BROWNWOOD JURY

Recommends Life Sentence For Bourbon

The jury in the trial of Rae Bourbon, 76, Saturday recommended a life sentence for the Kansas City night club entertainer after finding him guilty Friday night in Brownwood as an accomplice to the slaying of Big Spring pet shop owner A. D. Blount in December, 1968.

Court-appointed defense attorney William Bell will have 10 days from the time of the recommendation to file for a new trial with 35th District Judge Joe Dibrell before final sentencing of Bourbon.

Testimony in the trial ended Friday afternoon and the jury returned with the guilty verdict at 11:15 p.m. Deliberations continued Saturday morning after Dibrell charged the jury with arriving at a sentence and the life term was recommended shortly before noon.

Bobbie Eugene Chrisco, 23, was sentenced to a life term after a trial in Big Spring last fall. Bobbie Crain, 22, is presently awaiting trial in Odessa after obtaining a change of venue. Both of the younger men are also residents of Kansas City and the prosecution has charged that Bourbon hired them to murder Blount as a result of a money dispute.

Testimony in the Bourbon trial indicated that he had left about 70 dogs, five cats and two skunks to board in Blount's facilities and was involved in an argument with the pet shop owner when he would not pay for their care.

Mrs. Ruth Apple, manager of the Big Spring Retail Merchants Association, told the court that at one time Bourbon had called her to complain and said Bourbon told her he was going to kill Blount.

A .45 caliber pistol found along the roadway in Big Spring played an important role in the prosecution's case presented by 118th District Attorney Wayne Burns and 35th District Attorney George Day as a state ballistics expert said that, in his opinion, the bullet that killed Blount was fired from that gun. A Kansas City night club entertainer had said he sold the pistol to Bourbon. Bourbon denied owning the pistol when he took the stand Thursday.

Observers at the trial said defense attorney Bell had indicated that he would seek a new trial for Bourbon.

Judge Dibrell said Saturday that under state law a judge is bound to uphold the recommendations of the jury when sentencing unless he grants a new trial for the accused.

Both Bourbon and Crain were granted a change of venue last fall after defense counsel successfully argued that sympathy for the Blount family and publicity surrounding the murder had lessened the chances that their clients could receive an unbiased trial in Big Spring.

PLANE CARRYING ISRAELI MAIL HIT BY BLAST

Jetliner Crashes Near Nuclear Plant

WUERENLINGEN, Switzerland (AP) — An Israeli-bound Swissair jetliner, disabled by an explosion shortly after takeoff, crashed in flames near here Saturday. All 47 persons aboard, including two Israelis, were killed. The Israeli government charged it was blown up.

A prominent Israeli heart specialist was listed among the dead.

Albert Muench, deputy director of Switzerland's federal air office, said he was informed an Arab guerrilla organization based in Jordan claimed its commandos were responsible.

Roger Bonvin, Switzerland's transport ninister, said the explosion occurred in the plane's baggage compartment and caused the pilot to lose control.

A similar explosion Saturday blew a hole in an Austrian plane carrying a load of mail bound for Israel. That blast, also in the baggage compartment, hurt no one but forced the plane to make an emergency landing at Frankfurt, Germany.

An Arab guerrilla organization also claimed credit for the Frankfurt explosion, but then retracted the claim.

A communique from the Israeli government in Jerusalem called the crash a "criminal and murderous act," but did not directly blame Arab guerrillas for it.

The communique, however, mentioned Arab claims to have caused the disaster, and said it "serves as yet another illustration of the murderous character and aims of these groups."

The Swiss airliner, a four-jet Convair Coronado, plunged into a wooded area 20 miles northwest of Zurich with an explosion that shattered windows in nearby homes.

Shortly after it took off from Zurich for Tel Aviv the pilot reported that there had been an explosion in the baggage compartment and received radio instructions to return to Zurich. He was on his way back when the plane went down.

Some witnesses said the jet fell into the forest in flames and exploded, about 1,000 yards from Switzerland's first atomic research reactor. Others said they heard an explosion as the plane approached Wuerenlingen at low altitude.

One witness said the airliner's engines were screaming like those of a jet fighter as it plunged toward the ground.

Spectators crowded around the crash scene as policemen and Swiss investigators combed the wrekcage for the bodies of the 38 passengers and nine crew members. The bodies were strewn over the ground and wedged between the branches of trees.

Muench, the Swiss air office official, said the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine had claimed credit for the crash in a statement from Amman.

He said he understood that a pistol had been found in the wreckage but added that investigators had turned up no other evidence "to support our suspicion that it was sabotage."

Conspiracy Rioters Hurl Words, Rocks

By The Associated Press

Hurling obscene slogans and a few rocks, thousands of young demonstrators coursed through Washington streets Saturday protesting the Chicago conspiracy trial.

A heavily reinforced contingent of helmeted riot police blocked the marchers from crossing Constitution Avenue toward the White House. More than a dozen persons were arrested as police tried to break up the crowd.

And in Chicago at least eight persons were arrested as thousands massed outside the Cook County Jail, where five men convicted of inciting riots the week of the 1968 Democratic National Convention were being held, along with two others who were acquitted but jailed on contempt charges.

File Brief Asking Bail For Five Found Guilty

CHICAGO (AP) — Lawyers filed a brief Saturday requesting bail for the five men found guilty of inciting rioting in the Chicago riot conspiracy trial.

The brief, filed in U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, also asks the court to set appeal bond on the contempt convictions handed down by Judge Julius J. Hoffman against all seven defendants and the two defense attorneys.

In U.S. District Court Friday, Judge Hoffman sentenced David Dellinger, Abbie Hoffman, Jerry Rubin, Thomas Hayden and Rennie Davis to five years in prison and fined them $5,000 each plus court costs.

The judge denied them bond on the riot convictions just as he had denied bond on the contempt charges last weekend.

The brief argues that in the riot conviction there was "no basis for refusing bail on the grounds that the defendants were dangerous."

It states that—except in murder cases—bond is a constitutional right unless there is a risk that the person might flee jurisdiction or might be dangerous or an appeal is "frivolous", meant only to gain time.

The brief, filed by Chicago attorney Thomas P. Sullivan, also suggests that the seven defendants and two lawyers may have the right to a jury trial in the contempt sentences, which ranged from slightly more than two months to more than four years.

Judge Hoffman, the brief reads, was under the "erroneous belief that he had no jurisdiction to grant bail and the equally wrong notion that the appeals would be frivolous."

The U.S. attoney's office, which handled the prosecution, has until Wednesday to file a reply to the motion.

All seven are being held in Cook County Jail. The two lawyers, William M. Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass, were given a delay in their contempt sentences so they could handle appeals.

Panel Says Draft Can Be Axed By Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special presidential commission Saturday urged elimination of the draft next year and a return to the traditional all-volunteer force which "will strengthen our freedoms and serve the nation's interests better."

The 15-member commission, handing its report to President Nixon, recommended swift congressional enactment of substantial pay increases, chiefly for first-term servicemen and junior officers, and other reforms which would become effective this summer.

DRAFT SURPRISE

At the same time, the commission proposed a drastic change in the enlistment system, ending fixed tours of service and substituting open-end terms.

The proposal for letting the draft die next year, except for emergency standby machinery, came as a surprise.

Based on Nixon's campaign pledges, it had been expected that any shift to an all-volunteer force would have come after the Vietnam war.

The commission, headed by Former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates, told Nixon: "We unanimously believe that the nation's interests will be better served by an all-volunteer force, supported by an effective standby draft, than by a mixed force of volunteers and conscripts."

$3.25 BILLION

Recalling that the United States historically has relied on a voluntary armed force except during major wars and in recent times, the commission asserted:

"A return to an all-volunteer force will strengthen our freedoms, remove an inequity now imposed on the expression of the patriotism that has never been lacking among our youth, promote the efficiency of the armed forces, and enhance their dignity.

"It is the system for maintaining standing forces that minimizes government interference with the freedom of the individual to determine his own life in accord with his values."

The panel, created by Nixon 11 months ago, estimated it would cost about $3.24 billion to put the new system into effect, which would raise the over-all defense budget to more than $75 billion in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

UNREALISTIC?

While the commission of educators, businessmen, and retired generals said it had not tried to judge the size of the armed forces needed, it appeared to lean in the direction of a long-term military force of about 2½ million men.

Such a force, it estimated, would cost about $2.1 billion more a year, counting higher pay rates and other changes.

At the same time, the commission offered estimates that a two million-man force would cost another $1.5 billion a year and a three million-man force an additional $4.6 billion.

U. S. armed forces now total slightly below 3.3 million men and are being reduced gradually as the United States withdraws from the Vietnam war.

Critics suggested in advance that the commission's approach is unrealistic in that its price tag is too low and too little provision is made for keeping veteran servicemen in military careers by added pay and inducements.

MORE MONEY

In effect, these critics contend that the new plan may attract young men into the service to begin with, but in a few years the problem of holding them will become acute.

The commission report estimated that counting an anticipated 8 per cent across-the-board military pay boost, the value of enlisted base pay during the first term of service would jump about 50 per cent.

By contrast, men in their second term of service would get about a 9 per cent increase.

Laotians Flee In Confusion

Government Units Unable To Stop Tanks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Swept from the Plain of Jars by an overwhelming North Vietnanese blow, the Laotian government garrison retreated in confusion Saturday with a third of its force dead or missing.

"There is utter confusion and chaos," said a high Laotian army officer. "We do not know where the government units are, whether the wounded are still lying on the plain or whether they have got into the mountains."

The government garrison of 1,500 men based at Xieng Khouang was hit by 6,000 North Vietnamese supported by tanks. By midday the enemy controlled nearly all the plain. Officials said more than 500 defenders were killed or missing. North Vietnamese losses were unknown.

Sources in Saigon said U.S. fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand said Laos' tiny air force flew more than 200 sorties trying to stay the North Vietnamese advance.

Military sources in Vientiane reported the North Vietnamese had concentrated 20,000 troops in the area of the plain, 125 niles northeast of Vientiane.

The remainder of the 10,000-man force of Gen. Vang Pao, the Laotian commander, was preparing for a bitter stand to defend his headquarters at Long Cheng, 30 miles southwest of the plain.

The North Vietnamese opened their campaign Feb. 12 to capture the plain, which controls vital roads leading from North Vietnam. Three times they attacked the airfield at Xieng Khouang with smaller units and were repulsed.

At 1 a.m. Saturday the North Vietnamese struck with overwhelming force. Tanks ripped holes in the lines of the government forces, made up of Meo hill tribesmen equipped with new U.S. M16 rifles and 105mm howitzers.

Two Killed In Plant Explosion

DALLAS (AP) — A fuel test stand exploded and burned Saturday at the sprawling Ling-Temco-Vought plant, killing two men.

The men were employes from nearby Arlington but were not identified at once.

A company spokesman said the two died instantly.

The installation was a part of the LTV Aerospace Corp., Vought Aeronautics Division.

The fuel stand was on the western edge of Dallas near the eastern edge of Grand Prairie.

A crash helicopter carrying fire fighting equipment was overhead by coincidence, and a spokesman said, and began fighting the blaze immediately.

The explosion and fire sent a ball of fire into the air, but within a few minutes the blaze and smoke died down.

The stand is directly across a street from the plant's fire department.

Unit Of ABA Re-Examines Endorsement Of Carswell

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The American Bar Association's Federal Judiciary Committee re-examined Judge G. Harrold Carswell's professional qualifications Saturday and concluded again that he is "qualified" for the Supreme Court.

The committee chairman, Lawrence E. Walsh, said all nine members present voted to support this second endorsement of President Nixon's selection for the vacant court seat.

Three committee members were absent.

Walsh, a deputy attorney general in the Eisenhower administration, said the committee restricted its consideration to three categories: professional confidence, judicial temperament and integrity.

He said the committee also reviewed a transcript of the Senate Judiciary Committee hearings as well as a segregationist speech Carswell made in 1948 and allegations he helped form white-only football booster and golf clubs in Tallahassee, Fla., when he was a district judge.

Asked whether the committee found Carswell unanimously qualified in these specific areas, Walsh replied: "I don't think you can subdivide the committee's action."

The first judgment that Carswell, a 50-year-old federal appeals court judge is "qualified," was made last month at the committee's last meeting.

At the current session, Walsh said in a news conference, the committee "reviewed the information it has received since its last meeting on Jan. 25 and concluded that it would adhere to its original evaluation. It was unanimous."

The re-evaluation of Carswell by Walsh's committee was the center of interest at the ABA's midwinter meeting here.

The ABA committee's judgment that Carswell is qualified obviously will enhance his chances to win confirmation in the Senate. The Senate Judiciary Commtitee voted out the nomination 13-4. A floor fight is in prospect with 15 senators publicly committed to oppose Carswell.

Ex-Husband Hit With Murder Rap

AMARILLO (AP) — Mrs. June Etta Martin, 35, of Tempe, Ariz., died of a gunshot wound Saturday and her former husband, an Amarillo resident, was charged with murder.

Charged before Justice of Peace Bonita Potter was Favis Clay Martin, about 31. Bond of $25,000 was set.

Investigators said Martin went to Arizona recently to pick up the Martins' 3-year-old son. They said they believed she came to Amarillo to take the son back to Arizona.

MEDICAL CENTER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Hospital's Name Changed

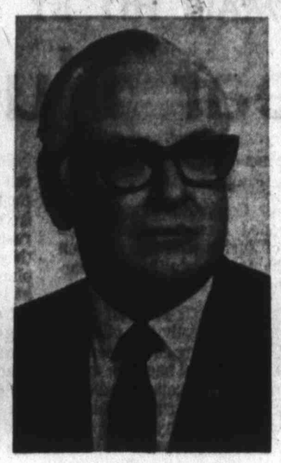
The change in name of the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital to that of Medical Center Memorial Hospital has been announced by the hospital's board of trustees.

The change is designed to help the hospital gain recognition as the voluntary, non-profit, community-owned hospital it is and has been since 1951, said K. H. McGibbon, chairman of the board. A survey here and in the area had revealed that most people are under the wrong impression that the hospital is proprietary in ownership, he added.

"The name change in no way reflects any disrespect for the dedication and tremendous contribution of Dr. P. W. Malone and Dr. John E. Hogan, the founders, have made toward the advancement and quality of medical care in our community," said McGibbon.

"In fact, if the (Malone & Hogan) clinic were not to continue to bear their names, the hospital would not even have considered the name change."

DR. P. W. MALONE



DR. JOHN E. HOGAN

Medical Center Memorial Hospital will continue to operate under the same charter, constitution and bylaws, with the same board of trustees, consisting of McGibbon, Truman Jones, R. H. Weaver, Dr. Jack Woodall, Clyde Angel, Clyde McMahon Sr., and John R. Anderson.

As in the past, the hospital will continue to have an open medical staff.

The statement by the trustees pointed out that there are no physicians employed by the hospital; the hospital pays no fees to physicians; it does not owe any debts to physicians.

Medical Center Memorial Hospital continues to be a voluntary non-profit hospital, which means that any profits do not accrue to any individual or group of individuals, but are spent as directed by the trustees for maintenance, improvement and advancement of the hospital in the best interests of the community and the patients. The U.S. treasury department has accorded the hospital a federally tax-exempt status since 1960 and contributions, bequests, legacies, etc. to the hospital are deductible.

Action to change the name was taken at the board meeting on Dec. 22, 1969. Application for amendment to the hospital charter was submitted to and has now been approved officially by the Texas Secretary of State.

The name change was initiated after consultants were engaged in 1968 to assist in developing short and long-range plans for the hospital.

The hospital was established originally in 1929 by Dr. Charles K. Bivings and Dr. Jim Barcus at 811 Main. Two years later Dr. Barcus went to Kilgore, and in October, 1938, Dr. Bivings decided to retire. It was then that Dr. J. E. Hogan, who had joined Dr. Bivings the year before, and Dr. P. W. Malone, who had been here in private practice since 1930, formed a partnership and acquired the hospital in November, 1938.

Two years later, they added a south wing to the hospital, which enabled them to accommodate 15 additional patients while enlarging the nursery, delivery room, laboratory, etc. In 1942, they were joined by Dr. J. M. Woodall, who is on the board of trustees now.

With the growth of Big Spring during World War II, accelerated by the Big Spring Bombardier School, Dr. Malone and Dr. Hogan obtained a certificate of necessity from the War Production Board and made a major addition (mostly to the north of the original structure) which was completed in 1945.

Convinced that the cause of quality medical care in Big Spring and surrounding area could be best advanced by a non-profit foundation operation of the hospital, the founders disposed of their interests to the Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital Foundation Oct. 23, 1950.

Still another addition was made to the hospital in 1962 on the south side to provide urgently needed office and bed space.

On Dec. 31, 1959, the facility's name was changed to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, dropping the word clinic. From 1951 to 1964 when the new three-story Malone and Hogan Clinic building was completed just south of the hospital, the clinic had rented space in the hospital to clinic members.

The activation of the separate clinic facility enabled trustees to embark upon an extensive remodeling effort which boosted accommodations to 86 patient beds.

INCOME TAX ANSWERS

Instructions Indicate Need For Declarations

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) If IRS has mailed you estimated tax forms, does that mean you are required to file one of these forms?

A) You do not have to file an estimated tax declaration for 1970 unless you meet the requirements as explained in the instructions that came with the estimated forms.

Estimated tax forms have been sent to every taxpayer who filed an estimated return for 1969 as well as to those taxpayers who may have been liable for one because they had a balance due of $40 or more when they filed their 1968 return. The forms are identified with the taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number just as they appear in IRS files.

Read the instructions carefully and if you are required to file an estimated tax declaration, be sure to use the forms sent you. It will assure that your estimated tax payments are properly credited to your account.

Q) I just sent in my tax return. What records should I keep?

A) Keep the records you need to substantiate the income and deductions reported on your return. Cancelled checks, paid bills, Forms W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) and 1099 (U.S. Information Return for Calendar Year), bank books and similar records in addition to a copy of the return, will be helpful.

Q) Will the amount my daughter receives from a college scholarship affect my dependency claim for her?

A) No, amounts received from a scholarship for study at an educational institution do not have to be included in total support in determining whether the support test for dependents has been met.

Q) My wife and I both received 1040 tax form packages in the mail because we were single in 1968. We want to file a joint return for 1969. Should we put both name labels on the return we file?

A) No, use only your label since on joint returns the account is primarily identified by the husband's Social Security number. You should insert your wife's first name and middle initial on your label and her Social Security number in the space provided on the return.

To make sure you are properly credited for all withheld taxes and estimated tax payments, if any, enter the name your wife used when she filed her 1968 return on the line under the address section of the form. Changes in address should be given here, too.

Q) I still haven't received my W-2. What should I do?

A) Ask your employer about your W-2 statement. By law, employers are required to provide withholding statements to their employes by the end of January. Since January 31 is a Saturday, the deadline is February 2, this year.

Q) Does the fact that a child is adopted make any difference for dependency purposes?

A) A legally adopted child is considered your child in applying the dependency tests.

Q) Last year I sent in my return and W-2 and you figured my tax for me. Will you still do this with the new form?

A) Yes, IRS will compute the tax just as it has in the past if your income is under $5,000 and consists of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and nonwithheld wages. This is explained on the back of the Form 1040 you received in the mail.

Q) Our community just put in some new sidewalks and assessed the property owners for the cost. Is this a deductible expense?

A) No, assessments for benefits that tend to increase the value of property are not generally allowed as deductions. You may, however, add the amount of your assessment to the cost basis of your property.

Anderson Named To Hospital Board

J. R. (RICH) ANDERSON

J. R. (Rich) Anderson, prominent Borden County rancher, has been named to the board of trustees of Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

Announcement of the change in name of the hospital, formerly known as Malone & Hogan Foundation Hospital, was also made today.

Anderson was named at the Jan. 26 meeting of the board to serve a three-year term.

He has been active in business and civic affairs here and in Borden County, where he and Mrs. Anderson and their four children live. Anderson is a member of the St. Mary's Episcopal vestry, serves on the Borden County School board, is a director of Security State Bank, a director of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, member of the Rotary Club and of the Texas & Southwest Cattle Raisers Association. He also has been active in soil and water conservation.

Born and reared in Lovington, N.M., where his father was a registered Hereford breeder, Anderson graduated from high school in 1946, took his BA from the University of Oklahoma in 1950.

He is married to the former Barbara Clayton, member of a widely-known West Texas ranching family, and they have four children, Sally, 17, Mary, 15, John 12, and Martha, 9, and reside on the Muleshoe ranch on the Colorado River.

Coaches Intervene In Hair Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Coaches Association, contending that excessively long hair "connotes femininity," has intervened in a federal court case involving four shaggy high school trackmen.

The association filed a brief Friday as a "friend of the court."

U.S. Dist. Judge George B. Harris, who has temporarily restored the four youths to the track team of Reewood High School in Larkspur, gave them until March 3 to reply to the coaches' brief. The youths filed suit contending their constitutional freedoms were violated.

GOT THE BEE FOR A BEE — These are some of the pupils at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church who have a bee in their bonnet for the Howard County Spelling Bee. The school finals come up this week.

Spelling Champs Prepare For Finals

Immaculate Heart of Mary young spellers are getting with it, and come Tuesday a spelling champion and alternate should be named.

Eighteen monthly champions are eligible to compete in the final eliminations, said Sister Catherine, principal of Immaculate Heart of Mary School.

The champion and alternate then will put in a month of concentrated practice and study in preparation for the annual Howard County Spelling Bee, set for March 24.

The school champs will be among the first crowned by a school and certified for the county bee. The winner of the Howard County Spelling Bee will go to the regional bee in Lubbock, where the representative in the national contest will be chosen. The winner will receive an expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., plus sharing in other prizes that go to the top spellers of the area.

Among those who have qualified to take part in the Immaculate Heart of Mary finals are, by grades:

FOURTH — Mike Raign, Billy Hurston, Elizabeth Franco, Nancy Malone, (Elizabeth won in December, January and February, Mike Raign in November, January and February).

FIFTH — Kevin Sneed, Patricia Puga, Ray Marquez, Chris Beliveau, James Malone (Kevin won in November and December, Chris and James in January and February).

SIXTH — Dan Lozano, Karen Sneed, Richmond Zapp, James Zapp and Joe Puga, Dan won in November and December and Karen in November, December and January).

None Filed In Trustee Race

With the deadline less than two weeks away, no one has filed for the two expiring three-year terms on the Big Spring school board.

Deadline for filing is 5 p.m., March 4, with election set for April 4. Candidates must be qualified voters of the school district, and any relatives working for the school district must have been employed at least two years before the candidate accepts a seat on the board.

Applications for a place on the ballot are available in the school business office, 708 11th Place. There is no filing fee and the positions pay no salaries.

Absentee voting is from March 16 to March 31 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday in the county clerk's office in the courthouse with Mrs. Pauline Petty as absentee judge.

Polling boxes will be placed at Big Spring High School and at Gay Hill School. Election judges will be Lawrence Robinson at the high school and O. R. Crow at Gay Hill. Clerks will be Mrs. D. D. Johnston and Mrs. Oliver Cofer Jr., high school, and D. M. Ray and Mrs. Neil Spencer, Gay Hill.

The expiring terms are now held by Jack Alexander and Roy Watkins. Other members of the board include Joe Moss, president; Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper, A. K. Guthrie, Jimmy Taylor and Grant Boardman.

Opera Announces Spring Repertoire

NEW YORK (AP) — Repertoire of the New York City Opera's spring season, Feb. 19 to April 19, has been announced.

Opening night will be "Lucia di Lammermoor" with Beverly Sills in the title role. There will be a new production of Debussy's "Pelleas and Melisande" staged by Frank Corsaro. It was last done by the company in 1948.

Five revivals also will be in the season: Britten's "The Turn of the Screw," last done in 1962; Shaostakovich's "Katerina Ismailova," done last in 1966; Stravinsky's "Oedipus Rex" with Orff's "Carmina Burana," last seen in 1968; Rossini's "La Cenerentola," done last in 1953, and Mozart's "The Magic Flute," seen last spring.

Also in the season will be "Mefistofele," "Manon," "La Boheme," "Rigoletto," "Faust," "La Traviata," "The Abduction from the Seraglio" and "Madama Butterfly."

MEN IN SERVICE

Army Capt. Thomas A. Welch Jr., whose parents live at 1500 Harding St., Big Spring, has received the Bronze Star Medal in Vietnam. Capt. Welch earned the award for meritorious service in connection with military operations against hostile forces in Vietnam while serving as an assistant operations and training officer. His wife, Sandra, lives in Fort Worth.

• • •

One of the Army badges that soldiers wear with special pride is the Combat Infantryman Badge which has been awarded to Pfc. Albert B. Ramirez, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan D. Ramirez, 614 N.E. 11th, Big Spring. He is assigned as an infantryman in Vietnam.

• • •

T. Sgt. Remigio Rodriguez, whose wife, Lupe, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Solis, 315 N. Fifth, Lamesa, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal for his outstanding professional skill, knowledge and devotion to duty as an aerial recovery technician at Hickam AFB, Hawaii.

Sgt. Rodriguez is now at Sheppard AFB as an aircraft loadmaster instructor. He has more than 14 years service and has served in Vietnam and with expeditionary forces to the Congo.

JOHN R. TURNER

Army Pfc. John R. Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Turner, 1026 Birdwell Lane, is now assigned to the Service Battery, 83rd Field Artillery, at Phu Bai, Vietnam. The location is near Hue and five miles from the demilitarized zone. Pfc. Turner joined the Army July 15, 1969, and took basic training at Fort Bliss, El Paso. His second phase of training was at Fort Ord, Calif., and he left Dec. 16, 1969, for overseas duty.

• • •

Airman 1. C. Truett L. Latimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Latimer, Lamesa, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force aircraft equipment repairman course and is being assigned to Cam Ranh Bay AB, Vietnam. He is a 1968 graduate of Lamesa High School.

• • •

U.S. Air Force S. Sgt. Frank D. Bumgardner, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service while engaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces. Sgt. Bumgardner was cited for his performance as a transportation supervisor at Da Nang AFB, Vietnam. His wife, Jeanette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny E. Patterson, 607 Johnson, Big Spring.

• • •

Pvt. Thomas Lopez, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Lopez, 508 N.W. 6th, Big Spring, has graduated from the Chaparral-Vulcan Crewman Course at the U.S. Army Training Center (Air Defense), Fort Bliss, and was assigned to A Battery, 4th Battalion, 1st Advanced Individual Training Brigade. During the course the trainees learn all phases of the firing and tracking systems of the automatic air defense weapons.

New Commander For Base OMS

Effective Feb. 1, the 3560th Organizational Maintenance Squadron at Webb AFB received a new commander — Maj. C. W. Van Der Linden, who replaced Maj. Thomas R. Mullen. Maj. Mullen assumed duties as wing maintenance control officer.

West Texas is home for the new commander, as he currently operates a 160-acre ranch near Abilene, where he plans to retire.

Maj. Van Der Linden is a native of Colorado Springs, Colo., where he entered the Air Force as an enlisted man in December, 1950. After he completed basic training at Lackland AFB, and aircraft maintenance school at Sheppard AFB, he was assigned to Nellis AFB, Nev. He served there for six months as crew chief on an F-80 Shooting Star before he was re-assigned as a crew chief at Bryan Air Station.

During his Bryan assignment, Maj. Van Der Linden decided to try aviation cadets. He entered pilot training at Columbus AFB, Miss., in June, 1952. During his training, he was assigned to Goodfellow AFB and Connally AFB, both in Texas. He received his commission and wings in June, 1953.

MAJ. C. W. VAN DER LINDEN

Prior to his assignment here, he was in Southeast Asia, serving at Nakhon Phanom and Tan Son Nhut, first with Task Force Alph and later at the 7th Air Force Command Center. The major arrived here in December and has served the intervening months on-the-job-training for his post as OMS commander.

He is a command pilot who has logged more than 4,000 hours of flying time. During his career he has flown the F-86D, F and L, the T-33, F-102, F-106, T-39 Sabreliner, C-47 Skytrain, and OV-10 Bronco. Among his Air Force decorations are the Bronze Star and the Air Force Commendation Medal with oak leaf cluster.

Rescue Unit Here Wins Third Award

Detachment 18 of the 42nd Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron at Webb AFB, received its third outstanding unit award recently. The award covered the period from April 1, 1967, until March 31, 1969.

Lt. Col. Roland E. Speckman is commander and Capt. Dennis D. Olson, the unit information officer, said the rescue center is for both military and civilian emergencies which require aerial assistance. One such rescue was a recovery of an automobile from a chasm, after it was seen from a helicopter.

The rescue unit in the past three months was sent to two aircraft mishaps. One involved a Marine Corps aircraft accident at the Howard County Airport, and the other the Cessna T-37 trainer crash near Fluvanna.

Spirited Voting Recorded In Most City Elections

Under its present charter, the city of Big Spring has held 44 elections to name members of the ruling body — the city commission — and in most instances, there has been spirited voting.

The largest vote in the 44 elections came in 1968, when the recount total was pegged at 3,096. There were nine candidates in the race that year, and the three incumbents were returned to office.

The lowest total vote over the years came in 1944, when three incumbents ran unopposed and were returned to office, with only 54 ballots cast.

Arnold Marshall received 1,404 votes in his re-election bid in 1968 and holds the record for the candidate receiving the largest number of votes in the city's history.

G. W. Dabney holds the record for the longest period of service. He was elected to the commission seven times and served 14 years, winning a seat first in 1945 and retiring in 1959. Most of those years, he served as mayor, and he led the ticket in all of his seven election bids, having opposition in all but one.

George Zachariah, a current member of the commission, has been named to the commission six times, elected first in 1958, and will have served 12 years when his present term is up in 1971. He had a one year break in service.

Five others have served at least four terms, including Arnold Marshall, 1962-70; Willard Sullivan, 1947-55; R. L. Cook, 1930-32; 1940-46! R. V. Jones, 1932-40; and C. E. Talbot, 1930-38.

Close votes have been relatively common, and nine candidates have lost a city election by less than 20 votes. The narrowest miss was scored by S. A. Hathcock, who was defeated by just one vote in 1926, which would have placed him on the first city commission.

Tom South lost by three votes in 1961; C. E. Talbot by five votes in 1938; W. L. McColister by eight in 1929; George Zachariah by 13 in 1966; S. P. Jones by nine in 1952; L. L. Freeman by 15 in 1932; Cecil Long by 16 in 1939, and Jack Y. Smith by 17 in 1954.

There has been an average of more than five candidates in the city commission races of years past, and an average of more than two incumbents in each race.

Of the 221 candidates in all 44 elections, 91 of them were seeking successive terms as incumbents, and 72 won election.

The Board of Trustees of Malone And Hogan Foundation Hospital

Announces A Change In Name To

MEDICAL CENTER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The Board of Trustees of Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital announces a change in the name to Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

This action was taken at the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees on December 22, 1969. Application for amendment to the hospital charter was submitted to the Secretary of State, who officially approved the application on February 5, 1970.

Decision to change the name was reached after many months of study and deliberation. Hospital consultants were employed by the Trustees in late 1968, to assist them in developing both short and long range plans for the proper growth and development of the hospital.

The consultants recommended the name change to help the hospital gain recognition as the voluntary, non-profit, community owned hospital it is and has been since 1951.

Samplings of the community at large and of the trade area reveal that most people are still under the wrong impression that the hospital is proprietary in ownership.

Dr. P. W. Malone and Dr. J. E. Hogan bought the hospital from Dr. Bivings in November, 1938. The name of Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital was adopted and the clinic and hospital were operated as a partnership until 1951. Because of a sincere desire to contribute more to the advancement of quality medical care in Big Spring and the surrounding area, and realizing their limitation to do so as a partnership, these doctors met with a group of civic-minded citizens, from which R. T. Piner, K. H. McGibbon, P. D. O'Brien, James B. Simpson, and Wayne Gound were selected to serve as trustees of a voluntary, non-profit, community owned hospital After coming to an agreement on a reasonable purchase price for all property, buildings, and equipment, the newly organized Board of Trustees adopted the name of Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital Foundation and adopted a charter, which was submitted to the Secretary of State. The charter was approved and filed on October 23, 1950.

The hospital was operated under this name until December 31, 1959, when the name was changed to Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, dropping the word Clinic. It was at this time that the clinic and hospital were separated operationally. From 1951 until 1964, the hospital leased office space to members of the clinic, until they built the new Malone and Hogan Clinic building, just south of the hospital.

K. H. McGibbon, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, stated that the name change in no way reflects any disrespect for the dedication and tremendous contribution Dr. Malone and Dr. Hogan have made toward the advancement and quality of medical care in our community. In fact, if the Clinic were not to continue to bear their names, the hospital would not even have considered the name change. The only reason the name is being changed is to help the hospital achieve its rightful place and gain recognition as a voluntary, non-profit, community owned and operated hospital.

Medical Center Memorial Hospital will continue to operate under the same charter, constitution, and by-laws, with the same Board of Trustees, consisting of K. H. McGibbon, Chairman, Truman Jones, Secretary, R. H. Weaver, Dr. Jack Woodall, Clyde Angel, Clyde McMahon, and John R. Anderson.

OPEN MEDICAL STAFF

The hospital has always had, and will continue to have, an open medical staff. This means that any legally licensed and morally qualified physician, practicing in or wanting to establish a practice in Big Spring, who will agree to abide by a very typical set of Medical Staff Bylaws, Rules and Regulations adopted by the Trustees, may make application for Medical Staff privileges and have a place to practice their profession with hospital privileges in our community.

There are no physicians employed by the hospital. The hospital pays no fees to physicians and does not owe any debts to physicians. Any application for privileges to the Hospifal Medical Staff is treated in confidence and good faith.

A VOLUNTARY, NON-PROFIT HOSPITAL

Medical Center Memorial Hospital is a voluntary, non-profit hospital, which means that any profits do not accrue to any individual or group of individuals, but are spent as directed by the Board of Trustees for maintenance, improvement, and advancement of the hospital in the best interest of the community and patients served by the facility.

The hospital has been recognized as a charitable organization by the U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service since January 1, 1960, and is not required to pay taxes. Contributions, bequests, legacies, devises, transfers, or gifts to the hospital are exempt from estate or gift taxes and are deductible by donors.

PANGS OF RESTIVE TEXAS' TAXPAYERS EASED

Gov. Smith Has Temporarily Solved Welfare Woes

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has switched $13.5 million in medical school construction funds to welfare to avoid cuts in benefits scheduled for April 1.

Smith announced Friday he would not call a special legislative session to deal with the welfare problem and promised further fund transfers to keep welfare payments at their present levels.

Unforeseen rises in the aid to Families with Dependent Children rolls, plus under-funding of the state's medical assistance program, has forced the state Welfare Board to order reductions in both categories starting April 1.

The Welfare Department said AFDC needed $1 million more in the current fiscal year ending Aug. 31, and $12.5 million the following year, to preserve current benefits.

Medical assistance would need an additional $17 million this fiscal year and $25 million next year, the department said.

Smith ordered the transfer of $7.5 million from funds for a new medical school at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, his home town, and $6 million from the appropriation for a new University of Texas Medical School at Houston.

He said officials at both universities assured him this would not put them behind in their construction schedules. Smith said he would ask the legislature in January for an emergency appropriation to replace the medical school money.

"There will be no reductions in the payments to welfare recipients," Smith said.

Smith also asked the Welfare Department to look for ways of making the medical assistance program more efficient.

"When the current season of political rhetoric is behind us, and candidates no longer can resort to the unfortunate use of welfare as a political football, I intend to further pursue this entire problem to a workable solution," Smith said.

Travelers' Alerts Out

By The Associated Press

Moist air sliding over the western edge of a high pressure wedge brought cloudiness and some rain to much of Texas late Saturday night.

Cloudiness covered all but the far southeastern corner of the state while rain, changing to snow in the mountains, fell from the Pecos River Valley westward.

Late in the night, light rain fell in a 35-mile radius around Amarillo in the Panhandle. The rain was expected to spread deep into the state Sunday, changing to snow in the Davis Mountains.

Forecasters said the rain, if Saturday night conditions continue, would begin ending in the northwestern section of the state by Monday.

Earlier Saturday, travelers warnings in Far West Texas were lifted.

The Weather Bureau said nearly all the snow had turned to gentle rain although a few flakes might be drifting down until Sunday afternoon. The drifts and accumulations from the unheralded storm gave way rapidly. Even the fog along the highways burned out.

The heaviest snow fell in the Hueco Mountains just east of El Paso and in the nearby Guadalupe and Davis ranges. Those were the areas of heavy snow warnings.

The travelers' warnings had extended to the rest of Southwest Texas west of the Guadalupes and Davis Mountains.

Nearly all Texas was cloudy and most of the state was rather chilly, particularly the west where the mercury usually was in the 30s.

Low level southeasterly winds from the Gulf carried the warm moisture that dissolved the snow and banked the clouds.

Before the El Paso Weather Bureau lowered its warnings at 11 a.m. CST Saturday, light snow showers had dusted El Paso and snow was falling in the Huecos to the east. Sleet and snow peppered Cornudas, 60 miles east of El Paso and also east of the Huecos.

Rain and sleet also hit Sierra Blanca, which was cloaked in thick fog. Rain amounts were less than half an inch.

Only along the upper coast was the sun able to break through.

Forecasts said most of Texas would be cool and cloudy Saturday night. Sunday is expected to be cloudy and warmer with a chance of scattered rain in Central and West Texas.

Moon Eclipse Drops Mercury

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — A temperature drop of 91 degrees was recorded by instruments on the lunar surface early Saturday during the first partial eclipse to be monitored by scientific devices on the moon.

Instruments left on the moon by the Apollo 12 astronauts recorded the drop as the landing site passed through a partial shadow cast by the earth. Normal temperature on the sun side is about 250 degrees.

Dr. Gary Latham of Columbia University said the temperature drop occurred in about 90 minutes. He said light intensity at the Apollo 12 site dropped by 40 per cent.

No other significant readings or great changes were recorded, he said.

Data from the instruments were automatically radioed to earth.

A lunar eclipse occurs when the moon, earth and sun form an almost straight line in space, with the earth in the middle. The earth blocks the sunlight, casting a shadow across the moon. This happens twice a year.

The eclipse early Saturday cast a deep shadow across only a few degrees of the moon's south pole region. The Apollo 12 landing site, hundreds of miles away, experienced only a partial shadow.

Dr. Latham said the effect would be like a sudden change from noon to twilight.

The total shadow occurred at the moon's south pole from 3:03 a.m. to 3:58 a.m. EST.

Suspect Woman Of Hose Theft

A 24-year-old woman was arrested in Cook's Discount Store, 2600 Gregg, after a security guard told police the woman had taken three pairs of panty hose from the store's shelves without paying for them. Total value of the merchandise said to have been stolen was placed at $8.97.

Arrest Man Inside Firm

Police arrested a local man Friday night after they reportedly found him inside the Holiday Motors building at 911 W. 4th around 11:15 p.m.

Officers said the west door of the office was forced open and approximately $100 in damage was done to property inside the building, but nothing was reported missing.

Outside the automobile dealership the officers reported finding a car said to have been stolen from Ruth Pickyavit, 804 Douglas, the same night.

In checking the neighborhood for evidence of other break-ins, the same officers found that the Auto Super Market, 905 W. 4th, had apparently been entered by breaking a rear window. Damage amounting to $35 was reported and a flashlight valued at $1.50 was said to have been taken from that business.

'Thirsty' Thief Steals Jewelry

Several six-packs of beer and a glass case containing an undetermined amount of jewelry and miscellaneous items were reported stolen from the 7-11 Store, FM 700 and Birdwell, after a patrolman noticed that the glass front door of the store had been broken around 3:30 a.m. Saturday.

Manager Tom Passmore, 10 April Lane, told police he was checking the full extent of the loss. Officers said the burglars apparently entered by breaking the door with a large rock found inside the store.

Dentists Pick Up Oral Lesion Tips

Some 50 of the state's top dentists met in the Allred Auditorium of Big Spring State Hospital Saturday for an intensive seminar on the diagnosis and treatment of oral lesions presented by Dr. Paul G. Stimson of the University of Texas Dental Branch in Houston and sponsored by the hospital and the Permian Basin Dental Society.

Dr. W. B. Hardy, staff dentist at the hospital, said the problem of identifying possibly malignant lesions is one of the most difficult and least understood in the profession and that, as a result of Stimson's presentation, many patients will be saved from the potentially fatal effects of cancerous sores in the mouth.

He said Stimson is a distinguished authority in the field and is currently assistant professor of pathology at the University of Texas Dental Branch in Houston.

Hardy said that all of the dentists and dental assistants in attendance were general practitioners and the object of the seminar was to acquaint them with this technical aspect of oral medicine so that patients will not have to wait until lesions reach the danger point before the problem is detected.

The dentists were so intent on the subject, Hardy said, that the luncheon social hour was cut short so that Stimson could continue his presentation, which included slide presentation illustrating the effects and treatment of the several classes of oral lesions.

Dr. Stevens Takes Command Of ACC

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Dr. John C. Stevens took formal command of Abilene Christian College Saturday and said it is his hope that it "will continue through the years to be a tower of strength in support of Biblical teaching and Christian living."

Stevens was inaugurated as the eighth president of the college, the educational fountainhead of the Church of Christ.

College presidents and educators from around the country joined some of the state's top ranking political figures in the regal inaugural ceremonies.

This group included the state's two senators, John Tower and Ralph Yarborough; Rep. Omar Burleson, who represents this district; Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher; and Houston Mayor Louie Welch, an ACC graduate.

"One of my deepest convictions is that we have here an institution desperately needed in today's world," Stevens said in his presidential response.

"If I did not believe that, I think I would not be willing to accept this responsibility."

In the years ahead, Stevens said, "We shall expected to explore, as fully as our talents, time and resources will permit, issues facing modern man.

"There are no subjects on this earth, or in outer space, or in the metaphysical realm which we cannot study on the campus of a Christian institution of higher learning."

County Water System Developed At Paris

STRANGE RURAL SIGHT — Elevated storage tanks springing out of the pastures and cotton fields of rural Lamar County are a new sight this winter. Their presence has spurred a new flurry of rural homebuilding, now that "city" water is available to residents.

By BILL THOMPSON
Paris News Managing Editor

PARIS — Farm-to-market roads got the Lamar County farmer out of the mud. The REA brought him electricity.

Now a unique $3.3 million water project — the first countywide water system in Texas and perhaps in the Southwest — will bridge the last Lamar County gap for "city" living in the country.

The first phase of the Lamar County Water System is 75 per cent complete. The first customers can turn on their faucets by mid-March, if the weather cooperates, and the whole system may be finished by mid-May.

Local, state and federal agencies shared in financing the unique project. Local customers started the fund, paying $50 each to join. For Phase I, the Texas Water Development Board bought $775,000 in revenue bonds, HUD provided a $225,000 grant, and the Farmers Home Administration loaned $992,000. The City of Paris paid in $50,000.

No ad valorem tax will be levied. The loans will be retired from revenue.

The FHA already has approved $668,000 for Phase 2, which will serve another 650 customers on the outer perimeter of the system. Phase 3, to come later, will add 300 to 400 more customers.

The unique "partnership" financing of the $3.3 million. So Lamar County leaders and U.S. Rep. Wright Patman engineered the cooperative plan.

Planning on the countywide water system took more than two years. Several smaller FHA-financed community water systems had sprung up around the county, but all used deep wells of varying reliability. The towns of Bossom, Deport and Roxton had their own systems, but needed additional water.

With the completion of the huge Pat Mayse Reservoir near Paris, the City of Paris acquired a water supply capability of 55 million gallons per day. Paris needs seldom exceed 15 million gallons daily, so city officials offered treated water for sale to the county.

The Lamar County Water Supply District now will buy 100 million gallons of treated City of Paris water yearly to supply the county system's Phase 1 needs. The district is building seven pump stations and ground storage tanks, plus the major transmission lines. It will sell the water wholesale to Roxton, Blossom, Deport and to the Lamar County Water Supply Corp. The corporation, a separate but related organization, is building four elevated tanks, retail distribution systems and customer service facilities to retail the water.

The 1,800 customers on Phase 1 will pay $6.50 monthly for the first 3,000 gallons of water they use. After the initial 3,000 gallons, the rates will be the same as those in the City of Paris.

The only cost to rural customers is the initial $50 connection fee, the minimum monthly bill, and the cost of their own plumbing. Once the system is built, additional customers will pay $100 to tie on.

Consulting Engineer Bob Hayter of Paris, who designed the system, estimates that Phase 1 is 75 per cent complete. McHone Construction Co. of Fredericksburg is the general contractor. The elevated and ground storage tanks are placed strategically about the county.

Already, the prospects of the countywide water system have brought a boom in construction of new rural housing. Many farmers and ranchers are investing in expensive, brick homes now that the major problem — adequate water for domestic use and for fire prevention — has been solved.

One new rural subdividion has been approved by FHA for 286 homes on Highway 82 five miles west of Paris. Its feasibility hinged upon building the county water system. Developers already had made arrangements to build sewer lines to connect with the City of Paris system.

The rural picture has changed in Lamar. Fading communities like Glory, Bairdstown, Blossom, Givens, Faught and Amherst have a new breath of life.

Paris and Lamar county leaders now envision the day when such city-type facilities will wipe away the "city limits" which often divide rural and urban relations.

With Phase 1 of the water system nearing completion, Phase 2 approved and Phase 3 on the boards, county leaders are looking to a companion project that will break the last barrier of rural inconvenience — inadequate sewage facilities. A countywide sewage system is under consideration.

CITY WATER TO COUNTY — A network of pumps, ground storage tanks and distribution centers like this one will take City of Paris water to all corners of Lamar County through a unique county-wide water system. The signs in the foreground depict the combined local, state and federal financing which made the $3.3 million project possible.

New Dental Chief Named

Lt. Col. Paul W. Sproule has arrived at Webb AFB from Selfridge AFB, Mich., as the new chief of dental surgery.

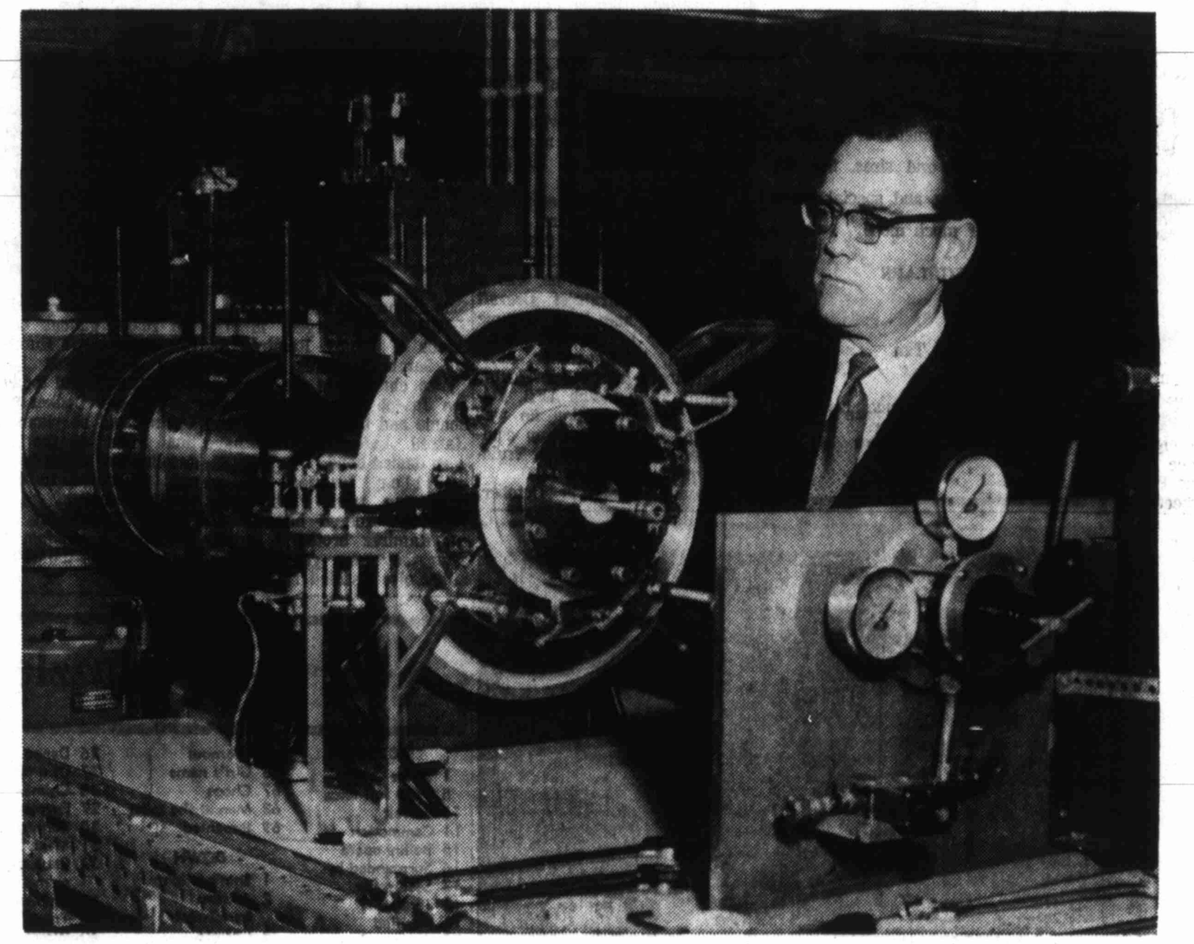
The Madison, Wisc., native began his military career in 1942 when he enlisted in the Army as a private. He was assigned to the 29th Infantry Division as a combat medic and saw action at Normandy on D-Day, June 6, 1945, and was in five major battles.

Leaving the Army in December, 1946, he entered the University of Wisconsin and was graduated from there in 1950 with a bachelor of science degree in medical bacteriology and chemistry. He later attended Marquette University, Milwaukee, and in 1954 received his doctorate degree in dental surgery.

While in college, Col. Sproule enrolled in the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force as a medical supply officer.

He holds the Bronze Star, Air Force and Army Commendation Medals, Army Occupation Ribbon, Victory Ribbons for service in Europe and the Combat Medics Badge.

He is a member of the American Dental Association, American Association of Hospital Dental Chiefs, a charter member of the rnold Air Society at the University of Wisconsin, and is a Mason.



Fastest Gun on Our Frontier

This plasma gun, which shoots heated gas ions into a magnetic field at speeds measured in millionths of a second, is part of the engineering research frontier of Texas Electric Service Company.

These experiments and other research projects of our company take the full time attention of Howard R. Drew, company research director, who also is executive vice president of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation supporting nuclear fusion research at the University of Texas.

This project's long-range goal is a new method of electric power generation that will be especially helpful in keeping a clean environment. The plasma gun is part of this research.

Other engineers at Texas Electric also are engaged in research and engineering projects aimed at continued protection of air and water quality as we prepare to meet the increasing energy needs of the future. Still others are engaged in advanced designing of facilities . . . lines, plants and substations for maximum compatability with their surroundings.

We at Texas Electric Service Company realize that the future of the area we serve, as well as our business itself, depends on progress in engineering to maintain and protect the environment in which we all live.

That's why we're working at it.

Cotton, Financing Are Topics For Seminars

County Agent Paul Gross will be in Lubbock March 3 and 5 for two separate seminars sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

The situation of cotton will be examined March 3 and agriculture financing will be discussed March 5.

The cotton seminar will kick off at 1:45 p.m. in the Raiderland Convention Center with Donnell Echols, Lamesa farmer and chairman of the South Plains Development Committee, as moderator.

Scheduled speakers include Dabney Wellford, Memphis, Tenn., cotton marketing specialist with the National Cotton Council, who will speak on the "World Cotton Situation;" Elmer Hudspeth, agricultural engineer with the United States Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service in Lubbock, "Narrow Row Cotton Production on the High Plains — Problems and Potentials;" Dr. Levon Ray, cotton breeder at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, "The Role of Varieties in Profitable Cotton Production;" and Dr. Robert Metzer, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock, "A Close Look at Cultural Practices for Greater Profit."

The finance seminar is scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Raiderland Convention Center and is designed for bankers and county agricultural agents. Lee F. York executive vice president of the First National Bank of Lubbock, will serve as moderator.

Speakers will include Don Workman, vice president, First National Bank of Lubbock, "Changing Capital Requirements for South Plains Agriculture;" Jimmy Seay, executive vice president, First National Bank of Floydada, "Diversification of South Plains Agriculture;" and Dr. R. L. Skrabanek, professor in the Texas A&M department of agricultural Economics and Sociology, "Effects of Population Changes on the Community Structure."

Separate special interest sessions will be conducted for the bankers and for the agents. The county agents session will include a discussion on "Educational Needs of Commercial Farmers" by a panel of county agents and bankers.

Actress, Studio Call Off Suits

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Barbara Bain and Paramount Pictures say their legal squabble over her refusal to continue in the television series "Mission Impossible" is over.

Both Miss Bain and Paramount said Friday lawsuits filed in connection with the dispute will be dropped.

Paramount sued the 30-year-old blonde last June for breach of contract after she had refused to star in the series when her co-star husband, Martin Landau quit. Miss Bain, in turn, filed suit against Paramount.

Col. John Grow To Succeed Col. C. B. Estes, Retiring

Col. John W. Grow Jr., a rated pilot, navigator and bombardier will assume command of the 3560th Air Base Group at Webb AFB this week. Col. Chandler B. Estes, present commander, will be retiring after 30-years of service.

Col. Grow arrived here in late January from Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand, where he was the base commander. He began his military career as an aviation cadet completing his training in March, 1942, at what was then Lubbock Army Air Field. He trained there until January, 1943, when he was transferred to Avon Park AFB, Fla., to become a combat crew member on the Martin B-26 Marauder.

His next move was to Davis Monthan AFB, N.M., in late 1943, where he stayed until February, 1944, when he went to England, assigned to the 44th Bomb Group, Eighth Air Force, flying the B-24 Liberator in West Europe.

Following his assignment in Europe, Col. Grow came back to the United States to Bryan AFB, where he attended the Air Force School of Instruments. From there he went to Maxwell AFB, Ala., to train in the Boeing B-29 Super Fortress. From the B-29 training he was assigned to Kirtland, N.M. in early 1945.

Col. Grow left the service in December, 1945, and was recalled in 1949 to train for the Berlin Airlift. He was assigned to Malmstrom AFB, Mont., where he was trained in the Douglas C-54 Skymaster. He was sent to Rhein Main AB, Germany, and was assigned to the 513th Troop Carrier Group, flying 169 missions during the Berlin Airlift.

In November, 1949, he attended the Communications Officer School, Scott Field, Ill., then was sent to Keesler AFB, Miss., as the base communications officer. His next assignment was in Korea as a communications officer and the commander of the 1st Radio Relay Squadron. He went next to Forbes AFB, Kan., as the base communications officer and one year later he attended a school at Waco, which led to a bombadier and navigator rating in addition to his pilot rating.

Col. Grow's next assignment took him for 12 years to the 9th Bomber Wing, (Strategic Air Command) Mountain Home AFB, Idaho, where he was a Boeing B-47 Stratojet aircraft commander and later became commander of the 99th Bomb Squadron. In November, 1965, he left there for pilot instructor training at Randolph AFB. Following his graduation he was assigned as the squadron commander of the 3641st Pilot Training Squadron, Laredo AFB.

Leaving Texas in October, 1967, he returned to Forbes AFB as the vice base commander and shortly thereafter he was sent to Thailand.

COL. JOHN W. GROW JR.

Col. Grow's decorations include the Bronze Star, Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters and other battle ribbons.

The Roanoke, Va., native is married to the former Anita Wright of Albuquerque, N.M. Col. Grow has a step-son, Marine 2nd Lt. Charles Silkwood, assigned as an infantry officer in Vietnam, and four sons; John, 21, James, 17, Robert, 12, and Wesley, 4.

Accused Slayer Free On Bond

FORT WORTH (AP) — Accused slayer Eddy Lynn Miller was free on $23,000 bond today after giving his account of the gangland style slaying of three persons here Jan. 25.

Killed in a volley of gunfire were Danny Ramirez, his brother Sammy, and his 4-year-old son Danny Jr. at a North Side motorcycle shop.

Miller is charged in the deaths of Danny Ramirez Sr. and Sammy Ramirez.

Also charged in the slayings are Joseph Paprskar, his wife Bonnie and brothers Danny and Harrell Anderson. They have been denied bond.

Miller testified at an examining trial Friday that Paprskar ordered him to slit the Ramirez brothers' throats after they were gunned down. Miller also testified Thursday.

No Rush Yet For Car Tags At Courthouse

Big Springers seem in no hurry to get their 1970 license plates, with only 5,929 plates out of a predicted 25,000 sold through Thursday.

A total of $102,587.39 has been collected for car tags, Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, tax collector, said Friday. Midnight April 1 is the deadline for putting license plates on cars.

Approximately 2,275 license plates were sold Monday through Thursday for a total of $39,378.81.

License plates are on sale in Mrs. LeFevre's office in the courthouse, Webb AFB Credit Union, Newsom's, and Forsan City Hall.

The tags vary in price according to the weight of the vehicle. Commercial vehicles vary with every 100 pounds. License plates for passenger vehicles are $12.30 for those weighing under 3,500 pounds; $22.30, 3,501-4,500; and $30.30, 4,501 to 6,000. A minimum of $5,30, however, is charged for plates for light-weight vehicles such as boat trailers, an extra $1 is charged for mailing the plates.

With the initiation by the Motor Vehicle Registration Division of the Texas Highway Department of a new computerized registration system, some confusion has developed among Howard County motorists. Mrs. LeFevre said.

This year motorists were mailed a three-part computer-oriented registration form to facilitate renewal of registration by mail. However the form can also be used if the motorist renews his license plates in person, Mrs. LeFevre said. The form can be used in place of the auto title and last year's receipt.

Mrs. LeFevre also stressed that the form must reach her office intact. The motorists portion of the form will be returned with the license plates.

Tides Dissipate

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Tides have dissipated most of the 20,000 gallons of gasoline that poured into Humboldt Bay from a ruptured barge, the Coast Guard said today.

Capt. Bob Decker of the tug Daring said he planned to suction some of the remaining gasoline out of the barge, which was scheduled to be docked awaiting repairs.

The barge hit a jetty, sustained a two-foot hole that leaked part of the 84,000 barrels cargo.

BACKSTAGE — Bonnie Oakland, Big Spring High School junior, has been given the title "backstage helper — first class" by Director Jon Howard, in the last minute preparations for "Barefoot in the Park," to be presented Feb. 26-28 and March 6-8 at the Cosden Club. "You name it—I'll have to do it," Miss Oakland says.

'Barefoot' To Open Here On Thursday

Neil Simon, at age 12, wanted to be the "greatest joke writer in the world," and Broadway audiences are conceding he has finally reached his goal.

Simon is author of "Barefoot in the Park," to be presented here Feb. 26-28 and March 5-7 by the Little Theatre of Big Spring.

"After graduation from high school," Simon said, "I worked in the mail room of an advertising agency and, to kill time, wrote my own radio shows and passed them around. The secretaries fell off their chairs laughing, and I couldn't understand why I wasn't earning $450 a week instead of $17."

In the early 1950's Simon and his elder brother, Danny, wrote for such television comics as Phil Silvers, Jerry Lester and Jackie Gleason, finally landing on the most fertile ground in the history of television comedy, "Your Show of Shows," which evolved into "Caeser's Hour."

After writing for the Sergeant Bilko series, Simon broke out of television comedy with a play called "Come Blow Your Horn." This modest success yielded him $1,000 a week and ran 1,532 performances making it the eighth longest running non-musical play in Broadway history.

In 1967, Broadway audiences had their pick of four Simon shows, "Barefoot in the Park," "The Odd Couple," "The Star Spangled Girl" and the musical, "Sweet Charity." His most recent is "Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

Local Director Jon Howard and his cast are putting the finishing touches on their version of the comedy, with dress rehearsal scheduled for Wednesday.

Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for Webb AFB airmen and students, and may be purchased from members of the Little Theatre, the junior college drama classes, Modesta's and the Webb AFB Credit Union.

The play stars Regina Portella and Kay Denny, double-cast as Corey, the kooky young wife of an ambitious young attorney; Gary MrCrummen, Paul; Al Scott, Mr. Velasco; Arlys Scott, Mrs. Banks; Russell Neefe, telephone man; and Bob Ammons, delivery man.

Lost Washington Letter Is Found

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A letter written by George Washington to his wife's brother-in-law has been found in the St. Louis Public Library after being lost for 30 years.

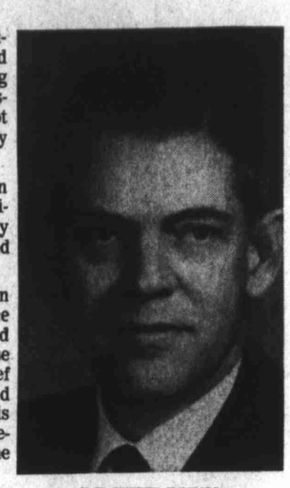
How the letter got into the library, or how it got lost, remains unexplained. Library employes found it framed between two pieces of glass when they were gathering material for the opening of a room for rare books. The letter, written July 12, 1772, was addressed to Burwell Bassett of Virginia.

De Witt Bunn Files For City Commission Race

De Witt Bunn, a former officer at Webb AFB who retired and made his home in Big Spring, filed his name Wednesday for a place on the ballot in the April 7 election for city commissioners.

"I want to do what I can to help give Big Spring an efficent and economical city government," Bunn said Wednesday.

He came to Big Spring when transferred by the Air Force to Webb AFB in 1964. He served here as operations officer, base executive officer, and was chief of personnel, both military and civilian, at the time of his retirement as a major in December, 1967. He is now in the investment banking business.



DE WITT BUNN

Mr. and Mrs. Bunn live at 522 Scott and have three children: Bruce, a junior at the University of Texas; Stewart, a junior at Big Spring High School; and Nancy, a fourth grader at College Heights Elementary. The family attends the First United Methodist Church.

Taking an active part in the community, Bunn is first vice president of the ABClub, chairman of the Mayor's Veterans Recognition committee, and a member of the Chamber of Commerce, having served on its sports and recreation committee. He has also served on the Base-Community Relations Committee.

"I feel I can contribute something to the community, as a member of the Big Spring City Commission," Bunn said, "and I am willing to do my share."

He said that military administration problems parallels governmental problems in many ways, with similar pitfalls.

"I will endeavor to represent the city with my best judgment on all issues brought before the commission, if elected," he said. "I feel the ever increasing budget must be stopped, limiting expenditures to those things the city can afford."

Baylor Turns Back Christians, 92-81

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor ended a four-game losing streak and handed Texas Christian its fourth consecutive loss Saturday night with a rousing 92-81 Southwest Conference basketball victory.

Baylor is now 6-5 in the SWC and 13-8. TCU is 6-5 in the SWC and 8-12 overall.

The Bears led 4942 at the half after the score was tied seven times. Baylor held a 13-point lead at one time.

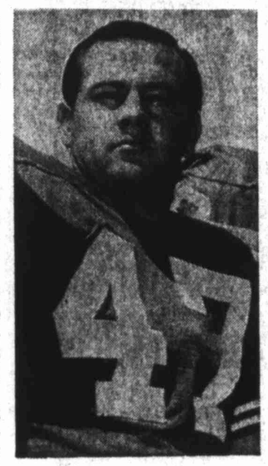
Baylor's biggest lead in the second half was 17 points—78-61 with 10 minutes to go.

William Chatmon scored 32 points, and Tom Friedman 21 to pace the Bears. Tomy Bowman got 13.

For TCU, Jeff Harp bagged 20, Ricky Hall canned 16 and Doug Boyd collected 15.

Baylor hit 49.2 per cent and TCU hit 43 per cent. TCU had 21 floor mistakes to only 10 for the Bears.

Barnes Returning As Steer Coach



BUSTER BARNES

Buster Barnes, a native of Big Spring, arrives here Monday to assume duties as a varsity coaching assistant, head coach Clovis Hale has announced.

Buster was an outstanding defensive player here in the early '60's and later played for the University of Texas at El Paso.

For the past three years, he has been serving as a graduate coach at UTEP while completing work on his Master's Degree.

Barnes will serve as head coach of the BSHS Sophomore team. He will work with defensive linemen and linebackers on that unit and, in addition, will coach varsity receivers.

Barnes stands only 5-9 and played at 190 pounds but he distinguished himself as the only "little man" to break into coach Bobby Dobbs' lineup in 1966. Among his team mates were Fred Carr, a 6-5, 227-pound defensive star who is now with the Green Bay Packers, and Charley West, who is currently with the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL.

As a player both in high school and college, Buster boasted quickness and had a lust for contact.

Barnes wound up his high school career here in 1962. He played under both Emmett McKenzie and Don Robbins.

Buster's playing weight in high school was never more than about 165 pounds.

His junior year, Buster played for a UTEP team that won seven of ten starts during the regular season, then knocked off TCU in the Sun Bowl, 13-12.

Buster is married. The Barnes are parents of one child.

Whooper Is Coming Back

By The Associated Press

Southewst of Houston, the land runs in a long, unbroken line to the sea.

To man, some of it is an uninspired vista of salt grass and marsh, its face rutted with bayous and gouged by oil wells.

To whooping cranes, it is a near-primeval heaven.

Here, man coexists with the shy and retiring crane—a very large and very grand bird gamely struggling to prevent vanishing from the earth.

Only 56 of these rare birds remain in the wild, dividing their seasons between the sullen sameness of their favored Texas Gulf Coast home and the isolation of the fabled Northwest Territory.

Another 23 are in captivity around the United States, the wards of an increasingly concerned society.

And as naturalist Gordon Hansen puts it: "We're in a life and death struggle."

In the spring, usually around April 4, the crane responds to some mysterious inner urging.

One family at a time, for the crane is a monogamous bird, they take flight from the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge at Austwell, Tex., and wing their way 2,500 miles to summer nesting grounds in the Great Slave Lake area of upper Canada.

"We're preparing now for their departure," said Hansen, manager of the Aransas refuge.

"During the period they are gone, we plant crops and maintain the 54,000 acres here so the birds will have a good food supply when they return in mid-October."

Hansen and his staff of nine specialists plant 200 acres of corn, maize and Chinese cow peas for the crane.

"So little is known of the whooping crane, especially their dietary habits," he explained.

"We had a bad crop this past year and we're having to supplement the crane's food supply. We want them to be healthy and well-fed when they leave."

Lee Evans Set To Avenge His Loss In 600

NEW YORK(AP) — A Martin McGrady-Lee Evans rematch, a sub-four-minute mile and other fireworks are expected when the 82nd annual Amateur Athletic Union track and field championships return Friday to New York's Madison Square Garden after an absence of four years.

The 27 championship events —16 men and 11 women, a fixture here until 1965, was held in Philadelphia last year where the Pacific Coast Club took the men's title while Tennessee State swept women's honors.

McGrady, the world's best at 600 yards, who only last week lowered his own world mark twice within 48 hours, has beaten Evans, the Olympic 400 meters champion, on two occasions this year in classic confrontations.

Their first meeting at the Wanamaker-Millrose Games in New York looked like an easy victory for Evans, but Grady, a Washington, D.C. schoolteacher, swept past Evans in the stretch to win in 1 minute, 10 seconds.

Then last weekend McGrady and Evans met again in Los Angeles with McGrady edging the fleet San Jose, Calif., speedster in world record time of 1:08.7, besting his own mark of 1:09.

McGrady followed this up with a 1:08.5 the next night in Louisville while Evans won in 1:08.9 at East Lansing, Mich.

The mile run features Marty Liquori, the Villanova Olympian, who has seven victories in New York, Henryk Szordykowski, Poland's upset winner over Liquori at last year's championship and Art Dulong, the Holy Cross senior, who has emerged as a world ranking miler with a 4:01.1 best this year.

Ollan Cassell, AAU meet director feels that a 4-minute mile will be run for the first time in New York since 1968 and Jim Beatty's 1963 meet record of 3:59 could fall.

Ron Cerrudo Leading Texas Open By Four

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Young Ron Cerrudo scrambled in with a one under par 69 Saturday and stretched his third round lead to four strokes in the $100,000 San Antonio Open Golf Tournament.

Cerrudo, who finished a little shakily, had a 54 hole score of 205, five under par.

CERRUDO KEEPS LEAD IN SAN ANTONIO OPEN—Ron Cerrudo, 25, of Napa, Calif., shoots from behind a palm tree to No. 8 green in the third round of the San Antonio Open Saturday. His shot landed in the sand trap beyond the tree and he boggied the hole, but went on to finish the round one-under-par and lead the pack by four strokes at the end of 54 holes. The $100,000 tourney ends Sunday.

Veteran Rod Funseth, who started the day just one stroke back, double bogeyed the first hole and finished with a two-over-par 72 for 209 and second place.

Cerrudo, a handsome young Californian, appeared ready to run away and hide from the field until he ran into trouble on the closing holes.

He bogeyed the 16th from a trap, and was talking to himself as he stomped up the fairway. He put his second shot on 17 into the galler yand was pounding a club on the ground in frustration.

But he chipped to within 10 feet, and ran in the putt to stay well in front.

Steers Place 2nd In Meet At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD — Big Spring finished second to Lawton Eisenhower of Oklahoma in the annual Brownfield Track and Field Meet held in atrocious weather here Saturday.

Big Spring won three relay events, including the four-mile relay, and brought back four trophies. The Lawton team accumulated 79 points to 76 for Big Spring. Snyder was third and Brownfield fourth.

In the final event of the day, Big Spring captured the mile relay, but Eisenhower salvaged first place by finishing third.

Coach Glenn Petty's Steer team would, no doubt, have won the meet had it had sprinter Herman Evans, who is still involved in basketball.

Evans will report before the Longhorns compete in the Comanche Relays at Fort Stockton next Saturday.

Petty and his aide, Jack Gray, took 16 of the 19 boys who have reported for drills thus far.

Big Spring's combination of Mike Barnes, Clay Thompson, Mike Hudson and Kyle Rosene won the sprint relay in 44.1.

Roman Ramirez, Larry North, Mark Jones and Danny Smart combined to cop the four-mile relay for the Steers. They were timed in 20:11.1.

Big Spring's other first place finish occurred in the mile relay, when Walter Campbell, Thompson, Rosene and Hudson combined to run a 3:32.9.

Hudson and Campbell ran a dead heat for second place in the sprint relay. Both boys were clocked in 52.4. The place was given to Hudson.

Mike Barnes of the Longhorns had a fifth in the 220-yard dash, and a seventh place finish in the 100, at which time he was timed in 10 flat. A time of 9.8 won the event.

Aggies Vanquish Ponies, 84-81

DALLAS, Tex., (AP) — Free throws by Mike Heitmann and Robert Threadgill in the closing seconds gave Texas A&M an 84-81 Southwest Conference basketball victory over Southern Methodist Saturday night and kept the Aggies' championship hopes alive.

The Aggies are tied for second place in the SWC with Texas Tech behind Rice. Both A&M and Tech have 7-4 SWC marks.

Gene Phillips poured home 34 points for SMU and his shot with 32 seconds remaining brought the fighting Mustangs within a point—80-79.

But Threadgill and Heitmann both hit a crucial pair of free throws to keep the Mustangs fro mclosing the gap. SMU is now 3-8 in SWC play.

Seven-foot Steve Niles paced the A&M scoring with 16 points. Heitmann got 15 and Bill Cooksey 13.

Phillips scored 26 points in the second haf.

A&M hit 49.2 per cent from the fied whie SMU shot a cod 36.9 per cent.

A&M outrebounded the shorter Mustangs 61-42.

Astros Launching Workouts Today

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros open spring training Sunday with few players unsigned and only one apparent holdout.

Larry Dierker, a 20-game winner in 1969, is the lone Astro who won't be on hand at the scheduled time he was supposed to report.

He's seeking a big raise on the basis of the biggest season ever posted by a Houston pitcher.

Exciting Season Of Auto Racing Ahead At Bryan

COLLEGE STATION, Bryan, Tex.—An exciting season of auto racing has been announced for 1970 by Texas International Speedway, located on Highway 6, just south of Bryan-College Station, Tex.

The season gets under way on Sunday, June 21st, with the running of the 'Lone Star 400'—a 400-mile NASCAR Grand National Late Model Stock car race. The June 21st event will mark the return of the sleek, powerful stock cars that made their successful debut at the new multi-million dollar racing facility in December of last year.

On Sunday, October 11th, a unique 'twin bill' event will be held at Texas International Speedway. Sanctioned by the United States Auto Club, two 200-mile races will be run on that date: one for Indianapolis (Indy) Championship cars; and one for USAC Late Model Stock Cars. This will be the second time in the history of auto racing that two races involving different types of racing cars will be held in one day on the same track. (The first event will be held at Michigan International Speedway in July — the sister track to TIS.) Leading USAC competitors — including famed Texan A. J. Foyt—are expected to be in action.

Sunday, December 6th is the date set for the second NASCAR Grand National race to be held at TIS in 1970. Dubbed the 'Texas 400', this race will again allow race fans the opportunity to witness 400 miles of thrilling NASCAR racing on the speedway's two-mile 22-degree banked oval. The winner of this event last year was Dodge driver Bobby Isaac—his first super speedway win in 53 attempts.

A. J. Foyt Is First To Enter

HOUSTON — A. J. Foyt, for the second consecutive year, has the distinction of being the first official entrant in the Annual Astro Grand Prix at Houston's Astrodome March 14.

Foyt, the versatile Texans who has won three Indianapolis "500" Mile races, five United States Auto Club National Championships, and is the first driver in history to ever top the million dollars earned mark, will be driving the same 4-cylinder Offenhauser powered Greer Special that he drove in the 1969 Grand Prix. The car was entered by Marvin Edwards of Los Angeles,

Red Raiders Hang On To Decision Porkers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Texas Tech's Gene Knolle stopped an Arkansas rally with two clutch baskets and the Red Raiders held on for a 76-71 Southwest Conference victory over the Razorbacks here Saturday.

Tech jumped off to a 45-35 halftime lead and quickly widened the gap to 56-37.

Arkansas then rallied, and cut the deficit to 67-66. Arkansas missed on two consecutive trips down the court and the Razorbacks' James Eldridge failed to convert a one-and-one free throw situation.

Knolle, who led all scorers with 30 points, then weaved through the Arkansas defense for two tricky layups and then sank a free throw for a 73-67 Tech lead. Arkansas never got closer than five points the rest of the way.

Greg Lowery, a junior college transfer like Knolle, added 26 points to the Tech attack. The victory gave the Red Raiders a 7-4 conference record. Arkansas remains in the conference cellar with a 2-9 mark.

Robert McKenzie led Arkansas' attack with 20 points, but Eldridge's 18 points made him the third-ranking Arkansas scorer in history. Eldridge, a senior from Green Forest, has scored 1,045 points. The Arkansas record of 1,196 points is held by George Kok.

Tech hit 63 per cent of its shots from the field in the first half and ended the afternoon with 31 of 53 for 59 per cent. The Razorbacks connected on 31 of 71 for 44 per cent.

Arkansas held a 40-37 edge in rebounds, even though Tech's Jerry Turner pulled down 15 rebounds.

Gadsby Is Ailing

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Gadsby, director of pro scouting and a former coach for the Detroit Red Wings, was reported in satisfactory condition Friday night after undergoing surgery for acute appendicitis.

BUNNING RETURNS TO PHILLIES—Jim Bunning was alone in the clubhouse at the Philadelphia Phillies training site Friday as he started his conditioning a day earlier than Saturday's start. Bunning, the no-hit pitcher as a Phillie, was released last year by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Strong Pitching Makes Lee Tough

MIDLAND — Midland Lee may reign supreme again in District 3-4A baseball. The Rebels have 13 seniors on this year's club, eight of them lettermen. These include six starting positions back plus the two top pitchers of the 1969 team which was a state finalist. Lee lost to Houston Lamar, 2-1, in the championship game of the Class AAAA championship game.

Lee will have starters back at every position with the exception of left and center field. Randy Prince, a state all-tournament selection and Mike Griffin will make a strong nucleus of starting pitchers. The Rebels also have four pitchers on the roster who have gained experience while earning reserve letters.

With a team of this stature, the Johnny Rebs should be very much factors in the zone championship race. Their west zone opponents are Midland High, Odessa High, Permian and Ector.

Their east zone opponent could be the San Angelo Bobcats, who return an experienced team.

Midland Lee has booked three teams which are not in District 3-4A. They will play Lamesa in Lamesa on March 3, Lubbock Monterey in Midland on March 6, Lubbock Coranado in Midland on March 7, and Lubbock Monterey in Lubbock on March 13.

Lee will also play each team in the East zone of the district at least once. These games will serve the same purpose as non-district games for they will not count for or against the teams when the zone district games begin.

Wranglers Keep Grip On Lead

ROSWELL, N.M. — The Odessa College Wranglers maintained their grip on first place in the Western Junior College Athletic conference race with a 89-66 victory here Friday over New Mexico Military Institute.

The Wranglers are alone at the top of the WJCAC chase with a record of 10 wins and three defeats. OC is one game ahead of Howard County, which rounded into shape Thursday night to defeat South Plains. This left Odessa the odds-on favorite to win the conference, and assured it of a bid to the Region 5 tournament in Amarillo during March.

Spade Edges Forsan Girls

LEVELLAND — Spade came back from a four-point deficit here Friday night in the Region I class B girls basketball tournament to down Forsan, winner of 11-B, 59-58.

Down by 10 points, Forsan fought back to a 54-50 lead, only to see it slip away to the never-say-die Spade girls.

Gloria Dodd tossed in 26 points and Kay Walraven 22 for Forsan, while Belinda Thompson had 29 for Spade.

Follett advanced to the finals by edging by Meadow, 50-48. Spade beat Loop in the semi-finals, 59-41. Loop led by as much as ten points early in the game but Spade kept fighting back.

Forsan had a chance to win in the final 15 seconds after getting the ball but missed a shot from down under.

Sands To Meet Buena Vista

IMPERIAL — Sands of District 13-B has an opponent for its bi-district game. Buena Vista won the 14-B championship here Friday night by defeating Balmorhea, 87-62, in the last conference game for both clubs.

Buena Vista finishes its season with a 5-1 record and leaves Balmorhea with a 3-3 mark.

Richard Cox hit for 23 points, Bill Borron hit 20, Larry Wilhelm got 17, and Freddie Esparza finished up the double-figured Buena Vista attack with 10 points. Balmorhea had three men in double figures, Raynond Garcia leading the pack with 27 points. Larry Turnbough and Manuel Vasquez added 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Coach James Blake will send his Mustangs against Coach Tommy Davis' Buena Vista club sometime within the next week. The location of the ball game will probably be in Andrews.

BALMORHEA (62) — Vasquez 5-2-12; Garcia 13-1-27; Turnbough 4-5-13; Gomez 1-0-2; Cook 0-1-1; Shook 1-0-2; Fuentes 1-3-5. Totals 25-12-62.

GOLF NOTES

Muny Invitational May Be Held Early In May

Charley Brantley, golf pro at the Municipal course here, hopes to schedule the 1970 Big Spring Muny Invitational tournament the first or second week in May.

Last year's tournament, an inaugural event, was a pronounced success.

Brantley said the course should be in fine shape by that time, if the expected spring rains arrive. The course is, of course, irrigated but natural rainfall benefits the course more.

* * *

A new watering system has been installed on the course's putting green and will be resodded the coming week.

Brantley and his crew of workers plan to concentrate on the job of replacing the frog hair around the greens within the next few days.

Bent grass will be planted in that area, Brantley indicated.

Forty new trees have been planted on the course. Workers are making good progress toward the elimination of the crabb grass which plagued the layout last year and threatened to ruin some of the greens.

* * *

Brantley plans to attend a March 17-18 meeting of the West Texas chapter of the PGA, scheduled for Lubbock.

Pro-am dates will be arranged at that time and other matters relating to tournments during the spring and summer will be discussed.

The delegates hope to get all business out of the way the first day and play an 18-hole tournament the second day

Eagles Slash Bradley Five By 83-75 Tab

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — North Texas State University defeated Bradley Saturday 83 to 75 in a Missouri Valley Conference basketball game.

Bradley became the 14th victim in a row for the Eagles of North Texas. North Texas had a 52-42 halftime lead and with five minutes elapsed in the final period, led by 15 points.

Then the lead began to melt. Bradley pulled to within seven points with less than two minutes left, but three straight foul shots by Neil Adams iced the game.

The win put North Texas at 15-7 for the season and 8-4 in Missouri Valley Conference play. Bradley is 11-12 and 4-9 in the conference.

High point man for North Texas was Crest Whitaker with 24. For Bradley, Gene Gathers had 17.

Born To Champion

WARSAW (AP) — Irena Kirszenstein-Szewinska, 23, Polish Olympic sprint champion, gave birth to a nine-pound boy early today.

Yarborough, Baker Take Choice Spots

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With comeback speedster Cale Yarborough and giant Buddy Baker holding the front row spots, the Daytona 500 stock car classic will be run here today before a crowd that should exceed 100,000.

And if lap speeds and warmup races of the last two weeks are any indication, this $204,000 gamble of men and machinery will be contested at the fastest pace in the event's history.

One life already had been lost as drivers tested their daring and the durability of their gaudily-painted, 4,000-pound, 600-horsepower cars over the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway.

DRIVER DIES

Talmadge "Tab" Prince of Dublin, Ga., was killed in a three-car wreck during a 125-mile qualifying race Thursday. Another driver was hospitalized.

Officials of the sanctioning National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing pointed with pride, however, to figures that show 1,040,660 miles of Grand National competition have been run since the last previous death in 1965.

The race also will be carried live and in color on a closed circuit network to 46 theaters and auditoriums in the U.S., Mexico and overseas.

Yarborough, who almost lost his life in a crash in Texas last December, set the fastest qualifying speed in time trials—194.015 mile per hour—to win the front row pole position. He backed this blazing performance by winning a 125-miler Thursday at a fantastic 183.295 m.p.h. It was the fastest race ever run, anywhere.

Baker, a second generation driver who has been on the verge of stardom in this exceedingly dangerous sport for six years but has only two major victories, claimed the other front row berth with a speed of 192.624 m.p.h.

29 CARS READY

The Mercury of Yarborough and the winged Dodge of Baker are only two of 29 cars in the field that qualified at speeds above 185 m.p.h.

Charlie Glotzbach, whose Dodge won the 125-miler in which Prince was killed, starts fourth in the field beside another winged Dodge driven by Bobby Isaac. Glotzbach's time trial speed was 192.443, Isaac's 189.837.

Starting fifth will be Lee Roy Yarbrough, whose team Ford won both events here last year and ended the season with seven big speedway victories and a record $188,605 in the till. Far back in 31st position will be David Pearson, the 1969 Grand National champ and $183,700 winner. Pearson damaged his car and was unable to finish Thursday's 125-miler. He was assigned one of the 40 starting berths because of his previous qualifying speed, 191.521 m.p.h.

The concensus of a panel of 50 motorsports writers was that victory will go to Richard Petty, 31, NASCAR's all-time money winner who is campaigning one of Plymouth's new winged superbirds this year. Petty has won the 500 twice.

The first place finisher will take home $44,850 plus a share of the $7,600 lap money. He also will be eligible for some of the additional $2,000 in accessory awards tacked on since the entry blank was published. Second place will pay $16,650 and no finisher will get less than $1,000.

DISTRICT 3-AAAA

Bobcats Bombard Bronchos, 98-53

ODESSA — San Angelo used its hot hands and rangy bodies to smother the Odessa High Bronchos by the score of 98-53 in District 3-4A action here Friday night.

The Bronchos could manage only 14 of 45 shots for the entire game ending up with a low 31 per cent. The Bobcats took up the slack by hitting well over 50 per cent until they tried to reach the century mark with wild shooting.

The Red Hosses were also outdone in the free-throw department by shooting only 59 per cent while the Angry Orange put 20 of 24 shots through the hoop for 83 per cent.

Odessa stands 12-21 over-all and 2-4 in round two of the district competition. The Bobcats are now 19-11 on the year and stand in with a 3-5 district mark.

ODESSA — The Ector Eagles ran hot Friday night to sink the Permian Panthers in a District 3-4A basketball game here, 96-82.

Quincy Wallace and Perry Cooksey combined to score 53 points in this highly offensive battle. Wallace hit for 14 field goals and one free toss to lead the Birds in scoring with 29 points. Not far behind was Cooksey who scored a total of 24 points during the evening.

Leading Permian was Jeff Jamison with 22 points, however, all five starters were in double figures. Lee Royce was covered well by the Eagles as he hit only 17 points, well below his norm.

The loss leaves Permian with a 3-4 district record and their last game of the season will be against Big Spring in Odessa on Tuesday night. Ector has a chance to tie Midland Lee for second place in district honors when they take on the Rebels in Midland on Tuesday night.

PERMIAN (82) — Bird 7-3-17; Jamison 10-2-22; Swedberg 5-4-14; Cox 4-2-10; Crews 2-6-10; Ellis 0-1-1; Wahl 2-0-4; Wirwahn 1-2-4. Totals 31-20-82.

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper kept itself out of the District 3-AAAA cellar by sneaking past the Midland High Bulldogs, 51-49, here Friday night. This win was their first in five league second half outings.

The press worked well for the Cougars as they capitalized on 22 Bulldog turnovers for 15 points. These costly errors proved too much of a barrier for the Purple Pack to overcome.

High point man for the night was Keith Whitaker, who had 23 points for the victorious Cougars. For Midland it was John Mason who led the pack. He scored 15 points before fouling out early in the fourth quarter.

In the last games of the season for both clubs, as well as the whole district, Midland will go against Odessa while Cooper tries district champ Abilene High.

COOPER (51) — Littlefield 2-1-5; Vanney 2-2-6; Payne 0-0-0; Burrus 1-0-2; Hudson 3-2-8; Walker 1-2-4; Lawrence 0-3-3; Whitaker 5-13-23. Totals 14-23-51.

Youth Baseball Program Will Open This Spring

Organized baseball will launch this spring a nationwide competitive youth program involving more than a half-million boys in the nine through twelve age range, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced today. The program will be conducted by Phillips Petroleum Company in cooperation with major league baseball.

Commissioner Kuhn said that baseball's official backing will mean that a substantial part of the competition will be held in major league stadiums during the season before the start of the regular games. The national finals of the competition, called "Official Major League Baseball Pitch, Hit and Throw Comeptition, " is scheduled for the All-Star Game in mid-July.

" 'Pitch, Hit and Throw' will be an excellent opportunity for youngsters to demonstrate their individual baseball skills," said the Commissioner. "In addition to the active participation, I am delighted that the competition will also emphasize baseball instruction and physical fitness training. This program will further strengthen the wonderful relationship that baseball has established with the youth of our country."

Don A. Johnson, general sales manager for Phillips, said, "Phillips is delighted to be a part of this national program for pre-teen youngsters. Its emphasis on physical fitness gives Phillips dealers an opportunity to make a genuine contribution to the youth of their communities."

"Phillips," Johnson noted, "has long been active in competitive athletics and in physical fitness programs. The Phillips 66ers was one of the leading world amateur teams for many years and the company's swimming and gymnast programs have received widespread recognition and awards."

Boys meeting the age requirement of the "P H & T" competition will register between early April and mid-May. Complete details of the program and rules, along with a booklet of recommended exercises and pitching, hitting and throwing tips, will be received by each boy when he registers at any participating Phillips 66 station. A parent or legal guardian must accompany each boy for registration.

Details of the program were worked out between the Major League Baseball Promotion Corporation and Phillips.

Cotton Bowl Will Get Ersatz Turf

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas News reported today that artificial turf will be installed in the Cotton Bowl in time for the 1970 football season.

State Fair officials declined comment but an official announcement is expected in two weeks, the News said.

Five other Southwest Conference teams already have artificial turf or are in the process of installing it.

Game Is Lined Up

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The University of New Mexico probably will make Colorado State University its 11th game football opponent beginning with the 1972 season.

Stanton Loses 57-28 Verdict To Spearman

LUBBOCK — Spearman won its 32nd basketball game at the expense of Stanton, 57-28, here Saturday to advance to the finals of the Regional tournament being held here.

Spearman was to go against Post for the championship of Class AA.

Coach Bill Jennings of Stanton was proud of his girls, despite the margin of defeat. "The girls hustled and have nothing to be ashamed of in my book," coach Jennings declared.

Spearman had been favored to take the Class AA championship this year in the tournament. The sextet is highly rated throughout the state.

High point girl in the contest was Sheila Patterson of Spearman with 31 points. Doris Howard led Stanton with 14 points.

Stanton will return nine of the twelve girls on its traveling squad this year. The nucleus of a great team will be back for the 1970-71 season for Jennings.

STANTON (28) — Howard 6-2-14; Chandler 3-2-8; Hall 0-3-3; Holloway 1-1-3. Totals 10-8-28.

Golf Game Shaken By Betting Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—Big time tournament golf, which has been free of a major gambling scandal, has been shaken by the influx of a wave of parlay betting cards similar to those used in football.

Joseph C. Dey, the new pro golf commissioner, acknowledged Saturday that the cards had been called to his attention and that details—as a warning gesture—had been sent to all players and sponsors.

"The cards are for suckers," Dey said. "I predict they will fall over their own weight."

The parlay sheets reportedly made their first appearance during the opening events of tte winter tour on the West Coast—particularly at the Bing Crosby Clambake at Pebble Beach and the Andy Williams Classic at San Diego.

Ronald Koziol of the Chicago Tribune reported that 10 of 10 the payoff is $700 on a $1 bet.

"That is a sucker's bet," said Jimmie "The Greek" Snyder of Las Vegas, who is the country's most famous odds-maker. "The price should be $300,000 for $1. To pick three men in the Top Ten under the conditions should be 18-1 instead of 10-1."

Jimmie The Greek said that while golf is the biggest betting game in the world—"if you took all the friendly bets, it would run into millions"—it is not a sport for the big syndicate gambler.

"It's hard to handicap the golfers. I don't know of a bookie in the states who would take a sizable bet on a golf tournament."

Dey, once the militant boss of the U.S. Golf Association, said that while he recognized the inherent dangers of a major gambling scandal in golf he felt that the present safeguards will prevent it.

"We are constantly reminding our players of two things," the commissioner said. "One is that they are not horses and, two, there are stern regulations against gambling in our by-laws.

"It is an explosive situation, certainly. Purses are skyrocketing. The money is fabulous. New forces are coming into golf, many not indoctrinated in the spirit of the game.

"It is a game played on acres of ground, often away from the view of spectators and officials. Opportunities to cheat are limitless. But our biggest safeguard is personal integrity. It has strengthened down through the years."

Pistol Pete Gets 64 But LSU Loses

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Pete Maravich, the nation's leading college scorer, outpointed Dan Issel in a shootout of All Americans but second-ranked Kentucky whipped Louisiana State 121-105 here Saturday afternoon.

Maravich netted 64 points to Issel's 51 in the game played before a national television audience.

LSU stayed close to the Wildcats in the first half. Kentucky led at the half 56-48. The Tigers closed the gap to within two points in the second half — 78-76 with 10:10 remaining — but the Wildcats spurted out of range and won going away.

With the victory, Kentucky strengthened its SEC lead with a 13-1 league record; they are 21-1 over-all.

The loss was LSU's fourth in 14 SEC games and the seventh in 24 starts this season; it virtually knocked them out of the running for the league champion ship.

Mike Pratt put Kentucky in front when the game was 45 seconds old and LSU was unable to tie or go ahead after that point.

Pistol Pete put on a fantastic display of outside shooting and sent his record three-year collegiate point total to 3,429.

Issel, a 6-foot-8 center, bettered his 32.6 per game point average, fourth leading scorer nationally. Pratt popped in 27 points.

Tors Defeat Dunbar Five

LUBBOCK — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes kept their state championship hopes alive, as well as their state rating, by capturing the District 3-3A basketball tournament by defeating Lubbock Dunbar here Friday, 78-70.

Lamesa made up an eight point deficit by scoring 18 straight points to give the Tornadoes the district championship. Brent Minnix, the Tors' only white starter, was high point man with 25 points. Floyd Jenkins was close behind with 23 points.

Earnest Davis was high man for the Dunbar squad with a 21 point output for the evening.

The win qualifies Lamesa to play Wichita Falls Hirschi in bi-district. Hirschi is the representative of District 4-3A.

Sunland Readying For Unique Event

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — The third version of the Open-To-The-World 400 at Sunland Park has been scheduled for Sunday, April 26.

Under the new format, the total starting fees have been sliced in half. It'll now cost an owner $2,500 to get his horse into the 400-yard speed dash.

The two previous installments, won respectively by Cee Bar Deck and Three Oh's, required a total starting fee of five grand.

Sunland Park will again chip in $500 in purse money for each starter.

The race is open to three-year-olds and up. Three-year-olds will carry 120 pounds, while older horses will carry 124. The new starting fees are broken down this way: $500 nomination fee due by April 21; $500 to enter on Thursday, April 23; and $1,500 in a starting fee, due by noon, Sunday, April 26.

Phillie Boss Knows Task To Be Hard

By The Associated Press

When you say Lew Casey is managing the Philadelphia Phillies you are half right because that's how Frank Lucchesi pronounces his name. And if you ask what kind of man he is, Lucchesi laughs when someone says "he's 100 per cent Italian."

But don't ask the man if he can manage in the big leagues. Walter Alston couldn't manage in the big leagues until given the chance. And like Alston and a half dozen other present day managers, Lucchesi never played a full game in the major leagues.

However, he's been a winning manager during most of his 14 years in the farm system of Bob Carpenter's Phillies, having won pennants the last two years with Eugene, Ore., in the Pacific Coast League and Reading, Pa., in the Eastern League. Before that he won with Little Rock in the PCL, Williamsport, Pa., in the Eastern League and Chattanooga in the South Atlantic League.

WON'T BE EASY

With all the places he has been while managing eight teams in seven different states for the Phillies since 1956 he might find that opening a travel agency would have been easier than running a National League team that finished 37 games behind the New York Mets. He will have two years to stress positive thinking and impress on the Phillies that a winning attitude is half the battle.

He is a stocky man with piercing dark eyes and looks like a small carbon copy of Joe Torre, the Cardinal catcher. Of course, he never hit like Torre, except in 1953 at Pine Bluff, Ark., when he batted .333 with 15 homers for the team he managed to a third place finish. He has managed 19 years and in 13 of them his teams have won more games than they lost.

When he reports to Clearwater, Fla., for the Phillies spring training sessions Lew Casey will see some of the many players he has sent to the majors. Ten of them played for him last year at Eugene, and pitchers Rick Wise, Billy Wilson and Chris Short worked for the 42-year-old San Francisco native before.

Lucchesi was 18 when he played the outfield for Portland, Ore., in the Pacific Coast League in 1945. He never played any higher and in 1951 at age 23 he got the message while managing Medford, Ore.

Joe Devine, the former Yankee scout who signed him, said:

"The closest you'll ever get to Yankee Stadium is by postcard. You'll get a lot farther managing."

HAS REPUTATION

Over the years, Lucchesi has been painted as a clown in the minors. But when you've worked as a bartender, a clothing salesman and a Post Office truck driver while trying to make a baseball living you've got to have a sense of humor. Sometimes Lew Casey went too far and now he says:

"Managers mature. I was suspended only once last year. An umpire claimed I kicked him."

He once climbed a light tower after being put out of the first game of a doubleheader. He was thrown out of the second game, too, and as he departed the umpire said, "And please don't climb that light tower."

Another time, while serving a three-day suspension, he communicated with his players by using a walkie-talkie. He once conducted a sitdown strike at home plate and police carried him off the field.

The Phillies will be starting out with a veteran pitching staff that includes Rick Wise, Grant Jackson, Woodie Fryman, Dick Selma, obtained from the Cubs, and Jim Bunning who won 13 games last year and is back with them for a second hitch.

Hitting will be the Phillies' big problem, unless Tim McCarver, obtained from the Cardinals, Deron Johnson, Larry Hisle and Rick Joseph can hit for higher averages.

SMU, Oklahoma Sign Two-Year Grid Pact

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Southern Methodist University and Oklahoma will meet Sept. 12 in the Cotton Bowl in an 11th game recently provided by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

SMU athletic director Hayden Fry and Oklahoma athletic director Gomer Jones made concurrent announcements at Norman and Dallas of the game matching the Mustangs and Sooners.

The NCAA voted in January to permit member schools to extend football schedules from a ten-game regular-season maximum to 11.

"We are very happy to have Oklahoma come to Dallas and the Cotton Bowl for out opening opponent," said Fry. "We believe the game will be one of the most colorful and entertaining contests of the year. We'd certainly settle for another game like the '68 Astro Bluebonnet Bowl. The Mustangs will certainly have to tighten their cleats to stay with our first two opponents—both Oklahoma and Tennessee are nationally-ranked."

The schools agreed to play two games. SMU will travel to Norman, Oklahoma, on Sept. 18, 1971.

Oklahoma and SMU last met in the 1968 Astro Bluebonnet Bowl and the Ponies came from behind to capture a dramatic 28-27 victory on a scoring pass from quarterback Chuck Hixson to end Ken Fleming. That game has since been labeled one of the greatest bowl games ever and many long-time SMU observers rank it at the top in Mustang victories.

Historically, the series include only two other games. Oklahoma won the first contest, 9-0, in 1925 and the teams fought to a 7-7 tie in 1939.

"The game is a natural because of the close proximity of the two schools," said Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "It will be a game all of our fans and alumni can see.

"I hope SMU is not as good as they were the last time we faced them," Fairbanks said, "but we know we'll be facing one of the top teams in the nation and one of the outstanding names in Chuck Hixson. It will be an important test for our young team, especially this early in the season."

Other non-conference opponents in 1970 for SMU include Tennessee, New Mexico State and Northwestern.

In addition to Oklahoma, the Ponies will play New Mexico State, Rice, Texas A&M and Baylor in the Cotton Bowl.

A HOME TOWN BOY

Thomas Signs With Cowboys

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys announced Saturday signing of their first-round draft choice, Duane Thomas, running back from West Texas State who averaged 6.0 yards per carry in collegiate play.

Gil Brandt, the NFL team's player personnel director, made the announcement. Thomas, a product of Dallas' Lincoln High professed happiness at returning home.

"I was really bouyant when Dallas drafted me, Duane said. "There's no place like home and it's good to be back. I've played all of my football in Texas, and I'm happy I'll be able to continue to do so. I'll just keep it all in the family."

Thomas, the second straight running back to be drafted No. 1 by Dallas, obviously comes with rave notices, much like Calvin Hill did a year ago when the Yale rookie was picked first, and went on to be the Rookie of the Year.

"If we rated on pure ability —running, catching, blocking— we'd probably rate Thomas ahead of Hill", said Scout Red Hickey. "Whether he turns out to be another Hill is another story. He has great hands; he's a good blocker and he's got great size and speed. When you say that, you've said about all you can."

In three seasons, he averaged 6.0 on 1,378 yards with 396 carries. Beginning as a sophomore he rushed for 595 yards (that in five games), 708 and 1,072 yards.

A physical education major, Thomas was also a good hurdle and spring man in track. He has 4.6 speed for 40 yards.

Asked what type of runner he was, Thomas said:

"I'm in and out and over. Wherever they tell me to go, I'll go."

"I'm happy to get it all over with", he said. "The negotiations and paper work have been heavy on my mind. Now, everything leads toward the physical and mental preparation to get ready to play football for the Cowboys."

Santa Fe Handicap Set Today At Horse Track

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — The Santa Fe Handicap, a major stepping stone toward the $6,000-added Sunland Park Derby, will be renewed today at Sunland Park over six furlongs. Racing Secretary A. C. Kemp foresees a strong field firming for the $3,000-added test which should bring several top Derby prospects together for the first time.

Three big racing programs are on tap this weekend, beginning at 7:30 Friday evening. Saturday and Sunday cards get under way at 1:30 p.m.

Highlighting Friday's 10-race agenda is the El Paso Heart Fund Purse which lured eight older sprinters going for a $5,000 tag. Vera Lewis' tough sprinter Bold Jester, with a prep under his best last week, may be the horse to beat in the six panel attraction.

Bold Jester, with Don Lewis in the irons, drew the rail and will be saddled with 119 pounds. Others chosing the Heart Fund Purse for their next start include Grace McCray's Nova-Levu, 114 pounds; Jack and Phyllis Strong's A Run'n Haint, 116; Dennis and W. P. King's Prontissimo, 119; Robert Rule's Grand Onion, 119; Juan Salgado's Classy Dresser, 119: Sherry Molene's Capitol Mac, 116; and Walter Miller's Kancity Kitty, 114.

Bold Jester had not started for several months prior to last Saturday when he opposed five other sprinters for a $6,500 tag. He finished fifth after trailing most of the distance and was beaten less than five lengths, by the victress, Sheila Sheila.

Grand Onion, to be ridden by Dave Morris, comes off a winning effort for $3,500 last week. He tried this level once before at this session, but failed to show much at a mile.

Capitol Mac and Classy Dresser also turned in good efforts last week and will both be seeking their initial 1970 scores. Capitol Mac, with regular pilot Joe Sherman up, gave Grand Onion a good battle before finishing second over six furlongs.

Classy Dresser, a recent import from Bay Meadows, faced the powerful duo of Missile Pit and Atun in last Sunday's feature, finishing fourth. With the benefit of a race over the local strip, the son of Have Tux rates a good look against a softer field. Frank Cazares will be aboard.

Nova-Levu, third over a mile last time out, will have the services of Richard Strauss. Prontissimo, a formidable threat for this price last fall, will be ridden by Bill Whitt as he makes his first start since finishing seventh for $5,000 three weeks ago. Other riding assignments find Kenny Godkin aboard the allowance winning mare Kancity Kitty and Tony Trujillo with the call on A Run'n Haint.

Second Round Of Junior Playoffs Is Set Monday

ACKERLY — Play resumes here Monday night at 6 p.m. for the junior high level Zone championship between Gail, Grady and Sands. The Grady girls will take on Sands in their second encounter. Grady won the first 51-32.

At 7 p.m., the Grady boys will oppose Gail in their second meeting. Grady won the first one, 42-33.

This tournament could be finished Monday night if both the Grady teams can win their games. It only takes two victories to be declared the winner. Right now Grady appears to have the inside lane.

If the tournament does go to one more game, it will be held in Gail. The first set of games was held on Gradys home court.

The Grady girls have compiled a very impressive record of 24 wins without a defeat. The Grady boys also have a fine record having won 22 out of 24 contests.

The Grady girls are led in scoring by Nancy PPribyla, who is hitting at a 20.3 clip. The boys are paced by Davey Cruz.

Green May Be Back Shortly

OTTAWA (AP) — Ted Green of the Boston Bruins, whose skull was fractured in an exhibition hockey game here last Sept. 21, was resting comfortably in the hospital Saturday after an operation in which a plastic plate was inserted in his skull.

Ottawa neurosurgeon Michael T. Richard said after Friday's 2½-hour operation that the star defenseman may be able to play in the National Hockey League this season.

It was Green's third operation since he was injured in a stick-swinging incident in the game with the St. Louis Blues.

Green pleaded innocent Wednesday and is due to appear in court here March 9 on a charge of assault causing bodily harm.

Judgment has been reserved on the same charge against St. Louis forward Wayne Maki, who was tried early this week.

Dr. Richard said Green will have to spend at least one week in the hospital. He expressed confidence the hockey player will return to top condition.

The neurosurgeon said the acrylic plate he inserted will withstand bodily contact in a hockey game.

"If all goes well I think it would be possible for him to play this season," Dr. Richard said. "He certainly will be ready by the start of next season."

Boston Coach Harry Sinden, reached in Minneapolis, said this was good news. The Bruins don't expect Green to return to the lineup until next season.

Green will begin a 30-day suspension when he is declared medically fit to play.

Cordin Is Ski Winner

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (AP) — Austria's Karl Cordin, a lanky, lean racer, streaked to an impressive downhill victory Saturday at the Wild West Classic World Cup ski meet under crisp blue skies, beating out the French, who took second, third and fourth places.

Racing in 15th starting position, Cordin made few errors on the two-mile-long course, which dropped 2,980 feet. His time was 2 minutes, 52 seconds.

Americans placed three in the top 11 but could do no better than ninth, when Rogers Little of Helena, Mont., came in with a time of 2:03.27.

Cordin averaged 60 miles an hour. After he finished, Cordin asked. "Who's the best?" Showed his time by a newsman, he fled down the hill.

France's Bernard Orcel was second in 2:01.30 followed by Countryman Henri Duvillard, 2:01.90, and Jean Pinel, 2:02.00. Malcolm Milne of Australia surprised by taking fifth in 2:02.01, just ahead of world champion Karl Schranz of Austria, sixth in 2:02.03.

Rudd Pyles of Bristol, Colo., was 10th in 2:03.37, and Bob Cochran, Richmond, Vt., 11th in 2:03.40.

Bryan Adrain Is Standout In Win

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Davidson's Wildcats, ninth-ranked college basketball team, jumped to an early lead and defeated George Washington 91-74 Saturday.

The game, played at Ft. Myer, was the final regular season game for both teams. They will compete in the Southern Conference championships in Charlotte, N.C., next week. Davidson, 10-0 in conference games, has a 19-4 over-all record. George Washington is 11-14, with a 6-4 mark in the conference.

Steers Make Eagles Work For Clincher

By TOMMY HART

In losing to Abilene High here Friday night, 98-76, the Big Spring Steers looked better than in any of their victories this season.

Abilene came to town on the verge of clinching a spot in the Class AAAA playoffs and did just that but the Eagles had to work for it.

With just 2:25 to go in the third period, the Eagles led by a mere point, 55-54. By the end of the period, however, the sharp-shooting Eagles had widened that to ten points. They maintained a comfortable advantage throughout the final eight minutes.

The Eagles are a "class" operation and could go far in the playoffs. They've had their mettle tested several times but have yet to lose a 3-AAAA decision. A lesser team might have buckled under the kind of pressure Big Spring applied Friday night.

The win clinched a tie for second half honors in 3-AAAA for the Eagles and the rules dictate that a team which wins the first half crown and as much as ties for the second half crown advances to the playoffs.

AFTER 16 IN ROW

The Eagles can win their 16th straight league decision Tuesday night at home against an old rival, Abilene Cooper.

On two occasions in the first half, Big Spring led by as much as five points — at 22-17 and again at 28-23, but the War Birds kept coming back.

Tremendous outside shooting by Richard Little and Kenneth Neal, together with sure-handed rebounding on the part of Shane Fox, Lawrence Young and others, disrupted the Steers' battle plan. The full-court press used by Abilene throughout the game didn't help matters for Big Spring, either.

Quite probably the finest player to appear in the local gym this year, Little wound up with 30 points and game scoring honors.

He had to go some, however, to outdo Big Spring's Jimmy Farris, who zeroed in for 26 points and might have done better had not he been saddled with four fouls relatively early.

CARTER OUTSTANDING

Coach Kirby Pugh got a tremendous effort out of sophomore David Carter, too. The aggressive young man and Robert Evans each pulled down 11 rebounds and time and again negated Abilene drives with his defensive play.

Carter ended with 19 points while Robert Evans had 14 for Big Spring.

Neal tossed in 18 and Stan Lambert 17 for Abilene.

Big Spring hit 28 of 67 shots from the floor for 42 per cent. At the line, the locals connected on 20 of 31 efforts for 65 per cent.

In JV play, Abilene was wounded by a rash of fouls but managed to pull out an 83-70 victory.

Wayne Williams paced the visitors in that one with 24 points while Harry Crosby had 19, Richard Bullard 16 and Mike Randle 11 for Big Spring.

A total of 34 personals were called against Big Spring, compared to 16 against the Dogies.

The Steers go to Odessa Tuesday to wind up play against Permian.

Follett Winner In Region Play

LEVELLAND — Follett, coached by ex-Howard County resident Charles Skeen, defeated Fort Hancock, 71-31, in the first round of the Region IV-B girls' basketball tournament here Friday.

Mary Krienke scored 34 points for the winners.

T-Birds Slam Badger Quint

HOBBS, N.M. — New Mexico Junior College ran its Western Conference record to 7-6 by defeating the Amarillo College Badgers, 105-82, here Friday night.

Elgren Green led the T-Birds with 18 points, but AC took the top two honors in the overall scoring derby as John Krill ended the game with 23 points and Robert Jones finished with 20.

The loss dropped Amarillo to a dismal 6-9 conference record and 9-14 over-all. NMJC now stands 17-9 through the season. The win evened the series between the two teams at 1-1. Amarillo won the first contest in Badger gym earlier in the season.

NMJC led at half time 59-35.

Lockney Defeated In 3-AA Playoff

ABERNATHY — Dimmitt edged Lockney, 57-52, in a playoff for the District 3-AA basketball championship here Friday night.

Lockney, coached by a former Big Spring coaching aide, Jimmy Marcus, has won the last half championship in the conference to force the Bobcats into a playoff.

an 82-57 victory achieved by Lockney over Dimmitt in the second half ended a Dimmitt conference win skein that had extended through 41 straight games.

Lockney, hoping to win its first district title in eight years, led throughout the first half.

James Street Is Injured

AUSTIN (AP) — Strikeout artist James Street is injured and probably will miss the opening of the Texas Longhorn baseball season Feb. 27-28.

Street, a senior righthander bidding for a pro contract, has been voted the team's most valuable player the past two seasons.

He won the same honor in football as a quarterback after leading the 1969 Longhorns to the national championship.

Coach Cliff Gustafson said Street suffered a severely pulled groin muscle in workouts and is "extremely doubtful" for the two - day, four - game series against Sam Houston State here.

Outfielder Randy Peschel, who teamed with Street to pull off probably the biggest play in college football last year, also is injured, with a sprained ankle, but is expected to play next weekend. Peschel grabbed Street's 43-yard pass on fourth-and-three to set up Texas' winning touchdown in the 15-14 victory over Arkansas, ranked No. 2 at that time.

Without Street, who has struck out 224 batters in 198-3-3 innings the past two seasons, Gustafson would turn to All-American Burt Hooton, Larry Hardy, Walt Rothe, Mike Beard and Donnie Horne for the Sam Houston series.

"We're definitely not set on a lineup," said Gustafson, whose 1969 squad finished fourth in the NCAA College World Series with a season record of 40-6.

Bronte Is Upset

ROSCOE — Old Glory beat Bronte, the 11-B boys' basketball champion, in a practice game here Friday night, 60-58. Keith McCutchen scored 17 points for the losers.

Scarbrough Named Runnels Mentor

MIKE SCARBROUGH

Mike Scarbrough, 22, who grew up in Rockdale and graduated from Southwest Texas State College, has been added to the Runnels Junior High coaching staff.

Scarbrough's teaching duties will include Algebra II on the high school level. Unmarried, he makes his home at 2004 Johnson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Scarbrough of Rockdale, where his father is employed by Alcoa Aluminum.

Mike was born in Santa Ana, Texas, but attended public schools in Rockdale, where he won four letters as a pitcher in baseball and one in basketball.

When he won his letter in basketball at Rockdale, the school copped district honors but lost in bi-district play by one point. Dwane Vincent was his basketball coach.

He threw four two-hitters and one one-hitter in baseball. Rockdale finished with a 23-3 record his junior year and his personal ledger showed 11 wins compared to only one defeat. His baseball coach was Ernie Laurence. Mike over - all won-lost record was 26-4.

Three years running, he was an all-district selection in baseball. His team won the Regional title his junior year and he threw a 5-1 victory for one of the wins.

He also played two years at Blinn Junior College under Leroy Dreyer and finished up with a 3-1 mound record there, although he developed a sore arm his sophomore season. He ultimately fashioned a 4-1 record his senior year at Southwest Texas and earned his varsity numeral.

He graduated from Southwest Texas in January of this year and has been here since Jan. 26.

The Ector County Library of Odessa serves as headquarters for the Permian Historical Society, now entering its twelfth year; and houses the Society's Archives and Historical Collection in its Texas-Southwest Room.

State Board Marks Funds For State Hospital Here

Two construction projects totalling $163,000 were approved for Big Spring State Hospital Saturday by the state board for Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

The board, meeting in Austin, also approved a $14,807 grant for the work village project at BSSH. This is an operation in which patients, who need the shelter of the hospital while adjusting to outside work experiences, live in apartments on the hospital campus. This program has been pioneered at BSSH.

The board also earmarked $29,000 for the construction of a physical therapy addition to the geriatrics ward here. It also approved $133,000 for air conditioning two additional ward buildings at the hospital.

Included in board actions Saturday were a $19,308 Texas Education grant to Abilene State Hospital, plus $300,000 for renovation of four ward buildings; the renovation of five ward buildings at the San Angelo Center (formerly McKnight Tuberculosis Sanitorium) in the amount of $500,000. The board stipulated that the hospital unit there would be known as J. B. McKnight Hospital, honoring the man who served 36 years as superintendent.

Mrs. Joy Culwell Is Honored By Anson C.C.

Named as outstanding woman citizen of Anson at that city's Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night was Mrs. Joy Culwell, talented as both a writer and a singer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Collins, 1725 Purdue.

Mrs. Culwell is well known in Big Spring, having made many visits here. She has sung for the Rebekah Lodge No. 284, of which Mrs. Collins is Noble Grand.

Mrs. Culwell currently is writing a book, and is a news correspondent for the Abilene Reporter-News. She sings in the choir and is an active member of the First Baptist Church.

Post Office Will Be Closed Monday

The Big Spring post office will observe Monday as a full holiday because the birthday of George Washington falls this year on Sunday, Postmaster Frank Hardesty announced.

There will be no delivery of mail on street routes or rural routes. No window services will be provided except at sub post offices which may be open.

Special delivery mail will be handled and mail will be put in lock boxes. Holiday collection from mail drops will be observed.

Fire Vols Meet At Sand Springs

The Sand Springs Volunteer Fire Department will meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the fire station, and Kenneth Scott urged attendance by all interested in the community fire protection. Members of the commissioners court are due to be present to meet with the volunteers. "We need all the help we can get," said Scott.

Heatly 'Hired Out' To Firm Trying To Get Texas Permit

AUSTIN (AP) — State Rep. Gertardt Schulle Jr., of San Marcos said Saturday that the powerful chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah, hired out as "legal adviser" to a Central Texas firm trying to get a state waste disposal permit.

Schulle also said he was threatened with political retaliation by a former U.S. attorney because he opposed the firm's application.

NO ANSWER

Heatly had no immediate answer to Schulle's comments.

The Texas Water Quality Board unanimously rejected Friday an application of Hill Country Feeders Inc., to operate a cattle feeding lot between San Marcos and New Braunfels with a capacity of 15,000 cattle.

Chairman Gordon Fulcher said there was too much danger the feedlot—which would produce 150,000 pounds of solid waste a day, equal to a city of 100,000—would contaminate underground water along the Edwards Plateau.

Schulle said in a written statement that "Not only have the proponents had strong financial backing and the endorsement of some of the business and commercial interests but they have retained as one of their legal advisers, the powerful chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Bill Heatly."

FORGET IT

Later Schulle told The Associated Press: "I know he (Heatly) is because I called him and asked him if he was an advisor as I had heard and he said he was.

"I pointed out that the feedlot operation was in my district and a long ways from his district at Paducah.

"I asked him to get out of it and he said 'no' he would not," Schulle said.

Schulle also said there have been "attempts to intimidate me in an effort to have me withdraw my opposition." He said Ernest Morgan, former U.S. attorney at San Antonio and another lawyer representing the Hill Country Feeders, sent him a letter Feb. 5 which read in part:

" 'I hope that you will see fit to take another look at this thing. My clients and their friends feel that they are entitled to better representation from their member of the legislature than they have been receiving. There is no question that this is going to have an adverse effect on your political ambitions."

COPY OF LETTER

Schulle said he still had his copy of the letter from Morgan.

Heatly's name was not mentioned in Friday's session of the Texas Water Quality Board when the Hill Country Feeders permit was denied.

A federal grand jury in San Antonio is investigating alleged irregularities in the political campaign for legislative District 80, where Heatly is seeking re-election.

The probe began after published reports that two of Heatly's opponents had received political pressure after entering the race.

Heatly has said he did not know either one and had absolutely no contact with them. The grand jury probe resumes Tuesday. Ten witnesses have been subpoenaed.

"I have not been subpoenaed, yet," Schulle said Saturday.

Charolais, Hereford Bulls Show Top Gains In Tests

PANTEX — After 112 days in performance testing pens at the Texas Tech Research Farm here, 21 junior bulls posted an average daily gain of 2.63 pounds and 35 senior bulls recorded a daily gain of 2.89 pounds.

These prospective herd sires and bulls for purebred or crossbred commercial herds, with individual performance information, will be sold at auction at the 19th annual original Performance Tested Bull Sale at 1 p.m. March 19.

Dr. R. Hollis Klett, superintendent of the Research Center, said animals in this 20th annual test are made up of four breeds, Hereford, Angus, Charolais and calved between Jan. 1, 1969, and March 31, 1969, and senior bulls calved between Oct. 1, 1968, and Dec. 31, 1968.

Records released this week by animal husbandman Keith Hansen at the center showed the high gaining pen of junior bulls was made up of Charolais owned by G. W. Banks, Sumner, with a 3.36 pounds-per-day and the high individual junior, also a Charolais, gained 3.63 pounds per day.

The high senior bull pen, Herefords owned by Dan and Richard Sell of Booker, gained 3.46 pounds per day and the high senior individual, also a Hereford owned by Sell, gained 3.88 pounds.

Symposium Set On Playa Lakes

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech University's International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies has announced that it will sponsor a Playa Lake Symposium next Oct. 21-23.

The subject has rarely been dealt with in symposia although playas are common to Oregon, Nevada, Utah, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. Smaller numbers occur in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Geosciences Prof. C. C. Reeves Jr., program chairman for the symposium, will provide two days of papers and discussion on the intermittent lakes common to arid and semi-arid lands throughout the world.

A field trip through the West Texas playa complex — where there are an estimated 19,000 lakes commonly described as "playas" — also will be provided.

Spring Planting Time For Texans

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas farmers are getting land and equipment in shape for spring planting.

Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said areas needing rain are expanding as high winds take a toll of soil moisture.

Subsoil moisture is fair to good in west and northwest sectors but winds, some damaging, are increasing the need for surface moisture, Hutchison said. Dryland wheat has been slowed but plowing and the fertilizing goes on at a fast clip, he noted.

Livestock are in fair to generally good condition but feeding is general, he said. Warmth has boosted plant growth in areas where moisture is available. Feeding is still heaviest in east and northeast areas, he noted. Hay is becoming scarce in many counties.

Land preparation, fertilizing and putting down herbicides are moving at a rapid clip on the South Plains (Lubbock). Most grains need moisture but irrigated wheat is growing well and providing fairly extensive grazing. Feeding is rather heavy in many areas. Livestock are in good condition and the market is active.

Moisture is adequate in half of the 22 Rolling Plains (Vernon) counties and short in the other half. Grain growth has been good to fair depending upon moisture. Grazing is limited in dry counties. Greenbugs and grain mites are causing light to medium damage. The cotton harvest is complete and Irish potatoes are being planted in Knox County (Benjamin). Plowing and feeding are active jobs.

Moisture is adequate in North Central Texas and grains are growing again. Most fields are a bit wet for grazing. Ranges are average to below and feeding is necessary. Livestock parasites are a problem in some counties but cattle are in about average condition.

Moisture is short in far West Texas but grain growth has improved. Onions are being planted in Kinney County (Brackettville). Old grass is still available on ranges and some weeds are beginning to grow. Feeding is still general and livestock are doing well. A large percentage of the calf crop is on the ground and lambing is also well along. Goat shearing is active.

Moisture in West Central Texas is short to adequate and warmth has helped all cool season plants. Most ranges still have ample old grass and some winter weeds and grasses are coming in. Livestock are in good condition but feeding is needed. Goat shearing plowing and lambing are major area activities.

South Texas still has adequate moisture and watermelon planting has started. A limited acreage of cotton has been planted. Cabbage, carrots, broccoli, spinach and citrus are being harvested and peaches are beginning to bloom. Grain growth is excellent and grazing is good. Livestock are in good condition and the market is strong.

Hall Goes Directly To U. S. High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas State Sen. Ralph Hall, frustrated in his efforts to enter the Democratic primary race for governor, took the issue to the U.S. Supreme Court Saturday.

Hall claims that his opposition employed an obsolete passage from the Texas State Constitution to block his filing in the primary as an opponent to incumbent Gov. Preston Smith.

Hall, 46, of Rockwall near Dallas, offered the application and filing fee to Elmer Baum, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee. But Baum refused the application, citing a provision in the constitution prohibiting any state senator or representative from running for other office during his term if the salary of that office was increased during his term in the legislature. The Texas Supreme Court upheld that ruling.

Hall cited former Texas Gov. John Connally as one of his supporters. He said his main interests in running for governor are more unified and vigorous party leadership, a new approach to taxes and more participation by young people in party activities.

A key contention cited by Hall is that the pertinent provision in the state constitution was written when Texas was a republic, not a state, and was never intended to apply to the position of governor.

Hall skipped federal district and appeals courts and went directly to the Supreme Court.

"When the Texas Supreme Court ruled on the case, it addressed itself to the federal allegations we made," he said, "and and it is our belief that this gave us a direct avenue to the Supreme Court.

Hall and his attorneys filed three legal instruments with the high court Saturday.

—A jurisdictional statement asking an overrule of the Texas Supreme Court's decision.

—A motion for expedited treatment saying Hall's constitutional rights will be impaired or lost unless prompt action is taken.

—And an application to Justice Hugo Black asking that he order Baum to refrain from certifying the names of individuals eligible in the Democratic primary until final determination of Hall's case. Black is circuit justice for the Fifth Circuit, which includes Texas.

Multiple Listing Service

Some of the important advantages of a MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE are:

1. Buyers and sellers receive the benefit of cooperation between REALTORS rather than being restricted to the offerings of a single agent or a series of agents. 2. Negotiations are carried on under rules of procedure designed to assure ethical practice, this furthering the interests of Clients and the public, while extending adherence to high standards of practice. 3. Current market information which is readily available through Multiple Listing, means that REALTORS, their clients and the public are better served and informed.

THAT VOLKSWAGEN RELIEVES GAS PAINS

Any customer who buys a new Volkswagen at Barney Toland Volkswagen from Feb. 20, 1970, through March 1, 1970, will be furnished (at no charge to customer) gasoline for a 10-day vacation anywhere in the United States. The only requirement is that you take your vacation in your new Volkswagen that you purchased by Aug. 15, 1970.

You can buy a new Volkswagen for only $1937.00 delivered in Big Spring, Tex., plus state and local taxes and license.

After you've paid for it, it starts paying for itself.

We didn't want our bug to be a hog.

That's why we made it go about 26 miles to a gallon of gas.

And why we persuaded it to take pints of oil instead of quarts.

And why we gave it an air-cooled engine. (Air is free. Antifreeze isn't). And why we put the engine in the back so you get more push from the rear wheels. (And less pull from tow trucks.)

And that's why at trade in time if things are still the same as they have been, you can count on getting back more of your initial investment of $1937 than practically every other car owner gets of theirs.

After all, why shouldn't the car that's been saving you money while you own it do the same when you sell it?

Textbooks Hearing Planned Thursday

A public hearing on 17 textbooks recommended for adoption by the Big Spring School District, will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the portable classroom behind the administration building at 11th and State.

Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent for instruction, said the public is invited to attend the meeting, hear the reports and inspect the textbooks.

The books to be considered for adoption include first, second and third grade arithmetic; supplementary reading books for seventh and eighth grades; eighth grade and high school American history; ninth and tenth grade literature; high school journalism, high school drama, biology, physics, beginning French, fourth-year Latin, first and second year Spanish, distributive education, industrial arts drafting, business arithmetic and senior-year dictionaries.

Teachers on the textbook committee include Supt. S. M. Anderson; Rodney Allison, high school American history; Mrs. Lila Brewster, high school French; Bill Brooks industrial drafting; Mrs. Mary Christian, Cedar Crest; Paul Chappell, Runnels history; Mrs. Sandra Hicks, Moss Elementary; Pat Lawrence, high school science department; Mrs. Imogene Puckett, senior English; Bernard Rains, Goliad history; Mrs. Dorothy Rice, senior English; George Rice, distributive education; Mrs. Joy Shaver, high school drama; Miss Colleen Slaughter, high school Spanish, and Mrs. Miriam Wilcox, Goliad reading.

Chaplain Speaks At Lenten Rites

Chaplain Lee Butler of the Big Spring State Hospital will be the speaker at the special Lenten service Wednesday at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

"The Church, the Christian and Mental Health" will be his topic. A service of evening prayer will be held at 6:30 p.m. followed by a potluck supper before the address.

Chaplain Butler began his present position in June, 1967, after serving 17 years as a pastor. The public is invited to attend, the Rev. Harland Birdwell, pastor, said.

Meet Cancelled

The board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District will not meet Tuesday night due to conflicts with other activities, S. M. Anderson, superintendent, said Friday. The second meeting of the month is generally a non-business meeting used to review school programs.

Special Service For The Bugs

Barney Toland, Barney Toland Volkswagen, said today that his company's new diagnosis service puts a VW through nearly 100 different checks — "including what practically amounts to an electro-cardiogram" — to make certain that the car is in fully roadworthy condition. Performed by a skilled diagnostician, the service includes an electronic examination of the car's engine as well as tests of all vital parts, "up to 96 different steps in all," according to Toland. "Each diagnosis requires from 45 minutes to one hour, depending upon the year and model of car being examined."

Bob Brown, a member of the Toland service department six years is in charge of the diagnosis work. Before being assigned to his new duties, he completed a special course at Volkswagen South Central Distributor, Inc. which conducts special training programs at its headquarters in San Antonio.

SUNDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You certainly can get everything on a good working basis today. Do thoughtful things for others who have been good to you. You also are able to apply yourself to the various studies in which you now wisely engage. This can be a profitable day and evening if you settle down to work at specific tasks.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Get busy putting your house in order in the morning so that all is more comfortable and charming, then plan the right diet for the future. Think over how co-workers can assist you. Make this a very happy holiday.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Take those treatments that really do wonders for you and then out to the recreation that appeals to you, but requires some effort. Be of assistance to one you love. Evening can be particularly happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Home and family are your best bet today so do whatever will please close ties, make this a memorable day and evening. Fine day to rid yourself of some situation that has brought disharmony at home. Be wise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be with persons who can give you the data you want or afford the recreation that really pleases you. Be sure you handle that correspondence you have been procrastinating about for so long. Be clever.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can make fine plans for having more abundance in the future today, so study your newspaper well first of all. Look about you and see where you can make improvements that are valuable. Be optimistic.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A good day to have a really good time and add to benefits as well by discussing big plans with others. Be clever in impressing those around you. Make sure that you are well dressed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Find out what is missing in your life and plan how to gain it with little effort so that you will be happier. Show that you have ingenuity. Get at all those small chores that have been bothering you for some time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be sure that you contact those friends who have been eager to see more of you for some time. Come to better understanding. Return any favors already extended to you to whatever extent is possible.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Go to nice places today. Show that you are a fine citizen and a worthwhile person to know, are philanthropic. Become a more popular person. Show that you are very skillful also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do some studying that will make you a more understanding and knowledgeable person as well as more operative in your business venture. Making new contacts is fine. Be very charming with them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make use of today's time to get all of your affairs in an ideal, precise condition, especially whatever concerns the personal. Let one you love help you with some plan for the future. Talk it over confidentially.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you sit down leisurely with partners today, you find you can plan the future more intelligently and carefully. Cement better relations. Out to amusement in evening that relieves tensions.

MONDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today is an excellent time to handle practical matters. Carry through the plans you made over the weekend. Be painstaking. A casual attitude could harm you. Some dedication to your ambitions is required now.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A good day to complete work on hand. You then can carry on with new interests. Co-workers expect a good deal of you. Don't be disappointing.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Benefits can come through recreational activities today if you play your cards right. Be generous with gifts for those you like. Dressing in just the right style for the occasion is a must.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be sure that your actions are the kind that can bring closer rapport as well as more backing. Pay attention to fundamental problems. Be clever.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Discuss with associates mutual expectations so that time can be utilized to best advantage later. Pap particular attention to writings, plans for travel, etc. Be economical.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Find a new way to improve monetary affairs. Be more careful where details are concerned. Get back to business matters that have proved successful in the past. Add to your income.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Go directly to those who can give you good advice on how to get ahead faster in your own line of endeavor. Out with a good pal to recreation that you both like. Try not to be extravagant, though.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Seek out experts who understand your ideas and get their support for them confidentially. Be sure you help one who is having a difficult time. Do not confide in others, though. Be altruistic.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Out to the amusements that mean so much to you and gain the good will of everyone around you. Meet with good friends and let them introduce you to others who are worthwhile. Be a happier person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Contact prominent persons who can give you the information you need to make your life more successful and your position in life stronger. Get into that civic work that improves your image. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Meet with persons you have not had the time to contact as yet who can be very helpful in the future. Get the data that will assist you in launching new ideas. Be clever.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make sure that you handle personal and other obligations with ease. Be certain that your insurance is ample and paid up on time. Cement better relations with your associate. Make the future more profitable.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Know and come to a better understanding exactly what your position is with others with them. Go where you can improve your health and energy. Take in the sports that are so revitalizing.

Can Spring Be Far Behind?

By JO BRIGHT

"Special attraction coming soon!"

There is no mistaking the messengers that nature sends ahead to announce the coming of her biggest hit, "Springtime." The annual presentation is the greatest show on earth, starring a cast of thousands. Sharing equal billing are such perennial favorites as shy sweet peas, dignified delphiniums, zesty zinnias and robust roses.

As part of the advertising campaign, a group of young people were treated to a special preview this week by Estah's Flowers, Quigley's Floral Shop and Faye's Flowers.

The regular showing, for the general public, is scheduled to open here March 20, the first day of spring. Prices remain the same — men, women and children admitted free of charge.

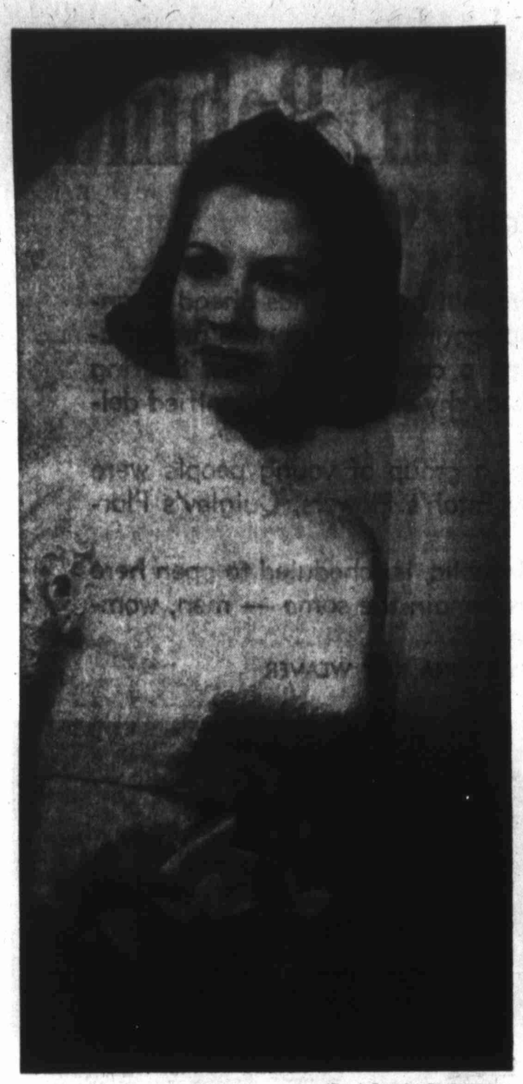
Miss Hardy Is Wed To Harold Guy Talbot



(Frank Brandon Photography)

MRS. HAROLD GUY TALBOT

Miss Paula Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hardy, Garden City, and Harold Guy Talbot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Talbot, 409 Washington, were married at 7 p.m. Saturday in Wesley United Methodist Church.

Officiating at the ceremony were the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, pastor and the Rev. Augustine Lucca of St. Abrose Catholic Church, St. Lawrence. The altar was centered with a sunburst of white gladioli and flanked by emerald ferns and tiered candles.

The vocalist, Mrs. Jack Berry, sang the "Lord's Prayer" and "Ave Maria" with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Leslie Green.

The bride wore an Empire gown of satin, the bodice overlaid with re-embroidered lace. The long lace sleeves formed petal points over her hands, and lace accented the high standing collar, skirt front and chapel train. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a lace cap. She carried a cascade of roses and stephanotis showered in picot satin.

Mrs. Steve Bell, Dallas, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Danna Werst, San Angelo; Miss Becky Hanson, Crane and Mrs. Terry Franklin, Brownwood.

The attendants wore turquoise gowns with satin bodices and cut velvet skirts with satin sashes. They carried bouquets of pale yellow mums showered in satin.

Clif Talbot, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Dick Irons, Grand Prairie; Russell Dressen, Houston and Jerry Thurman. Ushers were Mike Irons, Gary Griffin, Jerry Wilson, San Angelo; Steve Bell, Dallas; and Gary Johnson, El Paso.

Flower girl was Peggy Cook. Bill Cook of Garden City lighted the altar tapers and ring bearers were Kent and Karl Berry.

The bride, a graduate of Garden City High School, attended Angelo State University where she was named "Miss Photogenic" and was a homecoming queen finalist. She was a member of Angelette Drill Team and Eta Epsilon Gamma.

The bridegroom is a graluate of Big Spring High School and attended Schriener Institute. He will graduate with a BA degree in business administration from Angelo State University in August.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall. The refreshment table was laid with a white satin cloth overlaid with Chantilly lace and set with crystal and silver appointments. The tiered cake was topped with satin bells.

Mrs. E. E. Saunders, Arlington, was in charge of the register. For the wedding trip, the bride's traveling costume was a beige princess-style linen coat over a sleeveless beige lace dress. They will reside at 1101 E. 13th.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Luke Haygood and Charles, Junction Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hardy and Miss Debbie Holden, all of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hardy, Seminole; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gaida and Miss Hedy Gaida, all of Victory; Edwin Gaida, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Respondek, Beerule; and Mr. and Mrs. James Underwood and George Clark, all of Midland.

Members of the house party were Miss Lynn McSpadden and Miss Diana Ward, both of Odessa; Miss Cynthia Fry, Del Rio; Miss Barbara Bigard and Mrs. B. L. McFarland, both of Midland; Miss Linda Kapp, Houston; Miss Candy Cooper and Miss Gaylene Etchison, both of Lubbock; Miss Linda Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cushing, all of San Angelo; Miss Elaine Stembridge, Bryan; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wilkerson, Mrs. Vena Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. McWhirter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Calverley, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hightower, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver West, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnell McDaniel, all of Garden City; Mr. and Morris Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Coats, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Toots Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Cook, Mrs. Curtis Driver, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Slate. Mr. and Mrs. Merle Steward, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. South, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, Mrs. R. R. McEwen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Gil Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irons and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Adams.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Big Spring Country Club where the bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants. Tables were covered with white cloths and blue runners, and blue was repeated in the napkins and stemware. Centering the main table was an arrangement of chrysanthemums and stephanotis, with similar arrangements placed on te other tables.

'Perception' Studied By Forsan Club

Extra-sensory perception and its different forms were described at the Forsan Study Club meeting Tuesday night at Forsan School.

Mrs. David Redwine and Mrs. Lee Yarbrough were in charge of the program. They introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. W. E. Heideman who has been studying the "inner peace movement" and psychic phenomena.

"Most people have the ability to make ESP work for them," Mrs. Heideman said. She described some of the types of ESP such as the visionary, prophetic and "feeler."

The club's stuly theme for the year is psychic sciences.

Mrs. C. B. Long was hostess, providing refreshments in a Washington's birthday motif.

Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, president, will represent the club at the federation convention in Odessa, March 6-7.

Mrs Clyde Angel will give a book review at the next meeting, March 3.

Family Must Establish Own Values For Successful Living

Values and goals are essential parts of management. Yet how do we grasp them, apply them to living and to reality?

We hear this question often and know that values and goals are not so easy to understand and use as a cake recipe or credit formula. Yet they are the core of our being.

A goal is an aim, purpose or objective a person strives to obtain.

A value is that which a person holds as important, good or worthwhile.

Values and goals are related. Values are the whys behind our goals. For instance, your goal may be to plant a big hedge around your yard. Why? Because you value your privacy.

Maybe your goal is to be president of a certain club. Why? Perhaps because recognition is important to you. When you know what you value, you choose goals in harmony with those values. If you value conformity, your goals will be different than if you value individuality.

Have you ever heard anyone say, "I can't decide what is important to me?" If not, you have never been around teenagers. Not only teenagers but adults and society as a whole are trying to determine what their values are. We alone must decide on our values. Our biological, psychological and social structures will influence our decisions.

Socialization effects values, too. For instance, some children struggle to finance a college education, while others of comparable incomes and intelligence are quite content to work in a local industry.

Each family must establish its own set of values, not copy a gool set. Who's to say what is good for each family? The family chooses a set which is suitable to it. If it clearly knows and believes in these values, then it can establish goals which are logical to it.

Our values are a bit like our waistlines and checkbooks — always changing. Even though we may tend to think the same things are important, at least their order of importance changes.

Our resources, experiences, family compositions and environment all influence what we value.

The life cycle really affects values, too. Consider what you would have rated most important to you when you were graduating from high school compared to your rankings now.

PURPOSEFUL GOALS

All of us need the purpose and sense of direction that goals provide. They are like landmarks. Each time we reach a landmark or goal, we set our sights higher.

People need short-range as well as long-range goals. For example, farmers were timed as they plowed a field. Each was timed again when he plowed another field the same size. The second field had a flag at the end of each row—red, when he headed north; green, when he plowed south. As you probably guessed, it took each less time to plow the second field.

It's not enough to plan on owning a house or farm. Smaller, short-term goals are needed.

Family life could go on for years without anything being done about clarifying values or establishing goals. No landlord requires an accounting of them, no assessor lists them as he does taxable property. The Internal Revenue Service requires no annual report on them. But the family that decides which are important to and best for it and then works toward achieving these goals is the family most likely to get what it really wants from life.

CHILDREN AND VALUES

There are times when every parent says of his child, "He ought to know better." This is quite different from saying, "Why can't he do as he is told?" To say that he ought to know better means that you expect him to know better without being told.

Learning "right" from "wrong" involves the complex process of how mental growth takes place. It includes the ability of a child to pay attention, to comprehend, to remember what has happened before, to relate ideas, to make judgments. To ignore any one of these areas of mental growth is to misjudge the ability of a child to "know better."

Being able to tell "right" from "wrong," however, is dependent upon something more than memory, attention and mental alertness. It means that somewhere along the line the child must acquire a set of standards, ideals or values with which he can guide his own future behavior. Values are those things that are most important to us.

The information included in this article is based on Fact Sheet L-733 available from the County Extension Office. Home demonstration clubs in the county are using this and other related material for their current club programs on "family life." Mrs. Ray Swann of Coahoma is the county chairman for Family Life for the clubs.

MRS. ROBERT J. LUKENS

Couple United In Marriage

STANTON (SC) — Miss Janis Gaye Morrison and Robert James Lukens, both of Inglewood, Calif., were married in a candlelight service Saturday at Belvue Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Morrison, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lukens, Bakersfield, Calif.

The ceremony was performed by Roy Phemister, minister of the Church of Christ in Clyde. The altar was decorated with baskets of bronze daisies and yellow mums and spiral candelabra with votive candles. Gary Lukens of Bakersfield, brother of the bridegroom, directed wedding music.

The bride wore a white gown with Empire waistline. The neckline formed a high cowl effect, and leg-o-mutton sleeves were of white winter velvet. Her headdress was a satin Juliet cap trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with a center cluster of yellow roses atop white Bible.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Jane Ross, Inglewood, and the matron of honor was Mrs. Ronald Riley, Odessa. They wore gold velvet dresses styled with Empire waists and leg-o-mutton sleeves. They carried bronze daisy mums and yellow roses.

Thomas Bond of Wyoming, Ohio, served as best man. Groomsmen were Terry Lukens, Bakersfield, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Terry Britton, John Lukens, Bakersfield, brother of the bridegroom; and Richard Lukens, Auguim, Calif.

Sherri Beth Lukens lighted the tapers. She wore a gold velvet dress and wrist corsage.

The couple is touring the northwestern states during their wedding trip. The bride's traveling costume was a brown velvet dress and cape. They will make their home at 519 W. 99th, Apt. 6, Inglewood, Calif.

The wedding reception was held in the Cap Rock Reception Room. In charge of the register and serving were Mrs. M. L. Holt, and Mrs. Lonnie Pierce, both of Odessa; Mrs. Roger Wills, Midland; and Mrs. Reggie Robertson and Miss Rebecca Boyce, both of Stanton.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. J. W. Britton, Mrs. Glenna Morrison, Mrs. S. F. Britton, Mrs. Oliver Boyce, Mrs. J. S. Morrison and Mrs. Eddie Avery.

The bride, a graduate of Stanton High School received her BA legree from Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, Calif. She also studied one year in Germany and is presently employed by the Carnation Co., Los Angeles.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Monterrey Bay Academy, Watsonville, Calif. He served with the military two years in Alaska and is now a student at Northrope Institute of Technology, Inglewood.

Philatheas Give Dishes

New dishes and silver were presented to the First United Methodist Church Thursday by the Philathea Sunday school class during a dinner in fellowship hall. An "American heritage" theme was carried out in decorations.

Family Must Establish Own Values For Successful Living

Values and goals are essential parts of management. Yet how do we grasp them, apply them to living and to reality?

We hear this question often and know that values and goals are not so easy to understand and use as a cake recipe or credit formula. Yet they are the core of our being.

A goal is an aim, purpose or objective a person strives to obtain.

A value is that which a person holds as important, good or worthwhile.

Values and goals are related. Values are the whys behind our goals. For instance, your goal may be to plant a big hedge around your yard. Why? Because you value your privacy.

Maybe your goal is to be president of a certain club. Why? Perhaps because recognition is important to you. When you know what you value, you choose goals in harmony with those values. If you value conformity, your goals will be different than if you value individuality.

Have you ever heard anyone say, "I can't decide what is important to me?" If not, you have never been around teenagers. Not only teenagers but adults and society as a whole are trying to determine what their values are. We alone must decide on our values. Our biological, psychological and social structures will influence our decisions.

Socialization effects values, too. For instance, some children struggle to finance a college education, while others of comparable incomes and intelligence are quite content to work in a local industry.

Each family must establish its own set of values, not copy a gool set. Who's to say what is good for each family? The family chooses a set which is suitable to it. If it clearly knows and believes in these values, then it can establish goals which are logical to it.

Our values are a bit like our waistlines and checkbooks — always changing. Even though we may tend to think the same things are important, at least their order of importance changes.

Our resources, experiences, family compositions and environment all influence what we value.

The life cycle really affects values, too. Consider what you would have rated most important to you when you were graduating from high school compared to your rankings now.

PURPOSEFUL GOALS

All of us need the purpose and sense of direction that goals provide. They are like landmarks. Each time we reach a landmark or goal, we set our sights higher.

People need short-range as well as long-range goals. For example, farmers were timed as they plowed a field. Each was timed again when he plowed another field the same size. The second field had a flag at the end of each row—red, when he headed north; green, when he plowed south. As you probably guessed, it took each less time to plow the second field.

It's not enough to plan on owning a house or farm. Smaller, short-term goals are needed.

Family life could go on for years without anything being done about clarifying values or establishing goals. No landlord requires an accounting of them, no assessor lists them as he does taxable property. The Internal Revenue Service requires no annual report on them. But the family that decides which are important to and best for it and then works toward achieving these goals is the family most likely to get what it really wants from life.

CHILDREN AND VALUES

There are times when every parent says of his child, "He ought to know better." This is quite different from saying, "Why can't he do as he is told?" To say that he ought to know better means that you expect him to know better without being told.

Learning "right" from "wrong" involves the complex process of how mental growth takes place. It includes the ability of a child to pay attention, to comprehend, to remember what has happened before, to relate ideas, to make judgments. To ignore any one of these areas of mental growth is to misjudge the ability of a child to "know better."

Being able to tell "right" from "wrong," however, is dependent upon something more than memory, attention and mental alertness. It means that somewhere along the line the child must acquire a set of standards, ideals or values with which he can guide his own future behavior. Values are those things that are most important to us.

The information included in this article is based on Fact Sheet L-733 available from the County Extension Office. Home demonstration clubs in the county are using this and other related material for their current club programs on "family life." Mrs. Ray Swann of Coahoma is the county chairman for Family Life for the clubs.

MRS. ROBERT J. LUKENS

Couple United In Marriage

STANTON (SC) — Miss Janis Gaye Morrison and Robert James Lukens, both of Inglewood, Calif., were married in a candlelight service Saturday at Belvue Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Morrison, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lukens, Bakersfield, Calif.

The ceremony was performed by Roy Phemister, minister of the Church of Christ in Clyde. The altar was decorated with baskets of bronze daisies and yellow mums and spiral candelabra with votive candles. Gary Lukens of Bakersfield, brother of the bridegroom, directed wedding music.

The bride wore a white gown with Empire waistline. The neckline formed a high cowl effect, and leg-o-mutton sleeves were of white winter velvet. Her headdress was a satin Juliet cap trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with a center cluster of yellow roses atop white Bible.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Jane Ross, Inglewood, and the matron of honor was Mrs. Ronald Riley, Odessa. They wore gold velvet dresses styled with Empire waists and leg-o-mutton sleeves. They carried bronze daisy mums and yellow roses.

Thomas Bond of Wyoming, Ohio, served as best man. Groomsmen were Terry Lukens, Bakersfield, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Terry Britton, John Lukens, Bakersfield, brother of the bridegroom; and Richard Lukens, Auguim, Calif.

Sherri Beth Lukens lighted the tapers. She wore a gold velvet dress and wrist corsage.

The couple is touring the northwestern states during their wedding trip. The bride's traveling costume was a brown velvet dress and cape. They will make their home at 519 W. 99th, Apt. 6, Inglewood, Calif.

The wedding reception was held in the Cap Rock Reception Room. In charge of the register and serving were Mrs. M. L. Holt, and Mrs. Lonnie Pierce, both of Odessa; Mrs. Roger Wills, Midland; and Mrs. Reggie Robertson and Miss Rebecca Boyce, both of Stanton.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. J. W. Britton, Mrs. Glenna Morrison, Mrs. S. F. Britton, Mrs. Oliver Boyce, Mrs. J. S. Morrison and Mrs. Eddie Avery.

The bride, a graduate of Stanton High School received her BA legree from Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, Calif. She also studied one year in Germany and is presently employed by the Carnation Co., Los Angeles.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Monterrey Bay Academy, Watsonville, Calif. He served with the military two years in Alaska and is now a student at Northrope Institute of Technology, Inglewood.

Philatheas Give Dishes

New dishes and silver were presented to the First United Methodist Church Thursday by the Philathea Sunday school class during a dinner in fellowship hall. An "American heritage" theme was carried out in decorations.

Members gave dishes, silverware and cup towels for the church kitchen. Mrs. C. R. Moad presided, and Mrs. A. W. Keisling gave the invocation.

Mrs. Fred Eaker recognized Mrs. M. A. Cook, Miss Roberta Gay, Mrs. Fred McGowan and Mrs. C. M. Weaver, who have birthdays in January and February.

Hostesses were Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, Mrs. Cass Hill, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Paul Guy. Mrs. Clinkscales was chairman of decorations, incorporating a small statue of George Washington with cherry trees and birds.

Candlelight Ceremony Performed In Stanton

Miss Patricia Lynn Coggin became the bride of Richard Edwin McKinney Jr. in a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday evening by the Rev. W. H. Uhlman in First Baptist Church at Stanton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Coggin of Stanton, formerly of Big Spring. The bridegroom is the son of R. E. McKinney, Fort Worth, formerly of Big Spring, and the late Mrs. Rozelle McKinney.

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged by the couple before an altar enhanced with tall baskets of white gladioli, emerald ferns and twin candelabra entwined with greenery. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

A prelude of traditional nuptial selections was presented by Miss Betty Anderson, organist, who accompanied Mrs. W. H. Uhlman as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white peau de soie gown fashioned with Empire bodice overlaid with Chantilly lace. The bodice featured a high Victorian lace collar and wide-cuffed bishop sleeves adorned with lace appliques centered with seed pearls. The lace motif was repeated at the hemline of the gown and edged the full circular train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a peau de soie bow and lace petals. She carried, atop a white Bible, a bridal bouquet of white orchids circled with white carnations and showered with satin streamers.

(Curley's Studio)

MRS. RICHARD E. McKINNEY JR.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Jill Franklin of Big Spring. The bridesmaid was Miss Belinda Brewer of Childress, and bridesmatron was Mrs. Clay LaRochelle of Big Spring. Their turquoise satin gowns were styled with Empire waistline, Victorian collar and bishop sleeves. A small bow marked the high-rise waistline. Their headpieces were turquoise satin bows with streamers, and each carried a nosegay of white carnations tied with turquoise ribbon.

Mike McCreary, Big Spring, was best man, and groomsmen were Clay LaRochelle, Big Spring, and CWO Joe Sulak of Fort Walters. The ushers were Billy Coggin, brother of the bride; Charles Straub and Curt Stone, the latter of Odessa.

The flower girls, Stephanie Hull of Smithfield and Becky Brewer of Childress, were attired in turquoise velvet gowns styled similarly to the other feminine attendants'. Stephanie was escorted by Larry Stone of Odessa, and Becky was escorted by David Stone of Odessa. Ring bearer was Timothy Hull of Smithfield, and altar tapers were lighted by Julie Hull of Smithfield and Bobbie Brewer of Childress.

RECEPTION

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the fellowship holl of the church where guests were registered by Mrs. Brenda Roach.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The wedding bouquets formed the centerpiece, and the tiered white cake was topped with wedding bells. An ivory lace cloth coverel the bridegroom's table which held a silver coffee service and chocolate wedding cake.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Calvin Henrichs and Mrs. Harold Bronough, both of Denton; Mrs. J. L. Baugh, Coahoma; Mrs. Bobby Furr and Miss Linda Knight, both of Stephenville; Mrs. R. L. Hull, Fort Worth; Mrs. Joe Brewer, Childress; Mrs. A. C. Stone, Odessa; and Mrs. Claude Straub.

Among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Leona McKinney of Dalhart, grandmother of the bridegroom.

SCHOOLS

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney are both graduates of Big Spring High School, and McKinney attended Howard County Junior College. He is employed by the Big Spring Daily Herald.

For the wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride was attired in a royal blue knit costume which she wore with blue accessories and the corsage from her bouquet. Upon returning, the couple will reside in Big Spring.

Forum Unit Hears Talk On 'Words'

A program dealing with the many misuses of words was given by Mrs. Joe Pickle Friday at the Woman's Forum meeting in the home of Mrs. Bert Shive, Garden City Route. Mrs. Escol Compton was cohostess.

Mrs. Pickle based part of her talk on the book, "Word Power Made Easy," and gave club members a word power test.

New officers elected were Mrs. Clyde Johnston, president; Mrs. Clyde Thomas, vice president; Mrs. Pete Warren, recording secretary; Mrs. Bert Shive, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Merrill Creighton, treasurer.

Mrs. H. D. Cowden was introduced as a guest. Mrs. Paul Kionka, vice president, presided. She said that the Western District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, will convene March 6-7 in Odessa.

The next meeting will be March 20 in the home of Mrs. Knox Chadd, 606 Dallas.

Handy Sheets

Bright printed sheets turn up all over the house nowadays. For instance sheets backed with plain plastic linings make ideal shower curtains. Most cotton percale sheets in decorator prints come with coordinated terry cloth towels, so give your bathroom a new decor look with matched shower curtain and towels.

Such Sleepers

Comfortable cotton sleeping bags will be enjoyed by the whole family for camping or big houseparties. Styles come with water-repellent cotton covers and warm liners of cotton flannelette. The sleeping bags are treated to resist mildew, and are machine-washable.

Guest Tea Hosted By 1905 Hyperion Club

A guest tea was held Thursday by the 1905 Hyperion Club at Big Spring Country Club where hostesses were Mrs. Norman Read and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling presented a program on the history and accomplishments of the General Federation of Womens Clubs. The federation was established in 1890, and there are now 15,500 clubs affiliated with the federation.

"Among the many accomplishments of the federation," said Mrs. Stripling, "was the establishment of 80 per cent of the public libraries in the United States.

"They worked for the eight-hour day, child labor laws, Workman's Compensation Act, prison reforms and the establishment of the Food and Drug Administration.

"Now they are working toward air and water pollution control, forest and wild life conservation, trade expansion, equal rights and responsibilities for women, youth opportunities and many other causes.

"The federation was organized to enhance women's position in the community and to prove her value as a force for community advancement."

Mrs. Clyde Angel reviewed a satire on women's clubs, "Ladies. Please Come to Order," by Peggy Cameron King.

The 17 guests at the tea were introduced, and refreshments were served from a table laid with an Italian cutwork cloth and centered with spring flowers in red, white and blue. Mrs. Horace Reagan presided.

The club contributed to the purchase of a gift for the outgoing national president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Attendants Are Feted At Brunch

Miss Paula Hardy and her bridal attendants were feted with a bridesmaids brunch at 10 a.m. Saturday prior to the wedding of Miss Hardy and Harold Guy Talbot.

Mrs. Jack Berry, Sterling City Route, was hostess, and Mrs. Clyde Berry, Garden City, was cohostess.

Among those attending were Mrs. Harold Talbot, mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lloyd C. Hardy, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Jimmie Cook, grandmother of the bride.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Steve Bell, Dallas, sister of the bride; Miss Danna Werst, San Angelo; Mrs. Terry Franklin, Brownwood; and Miss Becky Hanson, Lubbock. Also attending were Miss Elaine Stembridge of Bryan, a houseguest of the Hardys; and the Jack Berry's sons, Kent and Karl, ring bearers for the wedding.

The brunch table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a western arrangement of deer and sheep horns, a cow skull; native weeds and red carnations. Bandanas served as napkins and red-bordered black and white enamelled tinware was used.

BETROTHED—Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Smith, Snyder, announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis, to Richard M. Bain Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bain, 1219 Frazier. Miss Smith is a teacher at Corrine Crow Elementary School, Dallas. A spring wedding is planned.

Values Are Examined By Club

Family values and how they affect children were discussed at the Thursday meeting of Lomax Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. J. L. McIlvain. Mrs. Ervin Bridge gave the program on values and goals.

"Children notice when their parents fail to commit themselves on an issue," said Mrs. Bridge, and they know when their parents say one thing and do the opposite."

Her talk was followed by a discussion of how children see occurrences and evaluate differently.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Long, March 5. Mrs. McIlvain and Mrs. Long will give a program on health.

Couple Planning Chapel Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Switzer, 1807 S. Monticello, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Linda Carol, to Airman 1.C. Stephen Don McNaught.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. McNaught of Corpus Christi. The couple plans to be married March 20 in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base.

Innoculation Of Children Discussed

STANTON (SC) — The innoculation of 364 children with German measles vaccine was described by Mrs. A. J. Smith, guest speaker recently for Mu Lambda Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in Cap Rock Auditorium. The program was given by Mrs. Smith and Tom Angel, president of the Martin County Cancer Unit.

The unit sponsored the innoculation of children who ranged in age from one to 10 years. Of the 364 children, 256 were school age. Angel also showed a movie, "Time and Two Women."

Recognized for their assistance in the vaccination program were Mrs. Owen Kelly, Mrs. Marilyn Glaspie and Mrs. Polly Atchison. Also helping were two eighth graders, Debbie Payne and Patricia Ramos.

Mrs. Floyd Sorley gave Valentine readings ond Mrs. Herb Sorley, chapter Valentine sweetheart, was presented a charm.

Sewing Bee Set By TEL Class

A sewing bee is planned for March 5 at the home of Mrs. Buck Graham by members of TEL Sunday school class of Coahoma Baptist Church.

The class met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Roberts. Prayers were given by Mrs. J. L. Orr, Mrs. Bud Porter and Mrs. G. W. Graham. The next meeting will be March 19 at the home of Mrs. Jessie Fowler.

Businesswomen Plan Game Night

An annual "Games Party" will be sponsored by the American Business Women's Association, Cactus Chapter, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Pioneer Gas Flame room.

Canasta, bridge, dominoes, "42" and all sorts of games for all ages will be played for prizes. Refreshments will be served. Admission is $1 per person, and tickets may be purchased from chapter members or at the door. All proceeds will go into a scholarship fund.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

Back from a three-week African Safari is HARVEY CLAY who was one of 18 Texans on a Porter Randall tour to Africa. The party left the United States on Jan. 23 and made landings in Narobi, Kanya, Tanzania and Uganda where they visited all the national parks. Clay's daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. ROBERT VANCE, who have lived in Commerce were also in the group.

The Vances are now in the process of moving their belongings back to Abilene as they will leave soon for Austria where they will continue their work as missionaries. They have formerly served the mission field in Germany, and last year Mr. Clay joined them for a tour of Europe.

The African tour group was composed of Texans, two of whom were from Andrews: LLOYD MORGAN, brother of Big Spring's KENT, and his son.

Friends here have received word of the serious illness of MRS. CALVIN BOYKIN who lives in College Station.

* * *

MRS. J. E. HOGAN spent the week in Abilene with her BOONE POWELL grandchildren while their parents were in Washington, D.C., on a business trip.

* * *

The Flower Grove friends and neighbors of M. T. MITCHELL gave him a party on his 91st birthday that was a big affair and he responded by giving them a musical evening. Mr. Mitchell delighted the more than 100 guests by playing his fiddle that is reputedly over 200 years old.

The honored guest has been a resident of Flower Grove for over 45 years and has been active in church and school affairs. He has seven children, 21 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren which goes to make a pretty fair built-in crowd.

MRS. L. B. NEWMAN and her little daughter, Susan, have returned to their home in Houston after being here a week with Mrs. Newman's mother, MRS. ROGERS HEFLEY, during her recent illness.

* * *

Friends here had a good time entertaining their longtime friend, MRS. LOLA McQUAIN, and her daughter, MRS. EDDIE McELHANNON, during their three-day stay. They were houseguests of MRS. C. L. ROWE from Monday until Thursday. They had come to Oklahoma City with Col. McElhannon by car and while he attended a school there, they came on to Big Spring where they had made their home for many years. They left Thursday morning and went to San Angelo to visit a sister of Mrs. McQuain and left there Saturday morning to join Col. McElhannon for the return trip to their home in Omaha, Neb.

In Austin last Sunday for the wedding of Miss Diane Belda and Gary Morrison were MRS. G. T. HALL. MISS MARIE HALL and MR. and MRS. ROBERT STRIPLING. Former Big Springers who attended were the RANDALL POLKS of Kingsland and MRS. CARMELLA VAN METER and her daughter, LAUREL, of Austin.

* * *

MR. and MRS. A. A. STRIPLING of Dallas are visiting relatives here.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Linzie Conway of Oklahoma City, Okla., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Elsie Jeanette, to Richard Kenneth Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olsen, 1805 Settles. The wedding will take place May 22 in Capitol Hill Church of the Nazarene in Oklahoma City. Both are students at Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. JOHN MACKE

The last few weeks have been eventful ones for Mrs. R. S. Spiegel. On Feb. 6, she helped Class 70-07 welcome the new wives, Mrs. Bill Cumming, Mrs. Michael Kalish and Mrs. Jack Flege, with a coffee in her home. Ten days later there was another arrival — a brand new son for the Spiegels.

Wee ones find the pediatrics department of the base clinic a little brighter, thanks to the efforts of Class 71-01 wives. Mrs. Ted Burhenn and Mrs. Davil Jaggers have taken the first step toward decorating the department by installing new drapes. Members of Girl Scout Troop 120, under the leadership of Mrs. Kenneth Midleton, also deserve just due for many hours of labored needlework to make stuffed dolls and animals for the clinic toybox.

Wives of Class 70-07 will find the red carpet figuratively rolled out for them on their coming tour of T-38 training facilities. The ladies are looking forward to learning more about life on the flightline.

Dr. (Capt.) Larry McLain returns to Webb looking hale, hearty and healthily tanned. His Aspen vacation may have seemed all too short to the inveterate skier, but we are happy to have him back.

Mrs. Neil Schultz recently offered hospitality to wives of the newest class, 71-05, with a coffee in her home. Honored guests were Mrs. John L. O'Donnell and Mrs. Paul P. Adams.

Long hair, short hair; curled, waved, straight hair — what is the latest word in styles? Ray Barefoot of Village Hair Styles will demonstrate the answers for NCO wives during their meeting next Tuesday night. Following the meeting, all NCO wives (membership not required) are invited to hear an address by Lamar Smith, Webb Youth Center counselor, on matters of importance to them and their children.

There are many ways of saying 'thank you,' and members of Class 71-01 said it to Capt. Neil Schultz with a pipeholder. The gift was extended during a recent party in honor of T-37 IP's and their wives.

The name of the team may be "Try Harders," but Mrs. H. H. Lobdell, Mrs. H. T. Hupp and Mrs. R. J. Seewald are Number One in the wives' bowling league. Together, they show a respectable average of 581 for the season.

Which brings on a reminder to ladies interested in improving their skills of just taking out washday frustrations on those pins. Mrs. John C. Aarni, bowling secretary, will be happy to hear from any interested party. The number to call is 267-5142. Remember: bowling pins don't hit back.

Weekly ceramics lessons will be offered every Tuesday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. for all interested persons from beginners to advanced. Individual lessons will be taught by Mrs. V. Glenn Cootes for $1 a session in the Ceramics Shop.

'Lady Like' Fashions For Spring

By NADEANE WALKER
AP Fashion Writer

LONDON (AP) — Clothes that are so ladylike they're positively prissy were shown here today by designer Lachasse.

His shortest skirt was 2½ inches below the knee, but it was hip, hip, hooray for hips and bosoms, too, with a cut that emphasized natural curves.

Lachasse billed his late spring show as "new styles for a new decade," but it was more like a rollcall of old favorites of yesteryear. He brought back basques and peplums to round the hip, square necklines and shoulder strap decolletage, draped busts and gored skirts.

One of his two main lines was strongly reminiscent of the New Look, with short fitted jackets over full skirts to the bottom of the calf. The other featured slim straight skirts two or three inches below the knee with long, shaped jackets.

Models wore strings of ladylike pearls, little pearl or gold earrings, low-heeled shoes, and hair pulled primly back and neat as a pin. Little toque hats were sometimes veiled or piled with flowers or bows. There was one black straw that looked just like a Salvation Army bonnet without the chin ribbons.

Most London high fashion designers showed their collections nearly a month ago, but Lachasse and Hartnell, who shows Thursday, wind up the spring and summer season. Lachasse's hearty "amen" to the midi lengths shown in Paris and Rome is likely to be echoed by Hartnell.

Women Planning Tour Of Hospital

STANTON (SC) — A tour of Big Spring State Hospital is planned for Tuesday by the Grady Home Demonstration Club, which met recently at the home of Mrs. O. D. Greene.

The club will take 2,000 cookies to the hospital.

Chuck Elmore of Cap Rock Electric Co-op gave a talk on "Safety In Electricity." Another guest at the meeting was Mrs. J. T. Mims, Stanton. Mrs. Jack Kuhlman, president, presided at the business meeting.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Buster Haggard.

Club Women Examine Use Of Credit Cards

In a simulated television interview, Mrs. Ivanelle Marr discussed "The Credit Card Explosion" at Thursday's luncheon meeting of Credit Women International at Hotel Settles. Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, program chairman, posed as the interviewer.

Mrs. Marr described the benefits of bank charging programs for member merchants and customers or card holders. She reviewed the history of the credit card from its beginning in 1914 with Western Union.

"Our present form of credit card was introduced by the oil industry in 1946," she said. She also predicted the future of the credit card.

Three members were recognized for maintaining perfect attendance records during 1969. They are Mrs. J. B. Apple, Mrs. George Weeks and Mrs. Loyd Wooten.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:
My smallest youngster was unhappy because his dog's pillow was torn and shabby. So when I told him to go in the old clothesbag for something made of flannel, he brought me one of his old pajama tops.

Instead of cutting it square, I left it as it was and stuffed it with old nylon panty hose and stockings (with two big sisters, there's always plenty of those around), then sewed the whole kaboodle — neck, sleeves and bottom openings — so poochie couldn't get to the stuffing.

Anyway we left the collar neatly folded back and "hided" a dog biscuit in the pocket. Her Highness, "The Duchess," just loves her pillow . . . and it didn't cost a cent, although the scent of all her favorite people are in it.

Children have animal-shaped pillows to hug . . . so why shouldn't animals have children-shaped pillows? . . . Mary Hancock

* * *

And just why shouldn't Duchess? You're a clever one . . . Heloise

* * *

DEAR HELOISE:
I have found a great use for the plastic lemon squeezer containers.

After the lemon juice is gone, I rinse out the containers and fill them with oil and vinegar.

It's so much easier to squeeze it on a salad. You get just the right amount of oil and vinegar without a mess . . . Mrs. M. Kucher

* * *

Dear Folks:
We've got a new little dilly for you today if you have some old, but favorite, red patent shoes that look simply awful:

If you do, did you know that you can take red fingernail polish (the dark red that matches the color of the shoes), apply it and it will cover all those worn spots? . . . Heloise

* * *

DEAR HELOISE:
I have found that as the toothpaste tube is used, I can take the handle of my truthbrush and starting at the bottom of the tube, press the tube flat and paste on up towards the top.

If you use the side of the handle, you can do a really fine job. Hold the handle near the end, and not up near the bristles or you will pop it in two. Roll up the tube as you press it flat.

It is possible to get almost every bit of the paste out this way . . . Dorothy Newman

* * *

DEAR HELOISE:
I have just discovered an ingenious way to cook beef heart.

I bought it already cleaned and sliced, and it was so inexpensive. I checked all of my cookbooks and could only find baked recipes. As I never cared for it that way, I thought I'd experiment.

I soaked it in cold water, then made a flour mix from one cup flour, 1½ teaspoons pepper, ¼ teaspoon garlic salt and ¼ teaspoon onion salt.

After rolling the sliced heart in this, I fried it in vegetable shortening in my skillet. Browned it well and let it fry on "sim" until tender. Then I salted and served it and awaited the results. The family loved it!

The "crispies" in the skillet made a great gravy for the mashed potatoes. It's loaded with vitamins and so economical.

Hope other ladies won't pass it by the next shopping trip as I did for so many years . . . DeDe

* * *

DEAR HELOISE:
I keep my paste silverware polish in the refrigerator so it will always be moist and ready to use . . . Alice Cooper

* * *

DEAR HELOISE:
My children love to go out and play in the snow. But they're constantly running in with wet clothes, and that creates a drying problem.

So I just put their wet things in the dryer as soon as they change.

One can do this many times a day. No more long waits for the clothes to dry out over a radiator or in front of the stove.

Time and patience saver, yes? Mrs. W. Girodet

Baby Your Feet

To help keep feet on the go, wear socks that fit. Change them every day, anl wash the soiled pair with soap or detergent suds.

Add Spaciousness With Mirror Trick At Home

The old mirror-trick is never so successful as when performed at home — to help a small room look spacious.

Mirrors can lead the eye to deceptive depths, giving the illusion of unbroken space or extending a room. For example, a mirror placed behind the love seat apparently doubles the corner area of the room.

Color and furniture placement also stretch dimensions of a small (11x13 foot) setting. By letting a single color — yellow in this case — spread over walls, carpeting and draperies, there's an effect of space and no problem in using a floral print accent.

Furniture hugs the walls to leave the central traffic lanes free. With this arrangement, it's possible to fit a queen-sized bed in the room, as well as a desk which serves the bed as an end table.

Both the corner settee and drum table are small-scaled and, with the hanging bookshelves, make an uncrowded bid for round-the-clock living attention.

As fringe benefits, you might add stacking units that will take up a minimum of floor space while expanding storage space on the wall.

'Families Need Goals' Advises HD Speaker

"All of us need purpose and a sense of direction that goals provide," said Mrs. Ray Swann, in her talk to the Coahoma Home Demonstration Club Wednesday. She gave the family life program in the home of Mrs. Fred Adams.

Mrs. Swann entitled her talk, "Your Values and Your Guiding Star." She defined values and goals and said that each family must establish its own set of values.

"The family chooses the set of values suitable to them then sets a goal logical to them," she explained. "When one goal is reached, the family can go on to higher goals."

Miss Allie Rae Adams was a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Ralph White, secretary, reported on her leadership training class in preparation for the next club meeting when she will tell members how to transfer pictures. The meeting will be held March 18 at her home.

A LOVELIER YOU

Roll Off Heavy Hips With Simple Routine

By MARY SUE MILLER

If all your weight is in your hips, today's routines will make short work of slimming. It will, that is, if you are not generally overweight. In such a fix, you have to combine a diet with exercise to obtain ideal results.

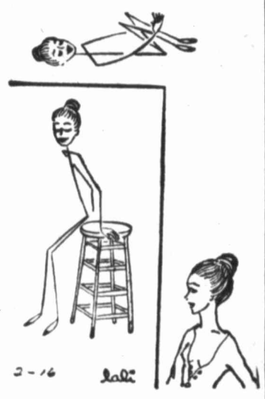
Here's what you do hipwise:

1. Lie back down on floor; bring knees to chest and clasp with hands. Now roll weight from far side to far side, across upper hip area. Next, come to an erect sitting position with knees bent and soles of feet on floor. By swinging knees to touch floor at either side, roll weight across lower hip. Two to five minutes.

2. Sit on hard chair and square weight solidly on buttocks. Raise feet several inches from floor and press legs together. Forcefully contract buttock muscles; hold for five counts. Work one to two minutes.

Performed in combination, those routines produce results with very little effort. No. 1 works by massaging the flesh. No. 2 tightens muscles. Outcome? Great!

And remember this: Stand with your hips tucked under your body, with your pelvis titled upward. A Lovely who stands so may not have a perfect hip size, but she won't have a bustle in the back.



P.S. Watch this column. More trimmers to come.

HIP REDUCING

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hipline is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, "Hip Reducing Routines." Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Prevent Wrinkles

The waistbands on cotton skirts will not wrinkle if you apply an adhesive-backed washable tape on the inside of the skirt band. When it is ironed out, the stiffner helps keep the skirt trim and unwrinkled.

Cocktail Clothes

This winter's cocktail and evening clothes have true glamour, and those already previewed for next spring promise even more in the way of femininity and romance.

High School Girls Discuss Youth

STANTON (SC) — A panel of Stanton High School senior girls discussed today's youth during the Stanton Study Club meeting at Martin County Library. On the panel were Debbie Hazlewood, Doris Howard and Robbie Hazlewood. Mrs. Bob Cox was moderator for the discussion. Hostesses were Mrs. Homer Schwalbe and Mrs. James Eiland.

Coahoma OES Group Honors Two Women

Coahoma Chapter No. 499, Order of the Eastern Star, observed "Friendship Night" recently and honored their fifty-year members, Mrs. Florence Read, past grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas and Mrs. Hannah Tompson, past matron of Coahoma Chapter.

Mrs. A. K. Turner, worthy matron, and H. H. Tanner, worthy patron pro-tem presided as 14 grand officers were presented.

A program, "The Heart of Friendship" was presented by Mrs. Donald McKinney, Mrs. Ernest Garrett, Mrs. Turner and all other chapter officers.

H. H. Tanner presented Mrs. Read a bouquet of red carnations from her chapter. The highlights of Mrs. Read's 50 years in the Order of Eastern Star and the various honors and accomplishments was read by Mrs. Garrett. She named the many appointments and elective offices Mrs. Read held in Grand Chapter and in General Grand Chapter, having served as worthy grand matron of Texas in 1937. As the narrator spoke, each chapter officer gave the honoree a Valentine heart.

Mrs. C. J. Engle presented Mrs. Read with a 50-year membership certificate from the Grand Chapter of Texas.

Mrs. O. J. Johnson, worthy matron of Norman Read Chapter No. 1010, Midland, gave the honoree, who is God Mother of that chapter, a bouquet of red carnations. The chapter was named in honor of Mrs. Read's late husband.

Becky Headrick, accompanied by Gail Clough at the piano, sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Mrs. Read expressed appreciation, especially to those who had travelled from various parts of the state. Mrs. A. K. Turner was presented an orchid from her chapter officers on the occasion of her birthday.

A reception followed the program. Two tables were covered with red and gold net cloths and centered with roses and cherubs with the gold numeral "50."

The registration table was covered with a gold cloth and decorations were the Eastern Star emblem with the numeral "50" in the center.

Guests were registered from Big Spring, Lamesa, Colorado City, Midland, Odessa, Crane, Midkiff, Sweetwater, Stanton, Arlington and Plains, Kan.

Mrs. Ruby Smith Wins Rook Game

The Rook Club met in the home of Mrs. N. W. McCleskey, 533 Hillside, Friday with three tables in play. A salad plate was served by Mrs. McCleskey. Mrs. Ruby Smith won high for members and Mrs. Mark Wentz and Mrs. S. R. Nobles tied for visitors. The next meeting will be March 20 at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington Blvd.

Co-Op Oratory Contest Set For March 7

An exciting, all-expense-paid trip awaits the winners of an oratorical contest sponsored by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative.

The 11 contestants, who posted their entries before the Dec. 19 closing date are Johnny Peugh and Kay Smith, Sands High School; Susan Vest, Diana Payne, and Don Robinson, Stanton High School; Kervin and Sharon Frysak, Garden City High School; Debra Buchanan, Big Spring High School; Tonja Gallagher, Midland High School; Annette Couch, Borden County High School; and Michael Tipton, Reagan County High School.

Each contestant will give a five-to eight-minute talk on "A Youth Looks at His Community." The contest will be held at the Cap Rock "Willie Wiredhand Room" in Stanton at 7 p.m., March 7, and the public is invited to attend. The trip to the nation's capital will be awarded to the winners, a boy and girl, at that time. Alternates will also be named.

The Cap Rock winners will join winners of similar contests, sponsored by electric cooperatives across Texas, on the sixth annual Texas Electric Cooperatives Government-In-Action Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. Approximately 80 to 90 people will be making the trip. They will meet in Waxahachie on June 6 to begin the 12-day chartered bus tour to the capital city.

While in Washington, they will see federal government in action, visit with their congressmen and other government officials, and see many places of historical interest in that area.

District's Income Up In January

Revenues to the Colorado River Municipal Water District gained $60,000 in January over the same month a year ago, but a good part of this was due to a catch-up payment from one of the oilfield users.

Although municipal users paid $127,931, or nearly $10,000 more than a year ago, their consumption of 432,440,000 was off by four million gallons from January, 1969, and the revenue difference reflected rate adjustments made in 1969 (which carry through January since this is on December billings).

The oil companies paid $156,625, an increase of $58,000. Most of this resulted from a year-end, catch-up payment by SACROC, which also was using about a million gallons a day more water at a somewhat higher rate. Recreational revenues sagged to $7,738 as compared with $14,800 in January, 1969, reflecting the low level of Lake J. B. Thomas. Total revenues for January were $294,214 as against $233,395 for January, 1969.

Operating expenses were $78,029 as compared with $84,145 a year ago, principally to more than $10,000 less required for funding the employment retirement fund. There was in January the sum of $216,184 available for transfer to debt service.

Oil companies used 446,257,000 gallons, up 60 million from January a year ago. However, 23 million gallons less were required from Lake J. B. Thomas because 79,593,000 gallons supplied the oil companies came from the low quality water trapped at the diversion works at Colorado City.

Keeping The Old West Alive

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — In this day of whizzing jet planes and speedy freeway traffic, Noland Davis still practices the stagecoach building trade he learned from his Indian grandfather.

Movie makers, guest-ranch operators and wealthy individuals buy the coaches. His basic model, which takes six months to build, sells for $8,000. Leather for one costs as much as $780.

"I'm fighting to hang on and preserve the trade," says the 54-year-old Davis. "I don't think we should let the Old West die off."

Hats Fade Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House police no longer will wear the "Student Prince" style ceremonial hats that drew scores of ribbings when they were introduced last month.

"The reason is that a number of the officers complained that the hats were not comfortable," a White House spokesman said Thursday. The criticisms had nothing to do with the change, he added.

The double-breasted, cream-colored cermonial tunics will remain, but the stiff, high-peaked caps will go, he said. For ceremonial occasions the White House police will slip a white cover over their regular police officer's hats and wear them with the tunics.

Annual Affair Climaxes Basin Engineers' Week

Engineers here and throughout the Permian Basin join this week in observing National Engineer's Week, so proclaimed by the President and Gov. Smith, and locally by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

Most of the observance will turn on the annual banquet by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers with its complement of engineering disciplines. This will be held Friday evening in the Ranchland Hills Country Club at Midland. Tickets of the event, which will feature an address by John Henry Faulk as well as the engineer-of-the-year award, may be obtained by contacting Wayne Vaughn at Cosden.

Taking note that the theme of the national week is "Environmental Design for the Seventies," Mayor Marshall observed that "the quality of our living space is deteriorating to the point of causing serious concern. In preserving our natural resources and perpetuating a natural setting that will contribute both to the happiness and health of our country, the role of the engineer is a truly important one," he said.

The National Society of Professional Engineers stressed that "since most of our resources are both finite and irreplaceable, their conservation and development requires a high degree of engineering competence in cooperation with other professional skils."

In the Permian Basin, these presidents and their societies will be participating in the special observance: Leon Fontenot, Midland, American Society of Civil Engineers; Foye L. Davis, Odessa, American Institute of Chemical Engineers; D. L. Shrader, Odessa, Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers; Roy C. Williamson, Midland, Society of Petroleum Engineers; Paul Henderson, Monahans, Pecos, also petroleum engineers; C. R. Moncrief, Midand, American Society of Mechanical Engineers; John Weir, Odessa, Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

Among the previous holders of the engineer-of-the-year award for the Permian Basin are the late E. V. Spence, 1957, and O. H. Ivie, 1964. Both have served as general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Last year's winner was Charles B. Perry, Odessa.

Film On Drugs Booked Here

Flip Side, a dramatic color film based on Look magazine's publication of "Youthquake" an account of the drug problem confronting youth, will be shown March 1 at 4:30 p.m. at Immaculate Heart of Mary church.

All parents and other interested people are invited to see the showing. There is no charge.

Flip Side begins in a coffee house called The Flip where a youthful couple reveal the drug-twisted world of the "hippie." A teenage girl gets trapped by the apparatus, and a young man falls victim of drink brought on by parental permissiveness.

Norm, who runs The Flip, presents an answer to the hang-ups of modern youth. The ballads of Ray Hildebrand, folk singer, underscore the message.

There will be a showing of the film previously for the young people.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I am lonesome. I am married and have two children in high school, but I'm still lonesome. I have never lacked for material things. My husband is a very prosperous business executive. (Good family, fine education, etc.) We never have any real conversations. When I have his attention, I always feel that I must talk fast because after a short time he either leaves the room, or goes back to what he was reading. Or else he retires.

I am as well educated as he is. I keep up with current events, I'm a good hostess and I take care of our home and children. I am attractive, have a good figure and know how to dress. We have a full social life, which he enjoys, but he has nothing to say to me unless it has to do with the children.

So, here I sit, Dear Abby, alone as usual in my lovely newly decorated home, wanting so much to talk to someone.

I have told him how I feel. He says, "You have nothing to complain about," which is a typical one-sentence response to any dialog I might initiate.

What do I have to look forward to in my old age? I'd like some suggestions.

THIRTY NINE AND LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: You and your husband are living "parallel" lives. Perhaps a dose of adversity, which has been known to strengthen many marriages, but was absent in yours, would have been beneficial.

If you want to improve your lot (and I think you do) for once, don't "talk fast" when you tell your husband that there must be more to marriage than you have, and you'd like to see a counselor. Admit that the fault could be yours. (It could be.) If he refuses to accompany you, go alone. It can't hurt. Good luck. All you have to lose is your loneliness.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our problem is a lady who sings so loudly in church that she drowns everybody else out. Not only that, but she sings way off key. She is a regular church-goer and is getting old, and she is really a very kind lady so nobody wants to hurt her feelings by calling this to her attention, but I can tell you it sure doesn't make for very good listening. Any suggestions? She gets louder every Sunday.

ANOTHER CHURCH GOER

DEAR CHURCH GOER: The poor woman is probably slowly growing deaf. She goes to church to pray, right? And so do you. So next Sunday, throw in an extra prayer for her, and forever hold your peace.

* * *

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get if off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

No Observance Planned Here For FFA Week

Big Spring Future Farmers of America are not making plans to celebrate FFA Week in Texas beginning today. Gov. Preston Smith signed a proclamation declaring Feb. 21-28 FFA Week in Texas.

"We're pretty busy with the livestock shows, and we're not going to have time to plan anything," Ricky Denson, reporter, said.

The local chapter has about 75 members. Each member has a project raising cattle, which includes lambs, hogs and steers, or crops. They go to leadership contests, livestock judging and parliamentary procedure contests each year, plus attending various livestock shows.

FFA is an educational, nonprofit, nonpolitical youth organization of voluntary membership, designed to develop agricultural leadership, character, thrift, scholarship, cooperation, citizenship and patriotism.

The age limit is 12-21, and members must be enrolled in a high school class of vocational agriculture, in which students are given an opportunity to secure technical and scientific training in all phases of agriculture.

Area shows attended by the boys include those in Abilene, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and San Angelo, in addition to the Big Spring show each spring.

"Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to earn," is the chapter motto, and each year boys who have lived up to the motto are given awards during the spring banquet.

A committee judges records kept by the boys and the ones who have done the best job of feeding and caring for their animals are given trophies. Awards are given for scholarship, outstanding lamb, outstanding hog, outstanding steer, outstanding greenhand, outstanding leader and chapter farmer.

Officers of the local chapter are Dicky Stanley, president; Leon Langley, vice president; Louis Dunnam, secretary; Ryan Walker, treasurer; Ricky Denson, reporter; and Mike Sellars, sentinel. Becky Jenkins is the chapter sweetheart, anl Ed Seay and Truett Vines are the sponsors.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Then I beheld all the works of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun; though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it." (Ecc. 8:17)

PRAYER: We stand humbled, O Lord, before the manifest works of Thy hand. Help us to understand Thy purposes in the creation, and how to accomplish Thy will in our lives. Amen.

Where Will It All End?

The Texas Insurance Commission has indicated that some sharp increased insurance premiums may be on the way this summer. The figure of 25 per cent is bandied about for this area of the state.

Part of the threatened hike is due to abnormally large loss claims paid for storm damage, particularly for devastating hail such as raked Amarillo and as visited much of our own city. Other hikes are due chiefly to increased replacement costs, although it does seem that this could be geared somewhat to the amount of coverage which an individual elected to take.

One proposal to somewhat modify suggested sharp increases is a $250 deductible. This would so drastically penalize the low or average policy holder that it has all the marks of a diversionary tactic that will condition us to accept the more painful main blow.

It is not fair to single out insurance, however, for this is but one more spin in the upward spiral of costs. To borrow a phrase from a cigarette commercial: "Where will it all end?"

We Didn't But We Could

Big Spring was not, it should be noted, among the three Texas communities tapped out as all-America cities during the past week.

We didn't deserve to be.

But we can aspire to be, for among those who achieved the honor was Borger, a Panhandle city which did something about shaking off the shackles as a one-time boom town. No comparison is intended, but this does show what can be done when a community cooperates completely on a common goal.

For several years our town has made this honor a goal, but relatively few times have we ever got around to actually submitting an entry in the all-America cities contest. In the main, it boils down to exhibiting a greater talent for talk than for action.

While there is some honor, to be sure, in being named an all-America city, the great dividend is in a more attractive community, one that is safer and cleaner, and one that exhibits enough civic pride not only in good appearance but also in pulling together on worthwhile projects.

A couple of years back we captured the West Texas Chamber of Commerce "Operation Sparkle" title for the medium city class. This was based principally upon the extensive overhaul of the downtown area and it earned us considerable attention in the all-America selections.

What is needed, however, is something on a broader base involving all the community. We need to tackle the removal or masking of eye sores, which we have in good supply; to set some systematic goals for brightening the town and in beautification; to tackle cleanup with enthusiasm rather than with resignation. In short, we need to express (if not develop) civic pride in terms of participation and responsibility of all our people.

Letters For Sale

WASHINGTON — It was only after Jackie Kennedy Onassis' letters to former Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric were lifted from his safe that anyone realized the market value of Jackie's stolen letters.

A few days after the publicity of Mrs. Onassis' letters a man walked into my office and said he had four letters he would like to sell me, written by Ros Gilpatric.

"To Jackie Kennedy Onassis?" I asked.

"No," he said. "To Mrs. Robert McNamara. They were stolen from her bureau drawer and concern a surprise party Gilpatric was planning for Robert McNamara."

"THAT DOESN'T SEEM to have much value," I said.

"Are you crazy?" he said. "They were written by the man to whom Jackie Kennedy wrote 'Dear Ros.' "

"How much are they?" I asked.

"Five hundred dollars for the four of them," he said, "and you ask no questions how I got them."

"That's too much money," I said.

"All RIGHT," he said. "How about four letters Mrs. McNamara wrote to Averell Harriman on his 75th birthday?"

"What are you asking for those?"

"Four-hundred dollars."

"You've got to be kidding."

"You mean to say you would not be willing to pay $400 to own the letters of the woman to whom Roswell Gilpatric wrote before Jackie Kennedy wrote to him?"

"Well, I didn't exactly say that."

"I COULD HAVE gone elsewhere with these," he said, sticking them back in his pocket and pulling out another set of letters. "Now these are letters Averell Harriman wrote to the New York State Democratic Party asking them to unite behind somebody — anybody. They were slipped to me by Mrs. Harriman in a moment of jealous anger. I'm asking $300 for them."

"You're a thief," I cried.

"A thief, am I? Do you realize these letters were written by the man who received letters from the woman who owned letters from the man whom Jackie Kennedy Onassis thanked for sending her a slim volume of poems?"

"Don't go," I begged. "It's just that $300 is a lot of money."

"ALL RIGHT, then," he said, opening his valise. "For $200 I will sell you 10 letters from the New York State Democratic Party, asking for contributions to draft Arthur Goldberg for governor of New York. Before you protest, I would like to remind you that you would own the letters of a party to whom the man to whom the woman to whom the man to whom Mrs. Kennedy Onassis once wrote 'With my love, Jackie.' "

"Do you have anything cheaper?"

"Here are some letters from Arthur Goldberg for $100. These letters, all authenticated, were sent out by Mr. Goldberg, denying he had any ambitions to run for governor. If you can't afford the Gilpatric letters I'd advise you buy these."

"BUT THEY'RE so far removed from the Jackie Kennedy Onassis letters."

"How can you say that?" he said. "They were written by the man who was supported by the party which was appealed to by the man who received a birthday greeting from the woman who received four letters from the man who was the owner of the original letters written by Jackie Kennedy Onassis from the Yacht Christina the day after her marriage to Onassis. What the heck do you want for a hundred dollars?"

Billy Graham

The Bible says, "Owe no man anything but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law." Does this mean that Christians are not to go in debt? C.D.

The Bible is practical as well as spiritual. It does not impose unfair, or unreasonable demands upon us. I believe that this Scripture refers to our debt of love to our neighbors and brethren — and not to installment buying.

After all, when one buys on installment, or "on time," the debt is usually properly secured, and payments regularly made according to agreement. There may be a "balance due," but it would not be considered a "debt" in the real sense of the word unless it was deliquent, or completely ignored when overdue.

With the modern system of interest, installment buying is profitable for the one who loans, and a convenience for the one who borrows. It is a mutual agreement and contract between the loaner and the borrower, and when the terms of the contract are met, it is not considered a debt, but rather an obligation.

The danger is that some families become "installment poor," and are unable to pay their bills. Since this would jeopardize the security of the family, the above verse might be paraphrased to say: "Owe no more than you can pay," and that makes good sense.

You do have a debt to all men . . . it is the debt of love. You should be paying on it every day.

Irony: Slow-Down And Inflation Together

By WHAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — While signs that the economy was slowing continued to pop up the past week, a major indicator spotlighted inflation's surge.

Economic activity last month showed a gradual but broadly based deceleration, the Commerce Department reported.

But on the same day the Labor Department said consumer prices — adjusted for seasonal price trends — continued to rise in January exactly as they had in the two previous months.

The 7.2 per cent annual rate of increase in consumer prices during the month was hardly good news for President Nixon's inflation fighters and the man in the street.

That annual rate is the highest since 1951, when inflation spurred by the Korean War was about at its peak.

The Commerce Department summarized previously reported indicators in its monthly comment on business, noting continued production declines, rising unemployment stability in nonagricultural jobs, and a modest gain in personal income.

Housing starts, under pressure of tight money, continued to fall in January at a 6.9 per cent seasonally adjusted rate below December's pace.

And new building permits, a portent of things to come, dropped 2' per cent.

President Nixon released a report by a special cabinet task force that expressed divided opinion on the controversial problem of how oil imports should be controlled to protect the nation's security, and he postponed indefinitely any major policy decision on the control system.

A majority of the task force recommended replacing present import quotas with a system of preferential tariffs.

In the face of the task-force recommendation and a separate proposal by the secretaries of the interior and commerce advocating administrative changes in the present program Nixon adopted neither.

He placed import policy making in the hands of the director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Meanwhile, Ford Motor Co. and General Motors announced new layoffs during the week, reflecting dragging auto sales.

A continuing decline in corporate profits in 1970 was predicted by the investment firm of Salemen Bros. and Hutzler along with a drop from 8½ per cent to seven or 7½ per cent in the prime interest rate by the end of the year.

The nation's banks have been charging their most creditworthy customers the 8½ per cent rate since mid-1969 and Salemen Bros. said it expected an initial reduction by the middle of 1970.

OFF BUT UP

- Cost of living still at 7.2 pct. annual rate of gain
- Tight money pinch drives housing starts down by 6.9 pct .
- Motor companies set new layoffs; corporate profits off
- Investment house predicts interest rates may decline
- President backs off decision on oil import changes

COULD BE ROUGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shifting from import quotas to tariffs on foreign oil could carry some heavy price tags, a Cabinet task force which recommended the move admits.

Abandonment of a basic security concept — national self-reliance for petroleum — is one of them.

Others include unemployment in the oil industry, the disappearance of some producers from the oil fields, economic shocks to already hard-pressed localities, and an increased drain on the U.S. balance of payments abroad.

President Nixon, in releasing the task force report Friday, postponed indefinitely any action on it.

"The petroleum security of the U.S. must in the future be assessed not in terms of 'self-sufficiency' but in terms of the reliability of oil supplies from all available sources," the report said.

That means, in terms of other task force recommendations, closer ties with Canadian and Mexican energy sources, a tariff preference designed to keep South American oil flowing to the United States, and efforts to restrict imports of "eastern hemisphere" — that is, Arab — oil.

Surgery For Pinworms?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our 6-year-old daughter has been plagued with pinworms at least eight times in four years. I just found them on her again. We have four other children and no one else in the family has this trouble.

I have read everything I can find, and have followed all the instructions carefully, but in a few months she has them again.

Our doctor seems to think they may be harbored around her appendix and has suggested removing it. Other doctors do not seem to think this is the answer. I'm at my wit's end. — Mrs. G.P.

I shortened your letter, but you seem to have done everything humanly possible around the house.

The appendix? Yes, it is known that pinworms can accumulate there. The cases with which I have been familiar all involved symptoms of appendicitis and that was the reason for operating. The pinworms were discovered at the time of surgery.

You mentioned one form of medication. It is a good one, but there are others which have been effective, and I would try some other medication before resorting to surgery if the child has no signs of an inflamed appendix. Keep in mind that a single course of medication is not always effective; sometimes it has to be repeated to get rid of all the worms, even though a single dose is sufficient in many instances.

You have one more hope. The girl is now 6, and about old enough to understand that, if she keeps her fingers away from her mouth, and washes carefully after every bathroom visit and before every meal, she herself can do a lot to avoid getting new infestations of worms. (And don't forget the importance of keeping fingernails trimmed short, and clean, since the eggs can lurk under the nails.)

* * *

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the problem of first cousins marrying? I was widowed, and after my first cousin's wife passed away, we married. I know it would make him very happy if we had a child. I am 43 and he is 49. We were married in a state where cousins can marry legally.—F.V.

The fact is that under ordinary circumstances certain recessive traits or characteristics tend to disappear.

But when cousins marry, some of these characteristics can be present in both the husband and wife. If they are favorable ones, that's fine. If they are weaknesses, that's not so fine. Because these ordinarily recessive traits, instead of gradually waning, are reinforced in the children by coming from both sides of the family.

Thus some minor eye weakness (or of any other part of the human system) might be of no great consequence. But if this weakness is reinforced by being inherited from both parents, an eye problem may be very severe.

For a simple example, both parents might be near-sighted; the child might be so drastically near-sighted as to be handicapped.

That is the reason for discouraging the marriage of cousins. Not all children of first cousins are handicapped or defective, but the risk is greater.

* * *

Note to Mrs. B.G.: Postpartum depression—emotional depression following birth of a child—occurs from time to time. You would be very wise to see a psychiatrist.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. Around The Rim

Portrait Of A President

George and Martha Washington were enjoying a quiet evening in private quarters in the White House. There was no immediate crime in the streets, water pollution wasn't threatening at the time, ani foreign entanglements were at a minimum.

"George," the good wife said, "now that we have enjoyed your birthday, I think I should remind you again that the one thing you must do is get your picture made."

"PICTURE MADE!" George got vehement. "Those press cameramen and TV men drive me crazy every day as it is. That's all the pictures anybody needs."

"No, George, I mean a portrait — a formal oil painting. One of these days the nation is going to want to see a good likeness of you."

George remained wary. "Who could get a good likeness of me, with these new teeth bothering me like they are?"

"I THINK I know the man, my husband. He is Gilbert Stuart, already proven as an outstanding painter."

"You mean that fellow who does those New Mexico ranch landscape?"

"No, No, George. He's really a distinguished artist with personal portraits. Did you know, he has done King George III, and the one-day-to-be George IV, and he has done Louis XVI, as well as many prominent people in Ireland. I think he would come back to this country if you showed any interest in a painting."

"WELL, I don't know if I want the same brush man who did George III. We haven't seen eye to eye on this indepenience thing, you know . . . But, Martha, if you insist, get one of the aides to contact Mr. Stuart, and we'll see what can be done."

It developed that Stuart the painter did show up, and found himself rather uncomfortable in the presence of the august George Washington.

NEVERTHELESS, the President gave time enough for sittings, while Stuart went to work with brush and canvas.

Came the time the painting was finished. Stuart, with a great deal of trepidation, took it to the White House for a private unveiling.

The moment came. The cover was lifted back. Washington took a long look, then exclaimed in mighty wrath: "Why that's the ugliest thing I ever saw!"

STUART, of course, was taken aback, and got right out of there. He debated selling the painting to an art museum, but after due reflection, he himself decided he could do better. "If I could just overcome the expression of the face caused by the false teeth," he mused.

He developed enough courage to ask the President to let him try again, and this time he painted the left side of Mr. Washington's face.

Sure enough, the painting this time was acceptable. Washington even grinned about it, and joked, "Why, this thing may show up one day on the country's dollar bills."

The Spiraling Arms Race

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's foreign policy for the '70s contains a great deal of quiet common sense. The effort to come to grips with the massive reality of Communist China is in itself a noteworthy departure from the head-in-the-sand policy of the past 20 years.

The steps taken thus far are minuscule. Yet this first small effort to break down the barriers is in itself a notable advance. And the resumption of the talks at Warsaw is another move toward breaking down the glacial barrier that has walled away 700,000,000 of the earth's inhabitants.

THIS IS A look down a long road with the hope that at the end there may be some break in the wall shutting away China's millions. It pales to insignificance alongside the discussion of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT). Here the going is rough, the view obscured as though with deliberate ambiguity.

At his press conference in January the President announced the decision to proceed with Phase II of the Safeguard antiballistic missile. This came as a shock to those most familiar with the long and tortuous attempt to put the nuclear genii back in the bottle.

THOSE CLOSE to the struggle to check the spiraling arms race had hoped for a pause of at least six months or a year. After a long and bruising Senate battle, the President had by a one-vote margin got approval last year for two ABM installations.

Some work was going forward on the two ABMs, one in North Dakota and one in Montana, and, since in part they are experimental, a delay might even be a net gain. A memorandum by one of America's top nuclear physicists with the highest security clearance found the ABM Safeguard obsolete even before construction began. The weight of scientific opinion, outside the circle of professional weaponeers, appears to have been overwhelmingly against proceeding with Phase II.

THE DECISION, in the view of a leading physicist, was personal and political. How much it owed to the power of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is a matter for speculation, with the Pentagon curtain concealing the decision-making process.

At the same time Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has made no secret of his conviction that MIRV, the multiple warhead intercontinental missile has progressed so far that deployment is just around the corner. The Soviets are likewise said to be so advanced with their multiple missile that the next step is deployment. If these reports are true, the weaponeer has triumphed again with a weapon that defies inspection.

NOTHING IN the message, not even the assurances about Vietnamization of the war and the continuing withdrawal of American forces, compares in importance with the SALT discussion. Aside from troop cost, the bulk of military spending is in strategic weapons. One estimate of the bill for Phase II of ABM is $11 billion and, like all Pentagon price tags, this is probably only a down payment.

SO MUCH in the President's message on the state of the world has a spare and convincing sound. The contrast with the section on the nuclear talks is striking. There Mr. Nixon seems to be using deliberate ambiguity to conceal his purpose. It will take a very great surprise — an act of courage — at the next SALT round in Vienna to dispel this impression.

Our Position Against Aggression

WASHINGTON — What should the policy of the United States be toward defending the peoples of Asia and Europe against aggression? President Nixon would naturally not wish to discuss such delicate subjects in detail and deal in advance with the numerous contingencies that might arise. For American policy will be made not by presidential speeches or by pronouncements by a committee of Congress. Everything will depend upon the nature of the emergency and the extent to which the defense of this country is actually involved.

MOST PEOPLE — even many in government here — don't like to look at the realistic picture in either Europe or Asia today. The truth is there now is no standing army which can match that of the Soviet Union. Reliance on the nuclear bomb has become a fact of international life. For this reason the European countries have practically given up the idea of spending large sums for defense. They have been assuming that the United States would take care of the principal obligations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in the future and that it would immediately come to the aid of the smaller countries of Asia.

THE AMERICAN people, on the other hand, as a result of their experience in Vietnam, are not enthusiastic about sending an army of 500,000 or more troops into a foreign land to defend a country which is the victim of aggression. Inevitably the question then is asked: "What about collective defense under the U.N. charter?"

There is at present no sign that the European or Asian peoples are willing to get together themselves to set up defense forces that would lighten the load for the United States. So utterances by American officials indicating a lack of interest in further missions like the one in Vietnam are bound to have an impact on the world situation.

FOR MANY YEARS now the countries of Western Europe have assumed that nuclear weapons possessed by the United States would act as a deterrent against any threat by the Soviets. But suppose the Kremlin decides to avoid the nuclear problem and depend solely on conventional forces? The opportunity for conquest would probably present itself to the Communists in the next decade if the United States has really retreated from Europe and Asia.

THE BIG QUESTION for the 1970s is what the effect is going to be of American withdrawal of its military power from both Europe and Asia. What will be the consequences to the peoples there when they find themselves at the mercy of a Communist empire which need not use nuclear weapons but can send a large land army to almost any country to achieve a military objective?

The time may come when the "isolationism" which is so popular today — and which was espoused prior to World War I and prior to World War II — will turn out to be dangerous again. For the Communists are not likely to be content to confine their imperialism to Europe and Asia, but will extend it intensively to Mexico and other countries in Latin America.

EVER SINCE the Monroe Doctrine was proclaimed, it has been recognized that the United States had a duty to protect the nations of this hemisphere, and since World War II the principle of collective defense of Europe and Asia has been widely accepted. Now these concepts have deteriorated, and this constitutes the real danger in international relations in the 1970s.

Magazine Sales To Support Prom

By KATHLEEN THOMPSON

The annual magazine sales started Thursday. This event in one of the major money-making projects of the year.

With the average price being $4.50, if every student sold one subscription, the school would gross over $9,000. This money is used by each class for the junior-senior prom and the senior gift of the respective classes.

Prizes being offered this year are in the form of black light posters, sweat shirts, money, and even a black light. The sophomore class has challenged the combined forces of the junior and senior classes.

Mr. Ed Baccus, company representative, along with Mr. John Talmadge and Lynn Cauley urge everyone to join in this school project.

The FHA Sweetheart Banquet was held in the BSHS cafeteria Saturday night, Feb. 14. Highlight of the banquet was the speech by Rev. Leo Gee on the theme of "The Heart of America is in Your Hands."

Sue Reinkemeyer, mistress of ceremonies, oversaw the handing out of several awards. Cathy Carlile was named Homemaker of the year, Peggy Irwin was named FHAer of the Year for the senior chapter and Cindy Stanly and Sandy Williams tied for the junior chapter FHAer of the Year. LaShara Shanks won the Betty Crocker Award.

Cathy Carlile was presented the Crisco Award. Beau Mike Cunningham and Mrs. Grisham, sponsor, both received gift circtificates. A charm was given to area officer Susan Cape.

The Kermit Invitational Tournament last weekend was a successful one for the Forensics Department. Various awards, described in the picture on this page, were won by the Forensic team.

Miss Sharon Ryan, Forensics coach, wishes to thank all mothers who provided friend chicken Friday night. She extends her thanks to all parents who went as sponsors on their own time and expense. Special thanks go to all the people who helped support the department by purchasing cokes at CR 7-0. She also reminds all her students to start working and saving for the Tech and Hardin-Simmons tournaments.

The choir is presently selling tickets for the "Our Little Miss" pageant. Adult tickets are $1 and student tickets are sold for 50 cents.

Next Friday the choir will present a concert in the BSHS auditorium. The songs to be presented will be the same ones done while the choir is on tour to Kansas in March.

The Key Club had their dinner meeting at Furr's Cafeteria Tuesday evening. Jeff Talmadge, president, presented awards to members who sold the most ads for Key Day.

The National Honor Society held its meeting Thursday night. On the agenda was a discussion on the All-School Sing. The program consisted of an experiment made by NASA on group cooperation.

Wednesday evening, the famous Harlem Stars were chalenged by the JayCees in the high school gym. Half-time entertainment was in the form of the JayCees playing a women's basketball team. The all-female team won. The Harlem Stars also came out victorious.

School was dismissed at 2:45 Thursday in order to enable the teachers to attend the TSTA meeting.

The Astronomy Club made plans on Thursday, Feb. 12, for the next night observation. It will be Monday, at Centerpoint. All students wishing to attend should contact either Mr. Carlson or Mr. Lawrence.

Another upcoming project is the observing of the full solar eclipse Saturday, March 7.

Industrial Cooperative Training Club opens their spring activity in Odessa, March 13 where its members participate in the District Spring Contest in skill speeds.

ICT members will enter medical laboratory contests, carpentry, nurses aid, parliamentary procedure, auto body repair, X-ray technician, dry-cleaning contests. Winners at the district contest will attend the state contest in Austin on April 17.

Sam Parker, president, received first place in carpentry in the State of Texas last year, and he will automatically attend the state contest this year.

March 17 brings to Big Spring High School a convict program under the direction of the Student Council, Morning Optimist Club, and the Texas State Prisons.

The main speakers will be convicts giving their true life history of their convictions by society.

This will not be a staged affair, it deals from drug abuse to murder. This program has been presented twice before here at Big Spring High School. Previous students found it very entertaining and informative.

Seniors Finish Galveston Plans

By PATSY REED

The senior class met to complete their plans for the senior trip. They had to submit their plans to the school board for approval. They are going to Houston and Galveston and are going to use Galveston as their main stop. The class secretary, Wanda Beeson, has sent off inquiries as to how the seniors can be accommodated. Appointments will be scheduled with different places such as NASA, that they may view as educational spots if they desire.

The FHA banquet was without the music of the Border Brass as was previously planned. Taking their place was the "Slick When Wet" from Coahoma. People attending the banquet heard an outstanding speech given by Lynn Cauley. This speech, on the love for ones country, brought a standing ovation.

The Student Council discussed plans Monday, for an all-day activity to be held on April 30. April 31 will be dress-up day and campaign day for next year's Student Council president.

The Buffalo Queens won their bi-district game against Paint Rock. The team went to the regional tournament held in Levelland. The team left Thursday morning and played their first game against Spade.

The one-act play cast was recently changed. Karen O'Dell, the former Mrs. Tully in the play had to drop out, so her under-study, Kay Walraven, has taken the roll over. The plays will be presented here March 24.

The FHA is making plans to attend the area meeting in Odessa on March 14. Girls interested in making the trip are to see Mrs. Joyce Baggett, home economics teacher.

The golf team has gotten practice under way. Mr. W. O. Maxwell Jr. has been giving instructions to the boys after school. The boys going out for golf are: R. C. Reed, Tinker Bailey, Steve Mundell, Donnie Cockrell, Richard Pitts, Tom Bill Kuykendall, Steve Yeats, Jacky Willis, Vard Grifith, and Will Morgan.

The tennis teams are also being organized. The boys going out for tennis are: Johnny Leon Hobbs, Tommy Chip Hollandsworth, Kenny Hollandsworth, James Ditmore, Ralph Hammack, Rodney Hammack, Richard Pitts, David Moreno, Orian Kilgore, Billy Patton, Bob Highley, Mike Murphy, and Robert Wash.

The girls going out for tennis are: Belinda McKinnon, Kay Walraven, Debbie Fryar, and Jackie Condron.

Pictures of these groups were made for the annual on Wednesday.

Ogden Races To Second In Barrel Racing Meet

BORDEN (SC) — The West Texas Barrel Racing Association held its monthly point race at Post, Feb. 7. Connie Ogden won second place in the barrel race, in the two-go round average. She tied for second and third in the first-go round and in the second-go round she tied for first and second. The next point race will be held at Haskell.

On Thursday, Feb. 5, the high school and junior high students attended an assembly in the high school auditorium. Mr. Spencer Guimarin gave a very serious and funny program on Health Careers and their importance.

Mr. Guimarin is Director of the Texas Health Careers Program of Austin. He also has a BA from Southwestern General College and a BS and a MA in European History from Southwest Texas State College. At the end of the program, Mr. Guimarin entertained the students with songs.

On Monday, Charlotte Brown, Judy Buchanan, Billie Briggs, and Tommy Lockhart attended the small school seminar at the Howard County Junior College. Each group from each school visited classes in session. The next seminar project will be visiting the Big Spring State Hospital.

The Future Homemakers of Borden County held a meeting last Tuesday, Feb. 10. Cheron Billeck read the minutes of the last meeting. February's project was sending valentines to children in the Lubbock State School. Every girl participated in this project enthusiastically. Plans were discussed for the FHA and FFA Banquet anl a committee formed to carry out these plans.

The March program will be to keep the teachers workrooms supplied with refreshments in the elementary, junior high, and high school buildings. Due to six-weeks tests interference, the FHA week will be postponed until a week or more later. The freshmen girls of Home Ec. I served refreshments.

Borden 4-H was represented at El Paso Stock Show the week of the 6-15. Those going were Rex Cox, Gigi Canon, and Terry Canon, all in 4-H. Rex Cox placed a first with a Crossbred lamb, and a sixth and tenth with a Finewool lamb. Gigi Canon won a third with an Angus calf. She also placed a lamb at 12th place. Bobbie and Lisa Ludecke showed hogs. Lisa won a ninth with a Duroc. Dolores Lankford of Howard County 4-H took two steers; she placed third with her heavyweight hereford.

The Borden County track girls have opened this year's season with about 23 girls participating. Their first meet will be at Robert Lee in about three weeks.

Teams Take First, Second

By DARLA EARNEST

The sports at Forsan Junior High have changed from basketball to volleyball, track and tennis. The team came out with first and second place trophy in the Sterling City tournament, the last basketball game of the year. The girls played Garden City for the first game and won by a score of 31-27 with Brenda Cowley as high scorer. She made 12 points. The boys played Garden City also, and won by a score of 38-19 with Landon Soles as high scorer. He made 16 points. For the championship games the teams played Sterling City. The girls won by a margin of four points, and came out with the first place trophy. The boys had bad luck and lost with a score of 42-39, and came out with a second place trophy.

The junior high would like to extend congratulations to the high school "B" team who came out with a first place trophy also.

The Student Council is very active this year. The plans now for the council is the athletic banquet.

Seniors Hear Armed Forces

By SHARA DEE HAMBRICK

Three men from enlistment offices from the Army, Navy and the Air Force spoke to the senior boys in a meeting that was held on Monday during fifth period.

The track girls have now started their practicing for their first track meet. The ones coming out for this year's season are Joanne Coleman, Cynthia Richter, D'Aun Ditto, Kay Smith, Dorinda Graham, Kathy Newcomer, Diane Bowlin, and Paula Anderson.

Colored pictures were made on Tuesday. Each package will cost $3.

The Mustangs were victorious over the Jayton Jaybirds in a contest held last Friday night, by a score of 83-70. Steve Herm lead all scorers with a total of 28 points.

The Mustangs also suffered a defeat Tuesday night when the Seagraves Eagles outscored them 75-59. Johnny Peugh had 12 points in that one.

The seniors termed their Pee Wee tournament that was held on Feb. 12, 13, and 14 a huge success. The first place trophies went to Klondike girls and Sands "A" boys, second place to Grady girls and Forsan boys, third place to Sands "A" girls and Greenwood boys. Consolation went to Greenwood girls and Klondike boys. The seniors made a total profit of around $650. This will help pay for expenses on the senior trip.

GOLIAD

Faculty Picks Goliad Top Ten

By JILL RHYMES

At Tuesday's Honor Society induction ceremony, Goliad's 1970 Top Ten were presented. They are chosen by the faculty for their scholastic ability, which must average 90, and outstanding qualities of leadership, character, service, and citizenship.

Heading the list are six eighth graders, Leigh Jones, Marianne McLaughlin, Libby Hattenbach, Paul Talbot, Tom Sorley, and James Lacy. The four seventh graders are Kathy Meek, Darcy Lobdell, Barry Canning, and Wes Boullioun.

A new award initiated this year is the Maxi-Maverick Award which recognizes academic excellence. To be eligible for this award, a student must have been enrolled in Goliad for three full semesters and must rank first in his class scholastically. The receiver of the Maxi-Maverick award this year was Van Johnson, with an average of 99.6.

Feb. 26, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., the Student Council will host Parents' Night. Parents are asked to gather first in the gymnasium for a short program after which they will be given opportunity to meet the teachers of their junior high children.

Student Council members will serve as building guides and help with the refreshments.

Students Planning On A 'Trash-In'

SEATTLE (AP) — A group at the University of Washington has found a social purpose for garbage — a "Trash-In."

Members of the Committee on the Environmental Crisis plan to dump metal, plastic, glass anl other trash in front of the student union building next week. The material will be separated and returned to its various manufacturers with a note asking that it be reused.

OEA Members Listen To 'Careers In Banking'

By JAN STOUT

The monthly Office Education Association meeting was held Monday in the WOE lab, during activity neriod. Mrs. Ivanelle Marr, assistant vice president of the Security State Bank, spoke to the members on "Careers in Banking." Refreshments were served after the program.

The student council met Thursday, during activity period. A committee was appointed to create several activity days for the high school student body to participate in. This organization also decided to include the president of each club as an honorary member of the student council.

The National Honor Society had a party Thursday night with Mexican food, games, and entertainment.

The volleyball captains met at noon Thursday to draw team numbers for the intramural volleyball games. Captains for the various teams are Connie Parrish, Linda Foster, Brenda Blair, Cheryl Meyer, Jan Stout, Mrs. Jackie Herndon and Darlene Jacobs. Competitive games will begin Tuesday during noon and after school.

A Spanish club party was held Friday night in the high school cafeteria. Food was provided by Mrs. Lucille Richters. Games and entertainment mere provided.

The speech club went to Midland Lee High School, Friday noon, to observe the debate tournament and other speaking events in interscholastic league.

A general assembly was held Friday during activity period. A band consisting of Alvis Ashley, Jerry Hudson, Jimmy Wright, Stanley Lowe and James Teeler entertained the high school students.

Aids Endangered, Funds May Be Cut

Work-Study funds for students at Howard County Junior College, could be affected by President Nixon's veto of the congressional health, education and welfare bill, said Mr. Don Shoemake, business manager.

Federal money destined for the construction of a new technical-vocational building may also be cut off, he said.

Although definite cuts will not be known until the compromise bill being worked on now by congressmen is passed, Shoemake said the $95,000 of federal funds tentatively scheduled for use in the college's Work-Study program could be diminished somewhat.

"We don't anticipate that," Shoemake stated. "Such a program is a vital part of many students' college careers."

A more likely area where the college could lose money is in the planned technical-vocational building. The college has raised half the money needed to build it, said Shoemake, but the remainder of funds will have to come from federal funds distributed by the Texas Educational Agency.

"Construction money will be cut before any instructional or student aid money," added Shoemake.

Other areas that could be affected by the veto are the $12,821 tentatively scheduled for supplementing college money already on hand in the National Defense Student Loan program, and the $9,050 promised to the Educational Opportunity Grants.

JOB IN DANGER? — Work-study jobs such as this instructional help done by Shelly York at the College Heights Elementary School might be endangered by Nixon's HEW bill veto.

Cosden Model Aids Training

A one-of-its-kind training aid is offered by the drafting department of Howard County Junior College. This is a scale model of the new addition of the local Cosden Refinery.

"This is the best training aid we have," declared Mr. Norman E. Backs, Vocational-Technical Division. It is used for the pipe drafting class, which is offered every other year.

The model of Cosden was constructed by a Houston firm with the assistance of the chief engineer at the Cosden plant.

The model is made of plastic which can be disassembled by each class.

The original cost of the training aid was in the area of $70,000, but the Vocation Training Department received this as a gift from Cosden.

"The many drafting courses, coupled with related courses, will ready a man for business industry," commented Mr. Backs, who teaches drafting at the college in the Vocational Training department.

The drafting classroom is equipped with 20 new tables, adjustable in various ways, which will be more than welcome by the drafting student.

'TICK . . . TICK . . . TICK'
. . . George Kennedy, Fredric March, Jim Brown

Power-Packed Film Stars Jim Brown As Black Sheriff

A deep southern county has gone to the polls for the first time since the black community has been enfranchised. Without getting a single white vote, a black man is elected sheriff.

Charged with keeping order and enforcing the law, facing the antagonism and lack of cooperation from whites who refuse to accept a black sheriff and blacks who seek to foment racial hate, this man finds himself on the edge of an explosive volcano.

This is the premise of the film, " . . . tick . . . tick . . . tick . . .," opening Wednesday at R/70. Its stars are Jim Brown, George Kennedy and Fredric March.

Brown, in the pivotal role of the first Negro sheriff of Colusa County, plays his first role with a racial theme. Kennedy, Academy Award winner for his portrayal in "Cool Hand Luke," plays the disposed white sheriff trapped between inborn beliefs of honor and duty and the reality of "now." Fredric March, twice the winner of the Academy Award for Best Actor, is seen as the town's veteran mayor, accustomed to controlling his county until he becomes the caustic catalyst around whom Brown and Kennedy build a formidable alliance.

Brown's auto is vandalized, his deputy is stomped, he incurs the wrath of his own people when he takes into custody a Negro who has raped a teenager.

But the big test comes when he arrests a drunken white boy who has killed a child in an auto accident. This boy happens to be the son of the nearby county's most powerful man, and when Brown refuses to release the son, the father organizes a posse to descend on the town and release the boy by force.

Brown's first thought is to call on federal troops to protect the jail, but the Mayor doesn't want any "Washington peek-a-boos" to come to Colusa. Brown and Kennedy then go to a popular tavern, where the sheriff explains the situation, tells the men that he has ten black deputies and needs ten white. If only Negroes resist the invaders from the other county, a race riot is likely to result. Despite his plea, none of the white men responds.

The outcome and climax of the subsequent confrontation will not be revealed here. It is as suspenseful as it is explosive.

A distinguished co-starring cast includes Lynn Carlin, Oscar nominee for her film debut role in "Faces," Don Stroud, Janet MacLachlan, Richard Elkins, Clifton James and Bob Ranlom.

Area Woman Publishes Poetry

WELL-KNOWN to many throughout the Big Spring area, Mrs. R. H. Ratliff, Colorado City, will soon be a published author with her first volume of poetry, entitled "While The Iron Is Hot," which includes original verses on a variety of subjects — from the rolling hills of Texas to the small events of everyday life.

"While The Iron Is Hot," to be published by San Antonio's Naylor Company, will be dedicated to Mrs. Ratliff's late husband, Robert Harry Ratliff, remembered as attorney and friend to many Texans.

BAYLOR UNIVERSITY'S sixth annual Festival of 20th Century Music will be held Tuesday through Thursday, featuring the winner of the 1969 Pulitzer Prize in composition, Karel Husa.

Husa will be the first guest composer to have an opportunity to conduct one of his own compositions as part of the festival. He will conduct the Baylor Symphonic Band in a performance of his "Music for Prague 1968" in an 8:15 p.m. concert Tuesday in Waco Hall on the Baylor campus.

Born in 1921 in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Husa composed the piece in 1968 after the Russian seizure of the city.

Prior to the opening night performance of the festival, Husa earlier that day will deliver a lecture at 3:30 p.m. in Roxy Grove Hall on "Contemporary Music and Comparison with the Past."

More Of Airline Workers Laid Off

MIAMI (AP) — Another 1,100 National Airlines owrkers have been laid off, and the company says economic pressure caused by a stalemate in the three-week-old clerical workers' strike is the reason.

Most of the employes sent home Friday were maintenance workers hired to replace striking mechanics who walked off their jobs 13 months ago.

Found Guilty

CHICAGO (AP) — Janeen Welch, a television model who, during the 1968 presidential campaign, said she was a close friend of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, was found guilty Friday of prostitution and fined $100.

Raquel Welch Creates New Image With Dramatic Role

The moviegoer who enjoys being rooted to the edge of his seat is going to have an awfully good time at "Flareup," a suspense-thriller of unremitting excitement, with curvaceous Raquel Welch moving over from her Sex-Goddess image to enact a taut dramatic role as a Las Vegas night club dancer who flees for her life from a psychopathic killer.

Probably one reason this picture is so hard-hitting and credible, apart from the exacting performances of Miss Welch and her co-stars, James Stacy and Luke Askew, is that, except for one final interior scene, it was filmed entirely on locations in Las Vegas and Los Angeles.

In Los Angeles, the tension-loaded action was filmed at the Griffith Park Zoo, at Leo Carillo State Park on the beach 50 miles north of the city, and at gas stations, hotels, apartment houses and local residences in central L.A.

Scenes were shot in the Los Angeles County Sheriff's office in the Hall of Justice and in the Homicide and Ballistics Rooms. Other sequences were photographed at the Loser's Club on the famed restaurant row and at Gazzarri's Club in the equally famed Sunset Strip. It is in the latter that Raquel Welch performs a provocative dance reminiscent of Rita Hayworth's memorable "Put the Blame on Mame" number in "Gilda."

RAQUEL WELCH
. . . in dramatic role

In Las Vegas, the filming included scenes at the Riviera Hotel swimming pool, Caesar's Palace, the Sunrise Hospital, the Pussy Cat-A-Go-Go night club and locales along the Las Vegas Strip and downtown Casino Center.

It is against these on-the-spot backgrounds that is unfolded a harrowing drama of a man whose night club dancer wife has refused to reconcile with him and who, blaming her refusal on the influence of two of her night club partners, resolves to kill all three girls.

Miss Welch offers the most persuasive acting of her carrer in a demanding role which has her in almost every scene of "Flareup." James Stacy, popular young star of the "Lancer" television series, plays the gas station attendant with whom she seeks refuge. Luke Askew, who recently scored in "Cool Hand Luke," is seen as the psychopathic murderer, with other prominent roles played by Don Chastain, Ron Rifkin, Jeane Byron and Kay Peters.

"Flareup" starts Thursday at the Jet, double-billed with "She."

Cupid Gets James Bond

You've seen James Bond in "Dr. No," "From Russia With Love," "Goldfinger" and "Thunderball."

In all of them he was bedazzled by a luscious beauty, and while temptation was strong he managed somehow to escape a bachelor.

Well, as it must to all men, Cupid finally gets him. In his latest screen adventure "On Her Majesty's Secret Service," now showing at the Cinema Theatre. It is claimed this is the greatest James Bond adventure to date of deering-do, ingenuity, danger, and — beautiful girls and plot twists.

Bond, played by George Lazenby, a newcomer to films, is captured and led to the altar by Diana Rigg, known to millions to TV viewers as the Emma Peel of "The Avengers."

Well, if Ursula Andress couldn't win him in "Dr. No" and Honor Blackman couldn't in "Goldfinger" this Diana Rigg must be really something.

She is.

Money Management Seminar To Begin Here

A "Family Money Management Seminar for Teachers and Supervisors" will be held in Big Spring beginning March 2, sponsored by the Region XVIII of the West Texas Education Center, Midland.

Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent for instruction with the Big Spring Independent School District, said approximately 70 teachers from Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan and Ackerly are expected to attend.

The seminar will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. each Monday for eight weeks and is designed to give educators current and practical information that is of personal value, enrichment materials and information for classroom use in numerous courses, and professional study to satisfy local school board requirements.

All individuals who enroll will receive a schedule for the seminar prior to the first meeting. This schedule will include the topics which a majority have selected, name of the instructors, the meeting place and time.

Possible topics include Business and Community Welfare, Insurance, Savings and Investments, Consumer Price Index, Truth-in-lending — What It Means To Me, Federal Reserve Banks, The World's Money Market, Bank's Usage of My Money, Bank Financing of Consumer Products, New and Unique Personal Bank Services.

Banks Trust Services, Career Opportunities in Banking, Using Credit Intelligently, Personal Budgeting (Family Budgeting), An Analysis of Saving — Examples, How Much Am I Really Worth, Personal Money Management, Wills (Is the Making of a Will Important to Me?), Taxes (Inheritance tax, Gift Tax, etc.), Opportunities for Further Education Through Banking and Credit Cards.

Teachers have been asked to check the topics they are most interested in and return the lists with their application blanks.

Rotary Sending Six To Chile

Six young men were chosen last Sunday by a Rotary Foundation selection committee to represent District 573 of Rotary International for a two month study in Central Chile, South America. Those included on the six man group study team are Bill Block, Spanish instructor at Muleshoe High School; Barry Duman, assistant professor of economics at West Texas State University, Canyon; Dr. William F. Ford, associate professor of Economics at Texas Tech University; Richard Gesin, rancher, Sweetwater; Don Nelson, curriculum coordinator for the Pampa Public Schools and James R. Swann, instructor in Spanish at McKenzie Junior High School, Lubbock.

These young men will depart for Chile on May 9. The group leader will be Dr. Harley Oberhelman, head of the Department of Romance and Classical Languages, at Texas Tech University.

Oh, At Last Letters Show

ELKTON, Md. (AP) — It took 26 years, but a bundle of letters from California to residents of Booth's Village, Md., finally found its way to the Elkton Post Office. Only trouble is the town ceased to exist 15 years ago.

Post office officials said it received last week the letters mailed in 1944 by a California firm.

In just 9 months at Hemphill-Wells Clinique has changed a basic trait in women

In the mere 9 months it's been available at Hemphill-Wells Clinique has changed a buying habit of a lifetime. The cosmetic hopping that was cosmetic shopping is over.
And cosmetic fickleness is a thing of the past. In just 9 months, women have formed a new habit that's the healthiest beauty habit a skin can have. The Clinique habit.

Throughout this week

there will be a Clinique Special Beauty Representative visiting our cosmetics department. Do stop by and bring her your beauty problems. Her training qualifies her to give you the right answers, the answers that put you on the right beauty track.

The women who tried allergy tested, fragrance free Clinique have marvelled at its ease, have been impressed by its speed. But what's really made up their minds, what's really convinced them that Clinique is indeed remarkably different, is the remarkable difference they've seen in their skin. Cleaner, glossier, gleamier skin is what they see . . . and like. Finer, fresh-looking skin has convinced them that Clinique products are performing products, results-getting products to change the beauty thinking of a lifetime. Change it for good.

All of Clinique skincare was born in a clinical lab, conceived and evolved by the very best dermatologist brains around. All of Clinique is allergy tested and fragrance free, scientifically sound for you to use.

The key to the Clinique system is the Clinique computer—a simple device that types your skin, determines its beauty needs and establishes your best skincare program in less than 30 seconds.

At the heart of the system are three speedy steps—cleansing, clarifying, moisturizing—you do 3 minutes each morning, 3 minutes each night. Like all of Clinique, your Basic Clinique is simple, swift and logical.

The proof of the Clinique system is the prettier skin you'll wear within a week. It's skin that will change facecare and makeup habits you've always had, skin that will thrive on Clinique and make you a Clinique believer.

It's no wonder, in just 9 months Clinique has changed a basic trait in women and the future of all beauty.

We have a Gift for you . . .

Clinique Lip Couplet and Compact are yours with any Clinique purchase of 5.00 or more through Saturday, February 28th.
