic adviser during the 1964 presidential campaign, said having a voluntary army would:

— Produce a lower turnover in the armed services and permit more intensive training.

— Preserve the freedom of individuals to serve or not to serve and, at the same time, prevent hasty marriages.

— "Permit colleges and universities to pursue their proper educational function, freed alike from the incubus of the half-million or more young men who would be better off at work than in school."

Oi, who did much of his research while working as a consultant to the Defense Department, computed that a voluntary force of 2.7 million men would cost an added $4 billion yearly — a total he describes as "entirely feasible"

Peace Feelers Most Perishable

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — About the most perishable commodity in the diplomatic world today is a Viet Nam peace feeler.

The State Department says that since 1964 there have been 26 major ones initiated or supported by the United States. It says these efforts are continuing.

But no sooner is one launched in the corridors of the United Nations—or over a vodka martini at a diplomatic reception in Washington or Moscow—or reported in a whispered conversation in New Delhi, Belgrade or Algiers — than it is exploded with a massive denial.

"One has sometimes heard of peace feelers," Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a Canadian interviewer at the start of the 37-day pause in U.S. bombings in Viet Nam last Christmas.

"Actually these have arisen on the initiative of someone else. I don't know of any initiatives taken by Hanoi to seek peace," he said.

"Others — third parties, other governments, perhaps private citizens — have had conversations with Hanoi, and when some of these are made public these are translated into something called peace feelers by Hanoi.

"Hanoi has denied that they have made any peace feelers," Rusk said.

One year later the same situation still prevails, but if anything there are more peace probes and more denials than ever.

"Thus far all initiatives have failed due to the refusal by the Communist side to enter into discussions," according to Assistant Secretary of State Dixon Donnelly.

LAWRENCE RESIGNS COUNCIL POST

Two Vehicles, Street Sweeper Are Purchased

The Snyder City Council purchased two motor vehicles and a street sweeper, got another progress report on plans for the downtown improvement project and accepted the resignation of a councilman last night.

The resignation of Councilman Jack Lawrence was accepted with regret. In a letter to Mayor M. L. Broman, Lawrence said he had made arrangements to re-enter Texas Tech to continue his formal education and that in doing so it is necessary that he move his family to Lubbock. Mayor Broman and members of the council expressed appreciation for Lawrence's service on the council. Lawrence has served as Councilman, Place 2, for the past three years.

Representatives of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and Texas Electric Service Co. discussed with the council plans for proposed relocation of their lines in the downtown improvement project. The plans call for putting all telephone and power lines underground in the central business area.

The telephone company estimated that it would require a minimum of $23,649 to put its facilities into compliance with the plans, while Texas Electric estimates for its work ran to $41,000. However, it was noted that some reduction in the latter figure may be possible if the plans permit modification of requirements on the fringes of the area earmarked for improvement.

At the same time, it was learned that the type of street lighting under consideration for the downtown area will cost around $102,000. An alternate plan will be considered, however, and a decision likely will be made at a special meeting of the council within the near future.

The bid of Wilson Motors, local Ford dealer, was accepted for the purchase of a new ½-ton pickup truck. The net low bid, including a trade-in, was $1,196.58.

Les Francis Chevrolet's low bid was accepted for purchase of a new four-door sedan. The net low bid for the car was $1,268.59, including a trade-in.

The city voted to purchase an Elgin street sweeper. It was the lower of two proposals re-

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Hugh and I have gone together for eight years, and I am no closer to marriage now than I was when I first met him. We hit it off perfectly on our first date, and from that moment on I have had no interest in any other man. I am 34, and he is 43.

My problem is Hugh was badly hurt by a woman (they are now divorced) and he doesn't want to take a chance on marrying again. I know our love will last and we could be happy together, but he is afraid of marriage. How can I convince him that he is wrong?

WANTS HUGH

DEAR WANTS: You can't. He has already convinced himself that he doesn't want to do something, one excuse is as good as another.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old male hairdresser who has shared an apartment with a coworker for two years. Last Sunday I woke up to find that my roommate had brought home a divorcee and her 3-year-old child, and all three of them were sleeping in the living room. My roommate plans on marrying her next week, and can't see why we can't all live together.

My half of the furnishings represents $3,000. I can't move out and take my half with me. (How do you divide carpeting, draperies, and pairs of tables, lamps, a dinette set, etc?) He hasn't the cash to buy me out, and I certainly don't want to stay here under these circumstances. What do I do now?

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: If your roommate won't move out with his newly acquired family, then it's your move. Take as much of your "half" of the furnishings as possible, and let him pay you in monthly installemnts for the balance.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husbands father has been seen in broad daylight necking with girls who were young enough to be his granddaughters. He lives with us because he cannot hold a steady job.

We have been told by our neighbors, who would have no reason to lie, that my father-in-law brings young girls into the house while we are away. We have talked to him several times about this, but he denies it.

Some of our neighbors will not let their children associate with ours because of the bad reputation my father-in-law has created. Will you please tell us what to do?

AT A LOSS

DEAR AT: Your father-in-law is a sick man. Do not leave him alone in your home any more! Consult your family physician and ask for his recommendation. Thus far it is only a medical problem, but unless it is corrected at once, it could be a legal one with serious, messy repercussions.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARGARET: Don't waste too much time on a man who persistently "jabs" you with unkind remarks. The grave of love is prepared with little digs.

ENTER CONTEST — Kenneth and Trudy Wood, 2705 Thirty-eighth Street, won first place in the Jaycee-sponsored Christmas lighting contest last year. They are looking over their yard decorations for this season along with Travis and Tim Jones. Entries in the contest this year are being accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office. Mickey Nunley, Jaycee chairman of the project, said entries may be "telephoned in" at the CofC office.

ceived for conventional type sweepers, the net low figure being $8,518.

After considerable discussion, the council voted to join with the Snyder Schools and the county in supporting the local Community Action Committee for one year. The CAP was organized several months ago and at the time it was anticipated that it would be supported by federal funds. However, federal funds were not available subsequently and the local committee decided to seek local funds for operation for one year. City Manager George Patterson said that so far as could be determined this would be the only such committee in existence supported entirely at the local level.

Ultimately, the council, on a split decision, agreed to support the committee up to $4,250 for one year of operation. This is approximately one third of the amount the committee estimated that it would need to operate for a year. Councilmen Rayburn Burgess, R. C. Patton, Marshall Erwin, Jack Lawrence and Bobby McCormick voted for the proposal, while Councilman Jim Kincaid opposed it on the formal vote.

Two ordinances were passed on second and final reading. One annexes .48 acre of land located at Moncrief and Beaumont Avenue. The other rezones Blocks 53, 59 and 60, Grayum and Nelson Addition, from an R-2 zone to a C-2 zone.

The city manager was authorized to advertise for bids on a year's supply of gasoline, oil, alum and chorine to be received at the next regular meeting.

The council voted to increase the retainer fee for the corporation court judge by 10 per cent (from $250 per month to $275). The judge, Gene L. Dulaney, had advised the council by letter that the amount of time required in corporation court had increased substantially since the new criminal code went into effect last August and that further increases are expected.

Following a brief discussion, the city manager and city attorney were asked to continue studies with a view toward developing an ordinance that would better control junk cars in the city.

A date was set for dedication of a historical marker at the city hall. The dedication will be at 10 a.m. Dec. 15. Councilmen plan to hold a brief special session to discuss the downtown improvement project following the dedication.

ROAST TURKEY filled with a savory herb-seasoned cube stuffing sets the scene for your holiday dinner.

New Christmas Feast

When the holiday season arrives, you're bound to be busy shopping for presents, tackling those now or never decorating jobs and putting the house in order for the relatives' invasion. Even though the pace is fast, it is a delightful time of the year.

The traditional Christmas dinner calls for many family favorites: candied yams, giblet gravy, creamed onions, turnips with apple slices, snowy whipped potatoes and the noble bird with a savory stuffing.

Now, there is no doubt that stuffing makes the bird. And new herb-seasoned cube style stuffing gets it off to a perfect start. Small bread cubes with flakes of herbs and spices already baked in give this stuffing its flavor accent. Simply follow the package directions for adding melted butter and water. To give it a personal touch use the recipe below which calls for sauteed mushrooms and sausage meat. You'll find this stuffing joining the list of traditional family favorites.

Sausage-Mushroom Stuffing

2 (7 ounce) packages herb - seasoned cube stuffing
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup sliced celery
1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 pound sausage meat
¼ cup snipped parsley

Prepare stuffing according to package directions. In skillet melt butter, and saute celery and mushroom slices until tender. Remove from skillet and saute sausage meat, breaking into small pieces with fork, until brown and crisp. Add sausage, celery, mushrooms and parsley to stuffing. Toss together lightly. Stuff turkey.

Fills a 16 to 20 pound turkey.

The 1967 Minkus New American Stamp Catalog, the finest in a long line of outstanding editions by this eminent philatelic firm, is now on the market. This edition includes an unprecedented number of 7,5000 upward price changes. Of prime interest to the American collector is the fact that almost every regular issue in the 20th century shows an increase in the categories of singles, blocks of four and plate blocks.

Among the higher value changes noted is the complete set of Columbia singles which went from $1,123.50 to $1,209.50 mint, and $638.18 to $759.03 used.

An important new section listing "luminescent" issues is the first to appear in any stamp catalog.

Kudos for this informative and interesting catalog must go to publisher Jacques Minkus and the top philatelic experts who compiled it. Editor-in-Chief Ben Blumenthal, Associate Editor H. L. Lindquist, Prescott H. Thorp, George A. Tlamsa, Phillip Bernstein and Rudy Vecerin.

Gardener's Corner

An apple tree considered excellent for the home garden because of its fine fruit and shape is among five new fruit varieties given names recently by Cornell University's Geneva (N.Y.) Experiment Station.

The apple is Empire, a cross between McIntosh and Delicious. It was selected in 1954 for distribution by the New York State Fruit Testing Association. Until now it has been only a number.

Empire's flesh is cream-colored, crisp and juicy. It is of medium size, ripens two weeks after McIntosh and is intended for the fresh fruit market. It has fine storability.

The other new names among fruits are:

IROQUOIS PLUM—a cross of an Italian prune with Hall. It is a very productive variety, rated high for quality, for both processing and fresh fruit.

MOHAWK PLUM—from the same Italian-Hall cross. It has fruit larger than Stanley and is an early bearer.

ONEIDA PLUM—a cross of Albion and Italian prune. This tree bears medium-to-large fruit, heavily. It ripens about Oct. 1 in the Geneva area. It is useful to extend the fresh plum season.

GALA STRAWBERRY—from a cross between Midland and Suwannee. It is extra early, large, moderately firm. This same cross produced Fletcher and Garnet, the latter introduced last year. Gala is quite susceptible to late spring frosts and should not be planted in low lying areas especially subject to such frosts.

Incidentally, a feature of Empire apple is the tree shape. The trees are easily pruned and begin to bear when they are 5 to 6 years of age. Fruits are spaced evenly along branches and are borne singly on spurs, generally not in clusters, facilitating harvesting.

A Pennsylvania State University expert says plant disease epidemics are highly dependent on weather conditions, particularly moisture and temperature. Examples cited by Dr. [illegible] in:

The outbreak of wheat stem rust in this country in the 1930s was due to an unusually cool, damp spring.

In Israel, sandstorms have caused plant wounds that become havens for infectious organisms.

Periods of high humidity and rain dilute the nectar of pear blossoms in some areas so much that it becomes the medium for the growth and multiplication of harmful bacteria.

Fungi, cited as the greatest cause of plant disease epidemics, need almost perfect conditions to become infective. Many fungal diseases are spread by spores (reproductive elements of the fungus) which travel through the air to susceptible host plants. Moisture and favorable temperatures abet their sprouting when they have landed.

A spore may travel a few hundred feet or hundreds of miles with the help of insects or winds.

Proper timing of planting can help discourage infection. Crops may be planted at a time that does not coincide with heavy rainfalls, extreme heat, cold or dryness. Delay permits tender plants to mature and grow strong, in the space of as little as a week.

Oatmeal Apple Muffins

1 large egg
1-3 cup milk
½ of a 14-ounce package (about 1½ cups) oatmeal muffin mix
½ of a small tart green apple, pared and cut into 12 thin slices
1 tablespoon sugar mixed with ¼ teaspoon cinnamon

In a medium mixing bowl, beat the egg until thick and ivory color; add the milk and beat to combine. Add the oatmeal muffin mix; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn into 6 muffin-pan cups (1-3 to ½ cup capacity). Place 2 apple slices over batter in each cup; sprinkle with sugar - cinnamon mixture. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from pans and serve at one with butter.

Coming Economic Report Prompts Much Speculation

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It is a time for taking the brightest view possible of the past and projecting great hopes for the future. The process is well under way now, for the economic report of the President is to be published next month.

This document in the past has shown all the skills of the economist in assessing difficult problems and the hopes, foibles and frustrations of both the economist and the politician.

At this time last year, for example the President was preparing a report that said:

"I will also look to the Federal Reserve System to provide assistance in promoting the objectives we all share:

— Meeting the credit needs of a vigorous and growing economy, while preventing excessive credit flows that could carry the pace of expansion beyond prudent speed limits."

Cooperation between the Fed and the fiscal officials, the President and his advisers, was not one of the notable economic achievements of 1966.

Nor was the hope fulfilled that "business and labor accept the principles of the guideposts for noninflationary behavior." The guideposts were pounded into the ground by both groups.

Hopefully, the President and his advisers wrote a year ago that "those who proclaim inflation is already here have not turned over all the price tags." At the time the President had a case. He has none now.

The "bitter defense of freedom in Viet Nam" was said to carry an "incalculable" price in death, pain and grief, "but the economic cost of Viet Nam imposes no unbearable burden on our resources."

Increased spending for Viet Nam was one of the factors that made for inflation and caused the President to announce spending cutbacks.

Despite this, the annual economic report is a remarkable assessment of the state of the nation, its potentials and its weakness

In describing "the new economic environment" early this year, the 1966 report accurately posed these as the key questions:

— Will there be enough plant capacity to produce all the goods and services buyers will seek? (A matter of interpretation, but there are some indications capacity was strained).

— Can our employers find the labor they will require to man their production lines? (There were many problems, of course, but production wasn't stifled.)

— Can we avoid bottlenecks in major industries of key skills that would hamper our expansion? (There are always some bottlenecks, but many of them also were avoided in the past year).

— Can we keep a destructive price-wage spiral from getting under way? (A price-wage spiral got under way).

— Can we move ahead with Great Society programs and at the same time meet our needs for defense? (A question mark right to the end. Opponents of the administration say Great Society spending should have been cut).

And what is the President thinking now? Any answer would be guesswork, but is there perhaps, a tip from his report of a year ago when he wrote:

"I am convinced that we should levy higher taxes rather than accept inflation — which is the most unjust and capricious form of taxation."

Offices Are Assigned To Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas' four freshmen congressmen got their office assignments Monday, with two Democrats and one Republican drawing quarters in the middle-aged Longworth Office Building and Democrat Abraham Kazen of Laredo assigned to the old Cannon Building.

The Laredo representative-elect got room 451 in the Cannon Building, a 60-year-old structure that is the oldest of the three House office buildings, in an informal lottery among incoming freshman congressmen.

Kazen asked House doorkeeper William (Fishbait) Miller to pick a number for him and Miller pulled out No. 44. Only 63 suites were involved in the drawing.

Other assignments of the Texas freshmen congressmen-elect:

Robert Price, Pampa Republican, who had a proxy-drawn number of 3, was assigned room 1323 on the third floor of the Longworth Building.

Bob Eckhardt, Houston Democrat, got suite 1741 in Longworth and George Bush, Houston Republican, suite 1219 in Longworth.

About half of the 23-member Texas House delegation will be in the new Rayburn Building, where they were assigned last session on the basis of seniority. The others will be in the Cannon and Longworth buildings.

Late Crops Need Rain

AUSTIN (AP)—Dry weather is beginning to hamper winter wheat prospects and range conditions in Texas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Monday.

The department added that last week's generally mild, dry weather pushed harvest of cotton and other late crops toward completion.

"Rain is urgently needed in all areas to ease developing drought conditions," the department's weekly crop-weather report said.

Cotton harvest is 90 per cent finished statewide, sorghum combining is complete and peanut digging is nearing its end.

Wheat prospects have faded with declining soil moisture, the report said, and oat seeding has slowed to a virtual standstill.

Light frost in the Lower Rio Grande Valley did little damage to fall vegetables. Peppers, cabbage, lettuce and tomatoes moved from the Valley, and squash, green onions, cucumbers and mixed greens also are available.

Freezing temperatures damaged the fall tomato crop at Laredo.

Ranges and pastures continued to fade and are not producing any new growth. Supplemental feeding is necessary to maintain livestock in good condition, the report said.

Alabama Foregoes Inaugural Rall

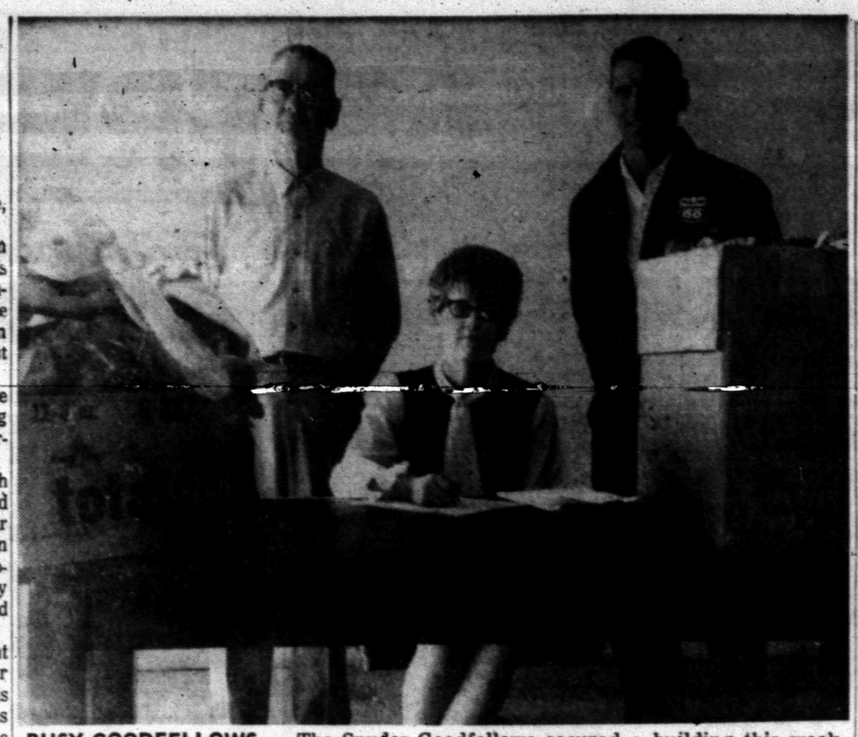

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—There will be no inaugural ball next month when Lurleen Wallace becomes governor of Alabama.

John Pemberton, chairman of inauguration day planning, said Monday that "due to the cost of the commitment in Viet Nam, with many of our native sons involved, it has been decided that it would be inappropriate to have an inaugural ball this year."

Pemberton said the inaugural parade and ceremony Jan. 16 would be dedicated to "all Alabama servicemen who are fighting in defense of our state and nation."

Aged Elephant Dies

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Mandjula, believed to be the oldest elephant in Europe, was found dead in her enclosure at the Zurich Zoo today.

BUSY GOODFELLOWS — The Snyder Goodfellows secured a building this week for their operations. It is located just west of the Brownfield building on Twenty-fifth Street. Persons with food or clothing to contribute to the Goodfellows may deposit their articles at the building. Cash contributions are being accepted at both banks. Logging in the recent donations of food and clothing are, from left to right, T. A. Faver, Mrs. Jerry (Paula) McWilliams and I. E. Martin, chairman.

Panel Holds Hearing On Waste Pits

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission scheduled a hearing today on whether earthen salt water pits to dispose of oil field wastes should be banned statewide.

Representatives of several associations of independent oil and gas producers were expected either to oppose such an order or to ask that it not impose too tight restrictions.

Some oilmen expected the testimony to last two or three days.

Forty-three counties now are covered by commission orders banning salt water disposal pits. Many of these orders are for the area overlying the Ogallala formation, a major water supply source for the Panhandle and South Plains.

The state action committee discussed the possibility of a statewide no-pit order at a meeting Monday. The committee is a loosely-knit organization that includes the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association, Permian Basin Petroleum Associahion, West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association and North Texas Oil and Gas Association.

Committee Chairman Tom Gordon, Abilene, resigned and was succeeded by Netum Steed, Wichita Falls, and E. Bruce Street, Graham, who were elected co-chairmen.

Several who spoke at the meeting said they thought the commission would adopt some sort of statewide no-pit order as evidence of good faith in regulating oil field brine disposal.

The commission has exclusive jurisdiction over such regulation, a District Court ruled recently. The court voided all no-pit orders issued by the Texas Water Pollution Control Board.

TRAVIS-LAMAR MIX-UP — Ricky Glasscock of Travis 9th, 42, is challenged by an unidentified player as he tries to work the ball in for a score in junior high basketball action last night. Other Travis players identifiable are Wesley Bishop, 40, and Jim Patrick, 50. For Lamar, Randy Levens, 45, and Larry Greene, 21, are in the action .Travis won the game, 37-35.

Travis Tips Lamar Ninth Grade, 37-35

Boy Howdy!

That was a close basketball game between the Lamar and Travis 9th graders in the high school gym Monday night. It went right down to the final buzzer before Travis could claim a hard earned 37-35 decision. The 8th grade game was not near as close as the Lamar lads took a 46-28 verdict.

Travis led in the 9th grade game since early in the first quarter, but their margin was never more than six points as Lamar kept hanging in there. Every time Travis threatened to break the game open, Lamar would counter with another basket to stay within range.

The Texans kept creeping up on the Blue Devils and they caught them in the 4th frame with less than a minute remaining as Phil Ator dunked in the first of two free throws to knot the count at 35-35. His second shot missed.

Then, with 20 seconds remaining, Dennis Carlton tucked away the win for the Blue Devils with two gratis tosses that found the mark. It was the first time he had scored since the first quarter when he dunked in a floor shot, but the free throws couldn't have come at a more opportune time.

Lamar lost the game at the free throw line, hitting only 5 of 20.

Wesley Bishop was outstanding for Travis. He was the leading scorer of the game with 14 points. Lee McNair captured scoring laurels for Lamar with 10 points. Other Travis scorers: Jim Patrick 9, Merce Hernandez 5, Ricky Glasscock 5, and Carlton 4. Other Lamar scorers: Billy Bowden 8, Randy Levens 7, Larry Green 5, and Phil Ator 5.

Steve Dillaha paced the Lamar 8th attack with nine points, although Travis' Stewart Sims won high point honors for the game with 10 points.

Lamar 8th took a 14-6 lead in the first quarter, increased it to 27-14 at halftime and coasted in from a 39-28 padding going into the final frame.

Other scorers for Lamar 8th: Stewart 8, Wall 6, Cooper 6, Carter 5, Falls 4, Thompson 3, Shearburn 2, Weaver 2, and Wildon 1.

Other scorers for Travis 8th: Pinkerton 7, Harless 3, Mata 3, Clay 2, Pitts 2, and Davis 1.

TRAVIS 9th (37) — Patrick 2-5-9; Bishop 7-0-14; Carlton 1-2-4; Hernandez 1-3-5; Glasscock 2-1-5; totals 13-11-37.

TRAVIS 8th (28) — Sims 2-6-10; Harless 1-1-3; Mata 0-3-3; Pinkerton 2-3-7; Clay 0-2-2; Davis 0-1-1; Pitts 1-0-2; totals 5-18-28.

Clay Bout Set In Dome

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay will defend his world's heavy weight boxing championship Feb. 6 in the Astrodome against challenger Ernie Terrell.

The official signing for Clay's second appearance in the Houston stadium took place in New York City today with the simultaneous announcement at a Houston news conference.

The fight will be promoted by Astrodome Championship Enterprises, Inc., a new organization wholly owned by the Houston Sports Association, which owns the Houston Astro baseball club and has a 40-year lease on the Astrodome.

A record indoors crowd of 35,460 saw Clay score a third round technical knockout over Cleveland Williams in a Nov. 14 title fight in the Astrodome.

The Clay - Williams fight was promoted by Earl Gilliam of Texas Boxing Enterprises. Gilliam attended today's news conference in Houston but it had not been announced what role he would play in the Feb. 6 fight.

Bruins Replace Miners As No. 1

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor's sensational debut as a college pivotman has given powerful UCLA an early stranglehold in The Associated Press basketball ratings.

The Bruins, who drubbed Southern California 105-90 in their season opener behind a 56-point spree by 7-foot-1 soph Alcindor, top The AP's national poll by an overwhelming margin.

A somewhat shaky leader in last week's pre-season poll, UCLA drew 32 of 34 first-place votes in this week's ballot of sports writers and broadcasters. The Bruins, who led runnerup Texas Western by 20 points a week ago, hold a 337-288 point bulge today over the defending NCAA champions.

Texas Western romped to two victories last week and retained its second-place edge over Kentucky, which opened with a 104-84 triumph over Virginia. The Miners drew one of the remaining first-place votes while fourth-ranked Louisville received the other.

Louisville, a 99-81 winner over Georgetown in its opener, moved up one notch from fifth, replacing Duke.

The vote was based on results of games through last Saturday night and the ballots all were in before Illinois stunned Kentucky 98-97 in overtime and Michigan knocked off Houston 86-73 Monday night.

Chiefs Win Big With Little Hank Stram

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Hank Stram, coach of Kansas City's western AFL champs, was in Gary, Ind., speaking at his old high school's 1959 football banquet when Lamar Hunt, a young Texas oilman, phoned requesting an interview for a head coaching job in the new league.

This was the beginning of Stram's association with the fledging club in the league Hunt and his friends organized. It led to an AFL crown at Dallas in 1962, a nosedive when the club moved here in 1963 and now the first major professional sports crown in the city's history.

It could lead to a date in the first Super Bowl with the National Football League champ, the result of the AFL-NFL merger Hunt instigated.

Stram had two head college coaching offers pending when Hunt called. He had 12 years experience as an offensive coach at Purdue, SMU, Notre Dame and Miami. Stram jumped at the chance for a pro job. He had been using pro-style attacks as an assistant.

"It never even occurred to me that the AFL might fold," he said.

After the club's collapse in 1963, Hunt made public a five-year contract Stram had signed after the 1962 title year, then commented:

"Hank is the best coach in football, a great leader and a wonderful person. He can be our coach as long as he wants to."

Stram often was maligned as the Chiefs were hit by key injuries during 7-7 and 7-5-2 finishes the past two seasons.

Kansas City was frequently described and written about as a club with the best talent and personnel in the game.

It wasn't true, although the Chiefs did have gifted individuals. In fact, the club had serious flaws in the absence of a deep-pass threat at flanker and the lack of outside running speed.

Olympic sprinter Stone Johnson might have been the answer but he died before the 1963 season. This year, with flanker Otis Taylor and running backs Bert Coan and Mike Garrett, the club has the speed it needed.

Now the 42-year-old Stram is gaining recognition as one of football's most astute coaches, the inventor of the triple stack defense the play-action pass and the moving pocket. Players the little guy was rapped for sticking with are having a big year.

Tech, H-SU Frosh Vie Here Friday

Saturday games on the winners bracket side of the schedule are set for 11 a.m., 12:30 p.m., 6:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. while Consolation tilts are slated to begin at 8 a.m., 9:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

A highlight of the tournament will be a battle between the Texas Tech Freshmen and the Hardin - Simmons Freshmen Friday night. The tipoff is set for 6:30 o'clock.

Coach Ned Underwood, tournament director, predicted one of the best tournaments ever to be held here.

Patterson Joins Royal

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — P. M. (Pat) Patterson, who built an outstanding record in eight years as head coach of Tascosa High School here, is going to the University of Texas to be an assistant to Darrell Royal.

Patterson, whose team last week was eliminated in the quarterfinals of the state schoolboy race, resigned Monday night.

The Tascosa school board accepted "with regrets."

Patterson had been with the school since it opened nine years ago, being assistant coach the first year and succeeding Bill Ellington as head coach the second. Ellington also went to the University of Texas coaching staff.

In his eight years at Tascosa, Patterson's teams won 69, lost 17 and tied 3 games, winning the district championship three of the last four years. Tascosa went to the state semifinals in 1963 and 1964, losing each time to Garland, the eventual state champion.

Pledges 110 Per Cent

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Maury Wills, fresh from a goose hunting trip near Spokane, Wash., has promised the Pittsburgh Pirates 110 per cent effort in the coming baseball season.

"I'll be at spring training and ready to go. I will give the Pirates 110 per cent effort," Wills was quoted Monday by Joe Brown, Pittsburgh's general manager.

Shortly after he was traded by the Los Angeles Dodgers last week, Wills said he wasn't sure if he would play for the Pirates.

Brown, who worked out the trade for Wills, reported he had a "splendid" telephone conversation with Wills.

Next Thursday at Lamar, the Travis Blue takes on the Lamar Grey, and the Lamar Red tangles with the Travis White.

Purchase Reds For $7 Million

By JAAN KANGILASKI

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — William Orville DeWitt, the only general manager ever to have had pennant winners in both major leagues, has bowed out as owner-president of the Cincinnati Reds in favor of a group of local investors.

Francis L. Dale, publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer, announced Monday night his group has bought all the baseball team's stock for $7 million and will sign a 40-year lease with the city to help Cincinnati build a new riverfront stadium.

DeWitt, a baseball veteran who four years ago bought the Reds for a reported $4.6 million, will continue running the club until the deal is approved by the National League, probably some time in January. Manager Dave Bristol and the Reds' front office staff also will continue in their jobs.

The new manager will have a "pretty free hand," Dale said.

"Our interest is to keep the Reds in Cincinnati and make sure that city gets the new riverfront stadium," Dale said.

The 43-million stadium would serve as home for both the Reds and a professional football team the city hopes to get, but at present the financing is still unsettled.

Most Reds fans welcomed the change of ownership. The Reds won a pennant in their first year under DeWitt, but the portly, executive's popularity plunged this year.

The Reds ended up on the short end of an off-season trade that sent slugging star Frank Robinson to Baltimore in return for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and rookie outfielder Dick Simpson. None of them helped the Reds much and the team wound up in seventh place while Robinson won the American League batting crown and led the Orioles to a world championship.

DeWitt had come to Cincinnati as general manager on Nov. 2, 1960. He took over the club's operations after industrialist-owner Powell Crosley Jr.'s death in March 1961. On April 5, 1962, DeWitt bought the Reds from a charitable trust set up under the industrialist's will.

SWC 5's Fall Again

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference started off its second week by losing three more intersectional basketball games Monday night.

Rice took a 76-72 locking from Florida State, Texas A&M fell to Memphis State 66-56 and Texas was downed 82-80 by Mississippi.

At least the games are getting closer but the season record still is mighty poor. The league has won only two of 13 intersectional tests.

It has a chance at four more tonight. Southern Methodist, the championship favorite, plays Oklahoma City University at Dallas in the headliner.

KINDA MAKES A FELLA NERVOUS!

Did Mankind Learn Enough From Big World War II?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-five years ago Wednesday was a gray day, cold, even in Louisiana. I was fishing in Salt Bayou, 30 miles from New Orleans, with a man who had taught English in some of the best schools in the East. He had an elegant touch, even toward fish. But we didn't catch any.

And when the sun began to dissolve behind the trees we went across the bayou, into the channel with the tall grass, keeping the outboard motor low. We pulled up at the wharf near Big Sam's boathouse. The little man who worked for him came skipping and hopping down to see us.

"This place is loaded with crappies," he said. "You ought to try them." We did. He kept telling us where they were: here, there, there. But we didn't get any. We were shaking in the cold. The sun was gone. We packed up and went up to the boathouse.

Big Sam was there, behind the counter where he sold soft drinks and sandwiches. But he hardly said hello to us. He was looking up at a radio on a shelf on the wall, and listening. There were two strangers there, too, looking up and listening.

And the voice on the radio was saying the Japanese had sunk the battleship Arizona. We thought we had come in late on a program. I asked Sam what the program was. He said there was no program. He said the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor. I asked him if he was kidding. He said: "No, just listen." The voice was saying more.

I looked at the little man who had been jumping up and down about the crappies. I asked him: "Did you know about the Japanese when you came down to the dock?" He said: "Yes." I said: "Why didn't you tell us?" He said: "I never thought about it."

The English teacher and I listened a few minutes more. We walked out into the dark cold. Then, and I don't know why, we suddenly shook hands as if we were saying goodbye to each other or to something. And one of us said: "This is where our lives change." And they did. And, while the little man who liked crappies forgot about Pearl Harbor, practically nobody else has, ever since, or could.

There were a lot of changes. For, while trying to blow up Pearl Harbor was just a part of World War II, what really blew up was the roof of a world which then became a mixed bag of blessings and dismay for the next quarter of a century.

Until the big war, for most people the world had been a lifelong journey through a dismal swamp where, except for Japan, almost every country in Asia and Africa was centuries behind the times, held in outright thralldom by the big powers of the West, or under the Western thumb.

The war brought changes as fantastic as the age of exploration. Everywhere new nations were born with a chance for the first time to achieve their own ecstasy or agony.

Has man learned much from World War II? Not much, basically. In many ways he has only rearranged the furniture.

Japan was denuded of its acquisitions, forced back into its home islands. The vast Germany of Hitler was split in half. But the allies split in half, too. The Soviet Union is now the antagonist of the West. And Japan and West Germany, more prosperous now than in all their history, are the friends and proteges of the United States.

Through the bankruptcy of power that the war brought, many people and nations acknowledged grudgingly the rights of others to freedom, justice and dignity only in turn to see the newly freed turn cannibals on themselves and the rights of neighbors.

Millions of men, illiterate and hungry, still trudge the dismal swamp of existence. Nations get tangled, as before, in stupidity and cupidity. The biggest powers live behind a burglar alarm system of radar screens and missiles.

And there is no one alive able to predict whether man suffered enough or learned enough from World War II to avoid World War III.

A Junior Editors Quiz About HEAT EXPANSION

QUESTION: If the lid of a jar is stuck and you heat it, it comes off. Why?

ANSWER: When an optician wants to remove the lens from a pair of plastic eyeglasses, he heats the part of the frame around the lens and soon is able to lift the end out. This works according to the same principle as the heated jar lid.

The principle is that heat expands most solid objects, making them larger. The expansion is caused by the fact that heat makes the molecules of which the object is composed move faster. The faster they move, the more space they need to move in, so the object expands. As the metal jar ring expands or grows larger under the hot water, it naturally has a larger hole where it fits around the jar. The larger hole makes it easy to unscrew the lid from the jar underneath. You can find a good example of heat expanding solids if you take a close look at a concrete sidewalk. These are usually made of sections with cracks between. When it's hot, the cracks prevent the concrete from breaking by expansion.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find other examples of solid things being expanded by heat. 12-6

Jumping To Conclusions With Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Women act their best in December and look their worst in February.

Men who are always showing off a new, gadgety kind of cigarette lighter are probably making up for the fact that on some Christmas long ago they didn't get the bright new sled they wanted.

If a fellow hasn't learned by the age of 40 to keep his socks from looking sloppy, he probably never will.

The giraffe, as well as the helicopter, looks like something designed by a committee.

Religious architecture has now progressed to the point where it is difficult, in driving along a highway, to tell a new church from a ski lodge or another quaint cathedral of the hamburger. There may be some poetic justice in this, however, for certainly a roadside church is the oldest form of refreshment stand.

When a woman is worried about something, she buys a new hat. A man in the same plight usually gets his shoes shined.

John O'Hara still writes the most readable prose of any American novelist — but, like life itself, it sometimes leaves you with the unsatisfied feeling it hasn't quite made a point.

A child can get more pure joy out of an icicle than a grownup can from a $1,000 bill.

There are few things more femininely appealing about a girl than seeing her, after she's cooked you a good meal pick a few breadcrumbs absent-mindedly from the table and eat them as she talks to you. That's the kind of girl every man should marry.

The worst thing about a cat is that it always curls up and dozes in the chair or sofa next to the only lamp in the house that is fit to read by.

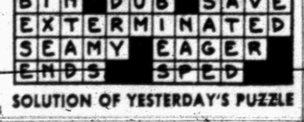

The chief blessing of the electric typewriter is that it makes it easier for stenographers to get their personal correspondence written on company time.

The dullest men in any office are those who invariably wear a white shirt to work. A striped or colored shirt on a man is a sign that he isn't altogether a victim of custom, formula, and a fixed routine.

Nothing divides the world into friend or foe more quickly than a third martini.

Anybody looks more important if he's carrying a Christmas tree home.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provide by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

* * *

Question — I'm buying savings bonds for my son's education. How should I register them to avoid paying tax on them myself?

Answer — If the bonds are issued in your son's name then he is liable for the tax not yourself. However, if you son is listed as co-owner with you then you are liable for the tax on the interest.

Question — What do you consider as "income producing property"?

Answer — This is property purchased to produce income and not for personal use. Examples are stocks, bonds, rental property.

Question — Are gifts of food to a Thanksgiving drive considered deductible?

Answer — Generally you may deduct the cost of the food when it is given to a qualified organization like a church. Food given to an individual is not a deductible contribution.

Question — Do you have to wait until the end of the year to file a return? I go to school full time and just work in the summer.

Answer — Federal income tax returns cannot be filed until the close of the taxable year.

Question — Aren't tickets to a charity ball deductible? Someone told me that only part of the cost was allowed as a deductible contribution.

Answer — The portion of the ticket price that represents a contribution will be considered deductible. This is the amount above what it would normally cost to attend such an event.

For example, suppose you spent $10 for a dinner given for charity. If the comparable value of the dinner served was $3.50, then you may list $6.50 as the amount contributed to charity.

The sponsor of a charitable event should be able to tell you how much may be deducted.

Question — My mother becomes eligible for Social Security benefits this month. Will I lose her as a dependent this year, I've been her sole support.

Answer — Since the year is nearly over it is doubtful that any Social Security benefits she might spend for her support would disqualify her as your dependent for this tax year. assuming that your mother otherwise qualifies as your dependent, the Social Security benefits and any other amounts she spends on her support would have to be more than the amount you have contributed to her support before you would lose her as a dependent for any year.

Question — What is the difference between an exemption and a dependent?

Answer — A dependent qualifies as an exemption deduction but there are other reasons besides dependency for claiming exemption deductions. Every person who files a return gets a basic $600 exemption. Someone 65 and over is entitled to an additional $600 exemption on his own return. The $600 personal exemption allowed for a wife is not a dependecy exemption because, for income tax purposes, a spouse is not considered a dependent.

Production Reaches Third Weekly High

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Production of crude and lease condensate hit another high last week, the third week in a row, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The average was 8,377,465 barrels a day, up 17,115 over the preceding week.

Sharp declines because of the Thanksgiving holiday were reported by Oklahoma at 597,690 barrels a day, off 38,710, and Kansas at 281,610, off 4,140.

Gains included Louisiana with 1,942,575 barrels, up 23,575; New Mexico 347,225, up 3,575, and Texas 2,880,175 up 19,825.

Longshot Wins Office Sweepstakes

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nearest thing to a national sweepstakes has been run on Capitol Hill and a long shot romped home.

The event was the biennial drawing among freshman members of the House of Representatives for office suites.

The slip marked "Number 1" entitling bearer to first choice went Monday to the newcomer who will bring up the rear of the alphabetical roll call in the new Congress, Rep.-elect John M. Zwach, R-Minn. He wasn't even there; an aide drew for him.

What Zwach won, however, was first choice among frankly bottom-drawer alternatives. Seniority rules almost everything in the House and before the freshmen even reached for their slips in the bowl all current members and all members returning after a break in service had picked their quarters for the next two years.

None of the 63 freshmen had a crack at a suite in the much-criticized but much-sought-after Rayburn Office Building. There members rate three rooms each, are under the same roof as such amenities as the House swimming pool and have a miniature subway to haul them to the Capitol.

There were, however, enough two-room suites to accommodate all the newcomers in the middle-aged but still handsome Longworth Office Building, just a tunnel away from the Rayburn.

Twenty-eight suites were available in the Cannon Building, the oldest of the three House office buildings, and Zwach picked one of them. Half the Cannon building is closed for remodeling into three-room accommodations. They are expected to be prizes in future years, combining spaciousness with high ceilings and tradition.

A maze of status indexes and personal whims determines choice of office locations. Accessibility to one's committee rooms is an important plus. Corner suites are favorites.

View is important. Obviously when a constituent looks out of his representative's window, he will be more impressed if he sees the capitol than if he sees a parking lot.

Campaign Launched

BOSTON (AP) — Brandeis University has launched a $46-million development campaign for construction of seven new schools, endowment of scholarships and chairs, and purchase of added campus land.

Constable Under Murder Indictment

VAN HORN, Tex. (AP) — Alfredo Aguilar, Culberson County constable, was under indictment for murder today as he convalesced from bullet wounds in William Beaumont Hospital, El Paso.

Aguilar is accused of shooting to death his brother-in-law, Jesus Mendez, 46, the night of Nov. 27 when a wild gunfight erupted in Nick's Bar in Van Horn.

Five other men were wounded in the exchange of fire that officers said occurred after Mendez, a county road worker, slapped Aguilar.

Cattlemen Gather For Lubbock Meet

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Delegates to the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association convention gathered today to hear of new health developments concerning feedlot animals and to talk over proposed legislation affecting the cattle industry.

About 300 persons registered Monday, the first day of the convention. The association has 10,300 members.

Dr. Ray Cerniga of Porterville, Calif., a veterinarian, was to speak today on new developments in health problems of feedlot animals.

Directors Monday chose Don C. King of Fort Worth as secretary-general manager, replacing the late Joe S. Fletcher in the association's top administrative post. Fletcher, 61, died Sunday.

King, a breeder of registered Hereford cattle, will head a force of about 80 market inspectors in Texas and 30 field inspectors in Texas and Oklahoma. The inspectors hunt cattle thieves who have stolen from association members.

Association President Ben Carpenter of Dallas told delegates Monday that the meat producer has lost a big slice of the consumer's dollar spent for meat products. Carpenter said in 1947 the producer's share was 70 cents, fell to 60 cents in 1954 and was 54 cents last year.

Members of a panel studying cattle feeding procedures recommended asking the 60th Texas Legislature to write a law setting minimum standards for feedlots.

Cuba Says Women's Lot Has Improved

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban women, says Havana Radio, never had it so good.

No more of that "bourgeois, inferior sex nonsense."

Boasted the Miami-monitored broadcast: "The Cuban women of today are agricultural workers, cane cutters, mechanics, traffic police, members of the revolutionary armed forces and invaluable companions in difficult moments when the fatherland needs their services."

The revolution, they were reminded Monday night has allowed women to show they can handle heavy work.

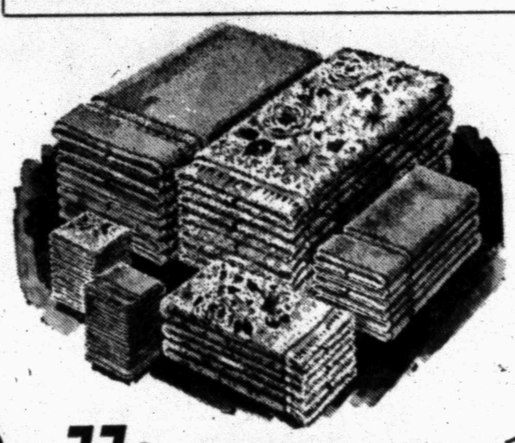

The occasion for the broadcast was a national meeting of the Cuban Women's Federation.

SANTA AND THE GIANT FIGHTER

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: A certain small boy talks of nothing but fighting giants. Sent to bed without supper he is awakened by a tapping at his closet door.

CHAPTER TWO

OFF TO SANTA LAND

William Henry Christopher Preeserve threw open ths closet door. He waved his wooden sword and called fiercely:

"Come out, giant! I'm not afraid of you!"

Instead of a giant, out came a creature small as a baby's fist. He was round and fat and he walked with a bounce like a rubber ball.

"I'm not a giant," snapped the creature bouncing up on the boy's foot. "I'm an elfite."

"W-what is an elfite?" stammered William Henry Christopher.

"An elfite is a very small elf, silly. If you paid attention in school and studied your lessons you might learn such things."

"I don't like school," said the boy. "I'm a giant fighter."

"Well," said the elfite. "I know the biggest, meanest giant in the whole world and unless someone kills that giant he is going to destroy us all."

The boy's eyes grew big and round. "W-who is he?" he quavered.

"He is called Goko. Five days ago he captured the Fairy Queen. He means to marry her on Christmas Day. Then he will own her magic and be King of all Fairyland and she, poor creature, will be his prisoner forever. And that isn't all. Already he has captured the moon!"

"The moon!" gasped the boy.

"You have noticed there has been no moon in the sky for the past three nights? Goko snatched it and hid it away. He means to take down the sun and stars, too. He doesn't like things higher than he, you see. And when Santa and his reindeer fly on Christmas eve Goko has vowed to bring them down, too. And that, my boy, will be the end!"

"But, why doesn't Santa do something?"

"He has tried. He turned himself into a mouse and visited the Fairy Queen. He hoped to gnaw away her ropes and then himself destroy the giant. But the Queen said it would take more than fairy magic to save them."

"What then? What would it take?"

"The Queen said if there were a real live boy on earth who believed in giants and fairies and such then he might save them."

"I-I believe in giants!" cried William Henry Christopher.

"I know," said the elfite. "That is why I have come to you."

"Do—do you think I could slay Goko?"

"What do you think? asked the elfite.

The boy sighed. What if he tried and failed? What would happen to Santa and the Fairy Queen and the moon and everything then? Giant killing was an AWFUL responsibility.

But where else would the elfite find a boy who even believed in giants? He himself was the only one he knew of. So it was up to him.

"I can do it," he said, trying to keep his voice steady.

He put on his wraps, stuck his sword in his belt and climbed half way out the window. The elfite bounced up beside him and said gravely, "From now on you'll be known as Billy the Giant Fighter"

"Billy the Giant Fighter," the boy whispered to himself. It had a strong and sturdy sound. He began to feel braver.

He dropped out of the window and the elfite bounced down beside him.

"Where to?" asked Billy as they started away.

"To Santa Land," said the elfite. "Santa will show you the way."

13 Finalists In Speaking Contest

Names of 13 finalists in the oratorical contest sponsored by Midwest Electric Cooperative were announced this week by Don Waddell, Member Service Director.

Winners whose oratory on the subject "Rural Electric Cooperatives - Helping Texas Grow", qualified them for final consideration by the committee of judges, are: Charlotte Griffin, McCaulley High School; Bobby Smith, McCaulley High School; Paula Heathington, Rotan High School; Jerry Dean Edwards, Rotan High School; Helen Lovett, Roby High School; Steve Williams, Roby High School; Rachel Martinez, Hobbs High School; Randy Williams, Hobbs High School; Sandra Ward, Hermleigh High School; Scott Richburg, Hermleigh High School; Susie Hendrix, Snyder High School; Jim Chris Rosson, Snyder High School; and Sandra Kay Stansell, Fluvanna High School.

The 13 young people will be interviewed on Dec. 14, at the Midwest Electric Cooperative "Willie Wiredhand Room" at 7 p.m. by a judging panel consisting of the following persons: Homer K. Taylor, speech teacher, Newman High School, Sweetwater; Jack Meares, speech and dramatics teacher, Roscoe High School, Roscoe; Roy Meador, KSNY Radio, Snyder.

From the group of finalists, one boy and one girl will be selected as winners of all-expense paid trips to Washington, D.C. with the Texas Electric Cooperative Youth Tour in June 1967.

Final judging of the contestants is to be based in the following: (1) Knowledge of subject - 40 per cent (2) speaking ability - 30 per cent; (3) poise-10 per cent; (4) personality - 10 per cent; and (5) appearance - 10 per cent.

The Youth Group will travel to and from Washington, D.C. by chartered bus. Participants will be chaperoned by six adult couples.

During four days in the nation's capitol city, the young people will visit various governmental agencies and sites of historical significance. They also will visit the headquarters of the National Rural Electric Cooperatives Association, national service organization for about 1,000 electric cooperatives across the nation.

Each of the Youth Tour participants will be given a set of color slides showing highlights of the Washington trip, Waddell said. It is expected that the young people will use the slides in reporting highlights of their Youth Tour experiences to local groups such as youth groups, service clubs, church groups, farm groups or any organization desiring an interesting program for its meetings.

Oyster Beds Not Hurt, Says Officials

By ROBERT HEARD

AUSTIN (AP)—Despite criticism of a 1963 order permitting shell dredgers to operate as close as 300 feet to live oyster beds in Galveston Bay, those reefs have not been damaged, says J. R. Singleton, director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Before the department's order, shell dredgers had to stay at least 1,500 feet away from the reefs. Conservation critics of the order said silt stirred up by shell dredging would settle on the reefs and kill them.

Singleton told newsmen Monday that shell dredging caused the death of a few oysters on the north side of Todd Dump Reef in June 1964 but that the reef was not damaged. The dredges were ordered to move farther away under authority of an amendment to the 1963 order, Singleton said, and the damage was temporary.

Shell production has averaged 11 million cubic yards a year in the last decade for all Texas bays, Singleton said. Galveston Bay accounts for about 70 per cent of shell production in the state.

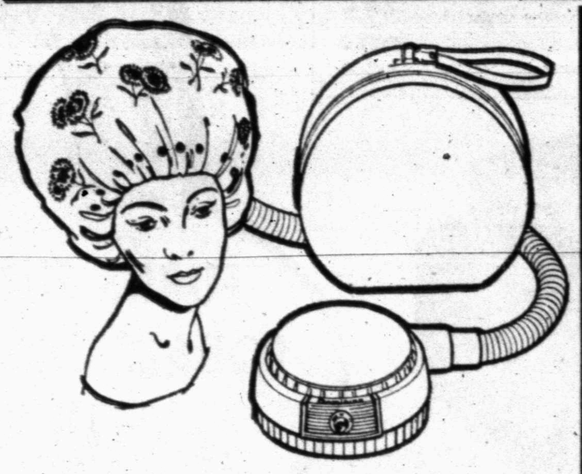

Oyster production has increased five fold over the last decade, he said. Galveston Bay also is responsible for about 70 per cent of oyster production, he said.

Singleton said he has not had time to make recommendations to the Parks and Wildlife Commission, but generally he favors expansion of the department's reef building program and he would like to see some changes in field procedures.
